Humble Is To Drill 14,000-Foot Wildcat In Andrews Area

Humble Oil & Refining Company is to drill a 14,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in the "hot" East Andrews County area where three flowing discoveries from the Devonian and one from the Ellenburger have been uncovered during the last few months.

Humble No. 1-Q University is the new prospector. It is 12 miles east of the town of Andrews and 1,900 feet from west and 600 feet from south lines of section 15, block 8, University survey.

East Of Discovery

That makes it two miles east and three-quarters of a mile south of Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-30994 University. Flowing discovery which recently opened the Maguete (Ellenburger) field.

The Magnolia wildcat also had been drilled from the Devonian. That is now caused off.

Two other wildcats in that general area of Andrews County have also found flowing oil in the Devonian. They are The Texas Company No. 1-Z State, recently completed from that pay, and Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-CC University, which has flowed from the Devonian and is now going on down to test the Ellenburger.

Drilling at Humble No. 1-Q University is to start within 30 days.

Fort Worth Man Spots Ellenburger Tester in Reagan

C. E. Hyde of Fort Worth No. 1 University is a new 10,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Central-South Reagan County.

Location is 1,800 feet from south and west lines of section 28, block 10, University survey and three and one-half miles southwest of Big Lake.

Drill site is on a 2,504.51-acre block for which Hyde paid a cash bonus of $11,000 at the June 6 auction of University of Texas leases.

Rotary tools will be used to drill the venture, beginning in the near future.

Phillips No. 1 Glenna Finishes As Deepest Permian Basin Oiler

Phillips Petroleum Company has completed its No. 1 Glenna, (M. C. Puckett) Southeast Pecos County wildcat as the deepest petroleum producer so far finished in West Texas and the Permian Basin.

It reported an official potential of 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day plus 3.8 barrels of 36 gravity distillate. That production was flowing through a one-inch opening on tubing.

From Perforated Zones

The gas and distillate came from perforated sections in the Ellenburger at 13,700-835 feet; at 13,920-14,050 feet; at 14,000-285 feet and 400-460 feet; and in open hole 485-522 feet.

Those zones had been treated with a total of 45,000 gallons of acid.

Gas-distillate rate was 220,000-1. The flowing tubing pressure was 1,335 pounds. Derrick floor elevation is 3,309 feet. Top of the Ellenburger is 13,602 feet.

Total depth is 14,522 feet. The 8 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 14,485 feet.

Location Listed

Location is 661 feet from west and 665 feet from north lines of section 28, block 10, TCRH survey. It is 30 miles southeast of Fort Stockton.

Heretofore the deepest producer in West Texas had been Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1-30994 University, opener of the Maguete (Ellenburger) field in Northeast Andrews County.

It gets its oil and gas from pay at 13,940-884 feet.

Two NE Crockett Prospectors Are Pumping To Test

Two shallow prospects southeast of the Vaughn field in Northeast Crockett County are testing on the pump.

Three miles southeast of the Vaughn pool, Barron Kild of Dallas, No. 1-A Ed Bean Estate-Pure pumped 30 barrels of oil on the latest 24-hour test of the Grayburg line through perforations from 1,304 to 1,370 feet, after re-acidizing.

Location is 2,300 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 41, block 0P, GC&SF survey.

Five-eighths of a mile southeast of the No. 1-A Bean-Pure, Kild's No. 1-B Bean-Pure pumped 55 barrels of oil on latest 20-hour test of

Air Raids Rubble Ko-Red Capital

Shower Cools Midland, Ends Water Famine

Scattered rainfall brought momentary relief Thursday afternoon to drouth-seared Midland on the heels of reports of the season's first water shortage.

The temperature plummeted to 69 degrees early Friday and Thursday's maximum was held to 94 degrees as the showers fell during mid-afternoon.

But the best news Friday came from Henry E. Nunn, city sewer and water engineer.

"We were able to fill our storage tanks quickly late Thursday and two of our stations even quit pumping by 1 o'clock Friday morning.

Shortage Licked
"With a little luck, now, we'll have this water shortage licked this summer."

Nunn reported that a little more than 8,000,000 gallons of water were used during the day as the scattered showers—as well as a plea from city officials—brought less use of water on city lawns.

No rainfall was reported at either Midland Air Terminal or at the City Shops. But hard showers in the west section of the city turned Ohio Street into a miniature river.

Nunn also reported Friday that the connection with the new south-side interceptor sewer lines has brought relief to the overburdened sewers.

Overflow Stopped
Water in the manhole at Illinois and Terrell Streets, which was overflowing a week ago, had dropped several feet.

"In fact," reported Nunn, "we were able to see the bottom of the manhole Thursday afternoon for the first time in almost two years."

Father, Son Struck By Lightning Bolt

Two Berger men—a father and son—suffered injuries at 3:50 p.m. Thursday when they were struck by a bolt of lightning while working eight miles south of Spraberry.

The men—Frank B. Hill and his son, Frankie Pat Hill, 16—are employed by Vaughn-Taylor Construction Company of Odessa.

Frank B. Hill was admitted to Midland Memorial Hospital, reportedly suffering from burns and contusions. A report on his condition was not available at noon Friday.

Frankie Pat Hill received emergency treatment for burns on the left side, chest and abdomen, back, right leg and hips.

Shivers Assures Government Texas Drouth Is Real McCoy

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers Friday assured the federal government there's a drouth in Texas.

The assurance was wired Raymond M. Foley, administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. It followed the governor's earlier request to President Truman that Texas be declared a drouth disaster area.

"Your telegram of the 27th seems to indicate that you are not sure there is a drouth," Shivers told Foley in part. "Your Fort Worth office knows that Texas has had its most severe drouth in its history—particularly 1931 and 1932."

"Texas has no appropriations to cover such (that relief) program. If it had, no request would have been made."

There is no question about the existence of the drouth.

Official 'Termites' Deplored By Dulles

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles Friday attacked "termites" in government and declared a greater measure of patriotism is needed among all authorities as "we look into the awful abyss of atomic and hydrogen war."

In a speech to the national convention of Amvets, the Republican party foreign policy adviser declared:

"Termites can destroy the noble edifice that our forefathers built. They must be rooted out, and the loyalty which qualifies their successors must be something more positive than the negative virtue of not being a known member of the Communist Party."

IZZAT SO?—His expressive face taking on a dour expression, GOP Presidential Candidate Dwight Eisenhower, left, doesn't seem to take much stock in what Russel Sprague, Republican national committeeman for New York, is telling him as they confer at Eisenhower headquarters. Eisenhower said he would wage a hard-hitting campaign against Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson.

Weatherman Says Relief Is Temporary
By The Associated Press
"Why, it's almost like Fall," joked heat-weary Texans as temperatures dropped below the 100-degree mark in many points.

But the brief respite from the ultra-high temperatures, the Weather Bureau said Friday, was only temporary. More 100-plus days are on the way.

Only three reporting points had temperatures in excess of 100 degrees Thursday, but rain showers were just as rare. Four were reported—at Midland, Big Spring, the state's driest spot, and at Amarillo and Lubbock.

Only three reporting points had temperatures in excess of 100 degrees Thursday, but rain showers were just as rare. Four were reported—at Midland, Big Spring, the state's driest spot, and at Amarillo and Lubbock.

Really A Whopper
The Big Spring rain really was a whopper for that arid region, an inch.

Temperatures were expected back at their old high stand by mid-afternoon Friday, although Texans felt another "twinge of Autumn" in the air during the early morning hours.

The slight temperature drop was caused by a pressure system that switched the wind direction from south to east and bathed the state in cooler air from Louisiana, Arkansas and the Gulf of Mexico.

Negro Woman Kills Convair Technician

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Charles Victor Oden, 26, Convair electronics technician, was shot to death early Friday by a 45-year-old negro woman who said Oden was trying to enter her house.

Margaret Brown told police and reporters she fired one shot from a .38 caliber revolver after she was awakened about 2 a.m. by someone fumbling with the latch on her screen door.

The woman said she kept the gun near her since a burglary last week in the neighborhood. Her neighbors said there had been prowlers in the area recently.

The woman, a janitress for a railroad, said she had never seen Oden before. No charges have been filed. Oden was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Oden of Tyler. He came here from Tyler in March, 1951.

Lodge Assails Adlai's Stand On Filibusters

NEW YORK—(AP)—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Friday denounced as a "pious insincere piece of double talk" Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's statement Thursday night against congressional filibusters.

The Massachusetts senator, who was chairman of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's presidential campaign advisory committee, said the Democrats had controlled the Senate four years and had "done nothing about it."

There is no question about the need of a great many of these people. If these people who need relief are going to obtain any help, there should not be any further delay in this program."

Foley had wired Shivers for "certain representations to meet the criteria of the law, including a certification of the need for disaster assistance" and assurances of the expenditure of a reasonable amount of state or local funds for the same or similar purposes as the aid requested.

Shivers' request for disaster aid had been referred by President Truman to the Housing and Home Finance Agency for investigation and recommendation.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, negro congressman who once said he expected negroes to boycott the Democratic national ticket, said Friday after conferring with Gov. Adlai Stevenson, "We are now ready to back him to the limit."

HARTFORD, CONN.—(AP)—Gov. John Lodge Friday appointed William A. Purtell, a Republican, to the Senate vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Brian McMahon, Democrat. He will serve until next January.

Truman Cuts Import Levy On Crude Oil

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman Friday announced signing of a revised reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Venezuela.

It reduces the U. S. tariff on oil imports to 10 1/2 cents a barrel or less.

The agreement also includes a long list of Venezuela concessions.

The new American tariff duty on petroleum provides an import excise tax of five and one-quarter cents a barrel on imports of petroleum testing less than 25 degrees API (American Petroleum Institute) rating and for a rate of 10 1/2 cents a barrel on imports testing 25 degrees API or more.

Principal Exports
The previous rate was 10 1/2 cents on imports from all sources on a yearly quantity equal to five per cent of the amount of crude petroleum refined in the United States during the preceding year.

Under this arrangement, Venezuela will be the principal beneficiary of all the countries shipping oil to the United States. The South American nation is the principal oil exporter to the U. S.

The trade agreement was signed at Caracas, Venezuela, Thursday and will go into effect 30 days after instruments of ratification by the two governments have been exchanged, possibly next week.

Storm Mushrooms To Full Hurricane

MIAMI—(AP)—The erratic Atlantic storm developed into a full-fledged hurricane Friday as it swirled towards the Atlantic Coast with increasing speed and intensity.

Aircraft checking the course of the storm located the center near latitude 28.0 north and longitude 76.5 west, or about 200 miles east of Melbourne, Fla., at noon.

The Weather Bureau said the upper Florida East Coast, Georgia and South Carolina were in the path of the hurricane at present.

Storm warnings were displayed from Vero Beach, Fla., north to Wilmington, N. C.

"This storm offers a definite threat to the upper Florida peninsula, Georgia and South Carolina," said Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami Weather Bureau.

"Indications are it should come inland along the coast sometime before Saturday morning," he continued.

Council Accepts New City Budget

The new city budget, calling for expenditures totaling $2,389,740 during the fiscal year beginning October 1, was adopted formally by the City Council Thursday afternoon.

And there wasn't a peep from Timothy Taxpayer, the little fellow who pays the bill.

The budget, including expenditures of $1,355,295 from the general fund and $1,034,445 from the water fund, was approved after a public hearing had been ordered.

No one, except City Councilmen J. B. McCoy, Ray O. Howard and J. T. Baker, City Manager W. H. Oswald, City Secretary J. C. Hudson and one newspaper reporter, showed up for the hearing.

W. Ellis Chapel with the Rev. Jim Goins, pastor of the Bellview Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was to be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Born Dec. 26, 1947 at Clarksville, the child moved to Midland with his parents 18 months ago.

Survivors include the parents; a brother, Tommy H. Watley of Midland; two sisters, Mireen Ann and Glenda Pate Watley of Midland; a paternal grandparent, B. W. Watley of Midland, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Couch of Clarksville.

Mercy Plane Relay Rushes GI Toward Tragedy-Ridden Home

SALEM, MASS.—(AP)—A grim-faced Nebraska soldier stepped from a Coast Guard mercy plane Friday in a relay race home to his tragedy-stricken family.

