NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

An Aid To Your Mental And Physical Health

President Harold W. Dodds of Princeton University recently commented on our times in these words: "It has become the Phenomenal Age because of the national anxiety of neurosis which has developed through lack of spiritual values in life and education . . . The amount of time and money devoted to 'hot rod' pleasures, the level of current standards of sex relations, and the immoderate use of alcohol as an escape or as a crutch—these are the symbols of the nation's deficit in non-material things."

President Dodds' statement emphasizes the relationship between the spiritual side of things and mental and physical health. Many of our ills would vanish if, as a physician once told me, we would simply practice the therapy of our religion—prayer, faith and love.

THIS IS ILLUSTRATED by a story told by a well known doctor. There was a man whose health was good; he was sturdy and strong, his heart action and blood pressure were fine. Then his father died and he got into a prolonged legal dispute with his sister about their father's will. Eventually, the case went to court, and the sister won. From that day on, the man could think about nothing but the lawsuit and his sister. He talked about it, thought about it, filled himself with it; it became his obsession. And, each day, he grew to hate his sister more.

One day, he noticed that his breath was becoming foul. It grew worse and stayed that way. Then he began to have difficulty with his heart and his blood pressure. Next, his kidneys bothered him. Before many months, various complications killed him.

In commenting on this case, the doctor said, "It seems obvious that he died from bodily injuries wrought by powerful emotion." The man killed himself with ill will—literally committed suicide.

TODAY PHYSICIANS everywhere are emphasizing psychosomatic medicine, because they realize that the things that often make people sick are worry, resentment, frustration, pride, guilt, impurity. But for years people scoffed at the notion that any of these things could affect your health.

There are many diseases which even the most advanced of our medical techniques have not yet conquered. But today we believe that with God's help we can obtain for ourselves longer years of full health and strength. We can be re-created year after year, living with strength and vitality until our full course is run.

We read the obituary pages about men in their thirties, forties and fifties who have died of heart disease and similar ailments. These men are the victims of the pressure of these times and of their own failure to learn how to get themselves in harmony with their Creator and be constantly re-created.

HOW TO DO THIS? A physician who has a gift for apt expression has made a little rhyme: "Beat wear and tear by prayer and care." In other words, the way to frustrate the hard-driving wear and tear on your system is to practice care and to practice prayer.

There are re-creative powers in faith and in the practice of the simple teachings of Jesus. The word holiness is derived from a word meaning wholeness. It's preserving mental and spiritual well-being. It will help you to get an experience of God in your life. The Bible tells the story of such an experience in some very moving words: "And he brought him that they might only touch the hem of His garment, and as many as touched were made perfectly whole."

In your church you can "touch the hem of His garment"—and you can learn to keep yourself perfectly whole and healthy in mind and body. Try it this weekend, while you can.

WILEY'S VERSION TOO WEAK?

Wiley Urges More Punch In Repudiation Of Soviets

WASHINGTON—Senator Wiley (R-Wis) said Saturday a resolution submitted to Congress by President Eisenhower condemning Russian violation of secret agreements is "disappointing" and doesn't go far enough.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he hopes Congress will "strengthen" the Eisenhower-approved draft "in order to more clearly and accurately set forth the sentiment of the American people."

He complained that as the resolution stands it only "rejects any interpretations or applications of any international agreements or understandings . . . which have been perverted to bring about . . . subjugation of free peoples."

"Actually, I believe the American people have, by and large, felt that numerous clauses of the secret agreements were wrong," Wiley said, adding that from the very beginning they had been "misinterpreted, misapplied and violated by Soviet Russia."

The committee chairman said any strengthening of the resolution should be "in line with a firmer, more vigorous foreign policy which goes beyond mere 'containment.'"

Ornery Crow Goes Too Far

BAKER, ORE.—(AP)—The uneasy truce is over between police and the black crow that frequents main street here. The crow went too far. Police, and shoppers put up with the scorn he directed from the top of parking meters. They overlooked his panhandling tidbits from passersby. They indulged the flights he picked with passing dogs. But then Patrolman Earl Tucker caught him flying off with a parking ticket. Tucker had placed on a car windshield.

"That's the second time he has done that," Tucker reported with outrage. Arrest and chastisement is expected—if police can catch him.

Pending Firemen's Bill May Cost City $40,000 First Year

Proposed legislation shortening the working week for firemen will cost the City of Midland an estimated $40,000 annually, City Manager W. H. Oswald said Saturday.

Hearing on the legislation, contained in Senate Bill 118, is scheduled Monday before the Senate's State Affairs Committee in Austin. Under terms of the bill, cities in the 10,000-40,000 population bracket shall have not more than 72 hours of duty each week for firemen.

In addition, such cities must call an election within 90 days on the question of adoption of a 60-hour week for firemen, and a 40-hour week for fire department employees not directly engaged in the suppression of fires.

"At the present time," said Oswald, "our firemen are on duty three and one-half days a week—a total of 84 hours. The majority of our firemen have outside jobs on their off-duty days."

and many of them earn in excess of $100 monthly on these outside jobs. Firemen are the only group of municipal employees whose work schedule permits them to engage in such remunerative extra work."

Texas Spared As Blizzards, Cyclones Roar

A wave of intense cold engulfed a wide stretch of land in the West and Midwest Saturday. The mercury plunged as low as 31 below zero. The death toll rose to 13. The worst snowstorm of the season petered out, leaving a broad belt in the Midlands dotted with drifts that towered as high as trees in at least one state.

Texas had snow, too—down in the Gulf Coast region near Orange—but it was the result of freak atmospheric conditions with the temperature at 42 degrees. Elsewhere in the state it was sunny and cold with blowing dust here and there.

The storm center that had whipped up blizzards from the Rocky Mountains to Lake Superior moved into Ontario. As the cold front moved eastward, the air churned and temperatures dropped. Winds of gale force buffeted New York State. The blow ranged from 35 to 55 miles an hour in the western part of the state, with gusts between 60 and 80. Buffalo's temperature plummeted 26 degrees in less than three hours.

In Rochester, a 62-mile-an-hour wind toppled trees, tore down utility wires and ripped the roofs off some buildings.

Nine of the dead were in snow-hit Colorado and Wyoming—five in traffic and four caused by over-exertion. A girl froze to death in a marooned car in Nebraska. Two men were killed in two auto accidents during a rainstorm in Pennsylvania. One woman lost her life in the Southern tornadoes.

It was cold in most of the interior states. These lows show the scope and degree of frigidly: Fraser and Gunnison, Colo., minus 31; International Falls, Minn., minus 15; Sibley, Iowa, minus 10; North Platte, Neb., minus 19; Dalton, Texas, seven above.

A low of 22 above in Central Arizona—coldest for the date in 37 years—raised fears of extensive damage to citrus crops. Drifts Top Trees

Two Jump Floydada Jail; One Captured

FLOYDADA—(AP)—Two men charged with burglary broke out of the Floyd County Jail Saturday. Sheriff Earl Cooper said Bobby Humbel, 24, was captured near Petersburg a short time later in a stolen pickup truck. Sid Cole, 24, still was at large.

Cooper said the men had been charged with a number of West Texas burglaries.

There was no immediate official explanation of the cause of the collision. It took place on a steep grade near a siding where cars are accustomed to wait while others pass on the one-way tracks.

The location is between two small towns known as La Venta and Tacubaya.

Exchange Of Sick, Wounded Prisoners Of War Suggested

TOKYO—(AP)—Gen. Mark Clark asked the Communists to exchange sick and wounded prisoners of war with the UN.

The UN supreme commander, in a letter to North Korean and Chinese Red bosses in Korea, said the UN is prepared "to carry out the provisions of the Geneva Convention" and exchange sick and wounded prisoners.

"I wish to be informed whether you are prepared for your part to proceed with immediately the repatriation of seriously wounded captured personnel of the United Nations Command who are in our hands."

Clark's letter was handed to the Reds at Panmunjon at 11 a.m. Sunday (5 p.m. Saturday, CST). It was addressed to North Korean Generalissimo Kim Il Sung and the Chief of Chinese troops in Korea, Gen. Peng Teh-huai.

Russia's Captor Of Berlin Gets Highest Red Army Job

MOSCOW—(AP)—Marshal Vasily D. Sokolovsky, captor of Berlin in World War II, has been named chief of staff of the armed forces of the Soviet Union, succeeding Gen. Sergei M. Shtemenko.

This was disclosed Saturday when Sokolovsky sent out invitations for the annual celebration of the anniversary of the Soviet Army. The celebration takes place Monday at the Central House of the Army.

Sokolovsky, now 56, rose high in Soviet military councils in World War II. He was promoted to colonel general in June, 1942, and then to full general in August, 1943. A month later he led his army across the Dnieper and recaptured Smolensk from the Germans.

After that he broke through German defenses in Southeastern Germany, captured six cities and led the way to victory at Breslau in Silesia, Germany. He became a hero of the Soviet Union when his forces captured Berlin five months later.

Sokolovsky, as military commander in Germany, was a stubborn opponent of the West and carried out policies which produced the 1948-49 blockade of Berlin. The blockade, countered by a gigantic Allied airlift, was ended after he was recalled and Gen. Lucius D. Clay, former U. S. commander in Germany, once said he regarded Sokolovsky as a "very competent man" militarily.

Clark's letter was handed to the Reds at Panmunjon at 11 a.m. Sunday (5 p.m. Saturday, CST). It was addressed to North Korean Generalissimo Kim Il Sung and the Chief of Chinese troops in Korea, Gen. Peng Teh-huai.

TSTA Says 'Big Business' Ducking School Cost Share

AUSTIN—(AP)—An official of the Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) charged Saturday that some "big business" interests are trying to duck their fair share of additional public school costs.

Tennyson was commenting generally on the public school finance problem, the demands of teachers for more money and the governor's explanation of the issue in a series of newspaper articles signed by Governor Shivers.

"The money must come from somewhere," he said. "The question is whether it is to come from a broad-based state-wide tax with big business paying its fair share or from the little people in local communities struggling to provide adequate school buildings and facilities."

Demoted Security Agent Will Regain Former Position

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The State Department yielded again Saturday to the demands of Senate investigators and agreed to restore John E. Matson, a department security agent, to his old job.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) has charged that Matson, a special agent in the department, was demoted to a "pavement pounding" job in reprisal for testimony he gave in the Senate investigations subcommittee's probe of the Voice of America. His testimony—contested by department officials later—was that reports on homosexuals and a suspected Communist had disappeared from department files.

Cabinet Post Recommended For Voice Of America Chief

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The U. S. Advisory Commission on Information recommended Saturday the Voice of America and all other psychological warfare and overseas information programs be placed in a new federal agency of Cabinet level.

The proposal for removing the Voice and related activities from the State Department was one of seven recommendations which the commission placed before Congress in a report released through the department.

The commission's recommendation may have an influential effect on decisions yet to be made by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles about the organization of the government's information and psychological warfare programs.

Eightieth Wedding Anniversary Passes Quietly, But Celebration Follows Thaw

WHITNEY—(P)—Uncle Tom and Aunt Easter Rose spent a lonely eightieth wedding anniversary. The next month brought hundreds of visitors, messages and gifts to the couple believed to have been married longer than anybody else in the country.

A sleet storm kept Uncle Tom, 100, and Aunt Easter, 98, in their room that bleak anniversary day, January 16. Slick roads kept visitors from reaching their place north of this Central Texas town.

Only a reporter and a friend who pulled him out of an icy ditch slid out to the Rose house.

It was the quietest anniversary the Roses can recall.

Then the word went out by press, radio and TV that the longest-married couple had reached another milestone. Cards, letters and gifts began to arrive—and still come daily.

Dozen Roses Wired

First month after their ice-bound anniversary brought greetings from 24 states and Canada. Most messages came from strangers.

A couple in Nebraska wired the Roses a dozen red roses. Couples in Indiana and Missouri sent golden wedding pictures. Wylbert Brown, Eugene, Ore., sent Mr. and Mrs. Rose an autographed copy of his arrangement of "The Eyes of Texas."

Another admirer composed a poem.

messages poured in from all over the country. These included a telegram from President Truman.

Aunt Easter Bedridden

Their eightieth provided a great contrast. Bill Woodside of the Hillsboro Mirror was the newspaperman who went calling.

He found Aunt Easter, bedridden almost two years, apparently did not mind the quiet day. Mrs. Rose, not especially sick but tired, gets her greatest pleasure simply visiting with friends and relatives.

Uncle Tom, however, did not enjoy the day. He likes people and still enjoys going visiting. While not as active as in his younger days four or five years ago, Rose still comes to Whitney almost every Saturday.

"To get a shave," he explains. "To visit his friends," relatives say.

Nine Children Living

When the ice melted, friends quickly assured the Roses they had not forgotten. Many called or sent word. Mrs. Earl Connolly, a daughter with whom the Roses make their home, spent hours reading congratulatory cards and letters.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose have eight other children living, including H. E. Rose, 77, who celebrated his fiftieth wedding anniversary Oct. 12, 1952. Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Rose may have been the only couple in the country to have a parent attend their golden wedding celebration.

Uncle Tom was born in Wayne County, Tenn., July 25, 1852. Aunt Easter was born in Hardin County, Tenn., Dec. 16, 1854. They reached Texas in a covered wagon Dec. 31, 1877. The Roses paid $5 an acre for land in west Hill County and built a home.

They still are living on the land.

Truckers Linked To Fake Sorghum Sales In Kansas

TOPEKA—(P)—Complaints of selling adulterated food have been filed against three Joplin, Mo., truckers who are alleged to have flooded Kansas with $50,000 worth of fake sorghum.

Evan Wright, director of the Kansas Board of Health's food and Drug Division, said the complaints have been filed against Roy, Sloan and M. Dawson in Wichita and Dawson's son, Glen, in Coffeyville. No arrests were made immediately.

Wright said the truckers allegedly sold sorghum-flavored corn syrup, with a retail value of about $1 a gallon, as real sorghum for $3.

Investigators have found the product is mixed in Jefferson, Texas, and Iowa and shipped to Joplin, where assorted labels are applied, Wright said.

Canned Goods Output Zooms To New Levels

CHICAGO—(P)—An industry leader said production of canned fruits and vegetables has "increased by more than 50 per cent" since the start of World War II — outstripping gains in population.

Fred C. Heinz, vice president of H. J. Heinz Company, told the National Canners Association the average American now consumes one-third more canned fruits, juices and vegetables than in 1950.

Heinz, president of the association, told the group's convention that canners packed 304 million cases of fruits and vegetables in 1952, compared with 470 million cases in 1951.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground; and should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

Today's Message

Are you realistic? Do you pride yourself on not being controlled by emotion and wishful thinking? All will agree that the seriousness of the world situation demands that we be realistic. But who is realistic? Is he the one who can see only the bright side of life? Is he the one who can see only the bright side of life?

The realistic person is the one who sees in a tulip bulb more than something that looks like an onion. He sees the bulb planted—apparently decayed—the downreach of inexorable forces which pull up out of the unshiny bulb something green—lift it up until it proudly bears aloft a beautiful flower. Such a person is not dismayed with all the evil of today. He sees the downreach of inexorable force which can pull up out of our lives persons who have thrown off falsehood for truth, ugliness for beauty, unbelief for faith, irresponsibility for integrity. He sees not only what men are—but sees what they can become.

In your meditation today try to ascertain whether you face the facts or avoid them. Does God enter into a realistic view of life? Jesus was an idealist; but He was also a realist. He challenges us to pioneer with Him in realism.

—FRED HOSKINS

Today's Prayer

Eternal God, our Father, we would be free from the illusions which ensnare us. We pray for strength to be realistic as Christ was realistic, that we may never mistake the present as the limit of what Thou canst do. Amen.

Brown Sees Need Of Quick Increases In Crude Prices

By CHARLES HASLET

WASHINGTON—(P)—An increase in the general price base for petroleum is needed at once "to check a slowing up" in oil operations, says Russell Brown, general counsel of the Independent Petroleum Association.

Brown expressed this view in a letter, a copy of which he made public, to Charlton H. Lyons, president of the association. Price controls on oil and oil products were removed recently.

The price of crude oil, has not changed in more than five years, while expenses have increased greatly, Brown said.

"There have been cost increases of as much as 30 to 50 per cent," he said. "That does not mean that such increases in our prices will necessarily follow."

"There are many area adjustments indicated now. Some increase in our general price base should come at once to check the slowing up of our operations. Additional increases should be made as conditions are indicated until our abilities to do a good job for our national security as well as make our proper contribution to the economy of the country are realized.

"To do this job, the cost of things we buy must come down or the price we get for what we sell must go up. It is that simple."

He added that, while lifting of price controls solves one of the industry's problems, it still is confronted with that of imports.

The Trade Agreements Act, which expires in June, seems certain to be renewed in some form by Congress, Brown said.

Imports have increased under this act, he declared, "until now they have reached serious proportions."

WITH THE SERVICES— R-T Progress Edition To 'Show' Skeptics

Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) officials, appearing this week before the House Commerce Committee, estimated that imports of oil products in 1953, mostly residual fuel oil, would reach a new high.

But one official explained that this should not be misconstrued because the entire oil industry has been growing and production and demand generally have increased.

Whether the PAD will remain in existence after June 30, when the Defense Production Act expires, appears to depend upon whether Congress feels it is needed for defense purposes.

One oil organization representative expressed the opinion recently that sufficient steel probably will be available within a few months to meet all demands of the oil industry at the present level of operations.

Tubular Goods

One of PAD's jobs has been the allocation of oil company tubular goods.

If PAD is not continued, military authorities might take over its job of directing movement of aviation gasoline components.

Other PAD responsibilities, if the agency goes out of existence, might go to the Interior Department's oil and gas division.

WASHINGTON OIL— Million Dollar Gas Gamble May Pay Off For Houstonite

By JOSEPH HUTTLINGER
Reporter-Telegram Washington Oil Correspondent
WASHINGTON—A million-dollar gamble looks today like it may pay off in the next few months for Ray C. Fish of Houston, Texas.

Fish, the most famous name in natural gas pipe line building, is after a Federal Power Commission go ahead on a $186,000,000, 1,400-mile, big-diameter line from Colorado's San Juan Basin to the state of Washington.

In Washington last week for a "showdown" hearing, company officials spoke brightly. There are hurdles ahead, and months of hearings. But Fish says he feels confident.

If Fish and his associates get FPC approval, it will mark the close of almost three years of striving. During that time, officers and directors of the enterprise—Pacific Northwest Pipe Line Corporation—ventured an estimated $1,000,000 to push their plan.

For Fish, it seems in character to form and be chairman of his own gas pipe line, a venture that would spend a whopping $200,000,000 before it collected a dime in revenue. As chairman, president and 52 per cent owner of Fish Engineering Company, he built more miles of pipe line than any man in the world. He built the largest one—the 2,400-mile system of the Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation from Texas to New York City.

Bold New Venture
Like Claude A. Williams, president of Transco, Fish is living proof that there's a bold new future for men of vision and daring.

At the close of the war, Williams was a Washington lawyer. He formed a company to buy the big and little-inch pipe lines. A rival, Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, Shreveport, bid higher. So Williams set out and built another line. He had Fish do the work.

Some years ago, Fish was asked to find out if there's a demand for natural gas in the Pacific Northwest, and if a pipe line could be laid there. He checked into it, and reported the answers are yes. Then he formed a company to do the job. Right now, he says the company—Pacific Northwest—if it gets a nod from the FPC, "will be extremely profitable."

With Fish, everything must be bigger and better. At first his line was to run 2,200 miles from the Houston area. Now, the plan is for 1,400 miles.

Seattle Is Satisfied
The Pacific Northwest testimony hasn't covered the costs of gas to the area, yet. But Seattle and many other communities appear satisfied it will be fair. N. Henry Gellert, president of the Seattle Gas Company, is prepared to state the Fish line will do what his area wants.

Like others in the marketing area, Gellert thinks Canadian gas may be risky. Canada could shut off the supply on one year's notice, he says. Further, the line would go through treacherous glaciers; if smashed, a line might wait months before bitter winter weather passed to let in repair crews. This, he says, offsets the shorter haul of Westcoast. Again, the Fish line would tie the Pacific Northwest to the rest of the U. S. as far as gas lines go. And if Canada wanted to sell gas, it could ship it down, and through the Fish venture to the heart of the U. S.

Leaders May Join Tax Policy Revolt

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The clash over tax policy between President Eisenhower and some House Republicans show signs of spreading to the top House leadership—men Eisenhower normally expects to carry the ball for him.

Congressional sources who have been close to developments reported Saturday prospects are growing for a new and more serious disagreement that even could overshadow the current scrap over income tax cuts.

They interpret the picture thus: Eisenhower, in his first news conference as President this week, made it clear he favors either extension of the excess profits tax on business, now scheduled to expire June 30, or enactment of some tax increases to make up this loss in revenue.

This stand came as something of a shock to top House leaders. They had agreed with the President that the drive by Representative Reed (R-NY) for quick passage of individual income tax cuts should be stalled until appropriations are trimmed and the budget takes shape.

But these leaders, including House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) and Floor Leader Halleck (R-Ind), had counted on passing Reed's tax-trimming bill eventually. They are reported to fear now that the Administration is thinking of longer delay than they have been. There is a feeling that the Administration is contemplating a delay of a year or more, as against a three or four-month delay in the minds of some House leaders.

But the real threat to highest level Republican harmony is the expected Eisenhower demand either for extension of the excess profits tax or for some revenue increase to fill that gap.

Close associates to Halleck and Martin say they just can't picture the two House leaders going along with any sort of tax increase.

The Administration has been reported considering a slight temporary increase in corporate rates as a substitute for the excess profits levy, which now brings in an estimated $2,500,000,000.

Lyrics, Comedy, Dances Lift 'Oklahoma' To Roaring Finale

By JIM LINDSEY
Reporter-Telegram Staff

Music made up for what "Oklahoma" lacked here Friday night in heavy acting and deep plot.

And comedy helped the lyrical score carry the Rodgers and Hammerstein production into the high level of enjoyment by Midlanders who crowded the Midland High School auditorium. A romantic folk-tale and the glorious music kept the three-hour show speeding toward the climax after a seemingly slow getaway.

Moments of conflict occurred amidst festive scenes reflecting the down-to-earth life of the Indian Territory. And the continuity, though snapped at times, burst into a roaring finale by a cast of young singers who also demonstrated that they can act.

Lynn Riggs originally provided the plot in "Green Grow the Lilacs." And Hammerstein's workmanship from this foundation, as presented by the Theater Guild's National Company here, resulted in a refreshing, entertaining style.

The musical play failed to delve much below the surface of the transition of the Territory to statehood. Still there was a penetrating insight into life in the Indian Territory about the turn of the century.

Scenes take place in the farm home of Laurey and Aunt Eller. Curly's affection for Laurey spins the action, helped by the sinister worship of Laurey by Jud Fry, the hired hand.

The outcome follows a familiar pattern. Jud meets his demise with the knife he planned to employ in erasing Curly.

Cowboys and their girls dance to long-established tunes as the plot extends itself. "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" and "People Will Say We're In Love" were familiar music included in the sparkling offerings.

The "Salesmanship" of Peddler Ali Hakim, the courting of Will Parker and Ado Annie and the crossfire of Aunt Eller and Judge Andrew Carnes proved favorites for the big audience at the entertainment sponsored by the Alpha Psi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

Agnes de Mille's native ballets at the conclusion of the first act gave Midlanders a picture of the revolution created in the modern theater which did away with the stock musical dance. Ballet artists burst like bombshells across the stage in the radical and complete change. It was the fine example of a new kind of ballet.

Magnetic personalities rolled "Oklahoma" into its mixture of story, music, lyrics, dances, settings and striking costumes. They included Ralph Lowe as Curley, Jerry Mann as Al Hakim, Victor Friffin as Will Parker and Jacqueline Daniels as Ado Annie Carnes.

The cheering festival evolved in wide, handsome sets of bold colors and simple lines. And the gay costumes contributed more to the splashing but non-irritating whirl of brights.

Midlanders saw for themselves the superlative techniques which have enchanted "Oklahoma!" goes for a decade. It was the musical show at its near-best on current theater standards.

EL PASO —(P)— A slight, 31-year-old ex-jockey, who "wanted to get away from it all," was held in $10,000 bail here Saturday on federal bank robbery charges.

Across the border, Mexican police held three men and a woman suspected of being the man's accomplices in the $351 robbery Friday of El Paso's State National Bank.

U. S. Commissioner Henry Clifton identified the ex-jockey as Albert Dennis Holliday, who said he had ridden at all major race tracks for a 12-year period ended in the mid-40's. He said he had been arrested "about a hundred times."

The 120-pound man was nabbed by police as he stepped from the bank door after the noon rush-hour robbery of Teller Eva Jean Knight.

