Taft Climbs On Ike's Bandwagon

Ohio Senator, General Reach Total Accord

NEW YORK—(P)—Senator Robert A. Taft got into the campaign harness Friday with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and called on Americans to support the Republican presidential nominee.

The senator, who lost the nomination to Eisenhower in a bitterly fought GOP convention, declared the general had his wholehearted backing with "no qualifications at all."

Ranchwoman Dies; Rites Slated Here

Mrs. Rebecca Estes Gray, 62, member of a pioneer Monahans ranch family and an early-day resident of Midland, died Thursday in an El Paso hospital following a lengthy illness. She had resided in Monahans more than 30 years and was well known throughout this section of West Texas.

"I urge all Americans, and particularly those who have confidence in my judgment and principles, to vote for Eisenhower," Taft said.

It was the first full-dress harmony session between the pair since the convention, and had been heralded as a major move in healing any rift in GOP ranks.

After breakfasting together, Taft and the general emerged in smiling congeniality, and the senator later declared they were in substantial accord on all issues.

"Completely satisfied," "Completely satisfied," was the way Taft put it.

Taft said he is convinced Eisenhower "will carry out the policies of the Republican platform."

He called the Democratic candidate, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, "a representative of the left wing and a left-winger himself."

Taft also said he is convinced Eisenhower believes in the principles of a statement adopted by the Republican Steering Committee in Congress.

He told a news conference: "I cannot say I agree with all of General Eisenhower's views on foreign policy but our differences are merely differences of degree."

Later, in answer to a question, he said the degree largely was a matter of degree, he declined to elaborate, saying he would discuss his views on foreign policy in his own speeches.

Ready To Speak

Saying that he, himself, would speak "on a national broadcast and speak anywhere to the extent of my ability," Taft urged all Americans "who have confidence in my judgment" to support the Republican ticket.

He said he and General Eisenhower agreed "to reduce drastically government expenditures" to the point where the federal budget would be down to $70,000,000,000 in the fiscal year of 1954 and $60,000,000,000 in the following fiscal year.

The O'Brien said he believed the fundamental issue in the election was "liberty against creeping socialism" and that he was satisfied that he and Eisenhower shared the same views.

Eisenhower is scheduled to leave Sunday on a 12-day campaign trip to Midwest and Southern states.

The states Eisenhower will visit include Indiana, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia, Maryland, North Carolina and Virginia.

Flood Dangers Ease As Heavy Rainfall Fades

Flooding rivers and creeks in South Central and Southwest Texas slid back toward their channels Friday. Only a few "die-hard" showers continued to feed the swollen streams that had killed at least five persons.

Heavy rains hit the Brownsville-Corpus Christi area early Friday, but the Weather Bureau said these stopped before mid-morning.

Brownsville reported 3.18 inches of rain Friday morning and Corpus Christi reported 2.10 inches. Other early-morning rains fell at Austin and Laredo, with the state capital getting .56 inches and the storied border city .13 inches.

Before the Hill Country streams started their return to their banks, five persons were killed, two were missing and hundreds were made homeless by the rampaging waters.

Downpours that measured up to 23 inches in 24 hours had sent roaring torrents down river and creek beds that had been dusty and cracked. Highway and railroad bridges were washed out, trains and buses stalled, livestock drowned, low-lying areas flooded, communications downed and residents were sent scurrying for roof tops and high ground.

There was no estimate of damage from official sources but it was expected to be high.

Hill Country Hit Hardest

The flood struck two areas, but the Hill Country area apparently took the brunt of the beating. San Saba, Fredericksburg, Blanco, Boerne, Seguin, Johnson City and Marble Falls were almost or completely isolated at times. Friday, evacuees were returning to their homes.

Waters which swept two cars from the highways Thursday killed a three-year-old girl and a 74-year-old woman. Earlier a man was washed from a crumbling embankment into the flood near Fredericksburg and two persons were killed when their car crashed on a rain-slick highway.

THAT'S WATER, PARTNER—The long Central Texas drought came to a sudden end when cloudburst rains sent almost dry creeks bursting from their banks flooding several Texas cities. At Blanco an early rising citizen views the swirling waters of the Blanco River that washed away a scenic bridge and damaged several homes after 23 inches of rain fell in the area.

Lewis Calls Coal Policy Meet Monday

WASHINGTON—(P)—John L. Lewis Friday summoned his mine workers' policy committee to meet here Monday to review contract negotiations and prepare for a possible strike of the coal miners on September 22, a week later.

The United Mine Workers' contract with Northern soft coal mines expires September 20, a Saturday and a non-working day, and the men would be free to fail to show up for work on Monday, September 22.

Separate Negotiations

UMW President Lewis has been negotiating separately for new contract terms with Northern and Southern segments of the soft coal industry and with Pennsylvania's anthracite industry.

There are about 320,000 soft coal miners and about 65,000 hard coal or anthracite miners.

The three sets of talks have been progressing with some signs of progress but with no conclusions on any major issues.

Lewis closed Friday with Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, at union headquarters. He has been reported discussing a share-the-work plan with the Dixie mine owners.

Under this plan Lewis wants time-and-a-half premium pay for work done on a fourth working day in any week and double time for a fifth day's work.

Midlanders To Vote Saturday On $5,290,000 Bond Issue

A three-year, $5,290,000 municipal improvement program—the largest in the history of Midland—will be submitted Saturday to the voting taxpayers of the city at a special bond election.

Balloting places in the city's four voting precincts will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Divided into eight phases, the program includes:

- $3,245,000 for development of additional water supplies and improvement of the water and sewer systems in the city itself.
- $600,000 for the construction of a new suburban fire station in the western section of the city.
- $515,000 for the development of parks and playgrounds.
- $460,000 for the construction of a Public Safety Building to house a city jail, police headquarters and the Central Fire Station.
- $110,000 for the construction and equipping of a new municipal garage and storage buildings.
- $30,000 for the remodeling of City Hall to convert the present Central Fire Station into office space.
- $100,000 for the extension of the M Street storm sewer.
- $600,000 to pay the city's share of additional street paving.

Entered By C. O. G.

All the phases of the improvement program have been endorsed by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce as well as several other civic organizations.

The League of Women Voters of Midland has campaigned to get out as large a vote as possible.

Mayor Perry Pickett Friday urged all qualified voting taxpayers to cast a ballot in the Saturday election.

"The aim of the vote, too, may have some effect on the interest rates at which the bonds can be sold."

City Secretary J. C. Hudman said four voting places will be used.

Four Voting Places

The voting precincts in Midland are:

- Precinct 1—The area northeast of Wall and Big Spring Street—North Side Fire Station, Edwards Street and Golf Course Road.
- Precinct 2—The area southeast of Wall and Big Spring Street—South Side Fire Station, Baird and New Jersey Streets.
- Precinct 3—The area southwest of Wall and Big Spring Street—City Scout Little House, 1100 West Washington Street.
- Precinct 4—The area northwest of Wall and Big Spring Street—Midland Youth Center, 608 West Illinois Street.

On the ballot, the water and sewer program is broken into four propositions—the first four on the ballot.

These include $1,600,000 in water revenue bonds, $645,000 in sewer revenue bonds, $775,000 in general obligation water bonds, and $325,000 in general obligation sewer bonds.

The program is being rushed to provide Midland with additional water supplies by next summer.

Other phases of the improvement program have been termed just as important, however, to Midland's continuous growth.

Lengthy Testimony Indicates Recess In Spraberry Hearing

AUSTIN—(P)—The second engineering witness in the Railroad Commission hearing on rules for the Spraberry Trend continued his lengthy testimony Friday, outlining experiments of Sohio Petroleum Company.

The witness was Lincoln Elkins, Sohio engineer, who introduced 66 exhibits. He explained about 10 of them during the morning session.

Testimony of Elkins and W. O. Keller of Midland, who was on the stand most of Thursday, dealt only with the central Spraberry Trend in Glascock, Midland, Reagan and Upton Counties. Their conclusions were expected to lay the basis for a recommendation by a number of operators that an 80-acre, or even larger, proration unit be substituted for the 40-acre rule now in effect.

Witnesses concerned with rules in other parts of the Spraberry throughout a nine-county area were yet to be heard, and it appeared the hearing would likely be recessed until next week.

Statistical Evidence

Keller offered a mass of statistical evidence Thursday, and drew five conclusions.

1. The Spraberry Trend is a large, continuous reservoir, most of which is still undeveloped.
2. It is a relatively new field in that most development and data have come into being within the last year.
3. The Spraberry Trend exhibits remarkably similar properties and characteristics throughout.
4. This is an unusually low rate producing capacity field. The matrix rock itself can not produce at commercial rates because of low permeability. Its ability to produce at commercial rates is dependent on the fracture system.

5. Predominantly vertical fractures occur persistently throughout the producing area.

By agreement, witnesses were not to be cross-examined until after conclusion of their testimony.

To accommodate two men who had to leave early Thursday, commission examiners interrupted Keller's testimony to allow Charles L. Klapproth of Midland and J. W. Stayton of Dallas to present their views.

Klapproth, an attorney and land owner in the Spraberry, said he and others whom he represented were opposed to any change in the 40-acre rule on offset wells already due. As for future drilling, he said his group would not oppose 80-acre spacing if no tolerance were attached to it.

Stayton, representing Atlantic Refining Company, favored an 80-acre proration unit and 80-acre tolerance. He also favored an allocation formula based 75 per cent on acreage and 25 per cent on each well across the board on 40, 80 or 160-acre spacing.

