Clouds Up Above

Partly cloudy and a little colder Sunday. Monday, fair and warmer in the afternoon. Maximum temperature Saturday 61 degrees; minimum reading 50 degrees.

Twenty-Two Million Tells City Growth

The City of Midland, chalking up more than $22,000,000 worth of building permits, sparkled as the brightest spot in West Texas building circles during 1952, a survey conducted by The Reporter-Telegram showed Saturday.

Among the major cities of West Texas, even including those with three times the population, Midland reported the second largest value of building permits and ranked first on a per capita basis.

In total volume, only Amarillo with its approximate 90,000 population and $24,184,331 worth of building permits topped Midland's $22,000,230. And trailing behind Midland were El Paso, Wichita Falls, Abilene, Lubbock, Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo.

'THIS DAY OF DESTINY'—83rd Congress Convened, Skirts Showdown On Rules

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The GOP rode back into power in the new Congress Saturday and quickly shoved over until next week a Senate fight over filibustering rules that would have disrupted opening day harmony.

Even now, the Republicans have only a shaky one-vote margin in the Senate and a 10-vote edge in the House. That means they may have to rely on the help of Southern Democrats, which they have had in the past to put across the incoming Administration's legislative program.

S. Truman's final message on the State of the Union—a message which may be largely a review of 20 years of Democratic rule plus a glance into the future.

Solons Whet Knives To Cut Taxes; Succor Envisioned By Mid-Summer

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Tax cutting moves got off to a rapid start in the new Congress Saturday, but they face a long and perhaps stormy trip through the legislative mills.

A number of Republicans and Democrats called for tax relief of one kind or another. The emphasis, however, was on cutting government spending first.

President Truman's proposed budget for the next fiscal year, due to reach Congress Friday, is expected to call for expenditures of around $80 billion dollars.

Reed's proposed income tax reduction would have the effect of bringing it six months closer than a law already passed by the last Congress.

Social Security Payments Provide Economy Backbone

ODESSA—Many people are still unaware of the extent to which social security payments affect the community, Jack Calvert, manager of the Odessa office of the Social Security Administration, declared Saturday.

As old-age and survivors insurance enters its seventeenth year of operation, Calvert pointed out, more than five million people are receiving $200 million in insurance payments each month. The total paid in 1952 to these retired workers, their families, and to dependent survivors of deceased workers who were insured, will be more than two and one-half billion.

In the past 16 years, Calvert believes, American families have built up more protective under federal old-age and survivors insurance than they generally realize.

For example, 80 per cent of all jobs in the country are covered by the program, and 62 million persons are now insured for benefits on the basis of their employment in cov-

Texas-Louisiana Sabine River Pact Due Final Scrutiny

ORANGE—(P)—The final draft of a proposed Texas-Louisiana Sabine River Compact will be discussed with officials of Texas next week.

The State Board of Water Engineers and Attorney-General John Ben Shepperd will get a look at the document Monday and Governor Shivers will inspect it Tuesday.

John W. Simmons, Orange, president of the Texas Sabine River Authority and one of two Texas compact makers, announced plans to discuss the document with the state officials.

Work on the compact, which divides waters of the Sabine River where it forms the Texas-Louisiana boundary, began a year ago.

The document must be approved by the legislatures of both states and ratified by Congress before becoming effective.

Simmons said the terms would not be made public until the compact is signed.

Tuesday Is Deadline For Casting Ballots In C. Of C. Election

Chamber of Commerce members have until 8 a. m. Tuesday to cast their ballots in the organization's annual director election, Manager Delbert Downing announced Saturday.

Ballots listing the names of 26 nominees for the 13 director vacancies were mailed to members recently.

Members of the election committee, including H. H. Lawson, Frank Cowden, Jr., G. E. Mershon and R. C. Conkling, will meet at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the C. of C. office to open and tabulate the ballots. The 13 nominees receiving the most votes will be declared elected to three-year terms.

The new directors will be introduced at the organization's annual membership meeting and banquet January 27.

Edgar Bergen Doesn't Seek Trouble, Only Lunch Money

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Clothes and Longshots: Frances Bergen, who's making her film debut in "Nearer My God to Thee" (She was a New York model before her marriage to Edgar Bergen seven years ago), is giggling about the message Bergen relayed to her through an electrician when he came on-the-set and wasn't noticed by her.

"He told the electrician to tell me that he didn't come to make trouble, but just to get lunch money," Frances howled.

Ricardo Montalban's career blueprint?

"I let other people decide about me. I do what I'm told. Actors have all kinds of conceptions about themselves. Most of the time the conceptions are wrong."

Mala Powers, who was afraid of being stamped as an all-sweetness-and-light girl after "Cyrano de Bergerac," plays a baby-faced burlesque stripper in her new picture, "The City That Never Sleeps."

The censors won't let her take off so much as a glove, but "I'm very pleased about it," Mala tells it. "It's a change of pace for me. I'm not fond of sweet-girl parts."

It will be the Fall of 1953 before Bob Hope starts his next Paramount movie, "Road to the Moon," a science-fiction lampoon with Bing Crosby and Dorothy Lamour. He's had no word of the studio purchasing "Guys and Dolls" for him, but "There's talk about it all the time. I'd love to do it."

Dick Powell made his directorial debut on RKO's suspense thriller, "Split Second," but he's not retiring as an actor. He told me, "An actor is a fool to give up what name he has as an actor. Besides, I'm not rich enough to just direct. Why, I still go home and practice my saxophone just in case."

Piper Laurie, the shapely redhead, is bristling at a fan magazine article titled "Piper Feels to Wed." The story alleges that only her concern with losing her fan following is preventing her from marrying Fox Producer Leonard Goldstein.

"I'll marry any man I fall in love with," Piper snapped. "I'm not in love with Leonard. He's the best friend I've ever had. But I'm not going to marry him."

Vic Mature on his new, swanky home after living in a tiny tract house for years: "I can't get over having three bathrooms instead of one."

CHICAGO—(P)—Rodney Dee Brodie, Siamese twin who was separated from his brother by surgery, feels well enough to pat-a-cake.

But a spokesman for the University of Illinois Medical Center reported Saturday the other twin, Roger, remains very close to death.

The 15-month-old boys, who had been joined at the tops of their heads, were divided in a 12 hour and 40 minute operations December 17.

Roger has been in a coma since then and, the spokesman said, he has neither slipped back nor gained.

TIDELANDS BILL COMING UP— 83rd Congress Puts Friends Of Oil Industry In Key Roles

WASHINGTON—(P)—Organization of the 83rd Congress Saturday put into key spots several legislators whom the oil and gas industry counts as friends.

REPLACES DANIEL—John Ben Sheppard of Glade-water, right, is sworn in as attorney general of Texas by Judge J. E. Hickman of the Texas Supreme Court. Sheppard succeeds Senator Price Daniel.

own district, in the southwestern part of the state, has oil production. His record is one of sympathetic interest in matters affecting the petroleum industry.

Reed's committee will have the say on any move to change the depletion allowance permitted oil and gas operators for income tax purposes. The 27 1/2 per cent allowance has been under periodic attacks from the Truman Administration, which wanted it cut to 15 per cent.

Handles Oil Imports
The Ways and Means group also handles reciprocal trade and tariff legislation. Except in times when war or defense needs tax domestic production, the question of restricting crude imports is a recurring problem for the committee.

Heading the House Commerce Committee in the new Congress will be Rep. Charles A. Wolverton (R-N.J.). An oldtimer on the committee, he was a member of the group which inspected uncontrolled production factors which had pushed prices down as low as 10 cents a barrel.

Heading the Senate Finance Committee, which handles tax and tariff legislation, will be Senator Eugene Millikin (R-Colo.). The new chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, Senator Charles W. Tobey (R-N.H.), is the only legislator without a personal relationship with the industry who will head a committee with which the industry will deal.

The Tideland oil controversy is due to come before the new Congress for settlement, with chances favoring prompt passage of a measure giving the states clear title to the lands beneath the marginal seas.

But these are signs of a possible snag over just how far to sea the state boundaries should be fixed.

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower has said he would sign such a bill as President Truman vetoed one giving the states title for three miles from shore. In the case of Texas and Florida, the distance would be 10 1/2 miles because of their state constitutions. Many advocates of state ownership want all this, plus 37 1/2 per cent of oil and gas revenues for the states from submerged lands in the continental shelf out beyond the states' seaward boundaries. There's a question whether Eisenhower would sign a measure with this provision.

MICHAELSON OF TEXAS GULF HAS EXTRA BUSY DAY

Friday, January 2, 1953 was a big day for Louis H. Michaelson of Midland, district geologist for Texas Gulf Producing Company of the Permian Basin.

On that day Texas Gulf discovered flowing oil from the Ellenburger at its No. 1 E. Y. Headlee, Central-East Ector County wildcat, between Odessa and Midland.

On the same day Mr. and Mrs. Michaelson became the parents of their first daughter, Kristen Rae was born at Midland Memorial Hospital Friday night at 11:46 p.m. Between the arrival of the baby daughter and the excitement of the flow at the No. 1 Headlee, Michaelson had an extra busy day.

The Michaelsons have another child, a son, Eric, two and one-half years old.

Package Bill Asked On Tideland Issue

AUSTIN—(P)—Attorney-General John Ben Sheppard called on Texas congressional members Friday to make Tideland legislation their number one domestic issue and to wrap up all Tideland angles in a "package" bill.

Sheppard said the "package" bill should make an equitable settlement of the claims to the continental shelf beyond three-league limit historically claimed by Texas and should include conservation laws for the Tidelands.

Pioneer Air Lines Sets Sales Meetings

DALLAS—Pioneer Air Lines will hold its 1953 sales meeting Wednesday and Thursday in Dallas, Harding L. Lawrence, vice president of traffic and sales, announced.

In addition to Pioneer personnel and speakers, more than ten major airlines will be represented as well as representatives of the U. S. Post Office and the Railway Express Agency.

"Tell, Sell and Serve Them Well" is the airlines slogan for 1953. Pioneer's district traffic and sales managers, city managers, reservationists and department heads from the company's 30 cities in Texas and New Mexico will arrive in Dallas Tuesday to attend the two-day meet. Gen. Robert J. Smith, Pioneer president, will address the group at a special luncheon Wednesday.

Jules Constantine, Oil Operator, Dies

DALLAS—(P)—Jules Constantine, 55, independent oil operator in the mid-continent fields, died Friday at Valmor, N. M.

Constantine, a resident of Dallas since 1943, contracted pneumonia about eight months ago while inspecting some West Texas oil property in which he was interested.

MIDLANDERS ATTEND NEW MEXICO FUNCTION

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shriver and C. W. Summers attended the inauguration ceremony for Gov. Ed Meehan of New Mexico in Santa Fe Thursday, Shriver, a former city councilman, and Summers are with Shell Oil Company here.

COLD POLE QUILTS POLE

SAN PEDRO, CALIF.—(P)—Cold winds drove a pole-sitting Pole down from an 80-foot perch and into the arms of U. S. immigration officers Saturday.

Miscryslaw Kosel, 25, refugee facing deportation, climbed down after spending 11 chilly hours on a radio tower at the Immigration Station here. He had threatened to jump if officers did not promise him a parole within 24 hours. Kosel was locked up pending a hearing.

Curious, Dangerous Situation

The four-month-old federal grand jury inquiry into an alleged world oil monopoly, involving several American firms among others, ranks as one of the strangest enterprises the present Administration ever has embarked upon.

This investigation was ordered personally by President Truman, and in the normal course of events the Justice Department is attempting to marshal the evidence in pursuit of the inquiry.

The American companies affected have substantial foreign oil producing and distributing rights. These rights are held through concessions and other delicate arrangements with foreign governments.

The sharp implication of serious wrong-doing, inherent in this investigation, already has upset the precarious balance of these arrangements in several foreign capitals.

The United States is a net oil importer, that is, it imports more than it exports. That oil is essential to the American economy, and, more importantly, to its defense.

Both the State Department and the Defense Department, whose business it is to weigh carefully our strategic position against the world, have spoken out in strong criticism of the monopoly inquiry as likely to damage seriously our oil strength.

Thus we have the curious situation of the Justice Department pursuing, at the President's request, an inquiry which our two top security departments intimate is extremely dangerous.

In following through, the Justice Department has asked both foreign and domestic companies to produce hundreds of thousands of documents dating back over many years.

When Attorney General Brownell takes over at Justice in January, a first order of business ought to be to sit down with State and Defense officials and arrive at a policy which adequately protects this country's oil requirements.

And there ought to be just one policy for all three departments.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

The star play in today's hand is so simple that it may escape notice.

When West opens the jack of clubs, a low club is played from dummy, and South wins with the ace. South now leads a heart and plays the king of hearts from the dummy.

In ordinary play, East probably would win with the ace of diamonds. South hopes up with the ace of diamonds.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: Major colleges face anti-trust suit over football TV monopoly.

WASHINGTON—To sue or not to sue the nation's leading colleges—that is the problem now being debated by Attorney General James McGranery.

The suit, which would be against the National Collegiate Athletic Association for monopolizing football telecasts, has been recommended by the Justice Department's antitrust division.

The University of Pennsylvania and Notre Dame agree, but McGranery repeatedly has put off making a decision. At this writing, he practically is tossing coins to decide the question of bringing the War Of Ideas.

It escaped much notice in the European cables, but Premier De Gasperi of Italy lost out at the recent NATO meeting on one of the most important proposals to combat Russia.

De Gasperi, who faces the difficult fact that one-third of the Italian population is Communist, urged his NATO colleagues that even though Europe was armed to the teeth, it still could not prevent Communist penetration unless we were able to sell the people on "freedom and peace." The more we use education and propaganda to seek international understanding, the greater we reduce the chance of war.

Specifically, De Gasperi wanted to expand the Voice of America into the Voice of Europe and to urge a United States of Europe.

leads his remaining heart to dummy's queen, and ruffs a heart with a high trump.

South can now draw three rounds of trumps ending in the dummy and can cash two good hearts. He makes his contract with five spades, three hearts, and two aces.

If East refuses to take the first trick, the contract is defeated. This simple hold-up play prevents declarer from establishing and cashing the dummy's heart suit.

After the king of hearts is allowed to win the second trick, what can South do? If he continues the hearts, he can reach the dummy only once more. With this one entry to the dummy he can ruff a heart to set the suit up, but he will never be able to return to dummy to cash the established hearts.

Hence declarer eventually will lose a diamond to West, whereupon a club continuation will give the defenders two tricks in that suit.

It isn't always safe to hold up an ace when you are a defender, for sometimes you wind up taking that ace to bed with you.

Production Lag Is Real Curse Of Ammo Shortages In Korea

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Some high-up military knucklers were rapped sharply following the recent Pentagon press conference in which an attempt was made to alibi the ammunition shortage in Korea.

The conference was held by Major Generals William O. Reeder and J. K. Christmas, who head the G-4 or supply section of the general staff.

It was an obvious attempt to explain away the wave of criticism over ammunition rationing in Korea.

This discussion was kicked up following President-elect Eisenhower's trip to Korea. In his statement following an inspection of the front, he mentioned that there "were certain shortages of supply" in Korea which needed correcting.

General Reeder said he was sure the reference was to ammunition supply. Reporters questioned the two generals more than an hour. Their dispatches of the day following reported accurately the official Pentagon line.

It took time to get back in production. Field commanders sometimes shoot off everything they have on hand. The only way to satisfy them was to buy far too much. Congress has been slow in making appropriations.

When Defense Secretary Robert A. Lovett returned to Washington from the North Atlantic Treaty Council meeting in Paris he was greeted by these dispatches. He immediately sent for a transcript of the press conference. It ran to 30 typewritten pages, single-spaced.

Overstated Facts Case
The secretary read this with amazement. He felt it was known that he felt the Army had overstated its case. The Army's side of the story was characterized as a righteous piece of self-serving seldom surpassed.

The fact is that Department of Defense officials have been trying to get this Korean ammunition supply problem licked for more than a year without success.

Production of shell-loading plants is at varying rates. Some plants are operating two 10-hour shifts a day, six days a week.

At the start of the Korean war, holds: Spades K-6-3, Hearts 3, Diamonds K-Q-J-7-3-2, Clubs 4-2-2. What do you do?

"Is it dry down in Texas?" a visitor from that state was asked in Tennessee.

"Is it dry?" the Texan repeated. "Why, it's so dry and the range is so poor that my cattle are so thin that I can use carbon paper and brand three of 'em at a time."

to know how wonderful it was to have another leg that was sound and healthy. I thought of Aunt Maudie Sloane (the depot agent's wife); it was said that she could blow fire out of a burn, a talent more respected in Old Shiloh than her character, for she smoked where all could see an, some knew she drank, from time to time, pure white bootleg whisky—those who doubted had only to look in her metal barrel for the bottle.

Texas Builders Nail Up High Records During 1952 Cavalcade Of Construction

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK
 Despite the Korean war and controls on strategic materials, saws and hammers in Texas built a construction record during 1952 that can hold its own with those of 1950 and 1951.

Some Texas cities hung up record construction highs during 1952, outstripping even previous boom years when war and controls were no handicap. And several cities predict records will fall in 1953.

With the last week of December not included, Texas building during 1952 totaled $1,035,435,563, the Texas Contractor, building trade magazine, reports.

This figure compares with $1,070,252,038 during 1951 and $1,069,497,947 during 1950.

Residential construction accounted for $297,931,720 during 1952, non-residential - commercial, industrial, and public buildings - totaled $514,182,784, and engineering projects - bridges, streets and road - $233,301,059.

Housing Units Up
 Although the total expenditure for residences showed a slight decrease during 1952, the total number of family units built was up, the Texas Contractor said.

The large percentage of non-residential construction, almost half of the year's total, reflected the rapid industrial expansion which continued in Texas. Huge multi-million chemical, manufacturing and industrial plants, many of them outside city limits and hence not included in individual city permits, started rising skyward.

The immensity of this industrial growth can be found at a number of points but especially along the Gulf Coast.

West Expands
 Near Orange, Du Pont, which already has invested 100 million dollars, this year started a 50 million dollar expansion program of its plastic facilities. And nearby, Allied Chemical and Dye Corp. has begun a 35 million dollar plastic plant, Goodrich - Gulf Chemicals has launched work on a 75 million plant, and Forest-Grant is starting a 15 million dollar plastic plant.

In the area immediately outside the city limits of Corpus Christi, almost 100 million dollars worth of industrial construction now is underway.

Residential construction, which has been booming in Texas, ever since the end of World War II, continued at a pace that was only slackened slightly during 1952. The lifting of Regulation X, which had raised the amount of down payment required for a home, brought mixed reactions. In some cities it was credited with a heavy flurry of residential building permits during the latter part of the year. Other cities said lifting of credit curbs had no effect.

Houston Sixth In Nation
 In a city by city survey conducted by The Associated Press, Houston, with 120 millions in building permits for the first 11 months, was the buildingest city in the state during 1952.

A check of major cities in the nation revealed Houston was running sixth in total volume of 1952 construction, being surpassed only by Los Angeles, New York City, Detroit, Philadelphia and Cleveland.

For the first 11 months, Houston saw 6,295 homes started with a permit totaling $68,513,375, compared to 6,998 residences and $77,694,551 in 1951.

Dallas, exclusive of University Park and Highland Park, had chalked up $112,420,278 in building permits up to the last week in December. The amount was short of the record construction year of 1950 when permits totaling $133,434,018 were issued, but ahead of the $91,462,736 in 1951.

For Third
 San Antonio and Fort Worth are running neck and neck for third place construction honors.

Building permits this year are expected to equal the 1951 all-time high figure of $44,330,362 at San Antonio.

Fort Worth building permits to mid-December totaled $43,570,759. Although the number of permits—10,596—is the highest in the city's history, the total value is short of the $47,729,271 mark set in 1950.

Industrial construction in the immediate Fort Worth area, boomed this year with several major industries starting new plants in Tarrant County at an outlay of more than 50 million dollars.

For the second time in history, construction at Corpus Christi passed the 20 million dollar mark this year. The top year was 1950 when 29 million dollars in permits were issued.

Amarillo Booms
 Although there has been heavy industrial construction in the immediate vicinity, only one major project—a $4,400,000 grain elevator—was started within the city limits. Residential construction accounted for more than half of the 1952 total.

Amarillo's construction totaled $24,184,331, well ahead of 1951's total of $21,405,128 but short of the all-time high of $28,977,501 set in 1950.

Wichita Falls chalked up its best building year in history during 1952 with slightly more than 20 million dollars issued in permits. The previous high had been in 1926 when permits went over the 10 million dollar mark. Residential construction accounted for almost 12 million of the total this year.

