Texas Gulf 1 Headlee Finds Ellenburger; To Set Pipe; Drill Deeper

Texas Gulf Producing Company No. 1 E. V. Headlee, Central-East Ector County wildcat, only a short distance west of the Midland County line is at total depth of 13,108 feet in Ellenburger dolomite and is preparing to take electric surveys and then set casing.

Tentative top of the Ellenburger has been picked by samples to be at 13,090 feet. Derrick floor elevation is 2,914 feet. The electric logs may make a slight change in the call on the top of the Ellenburger.

No Shows Reported

No shows of oil or gas have been reported from the section of the Ellenburger so far penetrated.

The casing is securely cemented the plug on it will be drilled out and more of the Ellenburger section will be cut. If any shows are encountered they will be tested.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 8, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey. The wildcat is three and three-quarter miles east and slightly north of Odessa and about 17 miles southwest of Midland.

Lead To Hunt Oil In Grayburg At Ector Wildcat

Lead Oil Corporation of Midland is to start work at once on its No. 1 W. Bradley, a slated 4,500-foot well in South-Central Ector County, 10 miles southwest of Odessa.

It is to be 660 feet from south and east lines of section 18, block 43, T-3-S, T&P survey. The scheduled destination of 4,500 feet is calculated to allow a test of the Grayburg (Permian) lime formation.

Southwest Of Production

This prospector is two miles southwest of the nearest Grayburg production on the southwest side of the South Cowden field.

It is adjacent to a small discovery from the Grayburg completed several years ago by Forest Oil Corporation. That project produced some oil for about six months and then became depleted.

Forest abandoned the project and let lease forfeit. Lead picked up lease and will try for a better well than the Forest development.

That hole was located 467 feet from the south and east lines of section 18.

Free Oil Found On Drillstem Test In Reagan Wildcat

Drillstem test in a sand section of the Simpson at The Atlantic Refining Company and the Superior Oil Company No. 1-11-B University, wildcat in Central-South Reagan County, developed five feet of free oil in the recovery.

The well was taken in an interval from 9,725 to 9,765 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was five feet of free oil, 1,030 feet of water blanket which was slightly gas cut, 25 feet of gas-cut mud and five feet of gas and water-cut mud. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 475 pounds and 15-minute shut-in pressure was 550 pounds.

Hole now is bottomed at 9,805, possibly Ellenburger, with another drillstem test underway.

Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 17, block 11, University Lands survey.

Oil Sand Found At Prospector In NW Mitchell Area

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Audrey Coleman, wildcat in Northwest Mitchell County, is bottomed at 3,096 feet in an oil bearing sand.

The sand was entered at 3,086 feet. Two hour balling test failed to show water. Operator did not report gauge on the oil ball. Oil is standing 75 feet from the bottom.

Shooting Victim Rallies Thursday

Red-haired Louise Hutchins was reported showing improvement Thursday from the effects of a gunshot wound received early Wednesday during an argument with her 21-year-old policeman boyfriend.

She underwent surgery Wednesday afternoon at Western Clinic Hospital and her physician reported Thursday she is responding favorably.

Meanwhile, the boy friend, Police Radio Dispatcher Charles Lee Jenkins, remained in the Midland County Jail after being charged with assault with intent to murder.

Bond has been set at $2,500.

Jenkins surrendered to officers shortly after 1 a.m. Wednesday after he admitted shot Miss Hutchins, a secretary to a contractor here, and then rushed her to the hospital for treatment of a bullet wound in the lower abdomen.

Jenkins told officers he and the girl had planned to be married in February and that he had shot her during an argument as they sat parked in her automobile on East Golf Course road.

The police employe said he had served in the United States Marine Corps for four months in 1950 but had received a medical discharge because of "nervousness."

Missing Tot Found Unhurt But 'Scared'

KINGSVILLE—(AP)—Arnoldo Garcia, six, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Garcia, missing from his home on the King Ranch for 24 hours, was found at 8:30 a.m. Thursday.

He was found asleep in the bed of Escondido Creek, surrounded by the four dogs that had left home with him. The child was unhurt but had been "a little scared."

Arnoldo was about a mile and a half from the home and about 100 yards east and outside of the ranch fence.

HOT MEDICAL ISSUE FLARES AGAIN—

Truman Health Advisors Offer New Insurance Plan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's Commission on the Health Needs of the Nation came up Thursday with a middle-ground proposal for solving one of the country's hottest issues—how to pay the doctor's bill.

The commission proposed $1,500,000,000 annual outlay of federal and state funds to bolster voluntary insurance plans covering the costs of hospital and medical care for all the nation's people lacking full ability to pay.

The program would be administered chiefly by the states, which would match federal money dollar-for-dollar.

It differs both from a plan unsuccessfully espoused by President Truman and a rival proposal of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Louis H. Bauer of Hempstead, N. Y., said a major recommendation in the report provides that "The federal government, through payroll deductions, would pay directly for the medical care of a large segment of the population. This is compulsory health insurance."

The AMA said it would withhold comment on the full report pending "careful study" by a four-man committee.

The commission, appointed in November of 1951 to assess the nation's health needs, and to make recommendations as it saw fit, collected some two million words of testimony from experts in various fields during hearings held in Washington—and close to another million words in hearings throughout the country.

January Crude Allowable Cut

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Texas Railroad Commission Thursday ordered a cut of 89,426 barrels daily in crude oil production for January.

It set the total permissive flow for the month at 3,211,108 barrels daily.

A cut in the number of producing days for fields generally over the state brought the reduction. There will be 22 state-wide producing days, one less than in December.

The East Texas field was not changed, with 19 producing days for January.

Commission action followed a brief state-wide production hearing at which only two companies sought continuance of a 23-day state-wide producing pattern. They were Sun and Shell.

Other companies—Gulf, Humble, Texas, Magnolia, Cities Service and Sinclair—agreed production should be cut back one day.

Latest Cold Wave Blows Icy Drizzle

Winter's breath turned icy and wet in Midland Thursday.

Cold, drizzling rain continued after noon as the freezing, wet norther spread over Texas. And CAA observers at Midland Air Terminal expected the wet, chilling spell to extend into Friday and possibly hold over the weekend.

The mercury still was sliding slowly here Thursday afternoon. It read 39 degrees at 8 a.m. and by 2 p.m. had dipped to 36 degrees. A hard freeze for Midland is not indicated in noon predictions for Thursday night or Friday morning.

The light rain was falling generally over this West Texas sector Thursday afternoon. Continued precipitation and a sudden drop in temperatures would bring hazardous traveling conditions.

A blast of cold air from Western Canada sent temperatures tumbling below zero in the Mid-Continent Thursday. But there was some relief from the frosty weather which has endangered vegetable citrus crops in Florida and other Southern states.

Heavy Snows Put Blanket On Europe, Delay Ocean Liners

LONDON—(AP)—Heavy snows in the wake of battering gales covered most of Central and Northern Europe Thursday with a Yule-like white blanket but moderating winds allowed two big trans-Atlantic liners to get underway for New York hours late.

The 53,329-ton liner United States finally pulled out of her berth at Southampton, England, more than 20 hours after scheduled sailing time, and the French liner Liberté also left Le Havre, France, 10 hours late.

You know about the New York Sun reply to a little girl's letter asking if truly there was a Santa Claus.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," it said in a classic attempt to bridge the make-believe and reality. "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist."

That was more than a half-century ago, but Virginia, now Mrs. Edward Douglas, remembers that all she could understand then was the assurance in the first line.

"It sustained me for two or three years," she said Thursday. "In spite of the editorial, I had a great feeling of disappointment when I found out the truth. I remember I tried to believe even when I knew Santa wasn't real."

Virginia O'Hanlon, age eight in 1897, wanted to be sure. So she wrote a letter to the Sun asking, "Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

"He lives, and he lives forever," the editorial said. "A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

The editorial received national acclaim and has been reprinted widely over the years.

NATO Nations Cut Proposed Defense Budget Almost Half

PARIS—(AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty nations agreed Thursday to spend $259,000,000 in 1953 for air-ports and other solid defenses against Soviet aggression. This is just a share more than half of the $488 million Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme commander in Europe, had outlined as the "minimum" to provide security.

Renee Eleven, French defense minister, said the reduced figure was agreed upon by the NATO Council after a four-day debate. The money will provide enough to begin work on airports and other long-term projects.

Decision on the final figure was taken a few hours before the projected conclusion of the meeting, called to get the 14 member nations to vote all the money they could afford without going broke.

Field Marshal Viscount Alexander of Britain, meanwhile, announced that "in time of war" Adm. Lord Mountbatten will be boss of NATO's Mediterranean naval and air forces.

Alexander, Britain's minister of defense, told a news conference, "While the United States Sixth Fleet is not now under the new Mediterranean Command, the new commander-in-chief will be responsible for coordinating the activities in time of war of the American fleet with those of other naval and air units operating in the Mediterranean."

This was the first public announcement on just how much authority the new Mediterranean naval commander-in-chief will have.

Ike, Mac Throw Veil Of Secrecy Around Historic Talks On Korea

NEW YORK—(AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower jockeyed in deep secrecy Thursday the Korean War and world peace views outlined to him by Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Aides said Eisenhower was studying ideas MacArthur set forth at their history-making conference Wednesday, but they added that no detailed public account of what was discussed can be expected.

After the conference at the Manhattan home of John Foster Dulles, secretary of State-designate, the two five-star generals told newsmen they had discussed the problem of winning peace in Korea and the rest of the world.

VICTOR Adding Machines cost less, operate faster. Call Baker Office Equipment Co., Phone 4-6808, 511 West Texas.—(Adv.)

The luncheon get-together at Dulles' four-story town-house resulted in a MacArthur speech here December 5. He said then there is "a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict."

When it was over, neither Eisenhower nor MacArthur said in their brief statements whether they were in agreement on a course to follow in Korea. Neither mentioned the "clear and definite solution" which MacArthur had talked about.

An Eisenhower aide said privately there was no doubt that MacArthur had set forth a plan.

"After all," said the aide, "that was the whole purpose of the meeting."

The conference started a few minutes after 1 p.m., and Eisenhower and MacArthur left Dulles' home two hours and 15 minutes later.

The President-elect said in a statement to reporters after the meeting:

"I have just met with two old friends for an enjoyable luncheon. Our general topic of conversation was peace. We discussed the possibility of peace in Korea with particular reference to the world situation, in which, of course, such Korean peace would have to be determined."

Eisenhower turned to MacArthur outside Dulles' home and said he hoped "my former commander will say a few words."

Newsmen up close heard Eisenhower say he and MacArthur had "a very fine conversation," and believed he had described it as a profitable discussion.

MacArthur spoke to reporters in a voice no more audible than the President-elect's.

He said he had "a very pleasant reunion with the President-elect," and remarked it was the first time they had seen each other in almost six years. MacArthur also said the meeting marked "resumption of friendship and comradeship of 35 years."

As Eisenhower and MacArthur walked to waiting automobiles after the conference, a reporter asked whether they intended to meet again. Eisenhower smiled and said: "I certainly hope it isn't another six years before we meet again. Surely, we'll see each other again."

With that, the two generals parted, Eisenhower going off in one car and MacArthur in another.

Doctors Say One Of Pair 'Doing Badly'

CHICAGO—(AP)—One of the Siamese twins separated in a history-making, 12-hour operation Wednesday was "doing badly" Thursday and physicians doubted he would survive.

Dr. Eric Oldberg, head of the department of neurology at the University of Illinois, said surgeons "had to make a choice" during the day-long surgical operation and that Rodney Dee, the smaller of the twins, was given the benefit because he showed the greater chance for ultimate survival.

Pair Of Pants Provides Clue To Bank Raid

OAKWOOD—(AP)—A pair of pants found near the car abandoned by two bandits who Wednesday robbed the Oakwood State Bank of $10,000 to $20,000 sent officers chasing to Louisiana.

In a pocket of the pants was a letter from a mother to her 19-year-old son in a small Louisiana town. When officers checked the town, they found the boy had appeared there briefly about 11 a.m. Wednesday, then left again. Wednesday night, police had been unable to trace the youth's movements.

Two armed, masked men—described by the bank president as around 30 or 32—robbed the bank in a swift, smoothly executed holdup. They forced three bank employes to lie on the floor while they scooped cash from the vault and fled in a 1949 Ford stolen Tuesday night in Palestine.

The Ford was found abandoned near here and the robbers were believed to have switched to a light green Chevrolet and headed for Waco or Dallas.

Midlanders Injured In Traffic Mishap

Vivian Pharris and Paul Roberts, both of Midland, received facial lacerations and other minor injuries in a traffic accident early Thursday on East Kentucky Street. They were released from the Western Clinic-Hospital after receiving emergency treatment.

Virginia's Faith In Santa Wanes With Passing Years

NEW YORK—(AP)—Even that famous Santa Claus editorial could not save Virginia from childish disillusionment.

You know about the New York Sun reply to a little girl's letter asking if truly there was a Santa Claus.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," it said in a classic attempt to bridge the make-believe and reality. "He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist."

That was more than a half-century ago, but Virginia, now Mrs. Edward Douglas, remembers that all she could understand then was the assurance in the first line.

Doctors Say One Of Pair 'Doing Badly'

CHICAGO—(AP)—One of the Siamese twins separated in a history-making, 12-hour operation Wednesday was "doing badly" Thursday and physicians doubted he would survive.

Dr. Eric Oldberg, head of the department of neurology at the University of Illinois, said surgeons "had to make a choice" during the day-long surgical operation and that Rodney Dee, the smaller of the twins, was given the benefit because he showed the greater chance for ultimate survival.

Oldberg said surgeons found the twins had only a single fused outer brain covering containing a single sagittal sinus vein that drains blood from the brain back to the heart. Rodney was given this brain covering and the drainage vein.

Chances 'Almost Nil'

Oldberg said the chances that Roger Lee would develop collateral circulation were "almost nil," and that "the next few hours will tell the story."

He reported Roger Lee "didn't do well during the operation" and was in shock several times with his condition "precarious."

But he also emphasized that surgeons found it would be more difficult to turn the brain covering and sinus over to Roger Lee. Dr. Oldberg said the surgeons "more or less went for one" and took a chance on the other.

"Was this to aid survival of the fittest?" he was asked.

"You might call it that," he replied.

The professor disclosed the twins received a total of six quarts of blood in transfusions during the 12-hour and 40-minute operation to separate the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Royt Brodie, Moline, Ill. The boys are 15 months old.

Three Blood Changes

This amount of blood was equivalent to replacing their total normal amount of blood capacity three times over. In the average adult, it would be roughly the equivalent of receiving 18 to 20 quarts of blood.

Dr. Oldberg said actually the bony part of the boys' heads which were joined "like two chimneys" were cut apart August 30. Thereafter the twins were joined only by skin, soft tissue and the outer brain covering called the "dura."

