Voters Put Hearty Okay On Proposed School Expansion

The Midland Independent School District began moving right into its new building program Wednesday following the overwhelming approval Tuesday of a $975,000 bond issue.

The bond proposal was approved by a vote of 353 in favor of it with 23 voting against the issue. Election officials reported 23 ballots were mutilated out of a total of 399 votes cast.

No sooner had the results of the election been announced than the district's board of trustees, meeting Tuesday night in regular session, began taking action on the new program.

Joe Bill Pierce, Midland architect, was designated to draw plans for the new 15-room Carver Elementary School and the four-room addition to DeZavala School.

The architectural firm of Wilson and Patterson of Fort Worth will design the 16-room addition to Midland High School and the proposed new elementary school in the southeast section of the city.

School Supt. Frank Monroe said an immediate study of possible sites for the Carver school will be made. Site for the new elementary school in the southeast section of the city already has been acquired.

The school board also gave another two-year contract to Pritchard and Abbot, oil field evaluation engineers, to assist in gathering oil field data in the preparation of the district's tax rolls.

Truett Pritchard represented the firm at the meeting. The board accepted the resignation of Houston Stevens as principal of Terminal School and approved the appointment of Carl Shannon as his successor.

Speaking to a crowd variously estimated by police at 3,000 to 5,000, Eisenhower called on the women and youth to help return "spiritual values" to the government in Washington.

Council Votes City Manager Salary Raise

City Manager W. H. Oswalt began his fourth year on the job here Wednesday and he had a newly-approved $150 monthly raise to mark the occasion.

The City Council, at its regular meeting Tuesday night, unanimously approved the raise, which brings his yearly salary to $15,000.

"We have gone through a tremendous expansion program," Mayor Perry Pickett told Oswalt after the pay boost had been voted, "and we think you have done a commendable and magnificent job."

High-Caliber Administration "We believe our city will continue to grow and we are giving you this raise to show you our appreciation for the job you have done and to express the hope that you will continue."

The mayor pointed out that the city has just entered a three-year improvement program to cost more than $5,000,000 in bond funds voted recently.

"You have a tremendous responsibility on your shoulders and we know you will continue to give us the high-caliber administration we have had in the past."

All members of the City Council were present at the meeting.

Stevenson Will Breakfast With Jack Garner At Uvalde

DALLAS — (AP) — Adlai Stevenson and John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, ex-vice president, plan to have breakfast together Saturday in Uvalde.

The get-together between the Democratic candidate and the salty, 83-year-old Garner was announced Wednesday by state Stevenson-Sparkman headquarters here.

The breakfast will be a rare move into the political limelight for the white-haired Garner, one-time power in national and state politics. Garner retired as vice president more than a decade ago.

Voters May Write In Names Of Ike, Nixon Under Democratic Tag On Texas Ballots

AUSTIN — (AP) — An attorney general's opinion said Wednesday Texas voters legally may write in the names of Dwight Eisenhower and Richard Nixon on the general election ballot in the Democratic column and scratch the names of the Democratic nominees.

The opinion, requested by Gov. Allan Shivers, also said the names of the Republican candidates for president and vice president may be written in the ballot's write-in column.

In either case, the votes would be counted for the Republican Eisenhower-Nixon presidential electors.

The opinion elaborated, adding: "However, only the last name of the candidates is sufficient and their names do not need to be spelled correctly if the intention of the voter can be ascertained from the names as they are written on the ballot."

House Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is chairman of the Texas Stevenson-Sparkman Campaign Committee, was asked for comment on the ruling.

"Well, I'll be darned," he said. "A friend of mine told me one of those fellows (the three former Supreme Court justices who assisted in preparing the decision) wouldn't sign it. But I don't want to comment now. I want to read the opinion."

Precinct 3 Ballot On Legalizing Beer Stated November 4

A proposal to throw open Midland County's Commissioner Precinct 3, which includes the Tex-Harvey oil field, to the sale of beer will be submitted to the voters on November 4.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith said Wednesday the election had been ordered by Commissioners' Court following the presentation of a petition requesting the election.

The area includes the communities of Sprberry on the Garden City Highway and Midway on the Rankin Highway.

The petition presented to the commissioners contained 20 names, Judge Keith said, which is sufficient to meet the requirements of the law.

He said such a petition needed only 20 per cent of the voters voting in the last general election.

Since only about a dozen votes were cast in the precinct in the last election, the 20 voters signing the petition were more than adequate.

The governor had told Daniel a great many Texas Democrats had expressed desire to him to vote for Eisenhower and Nixon if they could do so under the Democratic ticket.

Safety Seal Drive Begins For Midland

Fourth annual safety seal campaign started in Midland Wednesday, under auspices of the Midland County chapter of the Disabled American Veterans.

Safety on city streets will be emphasized in the campaign, as DAV officials point out that 96,000 fatal accidents in 1951 occurred on city streets.

"Safety is essential in all things; safety in the home, on the job, or on the streets and highways," Ben Gay, DAV Commander said. Last year the campaign stressed safety on the job.

Seals and slogans are included in this year's campaign. Some of the slogans are: "The other fellow's safety is up to you," "Claring lights produce bloody sights," "Rushing through life may hasten death."

Such phrases as "The baseball player tries to get home safe, do you?" and "Horse sense has not kept up with horsepower," are included in the posters.

INSIDE THE IRON CURTAIN—Grim Soviet Troops March In Stern Holiday Festival

By GRACE HALSELL
 Special Reporter - Telegram Correspondent

BERLIN—For two hours inside the Soviet sector of this torn city I looked upon the face and fangs of Communism.

Fanatically, thousands surged, chanting, waved flags.

They seemed caught up and moved possibly in the same manner they were in the Hitler days.

The occasion was the third anniversary of the creation of the East German state. Nicholas M. Shvernik, president of the Supreme Soviet Presidium is a man with a big title and obviously few duties; was on hand for his first official trip outside Russia.

Leaving a car in the "West" or British sector of Berlin, I entered the Soviet sector on foot by way of the Brandenburg Tor, or gate, Berlin's most famous landmark today.

Six-columned, the Brandenburg for two centuries was the triumphant entrance for victorious Prussian troops every time they returned from conquest. All foreign rulers and dignitaries coming to Berlin entered here—and finally in May, 1945, the Red Army stormed through to capture Berlin.

"People's Police"

Beside it as I approached were a dozen or more guards, members of the "People's Police" or Soviet-indoctrinated Germans.

I turned to a side entrance and passed quickly by two of the policemen. One looked about 15, the other about 16.

I then was "inside the Iron Curtain."

From the Wilhelmstrasse district, former site of the Reichschancellery, Hitler's home and office, came a mass of uniformed soldiers, preceded by a band.

I, like others, rushed to see them pass, and I thought of that observation: We can never abandon war until we first abandon the band and the parade.

The soldiers moved onto the broad Unter den Linden, once tree-lined and one of the most beautiful boulevards in the world.

Instead of green with trees, it now was green with the thousands of soldiers passing by, newly outfitted in Soviet uniforms, an olive-green with purple-red epaulets—and cheeks to match.

There was a strong cold wind and clouds gray with the threat of rain. Soldiers carrying red flags and "blow-ups" of Stalin, Wilhelm Pieck and other Soviets struggled under their weight, like a three-year-old child carrying his kiddy-car.

Home" sign, with a Russian boot stamping on three faces. The first bore something of a resemblance to President Truman. I couldn't determine about the other two.

Uniformed police bore signs proclaiming "We are ready to protect our border." Everyone had placards, even two-year-old babies. Many of them were anti-American slogans and cartoons.

After two hours in the damp and cold and Communism, I returned via Brandenburg Tor. There is a sign there: "Warning! You are about to leave the Democratic Sector of Berlin"—meaning the Soviet sector.

I walked past the guards. Outside was the "West." I hurried to it.

Lifelike 'Depthies' Could Be Biggest Thing Since 'Talkies'

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NAE Staff Correspondent

Behind the Screen: The "depthies" are coming and they may be the depth charge that will unseat you from that living room television set and send you crowding back into the movie theaters.

The "talkies" did it 26 years ago and now the long-time dream of three-dimensional motion pictures—let's call them "depthies"—may come true.

New York already has cheered Cinerama, a three-dimensional film process involving three-headed cameras, three projectors and a screen six times the normal size of the usual theater screen.

In Hollywood, wearing blue polaroid glasses, I previewed Arch Oboler's just-like-life, three-dimensional photography in scenes from "Bwana Devil."

I'm still 'bug-eyed.'

Instead of flat shadows, co-stars Robert Stack and Barbara Britton are living, breathing, coming-at-you, solid-flesh figures.

No doubt about it, "depthies" could be the greatest boon to the movie industry since talkies.

There's a story of great devotion behind Robert Clark's absence from the screen since he made "Sword of Venus," still unreleased, a year ago. Bob's mother is suffering from cancer. Six weeks ago, one of her legs was amputated. Bob has hardly left her bedside.

When "Decameron Nights" hits the screen, you'll see Joan Fontaine's adopted daughter, Martina, and the three sprigs of Binnie Barnes and Mike Frankovitch in the cast. . . Steve Cochran's all smiles. A thousand-dollar raise per month from Warners on his new contract.

Much Ado About TV

"If I had no contracts I'd be out playing theaters and doing television only when I wanted to."

That's Jack Benny groaning under the load of a weekly radio show, benefits and 10 half-hour TV programs and wailing: "Everyone in show business is working too hard."

But you won't catch Jack being carried off to a hospital in a frenzy over the video furnace which is burning up stars and material.

"I think it's wrong to make a big thing out of TV shows," he confided. "I'm going to have nice easy shows this season. If people like you they'll like the show. There's no point to big, elaborate productions."

Teletium for Jack?

"I'd like film but not until it's to my advantage. But I know one thing: I'll have to film them like Groucho Marx. I can't stand up and do a monolog without an audience."

The Mitzzi Gaylor-Dick Coyle engagement may be broken, as announced, but when you call Mitzzi's home, it's Dick's mama who calls Mitzzi to the phone. . . The Richard ("Robin Hood") Todd's have named their baby boy Peter Grant Palethrope Todd. . . The mystery of Jeanne Crain's long absence from the Fox lot deepens. Only one story, "The Form Divine," is slated for her and it's months and months away from the production stage.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Members Will Celebrate Anniversary

Midland members of Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity Saturday will celebrate the eighty-second anniversary of the organization's founding with a luncheon at 1 p.m. in the private dining room of the Midland Country Club. The event will honor Mrs. Joseph Campbell of Denver, Colorado, National Director of Membership.

Mrs. Campbell arrives in Midland Friday, and will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Bliss.

Kappa Kappa Gamma Fraternity for women was established Oct. 13, 1870, at Monmouth University in Monmouth, Ill., by six women. Today there are 46,857 members and 82 chapters in leading educational institutions in this country and Canada. There are approximately 300 alumnae groups. Kappa Kappa Gamma is fourth in size for women's fraternities, but the largest in active alumnae groups.

The Midland group was established in 1946 by nine Kappa alumnae. They were Mrs. Jack E. Bliss, Mrs. J. Harvey Herd, Mrs. Clark Steinberger, Mrs. E. A. Culbertson, Mrs. C. A. McAdams, Mrs. William Regent, Mrs. Robert Gates, Mrs. W. H. Thams, and Mrs. Lamar McLennan. Of the nine Midland founders five remain active in the organization here. Mrs. McAdams now lives in Albuquerque, N. M., where she is an officer in the alumnae association; Mrs. Regent lives in Denver, Colorado; Mrs. Gates has moved to Houston, and Mrs. McLennan to Dallas.

