New Oil Swabbed From Spraberry In SW Marlin

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Cowden, Ellenburger failure in Southwest Marlin County, has swabbed new oil from the Spraberry through casing perforations. Bottomed at 13,307 the wildcat was plugged back to 9,146 feet. Last testing reported was for 12 hours. Recovery was 12 barrels of new oil with no water. That oil came through casing perforations at 9,940-9,130 feet. Operator acidized the perforations with 3,000 gallons of acid, after the above gauge, and was preparing to swab and test. This is the first new oil reported from the Spraberry in this project. Location is 680 feet from south and 2,032 feet from west lines of section 30, block 40, T-1-N, T&P survey.

Devonian Oil Is Found On DST In Andrews Wildcat

The Texas Company No. 1-AB State, wildcat in Northeast Andrews County, has shown indications of becoming another deep Devonian strike for the area. A drillstem test, which lasted two hours, was taken in the interval at 13,588-13,593 feet. There was a good blow of air throughout the test. No gas or oil surfaced. Recovery was the 2,000 feet of water blanket used. 1,176 feet of free oil and 279 feet of oil and gas-out water drilling mud. Exact source of the water has not been determined.

Initial open flowing bottomhole pressure was 1,090 pounds. Final bottomhole flowing pressure was 1,420 pounds. Operator plans to drill 15 or 25 feet deeper and take another drillstem test. No. 1-AB State is three miles due west of Texaco No. 1-Z State, recently completed Devonian strike, and six miles due north of the recently opened Maguire (Ellenburger) field.

Drillstem to 600 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 22, block 5, University land survey.

Turner Tests NE Terrell Wildcat In Ellenburger Zone

Fred Turner, Jr., of Midland, wildcat in Northeast Terrell County, is drilling below 11,246 feet in dolomite and shale after taking a drillstem test in the top of the Ellenburger. The test was taken from 11,292 to 11,328 feet. Tool was open five minutes and then tool was closed and re-opened two times in 15 minutes. There was a weak blow of air to the surface for five minutes and then it died. Recovery was 1,300 feet of water blanket of which the bottom 350 feet was gas cut and 20 feet of gas cut drilling mud. There were no shows of oil. No pressures were reported. Top of the Ellenburger was picked at 11,329 feet. No elevation has been reported. Location of No. 1 Noelke is 680 feet from south and 684 feet from east lines of section 50, block B-2, CCSD&RQNG survey and 11 miles southwest of Sheffield.

NE Ector Wildcat Preparing To Test Third Pay Section

V. A. Brill and associates No. 1 David and Inez Paaken, Northeast Ector County wildcat already has flowed oil in commercial amounts from two zones in the Wolfcamp-Permian and it now is preparing to test a third possible pay in the same formation. The discovery flowed oil at the rate of 1,000 barrels per day for 12 hours from perforated section at 4,850-64 feet. That production came after the interval had been treated with 800 gallons of acid. Operator then perforated the casing at 4,730-44 feet and it flowed through a one-half-inch tubing choke at the rate of 280 barrels per day and when the choke was changed to a one-quarter-inch opening the flow fell at the rate of 120 barrels of oil per day. That was natural. Was Acidized. That set of perforations was then treated with 1,000 gallons of acid and it tested for 12 hours at the rate of 522 barrels of pipe line oil per day flowing through a one-half-inch tubing choke. No formation water has been detected. (Continued On Page Seven)

City's 'Airpark' Battle' Nears End

Dixie Crowds Applaud Ike's 'Mess' Crusade

TAMPA, Fla.—(P)—Dwight D. Eisenhower appealed to the women of America Wednesday to throw themselves into the presidential campaign "to correct the things that are wrong with us."

The GOP presidential nominee's appeal to the women voters was made before a cheering crowd estimated at 9,000 gathered at the Tampa ball park.

Tampa followed the lead of Atlanta, Jacksonville and Miami in giving Eisenhower a rousing welcome on his sweep across Dixie that has been booming in such spectacular fashion.

"I am anxious to draw the spirit of women into the campaign I am trying to wage," Eisenhower said after he had been introduced by GOP National Committeewoman Mrs. Helen Lieb.

Standing under a broiling sun on a bunting-draped platform at home plate, Eisenhower declared, "We must recall the spiritual and moral values of our forefathers in government."

Turning to Webster's definition of the word "mess," Eisenhower said it dealt mostly with food. But then he said:

"Mess can mean a confused, inharmonious, disagreeable mixture of things, a medley, a hodgepodge, a situation resulting from blunder or misunderstanding. A muddle. A 'One Rotten Apple'."

"I am down here," Eisenhower said, "to help, if I can, make certain there are two great parties in the South." This statement brought cheers and applause from the crowd. The reception given to Ike along his route posed the question of just how solid the Democratic South will be in the November election.

About 150,000 persons turned out to greet Eisenhower Tuesday in Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., and here in Miami.

The Miami crowd gave him perhaps his heaviest applause when he said: "There can always be one rotten apple in a bushel and it might be nobody's fault. But I can promise you this: If I should ever find a rotten apple in any barrel given to my care, it won't take me three and a half years to get rid of it."

Three soldiers from Walters Air Force Base near Mineral Wells were in the car. Two of them, James Neal and Earl L. McCain, were injured. The third escaped without injuries.

Mrs. Williams and her daughters had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rickery, in Mineral Wells.

The cab and the car collided head-on on Highway 80, some eight miles west of here.

Food Prices Hold On At Year's High

NEW YORK—(P)—The overall level of wholesale food prices held unchanged at the year's high this week after climbing steadily in the previous five weeks, according to the Dun & Bradstreet food index.

At $6.70, the index was 1.8 percent below the year-ago level of $6.82. This year's low to date was $6.31 on April 22.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Stevenson ignores Dirksen Challenge Of Illinois Record

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(P)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson, drafting a major speech on farm policy, made no immediate reply Wednesday to a direct attack on his record in office in Illinois, and there were no indications that he planned an answer.

His strategy, a campaign lieutenant said, will be to ignore Republican accusations and concentrate on a series of "foundation speeches" to set forth his views on what he considers the major issues.

ALL WET—Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, tells a joint labor group gathered for a picnic in Pontiac, Mich., it is too wet to listen to political speeches. A cloudburst broke up the meeting.

Truman Eyes Next Whistle Stop Tour

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman looked forward eagerly Wednesday to his next "whistle stop" tour after his first strenuous, nine-speech, two-day stumping trip for Adlai Stevenson, whom he called a "wonderful candidate."

So enthusiastic was the President over his reception at rear platform talks in West Virginia Tuesday that he assured crowds he already is thinking of campaigning for the Democrats again in 1956.

Truman's scheduled dedication of the Hungry Horse Dam in Western Montana October 1 likely will turn into another, longer "on the ball" tour of the interior by train. And he is ready to keep his special train running after that right up until election time.

It's up to the Democratic National Committee to pick up the check, as it did on the Labor Day trip to Milwaukee, from which the President returned Tuesday night outwardly confident that the cost was worthwhile. The committee paid his transportation costs, including 10 first-class tickets for his bullet-proof private car and 30 minutes of radio network time.

Challenges GOP

Truman opened up on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican presidential nominee, at Parkersburg, W. Va., he called him a "spokesman for selfish politicians" willing to risk atomic war with Russia by loose talk about liberating the enslaved peoples of Eastern Europe.

While he said he thought foreign policy should be kept out of the political campaign, Truman challenged the GOP to make it an issue.

"I'll meet them on any platform and I'll make them jump off that platform before I get through," he said.

Air Force Veteran Asks Court Decree To End Korean War

CLEVELAND—(P)—William W. Cavanaugh, 52, an attorney and Air Force veteran, asked Federal District Court Wednesday to require President Truman to take all U. S. troops out of Korea.

He also asked the court to reprimand the President for sending armed forces into Korea, and said Truman did so by executive order, without Congressional authority.

Cavanaugh asked the court to direct the President to stop U. S. armed forces from engaging in any future acts of war, unless there has been a declaration of war by Congress.

Midland Grand Jury Goes Into Session

A 12-man Midland County grand jury began deliberations Wednesday after being sworn in before Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton in 70th District Court.

John Caselman, operator of the Hotel Scharbauer Coffee Shop, was named foreman of the jury as it went into executive session with District Attorney W. O. Shafer.

Other members of the investigating group include Robert I. Dickey, C. K. Lowe, George Ratliff, Henry D. Murphy, C. R. Mallison, Charles N. Reeder, J. O. Nobles, Cecil H. Sider, G. W. Chancellor, Jr., L. T. Sledge, Jr., and George Kidd.

Nevada Vote Hands Rebuff To McCarran

RENO—(P)—Tom Mechling, young Washington, D. C., newspaperman who drew belly laughs from old-time Nevadans when he filed for the Democratic senatorial nomination, early Wednesday had defeated Alan Bible, 42, powerful Senator Pat McCarran's choice for the job. With about 98 per cent of Tuesday's primary election vote counted, Mechling, 31, led by 600 votes—with only about 800 more to be counted. An unofficial tabulation early Wednesday gave Mechling 15,777 votes to 15,078 for Bible.

Bible had led throughout Tuesday night. But figures from the Southern part of the state favored Mechling, who came to Nevada only seven months ago.

Mechling meets incumbent Republican Senator George Malone, who won re-nomination easily over Lawrence Ebert, Winnemucca oil man. The tally was 11,708 for Malone to 2,864 for Ebert.

In the last days of the campaign, McCarran took to the radio in Bible's behalf. He never had done such a thing for any other candidate he supported.

School Enrollment Continues Upswing

Enrollment in Midland County Schools has reached 7,061 at the close of school Tuesday, the opening day of the 1952-53 year, Supt. Frank Monroe, said Wednesday.

At noon Tuesday, the enrollment was 6,994 with an additional 127 students registered during the afternoon, Monroe said.

The enrollment, Tuesday represented an increase of 1,502 students as compared with last year, Monroe pointed out.

Log Jam Looms As Safety Inspection Deadline Nears

It was Operation Log Jam Wednesday as Midland County motorists made futile, last minute efforts to beat the September 8 deadline for state required inspections.

A Reporter-Telegram survey revealed that the county's 12 inspection stations were operating at full blast, but were having to turn away more vehicles than they could inspect.

