U. S. Charges Russia Now At War

Self-Defense Plea Entered By Benivides

Thirty-year-old Martin Benivides reenacted in 70th District Court Wednesday the slaying of a 65-year-old Midland laborer reputed to be a one-time member of the band of the famed Pancho Villa.

The dramatic reenactment with District Attorney Warren Burnett posing as the victim came near the close of the trial of Benivides on a charge of murder in the shooting last August of Juan Canales.

Both sides completed their cases shortly before noon and Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton was to present the charge to the 12-man jury Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the jury, the selection of which was completed at 6 p.m. Tuesday, are Edwin C. Hall, J. A. Pliska, G. L. Dawkins, A. J. Bedford, James A. Rogers, Ralph H. Wallace, J. M. Amis, F. G. Abbott, W. C. Tillman, William N. Matthews and Morris Cooper.

'He Pulled Out A Knife'

"He reached at his waist and pulled out a knife and I shot," Benivides, a shortstop on the Midland Colts baseball team, told the jury under questioning by Defense Council Raymond Wier of Odessa.

"I ran out of the bar and I chased me. He fell in the road and I went on to the home of a friend and said I'd shot a man. Then I went to City Hall and gave myself up."

It was because of an incident at a baseball game that the argument leading to the killing started, although Benivides said he had never seen Canales before in his life.

The Colts had been playing an Odessa Latin American team a couple of weeks previously and Midland Manager Fred Ramirez, who also operates the Rancho Bar, where the shooting took place, became involved in an argument with an Odessa player.

Bar Operator Testifies

On August 31, he said, he went into the El Charro Cafe in the 400 block of North Lamesa Road.

"As I walked inside," he related as the first state witness, "Martin hit me on the arm and we started talking. He started kidding me about that fight at the baseball game."

"Was he trying to start trouble?" asked Burnett.

"I don't think so. But I left when he started to put his hand in his pocket," answered Ramirez.

He said he left the cafe and went to his own bar across the street at 407 North Lamesa Road.

"I went in and was drinking a 7-Up when he came in and kicked my feet," he continued. "We started horsingplay. He fell and got up and took his watch off. He said 'You think you're smart' and reached in his pocket. I saw the butt of a gun."

Canales Steps In

"Old man Canales stepped in and said 'Here' and Martin shot him," Ramirez added that Canales made no threat and had no weapon in his hand.

Canales ran from the bar and collapsed outside.

Under cross-examination, he said he had known Canales for a long period of time.

"Don't you know that he was a (Continued on Page 14)

Curbs Lifted On Tobaccos, Metals, Food

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government Wednesday lifted price controls from almost all dry groceries, cigarettes, copper and aluminum.

Price Stabilizer Joseph Freehill said controls will be retained only on coffee and coffee concentrates in the dry grocery line.

Items on which controls were removed include breakfast cereals, flour, soups, jams, jellies and similar products. At the same time the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) dropped its requirement that ceiling prices be posted in stores.

Aside from a very few selected items, such as rice, controls now have been taken off practically all foods.

In the major metal fields, OPS is retaining curbs only on prices of steel and nickel.

The removal of ceilings from cigarettes also applies to other tobacco products. Cigars, however, have been free of curbs some time.

Block Of Dollars Solicitation Resumes

Sales-slowing weather cleared enough Wednesday for the Heart Fund's Block of Dollars to start the trip again. Cautious workers watched the skies and pledged to keep the dollars moving all day—if weather permits.

Duke Jemerson, chairman of the drive, said about $4,900 has been donated so far in the drive. Building workers and personal card solicitors have collected the major part of that total, he said.

Globe-Trotting Writer Suggests Midland Adopt Netherlands Town Of Ouwkerk

By GRACE HALSELL
Special Reporter-Telegram
Correspondent

THE HAGUE—An open letter to the people of Midland:

I have learned through a Midland source that you are interested in helping the flood victims of the Netherlands.

To best determine how the generous people of Midland could assist these brave, suffering people, I have flown to The Hague, located just outside Amsterdam, and have made trips by Army jeep to view the disaster area.

It is my opinion that you best could serve the Netherlands and the Dutch people by limiting your help to one small area. In this way, your assistance goes directly to the families in need and you (and more importantly, they, the victims) will be able immediately to see results from the aid given.

A finer people than the Dutch could not be helped.

They are courageous and industrious. What other race would have the patience and ingenuity literally to make new land areas by the slow and tedious task of reclamation from the sea?

That is why it is so saddening now to view their hard-earned land overrun by sea water.

The figures have been printed—

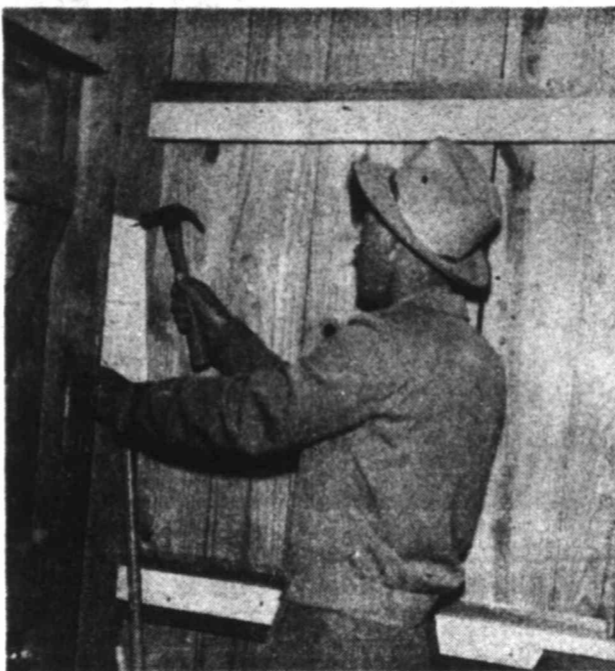

C. OF C. WILL ACCEPT GIFTS

Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing said Wednesday his office will be glad to accept funds which will be forwarded through the proper channels for relief of the people of Ouwkerk.

He said the proposed "adoption" of the stricken community appeared to be an excellent manner for the citizens of prosperous Midland to help the flood victims of the Netherlands.

The C. of C. already has received a $25 contribution which will be placed in the Ouwkerk Fund.

Gifts may be mailed to or left at the Chamber of Commerce, Midland, Texas.

CHURCH PICKETING STOPPED—A temporary restraining order removing pickets from the site of the new First Baptist Church here goes up on the contractor's shack. Ernest Neill, chairman of the church's steering committee, tucks up a copy of the order issued Tuesday by District Judge R. W. Hamilton, who will hold a hearing Saturday.

West Ministers Agree On Armies

ROME—(P)—The six foreign ministers of the European Army plan nations Wednesday reached a compromise decision reportedly settling bitter differences between France and West Germany over the European Defense Community (EDC) Treaty.

The reported agreement came as the leaders of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg held final sessions of a two-day conference aimed at cutting out some of the hurdles on the road to West European economic, political and military union.

A spokesman for the Italian Foreign Ministry said French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, at Wednesday's session, had met the objections of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer with a redrafting of the conditions France wants to attach to the already-signed but not ratified treaty to establish the one-uniform, West European Army.

Bidault and Adenauer had argued about the original French proposals at length in Tuesday's meeting, in what a German spokesman termed a "realistic" discussion.

Exact details of the agreement were not disclosed. But the Italian spokesman said the foreign ministers might make the text of their accord public at the end of their conference.

The spokesman said the agreement by all six ministers was favorable to the creation of the Army and added: "The idea of a united Europe proved stronger than nationalism."

Bidault was reported to have modified a French proposal which asked in effect that French troops be free to be sent from Europe to France's overseas territories in case of emergency.

The new quota is 113 lower than for March.

The age drop brings draft eligibility down to 19 years and six months. It was 19 years and nine months for the March call. Wakefield said boards still will be asked to fill calls as much as possible with 20-year-old and older men.