Downpours Flood Stanton Section

STANTON—Heavy downpours Thursday night flooded the Big Spring-Midland highway through Stanton, slowing traffic to a snail's pace.

Stantonites recalled the flood of September, 1946, as water backed up from the T&P Railway embankment lapped into service stations along Highway 30.

Estimates of the rain ranged more than an inch.

CHARGED—Nago Alanis, right, law partner of District Attorney-elect Raeburn Norris of Duval County, has been charged with murder with malice in the fatal shooting of Jacob S. Floyd, Jr., in the garage of his home in Alice Monday. Mario (El Turko) Sapid, center, a San Antonio tavern operator, also charged in the murder, is led off to jail by Sheriff Halsey Wright. (See Story, Page 12.)

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman Friday named John E. Horne of Alabama to head the Small Defense Plants Administration. He has been deputy administrator.

WASHINGTON—(P)—Lawrence P. Bardin, former Indiana brewer whose name has been brought into Congressional complaints of government tax irregularities involving former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Nunan, Jr., was indicted Friday on charges of trying to evade his 1946 income taxes.

DETROIT—(P)—The auto industry in the United States will set a new 1952 production mark this week with the output of 126,508 cars and trucks, Ward's Reports said Friday.

Ector Opener Finaled For 998 BOPD

Herman Brown of Houston and associates, (formerly V. A. Brill and associates) No. 1 David and Ines Fasken has been completed as a flowing discovery from three pay zones in the Wolfcamp, lower Permian line of Northeast Ector County.

The wildcat reported a combined 24-hour flowing potential of 998 barrels of oil, and no water.

That oil came from perforations at 8,850-84 feet and at 8,730-66 feet, and from perforations at 9,640-82 feet.

Each of those zones had been treated with 500 gallons and with 2,000 gallons of acid.

The two upper sets of perforations are being produced together through the tubing in the well. The lower set of perforations is being produced through the annulus between the tubing and the casing.

On the potential test the upper sets of perforations—those at 8,850-84 feet and at 8,730-66 feet—flowed 768 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a three-eighths inch bottom hole choke.

Flowing tubing pressure was 600 pounds.

On the potential test the lower set of perforations at 9,640-82 feet flowed 230 barrels of oil in 24 hours through three-eighths inch choke. Flowing pressure from that section was 175 pounds.

Neither of the pay sections reported having produced any formation water during the completion gauges.

Gas-oil ratio and gravity figures of the production were not listed in the preliminary reports of this important completion.

Location is 467 feet from south and 2,179 feet from west lines of section 17, block 42, T-1-N, T&P survey.

It is 11 miles northeast of Odessa and 21 miles northwest of Midland.

J. Fasken drilled to a 10,214 feet in barren Pennsylvania zone. It had a bad fishing job at that point and operator gave up efforts to recover the junk.

The hole was plugged back to 9,750 feet and 5 1/2-inch casing was cemented at that point to test the Wolfcamp pay. The completion reported here resulted.

More Than 400 Due To Attend WTGS Picnic Saturday

More than 400 persons are expected to attend the annual picnic of the West Texas Geological Society in Midland Saturday.

The affair will be staged at Cole Park. Starting time is 8 p.m. The barbecue dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

The 60-minute period between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. will be devoted to visiting, games and other activities.

Tickets are $1 per person for adults. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Persons desiring to attend may buy tickets through Friday afternoon. They may be secured from Glenn George and Booker McDermott at Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation or Fred Forward at Phillips Petroleum Company.

Caddo Discovery In C-W Runnels Gets SW Offset

Barney Hillburn Drilling Company of Dallas will drill a 5,150-foot rotary test one location southwest of Humphrey No. 1 Lee, indicated Caddo discovery in Central-West Runnels County.

It is No. 1 E. V. Jones and is located 2,536 feet from northeast and 330 feet from northwest lines of section 33, Joseph Farwell survey No. 313. It is on a 42-acre lease.

Elevation at drillerite is 1,738 feet. Operations will begin immediately.

Two Regions In Crockett Get New Wildcats

Two wildcat locations have been staked for immediate drilling in Crockett County.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Shamon estate, will be drilled to 8,000 feet with rotary tools. Location is 1,900 feet from south.

Pecos Accountant Killed When Auto Collides With Bus

ODESSA—Thomas Steven Brown of Pecos, 24-year-old chief district accountant for the Texas Highway Department, was killed instantly early Friday when his automobile collided with a loaded transcontinental bus 17 miles west of here.

State Highway Patrolman John White of Odessa said Brown was returning from a meeting of the West Texas Tax Collectors Association in Odessa shortly after midnight when the collision occurred.

White said Brown apparently lost control of his automobile and it spun around several times before bursting into the path of the east-bound American Bus Lines bus, driven by Frank Shackles of El Paso.

Neither Shackles nor any of the 24 passengers were injured.

Brown is survived by the widow, Mrs. Mabel Brown and two sons, Steve and Robert, all of Pecos; a daughter, Janice Brown of Waco, and the parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Brown of Rock Springs.

Funeral arrangements pending.

★ JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD ★

I've Been 'Folksy' Long Enough; From Now On I'm Glamor Boy

By DANA ANDREWS
HOLLYWOOD.—(UPI)—Bring on the low-slung foreign car with the plum-colored paint job, the milk upholstered seats and the horn that plays the first notes of "The Blue Tango."

And bring on the smoked glasses that I have scorned, the orange-hued scarf, the silver bracelets from Damascus or Istanbul with the curve of an ancient Arab engraved upon it, and the beads of imported felt.

I was in on the "glamor" game after 12 years of playing good, old Dana—just one of the boys. I've been stewing in the juice of wholesomeness and folkiness until I have about as much personal magnetism as Lum and Abner.

It was a mistake for me and for other actors who arrived on the Hollywood scene when the motion picture industry was trying to live down the flamboyance of the past—the Moorish castles, the parties at which a star or a director inevitably fell into the swimming pool, and the champagne bottles that popped while 50 starlets swung into the Charleston atop a Nerocque banquet table.

"Be down to earth," I was told. "We're tired of being laughed at in Hollywood. The time has come to gain the respect of the world. From now on out, actors are going to be just like everybody else—good parents, conscientious citizens, do-gooders, real people."

I gulped a "Yes, sir" and went about being the "guy next door" with as much determination as I was putting into my acting career. Now I'll confess—it wasn't duck soup.

A few years before I had given up a job as an accountant in Austin, Tex., had thrown a spectacular farewell party that's probably still remembered, and with $20 in my pocket headed for Hollywood.

I was wearing an actorish black flama cloth coat, a white scarf and a gray homburg. But that side of me was blacked out in that first briefing.

I became a prize example of a star in the New Hollywood. Magazines scribbled swarmed into my home and photographed me wearing a kitchen apron, helping my wife with the dishes, mowing the lawn and boosting my kiddies into the air.

I mixed and mingled according to studio dictum. My dressing room door was open to everybody. I was everybody's pal and I went about it like an obvious politician after votes.

Let's Be Remote. All of us in Hollywood have over-exposed ourselves to the public. We've reduced ourselves from giants to dwarfs.

Girl 'Led Astray' Sues For $300,000

LOS ANGELES.—(AP)—Charging a member of a wealthy Mexican family took advantage of her "youth and innocence," actress June McCall, 17, Thursday sued Mario Parra, 32, for $300,000 damages.

Miss McCall alleged that Parra took advantage of her last December 30 and that she became "shamed and humiliated." Her suit said she is an expectant mother.

She was divorced last May 20 by George Carl Meier, 28, an assistant film director. He asserted she displayed "unseemly interest in other men."

Accidental Shotgun Blast Proves Fatal

HOUSTON.—(AP)—C. B. Hinton, 36, was killed Thursday when his shotgun accidentally discharged near his old river estate.

Justice Calder Ewing, who returned the accidental death verdict, said Hinton apparently died when he took his gun from an automobile.

CAMERA CALL

Did you know that you could pick up a camera with your camera? That's what lots of folks are saying—since we got them using a simple Filter...

They tell us their Filters give them control over tones and contrast in their pictures. We say that Filters put you in control. (Just like Poppy taking speech and helping his biops.) Your pictures will pick up every "white" cloud which you'd miss otherwise. Your pictures'll show distinctions in flesh tones. Your pictures'll have more sparkle—more zest. A Filter is just a little piece of colored glass (the right color and optically correct) that goes onto your lens. It acts like a sunglasses, giving proper "filtering" to the various colors actually in the picture, balancing the tones and shadows in your lens print. Maybe a back, maybe more—depending on your camera. But certainly worth a lot more. And so easy to use. We'll gladly show you...

An Election Year Intangible

One of the big intangibles of this election year is how important the issue of "corruption in government" will be to the average American voter.
No one really can measure accurately its probable impact on the presidential race. It might prove decisive, or it might turn out insignificant.

The voter will have many other things on his mind—inflation and the general state of his pocketbook, his future economic security, the outlook for peace or war. No opinion-taker or anyone else can be sure which one, or which combination, will be governing when the voter goes into the polling booth.
Certainly responsible Americans are not going to condone corruption. But it is conceivable that millions of voters may decide that inflation or peace is a matter of greater moment, and may choose the man they believe will do most on that score.

But if, by chance, corruption is an issue that bulks very large in the public mind today, there is one point the ordinary citizen ought to realize about it. An outsider is more likely to do a thorough cleanup job than an insider, or someone related in any fashion to an insider.
This assumes, naturally, that the outsider does the job his detachment allows him. If he falls down on it, his peculiar advantage quickly is lost.

