BIG, GREEN FLIES BUZZ HERE—And they are so thick the Clean-Up Committee photographer had a battle on his hands getting this close to an odorous pile of filth and rubbish in an alley only two blocks off Highway 80 in Midland. This is typical of many of the spots which must go in Midland's all-out drive against filth Monday. All flies—from that little one you saw in your living room to the millions feasting here—are doomed if every individual cleans up his own premises as asked, then pitches in to help others. There will be plenty of trucks to haul it away. For failure, the penalty may be polio.

Barstow News

BARSTOW—Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Black have returned home from El Paso, where Mrs. Black recently underwent an operation at Southwestern Hospital. After being discharged from the hospital, Mrs. Black spent two weeks at the home of her sister, Mrs. F. Majors, in El Paso before returning to Barstow.

Mrs. Wilson Burkholder of Coahoma is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Burkholder.

Gary Stephens was returned to Lubbock, after a week's visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Echols.

Bob Armstrong of Pecon, serving in the same military unit in Germany as Sgt. Raymond Talley, is reported enroute home for discharge.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Goode left this week for Temple, where Mr. Goode will receive a physical check-up at the clinic. Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Goode to Temple was Henry King. Mr. King will visit his wife, who is reported improving after an operation at Scott and White Clinic.

Rev. J. J. Wester, former pastor of the Barstow Presbyterian Church, has returned to Troup where he will resume the duties of his pastorate September 1. Rev. Wester, who has been ill, received treatment in a San Angelo hospital, and since his discharge from a hospital, has been with his family in Weatherford.

Cpl. Vernon Willman, serving with the U. S. Marines in Korea, has written friends here that he has completed 20 days on the front lines and will be "in reserve" for about a month before returning to front-line duty. His brother, Cpl. Leroy Willman, who is serving with a medium tank unit in Korea, was expected to be "in reserve" at the same time.

Man Dies Believing Five-Year Sentence To Be Carried Out

NACOGDOCHES—(AP)—A 50-year-old man, who said he would rather be dead than go to prison, died Wednesday believing a five-year suspended sentence was being invoked.

Luther B. Watson was dead on arrival at a hospital. A bottle of strychnine was found in one of his pockets.

Several years ago Watson was given a five-year suspended sentence on a verdict of attempted burglary at Center, Shelby County. Recently a hearing was called to determine whether the suspended sentence should be invoked.

Watson's lawyer had been granted a postponement of the hearing but he had not notified Watson.

Watson's father said Watson said he would rather be dead than have to serve the sentence.

An inquest verdict was withheld pending an autopsy.

Two State Colleges To Get ROTC Units

DALLAS—(AP)—Regents have approved ROTC training units for Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville and for West Texas State College of Canyon.

President Harmon Loman of Sam Houston and James Cornette of West Texas say the Army has assured them the units would be established after the regents granted approval.

Danger To Kilbride's Health Halts 'Ma And Pa Kettle' Films

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—Exclusively Yours: It's Percy Kilbride's frail health—not Marjorie Main's unhappiness with the series—that temporarily halted the "Ma and Pa Kettle" pictures at U-I. With two years of his studio contract to go, Percy told his U-I bosses that film work was too exhausting for him.

And Marjorie's reason for stepping out of the cast of "Dangerous When Wet" at MGM is just what the title implies. Her medical warning her against doing a swimming scene vital to the script because of surgery that removed her sinus membranes four years ago.

Staff members of a movie fan magazine with an upcoming feature predicting that Lana Turner and Fernando Lamas will never wed are quietly chewing their nails to shreds.

Jack LaRue, the heavy who has not been in flickers lately, doesn't like it like a pianist named Jack Larus is thumping the ivories at a night spot right across the street from MGM.

English Producer Michael Balcon has writers working on a new Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy comedy feature, to be made in England.

Foray's War Here
Richard Burton, the British actor who plays young Philip Ashley in "My Cousin Rachel," draws England's top movie project when he leaves Hollywood. He will star in "The Last Enemy," life story of war hero Richard Hillary, who was shot down as a fighter pilot and horribly burned. Plastic surgery gave him a new face and hands, then he rejoined the R.A.F., and was killed at the age of 23.

Rory Calhoun insisted so Lita Baron called off all her night club stints to await the stork in December. The Calhouns had a 1949 date canceled and aren't taking any chances this time.

"It's really very simple," said Corinne, "you just make a noise like a chicken when it lays an egg."
Those flying-saucer headlines are sweet music at Paramount. The studio's got 'em, with men from Mars yet, in the soon-to-be-released "War of the Worlds" . . . Recommended listening: Marlene Dietrich and Rosemary Clooney's recording of "Too Old to Cut the Mustard" . . . Olivia de Havilland's determined to make the grade as a Shakespearean star. She'll enroll in Lawrence Langner's school for the study of the Bard's works in Westport, Conn.

Bad luck is still dogging Mercedes McCambridge. A few days after she agreed to make her screen return in "The Number," Fox shelved the picture.

Fightin' Words, Colonel
Fighting words for actors: In "Mississippi Gambler," Ty Power goes to the home of an old aristocratic southern gent and says, "I'm afraid you wouldn't ask me if you knew my profession."
The old gent glares, "What do you do?"
"I'm a riverboat gambler," says Ty.
"Lord love you son," says the aristocrat, "I thought you were going to say you were an actor."

Argentina finally lifted its ban on 20th Century-Fox movies, invoked before the war when Carmen Miranda starred in "Down Argentine Way." The dove of peace settled over the feud when the studio sent Rory Calhoun and Gene Tierney to the land of the gauchos for "Way of a Gaucho."

Fox's "Man on the Tightrope," to be filmed in Europe, is the studio's big anti-Communist blast for the year . . . Helen Mack, the former film star who became a radio producer, and hubby Tom MacArthur, TV executive, are denying the separation rumors. It's just that Helen's plans to retire and live in New York didn't work out.

Old Maids To Talk Girlstown Benefit On Third Annual Day

By MARTHA COLE
DENTON —(P)—Bet you had forgotten about August 15. It's Old Maid's Day!
In Denton. In the whole big state of Texas. Anywhere there's an old maid with the good humor to admit it and a good friend to celebrate it. The old maids have been so successful in their self-proclaimed day that they want to share.
This year—the third annual year of celebration—the big day's founder and patron saint says they should help out a sister old maid.
The founder is Dorothy Babb, North Texas State College Latin teacher of the upswep gray haired and the twinkling eyes, the one who gets introduced the year round as THE old maid.

"I'm just about worn out with it all," she said.
"Some of us got to thinking we ought to help out another old maid."
Now the other old maid is Amelia Anthony, 37, who founded Girlstown, U. S. A., out on the West Texas prairies, just a few years ago. Miss Anthony sent her best wishes to the August 15 celebration in Denton last year and became a member in good spinster standing.
"We thought people who wanted to give a gift to an old maid could do it by making a donation to Girlstown in the name of some old maid," Miss Babb said. "Why, just this week I got a $5 check for Girlstown."
The old maids in Denton haven't made any definite plans about helping Girlstown yet.

"They're going to have a party at Miss Babb's house August 15 and talk about it."
Denton took the good-humored old maids to heart in 1950 and 1951, and the town is going to do it again. There'll be a free picture show, free soda pop and popcorn and all that and gift certificates from the merchants.
Miss Babb has gotten stacks of letters in recent weeks from old maids who say they're being feted in their hometowns too—in Oklahoma City, Louisville, Durham, N. C.
The old maids in Denton started their day as a lark to shake off the Summer doldrums. And Miss Babb jokingly said it was time they got some gifts in return for the wedding and baby gifts they had given.
And what gifts they got: Miss Babb even got dozens of proposals of marriage.
And now a gift for Girlstown, a home at Whiteface for girls who need a home and love.
"Miss Anthony said they needed worst of all $100,000 for a new dining hall," Miss Babb said. "She told us jokingly that if we raised that much money, she'd name it 'The Dining Hall for Old Maids.' Well, who knows—"

Softball Manager Suspended For Year; Team Draws Fine

Jack Turner, president of the JayCee Softball League, went into a huddle Thursday morning with members of the league Rules Committee after a shabby during Wednesday night's Humble-Roaders-voos softball game.
When the meeting was over, Committee Chairman Ed Dillon announced:
1. That Humble Manager Charles Mason will be suspended for one year for participating in league activities either as a player or manager for abusing the plate umpire.
2. That the Humble softball team will be fined $5 to finance the purchase of a new shirt for the plate umpire.

Daniel Attempts To Pin Adlai Down On Tidelands Problem

By The Associated Press
Attorney General Price Daniel, Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator from Texas, has joined Gov. Allan Shivers in asking Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois his views on the Tidelands controversy.
Stevenson is Democratic nominee for President.
As the Texans demanded a show-down decision from the presidential nominee, it appeared that only three—perhaps just two—of the state's 21 Congressional districts would have Republican candidates for the national house.
Daniel Wednesday sent a letter to the Illinois governor asking his views on three questions:
1. Do you favor restoration and confirmation of the ownership of lands beneath navigable water within original state boundaries to the respective states?
2. Regardless of your answer to the above question, as President of the United States would you permit the controversy to be settled by an act of Congress in favor of the states without interposing a presidential veto?
3. If your position should be against the states to the extent of vetoing state ownership legislation, would you proceed to have lawsuits filed against the remaining 25 coastal and Great Lakes states the same as has been done against Texas, California and Louisiana?
Daniel sent along with his letter a lengthy brief supporting state ownership of the Tidelands. He pointed out that Illinois, claiming ownership of thousands of acres of submerged land under Lake Michigan, yet has not been sued.
Meanwhile, Republican Congressional district conventions had reported only three possible candidates for Congress to oppose Democratic nominees.
Most Republicans, it seemed, wanted to concentrate all their fire on the presidential campaign—to draw Texas within the GOP fold for the first time since 1928 when Herbert Hoover carried Texas and much of the South to become President.
It left the reported Republican

Montgomery Case Attorney Is Named Tax Lien Defendant

FORT WORTH —(P)—Attorney Howard Dalley of Dallas has been named in a federal income tax lien filed here.
Dalley was one of the attorneys who defended Sheriff Sully Montgomery and former assistant district attorney A. L. Wardlaw on income tax evasion charges earlier this year.
Federal authorities filed the lien here Wednesday with the county clerk and named Dalley and his wife, Mrs. Modena S. Dalley. It listed $1,407.12 in income taxes due from the couple for 1949.
Dalley said he and the government had been "dickered" over the disputed 1949 tax for several months and added:
"It has absolutely no connection with the Montgomery or Wardlaw cases."
"It is simply a civil claim involving what I charged as loan on a fire at my house—and it came up long before I ever heard of Montgomery or Wardlaw."
The two Fort Worth men were convicted of income tax evasion in Dallas federal court in May.

Sailors, Prisoners Give Blood To Man Injured In Mishap

BEAUMONT —(P)—Jim Balance, 34, of Dentonville, Miss., ran to board a train and slipped beneath its wheels.
Both legs and part of his right arm were severed. That was late Tuesday night.
"The Hotel Dieu Hospital rapidly exhausted its supply of his type of blood."
So Thursday, the men of the Beaumont Naval Reserve unit and prisoners of the Jefferson County Jail are contributing blood to keep the critically injured man alive. Ten pints were given Wednesday.

Giant Homer Cheers Dodgers' Royal Fan

NEW YORK —(P)—As a Dodger fan, young King Faisal II of Iraq committed only one error—he smiled when Bobby Thomson of the rival Giants belted a run home.
The 17-year-old monarch attended his first baseball game Wednesday at Ebbets Field.
An avowed Dodger rooster, he sat in the Brooklyn dugout and the club president's box to watch his favorites win over the Giants, 5-4.
The king is on a month's visit to the United States.