Quotas for the April induction will go to local boards the first week in March, Wakefield said. Board quotas for the April examination were mailed Tuesday.

Rainfall Continues In Texas But Fails To Find This Sector

While light rain continued in scattered parts of Texas Wednesday morning, the Permian Basin basked under a blanket of clear skies and warming sunshine.

CAA observers at the Midland Air Terminal expected the pleasant picture to hold throughout the day. The mercury had reached 48 degrees at noon, indicating a high of 60 degrees for the day. Tuesday's low reading was 32 degrees.

Although there was little runoff for depleted reservoirs, farmers in sections of Texas had received a lot of moisture for crops.

A stationary cold front hovering over Colorado Wednesday gave no hint of moving. More rain would hit Texas if the front moved southeastward against the warm Gulf air now in the area.

Soviet Press Renews Germ War Accusations

MOSCOW—(P)—The Soviet press Wednesday renewed its charges of germ warfare by United Nations forces in Korea.

Pravda's lead editorial citing purported testimony of an American Marine flier was entitled "Documents Exposing Atrocities of American Militarists."

The editorial was one of the bitterest yet on this bitter subject.

Ike Declares He's Willing To Meet 'Joe'

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Eisenhower said Wednesday it will be terrifically difficult to balance the federal budget for the fiscal year starting July 1.

In his second news conference since taking office, the President also said:

1. This country would be put in a very difficult position if it tried to repudiate all international secret agreements made during World War II.
2. He would meet with Premier Stalin or anyone else if he thought such a conference might lead to a lasting peace. The President said that, geographically speaking, he would be willing to meet at some half-way point rather than go to Russia.
3. Eisenhower stressed that any agreements resulting from such a conference would have to be iron-clad and what he described as self-enforcing.
4. And he said any such conference would have to be with the full knowledge of U. S. Allies.
5. He personally does not believe Communists should be permitted to teach in the nation's schools.
6. He does not believe Alaska has proved its case for statehood.

Angry Debate Flares At UN Panel Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(P)—Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., Wednesday charged that Russia started and is continuing the Korean war. He told the UN Political Committee there is little point in its trying to formulate new truce formulas here so long as the Soviet Union is determined to prolong the war.

Emphasizing that he spoke for a new Republican Administration, Lodge charged that Russia is "actively assisting the aggressors in Korea on a scale which makes possible the continuance of that aggression and determines its scope."

He then listed 10 facts backing up this charge which he said the world must face and challenged the Soviet Union to disprove them.

Vishinsky Argues

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky immediately took the floor to respond angrily:

"I take up the challenge which he flung and after study of the verbatim record I will answer the questions he asks."

"The rulers of the Soviet Union can stop the war whenever they want to," Lodge declared in his first UN speech as chief U. S. delegate, "and Mr. Vishinsky knows it."

Driving home his point, Lodge told an eagerly listening group which had been waiting for word from President Eisenhower's Administration on its Korean policy:

"Failure to end the fighting in Korea is not due to any lack of cleverness with words here in the United Nations. It is due to the frankly announced desires of the Communists to continue the war. Lists 10 Reasons

1. The U. S. delegate was the first speaker in the Korean debate after the committee decided without dissent to give that explosive item first place on its agenda.
2. Lodge called on the world to face the following 10 facts:
 1. Soviet planning instituted the original aggression, which subsequently was maintained by Soviet training and equipment.
 2. The North Korean forces were virtually destroyed in the Fall of 1950 and later reappeared "reconstituted, reorganized and almost completely equipped with weapons of Soviet manufacture."
 3. The flow of Soviet equipment is constant and steady and accounts for the increase of combat effectiveness of the enemy.
 4. The Chinese Communists now also are supplied by the Soviet Union.
3. New Hove 2,500 Planes
4. Naval mines off the Korean coast are of Soviet manufacture.
5. The Red planes used in Korea were manufactured in the Soviet Union.
6. A new Soviet plane, the Il-28, has been supplied to the Reds in Korea.
7. In spite of heavy losses, the Reds in Korea now have 2,500 planes, all supplied by the Soviet Union.
8. The Soviet Union replaces lost Communist planes in Korea.
9. Anti-aircraft guns used by the Communist in Korea are supplied by the Soviet Union.

Tokyo Police Smash Group Of Smugglers

TOKYO—(P)—Japanese police Wednesday night said they had arrested the ring-leader and 16 other members of a multi-million-dollar smuggling ring, directed from Red China and with roots in the U. S. and 25 in Hong Kong also have been arrested. Details have been given British and American authorities here, the agency said.

Kyodo reported: Metropolitan police said the ring, whose members were mostly Chinese, smuggled about $2,700,000 worth of American-made women's wrist watches into Japan from the U. S. via Hong Kong in 41 shipments between July 25 and November 14.

Profits were used to buy precision instruments here and smuggle them into Red China, Kyodo said.

Fifty surveying instruments were seized by police in a raid at Tokyo International Airport.

Police said the watches were brought into Japan by bribing customs officials and airline employees. Metropolitan police said the ring-leader is Chen Yen, 32, a former Chinese Nationalist officer who was captured by the Red China Army. They said the Reds smuggled him into Japan in 1950.

In Hong Kong, Police Commissioner D. W. MacIntosh said "several" persons have been arrested but he declared the smuggling was not as extensive as reported by Kyodo. He declined to give the exact number arrested, but said 25 was too high.

Fire Wednesday Destroys Airpark Club

Flames despoiled the Officers Club at Midland Airpark early Wednesday.

Jesse Lindsey, president of the club, said no estimate of the loss had been made, but added that the building and its equipment were "complete washouts."

Firemen who were called out at 1:45 a.m. said cause of the fire was unknown and also termed the burning a total loss. They returned to their station at 6 a.m.

Lindsey said no one was in the building at the time of the fire.

Mother Testifies Jelke Had No Need Of Pat's Earnings

NEW YORK—(P)—Minnot (Mike) Jelke's social registerite mother testified Wednesday at his vice trial that he had an income ranging from $180 to $400 a month at the time the state charges he was living off a prostitute's earnings.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark Teal, clad in black and unsmiling, took the witness stand in defense of her short, chunky son by a previous marriage.

Jelke, 23, eventual heir to an oleomargarine fortune, is accused of inducing three young women to become prostitutes and living off the profitable earnings of one.

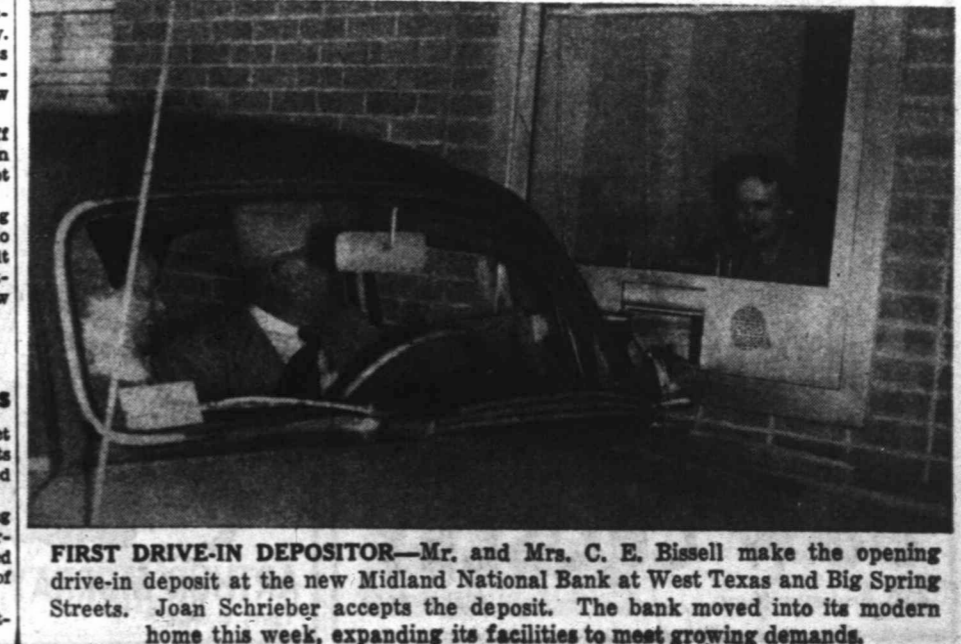

Speaking in a low, tense voice, Mrs. Teal said that at the time the state accuses Jelke of taking the

T-H Law Reformers Conflict With Congress, Each Other

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Any revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law by the 83rd Congress will mean compromising the views of a flock of currently irreconcilable elements. They are President Eisenhower, Senator Taft and the rest of Congress; the conflicting opinions of the AFL, the CIO, John L. Lewis and other labor leaders; the National Association of Manufacturers and other employer groups; Secretary of Labor Martin Durkin and his advisory groups, and, last but not least, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

Although Wilson has plenty to do in the Pentagon, as the co-author of the General Motors cost-of-living and productivity escalator clauses, he is an authority on modern labor relations. His voice will carry a lot of weight in the Cabinet.

