The interval tested was from 6,621 to 6,669 feet. Tool was open five hours. Gas came to the surface in five minutes and oil in three hours and 35 minutes.

The well flowed at an estimated rate of seven barrels of oil per hour during the remainder of the test. Recovery was 80 stands of oil and 12 stands of drilling mud.

Good Pressure

Flowing pressure ranged from 100 to 1,175 pounds and shut-in bottomhole pressure after 15 minutes was 1,430 pounds.

Operator may run casing.

The wildcat, separated from the Salt Creek pool by a 6,628-foot Canyon failure, topped the reef line at 6,619 feet, minus datum point of 4,460 feet. That made it 93 feet structurally to Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Knight, a Canyon producer and and one-quarter miles to the northwest.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

RICHARD M. NIXON

Midland Accords Record Vote To Ike; County GOP'ers Lose

A record-breaking number of Midland County voters stormed the polls here Tuesday to give overwhelming approval to Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard M. Nixon while turning their backs on all other Republican candidates.

The Republican presidential nominee carried Midland County by more than two to one as some 11,500 voters jammed the county's seven voting precincts during the day.

At the same time the Republican candidates for county judge, county attorney and two county commissioner posts were defeated although they chalked up an impressive number of votes.

Complete unofficial returns from the seven precincts gave Eisenhower 7,462 votes and Gov. Adlai Stevenson 3,153 votes.

County Attorney Reagan Legg received 5,735 votes while William Price, his Republican opponent, received 5,064 votes.

In the other races holding the spotlight in Midland County: County Judge Clifford C. Keith received 5,964 votes while Robert Jennings, his Republican opponent, received 4,767.

County Attorney Reagan Legg received 5,735 votes while William Price, his Republican opponent, received 5,064 votes.

In practically every race — even where the Democrats were cross-fertilized on the Republican ticket—the Republicans claimed a majority of the votes in that precinct.

All Records Shattered

Not even mid-afternoon showers could make a dent in the long lines of voters who patiently waited to cast their votes throughout the day.

By early afternoon, it was apparent all existing voting records had fallen.

The total vote far overshadowed the previous high of 6,300 votes cast in the July 26 Democratic primary

He was married to the former Miss Martha Jane Veach, Dec. 24, 1900, in Midland County.

At one time, Potter owned the old Llano Hotel here. He was owner of three buildings on North Main Street, now occupied by Grammer-Murphy Department Store, City Drug Store and C. G. Morrison Company. T. A. Fannin was the first renter in the City Drug Store building.

Survivors include the widow; three daughters, Mrs. Herd Midkiff and Mrs. L. T. Sledge, both of Midland, and Mrs. W. S. Crook of Big Spring; two sons, J. W. and Thomas J. Potter, both of Midland; a sister, Mrs. Lizzie Dublin of Midland; five grandchildren, and two great grandchildren.

Ike Sweeps Texas In Surge Of Votes

By The Associated Press

Texas carried winning Dwight Eisenhower farther ahead Wednesday as he split the solid South and rode a record surge of ballots into the White House.

It was the second time in history Texas had voted Republican. The first time was when Herbert Hoover won in 1928.

Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 10 a.m. from 243 of the state's 254 counties, 53 complete, gave Eisenhower 914,507 votes to 780,818 for Democrat Adlai Stevenson. At that time 1,707,218 votes had been counted and 53.56 per cent of them were for Eisenhower.

This gave Eisenhower a lead of 122,689 votes in Texas. The last previous count had given him a 106,240 lead.

Two Million Votes

Stevenson conceded the election at 12:45 a.m. At mid-morning, his Texas campaign chairman, Speaker Sam Rayburn, said he was preparing a statement.

It was a roaring avalanche of votes that swept Eisenhower into office and it was certain the total would reach beyond all estimates in Texas, in excess of a record two million ballots.

While the Texas cotton country, the Central Texas blacklands, the extreme southern counties and the South Plains, and Northeast Texas went for Stevenson, generally speaking, the rest of the state went for Eisenhower.

That gave the conquering general most of the big cities, like Houston, Dallas and San Antonio, all of which went for him in a top-heavy manner. He also carried the top of Texas—the windswept Panhandle—and most of the oil centers, like Midland County, Gregg County, San and was almost triple the 4,001 votes cast in the 1948 general election.

Precinct 5 in Midland was the first to complete its count Tuesday night but the job of counting the heavy Precinct 7 vote continued into Wednesday morning and it was dawn before some election workers trudged home.

Aside from the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates, there was practically no interest in the candidates of other parties.

Stuart Hamblin, the Prohibition Party candidate, received two votes. Progressive Candidate Vincent Hallinan and Christian Nationalist Candidate Douglas MacArthur received one each.

In the balloting to decide two constitutional amendments, both of them were approved by large majorities in Midland County.

Ike Invited To Use White House Plane

ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN — (P) — President Truman Wednesday invited the victorious Dwight D. Eisenhower to use the White House plane, the "Independence," for a flight to Korea.

Eisenhower's announcement he would go to Korea in an effort to find a way of bringing the war to an honorable end was a highlight of the bitter campaign.

"The Independence will be at your disposal if you still desire to go to Korea," Truman said.

Wires Congratulation

This first gesture of cooperation with the Republican President-elect was made in a telegram of congratulations which also invited Eisenhower to have a representative meet with Budget Director Frederick Lawton to go over the budget figures for the next fiscal year starting July 1.

The terse telegram was sent as Truman's campaign train, due in Washington Wednesday afternoon, neared Martinsburg, W. Va.

The message to Eisenhower: "Congratulations on your overwhelming victory. The 1954 budget must be presented to Congress before January 16. All preliminary figures have been made up. You should have a representative meet with the director of the budget immediately. The Independence will be at your disposal if you still desire to go to Korea."

The telegram was Truman's first official reaction to the overwhelming defeat of Adlai Stevenson, for whom he made 212 speeches in 18,000 miles of campaigning.

Ike's Hometown Declares Holiday

ABILENE, KAN.—(P)—It was New Year's Eve and the Fourth of July rolled into one in General Eisenhower's home town Tuesday night.

To crowds estimated upward of 3,500 gathered in downtown streets the whole evening, the announcement of Eisenhower's victory was the spark that set off the wildest jubilation ever seen here.

They danced in the street, they sang and they laughed into the early hours of the morning. By 2 a.m. the crowd had not diminished, the bands still were whooping it up and kids and adults alike had fun with firecrackers.

Mayor Amos Shivers proclaimed Wednesday an official holiday.

Superintendent of Schools W. C. Robinson announced that it would be a school holiday too.

Stevenson Leads Only Nine States

By JACK BELL
 Associated Press Staff Writer

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower smashed all voting records Wednesday as he won the presidency in a sprawling landslide that left control of Congress teetering in the balance between Republicans and Democrats.

Americans who liked Ike gave the 62-year-old war hero the greatest vote ever poured out for a presidential candidate as he foreclosed a 20-year Democratic mortgage on the White House and sent Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois down to crushing defeat.

Returns at noon from 121,259 of the nation's 146,361 voting units gave Eisenhower 29,124,001 votes to Stevenson's 23,470,798.

But despite the Eisenhower sweep through the length and breadth of the land—including a deep ballot wedge into the no-longer solid South—the two major parties fought down to the final count for what could only be a hairline control of the House and Senate.

Congress Control In Doubt

Republicans had a slight edge in the struggle to organize the two houses and thus control their committees. But there was nothing of certainty in the outcome despite the general's more than 5,000,000 popular vote advantage over Stevenson.

The fight was so close that the Senate might wind up Republican and the House Democratic, or vice versa. Or both Houses could go to the Republicans or to the Democrats. Absentee ballots, or an independent vote, might settle the issue in either House.

Stevenson, who conceded defeat in the early morning hours, lost his own State of Illinois, trailed in President Truman's home State of Missouri and seemed likely to have to content himself with the stonied remnants of once-impregnable Dixie.

He won or was leading in only nine Southern states with a meager 89 electoral votes. Eisenhower had cinched or was leading in 39 states, with 442 votes—176 more than the 266 needed for election.

Job-Hunting Starts

News of the Eisenhower victory was hailed in the free world's capitals as indicating a continuation of American policy of resisting communism. The stock market went up.

Democrats started hunting for jobs. And President Truman sped back to Washington from Missouri, possibly to invite the President-elect to sit in on policy shaping conferences.

Eisenhower, tired and happy after a strenuous 50,000-mile campaign, planned a 10-day vacation in August. (Continued On Page Five)

Elections At A Glance

This was the presidential picture at noon (CST) Wednesday: Eisenhower elected President by largest popular vote ever given GOP candidate, possibly any presidential candidate.

Eisenhower's popular vote 29,124,001; Stevenson's 23,470,798 in 121,259 of 146,361 precincts.

Eisenhower led in 29 states with 442 electoral votes; Stevenson in nine with 89.

Eisenhower swept key states in North, Midwest, farm areas (voted Democratic five past elections), several Southern states including Florida, Virginia, Texas, possibly Tennessee, Louisiana, and won border states like Maryland, Oklahoma.

Senate: 35 races—Democrats elected 10, holdovers 25, total 45; Republicans elected 26 (counting Morse, now independent), total 45. Needed to control 49. GOP picked up two seats from Democrats (Connecticut, Maryland); Democrats picked up three seats (Missouri, Massachusetts, Washington). Democrats leading two, Republicans three in undecided races.

House: 435 races — Democrats elected 194, Republicans 208, independent one, undecided 32. Needed to control 218.

Governors: 30 races — Democrats elected eight; Republicans 16 (gain of three). Republicans leading in five, Democrats one (total GOP gains if present leads hold—six).

PRECINCT 3 VOTES IN BEER

Midland County's Precinct 3, which include the communities of Spraberry and Midway, has legalized the sale of beer.