CRIME CUES THE PENALTY

EXETER, ENGLAND —(P)—A Bay Scout who was a dead shot with ripe plans scored direct hits from the 100-foot Gothic tower of Exeter Cathedral on two Catholic dignitaries walking sedately below.
The victims were quite prepared to regard it as a childish prank but not the sharpshooter's fellow Scouts. The culprit had been admitted to the top of the ancient tower only after promising on his honor to be well behaved.
In a letter of apology to cathedral authorities Wednesday, other members of the Scout troop said they had court-martialed the culprit and sentenced him to stand under a tall tree while fellow Scouts pelted him from the top-most branches with potatoes.

Missing Mexican Grid Coach May Be Last Of Bus Victims

WACO —(P)—A Mexican football coach, Salvador Salvaña Lugo, may be the last of the 28 victims of the two bus collision near here 10 days ago, according to Waco Civil Defense Director James LeBlond.
LeBlond said officials at the Instituto Tecnologico de Monterrey at Monterrey, Mexico, have reported Lugo has been missing since the weekend of August 3, when he left for Fort Worth to attend the annual Texas High School Coaching School.
He was traveling by bus, LeBlond said, and his route would have taken him through Waco. He never showed up at the coaching school.
The Civil Defense director, who is in charge of identification work on the bus crash victims, said a professor from the Mexican school and members of Lugo's family were enroute to Waco with dental charts and other data that might help in the identification.
If Lugo is determined to be the twenty-eighth person killed in the early morning collision—described as the worst bus accident in Texas history—the identification job would be complete.

Child-Poisoning Hearing Resumes; Nurse Apologizes

WETUMPKA, ALA. —(P)—The child-poisoning trial of Mrs. Earle Dennison was resumed Thursday after an attempt by the 34-year-old nurse to take her own life.
She was found Wednesday morning in her prison bed with her wrist slashed, three and one-half hours before the murder trial was to begin.
"I'm sorry," she told attendants, "I must have been out of my mind."
Circuit Judge Oakley Melton reset the trial for Thursday after physicians said the nurse was physically able to appear in court.
She is charged with two counts of murder in the arsenic slaying of her two-year-old niece Shirley Dianne Weldon last May 1 and for the arsenic death of Shirley's sister Polly Ann two and a half years before. Polly Ann also was two when she died.
The suit was ordered to trial first for the killing of Shirley Dianne. She has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity in both indictments.

Odessa Man Given Two-Year Sentence

DALLAS —(P)—Jessie William Massey, 30, Dallas, was given a five-year sentence and Johnny Ray Moore, 20, of Odessa, was sentenced to two years after both pleaded guilty to an attempted post office burglary charge in federal court Wednesday.
The two were charged after an unsuccessful attempt was made July 21 to crack a safe in the post office section of a Fort Worth drug store.

Teenagers To See 'The Drunkard'

The Midland Summer Mummies will present a special performance of "The Drunkard" for teenagers at 8 p. m. Thursday in the American Legion Hall.
Proceeds will go to the Community Theater building fund.
If the performance is successful, George T. Brown, director, said, a teenager show will be scheduled each season.
"The Drunkard" will conclude its fourth-week run in Midland this weekend. More than 75 Midlanders have participated in the production.
The Summer Mummies is an informal organization with activities coordinated by W. F. Pennebaker, W. H. Pomeroy and Morris Greath. Art Cole and John Stringer have given special technical assistance.
Friday and Saturday night performances will begin at 8:30 p. m. Tickets are on sale at Tailorline.

CRANE—J. F. Kendrick was called last week to Phoenix, Ariz., where his father, J. K. Kendrick died suddenly.

Superintendent Brady Nix announced this week that the public school faculty for the coming school term is complete with the exception of a music teacher for the first three grades.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Coffield have as guest Mrs. Coffield's mother, Mrs. Williamson of Dallas.

Bobbie Robinson is in Paducah visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robinson, and Capt. and Mrs. Jack Robinson. Capt. Robinson is to leave soon on an overseas assignment to Korea. He is a double cousin of Dr. S. F. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Allen have returned home after spending a week in Weatherford with Mr. Allen's mother, Mrs. Mary Allen, who has been seriously ill. Mrs. Allen is reported to be much improved. She is a former Crane resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Riley, Crane teachers, left Sunday for Denton, where they are representing the local Red Cross chapter at the national aquatic school at TSCW. Rigid physical and swimming tests are required to enter the school, said W. O. Murray, chairman of the Crane Red Cross chapter, and this is the first time the chapter has been able to participate in the annual program. Mrs. Riley teaches in the Crane Elementary School and her husband is assistant football coach.

Mrs. Bobbie Pettit was honored with a pink and blue shower given Friday by Mrs. C. A. Allen, Mrs. Milton Haley and Mrs. S. McCasland in the Community Hall. Yellow and white were featured in decorations. The white satin guest book, edged in lace and yellow ribbons, was a gift from Mrs. Mary Grimes.

Desperate Chap Encounters Tattletale, Abandons Plot

LONDON—(AP)—"I am a desperate criminal," said the burglar, surprised as Kenneth Munro entered his dining room early in the day. "You don't look like one," said Munro. "What do you want?" "I want money," was the reply. Then followed this colloquy: "If you can find any here you are welcome to it. But be quiet about it. I can't have you wakening my wife." "Oh, I wouldn't dream of doing so." "You are a fool to break into people's houses." "You won't tell anyone, will you?" "I'm afraid I must," said Munro, and he started for the phone. "In that case goodbye, and thanks very much," said the burglar. And out he skipped through an open window.

Biggest Test Due Jailbreak King: 20 Years In Alcaftaz

DALLAS — (AP)—Leonard J. (Curley) Williams, 31-year-old negro escape artist, faced 20 years in Alcaftaz Thursday for attempted bank robbery—if he was still in custody. Williams' in-gain-out-again status in jails made it a pertinent question.

As Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson sentenced the tall, light-skinned negro to the "escape proof" prison in San Francisco Bay, Williams had a smuggled penknife in his possession.

It was discovered as Williams was returned to his jail cell, the third knife found on him within the last weeks.

Williams pleaded guilty to the attempted robbery of the First National Bank of Richland, July 31. He failed to get any money when a screaming woman bank customer frightened him away.

He was arrested the next day in Taylor when he alighted from a bus. U. S. Attorney Lester May described Williams' escape record as "the most elaborate I've ever seen."

In addition to several escapes in Oklahoma, Utah and California, Williams has made getaways from the Texas prison and from the Dallas County and Dallas city jails. He bustly swept his way out of jail here the first time the door was opened after picking up a broom and posing as a janitor. He answered to another prisoner's name once, followed a lawyer into the jail lobby, and took off.

He was sentenced to 10 years in the Texas prison on June 2, 1951, but slipped out May 26, 1952. First thing jailers found last Friday when Williams was brought to Dallas from Austin was a knife in Williams' pocket. A day later he was searched and officers found another knife. He had made it from a piece of his metal cot. The negro had a pat answer when asked how he got the knives: "A man in my position has to be on the lookout for such things." Williams told officers after his arrest at Taylor on the Richland bank charge that he had also robbed a bank in Spencer, Okla.

But asked about that, he calmly told a reporter: "Oh, that. Why, I just said that to get some publicity." U. S. Deputy Marshal Henry G. White said he was going to "try" to keep Williams' knife—the last one—"as a treasured souvenir."

Mexican Tanners Fear Hide Shortage
MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The tanning industry told the government it is worried that expected export of live cattle will cause a shortage of hides in Mexico.

The shipment of live cattle to the U. S. is expected to be resumed September 1 after a six-year gap due to foot and mouth disease here. The tanners' association said if pre-war shipments of 500,000 cattle a year are equaled, this will mean this many fewer hides. It said this shortage, in turn, will mean 5,000,000 fewer pairs of shoes for Mexicans.

McCarthy Countersuit Asks Dallas Firm For 11 Millions

HOUSTON — (AP)—Houston Oil Man Glenn H. McCarthy has filed a countersuit against Dresser Industries, Inc., Dallas, asking 11 million dollars in damages.

McCarthy alleged that the failure of installations built by Dresser Industries at the McCarthy Chemical Company plant at Winnie, Texas, forced the plant to operate at a loss.

The suit filed Wednesday was in answer to an original claim filed July 30 against McCarthy by Dresser Industries.

the promissory notes were for sums which the construction company claimed it had expended in addition to the contract price.

The McCarthy petition claims the Dresser Industries failed to make the unit perform as it had contracted to do and its "inability, ineptitude, carelessness, malfeasance, inexperience and incompetence" forced the plant to operate at such a loss that McCarthy lost assets valued at 11 million dollars to mortgage holders on the plant.

Federal District Judge Ben Connally approved a McCarthy request that the Texas Gas Corporation, successor to the McCarthy Chemical Company, be named a defendant in the suit.

Tribe Dumps Broncs, To Play Odessa Here

Despite the fact that they rarely ever have caught them, the Midland Indians will try to tag the Odessa Oilers once again here Thursday night when the league leaders move in for a three-game series.

More than once the Indians have been riding high on a win streak this season, only to have the Oilers bring them down to earth with a thud.

Thursday night, Manager Jay Haney has elected Rookie Right-hander Herb Dwire (18-5) to do mound duty for the Indians.

In Wednesday night's game with the Big Spring Broncs here, the Indians, fighting uphill most of the night, finally reached the top and

Odessa Oilers Break Colt Win Streak With 11-1 Win

SAN ANGELO — (P) — Disappearing like a desert mirage, the three-game San Angelo Colt winning streak came to an abrupt end here Wednesday night before the power of the Odessa Oilers, 11-1.

Combing two Colt pitchers for 18 hits, including two home runs by Bill Cearley and another by Pitcher Fred Parker, the Oilers gained revenge for defeats the previous two nights.

Drillers Sack Vernon Set

VERNON — (P) — The Artesia Drillers swept the four-game series here Wednesday by taking a 7-6, 10-inning victory from the Vernon Dusters, with a five-run outburst in the ninth and the winning victory in the tenth.

Paul Halter singled across Vince Sarubbi with the winning run. Sarubbi had walked and went to second when John Alonso grounded out.

The Dusters blew a five-run margin when the Drillers came to life in the top of the ninth, and chased Starter Jesus Sosa.

Rudy Briner sparked the ninth-inning outburst with a three-run circuit club. Other hits in the inning were doubles by Bill Haley and Jim Ackers and a single by Wally Hanna.

Artesia scored its first run in the fifth off singles by Sarubbi, Halter and Briner.

Vernon scored three runs off doubles by Joe Niesdon and Goldy Ghosion and a single Art Neal.

The Dusters combined four hits for a lone tally in the fifth and four singles for two more runs in the eighth.

Abilene Nips Clovis To Vacate Cellar

By The Associated Press

Economy-wise Amarillo and Abilene managed only six hits in the West Texas-New Mexico League Monday night, but they were enough for triumph.

Amarillo moved within one game of fourth place as its six hits produced a 5-4 victory over Pampa.

Abilene bounded out of the cellar on six raps that stopped Clovis, 3-1.

Clovis' defeat, however, did not better the Pioneers' 18-game first place margin, for Albuquerque's five-game win streak was halted by Lamesa, 6-1.

In the other game, Borger scored five runs during the middle three innings to take a 5-3 comeback victory over Lubbock.

KANSAS CITY — (P) — Julius Boros, the "money bags man" from Mid Pines was the prettiest favorite in the fourth annual $18,000 Kansas City Open Golf Tournament beginning Thursday.

The 31-year-old Boros now has a total take of $84,332.97 this year.

Braves Conquered By Rockets, 8-4, On Malone's Hurling

ROSWELL — (P) — The Roswell Rockets exploded for four runs in the third inning to erase a 2-0 Sweetwater lead and pave the way for their eventual 8-4 conquest of the Braves here Wednesday night.

