Anderson-Prichard Schedules Wildcat In Andrews Region

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-24-A Paiken is to be a 14,000-foot Ellenburger prospector in Southeast Andrews County.

It is to start operations with rotary tools immediately.

Location is 830 feet from north and 500 feet from east lines of section 24, block 42, T-1-N, G&MB&A S-1.

That makes it one-half of a mile northwest of the same concern's No. 1-24 Paiken, flowing Ellenburger discovery completed several months ago to open the Midland Farms (Ellenburger) field.

The new project is adjacent to producers from the Grayburg line in the shallow Midland Farms field.

Gulf Sets Deep Wildcat Try In NE Crane Area

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-EH Oil Corporation-Stanolind & Gas Company-State of Texas is to be a 12,500-foot wildcat try for production in the Ellenburger in Northeast Crane County.

It is nine and one-half miles north of the town of Crane and 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 9, block 30, University lands.

Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

Lawson Will Drill 5,500-Foot Test In Howard Sector

Edward C. Lawson of Tulsa is to start operations by December 1 at his No. 1 Tant Lindsey, which is to be a 5,500-foot wildcat in North Howard County.

Location is 660 feet from north and 667 feet from east lines of section 30, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey. It is three miles east of Knott.

The projected destination of 5,500 feet is calculated to take the prospector into the Clear Fork-Permian. Rotary tools will be used to do the digging.

Ellenburger Wildcat To Start At Once In Fisher Sector

Roark & Hooker, V. C. Perini, Jr., Noranda Oil Corporation and Peeler Brothers No. 1 Mrs. F. L. Jameson is to be a 6,000-foot wildcat in Central-North Fisher County to drill into the Ellenburger.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 111, block 1, H&T&C survey. It is eight miles northeast of Rotan and three-quarters of a mile north of a 6,195-foot Ellenburger failure.

Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

Correct Potential On Howard Discovery In Reef Zone Is Given

Corrected and official potential test gauge for the recently completed Pennsylvania reef lime discovery in Northwest Howard County, Pan American Production Company and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Pauline Hamlin is slightly different from the gauge previously reported on unofficial sources.

The official report shows that the amount flowed a total of 312 barrels of gravity oil in 24 hours through a 20/64-inch tubing choke, instead of flowing 373 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a 24/64-inch tubing.

Americans Pause To Give Thanks

Thanksgiving Day

You have much to be thankful for today. Be grateful for your many material blessings, but don't overlook the property of giving thanks for an intangible—courage. What we individuals have and enjoy today is due to courage. The courage of the brave band of Pilgrims, who, in defense of a principle that is now one of our "inalienable rights" left their warm homes and comfortable living to brave the ocean's unknown perils. They gave us our first Thanksgiving, celebrated after their courage and faith in God had carried them through the killing New England winter of their arrival. Their descendants showed courage in facing the many fearsome problems of our nation's early years. Their courage inspired many others, from many countries of the Old World, to immigrate to America and help build it into the most advanced nation in the world. And, in giving thanks for the courage of America's builders, pray, now, that Americans will maintain that tradition of courage through today's troublous times that truly "try men's souls."

Winter Tosses New Punches At Country; 16 Known Dead

The nation's Midlands, hampered by a destructive snow and wind washing, got belted with a second wintry punch of icy blasts Thursday.

Temperatures plummeted during the night as skies cleared over much of the snow-covered mid-continent, which counted 16 deaths in the late November storm. Hundreds of others were injured and property damage was extensive.

The snow and cold prompted thousands to put planned Thanksgiving Day travel plans into the deep freeze, along with the cold turkey. It was a chilly holiday for the eastern two-thirds of the nation, with the most severe cold in the Plains and Rocky Mountain region.

Winds diminished from the near gale-like force which swept the region Tuesday and Wednesday. The wind-swept snow dealt a knockout blow to traffic from Colorado eastward to Minnesota.

Hundreds of travelers were marooned and power and communication lines were ripped down in many parts of the storm belt. Hardest hit areas were from the mountain regions of Wyoming and Colorado through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota.

But strong winds whipped across other parts of the mid-continent—

Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and the Dakotas.

The cold air from the Rocky Mountains spread eastward across the prairie lands and dipped into the South. It was milder early Thursday in sections of five states—Wyoming, Colorado, Montana, Kansas and Nebraska.

Temperatures were subfreezing in other mid-continent areas. The cold blasts hit Northern Texas. A low of 13 was reported early Thursday in Dalhart, the same reading as in Rapid City, S. D. The chilly air touched into the Southland as far as Northern Florida.

U. S. Weather Bureau forecasters said temperatures would drop gradually during the day and Thursday night over most of the Eastern states. Subfreezing readings were in prospect for most of the mid-continent.

More Snow Starts Falling In Frigid Texas Panhandle

Snow fell again Thursday in the Texas Panhandle as most of Texas had a cold, dry Thanksgiving.

At the same time snow fell at Dalhart, gathering clouds in South Central Texas presaged more rain in that area of the drought-paroled state which received its first real relief less than a week ago.

Showers in the southeastern and south central portions of the state Thursday, the Weather Bureau said, probably would turn into state-wide general rains by Friday.

Motorists found rough going early Thursday in the snow-covered Panhandle and temperatures again were low. Dalhart had 13 degrees at 5:30 a.m. and Amarillo reported a cold 17, but a general warm-up—cause of the rains—was due Thursday night and Friday.

Hundreds of Texas school children had a lengthened Thanksgiving holiday because of high snow-drifts and ice-over roads, but at Amarillo and Borger the pupils were called back to school Wednesday. Most of them made it.

No rain was reported in Texas Wednesday.

MERCURY DIPS TO 19 DEGREES

Midlanders warmed this Thanksgiving Day under clear skies after the mercury skidded to a seasonal low of 19 degrees early Thursday.

Forecasters promised ideal weather throughout the holiday. But it might be different Friday. Rain was forecast with the warming up. Below-freezing temperatures are due Friday morning.

Thursday's 19-degree low was nine degrees under the minimum of 28 Wednesday, which established the seasonal minimum up to that time.

Recent Rain Tops Texas' Thanks List

The annual Southwest Conference football grudge battle between Texas and Texas A&M, numerous church services around the state, and turkey and all the trimmings meant Thanksgiving Day to Texas' millions Thursday.

But hardly a Texas that sat down to eat forgot to be thankful for last weekend's beneficial rains, the finest for crops and grass in 20 months of damaging drought.

It was a holiday for almost everybody—except doctors, policemen, firemen, and, yep, newspapermen.

Little hinged on the "big game" at Austin, where the Longhorns and Texas Aggies met. But to the sell-out crowd of partisan fans it still was one of the high points of the year.

The weather was brisk and cloudy to cloudy over most of the state. Some very low temperatures were recorded high in the Panhandle. But shirt sleeves were no novelty in cities like palm-fringed Galveston and Brownsville.

City dwellers, thousands of them, were on the roads early going "back home" to the smaller towns and rural regions for a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving.

Another thousands stayed home—and gave thanks for their blessings, large and small.

Ice-Covered Roads Intensify Hazards Of Holiday Traffic

Thousands upon thousands of motorists were on the roads and highways of Texas Thursday, the vanguard of millions that will take to the open spaces during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Police and safety officials—with past holiday weekends ever fresh in their minds—feared the worst.

Icey roads in the Panhandle and icy bridges in other parts of the state contributed to the hazardous holiday driving conditions and expected rain in South Central Texas added its bit of danger.

At an early hour Thursday no deaths of a violent nature had been reported.

But veteran police and newsmen knew it wouldn't last. Holidays almost always bring an upsurge in deaths by traffic, shootings, fires and drownings.

American Turkey Tradition Produces Crisis In France

PARIS—(AP)—The chef of the fancy, expensive Tour d'Argent Silver Tower Restaurant threatened to quit Thursday in a disagreement over American Thanksgiving Day turkey.

The specialty of the house is pressed duck. The restaurant has been serving this dish since 1882 in a sauce made of the duck's own blood and bones.

Manager Claude Terrail put turkey on the menu for Thursday. The outraged chef said what was good in 1882 was good today—American holiday or no. He said he would quit.

After much voluble discussion a compromise was reached. Turkey remained on the menu and the chef stayed home for the day while the second chef cooked the traditional bird for the American trade—at about $10 a plate.

