Big Flow Is Developed In C-E Andrews

Magnolia Petroleum Company is assured a prolific flowing discovery from the Devonian in No. 1-CA Fasken, 15,000-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Central-East Andrews County.

The wildcat flowed 171.88 barrels of 56.1-gravity oil in one hour on a drillstem test taken from 12-744 to 12,765 feet. Tool was open one hour and 25 minutes. A 5 7/8-inch bottomhole choke and a one-inch top choke were used.

A 1,500-foot water blanket was used. Gas surfaced in 18 minutes, the stream was then turned to the east. It flowed the 171.88 barrels of oil during the last hour the tool was open.

Operator circulated out a full string of oil. No formation water was present. Gas-oil ratio was 273.1.

The Devonian was topped at 12-736 feet, minus datum of 9,721 feet.

This wildcat is 24 airline miles northwest of the city of Midland and 16 miles east of the town of Andrews.

Location is 1,980 feet from west end and 600 feet from south lines of section 30, block 40, T-3-N, G&MM-B&A survey. That puts it approximately four miles southeast of the Magutux (Ellenburger) field.

Operator will probably core a few more feet and take another drillstem test.

Seaboard Project In Terry To Be Drilled Out, Tested

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to drill out plug for tests of the Mississippian at its No. 1 E. M. Hinson, discovery well of the Mound Lake (Pennsylvanian) field in Northeast Terry County.

The project was drilled to total depth of 11,845 feet where it failed to make a well. It was then plugged back and completed from the Pennsylvanian. Production from that formation has played out and operations are intended to be completed by late this year.

Location is 860 feet from north and west lines of section 31, block 4X, E.L. & R.R. survey and eight miles northeast of the town of Brownfield.

Drillstem test in the Mississippian indicated the project would make a producer from that zone.

Phillips Project In NE Ector Gets Clean Oil On DST

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1, Ratliff, one location south of Hagan Brown and Associates No. 1, and Inez Fasken, recently completed Wolfcamp discovery in Northeast Ector County, found free oil on a drillstem test in the Clear Fork from 7,215 to 7,412 feet. Tool was open two hours. Gas surfaced in seven minutes. No oil flowed while tool was open. Recovery was 6,390 feet of clean oil, 360 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 270 feet of salt water. Gravity of the oil is 35 degrees.

Open bottomhole pressure was 1,250 pounds and 15-minute shutin pressure was 2,560 pounds. Top of Clear Fork has not been reported.

Mud hole was being made below 12 feet.

Location is 668 feet from north and 2,000 feet from west lines of section 3, block 42, T-1-S, T&P survey and 21 miles northeast of the city of Midland.

Eisenhower Wings Way To U. S.

Early Morning Shadows Hide Ike Departure

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH EISENHOWER IN KOREA—(AP)—It was 5:30 a.m. Saturday, November 29, when two men stepped quickly through the doorway of the residence at No. 60 Morningside Heights in New York City into the cold, starlit night.

Their overcoat collars were turned up as though against the chill. They strode swiftly to the limousine that had pulled up at the curb a few feet from the doorway, ducked into the car and it drove away. The street was bare and silent once again.

One of the men was U. S. Secret Service Agent Edward Green and the other was President-elect Eisenhower. This was the beginning of the Eisenhower mission to Korea where he hoped—as millions of Americans did—that a way could be found to bring an honorable end to the bloody fighting which in two and a half years had claimed 126,000 American dead, wounded and missing.

As the Eisenhower car drove toward Mitchell Field, other automobiles in other parts of the city moved in a precision pattern, also converging on Mitchell Field. There two big Air Force Constellations waited in the darkness.

A few minutes before Eisenhower had left his Morningside Heights residence, Defense Secretary-designate Charles E. Wilson had strolled out of the Waldorf Hotel and entered a cab. He told the driver to drop him off at the southeast corner of 58th Street and Fifth Avenue.

This gray-haired, distinguished industrialist-president of General Motors Corporation—stepped out at the designated spot, paid the driver and then stood on the street corner for a moment.

The sounds of the city were muted at this hour. A few cruising cabs drove by and a few pedestrians walked quickly in the cold streets. A car drew up beside Wilson, the door opened, and he stepped inside. It drove off into the pattern that was forming.

The former Madsen Gates was born Aug. 4, 1862, at Pory, Byron, Ill. She was the daughter of George Porterfield Gates and Elizabeth Emory Gates. Her mother was born in Rounds, England.

In her prime, Mrs. Wallace was a regal woman of the Victorian dowager-type.

She truly believed a woman's place is in the home but she had many outside charitable interests.

She liked to keep busy about her home. She was an excellent housekeeper and she brought Mrs. Truman up to be able to cook a meal with ease. And she saw to it that Margaret had the same training.

From a half-dozen different points, six reporters and photographers quietly left their lockings and converged on Pennsylvania Station, which sounds like an improbable place for secrecy in movements.

But the six were lost among the other early travelers waiting for their trains, lounging in doorways and trying to kill time.

A black limousine drove down the street.

Resentful Teenage Girl Admits Setting Fires In Churches

POND CREEK, OKLA.—(AP)—Vandalism and fires in five churches were traced Friday to a 13-year-old school girl who said she resented religion.

The poised young girl, who could pass for 18, admitted setting the fires to churches here and in nearby Tonkawa recently.

"I did it because my parents made me go to church. I told them if I went to any, I wanted to go to a different one than they belonged to," she said.

"I don't like being corrected."

Confronted with resentful letters she had written to ministers, she confessed Thursday night, Grant County Attorney John Amick said. County authorities held her for possible action Friday.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. embarked Friday on a record billion-dollar defense buying program, earmarking almost one-fourth of the fund for its first purchases of foreign aircraft.

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Two men, picked up here Thursday night for trespassing and booked under fictitious names, were identified Friday as Virgil Toney and Nick Derembis, two of the last three dangerous fugitives still at large after a break from Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

TAIPEI, FORMOSA—(AP)—Chinese Nationalists Friday announced execution of 10 more persons accused of being Communist agents.

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF.—(AP)—A ground party climbing the towering, snow covered Mt. San Geronio expected late Friday to reach wreckage of an Air Force C-47 plane missing since Monday with 13 men aboard.

SANTA OPENS MIDLAND CHRISTMAS SEASON—Old Santa Claus, smiling and waving from his magic sleigh, became the center of attention for thousands of West Texas children and their parents here Thursday afternoon. He greeted the kiddies and their parents as four of his eight reindeer pulled his roomy sleigh in the float-colored parade through downtown Midland. The decorated floats and other components turned the parade into a gala inaugural of the Christmas season. Streets were jam-packed.

Thousands See Santa Parade Mark Arrival Of Yule Season

Midland's 1952 Christmas Season is officially under way.

Two weeks ago the colorful Christmas lights were turned on for the first time and Midland stores began jamming their shelves with gifts.

And Thursday afternoon, jolly old Santa Claus himself finally made his first holiday appearance before thousands of Midland youngsters and their parents.

Riding in a sleigh pulled by four of his eight reindeer, the old fellow paraded through the business district in the most colorful Christmas parade in the city's history.

He stopped long enough at the City-County Auditorium to greet the youngsters personally and hand out 500 pounds of candy.

But the big show was the parade itself with 22 gaily-decorated floats, four bands and several marching units.

And most of the spectators agreed with the decision of the judges who selected the following winners in the float contest sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce:

Senior Division—Westward Ho Kennels, first, $100; Rebekah Lodge, second, $50, and Beta Sigma Phi, third, $25.

Junior Division—St. Ann's School, first, $75; Junior SPCA, second, $25, and Latin American Girl Scouts, third, $10.

Police Capt. Jack Truman would not estimate the total crowd but he said "there must have been at least 5,000 kids alone in the business district."

The parade was headed by the Midland County Sheriff's posse and the Midland High School Band.

And trailing along behind were the more than a score of floats and marching groups, with bands from John M. Cowden Junior High School, San Jacinto Junior High School and Carver furnishing plenty of music throughout the snakelike procession.

The Westward Ho Kennels' prize-winning float featured four Kerry Blue Terriers, bred and raised here. The junior winner—entered by St. Ann's—portrayed the Nativity scene with a chorus of tiny angels, all on a huge flatbed truck trailer.

Other floats included those by the Midland Rebekah Lodge; the Heart Association, the Business and Professional Women's Club, Beta Sigma Phi, First Baptist Church, Midland Humane Society, Macedonia Baptist Church.

Women's Auxiliary of Midland Memorial Hospital, Murray Young Motors, Sure Patrol of the Midland Shrine Club, Girls Scouts, Midland County 4-H Club, Terminal Elementary School, Order of DeMolay, DeMolay Mothers, radio station

Sunshine Wipes Out Texas' Fog Blanket

Texas basked in bright sunshine Friday under temperatures that grew gradually warmer as the day wore on.

No rain had fallen since nightfall Thursday and none was expected before Sunday.

Highway and air traffic, hampered for days by fog, drizzle and rain, was back on schedule and speeding up to normal Friday.

The two-month-old mystery of the pregnant check forger has been solved.

Texas Ranger John Wood said the woman, who admitted forging and passing at least 26 checks in Midland stores two months ago, had been located.

And she was found, he added, as she prepared to give birth within the next few days to her second child.

No action has been taken against her but the case will be referred to the Midland County grand jury at its next session, he said.

The attractive 18-year-old Big Spring woman, Wood said, made a statement this week to himself, Deputy Sheriff F. S. Bucklew and Constable Jack Merritt, admitting she had forged the checks and cashed them.

The wild check-forging spree, she said, occurred on October 6 and "I don't know why I did it."

"It's the first time I ever did anything like that," she added.

Within a few days after the checks were cashed, the office of Sheriff Ed Darnell began getting complaints as they were returned by a Midland bank.

