Devonian Flow Gauged At Test In E-C Andrews

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-CC Texas University, wildcat in East-Central Andrews County, flowed 990 barrels of new oil from Devonian performance at 17,544-556 feet after the test had been treated with 900 gallons of acid.

The project was plugged back to the Devonian after unsuccessful attempts to make a well in the Ellenburger.

The wildcat is two and one-quarter miles northwest of the Maguire (Ellenburger) field.

The project, which indicated production from two sections of the Wolfcamp and from the Devonian, being drilled, tested a little and considerable salt water after acidizing the Ellenburger through perforations at 13,840-13,860 feet.

Operator was testing on the Devonian at last report.

Location is 660 feet from south and 2,002 feet from east lines of section 42, block 5, University Lands survey.

Ike Hints At Swift Policy Shifts

White House Talks Reveal No Decisions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President-elect Eisenhower kept the road open Wednesday for swift changes in Truman Administration policies when he takes over the presidency January 20.

The carefully worded joint statement issued by Eisenhower and President Truman after their historic—if chilly—White House conference Tuesday was regarded on Capitol Hill as indicating Eisenhower has some of these changes definitely in mind.

Eisenhower, Taft, Martin Discuss Plans

NEW YORK—(AP)—President-elect Eisenhower and Senator Taft, his rival for the Republican nomination, conferred Wednesday on legislative problems that will confront the next session of Congress.

Taft arrived at Eisenhower's Hotel Commodore headquarters shortly before 10 a.m. CST. He said he and the President-elect expected to reach only general conclusions Wednesday and there would be no definite program worked out at this meeting.

Joining in the session was Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass), prospective speaker of the House.

Martin arrived at the general's sixth-floor offices a few minutes ahead of Taft. Both legislators were smiling and amiable as a corps of almost 100 newsmen and radio and television reporters peppered them with questions as to the topics to be discussed.

Taft said a list of subjects was bound to come up concerning the congressional session starting in January and remarked "a lot of laws" will be expiring. The purpose of the meeting, he said, was to "decide what you are going to do."

Senators Bridges of New Hampshire and Wiley of Wisconsin were other senators who expected to see Eisenhower Wednesday.

The schedule also listed as callers Jack Porter, Texas national committeeman, and Lewis K. Gough, national commander of the American Legion.

The schedule also listed as callers Jack Porter, Texas national committeeman, and Lewis K. Gough, national commander of the American Legion.

While the joint statement mentioned discussion of international issues it left unanswered the question of whether Eisenhower will make any public statement supporting the American-sponsored resolution in the United Nations opposing forcing Red prisoners of war in Korea to return home against their will.

Nor was there any indication that Eisenhower was willing to accept the proposals made by several Democrats.

Dunlap Moves To Two-State Revenue Post

DALLAS—(AP)—John B. Dunlap, commissioner of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, Wednesday formally stepped down to the lesser office of Texas-Oklahoma district commissioner.

The move, criticized by Senator Williams (R-Del) as "indefensible," was completed when the Texas-born Dunlap was sworn into office at 10 a.m. by Treasury Secretary Snyder.

Snyder, also under fire in Washington, praised Dunlap as a man of "candor, courage and determination." In his swearing-in speech, Snyder said the reorganization plan for the bureau "will give the American people a revenue service of maximum efficiency and operating economy, manned by employees of unquestioned integrity."

Eleven other Texas and Oklahoma tax collection officials also were sworn in by Snyder in a ceremony at the Scottish Rite Temple here.

Dunlap took over the Revenue Bureau in June, 1951, fired scores of employees and carried out a reorganization of the department as planned by President Truman and approved by Congress.

Recently he was involved in a row with congressional investigators over access to bureau records.

Dunlap began his long service with the Internal Revenue Bureau in Texas, rising to the posts of collector for the Dallas District and later agent-in-charge for the State of Texas. He went to Washington as head of a special drive against tax frauds by racketeers.

Dunlap also called attention to the fact Alaniz was "not present at the scene or nearby at the time this offense was committed."

Sapet Defense Different
Judge Tom L. Beauchamp, author of the court opinion in Sapet's case, observed that the indictment against Sapet also alleges he was convicted March 3, 1936, on a plea of guilty to a charge of murder without malice.

Commenting that Sapet and Alaniz are represented by different attorneys "and it is indicated the defense will be different," Judge Beauchamp said the appeals court was of the opinion the trial court did not abuse discretion in denying bail to Sapet.

Attorneys for both men contended last week that evidence was insufficient for a possible death penalty, the only justification in Texas law for denial of bail.

The charges against Sapet and Alaniz include three counts, murder, accomplice to murder and conspiracy to murder. The charges specifically state the defendants were not present at the shooting but that they furnished arms and aid and encouraged and commanded the execution of the shooting by a "person unknown."

Court Sets Bond For Nago Alaniz; Denies Sapet Plea

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday said $15,000 bail should be granted Nago Alaniz, but refused Mario Sapet's bail pending his trials for the murder-by-mistake of Jake (Buddy) Floyd, Jr.

The decisions on appeal of the two men for the right to freedom on bail pending trial were made in two separate opinions one week after the court heard oral arguments.

Presiding Judge Harry N. Graves said circumstances indicated Alaniz's right to bail.

He noted testimony in the record showing Alaniz was aware Jacob S. Floyd, Sr., was to be murdered, that he talked with the elder Floyd just prior to the killing of the latter's son and admitted he was in on the plot.

BIG D 'BOOK' FATTEST EVER

DALLAS—(AP)—Dallas' new telephone book is due to be delivered Monday and it's fatter than ever.

The new volume weighs three pounds, 12 ounces, has 1,268 pages and 362,000 listings. That is 83 pages, eight-and-a-half ounces and 5,500 listings more than the current directory.

Teachers Become Students In Tour Of Midland Firms

Midland's second annual Business-Education Day was in full swing here Wednesday, with 287 faculty members of Midland schools learning the three R's of industry in "classrooms" of 33 participating business firms.

The teachers and representatives of the host organizations gathered in the high school auditorium at 9:30 a.m. for a briefing session before going to the various places of business to spend the day.

Several oil and drilling concerns took their groups on field trips to the oil fields, drilling wells and gasoline plants in the area.

The teachers visiting business firms in the city were taken on plant and office tours, following which the operational procedures, administration management, costs of operation, and problems of industry were explained in detail.

Afternoon "classes" were on the program, with the "last period" bell scheduled to sound between 3:30 and 4 p.m. in most instances.

For the Midland school students, Wednesday was a holiday.

A realistic touch was added in front of The Reporter-Telegram office as 12 teachers arrived there to learn all about the newspaper business. A fire truck was parked in the street in front of the building, with firemen swarming all around the place. The blaze, quickly extinguished by the firemen, was confined to an automobile parked directly in front of the newspaper plant.

Informality was the keynote as the school personnel visited the 33 business firms of the city. Questions were fired rapidly at the business executives as they explained the

Chief Of Staff Says Air Force Prepared To Strike Manchuria

SEOUL—(AP)—Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, said Wednesday the Air Force is capable of beginning an aggressive war against the Red's Manchurian bases at any time the U.S. government changes its policy.

Vandenberg, on the last leg of a world tour of installations under his command, told newsmen:

"The Air Force is in a position to do anything the Administration wants done."

Reporters had asked if the Air Force was strong enough to bomb effectively beyond the Yalu River boundary of North Korea.

"Do you mean the Air Force in Korea could carry on an aggressive campaign in Manchuria without bringing in more squadrons to build up strength?" a correspondent asked.

"No," Vandenberg replied. "I said the Air Force."

HIS VICTIM KNEW BETTER

CARTHAGE, MO.—(AP)—Motorist E. L. Thomas was frantic when he called state troopers to report his car had struck a woman on U. S. 71.

"She's under my car screaming," Thomas cried after running to a telephone.

Troops called an ambulance and rushed to the scene.

There they found Thomas sheepishly surveying the victim—a badly battered jawwalking pig.

Airliner Hops Off On Japan-Honolulu 4,000-Mile Flight

TOKYO—(AP)—A Pan American Airways Stratoclipper, carrying 47 passengers and mail, left Wednesday on a trailblazing, non-stop 4,000-mile flight to Honolulu.

Pilot Capt. L. D. Scott said he would take the big ship up to 25,000 feet and ride with the prevailing "jet stream" winds. Estimated time to Honolulu is slightly less than 12 hours, almost six hours under commercial schedules.

Pan American said the exploratory flight is one of the longest scheduled passenger flights ever attempted.

HEY, 'SCOOP,' SIMMER DOWN

A reporter from The Reporter-Telegram heard the fire engines roar out Wednesday and dashed out of his office for the fire station.

"Where's the fire?" he asked. "At The Reporter-Telegram," was the answer.

The reporter dashed back to his office, and sure enough, an automobile was on fire in the street in front.

Firemen reported the automobile was owned by Mrs. M. V. Cockrell, 1509 South Colorado Street, and damage was confined to the front seat.

Munitions Board Approves Midland-Coastal Pipe Line

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) said Wednesday the munitions board has given its backing to a proposed crude oil pipe line from Midland area fields in West Texas to California.

The proposed 26-inch, 1,000-mile line to deliver oil to refineries in the Los Angeles basin area, would be built by the West Coast Pipe Line Company, Dallas, at an estimated cost of $7 million dollars.

The Munitions Board, in a letter to Deputy PAD Administrator J. Ed Warren, said the pipe line would aid national defense by increasing the flexibility of the nation's oil transportation system, a PAD spokesman said.

Lowell Glasco, president of West Coast Pipe Line Company, told a

U. S. Officers Look In Vain For Missing Vice Ring Chief

NEW YORK—(AP)—Federal officials took denaturalization suit papers in hand again Wednesday to make a new attempt to find Thomas (Three-Finger Brown) Luchese, prime target in a state crime probe.

U. S. Attorney Frank J. Parker Tuesday filed a petition in Brooklyn Federal Court asking that the Sicilian-born Luchese be stripped of his citizenship, a preliminary move to deportation action.

A U. S. marshal and two deputies later sought Luchese to serve him with the papers but he could not be located at his Queens home or his Summer home at Lido Beach.

Meanwhile, the New York State Crime Commission continued its public hearings into political-underworld relationship.

The government brought its denaturalization action against Luchese on the grounds he obtained his American citizenship nine years ago in Newark, N. J., by illegal means.

In the government petition, it is alleged that Luchese did not list five arrests, including two for homicide, when he sought naturalization. The petition says he listed only a 1922 conviction for car theft.

U. S. Marshal Eugene J. Smith of Brooklyn and his aides visited Luchese's business office Wednesday and sought a reported third residence.

A wealthy garment manufacturer, Luchese is listed as secretary-treasurer of a midtown Manhattan dress firm.

Luchese, who will be 53 December 1, has 60 days to file an answer to the government denaturalization suit after he is served with the papers.

The State Crime Commission decided Tuesday not to call Luchese, contenting itself with putting on the public record testimony given by the ex-convict at a previous closed session.

His testimony was read last Friday after the commission was told Luchese took over for gambler Frank Costello when the latter started serving a 18-month sentence for contempt of the U. S. Senate Crime Committee.

Hike In Milk Price Hinges On Hearing, U. S. Approval

DALLAS—(AP)—North and West Texans may have to pay from a penny to a cent and a half more for a quart of milk by Summer.

