

Blue Angels Cut Didoes To Show Glory Of Flying

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—A team of acrobatic jet pilots, the Blue Angels set out Tuesday to convince an apathetic younger generation that a Navy flier's life is one of glory.

Flying P-51 Panther jets, the re-born Angels previewed their precision acrobatics in formation Monday for the press.

They streaked through slow rolls, Cuban eights and difficult reverse ejection rolls at more than 500 miles an hour.

"I think the entire appeal of aviation has undergone a change to the youth of the present day," said Rear Adm. W. E. Morehouse, commander of the Naval Air Station here.

No Waiting List

"We don't have a waiting list and no one is begging for a chance to fly modern aircraft for the glory of it," he said. One of the Navy's answers is the Blue Angels.

First organized by Lt. Cmdr. R. M. Butch Voris, 32, of Santa Cruz, Calif., in 1946, the Blue Angels were disbanded in 1950 to fight in Korea. Voris now has reorganized the famed Angels to attract potential pilots to naval aviation and to interest the younger aviator in the Navy in precision flying.

Congress Extends Rubber Plant Powers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Monday passed and sent to President Truman a bill extending until March 31, 1954, the program by which the government has been operating synthetic rubber plants.

The present authority for operating the plants, built during World War II, expires next July 1.

A very thin sheet of gold is translucent and transmits a greenish light.

Most of the pilots in the outfit are old, experienced hands. Some of them are combat aces from World War II.

One is Lt. Cmdr. Ray Hawkins, 28, of Lufkin, who was credited with shooting down 14 Japanese planes during the war. He also sank the Japanese battleship Ise with a 1,000-pound bomb at the Kuré Naval Base, Japan, in 1945.

Other members of the Angel team are Lt. (jg.) D. E. Bud Wood, 27, Columbia, Ohio; Lt. T. R. Jones III, 28, Savannah, Ga.; Lt. F. J. Murphy, 28, Brookfield, Ill., and Lt. (jg.) Wallace Buddy Rich, 26, Santa Cruz, Calif.

Hawkins and Murphy are the only members who were with the Angels, when they were disbanded in 1950.

All of them don't fly in each show. But all are trained to fill in where and when they are needed.

The Blue Angels have plans to fly at several civic-sponsored air shows throughout the country this summer.

They hope they can fulfill their important mission: To bring glory back into aviation for the youth of America.

Stoddards Ordered To Pay Standard, Turn Back Lands

EL PASO—Federal Judge R. E. Thomas Monday afternoon signed a judgment ordering Gail H. Stoddard and his wife, Mrs. Junia F. Stoddard, both of Midland, to pay the Standard Oil Company of Texas $23,417.42 and to turn over the title and interest in certain oil lands to the company.

Stoddard was employed by the Standard Oil Company from July 8, 1938 to Nov. 20, 1950, as a geologist. During that time, the company charged, he saw the secret reports turned in by oil surveying crews.

The company charged that Stoddard set up dummy corporations to buy oil leases and lands. He chose to turn it all over to the company.

Since Stoddard had used $17,000 to build a house in Midland, Judge Thomas granted the company a lien against the house.

Stoddard made a cash payment Monday of $13,110.27. Company attorneys said the remaining $10,307.15 would be paid back at the rate of $100 a month. Stoddard and his wife agreed to the judgment.

The company dismissed a suit filed in District Court in Midland against Stoddard. Stoddard dismissed a libel and slander suit against the company, also filed in the Midland court.

The federal suit was transferred here from Pecos.

Stoddard is now employed by another oil company.

Stoddard gave or sold the information to others and because he bought minerals rights of his own. The company charged that Stoddard made a net profit of $2,317.15 from the transactions and that he has $2,110.17 in royalties.

Judge Thomas ruled the money and the land belonged to the company and that Stoddard would have to turn it all over to the company.

Barbara Hale Fires Up For First Role As Torrid Heroine

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Behind the Screen: Barbara Hale's assignment as leading lady to Rock Hudson and Anthony Quinn in a UFA "Semi-noir" is more than an acting item. It's Barbara's first chance to play a fiery, sexy heroine and she's hoping that the type change will stick.

"I don't know why I became the all-American girl type who always ends up with children," she told me. "I was playing mothers before I even had babies myself."

The Turhan Selphettin who is listed as the producer of "I Was Jack Mortimer," the Donald Buka-France-Ledger co-starrer, just completed in Vienna, is none other than the screen's wartime heart throb, Turhan Bey. It's the realization of a long-time ambition for wealthy Turhan.

Rhonda Fleming and Dr. Lew Murrill won't tie the knot in June unless Paramount postpones "Poppy Express" beyond the June 30 starting date. The bride-to-be wants a long honeymoon.

Humphrey Bogart in a film clip from "The African Queen" will be one of the surprise gags in a jungle sequence for "The Road to Bali." Amber was on the spot with the censors, she said. "They wouldn't even let me breathe in that one!"

Oklahoma Mother, Son Drown in Pond

GUTHRIE, OKLA. (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Alice Irving was swimming in a farm pond west of here Monday with her eight-year-old son, Gareth, perched happily on her back.

Suddenly, she screamed, threw up her arms and went under, throwing the boy off. Both drowned before rescuers could save them.

Ms. Irving had taken Gareth and her three daughters swimming while her husband, Lee, was combining wheat.

She was described as a "good swimmer" and relatives speculated she may have had a sudden heart seizure or cramp.

Then someone thought to notify the Coast Guard.

A helicopter picked up all of the others.

A crash boat gathered up all of the others.

Ronnie was treated for shock and exposure.

Dr. Lindstrom Vom To Blacken Name Of Ingrid Related

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The woman Ingrid Bergman sent to ask Dr. Peter Lindstrom for a divorce testified he told her:

"By the time I get through with Ingrid, she will never be able to see Pia! I will blacken her name and Rose's in such a way that no court will ever allow her to see Pia."

The witness, Mrs. Marta Cohn, testified Monday at the trial of Miss Bergman's suit for summer custody of Pia, her 13-year-old daughter by Lindstrom. The father opposes the suit on the ground that Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini, who married the actress after she bore him a child out of wedlock, would be a bad influence.

Wedding Climaxes Wait Of 40 Years

HAZLETON, PA.—P.—The 74-year-old bridegroom and his 68-year-old bride seemed like any other couple celebrating their marriage as they ate spaghetti and meatballs at a wedding party.

But a story lasting more than 40 years had unfolded before Antonio Perera and Sophia Tombasco Imbric said their wedding vows Sunday at the Christian Assembly Church in Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

Their families arranged for them to be married back in their Italian hometown. But Antonio left before the wedding, married and settled here in 1910. Ten years later Sophia and her husband from Italy became Antonio's neighbor in Hazleton.

After Antonio's wife and Sophia's husband died, Antonio asked Sophia to be his wife. She refused seven times before having a change of heart and doing the proposing herself.

Mrs. John Cornwall and Mrs. J. E. Simmons and daughter, Peggy, of Midland hailed Wednesday on the Queen Mary for an extended European trip. Boxoffice Opens Wednesday For 'Warrior's Husband'

Tickets for "The Warrior's Husband" will go on sale to Community Theater members at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at Tailorline. The boxoffice will be open to the general public Thursday and Friday.

The Community Theater production will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday in the City-County Auditorium. A special performance for negroes will be given Wednesday.

"The Warrior's Husband" is a modern comedy with a riotous plot giving a new view of ancient Greek mythology. Hercules, whose IQ probably couldn't be detected or measured, comes to the land of the Amazons to obtain the magical girdle of the queen, Hippolyta. This girdle insures the power of the Amazons to dominate their society and keep their men in the place that usually is occupied by women.

Hercules is supported by the Greek army on their way to the Trojan war and by Theseus, Greek hero who does Hercules' thinking for him. When the girdle is stolen both armies go haywire and many absurd situations result.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log

Value of the section above 10,540 feet should be determined in a few days.
Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 19, block 28, T&P survey, T-1-S.
Up to now no other explorations have been drilled in the immediate vicinity of the Hofferkamp discovery.

A work-over unit has been moved to the well and the zone above 10,540 feet is to be perforated and tested.

Informed quarters think it will yield oil in paying quantities.
May Produce Both
The future of the well depended on what is developed in the section above 10,540 feet.
Should that zone show for commercial production operator may decide to produce both it and the open hole at 11,149-170 feet.
If the interval which is to be tested should fall to deliver oil in worthwhile amounts the section will be squeezed off and the original pay zone will again be put back to work.

Gulf Has Finished Flowing Discovery At Roberts Wildcat

Gulf Oil Corporation has completed a flowing discovery from the Wichita-Albany at its No. 2-2 John Haggard, South Roberts County wildcat nine miles west of the town of Miami, in the northeast corner of the Texas Panhandle.
It reported a calculated 24-hour potential of 442.98 barrels of 27.6 gravity oil, flowing through open 2 3/8 inch tubing.
Based On Six Hour Flow
That figure was based on an actual six-hour flow of 110.57 barrels. There was a shakeout of one-tenth of one per cent basic sediment and water.

The production was from open hole at 3,912-923 feet. Dual packers were set at 4,009 feet and at 4,006 feet.
Location is 143 feet from south and 2,470 feet from west lines of section 8, block 2, L&GN survey.
Steepest Is Spotted
Gulf has staked location for a one and one-quarter miles northwest stepout to the discovery.
It will be Gulf No. 3-5 Haggard and is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 20, block 2, L&GN survey.
Projected destination is 4,000 feet to test the Wichita-Albany. Drilling will start in the near future.
Is Casing Deeper
Gulf No. 1-2 Haggard, one location west of the new producer, the No. 2-2 Haggard, has reached 7,046 feet in granite wash. It is to core deeper.
This project has shown for production in the Wichita-Albany and it has also had slight shows of oil and gas in the granite wash zone.

The prospector drilled to total depth of 11,965 feet. A dilatometer test was taken in the interval from 10,890 to 11,065 feet. Tool was open four and one-half hours. Oil surfaced in 34 minutes. It flowed at the estimated rate of 45 barrels hourly the remainder of the test.
Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 1,860 pounds and shut-in pressure after one and one-half hours was 4,025 pounds.

Maine's Governor Payne Upsets GOP Senator Brewster

PORTLAND, MAINE —(AP)— Owen Brewster, the Senate's fifth ranking Republican, was defeated Monday for renomination by Gov. Frederick G. Payne by 3,000 votes in Maine's closest, most vicious primary in almost 30 years.
The total vote in Monday's balloting was a record 155,754.
Brewster, whose turbulent political career goes back to the early 1920's, had no immediate comment.
An unofficial tabulation gave Payne 65,483 votes to Brewster's 63,337. Only eight of 625 precincts were out and they have but a handful of votes.
Barring a tremendous upset—no Democrat has won a major office since 1934—the 51-year-old Payne will win again in the first-in-the-nation September 8 election.
His Democratic foe will be Roger P. Dube, 30, a surprise primary winner over Earl S. Grant. Grant was the 1950 gubernatorial candidate.