City's Worshippers Attend Union Rites

The best time for Thanksgiving is in time of difficulty, temptation and heartache, the Rev. J. B. Sharp, pastor of the St. Mark's Methodist Church, told a large crowd of worshippers attending the annual Union Thanksgiving Day worship service Thursday morning in the Trinity Episcopal Church.

"Our forefathers, on the first Thanksgiving, faced a hard cruel winter in a strange land," he said. "They knew they would have to fight for their very lives. And they thought it was a good time for Thanksgiving."

"Thanksgiving for Tough Times" was Mr. Sharp's sermon topic.

Midlanders Observe Traditional Holiday

Most Midlanders were observing Thanksgiving Day in the traditional way Thursday. Worship, family gatherings and turkey dinners highlighted the program.

A majority of business firms, banks and offices closed for the festive occasion. The Reporter-Telegram published earlier than usual.

A long holiday weekend shaped up for students and teachers of Midland Schools as classes dismissed Wednesday afternoon and will not convene again until Monday.

Hundreds of Midlanders invaded Odessa for the 2 p.m. clash Thursday between the Midland Bulldogs and the Odessa Bronchos. Others attended state college games, or sat at home by the fire, rested and listened to their favorite programs on the radio, or attended the movies.

Beer Theft Reported From Midland Tavern

Theft of 65 cases of beer from the Dog House at 307 North Minola Street was reported Thursday to police.

Sgt. Dewey Hockett, police identification officer, said entrance to the beer tavern was gained by forcing open a rear door.

C. J. Tyner, operator of the place, said the beer was taken between midnight and 2 a.m. Thursday.

Pharr Woman Hurt In Auto Accident

Mrs. Walter Sorenson, 23, of Pharr suffered a leg injury Wednesday night when the automobile in which she was riding was involved in a collision at Big Spring and Illinois Streets.

Mrs. Sorenson was in an automobile driven by Harrison Winkler Bullock, 31, of Fort Stockton, according to police.

The other vehicle was driven by William Douglas Fowler, 17, 2807 Roosevelt Street.

Mrs. Sorenson was taken to Midland Memorial Hospital, where her condition is not believed critical.

Day Marked By Feasting And Prayer

Americans from Plymouth Rock to Korean foxholes paused this Thanksgiving Day to celebrate their nation's heritage with feasting and prayer—and hope for more joyous holidays to follow.

At Plymouth, Mass., where the Pilgrims landed 332 years ago, the community mirrored the nationwide reunions, turkey dinners with all the fixings, traditional football rivalries and special church services.

But only at historic Plymouth is witnessed the annual trek of Pilgrim descendants up Leyden Street for a memorial service in the old burial ground.

Shrimp Cocktail To Nuts

In the bleak Korean hills, with the battle lines comparatively quiet, troops relished their turkey dinners complete from shrimp cocktail to nuts.

The Americans shared their holiday fare with United Nations comrades and Korean war orphans. Army chaplains of all faiths conducted services for soldiers behind the lines.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told the troops: "Last year at this time we thought that peace would be here before Thanksgiving came around again. Let us thank God that we have Allies to fight with us and that we have a united team in Korea."

Gen. Mark Clark, UN commander, messaged from Tokyo: "Despite the pain and tragedy inflicted upon so many of us in this battle for humanity, we have much for which to be thankful."

In Washington, President Truman, like millions of his fellow citizens, attended Thanksgiving church services, then sat down to his turkey dinner.

In New York, President-elect Eisenhower carved the holiday bird at his Columbia University home. Missing from that family scene was a son, Major John Eisenhower, stationed in Korea.

From Western Germany and other European outposts, American soldiers ate hearty holiday dinners. And with their Thanksgiving services the troops on that side of the world offered special prayers for their buddies in Korea.

At Heidelberg, Germany, U. S. Army authorities recalled many units in the field for a holiday meal in base barracks.

Allies Slam Back Three Chinese Red Turkey Day Attacks

SEOUL—(AP)—Allied troops slammed back three Chinese assaults in the murky, pre-dawn cold of this Thanksgiving Day on Sniper Ridge on the Korean central front.

On the western front, Allied raiding parties shot up two Communist positions near Panmunjom—site of the suspended truce talks—and Yonchon, some 20 miles to the northeast. The raiders returned to their lines after sharp skirmishes.

The Chinese jabs on the central front were preceded by a heavy artillery and mortar barrage. Then a company of Reds—more than 150 men—hit the northern slopes of Sniper Ridge.

Allied infantrymen smashed the attack with grenades and rifle fire.

Two smaller attacks were broken before daylight, with Allied artillery aiding the South Korean defenders.

Warplanes ranged deep into North Korean territory, blasting Communist troop concentrations and supply facilities.

14 Women, Children Die In Mental Hospital Blaze

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.—(AP)—Roaring flames and syrup-thick smoke killed 14 women and children Wednesday night in an old three-story building at the Huntington State Hospital, a mental institution.

Ten others—seven patients and three firemen—were hospitalized.

Flames sprang from the basement of the 56-year-old building shortly after 7 p.m. and spread rapidly through the first and second floors. Firemen had to burn through thick wire mesh over the windows with acetylene torches to fight the blaze and rescue the almost helpless victims.

The dead ranged from 88-year-old Ada Carger of Huntington, who was burned to death, to little Lena Wentz, 11, of Cabell County, one of the five girls under 16 years of age who smothered on the third floor. All those who died were from West Virginia.

The only hint to a cause for the blaze came from a staff doctor who refused to be identified. He said some patients, against strict orders, sometimes slipped down to the basement and smoked.

State officials indicated they blamed the state itself for the conditions that prevailed at the obviously antiquated structure—and the 13 others that nestle around it on the 35-acre tract atop a hill overlooking Huntington from the southeast.

President Joe E. Burdett of the State Board of Control, which supervises the state's institutions, was brutally frank.

"I can't say I was surprised," he said. "If something isn't done it won't be the last."

Associated Press reporters on the scene said the almost 300 patients in the three-story building didn't seem to know what was happening. Elderly women were on the ground floor, many unable to get around.

Psychotic women were on the second floor. The young ones were on the top floor.

There were three exits. But the regular front entrance became a raging inferno that defied approach. A back exit was a wrought iron circular stairway that was so tight stretchers couldn't be used.

The third was the fire escape—a sliding pole similar to those in fire stations. But apparently few of the inmates knew how to use it.

After firemen managed to get to the third floor, where the children were trapped, they wrapped them in blankets and packed them down the circular stairway on their backs.

All the patients were taken to a hastily devised receiving station in the kitchen, located in a separate building nearby.

Some were weeping and wailing. Others were sick from the thick smoke that choked throats everywhere. The rest just sat, staring

The star attraction which will bring thousands of residents of the Permian Basin Empire to its capital city of Midland, will be Santa Claus and genuine live reindeer to head the parade.

Absentee Ballots Boost GOP Margin

WASHINGTON —P— Republicans could chalk up another election victory Thursday—more than three weeks after the voters went to the polls.
A final official count in California's 13th District, long in doubt, Wednesday put incumbent Republican Ernest K. Bramblett ahead by 2,990 votes in his bid for another term in the House.
The GOP now has 221 members in the House, the Democrats 213 and one independent, and one seat is vacant due to the death of Rep. Adolph Sabath (D-Ill.).

Presbyterians Hold Study Meet

The First Presbyterian Women of the Church met Tuesday morning in the Church to continue their study on "Great Protestant Leaders."

The life of John R. Mott and his special interest—student work—were discussed by a guest speaker, the Rev. Lewis Waterstreet, pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Sol Bunnell, president, announced that the group's December meeting will be held on the third Tuesday instead of the fourth Tuesday, to avoid conflict with the Christmas holidays.

Devotional for the day was given by Mrs. C. E. Inman.

They are Mrs. E. W. Knabe, president; Mrs. H. V. Schulz, vice president; Mrs. V. A. Reinholz, secretary, and Mrs. Karl Braddick, treasurer.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. G. C. Becker and Mrs. Knabe.

Mrs. C. F. Proehl was introduced as a new member and guests were Leona Meissner and Mrs. John Greany.

Members present were Mrs. W. A. Baumann, Mrs. E. W. Bodenman, Mrs. Norman Kokek, Mrs. A. C. Teinert, Mrs. Gus Teinert, Mrs. Joe Lowman, Mrs. Ed Fischer, Mrs. C. B. Green, Mrs. Ray Bryn, Mrs. Becker, Mrs. Knabe, Mrs. Schulz and Mrs. Reinholz.