Lubbock's 1952 building permits stand over the 20 million dollar mark, more than a million head of last year but under the $25,700,000 record of 1950. Residential construction with 1,233 units totaling $10,775,000 accounted for over half of the total.

Midland Sets Record
 By mid-December, Austin's building had topped 90 million. Bulk of the construction was provided by 2,316 residential units totaling slightly over 17 million. This year's tally is well ahead of the 18 million put in 1951 but short of the 1950 record, over 23 million.

Out in far West Texas, Midland paced construction during 1952 with a whopping total of more than $22,004,250 in permits, far outstripping its previous record of $14,650,000. Residential projects contributed heavily to the record-breaking year in 1952.

Odessa, building at a million dollar a month clip, also bested its previous mark of $12,621,734 set in 1950 with a late December total of $12,258,239. A large portion of the permits both in 1950 and 1952 were for residences. New homes this year included a number in the luxury class, ranging from $25,000 to $350,000. Real estate men say homes are being sold as fast as they can be built.

Drouth Hurts
 The prolonged drouth was blamed for a slump in construction at San Angelo during 1952. Permits through November of this year totaled $4,490,920 compared to $8,169,487 during the first 11 months of 1951.

Plainview reported building permits through mid-December at $1,686,360, which is about the same as construction there during the two previous years.

City Paces—

 than two square miles—1,472.3 acres—were added to the city during the last year, and much of this already is in the development stage.

The new additions, incidentally, brought the city's total area to 8,417.14 acres, including the 1,262.58 acres in Midland Air Terminal, which has been incorporated officially into the city limits.

A new subdivision of more than 800 acres, with some 1,500 lots, is about ready to come off the drawing boards for development west of the city, and other projects are in the planning stage, but not yet ready for disclosure.

New Housing Areas
 Figuring prominently in the residential developments of 1952, which accounted for $17,189,186 of the total of $22,000,000 volume, was the huge Permian Estates addition, in which several developers participated.

This addition was planned for 1,992 housing units and a large number of these were completed during the year.

In addition there was the 109-acre Trueland development north of the city and the Yucca Park addition, in which 58 $15,000 brick duplexes were built.

Records in the office of Higgins showed that new residential construction jumped from $9,111,801 in 1951 to $17,189,186 in 1952, residential alterations and repairs from $214,910 to $487,794, new commercial from $3,893,800 to $3,915,968. Commercial alterations and repairs dropped from $1,411,690 to $411,272.

July rated as the brightest month of the year with a total of $3,136,810, of which $2,778,610 was for new residential construction.

Big Final Flurry
 A final flurry of building permits during the holiday-ridden final two weeks brought the December total to $1,721,980, a sharp jump from the $438,500 for November, the only month in which they fell below the $1,000,000 mark.

Permits issued during the two-week period ended Friday included: William Acklam, residence, 1004 Mogford Street, $20,000; Dalton Cobb, residence, 1100 Mogford Street, $20,000; Standard Oil Company of Texas, service station, 3201 West North Front Street, $33,000; J. L. Barber, residence, 1600 North Main Street, $13,000; R. R. Black, residence, 3116 West Michigan Street, $12,000; Clyde Cowden, residence, 1700 Country Club Drive, $80,000; Berancia Hernandez, residence, 402 North Mineola Street, $15,000; James D. Rookus, back porch, 107 West Pine Street, $400; J. W. Stone, residence, 1505 Community Lane, $20,000.

J. W. Stone, residence, 1503 Community Lane, $22,000; N. B. Beauchamp, alterations to building, 216 North Main Street, $4,000; Dell Lawrence Construction Company, residence, 4401 Anetia Street, $11,000; Ben Hernandez, commercial building, 303 North Terrell, $5,000; Key-Martin and Associates, residence, 1610 North L Street, $16,000.

Southern Estates, residence, 4000 Anetia Street, $6,000. Same, at $6,000 each, at 4002, 4004, 4006, 4008, 4010, 4012, 4100, 4102, 4104, 4106, 4108, 4110, 4112, Anetia Street. Southwest Estates, residence, 1103 Spraberry Street, $6,000; Joe H. Davenport, building for plumbing shop, 404 North Kent Street, $5,000.

Emergency Cases Decrease As Routine Living Returns

Emergency cases for the New Year at Midland hospitals declined sharply on the second day of 1953 as Midlanders settled down to the routine of daily living after the holiday season.

Only one industrial accident was reported Friday, C. B. Joy, 1400 1/2 South Baird Street, employed by the Phillips Petroleum Company, had a small particle in his eye while sand-blasting at the Spraberry plant.

Joy was sent to the Western Clinic-Hospital for emergency treatment and released after removal of the foreign body.

A far injury completed the picture on working accidents Friday, Rayford Calhoun, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Calhoun, suffered chin lacerations and a right arm injury.

Calhoun was given emergency treatment at the Western Clinic-Hospital Friday and released.

Broken glass, figured in two other accidents, Gloria Getty, 1203 Princeton Street, cut her hand on a Pyrex dish at home. She received emergency treatment Friday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Manuel Seivers, 1404 Walnut Lane, was cut in a fall on a bottle. He was treated and released Saturday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Hospital Notes

Carl Nelson, 404 South Carver Street, received emergency treatment Friday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Barbara Jean Jackson, 101 South Lamesa Road, was given emergency treatment Friday at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Bob Parrott, 507 North Colorado Street, entered Western Clinic-Hospital Friday as a medical patient.

Mrs. Sue Koen, 2509 West Elizabeth Street, was admitted Friday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a surgical patient.

Mrs. Truman Snell, 911 South Terrell Street, entered Western Clinic-Hospital Saturday as a medical patient.

Mrs. Delores Morris, 108 East Francis Street, was admitted Friday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a surgical patient.

Mrs. Jewel Madry, 1000 South Garfield Street, entered Midland Memorial Hospital Saturday as a medical patient.

Mrs. Alice Woodward, 311 North Main Street, was admitted Friday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

John Jones, 508 East Cowden Street, entered Midland Memorial Hospital Friday as a medical patient.

Corinne Bybee, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Bybee, 2807 Country Club Drive, was admitted Saturday to Midland Memorial Hospital. She will undergo a tonsillectomy.

Mrs. Mamie Scott, Spraberry, entered Midland Memorial Hospital Friday as a medical patient.

Kenny Johnson, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Johnson, 3214 Thomas Street, was admitted Saturday to Midland Memorial Hospital. He will undergo a tonsillectomy.

Mrs. Ruth Shaw, Midland, entered Midland Memorial Hospital Friday as a medical patient.

Leonard Uhrig, 804 North San Angelo Street, was admitted Friday to Midland Memorial Hospital as a medical patient.

Mrs. Lucy Manning, 1104 North Big Spring Street, entered Midland Memorial Hospital Friday as a medical patient.

Thieves Take $44.50 From Electric Firm

Cash totaling $44.50 was reported missing Saturday morning after thieves broke into the Mid-West Electric Company store at 2191 South Lorraine Street.

Police said the money was taken from a cash register after entry had been gained through a rear door.

TO TENNESSEE

Robert M. Turpin left Friday night by plane for Knoxville, Tenn., where he will visit his mother.

Board To Consider Bids Monday On School Plans

The Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District will consider bids on the million-dollar plant expansion at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the high school auditorium. Estimates must be in the school business offices by 5 p.m. Monday.

School Supt. Frank Monroe said Saturday a large number of bids had been submitted with more expected Monday.

The district has voted a $975,000 bond issue to provide funds for the projects including an 18-room addition and shop at Midland High School; 28-room William B. Travis Elementary School in South Midland; 15-room Booker T. Washington Elementary School, and four-room addition to DeZavala Elementary School.

Chamber Of Commerce Maps January Membership Drive

The Midland Chamber of Commerce will launch its mid-winter membership campaign Tuesday, January 13, Stanley M. Erskine, membership committee chairman, announced Saturday.

Date for the campaign opening was decided at a meeting of committee members Friday afternoon. Other members of the committee are C. E. Bissell, Jack Wilkinson, Emil Rasmann, J. M. Cox, George Grayum, Cal Boykin, Clyde Sharrer.

The workers will meet at 4 p.m., January 13, in Hotel Scharbauer, to receive campaign instructions and prospect cards. Mailing pieces will be sent to the more than 200 prospective members before the drive opens.

Goal Is Announced
 One hundred new members is the goal of the mid-winter campaign.

A campaign conducted last year netted 108 new members, bringing the Chamber's membership enrollment to 750.

"We want at least 850 members on the roster by the date of our annual banquet, January 27," Erskine stated. "We can have a lot more than that if we get out and contact the non-members now."

Texas Deaths Reach 186 During Holidays

By The Associated Press
 The happy holiday period of Christmas and New Year's is almost over—and the 186 persons who died violently in Texas were far fewer than expected.

The latest Associated Press tabulation showed 99 traffic deaths out of the total. Fires, shootings, stabbings and various other forms of violence accounted for the rest.

The count started at midnight December 23 and will end at midnight Sunday.

Hotel Cigar Stand Ownership Changes

The Hotel Scharbauer Cigar Stand has been reopened under new ownership, Mildred L. Ehrdrige, who has operated the concession for the past 24 years, said Saturday.

Mrs. George Armstrong is the new owner and operator of the stand, which has been completely rebuilt as part of the major remodeling and enlargement of the Hotel Scharbauer.

'BIG BROTHER' BUILDS MODELS—

Little Tommie Yates Gets Hale Center Home, 'Mama'

VERNON —(P)— One of Texas' most famous "cowboys," five-year-old Tommie Yates, has a new mother and a big brother who builds model airplanes.

It's a big change for Tommie. His right side partially paralyzed since his own mother almost beat him to death a year ago.

Friday he dragged his brand, right leg into the office of District Judge Jesse Owen, brightened at the sight of Mrs. J. H. Trussell of Hale Center and rushed to her with a cry of "Mama!"

Tommie's real mother is serving a prison term for beating the boy on Christmas Eve, 1951. He lay in a semi-conscious state for days in a Dallas hospital after the beating, underwent delicate brain surgery and then took a new hold on life.

Talks With Eyes
 For a long time he could not talk at all. Now he can't speak many words clearly, but like a good cowboy he keeps on trying. His big gray eyes and twisted nose chose the home which "in my judgment Tommie would be happiest."

It's the Hale Center, Texas, home of Mr. and Mrs. Trussell and their 15-year-old son, Travis. The Trussells' six-year-old boy died two years ago of polio, while the family lived in Snyder.

Trussell is a section foreman for the Santa Fe Railroad. He and Tommie's new mama took the boy to Dallas for a check-up by doctors Saturday. Tommie went back to Hale Center and to let Travis teach him to build model airplanes.

"We're going to keep up his treatments and do everything we can to give him a happy, normal life," Mrs. Trussell told Judge Owen. The motherly woman has been visiting Tommie at the county's Sunshine Home here since September.

The Trussells must keep the boy six months before they can file a petition for adoption.

SHRINERS SET '53 ELECTION

Shrine Club officers for 1953 will be elected at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Officers Club in the Midland Airpark, C. D. Templeton, secretary, announced Saturday.

Present Shrine officers are Harry Rhodes, president; D. J. Hubbard, vice president, and Templeton.

Shrine directors are James N. Allison, Alvin L. Barr, Larry Burnside, G. L. Darden, Edward Edwards, Cecil Hodges, Otis Kelley, William D. Lane, J. A. Matthews, Robert M. Payne, Emil Rasmann and John Mills.

Records in the office of Higgins showed that new residential construction jumped from $9,111,801 in 1951 to $17,189,186 in 1952, residential alterations and repairs from $214,910 to $487,794, new commercial from $3,893,800 to $3,915,968. # Writers Pick Davis, Blaine For Awards

By The Associated Press
J. W. Blaine, who produced undefeated girls and boys basketball teams and also had top football and track teams, is Coach of the Year in Texas high schools.

Selection of Blaine, who was coach of everything at Dimmitt, highlighted the annual awards of the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Walter Davis, the great track star of Texas A&M who won the high jump and set a record in the Olympic games, was picked for a dual honor of Southwestern of the Year and Athlete of the Year. Ed Price of the University of Texas was selected as senior college Coach of the Year and Johnny Frankie of Wharton County was honored as Junior College Coach of the Year.

But the selection of Blaine was the most unusual of all. Ordinarily a football coach gets this honor and this is the first time the coach of basketball has been picked. It was for his feat of having undefeated champions in both girls and boys basketball that he was the choice of the sports writers.

Now At Sundown
Blaine now is a coach at Sundown High School. He resigned at Dimmitt because he had too big a coaching load and he explained to the school board that the "kids won't let me quit coaching any of the sports." So he decided he would have to leave in order to lighten the load. He is not dependent on coaching for a living anyway, being a wealthy man.

Blaine won with 15 votes. Ted Dawson, coach of Temple High School football whose team was in the state finals two years in a row, was second with 11. Bill Sheffield of Luftkin High School football was third with seven. Others getting votes were: Pat Pattison, Lubbock, three; Bill Brademan, Giddings, two; Charles Moser, McAllen, two; Watty Myers, Texarkana, one; Dan Stallworth, Baytown, one; Bill Waters, Gladewater, one; Rufus Hyde, North Dallas, one.

Diver Is Second
Walter Davis did an unprecedented thing, to be named both Southwesterner of the Year—the person contributing most to sports in 1952—and Athlete of the Year. Davis got 22 votes for Southwesterner of the Year. Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian was second with eight. Howard Grubbs, secretary of the Southwest Conference, was third with seven; Ed Price of Texas and Col. Frank Anderson, track coach of Texas A&M, tied for fourth with four apiece, and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, former National Amateur golf champion from North Texas State, was next with two.

Skippy Browning of Dallas and the University of Texas, who won the National Rules Committee.

Other rules problems on the agenda include the substitution rule—platoons or no platoons; rough play; the fair catch, eligible pass receivers and a change in the dead ball ruling which would permit runner who has touched the ground to get up and run again.

In addition to the two major bodies, the American Association of College Baseball Coaches, the College Athletic Business Managers Association, the sport section of the American College Public Relations Association and the directors of the Football Hall of Fame will meet here during the week.

While television is the most touchy subject to be considered by the NCAA, the convention also will hear an important and favorable report on football bowl games and other post-season activities from a committee which has studied the subject a couple of years; a report from a survey committee on playing and practice seasons and a whole flock of proposals and legislation from the membership committee.

the Olympic diving, was second for Athlete of the Year with 11 votes—17 fewer than Davis got. Tom Stollhandske, All-America end of the University of Texas, was third with three. Others getting votes were Jerry Coody, Baylor football star; Doyle Traylor, Temple High School football star, and Maxwell, one each.

One Poll Close
Price was an easy choice as Senior College Coach of the Year with 23 votes. Milton Jowers, basketball coach of Southwest Texas State, was second with 16. Jess Neely, Rice football coach, was third with four. Col. Anderson and Captain Smith, football coach of undefeated East Texas State, each got one vote.

Frankie, who coached Wharton to the national junior college basketball championship and also is football coach, narrowly won the junior college coach of the year award with 22 votes. Second was Ed Kelly, football coach of Del Mar College of Corpus Christi. He got 20 votes. Red Youngmah, basketball coach of Pan American College received one vote.

Engineers Pointing For Two Contests With Odessa Quints

A one-point loss last week introduced the Rotary Engineers to their post-Christmas basketball season and the team now points to increased activity coming up.

Rotary has a scheduled game with Southside Gulf of Odessa to be played at Cowden Gym Tuesday night.

The Midland Engineers probably will get a chance Friday night to average last week's 50-38 setback by Western Company of Odessa. Coach John Locke now is working on a return game with Western for Cowden gym.

In losing their second of five games, Rotary's Keith Nicolls skipped in 16 points. Frank Branham 14. E. C. Smith 12 and Leiland Huffman 11 against Western Company.

Unlucky Core Laboratories, both three games to none.

West End Magnolia whipped Seaboard Oil Company, Tex-Harvey tripped State Exploration Company, Honolulu Oil won from Al Boring Drafting Service, Ohio Oil edged West Texas Reproduction Company, Axelson Manufacturing Company beat Union Oil and Rotary Engineers won over Tide Water Associated Oil Company, all two games to one.

American Trading and Midland Geophysical shared their match, a game and a half each.

That left these standings:

| Team                    | W      | L      |
|-------------------------|--------|--------|
| Superior Oil            | 31     | 11     |

Jennings Reported Top Eskimo Choice

CALGARY —(AP)—The Albertan said Saturday in a sports page story that Bill Jennings of the University of Oklahoma coaching staff has the "inside track" to succeed Frank Plieloch as coach of Edmonton Eskimos.

Jennings, 36, is a former member of Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

Grid Giants Sign Clay To Contract
NEW YORK —(AP)—The New York Giants of the National Football League Saturday signed Randy Clay, a 24-year-old halfback, to a 1953 contract.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Clay is in the Army but expects to be separated before the start of next season. He played with the Giants in 1950.

World Net Champ To Play In Texas
SAN ANTONIO —(AP)—Fred Sedgman, world amateur tennis champion, and his doubles partner, Ken McGregor, will appear in San Antonio, March 13.

Sedgman and McGregor, who have just retained the Davis Cup for Australia, will meet the top professional duo of Jack Kramer and Pancho Segura.

Superior Oil Bowlers Lead As League Re-Opens Action

Superior Oil Company boasts a four and a half game lead as the Petroleum Bowling League resumes action this week after a holiday layoff.

Superior copped all three games from Standard Oil of Texas during the final 1952 play December 18. All 20 teams battled that night, with West End Magnolia racking up the high team series of 2,382 and the high team game score with 869. Ernie Crites was the individual high with a 603 series and 224 single game.

The other team results:

STANTON PLANS GOLFING LINKS

STANTON—A meeting of Stanton men will be held Saturday in the interest of forming a country club here.

A group has been talking of building a golf course and the men will meet at 7:30 p.m. in the offices of Cap Rock Electric Co. to formulate plans and begin the work.

Aussie Landy Turns In Remarkable Mile With 4:02.4 Showing

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA—(AP)—John Landy of Melbourne University, ran another remarkable mile at Olympic Park Saturday covering the distance in 4:02.4 over a breeze-swept brickdust track.

This compares to Gunder Haegg's world mile record of 4:01.4 set in Sweden in July, 1945.

Landy, Australia's 22-year-old Olympic runner, ran the mile on the same track in 4:02.1 on Dec. 13.

All four official timers clocked Landy in exactly the same time, which is unusual.

Three official timers also clocked him exactly at 3:44.4 for the 1,500-meters which compares to Haegg's world record of 3:43.

It was said to be the fastest 1,500 ever run in the course of a mile race.

AMID HOT AIR, HOT ITEMS—NCAA Will Deal With TV, Gag Rule

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. WASHINGTON—(AP)—Three varieties of hot air will mingle with possibly explosive results here next week as the 406 members of the National Collegiate Athletic Association and other assorted groups of collegiate sports leaders get together for their annual week-long convalescence.

Aside from the hot air dispensed in many official and off-record meetings, there'll be two rather torrid subjects.

One is the airing of football games by television, the most controversial subject scheduled to come up at the NCAA Convention sessions Friday and Saturday. Before that, the members of the American College Football Coaches Association will take up the touchy question of whether it is ethical for them to air their grievances against one another and against officials before the public.

Early Meetings Set
Indicating the importance of the TV question in the NCAA setup, the Television Committee, which has been working for weeks, will go into an all-day session Tuesday to put the finishing touches on the 1953 program it will present to the convention.

STAGG UNDER DOCTOR'S CARE

STOCKTON, CALIF.—(AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, grand old man of football, is in a Stockton hospital for treatment of an intestinal disturbance, his physician disclosed Saturday.

Stagg, who was 80 August 16, is in serious but not critical condition and will remain in the hospital for an indefinite period, Dr. Langley Collis said.

SMU Figured Team To Beat As SWC Cagers Begin Race

By The Associated Press
The battle for the Southwest Conference basketball championship begins this week and the finger is on Southern Methodist.

SMU, which projected itself as the No. 1 choice for the title by winning the pre-season Southwest Conference Tournament last week, swings into action Tuesday night, playing Rice at Houston.

Rice is the team Southern Methodist beat, 71-62, in the finals of the tournament.

Texas and Texas Christian clash at Austin Tuesday night while Baylor and Texas A&M are playing at Waco. TCU beat Texas, 64-52, in the tournament.

Saturday night, Southern Methodist plays Texas at Dallas, Baylor and Texas Christian get together at Fort Worth and Arkansas and Texas A&M collide at College Station.

SMU, Rice and Arkansas are expected to wage a three-way duel for the title. That's about the way they rated in the pre-season tournament.

