Devonian Oiler Is In Prospect At Andrews Test

The Texas Company has a Devonian discovery in prospect in Northeast Andrews County at No. 1-Z State of Texas.

A drillstem test was taken in the interval from 12,500 to 12,600 feet. Tool was open three hours. Gas surfaced in two hours at the rate of 10,000 cubic feet daily. No oil surfaced.

Recovery was 930 feet of clean oil and 651 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. No water was present. Open flowing bottomhole pressure ranged from 195 to 600 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 1,000 pounds.

Operator was coring ahead. No oil on the Devonian has been picked.

This project is seven and one-half miles northeast of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 University. Ellenburger discovery which flowed oil on drillstem tests of the Devonian.

Exact location for No. 1-Z State of Texas is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 22, block 6, pal survey, and 20 miles northeast of the town of Andrews.

Ellenburger Oil Is Swabbed From Crockett Wildcat

Lion Oil Company appears to be assured of some sort of a commercial oil well and a discovery from the Ellenburger at its No. 1 J. M. Shannon estate, North-Central Crockett County wildcat.

The project was swabbing on perforated section in the Ellenburger at 7,380-7,413 feet and was making new oil at the average rate of 12.57 barrels per hour. It was not showing any formation water.

That oil recovery is coming after the perforated section had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid and then treated with 5,000 gallons of regular acid.

Was Flipped Back

This wildcat drilled to a bottom of 7,708 feet in the Ellenburger. The lower section made only water. It was plugged back to 7,488 feet and a string of 5 1/2-inch casing was cemented at that point.

The zone at 7,488-48 feet was perforated, acidized and tested. It made salt water with a slight show of oil. Operator then squeezed off the perforations and plugged back at 7,380-7,413 feet.

That interval was washed with 800 gallons of mud acid and after the load and residue had been swabbed out it swabbed 70 barrels of new oil in 18 hours.

Has Been Acidized

The 5,000-gallon shot of regular acid was then injected.

After the load and residue from that treatment had been swabbed out the wildcat swabbed 44 barrels of new oil in three and one-half hours.

It was continuing to swab to, test and complete as an Ellenburger discovery.

The wildcat is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 46, block UV, GC&SF survey. It is two and one-half miles east of the Todd-Deep field and three miles southwest of the Elk-horn, (Ellenburger) field.

It topped the Ellenburger at 6,945 feet, which is on a datum of minus 4,223 feet.

Phillips Releases Official Report On Pecos Wildcat

Phillips Petroleum Company representatives in Midland and Bartlesville, Okla., have confirmed reports the company has a big gas discovery and deepest producer in Texas at its No. 1 Glenna in Southeast Pecos County.

The prolific gasser has been tested for approximately 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

That production was through perforations in five and one-half inch casing opposite the Ellenburger. The pipe was set at 14,485 feet. The perforations which have been tested are from 14,090 to 14,285 feet and from 14,440 to 14,460 feet. Total depth is 14,522 feet. The Ellenburger was topped at 13,605 feet, elevation 3,360 feet.

Testing

Operator was testing on perforations above 14,090 feet according to company representatives. Exact interval now being tested has not been learned.

It was not reported whether oil or distillate was produced with the gas which has been recovered.

Paley Report Tags Depletion Allowance As Inducement To Enter Risky Business

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A White House study group defended the percentage depletion allowance for oil and gas producers Monday as a "powerful inducement to capital" to enter a "relatively risky business."

In a massive report, the result of 18 months of study, the President's Materials Policy Commission, an emergency agency, also defended the 27 1/2 per cent rate of the allowance.

The report stated that "any radical alteration of the existing tax arrangements would be undesirable. It said the rate should go no higher, however.

The commission warned against "perennial tampering with these percentage depletion rates" and against "diluting" this income tax incentive by "indiscriminate" spreading of the benefit to many industries.

President Truman, who appointed the commission to recommend ways to strengthen America economically, twice has launched a vigorous campaign to persuade Congress to reduce the allowance to 15 per cent. His predecessor, President Roosevelt, tried to get the Congress to eliminate it. All the attempts failed.

The report, entitled, "Resources For Freedom," gives a sweeping analysis of the supply and demand factors for all essentials of the economy through 1975.

A big part of the report has to do with petroleum. Thus, the commission calls for federal and state legislation to turn the Continental Shelf into a "security reserve of crude oil," against the needs of a war; for "limited financial assistance to any qualified private companies" trying to produce oil from coal or shale; the reduction or elimination of tariffs on crude oil.

It recommends government encouragement to foreign oil companies through steps to guarantee against expropriation and income tax protection.

As for oil imports to the U. S., the commission presents an astonishing picture. Under the best of conditions regarding U. S. crude oil production, as the commission sees them, oil imports will rise to 2.5 million barrels daily. Oil imports now are in the vicinity of a million barrels daily.

The commission, in a rare display of courage from an official body, makes a stab at forecasting the price of crude oil by the end of the study period, 1975. The facts on prices, it says, are governed by the probability of synthetic oil commercially within 10 years, and supplies of foreign crudes which "will be increasingly competitive in the United States."

It adds:

"These highly expensible competitive sources of liquid fuels can be expected to keep the price of domestic crude from rising more than 25 to 30 per cent (relative to the nation's general price level) over the next 25 years, and the rise may be far less."

The members of the commission, a post-Korean agency which now is going out of business, are:

William S. Paley, chairman of the board of the Columbia Broadcasting System, commission chairman; George Rufus Brown, Brown and Root, Houston; Arthur H. Bunker, Climax Molybdenum; Eric F. Hodgins, Ex-Fortune Magazine; Edward S. Mason, Harvard University.

Board Recommends All-Out Search For Raw Materials

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A presidential board Monday recommended that the United States scrap laws which prevent other nations from selling America the raw materials she needs for war and peace.

The United States should make a cellar-to-attic search—at home and abroad—for sources of materials, said a formal report by the President's Materials Policy Commission.

This country already is unable to supply her own needs, the board said, and by 1975 may be compelled to import one-fifth of the material it consumes. The report recommended that stockpiling be put on a permanent basis.

The commission, after 18 months research, said it is seriously concerned—but not "alarmist"—over the shrinkage of America's natural resources.

In the face of foreseeable demand for the next 25 years, the report said, this shrinkage is a definite threat to the nation's living standards and national security.

Texas Polio Wave Grows More Acute

By The Associated Press

The Texas polio situation became so acute Monday Gov. Allan Shivers called on all Texans to help fight it and a special epidemic coordinator was sent to Houston.

Houston reported 15 new cases Monday, including nine from within the city limits—a new record for the city for one day.

