Humble Project In SW Gains Finds New Pay On DST

Humble Oil & Refining Company's Sam B. Riley, long north-east stepout to Aurora Gasoline Company No. 1 Doss, pumping discovery of the North Jenkins (Devonian) field, in Southwest Gaines County found flowing oil in the Pennsylvanian reef to open a new pay for the area.

No. 1 Riley was drilled and tested from 8,919 to 8,970 feet. Tool was open 95 minutes. Gas surfaced in nine minutes, mud in 17 and oil in 21 minutes. It was cleaned to pits for an unreported length of time and then turned to tanks where the flow was estimated to be 30 barrels of oil hourly. Operator reversed out recovery. No formation water was found.

Operator was coring below 8,981 at last report.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 363, block G, CCSD&RONG survey.

SW Yoakum Dry Hole At 5,250 Feet To Be Log To Devonian

O'Neal Drilling Company of Fort Worth is preparing to re-enter and deepen its No. 1 J. A. Robinson, shallow dry hole in Southwest Yoakum County from its present bottom of 5,250 feet in barren San Andres Permian lime to 12,000 feet to try to find production in the Devonian.

This prospector is 15 miles southwest of Plains. It is 2,200 feet from south and 440 feet from east lines of section 596, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

The deepening activity is slated to start at once according to an application filed by the operator with the Railroad Commission of Texas at its Midland district office.

Magnolia Wildcat In SE Andrews Flows Permian Oil

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 A Fasken, wildcat in Southeast Andrews County, flowed oil on a drilled test in a Permian lime from 8,450 to 8,478 feet.

Tool was open two hours and 42 minutes. Gas surfaced in five minutes, mud in 33 and oil in 35 minutes. It was cleaned to pits seven minutes and then turned to tanks.

It flowed 76 barrels of oil in two hours through choke of unreported size. Gas-oil ratio was 87-1 and open flowing bottomhole pressure was 1,362 pounds. Shutin pressure after 15 minutes was 3,398 pounds. Gravity of the oil flowed is 40.4.

Operator was coring below 8,508 feet at last report.

The test was in either the lower Wichita-Albany or upper Wolf camp.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 12, block 42, T-2-N, G&MMB&A survey and three miles north of Grayburg production in the Midland Farms field. It is slated to drill to 15,000 feet or until tests can be made in the Ellenburger.

S-C Eddy Area Gets Deep Prospector By Stanolind And Gulf

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1 Guadalupe Foothills unit is to be an 11,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in South-Central Eddy County, N. M.

It is 11 miles southwest of the city of Carlsbad and 18 miles northwest of the site of the deep prospector.

Location is 2,330 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 20-22a-25e.

Drilling with rotary tools is to begin immediately.

Wilshire Is To Dig Devonian Wildcat On NE Lea Block

The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc. of Midland is to start drilling at once in its No. 21-8 E. L. Harrison, slated 12,500-foot wildcat to try for production in the Devonian in Northeast Lea County, N. M.

Texas-Eastern-Coastal Bloc Buys Shipping Line Control

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A. P. L. Associates, Inc., a Texas-New York-West Coast financial combine, Tuesday bought the controlling interest in the American President Lines for $18,360,000.

This offer—topping two other sealed bids—returned the San Francisco firm, one of the world's major shipping concerns, to private hands after 14 years of government control.

Heading A. P. L. Associates is Ralph K. Davies, president of the American Independent Oil Company, San Francisco.

Among those associated with him in the purchase are the Signal Oil and Gas Company, Los Angeles, and Marine Transport Lines, Inc., New York.

Signal In For Half

Davies told reporters the group hopes George Killian, who has been president of the lines under government control, will continue in that office.

J. H. Marshall, Fort Worth, Texas, a director of Signal Oil, said Signal Oil had put up about one-half of the offering price. He said Marine Transport put up about 10 per cent.

Although its headquarters are in Los Angeles, Signal has large producing oil interests in Texas as well as other states.

The sale transfers to the successful bidder 92 per cent of the voting stock of the firm. The stock has a book value of $25,000,000 and the company claims assets of $70,000,000 before liabilities.

The sealed bid auction was arranged to end 14 years of government ownership of the round-the-world ocean service. The agreement setting up the sale wound up five years of court fighting for control of the company between the government and the R. Stanley Dollar interests of San Francisco.

The company fell into the hands of the government in 1938, when the old Maritime Commission loaned the Dollar Line $4,500,000 and then subsidized the firm for five years. Under government operation the name was changed to the American President Lines.

At the time of the loan the company put up 92 per cent of its voting stock, representing 77 per cent of the company's stock value. The loan was paid off out of company earnings under government operation. The Dollar interests then asked that the stock be returned to them. The government refused.

Frank A. Terry, 46, Oil Firm Landman, Dies; Rites Tuesday

Frank A. Terry, 46, of 602 West Michigan Street, died early Tuesday after an extended illness. A Midland resident the last three years, he had been employed as a landman for Tide Water Associated Oil Company.

Born Oct. 7, 1906 at Bentonville, Ark., Terry lived at Yazoo City, Miss., before moving to Midland.

Funeral services were to be held at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Newline W. Ellis Chapel with the Rev. J. Q. Woodard of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment is slated Friday afternoon in Lakewood Memorial Park at Jackson, Miss.

Survivors include the widow; a daughter, Mrs. Ineta Terry Scribner of Lubbock; the father, William A. Terry of Bentonville, Ark.; and a sister, Mrs. Ethelne Wilson, Fayetteville, Ark.

Honorary pallbearers will be Jack Creswell, J. B. Goldman, Jr., A. G. Tydings, Daryl Davis, George Byrne, Doug Edman, Philip Grant, Edward Summers, Jack Gazzale, Henry Shaw, Jr., Forest Crockett and Clifton Wilderspin.

Officer Kills Self 'So Ill Wife Can Have More Money'

FORT WORTH.—(AP)—Capt Arthur C. Nelson, 31, Carswell Air Force Base officer, shot himself to death Tuesday. His wife, who has a rare nerve disease, said Nelson often had told her she would be better off with his insurance money "if I killed myself."

Peace Justice Whit Boyd returned a verdict of suicide.

Carswell officials said the amount of Nelson's insurance was not known immediately. However, he had a $10,000 service policy.

Police found Nelson's nude body slumped in the bathroom of his three-room apartment about 2:45 a.m. He was shot once through the left chest.

A 22-caliber pistol, wrapped in a bathmat, lay at his feet.

Mrs. Nelson said her husband had been "dependent for the last several weeks."

She said he had "talked about killing himself but I never thought he would do it."

THEY SHOUT FOR ADLAI— Rebellion Grips Illinois Prison

CHESTER, ILL.—(AP)—Tension mounted as 300 rebellious prisoners—the lives of seven prison officers in their hands—played a waiting game with authorities Tuesday at Illinois' Menard State Prison.

The insurgent convicts seized six guards and a prison lieutenant late Monday and took over control of one of the old prison's four cell blocks, the same one in which prisoners rioted five weeks ago.

Warden Jerome E. Munie, fearful any open move to put down the rebellion might cost the lives of the hostages, planned to starve the convicts into submission.

All food and water supplies were cut off.

By mid-morning the rebel prisoners, strangely, had made no demands. The ugly stone and concrete prison was quiet. Only outward sign of the disorders were machine guns manned at strategic points around the besieged east cell block.

Break Stopped

The convicts upset the warden's plans to storm the cell block with 60 armed guards shortly after the riot began by threatening to throw the hostages from a 40-foot-high cell tier balcony.

It was the warden's theory the convicts were bent on a mass break when they seized the guards while marching from the mess hall into their cell blocks at about 5 p.m.

"We moved too fast for them," Munie said.

Inmates were reported Monday night to be calling for Gov. Adlai Stevenson, who was out of the state.

Some inmates were quoted by officers as calling out "We want to see the governor." Other shouts of "We want to see the big boss" were reported. Munie said he thought they wanted to see him, not the governor.

Community Chest's Story May Be Known Wednesday

Midland's Community Chest Story (1952 edition) will be told Wednesday noon when finance campaign reports are submitted at a final emergency report meeting scheduled in the Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

Campaign leaders, volunteer workers and citizens generally hope it will be a success story—a story relating how Midlanders rallied in an emergency to put their Community Chest campaign "over the top" for eight youth and welfare agencies of the community.

Campaign workers were out en masse again Tuesday in a determined effort to contact as many potential donors as possible before the Wednesday deadline. A spirit of optimism prevailed as arrangements were made for the emergency report meeting, which could turn into a victory celebration.

Fire Breaks Out On U. S. Freighter In German Harbor

HAMBURG, GERMANY.—(AP)—Fire broke out Tuesday aboard the 6,108-ton American freighter Helen Lykes as she was loading grain and sulphur in Hamburg harbor. Fire officials said part of her cargo was ablaze.

Black smoke engulfed the after part of the vessel as four fire engines lined up on the quay and three fireboats squirted water on her decks. Firemen closed a hatch into one hold and attempted to smother the blaze with fire extinguishers.

7,000 Cheer Young Senator At Talk Here

By COPE ROUTH

Young Richard M. Nixon came roaring into Midland Monday night carrying high the banner of "The Great Crusade" which he and Dwight D. Eisenhower hope to carry to victory in next Tuesday's general election.

An estimated 7,000 West Texans from throughout the area crowded around to cheer the 39-year-old Republican vice presidential candidate as he neared the end of a furious seven-speech, one-day trip across the state.

They heard him bitterly assail the present Administration and then point to Eisenhower, the Republican's presidential candidate, as "a great man and a good man."

And they were charmed by his smiling wife, Pat, to whom was presented a bouquet of roses and two cowgirl dolls for their two daughters, six-year-old Patricia and four-year-old Julie.

Crowd Waits Patiently

The four-motored DC-6 was 25 minutes late but the crowd waited patiently, as some of them had been doing since mid-afternoon when the first automobiles began parking at Midland Air Terminal.

By 7:50 p.m. a crowd estimated at 7,000 persons by Police Chief Harold Wallace had gathered around the decorated platform set up on the parking ramp in front of the Air Terminal Administration Building.

A great roar went up from the crowd as the big plane finally touched the runway 25 minutes late and moved slowly up behind the platform, escorted by two motorcycle patrolmen from the Midland Police Department.

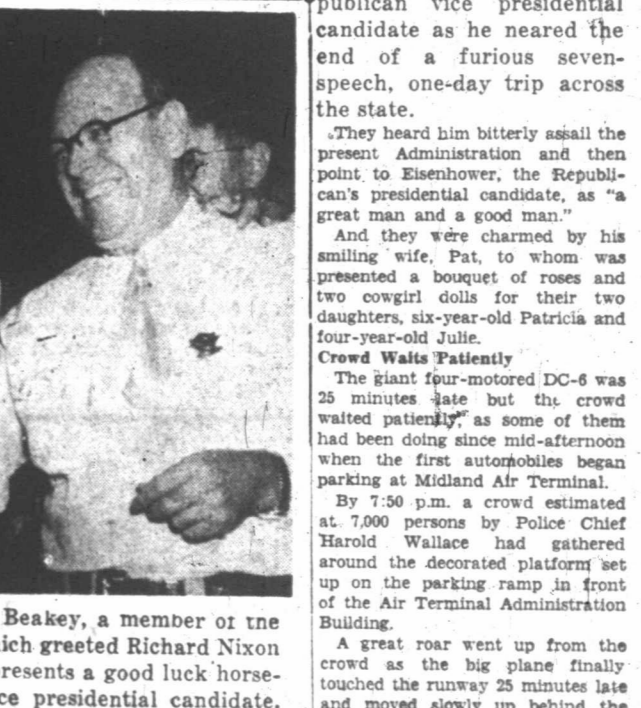

The colorfully-dressed Midland County Sheriff's posse galloped alongside the plane as it ground to a stop and the door was thrown open.

Senator. In a few seconds Nixon and his wife appeared, smiling happily and waving to the crowd.

Robert E. Stripling, Midland independent oil operator and former chief investigator for the House Un-American Activities Committee, was the first to greet them as they stepped to the ground.

He in turn introduced Richard Hughton, Midland County Republican chairman, who headed the greeting committee.

They were escorted quickly to the platform although Nixon and (Continued On Page 12)

Tuesday was the twelfth day that not a drop of rain had fallen in Texas. None was expected Wednesday.

Warnings went out to careless hunters and picnickers in East Texas and District Forester Arthur E. Green, Beaumont, warned arsonists that plans were afoot for drastic, strict enforcement of state fire laws.

Corsicana Grass Fire

In Corsicana, in East Central Texas, a stubborn grass fire halted north-south railway traffic through the city after destroying one railroad bridge and damaging another.

Railroad officials had hoped to resume traffic on the damaged Southern Pacific bridge Monday night. A Fort Worth & Denver-Rock Island bridge was to be replaced Tuesday, railroad men hoped.

Meanwhile, water-short Dallas took new measures to make its critically low water supply last a little longer. The city ordered contractors to haul water for softening or compacting the sub-grade in paving projects. However, city water still could be used in mixing concrete and mortar.

Dallas levied its first fine for violation of its stringent water-use ordinance. The first payoff came from a 64-year-old yardman who said he couldn't read. He got off for the minimum $50 fine after pleading illiteracy.

NEVER UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER, ETC.—

Mrs. Upshaw's Mate Says He, Too, Will Vote For Ike

DALLAS.—(AP)—"It's been very embarrassing," Banks Upshaw said reflectively Tuesday, "but these things kind of develop slowly, you know."

Upshaw, a text book publisher, was hunting words to explain why and when he decided to vote for Dwight Eisenhower, as his wife is going to do.

The current issue of the Ladies Home Journal devotes a good deal of space to explaining why he's going to vote for Democratic Adlai Stevenson.

The magazine's "How America Lives" feature also makes a big point of the fact that Mrs. Upshaw is for Ike.

After the story appeared, Mrs. Upshaw's lady friends started calling The Associated Press. "That article's all wrong," they said. "Banks has changed his mind."

Well, it's like this. Upshaw is a life-long Democrat. He'd have liked to stick with Adlai.

"I admire his courage," Upshaw said. "He certainly had guts to come down here and slap us in the teeth. Upshaw was thinking of Stevenson's Dallas campaign speech in which he argued for federal ownership of the Tidelands."

"I really changed my mind after the Democratic Convention at Amarillo," he said. That's when the state party urged all Texas Democrats to vote for Eisenhower.

"And when Stevenson came down here he didn't satisfy me at all. He begged the question, certainly, on the Tidelands."

But didn't Mrs. Upshaw influence his decision to switch to Eisenhower? After all, the Journal's motto is "Never underestimate the power of a woman."