It will depend on whether a price jump proposal is approved following hearings continuing here Wednesday.

The North Texas Milk Producers Association is being represented, along with the milk guests.

Some 45 proposals were slated for discussion Wednesday, among them the price jump.

Hugo Swan, attorney for the milk plants, said it is hard to show evidence from either side to prove the need or lack of need of a milk price increase.

The proposal was up for argument

Bill's wife, Brenda Marshall, answered the call with: "Bill's at the bottom of the pool." "Ye gods," screamed Johnny, "don't tell me that role went to his head."

Shivers Rips Into Federal Controls On Texas Rivers; Expects No Handout

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Many Southern Governors don't expect the South to share greatly in the political handouts of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, who supported Eisenhower, said: "We are not interested in patronage."

His views were expressed at the Southern Governors Conference which concluded its annual meeting Tuesday. Shivers is the outgoing chairman.

Shivers and Louisiana Gov. Robert Kennon, who also supported Eisenhower, implied that the major objective was to get the Tidelands issue settled with a clear title for state ownership.

Jealousy Claimed

However, Shivers said Texas' chief problem now arises from lack of rain during a three-year drought.

"There is a constant problem, however," the Texas governor added, "arising from jealousy between the Reclamation Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior and the U. S. Army Engineers, and from attempted federal encroachment on Texas' right to control its own water."

Each of these services is looking for projects of its own and refuses to have anything to do with a project started by the competing service."

Shivers said the state authority had built two large dams along the upper reaches of the Brazos River. The Army Engineers, he said, built a dam in the central area of the watershed and refused to release any water from the dam although rich farmers along the lower reaches needed it for irrigation purposes.

Suits To Be Sought

Shivers said the engineers would not release the water because they were fattening it for a power test next summer.

"I am going to ask the attorney general in the next few days to file a suit against somebody, probably the Army Engineers," the governor added. "Our board claims authority but it has to be determined who owns the water in the river."

"The Brazos is entirely within the State of Texas, there is no navigation, yet the federal authorities claim the right to control the water and say who is going to get it and how much."

Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, who was elected to succeed Shivers said that "not even the Republicans in our state are talking patronage."

He supported Nominee Adlai Stevenson and his state went Democratic. Texas gave Eisenhower a 100,000-vote majority.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, who nominated Eisenhower at the Republican convention, would add nothing to a previous statement that "there is no better man in the world" for Secretary of the Treasury than Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

McKeldin made the statement in an interview after being told there were reports that he was suggesting that Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina should have a place in Eisenhower's cabinet.

"That was not what I said," McKeldin said.

"This is what I say:

"I believe that for secretary of the Treasury there is no better man in the world than Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia. I feel sure that President-elect Eisenhower . . . would be delighted to confer with such a great leader as Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina."

Previously, Byrnes had been told of press reports that McKeldin had suggested him for a cabinet post.

Byrnes said, "I did not know that Governor McKeldin had made any such suggestion. I'll have to ask him. There is no comment."

Kentucky Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby, who supported the Democratic nominee and whose state went Democratic, agreed with Shivers that the South may not get a lot out of the political spoils in the Eisenhower victory. The Democrats carried Kentucky by about 700 votes.

Gov. Kennon said Louisiana would invite the National Conference of Governors to New Orleans next October.

Shivers said the national group's executive committee would decide next year's convention site at Chicago December 2.

The three-day session here debated and decided to shelve for at least one year, a proposal that the states set up a Southern regional education foundation.

The foundation was proposed to channel gifts and grants from industries and other foundations to be distributed among Southern educational institutions.

DINERS WRITE OWN PRICE TAG

VICTORIA, B. C.—(AP)—A Victoria cafe operator is going to let his customers set their own price for the meals they order next week.

Paul Arsen, indicating he just wants to try a change from old business patterns, said waitresses will give service, but no checks. The customer even will make his own change at the cash register.

"I don't know what will happen, and I'm getting a little scared," Arsen commented, "but at least it will be interesting."

Dallas Reserve Bank Names New Directors

DALLAS—(AP)—Election of three directors for the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas was announced here Tuesday by J. R. Parten, chairman of the board.

J. Evid McLaughlin of Falls and J. B. Thomas of Fort Worth were named to three-year terms starting Jan. 1, 1953. D. A. Huley of Dallas was elected to fill an unexpired term ending Dec. 31, 1954.

LANDSLIDE KILLS FOUR

LUCCA, ITALY—(AP)—A landslide crushed a home near here Tuesday night, wiping out a family of four.

WARY SOLONS MIND MANNERS

OTTAWA, ONT.—(AP)—Canadian legislators will be on their best behavior Thursday. A voice amplification system will be used in Parliament for the first time.

Speakers have been warned that slightly unwise remarks, intended only for one's immediate vicinity, may be carried to the far reaches of the House of Commons by 23 busy microphones.

Veteran Dry Leader Said Critically Ill

GLENDALE, CALIF.—(AP)—Former Georgia Rep. William D. Upham, 86, is critically ill in Glendale Sanitarium.

Upham, who polled 80,000 votes as candidate for President on the Prohibitionist ticket in 1932, became ill after returning from an extended speaking tour in Europe. His wife, the former president of the California WOTU, did not disclose the nature of his illness.

Sooners Threaten Conference Breach To Take Bowl Bid

NORMAN, OKLA.—(AP)—Oklahoma astonished the Big Seven Conference Tuesday night by threatening to withdraw and accept a football bowl bid—perhaps to the Orange Bowl—in defiance of conference rules.

The surprise announcement came from Dr. George L. Cross, university president, who told a student rally he would sanction a bowl trip if the team wants to go.

Lamesa Gets Nod Friday

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes are heavy favorites to defeat Sweetwater's Mustangs Friday night and maintain a tie for the lead in District 1-AAA.

While everything points to Lamesa winning the title and going into bi-district play, the November 27 meeting between Lamesa and Vernon probably will decide the district.

The Tornadoes have amassed 106 points in conference play while holding opposition to only 23.

The best season record with seven victories in eight starts is maintained by the Tornadoes.

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	Pl.	Opp.
Lamesa	7	1	0	1.000	250	72
Vernon	4	3	1	.571	129	120
Sweetwater	4	4	0	.500	179	112
Snyder	2	4	0	.285	72	165
Big Spring	2	6	0	.250	134	173
Plainview	0	8	0	.000	42	274

Team	W	L	T	Pct.	Pl.	Opp.
Lamesa	3	0	0	1.000	105	23
Vernon	3	0	0	1.000	47	21
Sweetwater	2	1	0	.667	90	19
Big Spring	1	2	0	.333	21	97
Plainview	0	3	0	.000	15	107
Snyder	0	3	0	.000	7	97

Last week's results: Lamesa 34, Plainview 9; Vernon 36, Big Spring 21; Sweetwater 47; Snyder 7.

This week's games: Sweetwater at Lamesa; Vernon at Plainview; Snyder at Big Spring.

Al Dorow, quarterback of the 1951 undefeated and untied Michigan State Football team, is now an ace back on the Bolling Field (Washington, D. C.) Air Force Team.

Dr. Cross indicated strongly the Sooners, fifth ranked in the nation and headed for a fifth straight loop crown, have their eye on the Orange Bowl, from which he reported receiving several offers.

Such a course, he told cheerleaders, would entail withdrawing from the conference—and turning independent—or certain suspension for violating the bowl ban adopted last December. And he added:

"The only honorable course would be to withdraw from the conference."

As for himself, he said, "I would be perfectly willing to go," but pointed out he couldn't authorize a trip unless all concerned agreed to face conference disciplinary action, or other consequences.

"Neither Bud nor I think it would be smart to violate the rules," he declared.

The development came only a week after faculty representatives, meeting in Kansas City, refused to make an exception to the conference restriction on off-postseason athletic activity.

It also brought to the surface long-smoldering discontent, referred to by Dr. Cross cryptically Tuesday night when he said "We're in the doghouse with the Big Seven for many reasons."

Asked about the conference position at a Quarterbacks Club meeting Monday, Wilkinson said:

"I have a strong feeling the rule will be changed in January, but that's just a month too late."

The pronouncement from Dr. Cross, a strong sports booster, is a direct reversal of his stand a year ago when he went on record, along with university regents, as opposing postseason football games.

The president said he had already contacted the regents, who left the matter up to him and Wilkinson.

In Kansas City, Conference Executive Secretary Reaves Peters said, "It's all news to me."

Annual Banquet To Honor Elementary Football Squads

Around 200 elementary football players will be honored at the sixth annual banquet to be held Monday, December 1, in the high school cafeteria, Supt. Frank Monroe announced Wednesday.

Coach Tugboat Jones of the Bulldogs will introduce the eight elementary teams and their coaches. Superintendent Monroe will present the special guests.

The banquet will be held at 6 p.m. The committee arranging the event includes Wesley Martin, director of special services, and W. D. Ladd, Glenn Allison and Louis Bohm, principals of the De-Zavala, North and Lamar Elementary Schools.

Spry Little Dervish Turns Back Net Title Bid Again

CHICAGO —(AP)—Every Fall about this time some youngster who ought to know better tries to win the world court tennis championship from Pierre Etchebaster, a spry little Dervish who will be 59 on his next birthday in December.

Nothing ever comes of it, or at least nothing has come of it in the last 24 years, the period during which the amazing Basque has been undisputed ruler of the world's most complicated game. It begins to look as though Pierre will eventually have to will the title to somebody.

At the moment a brash young American of 40, named Alastair Bradley Martin, is giving Etchebaster the annual testing to see what holds him up, and is getting plastered all over the austere premises of the Racquet and Tennis Club here. It is the only joint in town, we believe, which owns a court tennis layout.

Martin, the four-time American amateur champion, already has taken a bad beating in the first of the three-match series, and it was taken for granted that Pierre would complete the treatment Wednesday.

A yellowed clipping tells us that Etchebaster, who looks to weigh around 130, won his crown in 1928 by first defeating Jack Soutar of Philadelphia, the American professional champion, and then trouncing George Covey of England, the world's open champ, in London.

Since then they've all taken cracks at the wonderful little man, hard-bitten pros and wealthy young amateurs usually named Ogden Phipps, but none of them ever has come really close to matching Pierre's wizardry.

Until someone starts an argument, we wouldn't be surprised if Etchebaster has been champion of a sport which requires physical agility and stamina longer than any man who ever lived. Willie Hoppe, the ageless billiard wonder, gives him a run in some respects, but nobody ever got a Charliehorse walking around a table.

Court tennis is a pretty tough game, calling for a lot of wind and for wrist which can stand the gaff. We know at least that much about it, having watched Etchebaster and a number of others less gifted swat the hard little ball around the nooks and crannies of the fun house in which the game is conducted.

But before the team goes down to the coast Friday morning, the coaches will do a lot of talking about offense. All season long, the Christian defense has been "ideally well against such powerhouses as UCLA, Kansas and the University of Texas. In fact, the Frogs have yielded only 84 points in eight games—which isn't bad in these days of wide-open running and passing.

Against Texas, the Frog defense was almost perfect for three periods in holding the Longhorns scoreless and bottled up in their own territory for the most part. And in the final chapter, when the Steers tore loose for two winning touchdowns it was the offense that donated the big scoring chances with a blocked punt and an intercepted pass.

A final check revealed that Texas ran 84 plays during the game to 48 for the Frogs. Which indicates clearly that the Christian offense didn't hang onto the leather long enough to give the defensive group sufficient rest—to say nothing of not counting enough points. The Frogs made only eight first downs.