Wingo Ordination Services Planned By First Baptists

An ordination service for the Rev. Lewis Wingo, recently called as pastor of the Osceola Baptist Church near Hillsboro, will be held Sunday evening at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Wingo, longtime member of the Midland church, is presently enrolled in Southwestern Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth. He was graduated from Midland High School and Hardin-Simmons University.

The Rev. Vernon Yearbo, First Baptist Church pastor, said that an examination of the candidate will be held in the afternoon with the ordination service Sunday evening in the church recreation room.

A unique feature of the service will be the presentation of a Bible from the church to the candidate by Deacon Tom Wingo, father of the ministerial candidate.

Baptist Church Has Breakfast

The First Baptist Church held its sixteenth annual Thanksgiving breakfast Thursday in the church's recreation hall.

Copper Daughtery served as toastmaster. The program included a talk by W. C. Ribble; a solo, "Thanks Be to God," sung by Kenneth Wright; a piano solo by Billy John Whitehead, and "The Church in the Wildwood" sung by Roy Fields, James Kerr, Ralph Mills and Morris Hill.

The Rev. J. Q. Woodard led the group singing and the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor, gave the invocation.

Bride Is Feted At Tea

Mrs. George R. Hoy, a recent bride, was feted Tuesday at a tea in the home of Mrs. Marion V. Hays.

Mrs. H. E. Woolcock and Mrs. A. R. Aytes were co-hostesses.

The table was covered with crocheted lace over mauve satin and featured a dried arrangement of the centerpiece. Silver appointments and leafprinted napkins continued the Autumn theme. Eleanor Simpson and Betty Simpson presided alternately at the tea table.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with seasonal flowers and berries. The guest table held an arrangement of bronze leaves on silver green. Mrs. Hoy wore a dress of champagne tissue brocade with a bateau neckline and a corsage of brown velvet leaves and golden sea-opts.

Members of the houseparty wore classic arrangements of silver-green and bronze leaves.

Mrs. Hoy is the former Nell Frances Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Simpson of Lamesa.

Glenda Hambleton

Couple Slates February Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Clyde Hambleton, 410 North Main Street, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Glenda Wanelle, to George Henry Kuhn, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Kuhn, Sr., also of Pittsburgh.

Vows will be read in a morning ceremony February 14 in the St. Ann's Catholic Church. The Rev. T. J. Kennedy, O.M.I., will officiate at the double ring ceremony.

The bride-elect was graduated from Midland High School and later attended Gulf Park College for Women in Gulfport, Miss., and Texas Technological College in Lubbock. At Gulf Park she was a member of Delta Alpha Sigma Sorority.

Kuhn, a field representative for Bethlehem Supply Company, attended the University of Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh, Pa.

After March 1, the couple will be at home in Hobbs, N.M.

Mu Psi Plans Yule Events

The Mu Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. A. V. Reid to make plans for Christmas activities.

The members discussed their holiday projects for Girlstown and also planned a Christmas dinner and dance for the chapter members. Mrs. Randy Rubin, project chairman, reported on the success of the recent children's style show.

Following the business session Mrs. Beala of the House of Carpets talked to the group on modern decoration. She pointed out that modern decoration is more practical and livable than the more formal period styles. "It compliments our way of life," she said.

Colors which she named as particularly applicable to modern furnishings were the earthy tones of brown and green and the nature colors such as avocado and persimmon.

Those attending were Verda Bartlett, Betty Jo Greene, Louise Gorman, Fern Kelly, Barbara Roberts, Ruth Eckert, Elsie Ramsdell, Blanch Grand, Mrs. William Berry, Mrs. J. G. Byr, Mrs. J. B. Cox, Mrs. J. L. Furman, Mrs. J. D. Horton, Mrs. Rudy Rubin, Mrs. Paul Wecker, Mrs. R. K. Bradley, Mrs. Eugene Holmes, Mrs. Edwin Luper, Mrs. Joe Wilson and Mrs. James True.

Unusual Woodwork Used In Scharbauer Ballroom Paneling

The new ballroom at the Scharbauer Hotel will have a unique feature to catch the eye. The wall paneling, extending more than 3,000 feet has been constructed of two giant oak trees, milled in a complex fashion that preserves the symmetrical grain of the wood with scarcely a break.

A peeling operation, similar to paring an apple, was used to remove the 12-foot lengths from the raw trees. When they are fitted together in the wall, an impression is given of one continuous stretch of identical lumber. The only "break" occurs where one tree is used up, and the wall continues with the second tree.

The expensive oak lumber used is 1.32 of an inch thick, and approximately three and one-half feet high. The types of trees of which the wall is constructed come from Kentucky or North Carolina.

Advance Ticket Sales Readied For Concert

Advance ticket sales indicate a good attendance and large amount of interest in the first concert of the newly-organized Midland Orchestra and Chorus Association.

The concert, which will be a program of chamber music, is scheduled at 8 p.m. Saturday in the City-County Auditorium.

Musicians participating will be Mathys Abas, conductor for the Association, violinist, and Charlotte Barrier, pianist, who is teaching Lubbock.

Tickets for the concert are available at Wemple's and at Shaddix and Rodgers.

APPEARS ON TV PROGRAM

Dee Pig, senior student at Abilene Christian College, appeared with the ACC Orchestra Monday on a television program over WBAP-TV. Miss Pig studied violin in Midland under Ned Watson of the Watson School of Music. She is a graduate of Midland High School.

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The movie's Elizabeth Taylor has just got around to picking up a mere $47,100 about which she was too busy to think in the last two years.

The $47,100 was in government bonds bought with earnings during her film career for 10 years. She invested in the bonds by court order while she was a juvenile. She legally was entitled to take control of them when she was married first to Conrad Nicky Hill, Jr., in 1950.

At 27 and the wife of English actor Michael Wilding, she went with him Wednesday to the county clerk's office and signed the necessary papers.

Grand Jury Slated To Review Charges On Hereford Banker

DALLAS—(P)—Charges against Travis W. Bain, former Hereford State Bank official, of making false statements will be brought before a federal grand jury here, a federal attorney said Wednesday.

U. S. Attorney William Cantrell said Bain was arraigned in Amarillo Wednesday and placed under $5000 bond on the charges.

Cantrell said the charges grew out of the cashing of two large denomination war savings bonds, totaling $1,500.

Cantrell said that the charges against Bain allege the bonds were stamped illegally at the Hereford bank and then forwarded to the Federal Reserve Bank in Dallas. Cantrell said such bonds should be cashed only in the presence of the persons to whom they were issued.

Bain denied the charges.

Ike Takes Day Off, Names Two More Top-Level Aides

NEW YORK—(P)—President-elect Dwight Eisenhower put aside the problems of state for Thursday and, like any other American, sat down to a Thanksgiving turkey with his family.

He had no appointments and did not plan to visit his offices in downtown New York.

The general could look back on a week of heavy labor.

He now has named all but two of the nine members of his Cabinet. The secretaries of Labor and Commerce are not designated yet. Along with that, he announced his choice for a number of other top-level offices in the Administration he is forming.

Last Minute Work
At the same time, he has been getting up-to-the-minute reports on Korea, discussing future legislation, financial problems relating to taxation and the budget, talking politics, and conferring with officials of the United Nations.

He apparently intends to make up for time lost in the holiday Thursday by working overtime this weekend.

His press secretary, James C. Haigler, said visitor lists have been made up for both Saturday and Sunday, and that more announcements of designations for office will be made then.

Two Key Appointments
Before he left his offices Wednesday for the holiday, Eisenhower announced designations of two more men for key posts.

They were William P. Rogers of Bethesda, Md., for the office of deputy attorney general, and Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., as White House secretary.

Rogers, 39, made a reputation as special counsel for Senate committees that investigated cases involving corruption in government and disloyalty. Before that, he was a member of Thomas E. Dewey's staff when Dewey was at the peak of his crimebusting career as district attorney of New York.

Vandenberg, 45, was an assistant to his father, the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan. He served two years with the International Basic Economic Corporation, a commercial development enterprise, 18 months of it in Brazil.

One of the most important sessions of Eisenhower's day was a conference with tiny, dynamic Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of Defense in charge of manpower. Mrs. Rosenberg returned from Korea last weekend.

She said she came to New York to report to the President-elect on her findings in the war zone. She disclosed few details in talking with reporters later.

She indicated she is not available for a post in Eisenhower's Administration.

