

Ingrid Sheds Tears Of Joy At Birth Of Twin Daughters

ROME —A wan and weary Ingrid Bergman shed tears of joy Thursday as she got her first good look at her day-old twin daughters, Isabel, seven pounds, three ounces, and her younger sister by half an hour—eight-pound, five-ounce Ingrid—dosed in fitful unconsciousness of their international publicity.

Sharing his wife's joy after a night-long vigil at her bedside in the flower-packed hospital room was Roberto Rossellini, for whose love the blonde Swedish film star abandoned her husband and a Hollywood career. The Rosselinis have a son born in 1950.

The twins, two weeks overdue, were born Wednesday night at the fashionable Salvatore Mundi Hospital. The 35-year-old mother was reported doing well.

Dr. Pier Luigi Quidotti, who assisted in the birth, said the film star "cried when she saw her babies and was happy because they were perfect babies and just what her husband wanted."

Messages delivered congratulations from all parts of the world and telephone calls clogged the hospital switchboard.

Marring the hour of the Rossellini's happiness was a legal battle with Miss Bergman's ex-husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom.

Lindstrom is fighting in a Los Angeles court a request by the actress to have her first-born, 18-year-old Jenny Ann, visit her in Rome this Summer.

Cleopatra was the last queen of Egypt.

YARBOROUGH DID MAKE IT

Midland friends of Ralph Yarborough assured voters Thursday that the gubernatorial candidate had fulfilled his announcement of a visit to the city.

Yarborough was delayed in reaching Midland from Big Spring Tuesday. It was late afternoon and he spent limited time calling on old friends.

Yarborough had been delayed during the day and had to push westward to meet meeting commitments on radio time.

Midlanders Invited To Air Force Show

Col. Ernest F. Wackwitz, Jr. Webb Air Force Base commanding officer, has repeated his earlier invitation to all area residents to visit the base for Saturday morning's graduation review.

"Inclement weather on Armed Forces Day kept our jets out of the air, but we'll have them flying for the graduation review," the colonel promised.

In addition to the mass flyover, various types of aircraft in use at Webb will be displayed on the flight line. Specially-constructed ramps will make easy inspection of the aircraft possible.

Base officials say that parking lots for more than 1,000 automobiles are located immediately adjacent to the flight line. Flight line ceremonies are scheduled to get under way at 9 a.m.

Sweden May Join NATO As Result Of Red Attacks

STOCKHOLM—(NEA)—The unprovoked Russian attack on two unarmored Swedish planes has at least weakened traditionally neutral Sweden to the realization that its neutrality is largely an illusion.

The two planes shot down, plus disclosure that a widespread espionage network is operating in Sweden under protection of the Soviet embassy, has brought Stockholm to serious consideration of joining NATO for the first time since the outbreak of the hot-cold war.

GETS MOBBED, AND LIKES IT

BROOKLINE, MASS.—(P)—Patrolman Thomas E. Killion was mobbed Wednesday—but he didn't mind.

He was mobbed with hugs and kisses by 325 pupils of the Runkle School after it closed for the Summer.

Killion will retire next month after 40 years' service, 25 of them spent directing traffic in front of the school.

Beckworth Slates Speech In Midland

Representative Lindley Beckworth, candidate for United States Senator, will bring his campaign to Midland on June 26 for a 2:30 p.m. speaking engagement, his headquarters announced Thursday.

The candidate has been a member of Congress for 14 years and is chairman of the 23-member Texas delegation. An attorney from Glade-water in Upshur County, Beckworth also served two years in the Texas Legislature.

Other stops scheduled by the congressman for June 26 include Pecos at 10 a.m., Monahans at 11 a.m., Odessa at 1:30 p.m., Big Spring at 4 p.m., Colorado City at 5:30 p.m. and Sweetwater at 7 p.m. The talks will climax a tour through all of West Texas.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

Cooper Repartee (?) Suffers From Evening At Video Screen

HOLLYWOOD—Exclusively yours: Television is cramping Gary Cooper's repartee.

Cooper's famous man of few words told me when I asked his opinion of television: "It stifles conversation. You sit with your friends and watch four or five TV shows—mysteries and murders and some beaten-up dance acts. The evening's complete conversational loss."

Yup, that's what the man said. The late Robert Walker's two sons, who haven't been happy away from California, are due back in Hollywood any day from their New York schools to join mama Jennifer Jones and David O. Selznick. Jennifer will enroll them in California schools from now on.

The grapevine's twisting with the report that the Esther Williams-Ben Gage marriage craft has sprung a leak but that Esther's balling like mad to avoid a divorce plunge.

Rita Hayworth returned from south of the border with a Mexican gun-carrying permit in her purse. Joe Ferrer and his wife are spicing divorce talk by having her join him in Paris during the filming of "Moulin Rouge."

Mumfrey Bogart and George Raft can start howling. Jerry Lewis will do a murderous satire on their movie gangster roles in "Scared Stiff." Director George Marshall even has Jerry flipping a half dollar & La Raft's famous bit in "Scarface."

Teenager to her gal friend while gulping popcorn at a movie: "You know something, I don't like double features. I always get too much." Another Clooney Hit? Rosemary Clooney's singing of "Come On 'a My House" sold a million records and Columbia's predicting a repeat for her latest novelty song, "Bocha Me"—"kiss me" in Italian. Don't be surprised if Paramount teams up Bing Crosby and Rosemary after her movie debut in "The Stars Are Singing." The Crooner's hailing her as the best feminine singer of the day.

Librarian, the piano wizard, replaces Dinah Shore on her TV show for the Summer. Line from the script of UT's "Cattle Kate" explaining the shapey dance hall hostesses who work for Maureen O'Hara: "These may not be fallen women, but they're certainly done a lot of stumbling."

Clark Gable's being linked with a sippy French pastry named Annabel, who sings at a Paris nitery. Not to be confused with Annabella, ex-wife of Ty Power.

Title of William Saroyan's new book, due in September, is an eyebrow raiser: "Bicycle Rider in Beverly Hills."

Janice Rule and meat-packing heir Tom Hormel deny the romance rumors. It's just that Janice is very palmy-walay with Leslie Caron, who's married to (George Hormel, Tom's brother.) Unwelcome Change

Eisenhower's Mother Gone, But Old Home Reflects Personality

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK —(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower's mother was not there when he came home to Abilene the other day. She has gone now. The spirit of her, though, the very essence of this woman, is so strong that it breathes from every corner of their home. Indeed, the old house is a perfect self-portrait, something she made and colored forever with the rich, deep shades of personality.

Her niece, Mrs. Ray Etherington, still lives up the road a way. She calls her "Aunt Ida." "She must have been very strong," I said, "as a person."

"She was," Mrs. Etherington said. "Of them all, Aunt Ida was the most vivid, the dominant one. Of course, you wouldn't think it to look at her."

In the photographs of her as a young woman, her chin is small and pointed. There is a firmness about her mouth, and yet the faintest shadow of a smile, too. Her hair is thick and it looks dark in the picture. In her eyes, there is that same intimation of a smile, something felt rather than seen. Her eyebrows are high and dark, and they give her an arch, knowing expression.

This expression must have been very marked on her face when she pretended not to notice the boys had taken her bread dough from the old Pennsylvania Dutch dough tray in the kitchen, rolled it into balls and were playing catch behind her back.

And all her life she pretended not to recognize the nickname, "Ike," although every one of the boys—and not Dwight, alone—was known as "Ike" at one time or another. "Ike?" she would say, sweetly. "Who is Ike?"

All this is just as it was when she went away for the last time.

Take Your Choice

Seldom in modern Democratic Party history has the situation surrounding the choice of a presidential nominee been so fluid so near to nominating time as it is this year.

Senator Kefauver of Tennessee, with an acknowledged 250 delegates in the bag and possibly another 50 to come, is the probable front-runner.

His advantage lies in his demonstrated strength at the polls and the fact that he is up there and must be knocked down. But he has a long way to go to the 616 votes necessary to nominate at the Democratic convention in Chicago.

Since the Tennesseean is not the favorite of powerful elements in the party, what kind of candidate do they want? The avowed choice of the South is Senator Russell of Georgia, who will come into Chicago with a sizable block of Southern delegates.

In fact, the real aim of his candidacy is not to win the nomination but to avoid a North-South split in his party, after the fashion of the 1948 Dixiecrat revolt.

His record and his stand on the issues make him highly acceptable to all wings of the party.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Copyright, 1952, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Justice Department official who opposed monopoly got fired; Graham Morrison prosecuted A. T. & T. and RCA; Gas lobby tried to defeat Chairman Buchanan.

WASHINGTON—There was more than meets the eye behind the sudden axing of three assistant attorneys general by Jim McCraney, new head of the Justice Department.

One of them, Graham Morrison, head of the anti-trust division, had been a tough, uncompromising prosecutor of big business monopoly and was regarded as one of the best men in the Justice Department.

But Morrison, paying no attention to this relationship, had called a grand jury to investigate certain RCA practices. RCA, in turn, has hired the lawyer closest to the White House, Clark Clifford.

New Attorney General McCraney questioned Morrison about the RCA case shortly after he took office. McCraney was discreet, said little. But a few days later, he fired Morrison.

Note—Morrison long had wanted to leave the Justice Department, but had several other job openings, but remained on because of his devotion to anti-trust work.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

An expert always has a reason for his bid or play, while an average player relies to some extent on habit or the whim of the moment.

When today's hand was played, West happened to be a player who has never been accused of being an expert. In fact, whenever this particular chap makes the right bid or play he does so against his better judgment.

Bridge hand analysis table with columns for WEST, EAST, SOUTH, and NORTH, listing cards and suits.

seven of clubs from his hand, vaguely hoping for the best.

West didn't like to see a seven lying around loose, so he covered with the eight of clubs. This meaningless play gave East quite a problem.

It was clear from the bidding that West held at least five clubs. Hence West surely held at least one club lower than the seven.

As a result, this East didn't give his partner the diamond ruff, and South made his contract.

What's RIGHT?

Friends who have a television set, knowing that you do not have one, ask if you would like to come to their house to watch television for an evening and you aren't at all interested.

WRONG: Feel that you must go and act enthusiastic, even though you actually don't care for television.

RIGHT: Say frankly that you just aren't a television fan. That will not only save you from suffering through one evening, but from other such evenings in the future.

We Can't Use Bean To Predict Elections Before Conventions

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Louis H. Bean, who wrote "How to Predict Elections" in 1948 and "The Mid-Term Election" in 1950, says he isn't going to write a book this election year.

Not yet, anyway. His reason is that there just aren't any exact or scientific methods of predicting what's going to happen at a presidential nominating convention.

Dr. Bean insists he never makes predictions. Nevertheless, before the congressional elections of 1950, he came up with facts which led to the conclusion that the Republicans would gain from 25 to 30 seats in the House of Representatives.

Bean did not make the prediction that Truman would be elected. But, as one was observed, "If he had read his own book, he could have made that prediction and been right, where everybody else was wrong."

Other unpredictable factors are involved. Will there be a series of strikes? Will the cost of living continue to rise? Or will there be a mild business slump?

At this moment you cannot encourage your partner to bid a game, but you don't want to discourage him.

Death in the Sierras

By Doris Hudson Moss

"The treasure of Gold Lake was buried between three trees. I could not understand the circle of the lines and at the moment I was too perturbed and exhausted to think clearly."

"I listened carefully, dear Mrs. Ordell," I said, as calmly as possible. "I am not Elsie Martinson. I have heard that I look like her but I am really Rosemary Curtis. I came here to look for you or to find the man who attempted to kill you. We are in a cave below the surface of the earth quite near my tent. You are apparently safe and cared for as I can. I'll bring you out as quickly as I can. I'll bring you out as quickly as I can. I'll bring you out as quickly as I can."

"I was afraid to leave her with the murderer in this living grave, yet she had been cared for; no doubt of that. My mind was in turmoil."

So They Say

When you're fighting something evil you're not going to beat it by keeping quiet about it.

With all that money ($9 billion dollars for defense) being pumped into our economy, many prices would go up if controls were lifted.

No one should assume that the possibility of a world war has become remote.

Anti-narcotics campaigns carried on in schools place too much information in the hands of susceptible youngsters.

I started in Othello because I was the only star I could afford to hire.

Have A Laugh

A rural school district, known as Indian Gap, wanted to get an adjoining district to merge.

A meeting was called of the patrons of the two schools and the Indian Gap board chairman said, "We folks want you folks of the Washboard District to join with us and we assure you that not only will we Indian Gap people cooperate with you, but we will collaborate with you."

There is nothing a crooked politician likes better than a dense crowd.

