Schleicher Areas Gain Sites For Three Explorers

Three wildcats have been staked in Schleicher County for immediate drilling.

Carter & Carter No. 1 J. F. Webster will be dug 330 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 1, block 8, TW&NG survey and 25 miles east of the town of Eldorado.

It is slated for tests of the Ellenburger or production in one of the upper formations.

Carter & Carter No. 2 Webster will be dug two and one-half miles due south of No. 1 Webster. It is 660 feet from north and east lines of survey 1, block A-1, and 25 miles east of Eldorado.

It also is a test for production in the Ellenburger.

Humble Oil & Refining Company will dig No. 1 Mrs. Olivia Spencer 16 miles southwest of Eldorado. It is slated for an 8,000-foot bottom. Location is 1,980 feet from north and 600 feet from east lines of section 176, block A, HE&WT survey.

Gas Flow Gauged At Humble Test In Central Lea

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2 Federal-Elliott, wildcat in Central Lea County flowed gas at the rate of 8,700,000 cubic feet per day on a drillstem test from 12,886 to 13,005 feet.

It was open 81 minutes. Water blanketed the surface in 14 minutes and gas and distillate came to the top in 18 minutes. It was flowed to pits 33 minutes and then turned to tanks 30 minutes. It made 9.36 barrels of fluid, which was 50 per cent 48-gravity distillate and 50 per cent salt water. The gas flowed at the rate of 8,700,000 cubic feet daily.

Test was taken in the Pennsylvanian, which was topped at 12,176 feet, elevation 4,098 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 33-15a-34e.

Gulf Completes NW Extension To Ector Field

Oil Corporation has completed its No. 9-A-Si W. E. Connell as a one-half mile northwest extension to Fossilman production in the Jordan (multiphase) field of Central-Ector County.

It gauged 162.96 barrels of 42.8-gravity oil and 3.33 barrels of water in 24 hours through a one-half inch choke and perforations from 7,980 to 7,440 feet.

The section was acidized with 5,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio was 320-1.

The project also indicated a new pay for the area, the middle Clear Fork, when it flowed oil on a drillstem test at 4,938 to 5,002 feet while being drilled.

Location of the new oiler is 440 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 10, block B-16, psi survey and three miles southwest of Pennell.

Crockett Project Indicates Opener In Pennsylvanian

Sandor Petroleum Company of Abilene No. 1 Bouscaren Heirs, indicated Pennsylvanian reef discovery in the Noelke field of Northwest Crockett County, flowed 41-barrel oil at the rate of eight barrels per hour for six hours on a nine-hour drillstem test between 4,319 feet and 4,351 feet.

The flow was to tanks. Gas came to the surface in three and one-half minutes and oil in three hours.

When the drillpipe was pulled, recovery was 1,600 feet of oil and 120 feet of oil and gas cut mud and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 365-1.

Flowing pressure was 575 pounds and bottom pressure after 15 minutes was 1,550 pounds.

Operator plans to take the hole to 4,800 feet and plans to core from approximately 4,690 feet to 4,800 feet.

An estimated pay top was called.

Red Purge Extends Into Germany

'I'M TIRED AND I WANNA GO TO BED'—That was the sad theme song sung by Robert Cook, left, and Jess Hensley as they struggled to keep their eyes open in a wakeathon, which attracted nation-wide attention. Hensley finally gave up at 8:55 a.m. Tuesday, forfeiting a $1,000 pot to Cook, a fellow-painter, who said, after 98 1/2 sleepless hours, he still couldn't go to sleep.

Sleep Doesn't Come Too Easy As Wakeathon Bettor Gives In

The two betting Midlanders who have made national headlines by not sleeping since 7:14 a.m. last Friday finally have "hit the hay."

"I'm going to bed," Jesse Hensley announced to the nation at 8:55 a.m. Tuesday.

And there also went Hensley's complete life savings—$1,000—after losing his bet with another Midland house-painter, Robert Cook, 32.

Winner Cook, at 414 Gangor Street where the bet took place, declared:

"It got to where it was funny. After 98 1/2 hours, I do feel a little drowsy though. I wanted to always get the question answered, 'How long can a man go without sleep?'"

Said loser Hensley: "We're still friends even though practically my whole life savings are gone. It was my idea to begin with. I just made a remark that I could stay awake longer than him, and he took me up on it. Bob says he's going to buy me a Christmas present from the money he won."

Oddly, Hensley and Cook had a hard time going to sleep. At noon Tuesday—more than three hours after the bet was over—Hensley, 30, and Cook still were awake trying to get some shut-eye.

"It's harder to go to sleep now than stay awake," exclaimed Cook. Hensley agreed.

Cook believes "It gets hardest to stay awake after 2 a.m. in the morning." For him, he recalled, it was hardest the first night. He thinks "it's the easiest way any honest fellow can make $1,000" in so short a time.

"We're both bachelors," explained Cook. "Staying awake all night—especially a few nights—is a privilege reserved only for bachelors. He said his girl-friend thought "I was screwy" to find the thing.

But everything was "screwed" in Texas this weekend.

In Amarillo, J. Moore Jones tried to cover 47 miles from Borger to Amarillo in 10 hours. Monday night Moore limped out of the hospital at Amarillo.

In that same usually quiet city, some school friends dared the Irish in Nani O'Keefe.

"We dare you to walk 11 miles from Amarillo to Canyon," challenged her school chums. Saturday she walked that distance.

Hearing this, an Amarillo Air Force Base airman—not identified by the awed press—decided he can do anything a girl does—only better. Thus began the "challenge of the sexes." The airman announced he would walk from Borger to Amarillo, carrying a pack and a carbine! And at about 1 a.m. Sunday, Dallas police caught the prize drunk.

He was a 33-year-old man who left Oak Cliff, Dallas' south suburb, and took out in his car across a trolley trestle over the Trinity River and its industrial district, headed for downtown Dallas.

Four blowouts, a burned-out engine and two hours later, police were able to get the car and driver off the railroad bridge. By the time a late trolley had barely missed hitting the car, the driver was asleep. He'd made almost a mile across the 60-foot-high rails and was in a daze.

Temporary employees will be hired by the Midland Post Office to handle Christmas mail as the avalanche mounts. Postmaster N. G. Oates said Tuesday.

"Already we have 25 men approved for employment and these will go to work as the rush of holiday mail accumulates," Oates said. "We probably will hire an additional 25 or 30 employees before the holiday season is ended."

Last Christmas the Post Office hired an additional 64 employees to assist with the holiday rush.

Breezes Bring Cooler Weather For Texans

Texas had slightly cooler temperatures Tuesday to replace balmy breezes of Monday.

No rain was reported Monday as maximum temperatures ranged from 59 degrees at Dalhart to a warm 86 in the streets of Laredo.

Pilot Killed In Dallas Jet Plane Crash

DALLAS — (AP) — A Chance Vought twin-jet C-119 crashed and burned about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday as it attempted to land at the Dallas Naval Air Station.

Witnesses said the pilot died in the crash.

The plane crashed near Jefferson Street, adjacent to the Air Force's Hensley Field.

Observers said the pilot barely cleared the fence to the air field before one wing of the jet smashed to the ground.

Wreckage was scattered over a 300-yard radius.

The pilot was William W. Sunday, 30, a Chance Vought test pilot since 1949.

Firing Of Top Aide By Party Boss Divulged

BERLIN — (AP) — Otto Grotewohl, Communist prime minister of East Germany, announced Tuesday the firing of a top Cabinet member. He appeared to confirm rumors of a broad purge of the party similar to the Czech house-cleaning.

Grotewohl also admitted East Germany is having serious economic troubles and promised drastic measures to cure them.

He announced the removal of Karl Hamann, minister for trade and supply in the Soviet-controlled East Zone.

Throughout Berlin, rumors spread that the East Zone is cracking down on more than mere incompetence. These said a purge trial is being fashioned to snip a conspiracy to overthrow the Red regime.

Grotewohl marshalled the Soviet Zone news columns and radio to explain to 18,000,000 East Germans why they lack butter, margarine, other foods and consumer goods at the worst time of the year for this to happen—just before Christmas.

Grotewohl singled out Hamann as the scapegoat. He was so pointed that most Westerners concluded Hamann already is under arrest. Hamann's deputy, Fritz Hanke, fled to West Berlin recently. Grotewohl said this was a sign of "sabotage."

The prime minister also named Rudolf Albrecht, Communist state secretary for food production, as another "saboteur" and implied that Paul Baender, recently dismissed as Hamann's deputy, bears some share of blame, too.

Three labor leaders who Monday demanded the murder of "traitors" to the Moroccan independence movement were among about 140 natives arrested.

The disorders broke out Sunday in sympathy with Tunisian workers whose leader, Farhat Hached, was machine gunned and beaten to death last week.

Nationalist newspapers called for a demonstration and police found copies of handbills demanding the murder of "traitors" who failed to respond to the independence movement.

Demonstrators attacked a European couple and their three small children Tuesday as they drove in a truck along a street. The woman was wounded on the head and her husband on the arm but they managed to reach their home with the children.

Tanks and armored cars patrolled the streets and police laid virtual siege to headquarters of the General Labor Federation (CGT), reportedly Communist controlled, where several hundred demonstrators took refuge when Moroccan soldiers charged them Monday.

The Europeans who died Monday included three killed and burned to death in a quarry and four others beaten to death with stones and so badly mutilated they could not be recognized.

Three native soldiers were killed and two were captured by the rioters but were rescued later.

Troops Flown In As Morocco Riots Gain In Intensity

CASABLANCA, MOROCCO — (AP) — Troop reinforcements were flown Tuesday into Casablanca, where Moroccan rioters sharpened their knives and continued to menace white residents.

Police began large scale evacuation of French and other Europeans from native populated areas after nationalist-led rioting, which broke out Sunday, reached almost revolutionary proportions Monday.

An uneasy calm prevailed as evacuees were moved to safer residential quarters of this North African metropolis.

French official figures scaled down previous police reports of casualties. The French said five Europeans and 25 Moroccan rioters were killed in the three days and about 50 persons wounded. The Moroccan press said 40 Moroccans and eight Europeans were killed and 12 Europeans injured. The police estimate had been 50 killed and 74 wounded.

French Foreign Legionnaires were flown in from Agadir, frontier city in Southwest Morocco. Some 200 legionnaires arrived in trucks to strengthen police and troop forces patrolling trouble areas. Press reports said 300 arrests had been made.

TESCO To Build New High Voltage Line Into Midland

Another high voltage line to bring additional amounts of power into Midland is in the 1953 construction plans of the Texas Electric Service Company for this area. R. L. Miller, district manager, announced Tuesday.

Material for the new line already is being received and work will start soon after the first of the year, Miller said. The line is scheduled to be in use by next August.

The new power line, 85 miles long, will come to Midland from the electric company's Morgan Creek power plant near Colorado City. It will connect with a substation to be built in the Spraberry area to provide additional electric power in that section. Another line will branch off at the Spraberry substation to Odessa.

The new line to Midland will connect with the Texas Electric Service Company substation east of the city, giving the Midland area three power line connections from the East and two from the West. It will be the highest power line ever constructed by the company in West Texas, with stranded aluminum wires an inch in diameter. The wires will be supported on H-frame structures of two braced poles supporting a cross-arm.

Increased demand for electric power in the Midland area within recent months has resulted in an extensive construction program by the company, Miller said. The substation east of Midland has been enlarged twice in the last three years.

A new substation recently was completed in the west part of Midland and new feeder lines constructed to keep up with the population increase and commercial growth of the city.

RICHMOND, VA.—(AP)—So you are skeptical about Lady Wonder, Richmond's incredible "talking" horse?

So was this reporter when he went out to "interview" her.

A horse that can predict the future and reel off facts like a child prodigy? Just a lot of bunk, I thought.

But after a half hour's "chat" with Lady I came away from her tin snail scratching my head and wondering.

Lots of other folk are wondering

Skeptic Finds Lady Not Only 'Talks,' Has Horse Sense, Too

too, now that Lady has been credited with providing the "tip" that led to discovery of the body of Danny Mason, a four-year-old child missing from his Quincey, Mass., home almost two years.

Since Sunday, Lady's mistress a gray-haired little woman named Claudia Fonda, has been deluged with long-distance calls from persons who want the 27-year-old horse quizzed on everything from stolen bicycles to wildcat oil wells.

But about that interview: Lady flabbergasted me when she correctly answered most of the 18 questions I fired at her.

She does her answering by poking her chin at levers extending out from thin slides containing numbers and letters. When she touches the levers, the numbers and letters shoot up, spelling out her answers.

Lady started out perfectly by pecking out my name. When I asked her where I was born, she spelled out Bethlehem, Pa. — the right answer. When I asked her how much money I make weekly, she came back with the exact dollars-and-cents figure.

She flubbed it when I asked her where I went to school. But two questions later, she named the school in a delayed-action reply. Lady has been playing this question and answer game more than 20 years. The folks who visit her at Mrs. Fonda's small frame house on the edge of town get three questions for a dollar.

Occasionally, a psychologist or someone prominent in the medical field comes along to try Lady. In 1928, two Duke University psychology professors tested her and concluded:

"There appears to be no loopholes, no reasonable possibility for signaling, either of a conscious or unconscious character."

Stricter Curbs Demanded As Dogs Attack Girl Here

City officials said Tuesday they would demand stricter enforcement of the city's dog ordinance by the Midland Humane Society following an attack Sunday afternoon by two dogs on a 12-year-old girl.

The girl, Martha Harwit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Harwit, 203 Club Drive, was attacked at Outbirth and A Streets as she was taking her bicycle to a service station.

