

Adlai Spurns States' Tidelands Claims

Backs Truman Veto, Supreme Court Opinion

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (P)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson Saturday declared himself any "blanket concession" of Tidelands oil to the states but said he favored some sort of compromise solution to break the present stalemate in the fight.

Shivers Will 'Go Fishing'

AUSTIN (P)—Gov. Allan Shivers said Saturday night he personally could not support Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the presidency in view of Stevenson's stand on Tidelands.

But he called on the people of Texas to tell him what action they want taken with respect to determining the next President.

Shivers repeated his declaration of inability to support Stevenson personally because the latter said Saturday he agreed with President Truman's veto of legislation which would have returned Tidelands ownership to Texas.

Shivers immediately left the mansion and headed for the airport to return to Austin, Texas.

Shivers said he would be guided by that.

However, he made it clear that he personally would "go fishing" November 4, the general election date, if Stevenson's Tidelands view remain the same.

Stevenson's View Displeases Daniel

AUSTIN (P)—Keen disappointment at Gov. Adlai Stevenson's first definite stand on the Tidelands question was voiced Saturday night by Texas Attorney General Price Daniel.

Daniel, the Democratic nominee to succeed Senator Tom Connally, commented briefly when told that Stevenson had declared himself against any "blanket concession" of Tidelands oil to the states.

"I am keenly disappointed in Governor Stevenson's statement," said Daniel. "It appears that he will follow the Truman line against Texas and our public school fund in the Tidelands controversy."

Earl Ray And J. C. Franklin Win Commissioner Races

Earl Ray, 43-year-old Midland businessman and stock farmer, was nominated Saturday as the Democratic candidate for the post of county commissioner from the big, city-embracing Precinct No. 1.

At the same time, voters of Precinct No. 3 named J. C. Franklin as their Democratic nominee to the Precinct No. 3 post on the Commissioners Court.

Spurgeon Bell of Houston won a 23-vote margin over Frank P. Culver of Fort Worth in the Midland County balloting for Place No. 1 on the State Supreme Court.

Ray built up a large enough margin in voting Precincts 1, 5 and 6 to overcome the heavy margin picked up by O. J. Hubbard, another businessman, in the Precinct 1 Commissioner race.

He wound up with a total of 724 votes compared to 610 for Hubbard, who had led the field in the July 28 primary.

Franklin, a rancher in the Greenwood Community, won by a slim three-vote margin over Bill Brown, a cowboy in the same area.

Ray and Franklin join Alvey Bryant of Precinct 2 and W. M. Stewart of Precinct 4 as the Democratic nominees for posts on the Commissioners Court.

Ray and Stewart, however, must face opposition in the November general election since the Republicans have nominated Hugh McClure as their candidate for commissioner from Precinct 1 and Mahlon Keel for the Precinct 4 spot.

Good News For Candidates

As the final votes were counted in the runoff primary, Chairman Frank Beconi of the Midland County Democratic Executive Committee had good news for all the candidates in both the first and second primaries.

He said that election expenses had been less than anticipated and that approximately one-third of the filing fees will be refunded to each candidate.

In the Commissioners Precinct 1 election, the following votes were cast by voting precincts:

Precinct 1—Ray 168 and Hubbard 101; Precinct 5—Ray 194 and Hubbard 105; Precinct 6—Ray 128 and Hubbard 99; Precinct 7—Ray 234 and Hubbard 302.

Culver Leads Bell For Court Position

By The Associated Press

A light runoff vote — heavy in places — elected a new Supreme Court justice and sent three, possibly four, new faces to Congress Saturday in Texas' second Democratic primary.

Judge Frank P. Culver of Fort Worth built up a commanding lead over Attorney Spurgeon Bell of Houston in their race for Place 1 on the State Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court runoff was the only state-wide race at issue in the second Democratic primary.

In returns at 11 p. m. to the Texas Election Bureau, Culver led his young opponent from Houston, 268, 228 to 248,172.

The 11 p. m. returns were from 197 of Texas' 254 counties, including 116 complete.

At that time, according to the unofficial vote-counting agency, Jack B. Brooks of Beaumont led Joe H. Tunahill of Jasper County, 21,671 to 20,929 for the District 2 Congressional seat.

Lane Still in Running

In the ninth Congressional district, T. W. (Buckshot) Lane, colorful sheriff of Wharton County, and incumbent Rep. Clark W. Thompson of Galveston were in a neck-and-neck race for the wire.

Lane had seen an early lead built when Galveston County's heavy runoff vote sent Thompson far ahead and apparently to a third term in Congress. But a late surge of votes from Wharton County put Lane back in contention to threaten seriously the island congressman.

The Houston Post at 11:30 p. m. had tallied 29,058 votes for Thompson against 29,560 for Lane with about 2,000 votes still out. Some of those uncounted, the Post said, would not be counted until Monday.

HAND QUICKER THAN COP'S EYE

DENVER (P)—A man held in city jail Saturday was accused of stealing the gloves of an officer who gave him a traffic ticket.

The patrolman said that when he returned to his motorcycle, his gloves were gone. He caught the man's car after a short chase and found his gloves in the possession of the driver.

Midland Diarrhea Cases Show Drop

There were fewer flies and fewer cases of diarrhea cases reported last week in Midland.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the City-County Health Unit, said Saturday only 62 cases of diarrhea were reported during the week, compared to the 207 the previous week and a 250 the week before.

He said that, at the same time, the fly-count dropped to 1.1, compared to the previous week's 1.5.

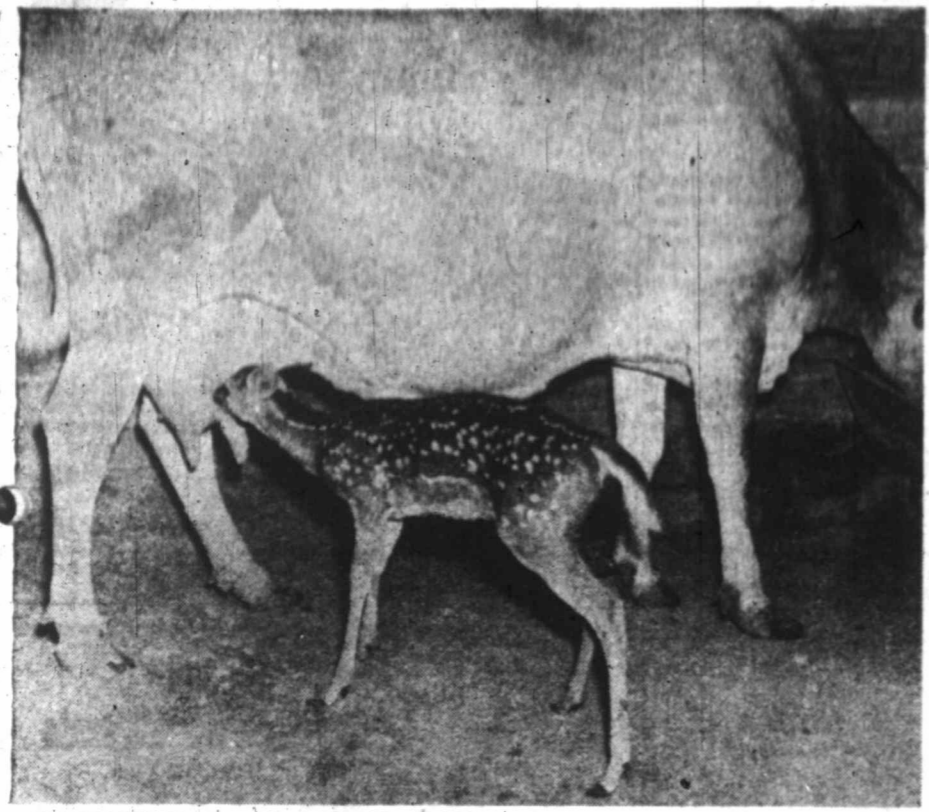

Walters Defeated In Andrews County

ANDREWS—County Commissioner H. N. Walters of Precinct 3 was defeated here Saturday in his bid for reelection.

Walters was defeated by a vote of 160 to 139 by J. W. Moxley in his race for the nomination in the second Democratic primary election.

Gerold Cobb led J. R. Ernest, 340-252, in the race for the nomination as state representative.

Frank P. Culver of Fort Worth carried the county, 224 to 229, over Spurgeon Bell of Houston in the State Supreme Court Race.

CHOW TIME—Bambi, a favorite of kiddies and grown-ups alike at Cole Park, puts on the feed bag while his friend, Daisy, unconcernedly does the same. Duward Winkler found Bambi wandering along a Midland County road and gave him a home at Cole Park.

County Decides To Go Ahead With Underpass Project Plans

Midland county officials have decided to go ahead with plans for participating in a project calling for the early construction of the Big Spring underpass.

But, County Judge Clifford C. Keith said Saturday, an additional bond issue will be needed for purchasing right-of-way for the construction of a four-lane divided Highway 80 from Midland to the Martin County line.

That was the picture Saturday after County Commissioners held their first meetings with owners of property needed for the underpass right-of-way.

Two weeks ago, the underpass future appeared dark as one property owner put a $42,000 price tag on the right-of-way across the front of his lot.

At that rate, commissioners agreed, the county would not have enough funds to match those of the State Highway Department for the underpass construction cost.

Commissioners talked at that time of using available bond funds for purchasing right-of-way needed for the Highway 80 widening, delaying the underpass plans.

"However," said Judge Keith, "it appears after meeting with the property owners that the underpass right-of-way will not cost as much as we had feared."

Enough Money Available

"Seven of the nine property owners met with us this week and none of them protested the values set up by our appraisers."

Under the figures listed by the appraiser, the underpass right-of-way would cost $162,000.

"If we can get it for somewhere around that figure," said the judge, "we will still have enough left to pay our part of the construction cost."

Texas' Sizzling Heat Turns Back Would-Be Cool Front

By The Associated Press

Texas' entrenched heat wave chased off a breath of cool northern air that brought splatters of rain to the state Saturday, leaving drouth-stricken farmers and ranchmen again crying futilely for relief.

In Washington, meanwhile, the White House received Gov. Shivers' instant request for designation of the state as a drouth disaster area.

Shivers had said he was dubious about the merits of asking for more federal help during an election year but wouldn't block any possible help for desperate farmers and ranchers.

White House aides passed Shivers' telegram along to the Agriculture Department.

Some Thunderstorms

A front which pushed into North Central Texas Friday was thrown back Saturday by the stifling hot air. Turbulence caused by the atmospheric clash brought a few thunderstorms.

An electric storm struck near Marshall.

$5,148 'Vacancy' Is Filled As Keith Quits School Post

County Judge Clifford C. Keith disclosed Saturday he had resigned as ex-officio county superintendent of schools and that Christine Golladay, a former teacher at Greenwood School, had been appointed to the $5,148-a-year position.

As ex-officio county superintendent, Judge Keith had been serving without pay—other than his judge's salary—since Jan. 1, 1951.

The appointment was made Thursday by Commissioners Court after it was decided to declare vacant the post which hitherto has been filled on an ex-officio basis.

Miss Golladay's term expires Dec. 31, 1954, at which time the post will have been filled by an election.

As county superintendent, her jurisdiction will include only the Greenwood School, with its 150 students, a principal and faculty of eight teachers and five school buses.

Actually, the full-time county superintendent's job has been vacant the last six years.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

BIG SPRING—Jess Slaughter, who served 10 years as sheriff before being defeated at the polls in 1940, was elected to the position in Saturday's voting. He won over the incumbent, Jake Bruton, 3,045 to 2,643, in the second Democratic primary ballot. Bruton was seeking his second term.

WACO (P)—Usually Democratic McLennan County Saturday gave Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower more than a third of the ballots cast in a straw vote held in connection with the second Democratic primary election. Virtually complete returns gave the Republican presidential nominee 3,798 votes to 5,989 for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate.

CORPUS CHRISTI (P)—A slashing Dallas Texan line ripped Carswell Air Force Base to shreds Saturday night as the Texans racked up their second victory of the exhibition season, 27-0.

Andrews, Miller Keep Crane County Posts

Incumbents Vincent Andrews and Gay Miller were successful here Saturday in their bids for nomination as county commissioners in the second Democratic primary election.

Andrews paced I. C. (Tiny) Sharp by an 88-87 vote in the Precinct 2 election and Miller led W. O. Murray, 112-80, in the Precinct 4 race.

HE WAS 'BORN TO RAISE HELL'—Wounded Wife Gasps Story Of Trailer-House Nightmare

By COPE ROUGH

"I guess he just never was any good."

The pale lips of blue-eyed, 25-year-old Vivian Grubaugh moved slowly as she sought to keep alive her bullet-riddled body.

"He loved his son and I guess he loved me."

"But he was no good and I was through with him. Through with him forever."

VIVIAN GRUBAUGH ... her nightmare hager

"I love her more than anything in the world. She was the most beautiful girl in the world."

Grubaugh, employed by an Odessa construction firm, refused to discuss the shooting following his arrest Friday at his mother's home in Kermit.

"I'm not saying I shot her," he told Texas Ranger John Wood and Detective Sgt. Billy Adair, who returned him to Midland.

YE EDITOR HEADS HOME Collyns Family Takes In Heart Of Ozark Kingdom

By BILL COLLYNS
Reporter-Telegram Editor
ROGERS, ARK.—Here we are back in Arkansas and deep in the heart of the Ozark empire. It is beautiful in these parts—the mountains, the valleys, the wooded countryside and the running streams—and the climate this evening is delightful. And we hear the drive on down Fort Smith way is even more beautiful. We will sample that tomorrow.

They call this the "Vacation Wonderland" and "The Playground of the Ozarks," and one readily can understand how and why those slogans were assumed. Plenty of people seem to be on hand to enjoy the scenic beauty, too. But we overheard one "Vacation Wonderland" businessman say the 1952 season has only about a week or two more to run, and then it will be over for another year. And speaking of Rogers, we believe this is where Mrs. I. A. Searles, former Midland Girl Scout leader, now resides.

The rains continue to follow us, too. We left Salem, Mo., in the rain early this afternoon and most of the country on down this way is soaked. It was one of those slow, soaking rains, similar to the ones we encountered up Kansas way last summer. (My, what such moisture would do for West Texas right now.)

Thunder Heard
And here in Rogers it is pouring down rain as this is being written—plenty of lightning and thunder, too. A very wet country in so far as rainfall is concerned. We did drive across one fairly brown strip of country south of Monet, Mo., this afternoon. It looked somewhat out of place after all the greenery we have seen on this trip, and what a wonderful trip it has been.

Last night it was our pleasure to attend the annual stag party of the Balem Chamber of Commerce, held at a private cabin on the banks of the Maramec River. Plenty of fried chicken and all the trimmings, refreshments and good fellowship. It is a thing other chambers of commerce might try sometime. The party surely went over in a big way in Salem, and they say the chamber members there look forward to the annual outings.

And incidentally, we now have at least two former Salem boys living in Midland. They are John Shelton and Edward Ray. We visited with Lloyd Shelton, John's brother, and with Mrs. Robert Vickery and Mrs. Ben Ray, Edward Ray's sister and mother. The Missouri relatives send greetings and best regards to their folk in Midland, Texas.

Prices Pointed Out
We were in a Salem cafe for coffee this morning and here are some of the food prices we noticed on the menu: Fried chicken, 60 cents; plate lunch, 55 cents; pie (generous slice), 10 cents; T-bone steak dinner, $1.65; coffee, five cents. Pretty cheap eating in the Ozarks of Missouri.

We managed to do much better than that, however, eating of Alice's relatives the last week and, my, how they do feed. And on top of all the other food, watermelon two or three times yesterday and another big slice before leaving the Albert Norris farm this morning. Eating home-grown watermelon on the front porch with the rain pouring down is quite a treat for anyone and particularly a deep West Texan.

But here we are back in Arkansas enroute home, and the rainfall continues in flood proportions. Maybe we can bring it on back to Midland with us. Hope so anyway.

Margaret Leaves Finland To Visit Norway's Capital

HELSINKI, FINLAND — (AP) — Margaret Truman headed back to Sweden Saturday aboard the regular Stockholm-Helsinki ferry on her way to Oslo, Norway.

The President's daughter was seen off by U. S. Minister John Cabot, who had been her host during her two-day stay here.

A few minutes before the ferry departed for its 100-mile trip across the Baltic, Miss Truman was handed a huge bunch of red roses by Eric von Frenckell, Finnish member of the International Olympic Committee and one of the chief organizers of this summer's Olympics here.

Margaret's visit here was a great success and Finns called her "the nightingale of the White House."

Ike Plans Talk With Taft, Revises Southern Schedule

DENVER — (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft — who was the general's chief rival for the top presidential nomination — will confer soon, Eisenhower's political chief of staff said Saturday.

The staff chief, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, told a news conference there is a possibility the meeting may take place in New York this week if the Ohio senator should decide to cut short his vacation in Murray Bay, Quebec.

Otherwise, the general and Taft will get together early in September in New York or Ohio, Adams indicated.

"I am sure you can look forward to a meeting of General Eisenhower and Senator Taft in the near future on some mutually-convenient date," Adams said.

The forthcoming meeting probably will determine just how active a role Taft may play. Some Eisenhower supporters reportedly are not anxious to have Taft closely identified with the general during the campaign because of the sharply differing views the two men hold on some issues. Other backers of the general feel he must have as much help from Taft as possible to win in November.

At his news conference, Adams also said it has been necessary to "thoroughly revise" plans for Eisenhower's September 2-3 swing into traditionally Democratic Dixie. Instead of flying into a 10 or 12 Southern cities as the proposed original schedule provided, a fair guess now is that the general will speak in five or six cities, Adams said.

He added that the original itinerary "covered more territory than possibly could be covered" in two days. But he said there probably will be one or more additional forays into the South during the campaign.

Adams declined to disclose the new itinerary, but said it will be announced in a day or so.

McGranery To Act If Texas Requests Return Of Binion

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Attorney General McGranery's office said Saturday steps will be taken in an effort to return gambler Benny Binion from Nevada to Dallas to face federal income tax evasion charges.

No request has been received here from Texas authorities, they said, to place Binion under Texas state authority for gambling charges. Action will be taken and if the request is received.

This development followed Binion's plea of nolo contendere at Carson City, Nev., Friday to charges of underpaying his 1949 income taxes by $15,000. By the plea, he did not admit guilty but allowed the court to convict him.

Binion was indicted in Dallas on this federal charge, attorneys here said, but was arrested in Nevada. This ordinarily would permit him to be sentenced in Nevada.

Bakersfield Counts Two Dead, 32 Hurt, 20 Millions Damage From Latest Quake

BAKERSFIELD, CALIF. — (AP) — The quake-battered Bakersfield community swept up the rubble Saturday and counted damage estimated tentatively at 20 million dollars from Friday's sharp shock. Two lives were lost and 32 persons injured.

Meanwhile, the epicenter of a tremor which shook Los Angeles early Saturday was placed at only 25 miles northeast of Pasadena. It caused no damage but woke thousands of persons in the middle of the night.