It is much more difficult for the insider or his political relative to sweep clean. Take the case of the latter, since that is what we have this time in Governor Stevenson. Concede to him the best and most honorable intentions toward eradicating corruption in Washington. He still will operate under some very real and very human handicaps.
Undoubtedly he would attack with vigor the worst offenders, no matter where the chips fell. He might even go fairly far afield in unearthing the roots of the wrongdoing.

But if the evils proved really widespread—perhaps much more general than now is apparent or imagined—how far could he reasonably be expected to go? He might find that he was striking at the very foundations of his party, putting in jeopardy the reputations of men who helped elect him, or were friends of those who did.
The natural instincts of political self-preservation are strong, and they would work against exhaustive prosecution of evil in such an event.

This is not an argument for or against Stevenson for President. It is merely an attempt to show what is involved in the corruption issue. In the end, the voters may decide they will be quite happy with the sort of cleanup they could get from Stevenson. But they should understand the difference between what he reasonably can do and what his Republican opponent might do.

It's a whole lot easier to deliver the goods when you are not constantly under the impression you're overburdened.

Looks Like A Busy Fall

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Friction develops between G.I.s and South Korean natives; White House reneges on McCarran appointment; Luxury liner responded well to severe test.
WASHINGTON — It has been kept out of the war news, but some alarming reports have filtered back from Korea of serious friction between American G.I.s and South Korean natives. In some areas, the friction is so bad that local guerrillas, operating behind our lines, are not so much pro-Communist as anti-American.

For example, the Army has noticed a direct relation between the guerrilla raids and G.I. behavior. Too many G.I.s, rankled over being stuck in Korea, take their spite out on the natives. Result is that a few drunk and disgruntled G.I.s have been pushing and slapping the South Koreans around in their own country. While they are in a dejected minority and the great majority of G.I.s have worked well with the natives, this minority seriously has hurt general relations.

It has gotten so bad that President Syngman Rhee has given strict orders to South Koreans not to resist. So, instead of getting in trouble with the South Korean police, some natives—even including anti-Communists—slip off to join the guerrilla bands that raid American command posts and supply centers.

In one instance, all the Korean mess boys mysteriously disappeared from an American radar station several hours before a guerrilla raid. Yet not one took the trouble to tip off the G.I.s of the approaching danger. This is typical of the growing South Korean attitude toward Americans.

What is even worse, many South Koreans are taking out their resentment against the G.I.s by leaking security information to the Communist enemy. It is almost unheard of for the White House to renege on an appointment after confirmation by the Senate, but this is what President Truman has done. And the silver-crested solon from Nevada is fit to be tied.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
As a general rule, the best defense against a no-trump contract is to hammer away at a long suit, in order to develop tricks with low cards. If the defenders switch about from one suit to another, they usually help declarer.

Table with 4 columns: NORTH, WEST, EAST (D), SOUTH. It lists card holdings for a bridge hand, including spades, hearts, diamonds, and clubs.

Neither side vul.
North-South, 36 part score.
East South West North
1 ♠ 1 N.T. Pass 2 N.T.
Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead—♠ 10

led a club to knock out East's ace, and East led a second spade through declarer's ace.
Once again, South could not afford to put up the ace of spades. If he did, he was still sure to lose three spades and three aces, so South finessed the jack of spades, and West won with the king. West promptly switched back to hearts, knocking out declarer's last stopper in that suit.

Declarer could get nowhere without attacking diamonds, so East got in with the ace of diamonds in time to cash his last two hearts. The contract was therefore set two tricks, with two spades, three aces, and two long hearts.
It is interesting to note that South would have made his contract if the defenders had simply plugged away at hearts for all they were worth. For example, suppose East takes the ace of hearts and leads another heart to begin with. South wins and knocks out the ace of club.

SECOND MAN on the Ticket

By Edwin Leach

THE STORY: Unable to learn who columnist Clyde McDonald, solidified foe of Willie G. Warburton, had chosen as his second man on the ticket to challenge the Governor, Bill Eaves, press secretary, has asked the governor's personal secretary to "bribe him up."

"A guy at the press conference wanted to know why your wife wasn't along," Bill said. "He's from the opposition paper. I told him she was joining us at Hyattsville. Governor, she's sure to be there, isn't she?"

"Now you know she is, Bill," said Lucy. "Yes, sure," Bill said. "I knew that. I was just—"
"Just worrying," the Governor said. "As usual. Now how about—"
"Soup and crackers," Bill broke in. "Coming right up."

"You mean from Clyde McDonald?"
"From none other," said Lucy. "Where are they?" Bill said. "Honey," Lucy said, "I wasn't so stupid as to fish them, but I have them by heart. She presented a hand dramatically at her boss's table."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Case Of White House Bathtub Reveals President Is 'All Wet'

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—President Truman's latest attack—the one he directed at the Saturday Evening Post—now has been fired back at him in a nice, polite and unintentional way.
The President took his swing at the Post because it had printed an article charging that the farmers had been given false information on grain storage in the 1948 campaign.

In his press conference, the President commented that he didn't read the Post very often because it was wrong on most things. Later he added insult to injury by saying it was always wrong.
It just happened that in the same week, the Post had an article by its Washington editor, Beverly Smith, on "The Curious Case of the President's Bathtub."

Smith got interested some months ago when the first bathtub was installed in the White House. He had a terrible time running down the answer. In the course of his research, he came across a remark President Truman had made on that subject four years ago.
It was in a press conference during which the President was defending his plan to build a balcony on the White House south porch. The same objections arose, the President said, when the first bathtub made its appearance. Why, they wanted to lynch Mrs. Fillmore, wife of the President, who sponsored that first bathtub.

That would have put the first bathtub in the White House around 1850. Smith ran that clue down and found it stemmed from a great fake H. L. Mencken had put over on a dull day in World War I to spoof the public. Not a word of truth in it.
Smith never could find any reference to anyone wanting to lynch Mrs. Fillmore. Instead, he found a voucher dated Jan. 1, 1814, for a $30 expense in installing one large tub painted green in the White House.

That would have been in James Madison's second term. And the first regular bath was installed by Old Hickory Andrew Jackson between 1809 and 1816.
Who's wrong now?
Ex-Gov. M. Q. Sharp of South Dakota has been circulating around his state a story on his delegation's interview with General Eisenhower at Chicago after the convention.
South Dakota had gone for Taft in the primary and its delegation to Chicago wanted to find out how the general stood on some of the things they were most interested in. The conversation finally got around to rural electrification. How did the general stand on that?

"Well," he is quoted as saying, "I think the farmers should have lights."
Although both General Eisenhower and Governor Stevenson favor a change in Senate rules to limit filibusters, the prospects for jump to game. A bid of only three hearts might put considerable strain on North.
TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-A-Q, Hearts A-K-10-7-5, Diamonds 8-5-3, Clubs 9-6-2. What do you do?
Answer: Spade

And the various other memorable snatches characters pack about with them. "When he took them out of his pocket, I got a look."
"Congratulations," I said, unable to conceal my disapproval. "You don't look a bit disconcerted."
"Lucy gave me a level look."
"Pay no attention to him, Lucy," Bill said.

Lucy didn't. She went on talking, looking only at Bill. "He's one of those men who keeps his wallet well lapped down," Lucy said. "To get his wallet out he has to take out a wad of papers. When he paid for the lunch I knocked the papers onto the floor and had a look at the telegram. This is what it said, Bill: 'Come to Hyattsville with Governor Warburton and we'll have a jury item for your column.'"
"Who sent that telegram?" Bill asked.
"Melvin Fisher, whoever he is."
"Who knew he is?" I said.
"Melvin Fisher. He's the mayor of Hyattsville."

"Come on," Bill said.
He started with coping strides toward the Governor's car. Lucy gave me a look, and followed. I was not sure what the look meant, but I did not like it.
GOVERNOR WARBURTON was sitting in darkness, with his legs stretched out. Bill turned on a wall light and said, "Jerry to disturb you, Governor, but we've got the dope on Clyde McDonald. Lucy, tell him about the telegram."

So They Say

I've had these bangs almost all my life and I'm not going to get rid of them now no matter what happens.
—Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.
I am more convinced than ever that Eisenhower can and will win several of the South's electoral votes.
—Maryland Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.
British farmers discovered the value of bone manure for pasture a generation before science discovered the role of phosphates in plant nutrition.
—British Scientist A. G. Williams

He (Adlai Stevenson) is not a candidate of labor, industry or political bosses.
—OAW President Walter Reuther.
I can't wait to get back to my post. We don't have many problems in Luxembourg. I hope I'm still there in 1953.
—Ferns Motta, U. S. minister in Luxembourg.

What's Right?
A girl is saying good night to a young man with whom she has had a first date, and she hopes he will call her again.
WRONG: She says, "Be sure to call me soon" or "When will I see you again?"
RIGHT: She lets him know that she had a good time and enjoyed his company—but waits for him to bring up the subject of a next time.

★ Daddy Ringtail ★

Daddy Ringtail Bunkum's Telescope

Uncle Bunkum from the zoo had come to the forest for a little vacation. The night had come. The folks were out on the porch of Daddy Ringtail's monkey house. They were looking with "oh's" and "ah's" at the telescope that Uncle Bunkum had brought with him. It looked like a baroque, but it wasn't. It looked like a piece of stovepipe, but it wasn't. Nostril, it was a real, genuine telescope. Uncle Bunkum had made it himself, because he is smart about such things.