"Aw, I wouldn't say she had much to do with it," Upshaw said. He chuckled. "She at least didn't nag me about it."

No, sir, it was just a "rather long and slow mental process" that finally caused the "Gladly with Adlai" sticker to disappear from Upshaw's car windshield.

Off-Reprieved Axe-Slayer Dies In State Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE —(AP)—Booker T. Reed, Dallas negro convicted in the axe slaying of Boy Adrian Lovelace, 42-year-old Irving cabinet maker, went to his death in the electric chair Tuesday morning with a prayer on his lips.

The husky negro refused to make a final statement but asked permission to pray. Given the permission just before the hood was fastened on his head, he repeated the "Lord's Prayer" while chewing gum furiously.

When the prayer was completed, he removed the gum from his mouth and threw it to the floor.

Reed entered the death chamber at 12:02 a.m., received the first shock at 12:05 a.m. and was pronounced dead at 12:07 a.m.

His execution ended a long fight to save his life. Nine times his death was delayed.

Tenth Plea Falls

Reed's tenth last-minute plea to escape the death chair failed Monday afternoon. The State Board of Pardons and Paroles in Austin rejected a plea for Reed that the negro had been "rushed or railroaded to conviction."

Actually the board took no formal action; but each individual member said he would have no recommendation to make to the governor. Chairman Lyle C. Harris said the "no action" position of the board meant Reed would go to the chair unless some new matter was brought to the board's attention before the execution.

Attorney George Clifton Edwards of Dallas made one plea before Harris and Board Member Tom White, then made a separate appeal before Board Member R. A. (Smoot) Schmidt.

"Smoot does not attend these hearings any more," Harris said afterwards.

However, all three board members said that the rift in their relations had nothing to do with the Reed case.

Edwards based his plea on the contention that Reed had been reprieved only by a state-appointed attorney and that he had been refused an attorney of his own choice.

The negro was convicted of the July 12, 1951, axe slaying of a white man he said he found in his shack. Lovelace was slain in Reed's small home on the grounds of a private Dallas school. Why Lovelace was in Reed's home was not brought out in the murder trial.

Edwards told the pardon board members Monday that Reed was convicted primarily because he was a negro accused of killing a white man, and that if the circumstances of race had been reversed, Reed probably would not even have been indicted.

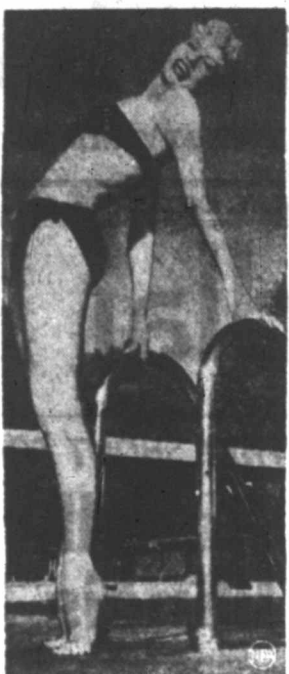

Reed ate the customary "last big meal" in the death cell — fried shrimp, fried chicken, two dozen oysters, 18 deviled eggs, pie, and soft drinks.

Since Reed was first placed in death row here his stays of execution totaled almost eight months—237 days. Officials described him as a model prisoner who never caused trouble. At times he talked freely about killing Lovelace.

"I hit him with the axe," he said once. Asked where he got the axe, he replied: "Oh, it was standing right there in the corner."

However, Reed often contended his trial was rigged and that he didn't have a chance to escape the death penalty.

"I was tried before I got in the courthouse," he said.

The Laugh Parade: Rosalind Russell, who temporarily sheds her best-dressed actress title for a WAC uniform in "Never Wave at a WAC," tells this howler about her long-time style leadership efforts. After her first starring film at MGM, she went to New York and was guest of honor at a cocktail party.

Dressed to kill, Roz buzzed around the room greeting one and all. Then she came to a dour little old lady seated by herself in a corner.

"How do you do," said Roz. "I'm Rosalind Russell."

"I know that—it says so on the invitation," replied the old doll. "But what do you do?"

Roz smiled and said, "I'm an actress."

The old doll surveyed Roz from head to foot, then said:

"Well, I thought you must be in the clothes business."

John Ireland and Dorothy McGuire are friends again, but the climax of their feud during a "Summer and Smoke" stage tour together, forever will be a classic.

Dorothy, up-staging John at one performance, came dangerously close to falling into the footlights. With a diabolical grin, John stopped reading his lines, walked over and picked her up. Then he carried her back to mid-stage, where she belonged, put her down and resumed his dialog as if nothing had happened.

Keene-Minded Scout

Cowboy star Tom Keene is telling this one:

"When he changed his name to Richard Powers and opened in a Broadway play, to prove that he could do something more than ride a horse in Westerns, he was visited backstage by an RKO talent scout.

"We're very interested in signing you at RKO," said the scout.

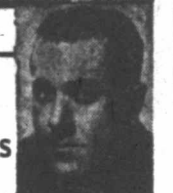

"Now I don't want to hurt your feelings, but we have a cowboy star named Tom Keene under contract and there may be a little trouble because you look so much like him."

"I don't foresee any trouble. Tom Keene can't act for beans. But you're a great actor."

Errol Flynn Loses Battle Of Alimony In Superior Court

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—Errol Flynn has lost another court alimony battle with his former wife, actress Lili Damita—to the extent of $108,712.90.

The latest decision in the long dispute, handed down Monday by Superior Judge Clarence L. Kincaid, paralleled one by Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle in 1950.

The latter one is on appeal. The actor's attorneys said the Kincaid decision also will be appealed.

Miss Damita's lawyers obtained the award they claimed Flynn should pay nothing on $1,500-a-month alimony since the appeal of the 1950 decision. Judge Doyle held that a property settlement Flynn made with Miss Damita was not part of the divorce decree and thus could not be changed. It provided Flynn was to pay the alimony and the income tax on it.

Judge Kincaid ruled Flynn owes $61,160 in income taxes on the payments and is in arrears $40,550 in his alimony.

He awarded Miss Damita's attorney $5,000 in fees and the actress seven per cent interest from the date each alimony payment became due.

SEAS TO PART FOR ISRAEL'S CHILDREN— DeMille Slates Movie Epic On Moses, 10 Commandments

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)—Cecil DeMille, still leading a vigorous life at 71, is planning his next Biblical epic to hit the screens in 1955.

That was disclosed by the film-making wizard when I talked with him in his memento-packed office. He interrupted a busy working day to discuss his next project. "The 10 Commandments."

"About this time next year, I expect to have a crew shooting backgrounds in Egypt," he explained. "We plan to shoot at Mt. Sinai and other real locations, and I may go along. The following Spring, 1954, I will start the filming of the story here in Hollywood. That will take about six months, and the cutting and scoring takes about a year. That will bring us into late 1955.

Worthwhile Story

"The actual shooting is the easiest part of making a picture. It is here in the production office that the picture is really created. A good story is everything. If you have that, the director and the stars do not make much difference. They can help the picture a little or hurt it a little. But they can't make a good script into a bad picture or a bad script into a good picture."

DeMille's research into Biblical history is thorough. He said his new project is difficult because of the obscurity of the Moses legend.

"There is a lapse of 26 years between two verses of the Bible," he remarked. "One verse tells of Moses being found among the bulrushes, or papyrus, by the Pharaoh's daughter and in the next, verse he is grown and has killed a man."

"We have to find out what happened to him between those two events. There is some data in such books as the Koran, Josephus and the rabbinical writings. We learn that he was a great general, having conquered Ethiopia. Much of the rest has to be surmised.

"And what did the people wear and eat in those times? Did they eat roast beef or lamb chops or what? It would be as bad to show them eating the wrong things as it would to show them dressed in tails and top hats."

The producer said his new film will be loaded with spectacles, but the most notable will doubtless be the parting of the Red Sea. He has done it before. In his original "10 Commandments," filmed in 1922, he explained that the old version was a modern story with a flashback to the days of Moses, whereas the new film will deal strictly with the Biblical era.

Basic In Fact

"I don't know how we will part the sea yet," he commented, "but we already are working on methods. We have come a long way in the film business since 30 years ago: this time the parting will have more basis in fact."

DeMille smiled reflectively as he recalled parting the Red Sea for his previous epic. "We tried to control 200,000 gallons of water the same as you could control a drop," he remarked.

"I admit our control was sometimes not very good. Every night for a week the water would get away and flood a large part of Hollywood. A policeman would struggle his way through the water and arrest us. We always had a man standing by with bail."

Insurance Firms Drop U. S. Bonds; Inflation Blamed

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Senator Ralph E. Flanders, Vermont Republican, said Tuesday the Democrats have cut the value of the dollar so much that life insurance companies have had to switch their investments from government bonds to private securities.

In a statement issued through the Republican National Committee, Flanders said the Democrats not only are unable to cope with inflation but "in fact, encourage it for political reasons." He added:

"Reports from insurance companies show that four years ago at the time of the last presidential elections, one-half of the investments of the insurance companies were in government securities. Today investment in government bonds has dropped to 20 per cent of their total investments."

League Hears Guest Speaker

Mrs. Paul Miller-Peterson of Chicago, Ill., and Colorado Springs, Colo., was guest speaker for a recent meeting of the Midland Service League.

She discussed unity in art and architecture, basing her discussion on the phrase, "Enlarging one's vision in response to art and design of great present-day artists."

Illustrating her talk, the speaker exhibited a collection of Italian and other styles of ceramics and a selection of imported fabrics to be used in decorating.

About 40 members attended the meeting, held in the Trinity Episcopal parish house.

Andrews Guild Gives Program For Midlanders

Members of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Andrews presented a program Monday night for a meeting in the First Methodist Church, with members of the First Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild as hostesses.

Mrs. Mabel Mize, district guild secretary, was leader for the program, attended by guild members from Asbury Methodist Church, Andrews Methodist Church and from the two guilds, Wesleyan and Best Wesleyan, of the First Methodist Church.

Featured on the program was a round table discussion by six of the Andrews members and Mrs. Mize on projects supported by guild members. Projects discussed included the Brewster Hospital, Jacksonville, Angola Conference; Ganta, an outpost of the Liberia Conference; Nyadiri in Southern Rhodesia Conference, and Gikuli in Mozambique.

Therese Klapproth welcomed visitors and gave the opening prayer. A devotional was given by Mrs. C. C. DeCrafterred of the Asbury Methodist Church, who was assisted by Joan Himmel, organist, and Shirley Bunt, who sang "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Mrs. Vera McLeRoy led the group in a song.

A report on the guild conference held recently in Lubbock was given by Fannie Beas Taylor. She was accompanied to the meeting by Vida Severance and T. K. White.

Mrs. Eleanor Lutor was in charge of the closing portion of the program when members made contributions toward the support of the guild projects.

Refreshments were served by Vida Severance, T. K. White, Jack Harrison, Fannie Beas Taylor and Lois Robison.

Ninth District Music Federation Members Hold Midland Meet

Emphasizing the Texas Federation of Music Clubs program of junior music club expansion, members of the TFMG Ninth District held their annual convention Friday and Saturday in Midland.

In addition, an expansion of senior clubs is being planned within the district. It was explained by Mrs. Sonnie Umberson of Stanton, district president.

Projects Listed
Mrs. Umberson also mentioned the state federation's "Music in Hospitals" project, which is being continued. The Midland Music club is to present a program at the Big Spring Veterans Hospital on the fourth Tuesday in February.

During the Saturday morning session, a report was made by Mrs. R. P. Morrison of Odessa, third vice president of TFMG and district parliamentarian. She urged members to encourage America's broadcasting companies to continue programs featuring good music.

Emphasizing music federation scholarships was Mrs. Glen Darst of Fort Worth, TFMG first vice president, who spoke on the usage of federation funds.

Mrs. Paul Moss of Odessa, chairman of a new committee on audience education, spoke briefly on her committee's work.

Convention Opened
Mrs. Benton Howell, president of the Midland Music Club, formally opened the convention Saturday morning in the North Elementary School auditorium. Welcome was given by Mayor Perry Pickett, with response by Mrs. George Gannaway of Monahans, district historian.

Included on the Saturday afternoon agenda were a business session and junior fine arts program.

Mrs. Few Brewster of Austin, past president of TFMG, was the speaker for Saturday luncheon in the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

Officers Club Has Hallowe'en Party

Approximately 125 children attended the Hallowe'en Party sponsored by the Midland Officers Club Sunday in the clubhouse.

Entertainment featured movies, games, Jack-o-lantern pinatas, fortune telling and a side show, "See the Monkey."

Mrs. William Owen was the fortune teller. Cats, pumpkins and witches in black and orange Hallowe'en colors carried out the party theme.

Costume prizes were awarded according to age groups. In the one to four age group, Tally Moore dressed as Dumbo, the elephant, won first prize; Prissy Brice, dressed as a black cat, took second prize, and Donna Speelman won third prize for her pirate costume.

In the five to seven-year-old group, prizes went to Diane Olson, who wore a gypsy costume; Bobby Wright, who was dressed as a skeleton, and Christie Hardy, who was costumed as the village idiot.

Prizes in group three, for those eight years old and over, went to Roger Hardy, who was dressed as a tramp; Margie Nell Shoemaker, dressed as a witch, and Sikes Johnson, who wore a pirate costume.

St. Mark's Methodist WSCS Observes Week Of Prayer

The St. Mark's Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service held a program and business meeting Monday in observance of the Week of Prayer and Self Denial.

The group met in the church with Mrs. Ned Swallow, president, presiding.

Members brought clothes to contribute to the Wesley Community House in Fort Worth and to "Packets for Peace," a project sponsored by the United Council of Church Women. The latter project will be conducted in connection with World War. The group voted to give $25 annually for three years to the conference to assist in the payment of missionaries' salaries. Mrs. J. B. Carver was elected secretary.

Mrs. Clarence Borland, program chairman, introduced Peggy Ott, pianist, who played a concert arrangement of "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

A discussion was held on the projects which are financed by collections made during the Week of Prayer. Speakers and their topics were Mrs. J. P. Merriman, Brewster Hospital in Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. W. P. Sliard, women and children's work in Liberia; Mrs. A. E. Patterson, medical work in South Rhodesia, and Mrs. G. C. Merket, South African Congo.

Devotionals were given by Mrs. Carver and Mrs. Cecil Aycock. Following the talks a candlelight service was held with special music furnished by Mrs. Monroe Withers. The Miriam Circle served refreshments.

The delight of having this color assortment to choose from is that you can match or blend the aprons to your dresses. So whether you are serving dinner, feeding the baby, or actually cooking over a hot stove, you'll always look well-groomed.

