Wild Gas Well In North Pecos Still Out Of Control

Cities Service Oil Company and others No. 1 Playton, wild gas well in North Pecos County, was still blowing out of control early Tuesday morning. Bottomed at 6,780 feet, operator was pumping mud into the well in an attempt to kill the gas flow. At last report the wild well had not caught fire. The gas started blowing, along with water, about midnight Saturday night as operator was making a trip to change drilling bit. Location is 330 feet from west and 1,198 feet from north lines of section 99, block 8, H&G survey.

Lynn Discovery Takes GOR Test

Dan Auld of Kerrville and associates No. J. E. Timmons, flowing discovery from the Pennsylvania reef line in Northwest Lynn County is preparing to take potential test and complete. This development will complete from perforated section at 9,843-64 feet. That zone had been washed with 400 gallons of mud acid and treated with 2,000 gallons of regular acid. After that it flowed for a considerable period through various sized chokes. The longest flow was for 12 hours through a 1/4-inch opening and during that period it averaged 37 barrels of oil per hour. During a subsequent flowing test of unreported length it flowed at the rate of 28 barrels per hour through a 1/4-inch choke. GOR Is Taken

That test was taken to get a gas-oil ratio gauge. The gas-oil ratio developed during that period was 1.281-1. Gravity was 47-2 degrees.

The flow was steady. Flowing tubing pressure was 950 pounds and the shut-in casing pressure was 2,000 pounds. All storage on the lease full.

As soon as that oil is moved the discovery will be completed.

This new field opener is 15 miles northwest of Tahoka and 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east line of section 142, block 12, EL&RR survey.

Court Refuses To Order Election

JOIN MARCH OF DIMES—Midland children are playing a major part in the current March of Dimes. Here Scooter, six, and Glynda Gail, five, children of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gardner, 305 Cedar Street, prepare to empty their penny bank to aid the infantile paralysis fight. Glynda was a 1952 victim of polio.

Midlanders Lag In Dimes March

Midlanders lag in contributions to the March of Dimes. "Unless gifts increase within the next four days, Midland County will fall far short of its goal for the drive," Chairman Ray Gwyn said Tuesday. A $25,000 goal has been established for the county. Midlanders gave more than $18,000 last year. "But contributions are far behind schedule," Gwyn pointed out as the campaign moved deeper into its final week. "In 1952, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis sent $14,000 to Midland County to care for our polio victims. It is hoped that this year we will be in a position to return all or a major portion of this money in order that it may be used in epidemics. We do not know what 1953 holds for the children and adults of Midland County. We must be prepared in the event there is another epidemic in this area this year."

March of Dimes folders went into the mails Monday and Gwyn urged that they be returned promptly with contributions. The folders can be sent through the mail simply by attaching a postage stamp and dropping them in any mail box. "If a folder has not been received, please send contributions to P. O. Box 272, Midland," Gwyn appealed. The Junior Chamber of Commerce handled distribution of the folders. Return of the dime cards issued to Midland and Terminal school children is expected to bring a sizable jump in the march's total. "We also are relying heavily on the Mothers' March on Polio between 6 and 7 p.m. Thursday," the chairman said.

KILL TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE

Midlanders now can pay their water bills and their poll taxes the same time. As the deadline for the payment of the poll tax neared, the city water department was commissioned to issue poll tax receipts at City Hall. Meanwhile, the voters continued trickling in at the Midland County Courthouse to beat the Saturday poll tax deadline. County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed reported Tuesday morning that 2,659 persons had paid the tax while another 429 had received exemption certificates.

Legislature Aims Toughest Blasts At Drunken Drivers

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Legislature Tuesday leveled a double-barrelled blast at killers on highways. Senator Carlos Ashley, Llano, introduced a bill to slap a mandatory five-day minimum jail sentence on drunken drivers. Rep. Thomas R. Joseph, Jr., Waco, introduced a bill to "take death off the highway by putting more patrolmen on the highway." The present drunk driving law calls for a non-mandatory jail sentence of 10 days to two years or a $50 to $500 fine. Ashley believes a mandatory sobering-up period behind the bars would help curb drunken drivers. Ashley's bill leaves the fine as it is. It sets up the jail sentence "and" the fine, not "or" the fine. Joseph's bill, one of several before the Legislature to cut down the highway death toll, would increase license fees for chauffeurs

SOUNDS FISHY, BUT IT'S TRUE—

Ichthyic Motherhood Moves City Fathers To Compassion

The great big City of Midland laid down its shovels and silenced its chattering air drills Tuesday in the interest of motherhood. It was fish motherhood, to be sure, but it was a pretty important event to 12-year-old Joel Gooch and his 15-year-old brother, David. Sons of Dr. and Mrs. Oliver Gooch, they received a matched pair of angel fish last Christmas and for the last four weeks they have been waiting anxiously for the appearance of offspring. Monday night the female began laying her eggs.

Six Thought Dead As Explosion, Fire Wreck Resort City

AIKEN, S. C.—(AP)—An explosion wrecked an electrical store in the center of town Tuesday and at least six persons were reported killed. The blast in the Jones Electrical Company Store demolished the building and a fire broke out. Mayor O'Dell Weeks said it was known definitely that six persons were in the building at the time of the explosion. He expressed belief their bodies were buried in the debris. The blast occurred while an investigation was being made of a leaking gas line serving the store. Windows in adjacent buildings were shattered and a number of automobiles were buried under wreckage. Aiken, a famous resort town, is 18 miles east of Augusta, Ga.

Netherlands Say No To U. S. Assistance

THE HAGUE, THE NETHERLANDS—(AP)—The Dutch government Tuesday officially announced its decision not to request dollar aid under the U. S. Mutual Security Agreement during the coming fiscal year. It withdrew a tentative request for 15 million dollars.

Texas B-36 Said H-Bomb Vehicle

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The history making "H-bomb" believed exploded recently in the South Pacific was dropped by an airplane from Carswell Air Force Base here, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram learned Tuesday. The heat-scarred B-36 has been returned to service after decontamination and repairs. Primed to top flight condition by a specially selected crew of airman and then flown away by a super-selected crew, the big bomber to the B-36 "Enola Gay" which dropped the first atom bomb over Japan, took off here shortly before the November 1 blast date, the newspaper said. The aircraft, with its blue-ribbon crew and "top-top secret mission," picked up the most devastating chunk of machinery and molecules ever assembled in the world's history at a western state and proceeded to the Eniwetok Island area for the drop. The bomb-bay doors through

Negro Sought In Sex Murder Of Young Mother From Waco

WESTPORT, CONN.—(AP)—Police Tuesday sought a 29-year-old negro handyman as the rape-slayer of a young mother—a native of Waco, Texas—whose knifed and garroted body was found Monday night in a house here she had occupied only two weeks. State Police Sgt. Louis Marchese said William Davis was accused of the crime by his wife, Dolly. Marchese said Davis and his wife did part time housework for Mrs. Penny Evans, 30, whose almost nude body was found by two Westport policemen after Stamford authorities reported Mrs. Davis had telephoned them saying: "My husband has just killed a woman." The state policeman said the Davises had gone to Stamford by separate taxicabs to visit their child.

The semi-monthly meeting of the City Council, scheduled Tuesday night, has been delayed until Wednesday night. City Manager W. H. Oswalt said the Tuesday meeting was postponed because of the annual membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Tulsa Oil Heiress Ordered To Trial For Mate's Slaying

WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—District Judge Arthur Tipps Tuesday denied a defense motion for a third delay in the murder trial of Mary Jean Parsons after attorneys argued about her sanity. The 22-year-old Tulsa heiress is charged with shooting her husband of less than a month, my Lt. Richard O. Parsons, at their El Paso apartment February 14. Defense Attorney Lesley Humphrey told the court the blue-eyed, blonde defendant, who has been kept in a private mental hospital since the shooting, "is insane at this time." She was found sane at a hearing in El Paso last May. Her attorneys had asked that the trial be continued because six important defense witnesses, four of whom testified in the sanity hearing, were absent. District Attorney William Clayton of El Paso argued that the motion should not be granted because Mrs. Parsons had not signed the motion. He said she should have signed because she was found sane in the El Paso hearing. Humphrey replied, "the judgment of the sanity hearing jury has no probity whatsoever in this matter." "She is insane at this time. We call the court's attention to her condition. When we do she becomes to that extent a ward of the court." Judge Tipps then granted the state's motion and the defense took exception. He also divided prospective jurors into groups of five and ordered them to report to court at intervals during the next three days. The first group was directed to return to court at 1:30 p.m.

Cool Wave Headed For Area Expected To Cut Heat Spell

A cool wave headed for Midland Tuesday after the hottest day of the year here Monday. A high of 81 degrees went into CAA records at the Midland Air Terminal. Midland was one of at least 13 Texas cities reporting maximums of 80 or higher Monday in the January heat wave. The new front promised only bare freezing weather for the Panhandle with higher temperatures Wednesday. Winds of 25 miles an hour with gusts up to 35 were expected to keep temperatures down here Tuesday afternoon. It was cold in New England and the Northern Plains Tuesday but most of the rest of the country reported generally mild weather for the season, the Associated Press showed.

Steel Quota Okayed For McMillen Pipe

City Manager W. H. Oswalt said Tuesday he had been informed that the National Production Authority had issued a directive assuring Midland the steel needed for its proposed 30-inch water supply line from McMillen Field. Shipments are scheduled to begin March 15 on the 850 tons of steel. Oswalt said he had talked with representatives of the firm of Sira and McKenzie, Dallas, contractors for laying the line, and had been assured that March 15 deliveries would insure the completion of the line by the June 1 deadline. The NPA earlier had allocated the steel but the directive was needed to insure delivery in time to meet the deadline.

Autopsy Planned

Mrs. Evans' body, clad only in sweater and brassiere, was found sprawled grotesquely on a bed, an electric clock cord tightly coiled about her neck in which there were five stab wounds. Medical Examiner Harry Phillips said Mrs. Evans had been assaulted sexually. He said her blood was spattered on the walls of the bedroom, indicating she had attempted to fight off the attack.

Library Bond Issue Vetoed In 4-0 Action

A formal request for a $500,000 bond issue election to provide funds for the construction of a library addition to Midland County Courthouse was turned down flat Monday afternoon by Commissioners Court. By a 4-0 vote, the county commissioners rejected the citizens petition, containing 445 signatures, requesting that the election be called. County Judge Clifford C. Keith, who is permitted to vote only in case of a tie, opposed the action of the four commissioners. "As long as this is a democracy," he told the group before the vote was taken on a motion by Commissioner Earl Ray, "I think it ought to be up to the people to decide this question."

Texas' March Draft Quota Of 2,989 Men Tops Two-Year Mark

AUSTIN—(AP)—State Selective Service Headquarters Tuesday announced the biggest state draft call in two years—2,989 men for March. Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state director, said more than 6,800 men also would be examined in March to keep the state ready to fill future calls. Local quotas were to be figured and mailed to local boards about February 10. General Wakefield said local boards will be authorized to induct men in March down to the age of 19 years and nine months. They may examine men down to the age of 19 years and four months. Not many men below 20 were expected to be inducted in March, however. Wakefield said local boards will be advised to fill March calls to greatest extent possible with men 20 or older. "I'll express my own feelings," said Judge Keith, when the situation came up for discussion Monday afternoon, "and then we'll see how you feel." "As long as this many people are interested and as long as you're elected representatives of the people, I think the best thing you can do is go ahead and commit yourself to place it before the people. However, I think we should delay the election until we have talked to the architects and determine (Continued On Page 10)

Young Barrymores Deny Twin Rumors Of Honeymoon Rift

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—The John Barrymore juniors say they had mother-in-law trouble, but no marital spat, at the windup of their Palm Springs honeymoon last weekend.

Mrs. Barrymore, the 26-year-old actress Cara Williams, said they invited her mother, Mrs. Florence Williams of Los Angeles, to their Palm Springs hotel for the weekend.

Mrs. Williams said her daughter, announced that "I don't approve of this marriage" and "I don't like your husband." However, they took her to dinner and drove her to another hotel.

The second phase of the weekend which led to rumors of a honeymooners' squabble had to do with a cut on young Barrymore's arm. His bride said he was posing for some shots for a photographer friend, did a handstand but lost his balance and fell through a window, the arm cut required five stitches.

