Summer Hits Texas Savage Blow

Storms Fail To Diminish Searing Heat

By The Associated Press

Texas weather struck with its most violent summertime savagery again Thursday after killing two men and sending vicious thunderstorms on damaging forays across the state.

Thunderstorm and thunderstorm activity early Thursday brushed Van Zandt County, 50 miles east of Dallas, and hit at the area between Abilene and Big Spring. Lubbock also was getting thunderstorms before dawn.

Nine Die As Jet Explodes Aboard Boxer

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An explosion of a jet plane aboard the U. S. carrier Boxer in Korean waters killed nine men and injured an unannounced number of others, the Navy reported Thursday.

Twelve jet planes were destroyed by raging fires that followed the explosion. Helicopters and lifeboats picked up 63 crewmen driven overboard by the flames.

OLD SOL RULES MIDLAND ROOST

Midland thermometers ran a record fever of 108 degrees Wednesday. It was so far the hottest day of the year, although a cool 103 was registered on June 16.

The cooler and of the mercury column lightly touched the 71-degree mark.

Elsewhere in Texas many thermometers went crazy with the heat, and the weatherman warned Midlanders to keep their air conditioners in repair and to get on their sunbathens, when they go outdoors. Old Sol still is in command.

Harbor on Eagle Mountain Lake was estimated at between five and six inches.

A boat house was destroyed and a house roof was blown away.

Trees snapped and boat docks were destroyed in the Silver Creek community, also in the area.

Big Spring, Amarillo, Lubbock and Junction had thunderstorms early Thursday but no damage was reported.

The two deaths attributed to what probably were the highest temperatures (Continued on Page 10)

Sabres Knock Down Four More Red Jets in Growing Air War

SEOUL — (AP) — The U. S. Fifth Air Force said its Sabre jet pilots Thursday shot down four Russian-made jets and damaged five in the fourth straight day of jet battles over North Korea.

On the ground, grenade-tossing South Korean infantrymen won back a central front height called Capital Hill three hours after they had lost it at dawn. A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said it was the sixth time in two days that the steep hill had changed hands.

Thursday's toll of Communist jets boosted the Red's losses to 15 MIG's destroyed and 19 damaged in four days. U. S. losses, if any, will be announced later in a weekly summary.

One MIG was shot down and one damaged in two battles near the Yalu River around noon. Two more were destroyed in a battle near Anju. Sabres shot down one and damaged three in a clash south of Sinuju, in Northwest Korea.

Absentee Ballots May Be Available For Voting Friday

Ballots for the August 23 second Democratic primary election probably will be available for absentee voting by Friday.

Chairman Frank Bezon of the Midland County Democratic Executive committee said Thursday copy for the ballots had been sent to the printers earlier this week.

The ballot was drawn up, he said, on instructions of the State Executive Committee, although that body will not meet until Monday to certify officially the results of the July 2 primary election.

Involved in the election are County Commissioner races in Precinct 1 and Precinct 3 as well as one state office.

Absentee balloting will continue until three days before the election.

Rising Prices May Bring On Congress Call

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman said Thursday he is considering calling an extra session of Congress to ask for a stronger price control law.

He told a news conference no decision has been made but he has the matter under consideration.

If it is necessary to call a special session, he declared, he will call it.

A decision will await developments, he added.

Truman declined to comment on reports that Ellis G. Arnall is preparing to quit as price stabilizer.

Solon Labels Ike Advisers 'Hatchet Men'

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. — (AP) — Senator Blair Moody of Michigan urged Gov. Adlai Stevenson Thursday to make a major campaign issue of what he called the "hatchet men" around GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Moody declined to identify the "hatchet men" to newsmen but then he went on to mention the names of Republican Senators McCarthy of Wisconsin, Kem of Missouri and Jenner of Indiana.

The young Michigan senator also invited Stevenson—the Democratic presidential nominee—to kick off his campaign with a Labor Day speech in Detroit—as President Truman did in 1948.

And he proposed that Stevenson challenge Eisenhower to a series of one-hour radio and television debates.

Moody gave this report to newsmen after a breakfast attended by Stevenson, Moody and two defeated Democratic presidential hopefuls—Averell Harriman and Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

Japanese Islands Brace For Typhoon

TOKYO — (AP) — A typhoon with center winds of 60 miles an hour Thursday headed for Japan from the Marianas Islands.

The Japanese Central Meteorological Observatory said the storm would hit Honshu, main Japanese island, early Friday.

The typhoon is epidemic proportions and is to be concentrated in the North and South Central States," the Health Service said in its weekly report.

"In Texas . . . about 63 per cent of the cases have been reported as paralytic.

Odessa Man Facing Life Prison Term Slashes His Wrist

S. M. Miller, Jr., 23-year-old Odessa man facing a life prison term for the robbery of a Midland motel, reportedly tried to take his life Tuesday afternoon in his cell in the Midland County jail.

The sheriff's office reported Thursday that Miller slashed his wrist with a razor blade.

He was rushed quickly to the Western Clinic-Hospital, however, for emergency treatment and then returned to jail.

Miller was sentenced in 70th District Court last month to a life term after being convicted on a charge of robbery by assault in connection with the holdup of the manager of the Har-Wil Motor Courts.

French Air Cadets Will Study in U. S.

CHERBURG, FRANCE — (AP) — The French cargo ship Perou sailed from Cherbourg for the United States Thursday with something new and active in the way of freight—147 French aviation cadets.

The student pilots, all under 22, will study for a year in various U. S. military schools.

Road To Hadacol Nears Completion

Heavy oil field traffic between Midland and the busy little community of Hadacol will begin moving over paved highways within the next few days.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith reported Thursday that paving of the six-mile Hadacol cutoff, connecting the Upton County community with the Spraberry Loop highway, will be completed this weekend.

The Upton County portion of the road already has been completed and is ready for traffic.

The progress of the Hadacol cutoff was disclosed as the county judge reviewed the progress of all highway projects underway at this time in Midland County.

Here is the picture: Spraberry Loop—A 19-mile strip connecting the Hadacol road with the Garden City Highway has been completed and the nine-mile strip west to Rankin Highway is scheduled for completion within the next 30 days.

Warfield — Pegasus Highway — Base material now is being prepared for the 17-mile highway extending south from Highway 80 at Warfield to the Pegasus field and the project is scheduled for completion between October 1 and October 15.

Pegasus Cutoff—The highway intersecting the Rankin highway 21 miles south of Midland and extending westward through the Pegasus field and on to the Crane-Odessa highway probably will be included in the September lettings of the State Highway Department.

Greenwood-Rankin Highway—A seven-mile highway from the Greenwood Community southward to the Garden City highway is included in the August lettings of the State Highway Department.

The completion of the projects will provide all-weather transportation into the areas of major oil field development in Midland County, Judge Keith said.

Considered as the most vital in the Spraberry loop, which swings through the Spraberry Trend development, connecting the Garden City and Rankin highways.

After this project was completed, the county added the Hadacol cutoff south to the Upton County line.

Traffic on this road can continue five miles south of Hadacol and then eight miles west to connect again with the Rankin highway.

The entire project is being constructed at a cost of $348,000.

The Warfield-Pegasus highway will provide direct access from Midland to busy Pegasus oil fields and is being built at a cost of $198,000.

AUSTIN — (AP) — Governor Shivers said Thursday he would follow the advice of Texas' agriculture commissioner and the people as to whether Texas should apply for federal drought disaster funds. He said he has had no requests so far from either.

2,290 Polio Cases In Week Set New U. S. Mark For 1952

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government Thursday reported 2,290 new cases of infantile paralysis last week, the highest weekly total so far this year.

The Public Health Service listed the year's total through August 2 at 10,697 cases. That compared with 10,719 in the record year 1949 and 6,838 last year up to this time.

For the "disease year," which began with the week ended April 8, the total was 9,377 cases, compared with 9,714 in the same period of 1949 and 5,640 for the 1951 period.

August usually is the month of highest incidence for poliomyelitis. During 1949 the new cases in that month ranged as high as 3,500 to 3,800 a week.

But the health service said the peak may have been reached in Texas, which has led the nation with 2,078 cases, almost one-fifth the national total.

Last week's total of 2,290 cases was 37 per cent greater than the preceding week's 1,667, which had been the 1952 weekly high.

"The disease in epidemic proportions continues to be concentrated in the North and South Central States," the Health Service said in its weekly report.

"In Texas . . . about 63 per cent of the cases have been reported as paralytic.

Crippling Malady Continues Taking Heavy Toll In State

By The Associated Press

Texas' record polio outbreak—accounting for one fifth of the nation's cases—may have reached its peak, the Public Health Service reported in Washington Thursday.

However, the disease continued to take its deadly toll in the Lone Star State.

In Austin, State Health Officer George W. Cox panned the theory that polio may be transmitted through milk from cows that have eaten some kind of weed.

"I want to specifically state that there is no such evidence in this country," he said.

Dr. Cox's statement was in answer to a theory advanced recently, he said, by a self-styled polio expert.

Mother Of Felix Stonehocker Dies Of Heart Ailment

Mrs. Mabel A. Stonehocker, 76, mother of Felix Stonehocker of Midland, died at 8 a.m. Thursday at the home of a sister, Mrs. R. S. Trigg in Dallas.

Mrs. Stonehocker had suffered from a heart ailment the last three years and had been living with her sister during that period.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but the services are expected to be held Friday at Waco with Compton Funeral Chapel in charge. Interment will be in a Waco cemetery.

A pioneer resident of Waco, Mrs. Stonehocker was active in the First Presbyterian Church. Her husband, M. D. Stonehocker, died in 1945.

Survivors include three sons, Marcus and Marion Stonehocker, both of Oregon, and Felix Stonehocker, of Canton, Miss., and Mrs. Elizabeth Quan of Waco.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Stonehocker left by plane Thursday to attend the services.

HUNTS SAUCERS ON HORSEBACK

NORRISBURG, N. Y. — (AP) — Nick Dale, owner of a hunting camp, claims to be the first man to chase "flying saucers" on horseback.

Strange lights swirling atop Tusset Mountain attracted attention of vacationists for miles around.

Dale had an idea what the "saucers" were. To prove his point he rode up a mountain trail and found—no little men from Mars but little men from the Greater New York Boy Scout Camp.

They were making smoke signals and tracing them with flashlights.

Midland's Little League Nines To Meet For Crown

The South Little League All-Stars of Midland defeated the McCamey All-Stars, 5-3, Thursday afternoon and will meet the North Little League All-Stars at 3 p.m. Friday for the District 3 championship. Site of the game has not been determined.

The All-Stars of Midland's North Little League moved into the finals of the District Three tournament at Odessa Thursday morning by overpowering the Crane All-Stars by a 10-7 score.

Truman Is Willing But Stevenson May Hand Him Back Seat In Coming Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman said Thursday everything necessary to obtain a Democratic victory will come under discussion when Gov. Adlai Stevenson meets with him and his cabinet here next week.

He told a news conference the questions will include, among other things, what part he should take in the campaign.

Since Truman obviously is raring to get in some licks at the Republicans, Stevenson may find himself confronted with the difficult task of suggesting that the President take a back seat. The Democratic nominee has been at some pains to avoid close identification with the Truman Administration.

Truman said he invited Stevenson to the White House since Stevenson had suggested to him at the time of the Democratic National Convention, that such a meeting would be a very fine thing.

He said the White House luncheon will be attended by Senator John J. Sparkman of Alabama, the vice presidential nominee, and by Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

In a confidential tone, the President told the newsmen he would have supported Barkley for the presidential nomination had Barkley remained in the race.

Barkley pulled out of the race after a group of labor union leaders publicly called him "too old." He is 74.

Truman went on to say he thought the convention picked the best possible man—and men who can be elected.

On other political subjects, the President:

1. Voiced his support of W. Stuart Symington for election as Missouri senator over GOP Senator James P. Kenn.

While the President backed state Attorney General J. E. (Buck) Taylor in the primary election Tuesday, he told his news conference he is just as fond of Symington.

2. Said he was glad his frequent critic, Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, has been converted.

This was a reference to the fact that Byrnes Wednesday urged the South Carolina Democratic Convention to back the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket.

There has been much speculation as to the extent to which Stevenson will want Truman to campaign.

Truman has said on two occasions that he is now "just a private citizen" and subject to orders from Stevenson and the National Committee.

MOVIES ARE HOTTER THAN EVER, No. 4—

Lobby Works On Censors As Plots Grow More Bold

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood is junking dignity. It didn't pay off at the boxoffice. The blueprint for movietown's celluloid future now specifies:

Bolder plots, sexier scenes, longer takes, tighter sweaters, an attempt at repeal of state censorship laws, leggy musicals, a revision of Hollywood's own antiquated morals code, slum-bang, old-fashioned publicity stunts and the debunking of the World War II inspired ballyhoo that movie stars are normal, folksy people.

"Movies Are Sexier Than Ever" will be the cry instead of "Movies Are Better Than Ever."

A fading boxoffice and the closing of hundreds of theaters—blamed on television and lack of public interest in Hollywood's fiftieth anniversary product—are the reasons for the big switch.

Hollywood acquired dignity during the serious days of the war when almost every movie had a message. The movies had grown up, the film barons told themselves as they put the skirts on slapstick comedy, light-hearted romantic stories, circus ballyhoo and eye-chasing advertising.

During those serious days the Producers Association fought Howard Hughes' busy billboards of Jane Russell for "The Outlaw." Now Hughes' busy heroines decorate billboards from coast to coast with full industry approval and other studios have adopted the same sex appeal tactics.

Even the males are getting the strip tease treatment in movie advertising, with Marlon Brando, Cornel Wilde and Alan Ladd playing peek-a-boo with their manly chests. Movie queens are showing just about everything the law will allow. At-home photographs with pumpkins and happy kiddies have been replaced by cheesecake dished up in batheing suits and lacy black negligees.

Words aren't needed for Rita Gam's sultry role—without dialogue—in "The Thief."

The plots of two movies, "Clash By Night" and "Carrie" are samples of racy, bolder things to come on celluloid.

Both films are evidence of more lenient industry censorship.

"Clash By Night" features an adultery theme, and the advertising shows Barbara Stanwyck, one shoulder strap down, cowering as Paul Douglas screams at her:

"Livin' in my house! Lovin' another man. Is that what you call bein' honest. That's just givin' it a nice name."

"Carrie" is based on the old Theodore Dreiser novel which wasn't printed in the United States for years because a publisher thought it was too hot to handle. It tells the story of a farm girl (Jennifer Jones) who goes to Chicago and becomes the mistress of two men, one of whom (Lawrence Olivier) is married.