City Manager C. Leland Gunn said the damage from Friday's shock will be greater than that of the July 21 quake. He placed Bakersfield's loss in the earlier shock at 15 million dollars.

Other sources have placed it as high as 20 million dollars. Conservative estimates of earthquake loss in the month following July 21 place total damage at 40 millions. The latest quake would boost that to 60 millions or more.

All stores and offices, scores of them, in a six-block area of the downtown sector were closed. The drop in commercial activity added another intangible loss, impossible to estimate immediately.

Police Chief Horace V. Grayson said the six-block heart of the downtown section will remain closed at least until Monday.

"It might even take until Wednesday to get all shabby walls down and bricks and glass out of the street," Grayson said.

Gunn said preliminary inspection shows at least 100 buildings badly damaged. Some, weakened on July 21, were made completely untenable by Friday's quake.

Schools, Churches Hit
Schools and churches particularly were hard hit. City School Superintendent John Compton said there is doubt whether all students could be accommodated at the opening of the Fall semester, scheduled in two weeks.

Five churches cracked by the tremor planned emergency services elsewhere, the ministers announced. Churches made unsafe are Catholic, Presbyterian, Congregational, Seventh Day Adventist and Church of Christ.

Killed were George T. Cooby, 67, Bakersfield, and Mrs. Edna Ledbetter, 26, McFarland, Calif. Nine of the 32 injured remained in hospitals Saturday. The July 21 quake took 14 lives, 11 of them at Tehachapi, 35 miles east of here.

LONDON — (AP) — The cats of England got 1,000 pounds ($2,800) Saturday from a cat lover who never owned a cat.

The estate of Harry Batsford, publisher who died last December at the age of 71, provided that sum for feline welfare.

He suggested there ought to be propaganda to "combat the pernicious idea that cats can feed themselves; that they must live on what they catch, i.e. that they hunt and mouse better if they are half starved."

29 MIG'S Killed In 22 Days As Sabre Jets Score Record

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—U. S. Sabre jet pilots Sunday claimed probably "the most clean-out victory" of the Korean War, shooting down 29 MIG's and damaging 39 at a cost of one Sabre in only 22 days of August.

A Fifth Air Force spokesman said the nearest comparable performance to the blazing air battles of August was last June. In that entire month, 23 MIG's were shot down and one U. S. Sabre was lost.

How high the Sabres might boost their August total was in doubt. MIG jets which offered battle at great cost to themselves early in August have been shy lately. And rains now are hampering operations.

The Air Force said six Allied planes failed to return to base last week. Two were shot down by Red ground fire. Four others, including two Sabres, were lost to "other causes," presumably bad weather. A typhoon hampered air operations during the period.

Rains whipped across the Korean front most of Saturday, holding back both air and ground operations.

The Lenora gin, where the bale was turned out, paid the basic price of 40 cents a pound. Bidders boosted the price to $1.15.

German Pact Talks Asked By Russians

MOSCOW —(AP)—Russia proposed early Sunday a big four-power meeting on a German peace treaty to be held not later than October.

The Soviet government called for the meeting with Britain, France and the United States to consider a peace treaty, formation of an all-German government, all-German elections and a time limit for withdrawal of occupation forces by the Big Four powers.

The Soviets said they would discuss a German elections commission as proposed by the three Western powers but only following the discussion of the peace treaty and formation of an all-German government.

Notes were delivered to the Western Big Three ambassadors Saturday afternoon after they were called in to the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The three powers had sent notes July 10 agreeing to meet with Russia for the specific purpose of creating an impartial commission to determine whether free elections can be held in Germany.

Up to now the Russians had rejected Western proposals for a kind of inspection of Soviet-controlled East Germany on the election question.

Borger Man Escapes In Jet Plane Crash

BANGOR, ME.—(AP)—An F-80 jet fighter crashed and burned taking off from Dow Air Force Base before dawn Saturday. The pilot escaped serious injury.

Air Force officials identified him as Capt. Johnnie Gosnell of Borger, Texas.

Gosnell skinned his shins climbing out of the flaming wreckage. The base said Gosnell lost control on takeoff for a routine training flight.

White Wins Glasscock Post By Five Votes

GARDEN CITY—A. W. White edged out incumbent Sam Glasscock by five votes for election as Glasscock County Commissioner, Precinct 2, in the second Democratic Primary here Saturday.

In the light balloting, White got 69 votes to Glasscock's 64.

An even closer margin saw Frank P. Culver get 67 votes to Spurgeon Bell's 63, in the race for Place 1, Texas Supreme Court.

Cigarettes Blamed In Midland Fires

Cigarettes resulted in two Midland fires Saturday.

The first was at 3:30 p.m. at the Park Motel, East Highway 80, with a mattress destroyed by fire in one of the cabins.

The other run was at 4:50 p.m. to the Midland Country Club, where a building used to store trash was damaged $250 by fire.

LITTLE ALEXIS INVENTS GAME

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—(AP)—Two-year-old Alexis Pollina spun a ball of pretty green stuff on a table.

To her father, Alex, it was $50 a week's salary. He had placed the money on the bedside table before stretching out for a nap.

To Alexis it was material for a new game.

Bill by bill, she happily threw the $50 out of a third floor window. A search by the family of the street below netted only $15.

Drouth Cuts Crop Outlook In Europe, But Not Seriously

LONDON —(AP)—Europe's larger won't be quite so full this Winter.

Summer weather upsets have trimmed most harvests. But outside Yugoslavia and some Communist countries food will not be scarce.

Greek and Danish farmers have had boom years. Elsewhere the picture generally is: June and July drouth cut grain and root yields by roughly a tenth—not enough to bring back rationing.

For Yugoslavia things look tough. A 10-week drouth slashed a third off most crops. Kitchen vegetables are three times the price they were a year ago. Potatoes and root crops are of poor quality. However, reserves from last year's big harvest probably will stave off a return to ration cards.

Already Marshal Tito's government has banned exports of grain and fodder and is looking for ways to buy or borrow wheat.

Britain is disappointed by low yields but will not suffer. Government subsidies persuaded farmers to put new ground under the plow this year so crop totals are expected to be up to average.

Three Airmen Killed In Mid-Air Collision

BRYAN —(AP)—Two of the three men killed when two training planes from Bryan Air Force Base collided in flight near here Friday were identified Saturday.

They were First Lt. Roland E. Luke, 35, Pueblo, Colo., and Cadet Daniel C. Nash, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Casper J. Nash of Huntington, W. Va.

The third victim was listed as a Norwegian cadet. His name was withheld pending notification of the Norwegian Embassy.

A fourth man, Capt. Earl Price, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Price, Sr., of Lubbock, parachuted to safety. He was reported resting well Saturday with only a few minor cuts and bruises.

One plane was reported to have disintegrated in the air while the second plane crashed and burned. One airman's parachute caught on his plane and he was carried down with the wreckage.

Records show that cold weather is just as likely to occur when the moon is new as when it is full or in any other phase.

OTHERS SEE GROUNDED GIZMO, TOO— Huge Disc From Sky Spouts Flame At Wary Scoutmaster

WEST PALM BEACH, FLA.—(AP)—A deputy sheriff and two Boy Scouts Saturday added details to a Scoutmaster's story of his encounter with a strange object in a rural wooded area Tuesday night.

They told of scorched grass, strange lights and showers of sparks in the area where D. B. Desvergers said he was "blasted by a ball of fire" from the object when he investigated flashes of light near a country road.

Desvergers, 30, hardware salesman and former Marine, said he was questioned at the West Palm Beach International Airport by officers from Washington whom he refused to identify.

The Scoutmaster has described the object he encountered as shaped "like half a rubber ball," about three feet thick at the edges and high enough at the center for men to stand erect inside.

Deputy Sheriff Mott N. Partin, summoned by the Scouts, said the ball was stung off Desvergers' arms and three tiny holes were burned in his cap. He also said he found evidence of scorched grass where the Scoutmaster said he encountered the object.

Down From Sky One of the Scouts, Charles Stevens, said the group saw a "big glowing white light come down out of the sky" and "there were about six reddish lights around it when it neared the ground."

David Rowan, another Scout, said that soon after Desvergers entered the woods, something "went off and showered sparks all over the area like a Roman candle."

In Washington, an Air Force spokesman said an officer was sent to check on the incident.

He said the officer flew from Air Technical Intelligence Center, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. The center has the responsibility of analyzing the reports of unusual aerial objects.

Alcoa Plans Huge Smelter In Alaska

MT. MCKINLEY NATIONAL PARK, ALASKA —(AP)—Aluminum Company of America said today it will build a 400-million-dollar aluminum smelting plant in Alaska.

The company said the project hinges on the purchase of land and government approval.

Leon E. Hickman, vice president and general counsel for ALCOA, said the plant initially will be capable of producing 200,000 tons of aluminum annually.

Hickman said the plant will be built in the Taina Valley district, near Skagway. It will be financed entirely with private capital.

Desvergers reported he was taking three Scouts home Tuesday night when he stopped to investigate the lights in nearby woods. He said when he flashed his light on the object, he was blasted by the ball of fire and overcome.

110 Abnormal Chests Found In Midland X-Ray Survey

A recent X-ray survey in Midland County brought to light only 110 abnormal chests—medically speaking, that is. Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the City-County Health Unit, said Saturday that the State Health Department had reported that number detected from among the more than 7,000 chests X-rayed here. The survey was conducted by the State Health Department of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association. Those whose chests were abnormal, were instructed to consult their personal physicians for further examinations to determine whether tuberculosis is present.

Tribe Scores 4-3 Victory Over Braves

Scoring a run in the bottom of the ninth inning Saturday night to break a 3-3 deadlock, the Midland Indians shaded the Sweetwater Braves, 4-3, to take the opening contest of a three-game set here.

With none away in the frame, Earl Bossenberry led off with a walk, advanced to second on a wild pitch, and scored on Scooter Hughes' solid single through the box.

In a slow-moving contest which saw the score knotted on three different occasions, the Tribe made the most of its six hits, three Sweetwater errors and six walks given up by Brave starting and losing hurler John (Chief) Miller.

The husky Brave hurler had tied the game up in the top of the ninth by punching a home run over the left field fence.

Midland took a 1-0 edge in the second frame when Manuel Tenes singled, took second when Bill Brown was hit by a pitched ball, was sacrificed to third, then stole home on a disputed play which saw Sweetwater Catcher Bill Finley thumbed out of the contest by Plate Umpire Bill Valentine.

The Braves knotted the score at 1-1 in the top of the third on consecutive singles by Ernie Cortez, Kenny Hughes and Charlie Buck. But the Indians again took a one-run, 2-1, margin in the bottom of the third when Scooter Hughes singled and scored on Julio de la Torre's double to left field.

The visitors tied the score at 2-2 in the top of the eighth when Warren Blitter doubled and was singled home by Johnny Morris. For the third time the Indians went out in front by a 3-2 margin, scoring once on two Sweetwater errors, a single and two walks which forced a run across.

Chief Miller evened the contest at 3-3 though with his mighty circuit blast. But the Indians were not to be denied as they tallied the winning marker in the bottom of the ninth.

Righthander Eddie Jacome, though giving up nine hits, picked up his eighteenth victory against 11 setbacks.

The same two clubs meet in a single contest at 4 p.m. here Sunday with rookie lefthander Bob Merritt (0-2) slated to toe the rubber for the Braves and Midland's ace righthander, Keith Nicolls (22-8), scheduled to work on the mound for the Tribe.

Rockets Drop Loop Leaders By 8-4 Tally

ROSWELL — (P) — The Roswell Rockets used a 15-hit attack off three pitchers and a fine early-inning job by Bob Weaver to down the league-leading Odessa Oilers 8-4 here Saturday night.

Weaver moved swiftly and easily through the first five innings, began to show signs of fatigue in the sixth, and eased up in the last two to give the Oilers three of their four runs.

The slim Rocket righthander fanned 13 Odessa batters in achieving his 10th win against nine losses for the year. He gave the Oilers only six hits, three of them in the last two innings.

Newcomer Pummel

The Rockets had piled up all the lead they needed in the first inning when they pummeled Odessa newcomer and starting pitcher Nelson Campver for five hits and as many runs in only one-third inning.

Odessa Manager Bob Martin slugged a lead-off homer off the scoreboard in the second for Odessa's only score until the eighth.

The two clubs will meet here again Sunday in the second of a three-game set. Sunday will be Al Monchak Night here, honoring the injured and missing Rocket manager.

The score: Odessa 8, Roswell 4. 2 Roswell, 510 010 015-3 15 1 Campver, Perez (1), Parker (2) and Castro; Weaver and Crawford.

Yanks Freeze Redskins, 1-0

NEW YORK — (P) — Vic Raschi pitched the New York Yankees back into first place in the stirring American League pennant race Saturday by beating the Cleveland Indians, 1-0, before 53,747 fans, largest crowd of the year at Yankee Stadium. Gene Woodling and Joe Collins whacked consecutive doubles in the fourth inning to account for the game's only run off Early Wynn.

The Indians had taken the lead Friday by one percentage point by downing the Brewers, 6-4.

Bestial fielding in the eighth inning prevented the Indians from tying the score. Bill Glynn was cut down at the plate attempting to score from first base on Dale Mitchell's two-out double to right center field. Hank Bauer retrieved the ball, fired in to second baseman Billy Martin, who whipped it to catcher Yogi Berra in time to nail the sliding Glynn.

Raschi surrendered six hits in posting his fifteenth victory of the season compared to three defeats. Wynn was tagged for seven safeties.

Pat Garner Ready For Try At National Amateur Title

By BOB ADAMS
R-T Sports Editor

Attractive Pat Garner of Midland, who has played in some of the nation's major women's golf tournaments the last two years, is in Portland, Ore., for the Women's National Amateur, which runs from August 25 to August 31.

The brown-haired, 23-year-old golfer has been playing major tournament golf since June, 1950; when she was graduated from Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. And since that time, on numerous occasions, she has stroked her way into the finals, only to lose out with the journey crown reflecting tearfully in her eyes.

For example, take a look upon her achievements on the tourney circuit so far this season:

Semi-finalist in the Palm Beach, Fla., meet in February; runner-up in the Hollywood four-ball tourney in February; quarter-finalist in the Trans-Mississippi tourney in Phoenix, Ariz., in April; runner-up in the Texas State Women's amateur tourney at Texarkana in June, and, finally, winner of the West Texas Women's Open at Fort Worth in June.

To come so near and yet so far would discourage a lesser contender. But, putting her past record behind her, Pat has been training vigorously for the National Amateur on the nine-hole Midland Country Club course.

And just before she left, you could sense that she felt like this might, just might, be her lucky trip.

Understandingly hesitant to make predictions, Pat said, "I've discovered that it's better not to comment on how you might come out, because those statements can be awfully embarrassing sometimes."

When the popular young golfer was only 12 years old, a childish indifference almost made her give up the sport.

She was living in Fort Worth at the time and had had just six months of golfing instruction. But so many other things seemed more important to such a young girl that she laid aside her golf clubs and did not pick them up again until she was 19 and a student at Texas Christian University.

It was in Fort Worth that she came under the tutelage of one of the game's most renowned instructors, A. G. Mitchell of Rivercrest Country Club.

Mitchell had watched two of his students, Polly Riley and Amelia Goldthwaite, zoom into prominence on the national golfing scene.

Mixing philosophical advice with his manual training in the sport, Mitchell dropped a phrase one day that has stuck with Pat ever since.

"You'll never get conceded playing golf," he advised, "because the other golfers will not let you."

Mitchell is on the verge of retirement from teaching golf now and Pat, he says, is his last student.

If past performances are any indication, the aging linkster can retire with the satisfaction of knowing he has trained another winner.

Already Pat has been stamped as a leading contender among the nation's amateur golfers. She has played with most of the golf greats, including the famed Babe Dickerson Zaharias, who, Pat says, "has no equal among the women golfers."

"Her coordination and calm thinking on the golf links have no peer," said Pat.

Eye's Top Honors

The Midland linkster lists her greatest thrill as beating Polly Riley in the first match of the Helen Doherty Women's amateur tourney at Miami, Fla., in January, 1952, even though Pat herself later was beaten in the quarter-finals.

Now Pat has her sights trained on the top tournament in the nation. And, win or lose, a host of hometown followers will watch her accomplishments with the knowledge that, in her own modest way, Pat will do her best.

Tribe Falls, 10-9, Before Duster Nine

VERNON —(A)— Snapping a 16-game loss streak, the cellar-dwelling Vernon Dusters salvaged the final game of a three-game set with the Midland Indians here Friday night when they measured the Indians, 10-9, in a good old-fashioned slugfest match. Midland totaled 16 hits while Vernon marked up 15.

The Tribe ran up a 3-0 edge in their half of the initial frame but rookie Herb Dwire, Midland's starting hurler, was unable to hold the margin and took an early bath at the end of only two-thirds of an inning of play.

Wildness plagued the stringy right-hander, who, with one away, gave up singles to Mart Dooley and Goldy Holson, struck out Ed Bucynski, then walked Joe Niedson and Art Neal to force a run over the plate.

Ed Santa came on to relieve Dwire but promptly walked Bob Brown to force in another run. McElyea doubled, scoring Niedson and Neal to send the Dusters out front, 4-3.

Both teams matched runs in the second stanza with Midland again taking a brief lead in the third with two runs. Vernon regained the lead in their half of the frame with a three-run spurge, and they never were headed after that.

Art Neal homered for Vernon in the fourth and the deciding tally was scored by the basemen dwellers in the eighth when Popeye Carreras singled, went to second on Dooley's sacrifice and scored on a single by Oholson.

Julio de la Torre homered for the Tribe in the first inning with one mate aboard and Bill Brown duplicated the feat in the third with Glenn Seibo on ahead of him. The loss was charged to Santa.

Californian Garners Caddie Golf Crown

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(A)— A 16-year-old Californian Saturday captured the PGA-national caddie golf championship and a $1,500 college scholarship with a putter that acted like it already had been to college. Al Chandler of Hawthorne, Calif., just outside Los Angeles, smothered Jim Lucius of Northfield, Minn., 8 and 6, in the 36-hole finale over the Scarlet Course of Ohio State University.

SPORTS NOTES from the BENCH JOCKEY

By BOB ADAMS

Teachers in the Midland school system will have a special night at Indian Park next Thursday when the Tribe plays the Vernon Dusters here.

A special section of the park will be roped off, according to Horace Busby, business manager of the Indians. The teachers will view the ball game after they attend a watermelon feast, sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

A pennant fund drive for the Midland Indians will be launched here Monday. And the Tribe was assured Saturday that they will have support, not only from those who witness the game from inside the park, but those who watch it from the outside.

One of the loyal fans who peep over the outfield fence called Busby Saturday to ask that they not be forgotten when the pennant cans are passed through the crowd.

The caller was a lady with a young child. She told Busby, "We're just as avid fans as those who sit inside the park but occasionally we can't get a baby sitter and, to keep from missing the game, we drive up outside the park so we can leave the baby in the car, and yet see the ball game."

The Tribe business manager assured her such loyalty would not be forgotten.