Barrymore, 20, son of the late "Great Profile," whose domestic difficulties made numerous headlines said, "We had no fight at all. I love Cara with all my heart."

The couple was married last December 23 at Las Vegas, Nev.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Every experienced bridge player has heard the rule "Lead up to weakness" but only a very fine player knows when to break the rule. In today's hand, Leo J. Seewald, president of the Minnesota Unit of the American Contract Bridge League, properly broke the rule in a practice session for the big Winter tournament, scheduled to be held in St. Paul February 6-8.

West opened the five of clubs, and Seewald, who sat East, won with the ace. When South dropped the king, East did a little careful planning.

Obviously there was going to be only one club trick for the defenders. Three additional tricks were needed to set four spades, and it was hard to see where those three tricks were going to come from.

If West had two defensive tricks, well and good. But there was a way to set the contract if West had only one defensive trick—provided he also held the queen of hearts. So Seewald returned the five of hearts' right up to dummy's strength!

Declarer played the seven of hearts, West put up the queen, and dummy won with the king. South's best chance was the trump finesse, but that lost to West's king.

This was West's only defensive trick, but he was now in position to lead a heart through the dummy. This made it possible for Seewald to win both the ace and the ten of hearts, setting the contract.

Seewald hadn't known, of course, whether his partner held a trump trick, the ace of diamonds, or both. He just knew that a heart lead at the second trick could not cost anything and might well be the only way to set the game contract.

CARD Sense

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

North East South West
1 Heart 2 Diamonds ?
You, South, hold: Spades 8-6-2, Hearts K-J-6, Diamonds 3-2, Clubs K-J-7-5-3. What do you do?

A—Bid two hearts. You have a count of eight points in normal high cards, one point extra for the king of your partner's bid suit, and one point for the doubleton. This is ample for a free raise to two hearts, but not enough for a bid of your own suit at the level of three. Hence you cannot afford to bid three clubs.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-3, Hearts 7-5, Diamonds 3-2, Clubs 10-6-3-2. What do you do?

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD
Anne Baxter and Producer Paul Gregory are huddling on a Fall road tour. She'll combine musical comedy warbling and hoofing with dramatic skits. Title of the show: "This Is The Life."

Suggested placard for every movie producer's office:
"An artist is a person who pleases himself. A showman is a person who pleases everybody."

I-told-you-so department: There's more than a good chance, as hinted here months ago, that there will be a theater TV hookup for this year's Oscar awards. The decision's now up to the major film studios.

Population of the United States increased more from immigrants than from births in the first ten years of this century.

Fox Must Tone Down Lyrics For Marilyn Monroe's Song

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Exclusively Yours: "Little Girl From Little Rock," hit song of Broadway's "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," passed the movie censors only after Fox agreed to supply new "milder" lyrics for Marilyn Monroe to warble in the film version.

The movie censors objected to the song because of the "philosophy" expressed in the lines.

Randy Stuart, the "Biff Baker, U. S. A." lovely on TV, has separated from her husband, Edwin George. They have a five-year-old daughter.

Joan Bennett and Walter Wanger had a quiet reunion in Canada without a stipulation just when the divorce papers will be filed. Within two months, it's believed.

That's The Limit
George Jessel is getting the "you look great" routine from pals after a Palm Springs vacation.

"But when they tell me this," says George, "I tell them about my uncle. He was found on Miami Beach brown as a berry. But he'd been dead three days."

New movie note: "The Stars Are Singing"—a musical to sing and cheer about. With Rosemary Clooney, Lauritz Melchior, 15-year-old Anna Maria Albenzatti (who fills the niche left vacant by Deanna Durbin), Bob Williams and Red Dust, a dog as funny as Bob Hope.

Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh will do "The King and I" on the London stage next winter. They'll warm up their singing voices with vocal coaching this summer.

Eyebrow-lifter: Zsa Zsa Gabor gets a special "ex-wife" rate at all of Conrad Hilton's hotels.

Pat Medina and Ariene Dahl battle it out for Fernando Lamas' affections in a new flicker, "Sanctuary," which just hit the cameras. Big question: Will Pat do the same off stage?

Tearing up star contracts by economy-minded Hollywood can be expensive. Paramount settled Jean Arthur's contract for $100,000. Paullette Goddard's for $75,000. But think of the money they save not starting them in new films.

"The Thing" Pales
Paramount's "War of the Worlds," intended as science-fiction celluloid, now will be bathed as "the outstanding horror film of all time." Producer George Pal's gruesome little men from another planet who invade the earth, I hear, will make "The Thing" look like a chorus boy.

Hollywood hepcats are claiming Theodore Roosevelt was the biggest hepcat in history—"He dug the Panama Canal, didn't he?"

Rankin Post Office Seeks Proposals For New Home

RANKIN—The Rankin Post Office is looking for a new home.

W. O. Adams, acting postmaster, announced this week that a larger building, with 1,750 square feet of floor space, is needed by the Rankin Post Office.

An increase of 39 per cent in postal receipts for 1952 sparked the Rankin search for bigger quarters. A post office with 1,800 square feet of floor area was being sought a year ago.

Adams listed specifications for the post office building, including evaporative Summer air conditioning, Winter gas heating, two rest rooms, and with or without utilities provided.

Post Office Inspector C. E. Curtis will accept proposals for the Rankin post office building up to and including next February 22.

Space for from 600 to 700 post office boxes will be needed to more than double the present capacity of 332 boxes.

Adams said that it may be necessary to construct a new building if a suitable structure cannot be found for lease. Bids are being accepted in addition to the lease proposals.

Mother Finds Uses For Baby's Lotion

Though a busy mother may not find time to get off her jars of beauty creams, she can always borrow the baby lotion from her infant's tray of toiletries. Thus, her hands, face and body skin never go uncared for. Before she takes baby out, she guards his face from chapping (above center). She can use the same lotion on her own face as protective powder base. After laundry or dishes, it's a hand lotion.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

With the advent of children, many young wives have no more time for beauty routines. If this state of affairs is distressing you, see what you can do with baby's skin conditioner—oil or lotion—during moments borrowed here and there throughout the day.

The only regular ritual you need is your nightly soaking in the tub to wash away fatigue before getting into bed. If you make the most of your bath time, and keep your own needs in mind as you care for baby, you'll no longer miss any elaborate routines you may once have gone through.

While the tub fills with comfortably warm water, set your pincurls, brush your teeth, and put on lots of rich face cream. If your complexion needs a pack to clear and stimulate it, instead of the cream you can spread on an oatmeal or egg-white mask and wash it off with tepid water after your bath.

Put some fragrant bath oil or water softening salts in the tub. Have a stiff brush for scrubbing nails and callouses and a softer one for back and limbs. When you get out, towel-dry thoroughly and push your cuticle back.

If your skin is rough and dry all over, use your baby's oil or lotion instead of bath powder before putting on your nightgown. It doesn't stain baby's little garments and won't stain your sheets, either.

When baby naps, she borrows his lotion for softening her cuticle (left). It makes a fine night cream for her complexion. After a warm relaxing bath, which mother lets nothing interfere with each day, she smooths her skin all over with baby's lotion. Baby's cotton balls can be put to beauty use, too. When dipped in boric acid solution, they make restful eye pads for mother to use when she naps.

You can easily dovetail your beautification with baby care if you remember to think of yourself as well as your child whenever you care for her with oil or lotion. For example, when you change her diapers, take a few more seconds with the lotion to care for your hands.

When you guard your baby's cheeks from chapping before taking her out in the cold, protect your own face as well. After you do her laundry and before going out in freezing weather to hang it up, again treat your hands with baby lotion.

Elbows, knees and backs of heels can be protected from grayness, roughness and painful callouses with liberal application of baby lotion.

When making up, give a glisten to your eyelids and keep eyebrow hairs in line with the lotion. It will come in handy again when you give yourself a scalp treatment. As a night cream and powder base, your baby's creamy white lotion or pure mineral oil will again do beauty duty.

If you are near baby while she naps, put your own feet up too. It's always a good idea for a mother to have a comfortable chair with footstool in baby's nursery. Get your feet up as often as you can.

Take some of baby's cotton balls—either those commercially packaged or those you make yourself from sterile cotton and keep in a sterile jar—and dip them in ice water, pour on some witch hazel or baby's boric acid solution, and rest with your eyes covered with these cooling pads.

Your baby's cotton swabs are good make-up tools — to get powder out of corners of eyes, remove mascara smudges, for manicures and pedicures and scalp treatments.

In striving to be the best of mothers, don't forget your own food needs. It's important for you, too, to eat breakfast and lunch. Many young mothers skimp on or entirely leave out one or both of these meals because they are so busy. This practice will take its toll of your health and beauty in a very short time. Your day must be planned to allow proper meals for yourself.

The same rule applies to sleep and recreation. You need these things now more than ever. Use all the help you can get—husband, relatives and your other children—so that your sleep is not ruined. For the radiance that comes from a change of pace, keep the one night a week or so of recreation in your schedule as regularly as before the baby came.

With good health habits, your nightly beauty bath, and an astute use of baby's toiletries, you can continue to be queen of your household.

The MATURE PARENT

Youngsters Can Keep Secrets If You Show Them How

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One Friday morning, Skip's father was given some news by his executive. His boss said, "Bill, this firm's just about decided to appoint you Western manager. Better alert the family and start plans."

That evening, after Skip's father had calmed his son's excitement, he said, "Sure, you'll be Indians. But that's not the point now. Daddy's job is not sure yet. So don't talk around, Skip. Keep it under your hat. Now this is just private family stuff, see?"

Skip promised. The next morning his father registered his house on his real estate agent's sale list.

Two days later, the mother of Skip's best friend telephoned. She said to his mother, "My dear, Skip's told us your wonderful news! When are you leaving? Will you sell the house? Does it mean a lot more money for Bill? Are you driving or..."

When Skip's mother hung up, she walked out to the yard where her son was inflating a bicycle tire. "Shame on you," she said. "To have told daddy's secret to the Egans! When you were specially told not to talk, too! How do you think daddy will feel to have a boy he can't trust? I just don't know how I'm going to tell him..."

Skip wished he was dead. He looked up from his bicycle with a stricken face. "She asked me," he said. "Mrs. Egan asked me, mother. She ASKED me..."

But his mother was too angry to listen. "It is an awful thing," she pronounced, "when parents can't trust children not to gossip."

It also is an awful thing not to wise them up about what to do when they meet aggressive curiosity.

Children's tendencies to broadcast private family business is a common problem and one in which we often take outraged and virtuous positions. Nine times out of 10, we have no right whatever to sound off. Because nine times out of 10, the children have been given instruction in their right to resist the prying of aggressive curiosity.

When this curiosity comes from grownups, children find themselves in a tough psychological spot. For Skip has been told repeatedly to be "polite" and "obedient" to adults. Given no authority to discriminate between curiosity and real interest, he has no alternative but to obediently answer Mrs. Egan's point-blank questions.

So someone should say to Skip, "Curiosity is a form of attack upon our right to privacy. No matter who asks you questions about matters that do not concern them, you may first ignore the question. If they persist, you can try to change the subject. If they still persist, you can say politely, 'I do not want to talk about that.' That is the right thing to do."

Children will be most grateful for this assurance. They often are miserable and scared because we have forgotten to give them moral grounds for resisting aggressive curiosity.

Skip's mother might have figured her husband's news would get around. A real estate agent has a wide circle of acquaintances.

Jurors Convict Remington On Two Counts Of Perjury

NEW YORK —(AP)—William W. Remington, 35, former government economist, was convicted Tuesday of perjury in denying he ever gave secret government data to Elizabeth Bentley for relay to Russia.

He also was convicted on a second perjury count for falsely denying knowledge of the existence of a unit of the Young Communist League at Dartmouth College when he was a student there in the 1930's.

Remington was shaky on his feet after the verdict. Before it was announced, he sat pale and nervous at the defense counsel table, fidgeting and aimlessly picking at the leaves of a pocket dictionary.

He could be sentenced up to 10 years in prison and $4,000 in fines on the two counts. This would be twice the penalty he drew on a previous conviction—which he got reversed on appeal.

One Charge Falls

The jury acquitted the handsome onetime $10,000-a-year Department of Commerce employe on one count of a five-count indictment. This charged him with falsely denying he ever recruited any one into the Communist party.