Officer had only one clue: the woman who had given the checks was pregnant.

For two months, officers followed every lead but could find no trace of the woman.

Then, last week, Wood and Bucklew were in Colorado City when officers there happened to mention a similar case in which a pregnant woman had passed nine checks.

Someone had spotted the license on her car and the trail led to Big Spring. Charges were dropped, Wood said, when she made restitution.

This week, Wood and the other two officers questioned the woman about the checks here but she denied any knowledge of them.

"I got a specimen of her handwriting and came on back to Midland," the ranger said.

"When I was eating supper, she called me long-distance and said she wanted to admit the whole thing."

The officer returned to Big Spring and she made her statement, listing by name as many of the places as she could remember.

"I only had $10 when I went over there," the statement said in part, "and I shopped all day, and wrote some 25 or 26 checks, signing

First Lady's Aged Mother Dies Friday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Mrs. David Willock Wallace, 90, mother-in-law of President Truman, died at the White House Friday.

Death was due to the infirmities of old age.

The president's mother-in-law died at 12:35 p.m., Eastern Standard Time. The specific cause of death was given as cerebral thrombosis. She had been ill several months.

Death came only six weeks before President Truman was to leave the White House. He and his family are going home to Independence, Mo., January 20, when Dwight Eisenhower becomes President.

Mrs. Truman is the eldest of Mrs. Wallace's four children. Her three sons are living.

The former Madsen Gates was born Aug. 4, 1862, at Pory, Byron, Ill. She was the daughter of George Porterfield Gates and Elizabeth Emory Gates. Her mother was born in Rounds, England.

In her prime, Mrs. Wallace was a regal woman of the Victorian dowager-type.

Sentences For Six Jailed WAC's Upheld

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. Court of Military Appeals has upheld the conviction and sentences of six WAC sergeants jailed for beating up a fellow WAC near Fort Breckenridge, Ky., in October, 1951.

Three of the women soldiers had been freed after serving brief terms. Three others still are in jail.

The Army contended the beating was a result of a conspiracy against the victim because she had testified against another WAC whom she accused of striking her.

The WAC's released last January included Edith M. Brown, San Angelo, Texas.

Trygve Lie Fires Nine 'No Talkers'

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—UN sources said Secretary-General Trygve Lie fired nine American employees Friday for refusing to answer McCarran Committee questions about Communist affiliations and subversive connections. This brings to 18 the number dismissed in 1952 for this cause.

Lie, in a formal statement, warned his staff of 3,000 they face the same fate if they act similarly.

Lie, in a statement to the secretariat, said he was following the advice of a distinguished three-man panel of international jurists who recommended this course.

He announced that within a few days he would set up an advisory panel to help him in dealing with specific cases.

The nine fired Friday have been on special leave with pay—but banned from entering the UN Secretariat—since they refused to answer questions by the U. S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee, headed by Senator Pat McCarran (D-Nev.), on constitutional grounds that their answers might incriminate them.

The whole explosive problem is expected to touch off one of the bitterest controversies in UN history when it comes up in the Assembly's Financial and Budgetary Committee, probably next week.

The nine employees on special leave who were fired Friday were Frank C. Bancroft, editor, documents division; Hope Dorothy Eldridge, population statistics expert, department of economic affairs; Jack S. Harris, researcher on trusteeship matters; Julia Older Balser, editor, documents division; Jane M. Reed, library employee; Joel Gordon, expert on current trade analysis; Sydney Glassman, junior economist; and Leon Elverson, library clerk.

Army Unveils Super-Secret Korean Visit

SEOUL—(AP)—President-elect Eisenhower left Korea by plane at 8:01 p.m. (5:01 a.m., CST) Friday after an historic visit to the warfront.

He is enroute home after three action packed days of seeking a way to peace in this frozen land of war and misery.

Shortly before his departure, Eisenhower visited President Syngman Rhee of South Korea for a hastily arranged, conference.

A source close to Rhee said the two exchanged notes which may be made public Saturday.

The general told a news conference before leaving: "We came over here to learn. We have no panacea, no trick ways of settling any problem."

But he strongly indicated the solution to the Korean conflict does not lie in spreading the war to attack Red China. He said:

"How difficult it seems to be in a war of this kind to work out a big plan that would bring a positive and definite victory without possibly running a grave risk of enlarging the war. There are many limitations on a war of this kind, but this much is certain... much can be done, in my opinion, to improve our position. Much will be done."

He found Korea raw and cold, haped with the dead and rubble of war, a wait among nations shivering in its third war winter's snows.

If he found a way to stop the slaughter, he did not say so.

Neither did he divulge any plans he may have formed to take American boys at once from the miserable foxholes and replace them with freshly trained Republic of Korea (ROK) troops.

The first American President-elect to lead a smoking battlefield Eisenhower came, saw and departed.

He talked with the generals and soldiers of high and low ranks, bunkered against sleet, snow and wind in the razor-edged mountains. Talks With Troops

The general talked with troops of the U. S., Korea, Britain, Australia, France, Canada, New Zealand, Thailand, the Philippines—the nations whose young men keep the northern watch in Asia against encroaching communism.

The President-elect risked death from Russian-made jet fighters and from snipers and assassins on the ground.

The first announcement of his history-making visit was brief.

It said, in effect, he came, looked and left.

Eisenhower appeared hardy and rested as he was whisked from command post to command post in light planes.

He jumped off on a backbreaking inspection tour the first day, talking to Sabre jet pilots, Marines and soldiers.

Sen Was Aide

One of his first stops was at the headquarters of the U. S. First Corps, where he reviewed troops gathered from all 17 United Nations units serving in Korea.

Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, was assigned as his father's aide during his tour of Korea. Young Eisenhower is assistant op-

Ike Appears In Brief Talk For Newsmen

SEOUL—(AP)—President-elect Dwight Eisenhower talked to 125 reporters about his Korean visit.

Ike, grinning at newsmen of many nations, strode into a big, plain, war room at Eighth Army Headquarters at 10 a.m. He talked rapidly and seriously for 10 minutes—and was gone.

No Questions Allowed

He concluded:

"Now, all of you people know, that have been with me in the past, it is my common practice to ask for questions after a such a conference. This, I am not going to do today for the very specific reason it is a large conference and I could not possibly get around and time that I have is limited."

A moment later, he was gone. With him went the hopes of correspondents who had hoped to ask questions.

Ike had walked into the stage of the warroom and a battery of lights caught him head-on as cameras whirred. He looked fine, friendly and confident. His face glowed pinkly. He wore a light brownish tweed suit, a red tie with blue stripe and his glasses stuck out of his breast pocket.

His smile faded to seriousness as he began to talk: "We have no panacea, no trick ways of settling any problems."

But the warm old Eisenhower grin radiated over the audience as he wound up by calling out, "Goodbye and good luck to all of you."

OPEN HOUSE AT TEC FRIDAY

Employees of the Midland office of the Texas Employment Commission will hold a formal open house celebration in their new location at 310 North Weatherford Street from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday.

The open house observance is designed to acquaint the general public, and especially employers, with the services and facilities offered by the TEC office, J. D. Bechtel, manager, said.

The new location features 2600 square feet of floor space, including a soundproof room for conference and giving pre-employment tests.

More Members May Desert Strife-Battered Wage Board

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The new chairman of the battered Wage Stabilization Board was faced Friday with probable resignation of at least some of the board's industry members in protest of President Truman's coal wage decision.

Charles C. Killingsworth, 35-year-old economics professor from Michigan State College, was named to the nation's top wage job Thursday night a few hours after Archibald Cox quit the post with a blast at Truman's decision overruling the WSB.

Killingsworth had been vice chairman of the board several months.

Cox said in a letter to Truman made public Thursday night that approval of the full $1.90 daily coal boost for 440,000 soft and hard coal miners could mean only one of two things:

1. That stabilization would continue, but with the exemption of powerful groups like Lewis' United Mine Workers; or,

2. That a general easing of wage rules all along the line would mean continuance of the program useless.

In either case, Cox said, he felt he could be of no more use.

Industry members of the WSB have announced a formal boycott of the board and have scheduled a formal session here Friday afternoon to decide whether to resign in a bloc, stay on the board or act individually.

One informed official predicted that all seven industry members would not quit but said it was likely one or more would refuse to stay on the board.

Confession By Expectant Mother Solves Mystery Of Forgery Spree

The two-month-old mystery of the pregnant check forger has been solved.

Texas Ranger John Wood said the woman, who admitted forging and passing at least 26 checks in Midland stores two months ago, had been located.

the name Mrs. W. D. Willbanks to them."

All the checks bore that name, along with the address, 1011 North Big Spring Street.

"I do not know a person by that name," Cox continued, "and as far as I know there is no such person."

"I just made up the name on the checks and the address, too, although I did see a street by that name."

"I don't know why I did it. It is the first time I ever did anything like that."

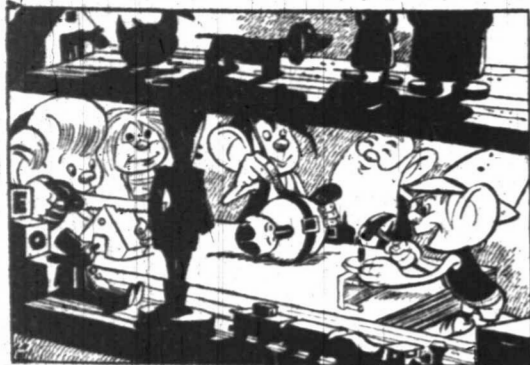

"I just bought some things like my little girl's winter clothes, some shoes and clothes for us, some curtains, rugs and some groceries. The checks were written pretty close to the amount of the purchase but I did get some change in cash, too."