Approximately 40 tickets remain to be sold out of 400 placed on sale here for the pro football game in Odessa next Friday between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Dallas Texans.

However, if Midland fans desire them, more will be brought over from Odessa.

Longhorn Coach Says Texas Might Finish Third In SWC

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN —(A)— Texas Football Coach Ed Price is a man who knows the psychological dangers of belittling a team his Longhorns will have to play later.

That is why Price—a gentleman and a scholar—refused to change the red flag waved by a reporter Saturday.

The reporter wanted Price to discuss how rough the Texas football schedule will be this Fall compared with Louisiana State University's.

Texas and LSU meet the night of September 20 at Baton Rouge in the season opener for both teams.

LSU Coach Gaynell Tinsley is calling the Tigers' nine-game schedule their roughest in history and says it will compare with the toughest in the nation this season.

"How about that, coach? Would you call Texas' schedule as rugged as LSU's?" the reporter asked Price.

The Texas coach hesitated a moment. Then, cautiously picking his words, he made this diplomatic analysis:

"I think just generally both LSU and Texas have many worthy opponents this year. Since schedules are made up three to five years in advance, no one knows what kind of schedule it will prove to be when the time comes to play it."

"You would have to wait until the season is over to compare their schedules. Even then, there's no way to do it accurately."

"LSU certainly has some big-name teams to face — Alabama, Kentucky, Georgia, Maryland, Mississippi, Tulane. Those are always fine teams. The Southeast Conference is a strong conference."

Then the affable Texas coach turned to his own team in the Southwest Conference.

All Names Tough

"Anytime we play any team in our conference, we've got a tough game. Texas A&M, SMU, Baylor, TCU, Rice, Arkansas—any one of those teams is apt to beat you on any given Saturday."

"And outside the conference, we're playing teams that have been powers through the years — Notre Dame, Oklahoma, North Carolina, LSU. That gives us 10 tough games this year."

"To specifically say who has got the roughest schedule would be impossible at this time."

LSU faces nine opponents in this order: Texas, Alabama, Rice, Kentucky, Georgia, Maryland, Mississippi, Tennessee, Mississippi State, and Tulane.

Texas has this schedule: LSU, North Carolina, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Rice, SMU, Baylor, TCU, Texas A&M.

Both Texas and LSU face the similar problems of having to rely on a number of sophomores and having to develop a top-flight quarterback if they are to move near the top spots of their conferences.

Price predicts Texas will finish third or fourth in the Southwest, but could go higher.

"If our quarterback throwing shows marked improvement and if we get adequate replacements for the defensive backfield boys we lost, like Bobby Dillon, Don Menasco, June Davis, Paul Williams, and Don Cunningham, I see no reason why we wouldn't be a serious threat to any and all ball clubs we play," he said.

MIDLAND DRUG CO.
Walgreen Agency

We're bursting at the seams!

Like Midland itself . . . we've got growing pains . . .
Must increase the space in all departments . . .

That rat-a-tat-tat! Bang, Bang! Buzz, Buzz! Clank, Clank! Whir-r-r! that you hear — simply means that the pneumatic tools, the hammers, saws, drills, hoists, etc., etc., are all being furiously plied by a crew of very energetic workers who have entered into the spirit of things and are just as anxious as we are to get things all prettied up for the coming Fall and Winter seasons.

Yes! You'll find things noisy and dusty and all upset during the next few weeks — but just think how wonderful it will be to have 2,800 sq. ft. of additional display space carrying a broader line from which to choose the latest men's and boys' clothes.

Even our office will take on a new look — and you will be able to discuss your confidential problems in a much more comfortable and pleasant atmosphere.

We know you will be patient and will abide with us during this noisome and trying period — and we appreciate it no end.

But our thanks will be more sincerely expressed when this mess is all cleared up . . .

TUGBOAT LIMBERS UP WHISTLE—

Bulldog Grid Squad Awaits Practice Call

Although most Midlanders are watching with interest the battle of the scrappy Midland Indians in the Longhorn League pennant fight, come September 1 they will turn their eyes toward the Midland High School gridiron where Midland High School Coach Thurmon L. (Tugboat) Jones will issue his fourth call to practice as mentor of the Bulldogs.

And some 47 high school hunkies are expected to answer Tugboat's call. At 8 a.m. on the first, with most everyone else taking a late holiday mosey, the football players will step up to the field house to check out their equipment.

And as soon as they pull on the uniforms, they'll start the first of two-a-day workouts which will last approximately two weeks. Later, they'll cut down to one workout a day with possibly a practice session or two scheduled under the lights before their opening game with Lamesa here, September 19.

Graduation cut heavily into the Bulldogs, district winner in 3-AAA last year, when they lost such standouts as Ralph Brooks, Freddie Billo, Dan Black and Johnny Kennedy in the backfield, and Loren Roberts, Stan Coker, Dalton Byerly, Pete English and Jimmie Lineberger in the line.

Lighter But Faster

Though Tugboat lost some of his heavy hitters, he is expecting a lighter but swifter team this year.

Backs expected to spearhead the Bulldogs single wing attack this year include 180-pound Larry Friday, a senior who can play as quarterback, fullback or blocking back; and Roy Kinsey, a 175-pound speedster who has yet to reach his potential as a runner. A left-handed passer, Kinsey may figure in an aerial attack from a single wing-let formation.

Dick Spencer, 150-pounder who plays both fullback and halfback; M. A. Rose, a shifty little 150-pound halfback; Jesse Hatfield, 140-pound halfback; Bill Erskine, 150-pound quarterback; Darrell Spivey, a 175-pound junior who will be moved from a guard position in the line to fullback, and Rusty Rutledge, a 160-pound halfback who led the Midland B team in scoring last year, round out the backfield material.

In the line, Coach Audrey Gill is expecting to be strongest at the ends where he has a pair of seasoned performers returning in the persons of 160-pound Robert Kealing and 175-pound Bill Mims. Paul Davis, who is up from the B Team is expected to round into a top end also. All three men are top pass receivers.

Weakest In Center

Through the center of the line, Gill expects to be weakest, but returning veterans may fill the gap left by graduation. At tackle posts he will have 170-pound Keys Curry and 165-pound Bobby (Red) East. East, a regular on last year's team, will captain the 1953 Bulldogs.

At the guard positions, he will have 185-pound Bill Leonard, a regular defensive starter last year who will play both offensively and defensively this year. For the other guard position, three men will fight it out for a straining berth.

They include 180-pound Terry Fugliar, 150-pound Jimmy Mashburn, and 170-pound Kenneth Shrum. That sums up just about every position except that of center, which is just a big question mark.

However, Milton Jones, a 170-pound junior, seems to have the edge over three other candidates. They include Don Evans, a 150-pound sophomore up from the C team, 150-pound Charlie Crites and 160-pound Clinton Hamlin.

If the 1953 version of the Bulldogs could be summed up at this early stage, it probably would stack up something like this:

A lot lighter line, where the power was last year, but strong at the ends; a quick backfield with the aerial game a big question mark.

The Midland High School gridsters will be entering the super 1-AAAA Conference for the first time this year. And there isn't a soft touch on the schedule.

Kegler Lead Still Held By Kiwanis

The league-leading Kiwanis Keglers swept two out of three games from Central Barber Shop in games played in the Men's Summer Bowling League here last week to maintain their slim lead over Plamor Lanos in the Loop.

Results in other games saw Plamor maintain their pressure on the league leaders by winning two out of three contests from The Reporter-Telegram. In the only other match, Midland Geophysical took three straight from Howard's Chevron.

Rolling the high individual game was W. A. Reese with a total of 308. Ford Buehrle scored the high series total with a mark of 118.

Taking top honors in both the high team game and the high team series was Kiwanis with scores of 831 and 2419 in that order.

The schedule for this week's games will see Plamor play Howard's Chevron. Reporter-Telegram contest Central Barber Shop and Midland Geophysical play Kiwanis.

The standings:

W	L
Kiwanis	17 7
Plamor	14 10
Reporter-Telegram	12 12
Midland Geophysical	11 13
Central Barber Shop	10 14
Howard's Chevron	8 16

Ellenburger Makes Water At San Angelo

The Ellenburger made only water for Humble Oil & Refining Company at its No. 1 George T. McIlwain, West Tom Green County wildcat, less than one mile north of the north city limits of San Angelo.

This prospector had a good show of possible petroleum production in the Palo Pinto lime and a fair show in the lower Strawn lime.

To Plug Back And Test

After electric logs are run operator will start plugging back and testing the sections which have logged the signs of possible production.

The Ellenburger was entered at 6,037 feet. Elevation is 1,908 feet. The section from 6,037 feet to 6,324 feet did not show any fluid of any sort.

The water came in a drillstem test at 6,320-60 feet. The tool was open two hours. Recovery was 1,100 feet of salty sulphur water.

There were no shows of oil or gas. Pressures and other details of the latest test had not been received at last report.

Palo Pinto Best

The Palo Pinto section at 4,810-30 feet had the best show of possible production which was logged by this prospector.

The lower Strawn lime at 5,861-88 feet had a fair show of oil and gas in a drillstem test.

Both those sections will be tested. The electric logs may show fluid in some of the other zones in the project. If they do those intervals will be tested.

Location is 2,500 feet from east and 1,000 feet from south lines of section 17S, WCRB survey.

Extender In Stonewall Is Completed

El Capitan Oil Company of Midland and Paul Moss of Odessa have completed their No. 3 Blackshear as a one-location stepout from production in the Aspermont (Canyon and) field of Central Stonewall County.

On potential test, the well flowed 11.84 barrels of oil in six hours through an open two-inch tubing. There was no water. Calculated 24-hour potential was 447.38 barrels of oil. Gravity and gas-oil ratio was not reported.

From Perforations

This production was from perforated section at 4,913-25 feet in the Canyon sand which had been fractured with 2,500 gallons.

Total depth is 5,029 feet in the Pennsylvanian lime reef. That section made only water. Five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 4,974 feet. Cement was drilled out to 4,948 feet for the completion.

Location is 1,687 feet from north and 447 feet from east lines of section 12E, block D, H&TC survey and one and one-half miles south of Aspermont.

Record Number Of Exhibits Assured For PB Oil Show

The anticipated sell-out of all exhibit space will give the 1952 Permian Basin Oil Show to be held in Odessa October 16-18 more than 300 exhibitors representing over 600 manufacturers and service firms.

All indoor and outdoor space already has been reserved including that provided by a new 80 by 180-foot steel and concrete exhibit building. An additional 40 booths are being created by erection of a large temporary building and marking out of additional outside space.

The 200 by 60-foot temporary structure will house, in addition to exhibit space, a theater to be operated by the Oil Industry Information Committee.

Free movies will be shown in the theater which will be used as a lounge between performances.

Admission to all phases of the show except the professional entertainment, dances and Chuck Wagon barbecue will be free. Attendance at the four-day exposition is expected to exceed 100,000 persons.

The oil show will be launched by one of the nation's largest Oil Progress Week parades. It will be held on opening day.

Hundreds of pieces of washed and polished oil field rolling stock are expected to be in the parade along with floats, bands and mounted units.

Will Stress Progress

Many other phases of the oil show, including the OIIC theater, also will stress Oil Progress Week, annual report period of the American petroleum industry.

Progress week is observed nationally October 12-18 and the oil industry was scheduled to coincide with the observance.

An Area-Wide Show

The Permian Basin Oil Show is a non-profit undertaking guided by a board of directors from cities and towns all over the Permian Basin.

Lloyd French, of Midland, is president of the board and Houston Crump, of Odessa, is manager of this year's exhibition.

Chairman of the committee handling sale ticket books is W. D. Lane, of Midland. Tickets are scheduled to go on sale early in September.

Humble Takes Potential At Irion Opener

Humble Oil & Refining Company has completed its No. 2-B Pearl Williams as a small pumping discovery from the Wolfcamp-Permian sand in extreme Southeast Irion County.

The project reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 20.68 barrels of 30.8 gravity oil, plus six per cent salt water. Gas-oil ratio was 1.125-1.

Gas Not Regular

The gas was not regular and would not flow the well steadily. Therefore the pump had to be installed.

The production came from two sets of perforations in the Wolfcamp sand. They are at 6,450-74 feet and at 6,488-6,500 feet.

Each of those intervals had been treated with acid and had been fractured.

Location is 660 feet from east and 38 feet from south lines of section 2E, block 21, H&TC survey. The wildcat is 13 miles southeast of Merton, Near Dove Creek field.

It is one and one-half miles southeast of the nearest production in the Dove Creek (Canyon) field and it is one and five-eighths of a mile northeast of production in the Tankersley (Wolfcamp) field.

Humble drilled No. 2-B Williams to a bottom of 7,404 feet in barren Ellenburger. After falling in the zone it plugged back to 6,535 feet and set casing for the testing in the Wolfcamp section.

The completion gauge which has now been taken resulted.

TIPRO Directors To Hold Mid-Year Meeting In Austin

AUSTIN—Directors of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association will gather in Austin on October 20, for their mid-year meeting.

"We fully expect TIPRO's policy on oil imports to be redefined," said President Bryan W. Payne of Tyler.

In the light of growing world oil surplus. Also due for consideration at this time is the matter of price decontrol for crude oil and other commodities not in short supply."

The one-day meeting, to be attended by approximately 200 directors from every part of the state, will be climaxed by the director's dinner. The executive committee will meet the preceding day to work out last-minute details for the meeting and prepare reports for consideration by the directors.

Texaco Devonian Opener In NE Andrews Flows New Oil At Rate Of 396 BPD

The Texas Company No. 1-Z State, flowing discovery from the Devonian in Northeast Andrews County produced 351 barrels of pipe line oil in 21 hours of flowing through a 30/64th inch tubing choke.

That was at the rate of 16.5 barrels per hour or 396 barrels per day.

The production is coming from perforated section in the Devonian at 12,530-500 feet. That interval had been washed with 1,000 gallons of mud acid.

The 351-barrel of oil flow in 21 hours came after the well had been shut-in several days while the rotary drilling rig was being moved off of the hole.

Flowing to clean out, test and complete was continuing. Operator representatives expect to take the official potential test early in the week.

This discovery is 17 miles northeast of the town of Andrews. It is 620 feet from west and 1,900 feet from south lines of section 22, block 6, University survey.

Northeast Of Opener

It is seven miles northeast of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-3894 University, discovery well of the Magutex (Ellenburger) field and it is six miles northeast of Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-CC University, a flowing discovery from the Devonian which is now drilling, ahead to go on down and test the Ellenburger.

Texaco No. 1-Z State drilled to a bottom of 12,725 feet in Ellenburger which made only water. It then plugged back and set casing to test the Devonian.

The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 12,710 feet.

No New Oil Found In Test Near Lamesa

Malco Refiners, Inc., of Rowell, N. M., has not yet developed any signs of new oil at the No. 1 J. G. Mitchell, Central Dawson County exploration.

This project is one location east of the discovery and ions producer in the Manning-Huddle (Spraberry) field.

Location is 896 feet from west and 42 feet from south lines of the northeast quarter of section 11, block 36, T-9-N, T&P survey. It is one and one-half miles southwest of the town of Lamesa.

Malco No. 1 Mitchell is bottomed at 8,075 feet in Spraberry shale and sand. The 7-inch casing is cemented at 7,838 feet.

That open hole section had been sand-fractured. A total of 294 barrels of lost oil was put in the hole in connection with the fracturing.

After the fracture material had worked operator opened the well up and swabbed for a time. It kicked off and flowed out a part of the load oil. It did not show any signs of new oil.

Swabbing was continuing at last report, but it was not recovering any new oil. At the latest report operator still had 89 barrels of the load oil to recover.

It was expected that the swabbing would continue until all the load had been recovered. Then, if no new oil was developed the No. 1 Mitchell was due to be plugged and abandoned.

Conoco Will Try To Extend Scott Pool Into Reeves

Continental Oil Company will attempt to extend the Scott (Delaware sand) field of Southeast Ward County into Reeves County with the drilling of its No. 1-12 D. E. Perkins.

Location is as follows: Start at the northwest corner of section 12, (Continued On Page Two)

Oil Reserves Placed At 26 Billion Barrels

AMARILLO—(P)—Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson says the nation has discovered and known oil reserves of 26 billion barrels.

He predicted in a speech here that by 1975, the United States may consume up to 14 million barrels of oil a day.

Jersey Chairman Says Company Is Not In Any Cartel

F. W. Abrams of New York, chairman of the board of directors of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) denies that his concern has any connection with any international oil cartel or any other such arrangement.

The denial came in a statement made in connection with a recent announcement by Senator Sparkman, chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee, that the Federal Trade Commission oil report was to be released shortly.

Abrams' statement:

"Now that the decision has been made to release this report at least we shall have substance to deal with instead of the rumor and innuendo which apparently have deliberately been associated with the preparation and suppression of this so-called 'secret' report.

"This company never has had the opportunity to see the report or to comment in any way on its contents, either during its preparation or during its apparent widespread circulation in Washington circles.

"There is nothing in the advance stories by those who reputedly have seen it to suggest that the charges attributed to the report are any other than arbitrary interpretations aimed at distorting actions and circumstances which have in fact an entirely different and proper significance.

"I want to repeat categorically that Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) is not a party to any international oil cartel and in fact doubts that such a cartel exists, nor is it a party to any illegal arrangements of any kind anywhere in the world.

"Activities associated with our foreign investments in the Middle East have been undertaken openly and with the knowledge and the encouragement of every administration, including the present one, for the last three decades.

"These investments have not only been of great value to the defense and prestige of our country, but have been a major factor in economic advancement of nations whose friendship and support our country has actively sought."

Mar-Tex Will Drill Tester In NW Fisher

Mar-Tex Realization Corporation of Dallas is to start operations within the next ten days at a 7,000-foot wildcat in Northwest Fisher County.

The project is due to test into the Ellenburger. It is five miles west and two miles north of Rotan and the drillsite will be in the northeast quarter of section 20E, block 2, H&TC survey.

Exact location of the project will be staked in a few days. Mar-Tex has a lease on 610 acres in that region.

The prospector is being supported by Rancho Oil Company, Gem Oil Company, Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and Southern Production Company.

Rotary rig will be used to dig the hole.

World Crude Production Regains Most Of Loss Due To Workers Strike

TULSA—World production of crude oil in June regained most of what it lost during the previous month's strike of oil workers in the United States, The Oil and Gas Journal reported.

Total production of the non-Communist world averaged 11,281,800 barrels daily, a gain of 1,115,100 barrels daily over May. The increase was almost entirely in the United States, where production fell to 5,106,800 barrels daily in May and was back to 6,140,000 barrels daily in June.

Still Under Pre-Strike Rate

Production in the United States was still about 890,000 barrels daily under the pre-strike month of April. Total foreign production, however, was nearly 79,000 barrels daily over May and about 900,000 barrels daily higher than April.

Much of the continuing gain in foreign production was due to increases in Canada and in the Middle East. Canadian production was at a new all-time high because of increased demand in the prairie provinces and heavy Summer pipe line runs to the Lake Superior terminal.