Audie Malone spaced five hits in achieving his twelfth win against 11 losses for the season. Bob Rodriguez went the distance in losing for Sweetwater.

The two hurlers combined forces to walk a total of 17 men in the two-hour and 30-minute marathon.

After their four-run in the third, the Rockets added a single tally in the fourth and three in the seventh. Sweetwater picked up its last two in the ninth.

Frank Calo poled a bases-loaded double for three runs to highlight Roswell's third inning, and Manager Al Monchak's two-run homer was the big glow in the Rocket seventh.

Sweetwater moved in two in the second when Chino Berlag walked, John Morris was hit by a pitched ball and Earl Finley doubled then in John Miller's single, a double by Earnie Cortes and a two-base error let in their last two runs.

Yanks, Dodgers Hold Leads Despite Splits

QUICK CHANGE — Rogers Hornsby looks happy in his new role as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, but he has just started.

By RALPH RODEN
AP Sports Writer

Joe Black is one rookie who is living up to his Spring press clippings.

It's doubtful the Dodgers would be leading the National League by nine games Thursday if it were not for Black. Used entirely in relief roles, the Dodger recruit has appeared in 37 games, winning nine, losing two and saving several others.

Black took part in both ends of Wednesday's day-night doubleheader against the runnerup New York Giants. He gained credit for the 5-4 day game triumph and was tapped for two unearned runs in the 6-4 night game defeat.

Chicago and Cincinnati and Philadelphia and Boston also split doubleheaders. The Cubs dropped the opener to the Reds, 11-3, but won the second game, 7-0. Philadelphia whipped the Braves, 3-0, but bowed, 9-3, in the night portion of the twin bill. St. Louis and Pittsburgh were idle.

The New York Yankees retained their two and a half-game lead over Cleveland in the American League chase, dividing a bargain bill with Washington while Cleveland halved a pair with the St. Louis Browns.

Washington drubbed the Yanks, 12-4, in the opener but lost the second game, 10-9 in 13 innings. The Browns tripped Bobby Feller and the Indians, 5-2, but Cleveland bounced back to grab the second game, 9-1. In other games, the Boston Red Sox turned back Philadelphia, 4-0, and the Chicago White Sox crushed Detroit, 7-1.

Black took over in the eighth inning of the see-saw opener at Ebbets Field with the score tied at 4-4. He halted a Giant rally in the eighth and got out of another in the ninth when he induced Al Thompson to hit into a force play with the bases loaded and two out.

Fes Wee Reese singled home Gil Hodges in the bottom of the eighth with the deciding run.

Bob Porterfield enjoyed a rare treat in the first game at the Yankee Stadium. The Senators supported his pitching with a 17-hit attack that included a grand-slam homer by former Yank Jackie Jensen. The loss snapped Vic Raschi's 11-game winning streak.

The twin bill, which lasted almost eight hours, was completed under the lights. Billy Martin squashed home Yogi Berra to climax a game-winning three-run rally in the thirteenth. Mickey Vernon put the Senators out in front, 9-7, with a two-run homer off Tom Gorman in the top of the thirteenth.

Dallas Eagles Raise Loop Lead As Sports Blast Cats

By The Associated Press

That rap along with Shreveport's 18-1 triumph over Fort Worth built up Dallas' first-place margin to two and a half games.

Second-place Fort Worth now has lost six of its last seven games, but Oklahoma City can match it after bowing twice to Houston. The Indians' 9-1 and 10-3 defeats were their eighth and ninth in the last 13 tries.

Heslet's 37th homer got two of the runs San Antonio needed to stop Tulsa, 6-5. Bobby Balencia singled home Charlie Hopkins from second with the winning run in the eighth.

The day a 17-hit spree won't win, and neither will three-hit pitching, is the time the Texas League is in rare form.

So it was Wednesday night.

Harry Heslet paced the way for San Antonio to beat Tulsa's collection of 17 hits when he blasted off his fourth homer in four days.

Bob Bundy, Dallas second baseman, turned menace at bat and homered for two eighth-inning runs that beat Beaumont, 3-1, and belied his season mark of 237 and three previous home runs.

SPORTS NOTES

from the BENCH JOCKEY

By BOB ADAMS

There is nothing so heart-rending as a Little Leaguer who has been responsible for his team's having lost a ball game.

All too often, the result of a costly error committed by one of the 12-year-olds is almost more than he can bear. He's let the team down just when it was relying on him most of all.

And, when the burden of it all becomes almost more than he can stand, he resorts to the only emotional outlet his boyish heart understands. He sobs, big sobs and his teammates, an intensely sympathetic and loyal lot, understand.

Mrs. Bob Hillis, official scorer for the Little League games here and the mother of two young players herself, said Wednesday while watching the Little League Sectional Tournament here:

"Watching some of these youngsters lose and trying to console them is the hardest part of all. They take their games so seriously."

Watching on the sidelines Wednesday for the Little League tournament were Midland Indians Bill Brown, Gahlin Dinkel and Scooter Hughes.

Scooter was very much impressed by the play of the Midland Little League shortstop, Elton Howard.

In fact, some of the youthful fans in the crowd even dubbed young Howard, "Scooter."

One of the Midland Little Leaguers, Billy Joe Taylor, almost missed being on this year's squad.

Last year the youngster, hardly as big as your watch fob, was in a slump and his coach benched him.

The discouraged small fry went to his father, who almost had him turn in his suit.

But Billy Joe's coach talked his father into letting him stay on to encourage him for this year, and the patience he paid off.

The junior size baseballer has become one of the best players on the Midland squad.

On the Midland Indians front—Ed Menapace, Indian rookie catcher, has been placed on the temporary inactive list to allow him a chance to rest.

The move means simply that Menapace will not be allowed to play in any of the Tribe's games. However, he will draw his salary as usual and will work out with the team. Then if they need him during the stretch drive, all they have to do is get him reinstated to active status.

With Pat O'Keefe being traded at this time, he will, of course, miss out should the Indians make the playoffs. However, should they wind up in the playoffs, he will get a share of the money which they receive as a result.

Washington State Champ Nabs Lead In JayCee Golf

EUGENE, ORE.—(AP)—Roger Boyd, Tacoma, Washington State junior champion who suffered through two miserable qualifying rounds here, suddenly shot into the lead of the National JayCee Junior Golf Tournament Wednesday.

Boyd was the only player of the 100 entered to duplicate par, 37-35-82, on the 6,800-yard, tree-lined Eugene Country Club course.

One stroke back of him came three southerners—Scotty Frazer, Panama City, Fla., 36-37-73; Buddy Manderson, Tuscaloosa, Ala., 35-34-73; and Don Blippinghoff, Orlando, Fla., 35-35-72.

TOURNEY POSTPONED

PHILIPPS — (AP) — The Women's Partnership Golf Tournament originally scheduled August 19, has been set back to September 23.

Wilson Slated As Successor To Brundage

NEW YORK — (AP)—Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson, commissioner of the Big Ten, is slated to succeed Avery Brundage as president of the U. S. Olympic Association if Brundage decides he can't handle his two big jobs at once.

Brundage, millionaire Chicago building contractor who has been the dominant figure in American amateur athletics for a quarter of a century, officially took over Thursday as president of the International Olympic Committee.

At formal ceremonies at Lausanne, Switzerland, the stocky 65-year-old Midwesterner received the official key of the games' highest office from the outgoing president, J. Sigfrid Edstrom, of Sweden.

The question now is whether Brundage will attempt to carry his old load as U. S. Olympic chief with his new duties.

Midland-Abilene Small Fry Score Little League Wins

Midland and Abilene small-fry baseballers won impressive victories as the Little League Sectional Baseball Tournament opened here Wednesday afternoon.

The Midland North Little League Indians took out Del Rio, 5-1, in the opener, then witnessed a heavy-hitting Abilene team's elimination of Carlsbad, N. M., 8-1.

Carlsbad and played a consolation game at 10 a.m. Thursday, with Midland and Del Rio getting together at 4:30 p.m. Portales, N. M., and El Paso met at 2:30 in the other semi-final match Thursday. Portales defeated Santa Fe, 7-4, in its first-round contest while El Paso Highland drew a bye.

Site of the tournament is the field located on the south side of the city, at the intersection of Wedg Carter and Johnson Streets. The field officially was named "Hillin Field" just prior to the Wednesday action, in honor of Bob Hillin, hard-working Little League manager.

In impressive, pre-game ceremonies, Mayor Perry Fickett lauded Hillin for his work, then presented a trophy-plaque to Hillin and Everett Smith, who managed the team here which swept the 1951 Sectional Tournament honors.

Smith and Bert David saw their Midland team take a first-inning, 1-0 lead over Del Rio, battle back for a 2-1 lead after Del Rio tied it up, then push across three runs in the fourth inning for a 5-1 decision.

Elton Howard, shortstop, sparked the Midland team effort. He is also considered the team's ace pitcher, and will hurl the Thursday contest against Abilene.

There was little wrong with the hurling of Calvin McKenzie Wednesday. He limited Del Rio to two hits—one a terrific home run blast over the center field fence for the loser's run in the second inning—walked only one and struck out two in gaining his victory.

Midland scored in the first on a single by Fred Hedges, who moved to third on a fielder's choice, scoring on outfielder Tommy Johnson's rearing double driven sharply down the left field line. This came after Howard had checked off a Del Rio threat in the top of the first, insuring a screaming blue-darter line drive into a double play.

Then Losing Pitcher Andy Stringer powered his homer to tie it up, 1-1. In the third, Hedges reached base by fielder's choice, went to second when Howard walked and scored on an error by the catcher. That made it 2-1.

In the fourth, Jack Wilkerson walked. He came home moments later when pinch-hitting outfielder Larry Stanley drove a fast ball over the left centered field fence for a homer, increasing the home side's lead to 4-1. As insurance, Midland scored again when Clay Stringer walked, took second on an error and scored on Howard's solid base blast past the shortstop.

In the second contest, a confident Abilene squad overpowered a jittery Carlsbad nine, 8-1, behind the strong southpaw slant of Allan Peake.

Abilene took a 1-0 edge in the initial frame on a hit and error. They really got rolling in the second by pounding six hits which they coupled with three Carlsbad miscues for four runs.

They padded their advantage in the fifth on three walks, two hits and a Carlsbad error, good enough for three runs.

Peake blanked Carlsbad for five frames but lost a shutout in the sixth when Temo Navarette doubled, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on an error by the Abilene catcher.

Seven members of the Cleveland Indians were chosen for the 1952 All-Star game. This is the greatest number ever chosen from Cleveland in one year.

Humble Takes Third In JayCee Softball

Third place in the Midland Jay-Cee Softball League was copied by Humble with a 12 to 8 victory over Rensselaers in a consolation battle at Wadley Park Wednesday night.

John O'Donohoe was on the mound for Humble, while Jack Smith hurried for Rensselaers.

Football Ducks Go On Sale In Crane

CRANE—Season football ducks will be on sale at the office of the Crane High School principal August 18-20.

The ducks will sell for $5 and will entitle the holder to see the following home games: September 18, Seminole in Crane (non-conference); October 18, Big Lake in Crane; October 24, Iraan in Crane; October 31, Alpine in Crane; and November 14, Fort Stockton in Crane.

O'Keefe Traded To Abilene As Indians Bolster Defense

Pat O'Keefe, hard-hitting right fielder for the Midland Indians, Wednesday was optioned to Abilene in the West-Texas-New Mexico League for the remainder of the season for Glenn Seibo, Horace Busby, business manager of the Midland Indians, announced Thursday.

Seibo, a speedy six-foot, three-inch outfielder, who has been hitting around .300 with Abilene so far this season, is expected to be in the Midland lineup for Thursday night's game with the Odessa Oilers here.