Her left leg was lacerated by the attack of the two Boxer dogs, who finally were driven off by the girl's father and Joe Mims, who was passing in his automobile at the time.

She was given emergency treatment by the family physician.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt ordered an investigation of the incident by Midland police, who said reports of similar attacks by the same dogs had been received earlier Sunday.

"We are going to insist on strict enforcement of the ordinance," said the city manager, "particularly the provision requiring that all dogs either be placed on leash or fenced in."

Laxity Charged Society

"The Humane Society has been lax in this and they apparently were lax Sunday in answering the call on these dogs."

The enforcement of the dog ordinance and the operation of the city animal shelter was turned over to the society several months ago, at the request of the society itself.

Frank Rose, superintendent of the animal shelter, said the two Boxers are being held in a separate pens for observation, although both of them have vaccination tags.

"They are being kept in a closed and locked pen," he said, "and no one else will handle them except me."

Rose added that both animals have been "perfectly docile" since they were picked up and impounded.

Owners of the animals have expressed regrets over the incident.

Harwit said he and his daughter, a seventh grade student at San Jacinto High School, were going to

Soil Conservation Service Production Reaches Record

Soil conservation Service production in the Midland-Howard District, as well as the rest of the United States, was greater in the fiscal year ending last June 30 than in any previous year in history. Texas paced the nation with a 64 per cent increase, and the Western Gulf Region—comprising Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas—lead with 51 per cent increase. The all-around increase for the United States was seven per cent. Midland County, as of June 30, 1952, had 196 active district cooperators with 229,737 acres involved.

A breakdown of SCS work in the district follows: 26,651 acres converted farming, 13,187 acres cover crops, 34,665 acres stubble mulch, 154,768 acres range improvement, 479 acres range and pasture seeding, 131 miles fences constructed, and 682 acres land prepared for conservation irrigation. The Martin-Howard District started operations in Midland County in 1943. The SCS maintained a work unit in the county from 1943-47. After 1947, technical assistance was furnished from Stanton work unit. An SCS representative, Calvin Boykin, Jr., was located in Midland in May, 1951, and the work unit was reactivated in September, 1952, with Ben Osborn as work unit conservator.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Excessive Fluids Are Removed In Treating Edema, Or Dropsy

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA Service Whenever an excessive amount of fluid accumulates in the tissues, doctors call the condition edema and almost everyone else calls it dropsy. The most common places for edema to develop are the feet where the circulation has to work against gravity, the inside of the abdominal cavity, and the soft tissues just under the eyes. The reason is that fluid gathers more easily and can be carried off less promptly from these particular parts. The presence of edema fluid is not a disease in itself. Dropsical fluid can accumulate and can be kept in the tissues for any one of a number of different reasons. Sometimes true disease is not present at all—as on a hot day when swelling often takes place in the feet and hands of a normal person. One of the most common causes of edema is heart disease. When the heart is unable to do its full job of keeping the circulation going in a normal manner, slowing of the blood occurs. If this slowing is too great the blood is not pumped through the kidneys fast enough and therefore some of the fluids which should be eliminated from the body through the urine is retained. In some cases of Bright's disease, or chronic nephritis, the kidneys themselves are not able to filter out fluid from the blood as they should. In this case, too, the fluid simply is not eliminated and is kept in the body. There are other conditions which may produce dropsical accumulation of fluid, but probably the most common are the two mentioned. In all cases, therefore, when dropsy develops, it is important to find out what is causing it and to remove or remedy the cause whenever possible. This cannot be done always and in such cases complicated measures are necessary. These may include special diets or medicines which alter the chemical substances in the blood so that more fluid can be carried off. In some cases of dropsy it is possible to give drugs which are called diuretics. Diuretics have the ability, at least temporarily, to increase the secretion of fluid through the kidneys and its passage in the urine. Sometimes excessive fluid can be taken off by puncturing the place where it has accumulated and allowing it to drain out. If fluid has collected inside the abdominal cavity it may be removed from time to time through a needle.

Study Group Hears Address By Mrs. Ahern

Emphasizing the selection of toys to suit the child, Mrs. Vincent Ahern discussed "Toy Readiness in Young Children" when the Child Guidance Study Group (1-6) of the American Association of University Women met Monday morning.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Mann Rankin, 1501 West Howard Street.

"Selecting the proper toys for your child's temperament, physical development and age level is not as easy," Mrs. Ahern said, "but is most important as children learn about the world in which they live and how to adjust themselves to it through play."

Play materials should be safe, sturdy, versatile and suited to the child's special interest, the speaker continued, stressing, however, that this should not keep the child from having a well rounded collection of playthings.

The most common mistake parents make in selecting toys is choosing toys too advanced for the child, Mrs. Ahern concluded.

The speaker illustrated her talk with a display of toys suitable for a variety of special interests, for children of various age levels.

Past Matrons, Patrons Club Has Supper

The Past Matrons, Past Patrons Club held a covered dish supper Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Johnson.

SOCIETY

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 9, 1952-3

Richmonds Establish Residence In Midland

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Richmond II are at home at 2093 West Louisiana Street following their marriage Friday in Goldthwaite. The double ring ceremony was read in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McCasland.

James A. Fry, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated. The bride is the former Brockie McCasland, who served as assistant home demonstration agent for Taylor County. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Macon Richmond of Blanket.

Vows were solemnized before an arch decorated with pink malle and centered with wedding bells. The arch was banked with arrangements of pink roses placed against a background of palms. Graduated cathedral candelabra holding white candles flanked the arch.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of imported white Chantilly lace over white satin. The dress was styled with a fitted, pointed bodice down the back of which extended tiny self-covered buttons. The full skirt featured a scalloped hemline and a low oval neckline with matching scallops and an inset of nylon tulle topped with a small, stand-up collar. Long fitted sleeves came to a point at the bride's hands.

Carries Bouquet Of Roses

She carried a bouquet of pink roses and chrysanthemums. Her veil of imported silk illusion fell in folds to waist length from a white satin bandeau covered with pink sweetheart roses and edged in front with a narrow ruffle of silk illusion. Her slippers were white 'satin' opera pumps.

"The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, "O Promise Me" and "Always" were among the recorded organ selections played before and after the ceremony.

Dorothy Manning of Goldthwaite, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length rose taffeta faille dress with a full circular skirt. The fitted bodice was styled with a low neckline featuring a draped bertha with shirring terminating at the shoulders in back. Her bandeau of red garter roses matched the flowers in her bouquet.

Best man was Charles Ed Welch of Midland.

Mrs. McCasland's flowers were pink ranunculus and the bridegroom's mother wore a corsage of yellow ranunculus. Members of the reception houseparty were Mrs. T. C. Womack of San Saba, Mrs. H. W. Allen of Hamilton, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Harold M. Murray of Abilene.

The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of pink roses in a crystal bowl flanked by white candles in crystal holders. Covering the table was a hand-made ivory linen cutwork cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with roses and topped with a miniature archway from which hung wedding bells.

Guests were present from Midland, Abilene, Blanket, Goldthwaite, Hamilton, San Saba and Brownwood.

Richmond is employed in Midland by the Humble Oil Company. He was graduated from Blanket High School and John Tarleton State College, and also attended Texas A&M. He recently returned from military service in Germany.

Mrs. Richmond is a graduate of Goldthwaite High School and Abilene Christian College. For traveling she chose a soft brown wool suit with a beige crepe blouse. Her lizard and her hat of brown velvet. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

General Ike's Team

In naming his Cabinet, General Eisenhower seems to have tried mainly to organize a team reflecting many segments of our national life and capable of affording the nation efficient, high-minded public service.

A convincing case cannot be made out that he deliberately has favored one section over another, one Republican Party wing over another, or one element of society over another. These considerations appear to have had little place in his decisions.

His choices have won him a great deal of praise. Apparently many people appreciate his somewhat unconventional approach to the task. Yet, inevitably, there has been criticism as well.

Some Democrats, and even some Republicans, complain there are too many businessmen in the lineup. Republicans feel politicians have been slighted. The opposition suggests the business viewpoint is overweighed.

This complaint hardly will hold water as applied to the secretaries of Commerce and the Treasury, since the Democratic incumbents also are businessmen and the jobs would seem to call for men versed in that field.

The current defense boss, Secretary Lovett, is a Republican and a Wall Street lawyer. Admittedly, his successor, Charles E. Wilson of General Motors, has headed a great corporation. But Ike chose him with particular care, wanting a man qualified by experience to oversee the economical management of the armed services' vast procurement operations.

Even the new secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, has been assailed as a "corporation lawyer." It is hard to see what this has to do with the case. He was chosen for his knowledge and training in foreign affairs, not on account of his attitude toward the Taft-Hartley law.

From the Republican side, the sharp outcry of Senator Taft against the choice of Martin Durkin to be secretary of Labor rises above the mumbling about favoritism for the cast, for the "Dewey wing," for businessmen over politicians.

This response at once was understandable and puzzling.

Understandable, because to Taft, wedded to GOP regularity, it would indeed seem "incredible" to pick a card-carrying Truman-Stevenson Democrat for any high post. On top of this, Durkin favored Taft-Hartley repeal and Ike named him without consulting Taft, a courtesy he expected as prospective chairman of the Senate Labor Committee.

Evidently Taft already was disturbed by other aspects of Eisenhower's Cabinet-choosing process. He was displeased when the general failed to consult him before giving the Treasury post to George Humphrey, an Ohioan. He resented the influence of Herbert Brownell, the new attorney general, in Cabinet choices. Since Brownell was a Dewey man until Ike took him over. Most of Taft's own suggestions were ignored.

Yet the senator's outburst also was puzzling, because he knows a President has a right to pick any kind of Cabinet he wishes. It is his town, no one else's.

Surely, too, he must grasp the importance to the Republicans of welding an effective link between the White House and Capitol Hill. This is the GOP's first chance in 20 years to make a White House record. It must produce—in extremely difficult times. If it does not, its prospects for 1956 may sag badly.

That hard necessity is not made easier by the outlook of a serious rift between Eisenhower and the most powerful Republican in Congress. Perhaps Taft's second thoughts on this matter will be calmer, and will show greater recognition of the critical tasks which confront his party on the threshold of renewed power.

America Looks To Religion

In the short space of two months, more than 1,600,000 copies of the new revised version of the King James Bible were sold. It's a publishing record untouched in book-selling history. What does it signify?

On the surface, it would seem to mean that the new version—the product of almost 20 years' work by a committee of biblical scholars—is immensely attractive to a great many people. This is natural enough, since it had been a long time since any comprehensive attempt had been made to eliminate inconsistencies and contradictions and otherwise improve the King James Bible.

But it's just possible that there is more to it than this, more also than the fact that the Bible always has been the top "best-seller." It's just possible that this remarkable appetite for the new Bible is another evidence of the upsurge in religious interest that has characterized the postwar year.

People in America, like men and women across the globe, are living suspended in an atmosphere of crisis. They recognize that the dilemmas of our time are moral more than they are political or economic. And they are looking to religion in search of faith to reinforce the moral decisions that this age demands.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: DiSalle urges price-wage controls be kept for Ike; Air Force will advise more A-bombs for Europe; Senator Morse demands Pentagon quit concealing cost figures.

WASHINGTON—Rotund Mike DiSalle, the ex-price administrator called in by Truman to make an emergency report on whether to dump price-wage controls has written a vigorous recommendation that they must be kept.

Before doing so, however, he conferred with both Republicans and Democrats, also went up to New York to lunch with gaunt, gray Bernie Baruch, the father of price controls. Baruch was adamant that controls must be retained, said it would be dangerous to drop them at this time that an emergency might develop during the Eisenhower Administration that would make them absolutely necessary.

Conferring with Senator Cabot Lodge, Eisenhower's liaison man in Washington, DiSalle urged that a Republican be sent over to the Office of Price Stabilization so as to become familiar with that difficult problem.

Conferring with Secretary of Defense Lovett, DiSalle was told that keeping 3,500,000 men under arms, even without new equipment, would cost a total of $25,000,000,000 a year. Therefore some sort of controls must be kept to guard against inflation.

In the end, DiSalle informed Truman that it would be unfair to the Eisenhower Administration to drop controls at this time.

Note—The man who urged ending controls and who came within a hair's breadth of putting his ideas across was soft-spoken, busybody John Steelman, assistant to the President. He figured that by dumping all controls, Truman would get off the hook on granting the wage increase to John L. Lewis. In other words, Steelman wanted to kill the patient in order to cure an ailing finger.

Air Force Advice
Secretary of the Air Force Finletter will recommend to Republicans as he bows out of office that more atomic bombs be rushed to Europe in order to discourage Soviet aggression.

In the Far East, however, he will give the opposite advice. He will warn against using atomic weapons or taking any step that might spread the Korean war. For, while the atomic bomb can be used as a deterrent in Europe, Finletter feels it might touch off World War III if unleashed without provocation in Asia.

The somber Air Force boss, who has done one of the best jobs in Washington, is prepared to let down his hair and talk bluntly to the Republican who moves into his shoes. He will warn that the defense budget cannot be trimmed another dime for at least two years, that a 148-group Air Force does not allow enough reserve planes to care for losses, and that the best insurance against war with Russia is a powerful strategic bombing fleet, capable of penetrating to the heart of Russia.

After another two years of high defense spending, Finletter will advise that perhaps the defense budget can be cut to about $30,000,000,000 yearly, of which he believes the Air Force should get the lion's share. However, he will condemn in no uncertain terms Congress' meat-ax attacks on the budget. For example, Congress indiscriminately chopped off $130,000,000 last year, thereby retarding Air Force readiness by two years.

