Texas Gulf Completes 1 Headlee

A highly important and significant Ellenburger discovery has been officially completed in Central-East Ector County by Texas Gulf Producing Company at its No. 1 E. V. Headlee.

This wildcat reported an official 2 1/2-bar flowing potential of 643.14 barrels of 51.3 gravity oil and no water. The flow on the completion test was through a 12/64th inch tubing choke.

The potential test extended from 5 p.m., Saturday to 5 p.m., Sunday. No formation water was developed. From Open Hole.

The oil is coming from open hole at 13,106-13,313 feet. That section had been washed with 750 gallons of mud acid. Gas-oil ratio during the completion test was 957-1.

Flowing tubing pressure was 2,110 pounds. casing pressure was 1,890 pounds. The well will be due a daily allowable of 425 barrels. That will be without any shut-in days.

Operator will file an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for a new field designation for the discovery and will request that it be called the Headlee (Ellenburger) field. The name would be Dr. E. V. Headlee, owner of the land on which the well is located. He is a pioneer physician of Odessa.

Had Flowed Heavier

After washing the pay section with the 750-gallon mud acid shot to clean out lost circulation material the wildcat kicked off and flowed two hours through a one-half inch tubing choke. In the first 60 minutes of flowing the well produced 137.3 barrels of oil. In the next 60 minutes it made 100.3 barrels of oil.

The chokes were then changed to a one-quarter inch opening and in the next hour it produced 43 barrels. The potential test was then started. Nearest Ellenburger Well.

This discovery is the nearest Ellenburger production to both Odessa and Midland. It is three and three-quarter miles northeast of Odessa and 17 miles southwest of Midland. It is two miles west of the Midland County line and approximately one mile northwest of the Odessa County Club.

The wildcat is about one and one-half miles north of the Midland-Odessa highway.

Location is 600 feet from south and east lines of section 8, block 41, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 13,076 feet. Derrick floor elevation is 2,914 feet. The section of the Ellenburger between 13,076 feet and 13,106 feet is thought to be capable of producing oil and gas.

Shows in Other Zones

Texas Gulf No. 1 Headlee had interesting shows of possible production in the Pennsylvanian, Devonian and Fusselman.

The rig used to dig No. 1 Headlee is being skidded one location to the northeast to drill Texas Gulf No. 2 E. V. Headlee. That project is to drill the Ellenburger until it finds the water in that formation. No. 1 Headlee stopped before it found the water table in the deep pay formation.

Location is at the center of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter of section 8, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Shale Zone Flows Oil In NE Glasscock

Oil flow from a fractured Permian shale was developed at Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-B Cross, wildcat in Northeast Glasscock County.

Drillstem test was taken in the interval from 9,812 to 9,880 feet. Gas surfaced in 10 minutes. Oil came to the top in 125 minutes. It flowed 23 barrels in three hours. Choke size not reported. Gravity of the oil is 41.5 degrees and open flowing bottomhole pressure was from 575 to 1,250 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 30 minutes was 3,425 pounds.

Hole was bottomed at 9,930 feet in shale with another drillstem test underway.

No. 1-B Cross is at the center of the northwest quarter of section 17, block 35, T-3-S, T&P survey. It is nine miles southeast of Stanton.

Ike, Solons Agree On Patronage

Truman Halts Criminal Blow At 'Oil Cartel'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Monday ordered the dropping of criminal anti-monopoly proceedings against five major oil companies—provided the companies produce records for a civil suit.

In a letter to Attorney General McGranery, Truman said he was acting "as a result of factors which have emerged since the institution of the current grand jury investigation of the international activities of the major oil companies."

Truman's letter did not say what these "factors" are. There have been reports, however, that the National Security Council—made up of the government's top policy planners—was concerned that a grand jury investigation would jeopardize U. S. global interests.

Truman directed that McGranery confer with representatives of the companies "to ascertain if they will agree to enter into a stipulation" to make records available for a civil case.

His letter added: "If they will, I ask that a civil proceeding be instituted accordingly and that appropriate steps be taken to cause the termination of the pending grand jury proceedings."

The whole case originated in a Federal Trade Commission report that major U. S. oil companies have worked with foreign companies to divide up the world oil market.

FTC Member Protests

Stephen J. Spingarn, a member of the commission, called on Truman a few minutes before the announcement of the President's conditional offer to drop the criminal proceedings.

He left the White House with a sharply-worded blast against dropping the criminal proceedings.

Spingarn told reporters it looked to him as if the oil companies had performed "one of the greatest snow jobs (whitewashes) in history" by convincing the State Department and other federal officials that the grand jury probe should be dropped.

To abandon the investigation now, Spingarn said, would be to play right into the hands of Soviet propagandists.

He said the Russians always have contended that the Democratic governments are mere pawns of Wall Street, and that abandoning the case would be cited by the Russians as "further dramatic proof that the Soviet Union has been correct all along" in its view of the relationship between government and big business.

Spingarn said he asked permission to attend last Friday's meeting of the National Security Council—a meeting at which the New York Times and the Washington Post have reported a decision to drop the grand jury probe was reached.

The commissioner said Truman did not give him such permission.

Newest ROK Troops Beat Off Red Blow

SEOUL —(AP)— The heaviest Red assault of the New Year smashed against the lines of a newly-activated South Korean division Monday. The Allies soldiers held their ground, killed an estimated 213 of the attacking 800 Reds, and forced the Communists into retreat after three hours of savage close-quarter fighting.

Battles flared with renewed bitterness all along the frozen Korean front. Altogether, the Reds hurled almost 1,500 men into the fighting in bloody but futile attempts to dent the UN lines in pre-dawn darkness.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the main Red blow fell against the Republic of Korea (ROK) 12th Division on the mountainous eastern front. Gen. James A. Van Fleet announced the activation of the 12th and 15th ROK Divisions only two months ago. This was the first indication that either had seen combat.

Oil Field Worker Killed In Traffic Crash Near Kermit

KERMIT—Hiram A. Caraway, 30, of Van who was injured at 8 a.m. Monday in a car-truck accident near Kermit, died at a hospital here two hours later.

The collision occurred at the intersection of FM Road 874 and the Dollarhide Road, State Highway Patrolman Billy Smith reported.

Caraway, employed by the Pure Oil Company, was driving a company car at the time of the accident. He had lived in Kermit only a few weeks.

Caraway suffered a crushed chest. E. C. Oxford, driver of the second vehicle, is not believed injured seriously. He is in the hospital here.

Both drivers were alone. Oxford was operating a pickup and Caraway, a coupe.

Funeral arrangements are pending for Caraway. Survivors include the widow.

Probers Urge Longer Look Into Red Cells On Campuses

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Internal Security subcommittee Monday urged further investigation of Red influences in the nation's schools and colleges and said there are "many hundreds of teachers who are Communists."

The subcommittee said it has turned up evidence from all parts of the country on Communist penetration of colleges, high schools and elementary schools.

During its public hearings in New York City last September and October, the group said, it became apparent it could only survive the situation in a broad fashion and submit an interim report to the new Congress.

Cities Singled Out

This it did Monday, in a 13-page report to its parent body, the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The Internal Security subcommittee report, submitted under the expired chairmanship of Senator McCarran (D-Nev.), said without going into details: "Testimony before the subcommittee indicated specifically that Communist activity took place among teachers in Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Buffalo, and Madison, Wis.; as well as reflecting the certainty of substantial Communist activity among teachers in other areas."

"Several universities also were cited in testimony as containing Communist units."

The subcommittee drew these conclusions in its report:

"1. Despite the unquestioned loyalty and self-sacrificing devotion to duty of the preponderant bulk of America's teachers, there are yet many hundreds of teachers who are Communists.

"2. Communist teachers radiate an influence much greater than their proportionate number.

"3. The New York Teachers Union is an organization that is an instrument of the Communist Party and has been used to implement the Communist conspiracy.

"4. Legislative committees either of the Senate or of Congress have aided local school authorities by sketching a pattern of Communist activities and by exposing Communist teachers.

"5. A Communist is not a fit person to be placed or retained in a position to influence the minds of the youth of America."

'SHHH—IT'S NO BOLONEY'—"Sultana," cattiest gossip of the zoo at Bologna, Italy, gives the zoo's doggy mascot an earful of gossip that's as spicy as the famed Bologna sausage. Probably something chimpily awful about monkeyshines in the baboon's cage.

Judge Facing Trial In Sale Of Library Refunds Price Paid

ALICE —(AP)— District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin—a few hours before his trial on a charge he misrepresented his law library in selling it to the county—gave the treasurer a check Monday and said he wanted his books back.

Laughlin, elected last fall as 79th District Judge, was Jim Wells County judge when he sold his law books to the county for $2,185.70.

The grand jury indicted him on counts accusing him of misrepresenting the value of the books and of being financially and illegally interested in county contracts.

His trial on both charges was scheduled to begin Monday afternoon. There was no indication Laughlin's returning the money would delay it.

Laughlin appeared Monday before the Commissioners' Court. He said he had given the county treasurer his check for $2,185.70 and would reclaim the books.

He said the book transaction was made in good faith to fulfill a definite need of the county for a law library but added there "appears to be much erroneous interpretation of the entire matter."

Laughlin said he now believes it will be "in the best interests of all concerned for the books to be repossessed and the money returned to the county."

The grand jury said the library price of $2,185.70 represented the price of new books, less 10 percent. The grand jury said the books were obviously old, used and not worth that much money.

Laughlin became district judge of Jim Wells, Duval, Brooks and Starr Counties by defeating Incumbent Sam Reams in the July Democratic primary and again in the November election, when Reams was a write-in candidate.

Foes To Contest Formation Of Canadian River District

AUSTIN —(AP)— Opponents served notice Monday they will contest formation of a Canadian River water district in water-short Northwest Texas.

Pampa Attorney Curtis Douglas announced the opposition preceding a hearing before the State Water Board on creation of the district.

The district must be formed before a proposed $5-million-dollar dam project can be undertaken on the Canadian River.

Douglas said opponents include himself, Lubbock Author and Historian J. Everett Haley, and Frank Shalun, Canadian farmer-stockman.

Dallas Attorney A. B. Hugenin, representing proponents, said numerous witnesses would appear in behalf of the project.

More than 60 persons were present for the hearing.

If the board approves creation of the district, then the plan would be submitted to a vote in the proposed district. Setting up of the district is essential to ultimate financing and distribution of waters which the dam would impound near Sanford in Hutchinson County.

The impounded water would be used by a dozen cities and towns in the area. Interested cities include Amarillo, Borger, Brownfield, La Mesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lubbock, O'Donnell, Pampa, Plainview, Slaton and Tahoka.

Ernest L. Berg, 43, Midland Geologist, Dies After Illness

Ernest L. Berg, 43, of 702 West Nobles Street died Sunday in a Midland hospital. He had been in ill health more than three years.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Newell Ellis Funeral Chapel. The Rev. Weldon McCormick, associate pastor of the First Methodist Church, will officiate.

Interment will be at Granite Falls, Minn., former home of the Berg family.

Berg had been a Midland resident since early in 1947. He came here as representative of The Wilshire Oil Company. He left that concern in 1949 and has been working since as a consulting geologist.

He was a graduate of the University of Minnesota.

Berg worked for Standard Oil Company of California as a geologist in the Rocky Mountain area and spent six years in Arabia as a geologist for the Arabian-American Oil Company, a Standard of California subsidiary.

Survivors include the widow; a son, Ernest L. Berg, Jr., five, and his mother, Mrs. Clara Berg, all of Midland, and two brothers, Gilman A. Berg of Houston and Howard T. Berg of Minneapolis, Minn.

College Chief Given High Foreign Post

NEW YORK —(AP)— President-elect Eisenhower Monday chose Dr. James Bryant Conant, president of Harvard University, as United States high commissioner for Germany in the new Administration.

The high commissioner's post is vacant at this time, due to the retirement of Career Foreign Service Officer Walter J. Donnelly last December 31.

Monday's announcement said Eisenhower picked Conant for the post after conferences with John Foster Dulles, secretary of State-designate.

The nomination will be submitted to the Senate for confirmation after Eisenhower takes office January 20.

No Immediate Break Seen As Midlanders Bask In Bright Sun

Rain and snow pelted both seaboards of the nation Monday but Midlanders and other Texans found heavy coats uncomfortable.

"Generally fair" described Texas conditions and weather observers forecast no immediate break in the balmy spell. Temperatures had climbed to 65 degrees at noon here with a maximum of better than 60 expected for the day. Sunday the mercury rose to 65 degrees, dropping back to 45 early Monday.

Southwest winds traveled this section at 12 miles an hour Monday morning. Velocity was due to reach 25 mph Monday afternoon.

Violence which last week exacted a toll of 39 lives and millions of dollars in property damage was missing in storms over the nation Monday. It was snowing again in the Northeast and Southwest Virginia reported a seven-inch snow. Precipitation along the East Coast was mostly rain. Moderate to heavy showers fell in the Far West.

Lawmakers To Check All Job Handouts

NEW YORK —(AP)— Senate GOP leaders said President-elect Eisenhower "fully agreed" Monday to clear all federal appointive jobs in the future with Republican members of Congress.

Senator Knowland of California, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said after a conference with Eisenhower that the general had "fully agreed" to follow the customary practice of checking appointments with GOP lawmakers.

Senator Taft of Ohio, the Senate majority leader, said Eisenhower's agreement to do this represented "no reversal" of policy on his part, but the Ohioan added that the arrangement had helped to dispel confusion regarding the handling of job patronage.

Knowland, Taft and Senator Millican of Colorado, chairman of the conference of all Republican senators, spent about an hour and a half with the President-elect.

They came in advance of Eisenhower's first meeting with the Senate Cabinet. Also scheduled to sit at the cabinet conference were Vice President-elect Nixon and other top officials of the incoming Administration.

Followed Complaints

There have been recurring complaints by GOP members of Congress that the Eisenhower headquarters was not consulting them in advance regarding federal job appointments.

After Monday's meeting with Eisenhower, Knowland told a news conference the session had been "friendly and cooperative" and that there was a genuine effort "to get a meeting of minds."

Knowland said the agreement reached calls for clearing with senators all jobs which require Senate confirmation. In addition, he said, other unspecified appointive jobs would be checked through senatorial channels.

The contact would be made in most cases with the Republican senators from the state in which the appointee resides. Knowland said that in the case of postmasters whose assignment would be in a single congressional area, the clearance would be with the appropriate senator.

DANIEL SAYS HE'S WILLING

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Price Daniel, Texas Democrat who supported President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, let it be known Monday he will be glad to help fill federal jobs if given the chance.