Design For Atom Engine Completed

NEW YORK —(AP)— The Daily News said Monday it was informed that designs for an atomic engine to drive a supercarrier at a speed of 50 knots have been perfected and the Navy hopes to start building the ship late in 1953 or early in 1954.

This new carrier would be of the 60,000-ton Forrestal class, a Washington dispatch to the News by Jerry Greene said.

Crude Production Shows Increase

TULSA, OKLA. —(AP)— The United States' daily average crude oil and condensate production, helped by a big Kansas gain, increased 50,250 barrels during the week ended June 14, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

The total daily average was 6,156,650 barrels of which Kansas provided 311,900 barrels, a jump over the previous week of 63,200. Hills Peak Output
Another development was North Dakota's 1,000-barrel spurt to 2,900 barrels, peak output for the newest oil-producing state.

Texas increased 850 barrels to 2,289,500 barrels, and Michigan had its next biggest boost, up 800 barrels of 37,400.
New Mexico added 100 to 164,900. Oklahoma was the biggest loser, off 14,200 barrels to 512,100. The only other major decline was Illinois' 2,300 drop to 166,600.

Georgia Democrats Open Door For Bolt

ATLANTA —(AP)— The way was left open Monday for Georgia to bolt the Democratic Party in November, but a state party official said he did not think there would be a bolt at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.
The State Democratic Executive Committee, which formally pledged Georgia's 28 National Convention votes to Senator Richard B. Russell, served notice of the possible general election bolt if actions of the national convention are unsatisfactory.

12,000 SHRINERS PARADE
MIAMI FLA. —(AP)— The Shrine put on the first of two parades Tuesday—a six-hour, informal procession that included 13,000 marchers, 111 bands, 300 horses and eight Missouri mules.

Doughboys Welding Bayonets Turn Back Chinese Attackers

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— Chinese Communists Tuesday shot off their big guns at probably the fastest clip of the Korean War. They failed to budge United Nations Infantrymen defending a T-shaped knobby hill.

A battalion of about 70 Chinese struck at the hill three times in 2 1/2 hours and were turned back each time by bayonet-wielding UN doughboys standing fast at the bottom.

The six-day-old fight for the Western Front high point near Choswon is the biggest and bloodiest since January. Allied troops, who won a foothold last Thursday, now hold three of its rocky knobs. The Reds have been counter-attacking bitterly.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said shelling by both sides was "very heavy" Monday and had the pace held up Tuesday.

Chinese tanks and self-propelled guns poured hundreds of shells on the three Allied-held knobs Monday. UN fighter-bombers and tanks delivered answering fire.
The Reds fired 18,500 artillery and mortar rounds at Allied positions across the 155-mile Korean Front Sunday night and Monday. UN authorities said it probably was the biggest Red bombardment of the war.

Australian Cattle Die By Thousands In Record Drouth

SYDNEY—(AP)—All hope of relief before November from the great North Australian drouth now has been officially abandoned.

This grim decision came by radio from government officers sent by truck across the desolate plains that stretch in three directions from Darwin. They say light, bog-making showers now will only hasten the death of the million head of cattle in the drouth region.

An area comparable in size with the whole of Free Europe is gripped by a strange and devastating drouth which experts believe will have its repercussions on trade and even defense for 10 to 15 years.

No Exports Possible. Already the minister for Agriculture and Commerce, J. McEwen, has announced Australia cannot expect to export any beef this year. The drouth is expected to cut the output by almost 100,000 tons.

Australia's output of beef last year was 652,000 tons, of which more than 60,000 tons was exported. The beef cattle population was 10,200,000, a record.

Beef exports for the nine months to the end of March brought Australia $9,755,700, a drop of $1,612,800 from the corresponding period in 1950-51.

A Brisbane Queensland newspaper editor has just returned from a 2,500-mile tour of the stricken area including the world's largest cattle station, Alexandria Downs, which sprawls over 11,200 square miles. The manager's truck travels 30,000 miles a year without leaving the property.

No Surface Water. "There is hardly a drop of surface water left," says the editor in his report.

The Aborigines have abandoned their rain-making. . . . Every night for months their chants and dances went on around the camp fires, but medicine men now admit they are licked. x x x

Some 50,000 cattle already are dead in the northern territory alone. The death toll could be 150,000 by November. x x x

Borrowing Program Off To Good Start

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government appeared off to a good start Tuesday, from a cash standpoint, in its biggest borrowing program since World War II—a program designed to help it meet defense-savings needs.

Proposing to sell on July 1 an issue of $1.2 billion dollars in six-year, 2 1/2 per cent marketable bonds, the Treasury opened subscription books Monday morning, then sold out so quickly that it closed the books before nightfall.

Indications were that banks and other investors snapped up the bonds with such gusto that their subscriptions exceeded the amount offered, making it necessary for the Treasury to ration the bonds among subscribers when the issue date arrives.

Wetback Detention Camp To Be Built Near Brownsville

By The Associated Press

Selection of an 18-acre tract at Brownsville as a site for a detention camp for illegal aliens held for deportation to Mexico was announced Monday in Washington.

Willard F. Kelly, head of the Immigration and Naturalization Service's Enforcement Division, made the disclosure shortly after the House sent to the President a bill authorizing use of agency funds on hand for building two detention camps.

In addition to the camp at Brownsville, the Immigration Service plans to build a similar one at San Ysidro, Calif. The Brownsville camp will have facilities for handling 500 aliens at a time; that at the California border point will have a normal capacity for processing 400. Both will be able to handle twice as many in an emergency.

Wetbacks who have slipped into this country illegally will be detained in the camps only one to three days.

Swift & Company Faces OPS Charge

BOSTON—(AP)—Swift & Company, one of the largest meat packing houses in the world, Monday was accused in Federal Court of violating price ceilings and using false invoices to accomplish the alleged violations.

Criminal informations against the firm were filed almost simultaneously in Federal Courts in Boston, St. Louis, St. Paul, Concord, N. H., and New Haven, Conn.

No dates were set for hearings on the charges brought on behalf of the Office of Price Stabilization after lengthy investigation by the U. S. Department of Justice.

In Chicago, the company issued a statement expressing conviction it would be found "that Swift & Company has followed and is following . . . regulations."

BAXTER BUGLER TAKES HOLIDAY

BAXTER, TENN.—(AP)—Baxter's belting bugler, Charlie Hughes, has decided that after 25 years of daily reveille the residents of this small mid-Tennessee community need a little early-morning sleep.

Hughes is off on a two-week vacation—his first in 25 years. In 1924 Hughes decided that little blowing would be healthful exercise. Ever since he has been blowing reveille from atop a pole in his back yard sharply at 5 a.m. daily.

International Move Against West Bared

VIENNA, AUSTRIA—(AP)—U. S. sources said Tuesday a Cominform organization in Vienna is trying to rope Europe's wartime guerrilla heroes and concentration camp victims into an international movement against the West.

The Kremlin front organization, these sources said, is the International Federation of Resistance Fighters. In a meeting here just ended, it called for an "International Combat Week Against Fascism and War" from September 7 to 14.

These sources said the Red organization, established in Vienna several months ago, has been sending agents all over Western Europe to convince the remnants of wartime anti-Nazi guerrilla armies and those who were in Nazi prison camps that the West's new pact with the Bonn government threatens peace.

Damage To Freight Cars Is $145,000

ABILENE—(AP)—Santa Fe Railroad officials estimate that a derailment Saturday near Coleman caused $145,000 damage to freight cars alone.

No estimate of cargo loss or expense of repairing the tracks has been made.

Twenty-seven cars of an 82-car train jumped the track. Seventeen tank cars carrying gasoline burst into flames and burned for hours.

Man Who Opened Quicksilver Mine In Big Bend Dies

ALPINE—(AP)—E. A. Waldron, 80, among the last of the old-time West Texas quicksilver miners, was found dead in his home here Monday. Officers said he apparently died of natural causes.

Waldron came to the rugged Big Bend Country 36 years ago. He organized the Waldron Mining Company which tapped the then rich quicksilver deposits near Terlingua, Texas. The mine recently reopened.

Churches built on English crown land have not been permitted to ring bells since the Reformation.

Cardinal Says Franco Is Popular In Spain

NEW YORK—(AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman, back from the Eucharistic Congress at Barcelona, says everybody in Spain "appeared to be enthusiastic" about Generalissimo Francisco Franco and "his popularity was obvious."

Spellman said the demonstration for the Spanish leader at Barcelona was comparable to the one Charles A. Lindbergh received here in 1927 after his solo flight to Paris.

Francisco attended the thirty-fifth International Eucharistic Congress. Spellman returned Monday on the liner Constitution with 500 other Roman Catholic pilgrims who attended the congress and visited several countries.

ARMY DOCTORS, DENTISTS VOTED INCREASE IN PAY

George May Fined On Contempt Count

CHICAGO—(AP)—George S. May, golf club owner and tournament promoter, paid a $1,000 fine Monday for contempt of the grand jury in connection with a gambling investigation.

May, owner of the Tam O'Shanter Country Club, and two club officials, Edward Resek and Matt Nielsen, were convicted of refusing to answer questions about a raid at the club in which 27 slot machines were seized by police last July 4.

A total of $2,126.75 in fines was assessed against the three.

Skillet Of Fish Brings On Shooting At Sierra Blanca

SIERRA BLANCA—(AP)—A woman whose husband was shot fatally after she said, he slapped a skillet of fish from her hand was charged with murder with malice Monday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Roberts, 45, was placed under $5,000 bond in the slaying of her husband, William, 42.

She told a preliminary hearing the shooting followed a quarrel over her cooking. After making the rounds of a few bars, she told the court, the couple returned home. She started frying fish. He observed they have eaten before the bar tour. Then he slapped the skillet from her hand and threw out the fish, she said.

"My mind went blank," she added. Roberts was shot four times in the head and body with a .38 caliber pistol late Saturday. Mrs. Roberts called officers from a filling station after the shooting.

Her case will go before a grand jury in Hudspeth County September 1. Roberts' body was sent to Springfield, Mo., for interment. Justice of the Peace Glenn Johnson presided at the hearing. Assistant District Attorney Jack N. Fahn of El Paso represented the state.

Tribe Stages Late Rally To Spank Dusters

Vernon Sees Six Runs Go Up In Somke

VERNON—(P)—Vernon blew a six-run lead here Monday night and the Midland Indians took a 10-6 victory over the Dusters to even the series.

Midland scored three runs each in the seventh and eighth innings and then chalked up the victory margin in the top of the ninth.

Bases on balls to Pat O'Keefe and Julio de la Torre and singles by Floyd Martin, Dahlem Dinkel and Scooter Hughes brought in the first three Tribe runs.

In the eighth inning, O'Keefe singled and De la Torre blasted out a left center field home run to spark the three-run outburst here. Dinkel doubled and Martin singled. This chased Manager and Starter Al Richardson from the hill for Vernon. Eddie Baski came on to face Joe Decker, who sacrificed Dinkel home with the third run of the canto.

Two hits, three Vernon errors, a hit, batman and two bases on balls brought in the winning tallies.

