Austral Gets Shows On DST In Sterling; Now Coring Deeper

Austral Oil Exploration Company No. 1 Ellwood Estate, wildcat in Central-North Sterling County, found good signs of production in the Mississippi on a drillstem test from 8,000 to 8,095 feet. Tool was open one hour and 40 minutes. Gas surfaced in seven minutes. Recovery was reversed out. It was from six to seven barrels of oil plus some oil-cut mud. No water was present. Recovery below the sub was 60 feet of oil and 60 feet of oil-cut mud at 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was from 225 to 1,035 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 30 minutes was 3,420. The Mississippi was topped at 8,080 feet, elevation 2,429 feet. Operator was to core ahead. Location is 690 feet from south and west lines of section 78, block 18, SP survey and 12 miles north of Sterling City.

Union Will Drill Gas Explorer In SW Gaines Area

Union Oil Company of California has staked location for a one-half mile south outpost to the Weitzer (gas) field in Southwest Gaines County. It will be drilled as No. 1 Mrs. Proctor S. Dunbar, 690 feet from north and 2,925 feet from east lines of section 25, block A-12, pal survey and eight miles southeast of Hobbs, N. M. It is to go to 7,250 feet to try for gas production in the Clear Fork. Operations are to start at once. Union No. 2 Weitzer is the discovery well of the Weitzer field. It originally was completed as an oiler, but later recompleted as a gas discovery.

Plymouth Is To Dig Deep Prospector In C-W Midland Area

Plymouth Oil Company is to start drilling immediately at its No. 1-A H. S. (Sherwood) Foster, which is to be a 10,000-foot wildcat to try for production in the Pennsylvanian lines in Central-West Midland County, 14 miles west of the city of Midland. The prospector is to be 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 11, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey. That makes it two and one-half miles northwest of the nearest production on the northwest side of the Parks, (Pennsylvanian) field just south of Warfield.

On Brennan Block
This wildcat is being drilled on a block of leases taken about 30 days ago by Robert S. Brennan, Jr., of Midland from H. S. (Sherwood) Foster, the fee owner of the property. Brennan is reported to have paid Foster in excess of $50,000 per acre cash for the lease on 2,522 acres out of the Foster ranch. Plymouth Took Well Deal
Brennan also agreed to drill a 10,000-foot wildcat at the location listed for Plymouth prospector. Plymouth has taken over the obligation made by Brennan to drill that wildcat and in return for that assumption is to get certain lease out of the Foster block. Brennan retains ownership of the remainder of the acreage.

Tom Green Wildcat Is To Complete As Pumping Discovery

Pumping equipment is being installed to complete a small discovery in Central Tom Green County at E. Scherck and E. M. Wahlenmeyer Sec. 1 Tom Nasworthy. This new producer swabbed 154.4 barrels of 28-gravity oil in 44 hours prior to being shut-in to install the lifting equipment. That was an average of 3.5 barrels of oil per hour for the 44-hour period of testing. From Perforated Zone
Shakoum from the 154.4 barrels of oil was two per cent basic sediment and water. The production was from perforated section in the 5 1/2-inch casing at 5,917-27 feet. That zone has been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid. The casing is cemented at 6,050 feet. The section making the oil is (Continued On Page Nine) Let's Elect Leonard Howell Our County Attorney. 12,000 Expected To Vote Saturday

Thousands of Midland County voters will sneak away from the excitement of the national political campaigns for a brief time Saturday to go to the polls in the Democratic primary election.

Their interest quickened by a furious last-minute campaign, they are expected to turn out in record-breaking numbers to select a slate of nominees for state offices as well as a variety of local political jobs. The polls open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. At stake are three disputed district offices, three county offices and five precinct offices, aside from the state posts. On the area level, here are the posts which will be decided in Saturday's balloting: Associate Justice, Court of Civil

'ELECTION PARTY'

The Reporter-Telegram will stage its usual "election party" Saturday night. Everyone is invited to attend the party.

Councilmen Refuse To Open Way For Day Nursery Project

The City Council refused Thursday afternoon to open the way for the location of a day nursery at Whitaker Street and Maiden Lane. By a unanimous vote the councilmen rejected an amendment to the city's zoning ordinance, which would permit more than 10 children in nurseries operated by non-profit organizations.

The proposed change had been submitted by Richard Brooks, president of the Rotary Club, which had offered to rent a building at Whitaker Street and Maiden Lane to the Midland Service League for $1 a year. The Service League would use the building for a day nursery to care for children of working mothers. The action of the council came after members of the council consulted with a spokesman for the planning and zoning commission.

Union, Industry Agreement Ends 53-Day Steel Walkout

WASHINGTON—(A) The longest, costliest steel strike in American history in effect is over. Production is expected to resume next week.

The striking CIO Steelworkers Union was considered virtually certain Friday to ratify a strike-ending agreement reached at the White House after President Truman personally demanded — and got — a settlement.

It was not a clear-cut victory for anyone concerned—the union, industry, or the government. There was give and take on all sides.

The end of the crippling, 53-day strike was announced late Thursday by the President himself, with the statement that CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel Chairman Benjamin Fairless "have reached agreement on important basic issues" after day-long conferences, and predicted a "speedy resumption of steel production."

Price Hike Approved
He said Murray would meet Friday with his 175-man Wage-Policy Committee to obtain ratification of the agreement.

A few minutes after Truman's dramatic announcement the government approved a price increase of $5.20 for raw, or carbon, steel. Specialized, high-alloy steel will get a boost of $5.65 a ton.

No wage or other terms were announced at the White House session, but it was learned reliably the agreement includes these conditions:

A wage boost of 16 cents an hour for 650,000 basic steel workers; a highly modified form of union shop which allows present non-union members to stay out and gives new employees a 15-day escape period during their first month of employment; six paid holidays; three weeks vacation after 15 years service; a two-year contract, dating from last June 30, with a wage reopener next June 30.

Hot, Dry Election Weather Forecast

By The Associated Press
Hot, dry weather for Election Day was the outlook in Texas as the campaigns for state and county offices closed Friday.

The forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies with little change in temperatures. That meant hot weather similar to Thursday's when Gainesville recorded the highest thermometer reading of the day with 105 degrees.

It also probably meant a record turnout at the polls, where dry weather traditionally brings in more voters.

McCarthy Improves After Major Surgery

WASHINGTON—(A) Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) was reported "in good condition" Friday following a major operation performed Thursday. The operation was performed to mend a rupture of muscles separating the chest and abdominal cavities.

Pinch On Tubular Goods Still Exists

WASHINGTON—American petroleum producers were advised Thursday afternoon the government will issue no allotments of steel tubular goods for use in the fourth quarter of this year.

J. Ed Warren, deputy petroleum administrator, blamed the steel strike which, he said, has cost 5,000 tons of tubular goods daily. By the time steel output gets going next week, the shutdown will have lasted 57 days.

The PAD is returning all applications for fourth quarter allocations, but invited producers to send them back by August 11, marked "conversion" if they wish to share in distribution of "a small quantity" of conversion casing and tubing.

As for the third quarter, Warren promised to make "every effort" to see the allotments already issued are honored when the time comes for the operator actually to pick up the steel tubular goods. In coming weeks and months, it is understood, the PAD is to make every effort to aid high priority users, such as wildcaters, and operators needing a small tonnage to complete a well.

Meeting Forecast
Further, the PAD already is urging the National Production Authority to provide a full supply of basic shapes and forms, or raw materials, for production of tubular goods. There is some fear defense needs may mean lower production of steel tubular goods in the months ahead.

Anyway, some Washington oil men forecast a meeting soon between Southwestern oil men and the PAD to talk it over in Washington. Basic arithmetic of the steel strike and tubular goods is this: Domestic operators use about 450,000 tons a quarter, and the strike will have cost 375,000 tons.

McClendon, who had lived in Midland the last four years, moved here from Whiteface. He was born July 13, 1913, at Ben Arnold, in Midland County. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. 11 Great Americans, 11 'Men Who—' Seek Democratic Nod

CHICAGO—(A)—Here are some of the words with which 11 names were placed in nomination before the Democratic convention: Richard Russell (by Sen. Walter George of Georgia)—"The ablest candidate in the race... a man physically qualified, mentally qualified, and emotionally qualified for the presidency." Estes Kefauver (by Gov. Gordon Browning of Tennessee)—"Certainly possessed of a mandate from the American people to be the Democratic nominee for President." Robert Kerr (by Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma)—"Ready, willing and anxious to lead this country at this critical time." Russell And Stevenson In Close Pursuit

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO—(A)—The Democrats first ballot on the presidential nomination with 615 1/2 needed to win gave, before any switches were announced: Russell 267 1/2; Kefauver 300 1/2; Harriman 136; Connecticut switched its 16 votes to Stevenson, giving him 264 1/2.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO—(A)—A multiple-ballot battle over the Democratic presidential nomination developed Friday as it became apparent no candidate could win the prize on the first count.

Barring last-minute vote switches, which seemed unlikely, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, Senator Kefauver of Tennessee and Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia headed for a tie-up on the first ballot with none of them within striking distance of the 615 1/2 votes needed for victory.

With the first count progressing slowly in this suddenly quiet amphitheater, there were indications Stevenson was developing the strength that might carry him to a later nomination unless his opponents could combine against him quickly.

The potential Stevenson strength looked so large there was talk that Harriman soon might topple out of the race and attempt to throw his support to Kefauver.

Kefauver's backers were claiming he had shown "great strength" in the first test. James Roosevelt of California said the Tennesseean's showing had demonstrated that the draft Stevenson move "has now been proved to be completely synthetic."

Backers of Russell said they are going to analyze switches on the second ballot before they make up their minds about any strategy move. Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, one of the Georgian's floor managers, told a reporter, "If they think they are going to nominate Stevenson with Southern help, they are mistaken."

Any jump made by Russell to the support of another candidate was regarded as most likely to be toward Vice President Alben Barkley, a re-

Marine Decoy Helps Sniper Slay Nine Reds For Record

WITH U. S. FIRST MARINE DIVISION, KOREA—A sharp-shooting sergeant using a fellow marine as a decoy claims a perfect but highly unofficial record—nine Chinese snipers killed with nine bullets.

But the company commander put a stop to the bizarre tactics.

The Marines Friday released the story:

Sgt. John E. Bottinoot of Chicago, a medal-winning marksman, and Pfc. Henry A. Pfeiffer of Nekoma, Wis., were stationed on an outpost far forward of the Marine division's main line of defense.

They devised this deadly game Friday, acting as a decoy, would expose himself until a Chinese sniper opened fire. Bottinoot, armed with a rifle mounted with a sniper-scope, would fire just once and exclaim "scratch one" enemy.

Bottinoot said "the whole idea started one day when Friday made it the mistake of standing up in the trench. A sniper fired at him and I fired back. I killed him."

Friday volunteered for decoy duty. In two days they set a "remarkable if highly unofficial record" of nine Chinese snipers slain with nine bullets. The men said they checked their kills with a powerful telescope.

Bottinoot, whose wife lives at Comfort, N. C., is a Marine Corps distinguished rifleman. The release said he won a silver medal in Marine Corps matches in 1948, a bronze medal in southeastern matches in 1950 and placed second in the Wirman Trophy match in 1948 at Quantico, Va.

Truman Spares Life Of Latin Assassin

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman is sparing the life of the Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate him at Blair House in 1950.

Presidential Secretary Joseph Short announced — without comment — late Thursday that the death sentence of Oscar Collazo had been commuted to life imprisonment.

The 38-year-old Puerto Rican had been scheduled to die in the electric chair here on August 1 for his part in the death plot.

Collazo was wounded and a companion, Griselio Torresola, was killed in a furious gun battle with the President's guards on Nov. 1, 1950. A White House policeman, Pvt. Leslie Coffelt, was killed but Collazo's attorney said it was Torresola's gun which shot the guard.

However, the law makes no distinction between companions in a felony which results in a murder.

Midland Organization Backs Tideland-Minded Candidate

Organization in Midland of an association to support the presidential candidate who is in favor of, and will sign legislation, returning the tidelands to state ownership, was announced Friday by Jim McHargue, one of the sponsors.

A meeting is scheduled Friday night to perfect the organization and to elect officers.

The new association has but one objective to accomplish which others have failed to do in recovering the Tidelands of Texas for the citizens and schools of the state. Sponsors stated they said the tidelands case appears to be a dead issue lost forever to Texas unless a President is elected who will not veto the action of Congress in the matter.

"The tidelands issue not only is an economic issue involving property with a potential value of hundreds of millions of dollars, but is a moral issue which must, if the democratic government of the United States is to continue, be decided in favor of Texas," sponsors declared.

"There can be no alternative other than the United States keeping its obligations and treaties with our state. The American people, through their Congress, have tried twice without success to do what is morally right but, because the President is a man thinking otherwise, the action of Congress has been nullified."

Born in Midland, the association will be projected over Texas and to the East Coast, it was stated.

Organizers of the movement here are said to be veterans of World War II.

Hollywood's hailing zippy Marilyn Monroe as Jean Harlow's successor to "movietown's" "Sex Queen" title. Movie audiences are agreeing and so is Dennis O'Keefe, who costarred with the famous platinum blonde in her last movie, "Saratoga."

"Physically," Dennis flashed it. "Marilyn has even more appeal than Jean. She has greater facial beauty, too."

"But whether Marilyn can dish up with her eyes what came out from inside of Jean remains to be seen. Jean was a great personality with an acute sense of humor. She could laugh about anything—including herself."

It's another light comedy role for Dennis in Republic's "The Lady Wants Mink," the story of a housewife (Ruth Hussey) who wants a mink coat so badly she talks hubby into buying a mink farm. "The Mink and I?"

"And I can thank TV for getting me out of the T-Man rut," Dennis grinned.

Ten farce comedies he-made for Eddie Small are playing the TV circuit and it's a grateful Dennis saying: "It's amazing. Movie producers are saying, 'I saw you on TV last night, Dennis. We'd forgotten you were a light comedian. We'd labeled you as a tough T-Man.'"

Shakespeare, says MGM, will get sole, undivided writing credit for the film version of "Julius Caesar." It's about time. Blazing Newspaper Provides Added Drama For Democrats

CHICAGO—Thousands of television viewers saw an unscheduled bit of drama at the Democratic National Convention early Friday when a burning newspaper threatened to set off a stampeding panic.

Assistant Fire Commissioner Anthony J. Mullaney expressed the opinion the blaze may have been set deliberately to force a recess in the marathon session.