They have an out-of-wedlock child and then Oliver lies about divorcing his wife and becomes a bigamist when he marries her.

A big drive against state censorship is part of Hollywood's long range plan to put more oomph into its celluloid. State legislature will be asked to repeal local censorship laws based on the theory that the recent high court decision on "The Miracle" cast doubt on the legality of local film prohibitions.

On and off the screen Hollywood's cuties are on a nudgy binge.

Linda Christian's surprise birthday present to Tyrone Power—a nude bust—was an eyebrow lifter, but marble evidence of Hollywood's new "down with dignity" campaign. A black silk dress was glued on the shapely form of Marilyn Maxwell to better reveal her curves in a new Bob Hope movie, "Military Policemen."

There's a suggestion of nude swimming scenes for Dorothy Lamour in "The Road to Bali" and Ann Blyth in "Katie Did It." Rita Hayworth wears as little as the censors will allow in "Affair in Trinidad" and in "Salome, Dance of the Seven Veils." Woody Woodpecker, too.

Promised and current in the sex appeal department are Zsa Zsa Gabor's strip tease as a model in "Lili," Jane Russell's leggy dance hall queen role in "Son of Paleface," Virginia Mayo's playing of a burlesque stripper in "She's Working Her Way Through College," and sultry TV actress Rita Gam's shady lady role without a single line of dialogue opposite Ray Milland in "The Thief."

Even Woody Woodpecker gets a red-headed girl woodpecker friend for the first time in his 10-year cartoon career in Walter Lantz's new short, "Crash By Night."

Hollywood's biggest new boxoffice star is Marilyn Monroe, who, when fully dressed, is the least-dressed star Hollywood has seen since Jean Harlow.

Movietown's biggest argument in favor of more lenient censorship is television still without an enforced morals code of its own.

Hollywood has discovered that those little home screens pack a big competitive wallop—and if TV's Dagmars and Studio Ones can dish up sex appeal in large doses, then the big screen movies have the same legal and moral rights.

Wife-Beater Gets 10 Lashes By Whip In Maryland Trial

FREDERICK, MD. (AP)—Marshall M. Flanary, 43-year-old carpenter, was sentenced Wednesday to 10 lashes under terms of an old Maryland law, invoked here for the first time in 25 years, according to courthouse sources.

The law, which has been on the statute books for years, permits imposition of a maximum of 40 lashes and a year in the House of Correction for wife beating.

Flanary was sentenced also to serve six months in the House of Correction.

Magistrate Wilber F. Sheffield, who imposed the sentence on Flanary, called the case "one of the most deplorable ever heard."

Flanary's wife, Iva, testified that she and two of their children, 13 and 11, had been beaten on a number of occasions. The youngsters testified that their father choked their mother and kicked her in the stomach.

In November of 1950, Flanary was sentenced to two years for assault on his wife, but that sentence was suspended.

The law specifies that the sheriff must do the whipping within the confines of the county jail.

FEMALE LEGS MUST COVER UP

HAGERSTOWN, MD. (AP)—Women in bare legs have been giving too much competition to the natural beauty of the city's parks, according to the park board. So police have been ordered to hustle women in shorts out of such public places.

"The only limbs we want to see in our parks are those growing on trees," said Paul L. Snyder, chairman of the board.

Bequest Benefits Church of Christ

FORT WORTH (AP)—Various Church of Christ activities will share the bulk of the estate left by the late George Birchfield and his wife.

The entire estate of the couple, estimated at $40,000, was left to charity. The Fort Worth philanthropist, a retired rancher and businessman, died July 30. Mrs. Birchfield died June 14.

Half the estate, the largest, single bequest, went to the El Paso mission of the Church of Christ and missions of the domination in Mexico.

Mrs. Roswell Graves

Mr., Mrs. Graves To Live In Midland

The church was decorated with greenery and baskets of white gladiolus and asters. Two vases of asters were on the altar and a bouquet of gladiolus and asters were placed before the Virgin Mary.

Aisle pews were marked with white satin bows and plumes.

Mrs. Robert Malone, organist, played traditional nuptial music and accompanied Carolyn Lasseter who sang "Ave Maria."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white imported organza gown fashioned with a full skirt, long waisted bodice and a square neckline. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was attached to a headpiece of organza studded with pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid.

13-Year-Old Mary Isn't Caught Short On History

By BELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK —(AP)— It was a steamy summer day, hot and sticky, and not the best time in the world to take a little girl to Washington, sight-seeing.

But, I thought, Mary isn't exactly a little girl any more . . . she's almost 13 . . . pretty soon she will be studying American history in school . . . and then government . . . how much did you know about government when you were 12-going-on-13? . . . practically nothing except Bunker Hill and that picture of Washington crossing the Delaware . . . that's about all any kid knows at that age . . .

So show Mary the Declaration of Independence and the White House and a few things she can understand . . . maybe it will help when they start cramming history down her throat . . . but make it simple.

In the plane, Mary suddenly looked up from the airlines map and said: "Dad, did you like Mr. Stevenson's speech better than Gen. Eisenhower's?"

"What speeches do you mean?"

"At the conventions," she said.

patiently. "I don't know which one I liked best."

I asked her how she knew about them.

"On the TV, of course," she said. "I saw them on TV. And I saw Mrs. Roosevelt and President Truman and just about the whole convention. It was pretty good, too."

Well, of course, there is television nowadays. But you think of kids looking at nothing but Westerns.

"I bet you don't know what Mr. Stevenson's middle name is," said Mary.

Toastmaster Club Adds New Members

Three new members have been inducted by the Midland Toastmaster Club.

Going into the organization at the Tuesday night meeting at Miller's Restaurant were Clyde McManis, Ross Moore and Joe Artland.

Benton Howell and George Studert conducted induction rites. Larry Lees was topic master for the Tuesday program. John Brauc served as toastmaster.

Speakers were Bill Key, Lionel Conover, George Brown and Jerry Harris.

"Certainly, I do. It's . . ."

"Bring," she said. "I heard a man win some money on a radio quiz program when he knew that. But he didn't know how many Republican governors there have been in Illinois since Lincoln. It's four, I think. Or three. No, I think they said four when they told the man."

The plane dipped its left wing, circling over Alexandria for the run-in toward Washington. I started pointing out the landmarks, the Capitol, the Washington monument, the Senate office buildings.

"And there's the Jefferson memorial," said Mary, just in time to stop me from calling it the Lincoln memorial. "There was a whole page of colored picture about Washington in the Sunday paper."

We went up to the Library of Congress and looked at the Declaration of Independence. It is faded badly now, but Mary stood, entranced, painfully spelling out the words and the signatures beneath.

"Is this the only one?" she asked.

"This is the original. It's the only one."

For a long moment, she stared up at the bronze-yellow paper, sheeted in glass, with the warm light glowing around the edges.

"Oee," she said at last, "there must be some way of fixing it."

Motorboat Murder Accused In Charge Against Tribesman

PRINCE GEORGE, B. C.—(AP)—A Finchi Creek Indian Wednesday was charged by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police with murder by speedboat.

He is Francois Peter Dennis, 28, accused of killing a fellow tribesman, William Austin, 34.

The RCMP reported Austin's death last Saturday was witnessed in Stuart Lake by the victim's wife and two children. The police said that Dennis and Austin had argued. Austin started out on the lake in his boat and Dennis followed in a speedboat.

Then, police said, Dennis rammed Austin's craft, knocking the older man into the water, and returned to run Austin down as he swam about.

Burroughs Shooting Hearing Postponed; Experts Are Absent

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The reenactment of the shooting of Joan Burroughs of St. Louis was postponed for the second time Wednesday when ballistics experts and the court's English interpreter failed to show up.

The interpreter was needed to represent William S. Burroughs, grandson of the adding machine inventor, who is held in connection with the death of his wife. She was shot last Fall during a gay party. Burroughs said he fired accidentally as he was examining a pistol but he was held for trial. Later he was released on bond.

Burroughs appeared for the reenactment, a standard part of trial procedure here. But when the experts failed to appear, the reenactment was postponed to August 26.

Omaha Firm Buys Majority Stock In Permian Pipe Line

OMAHA—The Northern Natural Gas Company of Omaha has purchased 51 per cent of the Permian Basin Pipeline Company and revealed plans to transport natural gas from the Permian Basin to communities in Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota and Kansas.

Announcing the transaction Thursday, the firms said that Northern paid $102,000 for the stock and holds an option to purchase the entire capacity of the Permian Company.

The West Texas firm proposes to build a pipe line system from the Permian Basin to Skellytown, Texas, to connect with the Northern network. The $60,000,000 project would have an eventual capacity of 300,000,000 cubic feet daily. Application is pending with the Federal Power Commission.

Permian proposes to obtain its gas supply from the Spraberry area of West Texas and Lea County, N. M. It has a contract to buy 200,000,000 cubic feet of residue a day from several major firms in the area.

Four of Northern's officers have been elected to Permian's board of directors, and Permian's business office will be transferred from Chicago to Northern's office building in Omaha.

The new pipe line will be 284 miles long with 26-inch and 30-inch sections. Compressor stations will be constructed at Hobbs, N. M., Spraberry, Pembroke and Plymouth, Texas.

Mysterious Tipster Discloses Slaying, Threatens Others

CHICAGO—(AP)—A telephone caller directed police to the body of a man beaten to death with a hammer in a small downtown hotel and then played hide and seek with them after threatening to "kill again."
 After the tip-off on the slaying the man called police at least four more times Wednesday night, warning he meant to strike in two big North Side hotels. Police alerted the hotel managements, but nothing happened.
 Police Lt. John Golden finally made an appointment with the mysterious caller to meet him in a saloon. But the man failed to keep the appointment.
 The victim of the hammer slaying was identified tentatively as Thomas Acton, about 35, of 1832 Fourth Court W., Birmingham, Ala. His body was found after a mysterious phone caller told police to go to Room 414 of the Loop Hotel and "you'll find something bloody."
 Tony Liberato, the hotel manager, said Acton and another man who gave his name as Robert Moore registered in the room Wednesday morning.
 Moore is being sought for questioning.

Now Skunks Will Be Skunks, Fur Dealers Notwithstanding

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Flanning to buy your wife an arctic seal coat? Or a Mendoza beaver? Or a Galland squirrel?
 Better grab your checkbook and start running, then. For after midnight Friday these fancy names will pass into history and all three furs must be sold under their right name: rabbit.
 Many another ad writer's pipe-dream—"river sable" for muskrat, for example, and "genet" for plain pussy cat—likewise will be outlawed when the new fur-labeling act, signed by President Truman a year ago, finally goes into effect.
 This law says all fur coats and other fur garments must be advertised and sold under "the true English name of the animal from which the fur was taken."
 And the Federal Trade Commission, which will do most of the enforcing of the law, has prepared a list of 100 or so "true English names—from alpaca to zebra—which will let the customers know just what fur he or she is buying.
 Among the thought-up names thus ruled out: "black martens" for skunk, "blue Japanese wolf" for dyed goat, "Manchurian wolf" for Chinese dog.
 Through the law, says Harvey H. Hannah, chief of FTC's wool and fur labeling division, "Congress has set out to remove the veil of confusion, uncertainty and obscurity which has for the past decade clouded the minds of many potential fur buyers."
 Congress made it tough on any dealer who refuses to call a skunk a skunk, too. The penalties for violators run up to a $5,000 fine or a year in jail or both.
 Besides doing away with such elegant subtleties as "Baltic lion" for rabbit and "mand-o-oon" for dyed lamb, the law requires sellers to state (1) whether the fur is used, bleached or dyed, and (2) where the fur came from, if it's imported.

Stevenson Hears Prediction Of Big Victory In South

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, heartened over the growing support of his presidential candidacy in the South, kept up his round of discussions with party leaders Thursday.
 W. Averill Harriman flew to Springfield for a conference with White House talk with President Truman.
 Harriman, mutual security administrator, was the second unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate to visit Stevenson in two days.
 Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia spent three hours with the Illinois governor Wednesday and predicted Stevenson would sweep the South and win election "by one of the largest majorities man ever had."

Fire Levels Four Firms In Paradise

PARADISE—(AP)—Four business establishments in this Wise County town were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin Wednesday night. Damage had not been estimated.
 The businesses were the grocery and gift shop of Lee J. Harms, a grocery operated by Jesse Green, a cafe owned by Drew Wesmer, and the barber shop of R. A. McMain.
 All the concerns were housed in one brick building on the main street of Paradise. The stores were separated by wooden partitions.
 The blaze was well advanced when a Bridgeport fire truck arrived here. Bridgeport is six miles south of Paradise.
 The Bridgeport firemen prevented the blaze from spreading to other structures, including several filling stations, a general store and the postoffice.
 Two trucks from Decatur and crews led by Chief Dean Brunell also drove here to aid.

Baby Skin Oil for Women Gives Baby - Textured Skin

There's a cosmetic on the market today made of superfine vegetable oils that are closely patterned to the natural oils of the skin—the same oils that are abundantly present in the skin of babies, but that vanish as we grow older. Every time you cleanse your skin with cream, or soap and water—some of these natural oils are removed. Dryness and fine lines eventually result if we don't restore them.

A Chicago pharmacist, Mary Imogene Shepherd, graduate in pharmacy from the State University of Iowa, has perfected this bland but rich oil especially for dry, sensitive complexions. The skin simply drinks it up! It's light-as-a-feather and has a delicate fragrance. Regular use of this golden oil gives the skin a lush, moist texture—and helps the skin keep the resiliency and satin finish that everyone admires in a baby's skin.

Particularly during the summer months when exposure to the sun dries out the natural oils of the skin—Miss Shepherd's rare oil should be used regularly to prevent the wrinkles that result from dryness.

Her oil has many wonderful uses. As a night treatment for sensitive, dry skins—just a few drops applied after cleansing with an upward and outward motion over the face and neck, will keep dryness completely under control if used faithfully.

It's a boon for the woman with dry skin who does not like to sleep with greasy creams on her face, because it disappears almost immediately into the skin, leaving no residue on the face! Always use a drop or two around the eyes and throat as these areas age and dry out more quickly than any other part of your face.

As a morning treatment, apply a few drops to remove "sleep lines" and dryness—and soften the skin in preparation for a smoother make-up! Allow oil to remain on five minutes while showering, then remove with a warm, moist wash cloth. Your skin will glow like a baby's!

