How To Make A Right Decision

This week, General Dwight D. Eisenhower will become the thirty-fourth President of the United States. A man who has had to face many difficult decisions, he will be presented during the next four years with what are certain to be some of the most difficult he has ever made.

During his election campaign, he made a statement about his religious beliefs. And in this statement he spoke of the most important decision he had made up to that date: the decision to postpone, for only one day, D-Day, the invasion of the continent of Europe by the mightiest army ever gathered for such a task. The consequences of being wrong in his decision, he said, were so overwhelming that he felt absolutely crushed by it.

In his extremity, he sought for someone to help him make his decision. But he was the Supreme Commander, his was the final responsibility, and, in the last analysis, this lonely man had to make the decision alone.

He said later (and I paraphrase), "I knew I did not have the required wisdom. But I turned to God. I asked God to give me the wisdom. I yielded myself to Him. I surrendered myself. And He gave me clear guidance. He gave me insight to see what was right, and He endowed me with courage to make my decision. And finally He gave me peace of mind in the knowledge that, having been guided by God to the decision, I could leave the results to Him."

Triumphant Consequences

The triumphant consequences of that decision are now a matter of proud history. The invasion was successful. In his message to the troops on that fateful day, he had asked "the blessing of Almighty God upon this great and noble undertaking." And God indeed blessed the man who had humbly placed his trust in Him.

We are fortunate in having, as our President, a man who has learned the spiritual secret of making right decisions. There are many other historic decisions ahead of him. But, even more fortunately, General Eisenhower's secret is one we all can share. It is best stated in a very wonderful passage in the Bible: "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel..."

Now General Eisenhower did in his D-Day decision what we can all do: he sought for counsel beyond any help that human wisdom had to offer. He consulted with the Great Mind who is able to see and know the entire panorama of human history. Also, he was guided by that mind in which there is no error, for it is truth itself. In this way, the general himself knew that rightness in which there is no error. As a result, a great enterprise turned out right.

There was a time when practical men thought this kind of thing nonsense. A man simply made his own decisions and that was that. But, nowadays, more and more people are beginning to realize that if you have a decision to make, a problem to solve, there is a key to doing it.

It's As Simple As That

And so many and so varied are the people who have made use of this key that I am convinced that anyone, and I mean ANYONE, can use the art of making right decisions. The method is neither complicated nor profound. "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel..."

It's as simple as that. To make right decisions, simply apply the principles of your religion to the problems of this life. Too many of us keep our religious thinking for Sundays, but of course a faith that is meaningful only one day a week is of little practical value. Pray about every decision, however small it may be. You can never tell when a decision is to be the fateful choice of your life. As you become proficient in prayer, you will be given the priceless ability to separate truth from error. You will develop insight and rightness, and thus avoid failure.

GOP Solons Abandon Hope For Prompt Wilson Approval

WASHINGTON —(AP)—President-elect Eisenhower's cherished hope that his whole Cabinet would be sworn in on inauguration day with him was dashed Saturday by a snag over Charles E. Wilson's stockholdings.

Wilson, former head of General Motors, is Eisenhower's choice for secretary of Defense, but Senate opposition to his confirmation has arisen over his refusal to give up his $2,500,000 worth of stock in the big motor firm.

Republican leaders began poring over laws that prohibit a government official from taking part in contract negotiations with a firm in which he holds a financial interest, to see if it applies to Cabinet members.

General Motors is the Defense Department's biggest military contract holder, but Wilson told the Senate Armed Services Committee at a recent hearing that he not only would not give up his GM stock but would not stand aside when future GM contracts come before him as secretary.

After a series of conferences, both here and at Eisenhower's New York headquarters, Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Armed Services Committee announced Wilson had telephoned him asking for another chance to testify.

Whether Wilson has changed his mind was not made known, but arrangements were made for him to appear before the committee Wednesday morning. Saltonstall said Wilson wanted to "clarify" his views.

However, when Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, was asked in New York whether there had been any change in Wilson's insistence on retaining the stock, Hagerty replied:

"No change."

Saltonstall indicated any hope of obtaining confirmation of Wilson's Cabinet appointment Tuesday along with the other Cabinet nominations has been abandoned. Four other appointments in the Defense Department also will be held over, Saltonstall said.

As matters now stand, Vice President-elect Richard M. Nixon told reporters, it will be difficult to get confirmation of Wilson "unless some way is found for him to divest himself of his holdings."

Nixon said he had been told Wilson stood to lose half a million dollars in taxes if he sold his stock now.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)—Philadelphia Transportation Company workers voted Saturday night to end the transit strike which had tied up this city's transportation system the last four days and started returning to their jobs at midnight.

MIAMI, FLA. —(AP)—President Harry S. Truman may seek to return to Washington either as a congressman or a senator, he said in an interview for publication in Sunday's Miami Daily News.

VIENNA, AUSTRIA —(AP)—The U. S. Army's investigation of a Russian spy ring led to the detention Saturday of Mrs. Theresa Harris, a 30-year-old Vienna-born British divorcee who worked several years as a typist for the 769th Military Police Battalion here.

Shed A Tear For General Vaughan; He's On Way Out

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry A. Vaughan is going to make out much better on his Army pay than his boss, President Harry Truman.

Truman's Army pay when he retires as a reserve colonel on January 31 will be $112.56 a month.

But Vaughan, the Army said in answer to questions Saturday, is retiring from active military duty under a provision which will bring him 75 per cent of his base pay as a major general.

A spokesman was unable Saturday to locate the records of the general's military service which would show the exact amount he will receive. However, because the White House military aide has had at least 30 years of duty in the reserves, including active duty, and is retiring on a claim of 40 per cent physical disability suffered during World War II, his retirement pay will be at least $722.48 a month.

City Water, Sewer Program To Get Underway This Week

A bond-financing program to extend water and sewer service into every section of developed Midland by the end of 1953 will get underway this week.

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said Saturday engineering work has been completed on plans for extending the service to almost 200 more blocks and the first contract will be awarded Wednesday.

The plans call for extension projects in every section of the city, with 174 blocks slated for water service and 133 for sewer service for the first time.

The initial contract, on which bids will be opened Wednesday, provides for the construction of a 12-inch water line extending from South Lamesa Road to the Rankin Highway, bolstering the supply in some areas which have suffered from low pressure and bring water to other areas for the first time.

Other projects at intervals:

"Other projects will be undertaken at short intervals," said the manager, "and our water and sewer work will cost between $750,000 and $1,000,000 before the end of the year."

By next January, we will have water and sewers available to every section of the city."

The recent bond election provided $735,000 for water extensions and $635,000 for sewer extensions.

The extensions of the water distribution system will be carried on in connection with the development of McMillan Field, which will double the city's water supply when completed.

Work on the water field development already is underway and is expected to begin supplying the city with additional water by June 1.

Hoopla Starts Early For Big Tuesday Event

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Thousands of persons poured into bunting-bedecked Washington Saturday to start the hoopla surrounding the inauguration of the first Republican Administration in two decades.

The presidential oath of office will be administered to Dwight D. Eisenhower on the Capitol steps at noon Tuesday, but the warmup preliminaries already are underway.

There is a carnival air along historic Pennsylvania Avenue, where a mammoth parade will roll behind Eisenhower from the Capitol to the White House Tuesday afternoon, and souvenir vendors are making their pitch on street corners.

Visitors intent on capturing a piece of history that they can pass on to their grandchildren are streaming in from all parts of the country, by train, plane, bus and private car.

Inaugural Committee officials estimate that by Tuesday the army of visitors will reach a half million, and the capital is ready for them.

Robert S. Hinds, executive secretary of the inaugural housing committee, said the situation is well in hand and there are plenty of rooms available, in private homes as well as in hotels, motels and other lodging places.

Concourse Flanked Over

Thousands of visitors are arriving by special trains that will be parked in railroad yards and serve as "Pullman cities" for the occupants during the inaugural period.

Arrivals at Union Station found the concourse planked over where a runaway locomotive smashed through to the basement last Thursday. The locomotive still is there, but the station has been fixed up pretty well.

The official celebration gets underway Monday afternoon with a reception for governors and other distinguished visitors, followed by an inaugural concert by the National Symphony Orchestra and guest soloists Monday night. The guest artists include Yehudi Menuhin, violinist, Jeanette MacDonald and James Melton.

Special services will be conducted in all Washington churches Sunday. Eisenhower and his entourage are due in from New York Sunday, but (Continued On Page Nine)

Sunshine Erases Bite Of Winter

Midlanders shed heavy coats again Saturday under a warm sun. Winter's abbreviated assault faded as temperatures returned to the mid-60's after dipping to 24 degrees early Saturday.

CAA staffers at the Midland Air Terminal expect clear skies to continue Sunday with the mercury climbing to a high of 65 degrees.

The Spring spell's renewal appeared here to stay at least several days.

And the rest of Texas had the same promise of fair weather Sunday after the bright Winter Sun Saturday rapidly thawed broad sheets of sleet and snow in the state's first severe ice storm in almost two years. Not since February, 1951, had such an extensive slice of the state been glazed with sleet and snow.

Wildcat In Andrews County Discovers New Flowing Oil

By JAMES C. WATSON
Reporter-Telegram Oil Editor

Another flowing oil discovery has been proven for Central-East Andrews County.

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1-Q University, 13 miles east of the town of Andrews, flowed 95 barrels of oil an hour naturally in a drillstem test in the top of Devonian at 12,460-487 feet.

The flow was through a one-inch top choke and five-eighths inch bottom hole choke. There was no water. Operator is preparing to core deeper.

The wildcat is contracted to 14,200 feet or a test of the Ellenburger.

The drillstem test at 12,460-487 feet was open two hours and 47 minutes. The 2,450-foot water blanket started flowing out in 72 minutes.

Oil came to the surface in 102 minutes. The flow was run to pits five minutes and then was turned to tanks.

The next 60 minutes the section flowed 95 barrels of clean oil. It was 44-gravity.

Operator was pulling the tester late Saturday. No pressures or gas volume figures had been reported.

High To Maguire

Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 15, block 4, University survey. It is two and one-half miles east and slightly south of the discovery well of the Maguire (Ellenburger) field, which also had flowing oil in the Devonian, but which drilled on down and completed from the Ellenburger. The Devonian pay in that well presently is cased off.

The Maguire operator was a Magnolia wildcat on University of Texas lands.

Midlander Crushed To Death In Truck Mishap Near Snyder

SNYDER — Pinned between machinery he was loading and a backward moving truck, Thomas Warren Ashton, 46-year-old Midland resident, was crushed to death Saturday afternoon one mile north of here.

Ashton, father of two children, was attending to his regular duties as truck helper for the Midwestern Drilling Company of Lubbock when the accident occurred. He was helping to load two heavy oil field engines when the truck rolled back. The driver, D. W. Rawls of Whiteface, said he was attempting to start the engine when suddenly the truck, halted on an incline, rolled back.

Ashton is survived by his widow, Alma, of Midland; two daughters, Mrs. Katherine Brock of Pittsburg, Calif., and Phyllis Ashton of Midland; a son, Thomas W. Jr., of Midland; the mother, Mrs. Nora Ashton of Berkeley, Calif.; two sisters, Onea D. Ashton and Mrs. R. D. Perry, both of Berkeley, and four brothers, W. H. and T. R. Ashton of Austin, P. J. of Los Angeles, and Clifford A. Ashton of Midland.

The Ashtons have been living at 1704 South Atlanta Street in Midland.

Pecos Compact Meeting Set Thursday In Midland Hotel

Members and their staffs of the Pecos River Compact Commission will meet here Thursday in what may prove to be the most important and far-reaching session in the commission's history.

More than 30 persons from West Texas and New Mexico are expected to attend the fourth annual meeting, which will be held in Hotel Scharbauer.

Members of the commission are J. C. Wilson of Pecos, Texas' representative; John H. Elias of Santa Fe, New Mexico's representative, and Chairman Berkeley Johnson of Santa Fe, federal representative.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas and Gov. Edwin L. McCombs of New Mexico have been invited to attend the meeting.

The commission will review the results of the studies of the inflow-outflow formula for the allocation of water, and will hear reports on the canalization and improvements in the McMillan Delta area and the elimination of salt cedar growth.

Agenda Items Cited

Discussion is expected to center around a suggestion made by R. J. Tipton of Denver, Colo., chief of the Engineering Advisory Committee, that the Pecos River Compact Commission employ a full-time representative to promote and coordinate efforts to improve the quantity and quality of the river water in cooperation with the several federal agencies who are working with the commission.

Results of area mapping, check of stream gauges, plans for the construction of an irrigation storage reservoir at Los Esteros, and the proposed construction of a salt cedar by-pass canal at the head of Lake McMillan also are expected to come in for considerable discussion.

Members of Tipton's engineering committee, including R. L. Lawry of Austin, John Erickson and John J. Vandervulpe of Santa Fe, and C. J. Anderson of Pecos, will meet here Wednesday to complete their reports and prepare their recommendations.

Legal Advisers Listed

Legal advisers to the New Mexico commissioner are Claude Mann of Roswell and Irwin S. Moise of Albuquerque. William L. Kerr and Emil Rasmussen of Midland are the legal advisers to the Texas commissioner.

Members of the Red Bluff Water Power Control District will attend the meeting as special guests.

The out-of-city visitors will be the guests of the Midland Rotary Club at its regular meeting Thursday noon in the Cactus Club on West Highway 80.

Midland Hospital Announces New $150,000 Clinical Unit

The growth of Midland as a West Texas medical center received added impetus Saturday with the announcement that work soon will begin on a $150,000 clinical unit of Western Clinic-Hospital at Andrews Highway and Michigan Street. A hospital to be added later will swell the cost to $370,000.

John McNeil, administrator of Western Clinic-Hospital, reported today as being taken on construction of the diagnostic unit. The contract will be awarded to a Midland firm.

Building of the clinic is "Stage 1" of the hospital expansion program. The hospital part, which will be added to the clinic building, is "Stage 2" of the proposed program.

McNeil said selection of the building contractor will be revealed soon. Actual construction is expected to start February 1, with completion in five months.

The new clinic will be a functional modern building, constructed of brick, tile and glass. It will have a floor space of 8,000 square feet, and will be semi-fireproof. Year-round air conditioning is a feature of the structure.

Mahogany-colored wood paneling is planned for the interior. Teraso and vinyl flooring will be installed. Rubber tile flooring is planned for working areas. The clinic is designed for efficient operation, incorporating modern hospital trends.

Indirect lighting will be used, and a complete intercommunication system installed.

There will be no beds for hospital patients in the clinic proper, but two emergency rooms are part of the new diagnostic center. With addition of the hospital section, 44 beds will be available.

Among the 34 working rooms in the new clinic are an X-ray unit, a business office, admission office, and laboratory facilities. The hospital will be on the west side of the clinic.

McNeil said 150 patients a day may be treated at the new clinic. Parking space has been included in the plans. A second story can be added later.

Posse May Raid Senate

They were headed for the inauguration of President-elect Eisenhower in Washington January 20.

"We'll ride our horses in the Senate Chamber if we can find it," Lindsey Dycus, a parade marshal, promised.

Outlook Brightens For Colorful Texas Inaugural Day As Sun Melts Ice, Snow

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN —(AP)— Weather and health permitting, Gov. Allan Shivers will step out the front door of the big old red granite Capitol Building in Austin exactly at high noon Tuesday.

At the same moment, the first round in a 19-gun governor's salute will echo from three riflemen on the Capitol grounds.

Eighteen white and gold uniformed cadets from the Ross Volunteers of Texas A&M will cross sabers in an arch for the governor from the Capitol door to the platform on the steps where he will take his oath of office.

The details are down to the last split second for the second inauguration of Governor Shivers and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey.

Using the Bible of the inauguration, known to be 112 years old, the chief justice of the State Supreme Court, John E. Hickman, will administer the oath to both and Shivers will speak.

Governor Nurses Cold

The governor was nursing a cold Saturday but his condition was reported as "improving." Friday's sleet and snow was melting fast under a bright sun and the long-range outlook was for good weather on inauguration day, when 40,000 visitors are expected.

The Legislature was in recess until Monday, when introduction of bills will start in the House. No other important business was expected until after the inaugural.

It's the first big inauguration for a governor since 1947. Ice and sleet forced cancellation of the parade in 1940, and in 1951 Shivers asked for no festivities.

But this year the citizens of Austin, traditional hosts for inaugurations, wanted a big celebration. And they've planned one:

A two-mile parade starting at 10:30 a.m. with 10 bands, almost a hundred horses and 3,000 marching military personnel.

Band Concert Set

The inauguration on the Capitol steps at high noon, with a concert by the Midwestern University band preceding the ceremony.

A reception by invitation only at the Austin Country Club from 2 to 5 p.m.

A public reception in the rotunda of the Capitol, where Governor and Mrs. Shivers, Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Ramsey and their staffs will meet guests.

The grand inaugural ball from 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. in Gregory Gymnasium on the University of Texas campus.

A square dance in the City Coliseum from 6:30 p.m. to midnight.

Dances in the Driskill and Commodore Perry Hotel ballrooms from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Governor and Mrs. Shivers and Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Ramsey will lead the grand march at Gregory and go from there to the square dances and the other balls.

Children Have Flu

Shivers has asked the Ramsey and Speaker of the House Reuben Senterfitt and Mrs. Senterfitt to be guests at luncheon at the Governor's Mansion.

The four Shivers children probably will see their dad sworn in. And the three older ones want to watch the square dancing. That's all that is planned for them, and even that depends on whether they've recovered from the flu.

John, Sis and Bud were sick last week. They're John Shary, 12; Ma-rialice Sue, five, and Allan, Jr., who will be seven on the day after inauguration. Brian McGee, five months old, is the fourth child.

For inauguration day, Mrs. Shivers has an off-rose suit with rose quartz buttons and cuff links, a rose chiffon scarf and brown accessories. For the dances, her white, strapless dress with bouffant skirt is of white peau de soie, the same material Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower chose for her inauguration gown. Mrs. Shivers' is embroidered with sequins and silver braid and has a touch of blue on the sash.

Headlines of 1952 is ducking movie-town's after-dark fun.

"I don't go out," sexy Barbara said. "I wouldn't dare. I've had enough headlines. It may sound dull, but it's all work for me from now on."

Hither And Yon

It's Humphrey Bogart's dough all the way in the upcoming "To Beat The Devil" with Jennifer Jones under John Houston's direction. Watch out, Mario Lanza! MGM just borrowed Met Opera tenor Brian Sullivan's screen test from U-I.

John Agar's keeping his lips sealed about ex-wife Shirley Temple's anger over the Washington, D. C. private school that publicized the appearance of the five-year-old daughter, Linda Susan, in a play about fairies and elves. He hasn't seen Linda for almost two years except in photos sent to him by Shirley—and she looks more like me than she looks like Shirley.

Pals of Mari Blanchard and movie lawyer Greg Bautzer are predicting wedding bells. Greg, last wed to Buff Cobb, just bought a Bel Air home with his and her towels. And Mari just gave him a gold ring.

Italy is setting an example for the U. S. film industry in promoting more adult movies. An Italian law is about to be passed requiring certain films to carry a "For-Adults-Only" stamp. The age limit will be 18.

Surprise! Lovely Lana Winses At Mention Of Wedding Bells

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Exclusively Yours: Lana Turner is planning to surprise Hollywood in 1953. She's not going to get married—she hopes.

As a fellow who almost always goes to Lana's wedding, I was curious about whether there will be a Husband No. 4 now that she's shed Husband No. 3, Bob Topping.

"I hope not!" she screamed with a wince between sessions of a hot Samba with Ricardo Montalban for "Latin Lovers." Fernando Lamas was Lana's Latin lover in the original casting, but when she cast him out of her life MGM also cast him out of her picture.

Now that Lamas has taken it on the lam, it's a "well-adjusted" Lana facing the new year, she says, with the exception of one thing:

"I have to get out of this town for a while. I need a new perspective. There's talk of a movie in Italy and I've got my fingers crossed."

Deanna Durbin's saying she doesn't want to make another movie, but her discoverer, Producer Joe Pasternak, is convinced the greasepaint lure will have her facing a camera again.

They haven't seen one another since her return to Hollywood from France, but they've had numerous telephone conversations and Joe told me, "She belongs in pictures. It's like asking a duck if he wants to swim. If somebody comes up with a good story—and I hope it will be—Deanna will be back on the screen."

Joe's next film will be Esther Williams' "Easy to Love" and he's beaming: "She has three leading men and all of them will be over six feet tall. It will be the first time Esther won't have to take off her shoes to play a love scene."

Speaking Of Knees

Joe Ferrer is the talk of the town for walking around on his knees at the dwarfed French artist, Lautrec, in "Moulin Rouge."

"But he just walks on his knees. We dance on our knees," Nannette Fabray, the Broadway musical comedy star, raised her nose in a comical "You-can't-top-MGM" pose about a dance number she and Fred Astaire do in "The Band Wagon." It's only a short gag sequence, but she and Fred, impersonating babies in Christening robes and bonnets, dance a few steps on their knees.

Mary Anderson and Oscar Award cameraman Leon Shamroy are headed for the altar as their pals have known for many months. Insiders label Mrs. King Vidler's charges against Mary as "ridiculous."

Mary Astor, in retirement for several years due to a serious illness, definitely draws the small but important role of operatic diva Mary Garden in "The Grace Moore Story."

Scott Brady's blazing over the inconspicuous billing he gets in the Jane Russell starrer, "Montana Belle." His name can hardly be read.

Barbara Payton, the femme fatale of the Franchot Tone-Tom Neal hitjinks, has resumed her film career in Hollywood—she's co-starring in "Run for the Hills"—but Miss

Deanna Durbin's saying she doesn't want to make another movie, but her discoverer, Producer Joe Pasternak, is convinced the greasepaint lure will have her facing a camera again.

Pecos Police Chief Removed In Council's Surprise Move

PECOS—Sam Walding, chief of police here for the past six years, has been relieved of his duties in a surprise move by the City Council. Named to replace him was Joe Hill, assistant chief.

Official explanation of the move was that "we think the service of the Pecos Police Department will be improved by this change." Police Commissioner F. H. Ryan said, "Walding, however, had another version."

"I think I got a dirty deal," he asserted. "They forced my resignation without a minute's notice and without reason."

Mayor Emmett Beauchamp, in answer to a newsmen's question, said that "as far as I'm concerned you may say simply that Walding resigned."

Hill, a former member of the Big Spring police department, said his appointment came "as a complete surprise to me."

Walding told a reporter that he doesn't know what he's going to do, although he expects to remain in Pecos, "among my friends."

Admittedly shocked by the Council's action, Walding said he's been a peace officer for 27 years, and "I've never had a deal this this."

He claimed that "it couldn't have been because of my service, since I've been working 12 to 15 hours daily without as much as three days off since my vacation last July."

The new chief announced that he is contemplating no changes in personnel in the department. He called upon Pecos citizens for their support and cooperation.

