Crane, Newman Set 8,100-Foot Wildcat In NW Howard Area

Crane Oil Company of Texas and Newman Brothers Drilling Company both of San Antonio, No. 1 Mrs. Hassie Clanton is to be an 8,100-foot wildcat in Northwest Howard County.

It is one and one half miles east of the nearest completed oil wells in the Vealmoor, (Pennsylvanian) field and 18 miles north of Big Spring.

To Vealmoor Pay

The scheduled destination of 8,100 feet should take the project into the pay section of the nearby Vealmoor field. Operations are due to be started by July 25.

Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 35, block 37, T-3-N, T&P survey.

The wildcat is five miles north of Luther.

Oil, Salt Water Found On Devonian DST In NW Yoakum

The Texas Company found oil and salt water on a drillstem test of the Devonian in No. 1 Cobb, wildcat in Northwest Yoakum County wildcat.

Interval tested was from 12,140 to 12,168. Tool was open two hours. There was a strong blow of air throughout the test. Recovery was 1,350-foot water blanket out with oil and gas. 80 feet of free oil, 45.3 gravity, and 2,400 feet of oil and gas-out salt water. No gas or fluid surfaced on the test. Open flowing bottomhole pressure ranged from 215 to 1,780 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 4,900 pounds. Operator was running logs.

The Devonian was topped at 12,135 feet, no elevation available.

Location is 600 feet from north and east lines of section 234, block D, John H. Gibson survey and 13 miles northwest of Plains.

Stanolind Opener In Tom Green Completes From Shallow Zone

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has completed a pumping oil discovery in Southwest Tom Green County from a conglomerate pay at 27-53 feet at its No. 1-C J. Willis Johnson.

The wildcat pumped 22.4 barrels of 26-gravity oil and 4.15 barrels of fresh water in 24 hours on the completion test.

Production's Natural

The production was natural. The shallow field opener is six and one-half miles north of Christoval. It is 100 feet from south and 8,170 feet from east lines of the George Smith survey No. 1813.

This wildcat was drilled to test shows of oil found in a slim selenomograph hole which was dug several months ago.

Stanolind punched No. 1-C Johnson to a total depth of 150 feet. It found no shows of possible production below 85 feet.

Hole Was Plugged Back

The hole was plugged back to that point and 7-inch casing was cemented at 27 feet, the top of the pay section.

The completion of the pump resulted.

It is understood Stanolind plans to give the shallow discovery an extended pumping test before deciding on definite plans for any future development in that region.

The conglomerate formation which is making the oil is in the Trinity zone of the basal Cretaceous. Surface rock in that area is the Edwards limestone of the Cretaceous.

CONVENTION FRAME-UP—A worker in Chicago puts the finishing touches on a huge 11-by-14-foot portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt which will be one of the two principal decorative pieces at the Democratic Convention. The other will be a similar portrait of President Truman.

Candidates Revamp Tactics After 'No Betrayal' Demand

CHICAGO—(AP)—President Truman's fighting declaration against any convention "betrayal" of his political creed paced a new trend among Democratic presidential aspirants Thursday.

Without any apparent advance knowledge of Truman's blunt demand for endorsement of his "Fair Deal" program, at least two candidates moved to put themselves in a position—if they get the nomination—to lead a fight against what they called "Republican reaction."

Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, plagued by his designation as the anti-Truman candidate of the South, made a bid for Northern labor and "Fair Deal" support with a denunciation of the Taft-Hartley Law, which he helped enact.

Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, self-titled peoples' choice for the nomination, called for a fight on what he labeled "Republican isolationism and reaction."

Their declarations seemed to indicate a developing pattern of thinking among the Republicans' choice of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will force the Democrats to pick a nominee who can call himself a progressive.

In words that parallel Truman's official message to the convention delegates, Kefauver told a news conference:

"The Democratic Party must continue to be the liberal, progressive party of the nation. We cannot retreat on either foreign policy or in the domestic field."

Kefauver leads in the Associated Press delegate tabulation with 248 1/2 votes to 121 for Russell, based on pledges of support and known first-ballot preferences. Mutual Security Director Averell Harriman, an all-out supporter of Truman policies, is running third with 108 votes. It takes 618 to win.

Truman said in his message, to be printed in the official convention program handed to delegates of the 12th delegates, that no other political party has "done so much, so well, for so many people." He declared:

"There must be no turning back or faltering on the great course our party has pioneered. There must be no betrayal of the New Deal and Fair Deal."

Matching the call of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the GOP presidential nominee, for a "shining promise" crusade by the Republicans, Truman sounded the bugle note of a "burning faith" crusade by the Democrats.

"There will be voices calling us to turn aside from the path to victory," the President said. "We cannot afford to be beguiled by the weary or the faithless."

Will Not Compromise

"Our answer must be that we will not compromise with the forces of defeatism, or reaction, or fear—that we will not retreat from the great humanitarian principles that have made our country what it is today."

Truman's message, apparently written well before he went to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington for a checkup after his tussle with a virus infection, exploded a new bomb under efforts of National Chairman Frank McKinney and others to compromise a civil rights plank in the party platform.

And it threatened further complications in the contest over the seating of rival delegations from Texas. One of these, headed by Gov. Allan Shivers, definitely is anti-Administration. The other, headed by Rep. Maury Maverick, is tabbed as a "loyalist" group.

Truman's call for "bold and resolute" action was interpreted here as reaffirming his stand that the party must not compromise on the civil rights issue.

Lloyd McNeil, 66, Dies Here Thursday

Lloyd McNeil, 66-year-old metal lathing contractor died in a Midland hospital Thursday after being ill for only a day.

He was stricken Wednesday at his home north of the fair grounds and was rushed to the hospital, where he died at 9 a.m. Thursday.

A native of Altoona, Ill., he moved to Midland six years ago and owned the L and L Trailer Courts.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon in the First Presbyterian Church under direction of the Rev. W. Ellis Chapel.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Lillian McNeil; three brothers, Maurice of Vancouver, B. C., Jay of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Harry of New Orleans, La.; and three sisters, Mrs. George Aley of Niagara Falls, N. Y., Mrs. Mitchell Dorane of Niagara Falls, and Mrs. Edna Platte of Berwinstale, Pa.

More Drenching Rain Peppers Water-Logged Coastal Sector

By The Associated Press

Drenching rains raked a wide section of East and Central Texas Thursday, indirectly causing two violent deaths and flooding two highways.

Near Waco a truck skidded on rain-slick pavement Thursday and slammed into another truck, killing Theodore Hill, 47, of Marble Falls and an unidentified woman believed to be his wife.

An area of storm weather churning in the Gulf of Mexico brought the soaking rains to the Texas coast and far inland.

Heavily traveled U. S. Highway 90 between Orange and Lake Charles, La., has been closed because of flooding. District Highway Engineer W. E. Simmons of Orange said. High seas and debris have also forced closing of U. S. 87 between Sabine Pass and High Island, Simmons added.

The rain—spurred by the squally Gulf weather—hit Orange the hardest.

The showers had dumped 9.48 inches of rain on that Gulf Coast city in two days. 7.43 inches in 24 hours ending Thursday morning. And it still was raining there at mid-morning.

Firemen rescued a woman from her trailer at Orange several hours after the downpour ripped an awning loose from its moorings and pinned it against the trailer door. Shouts from the woman finally attracted a neighbor's attention.

High winds almost flattened an unoccupied house, in the process of being torn down.

Streets Flooded

Orange streets, where children swam and dived Wednesday, were mostly free of water Thursday and traffic was back to normal. Telephone and electric power had been restored after lightning caused several interruptions.

For the third straight day showers spawned by the Gulf squalls raked the Texas coast and several inland points.

Texas in those areas awoke to gloomy, overcast skies and drizzling rain. At mid-morning it was raining at Dallas, Waco, Lufkin, Houston, Palacios, Galveston, Austin, Fort Worth and Longview.

It was this same unsettled weather that kicked up two tornadoes at Texarkana, Ark., Wednesday afternoon.

One twister damaged an empty hangar at Texarkana's airport. The other destroyed three or four houses at the Rondo, Ark., community northeast of Texarkana. There were no reports of injuries.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said winds hit 40 miles an hour Wednesday, pushing up high tides from Mobile, Ala., to Galveston.

Small craft warnings were still out Thursday from near Corpus Christi, to Pensacola, Fla.

A Navy "hurricane hunter" plane made two flights into the squall area Wednesday. It reported no possibility of its hatching out into a hurricane.

Texas skies were overcast from the coast to Big Spring. West of

Truman Will Quit Hospital By Saturday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman spent a "very good night" at the Army's Walter Reed hospital, aides said Thursday. They reported that Truman expects to get back to the White House Saturday.

The 68-year-old President entered the hospital Wednesday, marking the first time he was hospitalized since he took office more than seven years ago. He is undergoing a series of tests as a result of a mild virus infection with which he was afflicted Sunday.

Joseph Short, the President's press secretary, said Truman is keeping busy going over the great number of bills passed in the closing days of Congress and still requiring his signature. He has about 80 bills to go.

Mrs. Truman came home by train Thursday from Independence, Mo., arriving at 8:44 a.m. She drove directly to the hospital, where her husband occupies the presidential suite.

The first lady, who had spent 10 days in Independence with her ailing mother, declined to discuss the President's health, but allowed photographs to be taken.

Short said Truman's physician, Maj. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, expects the President's temperature "may go up a teeny little bit" again Thursday afternoon, as it has been doing since Sunday. Truman had no fever Thursday morning.

And, Short added: "The President expects to be back in the White House by Saturday."

Short emphasized again that the President went to the hospital not because of his illness but to facilitate running the medical tests Dr. Graham wanted to make.

Virginia Democrats Clear Way For Southern Walkout

ROANOKE, VA.—(AP)—Former Gov. William M. Tuck called on Virginia Democrats Thursday to clear the way for a clean break with the national Democratic Party should the South be rebuffed at next week's convention in Chicago. The ex-governor, in a keynote speech before more than 2,000 delegates to the Democratic State Convention, bitterly assailed "the spurious doctrines . . . of 'Trumanism' and 'Fair Dealism'" and told the convention:

"By proper action before recessing today, it is essential that the delegates here assembled be assured of the opportunity of reconvening, if necessary, after the Chicago convention to take such further steps as may be in order for the protection, first of all, of the basic American principles and traditions so dear to us; and secondly, for the preservation of the Democratic Party of Virginia."

Tuck, one of the principal figures in the dominant state Democratic organization headed by Senator Harry F. Byrd, had warm praise for Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, a candidate for the presidential nomination.

But he declared that the national Democratic Party "as at present constituted cannot long endure." And he promised that the South, with Virginia, will wage relentless warfare on "Trumanism" at Chicago.

Following Tuck's address, party members were to name the final bloc of delegates to the national convention. The state's 38-man delegation will have 28 votes.

Forecasters said the rainy weather would move slowly westward Thursday and Friday and wouldn't start clearing up until Friday night. Thursday morning's low reported temperature was 59 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle. Laredo had 80, the high minimum. Wednesday's high was 102 at Presidio, Laredo and Cotulla.

Rainfall totals for 24 hours ended at 6:30 a.m. gave Amarillo 54 inch, Dallas 56, Houston 73, Beaumont 1.87, Fort Worth 3.5, Palestine 17, Galveston 3.11, Texarkana 17, Childress 10, Tyler 26, Corsicana 22, Bonham 37, Honey Grove 1.91.

Bostonian Admits Shooting Coed As She Read Her Mail

NEW YORK—(AP)—An Air Force veteran obsessed with a theory for prolonging life was brought back in handcuffs Thursday to New York where he says he killed a blonde he didn't even know on the Columbia University's campus.

Bayard F. Peakes, 30, strode off a train from Boston, appearing almost to drag a detective to whom he was handcuffed.

He was brought back here after confessing orally in Boston to killing pretty, blonde Eileen Fahy, 18, last Monday. Police rushed him to the district attorney's office.

Boston police said Peakes, who had been given a mental discharge from the Air Force, told them he just "wanted to kill someone" because of an academic failure.

Miss Fahy, a bookkeeper, was shot to death at her desk in the American Physical Society office on the campus as she read the first of three letters she had received earlier that day from Pfc. Ronald Leo of the First Marine Division in Korea.

PARENTS TAKE CALM ATTITUDE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The parents of slain Eileen Fahy said Thursday they were taking "a Christian attitude" toward the man who police said confessed to slaying her.