Visit By McKeldin
Eisenhower's last visitor of the day was Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, of Maryland.

A few hours before he came to the general's headquarters, McKeldin made a speech in which he predicted Eisenhower's government will go for the roots in seeking out corruption and influence peddling in Washington.

"Many who think they have fired things with the attorney general and escaped their just penalties may find their cases reopened," McKeldin told an audience in New York's Town Hall Forum.

When he reached Eisenhower's offices, McKeldin said he is neither available for a government post nor interested in one.

Myrick, Morris Make Top Grades In Police Course

The bright young men of the Midland Police Department Thursday were Officers J. C. Myrick and Jim Morris.

The two rated a near-perfect 98 on their final examinations taken last week at the conclusion of a 32-hour police course sponsored by the Texas A&M Extension Service.

The class was taught here over a four-week period by Wallace Beasley, instructor for the extension service.

In announcing the grades Thursday, Police Chief Harold Wallace said not a single officer failed to pass the course.

The three uniformed lieutenants, Roy Merket, Clarence Hollis and Odum Casselberry, all finished in the 90's.

Myrick is assistant identification officer while Morris is attached to the traffic division as an accident investigator.

100 Texans Work In Historic Shadow Of Marie Antoinette's Fontainebleau

By GRACE HALSELL
Special Reporter—
News Correspondent

FONTAINEBLEAU, FRANCE—More than one hundred Texas boys are stationed in the shadow of the famed Palace of Fontainebleau, once the residence for such notables as Marie Antoinette, but generally the Texas boys couldn't be less impressed.

The old stomping grounds of French royalty "can't compare with home" as far as the Texans are concerned.

There are three sets of servicemen here. They are: those assigned to Allied Air Forces Central Europe, commanded by General Lauris Norstad, those assigned to Allied Land Forces Central Europe, commanded by Field Marshal Alphonse Juin, and U. S. Army personnel concerned with pumping supplies across France to Army stations in Western Germany.

As at all service centers I have visited, the Americans make a "tight little island" in the community. The French go on living as they have in the past, and the Americans attempt to maintain a semblance of the standard of living they would have at home.

Activities here center on the Army caserms where the Americans have their usual overseas facilities—commissary, post exchange (PX), hospital, finance office.

Old Vs. New

Part of the Allied Land Forces actually are working in a section of the historical Palace of Fontainebleau, and attraction for thousands of tourists annually. Unmarried enlisted men in the Allied Air Forces live in the starkly new and modern $10,000,000 headquarters—a marked contrast to the 16th Century chateau in this same region.

A Texas A&M graduate, Lt. Col. Horace S. McIlroy of Tolar, has been at Fontainebleau only two weeks—not long enough to decide how he likes it. Now stationed with Allied Land Forces, Colonel McIlroy was with the First Armored Division at Fort Hood.

"I thought I was going to Turkey, and ended up in France," he commented. His wife and 10-year-old daughter, Suzanne, are in Macogoches.

"I'm hoping they will be here by Christmas," the Colonel said. He has three sisters in Texas: Mrs. O. C. Curl of Fort Worth, Mrs. Edith Harris of Longview and Mrs. Bernice Lackey of Victoria. A brother, W. J., is in Tolar and another, W. W. McIlroy, is in India.

Sic Jasper Dossett, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Dossett of Dallas, finds that the climate here can be "cold and penetrating." When it rains, "Paris turn all gray."

A chief clerk in the finance section, Sergeant Dossett lives in barracks once occupied by the French army. He has been here since August, 1951.

Another Texan, Cpl. James R. Jamison of Dayton, sits next to Dossett, and the two boys who met in Fontainebleau "share" a Texas flag between them.

"The Eyes Of Texas"
Jamison says his mother, Mrs. W. T. Jamison of Dayton, sent him the flag. When he opened up his package from home, "All the boys in the barracks stood up and sang 'The Eyes of Texas.'"

The former Sam Houston State College student admits he gets "kidded quite a bit" from the boys about his Texas loyalty, but generally holds his grounds. He has a brother, Bill, in Dayton and three sisters, Mrs. Louise Clark of Dayton, Mrs. Allene Hodges of Edna and Mrs. Dorothy Tate of Houston.

A native of Spur, Airman Alva Moore finds "Paris rather expensive, but no more so than New York." He is the son of Mrs. Eunice H. Moore of Corpus Christi. "If anything," the Texan added, "I believe my money goes a little further over here. However, I never know. I haven't figured out this money yet."

The legal rate of exchange now in France is about 800 francs to $1. "I'll have a fistful of 100 francs and think I'm rich, and then I discover it's about $2 in American money," Moore said.

"France is all right," commented Sgt. Virgil Woods of Fort Worth, "but I'd rather be at home." He formerly worked for the Auction Sale Cattle Company. For four years, he was stationed at Carwell Air Field in Fort Worth, drove a staff car for Gen. Roger Ramey's office.

Knows West Texas

A native of Lawn, Texas, Airman Bruce Stewart has been in Fontainebleau one month, but hasn't gotten in to see Paris. The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart of May, the airman has worked in Sweetwater, Colorado City, Big Spring, San Angelo, Lubbock, Waco and Amarillo. He was employed by W. W. Hill, a rancher, of Hereford.

Airman 1 c John O. Hunter Jr., of Mabank, who works with the communications motor pool, remarked that he has seen "some wonderful country" on trips into Germany and around France. For that reason he is enjoying his tour of duty here.

"I'm going to enroll in a French class right away," Airman 2 c Loyce D. Clower, communications construction specialist who is the son of Mrs. Mae Clower of Van told me. The 20-year-old airman had his basic training at Lackland and technical at West Texas State College in Canyon. A brother, Elvis, lives in Arlington, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Calhoun Jr., Mrs. Joleta Pinkerton and Mrs. Doris Adams, live in Grand Saline.

"Paris?"—said Airman 3 c Eddie L. McIlroy when asked what he thought of the city now designated as the world capital—"I don't think so much of Paris. I guess it's pretty nice," he conceded, "but I just never was used to such things."

The Timpson native added that "Paris is not near as modern as I always thought it would be."

Airman Likes Paris

"I wasn't disappointed in Paris!" Airman 1 c Gerald Amonette of Hubbard emphasized. "I don't see how anyone could be. Everything I heard about Paris all my life is true—all the wonderful things."

Amonette formerly worked for a cotton compress in Hubbard. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Amonette of Hubbard. A sister, Jacquelyn, lives in Fort Worth; another sister, Mrs. Emil Savage, lives in Hubbard, and a brother, W. L., in Houston.

"I like France, and in three years I think I can see a lot of it." Sgt. Juan Garcia, Victoria native and son of Mr. and Mrs. Refugio Garcia of Temple said, "I'm going to be doing a lot of world traveling," he said. "First, I intend to go to Spain."

Any message for the people back in Texas, I asked the sergeant. "Just tell 'em I'm having a helluva good time over here myself!"

THANKS

More than 20 Centuries have come and gone . . . each with its dark moments and great prophets of doom . . . yet today the earth is turning as before, and man himself is constantly striding toward longer life, greater health, and better living . . . at home and with his neighbors. Let us all give thanks that our forefathers had faith in mankind and the indomitable will to make a better world. Let us pray today for the same strength and faith in ourselves and future generations.

For the convenience of those who are employed, we will remain open evenings by appointment.

In Thanksgiving

Lord God, we give Thee thanks this day,
Humbly, in our faltering way—

Not with the graceful wordy arts,
But simply, deeply, with our hearts—

As little children mindful of
A Father's broad and boundless love.

We thank Thee, Lord, for everything—
The shining miracle of Spring,

Green grass, and cool and kindly rains,
Stars, and soft clouds in silken skeins,
For tall trees, patient and precise,
That point the way to Paradise.

We give Thee thanks for life's rich years,
For courage, and for cleansing tears,

For faith that builds us tall and strong,
For laughter, and the gift of song—
And most of all—that we are free
To bring our grateful hearts to Thee.

Dear Lord, we give Thee thanks for youth,
For trust and tenderness and truth,

For brotherhood—that we may tread
A peaceful earth, and break the bread
Of friendship with our fellow men;
We give Thee thanks for love.

AMEN.

WHERE NO MAN NEED GO HUNGRY—

Americans Have Most To Be Thankful For; Prayers Seek Peace Amid Plenty

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Today no man in a nation of 157 million people need go hungry. Somewhere there is a table at which he is welcome.