Motorists Blamed

While accurate figures were unavailable, all of the inspectors were of the opinion that only a small fraction of the county's 18,358 registered vehicles would be inspected by the deadline.

One inspector said "It's the motorists' own fault. They had all

Cost-Sharing Proposal May Induce Peace

The City of Midland was reported Wednesday ready to end its six-month "Battle for Airpark" and enter into a limited agreement with the Air Force for its use as an auxiliary landing field.

Although the Air Force technically took over use of the field several months ago, its actual use of the facility has been delayed pending the negotiations for a satisfactory agreement with the city.

This agreement apparently was reached Tuesday afternoon in a conference between city officials and Air Force authorities.

It still must be approved formally by the City Council and will be presented for its consideration at 2 p.m. Thursday.

"This is, however," stressed City Manager W. H. Oswalt, "only an agreement for sharing the cost of maintenance at Airpark."

"It has nothing to do with the actual use of the airport since the Air Force already has taken it over on a joint-use basis over the city's protest."

On Weight Basis

The city began looking with favor on the agreement when the Air Force agreed to assume its proportionate maintenance cost on the basis of the weight of its military aircraft in relation to the weight of civilian aircraft using the field.

"Under this arrangement," pointed out Oswalt, "the Air Force would pay the major share of the maintenance cost."

"The Air Force also agreed to include in the maintenance cost the cost of resealing the runways."

"This was one of the major stumbling blocks in earlier discussions since such a project will cost an estimated $50,000."

"The runways need resealing," said the manager, "but for civilian use alone, we could have gotten by with resealing only a portion of one runway and this would cost only about $4,500."

Revenues To Help

The city also will derive major revenues from the gasoline tax it (Continued On Page 12)

Four-Year-Old Girl Stricken With Polio

Midland County's twentieth polio case of 1952 was reported Wednesday by the City-County Health Unit.

The latest victim was identified as Mary Jane Shackelford, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shackelford, 1102 East Maple Street.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the health unit, said the child was rushed to a Fort Worth hospital for treatment following the diagnosis.

Engineer Believes Russians Haven't Single Atomic Bomb

CHICAGO—(P)—"I don't believe Russia has one single atom bomb," Carlton S. Proctor, prominent New York engineer who has worked in Russia, declared Wednesday.

"I think every one of the atomic explosions in Russia was just a premature explosion, in an effort to produce a bomb."

Proctor is president of the American Society of Civil Engineers, one of 64 engineering societies celebrating a Centennial of Engineering opening here Wednesday.

He gave his views on Russia during an interview telling of U. S. engineers' vast accomplishments in the last 100 years.

The White House has announced three atomic explosions in Russia, referring to the second one as "another atomic bomb," without amplifying further. Other sources have estimated Russia has a stockpile of 100 or many more A-bombs.

Proctor declared it takes teamwork and cooperation to make an A-bomb work, and that Russians don't trust each other.

Such cooperation, he said, "is essentially impossible in Russia or any other totalitarian state. There is no possibility of one man trusting another and integrating his efforts with any other man."

"There is no reward for cooperation. The only reward is for exposing someone, even in your own family. Any combination of effort comes under suspicion as a combination against the dictatorship."

Worked In Russia

In 1930, Proctor worked on building Russia's second largest dam, at Sivstroy east of Leningrad. In World War II he was an Army engineer, a colonel, building the Persian corridor road from the Indian Ocean to funnel supplies to Russia.

"The Russians have no confidence in their own engineers," he said, "and I have never met a Russian engineer who was a Communist who was any good."

Soviet jet planes are good, "but the Russians got the practical end of how to build them from Germans whom they took over."

"The Russians have brilliant physicists and mathematicians, brilliant purely in theory. In jet propulsion, they are probably ahead of us in theory. But theory alone doesn't produce an A-bomb, or an army, or morale."

"We've been bluffing and fooled into thinking the Russians have produced more than they have."

DEFENDS GUARDS—Margaret Truman, arriving in New York from Europe, defended her Secret Service guards against Swedish criticism, but admitted "it will be nice not to be followed" when her father no longer is President.

MARILYN REALLY HURT—This is the picture of Marilyn Monroe and two service girls that an Army major requested be killed because it might embarrass parents of the girls. THE CRIBBING SCANDAL, NO. 2—

No Schools Rush To Sign Expelled West Point Men

(Editor's note: This is the second of seven Reporter-Telegram dispatches from NEA Staff Correspondent Murray Olderman on what has happened to 90 West Point cadets since their notorious dismissal a year ago in the cribbing scandal.)

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
The stampede of recruiters expected after the West Point cribbing scandal threw 36 gladiators on the open market never materialized. Not that there weren't nibbles. One Southern university covertly let it be known to a select few that $150 a month and all expenses awaited them south of the Mason-Dixon line.

But publicity made most schools shrink behind their ivy. Nevertheless, such coaching entrepreneurs as Bill Meek of Kansas State and J. B. Whitworth of Oklahoma A&M ran up long distance phone bills. Kansas State bagged five prospects, later lost three of them, and the Aggies netted a couple.

The best headline bets probably wound up at Villanova, which nabbed Gene Filipki, and Kansas, which landed Gill Reich.

Filipki, nominally a second string halfback, broke open the Penn game with two long touchdowns runs. The quick 185-pounder was to have been a big man in '51. Reich was first string safety on defense and backed up Bobby Blaik's quarterbacking. Triple Threat

Filipki, a bona fide triple threat, steps into the starting left halfback job at Villanova this fall. As a high school star in Sacramento, Calif., he was voted Northern California's top prepster of 1948.

"Colonel Blaik was the reason I went to West Point," recalled Gene. "I really was awed when he visited me at my high school. The glamor of wearing a uniform swayed me."

"I cribbed, and I admit it. I do not defend what we did as morally right, but if I had it to do over again I don't see how I could have avoided the cribbing system—it was so prevalent it slapped you right in the face."

He is bitter only because the graduating seniors of '51 "sold us down the river." He insists half the class was implicated in cribbing, yet not a single one was dismissed. Makes Dean's List

At Villanova, Gene made the dean's list for scholastic proficiency his first semester. While sitting out the football season he performed scouting assignments for, guess who—Army.

At Kansas, they hail Reich as the finest back since All-America Ray Evans.

"That's saying a lot since we also have Charlie Hoag," notes publicist Don Pierce. "Gill has a fine per-

Tryouts Slated This Week For 1952 Kiwanis Minstrel

Tryouts will be held this week for the sixth annual Kiwanis musical revue and minstrel. It was announced Wednesday by Tom Campbell, Kiwanis show chairman.

"Here We Go" is the title of the new show now being put together by a group of Midland song and comedy writers. Comedy sketches, that is skits and blackouts, still are needed and anyone interested in writing for the show is asked to contact Art Cole, the show's director, at the City-County Auditorium.

Travel is the theme of this year's show and the revue first act will be a Cook's tour from Alaska to Zanzibar. The second act will be the traditional minstrel show.

The Midland Kiwanis Club presents the show, as it has the last five years, with the proceeds going to that club's boys' and girls' work. Community Theater again will produce this favorite on Midland's Fall entertainment calendar.

"Here We Go" will open September 24 in the City-County Auditorium for a week's run.

"Open To Area"

Open to anyone in this area, the tryout meetings Thursday and Friday nights will be scheduled as follows: Dancers at 7:30; actors, actresses, comedians, and solo dancers at 8; singers at 8:30; and those wishing to work backstage on costumes, props, scene construction and painting, may report at their convenience either evening.

Singers and specialty acts are urged to bring their own music and other material to the tryout sessions. Regular show rehearsals will start next Tuesday evening.

Hope, Bing Pave The 'Road' With Playful (?) Gags Galore

By DOROTHY LAMOUR HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)— People often ask me what it's like to work with Bing Crosby and Bob Hope in those "Road" pictures we make for Paramount. As most of you probably suspect, those highways are paved with a million laughs. The only trouble is that most of the yaks are at my expense.

Like the day I was being psychoanalyzed for a scene in "Road to Bali," latest in the series. In the sequence, the boys ask me to lie down, close my eyes and recall incidents from my past.

"I remember when I was a girl of 14," I began.

"That's as far as I got. Before I could continue, Bob turned to the crew and gleefully shouted:

"Boy, what a memory she's got!"

But that's mild compared to some of the other gags they have pulled on me during the years.

When we made "Road to Singapore," for example, they introduced me to a man who was supposed to be a correspondent for one of the leading French newspapers. They told me he had an assignment to write a profile of me and urged me to be nice to him because he was "one of the most influential newspapermen of Europe."

I spent the entire lunch hour and the rest of the afternoon giving him my life story. When he finished, he thanked me politely, kissed my hand and then told me to drop dead! Needless to say, the "Frenchman" was one of their old vaudeville pals and a professional ribber.

Downbeat Dromedary
They still remind me of the trick they played on me during the filming of "Road to Morocco," the film that featured the talking camels. One afternoon we finished shooting early and went to the projection room to view the "rushes" (film we had shot on previous days).

When one of the camels came on and opened its mouth, guess what came out. My voice singing "Moonlight and Shadows."

The screwballs had taken the sound track of the number from my first film, "Jungle Princess," and dubbed it into the animal's mouth.

Although it wasn't funny to me at the time, I get a big chuckle whenever I recall the time they locked me in a bass fiddle case on the set of "Road to Rio."

It was the final scene before lunch and the boys were supposed to be smuggling me into a hotel inside a bass fiddle case. When the company broke for lunch, they wouldn't let me out of the case. Everybody shouted goodbye and walked off the set.

After what seemed like an hour, Bing (they were there all the time and had only pretended to leave) opened the case and let me out.

If I live to be a hundred I will never forget the awful joke they played on me when we were making "Road to Utopia."

I was having a big dinner party at my house one night when the front door bell rang. My maid answered it and came dashing back into the dining room a few seconds later looking like she had seen a ghost. Most of my guests were ready to run for their lives, too, because right behind her came a huge bear.

Naturally, it wasn't a real bear but I had a tough time convincing my friends. Bing and Bob knew about the party and had paid the man who played the animal in the film to visit us in costume.