To dissociate the party from corruption in the Grant administration the GOP nominated dark-horse Rutherford B. Hayes. He had the political savvy, being a three-time governor of Ohio and a general during the Civil War. The Hayes-Tilden election resulted in a tie, and the Republican-dominated electoral commission declared Hayes the winner of the 1876 election. Hounded by a hostile Congress, his administration did little, but the South cheered him when he ordered the withdrawal of Union troops.

Because of a split in the GOP, James A. Garfield won his party's nomination and was elected in 1880. He had an enviable record of public service—in the state legislature; in the Union army as a major general and in the House of Representatives. Four months after his inauguration he was killed by a crazed office-seeker.

Benjamin Harrison had all the elements of popular appeal—he was on the march to the sea with Sherman, he was a grandson of President William Harrison, and a senator. But he didn't have the qualities of a political leader, he couldn't inspire, as a matter of fact, he repelled. The only notable legislation to come out of his administration, which started in 1889, was the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

WITH THE SERVICES—

Farris Recognized For Medical Work

Pvt. B. F. Farris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bell Farris, 321 South Baird Street, has been awarded the Combat Medical Badge while serving with the Second Infantry Division in Korea.

The badge, a symbol of the front-line combat medical aidman, is silver in color and consists of a miniature cross on a Medical Corps emblem superimposed over a wreath. Entering the Army last June, he also holds the Korean Service Ribbon and the United Nations Service Ribbon.

Charles Crabtree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Crabtree, 205 East Pennsylvania Street, is completing his Air Force basic indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio.

Lackland is the world's largest Air Force base and is the site for Force basic training for men and women, headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center and home of the Air Force Officer Candidate School.

Jimmy D. Cooke, son of B. L. Cooke of Monahans, recently was promoted to sergeant first class while serving with the 25th Infantry Division in Korea.

A section chief in the service company of the 35th Infantry regiment, Sergeant Cooke entered the Army in February, 1951, and arrived in Korea last April.

Mexican Ranchers Buy U. S. Herefords

DENVER—(P)—For the first time in many years, Colorado cattle have been purchased for shipment across the Mexican border.

A group of 14 Mexican cattle raisers visited the National Western Stock Show and bought 150 registered Hereford range bulls.

The animals were bought from the Painter Hereford Ranch at a reported $412.50 a head. The Mexican visitors wish to improve their herds and are expected to buy at least 300 more Hereford bulls at the Denver show.

First wagon train west crossed the plains in 1843.

$40,000 Awarded Fan Hit By Foul

AUSTIN—(P)—A district court jury Friday awarded Mrs. Perry Jones $40,000 damages for loss of an eye injured when she was struck by a foul ball at Disch Field.

She sued Ed Knebel, owner of the Austin Pioneer in the Big State League, following the grandstand incident two years ago.

The jury held Knebel was negligent in the maintenance and operation of Disch Field. Knebel contended fans at his ball park are better protected by wire screens than at most parks and that Mrs. Jones should have known she was not seated in a protected area.

Mrs. Jones is the wife of former County Attorney Perry Jones.

71-Mile Anzalduas Canal In Rio Grande Valley Gets Impetus

FARLINGTON—(P)—Representatives of 20 water districts in the Rio Grande Valley unanimously endorsed the 20-million-dollar Anzalduas gravity canal project in an all-day meeting here Friday.

The full conference of the Valley Water Authority formally approved extensive engineering studies, the financing through revenue bonds and recommended member water districts conduct elections as soon as possible to approve the entire project.

Approval of the project by members of the Valley Authority and by landowning tax payers would allow the Valley Authority to accept water from the Falcon and Anzalduas international dams for distribution.

Districts will pay the authority an average of $3.25 per acre per year for the water used. This money would be used by the authority exclusively for funding the bond debt and operation of the 71-mile-long canal from near Mission to below Brownsville.

November 4 Ballot Count Shows Scant Republican Margin

WASHINGTON—(P)—More votes—239,271 more—were cast in November for Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives than for Republican ones although Republicans won control of the House.

Authorities for the figures, released Friday, are the statisticians of the House Republican Campaign Committee. Distribution of the vote gave the Republicans more seats, 221 to 213. But the statisticians figured that a switch of only 2,045 votes in five districts would have cost the Republicans control by resulting in election of 218 Democrats and 216 Republicans. On the other hand, a change of 951 in five other districts would have increased the Republican margin by five.

The figures further emphasized President-elect Eisenhower's personal victory. His total vote of 33,927,549 was 5,581,049 greater than the aggregate House Republican vote. Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson, with 27,311,316, trailed the Democratic House total by 1,274,455.

Agencies Await GOP's Nod Before Taking Major Steps

WASHINGTON—(P)—Like most other federal agencies, the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) has done a bit of marking time lately, waiting for President-elect Eisenhower to take office.

The Defense Production Administration (DPA) recently suggested the PAD make up its program for another year, to lay plans for new wells and other operations through 1955. PAD officials, observing that a new group of policy-making executives would soon be installed, decided to hold up long range planning.

This viewpoint was outlined in a PAD letter to Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association of America (IPAA). In the letter the PAD told Brown it could not join with the IPAA in urging immediate removal of price controls on crude. The PAD pointed out, in effect, that the subject was in the jurisdiction of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) and that except in emergencies it should not encroach on another agency's territory.

The Military Fuels Technical Advisory Committee will meet here January 28.

Deputy PAD Administrator J. Ed Warren said the committee will be asked to recommend to the PAD procedure for determining the extent to which old crude oil distillation equipment is being retired as new units are completed under refinery expansion plans.

A discussion also is scheduled on the effect of proposed changes in specifications of jet airplane fuel on the availability of supplies.

President Truman's ordering oil deposits in the submerged lands turned over to the Navy for a naval petroleum reserve brought expected condemnation from advocates of state control of the offshore areas. While most of them described it as a "meaningless" last-minute gesture, there was considerable question of the effect it might have on legislation dealing with the oil-rich lands beneath the marginal seas.

All agreed it makes no easier the course of the backers of state ownership, particularly with respect to the proposal that the congress pass a one-package bill dealing not only with the lands out for a distance of three miles—or 10 1/2 miles as claimed by Texas and Florida on their Gulf shores—but also with the submerged lands in the continental shelf out beyond the state's seaward boundaries.

Senator Holland (D-Fla.), sponsor of the bill vetoed last year by President Truman, which dealt only with the submerged lands in the belt claimed by the states, contends the continental shelf problem should be dealt with separately.

Almost a score of Senators have joined with Senator Hill (D-Ala.), in sponsoring oil-for-education legislation. So, although the chances still are all in favor of passage of legislation giving the states clear title to the marginal seas belt, there likely will be considerable debate on the subject before a measure goes to the White House.

Representative Walter (D-Pa.), chief sponsor in the House of legislation to vest title in the states, says that the move of the President putting the off-shore oil in the naval petroleum reserve may cause some lawmakers to switch their position for fear they will be accused of hampering the national defense. The Pennsylvania says, however, he is still confident a state bill will be passed.

Garden City FFA Youths Tackle Back-Bending Job

GARDEN CITY—The Future Farmers of America boys are building their new barn—and what a time they're having.

"If you think it's easy to dig a post hole in rock and caliche with crowbar and pick, try it sometime," declared one youth.

The barn, which is on the school grounds just west of the football field, needed 48 posts. The posts were lowered into the ground to a depth of three feet. Seventeen stalls or pens were formed in all and they were built in a way that they can be altered in both size and shape as the need might arise.

Each pen has its own running water and feeder. Inside there is a storage space for feed. There is a drinking fountain and a drain for washing calves. Each stall will accommodate from four to six lambs.

Ceylon Snubs U. S. Offers For Rubber, Sells To Red China

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Retiring Foreign Aid Chief Averell Harriman, expressed "critical concern" Saturday over a deal by Ceylon to ship 250,000 tons of strategic rubber to Communist China over the next five years.

In a farewell report to Congress, Harriman said the Ceylon government concluded the deal with the Reds after spurning a United States offer to buy the rubber at existing world market prices.

Ceylon preferred to negotiate a five-year rubber deal with Peiping, he said, because the Communists consented to pay 40 per cent higher than market prices.

Three Found Guilty Of Smuggling Cattle Across U. S. Border

EL PASO —(AP)—Three West Texas cattlemen were convicted Friday night of smuggling cattle from Mexico into this country.

The jury took four hours to reach a decision and then found Wayne Irvin and Walter Babb guilty of smuggling and conspiracy charges.

A Midland cattle broker, J. T. Marchant, was found guilty of conspiracy, but other charges against him were dismissed.

Three truckers from San Angelo—Leon, Fred and Herman L. Wilkerson—were acquitted on charges of hauling the cattle.

Trial of the seven men started Monday. The government contended the ring, using a Babb ranch near Sierra Blanca as its headquarters, brought about 350 head of cattle from Chihuahua, Mexico, to the United States.

An eighth man, Tom Grubb, is awaiting trial on similar charges. A brother-in-law of the Babb's, Grubb's case was continued after he suffered serious injuries in an automobile accident.

Federal Judge R. Ewing Thomas delayed setting a date for sentencing the Babb brothers and was awaiting a report from the federal probation officer.

Egypt Launches Nation-Wide Purge Of Red-Wafdist Allies

CAIRO, EGYPT —(AP)— Egyptian authorities Saturday night launched a nation-wide roundup of Communists, officially accused of plotting with the powerful Wafdists to overthrow Premier Gen. Mohamed Naguib's reform government.

With 35 Army officers and 15 high civilians under arrest, a government spokesman announced that every known active Communist will be jailed in the sweep against Red cells and organizations. He said six Communist newspapers had been closed.

The announcement of the crackdown came from the Army's acting chief of staff, Col. Abdel Nasser, Naguib's right-hand man, after the Premier himself decreed dissolution of all political parties and confiscation of their assets on grounds they endangered national unity. Nasser said the arrests crushed a seditious conspiracy to have been hatched off this week.

The Wafdists have been the strongest party and the Communists one of the weakest in this Moslem nation of 20 millions.

Among the men under arrest are Fuad Serag Ed-Din, former finance and interior minister and once one of the most powerful men in Egypt; Prince Abbas Halim, a second cousin of exiled King Farouk, and Col. Rashed Mehenna, a onetime close ally of Strongman Naguib.

Nasser said the plotters had planned to touch off violence January 23—at the beginning of a four-day celebration of the six-month anniversary of Naguib's Army coup which toppled Farouk.

Ike Favors 'Human' Approach To Labor Statute's Revision

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Representative McConnell (R-Pa.) said Saturday President-elect Eisenhower has taken "a reasonable and human approach" to revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Law in private discussions earlier this week.

Commenting on the results of a conference at Eisenhower's New York headquarters Wednesday, McConnell left the clear inference that no important differences existed between them on labor-management relations legislation.

As chairman of the House Labor Committee, McConnell will play a key role in bringing about changes expected to be made in the Taft-Hartley law.

While McConnell declined to relate Eisenhower's views in detail, his own opinions are sufficiently well known to afford some insight into the general nature of the "understanding."

McConnell, like Eisenhower, opposes any "union-busting" tactics, and has said he favors clear and simple treatment of management and labor alike.

He also advocates a "keep-'em-guessing" approach to the problem of the dealing with national emergency strikes.

Naguib announced Friday night that he had dissolved all political parties, some of which he charged "had connived with foreign powers, receiving money from them and had engaged in conspiracies."

The Premier did not name any foreign powers but Egypt is deep in a bitter quarrel with Britain over British troops remaining in the Suez canal area and the future of the Sudan, ruled jointly by the two countries. The Sudan is uppermost now in the diplomatic talks.

Nasser said Naguib "will rule Egypt for at least the three coming years," during a transitional period.

"A constitutional body will be set up by the government," Nasser said, "to work out a new constitution of Egypt. The new constitution will be applied after a three-year period. During those years, we hope we will root out corruption and eliminate political maneuvering."

Nasser named Serag Ed - Din, Wafdist Party leader, as the brains of the civilian plotters against Naguib and Mehenna as the arch-conspirator among the military. Serag Ed-Din and Prince Halim were arrested with 45 other top drawer politicians last September when Naguib assumed the premiership and pledged a swift purge of government grafters and corruptionists, but were released in December.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG MEN—

JayCees' Honored Quintet Saluted At Dallas Banquet

DALLAS —(AP)—The five men chosen as the outstanding young men of Texas for 1952 received their certificates at a Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet here Friday night.

They were Mayor T. J. (Tommy) Vandergriff of Arlington, businessman; Rex G. Baker, Jr., of Houston, attorney and business executive; Dayton Harold Walkup of Kilgore, ceramics manufacturer; Robert F. Haynsworth of El Paso, lumber importer, and Billy Sol Estes of Pecos, cotton farmer and sheep raiser.

Former Rep. Ed Gossett cited the men's achievements and Raymond M. Roberts of Grand Prairie, Texas JayCee president, gave them their certificates and pins.

Gossett headed the committee of judges which chose them. Other judges were James Ralph Wood and Felix R. McKnight, Dallas; Herman Brown, Houston; Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, Austin; Arthur Temple, Jr., Daboll, J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth; Bryan Bialock, Marshall, and J. Harold Dunn, Amarillo.

In praising the young men, Gossett noted that the Southwest was the "coming area of America" and that it was up to men like these that the Southwest realize its potential industrial growth.

Attorney General Shepperd made the principal address.

He compared American young men to those of other countries and said they, more than others, embody the principle of "the value, dignity and unlimited potentialities of the individual."

"These five young men have done things," he went on, "that only their particular combination of ability and character could make possible . . . consider what a wonderful thing it is to live where such accomplishments are possible. We owe tribute tonight not only to them, but also to the system which has allowed them to realize their God-given potentialities."

"In applauding them we are also acknowledging our own unlimited horizons, and expressing our exultation and faith in our American way of life."

Land Commissioner Giles Hoots At Boundary Dispute

AUSTIN —(AP)—Pish, tush and phooey, said Land Commissioner Bascom Giles Saturday about that claimed 16-mile error of the Texas-New Mexico border.

If New Mexico wants to cancel the compromise of 1850 and make the boundary the Rio Grande it would suit him fine, Giles said.

"We could use Santa Fe, the Roswell oil fields and Carlsbad Caverns," Giles snorted.

He was commenting on recent statements of State Rep. J. B. Walling of Wichita Falls that a 16-mile strip along the Texas-New Mexico line really belongs to New Mexico.

And as for statements attributed to the governor of New Mexico that much of Texas could be claimed by his state, Giles said:

"Two-thirds of what is now New Mexico was included in the borders of the Republic Texas, then the State of Texas. This land was finally awarded New Mexico and Texas got 15 million dollars for it. If New Mexico now wants to cancel the compromise of 1850 I'm sure Texas will consider that a reasonable price."

Congress ordered the boundaries re-surveyed in 1911 and those now in effect were reaffirmed by federal action.

"A state boundary line is not a flexible identification but a positive location which is not affected by casual claims and lawsuits," Giles said.

Members Of Kiwanis Club Attend Annual Banquet Wednesday

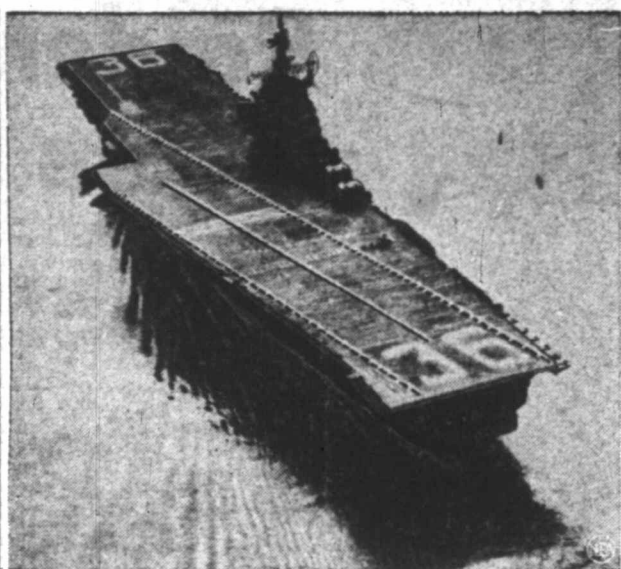

Members of the Kiwanis Club will gather Wednesday evening at the Midland Country Club to hold the annual banquet installing a new set of officers headed by Frank Besoni as president.

Dr. Humphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist University at Dallas, will be the principal speaker while the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn will be toastmaster.

The banquet will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will replace the regular weekly luncheon-meeting held on Mondays.

Other officers who will be installed at the banquet include F. E. Swenson, first vice president; Tom B. Campbell, second vice president; Wesley Martin, secretary and treasurer, and Norris Creath, R. B. Gillis, C. L. Chase and William S. Montgomery, directors.

Other members of the board of directors include Kelly Bell, P. B. Horton and Bob Sutton.

NEW ANGLE FOR CARRIERS—The U. S. S. Antietam steams from New York harbor after having an angled section added to the port side of her flight deck. The angled section gives an added measure of safety to landing operations by providing a lane leading away from the ship's superstructure, and is expected to prove particularly valuable for use by carrier-based bombers, with their wide wingspans.

Nixon Stands At Crossroads Of Meteoric Political Career

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON—(P)—Richard M. Nixon, on the eve of his inauguration as the second youngest vice president, stood Saturday at a new crossroads in his story-book political career.

Would the vice presidency prove for him, as for so many men in the past, a political dead end? Or would it lead eventually to new political honors?

"I'm not thinking of that," he told a reporter. "I'm just feeling humble."

Nixon's political plans after taking the oath of office Tuesday on his Quaker grandmother's Bible is "to do the best job I can as vice president of the United States," he said.

Just turned 40—his birthday was January 9—Nixon steps into a job making him the presiding officer of the Senate, many of whose members are old enough to be his father.

He also becomes next in the line of succession to the presidency.

Politicians—some who like Nixon and some who don't—are thinking more, however, in terms of where does he go from here. In 1956, when his term expires.

They guess President-elect Eisenhower will seek a second term and then face a choice of whether to pick Nixon again as his running mate or turn to some one else.

Nixon, at the peak of campaigning before the November election, ran into a storm when he acknowledged that he had accepted an $18,000 fund raised by constituents to meet some of the costs of running his office as senator from California.

In a dramatic television appearance, Nixon gave a financial accounting and offered to resign from the Eisenhower ticket if the people thought he had done wrong.

The response was a deluge of letters and telegrams approving Nixon's action, and a statement by Eisenhower that Nixon had proved himself clean as a hound's tooth.

The President-elect has said he plans some extra duties for Nixon, but neither of them has gone into details.

Unofficial Trouble Shooter
It was learned however that among other things Eisenhower plans to use his vice president as an unofficial trouble shooter to help in both the House and Senate. The President-elect also reportedly has told Nixon he wants him to play a more active part in affairs of the National Security Resources Board, which handles foreign policy and defense planning problems.

Election as vice president has made little difference in Nixon's mode of living. He lives in the same house he occupied as a senator in the fashionable Spring Valley district of Washington, and his two daughters attend the same nearby public school. He said he will attend the same Congregational Church in his neighborhood, there being no church nearby of his own Quaker denomination.

Nixon, a native of Yorba, Calif., was discharged from the Navy in 1946 with the rank of lieutenant commander. His political career began when a citizens committee of 100 Californians urged him to run for Congress.

Two Accused Spies Given Week's Time To Ponder Charges

WASHINGTON—(P)—Two former U. S. Army intelligence men will make their formal answers next Monday to charges they conspired to deliver military secrets to Russia.

The two, Otto Verber, 31, and Kurt Ponger, 39, appeared briefly in U. S. District Court Friday but were given time to study the indictments against them and engage lawyers before making their pleas.

They were taken back to jail; Bail was set at $50,000 each.

Yuri V. Novikov, second secretary at the Russian Embassy here and alleged director of the spy ring, is under orders to leave the country.

In Vienna, where Verber and Ponger were arrested Wednesday, U. S. agents questioned at least three other Americans. Two of them were identified as Walter Lauber, a student, and Ernest Tislowitz, 40, a German-born veteran of the U. S. Army intelligence service. The third was not identified.

Lauber's Austrian-born wife was reported to have fled to Russian-controlled territory. American officials in Vienna emphasized that no charges have been made against Tislowitz.

School Men Plan Kermit Meeting
KERMIT—The Permian Basin School Board and School Men's meeting will take place February 2. The January 26 meeting was cancelled.

More than 175 school board members and school men are expected at the dinner-meeting to be held in the East Primary cafeteria at 7:30 p.m.

Hungary Joins Purge Parade By Arresting Jewish Leader

BUDAPEST, HUNGARY—(P)—Hungarian police have arrested Lajos Stoeckler, the leader of the nation's Jewish community since World War II. The government announced the arrest in a one-sentence communique Saturday.

The communique did not specify the charges, but said police had found a considerable quantity of dollars and Swiss francs in Stoeckler's home. It identified him only as "a former industrialist."

The arrest was disclosed 48 hours after the official Communist newspaper, Szabad Nep, denounced Zionism and declared the danger of "hostile undermining activities" on behalf of the American Joint Distribution Committee in the Soviet Union—where it has come under fire with the imprisonment of nine doctors in a purported murder conspiracy.

The AJDC, a Jewish welfare organization, was banished from Hungary three years ago. It is understood the Jewish community Stoeckler headed since has administered AJDC funds sent to Hungary. The community has established homes for many aged and disabled Jews.

The last director of the AJDC in Hungary was Israel G. Jacobson, a native of Buffalo, N. Y. He was expelled in December, 1949. The government said he had "committed deeds violating the interests of the state and abusing the rights of foreigners."

Unanimous Approval For Anderson Hinted
WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) said he expected Robert B. Anderson of Vernon, Texas, to be confirmed unanimously by the Senate as secretary of the Navy.

Anderson appeared before the Senate Armed Services Committee Friday.

Johnson is a member.

"Those who are personally acquainted with Mr. Anderson will testify that he is the kind of man who would resolve any conflict between personal interests and the interests of the nation by selecting the path of honor and duty," Johnson said.

Midland Country Club To Choose Officers
Officers for 1953 will be elected in the annual stockholders meeting of the Midland Country Club at 7:30 p.m. Monday, President Vann Ligon reminded Saturday.

Business matters of "great importance" will be discussed also, Ligon said. All members are urged to attend.

Louisiana's Governor Wants Shivers In Presidency Race

BATON ROUGE, LA.—(P)—Gov. Robert Kennon (D-La.) called Texas Gov. Allan Shivers a "fresh Lochinvar out of the West who can keep the South solid" and suggested he would be a good presidential candidate in 1956.

"It will take someone like Shivers to win for the Democrats," Friday Kennon told a news conference, "if Truman or any of his disciples is nominated, the Solid South will be history forever."