That may not be the most significant fact about this Thanksgiving day. But it is doubtful if in the history of the world a country so vast could name one single day during which its entire population could be certain of escape from mankind's oldest foe—hunger.

Thanksgiving is the 24-hour period in the year when all Americans try to harvest man's greatest idea—peace amid plenty. No American soldier in lands beyond the sea hates to fight on it.

Pravda Can't Claim It
The idea of Thanksgiving is no American invention and even Pravda hardly could claim the Russians found it first. It is as old as the Bible. The first thing Noah did after the flood abated was to give burnt offerings of clean beasts and clean fowl unto the Lord.

Practically every ancient people had similar sacrificial customs. The British, beginning with the sinking of the Spanish armada in 1588, have had special days of thanksgiving after weathering an Empire crisis or to celebrate such joyous events as the 60th year of Queen Victoria's reign in 1897.

But over a period of three centuries, the practice of an annual day of thanksgiving—formally heralded since Abraham Lincoln's proclamation of 1863—has become peculiarly an American institution. Now it is perhaps the most American of holidays because it wraps all the other holidays in one.

Even Athletes Grateful
On Thanksgiving Day the average man thinks of his heritage of freedom, just as he does on Independence Day. His mind turns to his loved ones who have passed on, as it does on Memorial Day. He ordinarily gets time off from his job, as he does on Labor Day. He has a feeling of spiritual gratitude, just as he does at Christmas, but it is a feeling limited to no one sect or religious creed.

On Thanksgiving Day, even an atheist can feel humbly grateful that whatever power that created him also has left him free to criticize the idea of there being any God at all.

Unlike Pagan Festivities
But ever since Governor Bradford proclaimed the first Pilgrim Thanksgiving in 1621, the day has had a peculiar quality of its own—a quiet joy in being able to celebrate and share the bounty of the good earth under the benison of a Supreme Being. It is unlike the pagan harvest festivities because it isn't a time of riotous revelry. It is simply a time for us all to quit complaining and be grateful for what we have.

Most of all it is a family holiday, the day when the clan gathers its members and lonesome friends together and all know a mutual gladness because they are together, there is plenty to eat on the table, and all the dark fears that separate us on other days are out of sight and out of mind.

Thanksgiving is the day of American plenty without greed or envy because there is enough for all. It is a kindling portent of that day, however distant, when all peoples will enjoy a universal Thanksgiving Day, gratefully sharing the endless riches of a global peace, when no man sits down to an empty table or hears the clamor of a growling gun.

And I think in many American households today some members will offer up, in silence or aloud, such a prayer as this:

"Dear Lord, we thank you for what you have bestowed upon us. Help us to find a way so that the entire human race may know such a day."

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Calm Explanation By Parents Prepares Child For Hospital

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service.

The first trip to the hospital for a young child is likely to cause a good deal of apprehension and nervousness.

Recently, a most interesting article appeared in one of our leading medical journals on the problem of emotional injury in the hospital treatment of children. The article contained a great many valuable suggestions for the physicians in charge, for the nurses, and for others who are directly associated with any treatment the child may have to receive.

However, it also brought up several important points which should be of value to parents in preparing a child for his or her first hospital experience.

It was pointed out, for example, that if the child has been loved wisely and given support and self-confidence, he also will face an impending hospital experience much better than if the parents are themselves suspicious or frightened.

The article also said that the child best able to meet the hospital situation is the one who is able to trust the physicians and nurses to treat him fairly. Most children are no ninnyes, and realize that painful procedures probably will take place, but that they are necessary and are not given in the way of punishment.

In order to reach this desirable attitude, however, a child must have a firm foundation of trust in his parents and must realize that they always are fair and that he has their constant love.

With this background, parents can and should explain honestly and simply to the child what is going to happen and why it is to be done. If the youngster shows any fear, the parents should not be surprised at this, but should accept it as quite normal, and certainly should not make fun of the child's fear.

Delaying Hospitalization
There are a few reasons, the report stated, which might lead to the postponement of hospitalization for an operation if the operation is not immediately necessary.

A recent death in the family, serious difficulties between the parents, the presence of a new baby in the family, a move to a new location, or some similarly disturbing events may increase the youngster's fear of a new hospital experience. It may be well (depending, of course, on all the circumstances) to postpone a not-immediately-necessary operation until the child gets used to the new circumstances and reaches a stage of more emotional stability.

TO CARLSBAD, N. M.
Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bailey, 1214 East Golf Course Road, are spending Thanksgiving in Carlsbad, N. M.

IT'S NOT SO "WURST"—In fact, it's a lot of fun. Rudi Sachs, 20, at left, won this white sausage-eating contest in Munich, Germany, by practically inhaling a chain of fifteen sausages in one minute, 45 seconds. White sausages are a delicacy made daily, and are supposed to be eaten by high noon, so that they may be enjoyed at their peak of perfection.

THANKSGIVING, 1952

On Thanksgiving, 1952, I again express my thanks for what is mine . . . the land in which I live, the freedom which I enjoy.

I am indeed thankful for my life in a land which measures its individuals by ability . . . not by political belief. I thank you, my customers, for the reputation you have given me . . . a reputation that is enjoyed by only a few in this area. I shall do everything possible to continue to merit it.

WE ALL PAUSE . . . to give thanks...
as our forefathers have done since America began

This Thanksgiving Day, as we sit down to our laden tables to feast and give thanks to a benevolent Lord, let us rededicate ourselves to the democratic principles which are our heritage. Let us resolve to preserve for our children the very same freedom our forefathers fought to give us . . . freedom which has brought us such abundance.

TALKING WALL TELLS TALES—Walls are said to have "ears," but this one, which embraces a portion of Rome's Piazza Del Popolo, also has a "tongue." The two men above are demonstrating how words spoken at one end of the wall, are clearly heard at its other extremity. Romans do not consider the 17th-Century structure a discreet location for a conversation.

Approval, Censure Greet VA Reorganization Plans

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Officials of veterans organizations generally approve newly announced plans to shake up the Veterans Administration, but one Thursday predicted further changes will be made by the Republican Administration when it takes over.

Veterans' Administrator Carl R. Gray disclosed Wednesday that the sprawling VA was being streamlined in hopes of increasing efficiency, saving perhaps 10 million dollars a year, and giving better service to G.I.s.

Commander Lewis K. Gough of the American Legion said the plan seems "basically sound and if properly carried into effect will increase the efficiency of the VA's services to the nation's veterans."

Commander Marshall E. Miller of Amvets said he approved of some parts of the program.

Cicero F. Hogan, 30 years director of claims for the Disabled American Veterans, said he believed veterans would be pleased with some of Gray's plans.

Too Many Administrators
But Col. George E. Ijams, National Rehabilitation Service director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and himself a former assistant administrator of the VA said he believed the Republicans, when they take power in January, will institute further changes.

Ijams said that even under the new reorganization plan, VA still has "too many top-flight administrative positions."

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.), who will become chairman of the House Veterans Committee in January, said she felt it was "unfair and unwise" for Gray to make such sweeping changes on the eve of a change of administration.

All, however, expressed satisfaction with one decision Gray announced: There would be no elimination of regional offices.

Most of the changes are based on recommendations made in a long-secret $605,000 private survey made by the Chicago management consultant firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton. Gray made the survey public simultaneously with his announcement of reorganization plans.

Three Major Departments
He said he was setting up three major departments—instead of the former 12—as recommended by Commander Marshall E. Miller of Amvets said he approved of some parts of the program.

Cicero F. Hogan, 30 years director of claims for the Disabled American Veterans, said he believed veterans would be pleased with some of Gray's plans.

Too Many Administrators
But Col. George E. Ijams, National Rehabilitation Service director of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and himself a former assistant administrator of the VA said he believed the Republicans, when they take power in January, will institute further changes.

Ijams said that even under the new reorganization plan, VA still has "too many top-flight administrative positions."

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.), who will become chairman of retail dealer in newly opened transmitter areas can undermine public confidence, warned the National Appliance and Radio-TV Dealers Association.

Mort Farr, president, cited Denver as a new market where practically everyone is selling television sets. He said paint shops, drug stores and antique shops, among others, were offering sets to the public.

Farr said most of these display samples only and practically none were equipped to inspect, install or service sets. He said there were more than 500 television dealers in Denver, or one for every 650 inhabitants.