Head Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer and Assistant Abe Martin have been giving this situation a lot of thought. They plan no major changes in their offensive formations—the double-wing and spread—but they hope to get a lot more plays called and executed. Especially are they interested in getting more passes thrown.

So far this year, the Frogs have fired only 142 passes—an average of just over 17 per game. That's comparatively few for a team that has long been famous for its over-head game and some seasons has averaged more than 30 passes a contest. Against Texas, the Frogs threw only nine times, a new low Purple pass game has been good with 71 completions in the 142 tries. That's 500.

"We've just got to get our pass game going again," Martin pointed out. "Both Ray McKown and Ross Clark-Ross can pass and we have some fine receivers in Ted Vaughn, Bob Blair, Glen Jones and the others. There's no reason why we shouldn't pass. We'll really work hard on it this week."

The Frogs have a wholesome respect for Rice. The Owls 16-6 conquest of A&M was most convincing.

Civic Bowling Loop Sets Wednesday Tilt

Schedule of games for Wednesday night in the Midland Civic Bowling League has been announced.

The schedule follows: Central Barbers vs. Kiwanis, Lions vs. Eagles, Jaycees vs. Ralph Lowe, and Schlitz vs. VFW.

In last week's games, VFW won two and dropped one to the Lions, the Eagles won two and dropped one to Ralph Lowe, Jaycees won two and dropped one to the Kiwanis, and Central Barbers took two and dropped one to Schlitz.

Cubs Slate Seven Texas Exhibitions

CHICAGO —(AP)—A 41-game spring training exhibition schedule, including seven games in Texas, was announced Tuesday by the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox will play Dallas and Fort Worth twice and El Paso and Austin once. They are booked for a game with the Brooke Medical team at San Antonio, March 31.

The exhibition tour ends against the Cubs in a three-game series at Chicago, April 10, 11 and 12.

Opponents Chosen For Negro Rock Bowl

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—(AP)—Unbeaten Texas Southern University of Houston was selected Tuesday to play Arkansas AM&N College in the Negro Rock Bowl classic here December 6.

Texas Southern has won eight and tied one, AM&N of Pine Bluff has won four, lost three and tied one.

The game will be a charity benefit sponsored by the Rehabilitation Center for negro blind.

Van Williams, former Arlington Heights high star, is now a TCU freshman but has been unable to join the Wog squad because of illness. He's the son of B. C. (Blackie) Williams, TCU captain of 1927.

Rebels' Bud Slay Chosen Top Lineman

NEW YORK —(AP)—The University of Mississippi surprised football circles Saturday by upsetting Maryland, 21-14.

One of the major figures for the Rebels was James (Bud) Slay, who came up with a great pass-catching exhibition at end. His play roused him Wednesday The Associated Press lineman of the week award.

The senior earned the nod in the poll of sports writers and broadcasters. His feat of snaring a 45-yard aerial from Jimmy Lear in the last quarter especially was outstanding.

The play set up Oje Miss' winning touchdown in the closing minutes. Slay caught the ball on the Maryland three. Two plays later the Rebels showed over the winning six-pointer, an achievement that after the game brought them the bid to play in the Sugar Bowl.

Slay, a 185-pounder who stands six feet, one inch, is the first player on a Southeastern Conference team to win the lineman award this year.

Three canine representatives of Midland's Westward Ho Kennels, 1204 West Golf Course Road, trotted away with a clean sweep of prizes this week at the Kerry Blue Terrier Specialty Club Show in Dallas.

C. L. Davenport's terriers took first, second and third places in the open class among 36 contenders.

It was Pat's Kerry Flip in first place with Sea Breeze Grogan of Delwin in second and Captain Ike of Westward Ho in third.

Pat's Kerry Flip also took top honors in the winners' class and thereby earned five of the 15 points necessary for national championship rating. Sea Breeze Grogan of Delwin was the reserve winner in that judging.

The best Kerry Blue in show was Ch. Blue Bluster of Melbee, son of Westward Ho's Ch. Mardou's Invader. Among other winners in the show were more terriers bred by Westward Ho stock.

The competition was held in the Agriculture Buildings on the grounds of the State Fair of Texas.

The University of Mississippi played its sixty-second game in Memphis since 1893 when it played host to Auburn in Crump Stadium on October 4.

Alabama Ex-Student Sends ACC One-Man Grid Eleven

ABILENE—(AP)—Speaking of one-man football teams, consider Wallace Bullington. He should qualify as nearly as anyone ever possibly could.

Bullington plays center for Abilene Christian College—and he plays 60 minutes. In the first place his terrific linebacking the last two seasons has earned him All-Texas Conference honors.

But Mr. Defense for ACC also has other chores. He plays offensive center, too; blocks with the crispness of a pro, does most of the team's punting and all the kicking-off and extra-point attempts. Then, there was the Austin College game when Wally tried his hand at passing. He completed one of three attempts for 12 yards.

The 194-pounder is from Alabama. How did he go to Abilene Christian College? It was like this: Bullington in 1948 was All-Alabama and All-Southern as a schoolboy. He naturally was bound for the University of Alabama—that is, until his father changed his mind. John Bullington, his father, remembered his days at Abilene Christian College in 1911 and wanted his son to go there also. ACC is happier than anybody about it.

Pro Grid League Snubs Dallas Bid

DALLAS —(AP)—Pro football won't be returning to Dallas anytime soon, if ever. National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell has squelched any plans for this city to regain the Dallas Texans franchise it gave up a couple of weeks ago when losses were so heavy the group owning it couldn't carry off any anger.

A new group of moneyed men, willing to post three-quarters of a million dollars to put two football on a sound financial footing in Dallas, was spurred by Bell Tuesday when he refused to allow Dallas to bid for the franchise unless the group paid $200,000 in rental on Yankee Stadium in New York.

The $200,000 lease was assumed by Giles Miller and associates last winter in buying the New York Yanks franchise for $100,000. The rental was to be paid out at $25,000 a year. But before the first payment came due, the franchise had been turned back to the league by Miller and his group, who lost more than $225,000 in operating the club a little more than half a season.

John Coyle, former stockholder of the Dallas Texans, acting as spokesman for the new group, said they were willing to pay $100,000 for the franchise, reimburse the league for any loss it may suffer in operating the club for the remainder of the season and clear up any obligations of the Dallas Texans.

"That might have meant another $100,000 in addition to the $100,000 for the franchise," Coyle said. "In addition, these men, who preferred to remain anonymous, offered to split the $200,000 Yankee Stadium obligation equally with the 11 other cities in the league."

But Bell turned down the offer, refusing to assume, on behalf of the league, any commitments not provided for in the franchise agreement.

Coyle, quoted Bell, whom he talked to in Philadelphia by telephone, as saying he believed "the club owners had rather continue to operate the team themselves" than accept the new Dallas offer.

The Dallas group was willing to put up $200,000 to $250,000 a year for three years if the $200,000 rental obligation was not a part of the franchise, Coyle said.

U. S. Betting On Bangtails Sets Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The onetime "sport of kings," Thoroughbred racing, is a billion-dollar business in the United States for the ninth straight year and will hit a record all-time high in 1952, an Associated Press survey showed Wednesday.

Unofficial and incomplete figures from the 24 states where horse racing with pari-mutuel wagering is legal also shows revenue to the commonwealths will go over the $100,000,000 mark for the first time. The figures are for flat racing only, with additional millions accruing from harness racing tracks.

Figures from the 24 states, with some still racing and estimated on the basis of present attendance and betting, shows a record attendance of 27,261,901 this season.

Two Billions in Bets
The customers shovled a record $1,899,192,662 through the mutual windows, surpassing the lush post-war year of 1946, when $1,820,287,455 was wagered.

Revenue to the states, the combination disclosed will hit $120,234,570, compared with the previous record of $99,927,423 in 1951.

Revenue to the 19 states having racing in 1942 was a mere $22,005,278. New York State alone surpassed that figure this year, when the state's share was $25,326,711. Total betting in 1942 was $536,579,775.

The upward trend, following declines after World War II years, began an upward spiral midway in 1950. It's been spiraling upward since.

The great betting boom shows: Betting in the 24 states up 19.02 per cent as compared with 1951; attendance up 12.17 per cent; revenue to states up 20.32 per cent.

Attendance in 1952 compared with 1951 was 19.02 per cent, while betting last year was $1,829,239,777.

ANOTHER PHILLIPS STAR—Two-time collegiate All-American at the University of Oklahoma, Gerald Tucker will perform with the Phillips 66ers here in the nearing basketball season. He was all-Big Six conference choice for three years. Tucker is forward-center with the Phillips team.

Westerners Use Balance To Tab Wins

LUBBOCK — Lubbock's Westerners, widely known as one of the state's higher-scoring schoolboy teams in recent years, depend more on balance and teamwork for their success this season.

In 1949, 1950 and '51, the Westerners capitalized on brilliant offensive machines and some of Texas' most outstanding individual performers to outscore most of their opponents. And just how successful the technique was is shown by the record books, which reveal that during that three-year period the Westerners won 31 games, lost four and tied one.

But this year it's a different story in the Lubbock camp. Gone are such individual stars as all-state quarterbacks Charles Brewer and Bobby Brown, Fullback James Sides, Halfback Mack Taylor and Center Johnny Tatum.

And the Lubbock offense, which last year averaged 36 points per game in chalking up 13 straight victories, this season has been held to an average of 27 points; per outing. A big number of those tallies — 47 to be exact — were scored in the first game of the season against a weak Plainview team which, at last report, still had not scored a win this year.

That's no reflection on the Lubbock griders this season, but just an indication of the different type of personnel on the Westerner squad. In previous years the Westerners have been an "all the way on any play" type of ball club. This year it's a "three and four yards per down, and hold the ball" type of unit.

Scales Balanced
While the Lubbock team has been held to fewer points this year, the scales have been balanced by the fact that the Westerner defense has been tougher in the clutch. Lubbock was held to just seven points in the Odessa game, but it was plenty of margin as the Westerner defense held the Bronchos outside the Lubbock 40-yard line all night.

Stanton Buffaloes Meet Denver City In Week's Contest

DENVER CITY — At least a tie for District 4-A honors was clinched by Denver City Friday with a smashing win over Morton.

While the situation would make it between Denver City and Sundown, Denver City won from the Roughnecks earlier in a district battle.

Wink's Danny Villarreal Top District 5-A Scorer

WINK—Rough and rugged Danny Villarreal, the Wink Wildcats' own Doak Walker, is top scorer in District 5-A for the season with 126 points on 21 touchdowns.

In last Friday's title game with Wink clobbering Iran, 68-0, Villarreal wrapped up 18 points.

Second place scoring laurels goes to Charles Dixon of McCamey. Dixon has 102 points, just four TD's shy of Villarreal.

The educated toe of Dale Dodd, Wink's extra point man, booted 36 times to pace the district.

The Cats had a perfect record in district play and only dropped two games during the season. The Cats

Six-Man Circuit Ends Five-Way Tie

KERRVILLE (AP)—The five-way tie in District 12-B six-man football was ended here Tuesday when representatives of the five schools voted to name Center Point the 1952 district champ.

Center Point will meet Pflugerville, winner of District 11-B, in the bi-district playoff next week. The site is yet to be selected.