The oil provides an excellent sun tan oil to prevent sunburn and promote a golden tan. As a midday freshener, keep a bottle handy in the office. Remove your make-up with it at the end of a day before an evening party. It's effective, too, for smoothing the rough skin on your heels, calves, elbows and hands!

One of the wonderful things about this oil is that it takes just a few seconds a day to use, and can be used right along with your regular cosmetics.

Mary Imogene Shepherd's BABY SKIN OIL FOR WOMEN is all you ask for. It's priced from 1.00 to 5.00 plus fed. tax at HINKEL'S Cosmetic Department, Midland.

Upsurge In Tomato Prices Called Temporary In City

An upsurge in the price of tomatoes in Midland is only temporary and should be back to normal within a week, when plenty of tomatoes will be available on dealer's shelves, the Webb-Davis Fruit Company, wholesale distributors for this area, said Thursday.
 The firm said that the temporary lack of a sufficient supply of tomatoes was being caused by a change from the Northern to the Southern district.
 Wholesale price has increased from two to three cents a pound on tomatoes and this in turn has been passed on by the retailer to the consumer, the firm said.
 Tomatoes are presently selling in Midland from 23 to 25 cents a pound.
 "The California market is opening up just now and should be reaching Midland within a week," the firm reported.

Red Cross To Hear Germ War Charges

TORONTO—(AP)—The eighteenth International Red Cross Conference overrode Soviet objections and voted 69 to 12 Wednesday night for an impartial investigation of Communist charges of U. S. germ warfare in Korea.
 Discussion of a rival Chinese Communist resolution, which stated charges as a proven fact, was postponed until Thursday.
 U. S. Delegate Charles Burton Marshall said the United States was gratified by the vote for a Belgian-sponsored resolution calling for the investigation. He added the Communists "have no case and never had one."

Fighting Families Reunite In Korea

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—Col. Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., son of the late Gen. "Vinegar" Joe Stilwell of World War II fame, in the China-Burma-India theater, Thursday was appointed commander of the 23rd Regiment of the U. S. Second Division.
 The 40-year-old Columbus, Ga., and Falls Church, Va., soldier has been in the Army 23 years. He is a West Point graduate.
 The assignment reunited two fighting families. Maj. Mark Boatner of Wilson, La., will be Stilwell's regimental intelligence officer. Boatner's uncle, Maj. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner—tamer of the turbulent Koje Island war prisoner camp—was General Stilwell's chief of staff in World War II. Young Stilwell at the same time was his father's intelligence officer.

Voters Assure Rhee Of Four More Years As Korean President

PUSAN, KOREA—(AP)—Aging President Syngman Rhee was swept back into office by an overwhelming majority in almost complete unofficial returns from the Republic of Korea's first direct election of chief executives.
 Rhee's choice for vice president—Ham Tai Yung, a little known Presbyterian minister—piled up a commanding lead over eight opponents in late returns from Tuesday's election.
 The 77-year-old Rhee puttered in the garden of his palatial presidential residence in Seoul as the vote count, gathered over police communications channels, assured his return to office for four years.
 He declined to make a statement or pose for photographs. His secretary beamed. "Mr. Rhee is very happy over the outcome."
 The inauguration is set for August 15—fourth anniversary of the Republic—and probably will be held in Seoul's war-damaged capital.
 Returns from 181 of 183 counting places gave Rhee 4,969,299 votes to 762,772 for Cho Bong Am, vice chairman of the National Assembly and former Communist leader; 748,945 for Lee Shi Yung, former vice president, and 24,469 for Hugh Cynn, former ambassador to Japan.
 Returns from 140 counting places gave Ham 2,198,529 votes. His closest opponents were Lee Bum Suk with 1,484,024 and Chough Pyung Ok with 808,385.
 Official returns are to be announced August 13.

Bethlehem Agrees To CIO Pact Terms

 The agreement will run until June 30, 1954, with a wage reopening clause effective June 30, 1953.

Normal Cattle Imports Due As Mexican Embargo Closes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department said Thursday about 500,000 head of cattle are expected to come into this country from Mexico in the first 12 months after September 1, if the border reopens then as scheduled.

The border has been closed to Mexican cattle for about five years as a result of an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease.

The Agriculture Department announced March 12 that it will be reopened September 1, contingent upon no further outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease. No cases have been reported since August, 1951.

Before the closing of the border, the United States normally imported 400,000 to 500,000 head of cattle each year from Mexico.

Two livestock specialists of the department, Floyd E. Davis and George J. Dietz, made the estimate on probable imports after a trip to Mexico to study the situation.

A department news release, based on their findings, pointed out that the number of cattle exported from Mexico will be subject to quotas established by the Mexican government.

The bulk of the Mexican steers will be thin and will require further grazing, the report said. Thus the level of demand will hinge heavily on domestic grazing conditions, particularly in Texas and the South-west range states.

A duty must be paid on cattle coming from Mexico.

Mexicans Insure Against Shortage

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The government has put export controls on live cattle to make sure that opening of the U. S. border does not cause a meat shortage here.

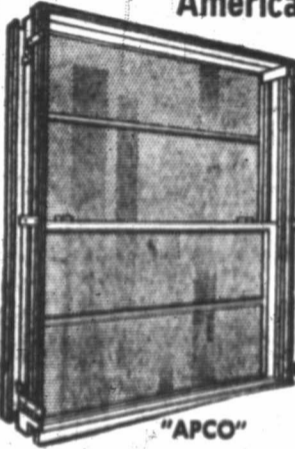

A government decree will require a permit from the secretary of national economy for any export of cattle.

Slaughterhouses here have complained that shipments to the U. S. may cause a shortage of meat for Mexico's own consumption, in view of the higher U. S. prices. The new decree will permit the government to cut off shipments if such shortages occur.

Oklahoma City Police Frown On Willie The Panhandler's Big-Scale Operations

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Willie the Panhandler told wide-eyed policemen Wednesday he thinks Oklahoma City people have hearts of gold.

Willie, who is probably the nation's best panhandler, said he came to Oklahoma City from Dallas Tuesday because things were getting slow in the Texas city. So slow, in fact, he couldn't afford to keep up the payments on his new Lincoln and give a young chauffeur $35 a week to drive it for him.

His first day in Oklahoma netted him $64, he said, and Wednesday was going about the same. Willie is 34, and has been paralyzed from the waist down since childhood because of infantile paralysis. He travels in a de-lap-dated little wagon which he propels with his hands.

Two scout car officers arrested Willie when his chauffeur tried to change $50 worth of nickels and dimes into paper money.

"This boy ain't doing anything wrong," Willie protested. "I gave him the money. I pay him $35 a week as my chauffeur. You know I can't drive the car myself."

In his private papers police uncovered a book from a Dallas automobile financing firm showing Willie pays $143 a month for his new Lincoln.

"My overhead with the chauffeur is $283 a month before I get a bite to eat or buy my clothes," wailed Willie. "A dollar today is worth about 30 cents normally."

Police officers said they would not file charges if Willie left town and went back to Dallas.

Acheson Says ANZUS Off To Good, Harmonious Start

HONOLULU—(AP)—Foreign ministers of the U. S., Australia and New Zealand Thursday launched the first formal peacetime system of military cooperation among the three nations.

However, they adopted a "go slow" policy on bringing other non-Communist Pacific nations into the security organization. That would be premature, said a communique issued after they adjourned their three-day conference Wednesday night. But they promised other countries would be consulted closely through regular diplomatic channels.

The foreign minister of one interested nation not present, Joaquin Elizalde of the Philippines, said in Manila his country and Japan may join the ANZUS powers soon in a five-power conference to coordinate Pacific defense against communism. He did not say who would take the initiative.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson told reporters the ANZUS meetings had been "very intimate, very informal," and "we are all very happy."

Richard G. Casey, Australian minister for external affairs, said the sessions were without argument or maneuvering for position. T. Clifton Webb, New Zealand's foreign minister, declared:

"We are very appreciative to the United States and we have been taken completely into their confidence and thinking."

Key step taken to implement last year's three-power treaty signed in San Francisco was the creation of a joint military staff to meet periodically at Pearl Harbor, Melbourne and Wellington, N. Z.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, U. S. Pacific Fleet commander, was designated American representative to the military staff. Australia and New Zealand will name theirs later.

Junior Grade West Coast Politico Visits In Midland

Twelve-year-old Dan Taylor, a junior grade politician from El Monte, Calif., arrived in Midland Wednesday night for a month's visit.

The trip here is a reward presented to him by his folks for having been elected president of the student body of Columbia Grade School in El Monte, Calif., one of the largest grammar schools in the country.

Dan did it the hard way too, carrying on a junior size campaign, designed to swing the vote of his junior constituents.

Using the campaign title, "Danny Taylor, the Dancing Sailor," he polled 600 more votes than any other candidate had ever received in being elected to the office.

A tap dancer and ballet student, he had played a dancing sailor on a television program and hence the title.

Not only is Dan a master politician, he is an honor student and an outstanding athlete as well.

He is visiting the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Kelly of 2901 West Ohio Street while in Midland. He and Mrs. Kelly's son became acquainted while attending the same school in California.

Young Taylor was held in such high esteem by California school officials that he was asked to lay the corner stone for a new elementary building which they are constructing.

Now with politics behind him, Dan is making his first trip to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly and son met Dan at the station Wednesday night with a placard reading:

Welcome, President Taylor, to Midland.

New Allied Bombing Campaign Calculated To Break Ko-Red Stalling On Armistice

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United Nations Command has embarked on a systematic bombing campaign deliberately calculated to destroy the enemy's will to hold out against an armistice in Korea.

Military officials here placed this interpretation on the Tokyo announcement that military targets in 78 North Korean population centers have been selected for destruction, after civilians have been warned by radio and leaflets that bombs are coming their way.

The Psychological Warfare Section of Gen. Mark Clark's UN Command borrowed a leaf from World War II history in stressing the warning phase. The most notable precedent for telling enemy civilians that their cities were earmarked for obliteration was established in the final atomic bomb chapter of the war against Japan.

General Clark's disclosure of the scheduled effort to smash North Korea's will and ability to continue resistance held no hint, however, of atomic bombings or the kind of mass destruction raids that were launched against German and Japanese cities during the last war.

The UN Command "and more than one and one-half million leaflets have told North Korean civilians that the Allied Air Forces "must destroy all Communist military supplies and installations—and it knows where they are."

UN intelligence has known a long time that the Reds have been using cities and towns not only to house troops and supplies but also for important headquarters and military communications centers.

The Allies hit some of these objectives earlier in the war but generally tried to avoid bombing population centers unless urgent military needs dictated otherwise.

The campaign announced from Tokyo said that civilians in North Korea are subject to bombing and strafing when military targets in their areas are attacked. The leaflets dropped behind enemy lines blame the Red leaders for jeopardizing civilians by hiding military objectives in population areas.

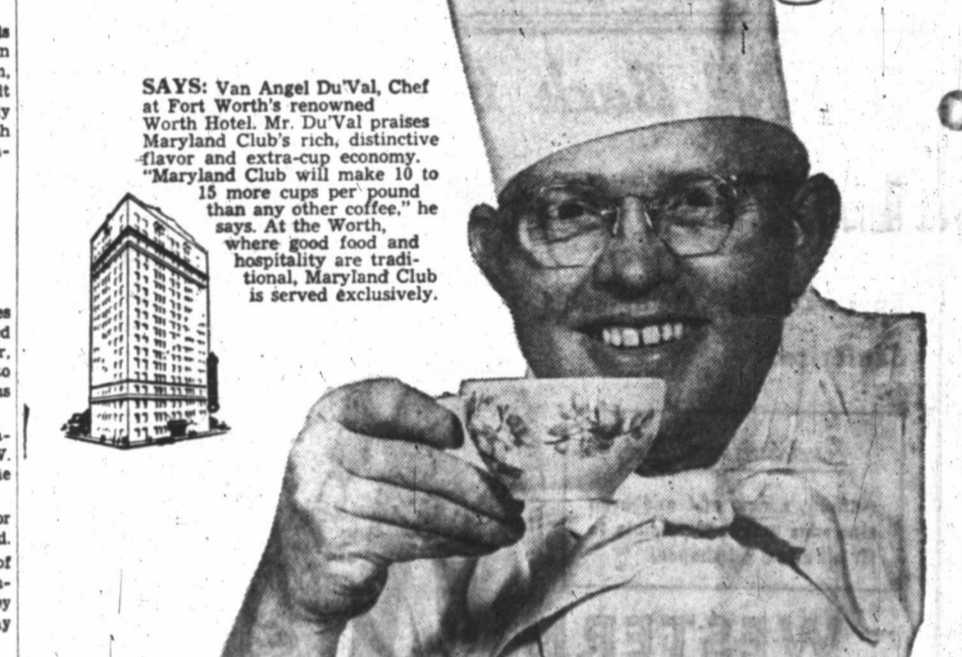

The psychological angle is frankly calculated to wear down the will of civilians and their leaders and thus to weaken the enemy's war effort.

Should North Koreans be permitted to leave the cities and the military support jobs they have been doing the Red commanders will find it even more difficult than how to get supplies and equipment to their front lines.

MAN, TARPON SWAP PLACES

FERNANDINA BEACH, Fla. — (AP) — Man and fish changed places in a recent incident along Florida's Biscayne Trail. A giant silver king tarpon hooked by W. J. Richards, Jacksonville, fan-tailed up out of the water and landed squarely in another fisherman's small boat. The other man — whose name Richards didn't get — surrendered the dry boat to the fish and promptly took to the ocean. Richards got the fish — an 85-pounder.

OPERATOR HAS BUSY TIME

CENTRALIA, Ill. — (AP) — Marie Potts got experience on her first day at the Valsemer, Ill., telephone switchboard that would equal that of some veteran "hello" girls. A small tornado roared up the valley into Valsemer. In quick order the new operator handled fire and ambulance calls before lines went down and her switchboard all but blacked out.