Hairdressers From Wide Area Aid Midland Accident Victims

Hairdressers from a number of West Texas and New Mexico cities will take appointments in Midland throughout the next few weeks to aid two Midland beauty operators injured in an automobile accident.

The two injured women are Mrs. Mary Dineen and Thelma Leftwich of the House of Beauty.

They were injured early Wednesday morning as they were enroute to Midland from Lubbock, where six members of the House of Beauty staff had given a program for Unit 26 of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists.

The accident occurred when the left front wheel of the car driven by D. S. Elmore broke off, causing the car to turn over several times. Unable To Work

Most Men Detest Gossip That Wives Love Repeating

How much of the gossip that she hears should a woman repeat to her husband?

That depends on the husband. Some men enjoy a bit of gossip as much as their wives. Some even depend on their wives to give them the lowdown on what is being gossiped about at their bridge clubs.

Other men have such a contempt for gossip that their wives are better off never telling them anything in the gossip category.

That is the situation of Mrs. Y. who can't understand why her husband gets upset every time she tells him a bit of gossip and why he never shares any with her.

There is clearly only one thing for Mrs. Y. to do. Quit telling her husband what she hears. He obviously not only isn't interested in local gossip, but has a horror of women's intense interest in gossip and their delight in passing it along.

That will, of course, be a little hard on Mrs. Y. For women like to tell their husbands all they hear. They are intensely interested in the lives of other people and when they have an interesting bit of news they like to share it with their husbands.

But it is certainly better for a wife never to repeat gossip to her husband than to have him start thinking of her as a gossipping woman if he hates gossipping women.

There's just one catch. Some men pretend to hate gossip when they actually enjoy it. But they always give themselves away by such remarks as "Well, what did you gals hash over today?" when their wives get home from sewing circle or an afternoon of bridge.

No matter how superior his attitude, when a husband makes that kind of remark, he is willing to hear what you've heard.

The MATURE PARENT

Confused Child Needs Parents For Strength

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Miss Smith teaches the fifth grade in Jimmy's new school.

She said to his mother, "I doubt if he can do fifth-grade work. He got a poor mark in his old school's final arithmetic test."

Jimmy's mother explained how his father's firm suddenly had transferred him last June, how they had to quickly sell their house and place Jimmy with neighbors the last weeks of school. "It upset him, I guess," she said. "I know that he can do fifth-grade work if you give him the chance."

Finally Miss Smith agreed to give him the chance. To Jimmy, she said, "In return, you must justify my faith in you."

He said he would—but he didn't jump for joy at the idea of justifying Miss Smith's faith in him. Instead, he trailed his mother home disconsolately.

He liked Miss Smith—but he could not understand the way she talked about long division. Nor could he get used to sitting in chairs with wide arms instead of at a desk of his own.

This school used funny yellow paper, not the smooth white kind—and this very noon, in the lunchroom when he offered his cookies to one of the gang at the next table, the kid had said, "We got our own food, stupid."

None of these worries came to the top of Jimmy's head where they could be skimmed off, one by one and be looked at or talked about. They just milled around, formlessly in the bottom of it, adding up to a desolate feeling of discouragement that said, "What if you don't make a go of this fifth grade, Jimmy?"

Whereupon his mother said sharply, "Don't dawdle. I don't know what your father will say if you're put back a year. You're going to have to work hard if you're going to justify everyone's faith in you."

Jimmy was sick after dinner that night.

His nervous system is healthy, but you can't digest worries over long division, strange equipment and strange children—but it can't digest the worries of two adults as well. It has staged a little revolt at demands to reassure Miss Smith's fear that he will be a drag on her teaching, to relieve his mother's panic that she will be disgraced by his demotion.

Children, like us, are apt to be depressed by demands that they justify other people's "faith" in them. Like us, they have their hands quite full, accumulating enough faith in themselves to be required to help other people collect theirs.

We may find it helpful to consider the possibility that these demands are not inspired by love at all, but by someone's fear we may inconvenience them. It is just possible that we are not being encouraged, but threatened.

"When a child is anxious and confused," writes noted psychiatrist Dr. Frederick H. Allen, "he can find in his parent a source of strength. He acts on the truth contained in the Bible verse: 'When my heart is overwhelmed, lead me to the rock that is higher than I.'"

In these situations, what we need is a Rock that we in turn can consider higher than ourselves. If we have it, we can say to Jimmy, "You take care of justifying yourself to God, son—and the rest of us will have to put up with what pleases Him."

McCarthy Charges Adlai Aids Commies

CHICAGO—P—Senator Joseph R. McCarthy charged Monday night that Gov. Adlai Stevenson, Democratic candidate for President has given "aid to the Communist cause," McCarthy speaking on a nationwide television and radio hookup financed by a privately sponsored $50-a-plate dinner, said the issue in the current presidential contest is: "Will communism win or will America win?"

"I do not state that Stevenson is a Communist or pro-Communist," McCarthy said, "but I must believe something was wrong somewhere."

The Wisconsin Republican senator was cheered lustily by his audience of 1,150 diners in a Loop hotel ballroom at various points in his speech. Once booted halted him briefly when a heckler shouted: "The heckler quickly was spirited out."

Tito Lieutenant Flees Red Regime

UDINE, ITALY—P—The commander of the Yugoslav finance guard for the Sturma district at Polava Pass has crossed into Italy and asked for political asylum. Kemal Mujagic said Monday he was tired of Marshal Tito's Communist regime.

McCarthy made these charges against the Illinois governor:

1. That Stevenson is surrounded by some left-wing advisers.
2. That the Democratic nominee would continue the suicidal Kremlin-dictated policies of this nation.
3. That Stevenson, assigned the task of formulating post war U. S. policy in Italy, prescribed a plan for "foisting communism" on the Italians.
4. That Stevenson is "part and parcel" of the "Acheson-Hiss-Lattimore group."

McCarthy had not concluded his speech when his broadcast time of 30 minutes ended. After he went off the air, he charged that Stevenson had the endorsement, in effect, of the Communist newspaper Daily Worker.

Industrial Output Overtakes Demands For Many Products

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—P—The law of supply and demand—taking over from government controls in many industries—is causing sharp disputes between consumers and producers.

Shutdowns of high-cost lead and zinc mines—with attendant unemployment—is feared in many mining areas. The reason: Sharp drop in the price of the metals, led by weakness in the London futures market.

And oil production capacity now has outstripped current demand to the point where many domestic oil producers are clamoring again against the increasing flow of foreign oil to these shores.

Government proposals for further expansion of facilities for certain types of steelmaking are meeting with resistance from some steel producers who fear over-expansion in lines unprofitable after the defense program eases.

Plant Shut Down

The return of the coal miners to the pits Monday assures abundant supplies of fuel—with increasing competition among coal, oil and gas.

Fears of over-production of ethyl alcohol—the New York Journal of Commerce reports Monday—are causing Du Pont to close its plant at Deepwater, N. J.

A plant to make synthetic ethyl alcohol is being built at Tuscola, Ill. by the National Petro-Chemical Corporation, to make this and other hydrocarbons out of natural gas. Du Pont is reported as believing the synthetic plant will be able to fill all the nation's needs for ethyl alcohol by mid-1953.

Ethyl alcohol is used in making anti-freeze, beverages, drugs, dyes, smokeless powder and flavoring extracts.

Oil Output High

In the petroleum industry, the government's goal of a million-barrel-a-day excess productive capacity has now been attained. According to John Suman, New Jersey Standard Oil vice president.

The government asked the industry to bring capacity above normal domestic demand as a reserve quickly available if the nation were attacked.

The industry also has been importing petroleum from Venezuela and the Middle East at an increased rate—more than 10 per cent of U. S. crude oil output.

Members of the Independent Petroleum Association have protested that so great a flow of foreign oil is no longer needed, when domestic capacity is above domestic needs.

A MESSAGE for AMERICANS

from General Eisenhower

ONCE before I had the honor and duty of leading a crusade for human freedom and dignity—in Europe during World War II.

That crusade was won not by Generals and Admirals but by the blood and effort of American G.I.'s and all the other forces fighting for freedom. Now in 1952 a different call to duty has honored me—as Republican nominee for President of the United States.

This time the effort is civilian—not military. But again, the crusade will be won not by me nor by the political leaders, but by everyday Americans who value their National heritage and are willing to go to the polls and vote to protect it.

THIS IS A CRUSADE TO:

- ★ Sweep Out of Government the corruption and the scandal which have brought us dishonor at home and disrespect abroad.
- ★ Banish the Subversives and incompetents who have crucified both good public service and good public servants.
- ★ Build a Strong Economy not based on war.
- ★ Save Our Great, Free Nation from the reckless policies which are leading America down the road to bankruptcy—Socialism—and possibly even World War III.

AMERICA NEEDS YOU... in this Civilian Crusade. I hope, that you, too, believe the time has come for a complete change in our National leadership—a change which will restore courage, integrity and faith in American Government.

Bulldogs Bolster Defense

The Midland Bulldogs have defense difficulties going and coming. They slanted back and combined from the Pampa game. They looked ahead to Friday night's encounter with Abilene, a team which muffled the Harvester offense only to lose in the last 30 seconds on a long pass.

Coach Tugboat Jones and his staff took appropriate steps Monday to correct weaknesses accentuated by the-splitting Pampa backs. It will be different against the Eagles. Barrett Spry, 175 pound fullback, has moved into tackle on the defense. Spry, who has been a line-backer this year, played guard last season and is at home "up among them."

Jerry Ball, 170 pounder, is occupying the other defensive tackle spot.

Fred Gist, 145-pound back, came up from the B team ranks to replace

Spry in the line backing role. Kenneth Schrum will use his 165 pounds in joining and James Reagan, 210 pounds, as "the middle guard." Their combined weight should go far in stopping marches through the center. Both Pampa and Berger employed power plays "up the center" to demolish the Bulldog defense.

Schrum has been starting at left guard and Reagan left tackle in the defensive pattern of Jones' single wing.

The Bulldogs applied themselves in Trojan-like manner Monday, pleasing Jones with their spirit and will to work. Heavy contact drills will continue through Thursday.

Jones agreed Tuesday morning with the unanimous observation of sports scribes covering the Pampa game—all of the breaks went against the Midlanders in their 38-26 defeat.

Penalties and fumbles brought our downfall," the chunky mentor chimed. "They made the difference on apparent touchdown drives."

Jones knows that the defense withered. The 10-man defense which the Bulldogs used effectively for brief spells boomeranged, too. The Harvester pulled in the tighter defense, then swept the ends in yard-gaining style.

Deception of the Harvester offense, particularly the ball handling of Quarterback L. H. Wright, often from the Bulldog linebackers, Jones pointed out. Midland defenders frequently were still hunting the ball when the carrier swept by.

"But we still have faster starters on defense this week," Jones said. "We know the abilities of the Eagles and realize that we have to do."

Midland has won, but four in a 10-game series from Abilene. The Eagles count victories in the last two games with the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs were whitewashed 30-0 in 1947 and lost 21-0 in 1948. The Eagle defense was good in those days, too.

Eagles Fear Estes Lost For Season

ABILENE—Coach Pete Shotwell sent his Abilene Eagles through a brisk drill Monday afternoon in preparation for this week's District 1-AAAA clash with the Midland Indians, and announced that defensive halfback Tommy Estes is "probably" out for the season with an injured leg.

The Warbirds came out of their close, 7-6 district win over Amarillo Friday night in top condition with Estes the only victim. The Eagles' left halfback received the knee injury early in the year and was playing in his second game since it healed against Amarillo. He intercepted a Sandie pass and was cracked hard on the play and a subsequent re-injury occurred.

First string Quarterback Jimmy Dan Bourland, also playing his first of the year against Sandies after breaking a hand early in the season, came out of the game unscathed and will be ready to go against the Bulldogs Bourland completed only three passes against Amarillo but is going to get a lot of additional aerial work this week. Game important.

There will be a lot of importance hanging fire in Friday night's Abilene-Midland encounter from a district standpoint. Both clubs have won two titles while suffering one defeat. Abilene's lone loss came at the hands of the Pampa Harvester, 13-7 two weeks ago, the same team that has a 38-26 district win over Tugboat Jones' Midland eleven. Abilene's only other loss of the year was a one-sided affair to Breckenridge, Defending Class AAA state champions.

The Eagles have taken both of their loop encounters by the slimmest of margins. Tackle Bobby Jack Oliver is the person responsible for it was his extra points that have decided the issues. The Warbirds edged past Berger, 13-12 on the margin of the extra point and then claimed the win over Amarillo on Oliver's perfect placement.

Coach Shotwell plans to work the Eagles at full tilt Tuesday and Wednesday with lots of contact work. The tapering off process starts Thursday. Shotwell said that the Eagles will leave Friday morning for the game.

Wink Proves Repeater Role

WINK—The rambling Wildcats from Wink proved themselves a solid favorite to repeat as District 5-A champions by clawing the Alpine Bucks, 27-13, Saturday night.

In defeating Alpine, the Wildcats kept their district slate untarnished with four victories.

The Bucks dropped to a second place tie with Iraan, both teams having one defeat against three wins.

Sammy Jimenez paced the Marfa Buffaloes to a 41-6 victory over the McCamey Badgers Friday night.

The Iraan Braves had to come from behind to top a battling Crane squad, 27-7.

The hapless Reagan County Owls fell, 47-19, to the Fort Stockton Panthers in the other district race.

Games this week are not expected to affect the district outcome much either way and none can be considered headline affairs.

This week's schedule finds Marfa at Iraan, McCamey playing host to Fort Stockton, Alpine at Crane and Wink at Big Lake.

Southwest Grid Crowds Hold Own With 1951 Season

DALLAS—A Southwest Conference football attendance is almost the same as last year.

To date, 21 home games have been played this season with attendance of 725,141. Last year for the same period 20 games had been played that drew 692,260.

The average per game this year was 34,530. Last year it was 34,863, meaning only 133 fewer per game for 1952.

Arkansas has shown an increase of 13,000 for four games in each period. Baylor is up, showing an average of 24,615 per game this year compared to 18,828 in 1951. Rice is averaging 50,000 compared to 41,000 last year and Texas is averaging 61,921 this year compared to 50,878 last season.

Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas A&M are under 1951.

The Giants of 1952 were the only club in National League history to hold first place from the opening day of a season through to the finish.

BOWERS OUT ON LIMB—Blue Jays Favored In Upset Victory

By JOHN BOWERS

Last week's predictions in the elementary school football league came close but two ties, the first this year for any of the teams, showed Friday afternoon and spoiled what could have been a perfect forecast.

At that, a 75 per cent average was registered, allowing one-half game credit on the tied contests. The Sam Houston Blue Jays lived up to their prediction of 30-0, going one touchdown better in defeating the helpless Terminal Termites, 36-0. And North Elementary over the Lamar Longhorns, called at 12-6, also was one TD off, ending in a 6-6 tie.