Taft Trade Offer To Californian Is Reported In Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Chronicle said Wednesday night in a special dispatch from Washington that Sen. Robert A. Taft had personally offered the Republican vice presidential nomination to California Senator William F. Knowland if he would throw his weight to Taft for President at the Chicago GOP convention.

The dispatch quoted "excellent sources" otherwise unidentified. The Chronicle said Knowland would neither confirm nor deny the report.

Knowland, who is on the California Republican presidential delegation pledged to the state's Gov. Earl Warren, said he was for Warren and would refuse to take part in any trading "before the convention."

Thompson To Attend Inspection Of 49th

NORTH FORT HOOD (AP)—The 49th Armored Division is preparing for its review and parade here Saturday—expected to be a relief from the hot and dusty week on the firing ranges.

Sixteen of the Army's new covered vehicles for carrying armored infantry into combat arrived at the fort Wednesday. They will be displayed to the public for the first time Saturday.

NPA Announces Metal Allotments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Production Authority Wednesday announced allotments of metal for construction of 431 office, store, church, municipal and other building projects during the July-September quarter.

Largest project on the list was $2,938,000 hotel for the Stather Dallas Company, Inc., Dallas. Other major projects included: Great Plains Life Insurance Company, Lubbock, office building, $2,300,000.

Man Is Jailed After Surgery To Correct Theft Tendency

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A 43-year-old man who has spent half his adult life in prisons—but who won a parole three years ago after voluntarily submitting to a delicate brain operation to curb his "urge to steal"—is back in jail.

Millard F. Wright refused to discuss his case after he was arrested for questioning in connection with a string of jewelry store burglaries.

When detectives asked him if the brain operation had been successful he shrugged and replied, "With me it wasn't."

During Routine Check Detective William Harris arrested Wright Wednesday night after apprehending Regis Spiane, 44. The officer said he picked up Spiane's trail during a routine pawn shop check which turned up a watch listed as missing from an Indiana, Pa., jewelry store.

Spiane said he had thought the watch from Wright. Shortly afterwards, Harris said, Wright appeared at Spiane's residence carrying a bag containing several watches and electric razors.

Ex-Model Free Woman Four Months After Killing Mate

HAGERSTOWN, MD. (AP)—Dorothy Kornarski, once a beautiful fashion model but now pale and underweight, was a free woman Thursday—four months after she shot her husband to death.

A jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated almost eight hours then ruled the 24-year-old Silver Spring woman was "insane at the time of the shooting."

Dorothy cried when she heard the verdict Wednesday night. Her mother, Mrs. Lester Gaskins, dropped to her knees and prayed. Mother and daughter then embraced and wept copiously.

Plans Uncertain Dorothy said her plans were uncertain. She didn't know whether she would live with her parents in Washington or not.

On the witness stand at one point in the three-day trial, the statuesque brunette told of an unhappy life marked by two suicide attempts and two previous marriages that ended in divorce.

She said she loved the man she killed, John Henry Kornarski. But he drank steadily from last July 4 to February 17, the day she shot him and they quarreled over his "running around," she testified.

Kornarski, 42, a Washington beauty parlor operator, was known in beauty circles as "Mr. Jack." He had been married four times before his marriage to Dorothy.

HE HAS THAT SHARP FEELING

CHICAGO (AP)—A 19-year-old youth flagged a taxicab on Michigan Avenue early Thursday and told the driver:

"I just ate 40 razor blades and I have a stomach ache."

Dr. John Kerrigan, night warden at Cook County Hospital, said a fluorescence examination confirmed the youth's story.

Police said the youth, William Hinkle, of Carbondale, Ill., offered no explanation.

Kerrigan said Hinkle would be kept on a soft diet until the razor blades pass out of his system which, he said, would take about a week.

Drew Pearson Again Target In Fisticuff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Drew Pearson has been punched again.

And the man who threw the punch, $75,000-a-year lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark, says "it couldn't have landed on a more appropriate target."

"I felt I'd be unfaithful to my Irish forebears," Clark told reporters, "if I didn't do something."

The one-blow encounter between the columnist-commentator and his critic—who, in turn, had been raised over the coals twice in Pearson's column—occurred after lunch Wednesday in the lobby of the fashionable Mayflower Hotel.

Pearson, 54, weighs 175 pounds. Clark, 44, weighs around 180. There were varying accounts of the incident but they agreed on this: A straight left. It grazed Pearson's cheek and left a smarting red spot on his neck.

Sweats Out Warrant Pearson went to the U. S. attorney's office and swore out a warrant charging simple assault.

Congressional Control Is Retained Over 21,582 Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three of President Truman's government reorganization plans are in the wake of a Senate vote keeping congressional control over 21,582 federal jobs.

With many who normally support administration policies backing the President, the Senate Wednesday defeated in 1-2-3 order his proposals to eliminate Senate confirmation of city postmasters, U. S. marshals and customs collectors.

The program would have gone into effect automatically Friday midnight if neither the House nor the Senate had acted. It called for filling the jobs by department heads through civil service procedure.

Opponents argued the three plans would merely transfer the politics of appointments from members of Congress to the administration in power.

They said department heads, especially the postmaster general, would get a chance to build a powerful political machine.

Backers of the program said it would wipe out the last big segment of the political spoils system.

The big fight was over the postmasters—21,438 of first, second and third class postoffices. With 49 or a majority of the full Senate needed to kill the proposal the vote was 56 to 29.

The vote on the postmaster plan was in part a test between the influence of the postal employes unions, which opposed it, and the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, which supported all the reorganization proposals.

The unions have been at odds with Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson, who would have named the postmasters under the reorganization.

They served papers to seize the rings but the bank said no.

The bank's attorneys argued the tax lien was a general one while the bank's lien was specific, a pledge.

Judge Atwell ruled that government liens followed the diamonds from Fort Worth to Dallas and were superior to the bank's claims.

He told the bank to give up the man's gold ring with a $172 carat diamond and a woman's platinum ring with a 3 1/2 carat diamond. They'll be sold to pay part of the U. S. tax claims.

The Striplings weren't in court. The bank will appeal, said attorney John Erhard of Dallas.

"This is a mighty important one to all bankers," he said.

Man Leaves $531 Tip To Virginia Waitress

ORANGE, VA. (AP)—The well-dressed stranger who walked into the restaurant "just had to have corned beef."

When the waitress brought him a hamburger steak instead, he took a couple of bites and departed—leaving behind a $531 tip.

"That's the story blonde Mrs. Viola Devlin, 22, told police here Wednesday night. And it's the story that had officers scurrying all over this Central Virginia town trying to find the mysterious stranger.

Two customers, who were not identified, told police they saw the man empty his pockets and hide the tip under a plate before he left.

Police say they'll hold the tip for a year and then if it's unclaimed it will go to Mrs. Devlin.

Income Tax Agents Win Out Over Bank In Fuss Over Rings

DALLAS (AP)—Government income tax men won out over a bank in dispute over two diamond rings worth $10,000 in Federal court Wednesday.

Judge William H. Atwell said Uncle Sam's claim is better than that of the Grand Prairie State Bank which had loaned $5,000 on the rings.

Howard L. Stripling and his wife, Bell, of Fort Worth hooked the sparklers to the bank to buy a Grand Prairie tourist court. Stripling used to operate a night club, the Skyline II, figured in a recent Tarrant County grand jury gambling inquiry.

The T-men said Stripling owed more than $150,000 in income taxes. They got liens on the jewelry in Fort Worth.

They served papers to seize the rings but the bank said no.

The bank's attorneys argued the tax lien was a general one while the bank's lien was specific, a pledge.

Judge Atwell ruled that government liens followed the diamonds from Fort Worth to Dallas and were superior to the bank's claims.

He told the bank to give up the man's gold ring with a $172 carat diamond and a woman's platinum ring with a 3 1/2 carat diamond. They'll be sold to pay part of the U. S. tax claims.

The Striplings weren't in court. The bank will appeal, said attorney John Erhard of Dallas.

"This is a mighty important one to all bankers," he said.

Abdullah And Sister To Try To Break Will

HOUSTON (AP)—Sheppard W. Abdullah King and his 18-year-old sister filed a court fight to break their mother's will and split the $2,500,000 estate half and half.

King said Wednesday that both he and his sister Patricia don't want to have to wait several years before they get the principal of the estate from oil royalties and other properties.

King incurred his mother's wrath last Fall when he wooed and married Egyptian dancer Samia Gamal in a highly publicized romance.

Filed For Probate Mrs. Bonner King died Sunday. In her will, filed Wednesday for probate, the son was left one-fourth of the estate and his sister three-fourths.

Patricia wants to give me the other fourth," he said. "There is no argument there."

The will was signed Nov. 27, 1951, two days before King married Samia. He said after his mother became reconciled to Samia he was sure she would have changed the will back to a 50-50 division but that she was too ill to do so.

Sweeping Reforms At Prison Planned

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—The State Prison Board announced plans for sweeping reforms at the New Mexico Penitentiary Wednesday and appointed Morris Abram as warden.

The widespread changes at the prison are aimed at more vocational instruction for prisoners, closer supervision over disciplinary matters and closer screening and improved training for guards.

Abram, former deputy warden, succeeds Joseph Tondre, who resigned as warden Monday after 18 convicts criticized his management.

Tondre said he was quitting after 18 months on the job to avert possible violence in the prison.

Detention Camps Bill Signed By HST

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman Wednesday signed a bill authorizing the Immigration and Naturalization Service to build two detention camps for Mexican aliens held for deportation to their homeland.

The camps, estimated to cost about $200,000 each, will be located at Brownsville, Texas, and San Ysidro, Calif.

Jet Trip Solves Marriage Crisis

SCOTTSDALE, NEB.—An F-40 jet fighter zoomed into Scottsbluff Tuesday night to solve a wedding crisis for Lt. Harry W. Shurr, of Indiana, Pa., who had arrived earlier to marry Phyllis Braun of Scottsbluff.

Lieutenant Shurr, now stationed at Larson Air Force Base, near Moses Lake, Wash., had left the wedding ring behind at the base.

He wired back asking that the ring be air mailed, but Lt. John W. Frazer and Lt. Charles Busick, convinced their commanding officer that air mail might not arrive in time for the Friday wedding. They flew to Scottsbluff and delivered the ring in person.

Busse To Play For RHCC Dance

Henry Busse, the noted trumpeter, and his orchestra will play a dance Friday night at the Ranchland Hill Country Club for members and guests.

The Busse aggregation comes here from Houston, Corpus Christi and other South Texas cities. The orchestra had an extended stay at the Shamrock Hotel.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. with breakfast to be served members at the conclusion of the event.

Club President John Mills urged club members to pick up tickets before the dance.

Swing Away Club Has Square Dance

The Swing Away Square Dance Club met Wednesday in the American Legion Hall. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zant and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald James were hosts.

Callers were John Mills, T. A. Cole, Charles Blaylock, Bill Hogsett, Easy Milam, Jack Hayslett, L. E. Floyd, Carl Hayslett, Eddy Halfast, Andy Anderson, Hollis Newnam and Earl Reid.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

 The prospecter drilled to total depth of 4,274 feet. The 8 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 4,254 feet. The project is on a plugged back bottom of 4,100 feet.

Offset Is Stated
 Thomas D. Humphrey of Dallas No. 1-C G. B. Spill is to be a one location offset to the new producer. It is located 2,500 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of Farm-ers survey No. 10.

It is slated to drill to 4,200 feet or production at a lesser depth and will start in the near future.

Plan For 80-Acre Spraberry Drilling Pattern Approved

A proposal that all future drilling in the Spraberry Trend areas be placed on a pattern of one well to each 80 acres was approved at a meeting in Odessa Wednesday.

More than 90 persons, representing approximately 50 operators and royalty owners attended.

A. W. (Bill) Rutter, Jr., of Midland, a partner in the firm of Rutter & Wilbanks, served as chairman of the meeting. It was held in the auditorium of the Gulf Building.

Committee Selected
 Practically all of those who attended the meeting were in favor of the 80-acre spacing pattern. They approved the appointment of a committee to work out the technical details of such a program.

That committee is to be composed of representatives of Humble Oil & Refining Company, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, James H. Snowden and associates, Ted Weiner and associates, Sohio Petroleum Company, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Butler & Wilbanks, and The Blackwood & Nichols Company.

That group is to hold its first meeting on June 25 at 1:30 p.m., in the conference room of the Humble Building in Midland to start formulating a definite arrangement effecting the wider spacing program for the regions which are in Midland, Martin, Glascock, Upton, Reagan, Sterling and Tom Green Counties.

After the committee works out the program a letter explaining it will be sent to all operators and royalty owners in the Spraberry Trend areas and the plan will be presented to the Railroad Commission of Texas for its consideration.

A second general meeting of operators and royalty owners will be held on July 9 at which time a full discussion will be held of the proposal to be submitted by the special committee.

