Pan Am, Seaboard To Dig South Offset To Howard Discovery

Pan American Production Company and Seaboard Oil Company of Texas have staked a one-location south offset to a recently completed flowing discovery from the Pennsylvania lime reef in Northwest Howard County.

The new project is Pan American and Seaboard No. 1 M. L. Hamlin. It is one location due south of Pan American and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Pauline Hamlin, the discovery.

Completed Last Week

That wildcat was completed late last week for a 24-hour flowing potential of 373 barrels of 47-gravity oil, through a 24 1/2-inch tubing choke.

The well made no water. Gas-oil ratio was 650-1. Flowing tubing pressure during the potential test was 450 pounds.

The production was from perforated section at 8,160-63 feet. Interval had been washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Top Of Pay Listed

Top of the reef lime is at 8,134 feet. Elevation is 2,755 feet. The discovery drilled to a bottom of 8-269 feet. The bottom section of the hole made water. The casing is cemented near bottom.

Location of Pan American and Seaboard No. 1 M. L. Hamlin is 867 feet from south and 467 feet from east lines of section 43, block 32, T&P survey, T-3-N. It is five and one-half miles northwest of Luther. The new project is three miles southwest of the Vespulorum field which produces from the Pennsylvania reef lime.

Leo Grubaugh Case Set Back Until January

The trial of 31-year-old Oran Leo Grubaugh was continued Monday after his pretty wife, whom he is accused of attempting to murder last August in her trailer home, failed to appear in 70th District Court.

The continuance until the January term of court was granted by Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton on motion of Grubaugh's attorney, Murray Howze of Monahans.

The motion was unopposed by District Attorney W. O. Shafer, after it was learned Grubaugh's wife, 25-year-old Vivian Grubaugh, was not in the courtroom.

Officers said Mrs. Grubaugh, formerly a hotel telephone operator, last was reported living in Silver City, N. M.

The plea for the continuance was based on the fact that Mrs. T. O. Wilson, Grubaugh's mother, is ill in a Crosbyton hospital and would not be able to appear in behalf of her son.

The motion asserted that the presence of Mrs. Wilson was necessary to Grubaugh's plea of temporary insanity at the time he shot his wife eight times last August.

Emotionally upset

Mrs. Wilson, said the motion, would testify that her son was emotionally upset when he appeared at her home following the shooting and, in her opinion, was insane.

Mrs. Wilson, the motion said, would testify further that:

1. Vivian Grubaugh "by calculation and misconduct and mistreatment, kept the defendant in an almost uninterrupted state of emotional turmoil."
2. Vivian Grubaugh "at various times during her marriage to the defendant had affairs with various men, which tended to emotionally upset the defendant and keep him in a state of mental distraction."
3. Vivian Grubaugh, subsequent to the shooting, had told Mrs. Wilson that "she—Vivian Grubaugh—felt mostly responsible for the trouble and was actually the aggressor on the night of the tragedy."

Youth Questioned After Police Find Article Assortment

Police were looking Monday for the owners of a wide assortment of flashlights, automobile floor mats and other accessories.

The items were recovered Sunday night from an automobile on a parking lot in the 200 block of North Lorraine Street.

An 18-year-old youth was arrested by Police Lt. Clarence Hollis after someone reported seeing him going through automobiles parked there.

The youth, sitting in the automobile at the time of his arrest, said someone had put the articles in the back seat of his car while he was attending a movie.

BUGS BUNNY, WARMONGER

LONDON —(P)—Moscow radio accused the U. S. Monday of using a dangerous weapon in Western Europe-American comics.

Charging the Americans with atrocities in Korea through napalm bombs and bacteriological weapons, the Soviet mouthpiece went on to denounce the comics as "yet another crime against mankind."

Moscow said the Americans were "flooding Western Europe with ideological and moral poison in an attempt to corrupt the younger generation in France, Britain and other countries to prepare them as cannon-fodder."

LATE NEWS FLASHES

NEW YORK —(P)—President-elect Eisenhower paid a hurried visit to the UN Monday and conferred privately with Secretary General Trygve Lie and Lester Pearson, president of the General Assembly, presumably about proposals to end the Korean fighting.

CHICAGO —(P)—The University of Wisconsin Monday was selected over Purdue by the Big Ten athletic directors to represent the conference in the Rose Bowl next New Year's Day against Southern California.

PHOENIX —(P)—Search operations in the Mogollon Rim area of North-Central Arizona were suspended Monday as a new storm swept over the country where elk hunters still were trapped by the first snow of the season a week ago.

WEST EYES TURBULENT IRAQ—With the break between Britain and Iran still unhealed, Iraq becomes more important to the Western powers both strategically and resourcefully. Above newsmag shows the setup in the ever-boiling Middle East, which always has been an area of intrigue and violence.

Army Boss Takes Control After Wild Riots In Iraq

BAGHDAD, IRAQ —(P)—A tough, new military-headed government Monday dissolved all political parties, closed 12 newspapers and prohibited demonstrations in the wake of weekend rioting in which at least 11 persons were believed killed and 58 wounded.

Frenzied mobs looted and set fire to the office of the U. S. Information Service Sunday, stoned the British Embassy and attacked two police stations. Army troops rolled into the capital to restore a semblance of order Sunday night after rioters had driven police off the streets.

Armored cars and machine gun carriers patrolled Baghdad streets Monday.

Former New Cabinet

Regent Abdul Hah called on his Army chief of staff, Gen. Nur Aidin Mahmud, to take charge at the height of the disorders. Hastily, the general decreed martial law and called out troops. Then he formed a new Cabinet.

The general took the posts of prime minister, defense minister and acting minister of interior himself. All other Cabinet positions were handed to civilian non-party men, four of them newcomers to the government.

Carried over from the regime of former Premier Mustapha al Umari were the finance and social affairs ministers and Foreign Minister Fadhil Jamal—now in New York as chief of the Iraq delegation to the United Nations Assembly.

After scattered disorders Saturday, trouble reached a pitch Sunday as mobs marched on the U. S. Information Service office, throwing rocks and shouting:

"Down with foreign imperialism." "Down with foreign election."

The crowds smashed into the building. They dragged desks, chairs, papers, pamphlets and even stores of automobile tires and batteries into the street and piled them on a bonfire. The building caught fire several times, but office personnel took refuge behind closed doors and apparently escaped injury.

Record 40 Persons Face City Judge

A record number of 40 persons, facing a variety of charges ranging from drunkenness to disturbing the peace, were brought Monday before Judge Edwin T. Blitt in Corporation Court.

All but two pleaded guilty, and their trials were set for Tuesday morning.

Police reported most of the men were arrested in a series of Saturday night raids by city officers and an agent of the State Liquor Control Board.

The officers made the arrests during routine checks of beer taverns in the negro and Latin American sections of the city.

Ike Plans Reshuffle Of Executive Office

NEW YORK —(P)—The New York Times said Monday President-elect Eisenhower is working out a plan for reorganizing the executive office to bring its various units under over-all supervision of a special assistant.

Other mobs stoned the British Embassy at about the same time and attacked two police stations, burning one. Several demonstrators were killed in the clashes.

General Mahmud went on the air at 6 p. m. to announce that the price regent had put control, in his hands and called for popular support.

Leftist parties opposed to ex-Premier Al Umari's government sparked the demonstrations Saturday, voicing dissatisfaction over indirect voting methods for forthcoming general elections, the date of which has not yet been set.

ODESSA GAME TICKETS LEFT

MORE THAN 1,700 tickets had been sold at noon Monday for the Thanksgiving Day football game in Odessa between the Bulldogs and Bronchos. Lines had disappeared by 11 a. m.

Ducats may be purchased from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m., Tuesday and Wednesday. Special Services Director Wesley Martin reiterated Monday. Midland was allotted 1,700 reserved seats for the traditional gridiron classic.

All tickets not sold here by 5 p. m. Wednesday will be returned to Odessa. Game time is 2 p. m. Thursday.

Five Are Injured In Area Accidents

Five persons were injured, one critically, in a series of weekend traffic mishaps in the Midland area.

Carroll yatt, 29, 1406 West Illinois Street, employed as a well logger for Trans-Pecos Engineering Company, was in a critical condition Monday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Hyatt was injured about 1 a. m. Sunday when his automobile swerved off the Andrews Highway and overturned seven times. The Midlander was thrown clear of the wreckage, but the accident was not discovered until six hours later by a passing motorist.

State highway patrolmen said Hyatt apparently went to sleep at the wheel.

P. C. Holland, 710 East York Street, employed as a tool pusher for Rowan Drilling Company, was hospitalized Sunday after an automobile accident on the Garden City Highway. Attaches said Holland suffered contusions of the forehead and left knee.

Multiple Lacerations

Dickie Horton, 294 West Estes Street, suffered multiple lacerations at 1 p. m. Sunday in a traffic mishap at the intersection of West Estes and Marienfeld Streets. Attaches said he had lacerations of the forehead, left wrist, lower lip, and left thigh.

Two persons were injured in a two-car collision at 2:35 a. m. Monday, five miles out on the Cotton-fay Road.

John D. Williams, 309 North Adams Street, was treated for fractures of two left ribs. He told hospital attaches that he started to turn left on Cotton-fay Road and was struck from the rear by another vehicle.

Weldon McSpadden, Lubbock, also was treated for a scalp laceration as a result of the mishap.

Record 40 Persons Face City Judge

A record number of 40 persons, facing a variety of charges ranging from drunkenness to disturbing the peace, were brought Monday before Judge Edwin T. Blitt in Corporation Court.

All but two pleaded guilty, and their trials were set for Tuesday morning.

Police reported most of the men were arrested in a series of Saturday night raids by city officers and an agent of the State Liquor Control Board.

The officers made the arrests during routine checks of beer taverns in the negro and Latin American sections of the city.

Ike Plans Reshuffle Of Executive Office

NEW YORK —(P)—The New York Times said Monday President-elect Eisenhower is working out a plan for reorganizing the executive office to bring its various units under over-all supervision of a special assistant.

This assistant would function as a secretary general of the office of the President.

Ike Holds Talks With Two Possible Cabinet Selections

NEW YORK —(P)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower had appointments Monday with a Utah farm marketing specialist and a Louisiana lawyer mentioned as possibilities for two of four unfilled cabinet posts.

Eisenhower mulled over the cabinet vacancies after one of his possible choices, Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Ford Foundation, turned down an appointment at this time "because of unusual circumstances."

The President-elect had a busy schedule Monday including a morning tour of the United Nations headquarters and a noontime conference with Vice President-elect Richard M. Nixon. Eisenhower has not seen Nixon since their election eve appearance together in Boston.

In the afternoon, he was to confer separately with the two men prominently mentioned for cabinet posts — Ezra Taft Benson of Salt Lake City, reportedly the choice for secretary of Agriculture, and John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans, considered a possibility for one of the other vacancies.

Besides the Agriculture job, Eisenhower still must name secretaries of Commerce and Labor and a postmaster general to complete the cabinet. He also must fill the sub-cabinet posts of secretaries of Air, Army and Navy.

Eisenhower met with Hoffman Sunday in his sole political conference of the day. Earlier the general and his wife attended services at Riverside Church.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, relayed to newsmen Hoffman's decision not to re-enter government at this time.

In an accompanying statement, Eisenhower said he deeply appreciated Hoffman's campaign assistance and regretted "expressly" that he

Midland Area Records Slow Soil-Soakers

The prettiest sight in the world remained in the drouth-rimmed Midland frame Monday afternoon.

Slow, soaking rain painted the rosy picture, falling on drouth-raked ranges and croplands in this area. The crop and grass-saving precipitation extended over much of the state.

Midland had gauged .45 inch at the city shops by noon. CAA measurements at Midland Air Terminal touched the .40 mark. Unofficial reports carried the total in the southern part of the county to more than one inch. A specific one-inch locality was the Joe Youngblood ranch about 20 miles south of this Permian Basin capital.

Alger Hiss Parole Plea Is Rejected

WASHINGTON —(P)—Alger Hiss Monday was denied a parole.

The U. S. Parole Board announced it had turned down the application of the former State Department official, now serving a five-year term for perjury.

Dr. George K. Killinger, board chairman who conducted a hearing on the Hiss petition about 10 days ago, made this statement:

"In a matter of the application of parole for Alger Hiss, the Board of Parole, after a careful consideration of the official record, unanimously voted to deny the application."

The board is composed of five members. It acted on the basis of a report submitted by Killinger after his visit to Lewisburg Prison.

Three GI's Nabbed In Berlin Red Zone

BERLIN —(P)—The U. S. Army reported three soldiers missing from their unit Monday and said they are believed held in the Russian zone.