Southern Methodist enters the conference wars with a record of four victories and four losses. Rice has the better season record with six victories against two defeats.

Southern Methodist made a rapid turn about when it came to the tournament. It had won only one game out of five and wasn't rated in the first five teams. But, with fierce team play, paced by little Art Barnes and Dick Bryant, the Methodists turned in some of the finest basketball the school ever produced.

Rice had the top player of the tournament—Gene Schwingler—and also boasts a most excellent forward in Don Lane.

Arkansas has height, is rugged and plays firewagon basketball—don't worry about anything except the scoring.

Top men of Arkansas are Gene Lambert and Walter Kearns.

Schwingler has scored 164 points in eight games, an average of 20.5, and is the leading point-maker of the conference.

RETURNER—Contracts for 1953 are going out to the Midland Indians now and one player, Pitcher Ralph Blair, also will receive a special hurry-home card from General Manager Horace Busby. Blair is returning from the service.

One Of TCU Greats, Roach, Named Chief Frog Coaching Aide

FORT WORTH —(AP)—Walter Roach, one of the greats of Texas Christian University football, is the new chief assistant coach of his alma mater.

Roach, who has been freshman coach since 1937 except for four years spent in the Navy in World War II, was advanced to the job next to head coach Abe Martin.

Fred Taylor, also a former TCU football star who has been coach of Victoria High School, was named freshman coach.

Roach's advancement was made possible by the retirement of L. R. (Dutch) Meyer as head coach. Meyer is athletic director only now. Martin was advanced from chief assistant to head coach.

Roach was All-Southwest Conference end in 1924, 1925, and 1926, and was the chief target for the passes of TCU Immortal Sammy Baugh.

Stanton Clubs Slate Donkey Cage Game

STANTON—The Martin County March of Dimes is the winner Wednesday night when the Stanton Lions Club tangles with the American Legion Post in a donkey basketball game here.

The contest will be staged in the Stanton High School gym at 7:30 p.m. The March of Dimes will receive the proceeds.

Among the players to ride are Gene Graham, Bob Deenport, T. R. Louder, Alvis Brewer, Jess Burns, J. D. Renfro, R. C. Vest, Ed Robnett, Marvin Brister and Horace Blocker.

SIGN HERE—Indian GM Starts Making '53 Offers

Horace Busby from now until January 15 is offering peace pacts to 15 Indians.

Busby, the general manager of Midland's Indian baseball club, announced Saturday that he has started mailing the 1953 contracts to the ballplayers. Their deadline for agreeing with the terms and signing is March 1.

So far only one player is signed—that's Manager Jay Haney; but Busby did not indicate any foreseen troubles.

Meanwhile, Busby will begin selling box seats for the 1953 season Monday. He said the campaign will be held daily from 9 a.m. until noon at the Chamber of Commerce.

Boxholders from 1952 will get first chance to repurchase their box seats for this season, with a January 16 deadline set on renewals. A waiting list Busby has will get second chance at the boxes starting January 19.

The Indian GM, besides sending contracts out, said that he was keeping in contact by mail with two of three players returning this year to Midland from service. They are Lou Dawson, an outfielder-first baseman, and Ralph Blair, a pitcher.

Charles (Tex) Stephenson, outfielder-first baseman, already is out of service and working in Midland.

Golden Glove Meets Dated

FORT WORTH —(P)—Qualifying tournaments for the annual Texas Golden Glove State Meet are scheduled at 18 regional centers through the next 30 days. The state event will be held here February 11, 12, 13 and 14, with winners moving on to the Chicago Tournament of Champions February 23-24.

The regional network covers the entire state, allowing boxers easy access to a qualifying spot. Amateurs over 16 are eligible. The first two regional tournaments to open will be at Fort Worth and Commerce, where January 15 is the starting date. The last to close will be at Beaumont, where the dates are February 2-4.

In most regions, newspapers sponsor the non-profit glove tournaments. In others, civic clubs or boys clubs are sponsors.

INTERESTED BYSTANDER
NEW ORLEANS —(P)—Prep school Coach Johnny Altobello of New Orleans takes an understandable interest in Tulane basketball. Two of his St. Aloysius alumni, Dick Brennan and Hal Cervini, are starters for the Green Wave. Another of his former pupils, Bobby Deloit, is a highly promising freshman guard.

WACO OFFICIAL NAMED
PITTSBURGH —(P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced that Jack Berger, Jr., 27-year-old Pittsburgher, has been appointed business manager of the Buc-owned Waco, Texas, club in the Class B Big State League.

Dean has been manager of Lubbock's team in the West Texas-New Mexico League for the last two seasons. He and his family will move to El Paso from Dallas in the next few weeks, Love said. Jerome H. (Dixie) Dean, and Paul formed a famous brother combination as pitchers for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Paul Dean Chosen General Manager For El Paso Team

EL PASO —(P)—Paul (Duffy) Dean, St. Louis Cardinal star of the 1930's, Saturday was named general manager of the El Paso club in the Arizona-Texas League.

Announcement of Dean's hiring was made by Tom Love, who at the same time revealed he has become sole owner of the El Paso club by purchasing the interest held by Dick Saunders.

Dixie's Lads Pack Pockets

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK —(P)—Like hominy grits and gravy, they love football bowls down in Dixie, and who can blame 'em?

Southeastern Conference teams brought home more than half a million dollars—$572,500, according to first bookkeeping reports—from four of the top New Year's Day games. Of this, 25 per cent, or $143,125, was kicked back to the conference.

The Southeastern, which has been the major provider of the bowls for years, hit a peak even for itself this year by putting five of its members into major games—two of them, Georgia Tech and Mississippi, into the rich Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

Tennessee played in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, Alabama in the Orange Bowl at Miami and Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville.

the richest of the post-season classics but not the best financially for the participants. This year the gate receipts at Pasadena amounted to around $400,000 with TV and radio receipts adding $500,000.

Most Valuable Player Jinx Sure To Dog Sauer, Shantz

By BEN OLAN
NEW YORK —(P)—Hank Sauer and Bobby Shantz, 1952's most valuable player award winners, had better be on their guards next season.

Brooklyn's burly catcher, was being hailed as the National League's most valuable. He had batted .325 in 1951, driven in 108 runs and hit 33 home runs. Last season, although he still sparkled on defense, Campanella slumped to a .269 batting average, drove out only 22 homers and batted in 97 tallies.

Many of the other most valuable players during the past decade have been similarly affected. In 1950, Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phillies was the talk of the baseball world. The bespectacled relief hurler almost single-handedly led his club to the National League pennant. He won 16 games, lost only seven and set a major league record by appearing in 74 games.

His home run output increased, however, from 27 to 30. The following season, Jim was just another pitcher, his record was a poor 4-11.

Bud Wilkinson, All Stars Lead Hula Bowl Entourage

HONOLULU —(P)—The College All Stars, coached by Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson, and an all-Hawaii team bolstered by professional footballers Donk Walker, Eddie Le Baron, Danie Lavell and guard Herman Clark clash Sunday in the first of two Hula Bowl games.

The second contest is scheduled for next Saturday. Among the stars was USC's famous backfield ace, Jim Sears, on crutches. His foot was injured early in Thursday's Rose Bowl game against Wisconsin.

Among other all stars were four Oklahoma Sooners — Billy Vessels, Ed Crowder, Buck McPhail and Tom Catlin. Crowder and Catlin, co-captains of the West team in the San Francisco West-West game last week will get help from four players directly responsible for the East's 21-20 victory. They were Tommy O'Connell of Illinois, halfback Billy Reynolds of Pittsburgh and ends Harry Babcock of Georgia and Paul Dekker of Michigan State.

Other members of the squad include UCLA's Don Moomaw, California's Johnny Olaszewski, Texas' Tom Stohandske and Harley Sewell, USC's Elmer Wilhoite and Bob van Doren and Tennessee's John Michels. Hawaiian players will pad out the all star roster.

Scribes Will Name Mythical Schoolboy Elevens This Week

DALLAS —(P)—The 1952 all-state high school football teams selected by the Texas Sports Writers Association will be announced next week. All boys who make these teams—a team is picked in each of the four classifications that play to state championships—will receive certificates from the association.

The Class AAAA team will be announced Monday afternoon. Class AAA Tuesday morning, Class AA Tuesday afternoon and Class A Wednesday morning. Chairmen of the committees selecting these teams were: Class AAAA—Phil Collier, Fort Worth Star-Telegram; Class AAA—Jack Proctor, Cleburne Times-Review; Class AA—Fred Stanner, Abilene Reporter-News; Class A—Buster Hale, Longview Journal.

Proctor also was the over-all chairman and supervised the selections for all classes. He is president of the association for 1953.

Even Stan Musial found the most valuable hoodoo too much to cope with in 1947. He had a brilliant season in 1946, leading the senior loop in batting with a .365 mark. He also got 228 hits and pounded out 86 extra base hits, including 50 doubles.

Football Still With Us, Now It's Pro-Bowl

LOS ANGELES —(P)—Hold your hats, football fans, the season isn't over yet. Comes next, and finally, the third annual Pro-Bowl football battle, in which a select band of all-stars from the National Football League plays a similar squad from the National Conference.

It comes off Saturday in Memorial Coliseum, and will be televised nationally. The two coaches in the recent championship play-off, Buddy Parker of the champion Detroit Lions and Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns, will guide the teams.

Name an outstanding player in either conference and you will find he's booked to play here. Lone absentee may be quarterback Otto Graham of the Browns, who flew back to his home because of the death of his infant daughter. Ready to fill in for Graham is Jim Finks, the sensational quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Any bids received after the closing time will be returned unopened. 2. Bids should be plainly marked on the outside envelope "Proposals for Six Deep Trinity Sand Water Walls, Contract No. 597-C."

LOS ANGELES —(P)—Golfer Jimmy Demaret bowed out of the Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament Saturday, the victim of influenza.

Demaret, winner of the event in 1939 and one of the most popular golfers in the business, shot a first round 73 Friday but complained of feeling ill during the round. It developed he was running a fever of 103 degrees.

"I feel better but I'm pretty weak and the doctor said to stay in bed a few days—I'll be all right," Demaret said at his hotel.

SONO MAY-DANCE ON HER TOES, but she keeps her feet on the ground! Here's a home that is no legendary, pampered darling, but it does have three beautiful bedrooms, two lovely baths, a very large living room with wood-burning fireplace, dining room and a magnificent kitchen. Two-car garage. For $21,000; $6,000 cash. No closing costs involved in this one! A good buy! Ask at the office or call any of our representatives for location. Exclusive by Key, Wilson & Maxson.

IF YOU'VE BEEN DOING WITHOUT a new home, now is the time to start percolating! We have a new listing on West Michigan, in the 1400 block. It's an address you would like to have on your next year's Christmas tree. It isn't a new house, but it's a very comfortable and completely redecorated one. Central heat, air conditioned, fenced-in back yard. Full price, $13,250.

YOUR HOME OF TOMORROW should be this awfully nice 3-bedroom home with wood-burning fireplace in the large living room. Lovely patio. Fenced-in back yard. The price is $17,750. Good financing can be arranged. Call the office for location—or any of our representatives.

THIS IS NOT A HOUSE IN THE CLOUDS—but it's on Ridgela. It's the home you would have liked to own . . . and it's now available! A smart 2-bedroom and den, with attached garage, enclosed back yard and patio. The price is $15,500. Now is the time!

KEE MOVES INTO HIS new (white) house on January 20. You, too, can move into yours—before then. Not so big as the Washington residence, but this one has two bedrooms and den (or three bedrooms), lovely living room with wood burning fireplace, dining room, and two "private" rooms with white fixtures. 2-car attached garage, magnificent kitchen, and loads of closets. Many specialties such as carpeting, Touch-plate lighting with master controls, huge furnace room, water well. Heck, NO! It's priced at ONLY $21,000.

DID YA HEAR THE ONE ABOUT . . . but this ain't a joke, so I'll get serious. Three wonderful bedrooms, two tile baths, tile kitchen with pine cabinets, breath-taking living and dining room combination, and attached garage with storage. Central heating, insulation, some carpeting! lots of closets, and ready to occupy. It's scintillatingly new, on Louisiana, and stimulatingly priced at $16,500.

Van Zandt Is Named General Attorney Of Midland Companies

Harris W. Van Zandt is the new general attorney for The Western Company and El Capitan Oil Company. He joined the oil well service company and its producing subsidiary January 1. Headquarters of both companies are in Midland. For the past 13 years, Van Zandt has been associated with Vinson, Edkins, and Weems, Houston law firm. For 12 years of that period, he was division attorney for The Texas producing division of The Pure Oil Company, with offices in Fort Worth.

Van Zandt graduated in law at the University of Texas and has been associated with the Houston firm since leaving school. He was born and reared in Tarrant County, and graduated from Central High School in Fort Worth.

His wife and three children will follow him to Midland in the near future.

British-American Names Hardwick District Geologist

James V. Hardwick has been promoted to district geologist for British-American Oil Producing Company for West Texas.

Hardwick has been a senior geologist for the concern since he became associated with its Midland office in February, 1952. He had previously been employed as a geologist for another oil company in this city.

Jack B. Thornton is a new senior geologist in the Midland district office of British-American. He left a job with another company to make the new connection. Thornton takes the place formerly filled by Floyd H. Miller, Jr., who has been transferred to Denver, Colo., and made district geologist for British-American in that city.

C. H. Atchison is district manager for the exploration department of British-American for West Texas. His headquarters are in Midland.

Lea Rotary Operations Lead Other Permian Basin Areas

The slack drilling period at the end of 1952 in the Permian Basin saw but 496 rotary rigs in operation, according to the semi-monthly activity survey of December 25. One year ago, 1951 bowed out with 728 rig rotations.

The last count showed Lea County, N. Mexico, with 125 rigs going, for the Basin. Andrews County continued to lead West Texas 33,

Davis, Farmer Now With USSR&MC Oil Department

Two well-known oil men have joined the staff of the oil department of the United States Smelting, Refining and Mining Company. General headquarters of that concern are in Boston. Offices for the southern division of the oil department are in the V&J Tower in Midland.

W. W. (Walt) Davis is the new production and drilling superintendent for the southern division of USSR&MC. He will headquarter at the concern's Midland office.

Recently he has been doing consulting work in Ponca City, Okla. He was associated with the L. H. Wentz oil interests prior to the time that concern was liquidated.

W. J. Stansfield, formerly district geologist in Midland for Standard Oil & Gas Company, and more recently division consulting geologist for the same company in Fort Worth now is with USSR&MC in the capacity of assistant to the general manager of oil operations. Farmer's new connection was effective as of January 1. He will continue to live in Fort Worth, but will be working in various areas of the United States.

Farmer was promoted from the job of district geologist for Stansfield in Midland several years ago to be division geologist for that company in Fort Worth. About a year ago he became division consulting geologist.

Humble Test In Mitchell Now Testing

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Lucy Coleman, sand discovery in Northwest Mitchell County, is to be put on pump and completed. At last report, open hole section was being swabbed at the rate of 4.3 barrels of pipeline oil hourly. Production is coming from open hole section at 3,050 to 3,135 feet. The section had been fractured with 1,500 gallons. After the fracture treatment, operator swabbed 24 hours. All the load oil, plus 104 barrels of new oil were recovered during that swabbing period.

No. 1 Coleman is at the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 78, block 97, H&TC survey.

Berry Resigns Job With Wilshire To Go With Vickers

O. H. Berry, Jr., has resigned as district petroleum engineer in Midland for The Wilshire Oil Company, Inc. in the Permian Basin. He is now associated The Vickers Petroleum Company and will move to Oklahoma City, which will be his headquarters for the new job.

Berry had been with Wilshire in Midland since April 1951. He went to that company from Standard Oil Company of Texas. Prior to coming to Midland with Wilshire Berry had been with Stanotex for four years. He resigned a job as division engineer for that concern at Houston to join Wilshire.

A. M. College Graduate
He graduated from Texas A&M College in 1947 with a degree in petroleum engineering.

W. B. (Bill) Quisenberry, who has been Berry's assistant at Wilshire has moved up to be district engineer for that concern in this region.

In his new job with Vickers Berry will supervise that concern's drilling operations in the Permian Basin and in Oklahoma, will serve as technical advisor to the Vickers management on drilling and production matters and will handle all of its reservoir appraisal work.

Texas Gulf Wildcat Assured Flowing Ellenburger Opener

Texas Gulf Producing Company No. 1 E. V. Headlee, Central-East Ector County wildcat, two miles west of the Midland County line has definitely assured a flowing discovery from the Ellenburger.

That prospector flowed oil steadily and regularly for four and one-quarter hours, through various sized chokes during a drillstem test of the open hole in the Ellenburger at 13,076-225 feet.

No water was developed. The project is to be drilled deeper in order to get a full evaluation of the Ellenburger pay.

The wildcat is one mile northwest of the Odessa Country Club, three and three-quarter miles northeast of the city of Odessa and 17 miles southwest of the city of Midland. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 8, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey. Corrected top of the Ellenburger is at 13,076 feet. Derrick floor elevation is 2,914 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 12,106 feet. The section of the Ellenburger which is back of the casing has never been tested — however interested observers think it carries petroleum. For the drillstem test at 13,106-

225 feet the packer was set up inside the casing at 13,089 feet. The tool was first opened and left open for four hours. There was a fair blow of air at the surface at the start. That blow diminished to a weak blow at the end of three hours and ten minutes.

The tool was allowed to stay open for another 50 minutes. It was then closed and re-opened. After the re-opening gas showed at the top in 10 minutes. The 1,500-foot water blanket started flowing out in 45 minutes and oil began to flow at the surface in 65 minutes.

Different Chokes Used
It was flowed to a test tank for one and one-quarter hours, through a restricted gate opening and made 16 1/2 barrels of oil.

It was then turned to the tank battery through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke and a one-inch top opening. In the next 60 minutes the section under test flowed 49.68 barrels of oil.

The opening on the drill pipe was then reduced to a one-quarter inch choke.

In the next hour it flowed 15.18 barrels of oil and in the third hour the flow increased to 23.46 barrels of oil. Gravity of the crude was 41.3 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 589-1.

Average shalokout was two-thirds of one per cent drilling mud and basic sediment. There were no signs of formation water.

Good Surface Pressures
Surface flowing pressure was between 415 pounds and 740 pounds.

After the tool was closed following the four and one-quarter hours of flowing to tanks operator reversed out the fluid left in the pipe. It was all oil and mud. There were no signs of water.

When the tester is all pulled out the hole will be conditioned and the project will be drilled deeper.

At total depth of 12,225 feet the Texas Gulf No. 1 Headlee had cut 149 feet of Ellenburger. No water had been found and it appeared that all, or practically all of the Ellenburger section is productive.

Devonian May Produce
This wildcat drilled through approximately 500 feet of Devonian section which was porous and carried good signs of oil. That formation developed some good shows of possible production on drillstem tests.

It also had interesting signs of possible production in the Pennsylvanian and in the Fuseliman.

The Texas Gulf No. 1 Headlee is three and one-quarter miles west, and slightly south of Plymouth Oil Company No. 1-A H. S. (Sherwood) Foster, flowing discovery from the Strawn lime of the Pennsylvanian in Central-West Midland County, which opened the Hallanah field several weeks ago. The Plymouth well did not go below the Strawn.

Pecos Prospector Flows Oil On DST Of Permian Lime

G. D. Putman & Company No. 1 C. C. Hart and others, wildcat in

The last count, Nov. 28, 1952, showed only 41.

The oil well completion rate, which at one time was as high as 100 others a month, has dropped off to less than 30.

The wells still are being completed for high daily potentials, but after several months of being produced, most of them show a production drop below the number of barrels daily that is allowed to be recovered by the Railroad Commission.

If and when a successful recovery method is worked out, one that will increase the recovery to from 30 to 40 per cent, operators will be able to go back to a 40-acre spacing rule and develop the yet untouched thousands of proven acres in the Trend.

Spraberry Still Is Problem To Permian Basin Operators

By JOE SALMAN
Reporter-Telegram Oil Writer

West Texas' vast Spraberry Trend, ever since its discovery unique in its vertical fractures, its vast size and the unusually high natural gasoline content of its now is a problem in another way — no one, as yet, knows exactly what to do with it.

After four years of probing into its tight fisted sand pay and extensive laboratory research, operators have been unable to come up with the combination that will unlock the door to its vast treasure of oil—that is certain to be in place among its cracks and crevices.

As of the end of November, 1952, approximately 32,000,000 barrels of oil were recovered from the Trend's 2,317 wells in Upton, Midland, Reagan and Glasscock Counties. That, say most Spraberry authorities, is but a small percentage of the oil trapped in the reluctant sandstone.

It has been learned, through experience, that a typical Spraberry well, drilled on 40-acre spacing pattern, is not a sound economic investment.