The boys at the Pentagon are pulling some quiet wires to have Senator Wayne Morse, Oregon's independent Republican, taken off the Senate Armed Forces Committee. They don't like his persistency in probing into military expenditures abroad.

Morse recently came back from a trip to Europe and North Africa, began to ask disagreeable questions about Military spending, wrote a letter to Undersecretary of Defense Foster for exact cost figures on certain operations. In reply, he got a maze of misleading figures which meant nothing.

Again writing to Foster, Morse demanded that the Defense Department quit giving him the runaround. "I intend to get the information," Morse wrote, "or explain to the Senate the danger of a policy which denies to Congress data on the cost of our bases abroad."

"If the Pentagon fails to give me this data," the senator from Oregon continued, "I shall take whatever steps are necessary to advise the public of the concealment policy of the Pentagon."

Meanwhile the boys at the Pentagon are putting their heads together with GOP leaders, who do not like Morse, to get him removed from the Armed Services Committee. After that he will lack the power to probe Army costs abroad.

UN Secretary-General Trygve Lie still is puzzled over the strange behavior of a Russian associate, who was recalled abruptly to Moscow to see his "sick son" but, before he left, promised to smuggle a personal message back to Lie by secret code. However, the wrong man sent the coded message in an incident that has all the flavor of international drama.

Lie's assistant at the United Nations is an amiable Russian named Arkady Sobolev. The two men be-

Rogers Is Distinctive As The Youngest, 'Most Glamorous' Of Ike's Appointees

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—William P. Rogers, Ike's selection for the job of deputy attorney general, is the most glamorous man yet named to an important post in the new Administration, according to the "In" town.

Tall, blond and handsome, Rogers does not cut a kind of dashing figure. Actually, he's a friendly, down-to-earth gent, happily married and the father of three sons and a daughter.

It was Rogers' key role in winning the GOP nomination for the general which first brought him to the attention of Ike. Working closely with the man who will be his new boss, Attorney General-designate Herbert Brownell, Jr., Rogers "covered" the now-famous Republican convention in Texas.

And it was Rogers, armed with the information, who eloquently presented the case before the national convention committee to help so much in turning the tide for the general.

At 39 he is the youngest of the new Eisenhower appointees. But he has been tagged a "comer" in town for a long time.

For a relative youngster he has an amazing amount of big-league experience. Rogers learned the fundamentals of investigating and prosecuting under Tom Dewey in New York. He got into the congressional investigating business with the old Senate war investigating committee headed by Harry Truman. He has been a key figure in other congressional probes, including the one into the activities of the five percenters.

His complete fairness with all witnesses always has won him high praise. His success has been built on carefully documented cases and brilliant briefs.

He says he is severing connections completely with his law firm to take the new job. A partner in that firm is Kenneth Royal, former secretary of the Army. Royal was an ardent supporter of Eisenhower during the campaign.

Elaborate Dodge
The press conference at which Veterans Administrator Carl Gray, Jr., announced the big reorganization of his agency was only the second one he has held since coming to town a couple of years ago. It turned out to be just about as big a farce as his first one, which probably is why they have been kept so infrequent.

In the first place the conference was called in connection with a $600,000 management survey of his agency prepared by the firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton, on which it was assumed his new reorganization was to be based. But no news-men had been permitted to see the long, complicated report beforehand. It prohibited the asking of any informed question.

Worse than that for the reporters, the conference was loaded with representatives of veterans groups. They turned the whole thing into sort of a technical debate with Gray over vast sections of the report. They apparently had seen the report beforehand.

Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R-Mass.), who will be chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, had a front-row seat and almost took over the conference herself. She started by addressing Gray as "General Hines," apparently mistaking Gray for the man who had been boss of the VA before the war.

The high spot of her presence was a long, spirited debate with Gray over just who had ordered the report over vast sections of the report. They apparently had seen the report beforehand.

Gray again used a unique public relations approach to the reporters, which had failed dimly at his first and only other press conference. When one would ask him a particularly pertinent question he apparently couldn't or didn't want to answer, he would walk over to the man and pat him patronizingly on the head or shoulder. In his husky voice he would address him as "my boy," "my son," or "young fella." Most of them have been in town a lot longer than he has.

He ended by elaborately dodging the question of who called on to the office under the Eisenhower Administration.

Inaugural Short Subjects
Notes on the coming inauguration:
Most of the hotels in Baltimore already are booked by the overflow crowd. And the Philadelphia hotels have begun to get requests for space. Washington hotels are demanding cash in advance for rooms, too.

The inaugural committee has set a goal of $500,000 to be guaranteed local businessmen. It will be repaid from the sale of parade seats. Inaugural headquarters now is on a 24-hour shift.

You've got to have a personal invitation from the committee to be permitted to pay $12 for a ticket to the big ball. The price might go up. And there is a plan under consideration to have three or four official balls, the demand for invitations already is so great.

Each senator gets 12 seats for the official swearing-in ceremony in front of the Capitol. Each member of the House of Representatives gets only seven.

There's a story going around that they are even trying to sell seats in the government offices which face out on the parade route.

Ramspeck Speaks of Ideal
Robert Ramspeck, chairman of the U. S. Civil Service Commission, believes that under ideal rules no more than 1,000 jobs should be changed when a new Administration takes over the federal government.

He says that under present laws he considers it ethical if President-elect Eisenhower switches approximately 2,500 jobs. But he believes such positions as U. S. attorneys, marshals and collectors of customs should be brought under civil service.

He also thinks that many of bureaus should be made career jobs and not be changed with each new President. In this category are chiefs of the bureaus of Indian Affairs, Census and Mines. They require specialized, technical knowledge and aren't involved in overall policy of a political party, he contends.

Ramspeck, himself a Democrat who expects to leave, is making a speech campaign among federal employes urging them to be flexible and support the new Administration just as loyally as they have supported the old.

The Army now reveals that it will include an annual request of $175,000,000 for cargo helicopters for the next four years.

Goal of this program is to give every division enough helicopters so that it can move one regiment in cases of emergency. Explaining it, Col. William E. Bunker of the Transportation Corps says: "While many of us feel that this program is still extremely modest its boldness is more apparent when we realize that as late as 1939, the standard prime mover for Army artillery was still the horse."

Q—How did the custom of hand-shaking originate?
A—In the Middle Ages two men on meeting extended their right hands and shook hands to show they were not preparing to use their swords.

Q—Why is Joseph Warren remembered in American history?
A—He was the man who sent Paul Revere on his midnight ride to Lexington.

Q—What's Right?
You work in an office as a stenographer or secretary. WRONG: Make no effort to limit your personal telephone calls during working hours.

RIGHT: Don't encourage your friends to telephone you at your office. Make as few outgoing personal calls as possible.

THE STORY: As a result of a family row in Meadville, Pa., I leave home intending to enter the Army, for this is the early days of the war. I have two brothers, William and Wallace, and am going to college to play football.

VIII
I HAD NOT thought of joining the Navy—I figured the Navy didn't do much fighting—but while I waited in that long hall a chief and two yeomen opened the Navy office. I was tired of waiting, and I followed the chief and his men. I answered a few questions: age, education and the standard list.

Then I said, "I want to go today." The chief said, "What's your hurry? You stole something?" "I don't want to wait around home—not even one day."

The chief scratched around at his neck. "You got written permission from your folks?" "Nossir."

"You've got to have that. We can do everything else I guess. Then you go home and get your papers all signed and be back here at 8 o'clock. I'm going to strain a point and get you on tonight's draft for New Orleans—and you'd better make a good sailor."

feeling that The Immense Design was pleased. I thought how difficult it would be to explain why I was smiling, how one small movement of the face went back for years and seemed to touch everything I had ever known.

WHEN I got home, only Wallace was there, in the living room, his feet propped on a chair and his French book in his lap, closed. He turned his whole body around to look at me.

"I thought the French business was all settled," I said.

"It might as well try it once more. It can't hurt. What are you doing away from the store?"

"I haven't been to the store today. I've been to the city... and am now a 99 per cent member of the United States Navy. Soon as Papa and Mama sign this paper, I'll be whole-hog and long-gone."

I showed him the paper. "What if Papa don't give over?" "That would be tough."

"What will you give me to take it to him? He's working on the treadmill."

"What's your price?" "Sixty-five on that exam tomorrow."

"I can't trade. I'm on tonight's draft for New Orleans. I have to be in Corinth by eight."

"It's going to cost you. But I'll guarantee the signature."

"How?" "Because I know a way, and I'll use it. If anybody can get it, you know who can. The price will be... all my fresh-ma English themes..."

"Yes that all?" "Yes. Give me that thing and your fountain pen. You'd better start talking to Mama—she's in the garden."

After Wallace left I went to the organ. I could play a few things that I had learned by myself, mostly hymns. In a few minutes an hour's drummer picked me up. I smiled with the behind me. I turned and there was Mama standing behind me.

"You halfway scared me. You sounded for all the world like your Uncle William. Did you eat at the store?"

"I wasn't at the store. I was Corinth."

"For Mr. Wilkes?" "For myself. I've joined the Navy."

"Well... what an earth! Because you're mad at your daddy, that's it. The same thing happened 20-odd year ago: a fuss with Benford and your Uncle William was off to the war. You can't tell me history don't repeat itself. You're not coming for all the world like your Uncle William was. You're walking in William's shoes, and mark my words—you'll die in France."

"Maybe they'll send me to the Pacific."

"It's all the same." "Wallace has gone now for Papa to sign the papers—you're supposed to sign them too."

I SAT at the cook-table while Mama brought out a dish of string beans, cooked with bacon, and a plate of corn muffins and a quart fruit jar of buttermilk. Then Wallace came running into the house. He threw the paper on the table and said, "Signed and sealed, topwater."

I handed it to Mama, and Wallace gave her my pen. She dried her hands on her apron and signed without reading or saying a word.

"Thank you, Mama." "You're welcome." She did not look up; she was carefully scraping the eye of a large potato.

"Thank you, Wallace." "Just remember the trade."

"Where are you going now?" Mama said. I wondered how she knew I was about to leave the house.

"To say goodbye to Mabel and a few others. I'm leaving at 6:30."

"Tonight?" A few peeling eggs slipped from her lap. I picked them up for her.

"Yes, ma'am." "And your last meal in this house, nothing but muffins and beans."

"And buttermilk," Wallace said. (To Be Continued)

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand was played by Dr. Kalman Apfel of New York City. "Doc" is a big burly man, more like a football player than a physician, but he plays the cards with the precision and delicacy of a surgeon.

The final contract or six no-trump was not unduly ambitious. With 11 tricks in top cards, declarer needed only a successful club finesse or a successful play in hearts. Neither of these maneuvers would have succeeded, but "Doc" nevertheless found a way to make his contract.

West opened his singleton club, and East's ten forced out declarer's king. The lead was quite clearly a singleton or doubleton, and Dr.

"Doc" won the first trick with the king of clubs, and followed with four rounds of diamonds, discarding a club from his hand. He then continued with five rounds of spades, reducing all hands to three cards.

East had to save the queen and a low club to prevent dummy from taking two club tricks. East was therefore able to save only one heart.

Dr. Apfel thereupon led the low heart from his hand, putting the pistol to the head of both defenders at the same time. If East won the trick with his blank queen of hearts, he would be forced to lead clubs up to dummy's ace-jack.

If West tried to rescue his partner, he would have to play the ace of hearts, which would set up declarer's king for the twelfth trick.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade Pass
2 Spades Pass

You, South, hold: Spades K-J-7-5-3, Hearts 8-6-3, Diamonds 7-5-3-2, Clubs 4-3-2. What do you do?
A—Pass. It was all you could do to master up any response at all to the opening bid. You are happy to get out with a whole skin. You have a count of four points in high cards, one point for the fifth spade, and two points for the singleton.

Your partner has a maximum of 16 points for his raise of two spades, so that game must be out of the question.

Inauguration Cited As 'National Party'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The three-day party celebrating President-elect Eisenhower's inauguration "will be a national party," says dancer George Murphy who will direct the entertainment.

Murphy, appointed Monday, said most of the January 18-20 proceedings will be carried by radio and television. Some programs, he said, may be sold to sponsors to cut expenses which the Inaugural Committee estimates may hit one million dollars.

Murphy said highlights will include a concert by the National Symphony Orchestra January 18, a "real variety show, not a vaudeville show" January 19 and an invitation-only ball after the inauguration January 20.

MCT Production Will Feature Fun, Laughter

A comedy with one of the most engaging and disarming titles in theatrical history, "John Loves Mary," will open in Midland Wednesday for a four-night presentation by the Midland Community Theater.

"John Loves Mary" is the story of an ex-soldier, John, who wants to marry Mary, but is forced to try ducking out of the wedding because of a too-friendly gesture to an Army buddy.

Ex-GI's in the audience will smile happily when they hear that the villain of the play, John's former lieutenant, is still in uniform, but as an usher in the balcony of a famous New York theater. A real roar is in order when O'Leary—that's the ex-loosey—announces with dignity, "I'm not just an usher there—I'm the balcony major."

The play will be presented Wednesday through Saturday, with a special performance for negroes at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the City-County Auditorium.

Tickets for the production went on sale Tuesday in the box office at Tailorline-Clothes, Inc. The box office will be open to Community Theater members Tuesday and tickets will be available to the public beginning Wednesday.

Calm Settles Over Prison In New Mexico After Riot

SANTA FE, N. M. —(P)—Calm returned to the New Mexico State Prison Tuesday with at least eight convicts in isolation after a vain effort to trade hostage guards for freedom.