T/Sgt. Charles R. Buggy, of Winnebago, Neb., stepped off the mercy plane at 9:23 a.m. a little more than three hours after he was plucked from the troop transport Gen. Alexander Patch 500 miles at sea.

The Patch was New York-bound from Bremerhaven, Germany.

The brusque, mustached soldier, a veteran of World War II who reported, already has lost one of his two children to polio.

His other child is ill of the same disease. His wife faces critical surgery for a spinal ailment.

Strike Called Mightiest Yet In Korea War

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—Warplanes from four Allied nations Friday hit Pyongyang, capital and largest city of Communist North Korea, the mightiest blow of the war.

Three waves of land and carrier-based fighter bombers bombed and strafed the big Red nerve center in a record 1,403 sorties, or individual flights, the U. S. Fifth Air Force and Navy said.

Black smoke poured from the factories, supply dumps and troop billets at the outskirts of Pyongyang, which was forewarned of the raids by radio and leaflets.

A returning UN pilot said the city "was blowing up all over."

Planes from three U. S. aircraft carriers off the east coast of Korea flew 210 sorties over the Red capital.

Battery Knocked Out
One big fat gun was shooting straight at me," said Capt. Rhonel E. McMan, Jasper, Texas, an F-84 Thunderjet pilot. He said his flight knocked out the battery.

Capt. Alvin C. Moreland, Plainview, Texas, a reconnaissance aviator, said: "The fighter-bombers looked like they were really hitting their targets right on the nose. One target I noticed was a roundhouse and it lurched in the railroad yard. It was smoking a lot and it looked pretty well clobbered."

Some 430 planes poured 4,000 gallons of flaming gasoline and 877 tons of high explosives on more than 40 Communist targets during the dawn-to-dusk raids. They sprayed 52,000 rounds of machine-gun bullets on the area, the Air Force said.

Friday's first wave of jet and prop-driven planes battered Communist anti-aircraft defenses, which pilots said threw up a heavy curtain of flak. Other waves concentrated on stockpiles, barracks, industries and airfields used to bolster the Communist war effort.

Pyongyang was struck the biggest previous single air blow of the war last July 11, when more than 500 fighter bombers and Superforts poured 1,400 tons of bombs on it during 1,200 sorties.

South African, South Korean and Australian planes joined U. S. Air Force, Marine and Navy pilots in this fifth attack on the Red capital since August 1.

In the morning smash alone, 450 fighter bombers strafed and hurled 100 tons of bombs at two airfields, a power plant, factories, anti-aircraft batteries, and some 40 other vital military targets at the outskirts of the city that had a population of 342,000 in 1942.

Four large explosions ripped the area after the bombs hit.

The Air Force said UN pilots destroyed 24 troops and supply buildings, damaged 30 buildings and destroyed or damaged 14 gun emplacements.

U. S. Shooting Stars and Thunderjets moved in first to knock out the anti-aircraft batteries surrounding the targets.

Then the fast jets unleashed their 1,000 pounders on the choice targets.

Allied air losses, if any, were not announced.

Lt. William W. Cook of Meckel, Texas, was credited with damaging one Russian-built MIG during Friday's air action. Previously, he had shared credit for destroying one Red jet.

The mud-caked ground front remained relatively quiet.

First 1952 Bale Brings $1.85 Pound

Midland County's first bale of cotton of the 1952 season brought its producer $1.85 a pound, or a total of $740 for the 400-pound bale, at an auction held Friday in front of The First National Bank.

The first bale was produced by Clark Moreland, 23-year-old dry-land farmer, whose farm is located nine miles south of Midland. The cotton was ginned last week by the Planters Gin.

Avery's Offer High
Avery Radio & Speedometer Service made the high offer of $1.85 after spirited bidding between representatives of numerous Midland business concerns had advanced the sale price from an original bid of 40 cents.

House Probers Charge Dilatory Tactics By Justice Department In War Frauds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House investigators Friday charged that the Justice Department has been "most dilatory" in some prosecutions and cited a Detroit war fraud case as a typical example.

Counsel Robert A. Collier laid before a judiciary subcommittee a number of documents dealing with the Norman E. Miller and Associates, Inc., case which came up in 1944 and was closed in 1951 without prosecution or recovery of government funds.

Collier said Miller was indicted July 14, 1944, on six counts alleging fraud in that he had "knowingly and fraudulently charged indirect time as direct time for his employees in performing under certain government contracts."

In addition, to the indictment, Collier said, "action was delayed by the government seeking recovery of $36,000."

"Despite the fact that in its early phases the case was described by the justice attorneys as 'one of the best' that the department had," Collier said "action was delayed through various devices for over six years at which time both suits were dropped."

Collier told the committee that its staff, after a review of numerous cases in Justice Department files, decided "it is to the best interests" that it demonstrate publicly how dilatory the department has been.

Collier said the documents will show:

1. The government asked dismissal of the indictment against Miller in October, 1950—six years after it was returned—because it had become "enfeebled with age."
2. The FBI and departmental attorneys recommended repeatedly that the case be disposed of.
3. The defendant repeatedly changed attorneys, and each of them appeared to have some influence with prosecuting officials.
4. The defendant occasionally refused to answer pertinent questions.

5. Inferences can be drawn that special consideration was given to defense attorneys, even to the extent of supplying them with an FBI investigation report on the case.

6. The defendant, at one point, offered to settle the case and actually deposited $7,500 with the department; the deposit was returned and he paid nothing on the $36,000 claim.
7. The defendant's net worth was estimated at some $400,000.
8. The defendant "blatantly" entertained witnesses who had appeared against him in the grand jury proceedings and "actually converted" at least one; and
9. That FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover complained of tactics by defense attorneys to delay prosecution, strongly implied at least attempted bribery, reported that political pressure was being used and urged an early disposition to avoid embarrassment to both the FBI and the department.

The committee turned to the war fraud phase of its inquiry after hearing charges that Justice Department officials interfered with a tax scandal probe in St. Louis early in 1951.

Pollo Hits Younger Victims Most Often, Texas Count Shows

By The Associated Press
Although polio hits all age groups, a survey made by Parkland Hospital in Dallas shows children between the ages of one and 14 far outnumber all other groups.

Statistics released Thursday by the hospital showed the following incidence by age groups at Parkland:

Under 12 months	11
1 to 14 years	178
15 to 20 years	20
Over 21 years	58

Of the 267 total only seven were Latin-Americans. Anglo-American patients numbered 231 and negroes were 30.

Four new cases of the disease were reported in Houston Thursday, three from within the city limits and one from Harris County. One of the new cases, a young negro girl, died Thursday before her ailment was diagnosed.

Houston's count for 1952's polio epidemic there was 380 city cases and 12 deaths, 238 Harris County cases and eight deaths, and 219 non-resident cases and 11 deaths.

Dallas also had four new cases, two reported Wednesday and two Thursday.

$900,000 Tax Bill Slashed $800,000 For Capone Cohort

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government, peeling the "secrecy" label from compromise tax settlement cases, says it accepted $100,000 from Jack (Greasy Thumb) Gusk as full payment for $900,000 it had claimed he owed in taxes and penalties.

The eleven-cent-on-the-dollar settlement by Gusk, once connected with Al Capone's organization in Chicago, was one of several disclosed Thursday by the Bureau of Internal Revenue as it put into effect a new "open book" policy.

Under the new policy, all cases settled on or after August 30 with taxpayers for less than the amount of taxes assessed will be made public. Those before that date will be disclosed upon specific requests naming the taxpayers involved.

The Bureau of Internal Revenue said Gusk was granted a compromise for three reasons: doubt as to whether he owed the full amount; inability of investigators to determine what he was worth; and "reduced earning power."

50 Men, Airplane, Radios, Hand Car Nab Fleeting Pair

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF.—(AP)—A 20th Century version of an old West mail train robbery was enacted Thursday in Little Horse Thief Canyon.

A posse of 50 sheriff's deputies grimly set out after two men seen tossing mail sacks off a train. Equipped with walkie-talkie radios, the posse was directed by a plane overhead. Two deputies rode a railroad hand car up and down the Santa Fe tracks.

When the law flushed its quarry, the two unarmed men offered no resistance. Based on suspicion of mail theft were W. H. Cox, 53, of Houston, Texas, and Charles May, 46, of Salt Lake City.

Their loot: three mail sacks containing $300 worth of clothing and other parcels.

By a 3-2 vote, county commissioners voted to relieve Gragg of his $10,560-a-year job effective immediately. R. H. Clinger, Gragg's first assistant, was named to succeed Gragg temporarily.

400 Eat Cold Watermelon At C. Of C. Teacher Party

Delicious watermelon, excellent entertainment and good fellowship combined Thursday night to make the annual Chamber of Commerce-sponsored "Teachers Get-Acquainted Party" one of the most successful in history.

The welcome moisture of the late afternoon caused the location of the event to be shifted from Memorial Stadium to the Midland High School Gymnasium, but the one seemed no mind. Attendance was estimated at more than 400 men, women and children.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing served as master of ceremonies for the evening's festivities. He welcomed the teachers and introduced administrative staff members and principals of the public schools, after conducting a brief get-acquainted feature.

More than 100 of the teachers who attended the event are new to the school system here, but they got acquainted with other Midlanders in quick order Thursday night.

'No Sale' Says Andrews Of TV; It's Too Busy Selling Products

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

On the Record: Dana Andrews, answering the "Why don't you try TV?" question:

"Television doesn't have dignity. The commercials are degrading. I'll do television when they find a way of making people at home pay for it and eliminate the commercials. It's not the actor's business to sell commercial products. He's only supposed to sell himself, the story and his acting."

And popcorn?

Clark Gable, on the subject of a fifth matrimonial try:

"Marriage? When my divorce is final, I shall marry again. If I fall in love, of course. I am still convinced that marriage is a wonderful thing."

Loretta Young, about movie plots:

"What I'm looking for is an important love story. But people in Hollywood are afraid of being emotional and sentimental these days. They forget that pictures like 'The Big Parade,' 'Seventh Heaven,' 'Only Yesterday' and 'Back Street' were essentially love stories and among the greatest films ever turned out in Hollywood."

Gene Tierney, on living:

"I'd like to swim around in a pool like Joan Crawford, and stretch out a hand for a glass of champagne—that's living."

Olivia de Havilland, about her longtime feud with sister Joan Fontaine:

"Nothing can ever make it a successful relationship. And it's too bad something special has to be made of it, because feuds are commonplace in families. Why, I know a newspaper man who can't stand his brother."

All Or Nothing
Steve Crane, ex-husband of Lana Turner, about his forthcoming divorce from French star Martine Carol:

"She refused to come to Hollywood, as I asked her to, and Hollywood's where I make my living. She wanted me to join her in Paris. She was making a lot of money and I wouldn't have to worry, she said. But I couldn't agree to that. I was Mr. Turner in Hollywood once. I don't want to be Mr. Carol in Paris."

Zsa Zsa Gabor, on her career:

"I'm a born woman of leisure. If I can't become a big star then I will have to marry a millionaire. But I will become a big star. I'm studying like a dog."

Robert Newton, about his old British movie on TV:

"I don't mind, but my bride does. I look so young in those pictures. It breaks her heart to look at me as I used to be."

Boris Karloff, on his longevity as a Hollywood actor:

"I'm Hollywood's oldest living inhabitant. Douglas Fairbanks used me as the ninth row in 'His Majesty the American.' I think that was in 1918. But I didn't get lucky as an actor until 1930."

Diana Lynn, on best sides in TV:

"Of course I insist on playing to the camera with the best side of my face. I've done it in pictures—as what actress hasn't?—and I do it in TV plays. Let's face it, people's faces are unweary. One side photographs better than another."

"It's A Good Thing"
Anne Baxter, on career separations:

"I believe in vacations from marriage. Not vacations from each other, mind you, but vacations from marriage. It's a good thing."

Jeff Chandler, on reports that he's an unhappy actor:

"People put things sayings in my mouth. I'm not unhappy with my movie roles. I'm not unhappy period. I want more loot, that's all."