One informed official predicted that all seven industry members would not quit but said it was likely one or more would refuse to stay on the board.

Four Great Faiths

Thus today we stand at a crossroads in the history of our great nation.

"The time has come when we must act, not procrastinate... when we must lead, not follow... when we must speak, not listen... when we must unite, not divide."

Thus writes W. G. Vollmer, president of the Texas and Pacific Railway Company, in a booklet, "Our Four Great Faiths" which now is being distributed by the railroad.

In this crisis, Vollmer recommends a return to the four great faiths of "our founding fathers—Faith in God—Faith in Ourselves—Faith in our Fellow Men—Faith in Freedom."

Our nation, Vollmer continues, was founded upon these Faiths.

"But what about us... and our Faiths?" the author of the booklet asks.

That is the question in which each and every one of us should be interested. That is the question each of us should attempt to answer in all sincerity and in all humility.

"But what about us... and our Faiths?" The future of our great and free nation perhaps hinges on the answer to that all-important question.

Each of the Four Faiths is discussed in a concise and to-the-point fashion by the railway president in his well-written booklet, which is recommended reading for all Americans.

Discussing Faith in Freedom, Vollmer states, "But as we enjoy these blessings, we should remember always that Freedom can be lost... and that it will be lost if we take it for granted."

"Freedom is a sacred trust... one which we must protect and pass on inviolate, unblemished."

"It is our children's birthright... ours to hand on to them and to their children."

"To do this, we must do as those before us have done... we must have Faith in God, who answers prayers... Faith in ourselves and our work... Faith in our Fellow Men, their courage and honesty... Faith in Freedom, its strength and its comfort."

He further states that in order to maintain the Freedoms, Americans must be willing to look to God for guidance and to follow His teachings.

Vollmer's booklet is published in connection with a series of advertisements built around the Four Faiths, as an institutional program of the T&P Railway. It follows another series of advertisements published last year by the railroad urging Americans to "Work, Save, Vote, Pray... to Make America Strong." The initial series attracted more than 25,000 letters of appreciation and approval.

The T&P is to be commended upon its fine and noble efforts, looking toward a greater America and a better world.

Vollmer and his railroad are taking the lead in bringing about a general and long-overdue re-awakening of America's priceless heritages. It is a program which will produce great and lasting benefits.

Editors Point The Way

Before November 4, impartial surveys had gone far to refute charges that we have in this country a "one-party press," if that term be taken to mean a press which unbalances its news coverage of major political events in favor of one candidate over another.

If the term be applied to editorial opinion, that is something else. About two-thirds of the nation's newspapers supported General Eisenhower in the recent election. A considerable share stayed on the fence, and the rest went for Governor Stevenson.

In the past, these papers sometimes have plumped 3 to 1 and 4 to 1 for the Republican presidential ticket. Since the Democratic nominees had been uniformly successful—up to November 4—this fact consistently was cited to prove that "the press is out of touch with the people."

Well, obviously, the nation's dailies and weeklies were not out of touch this time. They very sharply reflected the national mood that it was time for a change. But actually that point is secondary.

Editors are presumed to be somewhat more intimately acquainted than average folk with public affairs, to have superior information on which to base judgments of men and events. If they are so equipped, should it not then be their function to try to mold and lead public opinion, rather than simply to follow or reflect it?

Like any other humans, they may and do commit errors of judgment. But that is no reason they should abandon their public responsibility to help guide the national mind.

The Waiting Room

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: Eisenhower faces problem of uniting Korea or withdrawing altogether; GOP policy has demanded aggressive action against Asiatic communism, not withdrawal; Gen. Mark Clark wants offensive next Spring.

WASHINGTON—In the Summer of 1945, while General Eisenhower was resting from his victory over Germany, there were planted in Korea the seeds of difficulty which he must try to unravel today.

This was a headlong rush by the Siberian red army south to take Korea; matched by a similar rush by the American Army under Mac Arthur North to take Korea.

Faced with a possible clash by two supposedly allied, but potentially hostile armies, their commanders did what Eisenhower did when he withdrew American troops to the River Elbe. They drew a line along the 38th Parallel, and each stopped on its own side.

Russia, which stayed in the North, got 56 per cent of the territory, one-third of the people, the lion's share of the minerals, 50 per cent of the gold, most of the coal, iron, and water-power.

The United States, which remained in the South, got 44 per cent of the territory, two-thirds of the people, the best of the farm land, the best climate, fisheries, and a small amount of industry.

It was this unfortunate, ungainly division which planted the seeds of the present war. For the two sections of Korea have far less chance of existing separately than did our North and South in the 1860's.

It should have been no surprise, however, that the Red army would "rush" Korea. For 80 years, Moscow has cast a greedy eye at the peninsula, has coveted its long shore line, has realized its strategic location.

In fact, it is said that the army that controls Korea can dominate much of Northern Asia.

Twenty years ago, when transportation was relatively old-fashioned, I crossed the narrow strait separating Japan from the tip end of Korea in an antiquated South Manchurian RR ferry-boat in a matter of hours. Today by airplane it's a matter of minutes.

This strait is the bottleneck of the Japan Sea. The nation which guards both the Korean and the Japanese side of the narrow waterway can dominate shipping into Vladivostok at times bottle up Eastern Siberia.

And the nation which has its army on the Korean peninsula, almost cheek and jowl with Japan, is an ever-ready threat to our No. 1 bastion of defense against Asiatic communism.

This plan calls for a troop buildup during the Winter with a full offensive in the Spring. The Navy and Marine Corps urge another amphibious landing behind enemy lines as part of the plan; while the use of Chinese Nationalists from Formosa also is under consideration.

These are the problems Eisenhower will have to decide after he becomes President. They are delicate, difficult problems, which cannot be decided on his trip to Korea. Nor can they be decided by the out-going administration.

However, a decision will have to be made fairly soon, for a big offensive takes months of careful preparation.

The new commander-in-chief as a military man should be well-equipped to make the decision in a manner to inspire public confidence. But along with this military decision must be weighed some vitally important political decisions.

No. 1—Will our UN allies go along with us on an all-out offensive in Korea? The French and British have held back of late; in fact, our UN allies seem even more anxious to wash their hands of Korea than the discouraged American public.

No. 2—Will Moscow retaliate in another part of the world if we start an offensive in Korea? Will she go into Iran while we are busy in Korea? Or will she intensify the attack on Indo-China? Or will she do both? It is perfectly feasible for Moscow to use the troops of satellite countries in various remote parts of the world where we cannot easily retaliate—even if we would.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Whom do you believe in a pinch—your partner or the opponents? There is no surefire answer to this sort of question, of course. You must always take into consideration exactly who your partner is, and who the opponents are.

When today's hand was played in a recent tournament, North's double of four spades sounded like the crack of doom. But you should have heard West's redouble. It practically jolted South out of his chair.

Maybe South was theoretically "wrong" to run out of the redoubled contract. He might easily have discovered that his partner surely could defeat four spades and that there was no possibility at all of making five hearts.

As it happened, however, South's mad dash to five hearts had a fortunate outcome for his side. Four spades were colder than a mackerel, and the rescue saved the North-South bacon (if you don't mind a mixed grill).

West opened the ace of spades and continued with the queen of spades, thus giving South his only real problem in the play of the cards.

South rose to the occasion by playing a low spade from dummy and ruffing in his own hand.

He couldn't afford to play dummy's king of spades, since East would have been happy to ruff this trick away.

South now drew two rounds of trumps and led a diamond towards dummy's king. West could take the ace of diamonds, but that was the last defensive trick. Dummy's king of diamonds and trumps could take care of the rest of South's diamonds, and South could discard his third club on dummy's good king of spades.

Just in case you're wondering, West still is kicking himself—hard—for his redouble. He could have had a fine score for making four spades doubled, but he got no points at all for driving the opponents into a makeable contract of five hearts.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been: South West North East 1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass?

A—You, South, hold: Spades 8-2, Hearts A-K-Q-9-8, Diamond A, Clubs A-J-3-2. What do you do?

A—Bid three clubs. You have a count of 18 points in high cards, two points for the singleton, one point for the doubleton, and perhaps a point or so extra for the strength of the hearts. This is ample for a jump rebid in a new suit.

Even if your partner supports clubs, you will go back to hearts.

Search for a Hero

By Thomas Hal Phillips

THE STORY: Seaford Headover, father of three sons, William and Wallace, 20-year-old twins, and Don, 19, lives a hero. That's why he has an extra for the twins to be on All-American football teams. However, when he asks for a letter and the father thinks he ought to stay home and work to help the family meet expenses. But Wallace snubbed French in high school. Don, however, agrees to take a make-up exam for Wallace because the teacher has had eyesight and can't tell the brothers apart.

JUST AS I went into the living room, the telephone rang. I answered. "It's for you, Papa. It's Mr. Sloane."

"Mr. George?" Ab Sloane was the stationmaster. George Sloane, his son, was the section-foreman. One of them usually called Papa when anything went wrong on the tracks.

Papa said a few words then wheeled away from the telephone; he liked excitement. "The trestle broke through with 26. It was loaded with tanks and what all—two flat wagons through."

"Was anybody hurt?" Mama said. "I don't know. Army tanks scattered all over Tuscumbla bottom."

"Is Sloane to blame?" Mama said. "Of course he's to blame. I told him that trestle wouldn't hold."

"You are next in line for section-foreman!" Mama said. "I reckon I'm next. You finished, Wallace? William? You boys go with me. You might could help."

I had got halfway up the stairs, and then I came back down into the living room. I knew they would not ask me to go, but I wanted them to have no excuse. I stood in the middle of the living room and made all three of them walk past me.

When they were gone, I went upstairs to my room. Anybody who would go a whole year in algebra and miss just one minus sign

Tense Mood Pervades Capital, Waiting For Other Shoe To Fall

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—This city practically is in a state of suspended animation. In a strange, tense mood it's waiting for the other shoe to drop.