Three men, including Amos Heacock, president of Air Transport Associates, Inc., of Seattle, were burned slightly while putting out the fire.

With TV cameras aimed at the scene, Peter J. Chobry of Boston, an assistant sergeant at arms, grabbed a microphone from Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and cried out:

"Don't get panicky. It's only a newspaper. It will be put out in a minute."

He kept repeating this until the blaze was extinguished.

Mullaney, who denied rumors that smoking would be banned at Friday's session, said he became alarmed around six p.m. Thursday at the volume of lit-torn paper used as confetti in demonstrations—on the floor and appealed to Sergeant at Arms Darrell Sinclair for an early adjournment. Sinclair replied that the session probably would end in about an hour, but it continued until almost 3 a.m.

Mullaney said 15 more firemen were assigned to the hall for Friday's session, making a total of 85.

Heacock suffered minor burns on the left hand and wrist. Two ushers also were burned slightly and treated at a first aid station.

State Senator J. B. Morrison of Georgetown, S. C., was in the row just in front of where the fire started. He threw his coat on the blaze, calling to others to do likewise. Morrison's coat was burned in several spots. In just a few more seconds, he said, the fire would have been completely out of hand.

Like Hears Radio Report On Demos; Makes No Comment

DENVER—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican Presidential nominee, listened to the radio Thursday night to the tumultuous proceedings at the Democratic National Convention.

He tuned in the marathon Chicago session on a set at his vacation cabin in the Colorado Rockies, about 70 miles west of Denver. It was the first time the radio had been turned on for the convention, aides to the general said.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, talked to the general by telephone from Denver long before the convention recessed early Friday until 11 a.m. Hagerty told newsmen at Eisenhower headquarters here that the general had listened to the proceedings "for a while."

Hagerty also announced that in no event would Eisenhower have any comment on selection of a Democratic presidential candidate until the convention also has named a vice presidential nominee.

Eisenhower was scheduled to confer Friday with his executive assistant, Arthur H. Vandenberg, Jr., who arrived in Denver Thursday after a series of New York meetings dealing with organization of the forthcoming campaign.

Feminine Tycoon Says Women Suited For Business Careers

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Mrs. Margaret Rudkin, who in 15 years has paralyzed a loaf of home-baked bread into a nation-wide business, says women are ideally suited to careers in big business because—

"Business is just like running your own house. You have to count pennies, clean house, stick to a budget and keep the children happy. You can't spend more money than you earn, and you have to pay back what you borrow."

improve the health of her youngest son, Mark. So she ground some wheat in a coffee grinder, added fresh milk, butter, honey and other natural ingredients, kneaded the loaf by hand and watched as her husband and sons devoured it with satisfaction.

Her friends tasted some of her old-fashioned bread, and begged her to make more. A doctor heard about it, and asked her to make enough to supply several of his patients. Soon Mrs. Rudkin had to hire a neighbor girl to help her keep up with the demand. Then she decided if she was going to be in business she might as well do it right.

big kitchen of her home, Pepperidge Farm, an estate of 135 acres in Fairfield, Conn. She decided to expand and build a modern factory in Norwalk where the fragrant loaves now emerge, from the ovens by the thousands.

The company now has other factories, but all are run on the same principle, personally supervised by Mrs. Rudkin or one of her sons, two of whom are now in the business with her. A third is still in college.

Why do we need capable County Commissioners?

BECAUSE the Commissioners Court is the policy-making body of County Government. And the County Commissioners decide the vital and important issues concerning such County Government. Actually, the duties of a County Commissioner have NOT been stressed in this campaign. But when you go to the Polls, Saturday to elect your commissioners, you should consider the duties of such an official... and each candidate's individual qualifications.

What are the duties of a County Commissioner?

1. To control all county finances, and set the budget for all county departments.
2. To purchase all road and maintenance equipment and machinery for county use.
3. To set the dates of county elections for the entire year, and appoint competent judges for such elections.
4. To call and set such bond elections as are deemed necessary and further to see that all bonds are sold to reliable bonding companies after they have been voted. And also to see that the money is spent for the purpose for which such bonds were voted and sold.
5. To appoint capable replacements for county offices, which are vacated.
6. To work with county engineers in planning and determining all road construction, maintenance and drainage of county roads. Also hiring and supervising maintainer operators for road work.
7. To supervise the spending of all county appropriated funds, in the manner which would bring the greatest benefit to the county and its people.
8. To evaluate the county tax rate and properly use such revenue.
9. To meet weekly... and more if need be... to discuss and attempt to deal with any and all county problems.

W. E. (Long Dog) KING is familiar with these duties and their importance!

ELECT
W. E. "LONG DOG" KING
YOUR
County Commissioner
Precinct No. 1 Midland County
MY QUALIFICATIONS

Excellent business background, owner and operator of (Hi-D-Ho Drive In) in Midland, employing 20 persons. Served 4 years in World War Two as enlisted man. Mess Sgt. in Officers Mess 4 years. Served three years as president of West Texas (54 counties) Restaurant Association. Am at present time serving two year term as Director of Texas Restaurant Association. Have ample time to devote to the affairs of County Business.

What I Will Work Toward If Elected

Cooperation of County, City and School officials in developing and maintaining recreational facilities for the people of Midland County (including County participation in building three swimming pools and parks in City of Midland.) Erection of Exhibit Building for County Fairs and Livestock Shows. To continue building and improving County roads in all sections of Midland County. To work toward getting a four lane (divided) highway from east city limits to Martin County line. Cooperation of County and City officials in handling charity medical cases. County to work on more extensive educational program to cope with juvenile delinquency. I am in favor of a more adequate library for Midland and Midland County, but think the City of Midland should cooperate and participate in this project. During the recent most welcome rains in and around Midland, we had a lot of flooded streets and homes in Midland, particularly north Midland. 50% of the water that came through the City was from the high plateau in North Midland County. If elected your Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, Midland County, I will work with County and City engineers in getting this water routed north of town to East Midland Draw, instead of flooding your homes and city streets.

I think Midland County should be re-districted on a basis that each County Precinct start at Court House and run north - south - east - west respectively.

What I Will Oppose If Elected As Commissioner Precinct No. 1

I will oppose any form of Rubber Stamp Government, and will not vote on any issue that might lead to that type of government. I will not accept any gift or compensation or promise thereof, from any person, firm or corporation for aiding any dealings with any agency of the County Government.

Texas Candidates Roar Toward Showdown

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1952-3

By The Associated Press
Saturday is E-Day in Texas. . . the Democratic Primary for state, county and precinct offices, target date of hundreds of speeches and scores of candidates.

It's also the day for Democratic and Republican precinct conventions.

Candidates for state office Friday put on their last, burst of oratory and energy in an effort to woo the vote most of them have been seeking since early in the year.

Good Weather Due
Election eve dawned with promises from the weather bureau of hot, dry weather. That possibly could mean a record turnout.

There were these other developments:

1. The chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee flew back to Texas from Chicago to urge followers of Gov. Allan Shivers to attend Saturday's precinct conventions.

2. Three of the Shivers' delegates left the convention at Chicago early and were in Houston. One was E. E. Townes who refused to sign the "watered-down loyalty pledge" at the convention. The others were Palmer Bradley and Ralph B. Lee.

3. Mrs. Allie Mae Currie, Dallas Eisenhower Republican, asked "dis-satisfied Democrats and independent voters" to join Republicans in the GOP precinct conventions.

Home Folks Rally
Liberty, hometown of Price Daniel, Senate aspirant, planned its biggest political rally Friday night, with Daniel scheduled to make the principal speech over a statewide radio network at 8:30 p.m.

5. Daniel's busiest opponent, Lindsey Beckworth, scheduled appearances Friday in 26 South and East Texas towns and cities. His program for the day started at 6 a.m. and was to run far into the night.

6. Governor Shivers defended his Chicago stand and Candidate-for-Governor Ralph Yarborough blasted at it with heated oratory.

Yarborough accused Shivers of a "complete, crafty turnabout."

"In an attempt to keep his seat at Chicago, the governor says just anything that he thinks sounds good at the moment," the candidate said at Floreaville.

Shivers answered that the pledge agreed upon by the Texas delegation requires only that party officials in Texas make sure the nominees of the national convention is on the state's ballot.

Third Party Disclaimed
Judge E. E. Townes earlier reported in favor of a third party movement. Thursday night said he was not advocating such a course.

"We're not fighting on a third party . . . we tried that in 1948," Townes said and continued.

"The Democratic Party is ours. We've already got it. . . The thing to do is to work in the precinct conventions and restore the Democratic party to the Democrats."

The earlier afternoon statement attributed to Townes had suggested that a movement for a third party candidate would benefit Republicans by 50 per cent.

Lee made it plain he did not "walk out" of the convention at Chicago. He said he had to come back early because of business matters. He declined to comment on the third party statement first attributed to Townes. Palmer Bradley, a states right leader, had no reported comment.

Explains Stand
Chairman Wheat, in an Austin press conference, explained the Shivers stand at the National Democratic Convention. "Even though we've won this loyalty fight all the way through," he said, "it's going to come up again in the September state convention. That's why the precinct conventions are important."

"It's important to see that people take part who believe there's room in the Democratic Party for all Democrats. . . I don't want to read anybody out of the party, and I don't want anybody to read me out of it."

Wheat, like Shivers, said the loyalty pledge finally adopted by the national convention requires only that party officials make sure the party nominees get on the state ballot. He said the pledge does not require party officials to support the nominees.

Wheat said Shivers should get credit not only for leading the fight against Maury Maverick and Texas as Loyal Democrats, "but against the whole North and East."

"I think he saved the party," the Woodville man continued. "If we had been forced out, there would have been some kind of realignment."

Stevenson 'Unacceptable'
Wheat said Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois was personally unacceptable to him because of Stevenson's stand on Tidelands and civil rights legislation.

Governor Shivers, however, said in Chicago Friday that he believes most Texans would go for a combination of Senator Richard Russell and Stevenson, with either man at the top. If Russell couldn't win nomination alone.

Meanwhile, Texans wondered just what the vote total would be Saturday. Record poll tax payments in many places indicated a heavy potential. And heated races for governor and U. S. Senate, three candidates in each, promised to bring partisan Texas trooping to the polls.

Daniel Thursday belittled the claim of Beckworth that the Glade-water Congressman was running a "poor boy's campaign."

Cites Beckworth Spending
"No one is a poor-boy candidate who has the backing of the CIO-PAC," Daniel said in a statement and claimed "the Washington crowd" has poured thousands of dollars into Beckworth's drive for the Senate seat.

Although Beckworth interrupted his campaign to vote for state ownership of the Tidelands in the last session of Congress, Daniel said Beckworth "on two different occasions . . . failed to vote for state ownership of the Tidelands."

"He's never made an issue of the Tidelands," Daniel said.

Most of the principal candidates planned heavy schedules Friday. Beckworth's 26-stop marathon topped them all. He planned a 6 a.m. start at Blooming Grove in Navarro County, was to work south to the Orange-Beaumont-Port Arthur area and on to Freeport by 8:30 p.m. Additional stops Friday night included Conroe, Willis, Waverly, Corrigan, Lufkin and Wells.

Paths Cross
Daniel's path was to cross the Beckworth route. He planned a Port Arthur appearance at 10 a.m.

Until the eighteenth century the spinning and weaving of flax was one of the most important of the domestic industries of Europe.

Orange at noon, and a 3 p.m. Beaumont speech before going on to Liberty for his "home folks rally" Friday night.

E. W. Napier, Wichita Falls attorney campaigning for the Senate, carried his campaign back to the Dallas-Fort Worth area for Friday. He planned to be in Fort Worth Saturday while Daniel awaited returns at Liberty and Beckworth slated more campaigning in Houston.

John Ben Shepherd, seeking to succeed Daniel as attorney general, planned to campaign in his home county of Gregg Friday.

Beckworth's father, O. J. Beckworth, planned speeches in his son's behalf at Conroe, Cleveland, Lovelady, Rusk and Timpson Friday.

It has been a long, hard campaign for the candidates, full of charges and counter charges and, at least during the early phases, against public apathy. The voters, it seemed, were more interested this year in the national scene. They watched Democratic and Republican National Conventions on TV and radio while the candidates, in a manner of speaking, appeared next door.

Many of the old-timers who had conducted colorful campaigns in the past were gone, notably Senator Tom Connally, Texas' veteran who is retiring after 24 years in the U. S. Senate. Others who chose not to run for reelection were Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine and Rep. J. M. Combs of Beaumont.

It was also one of the few elections in the last decade in which former Gov. Coke R. Stevenson had not taken part. But Stevenson already has said he would be back to oppose Senator Lynden B. Johnson when the junior U. S. Senator comes up for reelection in 1956.

Johnson edged Stevenson by an 87-vote margin in the 1950 Democratic Primary.

The Johnson-Stevenson fight ended with the former governor charging election irregularities in South Texas, and it is that region Texans will be watching Saturday.

The newly organized Freedom Party has challenged the power of Judge George Parr of Duval County in the area where the Parr family for decades has held sway.

Judge Sam Reams, seeking reelection, is an arch enemy of the so-called Parr machine. Parr has predicted Reams' defeat. The Freedom Party has asked that Duval County ballots be impounded when the polls close Saturday night.

Rangers have been on duty in the politically troubled area for several weeks, after a request for them went to Governor Shivers from Judge Reams.

Henderson's Fine Placed At $10,000

AMARILLO —(P)— C. M. Henderson, convicted Farwell grain dealer, faced a total fine of $10,000 Friday, after a correction was made by Federal Judge Joe B. Dooley. Judge Dooley made the correction Thursday, raising the fine from $500 in each of two counts. Henderson was sentenced to four years in prison and fined after being found guilty of converting government-owned grain to his own use. Imposition of any other sentence was suspended by Judge Dooley for a probationary period of four years. Henderson is free under $10,000 appeal bond.

Joseph Rhome, 78, Texas Rancher, Dies

PORT WORTH —(P)— Joseph Otto Rhome, 78, who had ranching interests in four Texas counties, died at his home here Thursday, after a heart seizure. The veteran cattleman was widely known as a Hereford breeder, and did his ranching in Bosque, Wise, Erath and Tarrant counties. He was the son of the late Byron Crandall Rhome, for whom the town of Rhome was named.

BATHTUB MURDER

HOUSTON —(P)— Gerhard A. Cordes, 51, was charged with murder here Thursday in the death of Mrs. Cleora McCord. The woman's body was found in the bath tub of her home Wednesday pierced by numerous ice pick wounds.