Center Point, Rocksprings, Comfort, Medina and Harper ended conference play with two losses each for the unprecedented tie. However, one of the losses chalked up against Center Point was a forfeit of its 55-12 victory over Rocksprings because an ineligible player has been used.

Rocky's Manager Reveals Secret Of Punching Power

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano isn't a fancy dan in the ring. In fact his boxing is only a few points above nothing.

But he can punch. Joe Louis, Harry (Kid) Matthews and his title victim, Jersey Joe Walcott, and others can testify to that.

Where did Rocky develop his punching power? In swimming pools, under water.

At Well's, his manager, told of the unusual training routine while lounging in the expanse of the Presidential Suite of the St. Francis Hotel.

Marciano is here to referee a fight Thursday night.

"Rocky gets punching power under water," Well said. "He stands up to his neck and swings. The resistance of the water strengthens his arm and shoulder muscles."

"That's why when I make hotel reservations, I check to see if the place has a pool. This is a nice place but it has no pool. We'll be fixed up in Los Angeles. We will be there Saturday for a two-day rehearsal for the George Jessel show, November 29."

Well said he hoped to set back the date for the title defense against Walcott until June and mentioned New York City as the site he preferred. He expressed the opinion there was a possibility the athletic commission of that state would relent and issue a license to Walcott's now-barred manager, Felix Boochicco.

Fair American Ski Champ Plans Divorce

The friends reported Katy may marry Stein Erikson, Norwegian world ski champ now in this country. They often were seen together at the Oslo Winter games.

No Christmas Gift Awaits Westerners Here Saturday

GANGWAY!—Perhaps the least publicized quarterback in the nation has been Mississippi State's Jackie Parker. He set a new Southeastern Conference record showing the way in major college scoring.

San Angelo JC Quarterback Is Pioneer Loop's Busiest

By The Associated Press
Gene Henderson, San Angelo quarterback, not only is the busiest but the most versatile football player in the Pioneer Junior College Conference.

He leads in rushing and kickoff returns and is second in punting, second in punt returns and second in scoring.

Henderson has carried the ball 64 times for 515 yards. He has taken seven kickoffs back for 208 yards, has punted 40 times for an average of 36.7, returned 12 kicks for 365 yards and scored 48 points. Quite a fellow.

Sam Howard of Arlington State tops the passers with 57 completions in 143 throws for 992 yards. Bobby Browner of Schreiner is second with 37 of 74 for 529.

Joe Bill Fox of Tarleton State is the leading punter with an average of 39.2 on 27 kicks. Johnny Kozart of Arlington State is first in punt returns, having taken 19 back for 383 yards.

Jube Belcher, San Angelo end, is the leader in pass-receiving. He has snared 28 for 363 yards. James Brazell of Schreiner has caught 27 for 361.

Ken Vavra of Arlington State tops in scoring with 62 points on six touchdowns and 26 extra points.

Arlington State leads in team offense with 3,032 yards in nine games. Ranger is the defensive leader, allowing only 58 points to be scored against it and holding the opposition to less than 170 yards rushing and passing per game.

Wide Open Offensive Play Hinted In Bulldog Strategy

By JIM LINDSEY
A telling grin creased his face. A lifted hand fingered his stubby hair. Coach Tugboat Jones was feeling better Tuesday night. His sharp humor returned with an air of confidence at the weekly meeting of the 400-member Booster Club in the high school cafeteria.

"We looked more like ourselves," Jones started his comment on the Bulldog victory over Amarillo last Friday night in Memorial Stadium. "We were grinding it out."

Then the smiling mentor forsook the past briefly. He looked ahead with renewed pleasure. He was thinking of the Saturday afternoon clash with the defending state champions, the Lubbock High School Westerners.

"We'll have a good day," Jones assured. "We won't leave anything for Christmas."

Questions from the floor reverted to the sinking of the Sandies.

"Our passing attack was much improved," Jones observed. "Now if we can only keep the passes hitting the mark and our receivers gather them in."

The happy mentor showed the Bulldogs individually and collectively with praise for the wide improvement, in blocking particularly. Time after time Coach Audrey Gill reran pieces of the Amarillo-Midland game film in order that Jones might heap praise on blockers and tacklers.

The obviously elated boosters called for reruns again and again. Clinton Noble's upright blocking brought bursts of applause. The great running of little Jesse Hatfield and barreling Roy Kimsey received rounds of approval. Bill Mims, Bill Leonard, Paul Davis, Fred Gist, Larry Friday, Darrell Spivay—the entire fighting outfit got into the act for commendation during Jones' commentary on the motion pictures.

And Jones and his staff expect the Bulldogs to have "a good day" against the highly rated Westerners. Jones gave an inkling of what is happening behind locked gates this week. Special changes for Lubbock are shaping.

End Robert Keshling and Guard Terry Pughlar have been turned into linebackers. Keshling demonstrated with a series of tackles on one stretch in the Amarillo encounter that he is ready to go after the ball carrier.

"They are part of a new plan," and Jones let the subject drop at that.

"Lubbock is hard to defense," Jones pointed out. "The Westerners make few mistakes and take advantage of everything."

The Bulldogs were to revive fond memories Wednesday. They will study film of that memorable upset Midland victory two years ago in Lubbock. The 1950 and 1952 teams are similar, Jones said, and no doubt valuable pointers will be forthcoming in turning back the South Plains invaders Saturday.

It will be homecoming at Midland High School, giving the Bulldogs added incentive for victory. A parade is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Saturday with high school clubs presenting colorful floats. The football sweetheart, Glenda McNeil, will be introduced between halves. Saturday night dancing at the Youth Center concludes the Homecoming program.

Coach Gill joined Jones in an indication of a wide open offensive game.

"We'll have to outscore them," Gill admitted. "We can't beat them with defense."

Lubbock employs the T formation and "sets flankers all over the field," Gill went on. Although the Westerners have outstanding passers, the aerial attack is designed primarily to make their running game go, Gill said.

Midland coaches have scouted Lubbock four times this season.

"And win, lose or draw, you'll see a good football game," Gill pledged. "There is likely to be several touchdowns."

Ticket Sales Set
Tickets for the game starting at 2 p.m. Saturday will go on sale at 9 a.m. Thursday in the foyer of the high school auditorium, Wesley Martin, director of special services, announced to the Booster Club. Sales continue from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. both Thursday and Friday. Duca's may be obtained at Memorial Stadium after 9 a.m. Saturday.

More than 2,000 tickets already have been sent to Lubbock, indicating a large delegation of visitors from the Hub City.

'PRESIDENT LINCOLN ALSO SPOKE'

Those 'Silly' Gettysburg Remarks Weren't Forgotten

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Eighty-nine years ago Wednesday, as soon as the Baltimore Glee Club had finished, the tall homely man pulled a paper from his pocket and began to read a speech in his high, un-musical voice.

The crowd at Gettysburg, Pa., didn't pay to much attention. "Four score and seven years ago," Abraham Lincoln began, "our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

After all, there had been plenty of speaking already. Especially from Edward Everett, who had been a U. S. senator, a governor of Massachusetts, a cabinet member, a minister to Great Britain and president of Harvard.

As the nation's top orator, Everett, in his hour and 57-minute speech, touched all the bases, including a description of how the early Greeks cared for those who were killed in battle.

Lincoln stuck to his own nation, and its awful problems. "Now we are engaged in a great civil war testing whether that nation, or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure," he said.

Not Asked To Talk
At the early morning briefing session in the auditorium, Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, presided, and Al H. Vineyard, a member of the Chamber's education committee, welcomed the teachers and explained the purpose and general objectives of B-E Day.

The teachers were luncheon guests at the school. The annual event is sponsored by the Midland Chamber of Commerce. The program will be repeated in the spring when the businessmen will be the guests of the schools during an Education-Business Day observance.

Participating Firms
The participating firms included Nell's Sheet Metal Company; A&L Housing & Lumber Company; City of Midland; Stubbsman, McRae & Sealy; First National Bank; Midland National Bank; Elder Chevrolet Company; Hargrove Motor Company; S&Q Clothiers; C. R. Anthony Company; J. O. Penney Company; F. W. Woolworth Company; Midland Hardware & Furniture Company; Texas Concrete Block Company; West Texas Gas Company; Southwestern Bell Telephone Company; Standoli Oil & Gas Company; Superior Oil Company; Magnolia Petroleum Company; Wilshire Oil Company; Shell Oil Company; Texas & Pacific Oil & Gas Company; Humble Oil & Refining Company; Western Company; Rotary Engineers; Mims & Stephens Insurance; Sidwell & Imier Drilling Company; Diamond Oil Well Drilling Company; Reporter-Telegram; Webb Davis Fruit Company; Southwestern Drug Company; Midland Memorial Hospital, and Pioneer Air Lines.

Poor Press Remarks
To us now, some of the reaction to the speech seems curious. "The Harrisburg, Pa. Patriot and Union said: 'We pass over the silly remarks of the President; for the credit of the nation we are willing that the veil of oblivion shall be dropped over them and that they shall no more be repeated or thought of.'"

And from the Chicago Times came this: "The cheek of every American must tingle with shame as he reads the silly, flat, and dish-water utterances..."

Lincoln himself didn't seem to think he had a bell-ringer. "The world will little note nor long remember what we say here," he said, "but it can never forget what we did here."

Lincoln was ready for his windup. "It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced," he said. "It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

The tall man sat down. He had been expected to make some perfunctory remarks and probably he got only perfunctory applause. It didn't matter. The Chicago Tribune man summed it up in a sentence.

"The dedicatory remarks of President Lincoln," he said, "will live among the annals of man." "To be remembered, and pondered, whenever the nation was in trouble."

More than 20 shotgun blasts were fired into the air. So were several bursts from a sub-machine gun before the two-hour disturbance was quieted. No one was wounded. One convict, however, suffered a scalp cut from a flying missile.

Still, a death may result from the riot. Capt. Earl Secrist, one of 140 state troopers speeding to the scene, lost control of his car two miles southeast of Lansing and hit a tree. Lansing hospital attendants said he was not expected to live.

The same scream in the mess hall that set off a bloody, millipede-dollar riot in April ignited Tuesday night. It was: "There's salt in the coffee." A less violent riot occurred in July, which resulted in the firing of the then Warden Julian N. Friable and became an issue in the recent gubernatorial race.

None of the 35 to 40 unarmed guards inside the prison, the world's largest walled penitentiary, was grabbed as a hostage this time. Assistant Deputy Warden Charles Cahill, who led a squad of eight shotgun-armed guards that finally forced submission, said the rioting "undoubtedly" was part of an escape plot.

No escape came off, however, and Warden William H. Bannan and State Corrections Commissioner Ernest C. Brooks described the uprising as "unorganized."

Production was through a 32 1/2-inch choke from perforations between 4,458 feet and 4,466 feet in 1 1/2-inch casing set at 4,641.6 feet. Total depth is 5,188 feet and to date pay was picked at 4,453 feet on derrier floor elevation of 2,924 feet. Gels Pressures

Tubing pressure was 60 pounds and pressure on the casing was 375 pounds. Location of the new open well is 2,866 feet from south and 5,865 feet from west lines of L. Forsythe survey No. 450 and one and one-quarter miles southeast of Wingate.

It is a southeast offset to the depleted Fry discovery in the Wingate field, one and one-half miles north of the Lloyd pool and one and one-quarter miles northwest of the Eureka area, both producing from the Fry.