Grows From Nine To 56
From the nucleus of nine alumnae in 1946 the Midland group has today 56 members—(50 alumnae and six active members).

As director of membership for Kappa Kappa Gamma, Mrs. Campbell oversees the activities of the 82 active chapters. She was elected to this position on the national council in July when the fraternity was in convention at The Homestead in Virginia. Prior to her election Mrs. Campbell served the fraternity in the capacity of National Director of Alumnae. It was during her tenure of office with the alumnae that the Midland group was established. There are approximately 40,000 active Kappa alumnae participating in the fraternity's philanthropic program of scholarships and fellowships for college women, and rehabilitation work. It was recently announced that the group had given more than a half million dollars in these programs.

Mrs. Campbell leaves Midland Sunday with Mrs. Bliss for Lubbock where petitioning groups on the Texas Technological College campus will be visited.

SERVICE LEAGUE WILL MEET THURSDAY
The Children's Service League will meet at 9:15 a.m. Thursday in the home of Mrs. Robert Fitting, Golf Course Road.

FALL FLOWERS DECORATE LIBRARY

More Guns Or More Butter

Should America make more guns? Or should it make more butter?

According to Defense Mobilizer Henry H. Fowler, the nation now has boosted its industrial capacity to a point where it can step up its military production without pinching the civilian economy.

Fowler told the President in his first quarterly report that the expanded industrial capacity can be used in at least six ways.

We can use it (1) to fill "gaps" in the industrial base by producing more petroleum, power and transportation facilities; (2) to send more military aid to our Allies; (3) to improve our lagging civil defense program; (4) to expand research; (5) to step up military production and (6) for civilian uses such as more schools, highways and flood-control systems.

If we decide to concentrate on boosting our military output, it was predicted that a position of minimum national security could be reached by 1954. That is the year that the joint chiefs of staff have warned will present the greatest danger of war by Russia.

Such a move would mean an end to the "stretch-out" military production program. This has set back the date for reaching minimum security from 1954 to 1955.

There is, unfortunately, no way of knowing whether Fowler's size-up of the economy is correct. There will probably be experts who will dispute it.

On the possibility of expanding the military program without pinching the civilian economy, he has said substantially the same thing before. And the Defense Department and the Budget Bureau apparently have found nothing in his reasoning to make them abandon the "stretch-out" program.

But if Fowler is correct, and America is able to choose between greater defense production and more and better civilian goods, most prudent choice would seem to be a defense step-up.

The war in Korea shows no sign of ending. Red China is reported stronger than before. Communist leaders at a party congress in Moscow hint that the cold war is going to get colder. General Ridgway warns that NATO power is inadequate.

All that indicates that the threat to our national security cannot be ignored or minimized. And to put the extra industrial resources to civilian uses, rather than muscle-building ones, might be a tragic mistake.

Most wise Americans no doubt will believe that, if paying a little extra will help us to reach our defense goals a year sooner—without straining the home economy to the breaking point—the tab should be well worth picking up.

A bore is a person who always talks when you want to.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: John L. Lewis miffs Wage Stabilizer Cox; GOP removed rent controls at wrong time; Los Angeles publisher did not contribute to Nixon.

WASHINGTON—Wage Stabilization Chairman Archibald Cox was plenty miffed when John L. Lewis announced that his miners would strike unless the wage board approved by today his 24-cent-an-hour wage-boost agreement with the coal operators.

However, Joseph Moody, spokesman for Southern operators, argued that the full wage increase would "murder my people."

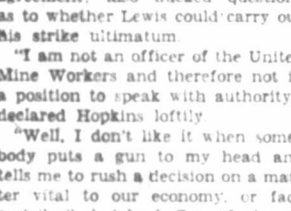

"I'm here asking for approval of the agreement, under instructions from my board of directors," said Moody. "But I'm personally against this. I think it will have an unbalancing effect on our economy and will close down many mines that cannot continue to compete against fuel oil if their production costs go much higher."

It looks as if the Republicans have paved the way for removing rent controls at exactly the wrong time. Thousands of people got notices of increased rents last week in Des Moines, Kansas City, Toledo, Atlanta, Akron, Nashville, Seattle, New Orleans, and Reading, Pa.

Meanwhile the University of Michigan has completed a survey showing that rent control was a paramount issue in deciding the 1948 election—a fact that has strategists in both parties wondering if it may happen again.

Unfortunately for the Republicans the issue was drawn clearly in hundreds of cities, with the GOP against and the Democrats for extending controls on a local basis.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service When a player doesn't lead a suit that he has bid and that his partner has raised, the reason isn't hard to find. Almost invariably, the "strange" lead will turn out to be a singleton, and declarer must therefore take his precautions against giving the defenders a ruff.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, South, East, and West cards and tricks.

South should have read the opening lead as a singleton without the slightest difficulty. The correct play is to win the first trick with the ace of diamonds, and to follow with the ace of spades and the ten of spades in order to get the trumps out without delay.

West's best defense is to take the second trump with the king and to return a heart. Dummy wins with the ace of hearts and draws the last trump with the nine.

When the hand is played in this way South loses one spade, one heart, and one diamond, thus making his contract.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: East South West North 3 Hearts 2

You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-J-7-3-2, Hearts 5-4, Diamonds A-9, Clubs K-8-6. What do you do?

A—Bid three spades. This is a slight stretch, since your hand will take only seven tricks at best.

However, you cannot afford to pass so good a hand and thus put the entire burden of competition on your partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-K-Q-J-9-3-2, Hearts 4, Diamonds A-9, Clubs K-J-6. What do you do?

SECOND MAN on the Ticket

By Edwin Lanham

CLYDE McDONALD approached us soft-footed, his red hair bright in the tiled room. Ginny said, "Clyde, remember what you promised."

He smiled at her, said, "Okay, honey," and turned to me. "Roy, Ginny thinks I ought to forget what happened at the casino, and that's what I'm going to do. I'm not going to lose my sense of humor over you." He looked red up and down. "I outweigh you 60 pounds," he said. "For a skinny guy, you swing a lot of weight."

"Clyde, I'm sorry about it," I said. "I lost my temper. I owe you an apology."

"I wouldn't go too far with apologies, if I were you," he said, and the familiar curl lifted one corner of his mouth. "You'll feel different when I get through with Willie Warburton. You'll want to take that apology back."

The loud-speaker was announcing the arrival of a plane. Clyde cocked his ear. "That's my plane," he said. "Come on, Ginny."

They moved toward the apron, but I saw Ginny whisper something to him and turn away. I went out a side entrance and walked around the building. In the shadows near the main doors I found Ginny waiting.

"Ginny, is Clyde taking that plane?"

"No, he's meeting someone."

"Who?"

"A specialist from Baltimore. 'A specialist in what?'"

"Pulmonary diseases," Ginny said. "I see," I said. "If he expects to get his specialist in to see Mrs. Warburton, he's crazy. We pick our own specialists."

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Truman Upsets Ike's Attack By Putting Him On Defensive

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Whatever the effects of President Truman's whistle-stop tour on the voters, political observers concede that his slambang attack on the Republicans did serve to put General Eisenhower on the defensive.

Much of the GOP candidate's efforts on his follow-up swing over the territory the President covered was devoted to answering Truman's attack. "This was a reversal of earlier campaign strategy in which the Republicans were doing all the attacking and the Democrats all the defending."

It is an old political tradition that voters tend to take more interest in politics when they have something to protest against and vote against than when they have a record to defend and promote. This is supposed to give the "outs" an advantage over the "ins."

President Truman reversed this traditional trend in 1948 by attacking the record of the Republican 80th Congress. That put the GOP on the defensive. To many political experts this was the decisive factor in the Dewey upset.

In the first couple of months of the 1952 campaign—before President Truman took to the road—the tactical advantage was all with the Republicans. They could attack the entire Truman record with their charges of corruption and communism in Washington and confusion on foreign policy.

Those still are major issues in the campaign. But to whatever degree Truman's counter-attack against the Republicans has been able to equalize the offensive, the cost of the President's transcontinental tour will have paid off for the Democrats.

Official visitors at North Atlantic Treaty Organization supreme headquarters in Paris have brought reports—attributed to General Eisenhower's former military staff members—on what Ike told them before he came home to run for the presidency.

The effect of the reports is that the general told his old associates not to be alarmed by some of the things he might have to do or say during the campaign.

In the battle before the Chicago convention, it was stated that the general's intention was to do whatever was necessary to get the nomination. And after he got the nomination, it would be his intention to do whatever was necessary to get elected. In this campaign he might have to do and say certain things which might appear to be in conflict with his earlier and known views.

Once he got in the White House, however, it was stated that General Eisenhower could be counted on to fight for all the principles he long has stood for.

Latest tag line hung on Democratic Presidential Candidate Adlai Stevenson is, "The good humor man."

As to the criticisms of Governor Stevenson for sometimes talking over the heads of his audiences—"talking to them as though they were intelligent people," as he calls it—Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell says: "The only complaints we have received on this style of campaigning come from intelligent people who little lipstick on his chin. Yours, no doubt."

Ginny said, "Oh, and paused a moment, then whispered, 'Roy, will you do something for me?'"

"What do you want me to do?" A porter was stacking luggage from the plane that had just landed. Ginny took my hand and led me deeper into the shadows.

"I want you to give me that job, Roy. I couldn't take it without telling you the truth. But if you'll give it to me I'll quit later, and you won't have to fire me. Any you won't have to pay me anything."

"What sort of job would that be?"

"I just want to be able to tell Clyde that I have the job," she said. "I want to tell him that I promised you not to tell the story, that I signed a contract or something. May I do that?"

"I SAW Bill Evers come out of the building with Lucy, looking pale and nervous."

"Ginny, we're not putting anything in writing," I said. "You can tell him anything you like, but we're making no admissions. Why don't you simply tell Clyde the truth."

I ran into the darkness, groped for the door of the car, and threw it open. "It's all fixed," I cried.

Bill Evers said, "From what Lucy tells me, it doesn't sound fixed. Hello, Roy."

"Hello," I said. "I just this minute fixed it. Ginny never knew at all. Miss Hattie is the only one who knows the story, so we're in the clear."

"On that score, maybe," Bill said. "I get in behind the steering wheel and said, 'Lucy, I told you Ginny was okay. She's just a simple, genuine small-town kid.'"

"Yes," said Lucy, "we saw you over there, necking like simple genuine small-town kids."

"That was just a friendly good-night kiss."

"You were burned once, remember. She waved her hand impatiently, and her bitter voice said, 'Oh, drive on. Drive on you—You Be Confused!'"

Daddy Ringtail And Two Of Me

The moon was shining bright in the sky. It was shining down on the Great Forest. It shone in the window where the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was safe and sound asleep in his bed—right there in his hollow tree house.

The Huffen, however, is very easily frightened. He doesn't remember that his very own bed is the safest place in the world for him.

He woke up suddenly in a great fright. He said to himself: "Huffen Puffen, old friend, old pal—somebody right now just might be trying to kerbop you."

The Huffen peached under his bed to get the kerbopom stick he kept to kerbop anyone who might be trying to kerbop him. He stepped through the window out in the night.

The night was quite warm. The Huffen was sleeping in short pajamas without any top. He tiptoed away from his hollow tree house in his short pajamas and with the kerbopom stick on his shoulders.

The Huffen hid behind another tree to see what would happen next. This was only a small tree—as anyone there could have plainly seen, if the anyone had any sense at all. But the Huffen didn't see how small the tree was.