Hughes was safe on an error and stole second. The peg to the keystones was wide and the Midland shortstop went on to third on the second error. Earl Bossenberry got an error and Hughes scored. O'Keefe doubled to plate Bossenberry and down. The next two batters went down swinging and consecutive bases on balls to Martin, and Decker and Midland's winning pitcher Kati Nicolls being hit by a pitched ball brought in the fourth tally.

H. C. Sargent banged out a bases-loaded home run in the second inning for Vernon's first four runs.

Stan Musial Passes Hank As Swat King

NEW YORK—(P)—Stan Musial, aiming for his sixth batting championship and his third straight crown, is back again in his familiar spot at the National League's leading hitter with a mark of 330.

Although his average remained the same over the last week, the St. Louis Cardinal outfielder jumped from fourth place into the top slot, displacing slumping Hank Sauer of Chicago.

Sauer who leads the league in home runs with 18 and runs batted in with 58, lost 29 points and skidded to sixth place.

In the American League batting race, Dom DiMaggio of Boston suffered an 11-point decline, but managed to retain the lead over Cleveland's Al Rosen. The little professor of the Red Sox is hitting .352.

Events in which the contestants will complete include the crawl or free style, the breast stroke and the back stroke. Distance of the races will range from 25 to 100 yards.

High and low board diving competition also will be open to all age groups. All of the events will be run off according to the NCAA rule book.

The swimmers will practice at 5 p.m. five days each week at the Pagoda Pool and at 9 a.m. on Saturdays.

Braves Bump Angelo Colts For 8-6 Win

SAN ANGELO—(P)—Watching a six-run lead disappear, the Sweetwater Braves surged back two runs in the ninth inning and won 8-6 over the San Angelo Colts here Monday night.

It was the second consecutive win for the Braves over the fast-slipping San Angelo nine.

A fine relief job by Rolando Rodriguez, who came on for starter Dean Higgins in the third inning, was principally responsible for the Braves victory.

Clarence Tinker, Colt reliever for Parks Thomas in the second inning, however, more than matched Rodriguez as he hurled six and one-third innings of shutout ball only to be lifted for a pinchhitter in the eighth frame, when the Colts tied the score, 6-6.

Lou Lozano came on for the San Angeloans in the ninth and promptly was tagged for his loss against six wins, with his last three defeats coming in succession.

After getting the leadoff man in the ninth, Lozano was touched for a single by Emil Carlini and a triple by Charlie Tuttle. Brave Left Fielder Tuttle scored the second run of the inning on first baseman Warren Sitter's fly to right.

Sweetwater 420 000 002-8 9 1 San Angelo 013 000 020-6 10 2 Higgins, Rodriguez and Galban; Thomas, Tinker, Lozano and Dacko.

Broncs Stage Big Inning To Glide Past Rockets, 9-1

ROSSELL—(P)—The Big Spring Broncs uncorked a seven-run fourth inning to break the backs of the Roswell Rockets and glide to an easy, 9-1 win here Monday night behind the five-hit pitching of Gil Guerro.

The Broncs provided Guerro with all the runs he needed, two, in the first inning, but it was the big seven in the fourth that demoralized the Rocket squad and gave Big Spring the win.

Those who are expected to be back and the events in which they excel are as follows: Bill Mims, 100-yard back stroke; Roy Kimesy, breast stroke; Jesse Hatfield and Larry Friday, divers; Bill Erskine, crawl or free style; Buck and Jerry Herndon, all-around performers.

Included in the 15 to 16-year-old girl's group will be Mary Herndon, free style, while Edith Little is expected to be a standout performer in the women's diving bracket of the open division.

The JayCees hope to send 25 to 30 of the better swimmers to Houston for the Junior Olympics again this year as they did last year.

Gloria Ezell Gains Medal At Colonial

Gloria Ezell, Midland's blonde golfer, missed par by only two strokes Monday in taking medal honors at the 15th Annual Women's West Texas Golf Association Tournament at the Colonial Country Club in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Ezell equaled women's regulation in turning the front side in 37 strokes, then slipped one over coming home for a 39 and a medal-winning 76. She parred the final hole to slip Mrs. W. K. Stirling, Jr., of Fort Worth by a single stroke.

Midland's Pat Garner breezed around the backside in 36, two under women's standard for an 81. She caught three water penalties for a 45 on the first nine holes.

Mrs. Opal Lobstein of Brownwood survived a three-hole sweatfest with Mrs. Sybil Pleurnoy, another Midlander, to gain the last place in the 16-place championship flight. Each finished the 18-hole qualifying round with 94.

Mrs. Ezell was scheduled to play her first championship round against 15-year-old Martha Leonard of Arlington Heights, a promising youngster making her first start in WTTGA competition.

Miss Garner was to play Mrs. T. L. Sampson of Lubbock.

Mrs. Flournoy was to lead off first flight matches with Mrs. Paul Smith of Breckenridge.

Dallas Eagles Hang Onto First Position In Texas Loop Race

Dallas Eagles, riding ahead with a win-Monday night that came on a story-book finish, clinging to first place in the Texas League for a second straight day, no mean feat the way the heated battle has been going.

The Eagles capped a three-game win streak by coming from behind with single runs against Shreveport in the seventh and eighth innings and adding the last two of a 7-6 victory in the ninth.

The results pulled some reverse-English tactics on the usually jammed up standings, like this: Shreveport, losing its sixth straight, just as far out of first place as any club has been this season, eighth and a half games. And, for the first time since May 31, the third-place club was as much as two games behind.

Beaumont broke a three-year second-place tie as Hank Wrye handled Fort Worth to the tune of 6-2. The loss put Fort Worth and Houston, who lost to Tulsa, 6-2, into third place.

Oklahoma City's San Antonio hurled two-hit ball at Hugh King as the Indians took a 3-1 triumph.

Clovis, Lamesa, Lubbock, Borger Notch Loop Wins

By The Associated Press Home runs were the difference between first-place Clovis and Lamesa in the West Texas-New Mexico League Monday night as the two put their starting hurlers through a workout.

Clovis won, 11-7, with both winner Red Dial and loser Johnny Fine sticking it out in a mound duel that saw both endure 16-hit attacks.

Half of Clovis' hits were for extra bases, including homers by Virgil Richards and Sonny Sims.

Borger put a new uniform on Bob Spence for his first Gasser start and the former Albuquerque moundman stopped his former mate on eight hits, good for a 5-1 victory.

In the other games, Lubbock edged Abilene, 9-8, and Lamesa came from behind to beat Pampa, 8-7, in 10 innings.

Thomson Clout Brings Giants Home In Front

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Who said everything happens in Brooklyn?

How about the Polo Grounds? Ever since Bobby Thomson cracked that pennant-winning home run in the final 1951 playoff game, the weirdest things have been occurring in the home of the New York Giants.

Look at what happened in the Polo Grounds last Sunday, for instance. The Giants were rolling along enjoying an 11-0 lead over the St. Louis Cardinals when suddenly the roof caved in on them. Before they realized what had happened the Cards had won 14-12.

Monday, just 24 hours later, the Cards were leading 7-4 when the Giants came to bat. Two walks, a single, an out and boom. Thomson practically duplicated his '51 feat, hitting a grand slam homer to beat the Redbirds, 9-7.

That's not all. Look at this beliere-it-or-not situation. Willard Schmidt, who tossed up that gopher ball to Bobby, made only one pitch-and he was charged with the defeat. The rookie right-hander had been summoned to relieve Will Werle.

In contrast, the victory went to George Spencer, fourth Giant pitcher. He, too, made only one pitch. That was a double-play delivery to Del Rice to end the top of the ninth. So we have an unprecedented situation in which two hurlers make one pitch each, one of which is credited with the victory while the other is charged with the defeat.

Ironically, Thomson's game-winning homer came after the Giant third baseman had gone to bat 17 straight times without a hit. Eddie Yuhas, second St. Louis pitcher, set the stage when he walked Hank Thompson to start the last half of the ninth. Pinch hitter George Wilson lined to Red Schoendienst and Thompson moved to second when Schoendienst, threw wild to first in a double-play attempt.

The homer cut the Dodgers' first-place lead to three games, erased what looked like certain defeat for Sal Maglie and overshadowed homers by Wes Westrum, Al Dark and Williams for the Giants.

In the only other game scheduled in the majors, the Phillies edged out the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4, to move into sixth place past the Boston Braves. A triple by Richie Ashburn and a long fly by Granby Hammer broke a 4-4 tie in the seventh.

Polly Riley Paces American Survivors In British Amateur

TROON, SCOTLAND—Three American women moved into the fourth round of the British Women's Amateur golf championship Tuesday as the field was pared to 16 survivors on the wind-swept Seaside Course.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Mae Murray of Rutland, Vt., and Claire Doran of Cleveland were the winning Americans. Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth was beaten on the nineteenth hole by Ariette Jaquet of Belgium.

After lunch the field went into the fourth round, where Miss Riley played Jeanne Bisgood of England. Miss Murray took on Philomena Garvey of Ireland and Miss Doran opposed Moira Paterson of Scotland.

Miss Riley, regarded as the major American threat, rallied to defeat Mrs. Joan Gee of England, 2 and 1, in her third-round match.

Miss Murray scored an easy, 4 and 3 win over Celia Nicholson of Scotland and Miss Doran eliminated Elizabeth Price of England, 5 and 4.

The other run was at 9:40 p.m. to a house on Western Drive. A tar pot on the roof of the house, being used in roofing work, had become ignited. No damage was reported.

Four Pacemaster Flights Provided For Midlanders

Pioneer Air Lines will provide Midland with four daily Pacemaster flights when new schedules become effective on June 17 and June 25. O. H. Morgan, city manager, and W. W. Beene, district traffic and sales manager, announced Tuesday.

On June 2, Pioneer replaced its DC-3 service on four flights daily to Midland with the Pacemaster. This June 3 change provided for two roundtrip flights daily by the Pacemaster between Midland and Dallas via Big Spring, Sweetwater, Abilene and Fort Worth.

Effective with the June 17 schedule change, Midland will have a new roundtrip flight to Houston via San Angelo and Austin and north to Amarillo via Lubbock and Plainview.

The daily flight for Houston will leave Midland at 5:10 p.m. and arrive in the Port City at 7:30 p.m. On the other hand, the daily flight to Midland from Houston will leave the Port City at 7:45 a.m. and arrive here at 10:14 a.m.

Both flights, which make the trip in two hours and 20 minutes with the Pacemaster in comparison to three hours and 11 minutes in the DC-3, will stop enroute at San Angelo and Austin.

North to Lubbock and Amarillo, the Pacemaster flight will leave Midland daily at 10:19 a.m. Flying

Jailed French Red Boss Asks Hearing

PARIS—(AP)—Top French Communist Jacques Duclos, jailed against the internal security of the state, Tuesday demanded a parliamentary hearing on whether the government had the right to arrest him.

The secretary-general of the French Communist Party was nabbed May 28 during bloody Red demonstrations against Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new commander of Atlantic Pact forces in Europe.