"Is it good for something?" asked Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy.

"It's good to see things far away," Daddy Ringtail explained. "It makes them look real big."

"Let me see," said Mother Ringtail, when she looked.

"Let me see," said Mugwump. The folks let him see, and Mugwump did. "Humph!" said he. "Something's wrong with the telescope."

"Mercy me!" said a voice, and it was Uncle Bunkum who said it this time. He looked through the telescope himself—looked at the moon very carefully. "Why, there's nothing wrong with my telescope," he said.

"Humph!" said Mugwump again. "Something has to be wrong with it. It makes the moon all covered with little holes."

Daddy Ringtail looked at the moon where it was bright and shiny and smooth, without any holes upon it at all. Then he looked at the moon through the telescope. Now it was cloudy in places. It seemed, and covered with little holes sure enough.

"Oh no," said Daddy Ringtail, "there really isn't a problem. A moon without a telescope is very smooth. With a telescope, it is rough with holes."

But Mugwump wanted to know what the moon really was—smooth or rough—but who can say? I guess it is both, don't you? Like the moon is sometimes close to see, but much too far away to touch. Happy day! (Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)

Italian, Charged As Terrorist In Native Land, Asks Asylum As Political Refugee

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—An airman in the Bexar County jail here says he fled Italy to escape persecution because of political activities — not because he was a member of a Sicilian terrorist gang as Italy charges.

Pasquale Sciortino, 28, who joined the U. S. Air Force after fleeing to this country told of his career in written question-and-answer form Thursday.

The Italian government wants him on charges of manslaughter, abduction, aggravated assault, attempted homicide and illegal possession of firearms.

Now married to a Grand Rapids Mich. girl under the name of Anthony Vena, he said they have a baby boy, nine months old. Previously, he said, he had married Marrianna, sister of Sicilian bandit leader Guiliano, to whose terrorist band Italy says Sciortino belongs.

Denies Membership
But the young airman says he didn't belong to the band, that he has seen the bandit leader only three times and knows nothing of Guiliano's depredations in Sicily and Southern Italy after World War II.

He said in 1945 he joined a group of Sicilians who sought to set up Sicily as a Democratic state independent of Italy. Communists had started to infiltrate Italy then, he said.

While in the Palermo jail for being a member of the movement to overthrow the government, he said

— "Marrianna. Later he ried her but received word from her after coming to the United States that the marriage had been annulled.

Sciortino was described by the U. S. Justice Department as the object of the "most extensive manhunt ever conducted by immigration authorities."

Leader Betrayed Him
He said his group was betrayed by one of the leaders after many had been jailed. When he married Marrianna, he said, Italian police again marked him for arrest, "assuming I was a member of his (Guiliano's) gang."

"Son," he quoted his mother as saying, "the Fascists killed your father. I do not want the Communists to kill my only son." She told him to go to America.

He got work on a ship, jumped ship in New York, went to Los Angeles, then to Grand Rapids. He said he joined the Air Force to "prove my loyalty to the American people."

He was arrested at Lackland Air Force Base, fled when left alone a few minutes, went to a St. Louis attorney who told him to return and give up.

"If they deport me," he said in the interview, "I hope they will send me to any other country except Italy, as I am sure the Italian government will convict me of any crime they can think of on the grounds of my marriage to Guiliano's sister, not to mention my political activities. I wouldn't stand a chance to prove myself innocent."

Chinese Red Speeds Truck By Truce Camp, Surrenders

PANMUNJOM, KOREA—(AP)—A freedom-bent Chinese soldier bolted from Communist lines late Thursday in a stolen truck, crashed through Red and Allied roadblocks, and surrendered to U. S. military police.

The soldier drove about 100 road miles through Communist territory to reach the Allied lines. He started about 30 miles south of the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang. The Chinese almost ran down four Red Korean riflemen who tried to stop him as he raced his truck through the Panmunjom neutral zone at 45 miles an hour.

The soldier was the second Communist to surrender this week through the neutral zone surrounding the Panmunjom truce center.

A North Korean security officer charged with preventing surrenders gave himself up to American guards several days ago. He walked through his own guards disguised as a sergeant.

An Eighth Army announcement in Seoul of the surrender gave few details.

High Speed Trip
"It was still unknown how he managed to get through the heavily guarded northern edge of the truce corridor," the Army said. "But it is presumed that he forced his way through by driving at high speed as he did when he entered the American sector."

Crunching across the military police road block south of Panmunjom, the determined Chinese sped across a narrow bridge, smashed through the crossbar across it and sped on.

He finally stopped at the second military police check point about a mile farther south. It was not clear whether or not he almost smashed through this roadblock.

Apparently, an Army spokesman said, the Communists were not chasing the soldier and no one accompanying him.

The soldier was being questioned by Army officers.

Court Order Frees Convicted Commie

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Mrs. Oleta O'Connor Yates, convicted California Communist, was freed from jail Friday after U. S. Judge Paul J. McCormick approved a Court of Appeals order which released her on her own recognizance of four counts of criminal contempt.

Mrs. Yates was jailed last week by Federal Judge William C. Mathes on the four contempt of court citations. She was cited when she refused to answer certain questions put to her during the trial.

Mrs. Yates was one of 14 California Communists' convicted of conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the United States government. The 14 were sentenced to five years imprisonment and fines of $10,000 each.

Switch In Clothes, Cells, Aids Escape Of Airman Prisoner

EASTON, PA.—(AP)—A switch in clothes, a switch in prison cells and a switch in jail guards resulted in the wrong man getting his freedom from Northampton County Prison here.

Here's the story as Warden E. O. Gadsdenback tells it:

State Police arrested Lewis Roscoe, 18, Detroit, his wife, Irene, 18, and a friend, Robert Van Valen, 21, Scranton, Pa., in nearby Portland Tuesday on charges of stealing $30 from a gas station cash drawer while the attendant filled their car with gasoline.

After a hearing, Justice of the Peace Clifford Sebring said he'd free the trio if they reimbursed the gas station and paid court costs. However, he added that Roscoe would have to remain in custody because he was reported AWOL from the Lackland (Texas) Air Force Base.

The $30 and costs were paid Wednesday night and Van Valen and Mrs. Roscoe were released.

Thursday night, 24 hours later, the warden disclosed that the two men had changed clothes and switched cells shortly after they were placed in the jail Wednesday afternoon. The cell doors are not locked until evening. Guards, who come on in the evening, did not know the identity of the two men except as to which cell each was in. Van Valen is being held without bail on a charge of aiding and abetting a prison break.

Odyssey Of Love Ends In Four-Month Term For Divorcee

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Mrs. Virginia LeTourneau, 28, described in a probation report as having the emotions of a teenager, was jailed Thursday for four months for her part in a 10,000 mile tour with a 17-year-old boy who lived across the street from her.

The blonde divorcee, who wept when she heard Superior Judge William B. Neeley sentence her, was given the term as a condition of three year's probation for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Mrs. LeTourneau and Jimmy Sherwin were picked up in Phoenix, Ariz., several weeks after vanishing from their neighboring homes in Burbank. Judge Neeley said he was considering "society's right to protection" in deciding against letting her go free.

'Mother Of Year' To Close Laundry

PORTLAND, ME.—(AP)—Mrs. Toy Len Ooon, America's mother-of-the-year, retired Friday from the hand laundry business which helped her provide for eight children.

The slender, China-born widow will live with a son, Richard, a Lynn, Mass., television dealer, "to be nearer my children."

Mrs. Ooon operated the laundry for almost 30 years, except for a vacation last spring when she made a tour as the American mother-of-the-year.

She was chosen unanimously by the Golden Rule Foundation American Mothers Committee.

What's the MOST SURPRISING THING about this BUICK?

2-door, 6-passenger Special Sedan.

WE'LL tell you the answer to that one—it's the figures on the price tag.

For some reason, lots of people just can't believe they can buy a Buick at a price so close to "the low-priced three."

Maybe it's because a Buick seems so much better and bigger.

Maybe it's because they think Buick has so much more power and room—which is true. Maybe it is because so many distinguished people own Buicks—which is also a fact.

But the fact remains—if you can afford a new car, you can own a Buick—so let's see what you get.

You get the thrilling power of a Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head—as much power as you can get in cars costing $300 to $400 more.

You get as much room as you'll get in cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

You get a ride that cost an honest-to-goodness million dollars to develop.

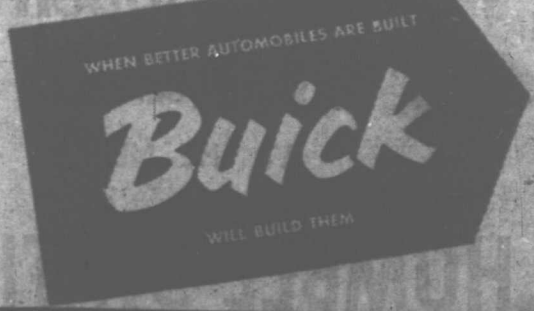

You get the silken smoothness of Dynaflo Drive.*

You get big-car comfort, styling, durability.

Don't take our word for it. Come in and see for yourself why so many folks are stepping up to this great car this year.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

GAL FROM SIX-SHOOTER JUNCTION—

Lillie Checks Out, Turns From Power To Petticoats

HOUSTON—(P)—The gal from Six-Shooter Junction—who rode a bucking truck to fame and success—is selling out her motor freight line and going into apron-string retirement.