"We thought all along it was a crackpot," said Francis Fahy, father of the 18-year-old blonde secretary who was slain at her desk Monday in the American Physical Society on the Columbia University campus.

"We knew she was a good girl and there could be no personal reason" for anyone killing her, Fahy said.

Leo, granted a 30-day leave, is flying here to attend Miss Fahy's funeral Saturday.

Boston Police Captain Francis Wilson said Peakes told of purchasing a .32 caliber pistol last June

Two-Day Hike In State-Wide Flow Ordered

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Railroad Commission Thursday boosted the Texas crude oil allowable for August to 2,924,306 barrels a day, a whopping increase of 187,392 barrels over the current rate of flow.

The big jump in allowable follows four consecutive months of cutbacks which had dropped the permissive flow almost half a million barrels a day since mid-March.

Addition of two state-wide producing days will be responsible for the expanded output. This will mean 20 state-wide days of flow in August, with the big East Texas field remaining on 19 days.

The commission acted immediately after a brief state-wide production hearing at which only one major purchaser recommended a cut.

The big boost particularly pleased members of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association whose president, Bryan W. Payne of Tyler, warned at the hearing:

"We feel that the time has arrived to let it be known that we cannot stand idly by and watch our domestic industry injured by a few importing companies who find it in their temporary interest to produce more profitable oil abroad at the expense of domestic production."

"Payne was applauded by a scattering of the audience when he said, 'The question that concerns this commission is whether it will give encouragement to the domestic industry or the handful of importers.'"

Chairman Olin Gulberson expressed surprise that no one at the hearing had sought an exception to the commission's "across-the-board policy."

He said such requests had "flooded" his office prior to the hearing, but added: "Short of a war, I'll never vote for a change in that policy."

The commission's across-the-board policy gives all oil producers proportional cuts or increases in any given district.

Increased production for August was requested by every visitor except Ralph Dietler, board chairman. (Continued On Page 10)

Four Die As Plane Dives Into Houses

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—An Oregon insurance man, his bride of a month and her parents died Thursday as their light plane, taking off into a heavy fog, hit two houses on the edge of an airport.

No one was injured in the houses. Occupants of the one most badly wrecked are on vacation. It was set afire.

The pilot was identified as Dale E. Baker, 38, Grass Valley, Ore., insurance man and ranch owner. With him were his bride, the former Muriel Joanne Jones, 21, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson F. Jones of Gresham, Ore., near Portland. Mrs. Florence Joyce Jones, the bride's mother, is a Gresham schoolteacher.

In the wreckage, littering the street outside the two houses, police found an album of pictures of the Baker's wedding.

David C. Johnson, an aircraft worker and World War II fighter pilot, said he heard the plane in an apparent power dive.

"His controls must have been frozen," said Johnson. "I knew nobody would be doing acrobatics in that overcast. So I just waited for the crash."

Worker Dies In Highway Accident

Cecil Ray Partee, 23-year-old Midland oil field worker, was killed Wednesday night in an automobile accident eight miles west of his home in Colorado City.

Officers said his automobile failed to negotiate a curve and plunged into an embankment shortly after 6 p.m.

Partee had been working in the oil fields of Midland County the last several weeks and was enroute to his home in Colorado City.

Funeral services have not been completed by Kiker and Son Funeral Home of Colorado City.

Surviving are the widow and two year-old twin daughters, Fay and Kay Partee.

Nancy Kefauver Is Dynamic Campaigner

By RUTH COWAN

CHICAGO—Nancy Kefauver, who tossed her husband's coonskin cap into the presidential race, is in there pitching in the last roundup in the white felt wide-brimmed new hat with a snappy off-the-face brim.

The senator from Tennessee, and his vivacious red-haired wife are on the scene setting up headquarters for the final battle for the Democratic nomination.

The eyebrows of practical politicians lifted when Nancy Kefauver a few months back conceded that well, yes, her husband would like to live in the White House but their children were not so sure.

Since then the senator and his wife as a team have traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific, participated in some 14 or 15 primaries, and covered, so the senator estimates, about 118,000 miles.

Scottish-born Nancy Kefauver said that in Britain candidates stand for election but in this country they run—and I know what they mean.

State delegations are meeting over the weekend prior to the formal opening of the convention Monday. There is something of a plan for the Kefauvers to appear at each. "But," said an aide to Nancy, "I don't know how you can appear at 48."

Mary Hale of Fort Stockton and Nancy Roberts of Midland served the refreshments and Pat Boles presided at the guest book. Other members of the houseparty were Mrs. G. J. Sevier and Mrs. L. C. Link.

An arrangement of pink shaggy mums centered the refreshment table which was covered with a white cloth over pink. Other decorations also carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of pink and white.

Approximately 40 guests attended.

Patience Is Watchword

In all the hubbalooboo that attended the Republican Convention, some other news got pushed back in the papers. You may have missed the story, for example, that told of the first anniversary of the beginning of the truce talks in Korea.

It was July 10, 1951, that an Army helicopter bounced to a stop on a dusty field in Kaesong. The UN truce team got out and began the deliberations that have been, in turn, hopeful, annoying, maddening and, nowadays, downright frustrating.

Statistically, there has been quite a record amassed during the talks at Kaesong and Panmunjom. The reports that have been taken from a stack that stands seven feet high.

All in all, UN and Communist negotiators have conversed for a total of almost 800 hours. Which is a lot of sound and fury to signify nothing, or almost nothing.

This situation is difficult to fathom. There are many who believe the Reds are deliberately stalling, to permit a buildup of their forces. But how long does it take to accomplish that?

Their feared Summer offensive has not, as yet, shown itself. They've had ample time to strengthen themselves for a major assault.

So, perhaps, the Reds' motives in holding up a decent truce are deeper than just stalling tactics for military reasons. There is much to the theory that their motives, indeed, go far beyond another offensive.

What have the Reds got to gain from another big push? Our generals have time and again insisted that we can beat back any Communist attack. And the Reds, in small assaults, have discovered the truth of those claims. So the Communists have nothing to gain, except bloodshed, in further offensives.

What have the Reds got to gain from a complete truce, a cessation of hostilities? They've been forced back to the 38th Parallel, back to where they started. They've been beaten. The UN had succeeded in its aim of driving them out of South Korea. A complete truce at the present line would, in reality, be a defeat for communism.

Their only alternative is this present stalemate. With the status as it is now, they rightly can claim the war still is going on. They can make propaganda speeches about victory still to come. The stalemate is their only chance to salvage something from their evil adventure.

As long as it exists, they still are in business in Korea. As soon as truce comes, or they attack again and are beaten decisively, they expose themselves as losers. So they are, presumably, prolonging the discussions for the precise purpose of prolonging the discussions.

It is up to the UN negotiating team to try to reach a truce. From our standpoint, that is much preferable to beating the Reds on the battlefield. Both will mean victory, but one will also mean more bloodshed.

That's why our negotiators endure the endless insults and propaganda of their opposite numbers on the Communist team.

And that's why as these tedious talks turn to their second year, we must not underestimate their importance. Like our negotiators, we must have patience.

Allies Pass Test

Americans cannot have failed to notice the recent step-up in military activity along the Korean front. Dispatches suggest this was an important probing action by the Chinese and North Korean Reds, who were seeking to test the strength of our present defenses and the speed of our response.

If they thought to find us soft or slow, they have been grievously disappointed. We not only repelled the probing attacks; we pressed the Communists back beyond their former line and took new ground of our own.

Much has been made of the big Red build-up during the almost 12 months of fruitless truce talks. There can be no question it is real. But we may be indulging in dangerous defeatism if we guess therefore that the Reds now may be able to throw us off the Korean peninsula. We have not been idle these 12 months ourselves, and utterly no proof has been offered that we cannot successfully defend the bulk of South Korea.

Will anybody ever live to see the day when there are enough pleasant, smiling faces to go around?

It's always easier to find a bright future when you pull the shades down on a dark past.

What some folk don't know about good judgment is what keeps them in trouble lots of the time.

Anyway you look at it, the outcome of most of your plans these days depends on the income.

Many A Slip

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson: Copyright, 1952, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc. Drew Pearson says: Averell Harriman has become a real presidential possibility. Once conservative, Harriman now is a Bible-pounding liberal; He saw Russian danger early.

WASHINGTON—The most surprising of all the candidates in the Democratic stable is William Averell Harriman, former polo player, millionaire stockholder of the Union Pacific Railroad, ex-ambassador to England and Russia, and Mutual Security administrator.

When Harriman first started campaigning nobody took him seriously. A few of his friends were kind enough to observe that he might make a pretty good vice president. But that was all.

In fact, the only man who really took his candidacy seriously was Averell himself. And he has taken it so seriously and worked at it so hard, that he has ended up as one of the top contenders for the Democratic nomination.

Ex-Congressman John Carroll of Denver dropped into the White House the other day to tell the President how Harriman had come out to Colorado with all the cards stacked against him, but done such a terrific job that he defeated such stalwart Democratic delegates as Senator Ed Johnson and Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman.

Probably the most surprised of all at the emergence of Averell Harriman as a crusading liberal would be his father, one of the toughest highlanders ever to milk the stock of a public utility. It was Edward Harriman who built the Union Pacific, then engaged in the famous battle with Jim Hill to control the Northern Pacific, a battle which did not end until it caused a crash in Wall Street.

Ed Harriman's motto was the public be damned. His son's motto is the public comes first. And almost everything he has done has been the exact opposite of his father's to the point that friends accuse him of trying to atone for the economic sins of the past generation.

More likely perhaps is that Averell is following in the footsteps of his grandfather, a devout Episcopalian minister. He is an example of what happens in few countries of the world outside the United States and England—a young man of wealth who conscientiously tries to devote his life to public service.

Some of Averell's old friends have been unkind enough to say that if he hadn't been born with a silver spoon in his mouth he wouldn't have been able to feed himself. They also have made wisecracks about his lack of business ability and the praise of all the candidates in the Democratic stable is William Averell Harriman, former polo player, millionaire stockholder of the Union Pacific Railroad, ex-ambassador to England and Russia, and Mutual Security administrator.

It is true that Harriman now has resigned as chairman of the Union Pacific, and that he has given up his former directorships in the Illinois Central and Western Union. But it also is true that he has kept a weather eye on his main property, the Union Pacific, with the result that that railroad's coal mines have the best safety record of any in the United States.

When the Justice Department in 1944 brought an anti-trust suit against his railroad, together with the Great Northern, Santa Fe, Northwestern, Burlington, Rock Island and a dozen other important roads, Harriman still was chairman of the Union Pacific. In deference to the fact that he was then also U. S. ambassador to Russia, his name was omitted from the Justice Department's list of defendants, although most other railroad presidents were named personally.

Harriman was most indignant. The railroads, he apparently felt, had every right to conspire to fix rates. "If this is conspiracy," he wrote the Interstate Commerce Commission, "then the railroads of the country need better and bigger conspiracies."

Harriman also is campaigning today as the great friend of labor, and he seems to be sincere about it. But just four years ago when the Taft-Hartley Act was up for discussion at the White House, Harriman, then secretary of Commerce, did his best to persuade the President not to veto it.

And when the President was about to send a stiff message to the 80th GOP Congress on economic controls in 1947, Harriman also did his best to dissuade the President. At that time the Republicans claimed that no controls were necessary and Senator Taft led a heated battle to abolish them entirely. Truman ruled otherwise. However, he did so, over the head of his secretary of Commerce, Mr. Harriman, who took a line inside the Cabinet somewhat similar to Taft's that even the big steel companies would submit to voluntary price controls.

The strike arguments of the last few months have given some indication of how wrong Averell can be. Despite some mistakes, Averell

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY: Written for NEA Service. As some of my readers probably know, I've missed a couple of the national tournaments because I was on duty with the Navy in Japan and in Korea. I'll be getting back to the struggle of the pastboards, however, when the summer championships begin in Cincinnati July 28.

One of the players on my team will be my associate, Alfred Shetnold. Today's hand shows him stubbing his toe, but his method of playing the hand may appeal to you even though it didn't work.

West opened the ten of hearts, and dummy won with the king. The only problem, obviously, was to guess how to play the diamonds. Who had the ace of diamonds?

After some thought, Shetnold decided that the two missing aces were probably divided. If one player had both he might have bid or doubled, but since nobody had done either there was a very good chance that the aces were split.

There was no sure way to find out who had the ace of diamonds, but Shetnold thought he could find out who had the ace of clubs.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, West, and East positions with cards and a 'GOP CHARGES' banner.

He just drew trumps with the ace and king and then led the king of clubs from the dummy.