Corpus Christi reported eight new cases were brought into Memorial Hospital there over the weekend.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced from New York that the Texas polio increase was more marked than in the rest of the nation and was concentrated in the Houston and Corpus Christi areas.

Harris County, including Houston, has reported almost 200 cases this year and 79 additional non-county cases treated there. Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi has treated 101 cases.

From Austin, Governor Shivers called the situation a crisis and called upon "every member of every family" to help fight it. He issued a program giving suggestions and requests from various agencies.

It called for participation in cleanup drives and more nursing help among other items.

Dr. G. Foard McGinnis of Washington, D. C., special epidemic coordinator for the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, was due in Houston Monday.

The foundation said emergency equipment from other points has been shipped to Houston.

Cases reported in Houston Monday included the nine from the city, three county cases, three non-resident cases and five other "possible cases."

West Allies Protest Patrol Restrictions On German Autobahn

BOONN, GERMANY —(AP)— The three Western Allies charged in a note Monday that the Russians violated Allied use of the International Highway to Berlin.

The American, British and French high commissioners for Germany sent identical notes to Gen. Vasily Chuikov, Soviet commander in East Germany, demanding that the Russians lift a month-old ban on British and American military police patrols along the 110-mile highway leading from the Western zones through Soviet Zone territory to Berlin.

The notes rejected as groundless a note from General Chuikov of June 9 that such traffic patrols were "armed patrols" which could be banned for encroaching upon Russian authority.

"The sole purpose of these patrols... is to provide to Allied officials and personnel traveling along the Autobahn assistance in case of motor trouble or other difficulty," the notes said.

Dust-Propelling Winds Continue

Dust-kicking winds worried Midlanders Monday but were expected to keep the temperature below the 100-degree mark.

CAA observers at the Air Terminal expected the winds to blow into the night. They had raked Midland most of Sunday.

Widely scattered afternoon showers were predicted Monday afternoon in some sections of the state. But a majority of Texans had braced for another day of torrid sunshine when temperatures started rising swiftly almost as soon as dawn broke Monday.

Leaders To Seek Congress Windup Before Convention

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Congressional leaders told President Truman Monday they will do everything possible to wind up this legislative session before the Republican convention. If necessary, they said, they will keep Congress in session on July 4 and the Saturday following.

The Republican convention opens July 7 in Chicago.

Much legislation still must be passed. Including the measures that will provide the money to run the government in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Representative Rayburn (D-Texas), speaker of the House, told reporters after a conference with the President that things "look fair" for adjournment by the end of next week. He said, though, it may be necessary to keep Congress on the job over the Independence Day holiday.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas), the Senate whip who participated in the conference in the absence of Majority Leader McFarland of Arizona, agreed with Rayburn that there is hope the program would cost $2,000,000 in its first year and would increase annually until it reached a total of $128,000,000 a year.

Congress was asked to provide scholarships of up to $800 a year for the "neediest of the ablest" among the nation's high school students. The funds would go to 50,000 or 60,000 students a year.

Ewing, who is head of the Federal Security Agency, said he had President Truman's authorization "to transmit to Congress a student aid bill to provide educational opportunity for those barred from attending our colleges by economic roadblocks."

Charge Midland Is 'Boiling Cauldron Of Hate' Stirs Prompt Protest, Denial

By HAROLD WHITTINGTON

Discrimination against Latin American citizens is a challenging problem in Midland, but the city definitely is not "a boiling cauldron of hate," agreed church and civic leaders here Monday.

The question arose anew Saturday when Oscar M. Laura of Laredo, executive secretary and legal advisor of the League of United Latin American Citizens (LULAC), singled out Midland in an address delivered at Corpus Christi, hurling the "boiling cauldron" charge.

"It is an injustice to the city," Mayor Perry Pickett said, "especially in that the speaker gave no facts to substantiate his charge."

None of the two dozen persons contacted by The Reporter-Telegram in its survey of opinion Monday had heard of Laura nor could anyone single out a specific reason for his charge.

A. V. Gutierrez, president of the Midland council of LULAC, pointed out several instances wherein discrimination is a problem to be solved, but he said Laura probably was too strong in his indictment against the city.

"Our problem is in the city swimming pool, in the theaters, restaurants and barber shops," Gutierrez said. "These things take years to solve, and I have been unable to detect any progress here. But Midland is no worse than San Angelo and a number of other cities."

Odesa, it was pointed out, permits Latin American to utilize the municipal swimming pool there.

In this respect, City Manager W. H. Oswald said plans are being blueprinted now for a neighborhood park in the city's Latin American section. It will cost between $100,000 and $150,000 and will include a swimming pool.

Latin Americans are not permitted to occupy seats on the main floors of Midland theaters, and there have been instances where they have been refused service in restaurants, barber shops and hotels. Nevertheless, it was conceded that while these factors exist here, they also exist in most other Texas cities.

The Latin American population of Midland is between 2,000 and 4,000 persons, the Chamber of Commerce estimates.

Ray Protzman, director of the Youth Center for Latin Americans at 414 East Illinois Street, said the swimming pool problem has been a "sore foot" more than two years.

"The newspaper has been an offender," Protzman charged. "Whenever a Mexican boy gets in a knife-fighting scrape downtown it winds up on the front page, but we have had a minimum of publicity on the activities of the Youth Center."

The center is open from 7 to 9:30 p.m. daily throughout the year with daytime activities in the Summer for younger children. Supported by community funds, the center offers handcraft facilities, games and guidance for Latin American youth. Average daily attendance, Protzman said, ranges up to 100. He is a fulltime director and has an assistant.

St. George's Catholic Church and the First Baptist Church are active workers among the Latin American population and have a full calendar of activities. Spokesmen for both groups denied the "boiling cauldron" charge.

"The charge is ridiculous," declared the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor of the First Baptist Church. "We have a Latin American mission which actually is a part of our own church. The mission is a building apart solely as a matter of convenience to the members and not a matter of discrimination."

"Discrimination here is isolated, and the Anglo-Americans discriminate among themselves to a greater extent than they do among races. They discriminate on the grounds of economic and social life, often with greater determination than in those few cases of racial discrimination," he said.

J. D. Bechtel of the Texas Employment Commission, along with city and county officials, said Latin Americans are not discriminated against in matters of employment. They are hired just as readily, and on the same wage scales, as other persons. The city employs several Latin Americans in supervisory capacities.

School Supt. Frank Monroe called attention to the new school put into operation last year for Latin Americans and cited other instances in operation of the school system wherein discrimination is being overcome in all possible respects.

The Rev. Luther Kirk of the First Methodist Church stated that while some discrimination does exist, the problem probably has not reached the proportions claimed by Laura.

A spokesman for another church summed it up in a more emphatic vein: "He (Laura) simply doesn't know what he's talking about."

