

HOLLYWOOD WHING-DING— Davies To Throw $25,000 Soiree For Cryin' Johnny

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Morton Davies, one of the industry's most famous hosts, will host a $25,000 party Thursday night for Johnny Ray, a singer who must have heard but never has met.

The soiree gives every indication of being the biggest social affair in Hollywood in years. The acceptance list, numbering 500 already—and growing—reads like pages from the movie almanac.

First Davies has talked with Ray on the phone and she knows his name, the former Marilyn Morrison. Mrs. Ray is the daughter of Charles Morrison, owner of the Motion Picture Herald.

But what brings Ray to town, ironically is an engagement at Ciro's, the Moroccan rival for Sunset Strip night life trade.

Ciro's sued Ray for a crying engagement's first inkling of Johnny's romance with Morrison's daughter.

Capt. Horace Brown, Miss Davies' seafaring husband, will be at her side receiving guests in her spacious Beverly Hills home. Some of them will be Joan Crawford, Gary Cooper, Hootie Carmichael, Ethel Merman, Debbie Reynolds, Jack Benny, Spike

Jones, George Burns and Grace Allen, Clifton Webb, Conrad Hilton, Van Johnson, Edward G. Robinson, Bill Boyd, Jean Simmons, Stewart Granger, Bill Powell, Charles Farrell, Jerry Lewis, Esther Williams, Lana Turner, Fernando Lamas and Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, better known as Amos 'n' Andy.

Huge tents will be erected on the grounds. Three rooms within the manor are being redecorated to resemble three New York night spots—the Stork Club, 21 and El Morocco. There will be three bands and a host of butlers to serve. There will be a half dozen bars.

It will be something like the parties Marion used to give in her king-sized beach front cottage at Santa Monica.

An aide to the former movie queen estimates the cost of this affair at $25,000—and that's conservative, he added.

Eleanor, Billy's Detectives, Play Hide-And-Go-Seek

NEW YORK—(P)—Eleanor Holm Rose says she is not running away from a court order obtained by her estranged husband, Billy Rose—but that his private detectives were just looking for her in the wrong places.

Rose's dapper Broadway showman, obtained the order in state supreme court Tuesday. It requires the former swimming star to show cause Thursday why she should not appear and be examined as to any knowledge she might have concerning her whereabouts.

While Mr. Rose was announcing that sleuths were looking for the wife... that "I was on the lam," I was working with my attorneys at their office and having dinner publicly at the Hotel Astor dining room.

Movies In Three Dimensions Make Debut; Results Lauded

NEW YORK—(P)—You now can take a dizzy ride on a roller coaster—sitting in a movie seat.

You'll gasp, get clammy hands. It's real.

It's Cinerama. This is a new movie system of projecting pictures which gives an illusion of the third dimension—depth.

After its premiere Tuesday night at the Broadway Theater, old movie-man Louis B. Mayer exclaimed: "I think it means new life for pictures. It'll do for the industry what sound did for silent pictures."

The first showing of the new film is pitched on its technique rather than a dramatic story. The backers of the new process wanted to show what it could do. The result is a series of beautiful and at times startling sketches in color of Europe and American scenes.

The film is projected on a curved screen. It's like looking into the bottom of a "U." The screen is about six times the size of the one in your neighborhood theater.

The image on the screen is not one picture. It's really three. In making the movie, the photographer uses a camera with three lenses. One looks straight ahead, a second to the left and a third to the right.

The projection is the same way. You see three pictures joined together as one on the big screen. Because of the curve in the screen, you get the illusion of depth.

With the new projection system, Cinerama also has come up with new sound. There are five loudspeakers spaced around the curved screen and other loudspeakers are at the sides and in back of the theater.

The most exciting sequence in the film, "This Is Cinerama," was the opening one. This took the audience on a roller coaster ride with all the realism of being in the front coaster seat.

It looks like David Niven will fall heir to some of the rich comedy plums being turned down by Alec Guinness, the biggest art-house star in the U. S. for the last two years. Alec wants to be regarded solely as a great, tragic actor from now on.

Now it can be told how Lex Barker snagged one of the leads in the Warner western, "Come on Texas." Barker anxious to convince producers he looks just as rugged out of the jungle, paid for a series of portraits that showed him off as a pirate, sea captain, ranger, cowboy, etc. His agents peddled the photos around town—and Warners was impressed.

Shivers To Tell Vote Plans Soon

AUSTIN—(P)—Gov. Allan Shivers will tell his plans for the general election in a radio speech this week or early next week.

The Texas governor is one of three rebellious Southern governors and has said he would not vote for the Democratic Presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, in the general election.

Other Democratic governors balking at voting for Stevenson are Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina and Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana.

Shivers also told reporters Tuesday he would ask Attorney General Price Daniel for an opinion on a write-in plan suggested by Claude Gilmer under which Democrats might be able to vote for GOP Presidential Candidate Dwight Eisenhower under a Democratic column.

Gilmer is chairman of the Texas Democrats for Eisenhower organization.

Shivers, who has not said he would vote for Eisenhower, said he thought a good many Texans now planning to vote for Stevenson would vote for Eisenhower if the attorney general rules the Gilmer proposal legal.

In another statement, Shivers said he does not supplement salaries paid his staff members and knows of no other state agency that does.

The governor said that in some state departments subordinates make more money than department heads whose pay is set up by the state constitution.

"That's a bad practice and ought to be remedied," Shivers told a news conference.

Striking Prison Inmates Will Get Rations Of Bread

SALT LAKE CITY—(P)—Warden Marcell Graham of Utah State prison said Wednesday he planned to pass out bread to almost 900 sullen prisoners who have been on a "do-nothing" strike since Sunday.

The inmates have refused to work or eat. They have not created any disturbance nor asked to have their grievances heard.

Graham said he believed they were protesting the State Pardons Board's interpretation of regulations providing time off for good behavior. But none of the convicts have communicated directly with him.

The last regular meal served to the inmates was at 4 p.m. Sunday. But Graham said some of them are well stock with edibles purchased in the prison commissary Saturday.

Perpetual Emotion

Ethel Merman, Broadway's perpetual emotion queen with 11 hit shows in 13 years, is back in Hollywood for her brassy role of "The Hostess With the Mostest" in Fox film version of Irving Berlin's musical political satire, "Call Me Madam."

It looks like it will be "Call Me Mrs." for Ethel now that boy friend Robert Six's divorce is final—but she's not committing herself on marriage to Six, president of Continental Airlines.

"I've been married twice and this time I'm going to think it over," she says. The report persists, however, that she's thought it over and again will become a bride.

Ethel's skipping a Broadway show this winter—after six nights a week of "Madam" for almost two years I'm falling down. She even nixed a monthly TV show "because I'm in no rush to do anything."

