Turner To Drill 6,500-Foot Test In SE Glasscock

Fred Turner, Jr. spotted location for a 6,500-foot wildcat in Southeast Glasscock County, six miles north and slightly east of Seaboard Oil Company of Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company No. 1 Bishop, recently completed Wichita-Albany discovery.

The new test is No. 1 S. C. Currie, 660 feet from west and south lines of section 4, block 32, T&P survey, T-5-S.

Operations are to start at once. Location is 10 miles southeast of Garden City.

Eastland Schedules 6,000-Foot Wildcat In Ector Sector

The Eastland Oil Company spotted location for No. 28 J. L. Johnson, Jr., 6,000-foot wildcat in Central Ector County.

It will be drilled 335 feet from west and 1,888 feet from south lines of section 43, block 43, T-1-S, T&P survey. It is in the Donnelly (San Andrew) field.

Operations are to start at once.

Two Wildcats Are To Be Drilled In W-C, S-C Kent

Newman Brothers Drilling Company and Crane Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Bill Wyatt is to be drilled as a 7,300-foot wildcat three miles northwest of production in the Salt Creek (Canyon) field of West-Central Kent County.

It is 467 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of M. D. Barnett subdivision, pd survey and 14 miles northwest of Clairmont.

Operations are to start at once. Chapman & McFarlin Producing Company No. 2 D. M. Cogdell, Jr. is a new test location south of the same operators No. 1 Cogdell, Jr., wildcat in Central-South Kent County.

New location is 635 feet from west and 1,390 feet from north lines of section 7B, block 97, H&TC survey and 22 miles northeast of Snyder. It is to be drilled to 5,000 feet for tests of the Permian.

Southland Royalty Assured Good Well In Reagan Section

Southland Royalty Company is assured of a good Spraberry oil well at its No. 1-41 O. F. Boyd, Northwest Reagan County exploration. This prospect is three-eighths of a mile southeast of Fossilton & Pauley No. 13-42 Boyd, which was completed about six weeks ago as a two and one-half miles southeast extender to the Aldwell (Spraberry) field.

Southland No. 1-41 Boyd is bottomed at 7,415 feet in the Spraberry sand. It has 7-inch casing cemented at 7,385 feet.

Fractured

The open hole section had been fractured with 4,000 gallons.

After the fracture solution had worked the well was opened up and the swab was pulled three times.

The well kicked off and flowed out the load and residue from the fracturing and it then flowed an average of 28 barrels of new oil per hour for 15 hours through 15/64th inch tubing choke.

There were no signs of formation water. Flowing tubing pressure during the 15 hours of flowing averaged 400 pounds.

That flow was at the rate of 672 barrels of oil per day. Operator is now preparing to take potential test and complete the new prospect.

Another Wildcat Flows Wolfcamp Oil In NE Ector

Another flowing discovery from the Wolfcamp-Permian line has been uncovered in Northeast Ector County. The latest strike is at V. A. Brill of Midland and Houston No. 1 David and Inez Fasken.

It is one mile north and one-half of a mile west of the same operator's No. 1 Ratliff, which has also flowed out from the Wolfcamp and which has shown for a possible discovery from the Pennsylvania line.

Brill No. 1 Fasken is about 11 miles northeast of Odessa and 21 miles northwest of Midland. It is (Continued on Page 14)

Quakes Rock South California

At Least 11 Persons Die; Losses High

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A violent earthquake, striking before dawn in the sparsely-settled mountains north of here, killed at least 11 persons Monday and left a mounting toll of damage and injuries.

As the first reports of eyewitnesses filtered out of the little town of Tehachapi, they painted a picture of a shattered business district, brick-littered streets and a wrecked hotel.

Rubble May Hide Deaths At Tehachapi

TEHACHAPI, CALIF.—(AP)—A violent earthquake hit this little mountain community before dawn Monday, leveling buildings, killing at least 11 persons and leaving a mounting toll of injured and damage.

The quake was general throughout much of California, breaking water mains, throwing power circuits out of order, blocking highways and rail lines, shattering windows.

But it turned its worst fury on Tehachapi. As military and civilian rescue workers converged on the city, it appeared that the death toll may go higher when the rubble of brick and cement is cleared away.

Mother And Children Die

The dead included three sisters and their girl friend, and a mother and four children. Deputy Coroner Nolan Clay identified them as:

Marianne, 12, Linda, nine, and Mary Martin, eight, daughters of Louis Martin, 47, who owns the furniture store, and their overnight guest, Marilyn Taylor, 13.

Florence Ann Fillmore, 16, who died when a ranch roof caved in.

Walter Nolen, about 50, Bakerfield, a guest at the Summit Hotel.

Mrs. Blanche Cantana, 36, and her four children, Gloria, 13, Joe, 11, Nicola, about seven, and Bobby, 5, all of Silver City, N. M., visiting in a frame residence on main street.

Sheriff Tom Kelly said it was impossible to estimate the number of injured here. The hospital, evacuated at the first shock, was put back in use and was full. The Red Cross and Edwards Air Base crews set up emergency medical centers and kitchens.

Every one of the town's 15 major buildings suffered some damage. Beds hung over the edge as the wall of the Juanita Hotel fell out. The Post Office, an ice cream parlor, three bars, two markets, a motel, a clothing store all suffered some damage.

Military police were flown in from Edwards, 40 miles east of here, to help sheriff's deputies maintain order.

Crossing Crash Kills Prominent Attorney

DALLAS—(AP)—A car-train collision early Monday killed Linton McLeod Rice, prominent Dallas attorney.

Rice, 61, was injured fatally about 1:30 a.m. when a Missouri-Kansas-Texas diesel engine plowed into his car at a crossing in North Dallas.

COASTAL QUAKE TOLLS RECALLED

By The Associated Press

Other disastrous California earthquakes and their toll include:

San Francisco area, 1906-700 deaths and estimated 400 million dollars property damage from earthquake and fire.

Santa Barbara area, 1925 — 11 deaths and 10 million dollars damage.

Long Beach-Compton area, 1933 — more than 100 deaths and 40 million dollars damage.

El Centro and Imperial Valley, 1940 — nine deaths and six millions damage.

Democratic Convention Swings Open

Delegate Contest Battle Postponed By Program Shift

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO—(P)—The Democrats opened their thirty-first National Convention at 11:01 a.m. Monday, pulling and hauling in uncertainty over platform and candidates.

As to the platform, it was again, as it has been for years, a North-South battle over "civil rights."

This sectional warfare threatened for a time to break out on the convention floor at the opening session in a scrap over seating of rival delegations from Mississippi and Texas. But convention leaders put the issue over at least 24 hours by a program shift.

As to candidates, it was wide-open. Five hopefuls were working hard for the presidential nomination and there were a dozen "favorite sons" in the field.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, the man who has said repeatedly he doesn't want it, was still getting a lot of talk for the nomination.

Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois, mindful of GOP attacks on the Truman Administration's Korean policy, said in a prepared speech that the joint chiefs of staff had reported in 1947 that Korea had little strategic value to the United States.

He asked:

"Now who do you suppose was chief of staff of the Army when this military advice was given? It was Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Downtown, the platform-drafting committee was working on a document it hoped to present to the convention on Wednesday.

Backers of a proposed federal Fair Employment Practices Act were plugging for a plank pledging the party to seek a change in Senate rules so that FEPC could not be stopped by a filibuster. Southern senators have in the past beaten FEPC by prolonged debate which prevented it from coming to a vote.

Hangover over the convention is the threat that some Southern delegations may walk out if they don't like the "civil rights" plank. A bolt in 1948 cost President Truman the 39 electoral votes of four Southern states which gave them instead to a States' Right ticket.

The convention won't get around to picking its presidential nominee before Friday, at the earliest.

In the meantime, the delegates are waiting:

1. For a sign from President Truman as to whom he favors.
2. For some development which could turn sentiment toward one of the candidates now in the field, or possibly to some one not yet mentioned.

Out of the wide-ranging field of candidates there emerged at least one man with a convention strategy plan—Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Winner of most of the Democratic primaries for the nomination, Kefauver appeared ready to shoot the political works on an effort to win the nomination by the fourth ballot.

City Has Two New Polio Cases; Texas Total Mounts

Two more reported cases of polio Monday pushed to 12 the total number of persons stricken by the disease in Midland County during the year.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, head of the city-county health unit, reported the two additional cases here as the march of polio continued at a steady and deadly pace throughout the rest of Texas.

"The number of cases," said Dr. Pigford, "is just about what we expected under the circumstances, particularly with the number of cases reported in other sections of the state."

"However, the situation here is nothing to cause alarm at this particular time."

The two new cases are Susan Fasken, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Fasken, who suffered a light attack Friday and is reported recovering at her home at 1804 West College Street, and Glenda Ray Passons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Passons, 2704 Roosevelt Street, who is in a Fort Worth hospital.

Three of the five new polio patients in Dallas were placed in iron lungs. The 27-year-old wife of a Baptist pastor was among the Dallas cases, her condition termed critical.

Nurse Stricken

Another Dallas case was a 23-year-old Red Cross nurse from Gainesville who had been helping treat cases in the Parkland Hospital polio ward in Dallas.

The other in Dallas included a 29-year-old man, a six-year-old boy and an infant. Apparently the disease was hitting almost every age group.

At Fort Worth, where the polio ward of City-County Hospital had 42 cases under treatment, nine-year-old Gary Alan Shepherd was in a respirator in critical condition. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Odell Shepherd.

Fort Worth has had a total of 122 cases so far this year.

Clarabene Bielefeldt, 20, a Baylor University co-ed was under treatment in her Waco home after the illness was diagnosed as polio Saturday.

Miss Bielefeldt was McLennan County's 42nd case of the year. For all of 1951, the county had only 29 cases.

Washington—(AP)—President Truman was at his desk at the White House Monday for the first time in more than a week. And his press secretary took the occasion to swipe at the unending string of rumors dealing with Truman's position on Democratic politics.

The President spent three days last week at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, undergoing a series of tests as a result of a mild virus infection that had been plaguing him. He left the hospital Saturday.

Meanwhile, rumors were flying between Chicago and Washington as to just what Truman would do in regard to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Here's what press secretary Joseph Short said of the rumors: "I'm not going to comment on any of them."

And, he added: "Some of them are exclusive and will remain exclusive permanently."