A former All-American basketball player, Seibo hit .346 with Lamesa last year and drove in 120 runs. Busby said Seibo is expected to give the Indians more defensive strength for the "stretch drive." He pointed out, too, that Seibo is one of the top home run hitters on the Abilene club.

O'Keefe, according to the latest statistics released by the Longhorn League office, is batting .346 for Midland. He has totaled 63 hits in 240 trips, scored 53 runs, hit seven homers and driven in 50 runs.

The Abilene Reporter-News said Thursday that Seibo now is hitting below .300.

"He was hitting .206 at the last tabulation and has fallen below that since," the newspaper stated. "Seibo hit .341 for Lamesa last year. He has played shortstop, first base and the outfield for Abilene. O'Keefe is slated to play first base for the Blue Sox. This is the position he played on joining the Indians after the current season started.

Busby said O'Keefe will receive pro rata share of any league funds won by the Indians.

Busby also announced that Ed Menapace, a rookie Tribe catcher, has been placed on temporary inactive status with the Indians.

Menapace will draw his regular salary and will work out with the squad during the time that he is on temporary inactive status.

Charles (Larry) Woodall, publicity director for the Boston Red Sox, caught for the Detroit Tigers for nine years during the 1920's. He batted .268 in 1921.

LONDON—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden married his boss's niece, 32-year-old Clarrissa Churchill, Thursday in a brief civil ceremony. The handsome groom was all smiles.

Eden drove to the hall with his elder brother, Sir Timothy Eden, through a cheering crowd estimated at some 2,000. The groom wore a blue lounge suit with a white carnation in his boutonhole. He waved and beamed as the spectators clapped and yelled.

Mossadegh Orders Bigger Cuts To Aid Iran Sharecroppers

TEHRAN—(AP)—Iran's downtrodden peasants looked forward Friday to a "new deal"—an extra 10 per cent cut from the giant-sized landlord's share of what they produce.

The decree ordering a better break for the nation's poverty-stricken sharecroppers was issued by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. It also specified that the landlords must deposit another 10 per cent of the income from their estates in special rural banks to aid needy farmers.

The decree was the first of a series of reforms promised by the aged Nationalist leader when Parliament this week granted him the right to rule with near-dictatorial powers for six months.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log-

or gas. It had originally started out to dig to 14,000 feet or production at a lesser depth.
The granite was encountered considerably higher than it has been expected and that forced the abandonment.
The new Welch project is reported to be his No. 1 Mrs. Susan Britz Vanderver. It is slated to be about five miles southeast of the dry hole on the Esby ranch.
Section Listed
Exact location for the Welch No. 1 Vanderver has not been picked. However, it is understood that Welch plans to drill it at some point in section 24, block 4, H&TC survey. That would make the prospect about 25 miles southwest of Marfa. It is understood that Welch will use the Baker & Taylor Drilling Company rotary rig which drilled his No. 1 Esby, to dig the No. 1 Vanderver.
That string of tools is still on the location of the recently abandoned dry hole. Work is due to start soon.

Humble Wildcat In Tom Green Is Coring Ahead

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 George T. McEwen, Central Tom Green County wildcat, less than one mile north of the north city limits of San Angelo, may be in the Ellenburger.
That project cut a core at 6,032-40 feet. Recovery was five feet of shale and three feet of lime. One foot of the lime had a slight oil fluorescence.
Tentative Top Picked
Tentative, unofficial top of the Ellenburger has been picked at 6,097 feet. Elevation is 1,909 feet.
It is coring deeper from 6,040. After that core is cut and pulled operator probably will run a drillstem test.
Such a test would not be undertaken until some time Friday.
Location is 2,500 feet from east and 1,000 feet from south lines of section 178, WCRW survey.
Has Show In Palo Pinto
This wildcat showed possibility of being a discovery from the Palo Pinto line in the section at 4,810-30 feet.
It recovered some heavily oil and gas cut mud and a small amount of water in a drillstem test of that zone.
None of the sections below the Palo Pinto which have been penetrated have shown any possibilities of making an oil well.

Texaco Assured Flowing Discovery In NE Andrews

The Texas Company has been assured a flowing discovery from the Devonian in Northeast Andrews County.
Operator treated perforations from 12,830 to 12,900 feet with 1,000 gallons of mud acid. After swabbing out load water and acid residue, the well kicked off and flowed 257 barrels of 44-gravity oil in 14 hours through a 30/64-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio was 321-1. No water flowed out with the oil.
Operator was continuing to flow the well. Potential test will be reported within the next few days.
Location is 660 feet from west and 1,800 feet from south lines of section 22, block 6, pal survey and 30 miles northeast of Andrews.
This wildcat drilled 13,725 feet in the Ellenburger where it failed to make an oil well.
It is seven and one-half miles northeast of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 University, opener of the Magutex (Ellenburger) field.

Superior Completes Mississippian Well In NW Scurry Area

The Superior Oil Company and Intex Oil Company No. 1-516 Eva F. Laws, has been completed as a pumping discovery from the Mississippian in Northwest Scurry County.
It was finished for a daily potential of 159.5 barrels of oil from open hole section at 8,186-8,245 feet. That section had been fractured. No other details on the potential test are available.
This new producer is one and one-half miles northwest of the town of Fluvanna and one and three-quarter miles east of the Fluvanna (Mississippian) field.
Exact location is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 516, block 97, H&TC survey.

Richardson & Bass Eddy Wildcat Gets More Delaware Pay

Richardson & Bass of Fort Worth was coring below 7,154 feet in the Delaware at No. 1 Cobb-Federal, 14,000-foot wildcat in East-Central Eddy County, after more shows of possible production from the Delaware were found on a drillstem test.
Interval tested was from 7,066 to 7,154 feet. Tool was open two hours and 31 minutes. Recovery was 555 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure ranged from 92 to 330 pounds. Shutin bottomhole pressure was 2,030 pounds after 55 minutes.
Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 23-205-31e.

Costello To Serve 18-Month Sentence

NEW YORK—(P)—Gambler Frank Costello must surrender Friday to serve an 18-month sentence for contempt of the U. S. Senate, U. S. Attorney Myles J. Lane says.
Lane made the statement late Wednesday after Supreme Court Justice Robert Jackson for the second time rejected in Washington a defense plea that Costello be allowed continued freedom in bail pending appeal.

El Capitan Is To Plug Pennsylvania Failure In NW Kent

El Capitan Oil Company No. 1 Daugherty, Northwest Kent County wildcat, one and one-half miles north of the Salt Creek (Canyon) field of West-Central Upton County.
The well flowed 24 hours through a three-quarter inch choke to make an initial potential of 1,178.4 barrels of oil. Gravity of the petroleum was 54.4 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 635-1.
Tubing pressure was 300 pounds and there was a packer on the casing.
Production is coming from open hole between 12,141, seat of seven-inch oil string and total depth of 12,271 feet. Pay was topped at 12-124 feet.
Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 129, block D, CCSD&RONG survey and 15 miles northeast of Crane.

Samedan To Dig Deep Project In NW Lea Sector

Samedan Oil Company No. 1-B J. H. Moore is to be drilled as a 10,000-foot Devonian test in the Moore area of Northwest Lea County, N. M.
Location is 990 feet from west and 1,850 feet from north lines of section 22-11e-32e. It is a direct south offset to the discovery well.

Location Staked, Wildcat Abandoned In Schleicher

Wesley W. West No. 7 Mrs. Christena Mittel and others is to be drilled as a one-location south offset to production in the Neva West field of Central-North Schleicher County. Location is 2,134 feet from south and 727 feet from east lines of section 77, block TT, TC survey. It will go to 7,500 feet. Operations are to start in the near future.
Austral Oil Exploration Company, Inc. No. 1 T. P. Russell, wildcat in Northeast Schleicher County, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 5,605 feet in the Ellenburger.
That formation was topped at 5,870 feet, elevation 2,408 feet.
Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 3, block H, GH&SA survey.
Last drillstem test was taken in the interval from 5,295 to 5,605 feet. Tool was open 30 minutes. Recovery was 25 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Granite Project To Be Drilled In Torrance Sector

Twenty-eight miles southeast of Estancia and in Southeast Torrance County, N. M., T. A. Rodgers and R. W. Poyner spotted location for a granite wildcat.
It is No. 2 Federal, 1,660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 26-4n-12e.
Operations will start at once.

Phillips Completes Stepout To W-C Andrews Discovery

Phillips Petroleum Company has completed its No. 3-EE Texas University, one location south offset to the Ellenburger discovery in the west side of the Block 12 field of West-Central Andrews County.
The well flowed 24 hours through a one-half-inch choke to make an initial production of 1,103.67 barrels of 44.8-gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 369-1.
Top of pay is 10,622 feet and total depth is 10,983 feet. Five and one-half-inch casing is set at 10,910 feet. The open hole section was acidized with 500 gallons.
Location of the new oiler is 660 feet from south and 665 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 17, block 12, University survey.

Two Producers Are Fined In Lea County Pools

Two deep fields in Lea County, N. M., each have been given one new oiler.
The Gladioli (multipay) field of Northeast Lea gained a short east extension to the Devonian with the completion of Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-AV State.
It was finished for a daily flowing potential of 448 barrels of 47-gravity oil through perforations at 11,839-971 feet. The flow was through a one-half-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 134-1.
Total depth is 11,978 feet, plugged back to 11,971 feet.
Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19-12e-32e.

Conoco To Dig McKee Wildcat In Lea Sector

Continental Oil Company and others spotted location for a 3,200-foot McKee wildcat in Central-East Lea County.
It is one and one-quarter miles northeast of the operator's discovery in the Warren McKee field.
The new test is No. 1-B-28 W. D. Burger, 660 feet from north and 5,130 feet from east lines of section 28-20e-32e.
It is separated from the Warren McKee production by a granite failure.

Laan-Tex Testing San Andres Zone In N-C Gaines

Laan-Tex Oil Company, No. 1 Coline-Oil Development Company, wildcat four miles west of Segreaves and in North-Central Gaines County, was swabbing to test through perforations at 5,724 to 5,740 feet opposite the San Andres.
That set of perforations had been washed with 100 gallons of acid and 5,000 gallons.
Perforations from 5,760 to 5,712 feet, after 2,000 gallons of acid, showed oil, acid water and sulphur water. That set has been squeezed off.
Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block C-35, pal survey.

Grassland Congress To Hear Paper By Midland Authority

Ben Osborn, newly appointed work unit conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service in Midland, is attending the sixth International Grasslands Congress at Pennsylvania State College through August 23. The meet opened Wednesday.
Osborn will present a paper on "Effectiveness in Preventing Soil and Water Losses."
Much of the information in Osborn's paper was compiled in Midland and Martin Counties of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District during a period of study lasting two years.
John Brookes of Melbourne, Australia, will give a 10-minute review of Osborn's paper.
More than 150 technicians, scientists and agricultural leaders from 60 countries have been invited to present papers on all phases of grassland agriculture at the congress.
New ideas received through this joint meeting on grasslands, considered to be one of the most important parts of the agricultural economy of most countries, will be utilized by those attending on a practical basis.
Previous grassland congresses were held in Germany, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Great Britain and The Netherlands.

LEST WE FORGET:

This Is V-J Day

... so short is the memory of man that many have forgotten that a scant seven years ago there came to a victorious conclusion the greatest war, if wars can be called great, this world has ever seen . . .

It was a war to restore the right and dignity of millions of depressed peoples throughout the world . . . peoples exploited by dictatorial minorities . . .

We concluded it with great hopes that a new era was at hand . . . that we could come home to Midland and enjoy the peaceful fruits of victory.

But many things have prevented the realization of that dream we had on the high seas and distant shores. The fruits of peace oftentimes have been bitter . . . but we know that in the end all will be right with the world, and the sacrifices made by millions of our peoples will not have been in vain.