The surgeons, he said, first discovered the difficulties they faced in the last major pre-separation operation November 26. On that occasion their heads were "half split apart" and it was found it would be difficult to give each a separate venous drainage from the brain.

Blood which nourishes the brain is carried up by arteries that ultimately drain into the sagittal sinus vein enroute back to the heart.

Dr. Oldberg said the twins, in their 13 1/2-month stay at the university's hospital, underwent nine brain (neuro-surgical) operations and four plastic procedures.

In the most recent operations before Wednesday's, the dura—a paper-thin membrane—was split a little farther each time.

During the preliminary operations, the doctors needed a covering of live tissue to protect the exposed brain from air after final separation. They used the soft tissue from the side of the scalp for this.

The separation was the first successful one of its kind in medical history.

Militant Marilyn Spurs Bid Based On Lure Of Books

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Marilyn Monroe may attend the Southern California-Wisconsin Rose Bowl football game, but not as a guest of USC's librarian, Dr. Lewis F. Steig.

Dr. Steig invited the shapely actress to be his guest from his midfield box, but she declined.

She told him, "I regret that I cannot accept the invitation."
She told friends, "I think he's only interested in my books."

Dr. Steig earlier had made a plea for 178 books acquired by Miss Monroe in an auction, during which she had outbid a USC representative. The volumes contain manuscripts used by the late theatrical producer, Max Reinhardt. Four other universities have joined in asking Miss Monroe for the books—Stanford, UCLA, Harvard and Kansas City.

Hughes Again Rides RKO Driver's Seat

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The unpredictable Howard Hughes is back in the driver's seat at RKO.

The manufacturer of airplanes, oil tools and movies was elected chairman of the board of RKO Wednesday, although he recently sold his controlling interest in the studio.

Noah Dietrich, J. Miller Walker, Edward G. Burke, Jr., A. D. Simpson and Hughes comprise the board. Hughes succeeds Maurice H. Bern, New York City broker, who bowed out only a week after his election to the board. No reason was given for his withdrawal.

Hughes sold his interest to Ralph Stolkin of Chicago and a group of associates several months ago for $7,099,940. Stolkin still owes Hughes $5,500,000 and Burke now is the lone Stolkin representative on the board.

Mrs. Waldo Grossman and Mrs. W. L. Campbell were hostesses when the Halliburton Wives Club held a Christmas luncheon Wednesday in the Ranch House.

Plans were discussed for the Halliburton Company party to be held Saturday night.

Centerpiece for the luncheon table was a miniature Christmas tree and Santa Claus with a musical sleigh. Miniature Christmas trees were used as placecards.

The prize awarded during the afternoon went to a guest, Mrs. Joe Simpson of Rankin.

Texture Adds Body

By GAIL DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

NEW YORK—NEA—Crepe has made its big comeback this year. Out of circulation for some time, it has firmly re-established itself for Fall and Winter.

The new crepes differ somewhat from the "good little black crepe" that you once knew so fondly. They have more body, are less prone to wrinkle, take beautifully to tuckings or pleating, drape wonderfully and therefore lend themselves to distinctive design.

Crepe was once a fabric strongly identified with the term "afternoon dress." The new crepes are more versatile. They go to luncheons and teas, it's true, but they also go to dinner and the theater, to small evening parties. They can be dressed up or down; they take to furs or slip under a winter coat.

For luncheon in town, one girl left wearing Eisenberg's tucked rayon crepe. Horizontal tucks form a wide, handsome cummerbund from bust to hipline. Deep dolman sleeves draw attention to a tiny bodice. Loose panels, front and back, lend the skirt a fluid feeling.

Her companion brightens a rayon crepe with two-tone treatment by this same designer. Tucks are used here, too, from neck to hemline. Neck is high and round; sleeves are loose and flowing.

Geologists' Wives Give Dinner-Dance

The Stanwood Geologists' Wives Club held a Christmas dinner-dance Wednesday in the Cactus Restaurant.

Mrs. Martin Johnson and Mrs. Ed Woolfolk were in charge of the decorations which carried out a Christmas motif.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byington, David Byington, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Estens, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ammon, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Tomason, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gianone, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Woolfolk, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Teel, Mr. and Mrs. George Hitz, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Grauten, Mr. and Mrs. Ken McClain, Joe Nichols, Mary Jane Landreth, Donald Keller and Wanda Hawkins.

CEB SCOUTS TO MEET

Cub Scout Pack 51 will hold a pack meeting and Christmas party at 7:15 p.m. Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church. All pack members and their parents are invited to attend.

Green Thumb Gardeners Hold Holiday Party

Gifts were exchanged when members of the Green Thumb Garden Club held a Christmas party Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Robert Conkling, 309 East Maple Street.

Members also contributed food and clothing to be given to a needy family.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with lighted candles and Christmas cookies.

Present were Mrs. Paul Anderson, Mrs. P. V. Anderson, Mrs. Dayton Bliven, Mrs. C. W. Chancellor, Jr., Mrs. T. H. Cole, Mrs. John Ed Cooper, Mrs. Earl Craig, Mrs. Howard Davis, Mrs. Evans Dunn, Mrs. W. D. Haman.

Westminster Pastor Addresses P-TA

The Rev. Flynn V. Long, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, addressed the Lamar Elementary Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday at a meeting in the school auditorium.

His topic was "Lead, Kindly Light," in which he stressed the importance of taking freedom of religion and education seriously so we can teach it to our children.

The Lamar Choir, under the direction of Joanne Himmel, sang three Christmas selections, "O Come All Ye Faithful," "The Snow Lay on the Ground" and "The Bell Song." The latter had xylophone accompaniment by Julie Inman.

Mrs. J. Wayne Campbell gave a report on her trip to the state convention. The group voted to pay for the materials used in the school decorations which were painted by Mrs. Charles Lacey. It also was decided to purchase additional equipment for the safety patrol.

Room attendance prizes were won by Adrienne Foote's sixth grade room and Peggy Jane Stroud's fifth grade room.

Mrs. R. B. Smith, P-TA president, presided over the refreshment table during the social hour following the program. Members of the hospitality committee were Mrs. Eddie Frank Conner, Mrs. A. J. Tisdale, Mrs. Thurman Pylant and Mrs. J. S. Burckett.

Midland Girl Enters Scottish Rite Hospital

DALLAS—Sherry Merkel, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Merkel of Midland was admitted to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas this month.

The hospital was founded 27 years ago by Texas Masons to provide the best treatment for Texas' crippled children at no extra cost to the patient.

Since that time the Scottish Rite Hospital has treated more than 18,000 children in the wards and 68,000 clinical patients. An expert staff of doctors, nurses and therapeutic technicians provides the best treatment, both surgical and corrective, by means of contributions from the general public.

Rotarians Will Hear Waco Man At Christmas Party

Dr. Hubert Johnson, superintendent of the Methodist Home at Waco, will be the guest speaker Thursday night when the Midland Rotary Club stages its annual Christmas party in the Cactus Restaurant on West Highway 80.

The party, a ladies night event, is scheduled at 7:30 p.m., according to President Richard Brooks, who will preside.

Special music for the entertainment will be presented by the Rev. J. Q. Woodard. Buddy Pulliam is in charge of banquet room decorations.

Dr. Johnson, an outstanding speaker, is a past district governor of Rotary International, and is a former mayor of Waco. He was a delegate to the General Conference of the Methodist Church held earlier this year in San Francisco, Calif. He is prominent in Masonic affairs, and is a member of the State Board of Public Welfare.

Brooks and the Rev. W. R. Mann, club secretary-treasurer, urged a large attendance of Rotarians and Rotary-Anns at the Christmas party.

Roy McKee Elected To Top Office In Masonic Conclave

Midland Masonry received another honor recently when Roy McKee, insurance executive, was selected to the post of Illustrious Sovereign of the St. Alphege Conclave No. 81, Knights of the Red Cross of Constantine meeting at El Paso.

Three other Midlanders received honors.

R. B. Cowden, 301 North C Street, was elected Junior General, J. Holt Jowell, Prefect, and John P. Butler was elected Herald.

McKee succeeded the late M. C. Ulmer, who was president of the First National Bank here.

The Spring ceremonial of this order will be held in Midland for the first time in April. Then the order's traditional banquet will be held. Installation of officers and conferring of degrees upon new designates also will take place.

Record Of 103,000 Letters Mailed In Midland Tuesday

One hundred and three thousand letters Tuesday ran through the Midland post office—the largest volume of letters ever mailed here in one day. Postmaster N. G. Oates disclosed Thursday.

Postmaster Oates also revealed that "the airlines assured me that Christmas mail will take priority over passengers." Air mail, he said, goes out 14 times a day from Midland.

Other helpful facts and suggestions listed by Postmaster Oates:

1. That special delivery letters usually get to their destination almost as fast as a night telegram. The special delivery charge is 20 cents plus regular postage or air mail postage.
2. That special delivery for packages should be used if the sender wants the receiver to get the package exactly on Christmas Day or on a Sunday. He says the general law states that special delivery must be delivered to its destination, when received at the home post office, until 11 p.m.

Oates gave these costs for special delivery:

- Thirty-five cents for packages weighing up to three pounds.
- Forty-five cents for packages weighing up to ten pounds.
- Sixty cents maximum charge on packages weighing over ten pounds.

Urged Oates: "Businessmen who are mailing important letters from now on would do well to mail them air mail or special delivery since these letters can sometimes get mixed up with regular mail and be delayed at crowded post offices. Air mail and special delivery letters receive special attention."

St. Nick Will Visit Evening Lions Club

A special Santa Claus program will be presented Thursday when members of the Evening Lions Club and their families stage their annual Christmas party.

LITTLE GIVER HAS BIG IDEAS

PITTSFIELD, MASS.—(AP)—A blonde girl of seven walked up to a Salvation Army kettie on a street corner Wednesday and dropped into it what appeared to be a $1,000 bill.

She did the same thing a block away with what looked like a $500 bill.

The little girl's intentions probably were charitable—but the bills were just play money.

Texas Couple Held As Robbery, Theft, Kidnaping Suspects

DENISON.—(AP)—A young Texas couple is being held in the Poteau, Okla., jail while officers prepare charges on a series of robberies and thefts this week in Texas and Oklahoma.

Odessa Youth, 19, To Attempt Walking First Time In Life

ODORPUS CHRISTI.—(AP)—Arlis (Bud) Cottle, 19, Odessa, may walk soon for the first time in his life. Doctors at Memorial Hospital expect in two or three weeks to take Cottle from the plaster cast that now covers most of his body.

DOWNTOWN PARKING By The Hour at 107 S. Colorado

(Directly south of Midland Tower)

er was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Veterans Hospital Thursday.

Fred Tyzzer, Jr., released from a hospital only two weeks ago with a badly burned hand, survived a night of 35-40 degree cold stripped to his undershorts.

The 38-year-old Navy veteran watched while a Coast Guard PBV and a helicopter flew overhead in search for him, but couldn't attract their attention.

Tyzzer lost his balance and fell from the tugboat Logan about 11 a.m. Tuesday between Cape Florida and Cutter Bank. He was rescued late Wednesday by Capt. Cleveland Knowles aboard his fishing vessel.

Thanks Training "Because of the cold weather, I had plenty of clothes on when I fell off the boat," Tyzzer said.

"Thanks to my training as a senior Red Cross life saver, I was able to peel off my shoes, two pairs of socks, two pairs of pants, sweater and jacket."

Capt. George Baron, skipper of the tugboat didn't notice that his only crewman had disappeared until half an hour later.

Tyzzer watched the tug until it moved out of sight, then shed his clothing and swam three or four miles to the mangrove swamp. All night long he buried his face in mud.

A couple of the same description kidnaped and robbed Airman Duane Horne, Perrin Air Force Base, in Denison Tuesday. Horne told officers a man and woman forced their way into his car on a downtown street, robbed him and then made him drive to near Colbert, Okla., where he was released on a country road.

Then in a few days he will try a few steps to determine if a series of operations on his legs and feet have given him the ability to walk.

Arlis, son of L. E. Cottle, Odessa, oil field worker, has been under treatment here for more than two years. His disability resulted from a spinal infection when born that paralyzed him from the waist down.

FROM ODESSA James Hunter of Odessa was a business visitor here Wednesday.

the mangrove roots to ward off the chill northwest wind.

Knowles, who has fished the area for 10 years, was headed for port when he saw Tyzzer waving a mangrove twig.

Waves At Searchers Tyzzer estimated he reached the swampy, mangrove-studded shore about 1 p.m. He waved vainly at passing boats and the helicopter.

He waded through knee-deep mud toward Angel Fish Creek, which divides Key Largo, but no boats came up the channel before nightfall. Again Wednesday he waved at boats and planes, but none saw him until Knowles came along.

"He was weak and in shock but seemed in pretty fair shape," Knowles said. "We put some clothes on him and fed him some coffee and cup cakes. He wouldn't eat much—said he was afraid it might give him cramps."

"I know I'm a lucky man," said Tyzzer. "It was certainly an uncomfortable night."

Low Bidders Named On Three Additional Area Road Projects

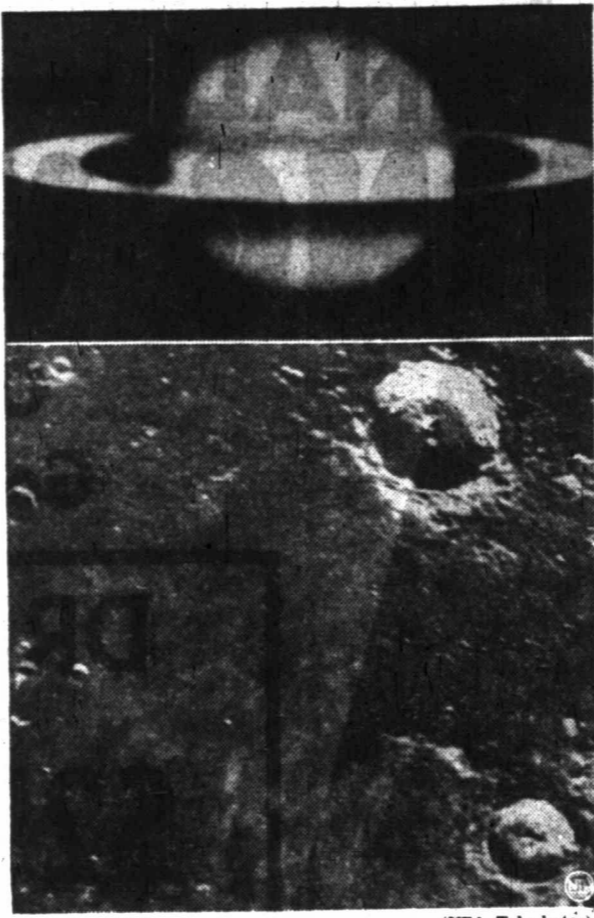

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Two days' bids on road projects totaled $9,263,906. The Highway Department reported Wednesday.