Army authorities were informed by a German resident that three American soldiers and a woman, believed to be German, were arrested by Communist People's Police Sunday afternoon about 300 yards inside the East Zone.

Faint Hope Remains For 52 Men On Lost Alaskan Plane

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA —(P)—A faint radio signal was the only tenacious clue Monday to the fate of 52 men aboard a giant C-124 Globemaster which vanished Saturday night over the Gulf of Alaska.

Twenty-four search planes were poised here ready to fan out when weather permits over the 150 miles to tiny Middleton Island, the four-engine transport's last check-point. The weather outlook was poor.

The 41 Army and Air Force passengers and 11 crewmen were listed officially Sunday as missing in the continuing plague of U. S. military air disasters throughout the world.

Names of the crew were released, but the passengers have not been identified.

WINTER WIDENS GRIP ON NATION

By The Associated Press

Winter clamped a chill grip on much of the nation Monday and liberally spewed snow and cold rain.

Wyoming and Western Nebraska shivered in bitter sub-zero weather. Lowest mark was minus 17 at Douglas, Wyo.

A precipitation area continued to spread northward from the Southwest, bringing rain or snow to Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado. New York and Maine had light showers.

Reports that Benson was in line to become secretary of Agriculture dropped up after it was learned Eisenhower had talked with his Saturday by long-distance telephone to Salt Lake City.

Benson, a supporter of Senator Robert Taft of Ohio for the GOP presidential nomination, formerly was president of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives.

A native of Whitney, Idaho, Benson is a member of the Quorum of the 12 Apostles of the Church of the Latter Day Saints, the governing body of the Mormon church.

Youths Sing Hymns As Companion Dies

GREENSBURG, PA.—(AP)—Two teenaged hunting companions sang hymns as 15-year-old James W. Gibson lay dying of a shotgun wound in a cold, wet stone quarry.
The youth was logged Saturday when he dropped a log, discharging one of the shotguns he and three pals had stacked while searching for wood to build a fire. The blast severed an artery in his leg. Coroner Joseph Check reported.
One boy ran to get a doctor. James asked his other two friends to sing some hymns. Shortly afterwards he died.

Toddler, Missing Almost 24 Hours In Woods, Is Safe

WASHINGTON, PA.—(AP)—A two and one-half-year-old boy who started out to feed the plump turkey destined for his family's Thanksgiving Day dinner and lost himself in rainswept woods almost 24 hours, was safe Monday in a warm hospital.

George (Butch) Bell of nearby Avella wandered away from his home Saturday. He was clad in blue jeans and a T-shirt.
A search party Sunday found the youngster, soaked from rain and scratched from underbrush, huddled in a dense thicket about two and one-half miles from his home.
The boy's 22-year-old mother fainted as she clasped him. She said:
"I got hold of him and held him tight. Then I passed out. I nearly dropped him. I guess."
Doctors at Washington Community Hospital said the boy seemingly is well but detained him for observation.

Teen-Age Youth Kills Sweetheart, Self In Quarrel

ODDENSBURG, N. Y.—(AP)—Eighteen-year-old Robert J. St. Denny shot and killed his 15-year-old sweetheart and then himself Sunday night, police said, in the aftermath of a young lover's quarrel.
District Attorney Charles A. Bowers of St. Lawrence County said they had Jeanette Gilmartin, was shot at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel T. Rucker, where the teenagers had been dinner guests.
Bowers said the two quarreled during dinner. Afterward, he said, St. Denny left, went home, returned with the rifle and fired through the living room window.
Then he shot himself.

Alexis Shucks Those Refrigerator Roles, Typed Now As Sexy Babe With 'Tendencies'

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—How to draw fire from Alexis Smith—call her "cold and statuesque."
"I see red when I hear those two words," she told me. "I've been trying to escape them for years."
She finally is making some progress. But she has had to use a combination of jujitsu and smoldering love scenes to do it.

The jujitsu came in "Here Comes the Groom," the Bing Crosby flicker of a couple of seasons ago. Alexis played a society matron who unbended in a most alarming way. The climax was a body-throwing match with Jane Wyman.
"Although I was never told about it, I'm sure many at the studio had trouble visualizing me in the role," she commented. "After the picture came out, people kept telling me, 'Great work, old girl. I didn't know you had it in you.'"
She happily went into another picture in which William Holden and Edmond O'Brien battled for her hand. "Although it wasn't exactly a sexy role, at least I wasn't cold and statuesque," she said.
Sizzle The Screens
Now she gets a complete change of pace in "Split Second," in which she plays a gal with physical tendencies. Set watchers say that she

Alexis Smith has a love scene with Stephen McNally that will sizzle the screens—if it gets by the censor's shears, which is doubtful. She was directed

L. the scene by a onetime crooner named Dick Powell.
Alexis said she got stuck in the cool category during her nine long years of duty at Warner Brothers.
"Just about my best picture there was 'The Constant Nymph,'" she recalled. "That's what got me typed. The studio couldn't think of me in any other kinds of role."
The actress admits to being a "dirty blonde" in the shade of her hair and she has resisted any efforts to make her do or dye.
"In my early days at Warners," she said, "they claimed I would have to change my hair to be sexy. They thought I would have to be redheaded, but I wouldn't change. I wore a wig whenever they wanted a different hair color."

A Healthful Sign

From Rep. Charles Wolverton, New Jersey Republican, comes one of the first healthful signs of what it means to vote in a new regime in Washington.

But it is entirely fitting—indeed, necessary—that their work and their personnel be examined closely and put to acid test.

Of each element in our vast federal establishment we ought now to ask: What functions does it perform? Are all of these useful and proper?

Always finding fault with others indicates you have at least one of your own.

Changing Atomic Energy Law Is Riddle For Ike And Congress

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The development of atomic power by private enterprise for industrial and commercial use presents the new President and the new Congress with a problem just as explosive as the A-bombs or H-bombs themselves.

The reason is that the present atomic energy law makes a flat prohibition against private ownership of facilities for producing fissionable materials.

When this law, fathered by the late Senator Brien McMahon of Connecticut, was passed in 1946, the big idea in Congress was to give the U. S. government a complete monopoly on atomic energy.

Private industry is clamoring to get in on the atomic energy act, either as a short-range or a long-range proposition. Also, the U. S. government's Atomic Energy Commission seems to be switching its viewpoint somewhat.

Today's Question: The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-3-2, Hearts A-Q-J-5, Diamonds K-J-7, Clubs A-Q-5. What do you do?

Weekend Violence Takes 21 Lives In Texas; Traffic Crashes Kill 10

By The Associated Press
Rain slick highways boosted the traffic toll as at least 21 violent deaths were reported in Texas during the weekend.

A total of 10 persons died in traffic mishaps, five of them in one accident. Eight persons were injured in a head-on collision near Ennis and five others injured in similar accidents near Vernon.

Four persons died in shootings. Two were stabbed, and two were believed drowned.

The latest reported deaths include:

Breckenridge Saturday when the car in which she was riding skidded on a slick highway into a pickup truck.

A mother and daughter were killed in a Houston shooting. The daughter, Mrs. Mary Gayles, 33, was killed instantly Saturday in the shooting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Francis Thomas, 65. Mrs. Thomas died Saturday night. Two murder charges were filed against Morris Surges, 33, in the shootings. The body of Andrew White, 25, was found in a ditch Saturday night in Houston. Police said he had been stabbed in the chest.

Lewis Jones, 39, unemployed laborer, died in a Houston hospital Saturday night of what attendants said was cyanide poisoning. An inquest was ordered.

Two Houston men were believed to have drowned, near Galveston Saturday night after a high wave overturned their small fishing boat. Coast guardsmen continued the search Monday for Don Dickey and Herman Daniels, both Houston bricklayers. Two other Houston men were rescued by another fisherman and the crew of a shrimp boat.

Aged Arizonan Joins Wife After Five Solitary Years

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(AP)—Alfred R. Hall isn't lonely anymore—and his neighbors know now why he avoided life for five long years.

Police found Hall's withered body Sunday in the home where his wife died in 1947.

On the floors were five years' accumulation of newspapers and letters: A heavy layer of dust covered every room but the one in which he lived. There was no food.

Bank books showed the 73-year-old Hall had $12,000 in three Phoenix banks. A wallet held $130 in cash.

Yet the medical examiner said he died of malnutrition.

When he died sometime last week, Hall weighed 100 pounds. Evidence showed he lived for years on milk and bread.

A 1947 calendar was on the wall. Officer were called to investigate when Alfred N. Letarte, a neighbor, failed to get an answer to his knock on Hall's door. Letarte said Hall had permitted no one in the house, located in a fashionable Phoenix district, since his wife's death.

For five years he left home only once a day—to place flowers on the headstone of his wife's grave—Letarte said.

Police said Hall probably died Thursday. But in their report book they wrote:

"This man died five years ago."

Minnesota Senator Promises New Fight For FEPC Statutes

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) said Monday that during the next Congress he will renew the fight for a federal law to forbid racial and other discrimination in employment.

Humphrey said he will refuse to soft-pedal the Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) issue in the interest of harmony between Northern and Southern Democrats.

"We won't have Democratic solidarity on some issues and this is one of them," he told a reporter.

He said he doubts that the rebellion of Southern Democrats against demands by some Northerners for such a law was much of a factor in the Democrats' election reversals this year.

Humphrey heads the Senate Labor subcommittee which Sunday released a report which said a survey shows that state and local laws with teeth to forbid job discrimination against minorities have had "healthy" results.

The request was written by Dr. Morroe Berger, assistant professor of sociology at Princeton University, at the request of the subcommittee. Humphrey indicated it would be used extensively by advocates of similar federal legislation.

The report said experience in seven states and two cities which have had fair employment practices laws since 1945 has indicated the statutes eliminated discriminatory practices with the minimum of dissension.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★ Untreated Varicose Veins Can Bring On Painful Ulcers

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A correspondent writes that she is 39 years old and now is in her fifth pregnancy and is terribly troubled with varicose veins which she never has had before. Elastic stockings, she says, help only a little.

It certainly is possible that the enlarged veins in such a case are not true varicose veins, but are the result of the pregnancy. At any rate, most doctors probably would advise her not to do anything about it until after the pregnancy is over since they might get much better.

But varicose veins and varicose ulcers do cause an enormous amount of distress both physically and because of their appearance to many people as they grow older.

Varicose veins do not produce pain or discomfort unless they are inflamed, but such veins are more likely to be inflamed than normal ones.

Those who have varicose veins are more likely to have swollen feet or ankles than those with normal veins. Also, the poor circulation can produce ulcers. These ulcers sometimes become enormous, causing destruction of the skin and large open sores.

Everyone is born with folds or valves in their veins which carry the flow of blood upward. These valves prevent the blood from falling back and help to hold up the column of blood. They are especially important in the legs, where the pressure of the blood in the veins is heavy because human beings stand upright.

If people stood on their heads instead of their feet, the valves in the veins of the arms would be just as important.

Over the years the pressure on the valves in the leg's veins is great and they often are broken down. When this happens the necessary support is lessened and the veins near the surface because the internal veins get more support from the muscles and other tissues around them and this helps to prevent the valves from breaking.

Surgery Used Often

The use of elastic bandages which support the widened and enlarged varicose veins is, of course, an old remedy and helpful in many cases. Varicose veins are sometimes removed by surgery. The use of injections for varicose veins also has been popular, but now surgery is again being used more and more.

The treatment of varicose ulcers still is difficult, although several methods are used with success. Probably the most important thing to do is to prevent serious swellings or ulcers by getting treatment before they have lasted too long.

Snow-Swept Area Returns To Normal

KNOXVILLE, TENN.—(AP)—The big Dixie snow largely has melted under warm sunshine, but communications snarled by Friday's 18 to 22-inch fall still were spotty early Monday.

Most trunk telephone and telegraph lines into this city were back in service by Sunday afternoon, but many mountain points to the east were still blacked out Monday.

Hard-working linemen have restored power service to thousands of homes, but a few families depending on electricity for heating and cooking had to spend a third night with relatives.

Otherwise life appeared to be returning to normal in the mountainous four-state area where Tennessee borders on Kentucky, Virginia and North Carolina.

Daddy Ringtail And Magic Mirror

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, was laughing and chucking to himself. Said the Huffen: "I am a very important fellow, I am, I am."

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, came walking along the Elephant Path just then. He heard the words the Huffen said. "Now, now, now, Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail. "What makes you so very important today?"

"I will show you, I will, I will," said the Huffen. He led the way inside his hollow tree house. "Look!" cried the Huffen. "Look there on my wall!"

Daddy Ringtail looked. He looked again. All he saw was a mirror. "Yes, a mirror was now a part of the wall. But what was so exciting about it? Well, nothing. Nothing that Daddy Ringtail could see."