Today the veterans of this organization realize that the danger to freedom is from within as well as from without, and here they rededicate themselves to the preservation of that freedom.

Use Of Chloromycetin Gets 'Go Slow' Signal From FDA

WASHINGTON—(P)—The wonder drug chloromycetin remains on the market—but with clear warnings attached to its use by physicians.
Under a government ruling announced Wednesday, every package of it must henceforth carry an explicit caution to doctors against indiscriminate use or for minor infections—and a warning of possible hazards under certain conditions.
The government feels, however, that the versatile drug "should continue to be available for careful use by the medical profession in those serious and sometimes fatal diseases in which its use is necessary."
The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) had been faced with deciding about future use of the drug as a result of serious blood disorders, some of them fatal recently noted among people treated with the medicine.
There was even talk of a possible ban on the drug which, since 1949, has been used in more than eight million cases. It has been credited with saving thousands of lives from serious infections such as typhoid fever, Rocky Mountain spotted fever, undulant fever, epidemic typhus, "scrub" typhus, certain pneumonias and urinary tract infections. It is medicine's only known cure for typhoid.
But Wednesday, the FDA announced its decision to permit the drug to remain on the market, "under revised labeling that will caution physicians explicitly against its indiscriminate use." Packages of the drug also will contain information spelling out potential blood-disorder hazards from "prolonged or intermittent use" and calling for "adequate blood studies under such use." It can be obtained only on a doctor's prescription.
The FDA said its decision was based on the findings and recommendations of a special committee of top scientists in the field of blood studies and, internal medicine appointed by the National Research Council at FDA's request.

COMMUNITY PITCHES IN Midland Hospital Gets New Look

By COPE ROUTH

Midland Memorial Hospital, long stranded on a barren, rock-strewn patch of land on West Illinois Street, is getting its own New Look.

They've grown a nice, green lawn around it for the first time and this week, after its first mowing, the hospital stood there just as proud as the youngster with his first haircut.

A lot of people have had a hand in the landscaping project, which is now in its first phase, and within a year, they plan to have the hospital surrounded not only with smooth lawns but well-planned shrubbery and flowers.

"The city started the ball rolling," said Chairman Tom Campbell of the grounds committee of the board of directors, "when they gave us $300 worth of water for the landscaping. Since that time other groups and individuals have joined in to make it a success.

"I think it is a good demonstration of community effort."

At the request of the hospital's board of directors, the city agreed more than two months ago to provide the hospital with $300 worth of water—$300 for the grounds and $200 for the inside water use.

Then, along came J. P. (Bum) Gibbins, who sent his men and equipment out to the hospital to level off the ground and clear it of the rubble of assorted sizes of stones and mesquite and plain old weeds.

The city got into the act again by plowing up the ground, breaking up the clods of dirt and getting the whole area ready for planting.

R. O. Walker, former nurseryman and father of Dr. H. Glenn Walker, the hospital's medical staff chief, took over from there to supervise the planting of the seed, which the Basin Supply Company furnished to the hospital at cost.

Masts Pith In

Across the street, the Mast brothers—Dr. John Mast, Dr. Henrie Mast and Dr. Clarence Mast—watched what was going in and they put their heads together and came up with another idea.

They volunteered to pay for the cost of laying a six-foot-wide sidewalk across the length of the hospital, paralleling Illinois Street.

A lot of other people helped in that project, too.

Concrete Furnished

Pannell Brothers furnished the concrete at contractor's cost and then subtracted one-third of the bill as their contribution.

T. J. Stark, the cement contractor, hauled out his forms, planned the sidewalk and supervised its construction, charging only the actual cost of the labor.

"The Lord pitched in then," continued Campbell, "and proceeded to provide up with some of the first rain we've had in months to help the grass get a good start."

Now the first phase of the landscaping is well underway with grass springing up all over the place.

As far as the shrubbery is concerned, the beer dealers of Midland—both wholesale and retail—have come to the rescue.

Last week they staged a campaign-raising funds and turned over to the hospital a check for $2,882 to pay the cost of further landscaping.

Plans Requested

Various nurseries in Midland have been asked to submit plans for beautification of the grounds and these will be given careful study by the grounds committee, which headed by Campbell, also includes Mrs. Hal C. Peck and Harvey Herd.

"The beautiful thing about the whole project," said Administrator Burton N. Sears, "is that except for the water, it's all been done on a volunteer basis.

"In every instance, these groups and individuals have volunteered their services and we haven't had to ask anyone for a penny."

LUMBER DRYING SPEEDED

A method of drying green lumber, using hot air followed by high frequency electric power, has been developed. Time required for drying is much shortened over conventional processes, and neither distortion nor discoloration results.

HEAVY ATOMS

Two heaviest atoms ever known to exist have been manufactured in a radiation laboratory. They are berkelium 245 and californium 246. The new berkelium isotope has a half life of about five days; the new californium isotope a half life of 35 hours.

LIGHTWEIGHT CONCRETE

Farmers who want a lightweight concrete for farm buildings now can utilize in making it of either one of two plentiful farm materials—corn cobs or air. The first method uses corn cobs as filler or aggregate, the second is filled with bubbles of air.

PROTECTIVE POLES

When properly installed, lightning rods afford a high degree of protection and often save many times their cost in fire prevention alone. This is particularly true in the open country, since lightning is more likely to strike buildings there than in the city.

BIGGER MALLET MAY NOT BREAK

MUNICE, IND. — (AP) — An attorney defending a client in an assault case in City Court asked a policeman:

"You struck the defendant so hard you broke your club, didn't you?"

The policeman admitted it, but said it won't happen again.

"I've got a bigger club now," he added.

U. S. Medical Care Costs 12.5 Billions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It cost Americans 12 1/2 billion dollars for medical care in 1951 and about one-fourth of the bill was paid by government.

This estimate was reported Wednesday to members of the President's Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation.

Members of a panel that held discussions recently on medical facilities reported the government payments include care for members of military services and federal contributions to state and local health programs.

Local and state payments also are included.

Red Lights Induce Hens To Lay More Eggs, Expert Says

STORRS, CONN. — (AP) — Put a red light over your hen nests, and watch the eggs roll in.

That's the advice of C. S. Platt, Rutgers University egg expert.

Platt, in a paper for the forty-first annual meeting of the National Poultry Association at the University of Connecticut, told how New Jersey poultry raisers did it during the war.

Air raid regulations blacked out the brilliantly lighted poultry houses along the Jersey Coast, he said, so farmers turned on the dim red lights to let them see.

The red light had a tendency to keep the hens longer on the nests. Egg production rose, and since then experiments have confirmed the red light's effect on hens.

Twins Are Born 17 Miles Apart

REUX, FRANCE — (AP) — The wife of a Deux factory worker gave birth to twins Wednesday. They arrived 17 miles apart.

The older of the twins, a boy, was born here. The doctor, fearing complications, had the mother moved to a clinic at Niort, 17 miles away. The second child, a girl, was born there.

Col. William Ross paid $883 for a ticket to hear Jenny Lind sing, and then did not attend the concert.

Flies Won't Have A Chance If You Pursue Cleanliness

The best way to combat an enemy is to rip away the shroud of unknown that surrounds it. By finding out the traits, curious characteristics, the little quirks of its nature, it is often possible to discover a vulnerable chink in its armor, through which it can be pierced.

Flies are a prime example.

Insect specialists have discovered that a single pair of flies, beginning their family in April, by August could be the proud grand parents of some 191,000,000,000,000,000,000 offsprings. It is one of Nature's small blessings that all 191 quadrillion do not live at the same time.

Flies are one of the few species of animal life which man has found serving no useful purpose. Many of the other so-called "loathsome insects," despite their annoying traits, do some good. They might be involved in pollination of plants, or may feed on even less desirable forms of life, therefore justifying their existence. But not so the fly. It's simply no good.

Flies do, perhaps, have a single annoying grace: they don't live very long. Entomologists say that a fly reaching maturity in the Spring will not live to annoy Autumn season picnicers. One which reaches adulthood in the Fall is capable of surviving the Winter, if nothing interferes. But the first days of Spring will find him aged and feeble, too old to pester folks out to witness the wonders of the fresh new season. It will die soon thereafter. But during its life span, however short, it is astoundingly prolific.

Have you ever wondered how far a fly can fly? Experiments by entomologists have uncovered the answer. An energetic fly can cover 15 miles without the aid from wind currents. The entomologists proved this by trapping test insects and dyeing them a distinctive color. Then, at one-mile intervals, the experimenters set up their traps. The painted flies were released from the control point and some were retrapped at a distance of 15 miles.

Nowadays, the experimenters are feeding the test insects radioactive phosphorus. When retrapped, a Geiger counter is used to make the identification. This system precludes the possibility of the dye rubbing off on a non-test insect to give a false conclusion.

Aided by a wind, a fly can travel an indeterminate distance, entomologists say, thereby getting into fly-free areas. Now it is possible to see why ever section of town is susceptible to fly populations. Silk Stockings Row can be affected quite as easily as Slaughterhouse Street, unless proper protective measures are taken. If they are, then neither need be too dangerously involved.

Offer a pair of flies a place to breed, and Nature will do the rest. Their eggs will hatch into larvae; the larvae will soon turn into pupae, and the pupae will soon sprout the wings of an adult. They'll lay eggs, and the whole vicious cycle goes on and on.

Burmese Government To Probe Racetracks

RANGOON —(AP)—The Burmese government has appointed a special commission to inquire into the advisability of abolishing horse racing. The commission will probe the racing system by interviewing owners, jockeys, trainers and race-goers.

If racing is abolished the commission will devise ways and means to provide those dependent on horse racing with alternative employment. The government gave no reason for the probe.

LOUISIANA LOVER-BOY—LeRoy Holzman, left, enters police headquarters in New Orleans following his arrest on charges of bigamy. Right, Ernestine Palmer and Ledet Braddock, two of the "terrific lover's" four wives, arrive at headquarters to clear up their part in the case. Holzman, a French quarter guide, landed in jail when he "borrowed" $2,200 from one wife to entertain the other three and she had him arrested for theft.

YE EDITOR, FAMILY ROLL ALONG

Collyns Clan Hits Rain On Trip

By BILL COLLINS
Reporter-Telegram Editor

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—(Aug 11)—The Collyns once again are on a vacation tour, and this time are headed in a different direction. It has been to the West the last couple of years.

But again this year the same thing happened as in the past. Yes, we ran into rain the first day out, and enjoyed it thoroughly. Those of you who have followed this column the last two or three years will know what we mean.

Leaving Midland Sunday morning, we encountered a brief shower over around Putnam on Highway 90, and then ran into a young downpour east of Ranger. The cloudy weather continued on to Fort Worth, and it was raining in West Cowtown when we arrived there for a night stop. It was cool and pleasant all the way—far different from that which Editor Jim Kelly of The Stanton Reporter and I encountered in driving back from the West Texas Press Association convention at Alpine Saturday afternoon.

It is the "doggondest" thing how this family attracts rainfall while on vacation trips. But the country between Big Spring and Fort Worth certainly needs the moisture and I wish we could make the trip again tomorrow if it would bring more rainfall to that sector. There just aren't any crops along that well-beaten trail this year, and the range country is as brown as in mid-Winter.

We encountered our first "deep" West Texans while stopping for gasoline at Abilene. The A. D. Eady family of Odessa was headed for Mexico to visit his mother, and then on to other points to the East. Eady is a veteran Humble Oil & Refining Company employe, formerly stationed at McCamey and Midland.