Observing that he had been asked frequently what his role would be in patronage matters, Daniel said in a statement: "If I am invited to do so, I shall be happy to recommend to the President from time to time the names of certain Texans of outstanding ability and capacity. . . ."

Flu Mounts To Epidemic Levels Here

A fast-spreading wave of influenza reached epidemic stage last week with more than 1,500 cases reported in Midland.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the City-County Health Unit, said Monday 1,513 cases had been reported to his office by Midland doctors.

"There's no doubt but that many other cases were not reported in Midland," he said, "and the influenza now can be considered to have reached mild epidemic proportions."

Type Note Identified

The 1,513 cases reported last week compared with 518 for the previous week and the approximately 150 cases for the week before that.

There have been no deaths attributed to the disease and Dr. Pigford said the type had not yet been identified.

"It's hard to tell," he added, "whether we have reached the peak yet. Last year, the number of cases began increasing in January and did not reach the peak until February. We'll just have to wait and see."

Other contagious diseases showed no abnormal increases with the 37 chicken pox cases for the week reported as normal.

Midlander Injured When Auto Skids

Anastasia Reyes, 19, of 608 North Terrell Street, received a fractured right leg Sunday when his car skidded near the entrance to the Midland Air Terminal. A blowout was reportedly to blame.

Reyes remained in Midland Memorial Hospital Monday. His condition is not considered serious.

Passengers in the Reyes vehicle escaped injury.

Midlander Suffers Fatal Injuries In Oil Well Accident

James L. Fortenberry, a derrick man employed by the BBM Drilling Company, died at 5:30 a.m. Monday in a Midland hospital of injuries received in a working accident in the Driver field southeast of Midland.

Fortenberry, who lived at Sky-have Trailer Courts, was hit in the head by a piece of drill stem pipe during drilling operations, suffering a fractured skull. He was rushed by private car to the hospital at 1:30 a.m. Monday.

His wife, Rose Fortenberry, a Filipino war bride, entered the hospital Monday for treatment of shock.

The body of Fortenberry is at the Newell W. Ellis Chapel. Funeral arrangements were pending Monday morning. Survivors include one child.

Legislators Want To Sew Up Loopholes In Texas Tax Laws

AUSTIN —(AP)— Tax dodgers and tax-escaping devices were spotlighted for the 53rd Legislature Monday by a report of its influential legislative council.

The council proposed a dozen methods for stopping tax leaks that may find favorable response from the session starting Tuesday in view of the advance emphasis on spending and taxing.

The council believes that additional state revenue amounting to $10,000,000 annually could be expected if loopholes it found in the state tax structure were stopped up.

One of the council's recommendations called for enactment of a general tax administration law to improve collection methods and tighten up an enforcement of existing state tax laws.

It suggested the cities also should utilize their present taxing powers more efficiently, but it did not stop there in a many-pointed plan to help municipalities meet their revenue needs.

The report put the council on record as opposing a state income tax and a general state sales tax.

Evasion of vehicle registration laws along with "numerous indications" of illegal registration practices was hit hard. The council advised registration of the maximum gross weight of commercial vehicles with tough penalties to stop evasions.

It suggested a change in the auto sales tax to strengthen penalties, and an increase of one tenth of one per cent in the rate to compensate for the exemption of accessories. The present auto sales tax does not include the accessories that go along in the sales of autos.

The council also suggested separate state tax laws on radio, television, cosmetics and playing cards to improve collections.

To help cities which are finding it difficult to pay their current bills, constitutional changes were recommended.

The council urged that the ad valorem tax on autos—hard to collect and under fire as inequitable—be abolished and cities and counties be authorized to collect license fees on cars.

Another amendment it proposed to the Legislature would enable the lawmakers to grant expanded taxing powers to local governments. The council also suggested that the Legislature should do all in its power within the present Constitution to give cities additional taxing authority.

MIT Professor Wins Science Award

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The National Geographic Society Monday announced award of its Franklin I. Burr Prize, with a check for $2,000, to Dr. Harold Eugene Edgerton, inventor of ultra high speed flash light equipment.

He is 49 and a native of Fremont, Neb.

Custom-Built Casket Used For Interment Of 565-Pound Negro

RATIO, ARK.—(AP)—Ten men carried 565-pound Lusean Harris to his grave in a custom-built 845-pound coffin Monday.

Harris, 66, a negro tenant farmer in this Mississippi River town, died of natural causes last Monday and funeral services were postponed while a special casket was built.

J. W. Jordan, general manager for a funeral home, said the coffin was taken directly to the graveside for funeral services because it is too large to get through any church door here.

Pro Hunger Artist Willy Schmitz Ends 79-Day-Long Fast

FRANKFURT, GERMANY.—(AP)—A professional hunger artist, Willy Schmitz, claimed a new world record for fasting Monday after 79 days and three hours in a glass cage without food.

Police Sunday night broke the seal on his cage while hundreds of spectators, who had paid one mark (23.8 cents) admission, watched. Doctors let Schmitz, thin and pale but smiling, sip a little champagne and fruit juice. Solid food will not be given him for several days.

The faster will enter a hospital, seeking to regain the 78 pounds he lost. A doctor said Schmitz was in surprisingly good health but that he probably would have died if he had tried existing three or four more days on nothing but water and cigarettes.

It was Schmitz' ninth long fast in 26 years. He said his next performance probably will be in North or South America.

"I won't fast in Germany any more," he explained, "because I can't make any money at it here."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Monday is bridge lesson day, and as usual I will discuss bidding according to the point-count method so that beginners and average players can see how the experts bid. Just in case you're not familiar with the point-count, here it is: count four points each ace in your hand; three for each king; two for each queen; one for each jack.

There are 10 points in each suit, and 40 points in the entire deck. You and your partner usually need 26 points to ace in a game; 23 points for a small slam; 37 for a grand slam.

In today's hand, South has a count of 10 points, which is enough for a free response after East has bid one heart. Ordinarily a free response shows a good five-card suit, but South cannot quite afford to wait for the perfect book requirements.

North has a count of 16 points in high cards, and two points for the singleton. He has excellent support for spades, especially since he waits until the second round of diamonds to take his ace and then leads a heart to make dummy trump. How do you get out of dummy now? This method won't work either.

Maybe you can find a complicated way to make this hand, but there is a very easy way. Just refuse to take the first trick with your ace of hearts.

What can East do next? If he leads trumps, you can afford to draw all four rounds of trumps since you still have your ace of hearts to stop that suit. You can then knock out the ace, of diamonds and will safely make four trumps, a heart, a club, and four diamonds.

If East leads a heart at the second trick, you can ruff with dummy's low trump, cash the king and queen of spades, and get to your hand by leading a low diamond from dummy. This will enable you to draw the rest of the trumps and force out the ace of diamonds while you still have control of all suits.

Jerry Lewis' Doctors Warn Against One Fall Too Many

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Exclusively Yours: Jerry Lewis has been warned by his doctors to cut down on those comedy falls—or else pay the same price as Red Skelton.

Red's ailments which put him on the operating table are directly attributed to his tumbles and Jerry has been told that he may be next on the list for the men in white.

The grapevine may be twisting, but Leslie Caron's denying there is a big rift in her marriage to George Formel, the ham hater, displaying a wide good wedding band, she assured there would be no separation "now or ever."

Lita Grey Chaplin, ex-wife of Charlie is resuming her night-club singing career in March. For the last two years she's been a Hollywood agent.

Printed reports that Red Skelton is groaning over young Timmy Kline's scene-stealing in "The Clown" are false. Red literally shoved the kid into the camera throughout the film, then gifted him with a $300 watch.

The "old faces" scored again in the top-money-making-stars-of-the-year poll of motion picture Herald-Fame audit of the U. S. box-office: Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are the tops, followed by Gary Cooper, John Wayne, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, James Stewart, Doris Day, Gregory Peck, Susan Hayward and Randolph Scott.

Kirk Douglas has been dating Gene Tierney in Paris but, says Gene, "He talks only about Pier Angel. The guy is nuts about her."

The plush mansion in which Bette Davis lives in "The Star" is the home of the film's producer, Bert Friedlob. Star's own home was too modest to be photographed!

You, South, hold: Spades A-6-3, Hearts K-J-4, Diamonds K-J-3, Clubs K-6-3. What do you do?

A—Bid six no-trump. You have a count of 15 points in high cards, and your partner's bidding shows 19 to 20 points. The combined count must therefore be 34 to 38 points. This is enough for a small slam, but not enough for a grand slam.

Today's Question

North	East	South	West
3 Hearts	Pass	?	?

You, South, hold: Spades 9-7-6-3, Hearts 4-2, Diamonds 8-5-3-2, Clubs 7-6-4. What do you do?

Answer: Two

assumes that South has a good five-card suit. South's free bid shows at least eight points, and North has about 18 points.

North can afford to jump to three spades, inviting South to proceed on to game if his previous bid was sound. South gladly accepts the invitation.

How do you proceed from a heart opening lead? You win the first trick with the ace of hearts, draw four rounds of trumps, and knock out the ace of diamonds. East thereupon takes all of his heart tricks, setting you two tricks.

Obviously it is no good to draw all of the trumps. Let's try again. You win the first trick with the ace of hearts and draw only two rounds of trumps. Now you try to knock out the ace of diamonds. East

What's RIGHT?

You have no car of your own, but ride often in another woman's car, since she is thoughtful about taking you to the places where you both go.

WRONG: Accept her kindness without any thought of trying to repay it.

RIGHT: Try to do something helpful for her from time to time, or at least have her car filled with gas occasionally.

Founder Of Soft Drink Empire Dies

ATLANTA.—(AP)—Asa Griggs Candler, Jr., 72, who helped his father fashion a multimillion-dollar Coca Cola empire, died Sunday.

His physician, Dr. Vernon Powell, said a malignant condition caused the financier's death after an illness of several months.

After making millions in Coca Cola, Candler went into real estate and at one time owned 33 apartment buildings and several hotels.

His father was a poor druggist who acquired the formula for Coca Cola at an Atlanta drug store during the early part of the century. The younger Candler played a major role in extending the soft drink discovery into a business worth millions before it was sold by the family several years later.

Candler is survived by a widow and five children.

Pecos Valley Baptists Slate Area-Wide School Of Missions

Plans for the first association-wide Baptist school of missions have been announced by the Pecos Valley Baptist Association of District 7. Scheduled dates are February 1 through February 6.

The school, which will present a plan of missionary education for the entire family, is designed to establish the need in Southern Baptist churches for a more active missionary plan, officials said.

Speaker Named

Among the speakers for the school will be Helen McCullough, of Houston, who has served as a missionary to China. A native of St. Louis, group has scheduled daily services, with a different foreign missionary speaking in a different church each evening. In addition, all classes in the school will study the same general phase of missions, with a graded series of texts. It was announced. Churches in the Pecos Valley Baptist Association are the Calvary Baptist and the First Baptist Churches of Monahans; Grace Temple, North Side and First Baptist Churches, Kermit; West Park and First Baptist Churches, Pecos; First Baptist Church, Wink; First Baptist Church, Crane; and the First Baptist Church, Fyote.

Helen McCullough

Mo. Miss McCullough was graduated from the Moody Bible Institute, Rice Institute, Houston, and the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

Preceding her appointment as a missionary, Miss McCullough taught in the public schools of Houston. She was a contract teacher in Wuchow and Canton, China, from 1926 until 1934, and was appointed full-time missionary by the Foreign Mission Board in 1935 to serve in China.

She served as a teacher in the Ming Jang Boys' School in Shanghai from 1936 until 1940, and did work in the Fellowship Center in Honolulu in 1941 and 1942. In 1947, she returned to Shanghai, where she served until she was forced to leave China because of Communist activities.

Services Scheduled

Symphonic Music Meet Postponed

The meeting of the Symphonic Listening Group of the American Association of University Women scheduled Tuesday has been postponed for one week to avoid conflict with several events scheduled the first of this week. It has been announced.

The meeting has been re-scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, January 20. It will be held in the home of Mrs. Louis Anderson, 1212 Country Club Drive.

"Monthly Pains" stopped or amazingly relieved

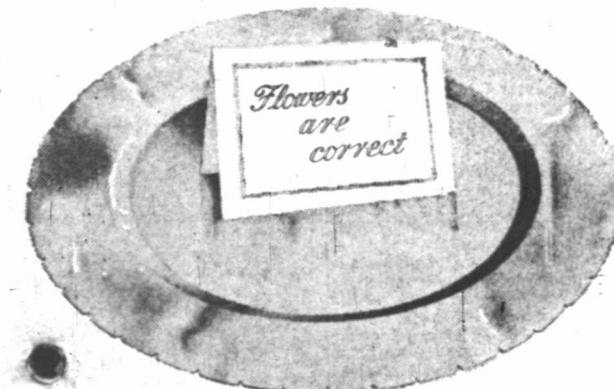

In 3 out of 4 cases in doctors' tests! • Chances are you're putting up unnecessarily—with the functionally caused pains, cramps and weak, "no good" feelings of menstruation!

For, in actual tests by doctors, Lydia Pinkham's Compound brought complete or striking relief from such distress in 3 out of 4 of the cases!

Lydia Pinkham's is modern in its action! So get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—or new, improved Tablets with added iron. See if—taken through 10 months—it doesn't give relief from backaches, jitters—help you feel better before and during your period! Or—if you suffer from "functional" "hot flashes" or "change of life," and out how wonderful Pinkham's is for that, too!

It has a soothing effect on uterine contractions that often cause menstrual pain!

Arts Reflect Social, Cultural Trends, Says Tech Speaker

The social and cultural characteristics of a period as reflected in its arts were discussed Saturday night by Dr. Gene Hemmle of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, who lectured before a group of about 50 interested Midlanders in the City-County Auditorium.

Dr. Hemmle's thesis was demonstrated by combinations of paintings and musical compositions, each characteristic of a certain period. His first, and most effective example was the power and boldness of the Baroque Period as illustrated by the painting "Storm Over Toledo" by El Greco, and in the "Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" by Bach.

Succeeding periods usually are characterized by exact opposites, and the art and music of the next period demonstrated by Hemmle were characterized by extreme delicacy. A painting representative of that period (circa 1770) was shown to have much in common with a sonata by Scarlatti played on the harpsichord.

The Classical Period of the late 18th Century, and the Romantic Period of the Victorian Era were mentioned in passing by Dr. Hemmle. The next demonstration of influence (and similarity, however, was of the Impressionistic Period, and included a landscape by Seurat and "Pavone" by Ravel. This period was characterized by an ethereal indistinctness of color and line in painting, and by absence of clean cut melodic line and rhythm in music.

