Shell Finals New Discovery In King From Pennsylvanian

Shell Oil Company has completed its No. 2-1 Burnett, wildcat in South-Central King County, as a new discovery from the Pennsylvanian.

The well flowed 24 hours through a 16/64-inch choke and made an initial production of 145.44 barrels of oil out one-tenth of one per cent basic sediment.

Gravity of the petroleum was 36.2 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 433-1. Working pressure ranged from 50 to 400 pounds and pressure on the casing was between 75 to 440 pounds.

Production is coming from perforations between 5,320 and 5,540 feet which had been acidized with 500 gallons of mud acid. Total depth is 6,430 feet in Ellenburger dolomite and plugged back depth is 5,807 feet in Pennsylvanian lime.

Location of the new opener is 660 feet from south and 1,969 feet from west lines of section 1, T7 survey and eight and one-half miles south-east of Guthrie.

Wild Well In Pecos Shows Gas Volume Of 272,000,000 CFD

Service Oil Company and associates No. 1 Payton, wildcat gas well from the Devonian in North Pecos County, is still blowing gas, mud, water and a small amount of distillate.

Operator hung a gauging instrument in the hole Wednesday and it registered a gas volume of 272,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. When the gauge reached that figure it stopped working.

Interested observers say that the gas volume at the time that gauge was taken had declined considerably from what it had been when the well first blew out of control last Saturday night.

Efforts to bring it under control are continuing.

This project is in a shallow Payton field, which produces from the Yates section above 9,100 feet. It is two miles southwest of Grandfalls. The gas volume of 272,000,000 cubic feet per day is extra large for any well in the Permian Basin or in any other area.

Ponder To Final Pennsylvanian Well In NW Dawson Area

Ponder Oil, Inc., of Midland No. 1 M. C. Lindsey, wildcat one and one-half miles northwest of the Mungerville (Pennsylvanian) field of Northwest Dawson County, was shut in after storage was filled during a flowing test from the Pennsylvanian. Operator will complete the well as soon as more storage is available.

Operator perforated five and one-half-inch casing from 8,566 to 8,571 feet. After running swab eight times, the well kicked off and flowed at the rate of 10 barrels of oil hourly through a 24/64-inch choke for an unreported length of time.

No. 1 Lindsey is 660 feet from south and east lines of the north-east quarter of section 109, block M, ELARR survey.

Location is 2,080 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 62, block 5, H&GN survey.

It is one location north of the discovery well of the Fullersville (Strawn) field.

Ike Stands Pat On Defense Aides

Eisenhower, Staff Discuss New Strategy

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower assembled his top military, foreign affairs and intelligence officers Thursday for a full-dress review of the foreign situation and a discussion of cold war strategy.

He has expanded the conference with the National Security Council, bringing the heads of several agencies to the White House.

Along with the regular council members, Eisenhower called in Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, retiring chief of the Central Intelligence Agency; and Allen Dulles, designated to succeed Smith as CIA boss.

Vice President Nixon, Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Mutual Security Director Harold Stassen attended the conference as members of the council. The President is chairman.

There were indications that both Western Europe and the Far East were being discussed.

Dulles and Stassen leave Friday for a 10-day tour of Western Europe. Their itinerary calls for meetings in Italy, France, England, Western Germany, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Democrat Urges Sweeping Slashes In Overseas Staff

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) Thursday urged a sweeping overhaul of the government's activities abroad, saying at least 100,000 employees overseas could be discharged.

He recommended not only an immediate reduction in "the variety, scope and size of our foreign programs and activities" but major changes in the organization and management of government operations around the world.

His proposals were set out in a report submitted to Vice President Nixon, the Senate president. They were based on a survey Johnston made last Fall, as chairman of the Senate Civil Service Committee, of federal pay and personnel practices in the Near East, Africa and Europe.

Johnston said: "While great progress has been made in the execution of our many tremendous projects abroad . . . the very foundation of our foreign policy is being damaged by an undertone that is steadily increasing its pressure."

Losing Respect, Good Will
"This undertone derives its strength from streams of indecision, overlapping authority, duplication of effort, wasteful practices, overstaffing and irresponsible and uncoordinated supervision and direction."

Johnston also said "we are losing the respect and good will" of the peoples in Western Europe despite the help they have received from this country in rebuilding economies since the war.

He said "our wasteful practices," the large number and "push living" of U. S. employees abroad and the extent of the government's operations tend to breed "disgust, suspicion, contempt and jealousy."

Johnston, who has opposed many foreign aid appropriations, said billions of dollars could be saved if his recommendations were adopted.

Weather Continues To Charm Midland
The weather charmed Midlanders and other Texans Thursday. It was so comfortable that there was nothing to report except clear skies, gentle breezes and balmy temperatures.

CAA observers at Midland Air Terminal expect wind velocity to reach 25 miles an hour after 7 p.m. Thursday. Skies might cloud up a bit Friday night as temperatures rise slightly.

Motor Vehicle Laws Slated For Discussion At Thursday Meeting
Motor vehicle registration laws and other related subjects will be discussed Thursday night at a meeting sponsored by the Texas Highway Department in the Midland County Courthouse.

Automobile dealers, finance companies, banks and other interested agencies are urged to have representatives at the meeting.

Jim Sparks and D. L. Johnson will represent the motor vehicle division at the meeting, to begin at 8 p.m.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Short (D-Mo) said Thursday Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, will be asked to explain to Congress details of the controversial "Operation Smack" in which American troops were hurled in a futile and costly attack against a Korean hill Sunday.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Communications Commission Thursday granted application for a television station in Roswell, N. M., to John A. Barnett, Roswell.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, accepting Secretary of State Dulles' ward on the loyalty of his appointees, Thursday resumed digging into the log-jam of State Department nominations.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Chairmen of the House and Senate Labor Committees predicted Thursday the Eisenhower Administration will revive a once-discarded cost-of-living index despite CIO opposition.

A KNOCK ON EVERY DOOR—

Midland Mothers Poised For March

Midland mothers are set for action Thursday night in the greatest single, all-out effort in the 1953 fund-raising campaign for the March of Dimes.

Mothers participating in the March are alerted for action and plan a door-to-door appeal to the citizens of Midland. Sirens on police cars and at fire stations will sound one full minute at 6 p.m. This will be the signal for Midlanders to open up their hearts and give generously to the Mother who soon will be knocking on their door.

Due to the early hour of the Mothers' March, the lighting of the porchlight is not being stressed this year. Mrs. Ray O. Howard, Mothers' March chairman advised, "We are not going to depend on people turning on their porchlight so early in the evening; we plan to contact each Midland home. However, a porchlight burning will be a special invitation to our workers."

Mrs. Howard urged that the entire family participate in giving to the March of Dimes.

Workers Carry Scrolls
The volunteer workers may be identified by the official scrolls they will carry for donors to sign. The Mothers will turn in their collections at their respective elementary schools, where members of the Midland Police Department will be on hand to assist. A central depository will be established at City Hall, where the funds collected will be counted in the City Council room. It is expected that money will begin to arrive at City Hall soon after the close of the extensive hour-long drive. Tabulations should be completed before midnight.

Mrs. Howard announced that if any Midland home was missed during the 6 to 7 p.m. Mothers' March on Polo, they should call 4-8329 if they wish to contribute and some one will be dispatched to pick up the contribution.

"Join the March of Dimes tonight in order that a polio victim may walk or breathe tomorrow," she urged.

Midland May See Moon In Eclipse
Midlanders have a chance to see the shadow of the earth shade the eyes of the man in the moon Thursday.

The total eclipse actually starts at 2:38 p.m. Midland time, and will continue until 7:38 p.m. But the best time to watch will be about 3:45 and thereafter when the sun is moving out of the way and the full moon is almost completely obscured by the long shadow.

A few clouds and swirls of dust may prevent Midlanders from getting a good clean look at the astronomical spectacle. CAA observers at Terminal expect winds to start picking up speed to about 25 miles an hour shortly after sunset.

It will be the first full eclipse visible here since Sept. 28, 1950.

Draft Delinquency Declines In Texas
AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas' draft delinquency dropped 17 per cent during the last year, State Selective Service Headquarters reported Thursday.

Director Paul H. Wakefield said 796 delinquents were on local board rolls at the beginning of 1953, compared to 938 a year ago.

Two Planes Missing, Third Down On North Pacific's Rim

SEATTLE—(AP)—One plane was known Thursday to have crashed and two others were missing and presumed down in the latest series of aviation disasters along the North Pacific rim.

Twenty-two persons aboard the three planes were missing, including Capt. Julian D. Greer, commander of Fleet Air Wing 6, stationed at the Alameda Naval Air Station, Calif.

A total of 298 persons are known dead or are missing in 10 previous military plane disasters around the North Pacific rim from Tokyo to Alaska to Montana since November 7.

The pilot of a Central British Columbia Airways plane which went down Tuesday was found alive on a windswept beach 400 miles north of Vancouver, B. C., Wednesday night. Also found was the body of one of his passengers.

Captain Greer Greer was aboard a U. S. Navy P4Y patrol plane which vanished Wednesday over the Puget Sound country of Western Washington on a flight from Alameda to Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, 50 miles north of here. Nine other Navy personnel were aboard the craft.

Missing in the wilds of Central British Columbia was an RCAF Dekota which disappeared Wednesday while on a training flight with seven men aboard.

James J. Siddle, pilot of the CBCA plane, said the craft sank after striking a submerged log when he tried to attempt an emergency landing. Siddle said as the plane started to sink he ordered the passengers to don lifejackets and make for the beach, 200 yards distant.

The Navy at Alameda also released the names of three men aboard the P4Y, including Captain Greer. The other two, both from Alameda, were identified as Lt. O. C. Everhart and Aviation Technician 1/c T. W. Huffman.

Wilson Order May Let Pair Retain Stocks

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Robert T. B. Stevens and Harold Talbott agreed Thursday to sell disputed stock interests to win Senate confirmation as secretaries of the Army and Air Force.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Under pressure from President Eisenhower for speedy action, the Senate Armed Services Committee Thursday began hearings on his selection of three businessmen to be secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force.

When the committee convened, Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) disclosed that the President wrote him Wednesday asking a committee hearing Thursday.

Two sudden developments late Wednesday indicated the new Administration is willing to face up to a probable Senate fight over confirmation of two of them.

The first move came from Charles E. Wilson, confirmed by the Senate as new secretary of Defense after he agreed to sell his $2,500,000 worth of General Motors stock.

Wilson issued an order that might allow the designated secretaries and other defense subordinates to retain stock holdings and still serve as officials.

Public Hearing Opens
The second move came from Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, announcing Thursday's public hearing on the three men Wilson selected to serve under him:

Robert T. B. Stevens, Connecticut textile industry head, designated as secretary of Army; Robert E. Anderson, Texas-oil and land man, secretary of Navy; and Harold E. Talbott, New York industrialist, secretary of Air.

Prior to these moves, Senate leaders had predicted neither Stevens nor Talbott could be confirmed unless, like Wilson, they disposed of their stock and other interests in corporations doing defense business.

Anderson previously testified he holds no stock or interests in corporations. (Continued On Page 10)

2,200 Diseased Hogs Worth $80,000 Killed
KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Some 2,200 hogs were destroyed Thursday by state health authorities as a result of the latest outbreak of vesicular exanthema.

The swine, valued at $80,000, are owned by the George Bennett Construction Company. They were ordered destroyed when the second outbreak of the disease was discovered.

Five Jurors Still Lacking For Parsons Murder Trial
WICHITA FALLS—(AP)—Weary lawyers settled down Thursday to the tedium of choosing the last half of the jury to try Mary Jean Parsons on charges of murdering her husband.

They agreed on one man out of 11 questioned before noon and early hopes of choosing the five still needed Thursday began to fade.

Two days of tense questioning of veniremen, marked by occasional displays of temper by rival lawyers, had resulted in six jurors being qualified. The lawyers were quieter and less argumentative Thursday but the courtroom atmosphere remained tense.

Seventy-nine prospective jurors were left to choose from at noon.

The seventh man selected was Norris Turpin, 30, State Highway Department auto mechanic.

The Tulsa, Okla., heiress, 22, blonde and blue-eyed, was charged with slaying her bridegroom, Army Lt. Richard O. Parsons, 24, last February 16, Parsons, Pleasantville, N. Y., was shot in the head as he lay on a bed in their El Paso apartment.

Sane In May
Mrs. Parsons was found sane in a hearing at El Paso, May 27. Defense attorneys indicated in their questioning of jurors they would seek to prove she was insane when the fatal shooting occurred.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Fleezer, Tulsa, have kept her in a private mental hospital.

Defense lawyers also have served notice of an application for a suspended sentence if she is found guilty.

In two unsuccessful attempts to bring the case to trial here, September 28 and October 15, District Attorney William Clayton of El Paso said he would not seek a sentence of death. This time no definite announcement has been made, and veniremen were queried on their attitude toward the death penalty.

Bracero Meeting Set In San Angelo

ABILENE — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has called a meeting in San Angelo February 9 of representatives of 30 organizations that represent users of Mexican national workers and agencies charged with administering and enforcing the U. S. Mexican migrant labor agreement. Governor Shivers and West Texas congressmen have been invited.

R. M. Fielder of Abilene, chairman of the WTCC Agriculture and Livestock Committee, said a number of organizations had suggested that the meeting be held. He said they feel that all Texas user groups should attempt to reach a unified policy as to extension of Public Law 78, under which the labor agreement is negotiated, and changes in the agreement itself. The present agreement will expire in December, 1953.

WTCC headquarters said 48,000 braceros were used in West Texas last year.

Industrial Atomic Energy Use Nears, Trails Schedules

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) Wednesday reported sharp new advances toward perfecting atomic power for industrial use and to drive aircraft and submarines. It said there had been progress in virtually every department of its vast enterprise.

But construction work has fallen behind schedule at its Savannah River, S. C. plant where materials of the projected hydrogen bomb are to be made, the commission said. It blamed "delays in the delivery of supplies and equipment."

The commission, in its thirteenth semi-annual report to Congress, announced that detailed studies have demonstrated the American public has nothing to fear—either now or in the foreseeable future—from the blast and radioactivity effects of weapons tests conducted at the commission's proving ground in Nevada.

The AEC said it was prompted to give this assurance because of "public concern in some communities."

Some Day The Twain Shall Meet

NEW ULM, MINN.—(AP)—Limey, a 75-pound English bulldog, is being controlled by a semaphore system these days.

Owned by Mrs. R. A. Schmucker, Limey became so bolterous recently he brought death to his playmate Augustus, a cat belonging to Clifford Fering, a neighbor.

When the Fering replaced Augustus with a Labrador pup named King, there were mixings that Limey might start tossing his fatal weight around again. So the two families worked out the signal ritual.

When the bulldog leaves the house Mrs. Schmucker puts a sign in the window reading "Limey out." King stays in. And vice versa for the Fering. So far, the system has worked so well neither pet has seen the other.

Clown And Classicist Vow To Go Separate Ways Together

By ERIKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Behind the Screen: There will be no teaming of Charles Laughton and his wife, Elsa Lanchester, as an intellectual Ma and Pa Kettle on those Paul Gregory-sponsored concert tours which are making a mint for some movie stars.

Just back from a 14-week, 77-city trek as the star of "Elsa Lanchester's Private Music Hall"—two hours of Elsa in character comedy, recitations, songs and patter "spiked with a little seriousness"—she confessed a professional divorce from Laughton with:

"We've grown apart artistically. He reads the classics and I'm a clown. He's learned to be himself—something he never did as an actor when he always became the character he was playing. I can't be myself. I have to be somebody else. Besides, if we teamed up and one of us became ill, we wouldn't have anything."

Elsa followed the concert trail pioneered by Laughton and blushed that he heard a lot along the way about "Charles blowing his top." She laughed it off with:

"I can imagine what happened. He probably referred to the stage lighting, or something, as hopeless. But when Charles says something is hopeless, the way he says it is a little overpowering."

"Blubber" Battle

Merv Griffin, the ex-Freddy Martin band vocalist, due for a star buildup at Warner Brothers, is confessing that he's in the same low-calorie league with Mario Lanza. Now a trim 160 pounds for his role with Kathryn Grayson in "The Grace Moore Story," Merv said:

"In 1948 I was singing on a national radio show from a San Francisco station as 'America's Romantic Singing Star.' I weighed 240 pounds but I was too stupid to understand why I was never allowed an audience or why the network never released my photograph. I didn't think I was too fat until I met Joan Edwards."

