Phillips Core Test Finds Oil Show, But Plugged, Abandoned

Phillips Petroleum Company has plugged and abandoned its No. 525 Strat Test in North Reeves County, eight miles northwest of the town of Pecos.

The project, started out as a core test, was abandoned on total depth of 4,953 feet in Delaware sand topped at 3,952 feet. The Delaware lime was topped at 3,952 feet. After finding some shows of oil in the hole operator set five and one-half-inch casing at 4,083 feet and tested through perforations at 4,018-4,049 feet.

Final swabbing gauge through that set of perforations was 53.83 barrels of fluid in 24 hours. It was 46.23 barrels of water and 7.6 barrels of new oil. The section had been acidized with 800 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 4,500 gallons.

Drillstem tests in the project were as follows: from 3,980 to 4,024 feet, open two and one-half hours, good blow air in 40 minutes which died after one hour and 25 minutes. Recovery was 220 feet of heavily gas-cut mud. All pressures were zero.

Drillstem test from 4,014 to 4,042 feet. Open four and one-half hours. Good blow of air in 15 minutes and blew the remainder of the test. Recovered 200 feet of heavily gas-cut mud. All pressures zero.

Oil Shows Logged On Core Cut From Andrews Explorer

Stanford Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Fasken-Ellenburger-Southwest Area, Southeast Andrews County exploration, one location northeast of the discovery well for Ellenburger production in the shallow Midland Farms field, had a good show of oil and gas in a core at 12,500-12,510 feet in the top of the Ellenburger.

Recovery from that cutting was 46.3 feet of dolomite with fractures and open scattered vugs. There were good oil shows in the fractures, and good fluorescence and all odor.

Test Fails
Operator tried a drillstem test at 12,500-655 feet. The tool did not function properly. It is to be pulled and checked. It will then be re-run for another try for a test.

This prospect is a northeast offset to Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-24 Fasken, an Ellenburger discovery.

It topped the Ellenburger at 12,605 feet, which is on a datum of minus 9,612 feet. That is 74 feet high to the same marker in the Anderson-Prichard.

Location is 2,146 feet from north and 690 feet from west lines of section 9, block 42, T-1-N, G&M&B&A survey. It is 12 miles southeast of the town of Andrews.

NW Kent Sector Gains Site For 6,500-Foot Test

Novi Equipment Company of Fort Worth spotted location for a 6,500-foot wildcat exploration in Northwest Kent County.

It will be drilled as No. 1 J. N. Self, at the center of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 9, block B, ps1 survey and 16 miles northwest of Claremont and nine miles northwest of the Salt Creek (Pennsylvania) field.

Forest Takes Logs On Devonian Pay Opener In Gaines

Forest Oil Corporation No. 1-A Jones, Devonian discovery in Northwest Gaines County, is at total depth of 11,293 feet and is conditioning hole to run logs after a drillstem test from 11,275 to 11,293 feet.

Tool was open three hours. Recovery was 495 feet of oil, 990 feet of oil and gas cut water blanket, 270 feet of oil and gas cut mud and 270 feet of salt water. Flowing pressure was between 535 and 1,090 pounds and shutin pressure after 30 minutes was 3,395 pounds.

This venture recovered 3,478 feet of 40-gravity oil on a drillstem test on the interval between 11,254 and 11,278 feet.

Milk Products Stricken From Control Sheet

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government Wednesday lifted price controls from milk, butter, ice cream and other dairy products. Drugs, cosmetics, coal, lumber and most service charges, such as for auto, radio and television repairs, also were freed from controls.

Price Stabilizer Joseph Freehill said the items decontrolled in the new list affect about 10 per cent of the articles used in making up the cost of living index. He said the Office of Price Stabilization still retains full control over about 13 per cent of the items and partial control over about 3.5 per cent.

Missing from the list was cigarettes and other tobacco products on which OPS had planned Tuesday to lift controls. The agency decided overnight to substitute milk and dairy products and oleomargarine for the tobaccos.

This was the third major action in stripping off price curbs since President Eisenhower called for ending controls in an orderly manner by April 30.

Freehill estimated that more than $25,000,000 worth of goods and services, based on the annual business volume, was affected by Wednesday's action.

Appeal Court Rules Intrastate Freight Increase Justified

AUSTIN—(AP)—A general six per cent boost by the Railroad Commission in intrastate freight rates was upheld Wednesday by the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

The court sustained a district court decision denying an injunction which the Texas Industrial Traffic League had sought against the commission's order of Feb. 27, 1952, granting the increase.

The league had appealed from District Judge J. Harris Gardner's ruling, alleging 13 points of error. The league particularly urged that the trial court erred in holding that the question involved was whether there was substantial evidence to support the order.

Declaring the trial court correct, Chief Justice Roy C. Archer said: "The trial court made findings of facts and conclusions of law going into detail of his fact findings, and we believe that such findings are supported by the record."

The league also contended the new rates were unjust and unreasonable to them in that they were substantially higher than the rates on the same commodities in the general territory.

House Panel Tax Cut Demand Spurs Balanced Budget Plea

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee disagreed vigorously and openly Wednesday with President Eisenhower's avowed policy of putting spending cuts ahead of any reductions in taxes.

A tax cut must "precede, not follow" budget reductions, the committee said in a report to the House one day after Eisenhower strongly renewed his stand for the reverse order.

Further, the committee asserted, a delay in tax trimming until the level of spending is determined—the approach stressed by Eisenhower—"might well have serious economic consequences."

This language brought squarely into the open a simmering clash among Republicans over tax policy and raised the threat of a possible presidential veto. It was approved by the committee in a closed meeting late Tuesday—without a roll-call vote.

The committee planned to make it public Wednesday. Some newsmen saw a copy in advance of that action.

Future Tax Higher?
The report formally sends to the House, with a recommendation for passage, a bill by Committee Chairman Reed (R-NY) to cut individual income taxes 10 per cent starting July 1—a bill approved 21-4 by the committee Monday.

At his first White House news conference, Eisenhower said the

High Court Again Upholds Martin Water Regulations

STANTON—Martin County, its stand upheld again Wednesday by the Texas Supreme Court, was reported studying revision of regulations governing production of its underground water.

Enforcement of present regulations could affect seriously the water supplies of Snyder, Odessa and Big Spring, members of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

"But the board of directors of the Martin County district," said County Judge James McMorris of enforcement of present regulations could affect seriously the water supplies of Snyder, Odessa and Big Spring, members of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

When it was pointed out that the city's finance department, with Director Kent Moore and three accountants, was crowded into a 9x18-foot room, the councilmen wasted no time in finding a solution.

Councilman R. B. (Bum) Cowden suggested that the council meeting room be converted into office space and Councilmen Ray O. Howard, J. B. McCoy, Johnny Starr and J. T. Baker, along with Mayor Perry Pickett, quickly agreed.

City Manager W. H. Oswald was instructed to make the necessary arrangements.

In the meantime—until the new Public Safety Building is constructed and City Hall is remodeled—the council will meet wherever it can find space, probably in the Midland County Courthouse.

The final meeting at City Hall will be held Thursday afternoon.

AUSTIN DOINGS IN A NUTSHELL

AUSTIN—(AP)—Legislation-in-brief:

House—Passed bill stiffening cosmetology regulations, sending it to Senate. Passed resolution hitting high oil imports.

Senate—Worked on minor bills and resolutions and went into executive session to consider governor's nominations.

Governor—Asked Legislature to speed up action on tubercular hospital bills.

Less seriously hurt but still hospitalized in Denver City were Pete St. Romaine, operator of the Plains Telephone and water companies and owner of the demolished warehouse; E. R. Watson, 22, irrigation well repairman, and Clarence W. Brown, Yoakum County commissioner, who was cut by flying glass in the courthouse a block away from the warehouse.

New Sabre Jockey Becomes Ace; Seven MIG's Tumble Down

SEOUL—(AP)—Almost 40 Allied fighter-bombers blasted a big North Korean tank and infantry training base into flaming ruin in dawn-to-dusk raids Wednesday, touching off furious air battles that saw seven Red MIG's shot from the skies, the Fifth Air Force reported.

Two tremendous air blows by 379 fighter-bombers turned the center near the North Korean capital of Pyongyang into a sea of "hellish fire" with great explosions that jarred raider planes 11,000 feet up, returning pilots reported.

Air Force and Marine planes teamed in the strike, billed as the largest of the year.

Wednesday's seven boosted to 35 the number of MIG's reported destroyed or damaged in five days of fierce aerial fights. Of these, 14 were destroyed, five probably destroyed and 16 damaged.

Incomplete reports said Sabre pilots shot down five MIG's deep over Northwest Korea and destroyed two more by out-maneuvering them in swirling dogfights that produced the twenty-sixth ace of the Korean war.

The new ace is Capt. Manuel J. Fernandez of Miami. He was credited with two killed Wednesday. This confirmed total to six MIG's destroyed and one probably destroyed.

21 State-Wide Flowing Days Set For Month

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Railroad Commission Wednesday slashed Texas allowable oil production for March by 118,405 barrels daily, cutting permissive flow to 3,118,751 barrels a day.

Increasing imports and too much stocks were given as reasons for the cutback.

The March allowable order placed the state on 21 production days generally with the big East Texas Pool on 18 days. Pantex was placed on 16 days; Pickton, 9; Pewitt Ranch 10; Hawkins 12; 14 West Texas fields connected to the Phillips Goldsmith Plant, 19; and Fort Chadbourne, shut in.

The state now is on 20 days and East Texas on 17 in the short month of February.

Hundreds of oil men, including officials from major companies, crowded the public hearing preceding issuance of the order.

Two officials, representing Socony-Vacuum and Standard of California, testified under questioning they are depending on imports from Canada rather than Texas production for their long-range supplies.

A number of the nation's top oil figures were present to tell the oil regulatory commission first hand of the industry's need and plans for 1953.

Only Two Testify
Only the two testified, however. They were put on the griddle by Alvin Lane, Dallas attorney-oil man who said he owned production in East and West Texas and was representing West Coast Pipeline Company, a line still on the planning board.

F. W. Bartlett, a director of Socony-Vacuum, told Lane and the commission his company does not intend to supplant domestic production but it cannot take Texas oil to the West Coast except at a substantial loss because of transportation costs.

He testified long-range plans to use Canadian oil instead of Texas oil would balance out by leaving Texas oil to go East. He said Canadian oil would fill the Eastern demand if the Texas oil were taken West.

Bartlett declined to say flatly how much his company would cut imports, however, if a demand decline developed in this country.

Austin Cade, representing Standard of California, testified that if a Texas-to-West Coast pipe line were built to deliver oil at 50 cents (Continued on Page 10)

U. S. Battle Casualties Increase To 130,093

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea reached 130,093 Wednesday, an increase of 274 since last week.

The Defense Department's weekly summary based on notifications to families through last Friday reported: Killed in action, 46; wounded, 223; missing, five.

Fine, Jail Assessed In Horsemeat Case

KERMIT—Tom Gordy, Kermit meat dealer, was convicted Wednesday in the sale of horsemeat for human consumption. Sentence was a $1,000 fine and two years in county jail, maximum penalty under the charge. Verdict was reached in less than 25 minutes. Gordy showed no emotion when the verdict was read.

Gordy's lawyers immediately gave notice of appeal.

The court had heard final arguments Wednesday morning before turning the case over to the jury about 11:15 a.m.

The defense produced a single witness, W. A. Carruth of Kermit, who said he had worked for Gordy four months but during that time had not seen horsemeat used nor any indication that it had been mixed with other meat.

Trouble Said Feared
Leslie Lee Alford, negro and former butcher for Gordy, had testified, however, that he regularly put horsemeat in hamburger meat while working for Gordy. He worked with the company one year, Alford said that at one time he had burned some 500 pounds of horsemeat because Gordy feared "trouble" and ordered the disposal.

Another key state witness was J. H. Arnett, Austin, a State Health Department chemist. He said he inspected a meat sample given him by Texas Ranger Earl Stewart. The sample, he said, contained horsemeat.

Sample From Cafe
Earlier, Stewart told of getting the meat sample from County Attorney John Lee and Deputy Sheriff L. L. Gray of Wink. The law officers had testified Tuesday that they got the meat from a Kermit cafe operated by M. O. Howell, who said he had purchased hamburger meat from Gordy's firm the day before the sample was taken.

M. T. Wingham, Kermit butcher, told of working for Gordy a short time. He quit, he said, because he "didn't want to get into trouble."

FOOD TURNS INTO DAGGER

A piece of macaroni can be a dangerous weapon, or so it must have seemed to Douglas Smith, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Branch, 1295 South Connell Street.

The youngster was playing at home Tuesday when he stuck an uncooked fragment of the Italian food in the side of his mouth.

Douglas received a puncture wound of the cheek.

He was taken to Western Clinic-Hospital for emergency treatment.

Stanton-Glasscock Road Bids Opened

Bids on the final link of a paved highway connecting Stanton directly south to the Garden City Highway were opened Wednesday by the State Highway Department in Austin.

Holland Page of Austin was apparent low bidder on a quotation of $100,726.

The new project will carry Farm Road 1800 on south from Midland County and 11 miles into Glasscock County, where it will intersect State Highway 158.

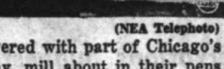

The project calls for 12.4 miles of grading, structures, base and surfacing.

Midland Residence Damaged By Fire

The interior of the bathroom of the M. A. Hornsby residence, 709 North Baird Street, was damaged Wednesday by fire caused by an open gas valve and a hot water heater.

Midland firemen, who answered the alarm at 10:08 a.m., said that six glasses of tap water were used to put out the fire which damaged walls and ceiling of the room.

Gas from the open cock was ignited by a nearby hot water heater, firemen said.

COLD BEEF—Cattle, covered with part of Chicago's five-inch snowfall Monday, mill about in their pens at the stockyards. The day's receipts of 24,000 head were slightly higher than normal, indicating farmers hope for higher prices with the end of price controls.

Wind-Whipped Clouds
Partly cloudy and windy Wednesday night, Thursday partly cloudy and colder with scattered thunderstorms east of the Pecos Valley. Maximum temperature Tuesday 63 degrees; minimum Wednesday 38 degrees.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

And be ye kind one to another.—Ephesians 4-32

Today's Message

Justice among men can be attained only by the satisfaction of human hunger that are threefold in their nature, because man is at once a physical creature who must be clothed, fed and sheltered; a thinking being who is forever questioning and must be given the opportunity to find the answers; a spiritual being within whom burn aspirations that cannot be quenched by all the material goods of this world.

Man's spiritual side is the dominant one. No human being, whatever his position, merits more respect than any other animal unless we accept without reservation the brotherhood of man under the Fatherhood of God. If men are not creatures of soul, they are not better than the field mule, whipped and goaded to work, cared for in the measure of his monetary value. But too often we incline to describe the ultimate in human welfare as a tulle sort of heaven—a roof overhead, food, a minimum of work and no responsibilities.