Tyrone Power, on the subject of his free-lance status after being under contract for 14 years:

"It's a little frightening at first. Everything's been done for you before."

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hale, 707 North Loraine Street, are pictured at the reception held at the Midland Country Club last week observing their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Hosts were the honorees' sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Cowden and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Nelson. The Hales were married in Killen on August 20, 1902.

The MATURE PARENT

We Can't Teach Our Children Goodness Through Sheer Force

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Once, in an orphanage, there lived a little girl. The orphanage was run by an overworked woman who was convinced that you had to force children to do good things all the time to prevent them from rushing off and doing bad ones.

This suspiciousness made a deep impression on the little girl. She learned to get along, with it by thinking about badness constantly and looking for it everywhere. Since this was praised as love for goodness, the little girl thought of herself as most virtuous and conscientious.

When she grew up and married, this idea of herself made her a difficult wife. Later, it made her a difficult mother.

Her daughter Selma particularly was resentful of her mother's morbid and sticky suspicions. By the time she was in her mid-teens, it had made Selma so tense that she could not, for instance, calmly answer a charge that she had been misbehaving in a dark movie theater with a boy. She had to answer with great excitement and defiance.

One night Selma remained late at a movie for the picture's second showing. Her mother appeared at the end of the aisle and made a scene in front of Selma's friends, forcing her to leave. The next day Selma ran away from home and got into the exact kind of trouble which had so often been suggested to her.

"The idea that we have to force goodness upon children is a dangerous one for us to entertain. Although we have to teach them to trust truth-telling, obey the law and exert self-control, we cannot teach these things through sheer force. We should stop trying to."

We make the mistake of trying to become our ideas of goodness are not ours, but have come to us second-hand. Having accepted these ideas without genuine feeling for them, we so resent having to conform to them ourselves that we cannot imagine anyone else conforming to them without force.

Why else do we rant and rage at Billy when we find he has stolen a coin from our purse?

If honesty is a quality we must treasure it for the inward clearness and peace it has given us. We are very conscious of its relation to our peace and disburse fear and anger at Billy as inappropriate ways to sell him the honesty we are so grateful to.

But if it is just a second-hand idea we have accepted without allowing it to penetrate the heart, if we just give it lip-service, then of course we have no true and quiet conviction to make it real and comfortable and good to our little boy.

Children are given to us to help free us from second-hand ideas of good and evil, so that we can learn to move more freely and happily through the world around us.

Dr. Karl Menninger is one of our country's leading psychiatrists. He writes: "The time will surely come when the supposed virtues of conscientiousness will be more carefully scrutinized and the superiority of intelligence over blind conscience more generally recognized."

There are no age groups to God. He does not bypass us or the children when He bestows the capacity for intelligent goodness. It is in them. All we have to do is nourish it.

Teen-Agers' Aid To Church Shows They're Growing Up

A group of teen-agers in one Southern city isn't having any trouble figuring out what to do with their time this summer.

They have organized themselves into an employment service. They assure their would-be employers they will tackle any kind of job from baby-sitting to washing automobiles. And every cent they earn is being turned over to the building fund of their church.

In an age when teen-agers are regarded as a national problem, with everyone wondering how to keep them entertained wholesomely, how to keep them out of mischief, how to make them feel "secure," it is good to hear of a story like this.

Evidently these teen-agers' elders have used a different approach. The offer to help the church was the young people's own idea, but they must have been encouraged to believe that they were adult enough to assume responsibility, capable enough to get out and earn money and unselfish enough to be willing to work for something besides their own wants.

That is the kind of encouragement teen-agers desperately need. They have plenty to give—so why should we encourage them just to expect and to take?

That group will grow up fast this summer. What they contribute to a church building fund will be only a

Fields Gives Marriage Success Secret: Get Wife Like Blossom

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

When a husband admits he's a heel, that's news.

But that's the confession of Benny Fields, famous song-and-dance man who for 30 years has been billed in both public and private life as the husband of Blossom Seely.

The noted husband and wife team, who panicked the customers in the dizzy 20's and 30's are reliving their jam-age youth with a younger team playing their own life story in the soon-to-be-released Paramount movie, "Somebody Loves Me."

Betty Hutton plays Blossom in the film, and Ralph Meeker plays Benny—and the whole thing is a love story about two people who managed to stick together through the ups and downs of the two-day, to surmount professional jealousy and to wind up being immortalized in celluloid. Says Fields:

"It's really something, seeing somebody else play your own life story. Usually you are angels before they get around to it."

But as to the great confession—

"Blossom was the biggest star in vaudeville when she discovered me while slumming one night in Chicago, singing and dancing with a trio. She started promoting me right then, and she's been at it ever since."

"I was a real heel. I told her I was marrying her for what she could do for me, and not because I loved her—and it didn't even faze her."

"She built me up all the time.

It's Cool In Midland

Yes, the weather has been somewhat warm in Midland, Texas, but consider, if you will, the really hot weather experienced in other parts of the Lone Star State.

Down Fort Worth way, for instance, 100-degree or higher temperatures have been recorded on more than 40 days this summer, the most for any one year there.

A similar situation exists at Dallas—and Tuesday's 110-degree temperature at Seymour, up Wichita Falls way, makes the weather seem delightful here.

Why, the thermometer has not reached 100 degrees at Midland since August 16, and only eight days this month has the temperature reached that mark. Pretty remarkable, isn't it?

One day earlier this week, The Associated Press reported the following temperature readings from over the state:

106 at Childress; 104 at Abilene and Mineral Wells; 103 at Fort Worth and Alice; 102 at Del Rio and Junction; 101 at College Station; and an even 100 at Dallas, Laredo and San Angelo.

And on that particular day the mercury in the thermometers at Presidio and Houston must have jumped out all over the place. But it was comparatively cool in this headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire.

Pity the people who live and sweater in the really hot spots of the state.

The humidity here also tends to make the climate even more pleasant. We are told Midland has a humidity of 30 to 40 per cent, whereas the humidity in the coastal areas reaches 70 to 80 per cent, resulting in dampness and more inconvenience from the heat.

Some Midlanders perhaps may not realize just what a favorable spot they are in from a climatic standpoint.

Just last week a comparative newcomer to this city, Stephen B. Rice, said Midland may be overlooking a good bet in its potentiality as a leading health resort of the Southwest.

The Chamber of Commerce perhaps would do well to launch a campaign to tell the nation about Midland's healthful and delightful year-round climate. We never have talked enough about it.

Certainly, Midland has been one of Texas' coolest spots during the month of August, and residents of many of the hot spots doubtless would enjoy spending even a few days with us here in cool Midland.

Now, don't you feel more comfortable?

We wouldn't mind fishermen telling tall tales if they'd just keep 'em short.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being James V. Bennett, director, Bureau of Prisons.)

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) James V. Bennett says: Obsolete prisons and inadequate personnel incite riots; Morale and rehabilitation woefully neglected; Youth conservation boards could have potential felons.

WASHINGTON—Do you remember, Drew, when the embattled prisoners in New Jersey demanded that you be brought into the prison so they could tell you their grievances? You couldn't go, as I remember it, for some reason not important now.

But it is significant that they called you to present their problems in your column. As a matter of fact, in every one of the prison riots we have been having recently, the men insisted upon telling their story directly to a newspaperman like yourself.

They wanted to get their story clearly before the public. Mostly this was because they think that ordinary folks don't understand their problems and they have great confidence in the power of the press to remedy some of the conditions and problems they face.

Prisons Obsolete Now what are the facts? Most American prisons are obsolete masonry pieces built years ago and added to from time to time.

Life Means Is it any wonder that such prisons fail to reform two out of three prisoners? In some states up to 75 per cent of the men receive previous prison terms.

Idleness, lack of work and constructive employment, is one of the greatest handicaps to preventing turbulence and maintaining order. Most prisons are vast, idle houses with the men milling aimlessly about crowded prison yards or in the double-decked and overcrowded dormitories.

Prisoners Need Psychiatrists But worse than these archaic millstones about the neck of prison administrators is the failure to provide adequate and decently paid personnel. Less than 10 per cent of the prisons have full-time psychiatrists.

So They Say With their 1,000,000-man army, the Reds are in readiness to wait out the war, come armistice or no armistice.

Gen. Dwight Eisenhower intends to unite all elements of the Republican Party. There are going to be no grudges.

Let those misguided leaders of unabled people who may contemplate aggression weigh well the fact that they cannot escape the devastating power of this mighty weapon.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Good defense sometimes calls for strong muscles around the heart. You may have to take risks to defeat the contract; and you'll get nowhere if you lack the courage to take those risks.

West very properly opened a trump, East put up the king and South won with the ace. Declarer went after the diamonds by laying down the ace, and continued with a small diamond.

West looked apprehensively at dummy's ten of diamonds, remembering that South had bid the suit.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, East, and West cards and play sequence.

He then put up the queen of diamonds for fear that he would otherwise lose the trick. This was a fatal error.

South was able to win the trump return and lead the nine of diamonds through West. Even though West played a low diamond without hesitation, he couldn't get away with it.

It was now easy to ruff a diamond in dummy, discard a spade on the ace of hearts, and lead a spade towards the king. South was sure to make his king of spades, and could regain the lead in time to draw the last trump.

West should have had the courage to play low on the second round of diamonds instead of coming up with the queen. If East could not win the trick.

Actually, East would have won with the jack of diamonds and would have returned a second trump. Now dummy would have only one trump to take care of two losing diamonds.

West would make a second diamond trick in addition to the ace of spades.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: North East South West 1 Heart Pass 2 Diamonds Pass 2 Hearts Pass

Q—You, South, hold: Spades 8-4, Hearts Q-J-5-3, Diamonds A-K-J-8-4, Clubs 7-2. What do you do?

A—Bid four hearts. This shows a hand that is good for a game at hearts even if West has a minimum opening bid. It is most unlikely that North can even suggest a slam at this point in view of his simple rebid of two hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-5-4, Hearts 5-3, Diamonds A-K-J-8-4, Clubs Q-7-3. What do you do?

"Oh, that's okay. I've got to get on home—full day tomorrow. Hope I didn't bend your ear too much with my troubles."

He got out of the car and stood awkwardly leaning in the door. "Your trouble?" he sighed.

"They're in the past; you just have a bad time thinking about them. But me! Mine are—I can't tell you."

He paused, his face glistening with raindrops in the pallid light of the street lamp. "Come on up anyway. Right now. I'll show you what I mean. You'll find out anyhow."

Unusually, I followed him up the steps and through the front door. We climbed a flight of dusty stairs and he cautiously opened a door on the second floor. It was dark inside.

"Ida?" he called. "You home? We got company, Ida."

No response, so we shuffled in. He fumbled his way to the center of the room and reached for a cord that snapped on a bulb hanging from the ceiling.

A DOUBLE "A" its gray sheets and pillow, clawed into jumbled piles, jutted out from one wall. A bedside table was cluttered with full ashtrays, medicine bottles, movie magazines, nail polish with the cap left off, hobby pins, used tissues—I dragged my eye away.

FTC's Oil Case May Disrupt Foreign Policy In Middle East

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The U. S. government's foreign policy and its international defense policy face serious embarrassment as a result of Federal Trade Commission and Department of Justice investigations into an alleged world oil cartel, or monopolistic agreement.

Center of focus in this case is the Middle East. This area now known as Iran, Iraq and Saudi Arabia today contains one of the world's largest proved oil reserves. It also is one of the world's most sensitive political spots.

This area is important to the United States because all the oil produced here to supply non-Communist Europe and Asia relieves by that much the demand for petroleum products of the western hemisphere.

The two major European producers in this area are Anglo-Iranian Oil and Royal Dutch Shell. Principal American companies in this area now include Standard Oil of New Jersey, Socony-Vacuum, Arabian-American (which is owned jointly by Texas Company, Standard Oil of California, and Standard Oil of New Jersey), Gulf Oil (which shares concession with Anglo-Iranian) and Bahrain Petroleum. These are the companies which now are on the FTC-Judicial Department grill.