To get a line on how divergent are the labor law reform views of all these elements it is only necessary to parallel a few of them. Begin with President Eisenhower: In his campaign speech to the American Federation of Labor, Eisenhower said he was in favor "not of repealing, but of amending the law." He said the law as it stood might be used to break unions, and that must be changed.

In his State of the Union message to Congress, the President again called for Taft-Hartley revision. He said he knew that Congress was proceeding with renewed studies, but that the Department of Labor would devise "further specific recommendations."

Working On Revisions Secretary Durkin now has Department of Labor attorneys working on revisions. But it will be some time before they will have anything definite to report to Congress. The labor-management advisory committee which President Eisenhower announced would make other recommendations has not been fully organized. Most of Senator Taft's 16 pro-

Dick And Nora Hope Absence Makes Hearts Grow Fonder

Exclusively Yours: Dick Haymes and his Nora have decided that a separation may save their marriage. Nora will go to Europe for eight months with her two daughters and marry a while in Rome so that papa Errol Flynn can see the youngsters.

Dick, meanwhile, is switching to the strictly dramatic field and parking his singing voice in a trunk marked, "Use Only When Necessary." He tried it first some years ago in "St. Benny the Dip," forgot about that old Stanislawski feeling for a while and is now back to his resolve to gain recognition as a dramatic actor with non-singing roles in TV and in movies.

"I've been trying to make the change for the last five years," he told me on the set of "Crusin' Down the River," in which he sings, he hopes, for the last time in front of a movie camera. "It's a tough fight, but if I make it, it will be healthy for my career. What the heck, I'm not 25 years old any more."

Zsa Zsa Gabor is getting fussy about picture roles. She turned down the lead in Sam Katzman's "Prisoner of Casbah," then Gloria Grahame, who's figure as fussy, accepted it. Otto donated three paintings hanging on the walls. Author F. Hugh Herbert brought in the books for the bookcases. And all the bric-a-brac came from Holden's living room.

"We had a bid on the rental of hand props," Otto whispered. "It was too expensive, so we decided to decorate the set with our own stuff. Niven asked me what he could bring from home and I said, 'Money.' So far he hasn't brought any, though."

Walter Abel's son, Michael, is recovering from spinal meningitis in Manhattan, so Walter flies to Hollywood to play the role of an army air force colonel in the Wayne-Fellows picture, "Island in the Sky."

Tentative Plans Made To Pick 'Ambassador'

Midland will have a chance to send its own ambassador to Europe this Spring if the plan now under consideration by 14 of the city's civic, social, religious and educational organizations can be worked out successfully.

The plan is known as the Community Ambassador Project, a venture which originated in 1948 under the sponsorship of the Bureau of Adult Education of the New York State Education Department and the Experiment in International Living.

Midland groups who have taken the initiative in promoting the project include the JayCees, JayCeettes, Civitan Club, Cowden Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, Midland Service League, Lamar P-TA, Club 15, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Beta Sigma Phi, Rotary Club, Business and Professional Women, Girl Scouts, Twentieth Century Study Club and City Council of P-TA.

Under the Community Ambassador setup, an internationally-minded young person between the ages of 18 and 30 is selected to live abroad for two months as a family-community member, sponsored by the Experiment in International Living.

All his or her expenses, ranging between $300 and $760, are paid by world-minded organizations in the ambassador's home community. In return, the ambassador is expected not only to represent his city abroad, but also to interpret to his own townsmen the people and customs of the land he visits.

Midland has been chosen as one of seven Texas cities where the idea is being presented for the first time in the state. Other states that have worked the community project are Michigan, Mississippi, New York and Kentucky.

Tentative plans to sponsor the venture were laid at a meeting of club representatives Wednesday in Studio A of KCRR. J. P. Marchilli has been named temporary chairman.

Herman Kreivit of the Civitan Club was appointed chairman of the committee to contact other clubs that might be interested in cooperating on the project.

The Rosenberg Case

In non-Communist circles there is no tendency anywhere to dispute the guilt of the convicted atomic spies, Julius and Anna Rosenberg, who now are under sentence of death.

The only point at issue during the long period of appeals and requests for clemency was whether a sentence of death was too severe. No persons ever before have been executed in peacetime for espionage in the United States.

Those who said it should not happen this time cited the precedent, pointed out that the Rosenbergs' wartime spying was done when Russia was our ally, and declared their execution would make them martyrs whom the Reds could exploit.

People arguing the other way said the Rosenbergs tried to spy after the war when Russia no longer was an ally, and would do so today if they could. (Only a few days before sentencing, they reaffirmed their innocence to their two children.) They flatly have declined to help this country find other spies.

Moreover, their espionage involved weapons capable of colossal destruction. As President Eisenhower expressed it in refusing clemency, their crime could "very well result in the death of many, many thousands of innocent citizens."

It was the magnitude of their offense—measured thus—plus the Rosenbergs' stubborn refusal to acknowledge either to themselves or anyone else what they had done, which probably accounted for the imposition of the death penalty.

In the minds of those who inflicted this penalty was undoubtedly the question: How can we dissuade others from taking the Rosenbergs' course? How can we thereby assure our country greater protection from spies spawned within America?

They decided death would be the best lesson to others. They evidently felt, too, that death was the only punishment that fit the Rosenbergs' crime.

Opponents of capital punishment naturally disagree with this answer. This is no place to explore all phases of that problem. It is enough to note that capital punishment is provided for some federal offenses and in many states for such crimes as murder and kidnaping.

In the Rosenbergs' case, a penalty we largely accept for many severe crimes was applied in a wholly new field, for the evident reason that special factors made their offense extremely reprehensible to the American people.

As for martyring these two and giving the Russians propaganda material, this can only be a secondary concern to us. Our task is to mete out full justice to all. If we do that unflinchingly, we cannot worry too much how our processes of justice are misrepresented by men who believe in no justice whatsoever.

Our judicial system is designed to protect both the nation and the individual. It will not serve these twin goals long if its operations are tempered especially to avoid giving advantage to enemy propaganda. The aims of American justice, well pursued, stand on their own. They are not relative to anything Moscow thinks or does.

It's hard to estimate how many friends you keep, when it comes to a loan, by being good for nothing.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.
 Drew Pearson says: Ike held dramatic meeting on farm crisis; President's personal notes listed Benson's moves to alleviate situation; Change needed in law pertaining to pay for retiring service officers.

WASHINGTON—The backstage details never have been told, but President Eisenhower held a dramatic meeting just before his first press conference in order to discuss the biggest problem on his mind—the farm crisis.

This column has seen the President's private notes that he used both at this meeting and later to guide him at the press conference. In talking to the press, however, he left out several points on farm prices which he had written down in his notes.

Those who met privately with the President were: Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Senate Agriculture Chairman Alben of Vermont, and Senator Carlson of Kansas, a close friend and representative of a big farming state.