Unless we rekindle our own understanding, we cannot hope to make unbelievers see that things of the spirit—justice, freedom, equality—are the elements that make important the satisfaction of man's creative needs.

Today's Prayer

Our Heavenly Father, help us to realize that peace is more the product of our everyday living than of a spectacular program, intermittently executed. May we live our daily lives in honesty, decency and integrity; at home, making our own land a fitting habitation for free men; and, joining with those of like mind and heart, to make of the world a place where all men can dwell in peace. Amen.

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— A $150,000 suit has been filed by actress Joan Miller against the National Broadcasting Company and others, claiming her name has been used for that of a disreputable Nazi spy in the radio show "Dangerous Assignment."

Miss Miller said in her complaint Tuesday that she performed "highly confidential and restricted work" for the Office of War Information during World War II, and that for this reason use of her name in the manner complained of was particularly injurious.

Radio producer Don Sharpe and actor Brian Donley were named co-defendants.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF. —(AP)— Mrs. Babe Blum, Jack Benny's sister-in-law, has divorced Myrt T. Blum, business administration expert and oil man.

"He stayed out all hours of the night without explanation, used profane language in front of my friends and embarrassed me," Mrs. Blum, 47, testified of her 62-year-old spouse Tuesday.

She will receive 30 per cent of his gross income until she remarries, a $112,000 home in Beverly Hills, half of his other properties and a half interest in whatever he gets from a $100,000 income tax refund claim.

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— A $100,000 damage suit has been filed against crying singer Johnnie Ray. Herman Prujansky said he became Ray's publicity man at $200 a week last July but was fired without cause last December 3. He said he had an oral agreement that provided for him to continue his service as long as Ray remained in show business.

A press agent can change the name of a starlet to Pola Roid. Girls who photograph well in 3-D can be called "Depth Chargers."

An executive, announcing a program of third-dimensional pictures to his producers, can say: "Only two things are sure in Hollywood today, Depth and Taxes."

A writer can submit an idea for a new Leslie picture to be shot in Tree-D. New name for Hollywood: Depth Valley. An actor's son, asked by his teacher what one and two add up to, can answer "3-D."

Warner Brothers can remake "Three Men on a Horse" under the title of "Three-D Men on a Horse." And Stanley Kramer can retitlle it: "Depth of a Salesman."

Jeane Crain isn't saying yes or no about joining June Haver in an exit from Fox. But she's admitting she's weighing a decision whether to stay on at the studio that built her from a high-school-age actress to a top star.

Putting down the script of "Dangerous Crossing," her new film, Jeane told me: "I feel I've missed marvelous opportunities for roles when the studio wouldn't lend me. My heart's been broken many times. I just don't know. When you're more or less out of the budding-actress stage, it might be good to give yourself a wider range."

"I've never played a mean part. I'd love to. Ann Blyth, one of my best friends, is a real angel. And nobody can be better than Ann as a vixen. It's just that people get used to you at a studio. They never see you with an unprejudiced eye."

A movie dolt who just took the name of Mamie can't deny her eye was on the White House, but another film newcomer with the First Lady's hairdo hopes "Hollywood won't make anything of it."

Zaba Olander, a sexy dish who is a dead ringer for Marilyn Monroe, is due for a star buildup at U-I under the name of Mamie Van Doren.

Maggie McNamara is the gal with bangs like Mamie Eisenhower, but she says: "I was wearing my hair that way long before I ever heard that Mamie. It just happens to be the most becoming way for me to wear it. If you have to depend on your hair for distinction, you may as well quit."

Zaba makes her film debut in "You Belong to Me," and Maggie's bangs are in the film version of "The Moon Is Blue."

A writer can submit an idea for a new Leslie picture to be shot in Tree-D. New name for Hollywood: Depth Valley. An actor's son, asked by his teacher what one and two add up to, can answer "3-D."

Warner Brothers can remake "Three Men on a Horse" under the title of "Three-D Men on a Horse." And Stanley Kramer can retitlle it: "Depth of a Salesman."

Jeane Crain isn't saying yes or no about joining June Haver in an exit from Fox. But she's admitting she's weighing a decision whether to stay on at the studio that built her from a high-school-age actress to a top star.

Putting down the script of "Dangerous Crossing," her new film, Jeane told me: "I feel I've missed marvelous opportunities for roles when the studio wouldn't lend me. My heart's been broken many times. I just don't know. When you're more or less out of the budding-actress stage, it might be good to give yourself a wider range."

"I've never played a mean part. I'd love to. Ann Blyth, one of my best friends, is a real angel. And nobody can be better than Ann as a vixen. It's just that people get used to you at a studio. They never see you with an unprejudiced eye."

A movie dolt who just took the name of Mamie can't deny her eye was on the White House, but another film newcomer with the First Lady's hairdo hopes "Hollywood won't make anything of it."

Maggie McNamara is the gal with bangs like Mamie Eisenhower, but she says: "I was wearing my hair that way long before I ever heard that Mamie. It just happens to be the most becoming way for me to wear it. If you have to depend on your hair for distinction, you may as well quit."

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD— Behind the Screen: Now that third-dimension "depths" are on their way the 3-D era gags will start flying. My contributions:

Cinerama and Fox's new Cine-mascope cyclo-rama screen process can be called "The SEE Around Us." Polaroid monoculars can be manufactured so that Charles Coburn can see his third-dimensional rushes. A press agent can change the name of a starlet to Pola Roid. Girls who photograph well in 3-D can be called "Depth Chargers."

Clinic Slated In McCamey

McCAMEY—The McCamey Chamber of Commerce will sponsor its first annual Community Clinic Thursday in the Community Park Building here.

Six group meetings are scheduled during the day, beginning at 9 a.m., according to Charley R. Young, manager of the McCamey C. of C.

Ralph Duncan, manager of the Community Services Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will conduct the clinic.

"The wants and needs of the community will be discussed at the various sessions," Young stated.

"We feel that the Chamber can do a much better job if we know what the people of McCamey want."

The prime purpose of the clinic is to determine a community-wide program of work and to interest citizens in joining hands to accomplish the objectives.

Young said all interested persons are invited and urged to attend the clinic.

Festival Of Song Is Civic Music Hit

Midland took a liking Tuesday night to one of the finest young choral groups ever to appear here.

The Festival of Song, sponsored by the Midland Civic Music Association, was staged in the High School Auditorium.

Not depending on vocal presentation alone, the group utilized dramatic lighting and costuming effects to set the mood for their various numbers. The versatile musicians (most of them are instrumentalists, too) are under the able direction of Dr. Lara Hoggard, director of the Fred Waring Glee Club since 1946 and former director of choral music at the University of Oklahoma.

Featured on the program was Felisa Conde, dancer and choreographer, whose talents lent charm to such numbers as "Around the Corner," "Tarrantella," "The Jug-gler" and "So in Love." Midlanders particularly liked the chorus' fresh interpretations of American folk and popular music.

Their applause for "Lollytoddum," a rollicking Appalachian Mountain song, brought forth as a spontaneous encore, a similar sprightly number called "Daniel Boone."

Another favorite with Midlanders was the presentation of "God's Trombones," a number based on two negro folk sermons read by Craig Timberlake and featuring a variety of negro spirituals.

On the more serious side the audience demonstrated its approval of the dance pantomime accompanying "The Jugler." Against a musical background of music by Debussy, Thompson and Arcadelt, Miss Conde danced out the story of the little juggler who had nothing to offer the Virgin Mary except his own small talent.

Other popular numbers included the former juke box favorite, "Around the Corner," featuring a humorous dance by Miss Conde; "Le Fiacre," a French novelty tune about a carriage; "So in Love," the romantic theme from the Broadway musical, "Kiss Me, Kate," and two songs of Galilee, "El Yinneh Hagall!" (The Lord Will Build Galilee) and "Have Nir'kana" (Come, Let Us Dance).

The program also included: "God of Our Fathers," arranged by Livingston Gearhart; "Opus 74, No. 2," Brahms; "Pueri Hebraeorum," Randall Thompson; "Motherless Child," spiritual arranged by Roy Ringwald; "A Ceremony of Carols," Benjamin Britten.

"Elegy to a Hero," Normand Lockwood; "Baur, was trest in Sacke," Lasso; "Ho, Robyn! Genty! Robyn," a 16th century glee; "I'll Wait for My Love," Thomas L. Waring; "Praeludium in E Minor," MacDowell, played by Wallace Hornbrook; four Brahms waltzes, and as an encore, "The Twelve Days of Christmas."—P.A.

Harried Solons Carve Out New Texas Voting Districts

By MARTHA COLE

AUSTIN —(P)—Legislators have started coloring maps of Texas, but it isn't a third grade crayon exercise—it's a full sized problem of redistricting the state for congressional representation.

Two maps realigning the 21 congressional districts to make way for a twenty-second had evolved Wednesday.

But there was no assurance either of those maps would survive very long.

Texas was entitled to a twenty-second congressman under the 1950 census but the Legislature failed to redistrict the state in 1951.

The 1950 census also reveals population shifts. Subcommittees have been at work, trying to carve out 22 districts on the basis of an average population of 314,099.

Panhandle Little Changed There are more problems: 1. Present congressmen don't want to be thrown into a district with another so they would have to run against each other for reelection.

2. Smaller cities don't want to be thrown in with larger cities that could control the voting.

Under present plans, the Panhandle district would remain the same except for the addition of Floyd County. The 19th District now represented by Rep. George Mahon, Colorado City, would lose Dickens, King, Kent, Stonewall and Haskell Counties. Those five would go into the 13th District of Rep. Frank Isard, Wichita Falls.

Rayburn Gains Counties Cooke and Denton Counties, now in the 13th District, would be switched over to District 4 of Rep. Sam Rayburn, Bonham.

Down in the Valley, Cameron, Willacy, Hidalgo, Starr and Zapata Counties—and maybe Webb—would comprise one district.

The 14th District of Rep. John Lyle, Corpus Christi, would be cut down to the north but extended westward to take in LaSalle and Frio Counties.

The part of Texas from San Antonio southeast to the Gulf, encompassing Victoria, would be a new district with no present congressman living within its borders.

Big Cities One Each In East Texas, Navarro and Hill Counties would be added to the district now served by Rep. John Dowdy, Athens.

District 1 would get Wood County. District 3 would lose Wood and Van Zandt but pick up Nacogdoches, Angelina, Shelby, San Augustine and Sabine. District 2 would be shortened by the loss of those counties.

In Central Texas, Rep. Bob Fosse's district would pick up Robertson County.

Dallas, Fort Worth and San Antonio would have one congressman each. Houston would have one and the southern part of Harris County would be combined with Galveston for one congressman.

District 17 of Rep. Omar Burleson, Anson would add Hood, Johnson and Somervell Counties.

Toastmasters Back Cutting Controls On Prices, Wages

Toastmasters demanded immediate removal of all wage and price controls by the government in their dinner meeting Tuesday night at the Cactus Restaurant.

A minority favored retention of partial controls, particularly rent curbs.

Dissension on the effects of the action varied from predictions of a forthcoming depression to a quick return to a normal healthy economy.

Tom King introduced the table topic. President Benton Howell was in charge, introducing Nibs Walker as the Toastmaster for the evening. Walker presented John Braue and Loyd DeArmon certificates of achievement: Both had delivered more than 12 regular speeches. Walker also introduced four speakers for the evening.

They were Dr. T. P. Marinis, with a short talk on his own life; Rudy Berg, "George Washington;" Dr. Henry Schlichting, "How to Make a Professional Speech;" and Braue, "The Secret of Speech Making."

Jack E. Blake was general critic for the evening, aided by Robert Conaway, Laney McMath, Bob Pine and DeArmon. Jim Velvin, Jr., acted as grammarian, and Guy Brenneman was timekeeper.

China Reds Said Building Defenses Opposite Formosa

TAIPEI, FORMOSA —(P)—Ta Tao News Agency said Wednesday the Chinese Reds have called in additional troops and clamped rigorous martial law on the mainland coast of Fukien Province, opposite Formosa.

Ta Tao, organ of National China's Interior Ministry, said the Communists set up a special garrison headquarters at Minhow port, capital of Fukien.

The agency gave underground contacts as its source. It said Minhow headquarters was established February 5—three days after President Eisenhower announced the U. S. decision to denaturalize the Formosa Strait.

The agency also declared thousands of Chinese, fearful of Nationalist air raids, are attempting to leave Shanghai but have found exit permits virtually obtainable.

Enjoy new lightness, full flavor, true digestibility! Fry with new Crisco!

There's nothing better than crisp, tender fried chicken, full of delicious, natural flavor. But yours may fall short of perfection, if you're using an ordinary frying fat with odor and flavor of its own. Such fat tends to drown out true flavor... may even give food a greasy taste.

But oh, what a delicious difference when you change to new Crisco for frying! All-vegetable Crisco is so pure, so fresh, it lets the good, natural flavor through, while it browns foods to perfection. For new Crisco is different. It looks whiter, it's creamier than any other leading vegetable shortening. Smells fresh and sweet... keeps fresh without refrigeration.

Yes, when you start to fry foods crisp and tender in new Crisco, they'll be lighter, better tasting, better for you! For Crisco itself is digestible. And 9 out of 10 doctors say Crisco-fried foods are easy to digest. Start now to fry with new Crisco!

Ferguson Insists On Blockading Reds

WASHINGTON—(P)—With or without the consent of its allies, Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) says, the U. S. should step up prosecution of the Korean War with a naval blockade of Red China.

"If Communist China and Russia come to the conclusion we can't win a war on a 150-mile front," Ferguson said Tuesday night, "they are apt to conclude, and so are our allies, that we don't know how to win a war, or fight a war."

But Representative Roosevelt (D-N.Y.), debating Ferguson on a television program, said such a move could touch off World War III. Besides, he said, other countries also are wondering "why Russia and China are not winning this war on a 150-mile front."

Stalin Holds Talks With Indian Envoys

MOSCOW—(P)—In a brace of his rare meetings with foreigners, Prime Minister Stalin received two Indians Tuesday night. As usual, the news was on the front pages of the Soviet press Wednesday and as usual none of the conversation was revealed.

One of Stalin's callers was India's new ambassador, K. P. S. Menon.

In a separate meeting, Stalin also received Dr. Saifuddin Kitchlu, chairman of the All-India Peace Council and winner of a Stalin Peace Prize last year.

east coast but could a blockade of the Red China coast do as well?

The possible repercussions from Communist China, Russia and the rest of the Red world is something that Navy men do not talk about publicly.

Would such a sea blockade drastically slash Communist China's war potential anyway? That is considered quite likely.

The U. S. and United Nations warships operating in the Korean War know there is a lot of surface traffic along the 3,000-mile China coast.

Hundreds of Chinese junks, as well as vessels flying foreign flags—including some leased from members of the United Nations—scoot in and out of Red ports with war materiel.

The U. S. Navy, with carriers, battleships, cruisers, destroyers, planes and patrol boats, probably could stop the bulk of this traffic.

Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist Navy, with only about 80 small warships, is not sufficient even to curtail the movement of Chinese junks along the coast.

Value Demonstrated

Nationalist China proclaimed a port closure on the China coast three years ago. It has not been effective.

The value of a blockade has been demonstrated ably in the UN naval warfare against Red Korea.

"We have completely suppressed coastal traffic around Korea," said Rear Adm. Apollo Soucek, commander of U. S. Carrier Division 3 in the Sea of Japan.

Although the Allied warships have denied use of the sea to the Communists in Korea, the Reds still are pouring tremendous stores into their front lines by land routes.

State Of Union Paragraph May Expedite School Funds

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
 WASHINGTON—(P)—A House Democrat pointed to a passage from President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Wednesday to support a drive for more money for hard-hit school districts.

The House Appropriations Committee turned down a request by former President Truman for 24 million dollars to help school districts whose pupil population has been swollen by an influx of defense workers or military personnel.

The GOP-controlled committee said there appeared to be no need for the additional money, since 40 millions already have been appropriated for the fiscal year ending June 1.

Representative Fogarty (D-R.I.), a committee member, told newsmen he would ask the House to restore the 24 million when the bill reaches the amendment stage, probably late Wednesday. He said he expected most Democrats and many Republicans to support his move.

Eisenhower's Words

Fogarty said Eisenhower himself is supporting the school aid program and cited this passage from the President's address to Congress February 2:

"One phase of the school problem demands special attention. The school population of many districts has been greatly increased by swift growth of defense activities. . . . Legislation aiding construction of schools in these districts expires on June 30. This law should be renewed; and, likewise, the partial payments for current operating expenses for these particular school districts should be made, including the deficiency requirement of the current fiscal year."

To fail to provide the money, Fogarty said, not only would injure the school districts but would amount to a repudiation of the President.

Reuther Lambasts Conditions In U. S. Education System

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(P)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO, declared Wednesday, "The plight of our schools has deteriorated from a national scandal to a national tragedy."

"Millions of American children are being robbed of their rightful opportunity for a decent and full education," he said in a speech prepared for the American Association of School Administrators.

If the nation can afford billions for defense, it can afford an adequate school system, he added. Hundreds of thousands of CIO members work in modern, well-lighted, well-ventilated defense plants paid for by taxpayers, he said, adding:

"But the kids of these workers are forced in too many communities to go to schools that are outdated, overcrowded, or understaffed, or makeshift or obsolete. . . .

"Regardless of what you may hear from Washington, the country isn't bankrupt. It has the financial strength, and it should have the will, to make the necessary investments to produce a decent school system."

Red China, on the other hand, has few good roads and few rail lines. Most of their shipping is by sea, river and canal. To deny them coastal traffic would hurt them badly.

Naturally the Reds could be expected to hit back at any stiffing blockade.

Red China has no Navy now of any consequence, but Soucek takes this view:

"If there is nothing to keep the Russians from giving the Chinese planes and guns, there probably is no reason why they wouldn't give China submarines too."

There have been Washington estimates that Russia has as many as 20 or more submarines in the Far East.

Russia has submarines based at Darien and Vladivostok. Some may be at the Chinese ports of Tainiao and Crefoo and others probably are nested on the island of Sakhalin, north of Japan and up the wide and deep rivers of Siberia.

Midland's Masonic Temple To Be Completed April 15

The new Midland Masonic Temple, which has been under construction since August, 1952, is scheduled for completion April 15, according to Hank Avery, architect and engineer. The structure will provide meeting places for Midland Lodge No. 623 A. F. & A. M.; Keystone Council No. 112; R. & S. M.; Keystone Chapter No. 172, R. A. M.; Midland Commandery No. 84, K. T.; Midland Scottish Rite Club, Midland Shrine Club, Order of De Molay, Eastern Star, and Rainbow Girls. Houston Hill, Inc., Midland contractor, was awarded contract for the $210,000 building in July, 1952. The temple occupies one quarter of a block just 16 blocks from the downtown business section and contains approximately 18,600 square feet of floor space. No rental space on the ground floor will be provided since the entire structure will be devoted to Masonic activities. The two store structure provides one large room upstairs seating 60 people. Also included in the plans are a banquet room, kitchen, four offices, practice room, credentialed rooms, utility rooms and large store rooms. Year around air conditioning is being installed since the building is designed without the use of windows.

Church Bells Toll Mardi Gras' End

NEW ORLEANS, LA. — (AP) — Church bells tolled the end of Mardi Gras revelry and the beginning of 40 days of fasting and penance of Lent.

Mardi Gras, its merrymaking merred by at least one death, ended Tuesday midnight and the devout began preparing spiritually for Easter.

But, while Mardi Gras was at its height, thousands of natives and visitors from all parts of the world laughed, cheered, danced and jostled each other for choice spots along the parade route of Rex, Lord of Misrule.

During the parade of the Krewe of Orleans, a 17-year-old merry-maker jumped from a trailer truck and slipped beneath its wheels. Phil Warren Stratton, Jr., a Tulane University freshman, was pronounced dead on arrival at a New Orleans hospital.

The midmorning parade of Rex pushed through the packed streets as the shouting spectators and high-voiced children called for the men on the floats to "Throw me something, mister."

It is tradition for the masked and costumed float riders to toss trinkets to the crowds as the procession moves through the city. There is a mad scramble for the cheap beads and other inexpensive items.

Mardi Gras is a holiday in New Orleans. Schools were locked up for the day.

Rex, mechanical engineer Charles C. Crawford, halted the parade on historic Canal Street and toasted his queen, debutante Adelaide Wisdom.

King Zulu, the negro ruler, and his warriors opened the day of fun by floating down the Mississippi River on a barge.

Comus, the oldest Mardi Gras organization in the Crescent City, concluded the season's parading with a torch-lit march Tuesday night. After the Comus parade, Rex and Comus held separate balls in the divided municipal auditorium. At midnight, the two kings met and toasted each other as a signal for the end of the revelry and the beginning of Lent.

Persistent Joiner Gets Army Walking Papers Second Time

FORT MEAD, MD. — (AP) — The Army shooed Pvt. Harry Clifford Maynard out of uniform for the second time Wednesday and told him not to come back again until after he turns 17.

The persistent young paratrooper from Phelps, Ky., was given his walking papers the first time last July after 16 months of service in the states. He was only 14 when he enlisted. The Army discovered when the superintendent of schools back in Phelps spilled the beans.

Last month, Maynard tried it again at Ashland, Ky. He slipped past the same recruiter, the same doctor who gave him his physical the first time and the same captain who administered the oath.

At Fort Mead a few days ago, they read the Articles of War as part of induction training, and when they came to the part about penalties for fraudulent enlistment, Maynard decided he'd better confess that he was only 14.

With 16 months of service behind him, Harry is entitled to GI education benefits so he hopes to enter a military school until he's old enough to join the Army legally. "By the time I'm 20, I'm going to be an officer," he said.

Baptists Expect New Attendance Record At School

The third annual Central Training School now in progress at the First Baptist churches in Midland and Odessa is expected to establish new attendance records, the Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor, said Wednesday.

More than 1,200 had attended through Tuesday night and the total was expected to reach 1,800, a new high, before the school concludes Friday night.

The school is being conducted jointly by the Odessa and Midland churches as one of 20 centers in the statewide program. The Permian Basin center is the fifth largest in Texas.

San Angelo Trucker Injured Near Bastrop

BASTROP — (AP) — A San Angelo man, identified from papers as Richard Ainsworth, was in serious condition here from head injuries Tuesday night.

A truck he was driving overturned on Highway 21 near here.

Completion of the Temple will climax three years of work by the 13 member building committee which is headed by R. B. Cowden, chairman. The late M. C. Ulmer served as the first chairman until his death. Hank Avery is secretary of the building committee.

Other members are John P. Butler, Ralph Barron, J. A. Sewell, Perry Collins, B. F. Davidson, Wallace Irwin, Greene Hazel, Charles L. Klapproth, J. B. McCoy, O. J. Hubbard and Roy McKee. George F. Vannaman is Worshipful Master of Midland Lodge No. 623, A. F. & A. M., which now has a membership of 515.

The original Lodge Temple was destroyed by fire in 1908. A new temple was built in 1909 and the structure was sold in January, 1952.

Services Planned For Mrs. Alexander

Funeral services for Mrs. Willie Lee Alexander, 67, who died Monday night, will be held at 3 p. m. Thursday from the Newmie W. Ellis chapel with the Rev. F. W. Rogers of the Church of the Nazarene officiating. Interment will be in the Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Alexander had been in ill health for some time. She suffered a heart seizure at her home, 1305 West Dakota Street, and died later in a Midland hospital. Mrs. Alexander came to Midland from Lexington, Texas in 1936.

Survivors include a son, three daughters, two brothers, three sisters, 14 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Eisler Disperses Rumors Of Flight From Jewish Purge

BERLIN — (AP) — Gerhart Eisler, deposed propagandist boss of Communist-ruled East Germany, personally dispelled rumors he had fled to the West Berlin's Soviet House of Culture.

"I cannot be in two places. I am here," he commented sarcastically, in an apparent reference to a report published in last Sunday's West Berlin Telegaz that he had bolted from the Red regime to escape being jailed in the spreading current purge.

Eisler, himself a Jew, declared there was no anti-Semitism in East Germany or in the other Soviet satellite states. But he attacked Zionism and declared that all "Jewish capitalists" are essentially Zionists.

Two Czechs Slated To Die For Spying

VIENNA, AUSTRIA — (AP) — Two Czechs have been sentenced to death and seven others to prison terms ranging from 12 years to life after a Czech Communist court found them guilty of spying for Britain.

The outcome of the trial, held in the Bohemian town of Moravska Ostrava, were announced Tuesday night by Prague radio. The broadcast said the Bohumir Micek, identified as a former Nazi Gestapo agent, and Josef Kohout were sentenced to death.

Canadian Air Force Tests Jet Carrying Radar-Aimed Rockets

TRENTON, ONTARIO — (AP) — The Royal Canadian Air Force says it has completed successfully firing tests on a new fighter carrying radar-aimed rockets. The Air Force said this was far more rockets than any U. S. jet can carry.

The plane, the Mark IV version of the CF-100 jet, is a "much improved" model of an earlier Canadian aircraft which was armed with six 50-caliber machine guns. Automatic controls aim the rockets, once the plane picks up its target, and there is a "high ratio" of hits for the amount of ammunition expended, experts said.

More than 5,000 caves already are known to exist in the United States, but this is estimated to be less than 10 per cent of the total which remains to be discovered.

Speed Sounds Warning As Car Tag Sales Lag

Midland County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed Wednesday announced that sale of auto license plates is lagging considerably with a total of only 1,218 passenger tags having been sold by Tuesday. Other types of vehicles licensed by Tuesday included 165 in the commercial class, 28 farm trucks and 14 tractor tractors.

Speed asked cooperation from Midland County residents in getting their licenses before the April 1 deadline. "If they come in now while things are on an even keel we can handle the business briskly. But if they wait until the last day or the last week it's going to be a tough all the way around," Speed said.

Recalling the last-minute rush for tags in 1952, Speed said that practically every day during the last week there were two lines of people on both sides of the courthouse extending to the streets. He also added that there is a penalty assessed against those who fail to get their licenses on time which amounts to 20 per cent of the total cost. It is necessary, Speed pointed out, for car owners to bring both car titles and 1952 license receipts. No exceptions are made.

India Accepts New U. S. Ambassador

WASHINGTON — (AP) — India has accepted career diplomat George V. Allen as the new American ambassador to New Delhi, informed sources said Wednesday.

Allen, now envoy to Communist Yugoslavia, will succeed Chester Nor of Connecticut and onetime federal Bowles, former Democratic governor price control chief.

About 13,000,000 pounds of tea are produced annually by Great Britain's Kenya Colony in Africa.

Marine Outfit Gives $1,100 For Babes Of Slain Buddies

LONG BEACH, CALIF. — (AP) — There were tears in her eyes and a sob in her voice but Mrs. Betty Ann Elwell was proud, too, when she said:

"Those Marines—pretty wonderful guys." And in Los Angeles, Mrs. Amalia Gutierrez nodded quietly in agreement. They were talking about men of the 1st Marine Division in Korea, who dug into their pockets and raised $1,100—$550 each for the baby sons of Mrs. Elwell and Mrs. Gutierrez.

The infants never will know their fathers, Pfc. John Robert Elwell of Fayetteville, W. Va., and Pfc. Robert R. (Rudy) Gutierrez of Los Angeles. Both died heroically in an assault on a Red-held hill.

Their company, which was ordered to "neutralize" the hill—and did—lost 18 men. Seventy-one others were wounded in the bitter fighting.

A day or so later M Sgt. H. C. Bruton of Denison, Texas, and the company commander, Capt. Don Blanchard of Inglewood, Calif., were cataloging personal effects of the casualties. Bruton recalled giving Gutierrez a drink to celebrate the birth of Rudy's son, and Elwell running into a tent, waving a telegram and shouting: "I'm a father!"

"Captain," said Bruton, "we ought to do something for the kids." He slit a cardboard box, set it on a desk and went down the company street to pass the word: "If you want to give something to the kids of Gutierrez and Elwell, there's a box in my tent."

The response amounted to $1,100 worth of savings bonds. Cpl. Robert Neal of Elkhart, Ind., giving the last $50 he had, summed it up with: "They were my friends. They were good fighting men."

Mrs. Elwell, 35, said she soon will take John Robert, Jr., three months, back to Fayetteville, which was her home too. She'll save the money for some useful purpose later.

"Those fellows — wonderful—especially because they didn't know our family personally," she said. "John was a wonderful man, to me, but I thought he was just another guy as far as the Marines were concerned."

She choked up a bit as she remembered: "My husband's last letter was written February 1 and he was so anxious to see the baby. He figured on being home in April."

Mrs. Gutierrez, 22, said she and Steven, five months, will continue living in Los Angeles with her parents. "Rudy wrote me his buddies had a drink to celebrate the baby's birth last August," Mrs. Gutierrez said. "The money will be saved for Steven's education." Maybe someday these children will want to know how their fathers died.

Elwell, racing up the hill with his fire team, had gone completely over the top and down the other slope. He died fighting inside the Red trench system.

Gutierrez and his machine-gun crew covered Elwell's advance from an exposed hill despite fire from three sides. He was killed by a mortar shell.

Mother Saves Four Children From Fire

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — With flames cutting off exits from her home, a 41-year-old mother tossed three young children to a passer-by from a second-floor window Tuesday night, then leaped to safety with a fourth child in her arms.

The woman, Mrs. Rosalie Smith, was treated for first and second-degree burns on her arm and back at City Hospital.

Only one of the children, three-year-old Nathan, suffered injury. He received a slight scalp wound.

The passer-by, Frank Esselmann, caught Nathan, Linda, two, and 11-month-old Alice in his arms. Then he partially broke the fall of Mrs. Smith and Fred, four.