As a result of many meetings between operator and landowner and many months of research and evaluation by the Railroad Commission of Texas' Oil & Gas Division, a new spacing rule for the fabulous, but disappointing Trend.

Recently, the RRC approved application of 29 operators in the Spraberry Trend's oil areas for a larger drilling unit.

The new spacing is to be one well to 80 acres with a tolerance of an extra 80 acres.

That, in effect, means most of the wells started in the Spraberry areas in the future will be drilled on 160-acre spacing patterns.

The allowable for such wells will be based 75 per cent on acreage and 25 per cent on the well.

Presuming that the present maximum allowable of 121 barrels of oil daily for producing wells completed on a 40-acre spacing pattern for the Spraberry is continued, the wells which might be drilled on 80 acres will be given allowables of 121 barrels a day and those drilled on 160-acre spacing will be given allowables of 117.75 barrels a day.

Larger Units
The proponents of the larger drilling and proration unit have contended it was not economically sound to drill wells in the Spraberry on 40-acre units.

They presented testimony to show that one well on 160 acres would drain the oil from that area. That was used as a basis for the request that the larger spacing was in the interest of petroleum conservation.

The Railroad Commission has held the contention that one well would drain 160 acres is sound and reasonable.

If the wider spaced wells will drain the acreage assigned, operators can continue the Trend's development at a profit.

That though, is not the answer to the question of how to get the trapped oil to the surface at a high per acre recovery percentage.

In search of the answer, The Atlantic Refining Company is experimenting with a laboratory tested recovery process at some of its properties in Glasscock County.

That concern is seeking the solution with its water-imbibition displacement process.

Imbibition Process
Laboratory studies on rates of natural imbibition, coupled with estimates of the extent of fracturing, indicate the process may be carried on at commercially economic rates and that it will result in a threefold increase in recovery over that for natural depletion.

Although the field tests have been underway since November, the operator believes it will take at least a year to determine the feasibility of the process.

Although the Spraberry Trend contains very large quantities of oil, approximately $2,500,000,000 worth, the rapid decline of the well productivity attended by rising gas-oil ratios has been a cause of considerable concern to operators.

The estimated recovery, which is about 10 per cent of the oil in place, makes it necessary for operators to figure out a way to increase the percentage of recovery.

Tremendous Reserves
Estimates of the Spraberry Trend reserves have been as high as 10,000,000,000 barrels, or twice the reserves of the East Texas field, the United States' biggest producer to date.

The Tex-Harvey field discovery in Midland County touched off one of the biggest drilling sprees in Permian Basin history. The spree reached its peak early in 1951. At that time there were more than 250 rotary rigs in operation in the major portion of the Trend, which embraces Midland, Upton, Reagan and Glasscock Counties.

As late as August, 1952, there was an average of 80 rigs going in those counties.

The oil well completion rate, which at one time was as high as 100 others a month, has dropped off to less than 30.

The wells still are being completed for high daily potentials, but after several months of being produced, most of them show a production drop below the number of barrels daily that is allowed to be recovered by the Railroad Commission.

If and when a successful recovery method is worked out, one that will increase the recovery to from 30 to 40 per cent, operators will be able to go back to a 40-acre spacing rule and develop the yet untouched thousands of proven acres in the Trend.

The last count, Nov. 28, 1952, showed only 41.

Lisman, Veteran Lion Hand, Has Been Moved To Dallas

C. V. (Brick) Lisman, veteran Lion Oil Company executive, who has been a Midland resident for nine years, has moved to Dallas. In that city Lisman will be a special representative of his company and will work directly under J. E. (Johnny) Howell, of El Dorado, Ark., vice president in charge of exploration and production for Lion.

Lisman came to Midland Jan. 1, 1944, as district landman for the concern in West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

When the Midland organization of the company was made a division in 1949 Lisman was promoted to be division landman.

During his time as division landman he assisted in the setting up of district offices for Lion in Abilene, Amarillo and Roswell, N. M.

He also assisted in changing the company's office in Midland from a division to a regional setup during the last half of 1952.

NE Yoakum Is Site For New Wildcat

Harper & Huffman of Midland No. 1 A. M. Brownfield is a new wildcat location in Northeast Yoakum County.

Projected depth is 8,500 to test the lower Clear Fork. Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 220, block D, J. H. Gibson survey and 10 miles northeast of Plains. It is on a 640-acre lease.

McQueen & Clevenger Equipment Purchased By Rowan Company

FORT WORTH—(P)—McQueen & Clevenger, Fort Worth drilling firm organized in 1930, has sold its rotary equipment to Rowan Drilling Co. Inc., Fort Worth. Included were six power and one steam rigs along with all other equipment.

Consideration was not disclosed. Purchase of the rigs, all in West Texas and New Mexico, brings the total operated by Rowan to 22.

At the time the Midland division was changed to a region, under the management of F. H. McGuigan, Lisman took over the job as special representative for the vice president in charge of exploration and production.

At that time J. B. (Jack) Chase, who had been Lisman's assistant became regional land manager in Midland.

Lisman now has moved his home and headquarters to Dallas in order to be more centrally located for the work he is to do as a special representative.

He has been with Lion for 15 years. Prior to coming to Midland in 1944 he had worked for the company at its headquarters in El Dorado, Ark., and had been district landman at Jackson, Miss., and Owensboro, Ky.

He had worked as an independent oil operator in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi before joining Lion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lisman are the parents of two sons, Richard A. Lisman lives in Midland. He is a geologist in this city for Vincent & Welch, Inc.

The other son, C. V. Lisman, Jr., is a consulting geologist at Magnolia, Ark.

In Dallas the Lisman will reside at 4649 North Versailles.

Veteran Shell Hands Honored At Luncheon In Midland Recently

Three veteran Shell Oil Company employees with a total of 85 years of service among them were honored recently at a luncheon at the Midland Petroleum Club.

W. C. Davis and J. O. Brodigan were presented 30-year service emblems, and E. J. Reid was awarded a 25-year emblem and a wrist watch by Shell Vice President Joe T. Dickerson.

Davis joined Shell as a scout in El Dorado, Ark. in 1922, and worked as a leader, utility man, chief cook, and land agent in Louisiana and Texas. He moved to Midland in 1935 as district land agent and became area land manager when the Midland area was organized in 1946.

Widely known as a trainer of fine horses, Davis owns three prize mounts at his ranch-style home in Midland. He does his own horse-raising and is frequently called on to judge shows.

Brodigan started with Shell as a clerk in the St. Louis office in 1922. He went to Houston 10 years later as head of crude oil and gas accounting operations in the new office there. Transferred to Midland in 1947, he became crude oil and gas supervisor in 1950.

Active in the building program of Midland's St. Ann's School, Brodigan is the father of four children.

Reid first worked for Shell at the Arkansas City, Ark., refinery as an absorption plant operator. He held that position until the refinery was shut down in 1938, then moved to West Texas, where he helped build the first Wesson gas plant in Denver City. He served as a stillman and engineer before being assigned to his present duties in 1949.

A charter member of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Reid sang bass in the Shell quartet that won the national championship in 1938.

Geological Society To Elect 1953 Officers On January 13

The West Texas Geological Society will elect 1953 officers at its annual business meeting January 13 at Cowden Junior High School in Midland.

A committee of past presidents, with W. Dave Henderson as chairman, has submitted the following nominations for society officers.

They will be voted on at the meeting.

Nominees for president include: William Henry Conkling, State Exploration Company of Texas; Allen Ehlers, Skelly Oil Company; and Richard V. Hollingsworth, Paleontological Laboratory.

Vice president nominees are C. Hayden Atchison, British-American Oil Producing Company; Ted S. Jones, Union Oil Company of California and Edwin Van den Bark, Phillips Petroleum Company.

Nominees for secretary are Kenneth C. Anderson, Anderson-Fritchard Oil Corporation; Albert H. Hedden, Humble Oil & Refining Company and Harry A. Miller, Hancock Oil Company.

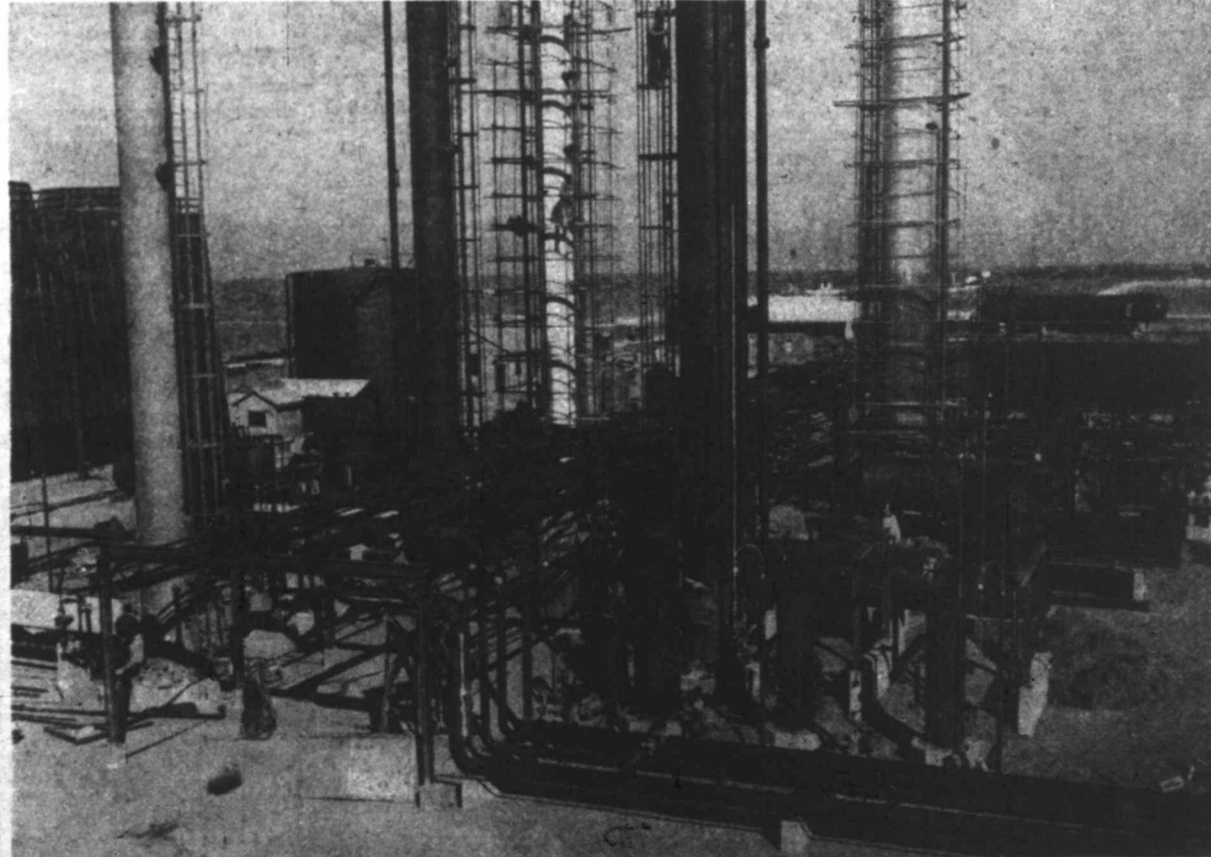

Treasurer nominees are Louis H. Michaelson, Texas Gulf Producing Company; Warren B. Scobey, with Ralph Lowe and Edward A. Vogler, Shell Oil Company.

Additional nominations may be made from the floor.

The customary procedure in balloting will be changed at the January 13 meeting in the interest of making available all of the time possible for the outstanding program to be presented at that meeting, according to I. E. Patterson, president of the society. Details of the program will be announced at a later date.

Ballots will be distributed to all voting members present at the meeting. These ballots will list all nominees for all offices with space left for write-ins, if any. Each voting member will mark his ballot for each of the four offices and ballots will be counted by the ballot committee away from the meeting room.

In the event the ballot committee finds that no nominee in one or more of the various offices secures a majority of votes, an additional ballot will be distributed later in the meeting on which voting for all necessary run-offs will be accomplished on the single additional ballot distribution.

ANOTHER WT GASOLINE PLANT—Pictured is a portion of the new Three Bar Plant near the town of Andrews which has a designed capacity of 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The plant should be on stream by the end of January. Operating at design capacity, the plant will recover 90,000 to 140,000 gallons of natural gasoline, butane and propane every 24 hours. The plant will be operated by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company for a group of owners.

The Tool Pusher

National Supply Develops Automatic Feed-Off Unit

Development of an automatic feed-off control that will either maintain a predetermined weight on a drilling bit, or feed off the drilling string at a predetermined rate of bit penetration, has been announced by The National Supply Company.

Known as the Ideal Micromatic Drilling Control, it can be supplied with new Ideal rigs of the larger sizes. It is also readily adaptable to existing rigs that have the conventional independently mounted hydraulic or dynamic auxiliary brakes. It eliminates much physical effort and the need for constant attention, freeing the driller for supervisory or other duties.

The device initiates the time-honored method of the driller as he manipulates the drawworks brakes while watching the needles on a weight indicator. The design is based on the fact that the load on the drilling string is always under direct control of a simple mechanical brake, which is normally urged toward the "on" position. Any failure of the system automatically applies the brake, making it impossible to drop the drilling string.

The device is the result of several years of development work, including considerable field testing. It is designed for either automatic or manual control of bit penetration.

Choice Of Control
If the selector switch on the driller's control board is set on "automatic," the system responds immediately to formation changes, translating these changes automatically into whatever rate of feed is required to maintain any predetermined bit weight.

If, on the other hand, the selector switch is set on "manual," the control regulates the feed-off so that a predetermined and uniform drilling rate is maintained in accordance with the setting of the manual control knob.

The system retains control of the drilling string at all times, and under all conditions, with the "fine touch" of the most experienced driller, but with no errors such as might result from human fatigue.

Details Of Operation
The weight of the drilling string is supported by the drawworks drum, whose rotation is controlled by a disc brake acting through the worm gear and chain drive to the drum. The brake, being spring set, normally acts to hold the load unless force is applied to the hydraulic release cylinder, releasing the brake.

The combination of the brake, metering pump, and hydraulic release cylinder is fundamentally a speed control device. The volume of fluid coming through the metering pump, which is directly driven by the brake shaft with the following results:

If the metering pump is not rotating fast enough to discharge the fluid to the return line, hydraulic pressure is increased in the release cylinder, which overcomes the spring tension applying force to the brake shoes. This reduction of force allows the speed of the brake shaft to increase to the point where the metering pump is returning fluid to the reservoir just as fast as the fluid is entering the system through the motor valve.

If, on the other hand, the brake is rotating at such a speed that the metering pump returns fluid to the reservoir faster than fluid is supplied through the motor valve, the pressure in the hydraulic release cylinder is decreased. This allows the spring to apply additional force to the brake shoes, retarding the rotation of the brake disc.

Hydraulic System
Hydraulic fluid is drawn from the reservoir by the power pump and circulated through the motor valve, the opening of which controls the volume of flow and, correspondingly, the degree of brake release. The differential pressure valve acts as a stabilizer to make the volume of fluid passing through the motor valve substantially independent of pressure fluctuations.

The actuating weight impulses coming from the wire line of the tackle are transmitted through the wire line anchor pressure transformer. Pressure variations in the hydraulic system of the weight indicator are interpreted by the control instrument to vary the air pressure on the control diaphragm of the motor valve. By this means the opening of the motor valve is varied in accordance with the weight impulses coming from the drilling string and the entire system is given the necessary "driller's touch."

Since all of the elements of the system are interdependent, failure of any component will result only in automatic restraint of feed-off. The feeding function of the Micromatic is operative only when the clutch for driving the rotary is engaged.

Edelle Daily Goes To Fort Worth For Five Star Reports

Mrs. Edelle Daily has moved to Fort Worth where she will be in charge of the office of the Five Star Oil Reports in that city.

Mrs. Daily had been a resident of Midland eight years. She has worked for the Superior Oil Company and for Kewanee Oil Company.

She was recently released from a Tulsa hospital after recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

The accident occurred while Mrs. Daily was enroute to Midland from New York after returning to the United States from a tour of Europe.

Tea plants grow wild in Assam.

EIGHTY-FIVE YEARS OF SHELL SERVICE—Three veteran Shell Oil Company employees were honored recently at a luncheon in the Midland Petroleum Club in observance of their service anniversaries with the company. They are, left to right, W. C. (Chappell) Davis and J. O. Brodigan, both 30-year men, and E. J. Reid, who completed 25 years of service. Davis is Midland area land manager, Brodigan is supervisor of the treasury-accounting crude oil and gas section, and Reid is loading rack foreman at the Wasson gasoline plants in Denver City. Shell Vice President Joe T. Dickerson presented each man with a diamond-mounted service emblem; Reid also was awarded a twenty-fifth anniversary wrist watch.

Conoco Chief Sees Need For More Oil Refining Capacity

HOUSTON—The oil industry in 1963 may be faced with a much more rapid increase in refining capacity than in currently foreseeable demand, L. F. McCollum, president of Continental Oil Company, predicted today in a year-end forecast.

"Completion of expanded facilities now under construction or definitely planned may result, by the end of the year, in a restoration of the one-million-barrel-per-day reserve refining capacity that existed before the outbreak of the Korean War," said McCollum.

"If this proves to be the case, the industry will be confronted with the problem of absorbing these additional reserves capacity. The problem will be magnified if Iranian oil should return to the world markets during the year," he warned.

McCollum pointed out that the oil industry has been faced, in recent years, with the necessity of supplying ever-increasing demands for refined products. Three distinct periods of expansion have occurred since World War II: The first, immediately after the war, to satisfy pent-up civilian demand; the second, to meet the sudden upsurge resulting from the Korean War; and the third, to offset the loss of refined products may be expected to add to the problem of potential oversupply in the United States. "The ability of the industry to adjust its operations to absorb this surplus in a rational and orderly fashion will be improved if the new administration returns to business a larger share of the management of its own affairs," he declared.

"It is essential that our economy be kept free by checking the trend toward socialism which has been a source of increasing concern," the Continental executive stated. "A return to normal operation of the laws of supply and demand, through elimination or relaxation of controls, will permit the economic movement of supplies from areas of surplus to those of famine." "Despite the immediate possibility of oversupply, the long-range view is more optimistic, because the basic economic factors for the oil industry indicate continuing growth of both domestic and foreign demand," McCollum concluded.

West Texas will have another natural gasoline plant in operation by the end of January. The Three Bar Plant near Andrews, expected to go on stream this month, will have a design capacity of 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, with an initial compressor installation to handle 11,100,000 cubic feet daily. Operating at design capacity, the plant will recover 90,000 to 140,000 gallons of natural gasoline, butane and propane every 24 hours. The plant will be operated by Stanolind Oil & Gas Company for a group of owners. Glenn A. Ayling of Stanolind is plant superintendent.

The West Texas Geological Society will have H. E. Rothrock as guest speaker for its semi-monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at the Cactus Club on West Highway 80. Rothrock, who was on the staff of the U. S. Geological Survey prior to becoming associated with Fuhrman Petroleum Corporation in Midland, will give an illustrated talk on "Folded Faults, the Perfect Alibi." The talk will include comparisons between Paleozoic structures on the Central Basin Platform and various Appalachian-type structures which were studied in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania.

Eight recent discoveries in Andrews County have been given official names by the Railroad Commission of Texas.

The Texas Company No. 1-AB University (State), Devonian discovery is the opener of the Block 5 (Devonian) field.

The same concern's No. 1-Z State has been titled the discoverer of the Block 6 (Devonian) field.

Magnolia Petroleum Company discovered the Inez (Wolfcamp) field with its No. 1-EA Fasken.

The Superior Oil Company No. 2-11-C University has been designated the discovery well for the Block 11 (Wolfcamp) pool.

Group Oil Company is credited with having opened the Block 11, Southwest (Devonian) area.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-CC University is the discoverer of the Andrews, Northeast (Devonian) field.

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-24 Fasken was designated the opener of the Midland Farms (Ellenburger) field.

The Shafter Lake (Yates) field was opened by H. Bryan Poff No. 1 University.

SW Fisher Project Plugged, Abandoned

General Crude Oil Company No. 3 Edwin Aiken, one and one-quarter miles west of production in the Claytonville field in Southwest Fisher County, has been plugged and abandoned at 6,496 feet.

Location was 660 feet from north and east lines of section 250, block 3, H&TC survey.

Wildcat Fails In Yoakum And In Howard Are Plugged

Wildcat failures in Yoakum and in Howard Counties have been reported. Neither of them found any shows of production.

Roco Oil Company of Fort Worth No. 1 John E. Fitzgerald, Central Yoakum County prospector, drilled to 5,417 feet in the San Andres-Permian line.

