New Highway Bond Ballot Looms

DRIVER ESCAPES INJURY—The fates were kind Friday to Eddie Jack of Odessa. Unable to stop as he headed north at the Lee Street crossing, he skidded into the side of a speeding Texas and Pacific Railway Company passenger train at 7:28 a.m. The front of the automobile was demolished, right, the vehicle was whirled around and the rear end crushed in. Not a window glass was broken, the center part of the automobile escaped damage and Jack crawled out uninjured.

LUTON'S AUTO SPLITS TICKET—It isn't that Oscar M. Luton, who lives at 1901 North Main Street and drives an automobile with both Eisenhower and Stevenson stickers on it, can't make up his mind. He's just trying to keep peace in the family.

Bureau Says Living Costs Show Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Friday reported a drop in the cost of living for the first time in six months.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics announced its index—the measuring rod for the government—declined two-tenths of one per cent between August 15 and September 15.

There had been a steady climb the previous six months.

The BLS attributed the drop to lower prices for food, down one per cent in the month.

The decline in food prices was offset in part by increases for all other major groups of living cost items. The price of clothing went up six-tenths of one per cent.

BLS pegged the new index at 100.8 per cent of the 1935-1939 base period, down from the August record high of 101.1.

The latest report showed living costs have advanced five per cent since wage and price controls were imposed in January, 1951.

More than 50,000 production workers whose wages are tied to the cost of living may get a penny increase despite the drop in Friday's index.

Contracts which contain cost-of-living, or escalator, clauses are usually adjusted every three months. The index of three months ago, measuring prices on June 15, was more than one full point below the August figure and the slight dip was not likely to offset that increase.

Neither the million-plus auto workers nor the railroad workers are affected by Friday's index. Their contracts are up for adjustment in the next two months.

Funds Needed To Purchase Right-Of-Way

A bond issue to finance the purchase of right-of-way for two additional Highway 80 improvement projects probably will be submitted to Midland County's voting taxpayers before the end of the year.

The election appeared likely Friday after the City Council Thursday afternoon signed an agreement with the State Highway Department calling for the widening of West Wall Street from O Street to the four-lane Midland-Odessa highway.

County Judge Clifford C. Keith said that if the county purchases the right-of-way, it will need additional bond funds.

The election also would provide funds for purchasing additional right-of-way needed for the widening of Highway 80 east to the Martin County line.

"We have just about enough funds on hand now," said Judge Keith, "to finance our portion of the Big Spring Street underpass at the railroad."

"We'll have a tight squeeze to do that."

"I have talked the situation over with businessmen and members of the Commissioners Court and it is our thinking now that a bond election will be called before the end of the year."

Front Street First

He added that the election would not be called, however, until the Front Street widening project is completed and the street thrown open to traffic.

Under the agreement approved Thursday by the City Council, the city would assess the cost of the curb and gutter and furnish the right-of-way on West Wall Street.

The project calls for widening to 80 feet from the Andrews Highway intersection west and widening to 65 feet from the Andrews Highway intersection to O Street.

For the widening project on East Highway 80 an additional 180 feet of right-of-way will be needed.

The project would connect with a similar one in Martin County, for which bonds were voted last week.

Judge Keith said further study would be needed before the cost of the needed right-of-way for both projects can be determined.

Final OK By City Sets Stage For Military Use Of Airpark

The City Council put its stamp of approval Thursday afternoon on an agreement for the joint use of Airpark and Webb Air Force Base authority at Big Spring said Friday they will begin training aviation cadets there on or about November 1.

Training will be with propeller-driven North American T-28 aircraft.

The agreement for the joint use of the facility was reached after months of negotiations, and the government agreed to pay its portion of maintenance cost based on the proportionate weight of military craft landing at the field.

In its final action on the agreement, the council stipulated that the contract expire on June 30, 1954.

According to Lt. Col. Jim Wilson, commanding officer of Webb's 3560th Pilot Training Group, the Midland activity will start as a "limited operation" involving the utilization of perhaps 10 training aircraft. Colonel Wilson indicated the schedule at the Airpark would be increased gradually as more T-28 aircraft become available.

"At the present time," Colonel Wilson explained, "it is impossible to determine the maximum number of aircraft we will eventually utilize at Midland. Such figures are subject to constant change, and are worked out by higher headquarters in the form of student flow charts."

The Big Spring training station is under the control of Flying Training Air Force, with headquarters in Waco.

Colonel Wilson pointed out some phases of the training will involve just take-offs and landings, while "air work" phases will see this Airpark used for landings and take-offs for purposes of refueling and changing student pilots. Students will be ferried to and from the Airpark in C-47 transport planes.

Meetings have been held between Webb training officers, Clyde Sharrer, director of aviation for the City of Midland, and Emerson Carpenter of the Civil Aeronautics Administration to work-out details of traffic patterns and safety precautions to be observed.

Air Force utilization of the Midland facility is on a "joint-use" basis, giving both civilian and military air traffic access to the field.

USAF Traffic Control

Radio control of all traffic during periods of Air Force operations will be handled by a mobile control tower, manned by USAF personnel. This tower will be equipped with high, medium, and low frequency radio equipment, permitting two-way contact with both civilian and military traffic.

Air Force crash equipment will be stationed permanently at the field, with firefighters probably returning to Big Spring each night.

An Air Force ambulance and medical personnel also will be on hand during all USAF operations.

The training aircraft will be flown to Midland each morning and returned to Big Spring in the evening. Present plans do not call for any aircraft maintenance at Midland.

Use of the Airpark has been undertaken as an interim measure, pending construction of an auxiliary landing strip in Martin County.

LUTON'S AUTO SPLITS TICKET

It isn't that Oscar M. Luton, who lives at 1901 North Main Street and drives an automobile with both Eisenhower and Stevenson stickers on it, can't make up his mind.

He's just trying to keep peace in the family.

Luton, a staunch Eisenhower man, this week stuck a "Vote Ike," sticker on the driver's side of his automobile windshield.

Mrs. Luton, an ardent Stevenson booster, countered with a Democratic sticker on her side of the windshield.

And, while the Lutons probably won't change the course of the election, they're both happy.

Tax Officers Eye Traffic Tag Lists

The tax collectors began casting an interested eye Friday on the more than 2,000 motorists with out-of-county license plates who have delinquent traffic tickets.

County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed said he would examine the lists to determine if those who actually live in Midland have rendered their automobiles for Midland County taxes.

And W. I. Pratt, tax assessor-collector for the City of Midland and the Midland Independent School District, said he would do likewise.

The list was furnished Corporation Court attaches Thursday by the state and contained the names and addresses of persons holding license plates of automobiles against which traffic tickets are outstanding.

Court Clerk Fergus Blackweider immediately began issuing warrants against the owners and Warrant Officer Jimmie Hoover began serving them.

Six Warrants Served

Hoover reported six warrants were served Thursday afternoon and that $205 in fines and court costs had been collected.

One of the motorists declined to pay but promised to appear Monday before Judge Edwin T. Stitt.

Others of the 2,000 warrants will be issued and served as rapidly as possible.

Meanwhile Speed pointed out that if the automobiles are owned by persons living in Midland they are subject to county taxes.

"They will be sent supplemental tax statements," he said, "and it will be up to them to show cause why they should not be taxed."

Speed also said these motorists could be forced to purchase license tags from his office, although this probably will not be done.

Adlai Hurls Bitter Accusations At Ike

ENROUTE WITH STEVENSON —(AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson's impassioned accusation that Dwight D. Eisenhower deliberately is condoning a "sly and ugly campaign" against him opened a bitter new phase Friday in the stretch drive for the presidency.

It looked like a savage and bare-knuckled fight was the inevitable ending for this hard-fought battle.

The Democratic candidate ripped into Eisenhower Thursday night in Cleveland with a speech in which he defended the character testimony he gave for Alger Hiss, convicted of perjury after denying he gave State Department secrets to a Russian spy ring.

And Stevenson attacked his GOP opponent and John Foster Dulles—Republican foreign affairs adviser—as being even more vulnerable to criticism than he in the Hiss case.

It was known that Stevenson and his advisers regarded the speech as one of the most vital of the entire campaign—and one which possibly could make or break Stevenson on the issue of communism.

In his combination of defense and attack, Stevenson voiced his conviction he expects to be the target for a smear campaign in the next few days—and that he considers Eisenhower responsible.

He did not use the word "smear" in his address but he left no doubt of his meaning when he spoke to a wildly cheering crowd in the Cleveland Arena.

With this speech behind him—the most emotional in all his campaigning—Stevenson set out early Friday by train for a sweep through politically potent New York State with its big chunk of 45 electoral votes.

Midland Set For Nixon's Visit Monday

Arrangements were being completed here Friday for the appearance Monday night at Midland Air Terminal of Richard Nixon, Republican vice presidential nominee.

Republican leaders said between 5,000 and 10,000 persons from the Midland and Odessa area are expected to be on hand to hear a speech from Nixon in his quick, one-day trip across the state.

In Chartered Plane

Flying in a chartered DC-3, Nixon and his party are scheduled to land at Midland Air Terminal at 7:25 p.m. and depart 30 minutes later for El Paso.

Temporary stands will be erected on the ramp in front of the Terminal Administration Building, where Nixon will deliver his address.

He will be accompanied by his wife, Pat, and state Republican leaders.

Harry Miller, who is in charge of arrangements here, said Nixon will be introduced by Robert Stripling, Midland oil operator and former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Music will be furnished by the Midland High School Band, and police from Midland and Odessa will be on hand to assist in handling the expected large crowd.

Philippines Storm Death Toll Hits 443

MANILA (AP)—The storm-lashed Philippines counted at least 443 dead Friday and listed 209 more as missing in Tuesday's and Wednesday's ravaging typhoon.

The casualty toll may soar higher yet when isolated villages report their losses.

Communications throughout the devastated area are lost in the debris of broken telephone poles, tangled wires and smashed radio stations.

The wild winds sowed their greatest destruction in Southern Luzon.

12 Cars Of Federal Hay Arrive In Area

A total of 12 carloads of federal drouth relief hay has been received for emergency relief of Midland and Andrews County cattle, it was announced Friday by Charles Champion, secretary for the Production Marketing Association.