Holes In U. S. 'Safety Net'
Prompt President's Warning

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Concern over lagging public interest in the volunteer skywatcher part of the air defense program appeared Wednesday to be partly responsible for President Eisenhower's reiterated declaration that Russia does indeed have atomic weapons. Eisenhower, on his own initiative, spoke up on the subject at his news conference Tuesday.

He read the statement by Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission on January 30—issued after former President Truman had stated doubt that Russia had workable atomic bombs. Dean said the Soviets had exploded three atomic bombs. The President said he thought Dean's statement was absolutely true, word for word.

The President's voluntary discussion of Soviet bomb making capability was against this background:

Holes In Net
1. The Air Force program for recruiting an ultimate total of more than 500,000 men, women and youths to keep 24-hour watch for hostile planes which may slip through the radar network is far behind schedule. By the end of last year only a little more than 126,000 persons in the 27 Northern and coastal states involved in "Operation Skywatch" had volunteered.

2. The Federal Civil Defense Administration, which like the Air Force has been troubled by indifference in many areas to its program, declared in a report Monday that the Red Air Force was capable of sending 400 planes against any place in the U. S.; that one all-out attack with atom bombs could bring 11,000,000 killed and injured.

New Soviet Test?
3. A full-dress briefing on atomic warfare—operational as well as political—given Eisenhower on Monday by top civilian and military officials. It was possible, of course, that Eisenhower could have been advised of some new evidence indicating another Soviet atomic test.

Eisenhower's evident interest in the atomic program has raised some speculation whether he might choose to witness one or more of the test explosions in the Spring test series in Nevada, or perhaps one of the later big-scale experimental shots at Eniwetok in the Pacific next Fall.

Truman—during whose administration a score or more test shots were fired—never attended any of the experiments.

HOT SPOT—Two Russian fighter planes were intercepted and fired upon by American jet fighters over Nemuro Peninsula, circled on newsmag. Dotted line shows Northern Japanese border that was violated by the propeller-driven planes in their first clash with United States jets over Japanese territory.

U. S. Snubs Israel's Plea To Aid Egypt's Strong Man

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States is reported turning a cold shoulder to Israel's urgent plea for aid while lining up limited military and economic help for Egypt.

The Eisenhower Administration, it was learned, has decided to sidetrack Israel's bid, temporarily at least, in order to avoid antagonizing strategic Arab governments.

Seven Arab nations jointly told the State Department Tuesday "any more help of any sort" might endanger the uneasy truce between Arabs and Jews in the Middle East.

The bitterly worded Arab complaint said Israel was trying to "exploit" its diplomatic break with Russia to win special assistance from the U. S.

Top American officials reportedly assured the Arab diplomats the Administration would treat all Middle Eastern countries equally. To back up this policy, arrangements are taking shape behind the scenes to pump some dollar aid and weapons shipments to Egypt.

This move is viewed by U. S. officials as desirable in the next few weeks in order to encourage Egypt's strong man Premier Gen. Mahamud Naguib, to join the proposed Middle East defense alliance against communism.

If Egypt joins, other Arab nations now standing aloof are expected to come in, too, translating paper plans into reality.

Any move to give Israel special military and economic aid at this time, responsible officials believe, would upset this plan.

House Panel Puts Barrier On Junkets

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Rules Committee Tuesday turned thumbs down on one proverbial congressional activity: global trips at public expense.

The policy-shaping group, which passes on what legislation should be submitted to the House, whacked from three committee investigative requests any authority to travel aboard. In approving bills giving investigative authority to the Foreign Affairs, Armed Services, Labor, Ways and Means, and Post Office committees, it okayed overseas travel only for the Armed Services and Foreign Affairs groups.

"The lid is on junkets," explained chairman Leo Allen (R-Ill.).

House Hearing Set On District Courts

AUSTIN—A hearing has been set for 2:30 p.m. next Monday before the House Committee on Judicial Districts on the proposal by Midland's Hulton Brown and Odessa's W. O. Kirkin to establish separate, permanent district courts in both Midland and Odessa.

Both cities now are served by the 70th District Court. The legislators are prepared to show a heavy case load on the docket in both cities. Midland began last year with 473 civil cases pending. During the year 855 civil cases were filed, 789 disposed of, and the new year began with 539 still pending.

In Odessa, 1952 saw a total of 1,319 cases filed, 708 of them divorce actions, 170 of them criminal, 440 of them civil. There still were 193 jury cases pending on Jan. 1, 1953.

House Democrats
Revel In Seniority
At Ike's Luncheons

WASHINGTON—(AP)—There's a reason why some House Democrats have been grinning slyly at their unresponsive Republican colleagues of late.

Someone let the cat out of the bag Wednesday. It seems President Eisenhower's bipartisan luncheons for members of Congress have been operating on a seniority protocol system—the oldest members in length of service are seated nearest the President at the head of the table.

And Democrats, with 20 years of Democratic administrations behind them, have been enjoying the distinguished places around the President. Most Republicans, even though in power, are down the table.

"They can listen—if they lean forward a little bit," remarked one favored Democrat.

Navy Fliers Describe Trip
Over New Alaskan Volcano

KODIAK, ALASKA—(AP)—The crew of a U. S. Navy patrol plane told Wednesday how they flew through billowing black smoke and pelting ash spewed into the air in a mass eruption of volcanoes in the Katmai National Monument area.

The pilot, Lt. James T. Ingram, was flying over the Shelikof Strait, between Kodiak Island and the mainland, when a huge, black ball of smoke was seen rising into the air some 20 miles from the plane. "It rolled up like smoke from an oil fire," Ingram said. "It went up about 15,000 feet."

Ingram said he circled to the left of the eruption and two minutes later a second cloud of smoke boiled up eight miles northeast of the first plume and moved close to it.

"Streams of ash poured out of the smoke," Ingram said, "like rain falling from a thundercloud."

Ingram kept circling the eruption and one hour later, more columns of smoke poured into the air, one after the other. Ingram said they shot up in line, like a chain of explosions.

The co-pilot, Lt. Robert L. Bolling, stuck his head from the window of the plane in an attempt to take a picture.

He was struck by bits of volcanic ash which, he said, also chipped tiny bits of paint from the plane's wings and propellers.

The eruptions which started Sunday are in the wilderness about 110 miles northwest of here.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Lamesa, like the rest of us, is perhaps just now finding out it has a new baseball manager for 1953.

Except that the A. C. Gonzalez headquarters occasionally must keep in touch with the Longhorn League office to supply little incidental information like what to play, with what, how and, the most important of these, where, the identity of a Lamesa manager might forever be withheld. Or, perhaps, announced the day an umpire cries his first "Play ball!"

Thanks to the postman (and the Longhorn League information book by President Hal Sayles), it now can be revealed—Ray Taylor is going to pilot the Lobos this season.

To get the information in so casual a way hardly follows the pattern created in the rumble and roar of a Gonzalez franchise swapping towns.

Taylor, incidentally, is an old campaigner and will make the youngsters hop to top him as the all-star second baseman this season. He operated at that position in recent years for Sherman-Denison of the Big State League and last with Chickasha of the Sooner State.

With the Oklahoma team he collected the batting title of the circuit (.378) and managed his team to a third place finish.

WONDER WHY DEPARTMENT: Sports Writer Bill Thompson of the Paris News reports that Detroit, Texas, basketball fans are a bit peeved with the people of Bailey these days.

It seems Detroit, the District 45-B champions, lost a game to Bailey, 83-80, recently at Bailey, whereas the crownholders had whipped Bailey, 61-45, in Detroit earlier in the season.

Detroit didn't mind losing, it says, but the townsfolk thought things were strained slightly when Duane Milam, the six-foot-seven scoring ace of the team, was charged with a foul on the first play of the game. And three minutes later he had been waved to the sidelines for good with the required five personals against him.

A friend of mine says he thinks he knows the officials who called that game; says they work Indian baseball games at Odessa during the Summer.

A couple of track champions are counting over their 1953 squads right now and reckoning they'll just take the titles again, just from habit. Abilene Christian and Texas A&M are the ones.

At ACC, Coach Oliver Jackson has announced his tracksters are even stronger than the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics crown wearers of last year.

The mile relay team, beaten only once in 23 races, is the pride of the Wildcats, with George Adrian of Los Angeles the particular gem. As a quarter-miler, freshman Adrian didn't lose a race last year.

ACC runners most likely to crack the holdover foursome on the relay team are Arnold Fairley of Pecos and Raymond Maxwell of Stamford.

A&M, which produced Texas' first Olympic champion, lost 10 letter-men, including Walt Davis, who was king in the Helsinki high jump. But back with 13 other award-winners who boosted the Ags to first in the Southwest is Darrow Hooper, second place finisher in the Olympic shot put.

Platoon System's Passing Produces No SWC Groans

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

Southwest Conference football coaches have hidden the crying towel as they turn their two-platoon specialists into "iron men."

The "iron man" tag is strictly for convenience. You'll probably still see two-platoon football. Only the substitutions might be by teams.

But of the four teams in the midst of Spring training now, there's no moaning from Ed Price of Texas, Jess Neely of Rice, George Sauer of Baylor and Abe Martin of Texas Christian.

There's not expected to be any from Bowden Wyatt of Arkansas, Ray George of Texas A&M and whoever Southern Methodist finally picks to succeed H. N. (Rusty) Russell.

Arkansas and A&M haven't yet started Spring drills. SMU can't until it gets a coach.

Down at Baylor, Sauer reports he's actually pleased at the ban on two-platoon football—though against it at the first. He said his players were "tickled to death" about it.

Price, who never has believed in wailing about his team or prospects, says the new era that's going into effect come September holds no terrors.

Price has the material to continue two-platooning by teams if he desires.

"We have very few boys returning that haven't played both offense and defense for us," he said, adding, "The new rule comes at the right time for us."

South Joins Fourth Place Tie With 18-9 Win Over Crockett

South Elementary, a slow starter this season, completed its two-game jump from the cellar to fourth place in the city grade school basketball race Tuesday by upsetting Crockett, 18-9, in a makeup game from last week.

Dan Goodson's South club boosted its season mark to 2-4, good for a fourth place tie, when it threw up a defense that allowed only one Crockett player, Bill Summerford, to make as many as three points.

Jan Thomas put South ahead with a basket at the outset and his team never trailed. Thomas and teammate Don Boyce led scorers with six points.

Dunbar Of Lubbock Clips Carver, 59-26

LUBBOCK —(P)—Carver High of Midland prepared to tackle its last district basketball game, still seeking its first triumph, after losing to the Dunbar Panthers of Lubbock, 59-26, here Tuesday night.

James Price and George Hollin sparked the Hornets scoring here with seven points each.

Grid Drills Get Rougher For Bulldogs

Midland High School football players added rougher play to their practice Wednesday in their third day of Spring training while Coach Tugboat Jones welcomed five players to the squad.

The five—Bill Mims, Tommy Johnson, Jimmy Mashburn, Rusty Rutledge, and John Crowley—have just completed basketball playing with the Bulldog team. Coaches Red Rutledge and Jimmy Williams, football aides, also joined the grid training.

Coach Jones continued working with his backfield prospects Tuesday in learning the T-formation he is adopting. Larry Sapp and Willie Brooks handled the man-under position.

For a time Tuesday, Coaches Jones and Audrey Gill brought both the line and backfield units together to run through dummy scrimmage, trying out the T.

Meanwhile, Coaches Pat Pattison and Dub Orr worked with 52 players out for the B squad. Pattison said the Bs would practice fundamentals throughout the week with no rough play or contact work slated until next week.

These were on the B team's first list:

Ray Phillips, Frank Midkiff, Stu Chancellor, Phillip Hubbard, A. W. Hancock, Elbert McKandless, J. T. Grissett, Buddy Whitley, Bill Harris, Wendell Trantham, Tommy Robinson, Glen Lauderdale, Larry Bonner, Gene Howard.

Also Jimmy Little, David Sader, Billy Bush, Alberto Hernandez, John Castleberry, Al Bonnett, Roy Menshoe, James Williams, Clarence Porter, Arthur Meheew and John King.

And Gregory Moreno, Manuel Carrasco, Harold Taylor, Clyde Allison, Carl Minshew, Phillip Schlicking, Danny Chadwick, Carl Arington and John Lagrage.

Tackle Buck Lanford, Guard Phil Branch, Quarterback a problem, but Benny Andrews, Charles Brewer, Glenn Dyer, Pat Tolar, Delano Womack field to pick from. Andrews most experienced. Price says: "We don't feel we'll have the team that's favored to win, but we do think we'll have a squad that has to be reckoned with."

BAYLOR—Haa, squad that's deep in personnel in all positions; squad that likes to double up on offense and defense. First-string backfield shapes up as Fran Davidson, quarterback; Jerry Coody, Allen Jones and L. G. Dupree. Line looks like James Ray Smith and Bob Knowles, tackles; Pete Erben and Clarence Dierking, guards; Charlie Smith at one end and Wayne Hopkins, James Ameyette, Toby Davis vying for the other end; with B. C. Harris, Bill Bernard and Jimmie Taylor battling for the center spot.

RICE—T-formation. Neely entering thirteenth season as coach. In first scrimmage, first-string backfield had Leroy Fenstemaker at quarter; Bill Gaskamp and Mac Taylor at halves and Koose Johnson and Sammy Ward at ends; Layton Goldmon and Dick Chapman, tackles; W. C. Treadway and Kenny Paul, guards; Leo Rucka center. Rice finished strong, copping second place in the conference, after dropping five in a row at the beginning of the season.

ARKANSAS—Starts training February 25 with new coach, Bowden Wyatt, formerly of Wyoming. Replaced Otis Douglas, resigned.

TEXAS A&M—Starts training February 25. Coach Ray George enters third season.

SOUTHERN METHODIST—Waiting on naming of new coach to replace H. N. (Rusty) Russell, who resigned because of what he termed "pressure from the fans."

TEXAS CHRISTIAN—In midst of Spring training under new head coach, Abe Martin, who replaced L. R. (Dutch) Meyer who retired to become athletic director only. Ronald Clinkscales' passing apparent bright prospect for Horned Frogs.

TEXAS—Price enters third season as head coach. Split-T formation. Has solid line, experienced on both offense and defense, particular fine end in Carlton Massey.

EVEN WINNERS HAVE HEADACHES—

Rio Grande Faces Lawsuit As Bevo Threatens To Quit

PORTSMOUTH, OHIO —(P)—Basketball Coach Newt Oliver of Rio Grande College Wednesday has two headaches: he faces a possible legal suit for breaking a contract with Oakland City College in Indiana, and his star player, Clarence (Bevo) Francis, has threatened to quit the team.

Oakland City College Athletic Director Delbert Disler charged Tuesday Oliver is running out on a contract to play his school March 4. Oliver replied he won't play Oakland City even if the college sues him.

"They can sue me all they want," he told newsmen after Rio Grande beat Lockbourne AFB, 95-80, here Tuesday night. "I am going to play Wilberforce University. . . March 4, and that's definite."