Six more inmates, not yet identified, presumably were due the same punishment for taking part in a 20-hour rebellion. Warden Morris A. Abram said only that they probably were involved.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem said there would be an investigation, but Abram and other officials would be allowed to rest first. The chief executive flew back from a Western governors' conference in Phoenix to take charge while the outbreak was in progress.

It ended shortly before noon Monday when eight captive guards demanded a car to carry them through open gates of the 60-year-old penitentiary—were freed by the 14 rebel prisoners.

The guards, weary but obviously relieved, emerged unharmed from the barricaded prison. They refused to talk about their experiences. Abram said they were well treated and their captors gave them food and coffee.

Mechem and Abram described the attempted break as "a spontaneous proposition" led by Robert Eads, 22-year-old holdup-man from St. Louis. "The boys suddenly had a bright idea and took it," said the governor.

One convict Leopold Mares, 26, suffered minor wounds. Three shot-

Board Okays Lease Of Kerrville's VA Hospital Facilities

AUSTIN—(P)—A two-year lease of Veterans Administration properties at Kerrville for temporary housing of tuberculars Tuesday had the approval of the State Hospitals Board.

The board asked Governor Shivers to sign the lease with the federal government, asking only that the two-year occupancy run from Feb. 15, 1953, instead of Dec. 15, 1952, as provided.

This would permit time for the next Legislature to approve renovation of the property and allow more time for the hospitals board to provide permanent facilities.

The Legislature also will be asked to approve permanent hospitals at Harlingen and San Antonio to replace the Weaver Baker Hospital near Mission which must be vacated for reactivation of Moore Air Field.

The four VA buildings at Kerrville will cost the state $50 a month in rentals plus utilities, fire protection and incineration. They will house about 350 patients. Another 300 patients will be housed temporarily in a new hospital unit at San Antonio originally intended for tubercular mental cases.

Hospitals Board Director Larry O. Cox said a survey of remodeling needs at Kerrville could be undertaken as soon as possible following legislative approval.

Divorced Husband Shares In Estate Of Susan Peters

LOS ANGELES—(P)—The divorced husband of the late actress Susan Peters was left a portion of her estate.

Her will, filed for probate Monday, was written June 15, 1943, five months before she and film director Richard Quine were married, and it was never changed, although they were divorced in 1948.

She left all her furniture to Quine. The rest of the estate, personal property valued at $6,000, was left to her mother, the late Mrs. Abby Carnahan.

Miss Peters, 31, paralyzed in a hunting accident Jan. 1, 1945, died October 23 at Visalia, Calif.

New Mexico Bus Drivers Walk Out

ROSWELL, N. M. —(P)—Drivers of the New Mexico Transportation Company bus lines went on strike early Tuesday seeking higher wages and improved vacations.

H. H. Atkins, federal labor conciliator from Albuquerque, announced that negotiations between the A.F. of M. Electric Street Railroad and Motor Coach Employees union and the company had broken down shortly before midnight.

He said 45 union drivers went on strike at midnight. There were no further conferences scheduled, he said.

The line provides service to Albuquerque and Las Cruces, N. M., and Amarillo, El Paso and Pecos, Texas.

Ector Vote Kills Road Bond Issue

ODESSA—A $250,000 road bond issue was killed by Ector County voters Saturday, as it failed to receive a required two-thirds majority.

In a canvass of votes Monday the motion was declared defeated as balloting showed 492 for to 284 against.

Other issues, $750,000 each for hospital expansion and park improvements, carried.

Innkeepers Asked To Serve Tipplers 'One For The Road'

WASHINGTON —(P)—Tavern owners here will be urged to offer holiday tipplers "one for the road"—a free cup of coffee.

And the boss will be asked to see that a way home is supplied everyone who takes on too much liquor at the office Christmas party.

The idea was developed Monday at a conference of Washington and Maryland traffic leaders and members of the liquor industry.

The object: To cut down the Christmas traffic death rate. The plan is local but the problem is nationwide, December is the worst month for traffic accidents.

The conference was told 10,000 letters will go to employers next week. Tavern keepers and liquor dealers will hear about the coffee idea at a trade meeting next week, when they also will get this suggestion.

Take the car keys from anyone who isn't in shape to drive—even if he didn't do his drinking at your place—and see that he gets home safely.

Mrs. Ben L. Ray of Salem, Mo., is a guest in the home of her son, Edward Ray, and Mrs. Ray, 1811 West Kentucky Street. She will remain in Midland through the Christmas holidays.

DO THEY HAVE POPCORN YET?

BERNERA, OUTER HEBRIDES, SCOTLAND —(P)—Talking pictures finally have come to stay on this tiny, lonely island north-west of the Scottish mainland.

Postmistress Christie McLeod informed the outside world by telephone Tuesday how the first talkies were put on this week in the schoolroom hall. The power was generated by an engine from the boat of one of the island's fishermen.

Many of Bernera's 350 inhabitants had never bothered to see silent films before, so "You can imagine what a sensation talkies were," said Christie.

Illinois' Cabinet Gets First Woman

SPRINGFIELD, ILL. —(P)—Vera Bink's the third woman ever elected county judge in Illinois, is the first woman in the state's history named to the State Cabinet.

Governor-elect William G. Stratton Monday appointed Miss Bink, 57, director of the State Registration and Education Department. She will take over the $12,000 a year post on January 12, leaving the Henry County bench, to which she first was elected in 1946 and re-elected in 1948 and 1950.

Blizzard in Kansas, Texas Cutback, Dips Nallon's Crude Flow

TULSA —(P)—A Kansas blizzard and lowered Texas allowances but the daily average domestic crude oil and condensate production during the week ended December 6 by 191,850 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday.

The decline, largest since that caused by last Spring's oil industry strike, dropped the week's total daily average to 6,471,150 barrels.

Cumulative production for the year, according to the Journal, still stands higher than at this time last year, 2,123,928,475 barrels to 2,096,675,000.

Kansas' weather-curtailed production skidded 121,900 barrels to 226,300, while the allowable reduction dropped Texas by 81,450 barrels to 3,013,525.

The largest gains were in Louisiana, up 5,250 barrels to 62,400, and New Mexico, 2,900 to 175,825.

Other increases were reported for Arkansas, up 750 barrels to 77,250 and Oklahoma, 600 to 539,200.

Bulldog Five Meets Kermit In Lid-Lifter

The Midland High School basketball team, still short on practice, takes a long step into its 1952-53 season Tuesday night.

The Bulldogs run up against the defending champion Kermit Yellow Jackets in the season basketball opener at the high school gymnasium.

Longview Franchise On Block

FORT WORTH —(P)—Anybody like to get a professional baseball club franchise for nothing plus a lease on the park for $1 a year?

That, says Howard Green, president of the Big State League, is available at Longview, where Dick Burnett, owner of the Dallas club in the Texas League, has decided to give up his farm club.

Burnett operated Longview last season at a loss and is turning the franchise back to the Big State League.

Burnett is offering the players on the Longview roster at a nominal price to anybody who wants to operate the club.

Green pointed out that there were 100,000 people within a radius of 25 miles, that there was a natural rivalry between Longview and nearby Tyler, that $30,000 in box seats and advertising on the fences had been sold at Longview last season—and that it looked like a good operation for any person who would devote his time exclusively to it.

Anyway, Green is receptive to offers.

Qualifying Starts In Miami Open Golf

MIAMI, FLA.—(P)—A bulky field of 183 pros and amateurs competed Tuesday for 64 berths in the $10,000 Miami Open Golf Tournament to be played Thursday through Sunday.

Eighty-six top pros and amateurs were exempt from qualifying.

Shrimp Bowl Sends Gottlob Back Home

GALVESTON —(P)—Galveston football fans will get to see the home town boy who made good in the Shrimp Bowl December 27. It will be their first look at a Galveston boy demonstrating the passing ability that made him national champion.

Don Gottlob is his name and playing for Sam Houston State this year he shattered the national passing and total offense records.

Sam Houston State undefeated Northeastern State of Oklahoma in the Shrimp Bowl.

Most Galveston fans never had heard of Gottlob until he set such a terrific pace with Sam Houston this season.

He came out for football only one year in high school. He didn't get the world afire. In fact, he played in only the last four games of the season. He was called on for defensive duty only.

In his first year at Sam Houston, Cotton spent every second of every game on the bench. Things weren't quite as dark in his sophomore season, however. He played in two games.

As a junior, Gottlob won a starting assignment, but he didn't do much passing.

For Coach Red Rutledge's Bulldogs, it's a rugged start—the B game at 6:30 p.m. and the A encounter at 8 p.m.

Already Kermit has three games under its belt, while Midland is completing its first full week of practice.

Coach Rutledge scouted the Yellow Jackets Friday and found them "A fighting ball club at the boards." Their scrappiness paid Kermit in turn with a 38-35 victory over Lake View at San Angelo. And the Yellow Jackets repeated 34-33, Saturday.

Lettermen Bobby Almond and Tom McKelvey pace the Yellow Jacket attack, being the consistent high scorers.

Neither team should outrank the other in height, but in letter winners, Coach Rutledge has the most, six. He will start an all-senior team of Forwards Robert Keisling and Roy Kimsley, Center Bill Mims and Guards Jesse Hatfield and Harold Paden. All along with Guard Gwen Grisham, lettered during 1951-52, when the Bulldogs racked up an 8-14 season record.

Entire Squad Due Action Mims topped the Bulldogs in height at six-feet-three, while Keisling stands 6-0 and Kimsley 6-1. Hatfield is 5-7 and Paden 5-11.

All 17 of Rutledge's squad is due for action, about 10 in the headliner. Those who will fill in for starters are Juniors Jimmy Mashburn, Rusty Rutledge, Tom Dyer and Joe Bowman. The remaining seven are Bill Crenshaw, Milton Jones, John Crowley, Jerry Yochum, Tommy Johnson, Boyce McKnight and Bobby Harris.

That group will join with the B team of Coach Pat Pattison in tangling with Kermit's B squad.

Almond, who scored 13 points in leading Kermit to its Saturday win, and Joe Sharpnack work at the Yellow Jackets' guards. McKelvey starts at center and Jimmy Schloesser and Don Hyman are scheduled for the forward positions.

BULLDOG VETERANS—When Midland tackles Kermit's Yellow Jackets in the season basketball opener, Coach Red Rutledge will have these six lettermen ready to take the floor. Left to right, they are Gwen Grisham, Jesse Hatfield, Bill Mims, Robert Keisling, Harold Paden and Roy Kimsley. From the six, Coach Rutledge will choose his starting team.

Hurts, Colds Beset Wink's Grid Champs

WINK—If the supply of aspirin holds out, Wink's Wildcat football team will be in top condition for its Class A quarter-final game with Denver City Friday afternoon at Wink, Coach Glenn Frazier said Tuesday.

Right now, however, the Wildcats are doctoring four players who have bad colds, that threaten to weaken the team. Jimmy Villareal, who led district scorers with 126 points during the regular season, Charles Manning, Charles Gray and Bill Hurley are all nursing fevers.

Hurley, a substitute back who replaces Starter Jimmy White, was on the sidelines when Frazier directed his team in Monday workouts. Villareal practiced lightly.

Bishop Still Out Another player, Billy Bishop, an end, missed last week's game following a serious car accident and probably won't rejoin the Wildcats until later, if Wink survives.

Villareal, Coach Frazier said, "feels fairly good, but we are saving him some."

Frazier's workouts this week won't be too strenuous. "If we aren't ready now, it's too late."

As for Denver City, Coach Frazier said his scout reports indicate the Mustangs are "a great ball club." Denver City will rate as favorites in the 2:30 p.m. clash Friday, and already has been given the nod for the state championship.

Denver City will outweigh Wink, Coach Frazier said, about 174 to 160 pounds on the average. "They have a uniform squad," none real light and none real heavy.

Denver City won its way to the quarter-finals last week by whipping Olton, 41-15. Wink got by Haskell, 25-7.

Ocee Indians Sell Pitcher Bob Raney To Beaumont Club

OKLAHOMA CITY —(P)—The Oklahoma City Indians of the Texas League have announced the sale of Pitcher Bob Raney to the Beaumont Exporters.

Raney, a right-hander, won eight and lost 10 for the Indians last season.

President Jimmie Humphries also announced his club will do its Spring training at Galveston. The team trained at Longview last year.

Fur Suggestions Fly It was when the experts came to the second question that the fur, the words and the suggestions began to fly. About four out of every five replies favored restrictions and controls of some sort, but they were far from agreeing on what restrictions and who should exercise the controls.

About 50 ballots, roughly one third of the total, put an OK stamp on the 1952 program and suggested continuing it for another year. About 35 favored putting controls on a regional basis, either allowing each of the eight NCAA districts to set up its own program, as proposed by Doug Mills of Illinois and Fritz Crisler of Michigan, or under some similar system.

Another 30 ballots proposed throwing football television wide open either on a one-year trial basis or permanently.

A number of observers favored broadcasting the present NCAA program to put several games on the air each week, either nationally or regionally. Others just wanted more games and several proposed changes in the programming method so that the "big" game could be selected each week as the season progressed.

Other suggestions included a complete ban on TV, limiting TV to sellout games or delayed mid-week showings of films, blacking out the immediate area of a big game and limiting telecasts to the immediate area.

North Dallas, in the state play-off for the first time in 16 years, has excellent runners in Dave Abbott and Tony DeGrazier and a terrific punter in Bob Burgess. The Bulldog line is adept, too, featuring End Jerry Polen.