Carried Knife

"He just grinned and admitted the robbery," said Patrolman T. H. Hart, who with another officer made the arrest. "We found the knife and $351 in the man's pocket when we searched him," Hart added.

Earlier, police said Holliday, who said he turned to banditry "to get away from it all," had attempted to rob another bank.

The bandit was armed with a butcher knife. A brown bag had been handed to Robert H. Jones, assistant cashier at the Southwest National Bank. Jones found a crudely penciled note ordering him to "hand over the money."

"I looked up and saw the man holding a knife in his hand, partly covered by his shirt," Jones related. "He told me that he had a friend with him who had two guns. I was so surprised that I walked to the back of the cage, and then kept walking. The bandit kept pace with me outside the cage and went on out the door."

Cab Number Noted

Other bank employees noted the cab number as the man entered in front of the bank. Police quickly blanketed the downtown area and the vehicle was spotted near the State National Bank. Inside, Miss Knight said a man handed her a note which read:

"There are two guns on you . . . Give me all the money . . . You will be lucky if you follow orders and don't get hurt."

UN Assembly Due To Bring No New Decisions On Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(P)—Prospects faded Saturday night for any dramatic Western proposals on Korea in the UN General Assembly session opening Tuesday. Lester B. Pearson dropped a hint the Assembly may take no further step at all just now on the Korean War.

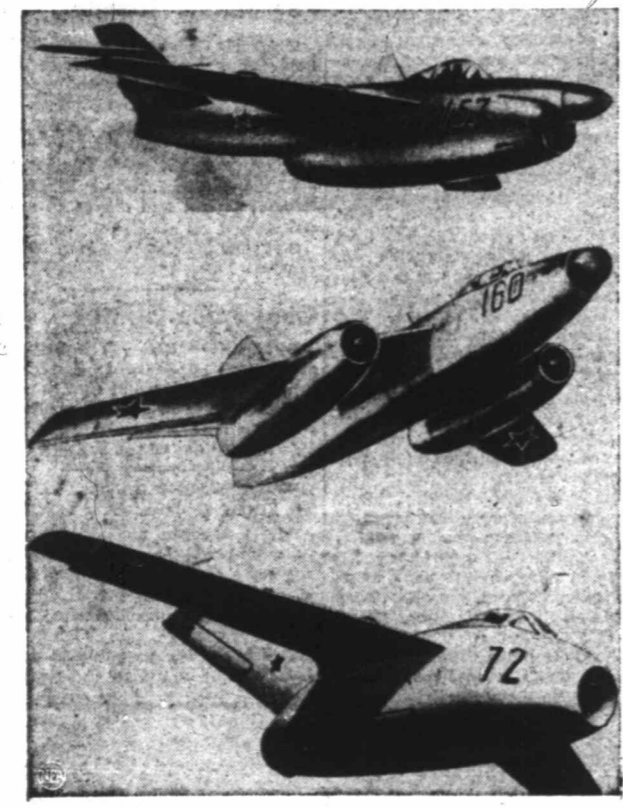

The Canadian foreign secretary, who is president of the Assembly, said in a recorded UN program broadcast by CBS that the Indian truce resolution adopted by the UN in December and rejected by the Communists still was the starting point for any further Korean move.

Then he added: "It might well be that the Assembly will decide that they have taken a very important step last Autumn in the Indian resolution and that, insofar as Korea is concerned, no further step at this time is required; but I don't know about that because I don't know what the views of the various delegations are. I know they will all be anxious in some way to bring the fighting to an end."

Pearson also commented that, in talk about a possible blockade of Red China, the fact was sometimes forgotten that UN members still are bound by an embargo they voted in 1950 "to prevent arms and strategic materials reaching those whom we have determined to be the aggressors."

That was when Miss Knight fainted.

Holliday told police he hitchhiked to El Paso from Calexico, Calif., three days ago. His last appearance at a big track, he said, was in Winnipeg, Canada. Recently he had ridden horses in races at Yuma, Ariz., and other small tracks in the border country.

Some Savings, Loan Groups Boost State Dividend Rates

Depositors in a number of Texas savings and loan associations will get higher dividend checks.

Several such companies in the state have hiked dividend rates recently and the president of one says this is in line with a national trend.

Two Waco savings and loan associations Saturday announced dividend increases from two and one-half to three per cent, retroactive to last January 1. They are the Pioneer Savings Association and the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, with total deposits of 11 million dollars.

A similar boost in dividend rates—from two and one-half to three per cent—has been made by Houston associations. Randon Porter, president of Houston's Gibraltar Savings & Building Association, noted, "The national trend is higher. The Federal Reserve Board has its bonds."

Similar dividend boosts either have been effected or are planned at Galveston and Fort Worth.

Corpus Christi reported savings-loan companies there increased dividend rates to three per cent two years ago.

30 Top Jewish Red Leaders In Hungary Said Purge Victims

VIENNA, AUSTRIA—(P)—Thirty top Jewish Communists in Hungary were reported Saturday night either to have committed suicide or otherwise fallen victim to a purge dictated by a visiting Russian group.

The advices came from diplomatic and usually reliable unofficial sources, who presented them as not fully confirmed but the best available information from the neighboring Communist nation.

The same sources reported a growing economic crisis in Hungary, long lines of persons before bread stores and the threat of real hunger later in the spring. By their accounts.

The 30 Jewish Communists were removed one way or another from their high posts by a group of Russian purgers who arrived in Budapest several weeks ago. They were rumored sent because fully 90 per cent of the top officials of the Hungarian Communist regime are Jews, including Premier Matyas Rakosi.

The 30 allegedly were "suspected Zionists" and, throughout the East European Soviet bloc, communism has been attacking Jews suspected of the slightest sympathy for Israel.

Some of the group killed themselves others disappeared, some were arrested and some were executed by firing squads.

Heart Fund Nets $3,500 In Week

Midland's Heart Fund netted $3,500 during its first week—but workers will go for high score this, the final week of the campaign.

Duke Jimeron, chairman of the drive, credited the eye-catching Block of Dollars and the Midland High Half-Timers with sparking greatest interest in the drive.

Heart fund workers were in front of the Post Office early Saturday morning starting a chain of dollar bills they hoped would stretch around the block. The string was mended to Main Street before it had a chance to complete its circle. The Block of Dollars brought in about $400—$300 in four hours—before it ended, Jimeron said. He said the dollars would start their trek again around the block Monday morning.

The Half-Timers got almost $300 as they moved through the Saturday crowds. There were five teams of Half-Timers who pressed the campaign and vied for top donations. Winning team will be announced, Jimeron said, as soon as all of the results had been turned in and counted.

Volunteer workers spent the week soliciting donations in business houses and like areas. Their returns made up the remainder of the $3,500.

Jimeron said there were several workers who had not yet turned in their contribution kits and many contacted by direct mail who had not answered. He urged workers and those who had not given to turn in their donations at the Heart Fund office as soon as possible. Receipt of this money, he said, would boost the total figure considerably.

There has been no definite goal for Midland. Jimeron said it will be up to the givers to determine that goal. National mark is $100,000. Funds will be used in Midland County and in many research hospitals.

Eisenhower Hammers Away Toward Free Economy Goal

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON — (AP) — In one eventful month the Eisenhower team brought to Washington a clear-cut economic policy, got it rolling in a hurry, and already is defending it from attack.

Day by day, the policy was not easy to discern. Some big things happened hind-end-to, or without advance notice or later explanation. A few slipups occurred.

But looking back—about 30 days in which wage control was killed, price ceilings jerked from all but 17 per cent of living cost items, thousands of federal workers fired, the federal wage lines offered for sale, easing of controls of stock market speculation, and a new Treasury policy launched—a pattern emerges.

The expressed goal of President Eisenhower is a stable economy, not dependent upon continuous inflation for prosperity but relying for growth on private initiative operating in a free market and a friendly governmental climate.

The guiding star is a balanced budget. Eisenhower advisers are almost fanatic on the point because the success of many of their planning depends on it.

So Ike disappointed many Republicans in Congress—those who had promised tax reduction — by stating flatly:

A budget balance must be in sight before tax revenues are reduced.

So far there is no assurance he can put his program over. On the tax issue and on farm policy he has run into opposition and the threat of congressional rebuke. The Spring honeymoon obviously will have its battles.

But since inauguration day the Ike-men, by deeds and a minimum of words, have indicated two broad avenues of approach to their new economic policy.

First is withdrawal of the government from its position as third man between buyer and seller, tenant and landlord, union and management, producer and consumer.

Price ceilings, which covered half of all items in the cost-of-living index a month ago, have been dropped in batches. All will be gone in another month. Wage and salary ceilings are memories. Rent control dies on April 30 except—if Congress concurs—in defense housing critical areas.

Farmers have been told that crop price supports should be viewed as "disaster insurance."

When farm-state congressmen protested and Democrats scented a fat issue for the 1954 campaign, Secretary of Agriculture Benson specified he hadn't meant that agriculture must slip to the brink of disaster before the government acts. But Benson didn't back down on his basic idea. Underlining his point that government's role should be to help farmers help themselves, he advised them to plant five acres of a crop this Spring if they planted six last year. Otherwise, he said top heavy surpluses will accelerate the serious farm price decline and ultimately bring on rigid controls.

There was no reason given for the Federal Reserve Board action easing controls on stock market speculation. But it appeared to be part of the Administration's tendency toward a freer economy governed by anti-inflation monetary controls.

The margin requirement for stock deals was cut from 75 to 50 per cent, the pre-Korea level.

That made it easier to speculate on borrowed money. But the board already had made it harder to borrow or get credit. So the effect of easing the margin requirement was watered down before the action was taken.

Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge promptly decreed an austerity policy for government building and hiring. The White House decision to end wage and salary control which was kept secret for some reason, became known when 2,000 workers, the entire staff of two agencies, were sent dismissal notices.

Throughout Washington, newly arrived businessmen with no interest in building bureaucratic empires are combing their departments to find offices, services and personnel which can be eliminated.

Some of this looks ruthless and some of it plainly has political moxie. It hasn't helped the morale of the civil servants to hear their department head, for instance, announce his plans to prune away "deadwood and poison ivy." But the pruning, if not reckless or overhasty, can save the taxpayers money.

So far Congress is cooperating with enthusiasm. The first supplemental money bill to reach the House called for $2,300,000,000. It emerged Thursday as $25,000,000. The Defense Department was told to pay salary-increases, which had been authorized by the Democratic Congress, out of such other funds as might be available.

Cosy Gatherings

Hundreds of basketball players and fans were forced to spend Friday night in gymnasiums. Most of a wedding party of 55 spent the night with a newly-married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Lyne, in a church in Hayward, Minn.

A Great Northern train was stalled four hours near Grove City, Minn. Many travelers found shelter in theaters, service stations, farm houses and fire stations.

Snow-blocked roads in Northwestern Iowa, where drifts ranged up to 10 feet, were being reopened rapidly. Scores of marooned automobiles still were on roads and in ditches, but the motorists managed to reach farms and towns on foot.

A north wind biting into dry Texas soil whipped up dust which reduced visibility to between four and six miles at San Angelo, Cotulla, Laredo, Del Rio and Wink.

Temperatures dropped below freezing again Saturday night and early Sunday over much of the state, then were expected to warm up slightly Sunday afternoon. The weather man said it's not supposed to snow anywhere in the state during the weekend.

Government Clerks Charged In Making Phoney $10 Bills

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Secret Service agents Saturday arrested a Department of Agriculture employe who, they said, started etching nature studies and wound up engraving counterfeit $10 bills.

Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman named him as Martin T. Storey, 47, of nearby Oxon Hill, Md.

Arrested with Storey was a clerk in his office, Mary Watson, 55, of Washington, who has served the government 23 years.

The two were released on bond after arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Archie Meatyard in Silver Spring, Md.

Storey posted $2,000 bond, entered no plea and waived a preliminary hearing. Miss Watson, who put up $500 bond, pleaded innocent.

Officer Convicted Of Breaking Army Censorship Rules

FORT MEADE, MD. — (AP) — Col. Melvin B. Voorhees, former Army censor, was convicted Saturday of evading Army censorship.

A jury of seven colonels convicted Voorhees on three charges of failing to submit manuscripts for review in advance of publication.

He also was found guilty of disobeying an order to withdraw a manuscript from a publisher.

After deliberating an hour, the court fixed the penalty at dismissal from the service and forfeiture of pay and allowances due.

The trial of the 50-year-old former editor of the Tacoma Times was nearing the end of its second week when the case went to the court.

Voorhees got in trouble with his top brass over a book, "Korean Tales," which he wrote after serving as chief censor for the Eighth Army in Korea.

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Big-time crook Floyd Hill, charged in a sensational $248,000 robbery here, and two bush-league badmen remained at large Saturday after their smashing break from the Tarrant County Jail three nights ago.

Seven other men who escaped with Hill already were back in jail. One was caught 30 minutes after the break. Three were caught when their automobile was wrecked in Southeast Texas, near the Louisiana line.

The other three were captured in Nashville, Ark., in another automobile mishap. The latter trio was

Navy Research Unit Blows Up; Two Air Fuel Experts Killed

NEWARK, N. Y. — (AP) — A small plant doing secret Navy research blew up in a thunderous explosion Saturday, killing two aircraft fuel experts and injuring at least five other men.

Some 11 other plants in a packed industrial block suffered an estimated one million dollars damage in the blast.

A one and one-half story brick structure sitting atop a steel superstructure at the end of a double row of small factories and housing the Nitro Form Company was demolished.

Richard W. Mahoney, 26, of Elizabeth, a partner in the firm which authorities said was experimenting in new secret types of aircraft fuel for the Navy, was one of those killed by the blast.

The second man killed was another partner in the small firm, Edwin C. Kraemer of Caldwell, chief chemistry clerk in the Newark College of Engineering. His body was found a few hours after the blast, lying nude under a heap of rubble.

The FBI was investigating the explosion.

Civil Defense Heads To See A-Bomb Blasts

WASHINGTON — (AP) — State Civil Defense officials will see for themselves what an atom bomb can do to ordinary homes when the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department fire a test weapon at the Nevada Proving Grounds next month.

In addition to civil defense and other observers, newsmen will be permitted to witness the test.

This was done during the Spring series of tests in Nevada last year.

SPORTS PARLEY: Of Indians' Park, Pacts and Practice

By CHARLEY ESKEW
A new ball park in Midland! That was the proposal put before the city council last week and it provides the big news for fans and baseball officials alike these days.

The town's baseball association, headed by President Marion Flynt, long has sought a new field as the present one became less and less equal to the demands. Now, with the All-Star game coming here, with the Indians the main Summer entertainment for Midland, and with attendance growing, everyone awaits the council's study of the issue.

Flynt estimated a new park would cost between $60,000 and $70,000 and could be built in time to complete the final two-thirds of the season.

Several members of the council expressed themselves as "being for it."

That was the top news of baseball here this week, but there was much else in the wind:

For instance, Eddie Jacome sat—or rather ran around—in his home town, Tucson, Ariz., and made a topic for talk in Midland. He's on record as being the first Indian to start jogging and whipping into shape for the season.

It was for a dual purpose that the steady right-hander opened individual drills February 15, as he wrote this week to Manager Jay Haney: "I'm getting in shape to pitch against the Tokyo Giants February 28 for the Tucson All-Stars."

The Giants are an all-star team from Japan on a tour of the United States under Steve O'Neill's direction. Their first game is against Tucson.

"Alex Kellner (of the Philadelphia A's) usually pitches against them but he went to training camp early."

The Midland hurler was chosen to take Kellner's place: "I'm going to start and Dave Hoskins (Dallas-Cleveland negro pitcher) will follow me," Jacome explained. Eddie said he was training hard so he would look good at home where he hasn't pitched since he was an all-stater athlete in high school. And the other purpose was to be ready when Midland opens Spring training in Fredericksburg, March 23.

Jacome will return to Midland General Manager Horace Busby said Saturday, where he will team up with most of the players who live in the West and from here travel to Spring training as a group.

They gather here March 22 and go by bus.

At Fredericksburg, the Indians' headquarters will be the Nimble Hotel, founded by the grandparents of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz.

The nearest thing to a holiday Indian players will have after drills begin is a layover in Austin after playing the Pioneers of the Big State League April 3.

Manager Haney ordered April 4 for a holiday—a busman's holiday—for the club to attend Austin's encounter with the touring Chicago White Sox. His command called for the Indians to pick up pointers from the major leaguers. Haney, incidentally, is fighting off a case of influenza that has kept him inside for two weeks. . . .

His predecessor here, Zeke Bonura, Indian skipper in 1951 and part of 1952, meanwhile was celebrating his new job as manager of the Fargo-Moorhead, N. D., team in the Class C Northern League. Bonura replaces Danny Litwhiler who moved to Wilkes-Barre, N. Y. of the Class A Eastern League. . . .

Meanwhile, in player transactions this week, the Indians reported one-up, one-down in dealings: Ralph Blair, a pitcher, became the ninth player signed while the club gave Bruce (Gaby) Blumenthal his release.

Blair, a righthander, told Busby by telephone call from hometown Guthrie, Okla., that he was ready for training and had returned his contract all signed.

Blair is a plankholder in the Longhorn League having pitched in the inaugural year, 1947, with the Indians and sticking until 1950 when called into service.

He is a veteran player but since he is returning from the Army he will be carried in the new National Defense Serviceman classification.

Blumenthal, whose home is in New York state, pitched here in 1951 and 1952. He maintained a wintertime job in Midland and was around to tell a reporter that he plans to continue in baseball. The righthander worked but 26 innings last season and was tagged with three losses.

Another player, Outfielder-Fitcher Glen Sebo, will be in Midland Monday to talk contract with Indian officials. He currently is a high school teacher and junior high coach in Sonora. . . .

Jim Prince, 1947 leader in minor league hitting as an Indian is a holdout for this year. The big first baseman had announced plans to come off the club's voluntary retirement list after a year's lay-off.

TAAF Cage Meet Set Here In March

Engineers To Defend 1952 Title

The Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce Saturday announced its Texas Amateur Athletic Federation district basketball tournament and said from 10 to 14 teams were expected for the March 3-7 elimination.

Those quintets will be bidding to join the Rotary Engineers, 1952 champions, at the state TAAF championships in Temple, March 13-14.

Rotary, the host team after its last year's victory, automatically will return to the state meet, Phil Pickman, head of the tourney committee of the sponsoring Jaycees, said.

Pickman said any team in District 24 of the TAAF is eligible to compete, providing its players and team come under the jurisdiction of the federation.

Within the district are Big Spring, McCamey, Big Lake, Montahana, Kermit, Wink, Andrews, Seminole, Garden City, Pecos, Rankin, Odessa and Midland; in each the Jaycees have published announcements of the meet.

Pickman said that many of the smaller towns would enter a team while four or five are expected from Midland and two or three from Big Spring and Odessa.

"Every team in each of the town's city leagues is eligible to compete here," Pickman said.

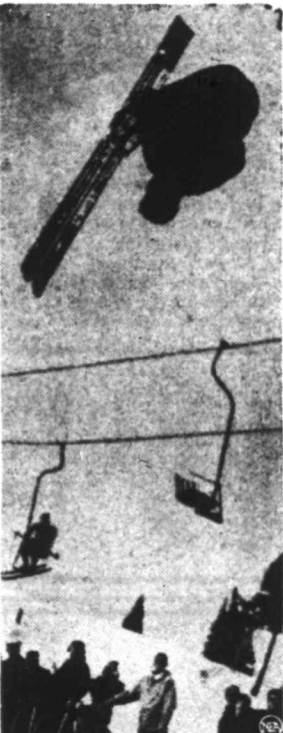

Play At Cowden Gym

The site for the tourney will be Cowden gym, where Midland City League clubs are playing out their final games Friday.

Tentatively a three-games-a-night schedule is being worked up for the district meet and it will run four nights, the first Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights in March.

Pickman said that an entrance fee will be charged each club and an admission fee for fans. "That's to defray costs of trophies for the winners and runner-up and to provide expenses for the teams to compete in Temple."

The Rotary Engineers, currently unbeaten Midland City League leaders, loom as the top-seeded team for the tourney. They have won six league games besides 13 outside decisions, against four losses.

1-AAAA Deadlocked

District 1 of Class AAA ended up in a five-way tie which required a playoff. Tying were Lamesa, Plainview, Sweetwater, Vernon and Snyder. District 3, Texarkana District 4, Temple District 5, South Park (Beaumont) District 6, Edison (San Antonio) District 7 and Alice District 8, Paris and Texarkana open their playoff at Texarkana Monday night, Temple and South Park start their series at Beaumont Tuesday night while Edison and Alice play at Alice Tuesday night in their first game.

Alamo Heights, San Antonio, the state champion of Class AAA last year, was eliminated in the district race. Alamo Heights beat Poly in the Division I playoff last Winter.

Bowie, champion of Class AA, is back with a record of 29 straight victories, including a decision over Poly. Dimmitt is back to defend the Class A title and Big Sandy returns in Class B. Bowie, Dimmitt and Big Sandy must hurdle the regional playoffs this week, however.

Last Winter, Dimmitt beat Bowie for the Division 2 title. There was no playoff for Class B.

This year there will be no division playoffs. There will be five state champions and it will remain that way.

Al McGuire, scrappy guard on the New York Knickerbockers in the NBA, was noted as a football player when he attended St. John's Prep.

CAGE OFFICIALS TO MEET HERE

Pampa and Bowie of El Paso school officials will meet in Hotel Scharbauer at noon Sunday to decide upon a schedule for their bi-district playoff series.

Pampa won District 1-AAAA while Bowie took the title in 2-AAAA. The playoff winner qualifies for the March 5-7 State tournament in Austin.

The Pampa School will be represented here by its coach, Clifford McNeely, and superintendent, Knox Kinard.

Sweetwater, Lamesa Both Want Team

ABILENE—(AP)—Longhorn League President Hal Sayles said Saturday a Sweetwater group may seek the baseball franchise returned to the league Friday by A. C. Gonzales.

O. O. Hollingsworth, director in the Sweetwater club before it was sold to Gonzales, told Sayles his group probably will ask the league to return the franchise to Sweetwater.

Gonzales had moved the franchise, operated last year in Sweetwater, to Lamesa. He said he let the franchise go after unsuccessful negotiations on certain guarantees from the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

Lamesa fans meet Monday night to determine whether that city will form a group to try to retain the franchise.

Sayles will be present at the Lamesa mass meeting to discuss possibilities for acquiring a team. Lamesa, in 1952, was a member of the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Bulldog Gridders Adopt Own Rules For Spring Drills

Midland High School football players, working now in Spring practice, ended their first week of drills by voting unanimously to adopt a set of their own training rules and asking the coaches to enforce them.

The team completed the first six sessions with a scrimmage Saturday, after weeklong drills and some contact work with the Bulldogs' new T-formation offense.

In a player meeting, the gridders set their own training standards, such as their eating regimen, ban on smoking and what hours to maintain, subject to the coaches' approval. With unanimous backing, the team asked the coaches to order any player breaking them to turn in his uniform.

The move was encouraging to the coaches. Head Coach Tugboat Jones said the move meant "the boys not wanting to train are not going to be on the team. Those who do will be more ready to play."

The Bulldogs signed a pledge to follow the rules throughout Spring and during the Fall session.

In practice sessions last week, Coach Jones stressed offense to familiarize the team with the T. He put Willie Brooks up from the B-team. Jimmy Mashburn, Larry Sapp and Bill Mims in to work as the man-usher.

Coach Jones ran his A squad through scrimmages each day, although "I haven't picked two backfields as yet."

Coach Jones pronounced the first week of drills a good start. "I'm happy with the progress so far," he said. "The boys are taking to the T with lots of enthusiasm."

At the start of Spring training, he said that Midland was changing formations (from single wing) to make the most of the talent available for the team.

Alpine Earns Regional Bid

McCAMEY—Alpine's Bucks turn next to meeting Abernathy in the opening round of the Region 1 championships after whisking by Crane, 47-31, here Friday night in a playoff for the District 8-A title.

Both teams finished their 8-A schedules with 15-1 records and met here to pick a representative to the regionals at Lubbock. Abernathy, champion in District 3, awaited the winner for a 11:30 a.m. bout February 27, in the first round of the Lubbock meet.

The first day game saw both teams hold leads throughout, but Alpine was on top at each quarter's end: 10-7, 17-13 and 28-26.

Cowboy Robinson led Alpine with 19 points while Carl Davis hit 15 for Crane.

Other Class A teams already entered at Lubbock are Denver City, Wylie, Dimmitt, Abernathy, Alpine, Ozona and McLean.

Andrews of District 8-AA will meet Childress at 2:45 p.m. in the opening Class AA regional game, running concurrently at Lubbock. Other AA teams so far are Stamford and Spur.

Crockett Triumphs In Lone Elementary Basketball Tilt

Deciding the Midland elementary cage title had to await a better day—Tuesday, the coaches hoped—after three games were postponed Friday because of cold weather.