By that, Short meant that some of the rumors were so exclusive they could never be substantiated. The idea was that most of them weren't true.

Short said the President still plans to attend the convention and speak after a presidential nominee is chosen, and that he plans to go to his home town of Independence, Mo., to vote in the Democratic primary there August 5.

Short said the President still plans to attend the convention and speak after a presidential nominee is chosen, and that he plans to go to his home town of Independence, Mo., to vote in the Democratic primary there August 5.

Truman, Back From Hospital, Ignores Convention Rumors

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman was at his desk at the White House Monday for the first time in more than a week. And his press secretary took the occasion to swipe at the unending string of rumors dealing with Truman's position on Democratic politics.

The President spent three days last week at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, undergoing a series of tests as a result of a mild virus infection that had been plaguing him. He left the hospital Saturday.

Meanwhile, rumors were flying between Chicago and Washington as to just what Truman would do in regard to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Here's what press secretary Joseph Short said of the rumors: "I'm not going to comment on any of them."

And, he added: "Some of them are exclusive and will remain exclusive permanently."

Texas Candidates Launch Final Assault Of Words Before Voters Speak Saturday

By The Associated Press
Texas braced itself Monday for a gigantic assault of words—including colorful accusations and sensational charges—that would lead up to and through the first Democratic Primary of 1952.

The target date is Saturday, when tens of thousands of Texans will troop to the polling places to nominate their Democratic candidate for office.

Most of the resulting nominees will take office, the Democratic nomination usually being tantamount to election in traditionally Democratic Texas.

Candidates for almost every post—precinct and county, district and state—unleashed their heaviest guns for the grand finale they hoped would put them over the top.

Another in August
Where clear majorities are not reached, a second primary will be held in August.

Candidate for Governor Ralph Yarborough is scheduled to be in Dallas and Houston Tuesday, in San Antonio Wednesday, and in Corpus Christi Thursday. The Austin attorney campaigned in Fort Worth Monday.

Candidate for U. S. Senate E. W. Napier, Wichita Falls attorney, planned appearances Tuesday in Cleburne, Hillsboro, Waco, Temple, Belton, Georgetown, Round Rock, and Austin. Monday he campaigned from stop his red, white and blue auto in Cotacana, Ennis, Dallas, Grand Prairie, Arlington and Fort Worth.

Lindley Beckworth, Congressman seeking promotion to the U. S. Senate, toured 14 West Texas cities Monday in his vote quest: Bronck, San Angelo, Miles, Rowena, Ballinger, Winters, Bradshaw, Ovalo, Tuscola, Abilene, Anson, Lueders, Stamford, and Throckmorton.

Tuesday, the Gladewater Congressman will speak in Dallas and the surrounding area.

Attorney General Price Daniel, campaigning Monday in Dallas, set a state-wide radio broadcast for 7 p. m. Monday. He said it would be devoted to the "importance of the Tideland issue in the Senate race and the reason why national CIO-PAC leaders have endorsed the Washington opposition in the race."

Slaps At Beckworth
Daniel obviously was referring to Beckworth. The attorney general's statement to the Associated Press said:

"I am not surprised at this endorsement of my opponent by the CIO-PAC labor bosses because they have been against Texas on the Tideland and do not want to see me in a position to fight this battle to victory in the U. S. Senate."

Beckworth, too, has said he favored state ownership of the Tideland and interrupted his campaign once to fly to Washington to vote for a state ownership bill.

Governor Shivers' reelection bid was left up to friends and supporters while he was in Chicago for the Democratic convention. They set a lively pace for Yarborough and his other opponent, Mrs. Allene Traylor of San Antonio.

Marine, On Leave Mourns Slain Coed

NEW YORK (AP)—A young Marine was home from Korea Monday to mourn the girl he had hoped to marry.

Pfc. Ronald Leo arrived here on an emergency leave Sunday, but he was a day late for the funeral of 18-year-old Eileen Fahy. She was killed last Monday as she sat at her American Physical Society desk on the Columbia University campus.

Leo, who will be 20 in September, was in tears and declined to talk to newsmen upon his arrival at La Guardia Field. His parents met him.

Governors Asked For Policy Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 23 Republican governors who played such a prominent role in the nomination of Dwight D. Eisenhower as the GOP presidential nominee have been asked for ideas to strengthen bipartisan foreign policy.

Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) said he had written them for constructive help because the governors are "one of the greatest sources for the further youthful revitalization of the Republican party."

The ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Committee, Wiley would head that group if the GOP got a majority in the Senate.

DAVIES, CAPTAIN MAKE UP
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marion Davies and Capt. Horace Brown have become reconciled. The former actress sued the Merchant Marine officer for divorce last Wednesday, charging mental cruelty.

The Egyptians made keys and locks entirely of wood.

Rumors Of O'Connor-Kelly Feud Reported 'Unfounded'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Shelve those rumors about a big feud between Donald O'Connor and Gene Kelly over Donald's scorsored scenes in "Singing in the Rain." Donald, who isn't walling in the California sun, said he: "How can I be angry at a guy for giving me the best break of my career?"

Now it can be told: Hollywood studio heads killed the pre-nomination campaign rattle-dazzle for Eisenhower. Reason: Fear of incurring the displeasure of Gov. Earl Warren, who has been a good friend to the movie industry. But watch for the I-Like-Like ballyhoo, with the town's Heys and Lanas as pom-pom girls.

UT's sexy, blonde Mari Blanchard is due for a Marilyn Monroe buildup. But she's also warming up as a threat to Shelley Winters—if Shelley gets difficult again... MGM "Lili" the true life story of Fran Allison and Burr Tilstrom of TV fame... Hollywood lenders got the "No pictures, please" order from Hedy Lamarr when they tried to flash-bulb her with wealthy Howard Lee... Steve Crane, Lana Turner's ex, will be receiving his freedom within two months as the result of a civil divorce suit filed in France by Martine Carol.

It's type-changing time for Hollywood's glamor babes to put new zip into the box-office, and the dye vats are churning to the tune of "I'm gonna wash that color right out of my hair!"

Yesterday's brunets are today's blondes and yesterday's blondest star of them all, classic-faced Vera Ralston, now has tresses of midnight blue.

But that's only part of Vera's transformation for Republic's "Fair Wind to Java." It's a sexy, half-caste role for the star with a wardrobe of sarongs, exotic jewelry, dark make-up, a slinky walk and the character name of "Kim-Kim."

"I'll never be a blonde again," says Vera, who is beaming: "People I've worked with for 10 years look at me and say, 'Gosh, you have blue eyes.' You know something—I was born with blue eyes."

Hattie MacDonald, ailing for almost a year, is telling friends she expects to be up and about this Fall and well enough to resume her radio role of "Beulah." No TV, though... The word is out that David Niven, Diana Lynn and Scott Brady, who head the cast of "The Moon Is Blue" at La Jolla, also will be the stars of the movie version... Current gag: "Warner Brothers' new slogan will be: 'Combining good fires with good pictures making us candidates who Low Chimp On Telem Pole'

Beckworth Slates Talk In Midland

Congressman Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, candidate for the United States Senate, has slated an address in Midland Thursday night. His appearance here will be part of a West Texas tour in the interest of his candidacy.

Everett M. Byers Rites Set Tuesday

AUSTIN—Everett M. Byers, 52, well known Texas oil man, died at his home here Saturday after a brief illness.

He was born in Osborn, Kan., Oct. 17, 1899, and had been engaged actively in the land business as an independent oil operator since 1921. Byers attended the University of Chicago, where he was a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday in St. Mary's Cathedral here.

THESE POLICE ARE STUBBORN

DALLAS (AP)—Two armed men with $1,500 in a leather bag were indignant when police arrested them, sleeping in an automobile at 4 a. m. Sunday.

"This is our life savings," one of the men said. "It is against the law to save money!"

"We have these pistols to protect our savings," said the other. They were a 25-year-old cab driver and a 19-year-old plumber's helper, both from Mineral Wells, Texas.

Officers planned to return them to Mineral Wells Monday to face possible charges that their "life savings" were gathered in a Mineral Wells auto store burglary last Tuesday.

'Freedom Tractor' Returns To Soviet But Driver Doesn't

MUNICH, GERMANY (AP)—A "freedom tractor" with which 18-year-old Leon Stehlik fled from Czechoslovakia a week ago is going back to his Communist-ruled homeland.

But the farm youth is staying as a political refugee in West Germany. He turned down a straight-faced offer by West German authorities Monday to let him personally return the green-and-red tractor to a collective farm near Aach.

Young Stehlik, skirting frontier barriers to a reported speed of 30 miles an hour, successfully escaped into Bavaria before heavily armed Czech Communist patrols could intervene.

Midland Polio Unit To Convene Monday

Members of the executive committee will be named in a business session of the Midland County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at 7 p. m. Monday in the Scharbauer Educational Building of the First Methodist Church.

County Chairman Ray Gwyn said that annual report of the treasurer will be heard.

Mrs. Hal Peck, Mrs. W. Harry Rhodes and Mrs. Ray Howard will report on the recent Southwest Polio Conference at Dallas.

General Eisenhower's Task

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, has a great task ahead of him. A political novice and an amateur in domestic affairs, he now must develop a program and learn how to take command of his own political fortunes.

He won the GOP nomination because he was the most popular candidate. His popularity is rooted in trust in him as a man, in his character and his motives and his qualities of leadership.

In the month he campaigned as a political figure, he spelled out no specific policies. He talked in general terms, indicating broad approaches. Yet he was not taken wholly on faith. For the general already had proved himself a soldier, diplomat and statesman in two of the most crushing assignments that any American ever has assumed.

It is natural for many people to feel that a man who could do what Eisenhower has done as a commander of wartime and postwar armies will master the art of domestic statecraft.

It is natural, too, that many are disposed to turn to a new face, a man without malice, who stands out so sharply against the tired old faces that today so heavily populate both major parties. Politically speaking, Eisenhower is a clean sheet of paper on which nothing sordid or disheartening so far has been written.

In his quest for the nomination, he had the further advantage of representing the moderate elements of the Republican Party. Since 1940, these forces always have proved strong enough to choose a presidential nominee, although they have not had the power to wrest control away from the more conservative wing of the intervening years.

Curiously, Senator Taft himself is a moderate Republican in many important respects. But he has become a symbol of more extreme elements. In campaigning he has not striven hard to shake this label. He has been content to let it apply.