On two other counts the jury of 11 men and one woman reported it was unable to agree. These involved

Remington to trial again on the two deadlocked counts if it wishes, Judge Vincent L. Liebke said. If convicted on these two counts, Remington could be sentenced to a possible maximum of another 10 years and $4,000 in fines.

Defense Counsel John McKim Minton, Jr., told reporters he would seek to have the verdict set aside on the ground it was contrary to the law and the evidence.

No date for sentencing Remington was set Tuesday after the jury handed up its verdict following 10 hours and 50 minutes of deliberation. Remington was continued free in $7,000 bail pending a hearing Thursday on defense motions. The trial ran through eight court days.

Future Action

The government can bring Remington to trial again on the two deadlocked counts if it wishes, Judge Vincent L. Liebke said. If convicted on these two counts, Remington could be sentenced to a possible maximum of another 10 years and $4,000 in fines.

Defense Counsel John McKim Minton, Jr., told reporters he would seek to have the verdict set aside on the ground it was contrary to the law and the evidence.

The government has some 40 more witnesses to call.

Pvt. Raymond Lesley Burton, Des Moines, Ia., and Pfc. Marvin Lee Austin, Marmaduke, Ark., are charged in the slaying.

The government charges the two shot Gonzales in a holdup, then burned him in his cab. They have pleaded innocent.

Both Sides Of Martin County Water Tiff Set To Pow-Wow

STANTON—(P)—Both sides in a West Texas water fias say they are ready to sit down and talk things over, rather than air their controversy further in court.

AMMUNITION FOR FLU WAR—Workers at Eli Lilly and Company's biological production division in Indianapolis, above, supervise final steps in the production of influenza vaccine. To meet the demand for vaccine caused by the nationwide influenza epidemic, more of the vaccine has been packaged and shipped in ten days than is usually processed in a year.

The Martin County Water District was organized more than a year ago to regulate production of underground water after the Colorado River district bought water rights in Martin County. The three cities need supplementary water supplies to tide them over until a reservoir is completed on the Colorado River in Scurry County.

First, the Colorado River district got a court injunction preventing the Martin County district from enforcing its production regulations. Last week the state Supreme Court dissolved the injunction.

Oil Pioneer Ellis Dies

SAN ANGELO—James Willard (Jim) Ellis, 84, retired oil man and longtime resident of San Angelo, died shortly after 8 p.m. Monday in St. John's Hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in Robert Massie Chapel. Dr. B. O. Wood, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in this city, will officiate. Interment will be in Fairmount Cemetery here.

Ellis was born Jan. 11, 1869, in Indianapolis, Ind. He started his career with the oil industry in Montana, moving to San Angelo in 1929. He drilled several dry holes in West Texas, but in May, 1937, his No. 1 Roobins came in at McCamey. A number of other San Angelonians were interested with him in that project.

By January, 1946, Ellis had 23 oil wells on 320 acres which had produced more than 1,350,000 barrels of crude oil.

He married Ruth McNamera of Alida, Ill. in Chicago on April 15, 1918. They had one son, John. Besides the widow and son, Ellis is survived by a brother, Ross, of Tampa, Fla., and four grandchildren.

Cats, Saints, Moths, Fools Draw Veteran Jurist's Fire

PENZANCE, CORNWALL, ENGLAND—(P)—Judge J. Scofield Armstrong, 75-year-old divorcee court veteran, warned men Monday night against four kinds of women:

1. Cats. "Let him see whether her eyes are warm, bright and kind, or whether they are cat-like. If they are cat-like, let him sheer off!"
2. Sainly women. "Saints are wonderful, but rather difficult for sinners to live with."
3. The fun-mad type. "The wife who is always wanting you to go to dances, however tired you are, can be very trying."
4. Stupid women. "Marriage with a fool, however sweet and lovely she may be, is a drab affair for the cleverer partner—and she will give him stupid children."

Judge Armstrong delivered this distillation of his long experience to members of the Church of England Men's Society here. His qualifications? "I have put asunder between 1,000 and 1,500 couples."

Provoo Takes Stand To Deny U. S. Charge Of Wartime Treason

NEW YORK—(P)—Former Army Sgt. John David Provoo, on trial for his life on treason charges, denies playing a role in the execution by the Japanese of an American Army captain.

Provoo was on the witness stand all day Monday in federal court. The 35-year-old California native is charged with going over to the Japanese after he was captured by them on Corregidor in 1942. The indictment alleges he was responsible for the Japanese killing a fellow prisoner, Capt. Burton C. Thompson, Svea City, Iowa.

Provoo's testimony contrasted sharply with government testimony that he had offered his services as an interpreter for the Japanese and that he had reported Thompson to the Japanese for execution.

Under questioning by defense attorneys, Provoo swore he was loyal to the United States even, he said, when the Japanese threatened to execute him as a pre-war American spy. Provoo had studied in Japan before the war.

Government witnesses have testified Provoo told the Japanese Thompson was uncooperative and hostile after the captain refused to turn over Army medical supplies to Provoo. Thompson was shot dead by his captors.

Rhodes Services Held In Midland

A native of Hamilton County, Rhodes died Sunday in a Brady hospital. He moved to Midland from Taylor County.

Survivors include the widow, a son, four daughters, 28 grandchildren, 51 great grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

A daughter, Mrs. Mecca Merriman, died in 1937.

The vestry members were elected at a parish membership meeting last week.

MATTER OF NEIGHBORHOOD PRIDE—Slums Become Bright Spot Through Work Of Residents

By WILLIAM HARWOOD
BALTIMORE—(P)—A recipe for slum clearance: "Regulatory controls and public improvements must be transformed from book-shelf surveys and legal archives into alley action."

"That's the core of the 'Baltimore Plan' for eradicating slums and preventing their spread. A brainchild of G. Yates Cook, director of the Baltimore health department's housing bureau, the Baltimore Plan has been pointed out as a model of community action. Its most recent praise came Monday from the National Municipal League, which named Baltimore one of 11 'All-American Cities' for self-improvement work through 'citizen action.'"

WHO'S SUPERSTITIOUS?—After nearly eight years of coping with the nation's toughest problems, a little thing like walking under a ladder apparently fails to bother ex-President Truman. He defied the ancient ladder jinx while en route to his new office in The Federal Reserve Bank Building at Kansas City, Mo.

The Baltimore Plan is not a cure-all. Aggressive Action Cook, who fathered the program, sees it as an "aggressive action reverse the forces of neglect that deteriorate and destroy property and people."

The plan calls for a house-by-house, block-by-block, neighborhood-by-neighborhood reconstruction, spurred where necessary by stiff law enforcement, but based primarily on the will of the individual property owner or tenant to improve his lot.

It is only one prong on a three-prong rake Baltimore is applying to the blighted areas that comprise a sizable part of this city of almost a million.

Public housing and redevelopment programs are the other two. Began In 1945 When Cook joined the health department 12 years ago, he was the lone inspector in search of substandard housing. Today, his bureau has 40 full-time inspectors, an educational director, assistant directors for public information, housing law enforcement and others.

Cook began his block-by-block program in 1940. Today, some 135 complete blocks, made up to 16,000 dwelling units, have been rehabilitated.

Dark, rat-infested back yards and alleys were turned into sunny garden and play areas. Houses once deteriorating for lack of care were cleaned and made structurally sound. New wiring and plumbing was installed.

Schools Cooperate Schools in the neighborhood cooperated by teaching children the rudiments of hygiene, sanitation and nutrition.

Instead of learning how to make book ends and magazine racks, boys in shop classes turned their saw and hammer techniques to building walls and doors.

Outdoor toilets were replaced with indoor plumbing. Flower gardens, tables and chairs sprang up in place of back yards crowded with junk and hemmed in with broken board fences.

The budget for the Baltimore Plan has increased from less than $5,000 in 1941 to more than $180,000 this year.

Cook contends the city can without slums in 10 years.

Director Opposes Longer Draft Term

WASHINGTON—(P)—The head of Selective Service reiterated Tuesday he still is worried about manpower—but not enough to recommend keeping draftees in uniform longer than the present 24 months.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey said in an interview he is not recommending any change in draft legislation and thinks the first thing to be done is "intensive work by the executive department to get more manpower available."

General Hershey said specifically he is not recommending any extension of service beyond 24 months. From Congress, too, came a damper on recent talk that such an extension might be under consideration.

Chairman Saltounstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee wrote to the editor of the Washington Evening Star that he wanted to be dissociated from any such plans.

General Hershey said the manpower committee of the Office of Defense Mobilization has been going over possibility of getting more military manpower from among deferred fathers, college students and youths who have just completed college.

He said one million fathers are now deferred on dependency grounds.

"The first approach to getting more manpower from this group, in my opinion, is to get the guy who was deferred for an education and then became a father," Hershey said.

College deferment standards perhaps should be changed, Hershey said, to require higher qualifying scores on the Selective Service college qualification test or higher class standing. Now a qualifying score on the test is 70. Hershey mentioned the possibility of raising that to 75.

Embezzler Uses Bank's Own Funds To Purchase Bank

PITTSBURGH—(P)—Ludwig R. Schlekot, the quiet, graying 41-year-old former bank president who embezzled $600,000 in bank funds to finance his rise from cashier to president, goes to Federal Court Friday to learn his fate.

The former president of the Parnassus National Bank at nearby New Kensington Monday pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement but told Judge Wallace F. Gourley, "I never used any of the money for myself."

Schlekot, dignified in appearance, spoke quietly when he told the judge how he began in 1936 to dip into the bank's funds to cover up bad loans and then increased the amount until he had accumulated $225,000, enough to buy a controlling interest in the bank.

He faces a maximum sentence of 45 years and a fine of $45,000.

Death Of Ex-Nazi Officer Is Mystery To Mexican Police

TAMPICO, MEXICO—(P)—Police said Tuesday they still had not solved the mysterious death of Oswald Frank, former German Panzer division officer whose almost decomposed body was found covered with brush near the sugar mill where he worked.

Frank's body was found Monday. He had been missing six days.

His employer said the 42-year-old World War II veteran was a strict disciplinarian and had made many enemies among employes. Police theorized one of these might have done him in.

Frank came to Mexico several years ago to work as an engineer.

Solon Writes Bill To Weaken Powerful Teacher Association

AUSTIN—(P)—Public school officials couldn't make membership in the Texas State Teachers Association a requirement to getting a job if Rep. Doug Crouch, Denton, has his way.

He introduced a bill in the House Tuesday to prohibit any question or statement regarding membership in the TSTA being placed in a job-application form. The measure also forbids any coercion, direct or indirect, to make a teacher join the association.

The TSTA is a private organization of Texas school teachers. It now claims approximately $2,000 members—almost all the public school teachers in the state. Dues are $7 a year.

Crouch told a reporter he was introducing the bill because "I just don't like their (the TSTA's) tactics."

"A number of teachers in Denton—and others who come there to our state colleges—have told me they felt the association was shoving them around," said Crouch.

Magazine Contents They felt they were forced to join the association against their will. They felt they were forced to take the magazine, which in their opinion contains a great deal of matter but very little valuable material of any substance and is nothing more or less than a spineless publication.

"They felt, as a matter of fact, that it's practically impossible to stay in the teaching profession without joining the association. Many schools seem to have a false pride in feeling they must have 100 per cent membership in the TSTA."

Crouch said he had not discussed the teachers' complaints with his fellow townsman, R. L. (Bob) Professor, TSTA president and a professor at North Texas State College. Professor is a former state senator.

The plane took off at 8:36 a.m., carrying a pilot and a navigator.

The present London-to-Darwin record was set in August, 1946, by a Royal Air Force Lancaster, which made the trip in 45 hours, 35 minutes.

Ike's 'State Of Union' Talk May Skip Domestic Program

Hill command was said to have been admonished by Eisenhower not to talk about their conferences with him Monday lest the meetings end abruptly, some reports on his intentions leaked out.

They indicated the President would emphasize foreign affairs—especially coordination of U. S. efforts in various areas. There few reports on what, if anything, the President planned to say on domestic matters.

Lawmakers said they expect him to delay until after additional conferences with Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge any specific recommendations for cutting former President Truman's $78,600,000,000 budget.

Tests On Many Children May Prove Polio Vaccine's Value

NEW YORK (AP)— Scientists now have a vaccine which they have good reason to believe will protect humans against polio, ending the dread scourge of a crippling and killing virus.