Location was 330 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 387, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

It was two and one-half miles northeast of the town of Plains. In Northwest Howard County, Edward C. Lawson of Tulsa drilled his No. 1 Trent Lindsey to 4,747 feet in dry Permian lime.

It was 660 feet from north and 667 feet from east lines of section 30, block 33, T-2-N, T&P survey. That made it three miles east of Knott.

Both dusters have been finished and marked off the list of active projects.

Nelson Bunker Hunt of Dallas No. 1 Lee Allison is a new wildcat location in East-Central Sutton County.

Drill site is 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 41, block B, HE&WT survey. It is 11 1/2 miles east of Sonora and three miles northeast of the Southeast Sonora (Strawn) field.

Rotary tools will be used to drill to 6,000 feet, beginning immediately. No. 1 Allison is on a farm out from Stanolind Oil & Gas Company.

Permian Pete

By Bob Evans

Gulf Wildcat—

The indications came on a drill-stem test from 2,387 to 2,447 feet. Gas surfaced in eight minutes and oil in two hours. Tool was closed as soon as oil surfaced. Recovery was 2,260 feet of 34.7-gravity oil.

Operator deepened to 2,500 feet look a drillstem test from 2,448 to 2,500 feet. Recovery was 750 feet of oil-cut mud. Tool plugged on an attempt at 2,843-2,900 feet.

Hole was bottomed at 3,032 feet with another test underway.

Location is 597 feet from north and 737 feet from east lines of section 31, block 11, H&GN survey and four and one-half miles southeast of the town of Girvin.

Water Developed In Montoya At Martin Wildcat

Salty, sulphur water was developed on a drillstem test in the Montoya at Tide Water Associated Oil Company No. 1-B Dickinson wildcat in South-Central Martin County.

Interval tested was from 12,000 to 12,075 feet. Tool was open nine hours. Recovery was 180 feet of drilling mud and 10,920 feet of salty, sulphur water.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 5, block 37, T-1-S, T&P survey and nine miles west of the town of Stanton.

Gaines Field Gets New Canyon Oiler

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company has completed its No. 4-A Helen Cunningham as a new producer in the Doss (Canyon) field of Southwest Gaines County.

The well pumped 12 hours to make a calculated 24-hour potential of 55.31 barrels of oil and no water. Gravity of the petroleum was 45 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 285-1.

Top of pay is at 8,844 feet and total depth is 9,928 feet. Five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 8,834.4 feet. Production was natural. Location of the new oiler is 660 feet from north and west lines of the lease in section 4, block A-24, pal survey.

NE Runnels Venture Flows Oil On DST Of Lower Fry Sand

G. B. Cree of Abilene No. 3 H. A. Stephens, wildcat in Northeast Runnels County, flowed oil on a drill-stem test of the lower Fry sand at 3,775 to 3,788 feet.

Tool was open two hours. Gas came to the surface in 10 minutes and oil in 100 minutes with no estimate of flow during the remainder of the two-hour test.

The project unloaded oil while drillpipe was being pulled, final recovery being 800 feet of oil.

Operator now is running casing for completion attempt after deepening to 4,078 feet.

Location is 330 feet from north and 2,350 feet from west line of C. A. Parker survey No. 46 and three miles east of Crews. That makes it two and one-half miles east of the East Cree-Sykes field.

Ellenburger Wildcat Staked In N-C Coke

Laan-Tex Oil Company of Dallas has staked location for a 6,900-foot Ellenburger wildcat in North-Central Coke County.

It is No. 1 J. L. Reid and is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 7, J. P. Angel survey. That makes it eight miles north of Robert Lee and three and one-half miles southeast of the San Benito field.

Drill site is on a farm out from Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Shell Oil Company.

Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once. Lawless Drilling Company of Odessa is the contractor.

Prentice In Terry Gets New Tester

Tennessee Production Company of Midland has staked location for a 7,500-foot rotary project in the Prentice field of Northwest Terry County.

It is No. 3 C. B. Townes and will be drilled 690 feet from west and 1,815 feet from south lines of section 22, block K, pal survey and five miles northwest of Tokio.

Operations will begin at once.

SW Fisher Venture Dry And Abandoned

Southern Minerals Corporation has plugged and abandoned its No. 1 Thomas F. Hefner, Northwest Fisher County wildcat, at 7,304 feet in the Ellenburger.

That formation was topped at 6,938 feet. No elevation was reported. Operator took a drillstem test from 7,034 to 7,204 feet. Tool was open one hour. There was a good blow of air throughout. Recovery was 1,630 feet of salt water and 680 feet of drilling mud.

Flowing bottom hole pressure was 225 pounds and shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 2,000 pounds.

Location of No. 1 Hefner was 660 feet from south and east lines of section 45, block 3, H&TC survey, 12 miles northwest of Roby and the same distance southwest of Rotan.

Oiler Fined In C-E Midland Pool

B. O. Gamble of Midland has completed his No. 4-44 A. Judkins as a new well in the Tex-Harvey field of Central-East Midland County.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 28 5/8-inch choke to make an initial production of 256.47 barrels of 36.8-gravity oil plus eight-tenths of one per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 722-1.

Top of pay is at 1,066 feet and total depth is 7,985 feet. Seven-inch casing is set at 7,909 feet. Production is coming from perforations between 7,086 feet and 7,140 feet. That interval was fractured with 6,000 gallons.

Location of No. 4-44 Judkins is 660 feet from north and east lines of the lease in section 44, block 37, T-3-S, T&P survey.

tive oil men, businessmen and civic leaders of the Permian Basin Empire to attend an area meeting here Wednesday night.

The dinner-meeting, called by Mayor Perry D. Pickett of Midland, is scheduled at 7 p.m. in the Midland Country Club. Ways and means of developing additional markets for Permian Basin crude will be discussed.

Alvin H. Lane of Dallas, state Republican chairman and representative of the West Coast Pipeline Company which plans a crude oil line from Midland to Norwalk, Calif., will be the principal speaker.

Mayor Pickett said Saturday the response to his invitations to representative citizens throughout this area has been prompt and enthusiastic—even more so than he had anticipated.

"1952 was a record business year for Midland and most other area cities and citizens are anxious to maintain their position of economic leadership in the year ahead," Mayor Pickett said.

"Since the general economy of the area is based on oil, business leaders realize they must unite in the developing of new markets for West Texas crude so there will be no let-up in exploration and drilling and no further cuts in allowances.

"It is a serious matter and one which quite naturally attracts widespread interest in West Texas," the mayor stated.

He said a large and representative crowd of business leaders from throughout this area will attend the Wednesday meeting here.

"What we can do to better sell West Texas crude oil" will be the general theme of the meeting.

Lane, in his keynote address, is expected to cite the importance of developing new markets and the most feasible manner of attacking the problem. He and his associates have launched a campaign to find new markets for Texas oil since he charged recently that West Coast refiners had refused to make commitments with the West Coast Pipeline Company for West Texas crude oil.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Counts, 202 West Cowden Street, have returned to Midland after spending their holidays at the Counts ranch near Uvalde.

WASHINGTON OIL—
 'Go Slow' Sign On Imports
 Implied In Interior Report

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
 Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
 WASHINGTON—A go slow sign on oil imports is implied in a new 213-page Interior Department report. The report, approved by Secretary Oscar L. Chapman, carries a December 9 date.

In words recalling those of many domestic oil producers, the department says:

"It is necessary to look also at the dependability of supply in war and peace. Heavy reliance on a single source of foreign supply may carry with it dangers of monopolistic price behavior at a future date. Heavy reliance on distant sources of supply may carry with it grave security dangers in time of war which cannot be offset except at great cost."

The report, the first on paper of Interior's imports views, comes as domestic producers again are alarmed, as oil imports soar over 1,000,000 barrels daily. The report was to the National Security Resources Board on ways to assure adequate oil supply for years ahead. The department also called for a new study of oil's depletion allowance, and put a "highest urgency" label on ways to add to below ground stockpiles or cushions of crude oil capacity.

Ed Warren Comments
 Agreeing, NSRB has just called for a new study of the depletion allowance, thus reviving a dormant issue. NSRB suggested Interior study the "best ways" to get more below ground oil stockpiles. Government loans and purchase of crude oil reserves, as well as well-spacing, are suggested for study.

A veteran oil man, J. Ed Warren of Midland, Texas, deputy head of the Petroleum Administration for Defense, meanwhile, feels the present reserve crude capacity—1,000,000 barrels daily—is "much too small." Unless the oil industry on its own builds up more, he says, "the government will move in and start dictating."

Oil imports, the depletion allowance and crude reserve capacity, thus, are high on the list of problems ahead as the American petroleum industry moves into the new year.

A fourth problem has to do with Tideland's where the odds are for enactment of a state title bill in the coming year—perhaps by mid-year.

Price controls are dying hard, despite the decontrol trend. At present, there is some sentiment for keeping them beyond the scheduled expiration date of April 1.

The supply of steel for oil wells, holding drilling down in the last year, is expected to continue short. Thus, the forecasts are for no more than 52,000 new domestic oil wells in the year ahead.

The Petroleum Administration for Defense, which parcels out steel for oil projects, may be around for some time yet. Warren sees the agency needed for another year, until shortages of aviation gasoline, oil well steel and reserve crude capacity are ended.

The problem of Iran still is with us after 18 months, and a settlement now—bringing more oil imports—might raise as many problems as it ends.

The fate of the government's "oil cartel" crackdown, a concern of domestic as well as foreign oil men, will be spelled out when the new Administration takes over. Odds are it will be dropped in time.

With the first complete turnover in top level government since 1933, as the Republicans take over in Congress and the White House, the oil industry looks with much hope to Washington.

For the first time in many years, an oil man, R. B. Anderson of Vernon, Texas, is down for a top Administration job—secretary of the Navy. Five of the nine new Cabinet members, a practical maximum, are from the ranks of business.

In a year-end statement, Russell B. Brown, counsel for the Independent Petroleum Association of America, warned that government controls are oil's biggest problem. He said:

"The domestic producers concluded this year with the greatest reserve of producible petroleum in the history of the industry. The United States now has, within its own borders, oil sufficient to meet the full national requirements. Limited By Government

"The availability of ample oil for the future is limited only by policies of government. Unreasonable and rigid control of prices and the unfair export of needed steel have resulted from government action.

"These actions have weakened the industry but have not yet destroyed it. The encouragement of more imports of oil is today absorbing the market outlet necessary to sustain the industry.

"These mistaken government policies can be corrected quickly. With these corrections, the consuming need have no fear of shortage of public and the government itself available supply of oil products to meet our full requirements."

DALLAS—(P)—A Dallas woman has resolved not to cut her husband with a knife or douse him with lye or water during all of 1953.

Justice of the Peace Bill Richburg said today he had an appointment with the relenting wife to come in Monday and take an oath to make the resolution binding, just as she had asked.

Besides saving the husband's skin, Richburg said, it would save his court a lot of time during the year, if the resolution were kept. The woman has been a frequent "customer" of the judge's.

Funeral Held For Rancher

SWEETWATER—Funeral services for Ralph W. Collins, 48-year-old Sterling and Nolan County ranchman who was an expert on soil conservation and stock improvement, were held at 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the Roscoe Methodist Church. He was buried in the Sweetwater cemetery.

Collins, who died Friday, entered the hospital here on Christmas Day suffering from the flu. Asthma, which he suffered with most of his life, made his condition critical. In 1937, Mr. and Mrs. Collins moved to their ranch north of Roscoe, where he lived until he entered the hospital. Only last year the couple bought a site for a home here and planned to build shortly. He opened an office here last year to look after his ranch and oil interests.

Collins grew up in Sterling City and attended high school there. He also attended the New Mexico Military Academy at Roswell and Texas Tech.

He married Hazel Witzer, a Sherman girl, in San Angelo in 1931. Six years later they moved to Nolan County where he took part in many civic affairs. He was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are the wife, a brother, Claude Collins, Jr., of San Angelo; his father, Claude Collins of Sterling City; a half-sister, Claudia Collins, and a half-brother, Corwin Collins, both of Sterling City.

Relatives To Test Will Of Millionaire Man O' War Owner

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The will of the late Samuel D. Riddle, multimillionaire owner of Man O' War, famous race horse of the 1920's, will be contested, Rodes K. Myers, a Kentucky attorney representing 21 of the late sportsman's relatives, says.

Myers said he could "break" the will "within two hours in any court because the document was unnatural."

The grounds for the suit, he said, would be "mental incapacity" and "undue influence" at the time Riddle wrote the will.

Myers said he decided to contest the will after unsuccessful consultations Friday with a Philadelphia law firm which is handling the Riddle estate.

The Kentucky attorney said when Riddle died he left $4,000,000 and that the will provided for the payment of $1,000 each to nine servants, and a grant of a half million dollars for the establishment of a new hospital at suburban Media, where Riddle maintained his residence. The remainder, Myers said, was to be placed in a trust fund to be administered for the needs of Man O' War's grave.

SENATE WELCOMES FRESHMAN MEMBERS—When Congress convened Saturday the U. S. Senate had 13 new "Boltons." ## Texans In Congress To Play Important Role In Minority

By TEX EASLEY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texas' expanded all-Democrat congressional delegation assumed its role Saturday in the 83rd Congress as an influential even though minority party group of legislators.

Reflecting an increase in the 1950 Texas census, the delegation now is comprised of 22 representatives, one more than the number to serve during the last several decades.

Youngest Leader
Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Johnson City and Austin took over reins as the Senate minority party leader. At 44, he is the youngest man to assume that role for either party in the 52 years that records regarding the position have been kept. The average of Senate Democratic leaders in the past is 67 years, that of Republican leader, 69 years.

In the House, Bonham's congressman Sam Rayburn stepped down from the speaker's chair to assume the role of minority party floor leader.

The hard-driving Texan, who will be 71 on January 6, also now is the dean of the House in point of service. He took his seat on March 4, 1913. The recent death of Adolph Sabath of Illinois and the retirement of Robert L. Doughton of North Carolina, elevated Rayburn to the top of the ladder.

Price Daniel
Taking oath of office as Texas' new junior senator is the state's former attorney general Price Daniel, who was elected largely on the basis of his fight for state ownership of the controversial oil-bearing submerged coastal lands. Daniel said one of his first acts would be

Chinese Commies Chortle Over Reconstructed Ports

HONG KONG—(AP)—The Chinese Communists claim shipping facilities wrecked during World War II and the Civil War have been "basically rehabilitated" throughout China.

Two of the largest projects were in dredging a new harbor at Tangku off Tientsin where up to half a dozen ships of 5,000 to 10,000 tons can be accommodated, and in enlarging the Canton dock area of Whampoa.

The Whampoa job has far-reaching effect. In the past, this Canton port has been adequate only for small ships and its facilities were limited.

As a result, Hong Kong, only 90 miles away, was the port for the entire area—the place where cargo was unloaded and trans-shipped to Canton and elsewhere in China.

With Whampoa capable of taking 8,888-tonners, a lot of trans-shipment can be eliminated. That is bad news for the British crown colony of Hong Kong.

The other side of the picture, which the Communists fail to mention, is that the 30,000-ton harbor capacity of Whampoa is an infinitesimal fraction of Hong Kong's capacity. Whole fleets can be anchored here; a half dozen ships would choke Whampoa.

The Chinese Reds say they have salvaged more than 100 ships sunk by the Nationalists during the latter stages of the Civil War. The tonnage was 30,000.

In addition, the Reds claim 200 ships have been built in East China since 1950 and the "first floating dockyard designed by ourselves" has been constructed.

Drouth, Christmas, Texas Take Share But Texas Bank Deposits Show Increase

By The Associated Press
Bank deposits in Texas were at an apparent new high as January began despite inroads of the drouth, Christmas spending and the tax collector.

National and state bank calls for condition at close of business December 31 found deposits and resources in most cities at new highs. Only a few isolated points reported decreases.

Total deposits at the 23 banks in Dallas and its park cities—Highland and University—amounted to $1,666,083,738.21, an increase of $129,747,545.39 over a year ago. Resources increased $149,192,351.44 from a year ago to a new high of $1,834,048,770.98.

Houston Increases
Deposits in Houston banks topped the billion and a half dollar mark for the first time in the city's history.

Deposits in Houston totaled $1,336,678,414.4, or approximately 125 million dollars more than the previous high, the $1,411,916,840.33 of a year ago.

A survey showed that the 18 Tarrant County banks saw an increase in deposits of almost 100 million dollars for the year to bring the total to $580,190,452.12. Year-ago deposits totaled $488,969,416. Loans and discounts totaled $253,976,204.49, an increase of $58,254,339.35.

Corpus Christi's five commercial banks set a new deposits record with a total $130,703,209. It exceeded the deposits of a year ago by 14 million dollars and was four million dollars more over Fall deposits, usually the high point during the year because of farm proceeds.

Record At Lubbock
Lubbock deposits set a record total of $161,308,235.56, an increase of approximately 10 per cent over a year ago.

Temple banks reported deposits of $30,820,726.80, an increase over the $28,870,797.87 at the end of 1951.

The almost complete crop failure because of the drouth was blamed for the seven per cent drop in deposits at Big Spring banks. (This week's call showed deposits of $27,144,943. Loans and discounts totaled $8,000,801, an increase of $1,371,512 over last year.)

Gain At Midland
A new high record was set at Midland where deposits reached $69,473,732.89 at the close of business Wednesday, up $5,478,945.87 over a year ago and up more than two million dollars from September.

A gain of $5,809,641.45 in deposits was reported at Beaumont during 1952. Deposits totaled $113,896,566.33 compared to $108,085,924.88 of a year ago.

Victoria bank deposits reached a new high with a total of $70,134,596.65 reported. Previous record was $66,063,526.39 in September.

A new record was set at El Paso where deposits in the four city and two lower valley banks totaled $266,104,212.52, a gain of $3,180,768.27 over deposits a year ago.

Ablene banks totaled $66,161,579 while last year at the same time they were $65,241,613. Loans and discounts were reported at $20,972,237, up from $19,861,018 at the same time last year.

In the Longview area, bank deposits totaled $47,150,594, an increase of $4,747,211 since the beginning of 1952. This total included the bank at nearby Greggton as well as the two banks in Longview.

Waco banks started 1953 with $103,156,873.01 on deposit and $45,523,005.41 in loans, an increase of $93,559.32 in deposits and $6,121,210.28 in loans over the beginning of 1952.

Philippines To Check On Chinese Residents

MANILA—(AP)—Mass screening of some 70,000 Chinese in the southern provinces of Luzon Island will begin soon, the Army said Saturday.

Screening of all aliens, was described officially as a routine check-up, but some sources say it was prompted by last week's nationwide roundup of suspected Communists.

Some Facts Regarding Christian Science

Christian Science is Christian: It is based on the teachings of Jesus as recorded in the Bible.

Christian Science is scientific: Spiritually logical and unfailingly consistent, its prayers affirm and demonstrate man's true nature to be in accordance with God's perfection.

Christian Science is demonstrable: It supplies the needed answers and the needed evidence to the sincere seeker. A thoughtful study of the Christian Science textbook

SCIENCE AND HEALTH WITH KEYS TO THE SCRIPTURES by Mary Baker Eddy gives convincing assurance that this great Science of Christ is indeed the Comforter promised by Jesus.

Two Brothers Hang For Kidnap-Murder Of Washington Girl

WALLA WALLA, WASH.—(AP)—Hoping to their last moments for another legal miracle that would save them from their fifth date with the gallows, Truman and Utah Wilson, brothers, paid with their lives Saturday for the kidnap-slaying of Joann Dewey.

Turman, 26, oldest of the two brothers, was first to die. He dropped through the trap in the State Penitentiary Death House at 12:06 a.m. P.M.T. One minute later, Utah, 22, plunged to his doom.

The Wilsons were condemned for kidnaping Miss Dewey, 18, from a Vancouver street the night of March 19, 1950, and carrying her off in their automobile.

A week after the girl disappeared, her nude and sexually violated body was found in the Wind River east of Vancouver. She had died of carbon monoxide poisoning, possibly from gasoline exhaust fumes.

The brothers maintained throughout that they were in a Portland theater at the time the girl was abducted.

ARCADIA, CALIF.—(AP)—Donald Lee Cody, 46, of Pear Blossom, Calif., was arrested on a drunk charge just before the second race at Santa Anita Park.

Searching his pockets, officers found nine $2 win tickets on a 62-1-shot horse named Micoka.

Later Cody, a carpenter, said, "I don't remember buying them, nor where I got the tip."

He borrowed $25 to bail himself out of jail and went back to the track. Micoka had won, paying $126.20. Cody pocketed $1,135.80.