This association with extreme conservatives, plus some aspects of Taft's personality, underlie the widely argued that brought him again to defeat in his third try for the nomination.

Eisenhower is free of these handicaps. But he has a full set of his own. Up to now he has been acquiescing in political decisions affecting his campaign, rather than commanding. If he is not to be a mere creature of others, he now must take hold and chart his own course.

More than that, he must begin to offer evidence to the voting public that the faith and trust the people have in him is not misplaced.

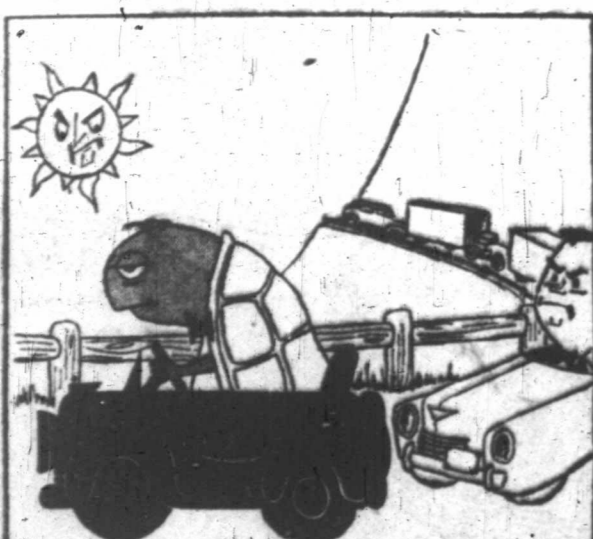

With all its corruption and decay and internal disorder, the Democratic Party still is a powerful force in American politics. The political analysts who have troubled to examine closely the voting habits of the U. S. electorate are unanimous in concluding that the Democrats have a substantial majority.

The Republicans are unlikely to wrest away any crucial part of this majority—or to convince new voters—unless they formulate a constructive program that offers all Americans real hope.

It is Eisenhower's task, therefore, to translate the trust that is felt in him as a man into trust for the political party he now heads.

Now It's The Donkey's Turn To Apply The Heat

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright, 1952, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Kefauver helped Eisenhower get nominated; Republicans knew Tennessee senator could have beaten Taft; Costello's public relations man now works for Senator Russell against Kefauver.

CHICAGO—If you had told Estes Kefauver's colleagues in the Senate a year ago that he would emerge with the top number of delegates at the next Democratic convention, they would have snorted with disbelief. Some of them still are snorting.

This attitude, however, is confined solely to Washington and a few big cities where the political bosses had their machines bounced off the track by Kefauver's crime expose. In Washington, the attitude is based on something which is all-important in the nation's capital but not readily understood elsewhere.

After Estes Kefauver first started his New Hampshire campaign, he remarked to one of his advisers: "I'm tired of talking about crime. I think I should make some speeches on foreign policy."

Stick to crime, Estes, stick to crime, replied the adviser, "that's what the people understand."

However, Estes has not stuck to crime, either in his subsequent speeches or in his earlier record in Congress. That record is one which shows up well under the most critical microscope.

Other senators do not curse. But some of them are jealous. They do not realize that these are fast-moving days when the American people are fed up with the old as witnessed by Eisenhower's nomination and by the sudden elevation of a political unknown, Nixon of California, to the No. 2 spot on the Republican ticket.

Kefauver's Record Perhaps also they don't entirely appreciate the fact that Kefauver has a magnificent voting record. He has shown more courage in facing racial problems than any other Southern senator, and had the vision to realize the danger of permitting an underworld to gnaw at the foundation of America.

On top of this, he has gone through an intense political campaign, during which he hasn't made a single mistake. Eisenhower, on the other hand, has made several.

Kefauver, meanwhile, did Eisenhower the biggest political favor of his life. He is the chief reason Eisenhower was nominated. For the main factor motivating Republican delegates at their recent convention was that they badly needed a winner. And they knew, first from the Gallup poll, second from their own political observations, that Kefauver could outpoll Taft in most of the nation. To beat him they had to nominate Eisenhower.

For they had seen Kefauver defeat President Truman himself, plus an old and established Democratic machine in New Hampshire. They also saw him swamp the Democratic organization in Ohio, even with a bunch of unknown delegates; while in California they saw him roll up a vote bigger than Gov. Earl Warren. Again he did it by bucking the

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

When the national tournament begins Cincinnati a week from today, Pete Leventritt and Dick Kahn will try to repeat their triumph of last year. They entered the final session of the Master's Pairs in about 30th place, and came in with a 70 per cent game to win the championship.

No championship can even be won without first class defensive play, and this was no exception to the rule, as may be seen in the hand shown today.

Kahn opened the ten of clubs from the West hand, dummy played the jack, and Leventritt covered with the king. Declarer won with the ace of clubs and entered dummy with the jack of spades in order to return a heart.

Leventritt played his low heart, hoping that South would misguess a possible finesse. As it happens, however, declarer had no finesse and won the trick with the queen of hearts. He continued hearts, and East won with the king. East's club return was taken by the queen and another heart knocked out East's ace.

At this point Pete Leventritt had to make a key decision. If he tamely returned another club the defenders could take two clubs, two diamonds, and two hearts. Declarer would therefore make his contract of one no-trump.

Leventritt knew the spade situation, since his partner had discarded two low spades on the second and third rounds of hearts. He therefore knew all about declarer's high cards except for the holding in diamonds.

It seemed very unlikely that South would have as much as the ace of diamonds, so Leventritt decided to push the jack of diamonds through at this point.

This play was the crusher. No matter what South did he was bound to lose four diamond tricks in addition to two clubs and two hearts. The two-trick set gave East-West a very fine score.

I Can't Cry Now

IT was 10:30 when the two men left together. Dave to ride with Ted as far as the highway where he had parked his own car when he stumbled in the dark along the path which he said Agnes Jerome had not taken.

And, later, as she stared wide-eyed into the darkness of her bedroom, she had the uncomfortable feeling that Dave was right, so right. Even if Agnes Jerome had known about the short-cut to the mailbox, which Katy doubted, she would not have been familiar enough with the rough path to have risked it in the darkness.

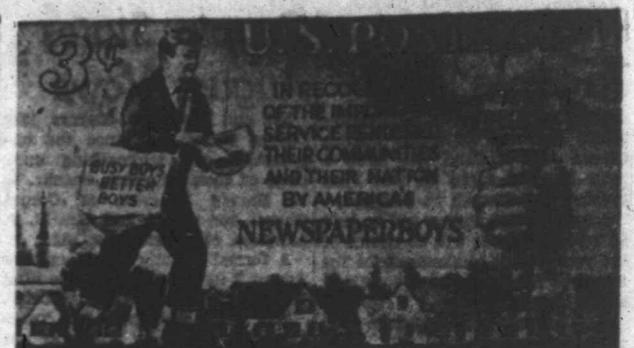

Dave Argus was right, Katy reasoned with herself. If Agnes had been followed, she would have had a chance... but the killer had been waiting for her.

He had come... waited... and killed. Here.

Katy sat up in bed, suddenly weak. The palms of her hands felt clammy-cold when she pressed them to her face.

"Where does that leave me?" she thought frantically, almost wishing that she had taught Criminology or something instead of English I and Composition III and IV. Maybe then she would know if she were more suspect than ever despite Dave Argus' assurances.

Sometimes, somehow, lulled by the comforting rhythm of Major's breathing on his rug beside her bed, she slept.

Weil's Disease Is Our Reason To Wage Constant Rat War

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service

For anyone who hates rats as much as I do, it is a pleasure to comply with Mrs. R's request to discuss Weil's disease.

This is much more a disease of rats than it is of human beings, but in rats the disease can last for a long time, and these pests then can become a source of danger to human beings.

The germ which causes Weil's disease is excreted in the urine of infected rats, and therefore sewer workers, coal miners, ditch diggers, fish cutters, or any others who work in damp places infested by rats are liable to catch the disease.

Indeed, there have been a number of cases of human disease acquired by swimming in contaminated ponds or canals.

Like other germ diseases of mankind, there is an interval between infection and the appearance of the first symptom which usually is about eight to 12 days. Once this period has passed, signs of the disease come on rapidly, usually with chills and fever.

Headache, pains in the muscles, and sometimes disturbances in the digestive tract or other evidences of illness are frequent. There are a number of unpleasant complications of the disease also, and about one person in 20 who has a severe attack dies from the disease.

It is important that an early and correct diagnosis of Weil's disease be made, and this is not always easy because it resembles other acute infections, and since it is not exactly common, a problem in diagnosis often is present.

Cure Not Complete Furthermore, treatment is not thoroughly satisfactory, even when given early. Both penicillin and aureomycin are used, but their effectiveness in cure is not complete. Weil's disease is another example of a condition about which one heard very little a few years ago, but which seems to be becoming somewhat more common. Perhaps the most important thing about it is that it provides one more reason for man to wage unceasing warfare on rats.

McGranery Slates Probe Of Decision In Gambler's Case

DALLAS—An investigation of the decision to allow Nevada Gambler Benny Binion to plead guilty in Nevada to federal income tax evasion charges has been promised by U. S. Attorney General James McGranery.

McGranery was asked Saturday by District Attorney Henry Wade of Dallas to overrule the decision made by U. S. District Attorney Frank B. Potter of Fort Worth.

Wade wants Binion brought to Dallas on the federal charge so he can arrest the Nevada on Texas gambling charges. Binion reportedly has beaten efforts to extradite him. He is charged in Dallas in the operation of a million-dollar policy game.

Wade's letter to McGranery told of a "secret" conference in Dallas in 1950 concerning Binion's tax affairs. Those present at the meeting, he said, were Potter, Assistant District Attorney Pete White of Dallas, and T. Lamar Gaudin, since ousted as head of the Justice Department's income tax prosecution staff.

Potter denied he held any secret conference with White or Gaudin on the gambler's tax matters. He said he met Gaudin in a Dallas hotel in 1950 and added:

"There were many people there. Wade and White may have been there. . . . But I had no conference with them or anyone else."

White said the meeting on Binion's income tax status was attended by Potter, Will Wilson, then Dallas district attorney; Gaudin, and James M. Conner, head of the Treasury Department's intelligence unit in Dallas, and White.

