Standard Finds Floyd Discovery For 188 BOPD

Standard Oil Company of Texas has filed potential test forms with the Railroad Commission of Texas for No. 1 Minnie Adams, discovery from an unidentified lime in Central-South Floyd County.

Operator reported a calculated 24-hour flow of 188 barrels of 28-gravity oil and no water through a 5/8-inch choke and from open hole at 7,900-7,784 feet.

Pay was topped at 7,594 feet, elevation 3,123 feet.

Open hole had been treated with a total of 7,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 1.160-1.

This discovery and new field operator is 1,380 feet from west and 790 feet from north lines of section 32, P. D. Adams survey. It is eight miles southeast of Floyd.

According to unofficial information, operator now is making plans for an offset to No. 1 Adams. No location has been released.

Buffalo Gets Good Oil Show In San Andres At Ector Wildcat

Buffalo Oil Company has a new producer in sight from the San Andres-Permian lime at its No. 1-B, A. H. S. Foster and others, Southwest Ector County wildcat.

This prospect is one and three-quarter miles southeast of the nearest production from the San Andres on the southwest side of the South Cowden field.

Logged 50 Feet Of Pay

It logged about 50 feet of pay above 4,726 feet. The project was drilled on down to 4,768 feet and it encountered some water in the section between 4,726 feet and 4,768 feet.

Operator has now plugged back to 4,726 feet and will acidize the pay above that point and test. Interested observers think it has a good chance to make an oil well from that zone.

On Farmout Lease

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 690 feet from west lines of section 11, block 42, T-3-S, T&P survey.

The wildcat is on a lease secured by Buffalo in a farmout deal with British-American Oil Producing Company. It is seven miles southwest of Odessa.

Sinclair To Drill To 11,500-Foot Level At Ector Wildcat

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company is to start drilling in the near future at its No. 1 David Faaken, which is scheduled to be an 11,500-foot wildcat in extreme Northeast Ector County.

Drill site is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 11, block 41, T-1-S, T&P survey. The projected destination of 11,500 feet is expected to take it through the Pennsylvania time.

East of Brill Prospect

The prospect is six miles east of V. A. Brill No. 1 Faaken, now coring below 13,836 feet in barren Ellenburger.

The Brill wildcat has indicated possibilities of being completed as a discovery from several sections.

Sinclair No. 1 Faaken is 11 miles northeast of Odessa, 18 miles northwest of Midland. It is one-half of a mile west of the Midland County line and four miles south of the Andrews County line.

Number Of Rigs Still Dropping In Permian Basin

The CIO United Steelworkers strike now in its forty-fourth day, continues to paralyze drilling operations in the Midland area.

The Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico, of which Midland is the headquarters city, had 566 rotary rigs in operation July 10, as compared to the 653 drilling June 25. One year ago there were 595 rotary rigs going.

The Sprberry Trend lost but one unit during the above two-week period, but that area is expected to show a sharper drop as tubular goods continue to be tied up by the steel strike.

Lea Still High

Lea County, N. M., which takes in the largest portion of the west side of the Permian Basin, has not felt the pipe shortage to the extent of other counties in the area covered by the Reed Rolla Pitt Company's semi-monthly survey. As of July 10 (Continued On Page Ten)

Voters' Guides In Mail

Voters' Guides — one for each Midland County resident who paid his poll tax — were mailed Tuesday.

More than 14,000 Midlanders are qualified voters this year, and in order for each to receive his Voters' Guide, members of the Midland League of Women Voters, guide sponsors, had to put in extra hours to provide the non-partisan information contained in the guide.

The guide pertaining to state candidates was prepared by the state office of the League of Women Voters and forwarded to Midland. It was necessary for Midland members to fold the guides, four folds per guide, before folding the Midland guides, three folds per guide. Then to complete the process, the Midland women addressed the Midland guides, inserted state guides and stapled them for mailing. All this was done after the Midlanders had assembled the information on the Midland candidates and prepared it for the printers.

Free Of Charge

The project was accomplished under the direction of Mrs. Richard B. Dorn, voters' service chairman. Members of her committee worked five days and three nights in order to get the guides to the voters in time for them to be studied before the July 26 Democratic primary.

There is no charge for the guides. Citizens contribute to the league each year during its finance campaign to help defray the expenses of this and similar projects.

The Midland League of Women Voters is said to be the only local league in Texas which mails guides to the voters.

1,188 From Texas To Get Draft Calls During September

AUSTIN — (P) — A September draft call for 1,188 Texans was announced Tuesday by State Selective Service headquarters.

Quotas for boards will be mailed next week, said Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director.

Men 20 or older will be used to fill the September quota, with Texas able to furnish around 400 who will be 21 or older, state headquarters estimated.

September's call of 1,188 compares with an August draft of 1,129. The September quota last year was only 619.

Texan Asks Tidelands Plank For Democrats

FORT WORTH — (P) — A plank in the Democratic platform to return the Tidelands to the states was requested Tuesday by Congressman Wingate Lucas in a telegram to Rep. John W. McCormack, chairman of the Democratic Convention.

Lucas said he was asking all Texas congressmen to send similar messages.

Increased August Demand For Texas Crude Reported

AUSTIN — (P) — A 71,075 barrel-a-day increase in advance purchaser demand for Texas crude oil in August was reported by the Railroad Commission Tuesday.

Nominations for next month totaled 2,337,374 barrels a day, almost 300,000 barrels more than the average daily allowable of last Saturday.

The commission also reported a Bureau of Mines forecast of demand for Texas crude totaling 2,900,000 barrels a day for August, up 10,000 barrels from the forecast for July.

Whether the commission will grant these requests after hearing testimony at Thursday's state-wide

Hot, Cold Running Rumors Pinpoint Democratic Meet

By BELMAN MORIN

CHICAGO — (P) — A great many Democrats were busy talking, tacking up signs, making predictions and generally building up a full head of steam Tuesday for the presidential nominating convention that opens next week.

This is a multi-candidate convention, wide as the great open spaces.

Consequently, it is full of question marks, hot and cold running rumors, speculation and boldness.

About the only points of agreement among candidates and supporters are that:

1. Nobody is going to be named on the first ballot, or even on an "early" ballot. Some guesses on roll calls range up to 10.
2. Senator Estes Kefauver, the tall man from Tennessee, will start out in front.

3. Somebody is going to get a powerful lift from President Truman and all the candidates are looking hopefully toward the White House for a sign in the sky.

If the President has glanced with interest in the direction of any of the several front-runners, there is no indication of it here. The most any of the various camps can announce is that Truman isn't opposed to their man.

Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, a brief visitor at the convention city Monday night, said he is certain "the President is not against me."

Senator Richard B. Russell's campaign manager, Senator Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado, told newsmen Tuesday that he did not know what passed between them.

And Kefauver's campaign commander, Gael Sullivan, ridiculed the suggestion that either the President or the Democratic Party leaders are opposed to Kefauver.

"Pure nonsense put out by his opponents," said Sullivan.

Russell's camp says he has 300 convention votes—it takes 616 to win the nomination—and a solid bloc of Southern support. It will increase, Senator Johnson said, to the winning point "around the tenth ballot—or rather, I'll say the last ballot."

Sullivan told this reporter he wouldn't be "mousetrapped into discussing an estimate of Kefauver's delegate strength or when the Tennessee will see the winning number."

"That's people did that right up to the convention," Sullivan recalled. "They had 550, and 590 and 603—and look what happened."

"I'll just say that Estes has a tide of support coming his way," Senator Kerr, sitting on the edge of a hotelroom bed, told some reporters he has a minimum of 150 first-ballot votes, and said, "I wouldn't trade my chances with anyone... Fact is, I'm going to be nominated."

Headquarters have been established for W. Averell Harriman of New York, director of the Mutual Security Administration.

Harriman, Barkley, Russell and Kefauver are the leading contenders at this point in the view of Frank McKinney, chairman of the National Committee. He agreed with the general opinion that it is a wide-open race. McKinney arrived Monday night.

Meanwhile, the surprisingly durable and long-lived rumors about Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois still were haunting the corridors of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, central arena for all the pre-convention hubbub.

Stevenson says, virtually every hour on the hour, that he doesn't want the nomination. There is a report that the President no longer is trying to persuade him; another is that Jacob Arvey, of Chicago, one of the original and most emphatic backers of the governor, also has decided not to press him any further.

Kefauver and Russell were expected in Chicago late Tuesday to take personal charge of their operations. The others will be here later in the week.

Destroyer, Shore Batteries Tangle; Three Texans Hurt

WASHINGTON — (P) — The Navy reported Tuesday the destroyer Southern II was hit four times in a duel with enemy shore batteries off Korea's east coast Sunday. Eight enlisted crewmen received "minor injuries." Three of the wounded were Texans.

The announcement said that most of the injured "presumably returned to duty."

During the 24-minute battle, more than 200 rounds of five-inch shells were poured onto Communist gun emplacements, silencing five of the seven shore batteries.

The destroyer returned to the firing line three hours after receiving the hit.

This was the second time the Southern II had duelled with enemy shore batteries. The first engagement was during the Inchon lands in 1950.

The Navy issued a list of crewmen who were injured, ranks not immediately available. It included: J. Layman, Comanche, Texas; J. R. Gomez, Gallup, N. M.; C. C. Shuffler, Houston; U. G. Salvo, Santa Fe, N. M.; T. J. Cates, Athens, Texas.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON — (P) — In a move aimed at checking the spread of industrial idleness, the government Tuesday freed for civilian use all steel not needed by the military.

LONDON — (P) — Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons Tuesday, in reply to demands for an investigation of Dr. Hewlett Johnson, that the Red Dean of Canterbury had to be tolerated as a part of the price of free speech.

CHICAGO — (P) — Gael Sullivan, campaign manager for Senator Estes Kefauver, charged Tuesday that backers of other Democratic candidates are "ganging up" to stop Kefauver from winning the party's nomination for President.

PARIS — (P) — South Africa's Bobby Locke, the new British Open titlist, Tuesday added the French Open golf title to his list of trophies with a score of 268, the lowest score ever turned in for the event.

U. S. Stops Red Embassy Publications

WASHINGTON — (P) — The State Department Tuesday ordered the Russian Embassy to quit publishing and distributing pamphlets in the United States.

A department statement announcing this said the U. S. was suspending publication of a Russian-language magazine called "America," which it had been distributing in Russia.

It said the twin actions were taken because the Russians were obstructing distribution of "America" in the Soviet Union.

In halting the "America" project, the department gave up operations on the last remaining wedge into the Iron Curtain.

A spokesman said the slick-paper magazine was so popular in the Soviet Union that newstands sold out all copies within a few hours after they went on sale wherever the Russian government did not interfere.

Second-hand copies sometimes were sold on the black market at many times the original price of 10 rubles.

The suspension action was taken, the department said, because of "progressive restriction" by Russian authorities against "America," a lavishly-illustrated monthly patterned after Life Magazine.

Pioneer Stanton Hotelwoman Dies

Mrs. Georgia Zimmerman, 76, pioneer hotel owner-operator of Stanton, died Monday afternoon in a Midland hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church of Stanton, with interment to follow in a Stanton cemetery.

Mrs. Zimmerman had operated the Zimmerman Hotel of Stanton the last 34 years, and was well-known throughout this section of West Texas.

Survivors include two sons, Morris of Monahans, who formerly was Martin County sheriff, and Jim Zimmerman of Pecos; a daughter, Mrs. Ellison Tom of Midland; and nine grandchildren, James Zimmerman of Midland, Ellison Tom, Jr., of Andrews, Mrs. Bob Stockstill of Monahans, Mrs. Rose Belle Cherry of Midland, Hardin Zimmerman of Henderson, Sue Zimmerman of Monahans, Billy Jack Zimmerman of the U. S. Army, and James and Barbara Tom of Midland. Two great-grandchildren also survive.

Mrs. Zimmerman had been hospitalized six months.

Grave Threat Of Revolution Deters Stalin

BONN, GERMANY — (P) — A bushy-haired Russian, described by American officials as the "most knowledgeable" civilian deserter to the West in recent years, told a news conference Tuesday he does not believe there will be any major war for several years.

But if "international dissensions between the Western nations ever become serious enough to give the Soviets the advantage," he warned, Stalin would not hesitate to throw his troops into war.

The Russian is 32-year-old Eugeny Volchansky, an engineer who worked six months in East Germany as the official Soviet representative at a factory before he escaped to the West with the aid of friendly Germans. He has applied for political asylum.

"Stalin desires others to fight for his objects," said Volchansky. "If he decides, however, that a favorable time for war has come, he will then use Soviet troops."

"The idea of war is completely repugnant to the Russian people," he said, but added:

"I believe that Russians would fight if they were convinced that they were again defending their homeland. And because the Soviets have the greatest propaganda apparatus known to man, it is highly conceivable that they could be so convinced."

Volchansky told the news conference that one deterrent to the Soviets' starting a shooting war "is the fact that revolution within the U. S. S. R. would be possible under war conditions."

Active Resistance Cited

"Today, revolution is unthinkable because of the entanglement of interests exercised over the people. In wartime, a disturbed and resentful people would be able to liberate themselves upon receiving arms."

If a cold war lasts and a hot war is averted, there is a long-range possibility that revolution without war can occur in the Soviet Union, Volchansky said, adding:

"This can only happen if the people can organize themselves; find adequate leadership; run frightful risks and arm themselves."

He reported active resistance to the Moscow regime among both the military and civilian population in the Soviet Union and in Communist-run East Germany.

As an example, he said industry and transport leaders "make phony attempts to fulfill industrial plans. Workers have become skilled at stealing parts from nearby assembly lines and claiming they made them, thus cutting down on total production."

Steel Mills, Union Renew Peace Talks

PITTSBURGH — (P) — New steel strike peace talks resumed at Tuesday with industry and the CIO United Steelworkers in disagreement but standing by for word from the White House.

Texas Crop Harvest Increase Is Forecast

AUSTIN — (P) — Texas stands to harvest seven per cent more acreage planted to crops this year than last — weather and insects permitting.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Saturday 26.3 million acres of crops for harvest were estimated on July 1. Last year's acreage totaled 24.5 million.

Mayor, Council Honor City Secretary J. C. Hudman For 25 Years Of Service

By COPE ROUTH

City Secretary J. C. Hudman picked up his familiar notebook Monday afternoon, grabbed a handful of pencils and stepped into the big room adjoining his office for a hastily-summoned meeting of the City Council.

He adjusted his chair at the big table, spread open his notebook and prepared to take down the minutes of another meeting of the city fathers.

He glanced around the room, a little puzzled as he watched Mayor Perry Pickett and Councilmen Johnny Starr, J. B. McCoy, Ray O. Howard and J. T. Baker sitting there with the innocent solemnity of a cat who has just polished off a canary.

And in the seats beyond the table were the other department heads and old friends staring at every point in the room except at the city secretary.

Then he moved discreetly back as the mayor arose.

"Usually we meet here," said Pickett, "to wrangle over city problems and listen to the complaints of our citizens."

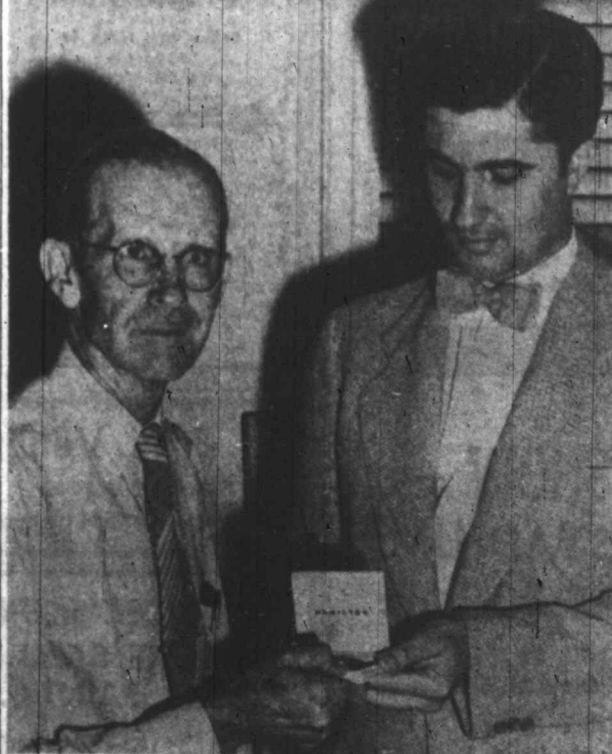

"But today we are met for a far happier occasion."

"Twenty-five years ago a smiling young man went to work for the City of Midland..."

A quarter of a century it had been.

Midland was a tiny city of some 5,000 residents and 31-year-old J. C. Hudman was working as a bookkeeper in The First National Bank.

A native of Panola County, he had attended high school at Jacksonville and then started to work as a rural mail carrier outside of Carthage, driving a horse and buggy over the muddy hills of East Texas. He handled the cotton accounts and after several bad crops, the bank found itself broke and Hudman found himself out of a job.

So he came to Midland and was hired by the late Marvin C. Ulmer of The First National Bank.

At the end of the first month, Hudman heard that the city secretary had resigned and he applied to Ulmer, who also was a city alderman, for the job. He was hired.

Temporary Office

On the morning of July 15, 1927, he strolled to the rear of the Whitefield Grocery Store, at Main and Wall Street, ducked into a little cubbyhole and took over the duties of city secretary and treasurer.

"That was just a temporary office because about a month later we moved into the new City Hall, that little brick building behind the present City Hall," he recalled.

"It also was the fire station and the city's lone fire truck was stationed there. Fireman Jim Walker and his wife and three children lived in the rear of the building."

In these crowded quarters, Hudman served not only as city secretary but as police judge, tax collector, water bill collector, registrar of vital statistics and even janitor.

"There wasn't too much work in these days for a public Jew," he said, "but occasionally we had a few stragglers after the weekend."

"I remember firing one man—he's now a millionaire here—on a vagrancy charge after he had been picked up in a poker game down at the old Liano Hotel."