But this is definite—Ethel prefers her Central Park West penthouse in little old crowded New York to the Western wide-open spaces.

"Look," she remarked, "my terrace is twice as big as some of the ranches I've seen out here."

Betty Grable's refusal to go dramatic in "Blaze of Glory"—she was replaced by Jean Peters—will cost her only four weeks' salary. Her suspension ends with the completion of the picture. Fox is predicting flash stardom for 21-year-old Kathleen Crowley, a Miss America contestant from New Jersey in 1949, in "The Silver Whip." She

Church Women Hold Book Review And Tea

About 100 members and guests of the Midland Council of Church Women attended a silver tea Monday to hear Mrs. William P. Siard review the story of a leprosy patient who was cured and to contribute to their fund to aid lepers.

A sum of $195 was donated Monday, which was added to contributions from member churches to make a total of $348 in the council's fund to aid lepers and the leprosy research program.

The meeting was held in the First Methodist Church with the program in the sanctuary and the tea in Fellowship Hall.

Book reviewed "Miracle at Carville" by Betty Martin, the story of the author's successful fight against the dread disease.

The story, told by Mrs. Siard in first person, as it was written, opens with the author's discovery that she had leprosy—when she was 19 and had just become engaged—and covers the period she spent in the leper colony at Carville, La.

During her stay in Carville, the author saw her engagement broken and later fell in love with a fellow patient whom she married.

Losing hope for a cure, Mrs. Siard related, the couple once escaped to live in the outside world for a time, but returned to the sanctuary of Carville when the disease began to show and they were regarded again as criminals.

After many discouragements, and after seeing their condition grow steadily worse, Mrs. Siard continued, an effective treatment finally was found. The author and her husband improved and both passed the required 12 negative tests that pronounced them cured—20 years after they had entered Carville.

In addition to the author's fight to get well, Mrs. Siard's review included the author's interest in another fight—the one to break down public misinformation and prejudice against leprosy that has accumulated through 6,000 years.

After Mrs. Siard's review, the story of Pete the Pig was told by Mrs. R. B. Lamberson. The first Pete the Pig, Mrs. Lamberson explained, was bought, fattened and sold by a little boy in Kansas to contribute to a leper fund. Jazz, Ballads, Comedy Included In Anthony's Midland Shows

Midland jazz, ballads, tango, comedy numbers and a new dance step—variety to please any music fan—were all a part of the show presented by the Ray Anthony Orchestra for Midlanders Tuesday night.

Sponsored by the Eagles Lodge, "The Young Man With a Horn" and his musicians presented two shows Tuesday night in the Midland High School Auditorium.

The Midland appearance was a part of the orchestra's first extended tour of Texas. After the first week tour of the Lone Star State the Anthony troupe will play in Las Vegas. The orchestra came to Midland from Odessa, and continuing the appearances in West Texas and the Panhandle, was scheduled to go to Amarillo Wednesday.

Play 35 Numbers

Offering a selection of 35 numbers, the orchestra warmed a rather skeptical first-show audience to shouts and applause by intermission time.

Trumpet work was included in all the numbers and fine solo work by Anthony paced the band on both slow and jump arrangements.

Almost stealing the show was a new member of the band, diminutive Iris Douglas, whose vocalizing on "Wheel of Fortune" and "Jambalaya" brought her back for an encore. "Walkin' My Baby Back Home."

Other vocals enjoyed by the audience were by Tommy Mercer, baritone; Marcie Miller, sultry soprano; the Skyliners, a modern singing team; the Anthony Choir; and Kenny Trimble, funny man of the troupe.

Featured solos by Mercer were "I'm Yours" and "Old Black Magic," while, Miss Miller's numbers included: "You, You're Drivin' Me Crazy" and "Singing in the Rain." Dance Demonstrated

With assistance from some of the spectators, the band demonstrated the new dance, the "Bunny Hop," which is just what the name implies, a series of hops and jumps, danced in a line like the conga.

Among the best liked instrumental numbers by the orchestra were Richard Rogers' "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue," "Blue Tango," "On the Trail" from "Grande Canyon Suite," and "Mr. Anthony's Boogie" one of the numbers written by Anthony and the orchestra's arranger, George Williams.

Also pleasing the audience was a group of impersonations of famous musical groups, from Gene Krupa to the Ink Spots to Roy Acuff.

Concluding with a rousing "rendition" of "When the Saints Go Marching In," members of the band marched through the audience, winning the evening's biggest ovation when they worked in a few bars of "Dixie."—T. M.

Concluding a seven-day run termed successful by both sponsors and audiences, the Kiwanis minstrel-revue, "Here We Go," will have its closing performance at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday in the City-County Auditorium.

Presenting travel tips designed to aid or confuse—the traveler, the first half of the show takes the audience on a naval tour of duty, on a motor trip, and a hitchhiking jaunt, with stops around the world.

Music and lively jokes spark the minstrel presented in Act II. Thomas E. Beal, Sr., serves as interlocutor, with Bob Trawick, Bill Cumberland, Jr., Art Cole, Hulon B. Brown, Duke Jimerson and Toby Hilliard as endmen.

Shivers Names October P-TA Membership Enrollment Month

October has been designated as membership enrollment month for the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, according to an official memorandum issued by Gov. Allan Shivers.

Shivers is a life member of the state organization which, in the 43 years of its existence has grown to a membership of 401,541, thus ranking Texas fourth among the states. The national membership is 7,219,165.

To Increase Membership

During the month P-TA units over the state will seek to increase their membership.

"Because of the necessity for proper coordination between the home and the school in the life of our future citizenship, the continued advancement of parent-teacher associations is of great importance to the state as a whole."

Proclamation Continued

"Therefore I, as Governor of Texas, in recognition of the splendid work of the Texas Congress throughout its existence, hereby designate the month of October, 1952, as membership month, and I call upon all of our citizens to aid and encourage the Congress in the splendid work it is doing for the welfare of our children who will soon be called upon to assume responsibilities of citizenship."

Rome Police Asked For Explanation Of Church Closing

ROME—(P)—An explanation for closing some of the Church of Christ installations in Italy was asked in Parliament of Interior Minister Mario Scelba Tuesday.

Girolamo Bellavista, Liberal deputy, asked the minister for the "motives of Rome's police commissioners' order to close down the Church of Christ and forbid the holding of public religious services." The request asked for a written explanation.

Cline R. Faden, one of the protestant sect's missionaries here, was authorized by police to hold Church of Christ services in Rome last Sunday, but police said: "This is a temporary concession expired at the end of the services."

For the two previous Sundays Faden was not allowed to hold services because, officials said, the Church of Christ had not received government authorization for its activities.

Brown Says U. S. Public Not United On National Goals

"People in the United States do not seem to be united on any common goal," said Hulon Brown Tuesday night, addressing a monthly meeting of the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of CPAs.