They have ribbed me unmercifully about my arsons but the funniest gag they ever staged along that line occurred during the filming of "Road to Zanzibar." I was getting a little fed up with arsons by that time and had indicated my desire to shed the garment once and for all.

I walked into my dressing room one morning and found several huge signs, all claiming that I was unfair to the USW—"Union of Sarong Wearers." Hearing a noise, I turned around. I practically collapsed on the floor with laughter because there in front of me were Bing, Bob and several members of the crew, all clad in colorful sarong.

Yes, sir, I've had a million laughs on those highways and I hope Bing and Bob will take me along every time they hit the "Road."

I practically collapsed on the floor with laughter because there in front of me were Bing, Bob and several members of the crew, all clad in colorful sarong.

Yes, sir, I've had a million laughs on those highways and I hope Bing and Bob will take me along every time they hit the "Road."

They have ribbed me unmercifully about my arsons but the funniest gag they ever staged along that line occurred during the filming of "Road to Zanzibar." I was getting a little fed up with arsons by that time and had indicated my desire to shed the garment once and for all.

I walked into my dressing room one morning and found several huge signs, all claiming that I was unfair to the USW—"Union of Sarong Wearers." Hearing a noise, I turned around. Midland Tourists Visit Tanker, Enjoy Norwegian Hospitality

Texas hospitality knows no language barrier. Vacationing Midlanders swapped hospitality with some Norwegians recently aboard a tanker lying idle in the Port of Corpus Christi.

It all started when Mrs. H. P. MacNeil and son, John Charles, and Elsie Pliska, all of Midland, joined their sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Carruth, Carolyn Ann, Helen and Marie, of Austin on a vacation to Corpus Christi for the purpose of deep sea fishing.

While Carruth was fishing the women took a look around Corpus Christi. At sight of the tanker Miss Pliska, a niece and nephew in tow, went aboard the Norwegian tanker "Beth" and asked to see the ship.

Norwegian hospitality came to light and First Officer Alfred Frilsoe offered to show the inlanders through the seafarer's domain. Miss Pliska beckoned two sisters and another niece and nephew out of hiding.

The ship was named for the youngest daughter of owner Gill Johannessen. It was built in Sweden in 1949 and her home port now is Oslo, Norway.

Shower Fetes Miss Sedlacek

Elaine M. Sedlacek of Midland and formerly of Tacoma, Wash., was honored with an "absentee" shower recently in the home of Hazel Harsted in Tacoma.

Miss Sedlacek is the bride-elect of James M. Perkins of Midland. The couple will be married September 13 in the St. Ann's Catholic Church.

Colored slides sent from Texas by Miss Sedlacek furnished the evening's entertainment.

Neither of the Norwegian women could speak English and not a word of Norwegian was familiar to the three Texans.

With much laughter and waving of hands, the five women were off on a tour of the town that each probably will remember for a long time.

Promises To End Filibusters Amuse Solons Long In Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Political campaign promises of an effort to end Senate filibusters are producing some knowing smiles from Senate veterans these days.

They recall that it has been attempted many times, most recently in 1949, and invariably has failed.

Both Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.), a booster for Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, have pointed up the filibuster issue during the current campaign.

A filibuster is simply a protracted debate on talk to prevent a vote on a controversial issue. In recent years in the Senate this usually has involved such civil rights legislation as anti-poll tax, anti-racial segregation or similar proposals.

Two-Thirds Vote

Under a long respected tradition of unlimited debate, Senate rules now make it virtually impossible to end a filibuster unless at least 64 senators—two thirds of the 96—are willing to do this and stay on the job for long hours to accomplish it.

Technically, a test of cloture—or limiting debate to obtain a vote—can be obtained if 16 senators sign a petition.

The difficulty comes in mustering enough senators to approve what opponents always call "a gag rule."

Usually Southern Democrats line up almost solidly against cloture and with the aid of 10 or 12 senators from other sections have enough votes—33—to block such attempts.

The Democratic platform this year—in an obvious bid for negro and other minority votes—contains some general statements about improving congressional machinery to assure majority action. It refers to both the Senate and House.

Governor Stevenson last week pledged that as President he would use his influence "to get the Senate to change its rules under which filibusters have killed civil rights legislation."

Lodge Pledges Fight

Sen. Lodge, emerging from a conference with Eisenhower, promptly accused Stevenson of a "pious, insincere piece of double talk," noting that Democrats had controlled the Senate for four years and had done nothing about ending filibusters.

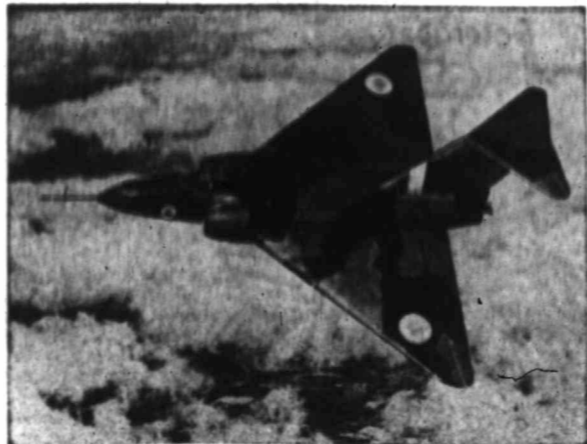

Lodge now is ranking Republican on the Senate Rules Committee and a candidate for reelection. If he wins and Republicans get control of the Senate, Lodge said that as rules chairman:

"I will fight filibusters as long as it takes to end filibusters. It never has been done and I am the boy who wants to do it."

Senate officials said this probably would be a long, long time. They point out that even the rule that allows 64 senators to shut off debate does not apply to any change in the rules of the Senate itself.

And veterans agree that as few as eight senators could conduct a permanent filibuster—that would prevent action on any legislation—if they decided that was the only way to preserve present rules.

Ike's Test Is At Hand

General Eisenhower stands on the threshold of what may prove the most grueling experience of his life. He is entering the intensive phase of his campaign for the presidency.

Since his nomination by the Republicans in early July, the general has been mapping strategy and bunting up on many major issues which lay beyond his ken as a soldier-diplomat.

Now the testing time is at hand. The nation will see in the next two months what capacity Eisenhower has for learning quickly—and from scratch—a host of important things.

His greenness really is a double handicap. Very probably he has had too much advice. He has been pulled and hauled in every direction, sometimes by men who merely want a piece of the nominee for their own selfish purposes.

If the signs are accurate, all this must have left the general considerably confused, and perhaps beset by doubts of the value attaching to the simple tenets of faith he preaches sincerely whenever he finds opportunity.

To crown his initial political labors with victory, Eisenhower must shed doubt and confusion and give forceful notice that he has learned his lessons well.

In other words, from the welter of advice that has showered upon him since nominating time, he must somehow extract the elements of a positive program that will act as a magnet drawing large blocks of the American electorate to his standard.

The people accept Eisenhower as a man of character and as a man of achievement in certain well-defined spheres. He was nominated because a sufficient number of convention delegates felt the people might easily believe these factors qualify him for broader responsibilities.

Whether these factors do indeed so qualify him now is for Eisenhower to demonstrate. He must show the courage to reject bad advice while he accepts good counsel. He must put his own unmistakable stamp on the constructive, positive ideas he selects from the avalanche that has hit him.

The moment is here, plainly, for Eisenhower to be himself above all. Individuals will be angry at the general for rejecting them or their advice. But the voters will have cause for anger—and disappointment—only if he fails to act forthrightly upon the advice he likes.

Only that, if he fails to lay before them a program of real promise for America, with the Eisenhower imprint of sincerity and faith marked indelibly upon it.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by several distinguished guest columnists, today's being Stanley Andrews, technical cooperation administrator in the Department of State.

Stanley Andrews says: Point 4 is simple weapon against communism; Program combines idealism and realism; Technical assistance is "diplomacy of the idealism."

WASHINGTON — There are many weapons which the free world can use to fight communist aggression — military, political and economic weapons. But I believe history may well demonstrate that the most effective weapon we have in the struggle against communism is the Point 4 program.

Like most things of fundamental greatness, Point 4 is very simple. It helps people to help themselves — by teaching and sharing America's scientific knowledge and technical skills with the peoples of the underdeveloped areas of the world.

Point 4 is not a product of our defense effort and it is not a substitute for defense. Point 4 is no less a source of strength for the free world.

Some of the countries with which the U. S. is cooperating through the Point 4 program lie directly in the path of Soviet expansion. In most of these underdeveloped areas the threat of communism is not a military threat, and it cannot be met with military measures.

Guns are no defense against poverty, ignorance, and unrest. In the underdeveloped areas the only sure defense against the spread of communism and other forms of tyranny is a powerful, concentrated attack on disease and hunger and their evil consequences.

Point 4 is our weapon for this attack. Point 4 is a new kind of diplomacy. Point 4 diplomats are dungees and blue jeans diplomats — teachers, health officers, engineers, farm-demonstration agents who work directly with the people in the villages and on the farms.

Point 4 is a people-to-people program. U. S. technicians working with technicians of other countries are not concerned with political problems. In the midst of anti-U. S. disturbances in Iran, American and Iranian technicians continued to work side by side, trying to do a job that means more food, clean water, lower infant mortality, fewer deaths of mothers in childbirth.

Our work with the peoples of the Point 4 countries is very similar in fact, to your own people-to-people efforts. Drew Pearson — The Friendship Train, the Tide of Toys, and the letter — writing campaign between the people of Italian descent in the United States and their relatives in Italy which helped swing the 1947 Italian elections for democracy.

Point 4 has been called idealistic. If Point 4 is idealism, it is hard-headed, practical idealism. There are sound economic reasons behind Point 4. Rising national income, more productive agriculture, and greater industrial activity make other nations better customers for United States' products and commodities. They create markets for American businessmen and jobs for American workers.

Beyond self-interest, the motives for Point 4 are embedded deeply in our American democratic tradition. The peoples of the underdeveloped areas of the world—in Asia, Africa, the Middle East, Latin America—are awakening after centuries of impotence and subjection to outside domination. In the 19th Century they were largely passed over by the industrial revolution and the political revolutions of France and America. Even the most commonplace measures we take in our health and sanitation are unknown to millions of them. Hundreds of millions cannot read or write and have never known the use of the ballot.