"And we had our troubles over water bills in those days, too. I remember that led to the only fight I ever had."

"This man thought his bill was too high and he wouldn't pay it. We cut off his water and he turned it back on, so we just brought him into court."

"One day he came into my office, started arguing and we wound up

"Here's an unusual proof of the fact that it doesn't always pay to return your partner's lead," writes C. M. Smith of Madison, Wis. "In the accompanying hand, South had no chance for his contract until East came to his assistance."

West led the king of hearts, and South almost conceded a heart and two spades to save time. But there was just a chance for the contract if he got a little help, so he decided to play the hand out.

South refused the first trick but won the second, with the ace of hearts. He then ducked a spade around to East.

"What should East return at this moment? Since he was a dutiful lead other card from his hand and would have defeated the contract, but the heart return allowed South to make it.

"South ruffed the heart and ran all of his trumps and the top clubs. When he led the last club dummy had two spades and a heart, and so did West—but West had to discard before the dummy. If West discarded a heart, dummy's six would be good; and if West discarded a spade, declarer would make two spade tricks.

"If East had kept the ten of hearts in his hand this squeeze would have died aborning. West could keep spades, and East would hold the ten of hearts, and South would have nothing but regrets."

I agree entirely with Mr. Smith's comments on the play of the hand. East didn't think, and South did. This made a difference of 700 points. I should point out, however, that South did his thinking only after he had landed himself in a bad contract. East was pretty remote when North responded with only two no-trump, so South should have gone for the sure game in no-trump rather than the very doubtful game in diamonds.

At a contract of three no-trump there are 10 easy tricks no matter how hard the defenders think.

Threaten to Bolt Democratic Convention

History may repeat itself at the Democratic convention as southern states led by Gov. Byrnes, of South Carolina, threaten to bolt the party if northern factions insist on including the civil rights issue in the party platform. The "Dixie" states with 128 electoral votes are a vital factor (288 votes needed to win) if the Democrats plan to remain in the White House after the November elections.

Death Toll Climbs In Polio Epidemic; Wards Are Filled

By The Associated Press

The Texas polio situation, already at epidemic stage in several Texas cities, apparently worsened Tuesday after striking death-dealing blows in Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

No more space remained in the big polio ward at Fort Worth and what to do with additional victims of the deadly virus was a moot question.

The Houston city health department reported 20 new cases over the weekend, 14 of them from the city. A young doctor who recently completed his internship was among the Houston victims. He was Dr. Oliver R. Smith, Jr., 28, a Baylor College of Medicine physician.

Killed by the upsurge of the deadly disease Monday were:

- Sherman Police Sergeant Wayne L. Currier, 32, who died in a Dallas hospital.
- Ronald Edwin Whalin, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Glen Whalin, in Fort Worth.
- Young Mother Dies
- Mrs. Betty Joyce Cummings, 28, young mother who had been in an iron lung at a Houston hospital since her admission July 7.

Fort Worth reported its twelfth case since Friday night with four new patients Monday. City-County Hospital administrator Lowell Hudson said the hospital's polio ward space was completely exhausted with 59 patients in bed and, one awaiting diagnosis.

Dallas also had four new cases reported Monday, making a total of 140 cases so far this year. Officials said 88 cases were under treatment in five Dallas hospitals.

The National Association for Infantile Paralysis says 20 cases per 100,000 population constitutes epidemic.

The case of the Sherman police sergeant was the eighth for Grayson County this year, but Sherman's first reported polio diagnosis.

Fourth in Fort Worth

The Whalin boy's death was the fourth of the year from polio in Fort Worth, where Hospital Administrator Hudson said, "we're going to have to start thinking along the lines of home treatment for convalescent patients."

A four-year-old Houston boy had polio for the second time. He was Michael Murphy who, city health records showed, suffered his first polio attack in 1950.

The boy was among new cases reported Monday in the ravaged city, six from within the Houston city limits, three from Harris County. The new cases hiked the city total at Houston to 210 with six deaths. The new Harris County total

CIO Leaders Tags Ike Rank Amateur

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A top CIO leader Tuesday termed Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate, a "rank amateur" in the field of civil government and said that on major domestic issues he would be a "prisoner of his own advisers."

Joseph A. Beirne, a CIO vice president and head of 300,000 CIO communications workers, said in an interview before leaving for Chicago and the Democratic presidential convention:

"Eisenhower has unquestionably been a great military leader but he is elected President he will be helpless on the great domestic issues facing the country such as the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, civil rights legislation, federal aid to the states and others."

"He will have to depend completely on his advisers in making domestic policy decisions, rather than making up his own mind."

Beirne is a member of the Platform Committee at the Democratic National Convention. One of the CIO's newer and younger leaders, he sometimes is regarded as a possible successor to CIO President Philip Murray.

'Out-Talking Taft'

Some segments of organized labor have been criticizing Eisenhower for months. The CIO, staunch supporter of Democratic national candidates ever since its formation in 1938, recently said editorially in one of its publications that Eisenhower's campaign was "out-talking Taft."

CIO opposition to Eisenhower first was evident last November at the CIO's convention in Atlantic City. Emil Masey, a member of the CIO's Political Action Committee and secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, said that supporting Ike for President would be buying a "pig in a poke."

"I have carefully examined the record of General Eisenhower," Masey said, "and I want to say that I find nothing in his record which would indicate that he is an acceptable candidate for President so far as organized labor is concerned."

Suspect in Murder Of 23 Yugoslavians Faces Deportation

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Andrija Artukovich, former Croatian minister arrested here last fall when the Yugoslavian government sought his extradition on mass murder charges, has been freed.

He was released on a writ of habeas corpus Monday after U. S. Judge Pierson M. Hall ruled a 1919 extradition treaty with the former kingdom of Serbia is not valid.

The present Yugoslavian government charges Artukovich was responsible for 23 murders while Croatia, now a part of Yugoslavia, was a Nazi puppet state during World War II.

Judge Hall held that the present Yugoslavia is an entirely different country than the Serbian kingdom. He also stated the old treaty was never ratified by the U. S. Senate. Artukovich, who had been held in lieu of $50,000 bail, was released under $5,000 bond pending an appeal.

Meanwhile, a recommendation by immigration authorities that Artukovich and his family be deported is pending in Washington. The Immigration Bureau charges the family has overstayed visitors' visas and should be deported to Ireland, where the family fled from Yugoslavia.

Artukovich, who says he is innocent of the mass murder charges, contended it would have meant certain death had he been extradited.

Spaniel Springs To Stardom For His Doggie Performance

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—Meris Without Popcorn: A new flicker star is stealing the thunder from Rosemary Clooney, Anna Maria Alberghetti and Lauris Melchior when I visit the set of "The Stars Are Shining" at Paramount. He's Red Dust, a mournful-eyed springer spaniel who's making his film debut with his master, Bob Williams.

Williams' wife, Ann Corio, the former strip-tease star, is standing on the sidelines. When she explains that she's on the set because Red Dust won't do a lick of emoting without her being near him, a press agent grunts:

"Humph, next thing you know, Laetta will be demanding L.H. St. Cyr."

Joanne Dru, Richard Widmark, six-year-old George Winslow and an army of movie moppets are working before the camera in a nursery school scene in "Big Man" at 20th Century-Fox. A woman visitor raves about the authentic juvenile drawings, boldly crayoned, that are tacked to the wall.

But when she leaves I get the lowdown. The studio tried using genuine drawings by kiddies, but they looked too adult. So a prop man was called in to draw the bona-fide kiddie art.

Jean Simmons, wearing a Butch Jenkins haircut, and Robert Mitchell are acting out a scene on a small-town porch in "Beautiful But Dangerous" at RKO. Mitchell trips over a word.

"Bring me my medium-shot teeth," he calls out to his secretary. "I must be wearing my long-shot ones."

"April in Paris" is being filmed at Warner Brothers. I watch Doris Day, Roy Bolger, French star Claude Dauphin and three youngsters play a scene in which Dauphin tenderly addresses the moppets, who are supposed to be his children in the picture.

While the scene is being lighted for a take, the children are whisked away to a studio classroom and midgets take their place in the rehearsal. It is nothing short of eye-popping as Dauphin, who had been stroking the hair of a little girl a few minutes before, looks into the wrinkled, wizened face of one of the

The Texas polio situation, already at epidemic stage in several Texas cities, apparently worsened Tuesday after striking death-dealing blows in Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth.

No more space remained in the big polio ward at Fort Worth and what to do with additional victims of the deadly virus was a moot question.

The Houston city health department reported 20 new cases over the weekend, 14 of them from the city. A young doctor who recently completed his internship was among the Houston victims. He was Dr. Oliver R. Smith, Jr., 28, a Baylor College of Medicine physician.

Killed by the upsurge of the deadly disease Monday were:

- Sherman Police Sergeant Wayne L. Currier, 32, who died in a Dallas hospital.
- Ronald Edwin Whalin, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Glen Whalin, in Fort Worth.
- Young Mother Dies
- Mrs. Betty Joyce Cummings, 28, young mother who had been in an iron lung at a Houston hospital since her admission July 7.

Fort Worth reported its twelfth case since Friday night with four new patients Monday. City-County Hospital administrator Lowell Hudson said the hospital's polio ward space was completely exhausted with 59 patients in bed and, one awaiting diagnosis.

Dallas also had four new cases reported Monday, making a total of 140 cases so far this year. Officials said 88 cases were under treatment in five Dallas hospitals.

The National Association for Infantile Paralysis says 20 cases per 100,000 population constitutes epidemic.

The case of the Sherman police sergeant was the eighth for Grayson County this year, but Sherman's first reported polio diagnosis.

Fourth in Fort Worth

The Whalin boy's death was the fourth of the year from polio in Fort Worth, where Hospital Administrator Hudson said, "we're going to have to start thinking along the lines of home treatment for convalescent patients."

A four-year-old Houston boy had polio for the second time. He was Michael Murphy who, city health records showed, suffered his first polio attack in 1950.

The boy was among new cases reported Monday in the ravaged city, six from within the Houston city limits, three from Harris County. The new cases hiked the city total at Houston to 210 with six deaths. The new Harris County total

CIO Leaders Tags Ike Rank Amateur

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A top CIO leader Tuesday termed Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential candidate, a "rank amateur" in the field of civil government and said that on major domestic issues he would be a "prisoner of his own advisers."

Joseph A. Beirne, a CIO vice president and head of 300,000 CIO communications workers, said in an interview before leaving for Chicago and the Democratic presidential convention:

"Eisenhower has unquestionably been a great military leader but he is elected President he will be helpless on the great domestic issues facing the country such as the Taft-Hartley Labor Law, civil rights legislation, federal aid to the states and others."

"He will have to depend completely on his advisers in making domestic policy decisions, rather than making up his own mind."

Beirne is a member of the Platform Committee at the Democratic National Convention. One of the CIO's newer and younger leaders, he sometimes is regarded as a possible successor to CIO President Philip Murray.

'Out-Talking Taft'

Some segments of organized labor have been criticizing Eisenhower for months. The CIO, staunch supporter of Democratic national candidates ever since its formation in 1938, recently said editorially in one of its publications that Eisenhower's campaign was "out-talking Taft."

CIO opposition to Eisenhower first was evident last November at the CIO's convention in Atlantic City. Emil Masey, a member of the CIO's Political Action Committee and secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, said that supporting Ike for President would be buying a "pig in a poke."

"I have carefully examined the record of General Eisenhower," Masey said, "and I want to say that I find nothing in his record which would indicate that he is an acceptable candidate for President so far as organized labor is concerned."

Suspect in Murder Of 23 Yugoslavians Faces Deportation

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Andrija Artukovich, former Croatian minister arrested here last fall when the Yugoslavian government sought his extradition on mass murder charges, has been freed.

He was released on a writ of habeas corpus Monday after U. S. Judge Pierson M. Hall ruled a 1919 extradition treaty with the former kingdom of Serbia is not valid.

The present Yugoslavian government charges Artukovich was responsible for 23 murders while Croatia, now a part of Yugoslavia, was a Nazi puppet state during World War II.

Judge Hall held that the present Yugoslavia is an entirely different country than the Serbian kingdom. He also stated the old treaty was never ratified by the U. S. Senate. Artukovich, who had been held in lieu of $50,000 bail, was released under $5,000 bond pending an appeal.

Meanwhile, a recommendation by immigration authorities that Artukovich and his family be deported is pending in Washington. The Immigration Bureau charges the family has overstayed visitors' visas and should be deported to Ireland, where the family fled from Yugoslavia.

Artukovich, who says he is innocent of the mass murder charges, contended it would have meant certain death had he been extradited.

Cotton Damage Blamed On Spray

DALLAS—(AP)—A heavy rain would be the best cure for chemical damage to Dallas County cotton, a U. S. Agriculture Department spokesman said Monday.

D. M. Dudley, department inspector, said the chemical damage may have been caused by weed killing sprays used in the Trinity River channel. He estimated 3,742 acres were affected.

John Stenmons, chairman of the Trinity River District, said the spraying June 17-20 was undertaken only after consultation with state and aeronautics authorities.

Pomeroy Announces Cast For Summer Mummer's Production

The cast for the Summer Mummer's revival of the famous old temperance melodrama, "The Drunkard," has been announced by William H. Pomeroy, Jr., director of the play.

The cast is headed by Art Cole, director of the Community Theater. He will play the part of Edward Middleton, the hero. It was as Edward Middleton that Cole made his first appearance on the Midland stage.

The part of Mary Wilson, the heroine, will be played by Beverly Beal. Charles Dixon will play the part of Lawyer Cripps, the villain of the play. Other parts will be taken by R. A. Connolly, George T. Brown, Tom Beal, Lucy Wilkinson, Nancy Bass, Betty Jean Wilson and Tommy Beal.

"The Drunkard" first was presented in Midland in 1949 by the Summer Mummer and is being revived by popular demand. Rehearsals are underway and the play is scheduled to open July 25 in the American Legion Hall. It will have a minimum run of three weekends.

The melodrama originally was presented in 1844 by F. T. Barnum in his Boston museum. It since has been produced by countless groups of amateurs.

The Theater Mart, a professional playhouse in Los Angeles, celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their continuous presentation of "The Drunkard," July 6. Originally the play was a serious moral drama, but today it has become a hilarious burlesque.

As presented by the Summer Mummer, "The Drunkard" offers the audience informal cabaret style seating, with refreshments and novelties sold at the tables. The patrons are urged to cheer the hero through his adventures and hiss the villain in true vaudeville style. After the performance, an olio or vaudeville show will be presented and the audience will participate in group singing.

As in previous Summer Mummer shows, all proceeds will be given to the Midland Community Theater building fund.

Others attending were Mrs. W. P. Knight, Mrs. Frank Wolcott, Mrs. A. E. Lynch, Laura Hitchcock, Mrs. Arthur Stout, Mrs. Newbie Ellis, Jr., Mrs. John Reid, Mrs. S. S. Shinson, Mrs. E. M. Mulvaney, Mrs. J. O. Harper, Mrs. Roy L. McKim and Lydie Watson.

Mrs. Neal Station was hostess Monday to Circle 3 of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Lewis Davis gave the Bible lesson and Mrs. W. H. Carter presented the Survey article on "Christian Citizenship." The opening prayer was given by Mrs. P. R. Patton. Guests were Mrs. L. C. Link, Mrs. James Kendrick, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. J. C. Brooks.

Nine members attended.

Mrs. Kirk Is Guild Speaker

Mrs. Luther Kirk talked to the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church Monday on the general conference held recently in San Francisco.

She described her tour of China Town and a visit to a Methodist Church there and also reported on a recent conference in Wichita, Kan.

The group met in the church with Mrs. Luton, vice president, presiding. Vera McLeRoy gave the devotional on "God's Promise to Man" and read a poem entitled "What I Need."

The guild planned a picnic for July 28 in the home of Ina Joy McCoy. New members attending were Estelle Cummings and Kathryn Bounds.

Samaritan Circle Discusses Africa

The Samaritan Circle of the Asbury Methodist Church presented a program on Africa Monday at its meeting in the church.

Mrs. Bickley was hostess. Those participating in the program were Mrs. Ruth Kinard, Mrs. Grimes, Maxine Carson and Lenora Morgan. Mrs. Kinard gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Nichols, the closing prayer.

VISITOR RETURNS HOME

Virginia Smith of Weatherford, Texas, returned to her home Monday morning following a week's visit in Midland with Elizabeth Underwood.

WSCS Begins Mission Study

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met Monday in the educational building for a year-book program.

Mrs. Edwin C. Hall, new study leader, introduced Mrs. Luther Tidwell who presented the first two chapters of the new study, "Mission to America" by Truman B. Douglas.

Mrs. Luther Kirk presided in the absence of the president. The group voted to pay half the expenses of two girls to attend the one-week School of Missions beginning July 29 in Lubbock.

The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Kirk.

Presbyterian Church Circles Discuss 'Christian Citizenship'

The Women of the Church of the First Presbyterian Church met in circles Monday for Bible study on "Colossians." The Survey article was "Christian Citizenship."

Mrs. Ray Howard gave the Bible study at the Circle 1 meeting in the home of Mrs. M. L. Hill.

Mrs. George F. West and Mrs. Denton became new members. Other members present were Mrs. W. J. Sprecher, Mrs. H. M. Spangler, Mrs. Sarah Fish, Mrs. W. C. Fritz, Mrs. J. T. Miller and Mrs. R. L. Miller.

Mrs. J. H. Free, co-chairman, presided at the Circle 2 meeting in the church parlor.

Mrs. Oscar White gave the opening prayer. It was announced that the birthday offering totalled $425.

Mrs. Sol Bunnell, president of the

Calvary WMU Has Election Of Officers

The Woman's Missionary Union of the Calvary Baptist Church elected several new officers Monday at the organization's meeting in the church.