TO BROWNWOOD

will handle medical and surgical care for veterans, one will be in charge of insurance and the third will manage such benefits as claims, loan guarantees and vocational training. Each will be headed by a deputy administrator.

But Gray turned down the suggestion to streamline the regional office setup. The survey said a shakeup of these offices would bring an additional savings of 15 million dollars.

Gray said changes being made might result in a savings of 10 million dollars a year, but would not likely result in any appreciable cut in personnel.

Representative Rogers attended Wednesday's news conference and said later she felt that in general it was "unfair and unwise" to put the new plan into effect before the Republican-controlled Congress meets.

Committee Probe Promised

She said her committee will go into the matter thoroughly. She expressed the opinion that while many things Gray suggested will be helpful "many others will not be."

She asked Gray if the changes were being made in the interest of efficiency or economy. Gray replied they were aimed at "giving service to veterans at a reasonable cost."

Legion Commander Gough said his organization's official attitude will be revealed in about 45 days, but that a preliminary observation leads the Legion to believe the plan is "basically sound."

Ijams said he was advising VFW field officers that he felt the $605,000 spent on the Booz, Allen and Hamilton report "was wasted" and that the whole job of reorganizing the VA will be done all over again in the next few months.

William O'Dwyer Quits Mexico Post

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Former Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York City, a target of congressional criticism during his 28-month career as a diplomat, is resigning as American ambassador to Mexico, effective December 6.

Although O'Dwyer's appointment was blasted by some congressmen—a few even demanded his recall—the resignation was a routine change-of-administration move.

The White House announced Wednesday that President Truman accepted the Irish-born New Yorker's resignation "with reluctance" and praised him for "a job indeed well done."

O'Dwyer became a controversial figure when a police graft scandal in his administration broke shortly after he quit his $40,000-a-year mayor's job to take the $15,000-a-year assignment as envoy to Mexico in August, 1950.

Despite criticism at home, he became one of the most popular ambassadors the United States ever sent to Mexico.

He gave no hint of his future plans in his letter to Truman, and Wednesday night in Mexico City he said he would not be able to disclose them until possibly late in December. First, he said, he would take a Mexican vacation with his wife.

When reporters asked about a rumor that he and retiring President Miguel Aleman of Mexico might join in some commercial enterprise, he said he had "never heard of it."

Reports last Summer that the ambassador planned to become a Mexican citizen and practice law in that country were angrily denied by the New Yorker.

O'Dwyer became headline fodder when the Senate Crime Investigating Committee, headed by Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), accused him of contributing to the growth of organized crime in New York.

New York Republicans accused O'Dwyer of running out on his office of mayor after a Brooklyn grand jury turned up evidence of a 30-million-dollar-a-year gambling ring that paid a million dollars annually to police for protection.

O'Dwyer first called the grand jury probe a "witch hunt," later apologized when it produced evidence to prove its charges.

100-Year-Old Bullet Discovered In Palm

SAN DIEGO, CALIF.—(AP)—The oldest planted tree in California, a towering palm, was hit by a Spanish musket ball at least 100 years ago.

This was the conclusion of the park and recreation department after the ball was found imbedded in the trunk while a metal collar to help support the tree was being installed.

The tree was planted by early Franciscan missionaries and is named for Father Juniper Serra, their leader.

Andrews Inclusion In Gaines County Soil Unit Sought

ANDREWS—A petition for the annexation of Andrews County to the Gaines County Soil Conservation District was filed this week with the State Soil Conservation Board, reports County Judge Milton Ramsey.

Forty resident landowners of Andrews County have signed the petition, representing the two-thirds majority needed to form a soil conservation district. A hearing will be held in Andrews at a later date by the State Board to complete the necessary plans, and all landowners and interested persons in the county will be invited to attend and participate.

Upon the formation of the district, the petition proposes that the area included be known as the Gaines-Andrews Soil Conservation District.

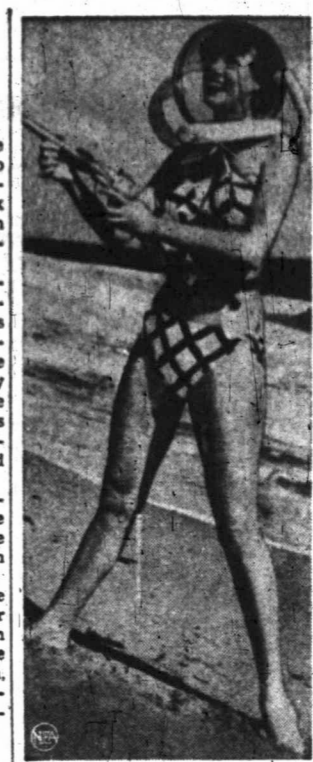

Judge Ramsey, County Agent Pete Millican, County Commissioner Gene Irwin, Joe Allbright, Jim Fowler, and J. B. Fuson of the FMA committee, and Cal Boykin, Jr. of the Soil Conservation Service, have assisted with the organization of the district.

Houstonian Found Guilty On Federal Car Theft Charges

HOUSTON—(AP)—Robert E. Hyser, 37, was found guilty by a jury Wednesday on nine counts violating federal auto theft regulations.

Final arguments were completed for two other defendants indicted with him, James J. Shown, Houston attorney, and Mary Walwright did not ask trial by jury.

Federal Judge Allen B. Hannay indicated he would sentence Hyser and hand down verdicts in the cases of the two other defendants next week.

Hyser's trial lasted eight days. He and the other two were indicted on charges of conspiracy to transport stolen automobiles to another state.

What do we have to be thankful for?

Just six short years since V-J Day—and once again the headlines talk of war and the threat of war.

Prices have skyrocketed—and even for the bare necessities of life, a dollar goes hardly half as far as it once did.

Brother, it may be Thanksgiving—but what do we have to be thankful for?

What do we have? Listen . . .

We have a land where people vote in or vote out the government. We have a land where we can yawn to high heaven about our very troubles—and do something about them.

We have a land where we can leave the shades up at night—and meet in more than two's and three's—and discuss politics, religion, personalities or anything we please.

We have a land where we can go to the church of our choice, send our children to schools where we know they'll be taught the truth, pick and choose the job that we like best—and leave it if it doesn't live up to our expectations.

We have a land where the police tip their hats to us, where we can cross state lines without submitting to inspection by border guards, where what we buy is not determined by whether we belong to the governing political party or not.

We have a land where the Four Freedoms are not a distant hope but a present reality.

What do we have to be thankful for? Brother—our American heritage.

Bulldogs Go West For Biggest Prize

The Midland Bulldogs were to close out their 1952 football season this cold, clear Thanksgiving Day in a bid for the biggest prize—an upset victory over the defense-tight Odessa Bronchos.

The Bulldogs were decided underdogs, having dropped three of their last four games. They had lost three of nine games this year compared to the Broncho record of seven victories in nine times out.

The Broncos piled up a 28 to 21 win in 1950, the last time the neighboring cities sent football teams out to battle each other.

Breck-Brownwood Tussle Tops Texas Schoolboy Program

By The Associated Press—They're playing high school football all over Texas Thursday with championships being decided in five classes, AAAA, AAA, AA, A and B.

More than 3,000 Midland fans were expected to follow the Bulldogs into Broncho Stadium. Odessa school officials predicted the biggest crowd of the season for the Turkey Day classic.

The Odessa game offered the last opportunity for 12 Bulldogs to crown themselves with glory by contributing to an upset of the Bronchos.

Coach Tubboat Jones led his single-wing operators west just before the renewal of a bitter rivalry in Broncho Stadium—Odessa started a reign over Midland in 1941 that concluded only last year when the two schools were placed in different districts.

Temple fell out of the top place in the Dallas West vs. Stateville Class AAAA poll of the season.

There was a change planned in the starting defensive lineup for the Bulldogs Thursday afternoon.

'BLIND BILL' TURNBEAUGH TURNS HERO—Giant, Nearsighted Tackle Proves Crate Of Dynamite

AUBURN, Ala.—The last guy you'd expect to intercept a pass is a giant, nearsighted tackle who can't even see a football in the air.

"Something hit me in the chest and it was a second or two before I realized what it was," the giant grider explained.

"Bill does it a lot just by feel and touch. Sometimes he gets hold of an Auburn man by mistake.

Turnbeaugh isn't blind, but he's nearsighted as you can get. His hand at arm's length is just a blurry object. But turn him loose on the field and he's a sputtering crate of dynamite.