Francis, who plunked in 47 points Tuesday night to run his single-season total to 1,646 in 33 games, in an interview over radio station WPAV, said he would quit the team unless Oliver scheduled bigger-name teams. Rio Grande has opposed small schools this season.

Oliver's answer was he was attempting to schedule games with Seattle University and the University of Hawaii next year.

Oliver said he contracted for the Oakland City College game last Fall before Rio Grande achieved national fame behind Francis' national collegiate record-breaking achievements.

Later he contracted to play Wilberforce on the same date. He said he offered to play Oakland later in the season but the offer was refused by Disler. He said he then sent Disler a check for $100 to cover cancellation of the contract. Disler said Tuesday he was returning the check.

Midland Netters Try Pyote In Effort At Third Win

Fifteen Midland High School tennis players traveled to Pyote Wednesday seeking their third victory in seven matches.

The Pyote team is considered one of the best Class B clubs in West Texas and is particularly strong in the boys division.

Midland's strongest group is of girl players and the Midland girls have fallen to only one team, Clyde, unit in six outings.

Ellen DeChiclis will play the No. 1 girls singles while Wanda Murray will team with either Dot Black or Janna Murray in the No. 1 doubles match.

The other girls are Carolyn Paris and Dona Ingham.

Coach Frank J. Ford nominated James Wolfe to tackle the No. 1 Pyote boys singles player and Jimmy Garvin and Johnny Godwin the No. 1 doubles.

Filling out the boys team are John McGuigan, Kenneth Hughes, Clayton Tatom, Bill Vandewater, Kenneth Freeman and Charles Bietker.

Juniors Hit Rotary Five

FORSAN—The Rotary Engineer basketball team lost its fourth game of the season here Tuesday night, but it was worked up Wednesday over the promise of a chance to get even with Howard County Junior College for the 36-60 setback.

A capacity crowd paid about $400 to attend the March of Dimes benefit that wasn't decided until the final minute.

Rotary had emerged from seven changes in the lead to tie the score at 20-20 with a minute and a half to go. But a fast break for two points by HCJC's Casey Jones and four free throws afterwards netted the Jayhawks their twenty-first triumph.

The Midland quint trailed by nine points in the first quarter to rally for a 40-38 halftime advantage. The Engineers then lost starters Frank Brahaney and Glen Whittis as HCJC led, 64-60, starting the final period.

Bobby Maines' 22 points for HCJC led scorers while Gerald Rogers totaled 19 as the high Engineer.

Immediately after the game, Coach Jack Locke said the Engineers were after revenge. "We're trying to match them for a game in Midland next week."

Luckless Bulldogs Bow In Cage Finale, 54-50

Midland's luckless basketball team was made to walk the plank into the dark of a winless, 14-game District 1-AAAA season Tuesday night, but going down in their final, the Bulldogs almost knocked the boat out from under the third-place Odessa Bronchos.

Borger Falls To Unbeaten Pampa Quint

Odessa's 54-50 triumph over Midland Tuesday night created a two-way tie for third place in the District 1-AAAA race and a third team has a chance to get in on the act Wednesday night.

That's when Abilene, which has won six of seven league battles, entertains the San Angelo Bobcats. All but those two district teams wound up their regular seasons Tuesday night and Pampa proved the only one with any need to continue.

Pampa stomped archrival Borger, 74-62, for the Harvesters' twenty second straight triumph of the season. Pampa now awaits its bi-district series with the winner of District 2-AAAA to determine which will enter the state tournament.

Besides Odessa's triumph, Amarillo, a cinch second-place finisher, trounced Lubbock, 78-69, to close out with a 12-3 district record.

Borger's loss prevented Coach Tex Hanna's club from an outright hold on third place. The defending champions, like Odessa, won half of 14 conference games.

Jimmy Bond, the Harvester center, did most to expel Borger Tuesday as he chipped in 32 points and led his club to a 35-31 halftime advantage.

Gerry Thomas of Lubbock finished second only to Bond in district scoring, but his 23 points against Amarillo were to no avail. Melvin Wright more than cover him with 27 for Amarillo.

Over the season, Bond alone topped the 300-point mark in scoring with 304, a 21.7 per game average. Thomas' 298 total represented a 20.9 average.

The score was all Odessa in the game here, 54-50, the pleasure was all Midland's—its finest performance of 22 this year. For half a dozen reasons:

The Bulldogs, first, never blew their chances in this outing as in 18 other setbacks; played their finest floor game, and outstruck an opponent field-goal wise, 19-17; Roy Kimsey set a team high with 24 points; the team fought back in 10 minutes from a 11-point deficit to tie it at 49-all, and the opposing coach for a change thought he was the one developing ulcers. Six reasons, count 'em.

But one for Odessa outweighs them all in deciding the game. He was Carl Schlemeyer who was good to his team's cause by only two field goals. He made nine of ten free throws, however, and at the right time for Odessa.

Making five of the last six Bronco points, he was the architect of crucial playing by a Midland opponent this season. Here's how he did it:

With only 2:30 minutes left, Schlemeyer missed his only free throw but corrected the error on a second chance, delaying Midland's late rally as Odessa led, 49-47. Then Kimsey's left hand flashed from 20 feet out and the score was knotted, 49-49, with 2:10 remaining.

Fifteen seconds later, Schlemeyer went back to the line, two wishes and Odessa led, 51-49; then 60 seconds afterwards, two more of his tosses bit the mesh, 53-49.

The last 50 seconds were taken up as Tuffy Zellars of Odessa and Kimsey traded out with single free throws.

Kimsey captured game honors with his points, Keating trailed with 21. Zellars, the first half spark for Odessa with 10 points, led his team with 13.

Kimsey, consistent throughout, began the bitter bout with a one-hander from the corner thirty seconds deep but was more than covered by Bronco Jimmy Jackson's free throw and fielder.

Keating put Midland ahead, 4-3, only to see Schlemeyer's one lonely first-half point tie it, 4-4, from the free throw line.

Jesse Hatfield's drive for the Midland basket was smothered then, but he fed out to Keating for a 6-4 lead 2:30 deep, the Bulldogs final time up front.

Zellars' jump shot tied the count and Billy Joe Harville made a follow-up for an 8-8 lead at 4:00. The two Bronchos teamed to make the count 14-10 at the turn.

Midland, sparked by Keating's three goals, outtailed Odessa, 12-11, the next eight minutes and lagged but 28-22 at halftime.

That was the cue for Schlemeyer, who put in his two-pointers two and four minutes deep in the third period, respectively, to give Odessa its longest lead, 37-26.

Hatfield, however, fired Midland again with a half-a-court assist to Kimsey for a goal, Bill Mims hit three points, Kimsey five more and Keating one so leave Midland behind, 43-37.

Midway in the fourth, Keating made a free toss, drove in from 10 feet and from half-a-court away, then sank a free throw for six straight points, the Bulldog rally bringing the score of 47-44.

Afterwards Schlemeyer hit his team's forty-ninth point, and Kimsey tied it, 49-49, before Schlemeyer started his fireman's act.

Phils Turn To Rookie List Seeking New Hurler, Power

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies, seeking to recapture the National League pennant they won in 1950, turned to their list of rookies Wednesday in search of a front-line pitcher and a long-ball hitting outfielder.

The Phils, fresh from trading regular starter Russ Meyer for distance hitting First Baseman Earl Torgeson, are fairly well off with a mound staff built around Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons. But it would amount almost to pennant insurance to come up with another starter and an outfielder with power.

Because the Phillies have turned to their rookie list doesn't mean President Bob Carpenter has finished trading. He's hinted he's ready to swap First Sacker Eddie Waitkus for another outfielder who can hit the long one or a pitcher with 12 to 15 wins in his system.

But in the meantime the Phillies aren't shutting the gate to the youngsters. Take for example Tom Casagrande, the bonus-beauty left-hander from Furman University. Paid $40,000 by Carpenter to sign a Phillies contract, Casagrande has been climbing the farm club ladder slowly and may be ready to fill Meyer's shoes this year.

Another possibility is 21-year-old Johnny Meyer, a native Philadelphian, who last year with Wilmington won 12 and lost 11, some of which were one-run ball games.

On the hitting side, the Phillies are all hepped up about Teddy Kazanski, a 19-year-old Detroit boy.

BETTY JAMESON SAYS—

Men Pros Forgetting Touch Of Wood Shots Off Fairway

By JOHN McCALLUM

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Any professional golfer will tell you that if you can't drive, you can't score. And when it came to busting a golf ball nobody blasted one farther than Jimmy Thomson.

In the 1937 North American Driving Championships, the veteran shotmaker averaged 316 yards with 10 balls to cop the crown.

His longest blast was 386 yards, a pretty fair poke in any league. Two years before, at Iola, Kan., he socked one 465 yards on the fifth hole, only 10 yards short of the pin!

Perhaps much of what Betty Jameson observes Betty Jameson is true when she tells you to watch the male professionals.

"On all but a few holes it's the same story, over and over," points out the former women's national amateur and open champion. "A drive and an iron to the green, a drive and an iron. Maybe a drive and a wedge.

"The men pros rarely use the brassie or spoon. Their game has simply gotten too long for the average course."

But it's an entirely different story with the girls. Take it from the pretty Texan, women are compelled by physical limitations to play the game according to golf scripture. And the result is that the more prominent ladies are handier with their woods than the fellows.

Girls Must Control Wood "No less an authority than Ben Hogan will back me up on that," says the long-hitting blonde. "He argues that the average guy can't hit a brassie shot as well as a woman. And I'll go along with that. Girls frequently are going for that pin with a wood—the same shot a man would be playing with an iron.

"It boils down to this: when a fellow uses a wood he's generally playing for position on the fairway. More often than not a woman golfer is using a wood to reach the putting surface. If she can't control that shot she just can't score."

Deep in this vein, you are reminded of Bobby Jones. There were times when the only person to perform the game's Grand Slam didn't even know what club he was using. "It sounds strange," he once said, "but when the pressure is on, you are concentrating so hard that you are not even aware of what you're doing."

The late O. B. Keeler, Atlanta, Ga., golfing expert, loved to tell the story about the magnificent shot that won Jones his first major title, the U. S. Open, in 1923, at Inwood, Long Island. A year before, Bobby had blown up on the eighteenth hole and wound up in a tie for second place. On this day, Jones came to the eighteenth tee all even with his play-off opponent, Bobby Cruickshank.

It almost broke Keeler's heart when the young Atlantan sliced his drive into the rough.

Jones Couldn't Remember Jones walked slowly toward the ball, his eyes seemingly focused on nothing. He selected a club and without a moment's hesitation banged a tremendous, soaring shot that traveled a good 200 yards to the green and rolled almost dead to the pin. The shot won the match. Keeler rushed over to Jones after he had holed out.

"That shot, Bobby!" he said. "What club did you use?"

"I don't know," the youngster said, looking at him with a dazed expression. "I really don't know, O. B. I remember hitting the ball and there it was on the green."

Stewart Maiden, the pro at the East Lake club, where Bobby Jones first began playing golf, had been standing near him when the shot was made. He cleared up the matter.

"You used a No. 2 iron, Bobby," he said, "and I've never seen you play a shot so promptly and decisively."

Giardello Wins -- Two Months Late

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Joey Giardello-Billy Graham disputed decision goes into the record books as the greatest result "rhubarb" since the Dartmouth-Cornell "fifth down" game of 1940 and the Don Gehrmann-Fred Witt mile of 1950.

Giardello finally discovered Tuesday, almost two months after his December 19 Madison Square Garden fight with Graham, that he really won it. He won it once for about three minutes, held an "unofficial" decision for about 20 minutes and then "lost" when Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, reversed Judge Joe Agnello's scorecard.

Supreme Court Justice Bernard Botwin gave it back to Giardello when he annulled the commission's action in an 11-page decision. Christenberry had no comment, but it was not believed that he planned any appeal. The two fighters, training for their third meeting, March 8, at the Garden over the 12-round route, were ready to settle matters in the ring.

Giardello, elated by the news at Ehsan's training camp at Summit, N. J., shouted, "In my mind, I won it all the time. This time I'll show them all. It won't be close." The Philadelphia middleweight has his eyes on the title vacated by Ray Robinson.

A shocked Graham heard the decision at his Greenwood Lake, N. J., training camp.

"I feel very bad," he said. "I thought I won it. Christenberry did the right thing. How are you going to avoid bad decisions if the commission can't act? I'll make sure there will be no bad decision next time."

In his decision, Justice Botwin said the only reason given by the commission for changing Agnello's scorecard was that "he failed to follow the standards set forth in the boxing rules."

"This was so vague as to be meaningless," the judge said, adding: "No facts are furnished to buttress this conclusion."

TCU Grabs Share Of SWC Top Spot

By The Associated Press Texas Christian University grabbed a share of the top spot in the Southwest Conference basketball race Tuesday night, but whether it's going to hang on to it depends on the fast-moving Rice Owls.

At Houston, the Owls just about put in cold storage Baylor's once-burning title hopes with a 66-54 decision. And Saturday they meet Texas Christian, victors over Southern Methodist, 59-48, Tuesday night.

Texas, which had rode alone at the top of the standings, dumped non-conference foe University of Houston, 79-65, in a March of Dimes benefit tilt.

Saturday, Rice and Texas Christian shoot the works to see which is going to become Texas' chief challenger. Texas isn't expected to have too much trouble with Southern Methodist. Texas A&M tangles with Houston that night, and Arkansas and Baylor try for personal satisfaction at Fayetteville, Ark.

Rice rolled up its sixth Southwest Conference victory—and stayed a half-game off the pace—in comparatively easy fashion. Rice broke a 23-22 deadlock with five minutes left in the second quarter, held a 32-27 lead at the half and built a lead that at times in the second half was as much as 19 points.

Ohlen Faces Frogs John Starkey, the conference's leading scorer, was held to just seven points by the tight-guarding Rice quint, while his chief rival, Gene Schwinger, scored 19.

Henry Ohlen scored 26 points to pace Texas Christian to its definitely not surprising win over Southern Methodist. The Horned Frogs grabbed the lead after 2:40 of the first period and held it the rest of the way.

Texas' victory keeps its home court record clean this season. Billy Powell scored 21 points to pace Longhorn scoring. Gary Shivers had a like number for Houston.

Texas and Texas Christian boast 6-3 records for the season now in conference action, while Rice has a 6-3 mark.

Micelli Underdog To Bigger Dykes

MIAMI, FLA.—(AP)—Lanky Bobby Dykes was expected to be a 3-1 favorite Wednesday night when he makes his debut as a middleweight against stocky Joe Micelli in a 10-round fight at the Coral Gables Coliseum.

Dykes, originally from San Antonio, now fights out of Miami and will be making his forty-fifth appearance in a local ring. He is seeking his second victory over Micelli, a 24-year-old soldier whom Dykes defeated in 10 rounds last year in New York City.

Dykes will weigh about 154 for his first fight as a middleweight, while Micelli is expected to scale 150.