Phillips Will Dig Spraberry Tests In Upton Sector
 Phillips Petroleum Company stake- ed locations for seven explorers in an undeveloped area between the Pembroke and North Pembroke (Spraberry) fields of Central-East Upton County.

No. 7 Forrest is one and one-half miles northeast of production in the Pembroke field and one mile southwest of North Pembroke production. It is 925 feet from north and 690 feet from east lines of section 18, block D, EL&RR survey.

No. 6 Forrest is one mile northeast of Pembroke production and 922 feet from north and 1,890 feet from west lines of section 18, block D, EL&RR survey.

More On Forrest
 No. 3 Forrest is 935 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 18 and one mile northeast of Pembroke production.

No. 1 Forrest is 935 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the same section and 7/8-mile northeast of production.

No. 4 Forrest is 1,901 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of the same section and one-half mile northeast of production.

Short Outpost
 No. 5 Forrest is 2,175 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 18, block D, EL&RR survey and 2/3 mile northeast of production.

No. 2 Forrest will be drilled 660 feet from south and west lines of the same section and one-half mile east of Pembroke production.

All will be drilled to around 7,350 feet.

The case, Leonard C. Proctor of Midland and other vs. T. M. Markham and others, involves two of the 15 disputed vacancy rulings made by Giles last February on the basis of a survey by Byron L. Simpson of San Angelo.

Tracts Involved
 Disputed lands are in Tract 13 and Tract 14, placed by Simpson's survey between Block 36 and 37, Texas & Pacific Railway Company survey.

There are the southernmost of 15 disputed narrow strips dotted along a 40-mile stretch through the Spraberry area of Midland, Martin, Reagan, and Glascock counties.

The Tract 14 strip, containing 34.88 acres lies wholly in Reagan. The Tract 13 strip, containing 39.13 acres, lies partially in Reagan and partially in Glascock.

On Witness Claims
 Markham, the defendant is named as a consignee of James G. Wilson, Jr., Fort Worth attorney, who originally filed the vacancy claims.

Also named as plaintiff is Stanolind Oil & Gas Company. The Dallas law firm of Turner, Rogers, Winn, Scurlock and Terry is representing Stanolind, and the Midland firm of Stubbeman, McRae and Sealy is representing Proctor.

Others Interested
 Sohio Petroleum Company and the Standard Oil Company of Ohio have filed a plea in abatement as cross-defendants in the case. Their plea names numerous owners of adjacent lands who are being petitioned to appear in the case.

Answers have been filed by Markham and by Giles and Attorney General Price Daniels Giles has awarded the disputed land to Markham.

Simpson Made Survey
 Simpson was appointed by Giles to survey the land after Wilson had claimed the vacancies. The San Angelo's survey showed a disparity in two survey lines run by T&P some 75 years ago by Blocks 36 and 37, Townships 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 South, in the four counties.

Wilson's claim of vacancies has been opposed by 55 oil companies, individual land owners and independent operators. Three previous suits challenging vacancy claims have been filed in 90th District Court in Midland.

The case here is docketed for the October term of court.

Stanolind Stakes Permian Wildcat In SE Winkler

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company will drill No. 1-C S. B. Wright as a 4,500-foot Permian wildcat four miles southwest of the Wheeler field in Southeast Winkler County.

Drillate has been staked 699 feet from north and east lines of section 31, Block 40, plat survey. It is one location southwest of Stanolind No. 1-B Wright, an active project drilling below 11,884 feet in lime and shale.

SW Borden Gets Site For Deep Wildcat Project

Ada Oil Company of Wichita Falls spotted location for a Pennsylvanian wildcat in Southwest Borden County.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Clayton & Johnson 660 feet from south and east lines of section 39, block 32, T-4-N, T&P survey. It is slated for an 8,200-foot bottom.

Site is 20 miles southwest of Gall and one and one-half miles northeast of Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1-A Good, a dry hole at 8,290 feet.

Fletcher Slates Caddo Prospector In NE Runnels

E. B. Fletcher of Dallas is to drill a Runnels County wildcat to 4,600 feet to test the Caddo.

It will be his No. 1 A. Williams. Location is 335 feet from north and west lines of a 500-acre lease in the Thomas J. Hardeman survey.

That puts it in the northeast part of Runnels County and two and one-half miles northwest of the Sykes (Morris) field.

It is on a farm out from Haynes B. Ownby Drilling Company and is being supported by Humble Oil & Refining Company.

Wildcats In Three WT Counties Fail; Have Been Plugged

Three wildcat failures in Runnels County and one each in Menard and Nolan Counties have been plugged and abandoned.

The Runnels dusters were: Miami Operating Company No. 1 Bryan Clayton, in lot 18, Losoya survey No. 515, drilled to 4,078 feet and found no shows of production. Has No Possibilities.

Star Oil Company No. 1 Marie T. Bryson located 5,260 feet from south and 6,000 feet from west lines of Burnet County School Land survey A-271, bottomed at 5,260 feet. It had no possibilities of making an oil well.

Moctray-Moore Drilling Company, (formerly Hancock) No. 1-A, #241, 330 feet from north and west lines of section 182, L. Pritts survey drilled to a total depth of 3,310 feet in shale and lime and was plugged as a failure.

It was two miles northeast of Ballinger.

Failure In Menard
 I. A. Stephens No. 1 Kothmann in Southeast Menard County, and 330 feet from south and east lines of the J. P. Ferrell survey No. 2, A-986 drilled to 1,603 feet in lime and sand. It had no shows of oil or gas in commercial amounts. It has been abandoned.

The failure was four miles southeast of the town of Menard.

In Central-West Nolan County, Lamar Hunt trust estates No. 1 R. E. Jones drilled to 1,500 feet in lime and sand and had no shows to make an oil well. It has been plugged. Location was 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 178, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Two Failures Are Listed In Runnels

Two wildcats in Runnels County have been plugged and abandoned.

84th Exploration Company No. 1 Kaverland, Southwest Runnels County wildcat five miles west of Rowena, has been abandoned at 4,973 feet.

It was 1,263 feet from north and 1,377 feet from west lines of south-west quarter of section 144, Z. D. Earnest survey.

In Northeast Runnels County, Guy Maboe Drilling Company has quit the No. 1 A. S. Allcorn, at total depth of 3,920 feet.

Location was 330 feet from north and east lines of ETRR survey No. 124 and one mile southeast of Crews.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Little Bird Whispered

High-feather, the Indian boy, was happy about the Star-maiden girl he had caught to be his wife. The Star-maiden girl was happy about it too, although she did miss her father and mother and sisters way up in the sky in the Star-country land.

High-feather's mother was wise in the way of magic, and she whispered to him: "To keep your Star-maiden wife, take her with you wherever you go. Never let her out of your sight."

And so High-feather took his wife hunting with him, and everywhere he went. He even made a bow and arrows for her, but she would never shoot anything. Neither would she eat anything that anyone else had shot. Just berries and fruit, because berries and fruit are what Star-people eat. High-feather's mother explained.

But one day when the old mother was away somewhere, a little black bird flew in the tent and sat on High-feather's shoulder. The bird whispered: "Hurry while your wife sleeps. Red swans are on the lake. Hurry with your bow and arrows."

High-feather never before had heard of red swans, but only white ones. He thought that surely no harm could happen while his wife slept, and so he hurried away to shoot the swans and come back again before she awoke.

He shot them all right, and started home with two of them hanging around his neck. Oh, but now the she had first come to earth from the Star-country in the sky. Ah, me, because her sisters weren't there at all. This was really a trick, you know, to lose her out on the prairie. She would have been lost forever indeed, but she saw the red swans on High-feather's neck from afar, because he had come to find her. What rejoicing there was that she was found! And she was happy and good the rest of her days and she never harmed anything until one day—a little black bird came again to whisper some mischief on her shoulder, and pout! That was the end of him. Happy day.

little black bird was whispering to the Star-wife. "Hurry! Your sisters await you out on the prairie to visit with you all day long."

The Star-wife was wide awake at once to hear these words. She looked for her husband to tell the news, but he wasn't there. But surely no harm would happen if she went to see her sisters without him, and so she hurried out on the prairie to meet her sisters at the place where

Legendary Spanish Treasure Sought

SPRINGFIELD, MO.—(AP)—A middle-aged plasterer is looking for legendary treasure reputed to have been buried a century and a half ago in the heart of this city.

Ben F. Woods has been pumping water out of an old well to get at the treasure which he believes lies in a cave 20 feet north of the well. He is working from a "treasure map" he said was published in a local newspaper 17 years ago.

GRAMMER-MURPHEY

27-Year-Old Mother, Ill Since May, Gives Birth To Healthy Quadruplets

WEYMOUTH, MASS.—(AP)—Mrs. Marion L. Manning, 27, is the mother of healthy quadruplets Thursday.

Three boys and a girl were born to her at South Shore Hospital Wednesday night. She has three other youngsters.

The first child, the girl, was born at 9:33 p.m., the second at 10:13, and the third and fourth 11 and 14 minutes later.

The babies, all placed in incubators, were reported to weigh between two and three pounds each and to measure about a foot long. Several hours after the last birth, hospital physicians reported their condition as fair.

Midland Woman's Father Is Dead

Funeral services for J. T. Bond, 57, retired rice farmer and father of Mrs. J. Guy McMillian of Midland, will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in the Methodist Church at Bay City. Interment will be in a Bay City cemetery.

Bond died Wednesday afternoon at his home, following an extended illness.

Mrs. McMillian is in Bay City to attend her father's rites.

Nurse Dies—

(Continued from Page 1) the Ayers car rolled about 10 feet, burst into flame, and then careened another 100 feet before overturning on the shoulder.

The Land car caught fire also. Black said, and Donald Land helped bring his two sisters out of the wreckage.

Ayers, an employe of the Big West Building Company, was thrown from the automobile, his clothing aflame, while Mrs. Baker remained inside after it overturned.

The first man to reach the scene was Tommy Loveless, Abilene truck driver.

Firemen Douse Blase

Black said Loveless taught Ayers, who was running along the side of the road, and stripped the flaming clothing from him in an effort to save his life.

Midland firemen spent more than an hour extinguishing the blaze.

Black said the Lands had gone to Greenville to visit Mrs. Land's sisters, who had been injured in an automobile wreck, and were returning to their home in Odessa at the time of the accident.

Midland police assisted Texas highway patrolmen in investigating the wreck and directing traffic around it.

Mrs. Baker, who joined the hospital staff 18 months ago, was the wife of the late A. D. Baker.

The body was to be forwarded Thursday to Coleman by the Newton W. Ellis Chapel for funeral services and interment.

Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Paul E. Copeland of Midland.

All four deliveries were described as normal by Dr. Robert R. Ryan, who delivered the babies with the assistance of Dr. Edward J. Howley.

Dr. Ryan said Mrs. Manning was doing well and would be allowed to sit up Thursday if she felt strong enough.

Sanity—

(Continued from Page 1) He looked like he didn't know where he was going. He looked lost. I asked him where he was going and he said he didn't know; that he was just walking around."

Casselberry added, under questioning, that Kelly told him he didn't know where he'd been or what he had been doing.

He said Kelly had been drinking but did not appear to be drunk.

He said Kelly told officers that he had just gotten out of the penitentiary in New Mexico, where he had been placed on a rape charge.

"Just repeat," directed Shafer, "what the man said when he entered the girl's house."

"He entered the house," answered the officer, "and told the girls to take off their clothes. One of the girls said something and he said he had a gun and was only going to fire it twice."

Attorneys for Kelly said he had been a crewman on a B-17 Flying Fortress during World War II and had spent 18 months in a German prison camp after being shot down.

Kelly was taken to the police headquarters and questioned three hours.

Casselberry said Kelly appeared "very nervous" and that he "looked at every part of the room and inspected the city map on the wall very carefully but he never looked us in the eye."

"Based on your observation and your questioning," asked Turner, "do you have an opinion as to whether he was a person of unsound mind?"

"Not being a psychiatrist," answered the policeman after the objection of District Attorney W. O. Shafer had been overruled, "I can't truthfully answer."

"I felt, though, that something was wrong with him."

Turner repeated the questioning, pointing out that he was asking his opinion only as a layman.

"I'd say he was not of sound mind."

Then Shafer took up the cross-examination.

"You didn't tell the grand jury you thought this man was of unsound mind, did you?" he asked.

"They didn't ask me," Casselberry replied.

"Answer my question."

"No, sir."

Mrs. Manning entered the hospital May 24 for a virus infection. She remained there until the births on advice of her husband, John, a 35-year-old bus line operator, who explained he did not want to risk a premature arrival without medical attention.

"What would I do if they came while she was at home," he said.