Again the Huffen laughed. "Let the Huffen show you," he said. He reached out his hand to push a very small button in the wall. He did push it. Suddenly, with never a sound, the mirror was not a mirror any more. The mirror that used to be a mirror was now a window.

"Why, Huffen!" said Daddy Ringtail. "Let's see you do it again." The Huffen did it. He pushed the button again. There! The mirror that used to be a mirror was a mirror again. The pushing of the button had changed it back from being a window. And the Huffen pushed, and pushed, and pushed, and pushed it again. Every time he pushed the button again, the mirror changed into a window, and back again to be a mirror once more. "It's a magic mirror, it is," said the Huffen. "I made it myself for a trick."

Daddy Ringtail thought this was wonderful indeed, except—except—"Huffen Puffen," Daddy Ringtail asked, "aren't you afraid that maybe your mirror is dangerous?"

"Ooooooh!" cried the Huffen in his voice of being afraid. The Huffen frightens so easily, you know, but trouble is going to come from the mirror sure enough. That is the very story I'll tell you tomorrow. Happy waiting to hear it. Happy day!

Commies Urge Tots To Be Tattle-Tales

HONG KONG.—(AP)—Communist authorities in Canton are reported to be mobilizing children into Kidie Corps to tattle on their parents. A dispatch from Canton to the independent newspaper Sing Tao Jih Pao says the children are drilled daily in basic Communism and are told to report any members of their household who drift away from the party line.

Pure, Sanitary Product Is Produced By Southern Ice

When you use ice from the Southern Ice Company of Midland, you can be assured it is pure.

At considerable expense, the firm completed installation earlier this year of de-ionizer equipment which purifies the water to a point where it is comparable to distilled water.

The modern equipment filters the water to remove calcium and magnesium from the hard water, making it possible for Southern Ice to turn out pure, superior ice for their numerous pleased customers.

Formerly, the firm had used well water in making its ice, but with the new water softening equipment, use of city water is permitted. Strictly Sanitary.

The equipment assures that only the purest of sanitary, clean ice is manufactured by the Southern Ice Company. The product also is manufactured under the strictest of sanitary standards.

Lee Weathers, manager of the old and reliable Midland firm, points out that ice is being sold during the winter months from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m., seven days a week.

Conveniently located at 310 South Main Street, quick service is available at the firm's docks. All you have to do is drive up in your car, tell the attendant the quantity of ice you need and it will be placed in your car with a minimum of time and trouble.

The firm also handles refrigerators and picnic chests.

Forger 'Forgets,' Given Five Years

GREAT FALLS, MONT.—(AP)—A man who said he didn't remember forging checks decided to place his confidence in the accuracy of law enforcement officials here and pleaded guilty to the offense.

The 31-year-old man when arraigned on a charge of issuing a bad check told the judge: "To tell you the truth, your honor, I didn't know I wrote them."

The judge apparently thought otherwise. He gave the man five years.

Major Bowl Schedule Is Almost Complete

NEA All-America OFFENSE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Only two major bowl spots remained unfilled Monday and both teams were expected to be filled before nightfall.

The Big Ten representative for the Rose Bowl will be either Wisconsin or Purdue, while Alabama's opponent in the Orange Bowl probably will be Navy or Syracuse.

All others are filled. Southern California clinched the Pacific Coast nod in the Rose Bowl with a 14-13 victory over UCLA Saturday, while Georgia Tech and Mississippi will meet in the Sugar Bowl and Texas will play Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl.

Big Ten athletic directors were being polled for their choice for the West Coast assignment, and although the voting was in strictest secrecy, the chances were that Wisconsin would get the assignment because:

1. The Badgers have a better overall record than Purdue.
2. Wisconsin has not won the league championship since 1912.

Whichever team goes, though, will face an unenviable task because Southern California will rule the heavy favorite as it would over almost any team in the country with one or two possible exceptions.

The fact that Wisconsin has a chance of being left out is the Badgers' own fault. All they had to do Saturday was beat Minnesota, a team beaten three times and tied once. But the Badgers were held to a 21-21 tie, while Purdue was eking out a 21-16 victory over six-times-beaten Indiana. The Bollweavers, in fact, were saved by the clock running out and a five-yard penalty to Indiana on the Purdue one-yard line.

Both Wisconsin and Purdue obviously were somewhat nervous as was Michigan, which was whipped by Ohio State, 27-7. Had the Wolverines won as expected, they would have had it. Now they're just among the also rans.

Until Sunday, the Orange Bowl was sitting back just watching and waiting. But Alabama's beautifully contrived 27-7 triumph over Maryland made the selectors jump for the Crimson Tide. Although beaten twice, Alabama still has a murderous schedule, and still has one game to go—Saturday against Auburn.

Navy, beaten only by Maryland and Notre Dame, popped into the speculation late Sunday night. The Middies have played in only one bowl game before—in 1924 in the Rose Bowl, when they tied Washington, 14-14. What set off the speculation of Navy making the trip south was an unusual Sunday conference among high Academy brass. Coach Eddie Erdelatz and Athletic Director Ian Eddy.

The Middies trounced Columbia, 28-0, Saturday and wind up their affairs against Army in Philadelphia this week.

Syracuse, probably the class of the East, got beaten by one point in its season opener against Bowling Air Force Base, then roared through seven opponents, winding up with a 26-13 victory over Fordham Saturday. Along the way, the Orange took its only bad plastering—a 48-7 loss to Michigan State.

Pitt, another team that was high on the list of Orange Bowl eligibles, saw its chances go up in the smoke of a 17-0 whitewashing at the hands of Penn State.

Few Big Games Left

Otherwise, you can just about write this off the 1952 campaign. There are a few more games on tap the most important of which is the Cornell-Penn affair Thanksgiving Day. If Penn wins it, as it should, the Quakers will take the Ivy League title.

Texas A&M plays Texas the same day, while on Saturday, Boston College goes against Holy Cross. Georgia Tech tackles Georgia. Tennessee meets Vanderbilt and Southern California visits Notre Dame.

Michigan State, the No. 1 team in the country, cemented its position by closing the books on a 62-13 thrashing of Marquette. Tennessee, however, was held to a 14-14 tie by Kentucky in a surprise. Duke won the Southern Conference title by thrashing North Carolina, 24-0, and Oklahoma captured its fifth straight Big Seven crown with a 34-13 rout of Nebraska.

GATOR BOWL EYES HOUSTON

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—(AP)—The Gator Bowl will be the greatest Florida team in years signed up, east around Monday for an opponent.

The selection committee had its eye last week on Houston, Tulsa, Syracuse and Villanova, but said "The field may be opened for consideration of other teams" at a meeting Monday.

Tulsa, Syracuse and Villanova all won handily Saturday while Florida trounced Miami, 43-6, and clinched its invitation to Jacksonville's New Year's Day game. Houston was idle.

It may be this weekend or later, one official said, before an opponent is named.

Kling, Stevenson Sweep Top Pan-Am Race Awards

JUAREZ, MEXICO—(AP)—An unconventional German sports car, a souped-up American built Lincoln and their drivers shared plaudits Monday as winners of the world's most grueling speed test—the Pan-American Road Race.

German Engineer Karl Kling, outwardly calm, but inwardly feeling the strain, pushed his Mercedes Benz at speeds up to 150 miles an hour Sunday to take $17,422 first money for sports cars.

Chuck Stevenson, 1952 U. S. racing champion from Fresno, Calif., nosed home first with a Lincoln in the modified stock car class and earned $11,628.

Through an interpreter, the 42-year-old Kling, who hails from Stuttgart, Germany, described the five-day, 1,934-mile grind from Tuxtla Gutierrez, near Mexico's southern border, to Juarez as the toughest race in the world.

Longest, Toughest, Fastest

"It's longer and tougher and faster and has more variety—more curves, ups and downs, straight lines, different road textures and altitudes from sea level," he said.

Kling and Stevenson led the way home for 39 survivors—10 sports and 29 stock cars—of an original field of 92 cars. One driver was killed in a crash and several accidents or mechanical difficulties eliminated the rest.

Kling, drizzily weather left half a mile of empty grandstand seats as the winners were flagged to a halt. But thousands of spectators huddled in their cars for 80 miles southward along the Pan-American highway, route of the race.

Kling crossed the line 18 hours, 51 minutes and 19 seconds of driving time after the race began. Second place went to Teammate Hermann Lang of Stuttgart, also in a Mercedes Benz, who took second money of $11,268 with a time of 19:36.

Lincoln swept the first four places in the stock division with Stevenson crossing the line only 51 seconds ahead of Johnny Mantz of Los Angeles. Mantz won $5,194.

Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., was third to take $2,907 and Capt. Bob Korf, Wright Patterson AFB, Dayton, Ohio, was fourth for

Roaring East Texas Lions To Close Against Sul Ross

By The Associated Press

The East Texas Lions, roaring along on the crest of a 17-game winning streak and averaging 52.1 points a game, close out their 1952 regular season Saturday night in an anti-climatic Lone Star Conference game with Sul Ross State.

Although Sul Ross has a 2-2 record in the conference, the Lobos are rated just about as much chance as Frosty the Snowman in August of upsetting the free-wheeling Lions.

East Texas clinched a co-title November 15 by blasting Southwest Texas, the only team with a chance at the crown, and the Lions can set up a perfect 18-game win streak for their New Year's Day clash with Tennessee Tech in the Tangerine Bowl by defeating the visitors from Alpine.

The Lions were the only LSC team to see action last week and with Quarterback Jim Gray passing for six touchdowns on eight completions in nine attempts, had little trouble blasting Austin College, 61-7. Reserves, B-teams and boys, who hadn't even made the B team were in the game before the half.

Sul Ross, which took Lamar Tech, 27-19, its last time out, was idle last week in preparation for its meeting with the Lions in Commerce. Other conference teams have finished their campaign and are waiting for basketball, which gets underway this week.

Marvin Brown scored two touchdowns against the Kangaroos last week, both on passes from Gray, to run his season scoring total to 102 points, tying the conference record of last year. But he needs at least nine more points to beat the mark set this season by Mac Moore of Sam Houston.

Lloyd Corder of East Texas added seven more points from placement last week to run his total to 52 made in 65 tries and his points total to 94.

Texas Loop Curtain Falls On Thursday

By The Associated Press

McMurry clinched second place in the Texas Conference Saturday night with a 21-20 squeeze-out over Texas A&I. It was the third conference win for McMurry.

The victory was achieved with Phillip Conaway's conversion of an extra point in the last minute after Buddy Fornes had taken a 41-yard pass from Mickey Martin with less than two minutes to play.

The loss relegated A&I to a tie with Austin for the cellar.

In the other game of the week, Austin fell before the rampaging, undefeated East Texas State eleven, 61-7, at Commerce. East Texas gave its reserves experience in the non-conference game to rack up its seventeenth consecutive victory.

Ablene Christian, needing only a tie to win the title, meets Howard Payne Thursday afternoon at Abilene. Howard Payne, with one conference victory out of three starts, is not rated the equal of the ACC tribe, who will have the advantage of playing at home.

The season wound up Saturday for McMurry, Austin and A&I.

No change in the scoring race was made, as Reggie West, A&I's fullback, went scoreless while Jimmy Hirth of ACC was idle. West and Hirth are tied for first with 54 points each.

Four Regulars Back For Andrews Cogers

They are Gene Ellis, Ronny Huckabee, J. Frank Davis and Donald Regdale.

Prospects up from the B-squad include Bill Green, Kay Don Chesshire, Don Huestis, Roger Glover, Sherill Ivy, Bob Ellis and Bobby Mathis.

Assisting Nicholson in coaching duties is Charles Pinnell.

Controversial 'Helmet Block' Due Airing By SWC Officials

DALLAS—(AP)—There were indications Monday that the Southwest Conference, in its Winter meeting in December, will discuss the "helmet block" in football with a view toward taking the hazard out of it.

Don Goss, giant Southern Methodist tackle, had a couple of teeth loosened Saturday when Jerry Coody, Baylor halfback, put a helmet block on him in the SMU-Baylor game in Dallas. Sunday, Goss had one of the teeth removed but Coach H. N. Russell of SMU said the other may be saved.

Russell declined comment on the incident, however, although he previously had declared himself in favor of changing the rules to ban wearing plastic helmets and iron-hard shoulder pads. Russell's comment had come after the Baylor-Texas game, in which Texas complained about Baylor's helmet blocking.

It was reported that Texas planned a protest to the Southwest Conference but Coach Ed Price of Texas said this wasn't true, although he did say it was a matter for the conference to decide—whether to encourage or discourage the use of helmets in blocking. It is legal now.

There was no comment from Southwest Conference officials but L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, Texas Christian coach who is a member of the National Rules Committee, said the matter undoubtedly would be "pretty thoroughly discussed" at the Winter meeting of the conference. He also said Price had mentioned it to him.