"She came to the studio, listened to the show and then collared me with:

"Look, boy. I think your singing is the end. But that blubber has to go."

"That did it. I went out and lost 80 pounds in six months. But it's still a weight fight with me."

Homelown Honors Rosemary Clooney

MAYSVILLE, KY.—(AP)—A little girl who sang barefooted in the streets here for pennies and nickels returned Wednesday in mink to the plaquists of thousands of her home-folks.

Rosemary Clooney, who skyrocketed to fame with the singing of such songs as "Come On-a My House," was back home for the world premier of her first motion picture, Paramount's "The Stars Are Singing."

Mayor Rebekah Hord recalled during the celebration that Rosemary and her sister, Bettie, now making recordings in Detroit, sang barefooted in the streets as children.

In a 20-minute parade Wednesday, Rosemary, draped in a $10,000 mink coat, rode atop the back seat of a red convertible. Later, she was commissioned a Kentucky colonel.

'Cheers For Chubby' Is Billed At Texan Drive-In Theater

"Cheers For Chubby," a colorful, animated short on how and why overweight persons should lose weight, will be shown at the Texan Drive-In Theater here Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Manager Carroll Jones announced. The film, he said, has been recommended by the Texas Medical Association.

"Physicians for a long time have advocated that people who are overweight should reduce," Jones stated. "They have pointed out that obesity not only is unfashionable, but also unhealthy."

"Excess weight frequently is associated with such serious illness as heart disease, diabetes and arthritis."

"Texas doctors also have warned, however, that the safe and sane way to permanent weight reduction is proper dieting under medical supervision," Jones said.

"Cheers for Chubby" gives the public information about the dangers of overweight, and shows proper methods of reducing.

The film, which will be shown as a public service, is co-sponsored by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, the Public Health Service, the American Medical Association and the Texas Medical Association.

Arsenic Capsules Touch Off Probe Of Woman's Death

SHREVEPORT, LA.—(AP)—An investigation has been started by Coroner Willis P. Butler to determine if the death of a Texas woman in a Shreveport hospital was caused by capsules she got from a drug store on a doctor's prescription.

Butler identified the woman as Mrs. J. W. Cross, 41, Linden, Texas. He said her husband and Joe Lout, a Jefferson hospital technician, also became sick after taking some of the capsules.

Mrs. Cross died January 14 after transferring to a Shreveport hospital from a clinic at Jefferson. She had been ill with the flu since January 8.

Butler said his analysis showed the capsules contained arsenic.

The druggist told the Shreveport Journal the capsules he used in filling the prescription came out of a jar of 1,000 such capsules he had purchased from a nationally-known drug manufacturing concern. He said, "We have filled numerous prescriptions from the jar and no other complaints concerning prescriptions have been received."

Italy Seeks Lowered American Aid Budget

ROME—(AP)—Italy proposes to get along with 60 per cent less American aid next year.

NEW ULM, MINN.—(AP)—Limey, a 75-pound English bulldog, is being controlled by a semaphore system these days.

Owned by Mrs. R. A. Schmucker, Limey became so bolterous recently he brought death to his playmate Augustus, a cat belonging to Clifford Fering, a neighbor.

When the Fering replaced Augustus with a Labrador pup named King, there were mixings that Limey might start tossing his fatal weight around again. So the two families worked out the signal ritual.

When the bulldog leaves the house Mrs. Schmucker puts a sign in the window reading "Limey out." King stays in. And vice versa for the Fering. So far, the system has worked so well neither pet has seen the other.

Arsenic Capsules Touch Off Probe Of Woman's Death

SHREVEPORT, LA.—(AP)—An investigation has been started by Coroner Willis P. Butler to determine if the death of a Texas woman in a Shreveport hospital was caused by capsules she got from a drug store on a doctor's prescription.

Butler identified the woman as Mrs. J. W. Cross, 41, Linden, Texas. He said her husband and Joe Lout, a Jefferson hospital technician, also became sick after taking some of the capsules.

Mrs. Cross died January 14 after transferring to a Shreveport hospital from a clinic at Jefferson. She had been ill with the flu since January 8.

Butler said his analysis showed the capsules contained arsenic.

The druggist told the Shreveport Journal the capsules he used in filling the prescription came out of a jar of 1,000 such capsules he had purchased from a nationally-known drug manufacturing concern. He said, "We have filled numerous prescriptions from the jar and no other complaints concerning prescriptions have been received."

Italy Seeks Lowered American Aid Budget

ROME—(AP)—Italy proposes to get along with 60 per cent less American aid next year.

A tentative budget sent to the Legislature Thursday calls for 80 million dollars of U. S. help, as compared with 190 millions in this fiscal year.

Pointing to wounds in his hip, thigh and arm, Plimbe theorized: "I must have raked up a shotgun shell."

Eisenhower At His Best

In President Eisenhower's inaugural address, Americans could feel a nobility of utterance which befits the solemnity of his coming to power.

Admirably, he seemed to sense and voice the aspirations of all decent mankind, as he assumed the leadership of the world's most powerful nation at a moment in history when free men's struggle against tyrannical communism is yet unresolved.

His words were free of malice, of partisanship, of the narrow preachments of nationalism. They were meant for all liberty-loving men on all the continents of the earth.

They bespoke intense conviction that the American faith, founded on freedom and democracy, is great and ennobling. Still, the new President's unquestioned pride in that faith was mellowed by deep humility.

Again and again he employed language aptly turned to reassure all the friends of liberty, including those who most often have been doubtful of the nature and steadfastness of American purpose.

Sincerity rang in his declaration that the peoples of every corner of the globe must be viewed and treated as equals, that we Americans do not intend to force upon any of them anywhere the specific tenets which we have derived from our broad faith in freedom.

Able Eisenhower appealed to the hearts of the British, the French, the other Europeans, the whole of Asia and of the Western Hemisphere, knowing well how vital it is that they all remain enlisted in the cause of liberty against slavery.

He plainly stated that America, being the strongest of these, must lead the struggle. But he made it just as clear that America can spread its faith only by the excellence of its own example.

This was Eisenhower at the pinnacle of the talent for which he is most celebrated—the consummate ability not simply to bring men of basically common purpose together but to stir them to brave action in pursuit of that aim.

Nothing better illustrates the humble spirit of his dedication to high duty than the personal prayer he offered in prelude to his address. In an important sense, it not only set the tone for the words that followed and the actions that still are to come.

All Americans now must utter their own prayer that President Eisenhower will be granted the strength for which he pleads as he assumes the heaviest tasks any human can undertake in this world.

He must have these bulwarks supporting him if he is to help make his own greatest promise come true—that "the future shall belong to the free."

An Industrial Miracle

Along a bend of the Delaware River less than two years ago, rich farmland stretched away to the west in the vicinity of the town of Morrisville, Pa.

Despite some reports, this is not the largest integrated mill in the land. In basic steel capacity, it ranks about fourteenth in the country.

Yet no complete mill ever was built in so short a time (22 months), and none effected so vast a transformation of the surrounding territory.

The plant reflects something else—a shift in emphasis away from the Pittsburgh and Chicago producing areas toward the seaboard. The explanation is the increasing dependence of U. S. mills on foreign ores to supplement declining domestic sources of iron.

This new mill is a miracle of industrial accomplishment. The industry, and U. S. Steel, merit the nation's congratulations. Through imaginative, venturesome effort such as this, America grows in strength and security.

A Texas man married his cook and then divorced her. What he needs is a fireless cooker.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: President Eisenhower still worried over ammunition shortage; Ike won't surrender to senators re jobs; Gen. Wilton Persons was key figure in Wilson's stock sale.

WASHINGTON—One thing very much on President Eisenhower's mind as he said good-bye to new UN Commander General Maxwell Taylor was the ammunition shortage in Korea.

Ike fears we won't have enough ammunition on hand to launch a full-scale offensive for some time. When he was in Korea he found that howitzers were limited to five rounds a day—although this has been improved since he left. He also is worried over the small amount of heavy ammunition in the front lines, as differentiated from reserve stores behind the lines.

Real fact is that we are short of ammunition, not only in Korea, but have fallen down in our shipments both to Indo-China and Formosa. This will be one of Charles E. Wilson's first jobs to remedy as secretary of Defense.

1600 Pennsylvania Ave. New Ike appointments in the works: Robert Sprague of the Sprague Electric Company, North Adams, Mass., to be undersecretary of the Air Force. Harold Vance, head of Studebaker, to take over the National Production Authority and Defense Mobilization. Bernard Shanley of Newark, N. J., counsel of the New Jersey Republican State Committee, is getting an FBI clearance for Arthur Vandenberg's job on the White House staff. Tom Stevens then will move up to be Ike's appointment secretary—the job held by Matt Connelly under Truman. On the Monday before inauguration, Maj. John Eisenhower walked all over Washington without a single soul recognizing him. He has tried to entice Fred Seaton, the Nebraska publisher who made such a fine senator, back to Washington as a member of the White House staff. So far Seaton has resisted.

Appointment Method Regardless of protests from Messrs. Taft-Millikin-Knowland, the White House just isn't going to clear all the job appointments with the senators the way the senators want.

What the solons want is for Eisenhower to give them the initiative, let them propose the names, then have the White House appoint. What the White House is going to do is to give the job to the senators.

So They Say

We are at war with the Soviet Union now. It is a war of minds. —Former Communist prisoner Robert Vogeler.

The American people will accept no excuse—short of a world war—for failure to cut down these (military) expenditures. —Senator Walter George (D-Ga.).

It follows that the axe falls with cruel regularity on many heads, careers are wrecked, stomach ulcers flourish and the urge to win takes much joy from what should be sport. —Senator Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), on "big time" college football.

You are sending a birthday gift to a friend both you and your husband know.

WRONG: Put just your own name on the enclosure card. RIGHT: Put both your names on the card.

do, on the other hand, is to propose the names, then let the senators OK.

This is what FDR did when his Administration was in top gear. FDR never let the senators initiate, except for minor jobs and except for his favorite senators, Truman, in trying to appease the Senate, let it get the upper hand on jobs and never really recovered his appointive power. The more he appeased, the more the Senate demanded.

C. E. Wilson's Stock Credit Gen. Wilson "Blick" Persons, the new White House contact man for Congress, with tipping the scales with Eisenhower to have Charles E. Wilson sell his General Motors stock.

Persons used to be Army contact man with Congress during the war, knows what makes the boys on Capitol Hill tick. From the first, he kept telling Ike that Wilson would have to divest himself of G.M. stock. Later, Persons went further, told the President Wilson was in trouble not merely over his stock but because of his arrogant attitude toward the senators.

Certain others around the President didn't agree, argued that if Ike surrendered on Wilson he could get no experienced businessmen in his Cabinet, would end up with hack politicians around him.

Ike sided with General Persons, put the heat on Wilson, told him he'd fight for his confirmation and fight for a chance for him to do a good job at the Pentagon—if he divested.

Note — At a famous dinner party at the F Street Club in 1948, Ike horrified Senator Taft and some other Republicans by saying that when a boy was asked to give up his life for his country he saw no reason why businessmen should not give up their profits in wartime. Perhaps that was in the President's mind when he pressured Wilson.

Naval Feud Retiring Secretary of Defense Lovett had rigged it so that his pet, Assistant Secretary of the Navy John Floberg, former attorney for the Chicago Tribune, would be in charge of the Navy during the Truman-Eisenhower change-over. He had both Floberg and Francis Whitehair, who outranks him as undersecretary of the Navy, send in their resignations at the same time, both addressed to the "President of the United States."

But watchful Don Dawson of the Truman White House staff carefully lost Whitehair's resignation, let Floberg's be accepted. So today, Whitehair, who, thanks to Dawson didn't resign on time, is secretary of the Navy while waiting for Ike's nominee, Bob Anderson of Texas, to be confirmed.

Washington Pipe Line New Secretary of State Dulles wants to move his personal office from the sleek modern State Department Building near the Potomac to the gnarled and ugly old State Department next door to the White House. He wants his office in the same building where his grandfather served as Secretary of State, leaving all other State Department officials several blocks away. If sentiment prevails over practicality, General "Beetle" Smith, undersecretary of State, will end up running the State Department. Ellsworth Bunker, Truman's ambassador to Italy, was offered the important job as assistant secretary of State for Latin American affairs by John Foster Dulles. Bunker turned it down on the ground that he's a Democrat.

Although there's supposed to be unification of the armed services, a backstage battle is brewing over which service should be in charge of guided missiles. So far, all three have been duplicating by experimenting on guided missiles. When the program goes into full production, however, a Guided Missiles Corps will be set up either in the Army, Navy, or Air Force, and Ike will have a tough time deciding which.

Under The Dome As the incoming and outgoing vice presidents rode up the Capitol elevator together, 38-year-old Nixon kidded 75-year-old Barkley about his weight. "This elevator wasn't built for a fat man," needed Nixon. "Don't look at me," replied Barkley. "I'm lean as a bug's whip." Ex-Senator Brewster of Maine spends as much time around the Senate now as before his defeat. Vice President Nixon has had a little trouble finding anyone who'll accept the job as his aide. A—During the Revolutionary War, Cornwallis' soldiers had to wade across rivers into which tar had been poured in their march from Wilmington, N. C.

Q—Why does the North Star not rise and set?

A—It is directly over the earth's axis so rotation does not affect its position as seen from the earth.

Q—Why is a fashionable part of London called Mayfair?

A—It is the site of the old fair, formerly held during May.

Q—Who invented the rocking chair?

A—Benjamin Franklin.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service It was no surprise to me when the Swedish team won the European championship last September. In Jan Wohlin, known affectionately as "the fat boy," the Swedish team has one of the finest card players in the world.

I look forward with pleasure to the book of the 256 hands of the recent world championship match in New York largely because so many fine hands were played by Wohlin. (Bridge fans won't find this tournament book in the stores; it's being published at cost by the American Contract Bridge League.)

Today's hand was played by the 280-pound expert in the finals of the match between Sweden and

A card game hand layout showing North, West (D), East, and South positions with various cards and suits listed.

Italy last September. Wohlin pulled an "impossible" game out of the fire by giving an opponent a chance to make a crucial mistake.

West opened his singleton diamond, and East took the ace and returned the suit to let West ruff. West shifted to clubs, properly enough, forcing out Wohlin's ace.

At this moment things looked very bad for our hero. He already had lost two tricks, he was bound to lose the ace of trumps, and he couldn't exactly eat the losing ten of clubs.

What would you do if you were playing the hand? Can you see any chance for the contract—even if you assume that an opponent will make some reasonable mistake?

Wohlin calmly led a spade to dummy's ace and returned the nine of diamonds from the dummy. East saw no reason to play the queen of diamonds (which would set up the rest of dummy's diamonds) since his partner was ruffing diamonds. So East played low, and Wohlin discarded the ten of clubs and held his breath.

Poor West had to ruff with the ace of trumps, which meant that Wohlin had combined his club loser and his trump loser on the same trick. Now nothing could stop him!

Maybe it wasn't such a good chance, but it was the only chance there was. I take off my hat to a player ingenious enough to find such a "shot in the locker."

At the coroner's office where he is to meet her, Carney has been first with the wife of the man who knows the name of the woman who bought the perfume from Bill Jones' store.

XVI

WE dined at Sam's Grill. The only point that registered heavily with me in our talk was that she must be making about $20,000 a year. She had been the first buyer into France after the war. Apparently she spent all her time getting options on the entire output of several perfume factories in the Grasse region and in the north. When she got back, she picked her town, her store and her salary. It was just that simple.

I didn't mention the little Jacobs man lying in the dirty farmhouse outside Danestown. It wasn't a dinner subject and somehow I didn't know how to bring it up. I got my opening when Dan'l thanked me for getting her supplies delivered to her.

"But Mr. Jacobs was gone again. We had an awful time finding things. He has a highly individual system down there."

"Come again?" I asked quickly. "When was he gone before?" "Oh, that was just day before yesterday. He went home early, about 3 o'clock, I think. He didn't feel well."