Champion said this is only a small portion of the number of carloads of hay that have been ordered by ranchers of Midland and Andrews Counties.

Absentee Balloting Shatters All Records

Workers in the Midland County clerk's office are being kept hopping in efforts to stay abreast of the unprecedented demand for absentee ballots for the November 4 general election.

County Clerk Rosenele Cherry reported Friday the absentee vote count had reached 759, shattering all previous records. This count includes 193 ballots cast in the office and 566 sent out in the mails.

Mrs. Cherry said the requests for ballots by mail still are coming in "by the droves."

With absentee voting to continue until midnight Friday, October 31, the count probably will reach 1,200 if the present per-day average prevails.

Only 275 absentee votes were cast in the 1948 general election.

Two Divisions Exceed Chest Drive Quotas

Two divisions of the Community Chest have exceeded their quotas in the fund drive, but the total campaign still is $8,297.42 short of its goal, it was announced Friday by Don Oliver, one of the Red Feather directors.

The two divisions going over the top are the Employe, which reported gifts of $13,629.81—$629 over its quota, and the General, with $7,826.79—$1,600 over the prescribed amount.

Total gifts for the entire campaign through Thursday amounted to $59,952.58. The quota for 1952 is $68,250.

Gifts reported Thursday by the three other divisions participating in the drive were: Advance—$22,440, representing 80 per cent of its quota; Special—$11,745, or 79 per cent of its quota; and Commercial—$4,308.81, representing 50 per cent of its quota.

Campaign Extended

It was announced at Thursday's report meeting that the drive, which previously had been planned to end that day, would be extended until October 31. An emergency report meeting has been slated for noon Wednesday at the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Oliver urged all volunteer workers to intensify their efforts in order to bring the Chest campaign over-the-top for 1952. More than 80 per cent of the cards distributed to workers have not been turned in, Oliver said.

Mild, Bright, Dry Weekend Is Forecast

Friday was clear and bright across Texas and the Weather Bureau said temperatures were mild.

No rain had fallen in days.

Gently rising temperatures boded well for picnics, barbecues, political rallies, football games and other outdoor activities.

Kidnapers Leave Victim No. 19 Tied Inside Auto

SPARTA, TENN.—(AP)—A car stolen Wednesday by a wild gang of kidnap bandits was abandoned Friday with an unidentified captive bound in its trunk, the State Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the bandits exchanged the car for a pickup truck at Spencer, 20 miles south of here, about 8:30 a.m.

Patrolmen quoted the released hostage, whose name was not available immediately, as saying another prisoner named Herschel Myers still was with the three bandits when they left him.

The two additional victims bring to 20 the number kidnaped by the gang in a three-day spree along Florida-to-Tennessee highways.

Officers finished piecing together the main events of the crime spree Thursday night when three Nashville boys told FBI agents they brought the bandits from Miami to Jasper, Tenn., in their own car.

"The Wild Man"

The boys said they were forced to take part in kidnaping, robbing and tying up four persons near Valdosta, Ga., but state patrol officials said no charges would be filed against them. Their names were added to the list of victims.

Rogers Smith, 17, Lamont Vaden, 18, and William Burrow, 18, said they had gone to Florida with a fourth Nashville boy. On their return trip, they willingly brought along two men who later "turned out to be tough guys."

The bandit leader, whom they called "Jimmy, the wild man," told them he would follow them and kill them if they told police. They pondered the threat 24 hours before going to the FBI.

Meanwhile the bandits crowded themselves, their luggage and their six captives into the newly stolen car and began the most fantastic part of their kidnap-robbery spree.

A young Maine couple managed to escape at a traffic light here and set off an intensive ground-air search.

The car and their luggage later were found abandoned, but the bandits stole two other cars and kidnaped five more persons.

Eisenhower Charges Bigotry, Rabble-Rousing To Get Votes

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL —(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower moved his campaign into Michigan Friday after a slashing attack Thursday night in Buffalo, N. Y., charging the Truman Administration with Tom Pendergast-type bossism.

Before his 18-car special train left Upstate New York for the Midwest, the Republican presidential nominee accused the Administration of bigotry of the kind once raised against Democrat Alfred E. Smith.

Eisenhower was greeted in Buffalo Memorial Auditorium by howling cheers from an audience estimated by Edward P. Harnett Jr., auditorium director, at 15,000 persons, including 3,000 standees.

"The crowd in the auditorium thundered its welcome for three and one-half minutes after Eisenhower, smiling, stepped to the rostrum. The crowd quieted only when he raised his hands in a plea for silence.

But it broke out frequently with cheers and the ringing of cowbells during his address, and at the end. Eisenhower declared the opposition was tearing the nation's moral unity apart with "rabble rousing" tactics in a desperate attempt to keep control of the White House.

The general aimed his fire principally at President Truman's Administration, but also rapped Stevenson in a newly stepped-up campaign against the Democratic nominee.

"The candidate of the Administration party," Eisenhower said,

Los Nietos Test In NW Lea Pool Flows Oil On DST

Los Nietos Oil Company No. 1 State-Gross, project in the west edge of the East Caprock (multiphase) area of Northwest Lea County, N. M., flowed oil heavily on a drillstem test taken in the top of the Devonian.

With tool open three hours and 50 minutes, gas surfaced in 20 minutes, and bit in 25 minutes. It was cleaned to bits 25 minutes and then turned to tanks where it flowed 87 barrels of 43.2-gravity oil hourly for three hours. Operator reversed out recovery and found no formation water.

Operator was preparing to run casing for completion.

The Devonian was topped at 11-238 feet, elevation 4,407 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and 600 feet from west lines of section 11-125-32.

McAlester Spots Ellenburger Test In N-C King Area

McAlester Fuel Company will drill a 5,750-foot Ellenburger wildcat in North-Central-King County.

It will be drilled as No. 1 McGee.

Mr. Workingsman, work and be loyal in the Democratic Party. Let's go forward with Stevenson. Fol. ad. paid for by John K. Ford.

Ashmun & Hilliard Will Drill Wildcat In SE Ward Sector

Ashmun & Hilliard of Midland spotted location in Southeast Ward County for a 9,200-foot Ellenburger wildcat.

It will be drilled as No. 1 Wristen, 600 feet from southeast and southwest lines of section 20, block 5, H&TC survey and three miles northwest of Grandfalls.

It is on a farmout from Gulf Oil Corporation.

Operations are to start in the immediate future.

Norwood Drilling Company has the rotary contract.

Wilshire Plugs Back To Test Upper Shows In NW Upton Wildcat

The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc., No. 1-12 Mrs. W. R. Timmins, Northwest Upton County wildcat which failed to find commercial production in the Ellenburger in drilling to a total depth of 13,866 feet has plugged back and will test shows in higher formations.

This prospector is one and one-quarter miles southwest of the nearest production in the multiphase Pegasus field.

Had Slight Shows

It topped the Ellenburger at 13,175 feet, which is on a datum of minus 10,310 feet. That formation had some slight shows of oil and gas, but not enough to make a commercial producer.

The section at 13,514-536 feet developed a little gas and a little salt water.

The project now has plugged back to 12,810 feet in the lower Pennsylvanian. It is to set and cement 5 1/2-inch casing at that point.

To Perforate And Test

Sections in the Pennsylvanian and in the Wolfcamp-Permian which had some shows of oil and gas, will be tested through perforations in the casing.

Location is 600 feet from north and west lines of section 12, block 41, T-3-S, T&P survey.

Four Midlanders Are Named New Directors Independent Group

Four Midlanders are among the 55 new directors of the Independent Petroleum Association of America who were named Thursday at the annual meeting of that organization in Oklahoma City.

The new directors from Midland are Murray Fackler, H. T. (Toby) Hilliard, Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., and Paul F. Osborne.

Alden S. Donnelly of Midland was made a member of the IPAA executive committee. Paul F. Barnhart of Houston, who has extensive oil operations in West Texas was also named to that group.

Other Officials Named

J. W. Bates, Mack O. Boring and Ernest M. Schurr, all of Odessa were also named new directors of the association.

W. D. Noel of Odessa was elected vice president for West Texas, a position formerly held by Donnelly of Midland.

Charlton H. Lyons of Shreveport, La., was elected to serve a second term as president of the national organization of independent oil men.

Texas Cities Lean To Ike; Adlai Favored In Country

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff Editor

Dwight Eisenhower has supporters throughout Texas but his greatest strength is in the cities.

Adlai Stevenson is strongest in the rural areas and appears to be gaining ground there.

Those general conclusions are based on The Associated Press mid-October survey of Texas' political thinking.

Of the seven Texas cities with 100,000 or more population, four were reported in the Republican column. Two were listed as apparently going Democratic, the seventh as "doubtful"—split about 50-50.

In the rural counties, there is often a sharp division between the courthouse square people and the farmers in the country.

"All we hear on the square here and at the courthouse is pro-Eisenhower," said one West Central Texas county seat weekly newspaper editor. But he listed his county as a toss-up with Stevenson and Eisenhower forces split about 50-50.

Farm Aids Considered

In deep East Texas, another county seat editor reported, "The rural area will swing the percentage for Adlai here. The town will go for Ike." He attributed farmer support for Stevenson to "farm aids, handouts."

What can happen when a voter survey is extended to take in farmers was made clear in one of the state's big metropolitan centers.

In this big city, reporters telephoned almost 200 qualified voters. The result: Eisenhower 56 per cent, Stevenson 33 per cent, undecided 15 per cent.

In the same big city, another newspaper assigned reporters to a representative telephone survey of city voters. The result, among those willing to talk: 60 per cent for Eisenhower, 40 per cent for Stevenson.

Polls Are Close

"About a fifth of the voters are undecided," this report added. "Indications are most of the undecided voters are leaning to Stevenson."

In another of Texas' largest cities, independent telephone surveys by two newspapers came within two percentage points of giving the same apparent victory margin to Eisenhower. One said 55 per cent, the other 53 per cent. This caution note was added to the second report: "Many voters decline to commit themselves."

The reasons for the shift to GOP in this city were summed up as "Tide lands, Trumanism, defection of state Democratic leaders, his (Eisenhower's) great popularity here."

In rural areas, where the survey indicated Stevenson ahead, the explanations for voters' stands were more personal.