"Not only will Texas, Florida, Oklahoma and Tennessee be lost to the Democrats, but all of the other Southern states which now realize the national party has abandoned true Jeffersonian Democracy."

Kennon supported Eisenhower in the presidential election. Louisiana stayed in the Democratic column by the closets margin in 1952.

Kennon said he picked Shivers, who also backed Eisenhower, on the grounds "the Democrats need a non-Washington man... someone out of the hinterland... from the backwoods... to win in 1956."

February 1 Deadline Set For Dog Tag Purchases

Midland dog-owners have until February 1 to purchase 1953 licenses for their pets.

The deadline was set Saturday by Police Chief Harold Wallace, after conferring with Frank Rose, the city's human officer.

"We have issued only about 200 tags so far," said Rose, "and there must be 1,000 or 1,500 more dogs in Midland which do not have tags."

Rose officially became a city employee last week after the city took over from the Midland Human Society the operation of the animal shelter and the enforcement of the city's dog ordinance.

Fatal Shooting Of Ochoa's Daughter Ruled Accidental

LAREDO—(P)—The fatal shooting of scar-faced fugitive George Ochoa's young daughter in the family home here was ruled an accident Saturday.

Justice of the Peace Manuel Cruz returned the verdict in the death Thursday night of Margarita Ochoa, 14.

He said findings of four State Department of Public Safety experts were that the fatal wound was self-inflicted with a .30 caliber rifle. Cruz said he studied the case from every angle before making his finding of accidental death.

Margarita was interred in Laredo Saturday morning.

Ochoa, accused of killing two men here in 1949, wept bitterly when he was told of his daughter's death.

"My little girl," he cried in the federal jail in Mexico City where he has been held since 1950. "She was almost grown up."

Ochoa was charged with murder in the deaths of Henry Whittenburg Jr., 31, Laredo cotton ginmer, and Air Force Cpl. James Lindsay, 30, of Oneida, Tenn. Both were shot on July 31, 1949, in separate rooms of a hotel with the same pistol.

Ochoa was captured in Mexico almost a year later. The U. S. tried for two years to extradite him, but the Mexican Supreme Court ruled in November that evidence against him was insufficient.

Ohlenbusch Found Innocent In Death Of Estranged Mate

ABILENE—(P)—Fred C. Ohlenbusch heard a district court jury declare Friday that he was innocent of charges of murder in the fatal shooting of his wife, Martha.

It was the forty-ninth birthday of the Sweetwater man.

Mrs. Ohlenbusch was shot fatally November 15 as she sat in a parked car on a country road. James C. Hendley, an Abilene grain salesman, was shot fatally near the car a few days later.

Ohlenbusch has been charged with murder in Hendley's death but has not been tried.

Ohlenbusch testified Friday that the shotgun went off at the scene of the shooting when a brother-in-law tried to take the gun from him.

The defense introduced a recording of a telephone conversation, in which a man and a woman expressed their love for each other. Ohlenbusch said the voices were those of his wife and Hendley.

YMCA MEET SET MONDAY

Midlanders and others interested in the establishment of a YMCA in this city were urged Saturday by Roy McKee to attend a mass meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the county courtroom. McKee and W. Lionel Craver have been working as co-chairmen with Delbert Downing, Chamber of Commerce manager, in seeking the center for Midland.

Hal Guyton of Fort Worth, southwestern representative of the YMCA, will give a report at the meeting on his recent survey in Midland.

Winkler Postpones Courthouse Annex

KERMIT—Winkler County Commissioners recently decided to postpone the building of a courthouse annex. Instead, they will use the $100,000 they have on hand to build 16 more rooms onto the Winkler County Memorial Hospital.

It was claimed that the hospital has been overflowing with patients the last few months, and that the hospital was more of an emergency than the courthouse annex.

St. Mark's Methodists Set Ground Breaking Sunday

Step forward in the $72,980 building program of the St. Mark's Methodist Church at 1701 North Main Street will be taken Sunday.

Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held at 5 p.m. for the first unit of a proposed three-unit modern church. Dr. O. W. Carter of Big Spring, Methodist district supervisor, will be the principal speaker.

To W. D. Gill, a member of the church building committee, will go the honor of breaking first ground for the new structure. Work on the new church is scheduled to be started Monday.

Other members of the building committee are G. C. Merket, J. P. Merriman, G. L. Dawkins, J. W. Graham and H. G. Brewer. Merket is chairman of the church group.

The Rev. R. L. Kirk and his assistant, the Rev. W. L. McCormick, will represent the First Methodist Church at the ceremonies. Also present will be the Rev. Wallace Rosenberg, Asbury Methodist Church, and the Rev. Clarence Collins, St. Luke's Methodist Church.

The Rev. James B. Sharp will take part in the ceremonies as minister of St. Mark's Methodist Church.

The new church will be built of stone and masonry, and be completely air conditioned. It will be of modern design, but as one member described it, "It will be constructed to look like a church."

The new unit will be used temporarily as a sanctuary when it is finished. Later, when the other two units are added, the first unit will be the fellowship hall of the complete church.

A barracks building, bricked over, has been used by the St. Mark's Methodist Church as quarters since the church's beginning in July, 1950. It will continue to be utilized until replaced by the new units.

Mullins and Lacey are the contractors for the church structure. Completion of the first unit is expected to be accomplished in June or July of 1953.

In the short space of less than three years, St. Mark's Methodist Church has grown to a membership of more than 400. Attendance is estimated at more than 200 families at present.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Champions in Midland come in tiny packages. And at this time of year—in hardly any wrappings at all.

Take for instance the top three who are rulers of Midland sports: Pitcher Keith Nicolls of the 1952 Indians baseball team, Jesse Hatfield of the Bulldog football team and tiny Chilly Reeves of the Golden Gloves squad.

All you can catch this threesome in nowadays is a pair of trunks. And, of the bunch, only Reeves is in his element. For he is a boxer warming up this winter weather for the annual Golden Gloves tournament in Odessa.

The other two are warm weather athletes—going in for basketball.

Taking Nicolls first—he's remembered for his pitching the Indians to 24 regular season baseball victories last summer. But, at present, he is leaving a big mark as a caver for the red-hot Rotary Engineers.

Nicolls is not quite the half-pint the other Midland sport diadem wearers are, but he still is small, both as a basketball player and as a right-handed hurler going up the pro baseball ladder.

He stands about five-feet-nine, and weighs a chubby 170 pounds. As a competitor, the stocky blond's record stands for his great versatility. Nicolls compiled the best average for Longhorn League pitchers on a 24-8 mark (.750).

Amazingly he fanned 220 batters, second only to the 225 of Big Spring's Gil Guerra. His earned run average was 2.97.

Unfortunately, Colorado Springs of the Western League thought so much of Nicolls' prowess the Class A club bought him for delivery in the 1953 baseball season.

Consequently, Midland baseball officials, who know Nicolls will succeed, don't expect to see him around any more—except, perhaps, as a Wintertime basketball player.

Both coaches Jack Bliss and Jack Locke of the Engineers say Nicolls is a terrific cager.

"You can't beat him for a team player," Bliss stated.

Nicolls does right well at point-producing also, ranking second on the team with 90 points in eight games.

Another athlete who has switched to cage and also ranks second in his team's scoring is Jesse Hatfield of Midland High School.

So far, throughout Bulldog visits in District basketball games, Hatfield is greeted, in surprise: "Is this really the boy who played football?"

It's difficult for them to imagine the five-eight, 145-pounder as both the Midland standout grizzer and the same tiny guard on the basketball team.

Hatfield, too, is destined to move off the Midland sport scene soon, for he completes this Spring after a stirring final year.

In football, the crew-cut blonde came in second only the Borger's Royce Hillman in total offense with a 766-yard sum. He picked up 473 yards of that in rushing.

Hatfield as a basketball player had compiled, through Friday, 93 points as the runner-up scorer for the Bulldogs.

The third Midland lightweight star is, more exactly, a flyweight. And also a blond.

Stocky Chilly Reeves rates as the best West Texan in 112-pound boxing and has the 1952 Golden Gloves Flyweight crown to prove it.

At his weight, it is difficult to find opponents for the slugger but he racked up four victories in seven amateur bouts last year.

He lost in the Fort Worth state tourney to a veteran East Texas, 24-year-old glover, Jim Jarrett of Palestine. Jarrett went on from that split decision victory to land in the semi-finals.

Reeves again is destined to make the Fort Worth Gloves meet because no one near his caliber has entered the Odessa tournament.

Although the Corsicana golf courses were blanketed with packed sleet, Knight marched forth to play alone. He painted two golf balls with red fingernail polish and teed off.

Raiders Sock 66ers Easily

The Texas Tech Red Raiders matched their red-hot efficiency with their uniforms Saturday night to leave the Phillips 66 basketball team embarrassed by a 62-44 setback.

For aging Phillips, the Old College Try proved too little against too-talented collegians, especially with starters Kenny Jastrow and Jim Line missing.

With those two gone, Jastrow out with flu and Jim Line in New York for the basketball trials, the 66ers had only six men to use.

Then, more against the Phillips' luck, Texas Tech refused to call a time out until the fourth period.

Raider Virgil Johnson basketed eight field goals and two free throws for high honors (18 points) as the Raiders connected on 54 per cent of their attempts.

Gerald Tucker led Midland with 16 points.

Phillips took a 2-0 lead on a tip-off when Claude Houchin glenn in a quick crisp shot, then Glenn Mitchell made it 4-0 with a two-hand set shot. Tech then rallied. Johnson's second basket pushed his team to 6-4 and Houchin matched it from 15 feet.

Houchin's one-hander, however, brought on a drouth. Phillips couldn't score from the field for another 12 minutes. By the time Don Grove chipped one in halfway through the second period, Tech led 29-10.

It took until four minutes from the half for Tucker to break through for a fielder a left-handed hook around Nolen.

Tech led 39-22 at halftime, then outscored the home team easily the rest of the way—14-9 in the third period, 29-13 in the fourth.

The Texas Tech freshman, over Odessa Junior College, in the opener of the twin-bill, Walter Spiller of the Odessa jalled 26 points as the leading scorer.

Suggs' 220 Leads Pack; Pat Logs 238

TAMPA, FLA. —(P)— Steady Louise Suggs was one under women's par with a 73 again Saturday, clinging to a one stroke lead after three rounds of the 72-hole Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Unshakable as a rock, the little Cincinnati pro, the defending champion, has put together rounds of 74-73-73 for a 220 after 54 holes.

One stroke back in the tightening race was amateur Mary Lena Foulk, Thomasville, Ga. Miss Faulk, who led with 70 the first day only to sky to 78 Friday, came back again with a 73 for 221.

Pro Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Texas, also shot 73 for a 223 total, tying with Patty Berg, another pro playing out of St. Andrews, Ill. Miss Berg was even par 74 Saturday over the 6,073-yard Palma Cels course.

Tampa's Babe Zaharias, only two-time winner of the $5,000 event, was another player coming in with the day's favorite score of 73. That put her in a tie at 224 with Marlene Stewart, the Canadian amateur champion, who has been one of the surprises of the tournament. Miss Stewart's 224 has come on steady rounds of 75-75-74.

Pat Garner, amateur from Midland, Texas, turned in a card reading 74-87-77—238.

McCamey edged Lake View, 52-50, for third place.

The all-tournament team included Colley, Thompson, Farris and Martin of Reagan, Yockam and Tower of Rankin, Schneeman of Odessa, Young and Cauble of Ballinger, Essary of Lake View, and Grandio of Fort Davis. Martin was declared the tournament's outstanding player.

Nabors, Miners' line coach the last three seasons, said he will enter private business in Lubbock, his hometown.

Abilene Raps Bulldogs, 88-51

ABILENE — Midland's full court press backfired in the first half here Saturday night and Abilene, on the strength of 46 before-intermission points, rolled to an 88-51 basketball victory.

It was the second defeat of the week for Midland after San Angelo patted the Bulldogs, 65-52, Friday night, and also the sixth straight setback in District 1-AAAA play.

The game was fired with roughness, 29 fouls going against Abilene to the same number for Midland. The Bulldogs' scoring ace, Bob Keisling, was evicted midway in the third quarter after running into Jerry Turner of Abilene against the backcourt wall. Turner added high honors on 27 points.

Turner was hot in the first quarter as Abilene went out front 18-7. Midland tried its press in the second period and suffered from it—to lag by 46-18 at halftime.

Rusty Rutledge and Jesse Hatfield both scored 10 points to lead Midland.

At San Angelo, Midland's full court press held the Bobcats to 14 field goals, but fouls provided the difference.

Midland made only 18 points on charity tosses to 37 for San Angelo. Midland lagged 15-8 at the end of the first period, but Hatfield and Keisling, who made 13 and seven points, respectively, trimmed that margin to 31-25 at halftime.

High scoring Hubert Whitley, who tallied 12 points all told, jumped the Bobcats to a safe distance by the end of the third period.

The game's scorers: Midland — Tommy Johnson 1,

Keisling 13, Roy Kinsey 7, Hatfield 7, Rutledge 4, Bill Mims 2, Crowley 2, Tommy Mashburn 1, Tom Dyer 5, Gwen Grisham 4, Joe Bowman 0, Harold Paden 7.

Bolt's 204 Stands Sub-Par Challenge

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. —(P)— Colorful Tommy Bolt survived the severest sort of challenges Saturday including a rival's eight-under par 64, but managed to remain on top at the end of the third round of the $10,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament.

Leading the charge of the shot-makers on 34-year-old Tommy was a 41-year-old club pro from Garden City, N. Y., Al Broch, who uncorked a 64. And that ushered him into contention immediately behind the pacesetter from Maplewood, N. J.

Bolt began the round with a two stroke lead over little Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., and four or more over such threats as Doug Ford, Lloyd Mangrum, Ed Oliver and, until late Saturday afternoon, the red-headed Broch.

When the round was over, Bolt had shot a two under par 70 and was hanging onto the lead by one thin stroke over Broch and another New Yorker, Ford, from Harrison, who shot a 66.

The day's sensational play left Bolt with a three-round total of 204 followed by Broch and Ford, each with a 205.

Barber was still in the picture, with a 70 to 206; Oliver had moved up to 207 with a 66, and the dashing Mangrum man was back in contention with a 67 for 208.

Five strokes back, at 209, were Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., winner of the San Diego last year. Dick Knight, 27-year-old newcomer from Honolulu and San Diego's star amateur, Gene Littler.

Jimmy Demaret, last year's runner-up, shot a 70 for 210.

Bolt dominated the scene as play got underway at the San Diego Country Club, a 6,800-yard, par 36-72 test.

But Broch responded with a 31-

33-64 for a new course competitive record. The old one, 65, was established by Kroll in the first round here last year.

Temple's Traylor Named Texas' Top Schoolboy Gridder

DALLAS —(AP)— Doyle Traylor, who threw 78 touchdown passes in three seasons and twice won All-State honors, Saturday was selected as outstanding high school football player in Texas for 1957.

Traylor, quarterback of Temple High School, was picked by the state's sports writers by the widest margin in the six-year history of this annual award. He received more votes than all other nominees combined.

The Wildcat quarterback, called the greatest passer in Texas high school football history by coaches and sports writers, will be the guest of the Ex-Students Association of the University of Houston in that school's annual football banquet January 23.

Roger Jeffery, president of the University of Houston alumni, will present a trophy to Traylor.

Coach Honored

The banquet will honor Clyde Lee, coach of the University of Houston, whose team won the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

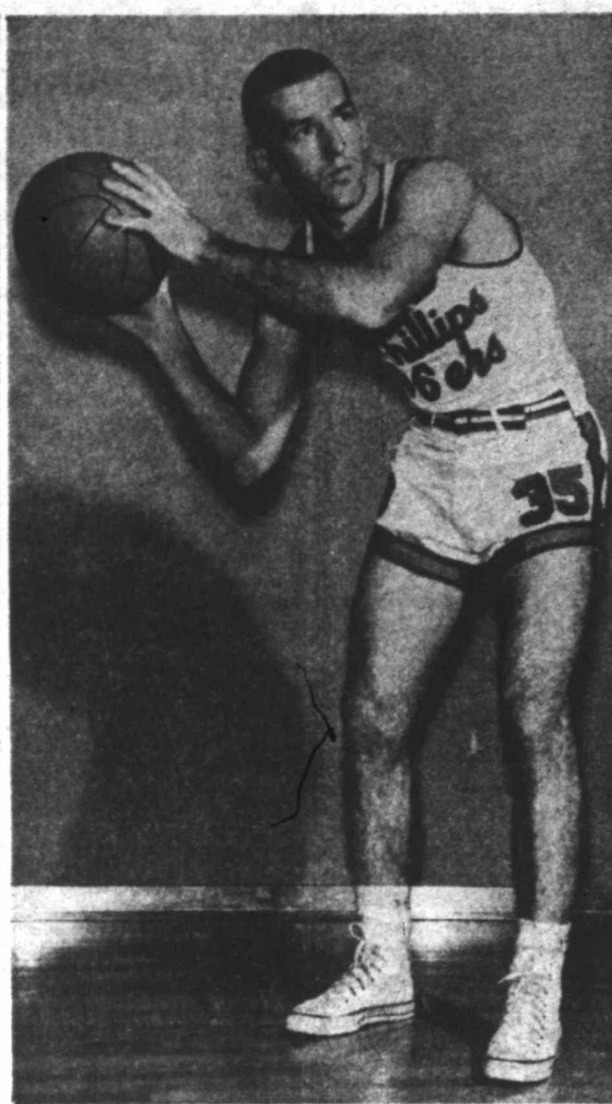

Traylor, a senior who is expected to select Baylor, Texas or Rice as his college, received 35 votes from the Texas Sports Writers Association. Second in the balloting was James Peters, end of Brenham, with nine votes. Jimmy Welch, Lubbock fullback, was third, with six.

Others receiving votes were: John Ray, Ray (Corpus Christi), end, three; Raymond Glasgow, Arlington, quarterback, three; Jerry Tubbs, Breckenridge, center, two; Gerald Orton, Baytown, quarterback, two; Ronnie McChesney, White Oak, center, two; James Harris, Terrell, halfback, one; Herman Kaufman, Stephenville, fullback, one; Odie Michalk, Kingsville, halfback, one; Leonidus Fry, Brownwood, halfback, one; Fred Kriess, Austin (El Paso), one; Roy Chapman, Temple, end, one.

Passes for 3.3 Miles

Traylor piloted Temple High School into the Class AAA finals two seasons in a row. In his three seasons with Temple, Dandy Doyle passed for 3.3 miles—5,908 yards. His biggest season in passing was 1951 when he completed 96 to 169 for 2,188 yards and 34 touchdowns. He threw 23 touchdowns last season.

In 1951, he played with a brace on his back because of major surgery to correct a spinal defect. In 1952, he was recovered fully, however, and was 30 pounds heavier, weighing 180. He did some ball carrying.

STREAK OF 88 VICTORIES ENDS

WEST BRANCH, MICH.—(AP)—The Sterling High School girls basketball team came to the end of a long, long trail here Friday night. For 13 seasons they hadn't tasted defeat. They had a record of 88 wins, no losses and two ties.

The West Branch girls team beat them, 32-24.

Ties are possible here in girls' games, which do not go into overtime.

Bud Sherrod Goes To Tech

LUBBOCK —(AP)— Horace (Bud) Sherrod, all-America end at Tennessee in 1950, has been added to the Texas Tech coaching staff, Head Coach Dewitt Weaver announced today.

Sherrod will report here Wednesday.

Sherrod was voted the outstanding lineman in the Tennessee victory over the University of Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl game in Dallas. He went on to play for the Carwell Air Force Base bombers at Fort Worth and the New York Giants professional team.

In his senior year at Tennessee, Sherrod was considered by many the best defensive end in college football. He was elected to nine all-opponent teams.

Sherrod, now 24, was coached in his high school year at Knoxville by Buzz Warren, who joined the Tech staff last summer.

Writers Hail Demise Of Two-Platoon Game

NEW YORK —(AP)— Death of the two-platoon system found little sorrow Saturday among the nation's football writers, a big majority of whom breathed a sigh of relief at getting rid of the "coaches' chess game."

An Associated Press cross-check of the men in the press boxes showed them lined up 5-1 in support of the Rules Committee action this week in throwing out the free substitution rule.

"It will be nice to know who's in the ball game once more," commented Bert McGrane of the Des Moines Register, secretary-treasurer of the National Football Writers Association.

Harry Farrar of the Denver Post and Royal Brougham of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer referred to the game of recent years as a master chess game with players as pawns and said the rules change will make the game simpler and easier to follow.

Others foresaw a keener brand of all-around competition, salvation for many of the smaller colleges and a whole new generation of well-rounded athletes "instead of half All-Americans."

But a minority put up a strong argument that the move will set off a new wave of intensified recruiting, relegate the specialists to the bench, lower and standard of play and increase the number of injuries.

Most outspoken critic of the rules change was H. G. Salsinger, veteran sports editor of the Detroit News, who said, "Football will be a slower, less interesting game."

"Colleges have blamed their operational woes on the two-platoon system and television. What they overlook is that it costs several times as much to coach, equip and travel as it did 10 or 15 years ago."

Fred Russell of the Nashville Banner and Wilfrid Smith of the Chicago Tribune expect a rebirth of the old Rockne shock troop era when subs were sent in to wear down a foe and regulars inserted to put over the finishing wallop.

"Undoubtedly," said Russell, "most coaches will try to develop three or four double duty units. One group might play the first and third quarters, another the second and fourth, as Tennessee used to do. Or, with such big squads, possibly units will be drilled to play seven or eight minutes, then withdraw for a fresh team."

Bill Rives of the Dallas Morning News said, "The return to ironman football might help the small school to some extent financially but it certainly won't enable them to compete with major schools on better terms. Legislation won't make the weak stronger or the strong weak. Spectators may enjoy the game more because they won't be so confused over who is playing and who isn't. But that pleasure may be dimmed by an overall slowing down on the field. Iron man football can't be played at the same hectic pace as the two-platoon variety."

Stuart Photo Nabs Clear-Cut Keg Win

Stuart Photo Print Shop proved the toughest team in the Petroleum Bowling League last week but even a three-game sweep from Axelson Manufacturing Company didn't help the club off the cellar floor.

Stuart was the only all-winning team in the week's games.

Meanwhile, Superior Oil's lead was trimmed when it dropped two of three games to American Trading Company. Second place Tide Water Oil and Union Oil copped two-of-three game sets.

One game, matching Phillips 66 against West End Magnolia, was postponed.

The others were decided, 2-1:

Al Boring Drafting Service over Rotary Engineers, Honolulu Oil over West Texas Reproduction, Ohio Oil over State Exploration Company, Tide Water Oil over Core Laboratories, Drillers Petroleum Products over Standard Oil of Texas, Midland Geophysical over Seaboard Oil, and Union Oil over Tex-Harvey Oil.

Rotary rolled both the high game total, 889, and the high series, 2504. Slick Hally 226 game and 578 series were the top individual scores.