Tom Sealy Lauds Hudson's Record In Radio Talks

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney and a regent of the University of Texas, spoke briefly of the candidacy of Senator Hill D. Hudson for a second term in the State Senate, in a transcribed address broadcast by both Midland radio stations Thursday night.

Sealy called attention to Senator Hudson's conservative record, and the importance of his four-year seniority in the Senate. Terming the Senate the most important law-making body in the state, he pointed to Hudson's 26 years experience as a lawyer, district attorney and district judge as eminent qualifications for a Senate post.

The Midland lawyer called attention to the fact that Hudson, with the assistance of Midland Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing and Mayor Perry Pickett as witnesses before a Senate committee, killed a congressional re-district bill which would have thrown Midland into a 33-county congressional district entirely apart from its neighboring oil counties.

Charging that Hudson's opponent had denied voting for such a bill, Sealy declared, "I hold a certified copy of the engrossed bill for which he voted, and before me on the table is the official House Journal, Page 1898 of which shows his vote for that bill. I challenge him to deny it again."

Sealy also cited Hudson's support of a "right-to-work" bill, which guarantees a man the right to work whether or not he belongs to a labor union.

Texans To Learn Procedure Advised In Bracero Hiring

ABILENE —(P)— Meetings in seven Texas cities have been arranged for August to instruct West Texas farmers and ranchers how legally to obtain Mexican laborers this year.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, coordinator of the series, estimated West Texans will need about 20,000 more laborers this year than in 1951, or a total of some 110,000 braceros.

The schedule of meeting: August 2, Sonora; August 3, Haskell; August 4, Littlefield; August 5, Lamesa; August 6, Pecos; August 7, El Paso, and August 14, Childress.

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin will speak at Pecos and El Paso.

Bids Are Studied For Webb Building

PORT WORTH —(P)— Bids were opened here Friday by the Fort Worth district, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, on the construction of a commissary subsistence warehouse at the Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring.

Dear Judge:

I have recently learned that you are a candidate for Associate Judge of the Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, Texas. I have followed your course on the District bench for a number of years and am convinced that you possess all of the attributes of a real Judge; you have the legal knowledge, the judicial temperament, and the courage to apply the law as you see and understand it, regardless of whom it affects.

If I lived in your district I would not only vote for you but would do whatever I could to help elect you. I trust that the voters of your district will appreciate your service as a District Judge and will promote you. During the 17 years that I served on the Court of Criminal Appeals I read your decisions in cases that were appealed to the higher courts and your record is such that you may well be proud of for all time to come.

Yours truly,

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

While the pump is being installed two 500-barrel storage tanks are being erected at the drillsite. As soon as the pump and tanks are connected the well will be tested, the potential test will be run and the wildcat will be listed as an oil well.

Location is slightly more than one mile south of the south city limits of San Angelo. It is 1,281 feet from north and 1,622 feet from west lines of the H. Zerbach survey No. 178.

This wildcat drilled to a bottom of 6,401 feet in barren Ellenburger. It plugged back to 6,000 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian and at that point for the test which has been done and which has developed the show for a small pumping production.

It was originally started and drilled by L. E. Scherck and E. M. Wahlmann, both of San Angelo, the rotary drilling contractor on the Cactus Drilling Company - was the project.

Argo Owns Big Slice
Argo Corporation of Midland assisted in the financing of the wildcat. That concern has acquired Wahlmann's interest in No. 1 Nasworthy and it now owns a three-quarter interest in the well.

Scherck has a one-eighth interest and Cactus Drilling Corporation owns the other one-eighth interest in No. 1 Nasworthy.

No New Tests Planned
The well will be carried through completion with Scherck and Wahlmann as the operators. Any future development in that region will be handled by Argo Oil Corporation as the operator.

No plans for any further activity in the areas adjacent to No. 1 Nasworthy have been announced up to now.

Vain Vigil Kept For First Talk By 'Candidate' Adlai

CHICAGO —(AP)—A small crowd which expected to see Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson make his first public appearance as a presidential candidate was disappointed early Friday.

About 150 men and women gathered in the Democratic convention's night session adjourned about 3 a. m. (Midland time).

An plan had been worked out for an appearance by Stevenson as soon as the nomination balloting concluded. He was to walk from the town house of an administrative assistant.

William McCormick Blair, of the adjacent residence of Blair's grandmother, Mrs. Louise de Koven Bowen.

He was expected to speak from the porch. Microphones were placed there. Television and newscast cameras were set up in the courtyard near the foot of the steps.

They were still there when the convention session was halted. Reporters, photographers and the more durable spectators were still around.

Shortly after 3 a. m. the governor's press secretary, William Flanagan, emerged from the Blair house.

"Where's the governor?" he was asked.

"He's in bed," Flanagan replied. "He went upstairs about a half hour ago. He's lying in bed reading."

Flanagan was asked if Stevenson had anything to do with the sudden adjournment which delayed nomination voting until Friday's session.

"No," Flanagan replied. "He also said the governor had not been in contact with the convention hall Thursday night. But he did see much of the session on TV."

The governor's staff, of course, had not billed the appearance as one by a nominee. But the folks who turned out to see it just assumed he would appear in that role.

The governor's name was placed in nomination Thursday. His comment on that was:

"I had hoped they would not nominate me but I am deeply affected by this expression of confidence and good will."

The plant formerly was owned by the Jacques Steel Company of Denison. The Smiths bought it from the JSC last May and put it into operation only a month ago.

Trellis Mae Survives Latest Civil War, Marathon Bedlam

Editor's note: Trellis Mae Peelle, America's most average housewife, is a casualty of the most exciting session of the national donkey senate. She tells about it in the following letter to her husband.

By HAL BOYLE
CHICAGO —(AP)— Dear Wilbur, There is only one thing to be done with the 31st National Democratic Convention.

It ought to be stuffed—delegates and all—then covered with wax and put on permanent exhibit in the American Museum of Natural History. Otherwise posterity never will believe it really existed.

I guess I should have stood in bedlam Thursday. And that is what I did do, dear darling, for some 14 mad nightmare hours while the donkey delegates brayed for 11 leaders—including shy Adlai ("We are madly for Adlai") Stevenson—then tried to kick each other to pieces.

Well, Wilbur, the delegates began nominating every Democrat for the presidency who had contributed to the last election. They even sort of put up Harry S. Truman, just to surprise him. And then they pulled his name back real fast—no point in carrying a surplus too far.

A doting elderly delegate from Nebraska rose to his feet and said: "I nominate Williams Jennings Bryan. They shall not press down upon the brow of labor this crown of—"

Somebody shook him fully awake then, showed him a calendar and he subsided.

But instead of saddling Stevenson with the unwanted burden his enemies say he impatiently has been waiting for, the delegates went back to their favorite sport—fighting the Civil War all over.

They started voting to throw Virginia out of the convention but when they found they had enough votes to do it, they got scared and started voting against the idea. After deciding to keep Virginia, they started to throw away South Carolina and Louisiana.

Wilbur, it was just like your relatives at a family reunion—everybody screaming and nobody listening. Then, in the midst of a flaming speech by Gov. Jimmy Byrnes, a nearby newspaper caught fire. Nobody got excited at all until some fellow began screaming into a microphone: "Don't get panicky! Don't get panicky!"

Everybody got excited. The firemen came then. They didn't have so much trouble putting out the blaze as they did pushing back some Michigan Democrats who were huffing and puffing like mad trying to spread the flames and set fire to the South Carolina delegates, thus hoping to save further voting.

Your Wife,
Trellis Mae.

P. S. My womanly intuition says: Adlai on the first ballot.

Schuman Plan Gets Underway; Capital Still Undetermined

PARIS —(AP)—The six Schuman Plan foreign ministers Friday put Western Europe's steel-coal pool into motion but failed to agree on a capital for their unprecedented experiment in economic unity.

Biting almost continuously from 4 a. m. Thursday to 5 a. m. Friday, the ministers agreed that some of the six-nation economic union's institutions will start operations August 10 in temporary quarters in Luxembourg, the capital of the Grand Duchy.

The joint assembly, or legislative branch, will begin work a month later, September 10, at Strasbourg, France, in the chambers of the Council of Europe's Consultative Assembly.

In their hours of sometimes bitter wrangling, the ministers temporarily shelved French and Italian proposals to "Europeanize" the Saar Valley as a permanent home for the plan and use Strasbourg as a provisional capital until the Saar could be internationalized.

This was put aside after France and Germany agreed to direct talks on the Saar's status, long an issue between the two neighbors.

The six ministers agreed on persons to fill the high authority, executive arm of the plan, and the court to settle disputes, but withheld official announcements for the time being. Some acceptances still are being awaited.

Tribe Dumps Rockets, 4-3; Meets Vernon Saturday

Ten Snuffs Rocket Rally In Ninth To Register 12th Win

With the sixth annual all-star game slated to get underway in San Angelo Friday night, the Midland Indians, along with the rest of the Longhorn League, were idle. However, the Tribe will swing back into action in a big way Saturday night when they are hosts to the Vernon Dusters for a twin bill, starting at 7 p.m.

Elected to do the mound chores for Midland Saturday night are Rookie Righthander Herb Dwire (3-4) and Ace Keith Nicolls (17-7).

In Thursday night's action, Israel Ten faced rocky going but managed to smooth out the rough spots to hurl the Tribe to a slim, 4-3 win over the Roswell Rockets for a sweep of their two-game set.

Trailing by two runs going into the ninth frame, the Rockets threatened to salvage the contest when their leadoff batter, Bobby Lemmel, slammed a hard single to right field which got through Midland outfielder Pat O'Keefe for a two-base error, with Lemmel taking third on the miscue.

Rocket Center Fielder Bob West, who collected three hits in five trips for the night, drove a long fly ball to center field, scoring Lemmel.

However, Ten tightened down, hurling his blazing fast ball past two Rocket batters for his eighth and ninth strikeouts of the night to end the game.

Taking an early lead in the game, the Tribe scored a lone run in the first inning when Gahlen Dinkel walked, advanced to third on Manuel Temes' single and scored on a wild pitch by M. Ralat, the starting and losing hurler for Roswell.

However the Rockets went out in front in the fifth inning by tallying twice on Al Grantham's double, and singles by Wayne Crawford and Frank Calo.

Midland surged back to wrap the contest up in the bottom of the fifth by recording three runs in this fashion:

Earl Bossenberry led off with a single and was advanced to second on a perfect drag bunt by Dinkel. Manuel Temes singled, scoring Bossenberry. The Midland second baseman then stole second and Pat O'Keefe walked, placing men on first and second.

Julio de la Torre slapped a solid double off the left field wall, scoring both runners, and that was the ball game.

Four Midland hitters collected all of Midland's safeties for the night. Bossenberry collected three for five, Temes three for four, De la Torre two for four and Scooter Hughes two for four.

Roswell's shortstop, Stubby Greer, was thumbed out of the game in the sixth inning after a vigorous protest of a play at second base.

Giants Launch 'Big Push' In Second Win Over Cards; Tribe Dumps Yankees

Oilers Drop Twin Bill To Duster Nine

VERNON — (AP) — Vernon's revamped Dusters captured a twin bill from the league-leading Odessa Oilers here Thursday night to sweep a three-game, two-day series. The Dusters took the first game, 6-1, and captured the finale, 8-0.

Good pitching combined with offensive slugging brought about the captured double bill—a combination hard to beat.

Lefty Wallis went the distance in besting the offering of Wes Ortiz and Carlos Perez in the first game, giving up but five Oiler hits.

Steve Lagomarsino hurled magnificent, two-hit ball in the afterpiece in going the distance against Carlos Villarreal.

Ed Bucynski rapped out a solo circuit smash in the third inning of the first game after Manager Bob Martin had singled across Roberto Fabian in the first inning to give the Oilers their only run.

A four run outburst by the Dusters in the fourth inning did the trick. John Reimold hit a triple after two were down and Joe Niedson was passed intentionally. Reimold and Niedson pulled the double steal with the Vernon first sacker scoring the leading run. Wallis was passed and Pope Carreras got a triple down the first base line, scoring the Duster battery. Carreras scored on Bucynski's single down the third base line.

STRIKEOUT ARTIST—Rangi Jim Owens, strikeout artist for the Midland Pony League All-Stars, holds a mound conference with his battery mate, Dennis Patton, in a practice session. Owens struck out 14 Odessa batters Thursday to pace the Midland nine to an 8-1 win.

Owens Hurls Pony Leaguers To Win

ODESSA—Behind the powerful pitching of tall, lanky Righthander Jim Owens, the Midland Pony League All-Star dumped an Odessa Pony League All-Star nine, 8-1, here Thursday afternoon in the first game of a three-game set.

The six-foot, one and one-half inch Midlander literally mowed the Odessans down as he sent 14 of the 18 men to face him to the dugout via the strikeout route.

Not until the sixth inning were the Odessans able to tally their lone marker. It came on a combination of a single, a base on balls and a Midland error.

Meanwhile the Midland Pony Leaguers lost little time in running up markers on the score board as they tallied twice in the first frame, twice in the second and twice in the third. Their final two markers were added in the seventh inning.

Howard paced the Midland nine at the plate, cracking out three safeties in four times up. Pitcher Owens also turned in a creditable performance at bat, collecting two of his team's six hits.

Johnson led the losers at bat, lashing out two hits in four trips.

The two teams play the second game at Borden Field in Midland at 5 p.m. Friday. If a third game is necessary, the managers of the two teams will flip a coin to determine where it will be played.

To the winner of the three-game set will go a chance to enter State Pony League competition August 2 at Austin.

SATCH TOUGH TO CATCH
ST. LOUIS, MO. —(AP)—Satchel Paige is the toughest pitcher to catch according to Darrell Johnson, the Browns' rookie receiver. "Satch is tough," claims Johnson "because he fools around out there so much. A catcher gives him a signal, he fiddles around, takes his time, gives it a howdy-do and by the time he actually pitches, Satch has forgotten what the catcher signalled."

Braves Beat Broncs 8-7 As New Manager, Morris, Makes Debut

SWEETWATER —(AP)—The Sweetwater Braves made Johnny Morris' managerial debut a successful one here Thursday night by scoring two runs in the bottom of the ninth for an 8-7 victory over the Big Spring Broncs.

The lead changed hands five times in the see-saw battle after the Broncs had scored three unearned runs in the first inning. Warren Sliter, who batted in four of the Sweetwater runs, drove in Luis Suarez with a single for the winning tally in the ninth.