All the Huffen saw when he peeped around the tree was the tail of a wolf. He didn't know that the tail was another wolf's tail! He thought the wolf had come to kerbop him.

The Huffen began to chase to catch the wolf whose tail he saw. "Stop!" shouted the Huffen, but the wolf wouldn't stop because the wolf was really the Huffen, you know.

Faster, faster, faster! ran the Huffen. He ran so fast that he saw he was chasing himself, and he said: "Aha! There seems to be two of me, there does."

The Huffen hit with the stick as hard as he could, bam! on his head. "Gosh!" said the Huffen as he did it, and he had got himself in-cked.

Down he fell to the ground with a bump on his head, and he didn't wake up until morning. Then he hurried away to tell everyone of the terrible fight he had with the wolf who looked so much like him there were really two Huffens. Happy day!

Texas' Reception For Ike Rated As Big 'Humdinger'

By WILBUR MARTIN

WITH EISENHOWER IN TEXAS—(P)—Texans took to Dwight D. Eisenhower as a real nice fellow. They liked his visit for another reason, too: It was more fun than a barrel of monkeys.

There was a baby elephant at Houston, horses at Lubbock and a foot-stomping fiesta at San Antonio.

That doesn't count the bands—two and three at every stop—and the showy signs and buttons and airplanes trailing "I Like Ike" signs and a blimp that said "Ike" in letters five feet high.

Eisenhower, a native Texan, 62 Tuesday, got a right pert reception at Houston, Waco and Lubbock and a humdinger at San Antonio, where he used to soldier as a second lieutenant and then as a colonel.

"I'm downright proud to be a Texan," Eisenhower told his audiences.

Texas were downright proud to hear him say it. They whistled, clapped and gave out a Texan version of a rebel yell, a short of hoot and a holler.

Dallas and Fort Worth got a chance Wednesday to see Eisenhower.

At a break-neck clip, Eisenhower traveled 855 miles by air Tuesday, from the Bayou Country of Houston to the South Plains of West Texas.

He got started off in Houston, speaking to a big crowd in front of the Music Hall. A baby elephant calmly held entranced scores of children. Children, incidentally, literally swarmed through every Ike audience. Figuring how many people turned out to hear the inactive five-star general bid for votes as the Republican presidential candidate was quite a problem. For instance, Police Inspector W. P. Haley said 65,000 heard him at Houston. Mayor Oscar Holcombe of Houston figured it was 35,000. Reporters used to sizing up crowds at the general's speeches figured more than 15,000 and less than 20,000 would be a fair guess.

About 3,000 turned out at Waco and 5,000 at Lubbock, both brief airport stops.

But at San Antonio, wow. The San Antonio Express said 75,000 lined the general's route from the airport to the railroad station where his campaign train waited.

Maybe the crowd wasn't that big but it was noisy, enthusiastic.

Out at Lubbock, a mounted posse formed a lane for Eisenhower to walk down to the speaker's platform.

One of the horses acted up when Ike tried to pose for a picture with it. He gave it the kind of look almost any foot soldier gives a horse—a "Go ahead, do something, I dare you" look. The horse stopped horsing around and had his picture taken with the general.

Plaza Crowd Bid

For old-fashion whoop-to-do, San Antonio took the cake. The crowd—estimated variously at 15,000, 20,000, 25,000, 30,000 and 35,000—at Alamo Plaza did, too, swarming in for a free piece of a 500-pound birthday cake presented Eisenhower.

Before Eisenhower got up to speak, some of his supporters put on a little show, Spanish fiesta style. It put the crowd into a merry mood, especially the pulse-beating "Silverio," while a dozen tiny tots madly did a dance depicting the Toreros.

In between, they tossed out some more conventional Spanish dances with a hot little five-piece Mexican string band.

Ike Likes Santone

Eisenhower seemed to enjoy himself almost as much as the crowds did gawking at him. He had to grin at a couple of inconveniences, too. Like when his car broke down in the San Antonio parade and he had to switch to another one. And when his police escort took him a couple of miles down a bumpy, dirt road at Houston. The lead car got lost going to the airport.

He just grinned broadly, too, when he almost dropped a piece of birthday cake and the one small candle that Mary Yolanda Rodriguez, four, gave him. He then presented her to his San Antonio audience, the daughter of a Congressional Medal of Honor winner.

Eisenhower Reveals Income Of $888,303 During Decade

NEW YORK—(P)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had a gross income of $888,303—including $635,000 from his book, "Crusade in Europe"—during the last 10 years, his headquarters says.

A financial statement made public here late Tuesday, showed the Republican presidential candidate paid $217,982 in taxes.

Subtraction of these taxes and allowable deductions from the gross income, the statement said, left Eisenhower with a net of $643,148 for the 10 years. His net without the book was $166,898.

Eisenhower's revelation followed a similar financial statement last month by his Democratic opponent, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson listed his gross income for the last 10 years as $500,046 and his taxes as $211,980, leaving him $288,066.

The Republican candidate's financial statement was released here by his executive assistant, Arthur Vandenberg, Jr. Eisenhower currently is campaigning in Texas.

Vandenberg also gave out a letter he received from Eisenhower authorizing release of the financial data. The general said in the letter:

"I am now, in every sense of the word, a private citizen, and without income except from investments."

Vandenberg distributed copies of correspondence Eisenhower had with U. S. Treasury officials in 1947 and 1948. This correspondence resulted in an agreement whereby Eisenhower qualified as a non-professional writer and was allowed to list income from the book as a capital gain.

If Eisenhower had paid at the personal income tax rate rather than the capital gains rate, his tax on the proceeds from the book might possibly have been more than double the $158,750 he paid. His net on the book was $476,250.

Eisenhower's financial statement listed his and his wife's joint income, in addition to the book, in two parts.

Covered in the first part were his six years in wartime and postwar military service that ended Dec. 31, 1947. His income for these years was listed as $59,976, mostly in salaries. He had $47,453 left after taxes and allowable deductions.

The second part covered the four years ended last December 31, during which time Eisenhower spent almost three years as president of Columbia University plus a year of service as "North Atlantic Treaty Organization commander in Europe."

For these four years, Eisenhower listed an income exclusive of his book of $193,327. He paid $48,616 in taxes, he said, leaving $119,444 after taxes and deductions.

The number of men who emigrated from the United States has been greater than the number of women each year since 1930, although the ratio of two to one in some years of the 30's has been reduced since that time.

THE HELL BOMB—8

So eminent a nuclear physicist as Dr. Harold G. Urey believes that as a means of poisoning the atmosphere with radioactive atoms the H-bomb is virtually unlimited.

Limit of area to total destruction by atomic bomb
Limit of area to total destruction by hydrogen bomb
Limit of area fire damage caused by hydrogen bomb

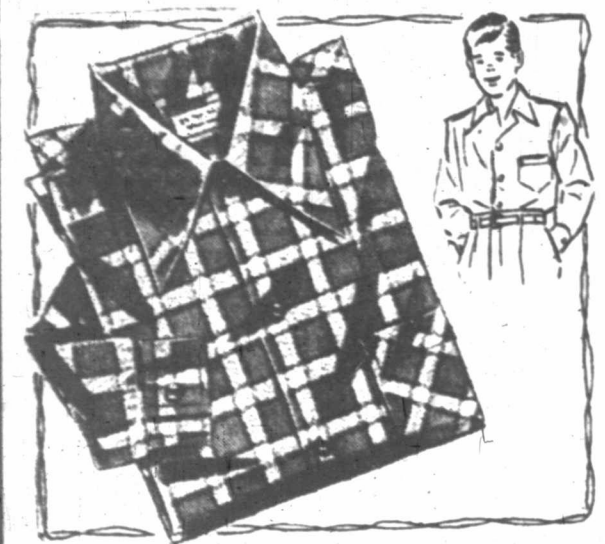

How powerful an H-bomb can be made? In terms of blast and fire, the bomb's limits would be determined only by the amount of heavy hydrogen used. A bomb with 1000 times the power of an A-bomb is envisioned. Such a bomb if dropped on New York City would wreck the damage pictured above. It would be ten times more destructive than an A-bomb.

New Ruling Helps Air Line Passengers Obtain Tickets

A new reconfirmation rule, which went into effect in the airline industry on July 1, has reduced the number of "no-shows" 50 per cent, reports R. E. S. Deichler, vice president (sales) for American Airlines.

"No-shows" are persons who reserve space for air travel and then fail to use it.

Before the new rule went into effect the number of "no-shows" was 16 to 17 per cent of the total number of passengers. It now has dropped to about eight per cent of those reserving space.

Woody Campbell, manager of American Airlines at the Midland Air Terminal, said Wednesday that his average number of "no-shows" was about six per cent here.

Campbell gave the case of Midlanders flying to Dallas for Saturday's Texas - Oklahoma football game as an example. Although no one was turned down for space by American Airlines on that day, there were as many as 10 seats empty on a flight to Dallas with room for 40 passengers. He said the "no-show" rule had done much to improve the situation.

Under the reconfirmation rule, a passenger with a reservation on a return or continuing flight after a stop-over of 12 hours or more is required to reconfirm his space at least six hours before flight time.

Failure to do so may cause the airline passenger to lose the space that has been held for him.

Deichler said that passenger reaction to the rule generally has been favorable. He reported that the net effect of the new system is to make more seats available on flights for other passengers.

He attributed complaints about the new policy to the fact that the traveling public did not understand fully the reconfirmation rule. Efforts are being made to improve administration of the system.

Posthumous Award Slated For Late Midland Officer

Mrs. Virginia Kelly, 1901 West Texas Street, widow of the late Major Patrick L. Kelly, has been notified by the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences that her late husband has been selected as a 1951 winner of the Thurman H. Bane Award.

The award is presented to an officer or civilian of the United States Air Force for outstanding achievement in aeronautical development.

The late major is credited by the institute with perfecting a system of all-weather flying involving a roll booth and automatic pilot.

The system was the greatest advance in aircraft control in recent years, officials said.

Mrs. Kelly and her two children, Karen, nine, and Linda, eight, both students at St. Ann's Parochial School, will go by plane Friday, October 24, to Wright Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton, Ohio, where the award will be presented Saturday, October 25.

The award consists of an honorarium of $200 and a certificate engraved with a special citation signed by the award's committee. Members of the committee include Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force; Thomas K. Finletter, secretary of the U. S. Air Force; A. V. Asten, director of the National Bureau of Standards, and Wellwood Beall, president of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences.

Nominations for the annual award are submitted to the institute committee by the chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force. This year the committee selected two recipients—Major Kelly, and Henry Seeler, of Wright Patterson Air Force Base for his development of a rescuator. Major Kelly was killed Nov. 7, 1951, in the crash of a B-17, while he was assigned to Wright Patterson Air Force Base as chief of technical services for the all-weather flying section of the flight test division of the base.

A native Texan, Major Kelly was born in 1922 at Fort Worth. He attended public schools at Wichita Falls and Olney, graduating from the Olney High School in 1938. He was graduated from Texas A&M College in 1942, where he majored in aeronautical engineering.

Following graduation from A&M, he was sent to Wright Patterson Air Force Base as a second lieutenant in the air force. After a period of flight training, he was sent overseas in January, 1944, as pilot of a B-17 in Italy. While on a mission, his plane was shot down over Hungary. He was captured by the Nazis and held a year as a prisoner of war before being liberated at Munich in the summer of 1945.

Upon his return to the States, he was assigned to the all-weather flying division at Lockbourne Air Force Base, Columbus, Ohio. From there he was assigned to the same branch at Wilmington, Ohio, for a period of time before enrollment at Princeton University, where he received his master's degree in 1947.