They were: Mrs. Leon P. Woods, young house secretary and son, John Mason, YWA counselor; Wanda Burnside, Junior RA leader, and Doris Ann Mason, preschool Sunbeam leader.

Mrs. Ford Faulkner presented the Bible study. Eighteen members attended.

Midlanders Have House Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Ed J. Harris, 202 East Pecan Street, had as their guest Monday Anthony N. Rodney, French room buyer for Joski's in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will have as their house guest Wednesday Mrs. Vivian Blankenhorn and son, John of Dallas. Mrs. Blankenhorn is a bridal gift consultant for Titcher-Goettinger Co. in Dallas. She also will visit her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Porter, 1100 Maple Street.

Peru, Cuba Renew Diplomatic Terms

LIMA, PERU.—(P)—Peruvian government Tuesday announced the resumption of diplomatic relations with Cuba after a three-year break.

The accord was signed in Rio de Janeiro Monday with the aid of Brazilian Foreign Minister Joao Neves de Fountoura, the announcement said.

Cuban-Peruvian relations were broken off in 1949 when some Peruvian political refugees fled abroad after having been given asylum in the Cuban Embassy here.

Feuding Texas Democrats Widen Gap In Ranks; Struggle Looms In Chicago

By The Associated Press

Feuding Texas Democrats watched the breach in state party ranks grow wider Tuesday while Republicans continued harmony moves, and candidates tongue-lashed their opponents.

With the first Democratic Primary just 11 days away and the Democratic National Convention five days off, there were these developments on the Texas political scene:

1. Gov. Allan Shivers and the chief of the Loyal Democrats, who oppose the Shivers Democratic faction, planned to be in Chicago Thursday for the meeting of the Democratic Credentials Committee. They planned to make a fight for delegates seating before the committee. Both will claim theirs is the "real" Democratic Party.

Shivers' group is unopposed for national nominees. The Loyal Democrat group, led by Fagan Dickson of Austin, is pledged to support the Democratic nominee.

Shivers Speaks Tuesday

2. Governor Shivers planned a radio and television appearance Tuesday night in Houston in his campaign for reelection. He also planned a broadcast from Chicago, beamed to Texas voters, but details were unavailable.

3. Shivers' opponents for reelection—Ralph Yarborough and Mrs. Allene Traylor—stepped up their campaigning as the primary neared.

Yarborough was to be in Waco Tuesday and in Dallas for a radio and TV appearance Wednesday.

Mrs. Traylor, the San Antonio housewife, was to be in Austin Wednesday, Lubbock on Friday, and Odessa on Saturday.

4. The campaign for U. S. Senate—with Attorney General Price Daniel, Rep. Lindley Beckworth, and Attorney E. W. Napier contesting for the seat of retiring Senator Tom Connally—turned even hotter as all three candidates made a vigorous drive for election.

Marathon Campaign

Beckworth continued his marathon-type campaigning with 12 appearances in 13 towns in 12 1/2 hours Monday, and planned a 12 1/2 hour campaign swing Tuesday which would take him to 15 Central Texas localities including Temple, Cameron and Austin.

Daniel made his first state-wide radio address since he formally opened his campaign at Waco on May 29. He predicted a 2-to-1 victory in the primary in his speech broadcast from Austin.

Napier was campaigning hard in West Texas Monday and Tuesday, planned eight appearances Tuesday and was to be in Crowell, Vernon, Electra, and Wichita Falls Wednesday.

5. A group of precinct and county Democratic chairmen organized to insure that the Democratic nominees for President and vice president will be on the general election ballot in Texas.

Fear Ballot Switch

Tom Green County Chairman E. E. Murphy of San Angelo said "statements being made by persons claiming to be close to Gov. Shivers suggest a plan to take the Democratic candidates for President and vice president off the ballot and substitute somebody else."

6. Walter McKay, candidate for state agriculture commissioner, charged Commissioner John C. White with "playing politics" and allowing insect control to get seriously out of hand. McKay, formerly a lieutenant of the late Agriculture Commissioner J. E. McDonald, charged White's administration with waste, extravagance and inefficiency.

He said appointments in the department have been on a political basis rather than on the basis of experience.

The Shivers' broadcast Tuesday night was to be over 31 Texas stations. Most of them will carry the address at 8:45 p. m. the time of its origin; some will carry it later.

Charges Answered?

Shivers is expected to answer some charges made Monday by the Loyal Democratic chieftain, Dickson. Dickson said Monday the Credentials Committee at Chicago would ask Shivers' delegates individually whether or not they will abide by the decision of the convention as to nominees and platform.

"If the governor refuses to take this pledge," Dickson said, "and thereby repudiates majority rule, the Democrats can expect him to try to disenfranchise them this November by attempting to remove the names of the Democratic nominees for President and vice president from the head of the Democratic ticket."

"If Governor Shivers says he will support the nominees and platform of the Democratic Party, he will double-cross his Dixiecrat friends who carried the ball for him in the precinct and county conventions and who sincerely believe that he is their leader."

Same Tune Again

That was about the same tune played by the group led by E. E. Murphy of San Angelo. Murphy said Monday night that about 80 persons attended a meeting Sunday in San Antonio and elected him chairman.

He said the July 11 edition of the Dallas Times Herald carried a statement by Wallace Savage, former Dallas mayor and Dallas County Democratic chairman, which said "the Shivers forces . . . if not satisfied with the nominees, can come back to Texas and under certain circumstances remove the names of the Democratic nominees from the November ballot and place the names of Eisenhower and his runningmate both as Democratic and Republican candidates."

Savage charged Monday that the Loyal Democrats were leaning on the victory of Texas Eisenhower forces in their attempts to gain seats at the national convention. Savage referred to a Dickson statement saluting the "I-Like-Ike" faction and saying the Loyal Democrats were faced by the same sort of fight.

Cross-Filing Possible

A leading Republican, State Rep. Edward T. Dicker of Dallas, said he would campaign for the U. S. Senate as a Republican nominee but would nominate Attorney General Daniel on the Republican ticket if the attorney general would permit it. Such cross-filing, legal in many states, is permissible in Texas under the new election codes.

Yarborough in his state-wide broadcast from Beaumont Monday night said Shivers' record did not bear out his platform claims.

He criticized the governor's record on farm-to-market roads and the allocation of gasoline tax money for the schools, and added:

"Water is a big issue in Texas. He says he is for water conservation, but in January 1952 he vetoed for the second time a dam for the Corpus Christi area and thereby blocked the growth of that city."

Yarborough also said that as a state senator in 1939 Shivers "voted to saddle a general sales tax on the people of Texas."

Yarborough also spoke at rallies in Beaumont and Fort Arthur.

Daniel, in his speech from Austin, flayed his most active opponent, Lindley Beckworth, in some of the hardest-hitting words of the campaign.

JULY BARGAIN DAYS

He said that because his platform "represents the Texas viewpoint" and did not please "the Washington crowd," there came from Washington "a last-minute candidate with 14 years of allegiance to the Washington viewpoint."

"Although they have never had the slightest hope of winning this race," the attorney general added, "some federal officials and their friends want the Washington viewpoint to show a serious case of resistance to the political rebellion which Texas has in their hearts."

Napier Cites Record

Napier challenged Daniel's claim to being the only candidate in the Senate race with a war record. The Wichita Falls attorney said he did not see how that qualifies a man for Senator, "but in view of his statement, I humbly submit my War Record."

Napier said after attending a training school at Camp Stanley he graduated with the rank of major, but that the war ended 15 days before his induction into active service.

Meanwhile, Republican factions that backed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP Presidential nomination made plans for their "harmony meeting" set for Dallas Saturday.

Midlanders present were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Sulder, Mr. and Mrs. Morris and family, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Burt and family, Mrs. Marie Jones and son, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Scott and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kefauver Backer Charges California Vote-Buying Effort

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Someone is trying to buy Democratic convention votes, Senator Estes Kefauver's California campaign manager charges.

John Anson Ford, Los Angeles County supervisor and chairman of the California delegation pledged to the Tennessee senator, told newsmen Monday night bribes have been offered to members of the California delegation.

Delegates have received anonymous telephone calls asking them to switch their votes after the first ballot, Ford said. He declined to identify the faction allegedly offering the bribes.

'Stop The Music' Santa Claus Says Biblical Verse Is True

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If it is more blessed to give than to receive, then Florence Muller must be a thoroughly blessed young woman.

Her job is to give away about $150,000 a year in cash and prizes to winners of the "Stop the Music" radio show.

The average jackpot is valued at about $15,000, and there are about 10 winners a year.

The hardest part of the job, she says, is not giving away the prizes, but getting them together. All are donated by business men, who consider the investment worth the plugs for their products on the program.

She says: "I always try to get some kind of a gimmick in the jackpot. That makes it more fun. You know, the baby elephant we gave away on one jackpot was a great success. The woman who won it said it to a zoo the same day for $2,000."

Right now she's working on the Christmas jackpot, which will include such things as $5,000 worth of equipment to start an ice cream business, a 28-foot steel swimming pool, a 35-day cruise to South America and an automobile.

Some of the jackpot dramas have especially happy endings. A cab driver won enough to buy a gas station in Florida, where he always had wanted to go, and now is prospering with his station. He calls it "Stop the Music."

A housewife winner introduced her husband to one of the clients of the program, who was so impressed by the young man that he hired him as assistant to the president of his firm.

Among the unusual prizes dug up by the versatile Miss Muller was a silver mining claim in Arizona, with which she also gave away two mules. The lady who won it had no use for the mules in her apartment, but had no trouble selling them.

Barkley Predicts Arab-Jew Accord

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Vice President Barkley predicted Monday night that "animosity between Jew and Arab will die" and the now-clashing nations will trade with each other to the profit of both.

"I anticipate the day when the textile mills of Israel will use the long staple cotton of Egypt to manufacture a superior and profitable product for export," Barkley said in an address at an inaugural dinner launching the 1952-53 Israel bond drive in this country.

Oilers Nudge Indians Twice

Braves Sock Rockets, 4-2

SWEETWATER—(P)—Charley Buck's home run sparked a three-run eighth-inning rally and netted the Sweetwater Braves an uphill, 4-2 victory over the Roswell Rockets here Monday.

Buck's first home run of the season came one way in the eighth inning with none on base to tie the score at 2-2. Charley Tuttle followed with a double down the left field line and Warren Sitter drew an intentional pass. Tony Traspuesto singled across Tuttle and Don Morgan drove in Sitter with a single.

Dean Higgins achieved his eighth victory against five losses as he scattered 13 hits, striking out seven batters to get out of several tight spots.

The Rockets took a 1-0 lead in the first inning of singles by Audie Malone and Stubby Greer with Wayne Crawford's outfield fly scoring Malone after the tag. Sweetwater tied it up, 1-1, in the third when Morgan tripled and scored on Higgins' groundout.

Roswell moved ahead, 2-1, in the fourth on a single by Van Huppert and Bill Cearley's double.

A perfect throw by outfielder Leo Palmer out of Sweetwater's potential tying run in the seventh. Then came Sweetwater's big eighth against Roswell's newcomer pitcher, Milton Ralst, who had done out only five scattered hits throughout the first seven innings. The Rockets tried to rally in the ninth when Greer and Crawford singled after two outs but Higgins struck out Palmer to end the game.

The scores: R H E
Roswell 100 100 00—2 13 0
Sweetwater 001 000 03—4 9 0

Ralst, Peterson and Crawford; Higgins and Traspuesto.

Shreveport Sports Bounce Upward To Loop's Second Slot

By The Associated Press
Shreveport's Sports Monday night stood by gentlemanly while Oklahoma City displayed how it's the top home-run hitting club in the Texas League. Then the Sports showed the Indians why they lead the league in hitting and run-making.

The Sports took two games from the Indians, 7-4 and 11-8. It left the league wondering just how good the Sports are, having bounded from the cellar to undisputed second place in only 13 days.

Dallas, winner in only two of six road games last week, was back out front the same four-game margin as when the Eagles were slumping southward. Dallas stopped San Antonio, 5-1, with Dave Hoskin's seven-hitter the big difference.

Beaumont and Fort Worth both slipped behind Shreveport. The Roughnecks skidded into third place as they noded to Tulsa, 10-7. Houston smashed 11 hits to whip Fort Worth, 6-2.

Golfing Oldsters Start Qualifying Play At Amarillo

Emlen Tunnel, safety man for the New York football Giants, set a new league record in returning 34 punts during the 1951 NFL season.

It Was Red Sox Or Piersall, But Memory Of Recruit Left

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor
BOSTON—James Anthony Piersall caused more debate in Boston than Taft and Ike, and was page one daily.

Jim Piersall is gone from the Red Sox, but the memory lingers on like a San Francisco fog.

Those who have not been close to this most-extraordinary case wondered when Piersall was so abruptly transferred to Birmingham. Other regulars were leaving less than the 23-year-old's 267. He was the best right fielder and short-stop in the party.

The truth, or at least something that contributed to the breaking point, finally filtered out. The earliest of recruits sparked Shortstop Vernon Stephens' four-year-old son.

You hear all sorts of tales about Piersall, stories which drive his teammates to the point where it was neither them or baseball's newest odd character.

He had Lou Boudreau on the verge of a nervous breakdown. But Piersall's antics made him the customers' delight. The Southern Association dis-

Tribe Hits Trail For Eight Games, Starting At Vernon

Dragging a loss streak of four games behind them, the Midland Indians hit the trail for Vernon Tuesday by taking on the cellar-dwelling Dusters in a pair of games.

For the third and fourth straight games with the Oilers, the Tribesmen knocked lightly at the victory door but Richard wasn't around to open it up and they dropped a twin bill by identical 1-0 scores.

In the opener, steady Indian hurler Keith Nicolls and Ben Quintana hooked up in a tight pitching duel with each hurling shutout ball for the normal seven innings of play.

In fact, Nicolls stopped the Oilers without a hit for the first five and one-third innings before Raul Dieppa slapped a solid single to left field to break the ice. Keith got out of that difficulty all right but in the eighth, with two away, Dieppa, who was to score both the winning runs of the night for Odessa, worked Nicolls for a walk.

Romps Home
He romped all the way home on Robert Fabian's double to left field. Midland threatened to salvage the contest when Bill Brown led off the bottom of the eighth with a single. However, Oiler Pitcher Bvelio Ortega, who saved shutout wins for both Odessa starting hurlers in a relief role, came on to snuff out the Tribe threat.

In taking the loss, Nicolls win string of eight consecutive victories was snapped. And he has yet to notch a triumph against the league leaders in three starts against them.

In the nightcap, Righthander Eddie Jacobs threw a neat five-hitter at the visitors but a balk proved his undoing.

With both sides sporting goose eggs going into the top of the sixth, Dieppa singled with one away. After Fabian struck out, Dieppa raced all the way to third on Roman Loyko's single, with Loyko taking second on the play at third.

Charged With Balk
Then, when Jacobs was in the process of intentionally passing Leo Eastham, a balk was charged against him and the runners were waved on one base with the winning tally crossing the plate.

In the bottom of the sixth and seventh innings, the Indians placed men in scoring positions twice, but alert pick-off plays on the part of the Oilers erased the potential runs.

Gabriel Dinkel had led off the sixth with a single to center. When Manuel Temes sacrificed him to second, Leo Eastham threw wild to the keystone sack with both runners being called safe.

Pat O'Keefe twice attempted to bunt, then struck out, and Oiler Catcher Felix Castro whipped the ball to second to catch Dinkel in a run-down between second and third. Temes took second on the play but Ed Cholokian, batting for Third Baseman Julio de la Torre who had been thumbed out of the game in the top of the sixth, fled out to end the frame in seventh.

In the seventh, Bill Brown drew a walk and was sacrificed to second by Scooter Hughes. However, Ortega wheeled around and fired the ball to Odessa shortstop Dieppa to pick Brown off. Decker drew a walk and went to third on Pinch Hitter Woody Pennington's single but Earl Bossberry lined out to center field to end the game.

NEW ATTENDANCE RECORDS
MILWAUKEE—(P)—The record-breaking 85-day forty-ninth American Congress tournament here established a new attendance record mark of 147,504 paid admissions. The tourney which ended on June 14 twice drew single night crowds of over 5,000. On many other occasions there were crowds of over 4,000. The record crowd was 5,257.

POPULAR GAME BIRD
SHELBURNE, N. S.—(P)—The first large-scale attempt to establish the Chinese ring-necked pheasant in this area will be made next fall when sportsmen plan to release about 500. The pheasant chicks were bought from trappist monks at Oka, Quebec.

primary action failed to slow up Mr. Commotion one whit.

He went to the plate waving his bat like a Roman candle. A right-hand batter, he swung left-handed, took three strikes while dancing a jig, returned to the dugout singing a song. He squatted in the outfield as though on a milk stool. He also hit a home run with two men on base, which prompted him to telephone Joe Cronin.

"The Red Sox sure could use that home run," he cracked.

In Spring training, Piersall was a talkative, but normal enough rookie. Somewhere between the Sarasota sunshine and his fist fight with Billy Martin of the Yankees, he became a one-man psychopathic ward.

He sprud after fly balls with arms thrust straight out from his sides, airplanes fashion, and droning like a B-17. After a clever catch, he doffed his cap to the crowd, bowed deeply, patting himself on the back, applauded as his own cheerleader.

The fans ate it up.

Piersall told Stated Paige he was going to bunt and beat it out, and did. Once on first, he flapped his arms and barked like a seal. Unnerved, Paige filled the bases with walks, and Sammy White clipped the old gentleman for a game-winning home run.

Became Insufferable
That was fine. No one objects to a funny man in baseball, or one capable of carrying out good-natured boasts.

It was the things Piersall did off the field that sent the young man on his way. These included grating obscenities, too raw for even rough ball players.

He developed a persecution complex, hopped aboard and fought teammates.

He became insufferable.

Broncs Bump Colts, 7-2

BIG SPRING—(P)—Oscar Reguera and Bert Baez combined to hurl the Big Spring Broncs to a 7-2 triumph over the San Angelo Colts in a game played in the mud here Monday night.