The fight will be televised nationally over CBS at 9 p.m. CST. Dykes said he will try for an impressive victory over Micelli, a New Yorker who is the sixth-ranking welterweight according to Ring Magazine ratings. Then, said Dykes, he will ask that he be recognized ahead of Eddie Durando as a candidate for Sugar Ray Robinson's vacated title.

Durando, Paddy Young and Bobo Olson are the three most likely candidates being considered for the middleweight championship, according to Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Micelli, a walk-in puncher with either hand who boasts a wicked left uppercut, said he's in fine shape and added:

"I've gained weight and power since I joined the Army." Dykes is an effective counter-puncher who can jab an opponent silly with his left and whip over a sleep-producing right.

Illinois Democrat Assails Ike's War Plans As 'Sham'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representative Price (D-Ill) declared Wednesday proposals thus far advanced by President Eisenhower to break the Korean stalemate have been "a sham" and "little more than campaign politics."

He dismissed as "window dressing" the President's references to Korea in his message to Congress on the state of the union, and called for a return to bipartisan political cooperation on foreign policy and security problems.

Price, member of the House Armed Services Committee, wrapped up in a speech prepared for House delivery probably the most outspoken attack on the new Republican Administration yet to be voiced by a Democrat in Congress.

Price said he was "dismayed" by plans announced thus far to fulfill Eisenhower's "implied promise" during the campaign to bring an early and honorable end to the Korean War.

Price said the two main points dealt with training of additional South Korean divisions and ending use of the U. S. 7th Fleet as a "shield" for Red China.

Price said Eisenhower "should have learned" that the U. S. has been embarked "for well over two years now" on an intensive program of training South Koreans.

As for the 7th Fleet, Price said this "runs contrary to facts... and amounts to a political statement designed to reflect upon the integrity of the previous Administration."

Price declared Chinese Nationalist troops "for some months" have been conducting "pin prick" raids on the Chinese mainland from islands off the South China Coast.

He added, it was doubtful Chiang's forces even later could raid the mainland from Formosa without substantial help—possibly including U. S. Navy and air support.

"It is," he asserted, "therefore a sham to state that we will no longer 'shield' Red China."

Two More Call Girls Testify In Mickey Jelke's Vice Trial

NEW YORK (AP)—Pat Thompson and Nancy Hawkins were reported Wednesday to be the next of cafe society's party girls to testify for the state in the vice trial of margarine heir Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke.

They would be the fifth and sixth women, held as material witnesses in the case, to take the stand against the 23-year-old scion of a socially registered family.

While the closed trial continued before General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente and an all-male jury, attorneys for eight news media planned to meet to decide whether to appeal a State Supreme Court decision upholding Valente's right to ban public and press from the courtroom.

Jelke is charged with inducing Miss Thompson, Pat Ward and Marguerite Cordova into prostitution and with living off the 19-year-old Miss Ward's earnings.

Miss Hawkins, 23-year-old Indiana native, was named in the indictment but was among the first of the alleged $100-a-night-and-up call girls held as material witnesses in the wide vice inquiry.

Miss Ward testified most of last week. Miss Cordova, 23-year-old former hat check girl, was the chief state witness called Tuesday.

Canadian River Bill Gets Okay In 10-Minute Airing

AUSTIN (AP)—A Senate committee took just 10 minutes Wednesday to hear about the proposed Canadian River Municipal Water Authority and then unanimously approved the bill creating it.

Some 30 men from the Panhandle and High Plains had traveled the 600 miles for the hearing before the Senate Water Rights committee.

But none of them spoke. "Anybody here to oppose this bill?" asked Senator Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo, committee chairman. Nobody answered.

Senator Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, is author of the measure, along with Senators Kilmer Corbin, Lubbock, and Andy Rogers, Childress.

The bill would create the authority with power to build a dam on the Canadian River near Pampa and supply water to 12 municipalities that have come into the project. These include Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Pampa, Borger, Littlefield, Brownfield, Tahoka, O'Donnell, Slaton, Lamesa and Levelland.

Committee approval sent the bill to the Senate calendar and it will come up on the floor at a later date.

Midland Lions See Demonstration On Fire Prevention Allowable

"But you believe it is better for your company to gamble on discoveries in Canada than depend on Texas supply?" Lane inquired.

"Canada's reserves are estimated as of the present at one and one-half to two million barrels. It's hardly a gamble," Cagle replied.

Too Much Gasoline Socony-Vacuum earlier had reported plans to import 22,800 barrels of foreign oil daily in 1953. Standard of California planned 106,000 barrels of imports daily.

Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson said gasoline stocks already at the level of needs of May 1 would put the country "up to our necks" in gasoline if plants continue at present production rates.

"The answer is to cut back now gradually so we won't have to cut back drastically later," he said.

Present gasoline stocks total 152.2 million barrels. Most purchasers at the hearing had asked 22 state-wide producing days and 19 for East Texas.

Bottomhole pressure of the East Texas field was reported at 1,022.34 pounds a square inch as of January 31, down 0.76 since January 1. The next state-wide production hearing is set for March 18.

The Railroad Commission of Texas has scheduled a hearing in Austin for March 17 to show cause why the Spraberry Trend Area oil fields should not be shuttin if flaring of casinghead gas is not stopped.

Commission representatives say approximately 330,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day is being produced in the Spraberry Trend.

Large Amount Flared Those same sources report that approximately 250,000,000 cubic feet per day of that gas is being flared. According to those figures only about 80,000,000 cubic feet of gas is being utilized at this time.

Auto Safety Law Gives Texas Solons Biggest Headache In Public Hearings

AUSTIN—(P)—Friends and foes of Texas' new storm-stirring Auto Inspection Law will have to fight it out on the floor of the Legislature. They battled to a draw in double-header Senate and House committee hearings for more than five hours Tuesday and Tuesday night.

Committee members were willing to take a firm stand for or against several proposals introduced after enforcement of the new inspection law created a furor over the state last year.

The conflicting bills were recommended for passage in both the Senate and House. All that means is "no decision" until the bills come up for action in both Houses of the Legislature.

More Positive Action Other committee action late Tuesday night was more positive.

The House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence unanimously approved a new bill to crack down on illegal dope traffic. It was a combination of several measures, including one putting heavier penalties on persons who sell drugs to teenagers.

The same committee heard a string of witnesses for and against a bill giving counties the right to regulate sale of fireworks and finally sent the measure to subcommittee for two weeks.

The House Committee on Highways and Roads postponed discussion of a state toll road authority bill for another week.

The House Education Committee recommended passage of a measure extending authority of state colleges and universities to charge a $15 per semester student activity fee through Oct. 31, 1957.

Motor traffic committees in both House and Senate took the unusual action of approving the conflicting auto bills.

Asks Driver Inspection Rep. Sam Sellers, Waco, urging his bill to repeal the inspection law, said what Texas needed was more inspection of drivers and less of cars.

Rep. W. R. Chambers, May, called the stickler law "safety in reverse."

Witnesses from safety associations, the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and auto dealers combined to urge the lawmakers to keep the inspection law. They said it has proved itself a saver of lives and needs further trial.

Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano who wants the inspection law wiped off the books, called it discriminatory and a hardship on poor folks. It's not cars but people—drunk drivers and the 90-mile-an-hour speeders—that kill on the highways, he said.

Ashley lone witness Ashley was the only witness for his bill.

Sen. John Bell, Cuero, whose bill amending the Auto Inspection Law removes the requirement that you can't buy a license without having a safety sticker, sent a stream of witnesses before the Senate committee on highways and motor traffic.

They said it would improve the Texas highway death record—called the worst in the nation. They argued "at since the inspection law was passed two years ago, there had been improvement. No driver is a safe driver in an unsafe car, they said.

Bell Explains Bill Bell explained his modification pinpoints inspection of such vital parts of a car as brakes, lights and steering devices. He said it should be given further trial.

There were these other developments as the Auto Inspection Law furor overshadowed everything else in the capitol:

1. A bill regulating water pumping in Far West Texas went to a subcommittee for a two-weeks stay. The measure would prohibit pumping or sending water from underground sources into natural stream beds to flow more than 20 miles in that part of Texas west of the 98th Meridian.

2. The matter of hiking retirement pay for judges went back to a subcommittee for more study. The new plan would increase benefits to 75 per cent of pay at retirement, a one-third increase.

3. City firemen, pleading "we're human, too," won committee approval of a maximum 72-hour work week for themselves. The 15-2 vote in the House Committee on Municipalities came after strenuous objection from seven city officials. Under the measure, firemen would have to be on duty only 60 hours weekly if voters in city election approved such hours.

New Red Calendar Pinpoints Stalin Virtues, Western Sins

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN—(P)—The greatest man who ever lived was Joseph Stalin. . . Americans are savages and murderers. . . Space men may live on Mars and Venus. . . This is the thirty-sixth year after the Russian Revolution.

These are some of the things emphasized in the 1953 Soviet calendar printed in 15 million copies by the Soviet state publishing house Gospolitizdat to help Russia's millions keep track of the days and up on their Communist catechism. A copy has just reached Sweden.

Prime Minister Stalin's picture appears on 12 pages of the tear-off calendar which has one page for each day of the year with pictures, and memorable dates on the front side, and articles, cartoons and poems on the reverse.

Stalin's virtues are eulogized in 20 poems. His name is printed 367 times. The anniversaries of his newspaper articles and speeches are ranked among the most memorable dates of the year. Even articles he wrote going back 40 years get top billing.

Harsh language is reserved for articles about the United States and Americans. One of them appears under the title "Enemies of Mankind" and includes such expressions as "maneaters" and "murderers."

Britain, France, Italy, Greece and Turkey come in for abuse. The calendar says 365 times in heavy type this is the thirty-sixth year of the Red Revolution. It also lists the dates of major upheavals and strikes in the world since the time of antiquity.

Pictures, Birthdays It presents the pictures and birthdays of top Communist leaders in the West: William Foster, U. S.; Harry Pollitt, Britain; Maurice Thorez, France; Palmiro Togliatti, Italy.

The calendar follows major Soviet periodicals in claiming for Russia 30 important inventions which were originated in the West and were perfected and mass produced in Western countries long before they were in Russia.

Some of them: radio, television, jet engines, electric light, steam engine, tractor, penicillin and the motion picture. The calendar also claims Russia built the first motorship, flew the first four-engine plane, and built the world's first oil refinery.

For the space-minded there is this entry: Soviet scientists at the Alma Ata Observatory near the Chinese border are said to have collected data "leading to the assumption that, besides plants, also higher animals may exist on the planet Venus and that intelligent beings may also exist on Mars."

Britons Use Iodine To Treat Arthritis

LONDON—(P)—Two British doctors reported Wednesday that plain old iodine seems to be effective in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis.

Writing in the magazine Medical World, Dr. Charles Hagenbach and Dr. R. Lane Walmesley said that intravenous injection of colloidal iodine has arrested the disease in 85 per cent of the 25 cases they have investigated thus far.

The two doctors said they accidentally discovered the effectiveness of iodine against the ailment six years ago.

"Although some patients have shown quick results, treatment may have to cover a period of eight or nine months," they wrote. Of the 25 rheumatoid arthritides treated with colloidal iodine, they said, 30 "remain completely symptom-free, two are much improved, only two failed to respond and one has relapsed."

Monahans School Head Re-elected

MONAHANS—R. D. Lee, superintendent of the Monahans-Wickett Independent School District, has been re-named to that position for three years, effective July, 1953.

Three new members to the board will be elected April 4 to fill the expiring terms of Dave Sudderth, Bob Avery and W. A. Shoemaker.

Virginia Jones, Bill Waldron, Travis Johnson and Janet Davidson were employed as new teachers.

New York's Coney Island Horns In On Tideland Act

WASHINGTON—(P)—Who owns fabulous Coney Island in New York?

Does the city, or does the federal government have some claim to that land of fun and frolic? Robert Moses, New York City construction coordinator, told the Senate Interior Committee Tuesday his city is concerned over ownership not only of Coney Island but of many other vast and costly filled land improvements on the waterfront—harbors, piers, airports and parks.

The committee is considering several bills on ownership of the offshore submerged lands. New York's worry, Moses said, revolves around the Supreme Court decision in the California and Texas marginal seas cases that the federal government has paramount right to offshore lands.

Moses' point was that if the states don't own the submerged lands now they didn't own them many years ago when the lands were filled and reclaimed from the sea.

Moses' view was disputed by Senator Lehman (D-Lib-NY), who said he found it "amazing" that anyone should claim that the New York City harbor, for instance, was jeopardized in any way. Lehman contended the federal government has made no claim on filled lands and on the contrary has recognized state titles.

Moses testified in favor of a bill by Senator Holland (D-Fla) which would give coastal and Gulf states title to submerged offshore lands within their historic or constitutional boundaries, usually three to 10 1/2 miles out.

The Holland bill is identical with one vetoed last year by former President Truman. President Eisenhower has indicated he would sign such a bill.

Fort Worth Stations Hike Gasoline Price

FORT WORTH—(P)—Some Fort Worth motorists were paying half a cent more a gallon for gasoline Wednesday.

Several West Side Service stations boosted their prices Tuesday, though wholesalers reported no increase in tank wagon prices.

Jim Lindsey, president of the Fort Worth Service Station Association, said, "Most of the service station operators said they had been caught when OPS ceiling were put on and were trying to recover what they had lost."

Plush Apartments For U. S. Consular Officers Ridiculed

WASHINGTON—(P)—If it were not for getting re-elected, says Representative Brownson (R-Ind), he wouldn't mind living in a $40,000 banner apartment like those planned for U. S. consular officials in Germany.

Brownson is on a House subcommittee reviewing the State Department's plans for 40 structures to be built for $18,000,000. A department spokesman said Tuesday the housing is needed urgently by October 1, and should have a touch of luxury because part of a consul's job is "making contacts and entertaining the people of the country."

Department witnesses said the original estimated cost of $40,000 an apartment already had been cut down: room sizes were reduced and—instead of one for each apartment—one maid room was to be built only for each two apartments.

$500 MONTHLY AIN'T JUST HAY

DEMOREST, GA.—(P)—The Piedmont College Board has refused to accept a recommendation for a committee of Congregational Christian Churches to oust Dr. James C. Walter as college president.

Walter is under fire for his stand in accepting a $500 a month gift to the school from the Texas Educational Association. The TEA is sponsored by George Armstrong—self-avowed anti-Semitic and anti-negro oil and cattle magnate from Texas.

NO DISTRACTION—To make sure that they kept their eyes on their work, judges selecting "the prettiest legs of Winter" at Nice, France, had contestants mask their lovely features. Visitors attending Nice's annual pre-Lenten carnival had a chance to see legs of 18-year-old winner Dina Corba, above.

ABSENCE MAKES 'EM EAT FASTER

CLEVELAND—(P)—Ever search in vain for an ashtray when you're eating in a restaurant? Chances are the absence was intentional to make you eat faster, says an official of the Ohio Restaurant Association.