She's Lillie Drennan, who after 24 years of tough competition on the road, is selling her Drennan Truck Line to a larger firm, giving up her truck operator's license, and turning to petticoats and frills.

"I never thought I'd live to see the day," the 38-year-old Lillie said Thursday when the Houston Freight Carriers Association honored her with a luncheon. "Now's as good a time as any to retire," she said with a touch of remorse in her husky voice.

Time was when Lillie would just about as soon be caught dead as in apron strings and petticoats. She was reared and still lives at Hempstead, north of Houston, the now peaceful little city known for its watermelons which was called Six-Shooter Junction in its volcanic, gun-fighting early days.

It's been said that in those days pistol-packing Lillie's language, when the situation called for forceful explication, would blister a rock.

Lillie, speakers at the luncheon said, always fought for what she thought was right. And she had a reputation for straight-shooting with her gun or her word. Ironically, the only time she was confronted by a hijacker she had left the gun at home.

She's not as familiar with petticoats and other frilly things as most women, but she can look mighty fancy when the occasion arises—like at the banquet.

But she feels more at home in a 10-gallon hat and trousers, oil-field boots and shirt.

She entered the trucking business in 1928 driving a one and one-half ton model T Ford truck and hauling oil field supplies to the booming, tough East Texas oil fields. Many times her cargo was TNT or dynamite.

"Those were the days," she recalled, "when anybody with a broken-down truck could go into business. It was strictly a cut-throat game with everyone out for every dollar they could get."

Now, she says, she guesses she'll just "take it easy for awhile."

But her friends wonder. Lillie in petticoats?

HERE, FIDO, HERE! HERE!

HOUSTON—(P)—An angry woman called Mayor Oscar Holcombe at 1 a.m. Thursday to ask, "When are you going to move this dead dog from in front of my house?" "Where do you live, lady?" the mayor asked.

"I'm not going to tell you," she replied. "I'm just going to leave it there and see how long it takes for you to find it."

Paul Jones Given Promotion In Guard

Paul E. Jones, Jr., has returned from Abilene, where he traded his second lieutenant's bars for the silver insignia of a first lieutenant in the National Guard.

Jones appeared before the promotion board headed by Colonel Walker in Abilene last Monday. His advance in rank will date from that day.

He is at present executive officer of Company E, Second Battalion, 119th Armored Cavalry Regiment, which is a National Guard unit with headquarters in Midland.

Harrison Trades Hot Words With Nam II; Recess Called

MUNSAI, KOREA—(P)—U.N. negotiators Friday demanded and got a seventh straight week-long recess in the Korean armistice talks.

No progress on the truce-blocking issue of prisoner exchange was reported at a heated 22-minute session—the first since September 4. The next meeting was set for September 20. Lt. Gen. William H. Harrison, senior U.N. truce delegate, said the Reds made no mention of the surrender at Friday's armistice session.

But North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate, again accused the Allies of murdering Red prisoners of war.

Harrison replied with another offer for the Communists to verify for themselves the no-repatriation sentiment among Communist soldiers captured by the Allies.

Of some 50,000 Chinese in U.N. stockades, about 15,000 have said they prefer death to rejoining Communism. The Reds insist that all be returned.

"You demand as your price for an armistice that we hand over to you a few thousand Chinese who are deathly afraid of returning to your control," Harrison told Nam Il.

"These are Chinese," he said, "whom you claim were fighting in Korea as volunteers. You deny they have renounced your side, but you are afraid to witness their voluntary expression of will. . . . You insist that these people can volunteer to support communism but cannot freely renounce it."

Attorneys for the Communist side, who are accused of murdering Red prisoners of war, said they would not accept the offer.

The jury, meeting at Beaumont, made indictments on reports regarding the number of producing wells in Wharton County from September 1949 to February 1951, U. S. Attorney Warren G. Moore said.

Three field crops—tobacco, cotton and peanuts—account for most of North Carolina's cash farm income.

The cost of insecticides used by the American farmer is only one-third of one per cent of his farm crop value.

Business Offices Due Three Mail Deliveries

Businessmen can look forward to a new three-a-day mail delivery service at some of the major downtown Midland office buildings. The new plan will start September 18, Postmaster N. G. Oates said Friday.

Buildings having the new service will be the Capitol, Central, Permian, McClintic, West, Midland Tower, Leggett, Petroleum, Allen, V and J Tower First National Bank, and Wilkinson-Foster.

Oates is asking permission to extend the revamped system of deliveries to the entire downtown business section. He believes that it is a necessary public service for a growing city like Midland.

Under the old system, deliveries were made at the listed buildings twice a day.

WHICH WAY... AND HOW FAR?

BLUE BELL CHESTNUT

MILE

5 MILES

These are fundamental questions which we ask in many, many forms:
The school-boy wonders how to prepare for his chosen profession... and how long it will take him.
The romantic swain wonders which girl to marry... and when he will be able to afford to marry.
The ailing business man wonders how to regain his health... and how long before he can return to work.
And millions of folks, troubled with a sense of the futility of life, ask "how can we find happiness... and when will we ever attain it?"

The experience of the Christian Church answers clearly:
We find happiness by believing the truth Jesus Christ revealed to men... and that happiness begins as soon as we have faith in Him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Indians Beat Steeds, 6 To 3, On Dramatic Menapace Blow

By COPE ROUTE Reporter-Telegram Staff

The stout-hearted Midland Indians, riding high with a two-to-nothing edge in the first round of the Longhorn League's championship playoff series, come back home Friday night.

They came back home on the heels of a courageous performance Thursday night which pulled them from almost certain defeat as they won a dramatic 6-3 victory over the Big Spring Bronco.

Manager Jay Haney was undecided about his starting pitcher in the 8 p.m. homecoming attraction but it could be lanky Herb Dwive, who pitched only one inning Thursday night but gained credit for the victory.

ED MENAPACE ... delivers in the pinch

J. come May Pitch Or it could be the dependable Eddie Jacobs, who was warming up in the bullpen Thursday night as the game headed into its final inning.

For the Bronco, Manager Pat Stacey likely will call on Mike Estrada, who has only nine victories to match his 11 defeats of the regular season.

But whoever pitches, it is unlikely they will match the drama of Thursday night game, when bull-necked Ed Menapace came off the inactive list to drive in two runs as a pinch-hitter and give the Indians their first winning margin of the ball game.

For seven and two-thirds innings, the heavy-set Menapace, who was placed on the active list only last week after a three-week tour of duty as an inactive player, patiently played the role of the first-base coach.

Then, with two outs, Haney gave him the signal and he stepped up to the plate to face right-hander Bert Baes without even swinging the traditional two bats to warm up.

And on the first pitch, Menapace slapped one of Baes' fast ones into left field to drive in Julio de la Torre and Bill Brown and gave Midland a 5-3 lead, its first lead of the ball game.

The game had started as a pitchers' duel between little Israel Ten, the Puerto Rican fastballer, and Baes.

Until the last half of the sixth inning, neither side had scored a run and each had picked up four hits along the way.

Then the Big Spring bats came to life. Witty Quintana slapped a single into left field and Pat Stacey placed one in the same spot but he gained a two-bagger when the ball took a crazy bounce over Brown's left shoulder.

Juan Visteur came through with another two-bagger into right-center field to score Stacey for the second Bronco run. Buddy Grimes walked and when Ten tried to catch him off first, he threw wide and permitted Visteur to come on in for the third and last Big Spring run.

Indians' Unfrightened They didn't scare the Indians, though.

Many Temes led off the seventh inning with a single into center and then was caught at second when he waited to long to watch De la Torre's blooper drop safely into right field.

Brown was safe when his long fly ball bounced off Center Fielder Visteur's glove.

Woody Flemington then stepped in to pinch hit for Ten and sent a long fly ball into right field. After the catch, De la Torre romped in for the first Midland score. Brown scored when Earl Boschberry shot a single into center field.

Those two runs helped but Midland was still trailing, 3-2, when the eighth inning opened, after Herb Dwive had taken over the hurrying duties and gave up only one ineffective hit in the last half of the seventh.

With one out, big Glenn Seibo drove a short liner into right-center field. Stacey made a dive at it but fell short and Seibo romped on around to third base. Temes led to right field and Seibo came on in for the tying run.

De la Torre and Brown singled into center and Gordon Tanner walked to set the stage for Menapace's heroic appearance.

Everything after that was anticlimactic as little Ed Santa came in to pitch the last two innings and give up only one hit and a grounder took a high hop over De la Torre's head.

In their opening half of the ninth, the Indians picked up one more run. Scooter Hughes drove his second single of the night into left field and then sped on home as Seibo, picking up his second extra-base hit, drove a hard two-bagger which bounced off the left field fence, just above Grimes' outstretched glove.

For the final out, Seibo was tagged as he attempted to steal home after being sacrificed to third by Temes.

Crowds Drop In Longhorn

ABILENE—(P)—The Longhorn League drew 64,411 fans during the 1952 season, falling 5,421 shy of last year's paid attendance.

San Angelo again set the pace with 78,892, but the Colts also showed the biggest drop from 1951, when the club drew an all-time league record attendance of 115,818.

Five of the eight clubs showed gains for the season—Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Artesia and Sweetwater.

League President Hal Bayles said the overall attendance ran ahead of last year through the first three-quarters of the campaign but fell off appreciably in the final stage of the race after several clubs dropped from contending positions.