After receiving his degree, Major Kelly was assigned to Wright Patterson Air Force Base, where he was stationed at the time of his death.

Major and Mrs. Kelly were married in 1942 at Dayton, Ohio. She is the former Miss Virginia O'Brien of Parkersburg, W. Va.

Major Kelly's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Kelly, 706 West Illinois Street, have lived in Midland a number of years. The father is employed by The Texas Company.

Area Farmers Asked To Submit Acreage Reports For Cotton

Notices are going out to cotton farmers in Midland County asking that reports on cotton acreage in 1952 be furnished the County Production Marketing Association office. It was announced Tuesday by W. E. Pigg, chairman.

These records are for use in determining any future cotton acreage allotments and marketing quota program. Farmers are being asked to report the farmland, cropland, cotton acreage and production on their farms in 1952.

For a small charge, farmers also are being given an opportunity to have their 1952 planned cotton acreage measured by the County PMA committee. This will establish an accurate record of cotton acreage for use under possible future allotment programs.

Pigg stressed the importance of keeping the cotton-acreage records up to date, and urged farmers to return the reports to the PMA office as soon as possible.

'Heavy' Water Helps Speed Medical, Industrial Studies

WASHINGTON—(P)—"Heavy" water—a possible key material in the development of the hydrogen bomb—has opened up a new technique in medical, industrial and weather research.

Scientists of the National Bureau of Standards reported Wednesday they are using the stuff in a new and quicker method of determining such things as the water content of the human body, the water absorption powers of certain chemical crystals and the moisture content of the atmosphere.

The technique is based upon the fact that water can exist in two forms—the ordinary kind that comes out of your kitchen faucet and a "heavy" kind which is just the same chemically as ordinary water, but actually weighs more. This is because "heavy" water—while containing the same proportions of hydrogen and oxygen as regular water—has a "heavier" kind of hydrogen.

Scientists take a mixture of both these kinds of water. They know at the start the ratio of "heavy" hydrogen to lightweight hydrogen in it.

Ratio Gives Answer

Then, they add to this mixture a sample of something to be tested for water content. It might be a sample of human tissue, some bacterial cells, a sample of air or some kind of inorganic chemical.

Knowing that the things to be tested contain virtually no "heavy" hydrogen, the scientists figure that any change between the ratio of "heavy" and lightweight hydrogen in the final mixture will be due entirely to the water content of the sample under test.

Lutherans Outline Record Missionary Expansion, Budget

SEATTLE—(P)—The United Lutheran Church in America laid plans Wednesday for an expanded missionary program provided for in the organization's budget, which will reach a record high of over 12 million dollars during the 1954-55 biennium.

The budget, up 14.7 per cent from the 1952-53 figures, was approved late Tuesday by delegates to the eighteenth biennial convention of the Lutheran church's largest group.

Missions will get more than one-third of the 12 million dollars as a result of approval by the delegates of $2,206,500 for that service in both years of the biennium. They current are allotted $1,689,100 a year.

A report by the convention officials said the higher figure will permit the UCLA to establish about 45 fields a year.

Another substantial increase went to the Board of Pensions to finance additional assistance voted retired ministers, missionaries and widows. And additional $160,720 was voted for this purpose, bringing the annual total to $640,000.

O'Dwyer Denies Bookmaker Parleys

MEXICO CITY—(P)—Ambassador William O'Dwyer says he never met a bookmaker in 1949, as alleged by jailed bookie Harry Gross, or at any other time.

Gross, testifying Tuesday at a New York City department trial of 30 policemen accused of taking graft from him, said he and seven or eight other top bookmakers in the city were invited to attend a 1949 meeting with O'Dwyer.

O'Dwyer then was running for reelection as mayor.

While he could not attend himself because of illness, Gross said, he later heard that such a meeting was held.

O'Dwyer issued a statement here Tuesday night denying that such a meeting was held. The ambassador said:

"Bookmaking was a headache for me and for my predecessors, and will continue to be for my successors until horse racing is properly controlled by appropriate legislation."

'Other Woman' Said Reason Behind Auto-Crash Murder

BALTIMORE—(P)—A small pebble, probably a little larger than Johnny would use in a sitzspool, took on boulder significance Wednesday in the Grammer murder trial.

An oblong quartz stone was introduced Tuesday as the one found jammed under the base of the accelerator on a car which hurtled into an embankment and overturned in view of two policemen in a prowl car.

The officers found the body of Mrs. Dorothy May Grammer inside the upset automobile. Several deep gashes were on her head. Blood matted her hair and was spilled on the seat.

Her husband, George Edward Grammer, 35, manager for a New York metals firm, is accused of killing her with a blunt instrument and trying to make her death appear to be an accident.

Car Not Guarded

After the state introduced the pebble, Defense Attorney Anthony S. Federico attempted to establish doubt that the pebble was located in a way to depress the accelerator, as the prosecution implied, at the time her car crashed.

Police Sgt. Paul Hardesty acknowledged that the death car was left unguarded for about two hours between the time he noticed a "whisk object" under the accelerator base while removing Mrs. Grammer's body and the time the pebble was removed by himself and another officer six hours later.

State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro told the court Tuesday at the opening of the trial—expected to last about two weeks—that Grammer was "hopelessly in love" with a 28-year-old Canadian employe at the United Nations headquarters in New York.

Motive For Deed

Sodaro said the motive for the crime was Grammer's intention of marrying the Hamilton, Ont., secretary, Mathilda Mizbrocky.

Mrs. Grammer, 33-year-old mother of three daughters, had been staying with her mother in suburban North Baltimore after the death of her father.

Grammer commuted from New York on weekends to visit her. Grammet has contended that his wife drove him to the railroad station the night of August 19 to catch an 11:28 p.m. train for New York, a four-hour ride.

The officers testified they pulled her out of her car—the motor was still running—at 12:33 a.m. on August 20.

Grammer was contacted in New York about 8 a.m. that morning and returned quickly to Baltimore.

Ten days later he was charged with causing her death, "with malice aforethought."

Monahans Lawyer Named To Preside At Probate Hearing

MONAHANS—(P)—Gov. Allan Shivers has appointed R. T. Harris, Monahans lawyer, as special Ward County judge to preside over the will of Mrs. Rebecca Estes Gray, wealthy resident of the county who died September 11 and whose will is being contested by nine relatives.

On the ground of relationship to some of the contestants, County Judge Carl D. Estes disqualified himself. He is not participating in the will's contest.

No date for a probate hearing has been set.

William L. Kerr and John Butler of Midland, named in Mrs. Gray's will as trustees, have been appointed by Harris as temporary administrators to clear up debts against the estate.

Under terms of the will, a bulk of the estate, which includes extensive oil holdings, would go to charity.

Baseball Talk Mingles With Football Chatter On Midland Sports Scene

By JIM LINDSEY
 The deadline falls Wednesday night on baseball player transactions. Keith Nicolls and Scooter Hughes apparently are the only Indians to be sold unless a last minute sale develops. And General Manager Horace Busby of the Indians didn't anticipate such a deal Wednesday.
 Nicolls and Hughes may some day see service with the Chicago White Sox. Success with Colorado Springs, Colo., of the Class A Western League likely would bring such an opportunity. Colorado Springs works closely with the major league outfit which is expected to call up the Colorado Springs shortstop of last season.
 Failure to scout Nicolls in the Shaugnessy playoffs and his size cooled off several high clubs which had shown an interest in the right-hander in the latter stages of scheduled season competition.
 Nick is spending the winter here as a spokesman for Brewer's Hardware.
 The period between October 16 and December 1 allows draft rosters to be set up and other moves completed before the national association of minor leagues convenes in Phoenix, Ariz., Monday, Dec. 1, for a week's busy session. Baseball bartering takes a fast clip when the association meets and some real horse trading occurs.

 The last place in regular season play gets first choice in the draft of lower bracket personnel. This means Midland will receive sixth chance at a top class D player as the Indians finished third.
 Odessa, first in regular play, has the last opportunity. Vernon, or Carlsbad, N. M., where the franchise has been transferred, receives the opening selection as the Dusters ended up in the cellar.
 President Marion Flynn, Manager Jay Haney and Director C. H. Shepherd will join Busby in the plane trip to Phoenix. They plan to depart Midland the afternoon of November 29 and reach the Arizona resort city before the crush of traffic, particularly from the East, Sunday and Sunday night.
 The Longhorn League, along with other circuits, will hold its own meeting before all representatives enter the general assembly.

 President Flynn and Manager Haney witnessed all seven games of the World Series, returning by plane over the weekend. Haney hopes to move his family here from Lamesa within the next few days. And the Haney's are hunting a two-bedroom, unfurnished home.
 Give the skipper a hand! If Midlanders have the desired residence for rent or now of one meeting the flyers requirements, they are urged to dial Busby at 4-6224 before 6 p.m. or 2-2967 at night.
 Already the Indian high command is thinking of Spring training plans for the Longhorn League champions.
 Busby may invade the Hill Country soon to look over Fredericksburg as a possible training base. The baseball plant is reported excellent in the Gillespie County metropolis. Fredericksburg and the Hill Country long has been an arsenal of baseball fever.
 Comparative nearness of Fredericksburg to Longhorn League cities would permit the Indians to line up a full schedule of exhibition games. The trip to Midland doesn't seem unnecessarily far and the home fans could be afforded an opportunity to see several pre-season games.
 The Hill Country has proved a popular practice pasture for athletic teams in the past. Latest was the Dallas Texans, pro football team, who became fond of Kerrville in their late Summer training.

 The swelling attendance testifies to the increasing popularity of the Bulldog Booster Club which convenes each Tuesday night, rain or shine, in the high school cafeteria. Any change in plans for the meeting of the 300-member club will be announced well in advance of Tuesday night by President Harlan Howell.
 Tugboat Jones, the Bulldog coach, never lets down in his entertainment. His homespun explanations of Bulldog failures and successes keep the audience in stitches. Tugboat always manages to come up with a new way of telling his story.
 Harry Taylor, Jr., the heralded sophomore passer-quarterback for Poly of Fort Worth, reflected the amusement of the Parrots after the 61-19 debacle at the hands of the Bulldogs.
 Young Taylor, who has been lost to the Parrots this season because of a fractured jaw suffered in tackling, knew Coach Red Rutledge and his family in Fort Worth. Taylor, whose father is the former San Angelo High School coach, wrote Russell Rutledge, son of the Bulldog mentor, to inquire if Jesse Hatfield, Midland speed merchant, had "jets in his feet." Graduation will hit the Bulldog football ranks a hard blow.

 Nine seniors hold positions on the starting Bulldog offensive team. Defense starters include six who are in their last scholastic year.
 Coaches, players and fans often lose their composure in the heat of a football game. Here is one of the latest and best examples.
 The San Angelo Bobcats were striking against Midland in last Friday night's game in the Concho city. The action moved along the east sideline of Bobcat stadium.
 A fast Bobcat back scampered near the San Angelo bench and Rusty Russell rushed in for the tackle. Bobcat Coach Pete Sikes, pacing up and down the sideline, bent over to pull Russell off the top of the heap.
 Up stepped Tugboat Jones.
 "Keep your hands off of him, Pete," Jones warned.
 And both coaches returned to their respective benches, located on the same side of the playing field.
 The line play in the Midland-San Angelo game was ferocious. The keyed-up Bobcats found a match in the Bulldogs who always play the game hard. Penalties were many with the Bobcats profiting at the most opportune times. It was penalties which set up both touchdown marches for the burley Bobcats who outweighed the Midlanders in both the forward wall and secondary.