When the government of Iran first seized the Anglo-Iranian properties with their world's largest refinery at Abadan, on the Persian Gulf, it completely disrupted the Old World's petroleum supplies. The shortages could be made up only from the western hemisphere.

Voluntary Agreement To accomplish this the Petroleum Administration for Defense, operating under Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, organized a voluntary agreement among all U. S. oil companies to work together.

The purpose of the voluntary agreement was to permit the oil companies to give the government information on all oil stocks—where they were and how much they amounted to, week by week.

Then, to supplement the voluntary agreement, what was known as "Plan of Action No. 1" was put into effect by PAD—the Petroleum Administration for Defense. The Plan of Action permitted the oil companies to pool their resources, pool their tankers, exchange cargoes of oil and petroleum products and fill each others' orders, all over the world.

This was done to relieve the shortage caused by the loss of Iranian production. It made the American "cartel" all the more effective. But this again was done with Department of Justice approval, although it was contrary to the anti-trust laws.

It was stipulated, however, that this Plan of Action was to be limited only to the Iranian crisis. Last month it was decided this crisis was ended. Plan of Action No. 1 therefore was dissolved. The oil companies were turned loose to handle their world trade as full competitors under the free enterprise system and the usual restrictions of the anti-trust laws.

The original voluntary agreement remains in effect, however. Department of State, Department of Defense, Department of Interior and the Petroleum Administration all

DAVID CARLSON nodded as he listened to me talk about breaking up with Kathy. "At least you didn't get married. You wouldn't be happy with a mama's girl like she was, anyhow. Me, now..."

He broke off, sipping coffee, thoughtfully. "Well, my state is so messed up you can hardly see it. I've been married five years now."

My jaw sagged. "I didn't realize," I faltered. "You never spend your evenings—"

"Yeah, I know what you mean. After we'd done the dishes and had seconds of coffee, I said 'I run him home in the car, since the rain looks as though it were settling in for the night.'"

So we set out, the rain pattering metallicly on the roof of the car. David fell into a taut silence, broken only by occasional street directions. I tried to get some music on the radio to take the edge off things, but static blotted out the attempt, so I gave up, and we drove through the glistening streets.

In a congested district in an old part of town, full of boarding houses and semi-industrial buildings, David finally said, "This is it. Second house on the right."

It was a three-story frame building, long devoid of paint, and it looked heavily on a lot that barely fitted it. A strip of weeds about two feet wide separated it from the littered sidewalk. Two dripping dogs had taken refuge under the broken-down wood steps. They began barking unpleasantly. David turned to me hesitantly,

"That's Ida for you; never puts the butter away. No wonder we go 'squirreled.'"

"There was a cabinet with a collection of tin shells and snuffboxes on its shelves. Also it was a tinted photograph of a pretty girl, with long fluffy brown hair, bold eyes and a wide, toothy smile."

"Your wife?" I asked. "Yeah, that's Ida all right. About five or six years ago. She don't look much like this now. Gained forty-five pounds."

"How did she happen to gain so much weight?" "Oh, I don't know. Maybe because she eats all the time, and drinks so much beer. But she blames on me. Right after we got married—bang, she starts with a baby. I didn't much banker for kids—I was just 18 then—but here she was with one on the way 'co I took on like I thought it was wonderful. Well, she lost it. I don't know what went wrong. Anyway, she started eating like crazy; said she had to build herself up. I told her she looked terrible, and she starts crying and tells me it's my fault, and if I hadn't been so anxious for kids she wouldn't be in."

"Why couldn't you live with your parents for awhile, until the sort of got back to, uh—normal?" "My dad's sick all the time, and my mom works, and her sister lives with them. They get no sleep. Things have been worse than ever lately, because Ida thinks I've got another woman. I told her about you, but at first she said I was lying."

I LEAPED up. "I'm sorry, David. I didn't mean to interfere in your life." (But I had meant "Don't talk crazy. I would have told you about this," I waved his hand, "long ago but I thought you'd be ashamed of me to ever invite me back again.") "I'm not like that, am I?" I said. He gripped my hand tightly. "You mean, this dump don't make any difference?" "Not a bit. I'll go now. Drop by tomorrow."

As I drove home, I realized the innumerable pitfalls there were in this game of playing God. (To Be Continued)

Fredericksburg is inhabited by descendants of settlers from Germany and the inhabitants are fond of the foaming brew. A local option election was being held and the teller called out, "Vet, vet, vet, vet—dry."

The presiding judge said, "They've dot run out; he's drunk."

Ike Pens Fighting Words To Open Crusade In Dixie

NEW YORK —(AP)— Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower closed his office door to visitors Friday to write speeches that an aide hinted would produce the "fireworks" his supporters have demanded.

The Republican presidential candidate intended to closet himself with his staff for three straight days to concentrate on addresses he will deliver on a Southern trip starting Tuesday.

This attention on what to say and how to say it followed complaints from some of his most ardent admirers that his campaigning so far had been too soft.

A stream of callers at his headquarters Thursday told newsmen the general was pacing his White House bid ably, building it up gradually to reach a peak just before election rather than firing his heavy ammunition now.

But with his Democratic rival, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, throwing increasingly sharp barbs in the general's direction, James Hagerity, Eisenhower's press secretary, told reporters the GOP candidate might explode some fireworks on his Southern swing.

Previously, he had not been slated to start his oratorical slugging until his September 4 Philadelphia speech, at the earliest.

The Polish Vote

The general, as he embarked on a literary task, was buoyed by word that he could expect a heavy share of votes from millions of Americans of Polish descent.

Five leaders of Polish organizations conferred with him at his Hotel Commodore headquarters and later told newsmen they had informed him they could not support the Democratic Party.

"At Yale, President Roosevelt said Poland down the river the same as he did China," said Frank Waseter, president of the New York Division of the six-million-member Polish-American Congress.

"Our people can't feel sympathetic to a party that made those things possible," Waseter said.

Waseter said the leaders who visited Eisenhower spoke as individuals, but they believed they echoed a sentiment of Polish-Americans generally that the Democratic Party "betrayed Poland."

In Ike's Camp

The spokesman said Charles Rozmarek of Chicago, national president of the congress, supported President Roosevelt in 1944, but that he backed Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate, in 1948, and that he was in the Eisenhower camp this year.

Peter Yolles, editor of New York's Polish-language Nowy Swiat, said Eisenhower repeated to the delegation the substance of his American Legion speech in which the general called for eventual freedom for Soviet satellite countries.

Yolles said the delegation told Eisenhower of "the need for freeing Poland from Soviet enslavement" but "we did not tell him we thought it desirable to go to war."

The editor said Poles of American descent believed Polish freedom could be achieved by "peaceful progressive penetration."

Spyria Skouras, president of 20th Century-Fox Film Corporation, visited Eisenhower and said, "I came to give encouragement because some people try to criticize the life out of him."

Ask Anybody

"With the masses, he is the most popular man the Republicans ever had," said Skouras. "Ask any taxi driver. Ask the poor people. Don't ask snobs and stuffed shirts."

The movie magnate said Eisenhower was "the best-equipped man to lead the country and, naturally, the free world."

Skouras said Eisenhower was "conducting his campaign admirably, because he is building it up gradually."

This view was expressed also by a number of women who conferred with the general.

Mrs. Charles Weis, Jr., of Rochester, N. Y., hostess at a luncheon for 50 women Republican leaders from 11 Eastern states, said it would be a mistake to bring the campaign to a high pitch now and attempt to keep it at that level for two months.

"It is much better," she said, "to start slowly and work up to a crescendo as election day nears."

A reporter asked whether the women visitors thought Eisenhower would have sex appeal for the housewife vote.

"I didn't know politics was particularly sexy," replied the dignified upstate leader. She said the general's personality, sincerity and integrity gave him his appeal to women.

REASSIGNED—Jacob A. Malik, left, voice of the Soviet Union at United Nations four years, will leave his post within two weeks and will be replaced by Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, right. Zorin supervised the 1948 Communist coup in Czechoslovakia. Malik will return to Moscow for rest and assignment.

Cost Of Food Hits Highest Figure In History Of U.S.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Mid August retail food prices, the government's Bureau of Labor Statistics reports, were the highest in U. S. history.

During the first half of this month the bureau's index went up almost one per cent to 338.4 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

On the basis of figures collected in eight cities, the bureau said food costs now are about 16 per cent higher than when the Korean War began in June, 1950.

In another economic development, the government Thursday suspended price controls on radios, television sets, record players, carpets and bedding. The latter includes studio couches, daybeds, mattresses, springs and pillows.

Price controls were abolished on vitrified chinaware, silverware and jewelry, and hand-made household glassware.

Retiring Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said relaxations "do not mean abandonment of controls in any area where controls are needed."

But his successor, T. H. E. Woods, said he will ask President Truman to do away with all controls if he finds, on a forthcoming tour of the country, that the people don't want them. Woods takes over from Arnall as price boss next week.

Road Accident Kills Balmorhea Resident

PECOS — Francisco Matia, 58, of Balmorhea, was injured fatally Thursday afternoon when his car swerved from the highway and back to the pavement, where it overturned twice, crushing his skull.

Operator of a Balmorhea cafe, Matia was traveling alone. Highway Patrolman J. Rengland said no explanation was available for the cause of the accident, which occurred 18 miles south of Pecos.

Witnesses said Matia was traveling at a moderate speed.

Panic From Blaze Kills 16 Workers

IZMIR, TURKEY —(AP)— A panicky stampede from a tobacco factory fire Thursday night killed 16 women workers and severely injured 37 others. About 100 workers were hurt less seriously.

Stairs and walls that collapsed in the crush accounted for most of the casualties.

Quirino Takes Over In Locust Campaign

MANILA —(AP)— President Elpidio Quirino Friday took personal control of the government's campaign against swarms of locusts attacking crops in the Southern Philippines.

A spokesman said the president was "greatly dissatisfied with the manner in which the anti-locust campaign has been conducted."

NO BIKINIS FOR MISSUS

ASBURY PARK, N. J. —(AP)— Scanty bathing suits are out for wedded beauties entered in the finals of the fourteenth annual Mrs. America contest on September 7.

While the contestants will be judged on their charms as well as home making ability, Bikini type suits have been taboed, the committee announced Friday.

The committee said that although the contest's claim is that married women are prettier than single girls, contestants have been warned not to go too far out on the limb to prove it.

SCHOOL + PLAYGROUND

Here in America almost every school has a playground. Our American system of public education recognizes the fact that many valuable lessons can be learned better on the playground than in the classroom.

America's churches also have an outstanding system of public education—religious education. And it, too, recognizes the "playground principle."

The playgrounds of our system of religious education reach many miles beyond our churches. They consist of the homes, farms, factories, and offices of the community—every place where boys and girls and men and women have opportunity to practice their Christian religion.

Common sense tells us that playgrounds without schools could not sustain the intellectual level of America. Nor can a busy week—without a Sunday in Church—sustain the spiritual alertness and moral character of individuals.

Attend Church Sunday. Live Your Faith daily!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOUSE DIVIDED A LA SOLOMON

SAN RAFAEL, CALIF. —(P)—The case of the contractor who built a house on the wrong lot has been settled here. But it took a court to do it. The lot owner, Mrs. Noreen Outsen, had claimed locks on the doors and changed the $11,000 house as her own. Superior Judge N. Charles Brunsford — told by the contracting firm of Galther and Roe that it had all been a horrible mistake—ordered both the house and the lot sold. From the sale price, he ruled, $2,000 will go to Mrs. Outsen for the lot. The rest goes to the contractors.

Mississippi Glider Cracks World Mark

GRAND PRAIRIE —(P)— Dick Johnson, Starkville, Miss., set another world record at the National Soaring Meet here Thursday but he couldn't regain the lead in total points won. Scores for the top three leaders Friday stood: Bill Ivano, San Diego, Calif., 2,336 points; Bill Coverdale, Chattanooga, Tenn., 2,276 and Johnson, 2,239. Thursday, Johnson, the defending champion, pushed his motorless sailplane over a triangular 80-mile course in 1:29. He set an earlier world record Sunday of 1:37 over the same distance.