Southland Royalty Company of Midland has staked location for its No. 1 N. L. Douglas three-eighths of a mile southeast of production on the southeast side of the Aldwell field of Northwest Reagan County.

The test will be drilled with rotary tools to 7,500 feet. Drilling will begin at once. Drillsite is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 33, block B, L&SV survey and on a 320-acre tract.

That makes it 25 miles northwest of Big Lake.

General Crude Oil Company has staked location for a 6,000-foot project one and one-quarter miles west of the south end of the Claytonville field of Southwest Fisher County, and separated from the field by dry hole.

It is No. 3 Edwin Alken and is located 660 feet from north and east lines of section 260, block 3, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Forest Oil Corporation has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Continental-Bhannon, wildcat in Northwest Crockett County, at total depth of 7,934 feet.

Operator took a drillsite test in the Ellenburger from 7,791 to 7,934 feet. Tool was open one and one-half hours. Recovery was 750 feet of sulphur water cut mud.

Location was 5,940 feet from south and 410 feet from east lines of block 2, J. Wiley Heirs survey and seven miles southwest of the Luis (Devonian) field.

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., of Dallas is drilling below 2,216 feet in shale on his No. 1 J. W. Wilson, recently staked 7,900-foot Ellenburger wildcat in East-Central Nolan County.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 252, block 64, H&TC survey and four miles southwest of Dora.

It is five miles east of the Hylon Northwest (Strawn) field but separated 10m the pool by a 6,185-foot Ellenburger failure.

Swede Pursues Rat-Killing Task Super-Duper Fashion

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN—(AP)—E. Elmwall got rid of a rat that was hiding in his car—at a cost of six persons injured, an automobile repair shop damaged, five cars smashed badly and hundreds of windows broken in the small village of Sparreholm, 53 miles west of Stockholm.

Elmwall, owner of the repair shop, found the rat behind the seat cushions of his car Tuesday. Unable to reach the pest, he drove the car to his garage and filled it with acetylene to kill the rat.

A moment later, an explosion—believed set off by an electric short in the car—rocked the neighborhood. The top of Elmwall's automobile sailed 75 feet through the air. Four other cars in the garage—and the building itself—were damaged badly.

The six injured men, two of whom were hurt seriously, were hit by falling debris. No trace of the rat has been found yet.

Officers Run Down Scribbling Bandit

TEXARKANA, ARK.—(AP)—Arkansas state highway patrolmen arrested a 27-year-old Klondike, Texas, man 30 minutes after a Texarkana waitress was robbed by a customer who wrote her a threatening note with her pencil.

The man, who had been drinking beer in the cafe, asked the waitress to loan him her pencil. He scribbled a note and handed it to her. It read, "Ladies, put your money in a bag and you won't get hurt."

When the waitress refused, he opened the cash register and took out $85. He then handed the note to a woman customer. From her purse he took $50 and a set of car keys. Walking out of the cafe he climbed into the woman customer's car and sped away.

The suspect was captured near Fulton driving the woman customer's car after a 95-mile-an-hour chase.

Two Plead Guilty To Taking, Hiding Smuggled Cattle

EL PASO—(AP)—Two men pleaded guilty in U. S. District Court Tuesday to three indictments charging receiving and concealing smuggled Mexican cattle.

Martin C. Jettinich, 31, prominent El Paso area rancher, and L. A. Campbell, 30, a cattle buyer, will be sentenced next week.

Holvey Williams, assistant U. S. attorney, agreed to dismiss charges of smuggling and conspiracy after the pair entered pleas.

Officials charged, after a long investigation by the U. S. Customs Agency, that the cattle were sold to an El Paso packing company, where most of the animals were recovered.

Big Game Hunting Easy, Lions Told

"Big game hunting in Africa is like going out and killing cows," said Dick Campbell Wednesday, debunking the Hollywood-inspired version of the dangers of Africa.

Campbell, who spent a year and a half in Ethiopia with the Sinclair Oil Company, spoke before the Lions Club luncheon meeting at Jimmy's Barbecue.

The speaker at the session was introduced by Duke Jimerson, attorney at the gathering was estimated by Lions' President L. V. Basham at 80 members and guests, more than twice the number usually present for the evening meetings.

Wednesday marked a change from night sessions to noon meetings. The next meeting of the Lions will be held next Wednesday, a joint session with the Rotarians.

Campbell showed a series of slides on Ethiopia which he had taken while there, accompanied by his narration on the events shown.

Houston Socialite Found Fatally Shot

HOUSTON—(AP)—A 21-year-old Houston socialite was found shot to death early Wednesday in a bedroom of her apartment. Police said a .380-caliber pistol was found near the body.

She was Mallie Lucille Meyer, daughter of the late Lasker M. Meyer, prominent Houston merchant. Justice of the Peace Tom Mann returned a verdict of suicide.

Probe Begins After Third Uprising In Michigan Cells

JACKSON, MICH.—(AP)—With rioting inmates subdued by shotgun blasts, authorities at Southern Michigan Prison Wednesday began a probe in which they hoped to pin the blame for the third major uprising here this year.

It broke out in the mess hall Tuesday night. For a time there were 2,200 wildly milling rioters involved, many streaming into yards from cellblocks forced by pails. Some had knives grabbed from the kitchen. Others had clubs.

More than 20 shotgun blasts were fired into the air. So were several bursts from a sub-machine gun before the two-hour disturbance was quieted. No one was wounded. One convict, however, suffered a scalp cut from a flying missile.

Red Protests Halt Afghanistan Border Oil Developments

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—Reliable reports reaching here Wednesday said Afghanistan has suspended temporarily oil exploitation in the provinces adjoining the Soviet Union.

Russia has complained about Afghanistan's development program to which the U. S. and UN are contributing money and technical aid. Thus far, Afghanistan has rejected the Soviet protests.

But the latest reports from Kabul, Afghanistan capital, say the Afghans halted work on the program because of failure to receive requested assurance of support from the U. S. and Britain in the event rejection of the Soviet protests brings a more hostile move from the Russians.

Equipment and supplies financed by the U. S. and the UN still are reaching Afghanistan in anticipation of continuing the program "when the diplomatic situation is cleared," the reports said.

Pilot Says Boxcar Passengers Ignored Order To Parachute

BILLINGS, MONT.—(AP)—Men on an Air Force Flying Boxcar which crashed and killed eight of 16 aboard were "just milling around" after orders to bail out, the pilot said Tuesday.

Col. William E. Shuttles, 45, Dallas, described the scene in a hospital interview. He suffered a head injury.

The pilot said he ordered a bail-out, unhooked his safety harness and went to the lower deck.

"Not one soul had made any effort to bail out," Shuttles said. "They had the doors open, but were just milling around."

Shuttles said he was convinced that "it was hopeless in the minutes left to bring order," and returned to the controls.

"I couldn't just jump and leave the others in," he said. "I decided to ride her down. But I don't believe anybody would have been hurt if they had bailed out."

Injured Woman, 60, Pinned In Wrecked Auto Five Days

HAMBURG, IOWA.—(AP)—A 60-year-old grandmother lay seriously injured and helpless for five days and nights in the wreckage of a car concealed in a weeded gully beside a busy highway. She had a broken left hip, broken left arm, several fractured ribs and was suffering severe shock. Thousands of cars sped by but no one spotted her.

Her only food was a few pieces of fudge and a bottle of boric acid solution. Throughout the 120-hour ordeal, between spells of unconsciousness, she prayed desperately. And then, by chance, a highway grade operator saw the wrecked car from his high cab. "I just happened to look back for some reason," said Jack Kraschel.

Wednesday, Mrs. Glen McKnight of St. Joseph, Mo., lay in a Hamburg hospital. Doctors said her condition was "remarkably good." They said it was "a chase for the medical books."

When Kraschel reached her Tuesday, she exclaimed: "Thank God! I am sure glad He sent someone to find me."

Kraschel said, "She grabbed my hand and held on to it tight and then asked me for water. She told me she had not suffered a bit. She is really a woman."

Dr. Ralph Lovelady of Sidney was called to the scene and reported, "She was as cold as ice when I reached her. This is a case for the medical books. At her age and with her injuries it would have been bad enough if we had found her right away."

During the ride to the hospital Dr. Lovelady said Mrs. McKnight, chattering gaily, told him a rain Sunday "gave her a chance to quench her thirst. She held her cupped hands out the window to get a few drops."

A daughter, Mrs. Dale Holcomb of St. Joseph, said her mother also drank a bottle of boric acid used as an eye wash.

Dr. R. C. Danley, head of the Hamburg hospital, declared, "I have never heard of a case to go so long under a state of shock."

Three West Texans are among cadet officers and non-commissioned officers in the Corps of Cadets for Headquarters First Battalion, First Regiment, Headquarters Second Battalion, First Regiment, Texas A&M College.

Julian William Thraser, Monahan, has been named to the "A" Infantry. Jack K. Reynolds, Peecos, has been named to the "A" Armor. Joseph Paul Collins, Midland, has been named to "B" Field Artillery.

Witnesses Tell How Provoov Threatened Fellow Prisoners

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Two treason trial witnesses against John David Provoov testified Tuesday about a clash between the defendant and an American officer who was executed by Japanese captors on Corregidor.

The executed officer was Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Iowa.

MAMIE FINDS EXTRA POUNDS

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—While her husband paraded through Washington and conferred at the White House Tuesday, Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower visited kinfolk and went to the doctors.

She left the welcome parade enroute to the White House and was driven to the Army's Walter Reed Hospital for "a small check-up."

Afterward, she told reporters the doctors said she was two pounds overweight. Biographical sketches describe her as being five feet four and weighing 135 pounds.

Mrs. Eisenhower then went to the home of Mrs. George G. Moore, Jr., her sister.

Midlanders Urged To Attend Forum; Regan Participates

Midland and area residents are invited and urged to attend the second annual Texas Congressional Forum scheduled at 2:30 p.m. Friday in Fort Worth.

The event is sponsored by the West Texas and East Texas Chambers of Commerce and the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

Congressman Ken Regan of Midland will be one of the 12 legislators participating in the forum, which will feature problems, trends and outlooks in national affairs.

Ed Gossett of Fort Worth, a former congressman, will be the moderator, and R. B. Anderson of Vernon will be the keynote speaker.

Other congressmen scheduled to participate are Jack Brooks, Beaumont; Omar Burleson, Anson; Martin Dies, Lufkin; Frank Ikard, Wichita Falls; Wingate Lucas, Grapevine; William R. Poage, Waco; John Dowdy, Athens; O. C. Fisher, San Angelo; Brady Gentry, Tyler; Olin Teague, College Station; and J. Frank Wilson, Dallas.

Two Air 'Hitchers' Die In C-119 Crash

GREAT FALLS, MONT.—(AP)—Two of the eight airmen who died in the crash of a C-119 at Billings Monday had hitched rides on the "Flying Boxcar" to get home on furloughs.

They were Airman 2 C James F. Harvey, Dallas, and Airman Lawrence E. Finch, Lyons, Kan., both stationed at the Air Force Base in Great Falls where the ill-fated craft had stopped to refuel.

Bodies of the eight victims were brought to the base here to be returned to their families.

Two Die In Crash Near Hale Center

LUBBOCK.—(AP)—Mrs. H. O. McAdams of Roscoe and her two-year-old grandson, Johnny Bowie of Hermleigh, were injured fatally in a two-car collision on a country road near Hale Center Tuesday night.