Eisenhower explained he had called them in to review the farm situation and that he intended to make a statement that he intended to make to the press a few minutes later. He then produced his typewritten notes. Carlson suggested that the President should write out a complete statement rather than depend on notes, but Aiken declared that no matter what Eisenhower said, his critics would try to tear it apart.

The President's outline was headed, "Notes on the farm price situation," and stressed the "action taken by the secretary to remedy the price situation."

It may have been an accident, due to nervousness in holding his first press conference, but Eisenhower didn't give the press much of what Secretary Benson had done to alleviate the farm crisis. These

LITTLE LIZ

The guy who is always trying to make a fast buck eventually discovers it's faster than he is.

you know. For example, Col. Oscar Maier was permitted to resign after 24 years service, and Col. Clayton Berry was retired after 32 years service—both without retirement benefits. Yet Lt. Gen. Elwood Quesada with 25 years service was retired at his own request with full retirement privileges. Incidentally, both Maier and Berry would have received retirement benefits if they had been released from the service for incompetence.

Answer—My investigation confirms what you have said. Neither Col. Oscar Maier nor Col. Clayton Berry are drawing a cent of retirement pay.

Yet Lt. Gen. Elwood "Pete" Quesada, who has only one year more service than Maier and seven years less than Berry, is pulling down full retirement pay. Furthermore, Quesada quit the Air Force at the age of only 47 after leaving his job at the Pentagon in a mess. This is crass favoritism, but it's legal. Under the law, the secretary of Defense can decide who gets retirement pay and who doesn't in the case of officers applying for voluntary retirement. The Defense Department seems to pay more attention to the number of stars on a man's shoulder. I will suggest to friends in Congress that a change in the law is in order.

Cpl. Arthur Toner, Fort Bragg, N. C.—"Last October, I had the opportunity of getting quarters for my family at the low rental of $37 per month. But I have been unable to draw quarters allowance from the Army, because 'adequate' quarters are supposed to be available at Fort Bragg. These quarters are not adequate. The floors are pine, and when you put the baby down, you are likely to pull slivers out of her hands and knees. The heating system, though, is a wonderful thing. There are gaps in the window sills and around the doors, so it is almost impossible to keep the place warm. The water spews rust out and ruins the clothes."

"Without the quarters allowance, I can only give my wife $150 a month to pay rent, food and clothes for our four children. My wife is doing the best she can by taking in washing for the neighbors. I wonder how the people concerned would feel if they had ration their children to one glass of milk a day. Makes a man feel pretty low to think that he has to deny his children the things they need. They can't have candy, as it is a luxury."

"Last Christmas, they had to decorate a bush in front of the house on the excuse that it would bring Christmas cheer to the rest of the folks in the neighborhood. It would have been hard to explain that there wasn't enough money to buy a Christmas tree. Mr. Pearson, I'm at the end of my rope and don't know what to do."

Answer—I have taken up your problem personally with Maj. Gen. Thomas Hickey, the commanding general at Fort Bragg. He points out that he is required by law to fill the available quarters before he can grant a special allowance for you to live off the post. However, he has promised to make a personal investigation of your case and do what he can to relieve your family's hardships. He will talk to you personally, promising to hold no grudges against you for taking your complaint out of channels.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
 Written for NEA Service

In one of the most interesting hands of the recent World Championship Match in New York, Howard Schenken put up a very neat defense that led to the defeat of the Swedish declarer. I give full credit to my good friend Howard, but I think the Swedish declarer should have made his contract anyway.

Schenken opened the dummy of spades from the west hand, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer immediately took the ace of diamonds and led a diamond towards dummy. Schenken put up the king of diamonds to win this trick, and thoughtfully returned a low trump. This was the only defense that had any real chance to defeat the contract. Without a trump return, declarer could ruff two spades in the dummy.

When Schenken returned a low trump, dummy won with the jack. Declarer returned dummy's low spade, and West won with the nine. Schenken followed through by leading a low trump to South with the nine of hearts, and now dummy had only one trump that could be used for ruffing spades.

At this point South went astray. He ruffed a spade in dummy, cashed the queen of diamonds to discard a club, took the ace of clubs, and ruffed a club. He now led the jack of spades, hoping that West would be obliged to win and return a trump up to the king-ten. Instead, East was able to win the spade trick and led through declarer's trumps to give West the setting trick.

When South ruffed the third round of spades with dummy's ace of hearts, it was apparent that West's original lead had been made from three to the queen of spades or four to the king-queen. The correct choice was easy, since it was extremely unlikely that Schenken would have led the deuce of spades originally from four to the king-queen.

After South has ruffed his third spade with dummy's ace of hearts he can still make the contract by guessing West's distribution. He cashes the queen of diamonds, discarding a club, and ruffs a diamond in his hand.

He next leads a club to dummy's ace and ruffs a club in his own hand. This gives him nine tricks, with the king of hearts good for the tenth. The opponents win the last trick doubly with the high spade and the last trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-8-2, Hearts A-K-Q-J-7-5, Diamonds A-J-2, Club 6. What do you do?
 A—Bid three hearts. You have a count of 13 points in high cards, two points extra for the long cards in your solid heart suit. You can afford to invite a game with so powerful a hand.

THE door of the bank was locked. I, although the hour was well before closing time, and he was sure (the more he thought of it) that the day must be Tuesday or Wednesday or possibly Thursday, "What am I anyway?" he thought.

"Rip van Winkle?" Even so, Rip van Winkle, though he had slept 20 years, had come back to a village that was still full of people.

The door of the hardware store beyond the bank was open. He went in, and again he called, and again there was not even an echo coming back for answer. He looked in at the bakery; this time there was only a tiny noise such as a scuttling mouse could make.

Now he noticed that several cars were parked along the street, just as they might be on any not too busy afternoon. He could not merely drive on, he decided, because he must report the dead man. So he pushed open the door, and the great blatant squawk resounded along the deserted street through the quiet of the afternoon. He blew twice, waited, and blew twice again. Again and again, in vain he pressed down. As he pressed, he looked around, hoping to see somebody come popping out from a door or at least a head at a window. He paused, and again there was only silence, except the strident cackling of a hen.

"I could play detective by going into some of these stores and looking around," he thought. Then he had a better idea.

Across the street was a little poolroom where he had often stopped to buy a newspaper. He went over to it. The door was locked. He looked through the window, and saw newspapers on the rack. Suddenly he saw that there were headlines as large as for Pearl Harbor:

CRISIS ACUTE
 With sudden determination he strode back to the car, and picked up the hammer. A moment later he stood with the heavy head poised in front of the door. Then suddenly all the restraints of habit stopped him. Civilization moved in, and held his arm, almost physically. You didn't break into a store this way—you, a law-abiding citizen! He glanced up and down the street, as if a policeman might be bearing down upon him.

But the empty street brought him back again, and panic overbore the restraints.

With a wild feeling of burning his bridges, of leaving civilization behind, he swung the heavy hammer head with all his force against the door lock. The wood splintered, the door flew open, he stepped in.

The newspaper he picked up was like a little country weekly, a single folded sheet. It was dated Wednesday of the preceding week.

unparalleled rapidity of spread, and fatality. Estimates for various cities, admittedly little more than guesses, indicated that between 25 per cent and 35 per cent of the population had already died. No reports had been available for Boston, Atlanta and New Orleans, indicating that the news services in those cities had already broken down. The disease was like a kind of super-measles. No one was sure in what part of the world it had originated, but it had spread several times as rapidly as several cats, a considerable number of scattered hens, one cow grazing in a vacant lot with a bit of broken rope dangling from her neck. Nosing along the doorway of a very decent-looking house, there had been a large rat.

HE did not stop in the business district again, but drove on and came to what he now knew to be the best house in town. He got out of the car, carrying the hammer with him. This time he did not hesitate before the locked door, he struck it hard, three times, and it crashed inward. As he had supposed, there was a large radio in the living room.