"That didn't mean a thing to me. It gave my girl something to talk about," she laughed. "Mr. Jacobs is the punctual soul. He comes by the same streetcar every morning and he always leaves at the same time every night. He eats his lunch at the same time every day. His watch always has the right time; his shoes are always shined and he always wears the same gray suit. Once he told me he had four suits, all alike. When he went home early, half the people in the store fainted dead away."

"That's fine," I grinned. "Was he really sick when he went home day before yesterday?" "Dan'l frowned and made an obvious effort to remember. "I don't know," she said finally. "Maybe that's just his trick when he wanted to take stuff out of the stockroom."

"Oh," she said dully. "It was Mr. Jacobs. I didn't think. He took the..."

GOP Faces Policy Showdown On Anti-Trust Prosecutions

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—An organized campaign to gain Republican Administration relaxation on anti-trust suit prosecution now is headed for a showdown in the new Congress.

This campaign has been going on actively almost a year. It probably will reach a climax this Spring when the American Law Institute meets in Washington.

One of the principal topics for consideration will be whether a helpful study can be made by Congress, looking toward a restatement of national policy on anti-trust law.

Business leaders have been critical of what they considered harassment by the Department of Justice Anti-Trust Division, ever since the early days of the New Deal. This criticism was intensified in the last eight months of the Truman Administration, when the outgoing attorney general, James P. McGranery, tried to get the anti-trust docket on a more current basis.

The drive against overzealousness in anti-trust prosecutions may have had its beginnings in an article by Prof. S. Chesterfield Oppenheim in the Michigan University Law Review last June. He urged a re-examination of policy to determine where the government was headed in its enforcement of anti-trust laws. He declared there were overlaps in jurisdiction between Department of Justice and Federal Trade Commission.

Professor Oppenheim suggested that a privately financed "committee on revision" should advise Congress on writing a new anti-trust policy. He suggested that a new statement be written to include three things:

1. Define the fundamental ideology of private competitive enterprise under American capitalism.

2. Declare that competition under the anti-trust laws should be "workable competition."

3. Adopt a "rule of reason" as the master yardstick in interpreting anti-trust law.

Proposition Was Studied This Oppenheim article was introduced in the proceedings of the American Bar Association in San Francisco last Fall. An anti-trust section of the ABA held its first sessions at this convention.

Shortly before, the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce had begun a study of Oppenheim's proposition. The California Chamber took it up and tried to get the U. S. Chamber of Commerce to do likewise.

Finally, the Business Advisory Council of the U. S. Department of Commerce in December issued a lengthy report on "effective competition," which was a detailed study of anti-trust law enforcement.

The 19 recommendations in the report included a restatement of the need for new definitions of competition and application of the rule of reason. It also suggested creation of a conference section in Department of Justice.

will not know what to do if partner makes a minimum rebid in hearts.

TODAY'S QUESTION The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades A-Q-J-7-3, Hearts 7-3-4, Diamond 3, Clubs K-J-7-3-2. What do you do?

port and hung briefly on the flap door. Dan'l caught it with a quick grab.

She turned it slowly, reading the fancy gilt labels. "You have exotic tastes, Mr. Wilde," she said softly. "This is our best brand."

"It's part of the loot Jacobs copped from the store. No doubt about it coming from your stock!" "Not in this town," she said firmly. "I sewed up the exclusive right years ago."

"It's evidence, I guess," I said. I leaned closer to her. "Are you wearing that perfume now?" I inhaled with a gusty sound.

"Same thing," she said softly. "It's Nicot's Memoire d'Amour. I have a tiny bottle, about so big." She measured off a half-inch on one finger.

It was designed to make strong men grit their teeth with restraint. It was a clear, direct scent that wouldn't be out of place 'n' sunlight, but it was made for dim quiet places, still evenings near the water, a moonlit terrace, the shadowed seat of my car.

HER mouth moved slowly across my cheek, slowly, slowly, and then paused. It was a long hushed moment before she broke away and leaned against the car door again.

"You really think it's all right for me?" she asked again. "It's not half good enough," I said hoarsely.

She smoothed her hand briefly across my chin and smiled broadly with the wide darning smile of a very young girl. "Good," she chorused. "Then I'll keep the bottle."

I made a swift lunge across the seat for her, stabbing out with one hand. All that was a mistake. My thigh bounced off the steering wheel and that threw my hand farther to the right than I had intended. My fingers barely tipped the squat flaring flask of perfume. Tipped it just enough to send it crashing against the side of my car near the open door.

Dan'l Boone's perfume was nothing like that. I don't know what it smelled like, but it wasn't roses.

NOT GUILTY BUT GRATEFUL

WAMPVILLE, N. Y.—(AP)—Elders of the Presbyterian Church say they didn't insert that attendance-pulling advertisement in a newspaper last week—but they'd like to thank whoever did.

The plea, appearing in the classified section of the Oneida Daily Dispatch, said:

"Wanted, men, women and children to sit in slightly used pews, Sunday morning; Wampville Presbyterian Church."

A spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, said attendance jumped from 12 two weeks ago to 36 last Sunday.

Texas Lawmakers Eye New Needs For Money

By MARTHA COLE
AUSTIN—(AP)—Two more "wants" that will cost money came to the Legislature Thursday: another deaf school building and a legislators' pay raise.

A committee from the House skipped lunch and went out to the State School for the Deaf in South Austin Wednesday. They said they didn't find conditions as "deplorable" as the Legislature had been told, but repairs were needed and a new building was "worthy of consideration."

Legislators argued in the House committee whether they ought to raise the people of Texas to raise the pay of legislators to $25 a day for the first 120 days of a session and $5 a day thereafter. The committee finally approved by a 12-3 vote a measure doing that and sent it to the floor.

Another committee of the House approved 15 bills abolishing obsolete state agencies such as the Naval Board and the Board for the Volunteer Army of the Spanish American War and sent those bills to the House "Getting rid of dead-wood," said Rep. Horace Houston, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee.

Still another House committee set to work on a congressional redistricting measure by naming four subcommittees to work on a regional basis. Texas was entitled to its twenty-second congressman because of population growth shown in the 1950 census. But the Legislature didn't get around to reapportioning congressmen in 1951, so the old districts and let the state elect a congressman-at-large. Martin Dies of Jasper won the job last Summer.

Will Inspect Prison
The House Committee on Penitentiaries decided to make a three-day inspection visit to the Huntsville Prison starting February 12.

Both the House and Senate met only in the morning and adjourned for the day to let the committees get to work. Meetings went on on the floor of the House and in the conference rooms of the gallery.

Eight members of the House Committee on State Hospitals and Special Schools went out, unannounced, to the school for the deaf after a plea on the floor for a special committee was sidetracked.

"It's a serious situation if it's as we've heard," said Rep. Will Smith, Beaumont. "Their blood would be on our hands if something happens to one or 100 of these children."

The committee tramped through bleak dormitories where iron beds stood in neat rows, 30 to a room, where old wooden floors squeaked in the classrooms, where three single bare light bulbs hung from the ceiling for 60 boys in a study room.

Reasonably Well Heated
"We find the buildings are well supplied with fire escapes and reasonably well heated and ventilated," the committee said in its report. It added that the walls, foundations and floors were in good condition but the buildings needed paint, ceilings and roofs needed repairing, more toilets and showers were needed.

It told the school wishes to place children in three separate groups according to abilities and to do so would mean, perhaps, a new building.

One bill introduced in the House would abolish a tax, the two cents levied on each $100 valuation of property to pay Confederate pensions. The author, Rep. D. H. Buchanan, Longview, said the Confederate pension fund now had some four million dollars in it—more than enough to pay the claims of the two Confederate veterans and more Confederate widows now living in Texas as long as needed.

Another bill, by Rep. Stanley Banks, Jr., San Antonio, would require that dogs be vaccinated for rabies in all counties where a rabies case has occurred in the previous year.

The House passed one bill and sent it to the Senate. It validates a 1952 election in 12 counties of West Texas setting up the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

UN Starts Loyalty Check On Employees

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The United Nations lined up its American employees Thursday for fingerprinting as the first step of a screening process to weed from its staff American Communists or those deemed loyalty risks to the United States.

The fingerprinting began with a few women secretaries late Wednesday, shortly after U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr. arranged with UN Secretary General Trygve Lie for the screening machinery. Thursday the process was extended to the rest of the 1,681 American citizens on the UN payroll.

Members of the UN Security Force conducted the printing under supervision of a U. S. Civil Service Commission agent. The UN refused to permit news photographs of the process.

Next each American will fill out a four-page questionnaire which asks, in part, among other questions, "Are you or have you ever been a member of the Communist party or any Communist or Fascist organization?"

Employees considered suspicious by the Civil Service Commission will be investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Because they are top-ranking UN employees, 345 or so Americans will get the FBI's full field investigation process from the start.

Odessa Resident Gets Fine, Probated Term In Tax Case

PORT WORTH—(AP)—An Odessa resident, Ben Sadovnick, was under a probated two-year penitentiary sentence Thursday and had been fined $10,000 after pleading "no contest" to income tax evasion charges.

Sadovnick was indicted in four counts by a special federal grand jury which convened here last Spring.

The indictment charged him with two counts of evasion each in the years 1946 and 1945, but the charges later were dismissed in the 1948 cases.

U. S. Attorney Frank Potter Wednesday told the federal court here Sadovnick's tax shortages for 1946 amounted to about $5,000. The amount will be paid, Sadovnick's attorney said, as soon as Internal Revenue Bureau agents arrive at a definite figure.

Judge T. W. Davidson said he probated Sadovnick's sentence because it was the West Texan's first offense and because of his ill health.

Some 1,100 Americans working for six UN specialized agencies here and abroad will get similar treatment.

For the whole investigation, a one-million-dollar budget was requested of Congress.

If adverse findings are made, the employee can appeal to a U. S. Regional loyalty board here and carry it to a loyalty board in Washington on appeal, if necessary.

The findings will be given to Lie to act on.

Texas' Share Of Cost Of Proposed Federal Budget Cited

ABILENE—Texas taxpayers would be required to pay out approximately $3,255,664,900 in federal taxes as their share of the cost of the federal spending program of $76.6 billion proposed by former President Harry Truman for the fiscal year 1953-54. This statement was released by the State and National Affairs Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The WTCC pointed out that the $3,255,664,900 which would be borne by Texas taxpayers to support the proposed budget submitted by Truman to the new Congress is more than seven times the amount of taxes collected by Texas last year to finance the entire state government. Total cost of Texas government was $650 million, of which $185 represented federal grants.

The WTCC estimated that Texas residents and taxpayers presently bear 4.27 per cent of the total federal tax burden.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The Midland Golden Gloves squad is sure of 20 and thinking of 25 fighters being on hand Friday and Saturday at the Odessa regional tournament.

The more the merrier for Midland; the more the scarier it be for Odessa, which plans to run off with the team trophy.

As it stands now, about 40 will compete on the Odessa team, about a dozen from Monahans, 10 from Andrews, 25 from San Angelo and seven, newly added, from Lubbock's district finals.

And even with a deluge of 120 fighters on the lists—they expect 80 to show—the Odessa officials are holding the length of the tourney to only two days. This week, however, the officials set up the starting time from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

With a rash of entrants, what with Lubbock deciding just a day or so ago to enter at Odessa instead of Amarillo and San Angelo throwing its team in, the regionals will find Midland's Bill Burns and Chilly Reeves not the clinches they seemed to be a week ago.

These two appeared as the only ones in their division earlier if Monahans' defending champion Beany Davis decided to desert Burns' bantamweight class.

Davis did, too. He's a settled featherweight now, but San Angelo is sending two to fight Reeves and a couple of so to compete with Burns. Even Odessa is getting Buddy Mote, the tiger of the teenagers, to go open against Reeves instead of fighting novice class.

Then a similar number of fighters will compete against Burns for the bantam crown. Dan Robles of San Angelo is the chief contention.

Reeves won his title last year unopposed; it won't be so easy with Mote, San Angelo's 1952 champion, Tony Gonzales, and its 1952 novice king, Ronny Wolcott, and a Lubbock district champion competing.

Odessa officials called for weigh-ins by Midland team members for 12 noon Friday with those teams traveling farther to check in during the afternoon. The early times will allow for earliest possible matching.

The officials named these to direct the activities: Drs. James W. Rainier and O. V. Lillie for physical exams and Dr. Jim Beall as official dentist.

Jim Cooper of Odessa, former TCU grizzer, and Bob Carroll of Monahans, former pro fighting in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area, will serve as referees and Basil Wilkerson, Bob Clark, Bill Wooster and A. P. Brown, all from Odessa, will be judges.

Odessa's Paul McCollum is timekeeper and Warren Burnett knock-down counter to fill out the working team.

No trophy will be awarded the novice class championship team, thus killing any attempt of Midland to recapture the same honor it held in the 1951 fights.

Only the award for overall top team—novice and open combined—will be given.

The bout-filled first night Friday will cost $1.50 for ringside, $1.50 reserved, $1.20 general admission and 60 cents tickets. The range Saturday for fewer but finer fights, the finals, goes $2.40, $1.20, $1.20 and 60.

In the whirl of basketball Midland High is caught in a mathematician's nightmare—superstitious one's at that. For instance:

Midland lost three games that it started out leading in the fourth quarter—two oddity. Against Lamesa in their first game December 30, Midland held its biggest fourth period lead at 41-38 before bowing.

Playing against Pampa a week later, Midland jumped out front, 41-38, a biggest fourth period margin, then fell in defeat.

Last week losing to Odessa, the Bulldogs rolled one-over-boxcars—13. They fouled 12 times, scored 13 free throws and 13 field goals, losing when Tuffy Zellars' 13 points led Odessa to a win in Midland's thirteenth game.

This week it was different, the numbers were right. Midland scored 11 points in the first quarter, 11 in the second and 11 in the third. Eleven players were used against Lamesa, whose high point man Eddie Bennett made—you guessed it—11 points.

So Midland season record stays at 11 defeats against three victories. The mathematician says what the deuce!

THEY FLY THROUGH THE AIR—Barbara Ann Scott and Brooklyn's strawberry blond Andra McLaughlin sail through the air in the Hollywood Ice Revue at Madison Square Garden. Miss Scott of Ottawa formerly held the world figure skating championship. (NEA)

Rotary Clips Notrees Quint

ODESSA—Rotary Engineers, tuning up for their cage bout with the Harlem Globe-Trotters, won their second game of the week and eleventh of the season by running over Phillips 66 of Notrees, 88-54, Wednesday night.

Gerald Rogers, Crane coach who will play in the February 7 Trotter game, teamed with Paul Haskins and Glen Whittis, Monahans coach, to pace Rotary scoring.

Rogers netted 20 points, Haskins 20 and Whittis 16.

The Engineers trailed only in the first three minutes then gunned ahead to a 23-13 first quarter margin. They boasted a 43-25 half-time edge.

Other Rotary scorers were Jack Fleming 2, Keith Nicolla, who played a standout floor game, 4, Leland Huffman 11, Frank Branahney 4, E. C. Smith 2 and Charles Hause 9.

SPORTS MIRROR

By The Associated Press
A YEAR AGO—The Chicago White Sox signed First Baseman Eddie Robinson for a reported $25,000 salary.

FIVE YEARS AGO—Joe Maniac, former Fordham and Chicago Bears halfback, signed to coach the St. Louis University football team.

TEN YEARS AGO—Willie Pep, 127 3/4, won his fifty-ninth straight fight, easily defeating Allie Stoltz, 133 1/2 in a 10-rounder.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Jack Crawford, Australian star, defeated Keith Gledhill, former Stanford ace, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2, in the finals of the Australian National Tennis Championships.

Lions Schedule Cage Game In Leader-Dog Fund Drive

Midland Lions Wednesday heightened their drive to put the Irbly Weaver Leader Dog Fund over the top by becoming sponsors for the Phillips 66-Ada Oiler (Houston) basketball game.

Phillips and Ada play at the high school gym February 15; both teams and the game officials will contribute their expenses to the benefit.

The Lions Club, at its Wednesday luncheon meeting, launched the ticket sales campaign by selling $475 worth of tickets to members. Some 2,500 tickets in all were given to Lions for selling throughout the city.

Weaver, a concessionaire at the Post Office Building, will use the funds to travel to a training center, where he will buy a seeing eye dog and spend a month with it in training under supervision.

Lions Johnny Reed is advertising publicity chairman and Copper Daugherty general manager for the fund drive.