The comparative attendance:

Team	1952	1951
Artesia	45,223	42,548
Big Spring	45,223	42,570
Midland	44,188	39,797
Odessa	72,008	68,888
Rowell	66,071	65,361
San Angelo	78,892	115,818
Sweetwater	27,000	23,430
Vernon	36,104	34,606

FIFTH GAME (?) SUNDAY NIGHT

If the Midland-Big Spring Shagheeny series extends to five games, the fifth game will be played Sunday night in Indian Park, General Manager Horace Ruffy said Friday.

With a two-game advantage, the Indians need to win both Friday and Saturday night to clinch up the first round of the championship series.

If the game is necessary Sunday night, it will begin at 8 p.m., the regular starting time.

Stanton Boosters To Elect Leaders

STANTON—Officers for the Stanton Booster Club will be elected at a meeting Tuesday night in the school cafeteria.

Oilers Win Third Tilt From Drillers

ARTESIA—(P)—Wes Ortiz elbowed a neat six-hit shutout over the Artesia Drillers to push the Odessa Oilers to a 3-0 lead in the first round Longhorn playoffs with a 4-0 win here Thursday night.

There will be no game Friday night to avoid conflict with a high school football game. The series will be resumed Saturday.

The Oilers punished Artesia Starter Laverne Herrmann with six hits for three runs in the one and one-third innings he pitched—all the runs they needed for the victory. The Oilers now need only one more win for the series victory.

Artesia put together its only serious threat to Ortiz' shutout in the first inning when a pair of singles and an error loaded the bases with one down. But Ortiz got the next two men on harmless flies.

The Oilers put together singles by Roman Loyko, Bob Martin, Bill Cearley and Charley Weber and one of the four Driller errors for two runs in the first inning.

Castro Doubles And they managed another in the second off Herrmann on a double by Felix Castro and a single by Loyko.

Len Ruyie then came on to put out the fire and set the Oilers down with one line single until the sixth, when they got to him for three hits and their last run of the night.

Weber, Martin Tredaway and Castro got the blows, but they needed the help of another error to get the tally.

Presbyterian Men See Football Film

First Presbyterian Men of Midland held their first meeting of the Fall season Thursday night in the church's Fellowship Hall.

A color, sound film, "Football Highlights of 1951," produced and distributed by the Humble Oil & Refining Company, was shown as the program feature.

President Billy Baldwin, who presided at the dinner-meeting, announced that Dr. R. Gage Lloyd of Big Spring, who returned recently from a tour of the Holy Land, will be the guest speaker at the October 2 meeting of the organization.

Representatives from other Presbyterian Churches in the area will be invited to attend.

Members of Circle 2, Women of the Church, prepared and served the food at the Thursday night gathering.

Surge Over Big Spring Magnifies Tribe Spirit

By JIM LINDSEY

BIG SPRING—Comebacks pack some of the most dramatic punches in all sports. The will to win in the face of what might be considered certain defeat has made the Indians great under the generalship of Jay Haney.

The Tribe recorded one of its miracle-like surges Thursday night to overtake the Bronco for the 6 to 3 victory. There seems no substitute for team spirit in trying moments.

The Indians exhibited again in full measure the solid stuff that produces champions.

Fewer Longhorn League games have exhibited the sparkling defensive play unrolled in Star Park Thursday night. Shortstop Scooter Hughes never covered more territory. He haunted short center like a ghost to take grounders across the bayside sack.

Swift Cahlan Dinkie performed like a major leaguer in center field. As one oncoming scribe put it, the Marshall comet covered an acre like a tent. Not only was Dinkie pulling in the skied balls, but his throw-ins were right. And he lurched behind the other outfielders to give protection.

Glenn Seibo, the long-legged gardener, pe the faith with those who place him alongside the best in the Longhorn circuit. His hitting, fielding and base running continue at a high scale. Like a majority of the Indians, he had his great moments in the rally that folded the Bronco spirit like the well-worn road map.

Bill Brown was equal to the occasion in left field. He took fly after fly ball without a bobble. Several times Brown had the batter figured right and moved little to haul in the drive to his ballwick.

Jay Haney demonstrated again his shrewdness in handling his own players and outsmarting the enemy. The Bronco have been left bewildered more than once by Haney's unexpected strategy in the current series.

Little Ed Santa delivered in grand style to finish off the Coyotes. His performance Thursday night plus the Iron Man stunt in beating the power-laden Artesia Drillers in both games of a doubleheader at the end of the season stimulates fulfillment of predictions that he'll develop into a far-better-than-average moundman.

Likeable, usually pleasant Ed Menapace will never forget that September 11 in Big Spring. His two-out pinch hit single with the bases loaded was a once-in-a-lifetime thrill. It isn't that Ed wouldn't deliver again in the clutch; it's just that the exact conditions under which he came through may never form the same pattern.

There is little reason or fact to cause the statisticians to doubt the ability of the Indians to defeat Pat Stacey's club. The Tribe took six of the last eight games with the Big Spring regular season compression. Add the two victories in the Shagheeny, and the Indians boast eight wins in 19 contests with the Howard County team.

Al Costa, Bronco shortstop, appeared the pupil of Scooter Hughes Thursday night. The short, wide Cuban did some highway robbery himself. One of the best fielding plays of the game resulted when Costa turned his back to the infield, roared into left field in the region of third base and set himself for a long, fast throw to nip a fleeing Indian at first.

Jay Haney pulled out all of the stops to earn Thursday night's triumph. He almost emptied the baseball deck to gain the payoff. Haney was equal to every opportunity and capitalized in most instances. The chief pitcher in regular season compression. Add the two victories in the Shagheeny, and the Indians boast eight wins in

Playoff Players In Longhorn To Share Special $3,731 Pot

ABILENE—(P)—Longhorn League players now involved in the circuit's Shagheeny playoffs will share a pot of $3,731.05 as well as taking in a 25 per cent out on adult admissions in the first four games of each playoff series.

League President Hal Bayles explained that a special players' fund was set up to place one cent of every adult admission sold during the season into a "kitty." Total adult admission for the season was $73,105. Of that total, players on the first-place Odessa team will draw 40 per cent, Big Spring 30 per cent, Midland 20 per cent and Artesia 10 per cent.

Players on the winning teams in the first round of the playoffs will get 60 per cent of the players' share of the first round four games, the losers taking 40 per cent. The same applies for the final round of the playoffs.

Midland's share of the admission "kitty" amounts to $748.25.

Dempsey Could Beat Cropp In Ten Rounds

NEW YORK (NEA)—What does Gene Tunney think of Jersey Joe Walcott and Rocky Marciano, who fight for the world heavyweight championship at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium, September 23?

"I have deep respect for Joe as a man and a champion," says the Manly Marine who retired undefeated. "Walcott boxed well, cutely, if not classically. He has a strong wallop in either glove. He is also cautious, but his caution has not prevented him from scoring knockdowns and knockouts. He had Joe Louis on the floor three times, and, of course, he knocked out Charles. If Jersey Joe had been accorded proper instruction and support earlier in his career it might not have taken him so long to achieve the championship.

"Marciano has been called The Poor Man's Dempsey. Not a judicious tag line for Rocky, at all. In many respects, he reminds me of Jack. He has a knockout punch in either hand. He takes a punch beautifully. He has a wonderful fighting heart. He fears no man, and would not fear Dempsey. Rocky is by far our most exciting heavyweight since Louis was in his prime. Marciano has unusually short arms for a heavyweight. He has to throw a lot of punches to land a few. This, at times, is bound to make him look clumsy. Against Dempsey, or anybody else, Rocky could fight only one way: Slam in, throw punches, take them."

Tunney believes a Dempsey-Marciano fight would be a chest-to-chest affair that would have the crowd in a frenzy. His guess is that it would provide the wildest first round since Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo.

As might be expected, Walcott and Marciano, Tunney says, would move down the four top heavyweights of today, one after another, inside of 10 rounds. With becoming modesty—and possibly the shrewd knowledge that by so doing he makes himself look very good—the Shakespearean scholar admits the Manassa Man Mauler, whom he twice outboxed in 10 rounds, was the greatest heavyweight champion. Against Dempsey, Tunney values Harry Matthews and Edward Charles going out in the second round, Walcott in the fifth and Marciano in the first. As for Louis, he agrees with another near old-timer who says the Brown Bomber would go out in the first flurry of punches.

After his quick, furious assault on Matthews and Charles, Dempsey would need to pace himself for a few rounds against Walcott, according to Tunney.

"It's even possible that while Jack was getting his second wind, Walcott would sneak over a left uppercut or a right cross that would shake up Dempsey, perhaps even knock him down," Tunney tells Tim Conright in Look. "But Jack would get right up. Along about the fifth round, Dempsey would jab Walcott with lefts to the pantry and jaw and dig him with murderous rights under the heart. Walcott would crumple to the canvas. He'd get up, but he'd soon go down to stay."

Nine rounds or less with Matthews, Charles and Walcott would leave even Dempsey a little weary. "So he would be in some danger with Marciano, a strong, determined young slugger," stresses Tunney. "Rocky would carry the fight to Jack, because it would be his only chance. But Rocky's overhand style of punching would leave him vulnerable to Dempsey's inside hooks to the body and head. I believe Jack and Rocky would be on the canvas one or more times before the end."

"Finally, Rocky would find a numbness in his legs prevented him from getting up."

Gene Tunney should know. He experienced a little trouble along that line in the seventh round of his second fight with Jack Dempsey in Chicago.