White said he believed the meeting was in April, 1950, in the presidential suite of the Adolphus Hotel.

Binion was indicted last May 3 at Fort Worth on federal income tax violation charges and is free on $10,000 bond.

her slippers. It wasn't like Major to leave her. She found the dog in the kitchen, sitting on his lean haunches at a window overlooking the stairway and the barn. He thumped the floor with a wary tail when she spoke his name.

"Major?" She went to look out the door. The barn looked as it always did, only perhaps a little more forlorn in the gray light of early morning. Through an open door—should that door be open? Perhaps, she thought.

Ted might have forgotten to close it when he got the wood last night—she could see the ricks of apple wood and oak. The garden tools were stored there, too; and the lawn mower, and Chris had ripped out some dilapidated stalls and made a garage. Beside her, Major stirred, and a growl began deep in his barrel chest. . . . Was there a movement, out there? The killer has come back!

She ran through the house, to the front hall. Ted's number . . . she matched up the telephone. Ted had said the killer might come back. After an eternity, she realized what was happening. She was hearing absolutely nothing but her own frightened breathing. No "five" sound of an open telephone line, no operator, nothing!

"Major," she cried then. "Major, come with me!" Halfway to town, with Major erect in the seat beside her and the road unrolling behind the car like a dirty gray ribbon from a runaway spool, she realized she could not go to Ted. Not looking like that!

She was wearing her chenille robe and scuffed bedroom slippers and no make-up but her terror. Going to Ted like this was impossible. Heavenly she thought, Mrs. Porter—dear correct thought Mrs. Porter—would be horrified, but not so horrified that her chattering tongue would be stilled.

Surgeons Stop Heartbeats For Operation, Save Lives

By GUSTAVE SVENSSON
STOCKHOLM—(AP)—Total refrigeration of the body to slow down or stop the heart completely may be tried on human patients to facilitate heart surgery.

A Swedish-French medical research team believes it has managed in animal experiments to develop a technique by which such operations could be performed on humans at very low body temperatures. Dr. Andre Juvenelle of the University of Paris said in an interview here.

"Most probably a temperature below 20 degrees centigrade (68 degrees Fahrenheit) would be necessary," said the French chest surgeon, adding that the time had not come as yet when it is possible to foresee the actual date of the first such operation except in an emergency.

Some 20 scientists in the world are exploring the problems of "artificial hibernation." What they hope to find is a method to reduce oxygen requirements of the body sufficiently to allow the exclusion of various organs, including the heart, from the blood circulation.

Dr. W. G. Bigelow of Toronto University pointed out three years ago that once a satisfactory method is developed, refrigeration of patients would permit heart surgery under full vision.

Dr. Juvenelle said that the technique devised by himself and his Swedish coworkers, Dr. John Lind, cardiologist, and Dr. Carl Wegelius, x-ray expert, involved the use of cold in combination with an artificial heart-lung system.

Using this method, the team has been able for the first time to stop the hearts of dogs for three hours by freezing their bodies to a temperature of 13 degrees C. (55.6 degrees F) and obtain subsequent survival.

"One of the objects of such treatment for humans," Dr. Juvenelle said, "would be to facilitate delicate heart surgery in otherwise hopeless cases."

He emphasized that the method would entail "very considerable risks at present."

Cooling No Problem

"The cooling down process," he said, "is no problem. Nor is the rewarming. The problem starts with what happens then, except the stress may be tremendous."

"This thing is far too big to be handled by just a few teams with rather limited resources."

Limited research into possible medical uses of total refrigeration has been conducted for more than a decade in several countries. The most notorious contribution in this field so far being the experiments carried out in Germany during the war, using prisoners as guinea pigs.

Cold research was started by Dr. Juvenelle's team last July at the Pathological Institute of the Stockholm Sabbatberg Hospital.

"Nothing in the method we developed is really a novelty," he said, "if you consider each item separately, but the combination is, and so are the results."

Serious Business

"I think we would apply our technique on humans in an emergency," he said.

"After all, we are not collecting butterflies."

This reporter attended one of the experiments of the team at the Pathological Institute. Because of the time required for cooling and rewarming, they are lengthy affairs of 15 to 30 hours. The dogs are given small doses of heparin to prevent blood clotting and a light anesthetic.

The heart continued to beat until 11 degrees C. The lowest temperature at which heart beat has been recorded by the team is 11.5 C. There was no bleeding at all during the hour it took the surgeon to open the chest.

"Until now, we could take it easy," doctors said when the chest was closed again. "From now on we will have to fight for his life."

"It is just like a cold motor in the morning," Dr. Juvenelle said. "Sometimes it won't work."

Weekend Violence Takes 18 Lives In Texas; Four Drown

By The Associated Press
A hot July weekend and its resultant drownings pushed the violent death toll in Texas to at least 18.

In the count beginning at 6:30 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Sunday, there were four drownings, seven traffic deaths, three fatal shootings, a fire death, one fatal stabbing, an electrocution, and a hanging.

The most recent reported deaths included:

Joe H. Molina, San Antonio, was dead on arrival at a San Antonio hospital Sunday night after he had been stabbed once in the heart. Police said the stabbing occurred in a street fight.

Deborah Trimble, two-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. H. Trimble of Wichita Falls, drowned Sunday night when she strayed from her yard and fell into a neighbor's swimming pool. A nurse in whose care the child had been left by Deborah's vacationing parents, was talking on the phone when the tragedy occurred.

Truck Hits Horse

Mrs. Mary Evelyn Stefens, 35, Beeville, was injured fatally six miles north of Stockdale, in the San Antonio vicinity, when her husband's pickup truck struck a horse. She was dead on arrival at a Seguin hospital.

W. H. Hope, 62, Dallas, was found hanging in the back yard of his home Sunday morning. Police said Hope left two notes for his family. Jessie F. Gibson, 35, Longview fireman, burned to death Sunday while fighting a blaze which destroyed a one-story furniture company building. It was the worst fire in Longview since 1948.

Three children were killed Friday night in a head-on automobile collision near Cleburne. Their parents Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hudson, Fort Worth, and four other persons were injured seriously. Killed were Dianne Hudson, nine; James Hudson, 10, and Judy Hudson, five. Billy Fred Haddock, 11, drowned Friday night at Eagle Mountain Lake near Fort Worth while attending a picnic.

Infant Electrocuted

Nine-month-old Hollis Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Perry, Lufkin, was electrocuted Saturday when he brushed against an outside electrical drop cord while playing on rain-soaked ground.

Leo Rios, 52, San Antonio taxi cab driver, was shot fatally Saturday as he sat in his cab in Brackenridge Park in downtown San Antonio. His fare, a man who identified himself as Jerry George Adrian, 29, of Newark, N. J., was charged with murder.

James Aclim, Jr., four, died in Dallas Sunday of injuries received

Saturday night in a traffic collision at Segoville, Dallas County.

Mrs. Douglas Cavett, 82, Glade-water, and her 12-year-old nephew, Bobby Pope, drowned Saturday night while wading in the Sabine River, about two miles south of Glade-water.

Elaine King, four, died Saturday night when the car her father, Airman 1c Cecil King, Lackland Air Force Base, was driving overturned near San Antonio.

Willie Lee Allison, 38, Monticello, Ark., negro, was shot to death Saturday night in the home of his former wife, Mrs. Bessie Lee Vaughns, in San Antonio. Officers said Allison had just been released after serving a short jail term for assault on his wife with a dangerous weapon.

Gilberto Dominguez, 22, of Pecos, was shot fatally in Fyote Saturday night. Officers jailed a 29-year-old Pecos man.

Jesus Paz, 63, was killed Saturday night when struck by a car on the outskirts of Sanderson.

U. S. Treasury Faces Task Of Meeting Doubled Costs

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—(AP)—Uncle Sam is spending twice as much as he is taking in these days. In the first two weeks of this month the treasury ran behind by two billion dollars.

The financial district thinks the treasury will soon be borrowing more money—possibly seeking four billion dollars from corporations as a sort of advance payment on next March's income taxes.

Under the impact of defense and other spending the federal debt has hit 263 billion dollars, eight billion higher than a year ago. And the government has borrowed six billion dollars in "new money" since April.

July is always a bad month for the treasury, of course. Tax collections are slow, while government agencies start to spend funds appropriated for the new fiscal year.

But this July's two billion dollar deficit in two weeks compares with a one billion deficit a year ago, when the Korean War was only a year old. This double-time into debt shows how defense spending is now really hitting its stride.

The treasury has tried various means of meeting this deficit. The total of a 91-day treasury bill has been increased by one and one-half billion dollars. A disappearing non-marketable bond issue brought in 318 million. A popular marketable bond issue last month brought in four and one-fourth billion.

The treasury hopes its more liberally termed savings bonds will coax money from the public, which was cashed in more of the old style savings bonds than it was buying.

The treasury may next turn to tax anticipatory bonds, a form it has used before. These are sold to corporations, who have to save money for months to meet their tax bills. By buying the bonds, they get some interest on the cash they are laying aside. And then in March they turn the bonds into the treasury for the taxes-due at that time.

'Red' Dean Preaches On Germ War Theme

CANTERBURY, ENGLAND—(AP)—Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red" Dean of Canterbury, Sunday night carried his charges of American germ warfare to the pulpit of Canterbury Cathedral, the 1,000-year-old main seat of the Church of England.

A small, elderly woman tried to bar the pro-Communist dean from speaking.

"I defy you to go into the pulpit," she said, but he brushed her aside. Then, in a 40-minute sermon, he repeated his allegation that on a recent trip to China he saw proof U. S. planes have dropped germ-laden bombs in China and North Korea.

The charges have been denied by top U. S. British and UN authorities.

Merchant Shipping Shortage Reported

WASHINGTON—(AP)—America's active cargo and passenger fleet has shrunk from 1,520 ships last January 2 to 1,098 on July 1—a drop of 28 per cent, the National Federation of American Shipping reported Sunday.

The present threat of another world war points up the acute shortage of commercial passenger-carrying ships, the federation said. The passenger ship total, including the new S S United States, amounts to 51 ships of 15,823 capacity compared with 123 of 37,741 in 1939.

The sharp overall 1952 decline in the merchant marine was brought about mainly by reduced foreign aid exports, which reduced by 411 the number of government-owned ships operated by private shipping.