The billion human souls in these underdeveloped areas are waking up to the potentialities of life in the 20th Century. Many of them recently have gained national independence. They are learning that hunger, disease and ignorance need not be their everlasting heritage.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

"How do you choose what to play for in this hand?" asks a Danbury correspondent. "When I played the hand, I won the first trick with the ace of clubs, drew trumps, and tried for a 3-2 club break. When this failed I led a diamond from dummy, hoping that East held the ace. He didn't, as you can see, and I lost the slam. My wife told me later that I could have ruffed out the queen of hearts. But how was I to know?"

It isn't necessary to choose a particular line of play in this hand. If you time the tricks carefully you can play for everything.

Correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of clubs and lead out four rounds of trumps, discarding a diamond from the dummy. The fourth trump does no particular good in this case, but South can well afford it, and it may persuade one of the opponents that he is being squeezed.

South next cashes the ace and king of hearts and enters dummy with the king of clubs to ruff a heart.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

It is in the tradition and the history of America that we help them. Point 4 is the vehicle on which scientific knowledge, technical inventions and material progress become traveling companions with our ideals, our hopes and aspirations for achieving real brotherhood among men.

Accomplishment of Program: What has Point 4 accomplished? More than 1,000 TCA technicians are overseas working with some 20,000 nationals in 35 countries. The native "counterparts" of our Point 4 workers are being taught the skills and knowledge of American technicians.

For example, the Etawah agricultural project in India now is run entirely by Indians. In Liberia, Frank Pinder, an extension agent from Florida, has helped the Liberian farmers produce a cash crop by providing 24 cocoa seeds for two cents.

Point 4 workers have reduced crop losses in Lebanon by showing the Lebanese citrus farmers modern ways of picking, shipping and marketing their crops. In Ecuador, Colombia and other Latin American countries health workers have almost eliminated the dread tropical disease yaws. A new disease-resistant rubber tree has been developed in Latin America. Malaria is being brought under control in the Near East.

Perhaps I should close this guest column with a prediction on "the shape of things to come." I am willing to predict that the American people and the peoples of the free world will turn more and more in the years to come to the Point 4 principle not only as a potent weapon against communism, but because technical assistance is the "diplomacy of the future." Even the Russians are imitating Point 4 while their propaganda attacks it.

THE ominous statement from David Carlson made me realize he was in serious trouble, and to give him time to calm down, I said, "I'll unpack your clothes and hang them up for you. They're probably damp too."

I knelt and untied the rope. Inside, on top of his clothes, was a camera, broken into several pieces. Amazed, I lifted it out of the box. "Did you know this was broken?"

"Yes, I know," he said. He rose agitatedly then, and paced back and forth, as though gathering himself to tell me what had happened. But instead he stopped in front of the Renoir Little Girl, and stared at it for a long time. Presently I realized he had begun to cry, silently, his heavy shoulders shaking, the tears spreading over his weather-roughened cheeks.

I stood up and touched him on the elbow. "Go sit down," I said. "I'll get you something."

He stumbled over to the couch and sat down and buried his face in the low, I poured two fingers of Scotch into a glass, put ice water in another glass, and set them on the coffee table in front of him. Then I took his clothes into the bedroom to hang them up, taking as much time as I could doing it.

Finally, out of an understandable curiosity, I asked a cautiously, "What had happened?"

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Labor Union Campaign Funds Never Reached Highest Goals

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Talk about multi-million dollar campaign funds raised by the labor unions to influence elections seems to have been pretty well exaggerated. With some 15,000,000 members in labor unions, various drives for "a buck a member" had a potential total of $15,000,000. But they never have achieved anything like such results.

CIO's Political Action Committee had its best year in 1950, when it received contributions of $1,300,000. CIO now claims about 6,000,000 members, so this represents one out of five contributing.

This money was divided half for national headquarters and half for state and local organizations for congressional and other campaigns.

With 18 salaried employees in Jack Kroff's PAC headquarters, the big job is research on congressional records for local campaigns, preparation of speaker's handbooks and similar activities. Printing eats up most of the budget. A series of vest-pocket booklets on "52 Facts" already has circulated more than 3,000,000 copies.

AFL's Labor's League for Political Education has a more complicated financial structure. Its political activities are supported by voluntary contributions, and the best collection it ever has made was $600,000 also in 1950.

In 1949 LLPE started out to get $2 a head from every AFL member. It was "too much. Next year they cut it down to $1 and did better, but still not too well, considering that the organization claims 8,000,000 members. All this $600,000 was sent to the states for local political work.

The educational part of LLPE is supported by a straight 10-cents-a-member assessment. This raised another $600,000, and since the garment workers and some of the railway unions have their own political kitties. When this educational work runs out, AFL calls for another assessment.

The AFL-sponsored Frank Edwards radio show costs almost $1,000,000 a year. Formerly the federation and LLPE sponsored this show jointly, and each organization published its own weekly tabloid newspaper. The two newspapers now are combined and AFL headquarters foots the bill.

CIO-PAC has been polling its members through local union meetings on what they regard as the most important issue of the campaign. In Ohio slips of paper were passed out for the members to write their answers. The results came as something of a surprise, in that they reflected local conditions predominantly.

In Youngstown and the other steel centers, repeal of the Taft-Hartley law headed the list, largely because it had been made an issue by the steel strike. In Cincinnati, unemployment insurance came up first. In Columbus it was workmen's compensation.

Nationally, the top issues are regarded as continuation of the liberal policy, price control and inflation, strengthening of the Social Security system, avoidance of war and maintenance of world peace.

St. Lawrence Seaway advocates got a ray of hope for their cause recently when Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine, Texas, resigned his congressional seat to take a job with the National Coal Association.

The coal industry—including both the mine owners and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers' union—has been second only to the railroads in opposition to development of the St. Lawrence Seaway and its electric power projects.

In Congress, Representative Pickett was a member of the House Public Works Committee, where he was a leading opponent of the St. Lawrence project. It was his vote and voice that were given credit for keeping the St. Lawrence authorizing legislation from being reported out by the committee for a vote on the floor.

September 9 is the immediate election day, with eight states holding their primaries for state office on that date. They are Arizona, Colorado, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Utah, Vermont, Washington and Wisconsin.

Major interest centers on the Wisconsin race, where Senator Joe McCarthy's seat is at stake. There are five Republicans seeking the senatorial nomination, which splits the GOP opposition vote and gives McCarthy some advantage.

Leonard Schmitt is the strongest of his Republican opponents. Running for the Democratic senatorial nomination are Henry Reuss and Tom Fairchild.

Senator McCarthy is in Wisconsin, recuperating from a serious operation for hernia. The operation was successful, but his doctors have ruled out all political campaigning. Whether he will be able to make any speeches or appearances on his own behalf before the primary still is uncertain. But this may give him a good "sympathy" vote.

Milk Price Boost Indicated In City

Representatives of the dairy industry in Midland indicated Wednesday that this area may be due for an increase in milk prices in the near future. The current drought and high feed prices, with a shortage of the milk supply, are factors in the anticipated price boost.

Producers in Wichita Falls received a 25 cent raise in their payments for milk this week. Price per hundred pounds of milk went up from $6.40 to $6.75. Decision on whether retail prices would climb also is expected this week.

The current price paid for milk in Midland is about $7.21 per hundred pounds. Much of the milk consumed in this area is shipped in, causing a higher price than that prevalent in other regions. Milk retails for 37 cents a quart homogenized and 36 cents a quart pasteurized here.

H. B. Schauer, manager of The Borden Company in Midland, said that milk is in very short supply at present, and people in this area may not be able to get enough in the future. But he held out hopes for the future. Borden is sponsoring a million dollar program in Lovington, N. Mex. which Schauer believes will do much to relieve the expected scarcity of milk.

The Borden Company has discovered that the region is good dairy country, and they have persuaded many farmers there to turn to milk production. Lovington is only 120 miles from here, and much of the milk produced there will be brought into the Midland retail outlets.

Project Pygmalion

HE drank it hastily, and the water too. Then a reaction set in, and he began to shiver violently, his teeth chattering. I made him put on my baggy tweed smoking jacket.

"I'll build a fire," I offered. "And you can tell me about it if you wish. Go back to the beginning."

"Well, you see," he began, "I won the raffle down at work. This big turkey, like I told you. I didn't find out until this morning that I had the lucky number, and I got some vegetables and stuffed, and a pumpkin pie at the bakery. And I phoned her folks we weren't coming over tomorrow. When I got home, she wasn't there. So I figured I'd surprise her. I put all the stuff away and cleaned up the apartment some. And there was Christmas cards on the radio, and it was snowing, and I fell like—aw, you know how a guy feels on Christmas."

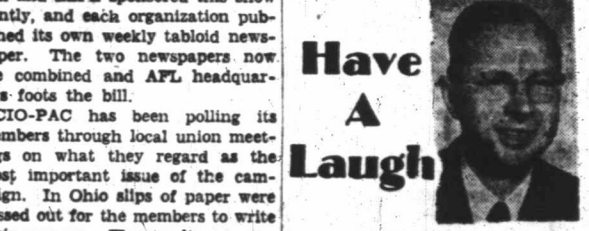

He paused, then said, "I guess I better go ahead and tell you everything. You wouldn't tell anybody about this, would you?"

"No. It's nobody else's business." "Well, the worst part is that were both cockeyed drunk, and the people downstairs threatened to call the police. Christmas Eve too! And me there with this turkey and waiting for her to come home. So I've left her, for good. And she just laughed, and went out with that guy for more beer. I could—I could kill her! And he broke down again, sobbing incoherent words into the towel.

"I should think," I remarked, "that you'd probably be driven to drink too, with all that going on."

HE slumped at the air fiercely. "Not me. Not after I see what it does—what it did—to my pop. I swore I'd never let drink get me like it did him. You oughta see what they were—both pretty high. This Bob lays down on the couch and says, 'Let's all have a beer.' And I guess it was the night of him laying there like it was his own house that got me."

Nixon Pledges Campaign Against Reds, Corruption

ROCKLAND, MAINE.—(P)—Senator Richard Nixon moved on Wednesday to make "Communist subversion and corruption" in government "the theme of every speech from now until the election."

The Republican vice presidential candidate began Tuesday night in Bangor what he announced as "the most intensive campaign in the history of American politics."

