

SOLDIERS' BONUS BILL APPROVED

Senate and House Anxious to Hasten Measure—Will Reach Harding in Ten Days.

Washington.—The soldiers' bonus bill, passed by the Senate late Thursday, left the legislative decks of both houses of Congress clear for cleaning up the coal legislation asked by President Harding and an early recess pending return of the coal, bonus and tariff bills from conference.

Forty-seven votes were cast by the Senate in favor of the bonus bill—less than half the Senate membership. Twenty-two votes were cast against it.

Final vote on the bonus came after a fervid appeal by Senator Lodge, Republican leader, in its behalf. He addressed himself largely to the task of disproving contentions of bonus opponents that the measure, if made a law, would impose an added burden upon the National Treasury and the people's purses.

With House and Senate conferees anxious to make quick work of the bonus bill, that the President may have his final word on it, it is expected to be in Harding's hands within ten days. Two amendments to the original draft were a part of it when it finally passed—the McNary land reclamation option and the Simmons proposal for diverting interest on foreign debts to payment of the bonus.

The President would not be expected to look with favor on either, the former because he might not believe it pertinent to the bill and the latter because it does not provide a form of financing certain to bring in necessary funds.

Cabinet officials predicted Thursday that the President would veto the bill. Congressional leaders predicted that the House and Senate would not pass the bill over such a veto.

MURGUIA IS CUT OFF FROM HIS FORCES

Mexican Official intimates He Was Duped Into Crossing the Border.

San Antonio, Texas.—General Francisco Murguia, Carrancista leader, is thought to be he'd in check in the mountains of Coahuila, cut off from his embryonic armies in Durango and Sinaloa.

Mexican Federal soldiers are scouring the State of Coahuila and form an almost impenetrable wall between Murguia and General Juan Carrasco in Sinaloa and minor revolutionary leaders in Durango, it is reported.

Francisco Villa, one-time bandit leader of Mexico and Murguia's bitter enemy, has offered the Government his services in the fight against Murguia, according to reports from Mexico.

The Mexican Government has designated Generals Manuel Lopez and Evaristo Perez to take the field against Murguia, and they will use two columns of cavalry in an effort to cut off the retreat of the Carrancista toward the border.

Mexican Secretary of War Serrano is quoted as saying that reports to him from Coahuila indicate that Murguia has only forty men with him, and so far has evaded all encounters with Federal troops. Federal forces clashed with a small group of Murguia supporters near Villa Aragona, Coahuila, and drove them to the hills.

WASHINGTON—

In a speech in the Senate last week Senator Sheppard opposed adoption of the McNary reclamation bill as an amendment to the soldier-veterans bill, but said that he would favor the McNary bill as separate legislation. The Senator pointed out that efforts were made to "load" the bonus bill with various amendments as a means of making it objectionable, and that he would take such courses toward all other similar amendments. Senator Sheppard said he was in favor of the bonus bill.

A duty that should not be put off.

A duty sometimes long deferred is the selection of a fitting memorial for a loved one

AS IT usually requires quite a little time to select, carve and erect a suitable monument, this most important matter should be given first attention.

Care should be exercised, however, in securing a material possessing not only beauty, but ability to retain for all time its original beauty, as the appearance of this monument a score or more years from now is of as much importance as its appearance today.

"Strong and Well"

"I WISH you could know how much I am improved since taking the Cardui," writes Mrs. Nannie Brown, of Black Rock, Ark. "You wouldn't know me for the same weak invalid I was before I took it. At my . . . I had to keep off my feet or I would fall. I couldn't do my housework, and just got where I'd most as lief be dead as living. Some one told me my husband of Cardui. He got it for me and I took three bottles before I stopped—then off and on for the last three years just as a tonic. I saw a decided improvement after my first bottle. I used the three, and was able to do my work with ease, and now I sew for my family and for others. I am feeling fine, and strong and well."

Take Cardui! It may be just the medicine you need.

As the Governor of North Carolina said to the Governor of South Carolina: "It's a long time between rains!"

In the meantime, what has become of the glorious good times the people of the United States were to see just as soon as the Republicans got straightened out, correcting the blunders the Democrats had made. Well, near eighteen months have elapsed under Republican rule and look what a mess the country is in. Normalcy seems to have taken a back seat.