Midlander Attends Services For Kin

Mrs. Wanda Lee Kelly of Midland attended funeral services at Abilene Monday for her grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Miller, 81.

The services were held at 10 a.m. in Elliot's Chapel of Memories with H. L. Ridout, Church of Christ minister, officiating. Interment was in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Miller died Saturday at the home of a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Dee Miller of T and P Lane in East Abilene.

Mrs. Kelly had just returned from attending services for her father.

Mrs. Miller became Abilene's first gold star mother of World War I, when her son, Jasper, died aboard the USS Cyclops in 1918.

Survivors include two brothers, G. F. Rhodes of Abilene and Newton Rhodes of Sulphur Springs, and 14 grandchildren and great grandchildren.

Physicians Report 'No Change' In Eva

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA—(AP)—Eva Peron, gravely ill wife of Argentina's President Juan Peron, was reported holding her own Monday after rallying slightly over the weekend.

A medical bulletin said there was no change in her condition in the last 24 hours. Fears had been expressed for her life Friday after she took a turn for the worse in her nine-month illness.

Sunday thousands of organized workers under leadership of the General Confederation of Labor stood in the rain in Buenos Aires' Central Plaza de la Republica for nationwide mass praying for her recovery.

Emergency Agency To Rebuild Plants

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Defense Production Administration has set up a "post-attack production staff" to plan the rebuilding and operation of bombed-out plants in case of enemy attacks.

The DPA said William J. Hoff has been named head of the new unit. Hoff was formerly director of the technical assistance program under the Marshall Plan.

Hoff was ordered to put into operation any part of the preparedness plans which can be carried out in advance. This includes dispersion of factories.

Daddy Ringtail and Lonesome Pine

Walk away down the Elephant Path. Turn at the place where the Duck Pond is, and walk along the trees. Cross the creek and follow the path up the mountain. On top of the mountain is the lonesome pine. The lonesome pine is really a tree. A pine is the kind of tree it is, and it is a lonesome pine because it is all by itself. No other trees are growing near. Never does the lonesome pine get to hear the whisper of the wind in other trees.

The lonesome pine is oh! so lonesome. But the tree has many friends. People come to see it, I mean, animal-people. When anyone maybe is feeling lonesome, up the anyone goes on the path to sit beneath the lonesome pine. The lonesome pine is so lonesome—so very lonesome—that no one else can ever feel lonesome when sitting beneath it.

All the animal-people were quite sure they wouldn't know what to do, if—and I said "if"—if anything ever happened to the lonesome pine. And so, everyone was always very careful to see that the lonesome pine had plenty to drink. People would bring the water in buckets from the river. If the rain hadn't rained enough, people never chopped the lonesome pine, or built a fire too near to it, or did anything else that might take the lonesome pine away. But at last one day it seemed that a terrible, terrible thing had happened. Little pine trees had begun to grow in the ground and all around the lonesome pine. What to do, what to do, because how could the lonesome pine be lonesome any more? It couldn't. Too many little pine trees.

And, if the lonesome pine wasn't lonesome any more, how could lonesome people sit beneath it to stop their being lonesome with thoughts that they weren't nearly as lonesome as lonesome pine? They couldn't.

What to do, what to do. No one could decide, not even Daddy Ringtail, and so no one did anything. Oh, but everything turned out fine—just as things often turn out if people wait for this to happen. All the little trees grew up to make a beautiful picnic place where no one ever could be lonesome, not even if they tried. Happy days, and happy days! (Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)

Eisenhower Has No Favorite For Democratic Nomination

DENVER—(AP)—If Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has a favorite candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination—someone that he would prefer to run against—he is keeping mum about it. He was ducking questions on that matter Monday as the Democrats opened their national convention in Chicago to pick his opponent in the November election. The general is vacationing at a Rocky Mountain ranch 72 miles west of his campaign headquarters here, where a political staff is at work. Newsmen have no direct access to him at the sequestered ranch; where he and an old friend, Aksel Nielsen, are "batheing it" and cooking their own meals.

He reporters asked Eisenhower Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, who talks to the general daily by telephone, to find out whether he has a favorite Democratic candidate. Hagerty said he put the question but that the general wasn't going to name his choice—if he has one. In Denver, Eisenhower headquarters announced that he has received an invitation to address the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars opening August 3 in Los Angeles. He will decide whether to accept within a few days.

Denison Jittery At Thought Of Ike-Rayburn Showdown

DENISON—(AP)—The people of Denison are nervous, politically. The street-corner talk is about the possibility that they might have to choose between two favorite sons next November. Dwight D. Eisenhower was born in Denison, in a little white house on the wrong side of the tracks. The people of Denison are mighty proud of the general. They gave him a big welcome last month, long before the Republicans made him their candidate for President.

ANTI-KIDNAP DEFENSE—West Berlin police have erected steel road barriers at 119 crossing points along the city's East-West border to prevent further kidnaping raids by East German Communist agents. Trellis Mae Says Democrats Can Win With Woman's Touch

Editor's Note: Trellis Mae Peeble, the average wife of Wilbur Peeble, America's most average citizen, has been betrayed by her initial enthusiasm to come out for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois for the Democratic presidential nomination. She tells about it in the following letter home:

By HAL BOYLE
CHICAGO—(AP)—Well, Wilbur, I still say all the Democrats need a woman's touch. No group of people I have met before has been so disorganized. The place is full of Democrats who believe in being Democrats. But they don't know who should lead them. They are like a bunch of boys at a camp when the director has gone, and the kids run around yelling at each other—and no one to take over responsibility. For 20 years they have been used to playing follow-the-leader, and now they must pause and say: "Well, but, who is the leader now?"

Reminder On Rent Control Law Draws Cry From Realtors

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A government reminder that communities must act soon if they wish to retain rent controls has drawn a quick cry of "pressure" from real estate circles. Rent Stabilizer Tighe E. Woods said more than six million families face a steep hike in rents unless local governments request an extension of controls before a September 30 deadline. Woods said experience with decontrol and the current housing outlook leads him to believe rents would jump about 20 per cent on higher-priced homes and apartments and 50 to 100 per cent in the lowest brackets if curbs are lifted.

Texas Democrats Choose Up Sides, Rarin' For Showdown

By MARTHA COLE
CHICAGO—(AP)—Feuding Texas Democrats were right in the big middle of the fight in the Democratic convention which opened Monday. And they were ready and raring to go. Each side had two presidential candidates lined up—Averell Harriman and Senator Estes Kefauver on the side of the Loyal Democrats led by Maury Maverick of San Antonio. Senators Richard Russell and Robert Kerr cast their blessings upon the conservative regular delegation headed by Gov. Allan Shivers. Harriman and Kefauver agreed Sunday night to throw the first challenge on the convention floor. They plan to offer an amendment to the temporary convention rules that would require them to say they will work to assure that the party nominees for President and vice president will be on the official Democratic ballot in Texas. Shivers' people had heard rumors of that plan before the release came. Their state convention had voted not to require the party loyalty pledge.

Klan Wizard Goes To Trial On Four Flogging Charges

WHITEVILLE, N. C.—(AP)—Thomas L. Hamilton, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, went on trial Monday on flogging charges. Hamilton is charged with conspiracy to kidnap and assault in four flogging incidents involving white men and negro women. Sixty-four alleged members of his order are accused in a total of 146 cases, including cross warrants and indictments, to compromise one of the largest court hearings on record in the state. The indictments are the outgrowth of floggings in Columbus County and nearby areas. Hamilton surrendered to North and South Carolina officers at Pinesboro, N. C. last May 4 after an all-night search for him. He came here Monday contending that the charges against him were "hyped up."

Skywatch Operation Tamed Successful

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Air Force says the first week of round-the-clock skywatch operations by volunteers was successful—but more persons are needed if the gap in the nation's radar net are to be plugged successfully. An estimated 70,000 to 80,000 volunteers last week reportedly spotted hundreds of planes flying too low for radar to detect.

Grenade Explodes In Army Barracks

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—An exploding hand grenade in a barracks full of visitors killed a sergeant Sunday and injured 10 enlisted men and non-commissioned officers. Families of the soldiers had come to visit them in the barracks and witnesses said the grenade exploded while a sergeant was showing it to his children. Two of the injured were reported in a serious condition.

Williams Feed And Supply Helps Keep Midland Lawns Green

Now available at Williams Feed and Supply, located at 1403 East Highway, is Mathleson's Ammo-Plo, the pelletized 16-20-0 fertilizer, which has been used successfully on Midland lawns.

E. D. Williams, owner, said the pelletized fertilizer is easy to spread, economical and 100 per cent soluble.

Successfully used on Midland lawns the last several years, the fertilizer produces a good turf—having deep, green grass.

Purina Poultry Booster Checkers also are available at Williams Feed and Supply. Reacting on the chickens like a shot in the arm, the poultry increases the egg production and promotes growth in young chicks.

Practically everything necessary to get farmers started in poultry raising is available at the firm, including livestock remedies, power sprayers, brooders and feeders.

Purina Chew Stocked

The store also has DDT and other sprays to control flies.

A complete line of Purina Chow, all grades and hays and a miscellaneous line of hardware, poultry supplies and baby chicks are available at the store.

In its location since Jan. 8, 1946, the firm has served farmers and ranchers over a wide area in the Permian Basin Empire.

The firm offers free delivery service within the city and the truck starts deliveries at 4 p.m. daily.

Williams invites farmers and ranchers to visit the store and discuss their needs with him.

West Texas Reproduction Sets Birthday Observance

Fourth anniversary as owners of the West Texas Reproduction Company at 209 North Colorado Street will be observed August 1 by Maurice Crawley and Mrs. Charlene Kooser.

While both Crawley and Mrs. Kooser have had 16 years experience in reproducing maps, drawings and other instruments for the oil and allied industries in Midland, it was four years ago that they purchased the West Texas Reproduction Company.

The firm has a super-fast photo copy machine, which enables them to give the "largest and fastest reproduction service in Midland," according to the owners.

All types of reproduction work is done by the West Texas Reproduction Company, including blue prints, photostats and film work. They also have in stock post drafting and engineering supplies.

Personalized Service

The owners pointed out that by having a photostat made, the valuable original may be retained intact.

With many years experience, the firm offers an expert and personalized reproduction service.