"It's a question of what could be done," Meyer said. "You can't penalize a boy every time his headgear hits an opponent." Meyer said equipment might be changed so as to remove the hazard such as putting a layer of soft material on top of the helmet. He added that Texas had spoken to him about it and that SMU probably would, he thought it would be brought up for discussion at the national rules committee meeting.

Baylor Defends Practice

Coach George Sauer of Baylor said: "We've been using the helmet block for a long time but a little fellow like Jerry Coody has to do something to protect himself." Coody is five-foot-eleven and weighs 185 pounds.

He said there was no rule against it, that its use had been widespread in other sections for years. "It is no good unless a fellow just tries to run over you like Goss was trying to do," he declared. "Houston did pretty well against it. Their players turned their shoulders into our boys' heads, took the blow there and kept going."

McKown Regains SWC Lead In Total Running Passing

DALLAS—(AP)—Ray McKown, the workhorse of Texas Christian, is back where he started—heading the Southwest Conference in total offense.

All versatile Ray needed was to catch up in games played. As he evened things up against Rice—playing in his ninth contest—McKown passed for 182 yards and went back into first place, vaulting from third and replacing T. Jones, Texas quarterback.

McKown has gained 318 yards rushing and 983 passing in 294 plays for a total of 1,301. Jones has rolled up 1,168 yards on 192 plays. Ray Graves of Texas A&M, who missed the game with Rice because of an injury and didn't play last week since his team was idle, fell to third place with 1,149 yards on 227 plays.

Texas Trio Tops

Jones still heads the passers with his 991 yards on 62 completions in 127 attempts with Graves second with 883 on 87 connections in 150 tries.

Tempe Grabs Border Toga; Tech Second

By The Associated Press

Football championship of the Border Conference was won Saturday night in convincing fashion by Arizona State College at Tempe with a thumping 39-0 victory over Texas Western.

It was the fourth football championship won by Arizona State Sun Devils, and the second they had grabbed undefeated in conference play. The Sun Devils took all four games this year.

Texas Tech, with a surprise 19-14 win over the University of Arizona at Tucson, vaulted into second place in the loop standings and pushed Arizona back into third place.

Hardin-Simmons, exploding through the air, trounced West Texas State, 25-6, clinching fourth place in the standings. The loss placed the Buffaloes in the loop cellar, since Arizona State College at Flagstaff, which had its only conference game, did not have enough games in the circuit to count in the listings.

Last place will be determined in a day game Thanksgiving Day between West Texas State and Texas Western at El Paso. That is the only conference game remaining to be played.

House of Beauty is seventh with 14 wins and 19 losses, and Terrell Airway Cash Grocery and West Texas Office Supply are tied for the cellar with 12 wins and 21 losses.

Results last week follow: Troy Cleaners took three from House of Beauty, Midland Office Machine Company took three from Schultz, Kruger Jewelry took two out of three from West Texas Office Supply, Miller's High Life took two of three from Terminal Airway Cash Grocery, and I. W. Hynd Company took two out of three from Neely Agency.

Second Place Fight Left In SWC Race

By The Associated Press
The Southwest Conference football campaign ends this week with only second place to fight for. Texas, aiming at a sweep, can't be beaten out of the title regardless of what happens in its game with Texas A&M at Austin Thursday.

Southern Methodist and Rice will battle for the runner-up spot. SMU, in second place now with three victories, one loss and a tie, plays Texas Christian at Dallas Saturday. Rice, with a 3-2 record, closes out against Baylor at Waco. Baylor ruined SMU's hopes of a possible championship tie last week when the Golden Bears and the Methodists fought to a 7-7 deadlock.

Rice ruined Texas Christian's chances of second place by beating the Horned Frogs, 12-6.

Hogs Defeated
In the only other game played, Arkansas finished the season by absorbing its eighth defeat—a 44-34 trouncing from Tulsa. It was the last inter-sectional game of the season and left the conference with a record of eight victories against 13 defeats. It was one of the poorest inter-sectional records in history.

Texas will be an overwhelming favorite to beat A&M Thursday in conference play. But this traditional game, always a tough one regardless of whether one of the teams has a poor season record as A&M shows this season, will draw the usual crowd. That means 66,000 Memorial Stadium at Austin.

Rice and Southern Methodist probably will be narrow favorites to win their games Saturday.

Texas didn't play last week but its Billy Quinn continued to lead the conference in scoring with 66 points. Gib Dawson of Texas is second with 59.

NTS, Midwestern To Clash Thursday For Coastal Crown
By The Associated Press
It's championship time in the Gulf Coast Conference.

North Texas State and Midwestern clash at Wichita Falls Thursday with the title on the line. Each undefeated in conference play.

Trinity, third member of the league, has lost two games.

Dallas districts to pick their champions.
At Fort Worth, North Side can win the title by beating Paschal Thursday. If Paschal wins, however, there can be a three-way tie in the event Arlington Heights picks Poly. If Arlington Heights lost and Paschal won, Paschal would take the championship.

First Place Tie
At Dallas, Adamson and North Dallas have clinched a tie for first place and Woodrow Wilson beats Sunset Thursday that will make it a three-way proposition with the district committee having to pick the district representative. A loss by Woodrow, however, would give the title to North Dallas which beat Adamson in regular season play.

Whiteta Falls and Ray already have set their playoff game December 6 at Corpus Christi.
Denton, Temple, Port Neches, Edison (San Antonio) and McAllen already are in the state Class AAA playoff. Three other district champions are to be decided Thursday.

Edison and McAllen, both undefeated and untied and having finished their schedules, have set December 5 as the date of their bi-district game. It will be played at McAllen.

State Playoffs Begin
Three teams that have rolled up more than 400 points are in the field of Class AA and A, which begin their state playoffs this week. The top scorer is Graham in Class AA which has amassed 463 points in 10 games. Denver City in Class A has made 439 points and Floresville 403, each in 10 games.

The feature game sends Phillips against Floydada in Class AA, matching undefeated, untied records. The Class AA playoff schedule: Thursday—Sevour at Childress.

Friday—Phillips vs. Floydada at Amarillo. Winters vs. Stephenville at Brownwood tonight. Miteral Wells at Graham tonight. Terrell vs. Sulphur Springs at Commerce tonight. Lockhart at Belton tonight.

Belville vs. Bay City at Wharton tonight. Prentiss Beaumont at Lamar tonight. Del Rio vs. Yorkam at Uvalde tonight. Aransas Pass vs. Weslaco at Abilene tonight. Huntsville draws a bye.

The Class A playoff schedule: Thursday—LeFors at Oton. Abilene at Denver City. Wink at Junction. Dublin at Haskell. Crowell vs. Grapevine at Wichita Falls tonight. Henry Grove vs. Talco at Paris tonight. Groveton at Cedar Creek tonight. Van at White Oak tonight. Newton at Gaston tonight. Mart vs. Hearne at Mexia tonight. Smithville at Burnet tonight. Deer Park at Spring Branch tonight. Vanderbilt at Floresville tonight. Hondo at Taft tonight. Berardides vs. Lyford at Falfurrias tonight.

Deer Park at Spring Branch tonight. Vanderbilt at Floresville tonight. Hondo at Taft tonight. Berardides vs. Lyford at Falfurrias tonight.

With Tech in the tourney, scheduled for Plainview December 4 and 5, are East Central Oklahoma State, and North Texas State.

SENIOR STEERS—Two hard-running Texas backs who make their last Memorial Stadium appearance on Thanksgiving Day are Fullback Richard Ochoa of Laredo, left, and Jimmy Dan Pace, Kenedy. Ochoa is the league's leading ball carrier with 722 yards. Pace started the season as the regular right halfback and had the squad's longest run to his credit until Ochoa and Billy Quinn broke away for long scoring runs against Baylor.

Longhorns, Aggies Point For Thursday

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Texas Longhorns and Texas Aggies wrap up their regular season schedules in the fifty-ninth renewal of the Southwest's most famous gridiron rivalry Thanksgiving Day.

Texas has gained at least a tie for the Southwest Conference championships and will be Cotton Bowl host against Tennessee, but the Longhorns want to win this one as much as any previous game. They are strong favorites.

A victory would be sweet for Texas because it would mean the second clean sweep the Longhorns have been able to achieve against present members of the conference. They did it in former Coach Blair Cherry's final season in 1950.

Texas needs a triumph over the Aggies to hold on to a spot among the nation's top 10 teams. The Longhorns, with a 7-2 record, were rated No. 10 in The Associated Press poll last week.

Aside from the prestige of blanketing all league opponents and gaining national ranking, Texas wants revenge for the 22-21 upset scored by A&M last fall. That was the first time the Aggies had beaten the Longhorns in 12 years.

The Aggies could brighten a poor season's record (3-5-1) immeasurably by tripping their most bitter rival. The odds are greatly against them despite their claim to two of the conference's best backs: Quarterback Ray Graves and Halfback Don Ellis.

Texas will field the conference's best all-around backfield. Prior to Saturday's games, Quarterback T. Jones was the league's total offense leader and top passer; Fullback Dick Ochoa, Left Half Gib Dawson and Right Half Billy Quinn were one-two-three in rushing, and Quinn and Dawson were the leading scorers.

The Longhorns also will send the conference's ace pass receiver, end Tom Stohlhandke, against the Aggies.

Banner Takes Over Kegling League Lead

Banner Dairies took over top spot in the Major Bowling League last week, replacing the American Legion team, which had paced the league all season.

Twenty-two wins to 11 losses placed Banner in the No. 1 slot. American Legion is running a close second with 20 wins and 13 losses.

The Reporter-Telegram is in third place with 18 wins and 15 losses. Willig Engineering Company is in fourth place with 17 wins and 16 losses. Car-Truck Rental Company is fifth with 14 wins and 18 losses.

Big Young of the Houston Hill team won the week's honor with a 567 series, and Paul Vogel of The Reporter-Telegram had a 288 game to win honors for high single game.

Results were as follows: Houston Hill won three from American Legion, Willig Engineering Company took two from The Reporter-Telegram, Aluma Kraft Bowling Company won two of three from Car-Truck Rental Company, and Banner Dairies won three from Mid-West Glass & Paint Company.

Dogs Again Will Roam White House
HATBORO, PA.—(AP)—The household of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower is going to include a pair of little dogs with names as long as their pedigrees.

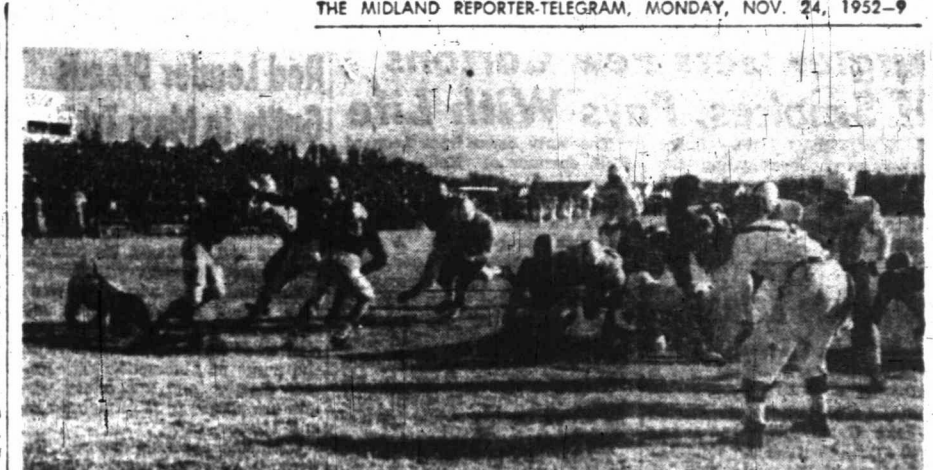

They are a pair of Papillons, a toy species of canine reportedly named after the French word for butterfly by Marie Antoinette.

Salle Pinckney of Hartsville, Pa., announced Sunday that Mrs. Eisenhower has accepted the dogs for delivery at the White House after the January 20 inauguration.

Miss Pinckney, secretary of the Papillon Club of America, said one of the dogs—from her own kennel—is Ember of Pinquetry. The other is a red and white champion, Mims Mosa of Dulceda.

THIRD WESTERNER TOUCHDOWN—Until this moment early in the third quarter, the Midland High School Bulldogs thought they had a chance Saturday afternoon. But when 185-pound Westerner Fullback Welch plunged through a gaping hole from the two-yard line to score the third touchdown, it was just a matter of how high the score would go. Bulldogs Bill Mims and Jesse Hatfield are shown trying to plug the hole while Terry Fuglaar (51) is shown going down before to Lubbock blockers.