The idea was that East would surely play the ace of clubs if he held it. Then declarer could trump and could proceed on the assumption that the ace of diamonds was in the West hand since the ace of clubs had turned up in the East hand.

The trouble was that East unhesitatingly produced a low club when the king of clubs was led from dummy. So Shetnold ruffed and assumed that the ace of clubs was in the West hand.

He got back to dummy with a heart and led a diamond. East played low, and declarer hopefully played the king. This lost to the ace, and second diamond trick was lost later on.

Who was the genius in the East seat? We'll have to withhold his name, because his brilliant play of a low club was an accident. The ace of clubs was stuck under the queen, and he didn't know he had the ace until the hand was almost finished.

What a way to lose a slam.

THE BIDDING: North 2NT, Pass; East 3, Pass; South 4, Pass; West 4, Pass.

THE HOUSE WAS OLD, the farm worked out, and until Katy Elmo bought the place three years ago both house and farm had been abandoned for years.

But why come to Katy? She got out of the car quickly and slammed the door hard, as if in that way she could keep the fear from following.

She walked to the house, trying to sort out of her vague apprehensions. The quiet was right; it was always quiet. The sunshine and the lengthening shadows—she looked around. Major. Where was Major? And Deputy Donnell, who Scott said would be here?

She whistled for the dog and when there was no answering glad bark, called sharply, "Major! Come!"

Deputy Donnell, no doubt, Katy thought as she followed the shout around the house.

AT THE CORNER she stopped. Peter Donnell, his dignity wearing thin with embarrassment rather than alarm, was at the barn door—on the inside. Major sat straight-backed, and tall as a proud Prussian general about 10 feet from his quarry.

Call off your dog, Miss Elmo. Katy said "Come, Major. It's all right" and dropped a hand to the big German shepherd's head when he trotted to her.

Donnell came out, brushing at his immaculate gray business suit. "You should be a trainer, Miss Elmo," he almost grinned. "I've spent half the afternoon trying to talk my way out of there. He just flamed me with that baloney look and dared me."

Major is fiercely protective. Donnell was not as young as Scott and less inclined to be chivacious. He fell in step beside her with a sharp: "Then why didn't he protect Agnes Jerome last night?"

Agnes Jerome, who could have been murdered by so many for so many obvious reasons.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE: Web Maddox, Fort Worth business man and civic leader, was toastmaster at the state barbers' convention dinner recently and he told them, "For years, you've been taking hair off my head; now if you could just figure out some way to put it on..."

Maddox said the oldest joke in the world was a barber joke and it was found on a clay tablet in the ruins of Babylon. A barber asked a king, "How do you want your hair cut?" The king replied, "In silence."

Hospital Charges Air Force At Fault In Houston Tragedy

HOUSTON—(AP)—The trustees of Memorial Hospital blame the U. S. Air Force for three murders and a suicide in the hospital July 10.

The accusation was made Wednesday in a letter to Thomas K. Finletter, Secretary of the Air Force.

The letter requesting a full investigation to determine who was directly responsible was sent by George M. Irving, trustee chairman.

Secretary Finletter said in Washington that a thorough investigation is being made.

An Air Force Captain, Renard F. Hayward, forced his way into the room of a student nurse at the hospital, shot and killed two guards and the nurse and then committed suicide. He was stationed at Ellington Air Force Base.

Those killed were: Miss Carroll Cooper, the nurse who tried to break an acquaintance with the captain; Guards Jesse Clyde Fair and Clyde Peterson; and the captain.

Halloween celebrations are believed to have been derived from Druid rites.

LONDON—(AP)—Women officials who patrol London's railroad stations to guard young girls from vice and white slavery racketeers have been told to quit.

The reason: a 1952 miss arriving in the big city is quite capable of looking after herself, according to the National Vigilance Association. The association hired the morality patrols.

"In fact," commented dowager Lady Numburnholme, chairman of the association, "if anything, it's the young men who need protecting and looking after today."

Photos Show Heavy Damage In Greatest Air Strike Of War

TOKYO—(AP)—The Far East Air Forces said Thursday about 1,000 Communist military installations were destroyed or damaged July 11 in the biggest air strike of the Korean War at Pyongyang, Sariwon and Hwangju.

The report was made after evaluation of air photographs of the blasted areas.

The Peiping radio claimed more than 2,000 persons were killed and 4,170 injured.

The Air Force said the strike by United Nations land and carrier-based planes was directed against 29 specific military target areas in the three cities. A communications center, transportation parking and repair areas, and factories manufacturing machine tools, munitions and other war-making supplies were the main targets.

More than 30 buildings in three Red munitions factories were blasted, photos showed. A direct bomb hit struck the Communist communications headquarters building in Pyongyang, demolishing 60 per cent of the structure.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Silver Dollar

Uncle Bunkum had come for a visit from the zoo. He had come in the Monkey Catcher's firetruck, and now he was up in the monkey house, eating a fine supper of scrambled coconut.

"Daddy Ringtail," Mugwump was whispering, "did Uncle Bunkum bring you a present?"

"Shhh!" Daddy Ringtail whispered back. "It isn't polite to ask." And all the while, Uncle Bunkum was talking as fast as he could about the things that had happened at the zoo. Why, the elephant had a new baby elephant. What a very fine thing it was, too, that her baby was an elephant like she was. Oh, she might not have known the things to do, if the baby had been a baby camel or giraffe or something else.

Yes, and things at the zoo had been very busy. Why, the Monkey Catcher had been on the jump from morning to night, doing all the work that has to be done at a zoo full of animals. The Monkey Catcher had worked so hard that Uncle Bunkum was sorry for him. Why, Uncle Bunkum had even crawled out of his cage to help with the work. That is why the Monkey Catcher had given him a little vacation. That is why Uncle Bunkum was at the Monkey House right now, eating a fine supper of scrambled coconut.

"Oh my, my, my," said Uncle Bunkum of a sudden. "I was hurrying so to get away that I didn't buy a present for Mugwump." Mugwump was sorry to hear it, but Uncle Bunkum said never to mind. Maybe he did have a present for Mugwump after all. He felt in his pocket and cackled a cackly laugh. Yes, he did have a present after all, and the present was a silver dollar.

Truman Signs New GI Bill; Halts Abuses Of Older Law

WASHINGTON—President Truman has signed a bill to help GI's released since the start of the Korean War to reestablish themselves in civilian life.

The benefits are much the same as those granted to veterans after World War II, but there are some important differences.

The act provides the new veterans with money for education and training, mustering out pay, unemployment payments of $26 a week up to a total of 26 weeks, and financial support for home and business loans.

The bill was one of 37 Truman signed Wednesday while in Walter Reed Hospital for a checkup.

The program is expected to cost about one billion dollars a year. The number of eligible veterans on May 31 was $70,000 and the Veterans Administration said the total is growing daily.

To be eligible, a veteran, discharged after June 27, 1950, must have served 90 days or more. The discharged must be other than dishonorable.

The biggest change from the World War II GI Bill is in the method of handling payments, and in the type of schools veterans may attend. Congress wrote these in as a means of avoiding abuses under the earlier program.

Instead of making payments to the schools for the veteran, the government will provide the veteran with funds to pay his own tuition fee, buy books and handle his living expenses.

The ex GI can go part time or full time to any school on a list approved by the VA or state agencies.

36-Month Maximum

For each day of military service, a veteran is entitled to one and one-half days of education up to a maximum of 36 months.

Payments range for full-time students from $110 a month if a veteran has no dependents, to $135 if he has one dependent and to $160 if he has more than one dependent.

A veteran who chooses on-the-job training will receive $70 a month if he has no dependents, $85 if one dependent and $105 if more than one dependent.

House or business loans are under the same regulations as for World War II veterans.

The act provides mustering-out pay for all services below the rank of major or lieutenant commander on the following scale:

For 90 days active duty and service outside the U. S. or in Alaska, $300; 90 days active duty within the U. S., $200; less than 90 days, $100.

By The Associated Press

One hospital in Houston hung up a "full up" sign on polio cases Wednesday because of a nurses' shortage.

Seven new cases were reported in the city, making 537 that have been treated this year.

Herman hospital—one of the larger treatment centers in Houston—announced that "We just can't accept any more patients." The hospital has asked the Red Cross for help in getting more nurses.

Jefferson Davis Hospital in Houston—the largest polio treatment center there—said it also needed more nurses, but the situation hasn't reached the critical stage.

Houston reported one death Wednesday from polio.

Dallas hospitals admitted four new polio patients, making the number under treatment there 98 and bringing the year's total to 158.

San Antonio reported its 78th case of the year and another death, making four deaths there this year.

Fort Worth reported no new patients but two being watched as possible cases. A total of 116 cases have been treated there this season.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said he could not predict whether the peak for new cases in Texas had been reached.

He reported Wednesday that 298 new cases were reported in the state last week, setting a new record for this year and bringing the year's total to 1,605.

Hospital Announces New Visiting Hours

New visiting hours for Midland Memorial Hospital were announced Thursday by Administrator Burton Sears.

The new schedule will become effective Monday, following the open house Sunday commemorating the hospital's second birthday.

"We have tried to rearrange the hours," said Sears, "to benefit the patients and visitors alike. Actually, under the new schedule, there will be more time for visiting."

Under the new schedule, visitors will be permitted from 2:30 in the afternoon until 4 o'clock and from 7 to 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

As present visitors are permitted from 1 until 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

No visiting will be permitted during the morning.

"After all," said Sears, "a person is in the hospital to rest and relax. They're here to get well and the co-operation of visitors will help to get them well and back to their families and their jobs."

Carrasquel Pitches Braves To 8-0 Win

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—Ancient Alex Carrasquel, Sweetwater manager, spun a masterful six-hitter here Wednesday night to blank the San Angelo Colts, 8-0, and register his tenth win against four defeats.

The Braves combed three San Angelo pitchers for 17 hits including a perfect five for five for Warren Sitter, East All-Star first baseman. Sitter slapped out a home run, double and three singles to drive in four Brave tallies.

A single by Charley Tuttle and Sitter's double made it 5-0 in the fifth. The Braves combined three more singles with a walk to score another in the seventh and Sitter's two-run blast over the left field wall made it 8-0.

Carrasquel had the Colts groping foolishly after a variety of pitches, none served up with the same speed.

Yankee Stadium Jinx Again Haunts Indians

By RALPH RODEN
AP Sports Writer

The Yankee Stadium, graveyard of Cleveland pennant drives in the past, is haunting the Indians once again.

Cleveland started the baseball world by winning its first three games in the home of the New York Yankees this year. This almost matched its victory total for the previous two seasons, during which the Tribe managed to win only five of 17 games in the house that Ruth built.

But Cleveland's dream of a happy hunting ground in the Stadium were shattered rudely Wednesday. The Indians missed a brilliant opportunity virtually to tie the Yanks for first place by dropping both ends of a doubleheader, 8-7 in 10 innings, and 7-4.

Earl Wynn opened the series Tuesday night by pitching the Indians to a 7-3 victory. That cut the Yanks' lead to two and one-half games. A sweep Wednesday would have pulled the Indians to within a half-game and certainly would have demoralized the Bombers. But instead the Indians were sent reeling four and one-half games off the pace.

The Yanks were forced to come from behind to win the opener.

Yogi Berra tied the score at 7-7 in the eighth inning with a two-run homer, his twentieth of the season, and Hank Bauer broke it up by singling home Rookie Kai Segrist from second base in the tenth.

The Yanks won the nightcap with a four-run rally in the seventh against Bob Feller. Gil McDougald's three-run homer was the big blow of the rally.

The defeats also encouraged Cleveland's grip on second place as the third-place Boston Red Sox defeated the Chicago White Sox, 7-3, to move to within a half-game of the Tribe.

Lefty Mel Parnell scattered nine Chicago hits as he coasted to his seventh victory.

Southpaw Bill Wight pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 9-0 victory over Washington in the only other American League game. White held the Senators to four hits while his mates collected 14.

Brooklyn maintained its five-game lead in the National League, downing Cincinnati, 5-3, while the runnerup New York Giants eked out an 8-7 win over the St. Louis Cardinals in 10 innings. In other games, Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh, 8-7, and Chicago tripped Boston, 3-2, in 13 innings.

Three first-inning errors by Red catcher Andy Seminick, helped the Dodgers score two runs and the Brooks remained ahead the rest of the way. Seminick's mistakes set a league record for most errors in one inning by a catcher.