The Rebels have a total offense of 3,396 yards in 10 games—an average of 339.6 per contest.

Gene Henderson of San Angelo leads in both ball-carrying and kickoff returns with 590 yards on 70 runs and 263 yards on nine returns.

Texas GI's In Europe Say It's Nicer To Be At Home

By GRACE HALSELL
Special Reporter-Telegram
Correspondent

FONTAINEBLEAU, FRANCE — Texans stationed at this air and land headquarters—site near the French capital say they'll have no trouble staying on the farm after they've seen gay Paris.

But they have trouble keeping their wives at home while they serve a tour of duty.

"This is no place for anyone from the States," commented Airman 3/c Hubert A. Hughes, Jr., of Dickinson. "It's hard to convince my wife of that," he added. He is married to the former Frances Elouse Loper, now of Overton, Texas.

Airman 3/c Budy Cox of Dallas, said, "My wife wanted to come over, but I didn't let her to. It's not a good enough living." Cox is married to the former Maxine Winn. Should his wife join him during his tour of duty, his stay would be lengthened from 18 months to three years.

"I don't want to stay three years," emphasized the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mad Cox, Gainesville.

M Sgt. Randolph J. Kilpatrick of Palestine, said, "It was more or less my wife's idea that I come over here this time. She's trying to see Paris 18 Years Service."

Kilpatrick has been in service 18 years, has served in the Philippines, England, Germany and France. He likes Germany best. Married in 1940 his wife has not been overseas with him.

"She's due to leave New York November 15," he said.

World capitals no longer interest the veteran. "I own my home in Palestine, and I'm going to settle down there, and raise a garden," the sergeant said.

Since he is an officer, Lt. Charles Snyder of Fort Worth will be permitted to bring his family over at government expense.

"I'm hoping they'll get here before Christmas," he said.

He is married to the former Catherine Collins, who is with her parents in Corpus Christi. They have two children, Mickey Carol, seven, and Catherine Inez, one and one-half.

Lieutenant Snyder, Itasca High School graduate, says the only house he has located so far for his family is a big place he'll have to pay $140 a month to get.

In addition, he estimates coal will cost him at least $35 a month.

Airman 3/c Richard Jordan of Austin said he was "undecided" what to do about bringing his wife and baby over to France.

As he is not an officer, he would have to pay for their transportation himself. He thinks it would cost about $400 to get them to France.

High Cost Of Living

"And it is more expensive to live here than at home," he said, "because of rent and fuel, especially fuel. Some of the men have purchased electric heaters, but electricity is extremely high."

Jordan's wife Patricia Louise and their 19-month-old baby, Richard Michael, are residing in Houston.

Airman 3/c Stuart Vessey of Lubbock, who was born in England, said he would bring his wife over and stay three years. His Air Force pay is $95 a month, but he has a savings on which he can draw to pay for his wife's transportation over. She is the former Virginia Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Rogers of Lubbock.

Woman Reads Bible Through 72 Times

POMONA, CALIF.—(AP)—A 70-year-old Pomona woman has read the Bible through 72 times.

With good luck and a little more time, Mrs. Helena Burlingame hopes to read the scriptures through as many times as she is years old.

It took Mrs. Burlingame 10 years to catch up with a Baptist missionary whose record was 70 readings. She lies down to study three to four chapters at a time, usually twice a day.

In 48 years of continuous Bible reading, the California woman has worn out only three Bibles.

Jungle Princess Of Brazil Seeks To Marry White Man

RIO DE JANEIRO, BRAZIL—(AP)—A ruling by Minister of Agriculture Joao Cleophas will make possible the marriage of a white government worker and an Indian princess he courted deep in the Mato Grosso jungle.

Normally the government bans such matches with Indians. The prospective groom, Ayres Camara Cunha, met Princess Diaz-Cul—Prairie Flower—four years ago while on a government expedition into the remote Indian country. The plump 18-year-old girl's father was a chief of the Kalapalos, a primitive tribe in which the women wear only loin cords.

Having become a Roman Catholic, she wants a Christian marriage ceremony and has been awaiting government permission in a hut on the outskirts of Rio de Janeiro. She flew there last week with her father and two brothers.

Camara, a government worker among the Indians, will return to the jungle with his bride.

U. S. Leads Parade Of World Breweries

NEW YORK—(AP)—There are 328 breweries operating in the United States, according to the new edition of Breweries of the Western Hemisphere.

The publication says there are almost 600 breweries in all of North and South America. Of the total, Canada has 60, Brazil 60, Mexico 21, Colombia 23, with the remainder in Latin American countries.

Only one new brewery was opened in the U. S. last year to offset the shutdown of 32 during the 18 months from January, 1951, to June, 1952.

ANDREWS—A general membership dinner of the newly-organized Andrews Chamber of Commerce will be held December 1, announces Max Ramsey, temporary president. A permanent board of directors will be voted upon by the entire membership as will a set of by-laws and constitution.
Ramsey said that merchants and individuals have pledged more than $6,500 in the campaign to organize the chamber. Two-thirds of the community's businessmen and firms have signed membership cards. The remaining one-third still is to be contacted.
A goal of $10,000 has been estimated as the minimum amount to support an active chamber.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving Day had come to Daddy Ringtail's monkey house, high in the top of the very tall tree, there in the middle of the Great Forest.

The folks had just set down to eat their dinner. Why, Uncle Bunkum was there for a visit from the zoo to eat a happy Thanksgiving dinner. Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was ready with a knife and fork. Yes, and all around the table were seated the Huffle Puff, the friendly wolf; Old Macdonald who has a farm; the Featherman who lives in a nest instead of a house. Even Dr. Shooing was there for a rest from running to see about sick folks, and of course he was wanting to eat some fine dinner of scrambled coconut bunnings and cakes and pies and everything.

Oh, what a fine Thanksgiving dinner Mother Ringtail had cooked, and Daddy Ringtail was proud of her.

Yes, and Daddy Ringtail was thankful, too, and so he asked that Mugwump please should say a prayer of "thank you" to the Heavenly Father. "People should hope that the Heavenly Father will always say it, they should, before they eat their dinner, and we should say it extra special today, because today is Thanksgiving Day.

Said Mugwump: "Well, everything good that happens just wouldn't happen if the Heavenly Father didn't want it to happen, and we do appreciate all the good things He gives us, and today is really Thanksgiving Day, which is really a special day for being thankful; but I'm thankful so much all the time that I don't know what to be thankful for extra today; but I am glad that nobody is sick and that all of our good friends are together, and that we have such a fine dinner to eat; uhuh, and I said the Huffle: "People should

INAUGURATION INFLATION— Parade Tickets Go At Premiums

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Even the prices of tickets for the President's inauguration parade are going up. The parade tickets more or less went on sale this week, at a price of around a third more than they cost four years ago. People paid from $2 to $10 for a seat to see President Eisenhower. It will cost from $10 to $15 to watch President Eisenhower.

Most of the increase is due to taxes. Four years ago the parade committee either forgot—or didn't know about—the amusement tax. They later had to cough up 20 per cent of the gross for the tax collector.

This time the tax will be added to each ticket.

The reason prices haven't been set definitely: The bids haven't been let for the erection of temporary stands, so no one knows the cost. Despite these confusions a constant stream of people poured into ticket headquarters—it's a former Eisenhower-for-President hangout—to put their names down for ticket orders.

Dream Of Gold

John F. Morrissey, in charge of ticket sales, said of the rush: "I was surprised myself."

Some 60,000 seats will be put up along the parade route. The choice seats—the $15 ones—will be in Lafayette Park, across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House.

None of these 4,000 seats will be put on sale for the general public. They're going to Republican bigwigs who have waited years for this day, and to several schools in the area which always buy blocks of inauguration seats.

It is estimated that the average American will eat 144 pounds of meat in 1953.

FAMILY BOYCOTTS SOCIAL REGISTER— Gainfully Employed Boyle Family Misses Blue Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—I don't know how your family feels about it, but our family is boycotting the Social Register.

As far as we are concerned, the blue book can go and tarnish blue.

As a matter of fact, it has already turned black with rosy stripes. The 1953 edition has dropped Winthrop Rockefeller and his wife, Bobo, and to them we say: "Chin up, kids. Don't let it get you down. Life can still be gay."