It's not exactly the mood anyone would have predicted after a Republican victory. It's certainly not the mood of the rest of the country, which is one of complete relief that the whole thing is over.

There obviously is great apprehension among many government employes about their futures. Even those who aren't likely to lose jobs are concerned. They don't know what will be coming up in the way of a new boss, for instance, or what shifts will take place in their duties.

The employes close to top policy level, a very small fraction, naturally are worried about being fired and finding new jobs.

All this worry is reflected in the real estate market in Washington. Seldom has it been quite so bad. Everybody is wanting to sell. Nobody yet is interested in buying.

Serious Business Ahead But the feeling of job insecurity is far from the overriding mood of the town at this unusual period. It's perhaps best expressed by a local newspaper editor this way:

"The rest of the nation feels that it has done its duty now that it has gone to the polls and voted. It's ready to forget about the whole thing for the next four years if it possibly can."

Unfortunately the people in Washington, most of whose lives one way or another are wrapped up in government, have to go on living with the federal government and keep it going. They know too well the seriousness of what is ahead."

Those persons in town who fought for or craved a Republican victory aren't going through the motions expected of conquering victors, either. As an official at Republican headquarters puts it:

"I think we all kind of forgot during the campaign just exactly what winning entailed. Now that it's all over and we're beginning to size up what's in store, the victory, frankly, doesn't look quite so rosy."

You certainly don't hear the grandiose, optimistic promises of what revelations are going to take place in Washington from any GOP spokesmen, either.

Shocked And Bitter Among many partisan Democratic officialdomers there's still a certain feeling of shocked disbelief. "For 10 years you put everything you've got into a program which you believe to the bottom of your feet will benefit the American people," says an official at the Federal Security Agency.

"Then there is one campaign speech saying what you've done is all wrong, and the voters throw you out," he says. "How do you expect you would feel under those circumstances?"

However, if your partner insists on a club contract you will be delighted to hear about his strong support; and the hand may then be good enough for a slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-8-2, Hearts A-K-Q-9-8, Diamonds 7-5, Clubs A-3. What do you do?

Answer Sunday

WRONG: Leave the music on—and expect your guests to listen to it.

RIGHT: At least pretend that you are more interested in your guests than in your records—so turn the player off and talk to them.

DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent

His feelings are fairly typical of those held by many top officials. Somehow they haven't demonstrated the flexible attitude of the professional politician who quickly can forgive and forget after each election. To them Ike's victory was just as much of a surprise as President Truman's was to the nation in 1948.

There's a bigger residue of bitterness left in Washington over the campaign than probably can be found any place else in the country. Somehow the officeholders here can't comprehend that perhaps some voters voted for a change for the sake of change.

"Didn't Stevenson prove to the people, beyond any doubt just how astute that argument was?" one of them asks.

Right after the election a general in the Pentagon slapped his leg in high glee and said, "You'll be seeing Republicans coming out of the woodwork in droves." He couldn't have been more correct.

The average person out of town would have been honestly surprised to discover just how many vocal Republicans there were in government jobs before the election. But that's nowhere near the multitude you can find now.

Q—Where was the first permanent theater built in America? A—In Philadelphia, in 1766.

What's RIGHT? You are playing records when guests stop by for a visit.

First Skyscraper In Texas Must Go

DENISON —(AP)— Texas' first skyscraper, which in its hey-day overawed folks from Dallas, will be razed.

The Security Building, early day five-story Denison landmark, was condemned this week by the city council which ordered it torn down.

Now owned by K. Wolens, Inc., of Corsicana, the building was completed in 1921 after taking six years to build. That was when Dallas and Denison both had about 10,000 residents and Fort Worth was the queen city of North Texas with 23,000.

Two Marines Save Infant In Burning Jacksonville Home

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.—(AP)— Two Jacksonville Marines, flagged down by a mother crying for help, rescued a four-month-old girl from a burning house Thursday.

The baby, Linda Winn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Winn, was reported in fair condition suffering with third degree burns.

Sgt. Joe L. Smith, 24, was burned slightly on the ears, nose and lips. His companion, T/Sgt. Richard P. Musgrove, 29, was unharmed.

The Marines were driving their recruiting station wagon when stopped by Mrs. Winn, 18, running on the road, pointing to her blazing four-room house and screaming, "My baby's inside!"

Musgrove pushed in the bedroom window and Smith crawled into the smoke-filled room, found the baby, and handed her out.

Durkin To Request Parley With Taft, Labor Leaders

NEW YORK —(AP)— A conference between Senator Robert A. Taft and labor leaders to discuss proposals for amending the Taft-Hartley Act is a major goal of Martin P. Durkin, President-elect Eisenhower's choice for secretary of Labor.

Durkin says he will try to bring about such a conference "as soon as I can," but does not feel free to do it until he assumes office.

A meeting including management representatives "at a later date" also is on Durkin's program.

Revealing his plan at a news conference at Eisenhower's headquarters in the Hotel Commodore Thursday, he predicted that relations between organized labor and the Eisenhower Administration will be "very good."

Durkin—an AFL leader and Democrat who backed Gov. Adlai Stevenson for president—was asked whether Taft's blast "knew" his selection by Eisenhower was "incredibly" might be an obstacle to a Taft-labor conference.

"I don't think so," he replied. Durkin commented that Taft's recent statement contained "no personal attack on me."

Discussing Eisenhower's relations with labor, Durkin said: "Labor wants to see him do good and will give him every assistance to make his Administration a successful one."

The secretary-designate expressed a personal belief that federal labor laws generally require a "basic overhauling." Taft has said he favors changes in the act he co-authored with former Republican Congressman Fred A. Hartley, Jr.

Durkin said he planned the Taft-labor conference to see "if there could be a meeting of the minds as to what amendments could be agreed upon."

Prior to the news conference, Durkin conferred at length with Eisenhower assistants.

County Officials Hear Views On A-Bomb, Natural Gas

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— A member of Congress called for an A-bomb attack on China and a state representative reaffirmed his stand against a gasoline sales tax unless natural gas also is taxed here Thursday.

Both — U. S. Rep. W. R. Bob Poage and State Rep. Dolph Briscoe, Jr.—spoke before the county judges and commissioners association of Texas which continued its meeting here Friday.

Poage said an A-bomb attack on Manchuria and China would break the stalemate in Korea and told the meeting U. S. forces would be slaughtered if a withdrawal was attempted now.

Such an attack by UN forces, Poage said, would not draw Russia into the conflict. The Kremlin is banking on a knockout blow at Washington and New York, he opined, and would not tip its hand in the Far East.

Briscoe, following Poage on the platform, said, "If the State Highway Department is taking county road revenue, then it should also take over road building and maintenance for the counties."

The state is taking the counties' share of gasoline tax and other highway-use taxes, he added.

A natural gas tax, he declared, would be "good business" for Texans because 70 to 75 per cent of such a tax would be paid by persons outside the state.

Nueces County Judge George Prowse, association president, appointed the following South Texans to committees:

Judge Tom Brookshire of Kleberg County and Judge Clarence Rice of Comal County to the resolutions committee; Judge Carlos Palacios of Webb County and Judge Milton Richardson of Hidalgo County to the nominating committee; and Judge Oscar C. Dancy of Cameron County to the committee on the next convention city.

The meeting continues until Saturday noon.

Highest U. S. Honor Goes To Gallant GI

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The nation's highest military award—the Medal of Honor—has been bestowed on a Mississippi soldier who fought to the death to protect the withdrawal of his comrades from a mist-shrouded hill in Korea.

He is Pfc. Mack A. Jordan, 22 years old when he gave his life last November 15, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jordan of Collins, Miss.

The fifty-sixth Medal of Honor announced by the Army for gallantry beyond and above the call of duty in Korea was awarded Private Jordan for his lone and voluntary charge against a Communist unit which had hurled back an American advance.

An eyewitness account of Jordan's heroic deeds was given the Army by his platoon leader, Second Lt. Edward F. Sheehan of Brookton, Mass.

The platoon launched an attack on an enemy hill position under cover of darkness and mist. Near the crest the Americans were halted, then thrown back by a hail of enemy small arms and automatic weapons fire and a shower of grenades.

While the rest of the platoon started to fall back, Jordan crawled forward. He knocked out one machine gun nest with grenades and rifle fire. The surviving Reds withdrew to nearby positions, and Jordan tried to follow.

Before Jordan could clear the nest he had just captured the Reds rolled a packet of explosives down the hill. The blast blew off both of the American soldier's legs. Despite these wounds Jordan continued to fire.

His comrades found him still fighting when they moved back up the hill. He was given first aid on the spot, then carried to the battalion aid station, but died on the way to the regimental collecting position.

Mother, Three Children Killed In Suicide Crash

SUNNYVALE, CALIF. —(AP)— A mother recently treated for a nervous condition drove her car in front of a speeding train Thursday. She and her three children were killed.

State highway police and sheriff's deputies, who found one note in Mrs. Sedora Wilson's purse and two more at her home, called it suicide.

Killed with their 37-year-old mother were John, ten, Sedora, nine and Circa, seven.

Witnesses who saw the crash—which happened just after Mrs. Wilson dropped her husband off at work—said she pulled her car up alongside the Southern Pacific tracks, waited until the Daylight Limited was a short distance away, then drove onto the tracks.

Rites Are Conducted For Texas Journalist

He was a former managing editor of the San Antonio Express and Corpus Christi Caller and at one time was Washington correspondent for the Houston Post.

He also served as San Antonio tax commissioner and chief finance officer.