The driver of the other vehicle Billy Tom Young, escaped uninjured.

'Judge, Spare That Blonde,' Cried Anonymous Knight

CANTERBURY, ENGLAND.—(AP)—A gallant Frenchman who wrote "women of such beauty in my court are never guilty" Tuesday dashed to rescue a tall blonde from a seven pound, ten shilling clothing bill.

The anonymous knight wrote a judge here saying he had seen stories in British newspapers about the plight of six-foot Mrs. Jane Graham Harris, who claimed she could not afford to pay the bill. He enclosed a postal money order for the sum with the provision that it should go for Iowa, hospital mess officer on Corregidor. Provoov was an Army sergeant allegedly in the good graces of the Japanese.

Charles Benjamin Walker, 54, retired Army noncommissioned officer who was a hospital mess sergeant after the fall of Corregidor in 1942, testified that Provoov threatened Thomson.

The witness told this story: Provoov entered Thomson's mess after the meal hour and demanded to be fed, and the captain told Provoov he would have to take his meals at the regular hours. Provoov became insolent, and the captain told him that as long as he wore the uniform of a U. S. Army sergeant he owed respect to superior officers.

Captain "Disappeared" Provoov replied: "I take orders from nobody. I'm working for the Japanese and I'll give you three minutes to get me something to eat or I'll turn you over to the Japanese."

Walker said he himself walked away at this point—and "I never saw Captain Thomson again."

The government charges Provoov, 35, of Sausalito, Calif., with responsibility for the execution of Thomson. Provoov is accused of going over to the Japanese and selling out his fellow prisoners. He could get the death penalty if convicted. The defense has contended that Provoov did nothing except what the Japanese forced him to do under pain of death.

Walker's testimony was supported by Col. John K. Borneman, 54, of Lancaster, Pa., a retired member of the U. S. Army Corps of Chaplains.

Tories Restore Trucking Industry To Private Owners

LONDON.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's Conservatives more than maintained their parliamentary voting margin Tuesday night in the first crucial test of their drive to roll back Socialist legislation passed by the previous Labor government.

The House of Commons approved, 302-282, the decisive second reading of a bill restoring Britain's nationalized trucking industry to private ownership. The normal Conservative margin in the 625-seat House is 16.

The Conservatives also intend to denationalize the iron and steel industry but the parliamentary battle on that issue will come later.

Wichita County Asks End Of Rent Controls

WICHITA FALLS.—(AP)—Rent de-control for Wichita County has been advised here by a rent control advisory board made up of citizens of the area.

The board's action came following a report by the regional Office of Rent Stabilization that told of a survey showing 314 rental vacancies in the county.

Russell Stephens, regional ORS director from Dallas, said it probably will take a week for Washington action to de-control rents here.

Congressmen Look Into Plan To Roll Back Price Of Meat

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The government's proposed meat price rollback was "booked" for searching congressional study Wednesday.

The Senate House Defense Production Committee headed by Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Republican congressional leaders conferring in New York with President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower sought from the next President a statement of the incoming Administration's views on whether the whole wage, price and rent control program should be scrapped.

Taft told a news conference here Tuesday that the controversial controls program was one of the most important subjects slated for discussion at Wednesday's meeting in New York.

Republicans Favor Study Commission On Social Welfare

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Republicans' top congressional leaders say they favor appointment of a commission to study the federal government's role in future social welfare programs.

The idea was proposed Tuesday by Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP's Senate Policy Committee, and endorsed by Representative Martin of Massachusetts, slated speaker of the House in the Republican-controlled Congress.

Taft told reporters such a commission could examine social security, housing and health problems as well as look at other social welfare issues.

IN OKLAHOMA
Blene Gattis, 202 West Parker Street, is in Tulsa, Okla., at the bedside of a niece who is seriously ill.

FROM CRANE
Mrs. Lorene Ramsey, Mrs. Joe Northcutt and Florence Honeycutt of Crane were business visitors Tuesday in Midland.

Authority to continue those controls is scheduled to expire next April 30.

The defense production committee, a watchdog group set up by Congress, has called for detailed recommendations from Wood concerning the future of price control.

One member, Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) told reporters he believes the controls program "has been loaded down with foolish orders, unenforceable and unworkable, and it ought to expire."

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), another member of the group and slated to head the Senate Banking Committee in the next Congress, predicted the price chief would be questioned on a variety of subjects, including the stabilizer's proposal to turn price controls over to local boards.

Capehart stuck to an earlier announcement that he intends to submit to his committee the whole question of whether to continue the controls program, and said he has "a 100 per cent open mind" on the issue.

RIGOR MORTIS, MR. MOTORIST

CAPE GIRARDEAU, MO.—(AP)—It took a woman driver finally to decide the difference between a "dead stop" and an ordinary "stop"—a question that has bothered folks here for two weeks.

The problem arose when new city stop signs called for a "dead stop."

The unidentified woman driver, quoted by City Commissioners J. W. McBride, saw it this way: "A 'dead stop' is when you turn off your switch key and kill your motor."

That plan, Capehart said, "isn't too sound."

MIDLAND, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1952

SECTION TWO

NEW ADDITION TO THE FAMILY—Midland's new $100,000 baby is shown rolling freight cars out of the Texas Electric spur. The husky switch engine was assigned to the Midland area permanently by the Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

Diesel Switcher Assigned To Speed Midland Freight

Midland has grown in volume of business handled to the point that it now has its own permanently assigned switch engine.

The $100,000 Diesel giant went on duty recently, announced freight agent Dee Davis of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company this week. The sleek engine musters 1,200 horsepower, and it can handle 100 freight cars in and out each day.

In the past a yard engine from Big Spring came puffing down to Midland to distribute the freight cars deposited here by four through trains. But Midland grew, and the T&P decided it was time for a regularly stationed switch engine here. The five man crew of the big workhorse are on duty from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily except Saturdays.

The engine spots loaded freight cars by warehouses and "positions" empty cars to be picked up by trains. It operates in a five-mile yard, and travels from 35 to 40 miles each day. About 50 gallons of diesel fuel are consumed per working day, and the Midland engine has a speed limit of 40 miles per hour.

The streamlined giant is equipped with air brakes and has an automatic coupler for hooking onto the freight cars. A Big Spring crew is running it now, but as soon as "bids" are completed, it will have its own

Realism Keynotes New Parlor Toys

New thrills for young architects in the 1952 Christmas toy crop include modernistic interlocking blocks for reconstructing the UN building and other modern structures. A new set of plastic blocks includes windows and doors that open and shut.

Highway engineers, junior grade, will be supplied with a complete set of miniature scale models that do an efficient job of road grading.

Ideas For Those Junior Railroaders

Among new items in Santa's workshop for junior's railroad empire is an ingenious switch tower which has a man who pops out when a train goes by and a flagman who comes down the stairs waving a flag to stop motorists.

There's a barrel loader, in which a man knocks barrels onto a moving belt which deposits them in the freight car, and a freight station with a man who rides around on a baggage cart.

HE'S NOT STARVING YET—

Ex-King Farouk Struggles Against Financial Famine

CAIRO—(AP)—It depends on how you look at it.

One way, you can take ex-King Farouk's word for it that he is a "relatively poor man." He has suffered a drastic cut in wages and standard of living.

For instance, at Capri he restricted himself to $400-a-day lodgings.

The last year he occupied the Egyptian throne he had an income of more than $15,000 a week—just from the state and one reported holding of arable land. He had four major palaces and a half-dozen others scattered around the country.

At Capri he spent $400 a day. In Egypt, his minimum income was $16,000 a day.

Holdings Concealed

The hidden story of the fabulous wealth and income of the playboy-monarch slowly is being pieced together.

El Sayed Ahmed Khasaba, one of the two custodians of the ex-king's property, has disclosed that part of Farouk's personal holdings included 12,000 acres of the most fertile soil in the Nile Valley. This did not include what is scattered around under concealed names and owned by various members of the royal household.

These particular 12,000 acres have been estimated to be worth $17,220,000. The annual income for Farouk from these lush acres was $2,152,000.

He got another $3,731,000 from the Egyptian state last year to run the royal household.

Just from these two sources alone, Farouk had an annual income of almost six million dollars a year. He had other resources, of course, including his secret holdings abroad. These have been estimated at between 40 million and 60 million dollars in cash and securities on foreign banks.

When the whole story of the vast Farouk economic structure is placed together there is virtually no chance that Farouk will ever get a penny out of Egypt. There has been a public clamor for confiscation of his properties. Already his four major palaces have been put directly under the control of the government.

All of which makes him a "relatively poor man." His income has been slashed from a minimum of 10 million dollars a year to whatever he can eke out of the investments abroad.

That's roughly three million dollars a year.

Tremendous Morale Booster

During the heat of the presidential campaign, General Eisenhower's proposal to go to Korea was assailed by the opposition as a "grandstand play" and a "cheap trick to get votes."

When the balloting was over, President Truman could not resist one final political jab, offering his own plan to the President-elect "if you still desire to go to Korea."

Now, beset by crowding problems related to the January change-over in government, Eisenhower is under some pressure to abandon the trip for reasons of time. And he hears again and again of the physical risks involved.

Yet, with all this, the trip idea has won many new converts since the election. One is Assistant Defense Secretary Anna Rosenberg, who herself has just concluded a tour of the Korean battlefield.

One prime argument for the general's visit is that there is no real substitute for seeing a situation first-hand. Why take written or verbal reports, filtered through other minds, when you can take a look on the spot yourself?

This argument is especially telling in Eisenhower's case, since he is a supremely trained observer of the military scene. Who is to say that no new or untried solutions will result when such a commander applies all his expert knowledge to a close-up review of Korea?

A second sound point is that the trip is certain to prove a tremendous morale booster for our troops on the peninsula. For long months, during the stalemate that accompanied the futile peace talks, Korea seemed a forgotten fighting line.

The press of home-front business notwithstanding, Eisenhower ought to stick to his resolve to go. In Korea the lives of free men are in daily jeopardy.

Dumb people speed their limit—others limit their speed.

A Massachusetts pastor says church-going is a habit. One you really ought to try to develop—for goodness sake!

People whose aim is good in this world will miss fire in the next.

One touch of financial good luck has a habit of making the whole world your kin.

It's all right to brag about coming from good people after those people feel they can brag about you.

The Rumor Mill

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington—Here are some of the views of top American scientists behind the official announcement of the first explosion of an H-bomb.

1. We know now that the H-bomb can be made. Prior to this, we simply did not know. It was a most uncertain experiment. But we also know that before long the Russians are bound to have an H-bomb too.

2. For psychological reasons it was imperative that the free world beat the Russians in developing the first H-bomb. If the Russians had announced its perfection before we did, it might have thrown the free world, especially Western Europe, into panic.

3. The H-bomb will have only a limited number of targets when used by us, whereas for Russia it would have many more targets. In other words, the number of Russian industrial cities of any size is limited. And to the cold view of the military strategists, there is no use wasting an H-bomb on a medium-sized industrial city.

4. The scientists still do not know what might happen to the world's atmosphere if a large number of hydrogen bombs were to be exploded almost simultaneously. If, for instance, 100 H-bombs were to be exploded in a short interval, the atmosphere of the earth might become so saturated with radioactive material that all life on this planet would be destroyed.

Scientists still do not know how much radioactive matter the atmosphere can stand, and some fear the final answer may come when it is too late.