New Record Set

Oil production of the Middle East in June set a new record, even exceeding the high before the loss of the output of Iran last Summer. Total Middle East production in June was 2,208,900 barrels daily. The previous record was in May, 1951, when the Middle East produced an average of 2,203,800 barrels daily, including 117,000 barrels daily from Iran.

Iran now is producing only about 30,000 barrels daily to meet consumption requirements within the country.

The former production of Iran has been almost entirely taken over by the three other leading oil countries in the Middle East—Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Iraq. Saudi Arabia production set a record in June at 629,000 barrels daily. Iraq also reached a new high.

GIANT COLUMN DWARFS MAN—The 185-ton benzene concentration column which is erected at Shell Oil's Deer Park refinery dwarfs the man shown at the base of the column. The unit, 155 feet long, 9 1/2 feet in diameter was constructed in Dallas by the Foster Wheeler Corporation and transported by rail on three flat cars. The column is part of the aromatic section of the platforming unit, and required two and one-half hours to erect.

Greater Steel Cost For Oil Industry To Reach Consumer

By CHARLES HASLET
WASHINGTON—(P)—The steel price increase may up the cost of your gasoline and fuel oil.

Oil industry spokesmen estimate the new steel prices will bring a multi-million-dollar boost in industry costs—in drilling, production, transportation and marketing.

And they say the increased costs doubtless will strengthen the industry's case for removal of price controls on crude oil or, if that move fails, there will be an argument for higher ceiling prices.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) has called for the drilling of 35,000 new producing wells in 1953. For each new well, oil men estimate, about 275 tons of steel is needed to get the oil from the ground to the consumer. This includes steel for drilling, refineries, power plants, rail and tank cars, pipe lines and pumps.

Assuming the increase in steel price may average $6.50 a ton for the overall steel used, one oil organization official said, the additional cost for steel for getting oil from 55,000 new wells to the consumers would be more than $6 million dollars.

Ask Decontrol Of Crude

On the same basis, he said, the cost of drilling some 16,000 new wells under the expansion program during the remainder of 1953 would be increased by about $3,500,000.

Of the total cost increase, he estimated about one-third would be for oil country tubular goods.

Now pending with the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) is an application of the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA) for decontrol of crude oil prices.

A price committee of the IPAA is scheduled to meet in Fort Worth next month to prepare a report for the annual meeting of the association in Oklahoma City in October.

It is considered likely that if OPS turns down the decontrol application, someone will file a price increase proposal.

More Tubular Goods Needed

In its August issue of "Facts and Forecasts," the IPAA reviews the PAD program for expansion of the nation's oil-producing capacity.

In addition to the 55,000 wells for 1953, it calls for 60,000 in 1954 and 65,000 completions in 1955. This drilling program is counted upon to increase crude production capacity to "about seven million barrels daily in 1951 to 9,250,000 in 1955."

"The new program," the association said, "emphasizes the need for greatly increased supplies of tubular goods. According to these trends, oil country tubular goods production will have to be expanded to more than three million tons per year by 1955. In short, adequate materials are one of the key elements in assuring adequate oil supplies."

The American Petroleum Institute announces that a symposium on evaporation losses will be one of the highlights of the thirty-second annual meeting of the institute at Chicago in November.

Evaporation, the organization says, has been "bothersome and costly" for the petroleum industry for many years, affecting it "virtually all the way from the well-head to the consumer's tank."

World Crude Production Regains Most Of Loss Due To Workers Strike

TULSA—World production of crude oil in June regained most of what it lost during the previous month's strike of oil workers in the United States, The Oil and Gas Journal reported.

Total production of the non-Communist world averaged 11,281,800 barrels daily, a gain of 1,115,100 barrels daily over May. The increase was almost entirely in the United States, where production fell to 5,106,800 barrels daily in May and was back to 6,140,000 barrels daily in June.

Still Under Pre-Strike Rate

Production in the United States was still about 890,000 barrels daily under the pre-strike month of April. Total foreign production, however, was nearly 79,000 barrels daily over May and about 900,000 barrels daily higher than April.

Much of the continuing gain in foreign production was due to increases in Canada and in the Middle East. Canadian production was at a new all-time high because of increased demand in the prairie provinces and heavy Summer pipe line runs to the Lake Superior terminal.

New Record Set

Oil production of the Middle East in June set a new record, even exceeding the high before the loss of the output of Iran last Summer. Total Middle East production in June was 2,208,900 barrels daily. The previous record was in May, 1951, when the Middle East produced an average of 2,203,800 barrels daily, including 117,000 barrels daily from Iran.

Iran now is producing only about 30,000 barrels daily to meet consumption requirements within the country.

The former production of Iran has been almost entirely taken over by the three other leading oil countries in the Middle East—Kuwait, Saudi Arabia and Iraq. Saudi Arabia production set a record in June at 629,000 barrels daily. Iraq also reached a new high.

Price Hike On Natural Gas Sought For Woodlawn Field

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Top price officials Saturday were reported ready to recommend to Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall that the ceiling price of 10 cents per thousand cubic feet be retained on woodlawn field natural gas from the Woodlawn field near Marshall, Texas.

Arnall is out of town this weekend. One official said the recommendations may be laid on his desk Monday or at least during the first part of the week.

In suggesting continuance of the 10-cent ceiling, the top price officials would be differing with an Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) review board which held hearings in the case last May and then recommended a higher ceiling of 11.5 cents.

Officials said they expect Arnall to approve retention of the lower ceiling which was fixed in an OPS ruling a year ago.

The companies requesting the higher ceiling from the Woodlawn field are Stanolind Oil and Gas Company of Tulsa, Okla., and Continental Oil Company of Houston. They wish to market the gas from the field to the Mississippi River.

Gasoline Plant Scheduled For Cree-Sykes Pool
ABILENE.—(AP)—Runnels Gas Products Corporation Thursday announced plans for a $3,000,000 natural gasoline plant in the Cree-Sykes pool of Runnels County.

Construction of the plant should start in 30 days, Frank B. Markie, vice president of both companies, said. He estimated it would take six months to build the new facility.

The plant will have a capacity of 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day and will extract butane, propane and natural gasoline. Residue gas will be returned to producing formations in the upper and lower Gardner sands.

Officials were reluctant to discuss details of the recommendations until the matter is laid on Arnall's desk and he makes his decision. There has been no indication when he might rule.

Bureau Of Mines Cuts Size Of Its Synthetic Plan

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON—The petroleum industry is winning in the battle against the synthetic fuels program of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

For more than two years the National Petroleum Council has been pounding the Bureau of Mines, which has envisioned a 30,000 barrels a day synthetic project which would produce 54 per-cent chemicals.

The NPC has fought the battle for the petroleum industry against the government's planned encroachment.

Now the Bureau of Mines is contemplating a much smaller program which would aim at only 3,500 barrels a day with much more emphasis on the production of chemicals.

Final details will not be presented until the Bureau of Mines announces its specific plans in St. Louis, Mo., in December during the meeting of the American Society for the Advancement of Science.

The details will come in the discussion of the impact on the chemical industry of chemicals produced in conjunction with synthetic fuels from oil shale and hydrogenation of coal.

It is expected that the Bureau of Mines will stress the utilization of natural gas to liquefy the coal.

The need for benzene has been one of the chief arguments used for the Bureau of Mines in putting forward its unprecedented coal hydrogenation project. The petroleum industry seems to have beaten down this claim with indisputable facts.

Many New Plants
The Petroleum Administration for Defense has reported applications to build 18 plants with 9,016 barrels a day total benzene capacity. This shows plentiful expansion of the benzene goal of 8,450 barrels a day without adding in the various projects started before the controlled materials plan got into operation and before the PAD approval was a necessary requisite.

It is apparent that the petroleum industry feels that the erection of large, commercial-size plants to produce synthetic fuels, from either oil shale or from coal, would be far too premature, because the industry now is discovering oil much faster than it is using the product.

Large Possibilities
The Paley Commission already has called attention to the fact that there is 100,000,000,000 barrels of reserves that are not recoverable now by present methods at current prices, of which maybe 65,000,000,000 may be recovered eventually.

The industry experts have pointed out that as another reserve factor against future shortages large amounts of residual fuel oils could be hydrogenated to produce gasoline.

It is felt here that it will be at least a decade before synthetic produced by any source really can be in serious competition with present day petroleum products and that the interim should be spent on pilot plants and really small-scale development work which could be used to improve the processes for converting both oil shale and coal.

Hearing Set On Spraberry Rules
AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad Commission has set a hearing for September 11 for adoption of field rules for Spraberry production in nine West Texas counties.

The hearing was set on the application of 27 operators in the area. They asked regulations for those areas where none exist and changes in some that do.

Counties involved include Borden, Dawson, Glasscock, Midland, Martin, Reagan, Upton, Howard and Sterling.

Barbecued chicken, watermelon and several other picnic food items were served. Joe Treadway's Western orchestra furnished music for the party.

The Dallas visitors came to Midland by company airplane and returned to their home Thursday night.

Texas Oil History Recorded In Voices Of Men Who Made It

WICHITA FALLS — (AP) — A University of Texas English professor is recording Texas oil history in the voices of the men and women who made it.

Using a tape recorder, Dr. Mody C. Boatright and his co-workers are trying to gather a complete history of the industry. The project is being paid for by a grant from Mrs. Walter Sharp of Houston, wife of a prominent Texas oilman.

The work is expected to rewrite many chapters of the state's oil history, Dr. Boatright says.

For example, tradition says the Spindletop Field, discovered near Beaumont in 1901, was Texas' first producing field. But information gathered at Petrolia indicates the Clay County Discovery—made by a farmer drilling for water—may have been ahead of Spindletop by a few days or even weeks.

Through the use of the tape recorder, Dr. Boatright hopes to capture more vividly than ever before the beginning of the oil industry.

"We feel that many will talk freer and with more memory for details than if they write," he says. Boatright started the project this Summer in the Eastland-Stephens County area. He and his co-director, Winnie Allen, University architect, see no early end to the project.

Boatright now has 49-one-hour tapes. "The surface is not yet scratched," he says. "We hope to make it possible for students of the next generation to have access to these oral sources of the history of this generation."

The oral statements will be backed by documents such as public records, newspaper files, written memoirs, letters and journals. The records will be filed in the University of Texas archives.

Waine Quits Moore; To Be Independent Operator And Trader

WALTER H. WAINE, JR., is a new independent oil operator. He has opened offices in the McClintic Building.

He recently resigned as an executive of Moore Exploration Company of this city. He plans to specialize in handling drilling deals, but also will do consulting geological work and trading in leases and royalties.

Princeton Graduate
Waine graduated at Princeton University with a major in geology. He has been associated with Moore Exploration since his graduation in 1939, except for two tours of active duty in the U. S. Army.

He enlisted in 1940 and was released from the service in 1946 as a lieutenant colonel.

During that five-year period he saw service in Africa, Italy and in the Southwest Pacific.

Had Another Tour
He was called up again in 1950 with the Midland Reserve unit and went to Camp Coffee, Ark., where he was G-1, with the 8th Armored Division.

In September, 1951, he went to Korea as G-2, of the 7th Infantry Division. He resumed his work as vice president of Moore Exploration Company in Midland in April of this year after being released from active service.

Heavy Gas Drilling Marks Week's Work In Texas Activities

AUSTIN — (AP) — Light oil drilling and heavy gas drilling, activity marked the week in Texas, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

Operators brought in 176 oil wells to run the year's total to 7,500 compared with 7,083 a year ago. They drilled 80 gas wells to jump the year's total to 603 compared with 528 last year.

Dry holes numbered 128. Wildcat drilling found 19 oil wells and 77 dry holes. Plugging of 136 dry wells and 51 oil wells was reported.

The total average calendar day crude allowable as of today was 2,974,186 barrels, up 9,973 from a week ago.

The United States is the world's largest consumer of mica, but produces only a fraction of its own requirements.

NGAA Is To Sponsor Fractional Analysis School On Gas At OU

The first school specifically designed for the study of low temperature fractional analysis of petroleum gases and liquids will open October 6 at Oklahoma University under the sponsorship of the National Gasoline Association of America.

Operating on a 10 month basis, the school will be a series of short courses of three weeks duration with but 12 students per course period.

To Get The Fine Points
Students will be partly trained operators from natural gasoline plants and laboratories who are to be instructed in some of the finer points of analysis and particularly in the elimination of the many costly human errors.

Assurances for enough students for the first year of operation have already been received from all companies, according to NGAA Secretary W. F. Lowe, Tulsa.

The idea for the school had its origin in a recently completed series of comparative analysis studies conducted by the NGAA in which 76 oil companies and commercial laboratories analyzed identical hydrocarbon liquid samples with a wide variety of results.

To Use These Types
NGAA Technical Committee Chairman, Joe F. Wood, Skelly Oil Company, Pawhuska, and Analysis Committee Chairman, A. J. Miller, Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, planned a training course in which students would operate three types of analytical equipment.

Oil Import Policy Gets TIPO Study
AUSTIN — (AP) — A redefining of policy on oil imports is predicted when directors of Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association hold their mid-year meeting here October 20.

TIRPO President Bryan W. Payne of Tyler said he anticipated a redefinition "in the light of growing world oil surplus." He also expects consideration of price decontrol for crude oil and other commodities not in short supply.

Instructor for the school is to be T. Preston, now an assistant professor of Petroleum Engineering, University of Texas who has been retained by the NGAA on an annual basis.

Has Concentrated
Preston is a chemical engineering graduate of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, has an M. S. in the same subject from University of Michigan and has been concentrating on analysis studies at Texas University to obtain his doctorate degree.

From 1948 to 1951 he was an associate research engineer for the California Research Corporation in its La Habre laboratory where he was engaged in developing adsorption and analysis methods.

Hamilton, manager of the accounting department of the Mid-Continent division; R. G. Williams general purchasing agent for all of Seaboard's offices and Lamar McLoughan, Jr., supervising geologist.

OIG of API Presents Its 1952 Movie

NEW YORK—The story of a split-second decision which becomes the turning point in a young man's life is told dramatically in the 1952 motion picture produced by the Oil Industry Information Committee of the American Petroleum Institute. The setting is a suburban service station.

Entitled "Crossroads, U. S. A." the new motion picture will have its premiere at the fiftieth annual meeting of the National Petroleum Association in Atlantic City, N. J., September 11.

Latest Of Series
"Crossroads, U. S. A." is the latest in a series of motion pictures produced annually by the Oil Industry Information Committee. Following its premiere, it will be used extensively during the industry's observance of Oil Progress Week, October 12-18. It will be shown to millions of persons over the next several years.

Running time for the production, which is in black and white, is 25 minutes. Featured in it are such well-known Hollywood personalities as Elisabeth Raddow, Regis Toomey, Rhys Williams, Darryl Hickman, Ted De Corsia, James Bell, Frank Darlen and Joseph McGuinn.

Enterprise And Opportunity
Not a documentary, "Crossroads, U. S. A." has plot, action and suspense. The story it tells is a powerful close-up of Americana—the drama of enterprise and opportunity which have made this country the greatest in the world.

All of the action takes place in a little service station on a rain-swept night. In the midst of a group of people who have taken shelter from the storm is a boy on the verge of manhood—a boy who has grown up in the land of opportunity but is, nevertheless, embittered and disillusioned.

How his confusion is dispelled, and how his faith in himself is given root and substance are the ingredients which put a mighty wallop in his new motion picture.

Made In Hollywood
This 1952 motion picture was directed by Jules Bricken at the studios of Columbia Pictures Corporation in Hollywood. It was supervised by Film Counselors, Inc., New York, and the Oil Industry Information Committee's motion picture subcommittee headed by P. C. Humphrey of The Texas Company, New York.

Prints of "Crossroads, U. S. A." may be obtained through the committee's national office at 50 West 50th Street, New York 20, as follows: 16-millimeter, $42.50, plus shipping costs; 35-millimeter, $100.00, plus shipping costs.

Earlier productions, "Man on the Land," "24 Hours of Progress," and "The Last Ten Feet" still are being shown frequently throughout the country. "Man on the Land" and "24 Hours of Progress" both won citations from the Freedoms Foundation, Inc., for their contributions to a better understanding of America.

Gipson, Keyser To Go "On Own" As Consulting Geologists

Gipson and Keyser is a new geological consulting organization in Midland.

Principals in the concern are William E. Gipson and Joseph E. Keyser. Offices are to be at 404 V&J Tower in this city.

The new firm plans to engage in general geological practice. It will do well-setting, surveys, appraisals, sample analysis and other connected work.

William E. Gipson

Both Keyser and Gipson have MA degrees in geology from the University of Texas. Keyser attended Indian University before going to the University of Texas and Gipson had been a student at Southern Methodist University before he enrolled at the U. of T.

Keyser has worked for The Ohio Oil Company and for Woodley Petroleum Company during the almost five years since he secured his last degree.

Gipson worked for Ohio for more than three and one-half years. All of that service has been in that concern's Midland district office as a staff geologist.

Keyser has worked in Midland, Abilene and Houston.

Both resigned their company positions to "go on their own."

Each of the men had military service during World War II.

Texaco Gets First Wolfcamp Oiler In Multipay Region

Potential of 72 barrels of 43.9-gravity oil per day has been reported at The Texas Company No. 1-BN State, at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 25-11s-32e, initial Wolfcamp oil producer in the Moore multipay field of Northwest Lea County.

Production was through a one-inch choke and perforations from 9,654 to 9,710 feet, after washing with 500 gallons of mud acid and fracturing with 5,000 gallons.

Gas-oil ratio was 2,270-1 and flowing tubing pressure was 360 pounds.

It is one-half of a mile south of Texaco's No. 1 Moore, Devonian pay opener in the pool.

Additional pay in the Wolfcamp was uncovered on a drillstem test from 9,722 to 9,760 feet at Texaco's No. 1-BK State, one-half mile south of the Tule (Wolfcamp) field of Northwest Lea County.

Open two hours, gas was at the surface in five minutes. Recovery was 3,590 feet of oil, 60 feet of oil and gas cut mud and five feet of salty sulphur water.

Flowing pressure ranged from 310 to 390 pounds and shut-in bottom hole pressure was 1,330 pounds in 15 minutes.

Operator is now waiting on cement to set on a 1 1/2-inch oil string which is set at plugged back depth of 9,760 feet in line.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 5-18s-32e. Completion will be undertaken at this well soon.

Earlier, a drillstem test from 9,680 to 9,730 feet also showed gas at the surface and recovered oil, oil and gas cut mud and a little salty sulphur water.

Signal Oil & Gas Company No. 1 State-Ohio, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 21-10s-32e and five-eighths of a mile northwest of the Mesalero (Pennsylvanian) field in Northwest Lea County, was being abandoned after a two and one-half hour drillstem test of the Pennsylvanian.

Made Salt Water
The test was taken from 9,088 to 9,144 feet. Recovery was 200 feet of very slightly gas cut mud and 1,600 feet of very slightly oil and gas cut salt water.

Continental Oil Company No. 1 Anderson Ranch Unit, wildcat in Central-West Lea County, took a drillstem test in an unidentified zone, likely the Pennsylvanian, from 10,230 to 10,312 feet.

Tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 5,130 feet of gas cut salt water with no shows of oil or gas.

Operator is now drilling below 10,390 feet in line and shale.

A drillstem test was taken from 9,750 to 9,834 feet. Gas appeared at the surface in six minutes, mud in 53 and oil in 65 minutes.

Has Flowed Oil
The well flowed into pits for 90 minutes, then turned to tanks, gauging 27.58 barrels of approximately 40-gravity oil in one hour along with 895,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Location of No. 1 Anderson Ranch Unit is at the center of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 11-16s-32e, and two and three-quarter miles east of the Townsend (Wolfcamp) field.

Water table in the lower Abo line apparently was established on a drillstem test from 7,443 to 7,493 feet in Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Federal-General American, deep test in the shallow Grayburg-Jackson area of Northeast Eddy County.

Had Trace Of Oil
Open one and one-half hours, gas was at the surface in 11 minutes, with volume too small to measure. Recovery was 750 feet of sulphur water, with a slight trace of oil.

Drillstem test of the Abo from 7,205 to 7,240 feet showed gas at the surface, rated at 51,000 cubic feet. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 24-17s-29e.

Safflower is a promising new oil crop adapted to the wheat areas of the western plains. Safflower seed yields are of very high quality for cooking or for paints and varnishes and its meal of high protein content for livestock feed.

Sparling Appointed Superintendent Of McElroy-Wilshire

Appointment of T. R. (Ted) Sparling as superintendent of the new McElroy-Wilshire gasoline plant in Upton County eleven miles northeast of Crane has been announced by John M. Kindle of Dallas, superintendent of the Lone Star Producing Company's gasoline department. Built and operated by Lone Star, the plant is jointly owned by that firm and The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc.

Sparling comes to his new assignment from Ranger where he has been superintendent of Lone Star's central fractionating plant. J. O. Simpson, maintenance foreman for Lone Star's West Texas district, has been named assistant superintendent of the McElroy-Wilshire plant. Kindle said.

The plant superintendent joined Lone Star in 1925 at Gordon where he served in various capacities, including liquefied petroleum gas engineer and chemist until 1941 when he was appointed assistant superintendent of the Gordon plant.

He was transferred to Grapeland in 1942 as assistant gasoline plant superintendent and in 1945 was placed in charge of the gasoline plant at Trinidad. He was named superintendent of the central fractionating plant at Ranger in 1949 and served there until his recent McElroy-Wilshire assignment.

Simpson started at Gordon in 1923 and in 1949 became assistant superintendent at the Hollis, Okla., gasoline plant. In 1951 he was transferred to Ranger as West Texas district maintenance foreman for Lone Star.

Sealed bids for the oil and gas leases on several tracts of Navajo Indian lands in the area handled by the Window Rock, Ariz., Indian agency will be received on September 23.

The bids will be opened at the office of the area director of Indian Affairs at Window Rock.

The tracts to be offered are in McKinley, Sandoval and San Juan Counties in New Mexico.

A complete list of the tracts may be secured from the office of the Area Director of Indian Affairs at Window Rock, Ariz.

Horses were found in America until comparatively recent geologist times, but died out and did not appear again until introduced from Europe by man.

during the next two years, officials point out.

Other regular Lone Star employees at the plant are J. L. Turner, J. E. Blackwell, Jr., B. E. Johnson, O. W. Owens, E. L. Thompson, T. C. Baggett, T. L. Morgan, J. E. Quinn, R. F. Jensen, C. D. Yeager Graduated From NCO School

Pfc. George G. Yeager, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Yeager, 1704 West Missouri Street, recently was graduated from the 31st Infantry Division's Non-commissioned Officers' School at Camp Atterbury, Ind. During the course, he was taught techniques of combat leadership, including infantry squad tactics and deployment of men and equipment. His division is a Mississippi-Alabama National Guard unit but its ranks have been filled with men from all parts of the country since its call to active duty in January, 1951.

AIRMAN—Airman William F. Goode, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Goode, 109 West Florida Street, is completing his Air Force Basic airman indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force," at San Antonio.

Yeager, a former student at the University of Colorado, is assigned to Headquarters Battery of the 31st Division artillery. After spending the last six months operating with United Nations naval forces in the Far East, the destroyer tender USS Dixie has returned to the United States. Serving aboard her is Bill W. Sparks, storekeeper, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Haskell C. Sparks of Wink.

Strikers Blockade Factory To Protest Delayed Pay Checks

TUSCALOOSA, ALA. — (AP) — Massed pickets kept 40 supervisory workers blockaded inside the B. F. Goodrich Company tire plant Saturday in a dispute over pay due.

Sixteen women employees, who had been kept inside the plant for several hours, were passed through the picket line and went home at 2 a.m. The plant went down Monday as United Rubber Workers (CIO) struck.

Phil Ziederhoeck, Goodrich manager, said from inside the plant that pickets had told the supervisory personnel "you fellows can leave when we get paid."

The manager said the union agreed to let office employees who made up the payroll through picket lines. Strikers were due to be paid for work done before they walked out.

But, said the manager, the pickets passed 16 union members into the plant, and these 16 were not familiar with the payroll and it was not finished.

Pickets became angry, he said, and first refused to let anybody out. They changed their minds later to allow the 16 women to leave.

Ice Adds Weight To Frozen Turkeys

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A Food and Drug Administration official told Saturday about the break-up of a scheme by which he said frozen turkeys were "pumped up" with water and retail dealers lost money when the bird thawed and the water ran out.

Consumers didn't lose much money, he said, because they generally bought the turkeys after the thaw and runoff. But flavor and other qualities of the meat drained out with the water, he said.

The official, asking not to be quoted by name, said about 50,000 pounds of the turkeys, injected with an average of a quart of water each, were shipped by two Chicago firms to Cincinnati and Cleveland.

DRY AS A BONE (OF CONTENTION)—When the prolonged summer drought brought a prediction from Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall that prices are about to "get out of hand," Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan declared it wasn't true. Making it a three-way intra-Administration controversy, Commerce Secretary Charles Sawyer said his department had made a survey and found "no widespread price increases." Highlights of the survey's findings are shown in Newsmag above. Some of Arnall's supporters feel that the survey tends to support the Price Stabilizer's contentions.

Battle To Conquer Insects Lags Behind, Brannan Says

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Man's age-old battle to conquer his insect enemies is making little if any headway. In fact, the bugs may be winning.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said Saturday the picture is "disturbing" and urged scientists to "push on to new horizons" in the quest for weapons to keep insects from getting the upper hand.

Writing the foreword in a whopping new 962-page yearbook entitled "Insects," published by the Agriculture Department, Brannan said that despite the development of revolutionary new insecticides, the struggle against bug pests is still a long way from victory.

He said insects are costing this country approximately four billion dollars a year in damage to crops and property.

Brannan made no attempt to estimate how the see-saw conflict is going in relation to predictions by some scientists that the fast-breeding insect world will eventually dominate the earth, but he declared: "Although the science of entomology has made great progress in the last two decades, the problems caused by insects seem to be bigger than ever.

"We have more insect pests, although we have better insecticides to use against them and better ways to fight them."

Brannan said at least part of the blame can be attributed to foreign pests which slip through U. S. quarantines. The problem, he said, requires vigorous attention.

New Wooden House May Replace Truce Tent At Panmunjom

MUNSAN, KOREA.—(AP)—The stalemated Korean armistice talks already in their second year soon may move from a battered tent to more permanent quarters, a wooden house built by the Communists.

Newsmen Saturday saw the 24 by 36 foot pine and plywood building being nailed up on a concrete foundation at Panmunjom. Its windows were fancy, diamond shaped. Chinese carpenters apparently imported for the job refused to answer questions. The house will replace the meeting tent supplied by the Reds under the agreement which shifted the truce site to Panmunjom from Kaesong 10 months ago.

Printers Condemn Taft-Hartley Law

CINCINNATI.—(AP)—The International Typographical Union wound up its centennial convention here Friday urging support of that part of the National Democratic platform condemning the Taft-Hartley Act and seeking its repeal.

The union also asked support of those Republican and Democratic candidates who pledge themselves for repeal of the act and restoration of the Wagner Act. The convention defeated efforts to raise the union allowance to its pensioners above $20, and attempts to prevent transfer of funds from the union's pension and mortuary funds by the executive council without a referendum.

You can't afford to wait until it rains to start planning next year's crop. M. K. Thornton, Extension chemist, says whether you are planning to plant a winter pasture or legume or next year's grain, cotton, or grass crop, an application of fertilizer will pay big dividends.

Now is a good time to submit soil samples to the Soil Testing Laboratory at College Station to be analyzed for your fertilizer requirements. Soil samples must be accompanied by a form which can be obtained from your county agricultural agent.

From this form and the soil analysis, recommendations for fertilizers are made. Decide first on the type crop to be planted and then send the sample to the Soil Testing Laboratory, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station.

Your county agricultural agent has additional information and application blanks on soil samples.

The Reader's Digest carried this item from a Los Angeles, Calif., woman:

At a filling station in a small Texas town my husband and I were refreshing ourselves with a cold drink. "Everything looks very dry," I remarked to an elderly gentleman, who sat dejectedly watching the cars go by.

"Yep."

"When did it rain last?"

"Bout three years ago, I reckon."

"That must be very hard on the ranchers around here," my husband said sympathetically.

The man slowly and sadly shook his head. "Don't know what's to become of us. We've spent thousands drilling for water, and what comes up? Oil!"

PIGS TO STINK PRETTY AT FAIR

DALLAS—(AP)—The State Fair of Texas says its gona perfume its pig farms during the fair here in October.

"Haven't decided on the fragrance," Livestock Manager Ray W. Wilson said Saturday. "It may be Swine No. 5, but probably it'll be something close to pine oil."

On Midland Soil Front

Melvin Wimberley, dairy farmer north of Midland, has a good stand of Blue Panic grass on 18 acres. He planted in the middle of July in 28 inch rows at the rate of two pounds per acre. He has had one shower since planting and the grass is six to eight inches high and does not appear to be suffering from the dry weather. Wimberley also has planted three acres of buffalo grass.

F. L. Elkin has purchased improved pasture grass seed to be planted this Fall on 80 acres under irrigation three miles east of Midland. Elkin intends to plant 40 acres of Blue Panic grass to be used as supplemental pasture through the Summer. The other 40 acres will be the permanent pasture mixture consisting of orchard grass, Kentucky 31 Fescue, Harding grass, perennial ryegrass, Madrid sweetclover, and alfalfa.

Last September Elkin planted 18 acres of permanent pasture and has been grazing registered Aberdeen-Angus cattle since May.

C. A. Travelstead and Roy Parks seeded a pipe line right-of-way that passes through portions of their ranches with sideots grama. The grass drill which is rented to farmers and ranchers in this area by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District was used.

Hutner Midkiff has been given assistance through the district in layout 12 acres for border irrigation on his ranch south of Midland. Midkiff intends to pump water into a dirt storage tank and then release for irrigation. He plans to seed alfalfa this Fall.

Farmers who recently purchased guar seed from the Board of Supervisors of the district include Gustav Meisner, B. T. Graham, A. C. Helner, Melvin Wimberley, Terry Elkin, Gerhard Synatchek, Dwight McDonald, J. D. Crawford, and Minter McReynolds. Guar is an annual Summer legume to be used as a soil-improving and soil-protecting crop.

A. G. Bohannon has a trial planting of Blue Panic grass and buffalo grass in his garden which he is watering and grazing with cattle. He says both grasses are highly palatable. The native grasses on Bohannon's ranch are coming back slowly following favorable moisture conditions last month. Black grama, sideots grama, and blue grama clumps which at times appeared to be dead have begun sending out new green shoots and some have headed out already.

Bohannon figures that with good conditions prevailing it will take at least two years to bring the better grasses back as thick as they were before the drought. He intends to rest his grass through the Summer and graze in the Winter until the needed improvement is obtained.

Persons in need of such federal assistance should contact Cappleman, 405 U. S. Terminal Annex, Dallas 2, Texas.

Area Enjoys Mild Climate Compared To Rest Of Texas

Think it's hot? Records released by Gene Holmes, weather observer with the Civil Aeronautics Administration at Midland Air Terminal, reveal Midland is enjoying relatively mild temperatures compared with other sections of Texas.

The mercury soared over the 100-degree mark only eight days during August in Midland as compared with a 19-day stretch of continuous 100-plus temperatures in Fort Worth, Holmes said.

Abilene has basked in 18 days of 100-plus temperatures, while San Angelo has had 18 days of the same.

Humidity figures in the heat situation, and, in that respect Midland is in an ideal location, Holmes pointed out.

While ideal humidity is about 80 per cent, Midland has a humidity of from 30 to 40 per cent, making a dry atmosphere for greater comfort in Summer months, Holmes said. Coastal areas have from 70 to 80 per cent humidity, resulting in dampness and more inconvenience from heat.

Maximum temperatures usually are reached in the Midland area from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m., Holmes said.

For the statistic-minded, Holmes released the following temperature readings in Midland this month:

Aug. 1-5, 95 to 98 degrees; Aug. 6-8, 100-plus degrees with 108 on Aug. 7; Aug. 9, 98 degrees; Aug. 11, 108 degrees; Aug. 12-15, 95 degrees; Aug. 14-16, 100-plus degrees; Aug. 17-20, 99 degrees.

FEWER MOOS—The outlook for the nation's milk drinkers is sad if the seven-year downward trend in our dairy population continues, as it does so far this year. According to the Agriculture Department's recent "Bossy" census there are 21,581,000 head on American farms. This total subtracted from the Milk Industry Foundation's survey figures for January, 1951, indicates a loss of almost three million milk givers. Government officials fear the feed shortage from the summer-long drought will cause an even more serious decline. Newschart above shows the steady rise in the cow population from 1900 to 1947, when the peak was reached. The June, 1952, total is the lowest since January, 1920.

We Could Well Use POW's-

On Cheju Island, just south of Korea, are located all the Chinese prisoners taken by the United Nations in the Korean war.

Of the total number, 15,000—off in a group by themselves—are the anti-Communists. Whether they should be compelled to return to Communist territory, in event of peace, is the question now holding up the truce talks at Panmunjom.

The North Korean and Chinese Communist leaders say the 15,000 should be forced to return. The United Nations says no.

The UN says no because it believes the 15,000 would be returning to almost certain death, due simply to the fact that they are anti-Communist.

That feeling certainly seems to be shared by the 15,000, themselves.

A New York Herald-Tribune correspondent, the first newspaperman to visit Cheju since all the Chinese POW's were relocated there, reports the anti-Communists' fear of being returned to their own soil is almost pathological.

Although the correspondent was not allowed to talk to the prisoners themselves, he was told of their attitude by UN personnel running the camp.

He was told that as an indelible proof of their feelings, the anti-Communists point to tattoos on their arms which read, "Anti-Communist, Against Russia."

The assumption here would be that the tattooing was done as a security measure by the Communist forces. But even if the men tattooed themselves, in the hope of getting favored treatment as prisoners, the damning words would go with them if they were returned to their own country.

But the UN officers and men at the camp declare there is no doubt but that the anti-Communists are what they say they are and are ready and anxious to go into battle against the Chinese and North Koreans, if the UN will only furnish them with arms.

Prisoners have been used in that way in wars past, but not by us. And we certainly are not going to start now. However, there would seem to be some way their unique qualifications could be put to use to help win the propaganda battle for us in the Far East.

Here is a large group of men who for the most part have deserted the enemy to come over to our side. Almost all say they were not captured fighting but surrendered voluntarily.

They've lived under the Communists and, as prisoners, they've lived under us. From actual experience they surely know and could explain with considerable conviction to other Orientals why they fled from the Communists and why they don't want to go back.

Our fight for men's minds throughout the Far East has by no means yet resulted in a victory for us, one great handicap being that we are Westerners. Another is the destitution and misery existent among the civilian population of South Korea.

Fighting a war and caring adequately for a civilian population is a difficult thing, but nevertheless the civilian suffering in South Korea is not only a hard thing to explain away to other Orientals, but it is a fertile source of Communist propaganda.

We well could use the voices of 15,000 anti-Communists who know what they're talking about to tell the people of that part of the world just what anti-communism means.

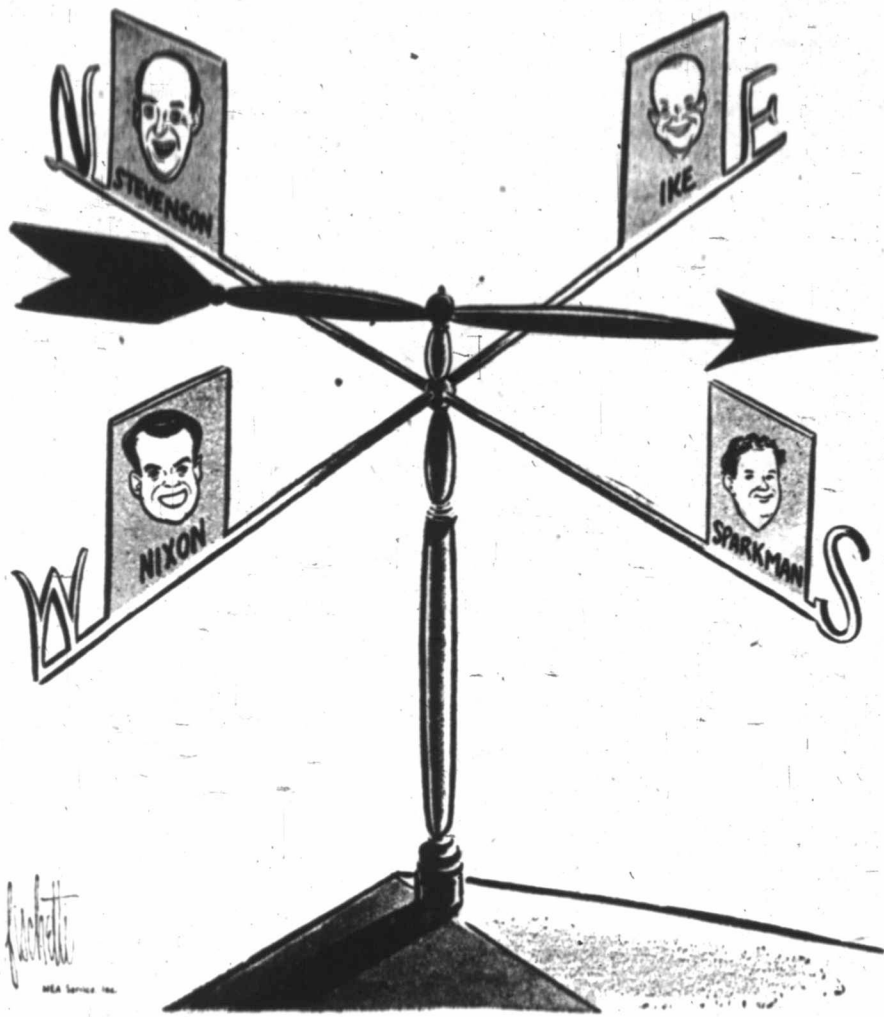

It really would be a novelty if, just for a change, a bull threw a congressman.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"What makes a discard encouraging?" asks an Oakland reader. "You often use this expression in your articles, and I have been wondering whether you mean that any high discard is encouraging, and that any low discard is discouraging."