Manning was not at the hospital when the first birth occurred. He had left word with the hospital officials that he would remain at home awaiting a phone call.

His wife went into active labor one hour and 18 minutes before the first birth.

The babies were baptized quickly after birth by the Rev. William J. Commune, a Catholic priest. The first baby, hospital officials said, gave a healthy scream as the water was poured on his head.

Hospital officials described baptism so soon as the "usual precautionary measure." It is often done in premature births.

The infants, due August 15, were almost two months premature, but physicians explained that such multiple births go full term.

According to medical sources quadruplets occur once in every 680,000 births.

X-rays taken at the time Mrs. Manning entered the hospital in May indicated she would give birth to quadruplets.

Nurses at the hospital said Mrs. Manning was wonderful throughout. When she was having severe pains early in labor she never murmured.

"The spare, white-haired Dr. Ryan said, 'It is a great responsibility to deliver so many babies but it is a privilege for a physician, too.'"

Speaker Advocates Return To God As World Trouble Cure

Advocating a return to God and the giving up of selfish interests by individuals and nations as a means of settling troubled world conditions, W. Henry Conkling addressed Midland Rotarians at their regular meeting Thursday noon at the Midland Country Club.

Conkling, a geologist and former president of the Midland Kiwanis Club, was introduced by Dr. J. O. Shannon, Rotary president. "God and Man" was the subject of his address.

He traced developments of civilization from the beginning of time and said there is a Supreme Being who has directed, and is directing this development.

"Nature has everything in balance, but the doings of man often throw things or conditions out of balance," Conkling stated.

He urged his listeners to make proper use of the elements and resources placed on earth for man's enjoyment.

Ike Vows To 'Raise Voice' On Question Of Texas Delegates

By The Associated Press

The Republican National Committee has the job of choosing between Texas' Taft and Eisenhower states of national GOP convention delegates but before the group decides, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has a word to say.

"I am going down there to Texas and I am not going to hesitate to say that I believe the will of the American people should not be thwarted," the general said in Denver, Colo., Wednesday.

"My voice will be raised," he told a group of delegates from Oregon. First Statements

His remarks were Eisenhower's first direct statements on the wrangle between Taft and Eisenhower supporters over rival delegations named in Mineral Wells at the state GOP convention.

Mrs. Charles F. Howard, secretary of the national GOP committee, ruled the Texas arguments would be presented at a special hearing starting about July 1 in Chicago, six days before the convention begins.

Eisenhower will bring his fight with Taft forces over Texas' 38 convention delegates to North Texas Saturday. He will make brief talks in Denison and Denton Saturday afternoon, then drive to Dallas for a radio broadcast speech (CBS) at 7:30 p.m.

"The indications are that his 'voice raising' will come in the radio speech.

Not Recognized

He told the Oregon delegates Wednesday his information was that the Eisenhower people in Texas had complied with rules laid down by the state Republican party, yet their contested delegates were not recognized at the state convention.

"If people have complied with the regulations and the rules laid down by the people who are supposed to judge it—and in this case I understand they complied thoroughly with the rules laid down by the state committee—then their will was thwarted; I cannot be expected to remain completely still and silent on the question.

"And so far as my voice adds, let us say, to the intensity of the scrap on our side, it will be raised."

One Oregon delegate asked how he intended to fight the Texas situation.

The general grinned and said: "Texans are pretty good fighters themselves."

The Eisenhower timetable in Texas calls for the general and Mrs. Eisenhower and their party to land at Perrin Field, near Denison, shortly before noon. He will be driven to the house of his birth in Denison for a short visit, and then to Forest Park for a brief talk.

The Denon appearance is scheduled about 2:30 p.m.

In Dallas, Eisenhower will appear at a 6 p.m. dinner reserved for pro-Eisenhower delegates, alternates and newsmen.

A press conference is scheduled at 9:30 a. m. Sunday, shortly before he will fly back to Denver.

Alexander Refutes British Criticism Of Korea Policies

EDMONTON, ALBERTA—(AP)—Britain's defense minister, Field Marshal Earl Alexander, says teamwork among United Nations forces in Korea is impressive and any British criticism of the war's conduct there is "absolutely unjustified."

Flying in Wednesday night from a week's visit to Japan and the Korean front, Alexander told a 10-minute press conference he was "very favorably impressed with the whole layout" in Korea.

Alexander, governor general of Canada until he took his present cabinet post and a World War II Allied commander in Italy, flew to Ottawa Thursday for a three-day stopover enroute to Washington and London.

The veteran of multi-nation warfare said the United Nations effort was "one of the best examples of team work that I've ever seen."

"It struck me more forcefully than anything else that there, for the first time, is a United Nations force fighting a war," he said, adding: "If we ever have to fight a third world war—I certainly hope we don't—this will provide a sort of dress rehearsal."

Alexander said he felt a lack of information had aroused criticism in some British quarters of the handling of the Korean war.

He said he hoped the British people would be reassured after he reports on his trip to Prime Minister Winston Churchill and the British cabinet.

On the possibility of the Communists launching a major offensive, Alexander said the Red disposition appeared to be more defensive than offensive.

YOUNG 'INDIAN' TOO REALISTIC

Floyd Stice, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Stice of Abilene, was treated Wednesday at Midland Memorial Hospital for a knife wound in his back.

Attaches said he was playing with a group of boys and one of the youths threw a knife which accidentally struck the Stice child.

Mrs. Bob Taft To Attend Convention

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Mrs. Robert A. Taft will be at the Chicago convention to cheer her husband on in his fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

An experienced campaigner who loves politics and speechmaking, Martha Taft suffered a stroke two years ago and has had to play a sideline role—mostly in a wheelchair—in the Ohio senator's biggest campaign of all.

Taft said Wednesday he and his wife plan to fly to Chicago together July 5. Mrs. Taft has been able to walk a little with a cane lately. She hopes to get back into action in Chicago.

Flying Father Spans Ocean In Piper Cub

OSLO, NORWAY—(AP)—Max Conrad, flying father of 10, landed his tiny Piper Cub on Sola Air Field, Western Norway, Thursday to begin his second good will flight in Europe. He hopped the Atlantic via Iceland and came here from Stormovay, Scotland.

Conrad, of Winona, Minn., is bringing invitations to mayors of Scandinavian towns to attend the Minneapolis Aquatennial, July 18-27.

Midland Attorney To Talk In Crane

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney, will speak at the opening and appreciation services of the First Presbyterian Church at Crane, June 29.

Members of the church are completing interior decorations and kitchen cabinets.

A dinner is being arranged in connection with the program.

RETURN FROM FUNERAL

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Key and Jimmy have returned from Mineral Wells where they attended the funeral of Key's father, W. C. Key.

ROUGHNECK'S EYE HURT

James Bostwick, 1010 South N Street, roughneck for Drilling and Exploration Company, had a foreign body removed from his right eye Wednesday at Western Clinic-Hospital.

THUMB IS BROKEN

D. R. Ervin, Odessa, employed by Jack's Casing Crew, suffered a fractured left thumb Wednesday when struck by an elevator while running tubing. He was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital.

MEDICAL PATIENT

N. E. Clegg, Odessa, is a medical patient at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Man Helps Himself To $2,400 From Bank Teller Cage

NEW YORK—(AP)—I think that man stole some money," one bank teller told another Wednesday at the midtown Lexington Avenue branch of the Manufacturers Trust Company.

"Oh, you're crazy," the co-worker replied.

Their conversation was about a man in a green shirt who strolled away from a cage with a wad of bills. The cage teller was out to lunch, as were tellers occupying cages on either side.

The suspicious employe, Miss Estle Hawkins, 21, called a bank official. He found $2,400 in $10 bills missing from the cage. The man had casually opened the bronze cage grille, reached in, helped himself and slunkered out. He hasn't been found.

FEDERAL PLUM GOES BEGGING

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Communistes usually clamor for 10-million-dollar federal projects but the Senate approved one Wednesday the government may have trouble finding a home for.

The sum was approved for a laboratory to investigate foot and mouth and other animal diseases. Some places already mentioned as sites have expressed downright hostility.

EAST TEXAS CITY OUTLIVES RAILROADER'S ANCIENT CURSE

JEFFERSON—(AP)—The railroad magnate, Jay Gould, put a curse on this East Texas town back in 1882. He said: "Bats will grow in your beffies . . . and grass grow in your streets."

Gould was angry because Jefferson leaders wouldn't put up some money to bring the iron horse to town.

Wednesday, the Texas & Pacific Railway Company made amends for the remarks of its third president.

The railroad gave a bell from an old steam locomotive to the Jefferson Historical Museum.

J. B. Shores, Dallas, director of the railroad's employes and public relations, made the presentation. He pointed out that Jefferson had proved Gould wrong by outliving the steam engine, now replaced by diesels on the T&P. Shores said the bell was presented in behalf of the T&P's sixth president, W. G. Vollmer.

Mistakes And Glories

The bell was accepted by Charles C. Braden, president of the historical society, who said modern citizens would cherish it as a reminder of the mistakes and the glories of the past.

Jefferson was a booming Cypress Bayou port and second largest city in Texas when Gould made his bid

Highway Slaughter Seige Sets Off Alabama Drive

MONTGOMERY, ALA. (AP)—A grim two-week siege of highway slaughter has touched off an unprecedented campaign against careless drivers in Alabama.

Even Gov. Gordon Persons, in his strenuously equipped limousine, is patrolling the roads to see that officers carry out his orders to arrest all traffic law violators.

Accompanied by a state highway patrolman, Persons traveled through 14 counties Saturday and Sunday morning, bad drivers, congratulating careful motorists.

The carnage started with the Memorial Day holidays and continued almost without letup until 39 persons were dead in 12 days.

To give the highway patrol more striking power, the governor has added 50 men to the 265 already in uniform. In addition he has directed 125 liquor enforcement agents and Public Service Commission inspectors to make arrests on the highway.

Later, if it can be worked out, he plans also to deputize 120 game wardens and forestry patrolmen as road watchers.

On the highway patrol, Persons has broken up the familiar two-man teams and ordered the officers re-assigned one man to a car. He figures that alone will put about 130 more cruisers on the highways. Fifty patrolmen will go back to riding motorcycles.

The governor has singled out speeders as the No. 1 hazard. With that in mind, the highway patrol arrested 537 drivers for speeding in two days this past weekend.

Persons put a speed limit into effect on most Alabama highways seven months ago by executive order, pegging the lawful rate of travel at 50 miles an hour in the daytime and 40 at night. He has promised to cut it even lower if "these highway murders" continue.

Migration Of Jews To Israel Stopped

VIENNA, AUSTRIA (AP)—Diplomatic reports from Bucharest said Wednesday that Romania's Communist government has suspended completely the migration of thousands of Jews to Israel.

The reports said also the Communist government's mass deportation of "politically unreliable" citizens from the cities has spread to Brasov, in the Transylvanian Alps, and that thousands are being driven from their homes there.

Through last March, the Romanian government permitted up to 5,000 Jews to leave Romania each month.

In April only a trickle of Jews boarded the S. S. Transylvania, which plies between Constanta and Haifa. In May and early June, the diplomatic reports said, no Jews secured exit permits.

The ban on emigration appeared designed to force the Jewish population into Romania's labor force.

24 German Jurists Hold Key To Plan For European Army

BONN, GERMANY (AP)—The future of the ambitious plan to create a 2,000,000-man, one uniform European army to ward off possible Russian aggression now rests with 24 German jurists.

These judges of the Federal Constitutional Court in the South German city of Karlsruhe soon must decide whether it is constitutional for West Germany to rearm and join the European Defense Community EDC.

The plan to merge the armed forces of six nations—West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—does not begin to work until all six parliaments have ratified it.

The court will decide whether the army treaty and the associated peace contract with the Western Allies can be ratified by the present Parliament.

If the court rules that a change of the Constitution is necessary, the whole plan will topple.

Andrews Building Totals $249,400

ANDREWS—Construction permits issued by the city of Andrews for the first five months of this year, January 1 through May 31, totalled $249,400, City Secretary L. B. Parrish announced.

Of the 80 permits, 43 were for new houses and 14 for housing structures to be moved into the city, making a total for 57 new homes. Other permits were for constructing six new business houses, two churches, one duplex and 14 repairs.

Housing is reported to still be acute, despite the 57 new units as Andrews continues to grow.

April was the biggest month in construction with 13 permits issued for a total of $71,000.

Low-Flying Aviator Spots Pipeline Leaks Over Area

If you should see a Luscombe Silhouette two-place plane flying along at an altitude of only about 50 feet, don't become alarmed. Probably it will be R. H. Daniel, Dallas aviator, flying the pipe lines for Magnolia Pipe Line Company in this and other areas. Daniel comes through Midland a couple of times a week most of the time and averages about 1,000 hours a year in the air. The CAA regulations say that on cross-country flights a minimum altitude of 500 feet shall be maintained ordinarily while over non-congested areas. But the 50-foot altitude maintained by Daniel and others in the business is allowed under a waiver. Any higher altitude would make pipe line leaks hard to see.