Parks To Wrestle Russian Monday

ODESSA—Ivan Kalmikoff, the "mad Russian" of the wrestling ring and the Southwest's junior heavyweight champion, Monday night meets Herb Parks, the Canadian terror.

Supporting this match will be a tussle between Ray Urbano, classy Philippine Islander, and muscle-man Whitely Walberg of Columbus, Ohio.

The two matches are for a one hour time limit or a best two out of three falls.

The opening match, which gets underway at 8:15 p.m., will be between Billy Weidner and Carlos Moreno.

Reservations can be made by calling 7-0901 in Odessa before 7 p.m. Monday. After 6, the number is 7-9318.

Michigan State tackle Warren Spragg is co-holder of the college intramural doubles tumbling championship.

Midland's 66ers To Learn What Short Men Feel Like

The Phillips 66ers, head and shoulders above most of their opponents, draw the role of little David when they tackle the big men of amateur basketball Thursday, the Goliath-like Phillips 66ers of Bartlesville.

The two will tangle in Odessa at 8 p.m. Thursday.

All the Midland quintet has to contend with is a Bartlesville winning string that had been extended through 28 games last week and a host of former all-Americans.

Among the brightest Oklahoma Oiler stars, of course, is Clyde Lovellette, formerly of Kansas, who was Mr. College Basketball in 1952. He then headed the Kansas to the NCAA title and the United States team to the Olympic title.

Lovellette is in his first year with the 66ers of Bartlesville and has this record as a collegian behind him:

a single game total of 44 points, a holder of the major college scoring record for three years on 1,979 points and a 24.7 average. At six-foot-nine, he's the tallest Oiler by one inch over the second skyscraper.

That is Chuck Darling, who set a Big Ten scoring record of 364 points while at Iowa last season. He was twice an all-Big Ten player.

More familiar to West Texas fans is Little Jewell McDowell, a former Texas Aggie great, who played high school ball at Amarillo High School. He stands only 5-10, but promises to be of the all-time play-makers for the Oiler.

Bartlesville boasts one of the youngest ball clubs in the National Industrial Amateur League and carries only one player who has been with the team three years.

The vet. is Bus Whitehead, 6-8, from Nebraska University and a former AAU All-American.

Bartlesville currently appears on its way to ninth AAU national title with what it claims to be one its best team ever.

War Demands Ease; Baseball Clubs Reunite

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK —(AP)—Baseball's lend-lease operations with Uncle Sam for the Korean War and defense buildup is beginning to level off, as major league stars are returning from two-year hitch in the service.

Andrews Grid Banquet Held

ANDREWS—Football players and coaches were honored Friday night at the annual banquet in the elementary school cafeteria.

Delbert Downing, Midland Chamber of Commerce, gave the principal address. He was introduced by Attorney Max Ramsey, James Roberts extended the welcome after the invocation by M. O. Woolam, assistant superintendent.

Coch Neil Taylor introduced the football players and J. Lee Smith, high school principal, presented gifts to the mentors.

A film of the 1952 football game between the University of Texas and North Carolina was shown.

A squad boys attending were Dick Blenden, Jerry Bowden, Charles Carruth, George Carruth, Walter Clawson, Jimmy Dorland, Gene Ellis, Sonny Earle, Bob Ellis, Wade Graham, Byron Greaves, Bill Green, Luther Hale, Gerald Hudleston, Carl Hollowell, Kenneth Helvey, Sherrill Ivy, Tommy Jackson, Richard Lowther, Cecil Tucker, John Thames, Butch Vining and L. F. McCrary.

B squad players included Jack Benton, Stanley Bingham, Charles Brewer, Leon Chester, Derrell Crain, Jackie DeShazo, Ronny Earle, Donald Gooch, John Harris, Leslie Hudgens, J. R. Janice, Benny Loyd, Gary O'Rear, Randy Pendleton, Monty Pinnell, Curley Phillips, Robert Newman, Don Spencer, Fred Satterwhite, Jimmy Thorp, Bobby Tompkins, Dale Tilly, Wayne Waits, Phillip Wheeler, Walter Winters, Jerry Walker and Bobby Wright.

the great majority of the club rosters are filled with men ineligible for the draft. The clubowners are wary of signing youngsters who are draft bait.

In all, 45 current big leaguers are back from service while 48, including such stars as Ted Williams, Don Newcombe, Willie Mays, Gerry Coleman and Chet Nichols, are still marking time. About a half dozen have passed their physicals for induction and several are expecting that letter of "greetings."

Yank To Benefit
The clubs likely to benefit most this season from the latest lend-lease operations between the major and military leagues appear to be Cleveland and New York Yankees in the American and Boston's Braves in the National.

Boston's Red Sox have been hurt the most as rookie stars Faye Throneberry and Dick Brodowski—followed Williams and Leo Kiely into service since the close of the 1952 campaign. The Red Sox have six in service, second only to Detroit's seven. Cincinnati has five in service.

Six national defense men are listed in Cleveland's 1953 roster, including outfielder Bob Kennedy, Herbie Adams and Jim Lemon, infielder Doug Hansen and pitchers Dick Weik and Al Aber. Kennedy was the regular right fielder before he re-joined the Marines last Spring. Lemon is a promising rookie slugger from Oklahoma City, Weik came to Cleveland from Washington in exchange for Mickey Vernon, and Aber is the southpaw hope the Indians have been seeking for years.

The Braves will have a complete battery back from the Army when pitcher Johnny Antonelli and catcher Del Crandall report to Spring training.

Antonelli, the $52,000 bonus baby, was named the best pitcher in the Wichita (Kan.) tournament last Summer. Crandall is expected to be the No. 1 catcher of the Braves.

Pittsburgh will have shortstop Danny O'Connell, pitcher Bill Macdonald and first baseman Al Grunwald back in '53 but the Pirates already have lost Tony Bartirome, Ronnie Neccai and Ron Kile and are certain to lose shortstop Dick Groat. O'Connell was voted the most valuable player in the Wichita tournament. Macdonald and Grunwald are expected to be regulars.

FISTIC FIGURES—The growing Midland Golden Gloves team promises to send one of its biggest groups ever to the Odessa regional tournament February 30-31 with this bunch of 11 forming the nucleus. Bottom row, Jerry McReynolds and Doyle Pittman; second row, James Rogers, Jerry McGee, Chilly Reeves, LeRoy Reeves and Don Warren, and back row, John Painter, Charlie Crites, Boyce McKnight and Bill Burns. Six Glovers not shown are Carroll Jonas, Larry Jonas, Gail Nelson, Don Evans, Tex Wilson and Doyle Pittman.

HE FIGHTS GAVILAN FEBRUARY 11—

Davey Drills Floorboarded Amid Chrome, Plush Of Tam

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO —(AP)—Welter-weight Chuck Davey pulled on a sweatshirt and tennis shoes Saturday and ran like a scared rabbit through ankle-deep snow four miles over the rolling Tam O'Shanter Golf Course.

The exercise heralded the official opening of the undefeated southpaw's fantastic training camp.

On February 11, the scholarly Davey will climb into the Chicago Stadium ring and try to knock the welterweight crown loose from Champion Kid Gavilan.

Until fight time, the Michigan State graduate, holder of a master's degree in education, will train in the pleasant-under-glass atmosphere of swank Tam O'Shanter County Club. It is located about 18 miles northwest of Chicago's loop.

"I will be in excellent condition for Gavilan and I have all the confidence in the world of beating him," Davey said as he hung his tennis shoes under an air conditioning unit to dry.

His living quarters are in the plush, private suite of Tam O'Shanter's president, George S. May, promoter of the $100,000 golf tournament.

Davey and his manager, Hec Knowles, sleep in twin beds in May's soundproofed suite. The elegantly appointed quarters have all the comforts of home and then some—wood-paneled walls, light leather divan, television and continuous music piped in from outside.

A boxing ring has been set up in a large cocktail lounge, on the second floor. Huge picture windows overlook the golf course. The ring is almost surrounded by plush red leather seats built to the walls. When Davey returned from camp, entering over snow covered fairways, bunkers and greens a television crew had flood lighted the cocktail lounge and was ready to take movies to be used commercially by the beer sponsor of the fight.

Davey danced around for them, skipped rope and did push-ups.

He couldn't do any work Saturday on the punching bag because a portable stand is being erected. May would not permit holes drilled in the floor for a stationary stand. Also, the legs of the ring are placed on newspaper and cardboard to prevent scarring the polished floor.

"Davey has seen Gavilan fight four or five times," said Knowles. "We're getting some moving pictures of him to study at the camp."

An international boxing club spokesman said plans are being made to televise Davey's workouts locally on Sunday. The public is barred from the Tam O'Shanter camp and only club members are allowed to watch Davey train in the flesh.

Bevo Biggest, Best Bargain In Basketball

COLUMBUS, OHIO —(AP)—Clarence (Bevo) Francis, Rio Grande's long, lean and lanky basketball player who has as many points as a guy needed for a wartime steak, is running General Eisenhower a neck-and-neck race for space on the news pages.

The six feet and nine inch freshman scored 1,072 points in his first 21 games for a new collegiate record, topped by an unheard-of 118 single-game spurge, as the classy Redmen from the Gallia County hills continued unbeaten.

He's the biggest, and the cheapest, basketball attraction in the country. Rio Grande, on the games scheduled before the campaign opened, settled for out-of-town guarantees ranging up to $75—hardly enough to feed Coach Newt Oliver and his nine players.

Ante Boosted
But Oliver, and astute business man as well as a top-flight mentor, is boosting the ante for tilts now being booked.

Jack Meyers, publicity man for the Hobart Arena at Troy, lined the Redmen up for a game with Cedarville at Troy Tuesday night, and told Sports Editor Allan White of the Lima News.

"I have to wait in line to see Oliver. Promoters of all kinds were waiting to see Francis. Oliver's not just a coach now. He's Bevo's manager. I figure they'll leave Troy with about $4,000." The arena seats 7,000.

Francis has a twisting jump shot from which he scores most of his two-pointers, but folks who haven't seen him in action just won't believe the fantastic totals. Doc Tillotson, Toledo University's trainer who has seen some great ones come and go, remarked to Toledo Times Sports Editor Tom Bolger, after Bevo's 116-point effort.

"That fellow must start shooting at the basket as soon as he leaves the locker room."

San Jacinto Cagers Eke Out 39-38 Victory Over Cowden

San Jacinto's Mustangs tiptoed out of a tight basketball game against Cowden Junior High School Friday afternoon with a 39-38 victory on John McNeil's overtime free throw.

The game at Cowden gym, between ninth graders, was the first match between the two Midland junior highs.

In an eighth-grade clash, Cowden emerged an easy winner, 33-20.

For San Jacinto's ninth graders, beating Cowden came as their first victory in two starts. The Mustangs had taken a long, 16-5 first quarter lead but made only nine points until the start of the final period.

Cowden's Jim Owens led his team in the middle-period rallies that tied the count at 25-25 by the end of the third quarter. Owens, overall, led scorers with 22 points.

San Jacinto slipped out of several the scores in the fourth period to hold a 33-37 lead as the game ended. But a technical foul enabled the home club to tie it at 38-38 and send the game into overtime.

McNeil, who made only three points all told, was fouled in the overtime and he provided the margin with his successful free throw for San Jacinto.

Larry Cooper paced San Jacinto with 10 points.

The story of Cowden's win in the opener is told in San Jacinto's first half scoring column. The Mustangs mustered only two points in two periods. By then, Cowden held a 27-2 halftime margin.

James York's 10 points sparked the Bullpup triumph.

Eighth grade scoring:
Cowden (33) — Freeman 0, Smith 1, Patton 5, Hernandez 3, Kirby 0, Vann 7, York 10, Bailey 1, Adams 4, Barr 2, Lindsley 0, Howard 0, F. Hernandez 0.

San Jacinto (20) — Hillin 5, Smith 3, Yeatherman 0, Tom 0, Stills 6, Cornish 0, Soules 6, Hunter 0.

Ninth grade scoring:
Cowden (38) — Bonnett 2, Sapp 5, Inman 4, Owens 22, Monroe 0, Harris 4, Magness 0, Thomson 1.

San Jacinto (39) — Chancellor 8, Phillips 4, Allen 5, Miller 2, Whitley 4, Cooper 10, Wilton 2, McNeil 2.

Kermit, Andrews Unbeaten In District 8-AA Cage Chase

Kermit and Andrews, with only one league game behind them, hovered over District 8-AA cage race as the only unbeaten clubs after one week's play.

Kermit's Yellow Jackets are unbeaten only after a shaky 42-39 victory—hotly disputed by officials—against Seminole Friday night.

Seminole, until the last seconds, appeared to have won a 38-36 game from Kermit at Seminole, but then Yellow Jacket Bobby Almond tossed in a long fielder from mid-court with such force it tore through the side of the netting. The referee ruled no goal as the game ended.

After a dispute, the referee reversed his decision and called for a minute's overtime period. The Yellow Jackets, on the strength of Bill Huckabee's two goals, won in the extra period.

Pecos got back to winning Friday with a 43-36 triumph over Monahans as Glen Teaney set the standard with 13 points. Andrews had a bye Friday.

Tuesday results were Andrews 50, Monahans 32, Seminole 53, Pecos 38.

Next week's games match Seminole at Monahans and Kermit at Andrews to match unbeaten marks, both Tuesday, and Andrews at Seminole and Kermit at Pecos Friday.

El Paso Open Puts 10 Grand In Prize Bag

EL PASO — (AP) — A field of some 130 players plus ties. And 85 of those players already have been assigned, either by the Professional Golfers Association, which puts on the tournament, or by El Paso Country Club, co-sponsors of the meet with the El Paso Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The PGA has been allocated 75 places. In addition, the host club has been allotted 10 places for its local stars who will include pro Jack Harden.

The remaining 35 places in the Open are just that—open for the players to scramble after.

During the field of professional golfers already signed is Dr. Cary Middleoff, who won the event last year. Al Bessellink, who made a spirited charge in the final round to take second money, also is returning, as is Bill Nary, the Albuquerque pro who set the meet on fire with a record tying 60 in the third round a year ago.

Schlitz Beer Ousted From Second Place In Women's Bowling

Troy Cleaners took undisputed hold on second place and Kruger Jewelry increased its first place margin last week in Women's Bowling League action.

Troy Cleaners pulled out of a tie with Schlitz Beer by coping two of three games for I. W. Hynd Company. Kruger went the cleaners one better, however, and climbed at the expense of a three-game sweep from House of Beauty.

Schlitz fell to third place when West Texas Office Supply won two of their three-game series.

Other results were Airway Cash Grocery's two-of-three triumph over Midland Office Machine Company and Neely Agency's two-of-three win over Miller High Life.

B. Roy rolled 189 and 456 in individual game and series scores, respectively, for the week's honors. And Neely Agency topped team scoring with a 575 game and 1586 series.

The standings:

Banner Holds Fast To Lead In Major Loop Despite Upset

Houston Hill Inc. trimmed league-leading Banner Dairies in two of three games last week but failed to dent the dairymen's hold on first place in the Major Bowling League.

Banner holds a six-game margin over runner-up American Legion.

In other games last week, third place Willis Engineering Company split a three-game set with Car-Trucks Rental, with a game and a half each; The Reporter-Telegram dropped three to Aluma Kraft Awning Company and Mid-West Glass and Paint Company won two from the American Legion.

Grade School Quits Call Off Encounters Because Of Weather

Elementary school basketball teams look forward to this week to catching up on their city schedule after cold weather put a halt to play Friday.

The teams, which play out of doors, postponed these Friday clashes: West at Terminal, Sam Houston at South, North at Lamar and De-Zavala at Crockett.

No date has been set for renewing the games, but coaches said they probably would make up the games sometime this week.

The teams play regularly-scheduled games again Friday.

Swarms Of Texans Stampede Washington For Inauguration

By The Associated Press

A second special train headed for Washington Saturday carrying hundreds of Texans to see Gen. Dwight Eisenhower inaugurated.

Many others planned to make the trip by plane, bus and private automobiles.

The 11-car special left San Antonio at 3:10 p.m. Saturday. On board were the 122 Texas Cavaliers, their wives and guests. Stops will be made at other points to pick up additional inauguration groups.

The Hardin-Simmons University Band of Abilene and the Kilgore College Rangerettes also boarded trains Saturday as part of Texas' contributions to the inauguration festivities.

The H-SU Cowboy Band will march in the parade along with the Cavaliers, the Rangerettes, and the Denison High School Band. The Rangerettes also will have a spot in the festival show the night before the inauguration.

Blonde Queen Leads Texans Boarding Inauguration Train

DALLAS — (AP) — A vivacious blonde led the group of about 125 Texans who boarded a special train here Friday night for Washington and the Eisenhower inauguration.

The attractive leader was Mrs. Christine Unger, 30-year-old Republican committeewoman from the 22nd Senatorial District. She lives in Denton.

She will reign as queen of the Texas float in the inaugural parade and take part in many of the inaugural functions.

But she is not a stranger to the Eisenhower. Her husband, Capt. Irving Unger, was navigator aboard the general's special plane, the sunflower, more than three years. He was killed in a plane crash in Hawaii in 1948.

HE'S DRAFTED On BANDWAGON

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina undoubtedly will be surprised to learn he is listed in a special inauguration directory as a Republican.

Byrnes broke with President Truman and supported Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president, but he has been a Democratic leader of long standing.

Byrnes and his wife are listed as boxholders at the inaugural ball.

Several times before the train left she described again to her Dallas friends her inaugural wardrobe—particularly the gown for the inaugural ball.

"It's a full white tulle skirt with lots of oil derricks and longhorns scattered all over it in sequins," she said, with gestures.

Her four-year-old daughter, Philippa, perched on a nearby suitcase and urged repeatedly: "I'm ready. Let's go to Washington."

NEW ADDRESS MADE OFFICIAL

NEW YORK — (AP) — Notice to correspondents: The Post Office Saturday received an official change of address for Dwight D. Eisenhower from 60 Morningside Drive (his home) and the Commodore Hotel (his office) to 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, Washington, D. C.

No mail will be delivered to his new address, however, until Wednesday.

Red Planes Down Two U. S. B-29's

SEOUL — (AP) — Communist night fighters of an unidentified type shot down two U. S. Superforts in air-to-air combat during heavy Allied bridge-busting bomber raids on vital North Korean communication targets during the week the Air Force disclosed Saturday.

It was the first time in almost four months the bomber command had announced the loss of any of the big, slow-moving B-29's, which normally carry a crew of 11. One B-29 was announced lost last September 20.

Republican High Jinks

For the Republicans who have been outside looking in ever since Herbert Hoover lost to Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932, there will be a round of receptions, balls, dinners, cocktail parties and other high jinks from now until Wednesday.

Pictures of Eisenhower and Vice President-elect Richard M. Nixon are everywhere. Flags and bunting are draped on downtown buildings.

There were no reports of airmen parachuting from the bombers before they crashed.

The Red night fighters usually are MIG jets, equipped with cannon. Improved types have been reported by Air Force authorities recently without giving details.

Temperatures dipped to four below zero on the snowy Korean front during the day, limiting fighting to minor thrusts and patrol actions. However, the aerial war continued unabated over northwest Korea.

The Fifth Air Force announced one MIG was shot down in an air battle at 45,000 feet between four Sabres and 10 Red jets. The action was fought above Suho Reservoir in North-Central Korea.

Little, Mo, Rosewell Take Aussie Laurels

MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA — (AP) — Maureen Connolly of San Diego captured another major tennis championship Saturday and Ken Rosewell of Australia firmly established himself among the top amateurs of the world when they easily won the Australian nationals.

Little Mo, who already holds the U. S. and Wimbledon crowns, downed Julie Sampson of San Marino, Calif., as expected, 6-3, 6-2.

Rosewell, who eliminated Philadelphia's Vic Seixas in the semifinals, trounced Mervyn Rose, Aussie Davis Cupper who was top-seeded in the tournament after Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor turned professional. The scores were 6-0, 6-3, 6-4. Rosewell had been second seeded.

A&M Signs Zapalac To Replace Robbins

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Texas A&M's new freshman football coach is Willie F. Zapalac, 31-year-old former player of the golden era of Aggie sports—1939-41. He succeeds Cooper Robbins, now Odessa High School coach.

Head Coach Ray George of A&M announced that no replacement will be made for Line Coach Paul McMurry who resigned last month to return to his farm in Rio Hondo. George, former line coach at Southern California, probably will handle the Aggie line.

Zapalac played for A&M under Coach Homer Norton when the Aggies went to three consecutive bowls and the Cotton twice and the Sugar once.

He currently is head coach at Arlington State College.

Aggie Senior Trio Garners Grid Fame

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Three Texas A&M seniors—Ray Graves, Jack Little and Bobb Dixon—shared honors at the annual Winter sports banquet here Saturday night when 34 football lettermen and the Southwest Conference cross-country team were feted.

Graves, quarterback from Stephenville, was given the Liscomb Colson award as most valuable player of the 1952 squad. Little, tackle from Corpus Christi received the Houston A&M club award and also the A.M. Wandrup award for best lineman.

Dixon, Ingleside tackle, was given the Bert Pfaff award for best blocker.

Reds Report Arrest Of Ministry Official

MOSCOW — (AP) — Pravda reported Sunday the arrest of a Soviet Metals Ministry official who, it said, was implicated in the disappearance of secret documents under suspicious circumstances.

The disclosure was in the Communist Party paper's lead editorial. It said the official under arrest was in the Ministry of Nonferrous Metallurgy.

Pravda said his name was I. Korshun and described him as a person who writes reports and consults on specific questions.

Pravda accused leaders of the nonferrous ministry of gullibility and naivete in keeping Korshun on the payroll when it was known he had been expelled from the Communist Party for serious misdeeds.

Boarders Escape As Fire Destroys Old Snyder House

CLIFTON — (AP) — Four boarders escaped an early morning fire Saturday that destroyed the Snyder House, a 15-room frame building famous in this Bosque County area as an eating place.

Three were uninjured, but Harold Caraway was burned severely on the back as he slid down one of the tall porch columns.

No damage estimate was made. The fire, of undetermined origin, destroyed the building and a number of antiques.

The Snyder House had been operated 20 years by two sisters, Sue Snyder and Mrs. Eula Peters. The building was constructed in 1900.

Many authorities believe there is no reason for thinking that the Vandals resorted to objectless destruction in their great raid on Rome in 455, which modern use of the term "vandal" implies.

HER SONS ALSO SHINE— Sister Of Late Desperado Found Shooting Men Again

HOUSTON — (AP) — The red-headed, trigger-happy sister of the late gunman Raymond Hamilton said Saturday a customer in her bar insisted on finding out how tough she is.

She shot him.

It was the third time Margie Ziegler, 35, had brought down her man with a gun.

She killed the first two, both her husbands. But Jessie Donald Muffel of nearby Baytown hung around Saturday in critical condition from three bullet wounds. She said she only wanted to scare him.