This morning we headed out for busy Big Dallas, Texarkana and points Northeast after Alice first had talked by telephone with Mrs. Joe Hulhum, formerly of Midland and now of Fort Worth, who wanted us to say hello for her and Joe

Texas Families Paid Millions In Insurance Death Benefits

Texas families received $38,758,000 in life insurance death benefits in the first half of this year, compared with $30,778,000 in the corresponding period of last year, it is reported by the Institute of Life Insurance. This year's payments are 104 per cent greater than those in the corresponding period ten years ago, when the six-month total was $14,863,000.

The number of policies paid off because of death in the first six months of 1932 was 29,445, which compared with 19,436 in the first half of 1931 and 12,732 in the first half of 1922.

The rise in death benefit payments over the past decade directly reflects the greatly increased role of life insurance in meeting the family protection needs of the American people," Holgar J. Johnson, president of the Institute, said in announcing the figures. "Death benefits paid in the first half of this year throughout the country were 83 per cent greater than in the corresponding period of 1922 even though mortality among policyholders generally is very near the record low rate and materially below the 1922 rate. Aggregate ownership of life insurance in this country has risen 110 per cent in the last ten years. Many more people are now protected, and those who are insured own, on the average, considerably more protection today."

Of the aggregate payments in this state, $20,244, was under 7,097 ordinary policies; $4,876,000 was under 8,290 group life insurance policies; and $3,638,000 was under 9,856 industrial or weekly premium policies.

For the nation as a whole, $921,304,000 was paid as death claims under 779,975 policies in the first half of 1932, compared with $677,219,000 under 769,280 policies in the corresponding period of last year and $209,723,000 under 567,236 policies in the first six months of 1922. Of this year's payments $966,124,000 was under 256,533 ordinary policies; $190,400,000 was under 8,324 group policies; and $125,221,000 was under 42,519 industrial policies.

Total payments to American families by their life insurance companies were $2,106,361,000 in the first six months of this year, $890,892,000 more than similar payments in the first half of 1922.

Touch Of Vision

England's Sir Olaf Caroe, whose opinion should carry some weight, says the Western World's big trouble in its difficult dealings with the Middle East today is that we don't have a man with "the touch of vision to stir a response in the minds of the Moslems."

Caroe is one of the world's outstanding specialists on the Middle East, for years a foreign secretary of the former British empire of India, and one of the chief creators of the new state of Pakistan.

Caroe readily points out that the West has given the Middle East much in the last 36 years—aid to some countries in emerging from medieval domination, helping them get started on the road to nationhood and independence, providing some with great irrigation works and highways, making some of their rulers rich from oil royalties.

Americans can add to that our Point Four aid on a pretty impressive scale.

What else do they want? Why all the present seething and unrest? Why do many of these countries still actively dislike Westerners?

Caroe's answer is that we are giving them everything but ideas and leadership.

His idea of leadership is that the West should speak with a firm and single voice, instead of with many voices often vacillating and in disagreement. This, he says, is necessary to give the peoples of the Middle East assurance that the West will stand by them and support them in event of a showdown with Russia.

As for furnishing them ideas, Caroe deplors the illiteracy and the great misery of the great majority of the Middle East people, but he offers no plan of remedy.

America has a man who does offer remedies, and probably more than any other person in this country, has gotten next to those people on a personal, friendly basis.

The man is Justice William O. Douglas, of the United States Supreme Court. He has traveled widely and recently in the Middle East. He knows thousands of everyday people there from having lived in their tents, eaten with them, hunted with them, talked with them for hours on end about their life and their problems.

As to what the West has not given the Middle East, Douglas is direct and specific. He says we must champion land reforms, lack of which is keeping millions in subjection and poverty. We must champion things like minimum wage laws, which will assure a minimum living standard to people who are virtually destitute.

In short, says Douglas, we must offer sincere friendship backed by specific proposals to raise the standard of living. He believes this is our one great hope to help a people who badly need help and at the same time to get ourselves some insurance against these strategically vital countries succumbing to the threat of communism.

It might well be that Douglas is the man of the West with "the touch of vision" to talk the right language for us in the Middle East.

"But All Candidates Pose With Fish"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: Eisenhower learns politics no game for amateurs; Kremlin discards kid gloves in wooing Latin America; Communists launch tough, aggressive drive.

WASHINGTON—Close friends of General Eisenhower report that he is now almost getting accustomed to American politics. It is no secret that at first he was most unhappy. Even during the Chicago convention, Ike griped privately at the things he was required to do. Once he figured out a friend:

"If I'd known it was going to be like this I'd never have got into it. The people who came to see me in Paris didn't tell me about all these things. They didn't tell me about all the backslapping and the silly questions."

"What I need," Ike continued, "is a good chief of staff." The general has been a good sport, however, and despite an occasional private grumble, has settled down for the long, tough campaign that he knows will begin right after Labor Day.

He is not, however, sticking his neck out on any important decision until after consulting his "general staff." He has surrounded himself with some of the best professional GOP politicians in the business, and is leaning heavily on their advice. Politics, he has concluded, is no game for amateurs.

While the U. S. A. is engaged in domestic politics, some significant and different kind of politics is taking place below the Rio Grande. The Kremlin is sending its toughest ambassador and skilled saboteur to direct a new drive to win over Latin America.

He is Vasily Y. Yerofeev, who replaces career Russian diplomat Nicholas Gorelkin as ambassador to Uruguay. His appointment marks a new and important shift in Kremlin policy.

The fact that Ambassador Yerofeev is being stationed in Uruguay is due to that country's being one of only four south-of-the-border republics which still retain formal relations with the Soviet Union. The others are Argentina, Mexico and Guatemala. Brazil, Chile, Cuba and Venezuela have all served diplomatic ties with Moscow.

A few years ago, Mexico and Cuba were the Western Hemisphere's most active centers of Communist propaganda. Control of organized labor in both countries was in the hands of Reds or faithful party-liners, while the Communies always had strategically placed friends inside the Cuban and Mexican governments.

However, Communist influence in Uruguay also began to slip badly—and, with it, Ambassador Gorelkin's prestige in the Kremlin. Now he has been recalled in favor of a man with a quite different background and a sharply revised mission.

Vasily Yerofeev, the new ambassador to Montevideo, is a personal protégé of NKVD Chief Lavrenty P. Beria—perhaps the most powerful individual in Soviet Russia today and frequently mentioned as Stalin's possible successor. Yerofeev only entered the Moscow Foreign Office 18 months ago, and the Uruguayan job is his first assignment abroad. He is a hard-boiled Communist first, and a diplomat second.

He will not follow his predecessor's policies of seeking to woo workers while soft-pedaling Russian aggression. His task, aided by a handpicked five-man staff, is to promote trouble, unrest, and sabotage.

Nor will that undertaking be confined to Uruguay. Soviet leaders are reported to be convinced that Yerofeev's death provides a made-to-order opportunity for stepped-up Communist activity in Buenos Aires.

It can safely be assumed that Ambassador Yerofeev, thoroughly trained in terrorist technique by the acknowledged world master of that dread art, has the Argentine situation high on his list of orders from Moscow.

Merry-Go-Round Prominently posted in the office of Congressman Frank Chief of Kentucky, chief prober of the Justice Department, is this "prayer": "Dear Lord: Teach me to keep my big mouth shut until I know what I'm talking about and deliver me from blabbing what little I do know.—Amen."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Just about two months ago Carl Erskine of the Brooklyn Dodgers pitched a no-hit game against the Chicago Cubs. This, seriously enough, was never for this column.

You see, it rained at the end of the third inning, and the game was held up. So Erskine went to the clubhouse to relax until the game could be resumed. What else would he do there but play bridge?

I don't know whether or not Carl is as good at bridge as he is at pitching, but one of the hands he played, shown here today, would stand up in any big league bridge game.

Erskine and Billy Cox got to four hearts against Ralph Branca and Duke Snider. Branca led the singleton diamond, and Erskine won with the ace.

What next? Erskine could count five trump tricks, two diamonds, and two black aces. Where was the tenth trick?

Branca's spade bid indicated that both the spade and the club finessers would fall. The opening lead looked like a singleton. A pretty grim situation, but Erskine pitched his way out of it very neatly.

He drew three rounds of trumps, and then laid down the ace and queen of spades.

Branca won with the king of spades, naturally, but was then up a tree. If he continued spades, dummy's ten would set up; and if he shifted to clubs, Erskine would get a free finesse.

Erskine was so pleased with this hand that he went right out on the field, a minute or so later, and pitched no-hit ball for the next six innings.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Defense Secretary Lovett Debunks 'Flap' On NATO

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—On the door of the Pentagon office of Frank C. Nash, special assistant to Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett for International Security Affairs, there is a new gadget. It's a "Flap Indicator."

"Flap," to the uninitiated, is a perfectly good Air Force term that is roughly equivalent to "anafu." When people go around flapping their wings and talking big on subjects they know nothing about, that's Flap. When nobody knows what he's doing or why, that's Flap. When the confusion is completely utter, that's Flap. Hot air is Flap. Propaganda is Flap.

Frank Nash's new Flap Indicator consists of a pointer which can be set by hand to various indicated and briefly colored readings, as follows: Anything Can Happen—Red; Smooth Sailing—Blue; Slightly Shaky—Orange; Full Flap—Green; Super-Flap—Yellow; Be Forewarned—Brown; Repercussions—Purple.

For the last few days the pointer on the indicator has been set at Condition Green, which is Full Flap. Though it cannot be said so officially, the apparent reason is the large amount of Flap being leaked by British and French official sources in London and Paris.

The nature of this Flap is that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is all ready to fall apart. The 50-division goal for the NATO army, set at Lisbon last February, cannot possibly be met. Britain will be unable to meet her military commitments and will have to stretch out year rearmament effort over four years instead of three.

The Flap from France is considered even worse. The story coming from Paris is that unless the French government gets $500,000,000 worth of defense orders from the United States, the French government will be bankrupt. The Indo-China war will have to be abandoned. Furthermore, Paris sources indicate that the United States must guarantee French government financial stability for the next three years.

So much for the Flap. As to whether NATO will make its 1952 goals, Secretary Lovett admits frankly that he doesn't know and he can't tell until the annual reviews are presented to the next NATO council meeting. This will be held in Paris, probably in December. The Danes have requested a NATO meeting in November. But American authorities have insisted on no meetings till after the U. S. elections.

At the Lisbon conference last February, the 50-division land army goal for Europe was set as a nice round number. Twenty-five of these divisions were to be ready divisions and 25 reserve divisions.

There is no magic in these numbers, Lovett insists. Forty-nine divisions will not mean no security and 51 divisions would not mean that everything was sitting pretty. Actually, the number of divisions may be 53 by the end of this calendar year. If there is any "shortfall" in meeting this goal, it will be in the percentage of readiness of some of the reserve divisions. Instead of being 80 per cent ready, they may be only 50 per cent ready. Or instead of being divisions available for M-day plus 30—meaning a month after mobilization orders are received—they may not be ready until M-day plus 35 or 40.

Such delays may be caused by a variety of factors—not one. When the Lisbon goals were set last February, they allowed for some possible slippage. But they did not anticipate the U. S. steel strike nor necessary design alterations in some of the newest U. S. arms.

Aboard, there has been increasing belief that Soviet Russia would not attack. Secretary Lovett comments here that the restoration of power to resist has had something to do with this.

There have been increasing economic and financial problems in Europe. Lovett characterizes these as "the normal occupational hazard of anyone who has anything to do with government." And while he expresses sympathy for the French, he adds that "the U. S. cannot be held responsible for the French debt."

On the charge that the short in Europe is due to the failure of the U. S. to make deliveries, the secretary comments: "I do not think the allpance in U. S. deliveries has retarded the readiness or the combat training of a single unit in Europe."

I am undertaking an assignment I did not ask for. I hope I can do it well. —Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson.

I was fed up with this utter hypocrisy. We walked out. UN chief tries negotiator Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison.

I would like to see a strengthening of understanding between the British people and the Soviet Union. —Russian ambassador to Britain Andrei Gromyko.