Farm Prosperity Cited

"The East Texas rural vote this year is going almost solidly Democratic, and why not?" reported a deep East Texas editor. "Farmers in this area are prosperous for the first time in history and they aren't going to take any chances of killing the goose by helping to vote in a Republican administration (they always cause depressions, you know)."

More restrained—but still based on the idea that the Democrats will help the farmer more than the Republicans would—were some reports from West Texas rural counties.

"I like Ike" is a very popular expression here," said a Panhandle editor, "but I firmly believe the rural population of this county considers the Demos their best friends and will vote accordingly." He put his county down as 90 per cent for Stevenson, 40 per cent for Eisenhower.

One Poll Discounted

In North Central Texas, a daily newspaper editor put his county in the Stevenson column by a 10 per cent margin after discounting a straw vote which went for Eisenhower. Farmers apparently did not join in the straw vote, he explained, and they "still suspect the GOP would eliminate many rural benefits and price supports."

Not all cities lean toward Eisenhower and Stevenson doesn't have all the rural counties tied up.

The Panhandle—a preponderantly rural area—appears to favor the GOP candidate. Fourteen of the 28 counties in the 18th Congressional District were put in the GOP column, five were marked down as Democratic, two as split. No surveys were made in four counties.

Eisenhower also was put ahead in the border counties along the Upper Rio Grande. And the GOP was counted on to hold its control in the few Hill Country counties in South Texas which Dewey carried in 1948.

In Northeast and East Texas, most cities below the metropolitan class were counted in the Democratic column. This was true, also, of similar cities in Central Texas.

Lana Turner, Ava Gardner Lose No Love In MGM Tiff

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Exclusively Yours: Lana Turner and Ava Gardner may be palmy-walk, as they claim, but one of them—I'm not saying which one—beefed to MGM about a printed report that the other might star in a flicker she had staked out for herself. No love lost professionally.

Incidentally, now that Lana and Fernando Lamas are holding grudges instead of hands, Lex Barker will be calling Lana for dates.

Deanna Durbin's announced return to Hollywood and movie making is turning out to be a case for a private eye. After advising Producer Joe Pasternak she was movie-town-bound, she received a cable from her in Paris saying she was canceling the trip. Since then it's a complete blackout.

An explosion in an abandoned mine field on the border of Lebanon in Galilee for Stanley Kramer's "The Jugger" was filmed under the "supervision" of military headquarters in Tel Aviv. Reason: Trigger-happy Israelis and Arab soldiers patrolling the border on an uneasy armistice.

Two For Price Of One?

Lester Lanin overheard an actor telling another:

"I asked her father for permission to marry her and he wanted to know if I could support him in the same style she did."

Dan Dailey, despite printed reports, says there will be no reconciling with his estranged wife, Lis. Fox Producer Mike Abel is paying TV's Jackie Gleason for "The W. C. Fields Story."

Alan Ladd's 19-year-old daughter, Carol Lee, nixed an acting role with him in "The Red Beret," now filming in England. She's career minded as a film editor, not as an actress.

Larry Parks and Betty Garrett are spurning further nitery stints after their click engagement at El Rancho Vegas in Las Vegas to concentrate on fresh rehearsals for their play "Anonymous Lover." They'll tour in the four-character comedy for a year.

The Ritz Brothers, unless a hitch develops, will face the camera in London during the Summer of '53 as the stars of "Hamlet and Three Eggs"—a Nasour Brothers project backed by British capital.

For "Adults Only"

The Hollywood Production Code, under which American movies are censored voluntarily, has outlined its usefulness.

Producer David O. Selznick thinks so and I agree with him to a point. It's Selznick's theory that "if a producer goes overboard on the question of morals, there are always postal regulations and police interference he must cope with."

That's fine as far as adults are concerned. But many things detrimental to juvenile minds still would

WHY YOU GO BALD EXPLAINED BY SPECIALIST HERE SUNDAY

One of the most common causes of hair loss, the blocked follicle, is explained to a balding man by trichologist S. J. Mueller. Mueller's organization, largest of its kind in the South, is sending a specialist here to advise men how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

Where you're growing fuzz you can usually grow real hair, trichologist says...

HOUSTON, Texas, Oct. 24—New home treatment methods for growing thicker hair—and preventing baldness will be demonstrated in Midland, this Sunday, October 26.

Trichologist A. V. Wilcox, from the staff of Mueller Hair Experts will be in charge. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday at the Hotel Scharbauer.

Examine You Free

In making the announcement at the home office of Mueller Hair Experts, director S. J. Mueller said: "I want to make clear that you incur no charge or obligation by seeing Mr. Wilcox."

"Your only obligation is to yourself—to ease your mind of worries about hair loss, dandruff, itching, or other scalp disorders, by learning how to take care of your hair. If your case is beyond the scope of Mueller home treatment, Mr. Wilcox will tell you so. But less than five per cent of the people we examine are 'hopeless.'"

Offers No Cure-All

His method of home treatment, Mueller said, should not be confused with "mail order courses."

"We always make a personal examination before suggesting treatment," he said. "There is no cure-all for every scalp disorder. Each of the 18 disorders that cause most baldness require a special treatment."

Mueller said that sometimes your treatment must be changed after a few weeks to get best results. "For this reason, you must regular reports of your hair progress to the nearest Mueller office."

"Also, your scalp condition is checked personally by a Mueller trichologist at regular intervals."

Satisfy 90%

Does Mueller grow hair? Best evidence that he does is that his organization expanded quickly from one office in Houston to 12 offices from coast to coast, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Miami, Fort Worth, Cincinnati, Tulsa, Oklahoma City, Dallas, San Antonio, Oakland, San Francisco. And in addition to these permanent offices, Mueller staff trichologists regularly do extension work in many other cities.

"Our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim to do," declares Mueller. "We satisfy more than 90 per cent of our clients."

"But overcoming the average man's initial skepticism is really

Life story of FANNY BRICE

At 10 she sang on street corners and bar tops. By 17 she was a burlesque hit and on her way to Ziegfeld stardom. But though she won fame and fortune in the theater and as "Baby Snooks," she lived the heartbreak of her throbbing song, "My Man." For Fanny never found happiness... nor a man of her own! ## CYF To Play 'Trick Or Treat' For Benefit Of Children's Fund

Carol Ann Loop, 308 West Parker Street, has been elected captain of a Halloween fund-raising drive for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. The drive which will be held Tuesday is under the sponsorship of the Christian Youth Fellowship of the First Christian Church.

"We're going to have a Halloween of tricks or treats for all the world's children," Miss Loop explained. "Instead of just running around soaping up windows and making a mess. We know there are a lot of people in town who would want to help UNICEF, and this will be the time they can prove it."

She pointed out that UNICEF is the part of the United Nations that is concerned with the world's children. It sends supplies all over the world to help fight diseases like malaria and tuberculosis, to provide food for mothers and children, and to improve child care services in economically underdeveloped countries. The Children's Fund is now operating in more than 70 countries in Asia, Latin America, Europe, Africa and the Eastern Mediterranean, she said.

"But this work depends entirely on voluntary contributions from people and their governments," Miss Loop explained. "We here in Midland can make a direct contribution to the work of the United Nations by giving all we can to UNICEF Tuesday. If Midland contributes just $100, UNICEF can provide milk for 1,500 hungry kids for a week."

Approximately 30 teen-agers have been enrolled to help with the drive.

Art Exhibit Closes Friday

Friday will be the closing day for the exhibit of paintings by Ben Turner in the Palette Club, it was announced by club officials.

It previously had been announced that the exhibit would be held over for the weekend, however, Bill Turner, who was here with his brother's exhibit, has been called out of town.

The exhibit, which opened the Fall exhibit season for the Palette Club, has been sponsored by the Art Group of the American Association of University Women. The exhibit will be open until 9 p.m. Friday.

DUO PIANISTS—Mrs. L. R. Billingsley, left, and Mrs. Louis Kluck, both of Odessa, will play duo-piano numbers during the fine arts program Friday night that will open the district music federation convention. The fine arts program will be open to the public.

Mrs. Ray Hurst, Mrs. M. A. Knox Are Hostesses

Mrs. Ray Hurst and Mrs. M. A. Knox were hostesses to the American Association of University Women Bridge Group when it met Thursday in the Ranch House. Table decorations featured a Halloween motif. Guests were Mrs. D. W. St. Clair, Mrs. Richard Story, Mrs. B. W. David, Mrs. W. A. Oswald, Mrs. Coe S. Mills, Mrs. J. L. West, Jr., Mrs. J. J. Travis, Mrs. O. F. Sebesta, Mrs. R. B. Cornell and Mrs. R. O. Burkett.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Richard Sullivan, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. J. Alfred Tom, Mrs. Sebesta and Mrs. Donald S. Johnson.

Attending, in addition to those already named, were Mrs. George T. Brown, Mrs. Mann Rankin, Mrs. Rose Moore, Mrs. Fred Rumsey, Mrs. R. M. Minton, Jr., Mrs. George L. Laird, Mrs. W. J. Sprecher, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. W. O. Keiler, Mrs. W. D. McEachin, Mrs. W. O. Smith, Mrs. Tom, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. S. M. Sisley, Mrs. William H. Carter and Mrs. W. B. Ahders.

Family Night Will Include Listening Party

A listening party to hear the broadcast of the Midland-Pampa football game will be a feature of the Family Fun Night scheduled from 6:30 until 9:30 p.m. in the San Jacinto Junior High School. Room 204 of the school has been designated as the radio room for guests who wish to hear the radio broadcast. It was announced Friday morning.

A talent show, set for 8 p.m., will be the feature of the evening, although games and other activities also will be available.

David Jameson will be the master of ceremonies for the show. Mrs. Dana Roper is chairman of the talent show and Jameson is co-chairman.

District Music Club Convention To Open Friday In Midland

Representatives from Odessa, Big Spring, Stanton, Monahans and Wink will be in Midland Friday night and Saturday for the convention of the Ninth District, Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

Opening sessions will be a dinner meeting of the board of directors at 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Cactus, formerly Millers, and a fine arts program at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

The fine arts program, which is open to the public, will be held in the auditorium of the North Elementary School. Assisting with the program will be the Rossonian Choirsters of Sul Ross State College, Alpine, and musicians from the various music clubs comprising the Ninth District.