Mrs. Ziegler was charged with assault to murder. Two of Mrs. Ziegler's sons also are in trouble with the law.

13 Persons Killed In U. S. Transport Crash Near Arctic

ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND — (AP) — Twelve U. S. airmen and one Canadian were killed Friday night in the fiery crash of an American C-54 military transport near Harmon Air Force Base on Newfoundland's West Coast.

A U. S. Air Force spokesman said the crash occurred in misty rain a mile east of the base while the plane was in flight from St. John's.

There were no eyewitnesses but residents of Stephenville said a flash lit up the sky after the crash.

The spokesman said a board of officers will conduct an inquiry into the cause of the crash.

The Air Force released the casualty list of crewmen and passengers. No Texans were on the list.

O'Dwyer Confirms Separation From Former Texas Girl

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Former Ambassador William O'Dwyer said Saturday he has separated from his wife and added: "The eventual outcome of our marriage rest in the hands of the ecclesiastical authorities."

With his statement was a copy of a certificate from Catholic church authorities authorizing them to separate "while a careful study is being made in regard to definitive canonical separation."

O'Dwyer, ex-mayor of New York, sent the two statements to offices of press associations here.

The church approval of the conditional separation of O'Dwyer and his wife came a little more than two years after O'Dwyer, 62, married Sloan Simpson, the 34-year-old model from Texas, just before he resigned the New York mayorship.

Patients Rescued As $50,000 Blaze Destroys Hospital

MT. PLEASANT — (AP) — An eight-bed clinic and hospital burned Saturday with loss estimated at $50,000, but rescuers removed the four patients in sub-freezing weather without harm.

Fire Chief O. C. Falls made the damage estimate. He said the fire started when a water heater exploded in the kitchen of the living quarters of Dr. Palmer Curran, the owner.

The fire started at 8:10 a.m. It spread quickly through air conditioning ducts, the fire chief said. The building burned until 10:45 a.m.

YULE SURPRISE GOES HAYWIRE

WACO — (AP) — Mrs. Stanley Griffith received a Christmas surprise from her mother in Germany Friday, one month late and not at all as planned.

Mrs. Griffith received a letter from her mother asking if the Griffiths got the turquoise ring she put in a Christmas fruit cake as a surprise.

The fruit cake arrived two weeks before Christmas. The Griffiths had been told to look for a surprise in it and found several gifts for their youngsters wrapped with it. But they decided the cake had been too long in the mail. It went into the garbage can.

Mrs. Griffith valued the ring at $350. She offered a reward.

City Awaits Bureau's Okay On Pipe From Water Source

The City of Midland began waiting Saturday on a decision by the National Production Authority which will "affect the health and welfare of hundreds of persons."

The decision will be on the city's NPA which would assure an adequate amount of steel for a 30-inch supply line connecting Midland with its McMillen Field, nine miles northwest of the city.

"If the 30-inch supply line from the new water source is not completed by June 1," City Manager W. H. Oswald wrote in a brief transmitted last week to Washington, "the people of Midland face a potential epidemic of enteric diseases."

"It is apparent, however, that segments of the population, if unable to obtain water from the public system, are going to drill private wells and further magnify an already acute and potentially dangerous situation."

"The location of existing storage facilities is such that no matter how much limitation is placed on usage, approximately 10,000 people face the possibility of little or no water for a period of three months."

It is entirely possible that this condition could affect the health and welfare of hundreds of persons.

Such a condition, he added, "will adversely affect the oil production in the Permian Basin."

The principal threat is based on the use of private water wells, in lieu of the availability of city water.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, director of the Midland City-County Health Unit, said in a letter included in the brief that a recent survey of samples from 300 private wells in Midland indicated that 25 per cent of them were contaminated.

Dr. Pigford also pointed to the high incidence of diarrhea and other enteric diseases, which was blamed for 12 deaths here last year. He said 2,882 cases of enteritis were reported in Midland during 1952.

"These, however," he added, "were only the cases reported."

"I would estimate that from 1,500 to 2,000 cases were not seen by physicians or were not reported."

Dangerous Private Wells

Therefore, I conclude that at least 15 per cent of the population was affected."

He added that it was his "conceded opinion" that a major cause of the large number of cases was

Missing Attorney Appears In Court

ALICE — (AP) — Nago Alaniz, prominent Alice attorney accused of murder, showed up in court in handcuffs Saturday after his whereabouts had been unknown publicly for several weeks.

Alaniz and Mario (The Turk) Sapet, San Antonio bar owner, are charged with murder in the September 8 slaying of Jacob S. Floyd, Jr., son of an Alice attorney and South Texas political leader.

The court appearance Saturday was to answer a re-indictment charging Alaniz with conspiracy to murder young Floyd's father. The indictment had a minor wording change in it, but was substantially the same as the early conspiracy indictment.

Alaniz appeared with Duval County Sheriff Archer Parr, cousin of George Parr, Duval County political power and political foe of the elder Floyd. The dapper attorney told court attendants he had been in Houston.

Rumors had circulated that he was in Mexico. But his attorney, Percy Foreman of Houston, told newsmen during the Alaniz disappearance from public view that he would produce his client at the proper place at the proper time."

Foreman asked for a habeas corpus hearing on the new conspiracy charge. Judge E. D. Sallins of Laredo, sitting in for Judge D. Woodrow Laughlin, set January 26 as a date for the conspiracy habeas corpus hearing. It will be held here.

Foreman also won a restraining order to prevent transfer of the conspiracy charges to Brownwood.

Jack Biscoe is the new president of the Midland Exchange Club, succeeding Darrell W. Smith.

Other new officers named at the Thursday meeting included: Frank Giffert, vice president; Ed Van den Bark, secretary, and Bill Osborn, treasurer.

All Midlanders will have an opportunity to contribute, County Chairman Ray Gwyn said Saturday night.

"The campaign will be taken to the schools Wednesday in starting the blanket-like appeal," he announced. W. Robert Houston will be in charge of the school drive.

McNeil reported that nine more beds will be available at the present hospital when the clinic is completed. General Wants Regiments Rather Than GI's Rotated

WITH U. S. 40TH DIVISION, KOREA — (AP) — Gen. Joseph P. Cleland Saturday said "somebody back home should answer for this lousy way of handling" rotation of U. S. troops.

"The 40th Division commander urged rotation by regiments instead of by individuals."

Present rotation policy, Cleland said in an interview with Sarah Park, Honolulu Star-Bulletin correspondent, is to start "nothing more than plugging units full of holes."

"When you rotate the way you do now," the general was quoted, "you break up good teams. You put in green replacements with seasoned fighters—and expect to have a top-notch team."

If replacements are available, soldiers now are rotated home when they have accumulated enough points.

"Training replacements is easy enough when a unit is in reserve," Cleland said. "But it is a problem when the unit is on the fighting line."

The general insisted that rotation by regiments would maintain unit morale.

The animal, a Great Dane named Dotser, was in a car Dawson stopped Wednesday night for speeding in Saginaw, a village just north of here. Dawson discovered that: The dog was stolen last month from Mrs. Jean Gronnert of Portland, Ore. She values him at $1,000. And the 28-year-old driver, also of Portland, is accused of forging a $150 check on Mrs. Gronnert's former husband. The officer is caring for the dog until Mrs. Gronnert makes arrangements for its return, at his home. "And he's about to eat us out of it," Dawson said. GOP Names Roberts, Maps Campaign Plans To Win 'More In '54'

WASHINGTON —(P)—Republicans unanimously elected C. Wesley (Wes) Roberts, 49-year-old former Kansas newspaper man, their national chairman Saturday after being told they can lose control of Congress next year if they don't watch out. Party leaders told the GOP National Committee that, while Eisenhower was a big personal victory, the party gained only slim majorities in the Senate and House. They declared the party must remain alert lest it lose Congress in 1954, half-way through Eisenhower's term. Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, said the party's slogan now should be "more in '54". Thirty-nine state chairmen and the chairman for Hawaii were represented in person or by proxy at Saturday's meeting, in addition to the 106 regular members. A 1952 GOP convention rule gives states an additional member on the committee for going Republican. Bertha S. Adkins of Salisbury, Md., was appointed assistant to the new national chairman to succeed Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest of Utah, who has been designated as treasurer of the United States in the incoming Administration.

WASHINGTON —(P)—Clemency pleaders for the condemned atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg called off their 21-day picketing vigil just outside the White House gates Saturday. The move coincided with strong indications that the issue of commuting the couple's death sentence will be left over for the incoming Eisenhower Administration to decide. A spokesman for the pickets said the demonstration was ended "out of respect for the inauguration of the new President" next Tuesday.

A Thought For...

TOMORROW

Arthur Brisbane once said, "When a man owns his own home, he is SOME-BODY. Until he DOES own his own house, he is only somebody else's TEN-ANT, a useful, cash-producing personage"...

The truth of these words might well be illustrated thus: If you are paying rent, you are depositing a sum of money each month in someone else's bank account... an account that you cannot draw on... one that you have no interest in, once the regular deposit is made. When you become a homeowner, your monthly payment on your house is an account IN YOUR NAME... and it is an account that grows with the years... providing SECURITY for all your tomorrows, as well as pride and living comfort for today. And in all probability, you are paying more rent now than would be necessary to pay for a home. Think about tomorrow... and start building a home equity TODAY!

A Cunningham Home in Permian Estates Offers You:

Solidly framed construction, and more than 800 square feet of well-planned living area. The living room is extra large... the roomy kitchen features Tex-Boro cabinets and ample storage space... the bathroom includes large linen storage... Crane fixtures... big closets with sliding doors in both bedrooms... Holly heating units, thermostatically controlled... attractive wainscoting in the kitchen and bath... beautiful hardwood floors... and more features, including paved streets, sidewalks, carports, and good location close to school.

"Golly, My Folks Are Smart!"

They seem to think a lot of me...

They want me to have a lawn of my own to crawl around on. And when I get a little older, I'll do my best to stay out of the street... but in case I forget, the traffic will be light and slow in front of our house. Heard the folks talking about how nice Permian Estates will be as a place for me to grow up in!

And I heard them talking...

About the other things they liked about the new House Beautiful Home they're buying in Permian Estates. Mommy mentioned all the nice closets... the new shopping center to be located a couple of blocks away... the nice colors she's selecting, outside and inside! Of course, Daddy's the practical one. He said the construction of our new home is lots better than he thought possible for such a low price... and he likes the VA 4% loan, too. Yes, my folks are really smart. They picked a House Beautiful Home in Permian Estates 'cause it just suits all three of us!

BRING
TODAY!

I'll bet they'll like these House Beautiful Homes, too! Whether they need two bedrooms or three, there's a lot of different plans and designs to choose from. So bring them on out to 3100 Roosevelt any time today for a look-see... maybe we'll be neighbors!

REAL ESTATE
Bulletin
BoardREPORTING THE TOP NEWS
IN REAL ESTATE

THE BOSS-MAN ASKED ME to count up the number of homes that we have sold since December. Being humanly lazy, I stopped after counting 22 which our firm sold. This proves that when looking for your ideal home, KWM is the place to look you close, some dreams are fulfilled in this column.

FASHIONFUL OF NEW ENGLAND, because this exquisite home is on Ridgely, where the trees are taller than Texas tales. Two lovely bedrooms, colorful and huge den, "white" room, elongated kitchen with dining area, and magnificently generous (15x21) living room. Attached garage, lots of storage, and carpeted throughout. For your outside dining room there are trees, attractive lawns, and the open, almost dustless sky as appointments. Only the price is down-to-earth. $15,500.

IF I WERE ELOQUENT WITH WORDS I would attempt a description of the home that is available on Country Club Drive. It is a study in graciousness. Two huge bedrooms, paneled den, two private rooms of ceramic tile, utility room, attached garage, and ballroom living room. The kitchen defies articulation. Central heating, air-conditioned, completely carpeted, and flanked with closets. Cedar fence, a thousand-dollar landscaping job, water well, patio, and a treasury of finer features. Drastically reduced for a rapid disposition.

ONLY TWO LEFT ON KESSLER STREET from an original 19 which were constructed. We have taken great pride in handling these Austone Construction Company homes—and this was our first venture in GI homes. We sincerely believe that these homes offer the veteran more for his money than any that we have seen. Almost all purchasers are college graduates and their families. On alternate Thursday nights, the men will play poker while the women baby-sit, and vice versa when the women hold their cat-together. But what kind of a home is it that we're selling? Call our office and we'll be delighted to show you. Only $600 down for the veteran.

DID YOU ENJOY our open house last day? Now inspect these homes thoroughly with one of us. The addresses, again, are 1108 Latham, 2507 Country Club Drive, and those in the 2800 block of Louisville. The personal touch is the purchasing touch. Like a game of tag, you get in touch with us, and we'll do the rest.

WESTWARD BOUND—FOR CALIFORNIA, and so this owner must sell his attractive home consisting of 3 bedrooms, comfortable living room, kitchen with area for your breakfast suite, and 8x12 storage room. Located in western section. Assume GI and FHA loan and make payments of only $65 per month. Priced at $9,500.

ALIGN YOUR REQUIREMENTS to the offerings of this new, brick home in the northwest area. 3 bedrooms, 2 tile baths, huge kitchen with walk-in pantry, and 2-car attached garage. The living and dining room combination is 31 feet of beauty, with a food-burning fireplace as the focal point. Entrance hall, w/w carpeting in warm tones, central heating and air-conditioning, TOUCHPLATE silent switches. It's got its own water well. Approximately 1,800 square feet of living area. Invitingly priced at ONLY $21,500.

IT'S NOT THE SIZE of the dollar that counts, but OUR strength to stretch it for you. And if you have 1,500 of them, we could stretch them into a most attractive 2-bedroom ASBESTOS siding home on the SUNNY south side. Immaculate because it's practically new, it has a warm living room, large kitchen, lots of closets, and attached garage. Distributed heating, air conditioning unit, blow-fan in kitchen, washer connection. Lovely lawn, tile fence, paved street. Assume the GI loan with payments of $60. ONLY $10,200.

WHAT A DEAL on Dallas near David Crockett! When you're driving around, stop by 943 North Dallas Street. Two bedrooms, nice living room, clean kitchen. Can be purchased for as little as only $1,250 down. Priced at $5,950.

Humble Completes Clear Fork Opener In Mitchell Sector

Humble Oil & Refining Company has completed a pumping discovery from a lower Clear Fork-Permian sand in Northwest Mitchell County at its No. 1 Lucy M. Coleman and others.

This project reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 101.98 barrels of 27.7-gravity oil and no water. The production is from open hole at 3,050-3,135 feet. That zone had been fractured.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 600 feet from west lines of section 78, block 97, H&G survey. It is 18 miles northwest of Colorado City and 10 miles north of Westbrook.

The discovery is one and one-half miles northeast of the Coleman Ranch field which produces from a higher section of the Clear Fork from pay above an average total depth of 2,500 feet.

Humble No. 1 Lucy M. Coleman failed to find commercial petroleum in the 2,500-foot section.

The new producer and field opener is about two and one-quarter miles southwest of the closest shallow production in the Sharon Ridge field.

Auld's Lynn Wildcat Makes Good Oil Flow From Reef

Dan Auld of Kerrville has a flowing discovery from the Pennsylvanian reef lime at his No. 1 J. E. Timmons, Northwest Lynn County wildcat.

The project flowed clean, high-gravity oil at the estimated rate of from 25 to 40 barrels per hour in a drillstem test at 9,765-9,874 feet. There were no signs of formation water.

Operator is preparing to set casing at the top of the pay, test and complete the important and significant new field opener.

Northwest Of Tahoka

It is 15 miles northwest of Tahoka and about six miles northeast of the Mound Lake (Pennsylvanian) field in Northeast Terry County.

Drillite is 1,980 feet from south and 600 feet from east lines of section 142, block 12, EL&RR survey.

The oil flow came during a three-hour drillstem test at 9,765-9,874 feet. Gas surfaced in 15 minutes and a good flow of gas continued for the remainder of the test period. There was no gauge or estimate on the gas volume.

Oil Flows To Pits

Oil started flowing out at the top in two hours and 15 minutes. The oil was flowed to pits for 45 minutes through a 5/8th-inch bottom hole choke and a 3/8th-inch top choke.

The flow was estimated to have been at the rate of between 25 and 40 barrels of oil per hour. Surface flowing pressure was 220 pounds.

At last report operator was pulling the drill pipe and the tester. After they are out the hole will be cleaned out to bottom. Electric logs will be run and casing will be set at the top of the pay, as shown by the logs.

Will Complete

Operator will then test, complete and put on production.

Top of the solid reef lime is at 9,825 feet. Elevation is 3,256 feet.

The first reef lime stringers came in at 9,772 feet, according to the samples. Those stringers were oil stained. The best pay so far cut is at 9,840-74 feet.

The section at 9,771-9,840 feet was tested for two and one-half hours. Gas of a volume of 50,000 cubic feet per day came to the surface in 25 minutes.

Recovery From Test

No fluid came to the top while the tool was open. Recovery was 750 feet of 47-gravity oil. There was no water.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 175 pounds at the start of the test. No final flowing pressure was recorded due to the failure of the pressure bomb to function.

Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 3,575 pounds.

Official Gauge Reported From Opener In Upton

Trebol Oil Company and E. G. Rodman of Odessa have reported official potential test for their No. 1 Radford Grover, Grayburg discovery in Central-South Upton County.

The new oiler was finished for a daily flowing potential of 959.75 barrels of 26-gravity oil through a one-half-inch choke. It previously was reported, unofficially, that the well was potential for 559.75 barrels.

Production is coming from open hole at 1,703 feet, where seven-inch casing was cemented and total depth of 1,734 feet.

Casing To Be Set At Field Test In C-S Upton Sector

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company was preparing to set five and one-half inch casing at total depth of 6,315 feet at No. 1 Upton, project in the Rankin, South (Wolfcamp) field of Central-South Upton County.

Last drillstem test taken at No. 1 Upton was from 6,235 to 6,315 feet. Test was open two hours. Recovery was 805 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud. The packer leaked on the test.

Operator will test the possible Wolfcamp pay through perforations.

Sulphur Water DST Reported At Tester In Gaines Sector

Sulphur water was found on a drillstem test in the San Andres at The Texas Company No. 1 Tobe Foster, wildcat in Central-South Gaines County.

Interval tested was from 5,420 to 5,455 feet. Tool was open three hours. Recovery was 1,034 feet of sulphur water with no shows of oil or gas.

Operator was making more hole below 5,455 feet. The wildcat is slated for a bottom of 9,300 feet to test for production in the Wolfcamp.

Previous drillstem test, from 5,360 to 5,420 feet, developed 1,040 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. It was estimated to be 15 per cent oil.

Free Nations Continue To Outproduce Satellites

The free nations of the world continued to roll up an overwhelming superiority in oil production over that of Russia and her satellites during 1952, Dr. Marlin M. Vols, dean of the School of Law of the University of Kansas City, told the Kansas City section of the American Society of Civil Engineers at a recent meeting.

Vols declared that at the end of 1952 the free nations were producing 93 per cent of the world's oil, while Russia and her satellites produced only seven per cent.

United States oil production of more than 2,500,000,000 barrels was 51 per cent of the world's total, the educator reported.

Texas One-Third

"Of the U. S. oil production, Texas alone produced more than a third, amounting to about three times as much as Russia and her satellites produced," Vols asserted. California also outproduced the Iron Curtain countries, he added.

South America continued about 15 per cent and the Middle East area had almost 20 per cent of the total world production in 1952, the dean said.

Vols told the group that the U. S. oil industry soared to new all-time peaks in production, processing and distribution of petroleum during 1952.

"At the same time, the American people—for the tenth consecutive year—consumed more oil products in more ways than ever before in history," he said.

In meeting new demands placed upon it by consumers, the oil industry in the U. S. produced 2,516,350,000 barrels of oil in 1952 as compared with 1,472,364,000 barrels in 1942, representing an increased production of more than 1,000,000,000 barrels per year, Dr. Vols pointed out.

More money was invested by the industry during 1952 than in any other single year, he said. The industry's capital expansion program last year anticipated spending more than $4,000,000,000, which was an increase of almost 25 per cent over the 1951 total, according to the dean.

Record Set

Vols said that a record also was set in the drilling of new wells during 1952, amounting to an estimated total of 46,800, which was an increase of 2,250 over the record set in 1951.

Congressmen Deploy To Kill Truman Order On Tidelands

WASHINGTON—(P)—Congress is moving in a variety of ways to nullify President Truman's transfer of the disputed offshore oil lands to a naval reserve.

Representative Hosmer (R-Calif.) announced he will introduce a bill to rescind the President's order. He termed it "the death-bed act of a rejected politician."

However, the most likely course of action appeared to be passage of legislation giving states clear title to the submerged lands in question—three miles offshore in most cases but 10 1/2 miles in the cases of Texas and the Gulf coast of Florida. Forty senators—almost a majority of the 86—have joined in a bill taking this course.

Also, approximately a score of senators are backing the idea of Senator Hill (D-Ala.) to draw on some of the income from the offshore wells for aid to education.

Senator Holland (D-Ela.), sponsor of the most heavily favored bill, wants the argument confirmed to the same limits provided in a bill Congress passed last year, which was vetoed by Mr. Truman. He said the question of submerged lands beyond these limits, three miles generally, should be handled separately. There remained, however, some agitation for a one-package bill taking in lands beyond these limits.

Representative Walter (D-Iowa) says Truman's order for creation of a naval reserve may cause some sponsors of state ownership to switch their position for fear they will be accused of hampering the national defense. He added, however, he remains confident a state ownership bill will be passed.

President-elect Eisenhower, who has said he would sign a state ownership bill, conceivably could nullify Truman's executive order with one of his own after he takes office Tuesday.

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.), one of the apparent minority supporting Truman, contends federal control of the lands is needed to make sure revenues from them "be used for all of our people."

Representative Hillings (R-Calif.) told a reporter he regards Truman's order as "eleventh hour politics."

He said it was contrary to "the implied will of the American people as evidenced by last November's election" and would "stimulate faster action than has been anticipated in Congress."

California, Louisiana and Texas are affected primarily.

Operator will plug back to the Canyon sand at approximately 4,150 feet.

A drillstem test in that formation, when project was being drilled, developed 270 feet of clean oil and no water on recovery. The test was in the interval from 4,076 to 4,096 feet.

Location is 467 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block 1, OH&SA survey.

Group Finals Another Producer In Andrews

Group Oil Company completed No. 2 University as a one-location north extension to production in the recently opened Block 11, South-west (Devonian) field of Southwest Andrews County.

The well made a 277.24 barrels of oil daily through a 16/64-inch choke and perforations in five and one-half-inch casing at 8,212-72 feet. Tubing pressure was 300 pounds and gravity of the oil 41.7. Gas-oil ratio was not reported.