Seasons records of the four teams left in the Class AAAA race are: Lubbock—Won 11, lost none, 345 points, 82 opposition.

North Dallas—won nine, lost 2, 229 points, 115 opposition points.

Ray (Corpus Christi)—won nine, lost one, tied one, 309 points, 78 opposition points.

Baytown Won 10, lost one, 288 points, 74 opposition points.

The list was made up of 22 seniors, 11 juniors, 11 sophomores and two freshmen.

The first-team offensive backfield had Dick Shinaut of Texas Western, who led the conference in total offense, at quarterback. He will be back next year. The halfbacks were Ken Cardella, of Arizona, a junior who led conference rushers during the last four games, and Cavazos and Wahlin, seniors. The fullback was Mitchell Malouf of Hardin-Simmons, a senior.

In the line were Andrews and Dick Christiansen of Arizona at ends; Bill Dean of Arizona and Jankans at tackle; Donarski and Bill Goldman of Hardin-Simmons at the guard positions, and Roy Carter of H-SU at center.

The defensive eleven had Andrews and Robert Dinneyer, Texas Western, as ends; Lewis and Billy Ray Nail of Hardin-Simmons as tackles; Howard and Billy Murry, H-SU, at guards; Waguespack and Bob Ratliff of West Texas as linebackers; Wahlin and Turner at halfbacks, and John Henry, senior, of Arizona State at safety.

Rod Williams of H-SU, the leading rusher, was a halfback on the second offensive team. Ogden Compton of Hardin-Simmons, the No. 1 passer, was second-team quarterback.

Lubbock, Baytown Favorites To Clash Again In 4-A Final

By The Associated Press

Back in September, when high school football practice was starting, the general prediction was that Lubbock and Baytown would do a repeat in the Class AAAA division—would clash in the finals.

Down the way many changes were made in the forecast. Wichita Falls pushed forward as the No. 1 team. Lubbock wasn't too impressive at times.

But what was predicted in September now appears close to coming about. Lubbock and Baytown will be the favorites this week in semi-finals of the AAAA division.

The Westerners, who beat Baytown for the title in a close one last year, are the undefeated, untied team in the class. They play North Dallas at Lubbock Saturday afternoon.

The Ray-Baytown game is the week's feature. The Corpus Christi team will be seeking revenge for a 34-0 licking plastered on it last year in the semi-finals by Baytown. That's incentive enough. But Ray also has the team that might well run the predictions of another Baytown-Lubbock clash in the finals.

Last week against Wichita Falls, Fred Morgan, a deluxe tailback, romped for three touchdowns and 137 yards. Sonny Crisp is a fine runner and passer, and John Ray, Corpus Christi end, turned in one of the finest games at a wing position against Wichita Falls in school football history. It is an excellent and versatile team.

Baytown has just as much power—and may be a stronger all-around team than the 1951 eleven that gave Lubbock all it wanted for one afternoon in the finals. The Ganders hinge their offense around Gerald Orton, talented runner and passer, and Fred Ernst, a magnificent fullback. It is a hard-running team and excels on defense.

Lubbock would appear too much for North Dallas although it is no set-up that Dallas sends out to Lubbock Saturday. The Bulldogs were impressive against North Side last week, beating the Fort Worth team, 26-6, a slightly more decisive victory than Lubbock scored over North Side earlier in the season.

The Westerners, who play cool, calculating football, feature Jimmy Welch, a line-blaster par excellence, and a fine quarterback in Jimmie Haynie. Lubbock romped to 428 yards on the ground and 38 in the air in crushing Austin of El Paso, 41-7, last week.

North Dallas, in the state play-off for the first time in 16 years, has excellent runners in Dave Abbott and Tony DeGrazier and a terrific punter in Bob Burgess. The Bulldog line is adept, too, featuring End Jerry Polen.

Seasons records of the four teams left in the Class AAAA race are: Lubbock—Won 11, lost none, 345 points, 82 opposition.

North Dallas—won nine, lost 2, 229 points, 115 opposition points.

Ray (Corpus Christi)—won nine, lost one, tied one, 309 points, 78 opposition points.

Baytown Won 10, lost one, 288 points, 74 opposition points.

The list was made up of 22 seniors, 11 juniors, 11 sophomores and two freshmen.

The first-team offensive backfield had Dick Shinaut of Texas Western, who led the conference in total offense, at quarterback. He will be back next year. The halfbacks were Ken Cardella, of Arizona, a junior who led conference rushers during the last four games, and Cavazos and Wahlin, seniors. The fullback was Mitchell Malouf of Hardin-Simmons, a senior.

In the line were Andrews and Dick Christiansen of Arizona at ends; Bill Dean of Arizona and Jankans at tackle; Donarski and Bill Goldman of Hardin-Simmons at the guard positions, and Roy Carter of H-SU at center.

The defensive eleven had Andrews and Robert Dinneyer, Texas Western, as ends; Lewis and Billy Ray Nail of Hardin-Simmons as tackles; Howard and Billy Murry, H-SU, at guards; Waguespack and Bob Ratliff of West Texas as linebackers; Wahlin and Turner at halfbacks, and John Henry, senior, of Arizona State at safety.

Rod Williams of H-SU, the leading rusher, was a halfback on the second offensive team. Ogden Compton of Hardin-Simmons, the No. 1 passer, was second-team quarterback.

PHILADELPHIA —(P)—The Internal Revenue Bureau has filed a tax lien against the Dallas Texans of the National Professional Football League in an attempt to recover $10,000 in amusement taxes, a bureau spokesman said Monday.

The unpaid taxes were collected by the club at Dallas during the current season.

The NFL has been operating the Dallas team with a $50,000 subsidy collected from the managements of the other clubs since the Texans' franchise was returned to the league because of financial troubles.

"I don't see how we're obligated for that amusement tax debt," NFL Commissioner Bert Bell said, "as the league is only helping the team complete its schedule and has not taken over any of the Dallas club's obligations or responsibilities in any other respect."

MIAMI, FLA.—(P)—A bulky field of 183 pros and amateurs competed Tuesday for 64 berths in the $10,000 Miami Open Golf Tournament to be played Thursday through Sunday.

Eighty-six top pros and amateurs were exempt from qualifying.

Under new Coach Paul Pierce, the Bearcats switched to the T formation this season. Gottlob gives the new formation and his "fine receivers" credit for his brilliant season. He racked up 2,470 yards to crack the old record set by Drake's Johnny Bright two years ago. He also set several new marks, including the most pass attempts (256), the most yards gained passing (2,325) and the most passes complete (132), for small colleges. Sam Houston played only nine games.

Led by Gottlob's passing, the Bearcats scored at least four touchdowns in every game.

Although he is only five-feet-nine and weighs just 165, Gottlob plans to play professional football next season. Several pro teams are interested in him.

"If they aren't going to worry about my size, then I'm certainly not," Gottlob said.

H-SU Lands Eight Berths On Border Loop First Teams

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(P)—Arizona State College at Tempe won the Border Conference grid crown but was edged by fourth-place Hardin-Simmons in placing men on the All-Border Conference teams announced by the league Tuesday.

Players from Arizona State, Hardin-Simmons and the University of Arizona earned 37 of the 51 places allotted on the first and second offensive and defensive teams and honorable mention.

Hardin-Simmons took eight places on the first team, including both captains, End D. C. Andrews on the offensive unit and Linebacker Maurice Waguespack on the defensive squad.

Arizona had five first-team members, Arizona State at Tempe four, Texas Tech three, Texas Western two, West Texas one and New Mexico A&M none.

Dr. Emil Larson, conference commissioner, announced the selections. The Associated Press all-conference teams were chosen recently by coaches and sportswriters.

Of the 46 players named for the 51 places on the list, 12 were from Hardin-Simmons and 11 each from Arizona State and Arizona.

Five men won berths on both the offensive and defensive teams.

Andrews was an end and Marvin Wahlin of Arizona State was a halfback on both first teams. Tackle John Jankans of Arizona State, one of the two freshmen honored, was on the first offensive team and the second defensive unit. Tackle Ernest (Buddy) Lewis of Arizona was on the No. 1 defensive eleven and the second offensive group. Chester Lyssy of Hardin-Simmons was on both second teams, as an end offensively and linebacker on defense.

For the third year in a row, Guard Jim Donarski of Arizona made the first team. Wahlin and Halfback Bob Cavazos of Texas Tech were first-team repeats. So was Defensive Guard Ray Howard of Texas Tech. Lyssy was placed on the second squad last year and this.

Two freshmen were honored. Jankans of Arizona State was a starter all season. John Mellekas, 225-pound guard at Arizona, played with the frosh team until the middle of October before getting a chance on the varsity. He was named to the second team.

The list was made up of 22 seniors, 11 juniors, 11 sophomores and two freshmen.

Southwest Conference Ready To Tackle Expensive Scholarship Problem

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS —(AP)— The Southwest Conference, meeting here next weekend, will talk about cutting down the number of athletic scholarships a school can award.

But indications are that it will be done indirectly and not through a rule that sets the exact number a member can issue promising high school graduates.

The committee studying the matter will recommend that in football, basketball and baseball no traveling squad can be more than 40 boys. It also will suggest that not more than 40 freshmen can be carried in football per season and not more than 30 can play in any game.

Such rules would work toward cutting down the number of athletic scholarships since a school wouldn't carry as many boys on its rosters. If the boy couldn't play, he would be a dead weight. The rule on freshmen would mean fewer first-year men would be brought in. It also would mean that no school could play 90 to 100 boys in a game just to nail them all down and prevent another school from getting some of them.

Actually, the proposed rules are aimed at economy and in the interest of de-emphasis. But they also would serve as an equalization measure. All schools would have a better chance of getting top material.

In the Southwest Conference, the members average about 130 scholarships a year. These cost from $700 to $1,300 a year, according to the tuition charges. Some schools charge high, others have little tuition.

But the result has been that most of the schools end up losing on their athletic programs by having to pay out so much for athletes.

You don't think there's money in high school football? Well, perhaps there isn't among the smaller schools but in the Class AAAA division of Texas high school football in which the larger cities compete, the rates are quite remunerative.

Saturday, when Lubbock was negotiating with Dallas in setting the site of the Lubbock-North Dallas semi-final game, Dallas was offered $15,000 to come out there.

That would have meant a neat profit for Dallas and Lubbock knew it would make money, being able to fill its stadium with 20,000 fans at about $4 per head.

Dallas wouldn't take it but countered with a guarantee of $2,000 — expenses — if Lubbock should come to Dallas. Under Intercollegiate League rules, expenses only must be guaranteed. Lubbock wanted $5,000.

Lubbock held out and Dallas held out—and they had to flip a coin. So, North Dallas goes to Lubbock anyway, but without a $15,000 guarantee. North Dallas will get a cut of the gate and probably will make more money than if it played at home. High school football in Dallas doesn't draw like in Lubbock.

One thing about these Texas high schools, however: They are more interested in winning the championship than in the money.

University of Houston had an outstanding football season. It certainly looked like a good bowl bet. But even the Gator Bowl turned away from the Cougars and took Tulsa. Tulsa it was that was badly beaten by Houston.

Most fans wondered how Tulsa could be picked over Houston—or at least why. It is understandable if you analyze it. Tulsa has a past bowl record. Tulsa is the nation's greatest offensive team and has a lot of color. Houston, while it had a fine team, was the defensive type—the plodder. Gator Bowl officials undoubtedly selected Tulsa because they thought it would be a better attraction. It was unjust when football ability is considered but that's the story.

Sugar's Dethroning No Hit-Miss Action

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK —(AP)— At first glance it might seem the New York Athletic Commission was a little trigger-happy in shooting Sugar Ray off his throne in the Empire State, even if only for the time being.

But Chairman Bob Christenberry and his two helpers have dealt before with Monster Scurie, as he is known along the boulevards of Gay Paree, and Manager George Gainford. So their impetuous and irritation is quite understandable.

In dealing with the peerless champ and his manager, you start off with the premise that "A" is "Z" and vice versa. After traveling the short road the long way, a deal sometimes is made.

While discussing the commission's action in stripping Ray of his royal purple, Christenberry said Robinson had told him only a few days before that he was "through fighting."

Columnist Jimmy Cannon and Walter Winchell, who are very close to the middleweight champion, have quoted Ray as saying he was finished.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello, Ray's personal physician, has insisted all along that Ray won't fight again. The graceful boxer, now displaying his talents as a song and dance man in Boston, had a neat picture job done on his nose and had the web of scars over his eyes removed.

"Now Ray says he'll have just one more fight with Randy Turpin and call it quits, win or lose. Could it be that Ray wants a little publicity to go with his act?"

From what we've heard, Robinson plans to take his show overseas to London and Paris, where he's considered the greatest thing next to the U. S. buck.

THE WINNER!—Oklahoma's Billy Vessels was the proud recipient of the Heisman Memorial Trophy at New York's Downtown Athletic Club. It is awarded to the young man who voted the outstanding college football player of year. (NEA)

Fordham End Sets College Pass Record

NEW YORK —(AP)— Six-foot Ed Brown, senior end from Jersey City, N. J., played only eight football games this season with Fordham but still managed to smash the major college pass-catching record to hits.

Playing two less than many of his rivals and previous record holders, Brown wound up with 57 catches, 10 more than his closest pursuer, final statistics of the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed Tuesday.

More Than Barney Poole

This was five more than the previous national mark set in 1947 by Mississippi's Barney Poole and tied by Art Wener of North Carolina in 1949—both in 10-game schedules.