Have you ever noticed that the one who knows more about running the government than anyone else, usually has no business of his own to run. "By their fruits shall ye know them," the Bible tells us. If a man knows how to run everybody else's affairs, including the government, then he ought to be able to prove it by showing a good sized bankroll or a fair tax list. If he cannot do this, just say to him: "Physician, heal thyself!"

If Atticus Webb, of the Anti Sa-loon League and Rev. A. J. Parker, Cyclops of the Dallas Ku Klux Klan, constitute the Democratic Party of this State, it is time for some of us boys that have been fighting in the ranks of the Democratic party for a half a century in Texas, to retire and let the ku-cock-a-lorums run the old party into the ground, as they certainly will, at the rate they are going.

Henry Ford announces that his factories at Detroit will close down September 16th, giving as a reason that his coal supplies will be exhausted by that time. The coal strike is settled or in a fair way to be settled, but the strike of the railroad shopcrafts has so crippled the railroads that it will be impossible, Ford says, for some time, to receive coal. The closing of Ford's factories will throw out of employment 85,000 men.

Historians tell us that the world's affairs go around in cycles. Fifty-two years ago, after four years of toil, driving an ox team, the team having been sold by the owners because the railroad in our section had supplanted the ox and mule teams in Washington County, we found an easier and better job. Now, with Texas criss-crossed with railroads, we have a threatened tie-up of all railroads over the whole country. We won't have to go back to the ox team, perhaps, as we have the auto truck, but lack of gasoline might prevent that, and we may have to go back to the old ox team transportation, was which never went on a strike and nearly as cheap as railroad freights. Now modern conveniences seem to make people more discontented than ever.

At this time, indications for a lively time in the Democratic State Convention looms. The Ku Klux Klan seems to be the bone of contention. A Dallas Klan nominee says if the opponents of the Klan start anything they will not get far. Evidently this man imagines the Klan has such a stranglehold on the Democratic party of Texas that it can run the State Convention as smoothly as they ran the Democratic primary in Dallas County. Maybe he will have another think coming later.

Attorney General Daugherty's injunction suit seeks to prevent everything that could be used to help the strikers. The injunction, sought to be made permanent, will be heard Monday next. It ought to be modified. It is too drastic and we fear will do more harm than good if it is not greatly changed. The rights of free speech and a free press, to be used in a conservative, legal way, are constitutional guarantees that no court can override in time of peace or in time of war. The injunction looks like a serious blunder to an impartial layman, not directly concerned in the controversy.

If we know it, hereafter, we will never engage in a political campaign that only mud is the argument. Had we known what was coming in the last campaign, we certainly would have kept out entirely—not even to vote. We did not indulge in any of the mud slinging, as readers of The Star know, and we never did. If we cannot discuss political issues without calling an opponent a horse thief, unless he is really a horse thief, we had rather keep out, and we think that hereafter we will just let Texas politics go where it seems headed for—the Devil!

We are tired of the whole business.

Jim Ferguson was the first candidate for a State office in Texas to come out boldly for the closed shop. Naturally one would expect Union Labor would vote for him almost solidly, but the election returns indicate that Mayfield received more Union Labor votes than Ferguson. Just how many votes of non-union labor went against Ferguson, because of his radical closed shop views can not be known. Perhaps he lost more non-union votes than he gained from the Unions by coming out for the closed shop.

Baird is the only railroad town of any size on the T. & P. that gave Ferguson a majority. Union Labor here was divided, but to what extent we do not know. The county would have gone for Ferguson anyway had every Union vote in Baird gone against him, because he carried every county voting precinct in Callahan County except Dressy. Of course, in country boxes, we do not include Clyde and Cross Plains. They also went against Ferguson. Our guess is that no candidate for a State office, hereafter, in Texas, will advocate the closed shop. They will straddle the fence, just as Mayfield did that issue in this election.

BOTH SENATORS FAVOR THE BONUS

A committee of Eugene Bell Post, No. 82, American Legion, joined by a like committee of Baird business men and bankers, sent telegrams about two weeks ago to the two Texas United States Senators, asking their help in passing the Soldier's Bonus Bill.

Replying, Senator Morris Shepard writes. "I am pleased to say that I shall continue to do everything I can in support of the measure in the Senate."

Senator Charles A. Culberson assures the committee "that I am heartily in favor of the immediate passage of the Bonus Bill at this session of Congress, without further delay."