The South Wildcats read their press clippings and went on to down Crockett 12-0 but the score had been predicted South 18, Crockett 6, which was two touchdowns away. The biggest upset of the week was the surprising performance of winless DeZavala in tying West, 6-6. The tilt had been called a walk-away for West, 24-0.

Crockett failed to live up to the prediction of the week that they would be the first squad to score on South this season. But they almost made it, fighting their way once to the Wildcat four-yard line.

So at this point we start all over. Here is the prediction of this week: An underrated Sam Houston Blue Jay eleven will pull off the upset of the year, and bring South's undefeated, untied, and unscored record to an end. The Friday afternoon tilt is billed as the big contest of the season for it will crown the elementary conference champion.

North will have their hands full with a fighting West eleven, but should come out on top in a close contest. Crockett over Lamar is another game that could go either way, but we are sticking with the Crockett squad to triumph. And DeZavala, a vastly improved eleven, should gain their first victory this year over the winless Terminal Termites.

Climbing out on a limb on Friday's scores:

Sam Houston Blue Jays 12, South Wildcats 6.

North Elementary 18, West Elementary 6.

Crockett Elementary 6, Lamar Longhorns 6.

Pickings Slim This Year For Bowl Sponsor

NEW YORK—(AP)—Don't envy the sponsors of the football bowls this year. Their pickings are the slimmest in years, perhaps ever.

With new conference restrictions, the January 1 operatives will have to scrape the bottom of the barrel for talent.

Of the top 10 teams in the latest Associated Press poll, only two—Georgia Tech, No. 4, and Villanova No. 10—are open to invitations and Tech is halfway committed to the Southeastern Conference.

The Big Ten and Pacific Coast can put only one team each in the Rose Bowl. Others must sit on the sidelines.

Here's the bowl availability of the top 20 teams in the AP poll:

1. Michigan State, No.
2. Maryland, No.
3. Oklahoma, No.
4. Georgia Tech, Yes.
5. Southern California, Maybe.
6. Duke, No.
7. UCLA, Maybe.
8. Purdue, Yes.
9. Kansas, No.
10. Villanova, Yes.
11. California, Maybe.
12. Tennessee, Yes.
13. Notre Dame, No.
14. Texas, Yes.
15. Michigan, Maybe.
16. Virginia, Yes.
17. Penn, No.
18. Wisconsin, Maybe.
19. Alabama, Yes.
20. Florida, Yes.

The "maybes" above refer to Big Ten and POC teams which still have a Rose Bowl chance, but only two can make it.

BOOSTER CLUB TO GET STORY

What brought this year's first defeat for the Midland High School Bulldogs?

Coach Tugboat Jones and his assistants will review the loss to Pampa at the weekly meeting of the Booster Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

Motion pictures of the Pampa game will be filmed.

Games of other Midland football teams also are to be discussed by coaches.

Stockholders Talk Expanded Baseball

There was a good deal of constructive talk Monday at the annual meeting of the Midland Indian baseball club's stockholders. But the future must determine just what will come from the extended exchange of ideas.

The question of a new park occupied a big slice of the time devoted to wide assortment of subjects.

Sale of more stock in the club was suggested as a means of raising revenue for a new plant or expansion of the present layout on the Andrews Highway. Moving back the diamond and outfield fences was advocated in order to add more seats and increase the club's income. More space is imperative for the present park, the stockholders agreed.

Submission of a bond issue to finance a new park came up for discussion. Sale of the land as proposed by the city government and the eventual erection of a park on another site entered into the speculation. The stockholders reasoned that such a move depends upon pending action of the municipality.

Election of officers was delayed until a special meeting. Realignment of the directorate is planned. Officers are named from the list of directors.

John Butler, Barney Grafa and Zack Hurst compose a newly appointed committee to submit names for new directors. At least two or three of the present directors have asked to be replaced because of business or other reasons. They cited their irregular attendance the past season at sessions called for the directors.

Nominated as stockholders and potential directors were Peck O'Connell, A. B. McCain, Gene Brewer, R. R. Harrell and John Oastle. Present directors retained at least temporarily include Marlon Flynt, C. H. Shepherd, Dr. Homer B. Johnson, Robert M. Turpin, J. C. Smith, Foy Proctor, John Redfern, Paul McHargue and R. D. Scroggs.

Flynt served as president of the club which captured the Longhorn League championship last season by defeating Big Spring and Odessa in the Shaughnessy playoffs. It was the second Longhorn League crown for "the City of the Sky-scraper."

Fifty-one per cent of the stockholders were represented in Monday's meeting, either in person or by proxy.

Flynt and others praised the fine work of General Business Manager Horace Busby. The excellent support of other officers as well as Midland fans, both as individuals and business organizations, drew special commendation from the stockholders.

Retention of Busby as business manager is a certainty with Flynt expected to continue in his capacity as president for another year. Flynt's devotion of a major portion of his time in the interest of the Indians in particular and baseball in general was cited at Monday's meeting.

Happy Jay Haneys Set Midland Move

Indian Manager and Mrs. Jay Haneys and their two sons are expected to take up residence in Midland the first of next week. The happy Haneys have rented an attractive residence at 409 North Pecos Street. They are now living in Lamesa.

Haneys already has contacted several outstanding players in continuing efforts to maintain the championship calibre of the Indians. He and the front office will not wait until Spring to build the club. The national minor league meeting in Phoenix the first of December should record some trades designed to bring desired top timber into the Indian reservation.

Other Longhorn League clubs have been active in preparations for next year, too. The Artesia club has renewed the contract of Earl Perry for another season. President Steve Lanning announced also that Joe Bauman, home run-hitting first baseman, probably will return in 1953.

Rudy Briner, star catcher for the Drillers, may become a manager. Briner has contacted some West Texas clubs in this matter.

The Driller front office will campaign to sell 300 season tickets in 1953, along with 140 box seats. Only 100 box seats and 150 season tickets were purchased for the 1952 campaign.

Alex Carrasquel, who managed the Sweetwater club most of last season, is playing Winter baseball at Monterrey, Mexico. Alex, uncle of the great Chico, had several years in the majors himself.

Paris of the Big State League has recalled Charley Buck, Sweetwater centerfielder, who led the Longhorn League in hitting last year. He had a .382 average of 550 times at bat.

Paris moved to keep Buck from being grabbed off in the baseball draft.

Leon Brinkopf, the former Odessa, is playing with San Juan in the Puerto Rican League. He is due to rejoin the Chicago Cubs in the Spring.

Clyde Perry, sensational infield as a shortstop for Midland, is considered the hottest West Texas-New Mexico League prospect. Perry experienced trouble with his hitting in the Texas League before joining Amarillo late last year to knock the cover off the baseball in sparking the Amarilloans Blue Sox to the league crown in the playoffs.

Tom Hart, Big Spring scribe comes up with this comparison in cleaning the cuff of baseball notes:

In six seasons of play, the Big Spring Bronco have attracted 303,593 paying customers to Longhorn League games. In the same period, the Midland Indians have drawn 301,983.

Midland has always prided itself in being larger than Big Spring. (Right you are, Tommy!)

In six seasons, the Longhorn League, as a whole, has played to 2,312,614 paid admissions, has topped the 400,000 in attendance in each of the last four seasons.

The San Angelo Colts are still looking for a manager after considering Pat Stacey and Bob (Pepper) Martin. Some drum beating has been heard for the retention of Mark Christman, the gentlemanly first baseman.

Contract of the veteran clown, Al Monchak, has not been renewed by the Roswell Rockets.

Tom Jordan, who piloted Austin last year, is being mentioned as the new skipper for the New Mexico club. Jordan is a former major league catcher who doesn't play baseball for peanuts.

Hardin-Simmons Returns To Coast

ABILENE—The Hardin-Simmons University Cowboys, who met the University of Arizona at Tucson Saturday night, will continue westward this week with Lodi, Calif., slated as the next stop.

The Cowboys will meet the University of Santa Clara. It will be the first meeting of the two schools on the gridiron, but it will be the Cowboys' second showing in Lodi.

H-SU and College of the Pacific battled in an all-time collegiate high tie game, 35-35, in the Grape Bowl in 1948.

TWO REDSKINS BITE THE DUST

TRENTON, N. J.—(AP)—Two fighters stepped into the ring here Monday night, each hoping to win the New Jersey lightweight championship.

As it turned out, neither one did. The referee declared a double technical knockout in the fourth round after the two—Gene Takach and Charlie Slaughter—bumped heads, resulting in facial cuts.

New Lease On Life Nears For Trigger-Ready Nimrods

The time of year when hunters get a new lease on life is fast approaching—duck, deer and turkey season.

Texas duck season will open at straight up noon Friday, October 31, and informed wildlife men about the state say this season should offer some of the best hunting in years.

As for the Texas deer and turkey season, sportsmen will be able to cut loose one-half hour before sunrise on Sunday, November 16. The season ends December 31.

Midland sporting goods salesmen report an upswing in the sale of guns, hunting clothes and ammunition, and maybe the hunters won't be disappointed as reports indicate that the condition of Texas deer and turkey appears good.

As for rules and regulations, Texas hunters are to be allowed only two turkeys, with shooting hours one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. If shotguns are used for turkey they must not be larger than 10 gauge and must be permanently plugged so they will not hold more than three shells, including magazine and chamber.

Other acts unlawful are to: (1) hunt deer without a license; (2) possess deer carcass without deer tag attached, bearing date and place of kill and hunter's name; (3) possess deer carcass or green hide with all evidence of sex removed; (4) use the same deer tag on more than one deer; (5) kill doe deer, fawn or spike buck; (6) use a deer call, except deer horns, which may be rattled; (7) hunt at night with a headlight in territory where deer are known to range.

Midland Junior High Grid Schedule Full This Weekend

Midland junior high school football activity this weekend in the combined eighth and ninth category has a full slate.

The Cowden Bullpups, who upset Crockett of Odessa last Saturday 18-13, tangle with Lamesa in Memorial Stadium at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. The greatly improved Bullpups should have little difficulty in downing Lamesa.

The San Jacinto Mustangs journey to Broncho Stadium in Odessa to face Bowie at 3:45 p.m. Friday. The Mustangs, who showed convincing power in beating Lamesa last week 25-6, will be out to prove that they can defeat an Odessa eleven like their Cowden counterparts. San Jacinto gave Cowden a fine battle before bowing in an early season contest.

The seventh grade squads wind up their season this Saturday in a game against each other. Cowden and San Jacinto squads in that class have lost a total of eight contests this year to Bowie and Crockett from Odessa. The Cowden Bullpups defeated the San Jacinto Mustangs in a previous seventh grade encounter, and they are favored to win this one.

The seventh grade battle will be fought in Memorial Stadium at 10 a.m. Saturday.

'Bees' Meet Rankin Next

The potent Midland High School "B" squad, which fought the Lubbock Cowhands "B" seven to a standstill 19-19 last Saturday, will journey to Rankin Thursday night. There they will go against the varsity team of the Rankin Red Devils at 8 p.m. It will mark the third time the Midland "Bees" have battled an "A" squad, others being Big Lake and Stanton.

The young Bulldogs have a season record of three wins and one tie, but they have done well considering the experienced competition they have encountered. They lost to the Stanton varsity eleven by a close margin, and their other defeat besides those mentioned was to the Odessa "B" team. A hard-driving, determined group of boys, they looked good in tying the Lubbock Cowhands.

The Rankin Red Devils also were tied last week, when the Grandfalls Cowboys came from behind to knot the score at 12-12 late in the game.

Bernard Patterson handles the line chores for the Midland "Bees" and Keith Bobo is in charge of the backfield duties.

Spartans Hog No. 1 Rating; Terps Second

NEW YORK —(AP)—Mighty Michigan State, with three complete backfields and a 35-points-a-game offense, continues to roll along as the No. 1 team in the land.

For the third straight week, Coach Biggie Munn's monsters have been voted best in the land by 121 sports writers and broadcasters in the Associated Press poll.

Except for the second week of the poll, when Wisconsin held sway briefly, Michigan State has dominated the poll ever since the pre-season voting.

Saturday's 34-7 trouncing of previously undefeated Penn State brought the Spartans 38 first-place votes and a total of 1,042 points on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second and so on down the line.

Despite Michigan State's impressive gains, second-place Maryland crept a little closer on the strength of its 34-6 win over Louisiana State. The Terrapins, who trailed Michigan State by 50 votes last week, cut the margin to 26 as they piled up 33 first-place votes and 1,016 points.

Seaver's Gains Ground

Oklahoma, even more potent offensively than Michigan State with an average of 42 points a game, also closed some ground but stayed in third place with 20 first place votes and 850 points.

Behind the Big Three were Georgia Tech, Southern California, Duke and UCLA, all closely bunched, with these newcomers to the top 10 filling the last three places—Purdue, Texas and Villanova.

Georgia Tech moved up one place after bopping Vanderbilt, 30-0, while USC jumped two places, thanks to the 10-0 upset of California, last week's No. 4 team. The defeat knocked California down to eleventh.

The headers (first place votes in parentheses):

1. Michigan State (38)	1,042
2. Maryland (32)	1,016

Veteran Roy Blades Joins Chicago Cubs

CHICAGO —(AP)—The Chicago Cubs have added Roy Blades, veteran baseball figure, to their coaching and scouting staff.

Blades, 56, native of Mount Vernon, Ill., played with the St. Louis Cardinals in the '30s and managed that club in 1939 and 1940. He has coached at Brooklyn, Cincinnati and St. Louis and has managed minor league teams.

Little Expects Army To Join Titans In '53

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK —(AP)—Addressing the regular Monday meeting of the Football Crying Society at one of the better class banquets, Coach Lou Little of Columbia devoted himself at some length to a warning that Army will be back among the nation's gridiron titans by this time next fall.

As the Lion mentor indicated, this will be a quite remarkable feat on the part of Coach Earl Blaik as the Cadets now are only in their second season since they lost virtually their entire squad through the cribbing expose.

Despite the fact that the Lions gained a 14-14 tie by virtue of a and a pleasure to watch.

Little unhesitatingly classed Army as "the best team we have played this year." As Columbia previously had lost to Princeton and Penn, this statement took in considerable terrain.

Job Said Best

"The job Blaik has done with this set of youngsters is, in my opinion, the best he has ever done," Little declared. "That takes in the years when he had his great undefeated teams and when he was named coach of the year. It's no great thing to turn out a fine team when you have the material, but it is when you start with what Earl did in this instance."

"I heard Georgia Tech has a tremendous team, and I don't know whether they're doing much worrying down there about their game against Army next week in Atlanta, but I know if it was me I would start to do a little worrying. These Army kids have terrific all-around speed, they are beautifully coached, ditto on the Cowden Junior High."