Coffee Sated
Saturday's sessions will open with a coffee and registration at 9 a.m. and a meeting of local club presidents at 9:15 a.m., both in the North Elementary auditorium, where general sessions of the convention are to be held at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. There will be a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. in the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Guest speakers for the morning session will be Mrs. Glen Darst of Fort Worth, first vice president of TFMC, and Mrs. R. P. Morrison of Odessa, the third vice president.

A welcome will be given by Midland's Mayor Perry Pickett, with a response by Mrs. George Gannaway. Mrs. Benton Howell, president of the Midland Music Club, formally will open the convention, and Malcolm Gibson, also a member of the host club, will lead assembly singing. Invocation is to be given by the Rev. Clyde Lindsay, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Luncheon Planned
Special musical numbers will include the "Federation Collect" by Mrs. W. H. Waddell, Mrs. M. B. Bean and Mrs. La Marr Chapman of Odessa and two vocal selections by Mrs. Leonard Shipman of Big Spring, accompanied by Mrs. Omar Pittman, also of Big Spring. Luncheon speaker is to be Mrs. Few Brewster of Austin, past president of TFMC. Vocal selections will be given by Lillian Christopher, Midland.

Pie Supper Held By Ruth Class

A pie supper for members of the First Baptist Ruth Class and their husbands was held Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Sam Wood, 1807 West Wall Street.

Games of 42 and pit furnished entertainment for the evening. Guests were the Rev. and Mrs. J. Q. Woodard and Mrs. Jack Briscoe.

Members and their husbands attending included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moseley, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Cox, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murray.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pace, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Kate Wurtz, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Nobles, Jr., and Mrs. L. W. Tanner, Mrs. C. M. Dunagan, class teacher, and the hostess.

Delphians Plan Charter Tea

Plans for a charter-signing tea were discussed when the Daleth Delphian Chapter met Wednesday in the First Methodist Church.

The tea is to be held in November. Exact date for the event and for the chapter's next seminar will be announced later, officers said.

Mrs. John S. Braun was leader for the meeting.

HAVE GUEST FROM OKLAHOMA

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Lampton of Seminole, Okla., are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Richardson, 3205 North Big Spring Street. The Lamptons are Mrs. Richardson's parents.

'Change of Life Made Me Scream at My Husband'

writes Mrs. M. Unshelker of St. Vernon, N. Y.
"Now I don't suffer from 'hot flashes' and nervousness—feel fine," she adds. "If you, too, are suffering from the irritable, restless feelings and hot flashes of change of life—listen! In tests by doctors Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets gave relief of such functionally-caused distress in 63% and 80% (respectively) of the cases! Complete or striking relief!"

Yes! Research has proved these medicines thoroughly modern in the relief they give from those nervous, "out of sorts" feelings of mid-life "change."

A Solution To Red Insults

The now familiar problem of how to deal with Russian attacks upon unarmed American aircraft has returned to plague us.

Obviously, our greatest effort should be bent toward seeing that the Soviet Union simply doesn't get the opportunity to create such "incidents."

That means taking triple precautions to steer clear of Soviet-controlled territory wherever that is possible.

Some may suggest that this direct approach could lead to war. It would be foolish to deny that two-way shooting always is risky business.

For, as has been pointed out often, the Reds fight when they want to fight.

Once the damage has been done and a U. S. plane has been trapped in a defenseless attitude, the courses left open to us are not promising.

We may protest through diplomatic channels. We may demand indemnity for loss of life and property.

A good many Americans like to think we could do more in such circumstances, but we really cannot.

It's much the same with the bully and the murderer. Unless you are ready to play the game his way—and with nations that spells war—you can only try to stay out of his way or offer limited defense.

Not much comfort in this for the upright nations. Nor will there be until they have such strength that the outlaws in the Kremlin no longer dare to conduct their marauding enterprises against free men.

Broke? Don't Worry!

Sufferers from the high cost of living who can't find even a glimmer in the silver lining department should take heart from a recent price note.

If they ever go broke enough to need one, they can be certain the supply of burlap for sack-making is plentiful.

"Peak output assures a steady supply for American users," it's reported, "and burlap prices are at their lowest point in six years."

Now what about barrels?

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Justice Frankfurter supplied like with busy-body banker; GOP puts squeeze on auto dealers; Private Taft memo explains loss of nomination.

WASHINGTON — Some Republicans have blamed Senator Cabot Lodge for putting Robert Cutler, the bodyguard Boston banker, aboard General Eisenhower's train.

However, Senator Lodge is in no way to blame. The man who put Cutler on the Eisenhower train, believe it or not, is none other than Justice Felix Frankfurter of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Only a few people know it, but Frankfurter, who is considered a product of the new deal, and who was elevated by FDR to the highest court in the land, has been flirting with the Republicans. In fact, he's been more than flirting.

Never happy unless he has his finger in politics—despite his position on the Supreme Court—he has been an expert in putting his men in key positions in government.

At the other table, Johnny Crawford held the West cards for America. After he had taken his queen and jack of clubs, Crawford likewise saw that the only hope was to attack spades. His reasoning, however, went deeper.

South had bid diamonds, had shown up with four clubs, and had attacked hearts. It seemed very likely that South had a four-card heart suit, and only a singleton spade. Because it was possible that South's singleton spade might be the queen (as it actually was), Crawford led the king of spades instead of a low spade.

This imaginative lead caused the hand to fall apart. South could take eight tricks if he wished to do so, by taking three diamonds and the ten of clubs before leading another heart. He would thus take one spade, two hearts, three diamonds, and two clubs.

The only chance to make the contract was to lead the ace of hearts first, in the hope that the queen would drop. When this chance failed, declarer was set two tricks for a loss of 300 points.

Crawford's fine defense therefore produced a swing of 800 points in favor of the United States team.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

Those who are rooting for the American team to win next week when the world championship will be held in New York, are depending on fine defensive play to bring a third world championship to America.

In today's hand, taken from last year's match, the fate of an important hand rested on the defensive play put up by the West hand. At both tables the bidding was the same, and the West player opened the deuce of clubs. East put up the king, and South won with the ace.

At both tables South next led the jack of hearts and finessed it around to East's king. East returned his remaining club, and West took both the queen and the jack. It was now up to West to find the best continuation.

In the first room, the European West saw clearly that the only hope was to attack spades. He therefore led a low spade.

The American declarer let this spade ride around to his queen. He then took another heart finesse, discarded a diamond on the ace of spades, and took the rest of the tricks with hearts, the rest of the diamonds, and the ten of clubs. Altogether, he won 10 tricks for a score of 800 points.

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: West North East South 3 Hearts Double Pass 7 You, South, hold: Spades Q-7-3-2, Heart A, Diamonds K-J-4-3, Clubs K-J-5-3. What do you do? A—Bid four hearts. This cannot indicate a real heart suit, since if you had long hearts you would be happy to pass the double for penalties. Instead this unusual bid shows support for all suits, thus asking North to make his own choice. In addition, it indicates great strength and hints at a slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 7-3-2, Hearts J-10-8-3, Diamonds K-4-2, Clubs Q-5-3. What do you do? Answer Sunday

PETER EDSON'S Washington News Notebook

Air Force Brass Doesn't Agree 'Operation Strangle' Is A Fizzle

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., commander of the Marine Corps, made his now famous remark about the U. S. Air Force "Operation Strangle" being a fizzle in Korea, he added that, of course, he didn't want to start an argument.

Reporters attending this press conference let out a loud laugh, for it was perfectly obvious that the statement would bring a quick bellow of rage from the Air Force. It did, next day, from no less a person than Air Force Secretary Tom Finletter.

General Shepherd originally had made most of the qualifications which the Air Force came up with. It is, of course, almost impossible to shut off all supplies to an enemy by aerial bombing and strafing. It's impossible to stop all truck movements at night.

The classic proof of this was in Italy during World War II. Germany had 25 divisions in Northern Italy. All their supplies were coming through the Brenner Pass. This pass "was bombed almost around the clock. Yet enough supplies got through to keep the Germans going and to keep them fighting.

Workers' Pockets Hungry Average hourly earnings of U. S. factory workers have kept just a little ahead of advances in the cost of living since the Korean war broke out, according to Bureau of Labor Statistics. Calculated on reports from industries with 13,000,000 employes, the average hourly income, including overtime and other premiums, was $1.66 on August 15. On June 15, 1950, it was $1.45 an hour. This is a 14 per cent gain. In the same period, BLS consumers' price index has risen from 170 to 191, a 12 per cent gain. The catch on the hourly earnings figure is that it is an average and not really representative. Wage increases in the apparel industry have been only about seven per cent. In the defense industries they have been almost 17 per cent.

REA Phone Program The rural telephone loan program of the Rural Electrification Administration has proved so popular that REA may be out of money to lend shortly after the first of the year. The original allocation by Congress was for $25,000,000 plus a $10,000,000 contingency fund. Twelve million dollars of this already has been advanced on approved loans with a face value of $94,000,000. Applications still are coming in faster than they can be processed, with almost 600 now on file. The first 190 loans approved were to bring service to 136,000 families previously without phones, plus improved service to 115,000 families with inadequate service.

The first loan repayment to fall due was made on time, two years after the loan was granted to the Wilderness Telephone Company, of Chancellorsville, Va. U. S. Chamber of Commerce is opposing the rural phone program as unfair competition to private enterprise. Some Duplicity Here Most popular stories in German magazines these days are flattering accounts of the private lives of ex-Nazi leaders. The latest series of this kind to find wide reader appeal in Germany is a picture magazine article about former Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and his wife Emma.

Murder she yelled

By Joseph Shellie

THE STORY: Dan Morrison, athletic director at High Hill, doesn't like keeping a murder at the summer resort a secret from the guests and after the recent murder of Al Kemmer, moves the corpse of an unidentified man who had been killed in a summer visitors' camp to a guest house. Dan investigates, preparatory to hiding the body, until he should step on his own side of the lake. High Hill side in pursuit of his dog.

AL KEMMER was sitting behind his desk, leaning back in his swivel chair, cradling his volleyball of a belly, both hands and contentedly chewing gum.

"We're going to call the cops right now," said Al, futtering a hand at me.