 Five Bobcats left the 1-AAAA encounter because of injuries. The Bulldogs reflected harder training and better conditioning.
 Bill Leonard, 175-pound Bulldog, can get tough with the best of them. He was having a rough evening at San Angelo, offering a good barometer on just how rugged it was getting along the line of play.
 Kenneth Schrum, another Bulldog guard, didn't flinch from the bitter battle. He continued to seek the thick of the fight and more than hold his own with the first-up foe.
 The Bulldogs have racked up 173 points in winning four consecutive victories. The Bulldogs have allowed only 44.
 Lubbock and Pampa, both also victorious in four contests, furnish the closest competition. Lubbock has tallied 114 points and given up 33 to hold the best defensive record in District 1-AAAA while Pampa has registered 126 and yielded 67.

Army Comes Back On Football Trail

By GAYLE TALBOT
 NEW YORK—(AP)—There is a possibility that the most interesting college football result of the season up to this time—Army 37, Dartmouth 7—was overlooked widely by fans absorbed in the prodigious feats of such gridiron golems as

Michigan State and Maryland.
 Off this one victory the Cadets do not, of course, leap back to their long-accustomed place among the nation's elite, but it would seem to indicate that Coach Earl Blaik is far ahead of schedule in rebuilding his wrecked forces. Those who figured it would require three or four years for the Military Academy to recover from the ravages of its wholesale expulsion in the Summer of '51 vastly underrated the red-head's coaching ability.
Win Streak Snapped
 Dartmouth is no football power, true, yet on the Saturday before playing Army the Big Green displayed a defense staunch enough to hold Penn to 30 yards by rushing, and the Quakers since have snapped Princeton's long winning streak. Before the whistle blew at West Point, the game was considered a tossup.
 What the Cadets, led by a yearling named Pete Vann from Ham-burg, N. Y., did to the Greenies in a wide-spread half has been duly recorded, but it might bear brief repeating. Five of the first seven times that Blaik's amazing youngsters got the ball they whirled down the field for touchdowns. The sixth sustained march ended in a fumble at the goal line, but produced a safety against Dartmouth.
 This all happened in the first 25 minutes of the contest and turned it into a 37-0 rout.
 "Actually, we're not nearly that good," Blaik insisted by phone from the Point. "Dartmouth made a lot of mistakes to let my boys get started. I'll have to admit that once they started they went like a prairie fire. But don't let it fool you."
Great Game Seen
 "Naturally, I'm mighty pleased with them at the moment. This will make them a better team and I think our game with Pittsburgh might be a great one. Don't get me wrong. I'll have to admit that the strength of that one outburst."

Iraan Back Takes 5-A Scoring Lead

IRAAN—With a total of 55 points in five contests, Bobby Locker of Iraan is the new scoring leader of District 5-A this week. Nine touchdowns and one extra point were made by the Iraan halfback for the total.
 Next in line is Martin Robinson of Alpine with 49 points, collected on seven TD's and seven extra points.
 Last week's leader, Eddie Compton of Big Lake, failed to score and dropped to third place with 43 points.
 Iraan is the top club offensively with 165 points in winning five ball games for the season. Wink, two losses, is second with 126 points in three wins against 94 points.
 Wink is the top offensive team for the district, counting 86 points in the runnup spot. Iraan follows in the runnup spot with 84.
 Alpine is the top club defensively in the district ball games as well as the entire season. In district play the Bucks have allowed only 13 tallies and for the season it's 51. Iraan is second for all games, while the Wildcats from Wink are second in district defense.

Midland Juniors To Seek Revenge Against Odessans

The Midland Junior High football bill of fare this Saturday finds two seventh grade eleven going against Odessa outfits that have triumphed each of them in opening games of the season.
 Cowden Junior High meets Bowie at Odessa, while San Jacinto Junior High encounters Crockett in Midland. Bowie beat Cowden earlier this season 12-6, and Crockett measured San Jacinto, 18-0, in their first tilt.
 For the combined eighth and ninth grade eleven, Midland warfare opens this Saturday, with a clash between Cowden and San Jacinto.
 The seventh grade tilts are played at 10 a.m. Saturday at Memorial Stadium in Midland and Broncho Stadium in Odessa. The eighth and ninth grade gridsters meet in Memorial Stadium at 8 p.m. Saturday.
 Midland teams have yet to win a game against Odessa aggregation, having dropped eight games thus far to them.

Carver Nears 2-AA Crown

COLLEGE PARK, MD.—(AP)—One thing Coach Jim Tatum believes he'll learn from the Navy game Saturday is just how good his Maryland offensive line is.
 This may sound odd after the 37-0 trouncing his Marylanders ranking second this week in The Associated Press poll, handed Georgia last Saturday and in the wake of victories over three other foes.
 But the Maryland coach says: "Our offense just hasn't had to block anybody yet. By that, I mean, no good line such as Navy's has ever squared off with us. The others have been stunting their defenses so much that I'm not sure how good our blocking is."
Blocking Question
 Coach Tatum at the start of the season tabbed offensive blocking as the No. 1 question of his 1952 team. He rated last year's team, which brought Maryland an undefeated season and a Sugar Bowl victory over Tennessee, the best he had handled. Most of the key players, End Paul Lindsay. All-American Guard Bob Ward and Tackle Joe Mops, have departed.

 One of the most satisfactory replacements so far is Tom Breunich, a 215-pound tackle from Pelham, N. Y. Tatum, in going over a movie of the Georgia game, repeatedly chortled over Breunich's blocking.
 Still, Tatum recalled that last year the Navy line was rated by himself and the Maryland players the best they had faced. That was a Navy team which won only two games and succumbed to Maryland, 35-21. This year, the Middies are undefeated in three games and have one of the best overall defensive records in the nation.
Champ Walker, 96, Foregoes Long Hike
TEANECK, N. J.—(AP)—Former National Walking Champion James H. Hocking, 96 years old Wednesday but still spry and chipper, won't take the long hike with which he usually ushers in his birthdays.
 Hocking had every intention of walking 20 miles through Palisades Interstate Park to mark the occasion Wednesday, but his son and the family physician talked him out of it.
 He says he walked 2,854 miles during his ninety-fifth year and more than 250,000 miles in his lifetime.

Carver Nears 2-AA Crown

Carver High School in Midland has a chance Friday night to carry off the championship of District 2-AA in their game with San Angelo. The Carver Hornets are currently leading the league with one win against no losses, while Odessa has second place with one triumph and one defeat, and San Angelo trails in third place with no victories and one game dropped.
 Coach Johnny Williams' Hornets are rated as favorites in their tilt with the San Angelo Leopards at 8 p.m. Friday at Memorial Stadium.
 The Odessa aggregation earlier beat San Angelo 19-12, and last week the Carver Hornets walked all over Odessa Blackhear High School to the tune of 32-6.
 A victory by the Hornets Friday night would wrap up the championship of District 2-AA for Midland. There are three teams in the league and a loss by Carver would throw the circuit in a three-way tie for first place. But Mentor Jimmy Williams of the Hornets is not considering the prospect of a loss in his game with San Angelo.

Mrs. R. C. Maxson of Midland captured first in Flight C with Mrs. Lucile Shamblin of Midland runnerup.
 The Odessans were honored at a luncheon.

THEY GAVE THEIR ALL Bulldogs Met Bobcat Tide

The questions came more often Tuesday night at Midland Booster Club meeting but Tugboat Jones had 11 answers—satisfying answers.
 Seats were as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth in the high school cafeteria. Club members and other fans poured in for Tugboat's version of the San Angelo game which pressed the Bulldogs to the limit in earning their fourth victory of the 1952 season.
 "I wish we could get our boys keyed up like that," Tugboat said. A volley of questions had been fired when he asked if there were any inquiries.
 Jones reminded in a gentle way that he and his staff had predicted that there would be such a night as the Bulldogs experienced in San Angelo.
Players Praised
 "But we learned one thing," he went on. "We know that win, lose or draw, the kids will give us all they've got."
 Jones cited specific examples of the gridiron gallantry of his charges against keyed up, heavier foes. He showed how 140-pound Jesse Hatfield did a man-sized job of offense and then turned around on defense to turn in just as magnificent a performance. He called attention to 150-pound Dick Spencer spilling two Bobcats at a time in a burst of blocking splendor.
 Others including Bill Erskine and Rusty Rutledge came in for their share of praise. Center Melton Jones was singled out, too, for superb play. The coach said Jones was just as good on offense as Dick Harris, all-state center while playing for Tugboat at Wichita Falls.
 "And before the season is over, he's liable to be as good as Harris was on defense, too," he hurried on to point out.
 Questioners cited the unusual number of penalties in the San Angelo game.
 "It was just rough in there," Jones explained. "When you have a keyed up enemy, you have to scrap all the way."
 Jones showed that hard playing was prevalent throughout the game. "The desire to win was high," he said, forecasting that if remaining teams reach such a level in spirit,

Carter Is Favored To Retrieve Crown From Lauro Salas

CHICAGO (P)—Jimmy Carter, lightning-fisted New York negro, hopes to repeat the feat of another light-weight of a dozen years ago and recapture the 135-pound crown from Lauro Salas Wednesday night.

Carter will try to emulate Lou Ambers, who lost the title to Henry Armstrong in 1938 and won it back the next year.

San Angeloan Tops Pioneer Loop Scoring

By The Associated Press

Averaging nine yards per run, Gene Henderson, San Angelo quarterback, tops the Pioneer Junior College Conference in ball-carrying.

Henderson has gained 316 yards in 33 carries in four games. Second is Derwood Watkins of Schreiner with 263 in 34.

Sam Howard of Arlington State tops the passers with 37 completions in 84 tries for 617 yards with Bobby Bowmer of Schreiner second, with 31 of 53 for 307 yards.

The leading punter is Bill Fox of Tarleton State, who has averaged 5 yards on 11 kicks while Ken Vavra of Arlington State leads in pass-recycling, taking eight throws for 192 yards. Johnny Conart of Arlington State tops in kickoff returns with six for 155 yards and punt returns with 11 for 165.

Vavra is the leading scorer with 40 points, 14 more than Runnerup Leon Sett of Schreiner.

Arlington State leads in team offense with 1,581 yards in five games. Ranger leads in rushing with 1,078 in five games and Arlington State in passing with 645 in five games.

Golf Tourney Honors Scribe

AUSTIN (P)—Austin Sunday will pay tribute to a sports writer by holding a golf tournament.

Morris Williams, who has written about golf here for more than 30 years, will be the man honored.

Hundreds will participate in a one-day "Morris Williams Appreciation Tournament," an 18-hole event with suitable prizes.

The Austin Golf Association is putting on the tournament in recognition of the interest generated by Williams in his career as a golf writer—the longest in Texas.

Williams' son, Morris Jr., is one of Texas' finest young golfers. Before entering the Air Force, young Williams won the Texas Junior, Texas Amateur, and Texas PGA Championships in a single year. He also made the tour with the professional golfers and turned in a goo showings.

Texas Fighter Wins San Jose 10-Rounder

SAN JOSE, CALIF.—P—Jackie Blair of Dallas, Texas, won a split decision over Bobby Woods, Eureka, Tuesday night in the 10-round main event at Civic Auditorium. Both fighters weighed 131.

Woods rallied in the late rounds after Blair piled up a strong lead in the early rounds.

Big Right Half Apparently Lost By TCU For Aggies

FORT WORTH—The TCU Horned Frogs, again leading the Conference chase after a shaky start in inter-sectional play, bid for victory No. 2 in the title fight when they take on the spirited A&M Aggies in College Station Saturday.