New Egyptian Regime Called Key To Middle East Defenses

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Western powers and Turkey are considering shelving their long-stalled proposal for a Middle East defense organization. This would have the more limited task of planning the defense of that area against possible Russian moves. Political developments in Egypt are regarded here as holding the key to what is done. Many American officials hope the new Egyptian government, with an eye to modernizing the country's armed forces, may reverse previous opposition to joining forces with the West and at least participate in a planning group. The establishment of a Middle East Defense Organization would provide a political basis for military assistance by the United States and possibly other Western powers to cooperating countries. It is understood that, because of antagonisms between Israel and the Arab nations, the Jewish state would not become a member of MEDO but would receive military assistance from the United States so that the present balance of power as between Arabs and Jews would be maintained. There are some differences between Washington and London over when and with whom MEDO should be organized. The British are understood to favor going ahead as soon as possible with formation of the planning group, incorporating those nations that are willing to join in and leaving out, temporarily at least, those which have cold-shouldered defense unification so far. The United States government, on the other hand, asserted the view that any organization set-up should have maximum membership in the Middle East if it is to be useful. The proposal for a Middle East Command was put forth by the United States, Britain, France and Turkey in November, 1951. The project bogged down because of tensions created by Egypt's dispute with Britain over control of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. It did win prompt acceptance from interested governments outside the area whose communications depend on transport through the Middle East — Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. Recently the sponsoring governments and those three commonwealth countries have been reviewing the situation to see whether they could get the project moving again. The tentative conclusion growing out of the consultations so far held is that the planning organization would be simpler to set up than a formal command structure and would be adequate for dealing with the initial problems involved in strengthening defense of the area. If it proved successful it could at some later stage develop into the command staff originally envisioned.

Nicolls Hurls 20th Victory As Tribe Beats Broncs, 8-2

By COPE ROUTH
Right-hander Keith Nicolls, a wide-breaking curve, Nicolls never was in serious trouble all night as he marked up his twentieth victory against seven defeats.

The Broncs bunched two singles in the opening inning and two in the finale but that was as close as they ever came to an old-fashioned fence-busting rally.

The Indians, on the other hand, pounded away steadily at Bert Estrada, the lanky Big Spring right-hander, picking up 14 hits, including two-baggers by Julio de la Torre, Scooter Hughes and Patrick O'Keefe.

Breezing smoothly along, the Indians bunched four hits in the eighth inning to chalk up their final three runs and salt the game away in the record book.

The Broncs started off like they meant business.

First Baseman Ricky Gonzales, who accounted for three of the Big Spring safeties, didn't even wait to see what Nicolls was offering as the night's special when he stepped to the plate as the leadoff man.

Brown Juggles Ball
He slapped the first pitched ball right through second base for a single, adding another base when Center Fielder Bill Brown juggled the ball and then scoring on Witty Quintana's ground single through shortstop.

But Nicolla was just getting warmed up.

During the next five innings, he pitched to only 16 men. Two of them actually scratched through with hits, only to be forced at second on the next play.

The Indians, meanwhile, settled down to the job of giving their mound ace a little margin of safety.

In the first inning, First Baseman Earl Rosenberg and Hughes singled, moved ahead one base on Estrada's wild pitch and then scored on O'Keefe's stinging single into center field.

In the third, O'Keefe led off with a single, skipped to third on De la Torre's two-bagger into left field and scored on Brown's single to right.

De la Torre was called out at home after an attempted steal from third.

In the fourth inning, Nicolls reached first on an error, moved ahead on Rosenberg's walk and raced on home when Hughes lined a single into right center field.

O'Keefe Denies Plate
O'Keefe walked in the seventh, moved around on a sacrifice and a balk and crossed the plate after Carl Barbour flied out to deep left field.

The Indians added another three runs for good measure in the eighth on singles by Rosenberg, Manny Temes and De la Torre and O'Keefe's two-base hit into center field.

The Broncs limped into the ninth inning with a long string of zeros behind them and, boasting a big lead, Nicolls eased up a bit.

Buddy Grimes reached first on Barbour's bad pick-up, moved to second when Bert Baez, pinch-hitting for Estrada, lined one through the pitcher's box and scored on Gonzales' single to left.

Nicolls calmly struck out Ozzie Alvarez with three pitches to retire the side and end the ball game.

Oilers Smother Late Angelo Rally For 5 To 4 Victory

ODESSA—(P)—Center Fielder Marion Tredaway threw out Greg Solis at home for the final out in the top of the ninth here Wednesday night to shut off a San Angelo threat and give Odessa a 5-4 victory.

Solis, batting for Ronnie Dacko, walked, advanced to second on Park Thomas' single and tried to score when John Margarini singled to center. He was out by five feet.

Bill Cearley, the Roswell castoff, drove home four of Odessa's five runs to help Ben Quintana to his seventh pitching win against no-defeats. Cearley singled home Tredaway in the first and then hit a homer with Tredaway and Leo Eastham in the third. Raul Di-eggs homered in the sixth for Odessa's fourth run.

Rockets Nip Sweetwater

SWEETWATER—(P)—Andy Alonso of Roswell bested Sweetwater's Marcello Solis, 3-2, in a tight pitching duel here Wednesday night.

Alonso scattered six hits for his fourteenth victory against eight losses. Solis allowed nine safeties, four of the infield variety.

Roswell snapped a 3-2 tie in the fifth inning when Leo Palmer led off with an infield single, Elwood Grantham walked after Stubby Greer popped out, and Al Monchak singled across Palmer with the winning run.

Sweetwater had to rally to tie it up in the fourth as Alonso filled the bases on walks with no one out. Johnny Morris' outfield fly scored Charlie Buck and Earl Finley drove in Warren Sitter with a single. Finley was thrown out trying to steal second.

The Rockets tallied their first run in the second on singles by Wayne Crawford, Monchak, and Frank Calo.

They added a second run in the fourth when Calo doubled, took third on a wild pitch, and came home on Van Huppert's outfield fly.

Old Satchmo still has it. Even if he is "48 going on 49," as some folks say, Satchel Paige still has the stuff to bewilder big league hitters. Let there be no doubt about it.

If Paige had spent his career in the majors, instead of knocking around the exhibition circuit in the negro leagues, he would have been a sure thing for the Cooperstown Hall of Fame.

Paige and old Jersey Joe Walcott belong in the same class—two remarkably preserved old specimens who still can show the kids how it is done.

Deserts Bulpen
Satchmo chose to desert the St. Louis bullpen Wednesday night for a starting role—the second time he'd tried it this year. In fact, he hadn't pitched an entire nine innings since 1949 on his last hitch in the majors with Cleveland.

Even youngsters will in the late innings but not Paige. Locked in a 0-0 duel with Detroit's Virgil Trucks, he pitched nine shutout innings. After Trucks gave way to a pinch-hitter in the tenth and Hal White took over, Paige still was in there throwing goose eggs at the Tigers, in the tenth, eleventh and twelfth.

Bob Nieman's bases-loaded single with two out in the twelfth finally got him home with a 1-0 win, his eighth of the year. The box score showed only seven hits for the Tigers—six of them singles. Satchel walked only two and struck out nine in his brilliant effort.

Walt Masterson pitched the Senators to a 6-4 victory over the New York Yankees, striking out 11.

Yank Lead Shrinks
The loss shrunk the Yanks' lead to three games because Cleveland won its day game from Chicago, 7-1, for Early Wynn's 13th victory. Larry Doby, who hit his twenty-fourth homer off Bill Kennedy in the first, ruined Eddie Robinson's single, permitting Minnie Miñoso to score the lone White Sox run in the ninth.

Midland Nine Wins Opener In Title Bid

ODESSA—Getting off on the right foot, the Midland North Little League All-Stars Wednesday took a step in the direction of the District Three Little League title and a chance to enter the regional playoffs in Midland next week when they blasted out an 8-0 victory over the Odessa American League All-Stars here.

Elton Howard turned in the white-wash job as he limited the Odessa Little League to only one hit, a single by Ormond in the fifth inning.

Howard sent 13 men down via the strikeout route out of the 18 men who faced him in his six-inning stint.

Meanwhile, his mates took advantage of two big innings to win. Littlejohn Singles.

In the first frame, the Midlanders tallied on a single by Gary Littlejohn, Fred Hedges' fielder's choice and Gary Samford's double to right field for one run.

Then in the third inning, the Midland crew counted seven times on three singles and a double, two bases on balls and two Odessa errors.

Now the Midland North Little Leaguers must play the winner of the Crane-Odessa National League game in Odessa at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

If they win that tilt, they must play the winner of the McCamey-Midland South Little League tilt for the District Three title.

Coaches Ask Bigger Voice In IL Affairs

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Texas High School Coaches Association held its annual meeting Thursday with a flock of recommendations going to the Texas Intercollegiate League affecting Spring and Fall football training, track, basketball and baseball.

The coaches also renewed their fight for representation on the powerful advisory council of the league. They have been turned down before on grounds that the athletic program is conducted by the school administrators and the coaches should not be in a position to legislate into dominance of the school program.

These recommendations went to R. J. Kidd, director, and Rhea Williams, athletic director, of the league at a luncheon with the board of directors of the association.

Before that the association met to elect officers with Abe Houston of Brownwood slated to be elevated from vice president to president.

The coaches are asking that Spring football training be cut from 30 days to 18 but with Fall training to start August 25 instead of September 1. The plan to trim Spring training is aimed at wording of a referendum expected to be held next Spring on the question of abolishing Spring training altogether on grounds that it interferes with the Spring sports.

North Is Favorite In Star Cage Tilt

FORT WORTH (AP)—The eighth All-Star basketball game of the Texas Coaching School is scheduled Thursday night with the North, coached by Vadal Peterson of Utah, a heavy favorite to win for the sixth time.

Geared to Mack Carter of Borger, called one of the finest college prospects he ever saw by Peterson, the North starting team has an average of 543 points to the man. The South, coached by Henry Iba of Oklahoma A&M, has an average of almost 400 points per player.

The South boasts a narrow margin in height with each team averaging better than 6 feet, one and one-half inches. The South's hottest shot is Charlie Howard of Sherman, who flipped in 752 points last season. Top scorer of the North is C. L. Nix of Laneville, who registered 1,033 points.

A crowd of 2,500 is expected to see the game in Will Rogers Coliseum, where 10,000 can be accommodated.

San Angeloan-Led Team Wins Annual Kattmann Matches

LUBBOCK (AP)—A team of visitors, captained by Hattie Carson of San Angelo, won the annual Kattmann Cup matches here Wednesday by a 37-26 score. Lubbock was the defending champion.

The visitors were led by Fort Worth City Champion Ernie Bosser who shot a 67 for the best round of the day.

The visiting team included such outstanding West Texas amateurs as Billy Maxwell, Billy Erfurth, Lee Pinkston, Wesley Ellis and Stan Mosel.

SPORTS NOTES

BENCH JOCKEY
By BOB ADAMS

With the Midland Indians currently waxing warm in the Longhorn circuit, we are hesitant to take off for Fort Worth and the Texas High School Coaching School.

The Tribe, through Wednesday, had won eight of their last 10 games under new Manager Jay Haney, and four of them have been against the upper crust of the league.

We are to arrive in Cowtown Thursday. While there, we will take in the North-South All-Star basketball game Thursday night and the All-Star football game Friday night.

While on the subject of football, Wesley Martin, director of special services at Midland High School, announced Wednesday that season tickets to the Midland Bulldogs' home games this year will be placed on sale September 3 for three successive nights.

Martin said his staff is in the process of re-assigning season tickets to persons who had them last year and who want them again this year.

Home folk will be treated to six games this year by the Bulldogs while only four will be played away. The season will open here September 19 with Lamesa, closing November 27 with powerful Odessa.

Coach Thurman L. (Tugboat) Jones will sound the call to practice on September 1. Just five days later, the first football game in the area will be played. Andrews is host to Roscoe on September 4.

In response to the requests for a schedule of Midland Bulldogs' games, we are running the slate. Clip it out and keep in your billfold for future reference, we suggest.

- Here is the card:
- September 19—Midland vs Lamesa—here.
  - September 26—Midland vs Poly (Fort Worth)—here.
  - October 3—Midland vs Ysleta—here.
  - October 10—San Angelo vs Midland—there—conference.
  - October 17—Borger vs Midland—there—conference.
  - October 24—Pampa vs Midland—there—conference.
  - October 31—Abilene vs Midland—here—conference.
  - November 7—Open.
  - November 14—Amarillo vs Midland—here—conference.
  - November 21—Lubbock vs Midland—here—conference (day).
  - November 27—Midland vs Odessa—there—conference.

West Texas will get a sample of professional football August 29 when the Dallas Texans play an exhibition game with the Philadelphia Eagles at Broncho Stadium in Odessa.

Between 10,000 and 15,000 tickets already have been sold for the clash, according to Sports Editor Spec Gammon of the Odessa American. But there are plenty more seats available.

Broncho Stadium seats around 33,000 spectators. Tickets to the game will be placed on sale soon at the Midland Chamber of Commerce office in Hotel Scharbauer.

The players themselves should be giving it the old college try in the Odessa game. Each squad will number about 50 players, all of whom will be trying to make the team, usually pared down to 35 men for regular season play.

Back to baseball briefly: Jay Haney, new manager of the Midland Indians, needs a two-bedroom, unfurnished house so he can bring his family here from Lamesa.

If you know of such a place, call Horace Busby, business manager of the Midland Indians, at 4-8224.

Layne, Charles Go Friday In Unofficial Title Scrap

ODEN, Utah (AP)—Rez Layne, Utah's hope for the world's heavyweight championship, ruled a 6-5 favorite Thursday to whip Edward Charles in their 10-round fight Friday night in Municipal Stadium.

Promoter Kenny Mayne said the fight will be Utah's own version of the championship. He will give a championship belt to the winner on the ground that Charles is "the uncorrupted champion of the world."

Many boxing writers thought Charles beat Champion Jersey Joe Ewell.

All-Stars Of Crane Thump Odessa, 3-0

ODESSA—Crane's all-star Little Leaguers scored three runs in an extra inning here Wednesday to set down the Odessa "National League" stars, 3-0.

Crane's winning twirler Evans struck out 14 batters and limited the losers to two hits. Loser Tompson gave up five, one of them a bases-loaded single in the seventh which combined with an error to give the Crane team its first victory. Pinch-hitter Bryley tapped the winning blow.

Comments—Soviets Not Unfriendly At Olympics

NEW YORK (AP)—Comments from American Olympic team members as they stepped off planes at Midway Airport Wednesday:

Pole vaulter Bob Richards: "Most of us were dubious of what the spirit of the Russians would be and we felt they thought we were a bunch of capitalists. But it was amazing to see their expressions of friendliness. Our relations on the field were fine."

Diver Paula Jean Meyers: "The Russian divers were pretty good and very nice, but they are awful big."

Olympic Committee Member Jeremiah T. Mahoney: "The preparation in Finland for the games was beyond our fondest expectations. Conditions could not have been better."

Rower (Chuck) Legg, Jr. and Tom Price, "Cinderella" winners of pairs without coxswain: "We didn't believe we had won at first."

Fencing Captain Mike de Capriles: "The Russian and Polish fencers looked promising and are going to be a threat in the next four years."