I walked around him to the window and picked the phone off the sill.

"Put it down—it's all taken care of," Al said comfortably. "I sent Eddie down to Stroudsburg to make the call from a public phone. You think I want them to trace the call to us? Now sit down and concentrate on your stomach muscles. Think of something limp—a wet dishrag."

"I'm thinking of your brain—I'm limp all over."

I went to the closet where I kept a utility wardrobe for the quick changes an athletic director has to make. Al kindly got out of his chair and pulled down the window shades while I slipped out of my clothes. I put on my fluorescent orange swim trunks. The color was so that people could spot me fast in case of emergency. More important, it gave the guests something to make jokes about.

"Never mind, Al told me all about it."

It was a dirty trick. Al had crawled off the spot and stuck me on it. "Maybe you didn't get the story straight," I said. "Al asked me how we could pep up the season, and I—"

"You told him we needed new talent."

The pictures show him with his net, collecting butterflies, and giving candy to children, like a nice guy.

A report on this new trend in German journalism has just been made to the State Department by Wilson Hicks and Will Connell, two U. S. picture magazine editors who were sent abroad to survey West German publications.

To keep American officials in Germany happy, the German editors describe the former Nazi officials as bad men in the text, but the pictures always portray them as gentle, kindly people.

There isn't anything American or other Allied officials could do about censoring these German publications even if they wanted to.

Keep Bays Guessing Army has no plan for activating another division at this time, though it has authority to call up one more division than the 20 now in service. The trouble is that Congress didn't appropriate the money for that twenty-first division. When, as and if it is activated, it probably will be another National Guard unit. But Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins won't say which one it will be.

Hard To Figure Out Trying to figure out and accommodate the French government psychology is one of the more trying problems that American diplomats and military officials have to handle.

Take the case of the Tunisian and Moroccan question before the United Nations. The Arab countries wanted this matter discussed. The French said it was an internal question of theirs and nobody else's business.

Americans tried to counsel the French that they couldn't take that attitude. It was admitted the French had nothing to hide. The thing to do was to let the issue come up for discussion.

Assurances could be given that the American delegates would back up the French, and the whole thing would be quieted down and forgotten after everybody had talked it over. But no, the French insisted they would oppose placing the issue on the UN agenda.

On the other hand, the French were more than accommodating in the final showdown over the big dispute in American aid. It was admitted that the French government's official demand for guarantees of American military assistance largely were inspired by a desire to get as much aid as the British.

It was an act, in other words. And to prove this point, French officials invited the Americans to criticize the French government's military rearmament program—to find fault with them for not doing enough, so that they would be inspired to do a little more.

How can you figure people like that—or get mad at them? Real Efficiency Gen. Matthew Ridgway's inspection of recent North Atlantic Treaty Organization maneuvers in Western Europe turned up some good accounts on the use of American military equipment by foreign troops.

One of the best reports came from an observation of a parachute drop on a rainy afternoon by a battalion of French paratroopers with full equipment.

Within 15 minutes from the time the first of the 480 men had hit the ground, they had all cleared the drop zone and were in action—including one jeep that blew a tire which had to be repaired.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE

A college student wrote to his father: "I can't see why you call yourself a kind father when you haven't remitted me a check in three weeks. What kind of kindness do you call that?"

The father wrote back: "That's unremittent kindness."

When a man and woman are seated in a restaurant, a woman, unknown to the man, but acquainted with the woman, stops by their table for a moment.

WRONG: Since he doesn't know her, the man does not rise—but continues eating while the two women talk.

RIGHT: The man rises and remains standing until the woman either sits down with them or leaves their table.

There were 627,751 telephones in North Carolina in 1952.

There were about 20 guests in the water when I came down; about 20 more were scattered along the grassy bank.

KITTY LANE was lying there, not getting much attention despite the French bathing suit. "Hah!" she said. "Kid Muscles himself. Giving the girls a break."

"Aw, can I help it if I'm irresistible?" I whined.

Kitty's two-piece was black—it was a bib and a diaper, designed for a much smaller baby than Kitty. From what I'd heard, these French girls were out of style.

On the other hand, Kitty herself was out of style by a few years. She sat blues in the manner of Libby Holman. She wore false eyelashes to breakfast.

She also wore red, lace-trimmed garters. Everybody knew about the much-publicized garters. A gift from a Spanish seaman who had been in love with her before he had been lost at sea.

"Clever idea of yours—," she said in her deep contralto, "clever, getting your little girl friend in the show. That makes you a bigshot, doesn't it? I'll bet the little dear doesn't know how to thank her great, big—"

"Take it easy, Kitty. You've got the wrong guy."

"Never mind, Al told me all about it."

It was a dirty trick. Al had crawled off the spot and stuck me on it. "Maybe you didn't get the story straight," I said. "Al asked me how we could pep up the season, and I—"

"You told him we needed new talent."

"Nope, Al said—"

"Morrison, I didn't like you the first day you came here. I like you even less now, if that's possible. You're big-nosed and a rat." She was sitting up now, her dark eyes slitting me. "You're supposed to stick to your capoes and tennis rackets, and you're trying to run everything. You've worked on Al till he don't know which side his ears are pinned on. And you're a liar, besides."

Her chin was quivering. She scrambled up on her long white legs. "Why don't you do the world a favor and croak?"

While I was trying to work up an answer to that, Kitty stalked away, moving up the hill with dignity and a drooping despair.

I wasn't baffled by her behavior. She couldn't let herself think that Al had contacted Midge on his own hook. Kitty had been Al's entertainer for years, even back when he was operating taprooms.

Kitty had stayed with Al for many a hard year, and she was now bumping along into the very late thirties, and it wasn't soothing to have to start sharing the stage with some new female.

KITTY'S spot on the grass didn't have a chance to cool off. A girl bounced down to it, a huskier, rounder, jollier girl, a girl from the Frankford mill section of Philadelphia, with the disturbing name of Sally Ann Prushnick.

"What's eating that one?" Sally Ann said, waving a large hand at Kitty's disappearing back.

"Just tired of my company," I said.

"She must be nuts. Any woman who walks away from a man nowadays hasn't read the latest statistics."

"What's the latest statistics?" "For every unmarried woman there's only something like nine-tenths of a man available. Imagine that."

"I'm sure you'll get a whole man, Sally Ann. With your appeal..." (To Be Continued)

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1952-5

ACC Drama Group To Present 'Dear Ruth' Friday In Midland

ABILENE—"Dear Ruth," the first major production of the Abilene Christian College drama department, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday in the Midland High School auditorium.

Midland will be the third stop in the five-city tour of the play. The tour also includes Snyder, Breckenridge, Lubbock and Lamesa.

Far from traveling light, the group is taking along its own sets and lighting equipment. Designer of the modern interior set was Lewis Fulks, ACC speech instructor.

Cast in the title role of Ruth Wilkins is Winnie Creel, senior from Cullman, Ala. In the romantic lead opposite Ruth is Lt. Bill Seawright, played by Jim Wright, Hayward, Calif., freshman.

Other leading roles include Buzz Taylor of Hydro, Okla., as Albert Kummer; Dorothy Adams of Sulphur Springs, as Mrs. Wilkins; Darrell Brawley of Odessa, as Judge Harry Wilkins; and Annette Lee of Spur, as Miriam.

Minor roles will be filled by Ken Miller of San Antonio, Rita Jo Allen of Oklahoma City, Marion Taylor of Amarillo and James Jordan of Hamilton.

The comedy is the story of Lieutenant Seawright, a young Air Force officer who falls in love with Ruth by correspondence while he is stationed overseas. Complications begin when he arrives home on leave to find Ruth engaged to Albert Kummer, an unromantic, flatfooted civilian.

Although written in 1943 with a World War II background, the ACC troop brought it up to date by making Lieutenant Seawright a Korean veteran.

Gaylan Collier, assistant professor of speech, is the director. Chapin Ross of Sulphur Springs is stage manager and Tom Crouch of Texas is publicity director.

Scouts Continue Fall Activities

Cookouts, elections and an investiture service headed the list of activities at Monday and Wednesday meetings of six Girl Scout troops.

In observance of United Nations Day Thursday Brownie Troop 47 made posters featuring little dolls of foreign countries. Mrs. Ferguson's Girl Scout troop drew charcoal pictures. The group had a cookout Saturday at the home of its leader.

Brownie Troop 10 played charades and Brownie Troop 64 elected officers and wrote thank-you notes to The Reporter-Telegram which they had toured recently.

Intermediate Troop 28 made plans for its first cookout and Intermediate Troop 39 held an investiture service.

Business Women Have Circle Meet

Betty Dennison gave the devotional and presented the program Tuesday when the Calvary Baptist Business Women's Circle met in the church.

The topic was "Choosing the More Excellent Part." The opening prayer was led by Mrs. A. T. Bryant. Others present were Mrs. C. M. Tunnell, Eugenia Littrell, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. Glendinning and Lela DeLay. The next meeting will be held November 4.

Methodists Observe 'Quiet Day'

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church observed Quiet Day Wednesday, beginning with a program in the sanctuary and closing with a covered dish luncheon in the educational building.

Mrs. Luther Kirk, spiritual life secretary, was in charge. Speakers and their program topics were Mrs. Luther Tidwell, "The Purpose of a Quiet Day;" Mrs. B. F. Haag, "The Love of God;" Mrs. Ralph Smith, "God Calls Us Unto Glory," and Mrs. C. M. Chase, "African Home for Teachers."

Others participating and their parts on the program were Mrs. J. Holt Jowell, organ meditations; Mrs. R. F. Duffield, scripture; Mrs. M. L. DeMasters, a poem, "The Builder;" Mrs. Clarence Collins, a song, "Near to the Heart of God;" Mrs. D. L. Coleman, the devotional, and Mrs. J. H. Frazer, WSCS president, the closing prayer and the luncheon invocation.

Mrs. Virgil Galloway and Mrs. C. H. Shepard of the Mary Scharbauer Circle were in charge of serving the luncheon. The table was centered with an arrangement of marigolds. Approximately 25 members attended.

Garlic presses are news these days. Place the whole garlic clove in the press, squeeze the handle, and get a creamy paste that blends easily with other foods.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail Laughing Lettuce

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, had talked to the man who had given the magic beans to the boy named Jack in the story of Jack and the Beanstalk.