The Midland attorney, speaking at the Ranchland Hill Country Club said, "Our present situation can be contrasted with the last war when Americans had one purpose—to win."

Brown told the group that the United States now is foundering on the economic front, and he compared present times with the depression years when everyone worked together to recover from a pit of economic despair.

Two permanent committees were appointed at the meeting. President Neil G. Hilliard, Big Spring, presided at the session.

A committee on Public Relations included M. A. Murphree, Midland; Jack N. Colquitt, Odessa; and Joe Fendleton, Big Spring.

The committee on Professional Ethics will consist of W. B. Newkirk, Midland; Ralph Munn, Odessa; and Carlson Hamilton, Big Spring.

The next session of the CPA group is to be held October 28.

New Methods In Cover Crop Work Shown At O'Neal Farm

The latest methods and equipment in cover crop planting, designed to reduce soil erosion, were demonstrated before a large group of farmers and ranchers at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the B. E. (Slim) O'Neal farm, located three and one-half miles south of Midland on the Rankin Highway.

The unique demonstration—the first of its kind in Midland County—was sponsored by the Agriculture-Hancock Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with agriculture agencies and equipment and seed-dealers.

B. H. Hines, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce, announced that 14 plots would be seeded simultaneously during the demonstration. The loud speaker equipment was provided by Avery Speedometer and Radio Service.

The persons attending viewed the type of seeding in which they were particularly interested.

Club Boys Attended

Young farmers were represented by Midland and Greenwood Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club boys.

A host of dignitaries, agriculture officials, farmers and other interested citizens comprised the remainder of the audience.

Out-of-town persons attending included Ray Hastings, Stanton, Martin County agent, and Soil Conservation Service personnel from Big Spring.

The agriculture officials pointed out that results of the cover crop seeding would be studied over a period of months to determine the most beneficial types in prevention of erosion.

Recent moisture facilitated the planting of cover crops in Midland County to keep the soil intact during Spring winds, officials said.

Four plots of irrigated cotton were planted during the demonstration.

One of these plots was planted with rye and vetch and 18-20-0 fertilizer. A Hancock row seeder, furnished by Hancock Manufacturing Company of Lubbock, was used. Farmer's Co-op Gin provided 25 pounds of rye and 15 pounds of vetch per acre for planting purposes. O'Neal supplied 200 pounds of 18-20-0 fertilizer per acre.

The second plot was planted with vetch and phosphate. The planting was done with a Farmall broadcast seeder, supplied by West-Tex Equipment Company, and an Allis-Chalmers cultivator, supplied by the Midland Tractor and Equipment Company. Midland Co-op Marketing Association supplied 25 pounds of vetch per acre, while O'Neal furnished 100 pounds of 0-45-0 fertilizer per acre.

The third plot was planted in Austrian Winter peas, with phosphate. A Hancock row seeder was used, and Williams Feed and Supply Company furnished 25 pounds of peas per acre. O'Neal supplied 100 pounds of 0-45-0 fertilizer per acre.

Rye and vetch, with phosphate, was planted in the fourth plot with a Gustafson seeder on a Ford cultivator supplied by Midland Tractor and Equipment Company. Williams Feed and Supply Company and Midland Co-op furnished 25 pounds of rye and 15 pounds of vetch per acre. O'Neal supplied 100 pounds of 0-45-0 fertilizer per acre.

Three plots of sorghum stubble were planted.

A Farmall planter with sidedressing attachment, supplied by West-Tex Equipment Company, was used to plant one plot with rye and vetch, with 0-30-0 fertilizer. Farmer's Co-op Gin furnished 25 pounds of rye and 15 pounds of vetch per acre, while Williams Feed and Supply Company supplied 100 pounds of 0-30-0 fertilizer per acre.

A Van Brunt grain-fertilizer drill, owned by the Soil Conservation District, was used to plant a plot with barley and vetch, with phosphate. O'Neal furnished 60 pounds of barley and 20 pounds of vetch per acre, as well as 100 pounds of 0-45-0 fertilizer per acre.

In another plot, a Van Brunt grain-fertilizer drill, owned by the Soil Conservation District, was used to plant barley and vetch, with 20-0-0 fertilizer. O'Neal furnished 60 pounds of barley and 20 pounds of vetch per acre.

Only one plot of a plowed sudan field was planted with barley and vetch, with phosphate. A Demster grain-fertilizer drill, supplied by Midland Tractor and Equipment Company, was used to plant 60 pounds of barley, 20 pounds of winter peas and 20 pounds of vetch per acre. O'Neal furnished the seeds and 100 pounds of 0-45-0 fertilizer per acre.

Keen interest was shown by the persons attending in the cover crop program.

O'Neal treated the crowd to soft drinks.

City To Trace Motorists Who Hide Behind 'Foreign' Tags

Approximately 2,000 motorists, who sport out-of-county licenses on their automobiles, are going to be tracked down by the City of Midland.

That many, said City Attorney Len G. McCormick Wednesday, have been given traffic violation tickets or overtime parking tickets since last March 1 and so far have not paid their fines.

"And now we're going to make every effort to trace them," said the city attorney.

"We know a lot of them actually live in Midland and they will be served with summons to appear in court.

"Those who actually live elsewhere also will be tracked down," McCormick said he had compiled the list from records in the city's Corporation Court and forwarded it to Austin to determine the owners.

Records of all automobile li-ences and their owners are kept on file in the motor vehicle division of the State Highway Department.

McCormick said he had conferred two weeks ago with Bob Brewer, director of the division of registrations and certificates of title and that Brewer had promised his cooperation.

"We should have the necessary information from Austin within the next few days," said McCormick.

"Warrants will be issued and sent to their registered addresses. If we receive no reply within a reasonable period we will check the city directory, the telephone book and our sources to determine if they are now living in Midland. The warrants will be served on them here.

"If they are found not to live here, warrants will be certified by the district or county judge in Midland county and forwarded to the police department in the city in which the automobile owner lives.

"These warrant officers will serve the papers on them just as we serve warrants for other cities when they are sent to us."

In addition to the regular fine, there is an addition $5 for preparation of the warrant plus mileage accumulated by the warrant officer.

Meat, Potato Prices Drop Hint At Lower Food Costs

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A dip of two per cent in average farm prices with meat and potatoes leading the drop, held out some hope Wednesday for lower food costs.

The decline in prices of farm products as a whole during the month that ended September 15 was reported late Wednesday by the Agriculture Department.

At the same time the department said average prices paid by farmers dipped only one per cent so that farm prices averaged 101 per cent of parity, compared with 109 per cent both a month and a year ago.

Parity is a standard used to compute farm prices that give farmers a fair purchasing power judged by a past favorable period. The most favorable recent period for farmers was October, 1946, when farm prices averaged 122 per cent of parity.