Miss Hambleton Named Honoree For Luncheon

Mrs. George A. Pelletier was hostess for a luncheon Saturday at the Midland Country Club honoring Glenda Hambleton, bride-elect of George H. Kuhn, Jr.

Miss Hambleton and Kuhn are to be married in Midland on February 14.

Centerpiece for the luncheon table was a yellow umbrella, with ribbons extending from the handle to mark the honoree's place. Miniature figurines of ladies wearing bouffant dresses and carrying umbrellas marked the places for all guests.

Attending were Mrs. Clyde Hambleton, mother of the honoree; Mrs. Robert Burnam, who will be Miss Hambleton's matron of honor; Mrs. Theo Ferguson, Mrs. R. C. Maxson, Mrs. James Wilson, Mrs. Clifford Mowry, Ruth Hannah, Mrs. James Martin, the hostess and honoree.

Barbara C. Roberts, Walter Fraker Wed

Barbara Claire Roberts of Washington, D. C., and Walter Vere Fraker of Midland, exchanged vows January 4 in a ceremony at Balling Air Force Base in Washington.

The bride is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. John E. Roberts, formerly of San Angelo where Roberts was in charge of the station hospital at Goodfellow Air Force Base from 1948 to 1950. Col. Roberts now is stationed at the Pentagon.

Fraker is the son of Mrs. Marie Fraker of San Angelo. Both bride and bridegroom are graduates of San Angelo High School and the University of Texas. The bridegroom is employed by Core Laboratories, Inc., in Midland where the couple will live.

Tiny New Citizens Set Kermit Record

KERMIT—1952 was a baby boom year here.

County Clerk Jake Eisenwine reports 48 more babies were born in this county than in 1951. Then only 326 babies were born compared to the 1952 total of 374.

The male population here reversed its standing. In 1951 only 14 more girls were born than boys. During 1952, 52 more boys than girls were born.

More babies—46 of them—were born in September than in any other month of the year. In July, 38 babies were born.

Employer Honors Midland Salesman

W. W. Barker of Midland, a member of the Floyd Smith El Paso Agency of Bankers Life Company, Des Moines, Iowa, has earned membership in the 1952 Field's Club—top honor organization for the company's salesmen.

He won this recognition for ranking among the 124 leading salesmen of the entire field force in personal production of new business during the qualifying period for the club.

MIDLANDER NAMED TO RELIGIOUS WEEK PANEL

AUSTIN—Sarah Lew Link, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Link of Midland, has been appointed a member of the student committee at the University of Texas for the annual Religious Emphasis Week scheduled February 15-19.

P-TA TO MEET

The South Elementary Parent-Teacher Association will meet at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium. The general meeting will be preceded by a meeting of the executive board at 2:30 p.m., also in the school.

MEETING POSTPONED

The Craft Group of the Palette Club, 604 North Colorado Street, scheduled to meet Monday night, has postponed its meeting until 7:30 p.m. Wednesday to avoid conflict with the concert by Artur Rubinstein.

The last example showed a return to the primitive, yet expression was new and original. To demonstrate this, Gauguin's "La Orana Maria" was shown, and selections from "Schelomo" by Ernest Bloch were played.

Dr. Hemmle was brought to Midland by the Midland Symphony and Choral Association. He has been chairman of the Department of Music at Texas Tech since 1949, and formerly taught at Texas Western College in El Paso.

Dr. Hemmle closed his talk by complimenting Midland on the formation of its new symphony orchestra, commenting that it is such things which contribute toward a more balanced society.—WILLIAM H. CARTER

Artur Rubinstein To Play Midland Concert Monday

Expected to draw one of the largest audiences of the current Midland concert season, Artur Rubinstein, world-famous pianist, will give a concert for the Midland Civic Music Association Monday night.

The concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. When Rubinstein winds up his fifteenth consecutive concert tour of the United States with a May 11 appearance in Los Angeles, where he makes his home, he will complete one of the busiest seasons on record.

He will have played 110 times on four continents, including appearances with a score of the world's major orchestras. In Israel alone, where the pianist had not performed since 1935, he played 20 times in 20 days.

Gibson-Baskin Vows Read In Wink Church

KERMIT—The First Methodist Church in Wink was the scene of a double ring ceremony for Frances Gibson of Kermit and H. L. Baskin, Jr. The Rev. Harvey Carroll, pastor, officiated at late December vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Anderson of Wink. Baskin is the son of H. L. Baskin, Sr. of Odessa.

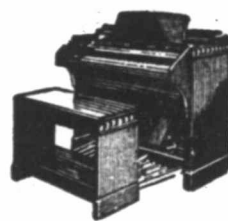

Mrs. Baskin was graduated from Wink High School and Draughton's Business College in Lubbock. She has been employed five years by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

A Double Opportunity

For a long time Secretary of State Dean Acheson has been the prisoner of his critics. He has been unable to make or execute certain kinds of policy, because to do so would have aroused a storm of opposition that might have stymied all policy.

The U. S. Foreign Service, vital overseas wing of the State Department, similarly has been entrapped. Fearing to do anything that somehow might not look good in the headlines of 1955, American diplomats have done relatively little of constructive value.

But in all the head-shaking over this unhappy condition, a few important things appear to have been overlooked. If the State Department and the Foreign Service were as strong as they ought to be, then they could not be captured so easily.

What has happened, therefore, is a reflection not merely of the strength of the State Department's opposition, but of the department's own weakness.

Some observers feel this weakness has been developing over a long period. The department's prestige, these men say, has been so marred that it is totally out of key with America's position as the most powerful nation on earth.

Many factors undoubtedly account for the evident decline. In recent times, the ascendancy of the foreign aid establishment has given rise to a new phenomenon, the economic ambassador, to rival the traditional "political" ambassador. It is entirely possible, too, that the growing complexity of world events has outdated the practice of choosing top diplomats from the ranks of top domestic campaign contributors.

The incoming secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, thus would seem to be confronted with a double opportunity.

He will enjoy reasonable freedom to make policy without fear of being swarmed over by domestic political opponents of the Eisenhower Administration. There will be opposition, of course, but it is unlikely to have the fury of that which greeted Acheson at every turn.

More than that, Dulles will have the chance to rebuild the prestige and power of the State Department, including the Foreign Service, into an establishment worthy of the preeminence of America in world affairs.

If Dulles can make American diplomacy abroad a symbol of high purpose, dignity, responsibility and consistent policy, he will have carved himself an enduring niche in the long line of American secretaries of State.

Careful nursing will cure just about everything but a grouch or a grievance.

People who really do not intend to pay back should borrow nothing but trouble.

It's a lot better to go to the law with some of your roubles, than to your in-laws.

We Easily Could Be Convinced Of His Sincerity

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Famous Soviet spy enticed scientist and British diplomats behind Iron Curtain; Rottin'-tootin' Rankin takes ribbin'; New Idaho congressman is rugged campaigner.

WASHINGTON—Italian and Allied authorities now believe they have pieced together part of the amazing facts by which Soviet agents enticed the nuclear physicist Bruno Pontecorvo behind the Iron Curtain, inveigled the two British diplomats, Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean, away from London, and kidnapped Noel Field, the former State Department employee.

All these weird incidents, they believe, go back to one man—the top Soviet agent in Western Europe. His best-known name is "H. Karl," although he has many assumed names, travels alternately on four different passports, speaks six languages, and is the most accomplished spy in Europe today.

Karl is supposed to have been born in Austria, and began his espionage work with the Nazis. He worked with Admiral Canaris' Nazi spy group in the Middle East and is reported to have been the man who planted the Albanian valet on the British ambassador in Istanbul, thereby permitting Hitler to obtain the British secret code and some of the Allies' top war secrets.

Early in 1944, Karl either was captured by the Russians or decided to switch his allegiance. At any rate he has been one of Russia's top agents ever since.

Karl was in Prague when Noel Field was kidnapped and also was believed to have been instrumental in enticing other members of the Field family behind the Iron Curtain on the guise of rescuing him.

Allied authorities give Karl almost sole credit for the amazing job of sneaking the British scientist, Pontecorvo, with his precious secrets of the hydrogen bomb, out of England and behind the Iron Curtain.

They believe Karl had earlier contacts with Pontecorvo in England, then arranged to meet him when the scientist went to Milan, Italy, on vacation.

From there, Pontecorvo and his entire family flew to Stockholm, then to Helsinki, where a Red army plane was waiting to take them to Russia.

Unlike the two British diplomats who left their families behind, and Field, whose family had to be enticed behind the Iron Curtain after he was kidnapped, Pontecorvo took his with him. Thus it appeared that he took the trip deliberately and with the idea of financial reward in Russia. He could have appealed to the Italian police in Milan had he not wanted to leave.

British diplomats Burgess and MacLean are believed to have been lured to a point near Udine, Italy, through a combination of blackmail and bribery. Their known perversion background lent itself to this. From Udine they are reported to have flown in a private plane, without customs clearances, to Red territory in Austria.

Karl, the Soviet master-mind behind most of these abductions, is described as 50 years old, five feet, nine inches tall, weighing 170 pounds; fair hair, balding gray at temples; yellowish complexion; blue-gray eyes with tendency to squint; slit-line mouth, thin lips, rounding chin; uses pince-nez or heavy tortoise-shell glasses to vary his appearance.

His chief identifying mark is a drooping underlip from an old scar, which partly is obscured by a full blonde-gray mustache.

Rottin'-tootin' Rankin Ohio's fat, jolly Congressman Clarence Brown, Republican, was plodding down Capitol corridor the other day, when he spotted Mississippi's forlorn lame-duck Congressman John Rankin.

Rankin, one of the worst rabble-rousers in Congress, long was famous for his attacks on minority groups, especially the Jews. He even dug up a West Point yearbook from which he deduced that Eisenhower was Jewish.

dent investigator at Idlewild, N. Y., a good man for the job. . . . President Truman's first order of business after he leaves the White House is to sift through his vast stack of records and start writing his memoirs. He has told friends he'll do nothing "political" for at least six months after leaving Washington.

Despite industry pressure OPS will not remove ceiling prices on furniture or children's clothing. . . . OPS Boss Joe Freshill caught pneumonia on Friday and insisted on going to work the following Monday.

New House Speaker Joe Martin is being deluged with request from Republican congressmen who want to get a seat on the un-American Activities Committee — they want to get into the Senate via sensational investigations, a la Nixon. . . . When Senator McCarran was on the witness stand under oath in the Las Vegas Sun pre-trial, he was as nervous as a bride.

Senator Taft's friends say that the senator's great ambition in life these days is to be appointed chief justice of the Supreme Court in the footsteps of his distinguished father, Lady From Idaho.

Politics and backseat driving don't mix. Grace Pfoz learned in the recent campaign, when she became the first woman in history to be elected to Congress from Idaho — also one of the few Democrats in the nation to unseat a GOP incumbent, veteran John Wood.

Campaigning often is rough work in the wide open spaces of Idaho, and experts of both parties didn't think a woman politico would be equal to it. But Mrs. Pfoz fooled 'em. She got around partly by plane, but mostly by auto, with her husband, Jack Pfoz, a retired engineer, at the wheel.

Jack had no backseat driving problems with me because I was too busy writing speeches on a portable typewriter bouncing around on my knees, said the vivacious, auburn-haired lady. "Jack was a big help. He yelled back ideas from the front seat."

I turned back to the main aisle, skirting the glove counter, and moved around in front of the fancy imported cosmetics booth that fitted snugly into a cubicle in the wall. It was barely 12 feet long and it had three elegant stools padded in pink satin for customers. The cash register for the department was discreetly below the level of the counter. Only the glass-enclosed section that showed the amount rung up was visible from the front. That was Maxwell's target. His binoculars had been watching those totals all day long. You see, he was written down on his clipboard.

Just as customer was seated at the counter. She was a short and skinny dowager with a demanding voice. Normally four girls worked at the counter. I had noticed, but I could see only three just then. One of them was busy with the customer and the other two were giggling quietly together in the back.

THE cosmetics counter was reserved for the imported varieties. You get three pounds of cut crystal and a quarter-dram of perfume for about the same amount of money that would make a down payment on a car. The booth kept an inventory worth $40,000 and about five times that amount in a covered stockroom in the sub-basement.

I moved on past the stools, waiting for the last customer to get her package and go home. The big clock above my head was barely audible through the heavy surge of last-minute noise. I heard it strike once. That made it 8:15 and time to move. I held up my hand to signal Maxwell. Gilbert came in from my right, and Mrs. Rosen stopped nursing her foot and started toward me.

Gilbert was a new man — as my

WASHINGTON COLUMN

U. S. Has Made Giant Strides In 20 Years, Politics Or Not

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The United States which President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's Republican Administration takes over on January 20 is a far different country from what it was when the Democrats took over 20 years ago. The changes are worth examining as a matter of sheer growth, and not just as a matter of political cause and effect.

From one point of view, the United States is where it is today in spite of the last 20 years of Democratic rule or the 12 years of Republican rule before that. In this period the country has survived a ruinous depression, a hot war and a cold one.

The fear of the atom bomb and of another war have taken the places of fears of poverty in 1932. The U. S. armed forces numbered 300,000 men then, and the world was enjoying a disarmament treaty. Today the U. S. has 2,500,000 men and women in uniform.

There is social security for most of the people today—old-age retirement, unemployment insurance and such things. The standard of living is visibly higher. Its new ultimate seems to be the deep freeze, the automatic washing machine and the television set—all of which were just being dreamed about in 1932. Legalized drinking has replaced bootlegging, home brew and bathtub gin in all but the local option states.

The number of passenger cars has more than doubled, from 20,000,000 to more than 40,000,000. The FBI reports this 20-year change in the crime rates: Murder and voluntary manslaughter are down 27 per cent. Robbery is down 80 per cent and auto thefts down 48 per cent. Burglary is about even, having declined only eight-tenths of one per cent. Rape is up 77 per cent, aggravated assault up 70 per cent, larceny up 42 per cent.

School Attendance Up School attendance has increased from 27,000,000 to 29,000,000, which isn't as much of an increase as it should be, in proportion to the growth in population from 125,000,000 to 155,000,000 people. But the number of college graduates has increased from 122,000 in 1932 to 271,000 for 1952.

Infant mortality rates have been cut down from 60 per thousand to 30. The total death rate has dropped from 11 per thousand to nine. Life expectancy has been raised from 60 to 66 for men, 63 to 71 for women.