THE PROPOSAL TO JAIL GOMPERS

A dispatch from Washington, editorially declares Tuesday's Fort Worth Star Telegram, indicates that the filing of charges against Mr. Gompers as "aiding and abetting the railway strike agitators" is being contemplated by the Administration if he persists in his activities.

If the Administration should find it necessary to adopt such a course it would unquestionably be the crowning act of folly in the pursuance of a policy which has complicated rather than improved the labor situation.

We have no sympathy with Mr. Gompers' proposal to meet the Government's injunction with a general strike. But that Mr. Gompers, who, whatever else may be said of him, is the leader of the conservative forces in the labor movement, should openly suggest such a course, is a damaging commentary on the Administration's policy itself. For no matter how one may attempt to disguise it, the issuance of such a sweeping injunction amounts to a declaration of war against organized labor, and it is not remarkable that Mr. Gompers should meet it in like spirit.

Mr. Gompers has successfully withstood the onslaughts of the Socialists, Bolsheviks and I. W. W.'s in the organized labor movement. If the American movement is to be kept free from the domination of the elements which are in the ascendancy among the workers of practically all the other leading nations of the world just now, it must be through the efforts of leaders like Mr. Gompers.

That is not to say that Mr. Gompers' point of view is correct, nor that he is at all times a wise and safe leader of labor. His proposal of a general strike is neither wise nor safe from the standpoint of labor, to say nothing of the standpoint of the general welfare. But neither would it be wise, from the standpoint of the general welfare, to put Mr. Gompers in jail. It would be playing into the hands of the ultra-radicals on both sides and would intensify the industrial struggle which seems imminent.

PROTRACTED HEAT INJURES FRUIT IN THE CLYDE SECTION

Clyde, 3-6-'22.

Our part of the country is getting very dry. Fruit and vegetables are still coming in, however, but are of an inferior quality. Plenty of watermelons yet.

There is a move on hand to have Callahan County represented again at Abilene, with a county agricultural exhibit. What says Baird about helping? Get together at once. Appoint a committee of about five to collect farm specimens and assemble them at some place in Baird to be put with others collected and all shipped to the West Texas Fair together. Everybody put their names on their specimens. Address W. W. Slaton, Clyde, Texas, for information.

Prof. Neinaast, who was superintendent of the Clyde Public School for the past two years, but is now of South, has been spending a few days with his best girl in Clyde.

Five teachers, whose homes are in Clyde and who were all employed in the Clyde school last term, are all gone or are going soon to other places to teach, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tabor to Merkel; Miss Mabel Bouchette to Sweetwater; Miss Gladys Slater to Van Horn, and Miss Thelma Sides to Hamlin.

Miss Nellie Bentley, of Abilene, was visiting her sister, Mrs. Harvey Harp, Monday.

J. G. Jones, of Cottonwood, was in Clyde Monday. Mr. Jones is interested in the Callahan County exhibit at the Abilene West Texas Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baxter visited their daughter, Mrs. Mary Ann Wallace, at Eastland, from Saturday until Monday.

C. W. Sewell, an old time Texas preacher, now living at Corpus Christi, preached here Sunday and Sunday night. He was on his return home, after visiting a brother in Abilene. XXX.

While icing a car last night, his tongs slipped from a cake of ice Dan Lackey, of the Baird Light, Power & Ice Co., was handling and he was thrown from the car, fracturing his arm and dislocating his shoulder.

The Epworth League is planning to do great things in the near future. Come and help us out. Help us get started. Don't wait until the "faithful few" get it started and then join us and throw up your hands and cry: "Whoopie! What a good Epworth League we've got!" Now is the accepted time.

Frank Buckles is a sure enough fisherman and he has several piscatorial cronies. They went out the other night to a secret pool, the location of which they hide securely in the very depths of their inner consciousness, and returned bearing a 15-pound, a 12-pound and two 10-pound catfish, as evidences of their fisherman's luck. The head of the 15-pounder was nailed on a post in front of Bounde's blacksmith shop where it attracted a great deal of attention.

PATSIE ADVISES US TO STAND BEHIND NEW COUNTY OFFICERS

Eula, 9-4-'22.

Well, I guess it is time I was writing; but news is scarce. We are still hot and our cotton is being picked and bringing a good price, but the crop will be short and I guess we'll want the winter short, the way the coal is not coming in.