Reguera, who tired badly in the seventh, received credit for the win, his third against no losses. The loss was saddled upon Mario Saldana, whose record now is 1-7.

Saldana held the Broncs at bay until the fourth, when the locals put together hits by Juan Visteur, Buddy Grimes and Al Valdes with walks to Odele Alvarez and Al Costa for three runs.

The Steeds added two more in the fifth and chased Saldana when Pat Stasey and Visteur drove in markers.

Big Spring got another in the sixth when Costa, who had been issued gratis transportation, eventually found his way home on a base knock by Rick Gonsales.

The Cayuses wound up their scoring in the eighth when Baez, who opened the frame with a base on balls, came home on a fly to center.

San Angelo got its two runs in the seventh when Mark Christman walked, Ronald Dacko singled, Martin Dooley singled and Juan Visteur led the ball get through him for a two-base error.

The win by Big Spring evened the current series between the two teams at two games each.

The scores: R H E
San Angelo 000 000 200—2 11 1
Big Spring 000 321 01X—7 11 1
Saldana, Wegford, Osbor and Dacko; Reguera, Baez and Valdes.

TUESDAY'S SCHEDULE
Longhorn League
MIDLAND AT VERNON, Roswell at Odessa, Big Spring at Artesia, Sweetwater at San Angelo.

The New York Giants were the last team in either league this season to suffer a shutout. Cliff Chambers of the Cards did the job on May 22. The score was 3-0.

ROBBED—Manager Leo Durocher, top, and Pitcher Jim Hearn, foreground, acted as if they were being robbed in a game with Brooklyn. The Giants' members argued that Umpire Frank Dascoli, hands on hips, threw his arms up in the same manner to call time after a play at second, when Gil Hodges stole home with what proved the winning run. Amarillo Gold Sox Threaten To Climb Out Of Loop Cellar

The buildup of the Amarillo Gold Sox in the West Texas-New Mexico League is about to provide a big letdown for some unsuspecting club if the Soxers have their way. And they are having their way now.

Monday night, the revitalized Gold Sox pulled within a half-game of seventh place by victimizing Lamesa, 7-3.

Their July campaign, starting with a fire that destroyed their ball park, has seen the Sox take 12 of 15 games.

Clovis won over Pampa, 3-1, to extend its first place hold to 11 games, and Borger nudged Abilene, 11-10, in the other contests played. Lubbock at Albuquerque was postponed by rain.

Four Tail-End Clubs Polish Off American Loop Leaders

By JOE REICHLER
AP Sports Writer
Cleveland and New York, the two titans of the American League, clash head-on at Yankee Stadium Tuesday night in the first of a vital five-game series with first place at stake.

The Indians, pre-season pennant favorites, cast wrest the top rung from the Yankees, but they must win all five games. They trailed Casey Stengel's crew by three and one-half games on the eve of the important opener.

At the same time, Chicago's third-place White Sox and Boston's fourth-place Red Sox clashed in the first of a three-game series at Fenway Park. All four contenders, priming for Tuesday night's big contests, suffered surprising defeats by second-division clubs Monday.

The Yankees bowed to Detroit's tail-end Tigers, 8-2. Washington whipped the Indians, 15-4. The St. Louis Browns thrashed the Red Sox, 7-4. And the Philadelphia Athletics edged out the White Sox, 2-1 in 10 innings.

In the curtailed National League activity, Brooklyn maintained its five and one-half game advantage over New York with a 6-0 triumph in St. Louis after the Giants had vanquished the Reds, 6-2, in Cincinnati. Rain postponed the scheduled Philadelphia Phillies-Cubs game in Chicago. Boston and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

The Indians were held to eight hits Monday in losing to Washington. The Nats clubbed Starter Sam Jones and two relievers for 12 hits.

Western Plastic, Standard Of Texas Win Softball Tilts

In a pair of JayCee softball tilts here Monday night, Western Plastic defeated Humble, 5-3, in the opener while Standard of Texas blasted Phillips, 11-6, in the nightcap.

In taking the opening game, Western Plastic rolled up a five-run margin in the first two frames, then coasted to victory behind the hurling of Martin.

Standard of Texas piled up an 8-0 lead over Phillips in the first two innings for a lead that they were never able to overcome. Standard of Texas' 11-run attack was featured by a five-hit, eight-run second inning.

Montgomery pitched a five hitter for the victors while Mayfield gave up 10 hits in defeat.

and were helped by five errors and nine walks.

Dave Madison hurled eight scoreless innings for the Browns but was batted out of the box when Boston got its five runs. Dick Gernert hit a three-run homer and Dom DiMaggio followed with a two-run homer off Reliever Earl Harriot.

Billy Hoest, rookie Tiger southpaw, spaced 10 Yankee hits effectively to record his first major league win. He was supported by a nine-hit attack, five coming off the bat of

First Baseman Walter Dropo.

Dave Philley's fourth hit, a tenth-inning single off Harry Doriak, scored Eddie Joost to give the Athletics their 3-1 win over Chicago.

Carl Erskine turned back the fast-moving Cardinals with three hits as he recorded his third shutout and his ninth win for Brooklyn.

Bobby Thomson and Whitey Lockman cracked four hits apiece to help the Giants down the Reds as Jim Hearn picked up his tenth win with a 10-hitter.

Leagues don't mean anything. The ballplayers are what count. If in the past the American Leaguers consistently went for the big inning, it was because they had the material.

"Take us" for instance. We're an American League club, but we don't have the power to go for the big inning. We have to play for the one run.

Marty says he's too busy right now trying to find out what's wrong with the Browns to be bothered about the National League, but the playing pilot agrees that the NL dominance in homer and run-batted-in leaders shows the loop holds a significant edge in power.

However, the slim shortstop does not think any team in the National can compare with the New York Yankees.

"Not even Brooklyn, Marty?"

"Not even Brooklyn. The Yanks may not have the sluggers they used to have or may not have as many long-ball hitters as the Dodgers, but they have the balance. They're more balanced than any other club."

Marty Marion, 1951 St. Louis Cardinal skipper and for the last five weeks manager of the St. Louis Browns, views it this way.

SPORTS NOTES

from the BENCH JOCKEY

By BOB ADAMS

Midland Indian Manager Zeke Bohura must have got the wrong shipment of bats for the ball club. Zeke received about two dozen new bats for the Tribe here Monday just before their game with the Odessa Oilers.

Patterned after similar ones he used while in the majors, the hickory bats were trimmed from the finest wood. Zeke even had the names of the players engraved on the bats so their hickory sticks could have that personal touch. But the new timber produced only a total of seven hits in the two Oiler games Monday night.

Manuel Torres, the new second baseman for the Indians, is from Havana, Cuba. In his rookie year he organized ball last year. Manuel hit 246 for Ardmore in the Seemer State League. In less than two months with Pampa of the West Texas-New Mexico League this season, he was hitting the ball at a .313 clip. Not a bad average for such a little fellow.

Former Indian hurler Dave McKenzie got a little rough treatment in his first starting assignment with Houma in the Evangeline League. McKenzie was pounded for 17 runs, including five home runs, as his team took a real drubbing.

Also with the Houma club are two other former Indians. They are hurler John Payne, who has a 7-2 record with the club and outfielder Hayden White.

In a letter to his former teammates here, White said he was hitting over .400 at present.

When Tex Carleton, a former pitching great who now operates a sporting goods business in Midland, appeared in an old-timer game in Houston on July 8 with some of his former teammates, he took a turn on the mound behind Dixie Dean of the Cardinals.

The Houston Buffalo teams of 1923 and 1931 played each other. And since Tex was one of three players there who was on both squads, he had to flip a coin to see which he would play with. He ended up by playing with the 1931 crew which trimmed the "older fellows" on the 1923 team by a score of 11 to 1 in a five-inning game.

Tex worked one inning on the mound for the winners and did not allow the opposition to score a run. But that's not what he is the proudest of.

A left handed batter, he stepped up to the plate with the bases loaded and slapped a single off a lefty hurler.

The losers scored their only run off Dixie Dean.

One of the old-timers who played with Tex and Dixie was Dickie Kerr, a hurler for the Chicago White Sox. Kerr pitched his team to two victories, despite the fact that a good many of his teammates were trying to throw the game.

Slow Horses Get Sympathy In Catalog Of Good Alibis

GOSHEN, N. Y. — Every sport has its excuses. Years ago in harness racing the old-time trainers and drivers thought up so many rapid-fire excuses that a small book was published listing each excuse by number and telling when to use each one.

A copy of this booklet is the property of the Hall of Fame of the Trotting Horse Excuse Book and was compiled by Murray Howe and published in 1927 by the now defunct Horse Review in Chicago.

Even 25 years later most of the excuses still can be heard around harness tracks after a losing effort. For instance:

"Too highly touted: Use this one when you refuse $2,000 for him the day before his race and can't sell him for $200 the day after it. Forget it was race day. A pat excuse when your boy beats the horse with a pack of carrots, six quarts of oats and two pails of water just before his race.

Owner hangs around stable too much: When the old gent insists on hitting his fingernails around the stall door.

Threw a shot: Good even if he lost it turning around after the finish of a race.

He's an unlucky brute: Good when he can't finish better than second in a two horse race. A camera man shot him: Always good for the superstitious whose horse has been "shot" just before a race.

Got hurt in the car coming over: Good when the horse displays a skinned knee and a puff over one eye.

Needs another race: Fits when a fat horse fails to win. Driver got dirt in his eye: Good when driver swears he saw two judges' stands and couldn't tell which was which.

Sulky broke down: Fair excuse when the driver weighs more than the horse and both try to ride in the same seat.

Number 130, the last in the book, goes: "Ain't got no excuse. But the book says use this at your own peril. Everybody's expecting an excuse so why not give 'em one?"

GROWING NUMBERS
More than 40,000,000 motor vehicles are registered in the United States each year, as compared with only four registered vehicles in 1898.

H. Atkinson was the first track coach at the University of Florida. That was in 1923 when the Gators won the only meet in which they participated.

Bobby Fisher Hurls No-Hitter For Cards To Win 4-1 Victory

Bobby Fisher was the man of the hour Tuesday—he scored the first no-hit victory of the year Monday in the South Little League as the Cardinals whacked the Eagles, 4-1. In going the distance in the six-inning tilt, he struck out 13 batters and walked five. His mates played scoreless ball behind him, but the walks set up the Eagles' only tally.

Fisher scored a pair of hits himself off losing pitcher Don Kidwell, who last week pitched a one-hit victory over the Cardinals. In the outfield Don Driver and Yippy Rankin performed outstanding plays to preserve Fisher's no-hitter in the sixth inning.

In Monday's tilt Kidwell surrendered six hits, struck out eight and walked five. His team logged a single miscue.

Tuesday afternoon, the Yanks play the Lions in another South Little League contest.

Texas Collegians, Denverite Show Way In Trans-Miss Test

DENVER — A couple of Texas collegians and a Denverite led the way Tuesday into the second 18-hole qualifying round of the 49th Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

Joe Conrad of San Antonio and Buddy Weaver of Houston and Harold Haddock of Denver shot the only sub-par rounds in the opening qualifying round Monday.

The North Texas State College players and Haddock carded 69's for the par-70, 6,711-yard Lakewood Country Club course.

Eighty-two entrants shot 79 or better. Charles Coe of Oklahoma City, after his third Trans-Miss tilt, turned in a 73.

L. M. Crannell, Jr., 35, of Dallas, the defending T-M titleholder, shot 81 in practice. He is not required to qualify.

It apparently will take a pair of 77's, or not over 154, to qualify for the championship flight of 64.

Match plays start Wednesday.

Sinton Oilers Hang On In South Texas Semi-Pro Tourney

FREDERICKSBURG — Sinton's Oilers, national semi-pro baseball champs, meet the Fort Sam Houston Rangers Tuesday night to determine the South Texas Semi-Pro Tournament champ.

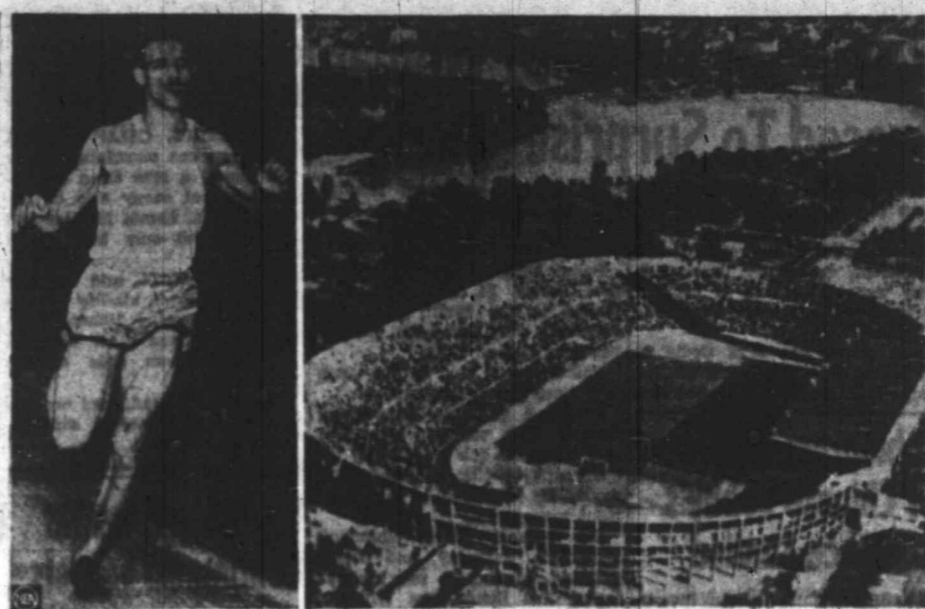

The Oilers Monday night remained undefeated in the tournament and play with an 11-3 win over Fredericksburg.

The Rangers, defeated once, must win Tuesday night to remain in the tournament. A second game will be necessary to determine the champion if the Fort Sam crew defeats the Oilers.

The winner will meet the North Texas champion to decide the Texas representative in the National Semi-Pro Tournament at Wichita, Kan., later this summer.

INDUSTRIOUS WORM
A silkworm must make about 300,000 turns in spinning a single cocoon, and the threads from just 40 cocoons would reach completely around the earth.

Jack Dittmer, rookie infielder for the Boston Braves, was a former star athlete at the University of Iowa. He is one of six men in the school's history to have earned nine letters.

THE STAR AND THE SITE—Joe Walcott, doubling in the 400 and 500 meters, leads the United States team into Helsinki's Olympic Stadium for the Games, July 15-Aug. 2. The Army Air Force sergeant is the defending champion in the 500. (N.E.A.)

Marciano Or Matthews May Get Shot At Jersey Joe Walcott's Heavyweight Title

NEW YORK — Jersey Joe Walcott is dangling the million-dollar prize of a September heavyweight title shot before the eager eyes of Rocky Marciano and Harry Matthews.

"I'm ready to fight the winner," said Walcott Monday after Marciano and Matthews went through the formality of signing for their 10-round elimination bout July 28 at Yankee Stadium.

"We're ready," said Felix Boechicchio, Walcott's manager. "We can't sign yet because we don't know where it will be. But Joe will go into training camp the last week in July, probably at Atlantic City."

"If Marciano wins, it belongs in the East. If Matthews wins it belongs in the West. Maybe San Francisco, Los Angeles or even Seattle, his home town."

"New York would be okay with me—if I get my manager's license. But we've got to get our champion's share—45 per cent—no matter where we go."

Boechicchio has no license to manage in New York State and Bob Christenberry, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, has indicated in past statements he would not be welcome.

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," Christenberry said. "At the present time, Boechicchio has no application pending in New York State."

Many observers believe a Walcott bout in September with either Marciano or Matthews would bring back the old million-dollar days because of the possibility of a younger man dethroning the 32-year-old champ.

Texas' Pro Grid Workouts Slated

DALLAS — Two weeks from now, Texas fields its first major professional football team. Since February 1, Jim Phelan, the veteran coach, has been in Dallas getting the club together for 18 persons who plunked down $200,000 to obtain the New York Yanks franchise in the National Football League.

Phelan is confident he has a better team than the Yanks of 1951, who he coached to one victory, two ties and nine defeats after taking over three weeks late.

"I have a better squad, much more depth and, of course, more familiarity with the players," Phelan said Tuesday as he prepared to send the first contingent of athletes to Kerrville for training.

Phelan will send his center, quarterbacks and several other backs to Kerrville July 27. The remainder of the squad will report there August 1. Full scale practices will open August 2.

Phelan, a former college coach who has been tutoring pro teams four years, talks much like a college coach of his prospects. He won't predict what the Dallas Texans will do this season except that he feels they will be an improved team over the Yanks, 23 of whom are on the Texas squad.

"But the Green Bay Packers, San Francisco Forty Niners, Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears will be stronger and the Detroit Lions will possibly be stronger," said Phelan. Those are the opposition in the national conference for the Texans.

Phelan has convinced the Texan who own the club that they must not expect a championship or even a break-even club the first year—a feat it will take at least a year to build a contending team.

Baseball 'Player' Performs In Proper Spirit At Dallas

DALLAS — Mrs. Inez Teddlie, Dallas' most widely heard musician, was stumped recently for a selection to play when a ball player hit an inside-the-park home run. The next time this occurs, she'll play "Don't Fence Me In."

Mrs. Teddlie for four years has played the organ at Burnett Field, home of the Dallas Eagles of the Texas League. She has become the most popular feature at the park.

They had a special night for her. She received gifts and was lauded for her music and her loyalty to baseball.

That inside-the-park homer was embarrassing. Before that she had always come up with a selection appropriate to the occasion.

When a manager or player becomes embroiled with the umpire in a violent argument she plays "Feudin' and Fussin' and Fightin'." Or she may play "Forgive Me" or "Dearie, Please Don't Be Angry."