There are more and better food and consumer's goods available—and they cost more. The cost-of-living index has more than doubled from the low of 92 in 1933 to more than 190 today.

In the same 20 years the average earnings in manufacturing have jumped from $17 a week to $70. If you figure today's dollar as worth only half of what it used to be, the wage rise still is double. Statistically, the per capita disposable income has jumped from $383 a year in 1932 to an estimated $1,466 today. More people are earning this money. The labor force has increased from 51,000,000 in 1932 to almost 64,000,000 today. Unemployment has dropped from more than 12,000,000 to less than 3,000,000. So the net figures on employment are an increase from 39,000,000 to 62,000,000—which is almost 60 per cent.

Housing Rooms The number of families, or households as the census takers call them, has increased from 30,000,000 to 45,000,000. More than a million new housing units have been built in each of the last five years. They cost a lot more than houses used to cost, too.

Perhaps the greatest changes of the last 20 years have come in farm life. They are measured not alone in better roads and more of them, rural electrification and inside plumbing. In spite of declining farm population, farm production has increased through new farm practices and programs that together mean a higher standard of rural living than the world has ever known.

These are the facts of everyday living as they hit the average citizen. Over and above them is a vast realm of figures which measure the economic growth of the nation whole.

The gross national product of goods and services has risen steadily from $56,000,000,000 in 1932 to a rate of $342,000,000. The index of industrial production is up from 68 to 230.

New construction has risen from $2,900,000,000 for the year 1932 to $2,700,000,000 for the month of November, 1952, alone.

Bank loans are up from $30,000,000,000 in June, 1933, to $140,000,000,000. Consumer credit is up from $3,500,000,000 to $22,000,000,000. In this same 20 years the government debt has risen from $20,000,000,000 to $280,000,000,000, but few people seem to worry much about debts.

Federal tax collections have risen from $2,000,000,000 to $62,000,000,000 in these same 20 years. There's plenty of worry about that.

The Golden Door

By Bart Spicer Copyright by Bart Spicer. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

I DROPPED my cigaret over the curb and went through the revolving door into the Jonas Department Store. Shortly after 5 o'clock the store reaches its peak of activity, and on the main floor alone possibly a thousand shoppers were elbowing through the narrow aisles. All that commotion should make my job simpler.

I stopped just inside the door, away from the traffic, and looked around the store for my people. Up on that phony wrought-iron balcony above the main floor Gilbert and Mrs. Rosen were elbowing the cash register.

All three of the girls were fixing their faces when I jumped the glass. They looked up with wide, newly-red mouths making perfect circles. Only the short blonde moved to stop me.

"You're not allowed back here," she said sharply. Gilbert unhooked the gate set in the counter and ushered Mrs. Rosen backstage.

The blonde girl sank both handfuls of nails into my arm and shoved at me. The other two were wide-eyed and frozen, but the little bouncy girl was going to draw blood, my minute.

"Cut it out," I growled. "It's all official. Where's the manager?" She squirmed away from me and ran toward a paneled door set in the back wall.

"Boone! Burglars!" she yelled. "Miss Boone! Burglars!"

"Stop it, Daphne," she said. "Stop it." One hand went on patting the girl's back tenderly, but the glance I got was cold and stern. "Well?"

"Sorry about the fright," I said. "You're the manager?" She nodded silently. She put both hands on the girl's shoulders and made her sit on a bench against the wall. Then she moved out into the light where I could see her. She was a bit taller than her girl, a bit older, too, I guessed. She held her head firmly erect and her mouth was tense. In that position, her jaw was wider than mine and twice as determined.

Which was probably why she held it that way. But the hair was what caught my eye. She was still on the happy side of 30, but her hair was a fine pale gray. This was gray hair of the sort that belonged on a woman 40 years older. It focused your attention as no routine hair would do.

I took out my credentials and the letter from Eli Jones, the owner, and offered them to her. "I'm the security officer here," I said. "Here's a letter from Eli authorizing me to close your counter. She read it without a change of house staff. None of the Jonas employees knew him. Mrs. Rosen was an ex-police matron picking up a day's pay. Somewhere in the crowd of customers should be four inventory clerks heading toward us. I went straight to the counter and swung myself over the glass bar. Gilbert and Mrs. Rosen stayed outside, bracketing the cash register.

So They Say

Anybody who has an answer to the Korean war one minute or to save a single life should give it immediately to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

—Anna Rosenberg, Assistant Secretary of Defense.

We cannot afford to permit Russia to fill the power vacuums of the world. In other words we cannot afford not to build an empire.

—Dr. S. Grover Rich, political scientist, University of Utah.

We have reached a time when we ought to leave off name-calling and try to get down to a real understanding and unity behind our foreign program.

—Senator Estes Kefauver.

Q—Have the Hawaiians erected a monument to Captain James Cook, the discoverer of the Islands? A—The spot where Cook was slain by islanders in Kealakekua Bay, Hawaii, is marked under water. This memorial below the surface of the sea, probably the only one of its kind, is visible only at low tide.

Q—Where does the Parliament of Ireland meet? A—In Dublin's Leinster House.

Q—How did the touch-me-not get its name? A—Because its seed pods fly open at the slightest touch.

Q—When were silk stockings first worn? A—King Henry II of France introduced them in 1569.

Have A Laugh

Life is a funny proposition. If a man gives to charity, some folks say he does it for show. And if he holds on to his money, he's no good.

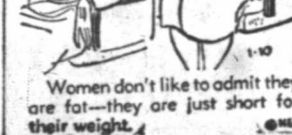

If he takes an interest in public affairs, they say he is out to feather his own nest. If he doesn't take an interest in politics, he is lacking in public spirit.

If he takes a drink, he's a drunkard. And if he doesn't drink, he's a crank.

When he came into the world, everybody wanted to kiss him; but, before he goes out, everybody wants to kick him.

Yes, life is a funny proposition.

Knotty Backlog Of Problems Waits On Lawmakers' Desks

By BOB BYERS

AUSTIN—(AP)—A huge, knotty backlog of ready-made work was dumped on the desks of lawmakers today Monday for Tuesday's opening of the 53rd Legislature.

The Legislative Council's 50-page digest of suggestions including plans to help Texas cities find more operating funds was approved Sunday. Legislators can go to work on it as soon as they organize.

The council report also had a dozen suggestions for boosting state revenue by plugging tax loopholes. It urged the federal government to drop its two-cent gasoline tax, and let that money go to the states.

The 17-member council and its full-time research staff has been at work two years digging up information on water, taxation, local government, highways and other key issues facing the 53rd session.

The Senate and House will get down to business simultaneously at 10 a. m. Tuesday. Many of the 150 House members and 91 Senators already were primed with proposed legislation touching almost every phase of life in Texas.

Gov. Allan Shivers jokingly predicted a mad rush to see who will be first with a bill to repeal the controversial auto inspection law.

Sen. Carlos Ashley of Llano has promised to introduce just such a bill. He says tough enforcement of traffic laws will save more lives than a mechanical inspection measure.

Reps. Bert Hall of Rio Vista and H. D. Buchanan of Longview see merit in inspection requirements but plan to offer improved, amended versions.

Rep. A. D. Downer of Center wants to follow the example of states who run their own inspection stations. He said he will submit a bill to create a central inspection station, owned and operated by the state, in each county.

A state inspector would prescribe necessary adjustments and repairs, but people would have the work done at garages of their own choosing.

Legislators are hot under the collar about how much money office seekers had to pay to file as candidates under the new election law last year, and several have promised action on this point.

Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston said he would offer a bill specifically to limit to a smaller sum the required filing fees.

Rep. Joe R. Pool of Dallas said, "There is so much wrong with the election code that it would take several pages to tell all the changing that must be done. In my opinion, it is a very sloppy piece of legislation, and must be amended in many instances to make it practicable."

He intends to introduce legislation "to make the election laws more practical and still operate in a democratic manner."

Rep. Cole Garrett of Corpus Christi did not promise a bill but said he saw a "definite need for a sterner penalty for driving while intoxicated."

He also suggested a general overhaul of liquor laws, particularly with reference to clubs operating as bars in a semi-legal status.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton was preparing to submit a bill giving Texas a presidential preference primary. This would let people vote on whom they want as the presidential candidate of their party.

Rep. George Hinson of Mineola planned to file a bill requiring the Department of Public Welfare to make known, under certain conditions, the names of persons receiving old age assistance or any welfare benefits, and the amounts.

Rep. Virginia Duff of Ferris said she would seek a stiffer penalty for a person who knowingly sells narcotics to a minor.

Representative Downer said in addition to his car inspection bill, he had several others likely to set off fireworks. One of these would create a state-owned and operated casualty insurance company to sell all forms of casualty insurance, including workmen's compensation, at the standard rate throughout the state.

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi was preparing constitutional amendments to permit women on juries and to raise legislators' pay.

He said he also would offer a bill to make government agencies liable in damages for the wrongful acts of their agents and employees.

Trio Of Nurses Discovers Texas; They Like Midland

Midland is noted for the cosmopolitan nature of its population, with people coming here every day from all parts of the United States and the world abroad.

The latest addition to this growing Permian Basin city is a trio of attractive nurses, who came here from frozen Northern states near the Great Lakes to work at the Western Clinic-Hospital.

The three young girls graduated from the Kahler School of Nursing, Rochester, Minn., in September. Kahler is affiliated with the famed Mayo Clinic of Minnesota.

What? No Snow? It is the first time any of the nurses have ever been either south or west of their native states. All lived in three states clustered together—Lois Blumenn, 22, Chippewa Falls, Wis.; Donna Baumann, 21, Elkton, D. D.; and Joan Flitter, 21, Mankato, Minn.

Saturday the three girls went apartment-hunting with the aid of John McNeil, administrator at Western Clinic-Hospital. The three nurses plan to live together in a small apartment near the hospital.

They were surprised at the absence of snow in Midland. One reported blizzards were sweeping the Midwest when they left the North for the journey to Midland.

Lois was impressed by the sociable nature of Midlanders. She said, "They are the friendliest people I have ever known."

Donna joined the conversation, saying, "I have never seen such a wide, vast country as Texas."

Joan noticed the orderly, roomy city planning of Midland. She commented, "Nothing seems to be crowded here." She thought the city was much more modern than she had expected.

Andrews Schedules First United Fund Effort January 31

ANDREWS—Give Once for All is the slogan set up by officials of the forthcoming Andrews County's first United Fund Drive which will start here January 31.

Steering committee members met last week to map ways and means in an effort to raise the quota for seven individual charities in one concerted drive.

Quotas of the seven units totaled approximately $10,000. The drive will open officially with a kick-off breakfast for workers at 9:30 a. m. From that meeting, teams will spread out to cover the town and county.

Members of the Lions Club will handle the donations in the business district, and captains with innumerable workers will comb the rest of the town and county.

A large thermometer will be erected on the southeast corner of the courthouse square to keep tally on the amount taken in during the day.

At 2:30 p. m. the Andrews High School band will give a concert downtown. That night, the annual fund raising dance will be held at the Humble Recreation Hall.

Winkler Records 40 Deaths In '52

KERMIT—Eight babies were among the 40 deaths recorded here in Winkler County during 1952.

Accidents accounted for five deaths; one death was recorded as possible homicide, and the remaining 34 deaths were due to natural causes.

Whether a homicide will go down in the record books here will depend on what verdict a jury will give in the case of Ida Pierra. Charged with murder of her baby, she is presently free on $5,000 bail.

Mrs. Mathea Domingue, 102, was the oldest person to die here in 1952. Born in Mexico in 1850, Mrs. Domingue died July 20.

Minnesotan Thinks 'Pacific NATO' Best Bet To Crimp Reds

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Judd (R-Minn.) said Monday a "Pacific NATO" to block Communist aggression in the Far East might succeed better than such an alliance has in Europe.

"The Orientals are realists," told a reporter. "They know the Communist danger at first hand and they are more obligated to us for support. It's their battle as well as ours."

Judd said he felt sure the Eisenhower Administration, to be inaugurated January 20, will be "sympathetic" to proposals for creation of an Asian army. He said he conferred with John Foster Dulles, named by Eisenhower to be secretary of State, and found Dulles had "a growing awareness of Asia's importance."

Top military men say privately that a Pacific equivalent of NATO could be formed. They say even Japanese troops could be absorbed into an international army on the same pattern as blueprints to put French and German troops under international control.

State Department officials heretofore have expressed belief this would be difficult because of the distances between nations, Oriental jealousies and a latent fear of Japanese imperialism.

McIntyre Becomes First Church Prince From Western U. S.

ROME—(AP)—James Francis Cardinal McIntyre Monday became the first prince of the church in history from the Far Western United States.

He received the "biglietto" formally notifying him of his elevation from Msgr. Thomas Ryan, an Irishman, at 10:40 a. m. at the historic North American Pontifical College here.

The new cardinal, in an address to a large group of friends and fellow clergymen gathered with him, said it was "with profound reverence and a deep sense of unworthiness" that he received the biglietto—a written notification from the Vatican.

"In extending our thanks and our expression of gratitude," he added, "we commence with acts of dutiful adoration and homage to our Divine Saviour, the Lord and Master of all graces, blessing and mercies."

"The non-Catholic people of California and the Archdiocese of Los Angeles join heartily," the cardinal said, "with all their Catholic brethren in acknowledging with appreciation the recognition that has come to their faith."

"A tremendous joy has bestirred the hearts of a faithful Catholic people and has stimulated them to prayerful acknowledgment of this renowned honor and distinction that has been bestowed upon their archbishop and their metropolis."

Dr. Gardner Slates Three Area Sermons

ANDREWS—Dr. T. C. Gardner, Baptist training union director of Texas, will speak at three different churches in this area Sunday.

He will speak at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning at 10 a. m. at the Fullerton Baptist Church at 11 a. m., and at the Seminole First Baptist Church at 3 p. m.

Dr. Gardner will speak to a mass rally in Seminole to launch simultaneous training union revival in which the 12 churches of the Gaines, Andrews and Yoakum Association will participate.

Workers from over the state will lead revivals in the different churches. Mrs. Hudson Taylor, Dallas, will lead the First Baptist of Andrews in the work.

Pope Pius Creates 24 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Pope Pius XII Monday elevated 24 prelates of the Roman Catholic church to its College of Cardinals in a secret consistory opening four days of sacred rites here.

Other cardinals silently bowed their heads in agreement and homage to their sovereign pontiff as the pope announced his choices at a meeting of the college in the 100-foot-long, marbled Consistorial Hall, the largest chamber of the Pope's Vatican apartment.