Lorber To Manage Austin Baseball Club

WOLVES HOWL FOR RUSSELL'S SCALP

Doak May Return To SMU For Preferred Coach Duties

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS —(AP)—When a football team loses you can hear all about the deficiencies of the coach. Apparently he didn't have those deficiencies while he was winning.

The latest is that Rusty Russell, coach of Southern Methodist, received aid from Matty Bell in building a defense so SMU could beat Rice. Matty, you know, retired as head coach of SMU in 1949 and in charge of the offense, was advanced to the head man's job. Bell remained as athletic director and the story goes, he came to Russell's rescue when the wolves got hot-showered him a defense that would keep the other side from scoring all the time.

IN THESE DAYS OF PLATOONS Shy, Big Tackle Proves Iron Man For Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH —(AP)—What does a college football coach do if he needs a 60 minute iron man? Pick out the player with the most experience? The toughest guy on the squad? Last year's star?

Not Lowell (Red) Dawson of the University of Pittsburgh. His "iron man" is shy Eldred (Al) Kraemer, a giant 215-pound tackle who never played a game of football in high school.

But so far this season, the 23-year-old sophomore has played the whole game against Iowa, Notre Dame, Army and West Virginia and 54 minutes against Oklahoma. In these days of platoon football, this is unusual but Kraemer loves every minute of it.

"I wanted to play football in high school but we didn't have a team," said Kraemer. "In fact I only saw one game—a high school contest—until I entered the service."

"I was always big—that's no exaggeration—he's got hands like hams and a 6-2 frame and when I got the chance to play in the Navy—well that did it."

Kraemer, native of Clearlake, Minn., tasted cleats for the first time in 1949-50 with the Navy's San Diego Submarine eleven coached by Commander Slade Cutter, ex-Navy tackle.

Cutter recommended Kraemer to Pitt after he finished his two-year hitch.

And Kraemer hasn't let Cutter down. He was a regular in his freshman year and picked right up where he left off last season. In addition to his pigskin ability, Kraemer is a topflight heavyweight wrestler.

Dawson's eleven has a 3-2 record to date, including upsets over Notre Dame and Army and a 16-0 shut-out by an underdog West Virginia team.

Many Important Tilts Dot Class AA Schoolboy Card

By The Associated Press

The Class AA division of Texas schoolboy football has more important games this week than you can shake a stick at. There is little fiddle-faddle—the teams are playing for keeps in practically every instance.

Headlining the schedule are clashes between Quanah and Burkburnett and Anson and Stamford. All four teams are undefeated and untied and their battle will pretty well determine the winners of their districts.

Quanah and Burkburnett open the conference race in District 4. Anson and Stamford, each winner of two games in District 5, will be pushing into the heart of the conference campaign.

Huntsville Vs. Humble

Still another game matching unbeaten teams comes in District 20 where Huntsville, undefeated and untied, plays Humble, unbeaten but once tied. Humble is undefeated and untied in conference play. Huntsville will be making its start in the district championship race.

All along the line top-rated teams in the various districts will be battling each other. One of the most important games will be in District 13 where Terrell, a strong state championship favorite, meets the only other team undefeated in conference play—Pleasant Grove.

Other major games are Kermit at Monahan in District 8, Nocomo at Graham in District 12, DeKalb at Clarksville in District 17, Kirbyville at Jasper in District 17, Waco Tech at West in District 21, Killeen at Hamilton in District 22, Navasota at Bellville in District 25, Eagle Pass at Del Rio in District 29.

Seminole's Indians Remain Undefeated To Pace District

SEMINOLE — With a spectacular 24-13 victory over the Pecos Eagles, the Seminole Indians scalped their way to the District 8-AA lead last Friday night.

The Indians remain on the undefeated list with six wins and one tie, while it was Pecos' first loss in seven starts and the first in district competition.

The Monahan Lobos continued their winning ways by rolling up a 45-6 victory over Andrews. The Lobos tangled with a rough Kermit delegation in an 8-AA battle this week in a top-notch affair.

Three of the 8-AA teams have perfect records—Kermit, Seminole and Monahan. Pecos and Seminole have open dates this week.

With Kermit and Monahan to battle it out this week, the field of undefeated teams should be narrowed to at least two.

Shortly Southwest Conference schools still in the running for the championship will submit preferential lists of teams they would be willing to play in the Cotton Bowl. Only then can the Cotton Bowl move to obtain the visiting team. But it's good bet that Georgia Tech would be a solid choice of all the schools and it seems the Cotton Bowl ought to get busy and find out Tech's intentions right now. Last year the Cotton Bowl waited too long and Tech went to the Orange Bowl.

Top Service Grid Team To Play In San Angelo Benefit

SAN ANGELO—"Operation Football" will be the theme of the day Saturday when the Carwell Air Force team of Fort Worth and the Lowry Air Force team of Denver meet in the annual Optimist Bowl Game here.

Carwell, the No. 1 team in the nation so far as service teams are concerned, has been rolling over their opponents with amazing consistency so far this season. In three games the Bombers have piled up a total of 187 points for an average of 62 points per game against 13 points scored by opponents. Statistically the Bombers have rolled up 857 yards on the ground and 641 yards through the air.

Lowry is no slouch at the game of football either, being one of the few undefeated teams during the last season.

Every year the Optimist Club of San Angelo stages an outstanding football game between two strong service teams to raise money for their boy's work program. This year will be no exception. Reports coming from the advance ticket sales indicate that there will be a sellout for the game.

An outstanding program has been arranged for the fans before the game and during the half. A Drill Team from Goodfellow Air Force Base will present a program in precision drills before the game.

No Game Scheduled Friday By Hornets

The Carver High School Hornets, District 2-AA champions, have an open date this Friday. Defeated by the Wichita Falls Leopards 26-13 last week, they now have a season record of three wins and two losses. The Hornets will meet Lubbock in Memorial Stadium November 7 in a non-conference game.

Six SWC Outfits Face Circuit Foes

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

Associated Press Staff

Six Southwest Conference eleven meet in championship games this weekend with only Rice Institute meeting a non-conference opponent.

The Owls play Wisconsin at Rice Stadium Saturday and have turned to early scrimmage sessions in an effort to stop the Big Ten Team Coach Jess Neely's Bayou charges are expected to be in the best condition of the year for the Badgers.

The return of Bob Garbrecht, the Owl lineup was the biggest note of encouragement for the Owls.

Texas-SMU Set

Texas and Southern Methodist set for an important "scrimmage" contest, took to the conference route Tuesday after Texas took it easy Monday and SMU spent the day counting up injuries.

The Longhorns were due to spend most of the week on pass defense in trying to avert a Pony upset win. But the Mustangs claimed their chances received a severe jolt with five players on the injured list.

Duane Nutt, classy soph back from Corsicana, will be out of the SMU lineup for the rest of the season with a knee injury sustained in the loss to Kansas last week and four other top-notch players are sidelined for the weekend, at least.

The Longhorns are expected to be at top shape.

Coach Otis Douglas opened the week with a hard, long scrimmage session as his Arkansas Razorbacks prepared for their College Station setto with the Texas A&M Cadets.

Losers to Texas and Old Miss the last two weeks, the Porkies will try to bounce back at the expense of the in-and-out' Aggies.

Despite the injured right hip of kicking specialist Darrow Hooper, the Cadets probably will be in better shape for the Hogs than they were for the Baylor Bears last week when they lost, 21-20.

Bears Try Frogs

Baylor's Bears, getting set for Dutch Meyer's defending champion Texas Christian Horned Frogs, watched movies of their 1951 game with the Frogs and listened to scout reports Monday.

Earlier in the day, Co-Capt. Cosimo Bracato, Catholic point-kicking specialist for the Baptists, had a tooth pulled.

The Frogs, with an open date last week, were almost free of injuries as the week began and Gil Bartosh, 1950 talkback sensation, worked out Monday with the starting backfield unit and looked good.

TERRIFIC FURORE, DEAFENING NOISE— Battle Lines Sway, Buckle In Scrap For Texas' 24 Vital Electoral Votes

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff

Nixon and McCraw... Kerr and Shivers... Nolte and Daniel... Rayburn and Dies... Gilmer and Sewell... Connally and Porter... The Negro was terrific and the noise was deafening.

Texas was rolling like a juggernaut toward November 4 and general election day, a scant week away. The battle lines, drawn at Amarillo, San Antonio and Chicago Democratic and Republican conventions, swayed and buckled in the do-or-die fight for Texas' 24 blue chip electoral votes.

On the outcome probably hung the presidential election, the destiny of a nation for at least four years. A party in power, 30 years in deadly combat with a party fighting back from five straight defeats.

Adlai vs. Ike
It was Richard Nixon, GOP vice presidential candidate, touring Texas by plane and speaking in seven strategic population centers.

It was Allan Shivers at Breckenridge. And it was Bill McCraw in Dallas and Senator Robert Kerr in Wichita Falls. It was Mike Nolte at San Antonio and Wiley Sam Rayburn in Dallas.

Tuesday, it was to be Attorney General Price Daniel at Austin in another state-wide broadcast to tell Texans "Pendegast methods" are being used "to threaten Texans into voting for four more years of Trumanism."

And it will be fighting old Senator Tom Connally, singing his political swan song this year, speaking over a state-wide network Tuesday night for his beloved Democrats, the party that kept him in office 36 years. He speaks at 8 p.m. over the Texas State Network.

Gregg Crowd Large
Nixon, police estimates said, spoke to 30,000 Texans in his seven stops from Texarkana to El Paso Monday. The crowds ranged, the estimates said, from 1,500 at El Paso to 12,000 at the Gregg County Airport.

The young vice presidential candidate told his audiences that a "vote for Stevenson is a vote for Truman and Dean Acheson."

Senator Robert Kerr told an enthusiastic audience at Wichita Falls that Eisenhower "perpetrated a fraud on the American people" by saying he would go to Korea in an effort to settle the war.

"Eisenhower knows better than anyone else that if he were sincere and honest about this he would have to say he would go to Stalin," Kerr said. "Stalin holds the power. Eisenhower knows that Korea he would find only slaves and underlings."

The crowd of about 1,500 gave the Oklahoma senator several standing ovations.

"Eisenhower started his campaign making more speeches as a moral crusader than Carrie Nation," Kerr said. "Then one day along came a little whirlwind and ripped open the folds of his pure white robe."

"Someone tapped him on the shoulder and said: 'Ike, be careful. Your Nixon is showing.'"

At Breckenridge, Governor Shivers said Texans want a President who "knows he isn't going to retain Dean Acheson as secretary of State."

"Acheson is the architect of Korean policy that is one of the blackest marks against this Administration," the governor said. He told his audience the Democratic nominee won't say what he is going to do about Acheson if he is elected.

"Is all this a smoke screen to cover up Stevenson's intention?" Shivers asked.

William McCraw, robust former attorney general of Texas, had words of criticism in Dallas for Price Daniel, present attorney general and nominee of Republicans and Democrats for U. S. senator.

He accused the attorney general of misrepresentation in talks on the Tideland controversy.

And Daniel was ready to fire back Tuesday night.

His subject in state-wide broadcast, set for 9 to 9:30 p.m. will be "Will Texas Disapprove or Approve of Trumanism November 4."

"Pendegast Methods"
Daniel said he would answer what he called threats of political reprisals made by National Democratic Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

"I will show how Mitchell has adopted Pendegast methods in trying to threaten Texans into voting for four more years of Trumanism," he said.

Daniel also said he would show in his broadcast that a vote for Adlai Stevenson will be "considered in Washington as a vote of approval of the Truman Administration."

Eugene (Mike) Nolte, San Antonio club owner and catering service operator, said he considers General MacArthur the "only Republican on the November 4 ballot; MacArthur's name appears on the Texas ballot as nominee of the Constitution Party."

Nolte, a pre-national convention packer of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, indicated prior to the August 26 state Republican convention here that he would support Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

THE HARD WAY—Using his rifle as a crutch, this wounded United Nations soldier makes his way uphill to a medical aid station, somewhere along the Korean front. Someone has thrown a jacket over his shoulders to protect his open wounds. The soldier's features have been blanked out to prevent identification by relatives back home.

Write-In Campaign To Oust Parr Family Gains Headway

ALICE—The domination of the George Parr family in Duval County and South Texas politics faced more opposition here Tuesday with a write-in campaign gaining headway for the November 4 election.

Manuel P. Sanchez, president of the Freedom Party in Duval County, told the Alice Echo Tuesday the organization had decided to back openly a write-in campaign for Ben R. Foster, rancher-oliman from Freer, for Duval County sheriff.

Monday, 43 Alice women took sample ballots to show voters in their neighborhoods how to scratch out local candidates and write in others.

The women were told that persons doing the same thing in neighboring Duval County were doing it at the risk of their lives.

E. W. Carpenter, Alice grocer heretofore inactive in politics, presided at the meeting and said Freedom Party members were working day and night but were being intimidated.

Says Businessmen Hurt
"Men who supported the Freedom Party in the July primaries are being practically put out of business," Carpenter said. "The men who are fighting this battle in Duval County are doing so at the risk of their lives."

Sanchez, in his talk with the Alice Echo Tuesday, said Foster will run against Archer Parr, a nephew of

Hearing Authority Here For Clinic

George Parr who was named sheriff of Duval County by the commissioners court when George Parr resigned as sheriff.

The Freedom Party was organized last Spring with the expressed purpose to "rid Duval County of one-man domination."

Sanchez said the party will assist actively in efforts to write in Sam G. Reams for district judge and Mark Heath for district attorney. Both men were defeated in the primaries by men backed by Parr.

Mr. F. A. Fischer, a recognized authority on hearing, will show the amazing NEW BELTONE at the Crawford Hotel on Wednesday, October 29, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Mr. Fischer is a representative of Fischer's Beltone Hearing Service of Abilene and will have a complete stock of batteries for most makes of hearing aids.

Come in and have your hearing tested without any obligation and tell him about your hearing troubles.—(adv.)

Your Donations Of Blood Keep War Death Rate At New Low

Dr. Edwin F. Jordan, M.D.

Remember then that more than 100,000 of our young men have been casualties in Korea. Many of them have needed much more than the single pint of blood given at one time by a donor. But thousands are back in full health who would not have survived without blood transfusions.

Indeed, this is one of the principal reasons for the new record low death rate among men wounded in war.

But this is not all. The use of blood in the civilian population is of enormous importance. Blood is literally life-saving in many human diseases, and after many injuries or accidents. The fact that it is immediately available when needed has helped thousands of men, women and children utterly unconnected with the fighting front.