Two errors and a triple by Juan Visteur gave the Broncs a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Sweetwater moved ahead, 4-3, in the fourth on a walk by Charley Buck, singles by Charley Tuttle and Sliter, a double by Tony Trauspusto, and Kenny Hughes' two-run single.

The Braves made it 5-4 in the fifth on two singles, a wild pitch and Bert Baer's two run single.

Ara the New York Giants starting their big push?

Two straight over the red-hot St. Louis Cardinals while Brooklyn split four with their "cousins" from Cincinnati has revived pennant talk at the Polo Grounds.

Not that they ever gave up. But the sight of the Dodgers vanishing into the distance with no sign of help from the Reds, Braves and Pirates was enough to discourage the struggling Giants.

Still six and one-half games behind the Brooklyn, the Giants can draw new hope from the performance of Max Lanier, the ex-Cardinal. A sad disappointment in early Spring, Lanier appears to be rounding into his old, hot weather form. At least he has the weather running his way.

Four Out Of Five
Lanier's six-inning against his old St. Louis mates Thursday for a 9-5 decision was his fourth win in his last five games. The 36-year-old loser Harry Brecheen and three times he faced the Cards.

Bobby Thomson, Dave Williams, Sal Yvars and Jim Rhodes hit home runs in the Giants' 11-hit attack on laser Harry Brecheen, all three others.

The Giants almost made up more ground but Brooklyn came back to shade Cincinnati, 2-1, on Duke Snider's eleventh-inning homer after the Reds had won the first half of a doubleheader, 3-2.

Snider's smash was the 100th homer of his big league career. It came off Frank Smith who took up the pitching job after Ewell Blackwell was lifted for a pinch hitter in the tenth.

Bubba Church, the ex-Phil who had yielded the Dodgers 49 runs in 46 innings since the start of the 1951 season, shut them out until the seventh inning of the opener.

Ed Mathews, a top candidate for National League "rookie of the year," hit his sixteenth homer and later scored on Walker Cooper's double in Boston's 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Sid Gordon also homered for the Braves off Loser Turk Lown. The Cubs had 13 hits off Jim Wilson and Lew Burdette.

The Phillies and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Yankees Slowed Down
Talk of a New York Yankee run-away in the American faded as Cleveland handed Tom Morgan a 4-2 loss in his last ball game before joining the Army. The win squared the series between the two contenders, leaving the fourth-place Tribe five and one-half games back of the Yanks and only one percentage point behind third-place Washington.

Mike Garcia registered his fourteenth win and third over the Yanks with a seven-hitter. He had a shut-out until the sixth, when Yogi Berra's twenty-first homer tied the score.

With a chance to gain on the Yanks, both the runnerup Boston Red Sox and Washington fell down. Boston was shut out by Chicago's Lou Kretlow, 3-0, winning his first game of the season. Kretlow, the fellow who hits that long golf ball, allowed only two hits and struck out nine. Sam White doubled in the second and Fay Throneberry beat out a bunt in the third for the only hits.

Walt Droppa continued his long distance hitting for Detroit with a two-run, tie-breaking homer in the eighth inning for a 4-2 edge over Washington. Bill Wright was the winner.

The St. Louis Browns ended their seven-game losing streak with a 4-3 win over the Philadelphia A's on Bobby Young's sixth-inning homer. Wildness kept Ned Garver in trouble throughout the game but he survived for his sixth victory. Sam Zolask suffered his fifth straight loss.

Colts Fight Back To Edge Drillers

SAN ANGELO —(AP)—Coming from behind the second night in a row, the San Angelo Colts edged the Artesia Drillers here Thursday night, 4 to 3, to run their current win streak to four games.

Another fine relief job, this time by Mario Saldana, enabled the Colts to overcome the powerful Drillers, who jumped into a quick, 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Low Lozano, opening for the Colts, was thumped soundly in the first frame and was relieved by Saldana with two runs across, the bases loaded and only one out.

The little righthander got Jim Accers to hit into a double play to retire the side and then went on to hold the Artesians to six hits and one run the rest of the way.

Glen Burns tied the score at 2-2 in the second with a home run with Jake McClain on first.

After the Drillers again had moved into the lead in the sixth on a walk to Vince Sarubbi, his third of the night, Paul Halter slammed a long triple to score the Artesia second baseman.

The Colts lost little time in getting back this one and another for good measure. Ken Kowalk, coming up in the sixth after Burns' had doubled, slammed a Mike Rodriguez pitch for a home run and a 4-3 Colt lead.

Saldana, though in frequent trouble, protected the margin the rest of the way. It was Saldana's fourth win and Rodriguez's fifth loss against 14 wins.

Cards, Indians To Meet Here Saturday

The rubber game of a three-game set to determine the City League Champion will be played at 5 p.m. Saturday at David Crockett Field, according to John Redfern, commissioner of Midland Junior Baseball.

Originally scheduled Friday, the Little League game was postponed, so as to not interfere with the Midland-Odessa Pony League All-Star series now in progress.

The Little League series now is knotted up since each team in the playoff has won one game. The Cards took the opener in extra innings, 11-9. But the Indians came back the next day to win, also in extra innings, 11 to 10.

Saturday's game will determine this year's city Little League champion, once and for all.

Benefit Twin Bill Honors Don Harrison Here Friday

Friday night at Wadley Softball Field in Midland, four teams will stage a benefit doubleheader for a game sport whose athletic career was cut short just one month ago when one of his legs had to be amputated.

Staging the doubleheader will be Shell Oil Company Softball teams from Midland and Hobbs, N. M., in the opening game, and playing the nightcap will be the Harry Rhodes sponsored Midland Women's softball team and a Peeco Women's team. The contests will start at 7:30 p.m.

The person in whose honor the benefit twin bill will be held is Don Harrison, a player for the Midland Shell team as recently as a month ago.

That was before fate struck Harrison a cruel blow. First he discovered he had tuberculosis in both lungs. Then, before he had recovered from the shock of learning about that illness, infection set in from some unknown cause, in one of his legs, making it necessary to amputate it.

And if that wasn't enough to cause any sport to strike out, this week doctors discovered that he had a blood clot in the vicinity of his heart, blocking off life-saving blood.

Despite all this, with the courage of a true champion, Harrison maintains a reverent attitude toward his misfortune.

Shortly before they were to wheel him to surgery to remove the leg, Harrison told one of his friends, "The good Lord gave me these two legs, and if he wants to take one of them away, that's all right with me."

In still another instance, he wrote his teammates to stay in there, "JayCee Softball League" fighting. Out of admiration and respect for a former teammate who is waging such a gallant fight of his own, the twin bill has been arranged.

It originally had been scheduled some two weeks ago but a heavy downpour of rain washed it out.

This time, members of the Shell Company, who are sponsoring the game, hope it will be played. No admission will be charged for the doubleheader but a hat will be passed among the fans for whatever contributions they wish to make.

And the money collected will be sent to Harrison and his wife to help defray the heavy medical expenses.

Sports fans who are interested in attending the game can go out North Big Spring Street until they reach the Fiesta Theater. Turn right on the blacktop road and travel a mile or so. It leads directly to the softball field.

Olympics Spotlight Switches To U. S. Cagers, Bob Mathias

HELSINKI—(AP)—The tall United States basketball team and Bob Mathias took the center of the Olympic spotlight Friday, temporarily overshadowing the record-breakers of the regular track and field program.

America's two-platoon basketball squad opened its defense of the title the United States always had won since the sport was added to the Olympic program, by whipping Hungary, 66 to 48, with an unimpressive performance.

Mathias, defending champion in the decathlon who set a new world record for the 10 events in winning the American tryouts, scored 1,729 points in the first two events.

That left Mathias at that stage, 10 points behind Milton Campbell, the Plainfield, N. J., schoolboy, but the handsome Tulare, Calif., athlete held the favorite's role.

Campbell scored 1,028 points in the 100-meter dash, in which he turned in the fastest time, 10.7 seconds. He added 707 more in the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet 1.35 inches.

Mathias ran the 100 in 10.9 for 946 points and broad jumped 22 feet 10.80 inches to score 779 more.

This left him well behind the pace he set in the tryouts, where he rolled up the record total of 7,825 points.

At the same stage in the trials, Mathias had 1,821 points.

Carlos Vera of Chile held third place with 1,544 points.

Cage Outfit, "Rusty" Basketball Coach Warren Womble characterized his team as "awfully rusty" in its first appearance but big Clyde Lovellette, who was held to nine points, called it "lousy."

Argentina's speedy team looked very good in the opening game as it whipped the Philippines, 85 to 59.

The United States advanced to the second round in the fencing team competition, winning eight bouts in the first round and edging out Russia, 29-31 on hits, in its pool. Russia also qualified for the next round.

The water polo competition also began with Egypt, Hungary, Germany and Yugoslavia scoring easy victories in early matches.

The main events in track and field were scheduled to resume Friday afternoon and there was every indication the record-breaking pace of the first five days would be continued. In 20 events so far, 18 world or Olympic records have been broken or equaled.

Twelve events remain to be decided before the track and field division of this gigantic sports carnival closes Sunday. Records can be expected in almost all of them.

Marks already have been lowered in two events that are not yet complete. Eight men shattered the 3,000-meter steeplechase record in Wednesday's heats.

Czechs Steal Heat

Russian Bruno Jack bettered the 10,000-meter walk mark in the heat Thursday.

But the stars of the show were the record smashing Zoltoks of Czechoslovakia. Emil holding clumby-looking Czech Army officer, ran the fifth fastest 5,000 meters in history, reducing the Olympic standard to 14:06.

His attractive wife Dana, tossed the javelin 50.47 meters, 148 feet 7.05 inches, for a record in her division. It was the first time a husband and wife had received gold medals on the same day.

All the other track and field finals Friday also ended in records.

Harrison Dillard, who almost retired two years ago, won his specialty, the 110-meter hurdles in 13.7 seconds. This lowered the previous mark, set in 1948 when Dillard failed to qualify as a hurdler, by two-thirds of a second. Dillard is the first man to win both the hurdles and the 100-meter dash in the Olympics. He took the dash four years ago.

Joseph Csernak, Hungarian, smashed the world and Olympic records in the hammer throw with a toss of 197 feet 11.67 inches and Shirley Strickland, Australian, won the women's 80-meter hurdles in world record clocking of 1:09 seconds.

Russians Hold Lead

Although Jack Davis of Glendale, Calif., and Arthur Bernard of Long Beach, Calif., finished second and third back of Dillard for the United States' third grand slam, the Americans lost ground to the Russians in the total point score.

Going into Friday's sixth day of competition, the Soviets had piled up 323 1/2 points to 221 by the United States. Russia's big point getters have been its men and women gymnasts. Hungary was a distant third with 87 points followed by Sweden with 67 1/2, Switzerland with 58 and Czechoslovakia with 56 1/2.

Standard Of Texas, Humble Notch Softball Victories

In the opening game of a JayCee softball twin bill at Wadley Park Thursday night, the League Leading Standard of Texas crew, behind the three-hit pitching of ace Hurley Milt Montgomery, romped roughed over an inept Shell nine, 23 to 1.

In the nightcap, a Humble crew defeated Phillips, 5-1.

In posting his ninth win against no defeats in the opener, the Standard of Texas right-hander never was in serious trouble as his teammates backed up his three-hit pitching with a 16-hit attack against Shell.

In the nightcap, Humble, though out hit 5-5 by Phillips, managed to get its base knocks in clusters to run up the record of win.

Leland Huffman paced the Humble stickmen, pounding out a double and triple for the night.

Two make-up games are scheduled in the JayCee League Saturday, starting at 7:45 p.m. The first contest will pit Rensdevous against Western Plastic while the second encounter will see Humble take on the Independents.

Matthews Doesn't Have To Train, Says Skipper Hurley

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jack Hurley, the old fight huckster from out West, has been having the time of his life upsetting a lot of big city dudes who thought they had at least a nodding acquaintance with all the angles.

"Ever since he hit this humid town with his gladiator, Harry Matthews, Hurley has flatly refused to conform to any of the recognized rules, with the result that some of those who must try to pick the winner of Matthews' scrap with Rocky Marciano on Monday night have developed serious cases of the jumps.

The iconoclast from the potato belt hasn't permitted his boy to train a lick, really for several days of the last week Matthews didn't go near the muscle parlor where he shows his gear. When he did show up it was only to play patty-cake briefly with his lone spar mate, a large negro named Keene Simmons. He didn't try to cloud Simmons.

"Harry doesn't need to train," his manager explained "obviously glad that someone had asked him."

"He had gone all the training he needed before we got here. Besides, it's been too long since he's been in the ring."

No Trainer, No Rubber

Hurley, who has been battling the International Boxing Club bare-knuckled for several years, refusing to join the big, happy monopoly, proudly declined the IBC's offer to set Matthews up in a cool sylvan training camp. He chose, instead, a sun-drenched gym, three third flights up. An observer, just looking around, commented that Harry didn't seem to have a trainer, or even a rubber.

"It's his trainer," Hurley snorted, "that is what training he needs. And what does he want with a rubber? Only ones need rubbers are bum fighters, or fighters who get thrown in with tough men and need to have the soreness rubbed out of them next day. I told Harry I'd see to it that he didn't have that kind of fight."

Hurley has been trying to line up a championship bout for Matthews next Fall against Jersey Joe Walcott. He says it should be held out in Boise, Idaho, and he doesn't want the IBC to have a finger in the promotion. The fact that the IBC has an exclusive contract on Walcott's services is a minor detail.

"If the potato crop is good it would draw over a million," he insists.

Sharp Cotton Export Reduction Forecast

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department Friday forecast a rather sharp reduction in United States cotton exports in the 1952-53 crop year.

It predicted exports of the period Aug. 1, 1952 to July 31, 1953, will range between four million and 4,800,000 bales compared with estimated exports of 5,800,000 bales during the current season.

Al Besselink Sets Pattern At Sioux City

SIoux CITY, IOWA—(AP)—Al Besselink, a friendly curly-haired blond, may be on his way to picking up some big money along professional golf's tournament trail.

The big fellow, making his first full-year swing over the PGA route, went into the second round of the $18,000 Sioux City Open Friday with a two-stroke lead over his nearest foe. He got there with a 65, seven under par, for the 6,500-yard Elmwood Course.

Besselink, who registers from Escondido, Calif., because the Chicago company for whom he worked moved west, said "I was lucky to get that 65." But PGA officials aren't so sure.

Trouble Ahead

One said the 28-year-old Merchantville, N. J., native has been "a threat in tournaments all season. One of these times he's going to break through." If he does he'll take a $2,400 first place prize away from here, perhaps to Escondido, a place he admits he never has seen.