The Giants almost blew the decision to the Cards. The Redbirds jumped on Relief Pitcher Hoyt Wilhelm for five runs in the ninth inning to send the game into overtime. Al Dark doubled home Dave Williams with the winning run in the tenth.

Tulsa Oilers Kick Missions, 6-4, In Only Loop Contest

By The Associated Press
Rains halted three games in the Texas league Wednesday night and the one host club that played, San Antonio, had dampened spirits for its efforts.

San Antonio lost, 6-4, to Tulsa and the game dropped the Missions into fifth place.

Rain-outs were Dallas at Beaumont, Oklahoma City at Houston and Fort Worth at Shreveport. The same clubs plan doubleheaders Thursday night.

Hoble Landrith's two-run triple provided the spark that sent Tulsa ahead in the fifth.

Tommy Reis, who issued nine walks in eight and two-thirds innings, got the win.

Tulsa rapped off 11 hits, 10 of them singles, out three San Antonio hurlers. Kent Peterson, the starter, took the loss.

SPORTS NOTES

BENCH JOCKEY
By BOB ADAMS

Jim Velvin, Jr., president of the enterprising Optimist Club here, said the organization is interested in sponsoring a boxing tournament in Midland the latter part of the summer, if sports fans here want such an event.

The reason Velvin puts it on that basis is because the boxing tournament staged last winter at the VFW hall, was only moderately successful.

It cost the organization some $200 to stage the two-night event and they received only $242 from the cash customers, making them losers by slightly more than $200.

The Optimist Club now has the facilities where the boys can work out and a trainer who would see to it they were conditioned properly.

A boxing ring, heavy bag, punching bag and showers, all are provided at the Optimist Boy's Workshop at East New York Street and South Lamesa Road.

Pat Murphy, a former professional boxer who knows plenty about the fistie arts, will train them.

All that seems to be lacking then is a group of energetic sponsors who will see to it that such a tournament would be a success.

There is no reason why Midland could not put over such a sporting program. Our neighboring City of Odessa seems to have a knack for putting them over.

For example, the TAAF boxing tourney is scheduled in Odessa on July 25, the professional football game between the Dallas Texans and the Philadelphia Eagles is set in that city on August 29, and the mammoth Odessa Country Club Pro-Am Golf Tournament is set for the same week as the latter affair.

If Odessa can do it, why can't Midland? If fans here think such a boxing tournament could be successful, get in touch with some member of the Optimist Club and tell him you're behind it.

While we're on the subject of boxing, Chili Reeves, Midland flyweight who won the Odessa regional title in last winter's Golden Gloves tourney, and Marshall Patton of Midland, a heavyweight, have entered the TAAF meet in Odessa and have started working out here under Murphy.

The meet will be held July 25 at Oiler Park for one night only. There is a possibility other Midland boxers will enter. Although time is short, Murphy says he can whip the younger fighters into shape fairly easy.

A word about golf... Midland's Pat Garner, who plans to enter the Women's Amateur Golf Tournament at the Los Angeles Country Club July 28-August 2, has been getting in practice links on the Midland Country Club course.

Abie Beckman, golf pro at Ranchland Hill Country Club course went to Levelland Wednesday to participate in the pro-am tourney over there.

Other West Texas pro-am tourneys which are scheduled this season include: July 23, Plainview; July 30, Littlefield; August 4, Lubbock; August 14, Clovis; N. M.; August 20, Snyder; September 27, Hobbs; N. M.; September 11, Monahans.

The season for the pro-am tourneys runs from April to September. The entry fee is $3 for amateurs and $5 for professionals. The winning team splits the pot.

Lopez Still Thinks Tribe Will Triumph

NEW YORK — (AP) — Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians remained firm in his conviction Thursday that his team would win the American League pennant despite its double defeat at the hands of the New York Yankees Wednesday.

Hiding his disappointment over the double loss which dropped the Tribe four and one-half games behind the pace-setting Yankees, Lopez insisted his Indians would overtake the Yankees in September.

"Nobody realizes better than I that the Yankees are the team to beat for the flag," he said before Thursday's two-night doubleheader that ends the five-game series here.

Seven Campaign For New Texas Jobs; Census Adds Congressman-At-Large

By TIM PARKER, Associated Press Staff
Roy Selman, one of the seven candidates for Texas congressman-at-large, stopped alongside a highway near McKinney recently to talk to a farmer he had spotted working in his field.

Selman introduced himself and began a little campaign talk. The Crockett lawyer and stockraiser had said only a few words, however, when the farmer interrupted—and threatened violence.
"He very near gave me a whipping before I convinced him I was not opposing Mr. Rayburn," Selman explained. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, dean of the Texas congressional delegation and speaker of the House, is up for reelection from the Fourth District. He is opposed by Reagan Brown, 32, of Terrell.

Selman's experience typifies voter confusion over the new congressional seat. One farmer near Edna told Selman the new seat in the U. S. House was just another excuse to spend money.

Represents Entire State
Texas was granted a twenty-second seat in Congress because of its population growth in the decade preceding the 1950 census. Until the Texas Legislature redistricts the state—reshuffles the present 21 districts to add another and adjust district lines to account for population shifts—Texas will have one congressman at large.

General Dean Now In New POW Camp

MUNSAN, KOREA — (AP) — The Communists Thursday said they have moved their prize captive, U. S. Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, from a prisoner-of-war camp at the bomb-shattered capital of Pyongyang to another camp in North Korea but did not give his new location.
The disclosure came in an exchange of letters by liaison officers of the United Nations Command and Communist truce teams at Panmunjom.

The Red letter told of a large-scale prisoner transfer involving Dean, former commander of the U. S. 34th Infantry Division, and numerous Korean captives.
The Allied communication demanded an accounting of 1,881 missing UN soldiers believed in Communist stockades. The UN Command said it has been making the request since December with "totally unsatisfactory" results.
The Allies at the same time answered a similar request from the Communists for an accounting of 1,014 Allied-held prisoners with information on all but four of the captives.
Dean is a Medal of Honor winner from Berkeley, Calif. He was captured in August, 1950.
The Reds announced his transfer in notifying the UN they had abolished three prisoner-of-war camps and set up six new ones. Four of the new ones are at or near Pyongyang, target of a destructive Allied air raid last week.
The disclosure came during the fourth day of a Communist-called recess in secret armistice negotiations at Panmunjom over the deadlocked issue of prisoner exchange.
The five-man truce delegations are scheduled to reconvene at 11 a. m. Friday.

Ike Delays Trout Campaign To Visit Son, Korea-Bound

DENVER — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower packed some knock-about clothes and his fishing gear for a week's vacation starting Thursday at a Rocky Mountain ranch.
The Republican presidential nominee originally had planned to set out Wednesday for the secluded spot about 70 miles west of here near Fraser, Colo.
He delayed his departure 24 hours so he and Mrs. Eisenhower could be on hand for a 30-minute stop-over of a plane carrying their son, Maj. John D. Eisenhower, to Seattle. The major will leave there later this week for duty in Korea.
The general's only companion during a week of trout fishing at Fraser will be his long-time friend Aksell Nielsen, Denver insurance man, who owns the ranch.
Mrs. Eisenhower will remain at the home of her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, in Denver.
A five-car caravan of newsmen will accompany the general to the Nielsen ranch and remain until evening. They won't stay on there because of lack of accommodations.
Eisenhower's headquarters announced, meanwhile, that Senator James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, a key figure in the campaign which won the Republican nomination for Eisenhower, will confer with the general in Colorado next week.

Action Clears Way For Iranian Youth To Become Citizen

DALLAS — (AP) — A dark-skinned, handsome Iranian youth got word Wednesday he can apply for United States citizenship and enlist in the Air Force he once had illegally joined.
George Bandarian, 22, was immigrated officially into the United States, he learned, when a private bill pushed through both houses of Congress was signed by President Truman.
Bandarian left his native Iran on a ship over two years ago. Once here, he jumped ship, falsified a birth certificate and joined the Air Force. This year he confessed his adventure to a chaplain at Sheppard Air Force Base.

"By the way, I forgot to ticket them for speeding."

SAN ANGELO — (AP) — Johnny C. Clay, 29, Brownwood electrician and second vice president of the Brownwood Junior Chamber of Commerce, died Thursday in a San Angelo hospital.
Clay was brought to the hospital Monday after complaining of a headache while on a fishing trip Sunday. His illness was diagnosed as spinal-type polio and he was put in an iron lung Tuesday.
A popular Brownwood man, Clay was a World War II veteran and last Fall completed a year of recall service. His survivors include the widow and two children in Brownwood; the mother, Mrs. Walter Carter of Sweetwater; father, John L. Clay of Kerrville; a brother, E. T. Clay of Brady, and two sisters, Mrs. Harbon Neal of San Angelo and Mrs. V. E. Howe of Brady.
Funeral services will be held in the First Presbyterian Church in Brownwood Sunday.

Pistol-Toting Boy Says Grandfather Is Alben Barkley

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — An 18-year-old youth who described himself as the grandson of Vice President Alben W. Barkley was released by St. Louis police Wednesday after being held overnight for questioning.
The youth said he was Alben William Barkley Truitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max O'Reil Truitt of Washington. Mrs. Truitt is a daughter of the vice president.
Police reported they found the boy, who said he was hitchhiking to the home of an uncle in Paducah, Ky., in possession of a loaded pistol in a paper bag. Missouri law permits travelers to carry firearms "while moving peacefully through the state."

of Stanolind Oil Purchasing Company.
"Our demands will be fully met with 17 days state-wide and 19 days for East Texas," he reported. "We still feel that national stocks are excessive and until they are reduced below their present level of 285,500,000 million barrels, we think production should be held at a conservative level."
Change In Thinking
A change in the thinking of some members of the industry concerning the desirable level of national crude stocks was indicated by Joe Brown of Gulf Oil Company.
Brown recalled that Gulf had termed 240 million barrels "desirable" in 1950. Now, because of added requirements to fill new pipe line capacity and to meet increased market demand, he said Gulf has revised the desirable national figure to 260 million barrels.
Calling for 19 days state-wide flow in August, which would have meant about an 88,000-barrel-a-day increase, he said Gulf would be able to move every barrel of oil allowed by such a schedule.
Shell Oil Company also favored 19 days state-wide.
Sun, Sinclair and Humble called for an even greater flow than the commission granted, recommending 21 state-wide days.
Texas, Magnolia and Cities Service spoke up for 20 days.

Labor, Negro Groups Fight For Civil Rights Guarantee

By NORMAN WALKER
CHICAGO — (AP) — Union labor and Negro leaders called Thursday on Democratic platform drafters for assurance that civil rights pledges will be carried out, once they are written.
Advocates of a civil rights plank "at least as strong" as that in the 1948 Democratic platform complained to newsmen that the party had not made good on its promises of four years ago.
James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, said, "We're not going to be satisfied with a promise like we got from the 1948 convention—we want performance."

A renewal of the red-hot scrap between Northern and Southern Democrats on the civil rights issue is shaping up.
But it is too early to tell whether feeling will mount as high as it did at the Philadelphia convention in 1948, when many Southern delegates walked out of the convention, later forming the States' Rights Party.
The Dixie contingent this year is hopeful of achieving a compromise—something short of the federal Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) with enforcement powers recommended in the '48 platform.

Mossadegh Resigns As Iranian Premier

TEHRAN, IRAN — (AP) — Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, arch-enemy of Iranian nationalism, resigned Thursday and Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi asked the lower house of parliament to choose a new government head.
The 72-year-old Premier's resignation was believed due to Parliament's failure to vote him powers to govern absolutely by decree for six months. He had said this was necessary to solve Iran's acute economic crisis.
Mossadegh's resignation was reported unofficially earlier Thursday and later confirmed by an official of the lower house (Majlis), who said it was announced at a closed session of Parliament by Court Minister Hussein Ala.
Mossadegh, himself, was reported at his home "sick in bed."

Besides the FEPC, the Northern group wants party pledges for federal laws outlawing lynching, banning states poll taxes and racial segregation.
Walter White, head of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Roy L. Reuther, political action co-ordinator for the CIO United Auto Workers, and Stanley Gewartz, executive committee chairman of the American for Democratic Action, carried the ball for the civil rights proponents before the 21-member Democratic platform drafting group Thursday.
Reuther's prepared statement stressed the demand that the party platform contain a pledge to change U. S. Senate rules so that filibusters against civil rights or other legislation could be shut off by a simple majority vote. Two thirds of the Senate membership now must approve such a debate limitation.
Unless the rules change is made, Reuther said, "all the fine words about the good, the true and the beautiful in the fields of human and civil rights will be just so much pious political flippery to attract votes."
Gewartz told the platform drafters that civil rights advocates were tired of "too much lip service and not enough fulfillment."