Coach L. R. Dutch Meyer of the Christians has a deep respect for Ray George's hustling outfit and has decreed long and hard work for his crew throughout the week.

"The Frogs' 47-0 romp over Trinity University may have cost the Christians dearly. John Harville, the big senior right half, went down with a knee wound which seems certain to keep him out of action two or three weeks. A fine blocker and top pass receiver, Harville has been prominent in all Purple games so far and his loss will be keenly felt.

Jones Takes Over

To replace him, Junior Glenn Jones will take over at right half. John Buchanan, a soph who has had to play a down of varsity ball, will be groomed as a replacement. Both of them lack the size and experience of Harville.

Otherwise, the Christians were fairly happy over the Trinity victory. Coach Meyer had an opportunity to take a good look at some of his reserves and he liked what he saw. Especially was he pleased with the showing of Ronald Clinkscale at tailback and the veteran Gilbert Barshoff at fullback.

Clinkscale, the speedy Arlington Heights high grad, skippered the

No other lightweight has ever done it.

The scrap promises to sizzle from start to finish and run a full 15 rounds.

Only 5,000 or so customers are expected at ringside, which would be the smallest turnout for a title bout ever promoted by the International Boxing Club. The Chicago Stadium attraction will be televised and broadcast nationally starting at 9 p.m. CST.

Each fighter will receive almost $10,000 as his share of television receipts. This sum should far overshadow their 30-30 split of a gate not expected to exceed $25,000.

A big Latin following will be on hand to cheer the 42-year-old champion. The confident little mauler from Los Angeles via Monterrey is boxing's first bona fide Mexican title-holder.

Salas Slow Starter
While compiling a record of 45 victories, 20 losses and six draws, Salas never has been knocked out. Usually a slow starter, he opens up with explosive flurries at the close of each round. He is a hard-shooter, somewhat wild, and has scored 18 knockouts.

Salas finished strongly in defeating Carter for the 135-pound crown five months ago in Los Angeles. He is confident his mauling style again will take care of his 28-year-old rival.

Carter, the more polished, clever fighter, likes to mix it up. This is his third meeting with Salas. The Mexico hero was beaten in their first battle although dropping Carter in the fifteenth round by catching the little negro off balance rather than with a staggering blow.

Carter keyed a 3-1 favorite. He has knocked 21 foes in winning 26 fights, losing 19 and drawing one. Like Salas, he has never been flattened. He has fought only once since losing his crown while Salas has kept busy scoring four victories, each by a knockout within five rounds.

There is no rematch clause in their contract for Wednesday night's bout. If Salas loses, there are reports he will go after the featherweight title. He has done most of his campaigning in that division and will weigh in at about 131 pounds, four less than the lightweight limit packed by Carter.

Campanella's Stars Slate Texas Game

BEAUMONT—P—Ray Campanella and his All-Stars are scheduled to play in an exhibition baseball game in Seahawk Stadium, Port Arthur, October 30, against the negro American League All-Stars.

Campanella's team includes Monte Irvin, Joe Black, Larry Doby, Luke Easter and Sultcaae Simpson.

GREAT AT DELAWARE

DURHAM, N. C.—P—Duke Coach Bill Murray had three unbeaten football teams when he coached the University of Delaware eleven. His strongest teams of 1941, 1942 and 1946 piled up a total of 32 victories without defeat.

Some scrumage, especially by the defensive unit, is on the Frog menu this week. At times, the Trinity Frogs made good gains through the Frog line and Meyer is anxious to correct the situation before Saturday if he can. He rates the Aggie offense, triggered by Ray Graves, as very dangerous indeed.

"We'll have to use our best stop 'em stuff to keep the Aggies from holding the ball all afternoon," he pointed out. "We still have a lot of work to do in that direction."

Arm Bruise Heals

However, the arm bruise he suffered in practice is now healed and he'll be throwing, running and kicking against the Cadets.

A powerful South eleven, boasting three victories against no defeats, meets a potential stumbling block Friday in a resurgent North team. North has rebounded from an initial loss to Sam Houston to take two successive titles by convincing margins. Sam Houston, the other undefeated eleven, is expected to have little trouble with winless De Zavala.

Ameche's Swinging Shoulders Scatter Tacklers To Tune Of 'On Wisconsin'

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Staff Correspondent

MADISON, WIS.—From the day he enrolled at the University of Wisconsin a year ago, Alan Ameche was the kind of kid you'd never have any trouble spotting.

His hair was green if it resumed its normal light brown hue after the dye of a high school fraternity caper wore off.

His shoulders were broad and supple. Stick a football in his stomach, head him into a line and those waisting shoulders discarded tacklers like a truck hitting a puddle scatters pedestrians.

The Badgers, after riding side-saddle through scrimmage seasons, dubbed him "The Horse." By the second game of the season he was pulling Wisconsin's offensive load.

Last year they played freshmen in the Big Ten. The kid from Kenosha led them all—sopho, juniors, seniors—in conference rushing and made the all-Big Ten second team.

Private coaches said he was the best fullback in the Midwest.

Coach Ray Eliot of Illinois called him "the finest freshman back I've seen." Substitute the word sophomore to bring the phrase up to date, and Ameche still fills the bill.

Wisconsin's great running game, possibly the best in the Big Ten since prewar days, revolves around his thunder bursts up the middle.

His peculiar, stand-up style of running created some suspicion that, in football vernacular, "he'll get his guts knocked out."

But the 19-year-old Kenosha has a powerful 200-pound-plus torso that absorbs impact, and his swinging shoulders are an effective lever for opening a wedge in massed lines.

He has surprising speed for a big man, too.

With halfback Harland Carl's dazzling speed finally channeled for

Cross-Town Rivals To Play In Abilene

ABILENE—Texas Conference football activities will be officially scrubbed here Saturday night when cross-town rivals, McMurtry and Abilene Christian, meet on the gridiron for the 20th time.

Both teams are ranked leading contenders for the 52 title along with Texas A&T. Result of the game is expected to shed considerable light on the conference picture.

ACC holds an 11-to-8 margin in games won, chalking up victory No. 11 with a smashing 58-to-13 rout of McMurtry last season. The Indians last whipped the Wildcats in 1949 when Brad Rowland & Company, rolled up a 21-to-0 verdict.

PECOS Eagles Top Scoring In 8-AA

PECOS—Once again the high-flying Pecos Eagles have soared to the top of District 8-AA offensive units in points scored to date. A 43-0 pasting of hapless Ozona last week aided the point total climb of the versatile Eagles to a staggering 172. Right off their heels come the Seminole Indians with a respectable 150 points scored.

On defense, the powerful Seminole Indians grabbed their share of glory, allowing only 31 points against them, in five pigskin tilts, for an average of approximately six points per contest.

Elementary Football League Gets Down To Crucial Play

MAJORS OPEN BARTERING SESSIONS— Pirates, Brownies Waste No Time Starting Buildup

NEW YORK (P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Browns, confronted with a gigantic rebuilding job, are wasting no time in getting their reconstruction program rolling.

Pittsburgh, a sorry last this season, and St. Louis, marooned in seventh place, highlighted a busy major league bartering session Tuesday which chiefly involved minor league clubs.

The Pirates pulled off the only "real" trade of the day. The Buccs shipped Gus Ball, 22-year-old long-ball-hitting outfielder, to the Cincinnati Reds for three players.

Bill Veck, major domo of the Browns, lured Shortstop Bill Hunter, hailed as one of the best prospects in the minors, from the Brooklyn Dodger organization in what he called a $150,000 deal.

The St. Louis Cardinals, Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians brought up a number of players from their minor league affiliates in "paper" transactions, while the Philadelphia Athletics purchased Righthander John Mackinson, a former New York Yankee farmhand, from Birmingham of the Southern Association.

with the powers that be at Pittsburgh for lack of hustle, batted only 246 for the Pirates in 131 games.

To get Bell, the Reds shipped catcher Joe Rossi, a .221 hitter, and Outfielder Cal Abrams and Gail Henley to the Pirates. Henley was obtained by the Reds Monday from the New York Giants for Pitcher Frank Hiller. Abrams, who started the season with Brooklyn, batted .278 while Henley hit .278 for the Reds' Tulsa club of the Texas League.

The Pirates also added two players from the minors and dropped two. Catcher Bill Hall was called up from Pittsburgh's Charleston club of the South Atlantic League and Charley Sipple, once with the Philadelphia Phillies, was procured from Indianapolis of the American Association.

Pittsburgh disposed of two pitchers, dispatching Right-hander Don Carlsen to Charleston and Left-hander Len Yochim to New Orleans of the Southern Association.

Hunter, voted the Texas League's most valuable player, batted .296 for Fort Worth and led the loop in fielding and stolen bases. He was traded to the Dodgers' St. Paul club after the season to protect him from the draft.

Kermit's Spinks Replaced As Top Texas Tech Gainer

LUBBOCK—Thanks to a possible record-breaking performance, halfback Bobby Cavazos of Kingsville has taken over the rushing lead among Texas Tech backs.

Cavazos, in 19, tries, gained 185 yards, probably a single-game high for any Red Raider, in Saturday night's 20-14 loss to Texas Western. This sent his total to 253 for the season.

Last week's leader, Fullback Rick Spinks, Kermit, early in the Western game, carried only twice and also was passed by Halfback Don Lewis of Quitaque, who now has 158 yards.

Quarterback Jerry Johnson of Hale Center is still the passing leader with 18 completions of 33 throws for 202 yards and a 45 per cent mark. James Odom of Alvarado, who subbed for the ailing Johnson during the first half Saturday night, has the best Raider average, hitting 10 of 17 for 99 per cent and 156 yards.

Johnson is Tech's total offense leader adding 120 rushing to his aerial total for 322 yards gained in all.

Lewis has been the favorite target. He has seven catches for 113 yards. He's also Tech's leading punt returner with six for 76 yards run back, and kickoff returner—eight for 160.

Jack Kirkpatrick of Post, who has converted 12 out of 13 times and scored one touchdown, shares the scoring lead with Spinks, who has crossed the goal three times. Each has 18 points.

Tech, with a 1/3 record, is averaging 327 yards, a six-yard better mark per game than last season. Opponents however, are gaining about 28 yards per game more than they did last year—342.

Texas Tech plays Baylor here Saturday night.

BECAUSE OF SUCCESSFUL RANEYKABOO—

All Cayuses Gather 'Round, Pay Debt To Homeless 'Poke'

DENVER—(AP)—Consider, please, as you skim along in that high-powered car or plane, that now is the time for all good men to honor the horse.

For—you know, and if you don't take heed—it's National Save the Horse Week.

So, okay, you don't feel like saving a horse. You've never been near one? And, after all, what's a horse ever done for most of us?

But, lest we forget, spare a gasoline-fueled minute or so, and read of a "raneykaboo" and horses, too.

This business was the brain child of Harry Galbraith, a one-time Colorado cowpuncher. Harry loved horses.

Comes The Dawn

A decade or so ago, he became alarmed at the decline of the horse in this country.

He sent letters far and wide seeking support for a national horse week, peppered the White House with requests for official recognition of the horse.

One day, Galbraith, sitting in a Colorado Springs cafe, looked over a Commerce Department bulletin, discovered listings of all national "weeks" proclaimed by executive order. He thereupon figured out the "raneykaboo"—rangeland lingo for "a fast one."

He bilstered the Commerce Department by telegram for omitting National Save the Horse Week. Back came a letter of apology. The next year before publication of the bulletin, Galbraith received a letter asking for more information. He telegraphed and the next bulletin not only proclaimed the week as official—but it was not—but gave full information.