Location for the test, which drilled to total depth of 8,310 feet and plugged back to 8,278 feet, is 1,923 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 28, block 11, University Lands survey and 16 miles southwest of Andrews.

It was finished for a daily potential of 650,000 cubic feet of gas per day from open hole at 5,490-5,656 feet. Pay was shot with 590 quarts of nitrogen.

The well is now shut in. It started out as a wildcat to test for oil production on total depth of 6,500 feet. Location is 1,980 feet from west and 600 feet from north lines of section 27, block 161, GC&SF survey.

Operators Complete 225 Wells For Week

AUSTIN —(AP)— Operators completed 225 oil wells this week, 26 more than the previous week, the Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

The year's total of 424 was 19 less than a year ago.

Gas well completions number 25, a jump of 23 over the week before, but the 1953 total of 27 was four less than that for the comparable 1952 figure.

Ninety-two dusters were reported. Wildcat activity led to seven oil wells, 45 dry holes. Pluggings included 92 dry, four gas, and 25 oil wells.

The average calendar day crude allowable as of Saturday was 3,243, 442 barrels per day, an increase of 14,901 barrels over the week-ago figure.

Chemically Treated Water Aids In Secondary Recovery

Water that is chemically treated gets better results when used to increase production by secondary recovery methods, according to a report released by the Bureau of Mines, U. S. Department of the Interior.

Dr. C. W. Seibel, Regional Director of the Bureau's Region VI, said that the report is a publication of the findings of a five-year study in the Mid-continent oil fields.

Treated water maintains pressure better, reduces clogging in the oil reservoir and yields a larger percentage of oil, the survey disclosed.

The study was conducted by the Bureau in cooperation with the Kansas State Board of Health, the State of Oklahoma and the North Texas Oil and Gas Association. The report was prepared by J. Wade Watkins, F. R. Willet, Jr., and Charles E. Arthur, chemical engineers at the Bureau's Petroleum Experiment Station, Bartlesville, Okla.

Water flooding is one of several methods used to recover oil from fields where the natural or primary gas pressure is exhausted. Water injected into the underground reservoir forces oil to the bottom of the wells where it is pumped to the surface.

The bureau's survey, which began in 1947, included collecting data from 24 water-treating plants in the Mid-continent oil field area. Detailed information on nine of these plants is presented in the report as representative of the methods and results in the Mid-continent area.

H. C. Fowler, superintendent of the Petroleum Experiment Station, said that the survey should be of particular interest to oil operators who may be contemplating the use of water-flooding methods.

It points out that treated water not only pays off with a bigger oil return, but also stresses seven general conclusions to help get better results in future flooding operations. The report is published as a part of the Bureau of Mines research program to stimulate secondary oil recovery practices.

Besides the purpose of evaluating comparative efficiencies of various methods of conditioning different types of water, the investigation was undertaken to find ways of improving the know water-treating methods.

A free copy of Report of Investigation 2930, "Conditioning Water for Secondary-Recovery Operations in Mid-continent Oil Fields," may be obtained from the Bureau of Mines, Publications Distribution Section, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh 13, Pa.

The world's biggest magazine of any kind is The Oil and Gas Journal, weekly publication serving the petroleum industry, according to the annual compilation of advertising released by Advertising Age.

This is the fourth successive year the Journal has led all other publications in number of pages of advertising, far ahead of mass-circulation popular magazines, farm papers, women's magazines, or other types of publications. This reflects the tremendous investment being made by the petroleum industry in new equipment to expand its facilities.

In 1952 The Oil and Gas Journal carried 7,626 pages of advertising, according to the Advertising Age tabulation. Runner-up was Iron Age, a weekly magazine of the metals industry, with 7,335 pages. By comparison, Business Week carried 5,502 pages of advertising in 1952, Saturday Evening Post had 4,194 pages, the New Yorker had 3,894 pages, Life had 3,815 pages and Time had 3,562 pages.

The Geology Department of Sul Ross State College is beginning to attract more and more students. Perfectly situated at Alpine in the Davis Mountain region, almost all phases of geological structure study are within easy reach of the college. The geology department had 17 majors in the Spring of 1952. The present school term lists 41 geology majors.

Andrews, Lea Lead PB Drilling Activity

Andrews County in Texas and Lea County in New Mexico are still the leaders in Permian Basin rotary drilling activity, according to the semi-monthly survey conducted by Reed Roller Bit Company. The last survey covered the 15-day period ended January 10.

Lea County led the entire Permian Basin territory covered by the survey with 126 rotaries in operation. An increase of one during the past 15 days.

Andrews County was tops in the Texas portion of the Basin with 39 units in operation. That is an increase of six rigs over the 33 counted December 25.

Total Count Off
Total count for the Basin on January 10 was 486. December 25 there were 496 rigs drilling. One year ago, January 15, there were 718 rotaries going. Jan. 15, 1952, there were more than 200 rigs drilling Spraberry Trend projects. The count for that area on the last survey was 41.

Midland, one of the Spraberry Trend counties, dropped from the 24 rigs December 25 to 16 on January 10. Upton County picked up three from 19 and Glasscock County dropped from 13 to 12 during the last 15-day period.

Schleicher County, scene of several recent discoveries, had 19 units in operation January 10, an increase of six over the previous tally.

Tax Millions Collect Dust As Courts Ponder Gas Law

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON (AP)—Several million dollars in natural gas tax money has been collecting dust in the state treasury since 1951. A court suit which tied up the money leaves room for argument over whether the new Texas Legislature will attempt to draw a new bill designed to increase taxes on gas being exported to other states. The unspent money was collected under a gas gathering tax bill passed by the 1951 Legislature, a bill aimed primarily at Texas gas sold elsewhere.

Over 50 companies challenged the legality of the tax and have won the first round. A state district judge last Summer held the tax unconstitutional. The state appealed and it probably will be many months before a decision is received.

Stopped Paying Tax
Meanwhile, most of the companies have stopped paying the tax, which was designed to bring in about one million dollars a month.

The Legislature began its 1953 biennial session this week, faced with the usual problem of finding enough money to meet desired expenditures.

Governor Shivers told the legislators some 40 million dollars in current and anticipated revenue is tied up by the gas tax dispute.

"With those funds we would have little or no financial problem at this time," he said.

Shivers indirectly advised the Legislature to settle its financial problems without bothering natural gas.

Asks Pipe Line Tax

Then he added: "If it is your policy decision to seek additional revenue to finance state government, I suggest that you consider levying additional taxes on the 'long line' natural gas transmission lines, if this is found to be practical under existing legal circumstances."

Many oil men and attorneys think it would be difficult for the Legislature to come up with a new gathering tax plan which would not further endanger the money already collected or which could avoid a court controversy similar to that under way over the 1953 bill.

The 1951 gathering tax was the Legislature's answer to proposals that "long line" companies carrying Texas gas elsewhere to be marketed pay heavier taxes. The bill covers gas kept for Texas marketing but provides that no gathering tax will be collected on interstate gas unless it also applies to exported or interstate gas.

Opposition Expected

Opposition to a gasoline tax hike proposal by Shivers could force the new Legislature into a natural gas controversy despite the court case. Most Texas consumers would feel little effect from the gathering tax. They would notice the extra penny for a gallon of gasoline.

In holding the gathering tax unconstitutional, Judge Jack Roberts said the levy places an undue burden on interstate commerce and is unconstitutional under the Federal Commerce Law and Supreme Court rulings.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel, then Texas attorney general, argued the tax was aimed at making pipe lines pay their share, that it is an occupational tax which does not discriminate against interstate commerce.

young Kennedy serve on his Senate Investigating Committee.

Not knowing how to get rid of McCarthy without getting in dutch with his whole family, Kennedy took pains not to apply for McCarthy's committee.

"There are too many Kennedys associating with McCarthy already," he commented privately.

However, Democratic leaders ignored Kennedy's wishes, assigned him to the McCarthy committee anyhow. So he now is more uncomfortable than ever.

Note—Ironically, the target for McCarthy's most vicious attack, Gov. Adlai Stevenson, for a while was McCarthy's rival for Eunice Kennedy's attentions.

Dominican Dictator
Rafael Trujillo, the Dominican dictator, got a frosty reception from President Truman when he visited Washington last week.

Trujillo had a 12 o'clock appointment to see Truman at the White House, but was kept cooling his heels in an outer office until a little after 12.

Then he was shuttled into the President's office and out again so fast that an interpreter hardly had time to translate the very formal greetings between him and Truman.

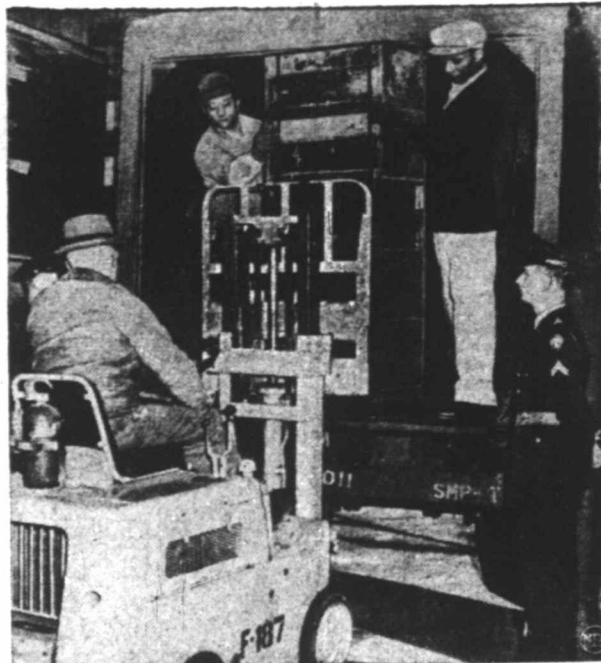

Altogether, their meeting lasted exactly five minutes.

TICKETS ON SALE—Airline Executive Will Speak At C-C Banquet

A native Texan, who now heads one of the world's greatest airlines, will be the principal speaker at the annual membership meeting and banquet of the Midland Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, January 27, in the high school cafeteria.

He is C. R. Smith of New York City, president of American Airlines, Inc., and American Airlines de Mexico.

Tickets for the annual banquet went on sale last Thursday in the Chamber of Commerce office, with a brisk sale reported. The number of tickets available is based on the seating capacity of the cafeteria, and the tickets will be sold on a first come—first served basis.

Jack Wicker, retiring president of the Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the gathering, handing the gavel to President-elect Joe T. Dickerson at the conclusion of the meeting. Other new officers and directors will be introduced.

The banquet will be informal, with C. of C. members and other interested persons, both men and women, invited to attend.

Musical Program Set
A musical program also is being arranged. Manager Delbert Downing stated.

Known throughout the aviation industry as "C. R.," Smith has been connected with air transport since 1928 when he became treasurer of Texas Air Transport. Soon thereafter this airline was brought within the framework of a larger organization, Southern Air Transport, of which Smith became treasurer and vice president. He joined American Airways, which later became American Airlines, in 1931, and became its president in 1934.

He served in the Army's Air Transport Command during World War II years, attaining the rank of major general. He won the Air Medal for rescue operations in Burma and the Legion of Merit for

Midland Asked To Invest Blood For Relief Of Polio

Most people associate blood plasma with deadly war.

But as much as blood plasma is needed in time of war it is also as urgently needed in times of peace and for peaceful pursuits.

Gamma globulin, reports the American Red Cross in a recent news release, comes from blood plasma. The Red Cross says that gamma globulin in many cases cures and prevents dreaded polio.

As a result, the Red Cross is taking on a dual objective this year in its blood drives across the Nation. It's not only wants plasma as the boys in Korea know it—but also gamma globulin.

"We are convinced of the urgency of this program," says an American Red Cross spokesman. "It was agreed that we are the only organization equipped to do this emergency program. It is a fact that the Red Cross has distributed gamma globulin made from war surplus plasma to physicians for treatment of measles and infectious hepatitis."

On January 21 and 22 Midlanders will be called upon to invest blood for polio relief as well as for Korea and disaster use.

A Red Cross Mobile will be here then, just outside the Red Cross Building, 619 West Indiana Street, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., January 21, and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., January 22.

Persons between the ages of 18 and 59, weighing at least 110 pounds and normally in good health can give a pint of blood. Appointments can be made by dialing 4-6161, the Red Cross office here.

The Merry-Go-Round

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Taft vetoed proposed Churchill address to Congress; Prime minister gets laugh with claim of "just passing through" USA; Young Senator Kennedy has trouble rebuffing McCarthy.

WASHINGTON — Britain's Mr. Conservative, Winston Churchill, doesn't know it, but he was blocked from addressing a joint session of Congress by America's Mr. Conservative, Senator Robert Taft.

The Churchill speech was suggested by Florida's eager young Senator George Smathers, who put his proposal in writing to the Senate's new president pro tem, Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire. Before mailing the letter, however, Smathers telephoned Bridges and talked over the suggestion informally.

"I think it's a swell idea," enthused Bridges. "I wish I had thought of it myself."

But Bridges abruptly changed his mind after talking to Taft, who put foot down solidly, explaining that he didn't like what Churchill had been saying about the Korean war. What really irked Taft was Churchill's warm praise for President Truman, also the prime minister's remark that there could be "worse situations than a stalemate in Korea—a checkmate, for instance."

Taft added that other Republican senators also were against inviting Churchill to address Congress. He had in mind Utah's fussy Senator Arthur Watkins, who fancies himself a statesman, having confided to friends that he intends to dedicate himself to foreign affairs for the next six years.

As a result, Watkins perked up his ears when Churchill sounded off about Korea. With a frown, Watkins commented that the prime minister had "spoken out of turn" and ought not to be given the rostrum to address Congress.

It was Taft, however, who settled the question. And after Taft had turned thumbs down on Churchill, Senator Bridges, who at first thought the Churchill speech was a good idea, announced gravely to the press: "Many Americans, including myself, are disturbed by the prime minister's statements about the Korean war."

Churchillian Humor
The years may be catching up with Britain's hardy old perennial, Winston Churchill, but his wit was as sparkling as ever during his recent visit in Washington. At the British Embassy reception for congressional leaders he was the life of the party.

However, the 78-year-old statesman displayed one concession to advanced age—aside from nursing his whiskies and soda a little longer. This was a pair of zipped shoes which Churchill said were custom-built both for foot comfort and to relieve "backstrain."

"With zippers, the shoes are easier to put on and take off, without so much bending over morning and night," he explained. "At that, I'm more up to date than you Americans, who have zippers only in your clothing."

Churchill's biggest laugh-line, however, was in explaining his visit to the United States.

Contrary to newspaper and radio reports, he insisted with a wry grin, he didn't come here primarily to seek any favors for Great Britain, but "just happened to be passing through on my way to a much-needed vacation in Jamaica."

"Despite reports in the press, this is not a mission," he continued jovially. "My talk with General Eisenhower was only incidental to the vacation I am planning in Jamaica. You see, I am compelled to vacation in a Sterling area, because that's the only place I can spend British money."

Hard To Rebuff
One senator who would rather have nothing to do with Senator McCarthy but can't think of a nice way to tell him is Massachusetts' able young freshman, Jack Kennedy.

The trouble is that Kennedy's family is involved. McCarthy has been making eyes at Jack's sister, Eunice; once slipped up to the Kennedy Summer home at Cape Code to see her. McCarthy also has managed to get on the good side of Jack's wealthy father and has promised his younger brother, Bob, a job as an investigator.

As a result, McCarthy greeted Jack like an old family friend and extended a protecting wing when he arrived in the Senate. The Wisconsin wild man insisted that

WASHINGTON OIL—Crackdown On 'Oil Cartel' Is Reported 'Sinking Fast'

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The government's criminal crackdown on the multi-million-dollar "oil cartel" appears headed for a bi-partisan burial in the next few weeks.

The Truman Administration itself is pulling the check rein on its biggest case wherein five American and two foreign oil companies are accused of a criminal conspiracy in restraint of trade. The Eisenhower Administration may have to finish off the interment.

The National Security Council, of which President Truman is chairman, advises a halt to the case, it now is clear. The grounds are that it could discourage American investment abroad and prompt foreign countries to cancel out American oil concessions.

Reacting, President Truman asked Attorney General James P. McGranery on January 12 to substitute a civil suit for the criminal one on condition: That the oil companies give McGranery enough evidence so he can win a civil suit.

"The attorney general came in grim, in an angry mood and glared at us and told us to sit down," Arthur H. Dean, counsel for Standard Oil Company (NJ), later described the meeting of 35 oil company counsel with McGranery.

"The attorney general was discourteous and insulting. He asked us all to give him a blank check. It was outrageous blackmail. We made a flat, curt rejection," he said of Jersey Standard's reaction. A day later, however, Federal Judge James R. Kirkland took official notice of the security council finding, accounts of which were carried in the newspapers.

He put off for two more weeks—until January 28—the date oil companies are to turn over a large volume of their records. The government believes the records contain the evidence it wants.

The delay, said the judge, would give the Truman and Eisenhower Administrations time to decide "whether to fish or cut bait," whether to stop or go ahead with the criminal action. Eisenhower takes over Tuesday.

Washington, the judge pointed out, "is in dead center right now." The Kirkland action was the last stroke, according to those pressing the action against the companies.

Bi-Partisan Burial
"It just paves the way for bi-partisan burial of the remains of the case," commented Commissioner Stephen Spingarn of the Federal Trade Commission.

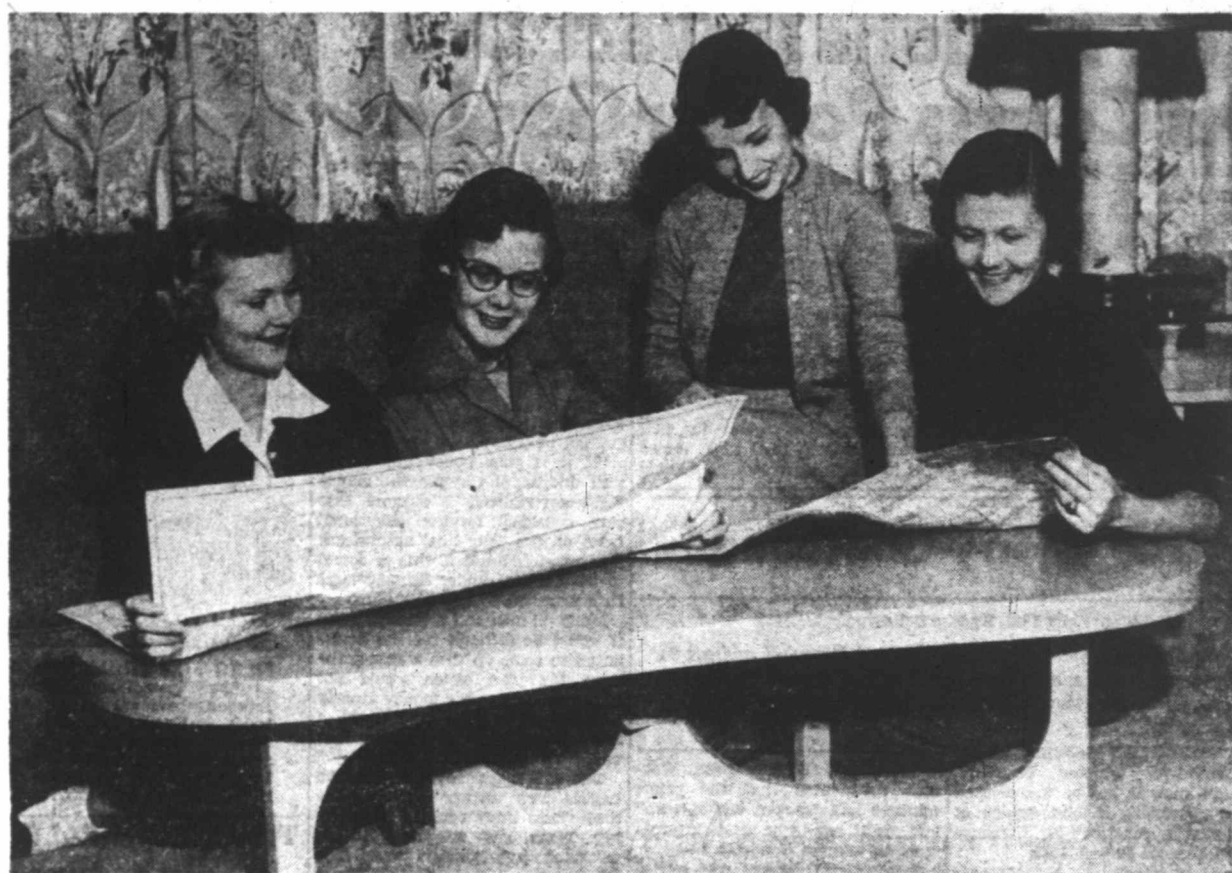

A civil suit could follow, but with a difference. The government has a difficult, if not impossible time, in subpoenaing records in a civil action. A civil action is subject to settlement by compromise or consent decree. If the government's evidence is as weak as its cries for subpoenas indicate, the oil companies could win.

A job is yet ahead. While the petroleum industry is getting out of this action only with bruises, another could do harm. Thus, some in the industry are urging a system under which the government would clear in advance any future plans of oil companies abroad.

"A mechanized army runs on oil," he said. "It is entirely possible that the oil superiority of the free nations may prove to be as great a deterrent as the atomic bomb in preventing World War III."

The educator, who teaches a course entitled "Oil and Gas Law" at the School of Law, University of Kansas City, termed petroleum "one of the most important products known to man for the maintenance and development of our present industrialized age."

He said that new uses are rapidly being found for oil, including the manufacture of chemicals, clothing, plastics and synthetics. This has put new demand upon the petroleum industry from the standpoint of production, Dr. Volz said. The 1952 figures are proof that these demands are being met, he added.

The turkey is an American bird, but was given its name because of the mistaken belief it came from Turkey.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

Barcetrane is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple. Just go to your druggist and get four ounces of the new improved Barcetrane. Pour into a pint bottle or jar and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. No starvation diet the Barcetrane way.

THIS LADY LOST 42 POUNDS
"Before taking Barcetrane I weighed 168 pounds. I now weigh 126, a loss of 42 pounds. Instead of wearing size 20 dresses, now wear 16 and 18. I am so glad and feel so good. Words cannot express my sincere thanks." Signe, Mrs. P. H. Wenderlich, 1810 Thirteenth St., Galveston, Texas.

AND THIS LADY LOST 21 POUNDS
"Thanks to Barcetrane. What a wonderful way to lose weight," writes Mrs. A. F. Hurler, 211 W. 24th St., San Angelo, Texas. "No dieting and not a single hungry moment. I have lost 21 pounds and am now down to my required weight. Feel good and full of pep."

Nolands Come Back To Live In Midland, This Time 'For Keeps'

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Noland have returned to Midland. They say they are back to stay this time.

They have purchased a home at 702 West Storey Street and are now occupying it.

Noland will work as an independent oil operator, broker and trader and for the present will maintain his office at his home.