Voters in that precinct voted, 49-27, to permit the sale of beer.

Previous to the election, Precinct 1, which includes Midland, was the only commissioners precinct to have legalized beer.

MEET AMERICA'S NEW FIRST LADY— Mamie Eisenhower Has Had As Good Training For Job As Anyone Could Get

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON —(NEA)—What manner of woman is the nation's new first lady?

One thing is sure. Whatever Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower was, did, liked or disliked before, it's going to be a lot different for her for the next four years at least.

Mamie Eisenhower probably has had as good a preparation for the job as any one woman can get. But it happens that being first lady of the land involves a combination of responsibilities and duties for which there is only one adequate training course: the job itself.

Caesar's wife had it easy by comparison. Cornelia's job description didn't specify keeping above suspicion in an age of television, gossip columns, women's magazines, the League of Women Voters and the New York Dress Institute which takes it upon itself to select the country's 10 best dressed women. A woman in high position today can come under suspicion if her dress happens to be a half-inch longer than yesterday's accepted length.

Today's first lady is expected to be the living symbol of motherhood and wifehood to all the Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Brownies and Job's Daughters. Yet about noon each day she must also become the leading hostess or most honored guest in a town which has the fastest party pace in the country.

It's not easy to be your sweet self under these conditions.

Take everything that's been written about Mamie—and there has been plenty—and you can start from there guessing as to what kind of a first lady she will be.

For instance, Mrs. Eisenhower abhors the thought of making a public speech. When it comes to facing a crowd, smiling, waving and saying hello, she's the best. But the longest actual speech she has ever made contained 20 words.

For better or for worse the first lady has to make some public speeches—without her husband at her side. Mrs. Truman, with all her MAMIE AND IKE: She's always claimed her principal hobby is taking care of her husband. She'll have lots of help now.

Missouri independence and distaste for the public platform, quickly had to hire herself a public speaking teacher and learn the rudimentary tricks of the trade.

Mrs. Ike always has claimed that her principal hobby is taking care of Ike—to the extent, it has been reported, of buying his clothes. That's something Mrs. Truman said she did, too.

Unfortunately, the President of the United States is well insulated against a devoted, helping wife by Secret Service men, staff physicians, personal secretaries, aides, assistants and a fantastic burden of work.

The answer? The first lady finds herself another main hobby.

Stated hobbies two, three and four for Mamie are lying in bed reading mystery books, shopping around town for bargains and redecorating.

The simple administrative chores of running the White House preclude the time for reading in bed. They will also probably cut into her favorite habit of a leisurely breakfast of fruit juice, toast and coffee followed by reading the papers and writing her letters—all in bed.

Bargain hunting, another of Mrs. Truman's pre-first lady favorites, is denied the President's wife. Hagging over the price of a bit of feminine finery is robbed of its charm with two Secret Service men and a fast-food counter.

Eisenhower Win Proves Texas No Longer Is In Political Bag

By DAVE CHEAVENS Associated Press Staff

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower grunted and told Texans in mid-October that they weren't in anybody's political bag. Tuesday, Texas' rip-roaring fence-busting voters proved it. They swarmed to the polls in record-smashing numbers and joined at least two other Dixie states in peeling themselves away from the Solid South that was almost always a cinch for the Democrats.

It was a smashing victory for a strong, well-heeled faction of conservative Democrats here who have been arguing since 1940 that it is bad politics not to have something to bargain with. It also was a clear-cut triumph for Texas Democrats who have rebelled against the New Deal and Fair Deal policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn was unwilling late Tuesday night to concede that Eisenhower had carried Texas. He said he wanted to wait until all the votes were counted from all the country precincts before he had anything to say.

But you can be sure there will be floods of tough talking, head-knocking and bawling whenever Democrats, or people who call themselves Democrats meet.

The Texas independents will be in a position to do some turkey talking with the Republicans, too.

Shivers indicated in his comments Tuesday night that it did not for him. He said he intended to remain "an independent Texas Democrat."

That may pinpoint the net effect of the apparent Eisenhower sweep in Texas. It consolidates the conservative Texans into a powerful faction that may be able to drive some hard bargains at future national conventions. What their label will be now is uncertain, but their power potential will be something the National Democratic Party will weigh with great care.

One thing is certain. Democratic feuding in Texas may reach some new highs between now and 1954. Reputation of Adlai Stevenson by Shivers, Daniel, National Committee Wright Morrow and the state organization will give the opposing liberal Administration faction a fine target to shoot at.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn was unwilling late Tuesday night to concede that Eisenhower had carried Texas. He said he wanted to wait until all the votes were counted from all the country precincts before he had anything to say.

But you can be sure there will be floods of tough talking, head-knocking and bawling whenever Democrats, or people who call themselves Democrats meet.

The Texas independents will be in a position to do some turkey talking with the Republicans, too.

Texas' 24 electoral votes didn't swing the nation for Ike, but they might have.

National Committeeman Jack Porter of Houston paid full tribute to the vital role played in the Eisenhower victory by Shivers and Daniel. "Texas will always be indebted to two great statesmen, Governor Shivers and Senator Price Daniel," he said. "They put the welfare of their beloved Texans and their nation above that of a party label."

Shivers said the majority for Eisenhower was not a majority for a Republican.

"It's a vote for a man. It's a protest against Trumanism. It's a vote for an honorable peace and for better government," the governor said.

He said development of any definite two-party trend would depend on the results of elections two and four years from now. He would not comment on possibility that he might accept Republican nomination two years from now in opposition to Senator Lyndon B. Johnson.

Johnson lined up with Rayburn and retiring Senator Tom Connally in trying to keep Texas between the Democratic traces.

The campaign that ended Tuesday was one of the bitterest Texas ever has known. From all sides there was a constant flow of hard words, threats, and outbursts. The acrimony was worn throughout many a political lifetime.

Mamie Eisenhower—

That leaves redecorating. But the only trouble there is that it's against the law to do any redecorating in the White House without having almost every idea approved first through channels by the Commission of Fine Arts.

So the first lady can't have a hobby. But isn't there any fun being the wife of the most important man in the world? The answer to that is yes, if what you call fun happens to coincide with the rigid dictates of the job, like it did for Mrs. Roosevelt, for instance.

Fortunately for Mamie Eisenhower and in spite of the above mentioned somewhat unpleasant adjustments she is going to have to make in her new life, she has real talent for, and takes great pleasure in, much of the routine which will be hers at least until 1956 if she and Ike survive the strain.

Basically, Mrs. Ike is a gregarious person. She loves being surrounded by good friends. She enjoys meeting new people. She sparkles and enthuses in the middle of a gay throng. Small chit-chat and exchanging the latest gags with the girls can keep her enchanted for hours. She loves long afternoons of bridge and canasta.

White House protocol will limit and take some of the gay edge off of those activities for Mamie. She admits complete ignorance of "heavy" subjects like economics or politics. And a good share of White House company will be persons who seek a more intellectual brand of conversation.

Also, a first lady is so busy she has to devote less time to real old friends than to visiting delegates from the Federation of Women's Club, for example.

But Mamie has proved on many Army posts, as well as in Washington and Paris, that she can take those adjustments in her social life in stride, still keep the affection and loyalty of her old friends, and continue to enjoy life.

If she has a phobia it's irritation over malicious or idle gossip. It adds up to a social surfeit which is not instinctive.

By any standard Mamie is feminine, pretty and attractive. Five-foot, three-inches tall, weighing 128 pounds, she wears a size 14 dress. Her ankles are as trim as her figure. Her famed bangs are worn because of a high forehead. They have become a pleasant fixture above her pretty face. Her excellent coloring—which unfortunately doesn't show up in black and white photos—is probably her outstanding feature.

The betting is that Mamie is going to make a highly popular first lady.

Father-Son Teams Promote High Industrial Efficiency

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—(AP)—If a son follows his dad in getting a job at the same factory, the company gains thereby. That's the opinion of Harold S. Vance, South Bend, Ind., board chairman and president of the Studebaker Corporation.

He says employment of father-son teams cuts labor turnover, absenteeism and tardiness. And he thinks a family spirit on the job makes for better work.

Almost 60 per cent of the 20,000 wage earners of the auto firm Vance heads are members of family teams. One out of three are members of father-and-son combinations. Or, put another way, the company has 1,606 employs with one or more sons, ranging up to six, working for it.

Company records show fathers and sons worked together in the first Studebaker wagon factory. At present, there are 60 grand, father-son combinations and 12 grandfather-granddaughter teams.

The family character of the South Bend factory, Vance says, means that his company has no transient labor force problem such as sometimes plagues some other segments of the auto industry.

He also declares that the 100-year-old company has never had a major work stoppage and gives much of the credit to the family spirit.

'FOR BETTER FUTURE OF AMERICA'— Ike Rededicates Crusade, Thanks Campaign Helpers

NEW YORK —(AP)— Dwight D. Eisenhower stood there, solemn and unsmiling, holding a piece of paper in his right hand early Wednesday.

He looked a little tired. The deep crease that cuts across his nose, between the eyes, is an unflinching mark of deep feeling. He started into the hot, blue-white light pouring down on him and gestured—a small, almost helpless gesture—toward the crowd in front of him. It was a long moment before he could speak.

The people in the Hotel Commodore's big ballroom were frantic with delight and excitement. Some were standing on chairs. Some were throwing confetti, made from torn tally sheets, into the air. Others were embracing each other. The hoarse cries and the shrieking and screaming swelled into a frenzy.

Eisenhower tried again. Then, through the din, he began to speak. "I am indeed as humbled as I am proud," he said.

He looked straight out across the great throng.

In this moment of supreme victory, there was little expression on his face. The famous flashing smile and the animation were gone. He frowned again.

With his first words, the deafening roar subsided, and then collapsed entirely.

What he had to say was quickly and soberly said.