Dies Sans Home

A few months later, friends found Galbraith dead in the back seat of an abandoned automobile where he had been sleeping. It was the first anyone knew that he had no personal quarters.

This year the Commerce Department sought information but couldn't locate Galbraith. It wrote Robert W. Red Fenwick, Denver Post staff writer, ex-Wyoming horseman of sorts and a fellow conspirator in Galbraith's plotting.

"The week lives," Fenwick wrote, "not only to perpetuate the memory and the flesh of horses everywhere, but to honor the memory of an old cowpuncher who gave all he had to the cause and who died with fewer of the comforts of life than are enjoyed by many of the beasts who had in Harry Galbraith their staunchest friend."

Texas Democrats Move To Counter Gains Made By Eisenhower; Kerr Is Spokesman

By The Associated Press

The Eisenhower campaign cloudbursting through Texas in a Republican tide for the state's 24 electoral votes—almost drowned out other election noises.

But not quite. Texas Democrats, led for a day by Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, stayed busy. State Democratic headquarters in Dallas worked at top speed.

Kerr, who made an abortive attempt at the Democratic Presidential nomination himself, spoke in Waco in behalf of Adlai Stevenson, the man who got the nomination.

Stevenson is due in Texas on Friday for speeches that day and the next at Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio, and Houston.

Kerr accused Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas and Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina of having lost their perspective "by exaggerating one issue."

Says Perspective Lost

Shivers and Byrnes have based their support for GOP nominee Dwight Eisenhower on state rights and the Tidelands issue principally.

"Each has lost his perspective by exaggerating one issue in a campaign that must be resolved on many issues," Kerr told a Central Texas Stevenson rally in Waco.

"To those who have listened to either Gov. Shivers or Governor Byrnes, let me say this," Kerr continued, "if you want to have a real nightmare go to sleep and dream that Eisenhower has been elected and that something has happened to him which resulted in Nixon becoming President of the United States—and see if you don't wake up with the cold 'Shivers' and hot 'Byrnes.'"

Elkins Heads Vets

Before Kerr spoke in Waco, Speaker Sam Rayburn, chairman of the Texas Stevenson-Sparkman Committee, announced in Dallas that a chairman had been named for the Texas Veterans-for-Stevenson Committee.

He's Bill Elkins of Killeen, Rayburn said, past state commander of the American Legion.

In a simultaneous announcement, Elkins said he planned a drive to organize ex-servicemen's committees across the state to support the National Democratic ticket.

Co-chairmen of the Democratic veterans' organization are Charles G. Gibson of Amarillo, Roger Q. Evans of Denison, and William McCraw of Dallas. Gibson and McCraw are past state commanders of the American Legion. Evans is a past commander of the state Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Faithful Flock In

As the Eisenhower train-and-plane tour of Texas started Tuesday, Democratic Party faithful flocked in and out of headquarters in a downtown Dallas hotel. Mrs. Louise Kittrell Corey, receptionist, tried to answer telephones and greet visitors at the same time.

Rayburn, Col. Lawrence Westbrook, assistant chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and other party leaders talked to delegation after delegation. A woman from Waxahachie, excited over material she said Eisenhower headquarters was putting-out, brought in some samples.

"It's scandalous," she said as she showed Mrs. Corey a handbill criticizing Stevenson. Mrs. Corey said she would call it to the committee's attention.

Some volunteers phoned to offer their services. A pretty blonde came in to go to work in an office adjoining Mrs. Corey's.

Just Normal Day

It was a normal day, Mrs. Corey said.

Kerr struck hard at the recent Eisenhower-Taft alliance in his Waco speech.

"If the American people were to elect Eisenhower and a Republican Congress... the Congress of the United States would be controlled by Bob Taft, and other reactionary, isolationist Republicans.

"While a candidate for the nomination, Eisenhower came down to Texas to try to get the delegates of your great state, and said he was making a fight against reactionary Republicans. He accused Bob Taft and his leaders of being cattle thieves and rustlers—then he went to Chicago and proved it on them. But just a few days ago Eisenhower and Taft got in bed together—and it wasn't Eisenhower's bed."

Says Crusade Slowed

Kerr declared that publication of the $18,000 fund of Eisenhower's running mate, Senator Nixon of California, had "slowed down" the general's "moral crusade."

"He is now talking about what the Democrats are to blame for," said Kerr. "The senator said Eisenhower's charge that the Democrats are to blame for the debacle in China and Asia" repudiates the non-partisan stand taken by the late Senator Vandenberg of Michigan.

"Now the Democratic Party is to blame for some things, and for those things we are ready and willing to stand up before the American people and accept the responsibility," said Kerr.

He then listed as things for which "you can't blame the Republicans"—the administration farm program, rural electric lines, farm-to-market roads, farm price support, old age assistance, the 40-hour week, and FHA housing loans.

Nixon Declares Demos Can't Deliver FEPC

DETROIT—(AP)—Communism is the root of all evil and the Democrats can not deliver fair employment practices, Senator Richard Nixon was telling Michigan audiences as he caromed into the second day of his whistle stop tour of the state Wednesday.

He told a thoroughly friendly audience of 5,000 in Detroit Tuesday night that civil rights proposals would be doomed with Senator John Sparkman of Georgia, the Democratic candidate, as vice president.

Ike Lashes Demo Policy—

peace program, the general took this swipe at Truman:

"If we Americans do not fully respect our own leadership, you can be certain that this leadership will have diminished prestige abroad. And, unless our leadership is respected abroad, it will neither be trusted nor freely followed."

"Our capacity to influence other nations will be frittered away. Can you blame the peoples who dwell in the shadow of the Kremlin for failing to understand the kind of leadership that could still say in 1948 of a ruthless dictator: 'I like old Uncle Joe. He is a decent fellow.' This was a reference to a statement by Truman in 1948.

Then Eisenhower said that the Congress of the Soviet Republic met last week for the first time in 13 years—and 'a Moscow leader launched an attack upon an American.'"

Essentials For Peace

He said: "Such a thing never happened before. But the attack wasn't leveled at the man who said he liked Old Uncle Joe Stalin. I'm proud to say, that it was directed exclusively at me—and my efforts to help promote a strong and secure free world."

Eisenhower gave these four points as the essential cornerstones for world peace:

1. An America that is strong militarily and spiritually.
2. Integrity in the national leadership in Washington which would have the respect of other nations.
3. Free Allies, with a common bond of interest—'soundedly formed' on what they say the GOP will do if Eisenhower is elected. He cited social security and the farm program as examples.
4. An active United Nations made into a workable road to world peace."

Stevenson Says Ike Knows 'Tricks' Can't Terminate Korea War

SPOKANE, WASH.—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said Wednesday that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower knows full well "there is no trick that can end the Korean War."

The Democratic presidential nominee, encouraged by reports of mounting strength in Utah—if not Wyoming—pushed his campaign to the Pacific Northwest with a sharp attack on his Republican opponent's stand on Korea, foreign policy and public power development.

Saying that Eisenhower has implied "that we could bring our men home from Korea soon if we would only train some South Korean soldiers to take their places," Stevenson declared in a speech prepared for a street-corner rally.

"I will not play politics with war and peace. Our men are fighting in Korea so they will not have to fight in Alaska or Spokane or Omaha."

"They will come home from Korea just as soon as our national security permits. And, for my part, I deplore the suggestion that they come home any sooner.

"There is no trick that can end the Korean War—and I am sure the general knows this full well."

Chaplain Deplores Spiritual Neglect Of Nation's Allies

DALLAS—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Charles I. Carpenter, chief of Air Force chaplains, says "Our world is out of joint and our conflict with Russia is theological."

General Carpenter said here Tuesday that the Soviets lack spiritual strength. He added that in talks with French and Dutch Air Force officers he learned that America had neglected organization of European spiritual strength.

Farmer's Shotgun Knocks Down Plane

CATSKILL, N. Y.—(AP)—A Catskill farmer is accused of shattering the windshield of a low flying plane with a blast from his shotgun.

Hugh Van Orden, 60, was charged with first-degree assault Tuesday. Van Orden told a reporter he fired at the two-seater aircraft because he was annoyed at the plane's flying 50 to 75 feet above his farm.

Peter Pascuzzi, a student pilot, landed the plane safely. His instructor, Leo Bolce, 32, suffered cuts on the face when the windshield was smashed.

Van Orden said he "just wanted to scare them away" and that he was amazed when his shot carried to the plane.

Acheson Postpones Speech, Delays UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The Steering Committee of the United Nations General Assembly headed into an agenda loaded with bitter world problems Wednesday as postponement of an expected U. S. pronouncement on Korea delayed opening of the world meeting's general policy debate.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, here for Tuesday's opening of the Assembly's seventh session, had been expected to launch the debate Wednesday with a demand that the 60-nation body appeal to the Communists for an armistice in Korea on UN terms.

However, a spokesman for the delegation said Acheson had decided to "get the feel of the Assembly" before delivering the speech, on which he reportedly still was working. The U. S. delay resulted in cancellation of both Assembly sessions originally scheduled for Wednesday.

Elks Officials Here For Initiation Rites

J. T. O'Rourke of El Paso, district deputy for West Texas, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, and W. J. B. Frazier, El Paso, a trustee of the Texas Elks Crippled Children's Hospital, are in Midland Elks Lodge and to attend a special meeting of the lodge. It is the official visit of the district deputy to Midland.

O'Rourke and Frazier were to meet with officers of the Midland chapter Wednesday afternoon, and at 8 p. m., they will be the guests of honor at an initiation meeting to be held in the Elks Lodge in the Leggett Building.

J. S. Leonard, exalted ruler of the Midland Lodge, urged a large attendance of members at the Wednesday night session.

Gl's Capture Top Of Triangle Hill

SEOUL—(AP)—American infantrymen smashed over the top of Triangle Hill on Korea's central front Wednesday and fought a savage inch-by-inch battle down the northern slope. Two miles to the east, more than 1,000 Reds counter-attacked troops of the South Korean 2nd Division on Sniper Ridge.

AP Correspondent Milo Farnetti said U. S. 7th Division infantrymen on Triangle were pushing single-file down a Communist trench leading to towering Papa-San Mountain, immediately to the north.

A front-line officer said they were "fighting for every inch" against fiercely resisting Chinese Reds.

A hastily-erected cable hoist sped food and ammunition to the top of Triangle, where other 7th Division soldiers dug in against an expected Chinese counterattack.

The Reds lashed out at South Korean soldiers on Sniper Ridge just after dusk. The South Koreans met their charge with withering ma-

Sparkman Brands Nixon Housing foe

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(AP)—Senator John J. Sparkman told a housing officials' conference Wednesday that his Republican opponent for the vice presidency "has consistently and vigorously fought against good housing."

And, the Democratic candidate added, "It should come as no surprise that among the contributors to Senator Nixon's personal political fund were real estate interests in the Los Angeles area, where public housing has suffered its most virulent attack."

In a speech prepared for delivery at the annual conference of the National Association of Housing Officials, Sparkman—who is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on housing—declared:

"Both in the House and in the Senate, the Republican vice presidential candidate has consistently and vigorously fought against good housing."

Sparkman said Nixon had voted to strike the low-rent housing section from the Housing Act of 1949, and had voted twice since to limit low-rent housing to 3,000 units a year.

Bludgeoned Child Describes Killers In Grisly Robbery

CHESTER, CALIF.—(AP)—Sondra Gay Young, three and one-half, Tuesday described two men as the killers of her father, two sisters and a little playmate in a $7,128 robbery-murder.