LINDSEY GRABS A LUBBOCK PASS—The Westerners used their passing attack sparingly but when they did it usually meant a big gain. Here Richard Lindsey is shown reaching for a long one from Jimmie Haynie. He took it in for a 19-yard gain, too, and Lubbock went on to spoil Midland's Homecoming with a 48-0 victory.

Ferry Captain Gets Fed Up With 'To And Fro' O'Brien
HONG KONG—(AP)—Ferry Capt. S. E. Haslett is fed up. He has been hauling Michael Patrick O'Brien back and forth across the Straits of Macau since September 18 and he asserts something ought to be done about it.

Haslett let of steam in a letter to the South China Morning Post Monday. He didn't directly criticize O'Brien, the steadiest non-paying passenger in ferry boat history. After all, O'Brien has been trying to set off the ferry, Lee Hong, ever since the day he sneaked aboard.

And Haslett made no mention of the immigration officers at Macau and Hong Kong who won't let O'Brien off because his papers aren't in order.

The captain vented his wrath on refugee organizations which have not been able to do a thing for O'Brien. Haslett made no suggestions.

O'Brien, 37, a marine engineer, came out of Red China on Red Cross papers. He boarded the Lee Hong at Macau and there he has stayed. Immigration officers at both ends of the daily 40-mile run won't let him land. They say his papers are no good. O'Brien claims to be American, but the U. S. State Department says he is Hungarian.

Immediate Release Of Alaniz Sought

AUSTIN —(AP)—Immediate release of Nago Alaniz in the slaying of Jake (Buddy) Floyd Jr. was asked in the Court of Criminal Appeals Monday.

Alaniz is held at Alice on charges in connection with the murder-by-mistake of the son of a South Texas political figure.

Attorney Percy Foreman of Houston filed a motion for immediate release of Alaniz on bail pending his trial.

The court Wednesday set aside a lower court ruling denying Alaniz bail and said he should be released in bond of $15,000.

Normally the court's order would not go into effect for 15 days, or until December 4, to give the state time to contest the appeals court ruling.

Foreman's motion argued that Alaniz should be freed immediately.

The court took no immediate action on Foreman's plea.

Tenth Former Czech Red Leader Pleads Guilty In Mass Trial

VIENNA —(AP)—Radio Prague Monday broadcast the confession of a tenth former Czech Communist leader that he was an Anglo-American spy and sabotaged his nation's Red-ordered economy.

The latest set of admissions came from Rudolf Margolius, 39, a Jew and former deputy minister of foreign trade until he was arrested in the purge of Communist boss Rudolf Slansky and supporters who now are alleged to have planned an anti-Moscow plot.

Margolius appeared before the five-man court in Prague's Pankraz Prison Monday and admitted charges of conspiracy to overthrow the government of President Klement Gottwald, espionage for the West, and economic sabotage.

Of the 14 defendants currently on trial, these four still have to add their "confessions" to the list of abject self-denunciations extracted from them after one to two years pre-trial imprisonment.

First Pigs Poured Monday At Texas' New Alcoa Plant

ROCKDALE —(AP)—Continuous production began Monday at Aluminum Company of America's newest smelting plant that has transformed this little Texas cotton center into a mushrooming boom.

A brief ceremony signaled the first stage of the new plant's development.

Two ALCOA officials, Smelting Division Manager R. T. Whitel and Rockdale Works Manager J. D. Harper, poured an aluminum pig from the first operating potline.

Three more potlines are in the plans. Also scheduled for future construction are lignite mining facilities and two sister plants—one to generate the required electricity and one to make carbon electrodes necessary to producing aluminum.

In all, it will cost 100 million dollars. It will produce 170 million pounds of aluminum a year. It will employ 1,100 to 1,200 men and women.

The plant will make no finished products but will turn out aluminum pigs or bars from refined aluminum ore. These will be shipped elsewhere for use in aluminum products.

It will be the first plant in the nation to use electric power generated by burning lignite, a process developed by research of the Texas Power and Light Company and the U. S. Bureau of Mines. Rockdale had been the logical choice for the plant site. It long had advertised itself as having the largest lignite deposit in the world.

Giant Psychiatric Patient Breaks Out Of Houston Hospital

HOUSTON —(AP)—A 260-pound giant of a man, under treatment for mental illness at old Jefferson Davis Hospital since his arrest last Wednesday, smashed his way out of the psychopathic ward early Monday.

He metaced a night nurse and an attendant with a section of metal bed he had smashed in his fury and compelled them to admit him to the exit, where he slipped off into the night.

Described as a "very dangerous man," the maniac was wearing only a pair of light blue pajamas and a pair of low-quarter shoes as he disappeared into the early morning rain.

He is 58 and stands six feet, two inches. He was committed at the order of Dr. C. A. Dwyer, county psychiatrist, after he was placed in county jail following an automobile accident in which a woman companion was injured.

Another First For Columbus

AUSTIN —(AP)—Columbus probably discovered America but one of his ship captains discovered the American possum.

That's just one point in the low-down on possums revealed in a book to be released December 1 by the University of Texas Press. The author is Dr. Carl G. Hartman.

He says the "possum first" was found in Brazil Feb. 1, 1500, by Vincente Yanes Pinson, former captain of the Nina.

It was presented at the court of Ferdinand and Isabella who were astonished at what Dr. Hartman calls the "strangest of all our native animal species."

Prospects For Video In Midland Outlined

Possibilities of television in Midland were outlined Monday afternoon at the weekly meeting of the Midland Kiwanis Club.

The speaker was Jack Cecil, manager of radio station KJBC, who explained that one application for a television outlet here already has been filed with the FCC. Cecil pointed out, however, that it would be some time before such a facility could be built and placed in operation.

A new station in Lubbock with a 1,000-foot tower now under construction may make television available in Midland by next summer, and Cecil said, "from the tests already made there is a possibility of pretty good reception here from Lubbock."

British Arrest 350 After 15 Die In Riot

NAIROBI, KENYA —(AP)—Officials announced Monday the arrest of 350 persons at Kirawara in the Fort Hall reserve, where police opened fire on a mob of 2,000 Kikuyu tribesmen and killed 15 of them Sunday.

The police action and the other violence gave this troubled British East African colony its bloodiest day since the start of the drive to stamp out the terrorist activity of the anti-white Mau Mau Society. The death toll was at least 20 killed, including a retired commander in the British Navy.

The British, moving swiftly to prevent additional bloodletting brought to trial Jomo (Burning Spear) Kenyatta, bearded leader of the Kenya African Union, and five others on charges of aiding the Mau Mau leadership.

Federal Grand Jury Ignores Complaints In Texas Port Case

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A federal grand jury refused Monday to return any indictment in the Orange, Texas, port case.

The U. S. district attorney's office said the jury, after hearing evidence concerning overseas shipments of defense goods through the Orange port, decided to ignore complaints brought against two Texas men and a former civilian employee at Army headquarters here.

The men were identified as Joseph P. Kerr, Houston; Abel Raymond Sanders, Orange; and Harold Dowell, Washington.

Assistant U. S. District Attorney William Becker, in charge of the grand jury investigation, said it was made to determine if there had been any violation of conspiracy or bribery laws.

The grand jury investigation followed issuance of a Senate Armed Services Committee report asserting that $4,000 had been paid by Orange port officials to Dowell, who at the time was responsible for channeling overseas shipments through various ports. Kerr, at the time, was director of the Port of Orange and Sanders was mayor of Orange.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

A PERPETUAL CHRISTMAS GIFT to your family and yourself is a NEW HOME. This one is too large to wrap up because it has three large bedrooms, Walex paneled den, and two ceramic tile baths. There is a separate dining room, and the kitchen alone will make you love it. Of course, there's a 2-car attached garage and paving on the street. Central heating, air conditioning, generous closets, and all rooms are fully carpeted with NYLON LIFE-TIME rugs. Read this carefully. Approximately 1,800 square feet of living area. Established loan of $14,000, and the full price is ONLY $21,000. It's brand new!

FOR THE GI ONLY, we have an extremely attractive 2 bedroom, asbestos siding beauty on Roosevelt. 21 feet of living room, dining area, and convenient kitchen. Two rooms completely carpeted. Attached garage, corner lot, and fenced for your privacy. Priced at only $8,300, with $350 full down payment plus closing costs. It's priced $1,500 below the market.

MONSTROUSLY HUGE because it was built for the "greater" man and his family. Four spacious bedrooms and den, three ceramic tile baths, expansive living room and separate dining room, magnificent kitchen, and two-car attached garage. Constructed of brick on a large lot which is surrounded by a high tile fence. Central heating and air conditioning by refrigeration. Over 3,650 square feet of magnificence, ranging from the dishwasher and disposal to the radio-controlled garage doors. Designed in beauty for comfort—for the "greater" man. PLEASE, by strict appointment only.

310 EAST SPRUCE IS NOW WAITING for a new owner. And the owner will get a lovely cream velvet brick home with three bedrooms, tile bath, living and dining room combination, and modern-type kitchen. Attached carport and storage, and the street is paved (and paid for). Central heating, oak floors, nice closets, washer connection, electric stove connection, water softener. It is a year old. We can arrange excellent financing on this home. After you see it from the outside, call us to see the rest—and our terms. Priced at $11,950.

ON EXCLUSIVE COUNTRY CLUB DR. It has all the beautiful accessories of gracious living—plus three bedrooms and two baths. If you have never seen a home in which a designer and builder outdid himself, here is your opportunity. $31,800.

WHEN THE BOSS WASN'T LOOKING, I got out the scissors, and cut the doggone price so that some nice folks could buy a bigger home. It's got 3 wonderful bedrooms, two tile baths, expansive living room with dining area, and a kitchen which will make you pucker up and whistle. The attached garage can easily be converted into a huge den. Central heating, ducted for air conditioning, carpeting in living and dining room and hall. Other features to delight you. Priced at only $16,500.

1904 NORTH LAMESA IS PRICED AT $6,350. IT IS 6 MONTHS OLD, AND IS WAITING FOR IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY. NEAR CROCKETT SCHOOL.

IF YOUR PEN RUNS DRY, stop by our office and re-fill it. While you're doing that, ask us about the 2-bedroom home on Oak. We promise not to chew your ear off. You'll be able to tell your friends that you got this home merely because your pen ran out of ink. (They'll all carry dry pens afterwards.)

WHATTA LOTA HOUSE can be purchased for ONLY $1,500 down. Look at 1504 South Weatherford. 2 bedrooms, lovely living room, cheerful kitchen, tile bath, attached garage. Air-conditioner, washer connection, nice closets, draperies, nice lawn, tile fence, paved street, and in immaculate condition thru-out. Assume GI loan. ONLY $10,200.

Taft-Hartley Act Revision May Escape Major Contest

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The promised Republican revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law is one of the most potentially explosive issues facing the new Congress—yet it may be accomplished without too much fuss.

It may even turn out that the labor unions will bury the hatchet with the new administration of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, though most of them opposed him in the recent elections.

There seems to be a growing disposition on the part of influential Republicans and the labor organizations to get along, if at all possible. The unions, after all, might have much to lose in an all-out fight with the GOP isn't likely to want to engage any tiffs—right away, anyway.

Senator Robert A. Taft, main draftsman of the T-H law, has started planning revisions on a rather conciliatory note. And union officials say privately they've about given up their ideas of getting the law repealed.

The Republican platform favors retention of the law with "such amendments... as time and experience show to be desirable." President-elect Eisenhower said during the campaign he was not in favor of repealing the law, but did favor amending it.

Industry-Wide Plan
Taft said a few days ago that he is against any move to write into the law a ban on industry-wide bargaining—a step that might diminish economic power of many big unions. The Ohioan also came out against changing the law's present provisions for dealing with emergency strikes.

There are undoubtedly industry men who would like to see the law changed to include many new curbs on the unions—just as there are organized labor leaders who still plunk for kicking out the law entirely.

Despite Taft's present stand against an industry-wide bargaining ban, it likely will get considerable support in Congress. Another plan sure to be discussed as an addition to the T-H act would give the government some supervision over union welfare funds. Either proposal would stir union ire.

Labors Move Fails
Taft says he generally plans to stick to the same proposals he adopted in 1949 for changing the present law. These were passed by the Senate but got pigeon-holed in the House, mainly because the labor unions blocked them.

The unions generally liked the Taft proposals then, but opposed them chiefly because their strategy, which turned out to be unsuccessful, was to try for complete repeal of the law, rather than gradual change.

One of Taft's 1949 suggestions was to remove the law's ban against strikers participating in a bargaining rights election. This is the clause Eisenhower was referring to when, during the campaign, he said the T-H act must be changed to remove features which "might be used to break unions."