More livestock are moving to market now as a result of a period of high prices and so market prices were 15 per cent lower than a year ago and lowest since June, 1950, just prior to the Korean War.

Movements of more potatoes to market after a short crop also pushed prices downward as much as 50 cents and more a bushel. They averaged $2.22 a bushel in mid-September and $2.78 a month earlier.

Milk and other dairy prices moved in the opposite direction, probably because of widespread drought and high prices for livestock feeds. The survey showed an eight per cent increase in average dairy prices and the highest average for any September in 43 years that records have been kept.

Prices of things that farmers buy, including some foods at retail, were down slightly for the month.

But offsetting this were higher prices for sugar, corn meal, flour, coffee, milk and eggs.

13 Texas Cities Still Have Rent Controls

DALLAS—(AP)—Rent controls in Texas still remain after voluntary municipal control expired at midnight Tuesday in many cities over the country.

There are 13 "critical areas" in Texas which have rent control, Charles Yeager, information officer of Region 5 of the Office of Rent Stabilization, said. State-wide controls were abolished by the Texas Legislature in 1949.

The 13 Texas cities were placed under control after they were declared critical by the secretary of Defense or the director of defense mobilization. All the cities thus certified are around defense plants or military installations. They are: Freeport, Borger, Mineral Wells-Weatherford, Lone Star, Wichita Falls, Big Spring, San Marcos, Hondo, Rockdale, Port Lavaca, Kingsville and Florence-Killeen.

Cities in Region 5 where rent controls expired are New Orleans and Shreveport, La., and Eldorado, Ark.

Candidates Drop Issue Of Commies In Security Units

WASHINGTON—(AP)—It looks as if the nation's most secret organization, the Central Intelligence Agency, may have been a one-day political sensation.

The CIA is the organization on which the safety of this nation depends. Its awesome chore: finding out precisely what any potential enemies are up to.

The CIA became involved in politics because of something its director, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, said at the tail end of his testimony in a deposition hearing in Senator Joseph McCarthy's two-million-dollar libel-slander suit against Senator William Benton.

Smith said he believes Communists have worked their way into every security agency, including his own. Later, he qualified his remarks by saying:

"They're (the Communists) so clever you've got to proceed on the assumption they can infiltrate you, and that's what we do."

But never, he said, has a Communist been found in the CIA.

The Republicans, who have maintained all along that the Administration has been lax in its attitude toward Communists, reacted quickly.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican national chairman, said: "Shocking revelation x x x incredible looseness."

Things Cool Off

But the Democrats, as represented by their presidential nominee, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, counseled against injecting the CIA into politics.

That was after Smith had amplified his original remarks by explaining that it was necessary for him to "assume" that some Com-

Seeder Available For Farmers' Use

Arrangements have been made for the use of a Hancock grain-seeder row seeder by Midland County farmers in planting cover crops in cotton and sorghum fields.

It was announced Wednesday by Ben Osborn, conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.

Osborn said the planter probably would be purchased by the Soil Conservation District at the October/district meeting.

The planter is at the O'Neal farm, located three and one-half miles south of Midland on the Rankin Highway. A rental fee of 50 cents an acre is charged for use of the equipment, Osborn said.

Statler To Receive Bids On Dallas Hotel

DALLAS—(AP)—Statler Hotel Company will call for bids for construction of a Dallas Hotel by November 15, the chain's president, Arthur F. Douglas, said Tuesday.

The hotel is expected to cost about ten million dollars.

Go Easy On Wonder-Drugs, Washington Doctor Warns

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Doctors should be wary of sprouting the powers of the wonder-drugs in the way grandmothers measured the success of onion poultices, a Washington physician says.

Declaring that medical practitioners are all too prone to credit a wonder-drug like penicillin with the cure when a patient treated with such a drug for a poorly defined ailment—especially of the nose and throat—gets well, Dr. John A. Washington told the annual Scientific Assembly of the District of Columbia Medical Society late Tuesday.

"Like grandmothers with onion poultices, we credit our success to the medicine in use at the time the temperature drops."

The George Washington University pediatrician said that while the antibiotic wonder-drugs are valuable foes of certain specific infections, there are others against which the drugs have no power at all—and that some of these ailments are subject to spontaneous recovery.

He made the remarks in cautioning doctors against "unnecessary" use of the antibiotics lest they:

- (1) Needlessly expose a patient to the risk of some kind of a reaction from the drug; (2) subject a family to unnecessary expense for the drugs; (3) cause mothers to waken needlessly at all hours of the night to give the drug to a sick child; and (4) build up fears in a child of a "needle-wielding doctor."

Maxwell To Resign Big Bend Park Post

ALPINE—(AP)—The superintendent of Big Bend National Park, Dr. Ross A. Maxwell, will resign November 8 so he can devote full time to geological research.

Maxwell's resignation was announced Tuesday. He had been superintendent of the park since it was taken under the National Park Service in 1944. Earlier he worked in connection with CCC camps established there and with Texas state park developments in the park basin.

HE SHOULDN'T HAVE DONE IT

BALTIMORE—(AP)—It was almost three months late for fireworks, and besides, motorists don't usually go around shooting Roman candle balls of fire into the night air.

So police arrested Peter Mwar-cymaki and charged him with driving without registration, driving under a revoked license, with fictitious tags and reckless driving.

Jetliners Delivered Ahead Of Schedules

LONDON—(AP)—De Havilland Aircraft Company announced Wednesday it has delivered a full fleet of nine Series 1 Comet jetliners to the British Airways Corporation 15 months ahead of schedule.

The builders of Britain's record-breaking jet-propelled airliner said they now will start delivering 21 export Comets to the Canadian Pacific Airlines, the Royal Canadian Air Force and Air France. In a year's time, they added, they will start turning over more powerful Series 2 Comets to BOAC.

62 MIG's Killed In Month; Bombs Pulverize Red Plant

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—The U. S. Air Force Wednesday reported 20 Allied planes were lost to all causes in September. But it said only seven of its jet fighters were shot down in the furious air battles which cost the Communists a record 62 MIG-15's destroyed. The previous one month record for MIG's downed was 44, set last April.

The announcement came soon after the Allies opened another month of air blows with a massive B-29 attack against a sprawling chemical plant only 40 yards from the Manchurian border. An armada of 48 Superforts dropped about 425 tons of high explosives on the Nam-san plant in one of the biggest B-29 raids of the war.

The Air Force said the Reds lost 3,171 men killed, wounded and captured last week in ground fighting.

Savage close-in fighting flared on the Central Front west of the Pukhan River when a company of Chinese tried to capture an Allied high position.

The hand-to-hand fighting lasted almost two hours. UN troops, stood their ground and forced the Chinese back with bayonets, grenades and fists.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Reds lost 3,171 men killed, wounded and captured last week in ground fighting.