Operation Is Greatest Air Raid Of War

SEOUL, KOREA —(AP)— Five hundred Air Force, Navy and Marine planes Monday knocked out five major Communist hydro-electric plants and blacked out much of North Korea and parts of Manchuria in the biggest air raid of the Korean War.

Pilots said they saw more than 200 Red MIG jets parked on a Manchurian base within sight of one target, but all stayed on the ground.

Every Allied plane returned safely, the Air Force said.

Lt. Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, U. S. Fifth Air Force commander, said the joint air strike demonstrated "our mastery of the skies over North Korea."

The world's fourth largest hydro-electric plant at Suho, about 30 miles up the Yalu River from the Communist MIG base at Antung, was knocked completely out of service.

The Yalu separates Korea from Manchuria. All targets were in Korea.

Other planes smashed two generating stations at the Chosin Reservoir, where American Marines and the Seventh Division fought their bitter battle against the first waves of Chinese Communist troops in December, 1950.

Suho Blackens Skies

The other two plants knocked out were on the Songchon River, approximately 18 miles north of Hamhung in Eastern Korea.

Air Force and Marine planes from dozens of Korean bases teamed with Navy craft from the 27,000-ton carrier Boxer, Philippines Sea, Princeton and Bonhomme Richard. Pilots said smoke from the burning Suho plant blackened the skies over North Korea and Manchuria.

"We shifted about 10,000,000 volts today," said Lt. William Taylor of Florence, Ala. "I'm sure it'll make the folk in my home town happy. Up until mid-afternoon my town had the fifth largest power plant (Wolsong Dam) in the world. This afternoon I have helped change its status to the fourth largest."

Pilots said the Communist anti-

London Talks To Touch On Allied Tasks

LONDON —(AP)— U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived here Monday for Big Three talks he said would deal with the "great common tasks our three countries are carrying forward."

He told newsmen at London Airport his talks with British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman would range over Europe, the Far East and Korea.

Acheson, accompanied by his wife, arrived aboard the presidential plane The Independence. Dr. Philip Jessup, U. S. ambassador at large, and Assistant Secretary of State George Perkins and Mrs. Perkins, came with him.

The secretary of State will hold his first talks with Eden Tuesday and lunch with Prime Minister Churchill.

Schuman will join the talks on Friday. They may continue Saturday morning. Acheson takes off Saturday afternoon to visit the people of Berlin and Vienna who, he said, "are maintaining their freedom during a period of great harassment."

He then plans to fly across the South Atlantic for a visit to Brazil before returning to the United States.

Father Hurries To Aid Of 10-Year-Old Son In Midland

A 10-year-old Midland boy, locked out of his home by his mother, was waiting patiently Monday for the arrival of his father from East Texas.

A few minutes before midnight Sunday, the youth called police headquarters and reported his mother wouldn't let him get in the house to go to bed.

Police Officer Joe Wilson investigated and found him sitting in a car outside a trailer court on the outskirts of the city.

Wilson reported that he talked to the mother and she said she was "going to whip the boy good with a belt."

Wilson said she told him she and the boy's father were divorced and that she had custody of the boy three months out of the year.

The officer said the boy told him he'd had eight different step-fathers.

The boy's mother agreed to let her son return to police headquarters and he spent the night in the dormitory of the Fire Station.

Police talked to the boy's father in East Texas and he promised to be here Monday or Tuesday to claim the youth.

Third Year Of Korean War Begins In Military Puzzle

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — As the Korean war begins its third year, it stands as the greatest military enigma in American history.

And it's a big question as to whether the military puzzle is worse than the one created in the minds of U. S. citizens.

Two years of fighting have cost the U. S. approximately 110,000 casualties including more than 17,000 American soldiers killed in action.

What has been bought tactically or strategically in Korea for this terrible human price, military leaders are hard put to explain.

Close to a year of truce talks, although they have boiled down to the single issue of how to handle prisoners of war, have produced only frustration.

At the end of the first year of fighting it was claimed that the Korean war's chief benefit was in alerting America to get strong and build up its forces.

Even a careful evaluation of the known facts of the Korean stalemate after two years produces only a few solid conclusions.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

Nothing Golden About Silence, Cries Silver-Tongued Milland
By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Starring in a full-length movie without saying a single word may be right down Harpo Marx's alley, but Ray Milland's confessing he's never worked so hard in all of his 20 years in Hollywood.

As the hero without dialog in Producer Harry Popkin's "The Thief," a Chase movie in which no one says a word, Ray told me:

"I've discovered that dialog covers a multitude of sins. You can read lines and be thinking about something else. But without dialog, if your mind isn't on what you're doing, it shows up on the screen. Believe me, I've dug up reactions I never knew I had."

Stars of the silent films even had it easy compared to his role, Ray sighed. "They talked and then their words were flashed on the screen. I can't even open my mouth."

Sterling Hayden's pals are all smiles. The big, rugged star is once again living under the same roof with his wife, Betty, and this time it looks as though the reconciliation will stick. The stork played Cupid in their case.

Roberta Peters will get a quick divorce from Robert Merrill by filing in Mexico. Her reasons are hair-raising. They lived together only two days.

Interesting Your Husband In Hobby To Enliven Weekends

A wife has reason for concern if her husband seems restless and bored in his own house. Writes a 42-year-old wife: "My husband seems so restless and bored when he is around the house for any length of time that it is beginning to get on my nerves. He doesn't seem to know what to do with himself when he gets away from his office. I think he is really relieved after each weekend when Monday morning rolls around and he can get back to his job."

Is he spending all of his leisure time at home? If so, maybe he needs time to get out occasionally with men friends for hunting, fishing, golf or whatever would appeal to him. Or maybe you are both sticking too close to home, and need to get away for an occasional evening out.

But from the sound of your letter, it may be that your husband needs to get interested in a hobby he can pursue at home. The active men who are most contented at home usually are men with such hobbies as wood working, gardening, gun collecting, etc.

Lead Husbands To Hobbies

The hours they spend at home are spent doing something they like to do, and so they keep busy and happy.

It is mighty easy for a man who doesn't like to sit and read to get bored around a house, especially if he isn't the kind of man who enjoys playing with the children or working around the house and yard. A hobby he can pursue at home is a wonderful thing for such a man. So see what you can do to encourage your husband to get interested in a hobby.

You might be surprised if you knew how many men have been led to hobbies by their wives. A wife gets interested in growing roses and pretty soon her husband is the gardening expert in the family.

A wife gives her husband a power drill for a birthday or Christmas gift and before long the basement is a work shop.

So see what you can do to get your husband started on something that will make home a place where he can keep busy doing something he likes to do.