Lion Vice President Duke Jimerson, who presided Wednesday in the absence of President L. V. Basham, said tickets could be purchased from any Lions member. The Chamber of Commerce, he said, has put tickets on sale at its office.

Phillips Shoots For 60-Point Mark With Webb Saturday

The Phillips 66 cagers took a beating in statistics during two of their last three games but figure to get ahead again when Webb Air Force Base of Big Spring visits here Saturday.

Even though Webb promises to be tough, Phillips intends to regain a 60-plus game average. For one reason, Jim Line, who has missed the last three games, has rejoined the club.

Then, the game will be played in Cowden gym, at 8 p.m., much to the pleasure of the Oilers. Its court is smaller than the high school floor and encourages more fast breaking on the veterans' part.

And Webb, of course, is no Texas Tech or Bartlesville Phillips team! Against Tech, Midland's 66ers were held to 44 points, and to their lowest season total, 39, against Bartlesville.

That put a crimp into Gerald Tucker's 19-point average and now he's averaging 17.6 through the eight games he's played. He leads the team scorers with 142 points, followed by J. B. Collins' 85.

Claude Houchin, in only four games, has become a welded part of the Oiler machine and boasts the second best scoring average, 13.9 a game on a 55-point total.

Against Tech and Bartlesville, too, the Midland group found itself in the rare position of being a shorter team. With Webb, the 66ers stand high—for a former University of Houston star G. J. Johnson is the biggest at six-foot-four, two inches shorter than 66er Center Don Grove.

The probable other starters for Webb will be Alton C. Mann, 5-9,

Rookie Pitcher Joins Indian Camp; Four Hold-Outs Dicker

The 1953 Midland Indian roster, which looks so familiar with about 16 players returning, will have one new face—that of a rookie.

Angelo High Names Coach

SAN ANGELO—Bob Harrell, head football coach at Miller High School of Corpus Christi the last two years, is the new head coach at San Angelo High School. He was named Wednesday night to succeed Pete Sikes, who resigned recently.

Harrell received a three-year contract at $7,000 annually. He will be given a free reign in selecting assistants and announced that Andy Everett will come from Miller as his top aide. The San Angelo board granted Harrell the authority to name at least five assistants.

Harrell had four wins, four losses and two ties at Miller last year. His team upset Ray of Corpus Christi in one of the year's biggest Class AAAA surprises.

Harrell coached at Lamesa and Greenville before going to Corpus Christi. He won the district title at Greenville one year.

San Jose State commenced playing football in 1898. Since that time the Spartans have met 76 different opponents.

He's Thomas McCormick, already on contract. McCormick, an 18-year-old right-handed pitcher, was offered a contract by the Indians after recommendation by Ed Menapace, 1952 catcher.

The new player is a college sophomore at Highland Park, Del. Meanwhile, Indian Business Manager Horace Busby Thursday said that he's one ahead in receiving signed contracts against those sent back unsigned.

The count is 5-4. Julio de la Torre, third baseman, came to terms Thursday to add his name alongside Menapace, Lou Dawson, Manager Jay Hahey and Eddie Jacome on the inked list.

Coach Catfish Smith announced that 14 backs, five ends, five tackles, five guards and two centers made up the list of sweater-winner.

Brown lettered as a back. East Texas, in 1952, won its second straight Lone Star Conference, taking 10 straight regular season victories and adding the 1953 Tangerine Bowl to its string. The bowl victory was over Tennessee Tech.

The list of lettermen also included Bryant Clark, a back from Lamesa.

Busby said outfielder Bill Brown, pitcher Ralph Blair, infielder-outfielder Charles Stephenson and outfielder-pitcher Glen Selbo refused so far to sign their contracts. Each asks either a raise or a little more time to consider.

Busby said that the club doesn't expect any of the players to be long-term holdouts and expects to get about three of them to sign within a week or so.

Seven Texas Baseball Leagues Planning To Use Negroes On Teams This Season

ATLANTA—(AP)—In professional baseball as in other things, race-conscious Dixie is beginning to lower the barriers which have kept negroes on the outside looking in.

Clubs fielding mixed teams of negro and white players won't be the general practice in the South this year; neither will they be glaring exceptions to the general rule.

It didn't take a law suit or a Supreme Court order to start the transition in baseball as it did in the fields of higher education and public transportation in the South.

Negro players are being used in even tryouts because club owners want them.

Generally, a survey by The Associated Press showed, negroes are being hired for one or two reasons: (1) a belief that negro stars in the lineup will boost attendance, or (2) some particular negro is a better ballplayer than the best available white man.

It also is a general rule that a negro playing on a team in the South must be outstanding, not merely an ordinary performer.

Teams scattered from the Carolinas to Texas plan to use negroes in the 1953 season, and some have been using them for several years. There are areas, however, which still are closed to mixed baseball teams.

Birmingham, Ala., for example, has a city ordinance which bans non-segregated performances.

The survey showed negro players will be used or given tryouts this season in the Texas League and the other six organized leagues in the Lone Star State, in the South Atlantic League, the Tri-State, Gulf Coast, Florida International and possibly other leagues.

Golden Boy Gets Real Test In Bout With Billy Graham

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Art Aragon, the "Golden Boy" of California boxing circles, finds out his chances in the welterweight title picture when he trades punches Thursday night with Billy Graham in a sell-out 10-rounder.

Aragon battled his way to the top in the lightweight division two years ago but lost in a title fight with Champion Jimmy Carter. Some felt he'd worked too hard making the 125-pound limit and wasn't at full strength.

So he started campaigning in the 147-pound class, winning five kayos and one decision in six 1952 fights.

Thursday night is his big test. Graham the New York Irishman who fought Kid Gavilan twice in losing bids for the crown, rates as favorite on his boxing fitness.

But followers of the cocky Los Angeles fighter think his harder belting will win if he finds the range.

Brooklyn Negro Smashes Mieszala, Eyes Heavy Crown

CHICAGO—(AP)—At the rate he is putting on pounds and experience, Floyd Patterson figures he will be a heavyweight title contender in about two years.

Patterson proved conclusively Wednesday night in Chicago Stadium that he is one of the brighter young stars in the boxing business.

The determined 19-year-old negro from Brooklyn smashed Chicago's Chester Mieszala for a fifth round TKO in their scheduled six rounder.

It was Patterson's fifth fight as a pro and his fifth knockout. He turned professional after winning the Olympic middleweight championship last year.

BOSTON—(AP)—It wasn't the ringing but the crash, of an alarm clock that roused a fire department company early Thursday to the plight of a couple trapped by fire.

Unable to leave a second floor bedroom because of the flames, Michael McCarthy, 46, tossed his alarm clock 30 feet through a window of the fire station.

Foking their heads out the window, firefighters saw McCarthy, and his wife, Cecelia, 40, stranded on a small porch outside their bedroom.

NFL Refused Long Distance Video Of Tilts, Official Says

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The government's anti-trust suit against the National Football League was bolstered by the testimony of a television company official Wednesday that he was denied permission to televise two games of the Cleveland Browns.

The witness, Herbert S. Stewart, said NFL Commissioner Bert Bell denied permission to Erie, Pa., TV Station WIGU to televise the games even though the station was outside the 75-mile home territory limit imposed by the league.

Stewart is now executive vice president and general manager of the Orange Broadcasting Company, Tampa, Fla., but was general manager of the Erie Station until last July.

The government charges the pro league violated the Sherman Anti-Trust Act in its TV policy, specifically by setting up home territories

Players, Fans Pick Mangrum In Tucson Golf

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(AP)—The specter of Lloyd Mangrum's winning streak hung over the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament that started Thursday.

Already the winner of three of the five Winter tournaments, Mangrum was the players' and the popular favorite to win the $2,000 first prize money Sunday. He already has won the Tucson event twice.

Three other former Tucson winners have shown they are likely to be strong contenders. Henry Williams, Jr., Reading, Pa., the surprise victor here a year ago, and Chandler Harper, Portsmouth, Va., winner in 1950, teared the 4,402-yard, par-70 El Estero Golf and Country Club layout on the 96's during the pro-amateur event Wednesday.

So did Al Besselink, Grossingers, N. Y.

Jimmy Demaret, Klamath Lake, N. Y., another two-time winner here, captured last week's Thunderbird Tourney in Palm Springs, Calif.

The field of 123 pros and 10 amateurs that teed off Thursday includes almost all the big-name pros except Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Julius Boros, the National Open champion.

Joe Duff, West Virginia University basketball star in 1947-48-49, now is assistant professor of athletics at the U. S. Naval Academy.

FRED SAIGH
... Too tough.

Saigh Fined, Given Term In Tax Case

ST. LOUIS —(AP)—A meteoric, sometimes turbulent rise to baseball success appeared at an end Thursday for Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals who was sentenced to 15 months imprisonment and fined $15,000 for federal income tax evasion.

Pronouncement of the sentence came in Federal Court here Wednesday as Saigh pleaded no defense in a five-count indictment returned against him last Spring, and threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The government at the same time agreed to withdraw three of the five counts against the short, dapper 46-year-old Saigh.

A few hours later Federal Judge Roy W. Harper sentenced him to 15 months in prison on each count, the sentence to run concurrently. He also fined him $10,000 on one count and $5,000 on the second.

Maximum penalty on each count is up to five years imprisonment or a maximum fine of $10,000 or both.

Saigh, who had broken into tears when informed of the indictment last Spring, had to control his voice as he rose to address the court.

"This means, of course, I will have to dispose of the Cardinals," he said. "There is no way I can stay in baseball."

Saigh himself a lawyer, commented he had seen men receive lesser sentences for income tax evasion.

Too Tough

"I think that you have been too tough with me," said he.

Judge Harper replied sharply: "You plead that you are guilty to those essential elements and if you were not guilty you should have stood upon a plea of not guilty. Don't come in and plead before me and then ask me to say you are wrong."

Specifically, the counts Saigh faced charged evasion of $19,299 in taxes. One claimed evasion of $14,551 in 1947 and the other evasion of $4,748 in 1949. The original indictment charged evasion of $49,620 in taxes from 1946 through 1949.

By his own statement Saigh is through in baseball. Free on $2,000 bond, he has until May 4, when the sentence will be enacted, to clear up business matters.

Teamed With Bearden

The prime portion of that business concerns his ball club, a four-million-dollar-plus enterprise to which Saigh holds 90 per cent claim. He originally purchased the club from the late Sam Breadon in 1947 together with the late Bob Hannegan.

By what Saigh termed a "gimmick" in the tax law, he and Hannegan were able to buy the club and its widespread minor league holdings for a cash outlay of only $60,800. The deal also included a two and one-half million dollar fund Breadon had set aside for construction of a new ball park.

A year earlier Saigh had broken into St. Louis business circles with purchase of the Railway Exchange Building in downtown St. Louis. The two business transactions started him on his way to becoming a multimillion-dollar real estate promoter and baseball power.

Houston Five Works Upset On St. Louis

By The Associated Press

Seton Hall, the nation's only undefeated major college basketball team, wangled up its crucial Saturday meeting with Villanova by drubbing Albright Wednesday night, 82-52.

However, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, had to share the spotlight with Houston's 71-70 surprise victory over St. Louis in the Missouri Valley Conference.

It was the first home court defeat for St. Louis in 15 games.

The victory for the supposed conference door mats over the defending league champions was assured with a free throw by Jack McNutt in the last 40 seconds.

The Oklahoma Aggies took a tighter hold on first place in the Missouri Valley by whipping Wichita, 73-59.

Big Walter Dukes flipped in 20 points for Seton Hall, but the Pirates of South Orange, N. J., got a hint of trouble ahead when Villanova rallied in the second half to beat North Carolina State, 89-81.

In other leading games Navy swamped Muhlenberg, 107-72; Army whipped St. Michael's (Vt.) 86-58; Siena took Georgetown (DC) 72-57; Wyoming beat Colorado State, 56-46; and Washington edged the Honolulu Plymouths, 66-63.

Tugboat Jones Sets Dates For Selecting All-Star Team, Beginning Bulldog Drills

Add January 30-31 and February 9 as two big dates on your Midland football calendar.

High School football Coach Tugboat Jones announced those two Thursday—the first one, Friday and Saturday, for a meeting of North coaches to select a team for the annual Texas Coaches Association football game in August and the other, February 9, to open the Midland High School Spring training period.

Five coaches, with Jones acting as committee chairman, will represent the five Texas interscholastic League football divisions and meet to select the all-stars.

Jones will preside over this group: Lee Mitchell of Gladewater, Class AAA; Moon Mullins, Anson, Class AA; Wilson Head, Denver City, Class A and J. T. Russell, Sabina, Class B.

After picking the team to play in the all-star clash, Jones and his football aides at the high school turn then to drilling the Bulldogs through a month Spring training.

Fourteen Midland lettermen report back to Jones for Spring exercises. A few, however, will miss the first few days, along with Coach Red Rutledge, because of the district basketball race.

Lettermen Bill Mims, Rusty Rutledge, John Crowley and Jimmy Mashburn will keep on in basketball race until after the final game February 17 against Odessa.

Jones said he is calling grid training this early to allow for some of the boys who take part in Spring sports to get the benefit of the drills.

BOBBY THOMPSON
... Off and running.

TALK AT CONTRACT SIGNING— Thomson To Be Base Thief In '53, Giant Pilot Claims

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bobby Thomson, one of the fastest men in baseball, will try for more stolen bases this season with the blessing of Manager Leo Durocher.

For years, Thomson's speed has blinded the National League. They talked of a match race with Sam Jethroe. Durocher was willing to pit Bobby against anybody in the league. Still is. But he never stole bases.

In 1950 games with the New York Giants, Thomson has stolen a total of only 26 bases. Last year he pilfered only five. Even in '51 when his playoff homer won the "miracle" pennant, he stole only five. In 1950 the total was three.

"He just doesn't seem to get that extra step," said Durocher at the Giants office after Thomson signed his contract for a reported $35,000. "Sometimes he's there with plenty to spare. Other times he's thrown out when a man like Al Dark would have made it."

Thomson sat quietly listening while the manager made apologies for his failure to steal bases.

"If you want to hear my reaction," he said, "I might as well get in on the discussion, too. I just don't run enough. You only learn to steal bases by practice."

Two Pampa Coaches Sign New Papers

PAMPA —(AP)—Two coaches at Pampa High School have new three-year contracts.

Tom Tipps signed Wednesday as head football coach at a salary of $7,500 a year. Clifton McNeely signed a new contract as basketball coach for $6,500 a year.

Ed Roush holds the Cincinnati Reds' record for hitting safely in consecutive games. Roush hit safely in 27 straight contests in both 1920 and 1924.

Houston Oil Man Might Buy Cards

HOUSTON —(AP)—A multi-millionaire oil man who once yearned to buy the St. Louis Cardinals baseball team was on record Thursday as still interested—if "it is a good business deal."

George W. Strake, oil man, religious and civic leader, Wednesday night commented on his still current interest after learning that Cardinal Owner Fred Saigh had been sentenced to 15 months in federal prison for income tax evasion.

"It is quite like I still would be interested in the purchase of the Cardinals if it is a good business deal," Strake said.

"I was definitely interested in the purchase of the Cardinals prior to their sale by Sam Breadon to Bob Hannegan and Fred Saigh. I have had no reason to keep up with the financial side of the Cardinals since then. Nor do I know what their present assets or liabilities are. I would be interested in them, as a civic institution because I believe baseball is of vital public interest."

The oil man said he once had talked with the late Sam Breadon at some length but that he has had no part in any negotiations about the Cardinals since.

Had Semi-Pro Club

Strake an independent oil operator, a member of the Notre Dame University Board of Lay Trustees, a director of the Mercantile Trust Company of St. Louis and a member of the President's Council of St. Louis University.

His only connection with baseball was the sponsorship of the Conroe, Texas, Strake Oilers, a strong semipro team in the 1930's.

Art Routison, general manager of the Cardinals' Texas League farm club here, said he had heard nothing on the future of the team. He declined to comment otherwise.

Houston Post Sports Editor Clark Nealon wrote that the Houston team can be expected to operate as usual this year, regardless of what happens to the ownership of the Cardinals.

Bulldog Tennis Team Schedules Saturday Match With Abilene

Abilene High netters, whom Midland whipped, 10-6, there last week, take the place of Crane in a tennis match with the Bulldogs here Saturday afternoon.