Two teams, however, went ahead and closed their seasons, but with little bearing on the race: Coach Charles Hodge's Crockett quintet nudged Terminal, 18-9, to assure it of a tie for fourth place.

At the same time, the unbeaten Sam Houston team at second place West, North at DeZavala and Lamar at South games were called off because of gusty, cold weather.

Sam Houston needs a win over West to gain an undisputed title. West has won five and lost one, the same as DeZavala and a win for both of these would throw top trio into a tie.

The coaches indicated that no play-off has been planned in case of a deadlock.

The home team coaches Friday—Ken Sewell of West, Chalmers Burke of DeZavala and Dan Goodson of South—all said their postponed games were being reset for Tuesday, or if necessary, Wednesday, weather permitting.

Terminal's loss Friday was its seventh straight while Crockett scored its third win in seven tries for a cinch finish in fourth place.

In a girls volleyball duel accompanying the boys game, Crockett won two straight games over Terminal.

Thurman McGraw, 235-pound tackle for the Detroit Lions, was the Mountain State Conference heavyweight wrestling champ as a collegian at Colorado A&M.

Three Teams Press Jewelers For Lead In Women's Bowling

That hot wind blowing down the necks of Kruger Jewely bowlers may feel good in these cold days but it doesn't leave them in a comfortable position atop the Women's Bowling League.

For it comes from three teams in heated pursuit of the league-lead Neely Agency and Schlitz were in a second place deadlock before while Troy Cleaners whipped the Jewelers in two of three games last week to join the runners-up.

Neely took the measure of Airway Cash Grocery and Schlitz put down I. W. Hynd Company, both by two of three games.

Other results: Miller High Life stopped West Texas Office Supply and Midland Office Machine Company nudged House of Beauty, also by 2-1 margins.

I. Robinson rolled the high game, 170, and the high series, 454, among the individuals. Airway Cash Grocery took team game honors with 597 but yielded to Neely Agency in the high team series, 1827.

The standings:

Team	W	L
Kruger Jewely	39	27
Neely Agency	37	29
Troy Cleaners	37	29
West Texas Office Supply	32	34
Schlitz	27	29
Miller High Life	35	31

Balanced MHS Team Gets Ready For Races

Twenty-two Midland High Trackmen, forming around five lettermen, make the Bulldogs "stronger than last year" as they drill this week for Thursday's first competition.

Coach Edwin Nixon, who put the MHS track and field contenders into exercise several weeks ago, said his club "is better balanced and stronger this year."

The 1952 unit finished second to state champion Odessa in the district meet. At the helm were Roy Kimsey, quarter-mile champion, Terry Fugler, district pole vault winner, and Robert Keisling, runner-up at Odessa in the hurdling events.

Those three seniors; Bill Mims, a junior runner and quarter-miler, and Roddy Braun, senior dash man, provide the letter-winning experience on the Bulldog team.

Three of the five, however, won't reach top condition until after Thursday's duel at Odessa with the host Broncho team and Andrews. Mims, Keisling and Kimsey just reported to track workouts last week after completing the season as basketball players.

That first meet, anyway, is scheduled not so much as a bitterly-contested event, Coach Nixon explained, as it is to provide a chance for the boys to become acquainted with competition. None of the tracksters will be pressed this time—that comes several weeks later.

Midland at that time tackles its first meet, the Border Olympics, March 13-14, beginning six straight weeks of entering invitational meets and district as a team.

Coach Nixon's pet project now is whipping his defending champion mile relay foursome back into shape for coming meets. Kimsey, who won third place at a quarter-miler at the state meet, anchors the team and is joined by Mims, a member of last year's quartet in heading the event.

So far Nixon has Kimsey, Mims, Braun, Keisling, and Dale Jobe

Borger Will Stay In WT-NM League; No Sale Planned

BORGER—(P)—Borger will remain in the West Texas-New Mexico League and no sale of the club is now contemplated.

Uncertainty over the franchise arose two months ago when the club was put up for sale. But D. M. Spector, principal owner of the franchise and president, said baseball fans here were proving to him that they will cooperate with the chamber of commerce committee which has been conducting an advance sale of season tickets.

Lloyd Brown again will be playing manager of the club but Gus Oberhaus, Borger business man, will be the executive vice-president and general manager, succeeding Abe Latman, who resigned.

working the mile-relay baton between them.

The 22 trackmen out are Dick Spencer, Jobe, Ken Schrum, Jimmy Hicks, David Moody, Leroy Bender, Don Evans, Bob Mace, Jimmy Spenser, Keys Curry, Harvey Deimer, Lee Wood, Lionel Crish, Larry Palmer, Don Stringer, Paul Moran, Fugler, Kimsey, Keisling, Mims, Jimmy Watson and Braun out for his team.

Coach Nixon expects the squad to grow to 25 or 26 at the completion of the current Spring football drills.

The Bulldogs are loaded with sprinters, although none are exceptionally speedy as yet, some are definitely promising. Leading dashmen are Braun and Watson, a sophomore, with these in the race for positions in the meets: Kimsey, Dick Spenser, Schrum, Hicks and Bender. Kimsey, Braun, Dick Spenser and Watson so far form the Bulldogs' spring relay team.

Afield, Keisling and Moody enter the high jump; Keisling, Mims, Wood and Crisp the shot put; Hicks and Moody the broad jump; and Palmer, Fugler and Stringer the pole vault, besides Keisling in the hurdles.

Evans Mace, Jimmy Spenser and Curry are the corps of mile runners, with Curry and Deimer bidding in the 800.

Here's the Bulldog schedule (not including a tentative duel with Odessa March 3):

February 26—Duel with Andrews and Odessa at Odessa; March 13-14—Border Olympics at Laredo; March 20-21—West Texas Relays at Odessa; March 27-28—Bluebonnet Relays at Brownwood; April 4—Big Spring Relays at Big Spring; April 10-11—District meet at Odessa; April 18—Ablene Relays at Abilene; April 25—Regional meet at Lubbock.

SOME DAYS ARE MATCHLESS—

MHS Netters Find Keeping To Slate Almost Impossible

Midland High School's tennis team is finding that to play a heavy Spring schedule is a trial, a constant revision of opponents, and a rugged job, in view of the weather. Coach Frank Ford, whose team was forced to postpone a trip to Snyder Saturday, has his troubles:

His first match of the season was with Odessa in December—drawn up on a moment's notice.

Next, construction of two courts here kept the Bulldogs from action until January 24, and, to catch up, they played both Clyde and Abilene in a double-header.

Midland, afterwards, whipped Abilene, 9-7, a second time and lost to San Angelo in boys matches, 9-1, which for a change went according to the card.

But then—Odessa was slated to appear here February 11 and a gusty day caused postponement. The next day, Colorado City failed to show up for a duel. Then, on February 13 (Friday the thirteenth, mind you), the rescheduled Odessa sets were called off because of matchless bad weather.

With luck, however, Midland tackled San Angelo (losing 13-8) and beat Pote, 7-5, last week, according to the timetable. Odessa even showed up for a 6-3 triumph Thursday. Ford's luck looked good, although darkness stopped two of his Pote matches after Bulldogs were leading and hustling winds blew out No. 3 and 4 matches against Odessa.

So what happened? Snyder called off the Saturday set there—its coach is head of the basketball team involved in an entangled district race.

That was enough to make Ford revise his schedule.

Pampa Took Crown—It's In The Book

The men who know basketball best—the coaches—proved a point when they selected Pampa as the team to beat in pre-District 1-AAAA polling.

Pampa won—going away. Only Amarillo gave the Harvesters a battle. The final statistics show the Pampa team, unbeaten in 23 games overall, as the leader in both offense and defense through 14 district games. Coach Clifton McNeely's league champions tallied 906 points, a 64.7 average, to opponents' 685, a 48.9 mark.

The second best offensively was second place Amarillo with 892 points while yielding but 728.

Pampas' Jimmy Bond tallied 304 points as the individual scoring champion, edging ahead of Lubbock's Garry Thomas during the last week of the campaign. Thomas had a 293 total.

Midland, which finished last with 14 straight setbacks, had one representative among the top 15 scorers. The player, Bob Keisling, finished eleventh with 151 points.

Bowden Wyatt Plans Changing Hog Attack In Spring Training

FAYETTEVILLE, ARK.—(P)—Arkansas will open Spring football training Wednesday with a new coach and a new formation.

Seventy-seven candidates are expected to greet Bowden Wyatt as he makes his bow into Southwest Conference football. Wyatt comes here from Wyoming to succeed Otis Douglas and becoming the twenty-first coach at Arkansas in 60 years.

Wyatt will bring the Tennessee single-wing style to supplant Douglas' split T and Arkansas will be the only wingback team in the conference.

There will be 30 lettermen, two of them from 1951, among the candidates but the backfield will represent a most thorough overhauling job. Not only has Arkansas lost the services of Law Carpenter, Buddy Sutton, Larry Hoque, Murray Elton, Dean Pryor and Johnny Cole, but the creation of wingback, blocking and tailback positions under the single wing means a re-adaptation for the players who are returning.

Increasing Problems Snarl Olympic Plans In Melbourne

SYDNEY—(P)—New problems have cropped up to plague Melbourne's Olympic Committee and loosen the city's shaky hold on the 1956 games.

The feeling here is that if these additional snarls aren't straightened out quickly along with the other thorny issues, Melbourne could very well lose the world's outstanding athletic competitions when the International Olympic Committee meets in Mexico City April 17.

Among the new developments adding new wrinkles to the brows of the organizing committee are:

1. The Victorian Branch of the Labor Party has attacked the planned site for the Olympic swimming pool as a "filch" of public park lands.

2. The airing of the fact that Australian quarantine laws permit horses only from Britain and New Zealand to enter Australian without a six month quarantine period in England. That would just about wipe out the equestrian competition.

3. The decision of the Victorian Swimming Association not to permit Hironoshin Furuhashi, Japan's famed swimmer, to appear in any exhibitions. Furuhashi is here to study wool classing.

The Furuhashi ban is expected to have strong repercussions at Mexico City. There is still strong anti-Japanese feeling in some quarters and that's the reason he has not been permitted to perform.

However, executives of the prisoner of war associations have deplored the ban. They have pointed to the hospitality shown by the Japanese in the past year to Australian swimmer John Marshall and to Olympic sprint Champion Marjorie Jackson.

Meanwhile, arrangements for housing the athletes have not advanced any, nor have plans for the construction of an athletic stadium at the Melbourne Cricket Ground. The building of an Olympic village and a track and field stadium are the two biggest undertakings for any city host to the games.

Cleveland Manager Eyes Dick Aylward, Key Dallas Catcher

DAYTONA BEACH, FLA.—(P)—Cleveland Manager Al Lopez is carefully watching Dick Aylward of Dallas at the Indian's rookie camp.

With Jim Hegan and Joe Tipton around 325, Lopez always is interested in a catcher who can tag the ball. Aylward can, at least in the Texas League.

Oddly, Aylward, by his own admission, was an absolutely "terrible" hitter for six full seasons in the minors. Then something happened and he hit .385 for Dallas last year.

Lopez considers him a fine receiver, a real "take-charge guy."

second place with a 66, giving him a total of 203. The Argentine champion's six-under-par enabled him to pass North American stars Cary Middlecoff, Lew Worsham, Dave Douglas, Raymond Gafford, Byron Nelson, Tony Holguin and Fred Haas, who now trail in that order.

The final round of the $9,450 tournament on the 6,664-yard 72-par Chapultepec course Sunday could see a new tournament record established.

Locke In Defense Bobby Locke of South Africa won in 1952 with a 266 on another Mexico City course. De Vicenzo in 1951 won on the Chapultepec course with a 275.

Brosch, the Garden City, N. Y., redhead, has a 68-64-67-199 going into the final stretch. Even a par 72 could beat the Chapultepec record. He would have to shoot 66 to beat Locke's mark.

Although his 68 was his poorest of the tournament Brosch said he considered he played his best golf. He said a brisk, chilly wind bothered him on the back nine.

Middlecoff, a dentist from Memphis, Tenn., who is second only to Lloyd Mangrum in earnings of the current winter tour, tied for third with Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., and Douglas of Newark, Del. They had three-day totals 204.

Middlecoff shot a 37-32-69 to gain on Worsham who turned in a 35-35-70. The Oakmont pro was tied for second Friday with Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., who slipped badly Saturday with a 38-36-74.

Nelson, Roanoke, Texas, ranchman, had his best day with a 33-35-68 for a three-day total of 206. Holguin, the San Antonio-born 26-year-old who recently won his hometown's open tournament, shot a one under par 71 for a tournament score of 207 to date. He shot a 69 on Thursday, and a 67 Friday.

Brosch Saturday drew the largest gallery of the day. It was also his first crowd. Despite his initial showing, none of the average daily crowds of about 1,200 had paid much attention to him.

Five Birdies Sunk The New York pro, dressed in dusky red trousers and a pink sports shirt, gave the fans their money's worth. He sank five birdies, one the result of an 18-foot putt on the second.

Brosch almost sank a 40-footer on the tricky 17th. The ball went into the cup and bounced out. He made the hole in par 5.

Split Decision Goes Against De Marco NEW YORK—(AP)—George Araujo was talking title Saturday and Padgy de Marco was screaming "Where's Christenberry?"

Araujo figured he won a shot at Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter Friday night when he grabbed a split decision over De Marco in a Madison Square Garden 10-Rounder.

"Was I hurt? Are you kidding," de Marco shouted. "How's a guy going to hurt me by running 10 rounds." He said Bob Christenberry of the Boxing Commission should reverse the decision as he did the Joey Giardello-Billy Graham verdict before the courts gave it back at last to Giardello.

Araujo did stab and run Friday in the early stages but his accurate counter punching, especially hooks to the body, did pile up points. Often de Marco swarmed inside, head down with both fists flailing to smother a slightly-confused Araujo.

Stretch Drive By Oil Capitol Wins Widener

MIAMI, FLA.—(AP)—Oil Capitol, a stretch-running grey horse, won Hialeah's $100,000 added Widener Handicap Saturday with a tremendous burst of speed that seven other classy thoroughbreds could not match.

Spartan Valor, the favorite at 8-5, and Crafty Admiral, 7-2, raced each other into the dust in the mile and a quarter grid, and Hasby House Farm's Oil Capitol, with Jockey Conn McCreary riding, came on to take the richest purse ever offered for a horse race in Florida.

Alerted Second Hampton Stable's Alerted moved up to take second, a head back of Oil Capitol, and George D. Widener's Battlediel was third, a head behind Alerted.

The whopping crowd of 30,969 was the largest of the season and it poured a record $364,334 on the feature race alone.

Oil Capitol's time for the mile and a quarter test against one of the finest fields ever assembled for a Florida race was 2:02 4-5, on a fast track. The record of 2:01 was set by El Mono in the 1948 Widener.

Oil Capitol returned $120, $50 and $3.80. Alerted, which went off at 15 to 1, paid $120 and $6.10. Battlediel paid $3.90.

NIT Doing Okay Picking Entries

NEW YORK—(AP)—The National Invitation Tournament leads the National Collegiate Athletic Association, four teams to two, in the scramble to corral the nation's top basketball teams for post-season competition.

The NCAA, however, holds an advantage in that it is definitely assured of 13 of the 21 more schools needed to fill the 23-team bracket starting play March 9.

The NIT, with unbeaten and top ranked Seton Hall, defending champion La Salle, Western Kentucky and Manhattan already in the fold, will select eight more for the play opening in Madison Square Garden March 7.

Only one of the NCAA conference championships has been decided. That is Idaho State, Rocky Mountain titleholder which will meet high scoring Seattle in a first round game March 10. Seattle was picked as one of the nine at-large teams which will join the conference titleholders in the NCAA competition.

As Bushnell, chairman of the NIT Selection Committee, said several more invitations have been sent but he declined to name the schools. He added he doesn't expect any more acceptances before Monday.

Anheuser-Busch, Inc., is scheduled to formally take over ownership the day after a March 10 meeting at which stockholders of the brewery are expected to approve the purchase.

Red Raiders Know Offense, Defense

LUBBOCK—(AP)—Learning to play offense and defense could be a major chore for most of Texas Tech's Red Raiders who commence Spring training Monday, but nine have already played both ways in college.

Coach DeWitt Weaver expects 23 returning lettermen for the workouts, which will conclude with an intra-squad game March 20.

Jerry Walker, tackle from Tampa, is the only returning performer who was a consistent starter on both platoons last season.

Upping Bounty In Houston Open Attracts Full House Of Touring Golf Professionals

HOUSTON—(AP)—Strategy behind the Houston Open Golf Tournament's prize money being boosted just three weeks ago to $20,000 is paying off.

The largest and strongest field of competitors in the history of the seven-year-old Houston stop on the Winter tour is expected here this week.

That was the objective when officials of the Houston Golf Association doubled the previously announced $10,000 and placed Houston alongside Los Angeles as having the $20,000 Opens on the Winter tour.

The financially healthy association had nothing to lose anyway. R. E. (Bob) Smith, multi-millionaire old man, had given the $20,000 idea its final push by offering to make up any losses this year and in 1954.

Two $400 Out About the only big names not committed to try for the $4,000 first prize are Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson. Richard Nauta, association president, says he still has hopes, particularly on Nelson.

Such leading money winners as Sammy Snead and Lloyd Mangrum, however, will be making their first Houston appearances since 1949.

Sixty members of the Winter circuit troups are to arrive here Sunday night by chartered plane from the Mexico City Open. About 50 lesser-known players came here after last week's Texas Open at San Antonio, and have been getting early practice over the 7,150-yard, par 72 Memorial Park Course.

The tournament gets under way Thursday and will be limited to 160 players. Only from 50 to 60 spots are expected to be available to an estimated 175 who will take part in Tuesday's qualifying round.

Course Good Robbie Williams, host professional, said Saturday the sprawling course will be in excellent condition barring additional rain.

"Right now it is in the best shape ever," he said. "We've had just enough rain in recent weeks to make the greens near perfect and to prevent the fairways from being too hard."

Williams had good reason to predict 277 as the winning 72-hole score.

A 277 has won each of the three previous Opens played at Memorial.

Bobby Locke started the habit in 1947, Marty Furgol followed in 1951. Last year, Jackie Burke, Jr., thrilled his hometown fans by coming in the winner with the same score.

Texas Takes Lead In SWC

AUSTIN—(AP)—The University of Texas rode into undisputed first place in the Southwest Conference basketball race here Saturday night as the longhorns ran roughshod over the Southern Methodist Mustangs 80-52.

The score was the highest total ever scored by Texas in the 79-game series between the two schools and the widest margin of victory since 1930 when Texas won, 50-14.

The Longhorns scooted off to a fast lead scoring eight points before the Mustangs ever tallied. Texas then moved far out front with ease holding a 38-18 halftime edge. SMU was held to only three field goals during the opening half.

Texas connected on exactly half of its 58 attempted shots while the Mustangs could hit only 18 of 68 attempts.

High point man for the night was Billy Powell with 19 points for Texas, Jack Kastman was high for the Ponies with 15.

Rotary Clips Lions, 82-44

Rotary Engineers cagers maintained their plus-80 points a game scoring average Friday night with a runaway, 82-44 victory over the Lions Club in a City League basketball game.

The triumph left the Engineers with two games remaining and a game margin over the second place JayCees who have won five and lost one. Rotary won six straight.

In another game Friday, Murray Young Motors evened its record at 3-3 with a 64-51 victory over winless Gulf Oil.

Drake hit 18 points for the winners while Burford counted 11 for Gulf. The Motormen led throughout and boasted a 20-14 halftime margin.

Charlie Hoag of Rotary paced his team with 23 but only shared individual honors. Bobby Hallmark mustered 23 for the Lions.

The standings through Friday: Team W L Pct. Rotary Engineers 6 0 1.000. JayCees 5 1 .833. Bentley's 3 3 .500. Murray-Young 3 3 .500. Lions 1 5 .166. Gulf 0 6 .000.

Miners To Play Opener In Alpine

Snow Buries Towns

MODENA, ITALY—(AP)—Four hundred snow shovelers labored Saturday for the third consecutive day to cut paths to the Appennine towns of St. Anna Pelago and Prasinoro, isolated by a 12-foot fall of snow.

The most hits off one pitcher in one game in the majors was 36. They were smacked off John Wadsworth when Louisville was in the National League back in 1894.

Chanlea Wins Famed Derby

ARCADIA, CALIF. (AP)—Chanlea, a gallant young son of Kentucky and money rider Eddie Arco combined talents Saturday to capture the famed $100,000 Santa Anita Derby for the second straight year for the Calumet Farm of the Blue Grass Country.

Chanlea, given one of Arco's most artistic rides, outpointed two amazingly stubborn, longshot foes, Merryman and Correspondent, in a driving finish to the wire to win the $84,500 first money by a nose.

Time for the mile and one-eighth was good—1:49 4-5.

Chanlea rewarded the "Bet Calumet" backers with $7, $3.80 and $3.40. Merryman paid $12.80 and $8.70, and Correspondent $7.40.

TRAFFIC STOPPER—President Eisenhower, taking time off from his official duties, spent 45 minutes practicing his golf game on the back lawn of the White House Thursday. Scores of passers-by lined the iron fence some distance away to watch. Some of them left their cars in the street. The session did not end until after the 5 p.m. rush hour got under way and some traffic congestion resulted.

Ralph Higgins, track coach at Oklahoma A&M, will handle the university, college, junior college and prep school - freshman divisions. Youthful Ralph Tate, coach of the defending high school team champion from Stillwater, Okla., will referee the schoolboy class.

UT Steer Gridders Look Unimpressive

AUSTIN (AP)—The University of Texas went through its first public exhibition of Spring training here with the White scud defeating the Orange, 32-0, in an unimpressive display.

Extreme cold and absence of many of the team's outstanding performers due to injury made any sort of evaluation impossible.

First half of the drill was a scoreless affair with an unusually high number of fumbles. Not until about midway in the scrimmage was there any offensive spark.

Coach Ed Price shifted personnel back and forth on both units.

Lions, Giants Renew Exhibition Football Tilt In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—The Detroit Lions and the New York Giants will play an exhibition pro football game in Dallas' Cotton Bowl the night of August 28.

The game will rematch such Texas pro footballers as Oak Walker and Bobby Layne of the Lions and the Giants' Kyle Rote and Fred Benner.

SMU's New Coach To Arrive Sunday, May Choose Aides

Woodard is due to arrive from McPherson, Kan., where he is coach of McPherson College, at 1:45 p.m. coming in by plane. A press conference is scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

Woodard succeeds H. N. (Rusty) Russell, who resigned under pressure.

The new coach probably will make a decision on who his assistant coaches will be and also map plans for spring training March 2.

Reese H. Tucker has been elected a director of Cities Service Oil Company of Delaware following a recent board of directors meeting held in Bartlesville, Okla. Tucker is manager of the Land and Geological division of the company. He first joined Cities Service in 1930 as a junior engineer.

Two personnel changes in the producing department of Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's North Texas-New Mexico division have been announced.

R. M. Leibrock has been named district engineer of the company's Midland district, and R. W. Hines has been made district engineer at Abilene.

Leibrock succeeds J. C. McCarthy, who recently was promoted to division engineer of Stanolind's Rocky Mountain division and transferred to Casper, Wyo. Leibrock joined Stanolind in 1943, immediately after receiving a BS degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Texas. He has been employed in various production engineering capacities in the company's Abilene and Midland districts, and in Stanolind's research laboratory and general office in Tulsa. Prior to his appointment as district engineer in Midland, he was employed in the company's division office in Fort Worth.

Hines joined Stanolind in 1946 as a roustabout in the company's West Edmond area in Oklahoma. He later served in both the Ellinwood and Hugoton areas of Kansas before being transferred to Stanolind's general office in Tulsa. In 1950, he was transferred to Fort Worth, and was employed there in the division office prior to his recent appointment as district engineer in Abilene. Hines received a BS degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Oklahoma in 1943.

Both Leibrock and Hines are veterans of World War II.

The January-February issue of Horizons, publication of Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, features a story about the company's ladsmen in its Midland district.

The feature is complete with pictures of many of Stanolind hands, as well as pictures of Midlanders outside the Stanolind organization.

Recent new discoveries named by the RRC in West Texas are: Auld ((Pennsylvanian Strawn Lime) in Lynn County, found by Hassie Hunt Trust Estate and Dan Auld and others No. 1 J. A. Timmons; Luther, North (Canyon Reef), opened by Pan American Production Company No. 1 Pauline Hamlin in Howard County.

Corrigan, East (Fusselman) field in Terry County, opened by Cities Service Oil Company No. 1-D Starnes; Red Bluff (Delaware), opened in Loving County by Jay H. Floyd No. 1 W. D. Johnson; Penwell (Clear Fork), discovered by Gulf Oil Corporation No. 32-B W. E. Connell; Fort Stockton (Lower Yates) field discovered by Magnolian Petroleum Company No. 1 Mary Jo Delker.