Incomes Rise, But Costs Erase Gain, Reserve Board Says

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The average American family made more in 1951 than it did the year before, but it was worse off because rising prices and climbing taxes more than wiped out the gain in income.
The Federal Reserve Board says its survey of consumer finances shows that average total incomes of "spending units"—mostly families—rose from $3,520 in 1950 to $3,840 in 1951, a rise of about nine per cent.
But consumer prices also went up nine per cent, wiping out the income gain. And increased taxes tipped the scales against the average family, cutting buying power below the previous year.

Thief Gets Brushes Worth $1,600 Here

The theft of $1,600 worth of paint brushes from a Midland painting contractor was reported Thursday to police.

Murray Brushes Off Steel Peace Rumors

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Philip Murray, president of the striking CIO United Steelworkers, waived Thursday for the White House or industry to take some step toward breaking the paralyzing 46-day-old dispute.
There has been no visible effort on either side to reach a settlement in the economy-stragglng strike since Monday, when negotiations arranged by Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman ended in deadlock.
A maze of rumors sprang up around the country about possible secret settlement of the strike that has idled more than 1,500,000 workers, but Murray brushed them all aside with:
"They are without foundation," or "That simply isn't so."

In an early-morning, state-wide broadcast the governor declared he would say to the nation "that Texas wants its voice heard—that we are essentially a Democratic state, that our people cherish the traditions of the Democratic party and that I, as governor of Texas and a lifelong Democrat, have never voted a ticket other than the Democratic ticket."
He said he would leave his campaign for a second term in the hands of his friends while he is away.

Midlander Faces $75,000 Libel Suit In Letter Incident

F. R. White, Midland manufacturer's agent, Wednesday was named defendant in a $75,000 libel suit filed in Tyler by Col. James Young Parker, commanding officer of the Biggs Air Force Base at El Paso.
The suit, filed in district court in Tyler, asserted that White, who lives at 2309 North Main Street, wrote a libelous letter following the April 18 conviction of Lt. Verne Goodwin for refusing to fly.
Lt. Goodwin was court-martialed at Biggs and sentenced to two years. He later was allowed to resign from the Air Force.
White already faced U. S. charges of sending obscene material through the mails in connection with the letter addressed to Senator Lyndon Johnson. He is free under bond.

Three new members were presented to the club at the meeting—L. A. Bartha by President Richard Brooks; Dr. Charles A. Pigford by W. H. Oswald, and Joe H. E. Ward by Ed McCollum.
A brief talk on Rotary, addressed mainly to the new members, was given by Past District Governor Percy Bridgewater.

President Signs Mine Safety Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has signed a bill that permits the government to close coal mines it considers unsafe. But he says the measure isn't really strong enough to prevent disaster.
The President, in signing the measure, said it was a significant step toward ending "the appalling toll of death and injury to miners." But he said Congress eventually will have to enact more adequate legislation.

KEY, WILSON & MAXSON'S REAL ESTATE Bulletin Board REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

WITH LOTS OF BIG TREES, because this most attractive home is located close in and in a well settled section of town—on Ohio. It has 2 large bedrooms, huge living room and separate breakfast room. Leading from the kitchen is the breezeway and the attached garage. Fenced yard, large corner lot with paving on both sides, spacious patio in rear for outside living. Here is a home that you will enjoy seeing, and in seeing, you will purchase immediately. It is just ten years old. ONLY $11,750.

TRANQUILITY IS MORE THAN A WORD—It is a way of life. And a new home invariably accomplishes this end. Here is a home which will assure you peace of mind, graciousness, and relaxation. It is a 3-bedroom, den, 2-ceramic tile baths, master design. Constructed of the finest materials available, and built to last a century.

YOU WILL FEEL FRIENDLY and affectionate toward this awkward little brick home that we have on West Kansas. It has 2 bedrooms, warm living room, and an attractive bath. Off the kitchen is a rear porch which can be used for summer sleeping quarters. Water well. The lot is 217x100. Can be purchased for as little as $2,000 down. Full price is $7,400.

WE DESPERATELY NEED NEW LISTINGS—Our huge volume of sales in the past few weeks has depleted our number of listings. This, of course, testifies to the rapidity with which we dispose of homes for our clients—and also, the guaranteed satisfaction which prospective purchasers receive when they deal with us.

HOMEOWNERS, stay with the leader in Midland—list your properties with KEY, WILSON & MAXSON.

DOCTOR'S CLINIC ON WALL STREET AVAILABLE—Beautifully constructed to appear like palatial home. Two full and four 1/2 baths, electrically equipped for all modern, professional machines. Just over 5,000 square feet. About 5 years old.

OWNER MUST SELL his attractive 2-bedroom, 1 bath, home. Desiring inflation as he does, he has cut his price to rock bottom in order to facilitate your purchasing it. Large living room, combination kitchen and dining room, attached carport and storage. He left it completely redecorated for you—and also let you have a BENDIX washing machine. Central heating, crushed gravel roof, oak floors, metal kitchen cabinets, enclosed patio, paved street. Only $2,000 down will purchase this home which is priced at a low $9,987.15. Assume the loan and pay only $63 total per month.

WE CAN NOT PREDICT the Democratic nominee to be selected next week in Chicago, but we can predict higher prices of homes in Midland and elsewhere. Every newspaper is screaming this to the public. If the prices of homes seem high to you, remember that when they bought, they paid less. Don't you REALLY believe that now is the time for you to invest in your home?

KEEP YOUR EYES ON OUR BULLETIN BOARD. IF NOT TODAY, YOUR PERFECT HOME WILL APPEAR IN THESE COLUMNS TOMORROW. BETTER STILL, CALL US NOW, AND ASK WHAT WE HAVE WHICH IS NOT ADVERTISED—OR WHAT YOU HAVE IN MIND IN THE WAY OF A HOME. ACT TODAY, SO THAT YOU CAN RELAX TOMORROW.

Navy, Supersonic Pilot Tell Of Record Skyrocket Flights

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The hottest plane in the free world, the D-558-2 Skyrocket, holds a new speed record of 1,238 miles an hour, says the Navy.

And the hottest test pilot, lanky Bill Bridgeman, says zooming at that speed is "no different than flying 750 miles an hour."

The real kick comes, Bridgeman said in an exclusive interview Tuesday night, when the rocket-propelled Hummingbird runs out of power at a record altitude of 79,494 feet and swoops down 15 miles for a dead-stick landing on the desert.

Both the speed and altitude marks were confirmed here by Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball. Bridgeman flew the Douglas-built rocket ship to unprecedented heights last August 7 and set the speed record August 15 in tests at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif. The Navy previously had admitted only that the research plane had "climbed at 1,000 miles an hour."

In all, Bridgeman made six rocket flights last summer. The Skyrocket was launched each time at 35,000 feet from a B-29 mother ship.

Each time, the 35-year-old Douglas test pilot said, the needle-nosed, 40-foot ship rammed smoothly through the sonic barrier—which is reached at about 660 miles an hour at 35,000 feet and above. In pressurized suit and cockpit, Bridgeman says he was "not especially conscious of speed."

"You notice the high speed only when you make a mistake," the ex-Navy bomber pilot said. "Then she really jumps and gets hard to control. Generally, though, there's too much blue sky and so many things to do that the speed isn't noticeable."

The record speed was made in level flight after the Skyrocket had reached the apex of her climb. It was measured by instruments in D-558-2 and radar ground readings carefully checked by the Navy

Bureau of Aeronautics.

The moment that sends "your guts into your shoes," Bridgeman declares, comes when the last of the four rockets used by the plane loses its thrust.

"Then you have to bend 'er over fast, level off and start gliding for home."

"Home is Muroc Dry Lake, a shiny eight-mile expanse of 'real friendly desert that you can't miss."

It isn't exactly a slow glide, either. Bridgeman lands without power at 160 miles an hour. The average jet plane lands at 110 mph. The entire flight, from the moment of release from the bottom of the B-29 to the landing, takes only 11 to 16 minutes.

"The sonic barrier isn't a problem any longer," the ace tester said. "Theoretically, man might some day fly 10,000 miles and hour if he can lick the aerodynamic barrier. Heat is the problem now, and the question is can we go higher and faster without having to use an impossibly bulky cooling system."

Bridgeman said he did not have special refrigeration equipment on his record flights.

"The plane is soaked in cold at 60 degrees below zero while the B-29 cruises at 35,000 feet," he explained. "So far that has been all the conditioning I've needed."

The officials records Bridgeman cracked: Speed—670.981 miles an hour, set in 1946, by a North American F-86. Altitude—72,394 feet, in 1953 by U. S. Army Capt. Orvil Anderson and Albert Stevens in a balloon over Rapid City, S. D.

Baxter Planning To Re-Enter Test In Terry Sector

R. W. Baxter of Dallas is to re-enter and clean out a dry hole on the southwest side of the Adair-Wolfcamp field in Central-South Terry County and try to complete a producer in that hole.

The prospector will be Baxter No. 1 Willard. It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 1, block C-36, pd survey. It is approximately 16 miles south of Brownfield.

Was Plugged In Reef

This development was originally drilled by Coline Oil Company as its No. 1 Willard. That concern carried the project to a bottom of 8,623 feet in Pennsylvanian reef lime. The reef was cored through, but no drillstem tests were taken in that zone. There is reported to have been some signs of water in the bottom of the hole. Collins abandoned the project.

Location is 664 feet from north and 678 feet from east lines of section 27, block 11, University Lands survey.

Baxter proposes to drill out to 9,610 feet and test the reef section above that point. This exploration is offset by completed oil wells from the reef line on three sides—the east, north and south.

Operations are to start soon at the Baxter No. 1 Willard.

Magnolia Schedules Short Steput To C-N Andrews Pool

One location northeast of production in the Nolley (Wolfcamp) field of Central-North Andrews County, Magnolia Petroleum staked location for No. 2 Tom Peay.

It will be drilled 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, league 314, Gaines County School Land survey.

It is slated for a 9,300-foot bottom, starting at once.

Phillips Completes Gas Discovery In S-C Sutton Sector

Phillips Petroleum Company completed No. 1-A Leff Wallace as a gas and new field discovery in South-Central Sutton County.

It was completed for a calculated 13,000,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day on potential test. Production was through perforations at 3,976-4,018 feet in casing opposite the Pennsylvanian.

Flowing pressure was 3,310 pounds.

Location is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 52, block 14, TW&NG survey.

Brown & Thorp Will Re-Enter Pecos Project

Brown & Thorp Drilling Company of McCamey will re-enter and deepen to 5,000 feet No. 1 Louise Sanders, project in North Pecos County, six miles southeast of Girvin.

It originally drilled to 3,017 feet in barren Clay Fork and plugged back for completion in the Glorietas at 2,340-2,480 feet, where it is potential for two barrels of oil and 10 barrels of water daily.

Location is 330 feet from north and east lines of section 32, block 11, H&GN survey.

Female Impersonator Draws Pay For Year As GI's Wife

ALBUQUERQUE—(AP)—George Merlino Sanchez, 36, of Honolulu, pleaded guilty Wednesday to a charge that he collected dependent's allowance for more than a year while posing as the wife of an Air Force sergeant.

The Albuquerque FBI office said Sanchez lived near Air Force bases in New Mexico, Texas and California while impersonating the wife of S. Sgt. Ronald M. Carpenter, who has been arrested in California on similar charges.

The FBI said Carpenter has waived extradition and indicated he will plead guilty.

The FBI said the impersonation was disclosed through a routine fingerprint check after Sanchez was arrested in Corpus Christi, Texas, on charges of vagrancy and disturbing the peace. Sanchez was held in the jail's women's division while the fingerprints were being checked.

The FBI gave this account of the case: Sanchez met Carpenter, then a corporal at Lowry Air Force Base, while working as a waitress in a Denver hotel in 1949. When Carpenter was transferred to Carswell Air Force Base at Ft. Worth later that year, Sanchez went along as his "wife."

Later Carpenter was transferred to Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M., and Sanchez went with him. Sanchez said that at this time, when the application for the allotment was made, Carpenter did not know Sanchez was a man.

The two remained together in June, 1950, when Carpenter was transferred to Randolph Field, San Antonio, but separated a year later when Carpenter went to March Air Force Base, Riverside, Calif. However, Sanchez joined him a month later.

In July, 1951, the two separated but Sanchez continued to receive the dependent's allowance.