Mugwump. He gave Mugwump a handful of strange-looking seeds. The seeds were very small. They were each so small that you couldn't have seen them at all—except there was a whole handful.

"Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump, "what are they?" "Daddy Ringtail looked at the stuff in Mugwump's hand before he answered. "Why," said Daddy Ringtail, "this is a laughing seed."

Daddy Ringtail hurried down to the ground. Mugwump hurried down with him. They went in the shed by the chicken house, and out they came with a shovel. They began to dig a hole in the ground.

Pretty soon they had dug a hole which was deep enough to plant the laughing lettuce seeds, Daddy Ringtail said. Mugwump shook out the seed from his hand. Daddy Ringtail covered them with dirt. They poured water on the ground from a bucket. They sat down with their backs against a tree to wait.

By WESLEY DAVIS

They waited... Nothing happened... They waited some more. Still nothing happened. "Hah," said Mugwump. "Laughing lettuce seed. Hah!" Mugwump meant he thought the laughing lettuce seed would never grow into laughing lettuce, but—Look!

"Where?" asked Mugwump, looking around through the forest for a lion or a tiger or something. "No," said Daddy Ringtail. "Look at the laughing lettuce growing!" Mugwump looked at the ground where the laughing lettuce seed was planted, and there the ground was stirring and wriggling as though it were alive. Laughing lettuce was making it do it. The laughing lettuce was growing up and pushing up through the dirt. What pretty green stuff it was!

It had numbers on it, and it really looked like fresh, new paper money, crinkly crisp. "Hah!" said Mugwump. "I don't even feel like laughing, I don't."

And so the question is: Is laughing lettuce really laughing lettuce when it doesn't make you laugh? I'll tell you tomorrow. Happy day! (Copyright 1952, General Features Corp.)

 It will be drilled as No. 1-9-1 Percy Jones, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 9, John Rodman survey.
 Operations are to start at once.

Highway Cleared After Ammunition Trailer Explodes

TEXARKANA — (AP) — Officers planned to reopen Friday a stretch of highway 15 miles southwest of here, closed by a blast from a burning van-load of 105 millimeter ammunition.
 The explosion Thursday shook residents of the little town of Simms, Texas. The ammunition was enroute from Lone Star Ordnance Plant near here to Camp Stanley, San Antonio. It was ignited by fire caused by friction from a flat tire.
 Driver G. A. Heflin of Texarkana pulled to the side of U. S. Highway 67, fought the blaze unsuccessfully, then uncoupled the burning trailer. With the help of passing motorists, he halted traffic on both sides of the trailer.
 Texas Highway Patrolman W. O. Hanna said shells exploded for two hours.

STEPS IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION—Citizens of Claremont, N. H., are constantly reminded to register and vote by these huge footprints and slogans stenciled on pavements throughout the city. The giant-size reminders, which were applied by Claremont's Junior Chamber of Commerce, all lead to registration and polling headquarters. John Hibbard, above, vice president of the JC's, adds an admonishment of his own, to emphasize the unusual voting promotion.

Grammer Convicted Of Wife's Murder

BALTIMORE — (AP) — George Edward Grammer, convicted of murdering his wife because he "loved another woman," waited in the shadows of the Maryland state gallows Friday while his lawyer pondered a move for a new trial.
 The attorney, Anthony Federico, told newsmen he would "probably" appeal the first degree murder conviction, an action almost routine in Maryland.
 Judge Herman Moser, who under the law must order Grammer sent to prison for life or to death by a hangman's noose, withheld sentence until Federico makes his move.
 The ordeal of the eight-day trial was visibly etched in the lines of the expressionless face of the 35-year-old New Yorker Thursday when he heard the judge announce the verdict—"Murder in the first degree."
 Sitting as sole juror, Judge Moser found that Grammer murdered his 33-year-old wife, mother of three little girls, because he was "in love with another woman."
 Dorothy May Grammer's brutally bludgeoned body was found in her overturned car at the bottom of a Baltimore hill on the night of August 19.
 State's Attorney Anselm Sodaro charged that Grammer beat her to death with a length of metal pipe, then placed her body in the car and sent it careening down the hill so the death would look like an accident.
 Grammer worked for a metals and mining firm and was an agent of the U. S. Counter Intelligence Corps during World War II.

Texas Baptists Ask Prayer Day For Rain

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Texas Baptists have urged Governor Shivers to proclaim a "Lord's Day" for Christians to join "in earnest prayer that God will send rain."
 The Baptist request was made in a resolution Thursday at one of the closing sessions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas here.
 "Realizing the fact that most of Texas and much of the Southland is suffering from prolonged drouth, conscious that God sends the rain on the just and the unjust, firmly believing in the blessings and power of prayer, yet aware of our sins," the resolution said in part. It was submitted by the Rev. J. Ralph Grant of Lubbock.
Cotton
 NEW YORK — (AP) — Friday noon cotton prices were 55 cents a bale higher to five cents lower than the previous close. December 36.38, March 36.74 and May 36.86.

Susan Peters Dies, Losing Long Fight With Paralysis

VISALIA, CALIF. — (AP) — Actress Susan Peters, whose fight against paralysis brought a living story of courage to Hollywood, lost her battle Thursday night.
 The attractive 31-year-old star, whose spinal cord was damaged in a hunting accident seven years ago, died while visiting her brother here.
 In 1944 Susan was hailed as one of filmdom's most promising actresses, and her future looked bright. Then on New Year's Day, 1945, she went duck hunting with her husband. As she reached for her rifle, it accidentally discharged, sending a bullet through her stomach to lodge in her spine.
 After months of hospitalization, Susan went home—paralyzed from the waist down. The doctors told her she'd spend the rest of her life in a wheelchair.
 Two years later she came back to star in a movie once again—this time as the crippled girl in "Sign of the Cross." She acted from her wheelchair, just as she did in the "Miss Susan" series for television she completed in Philadelphia prior to coming here.
 Her death was attributed to complications arising from the 1945 accident. The brother, Robert Carnahan, said her only other survivor was an adopted son, Timothy, seven. Miss Peters and actor Richard Quine were divorced in 1948.
 The actress was born Suzanne Carnahan in Spokane, Wash.

Two Traffic Officers Accused Of Selling Data For Insurance

HOUSTON — (AP) — An accident investigator and patrolman were allowed to resign Thursday after being accused of trying to sell information about a 1950 traffic accident.
 Chief of Police L. D. Morrison said C. W. Cowan, 27, and C. M. Gilbert, 26, were caught in the act of selling information on the accident to an insurance investigator for $100 each.
 Cowan denied the charge. Gilbert refused to comment to reporters.
 "I have never given any information that hasn't been given in the past by other men," said Cowan.
 Morrison told reporters that Cowan approached Kenneth Tweed of the Gulf Adjustment Company about three weeks ago and offered him full information about a 1950 accident in which one man was killed and two were injured. Tweed informed Police Lt. Glen H. Shepherd.
 Morrison said he assigned Shepherd and two other officers to the case. Cowan and Gilbert were taken to police headquarters Thursday from Tweed's office where officers said the two were offered two $100 bills. Morrison said neither ever took the money.

Civil Engineers Plan Midland Unit

Members of the American Society of Civil Engineers will meet here Friday night to make plans for the organization of a Midland County section of the society.
 Henry Nunn, city sewer and water engineer, said the meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the Humble Building on West Missouri Street, and all members of the society are urged to attend.
 Mason Lockwood of Houston, state president, and I. W. Santry, Jr., of Dallas, will be here for the meeting.

John Reese, Shell Pipe Line Man, Dies

CHICAGO — (AP) — John Reese, 57, of Colorado City, Texas, died here Thursday following a heart seizure.

Overwhelming Red Swarms Fail To Scare Berlin Texans

By GRACE HALSELL
 Special Reporter-Telegram

BERLIN—It's not very often, but sometimes I hear the boys stationed here talking about what would happen if the Russians start marching west.
 There's a few million Soviets just east of here.
 And in this Western sector, there are 6,000 Americans.
 Mostly, the boys joke about it. "Six thousand Americans, only 6,000," said Airman Leland O. Darling, an air policeman from Dallas. "And very few of them Texans."
 He added that should there be a battle here, "it would make the Alamo look pale."
Boys Like Berlin
 A University of Free Berlin student from the states, Joe Pritchard, told me: "If you want something to write about, why not tell the people that America tells the Germans to have faith, but puts absolutely no faith in defending Berlin."

Despite what might happen, and it can be assumed that neither Pritchard nor this reporter knows much about the situation, the Americans stationed here like it. They like the city, they like the Berliners, they like their service facilities and opportunities here for study, art and music.
 Most of them would rather be in Berlin than any other city in Europe.
 A relative newcomer here from France, Sgt. Robert V. David, Livingston, Texas, native, said "France does not compare with Germany. We were living up to our knees in mud at a camp in France."
 He said it was not just the living conditions alone. "The German people are more friendly than the French people. That's not just because we've been an occupying power in Germany. I think the people like us better than the French people."
 Seconding his thoughts was Airman First Class Don E. Watts, 26, of Iowa Park. "Berlin is a wonderful place to be stationed, with the exception that we're hemmed in," he said.
 Only with special leave permission can the men leave the narrow confines of Western Berlin.
 "We got plenty of good entertainment here—'Porgy and Bess,' and 'Oklahoma' and this weekend, Louis Armstrong," Watts said.
 He's been here 14 months, is engaged to a German girl.
 Except for the boys going steady with German girls, and those who come from the German communities of South Texas, I have found few servicemen over here who speak the language of the country.
 Cpl. Cliff Decker, 23, and Pfc. Oliver Hahn, 22, both of Fredericksburg, spoke fluent German before they came to Berlin, learning it in their homes from their parents, the H. D. Deckers and the O. P. Hahn. Both boys had grandfathers who were born in Germany.
 "The women over here are pretty good teachers," commented Airman Darling, who gave us the Alamo quote. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Darling of Dallas, and has been in Berlin seven months. She learns English.
 Here 19 months, Airman First Class Bobby D. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith of Dallas, had been learning the language, too.
 On the other hand, however, Airman First Class Bobby V. Petrie of San Antonio, who is engaged to a German girl, finds he is learning little of the language.