'Boiling Cauldron' Charge

Midland is a boiling cauldron of hate and discrimination! That is the stiff and serious charge hurled at this headquarters city of the Permian Basin-Empire by one Oscar M. Laura of Laredo, executive secretary and legal advisor for the League of United American Citizens, according to press dispatches.

The charge was made Saturday at the league's annual convention in Corpus Christi. The harsh and perhaps unjustified statement came as quite a shock to Midland residents, many of whom have worked long and hard to improve the living standards and conditions of Latin Americans who make their homes here.

We do not know the man who takes it upon himself to condemn the City of Midland and its friendly citizens in such harsh language. We do not know whether he knows Midland or is basing his charges on circumstantial evidence. We do not know whether he personally has investigated the situation. We do not know his reasons for making the charges or what he expects to gain from them.

Even if the charges were true, Oscar Laura's crude approach seems to us an ill-advised manner of correcting them. His charges certainly are antagonistic and it would appear he is determined to tear down friendly relations rather than to improve them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: A newspaper columnist makes mistakes; Secretary Brannan pushes newspaper in Alaska; People of Maine substantiate this columnist re Senator Brewster.

WASHINGTON—Every so often a columnist like myself who pretends to know everything that's going on behind the scenes, under the scenes, and over the scenes, comes smack up against the fact that he's made a mistake. Sometimes, despite diligent checking of facts, he even makes a whopper of a mistake.

Right now I find I've made several mistakes in a row, and in fairness I want to rectify them. First I made a mistake in implying that Mrs. Kefauver's father was British-born. I now find he was born on a farm near Cornwall, N. Y., and became a British citizen some years later, after going to Scotland in 1908 to work as a ship designer.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

In a recent match between England and Wales, the English team reached the ambitious South of three no-trump on the North-South cards shown today. The Welsh team stopped at one no-trump, making this contract with great ease. The English declarer had a harder time.

Table with columns NORTH, WEST, EAST, SOUTH (D), and South-South vul. It lists various card suits and their counts.

West opened the jack of hearts, the king was played from dummy, and East won with the ace. East promptly returned the queen of diamonds, and South held off until the third round of that suit. South then entered dummy with the ten of hearts to lead the queen of spades.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Heart 1 Pass 1 Spade Pass. You, South, hold: Spades K-A, Hearts K-Q-9-8-4-2, Diamonds A, Clubs A-3-2. What do you do?

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Reclaimed, Paid Off In Full, Yakima Valley Boasts Riches

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Another big reclamation district project paid off its debt to the federal government for irrigation improvements this week. It is the Sunnyside Valley Irrigation District in the rich Yakima River country of Central Washington.

G. W. Lineweaver, assistant U. S. commissioner of Reclamation, went to Sunnyside, Wash., to receive the district's final payment of $21,000. He witnessed the stamping of "Paid in Full" on an obligation of $2,270,000 first assumed by the farmers of this area almost 45 years ago.

Most of the stories that get printed about these huge reclamation projects are about the many millions of tax dollars that they cost for storage dams and irrigation canals. The fact that the irrigation and electric power aspects of these projects are self-liquidating generally is lost sight of.

It is only when there's a big celebration while one of these projects pays off, as at Sunnyside, that the real nature of these public works shows up. The Yakima projects are paying off with a vengeance.

Five years ago the Tieton division of the project canceled its indebtedness. Now Sunnyside is clear, leaving only the Kennewick, Kittitas and Pasa divisions to make good on their contracts.

Fifty years ago this Yakima Valley country was nothing but sagebrush. Today, as the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation celebrates its golden anniversary, the Yakima Valley is a half-million acres of the most fertile farm land in America. It is an area two-thirds the size of the state of Rhode Island.

The average farm in this area is only 80 acres. The fruit farms—where some of those big apples and pears come from—run 25 to 30 acres. Truck, grain and stock farms run 140 to 150 acres. Yields and profits as high as $200 an acre are common.

In 1910, shortly after the irrigation works were begun, population of Yakima and Benton Counties was only 28,000. Today it is 187,000 and still growing.

The experience of one Yakima homesteader may be taken as typical. In 1947, John H. Burns, his wife and two children settled near Roza in a GI tent they bought for $30. The first year they spent $2,800—of which $1,700 went for machinery—and showed a profit of only $90.

They borrowed $1,000 for materials that went into a house they built with their own hands. The second year they grossed $5,000 and showed a profit of about $1,200. The third year, on the same gross, they showed a profit of $2,000. Next year the profit was $2,500 on a $10,000 gross.

LITTLE LIZZY

The college boys' roids on the girls' dorms for lingerie must be another version of oeticoot fever.
Despite the terrible rolling of man and dog down that earthy cliff, despite their united fall, the dog held her grip.
They had struck upon a growth of scrub willow and pine which somewhat broke their fall. The man died instantly. His battered head rested upon a granite boulder.

Korean War Two Years Old With No Solution In Sight

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Korean War is two years old Wednesday. No one any more in a responsible position is offering a quick solution for ending it. Nor is anyone predicting the outcome.

The invasion of South Korea by the North Korean Communists began like a stone dropped in a quiet pool. The ripples still are widening. And Russia, which watched like a fat fox, may have outfoxed itself. And maybe not.

For a year the Korean War has been less than full-scale, although men have died daily. In this year of no grand ground offensives both sides had pecked away, holding positions, while their truce teams talked of an armistice.

No Truce In Sight
No armistice is in sight. For the last three months in this year of the epic talkathon, the conversations have stalled on one issue: exchange of prisoners. Yet, neither side seems anxious to stop talking.

Neither wants responsibility for what follows the end of talking: start of big war again.

In this last year the American Air Force has worked steadily behind the enemy lines to prevent a buildup. But the Chinese have managed to build. They are credited now with being stronger than before the talks began.

This country and its allies talk confidently of being able to stop anything the Chinese throw at them. They have used the year to rebuild forces, too. They do not talk of crushing the Chinese.

Perhaps Russian War
They might be able to do so if they were willing to pay the price: far greater casualties; perhaps years of fighting in the heart of Asia, which would drain them; and perhaps war with Russia and start of World War III if Russia moved in to help the Chinese openly.

Crushing China couldn't be done without far more men and supplies than the Allies have been willing to put into Korea, since they need them for defense against Russia in Europe, in case Russia attacks there.