But there is plenty of trouble ahead for Al in this 72-hole test. Right behind him with 67s were Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., who is the sixth best moneymaker among the professionals this season, and Iverson Martin of Maplewood, N. J.

Stretched back of the first three were some of the best shooters in the business, all eager to overtake the pacesetter. There was a group of five with 68s—Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore.; Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas; Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif.; Tommy Bolt, Durham, N. C.; and Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans.

Fabulous Sergeant Stumbles At Dallas

DALLAS—(AP)—For the average, skeet shooter three misses in 100 targets is all right. But for Sgt. Glenn Van Buren that's a virtual collapse.

The star from Caravel Air Force Base, three times national all-gauge champion, missed more birds Thursday in the first 100 rounds of the 1952 championship than he had missed in the four previous years.

Van Buren dropped only two birds in 1,000 targets in those four years.

The failure of Van Buren to hit a perfect score turned the title race into a free-for-all. Twenty-seven shooters registered 100 x 100 among them such topflighters as Mickey Michaelis of Galveston, John Garrison of Joplin, Mo., Frank Dublin of Jacksonville, Texas, Charles Pulton of San Antonio and Herman Ehler of Dallas.

Van Buren had a long pull ahead as the all-gauge enters its second round of 100 Friday. The final 50 rounds will be fired Saturday.

Others who fired perfect 100 x 100 Thursday included M. Sgt. Forest T. Barnes, Bergstrom AFB, Austin; L. S. Amburgey, Odessa; C. A. McDowell, Jr., Shreveport, La.; and K. C. Miller, Tyler.

Although the championships — of all-gauge-race was wide open, the high-over-all titlists in several divisions seemed almost a cinch. High-over-all is figured on the basis of the best composite score with all four skeet guns.

Four-Day Leaders

The four days leaders—with 150 all-gauge rounds yet remaining — were:

Junior—Jimmy Clark Bartlesville, Okla., 389 x 400 only one bird behind the open high-over-all leaders, and David White of Tulsa, Okla., 381 x 400.

Industry—J. P. Stoots Abilene, 391 x 400 and Fred Misalidine, Sea Island, Ga., 389 x 400.

Women's—Mrs. I. S. Amburgey, Odessa, 364 x 400, and Nancy Burrus, Dallas, 365 x 400.

Senior—Joseph M. George, 367 x 400 and Dr. C. H. Metcalfe, 367 x 400 both of Sudlersville, Md.

Open event — Lewis Gordon of Texarkana, Ark., and Tommy Spicola, III, of Tampa, Fla., tied with 390 x 400 each; and Grant Haeng of Houston, and Jimmy Clark of Bartlesville, Okla., tied for third, with 389 x 400 each.

The Western Open championship open to all shooters but generally contested by representatives from towns west of the Mississippi River, was shot Thursday but no winner was determined. Seventeen perfect scores were recorded, but shootoffs cut the field to four before darkness forced a postponement. Still in contention were Ehler, Dublin, Cady and Griswold.

Japanese, Yankee Netters Open Davis Cup Preliminaries

CINCINNATI—(AP)—The long, hard road that leads toward victory in the famed Davis Cup tennis matches opened here Friday for Japan and the United States.

The one-time opponents in a serious shooting war faced each other across a tennis net at the Cincinnati Tennis Club in the first two singles matches of the Davis Cup competition. Play was to begin at 2 p.m.

Jiro Kumamaru, Japan's No. 1 player, was to face Dick Larsen, the unpredictable Sam Leandro, Calif., star in the opening singles match while Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, America's No. 1 player, was paired against Atsushi Migay, 20-year-old "freshman." The order will be reversed in the remaining two singles duels Sunday.

The doubles match will be played Saturday.

927 Texas Football Squads Line Up For 1952 Campaign

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Editor

Five weeks hence the biggest football campaign in Texas history rolls open.

The quality is only problematical but the quantity is certain—there will be more teams than ever before.

Twenty-six senior colleges will play the game. Eighteen junior colleges will field teams. High school gridiron outfits will number 882.

There is no increase in senior colleges over last year — the number remains the same. But one more junior college will be in the swim.

And one junior college conference has branched out to take in teams from three states. This is the Big Six, a misnomer because it really has only five teams. Kilgore, Paris and Tyler in Texas, Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma and Little Rock Junior College of Arkansas form this conference.

It is an important league — it produces a Little Rose Bowl team almost every year.

The Glamor Boys

Texas has six teams in the South-west Conference, the glamor boys of football in this area. They are Baylor, Texas A&M, Rice, Texas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian.

There will be the same five teams in the Texas Conference — McMurry, Abilene Christian, Texas A&I, Austin College and Howard Payne.

The Lone Star Conference also has the same make-up: Southwest Texas State, Sam Houston State, Sul Ross, East Texas State, Stephen F. Austin and Lamar Tech.

University of Houston is in the Missouri Valley Conference.

Midwestern, North Texas State and Trinity University make up the Gulf Coast Conference.

West Texas State, Hardin-Simmons, Texas Tech and Texas Western are in the Border Conference.

The only independent college left is Texas Lutheran. It actually is a member of the Big Six Conference but that circuit does not have football.

In Junior College

In Junior college football there are four conferences, counting the Big Six. The Pioneer Conference has San Angelo, Schreiner Institute,

From Harold Ratliff, sports editor of The Associated Press, comes the following general report on baseball in Texas. Says Ratliff:

"The baseball season in Texas has only six weeks to go. It appears the 34 clubs that started the campaign all will finish, although several are having to struggle. Not many of the clubs are making money.

"Realignment is being talked everywhere. The Gulf Coast League looks like it might break up with Lake Charles, Port Arthur and Galveston entering the Evangeline League. Texas City doesn't appear to have the attendance necessary to continue further in class B baseball.

"Dick Burnett, the Dallas club owner who operates Longview in the Big State League, anticipates a heavy loss there. Even the Texas League is having its trouble. Beaumont isn't drawing enough fans to pay the bills.

"Clevis, they say, is losing money although leading the West Texas-New Mexico League.

"And so on. It's a wonder some club hasn't already dropped out of one of the seven leagues that have teams in Texas. But they all should be able to make it now. The Sooner State League, of which Sherman is a member, closes out first—September 3.

"The Texas League, Big State League and Arizona-Texas League end September 7, except for the playoffs. The Longhorn League closes September 8, and West Texas-New Mexico League September 10 and the Gulf Coast League, September 11.

"But look for a number of new clubs in Texas baseball next year; also look for fewer clubs."

Midland Sports fans will be in for a heavy program of events over the weekend here.

Friday afternoon, the Midland Pony League All-Star will battle the Odessa Pony Leaguers. Friday night, a benefit softball twin bill is scheduled for Wadley Park, the district TAAF boxing tournament, in which two Midland fighters are entered, will be held at Oiler Park in Odessa, and the sixth annual Longhorn League All-Star Game will be played in San Angelo.

Saturday the Midland Little Leaguers will wind up their series for the city championship and the Midland Indians will engage the Vernon Dusters in a twin bill here. Sunday, the Midland JayCee semi-pro nine will tangle with the Midland Colt nine here.

And to give Sports fans complete coverage of happenings around here, staff members of The Reporter-Telegram will cover most of the more important events.

Bench Jockey will travel to San Angelo to witness the All-Star game. Cope Routh will cover the Odessa boxing tournament and Harold Whittington and Bob Moore, staff writers, will help out on the coverage of baseball and softball games.

A word about the boxing tournament in Odessa. No reserved seats have been sold so fans will be admitted on a first come, first served basis, making it possible for most everyone to get a good seat.

Admission will be 60 cents for children and $1.30 for adults.

Europeans Favor Ike, Hope He Moves Into White House

PARIS—(NEA)—There is widespread belief in Europe today that Dwight D. Eisenhower will be the next President of the United States. And that belief, according to American diplomats in France, may speed up ratification by the NATO parliaments of the European army treaty and the "peace contract" between West Germany and the Allies.

Ike's candidacy is receiving universal approval in the hard-pressed NATO countries. To the common European his nomination spells good will on the part of the U. S.

The fear of American isolationism had disturbed staunch supporters of the U. S. Now even German social democrats—without whose support Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will find it difficult to get the Bonn Parliament to ratify the treaties—seem to be relaxing in their opposition to a European army.

Respect (and even admiration) for Eisenhower was recently expressed by Kurt Schumacher, leader of the powerful social democratic opposition in Bonn, in an interview with NEA Service.

The ailing socialist leader, who is slowly recovering from a long illness, said he feels that with Eisenhower in the White House the U. S. would be likely to adopt "a more positive and forceful foreign policy."

However, Schumacher and his supporters still cling to the argument—strongly denied by Chancellor Adenauer—that ratification of the treaties would make reunification of Germany more difficult. They believe that the Big Four—the U. S., Russia, Britain and France—should get together without delay to discuss German unity through free elections in all zones.

But so strong is the Eisenhower sentiment that the die-hard German social democrats are now also taking a more optimistic view of the West's ability to defend itself against Soviet aggression.

Eisenhower was once hated in Germany as a conqueror. But he gained favor with the German people because he was among the first American statesmen to advocate equality for the Germans and because of his pronounced "pro-European" attitude.

In France and Italy "Le general Ike" has long been the most popular American. He has endeared himself to the common Frenchman and Italian—and Briton—because of his dogged championship of European unity.

During the months that Eisenhower commanded the NATO armies in Europe he seldom lost an opportunity to preach continental unity as the only dependable basis on which to build a lasting peace and European prosperity.

Even the French who were recently shocked by Ike's statement that France is "disintegrating" are willing to forgive and forget. Only the Communist Humanite, Moscow's mouthpiece in Paris, struck

Requests Pile Up For Birth Records

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Department of Health, swamped with requests for copies of birth records, warned residents planning trips abroad to apply for certificates three weeks in advance of procuring passports.

An average of 1,600 requests for certificates has been coming into the bureau weekly. The demand is so heavy it sometimes takes two to three weeks to issue certificates.

Modern public libraries supported by taxes were scarcely known in the United States before 1850.

Midland Repeats As Winner In WTCC Citizenship Event

Midland has repeated as winner of Group Two in the second phase of a "fundamentals of citizenship" contest sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Competition was between 12 West Texas communities in percentage of county population attending conventions.

In the initial phase of the three-phase contest which will end in November, Midland led competition in all of the groups in county percentage paying poll taxes. Midland's percentage of population paying poll taxes was 46.9 per cent.

Third phase of the contest will be based upon the total number of individuals voting in the July 26th and August 23rd primaries as compared to the total county population.

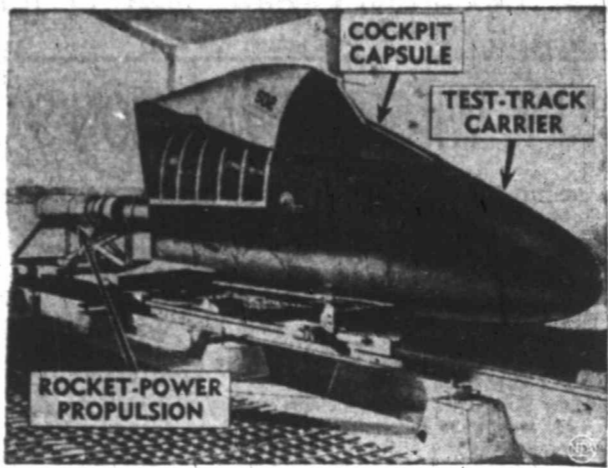

James F. Melton, manager of the taxation and legislation department of the WTCC, is handling arrangements for the contest.

Prizes will include wall plaques for the winner in each category, and a trophy for category winners will be passed on to winners from year to year.

Supersonic Safety In Capsule

These pictures illustrate the workings of a remarkable new method of pilot-escape from supersonic jet planes at high altitudes. They were taken during recent tests on a special track at the Naval Ordnance Test Station at El Segundo, Calif. Briefly, the device consists of a sealed cockpit capsule, containing the pilot, which is ejected from the plane during an emergency. It was tested at more than 700 miles an hour on the test carrier pictured above. The carrier is propelled over a 10,000-foot test track by rocket power. The capsule is ejected from it as it would be from a plane. Sequence pictures below show (top) the capsule-carrier speeding down test track. Then (center) capsule is ejected and a fin apparatus opens to give it stable flight. Parachutes (bottom) are released to slow down the capsule. Capsule is sealed and pressurized against adverse atmospheric conditions, floats on water and is insulated against cold weather.

U. S. Asks Russia To Effect Better Treatment Of POW's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States has appealed to Russia to ask the Chinese and North Korean Communists to provide better treatment for United Nations prisoners of war in Korea.

The appeal, sent also to the International Red Cross, was announced by the State Department Thursday in advance of the opening at Toronto Monday of a world-wide Red Cross conference at which the various Communist regimes will be represented.

The timing was regarded here as significant.

First, if there is any real hope of success in this field, now may be the best time for trying.

Second, the appeal is a good propaganda maneuver to offset an expected Red attempt to use the Red Cross meeting as a forum for attacks on the United States and its allies.

The plea to the Russians to use their influence with the North Korean and Chinese Communist authorities to get them to carry out the Geneva Convention for treatment of prisoners of war was delivered in Moscow Wednesday by Ambassador George F. Kennan. A similar request was presented about the same time to the International Committee of the Red Cross at Geneva, though both the Chinese and Korean notes to Russia said that their Red had promised to abide by the 1949 convention, neither had done so. It cited three examples of failure to make good on the pledges. The U. S. said the Reds have:

1. Never permitted "inspection of prisoner of war camps by an impartial international body."
 2. Failed to provide for delivery of relief parcels to prisoners.
 3. Placed "prisoner of war camps . . . in areas in proximity to military objectives, exposing the prisoners to danger of attack."
- By contrast, the American note to the Kremlin said, the UN Command "has consistently abided by the provisions of the Geneva Convention."

Officers Nab Trio In Dramatic Chase After Waco Robbery

WACO—(AP)—Police and sheriff's deputies captured three of four bandit suspects Friday after a dramatic chase punctuated by gunfire.

A civilian and two enlisted men from Fort Hood were taken in a field. A fourth man escaped.

Officers believed the capture may clear up a series of robberies.

It was shortly after 2 a.m. when a motorist saw four men apparently looting a service station with the lone attendant tied up.

The motorist called police.