Air Force Chops 13 Million Dollars Off Texas Projects

WASHINGTON—(P)—Texas military installations will lose almost $13,000,000 in planned construction under a change announced Thursday by the Air Force.

The Air Force told the government operations subcommittee of the House Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments that it was reducing its dormitory construction program in the continental United States by 42,749 spaces. The estimated loss to Texas bases will be $12,946,000.

Last June the subcommittee told the Air Force that about 30 per cent of the planned construction of airman's housing was not needed. The group said the Air Force was underestimating the number of rental units available for airmen and their families in communities near Air Force installations.

The committee said the construction program would be reduced by the amounts shown, at the following points: Bryan Air Force Base, $200,000; Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, $3,500,000; James Connally Air Force Base, Waco, $1,800,000; Foster Air Force Base, Victoria, $285,000; Harlingen Air Force Base, $2,010,000; Laredo Air Force Base, $800,000; Laughlin Air Force Base, Del Rio, $900,000; Reese Air Force Base, Lubbock, $1,400,000; Tye Air Force Base, Abilene, $3,200,000.

Marine Volunteer Aviators Repulse 'Attacks' On Dallas

DALLAS —(P)—Spectacular day and night interception of mock enemy planes trying to reach Dallas has been demonstrated here for almost a week, Maj. William Sparkman, Jr., said Friday.

Sparkman is commanding officer of a Marine Corps radar squadron directing interception of the "enemy" planes in Marine Corps maneuvers here. He said the night interceptions are the first such problems ever flown by Marine Corps Reservists.

Planes normally used for night "intercept work," Sparkman explained, are equipped with radar gear to warn the pilot when his craft is approached by another plane. "But the pilots of the fighter planes being used for the night problems here," Sparkman said, "are relying on the accuracy of ground radar equipment and skill of the personnel to prevent collisions."

Sparkman said because of the danger involved, Maj. William E. Crowe, commanding officer of the Marine Air Detachment at Dallas Naval Air Station, restricted the night flying to volunteers.

In Warning Network Sparkman said his squadron is working also as a unit in the radar warning network covering this section of the United States. He is an instructor at East Texas State Teachers College in civilian life. Fighter planes from two squadrons of Marine Reservists here are scheduled to leave for New Orleans, La., Sunday where they will support ground aggressor forces out of Camp Polk, La., in demonstrations of Marine Corps-developed artillery practices, Sparkman said. He said most of the officers and enlisted men of the three Marine Reserve squadrons here are Korean veterans who were called to active duty with the Marine Corps in 1950 and were released as late as June 1952. He said problems carried out on the maneuvers as well as possible the same as used in combat in Korea.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail Half A Loaf

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, and Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, were fishing together in the Whispering River. "The Huffen is hungry, he is," said the Huffen.

"I'm hungry too," said Mugwump, and so he opened the sack to divide their lunch. "Oh-oh," said Mugwump.

"Huffen!" asked the Huffen. "You picked up the wrong sack. The sack with our lunch is back home at your hollow tree house."

"I must have made a mistake, I did," said the Huffen. Mugwump agreed. Why, there was nothing to eat in the sack that they had. Nothing but an old pair of pants, and nobody wants to eat an old pair of pants. Oh, but there was a little loaf of bread in one of the pockets!

"The Huffen opened up a knife and cut the bread in two pieces, all for them both to eat right then and there.

"One of the pieces is bigger than the other," said Mugwump. "Mugwump," said the Huffen, "Little friend, little monkey, little pal—you take your piece first."

But Mugwump said: "Huffen, old friend, old pal, old wolf—you take your piece first."

"You do it first," said the Huffen, because he thought that Mugwump, in order to be polite, would surely take the smaller piece.

And so Mugwump went ahead first. He took one of the pieces of bread. But he didn't take the smaller piece. Oh no! He took the one that was bigger.

"Hey! Wait!" cried the Huffen. "If I had gone first, I would have taken the smaller."

"Sure, Huffen," said Mugwump. "You would have taken the smaller piece. But what are you fussing about? The smaller piece is the one you got."

"Huh?" asked the Huffen. And so Mugwump said again that the smaller piece is the one he had left for the Huffen, and so what was the Huffen fussing about? Well, the Huffen didn't know, but he did know he ought to eat the other piece of bread in a hurry before a someone-smarter-than-his was at it.

"Good bread," said the Huffen. "Sure," said Mugwump. Happy day!

Aunt Sally Peters is having a hard time getting her young nephews and nieces to save dimes as she thinks they should. They argue that if a dollar is worth only fifty cents these days, then they lose fifty cents every time they save a dollar.

"Huh?" asked the Huffen. And so Mugwump said again that the smaller piece is the one he had left for the Huffen, and so what was the Huffen fussing about? Well, the Huffen didn't know, but he did know he ought to eat the other piece of bread in a hurry before a someone-smarter-than-his was at it.

Texan Sam Rayburn Rallies Around Stevenson's Banner

DALLAS—(AP)—Speaker Sam Rayburn and U. S. Senator Lyndon B. Johnson rallied around the Democratic banner of Adlai Stevenson Friday. Others of their fellow Texans did too.

But the cry to put Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower's name on the Texas Democratic ticket continued.

Johnson and Rayburn announced Thursday their advocacy of Stevenson's Democratic presidential bid in the face of opposing stands by Gov. Allan Shivers and Attorney General Price Daniel, Democratic nominees for U. S. senator to succeed Tom Connally.

Both Shivers and Daniel have expressed personal opposition to Stevenson's candidacy because the Illinois governor said he agreed with President Truman in advocating federal ownership of the supposedly oil-rich offshore Tidelands.

Johnson said that while he did not agree with Stevenson's stand for federal ownership of the Tidelands, he would back the nominee of the National Democratic Party, Rayburn, at his home in Bonham said, "I endorse Senator Johnson's statement fully."

Two other veteran Democrats, Representative Lindley Beekworth of Gladewater and John D. Calhoun, former State Democratic Executive Committee chairman, also came out for Stevenson.

Beekworth, defeated this summer by Daniel for Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate, called on President Truman to announce his loyalty to the national Democratic presidential nominee.

Calhoun, a widely known oil man, said he wanted Texas to retain her Tidelands but that he did not trust the Republicans to do the job. He urged Texas to put the Democratic candidates in one column and the Republicans in another to "let the people decide who they will support."

A personal friend of the governor's, Calhoun said Shivers was a man of "great character and strong integrity," and thought he would stick by loyalty statements Shivers made at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

The oil man noted that at the convention Shivers "without reservations" pledged his support in getting the nominee's name on the general election ballot.

"I think he obligated himself," said Calhoun.

Tribe Sweeps Duster Set, Shift To San Angelo Next

Last Ditch Vernon Rally Falls Short

The Midland Indians took off for San Angelo Friday for a three-game series with the San Angelo Colts after an ultra-successful home stand which saw them sweep six straight games, three from the Sweetwater Braves and three from the Vernon Dusters.

By far the hottest club in the League, the Indians have won 26 out of their last 32 ball games since Manager Jay Haney took over on July 27.

Thursday night, the Tribe wrapped up the series with the basement-dwelling Duster when Center Fielder Cahlan Dinkel made a spectacular catch against the right center field fence to cut short a Vernon rally and give the Tribe a 6-5 decision.

Trailing, 6-4, going into the ninth, the Dusters started a rally with two away which plated one run and had the tying run on second.

Gehlsen Starts
Goldy Gehlsen started the uprising for the visitors when he singled sharply to right field for his third hit of the night. Ed Bucynski kept the Duster's thin hopes alive by doubling Gehlsen home.

Then husk, Joe Niedson, the Vernon catcher who packs a lot of wallop in his bat, stepped to the plate and slammed the ball against the right center field fence. But Dinkel backed up against the barrier to pull the ball down and end the game.

As in previous games, the Dusters lost little time in running up a lead, tallying two runs in the first inning. They added to their margin with single runs in the second and fourth innings.

However, the visitors were unable to stand properly and watched the Tribe whisk away at their lead.

Midland scored a single run in the first frame when Selbo beat out an infield hit, his first of four safeties for the night. Julio de la Torre sliced the ball through the Vernon shortstop for one error and the Duster center fielder booted the ball for two miscues in a row to send Selbo across the plate.

Midland capitalized on another Duster bobble in the third when Earl Rosenberry doubled and took third on the Vernon error. Selbo singled him home.

In the fifth frame, Midland moved out in front in the tilt for the first time when Dinkel walked and Selbo connected for his third single. De la Torre parked a pitch over the left field fence for his twelfth homer of the season to give the Indians a 4-4 edge.

Their final marker came in the seventh when Dinkel again walked and moved to third on Selbo's fourth hit. He scored on a double play which retired the first two men in the inning.

Keith Nicolls, who faced rough going in the early innings, settled down to record his twenty-fourth triumph of the season against eight losses.

Jesus Sosa, Vernon right-hander who was working with only one day's rest, was charged with his second loss of the series. He dropped the opener Tuesday.

Drillers Pin Back Odessa Oilers, 7-6

ARTESIA — (AP) — Catcher Rudy Briner's fly ball to center field scored Vince Sarubbi from third in the tenth inning to give the Artesia Drillers a thrilling 7-6 victory over the Odessa Oilers here Thursday night.

The run was the first tally for either team in three and one half innings and was a study in baseball strategy on the part of both managers. Sarubbi opened the frame with a double, then went to third on a sacrifice by John Alonso. Odessa Manager Pepper Martin then called for intentional passes to be given to the Oilers.

Artesia jumped out ahead, 2-0, with single runs in both the first and third innings, but Odessa tied it up with two tallies in the fourth and went ahead with two more in the fifth. The Oilers extended their lead to 6-3 with another brace of runs in the sixth, but Artesia came back with four unearned runs in their half of the same inning to deadlock the ball game and send it to its exciting climax.

Briner was Artesia's top run producer with four. He plated the Drillers' fourth and fifth runs with a single in the sixth inning before Bill Haley tied it up by scoring with a double.

Pampa Oilers Kick Abilene Blue Sox Into WT-NM Cellar

Ed Sudol blasted a home run with three mates aboard in the West Texas-New Mexico League Thursday night and when it came down, Abilene was a new occupant of the cellar.

Sudol clouted his grand-slammer in the fifth inning to set the pace in Pampa's 13-3 triumph over the Gold Sox.

Only two other games were played. High winds forced postponement of the Albuquerque at Amarillo clash.

Borger took the league-leading Clovis team to a 7-3 shelling, and Lamesa pushed Lubbock farther out of a playoff possibility. Lubbock, in sixth place, lost 6-3 to Ed Arthur's pitching.

Advertiser to be forgotten.

DINKEL WILL STICK AROUND

Fleet Cahlan Dinkel, center outfielder for the Midland Indians, Thursday put to rest any ideas he might have had about quitting the club.

Dinkel said: "I'll stick it out all the way with the Indians."

The Tribe outfielder said a combination of factors made him consider giving up baseball for the remainder of the season.

"I was just discouraged," he said, "but I'm all right now."

Americans Corner Canadian Amateur Golf Meet's Lead

VANCOUVER, B. C. — (AP) — Thursday was America's day on Capilano Golf Course as powerful Sam Uretzka and Bill Campbell led the way into the semi-finals of the Canadian Amateur Golf Tournament.

Steady Ed Meister of Cleveland finally checked the title bid of the San Francisco merchant, Robert Root, Jr., beating him 5 and 3.

When Larry Bouchey of Ingleswood, Calif., squeaked out a 1-up victory over skinny Jack Reynolds of Vancouver.

Campbell made quick work of his match against Gordon Haskell of Seattle, winning 6 and 5.

Uretzka closed out Bob Gray of Winnipeg, 4 and 3.

Six under par, Haskell whipped Billy Shields of Albany, the New York state champion, 4 and 3.

128 Stars Start Volleying In U. S. Grass Courts Play.

sign talent which embraces players from eight countries, flexed his muscles at the expense of Alvin Bunnis of Cincinnati, while Sexias went up against Frank Okey of Rochester, N. Y.