Fort Worth Grabs Tie For Loop Lead

By The Associated Press
Fort Worth and Dallas jumped on an equal footing in the Cat and Eagle fight for the Texas League pennant.

That is, counting Shreveport out of the battle for the moment, the Sports having nudged Oklahoma City, 5-0, for a secure third place hold.

Fort Worth moved into a lead tie when Rudy Paynich turned in a beauty of a three-hitter, snubbing Houston, 5-2, while Dallas lost a 5-3 first-game decision to San Antonio. Dallas, then, turned into a beat at the plate and blasted 22 hits for a 12-10 win in the finale of the double-header.

In the other game, Beaumont and Tulsa traded three-hitters; the Roughnecks finished best in the swap by 2-0.

The Renaissance' Jack Smith was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning, after giving up nine runs and Nelson Brown finished up on the mound.

Two more games in the three-for-five playoffs will be played Thursday, beginning at 7:45 p.m.

91 Pros Start In 'World' Gold Rush

CHICAGO (AP)—Golf's biggest gold rush was on Thursday.

With $90,000 at stake, 90 men pros and 11 play-for-pay gals started swinging in the "World Championship of Golf" at Tam O'Shanter course for unprecedented prizes.

Promoter George S. May's "World" meet also has amateur competition for men and women in a sort of four-ringed circus, but the pro showdown for a $25,000 first prize and $5,000 feminine top grab hogged the spotlight.

There may be some question about the gay-blossomed May tabbing his show an international title affair, but for a cold cash layout, there has never been anything like this 78-hole medal-play event ending Sunday.

The previous high payoff for any pro event was the $12,500 May gave Ben Hogan for winning last year's "world."

Hogan, apparently miffed over May's refusal to toss in some appearance money, won't defend his title.

If last week's curtain-raiser to the world, May's All-American tourney means anything, Samuel Jackson Sneed is the man to whip for the $25,000 pot.

Sneed strolled off with the All-American with a 17-under-par 271, eight strokes ahead of the field, thus padding his bank account by $2,420.

But chasing him will be a select crowd, including 34 players who broke 80-par in the All-American scramble. Sambo's chief trouble may come from runner-up Tommy Bolt, Cary Middlecott, Jack Burke, Wally Ulrich, Doug Ford and National PGA Champion Jim Turnesa, all bracketed within three strokes in the All-American.

In the $12,000 women's professional section, defending Champion Babe Zaharias is making her first competitive try since an early June hernia operation. Her chief rival appears to be Louise Suggs, who won the $1,000 first prize in the All-American women's open.

All-American Champion Frank Stranahan of Toledo defends his world's amateur crown.

Net Tournery Adds Veterans Division

In a meeting of the executive committee which is sponsoring the first annual Midland Tennis Tournament here, August 18-25, the group elected to set up a new division for veterans, 35 years old and older. The division will be for both singles and doubles competition.

The committee also voted to accept applications for those tennis players who are interested in entering a mixed doubles division.

However, they said the admission fees would be accepted with the understanding that the fees would be refunded in the event registration does not warrant those matches.

Tournament officials said spectator and player interest to the meet has been favorable and plans are progressing nicely.

All registration for the meet is to be at the Midland Youth Center under the director of John (Myrt) Baker, director of the center.

Trophies, donated by Elder Chevrolet Company and the Midland National Bank, will be presented to all winners in the meet.

Rotary Club Charter Member Tells Early Organization History

The history of Rotary in Midland was reviewed by W. Ily Pratt in an address delivered at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday noon at the Midland Country Club.

Pratt, one of the charter members and the first president of the Midland club, was introduced by Ralph Trost, program chairman.

The speaker said the Midland Rotary Club was organized in March of 1926 with 34 charter members.

He listed five other of the charter members who still are active in the club. They are Fred Wemple, Ralph M. Barron, T. Paul Barron, W. A. Yeager and Addison Wadley.

The club here was sponsored by the Sweetwater Rotary Club.

Ellis Boyd of Fort Worth, who then was district governor of Rotary, presented the club's charter at a meeting held March 9, 1926, in the old high school building.

Pratt recalled that the club at first met in the old Llano Hotel, but moved its meeting place to Hotel Schaefer upon its completion in 1928.

Pratt, after serving as president, later was secretary of the club for 10 years. He recalled interesting incidents through the years and told of the accomplishments of the organization since its beginning.

President Richard Brooks said Rotarians and their Rotary-Anns are invited to attend a ladies night meeting of the Big Spring, club there August 22.

Rains Ease Drouth In East, South, But Many Crops Lost

By The Associated Press

Drouth-cracking rains splashed down Wednesday on New England and parts of the South—too late to save nearly a billion dollars worth of burned out crops and pastures.

But the moisture was a timely life-saver for corn, tobacco, cotton and vegetable crops still surviving in these drouth-singed areas and gave promise of reviving some pastures by Fall.

The drouth, one of the worst in years to hit the nation's over-all food production, already is having these effects:

Some sharp increases in produce prices, scattered setbacks to rural trade, cuts in milk supplies in Southern Missouri, a decline in farm labor employment in the stricken area and some "scarce" buying in canned fruits and vegetables.

A Department of Commerce survey showed no serious business slump yet in any area because of the drouth but that there had been some sharp increases in produce prices.

As the rains came, the federal government raised to 13 the number on entire states listed as disaster areas. It added North Carolina and the remainder of Arkansas to the list.

Other states are South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Massachusetts, Maine and 44 Missouri counties. Oklahoma and Texas have been carried over from the 1951 drouth.

Farmers in these areas are eligible for government loans.

The Southern states were assured by a government spokesman attending an emergency drouth session in Atlanta Wednesday that no hard-pressed farmer will be put out of business or be forced to sacrifice livestock.

Dillard Lasseter, head of the Farmers Home Administration, said his agency has the money and organization to bring speedy relief.

Agricultural spokesmen said the drouth was broken in Southern New England and in parts of the South. Arkansas had general rain but the Weather Bureau said it was not enough to break the drouth there.

Birmingham, Ala., reported 2.58 inches of rain, heaviest since January 1, as the climax to a week of drouth-easing showers, but the rains were too late to reduce the estimated 100 million dollars crop loss in that state.

A total of 1.86 inches of rain fell at Knoxville, Tenn., and the Weather Bureau said the drouth was broken there. A half inch of rain fell in the Tennessee Valley.

At least 1.75 inches of rain pelted the entire state of Connecticut and Dr. Paul J. Anderson, director of the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station in Windsor, said the rain was worth "millions" to the tobacco crop alone.

Massachusetts deputy commissioner of Agriculture, James H. Collins, said 25 to 35 inches of rain in that state "ought to help everything."

Negro Rapist Due To Die Early Friday

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—A Huntsville negro is to die early Friday for the crime committed within shouting distance of the electric chair.

He is Major Preston, 34, who was convicted of raping a white woman just outside of the state penitentiary walls two years ago.

"Major" is his first name, not a military rank.

The assault on the 19-year-old Huntsville white woman occurred Feb. 11, 1950.

High Rate Of Traffic Deaths Alarms West German Chiefs

BONN, GERMANY—(AP)—Many people who drive cars in Western Germany wish they could wear armored suits.

And with reason. More than 14,000 persons die every year and 386,000 are injured in West German traffic accidents.

Slaughter on the nation's highways has rocketed 18 per cent over last year.

The West German traffic accident rate already was one of the highest in the world before this increase. And more Germans are learning to drive and are buying vehicles every month.

Worried government officials call this traffic slaughter the greatest national catastrophe since the war. They've finally decided, after long prodding by the Allies, to do something about it.

Federal Transport Minister Hans Seeborn announced the first nationwide safety drive since the war. Seeborn kicked off the drive with a public lecture to German motorists, saying:

"It seems that on German streets there is only one right—the right of the strong over the weak."

White-haired, ruddy Seeborn said traffic accidents in West Germany take half as many lives as were lost in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870-71. And traffic injuries hit four and one-half times as many people as were wounded in this war, he said.

Seeborn said the nation had 219,828 traffic accidents last year.

A big cause of the mounting

Expert Sets Final Death Toll In Waco Bus Disaster At 28

WACO—(AP)—An identification expert Thursday set the total dead in Monday's Greyhound bus crash at 28.

R. L. Trank, a civilian identification expert with the Air Force, made this report after completing classification of remains taken from the charred wreckage of the two buses.

The expert said he definitely had determined that 25 persons died in the early dawn tragedy. He explained that heat generated by the fire that followed the collision was not intense enough to cremate completely a human body. Therefore, he reasoned, no more than 25 persons lost their lives in the crash and resultant fire.

It had been feared the final toll would be greater than 25.

Eight bodies remained to be identified. One of them is that of a woman which identification experts say definitely is that of a Latin American.

Six more of the dead were identified Wednesday, leaving the eight bodies yet to be named.

Also issued was a list of five "probable" victims—in addition to the 20 bodies positively identified. Names on the "probable" list, he said, were added on basis of credible evidence that they were on one of the two buses.

Damage Suit Filed

Meanwhile, a $400,000 damage suit was filed in 74th District Court here against Southwestern Greyhound Lines on behalf of four children of Hilario Zamoula, Fort Worth, whose name is on the "probable" list. Mrs. Zamoula's body already has been identified.

A daughter, 11-year-old Matilda, was injured. Four Zamoula children not involved in the crash asked $50,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages each in the death of their father.

Zamoula was taking his family by bus to Mexico where he had a new job when the tragedy occurred.

The positively-identified dead:

1. Oscar G. Peterson, 63, San Antonio.
2. Mrs. Estelle Whitbeck, 65, San Antonio.
3. Milburn Berry Herring, 24, Waco, driver of the north-bound bus.
4. Mrs. Paris C. Munes, 67, Waco.

BRITISH ROCKET CHASES PLANES—Enemy bombers would have to make "well over" 3000 miles per hour to evade this new British rocket, according to Supply Minister Duncan Sandys. He recently watched impressive firing tests, like that pictured above, at Aberporth, Wales. The new rocket, which carries booster motors along its sides, can rise to "heights far greater than any bomber is likely to reach for many years to come." The 24-foot, 17-inch missile can be directed by radar beam and can steer themselves in the sharp turns necessary to intercept aircraft taking evasive action.

Midlander Seeks $10,000 Damages

SAN ANGELO—W. W. Sims of Midland has filed a $10,000 damage suit against the Standard Accident Insurance Company.

Sims claimed in the petition that he received totally incapacitating injuries as the result of an oil field accident while working for the Parker Drilling Company in Glasscock County March 27.

The plaintiff said he received severe head injuries when a weight indicator "crushed his head" between it and a drill pipe.

Japanese Troops Stick To Okinawa

TOKYO — (AP) — A 33-year-old Japanese soldier reports that 164 last-ditch troops from the vanquished Japanese army had settled down among the Okinawans and made their homes on the island. Also Wataguchi said on a recent visit to Japan that the army survivors wanted him to inquire about war pensions and disposition of the remains of Japan's war dead still on the island, which has become a major American base.

Pamela Ann Maddox, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Maddox, 406 South B Street, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital.

CORNY MYSTERY—This young lady with the tape measure seems a bit mystified at the plant beside her. And no wonder. It's a corn stalk growing very lustily out of a crack in the pavement on the corner of Washington and Jefferson Street near Chicago's Loop section.

Eisenhower Mum On Campaign Plans

DENVER — (AP) — Seeking a united GOP front, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower held conferences Thursday with two more pre-convention Taft supporters. The Republican presidential nominee met with Gov. Len B. Jordan of Idaho and George T. Hansen, the party's national committee man from Utah. Both Jordan and Hansen backed Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the nomination. The general also scheduled talks with two national committee women who were on his side at the Republican convention. They are Mrs. Ethel Hefflinger of Minnesota and Mrs. Bertha A. Adkin of Maryland. Although Taft pledged Eisenhower wholehearted support a few minutes after the general was nominated in Chicago, the Eisenhower camp was concerned at first that the Ohioan's followers might do little to make his pledge effective. The bitterness of the Eisenhower-Taft pre-convention campaign added to the concern. As for his own campaign itinerary plans, Eisenhower said he intends to keep the Democrats guessing for another month or so. "There is no use giving the opposition a chance to surround you with county fairs and other rallies," Eisenhower told newsmen at a buffet luncheon at which he was host. "After all, during the war I never told the enemy a month in advance where I was going to attack," he added.

New Logjam Looms As Car Inspection Deadline Nears

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas has an estimated 1,500,000 cars and trucks yet to be checked with the September 6 safety inspection deadline only a month away. At the present rate of inspection, 300,000 vehicles could be approved between now and the deadline, Capt. George W. Busby, chief of the Public Safety Department's motor vehicle inspection division estimated. That would leave almost one million cars and trucks without a safety certificate and their drivers subject to a fine of $1 to $200 after September 6. Busby said the one million figure might be high because Texas may not have the estimated 2,500,000 vehicles that needed inspection at the start of the year. Also, the rate of inspection may be stepped up as the deadline nears. "Right now, some 3,500 inspection stations are checking out 75,000 to 100,000 cars a week. We could make a big dent in the number of un-inspected cars if the public will cooperate," Busby said. While operation of an un-inspected car will be a misdemeanor offense after 30 days, Governor Shivers does not believe a justice of the peace or jury would impose the maximum fine allowed by law. "Can you imagine a justice of the peace or jury giving a $200 fine for not having one of those stickers on your windshield?" the governor asked at a press conference Wednesday. He repeated his previous statement that the Legislature meeting in January should re-examine the safety inspection law and modify it to make it a real safety measure. If this proves impossible, the law should be repealed, Shivers said.

Youth Shoots Couple, Self At Park Symphony Concert

CHICAGO (AP)—A young man crying, "I love Sally," darted suddenly from the bushes in Grant Park Wednesday and sprayed bullets at a young couple listening to music. His bullets killed the girl and critically wounded her escort.

'WRONG MAN' HOSPITALIZED

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Floyd Whitfield, Miami race driver, spent Wednesday night in doctor's hospital because he ran over his mechanic.

The mechanic, Wayne Kackley, also of Miami, was uninjured. The crowd at Medley Stadium was waiting for the feature race to start and Kackley was underneath Whitfield's car, making last minute adjustments.

Whitfield drove away. The wheels passed over Kackley's legs and bruised him. When Whitfield saw what had happened, he fainted.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, goopy paste or sticky feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTTEETH today at any drug store.