A good rain would be fine for those wanting to sow wheat early.

The election has come and gone. I must say I am satisfied. We have some young men for officials and I am sure they will make good. Now let's all get down to business and help them make good.

Uncle Billie, I was in Baird the other day, but did not get to see you.

I met my old, true friend Eldon Boydston in Baird. You know I am proud of Eldon. He has made a fine man. He is now a cotton buyer in California. I wish he was back at Baird, for he was always smiling and ready for a joke. Come back to see us Eldon, for you know Patsie is your friend.

The other day when I was in Baird I met W. K. Boatwright and W. A. Hinds and had a good chat with them. You know such men as those two are great men to me, for I have known them for a long time and they are the same every day and they are my friends.

I was sorry to hear about John Estes death. He was a good man. One by one we will join the number.

W. L. Harris and R. E. Bockman were trading in Clyde Saturday.

Lloyd Farmer, Dee Pool and Bob Stephenson attended the Masonte Lodge Friday night at Clyde.

Well, as news is scarce, will ring off for this time.

Patsie.

IMPERIAL K. K. K. UNIVERSITY AT ATLANTA, GA., IS BANKRUPT

The New York Evening Post says that Lanier University, of Atlanta, Georgia, described as the Official College of the Ku Klux Klan, has been placed under a receivership, on proof that certain teachers are unable to collect back salaries.

The higher learning in America, The Post thinks, may survive the threatened passing of Lanier and the Klansmen may not miss their College in the least; nevertheless it is a pity for Lanier to be closed before its sons and daughters present to the American public some comprehensive explanation of the Klan movement.

No one except the grand officers seems to know where the Klans are going, or why, and they won't tell. Some Lanierites might have explained the riddle in a monograph.

It will be interesting to know what subjects Lanier taught, and how. Perhaps her teachers were able to avoid telling students that the Catholic Church performed meritorious services for the cause of civilization during the breakup of the Roman Empire and the subsequent rebirth of a political and social order in Europe.

It would never do, of course, for a Klan teacher to admit that any good came out of Rome. But nimbler mental gymnastics would be required to purge Christianity, by which the Klan sets great store, of Jewish influences.

It must have been difficult for savants of Lanier to admit Christ was born a Jew, and for their logicians to demonstrate that the Golden Rule should not be applied equally to all men—Christian and Pagan, Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant.

Somehow in this mass of contradictions Lanier University refused to run. Perhaps the Klan was not sufficiently highbrow, perhaps those in search of learning discovered that an institution so narrow in creed and intolerant in its approach to modern problems could not give them anything worth while.

At any rate, Lanier failed to prosper. Its failure is a hopeful sign. It tells the world louder than its enemies that the Ku Klux Klan is bankrupt intellectually and depends for life upon an appetite far lower in the social scale than love of knowledge, light and wisdom.

Famous Pastry Chef Has Tasty Bran Pudding

Francois Schnutt

A BRAN pudding, termed by those to whom it was served as "simply delicious," has been evolved by Francois Schnutt, pastry chef of the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York. Here it is:

Four heaping teaspoonfuls bran, one tablespoonful flour, one-half tablespoonful corn starch, four eggs, three tablespoonfuls sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half pint milk.

Chop up butter with flour, corn starch, bran and half of the sugar and add to boiling milk; stir well on fire for about one minute, take off, mix in the four yolks. At last add the four whites beaten stiff with rest of sugar. Pour in well buttered and sugared form and set in pan with a little water in bottom and bake in medium oven, for about thirty minutes.

Serve with apricot sauce made as follows: Put contents of one small can of apricots through a sieve, add one-half pound of sugar and let boil for about five minutes.

He is one of the 63 living survivors of the Mexican War and is 94 years old. A radio amateur in France has tough luck. He can't send at all and is not permitted to listen in on certain government transmitting stations.

A condemned murderer in a Boston jail is spending his remaining hours in the construction of a radio receiving set so that the inmates may enjoy programs during their hours of unemployment.

Despite all advice to the contrary, people still insist on using dry cells for the filament supply of vacuum tubes. The batteries will hold up for about five minutes and then they will slowly die down, until nothing at all can be heard.

Secretary Wallace has announced completion of plans for broadcasting weather, crop and market news by radiophone from Memphis, Tenn.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Roswell, N. M., and Milwaukee, Wis., thus giving the Department of Agriculture 41 stations throughout the United States from which agricultural news may be disseminated.