Ken Regan Warns Against Public Lands Lease Racket

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The public should beware of promoters offering to help get oil and gas leases on government-owned lands in the west, Rep. Ken Regan (D-Texas) said Tuesday.

As chairman of the House Interior subcommittee, which handles such matters, Regan said he has been deluged with inquiries from individuals throughout the country. The writers ask advice whether to put their savings into leases on the public domain.

A recent rash of advertising has offered the promoter's help to obtain 40-acre government leases at charges ranging from $100 to $200, Regan said in an interview. Yet

Mid-Centimeter Area Gets Welcome Relief From Sizzling Heat

By The Associated Press

The mid-continent area got welcome relief Tuesday from hot and muggy weather that has enveloped most of the eastern half of the nation.

The mid-June blast of mid-summer heat and humidity left a death toll of more than 125, including 19 heat prostrations and 100 drownings.

The break in the heat wave over the Midwest came after several days of temperatures in the 90's and above 100.

The cool air mass from the Pacific Northwest, with refreshing showers, first hit the Plains States and temporarily ended the more than week-long siege of collar-willing weather. Temperatures were from 15 to 25 degrees lower Monday from the Dakotas southward to the Texas Panhandle.

Infuriated Sweden Sends Jet Fighters With Search Craft

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN—(AP)—Infuriated Sweden kept up her search over the Baltic Tuesday for a missing transport plane and sent along jet fighter escorts with orders to shoot if the Russians attacked.

The traditionally neutral nation's stern action reflected the anger expressed by the government, press and people over the shooting down Monday of an unarmed Swedish flying boat by two Soviet MIG-15 jet fighter planes.

The seven crew members of the downed plane were picked up from the sea by a small German freighter and taken to Hango, Finland.

They had been searching for a Swedish DC-3 transport missing since Friday with eight men aboard. It was assumed here the Russians had shot down that craft, also.

Army—

was made at a Pentagon news conference late Monday.

To which Gen. Nathan F. Twining, acting chief of staff for the Air Force, added:

"We can have no assurance of long-range forwarding of a decision by the Kremlin to attempt an assault on us. The lack of a thorough, 24-hour watch is a weakness we can no longer afford."

Twining said intelligence estimates credit Russia with being capable of launching at any time more than 400 four-engine bombers loaded with enough bombs—atomic and otherwise—to blast all U. S. metropolitan industrial target areas.

The start of "Operation Skywatch" was announced Monday by the Defense Department after a conference of civil defense directors from all states and territories.

Smith estimated from 50 to 80 volunteers will be needed to man each of the thousands of posts. Their special job will be to spot planes flying below 5,000 feet, those difficult to pick up on radar.

Observers will be spotted in 27 states.

Nation's Democrats Report Fatter Purse

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Democratic National Committee headed into the election-year home stretch with a slightly fatter pocketbook than did the Republican National Committee.

Reports filed with the Clerk of the House showed the Democrats with a balance of $267,391 on June 1 and the Republicans with $228,700.

the actual cost assessed by the government is only $30.

In the oil business before coming to Congress, the Texan said the chances of people getting back their money under such indiscriminate investment was about one in 200,000.

"They'd have a lot more chance trying to get rich betting on horse races," he said, "and have a little fun at the time time."

The Interior Department is "taking steps to eliminate this get-rich-quick advertising" as soon as possible, Regan said. If it continues, the House Interior Committee may conduct an investigation into the entire situation.

ROME—(AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, in a blistering denial of Communist propaganda claims, Tuesday said "as God is my witness . . . germ warfare has never been used by the United Nations forces in Korea."

The new SHAPE commander said: "I know of no better illustration of the deliberate use of deliberately fabricated falsehood by Communist leadership than their charges that the United Nations Command employed germ warfare in Korea."

Ridgway was speaking at an airport news conference shortly before taking off for Naples.

Communist threats of demonstrations against Ridgway, dubbed by the Reds "General Plague"—fizzled out during his two-day visit in the Italian capital.

Policemen Touch Up Car At Own Expense

BUFFALO—(AP)—Two policemen have added some deluxe features in their drive to crack down on speedsters—and at their own expense too.

First they added a white spotlight to their 1950 police car. It throws a stabbing beam 50 feet and helps pick up license numbers on speedsters. Next came a red spotlight.

"That's a honey," said Patrolman Jack Williamson. "We used to flash our small hand flashlight but half the time speeders ignored us. Now we throw the strong red light through the speeders back window; it stops 'em most of the time." They also added a first aid kit and long rope for emergencies.

Recently Williamson and his partner, Patrolman Earl Peacock, hauled in 22 speedsters in a single day.

Texans Begin Study In Swedish Culture

HOUSTON—(AP)—Texans are sending Texans to study in Sweden.

A group of Lone Star states of Swedish descent have formed the Texas-Swedish Cultural Foundation.

They are sending four college students and one newspaperwoman to Sweden for terms of from six months to one year to pursue studies in design, ceramics, history, economics and Swedish culture.

Curious Policeman Uncovers Moonshine

MOBILE, ALA.—(AP)—Two policemen arrested the driver of a dump truck after midnight recently because the truck had neither license plates nor tail lights.

Then one of the policemen, a rookie, got curious. He climbed up to see what the cargo was.

He found 78 gallons of excellent quality whisky.

The truck was impounded, the whisky seized and the driver jailed.

Schuman Plan Clears Its Final Obstacle

ROME—(AP)—The Schuman Plan to unite Western Europe's coal and steel production under international control cleared its final parliamentary hurdle here Monday night.

In a 265-98 vote, the Italian Chamber of Deputies ratified the 50-year treaty pooling the key industrial output of six West European nations. Only the signature of President Luigi Einaudi—expected within a few days—was needed to complete endorsement.

The other nations—France, and the economic-allied Saarland, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg—already have ratified the treaty, which their foreign ministers signed in Paris on April 18, 1951, 16 months ago.

Civilian Consumers To Get More Copper

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Tuesday announced a big increase in copper allocations for civilian goods, in an attempt to induce American industry to boost imports of high-priced foreign copper.

As of July 1, makers of washing machines, ranges, refrigerators, even juke boxes and vending machines—will get 50 per cent of their pre-Korea tonnage of copper instead of 35 per cent.

Lubbock Crash Kills Crop Dusting Pilot

LUBBOCK—(AP)—A crop dusting pilot was killed Tuesday when his light plane crashed into an unoccupied house and burned. Police said he was Don Coke, 24, of Lubbock.

A hole was knocked in one corner of the house and there also was considerable fire damage.

THUMB LACERATED

L. J. Wilson, 1000 South Fort Worth Street, butcher for Eamery's Market, was treated Monday at Western Clinic-Hospital for a lacerated right thumb. Attaches said he cut his thumb while at work.

Eisenhower Opens Offices In Denver

DENVER—(AP)—Putting aside formally, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower Tuesday opened his headquarters here, from which he will make his last round fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

The general was on the job at 8:30 a.m. with no fanfare. He carried a bulging briefcase with him from his suite to the working quarters in the Brown Palace Hotel.

Tuesday afternoon he began his attempt to woo additional national GOP convention votes from Western states.

Eisenhower has begun work on the address he will give Saturday at Denison, Texas, his birthplace. It was understood the general will make an issue of the Texas Republican convention at which Eisenhower forces claim there was a "steal" of delegates by supporters of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Commies Prepare Conscript Law For East Germany

BERLIN—(AP)—Communist-run East Germany prepared Tuesday a law for conscription of a "People's Army" and for punishment of conscientious objectors as "enemies of peace."

Apparently this is a trump card of the Russians, in a move to force the Western Powers into a Big Four conference that might delay and strain the Western defense program.

East Germany's 18 million people were told in an announcement by "the anti-Fascist Democratic bloc" of parties—the Communist-dominated bloc of the East Zone, that "whoever is not ready to take up arms against the attacker of peace encourages the attacker and endangers peace."

Confession Solves Theft of Jewelry

NEW YORK—(AP)—Solution to the theft of $17,000 in jewelry from Mrs. Shirley Carmel, who plans to marry singer Johnny Johnston, was reported Tuesday with the arrest of a man acquainted with both.

Larry Kaye, 28, handsome unemployed salesman, was booked on a burglary charge.

Police said Kaye signed a statement admitting complicity in the burglary of Mrs. Carmel's apartment last Tuesday.

Police were seeking an accomplice, whom they believed to be a professional criminal.

Faster Air Power Build-Up Demanded

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee Tuesday called for a faster build-up of U. S. air power and cited testimony by the Joint Chiefs of Staff to support its stand.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), said everything must be done to step up rates of production in order to reach a goal of 143 wings as quickly as possible and overcome a "terrifying" Russian air superiority.

"To do otherwise would reduce our defenses below safe levels and be an invitation to disaster," the subcommittee said in a report dealing with the recent "stretch-out" decision by President Truman and his advisors.

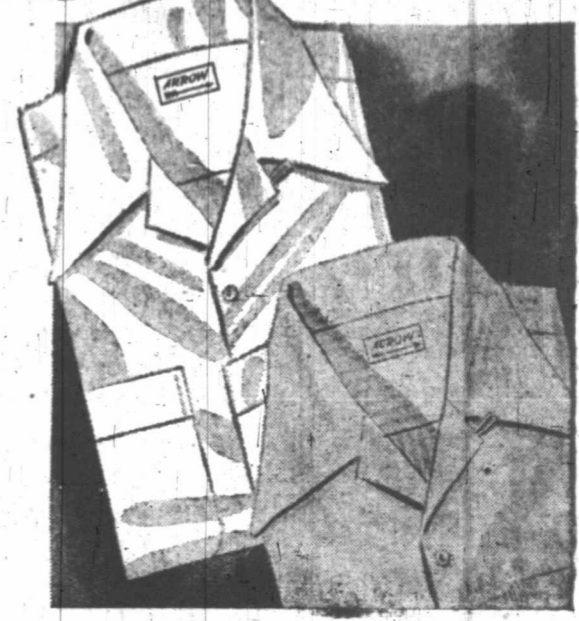

Sandstorm Blamed In Auto Accident

T. J. Pitts, 20, Midland, employed by Norwood Drilling Company, was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital at 8:30 p.m. Monday with injuries received in a car accident.

Attaches said he suffered a lacerated forehead and contusions of his left knee. The accident occurred two miles west of the city during a sandstorm.

PREFERS PERIL FROM BELOW
DALLAS—(AP)—Andy Mathews, 46, engineering company workman, is looking for a new job—preferably above ground.

He was climbing out of a manhole in downtown Dallas Monday when a motorist crashed through the iron guard rail. Mathews' head was nicked by the bottom of the car and one wheel left tire tracks across his back and shoulder. He required hospital treatment.

Last year, while helping to lay telephone cables, a 10-foot ditch caved in and buried him alive 45 minutes.

"I think I'll quit," Mathews declared.

Scientist Cites New Atom Danger
LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Atomic waste products dropped from gliders would be more dangerous to more inhabitants of a city than the actual explosion of an atom bomb, says a man who has been associated with A-bomb tests since Bikini.