He made a quick round of inspection, to ward off rats and "other's nobodies." He snapped the radio on, and saw that the electricity was still working. He let the tubes warm up, and then searched carefully. Only faint cackles of static impinged on his alerted eardrums. He shifted the short-wave, but it too was silent. Methodically he searched both hands again. Of course, he thought, some stations might still be operating; they would probably not be on a 24-hour schedule. Radio tuned to a wavelength which was—or had been—that of a powerful station. If it came on at any time, he would hear it. He went and lay on theavenport.

He awoke in the full light. Flexing his hand, he found that the pain of the snake bite had drunk back to local soreness. His head felt clear too, and he realized that the other illness, if it had been another illness and not an effect of the snake bite, had also grown better. Then suddenly he started, and was aware of something which he had not considered before. The obvious explanation was that he had actually had this new disease, and that it had combated with the snake venom in his blood, the one neutralizing the other. That at least offered the simplest explanation of why he was still alive.

(To Be Continued)

CIVILIZATION, the human race—at least, it seemed to have gone down gallantly. Many people were reported as escaping from the cities, but those remaining had suffered, as far as he could make out from the newspaper a week old, no disgraceful panic. Civilization had retreated, but it had carried its wounded along, and had stayed at their posts, and thousands more had enlisted as helpers. Whole areas of cities had been designated as hospital zones and points of concentration. All ordinary business had ceased, but food was still handled on an emergency basis. Even with a third of the population dead, telephone service along with water, light, and power still remained in most cities. In order to avoid intolerable conditions which might lead to a total breakdown of morale, the authorities were enforcing strict PECOS—Porter Donnell assumed the presidency of the Pecos Chamber of Commerce in absentia Tuesday night. Influenza kept him away from the annual banquet at the Community Center.

Donnell's son, Gene, accepted the gavel for his father from W. W. Douglas, retiring president. Douglas automatically becomes vice president for the ensuing year. H. G. Meyer is the new treasurer.

An estimated 200 persons joined in the "official" welcome of the new manager, Jack S. Pridgen, who was introduced at the banquet by Jack Hawkins, master of ceremonies. Pridgen moved to Pecos from Ballinger where he served as C. of C. secretary-manager.

Alton Hughes stepped out as Pecos manager after eight years in the position. Chamber members presented luggage to Hughes at the banquet as an expression of appreciation. He is joining his wife in the operation of an insurance agency in Pecos.

Joe Henderson submitted the report of the nominating committee. New directors to serve three-year terms are Al Cook, Norman Eisenwine, Hughes and Hawkins.

The popular Pecos Lions Club orchestra played several numbers. Henderson "fronts" for the six-member organization.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills...—Psalm 121:1.

Today's Prayer

A mountain is more than masses of rock, beetling cliffs, deep gulls, flashing streams, and wooded crests. A mountain has individuality. It does something to you. The Psalmist felt this way when he cried out, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills." "From whence cometh my help?" he asked. And the answer is: "My help cometh from the Lord who made heaven and earth." He found God on the mountain.

I, too, have learned some things as I have not only lifted my eyes to the hills but planted my feet upon them. For one thing I have learned to appreciate the fact that we owe a great debt to those who have gone before us. I have blessed the maker of many a mountain trail as I have made my way along the heights.

And then, too, I have learned that the higher we climb the nearer we come to others who are climbing. We may be traveling different trails, but as we climb above the mists and reach the summit where we see the world in its true perspective, we find that we are in the company of the others who have sought the heights. The nearer we come to the truth, to reality, to God, the closer we come to the other travelers.

—C. RAYMOND CHAPPELL

Today's Prayer

O God, who dost challenge Thy children to aspire and strive for the things that are above, we pray that Thou wilt "give us hills to climb and strength for climbing." Amen.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail Thinking Things

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, had been away down the Whispering River for a little vacation. He was happy to be walking again on the Elephant Path, walking along, and walking along, on his way home to his hollow tree house.

Pretty soon he met little Mugwump Mofkey. They said "happy day" to each other, and what a very fine day it was, and then Mugwump said: "Huffen Puffen, how do you know what is where you aren't?"

The Huffen chuckled. He laughed. And then he laughed again. He said: "I'm not at my house. I'm not, but I know that my house is waiting in my hollow tree."

But Mugwump said: "How do you know it's there now—when you are here now?"

The Huffen listened. He thought about it. He began to be a little bit afraid that something might have happened to his house and things while he was away for his vacation.

"A fire may have burned everything up," said Mugwump.

The Huffen Puffen began to look worried.

"Or somebody may have carried everything off," said Mugwump.

The Huffen looked even more worried.

"Or may be the rain has washed everything away," said Mugwump.

The Huffen was plenty worried by this time, and away he ran up the Elephant Path—and on to his hollow tree house. He ran almost as fast as Dr. Shoobug, and Mugwump was right behind him. Oh, but happy day! There was the house with all the things in it. Fire hadn't burned it up. Nobody had carried anything off. The rain hadn't washed anything away.

"You got me scared, you did," said the Huffen Puffen to Mugwump, "and why did you say all those dreadful things?"

But Mugwump hadn't said — remember—that anything at all had happened to the Huffen's house. He only asked how the Huffen knew that everything was waiting there for him. And then the Huffen got to thinking and being afraid. That was what happened, and nothing more. Silly Huffen, for being so easily frightened. Happy day!

Washington Inaugural Told In Old Gazette

TAFT, CALIF. —(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Mefford are the proud owners of what may be a historical relic—and all because they believed in cleaning up the house they moved into.

While they were going through a pile of old newspapers recently, one that was unusually yellowed and frayed caught their attention. Closer inspection revealed it was a copy of "The Gazette of the United States" with a dateline that read "From Wednesday, April 29, to Saturday, May 2, 1789."

The big story of the Gazette was a report on the inauguration of Gen. George Washington as the first President of the United States.

Farm Loan Leaders In Area Attend Meet At Houston

Bethel T. Graham, official representative and director, and M. I. Yell, newly elected director of the Stanton-Midland National Farm Loan Association returned recently from Houston where they attended the eighth annual stockholders meeting of the Federal Land Bank of Houston.

The bank made the largest volume of farm mortgage loans to Texas farmers and ranchers in 1952 than in any year since its organization in 1917, with one exception, they said. This exception was during the depression in 1934.

Bank officials told the stockholders that the 1953 volume of loans promises to exceed that of 1952 if the first six weeks of 1953 can serve as a guide. It also is believed that many loans will be made for financing the restocking of ranches and stock farms.

The Federal Land Bank of Houston is completely owned by the Cattle Price Drops Hit Hard, But Part-Timers Suffer Most

By DON WHITEHEAD
KANSAS CITY—(AP)—The boom-and-bust in cattle is dealing punishing financial blows today to those who jumped into the market for the joyride in fat cattle profits.

The big shakedown is under way in the industry. A great many people have been and will be hurt. They took a gamble on prices holding up—and lost. Now the situation has developed a political side that has Republicans jittery as they look toward the 1954 elections.

This squeeze in cattle prices caused one old-line Texas cattleman—Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde—to tell a bankers' group recently that in event of a depression: "Maybe then a lot of bankers and oil men and barbers and soda jerkers who have been running cattle will be forced out of the business. They oughtn't to have been in it in the first place. The rest of us will pull through—I hope."

Even without a depression, the price slump has jolted the entire industry and particularly Briscoe's "bankers, oil men, barbers and soda jerkers." These were the people who decided to become part-time cattlemen.

Good Ride For Awhile
 It was a good ride with beef selling at the highest prices in history. But in recent months the price drops have wiped out tens of millions of dollars in anticipated profits—and added real losses too. Farmers and stockmen alike have felt the squeeze.

Prices began falling several months ago because of a big cattle supply. Cattle began moving to the market in huge numbers because of drought and feed costs—a movement that cattleman say has begun to level off somewhat.

Still, there are more cattle today on the ranges and in feed lots than ever before in our history—93,896,000 head as of January 1. And some cattleman think the situation may get worse before it gets better.

The price problem does have a high content of political dynamite —should the cattle growers and feeders start blaming the Eisenhower Administration for their troubles. And there is talk in this country that Democrats already have begun making an issue out of prices to recapture the farm vote.