The proof of the pudding will come through tests on many children, probably to be run this year.

This is the main substance of a report Monday night by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This vaccine is one payoff of 18 million dollars devoted to research by the March of Dimes funds since 1928. It looks like the best practical answer yet to the challenge of polio.

It has stimulated a few humans, and many monkeys and chimpanzees, to make their own antibodies of disease-fighters against all three types of polio virus. The monkeys, in fact, went scot-free, even when given lethal doses of polio virus after the vaccination.

The acid test for this vaccine still lies ahead—the tests on thousands of children. Even if it works, the vaccine will not be generally available this year, not until some questions are answered about how good and how long its protective effect lasts.

Safety Assured

But it is certain that this vaccine is safe, that it can't cause polio in children or adults who get the shots. For it is made out of viruses killed by chemical treatment, with formalin or formaldehyde, so that the viruses cannot damage human nerves.

And it is certain that the vaccine could protect against all three types of viruses that can cause human polio. It took three solid years of work, costing $1,370,000, to learn that there are only three such viruses—named the Brunhilde, Lansing and Leon strains—which are dangerous. This vaccine contains all three types.

Medical research also has learned how to make these viruses in practically unlimited quantities, Dr. Weaver reported.

It's done by growing viruses in glass test tubes on bits of animal or human tissues. The tissues can be of several kinds, not including nerve tissues. For it's feared that virus grown on nerve tissue might contain contaminants which could damage the brains of persons getting vaccines made with that kind of virus. This vaccine has no such danger.

Tremendous Progress

Viruses in this vaccine, although killed by chemicals, still keep the power to make a human produce antibodies against polio viruses.

And, said Dr. Weaver, the antibody-producing ability of this vaccine apparently can be stepped up by combining it with certain mineral oils.

"I would like to be able to announce this evening that field tests with such a vaccine will be undertaken during 1953," Dr. Weaver said.

"This I cannot do with assurance, but I can say that tremendous progress has been made during the last several months—in fact, the kind of progress that one is accustomed to see prior to the taking of an important step forward."

Dr. Weaver described these research advances at a special dinner meeting of foundation trustees.

It means that enough work on a safe, practical vaccine has been done in the laboratory, and the next step is human trials.

Worker Confesses Attempt To Derail Crack Tourist Train

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Police said a mentally deranged railway employe told them he tried to derail Mexico's crack tourist train from Nuevo Laredo "just for fun."

Police said the man probably was responsible for the April, 1951, derailment of a train in the same area. No one was killed.

The latest attempt was made Friday night about 20 miles north of Mexico City. A watchman caught the employe placing steel rails over the track a few minutes before the Aztec Eagle was due.

The 1953 export figure may be cut, officials said, if its found Mexico's own domestic meat requirements are not being met.

Competition begins with the search for oil.

Competition

gives you the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices

The U. S. oil business is one of the most highly competitive industries in this country and, for that matter, in the world. Every time you buy a gallon of gasoline or a quart of motor oil, there are at least 100 companies that would like you to buy from them.

Your purchase stimulates competition far beyond the service station driveway where you make it. It stirs scientists to find more oil for your use. It urges production men to produce oil more efficiently and economically and with less waste. It extends through low-cost transportation pipe lines to refineries that seek better ways to make more and better petroleum products to compete for your business.

Is this competition a good thing?

It certainly is. It's a good thing for you because you get the best petroleum products in the world at the lowest prices. It's a good thing for the country because it stimulates the continuous development and conservation of a vital natural resource. And it's a good thing for the oil business: competition keeps the industry strong, vigorous, progressive.

Pipe line companies seek to improve their service and to reduce the transportation cost of oil and finished products. Their success is a major factor in keeping prices of petroleum products low.

Competitive refineries never let a day pass without trying to find a better way to make more and better petroleum products for your use.

Your service station dealer competes in product quality and service with all the other dealers in your neighborhood.

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A Peaceful Mind Generates Power

Chapter 2
A physician once told me "Many of my patients have nothing wrong with them except their thoughts. So I have a favorite prescription that I write for some. But it is not a prescription that you can fill at a drugstore. The prescription I write is a verse from the Bible, 'Romans 12:2.' I do not write out that verse for my patients. I make them look it up and it reads: '...be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind...' To be happier and healthier they need a renewing of their minds, that is, a change in the pattern of their thoughts. When they 'take' this prescription, they actually achieve a mind full of peace. That helps to produce health and well-being."

A primary method for gaining a mind full of peace is to practice emptying the mind. I recommend a mind-emptying at least twice a day, more often if necessary. Definitely practice emptying your mind of fears, hates, insecurities, regrets, and guilt feelings. The mere fact that you consciously make this effort to empty your mind tends to give relief. Haven't you experienced a sense of release when you have been able to pour out to somebody whom you can trust worrisome matters that lay heavy upon your heart?

I conducted a religious service on board the S. S. Lurline on a recent voyage to Honolulu. In the course of my talk I suggested that people who were carrying worries in their minds might go to the stern of the vessel and imaginatively take each anxious thought out of their mind, drop it overboard, and watch it disappear in the wake of the ship. It seems an almost childlike suggestion, but a man came to me later that day and said, "I did as you suggested and am amazed at the relief it has given me. During this voyage, every evening at sunset I am going to drop all my worries overboard until I develop the psychology of casting them entirely out of my consciousness. Every day I shall watch them disappear in the great ocean of time. Doesn't the Bible say something about 'forgetting those things that are behind'?"

The man to whom this suggestion appealed is not an impractical sentimentalist. On the contrary, he is a person of extraordinary mental stature, an outstanding leader in his field.

Of course, emptying the mind is not enough. When the mind is emptied, something is bound to enter. The mind cannot long remain a vacuum. You cannot go around permanently with an empty mind. I admit that some people seem to accomplish that feat, but by and large it is necessary to refill the emptied mind or the old, unhappy thoughts which you have cast out will come sneaking in again.

To prevent that happening, immediately start filling your mind with creative and healthy thoughts. Then when the old fears, hates, and worries that have haunted you for so long try to edge back in, they will in effect find a sign on the door of your mind reading "occupied." They may struggle for admission, for having lived in your mind for a long time, they feel at home there. But the new and healthy thoughts which you have taken in will now be stronger and better fortified, and therefore able to repulse them. Presently the old thoughts will give up altogether and leave you alone.

At intervals during the day practice thinking a carefully selected series of peaceful thoughts. Let mental pictures of the most peaceful scenes you have ever witnessed pass across your mind, as for example, some beautiful valley filled with the hush of evening time, as the shadows lengthen and sun sinks to rest. Or recall the silvery light of the moon falling upon rippling waters, or remember the sea washing gently upon soft shores of sand. Such peaceful thought images will work upon your mind as a healing medicine.

Practice the technique of suggestive articulation, that is, repeat audibly some peaceful words. Words have profound suggestive power, and there is healing in the very saying of them. Utter a series of panicky words and your mind immediately will go into a mild state of nervousness.

If, on the contrary, you speak peaceful, quieting words, your mind will react in a peaceful manner. Use such a word as "tranquility." Repeat that word slowly several times. Tranquility is one of the most beautiful and melodic of all English words, and the mere saying of it tends to induce a tranquil state.

Another healing word is "serenity." Picturize serenity as you say it. Repeat it slowly and in the mood of which the word is a symbol. Words such as these have a healing potency when used in this manner.

Remarkable Peace of Mind
It is also helpful to use lines from poetry or passages from the Scriptures. A man of my acquaintance who achieved a remarkable peace of mind has the habit of writing on cards unusual quotations expressing peacefulness. He carries one of the cards in his wallet at all times, referring to it frequently until each quotation is committed to memory. He says that each such idea dropped into the subconscious "lubricates" his mind with peace. A peaceful concept is indeed oil on troubled thoughts. One of the quotations which he used is from a sixteenth-century mystic, "Let nothing disturb you. Let nothing frighten you. Everything passes away except God. God alone is sufficient."

The words of the Bible have a particularly strong therapeutic value. Drop them into your mind, allowing them to "dissolve" in consciousness, and they will spread a healing balm over your entire mental structure. This is one of the simplest processes to perform and also one of the most effective in attaining peace of mind.

Halsell Protests 'Nazi' Arrest By American MP's In Germany

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

WIESBADEN, GERMANY — In this former Nazi police state, some police state tactics still are practiced as I awoke to learn in an eerie, pre-dawn, terrifying moment. Stern-faced and adamant, uniformed police were sent to "arrest" me. After threatening me, one forced me to dress before him.

They were not Soviets nor Nazis, but Americans.

It was incredulous, ridiculous, inexcusable.

Later, I had a couple of generals tell me what happened was without reason or warrant. Still, an apology does not erase the facts.

They are real. I report them in the hopes that they may make Americans more vigilant of a commodity I do not too easily can lose, I fear, and I speak of our rights.

Back home in America, you might think it sounds alarmist, but that "it-can't-happen-here" attitude gets shaken a little bit when you are so far from home traveling through country after country where it is not only can but does happen.

Now, American taxpayers have been supporting a big U. S. occupation force in Germany to teach them the ways of democracy.

From observing some of the uniformed bully boys over here, I believe they have learned more of the Nazi ways than the Germans have learned of the democratic ways.

And as prime example, I refer to my "arrest."

It still was black as night on the Wintny morning when the quiet of the Bellevue Hotel was broken by loud, authoritative knocks on my door.

I was half-dressed when I got to the door.

Outside were two grim-looking MP's, or Air Policemen since they serve in the Air Force.

Without any introduction or preliminaries, they demanded: "You are to come with us."

Where?
"To headquarters."

"Why?"
"For questioning. You can find out when you get there."

It was unbelievable, like a rehearsal for a play. I tried to think what it might be all about—if it might be April's Pool, or if I knew who might play such a joke.

I knew such things happened to Europeans. They could not question, could not demand. But I, an American, I could and would.

Oh, but they are not serious, I tell myself.

I laugh, smile. "Let's just relax, and you tell me what it's all about," I suggest.

They Are Serious
"Are you coming with us?" they demand. "Or do we have to use force?" Then one moves in with his feet against the door. They are serious, dead-serious. I saw hundreds of Soviet-uniformed men in East Germany, none with more serious faces than these two Americans.

I know now they mean business. That I am alone, almost helpless. But I will not be bullied, I tell myself.

"Will you let me get dressed?" I ask.
"Sure," says one, opening the door still wider.

"You mean you won't leave?" I asked, incredulously.
"No," he answered.

By now I was unnerved. I had no telephone. I could not call for help. Alone, with two bullies, who would not listen to reason, who would give none other than "We have our orders!"

Through blinding rage and tears, I struggled to find underwear, shoes, a suit. It was an indignity I had not yet suffered, and one which I can not find it in my heart to forgive.

Did they think I would jump out a three-story window?
Only Russian women do that, don't they?

"Will you telephone your commanding officer?" I asked, "and tell him I won't stand for such treatment?"

In the hotel lobby the MP called his CO, a Major Campbell, who told him to inform me I was not to ask questions, but to come along.

Quickly, I picked up another telephone, and dialed Air Force headquarters. I was lucky enough to get a general, Brig. Gen. C. K. Rich, on the telephone.

"General, if you don't want a reporter taken to police headquarters under arrest, you had better talk to this MP."

The general did. He told the airman to bring me immediately to his office.

Quietly, he examined my papers. "On what authority did you go to the hotel for her?" he asked the policemen.

They produced some sort of release signed by USAF public information officer Franklin Hibel that my newspaper accreditation was not in order.

The general told his secretary: "Get this guy Hibel on the phone."

In any case, I want to run to every American and tell him it is possible for such incidents to happen. I did not think so, but now I know.

Surely no American in the right should have his sacred rights—his home, his decency, his right to be left alone, violated. He has the right to present his case, to be assumed innocent until proved guilty.

And best of all the pen and typewriter are mightier still than swords or bullets.

ELBOW GREASE GETS JOB DONE

LITTLE ROCK, ARK.—(P)—A towering piledriver aboard a barge is on its way up the Arkansas River after being stymied here three days by a low railway bridge.

Rock Island Railway officials hand-cranked the rotating bridge mechanism Monday to allow the barge and its 63-foot, eight-inch piledriver to continue upstream toward Menifee, Ark., about 40 miles north of here.