Message From Adlai
[First, he read a telegram of congratulations from Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. Then he read his reply. The storm of applause and excitement burst again. Eisenhower quickly stilled it.

His voice was grave. He was speaking slowly.

He expressed the hope of unity in the nation now. "For the better future of America, for our children and for our grandchildren." For the second time in the evening, the celebration broke out with even greater fury. He hurried to a suite in the hotel where scores of his friends and political associates were waiting. They had been with him all evening. Among them were Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Mrs. Dewey, ex-Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, and many others.

A large cake, brought in anticipation of the moment, was waiting to be cut.

With a small smile, Eisenhower said, "I have never cut a presidential cake before."

Martin County Favors Adlai

STANTON—With a light turnout of only 1,514 votes, Martin County gave Adlai Stevenson a 63 per cent majority at the polls Tuesday.

Stevenson got 952 votes to 562 for Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Democratic nominees for county offices were unopposed.

Cotton
NEW YORK —(AP)— Wednesday noon cotton prices were $1.30 to $1.59 a bale lower than the previous close, December 36.25, March 36.57 and May 36.67.

Eisenhower's Vote Breaks All Records

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Dwight D. Eisenhower was elected President with more votes than any man before him ever got. Tuesday's election also set a new record in total votes cast.

Eisenhower's total of 27,963,235 when there still were 29,697 precincts to be heard from gave him the championship, previously held by Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt piled up 27,751,997 when all the returns were in from his 1936 race with Alf M. Landon.

Tuesday's total vote between Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson added up to 80,639,071 with 29,897 voting units of the 146,361 total still to be recorded.

In 1940, the previous record year, the total presidential vote was 49,820,312. Roosevelt defeating Wendell L. Willkie.

GOP Forces Near Control Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican edged out in front Wednesday in the first for control of the House in the new Congress, and were in a nip-and-tuck battle with the Democrats for dominance in the Senate.

With 46 House and six Senate contests undecided, it was plain that whichever party finally won control would have it only by the slimmest of margins.

The party with numerical superiority has power to organize Congress, taking the major jobs, and dominant committees that shape legislation.

Here's how the contest shaped up at mid-morning:

Senate (needed for control, 49)—Democrats elected 10, holdovers 35; Republicans elected 10, holdovers 26; including Senator Wayne Morse, Oregon, who quit the party to support Governor Stevenson.

Six Races Undecided

In the six Senate contests still up in the air, Democrats are leading in Montana and New Mexico. Republicans were ahead in Kentucky, Wyoming, Arizona and Michigan.

House (needed for control, 218)—Republicans elected 199, Democrats 188, Independents one. The 46 House seats still undecided include 13 now held by Republicans, 28 held by Democrats and eight new districts.

There was a possibility the counting of absentee ballots in some states might finally determine which party controls the House.

In the present Senate there are 49 Democrats, 46 Republicans and one Independent, Morse.

In the present House there are 232 Democrats, 202 Republicans and one Independent.

Senator Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, center of a nation-wide controversy stirred up by his tactics in pressing his Communist-in-government charges, rolled to victory. So did Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana, another member of the Senate "Class of 1946" swept into office six years ago on a wave of resentment against a meat shortage and postwar economic controls.

Eisenhower Wins—

Strangely enough, Eisenhower proved stronger in some other Dixie states than in South Carolina, where Gov. James F. Byrnes endorsed him, and in Louisiana, where Gov. Robert Kennon backed the GOP nominee.

Allan Shivers of Texas stood out as the only Democratic governor whose state followed him in supporting Eisenhower.

The Eisenhower victory—promising a critical new look into domestic affairs but little actual change in foreign policies—apparently was manufactured out of these ingredients: the general's personal popularity plus the crumbling of the Democratic coalition of organized labor and the minority groups with the traditional party strength in the South.

This coalition, which gave Roosevelt four elections and Truman one, fell apart.

To the extent Truman made his Administration's record an issue in the campaign, the vote was one of "no confidence" in that record.

It could also be interpreted as a repudiation of the Democratic claim that Americans "never had it so good," in favor of Eisenhower's promise to try to build a prosperity based on peace and not, as he said, on war orders.

Eisenhower packed the Midwestern farm vote in his bag, apparently divided the labor union vote with Stevenson and swept the big states despite his inability to carry such Democratic centers as New York City, Philadelphia and Chicago.

His victory in Florida and Texas undoubtedly will be credited in part to his stand for state ownership of the potentially oil-rich submerged lands along their coasts. His sweep in Virginia could be attributed in part to Sen. Harry F. Byrd's statement that he could not support Stevenson, because the latter had embraced "Trumanism." Byrd did not, however, endorse Eisenhower.

In Illinois, which Stevenson had carried in 1948 by the greatest majority ever given a governor there, Eisenhower won with downstate votes when the Chicago Democratic organization failed to turn out the expected big majorities for Stevenson in the metropolis.

Nixon Urges United Nation, Joined For Peace In World

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Senator Richard M. Nixon, successful GOP candidate for vice president, urged in a victory statement Wednesday that all Americans "join together behind the leadership to advance the cause of freedom and to bring about peace throughout the world."

The young running mate of General Eisenhower spoke to a nationwide audience on television and radio shortly after the general made his winning declaration in New York City. He said:

"We want to express our appreciation to the thousands of volunteer workers all over America—Republicans, independents and Democrats—who joined in the crusade which has elected Dwight Eisenhower President of the United States. The result of the election is a great expression of the confidence and faith that the American people have in his leadership.

"In the natural gratification that we all feel at this moment, we must never forget the great responsibility that a new administration must assume in the critical period ahead. As Dwight Eisenhower has said on occasion after occasion, there is no problem which 180 million united American people cannot solve.

"Now that the election is over, let us join together behind his leadership to advance the cause of freedom and to bring about peace throughout the world."

Humble, Proud Eisenhower Hails Win As Dedication

NEW YORK—(AP)—Following is the text of General Eisenhower's early morning talk to the crowd assembled in the ballroom at his hotel headquarters:

"I am not certain, my friends, whether or not you have read or heard the telegram that Mr. Stevenson just sent to me. It reads: 'The people have made their choice and I congratulate you. That you may be the servant and the guardian of peace and make the day of trouble a dawn of hope is my earnest prayer. Best wishes, Adlai Stevenson.'

"Just as I came down to the ballroom I replied to that telegram as follows: 'I thank you for your courteous and generous message. Recognizing the intensity of the difficulties that lie ahead, it is clearly necessary that men and women of good will of both parties forget the political strife of the past and devote themselves to a single purpose of a better future. This I believe they will do. It is signed with my name.'

"Now, my friends, it is true to say that this is a day of dedication rather than of triumph, but I am indeed as humble as I am proud by the decision that the American people have made. I recognize clearly the weight of the responsibilities that you have placed upon me and I assure you that I shall never in my service in Washington give short weight to those responsibilities.

"To each of you here who has worked so hard to make this crusade a success thus far, to every man, woman and child—and there have been many children in it—throughout the country who have helped, I extend my warm thanks and hope that the day will come when I can extend that thanks in a more personal way.

"Great Debt Of Gratitude" "Now, all over the country there is still a more personal word of appreciation. The courtesy, the warmth of the greeting that Mamie and I have experienced everywhere has been something that is memorable—indeed, unforgettable. So to everybody this evening we feel this very great debt of gratitude. 'I also point out that we cannot now do all the job ahead of us except as united people. So let us really put into practice what I have tried to say so haltingly in the little telegram that I sent to my late rival. Let us unite for the better future of America, for our children and our grandchildren.

"And now, my friends, it has been a long and sometimes hard road, but it has been great to meet you people, to work with you—all of you—for a common cause. 'Good night.'

SECRET SERVICE MEN Move In To Guard General Eisenhower

NEW YORK—(AP)—U. S. Secret Service agents took over protection of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower early Wednesday, shortly after his election as President was assured.

A group of agents had been standing by at the general's campaign headquarters in the Commodore Hotel while the election returns were being tabulated around the country.

Once the outcome became apparent, the agents moved into the corridor to guard Eisenhower's third floor suite.

Dejected Oregon Senator Declares Ike 'Fooled People'

PORTLAND, ORE.—(AP)—Senator Morse of Oregon, who resigned from the Republican Party to support Gov. Adlai Stevenson, said Tuesday night, "Eisenhower and Nixon fooled the people and won the election."

In a telephone conversation with the Portland Oregonian, Morse also said from Washington: "The people allowed themselves to be fooled and lost the election. We must close ranks in the national interest by supporting anything the Republicans propose which will be good for the country, and fearlessly oppose Republican proposals which will endanger our domestic welfare and the winning of an honorable peace."

When the general left the hotel at 3:15 a.m. EST, for his Columbia University residence, the agents accompanied him and his wife.

Under the law, the Secret Service is assigned to guard the President and his immediate family at all times. The protection also extends to the President-elect.

Eisenhower, Former Army Fullback, Recalls Tackling Great Jim Thorpe

By WILL GRIMLEY
NEW YORK—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the President-elect, perhaps the most sports-minded Chief Executive in our nation's history.

As NATO chief in Europe two important. He is an avid sports fan. "Football is a tremendous spectacle," he says. "Remember I saw my first game from the sidelines with Gus Dorais (Notre Dame) throwing passes to the Rock (Knutie Rokne)." He told a group of sports figures at a New York tete-a-tete recently. "Today I can go to a major league baseball game and come away a raving fanatic." Golf is the President-elect's game today and he's threatened to go away and play 10 days of golf as relaxation after the strenuous campaign.