The historic act brought the enrollment of the college—the church's senate—to its full quota of 70 cardinals for the first time in almost 200 years.

The new cardinals include the first wearer of the red hat from the United States' Far West, James Francis McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles; and two primates of Communist-ruled countries where the Catholic church is under bitter attack.

The latter are Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac, "conditionally" freed from jail in Yugoslavia a year ago, and Archbishop Stefan Wysynski of Poland. Neither is in Rome for the official notification that they have been made princes of the church.

The secret consistory Monday was the first of a series of ancient and sacred rites in connection with the elevation of the new cardinals. They will culminate Thursday in a great and colorful public consistory at Peter's, at which the Pontiff will confer on the new church princes their galeros, or red hats.

The Pope officially made known his nominations in an address during which he recalled that seven years had passed since the post-war consistory of 1946. At that time he named 32 cardinals—the highest number elevated at one time in the history of the church.

Since then, he said, the college had suffered grave losses of eminent men.

The Pope said he was moved to create new cardinals not only to bring the college to its full complement but also by a desire to reward those who had "distinguished themselves in our eyes by their active and prudent conduct and notably contributed to the Christian religion."

Japan To Receive First U. S. Navy Ships Wednesday

TOKYO—(AP)—The first of 68 U. S. Navy ships to be turned over to Japan will be transferred formally Wednesday at the U. S. Naval Base at Yokosuka, near Tokyo.

The first group includes six frigates and four large landing ships. In all, the U. S. will lend Japan 18 frigates of the 1,500-ton class and 50 landing vessels of the 450-ton class. They will be loaned to Japan five years without charge under an act passed by Congress last year.

The Japanese Maritime Safety Board has 46 ships, all but three of them 450 tons or less.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida, in a letter to U. S. authorities last April requesting the loan of ships, said 46 were not enough to guard Japan's 9,000 miles of coastline.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Toe Bells

Minybell is the name of the big yellow cat who lives at the Ring-tail monkey house in the Great Forest. One of Minnybell's favorite tricks was to hide behind a door or maybe under a chair. Minnybell would jump out and bite and scratch Mugwump's feet. Of course, Minnybell was only playing and didn't bite or scratch very hard, but Mugwump didn't like it. It made him jump, and I think maybe that is why Minnybell did it in the first place. Just to see Mugwump do his jumping. I mean.

Now this used to be one of Minnybell's favorite tricks, but Minnybell doesn't do it any more and I want to tell you why. Minnybell did the trick one day—jumped out of Mugwump's feet without house-shoes on them—and bit and scratched to see Mugwump jump. Mugwump jumped, all right, and he gave a big shout.

But Mother Ringtail said: "Now, Mugwump, Minnybell does the jumping and scratching and biting only when you don't have on your house-shoes." Mother Ringtail explained that people ought to wear their house-shoes early in the morning anyway, unless they're going to put on their outdoor shoes right away, because the floor is cold in the morning in winter time. But Mugwump just couldn't remember to put his shoes on, and he did want to stop Minnybell from playing the trick of jumping out, so Mugwump went to his room and got out one of the little bells that had come on a Christmas present. He tied the bell with a string around Minnybell's neck so that he could hear Minnybell coming and get out of the way with his feet.

By Wesley Davis

It was a very fine plan and I think it would have stopped Minnybell from playing the trick, except Mother Ringtail thought of an even better way to stop it. She sewed some of the little bells on Mugwump's house-shoes. And now when she doesn't hear the tinkle of the bells, she calls to Mugwump to put on his shoes.

Mugwump doesn't get cold feet any more and Minnybell doesn't jump out any more because Mugwump is always wearing his shoes. And maybe you would want some bells on the toes of your house-shoes if you have a cat who jumps out at your feet, or if you have trouble remembering to wear your shoes. Happy day!

Brownell To Inherit Wholesale Array Of Hot Potatoes From McGranery's Era

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorney General James P. McGranery, a busy man these last eight months, is handing over to his Republican successor the biggest batch of active court cases ever passed on from one administration to another.

Also probably the most explosive. The prosecution package which the incoming attorney general, Herbert Brownell, Jr., of New York, will find on his desk includes some very hot potatoes.

Most government agencies have been marking time of late, pending "the change." Not so McGranery. With his tenure down to a matter of days, he still is sending up juridical skyrocket cases which are landing on all sides of the political fence.

To Name A Few
Assorted actions of the last week included:

Antitrust indictment against the Kansas City Star and its president, Rob A. Roberts, long-time foe of the Pendergast political machine in President Truman's home state and ardent supporter of President-elect Eisenhower.

Two grand jury indictments against T. Vincent Quinn, long-time Democrat, currently district attorney of Queens County, N. Y., and a former assistant U. S. attorney general under Tom Clark. Quinn was accused of unlawfully accepting legal fees while a member of Congress in 1948-51, and for representing individuals and business concerns in civil tax cases.

Fellow Democrats
Quinn is the latest of a long list of fellow Democrats to feel the sting of McGranery's investigative activity.

The attorney general meanwhile continues to push a District of Columbia grand jury inquiry into an alleged international oil cartel, involving most of the large petroleum companies in this country and some of the big contributors to the Republican campaign chest.

This is an antitrust proceeding which McGranery would like to add to the list of 137 other antitrust cases, on trial or being prepared for trial, which he is handing over to Brownell with a "you take it from here."

Like 'Who's Who'
The roster of these cases, some initiated by Attorneys General Clark and J. Howard McGrath, reads something like a Who's Who in big business.

The list includes: American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiary, Western Electric; E. I. du Pont de Nemours and members of the wealthy Du Pont family of Wilmington, Del.; General Motors; U. S. Rubber; General Electric; International Business Machines Corporation; Armour and Company; the Borden Company; Cement Institute; the A&P grocery chain; Kroger and Company; Jewel Tea Company; Procter and Gamble; Colgate-Palmolive; Lever Brothers; a score of the nation's largest investment bankers—to mention a few.

Criminal Actions
In the criminal prosecution field, the new administration inherits for trial the indictments of one-time State Department consultant Owen Lattimore, charged with perjury in his repeated denials that he ever promoted Communist interests; Henry W. (The Dutchman) Grunwald, charged with contempt of Congress for refusing to answer questions about his contacts with influential Washingtonians; former Internal Revenue Commissioner Joseph D. Numan, Jr., and his ex-top aide, Daniel A. Bolich, for alleged income tax evasion; the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, accused of filing false financial statements with federal agencies while negotiating for RFC credit.

There is a raft of others, large and small, involving charges of perjury, contempt, tax evasion and other frauds against the government.

Aliens On Grill
McGranery still has before a grand jury here the strange story which Abraham Teitelbaum, Chicago City Bans Protestant Services

BOGOTA, COLOMBIA (AP)—The Central Mission of the Presbyterian Church here reported Monday that the mayor of Valledupar, in Magdalena district, has banned all religious services, publicity and building of churches by all Protestant denominations in the town.

The measure reportedly applies to United States citizens as well as to Colombians.

colago attorney, told a congressional committee a year ago about an alleged attempt to shake him down for $500,000 in connection with a tax case settlement.

Another jury here has "the case of the surplus ships," reputedly bought cheap and sold dear after World War II to net millions in profits for a small group of prominent persons headed by former Rep. Joseph E. Casey (D-Mass.).

In full swing is a McGranery drive to denaturalize and deport more than 100 aliens who rose to underworld power after acquiring American citizenship. About a score of these proceedings are already underway. A similar program has been started to get rid of naturalized American Communists convicted under the Smith Act, which prohibits conspiracy to teach overthrow of the government by force.

Charles Chaplin Case
Incidentally, it will be up to Brownell to adopt a policy regarding the British comedian Charles Chaplin, now abroad on a visit. McGranery has posted stop-orders at all ports of entry against his return, asserting Chaplin must undergo examination "like any other alien" to establish his admissibility whenever he comes back to the United States.

The action, McGranery said, was prompted by "public moral charges." Within the Justice Department which the Republicans are about to take over, McGranery has just made effective a flat ban on outside law practice by department attorneys.

'Mess In Washington'
All this appears to be McGranery's reply to the shouts of the opposition when he was appointed last year that he would never do anything about what some called "the mess in Washington," including alleged foot-dragging by the Justice Department.

Now there are charges that the Justice Department's recent activity has included some elements of vindictiveness. Senator Carlson (R-Kan.) made such an accusation this week. Carlson described the indictment against the Kansas City Star as "punitive action" prompted by President Truman as a result of that newspaper's long fight against corruption in Missouri.

McGranery has made no reply. His friends report that he is packing up with the feeling that he cleaned out a lot of bottom drawers in the Justice Department and will leave behind a record of activity for successors to shoot at.

Three Fliers Die As B-26 Bomber Crashes In Storm

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA. (AP)—An Air Force bomber, groping its way through fog and rain, plunged into a wooded area near this Central Virginia city Sunday.

Searchers found parts of bodies in the crash, indicating all three crewmen died. Witnesses who saw the plane diving groundward said no one bailed out.

The plane, a B-26 on a routine flight from Washington to Dallas, cracked up five minutes after radioing a CAA control tower that slabs of ice were forming on the wings.

The Air Force identified the crew as: Capt. Charles S. Herring, 31, the pilot, Falls Church, Va.; S. Sgt. James R. Quaintance, 23, Washington and Reading, Pa.; Michael C. Jenkins, a Navy civilian employe, Indianhead, Md.

Churchill Lolls In Tropical Sun

TOWER ISLE, JAMACIA (AP)—British Prime Minister Churchill worked on his war memoirs and lollied in the tropical sun Monday at his walled end guarded vacation retreat here.

He was reported to be getting in some painting and swimming also. Sunday, another prominent escapee from Britain's wet winter cold, Publisher Lord Beaverbrook, drove through the guarded entrance of prospect estate for a luncheon date with Churchill.

GENERALS WHO BECAME PRESIDENT—1

It is a strange paradox that American people have always been hesitant about turning the reins of government over to a military man, yet 10 active generals have been elected. Washington was the first. Because of his great record at the First Continental Congress in 1774, he was chosen to lead the Continental Army.

His brilliant nine-year military career ended with the defeat of Cornwallis at Yorktown on Oct. 19, 1781. With successful military achievements in the French-Indian Wars, at Valley Forge and at Mowmouth, Washington showed he was a natural leader and capable of leading the new-born nation during the critical days that lay ahead.

"Long live George Washington," the people shouted at his inauguration. Although not versed in the principles of government, he was honest and ever faithful to the liberty of America. His personal character was worth a great deal to the new democratic experiment.

Doomed Tulsa Slayer Hopes Bald Head May Save His Life

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Convicted slayer Carl Austin DeWolf is waiting Monday to die in the electric chair January 27, but he hopes his bald head may yet save his life.

DeWolf, convicted of slaying a Tulsa detective in 1946 after a running gun battle, is light complexioned and bald, except for sideburns. New witnesses have testified the man they saw fleeing from the scene of the shooting had bushy hair and a dark complexion.

The conflicting testimony has prompted Gov. Johnston Murray to issue four stays of execution and has provoked an unprecedented review by the State Penal Institutions Committee, which convenes Monday.

Committee Chairman Senator Kirksey Nix, a McAlester, Okla., criminal lawyer, says frankly he believes DeWolf has been railroaded. He said he has five new witnesses who will testify the slayer had bushy hair. He said if the committee believes, after the testimony, that DeWolf is not the murderer, it will ask the governor for a fifth stay of execution and start proceedings for a new trial.

The State Pardon and Parole Board twice has refused to commute the death sentence to life imprisonment. After an extensive review of the case the board recently voted unanimously that DeWolf must die, and Governor Murray announced he had given the doomed man his last stay of execution unless something happens to change the entire complexion of things. The legislative committee may do just that.

Identified As Killer
These are the events that led to DeWolf's conviction. A grocery store was robbed in Tulsa Aug. 30, 1946. Police chased a suspect through the streets and a wild gun battle ensued. In it, Gerald St. Clair, a Tulsa detective, was shot to death.

At first Lloyd Everhart was charged with the slaying—but he was shot to death at a roadblock. The prosecution said it later found Everhart was in Richmond, Ind., at the time of the slaying, getting treatments at a hospital.

DeWolf was arrested in California and the murder gun was found in his possession. He claimed the gun was given him by Everhart. Eyewitnesses at the trial identified DeWolf as the slayer, and others said the gun was in his possession before the shooting.

In death row at the penitentiary, DeWolf has maintained his innocence. He told Tulsa World reporter Gilbert Asher, "I've done a lot of things I'm ashamed of, but murder is not one of them. As God is my judge, I am innocent of the death of officer Gerald St. Clair."

WHEN YOU REPORT A FIRE— Fergoshsakes Tell The Man What Is Burning And Where

The excited voice spoke hastily over the telephone. "The ball park is on fire!"

"I don't know," answered the unknown voice. "But the ball park is burning!"

There happens to be two major ball parks in Midland, Memorial Stadium for the football players, and Indian Park, the home of Midland's baseball aggregation. There are other lesser parks.

VILLIAN SUBDUED—John Alden (Van Johnson) cements his friendship with Priscilla Mullins (Dawn Addams) when he protects her from a sailor in this scene from "Plymouth Adventure," M-G-M's thrilling sea drama depicting the voyage of the Mayflower to the New World. Spencer Tracy and Gene Tierney also are starred in the technicolor spectacle showing through Tuesday at the Yucca Theater.

They Go Looking
So what did the firemen do? They raced to Indian Park (it turned out to be a grass fire) and then checked Memorial Stadium on the return trip to the fire station.

That's but one example of the problems Chief J. M. Little has at the Midland Fire Department when Midlanders report fires and do not give complete information.

Little quoted another case to indicate what lack of information can do in hampering the work of the firemen.

Fire At 'Avery'
There were until recently three "Avery" buildings in Midland—the Avery-Standford unit, the Wemple-Avery building and the Avery Speedometer Shop.

The Avery-Standford location now is known as the Deed Oil Company, but Little is hoping that he will not receive a call from a Midlander reporting a fire at the "Avery Building."

Little also said anyone calling in a fire should give as much information as possible, always telling the correct address, and, whenever possible, the nature of the fire.

It Saves Time
Knowing the address saves valuable time for the firemen in going out on a fire run. Precious minutes may be used up while a fire captain tries to look up an address in a telephone book or city directory.

The type of fire—such as trash, automobile, or building—governs the amount of equipment the fire department sends on the fire runs.

Often one of the big pumper trucks may be sent to extinguish a small fire. If a serious residential blaze should break out, the large unit might be tied up needlessly in a far-off section of Midland.