All previous efforts to rotate the 55-year-old bridge—including electricity, tugs, grease and manual labor—had failed. The bridge is less than 50 feet from the water.

The railroad said the bridge hadn't been turned since 1938 and its power mechanism had rusted.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Mid-Winter railbirds who cluck-club about the fall of Pecos, which recently tossed its franchise back to the Longhorn League, and about the fact that Lamesa "doesn't want a Gonzales-owned ball club" should get a jolt—baseball-less Lamesa is bidding hard to get the team, come-along-Gonzales-if-you-will.

Lamesa, in fact, sent out a delegation Monday night to Del Rio to get acquainted with the 1952 owner of Sweetwater, the man who moved to Pecos and will move again.

He's sticking to the league—no matter that he has a bent for disturbing fans by shifting players from team to team in his vast baseball holdings. Lamesa, however, indicates it will take the chance.

The sports committee, headed by J. D. Dyer and Skeet Noret, wasn't expected to reach any big conclusions in its visit with the Del Rio radio man. But the step was intended to steal the march on Hobbs, N. M., which also is wooing Gonzales with its baseball promises.

More than likely, with strong approval from Midland, Odessa, Big Spring and San Angelo clubs chiefly, the deal of switching Gonzales' Pecos team to Lamesa will come off before Sunday's meeting of league officials in Abilene.

President Hal Sawyer had predicted that at the gathering the Pecos franchise would be taken up and perhaps disposed of.

Ordinarily on Tuesday the leading scorers of District 1-AAAA are printed on these pages but, with only one game per team played last week, the statistics are being held up, with this mention:

For a second straight week, Jimmy Bond of Pampa and Garry Thomas of Lubbock are tied for first each with 158 points in seven games. Melvin Wright of Amarillo brought about the only major change among the leaders after his 31-point night against Lubbock. That moved him into third place, on 138 points, followed by Gerry Turner of Abilene with 126. No Midland player ranks in the top 10.

A good many Midlanders (especially the Phillips 66ers) were awed by the standout playing of Paul Nolen of Texas Tech in the Raiders' recent victory here. There's more to it than met the eye, but let Bill Holmes of the Tech athletic department tell it in his feature on the six-ten center:

Texas Tech fans are hoping Nolen will continue his gaudy scoring record as the Red Raiders resume Border Conference action against West Texas State in Canyon Saturday night.

In his last eight conference games (counting the final five of 1951-52), Tech's candidate for All-America honors has averaged 25.6 points per contest.

Nolen in conference play has hit 31 against Arizona State at Flagstaff, 26 against Arizona State at Tempe, and 26 against Hardin-Simmons University. He concluded last season in this fashion: 28 against Hardin-Simmons, 24 against University of Arizona, 23 against Arizona Tempe, 24 against Hardin-Simmons, and 23 against West Texas State.

That adds up to 205 points in eight contests.

Nolen has been faring well in non-conference play this season, too. For the complete season his average is "only" 17.3. But since Christmas, he has been averaging 23.5 in six contests.

The only time Nolen has dropped below 20 points in a game since Christmas was against the Phillips 66 Oilers of Midland last week. Tall Paul scored only 15 points, but he wasn't having an off night. Actually, the Raiders' center tried only 13 field goals and sank seven for a 54 per cent shooting figure.

Mainly, though, he was used to set off a fast break. Most of his 21 rebounds came after Oiler attempts and set up a lot of Raider points in their 82-44 victory.

Nolen has been in the select circle of 1,000 point scorers more than a month now. Twelve points against the University of Miami exactly turned the trick for Nolen, who scored 578 points in 28 games as a sophomore and 378 in 24 as a junior.

The Midland game gave Tech a 7-6 mark for the season. In conference play, Polk Robinson's Raiders have beaten Arizona Flagstaff, 93-75, and Arizona Tempe, 74-66, and lost to Hardin-Simmons, 69-63.

EARNED THEM LAST OCTOBER

HOUSTON —(P)—Notre Dame football Coach Frank Leahy will get a set of horns from a Texas longhorn to decorate the den in his home.

Houston oilman George Strake, member of the lay board of trustees of Notre Dame, turned Leahy's request over to Jack Calvin, state circulation manager of the Houston Post.

Calvin found a five-foot, two-inch set and is having them crated for shipment to South Bend, Ind.

Pollsters Put Seton Cagers At Top Again

NEW YORK —(P)—Seton Hall, rolling along as the nation's only undefeated major college basketball team, was voted No. 1 team in the nation Tuesday for the second straight week.

The powerful Pirates, who made Memphis State victim No. 19 during the week, were voted tops by 44 of the 85 sports writers and broadcasters in the poll.

They piled up 679 votes on the usual basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, etc., for a comfortable margin over second-place Indiana. The Hoosiers, runner-up for the second straight week, received 12 first-place votes and 595 points, while Washington held third place with a dozen firsts and 545 points.

The top 10 first-place votes in parentheses:

1. Seton Hall (44) 679
2. Indiana (12) 595
3. Washington (12) 545
4. La Salle (4) 485
5. Kansas State (1) 439
6. Illinois 335
7. Fordham 183
8. Oklahoma A&M (1) 171
9. Western Kentucky (3) 129
10. De Paul 104

THE SECOND 10

11. Louisiana State (1) 95
12. North Carolina State 85
13. Seattle (2) 73
14. Kansas 63
15. Eastern Kentucky (1) 64
16. Navy 54
17. Notre Dame 53
18. North Carolina (1) 49
19. Manhattan 48
20. Tulsa 43

W. C. McElhannon set a Tulane record last season when he caught 33 forward passes for 484 yards. However, he scored only one touchdown.

MIDLAND MITTMAN — Although John Pointer, featherweight, returned this week to his parents' home in Breckenridge, the experienced battler will join the Midland Golden Gloves team this weekend as his fourth open class boxer in the Odessa Regionals. He won a TKO victory over Odessa's Earl Johnson in his only outing this year.

Lamesa's Tornadoes Invade City Tuesday

The Midland Bulldogs Tuesday night take a brief holiday from cage action against the seven District 1-AAAA giants with a non-district encounter here with kingpin Lamesa of District 1-AAA.

The Bulldogs cast an eye toward stopping a nine-game losing streak and gaining their third win of the season.

It's a big order, for in the 8 p.m. Tuesday encounter with Lamesa, Midland again will be underdogs. The two clubs met earlier and the Bulldogs bowed, 50-46, after leading until the final moments of the game.

Jones, Mims Due To Captain Bulldog Gridders Of 1953

Midland High School football players Monday night named center Melton Jones and end Bill Mims to captain the 1953 Bulldogs.

Bill Leonard, the best tackler on kick-offs.

And Mims, for the best rushing of passers.

The co-captains were announced at the annual football banquet after holding a ballot among team members.

Coach Jones also presented letter sweaters to 36 of the team, while the team itself presented its sweetheart, Glenda McNeal, with a bouquet of roses.

More than 300 attended the fete held in the high school cafeteria and heard the principal speaker, Coach Mike Brumelow of Texas Western College, tell the group that "we all could learn a lot by being a member of a football team."

Brumelow, who was introduced by Master of Ceremonies Delbert Downing as the man whose scout report on Notre Dame to SMU in 1949 said, "The best way to play Notre Dame is cancel the game," emphasized his own love of football in his speech.

Brumelow pointed out that a number of the 1952 Bulldogs were just beginning to get into athletics here when he was a Midland businessman several years back.

The coaches in turn were given sterling silver watch chains by their final season in 1952.

Special Awards

He pointed out that the boys always would be associated with football now. "In your own lives, don't ever do anything to throw reflection upon the game."

Among those were a great number who received special awards for outstanding play during the 1952 season. Coach Tugboat Jones presented trophies to these for outstanding specialty play during the campaign:

All-District Jesse Hatfield, the only player to cop two awards, a trophy each for making most tackles from the line of scrimmage and for the most interceptions.

Larry Friday, the best downfield blocker for a back.

Bob Keating, the best tackler on punts.

Bobby Cast, the best downfield blocker for a lineman.

Of the 32 players at eight schools involved in the college basketball scandal, Spivey was the only one to stand trial. The others either pleaded guilty or turned state's evidence, but Spivey steadfastly denied ever discussing a "fix" before a game or taking a bribe.

It was learned that the panel had deadlocked at nine to three for acquittal.

Afterwards, Lamesa added wind to its already-potent Golden Tornado machine and routed Lubbock (which beat Midland in District 1-AAAA) and Sweetwater (which tripped Midland twice before Christmas).

B-Teams Tangle First

The two varsity clubs Tuesday will take the floor after a 6:30 p.m. encounter between Coach Patton's reserves and the Lamesa B's.

Assistant Coach Jimmy Williams of Midland announced on the eve of the game that one Bulldog player may see little action against Lamesa: he's Joe Bowman, who has been ill recently. Williams, however, said he thought the steady, red-topped reserve would be suited out for possible play.

Meantime, Coach Red Rutledge has toned the Bulldogs down from their early season rough play (whereas, until last week's Odessa game Midland never had committed fewer fouls than an opponent). It allowed the Bulldogs to use an iron man crew—Bob Keating, Jesse Hatfield, Bill Mims, Harold Paden and Roy Kinsey—for three quarters without losing a player by fouls.

Midland, as a consequence, set the pace at Odessa until the final period.

Rutledge again will stick with those five most of the game against Lamesa, with Tom Dyer and Owen Grisham the readiest reserves.

In Three-Way Tie

Coach O. W. Follis' Tornadoes at present are in a three-way tie with favorite Sweetwater and Snyder in District 1-AAA after three games. Their tallest player, six-foot Burnell Stevens and Carlos Berry, with 72 and 102 district points respectively, have led them to their surprisingly high district position.

Those two with Robert Weaver, Jay Robinson and Johnny Jones compose the Lamesa starting team.

Going into the game, Midland boasts a 41.0 game scoring average against 13 opponents, while yielding a 51.7 mark made on 675 points.

Keating, outmaneuvered Snyder in District 1-AAA after three games. Their tallest player, six-foot Burnell Stevens and Carlos Berry, with 72 and 102 district points respectively, have led them to their surprisingly high district position.

Two Indians Get Contracts

The Midland Indians Tuesday signed their third player to a contract and mailed the final pact to the present members of the team. Horace Busby, general manager, announced.

The player inking his contract was Lou Dawson, the mailed contract went to Milton Marshall, who until now has given no mailing address to the Indians.

Dawson at present is in Fort Sheridan awaiting a March discharge from the Army. He will then report to Midland where he played when the club was in a Class D Longhorn League.

Dawson, 22, is an outfielder-infielder who spent 1949 season here as well as 1950. Over his full season in 1949, Dawson batted .279, on 145 hits, including 36 doubles, nine triples and eight home runs. He drove in 99 runs. He hit 309 in 1950.

Marshall, recently bought from Artesia, is a pitcher who will receive his contract this week at his Winters, Texas, home.

Mangrum Pockets Phoenix Money, Winning Third Meet

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(P)—The wandering golfer headed south Tuesday for the $10,000 Tucson Open tournament, and leading the procession was the familiar figure of the No. 1 man of the 1953 Winter tour, Lloyd Mangrum.

Mangrum registered his third triumph in five tournaments this month when he breezed home an easy winner in the $10,000 Phoenix Open, Monday.

The 38-year-old artist from Niles, Ill., and Los Angeles cooled the field with his spectacular eight-under-par 63 in the third round and put the finishing touches on Monday.

Spivey Trial Ends With No Decision

NEW YORK.—(P)—The perjury trial of William Spivey, onetime All-America basketball great from the University of Kentucky, ended early Tuesday with the jury unable to agree whether he had a role in the big college sports scandal of two years ago.

The jury of eight men and four women, after deliberating more than ten and one-half hours, reported itself deadlocked and then was dismissed by General Sessions Court Judge Saul S. Streit. The trial began January 14.

While defense attorneys announced immediately they would ask for dismissal of the indictment, there was no indication what Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan had in mind concerning a possible new trial.

Spivey, seven-foot center who was the top scoring ace of the crack University of Kentucky team in 1950-1951, issued a statement through his attorneys saying he was "disappointed" that the jury did not return a verdict, but was "satisfied" that a majority of the jurors were for acquittal.