Non-Red Oaths
Another of Taft's proposals was to extend to company officials the requirement that union officials must sign non-Communist oaths before they can avail themselves of the T-H act's privileges.

Taft sponsored in 1949 and plans to support again a number of other technical changes in the complicated law which he says will make it work better for all concerned. This would jibe with the GOP platform pledge to adopt T-H changes as it becomes apparent they are needed.

But tinkering with so complicated a law in the contentious labor-management field is like treading an uncharted mine-field. An explosion may occur at any moment.

Libya Also Goes Rainless; Famine Feared

TRIPOLI—(AP)—Unless Libya is blessed by bountiful rains within two weeks its 1,700,000 inhabitants will face widespread famine next summer.

The fall rainy season is long overdue and the land is so hard that crude stick plows, drawn by camels, are unable to scratch the surface.

Libya, one-fourth the size of the United States, depends almost entirely upon wheat and barley for subsistence. Tribesmen fear that if it doesn't rain soon they will be unable to plant in time for next year's crop.

They have watched the cloudless skies for weeks with Moslem prayers for rain on their lips. And if the drought continues, the country can be saved only through foreign aid, meaning the U. S.

Besides the agony of hunger, the country would suffer an economic loss of more than three million dollars if the drought continues. But in a country so poor as Libya, the importance of bread is supreme.

Rainfall in Libya, where there is not a single river or stream, rarely follows the same seasonal pattern. Even within a season rainfall is erratic. Deep cisterns, some dating to the old Roman times, might provide enough drinking water to last.

American Conscripts In Israeli Army Due To Lose Citizenship

JERUSALEM — (AP) — American residents in Israel who are serving in the Israeli Army under this nation's universal conscription law will lose their U. S. citizenship when America's McCarran Act goes into effect December 24, the U. S. Embassy has announced.

The number of Americans facing this dilemma could not be learned Saturday because of Israel's tight security wraps on the makeup and strength of its armed forces.

However, all male residents of the country between 18 and 45 and all women between 18 and 35 are subject to the draft, either in the regular service or reserve. Those conscripted must serve their terms so Americans cannot drop out to save their U. S. citizenship.

Retiring British Envoy Sees Waning Danger Of World War

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador to all 48 of the United States, neared the end of his action-packed American career Saturday with the conviction that the world is a little safer now than when he came here four and one-half years ago.

A British-American partnership able to withstand even the shock of a clash over recognition of Communist China is, in Franks' opinion, the foundation of this greater world security.

The crisis of communism with all its risks may go on for many years, he feels, but so long as Britain and America, the core of the coalition of free nations, stick together on the main issues, the Soviets may well hesitate to press their designs to the danger point. Franks is going home this week. Old friends who have stopped in at his big paneled office in the British Embassy have found him in the mood of recollection and summary that goes with trunk-packing, and apparently a little sad about leaving. The lanky college professor probably has been the busiest diplomat in the capital since his arrival here.

Sir Oliver Franks

In May, 1948. In the first place, there undoubtedly is more business to be done day in and day out between the British and American governments with their close and parallel interests in world affairs than between the United States and any other country.

In the second place, Franks has nourished the notion that he was Britain's representative not only to the District of Columbia but to all 48 states. He has visited all of them and spoken and held news conferences in all of them, according to his own recollections. At the time he was assigned to Washington by the Labor government of Prime Minister Clement Attlee, he had a career that consisted in part of having been a philosophy professor at Glasgow University, provost of Queens College at Oxford and a wartime economics official. This was hardly the usual training for a diplomat but Franks got into diplomacy through it, nevertheless, for he was one of the British delegation which in 1947 helped shape Europe's reaction to Marshall Plan for European recovery.

By contrast, Franks' successor who will come here at the end of the year, Sir Roger Makins, is a career diplomat of wide experience.

Franks feels the change in ambassadors coincides with the beginning of what may be a new era in British-American relations. His feeling is partly due to the fact that a new government is coming in the United States whose policies are yet to be spelled out. But it is even more due to the estimate now general among European and American officials that the time of the big U. S. economic assistance to European countries is passing away and a time when some new form of cooperation must be worked out is emerging. The British have been talking about substituting greater trade with the United States for American aid. Franks believes this is in fact the desire of the people, as well as the government, in England.

"In a recent game of Samba," writes a columnist correspondent, "we got ourselves into quite a hassle. Perhaps you can straighten us out."

"My wife and I had a canasta of kings. We also had melded a sequence from the seven of spades all the way up to the queen. As you can see, we needed either the six of spades or the king of spades to complete this Samba.

"The opponent at my right discarded the king of spades, and I swooped down upon the discard pile. The opponents thereupon squawked so hard that the Red Cross sent out some emergency relief on the theory that we were having an earthquake."

"I won't bore you with all the lovely statements made on both sides. The opponents were members of the family, and we managed to make a few remarks that had very little to do with Samba! All the same, we would like to know the rights and wrongs of this situation.

"Did I have the right to pick up that king of spades and add it to my sequence?"

Yes, you certainly had that right. In the game of Samba, you are not allowed to pick up a card that matches your closed canasta for the purpose of adding it to that canasta. There is nothing in the rules to prevent you, however, from picking such a card and using it for an entirely different meld.

In this case, the king of spades was not going to be used with the canasta of kings. It could therefore be used to add to the long sequence in spades.

It would be equally correct to pick up such a card with a matching pair in your hand. For example, if my correspondent had an additional pair of kings in his hand he could take the discarded king of spades and start an entirely new meld of kings.

Q—How is a hand of Canasta scored when the stock pile is exhausted and not one of the four players has made any meld? Each side has put down two red threes.

A—The hand comes to an end, of course, and each side is docked 200 points for its red threes. In addition, each side is docked for the full count of the cards held by both partners.

For example, suppose your cards added to 110 points and that your partner's cards came to 140 points. You would be minus 250 points (the sum of 110 and 140) for cards and minus 200 for your red threes. Hence 450 points (250 plus 200) would be subtracted from your previous score on the scorepad.

Brandy Transport Drivers Are Sober

NEW YORK — (AP) — The 12 drivers of trucks carrying brandy for a German concern apparently are not tempted by their cargo because all recently received awards for sober and careful driving. It has been reported here.

The trucks carrying 10,000 gallons of eight-year-old German Ural brandy made by the Asbach and Company of Ruedesheim-on-Rhine near Wiesbaden. The awards were made by Germany's equivalent of America's National Safety Council created to encourage accident prevention.

Peek Through Iron Curtain Reveals Little To Tourists

By TOM STONE
HELMSTEDT, GERMANY—(P)—The Russians will part the Iron Curtain here, if your papers are in order, and let you drive the 100 miles to Berlin through a Communist-controlled East Germany.
 It is the most vital land link between the West and East, and the Soviets are the gatekeepers.
 No longer do the Communists permit U. S. military police to patrol the road to lend a helping hand to American motorists in distress. You're on your own.
 At the American checkpoint near the border, MP's closely examine your papers so you won't have any trouble at the Russian roadblocks. "Don't take any pictures. Don't drive too fast. Be sure you have plenty of gasoline. And, above all, don't turn off the main road for any reason," warns an MP.
 In case your car actually does a quiet, moonfaced Soviet soldier, and East German people's police might help you. They might call the MP's to send you a tow truck.
 But again, they might not.
 That's a risk you take to get a running glimpse of what life behind the Iron Curtain is like.
 At the first Russian checkpoint a quiet, moonfaced Soviet soldier, a burp-gun swinging over his shoulder, sticks out his hand for your papers. You hand them over and hope for the best.
 He turns sharply, marches into the checkpoint office and disappears. Through the office window you can see a picture of Stalin hanging on a wall. A Russian woman, dressed in military uniform, stares out the window at you. No smiles exchanged here.
 She looks 100 per cent soldierly except for a pair of scarlet-red earrings that dangle from her ears.

Soldier Is Silent
 In two or three minutes the other soldier returns, hands you your papers and motions a guard to lift the barrier. The barrier looks like an old-fashioned tollgate. It is painted red and white like a barber pole. You politely thank the soldier as he waves you through. But he must be deaf. He doesn't hear you.
 So off you start on a two-hour drive through the Soviet-occupied East Zone of Germany.
 The road between here and Berlin is without doubt the best marked highway in the world. Americans have erected signs everywhere along the road pointing the way to Berlin. It would be hard to lose your way.
Land Is Rich
 Nobody is taking any chances. A stray motorist could cause an international crisis. The road is good. It is a Hitler-built autobahn (super highway). The landscape is beautiful. In the fields East German farmers harvest their crops. Stacks of grain glitter in the late afternoon sunshine. In the distance a giant windmill slowly turns its arms gracefully in the breeze.
 Once in a while a farmer will pause long enough to turn and wave. But along the autobahn itself scarcely anything looks beautiful or friendly. Russian soldiers and people's police patrol the road constantly, keeping a wary eye on travelers.
 You begin to wonder if there really is enough gasoline in the car to reach Berlin. Perhaps a tire will blow out or the motor stop cold. And it's beginning to get dark.
Propaganda Signs
 But the Communist propaganda signs along the road soon take your mind off such unpleasant thoughts. Some of the signs are amusing. Others are downright unneighborly.
 "Ami go home," one of them says bluntly.
 Others tell the motorists how "free" and happy life is in the Communist East Zone. They are the amusing ones.
 Soon you've made it to the U. S. sector of Berlin. Whew! Who cares if a tire blows out now? And if it's dark, so what?

Van Fleet Repeats Stand On Training Of Korean Soldiers

NEW YORK—(P)—Gen. James Van Fleet says "we can produce many more" fighting South Korean divisions in addition to the 10 divisions which already are manning the bulk of the Korean front.
 Declaring he favors "increased use of native troops to defend their own lands and to replace the American soldier wherever possible," the Eighth Army commander in Korea writes in the November 23 issue of This Week magazine.
 "For the type of defensive warfare in which we are engaged—static positions with little movement in mountainous terrain—the ROK's are as good, man for man, as U. S. troops."
 "And you can train, feed and pay 16 ROK's for the price of one American."

'GET IT OVER WITH'—GI's Look Forward To Talks With Ike

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA—(P)—"If I see Ike, I'll say, 'Let's get this damn war over with.'"
 "Let's drive at the enemy, I'll tell him. Let's push 'em back. We aren't doing any good holding the line here. Why, at this rate, my kids might be coming over here some day for this thing."
 That's the way Pfc. Bob Neiwem feels about the war and President-elect Eisenhower's forthcoming trip to Korea.
 Neiwem, Winnetka, Ill., was one of 14 GI's asked, "If you talk to Ike, what will you tell him?"
 The quick, usual reply was, "I'll tell him I want to go home."
 But many soldiers added something to that plaintive statement. Some, like Neiwem, wanted a big push. Others wanted to pull out. All wanted to get home.
 Here are some of their sentiments:
 Cpl. Edward L. Norris, Flint, Mich.:
 "I'd ask him to speed up replacements so we can rotate faster. Some of these guys have been on the line a long time. I've been in Korea myself for 13 months and I wouldn't mind getting home for Christmas."
 "Have To Prove It"
 M/Sgt. Chester Lyons, La Cressencia, Calif.:
 "I'd like to know why we aren't being aggressive and just taking the nearby, close-in hills away from the Commies and maybe losing them and retaking them 10 times or more."

What are we getting out of it besides casualties? Some say it's terrain we need but they can't prove it to me."
 Cpl. Albert Krambeal, North Bend, Ore.:
 "The big question I'll ask him is HAS TWO FUNCTIONS. Food has two functions, first to supply energy to the body and second to build up tissues in growth or when they are worn out."

Kashmir Hospitality Bill Finally Settled After UN Pays Visit

SRINAGAR, KASHMIR—(P)—Premier Sheikh Abdullah's government and the United Nations have just settled their own little financial problem.
 It all started two years ago when Australian jurist Sir Owen Dixon and a party of five, including military observer Gen. Courtney R. Hodges, visited Kashmir to help unscramble the Indo-Pakistan argument over Kashmir.
 Surprised UN officials here got a bill later from the State Guest House for the month-long "official hospitality" extended to the mission. The bill amounted to $1,097.
 Sir Owen and four others had stayed 31 days during June and July 1950. General Hodges had spent only 12 days in Srinagar, touring the Indo-Pakistan cease-fire line the rest of the time.
 While the UN waged a cold war over the issue, another UN mission came and departed. Finally the UN office here paid up in late September.

House Group To Study Sale Of 'Obscene' Books, Comics

WASHINGTON—A flood of literature alleged to be obscene has deluged the offices of a special House committee investigating public sales of objectionable reading matter.

Chairman Gathings (D-Ark) said the material, mostly pocket-sized novels and "comic" books, has been sent in from all over the country by citizens demanding that Congress do something to clean up book and magazine racks.