Petroleum Directory Being Distributed By Geological Society

The new 1953 Southwest New Mexico Petroleum Directory, sponsored by the Roswell Geological Society has gone to press and will be available for distribution soon.

This directory is similar to the directory for 1952 and lists personnel in geological, geophysical, land, and engineering departments, and production superintendents and chief clerks working for major companies and independent operators and lease brokers working in Southeast New Mexico. The directory lists the above personnel in the following cities: Artesia, Carlsbad, Eunice, Hobbs, Jal. Loco Hills, Lovington and Roswell.

A comparison between 1952 and 1953 in company listings and personnel shows a big increase for Southeast New Mexico. There was a 13 per cent increase in the number of companies having offices in this area and 17 per cent increase in their personnel. Roswell leads all other oil centers with a gain of 25 per cent in number of companies and a 39 per cent increase in personnel over last year.

The cost of this directory is fifty cents, with all proceeds going to the Roswell Geological Society. Address all requests for directories to the Society, P. O. Box 6732, Roswell, N. M.

Sun Oil President Is To Speak At Joint Meeting In Houston, March 24

HOUSTON—Robert G. Dunlop of Philadelphia, Pa., president of Sun Oil Company, is to address petroleum technologists meeting here during the week of March 23, Morgan J. Davis, president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, has announced.

Dunlop will speak on "The Sinews of Industry" on March 24, at a general session of delegates attending the annual meeting of the Society of Exploration Geophysicists, the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists, and the AAPG. "We are fortunate in obtaining Dunlop as one of the featured speakers at this joint meeting of the three national societies," Davis, a vice president and director of Humble Oil & Refining Company, said. Dunlop is one of the outstanding young executives of the nation's petroleum industry.

Large Attendance
Carleton D. Speed, Jr., Houston independent geologist and oil producer and general chairman of the convention, estimates that some 6,000 members of the three societies will attend the four-day meeting. "The joint convention of these three societies will bring together the greatest collection of skilled pe-roleum exploration personnel ever assembled at any one place and at any time," Speed said. "Geologists from at least 15 foreign countries will be in Houston for the convention," he said. Equipment Exhibit

Because of the magnitude of the 1953 joint convention, headquarters will be set up in both the Rice Hotel and the Shamrock Hotel with all meetings to be held in the Houston Coliseum and Music Hall.

Petroleum exploration equipment, covering an estimated 80,000 feet of floor space, will be exhibited in the Coliseum Annex during the convention.

The host societies are the Houston Geological Society, headed by Ray C. Lewis of the Houston Oil Company of Texas, and the Houston Section of SEG, headed by E. J. Shimek of Geophysical Associates.

Severance Orders To Be Issued Wednesday By RRC In Certain WT Oil Fields

Pipeline severance orders will be issued Wednesday to oil well operators in District 8 fields who have failed to comply with the Railroad Commission of Texas' state-wide order No. 8 calling for semi-annual reports on casing head gas production from certain oil fields, said J. L. (Joe) Greer, supervisor of the District 8 office in Midland.

"Semi-annual casing head gas reports are required from oil well operators in fields in which gas-oil ratio survey reports are not required. State-wide rule number 8, requiring the semi-annual reports became effective August 1, 1952, Greer said.

Reports Past Due
"The first reports were due in the RRC office on January 31. Since that was the first day the reports were due, the commission extended the due date until February 21. All the reports still have not been turned in and the severance orders will be issued on Wednesday. Operators failing to get the reports in will have to shut in their wells," Greer said. "It will not be necessary to issue the order to the operators getting in the reports by Wednesday," he added.

The semi-annual casing-head gas reports are to be made on Form 3-266-A.
The next deadline for reports, on production from January 1 through June 30, is July 31.

Fields in District 8 exempt from making the semi-annual casing-head gas production reports are: Abell Byerley; Abell (Clear Fork); Abell, Southeast (Clear Fork); Abell South (Ellenburger); Borden; Campbell (Castile Lime); Canning (Wolfcamp); Crandell; Crossett 3-200; Diamond "M" (San Andres); Dixeland; Durham; Fromme; Germana (Grayburg); Gilvin; Henderson-Pecos; Herrell; Howard-Glasscock.

Ohio Has Expended Large Amounts Of Modernizing And Expanding Facilities

In a four-year period of marked increase in petroleum demand The Ohio Oil Company has spent $140,000,000 in modernizing and expanding its capacity in all phases of its operations, according to J. C. Donnell II, President.

Capital expenditures during the past four years have exceeded $77,000,000 for production alone. Donnell said in a "Four-Year Progress Report" to the New York Society of Security Analysts. Refining, marketing, and pipe line activities have required about $63,000,000 more.

These expenditures have been wholly provided for from earnings he pointed out. Meanwhile dividends have been increased from $2.30 to $3.00 per share, and net working capital has been increased by almost $20,000,000.

Growth To Continue
"Our analysis of conditions in the oil business leads us to conclude that capacity in all phases of the industry now exceeds demands," Donnell added. "We anticipate that the growth in demand for petroleum will continue at a normal rate of between three and five per cent annually, depending upon general business conditions."

Barring additional crises in the international picture, he expressed the belief that forces of supply should tend to dominate those of demand. "Under the circumstances, pressure on petroleum products prices may be anticipated, but we do not expect these pressures to be strong enough next year to affect crude oil prices," he said. "Since The Ohio Oil Company's production for 1953 is expected to increase—perhaps to a new record—and since we believe that we will be able to keep costs in bounds, our earnings in 1953 should compare favorably with those of 1952."

The results of the company's exploration have shown marked improvement in the past four years, Donnell indicated. "As indirect measure of this improvement, our estimated net crude oil and natural gas liquids reserves increased 126,000,000 barrels—from 556,000,000 barrels at the end of 1948 to 682,000,000 barrels on Sept. 30, 1952.

"Like wise, our estimated natural gas reserves have been increased from 1.4 trillion cubic feet to 1.9 trillion cubic feet in the same period. While these figures include revisions and extensions of old fields, new discoveries have been a significant factor in our reserves picture."

Another measure of the Company's exploration success during the past four years is the volume of production from properties acquired since December 31, 1948 and from reserves not known to be productive on that date, he said. About 20 per cent of its net production of approximately 99,200 barrels per day last December came from such fields and pools.

The sale of natural gas is becoming an important factor in Ohio Oil's operations, he said, with average monthly revenues from this source and from natural gasoline plant operations amounting to about $1,000,000 at present.

Texas-Ohio Gas Line Denied FPC Approval

WASHINGTON—The Texas-Ohio Gas Company's hopes to build a 1,406-mile pipe line and import natural gas from Mexico apparently have been squelched.

The Power Commission Friday affirmed as its final decision an order last November 7 denying the Houston company's application.

Texas-Ohio had proposed a pipe line estimated to cost 185 million dollars, extending from the U. S. Mexican border in Hidalgo County, Texas, to a point near Lancaster, Ohio.

The commission said that the company "has not made a showing that it has adequate supply of gas to warrant the issuance of a certificate."

TIPRO President Says Imports Hurt State's Welfare

AUSTIN—Texas oil independents responded to the 1953 import schedules released by importing companies at the Wednesday state-wide hearing of the Texas Railroad Commission with a promise "to take positive and definite steps to halt the flow of surplus oil from the foreign concessions of these few companies."

Bryan W. Payne, of Tyler, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association, said he was "surprised and shocked that a handful of American oil importing companies, in the

Midlander In Race To Be New Director Of National D&D

Mrs. Burlene McCollum Guyger of Midland is one of the two candidates for the unexpired term as director from Region Six in the national organization of Desk & Derrick Clubs of America.

Mrs. Guyger and Doris Hughes of Houston were selected as candidates for the position by nominating committee of the national association at the recent meeting in Dallas.

Mrs. Burlene McCollum Guyger

The vacancy was caused when Doris Whiteside of Dallas, who had been elected to the place at the annual meeting of the organization in Houston in September of 1952, resigned when she moved to Washington to take a position in government service.

Mrs. Guyger is senior division clerk in the headquarters of the West Texas division of Humble Pipe Line Company in Midland.

She "grew up" at McCamey and has lived in Midland for a number of years. She has been employed by Humble Pipe Line for 18 years. Charter Member.

Mrs. Guyger is a charter member of the Midland Desk & Derrick Club and served as a director of the organization in 1952, the first year of operation of the unit.

Doris Hughes of Houston, the other candidate for the place as regional director is a former president of the Desk & Derrick Club of Houston.

Region Six of the national Desk & Derrick Clubs of America include clubs at Abilene, Amarillo, Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Corpus Christi, McAllen, Beaumont, Houston, Odessa and Midland in Texas and Roswell, N. M.

Each of the 13 active clubs in the region will cast one vote in electing the new director. Results of the election are expected to be announced early this week.

face of their public avowals to supplement but not supplant domestic production, now are proposing actually to increase the quantity of oil and products they are bringing in from their more profitable foreign holdings."

Testimony Cited
Payne cited testimony of importers operating in oil-short California to the effect that they "are not interested in considering the Texas surplus to meet California requirements under any conditions."

"It is clear that these companies approve all too heartily of the present arrangement by which Texas absorbs world surpluses while other states and foreign properties produce at capacity," Payne said Saturday.

"If these companies are permitted to carry out their selfish desires to flood Texas with surplus oil to the point that drilling is further retarded here, every citizen of Texas will be injured, as pointed out this week by the Texas Senate through a resolution.

Calls For Cut
"Not only are such excessive imports injurious to the thousands of producers and royalty owners upon whose industry activity our national security rests, but they are depriving our state government of needed funds and the school children of money which comes from taxes on Texas oil production," Payne asserted.

He called for an immediate 250,000-barrel per day reduction in imports, declaring that failure of importers to take this action voluntarily would necessitate appeal for help outside the industry. He said TIPRO would decide that course at its annual meeting in San Antonio March 30 and 31.

Payne Continues
"We must take positive and definite steps to halt the excessive flow of surplus foreign oil whether we do so before the Railroad Commission, the Texas Legislature, the United States Congress, or the bar of public opinion," Payne continued.

"Texas is not willing to continue to curtail her production simply to provide a profitable outlet for the foreign concessions of these few companies. The people of the United States cannot tolerate the destruction of a vital defense arm just to serve the temporary financial interests of these importers," the TIPRO president said.

He said importers made it clear at the hearing that "it was simply a case of Texas be damned if it suits our pocketbooks to unload our foreign surpluses here."

Texas Company Fined For Illegal Producing

TYLER—The Texas Company Friday pleaded no contest to 15 counts of illegal oil production. It was fined $25,000 in federal court.

U. S. Attorney Warren Moore claimed the company illegally had produced 468,757 barrels of oil from its Pierce Estate lease in Wharton County "for the purpose of making up for the deficiency in the allowable oil of certain other wells on the lease."

The charges covered the period from Jan. 1, 1949, to March 1, 1951.

IPAA President Declares Imports Past Danger Point

The president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America declared figures submitted by oil importing companies to the Texas Railroad Commission Wednesday "indicate conclusively that imports have passed the danger point."
 Carlton H. Lyons, Shreveport, La., said import estimates by the principal importing companies, plus estimates for all other companies, "indicate that foreign oil will come into this country at the approximate rate of 1,100,000 barrels daily in 1953."
 "This would be an increase of 16 per cent over 1952," he added.
 He said an increased rate of imports "would prove extremely harmful to the domestic oil industry at a time when we face the task of building a reserve cushion of domestic oil productive capacity for security purposes."
 Lyons said the import problem involves "basic issues of public policy," and warned that increased imports "will inevitably retard the domestic oil industry, depress the economy of our oil producing states, and impair the industry's efforts to develop adequate supplies for our national defense."
 Pointing out that both oil importers and domestic producers have subscribed to the policy that imports should supplement but not supplant domestic production, Lyons asserted: "Not In Agreement"
 "The evidence submitted to the Texas Railroad Commission clearly revealed that many of the importing companies are not disposed to support in practice the policies to which they have expressed agreement."
 "Truthful support of such a policy, and a sense of responsibility based on consideration of what is best for both the industry and the nation, would indicate the immediate need at this time for less imports, not more," he declared.
 Asserting that imports are taking a greater and greater share of the domestic market, Lyons called attention to a 1950 statement by the National Petroleum Council which concluded:
 "Fair and equitable relationship should obtain between total imports of crude oil and its products and total demand for oil in the United States during periods of excess availability of domestic oil for U. S. consumption."
Proper Relationship
 "We are now experiencing such a period of excess availability," the IPAA president said. "But due to the Tennessee Company Seeks Gas Service To Buffalo, Toronto

HOUSTON —(AP)—Tennessee Gas transmission Company has filed a petition seeking authority to build $91,718,000 in facilities to transport natural gas for Buffalo, N. Y., and Toronto, Canada, companies.
 Tennessee officials announced filing of an application with the Federal Power Commission Friday.
 The proposed facility would permit Tennessee to transport gas to New York State for the Iroquois Gas Corporation of Buffalo and Niagara Gas Transmission Limited of Toronto. The gas would be purchased by Niagara and Iroquois in Texas and Louisiana. Current Tennessee commitments would not be affected.
 The new application amends one filed by Tennessee last June when only Niagara was involved.
 Iroquois would receive 48,752,000 cubic feet daily, Niagara 60,700,000.

Coke Failure Is Abandoned

Allen Guberson of Dallas has plugged and abandoned his No. 1 D. D. Feldman, Central-North Coke County wildcat, on a total depth of 6,696 feet in lower Pennsylvanian.
 Slight shows of oil and gas were logged but tests failed to develop any production.
 Location was 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 301, Block 1-A, H&TC survey.

actions of the importing companies a proper relationship between import volumes and demand is not being maintained."
 "Demand in 1953 will be 30 per cent greater than in 1949 when imports were harming the domestic industry," he said. "If imports increased by this same 30 per cent from 1949 they would average 840,000 barrels daily in 1953 instead of the 1,100,000 barrels anticipated."
 If imports were increased at the same rate as demand, foreign oil "would not take an increasing share of the market but would be maintained at the 1949 ratio of 10.5 per cent of total demand," he said.
 "The importing programs presented to the Texas Railroad Commission indicate total imports will consume 13.5 per cent of the domestic market this year."
 "There is no basis which would support the necessity for such increases in imports," he said. "The importing companies should immediately revise their plans for 1953 leading to a reduction of at least 300,000 barrels daily."

World Oil Predicts Record Drilling For U. S. In 1953

An all-time high of 46,986 wells will be drilled in the United States during 1953.
 This prediction was made in the February 15 Review-Forecast Issue of World Oil, which bases its annual forecasts on a survey of companies that drill the majority of U. S. wells. The magazine was 99.82 per cent correct in its forecast for 1952 well total. Its forecast of 45,987 wells was 82 more than the actual total, which was 45,885.
 It is estimated that this year's wells will require a record footage of 190,741,971, which would be 23 per cent more than in 1952. Last year World Oil was 98.82 per cent correct in its footage prediction.
 Except for lessening activity along the Spraberry trend in West Texas, the well total would be much higher this year. West Texas is expected to have only 3,960 wells this year, whereas there were 5,125 in 1952. However, this loss of 1,165 is more than offset by an anticipated increase in activity throughout the majority of the nation's oil areas.
Texas Forecast
 Even with less activity in its major drilling region, Texas is expected to drill 16,650 wells this year, representing 35 per cent of the nation's total anticipated completions. The state is also expected to account for more than 78,000,000 feet of hole, or 41 per cent of the country's total.
 New Mexico, Kansas and Oklahoma are expected to show substantial gains in wells completed. A 27 per cent increase is predicted for New Mexico, with the number of wells drilled rising from 1,086 to 1,380. The increase foreseen for Oklahoma is small from a per cent standpoint, but involves the drilling of almost 200 additional wells. The state is expected to drill 5,840 tests compared with 5,685 in 1952.
 Kansas completions are expected to rise from 4,182 to 4,410, a gain of 5.5 per cent.
 Smaller but still sizeable increases are expected in California, Colorado, Louisiana, Montana, North Dakota, Wyoming and New York.
 In addition to Texas, less drilling is likely in Alabama, Illinois, Michigan, Mississippi and West Virginia.
 The world petroleum industry is still making bad guesses out of members of the U. S. Revenue Commission of 1966.
Wrong Long Ago
 Seven years after Colonel Drake's storied discovery of oil at Titusville, Pa., the commission foresaw an immediate oil shortage, but offered the comforting assurance that synthetics would be available when needed.
 Today, 87 years later, the world has enough proven reserves to fuel itself for 26 years at the present consuming rate of 12,137,685 barrels a day—even if not a single barrel of additional oil were found in the interim.
Total Reserves
 According to the February 15 Review-Forecast Issue of World Oil, the earth's proven reserves—that is, oil already located and which can be produced at will—add up to 115,177,701,000 barrels. More than half of the oil already located is in Asia, which has almost 64,000,000,000 barrels. Then comes North America with 21,500,000,000. South America with 11,000,000,000. Europe with 7,600,000,000, and Australia-New Zealand with 100,000,000.
 A breakdown of known oil reserves by areas gives a clearer understanding of why the world's governments are so concerned over troubled Iran in the Middle East. If all other areas should suddenly stop producing oil, and if the world went right on consuming oil at the rate of 4,442,000,000 barrels a year, the Middle East could fuel all the world for 13.9 years. By comparison, the United States has only enough oil to keep the world's machines going for six and one-half years.

Austin Concern Now Is Distributing New 1953 Oil Directory

Oil Directory of Texas, 1953 is now being distributed by R. W. Bryam & Company of Austin.
 The 228 page book list all producers and purchasers of oil and gas in Texas. It is the eighth annual directory published by the company.
 It lists the names of the principal officers, partners or individual owners of the companies, as well as the chief geologist, chief petroleum engineer and purchasing agent for the concerns listed. Telephone numbers are shown for companies located in the principal oil centers.
 There are 7,251 companies listed, including oil producers, oil purchasers, gas producers, gas purchasers, refiners, cycling plants, carbon black plants, gasoline plants and repressuring plants.

Oil's Newest Brainchild To Be Exhibited At Tulsa

The oil industry's newest brainchild—petrochemistry—will be given individual recognition at the International Petroleum Exposition at Tulsa, Okla., May 14-23, for the first time in the history of the world famous oil show.
 Organized cooperatively by research and development units of the industry, the dramatic exhibit will reveal how a fabulous array of consumer items have been developed by the combination and processing of petroleum chemicals.
 To be purely an educational feature, the petrochemical exhibit will be a part of the oil show's greatly expanded "Hall of Science," considered the world's foremost museum of petroleum science and industry.
Conn Is Chairman
 Dr. Miller Conn, Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, Okla., is chairman of a special committee in charge of the project. The committee will set up the first complete display of the vast fields of the rapidly growing petrochemical industry.
 Others on the committee are Dr. Isaac Drogin, United Carbon Company, Charleston, W. Va.; Leroy Donald, Lion Oil Company, El Dorado, Ark.; John A. Britton, Jr., Enjay Company, New York, and Robert A. Douglass, Ethyl Corporation, Tulsa.
 Developed in the past 25 years, petrochemistry has made its greatest gains in only recent years. Total investment in the industry is about $2,000,000,000, and sales in 1952 totaled 8,500,000 tons of chemicals valued at more than $1,500,000. Only 75 tons were sold in 1925.
 The President of the United States must be 35 or older.

Drew Pearson says: Congressmen find Eisenhower a warm-hearted host like points "about 15 minutes" daily—when he has the time; Senate committee critical of Indians' representative.

WASHINGTON — Congressional leaders who lunched with President Eisenhower the other day found him a warm-hearted host equally gracious to Democrats and Republicans, but also an artist who swings quite a paintbrush.

Political protocol was forgotten at the luncheon of soup, whitefish parsleyed potatoes, green salad, coffee, strawberry ice cream and coconut cupcakes. Ike put two Democrats at the places of honor, Congressman Clarence Cannon of Missouri at his right and Congressman Carl Vinson of Georgia directly across the table.

The meal was topped off with Havana cigars, after which Ike invited his well-fed guests to tour the White House "so you fellows who appropriated the money for remodeling my new home can see how it was spent."

"I think you will agree that the White House has been made a lot more livable," said the President, "but I am particularly pleased that the big job of rebuilding was done without any material changes in outline or architecture."

"Frankly, Mr. President," observed Democratic Congressman Dingell of Detroit, "the Democrats at least didn't expect the White House would have to accommodate a herd of elephants when Congress provided money for the remodeling. But I'm glad we made the floors strong enough to support elephants as well as pianos."

"The elephants around here are all light on their feet," grinned Ike. As the guests filed by paintings of ex-Presidents, GOP Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio suddenly remarked:

"There's Garfield, who was a former member of Congress. Poor fellow. He was shot when he got to the White House."

"Don't worry," reassured Ike. "You fellows are safe here with me."

"It's nice to look at all these old pictures, but how about letting us see some of your own handiwork with the brush and easel," suggested Dingell. "I hear your latest portrait of Bobby Jones, the famous golfer, is a real work of art."

Pleased as punch, the President ordered the still unframed picture brought down from upstairs and set up in the East Room. The congressmen agreed it was a good likeness. Ike himself agreed the Jones portrait was "probably the best" of about 30 paintings he has done, but added that it wasn't quite finished, needed some retouching and reshadowing.

"When I have the time I paint about 15 minutes every day for relaxation," the President revealed. "Up till now I've never had a room, or studio, where I could keep my gear, and I used to make it tough on my wife by leaving my equipment scattered around. But now I has a room upstairs here in the White House where I can keep my paint and brushes."

Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay was boasting to White House friends about the Oregon police back in the state of which he once was governor.

"Those boys are really rough," said McKay, "especially on speeders. It makes no difference who you are, you can't talk them out of a ticket unless you have an awfully good excuse for exceeding the speed limit."

He added that the cops of his state particularly were unimpressed by "political influence" or prominent officials.

"Oh, I don't know so much about that," impishly objected Assistant President Sherman Adams, who proceeded to tell how he and Ralph Cake, GOP national committeeman from Oregon, were stopped by a state patrolman in Oregon during the election campaign, but managed to talk their way out of a ticket.

"How did you do it?" inquired the dubious ex-governor of Oregon.

"It was easy," said Adams. "I just told the cop that I was a member of Eisenhower's staff."

Washington Pipe Line

President Eisenhower complained the other night when he was informed he had to go to a movie on Mahatma Gandhi. "Why the heck should I go to see Gandhi?" he protested. Mamie didn't want to go either, but when it was discovered that someone had put out an official White House press release that both were to attend, they changed their clothes and went . . . Congratulations on the American Legion's new tape-recording program by which GI's overseas exchange messages with their families at home. Two thousand American radio stations are cooperating . . . The first important Republican blow-up may be between Assistant President Sherman Adams, ex-governor of New Hampshire, and Charles Tobey, senator from New Hampshire. To head off an explosion, Adams has offered to appoint Tobey's son as U. S. attorney in New Hampshire . . . Eisenhower is playing turned over complete control of his Gettysburg farm to his friend, George Allen, Truman's White House jester. Ike says he doesn't want anything to say about his farm as long as he is making decisions on farm policy . . . Jack Lait and Lee Mortimer, sued from pillar to post for stories they printed in "USA Confidential," have written the most sensational article of their career. However, although they report things never printed before, predict they will not be sued by anyone; for their new story is "Mars — Confidential" — in "Amazing Stories" magazine.

Sino-Reds Restore Temples Of Buddha

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)—The avowedly anti-religious Chinese Communists say they have embarked on a project to restore a number of ancient Buddhist temples and sculptures.

Montreal has six tabloid newspapers.

The Peiping radio's explanation is that these works have artistic and historical value and "provide excellent models for China's present-day architecture." The Red broadcast, says most of the work is centered in the northern province of Shanxi where many of the temples and art works are located.

Texan 'Friend Of Wetbacks' Has Unique Answer To Issue

By NEA Service
HARLINGEN—Out in the dusty, far-off sunlight in towns like this along the Rio Grande, Frank Ferree has turned himself into a blazing crusade.
His cause is the "wetback"—the Mexican farm worker who has crossed the Rio Grande illegally in search of American wages. More than a half-million Mexican peons elude the border patrol each year, only to find themselves outlaws and outcasts.

Without Rights
"They can't bargain for wages," Ferree declared. "Or for medical care or housing or food. They have to take what they can get. They have no rights in America."

The term "wetback" marks a man who has fled Mexico by swimming the river.
"And the water never dries," Ferree said, "at least in his neighbor's mind. But that's pretty far from the whole truth."
Friend Of Wetback
In real life, according to Ferree, the Texas farmer finds a source of cheap, steady labor in the "wetback." It's worth his effort to pay boatmen to ferry the illegal Mexicans.