One Texas cattleman told me: "There are some people up there in Washington who are so concerned over us right now that they intend to force help down our throats even if we don't want it." And there are others who feel the same way.

An example is the reaction from some quarters of the cattle industry to the move by Senator Robert F. Kerr (D-Okla.) to require the government to set aside 25 million dollars for supporting beef cattle at 100 per cent of parity.

This proposal has stirred opposition in Texas, Oklahoma, and other parts of the Midwest from spokesmen for cattle organizations. These cattleman—who represent big producer groups—don't want subsidies

Guards Kill Ko-Red In POW Camp Riot

PUSAN—(AP)—Allied guards Monday forcibly cleared a Kojie Island prisoner compound of chanting, fanatic Reds who defied two showers of tear gas, the UN POW Command reported Wednesday.

One North Korean prisoner was killed. There were no Allied casualties.

The POW Command said the Reds refused to form ranks for a head count and began milling about, shouting and chanting. POW's in adjacent compounds urged them on.

UN guards sprayed the rebellious prisoners twice with tear gas, to no avail.

Then, as the tempo of mob hysteria increased, a platoon of South Korean soldiers entered the compound and removed the POW's. In this action the North Korean was killed.

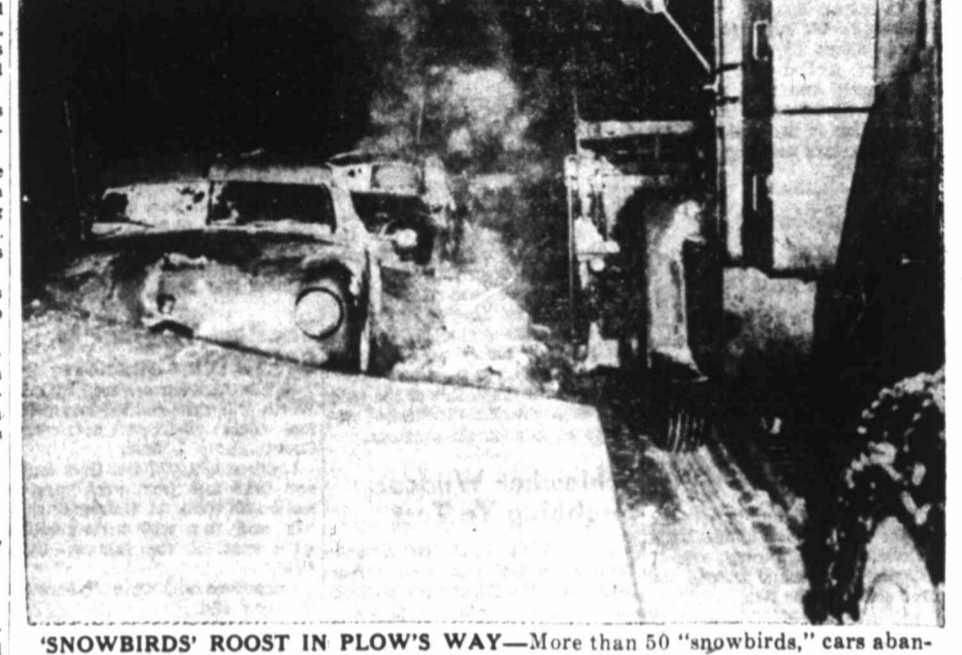

Oklahoma Youth Robs Tavern To Pay For Artificial Eye

TULSA, OKLA.—(AP)—An 18-year-old youth who officers said "wore a mask to conceal the fact his left eyeball is missing" told police "Tuesday he robbed a tavern Saturday to get money to pay for an artificial eye."

The youth is being held in the city jail without charge. Police said he had no previous criminal record.

Detective Lt. Earl Beddoe said: "He told us he took $20 of $50 he obtained and made a down payment on an artificial eye."

Event Honors Fred Wemple

Fred Wemple of Midland, retiring member of the Texas Highway Commission, was honored in Austin Monday night at a dinner given by fellow members of the commission. Gov. Alan Shivers also attended the dinner.

Shivers lauded Wemple's work with the commission and jokingly said he would like to have reapointed him to the commission—but felt "other parts of Texas should get some of the benefits of the West Texas share of highway funds."

Wemple took the jest in stride and replied that to his knowledge he had only been successful in getting "a few speed zone markers and traffic lights" during his six years with the board.

Gen. Ike Ashburn of the Texas Good Roads Association read excerpts from a Reporter-Telegram editorial praising Wemple's work. His work drew praise from Chairman Thornton and Commissioners Robert Potts and Marshal Formby who pointed out that the greatest era in Texas highway development occurred during his administration.

J. H. Kuligen, Good Roads Association president, said Wemple had been reappointed to its board and will be called on for aid in highway affairs.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. How Telephone People Study To Be Popular

IF YOU LIKE PEOPLE and get along with them well, then you have one of the first qualities we look for in hiring new members of the telephone team. Ours is a personal service business. So a pleasant, winning personality is important. Telephone training is aimed at developing such a personality as much as developing technical skills.

THE SPIRIT OF SERVICE is a tradition with telephone people as old as the telephone itself. For example, the first-aid training which telephone crews get as part of their job is often put to use outside the business. Many an accident victim is alive today as a result of the skillful attention of a passing telephone man.

GOOD NEIGHBORS . . . GOOD CITIZENS
 A pleasant, winning personality . . . and a sincere desire to be of service to others . . . these are the qualities that make people popular. And these are the qualities that the 28,000 Texas telephone people are constantly studying to improve. That's one of the big reasons why they are known as good neighbors . . . and good citizens of the communities they serve.

La Follette Rites Planned; Former Senator Kills Self

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The body of former Senator Robert M. La Follette, Jr., who shot himself to death Tuesday, left Washington Wednesday for interment in Madison, Wis. There, in the state whose electors kept members of the La Follette family in high office for almost half this century, the only services for "Young Bob" will be held.

Tentative plans were for funeral services Friday at Grace Episcopal Church in Madison, with Father John Keen officiating. No Note Found Mrs. La Follette, summoned home from a Red Cross meeting about noon Tuesday by an urgent telephone call from her husband, found his body on the floor of a bathroom in their Northwest Washington house. A .22-caliber target pistol was in his right hand. A single bullet had been fired through the roof of his mouth.

Dr. A. Magruder McDonald, District of Columbia coroner, pronounced the death officially suicide. Police said no note was found. La Follette, 58, was said to be worrying about a heart ailment which several years ago had caused him to be hospitalized for several months and which had recently recurred. Beaten By McCarthy La Follette was 30, the youngest senator since Henry Clay, when he succeeded his father, Robert M. (Fighting Bob) La Follette. He was elected in 1925 and reelected term after term until Joseph R. McCarthy, then a circuit judge, defeated him in the Republican primary of 1946, and went on to be elected senator.

McCarthy said Tuesday he was "deeply shocked" at La Follette's death, and added, "I am sure that his many friends in Wisconsin and the nation will also be deeply grieved."

La Follette had lived in Washington since his defeat, acting as an economic adviser and consultant. "A" has been the first letter of the alphabet throughout the whole period of its use.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEV

Sometime at the first of the season when the topic of the one-and-one free throw rule was under fire, a college coach—Bradley's Fordy Anderson, I believe—estimated that a team would collect at least a point 90 per cent of the times a foul was called.

It would take a lot of figuring and many records to prove it. But a good surmise can be drawn by using Phil Pickman's statistics of the City Basketball League.

You can prove Anderson was about half right. For Rotary Engineers and Bentley's of Stanton, definitely yes. For the Lions Club, maybe. For three others, no.

Pickman, the inspiring force in drawing up this year's league, has kept only free throws and free throw attempts of the league teams, but a good idea can be drawn from them on how possible it is to bag a one-pointer every time at the charity line.