Nixon, presented by a toastmaster as "the nemesis of Alger Hiss and other such miscreants," will wind up his second day of Maine campaigning with a Stanford address Wednesday night.

Before then, he will have spoken to Rockland and Auburn-Lewiston audiences. He is traveling by chartered plane.

"I had hoped, frankly," Nixon said, at Bangor, "that Communist subversion in the United States would not be an issue in the campaign. I had supposed we were all against communism."

"But Mr. Stevenson has raised the issue. He has made light of the Communist threat. He has demonstrated a shocking lack of understanding of this deadly serious matter."

Talk of "Phantom" "He has referred to it not as a 'red herring' but as a phantom in our midst."

"In Augusta on Saturday night I am going to talk about the Communist 'phantoms' and what they have done. I think you will be surprised."

Nixon told a press conference he would name names when and if it became necessary in discussing the Administration's record.

The 39-year-old Navy veteran told a cheering Bangor audience of 600 he will campaign on the record of the Truman Administration.

"We can anticipate charges of smear, hatcheting and name-calling as we delve into the Administration's sorry record," he said, "so let's get one thing straight right now:

"If the record itself smears, let it smear. If the dry rot of corruption and communism, which has eaten deep into our body politic during the past seven years, can only be chopped out with a hatchet—then let's call for a hatchet."

PHILADELPHIA.—(P)—A program for seeking higher wages on the basis of higher production, as well as living costs, was approved Wednesday by the CIO International Oil Workers Union.

The program, intended as a guide for collective bargaining in the coming year, was drawn up by the union's policy committee. It was approved by 800 delegates at the twenty-second annual convention of the union.

O. A. (Jack) Knight, president of the union, estimated the productivity increase should amount to about three per cent of the workers' annual salary at present. Oil workers now average about $2.25 per hour.

The Sad, Sad Somebody said it to Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend.

The Sad, Sad Somebody was now the least unhappy he ever was all because his cousin, Moss Morose, was coming to see him. Oh, but Moss Morose had phoned to say he was coming with all his children and - worry, worry, worry - how many children did Moss Morose have with him?

"Well," said Daddy Ringtail, "he has all of them with him, I guess, because he is bringing them all to visit."

"I know, I know," said the Sad, Sad Somebody. But the Sad, Sad

Advertise Or Be Forgotten

he listened. He has a sad, sad face, you know. It makes everyone sad who sees it.

From up the Elephant Path came a noise of children. Why, the noise was almost enough to be all the children in the world, but they weren't. They were only the children of Moss Morose, and here they came!

Big children, little children. Tall children, short children. Fat children, skinny ones. Blue eyes, brown eyes, grey eyes, green eyes. Nose big, noses small, some with freckles, or none at all. And each child had a mouth, and every mouth was open with loud shouts and cries of joy with the visit there to the forest.

"Children, whoa!" shouted Moss Morose, because there he ran out leaping in front. "Children, whoa!"

The children whooped and stood up still while Moss Morose began to count them. "Have to be sure I don't have any of the neighbor's children," Moss Morose explained to Daddy Ringtail, and tomorrow I'll tell you what happened next.

By HAL BOYLE
HOMETOWN, U. S. A.— (AP)—
Trellis Mae Peeble, America's average wife, felt a little uneasy as she entered the office of Dr. Alphonse Cortez, the celebrated psychiatrist. Nervously she sat in the waiting room studying a faded photo of a football team hung on one wall. Dr. Cortez had put it there for a reason. He felt his new patients had more confidence in him if they knew he had played left tackle for good old Psychosomatic University.

"The doctor will see you now, Mrs. Peeble," the nurse said in her professionally cheery voice.

Trellis Mae hesitantly entered the other room—and Dr. Cortez immediately look command of the situation.

"You are in tension, madam."

Indian War Clubs Boom Again In 12-3 Rampage Over Colts

By COLE ROUTH
The deadly bats of the Midland Indians, silenced in defeat two games in a row, boomed again Tuesday night.

In a dramatic bit of revenge, they chased two hurlers to the showers and when the shouting was over, the Indians had tucked away a 12-3 victory over the San Angelo Colts and moved within two and one-half games of the Longhorn League second-place position.

The Indians did it the hard way Tuesday night and, while, it looked like the jinx of the San Angelo hurlers was going to be stretched into a third game.

Sunday afternoon, the Colts' Mario Sandana had tossed a five-hitter that beat the Indians by a 5-1 score.

And Monday night, the scoreboard read the same as Hal Swearingin stungly tossed a two-hit ball game.

Tuesday night it was time for Leo Lozano, a chunky little slowballer, to take a crack at Midland and for the greater part of six innings he had the Indians befuddled as he expertly mixed his slow one with a sharp-breaking curve and an occasional speedball.

His teammates didn't let him down as they jumped on Herb Dwire, the Indians' rookie right-hander, for seven hits in the first four innings.

Roy Dacko, the Colt catcher, started it in the second inning by slapping the first pitched ball into left field and a moment later he romped home as Cotton Russell sent a line-drive two-bagger into far left field.

In the third inning, the Colts picked up steam.

Burns Draws Walk
This time, Left Fielder Glenn Burns drew a walk, moved to third on John Taysan's two-bagger and slipped home when George Hays lifted a high fly to left field. Taysan himself scored on Russell's second successive two-bagger to give the Colts a 3-0 advantage.

With their hitless first two innings behind them, the Indians began their uphill battle in the last of the third.

Dwire stood there without lifting his bat from his shoulder and drew a walk. Earl Bossenberry singled to right and moved to second on a walk. They both came home when Julio de la Torre lined a safety into center field.

But still they trailed and they continued to tag along behind until the fifth inning when Glen Selbo, the Indians' rangy right fielder, slapped a liner that disappeared over the left field fence, still on the rise.

That tied it up, 3-3, and the crazy Lozano and the strengthening Dwire settled down to what was expected to be a pitcher's duel.

Storm Hits Colts
It was that for only one inning because the storm broke over the Colts in the seventh.

There was one out already posted on the scoreboard when Selbo and De la Torre singled in succession. Manny Temes loaded the bases when Hays booted his grounder at shortstop.

Selbo came across for a score on Bill Brown's outfield fly and De la Torre and Temes raced home on Oakland Dinkel's slinging single into right center field. Tanner slammed a two-bagger into the same spot to score Dinkel.

By then Lozano was through and Clarence Tinkler came in with just enough on the ball to put out the fire.

It didn't stay put out, though.

In the next innings, it raged even hotter and Tinkler finally had to turn over the mound chores to lanky Dick Palmer.

Hughes Gets On
Recooter Hughes started it off by drawing a base on balls. Selbo followed with a single, his third hit of the night, and De la Torre was safe on another infield error, which let Hughes score. Two more hits—a single by Brown and a two-bagger by Manny Temes—brought in three more runs and Brown made it an even dozen by scoring on Gordon Tanner's long fly to center field.

Tuesday night's win was the second for Dwire over the Colts in the five-game series. He hurled a six-hitter Friday for a 6-3 triumph. His record now stands eight wins and six losses for the season.

The Indians move over to Big Spring Wednesday night to open a two-game series with the league-leading Broncos. Israel Ten (20-8) is due on the mound for the Tribe.

The Indians return Friday night for a doubleheader with the Roswell Rockets. They will end their home schedule Saturday night against the New Mexicans.

LOOKING IN ON THE MIDLAND BASEBALL RESERVATION— Ace Pitcher Nicolls Leaves Hospital

By JIM LINDSEY
Deep pain streaked his pale face. Keith Nicolls had just reached the Indian clubhouse Monday night. A roll into second base had pulled a left shoulder muscle. Efforts to continue on the mound against the San Angelo Colts were in vain. The ace righthander had to give it up.

Catcher Carl Barbour helped Nick remove his clothing for the post-game shower. He shook his head and remarked with serious facial expression, "It always happens to Midland."

"That's the way it goes," the 24-game pitching winner commented. Like hundreds of fans who sat in the stands when Nicolls went down, he and Barbour realized the full extent of the pitching loss in the down-to-the-wire stretch.

The Indians play three doubleheaders in four days. They go in a twin bill with Roswell here Friday night, meet the Rockets in a single game Saturday night and move to Artesia for twin sets Sunday and Monday.

Nicolls left the Western Clinic Hospital at noon Tuesday. Attending physicians expect him to be recovered sufficiently in a week to resume mound chores. The hurler is suffering from extensive soreness. But he considers himself fortunate in that no fractures resulted—not even a chipped bone from the fast lunge to beat a double-play ball.

Indian Right Fielder Glenn Selbo knows his way around on a basketball court, too. The 26-year-old athlete landed a berth on the all-Big Ten Conference basketball team. The honors came while he played guard with the University of Wisconsin.

Selbo finished his basketball career in 1947 and spent three years on pro teams before turning to baseball in the West Texas-New Mexico League as a member of the Lamesa Lobos and later the Abilene Blue Sox.

The native Wisconsin outfielder plans to attend Hardin-Simmons University this fall to work for his master's degree. He holds a BA degree from the University of Wisconsin with a major in mathematics.

Selbo likes Midland. He has asked about the possibilities of teaching and coaching in the public school system.

The Indian pennant fund went to $585 with the $94 contributed by fans at Tuesday night's Midland-San Angelo game. The Chamber of Commerce is receiving gifts for the fund, urging that baseball's faithful rally in a show of appreciation for entertainment furnished during the Summer and the playoffs yet to come.

Earl Bossenberry, the Indian first sacker, hasn't neglected studies while ably handling duties with the Warriors. He carried on an accounting course by correspondence in connection with work on a degree in business administration.

Bossenberry will be a junior this fall at Michigan State Normal.

Several Indians will continue baseball in winter leagues.

Gordon Tanner is to head south to become a catcher with a Mexico City club. Pitcher Israel Ten and Julio de la Torre, third baseman, will return to their home state. Ten comes from Puerto Rico and Julio hails from Cuba, as you know.

President Marion Plynt of the Indians declares all rabid baseball fans aren't men. Members of the opposite sex phone often to express their observations on the Tribe as a whole or cast disparaging remarks about an individual player.