It was learned that the panel had deadlocked at nine to three for acquittal.

Of the 32 players at eight schools involved in the college basketball scandal, Spivey was the only one to stand trial. The others either pleaded guilty or turned state's evidence, but Spivey steadfastly denied ever discussing a "fix" before a game or taking a bribe.

Tutor Needs Seven Victories To Reach 300 Mark At LSU

NEW YORK —(P)—It's Harry Rabenhorst's twenty-fifth anniversary. Know what he'd like for a present?

Just seven more basketball victories. That'd give him 300 as head coach at Louisiana State.

This is Rabenhorst's twenty-fifth year at LSU, and he'd like nothing better than to reach that coveted 300 figure. And it looks as though he's going to make it, too.

Before the season started, his Tigers had won 280 games against 197 defeats. Add 13 more victories this season against only one defeat and that gives him a total of 293.

The Tigers can put Rabenhorst over the top by winning seven of their remaining nine games. It's possible, too, that LSU, leading the Southeastern Conference, will participate in NCAA post-season play—which'll give Harry more of a chance to increase his total.

Victory No. 293 came Monday night—a 55-51 decision over Tulsa. It was a good one for Rabenhorst to win. It averaged LSU's only loss this season. Tulsa had whipped the Tigers in December, but now it's all even.

Grand Jury Cartel Probe Is Delayed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Eisenhower Administration Tuesday delayed 90 days a grand jury investigation into an alleged world oil monopoly.

This was done to permit the new attorney general, Herbert Brownell, Jr., to give further consideration to the case.

U. S. District Judge James R. Kirkland signed an order, requested by government counsel, putting off the grand jury investigation.

Leonard J. Emmert, special assistant to the attorney general who has been in charge of the case, told Judge Kirkland the 90-day delay will permit Brownell to study, consider and confer upon the pending investigation.

Emmert said the new attorney general will confer with interested departments and agencies of the government, particularly in regard to the question of national security.

GI Amateur Boxer Dies Of Head Injury Received In Arena

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — James W. Nelson, Brooks AFB amateur boxer from Denver, Colo., died Tuesday at Lackland AFB hospital from a head injury received in a bout Saturday night.

Nelson, 20, lost to Joe Ortiz of Corpus Christi Naval Air Station on a technical knockout in a mid-weight bout at Brooks AFB Saturday night. He was taken to Lackland for treatment but never regained consciousness.

Death was attributed to a blood clot on the brain.

Nelson, who resided here with his wife, Shirley, fought last week in the regional Golden Gloves tournament. He lost in the open division middleweight finals to Eugene Cooper, Lackland entry.

Brooks officials said Nelson's bout with Ortiz was stopped by the referee in the first round despite protests by the audience and Nelson himself. The injured fighter collapsed soon after leaving the ring.

Truman To Shun Public Speaking

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman plans to turn down all public speaking invitations for the next several months to avoid rising any unnecessary political stir.

He said Monday he wants to carry out his promise to cooperate insofar as possible with President Eisenhower.

Truman told a reporter he first wants an opportunity to observe the actions of the new Administration.

The ex-President expects to work mainly on personal correspondence during the next few months.

He spent much of his time Monday in his office in downtown Kansas City reading letters.

Wilson's Approval By Senate Turns Ike To Other Problems

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Charles E. Wilson won 77-6 confirmation by the Senate Monday — along with some sharp advice on how to conduct himself in his new assignment as secretary of Defense.

That action by the Senate gave President Eisenhower a full Cabinet but apparently left him some political problems.

Wilson was approved, after a 10-day controversy, by the votes of 47 of the Senate's 48 Republicans and 30 to 46 Democrats.

Senator Morse (Ind-Ore) and five Democrats — Johnston of South Carolina, Kilgore and Neely of West Virginia, Lehman of New York and Willis Smith of North Carolina — voted against confirmation of the former General Motors president.

Wilson's agreement to sell more than $250,000 worth of GM stock paved the way for his confirmation but it was causing trouble for two men he has proposed as Defense Department aides.

They are Robert T. B. Stevens, named informally as Army secretary, and Harold E. Talbot, named as Air secretary.

This situation was thrown back onto Eisenhower's desk for a decision.

Stevens and Talbot have said they can't afford to sell some financial holdings. The prevailing Senate opinion seemed to be that they will sell or they won't be confirmed.

Anderson Hearing

Eisenhower may move slowly in giving them formal nominations, which the Senate Armed Services Committee has ruled must be forthcoming before they can be summoned to testify again.

They appeared with Wilson at closed hearings January 15 and 16.

The understanding of armed services committee members was that Wilson would sell more than $250,000 worth of GM stock.

Army Gunners Try To Douse Gas Well

MORGAN CITY — (AP) — Army artillerymen planned a high explosive barrage Tuesday on a multi-million-dollar gas well fire roaring out of control 10 miles off the Louisiana coast in the Gulf of Mexico.

They hoped to divert the searing flames from three remaining wells 100 feet from the center of the spectacular inferno.

Operators of the wells, said the Army men planned to shoot the control-valve structure from atop the two burning wells, allowing the flames to boil upward from where the pipe emerges from the water.

At present the flames are shooting off to one side.

A company spokesman said if the blasting was successful, the vertical flames would cause air to circulate down into the lower part of the rigging and keep the lower parts cooler.

Four Army artillery instructors from Camp Polk, La., were picked for the attempt to hit the pin-point target from another wooden platform 200 feet away.

Light Army planes flew in the four, a 75-mm. recoilless rifle and ammunition Monday. A Coast Guard boat took the group to the well, 36 miles south of here.

The oil company asked the Army for help after a professional firefighter who specialized in extinguishing such blazes failed in several attempts Monday.

The fire began when one well exploded Sunday.

Reds Sentence Trio Of Catholics To Die

LONDON — (AP) — A Communist court in Poland Tuesday sentenced two Roman Catholic priests and a layman to death on charges of spying for the Vatican and the U. S.

Warsaw Radio said three other priests got prison sentences ranging from eight years to life.

A woman described as a member of the Catholic Rosary Association of Girls was sentenced to six years.

Sentenced to die were the Rev. Josef Lettlo, the Rev. Michael Kowalk and Edward Chachlica, a layman.

The Rev. Franciszek Szymoncy was ordered imprisoned for life.

Other defendants were sentenced as follows: the Rev. Wit Bryzcki, 15 years; the Rev. Jan Pochopien, eight years—three less than the prosecution had demanded; Stefania Rospond, six years.

UN Planes Pound Red Supply Lines

SEOUL — (AP) — Allied warplanes Tuesday hammered Communist supply routes and front-line positions on the frozen Western Korean front.

Outnumbered U. S. Sabre jets damaged two Communist MIG-15 fighters over Mig Alley in Northwest Korea.

Only light ground action was reported as Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff, began his seventh tour of the battlefield since the war began two and one-half years ago.

The Russian-built MIG-15's were damaged in a battle between four Sabres and 20 Communist jets 20 miles south of the Suhio Reservoir in Northwest Korea. Allied losses, if any, are announced in a weekend summary.

Farther south, F-84 Thunderjet fighter-bombers for the second straight day blasted the once attack-free Communist supply route from the capital at Pyongyang to the Red truce camp at Kaesong.

Immunity Limited

Since November, 1951, the UN Command had permitted the Reds to send daily supply convoys to their truce delegation at Kaesong free from attack.

Ike's Budget Boss Denies Big Shakeup In Government Due

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Budget Director Joseph P. Dodge Tuesday said a prime objective of the Eisenhower Administration is to see that the federal government is "as well organized and effectively managed as possible."

Dodge, saying he was "reflecting the view of" the President, went before the House Committee on Government Operations to endorse a bill which would extend the Reorganization Act of 1949.

The present reorganization law, now due to expire March 31, permits the President to draw up plans for shifting government agencies about in the interest of economy and efficiency. He must submit his plans to Congress.

Dodge said President Eisenhower has some reorganization moves in mind and intends to put through some of the recommendations made four years ago by a commission headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Dodge indicated, however, that no big shakeup all at once is in prospect. He said experience had demonstrated that government reorganization was best undertaken bit by bit and not by "a single, sweeping rearrangement of government agencies and functions."

what the approximate cost would be.

"Well, I for one," said Ray, "am against putting it before the people."

Stewart said he thought the majority of the people should have their say.

"But, will they?" he continued. "These people who want this library will put on the pressure."

Bryant said he was in favor of an addition, if it was needed for providing office space for county business.

"However," he said, "if we're going to call an election just for the library, I'm against it."

Judge Keith suggested then that commissioners study the advisability of calling an election to provide funds for the complete four-floor addition to the courthouse.

But this suggestion was ignored as Ray entered his formal motion to deny the request for the election.

It was 660 feet from north and west lines of Charles Lockhart survey No. 316 and seven miles east of Bronte.

From perforated section between 5,520 and 5,540 feet the well flowed three hours and made 34 barrels of fluid. In the first hour it made 10 barrels of fluid which was 9.5 barrels of clean oil and five per cent drilling mud through a 1 1/2-inch choke.

During the second hour the well flowed seven barrels of oil cut four-tenths of one per cent drilling mud through a 20/6

Reds Claim Sabre Jet Pilot Captured North Of Yalu Line

TOKYO (AP)—Red China claimed Tuesday U. S. Sabre jet pilot, was captured after his plane was shot down Friday.

Radio said Communist planes in Manchuria, near Peking (possibly Fengcheng, across the border from Uiju in North Korea).

The Air Force had announced Heller, Wynnewood, Pa. was shot down Friday, one day after he destroyed two Red MIG's and was promoted from major.

Far East Air Force said other U. S. pilots saw Heller's jet about three miles south of the Yalu River boundary near Uiju, engaged with Communist aircraft. The Air Force did not rule out the possibility his plane crashed in Manchuria.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Romance is as easy to come by in winter as in spring.

And to impress a young swain it doesn't need to be smooth-by-the-fire cooling. Plain old outdoor sport, offering good companionship and nature's color palette for a real beauty tint. Is the answer to wintertime glamor. A red-blooded young man who enjoys the outdoors will not frown on female companionship.

In warmer climates the combination of sea and sunshine encourages outdoor play. And if one is lucky enough to be on a cruise there are games that can be played on deck to give Susie and Joe a reason to get together.

Colder climates offer even more chances for romantic get-togethers. So there is no reason to hibernate at home.

Take skiing or skating, for instance. There is no happier blending of spirits perhaps than that which takes place when two people pause for a respite when enjoying the blades or the boards. A snack of lunch, and a cup of hot cocoa at a pot-bellied stove at the scene of a winter playground is an exhilarating experience, offering more genuine intimacy to Don Cupid than a parlor sofa.

Even if you are the hot-house type, don't turn down a bid to outdoor sport. The boy will admire you for trying, and doesn't expect you to be a whiz at "figure eight" or "relendsprung." As a matter of fact his greatest pleasure will be showing you how to enjoy the sport.

If you've never been skiing or skating, don't invest in a lot of fancy clothes and equipment until you've tried out the sport. Borrow equipment for the first time out. Besides the saving involved, you will be nearly so conspicuous as a beginner wearing old clothes. Don't Be Afraid.

If you are timid about attempting a new sport don't be alarmed. When you get skis on your feet, your activity will be so limited that at first that there is little chance to take a serious fall. If you learn to walk on them the first day, that exercise will suffice and the few tumbles you take, after you learn how to fall properly shouldn't leave anything more than a minor bruise. If you do manage to climb a tiny slope, the spill which may follow shouldn't leave any other mark but soreness.

Skating might seem frightening at first, and you may feel a certain amount of chagrin at being so awkward on the blades. But if your young man offers to support you, by linking his arm in yours, don't consider that you look silly or will drag him down. Go with the idea and have fun.

Unless your date is the lazy or strictly studious type, you should be able to entice him outdoors, even if you can't get to a ski hill or in an ice pond. Chopping wood is a wonderful and invigorating exercise and many a man has popped the question over a crosscut saw.

Besides the fun and the companionship involved in outdoor fun, it can put a twinkle in your eye like no bottled eye wash. Add to that a rosy complexion and red lips and you have an unbeatable combination for romance.