The B-29 attack on the Nam-san plant was the first of the war. An Air Force spokesman said it was "one of the most important industrial facilities in North Korea." It produced tungsten, carbide, black lead and other chemicals used in making munitions.

The bombers made their runs in single file through a network of searchlight beams and ground fire from both sides of the Manchurian border.

Two Face Charges In Plane Bombing

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The state Wednesday filed formal charges against two persons suspected of time-bombing a plane to collect insurance on seven passengers' lives.

The attorney general's office said there are five basic charges against each: attempted homicide against the 20 plane occupants, causing injuries to individuals, damage to private property, attack against public communications, and fraud.

Conviction on all charges would bring sentences of more than 70 years, but Mexican law limits the maximum cumulative sentence to 30 years.

The defendants are Peco Sierra, a popular and well-known singer, and Emilio Arriano Schetelge, identified as a U. S.-educated engineer. The case went before Federal District Court Judge Oloario Margalli, who has three days to check the evidence and decide whether to order trial.

The bomb went off on a Oaxaca-bound plane last Wednesday, damaging the craft and lightly injuring two American tourists. The pilot managed an emergency landing.

Seven passengers told police they were hired by Arriano for jobs in Oaxaca that turned out to be fictitious. The seven were insured for 2,000,000 pesos ($200,000). Police said the beneficiaries were Arriano and intimate friends of Sierra's. Arriano Tuesday claimed a 10,000 peso ($1,600) reward offered during the search for him on the

House Probers Rake McGrath In Second Committee Report

WASHINGTON—(AP)—House investigators said Wednesday former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath showed "no enthusiasm" for a Justice Department clean-up—rather, he "appeared to wish to delay and frustrate investigation."

From their findings, investigators said, it appeared clear that the Justice Department under McGrath wanted to prevent an examination of its files for reasons which "cannot but arouse suspicion."

McGrath, fired last April 3 by President Truman after the Administration clean-up drive bogged down, was raked over for a second time in Part II of a report by a House judiciary subcommittee.

Chapter 1 of the report, issued last Monday, criticized McGrath's appointment of Newbold Morris, New York lawyer, to head the clean-up campaign and questioned McGrath's good faith in making the appointment.

In reply, McGrath commented simply: "The report is beneath the dignity of men who care to be honest and honorable."

Advised of Wednesday's second installment, the former attorney general told a reporter he had no intention of "engaging in a cross-fire of discussion on each of the committee's interim reports."

"I shall wait until they have concluded their work," he said, "and at that time I shall say what I think is appropriate."

"Deplorable Lack Of Knowledge" In Wednesday's installment—the third is due next week—the subcommittee competent," and gave little aid to Newbold Morris after naming him to direct the ill-fated housecleaning in Washington last Spring.

3. He failed "completely" to cooperate with Chief committee investigators and "surrounded himself with subordinates of the same view."

Clark Appointees

Investigators added, however, that "in fairness to Mr. McGrath" it should be noted the majority of his subordinates were originally placed in top positions by Tom Clark, McGrath's predecessor who now is a Supreme Court justice.

One was Yanech, the report noted. Another was T. Lamar Caudle, fired by President Truman over McGrath's head as chief of the Tax Division last November following tax scandal disclosures.

The report devoted considerable space to the committee's difficulties in obtaining information from the Justice Department prior to the appointment of James P. McGrath as attorney general.

The report said delaying and hampering tactics were employed by McGrath, and subsequently by Acting Attorney General Philip B. Perlman.

Investigators said the interest of department lawyers seemed less in catching wrongdoers than "in seeing how little could be done without bringing on a showdown, and in keeping the work of their department from the scrutiny of any outside eyes insofar as it might be possible."

"Such an attitude on the part of Department of Justice personnel is bound to raise questions as to whether it seems from fear of exposure of corruption or inefficiency within the department," the report said.

Rapid Tax Write-Off Certificates Granted Two Area Concerns

DALLAS—(AP)—One of the nation's largest fast tax write-off certificates—46 per cent on $23,457,000—has been granted the Du Pont plant at Victoria.

The tax write-off program allows rapid depreciation credit for income tax savings. It is granted plants for defense work expansion.

Five other Texas firms, two Louisiana, two Oklahoma, and one Arkansas firm were awarded tax write-offs Wednesday. Total certification for the four states amounted to $46,724,941, according to Ernest Tull, National Production Authority regional director.

In addition to the Du Pont certificate, other Texas facilities, their product or service, certification, and percentage allowed write-off, include: McLean Development Laboratories, Inc., Dallas, aircraft parts, $23,149, 70 per cent; McMurry Refining Company, Tyler, petroleum refining facilities, $70,000, 50 per cent; Tide Water Associated Oil Company, East Bernard, natural gasoline, $646,574, 65 per cent; Texas Gas Products Corporation, Upton, Midland, Reagan and Glasscock Counties, two certifications for natural gasoline, one for $2,693,500, 65 per cent; and the other for $190,000 at 90 per cent, and Pure Transportation Company, Midland County, petroleum storage, $243,500, 40 per cent.

Greenville Slates Conversion To Jets

GREENVILLE—(AP)—Conversion of the Greenville FLYTAP base from primary training to single-engine jet training, effective early in 1953, was announced Wednesday by Brig. Gen. G. P. Disoway, commanding general of the Flying Training Air Force.

The complete primary training installation, including a personnel list of about 1,000, will be moved to Marianna, Fla.

Personnel for the new jet training operations will number close to 3,000, Disoway said. That number will include about 400 civilians and 500 students.

Graduates of the jet training will receive commissions into the Air Force at Greenville, the general said. The installation will be the seventh jet training base in FLYTAP.

Government Milk Marketing Program Okayed For Midland

A federal milk marketing program in the West Central Texas area has been approved by the Agricultural Department, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

The action followed a week's public hearing held on the proposal in Abilene seven months ago.

If two thirds of the producers approve the order, it will be placed into effect.

Cities affected by the order include Abilene, Ballinger, Big Spring, Breckenridge, Brownwood, Cisco, Coleman, Colorado City, Comanche, Eastland, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, Ranger, San Angelo, Snyder, Stamford, Sweetwater and Winters.

Milk is to be classified according to use and the minimum prices which milk dealers will pay the producers will be established under the proposed program.

Skyful Of Reds Find Out Fast Texan Means Business

SEOUL, KOREA—(AP)—One lone Texan trying to get home is something pretty fast and deadly, some Red MIG-15 jet pilots discovered.

The Texan was an F-86 Sabre jet pilot, Lt. Col. Albert S. Kelly of Huntsville, and the action happened over North Korea.

The air was full of MIG's, the Force said, and Kelly's flight four Sabres was split in a clash with Red fighters.