Daddy Ringtail

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, one day decided he wanted to have a business. A business, you know, is like a store where people sell things or do things for you for money. The Huffen sat and sat there in front of his hollow tree house, thinking and thinking and trying to think of the kind of business he would like to have. "Huffen Puffen," said Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, "I wouldn't do it. You are not a business man."

"Now you let me mind my business," Daddy Ringtail said. The Huffen, because he was going to play like a business man, he was. He would have a business of keeping cookies safe from people until they were ready to eat them. He nailed up a great big sign on his tree, and the sign said: "KEEP YOUR COOKIES SAFE FOR A PENNY."

People heard about the sign. They heard of how the Huffen was now in the business of keeping cookies

Davis Tells Geologists Oil Industry's Future Is Brighter

By JOE SALMAN
Reporter-Telegram Oil Writer

More than 300 Permian Basin geologists and their guests heard Morgan J. Davis sound a note of optimism for the future of the oil industry at the Annual West Texas Geological Dinner Thursday night in Midland.

Davis, president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists and vice president in charge of exploration, Humble Oil & Refining Company, told the gathering that continued success in exploration depends upon maintenance of an optimistic outlook, a willingness to take large calculated risks and a philosophical viewpoint on the part of those charged with responsibility of finding the nation's future oil and gas reserves.

"Exploration forces of the oil industry have made great progress in recent years in the art of finding oil and gas. This progress has been due to a better understanding of the whole field of geology as it relates to petroleum, improved technology which has resulted in increased effectiveness of tools such as geophysical methods, the core-drill, the dipmeter, and various devices for logging drilled holes," Davis said.

Better Cooperation

Davis credited better cooperation between geophysicists and geologists as one of the major factors in the discovery of oil and gas at rates more than high enough to keep pace with steadily increasing demand.

"Proved reserves have grown, notwithstanding high rates of production," the speaker to the group.

The highly debatable Spraberry Trend was used as an example to point out the merits of the discovery of new advances in improved recovery methods.

"We have been aware of shows in the Spraberry for a long time, but until recently we were unable to recover the oil known to be in that formation."

"Due to future improved technology, and a better understanding of the economic aspect of exploration, the Spraberry will, in the future, prove to be a reasonably good payout field," Davis said.

Lloyd Honored

E. Russell Lloyd, Midland independent geologist, was awarded a life membership in the West Texas Geological Society for his outstanding contributions and tireless efforts to the field of geology. The award is the first such honor given to a past member of WTGS.

John Hills, a partner of Lloyd, made the presentation.

Seated at the speakers table were Wallace Pratt and F. L. Aurnin, past presidents of the AAPG. Others at the table were: John Galley, present co-chairman of entertainment, WTGS; W. D. (Dave) Henderson, past WTGS president; Nugent T. Brasler, WTGS treasurer; Paul Kolm, WTGS secretary; Fana Seacor, past WTGS president; John Emery Adams, nominee for AAPG president, and Allen Ehlers, co-chairman of entertainment committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed A. Vogler were responsible for the table arrangements and room decorations which carried out the Christmas theme.

The dinner, held in the Midland High School Cafeteria, attracted a capacity crowd.

L. E. (Ed) Patterson, Jr., WTGS president, was master of ceremonies and Lloyd introduced the speaker.

He bought the place at auction. Whittington, sentenced to 90 days on the farm on a charge of possessing liquor in home-dry Mississippi, appealed the conviction and sentence. Before his appeal came up the county governing board decided to sell the farm at auction.

Whittington was the high bidder Thursday.

Court Ponders New Claim To Ownership Of Spindletop Area

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals has heard arguments in a case in which three Tennessee residents claim title to a portion of the Spindletop Oil Field in Jefferson County, Texas.

The court took the case under advisement Thursday and did not indicate when a decision would be handed down.

Claiming 3,900 acres in the oil field are L. R. Glover, Carter County, Tenn.; W. M. Foust, Anderson County, and Haze Brantley, Knox County.

In addition to claiming ownership of the land, the three are asking damages of 500 million dollars. They are suing 17 individuals and companies which now have possession of the land.

The claimants alleged they are the true heirs of Pelham Humphries, who came into possession of the land on Feb. 14, 1835, through a Spanish land grant.

The trio also alleged that the present owners obtained the land through forged titles.

Walter Clemons, a Houston attorney who represented the defendants, told the court the titles held by the present owners are legitimate.

The defense said there have been about 57 law suits brought by persons claiming ownership of the land since the first oil gusher was brought in during 1901, and the Spanish title claim was not upheld in any of these suits.

Lutherans Discuss New Church Plans

Midland may have a new Lutheran Church early next year, the Rev. E. H. Peterson of Dallas said here Thursday afternoon.

It will be the Evangelical Lutheran Church, an affiliate of the National Lutheran Council.

Mr. Peterson was in Midland seeking a site for the proposed church building, and contacting prospective members. He also was investigating the possibility of buying or building a parsonage here.

He returned to Dallas Friday.

Mr. Peterson submitted his resignation November 9 as pastor of the Oak Cliff Lutheran Church in Dallas to accept a call from the denomination's Board of Missions to organize a new Midland church. The Dallas congregation refused to accept his resignation at the time but Mr. Peterson said formal action on the matter is expected to be taken this week or next.

Lights Burn On Faded Tree For Marine Forever Absent

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—The once-gay tinsel ornaments are a bit faded and dusty now. The branches are brittle and the needles are dropping off.

But a Christmas tree in a modest Albuquerque home still is waiting for a Marine who will never come home.

The tree was decorated two years ago . . . a special tree for a special Marine. Cpl. Richard Lopez was coming home for good after two years in the merchant marine and six years in the Marine Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Salvador Lopez had just turned on the lights two years ago when a letter came from Richard. He would be a little delayed; the Chinese had just entered the Korean War. Please save the tree.

The branches were still green when they learned Richard was trapped with other Marines in the Chosen Reservoir area. The ornaments glowed a bit brighter when they learned he had escaped and was coming home.

They moved into another house and took the tree carefully along. They didn't notice the tree was turning brown until the day they got a telegram saying Richard had been drowned at Kobe, Japan, on July 15, 1951—on his way home.

The lights were turned on again Thursday on the little tree. It'll be up again next year.

"I promised him I would save his Christmas for him," said Mrs. Lopez.

Thousands Attend Gala Furr Event

Braving a chilling night air for an evening of attractions, between 15,000 and 20,000 persons attended the grand opening of Furr's Super Market at Andrews Highway and Michigan Street Thursday night.

Visitors inspected the modern store—the largest of Furr's group of 31 stores in West Texas and New Mexico and one of the largest in the Southwest.

The beautiful structure is in pastel colors, with streamlined fixtures, wide aisles, "magic carpet" doors, revolving checking stands, refrigerated produce, meats, frozen foods, dairy products up to almost 300 lineal feet, and a complete market.

No sales were conducted, with approximately $1,000 in merchandise awarded. Hawaii baby orchids went to the first 3,900 visiting the store, while everyone received refreshments and souvenir balloons.

Stage Show Held

Adding to the festivities was two stage shows, just north of the building on the parking lot, with Bob Hart as the chief entertainer.

Principal attractions slated for Friday and Saturday at Furr's are awarding 10 pounds of C and H sugar with a purchase of $10 or more, bread knives to the first 400 visitors in the morning.

Other attractions included registration for awarding on Christmas Eve of a Buick Special Deluxe and the two Crosby television, radio and phonograph sets.

Officials Attend

The special train was carrying J. P. Cowley, vice president and general manager of the Santa Fe, and other officials on an inspection trip.

Search For Three Prisoner Fugitives Centers In Maryland

CUMBERLAND, MD.—(AP)—Three dangerous convicts were hunted in this Western Maryland area Friday and police also kept watch on the Charlestown, W. Va., race track.

The three being sought are the only ones still at large after 10 prisoners made a mass break for freedom at the Western State Penitentiary in Pittsburgh last Sunday.

The search here was concentrated in a section of the city where a stolen car was located Thursday. It was the second of two stolen cars which turned up in this vicinity after they were reported missing in Oakland, Md., and Mountsville, W. Va.

Authorities kept a wary eye on the race track, 88 miles southeast of Cumberland, on the theory the escapees might be trying to make some easy money. State police here got word that one of the fugitives, Virgil Toney, 41, had remarked he could make some money if he could get to a race track.

Authorities described the trio as the most dangerous of the bunch that fled.

Merry's the Day you make this yours

How would you like the fun of Christmas-time to last all the year through?

That's the way it seems to be when you call this Buick beauty your own—what with the constant cheer it brings to you week after week, month after month.

The cheer of traveling in style that's bright and gay as a holiday wrapping.

The cheer of having rich and spacious comfort—plus the cheery thought that nowhere else can you get as much room for the money.

The cheer of knowing abundant and mighty able power is on call, with all the solid trift of a Fireball 8 Engine that's valve-in-head and high-compression too.

The cheer of riding wonderfully buoyant, level and steady—with a ride that feels like the million dollars it cost to perfect.

The cheer of taking your travel free and easy—with Dynaflo Drive* doing the chores in letter-perfect smoothness—with Power Steering** assisting to make parking and slow-motion maneuvers no task at all.

Even the price is a cheerful note here—low enough, you'll find, to crowd the so-named "low-price three."

That means action is called for this very week, to make the most of this good deal while it lasts.

Why not drop in today or tomorrow and see how much cheer is to be found in a Buick showroom right now?

GI's Confident Ike Will Find War's Solution

WITH EISENHOWER IN KOREA—(P)—U. S. President-elect Eisenhower is safely out of Korea and enroute home Friday night after three action-packed days of seeking a way to peace in this frozen land of war and misery.

Whether this unprecedented mission will prove to be a failure or a success only time can tell.

Eisenhower kept to himself and strategy he might be forming. But he hinted one of the first moves would be a speedup in training South Koreans to take over most of the combat burden now falling on the Americans.