Vice President Robert R. Williams told restaurant men here Tuesday twice as many patrons can be served if ashtrays are removed.

U. S. Plane Flies Mission Of Mercy Near Arctic Circle

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK—(P)—A U. S. Air Force plane made a special mercy flight in Greenland Tuesday night to aid two seriously ill Danes at Egedesminde, on the west coast of Denmark's big Arctic colony.

Doctors had ordered a middle-aged man, suffering from a serious spine ailment, and his young daughter, ill with tuberculosis, sent home to Denmark for special treatment. No Danish plane was able to land at the settlement.

U. S. officers at Blue West 1 Base, 350 miles to the south at Narsarsuaq, came to the rescue. They sent an American plane to pick up the pair and fly them to Blue West 1. A Danish aircraft was scheduled to take them on to Denmark from there.

Canada Set Against Extension Of War

OTTAWA—(P)—Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson says Canada opposes any move to extend the Korean War unless there is "pretty convincing evidence" such a move would end the war quickly.

Winding up a House of Commons debate on foreign affairs Tuesday night, Pearson said his government stands for a firm but cautious policy against the Reds in the Far East.

Amarilloan To Die In Chair Thursday

HUNTSVILLE—(P)—Samuel James Gasway, 35, is scheduled to be electrocuted Thursday after the Board of Pardons and Paroles said no new appeals had been filed.

The Amarillo man was convicted of raping a nine-year-old Pleasant Valley girl.

Board Chairman T. B. White said, "Thus far we are taking no further action in this case. However, we are open to consider any new evidence which may make it possible to recommend clemency."

Gasway was convicted Oct. 12, 1951. Court records said the child was attacked after being forced into a car June 25, 1951, as she was delivering newspapers for a neighborhood friend.

Kermit Woman, Kin Die In Car Crash

KERMIT—Mrs. Leora Frank, 53, of Kermit and her brother, E. J. Bones, of Borger, were killed in a two-car smashup inside the city limits on Highway 302 here Monday night.

Bones, an investigator for the Panhandle State Bank, was crushed to death instantly and his sister died enroute to a Kermit hospital of a skull fracture and chest injuries.

Johnny Walker of Kermit, driver of the other vehicle, is hospitalized here with a broken hip.

Funeral services for Mrs. Frank are to be held here Thursday under the direction of Hixson Funeral Home of Kermit.

Once 'Dead' Girl Dies Second Time

DENVER—(P)—Fifteen-year-old Sharlene Haddon, whose heart was massaged back to life, died Tuesday 22 hours after she was brought to a hospital "clinically dead."

When the girl arrived at the Denver General Hospital Monday, her heart had stopped beating and she was not breathing.

A doctor made an incision in her chest and started her heart beating again by massaging it for about two minutes.

Sharlene's mother, Mrs. Glenn Haddon, said the girl had been ill for about two weeks with a virus infection.

Present world population is about 2.3 billions. At the current rate of growth, it will double in 85 years.

Flood Of Braceros Indicates Border Crossed Easily By Smugglers, Spies

By The Associated Press

Mexican authorities say U. S. officials exaggerate the number of wetbacks—illegal Mexican Aliens—who enter the U. S.

And the North American officials who should know say a record number of the illegal aliens are expected to slip across the border this year in search of jobs, mostly in agriculture.

Reports from Mexican consuls to the Mexican Secretary of the Interior indicate no more than 200,000 or, at most, 250,000 farm workers entered the U. S. without contracts last year.

But in Washington, U. S. authorities said more than 600,000 had been picked up by immigration men in 1952 and stated even more might slip across the Rio Grande in 1953.

plained that provisions for legal entry of Mexican farm workers in the U. S. has failed to stop the tide of wetbacks.

Poor Facilities Charged The 16-man labor-organized committee said in a report to the U. S. secretary of Labor that inadequate facilities for patrolling the Mexican border leaves an open route for subversives and narcotics peddlers to enter the country.

U. S. authorities say they caught 65,000 wetbacks in January and shipped them back to Mexico and claim the Border Patrol picked up 651,000 and returned them to their own country in 1952. U. S. sources also claim just as many—some sources say twice as many—managed to evade apprehension.

Mexican authorities, on the other hand, said the actual totals not only were far below the Washington estimate, but was below the 1951 total of around 300,000. The Mexicans say, however, they are taking new steps to halt the wetback flow across the border and add they are cooperating in full with the U. S. Extra patrols, it was added, are expected on both sides of the Rio Grande.

Processing centers are in operation at Durango, Guadalupe, Inapustco, and Chihuahua signing up 75,000 braceros farm workers requested so far this year by U. S. farmers and ranchers.

Before the season ends, about 250,000 legal farm workers are expected to be signed, about the same number as last year.

Meanwhile, North Americans apparently are growing increasingly concerned over the possibilities of spies entering the country by the Rio Grande's "soft under-belly."

mies of the U. S. long have been aware of how easy it is to slip into this country by way of Mexico. Labor First Concern Making it clear, however, that labor is their primary concern, AFL-CIO leaders complained that more Mexicans than actually are needed are imported legally depriving American farm workers of jobs and undermining working conditions and wages.

U. S. officials say possible steps to correct the situation include: 1. Closer cooperation with Mexico to guard the border.

2. An effective U. S. law against hiring "wetbacks."

3. Reinforcement of the Border Patrol. Congress has been asked to provide money for 300 more officers which would bring the border patrol force to 1,400 men.

H. B. Schauer of the Borden Company, Midland, will attend the forty-fifth annual convention of the Dairy Products Institute of Texas in Dallas next weekend.

An attendance of some 800 persons is expected at the meeting of the state-wide organization for processors of milk, butter and ice cream.

An outstanding feature will be the presentation of a suggested milk research project for Texas and the nation. This proposed project, of far-reaching scope, will be placed before the convention by Dr. John A. Gulm, president, Texas State College for Women, Denton, and Dr. Pauline Berry Mack, Dean, College of Household Arts and Science, TSCW.

Special Merchandising Class Enters Seventh Year At MHS

The Distributive Education program, a plan to aid the shift from school life to adult life, is now in its seventh year in Midland schools.

City merchants and businessmen give students jobs on a part-time basis. Students thus meet the business world on an "equal basis" and study the job picture in an active sense. The jobs are "elective" in that a student need not continue work he does not enjoy.

The program is restricted to juniors and seniors and while not designed to discourage attending college, it does not give the student a foundation in the business world. Distributive Education combines theory and practice. The students attend classes during the morning and then go to their jobs in the afternoon. Vocational courses included in the program are advertising, merchandise display, customer and employer relationships, and public relations practices. Students prepare research themes—usually on their particular jobs—during the term and are required to write shorter papers about their work during the year.

Midland is but one of 3,000 U. S. schools—132 in Texas—which has adopted the educational program since its origination in San Antonio in 1937.

The project was first introduced in Midland schools in 1946. Ruth Donnell serves as its coordinator.

Loretta Ann Graham Enters Dallas Hospital

Loretta Ann Graham, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cora Mae Graham of Midland, has been admitted to the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children in Dallas.

The hospital was founded 27 years ago by Texas Masons to provide the best treatment for Texas' crippled children at no extra cost to the patient.

Since that time, the Scottish Rite Hospital has treated more than 15,000 children in the wards and 68,000 clinical patients. A staff of expert doctors, nurses and therapeutic technicians provides the treatment, both corrective and surgical, by means of contributions from the general public.

FROM COLORADO CITY

Mrs. L. B. Miller and daughter and Mrs. C. A. Young of Colorado City visited Tuesday in Midland.

The Viking raids in the Ninth Century represented a national movement of Scandinavians which involved the conquest of most of Britain, great raids and acquisition of territory in Europe, great expeditions into Russia and further action to the south that took the Vikings into the Eastern empire.

YOUNG STRANGER IN YOUR HOUSE—

Little Folks Develop Minds Of Their Own Early In Life

EDITOR'S NOTE: For new mothers—and new mothers-to-be—nothing is more reassuring than the wisdom of experienced mothers. Here's the fifth of six articles of just wisdom, written by a mother whose own mother is a well-known child-care specialist. The articles are condensed from "Parents' Magazine Book of Baby Care," a mother's guide to the first six years by Eleanor S. Duncan with the counsel of Clara Savage Littledale, editor of Parents' Magazine, published by McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc.

By ELEANOR S. DUNCAN
The first six months are a period of such rapid growth, and hence of such rapidly increasing appetite, that you may be concerned if your baby now begins to want less food or to seem finicky about it.

Perhaps you have been giving him his milk first at each meal-time, and that temporarily fills him up, taking away tummy room for solid foods. Habits are hard to break, so you may have to continue giving him some milk first, but just a little. Then, after he has eaten all the solids he wants, let him have more milk.

Don't Disguise It
Often when babies are getting used to the three-meal-a-day regime, they cut down on milk intake. Occasionally, they even develop a dislike for milk. If yours does, the best thing to do is humor him—by taking the milk away if he refuses it.

Make up for this by using more milk in his cooked foods. Give him creamed soup, creamed vegetables, milk puddings, mild cheese. All he needs is a change; after a while, he will drink milk willingly once more. Avoid sweetening or flavoring his glass of milk, it is better that he get less milk for a few weeks than develop an unnecessary taste for sweetened milk.

Whenever he takes an interest in self-feeding, encourage him. He will be messy at first, smearing the food all over himself, his high chair, and the floor. It will take him weeks to master the spoon (a baby spoon is easier for him to handle), and he will swoop up his glass of milk with a grand gesture that sends milk flying for yards.

During this time of trial-and-error, arrange things so that the feeding area will require a minimum of cleaning up after meals.

Outdistance Him
After your little fellow acquires the ability to pull himself up expertly to tables and other surfaces, you enter upon a new stage of existence. This may not occur until somewhere in the second year but so many babies are a menace to ash trays and such by the end of the first year that you had better prepare for it now.

There are two schools of thought as to the way to meet the new situation. Some authorities say that a yearling cannot be taught to leave things alone and that the solution is to put everything breakable beyond his reach for a year or more.

The Other Way
Others contend that a child big enough to pull himself up is also big enough to learn what he may and may not touch.

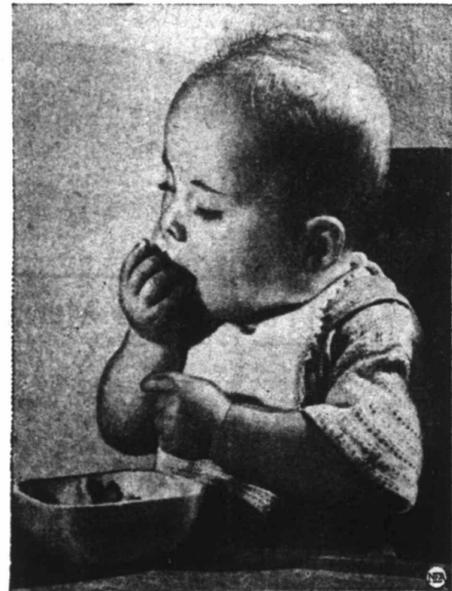

The writer has reared a child according to each method, and I should like to put in a strong vote for the second school of thought, as opposed to the first.

While it is possible, and highly desirable, for a child to learn respect for family possessions, he also should have things of his own that he can tear and pound and pummel to his heart's content.

Make It Sturdy
Don't give your baby lovely, delicate dolls at first; give a hardy doll that he can chew and throw around as the impulse seizes him.

Also, if he has an educational toy, don't insist that he use it in the way it was intended. Certainly, you can show him the correct way, but if he finds a different method of playing with it that is more fascinating to him, let him play as he pleases. His books should be made of cloth so that they are untearable, and he should have a few old magazines to rip up.

(Next 12 to 18 months.)

After ten months baby can use his hands well to pick up objects, and will begin to take an interest in self-feeding.

Free China's Military Plans To Blend With U. S. Strategy

By SPENCER MOOSA
 TAIPEH, FORMOSA (AP)—Future Nationalist military operations against the Red China mainland probably will be fitted into the broad aims of American strategy. U. S. strategy is centered mainly on getting the Chinese Reds to call it quits in Korea.

Although no official statement has been made, there is every reason to believe the Chinese Nationalists are willing to cooperate fully with the United States and will not undertake any military actions without approval in Washington.

No Air Raids

For example, there probably will be no Nationalist air raids on Red China unless the U. S. says okay. And it is generally assumed in Taipei the Nationalists are not going to take any action deliberately calculated to embroil the U. S. Seventh Fleet with the Chinese Reds.

A world-wide impression seems to have grown up in the wake of President Eisenhower's denaturalization order that Formosa is poised to strike at the mainland. The idea also seems to have developed that big raids are forming, that blockades are tightening and that ships will be seized if they venture into this zone.

It isn't so, and it isn't likely to be so for months and maybe years.

Aid Stepped Up

In the absence of any official indications as to what might happen, developments affecting Formosa are likely to be:

1. A stepped-up flow of U. S. military aid, including jet planes. The Nationalist Air Force has no
2. Strengthening of the Military Assistance Advisory Group under Maj. Gen. William C. Chase. He has about 800 officers and men but would like to double that figure.
3. Special courses in the United States for more Nationalist officers.
4. Continued economic aid to free China through the Mutual Security Agency, which is spending some 200 million dollars a year in Formosa.

The Nationalists probably will intensify their efforts to weld guerrilla forces on the mainland into an effective threat to the Reds through better organization.

Also probable are better-planned raids from Nationalist-held islands bases near Red China, in which regulars trained in Formosa would be employed and tested.

TRUMAN HONORED—Former President Harry S. Truman has been given this year's award of the Four Freedoms Foundation. At his request, the award will be made in the fall, instead of at a dinner in New York on March 9, as planned.

Germans Drop Inhibitions For 'Fasching'

By GRACE HALSELL
 Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

MUNICH, GERMANY—All over Germany and in other parts of Europe as well as a crazy, pre- Lenten carnival of "Fasching" is being celebrated.

My friends told me I would have to believe it. But they were wrong. For after I've seen it, I still don't believe it.

Uninhibited Germans in various forms of dress and undress, many bare from waist up, and the music and smoke and din make an American believe he's in a swoon or a New Year's Eve ball.

For sure, Germany's "Fasching" makes the American Mardi Gras look like a Sunday School box-lunch.

There's a ball almost every night. Each lasts until daylight, and sometimes for days.

Husbands sometimes not only stay out all night but all week. Wives don't mind, because they are not home either. It's nothing that will interfere with their marriage, you understand.

Either is likely to shrug his or her shoulders.

"It's Fasching," they say, in a way that should explain, and does—to any German.

Two German towns especially

Cologne in the Northern part of West Germany (also noted for its famous church), and Munich in the South (also noted for its beer) have the real spirit of Fasching.

It seems that Cologne has the spirit of mass frivolity and equality. There's dancing and singing and gaiety.

In Munich, on the other hand, everyone is not so much singing or dancing as flirting.