Office buildings are a particular problem for Chief Little. His men know the location of the older units in Midland, but they are often not completely familiar with the addresses of the newer structures.

G. S. McLaughlin, 80, Area Pioneer, Dies

SAN ANTONIO—G. S. McLaughlin, 80, pioneer Upton County ranchman and longtime San Angelo garage operator, died at 1:30 a.m. Sunday in a hospital here.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Johnson Chapel. McLaughlin helped to organize Upton County and was a member of the first school board at Upland, a town later moved to Rankin when the railroad came through. He moved to San Angelo in 1920.

Survivors include six sons, Guy, Herman, Ray and R. M. (Buddie) McLaughlin, all of San Angelo, Charlie of Eldorado and Lloyd of Gainesville; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Albert of San Angelo; five sisters, a brother, 14 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Pioneer Big Spring Store Operator Dies

BIG SPRING—W. A. McAllister, 93, retired grocery and mercantile store operator, died at 5:30 p.m. Sunday at the residence here. He came to Big Spring in 1930.

Funeral services were to be held at 3 p.m. Monday at the Nalley Chapel here. Interment will be at Lehigh, Okla.

Survivors include the son, O. H. McAllister of Big Spring; three daughters, Ione McAllister and Mrs. Florence Lenox of Big Spring and Mrs. Thuman Lovingsood of Breckenridge, five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Civil Suit May Take Place Of Oil Industry Jury Probe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Washington Post said Monday the Truman Administration has taken steps to drop a grand jury probe of the U. S. international oil industry and substitute for it a civil suit.

The Post said it had learned on high authority that the National Security Council, which is headed by the President, had recommended that the Justice Department call off the grand jury investigation, now in its preliminary stages.

"At the same time," the newspaper continued, "a key government official said he was informed that President Truman has adopted the recommendation and will direct the attorney general to dismiss the criminal proceedings and substitute a civil injunction suit."

The newspaper said such a suit would ask for a court order directing the oil companies to comply strictly with the antitrust laws.

The White House, the Justice Department and the National Security Council declined to comment on the Post's report.

The Post said it has learned that the council made its decision Friday.

Telephone Company Payroll Is Now $940,000 a Year in Midland

From the downtown stores and banks near South Main and West Wall to the neighborhood shopping centers, Midland businessmen share the benefits of the telephone company's $940,000 payroll here.

Telephone tax dollars are important to Midland, too. The annual local tax bill is $26,700, contributing much to the support of Midland's local government.

The telephone company is one of Midland's largest employers—both in size of payroll and number of people employed.

The 385 telephone men and women in Midland earn more than $940,000 a year in wages.

They spend most of that money here, too—for food, rent, clothing, gasoline, insurance, recreation, movies, and all the other products and services that Midland businessmen sell. Much of that money is deposited in local banks and savings associations.

From the downtown retail stores to the corner drugs and suburban shopping centers, merchants throughout the city share the benefits of the telephone company's payroll here.

The annual payroll is now seven times greater than at the end of World War II. It takes good people to furnish good telephone service and it takes good wages to attract and hold good people.

Ten Unholies In Hot Water

By WILL GRIMSLEY
 WASHINGTON —(P)—Some- where in the United States Monday there are 10 institutions of higher learning nervously waiting for the fist to fall from college athletics' new police force.

Who the "Unholy Ten" are remains a well-kept secret but they themselves are aware of a couple of uncomfortable facts:

1. They are in "hot water" because of questionable athletic policies. The National Collegiate Athletic Association says so.
2. If found guilty, they face quick and probably stern punishment, with no immediate recourse, as in other years, to the NCAA membership.

While the 10 schools have not been identified, they are reported to include some big-time universities—a Big Ten member, a strong Eastern independent and an old Southern power.

They serve as test cases of the new enforcement arm of the NCAA, legislated at the closing meeting of the NCAA convention here Saturday.

Their cases are termed "serious" by the immediate past president of the body, Hugh C. Willett. The charges of misconduct are being reviewed by the NCAA Membership Committee. The cases go to the powerful 17-man council with recommendations. Then the council acts.

In the most significant legislation of the forty-seventh annual meeting of college athletic leaders, the council was equipped with the power to punish on the spot—that is, short of suspension or expulsion.

If a Big Ten school is found guilty of flagrant rule violations, for example that school could be placed on probation, have its schedule pulled from under it or treated to some other disciplinary action.

This year Kentucky, long a national cage power, was made to sit out the basketball season and Bradley, another former national champion, was forced to miss the NCAA Tournament because of their roles in the basketball scandals. A Midwestern university was reprimanded for rule violations.

In these cases the council merely recommended punishment and the three institutions involved took their medicine voluntarily, although convention action was necessary to make it stick.

Henceforth, convention action won't be needed. The council can crack down—short of suspension or expulsion—and leave it up to the convention later to review the action. This was the new enforcement power given the NCAA's police arm.

A convicted school still may appeal to the convention and it's possible the NCAA's enforcement muscles may be tested again if a powerful member chooses to fight. Four years ago seven schools won a fight against suspension during the "Sanity Code" era and, for a while, had the NCAA reeling. But the NCAA bounced back.

Boxing Groups To Set Plans For Middleweight Fight-Offs

By JACK HAND
 NEW YORK —(P)—New York state and the National Boxing Association, working arm in arm in a new era of cooperation, Monday will set up a nationally recognized tournament to determine an "American" middleweight champion.

The NBA announced its recommendations Sunday for a five-man tournament with the survivor meeting the winner of a European title bout between Randy Turpin and Charles Humes for the world championship.

The NBA plans calls for four bouts involving Carl (Bobo) Olson of Honolulu, Norman Hayes of Boston, Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., and Pierre Langlois of France.

Langlois, a Parisian, was included in the "American" tournament because he already has been matched with Castellani at Madison Square Garden February 6.

"If Langlois should beat Castellani he would have to supercede him in the rankings," explained Commissioner Greene.

Two of the four matches already have been announced. Olson fights Hayes at Boston February 7, the day after the Castellani-Langlois match. After the opening matches, the winner of the Castellani-Langlois bout will meet Durando with the survivor facing the Olson-Hayes victor.

HUNTERS CAN BLAME WEATHER

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Fish and Wildlife Service has an explanation for hunters who waited in vain this season for all the ducks and geese they were expecting.

It was the weather.

Director Albert M. Day said Sunday the waterfowl migrated south this Fall in big numbers, as forecast. But he said they winged in dribs and drabs, rather than in mass formations, because of unseasonably balmy days.

Real blustery weather did not set in until just before Thanksgiving. Mass movement started then, but in many states the shooting seasons were about ended.

PAIR OF ACES—Leon Pickett of Midland shows off the form that netted him a hole-in-one Saturday at Ranchland Hill Country Club. That was a one-in-a-million shot since it was his second ace—on the same No. 3 hole—within two months. Pickett used a No. 7 iron.

Bob Christberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said he agreed substantially with the NBA list but wanted George Barton, NBA president, to be sure no worthy candidate is overlooked.

Christberry meets Monday with Commissioner Abe Greene and John (Ox) Da Groat to iron out the final details.

Two of the four matches already have been announced. Olson fights Hayes at Boston February 7, the day after the Castellani-Langlois match. After the opening matches, the winner of the Castellani-Langlois bout will meet Durando with the survivor facing the Olson-Hayes victor.

Reeves Out As Cat Boss

PORT WORTH —(P)—John L. Reeves is being relieved as president of the Port Worth baseball club.

He made the announcement in his office at La Grave field Monday.

Reeves was given notice of his release last week while he was in New York for a conference with Walter P. O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Baseball Club, which owns and operates the Port Worth Club. Reeves returned to Port Worth Friday.

"There is a legal question of whether I resigned or was fired," says the man who led the Cats through all of the postwar period. "It doesn't make any difference to me—I'm out."

"I was told I could make the announcement at my convenience. After waiting two days and hearing nothing more since my return home, I decided it is now convenient."

Reeves says the separation resulted from a combination of things, but principally because the new bosses of the Dodgers are unwilling for him to continue to operate the Cats as he has in the past.

It isn't known who will replace Reeves.

Bobby Bragan, field manager of the Cats, was given a verbal extension of contract recently by Reeves on authority of the Dodgers and it is believed that agreement will stand.

Hapless Start Puts Bulldogs In Cellar

The Midland Bulldogs face two second division District 1-AAAA teams this week after successive weekends against the favorites.

But the prospects aren't too bright, for the Bulldogs have to look up to everyone after losing four straight, winding up in the cellar.

Midland last week dropped a 66-44 decision to Lubbock and a 67-38 encounter with Amarillo.

That left the Bulldogs the sole occupants in the cellar.

This week Midland goes to San Angelo for a Friday night game and to Abilene Saturday night.

Meanwhile, Pampa and Amarillo head to their first place deadlock, both unbeaten. Amarillo added both Midland and Odessa, 61-54, to its victims. Pampa beat Abilene, 69-53, and San Angelo 69-55.

Borger boosted its mark to 3-1 by trimming San Angelo, 78-58, and Abilene, 65-42.

The big surprise was pulled by Odessa, in whipping Lubbock Saturday night, 70-56.

In non-district games last week, Abilene edged Clyde, 64-51, and Lubbock bowed to Lamesa, 62-55.

Next week's games:

Tuesday—Odessa at Lamesa, non-district.

Friday—Midland at San Angelo, Odessa at Abilene, Amarillo at Borger, Pampa at Lubbock.

Saturday—Midland at Abilene, Amarillo at Pampa, Odessa at San Angelo, Borger at Lubbock.

Border Loop Teams Begin Unscrambling Jam In First Place

By The Associated Press
 Four basketball teams are tied for the top in the Border Conference, but one of these is bound to topple.

Texas Tech meets Hardin-Simmons at Abilene Tuesday night and the result will help unscramble the congestion around first place. The others sharing in the lead are West Texas State and Arizona.

These four teams dominated play inside the conference last week as they have in non-conference games.

The results included: New Mexico A&M 67, Texas Western 62; Hardin-Simmons 56, Flagstaff 47; Texas Tech 93, Flagstaff 51; West Texas State 68, Flagstaff 51; Hardin-Simmons 50, Temple 49; Arizona 63, Texas Western 54; Texas Tech 74, Temple 66; Arizona 51, New Mexico A&M 46; West Texas State 64, Temple 59.

Eight of the nine games scheduled this week will count in the standings.

Rules Group Figures Few Changes Due

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.—(P)—The football rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association started its annual conference Monday, with prospects of making few if any important changes in the present regulations.

Most of the 11 members seemed satisfied with the way college football was played last season.

"I think we have a fine set of rules," commented Michigan's athletic director Fritz Crisler, the committee chairman. "I hope there won't be any changes in the game."

"Of course, we're not going to legislate against progress, but we'll stand pat until we hear some very good reasons for rewriting any rules. Constant changes confuse the coaches, the players and the spectators."

Bartzen Goes After Net Crown Monday

TAMPA, FLA.—(P)—Lanky Gardner Mulloy, the No. 1 ranked tennis player in the country, went after his first tournament title of the year Monday when he met Bernard (Tut) Bratzen of San Angelo.

Mulloy, from Miami, whipped an old tennis buddy, Bitay Grant, Atlanta, 6-4, 6-0, 6-1, Sunday to enter the final round of the Dixie Tennis Tournament.

Bartzen breezed through his semi-final match with Alfredo Millet, Mexico City, 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

North Texas Quint Scores Three Wins

By The Associated Press
 North Texas State dominated what little action took place last week in the Gulf Coast basketball conference, clipping Louisiana Tech, 77-58, then knocking off Trinity, 78-96 and 73-64.

The conference's other member, Midwestern, defeated McMurry, 77-50, and Wayland, 71-57.

Three Games Slated For Wildcat Cagers

By The Associated Press
 Business picks up a little bit this week for Texas Conference basketball teams, but mostly for Abilene Christian College.

The pacesetter Wildcats take on Southwest Texas State in a couple of non-conference games, then initiate Austin College to conference action. McMurry meets Texas A&I twice in the only other games scheduled.

Last week McMurry dropped a 50-77 decision to Midwestern, but bounced back to nudge Howard Payne, 82-80. ACC lost to Wayland, 72-67.

Abe Houston Predicts Texas Schools To Adopt Sub Rule

BEAUMONT—(P)—The president of the Texas High School Coaches Association believes the free substitution rule will be adopted in football within a year.

Abe Houston commented here Sunday after attending the annual meeting of the rules committee of the American Football Coaches Association. He represented Texas Coaches at the session in Washington.

"Football is still getting criticism for platoon football," Houston said. "Most of the bars are aimed at those playing under the NCAA code. The pros and the states playing under special high school rules (Texas not included) have free substitution now."

Houston said that when the coach is continuously running substitutes in and out singularly or by twos and threes it is not almost as conspicuous as substituting in herds when the ball changes possession.

Rule Group Approves
 Houston said free substitution advocates had almost doubled their strength on the rules committee within the last year.

He said he thought the free substitution rule might have been adopted in Washington, but the coaches feared that they would be accused of trying to run every play from the bench with instructions carried by substitutes.

"Either the coaches will overcome that fear," Houston said, "or some smart cookie on the committee will come up with a reservation to a free substitution rule that will prevent the use of such tactics."

Basketball Season Near Midway Point With K-State, Kansas In Feature Clash

NEW YORK —(P)—With the basketball season approaching the halfway mark, the various conference championship races are getting warmed up and you can get some idea as to who's going to win what.

Conference championships, of course, mean automatic qualification for the National Collegiate Athletic Association Tournament in March. Four more conference titles were voted automatic spots by the NCAA convention last week, which means that 14 of the 23 teams in the tourney will be representatives of one group or another. Last year 10 of the 16 teams were conference kings.

A look at the record books emphasizes the importance of the conference entries. Only Holy Cross in 1947 and City College of New York's ill-fated Cinderella kids of 1950 have broken the "conference" reign in the tourney's 14-year history.

Kansas, defending national and Big Seven champion, has come along well after a slow start, but the comparatively inexperienced Jayhawkers get the acid test Saturday. Their opponents? None other than Kansas State, top-ranked team in the Associated Press poll with a record of eight victories and only one defeat.

Kansas started its conference play Saturday with a 76-57 trouncing of Iowa State, while Saturday's game will be the first conference tilt for State.

Saturday also is the night for the top contenders in the Big Ten. Indiana, national champion back in 1940, has a perfect 5-0 league mark so far this year but Saturday night will meet Illinois, a national semi-finalist last year. Indiana wrapped up No. 5 with a last-minute, 69-63 victory over Minnesota, while Illinois made its record 4-1 by beating Wisconsin, 71-61.