Suddenly Kelly's all-important protector—his wingman—was separated from him. And Kelly takes up the story from there.

"That left me up there alone, a sitting duck," Kelly said Tuesday. "I radioed that I was getting out of the area when four MIG's hit me from above. I was at 25,000 feet when they came in after me. I broke toward them and they split up into elements and started spilling on me.

"Two of the MIG's had me wired for sound," Kelly continued. "Cannon balls were flying thick and fast. I thought I'd had it.

"The only thing I could do," he went on, "was to go into a violent spin. I spun down from 20,000 feet to 5,000 feet and pulled out to see if the MIG's were still with me.

"Then the golf balls started coming at me again. I dived for the sea and picked out a little island turning tight circles to evade them. I turned a full 360 degrees as tight as I could. The MIG leader and his wingman still were on me, tail, firing away.

"I sucked it in tighter and they tried to follow," Kelly concluded. "Either the maneuver was too much for them or the wingman got caught in my jet wash, because he stalled, dropped his wing, hit the water, and cartwheeled into the sea. I finally shook the other three MIGs and head, for home."

CHEST LEADER—Roy Minear, prominent civic worker, is chairman of the Community Chest's Special Gifts Division, which has launched its solicitation program. Division workers will attend a report meeting Friday noon.

Glass Walls House New York Scholars

NEW YORK—(AP)—Because educators try to keep the junior high school pupils in Darien, Conn., don't throw stones, the pupils have been rewarded with a new school addition that lets in daylight through floor-to-ceiling windows. The corridors also are lined with glass walls.

Darien educators reported they never were bothered with the kind of vandalism that makes 100 per cent replacement of window glass necessary every two years in some metropolitan areas.

Truman's Costly Campaign Sets Precedent For Politics

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's cross-country campaign trip in behalf of the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket is setting a precedent in American politics.

Never before has a retiring President covered so much territory and undertaken so many speeches at such financial cost in an effort to win the election for his own party's nominee.

Truman's special train, which left here Saturday night, will take him on a great 8,500 mile two-week sweep to California and back. His schedule calls for at least 78 train-side talks and 11 major speeches before he returns to the White House October 12.

Frankly Political
The train will pass through about half of the nation.

The cost of transporting the President and his party of about 20 across the country and back, providing their meals and other expenses, has been estimated at about $21,250.

Officials of the Democratic National Committee have said the cost of the trip, frankly political, will be borne entirely by the committee.

There have been only three prior occasions in the last half century when it was possible for the outgoing President to help his party's nominee succeed him, and on two of those occasions little or no help was forthcoming.

In one of these cases, Woodrow Wilson was too ill in 1920 to do any campaigning for James M. Cox, who lost to Warren G. Harding.

The Also Rans
In another, Calvin Coolidge remained virtually on the sidelines while Herbert Hoover campaigned successfully against Alfred E. Smith, in 1928.

The only approach to what is happening this year took place in 1908, when William Howard Taft was the candidate to succeed Theodore Roosevelt.

The Taft-Roosevelt teamwork against William Jennings Bryan, the Democratic nominee, is made clear in the latest volume of "The Letters of Theodore Roosevelt," edited by Elliot L. Morrison and recently published by the Harvard University Press.

T. R. helped win the Republican nomination for Taft, dictated the party platform, and then waged a campaign of open letters in support of his man.

Roosevelt made no speeches for Taft, however, saying that in his judgment, "it would do harm, rather than good."

Newspaper Week—Your Right to Know

Congress May Make no Law prohibiting or abridging the freedom of the Press or the right of "Your Right to Know" is a sacred right guaranteed by the constitution. It is one of the basic rights and principles for which the American Revolution was fought. Newspapers, from the local legman covering town-council meetings, to big-name syndicated columnists, have one obligation. It is to you, their reader and to "Your Right to Know." Your newspaper reporter is a front-line soldier fighting suppression and control of the press. He is there because you and everyone else has a right to know what is going on in the world. The newspapers of America are engaged in a day-by-day battle to defend this privilege. Sometimes, in a dictatorship, it is taken away. It has never existed behind the "Iron Curtain." Wherever special interests are entrenched, there you will find people who do not enjoy the priceless privilege called "The Right to Know." Many of them were in ignorance of what their country's leaders are doing. There is no way for them to know.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Polynuritis Is Often Symptom Of Some Infectious Diseases

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A 28-year-old reader says that she has been troubled with a condition diagnosed as polynuritis and wants to know if it is any kin to Parkinson's disease.

This reader's concern is readily understandable, but before discussing polynuritis the question of its relationship to Parkinson's disease can be answered with a "no."

Polynuritis merely means inflammation and pain in several nerves. Sometimes the condition gets worse as time goes on, though this is not inevitable. Quite often, the parts supplied by the affected nerves show weakness, wasting of the muscles, pain, tenderness and often changes in sensation or feeling.

Sometimes, the pain is severe and once in a while the interference with sensation is so great that a pin can be stuck into the skin of the affected areas without being felt at all.

There are a host of possible causes. Most of the well-known metals, such as mercury, bismuth, arsenic and lead are responsible in some cases. Vitamin-deficiency diseases, particularly beriberi, which is a vitamin "B" deficiency, and pellagra may be at fault.

Polynuritis sometimes develops from general dietary deficiencies during pregnancy and in the presence of such general diseases as diabetes or pernicious anemia. Chronic alcoholism can produce this condition.

Infections also may produce polynuritis. Polynuritis is a frequent symptom of so-called rheumatic infections. It may complicate typhoid fever, scarlet fever, influenza, mumps and almost any of the well-known infectious diseases.

Whether severe or mild, the cure of polynuritis depends on finding the cause. If caused by a vitamin deficiency, for example, the proper remedy is to treat that error in the diet. When it complicates known infections, recovery generally takes place without special measures as the patient improves from the disease responsible.

Bed Rest Needed
Rest in bed usually is needed not only because of the muscular weakness, but also because the heart may become involved. Serious deformities can develop because of muscular weakness, if the limbs are not supported by splints, sandbags or other means.

The sufferers from polynuritis are indeed to be pitied. The pain and the muscular weakness usually interfere with walking or with the use of the hands and arms, depending on where the trouble is located. Treatment usually requires great patience on the part of the patient and ingenuity on the part of the physician.

B&B Butane Service Displays Heaters As Winter Nears

To guard against being caught napping when cold weather hits the Midland area, go today to the B&B Butane Service at 321 South Fort Worth Street, and purchase one of their heaters.

Three major brands—suitable for both natural gas and butane—are available at the firm. The Dearborn and Clayback types are ideal for heating small spaces, while the Circulator will keep a large home at an even temperature.

Morris Snider of Midland and H. S. Blocker of Stanton, co-owners of the firm, also handle appliances, including cooking ranges, water heaters and other related items.