The only hope the American contingent can muster is the not-comforting fact that Sedgman is not completely invincible. Ken McGregor, the No. 2 man from down under, thumped him in the Eastern Grass Court final, and McGregor has not been much of a mystery to the players. They've managed to beat him as much as he has whipped them.

Except for Sexias, the only American who seems to have a chance against the power-packed strokes of Sedgman is Dick Savitt, who, although it seems long ago, has beaten the Aussie. Sedgman and Savitt are in the same half of the draw and should meet in the semifinal if Dick can concentrate on tennis and hold his temper in check.

In the women's division, the 17-year-old defending champion, Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly, is seeded No. 1 and is the logical favorite to repeat.

Roswell Loses To Big Spring In 10 Innings

BIG SPRING — (AP) — The Big Spring Broncs spotted Roswell eight runs and then beat the Rockets in a 10-inning thriller played here Thursday night. Final tab was 8-8.

Oli Guerra, who gained credit for the victory, delivered a single into right field to plate Al Costa with the winning run. The triumph was Guerra's twenty-third of the season.

The loss was hung on Audie Malone, the fourth Roswell hurler to see action.

Guerra came on in relief in the ninth inning and got the side out in order. He ran into trouble in the tenth, however, when the Rockets put runners on first and second with only one out.

Pete Tusa hit into a double play to end the threat, however.

Corrales Chased
Van Huppert started the Roswell attack in the second with a two-run homer off Reggi Corrales. The Rockets chased Corrales to cover in the third with a savage six-run out-break during which they collected six hits. The big blow was Les Palmer's two-run double.

Oscar Reguera came in to spell Corrales and put out the fire. He was relieved for a pinch hitter in the eighth, as the Steeds rallied for three runs to tie up the ball game.

Angelo Takes Listless Game

SWEETWATER — (AP) — San Angelo and Sweetwater struggled haplessly for three hours here Thursday night in a listless, lonesome-played contest which San Angelo won, 12-7, for a two-one edge in the series.

The Colts collected 18 hits off three Sweetwater pitchers, and the losers got 13 off two San Angelo moundmen.

Seven Colt errors made all seven of Sweetwater's runs unearned.

The Braves left 17 runners stranded on bases.

San Angelo jumped on Brave starter Tony Traspuesto, normally a catcher, for one run in the second on an error and singles by Oscar Williams and Ronald Dacko. Glen Burns' two-run homer and one-base blows by Johnny Tavoan, Dacko and Cotton Russell gave the Colts three more in the third.

When Sweetwater Catcher Earl Finley injured his finger in the fourth on a foul tip, Traspuesto switched to his old job of catching and old-timer Oil Morales took over the Braves' mound duties.

Three singles, two errors and Dacko's two-run circuit clout produced five San Angelo runs in the fourth. The visitors' lead went to 10-3 in the seventh on successive doubles by John Malgarini and Ken Kowalk.

Sweetwater chased Colt Starter Hal Swearingen in the eighth with the help of four errors and scored five times before Clarence Tinkler could get things under control.

The winners climaxed the scoring in the ninth with two runs on two walks, a sacrifice, balk, wild pitch and fly-out.

Pat Garner Gains Semi-Finals In National Amateur Tourney

PORTLAND, ORE. — (AP) — Shirley McFeters, a tall, chili-nerved graduate of public links play, beat Claire Doran of Cleveland on the twentieth hole Thursday to put the last of the internationalists out of the Women's National Amateur Golf Championship.

The defeat of Miss Doran, runner-up to Atlanta's Dot Kirby for the title last year and a member of this year's Curtis Cup team, left four comparative unknowns to fight it out for the title in Friday's semi-finals and the 36-hole final Saturday.

Housewife Advances
They are Miss McFeters, a silent, slender 21-year-old from Long Beach, Calif.; Mrs. Jacqueline Pung, a 210-pound Hawaiian housewife; Pat Lesser, the pigtail-wearing 19-year-old from Seattle; and Pat Garner, 23, from Midland, Texas.

Mrs. Pung, the long-hitting favorite of the galleries, beat Edean Anderson, Wednesday's conqueror of Defending Champion Kirby, two-up. Miss Lesser rallied to beat Barbara Romack, a curly-haired cutie from Sacramento, Calif., 3 and 2; Miss Garner conquered 17-year-old Barbara Snook of Portland, 2 and 1.

There wasn't an easy match in the four quarter-finals over the 6,322-yard, par 36-37-73 Waverly Country Club Course Thursday and the placing of the pins on the rolling greens made it even harder for the golfers.

Pat's Shot Sparkles
Miss Garner and Miss Snook halved the final four holes before the match ended on the seventeenth. Pat's birdie came from a sparkling chip shot on the 493-yard thirteenth that left her about a 12-inch putt.

Miss Garner, daughter of an oil man, has been playing golf only four years. She spent two years at Texas Christian University at Fort Worth to study the game under A. G. Mitchell, tutor of several stars and now retired.

In Friday's semi-final round, Miss Garner was paired with Miss McFeters; Mrs. Pung with Miss Lesser.

Tigers Again Stand Athwart Tribe Path

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The schedule clearly favors the Cleveland Indians in their quest of the 1952 American League pennant but one disturbing factor in the otherwise serene picture is the Detroit Tigers.

Cleveland is due to meet the tail-end Tigers nine times before the curtain falls Sunday, September 28. At first glance it would appear that this is a feather in Cleveland's cap but the marooned Tigers have a nasty habit of beating the Indians at the most inopportune moments.

Detroit, then in fifth place, upset the Indians' apparent last year by sweeping a three-game set from the Tribe late in September to kill their chances of overhauling the New York Yankees.

The specter of 1951 haunted the Indians again Thursday night as they missed a chance to pick up ground on the front-running Yankees by spitting a two-night twin bill with the Tigers before 63,998 fans.

Wynn Coasts Through
Early Wynn coasted to his seventeenth victory in the first game, won by the Indians, 9-3, but Hal Newhouser turned back the Tribe, 4-1, for the 19th victory of his major league career in the second. As the Yankees were idle, Cleveland remained two games off the pace.

The Indians have 27 games left to play including 20 of their last 22 at home. The Yanks also have 27 games left but 18 of them are on foreign soil. The third-place Red Sox have 31 games to go but 22 of them are away from home and Boston is known as a poor road club.

Al Rosen drove home four runs on as many singles to ease Wynn's task in the opener at Detroit. Wynn permitted only six hits including a two-run homer by Fred Hatfield in posting his seventh straight triumph over the Tigers over a two game span.

Spot Pitcher Steve Gromek failed in the second game, losing to Gromek with a 1-0 lead by socking his twenty-fourth homer in the second inning but Cliff Mapes homered with Jim Debing aboard in the Detroit half and the Tigers remained in the van for keeps. Newhouser scattered eight hits and failed to walk a batter in posting his seventh triumph of the year.

The Red Sox also blew a chance to gain by dropping the first game of a doubleheader to the rising Philadelphia Athletics, 6-3. The second game was rained out.

Brooklyn, meanwhile, continued its march to the National League flag by dumping the Chicago Cubs, 9-6, to remain 9 and one-half games ahead of the runner-up New York Giants.

The Giants swamped Pittsburgh, 14-7, while Cincinnati edged Boston, 5-4, in 10 innings and Philadelphia outlasted St. Louis, 10-6, in the circuit's only night game.

Bowling Loop Play To Start September 8

Action in the three major Midland bowling leagues is expected to get underway here September 8.

Two of the leagues, Civic and Major, in a recent meeting here elected officers and outlined the plans for the winter bowling season.

Elected to serve as officers in the Civic Bowling League were Ted Witte, president; Charles Bradley, vice president and Ford Buehrle, secretary.

The eight-team Civic Loop, also elected to increase its sponsorship fee $108.50 to bring it up to the same rating as those held by the other two leagues. The Civic League's season will last 26 weeks.

Officers elected to represent the Major Bowling League include: O. P. Albright, president; Jack Mashburn, vice president, and Kenny Baker, secretary.

The Paroleum League was to hold a meeting this week for the purpose of electing officers and setting up a schedule. Meanwhile the City Bowling Association, the governing body of all bowling leagues in Midland, elected Don McKibbin, president; Maurice Crowley, vice president, and Bert Haigh, secretary-treasurer for the coming year.

Clyde Littlefield Undergoes Surgery

DALLAS —(AP)— Track Coach Clyde Littlefield of the University of Texas underwent an operation Friday for a bleeding stomach ulcer.

The ulcer gave Littlefield so much trouble recently while he coached the American track and field team at the Olympic Games in Helsinki, Finland, that he had to be hospitalized there.

The operation, which consisted of removing the ulcerated area, was performed at Baylor Hospital here. Littlefield's physician, who asked not to be quoted by name, said the coach was in "excellent" pre-operative condition and he didn't anticipate any trouble.

Texans, Eagles Ready For Clash

Odessa Tilt May Attract 15,000 Fans

ODESSA — Sports-conscious West Texans who like a steady diet of football almost as much as they like barbecue and ranch style beans, prepared to sample a gridiron clash among the play-for-pay boys here Friday night between the Philadelphia Eagles and the newly organized Dallas Texans.

The tilt, which will be held in Odessa High School's Broncho Stadium, is expected to attract some 15,000 fans before kickoff time at 8:15 p.m.

The Eagles, who are quartered in a Midland hotel, arrived by chartered airliner at the Midland Air Terminal Thursday afternoon and went through limbering up exercises under the lights in Odessa Thursday night.

The Texans were to arrive by special airliner Friday. They are staying in an Odessa hotel.

The contest, one of several pre-season clashes in which each team has participated, is expected to be a testing ground for gridsters who are trying to make the team.

In recent performances, the Texans knocked over two service teams, trouncing Brooke Medical Center, 37-7, and pouncing Carwell Air Force Base to the tune of 27-0.

The Eagles, on the other hand, dropped a contest to the Detroit Lions recently in the thirteenth minute of the last period when former University of Texas great, Bobby Layne, whipped a pass to Doak Walker, former All-American at Southern Methodist University, which sank the Eagles, 7-3.

Starting for the Texans in the backfield will be such former college luminaries as Buddie Young, negro right halfback who formerly played with Illinois University, and Zolzie Toth, mammoth fullback who wore Louisiana State University's colors. Filling the other two backfield posts for the Texans will be Bob Ceteri at quarterback and George Tallafiero at left half.

Speakeading the Eagles attack will be tall, talented Adrian Burk at the quarterback post. Burk formerly starred with Baylor University. Filling the other starting backfield posts will be Al Pollard, formerly with the Army grid eleven at West Point, who will start as left half; Ebert Van Buren, blonde brother of Steven Van Buren and a former standout at LSU, right half, and Jim Farmer, fullback.

Haney's Record With Indians Real Miracle Of Management

The record-book is the Bible of baseball performance. Its statistics become the scripture in measuring the success of the individual in the national pastime.

Into the minor league testament the last month has gone a parable of performance. It is the miracle of management of Jay Haney with the Midland Indians.

The Tribe has 25 victories in 22 games under the 32-year-old native Texan. That's traveling at a 700 percentage clip. The Indians would be leading the Longhorn League if games under Haney constituted the full season play.

Haney hasn't known defeat in Indian Park. Eighteen straight victories make up his home tabulation. The best clubs in the Longhorn League were just around the corner on the Indian schedule when Haney took over back in July. With a rising morale, the Indians felled Odessa, Big Spring and Artesia. Twelve out of 15 games with the Big Three went to the Midlanders. The Tribe won four out of six from Odessa. Big Spring, another arch enemy in the West Texas neighborhood, lost five out of six games to the rollicking Warriors.

Tribe Gets Jump
"Get the jump on the top clubs and stay ahead," is Haney's formula. It's paid off here.

The Indians believe they can beat any of the clubs now, the quiet pilot pointed out. The Odessa jinx has faded.

Haney finds in the Indians the fulfillment of his dream.

"I like to play a running game," Haney feels the good baseball prospect will protect his future.

Spirit Improves
Generally, Haney attributes success of the Indians under his guidance to an improved spirit underscored by never-let-up hustling.