Wind and cold may chafe the skin, however, so it is a good idea to wear mittens to keep the hands protected, and to rub some lotion over the face to protect your skin from the elements. There are excellent and inexpensive lotions and creams which can be rubbed on the skin before you go outdoors. Carry a little purse container of the lotion in the purse so that the face can be rubbed again and again during the day. If you don't wear lipstick, which does offer reasonable protection to the lips, use one of the little sticks of protective lip pomade at frequent intervals during the day to ward off chapped and cracked lips.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE C. E. Wilson had to give up $2,500,000 in order to get a post in Ike's cabinet. Well, we can secure you a host of cabinets (kitchen, that is) in this exquisite Roman brick home for a little less. Featuring spaciousness, it has 3 lovely bedrooms, huge living room, 2 ceramic tile baths, and that dream we call a magnificent kitchen. Central heating and air-conditioning, softly carpeted throughout, generous closets, mahogany doors. For that quiet hush of luxury, it sincerely cannot be surpassed. $23,000.

WOULD YOU OWN AND DRIVE a two-passenger car if you had a family of four? You would trade in your car. What about your home? We'll trade—for a 3-bedroom, 2-bath, new home on Louisiana. Carpeted living and dining rooms (and hall), tile kitchen with knotty-pine cabinets, and attached garage. Central heating, ducted for air-conditioning, and peppered with good closets. Located on huge lot, and priced at a stimulating $16,500.

WHAT ARE WE OFFERED as a down payment for 1107 East Pecan—the great big house with 3 bedrooms and two baths? Carpeted over oak floors, re-decorated, and 1,377 sq. ft. Appraised for $10,577, and priced at $6,800.

DRIVE-BY SPECIALS: 3202 Delano Street. Two bedrooms and 10x24 pine paneled den. Central heating, plastered walls, oak floors, huge pantry, Murray metal cabinet in kitchen. Priced at $9,800. Then a few blocks south to 3202 Thomas Street. Three bedrooms, huge living room, and attached carport. Central heating, some carpeting, air-conditioned, and paved street. He has a lot in it, but will sell for $12,250.

211 RIDGLEA AVAILABLE YOU HAVE OFTEN HEARD of the Executive Mansion, but here is a mansion for the oil executive—West Texas styling. Rambling in design, the shake shingle roof covers 3 huge bedrooms, den, 3 ceramic tile baths, luxurious living room with slant-angle wood-burning fireplace, utility room, 2-car attached garage. Central heating, air-conditioned, masculine wood carpeting, tile fence, water well. It's got too many closets (in which the kids could hide). Although it is vacant, it proudly stands and waits to serve. $36,500.

I WAS BUILT WITH KIDDIES in mind, but I guess that I'll have to take in their parents, too. I want noise and young laughter within the walls of my 3 bedrooms, and hungry tots raiding the cookie jar of my huge kitchen. I want them to come into my bath with dirty hands and faces just so I could see them clean when leaving. I've got a dining room for their ice cream parties, and a wood-burning fireplace when it's nasty outside. I've got secret places in my closets for playing, and rugs on the floor when you kneel down to pray. I'm warm in the winter, and air-conditioned in the summer. You'll like me, and I'm sure that I'll love you. So will your Mommy and Daddy. I'm at 305 Jax Street. Why don't you come to see me?

FAR BEYOND WEALTH is the consolation of quiet living in a peaceful home. Located in Skyline Heights, where rambling homes abound, is this utterly magnificent two-bedroom, two bath, brick home. The grey and gold draperies alone cost in excess of $1,000. Central systems for the season's vicissitudes, carpeting, ceramic tile features, utility room, and double attached garage. This home was decorated with the meticulous touch of a master. Under $20,000.

THERE IS 1403 West Michigan—and this is one which you will like. There is 104 East Oak Street—a lovely 2-bedroom home with million dollar features and comforts. There is 204 East Oak—also with 2 bedrooms and best of construction. Try 1211 East Hamby for only $7,500. Try calling us. It does not cost more to deal with the LEADER, Key, Wilson & Maxson.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Fright Is An Unlikely Cause Of Death In Normal Cases

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

We all have heard the expression "it almost frightened me to death," or "it scared the life out of me." The obvious fact that people who say this are alive and usually well is a good sign that fright does not kill often.

A severe fright certainly can cause a lot of distress, however. The question as to whether it can ever cause death recently has been raised again in an interesting article in one of our leading medical journals. The discussion revolved around the case of a young woman who had had seizures of smothering sensations, palpitation of the heart, weakness and other peculiar symptoms off and on for a period of two years.

At first, nothing could be found to account for these attacks. Finally, while she was being given a test of the heart, she became alarmed by a box put in front of her containing pills and her heart started to beat more rapidly in short bursts. At the same time she complained of the same symptoms which she had had periodically over the last two years.

She did not die of this experience, but the doctors concluded that in a person who had certain kinds of heart disease it might be possible for a severe fright to cause death.

In discussing this problem the subject of "Woodoo deaths" naturally comes up. Apparently, this kind of death from fright really occurs following "hexing" by a "medicine man" or by "black magic." An interesting example of this kind was described some time ago:

"A young negro on a journey lodged in a friend's house for the night. The friend had prepared for their breakfast a wild hen, a food strictly banned by a rule which must be observed invariably by the inmate.

"The young fellow demanded whether it was indeed a wild hen, and when the host answered 'No,' he ate it of heartily and proceeded on his way.

Host Told Secret
"A few years later, when the two met again, the old friend asked the younger man if he would eat a wild hen. He answered that he had been charged solemnly by a wizard not to eat that food. Thereupon the host began to laugh and asked him why he refused it now after having eaten it at his table before.

"On hearing this news the negro immediately began to tremble, so greatly was he possessed by fear, and in less than 24 hours was dead."

While it is interesting to study the possibility that the common expressions quoted at the beginning of this column may have some basis in fact, the chances of being truly "frightened to death" are so unlikely that for all practical purposes we can forget about it.

THIS NEIGH MEANS YES—Mark-Ye-Well seems to be agreeing with the odds-makers who dropped the Calumet Farm four-year-old colt to a 5-2 favorite in the Santa Anita Handicap, Feb. 28, after copping the San Fernando Handicap. (NEA)

'TUMBLEDOWN SHACK' IS NOT ALWAYS ROMATIC—Hopkinsville, Ky., and many other Southern communities are eliminating slum-type shacks, like those pictured at left, and replacing them with clean, attractive apartment buildings, financed by the Public Housing Administration. The structures at right are Hopkinsville's first apartment houses. The 134 units will rent for as little as $15 a month, with $35 the maximum. Rents are based on family income, not the size of the apartments. A family conceivably could have a six-room apartment for $15 a month.

Benson To Announce Further Plans In Streamlining Agriculture Bureau

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson says he will have further "important announcements" this week on his plans for streamlining the Agriculture Department.

Introducing newsmen to aides he has appointed to help him run the department, the new Republican farm chief promised additional information soon on his plans for cutting costs in the department and for increasing its efficiency.

This information is expected to go a long way toward answering questions raised when Benson, in his first official act, announced last Wednesday a regrouping of the department's 20 bureaus in four groups.

Benson has said that he will be guided by a desire to save money and to take the government out of agriculture to the fullest extent possible permitted by the interests of the nation and of the farming industry.

Many queries about Benson's plans have come from farm-minded congressmen, some of whom have been critical of the new secretary because of his refusal to go into detail at a recent Senate Agriculture Committee hearing, about what he intends to do.

Consent Of Congress
The new secretary cannot go far in altering present programs and activities without Congress' consent. Many such programs are the controversial farm price support activities which this year may require the disbursement of 2,500,000,000 in government funds for loans and other operations.

Likewise, virtually every activity carried on by the department has strong backing from strong commodity or regional groups of producers and distributors.

Some of Benson's appointments have in themselves suggested possible sharp shifts from present farm policies and programs. Strongly represented are groups which were unfriendly to former Secretary Charles F. Brannan and to programs established by the Roosevelt-Truman Administrations.

Pressure Groups
Those groups include the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation and the state-controlled land grant colleges and extension services.

Furthermore, Benson's plans to trim department activities comes at a time when farm prices and incomes are going down and when some congressional farm leaders contend there is need for greater government aid for agriculture rather than less.

Questions being asked by farm leaders in and out of Congress as result of Benson's statements and appointments include:

Will he recommend a drastic cut in the present 250 million dollars annual soil payments program? Under it subsidies are paid farmers who carry out approved farming practices.

Farmer Reaction
What will happen to the system of 90,000 farmer committees who help administer farm programs? They work on a part-time basis. The system has been criticized on the ground that it constitutes a powerful pressure group for farm policies.

Will there be considerable decentralization of programs involving research, administration of price supports, production controls, and education with the state-controlled land grant colleges and extension services getting major roles?

Will such government credit agencies as the Farm Credit Administration and the Farmers' Home Administration be divorced from the Agriculture Department?

Mechanized Cotton Farming Gains Told At Council Meeting

DALLAS—(AP)—An economist of the National Cotton Council reported Tuesday the cotton industry's dream of mechanized cotton farming is becoming a reality.

George Townsend, Memphis, Tenn., was a speaker at the council's annual meeting here.

"It can be said conservatively that 25 per cent of the nation's cotton crop was harvested mechanically in 1952," Townsend said in his prepared speech. "This compares with 15 per cent of the crop in 1950, six per cent in 1949 and a mere fraction of one per cent as recently as 1946."

He said farmers had at their disposal last year more than 12,000 mechanical pickers and more than 20,000 cotton strippers. Pickers are used principally in the irrigated lands of California, Arizona and New Mexico and the rain belt of the Delta and the Southwest. Use of strippers is confined mainly to the High Plains of Texas and Oklahoma.

The arm cut required five Council agronomist Leonard Lett of Memphis, Tenn., reported that about 3,000,000 acres of cotton were defoliated chemically in 1952. Growers have found that removing the leaves by special chemicals results in higher grades of cotton, particularly where mechanical pickers are used.

Old world camels and new world llamas are related closely and are believed to be the only living members of their family of animals.

Anonymous Caller Threatens To Beat Georgia Minister

AMERICUS, GA.—(AP)—Police are trying to find an anonymous telephone caller who threatened to beat a former Ohio clergyman who came to Americus last Summer.

The Rev. Kempton Oakes, 31-year-old former athlete and pastor of the First Christian Church here, said the caller told him Sunday to get out of town after daring him to come down to the corner and fight. He told police the man said he could "beat hell out of a damn Yankee."

The minister also complained that someone dumped garbage into his new automobile shortly after the telephone call. Police Chief R. M. Canaler assigned officers to investigate.

Last week, City Recorder Billy Smith dismissed charges against two of the clergyman's neighbors following complaints by Oakes that they allowed their dogs and chickens to run loose in his newly planted garden.

The minister, who served his church nine years at Mansfield, Ohio, and surrounding communities, said Monday night he does not intend to leave Americus. He said his anonymous caller may have been drunk.

Taft Introduces Bills Proposing Labor Law Changes Promised In Ike's Campaign

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON—(AP)—An influential senator said Tuesday a series of changes proposed by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in the Taft-Hartley labor law have a good chance of being accepted by unions and industry.

Taft told newsmen some of his suggestions may win support of both labor and management.

And Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) of the Senate Labor Committee told a reporter all of Taft's proposed amendments to the T-H law seemed to fall into an area in which both unions and industry can agree.

Taft Gets Busy
Taft, GOP majority leader and principal author of the labor law bearing his name, dropped five bills into the Senate hopper Monday proposing about 16 different changes in the present law. Most of the proposals Taft had introduced before in Congress, without getting them enacted.

Some of his main suggestions: (1) increase the members on the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), which administers the labor law, from five to seven; (2) completely separate the functions of the NLRB's general counsel from the NLRB itself, and (3) make employers as well as union leaders file non-Communist affidavits before they can avail themselves of the NLRB.

Generally speaking, the T-H law sets up a list of do's and don'ts for employers and unions and gives the NLRB the power to enforce the rules whenever one side or the other complains.

Two of Taft's suggested amendments carry out pledges made by President Eisenhower during his election campaign. One is the proposal that employers as well as union leaders submit the non-Communist pledges; the other would let striking workers, when replaced by other workers, vote in NLRB elections called to see whether the workers still wanted to be represented by a union.

Under the present law, such strikers are barred from voting.