A radio aerial well grounded will take all of the joy out of lightning rod salesmanship. Run a No. 4 copper wire down from your lightning arrester, as specified by the new regulations of the underwriters' code compiled in Washington recently, and your home will be amply protected from lightning—if you have gone deep into the earth in making your ground.

Vienna.—Austria has forwarded an appeal to the League of Nations at Geneva asking for speedy help in the crisis that is facing her. By the time the proposed discussions and investigations have been concluded, the appeal states, Austria's downfall will have occurred. Unless immediate assistance is forthcoming, the peace of Central Europe will be seriously endangered, the plea declares.

Railways Gather Much Coal.

Monterey, Mexico—Enormous stocks of coal are being accumulated by the National Railways of Mexico at points within easy transportation distance of the Rio Grande border. The coal storage yards at Paredon, Hipolite, Piedras Negras and other points are filled to overflowing and practically all of the output of the mines at Fuente, Sabinas and other parts of the State of Coahuila is being delivered to the railroad company.

Wright McCormick, editor of maps for the Geological Survey and a former professor at the University of Texas, lost his life in a 30-foot fall from the side of Mt. Ajusco, near Mexico City, says a cablegram received Tuesday by his parents at Washington. He formerly was attached to the staff of the New York Times and at one time was editor of the Friends of Irish Freedom Magazine.

Marking the close of the summer session of the University of Texas, a convocation of students was assembled to hear the baccalaureate sermon delivered to the graduates by T. S. Clyde, president of Austin College. The services were under the direction of Dr. T. W. Currie, president of the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Austin, and a musical program was rendered. Approximately 170 applicants for degrees were present.

AUDIO FREQUENCY AMPLIFIER UNITS

Construction of Two Is Described, With the Materials That Must Be Purchased.

Theoretically any number of transformer coupled stages of audio frequency amplification can be used. However, due to the amplification of static disturbances, power line induction, tube noises, etc., three stages are about the practical limit. If more than three stages are used the noises become so loud in comparison with the signal that it is difficult to hear the signal.

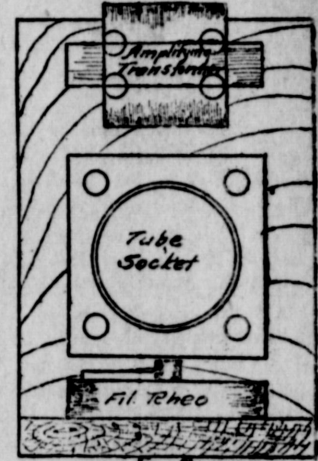

Since audio frequency amplifying transformers can be purchased at any radio shop and the simplest method of coupling, the construction of two audio frequency amplifier units will be described.

The first unit will be arranged to be used in conjunction with the vacuum tube receiver mounted on the eight-inch square horizontal base board, previously mentioned in this column. The

When using the amplifier unit for the first time, tune the receiver with the detector only. To connect the terminals T-T from the amplifier unit in place of the phones in the plate circuit of the amplifier, adjust both the filament rheostats until the signal strength is maximum.

If it is desired to still further amplify the incoming signal two amplifier units can be constructed, the output of each unit being connected to the input of the next, and the phones being placed in the plate circuit of the last amplifier tube.

In constructing the second unit make the panel and the baseboard of the same thickness, kind of wood, and finish as used for the receiver. The panel should be four inches wide and six inches high, the baseboard three inches wide and four inches deep to "match up." Use the same kinds of binding posts and filament rheostat that were used on the receiver.

Fig. XXXIV is a plan view of the amplifier unit, and Fig. XXXV is an elevation of the front view of the panel. The diagram of connections is, of course, the same as for the previously described unit and is shown in Fig. XXXIII.

These amplifier units can be used in conjunction with any radio receiver. The same units connected electrically as shown in Fig. XXXIII can be mounted to suit the builders' own taste.

The National Radio Chamber of Commerce is negotiating with the various government departments, such as the bureau of standards, Department of Commerce, United States signal corps and United States Navy department, with a view to cooperating with these departments in the standardization of radio apparatus, methods of manufacture, methods of testing, etc. The National Radio Chamber of Commerce intends to work with these departments and assist them in their radio problems.

second unit will be mounted on a vertical panel four inches wide and six inches high to "match up" with the six-by-eight vertical panel vacuum tube described recently in this column.