"Everyone is looking at everyone—with an eye to something," a German explained. The Munich "Fasching" is more "sexy," he explained.

To help me understand more fully, a young Munich University student and struggling actor offered to take me to a ball. To achieve an "effect," I cast propriety—I thought—to the wind, and wore a fancy petticoat—sans skirt.

My partner showed up.

"You look so civilian!" he said, in disappointment.

He left me aghast. He was made up to the hilt—complete with lipstick.

I think he was going as some Shakespearean actor, but all I could see was the painted face.

"I couldn't afford a mask, so I painted my own face," he explained. "It's wonderful what a mask and costume will do for you," he continued.

I mumbled I suppose so, but I kept thinking that in Texas, men just didn't wear lipstick. Old-fashioned, I suppose.

Assuming my reporter's determination to see this through, I left gaily to the "Schwabinger Modellball." That in English means a "Model's ball" given by the people of Schwabing, sort of a "Left Bank" district of Munich, where actors and artists and writers live.

It was held at the "Haus Der Kunst," a vast, colonnaded auditorium Hitler built to house art treasures of the Van Gogh variety, and now turned into a bedlam of costumed merry-makers.

One girl passed by in a scanty which would make a Bikini bather look covered up in comparison. Then here came another in a man's shirt, with nothing, in between except her shoes. One boy had dyed his long underwear and worn them, looking only slightly like a Laurence Olivier in the "Hamlet" role.

Some men were dressed as women, and some women as men, giving you a funny, sinking feeling when almost anyone walked up and asked you to dance.

In most cases, you weren't asked but grabbed up like a sack of flour and swirled madly about the jammed floor as a German orchestra blared forth music that would make Stan Kenton seem dead.

Medical Clues Hint Civilization Itself May Be Major Destroyer Of Human Race

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
 AP Science Reporter

Three words—way of life—may hold the key to help us escape heart diseases, says Dr. Paul D. White, prominent heart specialist of Boston.

Way of life includes the food we eat, the work and exercise we do or don't do and attitudes, he explained in an interview.

All have changed radically in the last 30 to 40 years, during which heart and blood vessel diseases have become the leading killer of Americans.

Rich And Poor

How much, Dr. White asks, has the change in our way of life brought about the rise in heart disease?

He urges research to find out. The research could best be done in countries where there is a big difference between wealthy people—living on a scale comparable to Americans—and the poor.

There's good evidence that wealthy people suffer more from heart seizures, high blood pressure and hardening of arteries than those who have a different way of life, said Dr. White, Harvard University Medical School professor and executive director of the National Heart Advisory Council.

Under Our Noses

"Nature is running, right now, the human experiments that might tell us what we are doing wrong that brings on heart diseases," he said. "The answers to the tragic fall of heart diseases may be lying right under our noses."

"Think how much our diet has changed in one or two generations. Not long ago, only the rich could afford rich diets. Now most of us consume large amounts of butter and cream and fat and we have plenty of food. Low-income people are eating the kind of food that only millionaires once could afford.

How much has the change in average diet contributed to higher incidence of heart diseases?"

Today most of us do less physical work. We ride autos instead of walking or bicycling. It's a push-button age. Many of us don't get the physical exercise our forefathers did.

"We ought to study what this change means. Are we letting our bodies decay faster? It might be good for the hearts of men and women to do more of their own chores. They would get exercise, learn more humility—and save some money."

The tempo of life has changed, he continued. Would peace of mind, equanimity, patience, bring better

Girl Friends Of Good Queen Bess Were To Busy To Bathe

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Britain soon normally will crown amid pomp and pageantry her second Queen Elizabeth.

And my, how times have changed since the first Queen Elizabeth took the throne almost 400 years ago.

Historians often write nostalgically about "the spacious days of Good Queen Bess." But the housewife of today would regard the lot of the average woman then as a living nightmare.

There not only were no radio or video soap operas to break the boredom of household chores, Soap itself was beyond the reach of all but the rich.

Too Many Baths
The Fuller brush salesman would enjoy none of his present prosperity. He'd have starved. Folks used cloth to clean their teeth and the bath-brush was unknown. In fact, one great lady who formed the habit of taking a bath once a month regularly was regarded as a bit eccentric.

Famous beauties of the 16th Century enhanced their charms by coating their faces with a substance now used to paint houses—white lead.

A wife had to be a real all-round odd job lady then. In a treatise called "delights for Ladies," Sir Hugh Plat listed a few things a good homemaker should be able to do: "Brew ale, milk cows, make cheese, mold candles, spin, weave, sew and bake; also pluck geese for feather beds and put in and take care of both a vegetable garden and a herb garden."

Arrest Career Girls?
When these little duties were done, the wife could spend the rest of the time meditating how lucky she was to be married.

There was a law that single women could be arrested for the crime of being old maids.

Today a stenographer can dress about as well as a society debutante. There was no such nonsense under Good Queen Bess.

She herself didn't have a pair of silk stockings until she was 28. They were black net. But to wear these "silke nether-stockings" legally you had to have the equivalent of an income of about $12,000 to $15,000.

Never Use Sleeping Pill Drugs Unless Absolutely Necessary

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Most sleeping pill drugs consist of various combinations of a chemical substance known as barbituric acid, though they are sold under a multitude of trade names. Although they have valuable uses in medicine, they are misused so often that they should not be taken at all unless absolutely necessary.

Many deaths from sleeping pills occur and the number has been rising for years. This is a shocking situation and to combat it many states and cities have adopted laws prohibiting the purchase of sleeping pills, except with a doctor's prescription.

Some people are especially sensitive to the barbiturate drugs. Such persons can get reactions from only small quantities. It also is a matter of concern that some people become addicted to barbiturates, that is, they develop a habit and liking which is difficult to throw off.

Most people who develop the barbiturate habit do so because they have been using the pills for sleeplessness. The habit usually takes several months or even years to be completely established. A few people have difficulty in stopping after using the sleeping tablets for less than a month.

Those who are in the habit of taking a sleeping drug find that they have to take larger and larger quantities and that even then the results are less and less successful. Besides developing a harmful habit, they may be chronically poisoned.

One woman, for example, who had taken barbiturates for several months became mentally incompetent, lost control of her elimination, lost weight, and had to be fed with a spoon.

One letter, recently received, tells of a 58-year-old woman who three years ago was given phenobarbital, one-half grain to be taken as directed for high blood pressure. The correspondent says the woman is a highly nervous person, and now she takes two of these tablets four times a day.

Stop Using Drug
She has become depressed, cries easily, and complains of pain in the back and elsewhere. "I told her to stop these pills," wrote P. "Go to the doctor and have a complete physical. She has her family in a nervous state at all times."

Here is indeed an excellent example of the danger. Phenobarbital is one of the milder barbiturates, but even this can lead to habit formation and certainly should not be continued indefinitely without a checkup. The correspondent who was concerned about her friend certainly is correct in advising her to cease the drug and have an examination.

'Average' Salary Given Ministers
FREMONT, NEB. (AP)—Ministers receive about the same cash payment for their work as other workers, reports Dr. J. Emory Ackerman, Midland College professor in an article in "The Lutheran," official publication of The United Lutheran Church in America.

The median cash salary without parsonage is approximately the same for ministers as the median income for families in all occupations, he says.

His findings were based on a study of the seven largest denominations in the National Council of Churches of Christ in America. The survey included replies from 1,300 congregations.

FAST PAINT JOB
OAKLAND, CALIF. (AP)—The transport General Pope tied up here recently at a pier of the Oakland Dock and Warehouse Company, rusted and in need of a face-lifting job. Four coats of paint were applied on the hull and two coats on the superstructure in only 18 days, said to be one of the fastest such jobs on record.

Southwestern Life Breaks Two Records
Two all-time records were attained by Southwestern Life Insurance Company in 1952. President James Ralph Wood has announced in reporting on the company's financial statement.

Company agents in 1952 produced $150,022,918 of new paid-for business, greatest amount in history for a single calendar year and a 24 per cent gain over 1951. The company also experienced the greatest calendar year gain in insurance in force in its history, with $88,614,609 added in '52.

Southwestern Life is represented here by M. R. Gayle and Wayne Matthews.

LANDS SAKES!

WITHOUT ADVERTISING,
WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business,
And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

Fiction—or the future?—Allied MF's, clad in atom-proof garments stand guard as the World Defense Commission comes in for a landing in its cosmic gondola. It's just a movie being made in Austria, of course, but the way science is catching up with fiction, who can tell?

Science-Fiction Writers Find Science Isn't Too Far Behind

By LEONARD RUPPERT
NEA Staff Correspondent

Science fiction writers have a problem. The scientists are threatening to catch up with them.

A few years back, all the successful writers had to do was dream up a fantastic gimmick or send his characters to the moon and he had himself a first-class space opera.

Now it's not so easy. Many of the time-tried gimmicks—television, atom bombs, radar—are no longer fantastic. And with rapid developments in the rocket field, neither is a trip to the moon.

Can't Stay Ahead

"Science is moving so fast," says one leading editor, "that the fictional guessing can hardly be distinguished from the factual forecasts of scientists. Today's fiction may well be tomorrow's headlines. It probably already is anticipated by secret classified material."

As a result, the authors are forced to put an extra strain on their imaginations. And the outcome is slightly fantastic.

Most writers no longer discuss such trivial things as how to get to another planet; they deal instead with what happens after you get there. And they don't fool around with gimmicks, they invent whole new civilizations.

Boy Meets Girl

The world of the future, as a survey of several magazines reveals it, is a vast inter-planetary galaxy. The earth is only one state. Scientists are top dogs everywhere.

When boy meets girl, for instance, they cannot just run off and get married. Their wedding—even their courtship—must first be approved by a council as eugenically okay.

The structure of society is based solely on intelligence. Each person gets an emotional and intelligence rating. Those with the least emotion and the most intelligence rank highest.

Personal liberties are curtailed. Records are kept of all conversations, however trivial. With government control of marriages, people are bred like animals to wipe out the capacity for emotion. But on the other hand, criminal tendencies also are bred out and crime is nonexistent. Life expectancies are from 100 to 150 years.

Technical wonders are numerous. Hopping to Mars in a space ship for an evening of night-clubbing is common. Then there are such things as visual telephones, inter-planetary TV networks, and a panel that shows the face of someone at the door, but not your own.

Let Us Spray

Among the more novel innovations, repeated in several stories, is the use of perfumes, or "sprays," to promote emotional reactions. This is OK with the scientists because it's—er—scientific. A guy wants to feel cheerful, for instance. He just pushes a wall button marked "gay." One writer even has a spray for advertising purposes. One whiff of it, and people rush right out to buy the product.

Wierdest advance is time travel. Persons are able to transmit themselves bodily into the past (as has been happening for years in the comic strip "Alley Oop"). But they never can go into the future.

Shoot Or Not?

This, of course, is many centuries from now. In writing of the period before then, most authors are concerned with what will happen when earthmen first meet spacemen. Will the reaction be to shoot them down or not? The writers are divided equally.

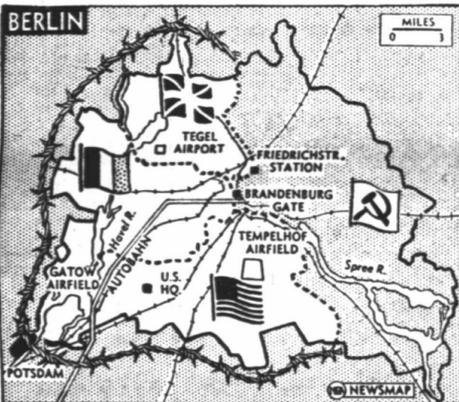

The hope of the writers—who are often professors or engineers who write science fiction as a hobby—seems to be that the space men will help the earth man save himself from destruction.

New Stone Age

The authors, as a group, are pessimistic. They see man finally becoming so smart that he destroys himself.

It must be admitted that, after a period similar to the Stone Age, they also see man recovering and rebuilding his civilization. Maybe this reflects genuine hope on the writers' part.

Or perhaps they're afraid to destroy man permanently because then they'd have nothing to write about.

Berlin is a city divided among the four world powers. The Soviets could seal off the city from the free world by erecting a barrier in their zone of Germany, which adjoins Allied sectors of Berlin.

Here's how Berlin is isolated, about 100 miles inside the Red zone of occupied Germany.

Berlin, World's Isolated City - - -

The Russians have threatened Berlin with a blockade if West Germany ratifies the European Defense Treaty. Should this happen, the Allies might have to count on an "airlift" similar to the one flown in 1948-49 to bring West Berliners supplies, as the Autobahn, principal truck route, would be closed. Barbed wire on map shows one-kilometer "death zone" under construction to prevent unauthorized passage into West Berlin. In addition, the Reds have erected check points on the border of West Berlin and the Soviet zone to screen all who pass.

LADY-BEARD—Blanche Thebom, Metropolitan Opera mezzo-soprano, has acquired a beard for her role of Baba the Turk, in Igor Stravinski's "The Rake's Progress," which is being produced by the Met for the first time.

University Of Houston Ponders Giving College Credits For Courses On Video

HOUSTON—(AP)—The University of Houston, which opens a television station of its own in April, is studying the possibility of offering college credit for courses televised for study in the home.

A survey conducted by the University's psychology department indicates 46.7 per cent of Houston television owners are interested in taking courses, via television, for college credit. University officials would have been pleased with a response of from 15 to 20 per cent.

Temporary Answers

"Personally I think such a play has tremendous possibilities," said Dr. W. W. Kemmerer, University president. "There is no reason why housewives and the sick—those who can't leave home—should not continue their education."

He thinks television might prove to be at least a temporary answer to classroom shortages which the University and many other institutions now face.

Not all courses can be offered on television, for credit, but Kemmerer says there are many possibilities.

Gives Example

He explained that lectures comprise about 50 per cent of all classroom instruction and that courses predominantly of a lecture nature should make ideal television subjects. He cited American History, a required course for freshman students, as an example.

"Courses which require much laboratory work would not make good television courses, but laboratory demonstrations could be televised," he said.

John C. Schwarzwalder, chairman of the University's radio and television division, said results of the survey were surprising.

Plans New Survey

"We figured not more than 15 or 20 per cent would be interested in TV courses," he said. "The outcome means we will have to reorganize a lot of our television plans."

The University now is preparing plans for another survey to determine the types of courses television owners would like to receive.

"So far, we believe the most popular courses will be in psychology, crafts, building, elementary business practices, and, possibly, the cultural area," Schwarzwalder said.

He explained the university is considering using a system now in use at Western Reserve University, whereby TV viewers will be supplied course outlines and other material for a small fee. Should the viewer desire to receive credit for the course, he would pay the University's regular tuition fee for that course.

Quizzes would be mailed to the University and returned after grading.

A Western Reserve they have found that grades of television students are slightly better than those in the classrooms and the percentage of television students finishing a course is slightly greater than among students on the campus," Schwarzwalder said. "However, that is easily explained in that anyone who is interested enough to study by television is usually interested enough to make good grades."