One of his regular playing partners in recent weeks has been Cliff Roberts of Augusta, Ga., and New York, who hosts the famous Masters Tournament in Georgia. "He hits a long ball off the tee," Roberts said. "He's a very good golfer, regularly in the 80's." Eisenhower is more modest. He says his figure is 90 and he has acknowledged he fired a 70 two years ago at Blind Brook in Port Chester, N. Y., and recently had an 82. Roberts was with him when he shot the 82. "He had a birdie on the par four fourteenth," Roberts said. "He had two good hits and sank a 12-foot putt."

Eisenhower carries in his bag a putter used by Jack Westland in the latter's surprising triumph in the National Amateur Golf Championship at Seattle last Summer. Westland, 47, ran for Congress from Washington. "He wasn't an outstanding gridiron star at the Point. He played fullback, did plugging duties and backed up the line. He recalled the game he played against Carlisle Indians. "It was a pleasure to see a guy like Thorpe running by," he said. "I was against Tufts in 1913 that Eisenhower suffered a torn cartilage in his knee, cutting short his athletic career. "It took five days to straighten out the leg," he said.

IKE ON THE FAIRWAY—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower always has been a sports enthusiast, participating in a number of different athletic activities through the years. He shoots a bangup game of golf. Baseball is another favorite sport for the general who also is a regular attendant at football contests. Eisenhower is known as an avid sports fan.

Stevenson Smiles In Defeat, Lauds Eisenhower As Leader

By DON WHITEHEAD
SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—(AP)—This was the sour and bitter morning after for the legions who followed Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson—and lost. The defeated Democratic presidential candidate himself admitted he felt as Abraham Lincoln once did after a losing election. Like a little boy who had stubbed his toe in the dark—but who was too old to cry and "hit hurt too much to laugh." Still, the rumpled-looking, slender man who was the Democratic standard-bearer could muster a smile and a quip even in the defeat that must have been even more disheartening to him than to his followers. The capitulation came shortly after midnight. Central Standard Time. At that hour the vote returns showed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower routing to a tremendous victory. At the Executive Mansion shortly before midnight there was a conference. The lights blazed brightly. Newsmen and townspeople gathered on the mansion lawn and peered into windows for a glimpse of the man in the drama. In his basement office, Stevenson met with these men: Wilson Wyatt, his campaign manager; George W. Ball, executive director of the Volunteers for Stevenson; Carl McGowan and William M. Blair, Jr., his administrative assistants; and William I. Flanagan, his press secretary. Solid South Cracked. The word already came that New York State was gone. Eisenhower had cracked the Solid South. Pennsylvania and Illinois and other key states were shifting to the general. And so the decision was made that the Democratic cause was hopelessly buried under a landslide of votes. Wilson Wyatt had held out to the last against any concession of victory to the Republicans. Others in the Stevenson command had already seen the handwriting on the wall—and privately conceded defeat. They felt themselves that Wyatt should have admitted the realities sooner. So the door opened in the mansion basement and Stevenson with his sons, Borden and John Will, and members of his official family came out to the Leland Hotel, where Wyatt had set up election eye headquarters.

A crowd of admirers was waiting in the ballroom on the second floor. Many were clinging to the bitter end to the hope that somehow, somewhere the tide would turn and give Stevenson the electoral votes he needed. Knew He Was Beaten. But Stevenson knew he was beaten. He had sensed it, an aide later said, from the time he was handed a news report that Paul Fitzpatrick, New York State Democratic chairman, had conceded the state to Eisenhower, with its big chunk of 45 electoral votes. And then Col. Jacob Arvey of Chicago—Illinois Democratic national committeeman—who had sponsored Stevenson's entry into politics, conceded Illinois to the Eisenhower forces. Stevenson came through a back entrance and walked upstairs to the ballroom. The crowd broke into cheers. They began chanting, "We want Stevenson!" and he gave them a big grin. He looked relaxed and at ease. That was it. That was the concession of defeat. The reporters broke out of the room in a run for telephones to signal the concession. Stevenson went on talking. He said of Eisenhower—the man whom he had attacked so bitterly in recent weeks: "General Eisenhower has been a great leader in war. He has been a vigorous and valiant opponent in the campaign. These qualities will now be dedicated to leading us all through the next four years. "It is a traditionally American to fight hard before an election. It is equally traditional to close ranks as soon as the people have spoken. From the depths of my heart I thank all of my party, and all of those independents and Republicans who supported Senator Sparkman and me. "That which unites us as American citizens is far greater than that which divides us as political partisans. I urge you all to give to General Eisenhower the support he still needs to carry out the great tasks that lie before him. I pledge him mine."

Christian Nationalist: MacArthur—Kellems 296. Constitutional: MacArthur—Tenney 298. Amendments: Workmen's insurance—approval 425,307, against 286,828. Medical education fund—approval 340,668, against 341,235.

Funeral Rites Set For Mrs. Crow, 76, Pioneer Of Andrews

Raymond Van Zandt, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. Everett S. Martin of the First Baptist Church. Interment will be in the Andrews County Cemetery. Mrs. Crow died at 4 a.m. Tuesday at the Permian General Hospital after an extended illness. Residing in Aspermont prior to moving to West Texas, Mrs. Crow lived in Midland a year before moving to Andrews in 1929. Survivors include the husband, J. T. Crow; three daughters, Mrs. H. Stipanich and Mrs. John Bielby of Midland and Mrs. R. W. Wheat of Andrews; three sons, Joe and Don of Santa Cruz, Calif., and Alvin of Missoula, Mont.; a sister, Mrs. Sudie McGinty of Aspermont; six grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. The Housing and Home Finance Agency said the counties are Dallas, Hartley, Oldham, Randall, Terry, Bowie, Gregg, Rush, Pecos, Nacogoches, Burleson, Washington, Montgomery, Walker, Trinity, Angelina, Falls and Bell. Previously, 173 counties in Texas had been made eligible for such aid. Read The Classifieds.

Republicans May Capture 21 Gubernatorial Offices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republicans Wednesday swept toward possibly their biggest margin of power in state capitals since 1929, winning or leading in 21 of 39 gubernatorial races. The GOP triumph in Tuesday's elections—if present trends continue—would capture six governors' seats now held by Democrats. Fifteen Democratic governorships were at stake. Meanwhile, Republicans won or held a lead in all the 15 contested states where Republicans already control the statehouse. But several of the races were still very close. The upshot could be to increase the number of Republican governors from the present 25 to 31; Democrats would drop back from control of 23 statehouses to 17. A 31 to 17 count for Republicans would match the GOP margin in 1929. Governorships usually carry enormous powers over patronage and political organizations at the local level—powers that can affect national races. Democrats found solace only in Ohio, where Gov. Frank J. Lausche rolled to an unprecedented fourth term over Republican Charles F. Taft, younger brother of Senator Robert A. Taft. Nationally known Democrats were being washed under by the Republican tide in returns from these three states: Illinois—L. Gov. Seward P. Dixon, Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's choice to succeed him in the Springfield Executive Mansion, lost to Republican William O. Stratton after leading through the night. Massachusetts—Portly Gov. Paul A. Dever, keynote at the Democratic national convention, fell narrowly behind after also holding a

Midland B Plays Odessa Saturday

The Midland B squad will battle it Saturday night at Memorial Stadium in their second encounter this season with the Odessa Bees. It will be another test of the Midland version of the single wing formation against the straight T used by the Odessa outfit. In their first struggle with the Odessa team, Midland B held the foe to a 7-7 tie at halftime, and then were submerged 33-13 in the second half. No injuries are reported on the Midland squad, and the team is expected to be at full strength for the tussle. The main Bulldog eleven is off duty this week, so there will be none of the B players drafted for service with them. Sometimes the boys in the B category are used for the Bulldog contacts. Margins Close. The Midland B aggregation has lost three other games this season, but they were all against variety teams of other schools. Two of the three were dropped by close margins. The Best performance of the Bees was a 19-19 tie against the Lubbock Cowhands, another B team. They looked good in the contest, and came close to turning the tie into victory. Coach Keith Bobo tutors the backfield of Midland Bees, and Coach B. M. (Pat) Patterson is in charge of the forward wall. Tickets for the game with Odessa are priced at 80 cents for adults and 30 cents for students. Game time is at 7:30 p.m.

Keep The Tideland Association Pleased With Ike's Election

Election of General Dwight Eisenhower as the next President of the United States brought statements of elation Wednesday from Keep the Tideland Association leaders in Midland. "It is gratifying the manner in which the voters of Texas and the nation came to the aid of the Tideland," Lloyd Inzerarity, secretary-treasurer of the state organization, declared. "Executive officers of Keep the Tideland Association over Texas are greatly cheered and encouraged with the presidential election results." But Inzerarity cautioned that the Tideland battle is "far from won." He warned against apathy and indifference now that "the first milestone has been successfully passed." "We must continue to educate the people as to the facts involved in the Tideland controversy," he said. Inzerarity and other state officers pledged that the Tideland organization will continue to function actively until Congress passes the necessary legislation returning the Tideland to state ownership. Truman's Home Box Gives Ike Majority. INDEPENDENCE, MO.—(AP)—President Truman's home precinct here gave Eisenhower 197 votes to 124 for Stevenson in the presidential election Tuesday. That was almost a direct reversal of the 1948 vote. The precinct then gave Truman 197 votes to 135 for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

New Rumors Buzz Snavelly Due Axe

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—(AP)—The men closest to the situation professed to know nothing about the matter, but the rumor mill buzzed anew Wednesday with reports that Carl Snavelly was on his way out as head football coach of the victory-starved North Carolina team. A year ago Snavelly was said to be headed away from the Chapel Hill school, but he stayed on and George Barclay was brought down from his head coaching post at Washington and Lee to help install the split-T system in a radical departure from Snavelly's long-favored single wing style.