"A man's back hardly ever gets wet in a row boat," Ferree said. For eight years Ferree has made it his business to care for stranded Mexicans who have no work, no food, and no one to help them. A giant of a man in white clothes and a wide-brimmed hat, Ferree has come to be called "the friend of the wetback."
Spends Own Money
He has turned part of his house into a shelter. And bit by bit he has sold his belongings to pay for the food and medicine he gives to the Mexicans. Bus lines and airplane companies have given him free service in his journey back and forth across the border.
Although Ferree has made a full-time job of caring for the desperate Mexican families, he is quick to point out that many border-town farmers care well for their frightened, hungry, foreign-tongued help.
Exploiting Farmers
"It's the farmer who exploits them who has turned this situation into a roaring problem."
"I've seen families unloaded from a farmer's truck on a hot morning. They don't have any food. And the kids cry for water. All they have is the farmer's promise that he's gone to town to get money for their wages. And, of course, he never comes back."
Watches Scavengers
Ferree came to Texas from his home state of Nebraska after he had been a mail carrier, telephone lineman, and railroad radio operator.

"I bought 23 acres of land—eight unseen — and decided to settle down," he explained. He was 50 years old, unmarried. It was time for something permanent.
Then the Mexican problem exploded into his life. He watched a group of surveyors finish their work and leave. And then he saw a group of Mexicans who had been hiding in the mesquite bushes rush to the spot and pick up the remains of a lunch.
Eating Garbage
"These were men in America, and they were eating banana peels. Eating garbage," Ferree decided to do something about it.
He works alone, most of the time. Now and then he hires young girls to act as visiting nurses and visit the Mexican families who have been returned across the border without money or food.
Articles in the local newspaper about his work, radio broadcasts the letters he writes, all bring in donations. But even that has not been enough. And so he has sold his land until there remains only his house on one acre.

Ferree would like to see a change in our international agreement with Mexico. He is certain that the Mexican is caught in an economic dilemma, and he is as certain that we can solve that problem and not endanger our own economy.
It looks like the American southwest is going to have Mexican labor, he predicts. Why must it be "wetback" labor? The answer, he said, is not a wider river. It's more bridges.
Proposed Agriculture Department Changes 'On Again Off Again'

DES MOINES, IOWA — (AP)—A plan authorizing Agriculture Secretary Benson to make broad organizational changes in the Department fell within the "on-again off-again" category Saturday.
In the original text of a speech Benson prepared for delivery before the annual National Farm Institute Saturday appeared the information that such a plan has been submitted to Congress by President Eisenhower.
Newsmen checked congressional leaders in Washington and were told they had not received such a plan, although they expected it soon.
Informed of this, Benson aides corrected the text to say such a plan will be submitted.
Later they asked that the reference to the plan be deleted from the text.
Congressional sources said they had heard a reorganization plan was being drafted at the department and it would give Benson authority to shift agencies and to bring several semi-independent agencies more closely under his supervision.

Dirt, Squirt and Quirt

— FARM, DAIRY AND RANCH NEWS —

It wasn't sand or dust which filled the air and clouded the horizon Thursday.

Rather, it was a West Texas industrial haze—or so advises Little George McEntire, a recognized authority on such matters.

DSQ is happy to receive that startling bit of information and to pass it on to you.

For sometime now, we have been reading about industrial smog in various sections of the nation and were concerned because this section of West Texas had been left out, so to speak. But now West Texas has its industrial smog, too, and everything is all right.

Thanks, Little George, for properly and correctly identifying the haze about which so many people, particularly housewives, have been concerned.

The industrial haze, incidentally, was much in evidence in the McCamey-Rankin area Thursday, too. DSQ made a hurried trip to the Upton County cities to visit friends and to check on conditions. It is possible we walked right by some of our old friends on the streets without seeing them. The haze was pretty bad in spots and at times.

Dunn Lowery, Rankin banker, says ranchers in that sector are hard hit, just like they are in other West Texas counties.

"But they are staying right in there and it looks like all of them can and will pull through," Lowery stated.

"Moisture would bring an entirely different outlook and broad smiles overnight."
Lowery says bank deposits in Rankin are up about a million dollars over this time last year, despite the drought.

Over at McCamey, Charlie Young, enterprising C. of C. manager, predicts record crops in the irrigated farming district to the southwest of McCamey in 1953. More than 10,000 acres of land are in cultivation in the district, he says, producing cotton, grain and other products. McCamey is the headquarters city for the irrigated district.
Young admits, however, that the ranchers who headquarter in his city are pretty hard hit because of the drought.

"Business is good though, and we still are growing," Young declared.

The Midland Livestock Auction experienced a light run at its regular Thursday sale, but the market was steady to strong on all classes of cattle offered.

Bulls, for instance, were $1 a hundred higher than the previous week.

Cows and calves, too, sold $10 to $15 higher per pair.
Fat calves and yearlings, good to choice, brought $21 to $24.50; medium to good, $18 to $21; common to cull, $15 to $18.

Cows, choice, brought up to $15.50; medium, $12 to $14; canners and cutters, $10.50 to $11.
Stocker steer calves sold $21 to $24, and stocker heifer calves, $20 to $23.

Cows and calves brought $120 to $180 per pair.
Mixed breeds, stockers, calves and yearlings went at $15 to $18.

One of the largest farm boys organizations in the world, the Future Farmers of America, which has grown to a membership of 350,000 in 25 years, is celebrating National FFA Week with Silver Anniversary events.

FFA Week is observed traditionally during the birthday week of George Washington, America's first scientific farmer. It was more than a century after his death that many of his agricultural practices, such as contour planting, crop rotation and other soil conserving methods, were put into general use.

The 40,000 Texas Future Farmers are high school age boys enrolled in vocational agriculture courses where they study practical, scientific methods of farming and receive leadership training. Each boy is required to have a supervised farming program of livestock, poultry or crops under the direction of a vocational agriculture teacher who is an agricultural college graduate. Congratulations to FFA members here and everywhere on their twenty-fifth anniversary.

Cover crops planted on the B. E. O'Neal farm during the field day sponsored last fall by conservation interests in the Midland area protected the land from blowing during the recent sand storms, a check last week showed. Even on dryland, the barley and winter peas have made sufficient stand and growth to prevent active wind erosion. On the irrigated land, barley, vetch, and peas have completely covered the ground and are furnishing grazing for O'Neal's dairy herd. Austrian Winter peas planted in cotton middles have made good growth and some plants are blooming.

The field day was conducted last September by the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, the Midland Chamber of Commerce, and farm equipment and seed dealers.

A conservation agreement on the Leonard Proctor ranch was approved by the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District in their February meeting at Stanton. The first project in the program is the establishment of an irrigated pasture near the ranch headquarters about 40 miles southeast of Midland. The Soil Conservation Service has been assisting in laying out a level border system for the area to be irrigated.

Benson Asks Farmers' Aid In Building Strong Program

DES MOINES, IOWA — (AP)— Agriculture Secretary Benson called upon farmers Saturday to help him and Congress build strong farm programs requiring a minimum of government price supports.

The new GOP farm chief said he never will be guilty of handing down "ready-made programs," adding: "Programs must be built with the assistance of farmers and those who are working with them. Let's build strong—from the 'grass roots'—the type of programs which farmers want—the kind that will not bring serious regrets and disappointments later."

In a speech for the annual National Farm Institute, the secretary sought to assure producers that the Eisenhower Administration will do everything possible to bring stability to a farm price decline which, he said, had been inherited from the preceding Administration. Benson assured farmers he believes in price supports. He pointed out also that he is under oath to give "sound administration" to all price support laws now in effect. He said the present laws "are the combined judgments of our two great political parties."

"But I say to you in all sincerity, and I think you will agree with me, that price supports are not in themselves adequate to keep agriculture strong," he said.

Benson said the Eisenhower Administration proposes, with the aid of farmers, their leaders and Congress, to "build farm programs that are basic and sound."

Taking notice of recent debates in Congress over declining agricultural prices, Benson said he could report that "the agricultural interests of the nation are being made a first order of business by your senators and congressmen."

The new secretary, in arguing against programs leaning heavily on price supports, cited a statement made three years ago before the farm institute by Chester C. Davis, war food administrator during World War II and a recognized farm leader.
The Davis statement quoted by Benson: "A system of rigid, legislated price supports extended indefinitely into the future and at levels higher than the overall supply-demand situation, will support, will have extremely undesirable consequences, including a great deal of harm to farmers themselves."

Malady Destroying Texas Cattle Traced To Cottonseed Pellets

FORT WORTH — (AP)— Hyperkeratosis, the "X Disease" which has killed beef cattle over a wide area of North Texas, has been traced to chlorinated naphthalene in cottonseed pellets.

How the chemical, an additive to certain lubricating oils, got in the cattle feed has not been explained.

Dr. H. Schmidt, Texas Experiment Station veterinarian at College Station, told newsmen Friday he had traced the "disease's" outbreak to the chemical.
He said removal of the contaminated feed from ranges and pastures was effectively controlling the outbreak. Mortality rate had been running about 100 per cent, Dr. Schmidt said.

He cautioned that animals may develop the symptoms of naphthalene poisoning as much as two or three weeks after the pellets have been removed from their diet.

The outbreak first occurred in Tarrant County a month ago and has been reported in Johnson, Hood, Somervell, Erath, Parker, Jack, Denton, Baylor and Potter Counties.

The veterinarian said naphthalene poisoning also is believed to have killed cattle in Southern Oklahoma herds.

He was in Waco Friday with the high school debate team attending the annual speech contests there. He is a member of the Dramatics Club this year joined the Geology Club.

Cremin received official notification from the Navy in February, but Rep. Ken Regan informed him of the appointment in January.

GAINESVILLE —(AP)— You can tell Spring is on the way in Gainesville by the sound of the wailing callopes.

It walls in accompaniment to the big, many-sided job of getting the Gainesville Community Circus ready for another season of shows by home town performers.

Resin-backed horses plod in the wooden ring of the rehearsal building; acrobats limber their muscles; seamstresses cut and sew satin and tulle for costumes.

The performers practice five nights a week. Workmen are building new trapeze rigging and riding pedestals, painting wagons with sunbursts and curlicues.

Trainers are schooling horses, ponies, dogs, monkeys, the elephant and chimpanzee in new tricks. Clowns are figuring out new make-up and stunts.

Open April 15

Altogether, some 200 persons have some part in the getting-ready process.

The preparation will pay off when the circus opens its twenty-fourth season under the big top on the Cooke County Fair Grounds April 15-17.

Then the circus will take to the road for engagements in three states.

It will go to the Fiesta de San Jacinto and Battle of Flowers in San Antonio April 24-25.

After that comes Abilene May 1 and 2, with the JayCees and sponsors; Lubbock May 8 and 9, for the Disabled American Veterans; Duncan, Okla., June 5 and 6 under auspices of the Kiwanis Club, and Lawton, Okla., June 12 and 13 with the Northwest Lawton Kiwanis Club promoting the engagement.

Ends in Louisiana

The circus will conclude its season with a two-day exhibition in the rodeo arena at Monroe, La.,

where the Shrine Club will be the sponsor.

One hundred twenty five persons will be with the circus when it opens its season. Among them are business men, including insurance agents, a doctor, a chiropractor, an optometrist, a Texas Ranger, a cotton merchant, an attorney, housewives, school students and even preschool youngsters.

Every member of the circus is an amateur. No one receives any money for his services.

Coffee Day Aids Drive

Coffee Day has been set February 26 in the fight against muscular dystrophy, dread disease that causes progressive shrinkage of muscle tissue.

Each restaurant belonging to the Texas Restaurant Association has been asked to donate their February 26 coffee receipts to the National Muscular Dystrophy Research Foundation in Liberty, W. E. King, local cafe leader and chairman of the Midland drive explained. There are 1,500 restaurants belonging to the association.

Public contributions will not be actively solicited, King said, but each cooperating firm will have a marked jar for customer donations.

The research foundation was founded in 1950 by Sallie and Nadine Woods of Liberty, both victims of the disease.

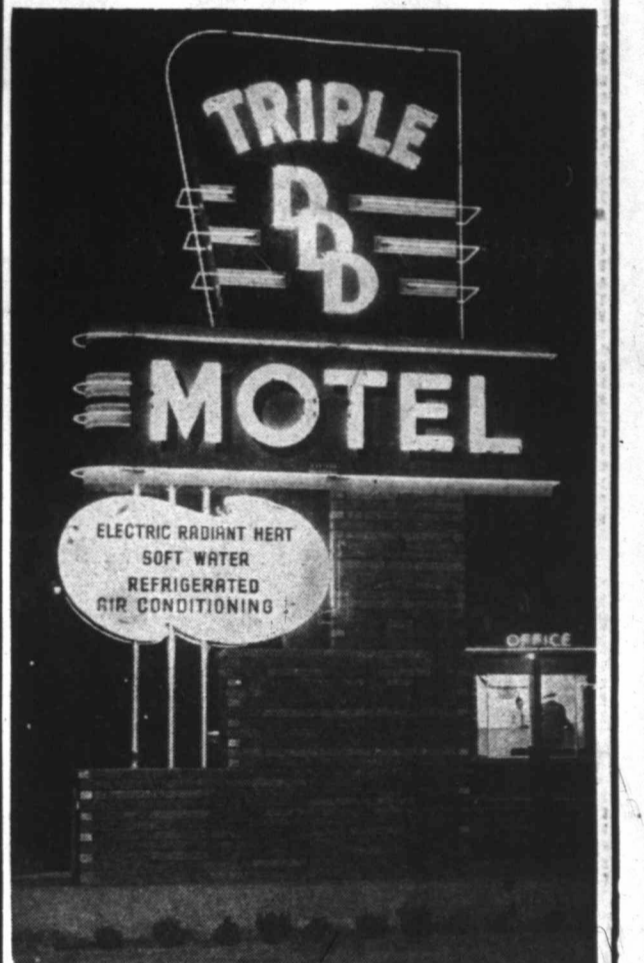

Auction of a prize package of Brazilian coffee in Houston will climax the day-long drive. The coffee was sent by President Getulio Vargas of Brazil who personally autographed the package. The coffee was sent to Washington where U. S. President Eisenhower also signed the package.

Triple D Motel Opens Doors, Beckons Travelers To Midland's New Hostelry

West Texas travelers now have a new and completely "uptown home" on the outskirts of Midland.

The Triple D Motel, owned, appropriately enough, by three Dodsons—C. B., J. C. and L. W.—demands a long look from motorists on Highway 80 West and provides complete and tasteful comfort for weary travelers. It will hold its formal opening Sunday.

Rooms in the 70-unit motel are large—downstairs larger than upstairs—and are well-planned and furnished. Electric radiant heat and refrigerated air conditioning units give guests full control over their "weather."

To the tired driver, a bed is the most important item in any room—and he'll not be disappointed by those he'll find at the Triple D. There are no half-sized beds in the place. No more stretching off the bed. Ask for a double and there'll be two full-sized beds in it. No crowding, though; the rooms are built for space and comfort.

For that road-easing shower there's a large step-down shower in an all-tile bathroom. The step-down idea does away with the dangers of a risky step over a conventional shower ridge. Glass shower doors keep all the water in, not rippling over the bathroom floor.

And the hot water's always hot. A circulating water system in the motel insures instant hot water at any time of the day or night. No waiting for the cold-to-hot-to-hot cycle to spend itself. By the same token, the cold water is always plentiful and at the right temperature.

Water Softener
The Dodsons installed their own water softening plant and every drop is treated. Also using the water is the motel's own laundry. Linens used in the rooms are laundered right at the motel, but guests may not use those facilities for private use.

Fitted neatly in each bathroom is a large dressing table with plenty of mirror and elbow space. After the traveler has had his easy night's sleep and refreshing shower, he can step out of his room into an attractive and well-planned area. His car is parked in a convenient spot yet there is still plenty of room for walking and driving.

Landscaped Sections
The motel is actually in two sections. The outer section, a two-story building in contrasting browns, loops around the inner section, an 11-unit plant. The inner circle houses two suites completely different from the other rooms. Other suites are reached by simply connecting adjoining rooms in both sections of the motel.

The downstairs rooms are larger and more expensively furnished than those upstairs, but the Dodsons never need apologize for the upstairs units. Three stairways lead to a wide veranda which runs the full length of the upstairs area. Beautifully decorated rooms—there are seven color schemes—open onto the veranda. The downstairs rooms open onto a wide walk.

For those who desire them there are two complete suites. Two formal suites, that is, but adjoining rooms in any section of the motel can be opened to provide tasteful suites in short order.

Motel Innovations
The Dodsons have used one of the latest innovations in motel style, the self-service soft drink and ice station. There are three of these units placed at convenient intervals through the motel. There guests can find cold drinks and an ample supply of ice at all times. Although porter service is available, most guests will find it easier to serve themselves from the hand stations. Free radio service is provided in each room and the rooms are equipped with telephones.

Motorists with children will welcome the sight of the completely equipped playground. Swings, slides and other children's joys are ready for duty and parents can rest assured that the equipment is safe.

Other WT Units
While the motel does not provide restaurant service itself, guests will be in easy reach of Midland's top restaurants.

Managing the Midland branch are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cummins who came here from Ardmore, Oklahoma where the Dodsons have another Triple D Motel.

The Dodsons—generally known as Dodson Brothers Builders—construct their own motels. And, of course, they're interested in building for other folks too. They headquarters in Wichita Falls and built two motels there (which they later sold). They now operate motels in Ardmore and Midland and have other plants on the drawing boards. The three owners will be on hand for their Midland opening Sunday—an opening which they are confident will launch a long and successful career of service to Midlanders and all West Texans.

NAVY SPACE SUITS, ARMY ROCKETS—Pentagon Press Agents Hit Stride During Budget Time

By ELTON C. FAY
AF Military Affairs Reporter
WASHINGTON—(P)—This is the season when the picture turns grim and things are in a hell of a fix. It is the time when each of the armed forces tells how good it is. And it is, perchance, the time of budget-making. It happens every year. In peace and war. In every administration.

Some years there are mysterious rumors of foreign submarines cruising off American shores. Other years there are vapor trails from highflying, unseen, unknown aircraft above the northern defense perimeter. And some years people just sit down and add up all the military and diplomatic perplexities and intelligence estimates and come up with a broad and brooding and black picture.

The Tub-Thumpers
Individually, the three services wanted folks to know how each of them was ready to fight any kind of war in any kind of place. There was the impression each could do it as well or a little better than either of the other two services.

The Navy announced it had developed a fully pressurized flying suit which would allow "Navy pilots" (the press release didn't say why other pilots couldn't wear it too) to "travel in safety in the extreme upper atmosphere—or even in outer space."

The account had wide reader interest among those anticipating the advent of space travel and warfare. It also had the rapt and slightly annoyed interest of the Air Force.

Air Force Lesson
The Air Force, with practically no urging, was ready to produce a press release it issued last October 4, saying it then had a new type pressure suit "enabling pilots to survive in the near vacuum of the upper atmosphere." In that release, the author waited until he got down eight paragraphs to say the suit "resembles to some extent the popular conception of a space suit."

"But the author of Thursday's Navy release hit, right at the beginning, the idea it was a suit good "even in outer space." The Air Force had learned a lesson in the art of publicity.

The Army, perhaps not wanting to be overlooked when ideas about rocket-age arsenals were being circulated, came up with a summary of its program in the guided missile field.

"The Army now has weapons that aim themselves after the trigger is pulled—and it is almost impossible for them to miss a target. . . . Fantastic though it may seem, one of the Army's surface-to-air missiles . . . carries a guidance system designed to out-manuever and hit enemy aircraft."

The enemy plane, said the Army, may "dive, climb, bank, side-slip or turn tail—but the Army's new weapons still will knock them out of the skies."

The Army's account came out late in the day. Presumably there wasn't time left for the Navy or Air Force to get out reports on their fantastic robot weapons.

By definition, perlite is a volcanic rock, which when heated quickly to a suitable point in its softening range, expands to form a lightweight, non-combustible, glass-like material of cellular structure. The expansion of perlite rock is made possible by the fact it contains minute drops of water in sufficient quantities to expand several times normal size when heated. The expansion forms a series of cells or voids sealed by microscopic, but strong volcanic glass walls. This unique cellular structure gives Perlite the unusual physical qualities that make it so advantageous when mixed with cement or plaster.

Films May Assist Jamaican Economy

KINGSTON, JAMAICA (AP)—Jamaica, looking around for new industries to relieve a serious unemployment situation, may get a lift from Hollywood.

Hollywood's first major picture to be filmed in Jamaica gave employment for weeks to several hundreds of Jamaicans, brought 40 actors, actresses, technicians to the island's north coast for several weeks. The film was the Technicolor production by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer of Ben Ames Williams' novel, "All the Brothers Were Valiant," starring Stewart Granger.

MGM is now considering coming to Jamaica again to film Daniel Defoe's classic, "Robinson Crusoe."

Jogalong Plods Through Midland
Enroute To Other Side Of World

By TRACY PILLER
Reporter-Telegram Staff
If you met a man who said he had given up a Cadillac automobile, a 26-foot speedboat, a nine-room house and a private airplane just to travel around the world on horseback you would probably say he was crazy, right?
After you meet Robert H. "Jogalong" Jacobs, 22, of Miami, Fla., who did just that, you can decide for yourself.

Jogalong, a young man who looks more like a cowboy than his bronzed skin and strong neck than herders of long ago, was developing a case of peptic ulcers fast as an insurance, used car and real estate broker in Washington, D. C. in 1952.

Rifle And Horse
It was during the Summer of last year when he decided to trade his hard-earned luxury for a saddle, a horse, a 30-30 rifle and hit the open trail, which he figures will eventually take him to all the interesting spots of the world.

"There is method in my madness, though," he says. "After I hit California I plan to write a book about my trip across the United States and maybe find a publisher for it."

The book no doubt will be salted throughout with many philosophic conclusions because Jogalong is a keen observer of humanity and is much older than his physical 22 years.

Eight Feet Tall
Although Jogalong walks like a hardened cowpoke, he sometimes talks like a college professor. His background has ranged from college studies to Air Force duty in Labrador and if growth is measured by capacity for learning, Jacobs will be eight-feet tall after his eleventh birthday which eventually will include Alaska, Australia, Europe and South America.

"When we quit learning we quit living" Jogalong said without any air of pretense at being witty or what seemed like a trite statement. "No matter where I go or what happens to me, I want to keep my eyes open and my mind analytical and open for suggestions."

Key To Living
Jogalong admitted he had never been on a horse before this trip and says now that he can discuss horses, cattle, feed prices, and numerous things agricultural with the best of them. It's because real men who knew about such things were willing to help him learn and to him that's the basic key to living—"helping people and sharing bread with a man, whether he be millionaire or a street-sweeper."

In a country accustomed to cowboys and wandering "cranks" even Texans have raised a somewhat wondering eyebrow at the sight of the care free, friendly Jogalong.

Jogalong isn't a crank, exactly in the true sense. He's just a fellow who has broken the bonds of what was to him a hum-drum existence of beating his brains out trying to be a "success" in the business world.

Healthy, Happy
"What do we live for, anyway?" Jogalong mused and then answered his own question. "Basically happiness is what everybody looks for. I've never been happier and healthier in my life than in the last five months."

"I've finally learned that money is nothing more than a medium of exchange" Bob said, "nothing more, nothing less. It isn't something to kill yourself over." It will always be the open road for Jogalong whether he somehow accumulates wealth or not.

How does he finance his trip?
Bob picks up money now and then for breaking horses, occasionally speaking to civic groups and making theater appearances, although he never had a speech lesson in his life.

Where To Sleep
At night he may sleep in a haystack, a barn, a farmhouse, a hotel or a jail, depending on where he is at the time. He told about how he spent one night as a guest of the Brinkley, Ark., jail and the next night sacked out in the presidential suite of a leading hotel in Little Rock.

He left Washington Oct. 7, 1952, and during the first two weeks of his new venture, Jogalong never got sore, he says, "because I was paralyzed from the waist down. I quickly found out why cowboys wear tight jeans."

ROBERT H. JACOBS

He made Cincinnati a one-horse town when his horse held up traffic for a mile on the Ohio River bridge and got the humane society of Memphis, Tenn., down on his neck when he announced he would swim his horse across the Mississippi River. He practiced on a smaller river the day before and knew he could make it but the society wouldn't let him try.

Arriving in Midland Friday night from Abilene Jogalong bedded down in the Scharbauer Hotel.

The young adventurer has had five different horses and his latest, a one-horse town from Dover, Tenn., and now averages 80 miles a day, Jogalong says.

When he leaves Midland he will head for El Paso, on to Las Cruces, N. M., and west through Phoenix and Los Angeles. Later he will start the ride to Alaska and may go by boat to Australia. "It may take four or five years to do it," Jog mused, "but I believe it will be making the best use of anything a person can have—time."