When opposing pitchers are changed, the organ will ring out with "There'll be Some Changes Made." And when an enemy hurler has been knocked out of the box, the music is "So Long, It's Been Good to Know You."

If the Eagles are behind when they come to bat in the ninth, the organ reminds that there's "Just One More Chance." And when Manager Dutch Meyer goes out to have a conference with his pitcher, she plays "whispering" or "Can't We Talk It Over?"

They all call her "Miss Inez" and there are those who address her husband, Pete Teddlie, in a kidding way of course, as "Mr. Inez."

Small School Tennis Coach Makes Champs

MODESTO, CALIF. — There may be better-known college tennis coaches than Fred Earle, Jr., of Modesto Junior College but from a success standpoint he ranks right at the top.

Earle, who started coaching here in 1933, is a former University of Illinois captain and a protégé of the old pro, Bill Hinchcliff of Yale.

Modesto is only a two-year school with an enrollment of 900 but through Earle's astute coaching it is a perennial power. The Pirates haven't been defeated, in competition for two-year schools since 1946.

This season Modesto stepped out of its league long enough to thump such big ones as Stanford, 5-4 and 6-3; California, 7-2; University of San Francisco, 8-1, and San Jose State, 8-1.

Earle's squad this year included Whitney Reed, ranked 15th in the national singles, and Jerry DeWitts, ranked 23rd nationally. Norman Peterson could do no better than No. 3 man on the Modesto squad this season even though he was the 1951 national junior college singles champion.

No. 4 on the team was Stan Cantler, Eastern U. S. junior doubles titlist and No. 5 was Jim Bentley, Canadian national junior singles champion.

Other products of Earle's coaching technique include Lorne Main, Canadian Davis-cupper; Paul Willey, No. 1 at the University of Oregon; Lawrence Barclay, No. 1 at the University of British Columbia; Red Corbett, first singles at California Poly; Jim Doan of California and Wally Bostick, ex-national junior college champion.

Zoe Ann Plans To Join Jackie As Pro After Olympic Diving Stint In Over

NEW YORK — (N.E.A.) — Zoe Ann Jensen, washed up at 18 and revived at 21, is shooting for more than just a diving championship in the Olympic Games, starting in Helsinki, July 19.

If comedy Zoe Ann wins the three-meter springboard title which eluded her in London four years ago, she plans to cash in pronto professionally.

"I turned down a couple of water-show offers in New York this summer," she admits, "because frankly there wasn't enough money in it. After Helsinki, maybe we can talk business. It's got to be good, though, because my family life comes first."

There's little Jan, 21 months old, and big Jackie, the Jensen breadwinner who patrols the outfield for Washington.

What made Zoe Ann forsake the pots and pans for a comeback? "Well, Jackie mentioned it first," she says, coyly. "He sensed I might want to have another crack at that title. Now he says he wants me to get it-out of my system once and for all."

Half gainers and sliders would make for confusing babble at the dinner table. How's Zoe Ann going to console Jackie on a 9-for-5 afternoon when she's clipped her chin on the board during a back dive?

"Oh, we never talk shop at home," offers Mrs. Jensen, in rebuttal. "I'm not really an avid baseball fan. I go to, oh, about 10 games a year. Football's still my favorite."

Jackie was fullback at California (and later an All-American) when Zoe Ann met him.

"I was 12 years old, and he was the life guard at the pool where I swam," she recalls. "He never gave me the big rush until just before the 1948 Olympics. When he began talking about marriage, after I returned,

I thought he was just kidding." Olsen and Jensen (Olsen's her maiden name) teamed up for good a year later.

"I went into retirement. For three-and-a-half years I didn't dive a single time. Several weeks ago I went back to Oakland to attend a wedding. Daddy, who's always been my coach, looked me over for 10 days and decided I might try a comeback. "Imagine me, at 21, an old veteran, coming back."

On looks, pert, svelte Zoe Ann could hardly be classified as a has-been. She's 10 pounds more streamlined than she was in the Wembley pool in '48. The 111-pound blonde talks in terms of a modeling career.

While she's competing in Helsinki, Zoe Ann's mother, Mrs. Art Olsen, is taking care of Jan in Washington. Baby Jan already swims, has been a water inhabitant since she was eight months old.

Zoe Ann is happy in Washington. "We don't mind a bit the trade that sent Jackie to the Senators," she says. "Sure, there's nothing like being a Yankee, but there's also no one as nice as Bucky Harris. We just love him."

The Jensens are nice people to have on your side.

NO DARK HORSES HERE

NEW YORK — There are no black or grey horses listed in the "Outstanding Thoroughbreds." Chestnuts dominate with eight—Assault, Busher, Equipoise, Exterminator, Man O'War, Salvator, Stymie and Whirlaway. Browns are next with six—Armed, Bewitch, Colin, Count Fleet, Domino and War Admiral. There are five bays on the select roster—Alaab, Citation, Mindoo, Seabiscuit and Sysonby.

Red Athletes Head For First Olympic Test Tuesday Night

HELSINKI — (P) — Soviet Russia enters Olympic competition Tuesday night for the first time in history. On the soccer field at Kotka, a bare 32 miles from the Russian border, the big, husky all-star team of the Red Army from Moscow will meet their friendly neighbors from Bulgaria.

Entries Pour In For VA Golf Event

TEMPLE — (P) — Reservations continued Tuesday for the seventh annual Texas Veterans Amateur Golf Tournament at the McCloskey Veterans Administration Center here.

More than 40 reservations have already been made for the Junior Chamber of Commerce-sponsored event set for July 19-20.

Indications were that last year's record field of 156 might be surpassed. The tournament is open to veterans and servicemen.

The match is one of nine preliminaries to the genuine Olympic soccer competition which begins Saturday. Kotka is four hours by slow train from Helsinki, but almost all the foreign visitors in Finland are planning to make the journey.

The game probably will be a good one even though the Soviets make a habit of mopping up on their Eastern European allies in sports. The Russians are a prime favorite to win the Olympic soccer.

In the other soccer games Tuesday night—all played in the natural brilliant lighting of the long Finnish summer evenings—Yugoslavia will meet India in Helsinki, Hungary will play Romania at Torku, Poland will tackle France at Lahti and Denmark will face Greece at Tampere.

The preliminary basketball competition, designed to chop an original entry of 22 down to 16 by the time the games open, runs into its second day of double elimination. The United States, Soviet Russia and eight other teams were given free passes through these warmups.

The first drawings for track events Monday put Americans into shoulder-to-shoulder competition with the Russians in the 400-meter hurdle heats and in one 800-meter heat. There will be no American-Russian meetings in the first round of the 100-meter dash.

Batter In Texas Wins Denver Tilt

DENVER — (P) — First baseman Bob Meyer helped the Denver Bears win a Western League game in Denver which was decided when he actually was playing in Texas.

In April, Meyer hit a two-run homer for the Bears against Wichita. Then the lights failed in the second inning and the game had to be put off until Wichita's next visit.

Meanwhile, Meyer was sent to Temple of the Big State League. Later in the season Wichita and Denver resumed play where they left off and Denver won the game, 6-2.

Phelan, a former college coach who has been tutoring pro teams four years, talks much like a college coach of his prospects. He won't predict what the Dallas Texans will do this season except that he feels they will be an improved team over the Yanks, 23 of whom are on the Texas squad.

"But the Green Bay Packers, San Francisco Forty Niners, Los Angeles Rams and Chicago Bears will be stronger and the Detroit Lions will possibly be stronger," said Phelan. Those are the opposition in the national conference for the Texans.

Phelan has convinced the Texan who own the club that they must not expect a championship or even a break-even club the first year—a feat it will take at least a year to build a contending team.

Phelan will send his center, quarterbacks and several other backs to Kerrville July 27. The remainder of the squad will report there August 1. Full scale practices will open August 2.

Phelan is confident he has a better team than the Yanks of 1951, who he coached to one victory, two ties and nine defeats after taking over three weeks late.

"I have a better squad, much more depth and, of course, more familiarity with the players," Phelan said Tuesday as he prepared to send the first contingent of athletes to Kerrville for training.

Police Say Death Of Woman Traced To Surprise 'Guest'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An argument that flared up when an attractive Pentagon employe walked nude into the living room of her apartment, apparently unaware a man was painting it, is believed to have led to her strangulation murder.
The victim was Miss Cordie A. Whitman, 36, whose fully clothed body was found in a bedroom closet of her apartment Monday, two days after her murder. She came to Washington about six years ago from Cumberland, Md.
Police have charged Harry Clifford Porter, 34, airman 3/e attached to the 1029th Air Force Squadron, with her death. He is a native of Casper, Wyo.
Police report this is the story they have pieced together:
Porter, a gangling, bespectacled Korean War veteran, apparently had taken the job of painting the apartment to pick up some extra money. He was hired by the apartment manager.
He entered Miss Whitman's apartment Saturday and began painting. Apparently not knowing Porter was there, Miss Whitman walked nude from her shower into the living room. Angry words followed, and she went into her bedroom.
Porter told police she kept opening her bedroom door and he kept shutting it, and later she came out and "jumped" at him. At this point, he said, he suffered a dizzy spell, and remembers nothing until he saw her lying on the floor, dead.
He then picked up her body, he said, and moved it into a bedroom closet.
The body was not found until Monday after Pentagon friends of Miss Whitman, knowing she had a heart ailment, became alarmed when she failed to report for work.
Porter was arrested when he returned to the building Monday night to continue painting.

Cablegram Telling Of Chinese Lobby's Influence Studied

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An investigation of 23 cablegrams telling of efforts by Chinese Nationalist diplomats to influence United States Far Eastern policy has been undertaken by the Justice Department.
The State Department, announcing the probe Monday, said it would be limited to determining whether the cables were authentic. The Justice Department said it is "cooperating."
Senator Morse (R-Ore.) made public the series of cablegrams last April 10 and demanded a congressional investigation of the "China Lobby," the name he applied to those urging more American help for the Chinese Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.
They were signed with the names of Chen Chi-mai, minister-counselor at the Chinese Embassy, and Brig. Gen. Peter T. K. Pei, military attaché.
The two men, in a joint statement last April 11, said the cables, addressed to Chiang at his Formosa headquarters, were sent by Lt. Gen. P. T. Mow, who has since been dismissed as Chinese Air Force procurement officer in Washington.
The cables, as released by Morse in the Congressional Record, told of contacts with Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Republican leaders and termed Secretary of State Dean Acheson "prejudiced against China."
One said, "There is no chance for a change of China policy as long as Acheson is in power."
Chen and Pei said the messages, as they reached Morse translated into English, were "fabrications and distortions."
Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo said he welcomes the investigation.

Sinclair To Deepen Glasscock Wildcat For Tests Of Dean

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to deepen its No. 1 L. C. Clark wildcat in Southwest Glasscock County, to 8,300 feet for tests of the Dean.
Now bottomed at 7,394 feet in the lower Spraberry, the project has not found shows for commercial production from that formation.
Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 41, block 35, T-4-S, T&P survey and 11 miles southwest of Garden City.

Siegesmund Gets Oil, Gas Leases From Midlander

Ray A. Albaugh of Midland has sold Carl E. Siegesmund leases on approximately 7,300 acres in Southeast Hale County, keeping 75 percent of one-half of any oil or gas produced on the block until he has received $329,000.
The acreage is in blocks R and D-7, EL&RR survey.

Senator Byrd, Challenger, Await Virginians' Verdict

RICHMOND, VA.—(AP)—Virginia's stormy Democratic primary campaign between economy-minded Senator Harry F. Byrd and Francis Pickens Miller wound up at the polls Tuesday.
More than 250,000 voters were expected to cast their ballots in some of the Summer's hottest weather. Polls at the 1,517 voting places across the state open at 6:30 a.m. EST, and close at 7:30 p.m.
The prize to the winner almost certainly will be the Senate seat which Byrd has held for 19 years. In Virginia, the Democratic nomination has meant almost certain election.
Miller, 57-year-old former colonel who served on General Eisenhower's staff for three years in World War II, has attacked Byrd's record in the Senate on both foreign and domestic policy. He has accused the veteran senator of falling to support foreign aid policies designed to combat communism.
Monday night, in his closing address, he tagged Byrd "an isolationist."
Miller also has charged that Byrd has not represented Virginia farmers and that he is keeping Virginia in "a political straitjacket" through his leadership of the Democratic organization.
Byrd, 65, has labeled Miller's campaign one of innuendo and falsehood. He calls the Albemarle candidate "a 100 per cent supporter" of "President Truman's policies and has termed "Trumanism" the basic issue of the campaign.
Monday night he pledged in his final speech, if reelected, to continue his long fight on what he termed, "reckless, wasteful and irresponsible spending, and programs in the national government."
In addition to the senatorial scrap, the state also has two contests for nominations to the House of Representatives.

CLIMBER MAKES LIKE SWIMMER

DUNSMUIR, CALIF.—(AP)—A San Francisco mountain climber fell almost a mile down the almost-vertical snowy side of 14,165-foot Mt. Shasta Monday and escaped with only bruises and abrasions.
Dan O'Neill, 34, said the only thing that saved his life was his use of swimming techniques to avoid rocks and other obstacles in his head-on slide on his stomach.
"I kept my head, used my toes as brakes and steered with my forearms," he said.

UN Warplanes Hit Communist Targets

SEOUL, KOREA.—(AP)—United Nations warplanes Monday battered Communist targets near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang and along the Western front.
Planes from two fighter-bomber wings hit a locomotive repair shop and cement factory east of Pyongyang.
Air Force and Marine planes striking Red front-line positions in the West reported destruction of 15 troop bunkers and six gun emplacements.
Ground fighting lapsed into routine patrol skirmishes.
A U. S. Eighth Army staff officer said that in four days of hill fighting on the East Coast the Reds have lost an estimated 327 killed and 265 wounded. UN troops held control of the contested heights.
The Navy said that since the start of the war 2,904 Communist junks and sampans had been sunk, 4,547 damaged and 75 captured.

Grand Jury Probes Student's Drowning

BONHAM.—(AP)—A Sixth District grand jury studied evidence here Tuesday in the drowning of John Cagle, 14, North Fannin High School student.
The youth's body was found June 9 in Spycorn Creek. County Attorney A. L. Bartley, Jr. said an autopsy determined the cause of death as drowning.
A 40-year-old Ivanhoe man has been held since June 12 in connection with the boy's death.

lying into each other. We were surprised, though, before much damage was done."
Anyway the years went on. Seven mayors—B. Frank Haag, Leon Goodman, M. C. Ulmer, A. N. Hendrickson, Fred T. Hogan, R. H. Gifford and William B. Neely—came and went. Dozens of councilmen served their terms and departed.
But Hudman stayed on, recording in the official minutes of the city the story of its growth and the development of the municipal government which finds its present two-story City Hall inadequate.
"I guess I signed my name to at least a quarter of a million city documents in that time," he said.
During his years in Midland, Hudman has been active in the work of the First Baptist Church, serving on the board of deacons, part of the time as chairman.
He also is secretary of the Permian Basin Baptist Association and is a Mason.
He and Mrs. Hudman have a daughter, Mrs. Dennis L. Lindsey of Dallas.
But Monday afternoon, Hudman had completed 25 years of service to the city and the present mayor and Council, along with City Manager W. H. Oswald and his other friends staged the surprise council meeting.
Token of Appreciation
"Yes," continued Mayor Pickett, "J. C. Hudman has completed 25 years of faithful service. He has many times had opportunities to turn to more lucrative jobs but he has had faith in the city and he has stuck with his job.
"As a token of our appreciation, we are presenting him this watch."
It was a thin gold pocket watch with a gold chain, and Hudman's hand trembled as he opened the package.
"I came here with my notebook ready for a council meeting," he said.
"I didn't expect this. I don't deserve it, but it's the grandest thing you could have done."
He turned the watch over and read the inscription:
"To J. C. Hudman in appreciation of 25 years of faithful service. City of Midland, 7-15-52."

Ike Plans Vacation Of Trout Fishing, Then Long Campaign

DENVER.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower looked forward eagerly Tuesday to a vacation of trout fishing and perhaps some golf before turning full attention to "a long, hard campaign" as the Republican presidential nominee.
The general and Mrs. Eisenhower arrived here Monday night after a four-hour flight from Chicago—where he won the GOP nomination last Friday—and got a big ovation.
Eisenhower gave the cheering crowd of several thousand broad smiles, waved his hat, then stepped to a microphone and said:
"When we left here a week ago Thursday I made a prophecy: that good, common, honest Americans would be in charge of the Republican convention—and they were."
"There's a long, hard campaign ahead of us. Every one of us has got to work and scrap. I can't think of a better place than Denver for a long breath for what is ahead of us."
"We're glad to be back."
Then he got into an open car and rode seven miles to the Brown Palace Hotel with Mayor Quigg Newton of Denver and Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado.
Thornton played a leading role at the Chicago convention in charting strategy which won the nomination for Eisenhower over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.
Eisenhower set up a headquarters here shortly after he returned from Europe June 1. He left Denver aboard a special train July 3 for Chicago.
After a brief stay Monday night

Police At Loss For Clues, Motive In Murder Of Coed

NEW YORK.—(AP)—A U. S. Marine is the only boy she ever went out with," that she was devoted to her family, that she was a faithful Roman Catholic churchgoer.
"All we have at present is that somebody shot and killed her," Leggett said. "We have no motive."
The shooting occurred in a ninth floor office used by the American Physical Society, for which Miss Fahey worked as a secretary.
The gunman—described as a young, thin, dark six-footer—walked out of the office with the gun in his hand, told three women in the hallway he "just shot a girl," and disappeared down a stairway.