The telephone calls aren't without commendation. Some whisper, "change her attitude overnight. Naturally, winning or losing of a game governs the tone of the call in most instances."

That Indian sweet tooth doesn't seem liberal in remembering Jay Hany's players with homemade candy and cakes and other delicacies. A large chocolate cake is one of the latest gifts reaching the Indian clubhouse.

Odessa may reach its goal of 75,000 overall attendance at Longhorn League games this season. The old record is 73,226 established when the Odessa club played 77 home games in 1950. Now the home schedule is limited to only 70 contests.

Midland should go above the 65,000 mark for the 1952 campaign, Indian Business Manager Horace Busby believes. Last year's total was around 60,000, he recalled.

San Angelo's attendance has dropped sharply and Odessa is likely to top the circuit in paid attendance. San Angelo is reported to be talking about checking out of the league.

Big Spring Takes Lead In Longhorn

ODESSA (AP)—Big Spring moved into first place in the Longhorn League Tuesday night with a 6-4 victory over erstwhile leader Odessa.

It was a free-swinging affair in which the Broncos registered 14 hits and the Oilers 14.

Ricky Gonzalez led Big Spring with four hits and Charley Weber paced Odessa with four singles and a walk.

The Broncos used Oscar Reguerra, Reggy Gorrals and Gil Guerra on the hill to beat Odessa's 21-game winner, Evello Ortega.

Big Spring got four in the second. Juan Visteur and Al Costa singled and Al Valdes singled out. Buddy Grimes doubled to score Visteur and Costa tallied as Catcher Felix Castro dropped the throw-in.

Reguerra singled and Gonzalez singled behind first base with two runs counting as Leo Eastham fired the ball into left field.

Score In Fourth
Singles by Valdes, Gonzalez and Ozile Alvarez produced another pair in the fourth.

Odessa picked up one in the second, chased Reguerra with another in the fifth and added two in the sixth before Guerra came in to shut the gate the rest of the way. Guerra was the winner.

The score:
R H E
Big Spring 040 300 000—4 14 1
Odessa 001 013 000—4 14 3
Reguerra, Gorrals, Guerra and Valdes; Ortega and Castro.

Drillers Win On Late Rally
ARTESIA (AP)—The Artesia Drillers ripped open a 3-3 ball game with a five-run outburst in the eighth inning here Tuesday night to dump the Roswell Rockets, 8-3.

The Driller win gave them a 3-1 series victory over the hapless Rockets in the last meeting of the two clubs this year.

Jim Ackers led off with a triple in Artesia's game-winning eighth inning. That was followed by three straight walks to force in a run. A catcher's interference forced in still another before John Alonso cleared the bases with a triple.

Ruyle Is Winner
Len Ruyle went the distance in winning, holding the Rockets to five hits. John Graham, who came on in relief in the third, took the loss.

The Rockets scored all their runs in the fourth inning on a pair of singles, a walk and a Driller error.

Driller Catcher Rudy Briner cracked a Longhorn League record when he blasted out a double in the second inning, his fifty-seventh two-base blow of the campaign.

The score:
Roswell 000 300 000—3 8 2
Artesia 011 100 05—8 9 2
Grantham, Graham and Calo; Ruyle and Briner.

Sosa Hangs Up Eleventh Victory
SWEETWATER (AP)—Jesse Sosa, workhorse of the Vernon mound staff, attained his eleventh victory for the last-place club by stopping the Sweetwater Braves, 4-3, here Tuesday night.

Sosa allowed the Braves 11 hits, but kept them well spaced except for the seventh inning, when Sweetwater scored its three runs on three hits and an error.

After the Braves had tied it up 3-3, Vernon counted the winning run in the eighth inning on Bill McElyea's sharp single to center which scored Steve Lagomarsino from second base. Lagomarsino had singled and moved to second on Sosa's sacrifice.

The score:
R H E
Vernon 000 201 010—4 9 2
Sweetwater 000 000 300—3 11 1
Sosa and Neidson; Miller and Finley.

BLACKWELL APPEARS CAPABLE AS YANKS DOWN SOX TWICE
By JOHN REICHLER
AP Sports Writer

The New York Yankees received a quick dividend on their $40,000 investment in Ewell Blackwell. Five days after the purchase of the former National League star from the Cincinnati Reds, the Yankees Tuesday night sent Blackwell to the mound against the Boston Red Sox. The long, lean right-hander responded with a scoreless five-inning performance. He looked quite capable before bowing out for a pinch-hitter. He permitted four singles, fanned four and walked three before retiring because of weariness and the humidity.

It was in the fifth, however, when the Yankees ganged up on Boston Starter Sid Hudson for all their runs to win the nightcap, 4-0, after Rookie Tommy Gotman had hurled an eight-hit, 5-0 shutout over the Red Sox in the afternoon portion of the day-night doubleheader.

Break To Five
The two triumphs ran the Yankee winning streak to five and increased their first-place margin over the idle Cleveland Indians to three and a half games.

Brooklyn's Dodgers, the National League leaders, dropped a pair to Philadelphia's Phillies, 5-3 and 9-3, and were lucky to get out of the

Sampson Disposes Of Jap Net Champ

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—It isn't likely that anyone is going to best Maureen Connolly in this year's National Tennis Championship—at least not before the final. But a few of the fans scattered around the West Side Tennis Club already have had a look at the next Connolly.

She is Julie Sampson of San Marino, Calif., the newly crowned national girls champion, who caused some eye-popping and tongue-wagging Tuesday by the way she disposed of Japan's woman champion, Sachiko Kamo.

Tall And Thin
Julie is a tall, thin reddish-haired girl who appears to be at about the same stage of tennis development as Miss Connolly was a year or so ago.

Little Mo went right on through to win the United States. She has lost only one game in each of her two matches.

KEEPER OF THE GROUNDS—It is the duty of friendly Larry Aleman to see that Indian Park stays in top playing condition. He has been holding down this important job for four years. Aleman came to Midland from Big Spring six years ago.

QUICK DIVIDEND ON $40,000 INVESTMENT—
Blackwell Appears Capable As Yanks Down Sox Twice

City of Brotherly Love in one piece. Two dozen Philadelphia hits plus splendid pitching by Righthanders Robin Roberts and Kral Drews cut the Dodgers' first-place lead over the idle New York Giants to eight games.

Chicago's White Sox climbed into fourth place, vanquishing the Detroit Tigers twice, 6-5 and 7-4. Rocco Kramlich's two-run triple in the ninth won the opener. Marv Grismom won his eleventh in the nightcap.

Washington's Senators, although held to three hits in each game, won both ends of a two-night twin bill from Philadelphia, 3-2 in 10 innings and 5-0, to dump the Athletics into fifth place, only a half-game in front of the Nats.

Debut Impressive
Mike Fornieles, 20-year-old Cuban right-hander, pitched a one-hit shutout in his major league debut for Washington. A second-inning single by Catcher Joe Astroth prevented the youngster from becoming the first pitcher in modern times to pitch a no-hitter in his first big league game.

Blackwell received credit for a shutout victory although he needed help from another National League castoff, Johnny Stein. The ex-Boston Braves' right-hander permitted only one hit in the last four innings. Blackwell was a tired but happy fellow in the Yankee clubhouse after the game.

Dallas Eagles Stumble Again In Flag Chase

By The Associated Press

Dallas' pennant-hungry Eagles were made to bite the dust in awaiting their cinch Texas League flag Tuesday night when Fort Worth's Bill Glane put the league leaders down on a four-hitter.

The Cats, in fact, took all honors in the 7-0 game. Mad for double plays this season, the Fort Worth infield touched off three of the quick killings and ran its season total to 209, one more than that of Beaumont's infield back in 1952.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma City, in fourth place, wants only to beat Tulsa in two games to round out the playoff bracket. Four games ahead of the fifth-place Oilers, Oklahoma City eked out a 2-1 decision. Their twin-bill Wednesday could wrap up the top four.

Shreveport won its seventh straight in chase of Fort Worth for second place. Six games out to five for Fort Worth, Shreveport registered its second shutout in three games, running the loop's total for the year to 132, a new high.

Hugh Sooter stopped Houston, 3-0, for Shreveport, getting the win on six-hit work. Beaumont coasted by San Antonio, 8-5, in the other encounter, outbitting the wild Missions, 13-9. A five-run eighth off Pete Taylor brought about the decision.

Amarillo Gold Sox Join Select Circle In WT-NM League

By The Associated Press

The West Texas-New Mexico League, a bottom-heavy loop through most of the season, began to take on a normal look around its standings Tuesday night when Berger became the third team playing 500 or better.

The Gassers slammed a 12-7 win over Lamasa in a game of 29 hits for their sixty-fifth win against the same number of losses.

Amarillo took over fourth place ahead of Lamasa by tipping past Lubbock, 6-3.

The last-place clubs had it all over the front-runners in the other games. Cellarite Pampa nipped Albuquerque, 3-1, on the five-hit hurling of Ted Gardner.

Art Boland and Dub Akina each collected a homer off Buddy Yount's six-hitter and led Abilene by Clovis, 9-3.

Galveston White Cap Manager Gets Axe GALVESTON (AP)—Harry Gunbert, club president and general manager, had more managerial duties under his thumb Wednesday after the release of Stan Golets as manager of the Galveston White Caps.

Golets said he was "unconditionally released," but Club Secretary Ballinger Mills said Golets asked the club to accept his resignation.

Gaytan Keyoed SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Jackie Blair, Texas featherweight champion from Dallas, fooled around with Francisco Gaytan of Matamoros, Mexico, three rounds Tuesday night and then scored a technical knockout in the fourth of a scheduled 10-rounder.

ON THE FIRING LINE—The Midland Bulldogs must develop a stronger passing attack to cope with 1-AAAA competition. And on the shoulders of these four gridders rests much of this responsibility. Left to right, they are M. A. Rose, Russell Rutledge, Jesse Hatfield and Roy Kimsey. Kimsey is a two-year letterman, left-handed passer and starter at right half. None of the others were starters last year. They'll be trying for the starting call at left halfback.

Bulldog Boosters Choose Howell As New President

Marlan Howell was elected president of the Midland Bulldog Boosters Club in its first meeting of the year at the high school cafeteria Tuesday night. He succeeds Tex Carleton.