Taft said seven NLRB members instead of five could help speed the agency's handling of cases. He added that if two "conservative" members were added to the present board, it would improve things because "the board is pretty one-sided at the moment."

Red-Born Rubinstein Gains Fourth Stay Of Deportation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Serge Rubinstein, rich Russian-born financier, is safe from being seized and taken to Ellis Island at least until February 27.

The U. S. Court of Appeals, dividing 2-1, late Monday ordered that no steps be taken toward seizing Rubinstein pending further arguments in his case.

This was the fourth time in four weeks the court had intervened to prevent Rubinstein from being taken into custody on a deportation warrant growing out of his World War II conviction of draft dodging.

The arguments February 27 will be on an appeal from a ruling last Friday by U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts denying Rubinstein's application for a temporary injunction.

Judges Henry W. Edgerton and David L. Bazelon said there was a serious legal question whether the attorney general has authority to haul Rubinstein off to Ellis Island.

They stressed that the financier has been at liberty on bond throughout the long deportation proceeding against him, and that government attorneys did not raise any issue of security.

But Judge Charles Fahy said he would not intervene. He explained that Rubinstein, if taken into custody, could test the legality of his detention by applying for a writ of habeas corpus.

The various legal moves by Rubinstein's attorneys, beginning December 30 when he was "supposed to surrender, are designed to keep him off Ellis Island until they can contest in the courts the legality of the deportation proceeding.

March Of Dimes Funds Save Midlander's Life

G's MOTHER'S TIME REWARDED

NORWICH, N. Y.—(AP)—When Mrs. Harold Moore, Sr., knitted sweaters for the Red Cross during World War II she felt certain that someday one would bring a touch of home to some soldier. At Ft. Dix, N. J., a young soldier walked into the quartermaster exchange recently and asked for a sleeveless sweater. He received one with a tag inscribed: "Time donated by Mrs. Harold Moore, Norwich, N. Y." The soldier was Pvt. Harold Moore, Jr., her son.

AILEEN COTHERN . . . March of Dimes lung helps bring her back to health.

Sweet little Martha Aileen Cothern, seven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Cothern, 1013 North Colorado Street, spends the major part of her life in an iron lung furnished through contributions to the March of Dimes.

Aileen was stricken with bulbar and paralytic polio in September, 1950. From Midland she was moved to Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene. After three months in Abilene, Aileen was transferred to the Southwestern Polio Myelitis Respiratory Center in Houston.

"Since Aileen, at this time, had to have mechanical assistance for each breath she took, the move from Abilene to Houston became a complicated nightmare," remembers Mrs. Cothern. "We talked to railroad officials, but they didn't want to take the responsibility. My husband had been recalled to the Air Force just four days before Aileen was stricken, so we contacted them to see if they would fly her to Houston.

Since to do so we would have put the Air Force in competition with the railroad they were hesitant to take any action on the matter." Mrs. Cothern continued. "Our problem was finally solved when the president of the Humble Oil and Refining Company made his personal plane available."

Aileen stayed in Houston for eight months and one day. "The doctor called in my husband and told him that they had done all they could for Aileen, that she was hopelessly paralyzed, would always have to remain in an iron lung and probably not live more than three months. He suggested we bring Aileen and the iron lung home as she would be happier for her last few months," Mrs. Cothern said. Aileen was brought back to Midland by her shocked parents, not to die, because they had hope and more important, faith in their prayers.

Now, more than a year later, Aileen, who was paralyzed from the neck down and could only remain out of the lung for three hours at a time, has gained strength. She is able to sit up in her wheel chair and can remain out of the lung most of the day. However, it is necessary for her to take her naps and sleep at night in the lung. Under treatment of a local physician and physical therapist, Aileen has good movement in both arms. She is looking forward to the future. Mrs. Cothern has hopes that Aileen will have braces and crutches in the near future.

"Aileen has never attended a regular school," Mrs. Cothern said, "but she is in the second grade. A visiting teacher spends three hours a week with her. She is interested in learning and her grades are good."

Commenting on having a child in an iron lung, Mrs. Cothern said, "Well, it does make a big difference in our life. The lung makes a noise when in operation, but we are used to that now. At first we listened all night, but if something goes wrong now we awake immediately. The lung is hot inside in the Summer months, but I have found that a pan of ice placed inside the lung gives a nice cool place for Aileen to sleep."

Appreciation Expressed
Mrs. Cothern expressed appreciation to the March of Dimes for the assistance given Aileen. She explained that insurance and personal funds paid for much of Aileen's illness.

"However," she added, "it was necessary to call upon the March of Dimes, especially for the iron lung. We do not know how long Pay Your Poll Tax Now!

How about that poll tax, Pardon? Only a few days remain for obtaining the certificate which will qualify citizens to vote in city, school and other important elections which will be held this year.

Many of us are inclined to term this an off-election year, but actually it is an important election year, as is every year. For instance, a mayor and three city councilmen are to be elected in April.

This is not an off-election year in so far as the citizens of Midland and of Midland County are concerned. And yet, only a small group of citizens will decide the various issues at the polls unless more persons wake up to the fact that they must obtain their poll tax receipts by Saturday night if they intend to vote this year.

Many persons doubtless feel that everything will be all right now that a new Administration is installed in Washington, forgetting completely the importance of balancing in every election from the grass roots on up if we are to maintain the democracy of which we talk so much.

Yes, we are aiming right at YOU if you are one of the thousands who still have not qualified for voting in the 1953 elections. Most persons will agree it is their duty and responsibility as American citizens to vote, but year in and year out many of those same persons fail to qualify as voters.

Don't neglect this important assignment. Time is short, indeed! PAY YOUR POLL TAX NOW!!

About the only thing a stingy man gives away is himself. Too many people think of high finance as merely exchanging old debts for new ones.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And That Was That

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, had a bank which was really a cash register toy. He had tied a string to the bank, and then he hid beneath a bush nearby with the other end of the string in his hand. When people came walking along the Elephant Path, and saw the bank like a cash register there in front of them, they would think out loud: "Mercy me! A bank like a cash register that is full of money! Mercy me! And what will I do with all the money I hope is inside?"

But then when people would start to pick the bank up, the Huffen would jerk it away with the string and laugh out loud. Away the people would walk, feeling very foolish that the Huffen had fooled them with the joke.

Well, there came Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, all to help put a stop to the business of the Huffen playing the joke on people. Daddy Ringtail came walking up the path with his hands in his pockets, pretending he didn't see the bank. But he did see it, and out went his foot to step on the string so the Huffen couldn't pull it back. "Mercy me!" Daddy Ringtail said out loud for the Huffen to hear. "I do believe I have found me a bank. Let's see now about the money in it."

Oh, the Huffen laughed to himself with the thought of anyone trying to find some money in the bank. It was empty, the Huffen was sure. Hadn't he shaken the bank by his ear to listen at the very first? Indeed he had, and the shaking had made no noise of money inside. But there Daddy Ringtail was opening it now. The Huffen saw him open it with one of his hands,

Yes, and the Huffen saw the dollar Daddy Ringtail pulled out. Oooohh! howled the Huffen to himself, and he felt very foolish indeed when Daddy Ringtail walked away down the Elephant Path with a merry, merry whistle and the dollar too. Well, with all of the Huffen's trying to play a joke, he didn't know that Daddy Ringtail had played a joke too. The dollar was really in Daddy Ringtail's hand all the time, but hidden tight at first where the Huffen couldn't see it. But that was the end of the playing of jokes, all on a very fine day.

Congress Urged To Study War Survivor Legislation

Assurance that survivors of deceased Korean veterans will receive government insurance payments must be made by the new Congress if the disabled veterans planks in the two recent national convention platforms are to acquire real meanings, the Disabled American Veterans leader said here Tuesday.

The DAV also pointed out that the new Congress should direct its attention to amending the Career Compensation Act of 1949 which now bars a former serviceman from the right to appeal arbitrary rulings made by the armed forces under the disability retirement provisions of the act, even though clear and unmistakable error is shown.

Ben J. Gay, commander of the Midland DAV chapter said that "Some items of business await the action of the new Congress if the disabled veterans' plank in the platforms are to acquire real meaning."

"In the case of the Servicemen's Indemnity Act of 1951, a provision is made for $10,000 in government insurance for survivors of members of the armed forces who die in active service. When Congress passed this law it failed to provide the money necessary to pay the claims. This caused a delay of many months after the law was passed before the survivors received their benefits.

Congress eventually approved the appropriation. These funds soon were exhausted and until a supplemental appropriation was passed several months later, survivors again failed to receive their monthly benefit checks. The periods when survivors do not receive their checks cause extreme hardship. This should be one of the first items on the agenda of the 83rd Congress."

The DAV commander said that as the Career Compensation Act of 1949 now stands a former serviceman cannot appeal an arbitrary ruling made by the armed forces even where clear and unmistakable error is shown. Once he is relieved from active duty he cannot request further consideration of his case. "In our opinion," he said, "the armed forces have set up a policy in the evaluation of these cases which is contrary to the intent of the law."

"The new Congress will be asked to amend the act to allow further consideration of disability retirement cases after the veteran is discharged from service. Even if the veteran appeared before a clinical, medical or physical evaluation board before his discharge, the average member of the armed forces is not legally or medically qualified to prepare a statement in case of an unfavorable decision."

Oriental Nations Show Income Gain

BANGKOK, THAILAND — (AP)—The per capita real income in Malaya and Ceylon showed a marked increase after the outbreak of the Korean war, the quarterly bulletin of the Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East stated.

The latest issue of the bulletin says Burma, Japan, the Philippines and Thailand were other countries which experienced gains in national income in 1950 and 1951. Malaya, Ceylon, as well as Japan, succeeded in lifting annual incomes in terms of 1948-49 purchasing power above $100 per person.

This compared with $308 for the Soviet Union, $482 for France, $679 for Australia, $773 for the United Kingdom and $1,453 for the United States, the bulletin says.

Until recent times, many European towns and villages had a "sin eater" who, for a fee and by symbolic consumption of food and wine was supposed to take upon himself all the sins of a deceased person.

Low, Swept-Back Lines Of '53 Models Add New Look To Growing Traffic Jam

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK—(AP)—The continental look has been turning into American traffic lanes every time the light changed in recent years.

Imports of foreign-made automobiles have been growing steadily as dollar-hungry Europeans pushed sales in this country.

Now some U. S. car makers are out to give the foreign cars some competition in their own specialty—that long, low and ever-lower, wind-swept, look.

New models displayed around the country in recent weeks by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler revealed the stepped-up trend to the car that seems to hug the road with swept-back lines.

Nash hired Pimlin Farina, custom body designer of Turin, Italy, to style its 1953 models.

Competition A Factor
And now Studebaker goes much farther than the rest and brings out the lowest car ever made by an American firm.

This switch to the continental look comes as auto makers prepare for their greatest postwar competitive tests.

Foreign makes may offer little competition if viewed percentage-wise to the hordes of American cars on the highways. Trade sources estimate that perhaps 100,000 foreign-made cars are now on U. S. highways—a ration of slightly less than one foreign car for each 500 American-made.

But the numbers of continental-styled cars have been growing fast. At the end of the war, during the car shortage here, British cars were snapped up by American buyers. During the steep climb of inflation after the outbreak of the Korean war, part of the American demand for small British cars was attributed by dealers to the saving in gas consumption and other costs.

Import Figures Up
But in recent months there has been a steady rise in interest in expensive European makes with distinctive styling.

Department of Commerce figures show that in 1950 more than 6,000 British, French and Italian cars entered the United States. In 1951 almost 21,000 of them were imported.

This year the number is well over 25,000.

Harold S. Vance, board chairman and president of Studebaker, says it was because of this growing trend that he called on American designer Raymond Loewy to put the continental look into the 1953 Studebaker models now on display. Loewy has turned out the lowest American make to date—one model being only 57 inches high. The bodies also have some of the backward slanting lines of European cars.

Cars Still Roomy

Along with this challenge to competition with European styling, Studebaker is stressing that it has put its new models on one-a-minute production lines. It thinks this will make it harder for European manufacturers to compete here with their sporty custom-built models.

The American version of the continental look still are easily distinguished from the European cars. The American makes are not batman cars—they retain all the room inside they ever had, and maybe more.

But as the 1953 American models begin to appear in volume on the highways, the traffic jams are going to take on a new look.