It is essential, too, that we have a good stockpile of blood in event of emergencies. If an atom bomb should fall, it might leave many thousands of people injured, and for them blood and its products would be the greatest single life-saving medicine. Much as we should like to, we cannot shut our eyes to this terrifying possibility.

This gives an idea of the need for blood, which is estimated at about 5,000,000 pints per year.

From the standpoint of the person who gives blood, there is nothing to fear. The prospective donor is tested before the blood is taken and if there is any disease present or any abnormality which makes it inadvisable to take it, he or she is passed over.

But for the normal person, giving blood is safe and easy, painless and harmless. It can be given three to five times a year, and when one considers the enormous benefit which this blood provides, such donations seem little enough to give.

Dispelling the Shadow of "Doubt"

Like doubting Thomas, mankind largely remains incredulous that Jesus' healing work was the action of divine law, and doubts that prayer can heal today.

This doubt can now be honestly dispelled. To any sincere seeker there is proof, ample, abundant, and at hand, that the law of God is still available for humanity's need. The Christian Science textbook shows plainly that God's healing, helping power exists. It shows how it is ever available to anyone who understands the same truth Jesus knew, which he directly promised would "make us free."

SCIENCE AND HEALTH with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy

This great book shows how to find for oneself this spiritual understanding, and how to put it to the test in daily life.

As one gains this priceless knowledge of the Christ, health and happiness ascend to the realm of unshakable certainty.

 Location in 600 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 8-14s-37e. Drilling is to be with a company owned and operated rotary tools.
 The wildcard is being drilled as a result of a deal worked up by W. G. (Bill) Ross and A. C. Holder of Midland and Lovington.
 They took a farmout on one-half of a block of 2,080 acres in the region surrounding the driftrate of No. 23-H Harrison from Sinclair Oil & Gas Company and assumed an obligation to drill the 12,500-foot wildcat.
 Ross and Holder then turned the leases and the drilling obligations to Wildfire. They retained an interest in the deal.

Rail Board Calls Recess In Hearing On Cree-Sykes Pool

AUSTIN.—The Railroad Commission chairman voiced displeasure Monday at the absence of witnesses who could give first-hand information on why 62 wells found dead in the Cree-Sykes area, Runnels County have been reported at full production.
 Chairman Culberson delayed further hearing after a two-and-one-half-hour session until 2 p. m. Tuesday to allow operators time to call in desired witnesses.
 The hearing is being held to allow operators a chance to show why their properties should not remain closed in, or in the alternative to disprove any irregularities so the commission can decide what action to take.
 The commission ordered pipe line severance in the Cree-Sykes lower Gardner, Cree-Sykes upper Gardner and East Cree-Sykes upper Gardner pools, October 21 on the leases of G. B. Cree, Saxon Exploration Company, Skiles Oil Corporation, Southern California Petroleum Corporation and Union Sulphur and Oil Corporation.
 Under questioning by Culberson Commission Engineer Mac L. Coker read results of his investigation in the pools from October 7 through October 19. Culberson's comparison of Coker's figures showed considerable more wells were off production than had been shown in sworn reports of the companies for the month of September.

Nation's Forests Crackle In Fires

By The Associated Press
 Half of the states of the rain-starved nation fought forest and brush fires Tuesday in what otherwise might be called pleasant Indian Summer.
 Popping in the under-dry woodlands like firecrackers, the thousands of blazes ravaged hundreds of square miles of wilderness and occasionally scorched farmlands throughout New England, the Midwest, East, Southwest and South. A pall of smoke over much of these regions warned of the peril.
 An assistant forest superintendent in Missouri said it was "the worst situation in 18 years."
Some Woods Closed
 There were similar comments from forest officials in New Hampshire and Massachusetts, which closed their woodlands to the public; from Kentucky, where 16-year-old boys were excluded from school help to fight the flames; from Pennsylvania, where suspension of the hunting season is being considered.
 Only in Wisconsin was the situation better Tuesday. Snow flurries had reduced the fire hazard by 20 per cent.
 An uglier facet of the situation was possible incendiarism.
 A Boonville, Ind., sheriff reported Sunday that three young men admitted setting fires "for excitement."
 A smoke blanket 9,000 feet deep in places lay over West Virginia where foresters, hampered by a rising 20-mile wind, fought 450 fires which have blackened 150,000 acres. More than a score of fires burned hundreds of acres in East Texas pine lands. A grass fire at Corsicana in Central Texas destroyed a railroad bridge and damaged another.

Midland Sets Pace In Air Traffic Gain

Midland Air Terminal led all other express-type airports in Region IV in the rate of increase in passenger traffic between 1949 and 1951, the Civil Aeronautics Administration reported Tuesday.
 Terminal handled 86,740 passengers during 1951, the agency reported, compared to around 50,000 in 1949.
 Only three other airports in the region topped Midland in the total number of passengers. Ahead of the Air Terminal were Shreveport with 134,354 passengers, Amarillo with 94,672 and Austin with 87,216.
 Passengers handled by the other airports in the region included Corpus Christi, 74,862; Beaumont, 44,546; Lubbock, 51,658; Brownsville, 28,076; Little Rock, 134,354; and San Antonio, 29,570.
 During 1951, the report received by City Aviation Director Clyde Sharrer shows, Air Terminal handled 88 tons of mail and 113 tons of air cargo.

Louisiana Brands Drouth Aid Denial Political Reprisal

BATON ROUGE.—Agriculture Commissioner Dave L. Pearce says President Truman's denial of emergency relief for 21 Louisiana parishes (counties) is only an attempt to punish Louisiana and whip her back into line.
 Gov. Robert Kennon, actively supporting Republican Candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower, requested federal drouth relief for the 21 parishes September 26 and followed it up with another request October 14.
 Under the law, federal funds are used in designated drouth areas to equalize the cost of livestock feed.
 Pearce said: "Louisiana is in just as bad shape from the standpoint of needing livestock feed as Oklahoma or any of the other states which are now receiving this assistance."

Truman Repeats Favorite Phrases; Cites GOP 'Smear, Fear, Slander, Mud, Perils'

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN.—AP
 President Truman said Tuesday the Republicans are trying to win the election by the Joe McCarthy tactics of "smear and fear" and "slander and character assassination."
 He declared that such tactics have been used against Democratic Rep. Gen. McCarthy in Minnesota and if they can succeed in his case "the rights and liberties of all Americans will be in deadly peril."
 And he took a slap at what he called the "one party press" for accusing him of "mud-slinging," saying that he tells "the truth" on the Republicans "and it hurts!"
 That was in an address prepared for delivery in St. Paul during a rugged day of campaigning enroute to Hibbing, in the Minnesota Iron range district, for a major address at 8 p. m. (CST).
 Truman didn't reply directly to a nation-wide speech Monday night by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) But he again criticized Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's endorsement of McCarthy's reelection campaign along with that of Senator Jenner (R-Ind.).
Hits Joe McCarthy
 "If the Republicans can't fool the people on the issues, by saying 'me-too,' they think perhaps the tactics of Joe McCarthy will get the people so confused and fearful and suspicious that they will forget the issues," the President asserted.
 "Of all the issues raised in this campaign, this is the most serious and the most dangerous. If Joe McCarthyism can triumph over a good man like Gene McCarthy, the rights and liberties of all Americans will be in deadly peril."
 He also said of the Republicans: "If they are startled by the words I've used in this campaign," he said, "they should be shocked and horrified by the facts I have brought out."
 "Instead of hurling epithets at me, they should be calling on their favored candidate to face up to the grave defect in his own course of conduct and in his party's record."
 He told the voters: "Do not be misled by the military splendor of a five-star candidate. Do not be misled by Republican 'me-too' promises that are sure to be forgotten when election time is past."
 "Above all, do not be deceived by slander and false rumor and character assassination."
 Truman said the big newspapers accused him of "mud-slinging" when he said the GOP nominee had surrendered to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, "but it was a fact."
 He said he was accused of "mud-slinging" when he declared the "fantastic cuts" in funds for military defense and aid to our allies proposed by Eisenhower involved "abandoning our allies and crippling our own armed forces," but "that was the plain, hard fact."
 He said he was accused of "mud-slinging" again when he called Eisenhower's endorsement of McCarthy and Jenner who "maliciously slandered" Gen. George C. Marshall "a betrayal of morality and principle" but "I stated the facts and I was right."

R. W. Smith, 83, Pioneer Ranchman, Dies; Rites Pending

Vietminh Suffer 4,000 Casualties In New Offensive

HANOI, INDOCHINA.—The Communist-led Vietminh was estimated Tuesday to have lost 4,000 killed and wounded in the offensive towards the Black River in North-western Indochina.
 French military sources said it is impossible to have an exact estimate, but before shoving most of their positions to within 15 miles of the Black River, the Vietminh suffered heavy casualties in taking bitterly defended French posts.
 French casualties were estimated at 600 killed, wounded or missing.
 Fighting between French and Vietminh forces along the northern bank of the Black River appeared to have tapered off Tuesday.

Pioneer Stephens Ranchman Dies

BRECKENRIDGE.—Charles Allen Stewart, 76, pioneer Stephens County rancher and father of Aline Stewart of Midland, died at his home near Ivan Monday after an extended illness.

Nine Dogs Attack, Kill Mississippian

PHILADELPHIA.—Nine ferocious dogs attacked a 47-year-old Mississippi farmer and killed him.
 County Attorney Laurel Weir said "all the flesh was gone" from William Pierce's left arm when his body was found in a ditch near here.
 "All the toes were eaten off his right foot," Weir said. "Part of the flesh on his right arm was gone and also flesh from the lower part of both legs."
 The body was found Saturday. Sheriff Madison Spears said the family of the dead man "would be satisfied if the dogs were slain." The sheriff shot all nine dogs Monday.

Mines Reopen As Unions Await Putnam's Decision

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Most of the nation's 350,000 soft coal diggers, heeding the order of United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis, trooped back to work Tuesday after a week-long strike over a wage dispute with the government.

Special membership meetings were called throughout the coal fields within hours after Lewis wired local UMW officials Monday to get their men back on the job. The almost unanimous reaction of miners: "Let's go to work."

A few scattered pits—in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois and other top coal-producing states—managed to get production under way Monday night. But resumption of operations at most mines was delayed by the meetings and safety inspections.

end and personally appealed for an end to the strike.

Lewis then fired off telegrams, telling miners they should resume production in the best interest of the public and themselves pending a final decision on their pay increase.

Both the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association headed by Moses had appealed the WSB ruling. They took their case to economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam, who has the power to overrule the board.

Union officials at Washington indicated they expect a decision within a few days. Putnam, however, indicated the ruling may not come for more than a week.

In the coal fields, UMW district officials and miners appeared confident they'll get a favorable decision.

Although only a trickle of coal was produced last week, the public and coal-dependent industries suffered no real hardship. An estimated 80 million tons of coal, second largest supply in the nation's history, was stockpiled at the beginning of the walkout. The estimated strike loss was about 10 million tons.

On the central front, Allied soldiers hurled back strong Chinese assaults at half a dozen key points and piled up the toll of Red dead. In Complete Control

Maj. Gen. Edwin Pollack, U. S. First Marine Division commander, told correspondents:

"I think we have inflicted terrible losses on the enemy. In fact, I consider one Chinese regiment destroyed."

"We are in complete control of everything we pulled back from."

AP Correspondent Milo Farnet reported from the front that Leathernecks were in firm possession of the Hook, a ridge line northeast of Panmunjom, and two outposts to the north.

About 1,500 Reds hit the Marine sector Sunday night. The Marines counterattacked and kicked the Reds off late Monday. During the predawn darkness Tuesday, they mopped up small hold-out units.

Allies Beat Back New Red Assaults

SEOUL—(AP)—About 700 Chinese Reds, attacking under the light of a bright moon, stormed into the main Allied lines on Sniper Ridge Tuesday night.

The central front attack opened at 11 p.m. without the usual preliminary artillery barrage.

The Chinese battalion launched the assault from a strong point on the northern edge of Sniper Ridge.

On the eastern front, North Korean Reds slammed twice at Allied lines on bleak and rugged Heartbreak Ridge. UN troops threw them back with fierce counterattacks.

AP Correspondent Milo Farnet reported from the front that Leathernecks were in firm possession of the Hook, a ridge line northeast of Panmunjom, and two outposts to the north.

About 1,500 Reds hit the Marine sector Sunday night. The Marines counterattacked and kicked the Reds off late Monday. During the predawn darkness Tuesday, they mopped up small hold-out units.

There is an important difference between aces and other cards, particularly when both sides need 120 points for the initial meld. Two or three aces will help you reach the count without using up too many cards.

Moreover, even if you seem to have no need for aces for your own meld, you have to discard an ace for fear that it may be just what the doctor ordered for the next player. In short, aces are practically never discarded before melds have been made.

This fact often has a bearing on the way you play your hand. For example, suppose both sides need 120 for the first meld, and you have a pair of jokers with three other pairs—kings, queens, and fives—with some odd cards to fill out the hand. How should you begin to play the hand?

If you choose to do so, you can put down the pair of jokers with the pair of kings, or with the pair of queens, or you can put down one joker with each. This would be excessively timid, however. Your best course is to meld nothing but to play for the pack.

The hand continues, and you eventually acquire a pair of aces in addition to the other pairs you had in the beginning. Now you must change your policy. You must meld the two jokers with the two aces.

This costs practically nothing so far as winning the pack is concerned. Nobody was going to discard aces anyway. You still have your kings, queens, and fives to help you win the discard pile; and your partner now has a chance to get the pile even if he is unable to meld 120 points.

Q—In a game of three-handed Cut-Throat Canasta, recently, I after making all possible melds I had left in my hand three black threes and a jack. I tried to meld the three black threes and discard the pack, but my opponents said I could not discard if I melded black threes. Were they right?

A—No, I cannot imagine where people got this notion. In all forms of canasta you are allowed to make a discard when you meld out with black threes. There never has been any rule against this.

When you meld out with three or four black threes it's exactly the same as any other way of melding out. That is you are allowed either to make a discard or not—just as you please.

VA Rejects Plan Of Moving Tuberculars Into McCloskey
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Veterans Administration said Tuesday it has rejected a proposal by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas that McCloskey Veterans Hospital in Temple be made available to tubercular patients now in the state's Weaver-Baker Hospital in Mission.

The agency's position was set forth in a letter from Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., to Shivers dated October 25.

Referring to a survey at McCloskey to determine if unused portions of it could be used temporarily by the patients in the TB hospital at Mission, Gray said:

"From the findings I am forced to conclude that there is no possibility of a successful joint operation of the physical plant between the state of Texas and the Veterans Administration."

The transfer of the patients' was proposed so that the World War II air base at Mission could be reopened. Weaver-Baker Hospital has been using buildings at the base since it was closed down after World War II.