Sondra herself, was bludgeoned brutally and left for dead—thrown across the bodies of the four victims in the trunk of her father's automobile.

Requiring for a time from the coma and shock of a fractured skull, Sondra said one of the assailants was blind and masked; the other unmasked and carrying a gun. She

Shivers-Ike Link Unique Political Pact

By DAVE CHEAVENS

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas and Republican Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower have cemented firmly a political alliance brand new in Texas history.

They were joined Wednesday in what both described as a crusade for a return to decency and morality in government—and to elect Eisenhower President to do the job. They and Attorney General Price Daniel, unopposed nominee for the U. S. Senate, exchanged hearty personal and political back-pats in platform appearances Tuesday starting at Houston and winding up in front of the historic Alamo here.

Eisenhower slashed through the heart of Texas asking the voters here to shed their traditional Democratic pattern.

Stevenson Coming

Gov. Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee cold-shouldered by Shivers and the established party organization in Texas, follows in Eisenhower's tracks. Friday and Saturday, he will attempt to counteract the Republican appeal for dissident Democratic votes in Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio and Houston.

Shivers introduced Eisenhower here, writing a new chapter in Texas political history by becoming the first in a long, unbroken line of Democratic governors openly to endorse and work for a Republican presidential nominee. Daniel introduced Eisenhower at Houston.

Weldon Hart of Austin, one of Shivers' top political advisers, accompanied Eisenhower on his cross-country flight over Texas, counseling him on local issues and situations.

Also with Eisenhower was Claud Gilmer of Rocksprings, chairman of the Democrats formed to work for the Republicans after the state convention at Amarillo urged party members to take that course.

Night-Clad Ike, Mamie Get UT Crowd's Huge Welcome

AUSTIN—(AP)—Republican Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower got a huge welcome here shortly after 2 a. m. Wednesday when a crowd of supporters, including many University of Texas students, met his train.

The general and Mrs. Eisenhower appeared on the rear platform of the train, enroute from San Antonio to Dallas and Fort Worth, in dressing gowns. The general's robe was black and silver. Mamie's was pink.

The University "Youth-for-Eisenhower" organization had arranged for a torchlight welcome to the GOP nominee and about 25 students with torches were on hand to light up the occasion.

A 12-piece band, made up of Republican members of the university's symphonic group, played "The Eyes of Texas."

From Midland-and their greatest regret is leaving their newly purchased home. Located in high Loma Linda, where all the streets are paved, this attractive home has two lovely bedrooms, comfortable living room, and tile bath. The immaculate kitchen has a nice breakfast space, washer connection, YOUNGSTOWN metal cabinets, Vent-A-Hood, distributed heating, central air-conditioning, nice closets, and in excellent condition thru-out. Attractive lawns and attached garage. Can be handled for about $2,000 down. Full price is $10,500.

AFTER CHAOS, CAME ORDER... and now comes beauty and graciousness. One's finer taste is first expressed in one's home. And here is a home which eloquently complements the best in attainment. Long slung and staid, this brick rambler magnificently divides itself into 3 large bedrooms, den, and 3 ceramic tile baths. The living room is a luxurious pride, and the kitchen is one which you would design if you had all the money in the world. Angled wood-burning fireplace, luxurious carpeting thru-out, central heating and cooling, large utility room and 2-car attached garage. Water well, tile fence, and comparable surroundings. It will be our pleasure to show you the other too-numerous-to-mention features. $36,500.

LET'S PUT IT THIS WAY. The rental unit in the rear will bring in about $50 per month which cuts your monthly payments that much. And the main house, located in TOWN NORTH, is constructed of Johns-Mansville asbestos siding. It has two nice bedrooms, comfortable living room, convenient and clean kitchen. Four years old and in excellent condition. Can be handled for about $2,500 down, and priced at a low $10,500.

HERES THE LONG OF IT. The short of it is the price. If you've longed for lots of living space, hear yell! It's got 3 bedrooms and a den, one bath, living room, full dining "L", and nice kitchen. Front and rear covered porches, huge detached garage, on a 75x140 lot on Kentucky. Two floor furnaces, 2 air-conditioner units, washer connection, and very expensive carpeting in the living room and hallway. Attractive lawn in front and rear, fenced yard, and paved street. These are some of the statistics. Attractively priced at ONLY $14,750.

VISIT OUR NEIGHBORING CITY of Odessa during Oil Progress Week. Then resolve that some progress shall take place about your securing a home in Midland. A lot of you nice people missed some wonderful opportunities because you've neglected calling us. Here's one that you shouldn't overlook: 3 bedrooms, ceramic tile bath, huge living and dining room combination, lovely and big kitchen with YOUNGSTOWN metal cabinets (with Lazy Susan), compact utility room with washer connection, and attached carport. Central heating, asbestos shingle over asphalt squares, oak floors, attic insulation. They are new, on a paved street, near grade school, and can be handled for as little as $2,000 down. FOR YOUR CONSIDERATION
Three bedrooms, two tile baths, carpeted throughout, lovely den with cork floor, double garage, air conditioned, centrally heated. Fenced yard. Shown by appointment only.

This beautiful three bedroom home is located on Harvard Street just west of the Midland Country Club. It has two tile baths, beautiful yard with a tile fence. Wood-burning fireplace. Air conditioned and centrally heated. Priced to sell.

THIS IS GOING TO HURT. I'm a Yale man, but I've got to admit that there is something good on Harvard. As a matter of fact, it's rather terrific. Three large bedrooms, 2 tile baths, magnificent kitchen with separate breakfast room which can be used as den or sewing room. The living room, with the wood-burning fireplace, is a book full of comfort and beauty. Central heating, 5-ton refrigeration unit, luxuriously carpeted thru-out. Nice lawns, tile fence and patio for your private outside dining and living. Sadly I admit the beauty of Harvard. $29,500.

THE CUTE ONE ON CUTHBERT is the way that you'll remember this one. It's got two BIGGER and BETTER bedrooms, lovely living room, dining room, and clean kitchen. Constructed just before the war and is in perfect condition. Attached garage, trees and trees, nice lawn, fenced yard, and wonderful neighbors. Water well. Owner purchased larger home and must sell. $12,500.

DRIVE SLOWLY BY 1709 North Weatherford. Then call to see the interior of this attractive 2-bedroom home. Then hook a look at 114 East Parker. While you're still in low gear, drive by 205 West Nobles. REMOVED FROM THE RUSH and the routine of office and deals that might not go through, to the quiet hush of sheer living. Proudly placed among comparably spacious homes is this cream brick Texas rambler. Spreading for over 80 feet across the front, it has 3 bedrooms, den, 1 1/2 tile baths, and 2-car attached garage. Huge kitchen in tile, lovely living room, and separate dining room. Central summer and winter conditioning, fully carpeted, large closets, and all the finest of features in a well planned home. Truman Whistle Stops Anew On 'Stop Eisenhower' Swing

WASHINGTON — President Truman fires up his campaign train special again Wednesday night for a three-day speaking tour in political critical New York and New England.

The White House indicated the 68-year-old Chief Executive will be drumming on the road for the Democratic presidential candidate, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, almost until the eve of the November 4 election.

Truman hardly has had time to get his laundry in order since returning Sunday from a 15-day, 8,500-mile whistle stop tour on which he made 80 speeches.

He conferred late Tuesday at the White House with the party's Finance Committee, obviously discussing his coming drives and the state of the party money chest.

His just-completed swing was aimed, in the President's words, at stripping some of the glitter and glamour from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Stevenson's Republican opponent.

Truman's new Northeastern trip is expected to be aimed at more of the same. There will be up to 12 speeches a day in New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island—mostly in industrial areas.

Proximity Theme

Gains claimed for union labor and workmen in general, and for small businessmen under Democratic administrations are expected to figure heavily on his new drive.

NEW FEATURES COME IN CANS

CHICAGO — (AP) — Cartilage packed in glass jars for use in plastic surgery now can be bought by doctors.

The material, used as the base on which to build new chins, noses and ears, is taken from the ends of the breastbones of freshly slaughtered steers. Cleaned and trimmed, it forms a soft, white, rubbery half moon about four by two inches and up to one half inch in thickness.

The cartilage is being marketed by Armour and Company.

Lawton Schedules Deep Wildcat In C-E Lea Sector

Lawton Oil Corporation spotted location for No. 1-L, State, 12,000-foot rotary wildcat five miles northwest of deep production in the Lovington area of Central-East Lea County.

It will be drilled 660 feet from north and east lines of section 30-16a-36e and three miles southwest of the town of Lovington.

Operations are to start at once. Lawton was preparing to plug back to the upper Devonian in No. 2 State-Gulf, wildcat failure in lower Devonian on total depth of 13,980 feet, three and one-half miles south of the Hightower (multipay) area of Northwest Lea County.

This wildcat is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 10-13a-33e. It indicated as a gas-distillate discovery on drillstem tests when the upper Devonian was drilled through.

Two and one-half miles southeast of the North Echols Devonian field of Northeast Lea County, The Texas Company plugged No. 1-A State NCT-2 on total depth of 12,139 feet in the Devonian.

Location was in section 26-10a-37e.

Simpson Topped Structurally In Upton Wildcat

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 McElroy Ranch Company-State, Devonian discovery three-quarters of a mile east of the shallow McElroy field in Central-West Upton County, has reported high structural position on the top of the Simpson, middle Ordovician.

The project topped the Simpson at 10,970 feet, minus datum point of 8,350 feet, or 512 feet high structurally to Gulf No. 1-H McElroy Ranch Company, discovery well of the Jigger Y (Pennsylvanian) field.

Operator is preparing to cut another 50-foot core in the Simpson on No. 1 McElroy-State from 11,177 feet.

DS Is Planned

After that core is cut a drillstem test is planned from 11,127 to 11,227 feet. Core from 11,127 to 11,177 feet recovered 50 feet of lime, sand and shale with no shows.

The prospect flowed oil on a drillstem test of the Devonian from 10,250 to 10,379 feet, and on three subsequent tests between 10,500 feet and 10,644 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 182, block E, CCSDARONG survey.

Devonian Water Found On DST In W-C Yoakum Test

Signal Oil & Gas Company, Southern California Petroleum Corporation and Vega Corporation, No. 1 Signal-SoCal-Webb, wildcat in West-Central Yoakum County, was botomed in the Devonian at 11,510 feet awaiting orders after finding water in the top of the formation.

A drillstem test was taken from 11,485 to 11,510 feet. Tool was open two hours. Recovery was 10,250 feet of salty, sulphur water, no shows of oil or gas.

The official top of the Devonian has not been reported. Unofficial sources say it is at approximately 11,490 feet, elevation 3,701 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 423, block D; John H. Gibson survey.

Three Wildcats In Runnels Area Dry, Abandoned

Location was 2,379 feet from north and 2,317 feet from east lines of section 68, block 63, HT&B survey.

Saxon Exploration Company No. 1 Mrs. S. Bixby and others, wildcat in Southeast Runnels County, has been plugged and abandoned at 3,852 feet.

Roosevelts Divide Political Allegiance

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt's sons are rooting for the Republican presidential candidate, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The other four members of the late Democratic president's family are sticking to his party.

"We're all individuals," said FDR's youngest son, John, "and that's what makes a horse race, as father used to say."

John, a distributor of colognes and soaps, switched party allegiance in 1948, and supported Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and he's for Eisenhower this time.

Elliott, on a Meeker, Colo., ranch, announced, even before Eisenhower was nominated, that he would back the general.

The rest of the family — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the other two sons, James and Franklin Delano, Jr., and daughter Anna — are all taking an active part in boosting Gov. Adlai Stevenson.