Farm Recession To Worry GOP's New Administration

By OVID A. MARTIN
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—Will the incoming Republican Administration inherit a budding farm recession from the Democrats?
 This question is being pondered in political and farm circles because of declining agricultural prosperity. Farm prices tumbled 12 per cent during the last year and almost five per cent in the last two months.
 With these price setbacks have come a slightly lower level of farm income, despite the fact that production in 1952 topped all previous marks.

Politically Important
 The farm price dips have been particularly sharp in the Midwestern and Western livestock producing areas, which are politically and economically important. Farmer voters in these areas played major roles in keeping the Democrats in power in Washington during the last 20 years.
 Politicians are aware of the possible effects of a farm recession at the congressional elections in 1954

Further Setbacks
 Most farm leaders and economists believe that there may be further setbacks in farm prices and income this year and possibly next. But few believe the nation is headed for a farm depression. This belief is based upon the fact that the government now has broad powers to prevent a drop in farm prices to depression levels.

Biggest Problem
 But these powers and programs may not be sufficient to help farmers maintain the kind of prosperity to which they have become accustomed since the start of World War II. Therein lies the big farm problem that the new GOP Administration may face in the years immediately ahead.

President-elect Eisenhower and the Republican party platform promised farmers more than would be provided under present price support programs. They said producers were entitled to full parity for their products.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices which the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations set up and maintained as their goal. It is designed to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

Better Marketing
 Farmers have enjoyed prices averaging at or above parity for most of the time since the early '40's. However, prices dipped below parity late in 1952 and closed the year at only 96 per cent of the parity goal. The Republicans have promised that they will seek to help farmers get full parity not through government subsidies of controls but through a better job of production and marketing.

However, they are pledged to retain, for a time at least, the principle of government support of farm prices. But they face an internal squabble over the level of support.

Leaders Divided
 Present legislation directs support of major crops at not less than 90 per cent of parity through 1954. After that, a flexible support scale, ranging from 75 to 90 per cent for major crops, will go into effect unless Congress directs otherwise.

GOP farm leaders in Congress are divided over the support level. Some favor permanent 90 per cent support. Others are strong advocates of flexible supports.

Eisenhower must decide before 1954 whether to recommend continuation of the 90 per cent level or adoption of a flexible scale, or whether to recommend a whole new approach to the farm price problem.

One reason why farm prices declined during the last year and why they may decline more is the fact that overseas markets for American agricultural products are shrinking. Foreign buyers are faced with a dwindling supply of American dollars with which to buy U. S. food, cotton and tobacco.

Furthermore, world production of food is increasing and providing stronger competition for American products.

Some farm leaders believe that education and research could do much more than they are doing to help stabilize agriculture. They point out, for example, that many farmers are far behind the times in use of efficient production methods.

Income Secretary Benson has indicated that he is looking into all the possibilities. Helping him will be an advisory committee of farm leaders, food industry leaders and specialists in research and marketing.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The market was very strong and active on a light run of cattle at the Midland Livestock Auction Thursday, New Year's Day. Most classes sold $1 to $2 higher.

Good to choice fat calves and yearlings sold for $20 to $24; medium to good, $17 to $20; common to medium, $15 to $17; cull to common, $13.50 to $15.

No choice cows were offered. Medium to good cows brought $12.50 to $14; canners and cutters, $10 to $12.50 and old shells were cheaper. Bulls brought $14.50 to $17.

Stocker steer calves sold for $20 to $23, and stocker heifer calves went for $18 to $20. Mixed breed and Brahman stocker calves and yearlings brought $14 to $17. Stocker cows drew $12 to $15.

Bronc riders at the 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, scheduled the first week in June this year, will find things even rougher than usual when they come out of the chutes at Midland Fair Park.

Everett Colborn, producer of the Midland and other big-time rodeos, has purchased the entire backing string of horses from Ring Brothers of Wilbur, Wash.

According to reports, that string of broncs is considered the largest, roughest and toughest in the Northwest. The horses have been used at Pendleton, Calgary and Portland and throughout Canada.

Put them with the wild broncs Colborn already owns, and what have you got—yes, plenty of unseated bronc riders. That 10 second ride will seem longer than ever now—for the cowboys, that is.

The broncs are being brought to Texas and will appear in all Colborn-produced rodeos from Midland to Madison Square Garden this year.

A Cotton Raisers Association is in the process of organization in Martin County.

Twenty-five area cotton farmers met in the courthouse at Stanton last week to discuss formation of the association, whose major efforts will be directed toward the selection of one variety of cotton to be grown by all members. Other functions will be the purchase of seed and fertilizer and the procurement of labor for picking.

Woodford Sale, Stanton mayor and prominent Martin County farmer-rancher, presided at the session, which was called by County Agent Ray Hastings.

It was reported at the meeting that an association recently organized in the Tarzan community, also in Martin County, has agreed upon the planting of Delta Pine seed.

Another meeting of the Stanton group will be held soon.

A new agricultural column, Martin County Farm and Ranch Chatter, appeared for the first time in last week's issue of The Stanton Reporter. The column is edited by A. W. Wooley of The Reporter Staff.

For the second year, the Fort Worth Opera Association will present a light opera in the Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium during the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show.

The popularity of last year's production with Fort Worth citizens and out-of-town visitors encouraged the opera association again to choose one of the familiar and well-loved operettas, Sigmund Romberg's "The Desert Song." Songs include such favorites as "One Alone," "Romance" and "The Desert Song." The Fort Worth show dates are January 30-February 8.

Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, has been selected as the site for the 1953 National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association show.

The site was selected at the association's annual convention in Albuquerque, N. M., last week. Dick Barrett of Hardin-Simmons, NIRA champion cowboy, was re-elected president of the organization for 1953, marking the third year that NIRA headquarters have been at the Abilene school.

The association has 46 member schools scattered throughout the nation.

The American farmer as of 1952, has at least 11 billion dollars invested in farm and power machinery. In 1920 the investment in power and machinery was about six and one-half billion dollars.

The 11 billion dollar investment includes tractors and tractor operated machines such as plows, harrows, planters, cultivators, hay and grain harvesting machines, cotton and corn pickers, trucks, trailers, water pumps, milking machines and other items including an estimated 6,000,000 work animals.

In 1920, three billion of almost one-half of the six and a half billion dollar investment, represented the investment in 25 million horses and mules.

Lots Of Machinery
 Fred R. Jones, head, Agricultural Engineering Department, said also at the bankers meeting at Texas A&M College recently, that Texas farmers own 270,000 tractors, 39,000 grain combines, 7,300 pickup hay balers, 4,000 corn pickers, 11,000 milking machines and 1,000,000 electric water pumps.

The total investment in these items is almost three-fourths of a billion dollars, Jones told the bankers.

This figure does not include trucks, trailers, autos, cotton pickers, irrigation equipment and numerous other items which would boost this total farm equipment in Texas to perhaps a billion dollars or more," Jones pointed out.

The total investment in mechanical equipment today by American farmers is larger than ever before, he said.

Entries are flowing in for the horse show of Fort Worth's Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, January 30 through February 8. The first entries, seven Quarter Horses were sent in by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Abbott of the Circle A Horse Ranch, Fort Worth. The first Palomino entry is a stallion, Beau Mac, owned by R. J. Bauer of Kermitt.

Earliest gaited horse entries were made by William A. Larson, Westmoreland Stable, Houston, agent for the following owners: John C. Nicklos, Houston, two Hackney ponies and one fine harness horse; Fleet Drilling Company, Dallas, one five-gaited, and one three-gaited; P. C. Gilbert, Shreveport, one five-gaited; Fred E. Romero, Lake Charles, La., one five-gaited, and Mrs. T. Klinger, Houston, one three-gaited horse.

Ben S. Garrett, Dallas, had the distinction of sending in the first Walking horse entries.

Assistant superintendents of the horse show will be James H. Shaver; Charles E. Griffin, and James R. Boswell, all of Fort Worth. Horse show superintendent is Douglas B. Mitchell, assistant manager of the stock show.

AUSTRIAN WINTER PEAS—Cotton middles on B. E. O'Neal farm south of Midland prove excellent growing grounds for Austrian Winter peas planted with a row seeder owned by the Soil Conservation Service. Plantings were made during the cover crop Field Day last September 30. One hundred pounds of 0-45-0 fertilizer was distributed with the peas.

Austrian Peas Prove Healthy Winter Crop

One of the most promising winter cover crops on the B. E. O'Neal farm south of Midland is Austrian Winter peas planted in cotton middles, according to results of a check last week of the 14 two-acre plots planted during a field day there last September.

The peas were planted with a row seeder, putting two rows in each middle, with 100 pounds of 45 per cent superphosphate per acre. A good stand was obtained, and the plants now have vines six to 10 inches long.

Other successful plantings on irrigated cotton land are rye and vetch with 200 pounds of 16-20-0 fertilizer and with 45 per cent superphosphate. Vetch planted broadcast without superphosphate came up to a good stand, but is not making satisfactory growth at present.

The plantings were made in a demonstration by equipment and seed dealers, cooperating with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District and the Midland Chamber of Commerce last Fall to encourage the planting of winter cover crops to control soil blowing. Ben Osborn, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, this week checked the stand and growth of the crops with the assistance of vocational agriculture students from Midland High School.

Stubble Crops Grow
 Barley, vetch, and peas planted in sorghum stubble on irrigated land also have made good growth, Osborn reported. Plots receiving nitrogen fertilizer have produced most cover.

Dryland plantings were suffering for moisture at the time of the field examination. Of four plantings on

Livestock
 FORT WORTH—(AP)—Fed steers and yearlings were steady to weak at Fort Worth during the week except some handy weight and highly fitted cattle were stronger at the close. Cows were 50 cents to $1 higher. Fat calves were steady. Hogs were 75 cents to $1 higher and sows were about 50 cents higher. Feeder lambs were around $1 or more higher, and ewes were strong to 50 cents higher. Other classes were steady to strong.

Comparative prices: Slaughter steers and yearlings $10-12; slaughter cows $9-11.50; slaughter calves $9-12; stocker calves and yearlings $12-13; stocker cows $10-11; closing hog top $19.50; sows $15.50-17; slaughter lambs $10-12.50; short lambs $20.50 down; slaughter yearlings $10-11; old wethers $12 down; slaughter ewes $7-8.50; stocker ewes $8-10; old bucks $6.50-7.50.

Eden Says British Defense Spending To Maintain Level

LONDON—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden says Britain and her NATO partners will boost their defense spending in the coming year to counter the possibility of a Soviet aggression. Recent "indications" in the British program, he declares, do not represent a cut in the nation's arms drive. The statement—contained in a white paper to Parliament summarizing last month's North Atlantic Council meeting in Paris—occasioned some surprise. Prime Minister Churchill announced December 4 that a cut in the nation's defense effort was necessary to avoid inflation. The white paper declared that "recent modifications in our program reflect a change of emphasis in some fields 'but in no sense a reduction in the present scale of our rearmament effort. Indeed, next year we intend to spend more on defense than this year.'"

1953 Promises Continued High Volume Of Building

For home buyers and builders in the Permian Basin Empire and throughout the nation generally, 1952 was a year of near-record production and progress in building values, according to E. C. Bunch, of the Permian Basin Home Builders Association in a year-end statement released Saturday.

"The year 1953 promises continued high volume with even greater advances in design, construction and all-around livability. Modern research assures roomier, more attractive homes for the 1953 buyer, and improving mortgage conditions expected under the new national administration should enable him to get the housing he wants on terms he can afford. In addition, government statistics show that it is getting easier to buy a new home because family incomes have risen faster than housing prices over the past year," he said. Bunch's statement follows: Unless present economic conditions are reversed completely in the coming months—which seems unlikely under an administration pledged to maintain full employment and prosperity—it is safe to predict that new home prices will not drop in 1953. If anything, they may be forced slightly higher because of the still-rising pressure of building wages.

But alert home builders recognize that the 1953 goals can be met only by keeping abreast and even ahead of the growing demand for better, roomier housing built to the high comfort standards of modern home seekers. Consequently, more homes built next year will have three or more bedrooms, expandable floor space, and more built-in storage room. The trend toward one and one-half baths will be accelerated. Buyers also will find a greater accent on air conditioning for year-round weather control. The country's leading air conditioning manufacturers are developing combination heating-cooking systems that can be mass produced for use in medium-priced homes. Color designing that lends originality and distinction to the home, along with land planning and community development, will do much to help the home building industry avoid a "peas-in-a-pod" housing.

The trend toward one-story homes without basements will continue. Builders are giving increasing attention to the problem of providing within the single-floor house of 1953 the equivalent advantage of the basement, which formerly served as workshop for the housewife, hobby shop for the husband, and bad weather playroom for the kids. Builders also are putting more emphasis on privacy, indoors and out, in their 1953 designs. Among other things, that means better sound-proofing within the house and carefully-planned landscaping outside to merge the home into its surroundings.

Larger Kitchens Kitchens will be bigger to meet the revived demand for a "family room" that can be used as an eating, working, and general meeting place for the entire family. Unless there is an international crisis that forces a change in the government's mobilization plans, home buyers and builders should have no trouble getting all the copper and brass materials necessary for wiring and plumbing. And they will find the 1953 house fitted out with more built-in equipment such as refrigerators, cooking ranges and laundry machines, as well as extra closet and cupboard space.

Most builders also will provide "adequate" rather than "minimum" electrical wiring in their new homes. That will add slightly to the initial cost of the house, but it will prove a great saving to the home owner over the long run, because he can add as will to the electrical facilities of his home without costly re-wiring.

Amateur Can Paint Room Successfully

The home-owner can economically paint a room successfully with a few simple pointers, say Colorizer paint authorities.

Everything should be removed from the room before starting to paint. Newspapers laid on the floor will save cleaning paint drips later. Walls, woodwork and ceiling should be smooth and washed clean and cracks repaired.

Paint ceiling first, walls next, woodwork and trim last. By painting with a roller, the home-owner often can complete the walls of an average room in one evening, doing a professional job free of streaks, lap marks or drips. Rollers are of two types: dip, which is fed the same way as a brush; and self-feeding, in which a center drum in the roller is filled with paint before starting.

On Many Surfaces Sizes of rollers run from two-inches to nine inches, with seven inches most common. They can be used on wood, plaster, stucco, brick, metal and other surfaces. Special covers are available for textured surfaces and for supplying. A short nap is best when painting a smooth surface.

To roller-paint walls or ceiling, first do the edges and corners with a thin brush, as the roller cannot get into them.

HOUSING HOLDS UP—The home building boom continued through 1952 with 866,500 units completed during the first three quarters of the year, surpassing last year's estimate for the same period by 800 units. Above Newschart traces home building in the U. S. from 1946 to the present. Data was compiled by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Eddy Demands Reds Release Two MP's

BERLIN—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Manton S. Eddy, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Army in Europe, has accused the Russians of "outrageous actions" in holding two American military policemen under arrest in East Germany five weeks. In a sharp note to Soviet Gen.

Vassily Chulikov and released publicly Saturday, Eddy demanded the men's "immediate release." The note said Pvt. Lieutenant Night and Raymond Michalowski "inadvertently entered the Soviet Zone on November 26 when they failed to disembark from a train at the appropriate railway station in the U. S. Sector of Berlin and upon arrival at the Teltow Station in the Soviet Zone, they were apprehended by authorities under your jurisdiction."

Almost all of Nevada's rivers flow into desert sinks or lakes that have no outlet.

REEF PLANS VISIT WITH GENERAL CLARK

SEOUL—(AP)—President Syngman Rhee's press secretary said Saturday the South Korean executive would visit Gen. Mark Clark in Tokyo Monday, despite Rhee's differences with the Japanese government. Earlier, authoritative U. S. Embassy sources and the South Korean press said Rhee had called off the trip.

Winter Is Time For Staying At Home

'WHAT SHOULD I LEAD?'—Mrs. LeRoy Gideon looks the situation over while Gideon kibitzes. Awaiting their decision are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gist. Playing bridge, the foursome declares, is an excellent Winter pastime.

RECORD SESSION—With holiday parties a thing of the past, many Midlanders are taking advantage of the cold January nights to catch up on stay-at-home activities. Among those enjoying the post-New Year's lull are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson and son, Stephen, shown as they get ready to spin a few of their favorite records in their home at 1202 West Storey Street.

WINTER IS HOBBY TIME—Hobbies are a family project at the home of the Robert Clarkes. Here, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke and children, Eddie and Judy, combine their talents on their favorite hobby, art.

BOOK TALK—When the nights are long and the weather's shivery—then is the time to settle down with a good book. At least that's the opinion of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sprecher, above, who agree there's no better way to spend an evening.

CANDY MAKERS—Maybe it's cold outside, but not even Jack Frost himself can dampen the enthusiasm for an old-fashioned taffy pull. And, whatever the result, you can be sure there'll be plenty of spoon lickers on hand when the job is done. In fact, the five grinning cooks at the right already seem eager to sample their handiwork. It's interesting to note that even the boys don't mind turning domestic when their sweet tooth's at stake. Chief cook in charge of stirring is Jackie Matthews. Others pictured, left to right, are Alice Michener, Kay Washburn, Janice Hill and Laney McMath. All are students at Midland High School. The scene for Operation Taffy is the Educational Building of the First Presbyterian Church

Vows Solemnized For Midland Couple

Vows were solemnized at 7 p.m. Saturday in Dallas for Patty Frank Euler of Midland and Harold Louis Hildebrand, also of Midland. Dr. Herbert B. Howard of the Park City Baptist Church performed the double ring ceremony which was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Euler. Hildebrand is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hildebrand of Mart. Nuptial music was provided by Nell O'Connell of Dallas, harpist, and Wanda Slocum of Midland, soloist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an amethyst-colored dressmaker suit and a hat trimmed with velvet amethyst violets, pearls and bugle beads. She carried an heirloom handkerchief of rosepoint lace. Her flowers were white orchids and lilies-of-the-valley arranged on a white Bible which belonged to her grandmother.

Mrs. J. Tom Frye of Houston was matron of Honor and O. W. Hildebrand, Jr. of Fort Worth served as his brother's best man.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Clay C. Scott, Jr. and Mrs. William S. Thomas presided at the bride's table and Gwen Steenbergen was in charge of the guest book.

Others assisting in the houseparty were Frances Manning, Mrs. William Capps, III of Wichita Falls and Mrs. James McGee Bryan. Rita Ann Griffin and Linda Hildebrand of Fort Worth presented the guests with miniature bags of rice.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. M., the bride was wearing a pin dot tissue tweed suit in shades of pecan and black. Lizard accessories and a pheasant feather hat complemented her ensemble.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hildebrand will live at 2112 Mariana Street.

The bride is a graduate of North Texas State College in Denton. She is past president of her sorority, Kappa Theta Pi, and is a member of nomic honorary society. At present she is employed as a teacher of home economics in Cowden Junior High School.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Texas A&M College.

Mrs. Harold Louis Hildebrand

Tech Musician Will Lecture Here Saturday

The Midland Symphony and Choral Association will present Dr. Gene Hemmie, head of the department of music of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, in a lecture Saturday night.

It is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the City-County Auditorium. There will be no admission charge, officials of the association announced. The public is invited to attend.

Dr. Hemmie's lecture will be the second program presented by the newly-organized symphony and choral association. A program of chamber music was presented earlier in the winter and a concert by the full orchestra and chorus is scheduled later in January.

Dr. Hemmie will present a representative selection of art works and musical compositions to demonstrate the influence of one art upon another and to explain the impact of world social conditions upon all art forms.

Following the presentation of pictorial and musical examples, there will be a general discussion of the development of art forms.

AAUW SPEAKER—Harvey G. Foster, special agent in charge of the El Paso FBI office, will be the speaker for a luncheon meeting of the Midland branch of the American Association of University Women at 1:15 p.m. Saturday in the Ranchland Hill Country Club.

McBride-Holman Vows Repeated

ANDREWS—Nelda McBride and Sgt. Bob Holman were wed December 26 in the First Baptist Church in Eunice, N. M. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Everett S. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Andrews.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. James Roberts, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom. For her wedding the bride chose a pastel blue tulle suit with navy accessories and a white, carnation corsage.

Mrs. Roberts was wearing a navy crepe dress and matching accessories. The bride, a graduate of Kermit High School, is employed as bookkeeper at the Martin Chevrolet House. She has been living in Andrews with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McGary.

Holman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Holman of the Humble Means Camp. A graduate of Andrews High School, he has served two years in the U. S. Army.

Holman left Friday for his base at Fort Lewis, Wash., where Mrs. Holman will join him the last of January.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hughes and children have returned to their home in San Antonio after a visit with relatives in Midland. Jerry Sager of Grand Junction, Colo. was a holiday guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sager, 3119 Thomas Street.