Gray said he is having a study made of the possible use by Texas of part of the Kerrville, Texas, Veterans Hospital for some of its TB patients.

"Should this be feasible," he added, "it would be necessary for Texas to restore to habitable condition and reequip any building which can possibly be made available."

Optimists Reveal They Like Ike, Too

An informal poll of the club indicated that all members of the club prefer Dwight D. Eisenhower for President of the United States—except for one member who listed himself as undecided.

Times Hears Protests Of McCarthy Speech
NEW YORK—(AP)—The New York Times said Tuesday it had received about 200 telephone calls and numerous telegrams within 30 minutes Monday night protesting Senator Joseph R. McCarthy's speech and objecting to the Times' support of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Look At The Record
"There is nothing more important than leadership in Washington. There is nothing more important than to have a leadership which will guarantee that these boys of 14, 15 and 16 tomorrow will not be fighting in Korea or somewhere else."

Look at the record.
"Let's see. Seven years ago, Truman became President; it may seem longer, but it was only seven years."

Nixon then explained how he and Stripling had worked together on the House Un-American Activities Committee.

"He has probably done as much."

ASKS ACHESON TO STEP DOWN
BALTIMORE—(AP)—The Baltimore Sun said Tuesday a messenger is being dispatched from the Stevenson campaign train to Washington to ask Secretary of State Dean Acheson to issue a statement he will not accept reappointment if the Democrats win the election.

The Sun story was from Howard Norton. His staff writer with the Democratic presidential candidate's campaign entourage in Connecticut.

SPARE PART FOR HEARTS—Nurse La Reine Spain, of the Georgetown University Medical Center, in Washington, D. C., displays a plastic valve of a type which has been successfully used in heart surgery. The valve was placed in the aorta of the heart, to perform the duties of a defective exhaust valve leading from the chamber. The device stops any back-flow of blood, and relieves the artery of most of the strain of a leaking valve.

Nixons Visit Midland—

his wife passed long enough to stroll over to a parked ambulance and shake hands with 79-year-old T. H. Chaney of Odessa, who was lying inside with a leg injury.

As they stood on the platform, waiting for the crowd to quieten, a delegation from the Midland Young Republicans Club presented the dolls to Mrs. Nixon and an unidentified truck driver presented a shiny aluminum safety helmet and a pair of cotton work gloves to Nixon himself.

Throughout the crowd, scores of placards and banners waved.

"Stanton for Ike," said some. "Monahans for Mamie and Pat." "Kermit for Ike and Dick."

Then Stripling, who formerly was associated with Nixon in the probe of Communist activities, stepped to the microphone to make the formal introduction, presenting the vice presidential candidate as "a great and courageous and honest American."

Nixon, smiling broadly, expressed his appreciation for the music presented by the Midland High School band.

"You just don't know," he added, "how much better it sounds than that piano playing we've had to listen to in Washington."

"I just hope that after January 1, they'll be playing 'The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You' in the White House instead of 'The Missouri Waltz.'"

Then he settled down, serious now. "There's a lot of difference between Good Democrats and Truman Democrats and you Texans know what I'm talking about."

Truman-Picked Candidate
Nixon then described Stevenson as a Truman-picked candidate, adding that a vote for the Illinois governor would be a vote for the present Administration.

"Maybe Stevenson started out running for President," he said, "but now Truman is running him."

"You remember during the convention when Stevenson went before the Illinois delegation and he explained why he wasn't seeking the nomination?"

"He said he was not temperamentally, spiritually or physically qualified for the job."

"And you remember, Truman immediately said 'That's my man.'"

Nixon then began his attack on the present Administration Washington.

"Truman leadership has failed us," he said, pausing as he looked down speculatively at the youngsters in the high school band below him.

"Look at the record.
"Let's see. Seven years ago, Truman became President; it may seem longer, but it was only seven years."

He pictured the strength of the United States at that time, both militarily and strategically in the world picture.

"Since that time," he added, "we have lost our military supremacy and we have lost our monopoly on the A-bomb."

Nixon then explained how he and Stripling had worked together on the House Un-American Activities Committee.

He has probably done as much.

Zoning Board Weighs Action On Old Wall Street Dispute

The fate of West Wall Street is now in the hands of the city Planning and Zoning Commission.

And commission members indicated Monday night it would be several weeks before they will decide whether to recommend throwing the 14-block area open to commercial development.

The final decision, actually, will be left to the City Council but the recommendation of the commission will weigh heavily in determining the Council's action.

Spokesmen for both sides presented their arguments Monday night as more than 100 residents in the area crowded into the Council Chambers at City Hall.

Chairman W. B. Harkrider informed the group that an hour would be given to each side and the schedule was followed pretty well.

First, Attorney Bill Abbott, representing the Wall Street property owners seeking the change to F classification—which would permit retail establishments—presented a brief and a map showing the location of property owners asking the change.

Adlai 'Untutored,' Eisenhower States

WITH EISENHOWER IN NEW YORK STATE—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower opened a new line of attack on Gov. Adlai Stevenson Tuesday, asserting that his Democratic presidential opponent is "untutored in the tough business of world relations."

The general's comment was: "This is the language that invites war itself."

He recalled that in the past there were men who described the Chinese Communists as "harmless agrarian reformers," that is, people primarily concerned with land reform in China, and not Chinese political and military aggressors obeying orders on all counts from the Kremlin. Eisenhower said they have shown "some signs of progress in political education."

Then, stirring a storm of applause in Pittsburgh, he commented:

"There is something more serious in this line of talk. It betrays again the mentality that is completely untutored in the tough business of world relations."

He asserted that the present classification, restricting new development to residential purposes from A Street to O Street, was stifling the growth in the area.

People, he said, are afraid to build or improve their residences and cause of regulations, it is impossible to improve or expand existing commercial structures.

He implied, without spelling it out in so many words, that Stevenson is not qualified to deal with the Russians.

"My most solemn hope," he asserted Monday night in a speech in Pittsburgh, "is that men who talk this language are never allowed in the name of the American people to go to Moscow, or to some future Yalta or Potsdam."

Attorney Boyd Laughlin presented the case of property owners in the area who are opposing the change.

Most of them had residences on Texas Street, to the north, or Missouri Street, on the south, and Laughlin said commercial development of Wall Street will lower the value of their properties.

Pointing to the argument that Wall Street property owners are not willing to improve their property because of the fear that the zoning sometime might be changed, Laughlin said:

Easing Of Ban On Visiting Scientists, Scholars Asked

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Spokesmen for several score professional societies and a government agency have urged that Congress make it easier for foreign scientists and scholars to attend conferences in this country.

where the national welfare and national security will suffer."

Meyerhoff and Waterman, appearing before the President's Commission on Immigration and Naturalization Monday, proposed several revisions of the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Act to let down some of the bars which stirred a recent protest from a group of atomic scientists.

Probably 50 per cent of those seeking to come here for short visits run into difficulties or delays, said Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation.

Howard A. Meyerhoff, administrative secretary of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said that as a result American science is threatened with "becoming atrophied to the point where the national welfare and national security will suffer."

Meyerhoff and Waterman, appearing before the President's Commission on Immigration and Naturalization Monday, proposed several revisions of the new McCarran-Walter Immigration Act to let down some of the bars which stirred a recent protest from a group of atomic scientists.

"We need a man as President of the United States who can't be fooled by Stalin and Gromyko and all the others."

"We need a big man because we've had a little man up there for the last seven years."

Champ Lemon-Picker
"We need a man who knows how to choose men around him. When it comes to choosing men, Truman is the champion lemon-picker of all time."

One suggestion advanced at the hearing was that scholarly visitors be exempted from extensive security checks, questionnaires and other administrative procedures to which immigrants are subjected.

Less Than 3,000 Yearly
Waterman estimated that the number of scientific visitors to this country each year probably is less than 3,000.

He then described Eisenhower as "a great man and a good man."

"Let's have a Texan for President of the United States," he concluded, "and we'll have the best leadership we've had in many a year."

Immediately after the speech, Nixon and his party rushed their way through the crowd to the waiting plane and at 8:25 the ship pulled up its wheels and headed for El Paso and the final speech of the day.

Funeral services for Delbert Rutherford, 59, of Carrizozo, N. M., and former Midland County rancher, were held Saturday at Hereford. He died Friday.

Rutherford had resided most of his life in Midland County prior to moving to New Mexico about 10 years ago. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Harry Miller, Jr., who was in charge of arrangements, said he was pleased with the large number of persons who turned out for the speech.

"Everything went off without a hitch," he added.

Arrangements for the meeting were completed long before Nixon's scheduled arrival. Working with Clyde Sharrer, city aviation director, the platform was built Monday morning and decorated by members of the Young Republican Club.

Survivors include a daughter, Pauline Watts of Los Angeles and formerly of Midland, who attended the services; a sister, Mrs. Pete Crawford of Willard; three brothers, M. D. of Big Lake, J. B. of Carlsbad, N. M., and J. N. of Pampa.

After the El Paso speech, he returned to California.

"The only kind of deal I would make would be for the inmates to turn the officers over to us. Otherwise we'll feed them."

The warden said he would make no other concessions.

ADLAI AGAIN BLASTS IKE'S KOREA POLICY
NEW YORK—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson aimed his political arguments on New York City and New Jersey Tuesday after a wild and emotional greeting in Harlem which possibly indicated where much of the city's big negro vote will go in the election next Tuesday.

The Democratic presidential candidate was given the biggest, noisiest reception in all his campaign Monday night when he stopped in Harlem at the end of a day of hard campaigning in New England.

All day long, Stevenson slashed at Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower who he said may have delayed an armistice in Korea by offering to go to Korea, if elected, to see what can be done about ending the war.

He also criticized Eisenhower for blaming the Korean War on the Truman Administration.

City police estimated 200,000 persons had turned out for the giant rally and torchlight parade in Harlem Monday night.

Stevenson told the rally:

"I shall not raise false hopes—making cheap and easy promises—and by pretending that we have quick and slick solutions.

"You have recently heard the general on the subject of Korea. The general should know that the source of the Korean War does not lie in Korea—it lies in Moscow. And he should know, too, that the way to bring that war to an end is not through American dignity but through American unity."

Private, General Think Alike When Subject Is Home, Texas

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—This is a story about a private and a general in Germany.

Both of them are from Texas. One, Pvt. Donald Krebs of Houston, is low in rank, and the other, Brig. Gen. Millard Lewis, one of the highest in his position of director of intelligence for Headquarters, U. S. European Command.

Yet both the private and the general talk alike.

Neither wanted to talk about his job, or Germany or the war.

They quickly tossed off questions about any subject except the one dearest to them—"home."

"Texas," began General Lewis, as we sat in his imposing office in the vast I. G. Farben Building which spreads out like the Pentagon, "is a unique state."

"Ahh! Texas!"

He pointed out that none of the other 48 states enjoy such widespread popularity, and it is only when Texas is mentioned that Europeans get enthusiastic, with a standard reply and friendliness such as "Ahh! Texas!"

"I think the reason for this is the people themselves," the one-star officer continued, obviously enjoying the opportunity to "talk Texas."

"In Texas, the people are genuine. You always are glad to meet a Texan. They are real. They are different."

The general said the unique "public relations job" for Texas was brought about by every Texan putting himself in the role of state salesman, selling his home state "product," regardless of where he might be in the world.

"And the people buy this product," said General Lewis.

"They buy it because of the genuineness of the person 'selling' Texas is so real he is a good salesman. A Texan genuinely believes in Texas. And," he concluded, "I do, too!"

Just previous to talking with General Lewis, who is a short man with a Chamber of Commerce handshake and almost no hair, I had interviewed Private Krebs, one of those wonderful extroverts with a big frame, a big voice and big hands, he uses generously while talking.

Taking over in a room full of servicemen, Krebs expounded with a zeal that is all the merits of Texas.

In one corner, a New York soldier sat somewhat diminished by all the "selling of Texas." Finally, his envy showing, the Easterner remarked:

"I don't see what you think is so wonderful about Texas. I'm from New York, and I don't go around bragging about it all the time."

Private Krebs moved his 270 pounds near the interrupter. Towering over him and pointing one of those big fingers down at him, Krebs replied:

"You know something, boy—I just can't think very much of anybody who can't stand up and say he's proud of his home."

That finished off the New Yorker for the rest of the talk-fest.

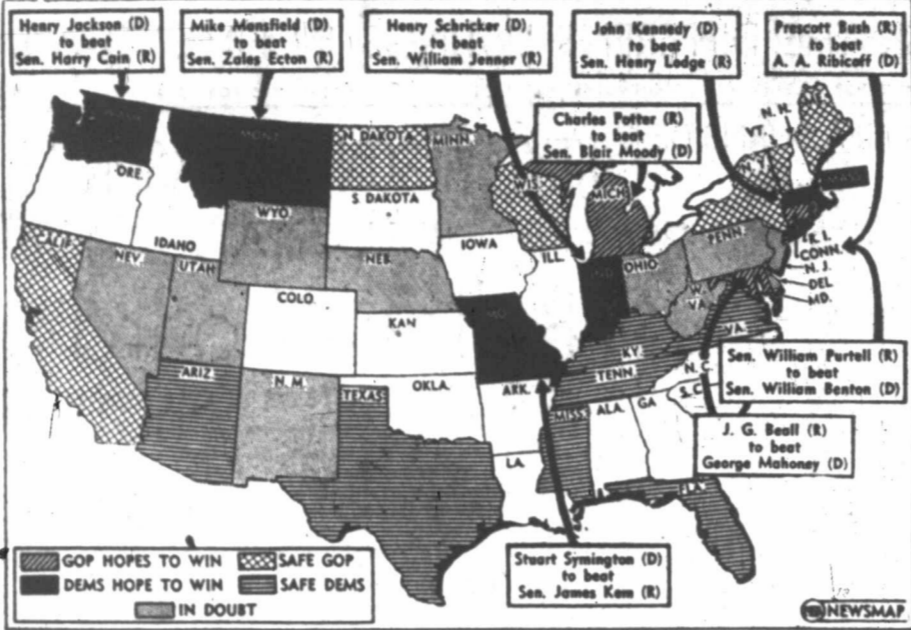

Private Krebs is the son of Mrs. Sybil Marie Krebs of Houston.

General Lewis is a Texan "by marriage and by choice." He married the former Dorothy Ray of Pettus, while he was stationed at Brooks Field. His wife at present is in Dallas with a sister, Mrs. S. F. Harrington.

General and Mrs. Lewis have three children, Millard, Jr., who chose to attend Pettus High School rather than any of the high-rated European schools, George Ray, 15, and Dorothy, nine.