Coach Frank Ford Thursday announced the change and said that Crane and Midland would play there March 14 and here later on in March possibly the following week. Earlier it was announced the two teams would play Saturday.

Meanwhile Coach Ford added Pyote and Kermil, to the schedule as well as the match Saturday with Abilene.

Pyote entertains the Bulldogs there February 18 and returns the duel March 11. Midland plays at Kermil March 7 with no return set so far.

Other matches put Midland against San Angelo, Colorado City, Snyder and Andrews; the Bulldogs also plan to enter the Odessa tourney in March.

Saturday's match will begin at 1 p.m. Coach Ford said, with both the two new courts in the high school campus and three at Cowden to be used.

The duel marks Midland's first home games.

Midland, Odessa C's Clash In Basketball Bout Here Thursday

Midland High's basketball C-team squares off at 5 p.m. Thursday in the high school gym to take on Odessa's C's in a third game of their series.

The two divided the first two games—the young Bronchos winning first, 42-40, with Midland coming back later, 52-19.

Coach Pat Pattison of Midland probably will choose his starting team from these: Joe Nicholson, Joe Bob Lewallen, Gerald Holt, Bill Hannan, Boyce McKnight, Orman Hubbard and Buddy Mayes.

GRADE SCHOOL RACE— Top Trio Travels To Friday Games

The three unbeaten city elementary grade teams—DeZavala, Sam Houston and West—give up the home court advantage when they travel to Friday's basketball games.

DeZavala, the loop's scoringest club with 129 points in three games, goes to play the winless South school, Sam Houston, visits Crockett and West treks to Lamar school.

A fourth game matches North at Terminal and if the favored North club wins it likely will move into undisputed hold of fourth place.

Two teams tied with North, Crockett and Lamar, are underdogs in their games.

Meanwhile, DeZavala boasts the best record after averaging 43 points a game and allowing 12. Coach Chalmers Burke's team, with Santos Franco its biggest scorer, racked up a 55-23 win last week for the highest number of points totaled in league play so far. Franco hit for 24 in the game to set the individual high this season.

Sam Houston follows second with a 42.7 game average against foes' 16.0 mark. Coach Jerome Blanton's Sam Houston club whipped Terminal, 51-13, last week.

Other last week games saw North edge South, 13-11, and West trim Crockett, 46-36. In a makeup tilt this week, Lamar broke into the win column, 21-16, against North.

Only Two of 42 Marines Live Through Chinese Red Assault

By STAN CARTER

WITH U. S. FIRST MARINE DIVISION, KOREA—(AP)—Only two marines came back. The other 40 died in the savage onslaught of 250 Chinese Reds.

It happened last October. But, because the number of Marine casualties could not be disclosed at the time, the story wasn't told.

Pfc. Curtis Chick Bowlan, 19, was wounded and hospitalized but recovered to fight again with the leathernecks. Now he is about to return to his Huntington, W. Va., home on rotation.

The other only survivor, Pfc. Charles D. Rogers, Arkadelphia, Ark., was evacuated to the U. S. with serious wounds.

Bowlan Thursday told how the Reds swarmed out of the night in a vicious attack on a Marine outpost on a hill near Panmunjom on the Western Front.

The Marines couldn't hold them. The Communists swarmed through the position with bayonets and grenades.

Bowlan and five others fell back to a high point. On the way up, Bowlan fired his machine gun from the hip from the top, the six men held off the Communist attackers six hours. Then they ran out of ammunition.

Communist artillery killed one. "We knocked out a lot of them, but there were just too many for us," Bowlan said. "All of us were wounded bad and hardly had a chance to bandage each other up. All I had left was a .45."

Three groups of Reds assaulted the little knoll where the Marines held out. The Leathernecks knocked them back.

Arm Blown Off

The section leader was a husky sergeant. His arm was blown almost off. Bowlan made a tourniquet with the sergeant's belt and a bayonet. Bowlan was hit in the back with a grenade and was bleeding.

The men tried to get back to their base. They didn't know the Communists had overrun that particular part of the main line.

Bowlan, a slightly built, 140 pounder, tried to help the sergeant along. They became separated from the other four.

"I never saw them again," Bowlan said.

Bowlan carried the 190-pound sergeant 200 or 300 yards. Then he dragged him by the feet through a trench toward their line.

Finally they made it—two lone survivors of a bitter battle for a small knob in Western Korea.

AUSTIN—(AP)—The first congressional redistricting bill in the House this session was filed Thursday.

It would re-align completely Texas' present 21 districts to get in the twenty-second, to which Texas was entitled under the 1950 census.

"It combines Harris and Galveston Counties in one district with two congressmen," said its author, Rep. Harold B. Parish, Portland, and I know I'll get some opposition from that."

Senator Searcy Bracewell, Houston, introduced a bill in the Senate to give Harris County alone two congressmen.

'Today's Schools' Talked By Monroe At Rotary Meeting

Frank Monroe, superintendent of Midland public schools, discussed "Today's Schools" in an address delivered Thursday noon at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club in the Cactus Club. He was introduced by C. B. Downing, principal of the Sam Houston Elementary School.

Monroe reviewed progress made through the years in the methods of teaching, stating that it was only with the organization of the formal schools that the teaching of the Three R's became the fundamental factor. Prior to that, when schools were conducted mainly in the home, vocational teaching was the major objective, he said.

Adapting the level of teaching to the understanding of the student was cited by the speaker as tremendous stride forward in the method of teaching.

"Today's youngsters read more and faster and retain more of what they read longer than ever before in history," Monroe declared.

Most of forward

"Still we must go forward, striving always to do our job as well as the people have a right to expect.

"If the generation now in school and the generations to follow are to maintain the American way of life, participating intelligently as capable citizens in a free society, parents and citizens must sit down with educators and answer these questions:

"What shall we teach?"

"Who shall teach it?"

"How much shall we pay for it?"

These are the questions you and I must answer if our school systems continue to progress in the future," Monroe said.

Deals In 'Impure' Wheat At Expense Of Farmers Studied

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A new Senate investigation opened Friday Thursday on international wheat deals alleged to have enriched some grain speculators at the expense of U. S. farmers generally.

The Senate Agriculture Committee called officials of the General Accounting Office, the Customs Bureau and the Agriculture Department as witnesses at a public hearing.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt.) said: "The Justice Department already is moving against some of the individuals involved in this thing, but our interest is not in individuals—it's in what should be done to correct the entire situation and protect American agriculture."

Aiken said he hopes to explore with the witnesses accusations that some grain operators have imported huge quantities of low cost Canadian wheat labeled "unfit for human consumption" and intended to be used as feed for livestock, then processed it, mixed with flour, and sold it as food for humans.

He contends the effect has been to beat down the price of unadulterated U. S. wheat and to cause financial loss to farmers and taxpayers paying for farm price supports.

SEoul—(AP)—Some military men in Korea expressed surprise and dismay Thursday at the angry reaction in the U. S. to Sunday's Allied attack on Spud Hill—an outpost on the Western Front.

Representative Bray (R-Ind.) asked the Department of Defense for an explanation of what he called a "dress rehearsal" in which people got killed.

A spokesman for the division involved said:

"To call the operation a dress rehearsal is completely wrong. There are no theatrical trappings. Not a single one. This is deadly serious business and every one over here knows it."

The officer and the division cannot be identified for security reasons.

Airplane Charter Service Plans Disclosed In City

A new passenger and freight charter service from Midland to West Texas cities not served presently by air lines will begin operation within the next 15 days from Midland Air Terminal.

Plans for the service were disclosed Wednesday night when City Council approved an agreement with Starline Service, Inc., operators of the charter service.

Under the agreement, the company will lease ticket counter space in the lobby of the Terminal Administration Building.

The company is operated by Thomas H. Fleeger, Midland contractor, and John Vineyard, operator of a Midland landscaping service.

Vineyard, a resident of Midland the last year, is a former pilot for Trans-World Airways and prior to coming here served as chief pilot for the Atomic Energy Commission.

He also has served as a Civil Aeronautics Authority inspector.

Vineyard said Thursday the company already has received delivery on a Cessna 195 single-engine plane and has placed an order for an Aero Commando twin-engine executive-type craft.

In addition, Starline will operate a smaller plane for making air freight delivery and pickup service in the oil fields.

porations or firms with defense contracts.

Wilson's new directive orders any defense official to withdraw from consideration of any contract with a company in which the official has an interest.

To Hold Textile Interest

Stevens Thursday told the committee he could not dispose of his stock interests in the J. P. Stevens & Company, Inc., textile firm, because part of it is held in trust.

Stevens presented an opinion by John W. Davis, once a Democratic presidential nominee, that Stevens could, in the light of Wilson's order, retain this stock and still be "fully complying" with the statute.

"The J. P. Stevens Company has large defense contracts for textiles. Stevens told the senators he would sell all his other industrial stocks. Any decision now that he had to sell his stock would discourage other businessmen from going into government, Stevens said, adding: "It is my humble but considered opinion that in calling able men to serve their government the requirement of me that I dispose of my Stevens stock would have a long and serious adverse effect on the willingness of those successful business executives to serve."

The clinic will be conducted by Ralph Duncan of Abilene, manager of the Community Services Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

New Mexico Rangeland Plight Disturbs Osborn

A warning of what could happen to the rangeland of the Midland area if ranchers do not take reasonable precautions in its use was the main impression gained on a recent trip to Albuquerque, N. M., by Ben Osborn, work unit conservator for the Soil Conservation Service here.

Osborn and Calvin C. Boykin, Jr., range conservator, attended the annual meeting of the American Society of Range Management there.

More impressive to Osborn than the technical papers on range research and ranch management presented in the four-day meeting was the opportunity to see some of the rangeland that has been under the longest continuous use by livestock of any in North America.

Although normal rainfall is somewhat higher here than in New Mexico, it is possible to kill out the perennial grasses and damage the soil here by too heavy grazing, especially during drought periods such as the present one. Conditions on some ranches show a striking trend in that direction.

One of the objectives of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District operating in this area is to avoid such destruction through encouraging and assisting ranch operators to protect the grass on their land.

Osborn reported more than 400 range technicians and ranchers from all parts of the United States and from seven foreign countries attended the meeting. Seventeen Texans were present, including B. W. Allred of the Soil Conservation Service at Fort Worth, who was elected president of the society for 1953.

Illinois mines produced more than 10 per cent of U. S. coal in 1952.

Wave Of Brutal Crime Draws Angry Reactions In Baltimore

BALTIMORE —(P)—A wave of murders and robberies in the country's sixth largest city has touched off an angry reaction that spread Thursday from the homes of wrathful citizens to the Executive Man-

James W. Powell, Rankin Carpenter Two Decades, Dies

RANKIN—James W. Powell, 72, former Pecos County ranchman and Rankin carpenter 24 years, died Wednesday at the residence here. He had been ill for several months. Graveyard services were to be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Rankin Cemetery. Powell homesteaded land in Pecos County from 1910 to 1926 before coming to Rankin. Born in Hill County, he moved to Jones County with his parents at the age of three. Powell was married to Uesery Hestand Feb. 22, 1912. He was a member of the Christian Church. Survivors include the widow; five daughters, Mrs. R. D. McSpadden and Mrs. Gordon Steele of Rankin, Mrs. W. E. Horn of Crane, Mrs. C. Parks of Seymour and Mrs. Jimmie Lou Taylor of Eldorado; a sister, Mrs. Della Hartwell of Kingman, Ariz., and 12 grandchildren.

sion and through the halls of the State Legislature.

The granddaughter of an early Maryland governor and her 65-year-old companion died under pitiless bludgeoning of an axe-burglar. A gentle, widely admired librarian was slashed senselessly to death in a 75-cent robbery.

These recent crimes and dozens of other burglaries, robberies and knife assaults have alarmed the city's law officers and citizens. "Send half of the criminals to the pen for 20 years and hang the other half," wrote one indignant Marylander to a member of the state lawmaking body.

Baltimore women going out these evenings to solicit contributions for the Mothers March on Polio are accompanied by police officers, firemen and volunteers from the civil defense minute men.

Drive On Crime

Wednesday, five civic leaders of Baltimore called upon Gov. Theodore McKeldin to demand an anti-crime program. Even before their visit, the governor had promised "the full facilities of the state" in a drive on crime.

His visitors complained that magistrates sometimes fail to provide sufficiently severe sentences and of a need for more police.

A special Maryland Senate committee has scheduled a meeting for next Friday in an attempt to find a solution to the burgeoning crime problem.

Attending will be ranking police officials, state's attorneys and judges from Baltimore city and from Anne Arundel and Baltimore Counties.

Meanwhile, state lawmakers at Annapolis report an unprecedented volume in mail, telegrams and telephone calls demanding more severe criminal laws.

Two bills were proposed on the floor of the General Assembly Wednesday. One would make the carrying of a penknife with a blade as long as three inches as much of a crime as the packing of a loaded gun. The other would require police licensing of the purchase of pistols and revolvers.

Another bill slated to be introduced Thursday would make a sentence of at least one year mandatory in unprovoked knife assaults.

Lumberman Gives Empire To Church

PENDLETON, ORE. —(P)—A 10 million dollar lumber manufacturing business was turned over to the Seventh Day Adventist Church Wednesday by a man and his wife, who said they "did right by the Lord and He did right by us."

The business includes the Harris Pine Mills here, one of the nation's largest unfinished furniture producers, and furniture assembly plants at Chicago Heights, Ill.; Alexandria, Va.; and Cleburne, Texas.

Clyde H. Harris, 62, explained the gift this way:

"We have tried to be faithful in our dealings with the Lord and He has given us far more than we deserve. Now we are giving our em-

PAIR PULLS GEM DANDY

NEW YORK —(P)—Broadway crowds paid no attention to the man working in the window of the jewelry store.

What the crowds didn't know was that the window stripper was a robber, with a pal inside Murray Bricks' store.

Bricks, held up and bound by the pair, watched helplessly as the window "trimmer" removed between $5,000 and $10,000 worth of gems. The bandits also left with $37 in cash.

Police To Drag Lake For Mussolini Papers

EMPOLI, ITALY —(P)—The Italian police plan a fishing expedition in Lake Como for some of Benito Mussolini's secret documents. They said Emilio Burrest, driver of the last dictator's speedboat, told them he dumped three large metal cases of the papers into the lake just before the end of World War II. Burrest said he acted on Mussolini's orders.

There is about one truck for every 16 persons in the United States.

Tearful ROK's Bid Van Fleet Farewell

SEOUL —(P)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet bade 50,000 cheering Koreans a tearful farewell Thursday and promised to return one day to visit the war-ravaged peninsula. Van Fleet will surrender command of the U. S. Eighth Army to Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor early next month and leave for the U. S. and retirement. He has led the multi-nation Allied Army in defense of South Korea since April, 1951.

Thousands of South Koreans paraded through Seoul in near-zero weather from early morning until the official ceremonies started late in the afternoon.

They carried banners which urged the 60-year-old general, "Please come back to Korea and stay with us."

President Syngman Rhee also urged the general and his wife to return. Mrs. Van Fleet recently returned to the U. S.

In an emotion-choked voice, Van Fleet replied, "I thank you for the invitation. I shall come back."

It was clear Van Fleet meant his return would be in a private role. He has said he wants to visit both Greece, where he also led the fight against communism, and Korea after his retirement.

The South Koreans showered Van Fleet with farewell presents, and he told them he was overwhelmed by "this tremendous show of good will."

New Auto Storage In City To Begin Operations Friday

Norton's Auto Park, Inc., Friday will start its operations in the new Western Building at 201 North Big Spring Street. The structure is the first in Midland to combine both office space and auto storage under the same roof.

The parking area will comprise 90 per cent of the building. Jack C. and Grady H. Vaughn, Jr., brothers, who erected the ultra modern building, leased the garage to Norton's Auto Park, Inc., a Dallas corporation under the management of Ralph M. Norton.

Earl Houdyshell will be the manager of the garage. He boasts 20 years of experience and has been managing Norton's largest garage in Dallas.

The Norton Corporation has been in the automobile parking business in Dallas and other cities in Texas for approximately 21 years. The company now has in operation 20 parking garages or lots in Dallas, four in Wichita Falls and is in the process of establishing its first parking service in Waco.