The cook stoves are equipped to burn either natural gas or butane, and there is nothing to buy when switching to either fuel.

For service and information, day or night, phone 3-3451.

The firm has routes serving all parts of Midland County and they are equipped to provide convenient fuel services to help you guard against winter's chilling blasts.

Butane is economical and has been compared with electricity for cleanliness as a fuel for cooking.

Another decided advantage of Butane gas is that you never have to worry about a shortage; there always is a plentiful supply.

Daddy Ringtail

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Bam With A Bamstick

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, came home to the monkey house one night from a visit with the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wail.

The night was dark, very dark, but Daddy Ringtail had a flashlight. The flashlight showed him the way along the Elephant Path until he came at last to the very tall tree with his monkey house in the top. All the lights were out in the house.

"Hah!" said Daddy Ringtail to himself. "The folks have gone to sleep, I guess, I hope."

Daddy Ringtail climbed up to the monkey house as quietly as a mouse who climbs without making a noise. He opened the door very quietly. He tiptoed in.

Daddy Ringtail tiptoed into the kitchen to get himself a cold drink of water. The house was so quiet that the floor squeaked as he walked across it, crash! Daddy Ringtail had knocked the corky jar off the table. Daddy Ringtail landed. Not a sound came from the other rooms.

The folks were sleeping still, he guessed.

Daddy Ringtail made a sandwich with some things he found inside the refrigerator—bread and lettuce and cheese and pickles and tomatoes and some whoosits and some whaisits too, yum, yum.

Daddy Ringtail made the sandwich and then he tiptoed out in the hall. "Squeak!" went the floor again.

where he stepped. The house was very quiet, you know. He tiptoed into the bedroom. He turned on his flashlight to see if Mother Ringtail was sleeping.

Mother Ringtail wasn't there! She wasn't in her bed!

Quick now, Daddy Ringtail ran to Mugwump's room.

Mugwump wasn't there! He wasn't in his bed!

Daddy Ringtail ran from room to room with his flashlight to look for them, crash, bam, went the doors as he hurried through and slammed them, and then—when he ran through the door to the back porch—"Bam!" on his head with a bamstick.

"Uh-oh!" said Mugwump.

"It's Daddy Ringtail!" cried Mother Ringtail.

They had heard him come in, you know, and thought he was a dangerous robber or something, and next time he will talk, I bet, to let people know who it is. Happy day! Didn't hurt him.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By WARREN PAGE Shooting Editor

I have stood unmoving within 80 feet of a bear and watched it crop sedge, the sweetish green grass that coastal bears favor in the Spring, with the animal completely unaware of my presence until the wind freaked man-scent to him.

I have several times stalked up to within easy shooting range of both black and brown bears across flats empty of man-size cover, simply by moving when the critter's head was down or away, freestring when he swung up and around.

Bears have notoriously poor eyesight, although the brown bear will do better than his smaller cousin on objects both moving and still. Once either has seen a man or even a boat at fair distance he will strain for a clearer view, often raising on hind legs not to threaten but to see better. Generally speaking, however, brown's vision leaves much to be desired.

But there's nothing wrong with his nose. Let a stray breeze carry a whiff of the ripe aroma of a man who has been hunting for some days in the same clothes, and brother bear shape to attention pronto. Use Cominform Press Tells How Reds Hope To Outstrip U.S.

VIENNA —(AP)—Stalin's world Communist agents have been making it clear what Russia's apparent aims are for the next 10 or 20 years. Provided there isn't any war, Stalin wants to build up Russia's industrial strength so it finally exceeds that of the United States. After that, it would be a Russian-dominated world whether the U. S. likes it or not.

This is the interpretation put by experts on Russia in Vienna upon a revealing series of editorials in the weekly newspaper of the Cominform. This is the policy guide book for Communists the world over.

With startling frankness, a Cominform editorial recalled a long-forgotten statement of Stalin made 19 years ago, at the eighteenth Congress of the Russian Communist party. It said it still holds true.

"Stalin," recalled the Cominform Journal, "placed before the Communist party and the entire Soviet people a great historic task: to overtake and outstrip in the next 10 or 15 years the main capitalist countries . . . in volume of industrial output per capita of population."

Five Years Behind

Taking 10 years out for the war and for the reestablishment of pre-war levels means the Soviet economy now has put in nine years toward achieving Stalin's ambition. That theoretically leaves the Soviets about six years to go to reach the goal.

But Western diplomats say there isn't a chance that Stalin's hopes will be realized. There have been too many changes since 1933. The war upped U. S. industrial strength to a point where, even if its current output of steel stood still, it would take Russia at least until 1965 to catch up.

How then can Russia hope to surpass the United States economically? The Cominform editorials give an

Anti-Reds Escape By Sewer System

VIENNA—(AP)—Four Hungarian men, aged 21 to 30, recently escaped to Austria from a Communist prison camp by wading chin-deep through the sewers of Budapest.

The foursome laid plans to escape after they uncovered an opening in the camp grounds that led to the city's sewer system. For four hours, they struggled under the city pavement, menaced by rats and the danger of being swept into the main sewage stream and thence into the Danube River.

They battled always upstream and finally reached the hills of Buda. From there, they made their way by nightfall across Hungary to the Austrian frontier, where they slipped through a barbed wire fence to safety.

usually he sets off for the hills in haste dignified or undignified, depending on whether he's a kingly brownie or a black.

And the range of his scenting power is phenomenal. It is my private opinion that his powers of scent are keener than those of even the suspicious whittail.

This past Spring we were in a little bight behind Point Latouche, up in Yakutat Bay. When we dropped anchor the wind was quartering offshore so that man and boat smells were carried away from the snow-filled valley that ran five or six miles back into the mountains. On a slide between 800 and 1,000 yards up the valley, we spotted a young brownie, out of hibernation unwisely early, obviously on the prowl for food. His aimless wandering carried him through a patch of alders and out onto another snow patch a good 200 yards further from us. Still quite unsuspecting of anything in the world but his own empty belly.

Suddenly the boat veered around under a gusty breeze that eddied around the point and up the valley. Three or four minutes later we saw that bear whip to attention, take a healthy lungful of tainted air, and then start along the slope away from us as hard as he could go.

With a noseful of danger, a black bear will ordinarily make for the heavy timber without hesitation in just the same fashion; but a brown bear or grizzly, boss of the local boiler works until he has acquired education about the threat mankind offers, may not always be in such a sweat to depart a tainted area.

Only a pair of seasons ago a friend was obliged to shoot a bear that had seen him clearly moving, had obviously winded him, and had heard him yelling, but still kept coming in with deadly purposefulness. That brownie had earlier been wounded by some trigger-happy nincompoop, and to it man-smell meant merely an opportunity for revenge.