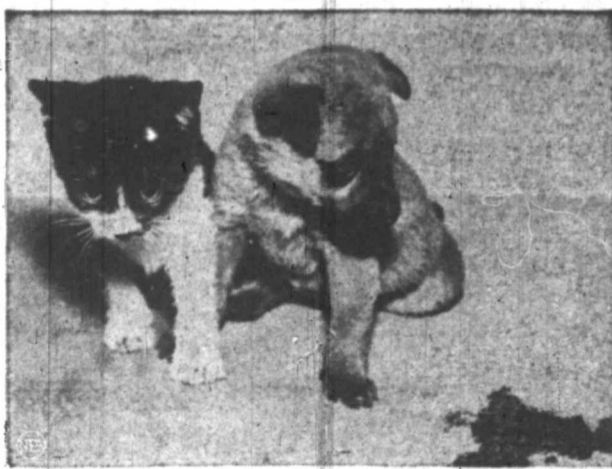

So Russia has the Allies guessing, and has had from the beginning of the Korean shooting. But the shooting started far more than the Russians probably bargained for.

Korea Starting Point
Korea was a starting point for the U. S. and UN. The arms program began in earnest. So did the Atlantic Pact. So did the rearming of Europe, the end of the war with Germany and the decision to let Germany join the European Army.

Japan was allowed full sovereignty again, with freedom to rearm, while the U. S. was allowed to use Japan as a military base. The U. S. poured money and supplies into the war against communism in Indonesia.

In short, two years ago Russia faced a completely divided and helpless Europe, and a defensible Asia. Europe still is far from ready for a war with Russia but it has made progress in two years. And communism in Asia hasn't tried any new adventures in two years.

Eichelberger Comes Out For Eisenhower

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, (ret), top aide to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the occupation of Japan, has voiced his support for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

Interviewed by the Asheville Citizen at his home here Sunday, Eichelberger also criticized aspects of the role played in politics by his old chief, MacArthur.

Eichelberger, 66, and retired since December, 1948, said he had reached his decision to support Eisenhower after "traveling extensively for eight months and talking to thousands of people." Eichelberger added:

"When one talks personally to farmers, to electricians, and to technicians—the men who constitute the great backbone of the country—one finds an unusual sentiment for Eisenhower and for no other Republican."

There was no immediate comment from MacArthur in New York City on Eichelberger's interview.

MacArthur, who will deliver the keynote speech at the Republican National Convention next month, is supporting Senator Robert A. Taft for the nomination.

Eichelberger, who commanded the Eighth Army in the Pacific during part of the war and after, discussed MacArthur's presidential aspirations years back.

MacArthur, he declared, had not always considered it a "tragic development" to elect a military man as President.

In 1947, Eichelberger said, MacArthur told him he hoped Eisenhower would remove himself as a presidential possibility and declare for MacArthur in 1948. MacArthur was quoted as saying he then would step aside for Eisenhower in 1952.

Eichelberger said antagonism toward Eisenhower may have caused MacArthur to change his mind about the desirability of a military man as President.

To Three Volumes
In the interview, Eichelberger referred frequently to three volumes he said were his daily journals.

He said he knew "at first hand General MacArthur's hopes of being selected as a presidential nominee in 1944 and 1948."

Eichelberger said that early in 1948 he received an offer to do some writing, and:

"He (MacArthur) asked me to write the editor . . . to wait until the final determination was made as to whether he (MacArthur) was to be selected as the GOP nominee for President.

"If he were nominated, I was to stand ready to take his place as supreme commander, Allied Powers, and he would be available for selection on the floor of the convention."

Adlai Stevenson Undergoes Surgery
CHICAGO—(AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois underwent an operation for removal of a kidney stone Saturday but is expected to resume his full schedule of official and political business by Tuesday.

Despite his ailment, Stevenson, a Democratic presidential possibility, has had to cancel but one speech in his professed campaign "only for reelection as governor of Illinois."

The governor delivered a commencement address in Chicago just before entering Passavant Hospital for the operation. The surgeon, Dr. Leander W. Riba, said Stevenson should be able to leave the hospital by Tuesday. A member of the governor's staff said Stevenson still plans to attend a conference of governors at Houston, Texas, next week.

Soviet-Led Police Release 45 Kidnaped West Germans

HELMSTEDT, GERMANY—(AP)—British soldiers backed up reinforced West German police at a disputed frontier point near here Monday in defiance of Communist keep-away orders following the kidnaping of 48 West German workmen.

The workmen, seized Sunday by Russian-led East German Volkspolizei (people's police) as the Westerners dismantled a railroad spur, were released without explanation early Monday. Ten other workers had fled the seizure, escaping without injury under a hail of Red bullets.

The kidnaping occurred at the little town of Helmstedt, a few miles from Helmstedt, in a 500-yard-deep pocket of territory which was part of the Soviet zone state of Saxony-Anhalt but was given to West Germany when the East-West zonal border was established.

Following the incident, armed Volkspolizei warned the West German border police to stay out of the pocket, but the Western police brought up reinforcements and, with a detail of 12 British soldiers, took up their regular patrol at the East-West frontier.

The Communists then made no effort to halt the Western patrol. The kidnaped workers said after their release they had not been mistreated but had been exhaustively questioned by Russian officers and the East German police.

The kidnaped workers said they had crossed the zonal frontier, but gave no explanation for releasing them.

57 Of 300 Escaped Convicts Surrounded
SAO PAULO, BRAZIL—(AP)—Brazilian police closed in Monday on an armed band of 57 of the almost 300 convicts who escaped last Friday for Anchieta Island prison. Thirty-seven others were reported still at large and hiding out, but without weapons and ammunition.

State Secretary for Security Elpidio Real, who returned by plane Sunday night from an inspection of Anchieta, said these were all of the escaped men still at large. He said order was restored on the penal island Saturday after many of the prisoners who fled were captured or gave themselves up.

Hunger and cold forced some to surrender. Others were believed to have drowned during the break to the mainland three-thirds of a mile away.

In the break Friday, 17 guards and workers at the prison were killed in the bloody fighting.

Whiskey And Wine Ceilings Removed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Price ceilings have been removed from package and bulk whiskey and wine. But since they are selling far below ceilings, the government doesn't expect this action to bring any price changes.

The same forecast was made by the Office of Price Stabilization Sunday in lifting ceilings from many cotton drygoods, hides and leather, and burlap and cotton bags.

The cotton goods decontrol applies to manufacturers' prices on sheets, pillow cases, towels, bedspreads, napkins, tablecloths, diapers, blankets, thread, twine and cordage. The leather order covers wholesale prices.

Extension Voted For Syngman Rhee Term

PUSAN, KOREA—(AP)—Supporters of President Syngman Rhee in the Korean National Assembly Monday voted to retain him in office until a new president is elected. Anti-Rhee forces boycotted the Assembly session.

The vote was 60 to 0, with 37 assemblymen present not voting.

The Assembly, operating under the shadow of martial law proclaimed by Rhee, was scheduled to have elected a new president Monday.