It is the plan of the company to work out a program of cooperation with merchants in Midland to subsidize parking, a system which has worked well in connection with theaters and banks in other Texas municipalities.

Norton's will offer a 24-hour service here including complete ser-

House Planning Lengthy Hearings On T-H Changes

WASHINGTON —(P)—Chairman McCone (R-Pa.) said Thursday the House Labor Committee is keeping an open mind on possible changes in the Taft-Hartly law until it completes an extensive hearing.

With the hearing set to get under way February 10, McCone said there are "no bills, no amendments, nothing to which we are wed."

"We'll let the hearings determine that. When they are ended, the committee will endeavor to write a bill based on the testimony."

Sessions are expected to continue for at least two months, possibly longer.

McCone said he expects the House hearings to deal mainly with the sections of the law which cover the National Labor Relations Board, unfair labor practices, the non-Communist oath requirement, union elections and national emergencies.

New York's Bus Walkout Settled

NEW YORK —(P)—The biggest bus strike in New York City's history ended early Thursday and some buses started rolling.

Full resumption of service was not due until Friday.

The strike of 8,200 drivers and maintenance men was entering its twenty-ninth day as the last of eight struck private bus companies signed an arbitration formula.

The strikers were ordered back to work by union chiefs.

A three-man arbitration board will handle the wage-hour dispute between the companies and the CIO Transport Workers Union.

Three Top Generals Meet For Korean Strategy Talks

TOKYO —(P)—Three of America's top generals met in Tokyo Thursday for strategy talks on the Korean War.

Within an hour Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff; and Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, commander-designate of the Eighth Army, flew in from opposite directions for conferences with Gen. Mark Clark, the U. S. Far East commander.

The meeting came amid continuing speculation that the war soon will take a new turn—either in a full-scale Allied offensive or in greater direct pressure against the Chinese Communist mainland.

Taylor arrived from Washington. Collins flew back from a quick inspection trip in Korea.

It was the first time in the Korean War that the U. S. chief of staff, the Far East commander and an Eighth Army commander had been together in Tokyo.

Taylor leaves for Korea in a day or two to take command of the Eighth Army from retiring Gen.

Ikemen Get Hep Too Hastily; Coffee Break May Be Broken

My HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The cold fear of a new revolution spreads in chill waves through government offices in the nation's capital.

There's panic brewing on the Potomac. The big question there—already being echoed in business offices across the land—is: "Will Ike's boys kill the coffee break and the two-hour lunch?"

These threats to the present widely popular pauses in the day's occupation have been posed by two of Eisenhower's clean sweeping freshmen bombthrowers.

Interior Secretary McKay has laid down the ominous edict to his departmental employees: "A day's work for a day's pay." Already puzzled bureaucrats are asking themselves, "What does this mean?"

Two-Hour Lunch
Attorney General Brownell has one even further. In his already famous "Order No. 1" he declared that Justice Department employees would work from 9 to 5:30 p.m., and that "the hours of duty must be strictly observed."

Brownell attacked tardiness and the over-long lunch period and said violators will be disciplined. Other Cabinet officials are reported planning similar rules.

The Brownell order certainly dooms the two-hour lunch. But the Philadelphia lawyers among the minor bureaucrats are hopefully studying one sentence:

"Unavoidable or necessary absence from duty not in excess of 15 minutes... may be excused by the supervisor."

Goodness! A Loophole.
"Is this a loophole," they are asking, "which will still let us have a 15-minute morning and afternoon break for coffee?"

This clause may have to be referred to the Supreme Court itself for decision. It is obviously far too important a matter for one man to decide.

It vitally affects more people than any problem yet dealt with by the new Administration. Every state-house, county courthouse and city hall employe in America is concerned.

"If the federal bureaucrats lose their coffee breaks, we probably will, too, in time," they worry.

Everybody Worries
Every office and factory worker also has a stake in the answer. For if the coffee break is abolished for tillers in the government vineyard, it is likely to disappear in the business world as well. Don't business people always boast they work harder and longer than government employes?

The issue is non-partisan. Republicans and Democrats are likely to agree that: "Some institutions, like matrimony and the coffee break, have become cherished parts of the American way. Let that new broom sweep away something else."

The government goal to abolish the two-hour lunch, of course, will have no effect on the business world. The problem of the business world is to cut down on the three-martini, four-hour lunch.

Standing In Line Leads To Wedding

NEW YORK (AP)—Just a year ago Evelyn Tenken, 19, stenographer, stood in line more than two hours to pay a parking fine for her boss at Manhattan Traffic Court.

Behind the window, Lloyd Johnson, 25, a court officer, took the ticket and a $5 bill, returned a dollar in change and talked with the pretty Brooklyn girl until other people in line began to protest.

That ended Miss Tenken's traffic difficulties but not her relations with the court. Recently she was married to Johnson at the Congregational Church in Brooklyn on the exact anniversary of her meeting.

Andrews News

ANDREWS—The senior class of Andrews High School held its annual banquet Friday in the Elementary School Cafeteria. The Rev. Richard Philpot of the Second Baptist Church of Odessa spoke to the group on "Seeking Things Worthwhile."

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Lawler are at home in Andrews following their recent marriage in Hobbs, N. M. Mrs. Lawler is the former Mrs. Dinah L. Radford of Portales, N. M. Mrs. Henry Shirley, who is moving to Casper, Wyo., was honored last week with a series of farewell parties. Saturday morning Mrs. N. H. Callahan, Mrs. Bryan Baker, Mrs. Woody Walker and Rachael Messacar were hostesses at a breakfast for Mrs. Shirley. Wednesday she was honored with a coffee in the Community Building clubroom.

State Bank Assets Hit All-Time High

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas state bank assets hit an all-time high of $1,742,000,000 December 31, State Banking Commissioner J. M. Falkner reported Tuesday.

Returns were received from 457 state banks. The total was $170,000,000 above the Dec. 31, 1951, figure.

LABORIOUS TASK
Silkworms can be cultivated in the United States as well as in other countries, but the tedious, exacting, and hardly profitable hand labor of unwinding the cocoons does not appeal to American laborers.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER

Have you been giving your whole hearted support to the Bulldogs when they play basketball? Why not come on out to the Midland High School Gym and see them win? All they need is just a little support. Congratulations to the Bulldogs on their win over the Lamasa Tornados Tuesday night. The Bulldogs played one of their best games of the season.

Congratulations to the Bulldogs' Basketball Sweetheart, Sadie Nugent. Sadie was elected sweetheart last week. She hasn't missed a basketball game all year, including out-of-town games.

Do you remember Carl and Tommy Carrigan? Well, they were here during the Christmas holidays, and now have enrolled in school here in Midland. They formerly attended Peacock Military Institute in San Antonio. Glad to have you back.

The favorites dance last Saturday night went off very well. The Student Council sponsored it. Do you have your membership? If not, why not get it? It isn't too late and you could just be enjoying more of the Youth Center activities. A 1953 membership card costs only one dollar. See Myrt for your cards.

We heard that Doc Evans, Ken Schrum, Betty Bolton, Neil Curran, Janice Rawdon, Ruth Ann and Mary Jess Dickinson, Shaon Braswell, Carl and Tommy Carrigan, Wayne Cooper, J. T. Grissett, Jimmy Hicks, Tommy and Don Stringer and Barbara Cline all had fun the other night. Yes, Barbara Cline had a party. Seems as though Wayne Cooper kept telling her it was his birthday. It might have been, but that was not the reason for the party. Everyone had great fun and a big time.

Exes Come Home
Must be time for the Exes to be back home. So far we have seen only a few of them, but the rest should pull in anytime. Those we have seen are Bill Franklin, Bobby Peters and Tom Collins from Texas A&M. Roane Puett is visiting Bill Franklin during the between semesters vacation. Roane attends Texas University. The Puets moved to Kilgore shortly after Christmas.

Jimmy Adams is here from Texas Tech and Stan Coker from SMU. Virginia Lou Wilkinson, Helen Zant, Barbara Tom and Sharon Herrell have returned from their trip to Washington, D. C. While there they saw former Midland schoolmates, Margie Hensley, Nancy Warren and Ann Ashby.

This announcement will interest most students. Yes, there are only 17 more weeks left in this school year. Most seniors are just waiting for May 26. Why, we don't know, but they seem to think something important is going to happen. You guessed it, the 26th is the day the seniors will leave their alma mater.

Remember, just seventeen more weeks.

The Seniors ordered their invitations last week. New Jackets Arrive
Have you noticed the new jackets, the purple ones, walking around? Yes the "T" squad boys got their jackets at the banquet held last Monday night in the high school cafeteria. Don't fail to tell those who have them that they are pretty, because if you don't they will just stand there until you do. They really are pretty though.

Seems as though we have a fish enthusiast in our presence. Yes, David Gooch and his brother Joe kinda had everybody around them excited. We don't know what happened exactly but has something to do with fish.

Last Sunday afternoon a group of YC members got together and went to Cole Park for a picnic. Seems as though everyone had a good time.

On the way back it seemed as if Gayle Gilliam and Frank Midkiff tried to see who could push who through the walls of Buddy McDonald's car. No one went through the sides of the car of course, but Gay's certainly is sore.

Back to MHS
Evelyn Hubbard has come back once more to enroll in MHS. Evelyn started at St. Ann's Boarding School in Austin last September. She has come back to Midland to finish out her junior and senior years. We missed you while you were gone and glad that you decided to come back. Evelyn.

Pat Morgan and Charles Davis have also enrolled in MHS. They both are from NMMI in Roswell, N. M.

We wonder if Jim Ten Eyck, Charles Worthen and Robert Payne are out for track. They sure were running like it Friday night.

Please do not take the soft drink bottles outside the Youth Center. If you are getting something for someone outside, please tell L. C. or Myrt and they will be more than glad to give you paper cups. They appreciate it if you would do that. You now have arrived at the end of the column for this week, so to those of you who haven't bought your membership cards, please buy them now!

SHRINE LEADER—Howard Harlowe, above, of Brownwood is the new illustrious potentate of the Suez Temple. Harry Rhodes of Midland was named Oriental Guide in the recent election at San Angelo.

RETURNS FROM HOUSTON
Bert Stringer returned this week from Houston where he has been receiving surgical treatment.

Horse drawn carriages took U. S. Presidents to their inaugural until the Harding inauguration when the new President rode in a motor car.

FUNNY BUSINESS

Beethoven composed but one opera, "Fidelio," which was unsuccessful in earlier years, but later took Europe by storm. Only ancient carillon in the New World is at Alfred University, Allegany County, N. Y., and dates from the seventeenth century. Maine is the only state in the Union in which state elections are not held in November, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Hot Snacks Are Life Of Party

HOT PARTY SNACKS like these shrimp appetizers and Vienna sausages enclosed in pastry are perfect with cold beverages or tea.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

For your bridge parties or any festive get-together, hot snacks are smart, appetizing and easy to manage.

Hot shrimp appetizers are dainty morsels of hot shrimp and melted cheese enclosed in a crisp corn-meal pastry. They pop into your mouth as easily as can be and are delicious served hot with cold drinks for a party, or as a first course at dinner or luncheon. They can be made early in the day, kept in the refrigerator and then baked just before serving.

If this is your first experience with hot appetizers, try a variety of different fillings with the same rich corn-meal pastry as a base. Wrap tiny Vienna sausages in pastry, or substitute bits of deviled ham or Italian sausage, chopped cooked bacon and cubes of cheese as filling.

The very nature of appetizers is zestful and snappy and nothing tastes quite so good with cold beverages or tea.

Hot Shrimp Appetizers
(Makes 28 tiny shrimp appetizers)
Corn-Meal Pastry—One and one-half cups sifted enriched flour, 1/2 cup enriched corn meal, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/2 cup shortening, 1/2 cup water.

Sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder, salt and dry mustard. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add water, a little at a time, until mixture will hold together. Roll out on lightly floured board to form a rectangle, 16 x 14 inches. Cut dough into two-inch squares.

Filling — 28 tiny cooked shrimp (or 14 large shrimp, halved), 2/3 cup chili sauce, 3 slices Cheddar cheese, cut into 1/2-inch squares.

Place half of the corn-meal pastry squares on an ungreased baking sheet. Place 1 small shrimp on each square; top with 1 teaspoon chili sauce and a small square of cheese. Cover with remaining corn-meal pastry squares; seal edges with a fork. Prick tops. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Serve immediately.

Vienna Sausage Appetizers
Prepare corn-meal pastry as in above recipe. Roll out the dough and cut into rectangles 1 1/2 x 3-inches. Place a Vienna sausage on each rectangle; roll dough around sausage, allowing ends of sausage to peek out. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Serve immediately.

SALINE SEAWATER
The saltwater of sea water is so similar to the saltiness of human blood that tissues are kept alive in laboratories in modified sea water solution.

Division Commander Voices Confidence In Puerto Ricans Despite Mutiny Episodes

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SEOUL—(AP)—The commander of the U. S. Third Division voiced confidence Wednesday in the division's Puerto Rican regiment in which al-

Rankin News

RANKIN—Mrs. Roy L. Bell is a patient in the Midland Memorial Hospital this week.

G. T. Galloway, who is a patient in the Clinic Hospital in San Antonio, is reported to be in a serious condition.

Roy Lee Bell, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bell of Rankin, will receive his BBA degree from the University of Texas Saturday.

Newcomers to Rankin are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Griffiths and children, Annette, Wanda and Kenneth, who moved here this week from Midland.

most 100 men were court martialed for fleeing from battle or refusing to go into action.

Maj. Gen. George W. Smythe said he felt the 68th Regiment had done an "outstanding job" in Korea and that he "certainly intended" to put the unit back into the line.

"I have confidence in the men and their leaders and I feel that it will enhance the traditions of this division to have them go back into the line," Smythe said.

Ninety-two enlisted men and one officer, all Puerto Ricans, were convicted by courts martial last week of misbehaving in the face of the enemy. They are held in the Pusan Army stockade awaiting Washington review of the trials.

Four enlisted men were acquitted. The trial of one still is pending. The 68th Regiment, almost entirely Puerto Ricans except for some officers, has been fighting in Korea since November, 1950.

Some of the Puerto Ricans asserted their platoon leader was lost and others insisted they were helping wounded to the rear.

The 68th Regiment went back into the line October 25 after it had been mauled badly at Kelly Hill in late September. Most of the men were veterans of the Kelly Hill action.

The Second and Third Battalions were put on the line in the Jackson Heights area and the First Battalion was held in reserve. The Puerto Ricans took a heavy shelling the first day and on the second day repulsed two attacks.

Men Drop Out
On October 28, Fox Company of the Second Battalion was ordered to an outpost and reached the objective under moderate to heavy fire. However, men dropped out and as a result the company was withdrawn.

The Midland aerie was instituted on July 12, 1949.

thing happened. Charlie Company was pulled back and Able Company was sent up to replace it. The officer of Able Company was the only one in the company to disobey the order to move forward. Second Incident

The First and Second Battalions were pulled off the line for training. The Third Battalion was kept on the line. The officer and 83 enlisted men were convicted in this incident.

The second incident, on November 3, involved a combat patrol made up of men of Love Company of the Third Battalion.

Although the patrol was under no fire, some men dropped out and returned to Allied lines. They were ordered to return forward and some disobeyed. Thirty-nine convictions resulted.

Midland Eagles To Observe National's 55th Birthday

Midland members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles will hold a dance February 7 to commemorate the 55th anniversary of the founding of the national organization.

As the birthday of the organization neared, President Joe C. Buttry of the Midland aerie pointed out that the Eagles were organized on Feb. 6, 1898, when six Seattle, Wash., theater owners met in a Seattle lumberyard.

It originally was called the "Seattle Order of Good Things" but one week later was changed to its present name.

For years the Eagles worked toward a social welfare program, centering their efforts toward a social security program.

At the present time, the Eagles are concentrating much of their time on the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund and their Own Memorial Foundation.

The Midland aerie was instituted on July 12, 1949.

★ Daddy Ringtail ★ Daddy Ringtail And The Honest Man

An honest man is the same as an honest anybody. An honest anybody is anyone who would never, never take for his own a something that belongs to someone else. Everyone there in the Great Forest is honest, but they didn't use to be. Oh, what an unhappy time it was. Suppose you had lived there. Suppose you had left your bicycle down on the Elephant Path. Bingo! There it would be gone if you turned around. Someone would have taken it away—someone who wasn't honest, you know.