The quartet fled in a stolen car but lost time in a dead-end street. Officers caught up with them and exchanged gunfire with the bandits until the quartet wrecked the car.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON Dog Editor

The train to the city was ten minutes late. The conductor put his hand on my shoulder and confided, "I've a problem I want your advice about—I'll be back in a few minutes."

"It's about tulips," he said, when he returned.

"Tulips!" I repeated, "what's all that got to do with dogs?"

"It's dogs as has dug them up," he went on, "every danged one of them and they were all planted with a mixture of fish and bone meal in each hole."

He had certainly presented a difficult problem. Either bone meal or fishmeal are very attractive to dogs.

and it is natural to expect that any healthy dog would be inclined to start his explorations after the last frost in a spot so filled with hidden treasure.

There is no surface method which will keep all dogs from digging in a garden, but there are several things that can be tried and usually one of them will help.

In the first place, it is well to start a gardening project by planning the protection for it. If fencing is possible, it should be done.

A fence is a very valuable and satisfying part of a piece of real estate, whether designed to completely surround a property either to keep dogs out or in, or laid out to protect certain choice sections. An attractive and practical fence will pay large dividends in many ways.

If fencing isn't practical, a piece of chicken wire can be laid over a flower bed. This will not only prevent dogs from digging but will hold leaves over a bed for better wintering. In fact, bulb gardens will grow right through two-inch mesh wire.

Several commercial products are manufactured to keep dogs away. They work well sometimes. Incidentally, a generous sprinkling of red pepper will keep a dog away.

If you can be around when a culprit may start digging exercise at your expense, the garden sprayer will help to train the dog to keep away.

For this to be effective, you should be able to turn it on without the dog knowing you're around. Then he will suspect that the thing might start even without your presence.

Looking the conductor straight in the eye, I told him, "Give these ideas a try anyway and by the time you've used them all, your last tulip will be in bloom."

Scientists Propose Alaskan Exploration

PASADENA, CALIF.—(AP)—Three mountain-climbing scientists from California Institute of Technology plan a dual-purpose assault this month on the Brooks Range in Alaska.

Making the trip are Professors Gunnar Bergman, Alfred Tissieres and G. W. Beadle. They plan a climb up 10,000-foot Mt. Doornak, about 100 miles north of the Arctic Circle.

They'll take observations of spruce plantings above timberline made in 1939 by Robert Marshall, a pioneer mountain-climber. The three will also make corrections in current Air Force and Geological survey topographical maps which have been incorrect in important details of the area.

Most plants which grow in meadow land are European imports. The clovers were brought here deliberately, but daisies, buttercups, thistles and others moved over by themselves.

Unique Taxi Service Bids For Bigger Shad Industry

HARRISBURG, Pa.—(AP)—Pennsylvania is trying to win back part of its one-time million-dollar shad industry by offering a unique fish taxi service around three huge power dams.

"Operation shad" is an experiment hatched up by the Pennsylvania Fish Commission to see if the valuable food fish can still live in their old natural spawning grounds—the headwaters of the Susquehanna River.

A hundred years ago the annual spring shad run in the Susquehanna River from the Chesapeake Bay was one of the largest fish migrations in America. Construction of the first dam 40 years ago, ended that.

Living Habit Change
 "We're trying to see if it's possible to make 'Mr. Shad' change his living habits and propagate in the Susquehanna instead of heading again for salt water," said Charles A. French, state fish commissioner.

So far, there have been reports that some of the 4,000 tagged fish used in the experiment already have been found downstream from the dams.

"I don't know how it's possible unless they swim right through the turbine intakes," French said.

If the shad insist on finding their way through or over the dam going downstream, French explained, some way must be found to bring them back up each spring. In that case, there is a possibility the "shad taxis" could be made a permanent operation.

The fish used in the experiment were netted in the Chesapeake, hauled in special tank trucks to a designation upstream from the dam and released. The tank trucks can safely carry only about 20 fish each trip. The shad used ranged in size from 17 to 22 inches and weighed between two-and-one-half and four pounds.

Gordon L. Trembley, chief aquatic biologist for the commission, explained that the taxi system is an extremely delicate operation.

Temperature Must Be Right
 "The temperature of the water where the fish are netted, in the tank trucks and at the destination must all correspond or the fish will die," he said.

The commission is primarily anxious to learn whether the temperatures and water life of the Susquehanna is still acceptable to the shad. The commissionwealth is in the midst of a multi-million dollar clean streams program aimed at ending pollution.

Trembley said the commission, working with fisheries biologists of the U. S. Wildlife Service, will make surveys later this summer among commercial fishermen in the Chesapeake to find out how many of the tagged adult shad survive.

"This will be some barometer of the program," he said.

If the shad taxis prove too expensive or unworkable, the only other way of getting the fish up past the dams is the construction of special fishways—mechanical devices which permit the shad to climb over or around the dams.

Two fishways constructed at the Holtwood Dam prior to 1915 proved unsuccessful. Newer types, such as used for salmon on the Columbia River, may cost more than the shad program is worth, French added.

Invisible Painting Increases Its Uses

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—A 75-year-old inventor in this capital of showmanship has come up with an invisible paint—it takes black light to see it.

John T. (Pop) Shannon, who dabbled in fluorescent lighting effects for Flo Ziegfeld as far back as 1907, is the creator of this new effect. He unveiled it for a gas appliance manufacturer at a recent cooking school. Patrons saw appliances change from their normal white enamel to flowing brilliant-colored hues when the auditorium lights went off and black lights were turned on.

The public knows black light best as the method of making hands of patrons at racetracks, dance halls, fairs and other events instead of using pass-out checks.

Puerto Rico Celebrates Beginning Of Self-Rule

SAN JUAN, PUERTO RICO—(AP)—Puerto Rico joyfully assumed her new role as a self-governing "free commonwealth" associated with the United States Friday—exactly 54 years after American troops landed on the Caribbean island during the Spanish-American War.

Flags of the new commonwealth fluttered over all the island's public buildings at noon, signaling the adoption of the new Constitution under which the 24,000,000 Puerto Ricans will administer their own affairs.

Gov. Luis Munoz Marin, who has been active in pushing the new Constitution since he became Puerto Rico's first elected governor in 1948, hoisted the island's red, white and blue banner over the Capitol Building here. Parades and celebrations were planned in all the island's towns and cities.

July 25 long has been a holiday commemorating the 1898 landing of the Americans, who wrested the island from Spain's 400-year rule. From now on the legal holiday will be known as Constitution Day.

The new Constitution—the latest advance in the U. S. step-by-step program of greater self-rule for the 100-mile-long island—was accepted in a referendum of the people, approved by the American Congress and signed by President Truman.

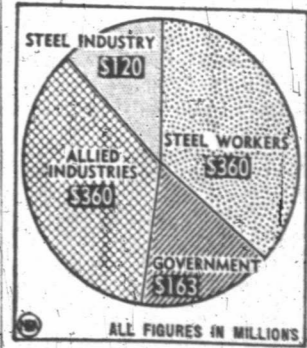

It leaves the way open for Puerto Rico to become a state in the American union later if its people desire.

How Wrong Can He Be? Bezoni Thought He Had Left Politics

Frank Bezoni

By COPE ROUTH

Frank Bezoni, who had won one election race and lost another by the time he was 33 years old, likes to think he is through with politics. That's a laugh!

For Frank Bezoni, a painstaking 44-year-old Midland attorney, is right square in the middle of a political campaign which next Saturday is expected to bring out a record-breaking number of voters.

In fact, if Saturday's Democratic primary election is not his own personal baby, he at least will qualify for the title of nursemaid.

Since last March he personally has been guiding the campaign's pattering little feet.

And his job won't be over until three days after the August 23 second primary election when he hopes to turn over a healthy and bouncing state of hopeful Democratic promises to the proper authorities for the general election.

Serves In Navy

Officially, the former naval intelligence officer who had served as district attorney when he was only 27 years old is the chairman of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee.

It's a thankless job and there is no compensation unless you put a dollar sign on the feeling that comes with having helped the little people pick their officials at an orderly and democratic election.

Nominally it is the entire committee which runs the Democratic primary elections.

But actually, the thousand and one details are left up to the chairman because you can't call the other seven men together every time the ballot-printer wants to know if a candidate's name is spelled right.

The history of the current campaign is marked with little crises which, so far, Bezoni had managed to handle with tact, foresight and a few sleepless nights.

It was made no easier by the continual outcropping of laws spotted in the new election code which was applied this year for the first time.

Bezoni had little chance to get ready for it all.

Bartha Quits Post

He had been a Midland resident for only a little more than two years when W. A. Yeager, a member of the committee, asked him without warning if he would take over the job, succeeding Louis Bartha, who had resigned because of the press of local business.

A native of Union County in southern Arkansas, he had graduated from Arkansas A. and M. College at Monticello, worked for a while as a teller in a bank at El Dorado and then joined the H. L. Hunt Oil Company there.

He later was transferred to Tyler in East Texas and in 1932 he was admitted to the state bar in Texas. He later was admitted to practice in federal courts and before the Supreme Court of the United States.

From 1935 to 1938, he served as district attorney of the 7th Judicial District and in 1940 he lost to Lindley Beckworth in a campaign to win a seat in the U. S. House of Representatives.

In 1947, he entered the Navy, serving in naval intelligence and then as a boat group commander. After being wounded in combat and spending several months in a hospital, he was placed on inactive duty as a lieutenant commander in V-J Day of 1945.

From 1945 until 1950, he practiced law in Florida. In 1950, he visited friends in Midland, liked what he saw of West Texas and decided to settle down here.

Early this year, he consented to become chairman of the county executive committee.

"I had been through two political campaigns," he said, "and thought I knew something about the business."

"But this job has been an education. I've been on the other side of the fence and it's entirely different."

The mechanics of an election are exact.

The timetable set forth by the law must be met or, invariably, someone will squawk and a candidate will find his nomination placed in legal jeopardy.

Clinic-Hospital Adds Dr. Bash To Medical Staff

Dr. Vincent C. Bash, Jr., of Tulsa, Okla., has been added to the medical staff of Western Clinic-Hospital, it was announced Friday by John H. McNeil, business administrator.

Dr. Bash will practice general medicine and surgery at the hospital.

A graduate of Tulsa High School in 1943, Dr. Bash joined the U. S. Navy, receiving three and a half years training at the University of Texas and six months pre-flight training at the University of North Carolina. From 1947 to 1951, he attended the University of Oklahoma Medical School. He received his internship from July, 1951, to July of this year at Hermann Hospital at Houston.

He is married to the former Miss Katie Bea of Lockhart. The couple has two children, Vincent C. III, three, and Terry Michael, two. The family is living at 2408 West Holloway Street.

Dr. Bash is a member of the Phi Chi Medical Fraternity.

Midlanders Support Shivers Delegation

Decision by the National Democratic convention to seat the anti-Truman Texas delegates led by Gov. Allan Shivers instead of Maury Maverick's Liberal candidates met with overwhelming approval in Midland.

In a survey conducted by the Midland Reporter-Telegram, eight out of 11 persons favored the convention's decision.

Those that didn't approve seating the anti-Trumanites are not bitter, however.

For instance, Clem Daughtry, 410 South Fort Worth Street, who favored seating the Liberals, thinks everything is going to work out all right for the Democratic party. He considers the decision to seat the anti-Trumanites a compromise measure and that Democrats will "pull together" after the convention.

Mrs. W. E. McLaughlin, 1400 South Fort Worth Street, believes that both sets of delegates should have reached a compromise and been seated.

"Some of us are still good old hardshell Democrats and seating of the anti-Trumanites sounds like bribery to me," she said.

Mrs. Clifford Matthews, 1002 North Loraine Street, had a logical reason to be glad the anti-Trumanites were seated. "I'm a Republican," she said.

One lady, while favoring seating of the anti-Trumanites, said she had received "more laughs over that silly Democratic convention." She added that she "would come down with a machine gun if her name was used in the paper. For obvious reasons, her name is not being used."

Mrs. Merritt Hines, 1910 West Kentucky Street, who favored seating the anti-Trumanites, believes the move was a bid for unity to make the situation appear better to the deep-South delegates.

Others favoring the anti-Trumanites were: Mrs. G. E. Massey, 1801 West Main Street; Mrs. L. C. Hobbs, 202 West Estes Street; Mrs. Billy J. Hinson, 2110 Delaho Street; Mrs. Bill Greene, 1005 North Loraine Street; and Mrs. John W. Hackney, 2628 Delano Street.

Mrs. Mack Little, 101 South Tilden Street, opposed the action as she is in favor of President Harry S. Truman.

Hotly Contested Races Spark Balloting Over Area Saturday

The ballots will fly Saturday throughout the Midland area with enough contested races to bring out what officials believe will be a record-breaking vote.

Only one county—Andrews County—will go into election day without a contested county post although the district attorney's race has drawn two candidates and a battle is being waged for four precinct posts.

In other counties, the contested races vary in number with Crane County feature half a dozen political battles.

M. E. Lear, seeking reelection in Crane County as sheriff and tax collector and assessor, is being opposed by A. B. Earp and W. H. Lovelace.

Other races in that county include: County judge, Joseph A. Beyer, incumbent, and Don L. Chaney; County and district clerk, Addie E. Bell, incumbent, and Jesse G. Miller; County treasurer, James W. Teague, incumbent, and Edythe Wetzel.

County attorney, C. Barnett, incumbent, and Ken G. Spencer.

In Martin County, a hot battle between County Judge James McMorris, who is seeking reelection, and Ed Robnet is featuring a quartet of contested races.

Tom Adams is opposed by R. W. Caton in the county attorney's race and Mrs. Nobby Hamilton and Mrs. Doris Stephenson are both running for the office of county and district clerk.

The sheriff's race there has drawn five candidates—W. P. (Bill) Pinkston, Noah Konce, George Burns, A. L. Frith and Dan Saunders.

In Ward County, the only contested county office is that of county attorney, with three men seeking the post. They are Tom L. White, A. W. Carruthers and Ray E. Coon.

In Reeves County, there is a battle for the offices of sheriff and county judge.

John Gatt are in the race for sheriff.

In Ector County, too, there are only two contested races.

Mrs. Lucille Gerron, now serving out the term of her husband, the late O. E. Gerron, is being opposed in the race for county judge by Paul McCollum and Thomas D. Murphy.

George Kelton, seeking reelection as county attorney, is opposed by C. V. Milburn and George Svanas.

Many In Midland Area Due Increased Security Payments

Many people in the Midland area will receive higher social security payments beginning early in October as a result of the social security amendments signed into law last July 18.