'Herd' Of Chinchillas Roaming 'Ranch' Southwest Of Midland

All the livestock on Midland's newest ranch—a dozen or so head valued at thousands of dollars—could bed down for the night on a single saddle blanket and not be crowded.

It's the new Rocking F Chinchilla Ranch, located less than three miles south of the Garden City Highway on Farm Road 711. About 200 chinchillas produce enough fur to make one lady's coat, and one lady's coat made of chinchilla would set your bank roll back in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fancey brought their "herd" of 30 chinchillas here last month from Big Springs where the Rocking F Ranch previously operated. Transportation wasn't much of a problem, for the total weight of the diminutive animals was little more than 30 pounds.

There aren't enough chinchillas in the United States at present to produce more than three or four fur coats. Mrs. Fancey says, and breeders are concentrating on the building of their herds.

Profit and Pleasure
Young chinchillas cost about $1,550 a pair, so not many people have entered the business. Those who have, however, report that profits make it worthwhile.

Profit and pleasure, too. Now the chinchilla is a tiny grayish fellow about the size of a small kitten. He has a tail that is almost like a squirrel's, but not quite. And his ears, well, they're plenty ample. They are gentle and playful, and they are easy to keep.

Chinchillas were first introduced to this country by an old man, Mathias F. Chapman, who trapped 11 of them in South America's Andes Mountains. He was fortunate, because the animals were at the time almost extinct. Today the chinchilla population of the United States is close to 100,000—but still not enough to justify marketing pelts on a regular basis.

Why are chinchilla garments so valuable? Well, scarcity of the animals is one reason. The best reason, though, is the lightness and beauty of the garments. A full length fur coat made of chinchilla weighs about three pounds. One square yard of chinchilla pelts weighs almost exactly the same as a single square yard of silk.

ROUNDUP TIME IN TEXAS—Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fancey hold $1,550 worth of livestock from their "herd" on the Rocking F Chinchilla Ranch. The valuable fur-bearing chinchillas represent a brand new industry for Midland. About 200 of them provide enough pelts for a $100,000 woman's coat, but the Rocking F herd is still a long way from commercial production in that magnitude.

The fur itself is unique and more valuable for it. Most animal fur contains a single hair growing from each root, but the chinchilla has as many as 80 weblike fibres extending from each follicle. Chinchilla breeders say they can blindfold a person and he will be unable to tell when he actually touches the chinchilla fur, because the human sense of touch is not delicate enough to record its downy softness.

The female chinchilla usually breeds at any time between six and 10 months of age, and average litters consist of two babies. In some cases they have produced as many as three litters in a calendar year. The animals are monogamous.

The hardy little creatures need little care, the owners say. They are extremely clean, have no odor and are vermin free. They eat no meat, and a year's food bill won't run over $5. Cold weather doesn't bother them, but they can't accept temperature over 90 degrees. They like their exercise but require little room for it. A small, wire mesh cage suffices.

Until their herd increases the Fanceys are acting as "brokers" in the new industry, providing chinchillas for others who wish to begin "ranches." A pair, they say, is a good start. The young insure that the adults are not sterile, and the "herd" can double its size in a short time. When the young pair is about ready for mating, the male is exchanged for another to prevent inbreeding.

'Naturalized' Texans
Mr. and Mrs. Fancey, and their daughters, Gay, six, and Joy, four, are "naturalized Texans." He was a safety inspector for the Civil Aeronautics Authority before moving to Texas from New York to set up the new chinchilla business.

Out on City Route 13 they have set up their cages and opened shop with their lively little "herd." There isn't much loss, because if one dies of natural causes, the carcasses are put in a skinning position, sharp frozen and sent to a tanner.

This is an entirely new kind of ranch for the Old West, and perhaps a few burbed Herefords might become jealous. But on the Rocking F Ranch there is no need for roundups and branding irons—and no rodeos. The Fanceys, however, say they wouldn't trade. It just so happens they like chinchillas and have a strong faith in the new industry.

Youth Center Chatter

By JEAN CORBELL

Hi, Kids! Back again and without much news. Of course you can always go to the Y. C. and make some and then you would have something to read!

I would like to ask everyone to forgive me for saying there would be a show last Friday night. I know that some of the kids didn't know about the dance until it was too late.

The dance Friday night turned out real nice! Myrt is sorry about the BLACK CAT he was going to have up there, but he had very sharp claws as Myrt found out. There was a large crowd there and everyone seemed to be having fun.

AT LAST! AT LAST! We have met Carol Loop's brother we have heard SOOOOOO much about!!! In case some of you haven't met him yet (which probably is impossible), his name is Frank Loop and he is from Texas A&M College. You probably will meet him at one of the Y. C. dances, because he is a swell dancer!

'Bulldog Stamp' Sated
Saturday night another "Bulldog Stamp" was held. We had a lot of new people there. Myrt introduced most of them and everyone agreed that the boys outnumbered the girls. From all over Texas we had boys and girls. There were about 25 boys and five girls from out of town. We hope that when they go back to their home towns they will tell everyone about our Y. C. and how much fun they had.

We have a movie scheduled Thursday night at the Y. C. The name of it is "Road Show." It is supposed to be very good. Friday night we are going to have a square dance. The caller will be Jay Johnson and he will have three or four assistants.

Saturday night there will be a BIG WESTERN DANCE and we want everyone to turn out. Myrt wants someone to let him borrow Western records. If anyone has any that they would like to let Myrt borrow just put your name on them and bring them along. We sure would appreciate it. The more records we have, the better the dance will be. So let's all bring plenty of records. The dances will start at 8:30 p.m. and will last till midnight (that is if everyone dances).

If anyone has a puzzle they would like to have worked, just bring it up to the Y. C. and get you someone to help you. That's for you' kids who have a lot of spare time.

Jim Ervin is Champ
Jim Ervin won over Paxton Howard in the semi-finals in the pool tournament. The finals will be held sometime next week.

Have you heard the latest? Soft drinks are going up to six cents! That is every where except the Y. C. and they will remain five cents. Isn't that nice!

We would like to express best wishes to Morris Basham who is leaving us for the Marines. There probably are other boys who are leaving for the service, but unless we know their names we can't tell everyone. So if you know of anyone leaving for the service, please let us know!

Carol O'Donnell wanted me to put in the column that she is going to Dallas for the weekend, she thinks. She says she isn't for sure yet, but she just wanted me to tell everyone so they won't be looking for her! We know that everyone will miss her! Won't we kids!

Well I'm running out of breath so I think I will let the Chatter go for another week. I hope to have a lot of news for you next week, so be sure and read the Chatter if you have time.

Tearing The Truth Out Of Your Children Breeds Terror

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last night, after Joyce had gone to bed, her father discovered that the television set was broken. When Mrs. Carter admitted that she had seen Joyce fooling with the adjustment dials, Mr. Carter became very angry. "You're too slack with her," he said. "She's been told not to touch the dials. What's going to happen to her if she doesn't learn to obey?"

This morning when Joyce's mother told her that she would have to help pay the repair man's bill for her allowance, nine-year-old Joyce denied that she had touched the dials.

Mrs. Carter had not seen, well because she was so troubled by the fear that she was indeed a bad mother. Now panic at Joyce's lie made her feel suddenly weak. She sank down into a chair and tried to make her voice calm and friendly. "Tell me the truth," she said. "I know that you broke the set. I don't mind this nearly so much as your lying about it. Just tell the truth, dear."

"I didn't touch it," said Joyce. Mrs. Carter stared at her child wildly. "You want people to trust you, don't you? Don't you know that nobody ever trusts liars? Tell me the truth at once."

"I didn't touch it," said Joyce. Mrs. Carter rose from her chair. She took Joyce by the shoulder and shook her violently. "You had girl," she cried. "I'm going to get the truth out of you if it's the last thing I do!"

She got it. Unfortunately, it didn't do her or Joyce much good. At the end of two weeks, Joyce was caught in a lie again.

In the middle ages, we had an unpleasant habit of tearing the living organs out of people who had offended us. When we tear truth bodily out of a child who resists giving it to us, we end up with truth that's dead and useless to everyone concerned.

A child's feeling for truth is a private thing. When we associate his telling it with humiliation and terror, when we wrench it from him by force, we can injure emotional tissues that will be a long time healing.

Almost always we use force and will-power because of the fear we are not good parents. We operate on terror of lies instead of faith in ourselves and our own goodness.

Joyce's mother should reject the lie, put the fact clearly and arrange to make the lie unprofitable to Joyce. Then she should make it her business to root the fear and self-distrust aroused by her husband's criticism. When she recovers trust in her own worth again, she will find the quiet, unassuming words she needs to help Joyce give her the truth voluntarily.

We do immense hurt to each other when we try to make ourselves personally responsible for the morality of other people, even of children. The very best any of us can do is to speak the truth as we see it and try to live it as well as we can.

When we try to make others acknowledge our truth, we take a spiritually dangerous step. In the adult world, such presumption makes for inquisitions, self-appointed reformers and political fanatics. In the home, it makes for hate of the morality for which we are seeking acceptance.

Whenever we feel terror of a child's lie rising in us, we should stop attacking at once, look around us and say to ourselves, "What has made me believe that I am failing my child?"

FARM FRIENDS HARVEST CROP

PONCA CITY, OKLA. — (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Milton Service get a taste of Oklahoma's "special good neighbor" this week.

Service, who has 100 acres of his farm in wheat and five acres planted with alfalfa, has been confined to a Wichita, Kan., hospital the last six months with arthritis.

So his neighbors, armed with 15 combines and six trucks, trudged into his fields and harvested the ripe crops.

Apple Griddle Cakes Make Good Dish For Sunday Brunch

Apple Griddle Cakes.

Apple griddle cakes, a good dish for Sunday brunch or supper, requires the following ingredients: 1 1/4 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups finely chopped apples, 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 2 beaten eggs, 1 3/4 cups milk and 1 1/4 cup melted margarine.

Sprinkle sugar over chopped apples and let stand. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Combine beaten eggs, milk and melted margarine and mix well. Add to flour mixture and mix just enough to combine ingredients thoroughly. Mix in apple and sugar mixture. Drop by spoonfuls on slightly greased griddle heated to low or medium low temperature. Turn when bubbles appear and edges begin to dry. Do not turn a second time. Serve hot with margarine, cinnamon apple rings and sausages. The recipe makes 18 griddle cakes.

Nazi Reparations Parley Is Resumed

BONN, GERMANY.—A West German-Israeli conference on reparations for Nazi persecutions of Jews resumes at The Hague Thursday with a German offer of $714,000,000 worth of goods as the starting point for discussion.

The offer was announced Tuesday night by a West German spokesman, who explained the payments would be spread over at least 12 years.

Singing Convention Planned In Odessa

A singing convention will be held July 30 in the First Church of God in Odessa.

Webb Sellers was elected president of the convention recently and decision was made to have song sessions the third Sunday of each month at 2:30 p.m.

The convention was held recently at Terminal Baptist Church with a large crowd attending.

Special numbers included a trio composed of Jeanita Rice, Betty Simmons Schulz and Dorothy Hall. Freddie Schulz accompanied at the piano.

The Rev. Alton Powery, pastor of the West Side Baptist Church, gave the welcome address. Sellers served as master of ceremonies and presented a baritone solo.

NATO Maneuvers Start Wednesday

PORTSMOUTH, ENGLAND.—Three darkened convoys of warships and merchant vessels ploughed through the seas off Britain in pre-dawn darkness Thursday as far-ranging Atlantic Pact sea and air maneuvers continued.

The exercise—called "Castanet"—covers almost 500,000 square miles of the English Channel, North Sea and North Atlantic. Some 250 ships and 400 planes of nine NATO countries—the United States, Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium, Norway, Denmark, Portugal and Canada—are taking part.

Mix cottage cheese with sour cream and season with salt and finely grated onion; serve as a "dunk" for raw vegetables such as carrot strips, cauliflowerettes, cucumber sticks and radishes.

Federal Land-Buying Spree Takes Millions Off Tax Rolls

ABILENE.—Uncle Sam started a land-buying spree in 1947 that has taken 65 million acres off state and local tax rolls and made the federal government owner of one-fourth of the land area of continental United States, according to a bulletin just issued by the taxation and legislation department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Current federal programs call for federal acquisition of many additional millions of acres, the WTCC declared.