Low bids on projects tabulated included the following, by counties: Howard—U. S. 80, 2 miles, asphalt concrete pavement from west to east city limits of Big Spring, Collins Construction Company, Austin, $83,136.

Ector—Farm Road 1936, 14 1/2 miles, grading, structures, base and surfacing from U. S. 80, two miles west of Odessa, north to junction of State 158, J. R. Fanning, Lubbock, $62,020.

Howard, Borden and Dawson—Farm Road 669, and 1584, 17 1/2 miles, grading, structures, base and surfacing from U. S. 87 to Borden County Line in Howard County; From Howard County line to U. S. 87 in Borden and Dawson Counties, Holland Page, Austin, $159,940.

The Helmand River in Afghanistan may once have rivaled the Nile, the Tigris and Euphrates as the seat of early civilization, says the National Geographic Society in telling of modern irrigation developments on the river.

TWO PLANETS—These striking photographs were made recently of the planet Saturn and its ring system, top, and a section of the Moon's surface, bottom, with the 200-inch Hale telescope atop Mt. Palomar. Saturn's rings are 171,000 miles in diameter but only about 10 miles thick. The large crater in the lower right corner is Copernicus, one of the best known features of the Moon. This section of the planet is a flat region, pock-marked with many small craters.

Life Termer Vickers Goes Free, Plans Quiet Holiday

DALLAS.—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vickers looked forward Thursday to a quiet Christmas at home.

Last week they didn't know how it would be and even Wednesday the 52-year-old cafe man faced a life in prison.

Vickers is the life termer who went straight more than 12 years while he was out of prison illegally.

About dark Wednesday, he walked out of jail—for the last time, he said—and took a deep breath. It was but a few hours later, "but I knew my wife was fighting for me and that I was bound to win. I had never given up hope. I prayed."

Tito's Break With Vatican Adds Fresh Woes For West

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Marshal Tito's break with the Vatican aroused fresh worry here Thursday over the weakest link in the chain of anti-Soviet nations in Europe—relations between Communists Yugoslavia and Catholic Italy.

The American government's concern with the situation arises from its desire, as a matter of major policy, to establish the closest political and military cooperation among all the European countries, in and out of the North Atlantic Alliance, in the interest of checking Soviet power.

Tito's diplomatic break with the Vatican Wednesday probably will make it more difficult to achieve this aim in two regards: (1) tying Yugoslavia closer to the Western European nations, and (2) trying to solve the Italian-Yugoslav dispute over Trieste.

Furthermore, some officials think there may be difficulties with Congress, where the anti-Soviet Communist government of Yugoslavia always has been regarded with skepticism by many members.

Tito broke with Russia in mid-1948. Since that time the U. S. has tightened its relations with him and provided substantial military and economic assistance.

During the fiscal year which ended last June 30 the U. S. Britain and France together provided Tito with 120 million dollars, this year their help totals 99 million. In both years the American share has been 78 million.

The Truman Administration has regarded Yugoslavia as a great asset to the West because (1) it is a living example of the ability of a satellite nation to break with Moscow and survive, and (2) Tito's 30-odd divisions, though they have been badly in need of modernization, are a valuable addition to anti-Soviet strength.

Efforts to get along with Tito have been marked by frequent difficulties. He repeatedly has made clear he is a doctrinaire Communist with no interest in adopting democratic ways or policies. Moreover, he has had a long feud with the Roman Catholic church, culminated Wednesday by the diplomatic break.

A particularly thorny problem posed by the rival claims of Yugoslavia and Italy to Trieste, lying between them at the head of the Adriatic Sea. Repeated U. S. efforts to work out a settlement have come to nothing. The dramatic nature of Tito's break with the Vatican, with its probable repercussions in Italian politics, now make the problem far more difficult.

Yugoslavia, the last of the Communist nations to have diplomatic relations with the Vatican, withdrew its ambassador from the Holy See last year.

Cardinal Appointment This week's rupture climaxed six years of dispute. Through it all the central figure has been Yugoslavia's Archbishop Alojz Stepinac, named by Pope Pius last month to be elevated January 13 to Cardinal.

Archbishop Stepinac, now 54, served five years of a 16-year sentence after being convicted by Tito court of World War II collaboration with the Germans, Italians and domestic foes of Tito.

Tito blasted the nomination as a hostile act and in severing diplomatic ties, his government repeated its charges that the Vatican is hostile to Yugoslavia and interferes in her internal affairs.

Short T&N Rail Line Moves Vital Cargo Despite Strike

LONE STAR.—(AP)—The tiny but vital Texas & Northern Railroad's freight trains, with supervisory personnel at the throttles, kept at work Thursday despite a strike.

But an injunction hearing Friday at Daingerfield, Morris County seat, could result in a complete shut-down of the Lone Star Steel plant here. The steel firm owns the T&N Railroad.

Work at the big East Texas plant continued normally Wednesday and Thursday after striking engineers and firemen of the T&N obeyed an anti-picketing injunction order in time for the 11 p.m. shift to go to work.

Although the T&N is only eight miles long, it is the only link the plant has with its markets and allied industries.

Either the complete stoppage of the railroad or effective picketing of the plant by T&N strikers could idle about 2,500 workers at the steel plant.

The railroad has agreed to wage increases asked by the line's 23 operating employees. But it has refused to make the increases retroactive to July 16, 1951, as asked by the union.

Other industries that could be affected if the injunction hearing favors the pickets include: Reilly Tar and Chemical Company, which has about 25 employees and produces coal tar from steel by-products; Consolidated Vultee, with about 300 men employed in an aerophysics laboratory; Gifford-Hill, which converts slag from the blast furnaces into road-making material.

More than 1,500 people are employed in Iowa coal mines.

Ben Guill Reported In Line For Post Under New Regime

HOUSTON.—(AP)—The Houston Post says reliable sources in Washington report that former Texas Congressman Ben Guill of Pampa may be named assistant postmaster general.

Guill was Texas campaign manager for Eisenhower. He spent 10 months in the U. S. House of Representatives in 1950 after winning a special election.

The Washington correspondent of the Post wrote that Guill has been in Washington several days out in New York Wednesday conferring with top officials at Eisenhower headquarters.

His conferees included one with Arthur Summerfield, future postmaster general and at present chairman of the Republican National Committee.

BAIT SHORTAGE STOPS TRAPPER

TACOMA, WASH.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. George Lagerquist had eight scatter rugs lying on the line in their backyard. When they went out to gather them in, they were gone.

"A little detective work is in order," Lagerquist decided and put out another rug to see who would happen.

A big black cocker spaniel wandered into the yard, grabbed the rug and tore down the street. Lagerquist galloped off in pursuit, but lost the culprit.

Then he tried it again, and the same thing happened.

So Lagerquist quit. He had run out of rugs.

Suspect In Series Of Armed Robberies Arrested In Biloxi

GULFPORT, MISS.—Two men wanted in a series of robberies in Texas were held here Thursday for Texas officers after their arrest Wednesday in a tourist court near Biloxi.

Sheriff Edward McDonnell of Harrison County, Miss., said the men were William Alvin Wetzel, 30, Kansas City, Mo., and Isaac Ray Noble, 27, Dallas. The sheriff said the two men offered no resistance when 13 state, county and municipal officers entered the motel with drawn guns.

Police believe Wetzel is the man who attempted to rob a Dallas grocery store last week only to be felled and beaten considerably by two customers and a small boy. He would not explain head cuts he had Wednesday when arrested.

Woman Also Taken

Sheriff McDonnell quoted Dallas Detective Capt. Will Fritz as saying the two men were wanted for questioning about five armed robberies.

Texas officers were to question the men Thursday or Friday.

Also arrested Wednesday was Mrs. Veart Archer, 34, attractive Houston brunette. She went free on bond after being jailed briefly on a charge of an accessory-after-the-fact in a Harrison County indictment.

Police Chief Wayne Valentine of Laurel, Miss., was enroute here to question Wetzel, Noble and Mrs. Archer in connection with a $1,079 grocery store robbery at Laurel Wednesday.

The Noble Case

McDonnell said that Wetzel was under $2,500 bond as an accessory-after-the-fact in the August 21 slaying of Lonnie Russ, alias Frank (Blackie) Slavin, at a tourist cabin in Mississippi City.

At the time of the shooting, investigating officers said Russ might have been involved in the dynamite slaying of Dallas Gambler Herbert Noble several months previously.

McDonnell said Wetzel was one of a gang which operated from Texas to North Carolina. Several were arrested in Athens, Ga., last September 4, two weeks after Russ was killed.

Ex-Red Cites Plan To Sway Intellectuals

WASHINGTON.—Investigating congressmen were told Wednesday that Premier Stalin depends upon intellectuals and not the workers to spark Communist revolution in the Western world.

Igor Bogolepov, an escaped Soviet Foreign Office official and Red Army colonel, said a secret shift in Communist strategy started a campaign which still is underway to capture "the brains of Western intellectuals."

Bogolepov said he helped infiltrate Communists into the American government, educational foundations, the newspapers and other intellectual circles.

Hearings Resumed

The well-groomed Russian testified before a special House committee investigating tax-free educational and philanthropic foundations. The purpose is to determine whether their funds are being used for subversive activities.

The committee resumed open hearings until Monday.

Bogolepov said, as a Soviet official, he once was offered a fellowship by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. The Soviets contrived to have it given to an agent of the secret police, he added.

Influence Of Cells

Since he broke with the Soviets, Bogolepov testified, three foundations and three universities have refused his requests for aid. He voiced belief the refusals were prompted by Communists he helped infiltrate in these organizations.

Communists in foundations and the government, he added, are barring hundreds of anti-Russian intellectuals from entering this country to "help the American people fight communism."

Bogolepov said he came to the United States last April under a one-year visitor's visa to testify before a Senate internal security subcommittee.

Midland VA Groups Study Cover Crops

MIDLAND High School vocational agriculture classes this week attended cover crop demonstrations on the B. E. O'Neal farm three miles north of the city.

Cal Boykin, Jr., Wednesday directed work for a 40-member class. Ben Osborn had conducted Tuesday's luncheon. Both are with the Soil Conservation Service offices here.

Fourteen different two-acre plantings were observed on the O'Neal place. Planting methods for winter feeds underwent study.

Liner's Crew Fetes Japanese Orphans

YOKOHAMA, JAPAN.—The liner President Wilson is at sea but her crew is giving its annual Christmas party for 50 Japanese orphans just the same.

The ship's crew turned over $2,000 yen (about $275) to the United Seaman's Service, which will handle the party. The orphans will be given warm clothing, toys and refreshments.

Eight Texans Named On Advisory Panel To Cotton Council

MEMPHIS, TENN.—Harold A. Young, president of the National Cotton Council, announced Thursday appointment of an advisory committee to the council, including eight Texans.

The committee will begin serving at the fifteenth annual meeting of the Cotton Council in Dallas, January 26-27, and will serve throughout 1953.

"These men, outstanding in their respective fields, will be of real service to the American cotton industry in 1953 in the formulation of effective programs to increase the consumption of cotton and cottonseed products."

Texans named to the committee are: Alston Clapp, Sr., Anderson, Clayton & Company, Houston; W. L. Clayton, chairman of the board, Anderson, Clayton & Company; A. B. Cox, director, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research, Austin; Roy B. Davis, general manager, Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Lubbock; Otto Goedeck, Hallettsville; C. B. Ray, executive manager, Valley Farm Bureau, Mercedes; A. L. Ward, educational director, National Cottonseed Products Association, Dallas, and W. L. Weber, Taft.

Dutch Voters Favor United Europe Plan

THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS.—Voters of two Dutch cities have balloted overwhelmingly in favor of European unity in the first test poll of public sentiment on the controversial question.

Returns from Wednesday's vote showed 84 per cent of the registered voters in the old trading town of Bolsward voted in favor of a united Europe. In the pottery and university center of Delft, 70 per cent of the registered voters favored the idea.

The poll was conducted by the Dutch European Movement, which backs unification. The movement selected the two towns as representative of a cross-section of the Dutch people.

Voters were asked: "Are you of the opinion that the European people should serve certain common interests in the future together and do you wish, therefore, a united Europe under a European authority and with democratic representation to be outlined in a European constitution?"

U. S. War Goods Pile High On Ground At French Base

By CHARLES C. LANE

USAF DEPOT, CHATEAUBOUX, FRANCE.—Still working in mud without hangers and warehouses, 4,300 American airmen and 1,800 French civilians in this big 17-month-old supply base finally are delivering the tools of air warfare at a fairly normal pace.

Since January supplies issued to American Air Force units in France and to America's Atlantic allies have increased 100 per cent. The tonnage, which for security reasons is secret, almost has reached that of the big U. S. Air Force base at Erding in Southern Germany, Maj. Gen. Joseph B. Hicks of Lander, Wyo., depot commander, said.

The depot's second job, maintenance of U. S. aircraft, will get underway this month when at least part of an 8,500-foot concrete runway is opened for use.

Happiest of all to see the runway open will be the crews of the C-47 and C-119 Air Force cargo planes which have been landing for more than a year in a soft green-covered field at this depot.

"It's a miracle that a plane hasn't hit a hole or sunk into a soft spot and tipped over on its nose," one airman said.

An argument between the U. S. Air Force and the Mutual Security Agency over who was going to foot the bill for construction work here delayed the development of the base last Spring.

"We have the money now," Hicks said, "But we cannot make up for the time lost."

A prefabricated supply ware house of 1,200,000 square feet at $1 a square foot has been ordered from a Dutch firm. Construction is to start next Spring and be complete in eight months.

No Fence Installed

Until the building is up, millions of dollars worth of supplies will sit outdoors in packing cases or in canvas woodframed huts.

The base has fencing to enclose the supplies but it has not yet been put up, French and American sentries guard the stock.

But the construction work that interests the GI's here most is being done by the U. S. 866th Aviation Engineer Battalion setting up 45 U. S.-made quonset huts which will house 1,800 airmen now living in tents.

"By the end of January we will have about 500 men remaining in tents," Hicks said. In addition to the quonset huts, renovated French Air Force barracks are being used to house GI's.

Soldiers To Plead Guilty In El Paso Slaying Of Cabbie

EL PASO.—Pvt. Raymond Lesley Burton, charged with murder in the November 22 holdup slaying of Jesus Gonzales, El Paso taxi driver, plans to plead guilty to the federal charges.

His attorney, Jack Niland, said the decision was reached after a talk with his client in the city jail here Wednesday.

Previously Pfc. Marvin L. Austin, also charged with murder in the slaying, announced he would plead guilty.