Golfing Star Faces Paternity Charges

TOLEDO—(AP)—Frank Stranahan, internationally known amateur golfing star, surrendered at county jail Wednesday on a paternity charge filed by Irene Buchelle. Stranahan posted $300 cash bail and was released pending hearing, a date for which was not set immediately. Miss Buchelle, 24, and a stunning beauty, filed an affidavit last Wednesday in domestic relations court charging Stranahan is the father of a daughter born to her last April 11. TCU Frogs Look Ahead To Steers

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Texas Christian will play Texas—er, Wake Forest—this week. Don't get confused, too. What was meant was that while the Horned Frogs will be meeting Wake Forest on the gridiron they actually will be playing Texas—that is, in the minds of the players. The Wake Forest game doesn't count anything but the big one comes November 15 when the Frogs meet ancient enemy Texas. The way things are shaping up that might be TCU's last game of the season.

Texas leads the Southwest Conference race with three victories against no defeats and is a top-heavy favorite to win the title. It plays Baylor at Waco Saturday. Bowl Bid Seen If—But the Frogs, with a conference record of one victory and two ties, could still horn into the picture and might even get the Cotton Bowl spot if—It's a big "if." Their record gives the Christians a mark of two loop victories and one defeat (the games count a half game won and a half lost). Thus, if they could best Texas as an stake their two remaining games against Rice and Southern Methodist, they could tie for the title—but still get the bowl bid since they would have defeated the other co-champion. "We'll have to win 'em all," grinned Coach Dutch Meyer, "and that means Texas, of course."

Ex-Midland Indian Gets Hitting Title

AMARILLO—(AP)—Pat Lorenzo was declared batting champion of the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league Wednesday on orders of Minor League Commissioner George Trautman. Lorenzo finished with a .415 average on 144 hits in 347 times at bat in 85 games. He now holds the title previously given his teammate, Windy Eldridge of Borger. Eldridge was declared the winner with a .363 average on 189 hits in 520 times at bat in 136 games. The award was made to him on the basis of a rule that the batting championship be awarded only if the batter is charged with a number of times at bat determined by multiplying the number of games scheduled by 2.5, a figure that equals 369. Trautman ruled that had Lorenzo been charged with enough more times at bat to raise his season's total to 369—in his case 22—without being credited with a hit, his average would still be higher than that of Eldridge. Lorenzo played 40 games with Lamson before being traded to Borger. He went to Lamson from Midland in the Longhorn League.

Kermit Team In Spotlight

KERMIT—With two wins, the Kermit Yellow Jackets hold the spotlight in District 8-AA, having walloped the Monahans Lobos 13-6 last week. In a non-district battle, the Andrews Mustangs lost to Sudan, 26-13. The Mustangs will doubtless be on the short end of the score again this Friday night when they challenge the Seminole Indians. Seminole showed amazing power in their lone district battle with Pecos by winning, 34-13. Pecos will attempt to knock off the Kermit Yellow Jackets this Friday in a district tussle that should provide fans with plenty of thrills.

Gridders Receive Anti-Polio Drug

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y.—(AP)—All 30 members of the Binghamton High School football squad Tuesday were given injections of gamma globulin, a new drug used to combat infantile paralysis infection. Murray Heifer, 17, guard on the team, is receiving treatment for polio.

Pro Dallas Texans Plan New Appeal For Financial Aid

DALLAS—(AP)—A last-ditch appeal to a select group of Dallas civic leaders is planned by the Dallas Texans, the professional football club that's on the verge of bankruptcy. The five trustees of the hapless Texans, who have lost around $250,000 this season, met Wednesday to map plans for their appeal for a loan that will allow the club to finish the season. The Dallas Citizens Council, a group of civic leaders, turned the Texans down when they applied for a loan Monday. The new appeal will be to a number of hand-picked Dallas business leaders.

Light Rain Eases Spirits, But Land Thirsts For More

Land and surrounding territory received light rain Tuesday as moisture picked Texas' searing drought. The CAA gauge at the Midland Air Terminal recorded only .02 inches but the city received as much as an estimated .20 inches in some sectors. A heavy fog moved in Tuesday night, slowing traffic on municipal streets and area highways. Some West Texas points reported drizzles throughout Tuesday. Voters stood in heavy showers at times to cast presidential election ballots. McCamey had light rain all day. Snyder received .25 inches. Big Lake 10; Wink 11; Odessa 25; Fort Stockton 13; Big Spring .66; and Sterling City one inch. Most of the Midland country warmed under clear skies Wednesday. Is Or Tears? Over the state, the Associated Press reported elated Republicans put tongues in cheek and claimed the rain was a "bonus."

A doleful Democrat claimed it was merely heaven weeping at the defeat of Gov. Adlai Stevenson. Temperatures ranged from freezing at Lubbock to a comfortable 66 at Laredo early Wednesday. Lubbock reporting an early morning temperature of 30 degrees. Generally temperatures were in the mid and high 30's in West Texas and the Panhandle, ranging from 40 to 60 elsewhere. The forecast was for mostly cloudy and warmer weather in East Texas, with occasional light rain in the north section. In West Texas, it was for partly cloudy, a little warmer. West Texas and the Panhandle seared by months of drought, still had no rain and skies were clear. But the Weather Bureau reported cloudy skies for most of East, Central and South Texas. Still Not Enough. Most Texans took heart at even light rain. Tuesday, traces of rain were reported for the first time since Texarkana had .02 inches October 13. Then Wednesday, the light fall spread. The Weather Bureau reported rainfall for the 24-hour period ending at 8:30 a.m. of 13 in at Dallas, Fort Worth, 35, Junction, 22, Waco, 24, Lufkin, 20, Salt Flat, 22, Wink, 11, Galveston, 10, Houston, .03, Tyler, .03, Austin, .01. Whether the light rain would have any effect on forest fires in East Texas still was not known. Smoke from these fires made visibility difficult early Wednesday at many places, including Lufkin, Tyler, Longview and Texarkana.

26 Years of Progress With Midland

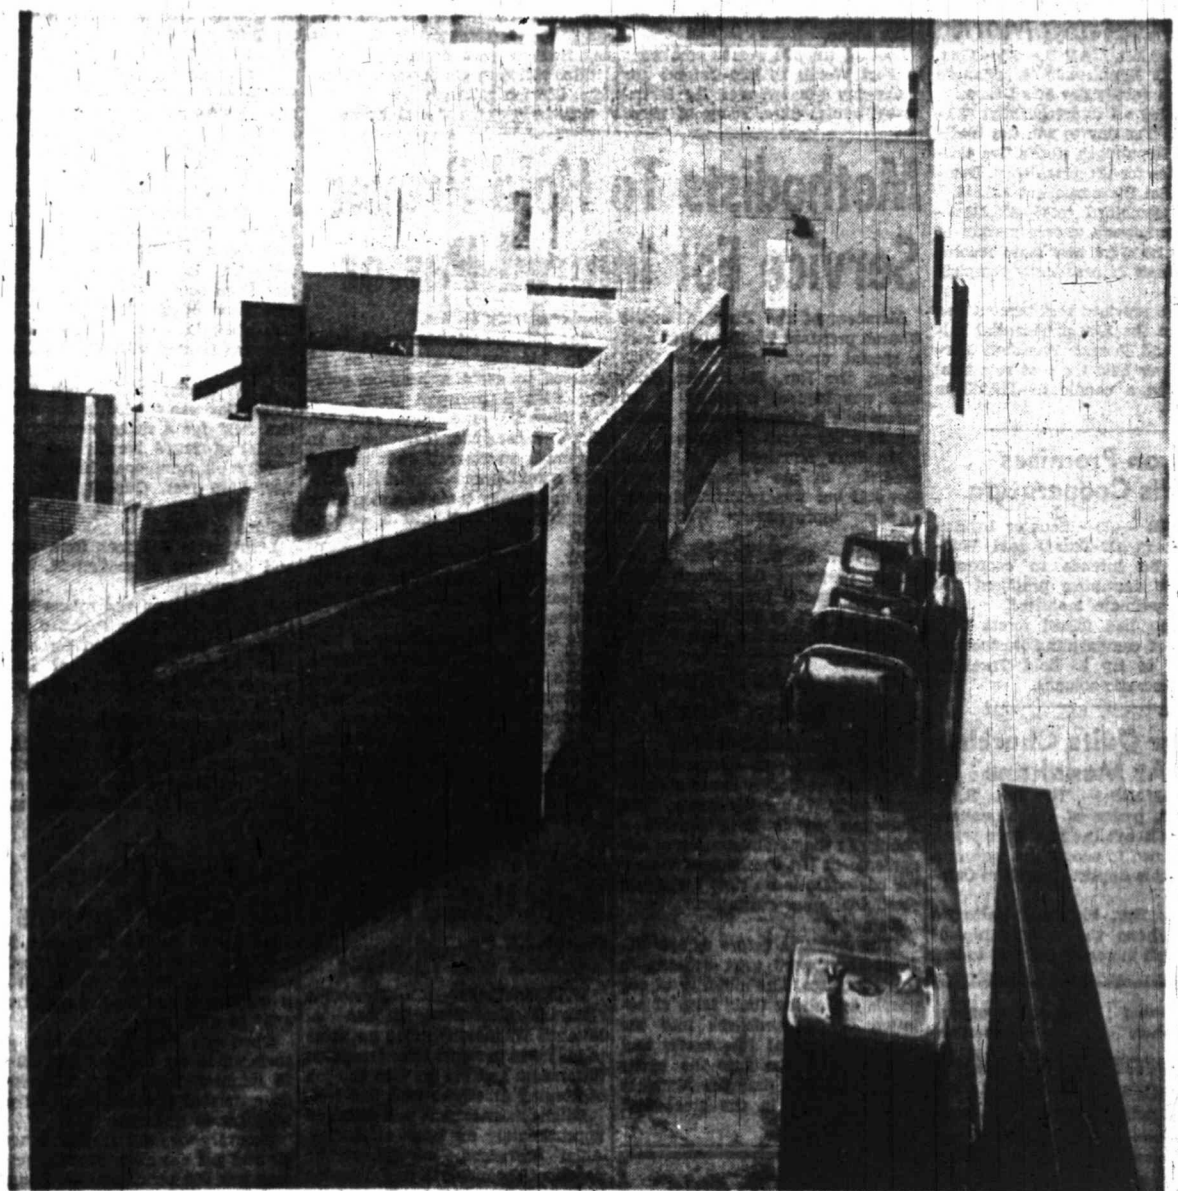

The Grafa Building — 215 West Wall Street

The Past twenty-six years, since we first opened our offices in Midland, have brought many changes to what was then a sleepy little "cow-town" . . . changes that have transformed it into one of the most vigorous cities in the Southwest. It is a matter of never-ending pride to us that we have been privileged to have a part in Midland's steady growth and development. Starting with the High School Addition in 1927, we have developed Country Club Heights, Elmwood Addition, Ridglea Addition, Grafaland (Section One), Grafaland (Section Two), Cowden Addition, Highland (East Half), Edwards Addition, City View Acres, The Bedford Place . . . and next . . . The McCall Place!