Usually even the big bears take any taint of man as reason for having a date over the ridge—and they can pick up the slightest trace. Not just camp smoke, which doesn't bother them too much, but merely the trace of human scent occasioned by a careless touch of a log by the trail, a brush against a bush, or even, believe it or not, the prints of wet rubber boots on stream gravel. NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK— Newspaper Circulation Is At Record High In Nation

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK—In case you tried to read all the daily newspapers in the United States, you would have had one more to read last year than the year before.
That one more paper covers a lot of rapid change in newspaper publishing says Robert U. Brown, of Editor and Publisher, newspaper trade publication. It is Brown's job to keep track of what is happening to newspapers all over the country.
In the last few years, there has been a decline in the number of morning newspapers and a gain in the number of evening papers. Some of the strongest papers of the nation are in the morning field, but there were three fewer of them last year than the year before. And from 1941 through 1951, the number declined from 338 to 319. At the same time the number of evening papers increased from 1,406 to 1,454. Morning papers, however, had a circulation of 21,322,335 against 22,795,413 for evening papers.

Record-Breaking Circulation
Brown is inclined to look at the record-breaking 54,017,938 daily newspaper circulation in the United States in 1951 rather than at the number of papers. In 1919 there were 2,078 daily morning and evening newspapers with a total circulation of only 26,443,351. In 1951, the 1,773 papers had more than double the 1919 circulation.
Such figures reflect the problems of the newspaper business as well as the economic condition of the nation, Brown says. With one copy of a daily newspaper for less than three people on the average, there has been no decline in newspaper reading. But parts of the country that were unusually prosperous showed that prosperity, in part by printing more papers. Less prosperous areas had fewer newspapers.
Rising Costs Cited
Meanwhile many publishers have been alarmed at the increasing costs of publishing their papers. For some years now, Americans have been reading more papers with less net profit to publishers each year. Rates for advertising and, in some instances, the price paid for the papers, have been moving up, but many publishers say that rate increases cannot be made as rapidly as cost increases.
Brown predicts that 1952 will be another record year in both circulation and the amount of advertising in daily newspapers.

IF YOU DON'T LIKE IKE OR ADLAI— There Are 11 Other Men Trying For Harry's Job

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

The election isn't as simple as some people seem to think. All this talk about either Stevenson or Eisenhower becoming President is just wishful thinking by the Democrats and Republicans. Ike and Adlai are but two among many candidates.
The next time somebody says, "I like Ike," or "I'm mad about Adlai," remember there are others who are saying, "I'm gamblin' on Hamblen," or "Darlington is a doll," or "I'm crazy about Krajewski."

Many old parties, and some new ones, are in the field this campaign year. All have a legal candidate, with a legal, if improbable chance at the White House. Here are some of the minor party candidates who will be on some of the ballots come November 4:

KRAJEWSKI: 4,000 pigs

Milk And Taxes
The Poor Man's Party is running a pig farmer from Seacucus, N. J., named Henry Krajewski. Henry has nine children and 4,000 pigs. The Poor Man's Party is brand new, and stands for school proposition as, free milk for school children and lower taxes.

The Greenback Party, which once elected 14 congressmen, is a direct descendant of the party of the same name founded in 1874. Its big year was in 1878, but lately it has polled very few votes—six in '48.
Fred Proehl, a Seattle grocer, is running on the same old Greenback platform — when the country needs money for anything, print it. Proehl used to run a bank in Minnesota, and has been advocating the Greenback theories for some 37 years.

The Socialist Party for the first time in 28 years, is running somebody besides Norman Thomas. That gentleman finally decided he can't make it. In his place on the Socialist ticket will be a Reading, Pa., lawyer named Darlington Hoopes, whose political experience is limited to three terms in the Pennsylvania legislature.

Experience: Jail
The Socialist Workers Party, a left-wing group following the teachings of the assassinated Leon Trotsky, is still in the field. Their candidate is Farrell Dobbs, who didn't quite get elected in '48. Among his qualifications for the job is the fact that he spent a stretch in jail for sedition during World War II.

The Vegetarian Party is in the race again, running a retired brigadier general named Herbert Holdridge, who suddenly acquired the vegetarian philosophy six years ago. He's a violent pacifist (if you can be violently pacifistic) and, if elected, would do his best to outlaw wars and roast beef.

The Prohibition Party has some very serious things on its platform, in addition to the expected anti-alcohol plank. It has come out in favor of the Constitution and economy in government.

Cowboy Sings
Campaigning on this platform is a reformed alcoholic named Stuart Hamblen, who sings cowboy songs when he isn't running for President. If you like quantity with your candidates, Hamblen is your man — he's probably the biggest aspirant in the race, standing 6' 2" and weighing 215.

HOOPES: Battling for Thomas.

HAMBLEN: He also sings.

The Socialist Labor Party is another left-wing party, and tracing its history back to 1874, is one of the oldest of the minor parties. The Socialist Labor candidate is a political writer named Eric Haas, who has announced that his first act, when (and if) elected, would be to abrogate the Constitution. Next, he'd resign and turn over the executive duties to a committee of union men.

The Progressive Party, which began in 1948 and had Henry Wallace as its candidate then, is back for another try, this time without Wallace. The former vice president has been supporting the government lately, while the Progressive Party still has kind words to say about Russian policies.

The 1952 Progressive candidate, Vincent Hallinan, began his White House campaign from a jail cell. The San Francisco lawyer was released in August after serving a sentence for contempt of court, given him for his courtroom activities while he was defending Harry Bridges.

Those are the major minor parties. There are others. For instance, there is Bishop Homer Tomlinson of the Church of God, who is running on a "Peace on Earth" ticket. And there is Edward L. Bodin, of New York, who calls himself the Spiritual Party. And Capt. Don DuMont of New London, Conn., who calls himself the Republican Party.

So don't let anyone bamboozle you into thinking that this race is strictly between Stevenson and Eisenhower; it's wide open.

Reimposing Of Regulation X In 1952 Viewed As Doubtful

"It is very doubtful that Regulation X will be reimposed in 1952," Jack Wicker, executive vice president of the Midland National Bank, said Tuesday.

The government rule, which required home builders to provide a larger down payment on new units, with a resulting smaller loan, was suspended by Congress this year. As long as starts on new houses is less than 1,200,000 computed on an annual basis for a consecutive three month period, the regulation will be held in suspense.

Wicker said that the time for controls is past. He believes that this nation has no further need for wage, price, and credit controls in its economy.

"It is time we got back to a free economy," said the Midland banker. He went on, "The government should get out of our business operations."

He said that controls provide a "built-in" inflation by serving as a floor rather than a ceiling in trying to control price increases.

Federal Reserve Bank statisticians in Dallas have estimated that 1,099,000 new homes will be started by the end of the year in the United States.