Rev. McKee Is Revival Speaker
"The Two Olive Trees" will be the Rev. Hudson H. McKee's sermon topic for the morning worship service Sunday in Faith Tabernacle, 611 South Terrell Street. Mr. McKee is the evangelist for a two-week revival meeting beginning in the morning service Sunday. He is a missionary to India and president of India Christian Mission. The evening service will be held at 7:30 and his sermon theme will be "Storm Clouds." He also will speak at 5:15 p.m. Sunday on the church's radio program over KJBC.

Snow Forces School To Declare Vacation
CAMPTONVILLE, CALIF.—The 68 school children in this rural community officially started their annual vacation Friday with the snow piled high. The principal, W. C. Williams, cast a weary look at the white stuff and made the annual decision to close up shop. Regular winter school attendance in this Sierra Nevada town, 3,000 feet above sea level, is virtually impossible. School goes on during the Summer months, but each Winter a two-and-a-half month holiday is declared.

Entertain Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sidwell, 1907 West Indiana Street, had as their holiday guests their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sidwell and daughters, Nancy and Susan, of Brigham City, Utah. Another son, Lt. Roger Sidwell, who is stationed in Bloomington, Ind., flew to Midland Thursday for an overnight visit with his parents.
Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Carson and son, Jerry, 807 West Missouri Street, have returned from a trip to New Mexico. Visiting in Dallas were Mr. and Mrs. John Culver and son, 3221 Sycamore Street.
Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Blake and son, 308 Pine Street, spent the holidays in Fort Worth.
Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Garner, 712 Cuthbert Street, also visited in Fort Worth over the holidays.
Missouri Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Logan, 1078 Keith Avenue, have as guests Mrs. Logan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gildenhau, and a cousin, Dorothy Petri, all of St. Louis, Mo.
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tuttle, 1506 West College Street, have returned from Fort Worth, where they spent the holidays with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Tarwater. While in Fort Worth, the Midlanders saw "South Pacific" and the Sonja Henie ice show.
Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Stanley and children, Sheila and Lars, of El Paso spent Christmas with Stanley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stanley, 1507 West College Street.
Mr. and Mrs. Reaves Elledge of San Diego, Calif., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson, 1707 Harvard Street. Mrs. Elledge and Mrs. Johnson are sisters.

Rotate the use of the burners or units of your range instead of using any one more than all the others. When through using the oven, leave the door ajar while it cools. This will allow moisture to escape and reduce the tendency to rust. To keep a range in good condition, it is important to keep all parts clean, free from greasy food particles.

The youthful Serge Kogan likes the contrast of rich white acetate lace (left) with bouffant tulle. The "decolletage jacket" in black acetate taffeta covers just the shoulders. Supple, flowing lines characterize this ball gown (center) in abianthe green acetate satin by Christian Dior. Over the shoulders, there's a fringed stole in deeper-toned green. Jean Dessre's Hawaii-inspired lei theme appears in this ball gown (right) of palest raspberry satin. The luminous color is reflected in the deep raspberry of the long velvet gloves, the necklace and earrings. By Rosette Hargrove, NEA Staff Correspondent.

Civic Music To Hear Concert By Rubinstein

Arthur Rubinstein's fifteenth consecutive American concert tour brings the distinguished pianist to Midland on January 12 to play a concert for the Midland Civic Music Association.
 The concert, to be held at 8 p.m. in the Midland High School Auditorium, will be the second of five concerts scheduled by Civic Music for the current season.

When Rubinstein left his Hollywood home in September, his itinerary included more than 100 concerts on three continents. In Israel, where he had not performed since 1935, he played 20 times in 20 days. He also appeared in Brussels, Zurich, Paris, Rome, Turin, Milan and other European capitals.

Has Appeared in Movies
 Rubinstein has appeared in two movies—"Carnegie Hall" and last season's "Of Men and Music," and has played for the sound tracks of three others. His numerous RCA Victor recordings are high in the best seller lists, averaging more than one-million dollars in sales each year. In addition, the television screen soon will feature the world-famous pianist for the first time in a group of shorts produced by World Artists.

Since he made his debut in Berlin at the age of eleven, Rubinstein has ranked among the more celebrated of living artists. Born in Warsaw, he now is an American citizen, and makes his home in Southern California, where he lives with his wife and four children.

TEEN TALK
 By VIVIAN BROWN AP Newsfeatures

So you want to be beautiful, pretty, charming, adorable, sweet and glamorous to the rest of the world. A small order, but if that's your main wish for 1953, now is the time to wrap the little nuggets of wishful thinking in their glittery sequins and strive to keep your New Year's resolutions.
 Here's the way to take out that beauty insurance that will pay dividends in the future. So start paying premiums into your glamor bank now. Here's how:
 1. Hands and Nails... This is the time to train nails to grow in a pretty shape. Every time you wash your hands, push your nail cuticle back gently with the towel.
 A buffer is a fine idea for smoothing the nails, although some consider this method old-fashioned. If you have the time, it is an excellent way to keep your fingernails smooth and pretty.
 Use an emery board, not a metal file to shape the nails, and do not round them at the corners if you want to avoid hangnails.
 If nails are brittle, drink more milk and eat foods beneficial to healthy nails.
 Keep hands smoothed in winter by remembering to rub oil, lotion or special hand creams into them after washing dishes or after hands have been exposed to cold.
 2. Skin and Complexion... Bathe often to remove impurities from pores. Use soap lavishly.
 Use a pumice stone on sole calluses. Rub heels with stiff well-soaped brush.
 Wash face with soap in gentle fashion. One skin expert advises rubbing good soap directly on the face. His method is excellent, and he suggests rubbing the soap on face and neck, massaging it in with palms of hands, and then rinsing off with the same soapy water.
 At the first sign of a skin blemish, attempt to find the cause. If you've been gorging yourself with candies, pastries, and soda pop, avoid them for a while, along with pastries, gravies and other rich foods. Concentrate on green vegetables, lean meat, salad and potato until your skin looks normal.
 3. Your Figure... It is easy to take off an extra pound or two, but if you let ounces roll into pounds and wait until your excess weight is ten pounds or more, the reducing job will be a miserable chore. If it is just a question of a few pounds, these can be lost usually by giving up starches, fats and sweets for a week or so until your weight is back to normal.
 4. Your Hair... A good haircut and daily hair brushings are important to hair grooming. If your hair is shaped nicely it will be easy to set each evening, and if it is curled every day you should not need a permanent wave. Frequent shampoos are necessary to the health of your hair.
 5. Grooming Pattern... Fastidiousness is important if you wish to be charming. Stocking seams must be kept straight, anchored properly. Heels can't be run-down; lifts should be repaired at the first sign of strain. Slips should be kept at the length that will never show below dress or skirt. All accessories such as handbags and gloves should be kept clean and in repair. White accessories are prettier if kept crisp and bright white. The little time involved in washing and ironing them shouldn't tempt you to wear them a second time to escape the minor laundry chore.
 6. Make Your Time Count... Vivacious people are busy people. Don't develop a mopey attitude toward life. Cultivate interesting people and your awareness of others will help stamp you as a personality girl. Be a good listener and you will never bore people. A hobby will keep you entertained and help make friends.

Starlet Gives Hints On Awkward Age

Teen-age posture beauty is something that must be practiced if it is to be perfected. Movie starlet Marlene Cameron demonstrates the right and wrong ways to stand and sit, based on her own experiences. At the left she struggles with her school books while she attempts to reach for a book on the library shelf. Obviously, her body is completely out of line, and she is far from a pretty sight. How much wiser to pull over a bench, place her books on it, and then do any library research that is necessary. Her hands free, she

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Teen-age beauty should start with posture. It is the way you walk, sit and stand that will mark you as a young lady who is well on her way to becoming an attractive and lovely woman.

This is a fact that movie starlet Marlene Cameron (currently appearing in "The Happy Time") learned early in life. Like most teenagers, she was inclined to completely disregard her posture, and she slouched around giving little thought to how she looked to others.

In her particular case, this could have resulted in the finish of her movie career. Under her mother's guidance, however, she made a concerted effort to correct her ways.

Every day she spent at least one hour practicing posture habits. She walked around the room with a book on her head. Of course, she had to concentrate on her hips, pulling them in and under, as well as her shoulders. The trick of keeping the book in place can often make Marlene Cameron has learned that good posture practice should also include standing with her back flush up against a wall. Then she tries to touch the wall with the middle of her back. This isn't easy, but it can be done with perseverance.

In addition to the exercises you do at home, however, Marlene suggests that you also keep your posture in mind when you are in school or socializing.

Wives Of Yank Airmen In England Keep Whoopee-Raising Husbands On Mark

By PHILIP CLARKE
SOUTH RUISLIP, ENGLAND — American wives are clamping a lid of whoopee-raising America on British, British observers report.

"Look out, bud, here's your wife," joked one British newspaper reporting the recent arrival of 600 American wives at the U. S. air base at Southrop.

The Sunday Pictorial said the time has gone when airmen from the base used to make "nightly whoopie" in nearby towns. It quoted a local pubkeeper as saying, "The American wives aren't as easy-going as British wives about letting the old man slip out on his own for a quick one."

Business Slumps

Another pubkeeper wrote to a London newspaper to complain that his business had fallen almost in half since the arrival of several hundred wives at one U. S. base.

The U. S. Third Air Force in Britain makes no bones that it encourages married airmen to bring their families over from America. More than 15,000 wives and children already are here—about one dependent for every three American airmen now stationed in England. More are arriving every month.

island at the peak of activity. The GI of those days were usually pictured as a good-time, gum-chewing guy with dough to burn and dozens of girls to keep him company.

Today's GI is a far different sort of fellow to most Britons—especially when his family is over here with him.

Despite some exceptions, the British find him better-behaved and less boisterous than his wartime predecessor.

Housing Problem

Most of the British gripes today center on the housing problem. There's no doubt the influx of American families has taken up a lot of Britain's precious housing space.

Only a relatively few American families live on the bases in barracks or other buildings provided by the Air Force. There are, some British complaints that Americans in their "Little America" communities don't mix as much as they should with their English neighbors.

But there's a scheme in the works now by which the U. S. government may build hundreds of comfortable prefabricated houses for its airmen and families. The houses would be turned over to the British after the airmen leave, thus easing Britain's acute housing shortage.

Until this happens, however, both British and Americans are making the best of conditions in this overcrowded island—and getting along pretty well.

Hambrights Establish San Angelo Home

ANDREWS—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Elwood Hambright are at home in San Angelo following their recent marriage in the First Baptist Church in Andrews.

The Rev. Everett S. Martin officiated. Double ring vows were read before an altar decorated with pink and white gladioli, chrysanthemums and greenery.

The bride is the former Helen Crews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Crews, Hambright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hambright of Norton.

Joyce Ann Crews, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Katy Lynn Bell of Andrews was flower girl. Best man for the bridegroom was Roger Bryan of Norton and ushers were Bobby Perry, Andrews, and Hubert Brock, Bronte, Richard Lee Bell, cousin of the bride, and Gary Hambright, brother of the bridegroom, lighted the candles.

Mrs. Hambright attended Andrews and San Angelo High Schools and now is employed by the San Angelo Telephone Company. Her husband, a graduate of Norton High School, is employed in San Angelo as a telegraph operator.

More than a dozen such communities have sprung up in rural England near the 28 U. S. Air Force installations now dotting this island fortress.

For the Americans, it's like home away from home.

For the British, it's like a peek into Middletown, U. S. A.

Most Britons got their first close-up impression of Americans during the hectic World War II days when more than three million Yanks were packed into the crowded

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Happy Birthday To Me!

Mugwump Monkey had a secret. Yes, because tomorrow was his birthday. What fun! Oh, the folks maybe had forgotten that tomorrow was really his birthday, because they hadn't said a word about it. Sssshhh!

Mugwump wasn't about to tell them he knew why they weren't talking. But he did know; he was sure. They were planning a happy surprise.

Well, he would pretend he had forgotten about his birthday. Then tomorrow, when they woke him up in the morning with a happy birthday song, he would pretend how very surprised he was.

"Goodnight, Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump.

Mugwump gave Mother Ringtail a hug around the neck and a kiss. Then Mugwump went to bed and pulled up the covers.

What a wonderful place bed was! What a happy place home was! Let the north wind howl. Let even the stars grow cold. Everything was all right. Everything was fine. All the world was wonderful. Tomorrow was his birthday!

The folks were going to surprise him, oh yes. Yes indeed they were! How very surprised he would pretend to be. And then, Mugwump slept. He slept the whole night through.

Morning had come!

"Happy birthday to me!" shouted Mugwump. He threw back the covers and jumped out of bed. "Happy birthday to me!"

But where were the folks? Why didn't they sing a happy birthday song? Why weren't they there to sing it? Mugwump began to cry and shout. He made an awful fuss and bother. Oh my eyes. . . He really should have been ashamed of all right. Everything was fine. All the

Shorter Life Prospect Looming For Eisenhower

By JOHN BOWERS
Reporter-Telegram Staff

President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower will step into one of the most dangerous jobs in the United States this month. Facts and figures on 30 deceased presidents show that Mr. Average Chief Executive lives less than nine years from the time he leaves his high office. Which would make the President a poor prospect for the life insurance salesman.

Almost one out of four of American Presidents have died in office, three by assassination. Seven of our chief executives out of 30 who died have passed on while holding the reins of office. James Garfield, Abraham Lincoln, and William McKinley were shot down by crazed killers while occupying the presidential chair.

The other four who died in office were Zachary Taylor, typhus fever; William Henry Harrison, pneumonia; Warren Gamaliel Harding, pneumonia; and Franklin Delano Roosevelt, cerebral hemorrhage. The oldest president at death was John Adams, our second, who died at the old age of 90, and the youngest James Abram Garfield, killed at 49. Teddy Was Youngest.

The presidency is not a young man's job. Despite the fact that a presidential candidate must be a minimum of 35 years in age, our youngest chief executive at inauguration was Teddy Roosevelt at 42. The oldest was William Henry Harrison who entered office at 68. Mr. Average President is 56 years old when he accedes to the presidency.

The shortest term of office was that of William Henry Harrison who served as President less than three months. And the longest tenure was by FDR, who occupied the White House more than 12 years.

When Harry S. Truman steps down from office, the nation will have two living ex-presidents, the other being Herbert Hoover. And it will be the end of the longest period of power for the Democrats, from 1913 to 1953, or 20 years. Which sets a record that the Republicans have yet to equal in their possession of the presidency.

The lengthiest occupancy of the White House by the Republicans was from 1809 to 1885, 16 years, beginning with Ulysses S. Grant and ending with Chester Alan Arthur. It would have been longer if Abraham Lincoln could have been included, but Andrew Johnson, a Democrat elected to the vice president's office on a National Union Ticket, succeeded Lincoln at his death.

This period was duplicated from 1879 to 1913 when the Republicans had another 16 year stretch, beginning with William McKinley and coming to a close with William Howard Taft.

Only one President ever succeeded in hitting the comeback trail after being out of office four years. That was Grover Cleveland who served from 1885 to 1889, and again from 1893 to 1897 for split terms.

And our 32 Presidents seemed to prefer sons over daughters. Altogether they had 70 boys as compared to 47 girls, excluding Eisenhower who is technically not yet President.

We have had one President who was a bachelor, James Buchanan, while none of our chief executives have ever had more than two wives. If Stevenson had been elected he would have been the first President who had been divorced. Only one wife of a President was born in a foreign country, Louisa Catherine Johnson, who was born in London, and married John Q. Adams.

George First Last.

Although George Washington was our first President, we never have had another named either George or Washington. But we have had two Adams, John and John Quincy; two Harrisons, Benjamin and William Henry, and two Roosevelts, Theodore and Franklin Delano. And we have never had another Abraham or Lincoln, the two names of the great Republican chief executive.

We have had five Presidents whose names started with James—Madison, Monroe, Polk, Buchanan, and Garfield. Also three Williams—Harrison, McKinley, and Taft; and three Johns—John Adams, John Quincy Adams, and John Tyler. And two Franklins—Franklin Pierce and Franklin D. Roosevelt. There are no other duplications in names. The vice-president's position is the best starting place to succeed to the chief executive's post. There have been 10 Presidents who also served as vice-president—John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Martin Van Buren, John Tyler, Millard Fillmore, Andrew Johnson, Chester Alan Arthur, Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, and Harry S. Truman.

But the vice-president's job does not pay much compared to the presidency. He only collects $40,000 a year in salary and expenses as compared to the President's $190,000 in compensation.

Cabinet posts, with the exception of secretary of State, are the wrong place to start the march to the presidency. There have been six secretaries of State who have become chief executives—Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Martin Van Buren, and James Buchanan.

Three secretaries of War became chief executives—James Monroe, William Howard Taft, and Ulysses S. Grant. But we have never had a secretary of the Navy who became President, a secretary of the Treasury, an attorney general, a postmaster general, a secretary of the Interior, or a secretary of Agriculture.

Supreme Court chief justice, William Howard Taft.

Eisenhower, incidentally, is the only President whose last name starts with "E".

But President-elect Eisenhower defied tradition. He was the first President from a Western state, and the first from Texas, Virginia, with eight Presidents, and Ohio, with seven, plus New York, with four, have provided the United States with more than half of its chief executives.

About 40 per cent of the farmland in the United States is made up of farms with more than 1,000 acres.

Double stars are very common and in many cases the two stars in the pair revolve around each other. Small human figures were placed in tombs in ancient Egypt in the belief that they would provide servants for the dead persons in the world to come.

Perfumes, Kerchiefs Are Good Shipmates

Shipboard life requires clothes in both athletic and romantic veins. This girl made the most of her luggage space by packing many handkerchiefs and several perfumes to meet the changes of mood and activity. Going out to play shuffleboard she keeps her hair off her face with a kerchief tied neatly in back (above center). A linen printed handkerchief gives the color note to her linen skirt and in her pocket she will drop the cologne stick she is using on her wrists. Guests are coming to her stateroom for tea (above right)

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

White handkerchiefs wave from decks of ships as friends on shore shout "bon voyage!" It's cruise time and you are off for sunnier lands. Your wardrobe, so carefully assembled weeks in advance, will play an important part in making your shipboard pleasures match your dreams.

You want to travel light but have your clothes right. Girls with developed fashion sense often rely on separates to make this travel wish come true. Separates depend on coordinated accessories for dramatic flavor.

Handkerchiefs and perfumes can play a big part. So don't let the handkerchief waved at the pier be your only one. And be sure to scent them. Have at least one daytime perfume in holiday mood as brisk as the salt air and another festive perfume for evening romantic undertones.

Cur's tossed in the wind may be pretty, but blown in your eyes while you try to play shuffleboard they are a nuisance. So before going out on deck for a morning of sport, wrap up your hair in a kerchief. There are several ways this can be done without tying the kerchief under your chin. Kerchiefs worn this way often look merely sloppy unless they are very large, very beautiful, tied neatly and, of course, well pressed.

Fold one of your 24-inch kerchiefs in two unequal triangles. Gather your hair beneath the kerchief in the back, mammy-fashion, and tie the corners of the smaller triangle over your forehead in a neat little bow. Then bring the corner of the larger triangle over the bow for an elfish effect.

Here is another style for wrapping the head in a 24-inch kerchief. Again make unequal triangles. Tie the corners of the larger triangle at the nape of your neck and let the point of the smaller triangle dangle beneath it in a soft fold. This should give you quite a piratical look.

You could be hostess at afternoon tea in the ship's stateroom wearing a black skirt and white blouse. Let this simple outfit rise to the occasion with a beautiful "apron" made from a rhinestone-sprinkled, white Chantilly lace handkerchief tucked onto wide velvet ribbon. Carry a matching lace handkerchief and tuck it in your belt when you pour for your guests.

For evening, revive the romantic custom of carrying a perfumed lace or chiffon handkerchief. Tuck it into a choker or finger ring. Put some of your evening perfume, sultry and pulsating or gentle and delicate, on the handkerchief and on the palm of your hand for dancing.

Out on deck in the evening, you will need protection from chill breezes playing on bare shoulders. A 36-inch kerchief converts beautifully into a little jacket or cape if you know how. For a bolero, place the kerchief square across your back. Let the corners meet and tie at your armpits, bringing them over your shoulders and around your underarms.

For a little cape, fold the kerchief into unequal triangles. Throw it around you, straight edge across your shoulders, corner of triangle trailing down the middle of your back. Bring other corners around your arms and tie in back.

When making a shore exploration, you might carry your personal things in a large sports handkerchief tied at the four corners, very much like the tramp's red handkerchief on the end of a stick holding his worldly possessions. Include a small perfumed handkerchief among your things for mopping your brow.