I still think we're going to get armistice out there (in Korea), particularly because I think the Communists want one. —Chief of Naval Operations Adm. William F. Felister.

Underneath the Bough

By Edna G. Robins

WHEN Louise had been to college her studies and her mother's sister after her marriage to Harry Weston, but now she had a new man to love. Her husband had given her the money since they were married.

WHEN Louise found that she was going to have a child, a deep peace engulfed her. She was filled with a new strength, a new life. The restlessness of her girlhood, the yearning for a richer, fuller life that had found some satisfaction in her painting, was now forgotten. She felt no fear, for a divine energy seemed to be supporting her. She trusted it to carry her through.

And yet when she sat in her parlor, she avoided looking at the portrait of her mother that she had painted in those last weeks before her marriage.

The eyes seemed to be saying, "Well, you see I was right." In spite of her happiness and contentment, Louise hated to think that her mother had been altogether right. When she did look at the portrait her conscience reproached her as though she were betraying her own soul.

She began to avoid going into the parlor. She could not think of art work now and did not want to be made to feel ashamed for her indifference.

The unexpected appearance of Aunt Ella was a new test of Louise's courage. Louise had gone around to her mother's house for lunch. They were in the midst of it when Aunt Ella breezed in.

"Well, Louise, what luck to find you here," Aunt Ella started in brusquely. "I especially wanted to see you, because I want you to help in the new campaign we're launching. I've just come on from Chicago to meet the national committee. It's time you gave some active service to the cause of anemic name! Probably he's too mean to give her the money for lessons and the girl's too proud to admit it. And yet she really looks happy. Perhaps she wouldn't have been a real help to the Cause. I guess maybe she's soft and sentimental. Artists generally are. But I always thought Louise had too much character to grow mawkish over babies. Well, I can't waste time on her."

Aunt Ella rushed off to a committee meeting. It was a long time before Louise saw her again. Occasionally her name was in the papers in connection with the Woman Suffrage movement.

"THE sunlight streamed into the dining room. With a delightfully lazy feeling Louise poured out a second cup of coffee. It seemed so strange to be there by herself with so much time on her hands and nobody to bother her. It would certainly make a big difference to her to have both of her children at school. Eleanor had not begun school until she was six, but the baby was starting at six. He had begged so hard to go. Louise's smile was tremulous as she thought a sturdy little Ted, so handy and yet so affectionate. The house was painfully quiet without him. Louise sipped her coffee slowly, glad of this opportunity to relax and to think things over without being interrupted. It really seemed as if, from the time of Eleanor's birth seven years ago, she had never been alone, never known a moment when she wasn't being called on for some service. Yet she was conscious of an intense satisfaction.

"I certainly have nothing to reproach myself about—as far as the children are concerned," she thought. "Look at Josie Brown's baby, and Sadie's little girl! So pale and puny and miserable looking. They were horrified at the way I brought up my babies—giving them fresh air and exercise and fresh vegetables. Even Harry had his doubts and mother—sted me to keep the children wrapped in fannel all winter! No, I've nothing to regret; the way I brought up my babies."

Primer On Ko-War GI Bill Of Rights

Q. Will veterans get their mustering-out pay all at once?
 A. Not all of them. Those eligible for $500, who have had at least 60 days' service outside the continental limits of the U. S. or Alaska, will get $100 on discharge and $100 for the next two months. Those eligible for $200, with at least 60 days' service outside the U. S. or Alaska get $100 when they get out and $100 the next month.

The low rate on the totem pole, those who spent less than 60 days on active duty, get their $100 all in one lump sum.

Q. Can widows get mustering-out pay for their husbands?
 A. In case a veteran dies after discharge or release but before receiving any or all of his mustering-out pay, the proceeds will be paid, upon application, to his widow. If he leaves no surviving spouse, then they will be paid in equal shares to his child or children. And if he left no wife or children, the money will go in equal shares to his surviving parents.

Q. What special job rights does a Korean vet now have under the new Bill of Rights?
 A. He has a legal right to his old job. And he has certain preferences for government jobs.

Q. What about cadets or midshipmen as far as mustering-out pay goes?
 A. They are not eligible.

Deep-Dish Apple Pie A Specialty

NEW ENGLAND INNS feature fresh salmon salad—cold salmon on a bed of lemon maitre d'hotel cubes and tartar or mayonnaise sauce.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
 NEA Food and Markets Editor
 WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS.—Here in this beautiful college town, where the Green Mountains of Vermont and the Berkshires of Massachusetts meet, our education in New England eating continues. Pan-fried native brook trout, chicken pie, rich and creamy (with no vegetables, fortunately), are part of the daily curriculum.

The Williams Inn, on the rolling, tree-shaded campus is sprawling, relaxing, and hospitable. It offers an outstanding post-graduate course in happy eating. But we have one complaint—although they served lobster at all other meals, they didn't serve it for breakfast.

Hot Yankee sweet rolls—and the Yankees sure can bake—were the big breakfast news; plus griddle cakes with that unbeatable Vermont maple syrup.

Here's an idea for Sunday supper or hot-night dinner we learned at the Williams Inn—cold breast of duck served with a large lettuce basket on the same plate, filled with fresh berries, Irish pineapple sticks, sliced apples and celery. It's beautiful to look at—perfect eating, too.

Clifford Ingham, the chef, and I sat on the flower-bordered lawn discussing the honest pleasure man can get from good food. I wanted his chicken pie recipe, and here it is:

Use a fat, five-pound fowl and cook it tender. You'll have enough meat for 4 or 5 individual servings. Use butter or chicken fat. Melt the fat to begin the roux (white sauce).

WTCC Gives Advice To Blacklist Areas

ABILENE — Chambers of Commerce in 26 West Texas counties blacklisted by Mexico for alleged discrimination against Mexican nationals have been given suggestions by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce on how to go about getting their counties removed from that category.

They were advised to have county judges, sheriffs, and church, educational and civic leaders write letters to the nearest Mexican consul declaring they do not sanction discriminatory practices and will seek to correct or eliminate them when they are called to their attention.

The WTCC also suggested that each community chamber of commerce ask Mexican consuls what other requirements must be met to make possible employment of Mexican citizens in their counties.

Counties of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce territory currently on the so-called blacklist are: Borden, Brown, Burnet, Comanche, Coleman, Clay, Crane, Coryell, Denton, Eastland, Ector, Erath, Gillespie, Hamilton, Hooker, Lampasas, Llano, McLennan, Menard, Mills, San Saba, Somervell, Tarrant, Winkler, Wichita and Young.

MELTING POT TURNS JACKPOT

STAFFORD, ENGLAND—(AP)—A Staffordshire smelter worker stared at the cauldron of molten lead he was stirring—wads of money were rising up through the bubbles.

The astonished worker snatched 22 one-pound notes ($142) from the molten cauldron. The money apparently had been hidden in a bag of lead scrap which later was sent to the smelter for reuse.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail and Cover-Puller Off

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, stood close beside little Mugwump's bed. The night was cool, cool, and Mugwump was covered with cover up to his chin.

"Happy sleeping, Mugwump," said Daddy Ringtail.

Mugwump said: "Daddy Ringtail, last night I was cold. You didn't keep the cover on me."

Daddy Ringtail smiled to hear the words, and then he explained how hard he had worked during the night to try to keep cover on Mugwump. "Why," said Daddy Ringtail, "I covered you when I went to bed, and again at ten, two and four."

"Do tell," said Mugwump, and so Daddy Ringtail told him more.

Why, once the cover was all on the floor on this side of the bed. And the next time the cover was all on the floor on this side of the bed. And the next time the cover was all on the floor on the other side of the bed. And the last time, why, the cover was all pulled off and twisted, and Mugwump's feet were even inside the pillow.

"I didn't do it," said Mugwump.

"Daddy Ringtail, I didn't do it." And so Daddy Ringtail said he knew that Mugwump had not pulled off the cover from his own bed. Mugwump hadn't done it. Noisy, because a Cover-puller-off was the fellow who had done the mischief.

"Really?" asked Mugwump.

"Play-like," said Daddy Ringtail, and Daddy Ringtail explained that a Cover-puller-off is a very friendly fellow, except for one kind of mischief he likes to get into. He likes to get into mischief of pulling the cover off of people while they are sleeping.

"He ought not to do it," said Mugwump.

"No," said Daddy Ringtail, "except he makes it kind of a game to see if he can pull the cover off,

PRODUCTION SIGHTS RAISED

Sizzling Days Bring Rush In Air Conditioner Sales

NEW YORK—(AP)—Weather showed money this summer into the pockets of makers of air conditioners. Now they are raising their production sights for next year by 30 to 100 per cent.

Sizzling days brought such a rash of customers for room coolers that most manufacturers were quickly sold out for the rest of the season. Had they guessed how hot it was to be, they would have made more room air-conditioners and doubtless would have sold them, and made still more money.

A cool summer next year could spoil their plans. But most of them insist the market for air conditioning of homes is a growing one and they will sell more next year than this, no matter what kind of summer it turns out to be.

Sales of room air conditioners in 1951 are put at 250,000. This year's sales are estimated at 350,000. Harold B. Donley, general manager of General Electric's room cooler department, predicts that next year industry sales will reach 400,000 units, an increase of 14 per cent. Some others think his figure too low.

He says General Electric itself plans to boost production by 35 per cent next year. And he believes that by 1951, one million room air conditioners a year will be sold, mostly for home use.

Donley stresses that manufacturers are faced with the problem of a relatively short selling season during hot weather while production plans must be made far in advance by using a "crystal ball to anticipate summer temperatures."

On the other hand, Morton L. Clark, president of Universal Major Electric Appliances, Inc., Lima, Ohio, insists there is a year-around market for air conditioners—useful in winter to filter smoke and dust. Even if next summer isn't the sizzler this one has been, he predicts a record market in 1953 and plans to step up production sharply. He says he already has advance orders for almost 10,000 units.

Some Are Double Duty

Fedders-Quigan Corporation, talks of doubling its output of coolers next year. Crosley considers a 75 per cent increase. Carrier predicts a 50 per cent sales increase. Philco, York and Radio Corporation of America also have increased production in the planning stage.

Westinghouse, which makes larger units than room coolers expects

Ike, Stevenson Can't Avoid Name Calling

WASHINGTON—(AP)—General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson can try to keep this campaign on a high and impersonal plane, talking about issues.

But this is the kind of restraint which may inflict saddest wounds on some of the less inhibited members of both parties who are never reluctant to bash a head.

So there is no reason for anyone, yearning for the good old days, to feel melancholy about the prospect of a completely elevated campaign. It can hardly be like that.

Issues don't just float around in the air. People are attached to them on both sides. And, since people have names, names will be used in the campaign.

Not even Eisenhower and Stevenson can avoid using names. In this campaign the difference between dirt and decency will depend upon how names are used.

Stevenson himself already has mentioned Sen. Joseph McCarthy as an issue because of the kind of anti-Communist campaign the Wisconsin Republican has conducted in the past few years. Stevenson wondered out loud how Eisenhower could support McCarthy.

McCarthy, running for reelection, has never been a man to let a crack go unnoticed. This week he called Stevenson to his Grindstone Lake, Wis., retreat, where he is recovering from abdominal surgery, and said: "Stevenson, Adlai should brush the side of Alger Hiss off his toga before he advises Eisenhower."

Stevenson was on the receiving end of a dig about the Hiss matter even before he was nominated. This happened at the Democratic convention during the polling of a state delegation.

One anti-Stevenson delegate announced the man he was voting for was not a friend of Alger Hiss, former State Department employee who was convicted of perjury after denying Whitaker Chambers' charge that he had been a member of a Communist ring in the government.

Stevenson had worked briefly with Hiss in the Agriculture Adjustment Administration in the early New Deal days. Later he worked in the State Department while Hiss was there.