The WTCC report said that a 1947 report of the Senate Committee on Public Lands showed that the government then owned from 35 to 87 per cent of the total land area of ten Western states, as follows: Nevada, 87 per cent; Arizona, 73 per cent; Utah, 72 per cent; Idaho, 84 per cent; Oregon, 83 per cent; Wyoming, 81 per cent; California, 66 per cent; New Mexico, 44 per cent; Colorado, 38 per cent; Montana and Washington, 35 per cent.

The committee report is quoted as declaring that a federal policy of land acquisition which stresses federal ownership and control of all the resources of the United States had developed from activities of various government agencies.

"This policy is inimical to the proper and full development of many of the states . . . and seriously impairs the entire tax structure of such states and their local subdivisions," the committee report declared.

Poor Government Example Pointed Out In Texan's Talk

SEATTLE.—A Texas teenager told Kiwanis this week "the men of the government have set rather a poor example" for today's young people.

Seventeen-year-old Theodore M. Vestal of Sherman outlined his views in a speech prepared for the 27th annual Kiwanis International Convention.

Vestal, a recent graduate of the Sherman High School, is president of the Key Club International, a Kiwanis organization with 21,222 members in 1,000 high school clubs.

Vestal declared the "young people of today were born or grew up in depression and have lived in times of continuous war."

Their attitudes are being determined today by their association with adults.

"With scandalous things going on in high places, it is little wonder that high school and college athletes receive bribes. The West Point cribbing and basketball scandals can be traced directly to pressure on the young men of our country by adults who corrupt not only the hired players but also the entire student body—who learn from their elders the cynical immoral doctrine that one must win at all cost."

Macaroni Ring Is Inexpensive

Macaroni Surprise Ring makes a tasty main dinner dish, but has another pleasant feature—its ingredients spell economy.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
To forget about potato problems and budget worries, decide on macaroni surprise ring for dinner. It uses elbow macaroni, tuna and canned green beans, all on the economy list.

Macaroni Surprise Ring
(Makes 4-6 servings)
One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 3 cups elbow macaroni, 1 No. 2 can green beans, one 7-ounce can tuna, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup chopped parsley, 1/4 cup chopped pimientos, 2 eggs, slightly beaten, 1/2 cup graded processed American cheese, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Drain liquid from green beans and measure 1 cup of liquid. Drain and reserve oil from tuna; flake tuna.

In a saucepan, pour tuna oil; place over low heat. Add flour and blend. Add 1 cup green bean liquid and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add 1 teaspoon salt, parsley, pimientos, eggs, cheese and tuna; mix thoroughly. Stir in cooked macaroni, mixing lightly.

Turn into greased 1-quart ring mold. Place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 45 minutes. Meanwhile, in a sauce pan, combine drained green beans, butter, 1/4 teaspoon salt and pepper. Cover; place over low heat and heat thoroughly. To serve, unmold macaroni-tuna ring on heated platter and turn green beans into center. Serve piping hot.

Chest Surveys Help Arrest TB By Detecting It In Early Stages

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Writes for NEA Service
Hundreds of thousands, if not millions of people are now familiar with community chest surveys. Sometimes, however, these surveys raise problems which are rather confusing.

One reader writes, for example: "A friend of mine from out of town visits me occasionally. During the chest survey conducted during 1949 she told me she received the following diagnosis from the health department: 'Accentuated markings in the fifth interspace of the right lung. Another examination is recommended in six months' time and sputum cups are enclosed.'"

"What is meant by this diagnosis? Is it the beginning of pulmonary consumption? Is there any danger of others contracting the disease from dishes, cutlery, bed linen, etc.?" This statement by itself is incomplete, but suggests that the friend in question at some time in her life had tuberculosis. In the absence of cough or other symptoms, it is probable that she does not have active tuberculosis now, and that she is not a danger to others.

The report, however, correctly suggests that her health should be watched and that she should have another X-ray after a period of time to make sure that the tuberculosis is not becoming active. To return to the general problem, it is known that the best line of attack on tuberculosis is to prevent the spread of the germ. Consequently, if people who are in an infectious stage of the disease can be picked out and treated so that they will not carry the germ to others, fewer new cases of the disease will develop.

Also, it is well known that treatment is more effective and much more rapid if the disease can be caught in its early stages. For both these reasons, the community chest surveys are worthwhile and are helping enormously.

Survey Results Good
Probably Savannah, Ga., was one of the first large cities to try this method out on a large scale. During the Autumn of 1945, almost 75,000 residents of the county which contained about 150,000 people, appeared voluntarily for chest X-rays. It was found that many residents had tuberculosis of the lungs without knowing it, and many of these were in the early stages.

It thus was possible to start treatment early, and infected persons could be separated temporarily from loved relatives or friends whom they might otherwise have infected. Since this time surveys have been conducted in many other places with equally desirable results.

BARSTOW—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sewell of Vasalia, Calif., recently visited in Barstow with Sewell's mother, Mrs. Minnie E. Sewell. Following their visit Mrs. Sewell accompanied them back to California to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert White and daughter, Sally Jo, of Libbstock recently visited Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Echols in Barstow. Thinker Fay Echols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Echols, accompanied the Whites on their return trip.

Berry Bucklew, former Barstow resident, visited friends here last week.

Guests in the home of Mrs. W. L. Fuller, Sr., are her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Strain, and their son, Jimmie, of Froot, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Echols and granddaughter, Jenelle, went to San Marcos last weekend for the dedication of the First Presbyterian Church of which their son-in-law, the Rev. George Sullivan, is pastor. The Echols were joined in Midland by their daughter, Mrs. James Trott, and her children, Patricia and Jimmy. Mr. Sullivan formerly was pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Peconic.

Frances Daughtree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Daughtree, is working on her master's degree this summer at Sul Ross State College in Alpine. Inez Dudley Rogers also is taking special courses at Sul Ross this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Nehilmas Garcia are making plans to direct a two-week daily vacation Bible school for Latin American children in connection with their work with the Mexican mission of the Barstow Presbyterian Church. Volunteer helpers may contact the Garcias either at the Mission Chapel Building or at the home of Mrs. Minnie E. Sewell.

Sue Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, participated in a short course at Texas A&M College recently.

Your Guess As Good As Anybody's On End Of Second Largest Conflict In Asia

By LARRY ALLEN
HANOI, INDOCHINA—(P)— If you want to know when the second biggest war in Asia—that of the French Union forces against the Communist-led Vietminh in Indochina—is going to end, consult your own crystal ball.

You'll get as accurate an answer there as anywhere.

There isn't even a glimmer of hope of victory for either the French or the Vietminh. The bitter struggle between the armies of Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh and the French Union already has dragged on for six years and, barring intervention by Red China, could go on for many years to come.

That might be hard for the average American to understand. He knows the United States is pouring hundreds of millions of dollars worth of equipment and supplies into Indochina. He knows the French have fighters, bombers, heavy artillery and everything they need to win a war. The Vietminh fight with machine guns, grenades, rifles and pistols. Although supplied by the Chinese Communists, they don't have the modern equipment to wage a first class war.

Why don't the French launch a full-scale offensive and try to force a decision?

There's a good answer in a single sentence: There isn't any front in Indochina. This is a "hit and run" war.

The Vietminh attack French or Viet Namese military posts, villages or towns, when they think they have the defenders outnumbered and see a chance of a quick, local victory. They flee to the mountains the moment they know French reinforcements are arriving for a showdown battle.

This is a war of fast movement. There are no trenches. There's no front. So how can the French win the war when they can't corner enough of the Vietminh long enough to force a battle of decision?

On the other side of the picture, the Vietminh can't win, either. They lack the modern equipment to put on a big show. They studiously avoid committing any large number of forces against the French.

The Vietminh might figure they are satisfied with "things the way they are."

They're tying up 276,000 French Union troops which France badly needs to supplement her contribution to NATO in Europe. They're forcing the United States to send almost a billion dollars of war assistance to Indochina that might well be used elsewhere.

The Vietminh—territorially speaking—control most of Viet Nam. Out of Viet Nam's 23 million people, there are 13 million in Vietminh-held territory.

Why don't the French just fan out, and start clearing all of North Tonkin of the Vietminh?

The answer is that the French first must make secure what they now have left in Northern Indochina—the vast, sprawling, rice-rice Red River delta. That's their lone bastion of defense against the tide of communism in Southeast Asia.

In the delta today, the French estimate there are probably 7,000 Vietminh regular troops, many regional battalions and guerrilla units adding up to as many as 50,000 men.

Must Be Erased

All of these must be wiped out, or driven out, before the French can think of venturing forth for a showdown battle with the five or more Vietminh divisions outside the delta.

The French are trying hard. They have killed, captured or wounded tens of thousands of Vietminh so far this year in a series of "mop-up" pushes.

A careful, verified check of enemy casualties shows the Vietminh have lost, in round figures, 30,000 killed, 18,000 captured and 48,000 wounded since last December 1. French losses have averaged one-fifth of these totals.

All of this is helpful but it hasn't kept the Vietminh out of the delta. More Vietminh seem to pop up as fast as their comrades are killed or captured.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT—An alert seagull, an even more alert cameraman and a fish thrown into the air from a quay at Loos, England, combine to make this picture of beauty on the wing.

Active Army Duty, Politics; MacArthur Encompasses Both

WASHINGTON—(P)— Anyone who has followed General MacArthur's career for the past year may be a little puzzled by the rumpus over his making the keynote speech at the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

There is an Army rule that an officer like MacArthur, on active duty, cannot participate in political activities, on political committees, or on political committees, the making of political speeches.

When General Eisenhower came to campaign, he went on the retired list. This left him free to run for the presidency or make political speeches since the Army rule covers only officers on active duty.

Last week Senator Taft gained control of the GOP National Convention machinery through appointments made by the Republican National Committee, which at the same time picked a Taft supporter for keynote, General MacArthur.

This at once raised a question which, to those who have watched MacArthur or listened to him for the past year, might seem more academic than real.

It was this: Would the Army—or the Truman administration—let MacArthur, an officer on active duty, get up before the convention and make a political speech, perhaps plugging Taft for the presidency.

The President has kept hands off, at least publicly. It would hardly be bright politics if he slapped MacArthur down again and in so doing not only create fresh sympathy for him but votes for the Republicans.

Pentagon Verdict

The Pentagon showed no eagerness to rebuff him, either. Tuesday it disclosed how it could let MacArthur, an officer on active duty, do what the rule book says an officer on active duty can't do: make political speeches.

The Pentagon said that while MacArthur technically is on active duty, he is really in a retired status—like Eisenhower—although not formally, because he has no command and no present military responsibility.

In the light of MacArthur's previous speeches, there's a question still not answered:

When is a speech a political speech? Only at a convention? Or is it political whenever it's made if it attacks a political party in an election year and the speaker not only supports the opposition but might even be its candidate?

Since his recall from Japan MacArthur has made eight major speeches. The tone has been increasingly critical of the Truman administration without mentioning Truman by name.

In the last of the eight—to the Michigan Legislature, May 15—he declared:

"There is no politics in me, nor none intended in what I say. I plead nothing but Americanism . . . I have been impelled as patriotic duty of simple citizenship . . ."

Polio Victim Gets Monkey As Pet

DALLAS—(P)—After Rose Marie Sebastian, 11, became almost completely paralyzed by polio, the desire she had always had for a pet monkey became stronger.

A letter she and her mother wrote to the Brownsville zoo has produced results through a monkey importer. The monkey recently was trapped in Costa Rica and began a long journey to the bedside of Rose Marie.

"I can't wait till he gets here," she said. "Mama fixed a bed for him right next to mine."

Yugoslavia Plans To Crackdown On Political Refugees

BELOGRADE—(P)—Communist Yugoslavia may crack down soon on political refugees—particularly those from Italy—who shirk work in this country or spread pro-Russian propaganda.

The Belgrade newspaper Politika, reflecting the views of the government, called attention to the problem recently in an angry article denouncing a "minority" of such refugees abusing this country's "fraternal hospitality."

It was directed against both those who have fled the iron-fist Russian rule of the neighboring Soviet satellites and "especially" against refugees from Italy opposed to the administration of Prime Minister Alcide De Gasperi.

TIDE gets clothes WHITER—with no bleach!

Amazing new tests prove that Tide, used all alone, washes WHITER than any soap or "detergent" with a bleach added. It's washday's big news... and you owe it to your clothes to try it! You'll never want to put bleach in the wash water again, once you see how much whiter clothes come with Tide alone!

TIDE is milder for hands than any other leading "detergent" So safe for washable colors!

YES! With all its cleaning and whitening action, Tide has an amazing new mildness. Not even the mildest "detergents" made especially for dishwashing are so gentle and kind to hands as Tide!