The two soldiers are scheduled to go before a federal jury here on January 26. Both have made statements in which they said they planned the holdup which led to the shooting of Gonzales. After the shooting the cab was set afire.

Austin Woman Gets Executive Position In Sheppard's Office

AUSTIN —(AP)— One of the top executive posts in the attorney general's office will go to a woman when incoming Attorney General John Ben Sheppard takes over January 1.

Sheppard Wednesday announced appointment of Mrs. Mary K. Wall, Austin, as his legislative and reviewing assistant. Mrs. Wall will be the first woman to hold a high executive post in the department. She has been an assistant attorney general since 1950.

Bovine Booby Traps Await Greedy Insects Of Future

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Tomorrow's dairy cow may do her own insect killing. So may other farm animals.

The Agriculture Department reported Thursday it is testing a method of injecting farm animals with insecticides.

Once injected under the skin of the animals, the insecticide is carried through the bloodstream to all parts of the animal's body. A fly or mosquito that pierces the animal's skin in an attempt to feed on its blood is dosed with the insecticide and dies.

The department said a chemical called lindane is the only insecticide found effective under the method.

The department emphasized, however, that the research has not advanced far enough to consider practical use of this method yet.

Sawyer Finds Duplication, Excessive Waste Among U. S. Agencies In Europe

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary of Commerce Sawyer says the United States has "too many people and too many agencies" doing too many things in Western Europe, at the cost of waste and confusion.

This was the meat of a hard-swinging attack on U. S. aid administration in Europe which Sawyer, just back from a 10-country study in Europe, inserted into a report Wednesday night to President Truman.

Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler.

"There was an almost unanimous opinion (of his mission) that we have too many people and too many agencies in Western Europe," Sawyer wrote Truman, adding:

"While we were most favorably impressed with the high quality of many representatives of the United States abroad, it would appear that their efficiency and morals are impaired by the fact that there are too many people doing too many things. Confusion and wasted efforts are the result.

"The solution is the abolishment of emergency agencies whose task is either completed or can be absorbed by the regular departments. . . we still have MSA (Mutual Security Agency) missions in some countries to which we are not now giving and for some time have not given economic aid."

'Miss Five Million' Snubs Orchids, Receives Big Doll

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)— Delta Air Lines carried its five millionth passenger Thursday and not without a flurry of excitement.

When ticket No. 5,000,000 was issued in Chicago to Marcia Chapman, the line prepared to give full honors to "Miss Five Million," including an orchid corsage and set of matched luggage.

But when Miss Chapman strolled in to claim her ticket, she turned out to be four years old and barely could be seen over the top of the ticket counter.

A doll was substituted for the orchids.

It was planned to have Mayor

D. Lee Powell of Miami Beach greet Miss Five Million, but a quick switch was made and the greeter was Mary Lee Powell, eight-year-old daughter of the mayor.

A four-piece beach outfit, child's size, was substituted for the luggage. She can use that while here on vacation.

The five-millionth passenger is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. B. M. Chapman of Chicago.

Offer From Odessa Denied By Tugboat

Midland football Coach Tugboat Jones denied Wednesday that he had been offered the Odessa head coaching job.

Jones' name has been mentioned frequently amid speculations concerning who would succeed Julius Johnson, who resigned at Odessa Friday. One report claimed Jones already had been offered the job, but he emphasized:

"No, I have not been offered the job. I've talked with several people from Odessa, but not anyone with authority."

The Odessa American said that the report came from a source within the Midland school and stated that Coach Jones had been approached and was seriously considering a move.

Coach Jones, also the athletic director, is in his fourth year as Midland coach. He was voted a year's extension to his present three-year contract last week at a Midland Board of Education meeting. He had two years to run on the previous three-year contract.

Mearwhile, a lot of prominent coaches were being mentioned. Foremost among them are these:

Joe Coleman, former Odessa coach now at New Mexico A&M; Chesty Walker of Phillips; Neal Dillman of Kermit; Pat Gerald of Sweetwater and, more recently, Pat Pattison of the state finalist Lubbock West-erners.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram Wednesday added Pattison's name in the mill and said "Rumor has it that Odessa is willing to go as high as $12,000 for Pattison's services."

In turn, Odessa school officials have released no statement concerning the job.

A definite move, however, is expected soon for the next Odessa coach probably will have to resign his present position by mid-term in order to be at the Broncho helm through Spring training.

Johnson, football coach and athletic director, quit at Odessa after completing his second year as head coach. His team lost only two games this year, to Lubbock and Port Arthur.

Pat Stasey Sells Broncs

BIG SPRING — Officials of the Big Spring entry in the Longhorn League announced Wednesday that the club had been sold by Pat Stasey to Bill Frank of San Angelo and Raymond Tollett of Big Spring.

The stock in the club will be transferred January 2.

Frank is a former Longhorn League umpire and Tollett is president of a refinery. The transactions for the club involved $12,000 paid for the franchise and club assets, which includes 10 ball players.

Stasey, who will move to Roswell, N. M., for next season—owned and managed the Broncs last year. His replacement as manager of Big Spring still is pending.

Big Spring will play again in 1953 in the Big Spring High School park but a new playing field is being considered for building within two or three years.

Frank will take over as president and general manager of the ball club and Tollett will act in an advisory capacity.

ACC Said Eyeing '53 Membership In Coastal Circuit

DENTON —(AP)— The Gulf Coast Conference, which has only three members, will hold its Winter meeting here in January and see about expanding.

North Texas State, Midwestern and Trinity are members of this conference. Midwestern had been expected to apply for membership in the Border Conference last week at El Paso but the matter wasn't brought up.

Abilene Christian College has notified the Texas Conference it will seek membership in another conference and indications are that it will enter the Gulf States.

The meeting of the conference won't be held until after the NCAA convention in Washington the first week in January. T. J. Fouts, athletic director of North Texas State, said.

Eight Quints Open NAIA Play Thursday

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— Eight-teams—two of them former national champions—open the annual pre-Christmas basketball tournament of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Thursday night.

The tournament continues through Saturday.

The four favorites in the eight-team meet are Southwest Missouri State, Portland (Ore.) University, Southwest Texas State and Marshall College of Huntington, W. Va. Marshall also is a former national titlist.

Each team will play two games, win or lose.

Thursday night's schedule: Southwest Missouri State vs. Morningside; Marshall vs. Washburn of Topeka, Kan.; Portland vs. Rockhurst of Kansas City, and Southwest Texas State vs. James Millikin of Decatur, Ill.

Baylor Line Coach Seeks New Pasture

WACO —(AP)— August (Mike) Michalske says he will not continue as line coach at Baylor University when his contract expires March 1.

Varsity line coach at Baylor the last three years, Michalske formerly coached at Lafayette in Pennsylvania, at Iowa State, for the Green Bay, Wis., and Baltimore, Md., pro teams.

He said he would continue to coach but had "no definite plans at this time."

Trinity Line Coach Goes To Harlingen

HARLINGEN —(AP)— Joe Hamrick, backfield coach at Trinity University, has been named head football coach at Harlingen High School replacing Curtis Shiftlet, who resigned.

Shiftlet said he was resigning for personal reason. He probably will remain with the school system.

J. B. Chambers, president of the board of education, said Shiftlet was coach here two years.

The University of North Carolina's 1952 football team made only one substitution during the entire season.

Funeral Rites Held For Odessa Twins

ODESSA — Funeral services were held Wednesday for Keith Allen and Karen Elaine, two-month-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Martin, Jr., who were found dead after a kitchen stove in the trailer home had been left burning Tuesday night.

Justice Thomas Murphy ruled that the twins died from suffocation.

Mrs. Martin told officers she failed to awake at 3 a. m., usual feeding time for the twins. She arose three hours later to find them dead.

The father is employed by Phillips Petroleum Company. The Martins have lived in Odessa a year.

Japanese Power, Coal Strikes End

TOKYO —(AP)— Japan's bone-chilled, candle-burning millions perked up Thursday when the national electric strike was settled only 24 hours after the nation's coal miners went back to work.

For more than two months the twin strikes cut Japan's heat and light to a bare minimum.

The Japan Electric Industry Workers Union accepted the government's compromise giving the workers an average raise in pay from the old $46.50 to $55 a month.

British Newspapers Bewail Shootings Of Rioting POW's

LONDON —(AP)— Three leading British newspapers expressed misgivings Thursday over the shooting of riotous Communist prisoners in Korea and demanded a fuller explanation.

The liberal, independent Manchester Guardian and the conservative London Daily Mail warned that the shootings may weaken the whole UN position on the prisoner-of-war issue.

The Laborite London Daily Herald called the latest shooting episode at Pongam, where 85 Red prisoners were killed and 120 wounded, "disturbing" and demanded, "Let's have the facts."

Sky Sox Infielder Sets Highest Mark

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO. —(AP)— Al Jacinto, diminutive Colorado Springs Sky Sox infielder, set a new fielding record for Western League second basemen in the 1952 season.

Jacinto made only 13 errors in handling 578 chances for 109 games to post a percentage of .978. The previous record of .977 was made by Glen McNally of Oklahoma City in 1923.

Three other Sky Soxers led the Class A Western loop in fielding at their positions. Catcher Sam Halstrom finished with a .986 mark, third baseman Jerry Crosby with .945 and Outfielder Vic Fucci with .982.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The re-scheduling of the Class A semi-final game between Cedar Bayou and Deer Park forces those who like to risk their good name, good money and good sense—namely sports writers—to get out on the limb with play-off predictions a day early.

On the card are finals in Classes AAAA and AAA semi-finals in the other two divisions, six games; it will be Saturday before anyone cries, "Timber!"

Your agent has little to vary from the opinion over the state that Lubbock and Temple will win among the big schools, Huntville, Cedar Bayou and Wink among the smaller ones. On Stamford vs. Terrell, the coming Class AA thriller, we differ.

LUBBOCK 14, Baytown 7—This game Saturday afternoon in Dallas' Cotton Bowl is a repeat performance of the 1951 Class AAAA finals, won by the Westerners, 14-12. Midlanders, after their own club bowed, 48-0, before Westerner power can see little reason why the District 1-AAAA kingpin should quit its 25-game win streak this far along. A battle of great defensive clubs, it should be won by the Westerners on all-round strength, attested by Lubbock's placing eight men on the all-district first team.

TEMPLE 20, Breckenridge 14—A conservative guess, probably, since the game, set for Waco Saturday afternoon, matches the "greatest" passer against the "greatest" runner in the state for many a moon. Doyle Taylor should complete his twenty-fourth and twenty-fifth touchdown passes and score one to keep Temple ahead of the Bucks' Bobby Pharis. Temple is unbeaten and claims Baytown as one of its victims, while Breckenridge has lost only to Wichita Falls. Between the same two, Breckenridge won the Class AAA title last year, 20-13.

STAMFORD 21, Terrell 7—Terrell is the general favorite but it hasn't run up against a defense like that of Stamford, which allowed only 53 points in 13 games. The underdog Stamford eleven earned its biggest distinction when it walloped Seminole, 35-0, two weeks ago. The Class AA game is at Abilene Saturday.

HUNTVILLE 13, Yoakum 0—This second Class AA semi-final finds an unbeaten Huntville team going against a Bulldog club that had it rough emerging from a so-so season for Central Texas gridgers. They play Friday night at Brenham.

WINK 21, Van 7—Playing Saturday afternoon at Brownwood, the Wildcat offense that has scored 490 points in 13 games and defense that blanketed Denver City should win without reaching last week's 26-0 heights. That is, unless lightning strikes twice in the same place. Wink was in the Class A semi-finals last year when supercharged Newcastle provided the jolt.

CEDAR BAYOU 14, Deer Park 7—On the strength that Cedar Bayou has been the South Texas Class A power all year and a 13-0 victory over the same club earlier. The game is Thursday night at Baytown.

When little Charlie Yeager, the Yale student manager, pointed in as a sub, was knocked down in the end zone but got up to score a point after touchdown as Yale beat Harvard, 41-14, it was the makings of a most amusing instance during the last football season. A poll sports writers by The Associated Press dubbed it so. Apparently, few Harvard men voted.

(The University of Texas beat the Elis to the stunt, but it was no gag. Rooster Andrews, a four-foot-10, water boy, was always in uniform during the early 1940's, ready to boot extra points. He was the best on the team.)

The Baylor bear mascots, Topsy and Turky, got a runner-up vote in the AP poll. One—few call them which is which of the twins—ran onto the field during play to steal an official's red flag that had been thrown for an offside penalty.

Midland's best, perhaps, was related by Coach W. C. Orr during the Cowden Junior High football banquet. He said he had told the boys that whenever they were tired, call time out and tell him to send in a sub. One of the backs, Orr said, staggered out of the mid-field huddle, looked over to the bench and hollered, "Hey, get me out of here, Coach, I'm tired."

Texas Scribes Go Overboard For Lubbock, Temple Outfits

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
Lubbock and Temple will win Texas schoolboy football championships this week, according to the sports writers.

Thirty writers who reported high school football this season Thursday cast their ballots for Saturday's title games in which Lubbock plays Baytown at Dallas for the Class AAAA crown and Breckenridge meets Temple at Waco for the Class AAA diadem, and here's how it came out:

Lubbock 19, Baytown 11
Temple 19, Breckenridge 11

Who would mean Lubbock will win with the title it won last year in beating Baytown, 14-12, and that Temple will knock the crown off Breckenridge's head, Breckenridge beat Temple for the championship last year.

The vote of the sports writers coincides with the odds that have been posted in Dallas showing Lubbock a three-point favorite and Temple the same.

Expect Close Battles
But most everybody thinks it will be close. Earl Scudday of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal said he was resisting a shaky vote for Lubbock Don Oliver of the Abilene Reporter-News and Steele Jones of the El Paso Times selected the widest margin, Oliver figuring Lubbock would win by 19 points and Jones guessing 20. Generally, however, the bulge in each game was considered no greater than a touchdown.

Here's what the sports writers said:

Scudday, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal: Lubbock 20, Baytown 14; Temple 27, Breckenridge 12.

Bill Thompson, Paris News: Lubbock 21, Baytown 14; Temple 21, Breckenridge 20.

Don Oliver, Abilene Reporter-News: Lubbock 33, Baytown 14; Breckenridge 27, Temple 25.

Bob Herdian, Wichita Falls Record-News: Baytown 21, Lubbock 6; Breckenridge 30, Temple 14.

Bob McHugh, Orange Leader: Baytown 14, Lubbock 7; Temple 20, Breckenridge 13.

Fred Sanner, Abilene Reporter-News: Lubbock 27, Baytown 14; Temple 32, Breckenridge 20.

Dick Oliver, Port Arthur News: Baytown 20, Lubbock 14; Temple 26, Breckenridge 14.