Midland Banks To Offer Savings Account Plans

A brand new banking service will be offered to the men, women and children of Midland Tuesday morning.

Both Midland banks Saturday announced that on February 24 they will begin accepting savings accounts for the first time.

Announcements of the plans came simultaneously from The First National Bank and The Midland National Bank.

The opening of the Savings Account plan, incidentally, coincides with the opening of The Midland National Bank in its new home at Texas and Big Spring Street.

Under the new plan, savings accounts can be opened with as little as $1 or as much as $10,000.

Interest of two per cent annually will be paid semi-annually on deposits.

That means that as soon as the money is on deposit as long as six months, it will begin drawing interest.

Officials of the two banks explained that the program was developed to encourage regular savings, particularly by salaried workers, who can make deposits on a weekly or monthly basis and watch their savings steadily accumulate.

Factory Force Get 18-Cent Gain During Last Two Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—Average pay of the nation's 18 1/2 million factory workers went up 18 cents an hour during two years of wage controls, the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) reported Saturday.

January, 1953, earnings were $1.73 an hour, $71.27 a week.

Most of the two-year gain registered during controls resulted from cost of living and other wage rate increases allowed by stabilization regulations. President Eisenhower ended wage controls two weeks ago.

The cost of living itself advanced about five per cent during the two-year period, beginning in January, 1951, covered by the report. Average hourly wage increases amounted 11 1/2 per cent.

Part of the increase, however, resulted from a shift of some factory workers to the more lucrative defense-related industries.

If adjustments were made for higher income taxes and the five per cent increase in the cost of living during the two-year period, the increase in net spendable weekly earnings would work out to three and one-half per cent for the average worker with three dependents.

Big-Time Narcotics Operator Arrested
By Houston Police

HOUSTON (AP)—A 31-year-old San Antonio man described by vice squad Capt. George Seber as one of the biggest narcotics operators in this part of the country was arrested here Friday night.

Two and a half ounces of pure heroin was confiscated from an automobile police and narcotics agents stopped on the outskirts of Houston on the San Antonio highway.

A 25-year-old man from San Antonio also was arrested.

P. A. Williams, head of the Federal Narcotics Bureau in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi, described the 31-year-old man as "a big source of supply in Texas."

The two men are being held in city jail. Charges are not expected to be filed until Monday.

Vice squad officers and narcotics agents had spent 10 hours a day the last three days watching for the San Antonio vehicle.

They said the older man, when arrested, said he was enroute to Houston to visit an aunt, that he is in the produce business in San Antonio.

Vice squad Officer Sidney Smith said he found the heroin and a bottle of capsules in the automobile's glove compartment.

Seber described the 31-year-old as "strictly a wholesaler who won't make a deal under $500."

Jelke May Take Stand To Relate
His Side Of Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke says he is ready to testify at his trial on vice charges but the margarine heir's attorneys say they have not decided whether to call him.

Newsmen asked Jelke if he would take the stand. The 22-year-old scion of a socially registered family replied:

"It wouldn't be like going to a New Year's party. But if it's necessary, I'll do it."

The state rested its case against Jelke Friday with the testimony of blonde Pat Thompson, one of the three young women whom Jelke allegedly induced into prostitution.

The trial was adjourned until Tuesday.

Announced In City

Monday morning shoppers will find prices for one brand of milk cut in Midland groceries. Tennessee Dairy has announced a drop in wholesale prices effective Sunday and most Midland stores will follow with a like cut in retail prices.

Tennessee Dairy set these cuts in prices: one cent on all quarts, two cents on half gallons, and one cent on half and half. Several store managers contacted Saturday said consumers would find the same decrease in the price they pay for Tennessee milk.

While no other milk companies here anticipated decreases in prices for the near future, at least one firm already had lowered its prices on milk. H. B. Schauer, general manager for Borden's Dairy, said his company had lowered prices on February 1, the date that producer prices went down. Reductions by Borden's were one cent on quarts and two cents on half gallons. Half and half prices were not cut, Sauer said, because the Borden's price was already at the minimum.

Tennessee Dairy has been supplying milk to the Midland area since 1947. The central office was in Odessa until a year ago when the Midland branch was opened. Distributor in this area is F. C. Mote.

Scrutiny Scaggs, manager of Triangle Grocery, said their milk prices would be cut and voiced the opinion that all other retailers would make the same move. Furr Super Market's manager Dan Harris, said he had not been notified of the price reduction, but said upon notification the store would make the price change for their customers. Jack Hanks, manager of H and H Shopping Center said the retail price cut would go into effect the same time as the wholesale reduction.

Fote termed the drop in price charged by the producer as the main reason for the cutback in wholesale price.

'Thin-Setting' Of Ceramic Tile Wins Council Recognition

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

A much wider use of ceramic tile for walls and floors in both new and remodeled homes is indicated by a new method of setting tiles without the usual heavy bed of mortar.

This method, known in the trade as thin-setting, involves the use of adhesives to hold the tile to any flat surface that is strong enough to support the weight of the tile. You now can have tile applied directly to plaster or gypsum wall-board, over smoothed masonry or waterproof plywood — even over hardboard of the pressed wood type, which can be used to provide a true surface where one is lacking.

Developed and tested over a period of years, thin-setting now has won official recognition of the Tile Council of America. This organization, comprising the large tile manufacturers, now is distributing complete specifications on this method to architects and contractors throughout the country.

Out of Bathroom

The tile came out of the bathroom a long time ago. It has been filling swanky roles in modern living rooms as well as utility roles in kitchens and nurseries. Architect Herman York, among others, has re-employed it around fireplaces in his Dutch-style kitchens. And hand-made tiles, the work of artists, have been used to decorate living room mantles.

But the extensive use of tile has been limited to a great extent by installation costs. With every tile carefully set by hand and "trued" to a perfect surface, many hours of highly skilled labor have been involved. Another item, the structural strength necessary to provide a rigid foundation for thick beds of mortar on lath, also has tended to keep tile work in the luxury class.

Now the spreading of a thin coat of adhesive over an existing sound surface, and merely setting the tiles in this thin bed, is found to reduce costs. Reductions expected are in installation time, weight of the completed work and in dirt and dust of a remodeling job.

According to one university's research the cost of tilework can be cut about 20 per cent by direct adhesion.

However, the Tile Council observes realistically that "jurisdictional decisions, site conditions, the tile contractor's preferences of materials and labor and other factors affect the economies."

Double Protection Given By Salvage Asphalt Roll Roof

Nineteen-inch salvage, double coverage, asphalt roll roofing is the heaviest asphalt roll roofing manufactured for farm service buildings and other utilitarian structures. As indicated by the term "double coverage," it protects all parts of a roof with at least two thicknesses of weather-resistant material. Like asphalt shingles, this type of roll roofing is surfaced with mineral granules. It is fire-resistant and is available in solid and blended colors.

A sheet of 19-inch salvage roofing is 36 inches wide. The mineral granules cover 17 inches of the width, leaving 19 inches unroofed. When the roofing is applied, the 19-inch unroofed portion is lapped completely by the next sheet put in place.

Roofs with a pitch as low as one inch of rise for each horizontal foot can be roofed with 19-inch salvage roofing. It is the only prepared asphalt roofing recommended for a roof pitch this low.

Prefinished Wall Panels Are Practical, Versatile

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service
Prefinished wall panels are becoming doubly attractive to homeowners because of their versatility and ease of application, to say nothing of their practicality and good looks.

Ideally suited for surfacing of walls and ceilings in both new construction and remodeling jobs, prefinished wall panels come in large, wall-sized sheets up to four by 12 feet. The material is a tempered hard board, factory-finished with a high-heat baked enamel, that comes to the job ready to install.

Once applied, this material eliminates future decorating expense, according to the Prefinished Wall-Panel Council, for the durable surface is as easy to clean as a refrigerator or kitchen range.

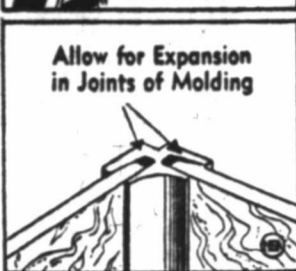

It is available in a full spectrum of colors and a variety of finishes, including plain, horizontal line and tile patterns, marble, wood grain, granite, leather and others. Their hard-gloss surface makes the panels particularly adaptable to use in bedrooms, kitchens, utility and bathroom rooms.

Prefinished wall panels are available coast to coast from lumber and building material dealers; kitchen planning, covering and flooring companies and the like.

Easy To Install

Best of all, a reasonably proficient home handyman can install these panels, which makes for ever-welcomed economy. The only tools needed are a fine-toothed saw, hammer, nail-set, carpenter's level, miter-box, flat mill file, plane, hand-drill and fine sandpaper.

Pre-finished wall panels can be applied to dry walls of finished plaster, plasterboard, wallboard, plywood pulp board or insulation board. Ready these surfaces for the panels by removing high spots and filling in low spots. If any surface is loose it should be removed and furred out to wall level with lath.

Remove wallpaper, if possible. Otherwise, scratch through wallpaper with claws of hammer to provide a direct contact for adhesive with plaster surface and panel. Walls must be dry and free of dust and grease.

With the aid of the carpenter's level, draw a level line around the room at the desired wainscot height. This is the horizontal control line for setting panels and moldings. Where prefinished wall panels are being applied floor to ceiling, draw a vertical plumb line at the location of one of the vertical moldings. Measurements for cutting are made from this line.

More Instructions

Start at door opening for wainscot installation by nailing inside corner or edge molding in place. Allow space for base molding. Saw panel to size—use a slanting stroke and lift saw on upstroke to avoid chipping finish.

Fill moldings with caulking compound for a water-tight joint in all water areas.

Place panel face down on saw horses—but protect surface from scratches—and apply adhesive to back of panel according to the manufacturer's direction.

Press panel into place and push solidly over entire surface of panel to assure bond. On large wall areas, the panels can be sprung into position between vertical moldings already nailed into place. On smaller areas, apply the molding with the panels.

Manufacturers of prefinished wall panels provide full instructions. Follow them to the letter.

Accident Rate Is Reported To Be Highest In Kitchen

The busiest room in your home—the kitchen—also is the least safe. One of six fatalities from exposure to fire, one of seven fatal falls and one of every 10 deaths from all types of accidents in the home occur in the kitchen. Often the condition which caused the accident existed for years unnoticed, before it caused a serious mishap or even death.

Safety engineers therefore recommend that every family make careful, periodic checks to eliminate kitchen hazards. A few minutes, or a few dollars spent eliminating an unsafe condition can save discomfort and grief in any household.

A cluttered kitchen is almost always an unsafe one. Install extra base and wall cabinets at the spots they are needed, and be sure that things are stored where first used. Only items that are seldom used should be stored in hard to reach places.

Watch out for surfaces that collect grease. The area back of and over the range can be made safer by installing an easily cleaned material such as clay tile, which withstands heat and can be cleaned in a jiffy with a damp cloth.

Check Wall Cabinets

Wall cabinets too high from the floor cause strain, for the home-maker must stand on tiptoe or use a step ladder to reach a top shelf. A space of 15 inches between base and wall cabinet is sufficient—consider remodeling your cabinets if it is much greater.

Electric appliances should be beyond reach of the sink, to prevent shocks. A serious accident can result when someone makes contact with an electrical circuit under wet conditions.

Check the sanitary condition of counter tops and drainboards. A very satisfactory material for replacing them is clay tile, which won't loosen at seams or be damaged by water or heat.

Keep kitchen knives and tools sharp. Dull knives may slip or slide and so cause injuries. Discard crockery that has large cracks, and repair or get rid of pots and pans with loose handles.

Contractors Group Seeking Location For Planning Room

Preparations are underway now to establish a Plan Room in Midland for the use of Midland and Odessa area members of the Associated General Contractors of America, it has been announced.

Interest has been high among sub-contractors and material supply firms for the opening of the room and an investigation is underway for the best location.

With a minimum of 20 associate members necessary for opening of the Plan Room, almost that many prospective members already have endorsed the idea, says the AGC, and definite action is expected within 10 days.

Any firms in the Midland-Odessa area which are interested are asked to contact either Houston Hill at Houston Hill, Inc. or Bill Holly at West Texas Brick and Tile in Midland and Kenneth King of King Construction Company in Odessa.

Application blanks are available through these persons or through the headquarters office in Abilene.

Oak Floors Should Be Waxed Properly To Ease Cleaning

To enjoy the full beauty of your fine oak floors and make them easier to keep clean and glistening, see that they have a good protective coat of wax at all times, home maintenance experts advise.

They say that most homemakers evidently appreciate the importance of wax in imparting an attractive luster which accentuates an oak floor's natural beauty of grain and figure. But many perhaps do not realize that wax also performs two other valuable functions.

It serves as a barrier against penetration of dust and dirt, and it guards the finish from wear. On a well waxed oak floor, loose dust and dirt remain on the surface where they can be wiped off quickly with a dry dust mop. When the wax becomes soiled from months of foot traffic, it can be replaced easily with a new coat. In acting as "armor" for the finish, wax takes the brunt of the wear, thus extending the life of the finish for years.

Solons Gives Straight Tips To Job-Hunters Of 40-Plus

By ADELAIDE KERR
 NEW YORK—(AP)—Anybody over 40 looking for a job had better take stock of himself to make sure he is not his own biggest stumbling block.
 Personality traits, such as talking too much and a lack of adaptability, may be far greater handicaps than any prejudice against the older worker.
 That is the consensus of 90 private employment agencies of New York City, as revealed in an exhaustive survey of the job-hunting problems and performance of men and women over 40.
Too Much Talk
 The survey was made by the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on Problems of the Aging as part of many years' effort to aid the 40-plus jobseeker in his quest for work. The committee is headed by State Senator Thomas Desmond.

giving no thought to the boss's needs and has no interest in them. He is interested only in his own. All things considered, he presents a personality he would not hire himself — if the tables were reversed. Of course he is not aware of what he is doing. But nevertheless, in just these things, he often blocks his own progress.
 Senator Desmond said the survey indicated that women are a bigger problem than men in 40-plus job placements — largely because of their own attitudes.
 "There is the woman who makes a martyr of herself because she has to take a job at her age and will gladly take anything," he said.
Over-Age Flirt
 "There is the over-age flirt who goes job-hunting wearing too much makeup and too elaborate clothes. There is the one who says too often

"I've never done that before" and objects to accommodating an employer in such small things as switchboard relief, office reception or information service.
 "Then there is the applicant who feels the way she has been taught to do a job is the only way. Instead of trying to fit herself to the job, she tries to reorganize it to meet her standards. Finally there is the applicant who resents giving any information about herself because she thinks the interviewer is prying into her personal affairs."
 The agencies urged that communities do more to aid the older worker in his job quest—including helping him to see himself as he is and correct the faults that block his progress. Among their suggestions were public counseling centers, training and retraining centers and 40-plus clubs.

Ward Clerk, Wife Indicted In Beating

MONAHANS — Ward County District Clerk J. G. Avary and his wife, Helen, were indicted late Friday in aggravated assault charges. A special grand jury returned the indictment after hearing about 12 witnesses during its two-day study. The Avarys are free on $500 bond each.
 The charge, a misdemeanor, will be tried in County Court. County Attorney Tom White said no trial date had been set Saturday but believed the trial would come up sometime in March. The County Court docket will be called March 2 at which time some information will be given concerning the Avary case, he said.
 The charge grew out of claims by Velma Powell, 22, telephone operator and Korean war widow, who says Mr. and Mrs. Avary forced her into their car, took her to their home and beat her Saturday night, February 14.
 The county attorney said Mrs. Avary admitted hitting Miss Powell, who assumed her maiden name after her husband's death. Both Mrs. Avary and her husband have consistently denied that he (Avary) struck the young woman. They also denied that Miss Powell was forced to enter the car. They contended she went with them willingly.

 Miss Powell, White said, gives this story of the beating.
 Her father took her to the telephone office about 9:55 p.m. Saturday. She had just started up the stairs at the rear of the building when the Avarys called her to their car. They apparently had been parked waiting for her, Miss Powell said. The young widow claims she was forced into the car and then to the Avary home. She testified both Mr. and Mrs. Avary beat her and then released her.
 She walked to her home on South Pope Street, where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Powell. They took her to the hospital, she says, where doctors found she had two black eyes, bruises about the face and body, and was suffering from shock.
 The Avary story differs as was noted above. They deny Miss Powell was forced to ride with them and that Avary struck her.
 The county attorney said he had been told the Avarys believed Miss Powell had circulated a rumor involving a member of their family, one she had learned while on duty

Many Foods Served In Lent Are Year-Around Favorites

The housewife whose family belongs to one of the churches observing Lent, the 40 days preceding Easter, faces an annual problem of planning a variety of nutritious and delicious meatless meals.

The result has been a collection of recipes that all housewives, regardless of denomination, can use to add interest to family and company meals the year around.

For example, there is Jambalaya, which is a food as well as a song, points out Mrs. George W. Martin, 2008 West Holloway Street.

Recommends Jambalaya

dish, can be made either with meat or seafood, but a favorite with Mrs. Martin is Shrimp and Oyster Jambalaya.

She often serves it as the conversation piece for a dinner that includes fruit juice cocktail, string beans, lettuce salad and French dressing, hot garlic-buttered bread, lemon meringue pie and coffee, tea or milk.

Mrs. Martin's recipe for Jambalaya calls for one pound of shrimp, four cups of cooked rice, one-fourth cup olive oil, one-fourth cup flour, one large onion, one clove of garlic, one-fourth cup bell pepper, one cup chopped celery, one cup tomatoes, one bay leaf, two tablespoons butter, one cup oysters, one-half cup chopped parsley and salt and pepper (cayenne) to taste.

To prepare: Boil one-fourth pound of shrimp and keep for garnish. Make roux by browning flour in oil, stirring constantly. Add the onions, garlic, pepper and celery and cook five minutes. Add the tomatoes and seasoning and cook for 10 minutes. Add peeled and washed raw shrimp and cook 20 minutes, or until thick.

Add hot cooked rice to sauce. Cook oysters in butter until edges curl. Add oysters and parsley to rice mixture. Garnish with boiled shrimp and parsley and serve hot.

Family Fare
A hearty Potato and Tuna Casserole always is enjoyed at the George Byrne home, 1607 West Holloway Street. The recipe was perfected by Mrs. Byrne, who explains that experimentation and hungry mouths both contributed to its development.

Her family enjoys Potato and Tuna Casserole with buttered asparagus, apple-raisin-carrot salad, whole wheat muffins, peppermint

Midland Ornithologist Outlines Program Of Bird Conservation

Mrs. John E. Galley, Midland ornithologist, outlined a practical program of bird conservation for the layman Thursday at the meeting of the Midland Woman's Club, Inc., in the Officers Club.

Speaking on the topic, "You and the Birds," Mrs. Galley condemned the wanton killing of many species, especially hawks and owls, which she termed "the most unjustly persecuted of all birds." "Many are killed," she said, "simply because the hunter wants a moving target." She pointed out that hawks and owls mostly eat rodents, and that even the chicken hawk uses poultry as only 10 per cent of his diet.

Another popular misconception, she said, is that someone who "eats like a bird" has a small appetite.

Actually, she explained, birds eat three times their own weight in food because they have no way to store energy. Such food habits, she added, are of great economic value and alone would justify a program of bird protection.

Mrs. Galley named the following forces contributing to the conservation program: Legislation establishing game laws and providing for enforcement; international agreement on protection of migratory birds, and spontaneous organized effort to promote an effective program for bird and animal preservation.

The greatest single need today, she told the group, is for popular education on conservation. This could begin at home, she said, and it would eventually spread throughout the community.

Club To Sponsor First Aid Course

The Modern Study Club has announced plans to sponsor a four-week first aid course beginning Monday in the Red Cross Building.

Two-hour sessions will be held at 7 p.m. each Monday and Thursday until the course is completed. Morris Howard will be the instructor.

Anyone who is interested is invited to enroll.

"When practiced by millions of people," she concluded, "these things discussed here are a few of the ways in which the layman can be an effective force in bird conservation."

Mrs. Harry Russell introduced the speaker who called herself a "semi-scientist" on her chosen subject. Mr. and Mrs. Galley have pursued their hobby for approximately 20 years. Mrs. Galley also has studied ornithology at Louisiana State University.

Following her lecture she showed colored slides of local scenes where several species of birds might be found. The Pyraecantha Garden Club, hostess group for the afternoon, presented Mrs. Galley with a record for her collection.

Guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. E. V. Mitchell, Pyraecantha president. Mrs. Paul Crandell, vice president and program chairman of the Woman's Club, presided at the tea service. Mrs. W. H. Oswalt, chairman of the entertainment committee, was in charge of the tea hour. She was assisted by Mrs. J. M. Orman, Mrs. W. H. Oswalt, Mrs. Clyde G. Sharrer and Mrs. J. W. Hynd.

A lace cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with an arrangement of tulips, stock, pussywillow and ranunculus in varying shades of pink.

KILL THE TASTE BUD APPETITE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Over four and a half million bottles of Barocentrals have been sold in Texas in nine years. During the past year, the makers of this product have done extensive research work and experimentation, making an excellent product still better.

We now announce the new improved Barocentrals. The original formula remains the same, except that an additional ingredient has been added.

But in addition to the liquid Barocentrals, we have added tablets which are dissolved on the tongue before eating. These tablets help to loosen the taste buds which lie on the surface of the tongue. Thus, with the new improved Barocentrals, your stomach appetite is satisfied so that you need not know a hungry moment. And the "false" appetite created by the taste buds is loosened.

With the new Barocentrals, you will eat all the body requires, but you will not eat and still not know a hungry moment. The liquid Barocentrals eliminate, dehydrate and also help to satisfy stomach hunger with less food. The new ingredient added to the liquid supplies nourishment and energy.

Just go to your drugist and get the new improved Barocentrals. Pour the contents of the four-ounce bottle into a pint bottle or jar. Add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day as directed on label. Take the tablets as directed on container and you'll watch the fat roll off. If the very first bottle and tablets don't show you the way to reduce simply, easily and help remain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 90 POUNDS
Mrs. Ed Leach, 729 E. Guenther St., San Antonio, Texas, writes us as follows: "I take Barocentrals to keep down my fat. I lost about 90 pounds taking this excellent product. I wore size 32 dress when I started. I now wear size 24 1/2."

14 POUNDS LOST
"I have lost 14 pounds taking Barocentrals," writes Mrs. Belle Alexander, 1109 Elmwood, Fort Worth, Texas. "I have found Barocentrals very beneficial in many other ways, other than reducing. Barocentrals left me feeling so much better."

Mrs. George Franklin Johnston, Jr.

Alice Ruth Walls Wed To G. F. Johnston, Jr.

Alice Ruth Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson Walls, 708 Cuthbert Street, became the bride of George Franklin Johnston, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin Johnston of Wichita, Kans., Saturday in the St. Ann's Catholic Church.

The wedding was held at 11:30 a.m., with the pastor, the Rev. Thomas J. Kennedy, O.M.I., officiating for the double ring ceremony.

Matching baskets of white stock adorned the sanctuary at the altar rail, before which the ceremony was performed, and cathedral candles graced the altar. The bride and bridegroom knelt at a satin-covered prie-dieu.

Musical Named
Mrs. A. S. Kelly, organist, played traditional nuptial music in the Gregorian theme, including Rossini's professional and recessional, "Andante Cantabile" (Mauri), "Elevation No. 30 in G Major" (Benatti), "Adagio" (Mozart-Biggs), "Largo No. 5" (Longhetti) and "Ave Maria" (John Lee).

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of petal pink Chantilly lace and tulle over dutchess satin. Tiny covered buttons extended down the back of the tightly moulded bodice into the deep V waistline marked with narrow hand-rolled cord. The bodice was fashioned with long, fitted lace sleeves, tapering to points over the hands, and a wide, decollete neckline outlined with appliques of the lace in a scalloped flower motif sprinkled with shell-like sequins and centered with tiny seed pearls. A deep nude illusion yoke filled in neckline.

The extremely full tulle skirt, which swept into a wide, fan-shaped train, was hand-appliqued with Chantilly lace, cut in large drifting diamond shapes and sprinkled with shell-like sequins.

The bride's veil of imported silk illusion extended to waist length from a tiny, pointed cuff of lilies-of-the-valley. She carried a colonial type hand bouquet of stephanotis and white carnations centered with a white orchid and showered with white satin streamers in which love knots were tied.

Shirley Smith of Lawrence, Kans., was the bride's maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of mint green pure silk bombazine over taffeta. It was fashioned with a shirred, strapless bodice, accented by a deep, pointed cuff, and a waist-length, gathered skirt, bordered at the hemline by a wide, satin band of deep tucks. The shoulders were covered with a brief fitted jacket forming a wide portrait neckline and complimented by short shirred sleeves. Miss Smith wore shoes dyed to match her dress.