ACTUALLY BRIGHTENS COLORS! For dramatic proof of Tide's wonderful safety, watch soap-dulled wash prints and table linens come brighter after just one Tide wash. Yes, ma'am! Tide really cares for clothes and colors just as it does for your hands.

AND TIDE IS SO THRIFTY TO USE! Such a little Tide makes such oceans of rich, long-lasting suds... goes so far in hardest water, it's a miracle of economy.

"I'm hanging up whiter clothes—thanks to TIDE!"
 says Mrs. Annette Truesdell of Alstead, New Jersey.

"I've tried all the best washday soaps—the new 'detergents', too. I've always added the best bleach I could buy to them, but my clothes never came so white as they did after my first wash using Tide alone! I still can hardly believe it—but it's true!"

NOW, TIDE WASHES CLOTHES WHITER THAN YOU CAN BLEACH THEM!

THE WASH TEST PROVES IT!

YOU CAN SEE THE DIFFERENCE!

TIDE ALONE

ANY OTHER WASHING PRODUCT with bleach added

TIDE gets clothes WHITER—with no bleach!

AND WHAT'S MORE...

NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT with a bleach added WILL WASH YOUR CLOTHES AS WHITE AS TIDE ALONE!

IT'S A NEW TIDE MIRACLE!

Even if you bleach clothes overnight, they won't be so white as TIDE washes them!

THINK OF IT! You can take two towels; wash one with Tide alone, soak the other in a bleach overnight... and then compare them for whiteness. You'll see that the Tide-washed towel is actually whiter than the towel that was soaked in bleach! Why, except for unusual stains, you need never bother with bleaching again!

CLEANER CLOTHES, TOO! Tide gets clothes cleaner than any soap of any kind. Millions of women have proved it. No soap known will get out so much grimy dirt, yet leave clothes so free of dulling film! There's never been anything like Tide for washday miracles. There's still nothing like Tide!

NO OTHER WASHING PRODUCT CAN PROMISE ALL THIS!

Washes clothes WHITER than you can bleach them!

Gets clothes CLEANER than any soap!

Motels Ready For 600 Million Tourists

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—More U. S. motorists will spend more nights in motel rooms this summer than ever before.

And they're going to enjoy their roadside rest and relaxation more than ever, too, according to the U. S. Rating Bureau.

In the past few years the country's highway haciendas have been getting plusher and plusher, putting the small town hotels in the flop-house category, by comparison.

This summer American motorists will find more and more motels with swimming pools, restaurants and air conditioning as part of the overnight comforts. Practically all of them provide free ice for the thirsty guests. Many have adopted the practice of giving free coffee or tea in the morning, or even a continental breakfast which consists of a heated sweet roll, butter and coffee.

Approximately 45,000 tourist courts in the country will be open for business this summer. California has the most with 7,500.

The U. S. Rating Bureau which provides this good news for tourists have just been founded by Howard Bonham, a former hotel man and also a former national American Red Cross official. He got the idea for the organization traveling to and from so many disasters for the Red Cross. His bureau is a non-governmental enterprise.

Tourist courts like this expect to lure 600,000,000 motorists this summer. This one is typical of the better-class motel. Many even have swimming pools and free breakfast coffee.

It's Bonham's plan to inspect motels around the country, rate them, and if they have a score of 80 or better, give them a giant blue and white flag. His other services include a poll of customers. Rating cards are left in each room.

He is going to limit his "Merit Award" to 50 motels this summer, and 200 next summer.

In the rating of motels first consideration is given to cleanliness. Next most important factor is safety. That includes such things as good locks, fireproof construction, safe heating facilities and those intangible factors which might make a motel perfectly safe for a single woman to stay in overnight, for instance.

Other factors in rating a motel are comfort, courtesy, privacy, atmosphere and parking facilities.

In spite of the increased comforts and conveniences being built into motels, Bonham doesn't think that rates will be up much this summer. Among the courts with his Bureau's blessing the average price per night is $4 to $5 single, and $5 to $7 double.

The most expensive motel room, he says, is the $28-per-night penthouse at the Western Hills in Fort Worth, Texas. Several people can stay in it and it has a kitchen and bar. That motel also has a swimming pool, golf course and fancy restaurant.

American Motel, the trade magazine, says tourist court owners all over the country have been preparing for the summer boom all winter. A recent survey revealed that 38 per cent of the motels had added 7.8 lodging units per motel. It also revealed that last year there were 565,000,000 motor court registrations and that the figure this year is expected to reach 600,000,000.

The estimate that record number of tourists will be on the road this summer is based on advance reservations at motels and resorts, and anticipated record number of visitors to the national parks, a general increase of the number of cars on the road and a continued high level of prosperity and employment in the country.

Jacoby On Canasta

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"How do you know when the opponents are about to meld out?" asks a Pittsburgh reader. "I seem to get stuck with a big fistful of cards very often, just when one of the opponents is about one play from out. Is there any sensible way to avoid this?"

This question strikes at the heart of good play. After all, canasta is a pretty easy game to play. If you understand the basic principles of good play and if you have a good memory for cards you should be able to beat anybody, or at least break even.

VOTE DOESN'T IMPRESS HIM

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(AP)—One Wayne County farmer isn't going to bother voting this year because he doesn't think one vote means a thing.

"A couple of years ago they were voting on centralization of the school district here. I didn't vote," he said. "Then some fella came around and said, 'There's going to be another vote on the proposition and you'd better vote. We lost the last time by one vote.' So I voted."

"Well, there must of been 800 or a thousand votes cast and after it was over the same fella came to me again and said: 'What do you know about that—we lost by one vote again.'"

"Now nobody can tell me that can happen twice in a row so I decided that's the last time I'll vote."

INFANT SON IN HOSPITAL

Teresa Louise Cullen, one-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Cullen, Halliburton Camp, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Mamie Eisenhower Longing To 'Unpack, Stay Forever'

DENVER—(AP)—Mamie Eisenhower would like to "unpack my furniture someplace and stay forever."

"But, for the record, she's not saying if she'd like to be the nation's first lady or whether she has any ideas on how to play homemaker in the White House."

The lady with the bangs, who post-pooches the idea that she might be starting a new fad with her haircut, talked with four gals from the press here.

It wasn't a "press conference," said Mamie. It was just a "little get-together over a bottle of coke."

Such things as the affairs of the nation and the chances of her Ike (Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower) becoming the Republican presidential candidate were strictly out.

Proposed By Note

Instead, she sat down in the Executive Suite of the Brown Palace Hotel and chatted about her grandchildren, French dress designers, recipes and her engagement rings.

Mamie revealed that Ike proposed to her in a note he sent from his Army post in Texas. He gave her a replica of his West Point ring shortly before they were married (which later was transferred to her right hand in favor of more conventional diamonds).

For 37 years she's been "following him around the world," and the longest they've been separated is three and one-half years during World War II. That was while the general was in Europe and she was living near Washington, D. C.

While Eisenhower is busy starting his campaign, Mamie is spending her time with her mother—who maintains the old family home here. Son John will be leaving in about 10 days for a Korean assignment.

Mr. Eisenhower makes no speeches. She hopes to keep that record. She explained that if she accepted one such invitation, she felt she'd have to accept them all. That, she concluded, would be "quite physically impossible."

Mamie receives "about 50 or 60" letters a day and until recently she's tried to answer each by long-hand. Her mail ranges from requests for souvenirs to be auctioned off at church bazaars to the "I-collect-such-and-such-would-you-please-send-me-one-of-same."

Widely Known Geese Research Program Dates Far Back

COLUMBUS, OHIO—(AP)—The widely known geese research program of Ohio State University dates back to a couple of immigrant geese which their Italian owner didn't want to cart back to Italy.

The pair, one of whom still survives, were obtained by the university 13 years ago at the conclusion of the World Poultry Congress in Cleveland. Since then the poultry science department has been experimenting to produce geese which are good layers and in which the sex may be determined by markings.

Prof. E. L. Dakan, originator of the project says that whoever coined the expression, "silly as a goose," didn't know what he was talking about. He also says geese are miserable when left alone but in flocks they "gab like a group of girls at a freshman hop."

RUTH MILLETT

Men Must Look Beyond Pretty Face For Home-Making Talent

A bachelor ("by choice"), who is just out of the Army, takes his pen in hand to low-rate what he calls the "average" American wife.

He has been visiting his brother and sister-in-law and apparently has decided that his brother's wife is typical of young American wives in general.

Here is his description of this one wife, which he seems to think fits all wives:

"She has an easy time of it, but thinks she has it tough. An electric washer does her washing for her, and yet she is forever complaining about how much laundry there is to do.

"She wastes an hour or two every morning gossiping over the telephone or at a neighbor's house. Then she rushes to fix lunch for her school-age children, which is never anything but a cold sandwich and a glass of milk.

"After lunch she rushes off to play bridge or canasta all afternoon or to go to a meeting or a tea. If there is nothing to go to she takes a three-hour nap.

Area's Typical

"Then she throws together a slapdash evening meal. The truth of the matter is that she doesn't do anything well. She just tries to get by with as little effort as possible. She actually doesn't even bother to use the right color of thread when she does condescend to darn a pair of socks for her husband.

"Why, I ask should a man in his right mind spend the rest of his life supporting anyone as lazy as the average American wife?"

To begin with, the wife you describe isn't average or typical. She does exist, that's true. But no man has to be stupid enough to take her on as a life partner.

When a man marries a woman with no talent for home-making, with no inclination to be a full partner in marriage, with little interest in anyone outside herself, it is his own fault.

He hasn't bothered to look beyond a pretty face and nice figure to see if there is any grain or heart or understanding.

If he is gypped, then he has gypped himself. He has made a bad bargain because he doesn't think marriage is important enough to require the use of his brains.

So don't waste too much sympathy on your brother. If he had thought women were a little more important in the scheme of things he would have used his brains in selecting a life-time partner.

West Texas Defense Work Total Hits $185,877,000

ABIENE—Cost of construction in West Texas by the Department of Defense that is under way, that has been authorized by Congress, and that is being requested for 1953 will total $185,877,000, according to a report prepared by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The report was compiled from information obtained from the Defense Department and the U. S. Corps of Engineers.

Much construction is being completed, and much more is more than 75 per cent finished.

Cost of work under way and to be negotiated in contracts includes the following: Fort Bliss, El Paso, $21,750,000; William Beaumont Army Hospital, El Paso, $96,000; Fort Worth Quartermaster Depot, $6,482,000; Amarillo Air Force Base, $9,476,000; James L. Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, $6,044,000; Higgs Air Force Base, El Paso, $1,279,000; Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, $1,194,000; Fort Hood, $15,500,000; James Connally Air Force Base, Waco, $9,500,000; Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, $9,570,000; Perrin Field, Sherman, Denison, $991,000; Laughlin Field, Del Rio, $2,100,000.

The Public Works Construction Bill now before Congress contains $32,844,000 for improvements at an Air Force Base yet to be reactivated. It is Tye Field, nine miles west of Abilene, whose citizens recently subscribed $500,000 for purchase of land the Air Force had indicated it will need if the appropriation is approved.

West Texas expenditures requested by Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett, which are listed in the 1953 Public Works Construction Bill, include the following for West Texas Army posts and Air Force bases: Fort Bliss, $5,036,000; Higgs Air Force Base, $773,000; Carswell Air Force Base, $15,844,000; Tye Field, $3,273,000; James L. Webb Air Force Base, $6,270,000; Fort Hood, $10,516,000; James Connally Air Force Base, $7,829,000; Goodfellow Air Force Base, San Angelo, $3,741,000; Laughlin Air Force Base, $4,958,000; Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, $8,239,000; Perrin Air Force Base, $4,016,000.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By Al McClane
Fishing Editor

Position may not be everything in life, but it can be everything in fishing.

When you're fly casting, for instance, it's easier to cast with the wind blowing across your body to your rear. In this way the wind will keep the fly away from your face, neck, and ears. What's more, hands, that's another problem you'll have licked.

The bait-caster working around the lily pads handicaps himself when sitting down. In casting the pads, it's easier to stand up in the boat. From this position you can raise easily the rod overhead when you have hooked your fish and are involved in the task of getting him out.

Also, by standing up and holding your rod high you can reel your lure so that it keeps close to the surface—so close, in fact, that it breaks water. You can reel even a good-sized weedless spoon close to the surface so that a skittering or surface-rippling effect is obtained. That is what you should strive for instead of just reeling the lure along underwater. Fish are attracted to the skittering.

Speaking of positions, some of our readers have been getting wrenched elbows from trying to get stuck ferules unstuck. I have no sure-fire remedy for this one, but whichever way you tackle the job, don't twist the rod.

If you have a friend along, have him help you, each of you taking hold of the rod and pulling together. If you are alone, try bending over at the waist with your knees together, and put the rod behind you, parallel with the ground; then grasp the rod with your hands on each side of the joint and pull. This is an awkward position to get into, but it works.