For instance, Rotary (the leader through last week's figures) won its first six games and recorded a remarkable 73.9 per cent accuracy at the free throw line. The Engineers—with such players as Keith Nicolls, Frank Brahaney, Charlie Hodge and Leland Huffman—sank 54 of 73 tosses at the line.

Is that picking up a point 90 per cent of the time? By my rough figuring it is:

A team possibly could get a point every time, 100 per cent mind you, by hitting once in every two free throws. How?

By missing the first shot and completing the second as allowed by the one-and-one.

Rotary, it would seem, reaches above 90 per cent its adding points through charity. A team such as the Engineers, which hits 73.9 from the line, definitely would have to be down in its luck with the law of averages to miss two free throws in a row more than 90 per cent of the time. As a matter of fact, Rotary hit eight of nine tosses beating the Lions last week, getting a point every time up at the line.

It happens less for the others though:

Bentley's by rough estimate would approach 90 per cent with its 78 free throws in 114 attempts (a 68 per cent mark for success). Possibly the Lions, next to last place team, would too—with 35 of 78 tries (51.3 per cent).

The second-place JayCees hit only 40 of 87 and would not figure to be much above 70 per cent in bringing a point away from the line, nor would Murray-Young Motors with its 52 of 115. (Gulf figures were not available.)

Somewhere in this figuring must be a moral.

Anytime City League teams, falling out for play on a moment's notice and with no practices, can net as many as 90 per cent of its charity chances, then the game indeed is making its points cheap.

The game was high scoring enough before. And the rule-makers, as far as we've discovered, failed in their purpose to cut down on fouling while lengthening the time of games.

We hope using the rule was only a trial.

From 1945 through 1950 the station Double Scotch stred horses that won 181 races.

Hurricane Cagers Join NIT Field

TULSA—(AP)—Tulsa Tuesday became the seventh basketball team to accept an invitation from the National Invitation Tournament to be held March 7-14 at New York's Madison Square Garden.

University officials said they telegraphed NIT officials Tuesday night that both the team and officials approved the bid. There has been no confirmation from tournament sources.

The Hurricane is accepting the bid joins unbeaten Seton Hall, top quintet in the nation, Western Kentucky, Duquesne, LaSalle, Manhattan and Louisville.

Tulsa has a 14-7 overall season record and a 4-4 Missouri Valley Conference mark.

The Hurricane currently is tied for second in the Valley with St. Louis and Houston.

Meanwhile, the NCAA confirmed reports that Notre Dame, Navy, De Paul, Eastern Kentucky and Fordham have been selected as at-large teams for the eastern regional tournament.

Chances are the pairings will wind up like this, based on the colleges' proximity to each other:

De Paul vs. Notre Dame; Fordham vs. the New England Conference selection; Eastern Kentucky vs. winner of Mid-American Conference and Navy vs. Middle Atlantic selection.

Louisiana State, Southeastern Conference winner, along with the Ivy League, Big Ten and Southern Conference victors, will get a first round bye in the East.

Rice took over the lead in the Southwest Conference Tuesday night by beating Texas, 61-56.

Rice Grabs SWC Cage Lead With 61-56 Win Over Texas

By The Associated Press
Rice's rampaging Owls finally latched on to the lead in the Southwest Conference basketball race Tuesday night, dumping Texas into a second-place tie with Texas Christian 61-56.

Southern Methodist hung a 73-59 licking on Texas A&M.

Rice now boats an 8-3 record while Texas, along with Texas Christian, sports a 7-3 mark.

Rice—one of the pre-season favorites to finish in the running for the title—licked Texas in a whinging game at Houston. The score was tied 13 times and the lead changed hands 13 times.

Texas was ahead for the last time with 13 minutes remaining when Gib Ford's field goal gave it a 44-43 advantage.

Gene Schwinger netted two free throws and that put Rice ahead to stay.

Schwinger scored 12 of his 22 points in the final quarter.

At Dallas, Southern Methodist grabbed the lead in the waning minutes of the first quarter and never was headed as it posted its second win of the conference season.

Jack Kastman and Art Barnes each scored 19 points for SMU.

Cut-And-Shoot Battler Wins Two Chicago Gloves Matches

CHICAGO—(AP)—The knockout-punctuated Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions Wednesday night moves into the quarterfinal round with the defending heavy-weight champ under pressure.

This will be the showdown for survivors of two nights of battling which opened with an original field of 304 amateur boxers from 38 far-flung cities.

Semi-finals and finals will be held March 6.

Tuesday night's activity among the four heavier classes produced 40 knockouts, while on Monday night another 100 bouts in the four lighter divisions resulted in 31 knockouts.

Towering Ed Sanders, the heavy-weight champ representing Los Angeles, had to slug hard in each of his two three-round bouts last night to come up with decisions.

His first verdict, over Willie Crawford, Indianapolis, almost a head shorter, was far from impressive and was jeered by the crowd.

In a nightcap, Sanders twice floored an old rival, Bob Ranck, former NCAA champion from the University of Wisconsin, but almost got chilled himself from a powerhouse in the third round.

Roy Harris, Houston light heavy-weight, won both his matches Tuesday night. But other Texas boxers didn't fare so well.

Pete Perez, 147, Fort Worth, took a three-round decision from Jim Williams, Detroit, in a preliminary round fight, but lost a second round fight to Felix Franklin of Los Angeles.

John White of Commerce lost to Middleweight Art Mack of Denver. And Heavyweight Charles Liston of St. Louis decided Donnie Fleeman of Fort Worth in a first-round match.

Harris, the cut-and-short fighter, knocked out Bill Sweet of Columbus, Ohio, in the second round of the 175-pound division's first-round fight and later decided Ted Clinkman, Billings, Mont., in a second-round contest.

Arrival of Sam Snead, winner of eight tournaments last year, including the coveted Masters, completed the lineup of champions who will head the field of 150 for Thursday's first round.

On hand to greet the Slammer for his first appearance of the 1953 Winter tour was the latest winner of practically every major professional tournament in the country. Most of them had been fretting because a heavy rain Monday and Tuesday had kept them idle.

The competition includes all the champions of the 1953 Winter tour—Lloyd Mangrum, Tommy Bolt, Jimmy Demaret, Chandler Harper, Tony Holguin and Roberto de Vicenzo.

Added to this group are such stars as Julius Boros, National Open champion and 1952's top golfer, and Jim Turnesa, the PGA champion.

Fifty-three of 159 lesser-known golfers shot a four-over 76 or better Tuesday to qualify for the first 36 holes of tournament play. Only two broke par, while seven finished at 72.

J. T. Hammett, a stocky pro from Snyder, Texas, slipped in quietly with a two-under 70 to win the first slice to be taken out of $1,000 in special prize money which will go to daily scoring leaders. Hammett collected $150. Mike Pavella, Washington, Pa., picked up $100 for his one-under 71.

Chuck Dressen Comes In Second Best In Telling Cox Of New Utility Position

By JOE REICHLER

VERO BEACH, FLA. —(AP)—There's never a dull moment in the camp of the National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers.

The latest little rhubarb concerns Manager Charlie Dressen, an old hand at rhubarb, and Billy Cox, an old hand.

The story begins when Dressen, ever anxious to give the Dodger scribes a story, informs them of his plans to convert Cox, the best defensive third baseman in the National League, into a utility infielder, a la Billy Goodman. He also tells them that he hasn't mentioned his noble experiment to Cox, but will do so when the latter is scheduled to arrive with the regulars some five days hence. Chuck hastened to add that the entire deal is off if Cox balks.

The writers get off their story, the Dodgers the publicity, and everybody is happy. But wait. No sooner had the ink dried when who should saunter in, unheard of and unexpected, but Cox, the man of the hour.

Hardly before he had time to shake the dust off his clothes from the long trek from Harrisburg, Pa., Cox was buttonholed by an enterprising reporter, who proceeded to spill Charlie's aforementioned plans. The veteran third sacker, who hadn't had an opportunity to read a newspaper for three days, listened in amazement.