Paul Moore, Corsicana Sun: Lubbock 14, Baytown 10; Temple 20, Breckenridge 14.

Jinx Tucker, Waco News-Tribune: Baytown 21, Lubbock 14; Temple 27, Breckenridge 20.

Westerner Coach Compiles Envious Five-Year Record

LUBBOCK —P— Just six years ago Wichita Falls high school had a very successful football coaching staff headed by C. R. (Pat) Pattison and a line mentor named Joe Golding.

That Pattison-Golding combination carried the Coyotes to a district crown and all the way to the quarter-finals of the state playoff before losing to championship-bound Odessa, despite the fact that both of the coaches were just out of the armed forces and were working at Wichita Falls for the first time.

But, as successful as that coaching team was at Wichita Falls in 1946, and at Demson from 1940-42, other Texas schoolboy mentors probably wish Pattison and Golding had remained together instead of splitting up in 1947, when Pattison resigned to enter private business. For separately, they've been double-tough for their opponents.

Business Bears Pat
Golding in his first year as head coach at Wichita Falls in 1947, fielded a team that was unbeaten until the quarter-finals. Then in 1949 he led the Coyotes to the state championship and repeated in 1950.

Meanwhile, Pattison tired of a tame business venture after just one year, and accepted the post as head coach at Lubbock High School in 1948.

Pattison's first season was just average as he rebuilt the Westerner athletic organization, but in 1949 he led the Lubbock gridgers to their first district championship in a decade and their first undefeated regular season. Then in 1950, his Westerners advanced to the quarter-finals before losing to title-bound Wichita Falls, 31-20.

Last year, Pattison climaxed his long coaching career by piloting the Westerners to 13 straight grid victories and the Class AAAA championship, defeating Baytown, 14-12, in the only close game the Lubbock lads played all season.

ST. LOUIS —P— Able Archie Moore, wearing his new light heavyweight crown at a jaunty tilt, now hurls a promise that carries a challenge to other hopefuls in his 175-pound class:

"I'm going to put some life into the division. Any contender who deserves a chance, will get it from me."

That was one of the first statements made by the 36-year-old St. Louis negro Wednesday night as the new world lightweight king. Only minutes before he had won a unanimous decision over Joey Maxim—a thoroughly beaten but astoundingly game ex-champion.

Before the bout, Moore—who weighed 172 1/2 to Maxim's 174 1/2—was an 8-5 favorite, with the odds shifting to 12-5 at fight time.

Judge Fred Connell gave it to Moore, 87-63, and Judge Howard Hess saw it 82-68. Referee Harry Kessler alone had it surprisingly close. Repeatedly warning Moore

Ponies Win To Lift SWC Cage Margin

By The Associated Press
Four Southwest Conference basketball quints take to the mapsles Thursday night in an effort to better the loop's non-conference, pre-season record of 13 wins and six defeats.

Southern Methodist, winning its first start of the pre-season grind Wednesday night, put the conference over the 2-to-1 margin it has been enjoying against outside competition.

The Ponies, beaten in their first two games, defeated the touring Colorado A&M Rams, 63-62, when Bob Clayton sank two free throws in the last eleven seconds.

Four Games Thursday
The Rams play Baylor University at Waco Thursday night to continue their Texas tour. Other games pit Rice against Tulane at Houston, Texas vs. Tennessee at Knoxville, and Texas Christian against Missouri at Columbia.

Texas, victorious over Oklahoma and Colorado A&M, will be up against a team already whipped by Duke.

SMU's game with Kansas at Lawrence Friday night is the only one involving a Southwest Conference five. But Saturday night's program sees six of the seven Southwest Conference quints in action, everybody but Texas A&M.

Arkansas plays Mississippi at Little Rock. Baylor meets Tulane at New Orleans. Rice takes on Colorado A&M at Houston. SMU plays a second game with Kansas at Lawrence. TCU meets St. Louis at St. Louis, and Texas plays Vanderbilt at Nashville.

Others entered are Kermit, El Paso Jefferson, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Denver City, San Angelo, Plainview and Seminole.

Wink, one of 16 teams supposed to be in action here, withdrew because its football team still is competing in the state playoffs. Alternative-choice Alpine, also withdrew because of a previously-scheduled game with Big Lake that could not be canceled.

The first-day schedule, besides the first two games:
Denver City vs. Big Spring, 2:30 p.m.; Sweetwater vs. Pecos, 4 p.m.; Seminole vs. El Paso Jefferson, 6 p.m.; Kermit vs. Odessa, 7:30 p.m., and San Angelo vs. Plainview, 9 p.m. Lubbock drew a first round bye.

Second round matches open at 9 a.m. Friday with the last six games to start at 9 a.m. Saturday.

The two finalists from 1951 are Odessa, the defending champion, and El Paso Jefferson.

Boros finished $6,148 ahead of Carey Middlecoff, the runner-up, who earned $30,884.

Burne won the coveted Vardon award with a 70.54 stroke average for 78 rounds. He also was third in money winning with $21,003. The Texas pro also is ahead in Ryder Cup points as of December 15 with $19,712, about 17 points ahead of Sammy Sneed, who had $21,133.

Sneed finished fourth in earnings with $19,939.

A total of 14 players won $10,000 or more during 1952. Included were Ted Kroll, $17,500; Jim Farrier, $15,811; Dave Douglas, $15,173; Doug Ford, $14,566; Lloyd Mangrum, 1951 money winning champ, with $26,088, who earned $13,422 this year; Ed Oliver, $13,359; Jim Turnesa, $13,359; Tommy Bolt, $11,914; Johnny Palmer, $11,965; and Al Bessellink, $10,904.

Coach Tugboat Jones left Thursday for Fort Worth to attend a two-day meeting of directors of the Texas High School Coaches Association Friday and Saturday.

Naming of instructors and selection of the site for the 1953 coaching school will be the principal business. Odessa is a leading contender for the 1953 school. Others seeking the school include Dallas, Houston, Amarillo and Lubbock.

Coach Jones and his family, joined by the Audrey Gillis, will spend the Christmas holidays at the coaches' Colorado camp for boys. It is located near Breckenridge, Colo.

LaSalle, Oklahoma Aggies, Navy, Irish Still Unbeaten

NEW YORK —P— LaSalle, Oklahoma A&M, Navy and Notre Dame all retained their unbeaten status in college basketball Wednesday night.

LaSalle, the nation's No. 1 team in The Associated Press poll, won its seventh straight, an 87-68 conquest of Arizona at Tucson. The Explorers from Philadelphia, NIT champions, are on a transcontinental tour.

Playing at home at Stillwater, Okla., the Aggies chalked up their sixth in a row, taking DePaul, 62-51, in a rough game. DePaul previously was undefeated.

Notre Dame made it four straight by trimming Chicago Loyola, 53-45. Navy took Rutgers, 64-73, for the Midweek fifth straight.

The Ivy League season got under way with Cornell taking a 64-56 overtime victory over Harvard at Ithaca. Lee Morton tossed in 31 points for the Big Red.

Red Holmes got off a 44-foot set shot in the last two seconds of an overtime to give West Virginia a 101-100 Southern Conference victory over William and Mary. Louisiana State beat Alabama, 66-45, in the Southeastern Conference, and Detroit whipped Houston, 74-69, in the Missouri Valley Conference.

In other games, Siena beat Rhode Island, 79-70; Dartmouth trimmed Vermont, 71-60; Niagara humbled Syracuse, 65-45; Maryland took Virginia Military, 54-37; Nebraska downed Springfield, Mass., 82-73; Utah State tripped Washington State, 73-65, and East Texas downed Texas Western, 76-51.

66ers Stand Off Lobo Spree For 66-56 Win

The veteran Phillip 66 cagers made the most of an insurmountable lead, talent and two time outs in the fourth quarter Wednesday night to hold off Sul Ross College's late rally, the Midland team taking a 66-56 victory at the high school gymnasium.

In a previous game, the Lobos had subdued the 66ers, 64-52, by wearing the star-bright Ollers down with a fast break offense. This time, Phillips controlled the game and there was less running. Hence it was late in the game before Sul Ross held the upper hand.

Until the fourth period, only Glen Lewellan, who went on to win scoring honors, gave the 66ers trouble at the basket. He mashed 26 points throughout.

Phillips commanded the game at the end of the opening period, 16-13, at half time, 33-24, and going into the final quarter, 53-37. The Lobos outlasted Phillips, 19-13, with their late rush, only to have time run out.

Sul Ross Leads
J. B. Collins, Gerald Tucker and Jim Line took charge of the fresh Ollers at the outset, pitching in four points each by the first quarter's finish. The only time the score lead changed hands came in the midst of a 12-point run on the basket by Lewellan. His fifth straight basket, along with a free throw gave Sul Ross a 17-16 margin at the opening of the second quarter. But by then, the 66ers were running on "second wind."

A free throw by Kenny Jastrow, who made six for six in the game, tied the count, then baskets by Don Grove, Jastrow, a free throw by Jim Watson, and another Grove tip-in against three points by Lewellan put the score to 24-20, out of Sul Ross' reach for good. The Lobos pushed up to 28-24 but tried the final five minutes of the half without a basket.

The speed of the tilt never reached ping-pong game proportions, but Phillips returned from the half with new vigor when Collins looped in six points. Line and Tucker four each. That kept the Midland five-16, points ahead most of the way, their longest lead.

Millard Jones tossed in 10 points to help out Lewellan in point-making during the final quarter, but their efforts were futile, even with the 66ers fagging. The Ollers just took to resting more often. Tucker to clowning and a big amount of fouls slowed the game, to Phillips' advantage.

A tip-off to the 66ers long-time attachment to basketball was the little tot who waved, "Hi, Daddy!" each time the club was in its end of the court, and that was often.

Five players from Phillips scored in double figures, with Tucker the top man on 15 points. Line south-pawed 14 through the hoop.

Injuries Riddle Stamford Eleven

STAMFORD —P— Stamford, is crippled for its Class AA schoolboy football semi-final game here Saturday against Terrell.

School officials announced Wednesday that offensive center Bob Harrison broke his left arm in making a tackle and can not play for the remainder of the playoff.

Harrison's injury followed by 24 hours announcement that offensive guard George Humphrey, who doubles as defensive halfback, had a kidney injury and could not play.

Defensive halfback Larry Simmons has a back injury and is a doubtful participant in Saturday's important game.

The original recommendation would have gone to the 1953 Legislature, in the form of a rider on the University's proposed biennial appropriation bill.

Van Dalsem said he had heard the university faculty committee on athletics Tuesday, had "refused" to hire Paul Bear Bryant of the University of Kentucky as head football coach. Bryant has been a prominent applicant for the position vacated by the team won only two games and lost eight.

Rep. Clifton Wade said "it isn't true" that the faculty committee had turned down Bryant, who has not applied for the job.

Monday, Van Dalsem blamed Barnhill for "strife within the athletic department," which the legislator said led to losing football team and the resignation of Douglas.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

IKE MOVES INTO HIS new (white) home on January 20. You, too, can move into yours—before then. Not so big as the Washington residence, but this one has two bedrooms and den (or three bedrooms), lovely living room with wood burning fireplace, dining room, and two "practical" rooms with white fixtures. 2-car attached garage, magnificent kitchen, and loads of closets. Many specialties such as carpeting, Touch plate lighting with master controls, huge furnace room, water well. Heck, you'll be priced at ONLY $21,500.

DID'YA HEAR THE ONE ABOUT... but this ain't a joke so I'll get serious. Three wonderful bedrooms, two tile baths, tile kitchen with pine cabinets, breath-taking living and dining room combination, and attached garage with storage. Central heating, insulation, some carpeting, lots of closets, and ready to occupy. It's scintillatingly new, on Louisiana, and stimulatingly priced at $16,500.

IF IT'S YOUR FIRST HOME... then you'll want it to be a good one. And here is one that invites acknowledgment. Two bigger bedrooms, attractive living room, tile bath, and kitchen so arranged that you don't walk through the living room in order to get to the rest of the house. Panel ray heating, central air-conditioning, and in immaculate condition. Detached garage, paved street. Can be handled for as little as $1,850 down. Priced at $10,200.

Here's some corn on the house. Vintage, 1917. One cow leaned over to the other one and whispered, "I gotta funny feeling that the Yanks are coming."

TALKING ABOUT VETERANS, here's our contribution. Brand new, 3-bedroom home with large living and dining room combination, utility room, ceramic tile bath, and attached carport. Central heating, oak floors, YOUNGSTOWN kitchen, insulation, paved street. ONLY $600 down plus $150 closing costs. 1,100 sq. ft. for only $11,900. Remember, you have ONLY ONE ELIGIBILITY!

IF YOU'VE READ THIS FAR, then you're interested in a home. And here is one that will really hold your interest. Located at 2306 Brunson, it has two delightful bedrooms and a 12x26 den magnificently paneled in California redwood. Huge tile storage house in rear, tile fence, BBQ pit, well landscaped, and on a paved street. Tile kitchen and bath, furnace heating, water cooler. FHA financing. ONLY $11,000.

IT WILL BE WORTH THE wear and tear on your brake-bands to stop at 1808 West Texas. It's got 3 lovely bedrooms, 20 feet of living room, attractive kitchen with breakfast area. Lawn, trees, and tile fence. Ideal location. About $3,200 to handle. Priced at $11,500.

EXCLUSIVE RIDGLEA STREET is, to most new-comers to Midland, most like home. White homes, large trees shading the street, fences and lawns. Warmly snuggled behind lots of evergreens is this lovely 2-bedroom and den home. Recently redecorated so that it stands a magnificence. Course, it got a ye ole tile fence. FHA financing, and priced at $16,250. It's got those 3 important things: location, location, and location.

IT HAS BEEN DONE! What is it all about? Well, it's all about town. It's the 3-bedroom and den, 2 ceramic tile baths, home with the 1,800 sq. ft. of living space, and 2,200 feet over-all, in it. Central heating, central air-conditioning, fully carpeted, ceramic tile kitchen, large closets. The "over-all" means the two-car attached garage which opens out to the paved street. At less than $10 per square foot, it is being sacrificed at $21,000.

Mahon Checks U.S. Spending On Current European Junket

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram

WIESBADEN, GERMANY.—The American people are getting tired of all this dollar spending abroad, Congressman George H. Mahon of Texas, chairman of the Armed Forces subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee, told this correspondent.

The new Congress will re-examine the entire program," the Texas congressman declared.

Mahon is on a five-week inspection tour of construction in France and Germany and other allied nations. With the tall Texas congressman are Representatives John J. Riley, Democrat from South Carolina, and Glenn R. Davis, Republican from Wisconsin.

My interview with Congressman Mahon took place in the Schwarzer-Bock Hotel here, which is a crossroads meeting place, as is famous with military personnel as the old Shepherds Hotel in Cairo.