"We have the speed to play the running game," Haney declared. "We can get the jump and hold it most of the time. But if we do fall behind, there is still the will to come back."

Every winning baseball team has a sparkplug. For the Indians, it's Shortstop Scooter Hughes. Haney will tell you that.

"Scooter Hughes and the pitching have combined to become the major factors in our march, Haney confided, setting aside general terms.

Thirteen years in baseball have taught Haney there is a reward for understanding the position of the umpire. He hardly ever raises his voice in protest.

"Kind treatment of umpires may pay off in the clutch," Haney reasons.

Haney believes, too, that the relation between the umpire and the manager can help better the attitude of fans toward the arbiter.

"It all goes toward making a better baseball game," mild-mannered Haney feels.

Haney thinks officiating in the Longhorn League is better than that in the West Texas-New Mexico League, where he managed Lamesa and played with Abilene.

"More veteran umpires are found on the Longhorn staff," Haney observed. He has discovered that Longhorn League games move off faster than those in the WT-NM circuit.

Haney married into a pioneer West Texas baseball family.

"And Mrs. Haney can second judge you, too," her square-jawed husband recalled. She is the daughter of Louis C. White of Lamesa, who played with Midland in the old West Texas League.

"And I believe Louie was playing with Midland when Mrs. Haney was born," the Midland pilot recalled.

Louis White also had five brothers who sought baseball fortunes in West Texas.

The Jay Haney's have two sons, Stephen, Jr., six, and Robert Craig, two.

"And we are hoping they'll carry on the White and Haney baseball destinies," the proud father said.

And Midland can use Stephen and Craig Haney one of these days if they'll come through like Dad.

Change Of Scenery Puts Al LaMacchia Into Winning Ways

WICHITA FALLS —(AP)— Nobody could ever figure out why Al LaMacchia couldn't pitch winning ball for Wichita Falls in the Big State League.

At himself was puzzled. "I don't know what's the matter," he would say. "I can't pitch however, but I know I'm a better pitcher than this. Maybe it's just the ball park or the farm. I don't know."

Anyway, the former major leaguer, now 34, won six and lost seven with Wichita Falls and finally asked the Spudders, who had given up on him, to sell him close to his San Antonio home. So Wichita Falls sold him to Austin.

Since then, LaMacchia has won 13 and lost three and has been responsible for pulling the Pioneers out of the doldrums and pushing them into a fight for a spot in the Big State League playoff.

Wichita Falls, which has been in a dangerous slump that sent it into the second division, could use pitching like that now—if LaMacchia could do it in the Wichita Falls park.

Yanks Purchase Blackwell, Shunned By National Clubs

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK —(AP)— The mystery of the seven National League clubs passing up Ewell Blackwell for the $100,000 waiver price was explained only partially Friday as baseball executives gave their reasons for allowing the former ace Cincinnati pitcher to go to the New York Yankees.

"Blackwell's through! He can't help us."
That was the consensus among the National League moguls. Apparently the world champion Yankees don't agree or they never would have stelled out some $50,000 plus four players to get the 29-year-old right-hander.

Far From Finished
Conceding that Blackwell is not the pitcher he once was, he still is far from finished, at least in the opinion of some American Leaguers.

For it had been learned that General Managers Hank Greenberg of Cleveland and Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox made overtures for him but were outbid by the Yankees.

The Yankees gave up a pretty fair pitcher in southpaw Johnny Schmitz and three players from their minor league farms to be named later. They refused to reveal the purchase price.

If Blackwell, winner of only three games against 12 losses, and currently plagued by a sore arm, should be an about face with the Yankees, there are sure to be some red faces in the National League.

"We May Be Wrong"
Explaining why the Brooklyn Dodgers let Blackwell out of the league, General Manager E. J. (Boss) Bavasi said:

"We may be wrong but we don't think Blackwell has it anymore. Besides, he has a sore arm. . . . "We need a pitcher who can pitch regularly. Blackwell hasn't pitched in three weeks.

"We're really sorry to see Blackwell get out of the league. There aren't many pitchers around from whom we can get 15 runs in one inning."

Bavasi obviously was referring to a game last May when the Dodgers set a modern record by scoring 15 runs in the first inning. Blackwell was the starting pitcher in that game.

Other comments:
Fred Selph, president of the St. Louis Cardinals—"We've got a lot of good young pitchers we think are much better. We want to go with them for a good finish this year and, principally, for a good start next year. That's why we weren't interested in Blackwell."

Horace Stoneham, president of the New York Giants—"No comment."
Blackwell—"Boy, oh boy, oh boy! I'm leaving for New York tomorrow night."

SPORTS NOTES

BENCH JOCKEY
By BOB ADAMS

Husky Carl Barbour, catcher for the Midland Indians, soon will be playing for Uncle Sam in the U. S. Naval Air Corp.

The rookie Tribe catcher will report for duty at Olathe, Kan., September 22. From there he will report to Pensacola, Fla., to begin 18 months of training for a commission as a Navy pilot.

The likable Barbour, who seems to be always smiling, lacked just a few hours of getting a Bachelor of Arts degree from University of Missouri when the draft beckoned.

Because the Navy promised to defer him four months so he could finish out the baseball season, he elected to sign up with the Navy, rather than the Army.

The Indian backstop was majoring in languages and can speak German and French fluently. His reason for choosing languages is so he could become a member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, a profession which he still hopes to follow when he gets out of the service.

"They say the first 10 years in the FBI is the hardest," said Barbour before a recent game here. "But you would have an understanding wife because FBI men are on the move every six months," he added.

Barbour says he even took a fling at being a newspaper reporter once. He was a courthouse reporter for a small paper in Kansas and wrote up court reports, weddings and so forth.

The Vernon Dusters, who are bringing up the rear in the Longhorn League standings, nevertheless play one of the fastest games in the Loop, according to Umpires Warren Heiki and Steve Sadowski.

The ump's say, on an average, the Dusters play a faster game than any other club.

In fact, the Dusters played the shortest game on record in the Longhorn earlier in the season against the Artesia Drillers. The full, nine-inning game ran only one hour and 28 minutes. Heiki umpired the game.

Our fellow sports scribe over in Odessa, Jim Lundquist of the Odessa American, can't resist the chance to take a gentle dig Midland's way.

Jim's latest taunt concerns Midland's attempt to land a pro football game here next year, instead of in Odessa.

Lundquist applauded Midland's efforts but said we could hardly "accommodate more than a handful of fans."

We checked with high school officials here and discovered that 11,500 fans can be put into Memorial Stadium and possibly 12,500 with extra bleachers moved in. Quite a handful, we'd say.

Also Ed Hogan, publicity man for the Philadelphia Eagles, informed us that only slightly more than 11,000 tickets had been sold for the pre game in Odessa. So if we are to go by Lundquist's measurements, only a handful of tickets have been sold so far.

With football brochures moving fast and heavy across our sports desk, it is difficult for us to think about anything but the upcoming gridiron season.

However, Ray Ebeling, an employe of Phillips Petroleum Company here and a former member of the nationally famous Phillips 66 cage, dropped in to talk a little basketball.

He's not interested in beating the drums for basketball now, you understand, but only wants to look ahead to the end of football season when the cage game will rule supreme.

Ray asked if we thought fans in this area would go for a good brand of basketball. He said six former members of the Phillips 66 cage team now live in Midland and would like to organize a team next winter.

The former Phillips 66 cage include Ray Ebeling, Kenny Jastro, Gerald Tucker, Bill Kleine, Don Groves, Jim Line and Ebeling.

In the event Midland organized an independent cage team, Ray would like to know if there are other groups in the area who like to form a team and become a member of a crackerjack independent league here.

If so, representatives of such teams should contact Ray at Phillips Petroleum Company here.

Optimists Abandon Plans For Boxing Tourney This Fall

The Midland Optimist Club temporarily has abandoned its plans to stage a boxing tournament here the latter part of September.

Ed Stitt, Midland attorney and a member of the club, said Thursday because of the fire which recently burned down the Optimist Club Boys Workshop, Optimists would be unable to stage a tournament at this time.

"We have no equipment nor even a place for the boys to train," said Stitt, "but we hope to be in a position where we can stage such a tournament sometime before Christmas."

New March Of Dimes Aid Flows To Texas For Polio Patients

DALLAS — (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Friday it has sent an extra three-quarter million dollars into Texas this summer.

W. C. Wilson, Houston, senior state representative in Texas for the March of Dimes organization, said sums totaling $755,655 through August 23 had been sent to 59 Texas counties.

This money has been spent on patient care in addition to the more than $1,000,000 in march of dimes funds retained from last January's campaign in this state.

The epidemic aid advances to Texas this year represent 20 per cent of the entire epidemic aid payments of the national foundation throughout the United States. The national figure through August 23 was $3,658,119.

The national foundation also has sent into Texas during the epidemic 114 iron lungs, 48 hot pack machines and 13 rocking beds to aid hard-pressed hospitals in caring for polio patients. Total of nurses in 1952 climbed to 160 as of August 23. In that same period the American Physical Therapy Association utilized March of Dimes money to send 21 trained physical therapists into the state, Wilson said.

Two Men Accused Of Burning Negro

BOWLING GREEN, KY. — (AP) — A 39-year-old negro was carried into court Thursday to testify at the arraignment of two white men accused of setting fire to his gasoline-saturated overalls.

The incident occurred June 14 at a feed mill where Joe Simmons said the men—James Chaffin, 30, and James Cherry, 25—grabbed his arms and saturated his trousers legs with gasoline.

Simmons said Chaffin then applied his lighter to the overalls. Burned severely about both legs, Simmons was spent almost six weeks in a hospital. He could give no reason for the incident.

Chaffin and Cherry told police it was only a prank and didn't mean to hurt Simmons.

Four Powers Unite To Protect Jewish Assets In Austria

VIENNA, AUSTRIA — (AP) — The Big Four powers have vetoed unanimously an Austrian law which would have permitted "Aryanizers" to lay their hands for a second time on Jewish property they gained under Hitler.

The rare agreement between Russia and the Western powers was reached by the Executive Committee of the four-power Allied Control Council for Austria. It was announced Friday.

The vetoed law was one of seven recent Austrian statutes which have come under fire from much of the world's press, the U. S. State Department and Jewish leaders.

The Austrian government for several years has been trying to get approval of the "requisition law" rejected by the occupation powers. It would have permitted courts to reopen all cases of property restitution since the war, thus threatening Nazi victims who lost property under Hitler and got it back after the war.

GENOA, ITALY — (AP) — A passer-by probably saved the lives of five small boys playing a handball game of soccer with an old hand grenade, police reported Friday.

RENO, NEV. — (AP) — Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson Friday won the support of Senator Pat McCarran (D-NeV.), who seldom has been a friend of the Truman Administration.

McCarran told the Associated Press in an interview he joined Stevenson backers after receiving a letter from the Illinois governor saying he was never a member of Americans of Democratic Action and is not a captive of it or any other organization.

The ADA is a Democratic group leaning toward Roosevelt New Deal policies. Stevenson's campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, was once a member.

"It was a very good letter and it gave me a different slant on Stevenson—of course I'll support him now," said McCarran, who is chairman of a Communist-hunting Senate subcommittee.

Value Of U. S. Dollar Slips; Canadian Money Buys More

ST. JOHN, N. B. — (AP) — The American tourist handed over a $10 bill in payment for a 45-cent breakfast check here—and received $9.05 in change.

The $10 bill was U. S. money and the $9.05 was in Canadian funds. The cafe discounted the U. S. money five per cent—or 50 cents—in making change. The result, financially speaking, was fairly accurate, but that didn't keep the American from numbing something about paying twice for his breakfast.

Many of the thousands of Americans who come to the maritime provinces and other sections of Canada each summer are not happy about the monetary situation. Some of them remember when their U. S. dollar fetched $1.10 or even $1.20 in Canadian funds.

And many storekeepers, while proud that Canadian money commands a premium over U. S. funds, are not too happy about the situation when it comes to dealing with tourists. The tourist business is built on good will, and anything tending to destroy that good will can hurt the business.