And the more dishonest anyone was, the more dishonest everyone else became. Why, things got so bad that you hardly could eat your supper. Someone would snatch it off your fork before it ever reached your mouth.

Now everyone was to blame. The lions were as bad as the tigers. The tigers were as bad as the elephants. The elephants were as bad as the monkeys, and the monkeys were as bad about being dishonest as everyone else.

Daddy Ringtail was unhappy to see it. He was honest himself, of course, and he knew that everyone should be that way for the greatest happiness of all. But nobody would try to be honest, because no one else would do it too. No one would do it except Daddy Ringtail.

Yes, an honest man was hard to find. Why, an honest man was harder to find than hen's teeth—and no one can find a hen's teeth, because a hen hasn't any.

Daddy Ringtail thought about all this unhappy way that everybody was. At last, one day when the sun was very bright, Daddy Ringtail decided just what he would do.

He turned on a flashlight and began to look with it through the forest. Everyone thought it was a funny thing to do—looking with a flashlight for something when the sun was bright in the sky. But Daddy Ringtail explained he was looking for an honest man—something very hard to find because there wasn't one.

And everyone was ashamed of being dishonest, and ever after—from that day to this—everyone in the Great Forest has been honest as honest can be. No one takes anything anymore unless it belongs to him. Happy day!

'THEY'RE NOT MAD DOGS, BUT SICK SHEEP'—

Cold, Dingy Insane Asylums Give Way To Modern Hospitals For Mental Care

By LEONARD RUFFERT
NEA Staff Correspondent

We've started cleaning up our "snake pits." U. S. mental hospitals are better than they were six years ago. But they still aren't much to brag about.

The low point in recent U. S. mental health history came in 1946. Digging reporters touched off reforms by picturing the mental hospitals as filthy, brutish concentration camps.

Patients lived nakedly and aimlessly in pig-pen wards. They were chained to their beds by night and to their chairs by day. Food was poor, beatings common and treatment almost nil. Relatives of a new patient were asked only two questions: his religion and his family undertaker.

Europe Is Ahead

Today, the reforms began in 1946 have whipped out the ugliest abuses. Beatings and filth are rare. Food is better and so is treatment. The term "mental hospital" has come to mean more than a synonym for "lunatic asylum."

But there's still a long way to go. While the hospitals are better by 1946 standards, they don't yet satisfy the experts.

One of the experts is Dr. George S. Stevenson of the National Mental Health Association. "The U. S. service to the mentally ill," he says, "is falling far behind the level of aid given to the physically ill. Many European nations are still way ahead of us."

330,000 Beds Needed

The number one problem is overcrowding. About three of every four state hospitals are severely cramped for space. Based on federal standards of one bed for every 200 population, some 330,000 beds are needed.

State governments have loosened the purse strings. They now spend almost twice as much on their hospitals as they did in 1946. Yet only two states now meet federal standards.

New York has 6,000 beds more than it needs and Massachusetts has 300. The other states fall far behind. Tennessee lacks 10,000 beds, Mississippi 6,000.

To Few Aides

Another sore spot is a personnel shortage. Not a single hospital in the U. S. now meets the American Psychiatric Association employment standards. Many have been forced to cut down on treatment methods. More than 40 per cent still don't offer insulin shock treatment, a proven aid to recovery.

The problem, says the Council of State Governments, is so vast as to stagger the imagination. Even with limited space, there are now 650,000 patients in mental hospitals — as many as there are in all other hospitals combined. Most will stay there from five to 45 years or longer.

In New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Minnesota and a handful of other states, mental patients get good treatment. In the rest, particularly in the South, "lock 'em up and forget 'em" is still too often the philosophy.

'Dollar' Conscious

As little as eight cents a day is spent to feed a patient. The total maintenance cost per patient averages only $2.04 a day.

"Unacceptable hospitals," says Stevenson, "tend to be dollar-centered rather than patient-centered. They may have only one doctor for as many as 400 or 500 patients. Wards are badly crowded. If there were a chair for every inmate, the patients wouldn't be able to reach their beds."

"Many are not taken outdoors for months at a time. Some are well enough to be discharged, but their release is delayed because the staff is too overworked to check on them. And the person on the way to recovery doesn't show it when he has to stay cooped up with patients still sick."

Humane Treatment

"Too many states seem to be more interested in finding a cheaper way to keep a patient for life than in curing him. If you're a patient in New York, the state pays $962 a year to take care of you. But if you're in Tennessee, the sum is only $319, or less than $1 a day."

Experts agree the problem could be solved easily. But only, they add, if the public really demands it and is willing to foot the bill.

Two ways are cited to ease overcrowding. One is to build more hospitals. The other is to better the treatment and thus speed patient turnover.

The aim in the building program would be a number of smaller hospitals, rather than a few large ones. Large hospitals usually are isolated and cut off the patient from his family. Changes in treatment would stress humane methods, more modern equipment and vocational rehabilitation.

Badly Underpaid

The personnel shortage would be ended by better training, hiring of employes on a merit basis, higher salaries and better working conditions. Hospital workers are now badly underpaid.

Added to these, the experts urge better commitment and release rules and more research funds. Mental health research is miserably provided for. Only $4.15 a patient is available, compared to about $27 for cancer, tuberculosis and polio patients.

"These are all important," says Stevenson, "but even more necessary is a change in the public's attitude. The public must be made aware of the problem and then do something about it."

Not Mad Dogs

"A very small portion of the mentally ill are a menace. They are really sick sheep, not mad dogs. Percentage-wise, they commit no more crimes than the general population."

"Mental hospitals are the butt of countless jokes. But when you stop to think that one of every dozen babies born in America will someday be sick enough to go to one, the situation isn't so funny."

Improved look in mental health picture includes treatment for patients like this one kept busy at occupational therapy. But experts warn we're still behind many European nations.

Negrito Origins Sought In India

ROME—(AP)—One of Italy's most famed anthropologists has left for India to try to trace the origin of the tribes of backward negritos on the Andaman and Nicobar archipelago off Southern Burma.

He is Prof. Lidio Cipriani, director of the Institute of Anthropology and Ethnology of the University of Florence and a veteran of studies among the pigmies of Africa and the headhunters of Asia. He says he has been asked by the Indian government to try to find the origin of the negritos and to make recommendations on ways to improve their retarded social and economic life.

The archipelago negritos are a black-skinned people of small size and semitic characteristics, unlike the native populations in India or nearby Burma, Professor Cipriani says.

Ideas Of Farmers Sought By Probers

REGINA, CANADA—(AP)—A new technique in investigation is being used by the royal commission which is inquiring into all phases of Saskatchewan's agriculture and rural life.

The commission has been holding public meetings to find out what farm people are thinking. At the meetings, the audience is split into five or six discussion groups. W. B. Baker, commission chairman, emphasized at these meetings that the main purpose of the discussions is to get assistance in selecting the key rural problems to be investigated.

New Jersey cranberry growers produced about 95,000 barrels in 1952.

Oriental Marriage Racket Discovered

MANILA—(AP)—The National Bureau of Investigation (NBI) reports it has uncovered a new "marriage of convenience" racket to facilitate the entry of alien Chinese women into the Philippines.

The NBI says its agents discovered that hired Filipino "grooms" go to Hong Kong and marry Chinese "brides" who then legally enter the Philippines. Once inside the country the Hong Kong marriage is forgotten quickly.

"Actual re-marriage of the Chinese woman with her 'real' spouse here," says the NBI, "is just a matter of contacting the right parties in the Immigration Bureau who can give the woman documentation as a resident alien."

A certificate issued to the woman showing her as resident alien presumably smooths the way for a quick legal marriage to a Chinese national living in the Philippines.

Mrs. Hobby Takes Over Duties In Gray, Maroon Office Suite

By TEX KASLEY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—It's a big job Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby took over when she became Federal Security Administrator in the Eisenhower Administration.

Its importance was recognized in the fact she took the oath of office along with Cabinet members, and there's talk Congress soon may elevate her position to Cabinet level.

Some 35,000 employes come under her supervision. The agency affects directly the lives of many millions — social security, public health, federal education aids, food-and-drug law enforcement are principal functions of the FSA.

Getting Acquainted

In her first day on the job, Mrs. Hobby got acquainted with the top division heads with whom she will work, looked over a pile of congratulatory messages and posed for a battery of newspaper and newsreel photographers.

Up for lunch with her the first day was her husband, former Gov. Will P. Hobby, with whom she has been working as co-publisher of the Houston Post, and their daughter, Jessica, 16. Their son, Will P., Jr., 21, had to hurry back to Houston to his classes at Rice after the inauguration. Jessica attends a girls' school in Virginia.

The suite where Mrs. Hobby will have her headquarters is on the top floor of one of the two block-square five story buildings on Independence Avenue two blocks from the Capitol.

Gray And Maroon

Her private office is a large room, 40 by 25 feet, with her own glass-topped desk in one end and a conference table in the other where she will meet with heads of the various units of the FSA.

The walls are light dove gray, and long maroon drapes hang from the three windows to her back. A maroon rug and brown leather upholstered furniture give the room a pleasant atmosphere. A silk United States flag on a standard just behind her desk is a reminder of the high government decisions that are made there.

The governor and Mrs. Hobby plan to live in one of the big hotels here until about March, then take a Connecticut Avenue apartment.

Assault The Capital

Speaking of housing, the new members of the Texas congressional delegation have settled down for the duration of the current session. Senator Price Daniel and Mrs. Daniel and their four children, temporarily in a rented furnished house, plan to move into a newly bought home of their own on February 2, in the northwest residential area of the city. Three of their four children are enrolled now in the local public schools. The smallest is of pre-school age.

The two bachelor freshman congressmen, Reps. Brady Gentry of Tyler and Jack Brooks of Beaumont, have found quarters for the time being. Gentry has rooms in a private residence a short walk from the Capitol. Brooks is in an apartment house on 16th Street, a few doors down from the National Geographic Society headquarters.

Rep. John Dowdy of Athens and his wife found a house in suburban Silver Spring, Md., and their children, Carol Sue, 15, and John (Skipper), Jr., 10, go to public schools there. Rep-at-large Martin Dies of Lufkin, his wife and son, Jack, 16, live in a Connecticut Avenue apartment. Jack attends Western High School.

Trust And Respect

Rep. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of the Bryan-Corsicana district, a purple heart combat infantry colonel in World War II, delivered the commencement address to a graduating class at the Fort Benning, Ga., officer candidate school on January 23.

Among other things he told them was this to-the-point observation: "American soldiers are an independent lot, and they do not give their trust and respect until they are sure it is merited."

'Mr. Attack' Takes Over As Eighth Army's Skipper

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—'Mr. Attack' is going into battle again. That's the Army nickname Gen. Maxwell Taylor takes with him in his new role of Eighth Army Commander, succeeding Gen. James A. Van Fleet as boss of ground forces in Korea.

General Taylor, who was Deputy Chief of Staff when he was tagged for his new job, started his Army career with a more scholarly label. The West Point yearbook called him "one of the most learned members of his class."

These two descriptions of Taylor very neatly frame the man. Few men in the history of any U. S. service can match both his combat record and diplomatic and administrative accomplishments.

On the battlefields his deeds include exploits with the 82nd Airborne Division and command of the First Airborne in World War II. On Normandy D-Day he was the first Allied general to hit the mainland of Europe.

He also performed one of the vital military-diplomatic missions of that war—dropping into enemy territory to help negotiate the surrender of Italy.

Off the battlefield, General Taylor is responsible, among other things, for a major revision of the curriculum of West Point, putting more stress on such subjects as economics, history and political science.

"The cadets should not live in a mental cloister; their interests must be catholic, avoiding the small horizons sometimes attributed to the military mind," he says.

Taylor became superintendent of the Academy in 1945, at the age of 41.

GEN. MAXWELL TAYLOR: No "mental cloister" for him.

41. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, at 39, has been a younger head of that school.

Football penalty. Another major decision he made at the Point was the start of the deemphasis of football, with the ending of games with Notre Dame.

"Football has been a distracting influence which pulled us away from our major objectives," he stated. This attitude was expressed at a time when other leading educators in the U. S. were saying the same thing.

Today, it is hard to reckon his important new assignment with the first fleeting impression you get as you meet him. He looks far too youthful and mild for all that responsibility. Compared to his lean, unlined face and placid blue eyes, his graying hair seems premature.

He's Ahead Of You
But you don't have to be around him long to understand the "Mr. Attack" nickname. He talks in a well-modulated voice but he's far ahead of you in any subject that comes up.

His secretary reports that it took her a couple of months of practice to get her shorthand up to the speed of his dictation.

"You'd think he wrote out all of his letters in advance and then memorized them before he gave them to you," she says.

With troops, or in an office, he gets the maximum out of his help with an easy-going manner and a minimum of orders.

Flashy Athlete. Discussing physical training at West Point, he is fond of saying, "A brilliant mind is of little value in war if it is not housed in a vigorous body." He lives by this rule, too.

Most Saturday afternoons in the officers' club gym adjoining the Pentagon he could be found beating all comers in handball and squash. He's a flashy tennis player and loves hiking.

The general and his wife always have been conservative in their social life, keeping their outside activities at a minimum. He does not smoke, and drinks little.

Education, Decorations. He reads a great deal and has mastered four different languages including Japanese. He's also one of the few top generals who delivers an informative interesting speech.

General Taylor's awards and decorations include everything the U. S. Army has to offer except the Medal of Honor. He has numerous foreign decorations plus an honorary Doctor of Engineering Degree from New York University.

In the opinion of the experts, Taylor's job of commanding U. S. troops in Berlin, calling for the maximum qualities of diplomacy and leadership, makes him perfectly suited for his new assignment.

Blue Heron Finds Dizzy Life In City

MANHASSET, N. Y. —(P)—After some anxious moments two policemen managed to return a blue heron found on a busy street here to its natural marshland habitat.

The tall bird seemed bewildered by the bright lights when the policemen captured it and put it in a patrol car. The angry bird ripped a hole through the patrolman's notebook and the floor mat of the car with its long bill.

The policeman locked the heron in a nearby service station for the night and the station proprietor returned the bird to its natural habitat in the morning. The proprietor, who wasn't expecting to see the bird when he opened up in the morning, said, "I thought for a minute I was in Florida."

THE POWER OF POSITIVE THINKING

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Try Prayer Power

Chapter 4
In a business office high above the city streets two men were having a serious conversation. One, heavily troubled by a business and personal crisis, paced the floor restlessly, then sat down dejectedly.

He had come to the other for advice, since he was considered a man of great understanding. Together they had explored the problem from every angle but seemingly without result, which only served to deepen the troubled man's discouragement. "I guess no power on earth can save me," he sighed.

The other reflected for a moment, then spoke rather diffidently. "I wouldn't look at it that way. I believe you are in a predicament. There is no power that can save you. Personally, I have found that there is an answer to every problem. There is a power that can help you." Then slowly he asked, "Why not try prayer power?"

Somewhat surprised, the discouraged man said, "Of course I do not know how to pray. You speak of it as something practical, but it fits a business problem. I never thought of trying prayer. If you will show me how."

He did apply practical prayer techniques and in due course got his answer. That is not to say he did not have difficulties. In fact, he had rather a hard time of it but ultimately he worked out of his trouble. Now he believes in prayer power so enthusiastically that I recently heard him say, "Every problem can be solved and solved right if you pray."

Filled With Hates
Then there was the young married woman who admitted she was filled with hates, jealousy, and resentment toward neighbors and friends. She also was very apprehensive, always worrying about her children, whether they would be sick or get into an accident or fail in school. Her life was a pathetic mixture of dissatisfaction, fear, hate and unhappiness. I asked her if she ever prayed. She said, "Only when I get so up against it that I am just desperate; but I must admit that prayer doesn't mean anything to me, so I don't pray very often."