Congressman Mahon kept an entourage of VIP officers waiting while he talked with me. They had George Mahon calls Lubbock home. He has represented the West Texas district in Washington more than a decade, and this reporter remembers well the times he has visited in her parents' home.

It is the writer's opinion that the congressman from Texas has served his people faithfully—with dignity and ability. Congressman Mahon always has had time to listen to the people, and seeing him personally investigating our construction program is gratifying.

It well may be that America will be in a more secure position after the Texas congressman makes his report.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER
Christmas time has rolled around once again. Yes, it is almost time for the Christmas holidays to start. In fact they start Thursday afternoon.

Congratulations to "Fifi" Pryor and Dick Spencer on being elected Best-All Round Boy and Girl. Dick is a senior and is active in sports. "Fifi" is a junior. She is on the tennis team.

Wayne Cooper had on some of the prettiest boots the other night. They were all black and white. They really were kinda loud but they still were pretty. When he first walked in the Youth Center, Don Davis just seemed in a daze staring at them. Wayne said Santa Claus brought them to him.

The picture show this week will be Saturday night. The name of the show is "Christmas Eve." We don't know what kind of show it is, but it should be pretty good. "Green Archer" still is going on, too. Don't forget the Hoop Dance Friday night. This is a Twirl Season dance. The girls are supposed to ask the boys. You are supposed to come dressed according to the name of the dance. This will be the Christmas Charity Dance. You are supposed to have at least two canned goods per couple, and more if possible. No start-ups will be admitted. If the girls don't ask all the boys, then Friday the boys may ask the girls, if they haven't been asked.

The Youth Center will be closed during the Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, but will be open the night of the 26th. Now, don't forget these dates.
Have you noticed the decorations on the sides of the Youth Center, and those streamers above. They are do look pretty. Those who were at the Y. C. Sunday did the decorating. Sure is a lot of Christmas Spirit in those decorations.
Jim Dandy, the little cat, came back. While old Jim was gone we just happened to get another cat. So now we have three cats. No more, please. This new cat is a very cute one. It is the smallest of the three. It is a blond cat with blue eyes. Contest Scheduled.
Concerning the above—There will be a "cat naming contest." The winner of this contest will get a box of candy. This is no joke. If you have a very original name please turn in to Myrt or Fern on a piece of paper with your name on it.
Don Roderick, Jesse Hatfield and Tommy Johnson are three of the boys in the quarter finals in ping pong tournament so far. The rest of them haven't been played off.

Cowboy pool has come back once more. Yes, as you notice, the boys playing pool use only three balls on the table besides the cue ball. This is a very interesting game to watch.
Milton Jones seemed to be called some nick name the other day. We couldn't quite catch what it was, but ask Othanna Gadberrry or Shirley Green—they might tell you.
Harvey Diemer was playing a card game by himself. At first we thought it was solitaire, but then it wasn't, so when we asked him what it was, he said the name of this game was "all by myself." Sure is an odd name for a card game, isn't it? ? ?
Don Has New Burr
Don Fritz has a new burr. Yes, Don got his hair almost all cut off. Don is the camera bug around school and the Youth Center. He is snap-shot editor for the Midland High School annual, the Catoico. He must have a lot of pictures for the annual.
Mr. Feldman and Mr. Johnson are visitors of the Youth Center quite often. They both are teachers at high school. They are welcome any time. Mr. Feldman teaches biology and Mr. Johnson, chemistry.
The spoon game has come back to haunt us once more. Last Summer a large same of that was going on all of the time. This time there were only four playing. The one that lost a certain number of times had to buy everyone else playing a Coke. Those playing were Carolyn Paris, Timber Forest, Don Roderick and Myrt. Timber had to buy everyone Cokes.
We wonder if Tommie Jean Underwood had a good time in Lamesa last weekend? We heard that she sure did.
The membership drive now is on goods per couple, and more if possible. No start-ups will be admitted. If the girls don't ask all the boys, then Friday the boys may ask the girls, if they haven't been asked.

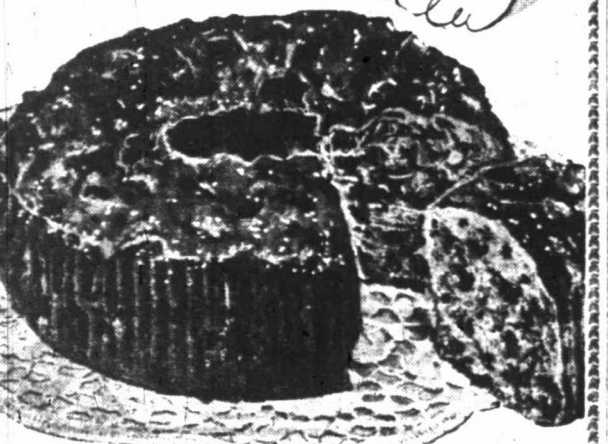

The Youth Center will be closed during the Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, but will be open the night of the 26th. Now, don't forget these dates.
Have you noticed the decorations on the sides of the Youth Center, and those streamers above. They are do look pretty. Those who were at the Y. C. Sunday did the decorating. Sure is a lot of Christmas Spirit in those decorations.
Jim Dandy, the little cat, came back. While old Jim was gone we just happened to get another cat. So now we have three cats. No more, please. This new cat is a very cute one. It is the smallest of the three. It is a blond cat with blue eyes. Contest Scheduled.
Concerning the above—There will be a "cat naming contest." The winner of this contest will get a box of candy. This is no joke. If you have a very original name please turn in to Myrt or Fern on a piece of paper with your name on it.
Don Roderick, Jesse Hatfield and Tommy Johnson are three of the boys in the quarter finals in ping pong tournament so far. The rest of them haven't been played off.

Cowboy pool has come back once more. Yes, as you notice, the boys playing pool use only three balls on the table besides the cue ball. This is a very interesting game to watch.
Milton Jones seemed to be called some nick name the other day. We couldn't quite catch what it was, but ask Othanna Gadberrry or Shirley Green—they might tell you.
Harvey Diemer was playing a card game by himself. At first we thought it was solitaire, but then it wasn't, so when we asked him what it was, he said the name of this game was "all by myself." Sure is an odd name for a card game, isn't it? ? ?

derwood and Lavonne Bell have something up their sleeves. This weekend they have something planned. We think it has to do with Ann Ashby coming home. Ann goes to Mt. Vernon Seminary in Washington, D. C. Two other former Midlanders go there—Nancy Warren and Margie Henaley.
Myrt had some good helpers in making the pretty wreaths which are hanging up on the sides and all around.
If you wanted to laugh and you couldn't have you should have come down Tuesday night. Don Forrest and Jimmy Counts had on the funniest looking hats. Jimmy's hat had bells hanging off the sides and a big green ribbon in the back with some other stuff in front. Don's is easier to explain. He had a wreath around the brim of it of red and then some greenery hanging around the sides and then a large foam candy cane hanging over the front of it. The can was about two feet long. Don made his own and Jimmy's mother made his. Very original and cute.

Congratulations to Janna and Wanda Murray on winning their match in Odessa Tuesday afternoon. Carolyn Paris and Dorothy Black won a game. We should have a very good tennis team this year.
Just one more thing to say and we shall sign off. The formal dance is scheduled December 23 (next Tuesday). There is fun in store for everyone.
Time to sign off like we promised, so next Thursday look for the Youth Center Chatter under the names of Carolyn Paris and Dorothy Black. Now everyone be sure and help them get all the news. We will be gone for a week, but then week after next we shall be back. So until then, MERRY CHRISTMAS to everyone.

Mt. Mitchell in Western North Carolina is the highest peak in the Eastern part of the United States, rising to 6,684 feet.

Sharks and barracuda, which are often dangerous when found in the open ocean, seldom attack when they are fed regularly in captivity.

Ham Is Christmas Tradition

A gala Christmas ham (fully cooked to cut down on cooking time) is garnished with pineapple rings and crabapples.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
 One traditional basic for Christmas dinner is a full-flavored ham. For a short cut in preparation, select a fully cooked ham, one that has all the ham goodness built which takes little time and effort on your part to bring it to your dinner table.

On Christmas Day, plan to set the table early, right after you've placed the ham in the oven for heating through. Follow the cooking directions on the ham wrapper, allow about 10 minutes to the pound to heat. Plan on removing the ham 45 minutes before serving dinner. This will give you time to score the ham and return to a hot oven for 15 minutes of glazing. The ham will carve easier if it is permitted to stand for about 20 minutes before serving.

To heat the fully cooked ham, insert a meat thermometer in the thickest muscle, not touching fat or bone. Place the ham fat side up on a rack in an open pan and roast in a pre-heated slow oven (325 degrees F.) approximately 10 minutes per pound or until the roast meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 130 degrees F.

If you have selected an uncooked ham, follow the same baking directions, but bake the ham approximately 20 minutes per pound until the roast meat thermometer registers an internal temperature of 150 degrees F. When the ham is done, remove from the oven and pour off the drippings for use in pan frying and sauces. With knife and tongs, carefully remove the shank skin on the meat. The hot shank skin is easily cut off using the tongs to pull on the skin as the knife slips between the skin and fat.

To score the ham, cut the fat one-fourth inch deep into diamond shapes. Insert whole cloves if desired. Cover with honey, marmalade or brown sugar and honey. Return the ham to a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes, or until the desired brown coating is achieved. Remove the ham from the oven.

Rejuvenated Subway, Clean Statues To Greet Lawmakers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators are going to be riding to and from their work more smoothly next year but isn't guaranteed to smooth the business of lawmaking.

The easier riding will be on newly laid tracks for the senators' 700-foot monorail subway line which connects their office building with the Senate wing of the Capitol.

The new rails have been installed at a cost of $7,500. They are the first complete track replacement since the monorail system was installed 40 years ago. Time had thinned the rails and rotted the ties.

The two 18-year passenger cars are going to remain, although they are being overhauled and repainted. These cars make an average of 225 trips a day and are one of the big tourist attractions of the capital, especially with youngsters. Riders are free to all who can crowd on the Capitol's rehabilitation in 14 years.

David Lynn, architect of the Capitol, says his maintenance force has been able to accomplish more this year than in any year since before World War II. This year, Congress was out of session for six months in 1952—longest recess since 1938.

All told $695,000 was voted for Capitol maintenance in the fiscal year which began last July 1 and most of it is being spent in the current six-month period. Here are some of the other jobs:

Repainting of the dome and all of the central portion of the building. Painting of 77 offices and stairways and corridors.

Converting some elevators from manual to automatic control.

Cleaning of 60 ornate crystal chandeliers.

A complete soap-and-water scrubbing for every statue—there are dozens of them.

TRASH CAN GETS MAIL
 CHIPLEY, FLA.—The city council had the word "trash" stenciled boldly on its new street rubbish containers recently because too many people were mistakenly mailing letters in the dark green cans.

BIKE RIDERS GET WARNING

Janice Calfee of 1404 South Lorraine Street, Cowden Junior High student, is another in the list of 19 winners in the JayCee-sponsored safety slogan contest.

Her slogan reads: "A bicycle for Christmas would be a treat if you wouldn't cut capers on a busy street."

Snookie Roberts of Midland Senior High School had his slogan included among the winners, too.

Daddy Ringtail

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was dreaming a happy dream. He was happy and safe and snug in his very own bed in his very own room in the monkey house, and so his dream was the happiest, the safest, and snuggest dream he could dream.

He dreamed that a very rich prince had come from far away to visit with the folks in the Great Forest. The Prince had brought a glass slipper with him. The slipper was the kind that ladies wear on their feet, except the glass slipper was made of glass.

"Hear me! Hear me! Hear me!" cried the Prince. "I will give a barrel of gold to the someone who can wear the slipper!"

"Why?" asked Mugwump.

"Because he wants to do it," Daddy Ringtail explained. "A Prince can do many funny things because he wants to do them. Most other people have to have a reason."

"Sir?" asked Mugwump.

"Never mind," said Daddy Ringtail.

Mugwump watched while the Huffle Puff, the friendly wolf, foot, which was really the foot it was meant for. And the Prince gave him the barrel of gold. Mugwump traded the gold for money and he spent all the money for ice cream. And even though he ate all the ice cream—a whole trainload, almost—it didn't give him the stomach ache, because he was only dreaming it. It was a very happy dream, wasn't it? Happy day!

BIG CHRISTMAS PARTY—The Webb-Davis Fruit Company staged its biggest Christmas party recently when its employes got together at the firm's headquarters at Terminal. Several thousand dollars were distributed in bonus checks. The concern had seven employes when it was formed in March, 1948, by H. J. Davis and M. L. Webb. It now has 50 employes. Webb-Davis is the only wholesaler of fresh fruits and vegetables between Abilene and El Paso. The firm operates a fleet of trucks which serve the Permian Basin Empire. "The House of Quality and Personal Service" is its motto. A major improvement program recently was completed at the Webb-Davis warehouses.

FLIES LOW, LANDS HIGH

LOS ANGELES—P—Lonnie Johnson wound up on the roof of a one-story house after a traffic crash, but probably will survive.
Johnson, a San Francisco bus driver, visiting here, cracked up Wednesday, police said, while traveling at high speed on Hooper Avenue. His car hit a traffic island, then bounced into a house 268 feet away. The auto buried itself in the house, and Johnson was tossed onto the roof.
He escaped, doctors said, with a broken leg, broken right arm and possible broken ribs.

Man Plays Possum To Outwit Grizzly

MISSOULA, MONT.—P—Max E. Harris played possum and escaped death in the powerful paws of a grizzly bear with a head "as big as a wash tub."
Harris was attacked while hunting on a wilderness trail. The huge grizzly, often considered the most ferocious of bears, lunged at Harris before he could shoot. The bear clawed Harris' scalp and right hand, and chewed his shoulders. Harris went limp. The bear dropped him and ambled away.
The wounded man managed to fire his rifle and attract companions. A helicopter later plucked Harris from the woods and flew him to a local hospital where he is on the mend.

Credit Buying Hits Record In Midland

A boom of credit buying has hit Midland.
More people are buying on credit than ever before in the history of Midland's Thanksgiving-Christmas season.
At least 500 homes were bought here during the months of November and December, alone and these homes have to be furnished.
At Midland's only credit bureau—the Retail Merchants Association, in the Leggett Building—Agnes Park, its manager, reports that credit buying is 25 per cent above the 1951 level.
She says that more money is in circulation than ever but, on the other hand, Midlanders must spend more money than ever on house furnishings. New homes bought are, of course, bare to begin with. Furniture must be bought—stoves, refrigerators, household furnishings must be set up.
Even on older homes, the picture is almost the same in Midland. The holiday season has encouraged people here to replace roofs, to add rooms, and to even build new fences.