"What's in it for me?" he finally managed to mutter. When the writer expressed a belief that it might bring an extra stipend from the front office, Cox replied, "Well, they'd have to." Billy, however, was a good enough soldier to add, "I'll play anywhere and do anything Dressen wants me to do."

The story doesn't end there, however. When Dressen learned that somebody had beaten him to Cox's door, he bristled.

"That's what I get for trying to help out the boys," he complained. "I told them I wanted to be the first to talk with him. I didn't want him to get the wrong slant on the thing. Now it will be that much more difficult to sell him on the idea."

Dressen went on to explain his reasons for wanting to make Cox into the "Billy Goodman of the National League."

"Cox is the best defensive infielder in the league," the genial little skipper declared. "To my mind, he's a better fielder than Pee-wee Reese at short, or Jackie Robinson at second. I know he can even do a good job at first. Know what it is to have such a guy on the bench ready to step in wherever he's needed?"

Schoolboy Grid Rules On Burner

AUSTIN —(AP)—The executive committee of the Texas Interscholastic League Wednesday may settle whether Texas high school football teams will be able to use free substitution or whether they'll go along with NCAA-restricted substitution policies.

The group—if it wants—can submit the question to a vote of all member schools.

Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director of the league, said it would have gone along with NCAA rules—as it always has—if the National Rules Committee hadn't stuck in a paragraph that said, "preparatory and high schools may by mutual agreement adopt more liberal substitution regulations."

Williams would not predict the result if the question were put to the entire membership. He said "sentiment seemed to be about 60-40 in favor of liberal substitution."

The Texas High School Coaches Association has said favored liberal substitutions as in the 1952 rules. Texas high schools are among the few that operate under NCAA rules. The majority follow those of the national federation.

Williams said it would take two or three weeks before a vote could be completed if one is taken.

Tempe Sun Devils Spill Tech, 80-76

TEMPE, ARIZ. —(AP)—Arizona State College at Tempe virtually knocked Texas Tech out of a chance for the Border Conference basketball championship Tuesday night with an 80-76 victory.

Paul Nolen, elongated center, led the Techsans with 23 points. Roy Coppinger paced the Sun Devils with 17.

ASC led at the half, 42-38.

Garden City Coach Loses Four Players From 1953 Quintet

GARDEN CITY—Graduation will leave Basketball Coach Targe Lindsey minus four of his top bearcats, Bryant Harris, Wilburn Bedner, Larry Calverly and Bob Frizell.

Bryant led 1953 scoring with 225 points despite illness which forced him to miss four games. Wilburn followed with 179 points. Frizell with 147 and Calverly with 87.

Strengthening the "stay-behinds" is Tommy Rich, with two years left. He picked up 87 points last season. Backing him up are Truett Newell and Jim McCorquodale, also due two more years here. Newell got 42 points and McCorquodale 21.

Lindsay looks to three juniors, Richard Carter, Johnnie Phillips and Gary Mitchell, for plenty of action next year. Carter, though small, is a quick specialist in long shots.

The Bearcats chalked up 11 wins in 19 starts, scoring 811 points against 767 by their opponents.

Rankin Trips Lohn In Cage Tilt, 50-48

LOHN—Rankin's Red Devils, District 88-B champs, took a 50-48 win over Lohn, District 15-B king, here Tuesday night when Bobby Goodwin sank the game-winning shot with five seconds left in the game. It was the Eagles' third loss against 24 wins. They led through the first three quarters, but lost their lead when Rankin tied the score in the fourth. Goodwin found the key to victory.

Virgil Tower was Rankin's high score man with 18 points. Charles Moore's 16 led the Eagles. The Red Devils scored their twenty-seventh win in 31 starts as they headed for a District 8 tournament this weekend in Alpine. Lohn will travel to Brownwood for a tournament there.

First Alpine round Friday night will match Rankin and Toyah.

Class D K-O-M League Folds Tent

IOLA, KAN. —(AP)—The seven-year-old Class D Kansas-Oklahoma-Missouri Baseball League will not operate this year.

Earl Sifers, Iola, league vice president, said Tuesday night the league will fold April 15 because the Miami, Okla., club quit the circuit Tuesday.

That left only five teams—Iola, Independence and Pittsburg in Kansas, Ponca City and Blackwell in Oklahoma.

COURT UPHOLDS OIL BOWL BAN

AUSTIN —(AP)—The Inter-scholastic League's ban on all-star games was upheld Wednesday by the Supreme Court, reversing lower court decisions. ROTARY WINS TITLE—City Champs Try Big Spring Quint

Something new has been added for the Phillips Tire Company of Big Spring to shoot at when that team, composed of Webb Air Force Base cadets, plays its second basketball game against Midland's Rotary Engineers Wednesday night.

This time, in an 8 p.m. game at Cowden gym, the Engineer quintet will be wearing the City League basketball crown, won Tuesday night.

Rotary stopped the second place JayCees, 58-54, for its seventh consecutive city victory, leaving the Engineers with only one game to go and boasting a two game margin over the runners-up.

In another game, the Lions, bolstered by Bobby Hallmark's 22 points and the addition of Jim Watson from the Phillips 66 club, copped a 63-57 verdict from Murray-Young Motors.

In Tuesday's win, Rotary led throughout, but had to stage off a fourth quarter JayCee rally. Tuffy McCormick hit six points in a spree that trimmed five points off the Rotary margin.

Rotary led at halftime, 34-25, and at the third quarter, 44-35. J. B. Collins' 15 points and teammate Wayne Hause's 12 paced the winners. Carriel Nipp's 14 led the JayCees.

Melton and Drake collected 14 in Murray-Young's cause against the Lions, who came up from a 24-25 halftime deficit to hold a 41-37 third quarter margin.

In Wednesday night's game, Rotary will be seeking its second straight triumph over the Phillips Tire club.

WHICH INVESTMENT PLAN FOR YOU?

It's logical that the investment objectives of a business man, with a number of earning years ahead, will differ from those of a widow, whose investments represent her only source of income. Some people are interested primarily in preservation of capital, others seek liberal dividend yields, and still others look for long term growth.

The new Harris, Upham & Co. research report outlines different investment plans designed to suit the requirements of investors with various objectives and available funds. Angelo Show Talked Here

A delegation of 25 boosters for the San Angelo Fat Stock Show and Rodeo rolled into Midland by chartered bus late Tuesday to the tune of screaming sirens furnished by an escort from the Midland Police Department. The San Angelo boosters were easily recognized by the broad white hatbands worn with a big "San Angelo" printed on them in blue.

The group is sponsored by the San Angelo Lions Club. The visitors spent Tuesday night in Midland, circulating posters and advertising placards for the big Western event opening in San Angelo March 5. It will last four days, and includes daily rodeo performances by Gene Aury and Associates, a rodeo parade, a livestock exhibition, plus Don Franklin's rides and shows.

Coffee and other refreshments will be served.

Limitation Of Right To Vote Gains Support In Club Here

Toastmasters discussed an old proposal that has gained new strength and support in recent months at their regular meeting Tuesday night—"Should the right to vote be limited to property owners?"

Surprisingly enough, the theory, which dates back to pre-Revolutionary times, gained some support. A majority opinion held against any limitation on the right to vote, but there was a dissenting minority. The minority contended the right to vote should be limited to property owners in some cases—as, for example, in certain bond issues when only a small group of property owners are affected by the outcome.

Rudy Berg presided at the meeting in the Cactus Restaurant. President Menton Howell was absent, called to Austin on business. John Braue presented the table topic for discussion.

Dr. Schlichting acted as toastmaster for the evening. Five speeches were given. Loyd De Armon on "How to Solve the Race Problem," Laney McMath, "Personal Opinion on Labor Unions," Rudy Berg, "Why I Belong to Toastmasters," W. L. McMahon, "What Is the United States Foreign Policy?" and Bob Conway, "The Need for Peace-time Conscription."

Ouy Breneman served as general critic, aided by specific critics Niba Walker, John Bowers, Jim Velvin, Jr., Jack Blake and Bruce Shade.