Napalm In Rockets Challenge Reds

SEOUL, KOREA—(P)—The "flaming onion" is not something you would want in your garden. It was cultivated by the Australians expressly for the consumption of Communist soldiers in Korea.

The "flaming onion" is a rocket with a load of napalm—jelled gasoline—in its head. It was designed by Flight Lt. John Smith of Newcastle, New South Wales, head of the Royal Australian Air Force armament office.

The napalm bomb scatters flaming jelled gasoline over a broad area.

Lt. Smith produced a few experimental models in Japan after several months research. The "flaming onion" was given its first field test February 8. Only recently have the Australians begun to use it in combat.

Drillers Rip Sweetwater Braves, 9-5

ARTESIA (AP)—The Artesia Drillers pounded three Sweetwater Braves pitchers for eight hits and seven runs in the first inning for all the markers they needed to take a 9-5 win over the Braves here Sunday night.

The Drillers sent 11 men to the plate in the huge, first-frame explosion. Little Vince Sarubbi, lead-off batter for the Drillers, picked up two of the eight singles. Also figuring in the Artesia scoring in this inning were a hit batsman and a Brave fielding miscue.

Roland Rodriguez, Brave starter, took the loss. After retiring only one man, he was replaced by Dick Ross, who had even worse luck. Ross didn't get a man out. After all the damage had been done, Gil Grajeda came in and got the first man he faced to hit into a double play to end the inning.

The Braves fought back for two runs in each the fourth and eighth and a single marker in the fifth, but couldn't overcome the commanding Driller lead.

Artesia padded its margin with single tallies in the second and eighth.

Mike Rodriguez went the distance for the winners on the mound. The score: R R E Sweetwater 9 000 210 020-5 10 2 Artesia 5 710 000 110-9 14 1

Glass, Nine Others Fire 100x100 Marks At Shoot In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—At least two new champions are assured in the sub small competition at the fifteenth annual National Skeet Shooting Championship.

The event opened in Dallas Monday after 10 members of the 128-man field fired perfect 100x100 scores Sunday at the Dallas Gun Club shooting site.

The perfect scores were fired by John Shock, Little Rock, Ark.; George Glaze Sr., Midland; Joseph M. George, Sudlersville, Md.; John Garrison, Joplin, Mo.; Charles Poulos, San Antonio; Henry Adler, Dallas; M. W. Krutson, San Leandro, Calif.; M. Sgt. Charles Barr, Randolph, AFB, San Antonio; Capt. Robert Cople, Westover AFB, Mass.; J. V. Elliot Jr., Pasadena, Calif.

D. Lee Braun, San Mateo, Calif., will not defend his sub small industry title. And Francis Ellis, Jacksonville, open event champ and high over-all champ last year, will not defend his titles.

Colts Take Two From Big Spring

The Midland Colts swept a twin bill from the Big Spring Tigers Sunday at Cole Park.

Juan Nieto blanked the visitors 5-0, in the opening game as he allowed only four hits, walked three batters and struck out 10.

Ray Williams held the Tigers to five hits in the final game with the Colts winning, 2-1. Williams whiffed eight.

Lee Velarde drove in the winning run with a single in the seventh. He also hit a triple.

The Colts and the Midland Jay-Cees will play at 3:30 p.m. next Sunday at Cole Park.

Plainview Attorney Wins Senior Tourney

AMARILLO (AP)—Frank Day, Plainview, is the 1952 titlist of the annual Tri-State Senior Golf Tournament. Day took the title Sunday with a 2 and 1 victory over Red Covington, San Angelo.

The Plainview attorney had made strong bids for the title the last several years.

Hurdle racing, revived successfully at Monmouth Park last year, is an integral part of the present summer racing meeting.

Bill Engelin, new umpire in the National League, was once a bat boy for the St. Louis Browns in the days of George Staler.

Broncs Drub Colts, 11-9; Tayoan Skips

BIG SPRING (AP)—Four Colt home runs went for naught as the Big Springs Broncs defeated San Angelo, 11-9, here Sunday afternoon.

Big Spring piled up a 10-1 lead at one point and the Colts started a counterattack too late.

Round trippers caromed off the bats of Cotton Russell, Glenn Burns and Jake McClain, with the latter getting a pair. However, three of the blows came with the sacks deserted.

Bert Estrada, second of three Bronc hurlers to see action, received credit for the win, his sixth of the year. The loss was hung on Don Gabor, first of a trio of Angelo hurlers to parade to the hill.

Johnny Tayoan, San Angelo second sacker, checked out of the hotel here Saturday night and returned to Angelo. Manager Mark Christman could give no cause for his action.

Ronald Dacko, Colt catcher, was thrown from the game in the second after shoving Umpire Bill Valentine during an argument over a third strike. His successor, Greg Bolk, also became involved in a fight in the late innings with Big Spring's Juan Villarreal, but was restrained by his team mates.

San Angelo had the tying runs on base in the eighth inning but Reggi Corrales forced Jake McClain to roll to the third baseman to end the threat. Corrales then retired the side in order in the ninth.

Odessa Hits 15 Safeties

Manager Zeke Bonura's frustrated Midland Indians prepared to step down the ladder for a shot at second-place Big Spring Monday night after they were defeated for the seventh straight time by the league-leading Odessa Oilers Sunday night, 11-6.

The Oilers now have taken 13 of 14 games from the Indians this season.

The Tribe, will tangle with the Broncs for a two-game set.

In taking it on the chin Sunday night, the Indians fell victim to a hepped up Oiler squad which was breaking out of a hitting slump.

Exploiting for 15 safeties off a trio of Midland hurlers, the Oilers tallied six times in the third inning, once in the fourth, twice in the sixth and twice in the seventh for their top-side win.

Carlos Villarreal, who scattered 11 Midland hits effectively, started the barrage with a two-run homer in the second frame. The Oilers' 15 hits included one homer, two triples and four doubles.

Israel Ten, first of three Indian pitchers, was charged with the loss. He gave up six runs off nine hits in two and two-thirds innings before Herb Dwyer came on in relief. Ed Santa finished up after Dwyer was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the seventh.

A crowd of 1,100 was on hand, including Nellie Bynum, the Odessa girl who recently was named Miss West Texas. She awarded Villarreal with a big smack for his home run.

Sens Win Pair, Move Up In Loop Standings

By JOE REICHLER, AP Sports Writer

Four consecutive victories by one run and 21 one-run triumphs for the Sens.

That is the principal reason why Washington's scrappy Senators are in third place today.

All but a handful of experts had picked them to finish in the American League cellar.

The Sens, added their fourth straight one-run victory Sunday as they swept a doubleheader from the St. Louis Browns, 7-6 and 6-3, to move into third place, a half-game behind the Boston Red Sox. The double triumph stretched their winning streak to five and left them that many lengths away from the pace-setting New York Yankees.

The Red Sox picked up a full game on the Yankees, vanquishing the Indians, 9-7, in 13 innings while the fifth-place Chicago White Sox were upsetting the world champions, 5-4. Philadelphia's Athletics took the opener of a doubleheader from Detroit, 8-7, and played a 3-3 tie in the second game, halted by Pennsylvania's 7 p.m. curfew at the end of nine innings.

Iran's New Premier Qavam Quits In Midst Of Rioting

TEHRAN, IRAN.—Premier Ahmed Qavam resigned Monday night after violent, hours-long rioting in Tehran and other cities subsided. He gave up, after two days, his attempt to form a government, pledged to solving Iran's oil deadlock.

Before Qavam gave up, near-revolutionary violence flared, with Communists strengthening Nationalist mobs. Government forces, with gun shots, tear gas and bayonets, fought to keep control.

Twenty persons were reported killed in the bloody rioting. No official reason was given for Qavam's quitting but apparently he acted to stop bloodshed.

As news of Qavam's resignation spread crowds began marching towards the residence of former Premier Mohammed Mossadegh.

Monday's fighting broke out when a crowd of some 2,000 persons tried to storm the Parliament building.

Countless numbers of demonstrators were injured or arrested. Troops charged into surging crowds with fixed bayonets, leaving bloody injured behind.

"Death to Qavam," the mobs shouted wildly, venting their fury at the new premier's declaration that a settlement of Iran's long and crippling oil dispute with Britain would be a chief aim of his regime.

Monday's demonstrators were supporters of Mossadegh, but many members of the outlawed Communist Tudeh Party swelled the crowds.

Convention Chaos, Part II, Opens In Seething Chicago

By ED CREAGH
CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO

—Well, here we go again. Same hall—all 255,000 square feet of floor space. Same occasional whiffs from the surrounding stockyards. Same mighty organ that roars until it rattles the fillings in your teeth.

Just like the Republicans two weeks ago, the Democrats are backstage practicing... speech-makers clearing their throats, polishing their fine phrases... lady delegates, and some of the men, mugging and smirking in front of mirrors, seeing how they'll look best on television.

This is where we came in two weeks ago—with one big difference. They've taken down Abraham Lincoln's picture and hung Harry Truman's in its place.

CUTE RUSSELLER—By combining a loud whoop, three out-sized campaign buttons and a poster, Phyllis Czarnocki gets across a hint of who is her favorite candidate for the Democratic nomination. She's a secretary at Sen. Richard Russell's convention headquarters in the Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago.

Demo Convention Opens—

tant Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Stevenson, who repeated Sunday night that "I just don't want to be nominated for the presidency," still was a hot prospect for a draft movement at the convention deadlocks.

On this point, the Illinois governor said: "You'd have to show me the dead-end first."

Jacob Arvey, Illinois national committeeman, put his views in these words:

"Governor Stevenson couldn't turn down the nomination if it were a legitimate draft and if he agreed to the party platform."

Despite a "this hurts me more than it does you" kick in the pants from organized labor leaders, Barkley continued to gather undercurrent strength.

George Harrison, AFL vice president, and Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's Political Action Committee, said the unions can't support Barkley because of his age.

Welcoming the delegates to this hall where Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was chosen as the GOP presidential nominee 10 days ago, Stevenson said it doesn't matter so much who leads the Democrats this year.

"What counts now is not just what we are against but what we are for," he declared in a prepared address.

"Who leads us is less important than that leads us—what convictions, what courage, what faith—win or lose. A man doesn't save a century or a civilization, but a militant party wedded to a principal can."