 "She makes me teach her English all the time so she'll be able to speak it when we go to Texas," he said.
 Though of German descent, Private Hahn prefers the "more sophisticated American girls, and has a sweetheart, Helen Geisweidt, in Mason, Texas.
 He has bought her a German native costume, and he has the short leather "lederhosen," native costume of the Bavarians.
 "When I get back home, I'm going to put on my lederhosen and she her bright German costume and we're going to parade up and down the streets."
 "The people in Fredericksburg don't have much to talk about—this will perhaps give them something to discuss."
 The six-foot Texan in short leather pants should be worth seeing, all right.

After 26 years in the Army, Maj. Neil Taitte of the supply division, Berlin Military Post, is "going Hollywood."
 Come November, he'll accept a job in supply with Paramount studios.
 Instead of helmets by the thousands, he'll probably be ordering ladies' bras in those large quantities.
 "They do things big out there," the major commented.
 Taitte first went to Texas in 1928, and "learned to like it." He says he was the first military man in Camp Bowie, Nov. 2, 1940, going in as a master sergeant.
 He served as assistant quartermaster for the Eighth Service Command, with the job of setting up quartermaster administration and supply of new camps. He did this job at Camp Howze in Gainesville and assisted at Barkley Field in Abilene and Camp Wolters in Mineral Wells.
 During the blockade of Berlin, he was in charge of airlift military supplies.

The airlift he terms "unique—nothing like it in the history of the world." Even Hollywood probably won't do things that big.
 Other Texans interviewed here include Airman Third Class Jesse Rodriguez, who looked especially military and handsome in his air police uniform. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Rodriguez of Odessa. He was born in Alpine, attended schools there and has been in Berlin for eight months.
 Captain F. A. Boswell of Pampa, one of the Texans I met here a year ago, still likes Berlin, but thinks living here is more expensive than in the states. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Boswell of the Panhandle town, and now is lucky enough to have his wife and three children with him.
 Capt. J. W. Faucher of San Antonio, a six-foot four-inch officer, has the personnel office of the airways and air communication system here. His mother, Mrs. Katherine Fitts, lives in San Antonio. His wife, Dixie, is in Rusk, and his father, W. O. Faucher, is in Houston. Faucher has been in Berlin "one year and six days."
 Job Interest
 In the big "Truman Hall" here, post exchange headquarters, I met Pfc. Arnold Swenson of Fort Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Swenson, Sr. Private Swenson was "on duty" so he didn't get to tell me too much about his job as driver for the U. S. Military Mission in Berlin. As such, however, he often drives the U. S. representatives to the Soviet sector of Berlin. He finds Berlin and his job interesting.

 A 1960 graduate of the University of Texas, William N. Stehko, was interviewed as he ate his lunch in officers billets, Columbia House, at Tempelhof Air Base. Lieutenant Stehko worked in Austin with Dr. Lucien LaCoste in perfecting a gravity meter now used in oil exploration work.
 Ninety per cent of the men in uniform here with whom I talked like being stationed here.

Next to Texas, they say it's as good a place as any.

POLITICS SPLIT PECOS FAMILY

PECOS—Politics is causing a friendly feud in the Buck Jackson family.
 Buck is chairman for the Stevenson Democrats in Reeves County.
 But his daughter, Jeanne, editor here—'Porgy and Bess,' and 'Oklahoma' and this weekend, Louis Armstrong," Watts said.
 He's been here 14 months, is engaged to a German girl.
 Except for the boys going steady with German girls, and those who come from the German communities of South Texas, I have found few servicemen over here who speak the language of the country.
 Cpl. Cliff Decker, 23, and Pfc. Oliver Hahn, 22, both of Fredericksburg, spoke fluent German before they came to Berlin, learning it in their homes from their parents, the H. D. Deckers and the O. P. Hahn. Both boys had grandfathers who were born in Germany.

Vaccinations Set For Terminal Dogs

Dogs will be vaccinated from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday at the Terminal Fire Station, by Frank H. Rose, Midland humane officer has announced.
 The vaccinations will be given by Dr. Stephen Shannon, Dr. H. B. Mills and Dr. Collins, in cooperation with the Midland Humane Society.
 Rose pointed out that several Terminal children recently were bitten by dogs and urged full cooperation in the vaccination program. A Midland city ordinance required that all dogs be registered or vaccinated.

Charles Rated 3-1 Favorite To Take Brion

NEW YORK—(AP)—Eager to win friends and influence his way into another title shot, Ezzard Charles aims to knock out husky Cesar Brion of Argentina in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The former heavyweight king from Cincinnati is a 3-1 favorite to win the 10-rounder but stopping the six-foot-two, 196-pound South American is something else again.

Cesar, the strong man, never has been knocked out. The big muscled, 25-year-old invader has a 39-7 record and has scored 13 kayos. In his last fight in the states, confident Cesar was floored by Bob Dundlop and dropped a decision to the Pacific Coast buster.

Charles will have to put away Brion to win any scintilla from the Garden cash customers and the unseen millions on the television circuit. Putting away Cesar is a large order.

If confidence means anything, Cesar is a cinch to score an upset. "I can beat Charles. Then I like to fight the champion, Rocky Marciano."

With Charles, it's a question of not only winning but looking good, too.

"I know now I've got to try for a knockout all the time," said Ezzard. "I did fight that way before I became champion. Then I became too cautious. I'll be in there swinging those combinations all the time now."

In his pre-championship days Charles used to flatter better than 50 per cent of his opponents. His record shows 76 wins, eight losses, and one draw. He has 48 kayos to his credit.

10 Under Par Wins Meet

A 10-under-par score of 61 carried away top honors for the leading team in the West Texas Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament Thursday afternoon at the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Members of the leading team were: Pro W. O. Maxwell, Big Spring, and Amateurs Mrs. Marie Rinker, Dave Fink and Tommy Withrow, all of Midland.

With a 68, Pro Abe Beckman of Ranchland Hill had low individual score. Four other players tied for second place with 73's: W. O. Maxwell, Big Spring, Jay McClure, Dick Trout and Jerry Green, all of Midland.

Two teams tied for the second spot, and were awarded a share of second and third honors. Both groups registered a 63 for the course. One team consisted of Pro Dick Trotter, and Amateurs J. B. Worley and Royal King, all of Midland, and the other team were Pro Glen Welch and Amateurs Frank Baker, Hezlie Carson and L. Biedose, all of San Angelo.

More than 75 golfers from West Texas and Hobbs, N. M., participated in the tourney.

The Detroit Tigers drew 44,038 fans to 14 night games at Briggs Stadium this season.

Card Shift To Houston Is Rumored

HOUSTON—(AP)—A report that a group of wealthy Houstonians had made an offer to transfer the St. Louis Cardinals to Houston drew a "No comment now" from Fred Saigh, president of the National League club.

But Saigh said, "I may have something to say about it later."

Saigh has been in Houston studying the situation of the Cardinal farm club in the Texas League. Recently Allen Russell resigned as president of the Houston club to become owner of the Beaumont franchise.

The report, which had no official source, was that the deal involved moving the Cardinals to Houston but not sale of the National League franchise.

It said the offer included a $5,000-seat stadium to be ready for the 1954 season and that the offer would guarantee the Cardinals their average earnings of the last five years over a five-year period. The stadium would become the property of the Cardinals after 25 years.

The reported offer also included payment of damages for moving a Texas League franchise from Houston to another city and payment of Cardinal rental on Sportman Park in St. Louis for the term of the current lease—eight years.

Saigh, who has been here since Tuesday, departed early Friday for St. Louis.

Members of the leading team were: Pro W. O. Maxwell, Big Spring, and Amateurs Mrs. Marie Rinker, Dave Fink and Tommy Withrow, all of Midland.

More than 75 golfers from West Texas and Hobbs, N. M., participated in the tourney.

The Detroit Tigers drew 44,038 fans to 14 night games at Briggs Stadium this season.

The Babe was forced into two extra holes Thursday before deciding stubborn Barbara Romack, 1-up, on the twentieth green.

The 19-year-old Sacramento, Calif., girl squared the match on No. 19.

The Babe hooked her drive into an unplayable lie and had to take a penalty stroke.

The Babe, playing out of Tampa, Fla., these days, muffed a short putt on No. 19 and the young Californian, the pressure telling, missed a six-footer to send the two-gal duel to the twentieth.

Mrs. Zaharias boosted her reputation as the last half-century's top woman athlete on the twentieth. She spanked a 69-yard, nine-iron shot within three feet of the pin and rapped the putt down for a birdie three and the victory. Miss Romack's birdie try was too bold.

The Babe faced Bea McWane of Birmingham, Ala., in Friday's semi-final battle after the Old South star's 4-and-3 triumph Thursday over Nell Mody, Sherman, Texas.

In the other semi-final match, Fort Worth's Polly Riley, conqueror of Betty Dodd, San Antonio, in a 2-and-1 quarter-final battle faced Marilyn Smith of Wichita, Kan.

Miss Smith earned the right to meet the Curtis Cup star with a 6-and-5 rout of Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, Fort Worth, who ousted favored Betty Rawls in a second-round match Wednesday.

Mustangs, Longhorns, Bears, Rebels Picked As Week's Southwest Winners

More than 150,000 will see the four games with Texas and Rice battling at Houston in the conference headliner due to draw more than 60,000 fans.

Baylor makes its last stand in the title campaign at Waco against Texas A&M in a homecoming game expected to put the largest crowd ever to see the Bears play at home into the stands—40,000 or more.

Baylor, loser to Arkansas, must win this one to stay in the running.

A&M, which tied Texas Christian, 7-7, in its only conference game to date, would be on the brink of elimination if it lost.

Arkansas plays an ancient rival, Mississippi, at Little Rock in the other intercollegiate test. Mississippi, undefeated but twice tied, will be favored to whip an always troublesome foe.

Texas Christian, the other member of the conference, has no worries this week—it doesn't have a game.

Rice has shown a margin in victories over bitter enemy, Texas, in the last 22 years with 12 decisions, but the Longhorns have beaten the Owls the last two seasons. Rice, linked by Southern Methodist, 21-14, last week, must win to stay in the running. Texas has taken its only conference game played—a smashing triumph over Arkansas last week.