R. D. Zentmer, Berkeley, Calif., told an American Chemical Society symposium Monday that physicists have devised two new methods of atomic attack—a contamination bomb and the sowing of radioactive particles in the air.

Both methods could force the evacuation of a city, he said, and could make an area uninhabitable for years.

Papa-San Takes It On Chin In Japan As Mama Gets Taste Of New Freedom

By HAL BOYLE

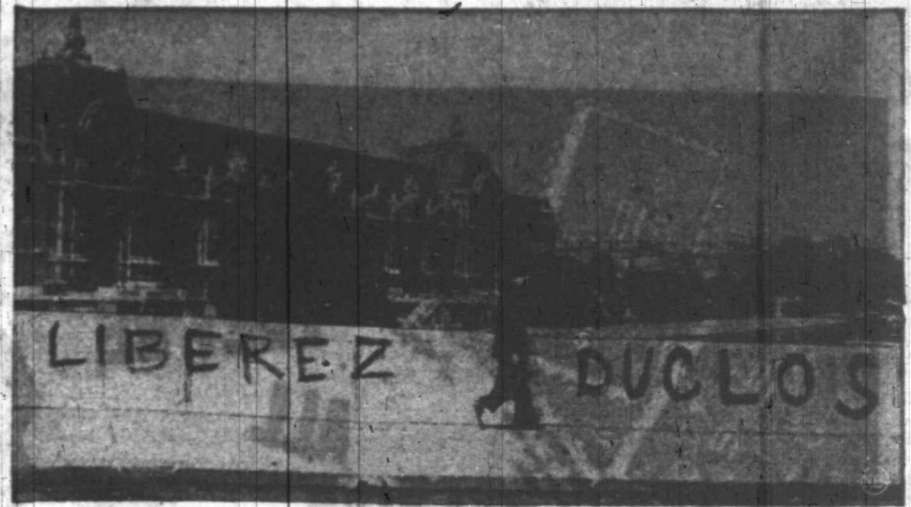

NEW YORK—(AP)—Papa-San is taking it on the chin in Japan. "Honorable father" slowly is losing his age-old power over Mama-San, or "honorable mother." The theory of male dominance is setting in the Land of the Rising Sun just as it set in America a generation ago. Soon the hand that rocks the cradle will rule the roost in Old Nippon, just as it now does in most of the Western world. The twilight of Far Eastern manhood was forecast in a recent dispatch from Futakawa Village on the Japanese Island of Honshu. The village elders there, bowing to changing times, voted that women were to have a holiday the fifteenth of each month, on which day men will wash, cook, and do all the other household chores. In a lame justification of this retreat from traditional masculine authority, the elders told the women they were expected to use their holidays to "elevate their cultural standards." But if they really think Mama-San is going to spend her new leisure studying flower arrangements, well, they just don't know Mama-San. Politics, softball I will lay these village wise men three-to-one odds that before the year is out Mama-San will be going into politics, organizing softball teams, and learning to play kanasta and blow smoke rings through her nose. The odds are heavy also that Mama-San will live up to an old Western proverb holding that if you give a woman an inch she will take a mile. "Why should we have a holiday just once a month?" she will ask. "Let's put our foot down, girls, and get a holiday every week, plus half a day off on Sunday." And before long Papa-San will be doing the dishes and dispersing in dear old Futakawa, while Mama-San runs for public office to oust the village elders who voted her the first holiday. But the step has been taken, and there can be no turning back. Japanese men lost World War II abroad. Now they are losing the post-war war at home. "The Kimono Rebellion" by which women are gaining what they euphemistically call "equal rights." But the successful revolt of Mama-San will give her new duties and insecurities. Many a woman later may wonder in Japan, as many do now in America, whether her new freedom really gives her more stature in terms of human happiness. Traditionally, a Japanese wife was known as "the pearl of the Orient." She had no legal rights, her husband could divorce her merely by writing her a three-line note, and when she went out with her lord and master she was supposed to walk two paces behind him.

A girl was taught subservience from birth. In a Japanese household even the youngest male child had his scrubbing before the oldest woman could take a turn at the bath. A wife's place was in the home, but she had a fine title: "The honorable inner dweller." And a smart Japanese wife usually managed to be boss within the realm of her home. The new Japanese constitution gives Mama-San many new rights and privileges. But this business of letting Papa-San into the kitchen, even for one day a month, opens a whole new world of Western woes. It means two bosses in the home, trying to share responsibility for meals and child care. "Is this the best you can do?" Papa-San will grumble after every meal. "I can cook better sukiyaki than this with shoes on my hands." If I were a young Japanese psychiatrist, I believe I'd hang up my shingle in Futakawa. The Mama-Sans, weighted with the strange new worries of leisure, ought to be a gold mine.

SIGN OF FUTILITY—The Parisian above walks unconcerned by the painted demand, "Liberez Duclos," on a bridge in Paris. Such signs are the only tangible evidence remaining of a futile effort by the Communist party in France to call a nationwide strike in protest against the arrest of Communist kingpin Jacques Duclos, during raids by the French government on Communist headquarters throughout France.

Allen Backs Move In Capital To Eradicate Regulation X

Endorsement of an industry move to get Congress to eliminate Regulation "X," which concerns home buying restrictions, was made Tuesday by H. W. Allen, vice president of the Midland Real Estate Board. Allen said he was speaking as an individual in urging that Regulation "X" be wiped out as the real estate board has disbanded for the summer and will not meet again until next fall.

"I feel that almost all Midland realtors are agreed that Regulation "X" should be done away with," Allen said. A new drive in gaining momentum in Congress for complete elimination of the home buying credit restrictions, and industry spokesmen say there is a good chance further relief will be ordered in the next two weeks. Basically, Congress will have to decide whether the reserve board is correct in arguing that Regulation "X" should be extended beyond June 30 to protect the economy from a new outbreak of inflation later this year. Allen said the slight modifications effective June 11 in down payments were insignificant and of little help to families in need of housing. "For example," he said, "the down payment on a $10,000 house is now $1,450 where it was $1,500. The relaxation of $50 is insignificant to buyers." "It is also unfortunate," he added, "that no change was made in the time allowed for paying off a mortgage. The maximum amortization period of homes selling at $12,000 or less is 25 years and for higher priced properties 20 years.

Gay Costumes Top Nudes In Folies Bergeres Show

PARIS—(AP)—The Folies Bergeres, known for a generation as Gay Paree's sprightly show of feminine nudity, has put on clothes-lots of them.

In the current three-hour program, called "A Real Folly," girls with uncovered bosoms are on the stage only about 15 minutes.

Most of the program is about as daring as an old-time chausson show. It is composed of parades of costumes varying from frilly 18th century French court styles to present day fashions at Longchamps race track.

A soprano in evening gown is lowered in a bird cage from the ceiling of the dingy gold-painted auditorium. Costumed girls are lowered in swings to the stage to join forces of other dressed up young women.

There is a serious ballet on the fall of Warsaw, also a good-humored fully clothed vaudeville act, and a baritone.

The costumes are elaborate, sometimes even including full masks painted to resemble knights' armor and others resembling Sèvres porcelain. They are costly and heavy, too.

Miss Eileen O'Dare, American dancer with one of the leading roles, wears in one scene a beaded dress weighing about 80 pounds. She, incidentally, always appears fully dressed and obtained a contract from the management saying no nudes would be on the stage the same time she is.

She calls the Folies "the most lavishly dressed show I've ever seen."

Lure Of Opium Star of the small portion of nudity in the show is France's slinky Yvonne Menard. In one scene, wearing only a sparkling leaf, she voluptuously struggles against the lure of opium, only to lose in the end and be carried by evil looking characters down into a smoking pit.

In another scene she, lightly costumed as before, depicts Lucretia Borgia in amorous situations with panting princes. But if today's Folies disappoint American tourists who remember Minsky's burlesque in New York and Old who have heard their fathers talk of the Paris of yesterday, it is no disappointment to the management.

The audience, mostly Anglo-Saxon and on the far side of forty, gave little applause to the nude scenes. The big applause came when the curtains went up on highly costumed and complicated still lifes on revolving stages.

But the management has better proof that applause that clothes make the show. Although the program is changed only about once a year, the 2,000 capacity theater is nearly always sold out several days in advance.

Show In The Lobby All the show is not on the stage. Equally a part of the experience of going to the Folies Bergeres is the ruckus in the lobby during intermission.

Stands sell ham sandwiches as long as your forearm, lemonade, beer, coffee, and souvenirs. There is even an art gallery, presided over by a man in tuxedo. His calendar style paintings of Paris scenes are priced at $500 to 20,000 francs (about $14 to $70).

Cutting through the beer and tobacco laden air is a loud speaker's blare of Arabian music coming from the basement, where for another 100 francs you can see la danse du ventre (belly dance).

The belly dance is ground out by tired, veiled women who must have been doing the same thing when Lindbergh landed in 1926. The spectators sit on long benches peering through the smoke in the dim, low ceilinged room.

When they climb back to the lobby and head for the auditorium they pass a sign in French and English saying: "AWARE! Do not drop chewing gums (correct) on the carpets. Thanks."

DIP OR PLUNGE?—Arabelle, 16-year-old model, fashions a double-duty bathing suit at the Paris Fair. It is designed for wear when taking a cooling dip in the sea, or for the plunge into matrimony.

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

In my last column I took up the problem of knowing when the opponents were getting ready to meld out. I wandered off into a discussion of reading the minds of the enemy, but perhaps I can get back to the original problem today.

Sometimes you can tell that the opponents are nearly ready to meld out even before either of them has made a single meld. Suppose, for example, that the opponents need 80 points for their initial meld. In the first six rounds of play they each discard two kings, two queens, one ten, and one nine.

This is a very ominous series of discards. It seems that each has discarded unwanted cards, and there is a fair chance that each opponent has no further kings, queens, tens or nines. If so, they must surely have a good match with the cards they do hold.

It doesn't take long for two matching hands to meld out. Soon or later one of the players makes his initial meld (not too difficult when 80 points is the required count) and his partner may be able to make a canasta and meld out at his very next play.

When the opponents match their discards too perfectly, therefore, you watch your step. Don't hold too much in your hand, or you will get caught.

Let's take another situation. The pack is born frozen, and each player makes a few cautious discards. Suddenly one of the opponents melds six cards from his hand and makes an obviously unsafe discard. What has happened?

That opponent has decided to play for out instead of for the pile. You may be sure that his remaining five cards give him a good play for out. He may need a little help from his partner in completing a canasta, or perhaps a favorable draw will be enough. If your opponent has good judgment, he is very close to out; and it is time for you to begin unloading.

Q—How many canastas do you need to meld out in three-handed canasta?

A—The game is played in several ways. Most people play the game in which only one canasta is needed. Incidentally, there is a fascinating new way to play three-handed canasta. I'm planning to describe it fully in a series of articles beginning next week.

STUDENTS TRY HIGH FINANCE

TOLEDO, OHIO—(AP)—Five graduate students of the University of Toledo have spent part of the past academic year "playing around" with $5,000 belonging to a local bank.