The Future holds out untold, even un-dreamed, development for this area so vital in a world at peace or war. Just as absolute and enduring faith in the future of Midland has generously rewarded those of us who had that faith, continued faith, we are sure, will offer still greater rewards.

An economy soundly based on agriculture, cattle and petroleum holds forth to all of us opportunities unparalleled anywhere else in the world today. On this, our 26th business anniversary, we pledge our every effort in the forward march of Midland and its area of influence.

Texas Women Hold Big Key To Ike's Whopping Victory

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff

Don't underestimate the power of the women in the Eisenhower victory in Texas. What can we do? they asked. Ring doorbells, keep the telephone lines busy, write. And by gum they did it.

The housewives who left their children at mama's, the diamond-bedded matrons who took the cook to task over the menu, the secretaries who hurried over to headquarters at 5 o'clock.

And the two women who operate teletype machines in The Associated Press Dallas bureau. They wore "Ike" in rhinestones.

In gold-on-pins and on ear rings. But they did more than that—they got out and worked. Look at Houston and surrounding Harris County. Eisenhower carried it by a whopping vote. "We told the men if they'd furnish the brains, we'd keep their house," said Mrs. Ralph Feagin, a Republican leader in Houston. Call The Greens. And look what the women did—called every voter—every voter in Harris County in October and asked them how they were going to vote. The Ike ones they put on green cards—okay. The Stevenson ones on red cards—danger. The undecided and the won't tell went on tan cards. The red cards and the tan cards got personal visits. And on election morn, they called every green card. Voted yet? Let the red cards alone.

Look at the 500 women who went to Fort Worth in mid-October for a one-day womanpower for Eisenhower clinic. Sure, some of them came because it was the fashionable thing to do, get out and vote for Eisenhower. But they got out their pencils and notebooks, too, and listened and took notes. Sweetie Peck They came from all over the state—Houston, Uvalde, Tyler, Amarillo, Midland, Corpus Christi. And after that one-day clinic was over, a reserved, graying brunette named Emory O'Brien, wife of Frank T. O'Brien in Amarillo, and a friendly little red-head named "Sweetie" Peck, Mrs. Hal Peck of Midland, got together. Now Mrs. O'Brien is the vice chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee. Mrs. Peck is vice chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. You get two determined women like that—and, furthermore, I've got former roommates all over Texas," Sweetie Peck declared. "But will they get out and work?" Mrs. O'Brien retorted. Somebody got out and worked.

Ike Sets Maine Vote-Getting Mark

PORTLAND, MAINE.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is Maine's champion vote-getter of all time. He polled an unprecedented 232,275 votes Tuesday to win the traditionally Republican state's five electoral votes for the presidency. Democrat Adlai Stevenson got 118,845. Their combined total—351,120—and Eisenhower's victory margin of 113,730 also were new state records on the basis of practically complete returns. Maine's previous best turnout was 320,840 in the 1940 presidential balloting. And former President Herbert Hoover held the best vote total ever given a candidate—179,923 in 1928.

Johnson Promises Ike His Cooperation

AUSTIN.—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) said Wednesday he intends to cooperate with the incoming president "in every legitimate manner." Johnson had joined forces with a band of campaigning Democratic loyalists to try to hold Texas in the Democratic column.

Pastor Quits Church Post At Monahans

MONAHANS.—The Rev. R. F. Simmons, pastor of the Monahans Baptist Church the last seven years, has resigned to accept the pastorate of the Bible Baptist Church in Coleman. During Rev. Simmons' pastorate at Monahans the membership of the church increased from 17 to 825.

It Costs Divorcee $1,000 To Learn Of Party Bolting

DALLAS.—Most everybody in Dallas voted Tuesday including a smooth-talking "San Angelo rancher" who left a 34-year-old Oak Cliff divorcee in the lurch and $1,000 short. The woman complained to police that the tall stranger she met last week inside Union Terminal told her that he was a rancher from San Angelo. He took her to dinner. Later he asked her to marry him. She agreed. Then he showed her 22 $100 bills—almost but not quite enough to buy a new car. Would she loan him $1,000? She agreed. He said that he would pick her up at 10 a.m. Tuesday after he'd "had time to go to the polls." He never showed up. A phone call to his hotel revealed he hadn't returned from the polls and probably wouldn't since he had checked out Monday night.

First Film Produced In Tongue Of Caesar

BRUSSELS —(AP)—Enterprising Belgian documentary film director Gaston Vermeulen recently released what is claimed to be the first Latin talking picture in movie history. "Aspects of Imperial Rome of the Fourth Century."

"I thought it would be interesting to provide students and specialists with a tool. My film links a visual theme, Rome's fourth century splendor reconstructed, with an auditory interest, a Latin commentary," said Vermeulen.

French and Dutch translations are made available. When the Latin version of the picture is shown, spectators will be given the text in advance to acquaint themselves with it.

Unique "star" of this 24-minute long production is a 328-square-foot plaster model of the fourth century capital of the Roman Empire. There are no actors in the film.

South Korea Gets Double Relief Aid

PUSAN, KOREA —(AP)—Relief and rehabilitation supplies for South Korea's war-stricken civilians were more than doubled in the first seven months this year compared with the same period in 1951.

The report on relief supplies from United Nations countries and welfare organizations was made by the UN Civil Assistance Command, Korea.

From January through August this year a total of 661,714 long tons of supplies were received, compared with 277,481 long tons for the like period last year, the report said.

Boys Cook Hotdogs At Gas Line Break

PITTSBURGH —(AP)—The children in the neighborhood just threw a match on the ground, a foot-high flame sprouted up, and they roasted their hotdogs and toasted marshmallows with no trouble at all.

Then the gas company heard about it and sent a repair crew to fix the leak in the underground gas line that leads to a nearby housing project.

Soviet Aims In East Germany Doomed To Failure, U. S. Commissioner Says

By GRACE HALSELL Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

BONN, GERMANY—Soviet aims in their newest and largest satellite of East Germany, and even ultimately in Russia, will fail, in the opinion of US High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly.

In an hour's interview granted this correspondent in his spacious office overlooking the Rhine, Commissioner Donnelly stated the Soviets "are trying to take away something from the people—their belief in God—and the people have this in them."

He said that in his opinion they could never succeed until the "last semblance" of Christianity and faith had been removed, and added he did not think the Communists could eradicate such beliefs.

A positive, able Foreign Service Officer with 27 years experience in international commerce and diplomacy, Donnelly brings to the Office of High Commissioner a professional's ability and poise.

In appearance, he is tall, handsome—much like a younger Walter Pidgeon.

Based on reports given him by Germans, Donnelly said he believed the Soviets had made "hot too deep an impression" in their new satellite country, East Germany.

Although forced to put on a Soviet uniform and serve in an army, the East German will find "blood ties" stronger than Soviet indoctrination, Donnelly believes.

Should war break out, "I cannot believe the East German would fight against the West German," Donnelly said. "The reunification of Germany," Donnelly said, "is basic," but the Soviets must put first things first, and "agree to a free election."

Meanwhile, he believes the ratification of the peace treaty will take place (with Germany probably ratifying in November and France the first of 1953), ending the seven-year allied occupation of Germany and restoring the nation to virtual sovereignty.

Democracy has been started in Germany, he believes, and the important thing is to "keep it going."

Asked if he thought Germans liked Americans, he replied:

"I think it is not so much that they like us, but they respect us and admire us. A victorious nation helping a defeated nation has had its good effect. We find ill feelings in certain quarters, and recognize it. Still, I think the respect generally is there, and that is important."

When questioned about the fine living quarters and elaborate recreational facilities built at a cost of $13,000,000 for State Department employes in Bonn, Donnelly said:

"I don't think these people are any more comfortable than they would be at home. The great majority of them would welcome being back home. Everyone speaks of the luxuries they have here, but the swimming pool, for instance, is self-supporting."

Personal Observation

A personal observation at this point: The secretary I visited here would hardly have such a comfortable apartment on the same salary in the States. She and a roommate have a two-bedroom apartment with living room, dining room and kitchen, furnished all the way down to two sets of china, fine glassware and fine silver. It would cost about $150 or $200 per month in Midland.

Upon the peace treaty's ratification, most civilian employes will still remain on their jobs. The High Commission will be called an Embassy, and, High Commissioner Donnelly will assume the title of Ambassador.

"There will be some cut-backs," Donnelly said. "The court system will cease, which will reduce employment by 35 per cent (about 350 people)," he said. He said he hoped the cut-backs could be extended still further, saying: "I am economy-minded."

Asked about the report that the High Commission was "overloaded with administrators," Donnelly, a former newspaper reporter himself, answered with a forthrightness rarely found in government officials:

"Yes, I think that is probably true. Most all government agencies are top heavy, whether in Washington or in the field." He said he hoped to restore the High Commission "to something resembling a postwar embassy." Consulates will continue as they are.