The following standard apparatus will have to be purchased at a radio supply store in order to construct an amplifier unit to be used in conjunction with either receiver.

One amplifying transformer, cost about $5.

One vacuum tube (for amplifier), cost $1.50.

One vacuum tube socket, cost $1.

One filament rheostat, cost about $1.

Seven binding posts, cost about 70 cents.

The amplifier unit to be used with the eight-inch square horizontal baseboard is mounted on a base three inches wide and six inches long. The tube filament rheostat is mounted in the front, the amplifying transformers in the back and the tube in the center.

Fig. XXXII shows the relative position of the transformer tube socket and filament rheostat when mounted on the baseboard. A diagram of connections of the amplifier unit is shown in Fig. XXXIII. The input coming from the terminals of the receiver that were originally connected to the telephone receivers is connected to the terminals of the amplifying transformer. One side of the secondary of the amplifying transformer is connected to the grid, and the other side of the secondary to the filament and common battery lead. The filament rheostat is in series with the positive side of the filament. The plate terminal on the tube socket is connected to one side of the phone, the other side of the phone being connected to the positive side of a 45-volt "B" battery. Use a "hard" tube as an amplifier.

CALLAHAN OIL FIELDS

Much drilling will, of course, be necessary to determine the exact scope of the new territory opened, but a new producing area extending over much territory between Cross Plains and this well seems assured.

The Pioneer Syndicate, of Fort Worth, on Thursday, Aug. 28, spudded in a well on the Dawkins farm, five miles south of Putnam, and five miles southwest of the old gas well, drilled by the Ohio Cities Gas Company, three years ago. The Pioneer Syndicate has considerable acreage in that section of Callahan County, which it expects to develop.

The area has been gone over thoroughly by Dr. S. E. Carpenter, chief geologist for the company, who also geologized the Cardezone location southwest of Eastland, where a 1,000-barrel well was brought in on the Hough tract, a few weeks ago. The pay sand on the Pioneer Syndicate property, south of Putnam, is expected to be found at around 600 to 700 feet, as geological information points to a possible pay sand around that depth.

There is considerable interest being shown in the shallow sand belt of Callahan County already and a discovery by the Pioneer syndicate would serve to intensify this interest. There is already a big volume of oil passing through the Texas Company's pipe lines out of Callahan County, all of which is drawing the regular North Texas posted price of $1.50 a barrel.

Drilling is easy in the Callahan County Shallow Field, northeast of Baird and is comparatively inexpensive. Wells can be drilled and put on the pump within ten days to two weeks time, especially where the formation is well known and delays are unnecessary.

One of the best wells of this field is the latest completion of Moore and Snebold, on the Joe Neumann farm, which is making 75 barrels flowing naturally. The sand in this well was found at 360 feet.

The Dudley well, near Dudley, southwest of Baird, is drilling around 1,500 feet. Henry Willard and associates are drilling this well.

The Underwood-Norman well, eight miles south of Clyde, has reached a depth of 2,200 feet. The Christman well, three miles north of Clyde, is drilling around 3,100 feet.

Moore & Snebold, of Fort Worth, have just brought in another shallow well in the Callahan County shallow field northeast of Baird. The well is their No. 3 Neumann, which got the pay at 372 feet and at four feet in the sand and is making 50 barrels daily. The well is an offset to the same operators' No. 1 Neumann, which had a flush production of 75 barrels. The well was spudded in on Wednesday and completed the following Monday.

This production is south of the original Deep Creek shallow field, opened up by the Baird Oil Development Company and extensively developed by Homer Peebles. This field was some time ago connected up with the pipe line of the Texas Company and that company is now purchasing the entire output of the Southern section of the field. The oil is bringing the regular North Texas posted price of $1.50 a barrel.

The wells brought in by Moore & Snebold have proved considerable acreage that has not yet been drilled and indications point to a big development campaign in that particular section of Callahan County within the next few months.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN!

Every Sunday at 7:15 p. m., there is, at the Methodist Church, a young people's meeting, called the Epworth League—which was organized thirty years ago—and strange to say, every member of the Methodist Church don't know what the Epworth League is for. It is because they never come to church.

Come to church next Sunday morning and then come to the Epworth League and find out just what an Epworth League is.