Jack B. Calvert, manager of the Odessa social security office, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments.

"The Social Security Administration already is changing the amounts," he pointed out. "We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 2, the regular delivery date. But if in a few cases we don't meet that schedule, we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later check."

Calvert pointed out that although nearly every family receiving payments would receive an increase, the additional amount would not always be divided among all the members of the family receiving monthly checks. In some cases the entire increase will go to the retired worker.

Under terms of the law, most families will get an increase of about $5; some will get less, some will get more. A few benefits now being paid, and most of those payable in the future, will be based on earnings after 1950 instead of after 1936.

The amended law provides a new formula for determining the amount of the payments in these cases. Under it, a retired worker's monthly benefit would be 55 per cent of the first $100 of his average monthly earnings plus 15 per cent of the remainder up to $300.

Can you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straightaway?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—women especially—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflow Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Scare-Campaigning 'Saviors'

The other day Averell Harriman, in a bit of post-GOP convention politicking, raised the specter of depression as a likely thing if General Eisenhower should be elected next Fall.

But politics by fear is not good politics—at any rate, not good for the American citizenry. Actually, campaigning of this sort falls into the category of desperation.

The Republican Party is not the party of economic depression, any more than the Democratic Party is the party of war.

No responsible Democrat ever blames former President Hoover for the 1930 depression any more, although many naturally insist emphatically that he did not meet that crisis well.

No sober-minded Republican blames the Democrats for the rise of Hitler, and for the war he launched upon the world.

Haven't we had enough of scare-campaigning? No one familiar with our traditions expects our political candidates to make their appeals wholly calm and rational.

Nobody but a fanatic consciously would strive to plunge this nation into any kind of disaster. Both major parties, it goes without saying, clearly are wedded to policies they believe serve the welfare of the United States.

We may argue—we should argue—long and loud which party's policies really will do the job best in the four years ahead.

America has survived weak presidents in both parties. It needs no saviors. Indeed, it ought to be saved from any man who sees himself as the only barrier to military economic ruin.

The more you work for it and the less you look for it, the quicker happiness comes.

An Oklahoma man says he has changed his will 14 times. Why don't his relatives behave?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright, 1952, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Barkley and Harriman dealt cruelest blows at Democratic convention; Embittered Veep may not recover from setback; Dems will find Harriman force to be reckoned with in future; Former White House advisers ride losers' train.

CHICAGO—Politics can be a cruel business. The cruelest blows dealt in the current race for the Democratic presidential nomination were to Vice President Alben Barkley and Averell Harriman. Undoubtedly, they were not meant to be cruel, for in Barkley's case they came from those who love him most—his wife, Leslie Biddle, and the President himself.

So, at this luncheon, Biddle urged Truman to switch his support from Harriman, then his No. 1 choice, to the much-loved, elderly Veep.

Mr. President, Bill Boyle tells me you have selected Barkley. "That's right," replied the President. "The measure of a man in this command is his readiness to fight for the principles in which the free world believes."

Franklin D. Roosevelt and FDR's two top ghost writers, Judge Sam Rosenman and Robert E. Sherwood. The trio worked hard in Averell Harriman's camp. The Roosevelt family is well represented at the convention. In addition to Mrs. Roosevelt, there is Franklin, Jr., who spearheaded the Harriman forces, while Jimmy Roosevelt beat the brush for Kefauver.

Next Fitzpatrick went to Harriman, urged him to run for President. Harriman took him seriously, jumped in with all his energy, plus considerable money, and proceeded to put on a bang-up campaign.

Mr. President, Bill Boyle tells me you have selected Barkley. "That's right," replied the President. "The measure of a man in this command is his readiness to fight for the principles in which the free world believes."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY, Written for NEA Service

How would you play the South hand at six hearts against the opening lead of the three of diamonds? Suppose you try it with all of the cards in sight. The answer will not be easy to find.

When this hand was actually played, Ruth Sherman, one of the country's great bridge stars, managed to make her contract even though she could see only her own hand and the dummy.

It was clear, to begin with, that West had led a singleton diamond.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, East, and West hands with cards and suits.

This meant that East had three diamonds in addition to a seven-card or longer spade suit.

West had to win this trick and had to lead another club for lack of anything else.

With slightly greater strength (about an extra queen) you would jump to six hearts rather than the invitational five hearts.

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 2 N.T. Pass 3 Spades Pass 3 N.T. Pass

Q—You, South, hold: Spades K-7-6-7-3, Hearts K-Q-8-7-4, Diamonds K-8-7, Clubs 9-8-3. What do you do?

A—Bid five hearts. There is a slam at one of the major suits if your partner has a fair fit for one of the suits together with at least three aces.

CONVENTION COVERAGE

Threat Of Southern Revolt Lurks In Convention Wings

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

CHICAGO—Lurking in the wings of the Democratic Convention is the threat of another Southern revolt.

Moderate, anti-Dixiecrat Southern leaders like Jonathan Daniels of North Carolina and Senator Earle Clements of Kentucky are working hard to avoid it.

They have watered down the loyalty pledge for delegates and worked for platform compromises on civil rights planks to keep the party united.

But even if an actual Dixiecrat walkout from Chicago is avoided, a bolt might come later from six Southern states whose national convention delegations have to report back to their state central committees and conventions after the Chicago show is closed.

Delegates from these states have been meeting quietly in Chicago to work out their program.

This group would like to have Senator Richard Russell of Georgia head up their movement.

Being that development, Governor Byrnes, as one of the most disgruntled Southern Democrats who has broken completely with the Truman administration, is considered likeliest leader of the revolt.

The immediate objective of the Southern caucus is to prevent adoption of a Democratic platform which the Truman civil rights program, plus the newly proposed change in Senate rules to limit filibusters by simple majority vote instead of the present two-thirds majority vote.

This latter proposal has been presented to the Democratic platform writers by Senator Herbert Lehman of New York.

Senator Lehman also has the backing of presidential candidate Averell Harriman of New York for a complete, nine-point package deal on civil rights.

Congressman Hays has been laboring ever since 1948 to get a compromise civil rights plank that the South can live with and enforce.

But even if there is no walkout from the Chicago convention floor this year, the issue automatically will go back to the Democratic central committees and conventions in the six states mentioned above.

A Dixiecrat bolt from the regular Democratic Party over the civil rights program unquestionably would throw the election to the Republicans and General Eisenhower.

Other Southern state conventions might try to find ways to follow suit. The Republican platform, vague as to just what its civil rights planks do mean, can be interpreted as favoring states' rights.

The position of many of the Northern Democratic leaders, in favor of the Truman civil rights program, is that if the Dixiecrats walk out this time, they should be read out of the party for good.

I Can't Cry Now

By Addie McElfresh

KATY ELMO let the telephone slide back into its cradle. She didn't know whether Dave was still talking or not. It didn't matter.

Why would Johnny Jerome run away from his job? Surely not because Katy was there—he didn't tell her anything. She probed her memory doubtfully.

"Maybe that was Aggie's trouble . . . she wasn't busy enough to tell her."

Katy remembered the boy's tormented face. "I got to go now—thinking!"

She looked around when Mrs. Emma Ward came into the room. "I'm going home to change. I'll bring your clothes in later today."

Mrs. Ward gave her an absent nod. "Did you get Mr. Jordan?"

"He hadn't come in yet. I'll drive back, perhaps meet him for lunch." Katy smiled at her.

"Thanks, Emma, for everything. I'll bring your things at noon."

KATY drove swiftly after leaving the city limits, as if the speed that Chris would have explored could leave her fears behind.

Lunch with Ted seemed such a long way off, and she needed to hear him talk away the uneasy dread that Marty Martin's news of Johnny had stirred anew.

Johnny Jerome had run from her yesterday. He had fled Marty's today after talking to her. Katy wondered if she should have called Dave again and told him this.

A stranger in a city asked, "How can I get to St. Joseph's Hospital?" The native replied, "See that bunch of Irishmen at work on that new building? Well, go over there and say, 'To h - - - with the Irish' and when you wake up, you'll be in St. Joseph's Hospital."

"PHONY" RINGS

"Phony," synonym for "false or spurious," is a distortion of the surname Forney. Forney was an American manufacturer of cheap jewelry, who made a specialty of brass rings which looked like gold. Street peddlers bought these "Forney rings" by the barrelful. The pronunciation was changed to "phony" and later applied to anything that was fraudulent.

Bones Of Prehistoric Animals May Help Solve Jordan Woes

AMMAN, JORDAN—(P)—Bones of prehistoric animals, turned to phosphate over millions of years, may go a long way toward solving the pressing economic problems of this small Arabian desert kingdom.

Most of Jordan now is desert land but some 50 million years ago the whole region was under water—even the plateau around Amman which now rises more than 2,000 feet above sea level.

As the original sea dried up, the bodies of dead marine animals were deposited layer on layer to a depth of 60 feet. Then desert sands covered them. A small museum in the Roseifa phosphate mines near Amman has numerous specimens of fossilized marine life buried beneath the desert 50 to 80 million years ago. The immensity of the original sea and the great length of time it took to dry up can be seen in the vastness of Jordan's phosphate deposits. The country has never been completely explored for phosphates, but known deposits are far greater than can be exploited at present.

Deposits at the Roseifa mine are estimated at 16 million tons by officials of the Transjordan Phosphate Mines Company and this represents only a small area.

Additional mines nearby already are in operation, and in the deserts to the south are others.

World demand for Jordan's phosphates will exceed production indefinitely. Local phosphates are of such high quality—up to 75 per cent pure—they are in great demand in manufacture of high grade superphosphate fertilizers.

Present exports are pitifully small. Only 18,000 tons were exported last year against an estimated capacity production of 1,200,000 tons.

Transport is the bottleneck. The country's mines originally were developed on the assumption that Haifa would be the sea outlet. The Israeli-Jordan war ended that. Rail freight costs to Beirut, through Syria, make that port unsatisfactory. Best solution of the problem lies in development of Jordan's own Akaba port on the Red Sea. Economic experts estimate that with the expenditure at approximately $750,000, the Akaba port could handle all the country's expanding phosphate exports.

One advantage of Akaba is that the Far East offers an ever-expanding market for Jordan phosphates and the Red Sea outlet eliminates Suez Canal tolls. Even with the present limited port facilities, two to three thousand tons will be shipped from Akaba this summer on an experimental basis.

The MATURE PARENT

Why Baby Needs A Mother's Closeness At Bottle Time

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Should we hold a baby in our arms during bottle feeding?—or can we "prop" the bottle up on a pillow beside him? Will his personality be warped by solitary guzzling?

"Please reassure us busy mothers," writes a reader whose letter shows that she is conscientious and sincerely concerned. "Tell us that we don't hurt our babies by 'propping' up their bottles when our other children are demanding our attention. Isn't it all right if they get lots of love at other times?"

In emergencies, yes. When we're giving baby his bottle at the time that his brother and sister are embattled over whose comic is whose, it is certainly difficult to maintain the cozy serenity which the experts tell us should be imbibed by the baby along with his formula.

Under such circumstances, let's "prop" by all means. But when we have arbitrated the dispute in the other room, we might give some thought to ways for preventing such disturbances at baby's feeding time. Oh, I know it's easy talk in an article about what someone else has to do, but I also have an idea that once we are convinced it is the thing to do, ways to prevent distractions will suggest themselves.

We will find ourselves planning bottle time to include snacks for sister and brother. We'll make it an interval for a story about a little girl who lost a pigtail or about the babyhoods of the two people busy with their crayons on the floor beside our chair.

My reader's real problem is her belief that babies do not really need physical closeness to their mothers at feeding times.

I believe they do. I think that when we feed babies from bottles, we take a special responsibility. It has been arranged for them to get their milk from bottles. The original arrangement provided for milk to be delivered by the most intimate closeness to us, so that I think we have to concede that physical closeness was deemed necessary for the nutritional plan and trust to wisdom that is greater than ours.

Babies' ideas of love are very primitive. They are entirely unmoved by the time we devote to their care. They are not interested in how often we have to wash their sheets or how long it took us to knit a sweater. They feel no gratitude for our sacrifice of sleep.

They are only impressed by contact with a relaxed, warm human torso, by the look around our eyes and mouth when they are finishing their bottles, by arm muscles that support them securely, by the sound of the voice, not the words it speaks. The language of the body is our only form of communication with them. And like anyone else, they prefer good dinner conversation to solitude.

If we can feel that this is true, if we can feel how terribly dependent upon physical contact babies are, if we will remember that our four-months-old baby has spent the greater part of his life in the private, dark and intimate world of his mother's body, we will see why it remains his world to him, though he has emerged from it, changed his relationship to it and is trying to "learn" to function in another one. BILL MOORE

CANDIDATE

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Precinct 1

BILL MOORE
Veteran World War II

To the people of Midland County, I take this way of trying to reach everyone as we all know this county has grown and is still growing, so please consider this a personal visit with you.

I have been a farm and ranch boy all my life until several years ago when Uncle Sam decided he needed a rugged fellow to do four years service during the war with the Far Eastern Air Service Command operating in the South Pacific. I decided then and there, if and when I returned to the States I would try to do something here to make this a better place for my son and yours to live. I have been trading cattle in order to keep the meat supply moving but in traveling thru the county and neighboring counties, I have decided I could do a better job serving as Commissioner of Midland County, Precinct No. 1.

There are roads, highways, community centers, parks, swimming pools, libraries and various other activities in the county that are in need of prompt attention by some one who knows the need for such things. In fact I am for everything needed for a progressive county like ours.

I own property both in the city and county, therefore, I feel the taxes as much as the next fellow. I am not one to spend foolishly because I learned the hard way, by honest work, will appreciate your vote and influence in helping me win. I thank each and everyone.

Yours sincerely,
Bill Moore

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And At The Rainbow's End

"It's too!"
"Tian't either!"
"Huffen Puffen, I know it is!"
"But Mugwump, it really can't be it can't."

By WESLEY DAVIS

answered the Huffen, and he pointed with his finger at the bush not far away where the rainbow came to an end.

"Now we can see for ourselves," said Mugwump.

"That we can, we can," answered the Huffen.

"Huffen Puffen," said Mugwump, "I guess there is too a pot of gold at the rainbow's end. Daddy Ringtail said so."

But the Huffen answered: "I don't care what Daddy Ringtail said. He can be mistaken, he can."

"Can't either!"
"Can't either!"
"There is too a pot of gold at the rainbow's end."

"There isn't either, there isn't."