They invested the money in real securities as part of an educational venture to acquaint students with the world of finance. The fund was donated by the Ohio Citizens Trust Company. The students realized 4.4 per cent on their investment.

The largest profit, $150, was made from an investment in a stock the name of which the bank vice president said would not even be breath- ed in a reputable bank.

War Relics Explode, Kill Many Children

ROME—(AP)—The Italian Society for the Prevention of Accidents estimates some 1,400 children aged five to 12 are killed each year by aerial bombs, hand grenades, artillery and mortar shells, and mines left over from the last war. Another 7,000 annually are injured. The more than 50,000 post-war casualties among children since the Italian campaign ended in May, 1945, surpasses the total U. S. casualties in four wars—Revolutionary War (12,173); War of 1812 (4,785); Mexican War (16,399) and Spanish-American War (9,890).

Embezzler Pockets $4,200 In 12 Years

CALCUTTA—(AP)—Red-faced Calcutta school officials have ended the 12-year spree of a swindler who talked his way into $4,200 nobody missed.

At least the pilfered cash went unnoticed for years while the 35-year-old man slipped from job to job in the local educational system. The smart-looking Hindu, who speaks excellent, fluent English, kept a step ahead of suspicion until May. He didn't even have the high school, college or post-graduate degrees flaunted—forged—before school officials and actually never reached eighth grade.

He always showed keen interest in "administrative" work in schools "that kept him near the cash box," one police officer commented.

15,000 Guerrillas Believed To Be Underground In Europe

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—The existence in France and Italy of a well-armed secret Red army trained in guerrilla warfare has been revealed by a former "Chief of Security" of the French Communist Party in an exclusive interview with NEA Service.

The Cominform's clandestine command in France—many of whom were trained in special military and sabotage schools in Russia and the satellite countries—are believed to total about 15,000 men and women, the ex-Red said.

Only a small number of them were employed in the riots of May 28 which led to the arrest of Jacques Duclos, acting chief of the French Communist Party and until recently western spokesman of the Cominform.

The southern wing of France's secret Red army is linked with a similar armed Cominform organization operating in northern Italy under the command of a Soviet general, the ex-security chief of the French Communist Party revealed.

My informant was once closely associated with Andre Marty who represents the revolutionary uncompromising wing of French communism.

He was Marty's chief of staff during the civil war in Spain where the French Red acted as Moscow's chief executioner. He was also the liaison between the French Party and Marshal Tito. He quit the Communist Party when, several years after the Stalin-Tito break, he was suddenly forced to confess to a "Titoist" heresy.

With the definite eclipse of the "moderate" Duclos, who is charged by the French Reds with the "failure of nerve," die-hard Stalinist Marty assumes the top place in the French Party and in the western sections of the Cominform—at least until the arrival from Moscow of Maurice Thorez.

This is bound to widen the split among the French Reds first revealed by NEA Service last April.

A former pastry cook, short, portly Duclos was undoubtedly the Kremlin's most trusted man in the West. It was a critical article by Duclos in a French Communist publication that caused the immediate downfall of Earl Browder, former chief of the American Communist Party.

Duclos was once rumored as a successor of Maurice Thorez when the Secretary General of the French Party departed for Russia—ostensibly for a cure. He failed to get the job because of a bitter feud with the aging and ambitious Marty who is also said to have Stalin's ear.

The feud came to a climax last February following the complete failure of the ill-fated political strike, which turned out to be one of the Cominform's most complete fiascos.

The bloody riots in France in May heralded the ascendancy in the Cominform's underworld of Marty and his gang of "direct actionists."

But Russian experts in France view it as more than the personal triumph of one Stalinist politician over another. Marty's victory in the Cominform over the cautious "parliamentarian" Duclos indicates a new change in Moscow's policies.

The Kremlin apparently believes that the non-Communist world is again entering what is known in the Communist lingo as "a period of

Increased Food Poisoning Danger Cited By Pigford

Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the Midland City-County Health Unit, has added his approval to a recent press release by the office of Dr. George W. Cox, state health director, citing the increased danger of food poisoning during the warm summer months.

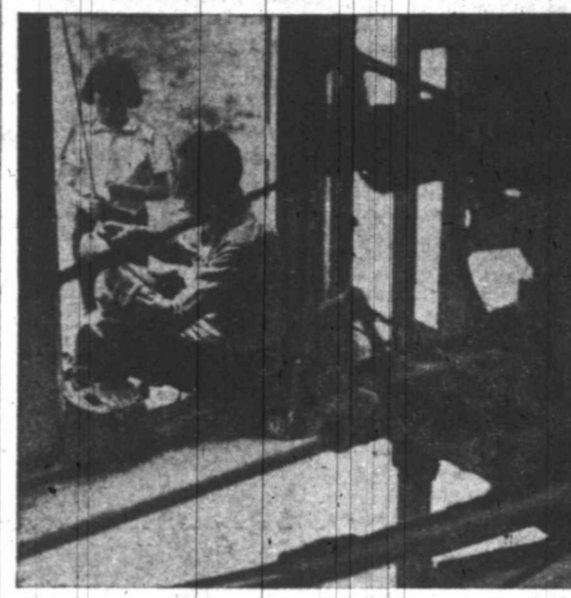

Dr. Pigford said it was particularly important that the large number of oil field workers with packed lunches be careful of the foods they select.

He pointed out the bacteria which cause food poisoning—staphylococcus organisms—grows best in foods which are slightly fatty, such as fat meats, salads with rich dressings, cream pie, cream puffs, or any food with custard fillings.

The health authorities said that sickness from food poisoning usually strikes quickly and explosively, and those who do not eat the infected food escape. Usually in one to four hours after eating contaminated food, victims feel ill. If it is a mild case of poisoning, recovery usually begins in eight to 12 hours, but victims may feel the ill effects for several days.

Another important safeguard to prevent food contamination is that the hands of the person who prepares food be scrupulously clean, and free from cuts and sores of any kind, health authorities said.

Usual symptoms of food poisoning are diarrhea, nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps, and weakness, they said.

Man at work (the way most people dream of working) is Bob Swackhamer, here fixing halt and tackle with daughter Debbie. They'll fish in river outside the factory door while Swackhamer's braiding machine, foreground, turns out rag rugs.

Housewives Given Warning Regarding Garden Spraying

Midland County Agent Charles Green has issued a warning to housewives regarding spraying garden plants having edible foods with certain insecticides, if they plan to eat the food within three weeks.

Green said that if edible food in gardens are sprayed with DDT, chlordane or lindane, the food should not be eaten until a period of three weeks have passed.

If a person fails to this, there is danger of toxic effects ranging from skin rashes to serious internal injuries from inhaling the poisons, Green said.

Even after three weeks has passed from spraying food such as snap beans or peaches with either of these three insecticides, the food should be washed and re-washed before it is eaten," Green cautioned.

The county agent said that if the food is to be eaten within a few days period and insect control is needed, the plants should be sprayed with rotenone, or some of the pyrethrum. These substances do not accumulate in the body and are not harmful to man or any other warm-blooded animal.

Housewife Discovers Raccoons Are Playful

OMAHA—(AP)—They are so playful," explained Mrs. Alvin G. Kovalin, referring to the seven baby raccoons for whom she is now playing "housemother."

Her husband got them from a farmer who had been given the young animals as a joke. She feeds them from a baby's bottle which the raccoon takes lying on his back with all fours grasping the bottle. Her two-and-one-half-year-old son takes them for rides on his tricycle.

Spuds Plentiful In Midland And At Prices Showing Dip

"There's plenty of potatoes for Midland now and at lower prices after several weeks of scarcities and high prices," H. J. Davis of the Webb-Davis Fruit Company said Monday.

Presently, the wholesale firm is selling spuds to retailers for eight cents a pound and by this weekend, they expect to sell them for six cents a pound.

"The lower price is being made possible because potato production is hitting its peak right now," Davis said. "For instance, we are getting California potatoes $1.25 FOB cheaper than we were a week ago," he added.

Davis believes that with the OPS ceiling being rescinded and spuds now going into legitimate channels, instead of the black market, that supply and demand has resulted in market stabilization.

ON THEIR WAY TO THE "CIRCUS"—Father J. Joseph Lynch, right, director of Fordham University's Seismographic Laboratory, and Father Daniel Lineham, director of the Boston College Observatory, enlist 20th-Century electronic equipment in their search for the site of Nero's Circus. Believed buried in the vicinity of St. Peter's Basilica, in Vatican City, location of the ancient structure is sought by use of this electric hammer, which, when dropped, causes shock waves which are reflected from buried objects, and then electrically recorded.

Braider Helps Inventor Spend More Time Fishing

By LEONARD RUPPERT
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONG VALLEY, N. J.—The daily ordeals of the commutator—hurrying through breakfast, bucking heavy traffic and rushing to punch a time clock—never did appeal to Robert H. Swackhamer. So he licked them by creating his own Shangri-La out of a rag bag.

Now, Swackhamer gets up when he wants, loafs when he wants, quits when he wants, spends all of the time he pleases with his family—and still makes a living.

The big idea that made it possible was an ingenious invention that braids rugs through a "control" process. A machine sought since the days of the Pilgrims, it completely conceals the folds of the braid and results in a rug that looks the same on both sides.

Long days and weeks of separation from his pretty wife, Kay, and daughter, Debbie, when he was a regional sales manager for an aircraft company sharpened Swackhamer's desire to form a husband-wife team that could spend the days together at home.

Then came the inspiration for the braiding machine. An inventor by nature, he worked long hours, completing hundreds of sketches, before perfecting the device. Finally, it was completed, set up in a two-story frame building that once had doubled as a meeting hall and blacksmith shop, and the Swackhamers were in business.

Swackhamer's day begins at 7 a.m. when he arises to enjoy a leisurely breakfast. An hour later, when most of America is bustling to get to work, he slips into a sport jacket and saunters down the road to the shop—only a block away in this village of 500 people in the hills of North Jersey.

Inside the door of the shop stands the key to the family's future, the FLOWERS AID DRIVE.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (AP) — They're asking with flowers in an effort to spur blood donations. Pretty models passed out 3,000 red roses here recently and to each was attached a card asking the recipient to donate a pint of blood at the Red Cross center. A florist group sponsored the idea.

Airlines Cash In Jackpot With Atlantic Tourist Rates

NEW YORK (NEA)—A made-in-America business principle seems to have hit the jackpot again. It's the old Henry Ford idea of uncovering a new mass market by taking less profit and selling more. This time it's the international airlines with their new low-cost tourist fares to Europe.

Tourist service started May 1 and a quick look at initial current and future bookings indicates a pay-off on what a lot of people in the business thought was pretty much of a blue-sky gamble.

Inasmuch as Pan American World Airways pioneered the tourist idea against considerable opposition, it might be well to see whether they're entitled to say "We told you so" or will have to eat the few million words they spouted for three years to get their pet project across.

From the start of their "Rainbow" (tourist) service on May 1 through May 24, Pan Am operated 23 flights from New York to points in Europe, carrying 1,952 passengers. All together the international airlines made 119 eastbound tourist flights in this period, hauling 3,873 passengers.