Illinois is ranked fourth nationally and Indiana seventh.

North Carolina State, six-time champion of the Southern Conference but never a national title, is expected to romp through the conference tournament again, even though the Wolf Pack have a one-point loss to Wake Forest marring their early season record. They're rated ninth.

With Kentucky, a three-time winner of the national crown in the past five years, sidelined by the NCAA this year, there'll be a new Southeastern Conference champion for the first time in years. Most likely it will be Louisiana State, currently leading the circuit with a 3-0 mark and a 75-55 winner over Mississippi State Saturday.

Oklahoma A&M, the only team besides Kentucky to win more than one NCAA title (1949-50), has yet to start Missouri Valley Conference play. But the Aggies, rated No. 5 in the country, may get back in contention this year. Defending champion St. Louis was trounced by Tulsa, 96-73, Saturday night.

Washington, ranked a notch below Oklahoma A&M in the poll, is steaming along toward a northern division championship in the Pacific Coast Conference. UCLA, which upset Washington in the coast inter-division playoff last year, will have to struggle to win the southern division crown again.

Here's how the leaders stand in the other conferences:

Big Ten: Cornell is in front, unbeaten in three starts, but, outside of Harvard, the other teams haven't played many league games.

Southern: Three unbeaten teams topped by Wyoming with four wins. Brigham Young and Colorado Aggies have won three each.

Rocky Mountain: Idaho State is pacesetter with three wins in as many starts. Western State also unbeaten in two games.

Southwest Conference: Here it is Texas and Baylor, each undefeated in two league games. Rice also has won its only conference contest.

Mid-American: Toledo has won all three of its league games as has Western Michigan in two games.

Yankee Conference: Connecticut, with an over-all record of nine and one, has beaten Maine and Rhode Island in its two league games.

Mangrum Till Adds $2,050 After Pro-Am

PEBBLE BEACH, CALIF.—(P)—Slim, trim Lloyd Mangrum, his pockets jingling with a load of fresh dollars, marked up the Bing Crosby 54-hole golf tournament as a personal victory and headed Monday for new fields to conquer.

The steel-nerved man with the mustache led a powerful array of pros at the finish of the 54-hole pro-amateur event staged annually for charity. His 204, completed with rounds of 67-66-71, broke his own record of 208 set in 1948.

Mangrum won $2,050. Aided by his amateur partner Mil Wershaw of Los Angeles, he picked up an additional $50 for a sixth place tie in the pro-amateur competition.

A week ago the Texas-born sharpshooter bagged first-place money of $2,750 in the Los Angeles Open. His earnings for 1953 in two tournaments total $4,800.

Next stop on the circuit is San Diego this weekend.

Present National Champion Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N. C., finished second in the pro division with rounds of 69-67-72-208, worth $1,250. Lawson Little, a resident here and former U. S. Open winner, took third money of $1,000 with scores of 70-70-69-209.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

wildcat to test for production in the lower Clear Fork-Permian.
This prospect is two miles north-east of the nearest Gloria field and is one mile southeast of the Alex (San Andres) field. The drill site is eight miles north of Tokio.
Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 22, block D-14, C&MRR survey. Come In A Test

The show for Gloria production came in a five-hour drillstem test at 5,870-5,923 feet. Gas surfaced in 18 minutes and the gas flow continued for the remainder of the test period.
No fluid came to the surface while the tool was open. Recovery was 4,313 feet of free oil and 300 feet of oil cut drilling mud.
There were no signs of formation water. Operator is to take electric logs, set 7-inch casing and try to complete the wildcat as an extension to the proven limits to the Gloria (Glorieta) field.
Gravity of the oil, gas-oil ratio and pressure reports on the test at 5,870-5,923 feet have not been received.

First Aid School For Texaco-T-NMPLC Employees Being Held

A two-day First Aid Instructors' School is being held for personnel of The Texas Company and the Texas-New Mexico Pipe Line Company at the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa Monday and Tuesday.
The Odessa school is being conducted by R. C. Gray, Texaco safety engineer. A dinner meeting will be attended by representatives of management Monday night.
The school is one of a series being held for employees of the two concerns throughout the United States.

Rank Wildcat Set In SW Winkler By Midland Operator

Ralph Lowe of Midland filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to start operations at once on an 11,000-foot rank wildcat in Southwest Winkler County.
It will be drilled as No. 1-C University survey. It will be dug on a 640-acre lease.
Estimated elevation at drill site is 2,780 feet.
Location is four and one-quarter miles southwest of the town of Wink.

Gulf To Clean Out Wildcat Failure In C-W Crane Sector

After failing to develop commercial production in the Tubb section between 4,900 to 4,700 feet, Gulf Oil Corporation will drillout cement to 7,850 feet for tests in the top of the Tubb member at No. 2 W. A. Estes, wildcat in Central-West Crane County.
Originally drilled to total depth of 7,891 feet and plugged as a failure in 1944, the project recently was cleaned out to 4,700 feet and tested in the Tubb zone which produces in the West Sand Hills field one and one-eighth miles to the

PAD Declares Oil Supplies Adequate

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) disclosed Monday it believes the nation's oil supplies are generally adequate for a partial mobilization.

Charles J. Hedlund, director of PAD's Program Division, said a continuing shortage of aviation gasoline is the one exception to the general outlook for an easing of the supply picture.
Hedlund, in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Na-

Dyer Hits Indecision

Eddie Dyer, state president of the Texas Association of Life Underwriters, attacked indecision as the greatest weakness of a life insurance representative at noon Monday.

Dyer, speaking before members of the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas organization at the Cactus Restaurant, told the life underwriters, "Making decisions that stick is the characteristic of leaders."
The prominent Fort Worth insurance executive continued, "We need the do-it-or-never spirit in our business." He warned his audience never to make a halfway decision in their business life.
Jim F. Littlejohn, president of the Permian Basin chapter, presided at the monthly luncheon meeting of the life underwriters.
W. B. (Bill) Harkrider, a director of the state organization, introduced Dyer.

Pounding Sea Waves Batter City To Tune Of 15 Million Bucks

REDONDO BEACH, CALIF.—(AP)—The mayor of this wave-battered community estimates damage from an angry sea at 15 million dollars and says he is asking Gov. Earl Warren to declare this a disaster area.
Dr. J. Russell Shea, the mayor, said more than 20 families are homeless.

The damage toll, he reported, includes destruction to private property, to streets and sidewalks undamaged by waves, to light, power and gas installations and to the Redondo breaker. The sea wall, torn in two places by raging combers, has been reinforced with more than $40,000 worth of rock.
The mayor said the damage is from the Saturday and Sunday pounding alone, when towering waves crashed onto ocean-front property along a four-block stretch. There was other damage from previous high waves.

Lowered Prices Cut Texas Farm Incomes

AUSTIN—(AP)—Farmers and ranchers got less cash for their products in December, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday.
The reduction at mid-December was four per cent under the mid-November level.
The slump reflected lower prices for cattle, calves, hogs, chickens, cotton, cottonseed, fruit and truck crops. There were limited increases for sheep, lamb, peanuts, eggs, turkeys and most grains.

Skelly To Start Work At Wildcat In Dickens Area

Skelly Oil Company filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting permission to start drilling at No. 1 Pacific West-George F. Smith, wildcat in Southeast Dickens County.
The project, scheduled for a 7,900-foot bottom, originally was filed as Pacific Western Oil Corporation No. 1 George F. Smith.
Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 162, block 1, H&GN survey.

Chapman & McFarlin Slate Kent Explorer

One location west of production in the two-well Cogdell, East (Cogdell Sand) field of Central-South Kent County, Chapman & McFarlin Producing Company spotted location for No. 2-D D. M. Cogdell.
It is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 774, block 97, H&GN survey and 22 miles northeast of Snyder.
Operations to 5,000 feet will start at once.

Gulf Schedules NW Loving Test

Gulf Oil Corporation spotted location for a 4,100-foot test in the North Mason (Delaware Sand) field of Northwest Loving County.
It will be drilled as No. 1-BG TKL, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block 55, T-1, T&P survey.
Site is 14 1/2 miles northwest of Oris and one location north of production in the field. Operations are to start at once.

Accord Expected In Scheme To Prime Industry For War

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A "sympathetic" hearing by the Eisenhower Administration has been forecast for a $5,000,000, 10-year plan for keeping America's industry always ready for wartime production.

The proposal was filed with the office of Defense Mobilization Sunday by a seven-member advisory committee of industrial leaders.
Harold S. Vance, president of Studebaker Corporation and head of the committee, told a reporter he had not consulted President-elect Eisenhower's representatives, but: "I think the new Administration will look at these recommendations sympathetically."
The committee, set up at President Truman's request, spent six months studying the question: If all-out war should come, how to avoid tool and equipment bottlenecks that hampered previous industrial conversions from peacetime to wartime production?
The committee's answer: new laws, funds and executive action to provide production facilities stand-

Knives Play Leading Role In Midland Accident Rash

Knives played a prominent part in a heavy run of working accidents over the weekend. Nine men went to hospitals here for emergency treatment.
R. W. Kelton, Andrews, a cowboy employed by Foy Proctor on the N. A. Ranch, received lacerations of the left hand Saturday while opening a feed sack with a knife.
Kelton received emergency treatment at Midland Memorial Hospital. Frank Cooksey, 110 East Cedar Street, cut his left thumb with a linoleum knife Saturday. He is an engineer employed by the Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Company.
Cooksey received emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital Saturday.
Theron Sanders, 1401 East Mulberry Street, who works for R. K. Shock, cut his right thumb on a masonry saw blade Saturday. He

New Commissioners Attend First Meeting

The Commissioners Court of Midland County began its New Year Monday with two new members.
Taking their places at the first meeting of 1953 were Earl Ray, commissioner from Precinct 1, and J. C. Franklin, commissioner from Precinct 3.
Ray replaces John King, Jr., as a commissioner while Franklin succeeds Warren Skaggs, who did not seek reelection.
They joined Alvey Bryant and W. M. Stewart, who were reelected to their posts.
With County Judge Clifford C. Keith presiding, the court began routine examination of monthly bills and later in the day were scheduled to approve bonds of all county officials, whose new terms began January 1.

Traffic Crash Kills Colorado City Man

PECOS—Charles Seale, 79, a retired Colorado City carpenter, died at 1:30 p. m. Sunday in a two-car collision on U. S. Highway where it meets U. S. Highways 290 between Pecos and Van Horn.
A brother, Lewis, is hospitalized in Pecos for minor injuries.
Occupants of the second car were unhurt.
Funeral services for the carpenter will be held in Colorado City. Kiker & Son Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.
Survivors include a son, Aubrey, of Arroyo, N. M., and two sisters.

Midlander Wins Motorcycle Race

Dick Reagan of Midland won first honors in the observed field trials staged Sunday at the Cloverdale pit by the Midland Motorcycle Club.
Odessean Jerry Irvin and Bill Murphy finished second and third, respectively. Twelve riders competed for prizes.
The Midland club will hold a rocket run next Monday night.

Youth Kills Mother In Spat Over Money

NEW YORK—(AP)—An unemployed theater usher walked into a police station Sunday and told of killing his mother because she would give him only $2 of the $6 he said he needed for room rent.
Detectives quoted John Mondore, 20, as saying he and his 64-year-old mother, Dora, quarreled after he was evicted from his furnished room for nonpayment of rent. The mother lived separately.
He told police he hit his mother with an empty beer bottle and then, as she lay on the floor screaming, stamped on her neck.
Police went to Mrs. Mondore's flat, where they found her battered body and a check of hers for $10.90. Attached to the check was a note to the manager of her son's rooming house saying the check was for the young man's rent.
Mondore was booked on a homicide charge.

Cotton

NEW YORK—Monday noon cotton prices were $1.90 a bale lower to 40 cents higher than the previous close. March 32.42, May 32.87 and July 33.20.

Oldtimer Recalls Midland's Earlier Days For Kiwanians

Midland Kiwanians learned something Monday of the life in the early days of the city.
Describing those early days and relating some of the stories and Midland in the late 90's was Addison Wadley, a resident of Midland 69 years.

He compared the Midland of 1,000 to 1,500 people with the present modern city of a population of more than 35,000.
"I guess," he concluded, "I'm getting too old to cope with the traffic and parking problems of metropolitan but I insist that Midland always has been a good town."
Wadley was introduced by President Herschel Ezell, who presided at the weekly luncheon meeting held at Jimmie's Bar-B-Q.

Children Hurt In Accidents

Children were involved in a series of unusual accidents plaguing Midland over the weekend. The youngsters received emergency treatment at Midland hospitals.
Helen Fay Platt, seven-year-old daughter of James Shipman, 1305 Garden City Highway, had an unpleasant encounter Saturday with a barbed wire fence. The little girl cut her neck and received emergency treatment at Western Clinic-Hospital.
Mick Minson, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Minson, 1203 East Maiden Lane, swallowed a safety pin Saturday. The pin was removed at Western Clinic-Hospital.
Charles Miller, 23-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Miller, Midland, also swallowed the wrong medicine. The little boy was treated Saturday at Midland Memorial Hospital for an overdose of aspirin.
Jimmy Lee Shaw, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Shaw, 100 North Calhoun Street, also received emergency treatment Saturday at Western Clinic-Hospital for a cut on the right hand.
Jimmy Pike, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Pike, Stanton, was given emergency treatment Saturday at Western Clinic-Hospital for lacerations of the throat caused by a stick.

Voters Leave 4,000 Students On Holiday By Closing Schools

DALLAS—(AP)—More than 4,000 students in the Dallas County City of Pleasant Grove started an indefinite vacation Monday.
1,065 to 962 to abolish independent school district. Sunday the school board decided to close the schools.
"The people voted to abolish the school district and as far as we're concerned it's abolished," Arnold Smith, president of the school board, said Sunday night. "Until we get a legal opinion we can't know what we are supposed to do. We didn't have much choice. When you abolish a school district, you abolish it. We hope to open the schools just as quickly as possible."
Three elementary schools, a junior high and a high school were affected.

C-C Campaigners Meet Wednesday

Volunteer workers in the mid-Winter membership campaign of the Midland Chapter of the Chamber of Commerce will meet at 4 p. m. Wednesday in Parlor D of Hotel Scharbauer, Chairman Stanley Erskine said Monday.
He said 50 men have been asked to assist in the drive, contacting four prospective members each.
Plans call for the campaign to be completed by the end of the week. The goal is 100 new members.