No, the answer is not quite so simple. In general, a high discard is more encouraging than a low discard, but sometimes a player has to throw away a worthless card that happens to be fairly high.

An astute partner will size the situation up correctly. In the hand shown today, for example, East eventually made two high discards in hearts—but neither discard was encouraging. In fact, they distinctly warned West not to lead a heart.

West opened the five of spades and South held off until the third round. South then led a low diamond and hopefully, finessed dummy's ten. East won with the jack of diamonds and returned a low club hoping that his partner had a high card in the suit.

As it happened, South won with the queen of clubs and promptly led the queen of diamonds to force out West's ace. West happily took his two remaining spades, and East discarded first the nine of hearts and then the jack of hearts.

These hearts were high cards. Had East intended them to be encouraging, he would have discarded them in the opposite order: first the jack and then the nine.

The fact that he discarded them upward made it perfectly clear that he did not want the heart lead. West easily read the signal and therefore returned a club when he had finished with his spades.

This permitted East to take four club tricks, thus setting the contract four tricks. If West had foolishly led a heart after finishing with his spade, South would have made his contract.

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Diamond Pass 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass ? You, South, hold: Spades Q-8-6-3, Hearts A-Q-7-4-2, Diamonds K-6-2, Club 6. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. This is forcing to game, showing four-card support for spades together with a hand that was roughly worth a minimum opening bid (in this case a trifle less).

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-6-3, Hearts A-Q-J-4-2, Diamonds K-6, Clubs 6-3. What do you do? Answer Monday

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Senator Morse says: Are our politicians afraid to investigate foreign lobbies? Administration passed the buck; Chinese Communist lobby should be probed; Who wrote secret cables?

EUGENE, ORE.—On July 8, 1952, the late Sen. Brian McMahon and I introduced in the Senate of the United States a resolution which proposed that the committee on foreign relations should make a "full and complete study and investigation for the purpose of determining (1) what attempts, if any, have been made by any individuals or groups of individuals representing the Chinese Nationalist government, the Chinese Communist government, or any other foreign government to influence the foreign policy of the United States since Dec. 7, 1941, and (2) the extent and means, including methods of financing, of any such attempts."

Repeated rumors, charges and countercharges that foreign agents were exercising improper and undue influences over American officials, both in the executive departments of government and the Congress, had reached such widespread circulation in Washington that Senator McMahon and I decided that the American people were entitled to have the facts investigated.

Little did we realize when we introduced the resolution that we touched upon what had become a political taboo in many circles of Washington officialdom. Judging from mysterious telephone calls, anonymous letters, and visitations which we received from some very remarkable characters, we sometimes thought we had become the innocent participants, if not the victims, in a fantastic cloak-and-dagger game.

The Administration, through the Secretary of State, offered to make available any information contained in its files on foreign lobbies, if any authorized committee of the Congress asked for it. This of course was a grand gesture on the part of the Administration, because, as we pointed out, the executive branch of the government has an equal and independent responsibility to check into the activities of foreign lobbies, which raises the slightest question as to the propriety of the conduct of foreign agents within the United States.

On April 30, 1952, this writer inserted in the Congressional Record 23 cables allegedly sent by representatives in Washington, D. C. of the Nationalist Chinese government to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. This writer asked for investigation by the foreign relations committee of the authenticity of those cables, because if they were correct copies of cablesgrams that were actually sent to the Generalissimo by representatives of the Nationalist Chinese government in Washington, then on their very face they justified an exhaustive and intensive investigation of the activities of the Nationalist Chinese government in the United States.

The cablesgrams are subject to the clear interpretation that Nationalist Chinese representatives were under instruction from the Nationalist Chinese government to try to bring to bear upon various American foreign-policy makers influence which one would not expect to find in an Emily Post guide to proper diplomatic conduct.

Although the Chinese officials concerned have denied that they signed the cablesgrams, it is interesting to note that in their communications to this writer, which have also been placed in the Congressional Record, they have not denied that the cablesgrams were sent. Nor have they denied that they knew of their contents at the time they were sent. Nor have they denied that they participated at least in some degree in the preparation of the cablesgrams.

Under date of July 22, 1952 Ambassador V. K. Wellington Koo of the Nationalist Chinese government embassy in Washington, D. C., in a letter to this writer quoted from a report which had been submitted to him by two officials of the Chinese embassy relative to these cablesgrams.

It would be difficult to cite a more amusing example of oriental face-saving than the attempt of these two Chinese officials now reporting to the Chinese ambassador to crawl from under the charges which have implicated them in the sending of these cablesgrams. In effect what they say is that, although they knew all about the cablesgrams and were active participants in the drafting of the cablesgrams, they should now be considered as being innocent of any improper conduct in the matter because, as they allege, they did not sign the cablesgrams at the end thereof.

It is interesting to note that even this attempt at face-saving by these Nationalist Chinese officials is denied by those who supplied this writer with the cablesgrams. In fact, these informants point out that the signatures of these Nationalist Chinese officials appear in their own handwriting in the body of the cablesgrams, which is typical in the preparation of Chinese documents, and that some of the cablesgrams were written in part or in their entirety in the handwriting of one or the other of these Nationalist Chinese officials.

It is not for me to say what the facts are about the lobbying activities, if any, of these Chinese officials, but it is perfectly clear to this writer that neither the executive branch of the government nor the Congress can justify further delay in proceeding to conduct a thorough investigation of the activities of foreign lobbies as called for by the McMahon-Morse Senate Resolution 170.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Indirect Controls On Inflation Have An Ineffective Record

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There are two approaches to controlling inflation. One is by price and wage controls. This is the direct approach, which the average consumer and wage earner can understand.

The second approach is through fiscal policy, and here the going really gets rough. It involves such things as supply of money in circulation, regulation of consumer credit, interest rates, degree of government spending, the amount and kinds of taxation.

Regulation of all these things by the government provides indirect controls on inflation. Some economic theorists believe that the direct controls on inflation are futile. The thing to do, they say, is take off all curbs, let prices and wages go where they will so as to encourage production. Then have a perfectly free market in which competitive over-supply of goods will bring down price levels by overtaking the demand.

This sounds all right in theory. But in practice, where there are acute shortages of basic raw materials, it frequently is impossible for the supply ever to catch up with the demand. Then price controls and rationing may become necessary.

The advocates of the free-market theory insist that all controls are bad, however, and the farthest they will go is to agree to some form of indirect control, seeking to curb inflation by fiscal measures alone.

U. S. experience has been that it is a combination of direct and indirect controls which works best. But it was only during the World War II years that it was possible to get direct and indirect controls coordinated with any degree of effectiveness.

The record of the Korean emergency period, covering the last two years, has been that indirect as well as direct controls over inflation have been weakened steadily by Congress. Also, with the various controls administered by what amounts to a three-headed monster, it has been impossible to make any of them work effectively.

Congress itself has retained control over taxation. Wage and price controls have been given to the Economic Stabilization Agency. Credit controls have been given to the Federal Reserve Board. Furthermore, Congress has resented and limited the power of the President, through his secretary of the Treasury, to influence Federal Reserve Board actions.

In the new Defense Mobilization law passed in June, Congress even went so far as to end the Federal Reserve Board's authority to regulate consumer credit—installment buying of things like automobiles and household appliances. Federal Reserve Board's previous authority to have banks limit credit by voluntary agreements also was taken away by Congress.

Restrictions on real estate credit for the purchase of new houses also were ended, with the single safeguard that regulations on down payments and time payments might be reimposed if new housing "starts" rise above a rate of 1,200,000 units a year in any three-month period. This is a rate that seldom has been exceeded. So for all practical purposes this control is dead.

At the beginning of the Korean war and the new national defense period, there was considerable public approval for the idea of pay-as-we-go armament. The purpose was to increase taxes to pay for defense. This would make government borrowing unnecessary.

It also was intended to siphon off excess spending power through the imposition of higher taxes. This it would be a further indirect curb against inflation. This idea held for about a year. Then the pressure of the higher taxes themselves, plus the resistance to the high cost of the defense effort, resulted in killing the whole program. The showdown came last January when President Truman asked Congress for an additional $4,000,000,000 in federal taxes. Congress approved none.

The result is that the federal government ended its fiscal year on June 30 with a $4,000,000,000 deficit, although on a cash basis receipts were only $600,000,000 less than expenditures.

This deficit, less than a billion dollars in the red, is not considered alarming in view of the country's practically full employment and a gross national product of $341,000,000,000 for the last fiscal year.

Also, consumer savings are high—$17,000,000,000, or above seven per cent of income last year and running at the same rate this year. People are not spending all their money on inflationary buying. Under all these circumstances it is difficult to get anybody scared about inflation and the need for more extensive indirect controls.

The only cloud on the horizon is that unless the new Administration sharply cuts back the defense program, a $10,000,000,000 deficit is in sight for the next fiscal year, and for several years thereafter.

Under such conditions, there may be some pressure to revive not only indirect but also direct controls against inflation.

HARRY WESTON sat down in a comfortable chair in his wife's study. He made no move to look back at him, from the canvas, as if defying him to say it wasn't good. He didn't try to say it wasn't good.

"It's very good," he said awkwardly. He cleared his throat. "Very good indeed." "Good!" Eleanor exclaimed, shaking her father's arm in exasperation. "Why, it's simply splendid! And to think we've been nourishing a genius in our midst and didn't even know it. How could you stand it, Mother, to have all that talent inside of you and not use it? I should think it would hurt to— to smother it!"

"Sometimes it did," Louise replied gently. "But there were other duties that came first."

"You mean Daddy—and us. Well, I'm glad at last you had the chance to show what you can do. I think it's going to be wonderful to have a famous mother."

"Let's wait and see what the judges say when it's hung in the exhibit in the fall," Louise said. Her eyes were still on Harry.

Louise Weston's portrait of Adele Miller was entered in the art show held in the fall in Greenwich Village. Louise hoped that Harry would appear at the opening, but she had her doubts. Harry had his own opinion of Greenwich Village and it wasn't complimentary.

So Louise went alone. She found her portrait immediately and was pleased with its position. It was in a good light and was not crowded by other canvases. The sheer simplicity of the painting seemed appealing and she hoped others would think so, too.

When you consider the present, maybe the guy who lives in the courts better off.

Redecorating? Give Thought To Ceiling Colors

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

It seems that we rarely give much thought to the ceilings in our homes. We concentrate on the walls, reasoning that they are important because they're seen no matter which way we turn.

Being the largest uninterrupted surfaces in the rooms, in most cases, ceilings bear some careful attention. Indirect lighting at night illuminates them fully, revealing the slightest imperfections. In daytime ceilings serve more than one essential function.

Wise homeowner, using a spray gun to paint an acoustic tile ceiling, applies a dark color to absorb light streaming in windows.

In dark rooms they are employed as light reflectors to make the most of all natural light that enters. In overbright rooms that sometimes glare in the sunlight, ceilings can serve as light absorbers.

If you have a too-dark room, you'll do well to consider the amount of light reflected by color before deciding on your ceiling's hue.

80 Per Cent Reflection

White reflects at least 80 per cent of the light falling upon it. Light ivory has a 70 per cent rating; apricot beige, about 65. Lemon yellow is slightly farther down the scale, white ivory reflects about 60 per cent and light buff, 55.

Light green and pale blue have ratings about 40 per cent and deep rose, with 15 per cent, is next to dark green, which has less than 10 per cent reflecting power.

To be sure light is reflected evenly, it is wise to use flat paint on ceilings of all rooms except the bathroom and kitchen, where it's best to apply a gloss or semi-gloss surface.

Sound Absorbers

Ceilings also can serve you as sound absorbers. Sound rebounds from the hard surface of glass walls and picture windows and from some floors and floor coverings.

Many rooms don't offer enough sound-absorbing qualities in upholstered furniture, deep carpets and heavy draperies.

Acoustic ceilings solve the problem, but must be painted carefully so the sound-trapping cells are not covered, thus impairing the acoustic properties.

HOME OWNERS QUESTION BOX

Q. Most floor maintenance specialists nowadays frown on the idea of wiping up waxed oak floors with an oil-treated dust mop. They recommend dry mopping. Why not?

A. Oil tends to soften the wax on the floors, making it gummy and dirt-catching. An untreated dust mop will remove loose dust and dirt, which is the object. To lighten the luster of the finish, polish with a soft cloth, weighted floor brush or electric polishing machine.

Q. Is it all right to use stain on an oak floor before applying the finish?

A. It's all right, but there's a more satisfactory way to achieve color effects. Stain is sensitive to light, and therefore has a tendency to fade in areas exposed to brightness. A better method is to use pigmented wood filler, which is resistant to light. There is no objection to using the two in combination, that is, putting on stain and following up with an application of pigmented filler.

Scientists Soon May Blame Old Sol For Woes Of World

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—Canada is making a new try at unlocking the mystery of sunspots, a subject that has fascinated and puzzled the people of the earth for centuries.

The dark patches on the blazing face of the sun are known to stir up various influences on this planet 80 million miles away. But scientists never have figured just how much they are responsible for such things as weather and insect plagues.

Long-range studies now being launched by the Dominion Observatory may produce new evidence.

Astronomers at the observatory on Ottawa's outskirts will turn their 80-foot solar telescope on the superheated "flares" that leap out momentarily from the sunspot areas. The flares bombard the earth with ultraviolet light and electrically charged particles that throw many terrestrial activities out of normal.

Known For Ages

Without a mechanical watch, nothing much can be done to record the flares, which last only a few minutes. They are relatively small by comparison with the dark sunspot areas, which sometimes extend 150,000 miles across.

The flares have come in for attention comparatively recently. The more visible sunspots have been an absorbing topic for ages.

A Chinese observer, Ma Twa Lin, reported in 188 A.D. the appearance of a "bird shaped" flock on the sun, apparently a cluster of spots. The ancient Chinese had more than 100 records of them, relating them to deaths of emperors and other important personages.

Cycles Of Life

More modern observers link the spots with a wide range of phenomena. Charts kept over a long period show a relationship between their cycles of roughly 11 years and such things as storms, rainfall, lake and river levels, tree growth, disease cycles and the cycles of animal and insect life.

Some have gone so far as to hook them up with stock market variations and the marriage rate.

Dr. Ralph E. DeLury, former assistant dominion astronomer in charge of solar physics, made a long study of these relationships and concluded the spots do exert a "profound influence on terrestrial affairs."

Because of the way they hit physical and organic things, he reasoned, they must also affect economic conditions. An 85-year study of commodity prices in the United Kingdom showed a "response" to the spot cycle.

"Economic fluctuations," Dr. DeLury added, "must surely be a factor in variations of marriage rates."

Sealy Lauds UT Choice

Tom Sealy, Midland attorney and member of the University of Texas regents, issued a statement Saturday in which he expressed pleasure with appointment of Dr. Logan Wilson as new president of the University of Texas.

Sealy's statement follows:

"Dr. Wilson has all the qualifications we had hoped to find. He is a man who enjoys high academic standing in the educational world, is a very capable administrator, a Christian gentleman, and his only 'ism' is Americanism. He also is a native Texan and graduate of the institution he will lead as president. We are expecting things of him and are happy to have him."

By unanimous vote of the regents Thursday, Dr. Wilson was named to the position.

Dr. Wilson, who is academic vice president of the Consolidated University of North Carolina, said he was "mightily proud" to be returning to the school where he got his first master's degree in 1927.

Intellectuals Go Into Slave Labor

HONG KONG (AP)—Independent press reports say Communist authorities in Canton are shipping intellectuals among their political prisoners to slave camps in the remote provinces of Northwest China.

These reports say the Communists fear the intellectuals' influence over other prisoners in Canton jails.

STOPS GENERAL—At Camp

McCoy, Wis., Cpl. Bernard B. Washer of Clinton, Ia., above, was assigned to guard a road and ordered to let "no one" pass. Along came a motor convoy carrying four full companies. Corporal Washer stopped it cold. No one argued. Company commanders argued. Battalion officers argued. No dice. Finally Maj.-Gen. Ray Cam Fountain tried to pass. Still no dice. Someone checked Corporal Washer's orders and found he'd been posted on the wrong road. After that, everybody passed and the general officially commended the corporal "for the attention to duty and soldierly qualities exhibited by you."

With Steel Strike Concluded, Midland Labor Picture Bright

With the steel strike over, the labor picture has brightened up in Midland County with a host of positions open. J. D. Bechtol, manager of the Texas Employment Commission, announced Saturday. The employment-commission has openings for construction time keepers, construction bookkeepers, manager-bookkeeper, stenographers, administrative assistant, electrical engineer, statistical typist, general office workers, draftsmen, part-time office workers, office machine mechanic and building engineer.

Construction activities are at an all-time high in Midland, and positions are opening again in the oil industry as result of settlement of the steel strike, Bechtol said.

Anyone interested in one of the positions available with the employment commission should contact the office at 200 East Wall Street.

Midland Students Make Back To School Plans

LEAVING FOR COLLEGE—The students above may well travel together when they return to college—they all will attend the University of Texas in Austin. Marjorie Cramer, second from left, a sophomore, will travel in a black and red dress with black elasticized cincher belt, while Sue Johnson, in the car, a sophomore, has chosen a dress of charcoal grey with black patent belt. P. D. Smith, left, a senior, and Doug Atwill, sophomore, are traveling in blue slacks. Smith has chosen a white shirt and Atwill a shirt in beige shade.

FIRST GRADERS—Off to school for the first time will be the young neighbors pictured at the left. Alan Laird, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Laird, 3114 Mariana Street, insists on blue jeans and a red prairie shirt for classes. Robbie Evinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Evinger, 3116 Mariana Street, will start to school in a grey denim dress accented with red and white vest collar. With it, she'll wear pert red hair bows, white socks and black suede slippers. The first graders will be enrolled in Lamar, Midland's newest elementary school.

IT'S DANCE TIME—Looking forward to the first big dance of school are Joe and Joan Turner, above, twin son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Turner, 2003 West Indiana Street. Joan, who will enter Scripps College, Claremont, Calif., models her favorite formal of peach nylon net, with pleated satin ribbon trim. The bouffant ballerina skirt is topped with strapless, cuffed bodice and matching stole. Joe, who is entertaining his sister with piano selections before party time, is wearing a tuxedo, conventional for formal dances. Joe will enter Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Here is an inexpensive home recipe to take off unwanted weight and help bring back slim curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from any drugstore, four ounces of liquid Barcostrate. Pour into pint bottle and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without head-breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Last 36 Pounds

To Live In Lubbock

The couple will live in Lubbock after September 8. They now are on a wedding trip to Mexico City and the surrounding area of Mexico.

For the wedding, the church altar was banked with baskets of pink and white asters, and a fan-shaped arrangement of pink and white gladioli was placed before the cross on the communion table. A white arch, covered with pink and white asters, and white cathedral tapers in floor candleholders formed a background for the setting.