Gathings' committee will start public hearings here December 1. During that week, spokesmen for religious groups, publishers, parents organizations, the Postoffice Department and book distributors are expected to testify.

Congress created the committee last Summer and directed it to find out what, if anything, should be done to prevent "indecent" literature from being made cheaply and easily accessible.

"The people are demanding that something be done to clean up this situation," Gathings said in an interview. "It is shocking to see how much obscene and lewd printed matter is available to anyone at a small price in almost any corner store in the country. It is a serious menace to the morals of our youth."

Gathings said he doesn't know what the committee can do about it, but suggested that it may recommend changes in existing law designed to curb the distribution of obscene matter.

Present law bans obscene matter from the mails and from interstate shipment by common carrier, but does not prohibit distribution by other means. Many of the objectionable books are distributed by private truck.

The MATURE PARENT

Child Needs Atmosphere Of Joy Surrounding Him

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Young Mrs. Wilson has a friend named Ruth.

Ruth lives a most sensational life. The people she knows are always entering hospitals. Their husbands are always coming home with news that they want divorces or that they've been fired from their jobs. If there's a virus about, it can never resist them. They have a fatal attraction for traffic accidents and as to the funeral card industry, it couldn't get along without them.

After a visit from Ruth, young Mr. Wilson sits staring into space. When she is aroused by the roars with which her baby son announces displeasure in his wet diaper, she attends to him, oblivious of the bubbles he is gratefully blowing at her. With her strong, healthy boy on her lap, in the sunny room purchased by young Mr. Wilson's love and responsibility, young Mrs. Wilson thinks, "Oh, dear, we're here one day and gone the next. What sorrows there are in the world! How cruel life is!"

Young Mrs. Wilson should take immediate and firm steps to get rid of her friend Ruth. She is not a professional social worker, trained in techniques for protecting herself against the contagion of misery. Her work is wifehood and motherhood. It is the support of joy.

It takes us quite a little while to discover that there are people in the world who collect misfortune inactively. It takes us even longer to learn that we have a stern moral obligation to protect our homes against such people, as we protect them against thieves who steal money.

We do not learn overnight that our most precious possession and that those who make a habit of borrowing our joy without returning it are wasteful and irresponsible people. We do not learn this because we regard material things as our most precious possessions and consequently take great care of them. Then we grow up and begin to take steps to guard and protect joy.

Young Mrs. Wilson will not find it easy to tell Ruth that she has no more friendship to give her. That is because she believes that it is kind and loving to sympathize with misery.

The realization that love for humanity does not require us to sympathize with misery and support it by giving it hearing is important to us as the parents of children who need joy to grow. So important that I am not going to quote from psychiatry for authority. I am going to quote from one whose understanding of love we trust supremely. I am going to remind us of Jesus' parable of the Foolish Virgins.

Time was when I found those foolish young women who refused to gather their own oil of understanding and joy most appealing. I thought of them as vague but delightful girls interested in things of the imagination instead of dull practical ones. I don't any more.

Now I know that they were moral dead beats, and that their wise sisters who had prepared themselves to enter the kingdom of peace were right to rebuke them. They were right to mince no words and shoot straight from the shoulder.

They were right to say to the emotional parasites who wanted to borrow their oil of understanding and joy, "No, lest there be not enough for us and for you. But go rather to them that sell and buy for yourselves."

When misfortune comes to us directly in personal emergency, we share our oil gladly. But when it is borrowed day after day until we have none left for our own lamps, we are foolish, not loving at all. We are giving support to the neglect and the darkness of others. PECOS PROJECT—Here is the proposed auditorium and educational unit for the First Baptist Church in Pecos. Ground is to be broken Easter Sunday, April 5, 1953, for the $225,000 building, reports the Rev. W. M. Turner, pastor. This architect's drawing shows front of the new educational unit, center, side and front of new auditorium, left, and front of present chapel section of present educational building, right.

NOT SO WITH DADDY RINGTAIL

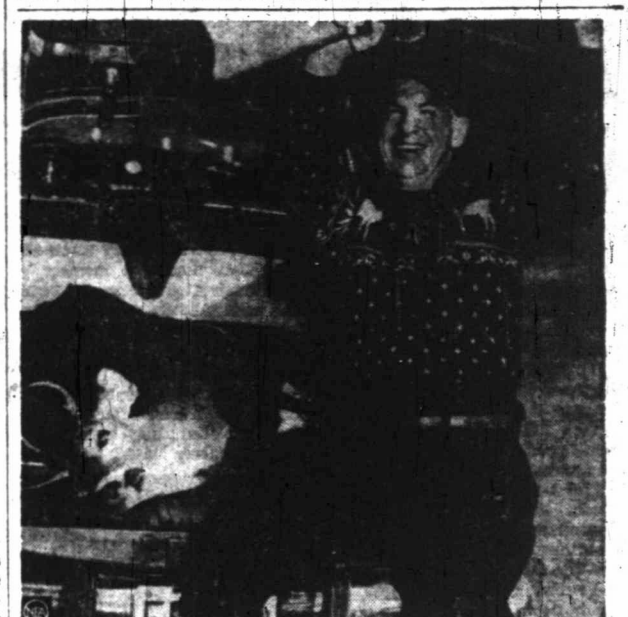

VANCOUVER, B. C.—The Vancouver Sun wanted to find out whether anyone is reading stories on the Korean war.

So it ran the same dispatch three days in a row. What happened? Nothing.

In a newspaper story Saturday, the Sun says not one of its 500,000 readers phoned to check the "error."

The editors pointed out that whenever a comic strip or feature column is dropped or repeated the switchboard is deluged with calls from irate readers.

"Deafening silence" was the only reaction to the repetition of the Korean story, the Sun said.

Death Sentence For Convicted Atomic Spies Upheld; Rosenbergs To Die By Electrocutation

By WARD CANNEL
NEA Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—"Plain, deliberate, contemplated murder," the judge began, is dwarfed in magnitude by comparison with the crime you have committed.

So declared Federal Judge Irving Kaufman on April 5, 1951. He made it quite clear to spectacled, mustached Julius Rosenberg and his thin-lipped wife, Ethel, that there was no reason for mercy.

The sentence of the court was death. And for their crime of treason against the United States—stealing atomic secrets for Russia—the Rosenbergs are doomed to the electric chair Jan. 12, 1953.

Their doom was upheld by the Court of Appeals. And the Supreme Court, one once, but twice, refused to intervene in the decision.

Never before had any American court handed down a death penalty in peacetime for wartime espionage. Nor had any American civil court ever—in peace or war—handed down a death judgment, against spies. Even in dooming Ethel Rosenberg, American justice was breaking a 90-year-old precedent of sparing women spies.

From the beginning, the case—like the judgment—was enormous in its reach.

Others in Net
There was, first, the complication of time. The grand jury's indictment charged the Rosenbergs with giving atomic secrets to the Russians between 1944 and 1946. And though the crime was committed when Russia had been an American ally, by trial time the two nations were antagonists.

The case was further involved by the national boundaries it crossed. Strands of the gigantic espionage web were anchored in Los Alamos, New Mexico, London, Mexico City, Albuquerque and Moscow.

The net also involved important names: physicists Allan Nunn May and Klaus Fuchs, a member of the British Atomic Energy Mission. And such unlikely names as "Dave from Pittsburgh" and "The Lone Ranger."

"Best Kept Secret"
The name of Rosenberg did not appear until long after the Russians exploded their atomic bomb in September, 1949. Even then there was no reason for mercy.

Their doom was upheld by the Court of Appeals. And the Supreme Court, one once, but twice, refused to intervene in the decision.

David Greenglass: For state's evidence, a light sentence.

atomic experts were wondering why the Reds had waited so long. A year earlier it had become apparent that "the world's best kept secret" had been exposed. The Kremlin knew more about atomic energy than all but a handful of men among the democracies.

The FBI was called in to trace what looked like espionage. They constructed a mythical spy. He was high up in the atomic organization. He had access to American and British information. He was a scientist.

Fuchs Tells Tale
The trail led to London. And within months they had nailed Dr. Klaus Fuchs. Gnawed by conscience, he confessed quickly. But he had been merely an idealist serving a cause. He knew no names. Not even that of his colleague, Allan Nunn May, who had been sharing secrets with the Reds, too.

But Fuchs could identify the courier who had picked up the information. Not the fellow's name, but enough to make it easy for the FBI in New York to arrest Harry Gold.

Under aliases and with plenty of Russian-supplied money, Gold had been liaison man for the Kremlin. He had worked with Anatoli Yakovlev, Soviet vice consul in New York. They met on subway trains, in front of statues, at busy intersections. Gold passed on his information and received orders.

Former Army Sergeant
In his confession, Gold named Fuchs, May, Yakovlev. He also named a former U. S. Army sergeant, David Greenglass. And Greenglass' brother-in-law, Julius Rosenberg.

"Fantastic," said Rosenberg at his arraignment. "It's something like kids hear on the Lone Ranger."

"Who knows," said Federal Judge Irving Kaufman in pronouncing the death sentence on Ethel and Julius Rosenberg, "who knows but that millions of innocent people may pay the price of your treason."

Leads To War
The judge was quite certain that the silent couple standing before him had already contributed heavily to the Communist aggression in Korea. And for their part in a world-wide spy-ring that had given the A-bomb to the Russians, the Rosenbergs were sentenced to the electric chair.

The huge spy-net already had been burned out. Spy-master Yakovlev had fled to Moscow. British physicist Fuchs had confessed. Canadian atom scientist May had confessed. So had spy-courier Harry Gold, who named the Rosenbergs in the plot.

Said the Rosenbergs: "We cannot reassert often or emphatically enough our complete innocence."

In Key Position
Thus, much of the Rosenberg story came from Ethel's brother, David Greenglass, who played a strong supporting role. His reward for state's evidence was a light sentence of 15 years.

An Army sergeant and expert machinist, Greenglass had been assigned in 1944 to a lathe in a new, restricted factory outside Albuquerque, N. M. Neither he nor the other 200,000 workers at Los Alamos knew what it was all about.

His wife, Ruth, told him. She had learned from their brother-in-law, Julius Rosenberg, that an atomic bomb was under construction. She also told David that Julius now was doing what he's always wanted to do—giving information to the Russians.

Time Was Right
Julius and Ethel had broken their connections with the Communist Party, had stopped reading the Daily Worker, had stayed away from party meetings. The business of espionage called for people above suspicion.

It had been luck for Julius to find his wife's brother in a key position. For years he had hurried Greenglass with presents and party (Continued On Page Seven)

Shoe Prices Remain Near Stable Levels

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stability of shoe prices in comparison with price movements of hides, skins and leather has been stressed by the National Shoe Manufacturers Association.

The wholesale price index of hides and skins moved from 94.3 in June, 1950, to 140.9 in January, 1951, the association said. Between then and April, 1952, the index fell back to 49.7.

During this period, the wholesale price of footwear fluctuated comparatively little. From June, 1950, to April, 1951, the low was 102.7 and the high 123.1. In April, 1952, the index remained at 113.6.

Convicted Atom Spies—

 sure, until he could call the younger man his protégé.
 Now it was time for David Greenglass to contribute to Russia. Greenglass searched his soul that night, and the following morning he answered the questions Julius had sent with Ruth. How many employed at Los Alamos? How many buildings? What big names? She Memorizes Data
 Ruth went home with the memorized information. And two months later her husband came to New York on furlough with more information. At the Rosenbergs' Monroe Street apartment on the fringe of Greenwich Village, he dictated facts and figures to Ethel. And from memory he drew the plans for the top-secret lens that had been designed to detonate the A-bomb.
 Now Julius had a new plan. He cut a boxtop in half, giving one half to Greenglass. The matching half, he said, would identify the courier who would come to Los Alamos for information.
 In June of 1945, a stranger with half of a boxtop called on the Greenglasses in their Albuquerque apartment. He was, he said, "Dave from Pittsburgh"—the court he signed his name, "Harry Gold." Honorably Discharged

 In return for Greenglass' sketches and data, he turned over an unexpected gift of $500. Ruth Greenglass put that money in a bank—except for $27.50 with which she bought a U. S. War Bond.
 As soon as David Greenglass was honorably discharged from the Army, he lost his value as an informant. But by then the Rosenbergs were busy with other new sources. And the two couples confined their cooperation to a family machine shop that never made much money.
 The espionage business did not come between them until the FBI moved in on Klaus Fuchs. His conversation in London threw the Rosenbergs into desperation.