In the same period, all the airlines flew 110 westbound tourist trips carrying 3,873 passengers—747 on Pan Am's 23 Rainbow flights.

Before the tourist service went in to effect, five would get you 10 from the skeptics that you couldn't dig up 7,181 people in 24 days with the time, money and inclination to fly the Atlantic without stealing them from the airlines' first-class passenger lists. But there they are—and more coming all the time.

For June, Pan Am had 81 tourist flights scheduled, with 3,840 of the 4,080 available seats booked in advance. By June 1, 3,596 of the 3,840 seats on 48 July flights had been booked; so had 38 per cent of the 4,340 seats for August.

It was simply a matter of tapping a mass market that had been there right along, waiting for someone to give it the nod.

Apparently, the airlines have found a new type of passenger. What's he like? Well, typically, he has a $5,000-to-$6,000-a-year income, has a two-week vacation, plans to visit at least three countries and spend less than $1,000 on his entire trip.

Passenger lists show that if the passenger is a man he's most likely to be a skilled mechanic, such as a die-maker, a foreman or other straw-boss or a salesman or a small businessman.

Possibly an extreme case, but one that gives you an idea of the kind of people for whom low trans-Atlantic fares are opening new horizons is Carl Ziegler, 49, of Chicago, a passenger on the initial Rainbow flight. A window-washer, he was born in Berlin and made the trip to see his ailing mother and his brothers, whom he hadn't seen in 14 years.

If your tourist-rate passenger is a woman, she's apt to be a war bride, returning to her native country to show the old folks their new grandson or granddaughter—or both. With the closing of schools this month, flocks of school teachers have taken wing to Europe.

Typical among the GI brides who made the initial flight, for instance, was Mrs. John Wright, of Alton, Ill., wife of a printer on the Alton Telegraph, who took her son Terrence, two, with her. She hadn't seen her parents in England in five years.

In sharp contrast was the group of a dozen people from St. Louis, who were traveling together. All of German birth or background, they were middle-aged or older. They hadn't seen the old country Europe Bound Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of New York climb aboard inaugural flight of Pan American's low-fare tourist service to Europe.

Like tourists for which new low-fare service was designed, Mr. and Mrs. Young look at Paris with the Eiffel Tower as background. Airlines carried 7,181 tourists in first 24 days.

for many years and, most of them said they would not have gone on this trip except for the chance of going economically by "tourist."

Shepherds of the party were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henne. Mrs. Henne came to the U. S. in 1927 and hadn't seen her 77-year-old mother in Tübingen, Germany, since then.

There were others, but these examples, which could be duplicated on almost every plane load, are enough to indicate definitely that a new type of passenger will support the tourist-rate plan.

Main objection of all U. S. and nearly all foreign international airlines to the plan was that it would kill the first-class trade. Just the opposite seems to be happening. Since the low-rate flights started on May 1, Pan Am's first-class bookings are up five per cent over last year.

Main attraction of the new service is, of course, the money it saves. For the first time, a person with an average income can afford to spend his two or three-week vacation in Europe. A round-trip tourist-class flight to London costs $486 against $711 for first class. This is during "the season"—April through October. Out-of-season trips cost less.

The airlines do it by cutting out the expensive first-class frills and carrying a lot more passengers. They cut out the cocktail lounge, the crew's "day room" up forward, reduced the baggage space—and put in more seats.

The specially-designed DC Super-6 Clippers on the Rainbow run can carry a maximum of 85 passengers against the 56 on first-class flights and the 44 carried on the de luxe sleeperette planes. Fills like free de luxe meals—with champagne are out. You pay a nominal charge for the one or two meals you eat on the trip.

Outside of that, tourist-rate air travel to Europe isn't much different from first class.

New type of passenger flocking to Europe under new low-rate airline tourist fares are typified by Miss Katherine Knebel, 72, of Lemay, Mo., and Peter Dittlich, three, of Affton, Mo., both bound for Germany to visit relatives.

American Insecticide Aids Jordan In War On Locusts

An American chemical, aldrin, the deadliest weapon yet developed against man's ancient insect enemy, the locust, is speeding by airplane some 7,500 miles to join other nations and insecticides in a battle to save a quarter of the world's people from a grave threat of wide-spread famine.

An emergency shipment of two tons of the powerful insecticide, enough to purge more than 30,000 acres of marauding locusts, has been flown from Denver to New York by Flying Tiger, and by several overseas airlines to Damascus, for treatment of locust-infested land in Jordan.

The Middle Asian state is one of the most seriously affected of 15 countries of Asia and Africa whose food supply is threatened by what is described as the worst locust infestation in 100 years.

Mixed with water and sprayed from low-flying planes at the exceptionally small dosage of two ounces of aldrin per acre, the American insecticide, on the basis of past performance, is expected to obliterate locust hordes on Jordan's irrigated vegetable crops, date palms and dry land cereals.

The toxicant will also be applied in the form of a ground bait at dosages as low as one-half ounce of aldrin per acre.

Forty more tons of aldrin will follow by boat for use in trouble spots from Eritrea in East Africa to India. F. Oostermeyer, president of Shell Chemical Corporation, marketers of aldrin, said Saturday that the 42 tons had been made available "literally overnight" to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization, which is cooperating with the governments of threatened countries in stamping out the locust danger.

Maple Tree Knots No Cause To Worry
COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—There's really no cause to worry if your silver maple tree looks like it is coming down with the measles, says T. H. Parks, extension entomologist at Ohio State University.

"Maple bladder galls" is the correct name for numerous little bumps appearing on silver maple leaves. This Spring, he says, the globular-shaped galls appear on the upper surface of the leaves and are green at first. Later they turn red and then almost black. They are caused by microscopic insects.

The damage is so small that most authorities question the value of control measures, Parks says.

Huge Floating Dock Due For Salvaging

SINGAPORE (AP)—The world's largest floating dock, lying at the bottom of the Johore Straits with a 14,000 ton Japanese cruiser in her basin, is to be refloated and towed to Britain for breaking up.

The 24,750-ton Singapore floating dock, capable of holding a 50,000-ton ship, was scuttled by the British to prevent it falling into Japanese hands before the fall of Singapore.

The Japanese refloated it, but allied bombers sunk it again with the Japanese cruiser, Shiretoko, in her basin. The dock has lain in the strait between Singapore and the Malayan mainland ever since.

21-Cent Profit Spells Boom For Equity Theater

NEW YORK (NEA)—A profit of 21 cents for the year may not seem sensational, but the Equity Theater, Inc., was very happy about it. So were a couple of hundred ambitious young actors.

The ELT is an arm of Actors' Equity Association, the union of stage players. Its purpose is to "showcase" its members so that the talent buyers of Broadway, television and movies can see them in action. Besides its own plays, it runs the Community Theater, which brings good plays to neighborhood community centers.

It was the Community Theater end of the operation which showed the 21-cent profit last year. These productions have paid casts and directors, while ELT talent works for free. That profit, small as it was, showed that Community Theater could be self-supporting, and it's continuing.

It's the ELT itself, however, that is the organization's chief interest. Each season, 15 plays are produced, running for six performances each, on a $30 budget. ELT maintains fairly complete supplies of scenery, lights, props and costumes, but to stage a complex play on $30 takes ingenuity.

All the performers are drawn from Equity membership rolls. When a play is to be given, a notice is tacked up on the bulletin boards at Equity headquarters and the ELT theater. Any Equity member can audition for any part. If he's picked, he must rehearse for two weeks.

Other established performers try out for ELT parts, in a desire to show producers that they can do something besides their usual roles. There was Carmen Mathews, for example, long known for her ability in heavy dramatic parts. She played light-comedy in one ELT production, and has since had many comedy parts on Broadway.

Most of the ELT casts, however, are made up of youngsters who've had only walk-ons and bit parts on Broadway, plus Summer stock experience. Lyn Ely, the ELT executive secretary, estimates that 90 per cent of the ELT players get jobs as a result of their appearances.

Since it started in 1943, ELT has helped such performers as Betsy Drake, Charlton Heston, Bethel Leslie, Elaine Stritch, Lenore Lomax, Wesley Addy and Paula Lawrence. Altogether, some 8,000 actors have been seen by ELT audiences, most of whom are theatrical, movie and television producers and casting directors. It's almost exclusively an invited audience.

Typical of those looking for breaks was the star of this year's ELT production of "One Touch of Venus," pretty Beverly McFadden. This play was unusual in that it was produced by Chorus Equity, the division of Actors' Equity that includes chorus people only.

Stage boom for Beverly McFadden resulted from her appearance with the Equity Library Theater. Her "showcase" was the lead in "One Touch of Venus," which she's shown rehearsing here with Director Frank Davidson and Carl Conway, co-star.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By Al McClane
Fishing Editor

It was in May that I caught my first fish—a fat yellow perch fully 10 inches long. The stream in which the perch lived spilled from a small city reservoir and meandered through a boggy meadow. Before joining the quiet lake a mile below, it slipped under a railroad trestle.

The real quarry was trout trout. Of course, there wasn't anything and cruised upward, looked the insects over, then slurped him in.

Somewhat or other, I still get the same hang out of pan-fishing as I did then, and this is a good time for it...calicos, crappies, perch bluegills, and those luscious blueheads.

Bullheads are a cinch to take at night, and they're particularly eager to bite after a rain. If you're lucky enough to know a bullhead pond with a feeder stream—fish the stream mouth after dark.

Bait? (The oldest piece of meat you can find, chicken entrails, beef, or sun-ripened shrimp if you want the best. In Iowa a survey made by the Conservation Commission as to the most productive catfish baits shows fresh blood in first place, followed in order by minnows, various cheese baits, ripe chicken entrails, fresh shrimp, crawfish angleworms and nightcrawlers, clams and frogs.)

Half a hundred other baits are mentioned, including wallpaper cleaner, leeches, hellgrammites, sand loads, and laundry soap.

Probably the bait most widely used in the central United States is one of cheese. There are more prepared cheese baits on the market than all other baits combined, and they all smell bad.

but the ghost of trout in the warm, weedy water—but, properly whispered, the name "trout" gave my river staura. The perch liked the shaded pool patched with square of sunlight that dropped between the railroad ties. It was cool and myriads of wood-boring insects fell from the oak above.

The perch lay in big schools just under the surface. As some careless bug jumped in, a long orange-bellied fish detached himself from the ranks

The MATURE PARENT

Don't Let A Talented Child Evade His Responsibilities

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She is a pretty, talented child of 15 who has been singing and dancing in public for some time. She is cheer leader for her high school athletic teams, and with her boyfriends and entertaining dates, has to stay up late to get her school work done.

Her mother is worried over her nervous state whenever she has to face school tests and disturbed by the impatience of her daughter's teachers.

"They do not understand that she needs love and admiration to do well," the mother writes.

My reader's worry is a healthy sign. It is time that her child began to learn how to perform without applause.

Schools are not established to teach algebra and history, but to help young people learn to do what they're told without the support of love and admiration.