Flash Flood Damages Area In Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE.—(AP)—About a dozen families had to be evacuated and trains were halted late Monday as a flash flood swept down gullies into Albuquerque.
Heavy damage was reported to streets and homes in San Jose and to the Santa Fe railway tracks, and farms in the Barr Station area, seven miles south of here.

at his eighth-floor suite in the Brown Palace, the general and his wife spent the night at the home of her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, who returned from Chicago with the triumphant party.
Just before boarding his plane in Chicago, Eisenhower said he had had a very busy week and that his time had been "very crowded" since he came home from Europe six weeks ago.
"I hope to hide away and catch some trout," he said, grinning.
On his arrival here, he said he hoped to get started fishing Wednesday.
In Chicago, he got in a final round of conferences on campaign matters and spent a good part of the afternoon with his son John, an Army major, who is slated to leave for Korea in a few days.
Eisenhower's last Chicago caller was Walter Hallanan of West Virginia, a Taft supporter who was temporary chairman of the GOP convention.
Hallanan was with the general only a minute. He told newsmen afterward he had pledged his support and he quoted the general as saying, "We have all got to pull together" to win in November.

Skidmore Services Are Held In Midland

Funeral services for C. R. Skidmore, 44, prominent Midland drilling contractor, were held at 2:30 p.m. Monday in the Trinity Episcopal Church.
The Rev. Robert J. Snell, rector, officiated. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery, under the direction of the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel.
Skidmore died at 4 a.m. Sunday in a Midland hospital following a lengthy illness.
He was vice president of the Tri-State Drilling Company and had resided here two and a half years. Survivors include the widow, three children, the Mother, a brother and a sister.

Price-Fixing Law Affects 45 States; Texas Not Included

WASHINGTON—(AP)—From now on, retail price-cutting on trademarked or brand name merchandise is illegal in any of 45 states if manufacturers first fix prices by agreement with one or more retailers within a state's boundaries.

President Truman Monday signed a federal fair trade law, ratifying such agreements in states having fair trade laws.

The federal measure requires all merchants in a state with fair trade laws to charge the retail price set by the manufacturer, whether or not they sign the agreement, if at least one retailer has signed such an agreement.

In this respect, it supersedes a 1961 Supreme Court decision that merchants who did not sign the agreements could not be required to observe the fixed price.

Enforcement will be up to the 45 states — all except Missouri, Texas and Vermont — having fair trade laws.

Signing the controversial bill, President Truman said it will eliminate "certain unfair competitive practices and thereby will help small businessmen to stay in business."

But, he said it also will "remove some competitive force which otherwise would operate to help keep prices down."

He asked Congress to study the question further next year in the hope of finding a better solution.

American Clergymen Ask Queen To Curb Britain's 'Red Dean'

LONDON—(AP)—A group of American Protestant clergymen arriving in Britain Tuesday said they had sent a message to Queen Elizabeth urging that something be done about the "Red Dean" of Canterbury.

Dr. Carl McIntire of New York, president of the International Council of Christian Churches, said he sent a telegram to the Queen telling her that the "pro-Communist propaganda of Dr. Hewlett Johnson is hurting the cause of Christianity and freedom."

McIntire, speaking over the 78-year-old dean's political activities came last week when he returned from China with claims the Americans are using germ warfare in the Far East.

British newspapers ridiculed what he offered as evidence and called for him to resign.

Texas Crude Dips Naffion's Crude Flow

TULSA—(AP)—Only six states showed lower output during the week ended July 12, but the weight of their declines caused the daily average crude oil and condensate production to fall 27,900 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

Total daily average production compiled by the Journal for the week was 6,061,540 barrels.

Texas rose, dropping 32,975 barrels to 2,882,475 barrels. The other big losers were Kansas, down 6,500 barrels to 328,900 barrels; Illinois, off 2,100 to 164,000; and Indiana, down 1,300 to 31,500.

Oklahoma was the biggest gainer, up 8,300 barrels to 318,600 barrels. Louisiana was next with a 3,125-barrel advance to 870,950.

Arkansas and North Dakota each were up 600 barrels to 81,000 and 3,600 barrels respectively. Identical gains of 500 barrels each were registered by Colorado and Wyoming to 84,000 and 188,000 respectively.

Midlander's Father Dies In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY—John P. Busbee, 57, father of Mrs. Helen Hohn of Midland, died Monday afternoon enroute to Root Memorial Hospital here.

Busbee was employed as a carpenter and had been in Colorado City resident 27 years.

Born Jan. 19, 1895 in Alabama, he was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and service officer for the Colorado City American Legion Post.

Funeral arrangements are pending here.

NOMINATED "IKE" FOR PRESIDENT... "DON" FOR BEST CAR DEAL
The Republican party sure had a time deciding on a candidate. Good old "Ike" finally won. West Texans never have a hard time deciding on the best man for an automobile deal. . . . Its always old faithful "Dpn," known far and wide as a square trader. If you haven't met "Dpn," why not stop in and talk trading with him. "Don" needs good clean cars at this particular time and will give you the top market price for the one you are driving. Yes, it's "Ike" for president and "Don" for the best car deal.

WE DESPERATELY NEED NEW LISTINGS. Our huge volume of sales in the past few weeks has depleted our number of listings. This, of course, testifies to the rapidity with which we dispose of homes for our clients—and also, the guaranteed satisfaction which prospective purchasers receive when they deal with us. While we do have a number of spectacular buys, we need more homes in all price ranges. We have a long list of qualified buyers. HOME-OWNERS, stay with the leader in Midland—list your properties with KEY, WILSON & MAXSON.

IKE HAS BEEN NOMINATED and the Republican National Convention is now terminated. Before long, the fall school term will begin—and homes will again be at a premium. Don't get caught by your finances down here. Here is a dream in the making. 3-bedroom, cream brick home on Michigan. It features in the bath and kitchen, lots of wonderful closets, attached garage, central heating, ducted for air-conditioning, and completely carpeted in warm, soft colors. The ideal floor-plan will make you the envy of all your friends. This home will be completed in about 2 weeks. $15,500.

DESIRABLE COUNTRY CLUB area, where trees and lawns are abundantly beautiful. Two bedrooms and 12x20 paneled den, attached garage, spacious living room, central dining room. If you appreciate green trees and grass, and the cool comfort of shade, this home must be seen by you. It is a step-down den, and then the relaxing back yard which is completely fenced in. Immaculately clean inside and out. Priced under $16,000.

WANT A TREAT? Call to ask us to show you the superlatively beautiful 3-bedroom home which we have on Community Lane. Irregularities Bring End Of NPA's Right To Do Own Hiring

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Civil Service Commission Tuesday took away from the National Production Authority the right to hire its own workers because of irregularities in selecting employees last year.

It called for "corrective action"—meaning dismissal or new assignments—for possibly more than 100 NPA employees. In some cases, the commission said, veterans' preference in hiring was ignored.

The commission ruled that all future NPA hiring must be referred for prior approval to the Department of Commerce, the parent organization of the emergency production agency.

Commerce Department and NPA officials, questioned on the charges, said they will carry out the commission's orders completely and will cooperate fully in matters of hiring.

They did not deny that abuses had occurred, but said they were in 1951 when NPA was striving to build a staff quickly to deal with a mushrooming load of work in administering priority and allocation controls.

Mid-Air Collision Kills Cropdusters

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(AP)—Two cropduster planes, one taking off and the other landing, collided head-on at Paradise Airport Monday night and exploded in flames.

Louis Gutierrez, 18, Sunnyslope, Ariz., and Martin Loeb, 17, Cactus, Ariz., were killed. They were passengers in the plane piloted by Jack Coyner, 35, Phoenix, who was critically burned.

Carl Nicholson, 35, Phoenix, pilot of the other craft, escaped with minor injuries.

Visibility on the runway was obscured by clouds of dust.

Dewey Predicts Victory For Ike

NEW YORK—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey says Dwight D. Eisenhower will get "wonderful support from Democrats as well as independents" and will win the presidency in November.

"I believe the Republicans can beat anyone the Democrats nominate," Dewey said Monday night on returning from the Republican National Convention in Chicago.

"LOOK IT OVER SIR"—Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball, right, looks over a four-and-a-half-foot model of his department's latest weapon, an atom-powered submarine, the Nautilus, able to travel thousands of miles on a few pounds of uranium fuel. The model was displayed at the Pentagon, where Naval Capt. Hyman George Rickover, left, was awarded a gold star for his part in development of the submarine. According to Rickover's model, the pug-nosed vessel carries a furnace in which uranium reacts, produces heat to make steam and revolve turbines operating two propellers. A heavy shield will protect the crew from radioactivity.

Divorcee, Teenage Lover Find Romance Interrupted By Law

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The law has ended the runaway romance of a 28-year-old divorcee and her teenage boy friend, but the loving couple says it's only a temporary setback.

"He's terrific," said blonde Mrs. Virginia LeTourneau after she and 6 foot, 3 inch James Sherwin were brought here in custody from Phoenix Monday. "We're really in love and we'll wait this thing out."

Sherwin, blushing, said: "We'll get this thing straightened out. 'I'll go to work and be a family man.'" Both said they intend to marry as soon as her divorce is final, in about a year.

Mrs. LeTourneau was arraigned on four counts of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Sherwin is accused as a delinquent.

Mrs. LeTourneau said they fell in love "while we were horseback riding" and traveled 10,000 miles together before they were arrested in Phoenix. Their starting point, last May 24, was nearby Burbank.

Vickery is district field representative for IPAA.

Plum Island Gains Favor As Cattle Laboratory Site

By The Associated Press
Establishment of a federal research laboratory to combat foot and mouth disease among cattle appeared nearer Tuesday.

At New London, Conn., a committee of dairymen approved a federal government plan to set up a research station on Plum Island, in Suffolk County, N. Y., for study of the disease in cattle.

And in Orono, Maine, the University of Maine's dean of agriculture said the only question on establishment of a federal laboratory to combat the disease was a satisfactory site.

The preferred site, Dean Arthur L. Deering said, is government-owned Plum Island, near the eastern tip of Long Island.

The New London County dairy meeting, saying it represented 900 dairymen and nine million dollars worth of dairy business in Connecticut, voted 10-2 in favor of the Plum Island site.

Opposing factions said their main complaint was the possibility of the deadly disease spreading to cattle herds on the mainland.

Some farmers balked an idea that the stations should be set up on either the Mexican or Canadian borders in joint operations between the governments involved.

The hearings on the matter moved Tuesday to Saybrook, Conn., and on Thursday and Friday to Greenport and Bridgehampton, L. I., respectively.

Meanwhile, representatives from many state university agriculture schools voiced opinions favoring the Plum Island site.

Leroy W. Van Kleef of the Connecticut State Department of Health said he was satisfied that the research laboratory would not pollute Long Island Sound.

The island is situated eight miles offshore.

Dr. M. S. Shahan, director of the hoof and mouth disease research in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, said his office was convinced the laboratory could be located safely at any point in the country, but Congress had specified a coastal island.

AMERICANS ON MOVE
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Americans are moving around more than they used to. The Census Bureau says 31 million moved to a different house in the 12 months ended April, 1951, an increase of four million over the preceding year.

Convict Suffocates In Escape Attempt

SALEM, ORE.—(AP)—A convict suffocated in a 15-inch sewer pipe Monday in a daring but futile escape attempt from the Oregon State Prison.

He was 20-year-old Harold Allen Hayes.

Another convict, Franklin Clingenteel, 17, also was involved in the attempt. His calls that he was stuck in the narrow pipe, five feet underground, brought guards to the prison yard manhole which the two convicts had hoped was the way to freedom.

Hayes' body was found in the pipe about 375 feet from the manhole the convicts had entered.

American Sets New Record For Entire Airline Industry

American Airlines, averaging more than 9,000,000 passenger-miles a day during the month of June, established a new record for the entire airline industry by carrying 467,840 passengers 274,685,000 passenger-miles in the 30-day period, Woody Campbell, American station agent here said Tuesday.

The record is 10.7 per cent higher than the previous record of 248,042,985 established by American in June, 1951. It also was 13.4 per cent ahead of May of this year.

Campbell pointed out that American, in setting the new record, had two record-breaking days—June 18 and June 25.

The capital of Uruguay is Montevideo.

Fighting Tribesmen Seek Chinese Arms

RANGOON, Burma—(AP)—Official sources reported Tuesday that rebel Karen tribesmen fighting Burma's government have gone to Formosa for arms aid from Chiang Kai-shek and his Chinese Nationalist Army.

These sources said a Karen delegation led by Saw Shwe, a tribal chief, was flown from Mowhat, near the Northern border of Siam, to Taipei, the Formosan capital.

Chinese Nationalist irregulars in North Burma, who fled from Southern China after the triumph of the Chinese Communists, have been reported supplying arms to the Karen rebels, who have suffered severe reverses recently.

Heavy Bollworm Infestation Feared In Reeves County

PECOS—Prediction of heavy bollworm infestation of Reeves cotton farms was made by County Agent Jimmy Taylor, who completed a three-day inspection tour Saturday.

Taylor said he found a higher bollworm egg count than has been experienced here in a long time. The count in most instances ranged between 80 and 90 per cent.

"By the middle of this week, the Pecos area may be crawling with bollworms," the county agent declared, adding that there's an outside chance beneficial insects could partially thwart the harmful activities. Had it not been for the general two-inch rain Monday and Tuesday of last week, Taylor believes the parasitic larva would have been in full swing last week.

Some bollworms already have been in action, but their attack has not been in full force. A few farmers had poisoned before last week's rain.

Taylor noted, further, that there is some evidence of the flea hopper and the lygus bug in Reeves County fields, although most cotton now is too large for extensive damage from the flea hopper.

Harmful work of the red spider and the aphus was suspended by the rains, since these two insects do not thrive in damp weather. Farmers getting back to their fields this week were expected to continue their application of fertilizer and launch insect poisoning, in addition to their general field work.

MONAHANS—Mrs. Bernice DuBose, Monahans city secretary the last nine years, has resigned effective August 1.

BUICK'S NEW 'SKYLARK'—Buick Motor Division stylists have unveiled this sleek, new sports convertible, the "Skylark," built on a 1952 Roadmaster chassis, with down-swept doors in tune with the lines of the full cut-away fenders which set off its chrome plated wire-racing wheels. Its smart styling is unique and tasteful in sports car motif, company officials proclaim.

'Miss America' Shuns Jibes From 'Miss Universe' Crowd

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—Ever since 1921 this resort city has been picking Miss America—and confident officials of that annual show figure they can do without advice from new rival "Miss Universe" contest in California.

Miss America Pageant bosses continue to insist their winner must have brains and talent as well as beauty. They turn deaf ears to critics who claim the contest should stress more bathing suit appeal and forget about this talent business. Even jibes from sponsors of the Miss Universe show at Long Beach are without effect on plans for the 1952 Miss America pageant in September. Miss Universe sponsors launched their project with a blast at Miss America and its "amateur night talent stunts."

In answer, Miss America officials say more people prefer their contest as it has been run in recent years—with points going for talent and personality as well as for a beautiful face and figure. Talent in this case means singing, dancing, or other entertainment or skill, even sports.

Lenora Slaughter, director of the Miss America Pageant, claims the Miss Universe contest is years behind Atlantic City's production. "They've got the same kind of contest we used to run, with movie contract prizes and everything," she said.

She denied the two contests are rivals. "We can't be competitors. We are very different contests."

By trial and error the Miss America pageant arrived at its present changeover comes in 1945 when scholarship prizes were awarded, instead of the movie contract such as now goes to Miss Universe winners.

The scholarship policy, Miss Slaughter says, has brought "a wonderful type of girl" into the pageant. Miss America now wins a $5,000 scholarship in addition to $4,000 in cash, an automobile and a chance to earn thousands more in personal appearance fees. The present Miss America, Colleen Kay Hutchins of Salt Lake City, Utah, is expected to clear at least $40,000 above all her expenses.

APPLICATION WELL STUDIED

BERLIN—(AP)—A seedy looking man walked up to a West Berlin policeman, extended a thick envelope marked "caution, dynamite," and asked that it be given to the chief of police.

Nazi experts hastily were summoned and delicately took the envelope apart. Inside was an application for a job. Police said the man might get one, if they find him.

Ice Frozen Faster By Newest Process

AUSTIN—(AP)—A new commercial process that is said to make ice 30 times faster and much cheaper than conventional methods has been developed by a University of Texas scientist, Prof. John R. Watt.

The new technique resembles nature's process of making hail from raindrops. Watt's method forms a center core of ice and adds from layers rapidly from coatings of pre-cooled water. Ice produced in this manner can be cut in blocks, crushed or shredded.

DENTISTRY BY LONG DISTANCE

ALBANY, N. Y.—(AP)—An Albany dentist treated a patient, on the Northern tip of Greenland, more than 2,500 miles away, without moving from his office.

Responding to an SOS sent to a "ham" operator here, Dr. Wesley Van Loan told pain-stricken William I. Fogerson how to care for his badly abscessed tooth.

Fogerson is an observer at the weather station on Esmers Island, 500 miles south of the North Pole.

Midland Furniture Dealers To Attend Dallas Convention

A group of Midland furniture dealers will be represented at a convention of Texas Retail Furniture Association members July 21-24 in Dallas.

Among those expected to attend are Mr. and Mrs. John B. Mills, Jack Dotson and Tommy Johnson, Midland Hardware and Furniture Company; J. B. Hanks, Gibbs & Hanks Furniture Company; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McBride, McBride Furniture Company; and a representative of John Bostright & Co.

Dealers will study the newest furniture styles being offered by manufacturers, and shop for the furniture styles their customers prefer. Frank C. Allen, Jr., of Corpus Christi, association president, announced.

Speed Is Traffic Killer

Looking for the cause of 326 traffic fatalities in the nation during the Fourth of July weekend, a new record for a three-day holiday on that date, speed must rank high.

Combined with overcrowded highways, a comparatively large number of inexperienced drivers out for a holiday, hot weather and short tempers, speed can and does rank high on the list of traffic killers.

This point is given weight by what happened the first day of the long weekend on two of the country's best-known speedways, the New Jersey Turnpike and the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

On the eight-month-old New Jersey super-highway, where the speed limit is 60 miles per hour, a heavy trailer-truck rammied into three automobiles parked at the side of the road.