American officers working with the South Koreans feel much can be done but no one should expect too much too soon despite the startling progress made in two years in building the Republic of Korea (ROK) forces.

Eisenhower's visit had a by-product of skyrocketing the spirit of American troops and giving them hope that if there is a road to peace, it will be found.

The general's visit to combat units near the front did not take him into the front lines. The military said the Secret Service were careful to see that he did not go beyond division headquarters—usually three or four miles from the actual battle-line—for security reasons.

Long Arm Of Law Mistakes Ex-Pickpocket For Grandma

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Some-where Grandmas the Bank Robber, her identity still her secret, might be enjoying a little chuckle Friday.

Police thought they might have a suspect in the case of the elderly gal who has pulled three Los Angeles bank holdups during the last few weeks and escaped with $4,800.

But it's turned out that Alfred H. Hughes, 60, arrested after an air line ticket office robbery Tuesday night, is a bespectacled ex-pickpocket. His criminal record dates back 30 years.

His hair and slight build had fooled Grandmas - conscious detectives to question him rather fully about the bank jobs.

Then the taxi-driver who unwittingly drove Grandmas to and from her last bank holdup was called in. He said Hughes wasn't the bank robber. She had woman's hands, well kept and without freckles.

Departure—

(Continued From Page One) ramp to the unloading platform and six newsmen strolled one by one to the car driven by Secret Service Agent Ed Sweeney.

Sweeney moved out quickly toward the East River, across the big Triborough Bridge over the East River and out Long Island to a back road paralleling Mitchell Field.

The gate opened and we followed a car that swung suddenly into the gate to guide us. Then the big Constellation loomed ahead.

There were two Constellations, one for Eisenhower and his party of seven. They included Eisenhower's old friend, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

The second plane carried the newsmen, Col. Paul T. Carroll of Woonsocket, R. I., temporarily assigned to the party; Hagerty, and Secret Service Agent Richard Flohr.

In addition both planes carried double crews of 22 men. This was a total of 39 aboard the ships.

The Eisenhower plane took off at 5:55 a.m., just as the blackness was turning to gray.

Alabama is eighth among coal-producing states.

Eisenhower Wings Way To U.S.

(Continued From Page One) Korea, Eisenhower did not leave his plane until it reached lonely Iwo Jima in the Pacific. He had remained quietly aboard while the sleek Constellation refueled at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Hickam Field, Hawaii, and Midway.

The long-range Constellation could have made much longer jumps but the Air Force chose safer leaping island flights to insure plenty of fuel was aboard.

On Iwo, Eisenhower leaped to the top of historic Mount Suribachi, a symbol of Marine heroism in World War II.

Even on bleak Iwo, Eisenhower took time out for talks and inspections and was briefed on the problems of the island.

Carried Two Crews On the long jaunt from New York, Eisenhower's plane carried a double crew to insure that a rested and alert hand was on the controls at all times.

One was Maj. William G. Draper, Washington, D. C., the general's pilot in Europe when he headed the NATO forces.

Another plane followed. This carried newsmen and the general's press secretary, James C. Hagerty.

A Secret Service man was aboard each plane. The general carried out a campaign promise to go to Korea and see what could be done about the stalemated war.

ing for a stroll. The might of the U. S. Army and the American Secret Service combined to give him every protection possible.

A small party accompanied the general while his New York headquarters threw up a news screen by doling out the names of the general's future cabinet and aides.

As Eisenhower left Korea, General Clark, United Nations Far East commander and the man credited with giving the President-elect his first big chance as a leader of combat men, stood at his side.

General Van Fleet, a football warrior at West Point with Eisenhower and now ground commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea.

Talks With Rhee The 77-year-old ROK president, Syngman Rhee, was on hand in battered Seoul, the 500-year-old Korean capital, to talk with Eisenhower.

A large contingent of American, Korean, Japanese, British, French, Italian and other newsmen waited for him at snow-covered Kimpo Airfield outside Seoul.

But the general's movements were shielded so carefully many Korean school children and admirers missed him.

There were banners on the rubble buildings of Seoul welcoming him and one duplicated the slogan of his followers in the United States election by proclaiming, "We Like Ike, Too."

Diplomats from many countries interested in Asia thronged the capital.

Jittery protectors of the next President kept a sharp watch for bomb-throwing, fanatical Communists wherever the general went.

Police Still Seek Young Desperado

HOUSTON—(P)—Police of the state pressed the search Friday for Raymond Fairris, charged in the $14,000 robbery of a Houston jewelry store, but they half expected him to surrender.

Sam Hoover, Pasadena attorney, told police Fairris telephoned him seven times Wednesday without finding Hoover in his office.

And Hoover said he would surrender the fugitive "the minute I can make contact with him."

Hoover Thursday posted a $10,000 bond for Joyce O'Neal, 22, charged with robbery with firearms as an alleged accomplice of Fairris.

A nation-wide police broadcast for Fairris was made Wednesday night and the broadcast said the 20-year-old nephew of Ray Hamilton, notorious badman of the 1930's was armed and dangerous.

Thursday, a dozen cars of Houston police and Harris County sheriffs deputies blocked highways east of the city in a vain effort to catch Fairris. Their only catch was a 29-year-old friend of the young hoodlum, whom police quoted as saying: "I wouldn't even let my own brother in my car if he was as hot as Fairris is."

Fairris on parole from a Kansas reformatory was charged Wednesday night after Ralph A. Perry, owner of the robbed jewelry store, identified him from a regule's gallery picture.

HUMOR VENDOR NOT LAUGHING

LONDON—(P)—Humorist A. P. Herbert was furious Friday at a great admirer of his works—his former chief cook of one day.

The kitchen expert—a lady known only as Mary Jane—started work in the Herbert household Thursday. She prepared one good meal, told her boss how much she liked his writings—then disappeared with 100 pounds ($280) worth of the household silver.

Scotland Yard informed Herbert—more formally known as Sir Alan—since he was knighted by the late King George VI in 1945—that he need not be too hurt.

Mary Jane has tricked hundreds of other persons in a similar manner.

John H. Perry, Sr., Owner Of WNU, Dies WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(P)—John Holliday Perry, Sr., 71, a Kentucky farm boy who became one of the nation's chief publishing executives, died Thursday.

Perry owned the vast Western Newspaper Union; 11 daily and 18 weekly newspapers in Florida and Kentucky; four Florida radio stations and numerous other companies affiliated with these enterprises. He also had large real estate holdings, including farm enterprises at Carrollton, Ky.

Death resulted from a cerebral thrombosis.

Ochoa Says Mexican Court Saves Him From Execution

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—George Ochoa, who faces charges of a double murder at Laredo if he ever crosses the Rio Grande, says his "fatherland" has saved him from the electric chair.

The debarred former Laredo customs broker successfully has evaded extradition efforts for three years, contending that he is a Mexican citizen. U. S. authorities say he once claimed U. S. citizenship.

"I have been saved from a seat in the electric chair, thanks to the justice of my fatherland," Ochoa said in an interview at the federal prison Thursday. He was commenting on a recent ruling of the Mexican Supreme Court that evidence presented against Ochoa was insufficient to have him returned to Texas for trial. Lower Mexican courts have held that he should be extradited.

The high court decision apparently was the final block to extradition, however, if the federal District Attorney General here believes the evidence against Ochoa is strong enough that he can be tried in Mexico, although the killings took place in Laredo.

Ochoa said this possibility didn't worry him.

"If the gringos could not prove the crime against me, there is even less chance Mexican authorities can," he said. "I said I was innocent and I stuck to that. I am infinitely grateful to the Mexican judges because this time they did their duty and listened to a call for justice."

Ochoa is charged with the fatal shootings of Henry Whittenburg, Jr., McAllen, Texas, and Cpl. James Lindsay, Oneta, Tenn., the night of July 31, 1949. Their bodies were found in separate rooms of a Laredo hotel.

Senators Say Taft Outburst On Durkin Won't Divide Party

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two Republican senators poured oil on troubled waters Friday in the wake of Senator Robert A. Taft's sharp protest against selection for secretary of Labor.

"I don't think one remark should be considered a split any more than one swallow makes a Summer," Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) told reporters. "We've got many big problems and we've got to work them out as a team."

A similar note was struck by Senator Watkins (R-Utah) in a separate interview. He said he thought Republican senators would be "a peaceful group" when they assemble for the start of the next Congress on January 3.

Watkins, who supported Taft for the GOP presidential nomination, said that, despite talk to the contrary, he did not think there was "any feud or fight" over the post of Republican floor leader in the new Senate.

This is a position providing the most ready access to the man in the White House.

Watkins also said he did not think the selection of a floor leader would be affected by Taft's statement on Tuesday denouncing an "incredible appointment" Eisenhower's selection of Martin P. Durkin, a Democrat, as secretary of Labor in his Cabinet.

Dulles Talks Clear Relations Between Old, New Regimes

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Relations between the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations in the field of foreign policy for the next six weeks now have been clarified in talks between John Foster Dulles and top State Department officials.

Dulles, who will be secretary of State in President-elect Eisenhower's Administration, made his initial post-election contacts with officials here during the last two days.

Barring some unforeseen and critical developments, Dulles, prior to taking office January 20, will use the resources of the State Department to make a survey of (1) U. S. policies around the world, and (2) the department's operations.

He is not expected, however, to engage in consultation on routine foreign operations or, as some officials here had thought probable, to make the State Department his headquarters.

Should an emergency arise it is understood that both Dulles and President-elect Eisenhower stand ready to consult with the present Administration in effort to form a united front in dealing with it.

Should Eisenhower and Dulles decide that some action was urgently required and should be taken by the United States before January 20, the Truman Administration stands ready to consider their recommendations and put them into effect if it agrees.