SENATE CONTROL AT STAKE—Nearly as important as the presidential election, but always overshadowed by it when they come in the same year, are the senatorial elections. If the new President's party doesn't control the Senate, he will be handicapped in putting over his program. Above Newsmag shows Senate seats the GOP hopes to capture from Democrats and vice versa. States in white are those not holding senatorial elections this year.

LONG HISTORY OF CHANGING HORSES—Unpredictable Ohio Looms As Shiny November 4 Plum

COLUMBUS, OHIO—P—Twenty-five electoral votes from a state that swaps parties frequently will be at stake in Ohio November 4.

Intense campaigning with hot state—as well as national, contests has generated interest to such an extent that it is estimated a million more people will vote than in 1948.

It is no wonder that top figures in both parties are making Ohio a major battleground.

Starting with 1900 Ohio has voted Republican in seven presidential elections. Six times it has backed the Democratic ticket. It now has a Democratic governor and two Republican U. S. senators. It never can be considered "safe" for either party.

For Harry In '48

Ohio went along with Franklin D. Roosevelt in his first bid for the presidency in 1932, and continued Democratic in 1936 and 1940. Thomas E. Dewey got the nod over Roosevelt by 11,530 votes in 1944. Harry S. Truman finished with a plurality of 7,107 in 1948.

Ohio's 25 represent a cross section of labor, farming and big business. The state ranks high in national lists both industrially and as a farming area.

In 1948 the eight counties cast 33.73 per cent of Ohio's presidential ballots out of a total of 2,898,475. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown estimates 3,900,000 will vote this year.

This was a prize sought by both candidates for the presidency as they campaign in Ohio this year on a scale unequalled in recent national elections.

Tired Crews Fight 62 Fires Raging In Arkansas Forests

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—P—Sixty-two fires raged out of control through Arkansas timberland late Monday night, and State Forester Fred Lang said weary fire fighters might not be able to cope with the spreading flames.

Lang warned Arkansas that "the forest fire situation is out of control" and "your lives are in danger."

"Our men are at the point of exhaustion and our equipment is rapidly breaking down," he said. "There are no areas of our state which are not in a tinder-dry condition."

Assistant Forester T. S. Martin reported 43 fires were out of control in the rich forests of South Arkansas, where 8,000 to 10,000 acres were burning.

Another 19 fires raged over 800 acres in mountainous Northwest Arkansas.

Three towns felt the wrath of the flames. Fire crept into the northwest outskirts of El Dorado, but the blaze was confined with the help of a detachment of Boy Scouts before any homes were damaged.

Yellville in the Northwest also got a scare, but 400 townspeople aided by State Highway Department workers and foresters stopped a fire that threatened the city's northern limits.

In extreme Southern Arkansas, Martin said one fire threatened the hamlet of Vick. He added "no buildings or lives were in danger at the moment."

Martin said that a majority of the fires apparently were set intentionally.

"We believe somebody—or several somebodies—are running up and down those back roads setting fires right and left," he said.

Rising U. S. Crude Output Hits Another All-Time Daily High

TULSA—P—The nation's steadily rising crude oil and condensate production reached another all-time daily average high of 6,539,725 barrels during the week ended October 25, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

The week's total represented a daily average increase over the previous week of 13,925 barrels, bringing the Journal's figures on cumulative production for the year to 1,846,694,725 barrels. At this time a year ago it was 1,833,604,600 barrels.

Four states—Kansas, Michigan, Illinois and North Dakota—more than accounted for the net gain with Kansas topping the week's increases, up 8,100 barrels to 354,000. Colorado and California were the biggest losers, the former dropping 1,700 barrels to 87,100 and the latter falling 1,200 to 981,400.

Increases of 500 barrels each were registered in Arkansas, Kentucky and Wyoming.

Other gainers included New Mexico, up 200 to 172,550.

Louisiana declined 550 barrels to 670,825 and Oklahoma dropped 200 to 525,200.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 3,002,450.

CENTENARIAN PREFERS FDR

SEATTLE—P—Mrs. Agatha Hamill, 105, filled out her November 4 general election absentee ballot Monday with the help of her son Arthur, 65, who guided her trembling fingers.

When the frail, bedridden woman came to a presidential choice, her son explained that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was the Republican candidate and Gov. Adlai Stevenson the Democratic.

"They don't think they can beat Franklin D. Roosevelt, do they?" she cut in.

Which one she finally selected, of course, was secret.

Californian Sees 91 Per Cent Vote

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—P—An unprecedented 91 per cent vote in California next Tuesday was predicted Tuesday by Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan. That would mean a turnout of almost 5,400,000 for the presidential election.

Jordan based his record-breaking figure chiefly on the fact that more people than ever before—6,968,300—are registered for the election.

They include 3,312,668 Democrats and 2,455,713 Republicans, continuing the 3 to 2 Democratic edge of recent years.

Jericho, the walls of which were destroyed by Joshua, according to the Bible, is now a village in Jordan.

UN Awaits Soviet Answer To Acheson On Korean Question

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—P—The United Nations waited in suspense Tuesday for Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky to answer the massive American indictment of his country's part in the Korean War. His aides said the Soviet foreign minister wouldn't be ready before Wednesday.

Debate on Korea in the General Assembly's key Political Committee has been suspended since last Friday, when U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson delivered a three-hour "oral white book" accusing Russia of planning, arming and touching off the Korean aggression.

Delegates to the 60-nation committee met briefly Monday, but adjourned two minutes later when no speakers came forward. All other countries preferred to wait until after the Russian has spoken.

The next committee meeting was set for Wednesday afternoon.

There was speculation that Vishinsky may have wanted to confer with the Kremlin on some of the major policy points in his expected rebuttal of the Acheson charges.

Your Pay Goes On If You Leave Job To Cast Your Vote!

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—P—In half the states you legally can take time off from your job to vote.

In many of the others employers have been active in campaigns to get out the vote November 4, and a number of corporations are making sure their employees have a chance to get to the polls.

In some cities, plans are being discussed to stagger time-off-for-voting periods for workers so as to keep an early and steady flow to the polls and ease the usual after-work voting rush.

The 24 states with time-off provisions show wide variance as to how long, when and even who can have the privilege, and as to whether the worker gets the time-off with pay.

Restrictions Vary

One of the most general laws, the National Foreman's Institute points out, is California's, which enables every eligible voter, without penalty, "to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged for two consecutive hours between the time of opening and the time of closing the polls."

Many other states have more restrictive provisions.

A survey by the Commerce Clearing House, a law reporting agency in Chicago, shows that all workers are entitled to pay during this time off in 13 states. Two others specify the particular workers who must be paid.

Pay For Texans

States requiring pay for two hours for voting are listed as Arizona, California, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, New York and South Dakota. Three hours are granted by West Virginia; four hours by Kentucky and Missouri. Minnesota specifies the forenoon and Texas places no time limit.

Colorado and Utah limit the pay requirement to workers not on an hourly scale of wages.

In other states, laws vary widely. 381 many places where there are no laws on the subject, workers of some corporations will get time off this year and in many cases with pay.

Mexico Proposes Plan For Financing Pan-American Road

MEXICO CITY—P—A Mexican plan to finance the rapid conclusion of the Pan-American Highway has been approved by the Finance Commission of the extra-ordinary Pan-American Highway Congress.

The plan, elaborated Monday by Manuel Palavicini, president of Mexico's National Banking Commission, calls for long term bond issues in each country where highway construction is incomplete. The bonds, guaranteed by tax receipts, would be taken over by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Finance. This World Bank would in turn float its own bonds for the total construction cost.

The plan now goes before a plenary session of the congress, where its approval is expected.

It was pointed out that the Mexican plan not only would permit quick conclusion of unfinished stretches in Guatemala, Costa, Rica and Panama, but also offers a solution for financing prolongation of the highway in South America.

About 69 1/4 million people of the United States live in 187 urbanized areas which include cities of 60,000 or more and their suburbs.

ALL TWO DOZEN DIGITS DOOMED

LITTLE ROCK, ARK. —(P)—The six children of a Holly Springs, Ark., couple are to undergo surgery next week for removal of extra fingers and toes. All six children of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Brown were born with six fingers and six toes. Mrs. Brown, who also has extra digits on her hands and feet, said the biggest problem of 12 fingers and 12 toes is economic. She said everyone in the family has had to have extra width gloves and shoes which can run into money.

Quiz Of Bootleg Syndicate May Bring Changes In Law

By BOB BRAY

AMARILLO. —(P)— District Attorney Hermon Pipkin says wholesale changes may be made in the state liquor control act—because a proposed bribery deal fell through. At least, he says, members of the state House Crime Investigating Committee mainly will be looking for ways to tighten up the control act when they meet in Amarillo November 6-7, to give Texas bootlegging a public going over.

The bribery deal which collapsed without the exchange of so much as a pint of whisky already has been discussed at meetings here. Among those attending were a couple of widely known bootleggers and three agents for the State Liquor Control Board, who said they went to the sessions to "make cases."

Grand Juries Interested

Though the attempted bribe did not result in the $1,500-monthly payoff discussed, it did interest members of two Potter County Grand Juries and Pipkin. They dug up background for the full-scale investigation planned by the crime committee.

The committee, spearheaded by Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, will seek answers to a number of rather intimate questions on the booze business. First, the crime committee is expected to question a score of "dry area" liquor peddlers on where, how, and from whom they obtain their merchandise? Questions along this line will be aimed at adding weight to reports by Potter and Lubbock County grand juries that a sharply organized syndicate helps quench thirst in most "legally dry West Texas counties."

Roden Expected Witness

One witness is expected to be Tom (Pinkie) Roden, former whisky dealer from Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo. He appeared at closed hearings in Austin, then announced he was selling his chain of stores.

If the committee firmly establishes operation of the liquor syndicate, it probably will turn its attention toward trying to learn how it is possible for a ring to exist under the present Liquor Control Act.

For answers to this question, the committee will call a number of witnesses, including Coke Stevenson, Jr., administrator for the State Liquor Control Board.

Both the Potter and Lubbock County grand juries reported the syndicate apparently paid better wages to some employees of the State Liquor Control Board than did the board. The Lubbock body said bootleggers there not only got their whisky from the syndicate, but were furnished detailed information on whereabouts of liquor undercover men working the area.

Control Act Hit

The Potter County jury didn't simply complain of bootleggers bribing liquor agents. It roundly attacked the State Liquor Control Act as principal contributor to the trouble — branding it "a hotbed for corruption." The jury also charged "inequities" under administration of the present act and asked for amendment limiting the administrative provisions of the law. Carr, and other members of the committee which include Reps. Fred Meridith of Terrell, Chairman, and Charles Murphy of Houston, Horace Houston of Dallas and Bill Woods of Tyler, will hear a number of requests for changes in the liquor act.

One dry county area sheriff favors making a second offense of bootlegging or whisky running a felony—in the same manner that a second offense of drunk driving becomes a felony. Under his plan, offenders would be subject to prison terms on a second conviction.

Presidential Drive Is 'Flyingest' Ever

WASHINGTON. —(P)— The Air Transport Association presented statistics Monday to show that air travel has been used far more extensively in the 1952 presidential campaign than in any other.

By election day, the ATA estimates the candidates for president and vice president and the leading senatorial speakers supporting them will have flown more than 200,000 miles.

About half of this total is being clocked on regularly scheduled airline flights and the other half in airplanes chartered from association members. ATA represents the scheduled airlines.

The association's summary indicated the rival leading candidates are using air transport in about equal amounts. The two presidential nominees, it said, already have accounted for almost 45,000 miles, with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower having flown about 1,000 miles more than Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Balloons, sent up as high as 100,000 feet to study cosmic rays, often are reported as flying saucers.

NEW TELEPHONE—Mrs. Jim Hall, 419 East Maple Street, watches an employe of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company pre-install a new telephone in her residence. Connections with the central switchboard will be made in December.

1,700 New Phones Set For Operation Here In December

Preparations are being made by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to pre-install new telephones to be connected in the central office with new numbers during December, Bill Yeatts, district manager, announced.

Letters have been sent out to all waiting applicants, asking them to confirm that they still want service, but from many of them the company received no replies and have had to cancel the applications.

"People who desire service," Yeatts said, "should make their applications immediately because we are proceeding with the pre-wiring job so the telephones can be placed in service as soon as the equipment is ready." He added, "many persons undoubtedly have not applied, thinking that service was not available."

"We will add 700 new terminals on December 1 and 1,000 more the latter part of the month or around the first of the year."

Yeatts emphasized it will be impossible to give service immediately to persons making application. "We simply don't have the necessary central office equipment installed and it will be December before it is ready. However, applications made now will expedite the service as soon as the equipment is ready for operation."

The telephone exchange here has 15,463 members now in operation, or almost twice the number in operation when the dial system was installed last year.

MOTORISTS HIT IN NEW YORK

Midland isn't the only city having trouble with out-of-county motorists who fail to bring in their tickets for overtime parking. The New York Times carried a story last week in which a motorist was finally brought into New York City's traffic court after ignoring 53 parking summonses since 1950.

The judge gave him a 30-day jail sentence, slapped a $1,440 fine on him and prohibited him from driving anywhere in the United States for the next two years.

Alumni from 14 different states will attend the meeting which will feature reports by outstanding medical and laboratory authorities on recent scientific developments.

Midland Grocers To Display New OPS Posters November

DALLAS—Retail grocers in Midland County will begin displaying official OPS ceiling price posters November 3 in an extension of the Office of Price Stabilization's nationwide "community food pricing" program.

The announcement was made in Dallas by Frank C. Tomlinson, OPS regional food and restaurant branch chief, who added that the posters are now being printed and will be mailed in sufficient time to be posted by grocers before the deadline date.

On the same date, the OPS grocery price posting program will be extended in 179 counties in Texas, covering the entire state. Since September 29, "community pricing" has been in effect in a 72-county area.

BACK FROM CONVENTION

Fern Kelley, 1111 West College Avenue, attended the convention of the Federation of Insurance Women of Texas in Corpus Christi over the weekend.

in the northern half of Texas, and in the three south Texas counties of Bexar, Harris and Galveston.

Tomlinson said the official charts which will be posted in this county and in most of West Texas, list uniform ceiling prices for some 450 food items. The posters basically are the same posters which have been in use in northern Texas, but with some minor price changes and a few additions and deletions reflecting local food item and brand preferences.

"Community pricing" gets its name, the foods chief explained, because all stores of the same class have the same retail ceilings in an area or "community" where wholesalers are able to deliver to retailers without adding freight costs.

Tomlinson pointed out that posted prices give grocery customers an opportunity to see at a glance the ceiling prices on many of the important foods they buy. Also, the grocer is relieved of the task of figuring his own price ceilings, since this is done for him on a periodical basis by OPS.