The FBI said the amount of allowance drawn totaled almost $2,500. Sanchez will be sentenced next Monday.

Everyone Enjoys It When Gabriel Plays His Piano

NEW YORK (NEA)—Pianist Bernard Gabriel is having the fun of discovering that while a first experiment can be a flop, the next try can succeed. He's finally made the grade with his novel "Piano Recital of Tomorrow."

"Audiences have been getting the same routine treatment at concerts for so long that they are apathetic," the dark-haired composer-teacher says. "I thought I'd try something new."

Gabriel's mysterious announcement of a "different" recital stirred up a lot of interest, but it didn't work out.

"I was held up more than half an hour in starting," Gabriel explains, "and that didn't put the audience in a mood to be receptive to anything."

The stage was set complete with comfortable chairs and sofas and embellished with lamps, to look like a comfortable living room in a home. Some of the pianist's personal friends sat onstage. Between numbers he joined them, leaving the piano but not the stage for a chat or a cigarette.

But the audience, accustomed to musicians deserting the stage for a few minutes which gave them time to chat, sat in silence, wondering what he would do next. When he merely returned to the piano, they shared a sense of frustration. It was not enough of a novelty and critics denounced the attempt.

"I gave up the idea of trying to change anything," Gabriel says now. "It seemed the public wanted to do exactly what they have always done, but what the box office indicated they had wearied of."

A few days later, at a session with a pupil, Gabriel had an inspiration. "I began to get other ideas about my attempted change in concert form," he said. "It occurred to me too late that I had missed the boat about a lot of things that would have made my concert more interesting."

Gabriel made a brave decision; if he tried it again, and the attempt flopped once more, it would seriously damage his reputation for further concerts.

Once more announcements were sent out for a "Piano Recital of Tomorrow," and when an audience had assembled they again found the stage decorated, like a room. But this time they were part of the act.

Before the concert began, Gabriel appeared in a comfortable smoking jacket he'd had made to add to the complete informality. Briefly he explained his purpose. "I told them what selections I had prepared for my first group and asked them which they would prefer to hear," he explained. The response was hearty and Gabriel obliged with the most popular requests.

Bantam Hen Travels, Takes Family Along

HARDIN, ILL. (AP)—A bantam hen built her nest under a truck which travels a lot but that didn't faze the Banty's motherhood. Noah McKinnon, a general trucker, said she hatched ten chicks in her first brood this season and was hatching her second.

He said the hen must have traveled several thousand miles on the nest atop a pan under his truck manifold.

Between groups, he again sat onstage with his visitors, but chatted also with those who had paid to hear the music.

He's not going to settle for having once been a pioneer. Bernard Gabriel intends to make further progress, thus breaking the ice for others.

"It's extremely difficult for beginners to get engagements these days," he says, "and I have a scheme to group several together, pianists, singers and other musicians, and give my Concert of Tomorrow in that manner."

Clothing, Food Prices Due To Climb In Reverse Trend

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK—(P)—Higher prices are being talked of today in a number of fields where the trend until recently has been all the other way. Textile prices are firming here and there, with scattering price hikes announced in synthetic, wool and cotton yarns, fabrics or end products. Steel price hikes are widely expected to follow the end of the steel strike. A tinplate shortage—due to the steel strike—could make canned fruits and vegetables so scarce this fall as to send their prices up. Merchants are watching the new fair trade law, just signed by the President, to see if it heralds the end of the cut-rate bargains you've been able to find on brand name appliances and drugs in some department and drug stores during the past year—after the old fair trade law was kayoed by the Supreme Court. Price controls are about to be dropped on almost everything department stores stock and upon still more foods, the Office of Price Stabilization indicates. It says Congress clipped its financial wings so short that it won't have enough employees left to do a policing job on the prices of many consumer goods. The grocery trade acouts the notion that the decontrol of prices of canned fruits and vegetables will kite their price tags. But they worry about the possibility that a tin-can shortage during the packing season may cut drastically the volume of this year's crop to be put inside tins. And this—especially now that Congress has ended price controls on canned fruits and vegetables—could send prices up this fall in the grocery store. The turnabout of prices in the textile field is widely hailed in the industry as signally the end of its long depression. The scattered price hikes of the basic fibers are not likely to show up in the stores for some time to come, the trade says. Fabrics Are Firmer Some mills have just raised the price of cotton bed sheets—erasing only a part of the price cuts of recent months, however. Cotton print goods prices have been firmer for several weeks. Two makers of rayon or acetate yarns and fibers have announced that prices for September delivery will be higher. Most mills say they are booked solid for August at the old prices. Wool fabric prices are firmer, with talk in the trade that next Spring's line will show increases. Some women's worsteds already have gone up a little. And a leading mill has raised prices on four of its tropical worsted men's suitings—which won't show up in retail stores until next Summer. Silk prices in Japan have been soaring in recent weeks, but with some signs now of leveling off. None of the price hikes in textiles this week and last, however, have brought prices anywhere near their post-Korean peaks. But they may well indicate that the long slump is over and that the mills once more can be getting back onto a profitable basis—with prices swinging normally in response to NILE-INSPIRED—This Parisian mannequin models a new swim-suit designed with an ancient Egyptian touch. Two pieces of the suit have a pyramid flavor for bathing beauties figuring to fill our blanks in Egyptian hieroglyphics. As for the prices of autos and gadgets, even a price hike in basic steel may not have too much effect, however—for it will run smack into another hard fact: industry can turn out more appliances than consumers appear to want to buy. Competition can still regulate prices.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER
 Business class, amigos! Bet that you didn't know we could speak Spanish did you? Well we can't.

We have some very sad news for you, so get set for it. This Saturday night will be the last "Bulldog Stomp" for the Summer. We don't know why it is going to be but it is, so-o-o. Now we all enjoy them very much but we don't always show "Myr" that we do, so we are getting what is coming to us. So everyone be sure and attend the "Bulldog Stomp" Saturday night. It seems as though one of our old members likes to insert the last piece of a jigsaw puzzle so he just picks a piece of puzzle off the table and put it in his pocket, and then when it is almost finished he goes and sticks it on. Well, do you want to know who is doing that? It is Amon Craig (Pete) English. It looks like Bill Mayfield got off on his trip he has been telling us about and which in turn we have been telling you about. We sure hope he has a good time. He is going to spend a week in Abilene with his cousin and then two more weeks at the Hardin-Simmons Summer Band Camp.

Last week we told you that Jim Atwell was going to Colorado to look up some fish to feed. Well, he didn't ever get there so naturally he didn't catch any of those things that swim. We are very sorry you didn't get to go, Jim, but better luck next time. Ribbons Galore If you want to see a girl who has been getting the red and blue ribbons, all you have to do is go and look at the collection that Gail Black has. She got them from the swimming meet in Odessa last Friday and Saturday nights. We are very proud of Gail and the other members of our Midland swimming team. The style show was hilarious last Saturday night. Those of you who missed it really missed the laugh of your lives. Those modeling were Dan Black, Jay Schlichting, Bill Leonard, Don Hudson, Pete English and Barney McClendon. All of the teen-agers were listening to the Republican convention last week. Now we don't want to discourage you, but we don't think you are quite old enough to vote, but anyway it won't hurt you to listen. The Democratic convention should be as good, as the Democrats have more than a dozen candidates seeking the nomination. It looked as though Mimi Speed and Shirley Henderson had been swimming last Tuesday for they were just a bit on the sun-burned side. Rather we mean they really were more on the cooked side. The card game of spoon still is a big hit with everyone at the Youth Center. It is an easy game to play and just goes of fun, so come on down and learn to play spoon. We have lost one of our former members who came back to visit us. We refer to Nancy Warren, who moved to Washington, D. C. last winter. We were real glad to see her. Rainwater Enjoyed Since the rains chose to come down over Midland there are some girls who have chosen to wade in the rainwater. Georgia Stump, Gail Black, Joan Turner, Betty Pitzer, Jane Beaker and Peggy Read all went wading. They said they had a lot of fun. They even went so far as to ask the cars to splash them. For the next few weeks we are going to try something different. We will give you the news about the Midlanders attending the Hardin-Simmons Summer Band School and the McMurry Summer Band School. We sure hope this works and we think it will. This is just about all this week.

Our very deepest sympathy is extended to the L. V. Turner family on the loss of their daughter, Rosamond.

White House Cake May Be Chocolate

NEW YORK—(P)—Chocolate cake may well be a White House favorite in 1953, according to a survey by a firm which queried the officials by letter. Chocolate won the nod in the poll of presidential candidates and U. S. senators. Of the senators who voted, over 36 per cent preferred chocolate over devil's food cake. This group included Senator Estes Kefauver and Gov. Earl Warren. Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson prefers an old-time favorite, Lady Baltimore cake, a white cake topped with a date, raisin and nut frosting. Senator Robert S. Kerr decided on a sponge cake. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower said he had no particular favorite.

Market For Horses Found In Northeast

GLIDDEN, IOWA—(P)—Old Dobbin may have retired from most Midwest farms, but he's still in demand in the Northeastern United States, Billy Merritt, horse-buyer, says. Merritt says he is shipping a carload of horses every week from Glidden to logging camps in Maine and to the Northwestern truck gardening area. Merritt, who attends horse auctions in Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri, says a good young draft horse brings about $100. The horses have to be big and strong and teams must be matched. So far, Merritt says, he has shipped 10 carloads of horses this year.

Red Interest Rates Cut To 50 Per Cent

HONG KONG—(P)—Communist banks in China cut interest rates to private industry as much as 80 per cent last month, the Peiping radio says. This appears to be another Communist effort to speed up industry, which was crippled by the Reds' recent so-called "anti-corruption" campaign against private industry in Red China. Some of the industries which were fined to heavily they had to shut down have been granted both loans and big government orders to get them operating again. Peiping said the new interest rates to private industry ranged from 1.05 to 1.65 per cent.

Join Youngsters In Their Play As Companion, Not Spectator

Don't always be just a spectator to your children's fun if you really want to enjoy them. Join right in and have fun with them, learning as they learn, playing as they play, exploring as they explore. Fathers seem to know this secret for enjoying children better than mothers. But it works for mothers, too. This summer don't take your children to the swimming pool and sit on a bench beside the pool, the way so many mothers do, watching your children have fun. Get in there with them and have some fun yourself. Even if you don't know how to swim—you can learn. When one of your children gets interested in a hobby, share his fun by learning something about it yourself. Instead of sitting back and saying, "That's very interesting, Johnny," let's go and really let yourself GET interested. Help Find Answers When your children ask for information, and what you can tell them on a subject is scanty help them get the information they want instead of putting them off with

It's Time For Cherry Jam

SOUR CHERRIES used when the fruit is fresh and plentiful can add up to flavorful jams and jellies to grace your tables the year 'round.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Foods and Markets Editor
Cherry time! So let's dig up a few recipes alive with the bright flavor of sour cherries.
Sour Cherry Jam
(About 8 6-ounce glasses)
Four cups prepared fruit, 4 1/2 cups sugar, 1 box powdered fruit pectin.
To prepare fruit, stem and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe sour cherries. Chop fine or grind. Add a few crushed cherry pits during cooking. Measure 4 cups into a large saucepan.
To make the jam, measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.
Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with 1 1/2 inch hot paraffin.

Dancing Dervishes Lose Their Sheikh

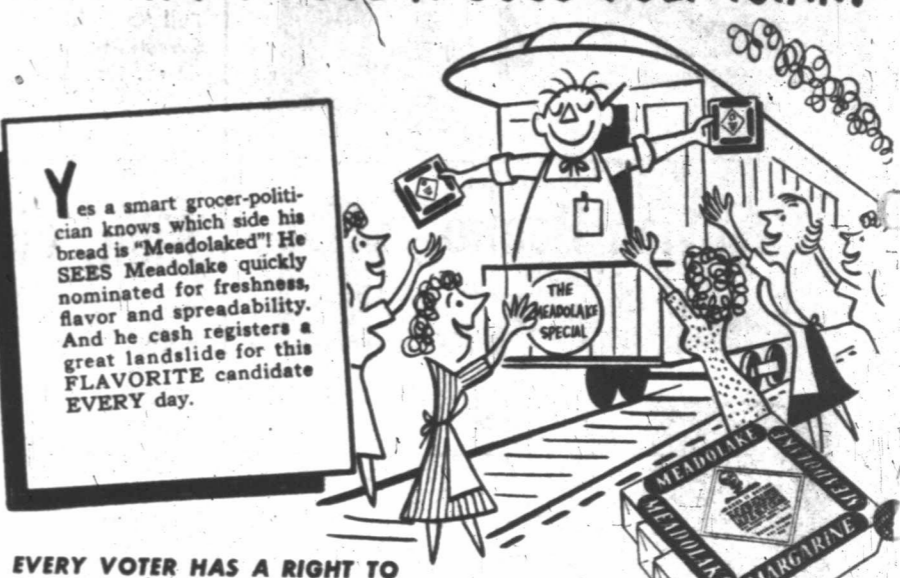

DAMASCUS, SYRIA —(P)—As part of the reform policy of Premier General Fawzi Selo, the Syrian government recently abolished the title of Sheikh of the Dancing Dervishes, deprived him of control of the sect's properties and turned their mosque into a public hospital. The sheikh headed the remnants—about 40 members in Damascus and Aleppo—of the Mawlawi sect of dervishes (religious fraternities) which was powerful in Turkey before its abolition by Kamal Ataturk, who confiscated its properties. Among the Mawlawis, the zikr, main devotional exercise, consists of a monotonous chant accompanied by a slow, whirling movement with eyes closed and arms extended. The ceremony continues until the participants fall into a cataleptic state.