In astronomy, the sun is classed as a dwarf star.

Vegetables Crowd South Plains Cotton In Irrigated Sector

OLTON—(P)—Vegetable growing in this South Plains irrigation district may give King Cotton some competition as the area's principal crop.

Oilmen farmers are planning on more than 1,000 acres of potatoes this year after the 1952 crop, first ever produced here, proved successful. The initial effort resulted in a bumper crop sold at top prices. Cabbage, lettuce and a few onions also are edging into the picture.

However, as a money crop cotton will be hard to beat. The four cotton gins serving the community ginned 39,365 bales this season with possibly another 15,000 bales being taken out of the community to drought stricken areas for ginning at the harvest peak.

Cotton buyer C. L. Loke estimated the total value of the crop at $7,250,000.

Texas Editor Hurt In Korean Accident

SEOUL—(P)—Lillian Womack, city editor of the Sherman, Texas, Democrat, fractured a wrist-bone Saturday when she slipped and fell on a patch of ice at the Seoul City Airport a few moments after alighting from a plane from Tokyo.

Miss Womack, in Korea to report for her paper, said her injury was not serious. She said that after treatment at an Army hospital in Seoul and a brief rest in Tokyo, she would return to Korea to interview soldiers from her paper's area.

If your family likes the flavor of curry, try adding a dash of the spice to creamed peas. Good with turkey or chicken!

El Paso's Banana Vendor Has Own Sales Philosophy

EL PASO—(P)—John Lucas, 72, is a short, weather-beaten man who combines philosophy with banana selling.

When a thought comes to him, he paints it on a sign and hangs the sign on the back of his red, horse-drawn wagon. This attracts attention and often causes people to stop and buy bananas.

A recent sign read: "To sale bananas is not so easy. Hard to please everybody. John Lucas. Mind Reader."

He got that thought after a hard day.

"Some say my bananas are too green," he said. "Some say they are too ripe. They are too this or too that. It is not so easy to sale bananas. I must be a mind reader to figure out what they want."

Not long ago, Lucas had what seemed to be a happy inspiration.

He hung out a sign that read: "Bananas is not fruit but berries." Motorists stopped and demanded proof. Patiently, Lucas would peel out a banana and mash out some tiny seeds.

"Just like strawberry seeds!" he would exclaim triumphantly. "That proves a banana is a berry."

But he had to change the sign. "I spent all my time explaining why bananas are berries," he said. "I was wasting time. I wasn't selling many."

Emigrating from his native Greece in 1901, Lucas wandered around the U. S. as a railroad section hand and waiter in Greek restaurants. He survived the San Francisco earthquake in 1906. For years he operated an ice cream factory in Nogales, Ariz. He came to El Paso in 1919 and opened a fruit stand in South El Paso.

But Lucas liked to move around, so he bought a buxster wagon and a horse.

He has been driving the same wagon for 32 years and has sold nothing but bananas.

His present horse, Nellie, has been the subject of one of his signs. It read: "One horsepower motor."

Now and then Lucas leaves the wagon for refreshments. "The more beer I drink the better I think," he says.

One day he left Nellie's head pointed toward a traffic signal. "The light changed from red to green and Nellie went on down the street," he said. "After that I always parked her with her head pointing away from the traffic signal. She is a law-abiding horse."

Lucas has four children, all under five years old. "A spiritualist fellow told me I would live to be 95," he said. "I still have time to raise a large family."

Ladylike Look Goes To Beach

The soft, feminine look in sea fashions is emphasized by Brigrance in a two-piece swim suit (left) in Hope Skillman's delicate lace cotton. This is in black-on-white. Ruffles are back (right) as in this same designer's one-piece swim suit with matching beachcoat. The fabric is wavelength plique. —By Galle Dugas, NEA Woman's Editor.

FEWER CAGES, COLD MARBLE—

Modern Banks Prove Knack Of Pleasing More Patrons

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK—(AP)—Banks are getting to be the darndest places. The chilly counting house, the pompously dignified banker, the coldly forbidding marble halls of finance are as old-fashioned today as congress gaiters. In their place has come a new, warm, friendly institution, cozy as a New England kitchen. Deliberately and in the name of profits, the banks busily have been making friends. Recently one of New York's largest savings banks held a "ladies' day" during which each female depositor was presented with an orchid corsage. Every woman who opened a new account got a gold compact. Another big Manhattan savings bank opened a new main office with all sorts of giveaways—including a new automobile—as door prizes for first-day visitors. Many banks are staying open late one or more nights a week. In the old days banks closed their doors in midafternoon regardless. One bank serves tea to depositors arriving at tea-time. Others provide drive-in facilities so depositors can do business without getting out of their cars.

Banks suddenly have discovered window displays, which are getting to be as colorful and interesting as those of department stores. One New York bank recently permitted finger-painting courses to be held in its lobby. The walls of banks all over the country are bursting forth with art exhibits. Bank interiors have undergone revolutionary changes. Iron bars, cages and other visible safety devices have given way to plants and cut flowers. Some banks have piped music. Personnel Change, Too From clerks to presidents, bankers themselves have changed. Many are taking courses and studying techniques designed to make them friendly, confidence-inspiring and attractive. The American Bankers Association points out that this revolution started shortly after the depression—an unhappy era still remembered by many bankers as the "dirty 30's." "Up to then," said one ABA executive, "bankers were terribly important men in their communities. Then came the crash, and the position of the bankers in the public's eyes was as low as the value of the stocks." Small Loan Business In crawling out from beneath the financial rubble of the depression, bankers discovered that the bulk of the nation's money had passed from the hands of the "classes" into those of the "masses." In catering to the masses, they got into the small loan business. "Gradually a new philosophy of money borrowing came to be accepted by the banks," explained one banker. "Where once the average banker preached thrift and living entirely within your income, he suddenly realized that in some instances borrowing money and installment buying actually was an economy for some families. Today some banks have arrangements with retailers so that installment buying can be arranged in the store without going through tedious red tape. Banks have gone a long way in a comparatively few years." About 65 to 70 per cent of the dry weight of a plant consists of starch, the rest of mineral matters. ## WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

THIS LADY LOST 42 POUNDS
"Before taking Barcetrat, I weighed 188 pounds. I now weigh 146, a loss of 42 pounds. Instead of wearing size 28 dresses, I now wear 14 and 16. I am so glad and feel so good. Words cannot express my sincere thanks," signed Mrs. P. H. Wampler, 1810 Thirteenth St., Galveston, Texas.

AND THIS LADY LOST 21 POUNDS
"Thanks to Barcetrat, what a wonderful way to lose weight," writes Mrs. A. F. Huestler, 211 W. 14th St., San Angelo, Texas. "No dieting and not a single hungry moment. I have lost 21 pounds and am now down to my required weight. Feel good and full of pep."

Reminding A Pal Of The Past May Arouse His Wife's Ire

It's never a good idea to kid a man in his wife's hearing about any of the following:

How much he lost at last week's poker game. He may have been pretty vague about his losses or even intimated that he broke even.

How good-looking his secretary is. His wife may know she is good-looking, but she won't enjoy the pleased look on her husband's face when another man comments on her beauty.

How long he takes off for lunch or how often you spot him having a cup of coffee. After all, he has probably sold his wife on the idea of how hard he works and how he can't get out of the office to do an errand for her.

How long he was cornered with an attractive woman at last Saturday night's party. If you noticed, his wife is sure to have, and you may be bringing up a matter the poor fellow thinks he has already embarrassed him.

How wrong he was on a bet he made. Men often report only their winning bets to the little woman.

How long he has to get his wife's permission to get an evening out with the boys. It may be true. But neither husband or wife will relish being kidded about it.

How old he is getting. Unless he is married to a child bride, you'll make his wife feel old, too.

About an old girl, the one the crowd all thought he was going to marry.

How domesticated he has become. A wife works hard to turn a young man into a settled husband and she doesn't appreciate having another man act as though there is something funny about "Bob, of all people," turning into a family man. (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

DREW PEARSON ON The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Congressional committees can make or break Administration; Most chairmen favor Ike's policies; Prodigal Son Morse greets Taft in Senate.

WASHINGTON—It's the committees of Congress, far more than the public realizes, which pass the laws and which make or break an Administration's policies. And, particularly, it's the powerful chairmen of the committees who can do this.

A committee chairman can decide whether a bill is to be reported out or pigeonholed; he can rule on how much money a certain department of the government will get, what salaries will be paid, what judges shall be approved or vetoed.

Thus, the success of Eisenhower's Administration will depend in part on the committee chairmen of the new Congress. Therefore, here is a roll call of what Eisenhower can expect from the men who dominate the backstage law-making on Capitol Hill.

Senate Agriculture Committee—George Aiken of Vermont. Honest, forthright, will cooperate with Eisenhower.

Appropriations—Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. Shrewd, able, skilled at wire-pulling. Bridges has a record as an influence-peddler. When he was trying to get a $7,000,000 income-tax case fixed for Baltimore liquor dealer Hyman Klein, he made a speech on the Senate floor urging a salary increase for "good old Charlie Philpant." It so happened that "good old Charlie" was the counsel of Internal Revenue and the man whom Bridges was urging to fix the Klein case.

Armed Services—Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts. A prim, proper Boston blue-blood with an impeccable record for honesty, but no record for bravery. He will cooperate with Eisenhower and give the armed services pretty much what they want.

Banking and Currency—Homer Capehart of Indiana, the music-box king. Capehart is for big business first, last, and foremost. Wants to raise interest rates on GI loans, is against price controls, and helped to bottle up the Senate report on the RFC loan to the B&O Railroad.

District of Columbia—Francis Case of South Dakota. Hard-working, sincere, will make a good chairman of the committee which rules the nation's capital.

Expenditures—Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin. He has been itching to get his hands on the most important investigative committee in Congress, in order to retaliate at some of the people who have opposed him. McCarthy is all set to stage a witch hunt on schools and colleges, will cooperate with Ike for about a year, then turn on him just as vitriolically as he fought the State Department under Acheson.

Finance—Eugene Millikin of Colorado. This is the committee which writes the nation's tax laws. Millikin is a genial millionaire who believes in reducing taxes in the higher brackets, getting rid of the excess-profits tax, and taxing fairly heavily in the lower brackets.

Foreign Relations—Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin. A good-natured back-slapper who sometimes lets his sense of humor run away with him, but who has taken his work more seriously since he remarried. He will give Eisenhower pretty much what he wants.

Interior and Insular Affairs—Hugh Butler of Nebraska. Opponent of public power and of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, he recently took a vacation in Hawaii at the taxpayers' expense, now is reported favorable to statehood.

Interstate and Foreign Commerce—Charles Tobey of New Hampshire. One of the most respected and oldest senators. Tobey will cooperate with Eisenhower only as long as he thinks Eisenhower is right. Vigilant, honest, Tobey is a crusader for the underdog.

Judiciary—"Wild Bill" Langer of North Dakota. Republicans still are trying to figure out some way they can prevent Langer from passing on the most important appointments of the entire government, judges and U. S. attorneys. They dread the idea of having Langer the man of whom they have to ask favors to get judges confirmed. Langer will not be as high-handed as his predecessor, Democratic Senator McCarran, but will be independent, to put it mildly.

Labor and Public Welfare—Alexander Smith of New Jersey. This is the committee long dominated by Taft. Although Taft finally has agreed to bow out, Smith has confided to friends that he will be only a figurehead, that Taft really will run the Labor Committee. A former Princeton professor, Smith is a friend of Eisenhower, will do what he says unless pushed from the other side by Taft. Then he'll go the way he is pushed most.

Post Office—Frank Carlson of Kansas. One of Eisenhower's close friends and a hard-working, conscientious senator. Carlson will cooperate 100 per cent.

Public Works—Edward Martin of Pennsylvania. A colorless personality. Martin was for Taft, now will be for Eisenhower.

Rules—William Jenner of Indiana. This powerful committee which rules on elections and the investigation of other senators, will be in the hands of the man who called Gen. George Marshall a traitor, when he was considered one of the most harum-scarum members of Congress. Eisenhower will get little cooperation from him after the first year.

These are the men who will turn the wheels of the Senate merry-go-round and pass the laws which the rest of the country will have to follow.

Senate Sidelights
Oregon's bushy-browed Senator Wayne Morse, who broke with Eisenhower for "selling out" to Taft, crossed paths with Taft in the Senate corridor. "Hello, Wayne!" boomed out Taft. "Hello, Bob!" Morse yelled back. Then he hastily put down a huge box he was lugging, and the two men shook hands warmly, almost as if the prodigal son had returned. Senator McCarthy isn't satisfied with investigating corruption, which will be his official job in the 83rd Congress. He also is pulling strings to get the Internal Security Committee transferred to his Senate Investigating Committee in order to probe various "isms." This backstage maneuver has ruffled the fur of Michigan's white-haired Senator Homer Ferguson, who has designs on the Internal Security Committee.

Big defense contractors are dropping hints around the Senate that the contract renegotiation clause should be repealed, retroactive to December, 1952. This would make it impossible for the government to collect overcharges.

Help prolong your husband's life span by insisting that he have a physical check-up at least once a year. Only care, peace and interest will keep him healthy and happy.

Happy Husband Live Longer, Doctor Declares

By ANNETTE GREEN
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Whether or not your husband has a long, full life, to a large measure, up to you.

Although such medical advances as penicillin, streptomycin and other "wonder" drugs have helped to lengthen the average life span by 20 years, Dr. Charles E. Dutton, an authority on geriatrics (the science of age and the aging process), maintains that a wife still plays a key role in guarding her mate's health, particularly during the all-important years after 40.

Make sure that he has a thorough physical check-up at least once a year to clear up current health problems and forestall new ones that may be in the process of materializing.

Since you are the planner of the daily menu, you must see to it that your husband eats sensibly and in moderation. Remember, overweight shortens life expectancy.

Don't expect him always to be in the mood to step out to a party or show. Often a strenuous day at the office will leave him little energy for social activities. All he will probably want to do is read the newspaper and go to sleep. And it is absolutely essential that he get at least eight hours of rest every night.

If your husband has shown signs lately of taking an active part in exercise, tactfully remind him that he must act his age. Too many men have suffered heart seizures caused by overexertion on the golf course. Moderation should again be the keynote.

Another way to keep the man of the house healthy and happy is to get him interested in a hobby. Help him prepare for his retirement by encouraging an avocation, even if it's in the "just puttingting" category.

And, of course, one of the prime essentials in any man's life is emotional stability. Some pressures—especially in the business world—are unavoidable. But a peaceful home will help your husband forget these irritations and give him an opportunity to relax and enjoy himself.

Do everything within your power to minimize emotional upsets. It's only natural that there will be periods in your life when you will disagree with your husband and he with you. Then, again, you may be feeling moody, without any apparent reason. When these unpleasant moments arise, try to busy yourself with outside activities. Avoid discussions. They will only end disastrously.

Try not to plan your husband's hours while he is home on week-ends and in the evenings. The wife who is always after her husband to hang the curtains, fix the basin or clean the stove, may find that she has forced him to a point of complete exhaustion.

Make every effort to eliminate the possibility of your being left a widow in your later years. With care and understanding on your part, you and your husband will have a better chance of celebrating your golden wedding anniversary together.

Help prolong your husband's life span by insisting that he have a physical check-up at least once a year. Only care, peace and interest will keep him healthy and happy.

Rio Grande Shows Decrease In Size

LAREDO—(AP)—The Rio Grande will never again be the big river it once was. That's the view of the federal men here who record the incessant rise and fall—mostly fall in recent years—of the boundary stream.

Dams and reservoirs, they explain, have been built along the stream to such an extent that even a year of good rain upstream might not restore the historical level.

Karl F. Keeler, U. S. hydraulic engineer, says that in 1900 only 10,000 acres on the U. S. side of the river were irrigated below the Quitman at the lower end of the Rio Paso Valley, Mexico was then irrigating 275,000 acres. By 1950, more than 800,000 acres were being irrigated on the U. S. side and Mexico was irrigating almost as much acreage.

'On-Job' Training Course For Cleaners Slated Here

A two-week and possibly longer, on-the-job training course for dry cleaners and their employees of Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and other area cities will open here Monday night.

The school, conducted by the University of Texas Industrial and Business Training Bureau, Division of Extension, is sponsored by the Dry Cleaners Institute of Texas. C. L. Young of Wichita Falls is president of the state association. Open To Public.

The first night of the school here will be open to all interested persons and special invitations have been extended all clothing merchants and their buyers, department managers and clerks. It is scheduled at 7 p.m. in the district courtroom of the Midland County Courthouse. The program the first night will be devoted entirely to new fabrics now being displayed in the Eastern markets for purchase by garment manufacturers and buyers of piece goods. Explanation will be made on the handling of borderline, unservicable materials and difficult fabrics, including some of the "miracle fabrics" of today, sponsors said.

The school, the first of its kind ever attempted by any of the nation's universities, has been well received in San Antonio, Abilene, San Angelo, Houston and Greenville.

WSCS Circles
Open Study

Two circles of the Asbury Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service will start work on new study books Monday.
Members of the Samaritan Circle will meet in the church at 3 p.m. to start their study on "Toward Understanding the Bible," Mrs. John Kinnard will be the leader for the study series.
Mrs. R. M. Smith will lead the study on Africa to be started by the Builders Circle at a meeting at 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Dennis Ford, 3300 Sycamore Street.
The Friendship Circle, which will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday in the church, will open its new study, "These Rights We Hold," on January 12. Mrs. Albert Russell will be study leader.

NEW YORK — This is the time of year when we try to look ahead. We should try to look ahead each day of the year, but for some reason or other, it is not given to humans to see definitely one minute ahead. One thing we can do. We can look backward. In these times of uncertainty, it may be well to do just this, to turn back to the beliefs of our fathers for strength and guidance. Dependence on things material is not enough. It is faith—the faith of our fathers—that was and still can be the greatest force for freedom and happiness in our lives ahead.

During holidays many people leave New York City for the delights of country life, while others come in on a visit to enjoy the city. It seems a fair swap, since there are about as many visitors as absentees. The main difference is that the out-of-towners go to more public amusements here — especially the night clubs where they pay a dollar for a 25-cent sandwich. The visitors also flock up and down the streets, seeing the wonders of Manhattan. Caught in one of these crowds, I overheard a fat man say to his friend, after both were jostled by rowdies, "I guess we fat people have to be good-natured. We can't fight or run."

At 136 West 44th Street, I came across the Show Shop, entitled "the nation's first free theater ticket information center" so I went in to see what went on. A young lady at a desk in the neat interior explained that she could tell me what Broadway shows had tickets available. I told her a lot of out-of-towners often wanted to know this, and she said the organization would always furnish this information. She said that most people don't write in for show tickets far enough ahead of time to get good ones, since the most popular ones naturally are sold out farthest ahead.

Jack Dempsey is best-known here nowadays for his restaurant in midtown, although oldtimers recall with nostalgia that he once was the most colorful heavyweight champion boxer. Grantland Rice, probably the best regarded among veteran sports writers, told me that when Dempsey was in his prime 30 years ago, he had an iron jaw as well as an iron fist and could hit savagely with either hand. With Jack, boxing was the Art of Offense, Grantland said. The fighter who brought the first million dollar gate to the sport, Dempsey held the heavyweight championship seven years, and according to Grantland, when the list of the world's greatest fighters is completed, Dempsey's name will be at the top.

Lincoln Steffens, the great muck-raking writer who rose to fame in this town a half-century ago exposing crime when Teddy Roosevelt was police commissioner, had a grim sense of humor. One day he found a faucet out of order in his Manhattan home and called in his seven-year-old son to look it over and learn that thing and then get out of order in this life of ours and adjusting. The youngster seized the faucet, tried to turn it off and couldn't. Steffens asked him what was the matter with it. The little fellow looked up and grinned. "Grown-ups, Daddy," he replied.

Happy holiday happenings here... a harassed shopper got knocked down in the super market by a cart propelled by a big woman, and was almost run over before he could get up. It seems there was a huge crowd and he made a turn from the frozen foods section into the canned goods alley without sticking into his arm... two boys were roller-skating in Grand Central terminal, hilariously gleeful until they were shooed out by a station guard... this big old serious town has been taken over by children, showing the truth of the adage, "A little child shall lead them"... Fred Waring presented a television show in which he proudly proclaimed the humble holiday scenes of his boyhood... rising above all the crooners—the best thing outside of church music—was Bing Crosby's singing "Silent Night," "White Christmas," a new one called "Elisa," and a merry, rollicking song about taking a sleigh ride that fairly set one's foot-patting and happy humming.

When you are scoring a ham, just before glazing, stud each diamond with a whole clove. Garnish the baked ham with spiced cranberries and parsley or watercress for a pretty platter.