Brown put on a tremendous performance in his final game against New York U. catching 15 and setting a record by gaining 233 yards. This made Brown the first Easterner to head the pass-catching standings, although this section has produced two champion passers and three team passing leaders in other years.

With 91 passes caught in two seasons, Brown also broke the record of 83 made by Wener. The Fordham end led this year's receivers in yardage with 774, fifth highest single season total on record.

Second place went to Joe McClaran of Drake, who caught 47. John Carroll of Holy Cross was third with 46, and Rocky Ryan and Rex Smith of Illinois tied with 45 apiece.

Leaders in taking passes for touchdowns were Willie Roberts of Tulsa with 12, and Yale's Ed Woodsum, with 11.

NO MORE RECORDS TO BREAK—Slingin' Sam Baugh Again Chants Player Swan Song

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON —(AP)— On Sept. 16, 1937, a gangling Texan wearing No. 33 trotted out on the field at Griffith Stadium—and 24,942 fans had their first look at their pro football team and Sammy Baugh.

As he has for 16 years, Baugh will trot out on the field again Sunday when the Washington Redskins play the Philadelphia Eagles. But this time it will be different.

Baugh Monday again announced this will be his last year as a player.

The indestructible Baugh, quitting at last, holds almost every passing record in the books.

Long ago he reached the point where he couldn't touch a football without setting a new record. Even his errors became statistical history.

For along with throwing more passes, completing more passes and scoring with more passes than any other player in pro history, Baugh also is ahead on the other side of the record; he's had more passes intercepted than any one else.

These are some of his records: Most years played in National Football League: 16, all with the Redskins.

Most times led league in passing: six (37, '40, '43, '45, '47, '49).

Most passes thrown: 3,016.

Most passes completed: 1,709.

Most yards gained: 22,085.

Most touchdowns passes: 187.

If statistics trouble you, it's easier put this way:

Baugh has completed more than half the passes he's tried. And his completions add up to more than 12 miles gained.

In his early days Baugh was a fine all-around player. He was an exceptional punter, a better-than-average runner, and a standout defensive player.

Converted To T

When the Redskins installed the T formation, Baugh switched from left half to quarter back. He never seemed fully at home in the new position, but even so he beat out all who tried to take the job away from him.

This year Baugh started the season sharing the quarterback spot with little Eddie LeBaron. But Baugh hurt his pitching hand early in the year, and recently has been used only to hold the ball on tries for extra points and field goals.

Baugh's future? Unclear. The Redskins announcement said merely he was quitting as a player. It didn't say whether or not he would stay on in his other capacity, assistant coach.

Officials of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, Texas, where Baugh coached in Spring training this year, said he has promised to confer with them about joining the Hardin-Simmons coaching staff.

Burnett, 13 Major League Pilots Go 'Cahoots' In Oil

DALLAS —(AP)— If ever a minor league club owner had "connections" with the major leagues it's Dick Burnett, the fellow who has been crying out against "chain baseball" monopoly.

These connections, however, have nothing to do with ball players.

The wealthy oil man, who operates the Dallas franchise in the Texas League, is partners with 13 of the 16 major league managers in the drilling of an oil well in Arkansas. He expects the other three to come in shortly to make his connections with the majors unanimous.

It all started at the National Baseball Meeting in Phoenix. Burnett previously had been associated with Paul Richards, manager of the Chicago White Sox, in an oil deal. Preparing to drill a new well at Stephens, Ark., Burnett offered Richards the opportunity to buy an interest. Then he decided he also would take in the other big league managers.

Pay $8,000 Each

Most of them quickly got on the line, paying around $8,000 apiece for a thirty-second interest. Chuck Dresen of Brooklyn, Leo Durocher of the New York Giants and the manager at Pittsburgh (not yet named) are the only ones not already in the oil business with Burnett.

Burnett has oil interests at Magnolia, Ark., and he expects the new well to open up a new field on 267 acres at Stephens. Drilling will start in a week or 10 days.

"It will be the Casey Stengel No. 1," Burnett said. He's naming it for the manager of the World's Champion New York Yankees.

Each of the big league managers will make around $200,000 if the well pans out and a new field is opened. Burnett plans to drill 10 wells on the tract.

Southern Methodist President To Talk At Kiwanis Banquet

Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University at Dallas, will be the principal speaker at the installation banquet January 21 of the Midland Kiwanis Club.

Herschel Ezell, president of the club, announced Tuesday that Dr. Lee had accepted the invitation to address club members at the banquet, to be held at the Midland Country Club.

Frank Beroni will head a slate of new officers to be installed at that time.

Levelland Skeds Tourney Of Champs

LEVELLAND —(AP)— Teams that won district basketball championships in schoolboy basketball last season will participate in a tournament here January 2 and 3.

It's the first annual West Texas Basketball Tournament of district champions.

Schools that will participate are Phillips, Childress, Quanah, Tahoka, Denver City, Lamesa and Levelland. Abernathy has also been invited but has not yet accepted.

Levelland High School Coach Truett Rattan is tournament director.

Rangerettes Again Make All-Star Date

KILGORE —(AP)— Kilgore College's Rangerettes — precision drill and dance troupe—will make their third appearance at the All-Star football game in Chicago, next August 14.

Director Gusie Neil Davis said both the Rangerettes and the Ranger Band have accepted a bid to return to Chicago next Summer.

The Rangerettes will perform at the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas New Year's Day.

President Pledges To Settle Cleveland Front Office Row

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Ellis Ryan, who now says he wants to retain his job as Cleveland Indians president, promises to settle the club's front-office squabble some time this week.

"Definitely, I want to remain president of the Indians," said the publicity-shy former insurance man, who seemed worried the uproar would be bad for baseball.

"I want to wind this thing up as quickly as I possibly can," he continued. "There has been so much conjecture that I think the public is entitled to know what's going on."

Declining to comment on how stiff a fight he would put up to retain his post, Ryan said he had the support of five other directors—Joseph Broderick, B. F. Bo Bernet, Guy Waters, David R. Jones and Jack Johns.

Ryan Gets Support

Together with Ryan, they are reported to control 1,200 of the team's 3,000 shares of stock. There are 12 directors counting Ryan.

"These men came into this venture with me and they have promised to stick it out to the finish," Ryan said.

The dispute broke into the open last Thursday while Ryan was attending the major leagues meeting at Phoenix, Ariz. It was not until last night that he made it clear he wanted to remain president, although he had indicated that previously.

Details of the squabble never came into the open. Insiders said it started when Ryan pushed the purchase of the Indianapolis team in the American Association. Indianapolis lost money for the Tribe last year.

Named as likely to succeed Ryan—if his group loses—is George Medinger, present vice president.

The Ryan group in that case probably would sell out to buyers financed by Medinger, operations chief Nate Dolin, and two other directors, Harry Small and Don Hornbeck.

Cross, Little Texan With 10-Gallon Heart, Keeps All-League Cardinal Backs On Bench

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Anyone watching the Chicago Cardinals would be prompted to comment that irrepressible Willie Vecch finally had gotten into the football act.

How else explain the midge-like character scampering around in the backfield?

Billy Cross, the Texas Panhandle halfback with the 10-gallon heart, is a National League phenomenon. At 150 pounds ("And that is before a game," smiles Billy), he's the smallest man in professional football by 15 pounds. Yet he's close to all-league caliber in ability and results.

The first time Mrs. Violet Bidwell Wolfner, owner of the Cards, saw the five-foot-five Texan strolling with a foot taller end in the 1951 training camp, she asked seriously, "Whose son is that?"

The first time he ran against the arch-rival Bears, little "Cris" Cross clarified his recruit status: His teammates voted him the most valuable player of the game.

"I knew I'd made the grade," recalls Billy. "They don't give you many pats on the back in pro ball, and a little fella like me needs all the extra encouragement he can get."

How can a little man buck those 235-pound lines?

"The first thing you learn," says

Meyer of Texas Christian told me I was too small."

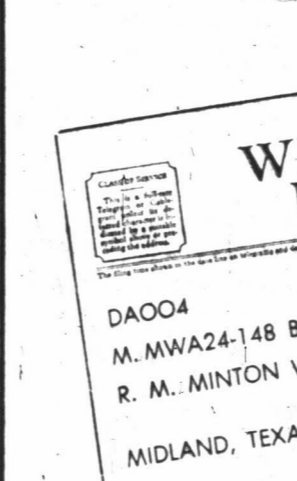

So the small fry halfback (he was born in Fry, Texas) became a Little All-America at West Texas State.

West Texas didn't have a track team, but Billy entered the Border Conference meet and high-jumped six-foot-one, or seven inches above his height.

He has a fine burst of speed. For 50 yards he can keep up with anyone in football, including Olympic sprinter Ollie Matson, a teammate.

It helps explain why they can't chase him out of the lineup.

Relegated to the bench are such former all-league backs as Elmer Angsman and Joe Geri and Illinois All-America Johnny Karras.

Ike, Advisors Shoot Skeet, Return To Policy Conference

ABOARD THE USS HELENA — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower and his party crossed the International Dateline Tuesday night and faced another Tuesday of full discussions on various aspects of problems in the Far East.

The ship is due at Pearl Harbor at 9 a. m. (1 p. m. CST) Thursday. Top-level discussions continued Monday but there was no announcement or report to indicate their trend.

The President-elect and members of his "brain trust" took time out from weary world problems to do some skeet-shooting on the Helena's fantail.

Eisenhower, Gen. Lucius Clay and George M. Humphrey, whom Eisenhower has designated as his secretary of the Treasury, shared top honors. They shot for 30 minutes and did not miss once.

When the Helena reaches Pearl Harbor at the end of its 3,300 mile trip from Guam, the group will confer for possibly three more days with military leaders and advisers now gathered there.

The general will fly back to his headquarters at the Hotel Commodore in New York City.

Briton Downs MIG As Sabres Cleanse North Korean Skies

SEOUL — Allied pilots tangled with Communist MIG-15 jets deep in North Korea Tuesday and the U. S. Fifth Air Force said one MIG was destroyed.

Credit for the MIG kill went to a British exchange pilot, Lt. Graham F. Huse, Hailey, Staffordshire, England. Huse and three other Sabre pilots fought it out with two MIGs, but one of the Red warplanes escaped back across the Yalu River.

Truck-busting B-26 Invaders Monday night racked up their biggest score in two weeks on continual attacks on Communist supply lines in North Korea.

Fourteen B-29 Superfortresses rained 140 tons of high explosives on four targets in Red Korea.

The ground front remained relatively quiet as temperatures stayed just above zero.

Allied warships and carrier planes gave the UN infantry a hand on the Eastern Front.

Christmas Seal Sales Here Climb Toward $9,500 Goal

Returns from Christmas Seal letters mailed out to residents of Midland County, received at the offices of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association, have risen to $6,007, Joe I. O'Neill, county Seal chairman, announced Tuesday.

A goal of $9,500 was set at the start of the campaign. "Although we are still far from our goal," O'Neill said, "it is hoped that the response to the Christmas Seal Sale from many more Midland residents will be as generous as in past years."

"When we use Christmas Seals on our greeting cards and gift packages we know that we are making a gift of health to ourselves, to our neighbors, and to the whole community," he said.

He pointed out that Christmas Seals buy specific services for the better health of the county. They support the tuberculosis association's fight against TB through the free chest X-ray survey, the tuberculosis health education program, and advice and assistance to those TB patients in need of them.

The Christmas Seal Sale will be carried on by the association until December 25.

It was announced that musical programs by nationally known entertainers, broadcasting on behalf of the Christmas Seal, can be heard over a Midland station on Thursday and Sunday nights at 9:15. The four shows yet to be heard star Sammy Kaye, Gene Autry, Paul Weston and Nelson Eddy, and Guy Lombardo.

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Ake Nevill, 76, who died Monday in a Midland hospital, were to be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Livingston Funeral Home Chapel at Alpine. The Rev. R. Gordon Collier, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was to officiate. Interment was slated in Elm Grove Cemetery.

The New Year, which has been reflected at the eighth annual Anxiety Herford Breeders Sale here, Purebred cattle prices took a decided drop during the auction Monday.

Fifty-six head brought an average of $652. The average for 51 bulls was $655 and for five cows $627. At last year's sale 65 heavy moved at an average of $1,166.

Top animals drew good money, despite the overall slump. The grand champion bull, Duval Lampighter 25611, owned by W. A. Anderson of Lovington, N. M., went for $2,800 to Tom Lineberry of Midland.

NEW YORK FAMILY WILL VISIT HERE — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kennett of New York City are expected to arrive in Midland Wednesday to be at the bedside of Mrs. Kennett's mother, Mrs. Frank Elkin, who has been ill since November 4.

FROM FORT STOCKTON — Mrs. Roy Bowden and daughter, Janet, visited here Tuesday.

GL Wings Atlantic To Wed High School Girl In Texas — HEARNE — It's a December wedding in Texas rather than a June wedding in Paris for pretty Janice Suggs, 18, and she likes it.

He had the license by Thursday and Cpl. Winfred M. McElroy and his blonde, dimpled girl friend will marry in the First Baptist Church here Saturday night.

McElroy, a little haggard after the trip, wasn't talking much. "Too busy," he left Paris Saturday night.

It offers the possibility that men can be changed, he said. Looking over conditions in the Far East, Judd said, "people talk about Japan being a bastion against communism. They'd like it to but it can't."

At War 30 Years — Economic conditions are putting Japan on the ropes and forcing her to look toward Red China for trade; the Philippines is "a dead duck," and Indochina is tottering, he said.