The lightning action took place in the midst of hundreds of downtown office workers spending their lunch hour in the park, some listening to the rehearsal of the Grand Park Symphony Orchestra in the big park band shell.

The victims were Patricia Kahler, 17, killed by two bullets fired into her head, and Herbert A. Hoffman, 17, wounded critically in the neck, chest and back. Both were employed in the nearby offices of the Standard Oil Company.

The dead gunman had a hotel receipt in his pocket which bore the name of R. Walker, who recently stayed at the Oriewood Hotel in Detroit.

However, police said FBI fingerprints showed the killer was Bernard Richardson, who had a police record dating back to 1944, with arrests in several cities throughout the country. The FBI report did not show his age or address.

Hoffman told police he did not know the assailant and believed Miss Kahler had never seen him before.

Police said a letter found in the killer's pocket, apparently written by him, said in part:

"I have loved you completely and deeply but you do not love me. . . . Oh, to make a choice between Bonny and Carol Hoffman would be difficult. Behold my love for you. . . . both strong as death, for death will not separate or keep us apart." The letter was unsigned.

It was necessary to administer an anaesthetic, grease the dog and knock out a three-foot piece of concrete before it could be removed.

Shivers Says Texas In Doubtful Column Until Stevenson Decides About Tidelands

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers Wednesday said Texas was in the doubtful column in November's presidential election.

The governor also said these things at a press conference which covered a wide range of subjects:

1. Announced plans for a citizens committee to study Texas' traffic problem, a problem Shivers said was emphasized by the "horrible" two-bus collision near Waco Monday. The committee would make recommendations to the next Legislature.

2. Urged higher salaries for state employees and school teachers and said these are the only things for which he presently favors increased spending.

3. Promised appointment of another citizens committee to study the state's acute water conservation problem and to submit recommendations to the Legislature.

4. Said he was sticking close to home the next few days because Mrs. Shivers is expecting the arrival of their fourth child "momentarily."

Questioned on whether he considers Texas in the doubtful column in the presidential race, Shivers replied:

"Yes. Certainly Texas can't be written off for either party."

He quickly added that "developments of the next few weeks could have a great bearing on what the voters do" in November. He also thought a personal campaign by either candidate in any doubtful state could be the decisive factor.

He again said Gov. Adlai Stevenson's stand on state versus federal ownership of Tidelands might be the determining issue on whether Texas goes Democratic or Republican.

Shivers received a letter from Stevenson Wednesday inviting him to confer on the Tidelands question. Shivers said he hoped to arrange a meeting for sometime next week.

On traffic safety, Shivers said the citizens committee should study all angles, including expansion of the Highway Patrol, improved highway design and merit of the controversial Safety Inspection law.

He said he also was considering asking the Legislature to establish an authority to study feasibility of toll roads "both from an engineering and economic standpoint."

He said the Legislature ought to give very serious consideration to a cost of living increase for state employees and teachers.

The increase, he continued, should be based on the price index increase—"and my guess is it's going to keep on going up the rest of this year."

State employees got pay boosts two years ago. Teachers have not had a raise in pay scales since 1949, when the Gilmer-Aikin school laws were enacted.

A legislative committee surveyed the state's water problems and came up with a new water code at the last session but a fight between various groups of water users over their rights prevented passage of the bill.

SEEK STEVENSON'S JOB—Illinois Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon, left, seemed a shoo-in for the nomination to succeed Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the gubernatorial nomination. He had the Democratic presidential nominee's blessing as the "logical successor." But a roadblock was thrown by Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett, right, who announced he's after the nomination and has no intention of withdrawing from the race. The nominee is chosen by the state central committee, composed of one member from each of the 25 Illinois congressional districts.

Court's Economy Brings Rebuke By British Jurist

LONDON (AP)—Judge Frank Powell was reading aloud from a report on a girl in a North London court Wednesday when he stumbled on the word "ambivalent."

He asked for the court dictionary but couldn't find the word in it.

And no wonder, commented the judge. The dictionary was published in 1856, almost a century ago.

"We are very economical, sir," suggested the court clerk.

"I should think you are," the judge replied, "and judging by the dust on this book, it has not been used since it was sent to the court."

Ambivalence, according to a modern psychiatric word book, is "contrasting emotions, such as love and hatred—one of which may be unconscious—experience at the same time for the same person."

Japs Say Red Underground Plans Overthrow Movement

TOKYO (AP)—The head of the Japanese "FBI" says there are signs that an active Communist underground movement is seeking to overthrow the government of Japan.

Taru Seki, director of the public security investigation agency of the attorney general's office, said his agents have seized many Red documents calling for revolution in Japan.

"But," he added, "it is very difficult to get evidence that is good in court."

He gave no hint he plans any immediate action against the Communists under Japan's brand new anti-subversive law—except watchful waiting by his 2,000 "public security agents."

Seki did not disclose any details of the evidence uncovered.

The boys had even thought of foreign postage complications. A note on the envelope said: "Balance of postage to be paid by Marsmen."

FINNISH WORKER ORDERED DEPORTED FOR SIGNING RED PARTY CARD 20 YEARS AGO

BOSTON (AP)—A Finnish-born, 49-year-old mill worker of Wendell, N. H., who says he signed a Communist Party membership application in 1934 because "they told me they wanted to win a strike in which I was involved," was ordered deported Wednesday.

Civil Rights Acts Depend On Senate

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The twin ghosts stalking behind the civil rights issue in the presidential campaign are emotion and reality. Emotion will overshadow reality all through the campaign. Reality takes charge after the election when Congress comes back.

The two presidential candidates, Dwight Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson, are being quizzed and watched for their position on civil rights by the three groups most emotionally involved: negroes, Southern whites, and the Northern white supporters of civil rights legislation.

Eisenhower and Stevenson can take any stand they want on civil rights. What they say may win votes or lose votes. But when the shouting dies, no matter which of them is elected, the new President cannot dictate to the U. S. Senate what it must do.

And no civil rights legislation can pass the Senate unless 64 of the 96 senators want it to. The fact that no civil rights legislation of

The project was approved at a meeting of the Community Services Committee here last week.

Justice Frank Culver

Culver Asks Votes Here

Justice Frank P. Culver of Tarrant County, who led in the first primary for the State Supreme Court, campaigned Wednesday afternoon in Midland.

This is the only state-wide race to be decided in the runoff, August 23.

Judge Culver did not visit Midland in the first primary, recognizing that this city and county were in the territory which would naturally be strong in support of the candidacy of Glenn B. Lewis of San Angelo. Lewis is not in the runoff, though he made a strong race and finished third.

Many who were active in Lewis' campaign have pledged their support to Judge Culver and he expressed confidence that he will win the race by a substantial majority. Culver led his runoff opponent in approximately two-thirds of the counties of the State.

Judge Culver is a veteran of both World Wars. He has served 21 years on the bench, first as district judge and now as justice of the Second Court of Appeals, which serves 12 West Texas counties. His opponent has had no judicial experience.

The judges of Texas honored Culver by electing the Fort Worth jurist as president of the State Judicial Section two years ago. Traveling with Judge Culver is his long-time friend, Boyce House, West Texas author-speaker-humorist.

Two hundred pounds of hay, corn, and roots make a day's meal for an elephant.

any consequence has passed the Senate in the twentieth century may be a good indication of what to expect, or not to expect, in the next four years.

For the core of reality in the whole civil rights dispute rests in the Senate.

If a motion is made to bring up a civil rights bill, the Southern Democrats can filibuster it to death unless 64 of the 96 senators—a constitutional two-thirds—vote to stop the filibuster. Getting a two-thirds vote on such a controversial subject is practically impossible.

All senate business is done according to rules adopted by the senators themselves. And they alone made the rule that a filibuster against a motion or bill can't be broken except by 64 votes. Since such a vote is almost impossible to obtain, how then could a civil rights bill ever be passed?

About the only chance would be if the senators changed the rule to permit breaking a filibuster with a simple majority of 48 votes. The men who framed the Democratic platform at Chicago recognized the problem and the only possible solution.

So in their platform they "urged" the Senate in 1952 to change its rules to let a filibuster be broken by a majority vote. But this is where reality in all the hub-bub about civil rights becomes truly clear; for there is no rule or method for breaking a filibuster against an attempt to change the rule.

John L. Lewis Has 'Em Guessing Again

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—John L. Lewis has businessmen guessing again. This time it's about his chances of winning a wage boost for his miners if there is a work stoppage in October—or of getting the pay hike without a strike. A coal price boost doubtless would tag along. Such a wage-price increase could mean a hike in the cost of heating homes and running factories—possibly, as coal's competitors point out, a bigger market for oil and gas. That October date is the strongest card in Lewis' hand, as businessmen see it. The mine union leader says labor contracts with the mines will go out the window at the end of September, unless renewed on a higher pay level. The deadline comes just when the political campaign will be at its hottest—and the question of using the Taft-Hartley law would be at its hottest, too, vote-wise. It comes also when steel mills will still be trying to catch up with defense and civilian needs, which pyramided during steel's own strike.

And steel mills must have coal. Cards Against Lewis Low cards in Lewis' hand, as businessmen see it, are these: 1. The country has the largest supply of coal above ground since January, 1943—a supply that could last 80 days before Lewis could make the strike pinch on an overall basis. 2. Each time the price of coal has gone up the industry has lost markets to oil and natural gas—which can only reduce work for miners. 3. European demand for American coal—a bulwark for the industry in the last year or more, when domestic demand was slack—is dropping off also, and Europe is intent on becoming independent of American coal by the end of 1953.

Loss of this customer would leave still less work for American miners—which may worry both the union and the operators as they negotiate the talk of a strike.

This summer the steel strike further shrank domestic demand for coal, and miners have been working three days a week or less. Weakened family budgets could be hard hit if a strike cuts off pay checks.

A strike also would cut off the 30 cents a ton royalty mine owners pay into the union's welfare fund and could even threaten to end benefit payments.

Lewis Has Trumps But Lewis has some trumps to play on these tricks: That huge stockpile of 80 million tons of coal above ground isn't divided evenly. True, utilities usually keep large stores on hand and could run along for quite a while. But many steel mills have limited space for storing coal and might quickly feel the crippling effect of a coal strike. They can't make steel without coal. And the national economy, defense and civilian, could ill afford to have steel output shut off again.

Some cynics contend that a coal strike could have the same effect they say the steel strike had for that industry which previously had been anticipating a surplus.

A coal strike would reduce the admitted surplus of coal. If it ended in a strike and price increases, a revive demand for coal might assure months of high output; higher wages, and higher profits.

Others argue that high tax rates could play a part in getting a coal settlement without a strike. A large part of any wage hike can come out of the tax liability of the owner, they contend, thus casting him little and weakening his incentive to resist wage demands.

Soil Conservation Society Forms Unit In West Texas

FORT DAVIS—The West Texas Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America held its first meeting this month at Madera Canyon near Fort Davis.

Twelve members of the Society were present to formally organize the West Texas Chapter. Members and their families joined in a picnic lunch after which the formal meeting was held to elect officers and discuss plans for future meetings.

Officers elected were: Chairman, J. L. Richmond, Fort Stockton; Vice-chairman, T. E. Cowan, Pecos; and Secretary-Treasurer, R. E. Fox, Pecos. Other members present were: A. J. Lumm, El Paso; O. L. Kay and William P. McNally, Van Horn; Z. C. Dameron, W. C. Tate, D. W. Carson, and C. C. Cox, all of Pecos; and Gordon Folberg, Fort Stockton. C. A. Rechen-thin of the Fort Worth Chapter assisted with the organization and spoke on the purpose and benefits of the Society. Objectives of the Soil Conservation Society of America are to promote and advance all phases of the science of soil and water resources, and to provide a medium for exchange of facts, experience and thought. The West Texas Chapter of SOCSA defines its area as the territory of Texas West of the eastern boundaries of Terrell, Pecos, Ward and Winkler Counties. This does not, however, exclude interested persons outside the defined boundaries. Membership may include any person interested in Soil and Water Conservation, as well as persons professionally engaged in Soil Conservation activities. The next meeting of the West Texas Chapter of SOCSA will be held in the late fall of 1952. The National Annual Meeting of the Soil Conservation Society will be held at Buffalo, N. Y., on October 23, 24 and 25.

Bids Are Studied For Hospital Work

AUSTIN (AP)—Three bids on construction of a central kitchen building for McKnight State Sanatorium have been opened at State Hospital Board headquarters.

Paul Simpson, San Angelo, was the apparent low bidder at $49,900. Other bids came from Stephens Construction Company, Abilene, $52,608, and Chester Blevins, Uvalde, $59,500.

The board will act on the bids at its August 15 meeting. The contract calls for construction to start within 10 days after the board acts.

The central kitchen, which will replace individual kitchens, is scheduled for completion by next Spring.

Things Are Getting Tougher

In the unlikely event that you hadn't already noticed it, the cost of living has hit a new all-time high. As reported by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the cost of living index for average-income folk in towns and cities had risen on June 15 to 189.6 of the 1935-1939 base on which living costs are figured.

At about the same time the Labor Department made its cost-of-living announcement, the Commerce Department came forth with the news that national production—all goods and services turned out—hit $329,000,000,000 last year. That was a 16 per cent gain over the year before.

Only about half of this gain, though, was real in the sense of more goods and services produced. The other half was due simply to higher prices last year over the year before.

In its analysis of the situation, the Commerce Department said the biggest factor in the 16 per cent increase was government buying, mostly for the expanding national defense program.

Government expenditures were $62,500,000,000 last year as compared with $42,100,000,000 in 1949. Corporations boosted their profits, before taxes, to $42,900,000,000 last year as compared with $27,100,000,000 in 1949. But taxes took a big chunk. After taxes, corporate profits last year were $18,700,000,000. They were $16,300,000,000 in 1949.

Personal income last year was 12 per cent more than in 1950, and personal savings were $17,000,000,000 last year, as compared with $11,200,000,000 in 1950 and $6,700,000,000 in 1949.

Income and savings largely were the result of increased wages and salaries. The totaled $169,900,000,000 last year. In 1949 they were $133,400,000,000.

All of which is not much help to the poor gent—a husband and father—who made public plaint recently that although he is an executive of some sort, living in a city and making $10,000 a year, he and his family didn't have enough to get along on and actually were having to do without certain necessities.

Some of our sympathy for the man diminished when he revealed he was living in a house much beyond his means because he had to keep up with the Joneses and put on a big front for business reasons.

But still, $10,000 is a pretty fair chunk of money, and when it won't see a man and his family through a year, even if he has gotten a little over his head as far as housing is concerned, things are getting sort of tough.