In an indirect reference to Republican charges of corruption in government, Stevenson declared:

"Where we have erred, let there be no denial; where we have wronged the public trust, let there be no excuse. Self-criticism is the secret weapon of democracy and candor and confession are good for the political soul."

As to the other candidates, Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, Averell Harriman of New York and Senator Robert A. Kerr of Oklahoma remained only outside possibilities for the nomination.

A dozen "favorite sons" and others mentioned in lobby gossip as possibilities hung around waiting for a possible stroke of lightning.

President Truman could turn loose some bolts of undetermined power. He kept his preference for the nominee secret even from his Cabinet members, although Thomas J. Gavin of Kansas City, his convention alternate, professed to know. Gavin wasn't talking.

The feeling here seemed to be that Truman is hiding his time, putting on pressure to get the kind of "Fair Deal" platform he wants and putting off making up his mind finally until the situation shakes down somewhat.

Whether Truman could swing the nomination remained doubtful, but his influence was being felt keenly in the fight over civil rights and the seating of delegates from Southern states who have refused to pledge in advance that they will support the ultimate nominee.

A program juggling change by the Democratic National Committee was what delayed any show-down on this issue until Tuesday.

Sam Brightman, committee publicity director, insisted that adoption of temporary convention rules had been lifted for Monday's session only through a clerical error.

Whatever the origin, the change offered a 24-hour cooling-off period in which compromise efforts were certain to be made on a proposed "fair play" rule similar to that which broke the back of Senator Robert A. Taft's forces in the Republican convention.

Midland Hospital's Facilities Viewed During Open House

Visitors from Midland and the surrounding area observed first hand Sunday afternoon the operation and facilities of Midland Memorial Hospital.

From 1 until 5 p.m. they toured the building during the open house marking the hospital's second birthday.

The women of the Hospital Auxiliary served as guides in taking the visitors through the hospital, and explaining the various phases of its operation.

Administrator Burton N. Sears and other members of the hospital staff were on hand to greet the public.

Refreshments were served.

Shooting Accident Kills Lamesa Man On Andrews Ranch

ANDREWS.—Louis Ernest Randolph, 42, of Lamesa, died of a gunshot wound apparently inflicted accidentally while he was hunting Sunday on the Mungler Nix Ranch 10 miles west of here.

Randolph was enroute to Odessa but had stopped at the ranch to visit its operator, J. D. Lambright, and spend the night. Sunday morning he took a 22 rifle into the nearby fields. Lambright and his nephew Joe Lambright, decided to investigate when at 1 p.m. the sound of the hunter's shots ceased.

The pair found Randolph's body lying face down near his rifle, a bullet hole over the heart.

Surviving are the widow, the father, three children and a sister. Funeral services are pending, and interment will be in Lamesa.

Midlanders Leave For Kin's Rites

Mrs. Floyd Collins, stepmother of Bernard Collins, Midland pharmacist, died at 4 p.m. Sunday in White-wright, near Sherman. She had been ill of a heart ailment for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins left Midland late Sunday to attend funeral services in White-wright Monday. The Collins reside on the Andrews Highway.

Midlander, Angeloan Share Top Model Plane Honors

Jimmy Crain of Midland and Ken Kennermer of San Angelo were grand champion winners in a model airplane contest held Sunday at Wadley Field, under auspices of the Optimist Club.

Crain topped sufficient places in various classes to win the junior championship trophy, while Kennermer won the senior division.

A host of entries from the West Texas-New Mexico area competed in a brisk wind that damaged a number of planes. Jim Velvin, Jr., president of the Optimist Club, said Velvin said that two planes soared away from the field. Anyone finding the planes are asked to return them to the owners. Names and addresses of the owners are on the plane.

A special event, featuring radio controlled planes, was cancelled because of the high winds.

The competition was held in two divisions—youths under 18 and adults over 18 years of age. Classes included both free flight, U. control and combat.

Winners follow:

U. control (senior division)—Kennermer, first; Dick Rice, Odessa, second; and Eldon Wilson, San Angelo, third.

U. control (junior division)—Crain, first; Lonnie Muse, Odessa, second; and Walter Chambers, San Angelo, third.

Combat (senior division)—Kennermer, first; Ferrell Daniels, Brownfield, second; and Lee Lefts, Brownfield, third.

Combat (junior division)—Eugene Chambliss, San Angelo, first; Don Jones, Tarzan, second; and Crain, third.

Free flight (adult division)—Half A class, Wilson, San Angelo, first; and Jack Thompson, Stanton, second; ABCD class, Frank Miller,

Famed Hill Of Tara Will Be Excavated

DUBLIN.—Excavation on the historic Hill of Tara, in County Meath, where once stood the palace of the Kings of Ireland, got under way recently when Premier Eamon de Valera cut the first sod.

Work is under direction of Sean T. O'Riordan, professor of archaeology at the National University of Ireland. It is expected to take about 25 years. In pre-Christian days Tara was the capital of Ireland and the center for art and politics.

Fugitive Car Dealer Tells Of Escape From Abductors

CHICAGO.—The Chicago Herald-American said Robert L. Knetser, former Edwardsville, Ill., automobile dealer who disappeared from the Springfield City Jail June 17, surrendered Monday to the Herald-American.

The newspaper, in a copyrighted story, said Knetser will be turned over to federal authorities. It did not disclose his whereabouts at this time, however, but said he surrendered to a reporter of the Herald-American.

The Herald-American said Knetser told a startling story of what he said was his escape from four gunmen who he said took him out

Union Chiefs Plug For New Deal-Type Platform, Nominee

CHICAGO.—Labor union chiefs plugged hard Monday to have the Democratic National Convention choose a New Deal-type presidential ticket and platform.

Leaders of both the AFL and CIO have turned thumbs down on three of the candidates, Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Senator Richard Russell of Georgia

Texas Republicans Gather In Dallas, Puff Peace Pipe

DALLAS.—Battle-scarred Texas Republicans gathered to smoke the peace pipe here Monday amid rumors that State Chairman Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls would resign.

Primarily, the meeting was of the Republican State Executive Committee. But Bullington invited delegates representing two opposing factions at the GOP national convention to promote harmony.

As "old guard" former Taft backers and "new guard" Eisenhower supporters convened, the Dallas Times Herald said speculation was rife that Bullington would quit and an interim chairman would be named. The temporary chief would serve until a new chairman is picked at the August 26 state convention.

The issue of who should become the new permanent state chairman seemed the biggest thorn on the path to party peace.

"I call the meeting in the true spirit of harmony," Bullington declared, "and that's what I'm going to get them to do."

At the GOP national convention in Chicago the Texas Eisenhower-Taft factions locked in a bitter fight over which group would be seated at the convention. The Eisenhower faction won.

On hand for Monday's meeting were Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, deposed, Republican national committeeman from Texas who led the losing Texas Taft campaign, and Jack Porter of Houston, state Eisenhower leader who succeeded Zweifel in the national committeeman post.

College Graduates Earn More Money

NEW YORK.—College graduates earn more than people with less schooling, says the Alfred P. Sloan research organization.

Its figures show the average college graduate earns $45,000 more from graduation to age 65 than does the high school graduate who falls to continue school work. And the college graduate makes $79,000 more than the grade school graduate.

The figures also show that 26 per cent of grade school graduates earn more than $4,000 a year. For high school people the figure is 46 per cent and 71 per cent for college graduates.

Trucker Cuts Arm

Joe Dean Large, 202 South Weatherford Street, truck driver for B&C Tankers, suffered a cut on his left arm Sunday, in a fall. He was treated at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Quakes Rock South California—

line to San Francisco, which runs along the coast, was not damaged. The Santa Fe said it would move its passengers by bus.

But the main-traveled route between here and Bakersfield, the ridge route (U. S. 99), was blocked by a slide near Gorman. A highway patrolman said "It seems like the top of a mountain slid off," burying the busy, four-lane freeway route under 25 feet of dirt at one point.

Elsewhere in the isolated Tehachapi mountains, which separate coastal Southern California from the San Joaquin Valley, there were growing reports of loss and injuries.

At least 10 persons were hospitalized at Mojave, 20 miles east of Tehachapi. A motel and store at Grapevine was reported wrecked, with two persons injured. Shocks were still being felt in the community of Prasier Park four hours after the first quake hit at 4:32 a.m. (Pacific Daylight Time).

The strongest quake in Southern California in almost a half-century, the thinly-populated area in which it hit kept the death toll from being much higher. Its force was felt, mostly in a rolling motion, from San Francisco on the north to the Mexican border on the south, and eastward into Nevada.

Littered With Rubble

As dawn came, clouds of dust could be seen rising back in the mountains, indicating landslides deep in the canyons.

Bakersfield, a city of 35,000, was hard hit. A refinery was afire, the downtown business district was hard hit. A refinery was afire, the downtown business district was littered with rubble, plate glass windows were splintered and an explosion blew out the walls of an automobile agency.

The Kern County courthouse at Bakersfield showed such cracks that employees were not permitted to enter. Dozens were treated for shock and minor cuts and bruises at Kern County general hospital.

Seismologists at California Institute of Technology of the famed center on a branch of the famed San Andres Fault, which cuts through the mountains near Gorman, and fixed its distance at 70 miles north of here.

Its strength in this century is topped only by the San Francisco quake in 1906. But in terms of damage and loss of life, the Long Beach quake of 1933 was far worse. It killed more than 100 and caused 40 million in damage. And the 1925 Santa Barbara quake killed 11 and caused 10 million loss.

Water Supply Safe

Seismologists said only the fact that Monday's shock centered in the lightly-populated mountains kept the toll from being much heavier.

Concern was felt at first for the Los Angeles aqueduct, which passes as not far from the damaged area as bringing water from the Sierra Nevada to this city of two million. But patrols said there appeared to be no breaks in the big line. In Los Angeles there were no reports of loss of life, but many windows were broken, transformers blew up causing power failures, nine street mains were broken and 13 primary electrical circuits were knocked out.

The ridge route, U. S. 99, main inland highway between here and San Francisco, was closed by a towering earth slide, which the State Highway Patrol reported was 25 feet high at one point.

"The whole top of a mountain seems to have slid off," said one patrolman. The slide occurred near Gorman, and officers were rushed into the area to try to untangle the traffic.

Whole Town Down

This would seem to put the quake on the rambling San Andres fault, scene of most of California's severe quakes. San Andreas cut through the mountains near Gorman.