Came Here Early
The Nolands first came to Midland in 1929. They lived here most of the time until September 1949 when they moved to Ardmore, Okla., to raise cattle.

They have disposed of their property in Ardmore and Noland said Saturday he was "back in Midland for keeps."

The only son of Mr. and Mrs. Noland, James G. Noland and his family live in Midland. The younger Noland is an attorney with Stubbs, McRae and Sealy. He and Mrs. Noland are the parents of two sons, Jim, three, and John, two weeks old.

Was With Barnsdall
When James S. Noland first came to Midland he was district landman for Barnsdall Oil Company. He left that concern and joined Phillips Petroleum Company and served it several years as district landman in the Permian Basin with headquarters in Midland.

He left Phillips in 1948 and worked as an independent oil operator until he moved to Ardmore in 1949.

To Do Trading
He says he will do lease and mineral trading, handle drilling deals and engage in other activities common to independent oil operators.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Noland were active in civic and social affairs during their previous years in Midland. He is a past president of the Midland Lions Club and she is a past president of the Lady Lions group.

Noland was one of the shareholders in the organization of Midland Memorial Hospital and still holds that position. They are members of the Methodist Church.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

The market was weaker than the previous week on butcher cattle; steady on stocker cattle; and a little stronger on stocker calves at the Midland Livestock Auction, Thursday. Receipts totaled 450 head. Most butcher cattle sold 50 cents to $1 lower and stocker calves were $1 higher.

Fat calves brought $20 to $24 for good to choice; medium to good $17 to $20; common to medium, $15.50 to $18; culls to common, $14 to $15.50. Good to choice cows sold for $14 to $17; medium cows for $13 to $14; and canners and cutters $10.50 to $13, with old shells lower.

Bulls brought $14.50 to $18. Stocker steer calves went for $21 to $24; stocker heifer calves, $20 to $23; stocker yearling steers, $18 to $21; stocker yearling heifers, $17 to $20.

Mixed breed and Brahman stocker calves and yearlings went at $13.50 to $17, and cow and calf pairs brought from $125 to $165 per pair.

Three operators on F. F. Elkin and Kennett and Elkin land northeast of Midland are bedding on the contour. The Soil Conservation Service ran contour guide lines last week on approximately 160 acres for W. O. Floyd, 50 acres for E. A. Livingston, and 100 acres for D. H. Livingston, in accordance with their conservation agreements with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

T. R. Wilson and Conrad Holzgraf have made preliminary plans for seeding retired cropland to grasses this Spring. They have adjoining farms six miles south of Midland. Technical assistance will be furnished through the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

A high stubble has been left on approximately 100 acres of sorghum fields to prevent wind erosion on the Terry Elkin farm east of Midland. Elkins plans to chisel the land deep, and leave the stubble on the surface until Spring.

Topographic and soils maps have been made by the Soil Conservation Service in preparation for laying out a contour border irrigation system on a lakebed area near the Leonard Proctor ranch headquarters about 40 miles southeast of Midland. Proctor has signed a conservation agreement with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

H. B. Dunagan plans to seed 60 acres of cropland to blue panic grass this Spring on his farm two miles south of Midland.

The Midland County 4-H Club will be well represented by Charles Champlin, James Brooks and Frank Locklar, exhibitors in the Market Lamb Show of the Houston Fat Stock Show, February 4-15. They will show three Southdown lambs. The greatest sheep show in the twenty-one year old history of the stock show is anticipated for this year's exposition, Herman, Engel, show manager, said.

M. A. Barber, Vocational Agriculture instructor at Garden City, has 17 FFA members feeding out a total of 39 lambs and one calf for showing at the annual Glasscock County Livestock Show, February 6.

They are: Wilburn Bednar, Bryant Harris, R. J. McCartney, Don Fryor, Marion Carter, Jimmy McConquodale, Truitt Newell, John J. Phillips, Tommy Rich, Darrell White, Sonny Allen, Eugene Davee, Chris Hinde, Gary Mitchell, Darrell Northcott, Jimmy Smith and Troy Cline.

Jimmy Smith is entering a Hereford calf in the show.

Clyde Berry is chairman of the Garden City show. Other members of his general show committee are B. A. Harris and Cecil Wilkerson of Garden City, J. M. Allee of Lees, and John Bednar of St. Lawrence.

Jay Cunningham heads the finance committee. Working with him are Thurman (Spec) Reynolds of the Sohio Camp, D. M. White of the Line community, Lynn Gandy of Lees, and Martin Holder of St. Lawrence.

Members of the barbecue committee are E. F. (Blacky) Pryor, chairman, Ted Laughlin, Berry, Wilkerson and Harris.

DSQ always enjoys visiting with Jess Miles, long-time Midland County stock-farmer, who maintains a philosophic outlook despite the continuing drought and other handicaps. Jess says DSQ has done a pretty poor job in bringing moisture to this section of West Texas, but urges this column to stay out on that proverbial limb in predicting needed rainfall at an early date. It does look like we would hit it right sometime.

So, better keep that slicker handy, Partner!

Final arrangements are being completed for Fort Worth's Southwestern Exposition & Fat Stock Show, January 30-February 8, and soon the elite of the ranching world will be converging on "Cow Town" for the big event.

Sponsors say it will be the greatest stock show ever, with entertainment "out of this world." And plenty of West Texans will be on hand to see for themselves.

Practically every section of Texas will be presented in the breeding classes of livestock at the Fort Worth show. Many of the finest show herds in the nation also will be on hand, show officials say.

Hawley A. Van Court, Crane County rancher, said here last week he is running about 50 per cent as many sheep as usual on his ranch. Range conditions, he said, were helped some by rains which fell in that section several weeks ago, but it will take a lot more to improve the situation noticeably.

Premium books for the twenty-fourth annual Southwestern Livestock Show, scheduled at El Paso County Coliseum February 9-14, have been mailed to 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America chapters throughout the Southwest.

The El Paso show had a total of 997 animals — calves, swine, and sheep — entered last year, and officials are predicting between 1,200 and 1,400 entries this year.

Entries are restricted to 4-H and FFA members between the ages of nine and 20. Classes will include those usually designated in calf, swine and sheep divisions. Youngsters throughout the Southwest have come to regard the El Paso show highly because local buyers of winning animals have been educated by producers not to go sky high on the grand champions, but rather to maintain a good high price on all animals going through the auction ring. Entries close January 28.

Horse Show Stated
A quarter horse and Palomino show will be staged as a part of the stock show. The quarter horse division will offer premiums in 12 classes, and premiums will be awarded in 20 classes in the Palomino division.

The horse show is open to anyone desiring to enter an animal. Deadline for entries is February 2.

Running in conjunction with the show will be the Southwestern Championship Rodeo, February 11-15, also in the Coliseum building.

Jimmy Taylor has been flying high as county agent of Reeves and Loving Counties since 1949, but he is destined to fly even higher in the future.

Taylor has resigned his county agent position at Pecos, effective February 1, to join the U. S. Air Force.

Best of luck and good flying, always, Jimmy.

Everett Colborn of the World's Championship Rodeo Corporation, Dublin, Texas, again this year will produce the rodeo at San Angelo's Fat Stock Show, March 3-8. Colborn annually produces the Midland, San Antonio, Houston, Madison Square Garden, Boston and other big-time rodeos. He will be back in Midland, too, come the first week in June.

Enough milk to fill more than 7,438 quart bottles is the recent production accomplishment of Commander's Pretty Sue, a four-year-old cow in the Victory Jersey Farm herd owned by J. Chester Elliff of Tulla.

At the completion of a 365-day record of official Register of Merit test, Sue's production totaled 15,992 pounds milk containing 1,025 pounds butterfat. It won her the distinction of being the first cow of any breed to produce 1,000 pounds butterfat during each of her first two lactations on less than four milkings a day.

On her last record this Texas Jersey produced 15,296 pounds milk containing 1,004 pounds butterfat. This production won her the title of national senior two-year-old butterfat champion over all breeds on three-time-a-day milking.

Commander's Pretty Sue has been classified officially Very Good on breed type. She was on exhibit at the 1952 State Fair of Texas.

And then there is Carnation Homestead Daisy Madcap, the 1,900 pound cow who produced her own weight in table butter in one year, and who set a new world's butterfat record eating only the kind of food that easily could be obtained by any farmer.

But her eating schedule was as carefully supervised as that of any athlete at any training table, and Henry Davee, the cattle superintendent, works at the vital job of feeding her at regular intervals from 5 a.m. until 9 p.m. Lots of cow, lots of milk, lots of butter and lots of feed.

For the first time in the history of the Arizona National Live Stock Show at Phoenix, an Aberdeen-Angus steer was awarded grand championship honors over all breeds. The steer was shown by Keith Bradley of Avon, Ill.

The grand championship award was presented by Betty Lou Lindley, Miss Arizona of 1953, from Tempe, Arizona.

Secretaries, Aides Follow Solons To Jobs In Capitol

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The opening of the 83rd Congress brought a lot more Texans to Washington, men and women who will help run the offices of the new members of the state's 24-member delegation.

The largest aggregation of newcomers accompanies Senator Price Daniel, whose staff is headed by Horace Busby, of Austin and Fort Worth, serving as administrative assistant.

Others up from Texas, and who were hard at work for the new junior senator as soon as he could move into his three-room suite on the second floor of the Senate Office Building, are:

Mrs. Emma Ward, Jake Jacobson, Mrs. Ethel Wetzel, Mary Michaels and Margaret Behrens, all of Austin; Shirley Cooper, Midland; Lena Strachan, Rocksprings; Evelyn Mitchell, Crowell, and Florence Palmer, Dallas.

Over on the House side of Capitol Hill Rep. Jack Brooks got his office going full steam ahead with Paul Ferris, former Beaumont newspaperman, serving as his administrative aide. Others on Brooks' staff are Mrs. Albert Abrams, Waxahachie, and Louise Kauffman, formerly of Texarkana.

Rep. Martin Dies of Lufkin, now serving the state at large as do the two senators, engaged Mrs. Helen Kayser of Dallas and El Paso, and Gladys Flanagan of Houston as his secretaries. Miss Flanagan at one time worked for the House Armed Services Committee.

Rep. John Dowdy of Athens hired Doris Mae Crewe, formerly of Palestine. For years she was on the staff of former Congressman Tom Pickett, Dowdy's predecessor. Mrs. Dowdy, with years of secretarial experience in Texas, went to work for her husband when he opened up his office here.

On Connally's Staff

On the staff of Tyler's Rep. Brady Gentry are Glyndon (Hap) Hague of Cleburne, Mrs. Neil Hight of Corpus Christi and San Angelo; Marion Dewhirst, Kilgore, and Vera Hulings, who has been working with retired Senator Tom Connally.

Arthur Perry, for years on Connally's staff, has gone to work as one of the top men on the force of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. Formerly from Austin, he will take over some of the duties which have been handled by Walter Jenkins of Wichita Falls. Jenkins now is to devote part of his time to chores that will fall on Johnson's shoulders as Senate minority leader.

Daniel's new top man, Busby, incidentally, worked for many months with Johnson before returning to Texas last year to open a public relations office of his own in Austin.

As usual with the opening of a new Congress, there was wide-scale shifting of offices among the legislators, with the freshman members taking the least desirable locations. In the shuffle Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana moved into a choice three-room suite on the second floor up front in the new House Office Building. From the big front and side windows his staff can look down at the passing inaugural parade.

Rep. Paul Kilday of San Antonio moved into Patman's old office, just a couple of doors away. Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa and Frank Ikard moved from the old into the new House Office Building. Although most offices in the newer building are considered better, some prefer certain locations in the older building because the suites are large and convenient to committee rooms and exits. Rep. John Lyle of Corpus Christi moved back into the old from the new building.

Because he had served here previously, Martin Dies had his choice and picked a suite in the new building. The other three new members, Brooks, Gentry and Dowdy, are in the old building.

Trial Set Tuesday For Suspect Charged In Gun-Torch Death

DALLAS —(AP)— Examining trial for Donald Hawkins Brown, 24, charged in the gun-torch slaying of Edwin Joe Campbell, has been set for Tuesday.

Justice of the Peace Glenn Byrd set the examining trial Friday at the request of Harvey Lindsay, Brown's attorney.

The former city bus and street car operator is being held without bond in the Dallas County jail after his arrest Wednesday night in Fort Worth.

Campbell's beaten and charred body, with four bullets in the head, was found in his burning car by firemen New Year's Eve. Police believe Brown killed Campbell after the collector tried to repossess his 1947 Buick on which he was behind three installment payments.

Brown has denied any knowledge of the killing but admitted he was in Campbell's car shortly before he was slain.

Typhus fever is frequently milder, found in temperate or cold climates.

Tough, Synthetic Fiber In Decorator Fabrics Withstands Moths, Flames, Acids, Abrasion

A synthetic fiber formerly used for heavy duty in outdoor furniture and automobile seat covers has now been adapted to decorative fabrics and carpets. It appears (left) in a graceful, modern chair and (right) in a new carpet suited to modern interiors. It will take extremely hard wear.

NEW YORK — The lot of the housewife is improving daily. Even though she can't afford (or find) a maid or part-time help of any kind, a woman need not exhaust herself trying to keep her house show-case clean.

The steady stream of improvements and new developments in labor-saving devices for the home are extremely important, of course. But equally important are the new decorative fabrics that take a minimum of care and withstand all kinds of abuse successfully.

A newcomer to these is a synthetic fiber formerly used, because of its strength, only in automobile covers, outdoor furniture and luggage covering. Tough and durable, it has been introduced for use in decorative fabrics.

In these fabrics, this fiber increases the life span because of its ability to resist abrasion and because it won't catch and hold gritty dirt particles that cut threads.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

Similarly, this synthetic fiber makes cleaning far simpler for the housewife. It tends to shed dust and dirt, is impervious to moisture and to most alkalis and acids. In addition, its makers claim that it is highly resistant to wrinkles.

For the household with children and pets, fabrics made wholly or partially from such synthetics are ideal. Children, pets and even husbands are known to be hard on furniture. But if the man of the house scatters cigar or cigarette ashes liberally over the furniture as he reads, there's still no harm done.

The fiber will not support a flame and is entirely self-extinguishing, its makers say.

But how does it look? Very much like any handsome decorating fabric. It has clear color that's built in, which means that each fiber is colored all the way through. And its beauty is a continuing thing since the fibers are resistant to mildew and fungi. They are also completely moth-proof.

Some decorating fabrics are made entirely of this synthetic. In others, it is used partially as an aid to improving serviceability.

It appears in carpets as well as in drapery and upholstery fabrics. These carpets are ideal for any home where the carpeting must take a great deal of traffic and therefore, much wear and tear. They're available in a variety of patterns and colors, to blend in with any decor.

Modern Home Can Be Beautified With Proper Color

In choosing room colors, start with the room's largest areas and work to the smaller. Select wall and floor colors first; then, according to the type of color scheme to be used, pick harmonizing colors for draperies, upholstery and accessories.

Do not let colors "fight" each other by using them in the same proportions. Pick one color to dominate, then use lesser amounts of secondary ones. To test for proper proportions of two colors to be used together, hold paint samples chips side by side, then cover up different areas of the minor color until satisfied with the color balance between them.

A room with only light and grayed colors usually is dull. On the other hand, a room in which the predominant color is pure, whether light or dark, is harsh and tiresome. That is why most paint is mixed down from the pure colors.

Basin Of Plan
The large areas of walls, ceiling and floor from the basic of any color plan. Generally, these areas should be soft and grayed to provide a background which combines easily with stronger furnishings and accessory colors. A little pure, strong color will balance a large area of soft, grayed color. Occasional chairs, pictures and small accessories can be brilliant in color without destroying the unity of a color plan.

For your color plan, select colors that your family likes, making sure they are of the correct value and intensity.

Colorizer color consultant, Faber Birren, says one should forget rules like "blue and green should not be combined." Modern color usage is bold, different. By selecting from color samples, you discover many pleasing combinations.

Starting with beige floor covering, other major colors in the room might be red, aqua, leaf-green. Combine spruce green with plum and peach, or with purple and beige, for a warm, intimate atmosphere. The red is dramatic in combination with plum, lime, ivory, sophisticated with white, black, emerald.

Cheerful Room
A dark room is cheerful with beige, vermilion, chartreuse, turquoise. Pleasant in a girl's room are peach, violet, turquoise, beige. A boy will like brown, cherry, laurel green, beige for his room.

It is easier to make the wall and curtain color harmonize with a rug than to match a rug to walls and curtains. If figured fabrics are used, one of the fabric colors should appear on the walls. You may have plain or figured curtains with plain walls; plain curtains are usually safest with a patterned wall.

Laboratory Develops Super-Speed Camera

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. — (P) — The staff of the University of California's scientific laboratory at this atomic center has developed one of the fastest cameras ever built. For use in atomic research, the camera can photograph explosions at speeds up to 3,500,000 frames a second. That's about 150,000 times as fast as the usual picture you see at your movie theater.

Tapeworms have no mouth or alimentary canal, liquid food being absorbed through the body wall.

Trade Survey Puts Oak Floors High As Home Selling Point

Today's home buyers, while influenced greatly in their purchases by such modern housing features as tiled bathrooms, picture windows, sliding closet doors, kitchen cabinets, garbage disposers and dish washers, still have a strong appreciation for such long established favorites as oak floors.

This was shown in a recent survey conducted by a leading real estate and building publication.

A large majority of those responding to a questionnaire listed oak floors among the top 20 features deemed most effective in winning home sales. Wood paneling also was included in this select group. In all, 146 items were listed as selling points.

The popularity of oak floors and wood paneling is believed to be due in large measure to the natural beauty of the wood, along with its durability and ease of upkeep.

Friday after totaling the new victims, he got that feeling himself. He added one more victim on the list and headed home to bed.

Costly Fight Waged Against Citrus Foe

MEXICO CITY — (P) — Mexico's agriculture ministry says it has spent about $1,500,000 in six months fighting the black fly which attacks citrus trees.

The plague is centered, the announcement said Friday, in the San Luis Potosi, Veracruz and the southern portion of Tamaulipas state, about 150 miles south of the Texas citrus belt.

MIDLAND, TEXAS, SUNDAY, JANUARY 18, 1953

SECTION THREE

TO PARTICIPATE IN CONCERT—Violinists, Glenna Hake, left, and Rose Ann Hughston, will take part in the concert to be presented Saturday by the newly formed Midland Symphony and Choral Association. The program is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. in the San Jacinto Junior High School Auditorium.

Symphony, Choral Association To Present First Full Concert

The Midland Symphony and Choral Association, under the direction of Mathys Abas, will present its first full concert Saturday in the San Jacinto Junior High School Auditorium.

The time will be 8:15 p.m. Selections to be included on the program are "Pavane and Chaconne in G. Minor," Henry Purcell (arranged by Abas); "Concerto No. 8," Arcangelo Corelli; "The Nightly Procession," Henry Rabaud, and "Magnificat," Johann Sebastian Bach.

The first number will feature the strings, woodwinds, trumpets and trombones. Purcell, the composer, was organist of Westminster Abbey and is rated as one of England's foremost composers.

In the "Concerto Grosso," a nucleus group of instrumentalists, called the concertino, competes with the rest of the ensemble. There are solos for two violins and a cello.

"The Nightly Procession," third number on the program, is a symphonic poem based on a story by Nicholas Lenau. The story tells how the bitterly lonesome Faust, condemned to live in the woods, is riding his black horse one night when he hears children's voices in the distance. The voices turn out to belong to a small procession of people celebrating the festival of St. John. He listens until the sound of the procession disappears and then he cries because of his loneliness and repentance for the evil of his deeds.

Concluding the concert will be the "Magnificat," a religious composition with a Latin text based on Luke 1:46-55. Originally a song of the Virgin Mary, who had received word by the angel Gabriel that she would give birth to Christ, it now is regarded more as a prayer for Christian humanity in general.

Although the Saturday concert will be the first performance of the entire organization, two earlier programs also have been sponsored by the group. The first one, an evening of chamber music, featured Abas, violinist, and Charlotte Barrier, pianist. It was presented in November, shortly after the association's organization.

Next on the group's schedule was a lecture on the inter-relationship of the arts, given by Dr. Gene Hemmle, head of the music department at Texas Technological College in Lubbock.

Together the three programs represent each of the three types of performances which the association hopes to sponsor.

The group includes approximately 25 vocalists and 25 instrumentalists, plus a number of guest musicians from the Lubbock and Abilene symphonies.

Abas studied violin in the Amsterdam Conservatory under J. de Clerck, and later played three years in professional orchestras, including the Utrecht Municipal Orchestra and the Rotterdam Philharmonic Orchestra.

He has participated in performances under many of today's leading conductors, including Charles

The Rev. Clinton L. Bowen officiated. Nuptial music included "Till the End of Time," "Sweetheart of All My Dreams," "No Greater Love," "Because of You" and the traditional wedding marches played by Lu Ann Hurt of Clarksville, organist. Lamar P-TA Plans Meeting

Visual education films will be the feature of the program when the Lamar Elementary Parent-Teacher Association meets at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school auditorium.

A musical program will be given by a group of fourth grade students, and refreshments will be served during a social hour. A nursery will be provided for the meeting.

Musical Advisor Of Symphony To Conduct Operatic Sinfonietta

The First Operatic Sinfonietta, under the direction of Vladimir Bakaleinikoff, musical advisor of the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, will present its first concert in Midland Sunday.

The time will be 3:30 p.m. in the Midland High School Auditorium. Now on its first nationwide tour, the Sinfonietta consists of 20 outstanding musicians and four operatic soloists.

One of the top operatic conductors, Bakaleinikoff for many years was with the world-famous Moscow Art Theater. When that organization visited the United States in 1926, Bakaleinikoff accepted the invitation of Fritz Reiner to become assistant conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. When Reiner moved on to Pittsburgh in 1938, he arranged for Bakaleinikoff to follow him as assistant conductor for the Pittsburgh Symphony.

Fame Spread To U. S. Bakaleinikoff's fame spread rapidly in the United States as it had done a decade earlier in his native Russia. During the Summers of 1946 and 1947 he conducted the "Carnegie Pops" orchestra in New York City. The group, made up of members of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony, played before standing room-only audiences. Bakaleinikoff has been guest conductor of the Utah State Symphonic Orchestra and of the Montreal Philharmonic.

Vladimir Bakaleinikoff

Born in Russia, he was graduated from the Conservatory with highest honors, and won nation-wide fame as a viola player. Later he became a conductor. In 1920 he was appointed to the Moscow Art Theater post and he relinquished it only after he decided to stay in the United States with the Cincinnati Orchestra.

After 10 years in Cincinnati, during which time he became an American citizen, Bakaleinikoff devoted several years to appearances as guest conductor and to the composition of original scores for motion pictures in Hollywood. In the Summer of 1942, he made several appearances as guest conductor of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra with Rachmaninoff as soloist. He also conducted the opera, "Prince Igor," in the Hollywood Bowl, and was associate conductor of the "Symphonies Under the Stars" in the Bowl in 1943.