F. 30 minutes, or until done.
Cherry Parfait
(Serves 6)
One box prepared vanilla pudding, 2 cups milk, 1 jar homemade cherry jam.
Prepare vanilla pudding as directed on the package. Fill 6 parfait glasses with alternate layers of pudding and cherry jam. Chill.

Clock Watchers' Promenade Shows Up Humans As Human

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody loves a parade, but the one I like best to watch is the one out of the office at quitting time each day. It is then the human parade looks most human. And you can tell something about each inmate by the way he starts the long voyage home.

The average worker will recognize at least some of the following standard office types:

1. The clock watcher—This reluctant beaver has developed a size 18 neck from raising his head to study the clock. When it hits 5:30 he is off like a springing deer. He couldn't get out of the place faster if someone hollered "Fire!"

EAGLE'S NEST—John Eagle soaks up a bit of sun at Henley, England, after delivering a boat that will be entered in the forthcoming Henley Royal Regatta. In between trips, Eagle unships his hammock, and retires to his portable "nest."

New Fields, Farms Dot Land Where David Slew His Giant

JERUSALEM (AP)—The gradual rejuvenation of the Holy Land is now reaching the historic Valley of Ajlun where Joshua fought the Canaanites 3,500 years ago and where—some 300 years later—young David slew the giant Goliath.

Today, this central Israel region is no longer called by its biblical name, but the western part of the "Jerusalem Corridor" leading from the fields and groves of the Jaffa-Tel Aviv coastal plain up to the mountains of Judea, to the monasteries of Ain Karim, (the birthplace of John the Baptist) and to Jerusalem.

While the 19-mile long and nine-mile wide "Corridor" politically belongs to the State of Israel, the area to the north and south of it is now within the Jordan-administered part of Palestine. An armistice frontier—not yet made permanent by a peace treaty—separates the two territories.

The population of the "Corridor" is at present about 10,000, almost all of them recent Jewish immigrants from Southern Arabia, North Africa, Iran and the Balkan countries. Only very few of them were ever before what they have now become; road builders, forest workers, farmers or artisans. On the whole, they make a success of their new professions, helped by the American United Jewish Appeal which provides the repairable budget for settlement and irrigation and all the technical assistance; by the Jewish National Fund "Keren Kayemetz" which gives the land and plants the forests; and finally by the state which in addition to road building organizes various services.

Four years ago—most of the "Corridor" was rocky, barren and utterly desolate. It may take another generation or two till all this has changed. But even now what has already been initiated in the old Judean landscape shows what this part of the Holy Land will one day be: a blossoming countryside with fields and farms.

Nocham is one of the 14 transitional camp villages where a belt of white houses for the newcomers already surrounds the primitive canvas or corrugated iron dwellings for the late-comers. Nearby, history looks down from the hill topped by the village of Zor where Samson was born. And the future looms from another spot where a huge cement factory is being erected.

Road construction was already beginning during the Arab-Jewish fighting. And no less than 40 new agricultural settlements and transitional camp villages have now been established there.

Well, there they are—the office pilgrims. Just getting out of the office each night takes them more real acting ability and energy than John Barrymore ever put into "Hamlet."

No wonder the tired businessman arrives home so worn out.

One hundred million tons of bituminous coal were used for coke in 1950.

KOROSEAL WEATHERSTRIPPING FOR CASEMENT WINDOWS

"APCO" AMERICAN WINDOW CO. 219 N. Colorado Dial 3-3721

WILLIE! In 1940, as we showed, the Republicans met in Philadelphia. Thomas E. Dewey, New York's governing district attorney, looked like the man to beat. A noisy gang in the gallery claimed to have a man that could—Willie!

Who was Willie? A Wall Street lawyer, utilities company president and shoggy-headed lawyer who had never held public office. Business wanted him. Finance wanted him. People tired of professional politicians wanted him.

On the first ballot, Dewey led Senator Taft, Willie and Senator Vandenberg. Two ballots later Willie passed Taft. On the next he led Dewey. Sending a stampede, Ohio Governor Bricker grabbed a microphone and tried to call a recess. He failed and Willie was nominated.

A miracle had been witnessed. Would another? Willie made it seem possible. Traveling through 34 states and speaking four and five times a day, he broke Bryan's barnstorming record of 1896. But 550 speeches and 33,000,000 Willie buttons were not enough to wrest the New Deal and a third term from F.D.'s hands.

Buzzards Teach Glider Ace How To Solve Air Currents

Sailplane Champion: Dick Johnson followed the vultures. STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—(NEA)—Playing an aerial game of follow-the-leader with wild Mississippi buzzards, sail-plane champion Dick Johnson has been learning secrets of aerodynamics that may provide long-sought answers in the aviation field. Johnson and Dr. August Raspet, head of the Mississippi State College aerodynamics department, recently noticed that buzzards have an instinct for seeking out invisible updrafts and can soar through the air with less than half the resistance or "drag" of the most efficient airplane. To find out why, Johnson trailed the wild birds in his record-fast

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

I have before me an accumulation of questions about sambo, the three-pack game in which you are allowed to meld sequences. It's a very good game, and anybody who hasn't tried it is missing a good bet. The rules for taking the discard pile are not the same as canasta. This fact inspires some of the questions that come to me.

Q—The discard pile in a game of sambo is not frozen. I have a meld of 3-5-5 on the table. The player at my right discards a five. May I take the pile and add the five to my meld? The opponents claim that I need a pair of natural fives in my hand.

A—You are allowed to add the five to your meld, and you do not need a pair of fives in your hand. If the discard pile were frozen, you would need a pair of fives in your hand. When the pile is not frozen, however, you are allowed to pick up a discard that matches one of your unfinished melds. A canasta or a sambo is a finished meld.

Q—I have melded 7-8-9 of clubs early in the hand. Some time later, the opponent at my right discards the jack of clubs. I have the ten of clubs in my hand. May I take the pile and add the ten and jack of clubs to my sequence?

A—No. You are never allowed to take the discard pile in sambo with one natural card, and a wild card. When you want to make a new meld you always need a natural matching pair. In other words, for a new meld the discard pile is always considered frozen.

Q—I have melded 7-8-9 of clubs early in the hand. Some time later, the opponent at my right discards the jack of clubs. I have the ten of clubs in my hand. May I take the pile and add the ten and jack of clubs to my sequence?

A—No. You could take an unfrozen pile, if your opponent discarded the six or ten of clubs—since those cards fit immediately on the sequence that was previously melded. But the jack of clubs does not fit immediately, so you cannot take it.

Q—I drew the last two cards of the stock pile, and one of them was a red three. What is the rule?

A—Put the red three down on the table and proceed as though you had made a normal draw of two cards.

Resort For Cats Does Good Trade In Pampering Pusses

By JACK QUIGG
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Thirteen years ago Mrs. Mildred Alexander built three cages and put them in the back yard of her small stucco home on busy Ventura Boulevard in the San Fernando Valley. Then, in the front yard, she erected a sign.

The sign said: "Motel for cats."

Today, prosperity having long since arrived, Mrs. Alexander's back yard is covered with cages, now called cottages. There are nearly 40, including a "honeymoon cottage."

Feline guests take their ease on miniature, human-style beds and chairs. The menu includes lobster and caviar.

In 13 years the cat motel has become THE place for cats of class to board while their masters are away.

It has been a second home to Clark Gable's Siamese and Arthur Kennedy's red Persians.

A cat owned by Adrian and Janet Gaynor made the motel his permanent home. Adrian, says Mrs. Alexander, is allergic to the beasts, although he dearly loves them. He got around this by bringing the cat home evenings once or twice a week, and returning it mornings.

Mrs. A. breeds cats as a sideline. Barbara Stanwyck and Ethel Barrymore have bought from her. The most lavish cottage on the tree-shaded grounds—it's big enough for people and has a tree growing up through the center—was built by funds from the late Jean Harlow's estate. The platinum blonde's pampered pet, Blue Baby, spent its final years there. Since Blue Baby's demise the cottage has been the motel's most popular.

Mrs. Alexander is a plump, motherly woman in her 50's. She specializes in providing special service. By an arrangement with airlines, cats can be shipped to her in advance of the owner's arrival. She quarters the animal until the master is prepared to take over.

Bills Of Fare

She stands ready to prepare and serve, at any hour, cooked or uncooked, chicken, steak, bacon and eggs, fish courses, or even, as one person ordered, buttered string beans. So far, no one has ordered mice.

She has catered to a cat that drank only from a crystal goblet placed on a linen napkin and another that would eat only off a chopping block. She has read religious tracts to a cat nestled on her lap. She has cared for an ocelot, a baby leopard, and is preparing to welcome a young cheetah and a deodorized skunk — "The owner swore skunks are members of the cat family and I believed him."

On Christmas each cottage gets a tree with trimmings and each cat a stocking filled with toys and tidbits.

The price of lodging: $1 to $2 nightly depending on the size of the cottage and the fanciness of the meal.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

There he is—just left of that square patch of snow near the top of the slide! There's our glacier bear—and be damned if he doesn't look almost green rather than blue!

After three days of planning and long days of glassy snow piles and rock slides for an attainable glacier bear, I was fully prepared to have him decorated with corkcreeper stripes of pink and purple. But this critter, way up on a 50-degree slide slashing off a mountain still loaded with soggy Spring snow, did glint rather greenish in the sunlight.

Even with our binoculars jiggling in excitement, however, we could see he was actually a light blue gray in the body, with dark-shading ears, muzzle, and legs.

Reaching that spot at the end of Disenchantment Bay, the very head of Alaska's Yakutat Bay, had taken exactly three years—dating from one of those "some-day-maybe" trips guide Ralph Young and I had cooked up during a 1949 brown bear expedition on Baranof.

In order to set up this Yakutat hunt we had quizzed scientists, Siwashes, and salmon fishermen, badgered Fish & Wildlife Service field men, read all the available writings on these odd bears—and 99 per cent of the dope on the glacier bears derives from a letter written by naturalist Dall back in the 1890's. But there was the blue bear we'd traveled almost 4000 miles for, figuring the odds were fifty-fifty on seeing one, fifty-to-one against nailing him.

Not too much is known about this peculiar sub-species of black bear, Euarctos Emmonsii. Actually the blue or glacier bear appears to be a distinctive color phase of the ordinary black, the distinction being that his hide may be anything from off-white with a smoky cast to a deep bluish-black with silver tipping almost like a silver fox. Some, light-bodied but dark on the extremities, resemble a panda whose paint job ran when he met an Alaskan rainstorm.

They do not breed true, because blue sows with black cubs show up as often as vice versa. The glacier bears' pelts seem woollier underneath than the coat of a standard black; they seem to have more hair in the hind pad arch and under their front toes; and they don't move down onto the salmon streams when the runs start, usually staying higher up under the snow fields that cover the glacier-gaashee mountains behind Yakutat—and probably also the Yagataga coast—all year round.

Of the one or two hundred odd-colored Emmons bears which Alaskan authorities estimate are now living, and no one knows how many there really are, Indians pick off a couple each year and peddle the hides. But according to Trefzger, with us on the hunt because he knew every anchorage and bear trail in the section, no "dude" had slain himself a true glacier bear since Trefzger's arrival in Yakutat in 1906, the year after Emmons made his collection for the American Museum.