We Don't Get It

What is it about the United States that's so fascinating to jobless kings?

The word now is that Farouk, currently out of work as king of Egypt, is headed this way—40 cases of liquor, 204 trunks, and all.

Farouk is the tail end of a regal parade to this country that has included Edward of England, Michael of Romania, Peter of Yugoslavia, and Zog of Albania. Carol of Romania tried, but they wouldn't let him in.

Why do ex-kings come running to us, of all people? This nation came into being as the result of a ruckus with a king 176 years ago. The king lost. We haven't had any king trouble since, because people know where we stood on the matter.

But let a king of some other country lose his job these days and where does he head for? Here. We don't get it.

A club in Ohio voted for speechless banquets. That will save a lot of people from having to walk out.

Sometimes a man seems to understand everything about marriage but his wife.

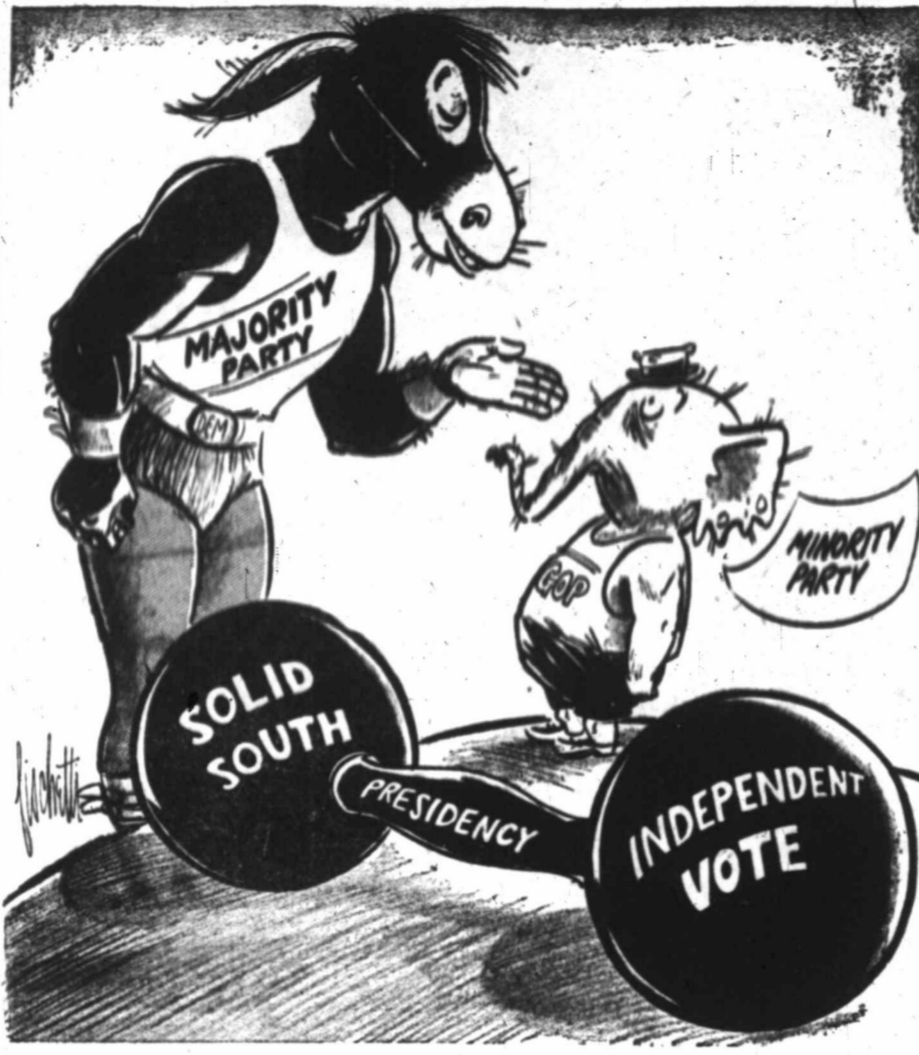

It isn't very smart to believe all you hear—unless it's a train whistling for a crossing.

Those who have what it takes quite often take what other folk have.

Many's the time a husband's protests are cut short just before the lawn is.

Highbrow books are what a lot of people keep on the shelves to make friends think they read them.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Justice Department investigation succumbs under pressure of big distillers; Deserving bureaucrats win Rockefeller grant; Peron hopes to maintain Evita's hold on labor.

WASHINGTON—Word has been passed inside the Chief committee that the investigation of the Justice Department is to be quietly tapered off. Chief reason: Pressure from certain big distillers who have contributed to both parties in the past.

Already three committee investigators have been given notice and orders are out to start writing the final report. Republican members are expected to object, but some of them may not be too vigorous. Because the liquor companies also have been generous to the GOP.

The Chief committee was set up as a subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee for the special purpose of probing the Justice Department. Congressman Frank Chelf, its chairman, appeared anxious to do a good job. However, Chelf, who comes from Kentucky where Bur-bon sometimes is said to be king, has not called his committee together. He wants to win back his old military friends. But the problem is to do this without alienating labor.

That is why Peron sent to Hamburg, Germany, to obtain the best embalming experts of Europe to preserve the remains of the ex-cabaret Communist propagandist.

The Italian Communist newspaper Unita has distorted some remarks of mine to make it appear that the American ambassador in Rome, Ellsworth Bunker, was cooping up the new Fascist leader, Marshal Graziani, and cooling off on Premier De Gasperi.

Not only did I not say this, but nothing could be further from the truth. De Gasperi rates as high with the ambassador, with the State Department, and with the White House. I have known him personally, and regard him as one of the most courageous leaders of Western Europe.

Unfortunately, both the Communists and Fascists to some extent are playing ball with each other in Italy, and the latter, especially, are trying to give the impression that U. S. officials are in their corner.

Civil defense needs little money, but it needs it now—not after the bombs fall.

Running the government, Rockefeller added, "is a lot harder than operating private business. You can't fire a congressman who cuts your appropriations. And you have to do business with senators whether you like them or not."

In addition, I have found that the average government servant is very conscientious—some of them remarkably efficient.

That statement, coming from the son of one of the biggest businessmen in the nation, may cause surprise. However, Nelson's brother, John D. Rockefeller, III, has followed it up this week with hard cash.

He has put up a quarter of a million dollars through Princeton University to give an award each year to the 10 or so most deserving "Bureaucrats." As a reward for their service to the government, they are to be given free educational travel or study for about six months.

Dictator Peron's plan to have his wife embalmed to lie in state permanently is a shrewd move to continue the hold he had, through his

Never again can a candidate conduct a campaign on a high dignified level. To win the candidate must take off his silk gloves and hit his foe on every occasion.

I am not eloquent—but I am sincere. I hope to bring a message of militant faith and hope to the American people in what they have the capacity to do, rather than go into details of a specific program.

The only thing that keeps some people from being live wires is too many loose connections.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

West made a good choice with his opening lead in today's hand, but failed to follow through. Or perhaps it would be more accurate to say that he did too much following through.

West opened his singleton club and dummy was permitted to win with the nine. South went into a deep stew and finally led the nine of hearts from dummy and let it ride for a finesse. West gratefully won with the jack of hearts and shifted to a low spade. East won with the king of spades and naturally returned a club to give West a ruff.

It was at this point that West got carried away by enthusiasm or, perhaps by failing to think. West simply led another spade to East's ace.

East hopefully returned another club, but West could do no more.

Bridge score table showing North-South and East-West scores for various deals, including a final opening lead of 4.

South was set one trick, to be sure, but he counted himself lucky. Proper defense would have set him two tricks, for a penalty of 500 points instead of only 200 points.

It was obvious to West that declarer had a trump finesse to take. It was also obvious, since East had played the king of spades on the first round of that suit, that South had the queen of spades. Declarer could lead either a spade or a heart after reaching dummy with the ace of diamonds—but he could not do both.

If West had led the king of diamonds instead of another spade, South would have been forced to give up the ace of spades and one other trick, for a loss of 500 points.

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Heart Pass 2 Spades A-K Q-J-9-8-3 Heart 2 Diamonds A-J-5-2 Club 8. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. There will be a slam if North has a normal opening bid with some help for diamonds or very strong hearts. For an immediate jump takeout you do not need support for partner's suit if your own suit is good enough for slam purposes opposite a singleton.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-J-9-8-6-3-2, Heart 2, Diamonds A-K-K-J-2, Club 8. What do you do?

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Here's The Inside Story On 'Moody' Loyalty Pledge

By FREDERICK EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Facts not immediately available during the Democratic convention in Chicago now make it possible to tell the inside story of the fight over the so-called "loyalty pledge."

The story began when Democratic National Committee Chairman Frank McKinney picked Michigan's young Senator Blair Moody as chairman of the Rules Committee. McKinney explained that the job was more or less routine. The rules to be adopted principally were to limit the length of nominating speeches and ban professional demonstrators from the floor.

McKinney thought the job would give Senator Moody a brief 10-minute or so on the platform and before the television cameras and so help him in his campaign for reelection. On the Monday morning that the convention opened, however, McKinney had to call in Moody for an emergency strategy session to meet a new crisis.

Forces behind presidential candidates Averell Harriman, Senator Estes Kefauver and Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota were on the warpath. They were demanding an extreme loyalty pledge of all delegates to the convention. First, it required every delegate to promise that he would vote for the party's nominee. Then it proposed to bar from the convention any state delegation that would not guarantee that the names of the nominees would be on its state ballot in November.

Kefauver Wanted Resolution Senator Kefauver was the principal supporter of this resolution. He wanted it for two reasons. The first was that if he should become the nominee, his Dixiecrat opponents would try to bar his name and his electors from Southern state ballots. The second reason was that Kefauver was counting support from the labor unions, which wanted an extreme civil rights program adopted.

Chairman McKinney sized up this demand as an insult to the South and a move which might well split the party in two. He then gave Senator Moody instructions to moderate this demand in his Rules Committee. He was to report out a loyalty pledge that would first keep the South in the convention and the party and second, make sure that Gov. Adlai Stevenson's name would appear on the ballot in all 48 states. Stevenson already had been picked by Truman for support.

Moody went to work with representatives of all the candidates: Richardson Dilworth of Pennsylvania for Kefauver, Senators George and Ed Johnson for Russell, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., for Harriman, Carl Rice of Kansas for Kerr, Col. Jack Arvey for Stevenson and Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh for the National Committee.

The extreme proposal by Jonathan Daniels of North Carolina, stating merely that it was the sense of the convention that honorable men would support the nominees, was unacceptable to Kefauver, Humphrey and Harriman. On the other hand, their extreme loyalty pledge was unacceptable to Russell, Kerr and most of the Southerners.

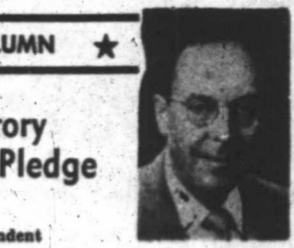

In presenting to the convention the compromise finally adopted, however, Senator Moody was forced to state to the speaker's stand that any delegation not signing the pledge would not be seated on the floor. It now can be revealed that Senator Moody did this in exchange for a pledge from Senator Kefauver that he would not present a minority report, demanding the stronger pledge.

Moody Was Middleman By so doing, Moody was made to appear as the leader of the liberals, whereas he actually was the middleman, supporting a compromise. This compromise had been sold in advance to the Texas and Mississippi delegations. Where the McKinney-Moody strategy fell down was in not selling it in advance to Senator Byrd and Governor Battle of Virginia, Governor Byrnes of South Carolina and Governor Kenyon of Louisiana.

The Moody compromise, even with the escape clause exempting delegates who would have to violate state laws to take the pledge, came as a complete surprise to these three states. And they raised so much Cain about it that the convention had to back down and let them stay on the floor and in the party with practically no loyalty pledge at all.

This retreat again was engineered by Chairman McKinney, with a lot of help from House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, the permanent chairman, whose rulings helped bring the three reluctant Southern states back in the fold. Senator Moody escaped having to lead the retreat himself. Colonel Arvey did that by switching the Illinois vote from "No" to "Yes" on the motion to let the Virginia delegation stay in the convention.

Colonel Arvey did this, it now can be told, to keep Kefauver from winning the nomination and to prevent the Democratic Party from being split wide open.

Summer Dream

SEPTEMBER slid into October. Laurie French wakened early and she would go to her window and look out at the misty freshness of the morning in the park across from the apartment, and she would try to think of what Steve would be doing. School would have started by now. But at 5 o'clock he probably still would be out and run his lines every morning while the mist hung heavy over the river.

The river would be beautiful now. He had told her once it was always at its loveliest in October. He said the trees in Indiana always turned such lovely colors, just like in Vermont. And the leaves floated like little golden boats on the glassy surface of the water.

She had a long letter from her father. His roses were still blooming but it was almost time for frost. The river was low this year, because they hadn't had as much rain as usual. The weather had been wonderful, so sunny and warm. Fish had been biting too, but he'd had to fish alone because Steve was busy working on his book, and was keeping a lot of himself these days for some reason or another. Of course he had a lot of work to do in connection with his teaching. Steve was going to write to her one of these days. He just hadn't gotten around to it yet. He was, however, sending her a box of bitterness. He said he remembered her saying once that she had never seen bitterness after October had opened the orange berries.

So Steve remembered a little thing like that? She had almost forgotten the remark herself. What else did he remember? Did his mind, like hers, keep going over the whole summer, recalling all the times they were together, the hours of companionship, the few times when he had held her in his arms, and the way he had kissed her? The box of bitterness from Steve arrived and Laurie sat at the bright orange and red berries in a blue bowl and set it on the window sill in her room. Fletcher came back from Europe the last of October. He was so glad to see her and had missed her so dreadfully that it was difficult to tell him face to face she wasn't going to marry him.

When she did, he gave her a pink-faced smile and ran his hand through his blonde hair, like an embarrassed schoolboy. "You don't need to feel so badly about it, because I've been braced for something like this ever since you went out west. I felt that something wasn't quite right."

There wasn't any reason why they couldn't go on being friends. So Laurie went places with him. Her mother was delighted. She was sure that eventually Laurie would forget whatever mysterious thing it was that had happened during the summer. She saw to it that Laurie and Fletcher were coupled at all parties their friends gave. It was so obvious that even Fletcher was apologetic about it.

"I don't want to make a nuisance of myself, Laurie," he said one Saturday afternoon as they returned from a luncheon. "Emmy is determined to throw us together, but if you'd rather not be with me so much I'll have another engagement when she arranges these things."