"There was never any chance to save it," he said, "once Communists had consolidated power in China." Judd said the Americans may be having tough going in Korea, but, "it's worse in Indochina—and they'll be there."

Cotton Output In Midland Surpasses Year's Estimate

Midland County, as well as the entire nation, will produce more cotton in 1952 than originally was anticipated, spinning figures released Tuesday indicate.

A total of 2,521 bales had been turned out by Midland gins through Monday.

Charles Green, Midland County Agent, had predicted earlier in the year that ginings would total 2,500 bales for the entire season.

Green said he was revising this figure since the yield would exceed the 2,500-bale mark. He pointed out that it was difficult to anticipate yield of dry-land cotton in the county, due to its "hit or miss" type of growth.

Machines are being used this week to strip dry-land cotton fields, while most irrigated cotton has been harvested, Green said.

The Agriculture Department, in its final report of the year, Monday estimated the 1952 crop in the nation at 15,038,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This is 133,000 bales more than the 14,905,000 estimated a month ago. It compared with last year's crop of 15,144,000.

Three Men Still Unaccounted For In Hotel Burning — FORT WORTH — Three Oklahoma men remained unaccounted for Tuesday after firemen completed their search of the charred ruins of the Star Arms Hotel.

Three other persons died in the blaze, early Monday.

Unaccounted for were N. Teague, Headton, Okla., Howard Johnson, Enid, Okla., and Earl Weaver, Pryor, Okla.

Fire investigators said they were convinced the three men left the hotel before the fire broke out or escaped and failed to notify authorities.

District Attorney Allen B. Haley had recommended a suspended sentence, but the Legislature that passed the suspended sentence law had a case like this in mind, a case in which there are so many mitigating circumstances in the defendant's behalf.

"I was about a half a block ahead of her in the car," Harwit related, "and she was walking her bicycle."

"Joe Minis was passing by in a car when he saw the dogs attacking her. I looked back just as he started to drive them away."

Other Attacks Reported — "I ran back and both of us kicked at the dogs until they fled. I doubt if either of us could have driven them off alone."

Harwit said that subsequent to the attack he was told the dogs had attacked three or four other children earlier in the day.

The child's blue jeans were ripped from her leg, which was treated for one puncture wound and several scratches.

Police Lt. Roy Merket reported that the dogs were sitting quietly a short distance away when he arrived at 1:45 p. m. and called the humane officer.

Reported, Lieutenant Merket reported to the city manager, 35 minutes later to pick up the dogs.

Winds Scoot Fog Away From London

LONDON — The great fog that gripped London by the throat for four choking days began blowing away Tuesday morning.

A cold wind came happily out of the southwest. Air Ministry weather experts said the fog should clear completely during the day.

Bus and train services would run normally, the London Transport Authority announced. At the city's London and Northolt Airports visibility increased to 860 yards.

Government Workers Due Four-Day Leaves — WASHINGTON — President Truman Tuesday announced an executive order under which federal employees will enjoy four days off at Christmas.

"We've been at war for 30 years, and don't know it," he said. "That's why we're losing."

In the Philippines, he said, America has sacrificed 50 years of democratic teachings and leadership, but "there's no way for the Philippines" to remain independent if the Communists rule on the mainland.

In China, he said, 135 years of missionary work has been lost because the Christian missionaries wouldn't believe "that the devil was the devil."

"They will have to stand before judgment and answer for that mistake," he said.

The roots of our failure, he said, is that America tried to "make a settlement, an arrangement, with the devil (communism)—instead of spurning him as Christ did when he was tempted.

Wind-Fanned Flames Result In Extensive Loss For Midlanders

Three Midland fires, fanned by high winds, resulted in extensive damage Monday and Tuesday.

The first fire was at 3:17 p. m. Monday at 2804 West Wall Street, where new furniture belonging to John Boatwright & Company became ignited. Firemen said the furniture was at the rear of the store and was to be moved into a warehouse.

Damaged in the blaze were two automatic washing machines, two mattresses, a sofa, and two box springs. Firemen said the blaze apparently resulted from a cigarette.

The second fire was at 4:20 p. m. Monday in the 2600 block Rankin Highway. Interior of a storage building belonging to L. R. Lowson was swept by flames. Firemen said miscellaneous items were stored in the building. Children playing in the building were believed to have started the blaze.

At 9:40 a. m. Tuesday, firemen attacked an alarm to the rear of 319 East Texas Street. A double garage, being used by Dr. Stephen Shannon, as storage for miscellaneous items, was damaged heavily. Firemen said the blaze originated from a nearby trash barrel.

Pair Reports Killer Kicked Falling Man, Made Him Beg — CLEARWATER, FLA. — (AP) — Burnell Fraser, accused of slaying his best friend over the affections of Fraser's wife, was to take the stand in his own defense Tuesday.

Two state witnesses testified when the murder trial began Monday that the 40-year-old, flooring contractor from Houston Texas, shot Thomas T. Withers, kicked him when he fell, and refused the dying man a drink of water.

Another state witness said Fraser admitting shooting Withers while Withers was on his knees, "begging like a dog."

Mrs. Fraser, testifying for her husband, was rebuffed by Judge Victor O. Wehle for a sobbing demonstration which Judge Wehle apparently thought was staged to impress the all-male jury.

Withers, 42, was shot in the chest outside the quarters where Mrs. Fraser said he had been staying as guests of her mother. That was July 19, the same afternoon Fraser arrived from Houston.

Considered Divorced — Mrs. Fraser testified Withers had arrived unexpectedly a week earlier and stayed at her mother's invitation. She said she liked Withers, felt her husband had been neglecting her and was considering Withers' request that she get a divorce and marry him.

Judd Warns Odds Are Against Victory By World's Free Men

DENVER — Rep. Walter Judd (R-Minn.) told churchmen meeting here Monday night that the odds are against the survival of free society.

He told the churchmen, "We are in a crucial moment of history when the odds are against us."

At a dinner of United Churchmen of the National Council of Churches, he said, "All civilization has been put on the defensive and communism is on the march."

A one-time missionary to China, Judd said there is "no hope for Korea," and "the Koreans all know it."

He said one of the reasons for such a situation is that we are following an old habit of "trying to make a deal" with the enemy.

Some 400 laymen from 29 denominations heard the congressman describe Christian religion as "the only hope." It gives hope because it offers the possibility that men can be changed, he said. Looking over conditions in the Far East, Judd said, "people talk about Japan being a bastion against communism. They'd like it to but it can't."

At War 30 Years — Economic conditions are putting Japan on the ropes and forcing her to look toward Red China for trade; the Philippines is "a dead duck," and Indochina is tottering, he said.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

A STORY BOOK OF BEAUTY on beautiful Storey Street. Open the cover of red brick and you find three wonderful bedrooms and two baths. Your interest will be held by the spacious living room and dining room, and the huge kitchen is a chapter in itself. The 2-car attached garage would make a wonderfully large den—for reading or gaming. Turn the pages and you'll find two rooms and hallway carpeted, distributed heating, an air conditioner unit, and draperies. The large corner lot is paved and fenced with a nice wall. Mazie, the pup, does not go with the house, but the lawn stays. Priced at $23,000.

WOULD YOU RATHER live near the Country Club? Exquisite 2 bedroom and den, with attached garage now available. Recently redecorated in warm colors, this home offers you luxury at a low cost. Paved street, lots of huge trees, tile fence and friendly neighbors. FHA financing available. ONLY $16,250

(Here's one for the kids. What's the strongest day of the week? Other Sunday... because all the others are week days.)

YOU'LL NEED A BIG CHRISTMAS tree if you want to give her this home. Located in exclusive URBAN DALE and constructed of white chip brick and Louisiana cypress. It has three large bedrooms, two ceramic tile baths, spacious living and dining room combination, and two car attached garage (pine paneling and with lots of storage). Here is the truly magnificent kitchen. Central heating and air-conditioning, just closing carpet throughout, and an hour's talk of other features. Nicely landscaped and entirely fenced. In tile and brick. Established loan of $21,000, and priced at $28,500.

INVEST THAT CHRISTMAS BONUS in a home of your very own—and save on your rent. On delightfully quiet West Estes, we have an exceptionally attractive 3 - bedroom home. Walls coated in brick and combined with asbestos siding, you will find superior construction being featured. The garage is attached. The living room, dining room, and hall are carpeted. FOR THE ELDERLY COUPLE who appreciate gracious living, gardening, and the welcomed quiet of removal, we sincerely invite you to the hush of this attractive, salmon-brick home. Two huge bedrooms, gigantic closets, and tile bath with colored fixtures. The garage is attached. Long living room, any kitchen with breakfast area, Vent-A-Hood, and warmly carpeted throughout. With a spotlight on construction, we focus on the three lovely bedrooms, 2 tile baths, the inviting living room with the low-cut window, and the attached garage. Your attention will fall upon the room we call a kitchen. (There should be a better word for this one.) Separate utility room with space for home freezer. Central heating and air-conditioning, carpeting, and love-liness. $23,000.

IF YOU MEASURE A HOME by its floor plan and beauty, and not the ridiculous rule of square feet, it will be love at first sight. Even at that, it has 1,800 sq. ft. of living area. But more important, it has three bedrooms, den, 1 1/2 tile baths, loads of closets, full dining room, and a masterpiece of kitchen. (There's that word again.) It's brick and rambles 80 feet across the front. Two-car attached garage, lawn, water well, tile fence. Central heating and air-conditioning, luxurious carpeting, and TOUGH-PLATE electrical system. It is a home of distinction—and priced at ONLY $26,500.

Kidnap-Torture Of Texans Due Airing In Mexico Court

EL PASO — Three men charged with kidnaping, torturing and beating two Texas youths were to go on trial Tuesday in Chihuahua, Mexico.

The father of the two boys, John Bramblett, is a rancher on the United States-Mexico border in Hudspeth County, in this area of Far West Texas. Bramblett said Monday he suspects it was he—not his sons—for whom the Mexican bandits were looking. He blamed it all on a cattle episode several months ago when he said the bandits apparently believed he "put the finger on some men who stole cattle belonging to States Attorney Humberto Raynal."

It is Raynal who is scheduled to prosecute the case in Chihuahua City Tuesday.

Still exhibiting bruises and injured fingers they said the Mexicans inflicted on them, Kit Bramblett, 20, and Mann Bramblett, 18, Monday told this story which started on Thanksgiving Day.

At about 4 p.m. of that day a bracer who had worked on the Bramblett and other nearby ranches approached their home, located about 45 miles southeast of Sierra Bianca, Texas. He told the elder Bramblett that he had located three head of his cattle below the Rio Grande, but that the animals must be identified in person.

His two sons volunteered to go. They saddled their horses and left.

Men Wore Badges About an hour's ride from their home, they were led up a rocky draw, and into a dead-end canyon. Suddenly, men appeared who wore the badges of the Mexican State Police.

The first question they asked was: "Which one of you is John Bramblett?"

The sons explained that their father, John, had not come because of the cold.

Then, in the early night-darkness of the canyon, the two youths were stripped of their bare skins.

They were forced to bend down on their hands and knees.

Pins In Fingers Some of the "Mexican State Police" then grabbed rifles, by the barrels, and clubbed the young men with the heavy stocks.

The biggest beating was dealt out to Kit. Then, 18-year-old Mann Bramblett was brought forward. Pins were rammed beneath his fingernails.

Mann was told to ride back to his father and get 16,000 pesos ransom money. Two hours later, when the beaten youth rode into the yard of his father's ranch home, he gasped out the story.

All the elder Bramblett could manage to round up, on such short notice, was a total of 12,314 pesos and 20 centavos.

Warns Of Bracero All the while, the bracer who had led the youths into the trap was along. The elder Bramblett warned his son of his suspicion of the bracer, who had pretended to be "held up" by the same gang in the rocky draw.

Taking the money back—accompanied by the bracer—Mann delivered that amount of the ransom which his father had been able to raise.

Kit Bramblett then was given back his clothes and released. The youth then rode back across the border.

John Bramblett said Monday, "The horses still haven't recovered."

SYNOPSIS: Escaping from the pirate ship the Prince lands in the strangest village you ever saw. It had a circular street, fiery lamps and dwarfs dressed in flower petals who invented things. But try as they would, they couldn't invent a way to get him to Santa Land.

CHAPTER VI SANTA LAND

WHILE Prince Jonathan struggled to get to Santa Land, the King back in Fairvania told his people the dreadful news.

"When my baby son was dying," he said, "I promised a strange creature named Lubi 20,000 pieces of gold to make him well. If I could not get the gold in ten years time I promised him my kingdom."

"Ten years have now passed and I have not even 100 pieces of gold in my treasury. Lubi comes on Christmas eve to collect."

Then the King told them the Prince had sailed away for help but that he himself was sure no help would come.

At first the people were stunned by the news. Then they thought, "The Prince is a great one. He will find a way. In the meantime let us do what we can."

Instead of buying Christmas presents for one another the people brought all their gold to the King. No longer could you smell the cooking of fruit cakes and Christmas cookies and ribbon candy in Fairvania. No more trees were decorated in the streets. No more letters were written to Santa Claus.

Instead of spending, the people saved. But when the money they saved was counted and added to their rings and necklaces and silver tea sets and jeweled watches which they brought to the King—it still did not equal more than 300 pieces of gold.

The King was greatly moved by the love of his people. "They would not fail me," he thought sadly. "Yet I failed them."

MEANWHILE in the village of the Inventor Dwarfs the Prince watched anxiously as the dwarfs worked on a third way for him to get to Santa Land.