Tehachapi, a town of about 3,000 population, has only a few stores and its biggest building is an old, three-story hotel.

The first report of loss of life came from the Kern County sheriff's office, in Bakersfield.

Sgt. Carl L. Weber said "The whole town of Tehachapi is down, according to our reports."

He ordered all available ambulances from Bakersfield and other Kern County towns, and from the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, northeast of the little town in the foothills of the Tehachapi mountains.

Fire in the Paloma Oil Field, about seven miles southwest of Bakersfield, swept storage tanks within moments after the quake, Weber said. There was no reported loss of life there.

Tehachapi is the site of the State Prison for Women, but Weber said he had no reports whatever from the institution. Emergency calls only were being accepted to the city.

At California Institute of Technology, seismologists gave the first clue to the center of the quake, felt over most of a vast area with a rolling motion.

Awakened By Shock

Caltech rated its intensity at seven and one-half of a scale of eight, compared with six and one-fourth for the Long Beach quake which killed scores near here in 1933. The San Francisco quake of 1906, one of the worst on record, rated eight and one-fourth on that scale.

Millions of Californians were awakened by the first shock, felt here at 4:32 a.m. (Pacific Daylight Time). Its intensity here, 120 miles away from the center, could be gauged by the fact that dawn's light disclosed cracks in buildings and showered plaster.

The rolling motion, in contrast to the preening jar which accompanies some quakes, was credited with minor damage in the heavily populated metropolitan Los Angeles area.

The first shake lasted almost three minutes here, rising and falling in intensity, then was followed by at least five more within a half-hour.

Hotel Lobbies Crowded

Los Angeles hotel lobbies were crowded by residents in night clothes. Lights sprang up in houses up and down every block. Dogs howled in fear and at Redondo Beach, Mrs. Eleanor Howell said she was awakened by a dog, running outside the house with a walking cry only a moment before the quake hit.

Residents of the San Fernando Valley, home of many movie stars, reported the quake sloshed water out of their swimming pools. Broken dishes were general cracked windows were common in a band from here to a point north of Fresno, and extending to Santa Barbara on the coast.

In the southern section of the San Joaquin Valley, such cities as Bakersfield, Tulare and Visalia, all rated the quake as heavy.

Santa Barbara, hit by a severe quake in 1925, got a good rocking Monday. Plate glass windows in the downtown area were broken and power lines went down. Residents streamed in tright from homes and hotels.

Demo Platform Writers Hit Civil Rights Issue Head-On

CHICAGO — Democrats winding up hearings on a 1952 platform jangled demands Monday for a civil rights plank even stronger than the one that caused a Southern revolt four years ago.

Just as in 1948—when the Dixie bolt cost President Truman 39 electoral votes—civil rights was emerging as the knottiest platform plank before the convention.

This time, Northerners like Senator Herbert Lehman of New York, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and William Benton of Connecticut are saying a strongly worded civil rights statement of principles is not enough. They say the platform must spell out precisely how the Democrats plan to follow through in Congress.

Marathon speech-making has been used effectively by some Southern senators to block action on civil rights bills.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, platform chairman, sought to complete public hearings Monday.

Body Of Midland Man Found Near Railroad Crossing

The body of a 61-year-old negro, apparently hit by a passing train, was found early Sunday near the Lee Street crossing.

He was identified as Fred Douglas Finley of Midland.

Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson said Finley's body, with the head badly crushed, was found around 7 p.m. about 100 yards west of the Lee Street crossing.

Finley, who had been living in Midland several months, was planning to leave Sunday for Austin, where his wife is to undergo an operation. A bus ticket and $40 in cash were found on his body.

Stephenson returned a verdict of accidental death.

CIO Chief Charges Industry Repudiated Steel Peace Pact

PITTSBURGH — President Philip Murray of the CIO United Steelworkers charged Monday that the steel industry repudiated a strike settlement which he worked out with officials of Bethlehem Steel Corporation last June 17.

Murray told the USW's 170-man Wage-Policy Committee that President Charles White of Republic Steel previously had urged the steel companies to accept suggestions made by White which Murray thought could have led to a settlement.

The Potent Wage-Policy Committee was called together to hear Murray's report on the 50-day walk-out which has killed more than 1,500,000 and to give the union chief some guidance on future strategy.

The committee heard Murray say negotiations with Vice President Joseph M. Larkin of Bethlehem and Bethlehem counsel John Morse produced a "memorandum of understanding" in which the steel company executives "substantially accepted the union shop."

Murray said Larkin and Morse took the memorandum before the other major producers with the understanding they would press for its acceptance.

Murray said that on June 20, the Bethlehem steel men returned and "both expressed considerable disappointment that the other steel companies had refused to accept what they believed to be a solution of every aspect of this situation."

Murray added: "They stated they had been repudiated and told us they felt a deep sense of humiliation."

More Patrons Use Library In Pecos

PECOS — More people than ever before are frequenting the Carnegie Library in Pecos, discloses Mrs. W. W. Runnels, librarian.

But that doesn't mean a greater percentage of folks are reading more these days, she added hastily.

"We've just had a tremendous population increase since the library was donated in 1914 by the Carnegie Library association," Mrs. Runnels noted.

Oil & Gas Log—

487 feet from south and 2,179 feet from west lines of section 17, block 42, G&MHR&A survey, T-1-N.

It had its first flow of oil in the Wolfcamp in a drillstem test at 8,643-67 feet. The tool was open two and one-half hours.

Gas was at the surface in four minutes. Oil came to the top in 30 minutes. It flowed oil for two hours at the rate of 14 barrels per hour through a 5/8th inch bottom hole choke.

There was no water. Gravity of the oil was 43 degrees.

It deepened to 8,746 feet and took an eight and one-half hour drillstem test on another Wolfcamp lime at 8,730-46 feet.

The new producer is 1,993 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 41, block B, L&SV survey. It is 2 1/2 miles northwest of Big Lake.

Southland Royalty Company has a block of approximately five and one-half sections of leases in the region adjacent to the new oil well.

Gas surfaced in three and one-half minutes and oil started flowing at the top in 30 minutes. It flowed for eight hours and made a steady stream of oil.

12 B O H

The section flowed at the rate of 12 barrels of oil per hour when flowing through a one-quarter inch tubing choke and it flowed at the rate of 30 barrels of oil per hour when flowing through a one-inch opening off of the drill pipe.

There were no signs of formation water. Gravity of the oil is 43 degrees.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 750 pounds and 3,250 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure was 3,875 pounds after one hour and 15 minutes.

Gas-oil ratio was 720-1.

Drilling Ahead

The prospector is drilling deeper. It is contracted to 13,500 feet to test the Ellenburger.

V. Brill No. 1 Ratliff, located 660 feet from north and west lines of section 11, block 42, T-1-S, T&P survey, and one and one-half miles southeast of the some operators No. 1 Faskan, is bottomed at 13,874 feet in Ellenburger.

That zone had not logged any shows of oil or gas and it had developed a small amount of sulphur water at total depth. It is to plug back to 11,110 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian.

A string of 5 1/2-inch casing will be cemented at 11,110 feet and that pipe will be perforated opposite the Pennsylvanian and tested. That formation had several sections which logged possibilities of making an oil well.

The Wolfcamp flowed oil in this wildcat. That horizon will also be perforated and tested.

Operator probably will complete it from the pay section which develops the best production in the tests which are to be run.

Three Panhandle Wildcats Staked; To Start At Once

Wildcats have been staked in two counties of the Texas Panhandle.

Roberts County gained two locations and Briscoe one.

Morgan Reed will drill No. 1 Morrison Ranch in Roberts County, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 12, block C, G&M survey. It is to drill to 9,000 feet.

C. D. Cree and others No. 1 Locke will be drilled four miles northeast of Sunray and in Roberts County. Location has been staked 660 feet from south and west lines of section 102, block M2, BS&F survey. It is slated to go to 7,500 feet.

H. L. Hunt scheduled No. 1 M. H. W. Ritchie as a 9,000-foot wildcat 25 miles northeast of Silverton and in Briscoe County. It is to be drilled 660 feet from south and west of the southeast corner of section 70, but in section 74, Nock G-6, A&G survey.

Hanley Takes DST In Lime Streak At NW Ector Wildcat

Hanley Company and associates No. 1 C. V. Headlee, Northwest Ector County wildcat which had flowed oil at the estimated rate of 20 to 25 barrels per hour from the Wulfcamp-Permian lime at 10,065-143 feet, found tight dense streak at 10,143-173 feet.

That zone was drilled after the flow had been developed on the section above.

It was then drillstem tested for 30 minutes. There was a weak blow of air for 10 minutes and it then died.

Recovery was 360 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formation water. No pressures were reported.

The prospector is now making hole below 10,195 feet in Wolfcamp lime and chert.

This prospective new discovery is just inside of the Ector County line from the west side of Midland County. It is 10 miles west of the city of Midland, five miles northwest of the Midland Air Terminal and approximately 10 miles north-east of Odessa.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 39, block 41, T-1-S, T&P survey.

In addition to Hanley other lease owners in the region adjacent to the possible discovery include El Capitlan Oil Company, Spartan Drilling Company, State Exploration Company of Texas and Southern Production Company.

Labor May Reverse Stand On Barkley

CHICAGO —(AP)—Union labor leaders indicated Monday they may back down from their stand that 74-year-old Vice President Alben W. Barkley is too old to get their support for the Democratic presidential nomination.

They had "no statement" when they left a breakfast conference with the vice president, but Jack Kroll, director of the CIO's Political Action Committee, told newsmen the labor group would have a statement late in the day.

Asked if that meant that the AFL and CIO men who called Barkley too old might alter their earlier statement, Kroll told reporters, "Be your age."

He would make no further statement as he left the vice president's suite at the Blackstone Hotel.

Dameron Assumes Area SCS Duties

PECOS — 26th Dameron, with the Soil Conservation Service since 1935, has assumed new duties as area conservationist, heading work in approximately 15 West Texas counties.

Formerly a district conservationist, Dameron will have supervision of nine work units. Head of the Pecos work unit is C. G. Cox.

Dameron explained that the government has discarded the district conservationist positions in an effort to economize. There are 25 area offices in Texas.

His territory includes all counties west of the Pecos River except Terrell and part of Val Verde, in addition to six counties east of the river.