We're the people responsible for the love and encouragement, not teachers. They are the people who prepare children to work for employers who are not fathers, mothers or admirers, but who just want jobs done. They serve as intermediaries between homes and the world where children must work for those whom they do not love and who do not love them.

We undervalue the real function of school experience when we think of it merely as education in algebra and history.

If I had a young daughter who found it impossible to be interested in any activity that did not bring her admiration and applause, I would crack down on those activities. I would explain why it is important to be active without the drug of flattery.

I would do this out of a personal conviction that intoxication induced by flattery impairs the true self-esteem of children. Unless we have such a conviction we may indeed be in a spot when our athletic heroes and cheerleading daughters come home so drunk on applause that they can't put their hands on algebra and history.

If we are going to continue to expose adolescent children to the heavy doses of public applause from grandstands the way we do, we should see to it that they get loving and persistent instruction on the value of the noise made by hands beaten together.

We tend to neglect this duty. That is why in our society we have so many people who make careers of playing to grandstands long after the audience has found other shows to amuse and entertain it.

I am not suggesting that algebra or history are vital to the peace of talented children with aptitudes for dancing, Italian arias, violin, water colors or carrying the ball over the goal line. I certainly am suggesting that their attention to algebra or history is vital.

This attention is a responsibility. If it is not assumed, they are led to believe that their aptitudes excuse them from ordinary responsibilities, that they are entitled to evade any that is not connected with applause.

Such misleading training produces middle-aged men who are only happy recalling the day when they won the game for dear old something. It produces the maladjusted artists, writers, actors and musicians who go to pieces under criticism and never are done complaining of how they never got a "break."

We should take more care how we encourage talented children to regard their gifts as claims to special privileges. Unless the talent is rooted in character that can weather the rainy day as well as the sunny seasons, it is not an asset to our talented child, but a grave liability. A "harmless pencil," with a vicious scalpel blade tied to the other end.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Story For A Rainy Day

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, looked out the window of the monkey house. He saw the rain coming down like barrels of water spilling. He couldn't go out to play.

"But don't fret yourself," said Daddy Ringtail, "because I know a happy, happy story for a rainy day."

The story was about an Indian boy who had grown up at last to be a man. He lived in the faraway days when the buffalo roamed and thundered across the prairie, and the stars sang and danced in the sky. High-feather was the Indian's name, and he hunted for food with bow and arrow for him and his dear old mother to eat.

One day when High-feather was out hunting, he came upon a path in the prairie grass. The path went around in a circle. It came from nowhere, and it went nowhere.

High-feather wondered what kind of animal had made the path, and while he was wondering, he happened to look up at the sky. He saw a speck like an eagle high in the sky, but it wasn't an eagle up there in the blue. It was something else. It grew larger and larger while High-feather looked. It was a great, round basket!

High-feather hid in the tall grass as the basket came down to earth.

He saw twelve beautiful maidens jump out of the basket and begin to dance around the path!

"Let me dance with you!" High-feather cried, but the maidens screamed with fright and jumped in the basket. Quickly it rose out of sight in the sky.

When High-feather hurried home and told his mother about it, she said: "Those weren't Indian maidens you saw. They were star-maidens from the Star-country in the sky."

And when High-feather said he must have one of the maidens to

50 Years Of GOP Conventions Recalled By Editor

By C. M. HARGER
(Distributed by NEA Service)
EDITOR'S NOTE: Charles M. Harger is editor of the Reflector-Chronicle, of Abilene, Kan., a town that's large in the 1952 political spotlight as the place where Eisenhower grew up. But Harger has known presidential politics much longer than Abilene. For 50 years he's been secretary of National GOP conventions, and in this dispatch recalls some of the exciting ones.

From the rostrum of the Republican or Democrat National Convention is presented a marvelous parade—the common people from every state in the Union gathered to name in one convention or the other the President of the most powerful nation in the world.

A subconscious tenseness makes itself felt. There is a realization of the responsibility placed upon the assembly, intensified by six months of hectic campaigning by the various candidates. A thousand or more delegates (1,200 in 1952) and 10,000 on lookers sitting under bunting and flags are keenly interested in the outcome.

The most exciting convention in a half century was that of 1912. President William Howard Taft, seeking a second term, was opposed by Theodore Roosevelt who had been President before Taft and broke with him. He had around a third of the delegates.

Several Southern states had selected rival delegations but the national committee, which decides legality, had seated only the Taft delegates. The entire convention would approve or disapprove its action.

The committee's report was presented at the opening session with Elihu Root, the noted attorney from New York, presiding. The chairman read a list of Taft delegates. "All in favor say aye."

A political "aye" came from the Taft delegates.

"All opposed say 'no.'"

The chairman calmly announced, "The ayes seem to have it and it is carried."

The next state had the same treatment, but the delegates and visitors—some 10,000—took Roosevelt's part and the resounding "no" roar must have cracked the ceiling of the Chicago Coliseum.

"The ayes seem to have it and it is carried," again declared the chairman.

So it went through the list. The Roosevelt delegates, headed by William Allen White and Henry J. Allen of Kansas and Hiram Johnson of California, stalked from the hall.

GOP Missed Boat

That evening Teddy appeared on the scene. He was received with bands, a torchlight parade, and much enthusiasm. The Taft followers distributed circulars saying that Roosevelt would walk on the water at the foot of Congress Street at 10 o'clock the next morning—in a satire of his alleged Messiah-like character.

After thinking about it for three days, the Taft forces decided on a compromise. Both candidates would resign and the convention unite on the brilliant young statesman, Herbert Hadley of Missouri. A committee was named to call on the candidates. Taft agreed. Hadley told me how Roosevelt reacted.

Teddy's face flushed and he pounded the table. "By the Almighty, if anybody is to be nominated, I am."

"That is how close I came to being President of the United States," said Hadley.

Taft carried two states, Roosevelt half a dozen or so and Woodrow Wilson was elected. The Republicans missed the boat.

Fair-Haired Boy

Politicians were eager to be named for vice-president in 1928. Among them was Sen. Charles Curtis from Kansas, part Indian, a favorite of the Sunflower State. After his name had been presented came an uproar from the dooryard and in came a group of some 200 young men abutting for Curtis. Bearing banners, they joined the Kansas and Oklahoma delegations and marched up the aisle, a cheering mob.

To my surprise, I recognized the leaders and many of the followers as prominent Democrats of my state—foremost among them the late Matt Gulliflowe and W. J. Scott of Abilene. Coming from a Democrat dinner a few blocks away, they moved in a body to rush the hall just in time to join the Curtis parade.

The Eastern delegates were so impressed by the determination in Curtis' favor that he was nominated on the first ballot. They did not know that most of the marchers were Democrats—who later boasted that they nominated a Republican candidate.

In 1940 came Wendell Willkie, head of a great utility, vigorous, likeable. He did not enter the campaign until late Spring but a wave of political hysteria swept the Republicans and he was the fair-haired boy the nation over.

"We Want Willkie"

At the Philadelphia convention he had three small rooms at the end of a third-floor corridor; his leading opponent had a ballroom, entertainers, a band, a small elephant parading the street, and a truckload of American Beauty roses for the women.

When the convention auditorium held some 12,000 persons, the galleries took up the chant "We Want Willkie." The chant rang out all during the convention.

Then came a flood of telegrams to every delegate. So many messages were filed at Chicago that the Western Union could not handle them and dumped them into suitcases, put them aboard a plane, and took them to Philadelphia.

"How about it?" a worried Nebraska man was asked.

"Look here," he replied. "Twenty-two telegrams—from my pastor, my doctor, the leading merchant, a garage man, president of the Women's Federation of Clubs. All of them say the same thing, 'Vote for Willkie or don't come home.'"

"What are you going to do?"

"I came here instructed for our state's choice, but I suppose I'll vote for Willkie." And he did.

Willkie won over other candidates favored by the party managers. He made a vigorous campaign—and failed. He talked so much that his health was undermined and he later died.

TV This Time

One traditional feature of a convention—the nomination parade—is in danger of abandonment. When the name of a candidate is placed before the delegates it has been the custom for all his supporters to form a procession in the aisle, and displaying banners and placards, snuggled in under their coats, start marching.

In the parade may be some who are not even delegates, but it makes a shouting, singing display.

The Democrat national committee at its mid-Winter meeting discussed abandoning the quaint custom claiming it is bad enough for those present, wearisome to radio listeners, and poison to TV—and TV is important in politics these days.

How to stop it without a police block of the aisles is a problem. What candidate would consent to the elimination of a custom which existed before his grandfather? The 1952 conventions will give the answer.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Chances Of Multiple Births Greater As Mothers Near 40

The only thing that may be influencing this picture is that there seems to be a greater chance of having more than one child at a single birth as the mother gets older, at least until about the age of 35 to 39.

If more women of this age bracket are having children, there could, therefore, be a slight increase in the number of multiple births.

As things stand today, twins are born once in about 90 births.

The chance of having triplets are, of course, much less than chances of having twins and this occurs in about one in 9,000 confinements. The likelihood of giving birth to quadruplets is even less, namely about one in 620,000, which would mean that four or five sets of quadruplets would be born in the United States each year.

The subject of the chances of having multiple children at one birth cannot be dismissed without referring to quintuplets, or five. So far as this writer knows, only two sets of quintuplets have survived past infancy.

This is not surprising since it has been estimated that quintuplets can be expected about once in 57,000,000 confinements.

There are two kinds of twins. Fraternal twins are the result of the fertilization of two eggs. Such twins may be of the same or of opposite sex. Except for having identical birthdays, they may be as different from each other as any other brothers or sisters, both physically and mentally.

Most Born Prematurely

Identical twins are the result of the fertilization of a single egg which later divides. Identical twins

How to have a winning TELEPHONE PERSONALITY
by EMILY POST

We're often judged by the way we use telephone service. Good telephone technique and good telephone manners are important to a winning personality... and help you get the most from your telephone service.

A housewife brings up an interesting point about long distance telephone calls: "I have trouble saying all I want to say, briefly and concisely, when I'm talking against time. What do you suggest?"

It is a good idea to do a little planning ahead of time. Keep a pad and pencil near your telephone. Make notes of the things you want to talk about—you'll be surprised how they help you stay on the subject. With the right planning, you can say as much in a three-minute call as you can in an exchange of letters. And call by number, whenever you can. Service is faster—often twice as fast.

Perhaps you have wondered if it is ever permissible to ask "Who is calling, please?"

At home or in the office, it is always perfectly correct for the person answering the telephone to ask, "Who is calling, please?" No one should take offense at this question. Anyone should be willing to give his name and state his business just as he would if calling at your front door.

A friend asks, "Do you have any advice on care of the telephone instrument itself?"

Yes, telephone users would do well to realize the value of their service depends in part on the care they give their telephones. Keep the cord free of twists and tangles that can injure the tiny wires inside. Spruce up the telephone with a soft, dry cloth—never with water or any other liquid. Keep the instrument on a sturdy stand or desk top and away from the edge where it might get bumped to the floor.