Later in the day another crash on the turnpike cost two more lives. They raised to 25 the number of deaths on the 118-mile highway since it was opened last January.

But the speedways weren't yet through for the day. On the Pennsylvania Turnpike five persons were killed in a two-car crash.

The New Jersey Turpike is a modern miracle of winding concrete—wide, sweeping curves, no cross traffic, no towns to go through, no nothing much except sit there and hold onto the wheel and zoom along at 60.

This sounds fine and it is, for a while. Then the whole thing gets to be a little monotonous. And that's where a lot of the turnpike trouble apparently comes from.

The senses lose some of their edge, lulled by the steady smooth pace and the motor's hum. The reactions seem to miss the frequent test of dealing with cross traffic, turns, starts and stops.

Also the driver is inclined to lose sight of the fact that he is traveling fast. So when an emergency does arise, when a car cuts sharply in front of him, or someone ahead brakes to a sudden stop, his senses often are not up to coping with the swiftness with which things happen, and accidents result.

At high speed such accidents can be bigger killers than ordinary—five killed in the Pennsylvania crash, five dead in the New Jersey one.

By engineering standards, the turnpikes are marvels. But they don't, and they can't, take into full account human behavior. The relationship of man and his machine can be a satisfying and productive one up to a point, but the machine steadily becomes stronger and faster and there comes a point beyond which man cannot follow it and remain the master in control.

So some time along about now, man, the American automobile driver, is going to have to make up his mind whether he's going to sacrifice speed, or sacrifice himself.

One Down And One To Go

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: Legislation poured through Congress without debate before conventions; Sparkman blocks bill to booby trap small airlines; Moody saves G.I. bonus for Korea vets.

WASHINGTON—Congress was in such a hurry to pack up and go to the conventions that legislation was ground out in wholesale lots without investigation or debate. Most senators and congressmen had no idea what they were voting on. As a result, several sleepers slipped through, as follows:

Tax Gravy—Senator George of Georgia introduced a complicated amendment to the excess-profits tax supposed to adjust the rates for fabricators of strategic metals. Significantly, however, the amendment was tailored to reduce the taxes of one brass company of Bridgeport, Conn.

Claims Gravy—Congressman Beall of Maryland tried to slip through a bill, authorizing the Willmore Engineering Company of Baltimore to collect a $244,000 claim. It so happens that the claim already had been turned down by the Court of Claims and the U.S. District Court. In fact, the claim was so fantastic that the court ordered the FBI to investigate the Willmore company for alleged fraud. Yet Congressman Beall tried to get Congress to pay the claim that the FBI now is investigating as fraudulent. Fortunately he failed.

Booby Trap—The big airlines almost booby trapped the small airlines with a bill that would have put them out of business. It would have allowed the Civil Aeronautics Board to slap $1,000 fines on the small, unscheduled lines for minor infractions of rules.

For five years, the CAB faithfully has followed big airlines pressure in trying to squeeze small lines out of business. But the courts consistently have stuck up for the little airlines. The new bill would have circumvented the courts, and allowed the CAB to fine the little lines.

The bill was drafted by Ed Sweeney, well known as the big airlines' friend on the Senate Aviation subcommittee staff. In order to fool the senators, Sweeney prepared a report declaring that the comptroller-general and attorney general were in favor of the bill. This was not true. In the end, Senator Sparkman exposed the sleeper and blocked it on the Senate floor.

Tak Plums—Senator Martin of Pennsylvania pushed through a tax amendment made to order for two companies—the Budd Company of Philadelphia and the Sangaw Electric Company of Springfield, Ill.

All these bills were introduced the last minute without a hearing—in the hope that they would be overlooked and enacted into law in the smoke and confusion of Congress' last days.

Pay-Toilets-Lobby—One bill which didn't quite sneak through was the amendment to benefit the Pennsylvania Railroad and increase its pay-toilets charge from five to ten cents despite an OPS price ceiling. The man who pulled wires to pass this amendment was none other than President Truman's former counsel, Clark Clifford, and the senator who went to bat for the pay-toilets was Allan Frear of Delaware.

Although the railroad pushed through its pay-toilet hike, it also wanted exemption from the $285,000 triple damage suit brought against it by OPS for violating price ceilings on pay toilets. This suit also was introduced by "Pay Toilets" Frear, however, although Congress agreed to dime toilets it refused to knock out the law suit. Unlike the Pennsylvania the New York Central had increased pay toilets to ten cents in the Grand Central Station prior to the OPS order to attach a "foxhole rider" to the bill. This is a difficult thing to do, because the "foxhole rider," or combat bonus, meant completely new legislation and would require a two-thirds vote of approval if a single senator objected.

To make sure he got a two-thirds vote, Moody, with the support of Senator Stiles Bridges, Republican, of New Hampshire, and his friends Long and Monroney, telephoned more than half the members of the Senate and got their approval.

Thus, the foxhole rider still had to pass the House, where Congressmen George Mahon of Texas and Dan Flood of Pennsylvania, members of the joint committee on Military Appropriations, went to bat. At first they failed. In the privacy of the committee, the vote went against them.

However, the friends of the GI did not stop. They enlisted the help of majority leader John McCormack of Massachusetts, Alfred Sieninski of New Jersey, a Korea veteran, Louis Raber and Thaddeus Machrowicz of Detroit, all Democrats; Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, Republican. They threatened to carry the fight to the floor of the House, where every congressman would have to stand up and vote for or against the GI's.

This threat, plus the astute leadership of Moody and the final support of Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, finally put the combat bonus bill through. It now is a matter of law and the extra checks to GI's in the foxholes should be in the mail fairly soon.

However, Senator Moody, undaunted, adopted a new tack. In order to get a new vote he reduced the bonus from $50 to $45 a month, then demanded a roll call. This meant that every senator would have to stand up and be counted for or against the GI's. Naturally, none wanted a roll-call vote, so the combat bonus was passed at 345 yeas.

However, in the House of Representatives the bill was killed. Republican economists turned thumbs down. However, Senator Moody filed notice that when the military appropriations bill came up he would move to suspend the rules in the House.

PETER EDSON'S CONVENTION NOTEBOOK

Guess At Expenses Of GOP's Contest Is $2 Million—Dems Will Match It

CHICAGO—(NEA)—Ike Eisenhower, by virtue of having been picked as Republican nominee at the Chicago stockyards amphitheater, becomes a two-million-dollar baby on the hoof. That is the minimum estimate placed on the expenses of all candidates and the Republican National Committee in the 1952 presidential contest to date.

While this expenditure, soon to be equalled or surpassed by the Democrats, is something of a national scandal, there never will be any accurate figures released. The reason is that the Hatch Act and the Corrupt Practices Act place no limit on the amount of money that may be spent by any candidate for a federal office in primary elections.

Since they're not required to do so by law, treasurers for the several presidential candidates are reluctant to give out how much they have collected and spent. Only congressional investigation could pry out the figures, if authorized to do so.

Howard Peterson of Philadelphia, who has been in charge of money raising for Eisenhower, estimates that the general's primary campaign will cost close to a million dollars. This is before all the bills are in.

Peterson points out that radio time for the general's major speeches cost $2,000 a minute. Thirty minutes, $60,000. Eisenhower headquarters spent $75,000 on Chicago newspaper ads every day they ran during the convention. Lesser expenses ran down to $80 a day for a steam calliope. But they all added up.

70-Room Headquarters—Eisenhower and Taft headquarters each had from 70 to 100 hotel rooms in Chicago. In addition, each candidate had a big ball room which served as club headquarters for delegates and kibitzers. Ike's managers also rented the Blackstone Theater and entertainers for two free shows a day during convention week.

Although some of the volunteer workers paid their own hotel bills, as individual campaign contributions, the total cost was several thousand dollars a day, not counting the cost of favors.

Managers Ended In Red—Ben Tate, fund raiser for Senator Taft in many of his campaigns, puts a more conservative estimate on his expenses. As a minimum, Tate says Taft's expenses will run $50 per cent more than in 1948. Taft's unsuccessful campaign for the presidency cost about $300,000 that year, of which $40,000 was spent at Philadelphia.

Gov. Earl Warren, ex-Gov. Harold Stassen and the various backers of General MacArthur spent considerably lesser amounts.

Democratic National Committee got a $250,000 contribution from Chicago to cover convention expenses. But it isn't expected to cover. All Republican political managers in Chicago, in fact, admit they ended the convention in the red.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's appearance in Chicago gave several surprising revelations as to his health. Every time the general took a drink of water, he slid the glass from the right side of the rostrum to the left with his right hand, then raised the glass with his left.

The general also turned the pages of his manuscript with his left hand. By this he did not reveal a nervous tremble in his right hand.

The general did not wear glasses to read the "big type" of his manuscript, but his eyesight is known to be impaired.

"Fair Play" Fight—Senator Frank Carlson of Kansas now is given credit for conceiving the idea for General Eisenhower's "fair play" campaign to win him contested Southern state delegations at the GOP convention.

Senator Carlson has seen one of General Eisenhower's campaign co-chairmen fight from the start. He made little noise and attracted little attention to himself during the primary campaign. But at Denver he saw the political advantage of hammering away at this fair play campaign.

Ike's other backers picked it up and made the most of it. Battle Of Sound Trucks—The psychological battle of the sound trucks in Chicago went on all the time. The Eisenhower people were accused of stealing Taft slogans and songs.

Ike's press agents even wrote their own words to the tune that was Taft's campaign song in 1948, "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover." They made it, "I'm Looking Over Eight Eisenhower."

Taft forces had a yell, "Taft for me. Taft for you. Taft will win in '52." An Ike gag writer immediately changed it to "Ike for me. Ike for you. Taft can't win in '52." Loud speakers blared it everywhere.

Taft's Stunts Backfired—The Taft loudspeaker propaganda got pretty rough just before the big voting began. It was no secret that Senator Taft had little use for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

But this came out nasty when a sound truck went through the streets beating ear drums with the message: "Are you going to elect Thomas E. Dewey? If you are, you're a proxy? We will allow him to mastermind our party into another defeat? Phooey on Dewey. Republicans want a fighting campaign. Dewey! Full of Hoopie!"

Like so many of the Taft publicity stunts, this one backfired and did Taft more harm than good. Taftman Makes A Point—One of the few effective points made by Taft supporters in the hot convention delegate fight came from Eugene Werrell, a young Taft-Republican newspaper publisher from Bristol, Va.

"I don't mind Democrats climbing up on the Republican bandwagon with me," said Werrell, "but I hate to have 'em push me off." Their Stars Are Rising—Every convention reveals a few new figures who do such outstanding work that they attract national attention. Gov. Arthur E. Langlie of Washington state was the first of these. His successful handling of the Eisenhower forces' resolution to change the 1948 convention rules won him instant acclaim.

Then in the Credentials Committee, young Washington State Senator Donald W. Eastvold handled the contested Southern delegation cases for the Eisenhower forces so ably that he was marked for a bright political future.

with her. . . . It seemed like such a long time ago, those 15 years—but not so long as that night two weeks ago when Ted came to see her.

"It's—Chris, Katy. He's—dead." Ted had stumbled through it, somehow, and Katy had listened, her heart constricting, withering, dying a little, too, at his words. "I—Katy, I don't know how to tell you."

But he did tell her, and when he had finished Katy, stunned, just stood there by the fireplace, then not yet opened for the Fall and camouflaged with a huge bouquet of goldenrod Chris had picked that morning. She must have moaned aloud, for Ted moved to take her in his arms.

"Please, Ted—" she pushed him away. "Please go, Ted."

"You shouldn't be alone." "I am alone. Terribly alone." "You needn't be, darling. Oh," cried Katy, "I know this isn't the time but, Katy, I love you. I want to help you, Katy. If I can."

KATY didn't remember turning away from him, but she must have. She was standing at the window, staring dry-eyed into the night, when he went out to his car and drove into the blackness out yonder like a madman, running away from grief as she could not run from hers.

She moved like an automaton, down the broad stone steps at the front of the weathered gray courthouse and along the walk past boys playing catch on the lawn, frost-bitten and brown after last night. Her car was at the curb. She got into it, dully aware of a gnawing uneasiness that was neither the worry and the grief she had come to know so well in the last two weeks nor the new sense of a trap closing on her.

She had not had either breakfast or lunch. No wonder she felt a nauseating weakness.

But pay no attention to Uncle Bolivar; everybody knows he's a crank.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And All The King's Men

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was telling the story of Humpty Dumpty. He was telling it to Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy.

"Ah yes," said Daddy Ringtail. "It happened far away in a strange land where a king was ruler of all the people, and all the eggs too. One of the eggs was Humpty Dumpty who liked nothing better than sitting on a wall."

"Why?" asked Mugwump.

"Because," said Daddy Ringtail, "we wouldn't have a story about him, if he didn't like to sit on a wall."

"Oh," said Mugwump.

Daddy Ringtail went on to tell of the terrible, terrible day when Humpty Dumpty fell off the wall.

"Kersplat!"

There, Humpty Dumpty had fallen down and broken his shell. An egg with a broken shell is one that will never be put together again, everyone said.

But the King didn't care what people said. We wanted everyone please, please to try to put Humpty Dumpty together again, and everyone came from near and far to try to do it.

Tall people, short people, fat people, skinny people—boys and girls and mothers and dads and aunts and uncles and cousins and wives—all of them came to try. But they couldn't.

Everyone was sorry about it, everyone said. One of the men even wrote some words about the thing that had happened. He wrote:

"Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall. All the King's horses, and all the King's men, couldn't put Humpty together again." "Oh no! even though the horses did have a try at doing the thing that others couldn't do. "Really?" asked Mugwump.

Zany Guests Brighten Smug Haven, But There Are Rules

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK—(AP)—The first thing a couple does after buying a place in the country is to start having weekend guests.

This is because they make a surprising discovery. They find that in the smug retreat they yearned for "to get away from it all" they have a new problem—they can't get away from each other either.

So they start inviting weekend guests. And that serves a double purpose:

- 1.—It gives their rural Eden the horns that every paradise needs.
- 2.—It provides them with someone to talk to—and criticize—besides each other. Nothing brings a host and hostess closer together than their mutual disapproval of their house guests.

Guest Has Duty

The relationship between a weekend guest and his host and hostess is one of the most complicated rituals of American civilization.

What is the problem of the guest? He has a double duty. He must be neither a complete bore nor an utter boor. And yet he must make himself at least slightly ridiculous, or those who entertain him will feel cheated.

People who own country places have to trade tales of the strange antics of their house guests. So, if you behave yourself with perfect propriety, you frustrate your host and hostess. They have nothing to brag about themselves when their neighbor says on Tuesday:

"Well, we certainly had an odd one over this weekend. After he left we found he had been playing himself sick-tack-toe with a blue pencil on the bedroom wall."

The idea is to depart leaving your host and hostess with a feeling of warm goodwill and smug superiority.

The following guide may be handy to a guest who wants to achieve this goal:

1. If the phone rings just as you have tossed one of the host's children high in the air, don't run and pick up the receiver. Wait and catch the child first.
2. Never go into the kitchen unless the hostess first hands you a engraved invitation.
3. Don't merely chuckle at your host's jokes, or say, "I've heard that one." Roll on the floor in laughter.
4. Get badly sunburned. Suburbanites never really forgive a weekend guest who refuses to get sunburned.
5. Bring your own towels. Hostesses secretly hate guests who actually use those dingy evergreen napkins they drape around the bathroom and which carry such cute embroidery messages as "Put Your Paw Tracks Here."
6. If they get out the cards for a little game of canasta, be sensible and lose. Don't win. Do you think the host expects to pay out of his own pocket for all the hot dogs he serves you over a long weekend?
7. Hand your hostess a "guest insurance" policy on your arrival. This will cover the damage if you sit down on her antique sofa and break it.

Farther Tricks Help

8. Bring a gift they can use to make their country home more livable. A small station wagon is always acceptable.
9. Do something zany, such as standing on your head after every meal and explaining: "It's the only way I've found to confuse my ulcer." That'll give them something to tell their neighbors after you have gone.

Observe these simple rules, and the word will get around that you are an ideal weekend guest. People will soon be fighting to have you visit them—again and again.

Deep Budget Cuts For Civil Defense Puzzle Its Chiefs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Federal civil defense officials believe the records will show Congress has been stingier with funds for the national civil defense program than for any other major program.

They point to these figures: Budget requested for the year which started July 1, 600 million dollars; voted by Congress, 43 million; or little more than 7 per cent. Requested for the year 1951-52, 535 million; voted by Congress, 474,900,000.

Budget request for 1950-51, after Congress authorized a comprehensive national civil defense program, 463 million; Congress voted 31 million.

Civil defense officials say that when the 1950-51 appropriations were being considered, the House approved $186,750,000 and the Senate $55,000,000 but a Senate-House conference committee, without explanation, reduced the funds to $31,000,000.

President Truman and Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell have repeatedly appealed to Congress for more money for a strong civilian defense program.

"We simply cannot afford a penny-wise — pound-foolish attitude about the cost of adequate civil defense," Truman told Congress April 24.

"And now let me tell you what's wrong with this country, Mr. Politician!"

Here's A Questionnaire For Chronic Procrastinators

How long since—

- You've bought a new cook book, or tried some of the new recipes women forever are clipping out of newspapers and magazines and tucking away to use "some day"?
- You've made the first move toward friendship with a newcomer to your town or neighborhood?
- You've decided to rejuvenate a room, spending more energy than money on the project?
- You've really caught up with all the entertaining you know you should do?
- You've had a session with your mirror, trying to figure out just what you could do to improve your looks?
- You've read, not just to pass the time, but to study up on a subject that interests you?
- You've tackled a job you knew others could do, but thought was beyond you, whether that job was making a speech, or painting or papering a room?
- You've managed to get on good terms with someone you felt didn't like you?
- Scheduled for "Manana"?
- You've planned a day just for your own or for your own and your family's enjoyment?
- You've added something to your home not just for looks or as a work saver, but for the enjoyment of the family?
- You've done something for a friend in spite of the fact that it was actually inconvenient to you?
- You've made a telephone call or written a letter to a friend with whom you were out of touch?
- You've given your life a thorough house-cleaning, trying to weed out as many non-essentials as possible to leave more time for the things you know are important?
- If the answer to several of those questions is "too long"—you can always do one of those things today.