Students In Midland Schools Contribute $279 In TB Fight

Students in all Midland schools have contributed a total of $279.17 to the Midland County Tuberculosis Association through the purchase of attractive pins bearing the likeness of Santa Claus and the TB double-barred cross.
Mrs. Linnie H. Davidson, executive secretary of the TB Association here, said the sale of the pins is an annual activity conducted in connection with the Christmas Seal Sale now in progress.
This fine response indicates that Midland students are aware of the seriousness of the tuberculosis problem, Mrs. Davidson said, and officials of the TB Association have expressed appreciation for the large number of students who used this opportunity to contribute small sums to fight tuberculosis.

Bake 'Modernized' Angel Cake

Victorian Yule hospitality is yours when you serve nut- and fruit-studded angel food cake with green pistachio topping.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Back in the 1880's, in the good old Victorian days, angel food cake was an important part of "keeping Christmas well."

But now let's look forward, too. Modern science has produced an angel cake mix free of guess work. That's what we'll use this year. Christmas Almond Angel Cake

Have ready a 9 to 10-inch ungreased tube pan. Start oven for moderate heat (375 degrees F.)

One package angel food mix, 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons water, 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla, 1/4 teaspoon almond extract, 1/3 cup finely chopped candied pineapple, drained.

Remove bag of egg white powder from package. Turn flour mixture into sifter; set aside. Into large bowl, measure water and flavoring. Add the egg white powder from bag; stir just enough to moisten.

Then beat vigorously with a sturdy rotary egg beater, flat wire whip, or at highest speed of electric mixer until the fluffy whites are shiny and will stand up in stiff peaks when beater is raised.

Sift about one-fourth of the flour mixture over the fluffy whites. Fold in lightly with 15 fold-over strokes, turning bowl frequently. (To fold, use a large spoon, a flat wire whip, or rubber scraper. Cut down through mixture, lift up, and fold over. Do not stir.)

Add remaining flour in three more additions, folding 15 strokes after each. Fold in almonds and pineapple. Pour batter into ungreased 9 to 10-inch tube pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until cake springs back when pressed gently with finger.

Cool in pan, upside down, until cold — 1 to 2 hours. Then loosen cake from sides and center tube with knife and gently pull out cake. Spread pistachio green, whipped cream over top and sides of cake. Place paper Christmas angels on top of cake.

Pistachio Green Whipped Cream
One cup heavy cream, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla green coloring.

Place cream, sugar, almond and vanilla in chilled bowl. Beat until cream holds its shape. (Do not overbeat.) Add a few drops of green coloring to tint cream a pale green.

Christmas Seals Available In Downtown Locations Now

Christmas Seals are now available at two downtown locations convenient for shoppers, announces the Midland County Tuberculosis Association. Both the Chamber of Commerce office in the Scharbauer Hotel and the Book Stall at 111 North Colorado Street will have Christmas Seals available for purchase until December 25.

The annual Christmas Seal Sale is sponsored by the Midland County TB Association as the only means to support its year-round work of fighting tuberculosis in Midland.

Eighty-two per cent of the money received remains in Midland County to finance the case-finding, health education, and assistance programs of the TB Association here. The remainder goes to the state and national TB associations to pay for such things as rehabilitation of tuberculosis patients and research in the nature of this contagious disease. Mrs. John Hills, chairman of the retail sales committee of the drive, urged those persons who did not receive Christmas Seals through the mail, and those who need more Seals for cards and packages, to stop by the Book Stall or the Chamber of Commerce and purchase their Christmas Seals.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

caught with his own eyeball. Strange, but true.

If a fish strikes a lure and misses, does he normally or usually come back a second time? Here's a letter from one of our readers:

"I hooked a large brown trout last Summer on a streamer fly, and after playing him a few seconds he got off. I made another cast at the same fish and he immediately came back a second time but again got off. The third cast he just ignored and gradually moved out to deeper water. Now, what I want to know is, do fish feel pain, or don't they find anything unusual in being hooked, or what?"

To my knowledge, it's generally conceded that fish don't feel pain—particularly the poet's "sting of the hook." There's no nerve system to relay the idea that hooks hurt.

I have seen fish strike at a lure and I've seen the same fish caught four times within a short period. In this case, a "wise" old brown trout swam a few feet away each time he was released, and with each cast he struck again. He finally learned by experience that a hook could get him out of water and he saved up.

Lots of anglers could tell you similar instances. While it's true that fish will seldom come back a second time, I suspect that's because the fish has been caught on previous occasions and remembered it, or else saw the angler, or he found the lure too artificial when he mouthed it.

You'll find, for instance, that with a soft rubber lure, fish are more apt to come back a second time because the bait "feels" natural when he bites it. A wooden plug will slide right off his teeth.

There have been several reported instances of an angler catching a small fish and cutting part of the fish off to make a bait. Thinking the fish was dead, it was thrown overboard, and a little while later the angler had a bite. You guessed it—the fish turned out to be the same one that he cut the bait from.

Brian Curtis, noted ichthyologist, reported the case of a fish who was of course, to sum up the whole thing, it all depends on the individual fish—how hungry he is, how much experience he has had with hooks, and his intelligence.

Speaking of a fish losing things, a good many people believe that when a fish loses his tail or one of his fins he can't swim. Truth is, the tail and fin have very little to do with swimming. The principal means of locomotion in a fish is the compact mass of muscles in the body wall and not the tail or the fins. The muscle segments contract in sections, first along one side, and then along the other, and the fish pushes against the water by these alternate contractions.

If you cut all the fins off, a fish could still get along, but he would have some trouble in making a short stop. This is the true function of the fins—in acting as a brake. The fins also play some role in precise movements, but not in actual locomotion. There are a few exceptions among tropical salt-water fish, where the fins are important to locomotion, but they are the exceptions rather than the rule.

Move Over, Hoover; Truman To Join Unusual 'Fraternity'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—On January 20 at high noon something will happen for the first time in more than 20 years. As Eisenhower steps in and Truman steps out, this country once again will have two living ex-Presidents.

Back in 1929 Calvin Coolidge joined William Howard Taft as an elder statesman. Taft died on March 8, 1930. Since then we never have had more than one living former President.

Few of us grow up to be Presidents; fewer still to be ex-Presidents.

That Old Gag
So there's no clear pattern of what's expected of a man who has held the nation's highest office.

Truman undoubtedly has heard the old vaudeville joke that pretty well illustrates his present problem. "The funny man says he does not want to be President. Straight man asks, 'Why not?' Funny man says, 'The job has no future to it.'"

In many foreign countries when a party loses control its leader stays on as head of the opposition in Parliament. There he can defend his past actions and plan his future ones.

JAPAN GOOD CUSTOMER

TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(AP)—Government statistics show Japan is the best customer of Nationalist China. Japan took 48 per cent of Formosa's exports in 1951, the United States 16 per cent and Hong Kong 14 per cent. Formosa's main exports are sugar, rice, tea, salt and fertilizer. Total exports in 1951 were valued at 83 million dollars.

thing like that be tried here, with ex-Presidents becoming non-voting members of the Senate.

But nothing ever came of that proposal. Nor has Truman much in the way of a guide from the past when he considers what he should do.

The White House has said he has received a number of offers. Most unusual offer: a recording company would like to peddle phonograph records of his piano solos. But Truman has said he won't talk of his plans until he's out of office.

Ball Him Out

Herbert Hoover, being independently wealthy, has had no financial worries during his long years out of office. He has been able to do several official jobs for the government, including head of a commission to study the reorganization of the executive department.

By contrast, consider Thomas Jefferson. He left the presidency $20,000 in debt. And he was such a perfect host—some of his guests stayed for weeks—that his debts mounted. He became so broke a national subscription was taken to bail him out.

WITH THE U. S. 4TH INFANTRY DIVISION, KOREA—(AP)—One by one, 13 young Korean soldiers stripped to the waist, walked into the clear river water and were baptized into the Christian faith.

Chaplain Granville Greenwald performed the ceremony on a recent Sunday afternoon. Limb Yong II, Korean soldier of the Third Battalion, translated during the service. The devout groups, some thumbing Korean Bibles, first sat on the river bank listening to Chaplain Greenwald read from the scriptures.

Then, one by one, they were baptized into the Protestant church. Later, a communion service was held in the chapel of the 179th Regiment. The 13 who were baptized attended five weeks of classes on "What It Means to Become a Christian." They never before had claimed a formal religion.

Boss Of Yank Flyers In England Likes To Smash Problems Head On—And Does

LONDON—(AP)—A motorist drove into a Washington, D. C., service station one day last year and asked a man in greasy overalls to check his balky engine.

With an expert's touch the man replaced a faulty sparkplug and accepted 75 cents from the grateful motorist.

The man in overalls was Maj. Gen. Francis H. Griswold, United States Air Force, who had dropped in at the station to grease his own car.

General Griswold, "Butch" to his friends, always has liked to do the job himself—whether it's tinkering with a car engine, piloting a plane or running the U. S. Third Air Force in Britain.

When Griswold was named commanding general of the Third last May it meant coming back to a land he knew in 1943 as chief of staff of the famed Eighth Fighter Command.

Know The Enemy
"In a hot war," says Griswold, "you know your enemy. You know who you're shooting at. It's tougher in a cold war. You don't see your enemy."

But Griswold, a 48-year-old officer with 22 eventful years service in the Air Force, is tackling cold war problems of his command as he does all the other problems—head on.

A blunt talker, ruggedly built man, Griswold doesn't like to make public speeches. But in two days recently he flew to 13 major bases under his command to lecture American airmen on the importance of Anglo-American relations.

Sees For Self
Griswold is no "paper general." When a problem pops up, he's likely to order his staff plane ready on 30 minutes' notice for a quick trip to see for himself.

He arrives early and stays late at his neat-as-a-pin office at Third Air Force headquarters at South Ruislip, 12 miles west of London.

He has a big job—responsibility for the 45,000 men and their 15,000 dependents, 28 installations and the secret hundreds of planes that make up the Third Air Force today.

But he still finds time to tear down and tune up the engines of his two English cars—mostly just for the fun of it.

Climbs In Rank
He and his wife, the former Jeff Bradley Sutherland of Harrodsburg, Ky., take quiet pride in their two pretty daughters. Mary, 18, studies French at the Sorbonne in Paris. Claire, 16, goes to the Sadler's Wells Ballet School in London.

Griswold was born Nov. 5, 1904, in Erie, Pa. He attended Columbia University and Ohio State University.

He enlisted in the Air Corps cadet training program at the age of 24 and won a reserve commission as a second lieutenant a year later. He got his regular commission at 26 and began a rapid rise in service in Hawaii, at Langley Field, Va., and at Maxwell Field, Alabama. When Pearl Harbor came, he was a major in the Fourth Interceptor Command at Riverside, Calif.

Flies Against Nazis
A lieutenant colonel a year later, he was transferred to Air Corps headquarters in Washington as chief of the fighter branch and it was Colonel Griswold when he transferred to the war's air front in England in 1943 as chief of staff of the Eighth Fighter Command.

Griswold made brigadier general in 1944, but it didn't stop him from slipping off—unofficially—on 10 fighter missions over Germany. He was transferred to the Far East in July, 1945, as commanding general of the Island Air Command at Ie Shima.

He won seven decorations during the war, including the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Honor and Croix de Guerre.

He has a record of 7,000 hours of flying without a single scratch.

Decision Is Up To GOP

The Republicans wisely have decided not to act one way or another on wage-price controls until they have held some hearings to determine the outlook for 1953.

Apparently, therefore, present controls will continue at least until February 15, by which time the GOP-controlled House and Senate committees would have had fair chance to study the matter.

Whatever decision the new Administration and the new Congress arrives at, we properly may hope that a consistent policy thereafter will be followed.

If a formal stabilization program is continued, it ought to be enforced without favoritism, without yielding to the kind of pressures John L. Lewis successfully brought to bear in the coal case.

When President Truman overruled the Wage Stabilization Board and gave Lewis' miners the wage hike they demanded, Roger Putnam, the retiring director of stabilization, made a comment whose irony may not have been appreciated by most citizens.

"I realize he (Truman) has broader considerations in mind than the mere stabilization program."

Possibly Putnam did not realize how that sounded. It seems to play down quite seriously the role of the stabilization program in our present national life.

Obviously, this reduces the WSB to a frail thing, competent to judge issues only when great considerations are not involved.

Well, if it does not exist in fact, why preserve the fiction? If, on the other hand, the board is meant to function effectively, then why not let it carry out its duties under broad policy lines set at high administrative level and firmly held?

The existing stabilization setup, as it affects major wage-price controversies, is largely a fancy. It may be politically unwise for the Democrats to scrap it, but its value seems doubtful.

Being pretty low down doesn't necessarily mean that you're not a higher-up.

The Old Artilleryman's Last Salute

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Drew Pearson says: Van Fleet assured Ike UN forces can withstand Chinese indefinitely; new Attorney General Brownell will dominate Eisenhower Administration; Brazilian jogs Stassen about good neighbors.

WASHINGTON—Now that Eisenhower is back, more can be written about his Korean talks. Actually the talks consisted of a series of bull sessions at which military strategy was hashed over far into the night.

Gen. James Van Fleet is a West Point classmate of Eisenhower's. Gen. Mark Clark served under him in North Africa. Gen. Omar Bradley also is a classmate. So they all sat around in the evenings, mulling over Korean problems and alternatives.

The sessions sometimes lasted until after midnight, which was one reason activity during the daytime was restricted. Eisenhower told the military chiefs when he arrived that he was completely exhausted.

Some of the things that can be told about the general's bull sessions, without involving security, follow:

1. Van Fleet assured that UN forces were strong enough defensively to hold the Chinese armies no matter what force they threw against us.

2. General Clark offered three alternatives. A. Continue to pound the enemy within the present confines of the war, trying to chew up enemy forces and discourage them, but not advance.

B. Go into Manchuria by air and destroy supply bases there.

C. Go into Manchuria by air and simultaneously advance to the border of Manchuria by land.

Clark warned that he could give no assurance the Chinese would not continue the war from Manchuria once we get up to the border.

Eisenhower made no definite commitment on what course to follow. Note—General Clark suggested that Eisenhower leave Korea after being there only two days. He feared a bombing attack by enemy planes.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY, Written for NEA Service

When today's slam hand was played, quite a discussion arose about the best opening lead and about how the hand should be played. Declarer had an answer for two of the three suggestions.

West actually opened the six of spades, and declarer very properly put up dummy's ace at once. He then drew three rounds of trumps, and ran all five diamonds in order to discard the three hearts from dummy. Now he could afford to lead the queen of spades and give up a trick to East's king. Dummy could then win the rest of the tricks with good spades and a trump.

After the hand had been played, West was full of regret over his opening lead. "If I had led the ace of hearts to begin with," he said, "you wouldn't have made the slam."