 The FBI Knocks
 Quickly, Julius made intricate plans to get the Greenglasses out of the country. He gave them $5,000 and planned their journey by the underground Red railroad to Mexico and Switzerland.
 In spite of Fuchs' confession and Harry Gold's arrest, the Greenglasses expected the scare to blow over. But neither Julius nor Ethel Rosenberg was surprised on July 17, 1950, when the FBI knocked on their door.
 The big surprise must have been in Judge Kaufman's death sentence—a sentence as historic as the espionage for which it was handed down by the court.

Finding Places To Park Keeps Cities Scratching Heads, Eying New Schemes

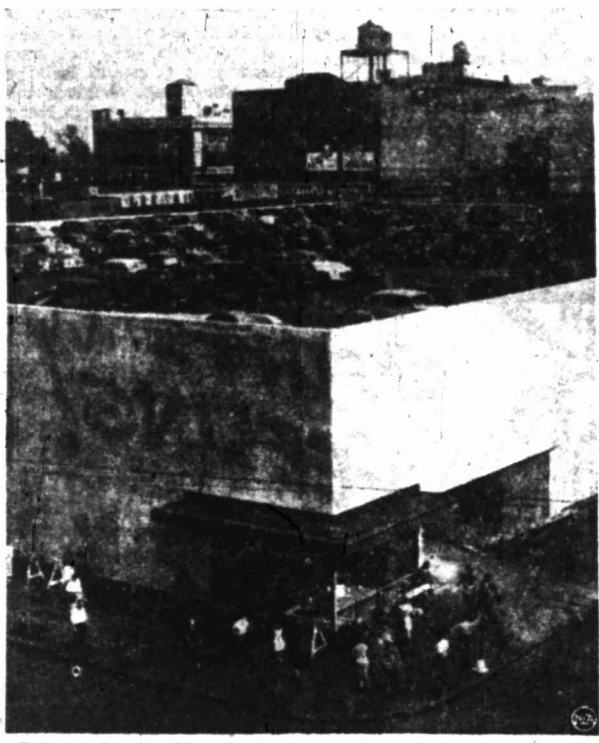

By BERT GOLDRATH
 NEA Staff Correspondent
 Not so much where to go, but where to stop when he gets there, is a problem increasingly plaguing the motorist. Let him take heart, though; something is being done about the tragic lack of parking facilities in many U. S. communities.

Just how the problem is being attacked is explained in a recently-published pamphlet, "Parking—How It Is Financed," prepared by the Automotive Safety Foundation for the National Retail Drygoods Association, presumably because the NRDA is interested in better parking for its member stores.
Study Area Needs
 Naturally, the first step to be undertaken is the determination of local needs. There the human element comes in. All-day parkers, who must get facilities at fairly low rates, must not encroach upon more expensive space needed for short-time parkers.

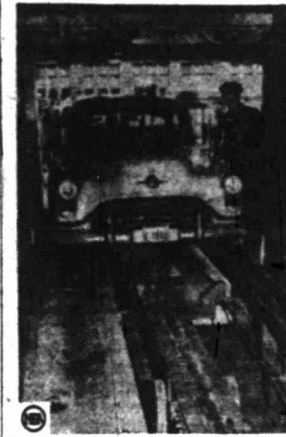

The short-timers, it has been found, are unwilling to walk more than two blocks from where their cars are parked to their destinations. All-day parkers don't mind walking considerably further. In some areas the two types of parking are segregated.
What It Costs
 Parking financing can generally be broken down into three main categories: municipal, private enterprise, or a combination of the two. Municipal parking is currently under heavy attack by the newly-formed National Parking Association, which raises the cry of "socialism" against municipal efforts to correct parking inadequacies.
 Meanwhile, men's ingenuity is being applied to the parking puzzle in a number of ways.
 Two leading department stores in Richmond, Va., have joined to operate an 838-car garage. "Desperate" parking conditions at the medical center in Beverly Hills, Calif., were alleviated by completion of a 400-car, demountable, prefabricated garage which can be dismantled and moved to another site in three weeks.

Drive To Apartments
 The 10-story Cartritz office building in Washington has interior parking for 475 cars so that tenants may park on their own floors. In Spokane, "Pigeon Hole" parking permits storage of automobiles on a narrow 35-foot lot by means of a hydraulic elevator which travels the length of the demountable parking structure and can stack cars eight high.
 Following the lead of San Francisco's underground park under Union Plaza, several cities are building or have built centrally-located sub-surface garages under parks.

Ancient Sea Wall Found In Adriatic
 RAVENNA, ITALY —(AP)— Fishermen dragging nets along the Adriatic coast north of here found what is believed to be the now-submerged sea wall which sheltered ancient Rome's Adriatic fleet.
 The fishermen said they could see almost 100 feet of the huge stone wall jutting up through the sandy bottom a mile and a half offshore in 25 feet of water.
 The location is just south of the shifting mouths of the Po River, where imperial Rome's fleet guarding the upper Adriatic is believed to have been based in the time of Caesar Augustus.
 Wild potatoes have been found in Chile and Peru, but they were cultivated by the Indians before the arrival of the Spaniards.

Self-contained parking for shoppers is being built into many new shopping centers, like this one in suburban New York.

PUSH-BUTTON parking is achieved in this Washington garage, where one attendant puts cars in elevator stalls electrically.

Detroit is working on a unit which will hold 100 cars in a 10-story structure only 18 by 100 feet, and is operated entirely by push-buttons.
Fringe Parking Plan
 Cleveland and Chicago are among those cities which utilize "fringe" parking on the outskirts of the business district, with bus shuttle service. In Coral Gables, Fla., the city has leased land and installed meters.
 Cities need not work in a vacuum in solving the parking difficulties, the Automotive Safety Foundation points out. Help is available through state highway departments, with state and federal highway planning survey funds, under the terms of the Federal Highway Aid Act, available for city studies.

MORE FISHING BOATS

Ball Will Climax Ike's Inauguration

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Preliminary plans for a three-day round of festivities to surround the inauguration of Dwight D. Eisenhower as President were announced Saturday.

They will be climaxed by the traditional Inaugural Ball on the night of the inauguration, January 20. Also traditional is the Inaugural Parade, down Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol to the White House.

Eisenhower originally had expressed a desire that the ceremonies be kept as simple as possible, but it was disclosed a few days ago that he had yielded somewhat to his admirers' enthusiasm.
 The committee announced prices for some of the inauguration events.
 Bleachers with approximately 60,000 seats will be erected along the route to be followed by the Inaugural Parade. Seats will sell for $2.50 to $12.50 plus tax, depending upon the location.
By Subscription, Invitation
 The Inaugural Ball will be held in the Washington Armory. Admission will be "by subscription upon invitation"—meaning that those who can wangle a ticket may buy one for $10 plus tax.
 The inauguration proper will be held in the Capitol Plaza. The approximately 15,000 seats being erected are not for sale. They go to official visitors, press and radio, and to members of Congress and their friends.

 The inauguration will take place at 12 noon (EST) and the parade down Pennsylvania Avenue to the White House will follow, starting at 1:30 p.m.

LAW FROWNS ON HAREMS—

Bigamy In Israel Perplexes Founders Of New Republic

Eastern traditions clash with Western ideas as Jews from Oriental countries pour into Israel immigrant camps like this, bringing with them two wives or even a small harem.

By SIGMUND GOLDSTEIN
NEA Special Correspondent

TEL-AVIV, ISRAEL — The new nation of Israel, formed of people from many lands, has found an unwelcome custom smuggled in with some of its immigrants. That's the custom of bigamy and even polygamy.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Cromulsion relieves promptly because it goes into the bronchial system to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial membranes. Guaranteed to please you or money refunded. Cromulsion has stood the test of millions of users.

CROMULSION
relieves Coughs, Chest Colds, Acute Bronchitis

As waves of Jews from Yemen, Morocco, Libya and other Oriental countries poured into Israel, authorities noted more and more instances of men with two wives and sometimes junior-grade harems. In the lands of their origin, it was natural and right to have more than one wife.

Clash Of Ideas

But Israel is a country where Eastern traditions clash with Western ideas. The government is working to uphold the centuries-old custom which "the Bible does not prohibit," but the government does not want to countenance.

liament pushed through an amendment to the Criminal Code Ordinance, in 1951, proclaiming bigamy to be a criminal offense.

This was only partly successful. It gave the government a weapon, but it took more than just its passage to stop new harems from being formed. Orientals still were "purchasing" second and sometimes third wives whenever they could afford such luxuries.

'Operation Monogamy'

The government went into action with "flying squads," including experienced social workers, officials of the Justice, Religion and Interior Ministries, and translators. These groups toured immigrant camps, explaining to newcomers, in dozens of languages and dialects, the provisions of the new law and the penalties for breaking it.

There were many trials, and many convictions. Newspapers still report sporadic cases, but they are rapidly diminishing in number. The so-called "Operation Monogamy" has apparently all but stopped new bigamy.

Some Harems Dissolve

In some cases, old harems have been dissolved, usually with the active assistance of one of the wives. These women, brought here by ship or plane from places where the customs have not changed since Biblical times, have suddenly been thrust into a modern world.

The freedom they found around them awakened them from their habits of subservience to men. They began to complain to police — old women complained of "brutality," younger women told of being "compelled" to marry an old man, some wanted "to go to school."

Social workers, working with these women, managed to dissolve some of the marriages. "The trouble is," says one official, "that the bulk of bigamists and polygamists do not discriminate, but actually are loyal to all wives. In such cases, we simply can do nothing but wait until new ideas and new generations extinct the old custom."

It'll Take Time
The new law applies to all Israel citizens, including the Moslem community. Israel expects some day it will be the only monogamist country in the Middle East. But it will take time. There was even opposition to the law in Parliament, where a Yemenite MP undertook to defend the institution of bigamy.

"It is no shame to have two wives at home," he argued. "What we consider immoral is to have one wife at home and a second wife elsewhere."

EGGSTRA-SPECIAL FRIEND—Rambunctious elephants in airplanes can be troublesome, and the keeper of this infant pachyderm was taking no chances on a flight from Bangkok to New York. He brought along his pet's favorite pal, "Elephant Girl," to keep it quiet. The elephant was one of three aboard, destined for zoos in Seattle, Miami and Washington, D. C.

Sea-Going Teenagers Hold Lifeboat Races

NEW YORK (AP)—Students from the ship John W. Brown, believed to be the only floating maritime high school in the United States, held a lifeboat race in the East River recently with two nine-man crews of seniors.

The crews raced from 34th Street to 24th Street with a Coast Guard patrol boat keeping pace. The engineers defeated the deck force for the first time in the five years the has been held.

Since 1937 the schoolship, an annex of the Board of Education's Metropolitan Vocational High School, has graduated about 800 seamen. The average age of students is from 17 to 18.

1953 Autos Show Lower Price Tags

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The direction of new car prices during the year ahead currently is arousing considerable discussion in automotive circles.

Six months ago it appeared certain 1953 model cars would have higher price tags. Now, if the prices announced for the first new models shown is any indication, the auto makers are determined at least to hold the price line.

Thus far Kaiser, Chrysler, Dodge, DeSoto, Plymouth and Packard have introduced 1953 models, some with price reductions and some with increases. The reductions haven't been of major proportions, but they have been made on models that have the larger competitive market.

Tough Competition

Obviously these car makers do not represent all industry thinking and planning, but they do represent a sizable part of the industry's overall competitive activities.

And the industry is girding itself for the toughest competitive period it has experienced since World War II.

General Motors and Ford have yet to introduce their new models and disclose their pricing plans. There has been considerable speculation about styling and mechanical changes in these new models. However, it is certain their price tags will attract as much initial interest as will the design changes. High Volume Output
Some new Ford and General

Motors models will appear in December. Others will not reach dealer showrooms until January.

Industry heads have emphasized that lower car prices are tied to high volume output—and high volume sales. They imply the removal of governmental controls on materials use could bring some substantial price cuts.

These executives do not expect production and price controls to be renewed when the present law runs out next Spring. They intimate some of the price reductions already announced are premised on that assumption.

RHEUMATISM
ARTHRITIS
Neuritis, Lumbago and Sore, Lame Muscles

Enjoy blessed relief from swollen, aching joints, arthritis, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago or neuralgia—or no cost to you for trying this prescription formula called Muscle-Rub. Widely used by institutions, massage parlors and gymnasia; recommended by coaches and trainers for soreness, strained ligaments, painful sprains and bruises.

To get safe, quick relief, simply apply this pleasantly scented liquid EXTERNALLY whenever you feel pain—limbs, joints, shoulders, neck, back. Note how much more comfortable you feel all day, how many hours of restful sleep you get at night.

My patients and I are more than pleased. Warmth soothes aches and produces circulation to carry off toxins. Nothing compares to Muscle-Rub for relieving the suffering from arthritic and kindred pains. Write T. T. Connor, physiotherapist, Philadelphia.