Onrushing Cleveland Creeps Within Half-Game Of Yanks

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's pennant drive and the Mike Garcia boom for most valuable player are swinging along hand in hand.

With "The Bear" boasting a string of 28 consecutive scoreless innings, the onrushing Indians Thursday crept within one-half game of the idle New York Yankees.

Cleveland's eight straight win, longest streak of the year in the American League, was a 1-0 job by Garcia, who allowed only two Philadelphia singles. It was his seventh shutout.

Six weeks ago Bobby Shantz of the Philadelphia A's seemed to have a lock on the American League MVP award. He still is the favorite but Garcia is lining up a torchlight parade of supporters.

Shantz Falls

While little Bobby failed five times in a row, reaching for win No. 23, Garcia has produced four straight wins to make the 30-grade. He is the third 30-game winner in the league, joining Teammate Early Wynn and Shantz.

Heading into the showdown one-game series with the Yanks Sunday, Garcia looms as the likely Cleveland starter. The Indians now have 13 to play, the Yankees 14 more games.

The Yanks aren't the only leaders looking over their shoulders. Brooklyn is at it again with the New York Giants closing in.

When Brooklyn lost to Chicago, 11-7, Thursday and the Giants nipped Pittsburgh, 5-4, the Dodger lead dwindled to three and one-half games. The Brooks have 15 to play, the Giants 14.

A year ago the Giants were six games back on the morning of Sept. 12 and eight of them were on the losing side of the ledger.

Chicago, taking two of four from Brooklyn, piled up an early 9-0 lead that was more than enough to offset a grand slam homer by Andy Pafko and an eight-inning rally.

Once again it was a story of inadequate pitching for the Dodgers against the Yankees. Billy Loew and Ben Wade taking their lumps in a seven-run fourth inning.

Seven errors were committed in the sloppy game that saw 11 hits including Hank Bauer's thirty-seventh homer, Ray Shalters' fifth and Pafko's seventeenth. All Dodger runs were unearned.

Al Dark and Sal Yvars hit homers for the Giants and Bob Elliott delivered two with a pinch single but they needed an error by catcher Joe Garagiola to get the winning run in the seventh.

Hoyt Wilhelm turned in another splendid relief job in his sixty-second game to save Sal Maglie's sixteenth win. He allowed only one hit—a homer by Sonny Senerchia—in two and two-thirds innings. Maglie was nicked for Ralph Kiner's thirty-fourth home run.

Robin Roberts of the Phillies wrapped up his twenty-fourth, tops in the majors, by beating the St. Louis Cards, 3-2. The win gave the Cards two out of three over the Brooklyn Friday night for the first of a two-game series. The Giants play a day doubleheader with Cincinnati.

Washington took a fall out of third-place Chicago, 4-1, on Jackie Jensen's double, Jim Busby's triple, a walk and an error by Rocky Krsnich. Walt Masterson went all the way for his tenth win, beating Joe Dobson.

Walt Dropp smashed two towering homers and Jim Delane came through with a game-winning pinch single for Detroit's 5-4 edge over the Boston Red Sox. Dave Madison pitched to only one batter in a brief relief job to get credit for the victory, the Tigers' fourth straight.

The Yankees and St. Louis were idle as were Boston and Cincinnati in the National. The Yanks resume defense of their slim lead in Chicago Friday night where they open a two-game series with the White Sox.

Red Raider Club Planned By Ex-Techsters In Area

Texas Tech alumni and ex-students in Midland and the surrounding area will form a Red Raider Club here Saturday night.

Two members of the Red Raider football coaching staff will meet with the former students at 7 p.m. in the American Legion Hall.

Coaches Jack Mitchell and Ben Warren will direct organization of the club to back Tech's athletic adventures. Mitchell was an all-America selection in 1948 when he played quarterback at the University of Oklahoma.

Warren is in his first season with the Raiders. He was a tailback on Tennessee's championship teams in the late 30's.

Movies of the Texas Tech-TCU game in 1951 will be shown. A barbecue dinner will be served.

Reservations are being taken by Mary Goddard, Phone 4-7723.

Lufkin Edges Port Neches In State Top AAA Clash

By The Associated Press

Odeness plays at Port Arthur Friday night in the top games of Texas schoolboy football for the week.

The game matches two Class AAAA powers from across the state. Denison will be at Temple in the Class AAA headliner as schoolboy football moves into all areas. It's the first big week of play with a round 250 games in the four top divisions that battle to state championships.

Thursday night with the feature being Lufkin at Port Neches in Class AAA. Lufkin won 15-6.

Other results Thursday night: Lamar (Houston) 12, St. Thomas (Houston) 7; Cedar Bayou 22, Dickinson 9; El Paso High 22, Cathedral (El Paso) 6; Forest (Dallas) 26, Jesuit (Dallas) 18; East Mountain 6, Pittsburg 0; Farmerville 22, Hays City 0.

Garland 14, Plano 6; Mesquite 19, Buckner Home (Dallas) 0; Bishop Byrne (Port Arthur) 16; Nederland 18; Sunset (Dallas) 9 1/2, Richardson 6; Calvert 26, Palestine 6; Sunset (Dallas) 0 7/2, Ferris 6.

Carver Hornets Win Over Lubbock Team

The Carver Hornets thumped the Lubbock Ranchers 13-0, Thursday night in an exhibition football game in Kermit sponsored by the Lions Club.

Theodore Carruthers, left end, scored both touchdowns for the Hornets. He recovered a fumble and scampered into pay dirt for one touchdown. The other came when Carruthers took the ball over from the Rancher 20-yard on an end-around play.

Sports Bounce Cats Third Time, Indians Lead Dallas Eagles

By The Associated Press

Oklahoma City and Shreveport, the Texas League's slugging teams that bludgeoned their way into the playoffs, are having their finer moments now.

Fourth-place Oklahoma City went ahead in its series with the champion Dallas Eagles Thursday night, winning 3-1 and needing only six hits. Oklahoma City has a two-to-one advantage in wins.

Meanwhile, Fort Worth's playoff hopes were dimmed by the surprising mound work of Shreveport's staff. The Cats bowed, 7-2, to Hugh Sooter's seven-hitter.

That made it 3-0 in the series for Shreveport.

After two nights of collecting 28 hits, Oklahoma City settled down to make just two long clouts pay off against Dallas pitcher Jose Santiago.

Crane's Football Stadium Takes On That 'New Look'

CRANE—The El Ave stadium at Crane is sporting a "new look" for the coming football season.

Stands, fences and press boxes all have been covered with a fresh coat of paint, and an electric scoreboard has been moved to a new entrance has been constructed at the east gate with a stairway under the stands leading to the reserved section. It will help reserve ticket holders avoid the rush at the main gate.

Clifton Carroll, high school principal, reports most of one section of reserved seats has been sold. However, he said plenty of good seats still are available at $5 for home games.

Supt. Brady Nix has received 450 school reserve seats for the Crane-Andrews game, to be held in Andrews next Saturday night. No tickets for children are available. Adult admission to the contest is $1. Tickets can be purchased at the superintendent's office or the Corner Drug Store.

First home game for the Golden Cranes is with the Seminoles Indians September 19.

Real Delight Heads Entries For Handicap

NEW YORK (AP)—A dozen or more fillies and mares headed by Calumet Farm's Real Delight are expected to battle it out Saturday in the $50,000-added Beldrums Handicap at Aqueduct.

Real Delight, top three-year-old filly in the business right now and one of the leading money winning horses of 1953, has high weight of 120 pounds in the mile and one eighth event.

Ben Jones, the veteran Calumet trainer, hasn't said definitely the daughter of Bull Lea would start, but she has been working for the race at Belmont Park and they don't usually pass up the big ones.

The last time Real Delight started in New York was in May, when she won the $50,000 Coaching Club American Oaks, and she'd be the favorite in the Beldrums.

Louis B. Mayer's Princess Lydia, Alfred M. Jeffords' Miss Mc Kate, and Oden Phillips' Susanna loom as the main rivals of the Calumet filly.

Better Monahans Grid Team Seen

MONAHANS—The Monahans Lobos are expected to give the Wink Wildcats a "run for their money" when they tangle in the opening event for both teams Saturday night at Wink.

While no predictions as to the ability and chances of his squad in the forthcoming District 8-AA chase have been made by Lobo Coach F. O. Scroggins, he does say, "they'll be some better than last year."

Paced with the loss of two valuable men before the season got started, Scroggins still has 18 lettermen returning from last fall, when the Lobos almost were the doormats of the district, finishing fourth.

But the green-clad squad hit a late stride and struck its peak when they tied Pecos in the final game to deprive the Eagles of the district crown.

Expected to lead the Lobo attack is Douglas Creamer, 170-pound fullback who missed most of last year's games with a bummed-up leg. Along with him will be Alan Nelms, 180-pound senior, Kenneth Reamy, 185-pound junior, and Johnny Jordan, junior quarterback.

Spearsheading the line will be big Bill Busby, 210-pound senior two-year-lettermen at tackle.

Other lettermen are Lonnie Oeder, 135-pound junior back; Ray Yates, 160-pound back; Bill Shoemaker, 160-pound senior back; Dennis Collins at center; Bill Suggs, 150-pound senior end; James Reynolds, 155-pound junior end; W. H. Price, 170-pound senior tackle converted from the backfield; Hilton Casey, 150-pound senior guard; Dave Hughes, 160-pound senior guard; and Bill Thornton, 160-pound guard.