Courages of pale pink asters with matching ribbons marked the pew lining the bridal aisle.

Mrs. Frank Miller, organist, played "Idyll" (Purvis), "Autumn Song" (Elmore), "A Rose Breaks Into Bloom" (Brahms), "Our Father in Heaven Who Art" (Bach), "In Summer" (Stebbins), and the recessional, "Trumpet Tune" (Purcell). She also accompanied Ira Schantz, who sang "O Perfect Love" (Burleigh) and "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte).

M., and Betty Jo Greene. Ushers included David Laverty, brother of the bridegroom, Gayle Sagebiel of Temple, Tim Magness of Friona, Gilbert Bowles of Carlsbad, and Bill Pishney of Fort Worth.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage.

She wore a traditional wedding gown of white chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice was styled with long, pointed sleeves, and a scalloped portrait neckline, edged with pearls and filled in with a transparent yoke. The gathered skirt swept into a full train.

The bride's elbow-length veil of illusion was caught to a headband of lace matching her dress. She carried an orchid set in shattered white carnations.

The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of shell pink nylon net over pink taffeta. Small net boleros were worn over the shirred, strapless bodices, and the bouffant skirts were of three layers of the net in tiered lengths. The attendants wore tiaras of braided and sequin-studded satin with gathered half veils of pink net. They carried pink colonial bouquets.

Assisting the couple in receiving guests for the reception in the church parlor were their parents and the bride's attendants. The full net skirts flared below strapless bodices of satin. Worn over the bodices were jackets of matching satin, styled with three-quarter length sleeves and sweep-away necklines.

Miss Bostwick's dress was periwinkle blue. She carried an arm bouquet of pink gladiolus with matching streamers. Miss Miller wore a dress of burnt gold and carried lavender gladiolus.

Miss Hardison was gowned in forest green and her arm bouquet was of yellow gladiolus with matching streamers.

Uncle Is Best Man
Pamela Robin Olier, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her dress was of pastel blue net and taffeta, designed with tiered-ruffle skirt of net. The bodice was net over taffeta with a wide matching sash of taffeta. She carried the traditional basket of rose petals.

Philip Robin Olier of Glendale, Calif., attended his nephew as best man. Groomsmen were W. Robert Watson of Duarte, Calif., and Carl

G. Swanson of Pasadena, Calif. Mrs. Maricle, mother of the bride, wore a floor-length dress fashioned of lace and chiffon in old rose color. Her corsage was of white carnations and pink rose buds. Mrs. Hardison, mother of the bridegroom, wore a full-length gown of sky-blue lace and taffeta with a corsage of yellow rosebuds.

Pre-nuptial music was played by Dale Kirshman, organist. Selections were "Clair de Lune," "Leibstrum" and the traditional wedding music. Royal W. Stanton was soloist. Before the ceremony, he sang Greig's "I Love These" and "O, Perfect Love." During the ceremony, he sang Malotte's "Lord's Prayer."

The reception was held in the church parlor. The four-tiered wedding cake was decorated with silver leaves, white roses, and wedding bells and was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Mrs. Philip R. Olier of Glendale, aunt of the bridegroom, Barbara Hawes, Phyllis Jumper, Shirley Feller, and Mrs. Clyde Klis were in the houseparty. Jerry Shaw presided at the guest book.

Members of the houseparty wore white gardenia corsages. The reception parlor was decorated with bouquets of mixed Summer flowers in pastel shades.

Tour California
For the wedding trip to Northern California, the bride chose a suit of pink gabardine styled with a pleated peplin accenting the jacket. Her accessories were black and her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Hardison is a graduate of Woodrow Wilson High School in Long Beach and attended Long Beach City College. Before her marriage, Mrs. Hardison was affiliated with the Peoples Bank in Lakewood. She is a member of the Delta Gamma Omega Alumnae Association.

Hardison is a graduate of San Jacinto High School in Houston, and attended New Mexico School of Mines for two years. He served with the United States Marine Corps during World War II and recently returned from Korea. He was formerly affiliated with the Magnolia Oil Company in Midland.

The couple will be at home after September 10 in Golden, Colo., where Hardison will attend the Colorado School of Mines.

Out-of-city guests attending the wedding were from La Habra, Fullerton, Pasadena, Glendale, Duarte, Los Angeles, and Big Bear, Calif., Royal Oak, Mich., and Midland. The rehearsal dinner was held Wednesday evening in the Pacific Coast Club in Long Beach.

Mrs. Harvey Robin Hardison

Decorations were the pastel Summer flowers, and place cards were figurines tied with white ribbons. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. Maricle, parents of the bride; Mrs. Harvey Hardison, mother of the bridegroom; the bridal couple, Carl G. Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Robert Watson, Phyllis Bostwick, Vernice Miller, Jane Hardison, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip R. Olier and daughter, Pamela.

Short Change Artist Foiled By Pharmacy Cashier in Midland

A short change artist may be walking the streets of Midland today, looking for new victims. Friday he strolled up to the pretty blonde cashier at a Midland drug store, waiting until a long line of customers had formed to pay their checks.

With an air of innocence he handed her five one dollar bills and politely asked for a five dollar bill in change. The cashier, who had been burned by the trick once or twice before, played along with his little game. Just as she was about to deposit the five ones in the cash drawer and already had removed the five for him, he suddenly, told her to give him a ten dollar bill instead. She turned quickly, fixed him with an icy stare, and told him to get out. Completely flabbergasted, leave. The would-be financier dashed headlong from the store.

He was described as in his late 40's, wearing khaki clothes and a straw hat.

Cornucopia Of Miscellany Swamps Bewildered Woman

LEXINGTON, KY.—(AP)—For the second time in about a year strange and sundry things have been turning up at Mrs. Wilmore Alexander's front door—and back door, too.

First there was an auto salesman, then an auctioneer interested in selling her furniture, then two typewriters and an adding machine were delivered. Next a garage man came to fix a flat that wasn't, and then a new battery, and a load of concrete blocks and a taxicab.

Last year about this time, she said, her house was flooded with rabbit food, straw, a load of rock and an ambulance on a rush call.

Bullet Hits Agent As Wetback Guides Fight With Officers

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—The Interior Ministry reported Saturday seven more "hookers"—men who guide illegal migrants into the U. S.—had been arrested after a gun battle in which one agent was wounded.

It said the arrests occurred August 19 near the village of La Reforma in the Reynosa township on the Texas border. They raised to 12 the number of hookers arrested in the last ten days.

The announcement did not say whether those arrested were leading any migrants at the time.

Many Mexican farm hands who want to work in the U. S. pay from 10 to 50 pesos ($1.15 to $5.50) to be led across the Rio Grande to U. S. farms.

The Interior agents also destroyed 17 rafts in the Reynosa area to prevent their use in taking migrants across the river.

Diplomats Believe Malenkov Best Bet To Succeed Stalin

By JOHN A. SCALI
WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A solid clue pointing to Russia's next ruler may emerge from the full dress meeting of the Communist Party congress in Moscow October 5.

And American diplomats will not be surprised if tough, 50-year-old Georgi Malenkov steps up as Josef Stalin's personal choice as next Russian Prime Minister.

In fact, some suspect Stalin's aim in staging the whole affair may be to give a formal, open hint as to who the next boss should be.

This may be Stalin's way, they believe, of lessening the possibility of a bloody struggle for power within the Communist high command after he dies.

Until they have more time to analyze Moscow's announcement of the calling of the first Communist congress since 1939, American diplomats say their view is a theory rather than a considered opinion.

But here is what they think:

Stalin's heir apparent will be the man who is chosen to be chairman of the new Presidium, to be organized at the meeting to replace the Politburo.

The 13-man Politburo, now the top governing body, has no chairman or chief executive. But a Presidium under the Russian set-up generally does have one.

Any picked for this job automatically would be proclaimed publicly as the most important Communist in Russia next to Stalin.

It is entirely possible Stalin himself will be designated chairman of the new Presidium. But, if so, why for the first time since 1935 is he not to give the main address to the congress, the report of the Central Committee?

This is a sort of state of the union speech summing up Communist stewardship of the Soviet Union since the last congress met. In this case it will cover a 13-year period and will be especially important.

Up From The Ranks
Malenkov, a Communist Party wheel who worked his way up from the ranks like Stalin, now is scheduled to give this report, the most important thing on the agenda.

Furthermore, neither Marshal Beria, head of the Soviet Secret Police and Deputy Prime Minister Malenkov's main rival, nor Deputy Premier Y. M. Molotov, is scheduled at this time to play any prominent role in the session. This may be a clue that Molotov is being pushed into the background, since he read the new five-year plan at each of the two previous congress meetings, in 1934 and 1939.

Molotov is 62 and his age has been considered a factor against him in speculation on Stalin's successor.

American officials know little about Malenkov except that several years ago he launched a determined campaign to make sure the floors of all Soviet factories were kept clean.

He also was a key figure in setting up the Cominform, the guiding Soviet policy bureau for Russia's Eastern Europe satellites. At present, he is a member of the Central Committee Secretariat under Stalin.

Bible Scholars Seek Oldest Sources For New Revisions

Each Christmas the women in the Jones family make plum pudding, using a recipe handed down from their great-great-grandmother Jones.

Not long ago, a new Jones bride, clearing out the attic, made a remarkable find. She uncovered, in the painstaking script of Great-great-grandmother Jones, a copy of the recipe three generations nearer the original than any other known. And in and behold, a comparison shows great variation. Somewhere along the line a cook left out half a cup of molasses—most likely because it was stuck in between half a cup of citron and half a cup of grape juice, and the copyist's eye simply slid over the middle half cup.

Next Christmas, the Jones wives will return to the attic recipe, the nearest to the original. Written Centuries Ago

As with that plum pudding recipe, so it is with a very, very old book—the Holy Bible.

It is some 3,000 years since the Old Testament began to take written form. Almost exactly 1,800 years ago the New Testament was completed. Until printing was invented about 1450, the Bible was kept alive by the only method known—copying by hand.

Just as with the pudding recipe, it is unlikely we will unearth a first copy of a Bible book. But manuscript discoveries and archaeological research of the last 75 years have pushed our knowledge ever nearer to the originals.

The "Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible," due from the press September 30, is the result of these discoveries and research. First Translation

To John Wycliff, rector and college master, we owe the first translation of the Latin Bible into English, completed in 1382.

The first English version of the Scriptures to be made by direct translation from the original Hebrew and Greek, and the first to be printed, was the work of William Tyndale. His New Testament of 1526 was to become the basis of all later revisions. Accused of perverting the meaning of the Scriptures, he was burned at the stake in 1536.

Soon afterward, however, his dying prayer—"Lord, open the King of England's eyes"—was answered and a succession of versions began to win favor.

King James' instruction to his

First printed pages of "Revised Standard Version" are examined by Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert, stated, general secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ, and his associate, Dr. Roy G. Ross, after the near-million volume printing job began.

54 translators was for a revision "as consonant as can be to the original Hebrew and Greek." That they realized they were but one point in history is evident in their statement of purpose in translation: "To make a good one better, or out of many good ones, one principal good one."

Older Than King James But whereas in 1611 they had access to only a dozen or so late medieval manuscripts of the New Testament, full of the accumulated errors of centuries of handcopying, today's revision committee could draw on hundreds of old manuscripts far ante-dating those of the King James group. Recent archaeological findings throw new light on the meaning of the Old Testament Hebrew.

The Chester Beatty manuscripts of parts of the Bible, turned up in Egypt in 1930, go back as early as the second century. A. D. Fragments of Deuteronomy have been found from the first or second centuries—B. C. The Isaiah scroll rescued from a cave near the Dead Sea by a shepherd lad in 1947 appears to date from the late second century. B. C. It becomes the basis of 13 readings incorporated in the Revised Standard Version of Isaiah. Throughout the new revision are changes correcting the additions, omissions and substitutions traceable to ancient and medieval copyists. These and other inaccuracies have been corrected because the committee could go back nearer the original manuscripts than any other group of scholars in history. Left Out Phrases

Just as the cook copying successive "half cups" left out the molasses, so in Revelation 8:7 a long-ago scribe overlooked the clause "and the third part of the earth was burnt up" and went right on to the next, "and a third part of the tree."

Another ancient copyist substituted "Joseph" for "his father" in Luke 2:33. In RSV the verse (referring to the baby Jesus) is correctly restored: "And his father and mother marvelled at what was said about him."

Someone in the seventh century undertook to bring Ephesians 5:39 up-to-date by adding to the original statement, "We are members of his body," the words "from his flesh and from his bones." The King James translators did the best they could by treating the inserted words as apposition. "For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones." The flesh and bones are no more in the Revised Standard Version.

Thus it stands—on minor points and on significant interpretations—the newest version with the oldest authority.

19 State Ballots To List MacArthur As Party Candidate

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—The Christian Nationalist Party announced Saturday it will enter Gen. Douglas MacArthur's name as a presidential candidate on at least 19 state ballots.

Don Lohbeck of St. Louis, the party's executive secretary, said it would give voters a chance to "express their indignation for the political trickery that has been employed by those who have attempted to destroy the two-party system."

Lohbeck said his party was aware MacArthur was not a candidate but its members reserved the right to vote for him and Jack B. Teaney of Los Angeles for vice president because "we have chosen them as the symbol of true Americanism at this dark hour."

Lohbeck said his party already has filed a slate of electors for the two in Missouri and Texas and that it was working to get them on the ballot in Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Colorado, Utah, Nebraska, Washington, California, New Mexico, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Virginia, Rhode Island and Wyoming.

Army Studies Plan For Texoma Bridge

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors will hold a hearing here September 30 to review an Army Division Engineer's report on a proposed bridge across Lake Texoma between Texas and Oklahoma.

The office of Senator Kerr (D-Okl.) announced the hearing today. The division engineer recommended that the federal government take no further part in surveys for the bridge or its construction.

Kerr's office said the government already had advanced $1,212,000 to the two states for the project.

The proposed highway bridge would span the lake, formed by Denison Dam on the Red River, at what is known as the Willis Ferry site.

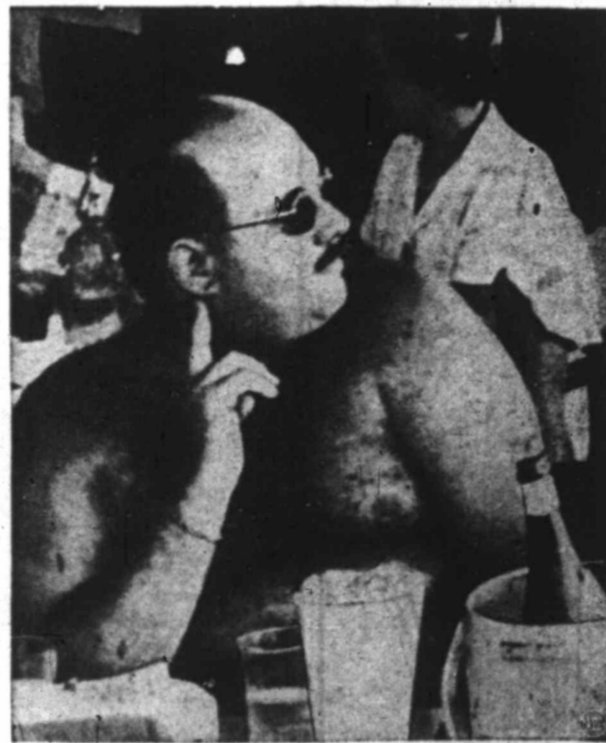

Mock Air Attack Hits Niagara Falls To Check Defenses

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—(AP)—Canadian police and fire equipment sped across the Rainbow Bridge Saturday to aid this industrial and resort city "devastated" by a mock atomic attack.

Word of the "attack" spread rapidly through a small network of three radio stations bound by a new agreement among stations and newspapers of the two countries.

The test provided the first joint U. S.-Canadian civil defense drill. The hypothetical bomb "dropped" on a busy downtown intersection and theoretically devastated the southern part of the city of 90,000 for a 12-mile radius.

Rescue and salvage units from five Western New York counties and two Ontario provinces pitched in to handle 18,000 "injured" and 8,000 "homeless."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Secretary of Commerce Sawyer says: Stevenson and Barkley made key decisions at Chicago; Some red-hot predictions right off the griddle.

WASHINGTON—Recently I was a delegate attending a political convention. The public saw and heard, sometimes all too clearly, thanks to radio and television, what went on in the amphitheatre and in some committee rooms. They may not have understood it all, but at least it was given to them unadulterated. What they did see was the chatter and the riddles and arguments which went on outside.

There are widely held theories, occasionally stimulated by columnists and commentators, that these activities result in dark and intricate plots, pulling of wire and trading of great blocks of votes. These stories make good reading or telling, but for the most part have little substance. Sometimes the results at political conventions are determined by long and sustained effort on the part of candidates, such as in the case of Democrats Kefauver, Harriman, Kerr, and Russell, and Republican Taft. This year these efforts were fruitless. More often the result is determined by the decision of one individual at a critical and important moment. Such an epochal decision was made by Barkley when he decided to withdraw, by Stevenson when he decided to accept.

Polling Old Tradition

One of the reasons why intricate plots are not carried out in conventions is that the average delegate is an individual character who can't be too easily handled. It is of course true that, on occasion, as occurred in the case of New York in this Democratic convention, a major switch of delegates can be brought about which will have a decisive effect. For the most part, however, as was clear to the television audience, the delegates are a cantankerous lot, each of whom has ideas of his own. The demand for polling of delegates which seemed so unnecessary and irritating to the television audience was not a new phenomenon brought about by the desire of the delegate to be seen on television. It has been going on in conventions ever since I can remember. It is done partly to "put delegates on the spot" back home, partly to demonstrate loyalty to the candidate involved, and partly—as on several occasions in this convention—from pure contrariness.

The decisions of a convention are emotional also, certainly more emotional than calculated. The Eisenhower success was due to the emotion aroused by the "Texas" issue. Stevenson's success was the result of a somewhat different emotion, although the Democratic convention, except for one episode, was lacking in great emotion as well as a powerful issue. The great emotional occasion was the reception given to Barkley. It is interesting to speculate on the outcome of the convention if he had created an "issue" by standing firm in the face of the action of two labor leaders and, instead of withdrawing, had defied them to prevent his nomination.

Predictions A To Z

And now for my prediction of things to come: Joe Walcott will win again.

The production capacity of this nation by the end of 1953 will be adequate to relieve the strains of critical materials such as steel, copper and aluminum, and the need for major controls will have disappeared.

Regardless of criticism and comment upon the confusion and stupidity of convention procedure, conventions of both parties in the future will be conducted about as they have been in the past.

The total vote in the presidential election this November will exceed fifty million.

Retail sales for the year 1952 will run between 160 billion and 165 billion dollars.

There will be many new faces in the cabinet this time next year, including that of a new secretary of commerce.

The coming Winter will be generally mild except for some very cold weather in the first half of December and a bad storm and blizzard on the middle and north Atlantic coasts about March 1.