Other new officers include Dell Taylor, vice president; and Paul Laverty, secretary-treasurer. Carleton automatically becomes second vice president, an honor accorded retiring presidents.

George Gibson was the outgoing vice president. Conn Thomas served as secretary-treasurer last year.

The nominating committee was composed of Stanley Erskine, Bill Gilmore and Charley Blalock. More than 50 boosters turned out for the inaugural session.

Wesley Martin, director of special services for the Midland public school system, explained the method of handling this year's ticket sales to the group. He said approximately 1,700 football season tickets already had been mailed out to holders of seats from last year.

At 6 p.m. Wednesday, 3,000 season tickets will be placed on sale in the foyer of the high school auditorium.

Tugboat Jones, head football coach, was introduced. He estimated athletic gate receipts this year would total $34,000, with expenditures of approximately $26,000. Questioned by the group, he explained the high cost of supporting a football team to them. It costs more than $100 to put one boy on the playing field, he said.

Coach Jones said it is too early to predict the prospects of the Midland football team. He said the Bulldogs had many weaknesses to be corrected before regular season play.

Jones said that defense was the principal problem. "We've got to find the right man for the right slot," the coach said. "We have a lot of work to do before the season opens."

The Bulldogs will start against Lamasa September 19 in Midland. Need for a halfback appears a top offensive problem, Jones said. The Bulldogs will have to develop a passing attack, too, the mentor told the Boosters.

"We won't know where we are until after a few days workouts," Jones said. Fuller Report Des. Jones will give a more complete report on the Bulldogs at the first regular meeting of the Boosters Club at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

Supt. Frank Monroe praised the coaching staff for its excellent care of equipment. Scouting assignments already have been made up, he said.

Monroe assured that the athletic department was operated on a business-like basis. The Boosters Club is expected to reach a membership of 500 this year. Dues are $2.50.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, seeking to break the major league club fielding record, also are well represented among the individual fielding leaders today.

The pennant-bound Dodgers, who boast a .984 defensive mark, contribute third baseman Billy Cox, shortstop Pee Wee Reese, catcher Roy Campanella and outfielders Carl Furillo and Andy Pafko to the National League's list of top men.

If the Dodgers continue their present pace they will eclipse the existing team record of .983, established by the Cleveland Indians in 1947 and again in 1949.

Cox heads the third sackers with a .982 average. Willie Jones of the Philadelphia Phillies is second with a .974 rate.

Reese is deadlocked for the shortstop lead with Boston's Johnny Logan at .975.

Campanella holds a slight edge over Del Rice of St. Louis. The burly negro catcher shows a .993 mark to Rice's .994.

Along with Sid Gordon of Boston, Furillo and Pafko rate as the cream of the National League flycatchers.

Johnny Ligon of Boston is the front-runner among the shortstops at .990.

New York's Gil McDougald, with 19 bobbles out of 549, is the leader among the third basemen with a .971 average.

NEW SEER OF SUNDOWN—Science Takes Net Umpires Off Spot

By GAYLE TALBOT

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The length of time between sunsets and pitch darkness doesn't mean a great deal to the average person and there is no reason it should. However, if you are thinking of running a tennis tournament it is a very good thing to know.

If there is going to be a really nasty incident in the course of a tournament, chances are high it will arise when some player who is ahead in the deciding sets wants to keep on playing and his opponent claims he no longer can see to hit the ball. The decision always is a tricky one for the referee, but he can at least make an intelligent stab at the right answer if he knows his twilight.

There is a man here, a chipper retired naval engineer named Edward O. Cutler, who can take up exactly what minute the sun will go down at any spot in the world on any given day in the year.

Every year before the national championships begin, he sits down and draws up a chart showing precisely what the light conditions will be in the West Side Tennis Club Stadium minute by minute for the 10 days of play.

With his trusty chart at hand the official referee knows for example that the sun will duck behind the metropolitan hills Wednesday at exactly 6:24; that at 6:32 it will be necessary to halt play and that at 6:52 it will be as dark as the inside of a mule's stomach.

Thus armed, the referee is able to plan ahead. When things threaten to get sticky in an important match he simply strolls out stiff-legged and advises the umpire when to call it off right on the spot.

This takes the umpire off the spot and forestalls a lot of arguments. Cutler has been providing the chart as a hobby ever since 1939, when there was the grand-daddy of a row about playing the final set of a match between Frank Guernsey of this country and Ferenc Fencso of Yugoslavia. The system's only weakness, an Cutler readily admits, is that all bets are off on a cloudy day.

COKER TO PLAY WITH MUSTANGS

It appeared Wednesday that Stan Coker, all-district tackle for the Midland Bulldogs last year, will play at Southern Methodist University this Fall.

Rusty Russell, head Mustang coach, and two assistants came for Coker a week ago. It was learned Wednesday, he has remained on the Southern Methodist campus.

Coker had informed the press that he intended to attend Baylor University this Fall. He has played in three all-star games in recent weeks.

Snavelly Switches To Split T Play

By HARRY GRAYSON, NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—The trend in football this Fall is to the split T and spread. Even Carl Snavelly has been bitten, and that's a major concession. When practically everybody else was stampeding to the modern T with man-in-motion, the Old Mousetrapper said, in effect, that he wouldn't be found dead with it.

Snavelly says his reasons for changing are not a loss of faith in the soundness and possibilities of the single wing, but the fact that the North Carolina personnel at present and for the next Autumn or two seems definitely better adapted to T play than the old order.

You also hear that Snavelly yielded to alumni pressure, some of the latter suspecting he was not keeping pace with the times. These obviously have not seen the Princeton varsity and Charley Caldwell's single wing and buck-lateral series of the last two campaigns.

"So far we have worked almost entirely on the standard split T, and it is unlikely that we will get much farther than that during this first season," asserts Snavelly.

"As to the material leading to the departure, we do not have a tailback who possesses the combination of Carl Snavelly's running, passing and kicking ability that a single-wing tailback should have. We have only one player who has the requirements of a good blocking back and this man, because of a shoulder injury, is likely to become unavailable at any moment. We have no back with the combination of speed, blocking ability and pass-catching talent which fits in so well at the wingback position."

Three Fullbacks At Same Time Snavelly's idea is to have three fullbacks competing with halfbacks. "Much of our backfield strength is confined to several fullbacks who can run with the ball, but who do not pass, spin or handle the ball well," he explains.

"They are accomplished fullbacks, but only one could be used at a time in the single wing. In the T, we can employ three of these men at once.

"We are without an experienced quarterback, but our superior passers have better aptitude for the quarterback post than tailback duties. With what we have, we feel sure that we will be more successful developing one or two quarterbacks than in turning out a star tailback."

The Tar Heel line also pointed Snavelly toward the split T. "Our biggest and more-capable linemen have known marked inability to pull out and lead interference," he says. "They do much better blocking in the line, or getting through for down-field blocking."

Couldn't Work Both Sides Of Street Biggie Munn uses a dab of everything at Michigan State, but Snavelly couldn't even work both sides of the street at Chapel Hill.

"Last year we tried to combine the single wing and split T, but found we had too much offense for our boys to master or use effectively," he says.

"Worst of all, the personnel requirements of the single wing definitely conflicted with those of the T. I was forced to the conclusion that the combination was not practical for us. It might easily be practical for Michigan State and other teams, but their personnel obviously must be different than ours."

Snavelly would just as soon not be presented as an authority on the T. He prefers to wait until he has worked with it a year or so.

"By then maybe I can qualify as a contributor on the subject," he concludes.

Carl Snavelly was one of the great masters of the single wing for 25 years—at Bucknell, Cornell and North Carolina.

It's pretty late for the Old Mousetrapper to be changing his line.

School Buses On Roads Add Need For Driver Alertness

"Children should be seen and not hurt," summarizes the warning issued Wednesday by Wesley N. Martin, director of special services for the Midland Independent School District.

He pointed out that children do things when they are excited they wouldn't do otherwise, and motorists should be on the lookout for children especially in the vicinity of schools.

Drivers on the highways, too, have reason to use added caution during the school year, Martin said. Midland's school bus system extends many miles from the city, and their safety depends not only on the bus drivers but also on motorists on the roads the buses must travel.

Thirteen buses, including three new vehicles, started out on their scheduled routes Tuesday. They will record 175,000 passenger-miles during the school year. Two additional buses will be kept in reserve, one for extra duty and one for possible new routes.

All the buses have been repaired, reupholstered, had tires and batteries checked, and every other possible provision taken to assure maximum safety. Each one carries its safety inspection sticker, and each driver has a chauffeur's license. As required by law, fire extinguishers have been placed aboard the school buses.

Tent City Springs Up At 'Plowville'

KASSON - DODGE CENTER, MINN. —(AP)—"Open for business" signs blossomed Wednesday around the huge circus-like tent city erected for the combined plowing-political contests coming to this South Central Minnesota farming area Saturday.

"Now serving sandwiches and hot lunches," say the signs in front of many of the canteen eateries. They were among the first concessions to get in place for the National and Minnesota State Plowing Contests Friday and Saturday. Operators of the establishments mostly are church groups. Their big business will come Saturday, when crowds estimated at up to 100,000 persons are expected to converge at "Plowville" to hear the next President of the United States.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for President, will speak at noon. Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, will mount the same stand four hours later.

Some Plowing, Too

In between and probably during the speeches, farmers on tractors will exhibit their plowing prowess before the trained eyes of judges.

Concessionaires found they wouldn't have to wait until Saturday to do good business. There are a lot of hungry men already at Plowville. In fact, a veritable army is bivouacked there now.

Carpenters are flooring tents and building restrooms. Power company workers are setting poles and stringing miles of lines. Farm implement men are hauling machines and setting up exhibits. Communications crews are installing switchboards, telephone booths, and all types of communication lines.

Scores of tents already are in place, and many more will go up. Long rows of shiny tractors are lined up for the farmers who'll compete in the plowing competition.

An intense onlooker has been Alf Larson, a Kasson farmer. Larson recalls it was he who last year invited the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts to hold their 1952 contests in Minnesota.

Complications Loom

"I'm amazed by all this," he said as the town of tents and tractors grew.

Chairman of the reception committee for the big day, Larson thinks the appearance of Eisenhower and Stevenson will draw many persons more interested in politics than farming.