Ferules which are badly stuck may be loosened by warming them slightly with a match. The heat should be just enough to expand the metal slightly. Do not overheat, or the ferrule cement will melt.

It's a good idea to carry two small squares of rubber in your kit. If the ferules stick, grasp both ferules with the rubber and give a sharp pull. Preventive medicine—rub ferules with a light film of oil or vaseline.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriter

Hope chests are becoming one of the favored presents of the younger set. What's more, the girls are as set on filling 'em up as Grandma was. And they'll even save on soda pop and pretzels to do it.

Every day letters from girls who own a chest ask such questions as: "What kind of guest towels should I buy?" "Supposing I don't marry for two or three years—will my sheets still be good?" "Should I have a good buy for a young couple?" "Should I have all my linens initialed the same?"

Ask any teen-ager what she plans to do after she is graduated from high school (or college) and almost invariably the answer will be "Get married."

Coming on the heels of the hue and cry about shortcomings of the present generation, this new yen for domesticity offers an interesting twist—and common sense to boot. As one 17-year-old girl put it:

"What is the sense of going out with Richard, Charlie and Tommy, without a thought as to the future? I've seen my sisters flit away their good time with boys without a thought as to whether they are the type they'd like to marry. Me? I'm only going out with boys who would make suitable husbands—considerate, kind, ambitious and sensible."

Give Thought To Future
Quite a mouthful, kids, and other young girls might profit by giving a fleeting thought to their own futures. Lots of sub-debs have learned lessons by observing mistakes of their elders. They abhor low cut evening gowns, off-color stories, smoking, drinking and hot-rod cars—all things which intrigued older sisters. They do not feel impelled to engage in distasteful recreation in order to charm a boy. So unlike the last generation they are less likely to develop bad habits.

As one young girl points out: "If I must act like a jerk to attract a jerk, why bother? Nothing from nothing leaves nothing. The kind of boy I want to marry will admire me for my good qualities."

One parent observes that the current crop of young adults would make granny look like a wicked woman by comparison. They like to cook, make their own clothes, read newspaper editorials, go to concerts and symphonies, are critical of bad movies and plays and interested in making the most of their education.

And now the hope chest adds to the intrigue. In a recent magazine poll (Scholastic) 22 per cent of the girls polled desired a chest as a graduation present, close on the heels of traditional favorites such as watches, luggage and clothes.

Form Hope Chest Club
If you haven't planned your cedar-lined chest, don't be out of step. One group of girls offers a good suggestion to make the entire idea more interesting. The girls formed a Hope Chest Club—an organization sworn solely to the idea of promoting their hope chests. They have a pact to give each other interesting items for their chests on birthdays, Christmas, graduation and other special occasions. And they talk it up to each other's families. As one girl says:

"Instead of giving a box of handkerchiefs or stockings as a gift, we give such things as washcloths, hostess napkins, dish cloths, dish towels, guest towels. Sometimes we buy pillow cases or guest towels and embroider the edges or initial them. These items cost less, usually, than ordinary presents, and make a wonderful hit with the gal who gets them."

But let's hope that the chest at the foot of the bed isn't acquired so easily it will feed the moths or make the girl desperate in her man trap-pings! There is nothing that will send a man scurrying home to mother faster than that orange-blossom stare from a girl he hardly knows. On the other hand, boys admire a girl who admits she wants to get married and who acts like she is preparing for it, eventually. So long as he doesn't expect you are trying to nab him, he'll think it is a good idea.

Whether you own a hope chest or not, a good thing to remember, now that the romantic season is upon us, is to wait until the boy pops the question before you shop for your wedding veil.

Women Taking Over Driver's Seat In Automobile Industry

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Women are taking over the driver's seat of the automobile industry.

Since a recent survey revealed that women influence 80 per cent of the nation's car sales, the motor industry has grown acutely conscious of the necessity of feminine appeal in the products of their assembly lines.

That's why you're seeing new cars in all those soft two-tone pastel shades, with upholstery in the season's high fashion colors.

And that's one reason the industry stands in such awe of a petite platinum blonde named Maxine Regan, only woman industrial designer employed by the Chrysler Corporation and one of the few in the whole history of the automobile business.

She's Industrial Giant
Maxine is an industrial giant, even though she stands only five feet, two, tips the scales at 100, has limpid blue eyes and looks more like a Hollywood starlet than an assembly-line queen.

When not designing Plymouth cars, Maxine is traveling with Chrysler's million-dollar road show, demonstrating to a fascinated public how a new car is born on a drawing board. She has a lot of bright ideas for the dream car of the future, all calculated to delight the feminine half of the public. She explains:

"Today people are practically living in their automobiles, so we have to make them as comfortable, attractive and safe as your own living room—with as much attention to detail."

For this reason Maxine scans all the latest fashionable magazines before she gets together her cars of color schemes for the next season's cars, with upholstery fabrics, body paint and trim all carefully harmonized.

On her drawing board is a rock-et-like car design in copper and turquoise, and another in coral and black.

Back-Seat Telephone
Among innovations she is considering for the car of the future are such things as a back-seat telephone, makeup kit to fit into a door panel or glove compartment, umbrella rack and maybe even a small bar and grill. Says she:

"I've designed a dashboard covered in alligator with an alligator covered umbrella to match which fits on the door panel! Don't you know women are just going to love that?"

There'll be more glass in the car of the future, and it will be tinted to reduce glare and heat. It will appear lower and wider, though it will actually be about the same dimensions as at present.

The general, it was learned on good authority, does not want to go into permanent retirement and has a deep desire to get back into uniform if his political venture is a failure.

WT District Is Site For Six Prospectors

Locations for six new wildcat prospectors were included among a total of 100 new petroleum developments reported to the Midland district office of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas during the last week. The 50 new tests were scattered among 20 townships in West Texas (District 8).

The new prospectors were distributed one each to Borden, Crane, Hockley, King, Terry and Yoakum Counties.

King County received eight new field explorations. Andrews County reported seven new locations and Sterling reported four.

Drill sites were established for the new projects in Midland, Ward and Yoakum Counties.

Two new explorers were staked in each of Gaines, Howard, Pecos and Scurry Counties.

The remainder of the locations were divided equally among Cochran, Crane, Dawson, Fctor, Glasscock, Hockley, Loving and Terry Counties.

FREIGHT LOSES TO HERFORD

VIDALIA, GA.—(AP)—A 1,500-pound Herford bull stopped a crack freight train cold in an encounter near here Tuesday.

The diesel-powered locomotive and eight cars of the Georgia and Florida Railroad freighter, the Blue Goose, piled matchwood style across the tracks after hitting the bull head-on.

Crane Church Starts Vacation Bible School

CRANE—A Vacation Bible school is under way at the First Christian Church with 62 children enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bartlett of Los Angeles, Calif., visual education specialists, are conducting the school.

Leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kendrick, Mrs. Jeff Robbins, Mrs. Ed Spurgeon, Mrs. Lee Harden, Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. Bert Jones and Mrs. C. H. Dannelly.

Classes for adults also are being conducted three nights a week.

Lightweight plastic bamboo handbags are simple to keep clean.

All you have to do is apply a soapy cloth—and such hot weather trademarks as stick fingers and grass stains will vanish immediately.

General's Brother Outlines Four-Point Program For Peace

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—(AP)—Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College, Wednesday outlined anew his four-point program for permanent peace.

One of them is a genuine understanding among the peoples of the world, he said in a speech at the twenty-seventh annual convention of the National Fertilizer Association.

"We must come to understand peoples of other nations and cultures as people—their histories, problems and hopes," Eisenhower said. "This kind of understanding does not exist today in any nation."

The Penn State president, who is a brother of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, said that peace also hinges on enlightened economic cooperation.

He added that perhaps the most serious money problem in the world is the relationship of the dollar and sterling areas.

Something should be done about the radical lack of balance in imports and exports between the two, Eisenhower declared.

Butressed By Strength
"A third-phase must be political cooperation to settle those disputes which might break into open warfare," he said.

"The efforts of diplomats must be buttressed by the United Nations or a strengthened United Nations."

The fourth area of his peace offensive involves power, Eisenhower explained, adding:

"If we have adequate power it usually does not have to be used. But there can be no peace without it. . . . The United Nations should be equipped with a world police force to put down aggression."

Eisenhower outlined his plan in a similar speech at Johns Hopkins University several weeks ago. He spoke here at closing sessions of the association's convention.

Bible Chapter Lost At Crucial Moment

RICHMOND, VA.—(AP)—The Rev. G. Houston Patterson of Bluefield, W. Va., found a chapter missing in the Bible—much to his embarrassment.

He was conducting the baccalaureate service for the graduating class of Union Theological Seminary.

For several minutes, he thumbed the massive Bible in the pulpit while the audience waited and watched.

Finally, he said: "I will read the 23rd Psalm."

A bit red-faced, he then added: "I am reading this psalm today for a very special reason. It is one with which I hope you will never be confronted. I find myself with a Bible from which the 23rd chapter of St. Luke is unaccountably missing."

President's One-Time School Teacher Dies
JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—President Truman's one-time school-teacher, Miss Myra Waller Ewin, 90, died Tuesday.

Miss Ewin, a former resident of Independence, Mo., and Dallas, lived with a nephew here.

It was formerly believed that the earliest men were of very large size and that contemporary men were dwarfed descendants, but in recent centuries it has been recognized that there is little or no basis for such a belief.

Trucks To Roll On Long Test Of Paving Material

MALAD, IDAHO.—(AP)—Late this Summer four heavy trucks will start driving round and round on two oval-shaped roads in southern Idaho—and when they'll stop, nobody knows.

Out of the tests may come the knowledge which will lead to construction of better, longer-lasting highways in the future.

The two ovals, connected by a short section of road, will be built of asphalt with varying base thicknesses. The trucks, heaviest of which will have a dual axle capacity of 40,000 pounds, will travel the 3,200 foot road constantly.

The effects of the varying truck loadings on the different road thicknesses will be measured throughout the tests with an eye to determining the most suitable roads for use by America's huge trucking industry.

Scheduled to be under construction by May 1, the road will cost about $202,000, with another $100,000 earmarked for actual testing costs. Testing will begin late this Summer and continued into 1953 at least.

The project is sponsored by the Western Association of State Highway Officials, the Highway Research Board of the National Academy of Science, the petroleum and oil industries and other interested groups.

"The length of a research project of this sort depends on a number of factors," says G. Bryce Bennett, an engineer in the Idaho highway department who is taking an active part in the project. "We don't expect any results until sometime in 1953."

A similar project to test concrete pavement has been under way for some time in Maryland.

The Idaho road will be built on soil typical of the 10 western states taking part in the project. It will be constructed with five different base thicknesses topped with flexible pavement.

By determining where failure begins, engineers hope to get some of the answers to the country's growing highway problems.

Schools' Face-Lifting Program Reaches Peak

The busy hum of the classrooms of Midland Public Schools has been replaced by the sound of hammers and saws and the swish of paint brushes.

An extensive work program designed to give the schools "new faces" and make them ready to function again this Fall was started by the maintenance staff when pupils and their teachers left the classrooms for Summer vacations.

Some maintenance work is to be done during the Summer in every school building in Midland. Laws have been seeded at Lamar Junior High School, Desavala, San Jacinto, East Cowden and Sam Houston Elementary Schools. Other school laws will be re-seeded where needed.

Generally, the aims of the maintenance program are to promote safety, attractive appearance, efficiency and economy.

In the year 1951-52—maintenance alone cost the schools $24,242.98 with operational expenses of $42,287.42 for a total $66,530.44. These include such general repairs as painting, plumbing, carpentering, welding and electric repairs.

Floyd Hines, maintenance superintendent, is responsible for condition of grounds and buildings and all school maintenance under direction of the Special Services division.

During the regular school term, the maintenance department consisted of a nucleus responsible for normal plumbing, electrical and carpenter repairs. When the regular school term ended, however, the custodians of school joined the maintenance staff.

Regular maintenance employees are Serving as combined operational-maintenance employees are: Veto Ballard, C. A. Solis, Alonzo Traham and T. L. Williams, high school; Walter Wilson, R. C. Vest and Claude Jones, Lamar Junior High School; Roy Strickland and Charles Crawford, Crockett Elementary School; S. C. Womack, Desavala School; C. W. Carroll, North Elementary School; William H. Seash, Sam Houston Elementary School; M. J. Koen and Jess Bolin, South Elementary School; B. E. Farnley and Roy Landa, West Elementary School; J. J. Hughes, stadium; Walter Grimes, Rosealla Jones and Jess Hickman, Carver Elementary School.

First bicycle was built by Ernest Michaux, French locksmith, in 1865.