The honorary degree of Doctor of Music was conferred upon him by the University of Chicago in 1934. In 1936 he became musical director of the Louisville Civic Arts Association and Conductor of the Louisville Symphony.

For eight years he was identified with the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich. He was the teacher of the 21-year-old conductor and violinist, Lorin Maazel, and also gave the audition that started the young American coloratura, Patricia Munsel, on the road to stardom at the Metropolitan Opera.

Soloists appearing with the Sinfonietta will be Lillian Sheiby, soprano; Elinor Warren, mezzo-soprano; Keith Kaldenberg, tenor; and Roy Urhausen, bass-baritone.

Career Girls Treat Hands Well; Have Lotion Within Easy Reach

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Not complexion alone, but the skin of the entire body today withers with advancing age unless natural cholesterol, the oil and moisture "center" in the skin, is replenished. Beginning at the age of five, scientists have found, the moisture lessens.

Fortunately for the beauty of womanhood scientists have found a way to extract oxy cholesterol from the heart of lanolin, the substance most nearly resembling that which keeps human skin from drying out. If she begins early enough in life and applies the substance regularly, other things being equal, a girl can maintain skin beauty indefinitely.

If apples are not covered while they are being baked, they should be basted often with the juices in the pan. If they are covered, they will usually only need to be basted a few times.

This lanolin derivative is being used in many skin-beauty products today. Among them is a Hand and Body Lotion made by a famous firm. It has the same scent that the manufacturer makes available in perfume form. A delicate pink color will make the lotion even more acceptable to girls who love the luxurious touches added to their cosmetics. These girls should also like the pretty bottle that has a carved design to prevent slipping.

If you are troubled with rough, dry body skin, you can make it more "skin to the fine silk lingerie that feels so good next to it by daily care with this or similar lotion.

After your bath, rub down your entire body with it, giving particular attention to feet, elbows and knees. Before putting your hands in water is a sensible time to use the lotion as it will form a temporary protective coating against the ravages of hot water.

Eisenhower Is The Boss

From Washington come continuing reports that Republicans in Congress are somewhat disgruntled over the way their new President-elect, General Eisenhower, has been handling patronage and other affairs.

Senator Taft's flare-up over the appointment of Martin Durkin to be secretary of Labor was only the most celebrated incident. There have been many other cases where senators have learned in the newspapers about appointments affecting their states.

But right here a distinction ought to be made between different kinds of patronage. Some of the grumblers seem to be saying they ought to have virtually a "final say" on appointments of home-state citizens clear up to Cabinet level. Actually, they cannot mean that. A President's Cabinet choices should not be subject to individual senatorial veto, except in the most extreme circumstances.

Simply as a matter of courtesy, such choices ought to be discussed with the affected senators, but normally their influence should be only advisory.

Federal judgeships within a state, and numerous appointive posts in the field are jobs of a different order. In such cases, of course, senatorial recommendations usually should be controlling.

Apparently, however, the GOP has been so long starved for federal patronage that its appetite is ravenous. Naturally, too, the lawmakers are under terrific pressure from the job-seekers.

The Republicans' dissatisfaction is intensified by the nature of many top Eisenhower appointments. They believe politicians have been ignored for businessmen.

Yet here again, while their attitudes are quite understandable, it would seem they are overstepping the bounds. Eisenhower, not they, won a mandate from the people on November 4. He has a right to choose the kind of team he wants. He was not elected merely to satisfy the patronage yearnings of his party.

No doubt some of these Republicans temporarily are forgiving Eisenhower on the score that he is new to politics and doesn't grasp its compulsions. But there is another side to that, too.

None of the present Republican senators ever has served under a Republican President. Behavior so far suggests these gentlemen may have failed to realize that the President is, after all, pretty much the boss. Especially when he wins by a thumping margin and the party barely squeaks through in Congress.

The signs indicate the lawmakers may be in for some more surprises before they adjust to the idea of working with a President of their own party. Some may be so angered as to contemplate retaliation. But perhaps they ought to reflect carefully on the question of whose nose they might be cutting off.

The American people these days are interested in performance, not in intra-party jurisdictional squabbles. Anything that hurts government performance also may harm the governing party's members the next time they face the voters.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: New secretary of Commerce, conservative and genteel Sinclair Weeks, is contrast to high-powered businessmen in Eisenhower's Cabinet; Left family business line of banking to become fastener-king.

WASHINGTON — Most of the businessmen in Eisenhower's so-called business Cabinet are of the modern, high-powered, up-and-at-'em school. In contrast, a conservative, genteel Boston blue blood, Sinclair Weeks, will be the new secretary of Commerce.

The first Weeks landed at Portsmouth in 1850, and the Weeks family has been fighting for its country, helping to govern the country, and making a goodly living from the country ever since.

Most of the family business during this time has been on the sedate and staid side. John W. Weeks, father of Sinclair, served inconspicuously in the Senate, austere in the Harding Cabinet as secretary of War, and organized the private banking firm of Hornblower and Weeks.

His son also filled the Cabot Lodge vacancy in the Senate while Lodge was in the Army, and now follows in his father's footsteps by serving in a Republican Cabinet. But in one important respect—banking—Sinclair has refused to follow in the footsteps of his father.

Fastener-King
Instead of occupying the sedate private banking offices of Hornblower and Weeks, Sinclair Weeks branched out in the less orthodox business of fasteners. He has become the fastener-king of the United States; makes buckles and fasteners for harnesses, purses, radio tube pins, soldering lugs, fasteners for carpets, curtains, auto tops, motorboat upholstery, raincoats, overalls, caps, suitcases and gloves.

The only things the new secretary of Commerce doesn't make in the way of fasteners are zippers. He is death on zippers—which gives a clue to Weeks' economic philosophy.

Fasteners are plenty good enough for him, and he is going to stick to good old-fashioned fasteners. As a matter of fact, Weeks has made a lot of money from his United-Carr Fastener Company. Today he operates plants in England, Canada, Australia and Luxembourg.

So They Say
It is my belief that when the General Assembly takes up this subject at its session, it will find that the substantive problem is well on its way to a fair solution.

and the increasing trend toward monopoly. If he can spread out the government defense orders which automatically gravitate to six big companies—one of the biggest being that of his General Motors Cabinet colleague, Charles E. Wilson—then the new secretary of Commerce will have performed one of the most valuable services in the business history of the nation.

Note—Senator Taft didn't say anything publicly about Weeks' appointment but he wasn't any happier over it than over Martin Durkin's. This was because Weeks, although an old friend of Taft's took occasion to blast him during a strategic moment shortly before the Chicago convention, even wrote letters to leading Republicans saying that Taft could not win.

Congressman John M. Allen of Tupelo, Miss., was very proud of his home town. He was known as "Private John" Allen and was a Confederate veteran. He used to tell that soon after Lincoln was inaugurated, the secretary of War rushed in and said, "Mr. President, the South has seceded." Lincoln said, "Let it secede." The secretary of War continued, "Yes, but Tupelo is in the South." Lincoln exclaimed, "Great heavens! We can't give up Tupelo! Start the Civil War!"

the three spades immediately, discarding hearts from the South hand. Declarer then takes the ace of hearts and leads a trump to dummy.

Declarer can enter dummy twice with trumps to ruff low hearts. When the king of hearts drops, declarer can get back to dummy with the king of diamonds to discard his losing diamond on the jack of hearts.

"What is the correct percentage play if you see only the South hand and the dummy? Do you have a better chance if you take the finesse, or in general do you have a better chance if you try to ruff out the king?"

This type of situation occurs fairly frequently in play, so it might be worth-while to remember a couple of figures. The chance that the king of hearts will be doubleton (in case there is a 4-2 break) is about 16 per cent. The combined chance is about 52 per cent, which is slightly better than the straight 50 per cent chance of a finesse.

It should be pointed out that it isn't completely safe to cash three top spades before drawing trumps. It is possible, although not likely, that the opening lead is a singleton and that the second round of spades will be ruffed.

This slight risk is probably offset by the chance of catching a singleton king of hearts if you play for ruffing out the king.

The decisive argument in favor of ruffing out the hearts is that you do not necessarily lose the hand if the king of hearts fails to drop. There is still a remote chance for a squeeze if one opponent happens to have the only stopper in diamonds as well as the king of hearts.

On the whole, I would say that the actual declarer cannot be critical for staking his slam on the simple heart finesse. If I were playing the hand myself, however, I would play to ruff out the king of hearts.

THE STORY: Carney Wilde, private investigator, is trying to solve valuable perfume thefts at the Jonas store. He is asked to work on another case by Jack Jones, son of the store owner. Carney meets Jack at the Coronet cafe where the detective sees Miss Boone, head of the store's perfume department, in company with a Mr. Seavane, with whom Jack has a slight rivalry. Carney meets Jack, he is told that the sleuthing job involves the theft of records of displaced persons from an organization Jack heads which attempts to send jobs for "Future Americans."

I TOOK a long time getting a cigaret going. "Did you ask your father about hiring me?" I asked.

He shook his head. "Why?"

"I asked you because I just might consider the job if he said so. If he made it a matter of taking it or losing the store renter. As it is, I wouldn't touch it."

"But I don't understand," Jonas said with evident sincerity.

"That's something I don't want to tell you," I said flatly.

"Don't tell me it presents an ethical problem, Mr. Wilde," he said disbelievably.

"Your sarcasm is a touch on the heavy side, Brother Jonas," I said. "But I'm not concerned with ethics right now."

"Then what is it?"

I pulled deeply at my cigaret and drifted the smoke out slowly. "You suspect your wife took them, don't you? And you want proof. The reason I don't want the job is because I don't take divorce work."

I didn't like the fury in his eyes. I didn't like the measuring stare that seemed to be searching for the best place to strike. I got my fingers on the rim of the table ready to pitch it over on him if he moved.

Solons Of House Come Across With 200 Bills To 'Save World'

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—If you want to know what part of the new Congress, all you have to do is look at the titles of the 204 new bills and the 125 resolutions introduced in the House of Representatives on opening day.

Everything was there from a bill by the Hon. Usher L. Burdick of North Dakota to take the United States out of the United Nations, to a bill by the Hon. Eugene J. Keogh of New York to prohibit the use of the words "White House" in any trademark, and another by Rep. Carroll D. Kearns of Pennsylvania to ban the use of the U. S. flag in advertising.

There are some other dandy ideas among the new bills to show how deeply the lawmakers think and how seriously they have weighed the big issues of the day.

Representative Burdick, for instance, has one bill to provide uniforms for employees of the United States government, and another to regulate the fertilizer industry.

The Hon. L. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina has a bill to provide more efficient dental service for the armed forces.

Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church of Illinois wants the interstate shipment of fireworks banned to those states which prohibit its sale.

Rep. George A. Dondero of Michigan had introduced a resolution to make the first Tuesday of March "Teachers' Day," and Rep. Robert Hale of Maine has a resolution to make the fourth Saturday of August "Children's Day."

Indians, Ex-Presidents Rate
In fact, almost every conceivable subject is there, from Indians to ex-Presidents. Rep. Tony Fernandez of New Mexico wants another year added to the five years already granted for filing claims against the Indian Bureau.

Representative FDR, Jr., would have all ex-Presidents and ex-vice-presidents made senators-at-large. That would take in not only Truman and Hoover, but also Garner, Wallace and pretty soon Barkley.

It was largely the old-timers in Congress who were there on opening day with bills to save the world. One exception was new Congressman Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia who introduced a bill to, of all things, repeal the Taft-Hartley labor law.

This obviously was to carry out a campaign promise. But this Representative Byrd of WEST Virginia of course should not be confused with Senator Harry F. Byrd of OLD Virginia, who obviously would think of such a thing.

Representative Keogh of Brooklyn

You, South, hold: Spades 9-7, Hearts Q-J-7-5-3-2, Diamonds 5-3-2, Clubs 7-6-4. What do you do?

A—Bid two no-trump. You have excellent support for hearts, but you can show that by returning to hearts at your next opportunity. If you raise hearts at once, the pessimistic response would show that you have 7 points or more. This might seriously mislead your partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-10-9-8-4, Hearts 4-2, Diamonds 5-3-2, Clubs 6-4. What do you do?

"Right. Where do we start?"

"Get down to the store about 7:30 in the morning and impound the records for the controlled stockroom. The little one they use for the imported cosmetics department. Get the same inventory clerk and do a fast check on the stock. Don't let anyone else in the place and make sure the stockroom clerk sticks around until I see him."

"Okay," he said. "I've got it."

THE Jonas Store covers two square blocks all told and I had to walk about a quarter of a mile to get to the controlled stockroom. It was down in the second sub-basement and it took up about 80 square feet. A thick steel mesh surrounded the area and the only entrance was through a solid steel door.

Gilbert stood in the doorway, leaning against the wire, watching his clerks working inside. I tapped his shoulder.

"Hi, Carney," he said. "Take us another hour, I'd say. It's quite a job. By the way, that clerk that works here, he didn't show this morning."

"I checked my watch, 10:07. He should have punched the clock at 8:30 or earlier."

"I'll take care of it," I said. "Hurry it up here. I'll be upstairs in Eli's office."

I rode the freight elevator to the top floor and threaded my way through the long corridors to Eli's office. There I picked up Miss Lizzie's PAX phone and dialed 310 for the personnel office. I asked my questions and waited while they checked for me.

The answer was no. The stockroom clerk had not reported himself too sick to work. I copied down his name and address from the personnel record. William Jacobs, 1561 Chalmers Drive. I hung up, dialed the Security Desk and told the man on duty to send Maxwell out to check.

"Mr. Jones wants to see you," Miss Lizzie said sharply. "He has been waiting since 9 o'clock."

Buckley Mac-Gurrin To Give Art Course

Buckley Mac-Gurrin, California artist who has received recognition both in the United States and Europe, will be the instructor for an art course beginning February 2 at the Palette Club, 604 North Colorado Street, it has been announced by Palette Club directors.

No stranger to Texas artists, Mac-Gurrin served as instructor in intermediate and advanced painting at the San Antonio Art Institute in 1946, 1949 and 1950, also serving for two of the years as instructor to the art faculty of Our Lady of the Lake College.

While in the state, he lectured on art to a number of Texas cultural organizations, served on a number of juries of selection and award for art exhibitions in San Antonio and adjacent areas, and exhibited frequently. Among his showings were one-man shows in the Witte Museum, the Pan American Galleries and the Corpus Christi Institute of Fine Arts.

He executed portraits of a number of prominent Texans, and is represented in the Marion Koogler McNay Collection and a number of private collections.

Mac-Gurrin also has had exhibits in California, Chicago, New York and other American art centers, as well as in Europe. Early in 1951, he spent eight months in his California studio painting an impressionistic series of panels based on the bullfight. These large paintings formed the nucleus of a one-man show at the Dalzell Hatfield Galleries in Portland, Ore.

During an European visit in 1952, Mac-Gurrin exhibited some of his old paintings, by invitation, at the annual Salon in the Hotel de Ville in France. At the conclusion of the exhibit, his 1927 painting "L'Eglise Paris, 1928" Salon des Tuileries, Paris, 1928, was added to the permanent collection of the Ville de Laignes.

Included in the four-week art course to be given by Mac-Gurrin in Midland will be 20 three-hour sessions and four half-hour lectures. There will be a registration fee of $10 and each student will furnish his own equipment.

Persons interested may register by contacting Mrs. Robert N. Williams, telephone 4-7875, or at the Simmons Paint and Paper Company or Midtex Paint Company.

Daddy Ringtail And The Rememberer

The Shaggnappy is a monkey who lives in the Great Forest. The thing to remember about the Shaggnappy is that he can't remember things. Sometimes he can't remember where he is going or where he came from. Sometimes he can't even remember what his own name is. That's how bad his rememberer is.

Mugwump, the monkey boy, thought the Shaggnappy was a funny fellow indeed. He even laughed about the Shaggnappy forgetting things.

It was getting dark outside in the Great Forest. The trees, the logs on the ground, the walks and paths you could see, but not very well. Mugwump was hopping and skipping down the Elephant Path. He was whistling because he was so happy.

Daddy Ringtail heard Mugwump and called: "Come up to the monkey house, Mugwump. I have some eggs for you to take to the Huffle Puffen." Mugwump stopped his playing and climbed up to the monkey house.

"Now, Mugwump," Daddy Ringtail said as he gave him the eggs, "you will have to carry these very carefully. You must not hop and skip. It is getting dark and you might fall and break all the eggs."

"Oh, I'll be careful with them," said Mugwump, and he was careful all the way down the tree.

But Mugwump was just so happy that—do you know what? When he started down the Elephant Path, he forgot not to skip and hop. He stumbled and broke all the eggs when he fell. It was a sad, sad thing to happen.

"Oh me!" said Daddy Ringtail as he came running. "Didn't you remember what I said about not hopping and skipping with the eggs?"

By Wesley Davis

"I remember now," Mugwump said. "But when I hopped, my rememberer must have broken. It didn't keep telling me what not to forget."

"Well now," Daddy Ringtail said, "I guess that can happen to anybody. I have some more eggs you can take to the Huffle, and I don't think your rememberer will break this time."

"Oh no, Daddy Ringtail," Mugwump said. "It won't break this time. And I'll never laugh at the Shaggnappy again. His rememberer is always broken."

And that's the way it is with everyone sometimes, I guess. Their rememberers break. But I hope no one's rememberer breaks as much as the Shaggnappy's does. Happy day!

Two-Centuries-Old Paris Firm Makes Tiaras For Coronation

For the coming Coronation, the House of Chaumet in Paris shows this slender double-circlet tiara. It's made of thirty-nine large round diamonds totalling 100 carats. They are mounted on rows of baguette diamonds. Necklace is four graduated rows of diamonds. In background is a museum collection of 1000 coronets and diadems created by the firm over a period of two hundred years.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—Parisians are becoming coronet-conscious. Jewelers in the Rue de la Paix and the Place Vendome are showing modern versions of both coronets and tiaras that will be worn by the lucky guests attending the coronation ceremonies in Westminster Abbey next June.

The House of Chaumet, on the Place Vendome, has been making coronets, tiaras and other "heirlooms" for most of the crowned heads of Europe for almost 200 years.

In a room on the first floor, the firm has a collection of over 1,000 models featuring every style of coronet and diadem. These range from the high, ornate affairs created for the Russian empresses to the slender Empire circles worn by the ladies of Josephine's court.

It was Chaumet who made three "parures" or sets of jewels on the occasion of Napoleon's marriage to Marie-Louise of Austria. One of these was in diamonds and rubies. A second was diamonds and emeralds and the third diamonds and pearls. A "parure" then consisted of a diadem, necklace, earrings, bracelets and comb.

Pierre Chaumet and his brother (who runs the London branch of this famous firm) represent the fifth generation of the family. They recall the time when their father travelled twice a year to Russia to submit ideas to the czar. They're proud of the fact that many of their clients today represent a fifth generation of patronage.

Referring to their unique collection of coronets, Pierre Chaumet explains: "Most of these pieces were bought back by us in the course of two world wars, with the gradual disappearance of European kings and queens. Most private families who owned such heirlooms had them broken up and reset as wedding presents for a daughter or for a son's wife."

"Today, no woman would think of buying a diadem. She wants a jewel that will serve two purposes, if only because the opportunities to wear a single jewel are rare."

Tastes, too, have changed. The modern jewel-loving woman feels that all-diamond pieces are more effective and chic. But 30 years ago, her mother liked color combinations with her diamonds.

For the coming coronation, Chaumet's are showing diamond necklaces that have minute hooks at the back. These are made to hook onto rigid tiaras in white gold. Wives of diplomats, foreign nobility and officials generally are coming in for advice as to how their jewels can be converted for this highly colorful and dramatic event.

West Texas Lions Schedule Mid-Winter Meet In Midland

Herb Petry of Carrizo Springs, a past president of Lions International, and Joe Fisher of Jasper, a director of the international organization, will be the principal speakers at the mid-Winter conference of District 2-T-2, Lions International, here next Saturday.

WEEKEND IN AMARILLO

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Sadler, Terminal, are visiting in Amarillo this weekend.

DID HARRY SAY ALL THAT?

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Party newspaper Pravda quoted President Truman's recent economic message to Congress as proof that many Americans live under what it termed as unbearable conditions.

"Even by the admission of the President, not less than 32 million Americans eke out a half-starved existence, do not have wearable clothes and huddle in slums or pitiful shacks," Pravda said.

Defense Of Japan Called Top Mission Of U. S. Air Force

TOKYO (AP)—A U. S. Air Force spokesman said Saturday defense of Japan is a "mission of highest priority." The U. S. has ordered all steps necessary toward that end. Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, commander of the Japan Air Defense Force (JADF), told Japanese newsmen American air power would protect these islands "in accordance with the agreement between the U. S. and Japan."

In Washington, it was announced that the U. S. had replied formally to Japan that Gen. Mark Clark, U. S. Far Eastern commander, had been instructed to take "all possible, necessary measures" to repel any foreign aircraft over Japanese territory.

This means authorization to shoot down any Russian plane if its pilot balked at landing after being caught over Japanese territory.

Neither the Japanese nor American notes mentioned the Russians by name but Russian planes are the only foreign planes reported flying over Japan's northernmost Hokkaido island, six miles from the Soviet Kuriles Islands.

32 Pilgrims Drown In River Accident

CALCUTTA (AP)—A boat carrying pilgrims down the Hooghly River smashed against a buoy here Saturday, spilling its passengers into the river.

C-C Membership Campaign Reported At 'Full Blast'

The mid-Winter membership campaign of the Midland Chamber of Commerce was going "full blast" Saturday as more than 40 volunteer workers contacted prospects in an effort to reach the goal of 100 new members before the organization's annual banquet January 27.

Stanley M. Erskine, membership committee chairman, said the response to date has been excellent and that very few turn-downs have been reported.

He invited all business firms who do not have Chamber of Commerce memberships to affiliate with the organization now.

"A Chamber of Commerce membership is the best investment as an individual, organization or business establishment can make in the continued progress and welfare of the city," he said.

Jap Pickets Protest U. S. Build-Up Plans

TOKYO (AP)—About 400 Japanese waving flags and placards demonstrated at the Foreign Office Saturday against the government's plan to build up billets for the U. S. security forces in Musashino City, north of Tokyo.

Foreign Office officials said the plan would be reconsidered.

Typhoid Epidemic Continues Rampage

Freight-Passenger Collision Hurts Five

SAVANNAH, GA. (AP)—The Atlantic Coast Line's fast Miami-to-Boston train crashed into the rear of a freight train in the fog Saturday and injured five persons, two critically.

Two diesel locomotives and at least eight cars were derailed, twisted and shattered, in the smash-up about 3 a.m. at the nearby hamlet of Fleming, Ga. The freight caboose and an empty pullman burst into flames but the fire was confined to them.