Instead it set August 15 as the formal date for ending Rhee's term. But if no successor is named, the 77-year-old president could stay in office indefinitely.

Normally Rhee would have gone out of office July 24. The Assembly selected August 15 because he did not assume full powers until Aug. 15, 1948, when the republic accepted sovereignty from the American military government.

Telephone work is a family affair for the Kincys of Dallas. D. W. Kincy (center) started it when he went to work for the telephone company back in 1898. Now retired, Mr. Kincy has seen two sons follow in his footsteps—Harrell (right), with 20 years of service, and Dan (left), 9 years with the company.

ONE FAMILY—five telephone careers

A THIRD GENERATION OF KINCYS is now making a career in the telephone business. Dan's sons, Dan, Jr., (left) and Richard (right), heard so much at home about the advantages and opportunities in telephone work that they applied for jobs as soon as they were old enough. Both are telephone installers, and, at present, are on leave from their jobs, serving in the Army.

FUTURE "VOICES WITH A SMILE"? There's good reason to believe the number of Kincy telephone careers will grow. Harrell Kincy's daughters, 13-year-old Sandra (left) and 9-year-old Karen (right), expect to follow the Kincy family tradition as operators. Collectively, the Kincys look back with satisfaction on 80 years of telephone work—and look ahead to many more.

WHY HAS GENERATION AFTER GENERATION of Texas families like the Kincys chosen life-long careers in the telephone business? To begin with, it's important and interesting work—this job of supplying the world's best telephone service. It is an up-from-the-ranks business with good pay and plenty of opportunity for ambitious men and women to get ahead—the kind of career telephone people urge their children to carry on.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Pull The String

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was fast asleep on his back on the grass. His legs were crossed. A string was tied to his big toe. The string went down and into a pool of water where Mugwump had planned to catch a fish. If a fish bit at the bait on the end of the line, you know, the string would jerk. It would jerk at Mugwump's toe. He would know to pull the fish out of the water before it got away.

All around was the warm, fresh air of Spring. The sun was warm. The sunlight was golden. Mugwump was fast asleep sure enough, except for an eye that came open and shut again, every few minutes or so. Open and look, and shut again. Closed awhile, and then open and look and shut again. Was he looking to see if a fish were pulling on the string that was tied to his toe? Oh no. He would feel the string if a fish jerked it. He was looking to see what he could see, because sometimes—uh—oh. He saw somebody. The somebody was Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend. He had peeped from behind a tree to smile at Mugwump. He thought Mugwump was asleep.

Mugwump decided. Yes, and now Daddy Ringtail was slipping closer. Daddy Ringtail could hear him. Daddy Ringtail was going to try to play a trick. Mugwump decided. Daddy Ringtail was going to pull on the string for Mugwump to think that a fish was pulling it.

"Quick!" shouted Daddy Ringtail of a sudden. "Mugwump! A fish! A fish! Pull him out!" Sure enough, with these very words, the string on Mugwump's toe began to jerk and pull like a fish was doing it. "Quick, Mugwump!" Daddy Ringtail shouted again.

On July 7 and 21, Republicans and Democrats respectively will hold national conventions in Chicago. Delegates of both parties will battle for the biggest prize in politics—the Presidential candidacy. Floating banners, favorite-son parades, feasting oratory and conference-room whispers will play upon their passions and prejudices. But whatever the outcome, it will have been determined by ballots—not bullets. Today begins the story of 19 of the most exciting and significant ballot battles in America's turbulent political history.

Violence occasioned the first convention. In 1826, New Yorker William Morgan declared he would publish Freemasonry secrets. Soon after, a body believed to be Morgan's floated down the Niagara River. Late citizens, suspecting the Masons, formed a political party, "The Anti-Masons." In 1830 they met at Philadelphia and nominated William Wirt—a Mason!

Eisenhower Wins Texans' Hearts, If Not Ballots, On 'Sentimental Journey'

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
DALLAS — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower won Texas hearts. But whether he made political capital on his 24-hour visit to the state of his birth remained debatable Monday.

Henry Zweifel, national Republican committeeman from Texas and chief of the forces backing Senator Robert Taft for the GOP Presidential nomination, quickly criticized the general's every word with long-range shots from Fort Worth.

But in the realm of human relations—where the heart lies—Eisenhower won another personal victory and remained the conquering hero he has been since his Allied forces broke Hitler's Fortress Europe.

As he left his hotel here Sunday to catch a plane for Hoover Dam, there were ohs and ahs and feminine squeals when he walked across the lobby and left through a side door.

The general made a 10-minute radio and television appearance here Saturday night and held a lengthy press conference Sunday morning. But the most effective appearance followed the radio-TV show.

Down-To-Earth Friendliness
With all the earnestness, all the sincerity, warmth and down-to-earth friendliness one man possibly could muster, "Ike" captured the hearts of his audience. The people who saw Candidate Eisenhower on television and heard him on the radio would not have recognized the man who had been recognized in the past as the "Ike" of the off-the-cuff discussion of world peace and how it could be obtained.

He told his audience in that warm, off-the-air voice that if the United States brought its strength up to "military equilibrium" with Russia it then could spend for maintenance instead of build-up. That, he said, would allow us to cut the national budget in half—his proposed $40,000,000,000 cut.

When he finished the informal banquet chat on national defense and foreign relations, there was a spontaneous cheer rarely accorded a political candidate. Orville Bullington, State GOP chairman who still says he might vote for Taft, leaned in front of two other people at the speaker's stand to shake the general's hand. That well-publicized like grin probably had never made him so many friends in one swoop as this heart-to-heart talk.

No Third Party Ideas
Most politically significant statement of the Eisenhower Texas visit came at his news conference Sunday morning. He said emphatically that in 1952 he would not accept a Democratic nomination for President in the event the GOP turned him down, nor would he take part in any third-party movements.

Ike won other friends in Denison on his "sentimental journey" to the little white house where he was born down by the railroad tracks. People like Mrs. Monte Bales Jones, the Gold Star Mother of Bill Bales who died fighting for his country on Rendova Island, will never forget the day. It was Mrs. Jones whose invitation brought the general to Denison on the trip he made "to put myself on record as wanting justice and fair play in the party to which I belong."

On a trip to Denton, sandwiched between the Denison and Dallas visits, Eisenhower saw 6,000 cheering, sweltering citizens gathered on the city square. He captured them and threw his first punch of the Texas tour at the Taft forces. "If Americans are good citizens," he said, "there can be no steel of any kind of election anywhere."

Crowds followed the general everywhere. They waited at strategic spots for a glimpse of the familiar face and world-famed grin. Men smiled instinctively, it seemed. Women raised their voices. "Oh, there he is, God bless him," said one.