No one has offered evidence that the two men were friends of that Stevenson even knew Hiss well. But when Hiss was on trial the first time—he was convicted at his second trial—his lawyers asked Stevenson, then Illinois governor, for a deposition.

They did not ask Stevenson what he thought of Hiss. They asked him to say for the court record what Hiss' reputation had been among the people who worked with Hiss and Stevenson. Stevenson said it was good. He later commended the jury verdict against Hiss.

Weakened Dollar, Higher Taxes Cut U.S. Buying Power

What high federal taxes and inflation are doing to family incomes in Texas and other states is brought out Thursday in a report by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Taking an average family of four (husband, wife and two children) as an example, the WTCC showed how today's family income at various levels compare with those earned in 1940 after Federal income taxes are deducted and due allowance is made for the reduced purchasing power of the dollar as the result of inflation. The study pointed out:

A family in the $3,000 net income group today has $2,860.90 for living expenses after federal income taxes. This has a purchasing power of $1,813.40 in 1940 dollars. But in 1940 this family had the use of all of its $3,000 income.

A $4,000 family today has $3,644.80 left after taxes. This has a purchasing power of $1,921.74 in 1940 dollars. But in 1940 this family had $3,964.80 in 100-cent dollars after taxes.

As for the $5,000 family today, it has left $4,432.80 after federal taxes. But this income is worth only $2,344.08 in 1940 purchasing power. In 1940, however, this family had $9,500 after taxes.

The $100,000 family has $43,968 after federal income taxes today and this income has the purchasing power of only $23,303.04 in 1940 dollars. But in 1940 this family had $57,061.60 after taxes.

Looking at the picture another way, the WTCC brought out these additional facts with due allowance for taxes and inflation:

A family of four today must earn a net income of $4,165 to equal a 1940 income of $2,000.

A $3,000 income earned in 1940 compares with $6,595 earned today.

A $4,000 income earned in 1940 compares with $9,010 today.

A family which earned $5,000 in 1940 must show a net income of $11,480 today to maintain the same standard of living.

And it takes a net income of $736,000 today to equal the purchasing power, after taxes, of a $100,000 income earned in 1940.

PATCH AWAITS NAKED PEEPER

FINCHAMPSTEAD, ENGLAND—(AP)—The Heritage Nudist Club has put a fierce bull terrier out to nip its naked peeping Tom.

Club members have been frightened by a tall, sunburned male nudist hiding in the surrounding woods. The members insist he is not one of their group.

The intruder has been able to outrun every attempt at pursuit. But club members were betting on Patch, the bull terrier, to nab the pest.

"Patch knows how to grab by the seat of the pants," one said confidently. "He will be no less effective with an intruder wearing no pants."

Britons Give Right Answers In Sign-Language Interview

ABERDEEN, SCOTLAND—(AP)—Eleven Britons arrived by yacht Wednesday to tell of a strange adventure with Russians who nabbed them near a group of top-secret islands in the Gulf of Finland.

The islands are off Porkkala, the Russian-held bastion at the head of the gulf which Finland ceded after her recent wars with Russia.

Manufacturer Peter Saunders, one of the four men and seven women aboard the Helsinki-bound yacht, told this story:

"We were sailing along quite happily off the islands, well outside the usual three-mile limit.

"Suddenly we heard shots and rushed on deck to find a Russian gunboat firing on us.

"The captain stopped the yacht and three Russian sailors jumped aboard. At first we thought they were pirates—one hadn't had a shave or haircut for three months.

"We were taken to a harbor. Obviously there are important installations on the islands, as within an hour a colonel and other senior officers arrived.

"For four hours they questioned us—entirely through signs and drawings. They didn't speak a word of English. We didn't speak a word of Russian.

"We had great fun jumping around the floor to make them understand we were going to watch the horse jumping at the Helsinki Olympics."

It all ended happily. The Russians gave the yachtmens coffee and cigarettes and let them get on with their voyage.

Average Of 32,015 Letters Mailed Out Daily In City

When Midland Postmaster N. G. Oates retires at night, he probably dreams of a long, continuous stream of letters with no end in sight.

Letter-writing Midlanders keep the post office brimming with sacksful of mail and the clerk busier than the proverbial bee.

Soaring to an all-time high, a total of 704,341 letters were mailed out from the post office—a daily average of 32,015, Oates said.

The July outgoing mail represented a 32.9 increase as compared with the same month in 1951, which was 507,353.

Metered mailings also are booming with receipts for mailing machines reaching $6,971.70 last month as compared with $6,568.50 for the same month last year.

The postmaster estimated that the volume of incoming mail was even greater than local mailings.

While Oates believed that the recent steel strike would slacken Midlander's letter-writing activities, the downward trend failed to materialize.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

Just ask your druggist for four ounces of liquid Barconate. Pour into pint bottle, add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple snap way to get rid of the extra pounds, return the empty bottle for your money back. Year after year this amazing product increases in popularity. Over four and a quarter million bottles have been sold in Texas in nine years. No starvation diet with Barconate. Rapid dieting can do a great deal of harm and really should never be undertaken, except under the supervision of a physician.

Lost 20 Pounds
Mrs. Connie Lee, Box 451, Abilene.

16 Pounds Lost
"I am an invalid and was about 40 pounds overweight" reports Mrs. Mary Kessel, 1816 W. Broadway, East Worth, Texas. "After much I was always miserable with a stuffy feeling. Just would have to pass for breath. Since taking Barconate, I have already lost 16 pounds and do not have those different breathing spells and burning in my stomach. I think Barconate is wonderful."

Meadolake Margarine Notes To Bring 'Test-Tell' Prizes

All the Meadolake Margarine you can use free for the next three and a half months about tells the story of Mrs. Tucker's latest merchandising promotion advertised in this newspaper.

"You remember the Meadolake 1940 Dime Deal?" asks Mrs. Tucker. "Well, this 'Test and Tell' contest offers free Meadolake without even the cost of a dime!"

All you do is to write friends and relatives about Meadolake Margarine and both you and the recipients of your letters get cards for free Meadolake and the letters are entered in the current week's "Test and Tell" contest for $100 cash prizes.

See, Mrs. Tucker employs experienced salesmen in her Meadolake Margarine plant, to be sure that this margarine is always uniformly high in quality and flavor, and now she is paying users of Meadolake to "Test and Tell."

Here are the rules: Write a short letter to any friend or relative at a different address from yours. Tell in your original, sincere way why she should use Meadolake Margarine. Enclose with letter a Meadolake carton end flap with the "Test and Guaranteed" seal on it.

Then, if the recipient of your letter mails it on to Mrs. Tucker, Sherman, Texas, along with two Meadolake end flaps—the one you sent and another just like it—you will both receive a card good for a pound of Meadolake free!

Every such letter received by Mrs. Tucker will be entered in the current weekly Meadolake "Test and Tell" Contest. For the best such letter each week until Nov. 30, 1952, Mrs. Tucker will pay the writer $100 cash, and will also pay the one who mails the letter an additional $100. You can write as many letters each week as you wish just so each is to a different person and address, and that you enclose the proper Meadolake end flap with each letter.

Mrs. Tucker is also offering free Meadolake Margarine to church, P. T. A. and charity organizations for serving at their non-profit dinners. Officials of such organizations are urged to write Mrs. Tucker, Sherman, Texas, giving the date of their next organization dinner, the number of people to be served and Mrs. Tucker will send a letter good for enough margarine to serve the crowd and some paper parties shells to serve the margarine on. "Large Group" recipes for preparing to serve large crowds have been developed by Mrs. Tucker's Homemakers' Department, and a set of these will accompany the letter good for the free Meadolake at food stores.

Midland Rotarians, Rotary Ann's Guests Of Big Spring Club

Midland Rotary Club members and Rotary Ann's will be guests of the Big Spring club at a Ladies' Night barbecue at the Big Spring Country Club at 6:30 p.m. Friday, August 22.

Richard S. Brooks, president of the Midland club, said the barbecue and inter-city meeting represents the culmination of the local club's victory in an attendance contest with the Big Spring club.

Brooks urged all local Rotarians and Rotary Ann's to attend.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER

It looks like the old times are back again doesn't it? Yep, here we are back in the swing of things again.

First, we want to apologize for no paper last week. There was a misunderstanding on our side but we won't let it happen again.

We sure do thank Joyce Howell for doing such a swell job while we were gone. Everyone enjoyed it very much. Joyce.

Last Friday night was the farewell dance for Alan Harris and his dance band. They donated their services that night to the Youth Center which we sure do think was a swell job and there was a large crowd that turned out for it.

There were quite a few Midlanders attending the McMurry Summer Band School in Abilene last week. The Band School lasted for two weeks. Those attending were Ann Shelton, Brenda Bottoms, Jane Neill, Laura Beth Grellis, Lanny Storey, Dana Young, Hazen Woods, Skippy Clements, Berry Cummings. They all seemed to have a good time, but very happy to return home.

Barbara Whitson is on her vacation. She is visiting Beth White who lives in Brewster. Beth lived in Midland about five years ago.

Bill Glidewell, former director of the Youth Center, is in Amarillo, stationed at the Air Base there. He is going to the mechanics school. He and his wife will visit in Midland about a week in October. He says he likes it very much up there.

"Myrt" said that the Youth Center needed some more puzzles to work because all of these have been worked. So, if any of you have any old puzzles, be sure and bring them to the Youth Center. We would sure appreciate it and we know that everybody would enjoy it.

Margie Neill and Jane Calley informed us that they had a very good time on their trip. They went to visit Jane's aunt in Yuma, Ariz. They said that it was just a little bit on the hot side but otherwise just fine.

Congratulations to the new band majorettes. They are Bobby Jean Wilkie, Sarah Jackson, and Barbara de Vanny. The alternate is Linda Muse. We know that they will do a very good job next Fall.

Have any of you noticed that one of our directors is missing? Well there is one gone. Fern is on her vacation. We sure do miss you and want you to hurry back but we also want you to have a good time.

Do you like to hear things about Indians, rocks, and mountains? If you do, all you have to do is just go to Gail Black and she can tell you about all of them. She has just returned from a two week trip going through Colorado, and New Mexico. It was a Girl Scout archeology trip. They covered over 1,200 miles during those two weeks.

L. C. said to tell everybody "thank you" for all the things that he got on "His Night." He thought that everybody was real nice. Oh yes, he is still smoking the cigars that someone gave him.

Bill Erskine and Paxton Howard have returned from a two week trip in California. They went by themselves in Bill's car. They said that they had the time of their lives. Paxton said that he got a little homesick but Bill soon consoled him and that the rest of the trip was just fine. Glad that you had a good time but glad you got back safe!

Wanda Thompson visited in Throckmorton, her old hometown. The way that we found out we met some of her friends at McMurry and they told us.

There was also a Hardin-Simmons Band School going on at the same time as the McMurry School. The Midlanders enrolled were M. S. A. Queen, Bill Maxwell, Mary Copeland, and about eight others.

A new unit has been added to the air conditioner in the Youth Center. The Youth Center stays cool all the time.

Seems as though James Clabourne must have wanted something because he was being so friendly to everybody. Now what it was we don't know, but it was something, we are sure.

Friday night there is to be a big Western Dance. It will start at 8:30 and will last until about 12. All of the records will be Western. There is something else in store but we won't tell, you will just have to come and find out for yourself.

Has everyone noticed the new jukebox in the Youth Center? There is one in there.

Joyce Wiginton is visiting Margie Neill. Joyce is from Ballinger before moving to Midland. Joyce will be here for about two more weeks.

We will leave you with two thoughts. There will be a semi-formal Dance September 5. The time has not been set but we will tell you as soon as we can.

The last thought is that Midland public schools will open September 2. We will see you next week.