NEW YORK —(AP)—Michigan State and Georgia Tech, the two major undefeated college football teams of 1952, each placed two men on The Associated Press All-America based on the recommendations of eight regional boards of experts comprising well-known sports writers and sportscasters.

Raiders Seek To Resurrect Poor Season

LUBBOCK—Two young, split-T teams—Texas Tech and North Carolina State—try to partly redeem disappointing seasons in an inter-sectional contest here Saturday afternoon.

Tech, now with a 2-7-1 record, almost washed away all its sins last week by coming within three bits of tying or beating the University of Tulsa. The Golden Hurricane, twelfth in the nation, first nationally in total offense, eked out a 26-20 win over the Red Raiders.

North Carolina State, likewise building, has won three games while losing six. But some of those defeats were to such powers as Pittsburgh, Duke, and Georgia.

Horse Hendrickson, former Duke quarterback in his first year at the Raleigh school, will have a freshman signal caller, Eddie Frantz of Charlotte, N. C., directing his attack. Frantz moved up to the first team in mid-season after leading NC State's junior varsity to a 19-13 victory over the Wake Forest Jaycees.

Another builder, DeWitt Weaver, Tech's coach for the second year, will rely on a sophomore, Jerry Johnson of Hale Center, for most of his quarterbacking.

Only 17 men—nine from Texas Tech and eight from North Carolina State—will be completing their college eligibility.

The Boys Town team arrives in Houston Friday afternoon and will work out there.

Cliff Perreau, Hollywood child movie star, will arrive in Houston Friday night. She will be crowned "Queen of the Milk Bowl."

The game will be aired over 500 stations of the Mutual Broadcasting Company.

Proceeds of the game will go to Rosenberg youth projects and to the Lions Club Camp for Crippled Children at Kerrville.

Rotary Strives For Upset Over Whiskered Wizards

It's always an upset when the famed Whiskered Wizards basketball team is defeated, and the Rotary Engineers of Midland will be battling to do that at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Midland High School auditorium.

Bill Steinecke, former New York Yankee catcher, manages the Wizards, while Jack Locke is heading the Rotary Engineers.

Sponsored by the Midland Optimist Club, game proceeds will be used in the club's worthy projects for youths.

With a record of 751 games won and 78 lost, the Wizards are heavy favorites, but the Engineers have not thrown in the towel by any means. With a roster of former college and high school players, the Engineers have been working out for the last month and should be in peak condition for the battle.

Some of the greatest names in cage play is featured on the Wizard roster, including Jim Keller, a six-foot, five-inch forward who always is remembered for his one-handed shots.

Jim Veltin, Optimist's Club president, said that Midlanders will have an opportunity to see some of the best basketball action to be found anywhere in the Wizard-Engineers tussle.

New Horned Frog Coach Takes Over

FORT WORTH —(AP)—Texas Christian had a new head football coach Friday—the first in 19 years. He is Othol (Abe) Martin, who succeeds his former teacher, L. R. (Dutch) Meyer, the oldest head coach in point of service in the Southwest Conference.

Meyer resigned Thursday and the reins of the Horned Frogs, whom Meyer built into national powers, were turned over to Martin, a man who was successful as a high school coach and who has been Meyer's assistant since 1946.

Who will become assistant coach to replace Martin hasn't been determined but the new head mentor said he probably would pick a former Texas Christian football player. The staff at present is composed solely of former TCU players.

In Martin, TCU gets that rare variety of coach who is willing to go on the line with a prediction of how his team will come out. When he was a high school coach, Martin's standard statement before a game was, "We'll run them out of the park." He usually did. In 10 years as a high school mentor, Martin won seven district championships. He coached at El Paso High, Lubbock and Paschal (Fort Worth).

Meyer, one of the most colorful coaches in the game and the man who exemplified the forward pass as a standard offensive weapon with such passing greats as Sam Baugh and Dyer O'Brien to do the throwing, has been at Texas Christian since 1917.

Meyer's teams won 119 games, lost 79 and tied 13.

Minor Leagues Adopt New Bonus Limit Rule

By JOE REICHLER
PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(AP)—The minor leagues wind up their convention Friday after having adopted a new bonus law, passed the old high school rule, put in a waiver rule designed to hold on to their star players and voted down a proposal that would have revolutionized the entire structure of baseball.

At the same time the National and American Leagues, on the eve of their official opening, held separate meetings or television and radio rights which ended unsatisfactorily with each league divided into two camps.

The minors unanimously voted to accept the bonus rule proposed by the Executive Council that was designed to curb payments of $25,000 to $100,000 to untied youngsters.

It must, however, be ratified by the major leagues at their joint meeting next Sunday to become effective.

The rule designates as a "bonus player" any free agent who has received in excess of $4,000 from a Class A club and up to $2,000 from a Class B club or one of lower classification. The majors are permitted to pay $5,000 in salary and bonuses. A major league bonus player must be kept two years. A minor league bonus player cannot be moved up for year, at the end of which time he becomes subject to unrestricted draft.

A major league club violator can be fined $2,000. A minor league violator costs the club $1,000. The individual responsible also could be fined $500.

The high school rule permits scouts to talk to boys but forbids them to be signed until their class graduates.

In an effort to stop the practice of major league clubs raiding their farms by bringing up promising athletes in mid-season, the minors voted unanimously to prohibit the recall of players after July 31. A player sent out on option must stay with the club 15 days which he is sent for a least 10 days. Only in an extreme emergency, such as a player on the parent team getting hurt, can a big league club request and receive permission to recall a player.

Veeck Proposal Squeezed

The minors squelched a revolutionary proposal by Bill Veeck, president of the St. Louis Browns, that would have forbidden major league clubs from signing a player without previous experience, and would have made all minor league players eligible for draft after their first year in professional baseball.

The assembly not only voted the proposal down overwhelmingly but ruled that hereafter no proposal or amendment can be made from the floor, as Veeck's was done, without the sponsor giving at least 15 days notice to the association prior to the convention.

The major league meetings on television resulted in open splits in each circuit. After voting down two proposals by Veeck either to eliminate television altogether or split the TV receipts, the American League divided into two camps. Six clubs agreed to a two-year reciprocal agreement starting January 1 on TV and radio rights. The Browns and Chicago White Sox refused to give permission to broadcast or televise any of their games. Naturally, they will not broadcast or televise their home games against the six other clubs.

Ring Czars Lift Robinson's Title

NEW YORK —(AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission stripped Sugar Ray Robinson of his world middleweight title in a surprise move early Friday.

The action brought this report from George Gainford, Robinson's manager. "Somebody is screwing me up. A title is won in a ring and taken away in a ring."

Robert Christenberry, commission chairman, declared Robinson's title was being vacated because he had not met the rule which requires a champion to defend his title every six months.

"We had given him an extra month to decide whether to continue his boxing or go into a career as an entertainer," said Christenberry. "Up to now we have not had an answer."

To this, Gainford asserted he had mailed a special delivery letter to Christenberry before he and Robinson left New York.

"It is our understanding that we were only to notify the commission that negotiations were underway for a fight," Gainford said. "In the letter, which Christenberry should receive today (Friday), we explain that we are negotiating with Solomons, the British promoter, for a title fight with Randy Turpin in London next June."

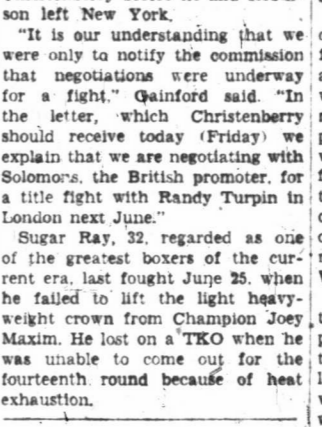

Sugar Ray, 32, regarded as one of the greatest boxers of the current era, last fought July 25, when he failed to lift the light heavyweight crown from Champion Joey Maxim. He lost on a TKO when he was unable to come out for the fourteenth round because of heat exhaustion.

Dallas Texas League Club Fights To End Major 'Domination'

PHOENIX —(AP)—The Dallas Club of the Texas League, rebuffed in its efforts to terminate the major-minor league agreement at the minor league convention Thursday, will plead its case before Commissioner Ford Frick and will appeal to the courts for a ruling only after all other efforts have failed, League Attorney Prentice Wilson said Friday.

Only disappointed by the overwhelming vote against the two proposals submitted by the Dallas Club to either permit all minor league players to waive their draft rights, or terminate the major-minor agreement, Wilson said the Texas League would continue its fight against "major league domination" of baseball until "an equal distribution of power and control is brought about in the minor leagues."

"The way it stands now," said Wilson, "the independent minor league club is at the mercy of the majors. In actuality, it is taxation without representation. The interests of the major leagues are directly opposed to those of the minors. They violate the terms of their own contract but they won't give us the privilege of trying to adjust or revise the contract. I am in favor of tearing up the old contract and writing another one with teeth in it."

State Board Writes Out Use Fee System For Flowing Waters

AUSTIN—(P)—A plan by which the state would charge fees for use of all public flowing waters would raise $2,057,000 a year to build dams and reservoirs, the Governor's Water Committee leaders were told Thursday.

The four key subcommittees of the water group met here to coordinate their recommendations before a full committee December 18.

Victor Building, Houston attorney and chairman of the panel on state financing of water projects, said industry would pay most of the water fee bill—about $1,340,000.

Tun's Assassination Of Labor Chief Adds Fuel To Talks In UN

TUNIS, TUNISIA—(P)—Farhat Hached, Tunisian trade union official and a nationalist leader, was shot to death Thursday night near his bullet-riddled automobile on a highway south of Tunis.

French authorities immediately placed a 10 a. m. to 6 a. m. curfew on Tunis and the surrounding area. The murder came at a time when Tunisian demands for independence were being heard at the UN sessions in New York.