Carol Wrobbel of Kingfisher, Okla., cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid. She wore a dress identical to that of Miss Smith. Both carried nosegays of violets with matching satin streamers.

Warren Richard Johnston of Wichita, Kans., attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Berry Johnston of Wichita, Kans., brother of the bridegroom, and Richard E. Walls of San Diego, Calif., brother of the bride.

Reception Held
The wedding reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Assisting in the houseparty were Barbara York, Alice Moore, Betty Perry and Mrs. William Hill.

Centering the bride's table was an arrangement of white stock, maroon daisies and white tapers.

When the newlyweds return March 10 from a wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco, they will be at home in Wichita, Kans.

For traveling, the bride changed to a suit of charcoal grey, nubbed silk twill, with matching accessories and a white cloche and gloves. Her corsage was of white orchids.

Out-of-city guests for the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. George F. Johnston, Berry Johnston and Warren Johnston, Wichita, Kans.; Shirley Smith, Lawrence, Kans.; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wrobbel, Carol and Joyce Wrobbel, Kingfisher, Okla.; Thelma Jean Fees, Guthrie, Okla.; and Richard Walls, San Diego, Calif.

The bride's accessories included white linen opera pumps and a white straw hat with a champagne veil caught with seed pearls. She wore pearl ear clips and carried a white Bible topped with a white gladiolus and showered with white satin streamers.

Mrs. Dozier was wearing a two-piece dress of iridescent aqua taffeta shantung, fashioned with tapered neckline, push-up sleeves and full, gored skirt. Her white hat was trimmed with rhinestones matching her rhinestone pin and ear clips, and she carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

Youth In Drifting Boat Has Whopping Adventure In Night

SAN PEDRO, CALIF.—(AP)—A boy in a small boat had a whopping adventure Friday night, drifting helplessly by big ships that almost capsized him.

Walter Gould, 13, at the ocean for a wienie roast, went out on a small pier to watch passengers board a water taxi.

To get a better view, Walter climbed into a rowboat. Neither he nor his companions realized it was not tied up until it drifted away.

He found a stick in the boat and tried in vain to paddle with it back to the pier. The Coast Guard and harbor police were notified of his plight.

Finally, near the breakwater entrance, a Coast Guard cutter spotted him and took him aboard.

Legislators Deplore Prison Farm Findings

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Six members of the State House Appropriations Committee said they found good conditions everywhere they had visited in the Texas Prison System except Eastham Prison Farm.

"The situation at Eastham," said Rep. Reagan P. Huffman of Marshall, "is the saddest I've seen anywhere. They have a better farrowing barn than a place to house the convicts assigned to the unit. We must do something to correct this situation and find the money, if at all possible."

The representatives are inspecting the penal system. They ended the tour Saturday by touring prison farms in the Houston area.

Case-Hardened Lenses Can't Shatter

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Mothers whose children wear eye-glasses often are nagged with worry that the glasses may break while on the child's face. This has happened in the rough-and-tumble course of children's play with sometimes disastrous results.

Children can be taught caution, of course, while they are wearing their glasses. Thoughtful parents and teachers point out, too, that children must guard against accidentally breaking another child's glasses.

But to really get rid of that worry, you might investigate a safe type of lens now available in children's as well as adult's glasses. Called "case-hardened lenses," they are made to U. S. Bureau of Standards specifications to be shatterproof, and they will break only under severe impact. In other words, a child wearing these lenses can't get a piece of shattered glass in her eye.

You can get them fitted in the frame style of your choosing. While

1,800 Permian Basin Baptists In School

More than 1,800 Permian Basin Baptists participated in the third annual training school conducted at the first churches in Midland and Odessa last week, the Rev. Vernon Yearby, Midland pastor, reported Saturday.

Only the metropolitan centers surpassed the Midland-Odessa turnout, Mr. Yearby pointed out. There were 20 school centers in the state. The Permian Basin attendance ranked fifth.

It's nice for your child to have an extra pair for parties one becoming pair of simple, sturdy design will look well on all occasions. With the shatterproof, hard-to-break lenses, it's less necessary to have a duplicate pair.

Birthday child wears glasses both sturdy and becoming. Only hardest knocks can break lenses and they will never shatter.

You realize, of course, that a child who wears glasses must have her vision checked at least once a year. Eye men advise that the size of the lenses and frames must keep pace with the child's growth—another reason for the regular visit and checkup.

If you're an active sportswoman who wears glasses, these case-hardened lenses may be worth investigating for your own use.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Wicked Flea

Hound Dog was a nice old fellow who once lived in the Great Forest. It's the very same Great Forest where Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, lives high in the top of a very tall tree in his monkey house.

Hound Dog was nice and lazy. He liked to sleep and sleep and sleep, but a Wicked Flea would bite the back of old Hound Dog while Hound Dog slept. When he felt the bite, up would jump the old Hound Dog with a cry of "Yipe!" Yes, and often the Wicked Flea would pull the ears or maybe the tail of old Hound Dog, all for the fun of hearing the "Yipe." Yes, Hound Dog was really leading a dog's life with all the trouble that the Wicked Flea was causing. At last, Hound Dog could take no more. He was very lazy, but he turned around of a sudden and more. Then Hound Dog made a noise with his feet on the ground as though he were running and chasing after the Wicked Flea.

Hopity hop, flea-hopped that Wicked Flea away, fleeing as fast as he could to get away. He didn't even listen when Daddy Ringtail shouted after him that no one was pursuing, which is really a way of saying that nobody was chasing after him at all.

The Wicked Flea kept right on with his flea-hopping, fleeing and fleeing to get away, even though no one pursued or chased him at all. Yes, and people to this very day will tell you that the Wicked Flea when no man pursues, or something like that. It serves them right with a guilty conscience, no matter how you spell it. Happy day!

took a great big bite at the place on his back where the Wicked Flea was biting him.

"Help!" cried the Wicked Flea in flea-talk when he saw the dog's teeth about to close upon him. He knew he deserved anything at all that might happen to him. Down he hopped a flea-hop to the ground. Away he hopped as fast as he could. Yes, the Wicked Flea was fleeing down the Elephant Path to get away. "Woof! Woof!" barked Hound Dog to frighten him, even

Guests were Mrs. James Zimmerman, Mary Jane Landreth, Mrs. G. G. McNary, Mrs. A. L. Barnes, Mrs. J. C. Mayes, Jr., Mrs. Joe Jones, Marilyn Cannon, Mary Jean Margruda, Mrs. Lawrence Fuller and Mrs. Knox.

Members attending included Sylvia Conroy, Mrs. Tom Breeding, Mrs. Robert Minton, Jr., Melba Knippling, Mrs. West, Mrs. Hower, Sue McAuley, Mrs. Robert L. Gray, Mrs. J. L. Huff, Mrs. M. E. Arnold, Jr., Mrs. John Evans, Mrs. Tim Bullard, Jo Cristiani.

Mrs. Richard Sullivan, Mrs. V. G. Feather, Mrs. G. E. Graham, Fern Green, Mrs. H. W. Keegler, Jr., Mrs. E. E. Wenger, Jane Marshall, Elizabeth Ramsdell, Mrs. A. J. Vogel, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Feldman.

TO TYLER

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Smith, 1011 North Loraine Street, are visiting in Tyler with his mother, Mrs. E. L. Calloway.

A connoisseur's dish is Oysters au Gourmet from a recipe recommended by Mrs. John Daly, 107 West Nobles Street. Even confirmed oyster disparagers have been known to plead for second servings of Oysters au Gourmet, Mrs. Daly says. Suggested by Mrs. Daly as suitable accompaniments for the dish are small whole broiled tomatoes, tossed green salad with the simplest of wine vinegar and oil dressings, lemon sherbet with thin lemon wafers and demi-tasse.

The ingredients for Oysters au Gourmet are one cup oysters, two tablespoons butter, one-half pound package American cheese, dash of tabasco sauce, one-fourth teaspoon salt, few grains cayenne, two eggs (well beaten) and chopped parsley. Drain oysters, saving liquor. Melt butter in top of double boiler. Add American cheese which has been finely cut, salt, cayenne, oyster liquor and eggs. Cook until cheese melts. Add oysters and cook three minutes longer. Serve on rye melba or white toast and sprinkle with parsley.

Serves four to six.
Quickie Casserole
When there is a house to keep and a family to feed, an easily-prepared dish is appreciated by the housewife. Mrs. Ralph Geisler has found that her family enjoys "Happy Landings," a quickie frito casserole.

She suggests that the casserole is good with a combination salad, hard rolls, fruit dessert and coffee.

Her recipe calls for one medium onion, three stalks of celery, one-fourth small green pepper, one No. 2 can tomatoes, one medium sized sack of fritos and one-half pound cheese (grated).

Brown chopped onion in small amount of fat. Add chopped celery, pepper and tomatoes. Season with salt and pepper to taste. Simmer slowly over a low fire for fifteen or twenty minutes. Add grated cheese and fritos. Stir just enough to mix and let cheese slightly melt. Serve at once.

Prepared Shrimp Creole
Another of the delicious seafood recipes from Louisiana is Shrimp Creole. Mrs. W. B. Smith, 615 Cuthbert Street, makes it by a recipe a friend got from a New Orleans chef.

For a hearty meal she serves Shrimp Creole with rice, green salad, French bread and white wine.

To make Shrimp Creole: Make a roux by browning flour and oil; brown almost to the point of burning. Add onions, green pepper and celery (all chopped) to taste. Add two cans Spanish style tomato sauce, one can of water, one can of tomato soup, salt and pepper to taste and a dash or two of tabasco sauce.

Simmer over low heat until onions, celery and green pepper have cooked through and mixture has thickened to the desired thickness. Add two pounds of cooked shrimp and heat through. Do not cook too long or the shrimp will be too done.

Follow These Suggestions To Be A Good Neighbor

Here are some rules which will help you stay on pleasant terms with your neighbors. Not for just a short time but over a period of many years.

One. Don't become so intimate with a next-door neighbor that the two of you are running back and forth to each other's houses several times a day.

This is sure to get tiresome to one of the other of you and yet it is difficult to change a set-up with a next-door neighbor once it has been established.

League Plans Seal Campaign
The Children's Service League discussed plans for the forthcoming Easter Seal Campaign Thursday at a meeting in the home of Mrs. T. S. Jones.

Mrs. Robert Fitting, seal chairman, made the following appointments: Mrs. Irby Dyer, radio publicity; Mrs. Ralph Fitting, Jr., theater publicity; Mrs. L. S. Page, school packets; and Mrs. J. H. Ripley, coin containers. It was announced the Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae will do the inserting for the mail campaign.

Announcement also was made of the first examination clinic for the cerebral palsy treatment center to be held March 9. Mrs. Charles Wilson reported on the clothing needed to meet demands at the clothing room. Cases were assigned and discussed.

Attending, in addition to those previously listed, were Mrs. Robert Dewey, Mrs. Roger Northrup, Mrs. A. W. Allen, Jr., Mrs. V. W. Rogers, Mrs. Bill Glass, Mrs. Alan Leeper, Mrs. C. H. Atchison, Mrs. M. O. Gibson, Mrs. R. W. Snyder, Mrs. F. D. Douglass, Mrs. Fred Cassidy and Mrs. John M. Hillis.

Two. Be careful that neither your children or your dog become neighborhood nuisances. Make sure that other children play at your house as much as your children play away from home. At the first hint that your dog is making you unpopular, keep him at home where he belongs.

Three. Never have a "neighborhood party" and leave out one or two couples. Either have everyone or don't have a neighborhood party. Don't Be Non-Silent.

Four. Don't give your neighbors the feeling that you are watching how they live by such remarks as: "The Browns must have been having a party last night. I counted 10 cars parked in front of their house and the last one didn't leave until 2:15."

Five. Never repeat neighborhood gossip. You'll hear some but don't get the reputation for spreading what you hear. It's even wise to act disinterested when it is being told to you.

Six. Don't make a habit of borrowing. When you find that you have to borrow make a point of returning or paying back promptly.

Seven. Allow your neighbors privacy. That means just because they live close, you shouldn't feel free to run in and visit for half the morning, or join them every time you see them sitting in the yard.

Follow these rules and you'll find that no matter where you live you'll have good neighbors.

Jack and Dorothy Pattison, Mr. and Mrs. Colson Mott, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Crim, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Frances Anderson.

Program Topic Is 'Fun With Flowers'

Lucille Johnson led the program on "Fun with Flowers" Thursday when the Xi Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Mrs. W. I. Pratt.

In her talk she discussed flowers as accessories in the home and in the yard. Following the program Mrs. W. W. Weems was selected to fashion a flower arrangement from the flowers which were available.

A gift was given to Mrs. W. G. Keeler who is moving to Dallas. The group made plans to rub cloggers for the exemplar chapters.

Mrs. A. H. Dimney, Jr., Mrs. John Rhoden, Jr., and Mrs. S. R. McKinney, Jr., were appointed to a nominating committee to name a slate of officers.

A Servant That Never Sleeps ...Your Telephone

WHILE YOU'RE SLEEPING, telephone people are working through the night. Operators handle comparatively few calls — but they are often important ones. Repairmen are on call for emergencies. Garagemen are busy checking and equipping trucks for the next day's work. Building service workers are ready offices for the coming day. All have an important part in keeping your service reliable.

WE'RE ALWAYS HUNTING TROUBLE — before it starts. And the hunt goes on through the night hours. In fact, many maintenance jobs are done at night. Wires are checked with electronic testers (above). Sensitive switching equipment is vacuum-cleaned. Every possible precaution is taken to make sure that you will have instant service whenever you want it — day or night.

Like pilgrims going to Mecca, thousands upon thousands of Americans make an annual tour of the office of the Bureau of Internal Revenue each year and the Midland office is no exception. As the Ides of March looms closer upon the citizens, brains become fuddled and brows furrowed. Some who wait outside the anteroom, like recruits getting their first shots, pace now and then, smoke more than need be and gaze aimlessly at the long hollow corridor, down which some must feel as if they have just taken the "last walk" to the hot seat.

Not all are worried, not all are exactly calm—generally there is just an atmosphere of wonderment about "what can that government man do for me." And after all, that's what they came for, help.

The Bad News

The tax men realize that and their attitude is one of genuine helpfulness. Not everything they help with is sweet; some aid may seem slightly bitter to the taxpayer, especially when he finds out he must return to the government more than he had anticipated.

When bad news does come to John Doakes, the agents act with discretion and understanding, trying to point out where slip-ups were made along the line, whether it be the fault of an individual, an employer, or the government.

An extreme example of hardship was noted in the case of a man who had been ill most of the year and had earned barely over $700 last year. Still, according to regulations, he had to pay his tax. It was one of those cases which the agents here wished could have been different.

Question Not Meant

On the lighter side practically

Margin Requirement On Stock Purchases Shaved To New Low

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market got its long hoped for shot in the arm late Friday when margin requirements were cut by the Federal Reserve Board.

The reduction in the required down payment on securities to 50 per cent from 75 per cent was a goal long sought in Wall Street.

It was too late to affect trading in the last week, when volume touched the lowest daily average since the final week in October.

Brokers have argued heatedly that the government was unfair to investors because it required them to make what amounted to a 75 per cent down payment on stocks, whereas purchasers of consumer goods were permitted to buy automobiles, television sets and other such items with much smaller down payments or none at all.

every day someone contacts the revenue office with a story which bears conclusive evidence that people really are more fun than monkeys.

Recently a rather elderly maiden schoolteacher, retired, primly asked an agent for help with the not-exactly-simple four page return form. Starting on the preliminaries he cautiously asked the woman her age. "I don't see that it's any of your business," she replied matronly. "Well it might save you a hundred dollars or so if you're over 65," he told her. "I'm 83 years old," she snapped back proudly, and a bond of cooperation was established quickly.

A young housewife doing her ironing one afternoon suddenly was stricken with an inspiration and rushed to a telephone, positive she had found a sure-fire way to save some money. "We paid more than $600 in taxes last year," she told the agent. "We can count that as an expense exemption this year, can't we?"

The Stork Helps

And then there was the happy Midlander whose wife was visited by the stork at 10:30 p.m., December 31, adding another exemption for the whole year.

A minister of the gospel got in to a discussion with one of the Midland agents on the subject of prohibition, which eventually wound up with some subtle conclusions on tax hedging.

"Although I don't drink myself, I still don't believe in prohibition," the agent said.

"Why not?" asked the astonished minister.

People Are Human

"Because I lived during the time it was tried and it didn't work. People being human will get what they want, especially if you tell them they can't have it. Consequently many of them were handicapped seriously or died due to bad whiskey smuggled in dark places."

The agent was warmed up to his subject. "Do you think it's just as bad for a man to steal or lie as to take a drink?"

The preacher pondered a moment. Yes, he agreed it was. "Well it amounts to about the same thing if a man pads up or withholds information on his tax return, right?"

The pastor agreed again. "Well, it's my guess that juggling around with taxes sends more people to purgatory every year than all the other sins put together," he good-naturedly told the preacher.

They both laughed heartily over that sage observation and went out to find a good cup of coffee.

NEW YORK—New York City is 300 years old. So what? Well, in the three centuries since Peter Stuyvesant stomped around Manhattan with his wooden leg, the city has grown from eight hundred to eight million humans—to say nothing of the pigeons and dogs. It is a city of contrasts, of great men and great scandals, of little people and little things. People here don't stop their endless, seemingly-aimless rushing around to celebrate this birthday. The lighted spire of the Empire State Building at night does appear to be a single festive candle for the occasion.

They are taking something out of the heart of New York. It is the mellowing, gold-domed building of the old World, probably the most famous newspaper of yesterday. With Ray Erwin, former star reporter of the Sun, another past landmark of journalism nearby, I went to see the venerable building which the city soon will tear down to make way for the new Brooklyn Bridge approach. Over its gilded dome hung an aura of nostalgia; from its now-dark windows, genial ghosts of newspaperdom's great seemed to stare. When Joseph Pulitzer erected this 14-story building in 1890, it was the tallest in New York. In the 40 years of its fabulous existence, the World had on its staff Heywood Brown, Albert Payson Terhune, Rollin Kirby, Walter Lippmann and Charles S. Hand, among others. Also, my friend, Herbert Bayard Swope who came in on election nights in a top hat; Martin Green to whom I had a letter when I came to New York in 1939; and John Warren—who wrote it—assistant to the infamous Charles Chaplin, meanest city editor in the world—small letters or capitalized. As Ray and I rambled through the arc, foregone institution, we felt keenly how much it would be missed. With it goes the symbol of a golden era of journalism, a historic phase which, though it had to give way, will long be remembered.

The main Army recruiting station in this city is so old that the enlisted men have dubbed it, "Cockroach Castle." Those in charge maintain their sense of humor in their work too, as for instance last week when a letter was received from a disturbed mother who said that her two sons, just out of the service, would not eat her cooking anymore! She wanted Army menus and recipes to use—so they could eat the chow they were used to. When given this assistance, the mother commented: "I'll follow it to the letter—and then they can either eat it or leave it!"

Here for the National Book Awards meeting was able and genial Ralph Morrissey, book editor of the Nashville Tennessean. He took time out from talking to such notables as Archibald MacLeish, Bernard DeVoto and William Faulkner to go down to Gimbel's big store and make a purchase for his children from the famous stamp collection. Faulkner, the Nobel Prize winner, whom he met for the first time, seemed "so engrossed in his art that he is detached from the world." Ralph gets to Gotham every year, knows its bigness but feels that folks here are as friendly as they are in Nashville or anywhere else. He himself is writing a book on famous pipes smoked by famous writers.

Sitting in the lobby of a radio network office here, I noticed a little boy, shabbily dressed and evidently from the slums, timidly approach the girl at the desk. She looked inquiringly at him and he finally got up courage enough to ask if he could speak to Henry Gladstone, the commentator. The girl shook her head sadly, explained that Gladstone is in Chicago. The little one's face fell about a mile as he went disappointedly away, feeling now so far from the admired one he had thought so close.

Here's a local one for the Lincoln collection of stories: a New York firm applied to Lincoln some years before he was President for information as to the financial standing of one of his neighbors. Here was the answer: "Yours of the 10th received. First of all, he has a wife and baby; together they ought to be worth $50,000 to any man. Secondly, he has an office in which there is a table worth $1.50 and three chairs worth, say, $1. Last of all, there is in one corner a large rat hole which will bear looking into. Respectfully, A. Lincoln."

SHATTERING BLOW—Flattened by a terrific gale as if they were so many cornstalks, hundreds of trees lie torn to pieces in Carlogie forest, in northeast Scotland. Damage "almost beyond belief" included destruction of 10,000 acres of forest land covered with 5,000,000 cubic feet of timber valued at some $7,000,000.

Laredo Grand Jury Files Vice Charges

LAREDO —(AP)— A Mexican newspaper publisher in Nuevo Laredo faces charges of printing indecent matter after indictment here by a grand jury.

The grand jury also indicted three men here Friday on charges of sodomy.

The publisher is Heriberto Deandar Amador of El Manana, morning daily published in Nuevo Laredo. The grand jury said rumors of homosexuality reported in the paper had been "greatly exaggerated." Sufficient evidence for three sodomy charges was found, however, the report said.

Silver Strings Slate Concert On Tuesday

The Silver Strings of Midland will present a concert under the auspices of the Midland Music Club at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the North Elementary School. The public is invited to attend.

The Silver Strings ensemble was started about seven years ago by Mrs. Benton Howell, Mrs. E. S. Hitchcock and Mrs. Ben Dausby, Jr. The group now has nine members and its annual concerts have become a highlight of the musical season.

Besides the original members, Mrs. Howell who directs the ensemble and plays first violin, and Mrs. Hitchcock, who has switched from violin to viola, the group includes Mrs. Turner Wynn and Mrs. Jack Carmichael, violins; Mrs. Charles Henderson and Mrs. A. G. Bruton, cellos; Mrs. Sam Geffen, bass, and Mrs. E. W. Vanderpool, piano. Mrs. Stanley Smith, violinist, also is a member, but will be unable to play Tuesday.

In addition to the annual concerts, the Silver Strings have played for P-TA meetings, school assemblies and other civic enterprises to promote the cause of good music.

For their 1953 concert the Silver Strings have chosen first, Bach's "Fugue in G Major." This work, written for organ and transcribed by George Volkel, is especially interesting to students of string music because it displays each member of the string family to advantage, and gives an important role to the double bass, which is used by later composers largely as a rhythm instrument.

The next number, Handel's "Concerto Grosso No. 2," is a fine example of Handel's writing for strings and again gives each instrument an opportunity to play a solo part as well as to play tutti passages of a symphonic nature.

Program Continued
The Handel selections will be followed by Schubert's "Quintet in C Major," one of Schubert's last works, composed when he was on the point of giving up song writing and devoting himself to more comprehensive works. The distinguishing feature of this piece is that the fifth instrument added to the usual quartet is a cello rather than another violin.

The "Dance of the Mirlitons" from "Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite" is in light vein and is an old favorite of most concert-goers. The word mirliton is sometimes translated as "reed flute" but "toy flute" is more accurate as the mirliton was the equivalent of our kazoo or tissue paper on a comb.

The program will conclude with the "Gopak" from Moussorgsky's "Fair at Sorochinsk," a rousing dance, and "Plink, Plank, Plunk" by Leroy Anderson. Anderson is a contemporary American who has won popularity with both classical and popular music lovers with such compositions as "The Syncopated Clock" and "Blue Tango."

Mrs. Phillips Slated To Give Talk On Sunday

An address will be given by Mrs. Edith Phillips of Plainview at 2 p.m. Sunday in the St. Ann's School Auditorium under the auspices of the St. Ann's Altar Society.

Mrs. Phillips will talk on her experiences in France, where she served as a volunteer nurse at Lourdes, helping to care for the sick and crippled persons who visited the shrine there.

Mrs. Phillips also has had a personal interview with Therese Neumann of Konnersreuth, Bavaria, and attended a woman's retreat at the Trappist Monastery in Ireland.

Now serving as dean of teen-age girls in the Plainview public schools, Mrs. Phillips was born in Stanton and was educated in the Catholic convent formerly located there.

For a number of years, she lived in Fort Stockton, later going to El Paso, where she taught in the public schools.

The public is invited to hear Mrs. Phillips when she speaks here Sunday.

Big United Store Sale To Conclude Business In City

United, Inc., Department Store at 121 North Main Street will open its final big sale in Midland Thursday—a going-out-of-business sale.

Ben I. Stein, United district manager from El Paso, said the building which the store now occupies has been sold and the firm is unable to find a new location here. Thus, he said, the going-out-of-business is genuine.

There is no time limit on the sale. It will last until everything in the building—including the fixtures—has been sold. The store handles dry goods and women's and children's ready-to-wear items.