South thought this over for a moment and then found an answer. "If you take the ace of hearts and then lead a spade," he pointed out,

"I can put up the ace of spades, draw trumps, and run the diamonds to discard three spades from the dummy."

"That leaves me in position to ruff one spade in dummy and discard my other spade on the king of hearts," this silenced West for a moment, but he returned to the attack. "How would you play the hand," he demanded, "if I opened a low heart?"

"If you were smart enough to open a low heart away from your ace," South replied modestly, "I'd be smart enough to play the king from the dummy."

Note—Dr. Aranha was of course, partly joking. The Point 4 program sends U. S. technicians and experts to increase production, teach sanitation, health, new agriculture methods, etc. The Marshall Plan sent supplies and money.

The jet plane smoke trails sighted over Greenland by the Air Force last week showed that the supposed Russian plane was going away from the U. S. A., not toward it. In other words, it was a Soviet jet, it had been reconnoitering over the Northern Hemisphere and was on its way back.

Richard Arens, the man who drafted the McCarran Immigration Act, now is pulling wires to become immigration commissioner under Eisenhower. Arens was close to Senator Rivercomb of West Virginia because of his immigration views, now is close to McCarran. If he gets the job it will raise a furor.

Indiana's Senator Jenner is pulling wires for Arens' appointment, also wants to take over the immigration sub-committee. Eisenhower leaders, however, much prefer able humanitarian Senator Bob Hendrickson of New Jersey in that key spot.

Mr. Truman can't afford to keep her personal secretary, Reatha Odum, after she leaves the White House, so has been telephoning friends trying to find her a job. Stu Symington, new senator from Missouri, whom Truman tried to defeat in the primaries, now has promised to hire her.

Navy Wrath: The Navy was so upset over a magazine article debunking "Operation Mainbrace," the recent naval maneuvers of NATO nations in the Atlantic that Assistant Secretary of the Navy John Floberg personally telephoned five big airplane manufacturers asking them to withdraw their financial support from the publisher.

The article was printed in "Air Force," the magazine published by the Air Force Association, a private organization supported largely by air-minded private corporations. Floberg bluntly intimated that Navy contracts with the five companies might be canceled unless they pulled out of the Air Force Association.

Kefauver's Boosters See Him As Democrats' Leading Man

By DOUGLAS LARSEN, NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The future role of Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) in the Democratic Party is the subject of almost as much speculation as the role which Senator Taft will play for the GOP.

Within the party Kefauver still is a controversial figure. On the one hand he is berated for not being a politician's politician. Yet his boosters appear to be just as numerous and enthusiastic now as they were at the peak of his public popularity just before the national convention.

A group of Kefauver fans have tagged Governor Stevenson's recent overnight stay at the White House as a major political mistake, which, they claim, puts Kefauver in the No. 1 spot for the presidential nomination in 1956. And they develop an interesting argument to sustain their view.

They say that Stevenson's visit to the White House firmly established him in the public mind as an integral part of the outgoing President's Fair Deal machine. And that's supposed to be bad and get worse.

They claim that Stevenson lost votes when he permitted the President to take such an active part in the campaign. And Stevenson did say several times right after the convention that he would be complete boss of his campaign.

Adial Linked To "Meas": They claim that Republican probes into Fair Deal activities will turn up with more cases of corruption and malfeasance in office than have yet been exposed, and that Stevenson's name automatically will be linked to that mess even though he had nothing to do with it.

Thus the argument runs, at convention time in 1956 the Democrats will be running from the Fair Deal and anyone connected with it. And according to his boosters, the logical person to whom to run at that time will be Senator Kefauver, the man who symbolizes the fight against corruption and crime, proved a popular figure and a good vote-getter.

Clarence Streit, editor of the magazine "Freedom & Union," writes: "The more the Democratic defeat is interpreted as a revulsion against corruption, the city bosses and 'Trumanism,' the more Kefauver will stand out as the Democratic leader most opposed by all these forces. His party position is further strengthened by the fact that he did not sulk when defeated, but campaigned ardently for Stevenson."

On top of everything else, it is said, private citizen Stevenson, with no official platform from which to speak, will tend to be forgotten by the people during the next four years.

Others Are Less Optimistic: More objective opinions of Kefauver's chances for the nomination in 1956 are not quite so optimistic. First it is pointed out, Kefauver right now isn't too sure of being re-elected when his present term is up in 1954. Defeat could be a death blow to his presidential ambitions.

Kefauver himself admits he has a lot of fence-mending to do back home. His unsuccessful campaign forced him to neglect for a long time some of his basic chores of representing the citizens of his state in the Senate.

Second, it is claimed, Kefauver has abandoned the role of crime buster which accounted for his tremendous popularity. By resigning from the special Senate Crime Investigating Committee he more or less took himself out of the cops 'n' robbers game permanently.

His current big interest is the Atlantic Union world government plan. This, it is argued, doesn't have quite enough sex appeal as an issue to win Kefauver national recognition, or even to maintain him in his present status as a national figure.

Senator Kefauver's big need, it is said, is an issue just as hot as his crime probe.

The present system (in medicine) results in more men going into specialties in medicine than is desirable.

Dave went with us to the gangway. "If you'll come back tomorrow," Dave said, "I'll have liberty."

Bert said, "I won't come back tomorrow. You can get your prop at 42 and find us in Pool 5. I'm going how and light some candles completely, Captain. I hope all for you. Of all the ships in the

Drouths, Irrigation Shrink Rio Grande To Rio Chiquita

LAREDO—(AP)—The Rio Grande will never again be the big river it once was. That's the view of the federal men here who record the incessant rise and fall—mostly fall in recent years—of the boundary stream. Dams and reservoirs, they explain, have been built along the stream to such an extent that even a year of good rain upstream might not restore the historic level. Karl F. Keeler, hydraulic engineer for the U. S. section of the International Boundary and Water Commission, said that in 1900 only 10,000 acres on the U. S. side of the river were irrigated below Fort Quitman at the lower end of the El Paso valley. Mexico was then irrigating 275,000 acres. By 1950, more than 800,000 acres were being irrigated on the U. S. side and Mexico was irrigating almost as much acreage. These figures do not take into account the hundreds of small dams and tanks built under the soil conservation program along the stream. They do not take water from the border stream, directly, but they do stop the rain run-off which otherwise would increase the Rio Grande flow. Keeler's figures show that the current drouth began in March, 1948, and has continued almost without interruption. It is the greatest cumulative drouth on record insofar as Rio Grande water level is concerned.

Maryland boasts that there is no hay fever in Garrett County in that state.

SYNOPSIS: The pirates in the sea swim toward the pirate ship. They try to get on board but Tweedledees won't let them. Suddenly the whole pirate band clambers over the rail. The elves, who have loaded the pirates' canoe with their rubbery material, fire, and the pirates all stick together, except Captain Longhair. He starts a duel with Prince Jonathan.

CHAPTER XIV THE DUEL

PRINCE JONATHAN leaped to the deck of the ship. Captain Longhair advanced slowly towards him. He drove his long and deadly sword again and again at the heart of the Prince. But each time the boy danced away.

The pirates and Santa Land folk watched the duel with anxious hearts. They knew that the fate of them all depended on the winner.

Prince Jonathan darted tirelessly around the Captain. Whenever the pirate thrust his sword, the Prince leaped aside and lashed out with his own short dagger at the pirate.

But it was a hopeless fight. Captain Longhair had fought hundreds of duels. This was the first the Prince had fought. Twice the Captain scratched the boy's cheeks and once his sword ripped the boy's shirt from his back.

Steadily the pirate pressed forward until the Prince was backed against the mast. He twisted from side to side but he could not escape the pirate.

"Now I have you!" cried Captain Longhair.

But at this moment a gust of wind blew across the deck. It swept the pirate's long, red hair across his eyes. He lifted his hands to brush the hair away. In that moment Prince Jonathan lunged forward and with one desperate slash cut eight inches from the pirate's long, red bangs.

CAPTAIN LONGHAIR howled with anger. Prince Jonathan darted under his arm and raced across the deck. When he reached the cabin he turned with his back to the wall and faced the charging pirate.

But as the Captain gave a mighty thrust the Prince ducked and the sword stuck deep in the wood of the cabin. As Longhair struggled to free his sword the boy reached out and slashed the long, red hair from the pirate's head.

The Prince leaped on the Captain's back and held his dagger at the pirate's throat.

Longhair freed his sword but at this moment the Prince leaped on his back. He wrapped his legs around the pirate's waist and held his dagger at the pirate's throat.

"Give up!" cried the Prince. "Or die!"

The pirate could not strike behind him with the sword. He could not duck away. He was helpless. He threw his sword to the deck and burst into tears.

How the Santa folk cheered! They bandaged Jonathan's wounds and called him a hero. Santa smiled down at the defeated Captain who sat weeping on the deck.

"Why cry?" asked Santa. "You have lived to fight another day."

"I shall never fight again," moaned the Captain. "For I have lost my bangs and I have lost my hair. Without them I am a joke and will be laughed at by all the pirates on the seven seas."

Truly he made a sad picture with his shorn hair. Never again would the mere sight of him frighten all who saw him.

"The boy might as well have struck me through the heart," said the Captain. "For I have no other way to make my living except by piracy."

Santa said, "We could use you in Santa Land!"

"What could I do?" sniffed the Captain.

"You would be in charge of all pirate toys—pirate stories, pirate costumes, pirate flags, and pirate weapons. We get a great many requests for such things at Christmas time."

Captain Longhair beamed. "I'll do a good job!" he cried.

But the Captain's men scoffed at such a future. "Please, your majesty," they said to the Prince. "We'd like to serve you the rest of our days."

"But I am not a pirate!" exclaimed Jonathan.

"Then we will serve you in the King's Navy," replied the men. And so it was agreed. But while men and brownies worked to clean the rubber from the reformed pirates, Prince Jonathan stared mournfully at the spot where the pirate treasure had fallen to the bottom of the sea.

He thought, "There'll be no such thing as a King's Navy any more. For it's three days until Christmas and Fairvania is doomed." (Next: Homeward Bound)

Sinclair's Rise Puts Spencer In Circle Of Industry Giants

NEW YORK—(AP)—Oil man P. C. Spencer, who once herded cattle on a Wyoming ranch, sees a new challenge and a new responsibility in the emergence of his Sinclair Oil Corporation as the nation's billion-dollar corporation.

Sinclair's assets shot past the billion-dollar mark at the end of 1951, putting the 36-year-old firm in the select fraternity of industrial giants. In this exclusive club the company of which Spencer is president can rub elbows with such titans as Jersey Standard, General Motors, U. S. Steel and Pennsylvania Railroad.

How does it feel to be sitting on top of one billion dollars?

"Slightly terrifying," Spencer says. "You get a feeling of deep satisfaction, of course. But the sense of responsibility is almost overwhelming."

"Tall and erect at 59, with penetrating blue eyes sharp as grinnets, Spencer takes particular delight in the fact that the fast growing Sinclair organization has left older competitors by the wayside.

"The achievement is all the more remarkable," he notes, "when you consider that in the relatively short period of about 30 years Sinclair companies have not only reached the billion-dollar mark but stand eighth or ninth in the industry, passing several major companies which are much older.

Lack of Competition "In times when there is so much talk about the industry being hamstrung by lack of competition, I think Sinclair is a good example of what can be done by an independent organization in competition with all the so-called petroleum giants."

The Wyoming-reared Spencer got into the oil business in 1927 after a career of cattle punching, newspapering, politics and law. To help pay his way through law school he took a job as editor of the Cody, Wyo., Enterprise at the age of 19.

One of his star accomplishments was an interview with Buffalo Bill. Today the one-time friend and admirer of Buffalo Bill is a champion of big business and a bitter foe of "big government," which he calls a "Major threat to our way of life."

He believes that with the advent of a Republican Administration big business will be on trial.

Business Cooperation "We have just had a very sweeping political turnover," he observes. "Most businessmen have been demanding less and less government in business and more and more free enterprise. I believe we have an opportunity now to show that the country will be better off with less and less government in business and more and more free enterprise."

But to accomplish that, the incoming administration will require a high-grade and intelligent type of cooperation from business.

"The times cry for what might be termed business statesmanship. And this kind of a statesmanship certainly should be led by business management. Sinclair is ready and willing to do its part in this vital crusade."

LOW INFANT MORTALITY SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA (AP)—Australia established a new record low in infant mortality during the second quarter of this year, according to figures issued recently. The rate was 22.66 deaths for every 1,000 live births. The rate for 1951 was 25.24.

The MATURE PARENT Take Time To Find Reasons For Denying A Privilege

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

For her ninth birthday, Clare got a new dress of pale green organdie. It boasted a crinoline petticoat and a sash of green velvet. When Clara opened its box, she forgot her ice cream and cake. She rushed into the living room, tearing off her old plaid gingham, as she went.

When she had tied the sash of her new dress, she looked at herself in the mirror over the mantel and thought that she had never dreamed she could look so airy and beautiful.

She gave a happy prouette to make the full skirt swirl and dashed back to the dining room. "Can I wear it to school tomorrow?" she asked her mother.

"No," she was told. "It is a 'best dress.'"

But Clare could not accept this denial. The next afternoon, she began to agitate again for permission to wear the new dress to school. She expressed herself pretty forcibly on the "meanness" of the mother who had given a dress and then denied its owner the right to wear it as she pleased.

Clare's mother was cutting up grapefruit for salad. She did not protest the attack made upon her personal character or stigmatize her child's violence as "ingratitude."

She just said, "You cannot wear your new dress to school because I do not think wearing it would make you happy. None of the other girls will be wearing their 'best' dresses tomorrow. They would know that you had worn yours to show off. So instead of getting admiration for them, you probably would get looks and envy. By the time you came home tomorrow afternoon, you would have lost your pleasure in your dress and be wondering if it was really so pretty as you thought."

She paused. "So you see I am saying 'no' not because I want to be mean but because I do not want you to make meanness between yourself and your friends."

When her mother finished, Clare signed, "Gosh, mother, O. K.," and went off to do her homework.

Reason, the dictionary says, is the "systematic relating of ideas." As children have more experience in feelings than in reason, we often have to do the relating for them, just as we prepare their dinners and sew on their buttons.

By using reason to solve her problem with Clare, her mother has shown her that she is not personally the obstacle to the wearing of the dress. Clare has seen that the limitation her mother has had to impose is not due to her mother's nature, but to the nature of the world she lives in. Thus Clare's emotions of anger at her mother subside and she stops regarding her as a personal antagonist.

We will note that Clare's mother was not ready with reasons but bulwarked her decision at the time it was made. It often takes us a little while to collect our reasons for denying a privilege. We should take it, consciously and deliberately.

If we are sincere, not just stalling, children will grant our request for patience.