One of the few American officials to stand firm against the Russians, Donnelly said he planned a "head-on" policy as regards Berlin, a city he finds fascinating for its courage and resiliency.

"I wish I could spend most of my time there," he said. Despite unemployment, "I walk down the streets and never see a beggar," he said, and despite its being in the midst of the Soviet Zone, the West Berliner is happy and unworried.

Berlin is a "Must" "When Americans visited me, I always insist they see Berlin before they leave Germany," Donnelly said.

Referring to past Soviets tactics in Berlin, such as closing the main highway into Berlin and firing upon our airplanes, Donnelly underscored his determination to meet "head-on" every Russian move against West Berlin, despite the risks involved.

"We have rights. They must be maintained. They must be respected," he asserted.

"Regardless of what is clear and not clear about our foreign policy, one thing is clear—crystal clear—and that is we intend to stay in Berlin."

Leaving across his desk, he hammered home his determination with clinched fist pounding on his desk: "We are not bluffing there," he emphasized.

Born in New Haven, Conn., Jan. 9, 1896, Walter Donnelly began his government service in 1921, as special agent of the US Department of Justice. He was appointed Ambassador to Costa Rica in 1947, and later that year became Ambassador to Venezuela.

He is married to the daughter of a prominent Bogota, Colombia family, and they have four children. With his family, Donnelly lives in an $83,000 villa overlooking the Rhine—a five minute walk from his office, although Donnelly generally is driven to work. He rises at 7 a.m., breakfasts, reads the papers, and is at his desk by 9 a.m.

He works straight through the day (with a light lunch eaten at his desk) until 8 p.m. at night. It is usually 9 p.m. before he eats dinner. Saturday and Sunday mornings also are spent at his desk, with those two afternoons spent on the golf course, his only opportunity for exercise and fresh air during the week.

He often invites German officials to have lunch with him around his desk. On such occasions, English—not German—is spoken.

His forthrightness, charm and ability generally are recognized by both Americans and Germans. In almost every respect, his professional know-how is a marked contrast to the former High Commissioner, affable John J. McCloy.

A German told me: "We like McCloy. We respect Mr. Donnelly."

Donnelly said he had a number of visits from Texans recently. They include Senator Tom Connally, Jesse Jones and Congressman Wingate Lucas.

Christmas Streamers Mark Arrival Of Holiday Season

First heralding of the 1952 Christmas season came to Midland Monday as Texas Electric Service Company workmen started the tremendous task of stringing garland streamers across downtown city streets.

Delbert Downing, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said the task would require several days with the colored Yule lights to be turned on the first time November 17.

The streamers, owned by the Chamber of Commerce, contain bright garland foil material around the colored lights for beauty in the daytime as well as at night.

In a staggered fashion, the lights will be strung from Front Street on South Main north to Illinois, from Weatherford on Wall west to Colorado, and on Main Street west to Colorado, Downing said. Six double-faced stars with wreaths about them are to be erected. Four of the stars will

Automobile Tire Sales Due To Rise During Next Year

NEW YORK —(AP)—The rubber industry expects to sell more tires next year—whether times are good or bad, and no matter what the new President and Congress do.

Industry leaders base this prediction on the fact that in 1950 and 1951 the auto industry sold a record number of new cars. And just about next year you'll have to start replacing the original tires on them.

Times ought to be good through most of next year anyway, with nothing but minor setbacks to be expected, according to James J. Newman, vice president of B. F. Goodrich Company.

"Even during slumps, the tire replacement volume holds pretty steady," says E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear.

"People do with other things before they stop driving their cars. So tire replacements depend largely upon the number of cars built in previous years."

People bought up a lot of tires they didn't need in 1950 when the Korean war scared them, so replacements fell to 34,000,000 in 1951. Thomas says. This year the replacement total should be 45,000,000. And next year 49,000,000 tires will be replaced, an increase of 8.8 per cent, Thomas believes.

Both natural and synthetic rubber should be in ample supply.

Problems Do Not Change

Some idea of what is in store for the new American President can be gleaned from the announcement by British Foreign Secretary Eden that he plans to confer with the President soon after the secretary's arrival here to lead his country's UN delegation.

Eden is said to be deeply concerned over worsening relations among the members of the Western alliance. He wants the U. S., Britain and France to give fundamental reconsideration to their attitudes toward each other.

One of the big problems is whether France and Britain can enlarge their military budgets to step up the size of the North Atlantic Treaty armies under General Ridgway. A new study by the Mutual Security Administration strongly suggests they cannot.

For another thing, France feels hard-pressed to maintain even current commitments in Europe while pursuing at the same time an intensified war against Communist rebels in Indo-China. And there has been frequent talk that the British, similarly strapped, are looking for a way to pull troops out of Egypt.

On top of these basic world defense matters, France is having difficulty in Morocco and Tunisia, where native unrest has loosened the French hold on two of her long-established colonies. The French particularly are upset at the prospect that this issue might be brought before the UN.

Although the British, being a colonial power, have considerable sympathy for France's plight—especially in the light of recent native activity in Britain's African colony of Kenya—they are troubled by French-American relations and don't want it to appear they are ganging up with the French against the U. S.

This list of tribulations is but a small sample from the agenda that will greet the new American Chief Executive, even before he takes office.

It illustrates a point often made by some of our thoughtful analysts of affairs—that the crush of events rather than declared campaign views will tend to set the pattern of American policy, both foreign and domestic, when the new President enters the White House next January 20. The faces change, but the problems do not.

Staying up all night may make you as wise as an owl, but owls have no sense during the day.

Some men work hard to save their money so they can retire, play golf and have as much fun as their caddies.

Certain people tell the truth—uncertain ones are likely not to.

Few people keep as fit as a fiddle just fiddling around.

Buddy's Flowers Are Ideal Gifts On All Occasions

"Mum's the word!" At least, that's the case at Buddy's Flowers, 1505 West Wall Street, where chrysanthemums in various lovely shades and sizes are selling at a rapid clip.

One of the most favorite items is the "football mum corsage," a specially designed corsage for the well-groomed female Midland Bulldog grid fan.

To make a real hit with your favorite one, see that she has one of the beautiful "football mum corsages" to wear at the next Bulldog game.

The usual sparkling Fall flowers and plants are available at Buddy's, your headquarters for every floral need. Send a floral remembrance to a friend during National Flower Week, November 2-9, O. M. (Buddy's) Pulliam, owner of the firm, advises.

Pleasant Atmosphere Makes Blue Star Top Dining Spot

It's always a pleasure to dine at the Blue Star Inn, located at 2501 West Wall Street.

Every day of the week you find the usual unexcelled food and service.

One of the most attractive features in making the Blue Star a regular eating habit, is the modern, pleasant surroundings.

You can relax and really enjoy your food in the two large dining rooms, the pastel-colored walls and indirect lighting provide a pleasing color blend.

At the suggestion of their friends, Joe Chung and Richard Yee opened the Blue Star Inn. The two friends had met 16 years ago in St. Paul, Minn., and later had gained an enviable reputation for a restaurant in Fort Worth.

Both delectable Chinese and American dinners are featured. The spotless clean kitchen has the latest type of equipment, including an automatic dishwasher with its super-heated water, and a specially-built range for the tantalizing Chinese dishes.

The two large dining rooms will accommodate approximately 250 persons, and ample parking space is provided with a circular entrance-way, bordered by growing shrubbery. Every effort has been made by the owners to assure that service and food always will be "tops" at the Blue Star Inn.

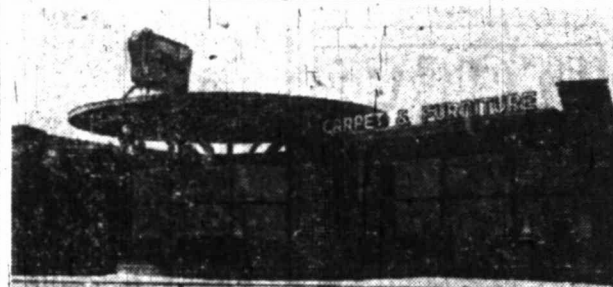

The satisfied customers are the Blue Star's best recommendation. If you haven't already eaten at the Blue Star, join the hundreds of West Texans that have made the firm a regular eating habit.

Abbreviated River Lists Long Record

VERONA, ITALY—(AP)—People around here like to brag about their record-breaking river. They claim it has the shortest name—and runs the shortest distance—of any river on earth.

It is the R River. From its origin on Mt. Baldo to where it pours into Lake Garda, it is only 520 feet long. But it does just about everything a river is supposed to do. There's a bridge, a waterfall, good fishing, several irrigation canals, and a couple of water mills. Once, back in 1882, it even had a flood and destroyed several houses nearby.

Fencing is one of the most popular sports in northern England.

Daddy Ringtail

and yellow, had fallen from the sleeping trees. The wind blew lowly down from the north.

The squirrels had gathered extra nuts and stored them in their hollow tree house. A great fat bear had eaten the last of golden honey and gone to sleep all snug in a cave to sleep all Winter without eating again until Spring. The last of the ducks and geese had flown away South.

So it was, one morning, not many days ago, when the sun rose up cold and misty in the east. Soon clouds gathered, and no one would see the sun any more. The shadows on the ground weren't really sun-shadows at all. They were only places of light and dark where a tree here—a rock there—thrust out some of the light from the pale, pale sky.

The BIBLE

-Can You Quote It?