"Don't you worry," said the Buttercup dwarf. "We never give up until we succeed in our inventions."

The Prince thought it might be quicker if he just started walking to Santa Land. But before he could say this the tulip dressed dwarf began suddenly to smoke from the top of his head. This meant he had an idea. The other dwarfs rushed to him.

He shot into the clouds above the mountains and dropped into a snow bank in Santa's own back yard.

They whispered together for a long time. They counted on their fingers. They measured the ground with their feet. They mixed strange seeds in their hats. They climbed trees and wove vines.

At last they called the Prince. "It is finished. Come and try it."

"Surely this one will work," thought Jonathan. But when he saw what it was his hope vanished. It was simply a child's swing hanging from the branch of a giant oak tree which stood atop a small hill.

"We will swing you," explained the dwarfs. "And when we say for you to let go then you must let go."

Jonathan sat in the swing. The dwarfs gave a mighty push and Jonathan rose high in the air. Then back and the dwarfs gave another push sending him high again. Back and forth the Prince swung, going higher and higher. He could see over the tree tops and over the mountains and he thought in a few more moments he would see over the moon.

Suddenly the dwarfs shouted. "Let go!"

Jonathan was at the very top of his outward swing. He did as he was told and the instant he let go he felt himself lifted off the seat and shot into the clouds above the mountains.

I do not know what the wonderful swing was made of but it was certainly a successful invention. It catapulted the Prince straight to Santa Land and dropped him into a snow bank in Santa's own back yard.

Jonathan ran to Santa's back door and pounded. The door flew open and there was Santa himself, all shiny faced and smiling and big and red. Jonathan forgot for a moment that he was a Royal Prince. He threw himself into Santa's wide open arms sobbing.

"I'm so glad to be here!" "Well, now," chuckled Santa. "I'm glad to have you here. I guess you've come to tell me what you want for Christmas, eh?"

"Yes, if you please," said the Prince. "I want 20,000 pieces of gold."

Expert Says Farm Cost-Price Squeeze To Cut Into Profits

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Farmers are apt to feel the cost-price squeeze even more next year, an agriculture official says.

O. V. Wells, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics forecast here Monday that next year "farmers generally are going to become increasingly conscious of a cost-price squeeze and that net realized income of farm operators could be down some, perhaps as much as five per cent."

Wells addressed the Texas Farm and Ranch Credit School for commercial bankers.

Wells said he expects the farm outlook next year to be just about the same as it was this year.

But the Department of Commerce official predicted farm prices are likely to be mixed—with some commodities lower than this year—while farm costs are likely to creep upward.

Prices and costs paid by farmers in the future probably will remain "relatively firm" for several years, Wells noted. "Certainly farm costs will decrease slowly if at all," he said.

Hallanan Recommends Price Increase For Industry

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—For five long years the oil industry has gone without a price increase, while it has been confronted with tremendously increased costs involved in drilling for oil at greater depths than ever before. Walter S. Hallanan, president of Plymouth Oil Company, declared here last week. "The sad part of the picture is that we are finding less oil at these greater depths than we formerly did at more shallow levels."

"Time passes so swiftly in these hectic and uncertain days," Mr. Hallanan asserted in addressing the annual meeting of the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association. "That it is hard for many of us to realize that crude prices have not advanced since 1947. We have been too engrossed in doing our job of meeting a record demand for oil and in finding the new reserves to guarantee a continued adequate supply in the future. But we are now being forced to take a look at our books. They do not present a picture that gives us any degree of satisfaction or encouragement."

"There is nothing wrong with the industry that an equitable price increase will not cure," the speaker continued, but he added that imports which have more than doubled since the last price advance are a "seriously disturbing economic factor" in the price situation. The Plymouth executive declared that "up to a certain point, imports are wise and constructive; beyond that point, imports become progressively unwise and destructive."

He added that the facts and conditions would indicate that "this dividing line has been crossed." The speaker said he did not despair that imports would be brought into proper balance. He pointed out that the principal importers are domestic companies with large investments in this country and are "managed by men whose primary interest is in protecting the American oil industry." Mr. Hallanan said he recognized that importers are confronted by very serious problems which are world wide in scope, but he called upon them to re-examine the import picture in the light of the effect upon the domestic industry.

The speaker asserted that "the sinister and the fuzzy-minded, who for years have gleefully and irresponsibly used the petroleum industry as a political whipping boy, are now going into at least partial and temporary eclipse. We have won the battle, he added, "but let us not delude ourselves that the war is over. We cannot relax our vigilance. The passion for governing—the urge to push people around—is not the exclusive property of the members of any one political party."

"It is never difficult to look backward and see where we have been," Mr. Hallanan continued. "Today, for the first time in many years, we can look forward with optimism as to our general direction. If we are discouraged because we cannot come up with immediate answers to the problems of mounting costs, stationary prices and excessive imports, let us be heartened by the thought that the time-table of events is not so important as the general direction in which we are headed."

"Now, none of us is so immune to practical considerations as to think that any of the hard facts of our economy have been changed overnight. We have the same economic problems today that we had yesterday. But the atmosphere and the climate surrounding these facts and problems have been changed. We are no longer fumbling in the dark."

Vicki Anderson wants to do something for the boys in Korea but she needs some help.

"I am 13 years old," Vicki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Anderson, 1003 West Storey, wrote last week which is very important to me.

"People from 13 up can join the different services like the Army, the Air Force, etc. There is not much I can do for the boys in Korea except what Mother suggested."

"She said to write to them, but I don't know any addresses. Do you know where I can get a list of addresses? I wrote to the local Red Cross headquarters but they could not tell me."

"I would like to start a club, but unless I can get a list of addresses, I cannot do so."

"I hope you can help me." So, beginning next Sunday, The Reporter-Telegram will print the names and addresses of those from this area, who are serving in the Far East.

Friends and relatives of such men are invited to send their names and addresses to The Reporter-Telegram, to be included in the list.

Winter weather added to the realism of "Exercise Frosty," a recent Army field maneuver in Austria, which included Sgt. Harold F. Cutbirth, son of R. W. Cutbirth, 404 South Baird Street.

Marked throughout by frequent rain, sleet and snow, the exercise gave Austrian-based American soldiers field training in the actual terrain they are guarding.

U. S. Army units took the roles of both aggressor and defending forces in the problem, which was conducted in the Salzkammergut Mountains.

Sergeant Cutbirth, a howitzer section chief in the 510th Field Artillery Battalion's Battery C, has been in the Army since June, 1950, and in Austria since September of that year.

He is a graduate of Midland High School.

Serving aboard the destroyer USS Orleck is Homer L. Snodgrass, seaman, son of Mrs. W. A. Gibson, 1105 South Moran Street.

Snodgrass, who was graduated from Midland High School, entered the naval service January 8, 1951. The Orleck has been nicknamed the "train destroyer" for the complete destruction of two Communist ammunition trains in Korea with its five-inch guns.

Pvt. William K. Carter, whose wife, the former Alice Stiles, lives in Crane, is returning to the United States under the Army's rotation program after 27 months in the Far East.

Pvt. Charles E. Steward, son of Mark Steward and husband of Alice Marie Steward of Midland, is returning to Camp Drum, N. Y., after completing amphibious training at Little Creek, Va.

A member of the 278th Regimental Combat Team, he took part in "Operation Sea Scope" at Little Creek, a joint Army-Navy maneuver in amphibious landings.

Williamsburg, Va., was once capital of a province which included territory now covered by Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and parts of Pennsylvania.

Don't Be A Credit Cast-Away . . .

Credit is more than a matter of money. It is a matter of character. Good credit is a progressive asset. Poor credit is a progressive handicap. What is more forlorn than the man without credit . . . the man who has been trusted by his fellows and has flunked the trust?

By the same reasoning, what is more beneficial than good credit? The man with good credit looks to the future unafraid. Opportunities are his. Credit, his advantage. The man alert to his own interest . . . pays up and keeps his credit good!

COFFEE TIME BECOMES ROUTINE—

Fun Of Sneaking Out Lost When Boss Wants Cup, Too

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — In most American business offices there comes a pause in the day's occupation that is known as "the coffee hour."

In fact there usually are two pauses—one in the morning, the other in the afternoon. It has grown so insidiously that it is now a generally accepted fact of office life and is taken as a normal working condition. Most employers now put up with it. They have come to realize that grown-ups, like children, have to have a periodic recess to let off their pent-up nervous energy.

That has taken a lot of fun out of what used to be a thrilling adventure. Fifteen to 25 years ago the following ominous notice was a common sight on company bulletin boards.

"It has come to the management's attention that a number of employees are leaving their desks during their hours of employment to get coffee. This will not be tolerated and must cease at once."

That, of course, was a flat dare and a challenge. An employee would spend an hour every morning figuring a new way to sneak down the back stairs, gulp a quick cup of coffee, and get back before he was missed.

Everyone on the payroll became linked in a partnership of conspiracy. You all were getting away with something forbidden.

Gradually the practice became so widespread that most management came to realize the rule against it was unenforceable as the prohibition law. So they quit putting up the notices.

Today the coffee hour is an accepted institution. It has infected the bosses themselves. They decided, "Well, if all the hired hands are going downstairs to get a cup of coffee, I might as well, too. I could use a little snack myself."

So what happens? You are sitting there enjoying a cup of steaming brew, contentedly aware that you are having it on company time and are shirking your duty, when the boss himself sits down on the next stool.

"How's everything?" he says cheerfully, ordering himself a cup.

"By the way, how are you coming along with that Jones matter?" For the next 15 minutes you both mull the Jones matter over and finally reach a decision. When you go back to your desk you feel vaguely cheated and don't know why.

Almost half the population of the United States lives in city areas, says the U. S. Census Bureau.

Scientists think that nothing can go faster than light because it is believed that the weight of a body increases with its speed and at the speed of light it would have infinite weight.

A survey conducted for the four New York City municipal colleges indicates that the divorce rate among graduates are from one-fourth to one-tenth those of the nation as a whole.

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, once met a monkey whose name was Dirty Shame. They met not far from the pen where Old Mac Donald keeps his pigs, but the pigs weren't there because they had gone away to the fields so they wouldn't have to be with anyone as dirty as Dirty Shame. He was just too dirty. Mugwump could see that he was too dirty for even the pigs to like him. "My name's Mugwump," Mugwump said.

"I'm Dirty Shame," Mr. Shame said.

His hands were dirty from walking in the mud to keep his feet from getting dirtier. Dirt was on his face, and in his hair, and on his clothes. Dirty Shame was the dirtiest fellow that Mugwump Monkey had ever seen. Yes, and the poor fellow was very worried, and all unhappy.

Dirty Shame sat there in the mud with his head between his knees to show how very worried he was. "Worry, worry, and worry," he said. He said he was very worried because he didn't know why he was always very dirty.

"Now don't you fret yourself, Mr. Shame," said Mugwump. "I'll try to find out why you're dirty all the time."

Mugwump hurried away to look for someone to ask, but he couldn't find anyone. Everyone seemed to be gone away. Like the pigs, they wanted nothing to do at all with Dirty Shame.

Mugwump even asked the wind to try to find an answer. "Why oh why," said Mugwump, "is Mr. Shame so very dirty?"

The wind blew through the weeds by the river and the wind said: "Shhh! Shhh! Shhh!" The wind was ashamed, you see, of Dirty Shame and all his dirt. The wind didn't want to talk about it.

NEW MERCURY ON DISPLAY—Better engine performance, styling changes and additional color and trim combinations characterize the new 1953 Mercury models which go on display Wednesday at Erskine Motors in Midland. Numerous interior and exterior improvements are featured in the new cars. The Mercury Monterey four-door sedan is pictured.

Mercury For 1953 Will Be Unveiled Here Wednesday

Styling changes to give a lower, wider appearance, and improved car performance are among the notable achievements in the 1953 Mercury, which will go on display Wednesday in the showrooms of Erskine Motors here.

In addition, the Mercury for 1953 has a new two-position door check on the doors of all models. This extra door stop position is safer and more convenient, especially in crowded parking areas. With it, doors can be held in half-open position as well as in the standard full-open position.

An appreciable improvement in Mercury performance has been brought about by changes in the exhaust system and a new air cleaner. A straight-through muffler replaces the three-pass muffler used on 1952 models, and the tail pipe has been enlarged to two inches.

These changes are responsible for the all-round improved performance of the Mercury—performance which trims more than four seconds off the time in accelerating from a standstill to 80 miles an hour, company officials said.

From the front the new Mercury appears lower and wider due to a newly hood ornament, heavier chrome hood lip moulding and new accessory bumper guards.

Distinctive Touch
New chrome side mouldings make the cars look longer, and new chrome "wind splits" on the side add a distinctive touch. Monterey models come with fender shields, chrome rocker panels and chrome drip rail mouldings as standard equipment.

Helping to give a wider appearance from the rear is a one-piece back window and a restyled deck lid lock and ornament.

Interiors have been completely restyled with all new and luxurious fabrics.

A wide selection of exterior colors is available, including five all-new metallics. A total of 13 basic colors includes eight new ones. There are 26 two-tone combinations.

There are seven distinctive models in the 1953 Mercury line. All come with custom interiors.

In Greece the ending of surnames indicates the region from which the family came: an "is" ending for a clan from Crete, "edes" a clan from Thrace and "as" a clan from Macedonia, says the National Geographic Society.

IPSWICH, ENGLAND. — (AP) — Mrs. Katie Berritt, 90, will be baptized by total immersion at Bethesda Baptist Church next Sunday.

The church's baptismal pool will be warmed for the occasion to make sure the ceremony does not chill her.