He said he came home from Europe so Americans could see "what makes me tick, what my convictions are, what I believe in. I have yet to ask one single person to vote for me. I shall not do it. If nominated after I have made myself as clear as I know how, there is enough support of a popular character to put it through. That is my stand."

But it was his foreign affairs discussion, which he summed up as "enlightened American self-interest" that really gave a bang to newsmen and other listeners in Dallas. If foreign aid is helpful to our friends, he said, it's helpful to America. He urged its continuance with "I want all the friends I can get."

And with his closing shot at reporters—"America is the hope of the world"—a serious Ike Eisenhower made more friends.

Carl Belliston of Washington and Dr. Raymond Barnes, St. Louis, in a formal statement commented: "The cases questioned have resulted from a difference of interpretation of . . . regulations. It is the unanimous opinion of the group that in the future when there is any difference in interpretation these bloods will be used only for plasma."

But William H. Cordell, dismissed administrator of Oklahoma's defense blood center, who made the original charges, complained, "It does not look like a very thorough investigation." He insisted the Public Health Service come to the blood center to look the situation over.

Saturday, the two investigators reported two "technical violations" of Red Cross regulations. The others, they said, were not clear-cut histories of malaria.

The investigators explained a medical advisory committee said it was convinced the errors were not likely to cause any soldier to have malaria.

Hopeful Politicos Plug Away In Spite Of Sweltering Heat

By The Associated Press

Political candidates plugged their merits to the citizenry in torrid Texas heat Monday and looked longingly at the calendar . . . the first Democratic Primary still was more than a month away. That first test comes July 26. But almost to a man they were expressing confidence in their campaigns, if they made any expression at all.

Candidate-for - Governor Ralph Yarborough was to speak at a Veteran of Foreign Wars state convention in Galveston Monday and follow it with another state-wide radio broadcast Monday night.

"Everywhere I went," Yarborough said of his recent tour of the state, "folks told me they are ready for a change. They are convinced Texas needs new, dynamic leadership now."

U. S. Senate Candidate E. W. Napier, after a campaign trip across West Texas, told The Associated Press: "After this campaign through West Texas it looks all right. People are interested in this program of mine. My foreign policy is attracting attention. I believe I have a good fighting chance to win."

Napier was to continue his campaign in Amarillo Monday and hit Rate Of Suicide In Hong Kong High

HONG KONG — (AP) — A Hong Kong newspaper said Monday three or four persons are committing suicide every day in this British colony because of unemployment and financial difficulties.

"Most-Wanted" of Them All!

It will probably occasion no surprise on your part to be told that the Cadillac car is the most wanted and sought-after automobile on the American highways.

But you might be surprised to learn how widespread the desire, to own this great motor car has become.

Statistics indicate, for instance, that there are more than twenty million motorists in America who would like to call a Cadillac their own. And were the whole of the world's motorists to be taken into consideration, this number would grow well-nigh beyond comprehension.

There is reason to believe, in fact, that Cadillac may be wanted by more people than any other product manufactured in America today. It might well be called the great desideratum of the American people.

Naturally, a motor car has to offer many wonderful things in order to occupy such a unique position in the hopes and aspirations of so many persons.

In order to be so universally accepted as the "car of cars," it has to be instantly recognizable as the "car of cars." And so, it has to offer—great beauty!

In order to have created so enduring an impression on so many motorists, it would also have to act like the "car of cars." And that means it must offer—brilliant performance!

In order to have become the logical ambition of so many millions, it would have to be practical to own, as well as wonderful to drive. And so, it would have to offer—extraordinary economy!

And finally, to be admired so highly by so many, it would have to offer wonderful prestige! On every street and highway in the world, it would have to be a testimonial to the taste and standing of the person at its wheel.

If this sounds like the description of the car that you, yourself, would like to own and drive, then come in and see us—soon.

Perhaps the time has come for you to join the hundreds of thousands of motorists who have stopped wanting a Cadillac—and started enjoying one!

We'd be happy to see you any time.

Midland Plays Vernon Bargain Bill Monday

8—THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1952

Yogi Berra's Bat Keeps Yanks Atop

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

Larry (Yogi) Berra's ability to fill the departed Joe DiMaggio's shoes is the big reason why the New York Yankees are winging their way to their fourth successive American League pennant.

The slugging catcher, off to a ragged start due to a hand injury, has been hotter than 100 degrees in the dugout during the last two weeks. As a result, the Yankees have swept past both Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox into first place.

In the last 14 games, Berra has hammered 10 home runs, driven in 20 of his team's 68 runs and personally accounted for eight of their nine victories. That's reminiscent of DiMaggio at his best.

It was a four-bagger by Berra

Sunday that snapped a six-inning scoreless duel between Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox and Bob Kuzava of the Yankees and gave him the home run leadership of the league at 14. The Yankees went on to win the opener, 3-0. They lost the second, 2-1, but retained their two-game lead when the fourth-place Indians swept a twin bill from the Red Sox, 7-0 and 5-4.

White Sox Next

The split also proved a boon to the White Sox, who jumped into second place, a half game in front of the Red Sox and Indians.

The second half of the American League remained unchanged as all four teams divided doubleheaders. The Washington Senators jumped off to an 8-3 first game victory but the St. Louis Browns came back with a 3-2 win. Detroit took a hard-fought 12-inning, 4-3 decision from Philadelphia but the Athletics bounced back with a 9-0 triumph.

Rain cut the National League activity in half, forcing the postponement of the scheduled doubleheader between Chicago and the Giants in New York and the single affair in Brooklyn between Pittsburgh and the Dodgers.

Cards Win Pair

Airtight harling by Southpaw Al Brazle and Harry Brecheen gave the St. Louis Cardinals a pair of 7-2 victories over the Boston Braves while Cincinnati and Philadelphia split. The Reds copped the opener, 5-3, and the Phillies prevailed, 3-0, in the nightcap.

Blanked by Kuzava with two singles in the opener, the White Sox regained their winning ways in the second game when Mary Grissom outpitched the Yankees' Bill Miller. Eddie Robinson's two-out single in the eighth followed by Sperm Lollar's run-scoring double, broke a 1-1 tie and gave Chicago its thirteenth victory in the last 17 games.

Steve Gromek hurled a two-hit shutout for the Indians over Boston in the first game of their twin bill. A 48-minute delay because of rain caused Gromek's shoulder to tighten and Mickey Harris finished his shutout with a scoreless ninth inning.

The Midland Indians will attempt to make a budding three-game win streak blossom into five here Monday night when they take on the Vernon Oilers in a twin-bill, starting at 7 p.m.

One of the games will be a make-up of the scheduled Sunday contest which was called off because of the heat.