"We won't have much speed," Scroggins comments. "Some of our boys are lousy, and we'll give some of these teams a hard time."

The complete Lobo schedule:
Sept. 13—Wink three.
Sept. 20—Alpine three.
Oct. 3—Brownfield three.
Oct. 10—Levelland here.
Oct. 17—Winters here.
Oct. 24—Andrews three.
Oct. 31—Kermit here.
Nov. 7—Open.
Nov. 14—Seminole here.
Nov. 21—Pecos three.

Ex-Kermit Griddler To Play With A&I

KINGSVILLE — Jack Krodel of Kermit is one of the 43 Javelinas or Texas A&I in Kingsville that will try to defend the part of the Texas Conference championship that A&I won last year. The conference finished in a three-way tie between A&I, Abilene Christian College, and Howard Payne.

Krodel, who graduated last Spring at Kermit High School, will play end at A&I. In high school he lettered two years in football and basketball and one year in track. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Oxford.

Ferris Fain of the Philadelphia Athletics is the only American League first baseman to play regularly at that position with the same club during the last five seasons.

Three Golfers Manage Par In First Round Of Eastern

BALTIMORE (AP)—Everybody talks about the big size of Mount Pleasant's golf course, but the 123 players in the Eastern Open Friday worried as much about the comparatively dinky seventeenth hole.

In Thursday's opening round of the 72-hole tourney, 66 of the players went over par three there. By contrast, the three leaders with scores of four-under-par 66, Steve Nielg of Tulsa, Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and Johnny Bulla of Verona, Pa., took the regulation number of strokes.

Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., would have been in the first place tie if it weren't for the seventeenth. He was four strokes ahead of par with only two holes to go. He lost a stroke to the devilish seventeenth to wind up tied for second with Julius Boros of Mid Pipe, N. C.

The seventeenth tee is on top of a hill looking down on a peanut-shaped green on a plateau and nestled against another hill. The tee shot has to go between two clumps of trees and over a creek to the green which is surrounded by traps.

The $15,000 tournament went into its second round with the race wide open. Twenty players were only three strokes apart between the leading 68 and 71 round.

Timothy Taxpayer Takes One More Look, Decides Water, Sewer Bonds Are Needed

By COPE ROUTH
Timothy Taxpayer, for a change, was in a good mood as he slipped into the office of J. W. Orman, the city's director of public works.

"Now, don't get excited, Mel," he said. "I ain't mad about nothing. I just want some information."

Orman leaned back in his chair, with a sigh of relief.

"Fine," he said, "what can I do for you?"

Stevenson Promises Texas Campaign Swing This Fall

By The Associated Press
Texas Democrats who are remaining loyal to the party nominee had assurance Friday that Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson would bring his presidential campaign to Texas this fall.

Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell said in New York Thursday that Stevenson would invade Texas during the presidential campaign in a drive for the state's 24 electoral votes.

He did not specify details of the Stevenson Texas campaign, but he added that he has urged the Democratic nominee to go into other areas of the normally solid Democratic South.

Trial Of Motorist Accused Of Fouling Airliner Postponed

The trial of a grey-haired Terminal man, alleged driver of the automobile which Tuesday night interfered with the landing of a 41-passenger airliner was postponed a week Friday.

As the man appeared to ask for the continuance, it was learned the 41-passenger American Airlines Convair had two close calls when it attempted to land at Midland Air Terminal.

John Lewis of El Paso, one of the passengers on the plane, said the car appeared on the runway, behind the VFW Hall, just as the airliner prepared to land.

47,000 Men Face Draft In November

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Defense Department Friday asked the Selective Service System to call up 47,000 men in November, for assignment to the Army.

The other services plan no draft calls in November.

The November figure is based on maintaining approved strength after allowances have been made for enlistments and re-enlistments.

Midlander Caught In Electric Saw Enters Hospital

Oliver W. Graham, Midland, employed by the Thompson Construction Company, suffered a severe cut on his right leg at 4:35 p.m. Thursday, when he was caught in an electric saw.

He was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital in a Newline W. Ellis ambulance, where surgery was performed to sew up a 10-inch laceration extending down his thigh to the knee.

Attaches said Friday that his condition was "good."

ADLAI, SON LIKE WARRENS

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The Stevensons and the Warrens seem to get along pretty well together. Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic standard bearer, praised California's Republican Gov. Earl Warren in both his speeches here Thursday.

Stevenson Says Democratic Party Alone Not Responsible For Federal Corruption

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson went on the offensive Friday with a denial, framed in his strongest language, that Democrats alone are responsible for corruption and misconduct in the federal government.

"Whom fault is it," he asked, "that we get what we deserve in government?"

And his answer was: "It is the fault of you, the people. Your public servants serve you right; indeed often they serve you better than your apathy and indifference deserves."

Texas Crime Shows Sharp Rise In 1952

AUSTIN—(AP)—Murder and homicide increased almost 85 per cent in Texas the first six months of this year compared with the same period of 1951, the Department of Public Safety reported Friday.

This was the core of Stevenson's answer to one of the central issues in the battle for presidency. He quoted his Republican opponent as saying it is "the only issue."

Stevenson devoted a whole speech to it in Los Angeles Thursday. In a second speech here, he painted a picture of the United States 20 years from now, promised a golden future, and said of the Republicans:

Two Hurt Seriously In Howard Shooting

BIG SPRING—(AP)—John W. Marchbanks, about 30, and his son-in-law, Martin Binder, 38, were wounded seriously in a shooting here Thursday night.

Stevenson carried his campaign Friday into the Southwest, heading for Arizona and New Mexico. He plans to be in his Springfield headquarters late Saturday.

Midlanders To Fill Posts For Texas Presbyterians

A group of six Midland Presbyterian church leaders have returned from a three-day meeting of the Southern Presbyterian Church Synod. The session began on Tuesday near Hunt in Kerr County.

Work on the budget revealed that the synod contributed $4,750,000 to various worthy causes through March, 1952. A special fund of $384,000 has been set aside to support negro churches of the Presbyterian denomination in 1952. Approximately half of this will be used to finance a church school in Alabama, with the balance for improving church facilities.

UN Artillery Halts Red Blows At Hill; Sabres Down MIG

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—UN artillerymen Friday raked the valleys north of Capitol Hill with a barrage that kept the Communists from launching new assaults on the sacred Central Front ridge.

Officers later found Marchbanks in the front yard of his home near the cafe. He had a bullet wound in his head.

Caudle's Successor Relieved Under Fire

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorney General McGranery Friday relieved Ellis N. Slack as head of the Justice Department's tax division and replaced him with Charles F. Lyon, who has been chief counsel of the House Committee investigating tax scandals.

He announced Slack will return to his former post as chief of the appellate section of the tax division.

Boyle Reduces And Likes It, But Another Goal Lies Ahead

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—What do you do with your old New Year's resolutions?

For years I used to write mine down the first of each January—and manage conveniently to lose them by the first of February. The natural result was: out of sight, out of mind.

This Spring, however, while cleaning out my dresser drawers, I found a wrinkled, yellowed sheet of paper. It was my New Year's resolution for 1946, and the last paragraph read:

"... and I promise to get my stripped weight down to 170 pounds and be more obedient to my wife."

Well, I decided right then to do something about it. And—like the sports writers say—the rest is history. A stringent diet of things like poached eggs, ground beef, and salads made of several varieties of wide-bladed grass has put me right back to where I wanted to be in 1946.

I weighed on a drug store scales that day and got back a card that said "306." Allowing about six pounds for clothing, I was an overplump 200—30 pounds higher than my target of 170 years ago.

I weighed on a drug store scales that day and got back a card that said "306." Allowing about six pounds for clothing, I was an overplump 200—30 pounds higher than my target of 170 years ago.

The same drugstore scales today told me I had hit the 170-pound level and added: "You have a judicial mind." I admire that little old weighing machine. Sometimes it is pounds foolish, but it is always penny-wise. It never says an unkind thing to anybody. One day I put a cent into it and it failed to work. I shook it angrily and slapped it in its glass face, and out tumbled a card that said:

"You always keep your emotions under control and get full value for every cent you spend."

Results Worth Effort
How do you like that for a machine turning its other cheek? Why can't we all be as kind as weighing machines?

Many fatties wonder what life would be like if they shed their excess blubber. Here are a few results in my case:

1. People used to be able to follow me around the office by the trail of buttons that popped off my straining vest. Today I have taken two long steps before my slackened coat begins to move.

2. My wife formerly upbraided me: "Every husband on this floor carries out the garbage to the incinerator but you." And I replied, "I'm too tired. Take it out yourself—it's yours. I don't leave anything on my plate." Now I don't mind carrying out the garbage at all. There isn't much anyway, as Frances went on a diet, too.

3. I used to huff and puff climbing the steps of a bus. But the other night I "huffed" half way through a walk.

4. I used to waddle when I walked like a ship in a rising sea. Now I slither along like a lean tiger—41

3. Chairs feel harder. With your padding gone, you can't sit still so long. So you get up and get your work done quicker.

6. Apples of buttered bread, a blob of mashed potatoes, are as beautiful as a sunset. When I snuck a dish of ice cream now, I feel more devilish than I did in college when I kept a severity girl out after midnight.

But the best thing about dieting is it helps baldness. When you lose weight you shrink all over, including your hair. Nobody else may notice it, but you do.

My ambition now is to drop from 170 pounds to about 80 pounds. I figure at that weight my scalp will have shrunk as much I'll look like I'm wearing a coonskin cap. That's my real goal.