Revised U. S. Savings Bond Boosts Sales During Month

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Savings bond buying has picked up since the government puts its higher-interest bond on sale May 1. But purchases haven't yet caught up with total cash-ins.

Treasury officials report people bought $543,100,000 worth of the new-type E Bond and its brand new companion, the H Bond, during May and June.

In the same months last year, purchases of the old-type E Bond—which automatically gets the same more attractive rates as the new type—came to $490,200,000.

Officials expressed optimism that sales will increase even more as people become familiar with the new bond's greater attractions and when the printer delivers the new issue for actual delivery to buyers in a few days.

So far, buyers have been given "interim receipts" and assurance they'll be able to turn them in for the new issue when the printer

YOU GET PAID WHILE VOTING

AUSTIN—(AP)—Attorney General Price Daniel says an employer can't keep an employee from going to the polls nor deduct from his wages for the time spent voting.

He said a Texas law so providing is constitutional.

The penalty is a fine up to $500.

The legal ruling was asked by Criminal District Attorney Stewart W. Hellman of Fort Worth. Assistant Attorney General Mary K. Wall prepared the written opinion.

ANDREWS CHURCH HAS NEW MINISTER

ANDREWS—The Rev. Evans I. Burleson of Brady has assumed his duties as pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church here.

He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Howard Payne College at Brownwood.

A brother, Jimmy Burleson, is manager of an Andrews theater.

The first stable for White House horses eventually became a school in 1821 for the poor children of Washington.

CIO Editor Fears Economic Recession

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The CIO believes an economic recession is likely in 1953 and 1954 unless something is done to head it off.

Among other things, it recommended in the current issue of Economic Outlook that business lower its profits to help stimulate sales.

The article said if consumer spending does not rise enough to make up for the leveling off of defense spending and the drop in building of new plants and equipment, production and employment will fall off.

"There is no widespread backlog of pent-up consumer demand now as there was after World War II," the CIO said. "Consumers do not have any substantial liquid savings as they did on V-J Day."

The MATURE PARENT

Why Children Earning Money Should Pay Their Way At Home

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In Mrs. Carey's oven, the meat loaf is overdone. As Mr. Carey is hungry and out of sorts, his wife decides not to delay dinner any longer for her daughter.

When her parents are finishing dessert, Ann breezes in the front door. Two dress boxes swinging on their loops from her hand. She looks very smart, very trim in her new navy suit and red lizard accessories. She smiles gaily at her parents, says, "Hi, I'll be right down. I'm starving"—and runs upstairs to her room.

"More new clothes again?" asks Ann's father.

"Now, Joe, she's only young once," begins Mrs. Carey when her husband throws down his table napkin.

"Young once" nothing!" shouted Mr. Carey. "The girl's earning $48 a week! No wonder she can buy three new dresses every Friday! If she had to pay for her room and board..."

He stops at the look of panic on his wife's face. "Hush!" cries Mrs. Carey. "She'll hear you! You'll kill me, Joe, if you say anything to the child about paying rent and board in her own home."

Since Mr. Carey does not want to kill Mrs. Carey, he hushes. He goes out to the garage and starts unwinding hose to clean his car.

If we could look into Mrs. Carey's mind, we'd see thoughts like this running through it: "What a peace-maker I am... how superior is my love for my child than her father's..."

It isn't, of course. It's not love that motivates Mrs. Carey's indulgence of her daughter's artificial standards of living. It is selfishness.

If we truly love our earning children who live at home with us, we require them to contribute just portions of their earnings to their food and shelter.

If we can accept this, we will not, like Mr. Carey, feel belligerent toward the earning child whom we have misguided. Nor, like Mrs. Carey, will we fear to lose their good will by seeing that they are provided with better self-respect. With our motive of love clarified, we will be able to approach Ann reasonably and kindly.

What Ann's mother really has been up to is providing Ann with a totally unrealistic income. Why does she encourage indulgence of extravagance that her daughter can only afford because she lives in her parents' home?

Doesn't Ann's mother want her to ever have a home of her own where she will have to pay for fundamentals? Does she want her to be a discontented wife in that home because she can't afford red lizard shoes—and pay her bills? Is she using Ann to satisfy an old grudge that she could not have red lizard shoes when she was young? Or does she just enjoy her pose of being a specially "understanding" mother?

Love for children never is interested in what they have but in what they are. We cannot touch love, smell it, weigh it, see it or pour it into a laboratory vial. It is an intangible, and produces intangibles like self-esteem and self-approval.

Love is not concerned with red lizard shoes, convertibles or pretty clothes. When we love a child, we are supremely interested in what adorns his inside, not his outside. That is why we shouldn't hesitate to ask earning children to pay their way. The dollars they give us are not just something to line pocket-book, but something to line their own dignity and freedom.

Daughter Of Revolutionist Holds Kremlin In Contempt

NAPLES—(AP)—The daughter of Mikhail Bakunin, a pioneer of the Russian Revolution, wants nothing to do with the men in the Kremlin today.

Now 75 years old and gray haired, little five-foot Maria Bakunin stamped her foot with rage when asked to comment upon the Kremlin masters and their attitude towards her father's ideas.

"I want nothing to do with those men. I know nothing. I cannot give interviews about things which I have lost contact," she cried.

An Italian government pensioner, Maria Bakunin is now "living quietly among the things of science." She has spent much of her life in Italy studying chemistry, and later teaching it.

Interviewed in one of Naples University chemistry examination chambers, she carefully shunned expressing opinions upon the present rulers of Russia.

She recalled her only visit to Russia was in 1933 with other students sent there on mission.

"We went around," she said, "but I still have nothing to do with those people."

Her wide, blue eyes, which have not lost their fire with age, sparkled as she recalled how her father, persecuted, fled first to Siberia and then to Switzerland with his family. He died in Switzerland and is buried in Bern's cemetery.

"There were three of us," Maria said, "my sister Sofia, who graduated as a doctor and now is retired—and lives with her husband in Naples, and my brother, who died years ago."

She said her husband, Dr. Ottolago, died a few years ago. And as she said it she spread her hands in a futile gesture of resignation.

IKE THREATENS U. S. 'RECORDS'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—George Washington may have been first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen, but if Dwight D. Eisenhower is elected President he'll be first in a lot of things, too.

The records show he would be the first President whose first name had only one syllable, his last as many as four; the first whose first name began with the letter D and his last with E.

Not only that, he would be the first President born in Texas, and the first general elected to the chief executive post in the 20th Century.

Elks Elect Stern As Exalted Ruler

NEW YORK—(AP)—Sam Stern, a Fargo, N.D., banker, was the unanimous choice Monday as the seventh-sixth head of the Elks.

The 64-year-old Stern succeeds Howard R. Davis, a retired weekly newspaper editor of Williamsport, Pa., as grand exalted ruler of the Elks. The term is for one year.

A Selective BULL Market

- New Study Lists 25 Stocks Selling Under Their Highs of the 1942-46 Bull Market—All Earned More and Paid Bigger Dividends in 1951 Than in Either 1945 or 1946.

That the Bull Market of the past several years has been a highly selective one is indicated by our recent study of 1077 leading stocks. We found that 575 of these have not sold as high during the past five years as they did in 1946. Even more surprising is the fact 173 of these stocks actually earned more and paid larger dividends in 1951 than in 1945 or 1946.

Our new research report selects 25 of these stocks. As a group they are currently selling 27% under their 1946 prices, and in 1951 their earnings were 94% higher and their dividends 82% larger than at the higher of their 1945 or 1946 levels. Their average yield is 6.2%.

A-Bomb Film Gets Imp act From Scale Models

New York City will crumble before your eyes. And before you get to your feet bombs will level San Francisco and Boulder Dam. But don't be alarmed. For if you witness this shocking panorama of destruction, you will be seated in one of the theaters that will soon show Hollywood's newest thriller, "Invasion, U. S. A." Achieving extreme realism with meticulously constructed miniature replicas of several cities, the film portrays an atomic invasion of the U. S. Reproduced at left and below are scenes from the grim American Pictures Corporation film.

Air Photos Reveal Reds Are In Error

TOKYO—The United Nations Command said Monday night aerial photographs showed that UN warplanes did not bomb a Communist camp for Allied prisoners of war in the Pyongyang raid Friday, as Reds asserted.

Miss Italy Says Politics Swayed Universe Judges

HOLLYWOOD—Some of the American girls who wound up as "also rans" in the Miss Universe Contest recently in Long Beach, Calif., do not agree with Miss Italy, who says in her native Rome that an American girl should have been crowned winner.

The Italian miss contended the contest was rigged in favor of Miss Finland, who won, as an Olympic Games publicity stunt.

The Italian contestant, Giovanna Mazzotti, a movie starlet, said she was particularly impressed with the "beauty and perfection" of Miss Louisiana; Jeanne Thompson; Miss Montana; Valerie Jackson; Miss New Jersey; Ruth Hampton, and others.

But the Louisiana entrant, Miss Thompson, of Baton Rouge, said it is her opinion "and the consensus of the American girls, I believe" that the judges picked the right girl, Armi Kuusela, who is Miss Finland.

Miss Jackson concurred with her and said that while it was "most gracious" of the Italian miss to favor the American girls, she did not believe there were political considerations involved, as Miss Mazzotti declared.

Russell Represents South, New Deal In Party Contest

AP News Service
 ATLANTA—Dick Russell is a man of many parts—historian, politician, parliamentarian, agrarian, New Dealer and Southern conservative. The 54-year-old Georgian bachelor senator will go before the national Democratic convention seeking the presidential nomination tagged as anti-negro and anti-labor. The ex-governor of Georgia has helped to block a vote in the Senate on the proposed Civil Rights legislation. He also voted for the Taft-Hartley law and the Case anti-strike bill, both anathema to labor. In other fields Russell has been a staunch New Dealer and has gone down the line with few exceptions with the administration of President Harry Truman in foreign relations.

Aided Soil Conservation
 In the 80th Congress, controlled by the Republicans, Russell almost singlehandedly increased the appropriation for soil conservation payments from zero to $150 million dollars.

He initiated the school lunch program and for several years, when there was no formal appropriation, carried the whole affair on his back, using parliamentary tactics to obtain money.

Russell is an expert on military affairs and, as chairman of the Armed Services Committee, bore the brunt of the fight for Universal Military Training. He conducted the hearing on the dismissal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

It was in 1948 that Russell emerged as a possible presidential candidate. The Southern bloc, opposed to inclusion of a Civil Rights plank in the Democratic platform, gave Russell 363 votes for the nomination.

He will carry greatly increased strength into the convention this year. His supporters claim he will have at least 300 votes by convention time, July 21.

Richard Brewster Russell, Jr., was the oldest boy among the 13 children of the late Georgia Supreme Court Chief Justice, Richard B. Russell. He was born Nov. 2, 1897.

Legend has it that after the birth of three girls, two of whom died, the old judge was so excited at the birth of Dick that he rushed outside and celebrated by firing off both barrels of a shotgun.

Russell was graduated from the University of Georgia in 1918, near at the end of World War I. He was in the Navy 78 days before the war ended and he was discharged.

He returned to Widener and opened a law office. He subsequently entered politics and at 23 was elected to the Georgia House. By 1927 he was speaker and carried into his campaign for governor a reputation for never having had a ruling reversed.

Economical Campaigner
 In 1930, he stumped the state in the gubernatorial campaign in a second-hand car, sometimes sleeping in it for lack of funds. He shook so many hands that at the end of the campaign his own right hand had callouses.

At 33 he became the youngest governor in Georgia's history. Probably his outstanding achievement as chief executive was the reduction of the state's number of departments, bureaus, boards and committees from 103 to 25. He also set up Georgia's first budget system.

Imbibing Cost Rises, Too; Wine Fills Compromise Cup

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Riddle: How can spirits be higher and lower at the same time? Well, it's happening in the liquor business these days, where the tax-inspired high cost of distilling spirits has brought on a period of poor business and low spirits among whiskey men.

Business is so bad, in fact, that the liquor industry is calling this era "prohibition by taxation." They exaggerate. Although the new excise tax, slapped on last November, has hurt the business, it hasn't made people stop drinking. This isn't simply an age of alcoholic adjustment.

A lady in St. Paul gives a dinner party and serves cocktails, not highballs. A farmer in Iowa buys two bottles of wine instead of his usual fifth of whiskey. A New York business man sends his big customer three bottles, not the customary case. Some college boys in Ohio pool their funds and find they can only afford a pint, not a fifth.

These isolated cases fit the nationwide pattern: since the excise tax went into effect, people have changed their drinking habits radically.

As hard liquor was hurt, wine has been helped. Men find they can get just as happy on two bottles of port for $2, which has about the same alcoholic content as one bottle of whiskey for $4. So they figure any old Port in a storm, and switch to wine.

Results: shipments of California wine in March of this year were almost 10 per cent over the five-year average for that month. And, for the January-to-March period of 1952, they were 11.34 per cent over the five-year average for those same three months.

But some people don't want to switch to wine. They still like a nip of bourbon or scotch or rye. So they buy a pint at a time, instead of a bigger bottle.

Result: in March of this year, almost 40 per cent of bonded whiskey was put into pint bottles. Just a year ago, that percentage was only 23.

Add up all the wine-switchers and the pint-switchers and the one-bottle-at-a-time-instead-of-two-switchers and here's the result:

Taxes were paid on 33,199,777 gallons of distilled spirits in the first quarter of 1952. That's 42.3 per cent below the same period of 1951. Of course, last year was an abnormally "high" one; there was much liquor scarce buying. But you can't laugh off the fact that so far 1952 is a whopping 5.3 per cent under the normal year, 1948.

Liquor men, naturally, blame all this on that old devil excise tax. An alcoholic drink is currently the most heavily taxed consumer item. The present tax is $10.50 per gallon. Out of every dollar you shell out for distilled spirits, 56 cents goes for federal, state and local taxes.

Actually, it only costs about $1.10 to make a gallon of whiskey. You pay somewhere around $4 for a fifth of a gallon. It's simply taxes, say the liquor men, that make the retail cost so high.

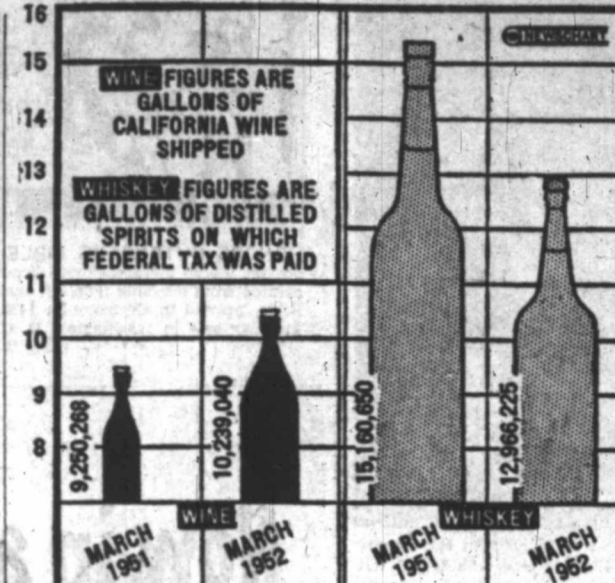

Whatever it is, it's reached the point where consumer resistance is being felt. Despite the raising of the excise tax on liquor, tax receipts in January were $101,000,000, which is 52.3 per cent below the corresponding month of 1951. Receipts in April of this year are estimated to be the lowest in over two years.

This has hit the liquor manufacturer in their alcoholic cash registers. Distillers, in the first quarter of 1952, saw their profits decline 57.5 per cent from last year—the biggest drop of any industry from '51 to '52.

Let prohibitionists regard this as a victory, they should know it isn't. These figures just apply to distilled spirits—whiskey of various types. There is no noticeable decline of drinks on the street; they may have gotten that way on beer or wine, not whiskey, but they're just as soured.

What is actually happening is people are drinking differently. A trade magazine survey of America's drinking habits showed that, while whiskey and soda is still the most popular alcoholic drink, there are new ones coming up. And most of these are non-whiskey drinks.

You'll be hearing about the grasshopper and the screwdriver. Both are already popular in the west. The

Physician Treats Heart Of Patient In Rare Operation

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — While heart massage operations have become quite common, the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital reports an unusual one in which a physician reached a patient's heart by thrusting his hand through the abdominal cavity.

Paul C. Elliott, the hospital's administrator, has told a reporter of the occurrence on an operating table last week. Elliott explained that in most instances where massage is used to restore heartbeat the doctor opens the chest to reach the vital organ.

But in the operation on a 45-year-old man his abdomen had been opened for an ulcer operation. Elliott said he had been on the table more than an hour when his breathing stopped. One of the surgeons promptly slid his hand into the abdominal cavity and up to the membrane that separates this cavity from the chest cavity.

Working through the membrane he gently massaged the heart. Elliott said that after about two and one-half minutes there was a feeble heartbeat that gradually gained strength. Then pulse and respiration became restored.

The hospital official said the patient is now resting comfortably and apparently is suffering no ill effects from the heart stoppage. The names of the patient and doctor were not disclosed.

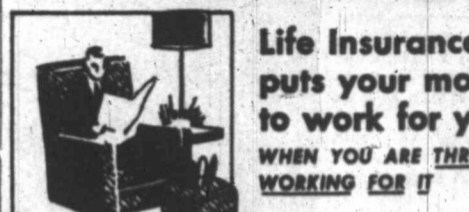

Soda drinkers than they used to serve, but mostly their elbow-benders are bending the same elbows. It is drinking at home that's changed. It is here that the price boosts have been felt. It is here that highballs are higher than ever.