FROM ANDREWS
Mrs. Sam Smith and Mrs. Virgil Brooks visited last week in the home of the former's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Helm.

Designer Creates New-Style Sun Specs

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

For years the goggle type of sunglasses has been a cartoon symbol of Summer and Winter resorts.

Model wears new sun glasses with shallow curve that lifts eye line becomingly and avoids white circles beneath eyes.

Girls went around in those places hiding not only their eyes but half their faces from the sun and from their fellow vacationers' gaze. The results were a slightly affected look to those girls and round, white circles spoiling their tans. Now designer Claire McCardell has supplied a remedy for this situation. She has designed a sun spec that will flatter many girls' faces and protect the eyes only, while allowing the sun to tan the area just above and below the eyes. A gentle, shallow curve lifts the eye-line with a fascinating slant.

You may have these glasses in black, white or a choice of pastels to go with your Summer and resort outfits. The frames are of opaque plastic and the green lenses are six-base curved, ground and polished by a famous optical company.

It's a good idea to do without your sunglasses whenever possible. Don't put them on first thing in the morning when the sun is at a slant that can't hurt your eyes.

Take them off when you come into the house out of the sun, and don't wear them beyond the afternoon hour when the sun's rays become benign. Remember that glare from white sidewalks, sand, water and sky is as hard on your eyes as sun itself and you won't need your glasses as much where there is much grass and trees.

Some girls wear their sunglasses almost constantly in Summer. This is definitely weakening to the eyes, because it makes them unable to adjust easily. However, it is just as bad to try, as a few do, to let your eyes "get used to" the sun. One can only develop squint lines and red rims that way. So wear sunglasses whenever necessary, but don't overdo them.

If your eye physician has given you special directions in regard to the use of sunglasses, you will, of course, follow them to the letter.

Where Silence Is Eloquent!

Have you ever heard a 1953 Cadillac?

The odds are that you haven't—unless you've listened quite carefully.

For it is a literal fact that you must concentrate to detect the sound of a Cadillac car in motion... save for the soft song of the passing wind and the quiet hum of the tires on the pavement.

Even that great, powerful engine never raises its voice above a whisper!

It tells of Cadillac's rigid adherence to the highest standards of automotive construction...

... of the great engineering that enables every part of the car to perform in perfect harmony

... of the magnificent styling and design that give the car its smooth, easy, steady, floating ride

... and of the flawless craftsmanship that keeps the car so unbelievably free from vibration through the miles and the years.

And, of course, it speaks with equal clarity of the many things a Cadillac provides its owner.

It foretells mile after mile of extraordinary dependability and a minimum of upkeep expense.

And, of course, it prophesies longevity... and, hence, bespeaks the wisdom and soundness of its owner's investment.

Yes, the quiet of the Cadillac car tells a wonderful story all of its own. And it's one that we think you should "hear" for yourself.

Why not come in soon—and spend an hour with a 1953 Cadillac?

We think you'll agree that silence was never more eloquent.

Exclusive New MHS Club Increases Your Popularity

By MARY JANE MILLER

Join the "I Hate Teachers" club now. This great opportunity is now open to all Midland High School students. The rules are quite simple, and you need only follow "the ones adaptable to your special talents." Here are a few examples to follow:

to be qualified:
Be late to all classes at least half of the time. When entering a classroom late, glare at the teacher and insinuate that he started the class 10 minutes early.

Talk to one or more of your classmates in a whisper just loud enough for the instructor to hear you, but not loud enough for him to understand the words.

Fifteen minutes before the end of the class hour, begin to stack your books neatly, put on your coat and look expectantly toward the door. Keep an eye on your watch throughout the entire period and the other eye looking out the window. If a window isn't handy, stare at the ceiling from time to time.

Laugh Like Crazy
Laugh at everything even remotely amusing, except your instructor's witticisms.

Keep a list of excuses to leave classes handy and usable at all times, and make sure they are used at least once a week so they won't ferment.

If you must ask a question, be sure that it is completely off the subject or one that the professor cannot answer.

Now that you have read the qualifications, see if you fit the rules. There is no fee to join this club, it is entirely run by the students. There will be no sponsor and tuition is a report card with all F's and V. P. in citizenship.

Speech Class Presents Play

"The Lost Weekend," an exciting two-act play written and presented by Miss Harris' second period speech class, was given in assembly Tuesday. Those who wrote the script were: Darleen Adamson, Sally Breeze, Allen McCree, Bill Mims and Addison Young.

Members of the cast were: Helen Zant, Jack Shirley, Stanley Williams, Addison Young, Darleen Adamson, Sharon Blittick, Bill Fannin, Sally Breeze, Margaret Gibson, Mike Flood, Jack Harris, Eddie Hill, Patsy Johnson, Mary Ann Hill, Ronald Jones, Allen McCree, Ellis Long, Sylvia Metz, Barbara Munson, Shirley Robertson, Bill Mims, Joe Patton, Phillip McFadden, Phyllis Pryor, Sonley Roush, Roy Thomas and Barbara Tom.

Have You Met...

Bill Burks from Paris, Texas? He moved here only two weeks ago and already says "I like it here a lot." He lives at 1710 South Big Spring Street and has a younger brother. His schedule includes A Cappella, business English, American history and typing II. Five feet 11 inches tall with brown hair and blue eyes, he was photographer for the Paris annual three years and was a member of the "Tri Hi." Easy going, he has no pet peeve and his favorite pastime is reading. His favorite sports are baseball and football and after living in Paris all his life lists his most exciting experience as moving here to Midland.

Lloyd Bender from Seattle, Wash? He is classified as a sophomore and is the youngest of 14 children. His schedule includes English 22, English 32, geometry, biology, and P.E. In Seattle he was vice president of the freshman class and again of the sophomore class and a member of the "D" Club which is for lettermen. His pet peeve is hearing our Southern "you-all," but in spite of it he likes it here very much, especially all the friendly people he has met. His favorite pastime is being lazy, doing nothing. His favorite sports are golf, football, in which he lettered two years, and he and his brother hold the Washington State passing and receiving record, and baseball and track in which he lettered one year. He lists his most exciting experience as (and it's really a chiller) being locked in an ice house for two hours.

17 Seniors Named On Who's Who List
On Friday, February 13, at 8 a.m. a group made up of eight teachers, six juniors and six sophomores met and selected the students for Who's Who. Selected on the basis of grades, character, leadership, and service, were 17 very highly honored students. All being seniors, they were:

- Ellis Long, Bill Aldrich, Gaylon Hammans, Roddy Braun, Clayton Tatom, Patsy Yeager, Wesley Pittman, Elaine Johnson, Ardith Campbell and Don Dwight.
- Don Fritz, Ann Kenamer, Katherine Carter, Robert Stubbeman, Bill Robitsek, Ruth Nell Kuykendall and Keyes Curry.

Three years ago students were debating whether Mrs. Parr, English teacher and Bulldog sponsor, was "loco" or "loca." This question was raised when, in third-period Spanish class, one student (un-named) said, "La Senora Parr es loco." "Oh, no," said Miss Jackson, the Spanish teacher. "She is loco, loco is masculine." The Bulldog staff was selling tickets to the oncoming de-nouement.

The Youth Center was sponsoring a dance class to teach students how to do the modern dances. A modern dance is one that has developed by leaps and bounds.

The seniors literally received a shot in the arm when they were vaccinated for the TB patch test.

Some students were worried because they looked messy after a day's hard work. Never mind that, the shirt that never wrinkles is likely to be stuffed.

Some students when asked, said that they like to gamble, but we've convinced that the best way to double your money is to fold it and put it in your pocket.

BULLDOG EDITORIAL

Are you a "Forgetful Sally" who always leaves her books at home or in her locker instead of taking them to class? If you are, this editorial was written for you.

You always can recognize Sally, because she's the one who asks the teacher if she may go to her locker for her forgotten books. (You probably know how the teacher loses this.)

And of course, books aren't the only things she leaves behind. Pencils, paper, everything that Sally needs. Who cares? She can always borrow from her best friend or the boy across the aisle. Poor Sally, she won't have a best friend very long, in fact she may lose all her friends. All because Sally is forgetful and has to borrow.

So don't be like Sally. Bring everything to class you need the first time. Keep your friends, your teachers' admiration, and your grades, by just this simple code. Remember!—Barbara Blossom.

The Bulldogs dropped their final game of the season to Odessa Tuesday night, 53-49. The Bronchos led all the way in a close one, until late in the fourth quarter when a long shot by Roy Kinsey, who had a great night making 24 points, whished through the net and tied up the game. In the next few minutes though, the over-eager Bulldogs got too rough trying to get the ball and the Bronchos made the winning margin on free throws.

The two K's in the lineup took the whole show with Kinsey's 24 points and Robert Keisling right behind him with 21.

I hate to say it but I was ashamed of the student body for their conduct during the Odessa game. To make things worse, they were led by the cheerleaders. We, of course, mean the yelling and clapping when the Odessans received free throws near the end of the game. As it was, the noise did no good as every shot was made.

but... if one of the shots had been missed the referee might possibly have given him another, and that shot could have beaten us. This has no bearing on Tuesday's game but it has happened in the past and the lack of sportsmanship makes the school look bad.

The roughneck tactics of the team hasn't looked too good either. But, so it goes with a basketball team of football players.

The Bulldogs tennis team, after having three out of four matches cancelled the week before, had three more matches on tap last week. The team traveled to Pyote Wednesday and to Snyder Friday.

The off-again-on-again match with Odessa was reset for Thursday after being postponed twice the previous week. Last Saturday the netters engaged in their fourth match of the year, dropping 13-8 to San Angelo.

Singles wins for the Midland team were scored by John McGuigan, Clayton Tatom, Charles Bleker, Ellen DeChiclis, and Janna Murray. The win was the fifth in six tries for DeChiclis.

Hopefuls for the baseball team have been working out the last two weeks and several more joined the team Wednesday following the end of the basketball season. The team is being coached by Keith Bobo, and as soon as all the members get settled down we'll have a list of them. Probably next week. At the present there are about 30 boys out, but this number will diminish in the next few weeks as the "weed-out" already has begun.

The Spring drills for the football squad began last week. With the loss of 21 men from the '52 squad the team is switching from the old single wing attack to the T-formation. Due to the over-emphasis of football in Midland the last few years, 'nuf sed.

Dances were held for the clinic students with music being furnished by Charles Lee Hill's dance band, "The Houstonians."

The Southern Methodist University of Texas concert bands presented programs for the clinic students. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mills, Mrs. Ted James, Mr. Robert Gans, Mrs. L. E. Patterson, and Mrs. Vernon Yearby accompanied the students to Galveston.

Continuity For Film Written By Students
"Run that by again. What time did you get on that?"... These are just a few of the comments heard last Wednesday in the visual aid room when seven students began to write the script for a film being made about Midland High School by Mr. Raymond Leggett. These students, chosen from the English classes, will write the narrative for the sound track of the movie which will be presented in various civic clubs upon completion.

Those students working on the film are Elaine Johnson, Katherine Carter, Don Dwight, Wesley Pittman, Clayton Tatom, Addison Young and Bill Robitsek.

Miss Mystery

Say, Who's This Lassie?

Aln't she cute! Junior miss at the tender age of two. But who is she? If you know, you'll see she's grown up quite a bit since then—in fact, into a five-foot seven-inch senior with sparkling green eyes and light brown hair to set off her pleasant smile.

Miss Mystery has been seen in many school plays, debates, and other speech activities; she is a staunch supporter in the music department (also takes piano and voice lessons). Because of these efforts she's not only in the Thespians' club and Music Appreciation, but the National Honor Society has her as a member also.

This senior who has lived here many years and had five brothers and sisters to graduate from Midland High School before her, loves to travel and has journeyed through most of the Western states and Canada. However, the great ambition is to go to Europe some day and visit Germany in particular. Some would think although, that her biggest ambition of all is to visit Ahlens weekend!

As pastimes Miss Mystery loves to play tennis and ping pong and to read and eat; but her pet diversion is doing gymnastic exercises. That explains for her neat and trim figure!

Well, who is this outstanding student? Enough hints have been given! Take a guess.

Winner for guessing last week's mystery student, Tom Dyer, was Bill Mims. Congrats, old boy!

On my first rally into Journalism class (by the way, I wonder what's become of Sally?), my teacher asked me if I would like to write the "Remember When" column. I was very anxious to write this, for it was just what I had been waiting for, for, oh, five or six minutes, at least. That's how I began as a columnist. There were, I believe, four other columnists at the time, so I became, naturally, a fifth columnist (laughter). Since then I have written a column every week and thought nothing of it. (my readers no doubt, think likewise) By the way, those who read this (ha-ha) column will notice that it has been changed back to its original style. Now, let us begin the beguine. Not too long ago, Texas Western College presented an enjoyable and entertaining program in the MHS auditorium. The theme of the program was built around the adventures of a Midland High School student, who after graduating from Midland High decided to attend educational you-know-where.

The debate teams journeyed to Waco last week. Speech students who made the trip were Royce Measures, Wesley Pittman, Dick Countiss, Charles Whitmore, James Johnson, Walter Greenin, Beverly Smith and Sandra MacMath. A complete story and the results of the Waco trip will appear in the next issue of The Bulldog.

Last Tuesday night, the Festival of Song, under the direction of Laura Hoggard, was presented under the auspices of the Midland Civic Music Association in the MHS auditorium. Many teenagers were in attendance at this wonderful production.

The book of the week is "Men of Art" by Thomas Craven. This book is obtainable at the public library.

Judy Edwards, a nice looking junior girl with artistic features, posed as a model for Mr. Buckley MacGurrin's night art course last week. The results were reported favorable. Judy made a very nice model. Therefore: the Kulturite of the week is Judy Edwards.

An art exhibit was on display last week in room 211. It was an exhibit of Miss Spellman, a TSCW teacher.

The Saturday Teen Review had two guest vocalists on the show last week in the persons of Ruth Ann Rhodes and David Breth. Mike Flood acted as emcee.

In closing we hope you enjoyed "Oklahoma."

VIA THE GRAPEVINE

By CAROL GARRISON and MARY JANE MILLER

Many exciting things have happened this week, and we shall begin telling you about them with the skating party held by Odessa Saturday night. There was a contest to see which person could fall down the most. Participating were: Yvonne Stain, Wayne Cooper, Ray Miles, Mary J. Miller, Carol Garrison and Charlie Crites.

Everyone is invited to the weekly Sunday picnics held at Cole Park. The people who do not have rides, and who want to go, only have to do the following: Be up at the Youth Center around 3 p.m. Sunday, and bring your own food. Someone will furnish a ride out there and back. We can assure you that you will enjoy yourself thoroughly.

Last week there was a Stag Party held at David Breth's house and 50 boys were invited. How was the party, or are all the boys still asleep?

From what we hear, Becky Jones, Ronald Pope, Bobby Pittman and everybody else who went had a wonderful time at the Western dance they went to in Odessa last Saturday night.

We are sorry to have Bobby Moss move to Dallas, but we are glad to hear that Nancy is going to stay here and live with her grandmother. Elaine Johnson has gone to Wichita Falls this weekend. Margaret Gandy has gone to Seymour for the weekend.

Joe Cates, do you have a habit of talking to any girl who phones you at any hour of the morning? By the way who were they?

What were the interesting and amazing sights seen by Bill Aldrich, Phil McFadden, Marshall Chase, Ed Patterson and Jackie Matthews in Galveston one night while they were there on the band trip?

It seems that half of the Midland population was out of town last weekend. Ardith Campbell went to Lubbock for a wedding. Also Don Forrest, John Petty and Jimmie Counts went to Lubbock. They got stag bids to a sorority dance. Robert Payne went to Austin to enroll in Summer school at the University of Texas.

There was a larger turnout than usual at the basketball game Tuesday night. It seems that the school spirit is picking up. Thanks go to Coach Jones for reminding the girls that they should cooperate more than they have been lately. From now on, girls, let's put ourselves out a little more for the school and the school functions. Let's everyone go to all the athletic games and yell like mad!!!

At lunch Tuesday at school, a few girls were taking pictures, until someone (meaning Jerry Ball) pushed them into the stickers. Two of the girls were Pat Frack and Sylvia Smith.

Midland High School students seen at the Fred Waring show, the Festival of Song, were: Nancy Klingler, Mary Ann Hill, Mimi Speed, Margaret Gandy, Anne and Joan Fitzgerald and Benny Bedford.

After the basketball game everyone went to the YC and danced. There were a lot of kids from Odessa, and we sure enjoyed having them come to the game and to the YC. The floor was so slippery after the scrubbing job that was done, that everyone went around holding everyone up. Even with this help there were a few slip-ups. No broken bones though.

Jimmy Clayborn, Buddy McDonald, and Frank Midkiff went to Kerrville this last weekend, and visited with Buddy and Frank's cousin. They also went to San Antonio visiting.

Every time a boy gets a pretty shirt that he would like to keep for his very own, a girl has a mad desire to take it away from him. Usually the girl can persuade the boy to give up his shirt. The boy probably feels as if it is easier to give up the shirt than to have the girl keep asking for it. Boys, watch out for your shirts from now on, because girls have gone crazy over bright, and loud Western shirts. Some of the girls wearing Western shirts are Ruth Ann Dickerson, Barbara Cline, Betty Bolton, Nell Curran and Yvonne Shain.

Ask Snookie Roberts, John Blackman, Mona Leigh and Bill Mayfield if they go hungry Sunday. It seems they had to wait for their supper an uncomfortably long time. Was it worth it? I guess it was, the way all the fried chicken disappeared.

There was a midnight show Thursday night, and from what we hear it was some show. Everything from The Wolf Man to the Voo-Doo Woman.

We all missed Toots Miller, Grace Boles, Barbara McMillan, and all the rest of the kids that were absent from school this last week from sickness or another. We are glad to see them up and around again.

Americans Have Better Health But Germans Enjoy Life More

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram
Special Correspondent

MUNICH, GERMANY — Being "sick" from the office does not always relate to one's health—and Col. B. Dixon Holland, native Texan and staff medical officer of the Southern Area Command has figures to prove it.

"It's interesting," the colonel pointed out, "that people are 'sick' from the office on Mondays.

His survey was conducted among thousands of civilian workers, German and American, in the Munich metropolitan area.

Oddly enough, the "day after pay day" also is occasion for an outbreak of "illness" among employees.

The Peak Day

Peak day for absenteeism was reached, so far, "on the day after Labor Day," with the German period of "Fasching" where all-night parties are fashionable expected to bring a new outcrop of "sickness."

"Our study would prove absenteeism is not strictly regulated to health," the colonel observed.

As staff officer for the Southern Area Command, an area covering almost three fourths of all the United States' zone of occupied Germany, Colonel Holland acts as adviser to the commanding general on all matters affecting the health of military personnel and their dependents.

"It particularly entails measures for the protection of health," he stressed, "as well as the treatment for the sick and injured."

His job may be likened to that of a state health officer.

It is to the credit of such men as Colonel Holland that Americans in Europe can enjoy health on the same level as they do in the sanitary-conscious U. S. A.

"This requires eternal vigilance on our part," the Texan admitted.

While Germans are suffering and dying from outbreaks of such diseases as typhoid and tuberculosis, Americans living in the same communities have been untouched, he pointed out.

"We believe our health teachings and immunization programs have paid off," he stated.

Sanitary Conditions

In Stuttgart, there have been 500 to 600 cases of typhoid among the Germans, while American doctors "would be disgraced to have even a few cases," he pointed out.

Sanitary conditions in Germany "are not up to Stateside standards, and that's putting it mildly," the colonel said.

The American health program includes stressing to military personnel and their families "that they must be careful what they eat in German restaurants, and to avoid especially dairy products, raw vegetables and meat that has not been cooked well."

Because there is little refrigeration in Europe, meat "can be easily contaminated," he believes.

Appreciate America

As far as German advances in medicine, the Texan stated "It has been an American habit to look from afar with awe and respect, but now we have discovered it is not what it is cracked up to be."

There is much to appreciate about America, once you stay in Germany awhile.

"We have it all over them in technology, in precision instruments, industrialization, science, yes, medicine, too."

There is just one thing the Germans know more about than Americans, he admitted:

They Enjoy It

"They know how to live better than we do."

Most Americans don't like to admit this, he observed, but "in culture and the art of living" the Germans could teach Americans much.

"What happens," he continued, "We have the best health standards. Physical bodies strong enough to outlive anyone. Then we rush madly after material accumulation, and die with a heart seizure."

Now Americans are in Europe attempting to "hurry" the slow Europeans.

Generally the Europeans are not to be "hurried."

Many Americans call them "lazy" and a few like Colonel Holland, think Americans might learn from them a better way of life—along with their own "most sanitary" way of life.

Regular Army

Colonel Holland was born in Cumby, Texas, in Hopkins County. His mother, Mrs. Ethel Dixon Holland now resides in Austin.

He was graduated as valedictorian of his class from Denton High School in 1927, and attended the University of Texas in Austin and the medical school in Galveston. In 1937 he joined the regular Army in Oregon, and served in Jamaica and Puerto Rico. From 1944 until 1945 when the camp closed, he was director of training at Camp Barkley, Abilene. He has been overseas since 1949.

Colonel Holland is married to the former Marjorie Keis of Galveston. They have two girls, Dorothy Eugenia, 14, and Carolyn Elaine, 14.

They have traveled "through Europe and like best Rome, because it combines the modern with the grandeur of the past" and Spain, "because it has plains and rolling hills and a beautiful sky and looks like Texas."

NUNS IMPRISONED BY REDS RELEASED—These Roman Catholic nuns, Mother St. Aubert of Noyant, France, and Mother Maria Dos Prazeres, right, of Portugal, are shown as they arrived in Hong Kong after their release from a Chinese Communist prison. They were imprisoned in 1951, charged with the "murder" of orphan children left in their care. Red officials told them they were "no longer guilty" and commuted their 10 year prison sentence.

Trenton-Six Murder Trial Books Closed

TRENTON, N. J.—(AP)—New Jersey finally has concluded the five-year-old Trenton - six murder case which drew nation-wide attention.

The last defendant, Ralph Cooper, pleaded no defense Friday and was sentenced to six to 10 years in state prison.

Cooper and five other negroes were accused of beating to death elderly Trenton storekeeper William Horner with a pop bottle during a holdup Jan. 27, 1948.

All six originally were convicted and sentenced to die in the electric chair in August 1948. But after numerous appeals and several trials, four eventually were acquitted and one died in prison while awaiting his fourth trial for the crime.

Midland Plumbing Concern Purchased By C. A. Gray

C. A. Gray of Midland recently purchased the Heath Plumbing Company, at 119 North Weatherford Street and will operate the business under the name of C. A. Gray Plumbing and Heating Company.

Gray, who has been in the plumbing and heating business for 26 years, is well known in Midland and the Permian Basin for his excellent work both commercial and residential.

One of the current jobs being handled by the C. A. Gray Plumbing and Heating Company is the "True-Land" housing project north of Midland. He is equipping the 119 homes now under construction there with both heating and plumbing.

The new plumbing company will install all types of heating units including floor furnaces, Panel-Ray wall heaters and forced air heating equipment.

No plumbing job is too big or too small for C. A. Gray, whether it be installation of new plumbing or repair of old.

All popular brands of plumbing fixtures can be obtained at the shop which features Crane, Standard, Eiler, and Kohler.

Ted Heath, former owner of the Heath Plumbing Company, is erecting a new building immediately to the south of the C. A. Gray company and will go into the home appliance business, on an expanded scale.

His present stock of appliance merchandise is in the front part of the C. A. Gray store. He is a dealer for the Gibson electric ranges, refrigerators, the Dexter and Blackstone automatic washing machines and the Chambers gas ranges.

Villagers Rescue Doomed Timepiece

GOSHEN, N. Y.—(AP)—When the village board recently found itself hard-pressed for funds to repair the village clock in the Presbyterian Church tower, out-of-town help saved the day.

John W. Richardson of White Plains sent word that he would put up $600 of the estimated $1,800 repair cost because as a boy at the village school he learned to tell time by the village clock. Another Goshen native, Dr. Hudson Thompson, offered to match the amount as a memorial to a beloved uncle, former organist at the church. The village now thinks it may be able to scrape up the other $600 if sentiment does not move other individuals to contribute.

It was just 100 years ago that subscribers to a town clock fund first decided to give a timepiece to the village.

Chile, Argentina Protest To Britain

SANTIAGO, CHILE—(AP)—Chile and Argentina filed protest notes to Britain Friday night, demanding that she rebuild their dismantled installations on Deception Island in the Antarctic. Chile threatened to take the dispute to the Organization of American States.

The complaints replied to formal British protests that the two South American countries had violated British territory by erecting the installations on Deception. The London government announced two days ago that British authorities had torn down the buildings and deported two Argentines from the disputed area.