"A little knowledge of soil conservation should rub off onto them," he said. Larson thinks also farmers who come mainly to watch the plowing are bound to get more interest in politics.

Larson feels that as chairman of the reception committee, he should see to it that Eisenhower and Stevenson don't meet face to face.

"But I'll be switched if I know how we're going to avoid it," he said.

D-LINE DADDY HELD FOR TRIAL

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— With wives Nos. 14, 15 and 16 on hand, Francis H. Van Wie, 67, Tuesday was ordered held for trial on two bigamy charges.

The onetime San Francisco conductor known as the "Ding Dong Daddy of the D Line" was jailed in lieu of $1,500 bail, after the three women testified at his preliminary hearing they still are married to him.

Van Wie will be arraigned September 17.

Larry Lees Named Toastmaster Prexy

Midland's Toastmaster Club named Larry Lees its new president Tuesday night and ventured a guess that Adlai Stevenson also would win a presidential election.

The Stevenson prediction was the result of the evening's table topic, "Prognostication of the Future," by Dr. Henry Schlichting, Jr.

Other officers elected were Bill Key, vice president; George Brown, secretary; Ben Hays, treasurer; Lloyd DeArmen, sergeant-at-arms, and Dr. Schlichting, deputy governor.

H. A. Berg, toastmaster of the evening, presented the following speakers:

Lees, "Should Housewives Collect Taxes from Domestic?"

George Studdert, "The Panama Canal Locks."

John Braue, "Motivation."

Criticism was Nils Walker, and President Braue presided.

Boatner Arrives In U. S. For Duty

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Maj. Gen. Hydon L. Boatner, credited with restoring order in Korea prison camps after a series of Communist uprisings, flew in early Wednesday with word that prisoner facilities in Korea have been completely reorganized.

Boatner stopped here about an hour on his way to San Antonio to take over his new post as deputy commander of the Fourth Army. He said conditions in prison camps now are very satisfactory, and that they are being operated in accordance with the rules of the Geneva Convention.

Two new routes have been established this year for school buses. One is serving the Pegasus Field, and the other picking up children in the Driver-Midkiff Field area. These are the two longest routes of the system, but it is expected that no school bus will require more than an hour to deliver students to their homes.

Martin personally has traveled each bus route at least twice this year before school began. His seasoned drivers are all thoroughly familiar with their old routes, which they have again this year. Five new drivers have been added, and each made a test run of his route before school opened.

The drivers starting out for the first time this year are: Otis Gregg, Bus 18; Jessie Crawford, No. 4; E. C. Blair, No. 8; C. W. Griffith, No. 12; and Herman Gunter, No. 7.

Martin has a proud record to uphold this year. Not a single child was hurt in the preceding school year of Midland school buses.

He had some pertinent tips for motorists to observe to protect this standing. He reminds them that it is against the law to pass a stopped school bus without first coming to a complete halt and then passing at a speed of 10 miles an hour. At any time a driver observes a school bus, he should proceed with caution.

The entire group is numbered in sequence, but not one of them carries the number 13. It is not a bow to superstition, but rather a custom, somewhat like hotels which "omit" a thirteenth floor.

Senator Byrd Gives Positive 'No' To Bid Of MacArthur Party

WINCHESTER, VA. —(AP)— Regardless of how he feels about the presidential election, Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) apparently has no intention of taking part in any third party movement.

There hasn't been any word so far on the presidential choice of the senior Virginia senator, a foe of the Truman Administration and a Virginia delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

Most observers believe Byrd will maintain his strict election until after the November election without coming out for either the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, or the Republican candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But Tuesday, Byrd did try to spike a movement by the newly formed Constitution Party to wage a campaign for electoral votes for him as a vice presidential running mate to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

A spokesman said Byrd had wired Bard A. Logan, Constitution Party convention chairman in Texas, to have his name taken off the ballot there. The action came, the spokesman said, after Byrd was informed that a MacArthur-Byrd ticket had been filed in Texas.

It was the first reaction from Byrd regarding the new party which was formed over the weekend in Philadelphia. He had said previously only that he had "no contact with the group."

Frenchman, Hero Of Korean Battles, Becomes American

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— A young Frenchman who traded his royal coat of arms for a combat infantryman's badge formally renounced his title in U. S. District Court Tuesday to become an American citizen.

The former Count Patrick Marie Hubert de Sercey, 21, fresh from combat in Korea, can trace his family back to William the Conqueror.

De Sercey, now a corporal in the U. S. Army, came to America six years ago and entered the Army last year.

The corporal's mother, the former Countess Ellen de Sercey, became a citizen last February and now lives in Kennett Square, Pa.

'Shots' Give Pre-Season Relief In Many Cases Of Hay Fever

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The most regular type of allergy is Fall hay fever. Millions of sufferers from this annoying condition can tell within a day or two when their trouble will begin.

The reason for this is that the pollens to which they are sensitive—usually members of the ragweed family—mature and enter the air at about the same time each year, depending upon the locality.

The running or stuffed-up nose, itching and watering eyes, and the sneezing fits of the hay fever victim make for a miserable time.

Some people are affected so seriously that they cannot sleep. They lose weight, become irritable and exhausted and feel little use to themselves or to anyone else during the four or five weeks of "the season."

Many victims of hay fever have obtained great relief by taking injections or "shots" of pollen before the season starts. The purpose of these injections is to reduce the sensitivity to the pollen.

Some people cannot take large enough doses to do much good. Others, for reasons which are not yet entirely understood, fail to respond very well. Many, however, obtain some relief from injections and a few get over their symptoms entirely.

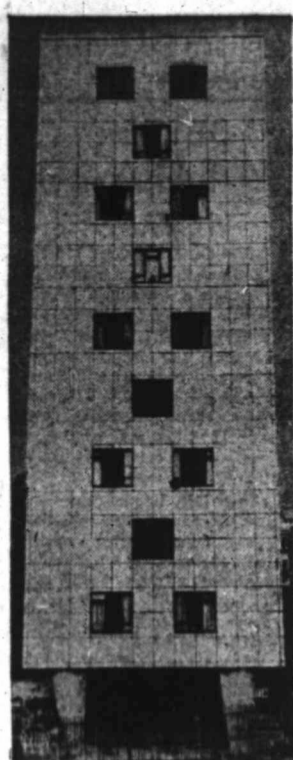

Once the season has started, these preventive injections are not of much help. Many who can get away try to seek areas where there is less pollen, but others have to stay where they are and grin and bear it.

Air conditioned public buildings often bring some relief. Some people who can afford it feel better if they stay in a room with an air filter in the window.

Antihistamines Help

Several drugs known as antihistamines and going under various trade names bring considerable relief to many hay fever sufferers. These drugs act for only a short time, but they do help many hay fever victims when their symptoms are intolerable.

They are not lacking entirely in undesirable effects, however, and therefore should not be taken without some medical supervision. Furthermore, some people seem to be helped more by one kind of preparation and some by another.

Senator Byrd Gives Positive 'No' To Bid Of MacArthur Party

WINCHESTER, VA. —(AP)— Regardless of how he feels about the presidential election, Senator Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) apparently has no intention of taking part in any third party movement.

There hasn't been any word so far on the presidential choice of the senior Virginia senator, a foe of the Truman Administration and a Virginia delegate to the Democratic National Convention.

Most observers believe Byrd will maintain his strict election until after the November election without coming out for either the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, or the Republican candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

But Tuesday, Byrd did try to spike a movement by the newly formed Constitution Party to wage a campaign for electoral votes for him as a vice presidential running mate to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

A spokesman said Byrd had wired Bard A. Logan, Constitution Party convention chairman in Texas, to have his name taken off the ballot there. The action came, the spokesman said, after Byrd was informed that a MacArthur-Byrd ticket had been filed in Texas.

It was the first reaction from Byrd regarding the new party which was formed over the weekend in Philadelphia. He had said previously only that he had "no contact with the group."

Texas Baptist Foundation Leader Speaks Out For Ike

DALLAS —(AP)— A Texas Baptist leader has commended the Republican Party and the candidacy of Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower for "expressly championing the right of Texas to her public domain."

A. B. Culbertson, executive vice president of the Baptist Foundation of Texas, said his statement Tuesday was personal and did not necessarily express any official Baptist view.

The Democratic Party's stand on the Tideland issue, he said, should lead "any patriotic Texan to know how to cast his vote" in November.

He said Baylor University at Waco, a Baptist school, has a particular interest in the tidelands. Some mineral interests in the Tideland, he said, were given Baylor in the estate of Dr. H. H. Ogilvie, San Antonio physician who died in 1945.

Of the Democratic, Culbertson said, "I made up my mind long ago I wasn't for the thieves." But he said it wasn't until his discovery of Baylor's special interest that he decided to make his views public.

The Baptist Foundation of Texas, which Culbertson runs to a large extent, has assets of about $20,000,000 which it manages for the benefit of Baptist institutions.

The Supreme Court has ruled that the federal government has "paramount rights" in the offshore lands, and President Truman has vetoed legislation which would have given title of the disputed undersea lands to the States.

Women probably will outnumber men in the United States by about 700,000 in 1960, according to estimates of a survey.

'Shots' Give Pre-Season Relief In Many Cases Of Hay Fever

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

The most regular type of allergy is Fall hay fever. Millions of sufferers from this annoying condition can tell within a day or two when their trouble will begin.

The reason for this is that the pollens to which they are sensitive—usually members of the ragweed family—mature and enter the air at about the same time each year, depending upon the locality.

The running or stuffed-up nose, itching and watering eyes, and the sneezing fits of the hay fever victim make for a miserable time.

Some people are affected so seriously that they cannot sleep. They lose weight, become irritable and exhausted and feel little use to themselves or to anyone else during the four or five weeks of "the season."

Many victims of hay fever have obtained great relief by taking injections or "shots" of pollen before the season starts. The purpose of these injections is to reduce the sensitivity to the pollen.

Some people cannot take large enough doses to do much good. Others, for reasons which are not yet entirely understood, fail to respond very well. Many, however, obtain some relief from injections and a few get over their symptoms entirely.

Once the season has started, these preventive injections are not of much help. Many who can get away try to seek areas where there is less pollen, but others have to stay where they are and grin and bear it.