Since the United States is such an attractive H-bomb target, the scientists felt it was imperative that we know as much as possible about the new bomb so we can at least partly defend ourselves against it. This was the reason for the rushed-up Eniwetok explosion.

We needed to know, for instance, how big an airplane was needed to carry the new bomb; how much damage it will do; what kind of air-aid shelters are necessary to protect the civilian population; how fast must an airplane travel away from an H-bomb explosion after the bomb is dropped, to avoid damage; how much material must be diverted from making atomic bombs in order to make hydrogen bombs.

All these things make it necessary to state the Eniwetok test, as a result of which many of these questions were answered.

Theoretically there is no limit to the size of an H-bomb. It can be made 50, 100, 1,000 or 10,000 times as powerful as an A-bomb. The chief limit is the necessity of making the bomb small enough to be carried by plane and not so big as to be wasted on medium-sized targets.

This is why the chief work on the atom bomb in recent years has been to reduce its size and weight with reducing destructiveness. That same experimentation now will take place regarding the H-bomb. From now on, scientists will concentrate on making it smaller and lighter.

Most important problem the scientists have to worry about is that the H-bomb uses large quantities of precious material that also goes into the A-bomb. So, for every H-bomb we make, we lessen the production of A-bombs.

Note—All these things point up the fact that while we have been developing the weapons of war, we have fallen lamentably far behind in developing the instruments of peace.

One of the unwritten human stories of the Korean war is how America's top jet ace, Maj. Fred "Bones" Blesse fought red tape so he could be sent back to Korea to fight Russian MIG's.

For the better part of a year, Blesse bombarded his friends in the Pentagon with letters, pleading with them to pull strings so he could be transferred to Korea. This was after he already had flown 102 missions in F-80 fighter bombers, and had been rotated home in May, 1951.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

When the annual National Bridge Championship begins in Miami at the end of this month, Joe Coban, president of the Bridge League, will be on hand to welcome experts from all parts of the country. Joe will be a host in more ways than one because, although his home town is Wooster, Ohio, he spends about half of the year in Florida.

Besides being a good executive, the genial trumper is also one of the top-ranking players in the country. Today's hand, played by Joe Coban in a recent rubber bridge game, shows him at his careful best.

West opened a low trump, and dummy won with the ten. Joe led another trump from dummy, and put up the ace of trumps from his own hand when East showed out.

The average player probably would switch to hearts at this point in the hope of discarding diamonds from the dummy. This plan would fail, since West would ruff the last heart with a low trump, forcing dummy to overruff.

Dummy would have to return a diamond, and West would be able to take the trick and lead out the king of spades to draw dummy's last trump. South would wind up losing a trump and three diamonds.

Coban saw this danger and therefore took the club finesse at the third trick. This finesse had to be risked sooner or later, no matter how the hand was played, and the immediate finesse was necessary for other reasons.

When the queen of clubs held the trick, declarer cashed the ace of clubs, and ruffed a club in his own hand. Only now was it proper to begin on the hearts.

When the fourth heart was led, West found himself unable to defeat the contract. If he ruffed low, dummy would overruff, and South would then ruff out dummy's last club. If West ruffed the last heart with his king, dummy would discard. Either way, declarer was sure of ten tricks.

CARD Sense

South West North East 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-8-4, Hearts A-J-10-5, Diamonds K-Q-7-3, Clubs 4-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. This simple raise still indicates a minimum opening bid, but indicates also that some of your strength is in your partner's suit. It would be foolish to bid one no-trump when you have a weak doubton in clubs and fairly good support for partner's spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 4-2, Hearts A-J-10-5.

MURDER she yelled

That's very fascinating. Only nobody around here knew Al well enough to know all those things.

"Nobody at all!" "Well... Kitty Lane... Kitty knew Al for quite a while. But I don't think... You see, even assuming she'd want to get into the safe, and assuming she knew this technical trick of using familiar numbers and assuming she knew the important numbers in Al's life, there's still a hitch. It would have taken a pretty long time, a lot of adding around before she hit the lucky combination, wouldn't it?"

"Probably." "She wouldn't have done it—too big a risk of getting caught."

"I'll give you a simpler method. Was Kemmer bashful about opening the safe in front of people?" "He opened it in front of me."

"If you wanted to, you think you could have sneaked a look at the number while he turned the dial?" "Possibly."

"Okay, Kemmer trusted you. Maybe he trusted the Lane woman the same way. Maybe somebody else."

"I said, 'Okay, open the safe.' 'Where are you heading now?' 'Open up, I'm in.' Healy sauntered to the corner, stooped and twisted the knob. He pulled the heavy door open. 'Okay, what's on your mind?'"

"I reached inside the safe, took out the drawer of guests valubles and carried it to the desk. 'What's this?' Healy said. 'I took out a couple of envelopes at random and emptied them on the desk in separate piles—paper money, a watch, a gold ring. 'Know anything about counterfeit money?' I said. 'The queer funny paper?'"

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Tough Task Of New President Is To Learn 350 War Powers

WASHINGTON—The more you look at all the 350,000 questions facing the new President, the more you feel sorry for him. It isn't fair to burden any one man with all these weighty problems. The candidate who really won in this election was the man who lost.

Included in the homework which the new President will have to do while resting up from the rigors of the campaign are a vast number of legislative cats and dogs—miscellaneous issues.

Most of the matters reviewed in previous articles of this series have been grouped by departments of government, or by related activities. Here are some of the more varied matters that the New Man in the White House must make up his mind on:

The International Wheat Agreement expires July 31, 1953. There have been two preliminary meetings of the International Wheat Council in London to consider renewals. Another meeting is being scheduled for Washington in January.

Under the first wheat agreement negotiated in 1949 after 18 years of futile trying, 42 wheat importing nations and the four major exporters—the U. S., Australia, Canada and France—did get together. The importing countries were to be assured stable supplies at fair prices.

The Korean war raised world wheat prices, however, and the result is that this year the U. S. has had to subsidize the export of some 250,000,000 bushels of wheat at 65 cents a bushel, for total of $164,000,000.

The immediate question for the new President is whether he recommends continuing this subsidy, or work out a new arrangement. Consider Sugar Agreement—Of a similar nature, a new International Sugar Agreement is being considered. The United Nations now is polling all countries to see if they wish to hold a sugar conference next Spring.

The original 1937 sugar agreement to regulate production, exports and stocks was suspended in World War II. It has been inoperative ever since, except as a statistical exchange agency. Its members have been 17 exporting countries and the two major importers, U. S. and U. K.

The present plan is that the new international agreement would not interfere in any way with the U. S. sugar act. Farm policy in general will be a major subject for the new administration. Farm price supports at 90 per cent of parity and soil conservation payments now are guaranteed through 1954, however, so there is more time in which to take up new policies.

If the war emergency were to end suddenly, however, and farm prices began to slip, hearings almost certainly would begin on the very controversial support of non-perishable crops. Expansion of crop insurance, now on a limited, experimental scale, and increase of farm credit are two other likely subjects for early consideration.

Farm credit agencies now are turning away customers because they don't have money to loan to meet the demand. The Portuguese colonies of Mozambique and Angola in Africa have combined size about five times that of California.

What's RIGHT?

You have an unexpected caller just as you are getting ready to leave the house to keep an appointment. WRONG: Feel that you must not mention to your caller that you were getting ready to leave. RIGHT: Explain the situation and say how sorry you are.

Have A Laugh cartoon by Boyce Hoyle. A man says 'I haven't used a razor in ten months. By the time I do shave I'll feel unshaved.' A bearded stage actor Joe Casanelli replies 'There is no genuine obstacle to Russia's overrunning Western Europe except the stubborn geography of the Pyrenees mountain range. —Retired British Maj.-Gen. J. F. Fuller.' The American education system now says that if you learn 60 per cent of what the teacher tells you, you're an educated man. What the student gets is not an education but a sort of IBM card. —Ex-Chicago University Chancellor Robert Hutchins.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And I Wonder What's Inside

Uncle Bunkum from the zoo had sent a present to Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy. Mugwump didn't know what the present was. It was in a big, big box all nailed together. The box was down on the ground by the Elephant Path, there beneath the very tall tree—the one with Daddy Ringtail's monkey house in the top.

"I wonder what it is," said Mugwump.

"I wonder what it is myself," Daddy Ringtail said.

The box was a big, big box, remember. Did it have a big big dog inside? Or maybe a wagon? Or an elephant? Or a lion or a tiger or a giraffe, or maybe a giraffe? Or maybe even a hippopotamus, or a rhinoceros, or a rhino-soborous?

"Mercy me!" said Daddy Ringtail. "I do wonder, and how I wonder, what it is."

Did he know what the present was? Well, it might be a big, big something there inside the big big box. Dr. Shoobug said. Or, it might be a whole big lot of little something. Dr. Shoobug didn't know, he said.

And so, there they were, all of them wondering together. They might have been wondering yet, but at last Daddy Ringtail said: "I know! Let's open it up and see what the present is." They did open it, and that is the story I'll tell you tomorrow. Happy day!

"I sure wish I knew myself," said Mugwump.

While they were both wondering what the present was, who should come along but the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf. Did he know what the present was? Could he even guess? Oh, the Huffen could guess what the present might be, he could, because the present might be any one of a number of things that were big, big. But no, the Huffen didn't know what the present was. He wondered what it was, himself.

While Daddy Ringtail and Mugwump, and the Huffen were wondering what the present might be, who should come along but Dr. Shoobug, the monkey doctor. He was running fast to go back to his office to wait for a sick patient to call, but he stopped in a hurry when he saw the box with I-wonder-what's-inside.

Did he know what the present was? Well, it might be a big, big something there inside the big big box. Dr. Shoobug said. Or, it might be a whole big lot of little something. Dr. Shoobug didn't know, he said.

Military Personnel Travels Cheap In Touring Europe

By GRACE HALSELL
Special Reporter-Telegram
Correspondent

FRANKFURT, GERMANY—Notes made of a train: German trains operate on the same precision as a 21-jewel watch, are as dependable as a brand-new husband.

Travel for military personnel in Germany is cheap, but then automobile travel, with gasoline at 14 cents a gallon, is even cheaper.

You can buy first, second or third class train tickets. Third class cars have wooden seats, second and third after compartments, with seats facing each other. If you get tired of reading or seeing the country side, you can study the four faces opposite you.

Germans generally carry their lunches or dinners with them. Germans always carry satchels, as do most Europeans.

I always thought the briefcases were for their business papers, but guess not. They're always dragging ham sandwiches (not like American ham sandwiches, but a piece of ham between a large roll) and apples out of their satchels.

In fact, the Germans are the greatest show-hounds you'll find. Maybe it's psychological after having gone through a period of hunger, but they are eating everything you look at them.

Try to keep up with them, and you'll gain 15 pounds in six weeks—as I have done.

They All Gain Weight

In fact, most American girls coming to Europe tell me they gain weight. Sight-seeing and fresh air gives them appetite, and the European bread and potatoes add more poundage than pumpkin pie with whipped cream.

Germans eat whipped cream like Gayerd Hauser eats yogurt. An American secretary, worried over her expanded hips, took a hike one morning, met up with a German girl friend. After the hike the German companion took her to her home, gave her a bowl of whipped cream.

One never visits a German home without being given something as a gesture of hospitality. You generally are offered wine, tea or coffee, although coffee is very expensive for the Germans.