Gen. Jean de Hautecloque, the French President-General in Tunisia, was in Paris at the time. He left immediately by plane for Tunis.

He was conferring with Premier Antoine Pinay on new measures for quelling nationalist violence which has claimed, at least 116 lives in the last 10 months in the North African protectorate.

Icy Weather Slows Action On War Front

SEOUL—(P)—Allied fighter-bombers plastered Chinese Reds on the Central Front for the third straight day Friday.

Other UN planes ranged deep into North Korea and attacked Communist supply and troop targets.

Action virtually was stopped along the frozen battle front. The Reds threw no more than 40 men into their scattered jobs at the Allied lines.

A UN raiding party shot up a Chinese outpost on the western front Thursday. The raiders withdrew to their own lines after killing an estimated 158 Reds.

South Koreans standing firm on Sniper Ridge, on the central front, repulsed Chinese squads probing the icy slopes.

Okinawa-based Superforts blasted a big supply center at Cholsan in extreme Northwestern Korea, some 25 miles northeast of the Communist jet fighter base at Antung, Manchuria. The B29's bucked 100 mile-an-hour winds to reach the target.

Classified Ads are little because they need not be big to get attention. Classified Ad readers are interested only in what the Classified Ads offer—not their size. Besides, a small Classified Ad costs very little. A 15 word ad four days costs less than a carton of cigarettes.

NEW PONTIAC FOR 1953—The new Dual-Streak Pontiac for 1953 went on display Friday in the showrooms of the Curtis Pontiac Company, 2600 West Wall Street, in Midland. Advanced styling is incorporated along with many other improved features in the new cars. The Custom Catalina, pictured, is one of 11 body types in three Chieftain series—Special, DeLuxe and Custom.

Pontiacs For 1953 Go On Display In Midland

Pontiac Motor's Friday unveiled its 1953 line of Dual-Streak Chieftain cars in a nation-wide program of simultaneous dealer showings. The new models are on display at the Curtis Pontiac Company, 2600 West Wall Street, here.

The 1953 Pontiac introduces a completely new line of automobiles with new roomier bodies, mounted on longer wheelbase chassis, with important improvements incorporated in styling, riding qualities, ease of steering, and equipment; and, in the case of the six cylinder models, substantially increased power.

Eleven body styles are incorporated in the new line in three series, the Special, DeLuxe and Custom. They include two and four-door sedans, three station wagons, a convertible coupe and two new Catalinas. An addition to the line is the two seat station wagon with folding rear seat arrangement. Each series is introduced with either eight or six cylinder engines.

Featuring the new bodies, which are immediately distinguishable from previous models by their large one-piece curved windshields, high deck contour, modern rear-fin fender design and completely revised styling of sheet metal and trim, are new luxurious and highly practical interiors.

In addition, such engineering advances as power steering, as optional equipment, modified Curve Control front suspension, ignition key starting, electronic headlight dimmers, improved Dual-Range Hydraulic transmissions, and other technical developments characterize the new cars.

While roomier, the new Pontiacs are more streamlined than heretofore and are characterized by a marked increase in driver and passenger vision.

There are many appearance changes in the new Pontiacs which begin at the front bumper and extend the length of the car. The new bumper styling gives an impression of massive strength. There is a completely re-designed, more massive radiator grille, the elements of which carry out the styling theme of the car.

The longer wheelbase chassis—122 inches as compared with 120 last year—is mounted on a sturdy frame redesigned to accommodate the larger bodies, the new Curve Control front suspension and other changes made to enhance riding qualities, steering ease, and roadability of the new cars.

Government Hurts New Heavy Tax Blow At Gambler Binion

LAS VEGAS—(AP)—Gambler Benny Binion and his wife, Teddy Jane Binion, have received another blow from the government.

Tax liens totaling more than $1,000,000 were filed against the couple Thursday by Roland D. Wise, acting director of the Internal Revenue District of Nevada.

They allege unpaid income taxes from 1946 through 1949 and constitute notice to the public that the couple's assets are tied up by the federal government.

They do not charge evasion. Binion, operator of the Horse Shoe Club here, one of the city's larger gambling casinos, has been a resident of Las Vegas several years.

Recently he has been ordered by Federal Judge Leon Yankwich to return to his old home in Texas to face a federal indictment in connection with his 1948 income tax.

Binion's lawyers, arguing that their client would place his life in jeopardy if he returned to Texas, have appealed the removal order. Texas authorities want to try him on charges that involve a million-dollar policy wheel syndicate.

Liens against Binion claim unpaid income taxes of $47,423.61 in 1946; $306,424.41 in 1947; $96,434.47 in 1948; $53,470.83 in 1949. Those against Mrs. Binion are for $33,907.41 in 1946; $219,822.01 in 1947; $67,809.38 in 1948 and $37,186.35 in 1949.

Gas Heater Blast Hurts Six Pupils

HOUSTON—(AP)—A gas heater exploded at the Fairbanks community school northwest of here Thursday injuring six elementary school students.

Mark Hull, nine, was knocked unconscious but had recovered by the time he arrived at a North Houston hospital and was not believed hurt seriously. The other five were given first aid at the scene.

Officers said the explosion apparently was caused by an accumulation of leaking gas in the thermostat-controlled heater.

The six injured were hit by the metal grillwork on the heater.

Alice High School Damaged By Flames

ALICE—(AP)—Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused Thursday night when fire swept the west wing of Alice High School.

School Supt. William Hadley, who made the estimate, said the blaze destroyed the superintendent's office, a board room and four classrooms. All teachers', personnel and administrative records went up in flames, he said.

Hadley said the blaze apparently came from an explosion in the air conditioning system.

Precocious Scientists Star As Texas Academy Meets

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The precocious ones stole the show as early arrivals showed up for Friday's meeting of the Texas Academy of Science.

But the oldsters were expected to take over Friday in full force with dedication of Texas Christian University's new $2,000,000 science building.

A member of the Junior Academy of Science—Eton Stubbfield of Denton High School—Friday showed the early arrivals how tropical "swordtail" fish may help find a cancer cure.

In a cufer film, the high school youngster demonstrated how a hybrid of the tiny fish has a tendency to develop cancer cells in its tail. It's possible, he said, to control this tendency, and injection of suspected cancer viruses can be tested.

San Angeloan Gets Contract On New Rankin High School

RANKIN—General contract for the construction of a new high school building and alterations of the existing elementary school building here was awarded Thursday to Warner Construction Company of San Angelo on a bid of $340,791.10.

The Rankin School Board also awarded a contract for the plumbing and heating work to C. C. White of Albany for $63,236. Westbrook Electric Company of San Angelo outbid competitors for the electrical contract for $19,252.

The contracts provides for work to be completed in 220 days, Walton Poage, board president, said.

The new high school building is designed to relieve over-crowded conditions in the school system and will provide for 20 classrooms, an auditorium, shop and administration area.

The present high school is to be converted into a junior high. Elementary school work will include rearrangement of existing kitchen area and addition of more dining room space.

Reuther, New Boss Of CIO Vows Active Union Program

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—The CIO's new president, Walter P. Reuther, Friday charted a fighting program to keep the labor organization an active factor in America's industrial life.

Reuther, in a speech accepting the post as successor to the late Philip Murray, said he would strive for the biggest possible gains for workers already organized, and campaign vigorously to organize workers who are now non-union.

Election of the dynamic, 45-year-old Reuther, head of the big CIO auto workers union, came late Thursday as a climax to the CIO's annual convention.

It capped a bitterly-contested fight pitting Reuther against a union old-timer and former coal miner, Allan S. Haywood, 64, who was promptly re-elected as the CIO's executive vice president after losing the showdown to Reuther.

The split in CIO ranks over the election apparently was healed quickly—at least on the surface. Both the Reuther and Haywood forces pledged continued allegiance to the CIO.

No Plush Cushions

Reuther said, "I say to the men who sit on their plush cushions of the Union League Clubs of America, I say this for you who are convention delegates and I say it for the millions of what they pay me," he told newsmen. "I'm in here because I believe in what they're doing."

Reuther, it was reported reliably, will undergo an operation soon for removal of gallstones. The condition has bothered him for some time, and surgery has been delayed for six months.

A man with a meteoric career in the labor movement, Reuther has come up through the tough days of organizing the auto industry. A one-time socialist, he has supported numerous social change ideas.

In outlining his aims to the CIO convention, Reuther spoke of the social changes accomplished by the New Deal and Fair Deal were only stepping-stones to the goals he wants.

Despite Reuther's declarations that the split within CIO ranks would close without scars, some CIO officials were afraid of future dissension because of the close vote.

The ballot result was announced at 3:07 p.m. for Reuther, and 2:13 p.m. for Haywood, giving Reuther a margin of about eight per cent of the CIO's claimed membership. The votes were cast by some 600 delegates, with certain numbers of ballots allocated to various unions in the CIO.

Texas Admits Role In CCC Fund Switch

DENVER—(AP)—A Fort Worth man has entered a guilty plea to federal charges of participating in converting to personal use almost $1,000,000 worth of beans owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The plea was entered here Thursday for Robert R. Wilson, who has been indicted by a federal grand jury.

Harold and Halworth Tanner, Cortez, Colo., brothers, were charged in the same case.

Motion To Dismiss Blub Charge Denied

HOUSTON—(AP)—A motion to dismiss a seven-count fraud indictment against Erwin W. Blum, former director of the Houston Housing Authority, has been denied by Federal Judge James V. Allred.

The judge's action was announced Thursday at the U. S. district attorney's office here.

Allred ruled Blum must go to trial in Corpus Christi, January 5, on at least six, and possibly all seven, counts of the indictment, returned here last September.

The case was changed to Corpus Christi on a change of venue.