Rice faces the team it had rather beat than any other in a sadly crippled state.

Coach Haunted

At Dallas, Jerry Robertson returns to haunt his old coach, Herman Morgan of Southern Methodist. Morgan, an assistant coach at SMU, coached Robertson in high school at Highland Park (Dallas) and suggested that he go to Kansas when he looked around for a college after leaving Texas, where he played freshman football.

Robertson now is the key man in Kansas' fine passing offense that kept it unbeaten in four games. The Jayhawkers ran a cropper last week against Oklahoma but still showed a blistering offense that makes them a paper edge favorite in the odds over Southern Methodist.

The Baylor-Texas A&M game should be a fierce one and features a

Babe Zaharias Fights Way Into Women's Semi-Finals

FORT WORTH—(AP)—It was Babe Zaharias against the field Friday as the veteran shot-maker moved into the semi-final round of the Women's Texas Open.

The Babe was forced into two extra holes Thursday before deciding stubborn Barbara Romack, 1-up, on the twentieth green.

The 19-year-old Sacramento, Calif., girl squared the match on No. 19.

The Babe hooked her drive into an unplayable lie and had to take a penalty stroke.

Midland Chosen PGA Meet Site

Midland, known throughout the golfing world as a leading links center, has added another gem to its history.

The Ranchland Hill Country Club, outbidding two other Texas clubs, has been named as the site for the 1953 Texas PGA tournament. Co-operator Walter Thompson received word here Thursday of the selection of the Midland Club for the thirty-third annual meet.

Height May Stop Mikan

CHICAGO—(AP)—A front-line trier averaging six feet nine inches in height will be the collegians' hope Friday night in stopping George Mikan in the 13th annual all-star basketball classic.

The game, sponsored by the Chicago Herald-American, is expected to attract a capacity of 18,000 fans at Chicago Stadium.

The hand-picked college squad tangles with the professional championship Minneapolis Lakers led by the giant Mikan.

The pros and collegians have each won six victories to deadlock the series but the campus heroes have been unable to win for the last three years.

Phog Allen, veteran University of Kansas coach and head man of the all-stars, will start a front line of Mark Workman of West Virginia and Don Metzke of Dayton at forwards and Ray Felix of Long Island U. at center.

Notre Dame's Leroy Luke and Dick Groat, the Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop who scored 2,087 points in three years at Duke, are probable starters at guard.

Kentucky's Bobby Watson, Gene Smith of Xavier and Rod Fletcher of Illinois will spell the big boys.

Round out the collegiate group are such sharpshooters and play-makers as Moe Radovich of Wyoming; Nick Klidas, Loyola of Chicago; Jack McMahon, St. John's; and Carl McNulty, Purdue.

The Harlem Globetrotters will play the New York Celtics in the first game.

Eagle Gridder Heads Pecos Youth Council

PECOS—Charles Curbow, full-back for the Pecos Eagles, had been elected president of the Pecos Youth Council.

Other officers include Dickie Morelan, vice president; Nancy Toll, secretary; Dick Woodruff, treasurer; Kevin Baker, historian; Jeanne Jackson, reporter; Beade Northcutt, parliamentarian; Harry Bird and Janie Armstrong, sentinels.

The organization is designed to provide recreation and fellowship for the hundreds of young people.

1953 Rowing Classic May Become Known As Onondaga Regatta

NEW YORK—(AP)—The International Rowing Championships, once known as the "Poughkeepsie Regatta" may soon bear the title "Onondaga Regatta."

This appeared likely Friday following Secretary Asa Bushnell's announcement that the International Rowing Association had selected the Syracuse Lake as the site of the 1953 classic for the second straight year.

Marietta, O., Seattle and Washington D. C. also were reported to have put in bids.

Rowing's blue ribbon meet, shifted from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to Marietta in 1950, experienced rough going on the Ohio course. Flash floods marred the events and following the 31 races, Onondaga was given the nod.

The commissioner's share of the World Series receipts amounts to 15 per cent of all the games played.

Phillips 66 Basketball Players Open Drills Under New Coach

BARTLESVILLE, OKLA.—A new coach has opened drills here with a 50 per cent new team as the Phillips 66ers prepare for their basketball opener on November 15 at Cyril, Okla., against East Central State Teachers, of Ada, Okla.

Tom Scott, who has taken over as Phillips coach, after six seasons at the University of North Carolina, will have six veterans and six newcomers to mold into a team within the next month. Scott has the chore of finding somebody to fill the spot left by the retirement of Bob Kurland, six-times All-American and twice an Olympic star while playing with the 66ers.

Two of the nation's top collegiate centers of last season have eased Scott's burden, however. Clyde Lovellette, the fabulous Kansas Jayhawker who was on the 1952 Olympic team, and Chuck Darling, who was selected with Lovellette on practically every All-American team while with the University of Iowa, will have the responsibility of replacing Kurland.

In addition to Lovellette and Darling, the four other new players are also potential AAU standouts in their first season. Doc Johnson, of Oklahoma A&M was selected on the Helms Foundation All-American team along with the two aforementioned players.

Vincent Has Inside Track For Beaumont Pilot's Post

BEAUMONT—(AP)—Al Vincent, veteran minor league manager, apparently can skipper Beaumont of the Texas League next season if he wants to.

Allen Russell, new owner of the Beaumont franchise, said Thursday Vincent would be given first consideration in naming a manager for 1953. "His name is at the top of the list regardless of how many applications I receive," Russell said.

Russell hasn't yet formally offered the job to Vincent but indicated he would do so soon.

Vincent has managed Shreveport, Beaumont, Dallas and Tulsa but was out of the Texas League last year. He started as skipper at Birmingham of the Southern Association but was released before mid-season. Vincent lives in Beaumont.

Russell said he had received applications for the managerial job thus far from Nick Cullop, Homer Peeli and Al Unser.

Pecos Eagles Fully Aware Seminole Offers Acid Test

PECOS—The picnic is over—if there ever was one. And the Pecos Eagles are fully aware of it.

For Friday at noon they embarked on a 125-mile jaunt to Seminole, where Friday night they open their District 8-AA football play against one of the loop's darkhorse title contenders, the Seminole Indians.

Pecos has defeated all six of its non-district foes, and now only four games stand as a threat to the district's only undefeated, untied slate.

The Warbirds have downed Brownfield, McCombie, Wink, Bowie of El Paso, Odessa, and last week they staged a terrific fourth-quarter comeback to beat the highly-respected Denver City Mustangs, 26-13.

After Seminole come the Kermitt Yellow Jacks here on November 7, the Andrews Mustangs there on November 14, and finally the Monahans Lobos here on November 21.

Seminole ace quarterback, Jon Wilson, reportedly will be in top form after being sidelined two weeks with a simple fracture in one of his hands.

'Moose Is Loose' Call Alerts Cops

MISSOULA, MONT. — "A moose is loose" was the startling call police officer D. W. Rumer heard on his patrol-car radio.

He ripped over to Blaine Street in the university district and found a big bull moose snorting through the neighborhood.

Rumer gave chase and kept the moose on the move down an alley and across the Montana University football field. The moose left town by way of Mt. Sentinel.

Borger's Happy Gentlemen Spurn Cab For Junket Home

Odel Welborn still was wondering Friday what happened to the weary but happy gentlemen from Borger.

Welborn is an employee of the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel, and about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday a tall, well-dressed stranger walked into the funeral home to make inquiries about an ambulance.

"We need to get to Borger," he said, "and my friend is ill. He's had heart trouble."

The arrangements were completed and Welborn wheeled out one of the ambulances and drove it to the designated spot in the 300 block of North Big Spring Street.

He stopped alongside the two men.

"Are you the ones going to Borger?" asked Welborn.

"Sure, we are," one of them answered.

Welborn got out and rolled out a stretcher bed.

"Okay," he said, "which one of you is sick?"

"I am," said the short one, preparing to lie down on the bed.

"No, I am," said the tall one, pushing him aside.

Welborn stood patiently by while the two men continued their argument.

Finally the tall one lay down.

"Do you fell well enough to lift that end of the stretcher?" asked Welborn.

"Sure," answered the other one as he helped put it inside and climbed in with it.

Welborn climbed in front and, driving away, heard a rattling sound.

"Grab that bottle," he heard one voice say. "It's rolling around and we're going to spill our whiskey."

Welborn kept on driving, but, instead of heading for Borger, he drove to the home of Newnie Ellis for further consultation.

Ellis himself came out to talk to them.

"Why don't you get a cab to Borger?" the two were asked.

"Aw, a cab would never make it," one of them answered.

"Besides, we'd rather sleep along the way."

They finally changed their minds, however, and decided not to go to Borger after all.

"Just take us back down town," one of them said.

A few minutes later Welborn deposited them in the 200 block of North Main Street and the two men, waving farewell, staggered off down the street.

CALLING

All Members of the Church of Christ
Evangelist Roy Loney

who is in a meeting at Terminal, will speak in the Junior High School Auditorium

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 26, at 2:30 p.m.

on this subject:

"DOES CHRIST'S CHURCH NEED HUMAN CRUTCHES?"

Was the church as it came from the hand of its divine Builder, a perfect institution, or does it need sponsoring institutions to aid it in this modern age? This subject is of vital importance to all who love the cause of Christ, and all members of the church are urged to come and hear this lesson.

Midland JayCees Plan Vote Campaign

An all-out effort to get Midland County voters to go to the polls in the November general election will be made by Midland JayCees. John Ferguson, chairman of the Get-Out-The-Vote Committee, announced Thursday night at a meeting of the organization in the Cowden Junior High School cafeteria. Ferguson said arrangements have been made for two sound trucks to patrol Midland streets on the day of the election, with announcers to urge citizens to vote. Pencils, with promotional material printed on them regarding the election, also will have the inscription "I Voted. Did You?"

J. P. Marchioni, president, announced JayCees were making "good progress" in solicitation for the Midland Community Chest campaign. Completed work kits were turned in by James Lee, Jack Smart, Wilson Blurton and Louis Bohn. The program included a film, "Korea, The Price of Appameent," screened by Sinclair Murray of Midland.

Of the estimated 2,500 known kinds of snakes, about 250 kinds have poison apparatus developed far enough to be dangerous.