Halfway up the slide this particular dude was almost ready to let matters go back to 1906. And once off the rock slide proper the sliders got so thick we couldn't see more than 50 yards and couldn't have shot surely beyond 30.

When Ralph caught the waddle of a gray-blue stern up ahead of us, just a flash, I was sure a wind shift had blown the chance—but just as we scrambled onto a slant of heavy snow that had ripped off the underbrush there he was, standing clear perhaps 80 yards up the hill. Two steps would have taken him out of sight, back 3600 miles and three years.

My 7 mm. Mauburn Magnum whacked—who would use an ordinary standard caliber on an extraordinary sort of bear?—and down he rolled end over end, snow flying and brush cracking, right into our laps.

And you know, when I could calm down enough to find the end of my cigarette with a match, and to inspect that glacier bear sensibly, there did seem to be a sort of greenish cast to his nylon-glinting pelt at that!

After 1,300 Shows, South Pacific Keeps On Rolling

NEW YORK (NEA)—It makes people laugh and it makes them cry. It makes $1,000,000 a year. Its hired hands love to work for it.

Two of its greatest assets are a beautiful lady who washes her hair 15 times a week and can milk a cow, and a wealthy boss who actually likes to pay taxes.

It's only three years old, but already it ranks as a local institution right along with Grant's Tomb and Scotch on the rocks.

The name is "South Pacific," the musical comedy about daffy Navy nurses and daffier Seabees, heart-

That Man Right Outa My Hair"—until you've heard her do the song. Before Mirror

Miss Wright is sitting before a mirror in her dressing room dabbing blue-green stuff on her eyelids with a brush, and she wears what appears alarmingly to be a big white bath towel, and nothing else.

"What makes this show great?" she echoes. "Well, sir, I'll tell you something." She's still looking in the mirror and dabbing with the brush. "There are two places in this show where I still get real tears in my eyes.

"When I've been in a show a year (she succeeded Mary Martin as Ensign Nellie Forbush a year ago) and it can still make my eyes get wet when I don't want 'em to be, then there's something great going on somewhere."

Down a winding greenish corridor, packed with ragged-looking Seabees and singularly unrugged barelegged nurses, is the dressing room of 41-year-old George Britton, Martha Wright's French sweetheart in the play.

"Nope, I never shed an honest tear in my life," the husky Britton brags boisterously. "But after a few of the strong scenes in this show I am afflicted with knots in the stomach that I am convinced were not caused by something I ate."

Up Some Stairs

Up some steep stairs, also happily peopled with those long-legged nurses, is the dressing room of My-breaking love and bleak death, and Bloody Mary and her grass skirts. All on a Pacific isle in World War II.

After 1,300 performances, 1,700 people who have paid from $1.80 to $6 each for seats are still on hand and panting every time the Majestic Theater's curtain goes up.

Part Of Answer

How come the continued to-do, about this particular show?

Part of the answer you can get by sidling through the cave-like backstage gloom of the Majestic and into the big be-tinted dressing room of an impish blonde named Martha Wright.

She's what's known as the female lead, which is one of the flattest descriptions of all time. This is only the second Broadway show she was ever in—and the first successful one—but she prances and dances and sings and romances around the stage like she was born and raised on it.

She can also milk a cow. She picked up that elusive art during her farm girl days back in Washington state. And she's the hair washer. She has a hair washing scene in every performance—eight a week including matinees—and she has to wash it at home every morning to remove the soap she couldn't get out during the show.

Sounds like a lot of trouble to go to just as a piece of business for a song she sings, "I'm Gonna Wash ron McCormick, the king Seabee and one of the few members of the cast who has been with the show from the beginning.

"I been in this dressing room longern' I have in my apartment," he says. "I've had three apartments while I've had this one dressing room. I feel more at home here than I do at home."

Back down in the wings, a black cavern full of ropes and pulleys and whisperings, Martha Wright,

PICNIC GRILL—The family will cheer whenever you announce that dinner's to be served in the open. For the picnic grill, take along several different kinds of meats and let everyone join in the fun of being chef for a day. Offer a choice of these meats to cook over an open fire: Picnic Patties—Season each pound of ground beef with one teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon pepper. Add 1/4 cup cold water per pound of meat. Shape into patties and wrap in waxed paper before taking to the picnic spot. Barberpole Franks—Wrap each frankfurter with a strip of bacon and fasten with a toothpick. Barbeque Bologna Burgers—Slice bologna 1/4 to 1/2 inch thick and brown on a hot greased grill. While the slices brown, spoon barbeque sauce over them. Serve meat in buns and complete the menu with olives and pickles, crisp celery and carrot sticks, beverage and fresh cherry pie.

island native who makes souvenir grass skirts and forces them on the Seabees for $100 apiece. Juanita Hall is just back with the show after a year's absence, and she's singing the great "Ball Ha'!

"Look at her eyes," Miss Wright whispers. "Aren't they tremendous and full of light? Look at the way her face catches the light."

Lyrics By Hammerstein

Oscar Hammerstein II wrote the book and lyrics and co-produced the hit. It was based on James Michener's Pulitzer Prize book, "Tales of the South Pacific." Michener, it seems, had a Navy job that took him throughout the Pacific islands and what he saw and lived and learned, he put into tales, some amusing, some deeply romantic.

Hammerstein, the guy who likes to pay income taxes because he's so proud of America's schools for his kids, is proud of the terrific change of pace of "South Pacific"—the jumps from tender love to ribald Seabee humor, to tragedy and high drama, to unbelievably Bloody Mary.

"The change of pace is terrific. The audience is in the death grip. They're caught, they're helpless. They can't breathe. We never let go."

Missionary Effort To Replace Jungles With Grain Fields

VICKSBURG, Miss.—(AP)—Industrialist R. G. LeTourneau hopes to move African natives to Christianity by replacing Liberian jungles with fields of grain.

LeTourneau bought a 200-foot war surplus landing ship from a Pittsburgh junk dealer, reconditioned it at the R. G. LeTourneau, Inc. plant here, had it checked at a New Orleans drydock and is now loading it here.

It will leave Saturday with a cargo and a staff of 20 "technical missionaries" for Africa. Rev. Billy Graham, the evangelist, will speak at dedication ceremonies Saturday morning.

LeTourneau thinks he can hurry Christian missionary work by transplanting American machines and the know-how for better living.

"If we can show them a field of grain, and a combine, they'll listen to us about God," he said.

Retired Railroader Runs Diminutive Zoo

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—Retired railroader George Russell, 79, has gone into the animal business.

On his acre of land, Russell raises turtles, pheasants, squirrels, peacocks and even a raccoon. Many of the animals were given to the former railroader man by friends.

The raccoon, Tootsie, came to the Russell backyard after a friend's wife said she couldn't live in the same apartment with it.

India Buys Grains From China, Russia

NEW DELHI—(AP)—India in 1951 bought 100,000 metric tons of foodgrains from Russia in exchange for tea, shellac, tobacco and jute. Food Minister R. A. Kidwai told questioners in parliament.

There is no proposal to buy any Soviet foodgrains in 1952, he added.

Red China, however, has offered to sell 100,000 tons of rice on a cash basis and the offer has been accepted, Kidwai said.

NO SUBWAY THIS—This picture was taken in San Antonio, Tex., and it looks as if the city is getting a new subway. On the contrary, instead of being a subterranean tube, the "subway" is the high-flying upper deck of the Air Force's XC-99. That's the cargo-carrier version of the B-36 bomber. The huge ship, 182 feet long, with a 230-foot wingspan, routinely carries a payload of more than 100,000 pounds.

The MATURE PARENT

The MATURE PARENT

It's Important To Understand Mom's Reluctance To Talk Sex

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
I have a letter from a 15-year-old reader who says she's troubled because her mother never has given her sex instruction.

"Please tell me what to do," she writes. "I do not want to ask those questions you wrote about anyone but my mother. Should I just wait for her to talk to me—or bring up the subject myself?"

Frankly, I doubt that a mother who has not already given sex instruction to a 15-year-old child ever will give any. If she ever gives it, it probably will be the day before her daughter marries. Then the comments will be hasty and unmeaningless.

To broach the subject to a mother so reluctant to discuss it? Well, that's another gamble. Her child wouldn't get much enlightenment from her forced answers.

I therefore suggest that this daughter ask her mother if she would allow any objection to her writing to Science Research Associates, 57 West Grand Avenue, Chicago, Ill., which publishes pamphlets on sex information for people of her age.

When she writes for the pamphlet on sex information, I also urge her to inquire if Science Research Associates publish a pamphlet on parents' reluctance to impart sex information to children.

Understanding her mother's reluctance is quite as important to my young reader as learning the facts about sex.

If she reads this column regularly, she knows how it stresses parents' need to examine their motives for demanding things of children. Today, it stresses a child's need to examine her motives for demanding something of a parent. It urges this young girl to be as honest as she can be about this desire to discuss sex matters with her mother.

Does she want her mother to impart sex information to her because she loves and trusts her mother?

Army And Ike Think There's Plenty Five-Star Generals

WASHINGTON—Both the Army and Dwight D. Eisenhower seem to think four five-star generals are enough for now.

Eisenhower, himself a general of the Army, resigned as reported at Denver to have said he does not favor raising any more generals to five-star rank at this time.

In this connection, the Defense Department and the Army were asked by a reporter if it is planned to promote Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who succeeded Eisenhower as supreme commander in Europe, from his present four-star rank.

The Defense Department said Secretary Lovett has received no request from the Army for special legislation to create five-star rank for Ridgway. An Army spokesman said there was no indication the

POTATOES BUT NO TOPS
CENTRALIA, ILL. —(AP)—The potato shortage made Ben Buchholz worry about the many vacant spaces in his potato patch. He dug down to see why his seed had not sent up plants. He found many potatoes as large as hen eggs. Now he's wondering if a new topless potato has been developed by a quirk of nature.

Kindergarten Tots Called Half-Pupils

ST. PAUL, MINN. —(AP)—Are kindergarten children one-half a pupil each or one-quarter? Minnesota Education Commissioner Dean M. Schweickhard asked this question of state Attorney General Burnquist when it came to determining a basis for computing tax levies. The attorney general ruled "each kindergarten pupil attending half-day sessions throughout the school year constitutes one-half pupil unit."

Veep Barkley Enters Race In Role Of Favorite Son

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Alben W. Barkley is going to vote for Alben W. Barkley for the presidential nomination on the first ballot at the national convention.

When his friends began booming him, he remarked only that he would accept the nomination if it were offered. Then the Kentucky state Democratic convention pledged their delegates to vote for Barkley as a favorite son. And Barkley was selected as one of the delegates. Party Regular

The vice-president—"Veep" to his grandchildren — is a well-beloved party regular, who has been out in front at all the party conventions since 1932. He was the keynote that year, and in 1936 and 1948. In 1940 and 1944 he was permanent chairman.

In 1944 he made the nominating speech for Franklin D. Roosevelt for a fourth term—a couple of months after he said Roosevelt had had their only tiff — over Roosevelt's stinging veto of a tax bill.

Barkley has held elective offices since 1905, when he became a county prosecuting attorney. He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1913 and to the Senate in 1927. He has followed the leadership of Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman almost without deviation. As Senate majority leader during much of Roosevelt's administration, he is credited with being one of the builders of the New Deal.

When Barkley became vice-president in 1948, he didn't retire into the background as many of the holders of that office do. He campaigned about as hard as Mr. Truman did before the election, and he has been in the limelight ever since.

As the Senate's presiding officer, he has been very active and frequently vocal. And with the help of air travel he has kept up a speaking schedule throughout the nation which would wear out many a younger man. His health has been fine, except for a minor eye operation last February.

Married Three Years Ago
Barkley, 74, was married about three years ago to a St. Louis widow, Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, then 58. She has traveled constantly with him, even went on a long tour of Pacific battlefields and military camps last Winter. Barkley, a widower has three children, and she has two.

Born on a Kentucky farm, he had to work his way through college.

He got his A.B. at Marvin College, where he had a janitor's job. Years later, when he visited the school, he chuckled at this sign on his old dormitory: "Barkley swept here."

He also attended the University of Virginia law school.

Barkley is famous for his wit and stories. His leadership on the floor has been tactful but firm. His speeches are always great examples of showmanship, full of force and fluent language and delivered with dramatic appeal.

It is at the White House, surrounded by the Cabinet, the Supreme Court and many old senatorial friends. "It is difficult for me to point out any specific thing I have done on which this action is based," Barkley commented.

"It is sweet recognition of a great man's worth," chortled Chief Justice Fred Vinson.