Losses Accepted

Consequently some places, especially gift shops, announce they accept U. S. money at par. This means they sell to U. S. tourists at about a five per cent discount, but that is small potatoes when the shops

New Legion Chief Asks Training Act As Security Means

NEW YORK — (AP) — Lewis Ketchum Gough, newly elected national commander of the American Legion, urged national security military training legislation to keep the nation in a state of preparedness.

The 44-year-old Gough, a World War II veteran now living in Pasadena, Calif., was elected Thursday as head of the Legion in the closing session of its thirty-fourth annual convention.

In his acceptance address, Gough urged "intelligence, firmness and courage" in combatting communism, and pleaded for a decisive military program for the nation's youth.

As the convention neared its close, the delegates urged an investigation of national Selective Service headquarters.

Incidence Of Polio More Than Doubles

NEW YORK — (AP) — The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said Thursday that this year's total of polio cases is 88 per cent higher than last year's total over the same period.

So far in 1952, the foundation said, 19,960 persons have been struck in the U. S. It said the total for the period in 1949, when the country suffered its worst polio epidemic, was 20,526. In 1951, it was 11,886.

Truman Loads His Six-Guns For Back Platform Speeches

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman looked over the ammunition Friday for his first "whistle-stop" tour for the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket.

The outgoing President and his White House staff brushed aside queries as to how many speeches he will make on his Labor Day tour to Milwaukee, but one veteran aide told a reporter:

"Any stop where they show us a crowd at a respectable hour, we'll show them the President on the back platform."

Truman was asked at a news conference Thursday if he would name the targets of his give-'em-hell talks and from Milwaukee, Monday and Tuesday. He said the newsmen would have to find out as he went along.

His special train leaves Washington late Sunday night for Milwaukee where he will make a major speech at a Labor Day rally at 8:30 p.m. CST, Monday. He will return to Washington Tuesday night.

While the President was non-committal on most political questions, he spoke up sharply when reporters asked him about a demand by the American Legion that he oust Dean Acheson as secretary of State.

make sales they otherwise might lose.

Americans buying airplane tickets in Canada find their money is as "good" as ever when fares are quoted in U. S. dollars. Also tickets bought in Canada escape the 15 per cent transportation tax imposed in the United States.

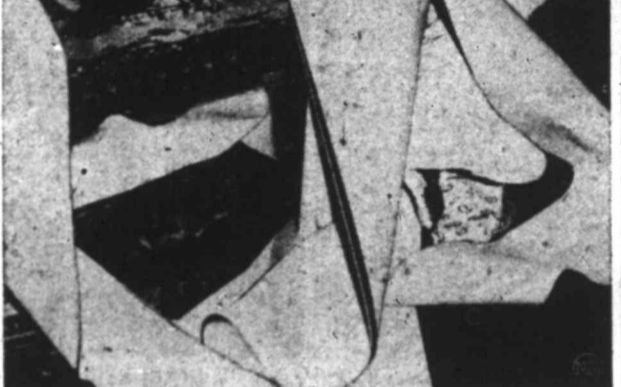

Some Yankees have discovered, too, that their money is as good as gold — when it's silver, U. S. quarters and half dollars for years have been used interchangeably in Canada with their Canadian equivalents. They still are. A few Americans have come to Canada with rolls of quarters and half dollars.

A New England woman who made an $8 purchase in a Noncton, N. B., store recently paid for it with 22

U. S. quarters. If she had paid in greenbacks she would have been charged $8.40 — the $8 price plus 40 cents for exchange.

The premium of Canadian money over American has varied in recent months, fluctuating fractions around four cents. No storekeeper is able to keep up with the day to day fluctuations, and so the general rule is to discount U. S. money five per cent.

The explanation of the disparity given generally: it represents a working of the law of supply and demand. With Canadian business and development booming, Canada's money is in greater demand than ever, and so it brings a premium over U. S. money in foreign exchange markets.

Red Prisoner Dies, 26 Injured On Koje

SEOUL — (AP) — The Army reported one Communist prisoner killed and 26 slightly injured in UN prison camps since Sunday.

A UN Command spokesman said the report brings up to date the list of incidents which resulted in the death of four prisoners and injuries to 64 others between July 20 and August 24.

The latest prisoner death was accidental, the Army announced at Pusan. A member of a work detail was killed by falling rocks Sunday near Masan, Korea, when a dynamite charge touched off a landslide.

Rites Conducted For 'Mercy Death' Victim In Florida

MIAMI, FLA. — (AP) — Eighteen-year-old Adela Moskal was interred Thursday after a life of constant pain. Her father, who had killed her to end her years of suffering, sobbed at her grave.

John Moskal sent his wife on a shopping errand Monday, then led Adela into the bathroom and plunged a butcher knife into her heart.

The girl had shown only little development since birth. The father and mother stood dry-eyed while a priest read the interment service for children. But when a friend raised her voice in a prayer in Polish, Moskal wept and seized Adela's body in his arms.

He is free in $4,000 bond on a charge of murder.

Salt Water Threatens Texas' Big Rice Crop

HOUSTON —(AP)— Labor crews rushed work on a temporary dam across the Trinity River Friday in an effort to keep salt water from ruining a 10-million-dollar rice crop.
The dam was started Thursday upstream from the Moss Bluff plant of Texas Gulf Sulphur Company. Salt water intrusion was discovered in the canals feeding 75,000 acres of the Liberty and Chambers County rice crop.

Adlai Huddles With Baruch After East Coast Campaign

NEW YORK —(AP)— Gov. Adlai Stevenson conferred Friday with Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch who is currently out of favor with the Truman Administration.
Emerging from Baruch's home after a breakfast conference lasting one hour and 10 minutes, the Democratic presidential candidate told newsmen:
"There was no discussion of politics at all. We talked mainly about inflation and some other economic matters. It was a good breakfast and a very interesting talk."
Asked whether he and Baruch agreed on the matters discussed, Stevenson smiled and replied: "We didn't argue."
Baruch, a financier who became a wealthy unofficial adviser to the late President Roosevelt, has not yet stated whether he favors Stevenson or his Republican opponent, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.
Stevenson ended his first campaign invasion of the East Friday after throwing a series of challenges at the Republicans, particularly on the issue of civil rights.
He planned to return to his office in Springfield, Ill., Friday afternoon.

Pereira Faces New Lawsuit For $35,286 By Fifth Wife

DALLAS —(AP)— The convicted swindler who recently took a wealthy Dallas oil widow for his sixth wife faced a suit for $35,286.78 Friday.
Plaintiff in the suit, filed here Thursday against Victor Emanuel Pereira, was Mrs. Gertrude Joyce of Roswell, N. M.
The petition said Pereira had never repaid any of a $35,286.78 loan from the prosperous middle-aged widow made to him soon after his marriage to Mrs. Joyce.
The suit was filed a few hours after Pereira testified at a deposition hearing in another lawsuit brought against him by Mrs. Joyce.
The money involved in the two suits was basis for the federal government's recent criminal action against Pereira and his friend, Eugene Hale Brading, who also has been living in Dallas.
At the trial in El Paso earlier this year, Mrs. Joyce testified Pereira induced her to lend him the money because his own assets were tied up temporarily. She said she gave him a check for $35,286.78 only to get a letter from him the following day that he had lost the money gambling and couldn't face her.
Free On Bond
Pereira and Brading were given 12-year sentences in the trial and are free on $15,000 bonds pending outcome of appeals.
Divorced by Mrs. Joyce, Pereira recently married Mrs. D. A. Little of Dallas, widow of the former president of Magnolia Petroleum Company. FBI reports on Pereira list Mrs. Joyce as his fifth wife, making Mrs. Little his sixth.
Thursday's suit was the third civil action which has plagued the Pereira's honeymoon. The other was a suit by Mrs. Pereira's socially prominent Dallas daughters who claimed their mother violated provisions of their father's will.

Sparkman Bypasses Civil Rights Issue In Alabama Speech

MENDENHALL, MISS. —(AP)— Senator John Sparkman skipped the touchy civil rights issue in opening his vice presidential campaign before a deep South audience Friday night.
The Alabama senator's blanket defense of the Democratic platform was the nearest he came to the subject.
The party platform that has caused strife among many Southern Democrats contains a proposed Fair Employment Practice Commission, anti-lynch and anti-poll tax planks.

"I realize there may be things in the Democratic platform that all of us cannot agree upon," he told an audience estimated at between 3,000 and 5,000 in the Mendenhall High School football stadium.
"But remember that this party of ours is made up of free people from all walks of life with many divergent beliefs."
Sparkman recently was called "a traitor to the South" for his support of the platform. His critics, dissatisfied Mississippi Democrats, formed a Democrats-for-Eisenhower movement and bolted the regular party.
Sparkman devoted most of his speech to "what the Democratic Party has done for the people of this nation."
NEW YORK —(AP)— John Cashmore, borough president of Brooklyn, is the Democratic nominee for U. S. senator from New York.
He will oppose Republican Senator Irving Ives at the November 4 election.
Cashmore was named Thursday night on the first ballot after a floor contest at the Democratic State Convention. Ives was nominated by the GOP Tuesday. New York's other senator is Herbert H. Lehman, elected on the Democratic and Liberal party tickets.
It was not known Friday whether Cashmore will win the nomination of the Liberal party which is organized only in New York State and which could hold the balance of power in a close race between the Democrats and Republicans.
POISON ISOLATED
More than 800 tons of poison ivy leaves were used in experiments, which subsequently identified the poison in the ivy as urushiol, a distant cousin of carbolic acid.

Cash Registers Ring Gaily With Back-To-School Sales

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK —(AP)— It's already back-to-school in the nation's stores. And this year the bill for outfitting your brood for the pursuit of education shouldn't be as painful as last year.
Clothing and shoe prices are down this Fall as compared with last. Both manufacturers and retailers, however, are stressing some high-fashion numbers for the young, with price high enough to give Dad a twinge in his wallet pocket.
Some merchants already report the best season ever in sales of clothing for the reluctant scholars, from kindergarten on up to college.
Teenage fashion shows have elicited for a number of stores around the country.
Other merchants look for a big spurt right after Labor Day. They complain that sales to college students have been the chief laggards so far.
More To Cloth
Sales certainly ought to be better this year. There will be one and a half million more children enrolled in public and private schools and colleges this year than last.
Biggest gain is in elementary schools. The big war baby crop is already there. This year the record crop of 1947 moves into the five-year-old, or kindergarten stage.
Dr. Earl J. McGrath, U. S. Commissioner of Education, says the schools ought to have 53,000 new classrooms, to take care of the 25,263,000 pupils this Fall, 1,596,000 more than a year ago.
In outfitting these 26 million, merchants report best sales volume so far has been in cotton shirts and flannel-lined dungarees for the boys, and in plaid cotton dresses, corduroy jumpers and skirts for the girls.
Teenage sales are reported good, too.
Bare-Top Models
Eastern stores report good sales of tweed skirts and jersey sweater blouses.
Southwestern stores report that party-conscious teenagers are dividing about fifty-fifty between long formal and ballet length party dresses. Three-fourths have bare tops, usually supplemented with stoles.
College enrollment will be down 75,000, due to short baby crops of the thirties and to the draft. Dr. McGrath puts enrollment at 2,150,000.
If you want your daughter to shine, swank shops are eager to help. Some are trying to sell Dad on the idea of buying furs for his college girl daughter. They say that the short fur is selling best. You can get beaver at $385 or wild Argentine mink at $975.
In oil-rich Texas some store says a package deal is the thing: three short and one long fur coats. They range from a boxy jacket at $175 to a full length beaver at $1,595. Total cost of the four that will make daughter the talk of the campus: $2,800.
All you need is an oil well.

German Sea Captain Seeks To Thank British For Life

GALVESTON —(AP)— A German sea captain hopes someday to make radio contact with two English captains to whom he owes his life.
Capt. Adolf Wimmel of Hamburg wants to thank them.
For 27 days in 1945 Wimmel and 19 other survivors of a torpedoed German tanker drifted in a lifeboat in the Indian Ocean. They were saved when an English ship, the African Prince, picked them up when the last of the lifeboat's food and water supplies was gone.
"We were nursed back to health on the British ship," Wimmel re-