Our own family isn't being dropped by the 1953 Social Register. We got darned good and sore at it when we found that there wasn't a

Old Cadillac Wins Acclaim In Contest

FLINT, MICH.—(AP)—A 1902 Cadillac that runs has won the grand prize at the Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village in Dearborn. It was considered the most perfectly restored to its original new appearance.

The old Cadillac is powered by a one-cylinder five-horsepower engine located under the seat. The wheels are of natural wood finish. There is a picnic basket strapped to the right side of the car and in the rear is a basket resembling a golf bag, for carrying umbrellas. Both baskets, made of wicker, were accessories when the car was made. The car, owned by Mrs. Charles Hulise of this city, was purchased by her husband in 1941 from a Lansing woman. The couple, who make a hobby of old cars, did part of the restoration work themselves.

Pretty Shaken

I'll admit we Boyles were pretty shaken at first when the 1952 index of the socially acceptable snubbed us altogether. We held a convention, and the hoary old patriarch of our tribe, dressed for the occasion in his best Sunday suit, said despairingly:

"Hasn't a single one of us Boyles been caught loafing on the sands at Palm Beach or lifting a pinky at a Newport Tea?"

Well, the awful truth was, none had. We all were gainfully employed.

Then we got to thumbing through the 1952 social register and found it contained two pages of Robinsons, three pages of Johnsons, four pages of Williamses, five pages of Browns and eight pages of Smiths including five Smyths but no Snythes.

"Why it's simple," said our fine old tribal leaders. "Us Boyles have been outvoted by the hol polio. What Boyle wants to be smothered in all those Smiths? Let's stay out of that book altogether."

Only 28 Roosevelts

He pointed out that the blue book was down to 28 Roosevelts, 21

Rockefellers only 20 now with Winthrop gone, six Astors and five Vanderbilts.

It was explained to him that when a listee was caught standing on his head at the Metropolitan Opera, riding a horse into a hotel or marrying somebody from the wrong side of the railroad tracks, he was dropped from the next edition.

"No wonder they are weeding out the fine old American families and getting swamped by Browns and Smiths," said our tribe leader. "If a fellow named Brown is picked up for cop fighting, they probably don't even bother to check their index. But a Vanderbilt? If he gets arrested, they ought to volunteer to go bail for him because he lends class to their book. But instead they just start rubbing his name out."

"That may be high society, but it ain't loyalty—and I say to heck with it."

The tarnish of cop, r. brass, tin and other metals often stains textiles. Vinegar or lemon juice will sometimes take the stains out. Be sure to rinse the material well as soon as the stain has dissolved. Do not use chlorine bleaches to remove these stains.

SILENT WEDDING

BOZEMAN, MONT.—(AP)—Music hath charms, but it's also a way to make a living. Musician Elmer Stokes was married in silence and in a hurry—he had to play at a style show minutes after his wedding.

Corncocks Are Used As Windshield Cloth

BAGLEY, LA.—(AP)—If you have trouble scrubbing the windshield clean on your car, try a corncock. That's the advice of Don Myers, local filling station operator.

Instead of wearing out expensive sponges to remove the crusted remains of bugs, Myers says he wets a corncock, rubs the surface and dries the glass. The result: a shiny windshield without any of the scratches produced by strong abrasives.

Thanksgiving

A happy holiday—when family and friends get together for the most important meal of the year—giving thanks for the blessings that have been ours since Pilgrim Days.

We are happy to extend our good wishes to you at Thanksgiving—and are thankful for the fine patronage and many new friendships you have accorded us through the years.

A Day of Thanksgiving

Stewart's fine furniture

As the pilgrims paused in mid-Autumn during their budding of a free Nation, counted their blessings, and called the day "Thanksgiving", so we like to pause in our job of storekeeping and say "Thank You".

We have so much for which to be thankful—for the same free Nation—for the confidence you've shown in us—for your patronage whether it be large or small.

Your continued interest and friendship have been a source of great inspiration to us here at Stewart's, and each of us hopes that through the coming years this mutual feeling will grow even stronger.

The MATURE PARENT

We Don't Apologize When We're Doing Best We Can

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

She is 13—and furious that her mother can't increase her allowance to match those of several friends.

Her mother writes: "These children's families have bigger incomes than ours. My sister thinks I should try to get the mothers of all Elsie's friends to pay the same allowances. Do you think this is a good idea?"

No, I don't. A child's allowance is based on his parents' income. He shares their financial state as he shares their home and other possessions. He needs this practice in fair sharing with his family to prepare him for sharing justly with his own. To regret the fine disciplines of this experience in false love.

Elsie's problem is one of envy. She doesn't live in a collectivist society, where this problem is presumed to be solved by removing the external conditions that arouse it. She lives in the United States, where we attack envy by removing self-depreciation—the internal condition that produces it.

Envy is a contagious ailment. Children do not come down with bad cases of it unless they are exposed to infected people. Isn't there a certain tone of apology in this mother's attitude toward her inability to give Elsie more money? If so, perhaps Elsie isn't the only self-depreciating member of her family. She would, of course, know instantly if her mother is belittling herself and her gifts. She would take what is given at the poor value placed on it and begin to belittle it herself.

If we like ourselves, we don't have much trouble selling contentment to children. We defend what we are and give with authority. We can so itemize the advantages we ourselves are conscious of that it becomes hard for Elsie to regard herself as a defrauded victim.

If we are discontented with ourselves, things are different.

We don't begin to go places with over-demanding Elsie until we get on to the cleverness of those discontents.

If these discontents can just keep us feeling tense and noble over what Elsie has to pull up with, they can postpone our discovering that we're pretty mad at what we have to put up with.

Is Elsie's mother angry at anyone? What is this urge to champion Elsie against the humiliation of having to forego three sundays a week?

Could it be Elsie's mother's urge to champion herself against some humiliation that she prefers to forget? Probably. We don't take apologetic tones to children when we're doing the best we can for them, unless we resent it.

The fact that Elsie's mother has been hurt and is angry about it may be the truth Elsie needs to help her.

Perhaps she needs someone to say, "Look, I let someone persuade me that I'm a disappointing person. It scared me and now I have remembered that I am doing the best I can. I am through apologizing to anyone. That includes you, my dear. We give you the allowances we can afford, so let's hear no more about it."

Crane Plans Big Roping

CRANE—Plans have been completed by the Crane County Sheriff's Posse for the biggest matched roping event in history of the city. The show will be held December 21 at the newly-improved roping arena, north of Crane, and will offer two jackpot prizes of $10 each, and jackpots for other events.

Toots Mansfield, Big Spring, seven times world champion calf roper, will challenge John D. Holloyman, Rankin, in a six calf roping match. Bill Lowe, Crane's own champion roper and champion of Madison Square Garden in 1951, will compete with Walton Poague, Rankin, 1952 Garden winner.

Area ropers are invited to participate, with proceeds to go to the sheriff's posse.

Japanese To Build Own 'White House'

TOKYO—Japan will soon have its own "White House" for the elected chief of state.

A two-story, white tile house, about 15 minutes drive from downtown Tokyo, will be provided for the prime minister. The house, following Western architectural styling, has a 75,000-square-foot garden and more than 14,400 square feet of floor space.

The prime minister presently lives in the house designed for Japan's foreign minister.

Elaborate Events Slated For Shivers' Inauguration Rites

AUSTIN—(P)—Plans for one of the most elaborate inaugurations in years are being made by an Austin civic committee.

It will honor Governor and Mrs. Shivers on his third formal accession to office.

There were no elaborate ceremonies when he succeeded the late Beauford H. Jester upon Jester's death, nor on his first elective term because of the Korean War.

A parade with at least 10 bands and three inaugural balls are tentatively planned, along with a mammoth reception for legislators.

This Is Thanksgiving... Midland at Home

... to all of us, Thanksgiving means, among other things, the family together for one of Mom's good dinners... the cheeriness of candles on the table... that warm sense of gratitude that comes with the security of belonging.

Thanksgiving is Midland... at home!

To us, at The Midland National Bank, Thanksgiving means all this... and more. For this is Thanksgiving 1952... the Thanksgiving that brings us closer to you... cementing our nearly half-century friendship with a beautiful New Home, almost completed, where we can say, "Welcome Friends, come and see our new home"... where we can serve you, and our community better, more completely than ever before.

It isn't enough to just say

THANKS...

for all the blessings bestowed upon this great nation of ours — in comparison with the many suffering nations of the world. We should practice the true concept of the word "thanks." Show appreciation of our way of life by being tolerant, just and charitable and to thank God we live in America.