"I don't know what might have happened next, but the rain had been raining in the Great Forest, and suddenly—not far away—Mugwump saw something. "Huffen, look!" cried Mugwump. "Look there at the end of the rainbow!"

"The Huffen sees it, he does."

answered the Huffen, and he pointed with his finger at the bush not far away where the rainbow came to an end.

"Now we can see for ourselves," said Mugwump.

the Huffen. "Now we can see it. Daddy Ringtail is right, and if there is a pot of gold at the rainbow's end."

Mugwump and the Huffen ran and looked behind the bush where the rainbow came to an end. Would they find the pot of gold? Would it be there to find?

"Teh! Teh! Teh!" said the Huffen, when he saw there wasn't one. "Daddy Ringtail made a mistake, he said."

"Oh no!" said Mugwump. "Daddy Ringtail didn't make a mistake. The gold is just at the other end."

Yes, and the Huffen decided Mugwump was right. To find the gold at the rainbow's end, you have to go to the other end, always and forever it seems. Happy day!

Essential To Life, Salt Has Ill Effects In Some Diseases

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written For NEA Service

In some parts of the world salt—that is the kind that makes up ordinary table salt—is in short supply, and is considered very valuable indeed. This is for the simple reason that salt, or sodium chloride, is necessary to maintain life.

The salt is kept in a constant proportion in the blood and tissues by a wonderful system of balance, and the amount of salt present in food or added in cooking or on the table is usually just about enough to make up for that which is lost.

More sodium chloride is lost from the body than is taken in, when there is heavy perspiration for a prolonged period of time. This occurs in certain industrial occupations, in hot weather and when there is heavy physical exertion.

Salt tablets or the addition of small amounts of sodium chloride to the drinking water may be used to replace an excessive loss of sodium chloride of this type. In some industries workers are encouraged to take a salt tablet with each drink of water, though this should not be done by those who have certain kinds of diseases.

In certain diseases the amount of salt taken into the body has to be limited. Too much salt either has a bad effect on the diseased organs or holds an excessive amount of water in the tissues of the body, thus causing the accumulation of fluid in the legs or abdomen.

Under such circumstances, the excess salt is not eliminated normally but stays in the tissues. In order to maintain a constant balance between the sodium chloride and water in the tissues, excess water is also retained.

For this reason, the physician may reduce the salt in diet of persons with certain kinds of heart disease, kidney disease or disease of the blood vessels. There are some other conditions, like Addison's disease, in which the use of sodium chloride has to be strictly regulated.

Wake 'em up,
GABRIEL!

There isn't much music coming out of that horn. But one thing's certain: this little fellow is making plenty of noise. If it happens to be Sunday morning, when the family sleeps late, this sturdy musician isn't going to receive much praise. His lungs are strong, though, and he's going to sit there and toot that trumpet until Mom or Dad takes it away from him. All of his playmates are at Sunday School, so you really can't blame him for trying to while away the idle hours. Unfortunately, his parents haven't got the Church-going habit, so this boy will probably grow up like them and sleep away the hours in which he could be getting spiritual nourishment. You've got the right idea, Gabriel. Wake them up to their responsibility!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

DEBBIE REYNOLDS: 'NO TIME FOR MARRIAGE'

HOLLYWOOD — Cupid got thrown for a loss as Debbie Reynolds declared she had no time for marriage — not at this stage in her blossoming career, anyway. Debbie is the 'curvaceous' cutie from El Paso who made a hit by managing to keep up with the dancing feet of Gene Kelly and Donald O'Connor in a recent musical. Since then, she has been boomed for top stardom by her studio, and she has assured that romance will not interfere with her film plans. "Building a career and being married are both full-time jobs," she told me. "You can't do both at once and do justice to either of them. Right now I'm most interested in my career. Whenever I'm in a picture, I can do nothing else. I come home at night after a dance number or doing a difficult comedy scene and I collapse. When I'm not in a picture, I'm out on a personal appearance tour. "That's the way it has to be when you're building your career. I can't even consider marriage for a year. If I have arrived by then I can afford to do fewer pictures; then I can think about getting married." Debbie even indicated that she has found a man she is serious about. Her steadiest dates are actors Robert Wagner and Hugh O'Brian, but intimates say that Wagner is the head man in her heart. But if any romance blossoms, Debbie assured it would be a long engagement. "Feeling as I do about my career," she remarked, "I don't let myself get carried away romantically. "Also, there is the matter of money. It wouldn't matter to me if my husband were making less than me. But he would have to have a healthy attitude about it and appreciate an extra paycheck as a blessing. If he started to resent it, that would be the end of the marriage." Although Debbie's main concern is her career, she is not without her ideas about marriage. Some of them are very interesting. Such as: "The important thing about a marriage is to have babies. You should have as many as you can. You can worry about paying for them later; somehow you always do." Charles J. Aiken

304 West Parker

Midland, Texas

Dear Voter:

This is Charles J. Aiken asking for your vote and support in the election July 26, 1952. I am running for Commissioner of Precinct 1. So thought I would let you know who you would be voting for and what I stand for.

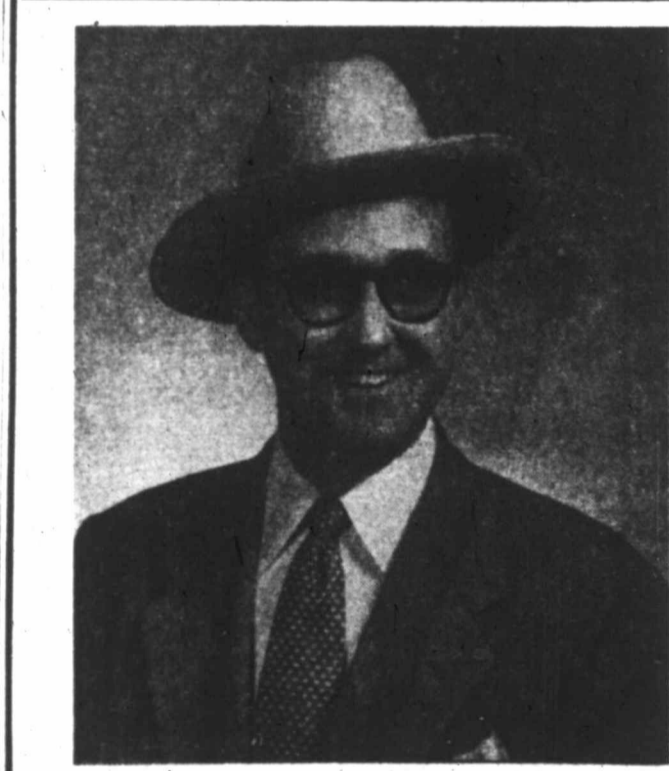

I am a wounded veteran of World War II. Married and the father of three children—Donald 7 years; Dorothy 5 years and Charlene two weeks. Have lived in Midland since 1939, except for three years spent in Africa, Sicily, and Italy. Member of Baptist Church. Own my own fleet of Sally Ann Bread Trucks, started out as a route man and worked my way up to owner, so you can see I have the business experience. Am familiar with the city and county government. Am active in lodge work, being Past Commander of our Legion post, a member of the Eagles Club, DAV's, VFW, and Legion here in Midland. I am qualified not only in knowing how to build and take care of roads and streets, but in doing it, having had experience in doing the work in Africa and Italy.

I am for more youth recreational facilities, this includes parks and swimming pools already under consideration. Better streets and paving, also better drainage for streets where needed. Everything I own is here in Midland. Every thing I have I got from Midland. It is time I gave Midland something, if elected the best I have.

Yours truly

Charles J. Aiken

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE
Shooting Editor

I wish I knew just how many assorted shotguns have been carted back to this country by souvenir-minded G.I.s. Thousands of them are kicking around, good, bad and indifferent. Many a batch of mall-questions as to makers, or values, or the safety of these muskets.

Now any gun is worth just what you can get for it, no more, no less. This applies to the flossily engraved foreign field gun just as it does to the secondhand standard-grade Winchester or Remington at the local gun shop. And a great many of these European smoothbores were made by little known custom gunsmiths. But there are a few simple rules about their safety factor with our ammunition.

First, if that pretty gun has a spiraling pattern running around the barrels, it has Damascus tubes. That means no dice with any of our factory fodder. You have a souvenir. Your eyes and your left hand are your own if you want to risk a blow-out, of course, but by me a Damascus-barreled job is a wall decoration only.

Second, many foreign-built shotguns of pre-1940 vintage, particularly those in 16-gauge, are made with short chambers. All U. S. made shotguns turned out since the breach. On the flattened underside you'll find marks. European-made smoothbores marked with 70 are of proper chamber length for 70 mm. or 2 3/4-inch hulls. Those marked with 65, or 65 or 70, are chambered for the shorter hulls, 2 1/2 to 2 7/8 inches fired length.

All of the "pie crimp" shot shells made today, the hulls without an over-shot wad, open out to 2 3/4 inches. Does that mean that your engraved Belgian 16-gauge marked 65 for chamber length must be thrown out? Nope. There are two possible answers.

One, top-drawer gunsmiths can ream those chambers properly—and they are also capable of deciding whether there's enough metal in that light 16 to make such a chamber-lengthening job safe.

Two, in that gauge both the Winchester-Western and Remington-Peters outfits load some shells with the old-type of over-shot wad and crimp with rolled edge. These are 2 1/2 inches. Federal, which uses the roll crimp but a disintegrating wad over the shot, loads all their 2 1/2 inch fired length. So you aren't as badly off as you thought you were.

the early twenties are chambered to handle shells that open out to 2 3/4 inches, fired length. Not unfired length.

Many of the French, German, and Belgian-built field pieces were made to handle hulls of only 2 1/2-inch fired length. Using our longer shells in them means that the lips of the cardboard case unfurl part way into the forcing cone, which is the squeeze-down just ahead of the chamber proper. Pressures are built up by some 15 per cent, possibly higher; and the result may be brief.

Got a foreign shotgun? Take off the fore-end, slip the barrels off

FILL 'ER UP BERRY JUICE

ADDIS ABABA, ETHIOPIA—Ethiopians drink gasoline to the point that the Ministry of Public Health is really alarmed.

"Gasoline is poison and inflammable and should never be drunk in place of medicine," the Ministry declared. The warning branded those who "persuade others to drink gasoline and those who allow themselves to be so persuaded" as criminals.

The desire for gasoline as a potion is due to the widespread Ethiopian custom of eating raw meat. This, in turn, has caused the people to be widely affected with parasitic stomach worms.

The Health Ministry recommends a substitute made from berries for gasoline addicts.

Empire State Tower Gets Weatherproofed

NEW YORK—The Empire State Building is being weatherproofed again. Maintenance men say rain, frost and heat crack the cement in joints of the world's tallest building as they do in most other buildings.

In the 21 years the building has stood, they have been over it three times, replacing cement and calking material where weather has damaged it. Work will be done this time from the ground to the 104th story.

Independence Of Japan Hits Yanks Right In Pocketbooks

TOKYO—Japan's independence hit Americans in Tokyo right in the pocketbook.

In the seven years of occupation, most Americans living in Japan enjoyed the privilege of buying cheap and renting cheap from the U. S. Army.

Came Japan's day of independence on April 28 and there was a big change in their way of living.

Civilians had to move out of low-rent Army housing centers. Japanese landlords are asking $280 for a home or apartment worth $75 a month in the United States.

And the utility bills! One U. S. Embassy official calls them "ferocious." Utilities can run to $150 a month.

Civilians lost the right to use military script to buy tax-free goods at Army post exchanges, commissaries, whisky warehouses and gasoline stations with the end of the occupation.

Resorts Close Doors
Civilians had to turn in membership cards at Army-run clubs where for $1.50 to $2.50 they had been able to eat a steak dinner, dance and watch a flophouse.

Flush seaside and mountain resorts run by the Army closed their doors to most civilians. This ended an era of holidays at spas and country clubs costing 50 cents a night with meals at 40 cents. Many resort hotels went back to Japanese, who in the old days charged $25 a day for lodging and $8 for dinner.

To get a telephone installed in Japan you have to plunk down $100 in cash and wait—usually a long time.

As for food, Americans have to buy either specially-grown or imported food because of the danger of disease from Japanese vegetables. Just to give you an idea, salad for two costs an American a dollar.

High Income Tax
Many Americans also became subject to Japanese taxes. Income taxes. Income taxes run up to 85 per cent on small salaries.

The change affects wide groups of American civilians—traders, business and professional men, missionaries, civilians working for the Department of the Army, correspondents and U. S. State Department employees.

Housing is the worst headache. U. S. bombers all but leveled Tokyo during the war. While the city is rebuilding rapidly, there still is a critical housing shortage.

The Japanese don't go for central heating. They put a pot of coals in the middle of the room and are satisfied. Freezing Americans install gas heaters in every corner and still their teeth rattle. Gas costs plenty in Japan too.

State Department employees sent to Japan on temporary duty have rough going. They get $6 a day for living expenses, a rate set in the by-gone days of free Army billeting. You can imagine how far $6 goes now.

Closing the famed six-floor Army post exchange on Ginza Street to civilians was a big blow to many Americans. There they could buy, tax free, anything from American soap flakes to Japanese curios, from frying pans to perfume, from minks to golf clubs.

At the whisky warehouse they could buy tax-free whisky by the case. Those days are gone forever.

COOL CLIMBER—High above the earth near El Segundo, Calif., a Douglas Skyrocket reaches dizzying heights in a hitherto unpublished photo. Test pilot Bill Bridgeman, 35, confirms reports that he has flown the new Navy ship 1238 mph at an altitude of 79,494 feet. Since its potential high speeds would melt the plane, it carries a refrigeration unit capable of cooling a large auditorium.

HOW YOU CAN MAKE AMERICA STRONG — IV

HE NEEDS YOUR VOTE — TO STAY FREE!

Our children's future is uncertain. Because our country's future is uncertain. Perhaps we have let them down. Can it be that self-government interests us no more... that the priceless gift of personal freedom can find no takers? Can it be that we know not—and care not—who represents us at the meeting place? Have we traded personal opportunity and integrity for security... for a handout at the back door? And robbed our children in the process? To be strong as a nation, morally and spiritually, is a primary duty we owe our children. Before it is too late... before the chance is gone forever... America must be made strong again. With informed, skillful, courageous leadership. Next election, no matter what kind, let's get up and put on our hats and go to the polling place and vote! Know the issues and the candidates. Vote to fill every office with an able man. Let's go back to the old-fashioned habit of taking a part in our democratic government. Our youngsters need votes... to stay free!