"It's all right, Fletcher," Laurie said. "I'm very fond of you. Only it doesn't seem fair to waste your time."

"My time isn't being wasted, Laurie." He gave her a quick sidelong glance and a smile. "I have hopes that eventually we'll sort of take up where we left off. There isn't any one else I'd ever want to marry."

That was the afternoon they

Flying Saucer Isn't New On World Fronts

By HELMAN MORIN
NEW YORK — (AP)—The flying saucer, you know, is by no means a new one.
 About 30 years ago, a man named Charles Fort rounded up and published a whole series of reports about mysterious objects in the sky. He said his sources, mainly, were newspapers, and he cited the names and dates of the papers, in case his readers were interested in checking the references.

Some accounts were well over 100 years ago, before the age of airplanes and before very much was known about balloons.
 The reports of sightings, according to Fort, came from many different parts of the world—from North Carolina, from a ship en route to Bermuda, and a whole spate from the north coast of England. In fact, that section of the British Isles was, in its day, the flying saucer center, just as the southwestern part of the United States seems to be today.

Some of the descriptions quoted by Fort are almost identical with the ones we read today—"an object of great luminosity, moving at high speed" "It moved backward and forward across the sky, apparently without turning" "The object hovered, motionless in the air, above a house."

I would think this would be very reassuring to the Air Force officers in Washington who are collecting data on the saucers and trying to explain them. Major Gen. Roger M. Ramey said the other day about one-fifth of all the reported sightings "remain to be explained."

Dominican Republic Produces More Rice

NEW YORK — (AP)—The Dominican Republic, which 20 years ago depended entirely on rice imports, now ranks as the major rice producing country of the Caribbean area.
 The Dominican information office in New York said 1951 rice production was 66,263 tons. The announcement noted that the threat of Communism in the Far East made it imperative for Caribbean countries to grow products formerly obtained there.

If people saw, or thought they saw, objects in the sky a century or more ago, these questions immediately arise:
 Were observers subject then, as now, to the same hallucinations?
 Why didn't the saucers' crews ever land? Surely, the world must have been a happier place in the 19th century than it is now.

Where have the saucers been during the intervening time? Did we somehow get misled on their interstellar charts?
 All of this seems not to have impressed Charles Fort very much, one way or another, while he was writing about it. His own theories were such that he could take, in stride, the possibility of visitations to the earth by creatures from another planet.

Fort was a rebel and a heretic who set himself against most of the accepted beliefs of science.
 Some of his ideas sound the least bit bizarre, even in this electronic age.

His theory of "teleportation," as I dimly got it, permitted material objects—including plants and animals—to be de-materialized and then transported through space. Fertile and living things may have been brought to this earth from other worlds in that way, he said.
 And he speculated about the possibility that residents from other planets may be here now, living in disguise, and sending back regular reports of life on earth to their home headquarters.

Fort said there might be some of these creatures right here in New York, on Fifth Avenue. And if you ever have stood on Fifth Avenue, watching the passing parade, you will find this not difficult to believe.
 Their reports must make interesting reading. Probably they say "... and these earth-people are still so savage that the males wear neckties in the heat of the Summer. . ."

Well, personally, I hope one of the saucers make a landing one of these days, and we get a press conference with the crew captain. Being so many million years older than we, they ought to have the answers to most of the problems besetting us. For example:
 "Captain, how did you folks handle a national political convention so that there were fewer and better speeches?"
 "Most likely, he will shake his head, sadly, and reply: "We haven't got that licked yet."

COLD CUTS SUPPER TRAY—A gay and informal way to entertain your evening guests is with a cold cuts supper tray. With rye bread and a tossed salad, it's a meal all in one. On one side of the platter, arrange alternating slices of Summer sausage and liver sausage. Next to these, place cornucopias of pimento loaf or bologna filled with chive cottage cheese. Complete the array with rye bread and ham rolls made by rolling "boiled" ham slices around sticks of processed American or Swiss-type cheese. Center the tray with a shallow bowl of salad made from mixed greens, tomato wedges, sliced cucumbers and sliced hard cooked eggs. Just before serving, toss with French dressing.

If everybody was as interested in politics the year round as they've been for the past month, conniving politicians and grafters would have something to worry about. The trouble is, though, that only the politicians are interested and working at that job all the time and they are not bothered by a few weeks of public interest which becomes a sort of picnic.

Daddy Ringtail And Old Shoe Soup

The Featherman (the rascal!) was sick in bed with Maltese Malnutrition from too much eating of feather soup, feather salad, feather bread, and scrambled feathers with no vegetables.

"What he needs is vegetables, vegetables, vegetables," said Doctor Shoobug, the monkey doctor.

"Fine!" said Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, because he was there at Featherman's nest to help him while he was sick in bed.

"Doctor Shoobug," said Daddy Ringtail, "I'll go right now to the kitchen and cook the Featherman vegetable soup."

But the Featherman didn't want any vegetable soup, oh no! Featherman wanted some feather soup. The featherman said in a feathery voice: "Oh now you fellows, please, can't I have some feather soup with a feather in it?"

"Oh no!" said Doctor Shoobug. "With vegetables in it," said Daddy Ringtail.

And so the Featherman began to pout. He picked up an old, old shoe from beneath his bed and threw it at the wall, all to show how very pouty he was. He said he wanted some feather soup with a feather in it. A featherman eat vegetables?

No sir, because he was not a vegetable-man, the Featherman said. He wanted feathers, feathers, feathers, and feathers soup!

"Now calm yourself, Mister Featherman," said Doctor Shoobug in his very calm Doctor Shoobug voice.

"Happy" eating your vegetable soup," said Daddy Ringtail in his happiest Daddy Ringtail voice.

But the Featherman wouldn't calm himself, and he wouldn't be happy eating-his-vegetable-soup. He said he would eat some old shoe soup before he would eat some vegetable soup, and so quick before he changed his mind—Daddy Ringtail made some old shoe soup. To make it he poured some boiling water in an old shoe, and he put some salt and pepper in it, and some butter, and so there was the old shoe soup.

Featherman drank it out of the shoe, and he said it was almost as good as feather soup, and then he ate his vegetable soup, and that was the end of the story of old shoe soup. Remember though, that old shoe soup isn't good for anyone but a Featherman. Vegetable soup is a happy soup for all Happy day!

Heat Of Cows Aids Barn Deterioration

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Farm researchers of a regulatory company report that cows throw off so much body heat that the resultant condensation is a factor in the deterioration of farm buildings.

Twenty cows generate enough heat to warm a five-room house in a winter day, they say. Experts are now trying to develop more scientifically controlled barn temperatures.

Special Paper Plates Save Time

FORGET THE DISHPAN and use specially treated paper plates that make eating of hot food and are handy for full meals, picnics, snacks.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Though the weather grows warm and the kitchen hot, one heat-generating kitchen activity that can be cut down on is dishwashing. To that end a handy supply of paper plates on the pantry shelf is the answer.

Paper plates are no longer just for picnics. They've had a face-lifting and have gone glamorous. They now take their place at table in Jonquil Yellow, Avocado Green, Paradise Blue and Petal Pink, in pretty printed patterns and in sizes that correspond with those of china.

There's the nine-inch size for entrees, the six-inch size for bread and butter and the seven-inch size for dessert and salad.

Paper plates have also gone versatile. These are paper plates that have been especially treated to withstand the rigors of hot food. We use them a lot in our house for bacon and eggs, for salad luncheons and often for a full hot dinner.

"I might as well tell you now. Then, there's the paper plate with smooth, uncoated surface that's designed for those quick sandwich luncheons, youngsters' between-meal snacks, picnics, buffets and late-hour raids on the icebox.

On your specially treated paper plates, serve these:

Macaroni-Vegetable Salad
(Makes 6 servings)

One tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 8 ounces elbow macaroni, 1 1/4 cup French dressing, 1 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chopped pimento, 1 1/2 cup chopped celery, 1 cup freshly cooked or canned peas, 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped; 1 teaspoon pepper, 1 1/2 cup mayonnaise.

All 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain again.

In a large bowl, combine remaining ingredients with cooled macaroni. Mix thoroughly but lightly. Chill several hours before serving.

Easy Marshmallow Chocolate Sauce
(Makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce)

Two 1-ounce squares unsweetened chocolate, 1 cup water, 1/4 pound marshmallows (about 16 marshmallows), 1/4 cup sugar, dash salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

In a saucepan, combine chocolate and water. Cook over medium heat until chocolate is thoroughly melted and mixture has reached boiling point. Add marshmallows, sugar and salt; stir constantly until marshmallows are dissolved. Remove from heat and add vanilla. Cool sirup and pour into a clean jar. Cover and place in refrigerator. To make chocolate milk, mix 1 or 2 tablespoons chocolate sauce with each glass of milk.

About two pounds of the alumina from bauxite are needed to produce one of aluminum.

Modern Way to Control Roaches, Ants

Scientists Discover New, Easy Way To Kill Crawling Insects

WHY be bothered with crawling insects any longer? Now there is no need to tolerate roaches, ants, waterbugs or silverfish.

Science has just come forth with a new discovery, a colorless, odorless, stainless coating that controls these pests and that stays effective for months. It is called Johnston's NO-ROACH.

Just brush this liquid near cabinets, sink, and baseboards to kill roaches and silverfish. Applied to these spots, the coating attracts roaches. They will walk across it contacting the chlordane. Within two or three hours they become paralyzed and die. The coating stays effective for months to kill any strays and thus prevent re-infestation.

To kill the waterbugs that crawl into your home from sewer pipes, brush NO-ROACH around the drain openings in your basement.

Effective for Months

To keep ants out of your home, brush NO-ROACH across window sills and door sills. Ants will not cross this invisible barrier. Pour a few drops into ant hills to eliminate their nests.

Roaches and ants are found near food and cooking utensils where contaminating sprays should not be used. Just brush Johnston's NO-ROACH where you want it, without having to move your pots and pans. Guard against crawling insects this modern NO-ROACH way.

Prices are 8 oz. for 89¢, pint for $1.09, and a quart for $2.09.

Hiroshima Still Feels Effects Seven Years After A-Bomb

A-bomb orphans: Hiroko Tomita, left, and Tadami Ateguchi, right, born just minutes before the atomic bomb explosion on Hiroshima in 1945, begin lessons with a school teacher seven years later. Orphaned by the bomb, they and other Japanese children are top research subjects for medical researchers.

By ELENOR SPALDING
NEA Special Correspondent

On the seventh anniversary of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima, illnesses caused by atomic radiation are just now showing up among some of the victims.

American medical scientists of the Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission report a "few" cases of leukemia and "a white incidence" of eye cataracts among people who had reason to assume they had escaped the worst consequences of the holocaust.

If the United States is atom bombed, American doctors will be treating the victims on the basis of information supplied by the Japanese survivors of the first atom bombing.

The ABCC, set up by the U. S. to gather the first authoritative knowledge on the human effects of an atomic bombing, expects to be working another ten years collecting and analyzing mountains of facts.

Thousands of Japanese who experienced the disaster, and children who have known only peace, come regularly for exhaustive examinations to the ABCC clinic on a hilltop overlooking the rebuilt city.

Medical researchers stress that it will take years of study before they can make an authoritative report on the long-term consequences of exposure to atomic radiation. How condition. In many of the cases, the laboratory analyses alone would cost $50 at a stateside hospital.

But most important, and most heart-breaking, they say, is that if they once opened the doors of the ABCC to treat the sick they would be swamped.

Strive For Aid
The ABCC physicians have discovered many diseases, particularly tuberculosis, which can not be attributed to the atom bomb. Instead they remove solid tissue, because it was caused by the atom bomb, and not treat an active case of tuberculosis.

The Japanese never have obtained the medical attention the majority of Americans take for granted, although there is some medical insurance and some free hospital care. Yet they are educated to the need for it and striving to get it.

American physicians throughout Japan say that Japanese doctors are superior. As they see it, the medical problem of Japan, of the people and the Government, is economic.

Rev. Tanimoto, now director of the Hiroshima Peace Center Foundation, is campaigning both among Japanese and Americans for a fund to provide operations for people disabled and crippled by the bomb.

At the ABCC, the physicians say they do not believe that any other group in the world would have cooperated so well as the Japanese have done.

Japanese nurses have been trained to handle those coming for periodic examinations with the clockwork efficiency of an American hospital and the inevitable politeness of the Japanese.

A-Bomb Star: Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto finds bitterness now where there was none in 1945.

Another complaint one hears in the valley of Hiroshima is that the United States is using the atom bomb victims as "guinea pigs," getting information from them but not giving them the medical treatment many need.

The Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto, the Methodist minister who starred in John Hersey's book, "Hiroshima," reports that there is some bitterness now against the U. S. where there was none right after the bombing.

The physicians of the ABCC point out that they are not authorized to practice medicine in Japan. The medical examinations are entirely voluntary. Those who volunteer get a complete report on their physical

Parking Meters Get Odd Foreign Monies

EDMONTON, CANADA.—(AP)—Parking meters here are serving as foreign exchange banks.

Coins from every corner of the world are represented in the daily collections. There are pieces from the United States, Holland, Arabia, Palestine, Belgium, France, Japan, Mexico, South America, Ireland, Hong Kong, Jamaica and India.

Prize features of the collection are two gold coins. One is an 1869 minting of a $2.50 American gold piece; the other an English sovereign of 1907 vintage. The American gold coin, used in a meter as a penny, was quoted at a collector's price of $35 in 1930.

When you select a tarretted finished fabric, try to get information on cleanliness before purchasing it. Beware of any fabric that has visible white cracks or crevices on the wrong side.

Hospital Ship Ends Tour Of War Service

LONG BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—A sea-weary crew brought in the big hospital ship Consolation recently and told welcome of their battle experiences.

"One of the worst days," a nurse, "was June 6 when the ship was receiving battle casualties from the Inchon area."

On that day the Consolation cared for 101 patients brought aboard with "every type of wound—bayonet, shell fragment and bullet." Altogether, the ship's crew took care of 5,000 casualties during its 10-month tour of duty off Korea.

Walking constantly in thin-soled shoes tends to cause arches to sag and callouses to form. You should own at least one pair of street shoes that feature soles thick enough to cushion the foot.

WTCC Industrial Panel To Convene

SAN ANGELO.—E. L. Buslow of San Angelo, chairman, has called a meeting of the Industrial Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the Hilton Hotel in Fort Worth Thursday, August 14, at 10 a.m.

Buslow said a practical, realistic and thorough program on the possibilities for industrial development in West Texas is being planned.