At 10:30 a.m. on June 1, 1954, Seattle, Washington, will have the lowest tide of the year. On July 30, 1954, the high tide at Anchorage, Alaska, will be 40.1 ft. at 6:51 p.m., and the low tide at Eastport, Maine, will be minus 0.4 ft. at 5:08 p.m.

A thousand earthquakes will occur in the United States in 1954.

I predict that these predictions will raise the Merry-Go-Round's average of "predictions which have proved to be right."

Antitrust Action Filed On Theaters

ALBUQUERQUE—(AP)—An antitrust suit, termed the first major private attack on the big Griffith Theater Circuit, was filed here Friday by Mary E. Trib, Roswell, N. M., theater owner.

The suit asks treble damages of $977,000 from the Griffith chain and eight major motion picture firms. It also asks that the Griffith offices be forced to dispose of seven 104-seat theaters.

The complaint contends that the Griffith Corporation, which operates 200 theaters in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma, and the eight distributors conspired to restrain interstate trade in the distribution of motion picture films.

NEW! Greatest Home Permanent ever!

Procter & Gamble's

Lilt with "Naturalizer!"

New miracle ingredient, "Naturalizer," used after Lilt's Waving Lotion

MAKES WAVE LONGEST-LASTING POSSIBLE IN SHORTEST TIME POSSIBLE TODAY!

And now... Lilt wave is even more like Naturally Curly Hair!

Compare Lilt WITH THOSE NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVES!
SEE WHY LILT WAVES take up to 5 HOURS LESS TIME and LAST up to 3 TIMES LONGER!

(Two girls start at same time—3 o'clock Saturday afternoon)

A LILT WAVE

1st step She started her Lilt at 3 o'clock. It took her only about an hour to finish the entire waving lotion step—including test curls!

First step finished—4:14 o'clock

2nd step She used "Naturalizer" to make her wave really permanent! Her wave is now finished...

Now her hair is set in pin curls for her hairdo!

LILT WAVE FINISHED—and hairdo styled too—IN LESS THAN 5 HOURS! 4:52 o'clock

Ready for a glamorous evening!

Pin curls dry fast (but hair wound on curlers does not). So, by 6:30, her Lilt is already brushed and combed into a smart, lovely hairdo!

And best of all, her Lilt wave is so permanent—so much like Naturally Curly Hair, it will last months and months!

LILT WAVES LAST up to 3 TIMES LONGER!

REFILL still only $1.25* plus tax

A NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVE

1st step She also started at 3 o'clock. She wound curls and applied waving lotion, rinsed with water (or used towel to remove excess lotion).

First step finished—4:00 o'clock

2nd step (which you may not know about) She is now starting to WAIT 6 HOURS, with her hair on curlers. (With No-Neutralizer products you need slow drying on curlers.)

STILL WAITING! She's worried now. She has a date at seven!

2 HOURS GONE—5 MORE TO GO

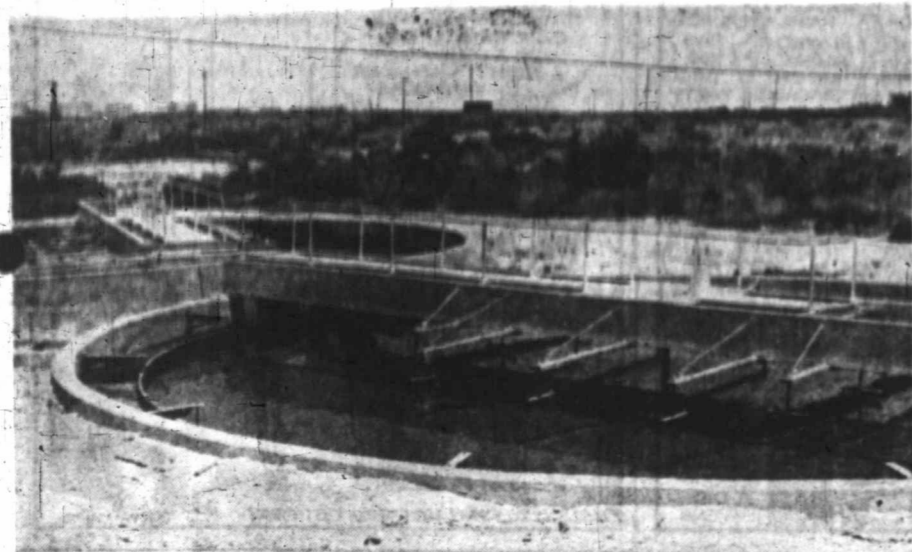

NO DATE FOR HER TONIGHT! She still has HOURS TO WAIT!

10 O'CLOCK—SECOND STEP FINISHED...

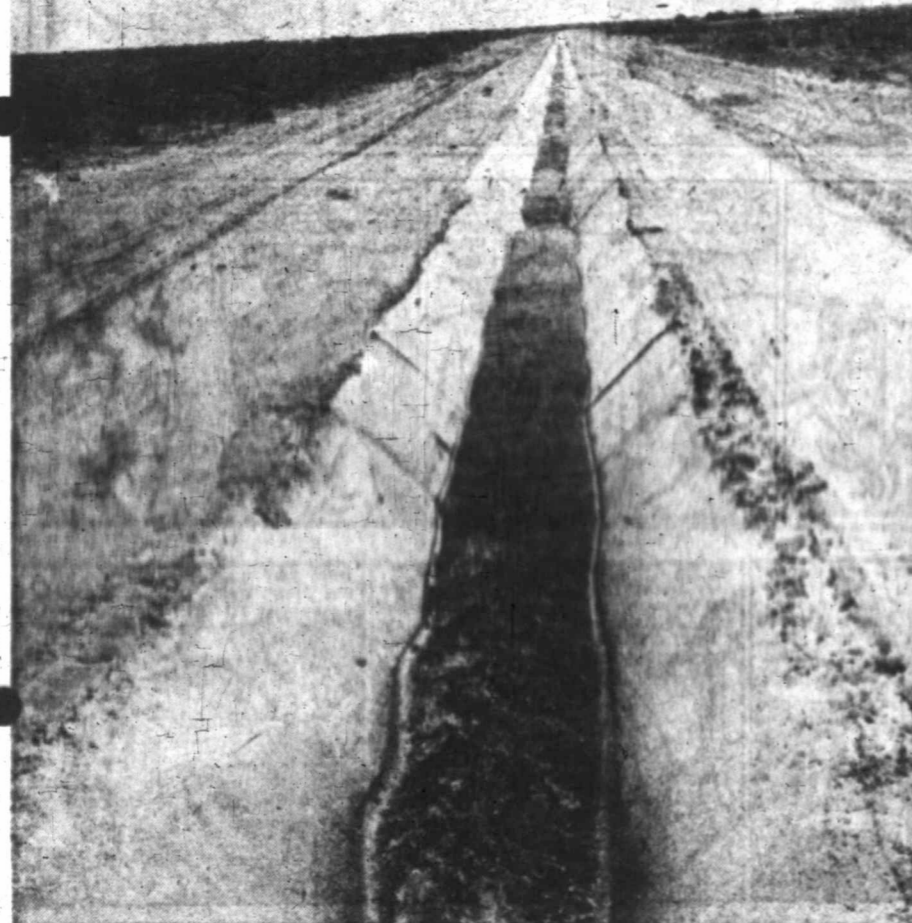

7 hours after she started! And LOOK at that kinky, frizzy hair—because it dried on the curlers! Now she has to re-wet her hair and set it in pin curls!

But what she still does NOT know is—HER WAVE IS ONLY SEMI-PERMANENT! Won't last nearly as long as a Lilt.

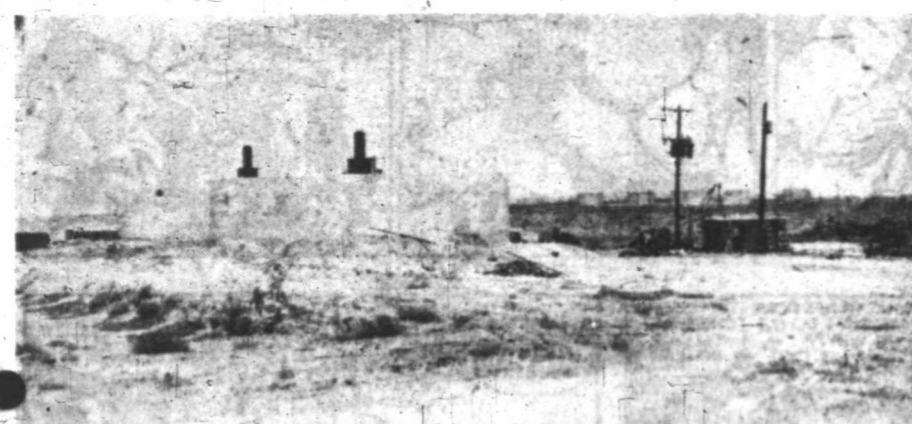

Sewage Plant In Operation

SEWAGE PLANT EXPLAINED—Midland's new $300,000 sewage disposal plant now is in operation and into these clarifiers flow the raw sewage after it has been treated with chlorine. In these tanks, the solids settled to the bottom and the effluent—or liquid—is drawn off.

ON WAY TO PONDS—After the effluent is drawn off it flows through this mile-long canal to the oxidation ponds where it is stored for use in irrigating crops in the vicinity. There are 160 acres of such ponds and the water stands no deeper than four feet in any of them.

THE DIGESTER TANKS—The solids left in the clarifiers is pumped into these two digesters, in which the sludge goes through chemical change before being emptied into the drying beds. The sewage plant has a capacity of 50,000 contributors and can be enlarged by adding additional units.

Primer On Ko-War GI Bill Of Rights

Q What's the general rule covering officers' uniform allowances under the new law?

A It applies to Army and Air Force reserve and National Guard officers who were recalled to duty after June 26, 1950. You are eligible if you failed to receive the original "initial uniform allowance" of $250 for your last tour of duty or if you hadn't been on extended active duty for two years or more when you started your last tour.

Q Does rank have anything to do with officers' uniform allowance?

A No.
Q How much is the officers' uniform allowance?

A It is $100.
Q When will the Army and Air Force begin paying this allowance?

A Probably not until sometime early in 1953.
Q What kind of an application will you have to make for the allowance? Or will it be mailed to you automatically?

A It is likely that you will have to make some kind of an application. However, the form has not been made yet and the details of how this money will be paid haven't been worked out in detail.

Q Does the uniform allowance for officers apply to the Navy?

A No.
Q Do you have to have served in Korea in order to get in under the uniform allowance?

A No.
Q What about warrant officers? Are they eligible for the uniform allowance provided to officers?

A Yes.
Q I got my uniform allowance when I first got my commission during World War II. And I was able to use the uniforms I already had when I was called to active duty for Korea. Is the uniform allowance still due me?

A Yes, if you hadn't been on active duty for two years previous.

Rampaging Swede Slays 10 Persons, Destroys Own Life

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN—(AP)—A search party dragged the body of Ex-Policeman Tore Hedin from Lake Bosarp Saturday, ending a one-day manhunt through South Sweden for the rampaging killer who left a letter confessing the murder of his parents, sweetheart and seven others.

Police said that Hedin killed his parents Thursday night by setting fire to the home in which they lived in the little town of Kvarnby. Next he climbed through a window of an old folks home at nearby Hurva and split his girl friend's head with an axe.

He also axed the matron of the home and set fire to the institution. Four women and two men died in the blaze.

His body was discovered 75 yards from shore near the spot where a rowboat was found drifting Friday. Police said his watch had stopped at 4:10, indicating he drowned himself Friday morning shortly after writing the letter of confession.

The letter was found in a stolen get-away car he deserted near the lake.

Police quoted Hedin's letter as saying that he killed his parents to protect them from the shock of hearing about his other crimes.

Germany's Commie Boss Resumes Post

BERLIN—(AP)—Wilhelm Pieck, president of Communist Germany, resumed Saturday after a five-week vacation.

ADN, Soviet-licensed news agency, said the 76-year-old president took a "rest cure," but did not say where.

It was reported reliably Pieck spent his vacation in Russia, as he did last year.

New Polio Hospital In Orange Will Be Memorial Of Citizens

ORANGE, TEXAS—(AP)—A new 30-bed polio treatment center will open here about September 1 and its completion will wind up one of the most remarkably successful civic activities ever undertaken by this community.

In mid-July the facility was just a dream of an harassed hospital staff. By the end of this month it will be a dream come true. In between lies a story of generosity, hard work and resourcefulness with few parallels.

The idea of the center was born one sweltering July day during a staff conference in the office of Mrs. Bea Paddelford Schofield, superintendent of City Hospital. Its birth followed several hours of frantic telephoning in an unsuccessful attempt to arrange for physical therapy treatment for three polio patients of the hospital.

Orange had no provisions for such treatments and had been sending its patients to Houston, Galveston and Beaumont. But facilities in these cities—and most others with treatment centers in this area—already were overtaxed.

At Peak Of Season
 Kindly, gray-haired Dr. E. H. Kent, head of the City Hospital medical staff, said "The peak of the polio season still is ahead and God help us if we don't do something and do it quick."

Mrs. Paddelford and the hospital business manager, Bob Hodges, called on the Navy Department and the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for emergency assistance. The Navy flew in equipment and personnel for a temporary treatment center. The national foundation also dispatched equipment. Emergency treatment facilities were in operation less than 24 hours later.

Two days later Dr. Kent called a meeting of representatives of Orange County's civic organizations. The response was instantaneous and overwhelming.

First there was the problem of a building. A new one would cost $20,000. But there wasn't a dime in sight.

A former housing official present suggested that a vacant government-owned office building located across town might be obtained and moved to the hospital grounds to house the center. A committee was named to investigate this possibility.

This committee met the following morning with Mayor Joe Runnels, Jr. He spent about 10 minutes listening to the story then picked up the telephone and called the office of Senator Lyndon Johnson in Washington.

Red Tape Slashed
 Seventy-eight hours later the hospital had its building and the Public Housing Administration had the city's note for $2,500 and the biggest litter of slashed red tape in history. Such a transaction normally would have taken months.

Heartened by their quick success in obtaining a building, the civic organization's representatives held another meeting to see what could be done about raising the $12,500 to pay for moving, remodeling and equipping the structure. An executive committee was named, headed by George Craft, industrial relations official for the Consolidate Western Steel Division.

The county chapter of the Crippled Children's society kicked off the drive with a $1,000 contribution. Consolidated Western kicked in with $500 and the Lexington Shipbuilding Company matched it. Employees of these two industries, in a volunteer fund drive conducted by their labor union shop stewards, added $4,500.

Children Help, Too
 The children of the county, with no urging from anyone, made and sold popcorn and candy. They opened soft drink stands all over the place. They sold their toys.

Service club members throughout the county made personal solicitations, took up collections at meetings, held spaghetti dinners, sponsored dances and rodeos.

Three weeks after the campaign started, Craft pronounced it closed and took time to add the proceeds. Even the most optimistic of his group of co-workers was amazed. The drive already had netted $22,307.68 and enough more was unreported by volunteer workers to push the total to about $25,000—double the original goal.

The portion of this money available for this equipment was increased considerably when the county's APL unions volunteered the services of their craftsmen in remodeling the building to house the center.

Why They Work
 On the first "work day" 130 plumbers, carpenters, painters, electricians, laborers and other unionists showed up. Two of these were fathers of children lying seriously ill of polio in the emergency center.

Worst stricken was a tiny, doll-like blonde, two-year-old Kanette Webb.

While all the hammering, sawing and other business of remodeling the treatment building was taking place, Kanette lay in a respirator less than a dozen yards away.

Once a workman who came into the hallway for a moment spied Kanette and walked over to the respirator where the child's father patiently was feeding her water a drop at a time through a pipette.

Kanette paused in her drinking and asked the craftsman: "What are you doing out there, big man?" "I'm building a place to get you well," the workman replied.

"Well, hurry up," the child whispered. "This thing pinches my neck."

The dirt-stained craftsman turned away suddenly, retraced his steps, wiped what may or may not have been sweat from his eyes, picked up his hammer and started banging furiously away.

Chicago Postmaster Quits After Charge Of 'Selling' Raises

CHICAGO—(AP)—Postmaster John Haderlein, 56, resigned from his $12,970-a-year job Friday as a result of an investigation of charges that at least 38 employees paid from $800 to $1,800 for job promotions.

"The publicity during these political times, which has attended the pending general inquiry concerning postal procedures and the postoffice, has made it exceedingly difficult for me to continue as local administrator of postal affairs," his letter of resignation said.

Attorney General James P. McGranery said in Washington he expects a large number of indictments to result from the inquiry.

Farmers, Ranchmen Retain PMA Head In Midland County

W. E. Piggs was re-elected as chairman of the Midland County Production Marketing Association committee in light voting which ended Friday, Charles Champion, secretary, announced Saturday.

Piggs will be serving his 15th year as a member of the committee.

Others re-elected were: D. W. McDonald, vice chairman; and B. T. Graham, member. Palmer Evans was renominated as first alternate and J. O. Nobles, Jr., was elected second alternate.

Only 127 ballots were cast out of a potential of some 300 farmers and ranchers, Champion said.

Daddy Ringtail And Feather Soup With Onion

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, had gone to visit with the Featherman. He was going to eat supper at the Featherman's nest, because the Featherman lives in a nest instead of a house, you know. All the Featherman thinks about is feathers, feathers, and more feathers.

er, and an Daddy Ringtail gave him a feather for a present when the Featherman opened the door.

"Oh, feathers, feathers, feathers!" said the Featherman when he saw it. "Oh, thank you, Daddy Ringtail, and it is as fine a feather as I ever saw."

"Oh, I wouldn't say that," said Daddy Ringtail. "It is just a feather that one of my chickens was through with the using of it."

But the Featherman insisted the feather was as fine as any feather he ever saw, and away he ran to the stove and dropped the feather inside a great big pot that was boiling. "Soup for supper," explained the Featherman with a smile. He explained that the feather he had dropped inside would give the soup just the right taste.

"Oh, no!" said Daddy Ringtail. "Featherman, please! You shouldn't have dropped the feather in the soup."

"It's all right," the Featherman said. "It was feather soup that I dropped it in." And with those words, the Featherman poured a whole basket of toasted chicken feathers into the pot of soup.

Oh, it was time for Daddy Ringtail now to think fast, believe me, to keep from having to eat the feather soup, and so he said: "Featherman, did you put an onion in the soup? Why, toasted-chicken feather soup isn't good at all, if it doesn't have an onion in it."

By WESLEY DAVIS

Yes, and the Featherman knew Daddy Ringtail was right. Of course an onion has to be in the toasted-chicken-feather soup for the soup to be good, and so the Featherman said they couldn't eat the soup for supper at all. They would have to eat some scrambled coconut sandwiches, but Daddy Ringtail mustn't worry.

"I won't worry," promised Daddy Ringtail. And the Featherman said that he would not worry either. No, because he would get an onion that very night, and cook it with the toasted-chicken-feather soup for breakfast. Oh my yes. Happy day! (Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)