In an effort to keep the Tribe on the win path, Manager Zeke Bonura will call on two of his top hurlers, Israel Ten (6-5), and Keith Nicolls (11-5) to go on the mound.

Vernon Manager Pat McLaughlin is expected to send Al Richardson (3-2) to the hill in one of the contests with the other hurler's name to be announced at game time.

Members of the Little League teams here, 192 in all, will parade onto the playing field between the games in their classy uniforms. Bonura will hit infield practice to two selected infields out of the group.

Following the doubleheader here Monday night, the Indians again will hit the road for six games. They will play three games at Artesia, starting Tuesday night and finish up with three games with Rowell before returning home.

Rockets Explode In Eighth Inning To Trip Up Broncs, 7-4

BIG SPRING—(AP)—The Rowell Rockets exploded for seven runs in the eighth inning to defeat the Big Spring Broncs, 7-4, here Sunday afternoon.

Andres Alonso survived early shakiness to pick up his seventh win of the campaign. The loss went to Armas Arencibia, who was looking for his eighth win and instead accepted his sixth reversal.

The eighth inning started innocently enough, Ed Feneion reaching first base on a bad throw by Witty Quintana. The Rockets then proceeded to shell Arencibia from the hill before he could retire a man. Five base hits, coupled with a two-run bobbie by Al Costa and a walk to Alonso, gave the Rockets their runs.

Bertie Baez came in to finish the mound chores for Big Spring.

The Steeds picked up a run in the second on a walk to Pat Stasey and hits by Costa and Al Valdes. They added another in the fourth on Stasey's double and a one-baser off the bat of Arencibia.

The resident nine doubled its run output in the sixth on a bobbie by Stubby Greer and safeties by Buddy Grimes and Costa.

The leading sticker was Rowell's Bobby Lemmel, who had singles in his last appearances at bat.

Tyler Golfer Wins Paltersider Tourney

SEQUIN—(AP)—A Tyler golfer, Jack Wilkerson, defeated Bob Agnew of Ballinger, 3 and 2, Sunday to win the 12th annual State Left-Handed Golf Tournament.

Nipal Stair of Luling took the consolation championship by whipping Col. Cal Upton of Fort San Houston, San Antonio.

Bauman Swals Pair As Artesia Edges Odessa Oilers, 4-3

ARTESIA—(AP)—Huge Joe Bauman cracked out two home runs here Sunday night to lead the Artesia Drillers to a 4-3 win over the Odessa Oilers.

Bauman and Paul Halter, who blasted a solo homer for the winners in the fifth, did all the scoring and accounted for all the Artesia runs driven in as the Drillers dumped Odessa for the second straight night.

The two roundtrippers by Bauman were his twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth of the year as he lengthened his Longhorn League lead in that department.

Halter led off with his homer to dead center in the Artesia fifth, and Bauman followed him up with a similar blast to left center.

In the seventh, Halter had walked when the big Artesia first sacker lifted a towering blow over the right field wall.

Bob Pressley, who needed help from Rooster Mills in the eighth, scattered 10 hits in seven innings to take the win. Louis Ortiz went the distance in losing.

Felix Castro singled in Leo Eastham with Odessa's first run in the second. Manager Bob Martin, who had singled, tried to score from second on the blow and was tossed out at the plate. Eastham had led off with a double.

Singles by Eastham, Charlie Weber and Castro gave the visitors a second tally in the sixth.

Lefty Loyka hand singled and moved to third when Eastham singled to chase Pressley from the mound in the eighth. Mills came in and induced Martin to hit into a double play with Loyka scoring.

Russell Snuffs Out Braves Rally; Colts Score 9-8 Victory

SWEETWATER—(AP)—The San Angelo Colts snapped a 4-6 tie with a three run outburst in the top of the ninth inning and cut a Sweetwater rally short of the mark to rack up a 9-8 victory here Sunday.

Singles by Steve Follett, Mark Christman, Tony Guerrero, Lou Lozano and a double by Johnny Tayan accounted for the three San Angelo runs in the final frame.

The Braves attempted to rally when the first three batters up in the bottom of the ninth hit safely. But Cotton Russell, who relieved Lozano in the ninth left the potential being run on third base by forcing Finch Hitter Alec Carrasquel to pop up to Billy Carmona. Sweetwater had tied it up, 6-6, in the seventh on a pinch hit single by Gus Ungo after Louis Sures and Tony Traspuesto had singled ahead of him.

Tayan's three-run homer put the Colts into a 4-0 lead in the first inning.

Charlie Tuttle of Sweetwater smashed his thirteenth and fourteenth home runs of the season. Tuttle clouted a two-run round tripper in the third and led off with a home run in the ninth.

The Braves and Colts will play a doubleheader at Sweetwater Monday night, first game beginning at 6:30.

Odessans Nudge JayCees, 9 To 6

The Midland JayCees were edged, 9-6, by Odessa there Sunday in a semi-professional baseball game.

The score was 1-0 in Odessa's favor at the end of the second, but by the last half of the fourth, Midland had surged ahead, 4 to 1. Odessa was back in the lead, 9-4, by the end of the seventh.

Midland used three hurlers—Bill Medart, Rikil, and Ralph Easterwood.

Medart was the heavy hitter for Midland, getting two for four. He got a single to bring in one run and slammed out a home run to bring in another runner ahead of him.

Chaney was on the mound for Odessa, striking out 13 Midlanders.

The JayCees will be in action again at 8 p.m. Thursday when they tangle with Big Spring here.

Texas Loop's First Negro Pays Dividends For Dallas

By The Associated Press

Dick Burnett, who threw his money around trying to win a Texas League pennant and couldn't make it, brought in the first negro to ever play in the circuit. That may do it.

Dave Hoskins, the tall young fellow who has been packing them in from one end of the league to the other, Sunday night won his eleventh pitching victory of the season. He twirled a two-hitter as Dallas licked Houston, 6-0, in the second game of a doubleheader to stay two games ahead of the field.

Not only is Dave pitching the Eagles toward a pennant but he's making the turnstiles click. Sunday night, for instance, he had 8,508 in the stands. It's typical of a Hoskins night.

Houston won the first game from Dallas, 2-1, as Octavio Robert pitched a four-hitter and Joe Kotzany of the Eagles was entirely too wild. The Buffs edged into second place. Beaumont pushed into third place by clipping Oklahoma City twice.

The Roughnecks bastered 28 hits—14 in each game—in clubbing the Indians, 10-5 and 8-3.

San Antonio whipped Fort Worth, 5-3, to knock the Cats into a tie with Oklahoma City for fourth.

Tulsa and Shreveport split a doubleheader. Tulsa won the first game, 4-3, as Bob Wellman hit a home run in the sixth. Shreveport took the nightcap, 9-4.