Sheriff Shoots Man In Dance Hall Check

PITTSBURGH, TEXAS—(AP)—Lee Walker, 35-year-old negro, was shot in the stomach here Sunday while officers were investigating an earlier shooting at a dance hall.
Sheriff C. W. Bell of Camp County said he fired after 10 or 15 negroes "got smart and some pulled knives" while officers were questioning them. Bell said he was aiming at another man who jumped behind Walker just as the shot was fired.
Walker was reported in a serious condition.

SO THE PEOPLE OF MIDLAND WILL KNOW CONTRACT OF MIDLAND HUMANE SOCIETY AND THE CITY OF MIDLAND

AGREEMENT THIS AGREEMENT, made and entered into this 24th day of June, 1952, by and between the CITY OF MIDLAND, a municipal corporation, and the MIDLAND HUMANE SOCIETY, a non-profit corporation, hereinafter called the Society.

WITNESSETH: WHEREAS, the City of Midland, pursuant to action of its City Council, has established a pound and passed ordinances to prevent the running at large in the City of Midland, livestock, dogs, and other animals; providing for the licensing of dogs, and the inoculation of dogs against rabies, and other provisions to promote the health, welfare and safety of both humans and animals, and

WHEREAS, the City of Midland and the Council deem it more desirable and for the best interests of the City to turn the management and control of the City Pound and the enforcement of said ordinances over to the Society.

NOW, THEREFORE, IN CONSIDERATION OF THE PREMISES, IT IS MUTUALLY AGREED BETWEEN THE PARTIES HERETO AS FOLLOWS:

I. The Society is hereby employed and assigned to take over the City Pound, and license, impound and humanely dispose of when necessary all stray animals in the City of Midland, to manage and enforce the animal regulation and rabies control program, pursuant to all ordinances now in effect, or that may hereafter be adopted, in the following particulars: FIRST, the Society will, within thirty days from the date first mentioned in his agreement, take possession of the said City Pound and all equipment pertaining thereto, and maintain same in a reasonable state of repair and in sanitary condition. The Society will return all equipment which is taken possession of in the event this contract is revoked, cancelled or for any reason discontinued. The Society agrees to acquire at its own cost and expense, a suitable site, readily accessible to the public, and to construct thereon, at its own cost and expense, a modern animal shelter in accordance with the plans and specifications approved by the American Humane Association, for the proper housing of all animals coming into the control and custody of the Society; more particularly all lost, strayed or homeless dogs, which shelter shall be in full charge of competent humane officers, and shall be opened daily at suitable times for the convenience of the public, for the purpose of receiving animals, and for the further purpose of receiving applications for the redemption of impounded animals.

SECOND: The Society will vigilantly undertake through its duly appointed and legally qualified humane officers, the capture and impoundage of animals found running at large in the City of Midland, in violation to those certain ordinances relating to stray animals, to the licensing of dogs, to the restraint of dogs from running at large, and it will also provide proper food, water, shelter, and other humane treatment for such animals while in the Society's possession, or until otherwise humanely disposed of by the Society, in accordance with the ordinances in effect. It will also care for at the shelter, or at a veterinary hospital at the owner's option and expense, any animal having bitten a person, or other animal or exposed to rabies, for a period of 10 days. The Society will vigilantly undertake to investigate every report of a person or animal bitten by an animal within the City of Midland, and when such animal is suspected of being infected with rabies, it will obtain a clinical report from a licensed veterinarian, as well as a pathological report on the head of an animal suspected as having died of rabies, and will immediately report its findings to the public health officer.

THIRD: The Society will vigilantly undertake to issue dog licenses and collect fees for same, for all dogs owned or harbored by residents of the City of Midland. FOURTH: The Society will establish a full and complete system of records, which will show the names and addresses of all persons to whom dog licenses have been issued, together with other records showing the date, place, reason and manner whereby animals were taken into custody and impounded, a description of same, together with a record of their disposition. The Society will keep accurate records of all monies received in the issuance of licenses and impoundment fees, and will account for same, and make such reports of said monies as shall be required. The Society will permit the City, at any time the City deems it necessary, to inspect and audit such records pertaining to monies collected for the City. The monies received will be the revenue collected by the Society for licenses and impoundment fees in connection with the operation of the City Pound and any ordinances in effect.

FIFTH: The Society shall, in addition to the duties heretofore named, be subject to call at any time of the day or night, to rescue any animal injured, or any animal or creature trapped or otherwise unnaturally restrained, and will provide humane treatment for same. SIXTH: The Society will undertake to initiate a program of humane education in the proper care of animals and other dumb creatures, and enlist the public support of its responsibility in the enforcement of said ordinances, and will investigate, and cause to be prosecuted, when the facts warrant such, all persons accused of violation of the said ordinances, or of acts of cruelty.

SEVENTH: The Society will indemnify and save harmless the City from all demands, claims, causes of actions or judgments, and from all expenses that may be incurred in investigating or resisting the same, arising from, or growing out of, any act or neglect of the Society, its contractors, agents or servants in connection with the operation of the City Pound, or its own shelter which will hereafter be designated as the City Pound, or in the performance of related duties. The Society shall fully inform all persons using or being upon the said premises, or dealing thereof, of the non-liability of the City for any act or neglect of the Society, by posting an adequate number of notices to that effect in, about, or on said premises. The Society shall at its own cost and expense, carry insurance for the benefit of and to protect itself and the City against all claims, demands, causes of action or judgments, and from all expenses that may be incurred in investigating or resisting the same. The Society shall at its own cost and expense, cause to be bonded, all its agents, who in the exercise of their duties, collect and have custody of public monies.

EIGHTH: The Society shall have no right, authority or power to sell, mortgage or assign this contract or the powers granted to it, or any interest therein, nor any right, power of authority to allow or permit any other person or party to have any interest in or use any part of the premises owned by the City and now designated as the City Pound for any purpose whatsoever without the written consent of the City.

During the term of this agreement, the City shall: FIRST: purchase and supply to the Society such dog license certificates, numbered metallic tags, and receipt forms as shall be required.

SECOND: furnish the present City Pound and equipment assigned thereto, and permit the Society to remove its own equipment to its new site and shelter to be constructed thereon. THIRD: issue special commissions and other legal authority, to the qualified agents of the Society with authority limited to the enforcement of the ordinances, rules and regulations pertaining to the animal regulation and rabies control program, and to laws specifically prohibiting cruelty to animals and other dumb creatures. The City may, by contacting the agent in charge of the Society, inform the Society of any action it desires to be taken in the care, control, or capture of the dogs.

FOURTH: pay to the Society the sum of Seventy-Five Hundred Dollars ($7,500) annually, divided in twelve equal monthly installments of Six Hundred Twenty-Five Dollars ($625) payable in advance, for the year beginning the effective date of assuming the duties in this agreement.

FIFTH: or, pay to the Society in the manner set forth above, an amount equal to ninety per cent of all dog license and impoundment fees, whichever amount is greater. No part of any fines or costs assessed to persons deemed guilty of violating the ordinances or laws heretofore referred to in this agreement shall be included when determining the amount of monies due to the Society.

It is mutually understood and agreed to by the parties hereto, that this agreement shall continue in effect for one year, and shall continue in effect thereafter until either party shall give ninety days written notice to the other of his desire to terminate this agreement, or to enter into a new agreement. It is mutually understood and agreed to by the parties hereto that the City and/or the Society will defend this contract and agreement with all diligence should it be challenged by any action in law. IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have signed these presents and affixed their seals the day and year first above written.

SIGNED RELEASE BY LICENSED VETERINARIAN

December 31, 1952 Rt. 2, Box 82 Midland, Texas

To Whom It May Concern: I observed two Boxer bulldogs, one owned by Mr. Leland Thompson another owned by Mr. W. S. Montgomery, while they were under observation at the Midland Humane Shelter between the dates of December 7 to December 21, 1952. I observed the above dogs on December 13, and December 17, 1952 and found them to be free from symptoms of rabies and not showing any signs of viciousness.

Sincerely, O. C. Collins, Jr., D.V.M.

21 Of Hitler's Finest Go On Trial For Brutal Slaying Of 642 Citizens

By JOHN RODERICK
PARIS—(AP)—Monday—eight years and seven months after the terrible event—a military tribunal at Bordeaux sits in judgment on 21 soldiers of Hitler's elite "Das Reich" Division, accused of taking part in the wartime massacre of 642 men, women and children at Oradour-sur-Glane.

The defendants, among whom are 12 Alsatians forced into the German Army against their will, were members of the Third Company of the division's Fourth Regiment. They specifically are accused of murder, arson, pillage and complicity in these crimes.

In all, 65 men have been identified by French investigators as actors in the awful drama. Some have died, among them Major Dickmann, the battalion commander who is accused of having ordered the massacre. Others are missing or in hiding.

Systematic Murder
Eight years ago, Oradour-sur-Glane nestled close to the placid waters of the River Glane between Limoges and Angouleme in Southwest France. Today, it is a fire-blackened ruin enclosed by a wall and preserved as a monument to its brief hour of suffering.

On June 10, 1944, at 2 p.m. the Third Company, led by Captain Kahn, clanked into the town, rounded up all its inhabitants on pretext of searching for an arms cache, then systematically began killing every human being in sight. Hours later, when the firing, bayoneting and bludgeoning had stopped, Oradour in her anguish counted her dead: 207 children, 245 women and 150 men.

In the years since the liberation Oradour-sur-Glane has become the symbol of France's torment under the German occupation. Beside reopening wounds which time had begun to heal, the trial will climax a raging controversy over the guilt of innocence of the 12 Alsatians who will sit in the defendant's box with the Germans.

The feverish debate has split French public opinion into two camps—one which says the young Frenchmen were not responsible for their acts, the other maintaining that if they participated in the crimes they must be punished.

Political Question
The Alsatians were among the "malgre nous"—in spite of ourselves—of the last war. They and thousands of other Frenchmen were forced to take up arms in the German Army after the fall of France. They maintain they were powerless to disobey orders.

To the people of Alsace and Lorraine, the two provinces lost to Germany in the Franco-Prussian War and only regained after World War I, the problem is more than one of the guilt or innocence of the Alsatians. It is a moral and political one challenging their status as provinces of France.

Putting the Alsatians into the defendant's box beside the Germans, as though they were Nazis are not Frenchmen, adds fuel to Hitler's contention that Alsace never lost its German status, they argue. The 12 say if they fired on the victims at all it was over their head or at their feet. Some said they did nothing but stand guard during the grim events of the afternoon.

Massacre Begins
In Oradour-sur-Glane Captain Kahn's first demand was that Mayor Desourteaux select 30 hostages. The mayor refused. Angered, the captain divided the population into two sections. The women and children he sent to the church and the men he ordered to remain in the marketplace. Then, as though on pre-arranged signal, machine guns began to chatter. Some villagers fell; others, only wounded, ran about screaming. Another fusillade and there was quiet. Then the Germans, pistols in hand, snuffed out the lives of those who still moved or groaned. Only five men escaped.

At about the same time, the massacre of women and children began in the church. A group of very young soldiers, most of them under 20, dragged a heavy box fitted with long fuses into the building.

What happened next was told by Mme. Marguerite Rouffanche, the sole survivor:

Panic In Chapel
The fuses were lit, and when the fire reached the box a terrible explosion occurred.

Children, pursued by their mothers, ran screaming and choking down the aisles. They poured into the chapel, where the air was clear. Someone found the door to the sacristy and in a desperate panic they forced it. But the Germans were waiting.

More shots and then—silence. The SS piled straw shoes, sanctuary chairs and wood onto the bodies and set them afire.

But this was not the end. The murderous rat-a-tat continued, in the fields, the homes and the shops. There were bodies everywhere, in the wells, the baker's oven and the streets.

Ironic Mistake
What was the motive for this senseless crime?

Some say Oradour-sur-Glane was the victim of an ironic mistake and that the Germans wanted Oradour-sur-Vayres, a resistance center, instead.

Another guess is that it was done as retaliation for the kidnaping of the Third Company's commander, Captain Kaempfe. The day before, 30 miles from Oradour-sur-Glane, he had been seized by a group of maquis. Major Dickmann, the battalion commander, was a close friend of his.

Fifty Bucks, No Blue Blood, Required To Join New Republican Club In Capital

By ED CREAUGH
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Trying to find some Republican in Washington? Well, if he isn't in his usual haunts, you might try a remodeled 150-year-old brick building across the street from the old House Office Building.

Here, opening its doors Monday is located an organization new to the Washington scene—The Capitol Hill Club. Who belongs to it? Rep. James C. Auchincloss of New Jersey, the club's first president, gives these qualifications for membership:

"You must be a gentleman or a lady, you must be a Republican, and you've got to have 50 bucks."

Draws Minister's Fire
The Rev. Albert P. Shirkey of the Mt. Vernon Place Methodist Church Sunday termed the club "a sin, a shame and a blight on the country."

"If ever I have been disheartened," he said in a sermon, "it was when I learned that within a stone's throw of the Capitol, there is going to be opened up, by the new leaders of government, a liquor lounge where they may go for cocktails and then into separate rooms for conferences..."

"To have the leadership of this country work out their plans in a liquor lounge is going to be a terrible thing for the country."

Auchincloss and some friends thought up the Club several years ago—soon after the Republicans lost their fifth straight presidential election. They thought there ought to be a place for party stalwarts to nurse their wounds and rally their spirits for the 1952 campaign.

A series of difficulties—finding a suitable headquarters was the principal one—delayed matters until there no longer was a need for a Republican walling wall. One of the club's first functions, in fact, will be an open house for Washington visitors—Republican ones—during next week's inauguration festivities.

More than 400 persons, including some of the biggest names in the party, already are members of the Capitol Hill Club.

Larger Plans Afoot
Their three-story club house offers them, among other things, three sedately decorated dining rooms, a lounge and a small formal-only bar. For women, there is a small special dining room.

All this cost some $150,000, and the end is not yet. Warned by their election victory, the Republicans are talking of an adjacent seven-story building, to cost more than a million dollars, which would house their National Committee and affiliated bodies.

Initiation fee for the Capitol Hill club is $25. Dues are $25 a year if you live hereabouts, $50 a year for non-residents. You can buy a life membership for $1,000.

Who decides whether you meet the qualifications for joining? An admissions committee headed by Rep. C. W. (Runt) Bishop of Illinois. A onetime tailor, who has been a coal miner and a baseball player, Bishop is not likely to demand that applicants be listed in the social register. But they'd better be able to prove they're Republicans.