I suggested that the practice of real prayer could change her life and gave her some instructions in sending out love thoughts instead of hate thoughts and confidence thoughts. I suggested that every day, at the time for the children to come home from school, she pray, and make her prayers an affirmation of God's protective goodness. Doubtful at first, she became one of the most enthusiastic advocates and practitioners of prayer I have ever known. She avidly reads books and pamphlets and practices every effective prayer-power technique. This procedure revamped her life as illustrated by the following letter which she wrote me recently:

"I feel that my husband and I both made wonderful progress in the last few weeks. My greatest progress dates from the night you told me that 'every day is a good day if you pray.' I began to put into practice the idea of affirming that this would be a good day the minute I woke up in the morning, and I can positively say that I have not had a bad upsetting day since that time. The amazing thing is that my days actually haven't been any smoother or any more free from petty annoyances than they ever were, but they just don't seem to have the power to upset me any more. Every night I begin my prayers by listing all the things for which I am grateful, little things that happened during the day which added to the happiness of my day. I know that this habit has geared my mind to pick out the nice things and forget the unpleasant ones. The fact that for some weeks I have not had a single bad day and have refused to get downhearted with anyone is really marvelous to me."

She discovered amazing power in trying prayer power.

Effective Results
You can do the same. Following are 10 rules for getting effective results from prayer:

1. Set aside a few minutes every day. Do not say anything. Simply practice thinking of God. This will make your mind spiritually receptive.

2. Then pray orally, using simple, natural words. Tell God anything that is on your mind. Do not think you must use stereotyped pious phrases. Talk to God in your own language. He understands it.

3. Pray as you go about the business of the day, on the subway or bus or at your desk. Utilize minute prayers by closing your eyes to shut out the world and concentrate briefly on God's presence. The more you do this every day, the more you will feel God's presence.

4. Do not always ask when you pray, but instead affirm that God's blessings are being given, and spend most of your prayers giving thanks. 5. Pray with the belief that sincere prayers can reach out and surround your loved ones with God's love and protection.

6. Never use a negative thought in prayer. Only positive thoughts get results.

7. Always express willingness to accept God's will. Ask for what you want, but be willing to take what God gives you. It may be better than what you ask for.

8. Practice the attitude of putting everything in God's hands. Ask for the ability to do your best and leave the results confidently to God.

9. Pray for people you do not like or who have mistreated you. Release them in blockade number one of spiritual power.

10. Make a list of people for whom to pray. The more you pray for other people, especially those not connected with you, the more prayer results will come back to you.

Trustworthy Aides Do Jobs Too Well

RIO DE JANEIRO.—(P)—From 3,000 applicants, Brazil's federal price and supply commission investigated and picked 400 "trustworthy" volunteers to check on merchants' prices.

But it is not going to ask for more volunteers, and already has discharged the 400 it had.

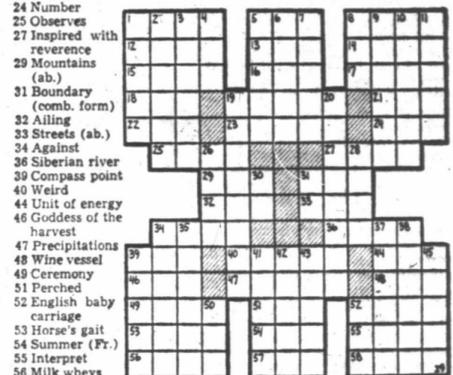

A goodly percentage of the 400, commission chief Benjamin Cabello said, already had made the rounds of merchants, collecting in advance for favorable reports.

DON'T STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs much less than most reducing preparations. Just go to your drugstore and ask for the new improved Barconatrate. Pour into a pint bottle and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just disappear almost like magic from your chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 25 POUNDS
Mrs. L. R. Fitzgerald, 1309 Seaton Dr., Dallas, Texas, writes us as follows: "I have lost 25 pounds this summer taking Barconatrate. Went from size 18 dress to size 14."

20 POUNDS LOST
"I sincerely recommend Barconatrate to anyone with a reducing problem," writes Mrs. H. R. Cox, 1574 Portland, Abilene, Texas. "I reduced from 155 to 145 pounds, a loss of 20 pounds. I now feel stronger, do my own housework with a smile. My friends say I look much younger, too. It really is surprising how simple it is to use Barconatrate and not gain back a single pound."

March Of Dimes Offers Hope For Girl Here To Walk Again

"My biggest wish is to walk again," said Loretta Ann Graham when asked what she wanted more than anything.

Loretta Ann was stricken with poliomyelitis on Oct. 12, 1951. At that time she was a fourth grade student in South Elementary School. She was taken to Ahlens Hospital for eight weeks. During her stay in Ahlens she had the distinction, if one can call it distinction, to be placed in the only "fish bowl" type iron lung. Loretta Ann explained:

"This lung was like a fish bowl," she remembers "There was a plastic or glass bowl that fit over my chest when it was necessary for the doctors or nurses to work on the lower parts of my body. I spent some time in the conventional lung, but the 'fish bowl' had it all over the other."

At the end of eight weeks, Loretta Ann, who was paralyzed from the neck down, was taken out of the lung and transferred to Gonzales Warm Spring Foundation. There she went through an intensive course of treatments for four months. However Loretta Ann's muscles did not respond too well to the treatments. She had progressed so that she could sit in a wheel chair and had some movement in her arms. On April 6, 1952, she was released from Gonzales, unable to walk, but alive.

After Loretta Ann arrived home, her mother, who is a nurse, refused to believe that she would never walk again. She worked with Loretta Ann's arms and legs. Her home treatments were under the direction of a competent physical therapist. The muscles in her arms responded and constantly improved.

Today, Loretta Ann has very good movement in one arm and hand and fair movement in the other. However, her legs refused to respond to the treatments. Loretta Ann was back to Gonzales in September for a check-up and possible readmittance. The officials at Gonzales were pleased with the progress in Loretta Ann's arms and hands, but due to a tremendous backlog of critical patients were unable to readmit her at that time.

Loretta Ann's parents were determined to do all they could for her. They consulted therapists and physicians and finally it was decided to try surgery. Loretta Ann has had a muscle in her heel severed and one knee straightened. At present she wears casts on both legs from the hips down. The casts are to be removed the first week in February and it will be after that time before Loretta Ann will know if she will be able to walk.

"I know that if the operation was a success I won't be able to jump out of this wheel chair and run around," Loretta Ann said "I know it will take many months training with braces and crutches, but, oh, to be able to walk again will be wonderful. I do have hope, but if more operations are necessary, I will be willing to wait. I have waited this long, I can wait a little longer."

Surgery Scheduled
Loretta Ann also is scheduled to have surgery performed on one arm. She hopes this will be done soon. At the time of her attack she was learning to play the piano. She wants to continue when both arms are strong enough. Her pleading voice indicated that she will be quite a singer, too.

Loretta Ann's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Graham, are another Midland family that are thankful to the March of Dimes for the assistance they received.

Catholic Seminaries Closed By Communists

HONG KONG —(P)—The Catholic seminary in Suancheng, Anhwei province, has been closed down by the Chinese Reds. Catholic headquarters here have announced.

Rector of the seminary, Rev. Fr. Juan B. Lazpita of Berritz, Spain, and two of his assistants arrived in Hong Kong recently after having been turned out of the seminary in December, 1951. The three priests continued their work until their funds were exhausted. Then they were expelled by the Reds as "indigent foreigners."

WRONG TAXI
DETROIT —(P)—A 40-year-old car washer lured up to a police scout car, got in and ordered, "The Clinton Hotel." Instead he got a free "taxi" ride to jail where he was charged with drunkenness. Later in court the judge gave him his choice—$10 or 10 days.

GRISLY MURDER CASE GOES PFFT

CHICAGO —(P)—Mrs. Magdalena Sterling has learned one can't get rid of old bear bones by just tossing them into the trash can.

Long after she had put the remains of a bear haunch into her refuse container and out of mind, she had to explain to the police, the coroner, newspapermen and their neighbors what they were.

Three neighbor youngsters spotted the skinned and denuded left hind leg of the bear in the can while playing. The leg looked human. They told an older boy and he called police.

Tax Deductions For Beauty Care, Baby Sitters Sought

SAN FRANCISCO —(P)—Two tax consultants proposed Tuesday that working girls be permitted to deduct their beauty costs from their income for tax purposes, just like professional glamour girls do.

It's just as important for secretaries, clerks and other women working for wages to look pretty on the job as it is for the girls of movies, stage, radio and television, argued the consultants.

The tax experts are Glenn Graves and Hugh McMahon, who knows a lot about income tax work. They were employed for years by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

In letters to congressmen, they also proposed:

1. That commuters be permitted to deduct from their gross income their fares for traveling to and from work because nowadays it isn't always possible to find housing close to one's job.

2. That persons with adjusted gross income of $30,000 or less be permitted to deduct the wages, salaries and value of meals and lodging paid domestic help and baby sitters, as well as expenses for care, outside education, of minor children . . . because in many cases both the husband and wife have to work to maintain the family adequately.

3. That a self-employed person, devoting full time to his business, be permitted to set up against net income an allowance of 10 per cent, or $5,000, whichever was smaller, as a reserve for expansion.

American Masonic Lodge Planned In German City

By GRACE HALSELL
Special Correspondent

MUNICH, GERMANY—Texas will have the first American Masonic lodge in the history of Munich, and what is believed to be the first Texas lodge located outside of Texas.

It will be known as the "Munich American Lodge, under dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Texas."

Dispensation already has been granted, and the lodge will be in operation "within 30 days," Lt. Col. James S. Killough, native Texan and commanding officer of the 508th Military Police battalion, which polices the largest military district in the world, said.

Colonel Killough is president of the Munich Masonic Club, established in 1946, and the seed for the Munich lodge.

"There are about 175 American Masons in this area, the colonel said. "Masons here started four years ago to establish a lodge. They petitioned half a dozen states, and two years ago, Texas was petitioned," he related.

"There was some hesitancy to establish a lodge in someone else's jurisdiction," he pointed out, "but the Grand Lodge of Germany not only did not object but urged the Grand Lodge of Texas to establish the lodge here because of the fine work the Masons had been doing here, largely for the orphaned."

The lodge "will be like any lodge in Texas," Colonel Killough explained, with the exception that it can not "accept any original application for membership. No one who is not a member of a lodge can apply here for membership, in other words," he pointed out.

"The purpose," he continued "will be to supply a lodge only for those who are already Masons."

Degree work will be put on with permission of the Grand Lodge of Texas. Persons may make applications to their home lodge, and if accepted, the lodge "will request us to put on the degree work," the colonel said.

Before the war, there were eight German Masonic lodges in Munich. "Hitler tried to eradicate all traces of Masonry, but the Masons here tell me there always was some underground activity."

There are now two German lodges in Munich, "very big ones," Colonel Killough said.

At each meeting of the Munich Masonic Club, which will of course cease to exist after the organization of the lodge, "there always are 10 to 20 German Masons present," he said.

NEWS OF SERVICEMEN—"Letters from home sure make me feel happy," Cpl. Morales Ramon of Belton told me when I interviewed him at Coleman Barracks a few miles out from Mannheim.

He is with Company "B," of the 2nd Armored Division, a group with which he has served for the last five years.

The Corporal attended school in Shafter, and worked on ranches near Marfa before coming into the Army in 1945 at Fort Bliss. His basic training was at Fort Hood. His wife, Mary, is in Belton.

"There's just one thing I want, and that's to get back home," the corporal emphasized.

Another corporal who "owned up" to being home sick was James T. Gillis, liaison section chief with 34 months of service, six of them in Japan and three in Germany. His wife and son are in Center, awaiting his return, which he hopes will be in November or December of this year. His parents live in Nacogdoches, and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Goode and Miss Joann Gillis, live in Houston.

Of his tour of duty in Germany, Sgt. 1/c Ernest M. Castillo of Pleasanton can say, "So far, so good," now with battery "B," Third A. F. B. Battalion of the 2nd Armored Division, the sergeant served 13 months with the 17th F. A. Battalion, 8th Army, in Korea.

What he misses most in Germany, he says, is his wife, Pauline, who is in Pleasanton.

Marriage Planned

One Texan here with the 2nd Armored Division, Pfc. Raymond D. Hargrove, says he will marry a German girl, Miss Hella Laffer, of Albstadt, Germany.

The 22-year-old soldier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hargrove of Ralls. He and his bride-to-be, whom he will marry when he is ready to return to the states, will make their home in Ralls.

A Midland native, Cpl. John J. Laushman, son of Mrs. Sophia Laushman of Seymour, hopes to be returning to Texas in July. Out of 11 years service, he has spent 113 months overseas.

His wife, the former Frances Simachl, and their one-year-old son, Johnny Joe, are living in Seymour.

Laushman has served in the Marine Corps, as well as the Army, with much of World War II spent in the Pacific.

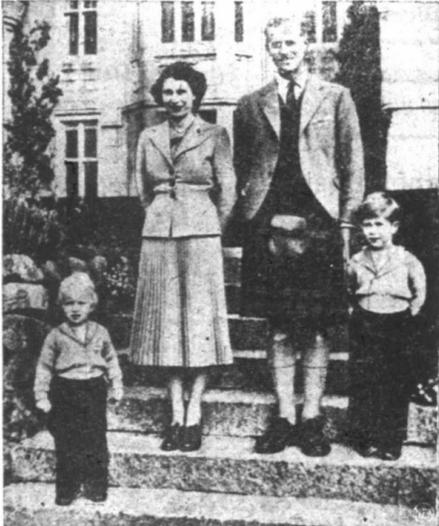

His late father had Leo Laushman's Book Shop in Odessa. The corporal formerly worked for the Harry Portwood ranch in Seymour.

Sgt. Albert Williams, son of Mrs. Louise Williams of Dallas, served 13 months in Korea, but he is now with his first combat group. The reason for this is that he was with special services, as a film specialist, in Korea.

The 22-year-old sergeant has been in Germany for two months, says "it's harder work" here than in Korea.

PLANNING A TRIP?—If any of the readers back home are interested in taking a trip to Europe, or an arm-chair trip to Spain, France, Germany, Italy, and would like to have travel-folder information, just drop me a note.

Two-Cent Federal Gas Tax Returned Into Highway Fund

(Editor's Note—This is another of a series of articles presenting information gathered by the Highway Policy Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.)

ABILENE—Reviewed in preceding articles of this series were three of the four sources of revenue for financing construction and maintenance of highways by the State of Texas. They were the motor fuel (gasoline) tax, motor vehicle registration fees, and the state's general fund.

This article deals with the fourth source—federal aid. Paid in Texas in federal gasoline taxes during the last fiscal year was a total of $196 million. During that year Texas actually received a little less than $30 million in federal highway aid.

HEARING FIXED ON TRUCK BILL

AUSTIN—(AP)—A bill to provide 30-day registration permits for out-of-state trucks coming to Texas to help in harvests has been set for public hearing February 3. The Senate's Committee on Highways and Motor Traffic set the hearing for 2:30 p.m.

At present, 60-day permits are required although the trucks remain in Texas at times only for two or three-week periods.

SUICIDES INCREASE

SINGAPORE—(AP)—One hundred and twenty-five persons took their own lives last year compared to 105 in 1951. Their favorite method of suicide was taking poison, especially caustic soda. Seven persons threw themselves from high buildings, the others killed themselves by drowning, hanging or using firearms.

FROM CRANE

Ruth Stevens of Crane visited in Midland Wednesday.

Thus, the state received slightly more than one-fourth as much as it paid into the federal treasury in federal gasoline taxes. The state contributed $66 million more than it received in aid.

Area, Population, Mileage
The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads allots money to the states for the primary highway program, the city primary program and secondary or Farm-to-Market roads.

The allocations to the respective states are made on basis of their area, population and road mileage. One-third credit is allowed for each. In fiscal 1951 Texas received $29,681,979 federal aid, of that sum, $14,305,046 went to the primary system, $5,799,612 to the urban system and $9,577,321 to the secondary of farm road system.

Texas will receive approximately $34.2 million in federal aid under provisions of the Highway Act now in effect.

Of that amount, approximately $1,580,000 has been allotted for interstate highways, which is a new category.

The allocation to Texas for this year will be approximately 16 per cent higher in each of the other classifications of roads than that of last year.

UNVEIL "POCKET" DESTROYER—Here's the first picture of British navy's new pocket destroyer, Bold Pioneer, until now under tight security wraps. It's cruising off the Isle of Wight. The boat, first British naval craft powered by gas turbine and diesel engines working in conjunction, is 121 feet long, with a 25½-foot beam. It is manned by 16 seamen and two officers.