- 1-Whoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father who is in heaven. Matthew 10:33.
- 2-See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as the Ephesians 5:15.
- 3-If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above. Colossians 3:1.
- 4-Glory in his holy name: let the heart of men rejoice that seek the Lord. I Chronicles 16:10.
- 5-How old was Joseph when his brothers sold him? Exodus 37:2.
- 6-The Lord blessed the sabbath day, and Exodus 20:11.
- 7-Thou shalt take no gift: for the gift blindeth. Exodus 23:8.
- 8-Six correct—excellent. Four correct—good. For wisdom, courage and peace read the Bible daily.

Poor Posture And Overweight Contribute To Osteoarthritis

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Too many people become unnecessarily alarmed when they are told that they have osteoarthritis because they fear serious pain or crippling. Actually, this condition—also called "degenerative arthritis"—really should not be called arthritis at all. It is a mild degeneration or wearing out of some of the structures which make up the joints.

Exactly what causes osteoarthritis is not understood entirely. There may be an inherited factor; that is, the cartilage and bone of persons in some families may be particularly susceptible to early degeneration.

Repeated injury also seems to promote the development of this condition. Poor posture, disturbances of blood circulation, and overweight are other conditions which contribute to its development.

The end joints of the fingers frequently become enlarged. This often is accompanied by a certain amount of stiffness and soreness, though this usually disappears after the joints have been loosened up. These enlargements are common in later life and are called Heberden's nodes.

Other joints commonly involved are the knees, shoulders, elbows and spine. Sometimes degeneration may be pretty well advanced without producing any noticeable pain or stiffness. Osteoarthritis often is found accidentally when an X-ray film is taken for something else.

The treatment of degenerative changes in the joints includes general measures aimed at relieving the discomfort and improving the overall physical condition. Local measures designed to relieve the involved joints—and prevent or correct any difficulties which are present also are used. Occupational strains should be eliminated whenever possible and posture should be corrected.

Reducing is advisable. Because so many people with osteoarthritis are fat, reducing often is advisable. This is especially important if the knees are involved. If they have to carry 200 pounds when they have the frame to carry 150, they obviously are overloaded.

People with osteoarthritis are rarely badly incapacitated and usually move about, though often with some discomfort. They do need frequent rest periods, for this seems to relieve some of the stiff feeling.

CHURCH? FRANCO? NINE OLD MEN?—

Boyle Seeks To Learn Who Really Runs Growing Spain

By HAL BOYLE

MADRID.—Snapshots from a touring typewriter: After dining at a palatial hotel—spending for one meal enough to keep a poor Spanish family in beans and bread for a month—they ask idly, "Who runs this country anyway?"

Many Answers

To this question you can get many answers, just as a stranger might if he asked who really ran America.

"The church rules Spain," is the reply often given by the man in the street, who may affectionately admire his own parish priest but dislikes the top clergy.

"No, Franco is a true generalissimo," disagrees a nationalistic patriot. "If Franco went to Korea with our Spanish divisions, he would destroy the Chinese Army."

But an observer who has been here many years said Spain actually is bossed by what he called "the nine old men." It is his con-old poverty.

But an observer who has been here many years said Spain actually is bossed by what he called "the nine old men." It is his con-attention that the country has been controlled by the Army for 150 years and any regime that fails to meet its demands is always sure to be toppled by the military junta still firmly in the saddle.

"The nine old men are captain generals or military governors of Spain's nine military districts," he said. "They hold the real power and whatever they decide as a clique becomes the policy of the government."

France is Front

"Franco is, in fact, only the front man for these nine old men, even though the majority of them now are his appointees. He is no absolute dictator. He is answerable to them in any real showdown. They can unseat him any time he moves again the Army's wishes—and he knows it."

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Far more studious authorities than I, gentis with stopwatches and surveying instruments, jeeps and Jaguars, have clocked antelope at steady speeds as high as 50. They are those who insist that a sprint at 60 is quite possible for the white-rumped hot-ros of the plains.

In contrast, the whitetail buck breaks down through the timber with what seems to be dazzling speed is straining to 20 or 25. He merely seems fast, because of the dense growth—the antelope falls along out in the open, where you can see him go when he sees you come.

But neither one can beat a bullet. And Mr. Antelope is even less able to beat a bullet than he should be because of his curious habit of running along an arc of a circle, around the throat of a car or a hunter, instead of lighting a shuck straight for the state line.

My buddy nailed his trophy this past Fall just because of this peculiar antelope trait. We had been watching a fine buck atop a bald hill, inaccessible to use. He was obviously spotting danger as the local Civilian Defense officer for a bunch of seven or eight doe antelope while they enjoyed a fiesta.

While we discussed possible stalking plans and munched midday sandwiches, this boss buck disappeared; and a few minutes later my glasses turned up a well-horned antelope, apparently the same one, working his way down the hill on a line that would eventually bring him to within 400 yards of us.

Norm opened up at that point. Had the buck turned away from us—and we must have been visible to him against the skyline—he'd have dipped into the shelter of a little valley in very few jumps. Instead, he continued on his original line, even swinging a bit, so that his range from us increased very slowly. Eventually one bullet fired with the right question for lead and range tumbled him. He ran around to the left instead of away to safety.

Earlier the same day my own buck had led his little bunch in a similar arc around my shooting position atop a sagebrush knoll. He had seen me, in all probability, and must certainly have spotted the pick-up truck parked a few hundred yards behind me, but he swung his harem along a roll of the ground instead of straight out and away. Hence the chief problem I had to worry about was how far out ahead of him to keep the muzzle of my 257 magnum in order to put him on the trophy list.

And how far might that be? Well, as we doped it out later, the proper lead for an antelope running 40 miles an hour, straight across at a range of 300 yards, would be about 17.84 feet for that cartridge, close to four antelope lengths.

How'd we figure it? Well, the 117-grain bullet I was shooting left the muzzle at 3300 feet per second, was traveling 2650 or better at 300 yards. Hence it slipped 300 yards in .302 seconds. In that same interval of time the antelope running 40 miles an hour, or 59 feet per second, would have traveled 17.84 feet. Easy? Try doing all that mathematics when a big buck picks up his heels!

Incidentally, if I'd been shooting a 30-30, which many still think of as a hard-shooting rifle, to hit that same buck would have required a forward lead of over 29 feet. Fat chance of hitting Mr. Antelope that way! A flat-shooting, high-velocity rifle is the best tool if you want to pin a ticket on one of those desert hot-ros.

Unwanted Tattoos Keep Needle Expert Busy With 'Eraser'

TORONTO, CANADA.—Out-of-date love affairs are John V. Branting's stock-in-trade. The 34-year-old Swede makes a living removing unwanted tattoo marks.

He says he has a secret formula for removing love-knots and has treated customers in many parts of the world, men and women alike.

Nothing, he points out, can be more embarrassing than having the name of last year's girl friend—or boy friend—tattooed complete with heart and arrow in a spot where the new one can see it. "People usually get tattooed on a foolish impulse," he says. "They soon regret it. I've had people come to me the day after they got tattooed, to have it taken off."

He thinks his biggest job was the tattooed woman of a circus in Australia. She had herself covered with markings to get the job, then lost it when the circus went bankrupt.

Then there was the Australian man who had him remove the names of his girl friends inked on his arm—all 25 of them.

Demotion From General To GI Has Drawbacks

FT. BELVOIR, VA. (NEA)—It's not so much the actual demotion from general to sergeant which rankles. It's just that having once been a general does have drawbacks for a man when he finds himself a sergeant.

That's the report of Sgt. Russell K. Haight, 30, now an engineering instructor at Ft. Belvoir, Va., who formerly served as a general in the Kashmir Army in 1947. He successfully led a brigade of 2,000 tough dragoons against the Indian Army and almost broke up part of the holy war there single handed.

He was such an able general that the Indian government, in desperation, persuaded the U. S. State Department to talk him out of his command. He got his own Haight-type revenge on the Indians, however, for this.

Fleeing a plot on his life, and with a heavy price put on his head by the Indians, he duped an Indian officer into providing him a staff car across the border to safety in New Delhi.

No U. S. Commission

The only thing that peevs Sergeant Haight today is that just after being pressured into giving up his general's stars, and then re-enlisting carry it out as the head of a brigade of 500 regulars and 1,500 tribesmen and with a promotion to general.

Tough Fighting Men

"My forces were mounted on everything from camels to jackasses," Haight recalls, "but they were plenty tough." The deal was an even better job after the fighting, with all of his expenses paid in the meantime. He refused a salary of $800 a month for fear of losing his U. S. citizenship.

"I was given two .38 Specials and a good sword," he says.

Just as his master plan for driving the Indian army out of Kashmir was getting into high gear, international politics poked into Haight's blooming career. The Indians put a price on his head and began pressuring Washington to get him out of the action altogether.

Plot Against Life

The American consul got a message to him from Washington urging him to quit his post at about the same time Haight discovered a plot against his life.

"I was coming home from a party when two men ambushed me and tried to kill me," he says. "I am sure now that they were Russian agents. When I escaped I decided that it was time to get out of the whole business, and fast."

Crossing the border, he claimed that he was an American reporter interested in doing some stories on refugees. The Indian army officer in charge failed to ask for press

Sergeant Haight, U. S. Army, re-enlisted after his whirl as a general in Kashmir.

Haight into joining the Kashmir forces as a captain, with the promise of a good civilian job at the end of the fighting.

"It took about six weeks to see that we were fighting the wrong kind of war," Haight says. "We were dissipating our energies attacking cities. So I went back to the president and laid a new plan before him. I suggested that we concentrate on cutting the key roads and stopping supplies getting through to the cities."

The president of Kashmir was impressed with the plan and sold it to other Kashmir leaders. To Haight's surprise they asked him to General Haight, Kashmir Army, looked like this when he was leading his 2,000 dragoons.

In the U. S. Army, his application for a U. S. commission was turned down on the grounds of insufficient experience.

One of the big things Haight has in military experience. At 17, he left Denver, Colo., high school in 1939 to join the Canadian Army. He was in the Commandos and saw