Europeans never drink water. Americans insist on having it at the table during meals, but in many places you must buy it by the bottle. It is more expensive than a bottle of wine.

One German said Americans had pale faces from drinking so much water. He thought wine and beer gave the Europeans "color" in their faces. Even children are permitted to drink wine and beer, in small quantities.

For breakfast, Germans eat bread and cheese and tomatoes.

Typical French breakfast is rolls and coffee. If you've had coffee in New Orleans, you know what French coffee is like—black and strong. Drunk "half and half" with milk, the French coffee to me tastes even better than American coffee. (But not to most Americans.)

Fruit Is Expensive

A piece of fruit in France can be expensive. In the Excelsior Hotel, Nancy, (everywhere over here there's an Excelsior—it's a more common name than Hilton Hotels in America) coffee, rolls, jam and butter cost 228 francs, but the next morning when I asked for an orange to go along with it, the bill was more than 400 francs—almost doubled.

First time I ever paid 50 cents for one orange!

European men have the same affection for flowers as American women. The men over here carry bunches of flowers on their bicycles or in their arms, wear them in their coat lapels, and taxi drivers almost always have a vase with fresh flowers attached to their dashboard. Carnations and roses most generally are used.

With this floral arrangement in front of their windshield, I don't know how they see. On second thought, maybe they don't see, and that's why they drive like they do. They stay on the horn as much as Mexico City natives.

And speaking of flowers, sunflowers, generally used in Texas to cover an alley fence, are given greater appreciation over here. Florists display them alongside dahlias and orchids.

A big Greta Garbo film revival is going on. Several of her films were showing in Berlin, and blow-ups of her face are seen everywhere.

New Orleans jazz is very popular over here among the young people. The jazz rage seems to be in Germany what it was in America 15 years ago. Louis Armstrong—on a tour through Europe is attracting huge crowds.

Europeans were very much interested in General Eisenhower's election. Every newspaper I saw had headlines about four inches deep shouting his victory.

Under The Pillows

When a German maid cleans up a hotel room, she puts a woman's gown under the pillows of the bed. You can sure lose a lot of gowns that way. For a long time, I didn't know what was happening to them. Who thinks to look under pillows when you check out?

When you check into a French hotel, you generally are given the price of a room, but unless you ask, the price usually does not include service (10 per cent is added for this) and taxes (about eight per cent is added for taxes).

Your hotel bill in France most always will be more than you counted on.

Tippling in Paris is worse than in New York. "I always feel like someone has his hand in my pocket," one GI remarked.

You ever tip the usher who shows you to a seat at the opera, theater or movie. At the theater, an American bought a program for 200 francs.

After paying the 200 francs, the Frenchman said: "My services were not included."

"Brother," said the tipping-tired American, "you just think they were!"

Williams Denounces Dunlap Appointment As Political 'Dodge'

WASHINGTON—Senator Williams (R-De) Tuesday denounced as "indefensible" the appointment of Internal Revenue Commissioner John B. Dunlap to a lifetime Civil Service post.

Williams said in a statement that he understood "this is only one of many similar post-election transfers or promotion."

He declared he strongly opposed to any effort to use Civil Service "as a haven of refuge for repudiated politicians."

Treasury Secretary Snyder had announced Dunlap has been appointed chief of the tax bureau's Texas-Oklahoma district.

Dunlap's new job pays $13,500 a year. This is $1,500 less than he has received as internal revenue commissioner but the new post gives him Civil Service protection against possible dismissal by the incoming Republican Administration.

Dunlap was a government career officer when he was appointed internal revenue commissioner in June, 1951. A native of Texas, he began his service with the bureau in that state and had served as collector for the Dallas district and later as agent-in-charge for the state of Texas.

Radio Hams Prepare For City Emergency

MADISON, WIS.—If this city is ever to have a first-rate catastrophe, Tuesday night probably would be the best time because almost 150 radio hams are mobilized for just that purpose.

The group, under the direction of Jerry L. Dame, poses a weekly problem in communications and then proceeds to solve it. Sometimes the "hams" act as agents of the civil defense department or the Red Cross. Actually they are the Four Lakes Amateur Radio Club.

The 17 mobile units are directed from a central radio transmitting and receiving set permanently located at the local Red Cross chapter. The amateur operators of the mobile units are volunteers in the civil defense and rescue work set up. They have provided their own equipment except for the central transmitter which is the property of the police department.

Are Folks Away? Here's Ideal Gift

If members of your family, or friends, are living far from home, there's nothing more welcome than news of the old home town. The ideal way to keep them informed of the local doings is to send them a subscription to their favorite newspaper.

Arrangements may be made to send them daily, Sunday, or a complete weekly subscription. It's a nice way to say "Merry Christmas" to a favorite someone all the year through.

You can give the same pleasure to an out-of-town living in your city by having his home-town paper sent to him. If possible, obtain a copy and deliver it to him on Christmas morning. You'll be as welcome as Santa Claus, himself.

Flood Of Tourists To Japan Increases

TOKYO—Japan had a 15 million dollar "harvest" from more than 56,000 foreign tourists who visited the country last year.

Figures recently released by the Tourist Bureau of the Communications and Transportation Ministry showed an increase of approximately five million dollars over the preceding year, and more than double the number of tourists.

Medieval Pie Bakers Believed In Quantity

Perhaps the largest Christmas pie ever to grace a Yule table was the one baked in medieval times, somewhere around the 15th Century, for an Englishman named Sir Henry Grey.

The pie was at least nine feet in circumference and weighed 185 pounds, and was served from a four-wheeled cart specially built for the purpose.

The delicacy contained some six pigeons and seven blackbirds, 20 pounds of butter, four geese, two rabbits, two woodcocks, four wild ducks, six snipes, four partridges, two curlews, two neat's tongues and two bustards of flour.

New American submarines travel faster under water than on the surface and can breathe under water.

DR. JORDAN SAYS Serious Danger Of Food Poison Is Seen In Home-Canned Foods

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Botulism is a kind of food poisoning. It results from swallowing a toxin or poison produced by the growth of germs in canned foods which have not been heated enough.

The greatest danger from this serious condition comes from home canning, because there have been no outbreaks of botulism reported from commercially canned goods packed in the United States since 1925.

About 10 or 15 outbreaks of botulism are reported in the United States each year. Home-canned string beans, asparagus, corn and spinach have been most commonly incriminated.

Perhaps the reason for this is that these foods are acid and the growth of the dangerous germ in acid foods does not cause the food odor which causes other contaminated foods to be thrown away uneaten.

The symptoms generally develop in from 12 to 36 hours after eating poisoned food. Nausea and vomiting are common and usually are followed by symptoms involving the nervous system. Double vision and other disturbances of sight frequently occur. Difficulty in swallowing is a common complaint.

Death unfortunately is frequent and its most common in from three to six days. Whether this will occur or not depends principally on the amount of this extremely poisonous substance that is swallowed.

The treatment of this fortunately rather rare condition is not very good. There is an antitoxin, but this treatment is not of value after the symptoms have appeared and too often a diagnosis is not made until the symptoms are well advanced.

Nevertheless, it is the only direct treatment now available, except for those measures which are aimed at supporting the patient's strength.

The germ causing botulism is found in many places and is likely to be on vegetables commonly used for home-canning. The germ itself is harmless but the poison it produces when grown in a sealed can is what is dangerous.

Furthermore, the disease gets in rather resistant to heat. For this reason high temperatures for long periods should be used in the canning of all foods.

Such methods of canning with high temperatures and under pressure for sufficiently long periods have been used more and more frequently with the result that fewer outbreaks of botulism are occurring than in the past. Also, thorough heating after opening the can destroys the toxin.

Since treatment is unsatisfactory and the death rate of those afflicted is high, it is extremely important to use every precaution to avoid the danger of contamination of canned goods.

Successful FFA Student Shows Older Farmers How

REPUBLIC, OHIO—(NEA)—The best advice for ambitious young farmers, from Wayne Vogel, who has just been named the best young farmer in the nation, is brief and to the point:

"Be sure to have your farm equipment all set to do a job and then, when weather conditions are right, get busy on a 24-hour daily work schedule until the job is done."

Following this simple rule over the last seven years has brought the 21-year-old Ohioan on to a capitalization of $16,000 in farm machinery and livestock, and the American Star Farmer award, top honor bestowed by the Future Farmers of America at their national convention in Kansas City every Fall.

At 14, Vogel had no equipment but a bicycle. Living with his mother on a one-acre plot near McCutchen-

Wayne earned $3,000 from farming, and more than $1,200 from outside work. In addition, he served one year terms as secretary and later as president of the local chapter of Future Farmers of America, represented the chapter two years in the state FFA public speaking contest, served as president of the county's Junior Fair Board, was secretary of his Sunday School, assistant steward of the local Grange, went to a religious camp in Michigan for two weeks every Summer, went to the state FFA camp every Summer, and acted as a livestock judge.

Star State Farmer
The Ohio Future Farmers in 1949 named him their best—Star State Farmer—and elected him vice president of the state FFA organization.

It was in his junior year at high school that Wayne first rolled into high gear. He bought a used tractor, machinery, and farmed wherever he could find land for rent. He expanded his poultry enterprise and raised a few hogs.

One of his plots of land was 30 miles away, and he trucked his tractor and implements to the place, working nights and day until the job was done. The 24-hour ordeal is fairly natural to him now.

Although his longest stint was three consecutive days and nights with only a few minutes rest, his average day in the field during the busy season is only 18 hours.

But his friend and teacher, Harold Moorhead of Sycamore, explains that the Vogel "busy season" extends well through the year. If it isn't crops, it's poultry.

To Buy Own Farm
For the last two years Wayne has rented 160 acres from W. B. Shumway, a retired banker of Tiffin, who, after several bad experiences with other tenants, likes the work of young Vogel so well that he has invested $3,000 in improvements.

"Wayne is the unusual type of farmer, who is out there pushing the work rather than the work pushing him," Shumway said. He had intended to sell the farm until Wayne took over.

Wayne was married last Spring to a former schoolmate, Kathleen, who helps with the work in the fields during the rush season. During the week she works in a manufacturing plant in Tiffin. They are saving for the time when they can own their own land.

With the American Star Farmer award, worth $1,000, Wayne is hoping to find property adjacent to the farm he now is renting, so he can handle both.

This Fall, the young American Star Farmer who started with a bicycle owns 400 chickens, 28 sheep, 18 pigs, two cows, two tractors, a six-foot grain combine, a truck, grain drill, corn-plecker and many other implements. His accomplishment was summed up by Warren G. Weiler, state supervisor of vocational agriculture for Ohio:

"Wayne is as well established in farming as many men who have worked a lifetime."

OLD DEBT PAID

WEYBURN, SASK.—(AP)—Glen Kai, cafe proprietor, received a letter recently with $5 from Clevelin, Wash. The writer said he had received a meal ticket in 1911 and had not paid for it.

Wayne Vogel, star farmer: a 24-hour work schedule.

ville, Ohio, when he was a high school freshman, he enrolled in vocational agriculture and started to get ideas.

Starts By Renting

He rented small plots of land nearby, rented the machinery to cultivate it, rented some sheds in which to raise chickens and ducks, hired-out doing day-labor for other farmers, mowed lawns and found himself with $1,402 at the year's end.

His crops were six acres of corn and one-fourth acre of potatoes, while his poultry consisted of 83 ducks, 400 ducklings and 370 chicks. During four years in high school
