Wolfcamp Oil Flow Gauged At Wildcat In SE Borden Area

Charles C. Green of Midland and associates No. 1 V. H. Wolf, wildcat in Southeast Borden County, developed flowing oil and gas on a drillstem test of the lower Wolfcamp.

A five hour and 20-minute test was taken in the interval from 6:04-6:05 feet. Gas surfaced in five minutes and oil-cut mud in 15 minutes. It was flowed to pits 30 minutes to clean and then turned to tanks through a one-inch opening on tubing. During the first hour it gauged 88 barrels of fluid, 60 per cent oil and 40 per cent mud. The project was flowed to tanks two hours and 45 minutes. The rest of the time the tool was open it was turned to tanks.

Flow Gauged
During the two hours and 45 minutes of flowing to tanks it made 183 barrels of fluid, shakeout was between 30 to 40 per cent basic sediment and water. One-third of the basic sediment and water was from an undetermined source.

The flow was through a one-inch choke for one hour and a 5/8-inch choke one hour and 45 minutes. Operators had pumped 150 barrels of water and a large amount of mud into the hole to kill the blowout that occurred several days ago.

Operator was analyzing the water to determine its origin.

Gas Volume
Gas volume during the test was from 500,000 to 750,000 cubic feet daily. Flowing pressure was from 1,130 to 2,240 pounds. Shutin pressure after one hour was 2,720 pounds.

More holes was being made below 6 1/4 feet in lime and shale.

The project will be drilled through the Pennsylvanian section.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 40, block 25, H&TC survey.

NW Loving Area To Get Prospector To Test Delaware Zone

Quinn and Adams of Odessa No. 1 Mrs. Minnie Kyle and others in to be a wildcat to drill to 4,000 feet or a test of the Delaware sand at a lesser depth in Northwest Loving County.

It is 13 miles northeast of Ora and 330 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 22, block 35, T-1, T&P survey.

It is one and one-quarter miles east of the nearest production in the Mason (Delaware) field. Drilling will be with combination tools.

Lion Oil Finals Goens Opener In C-E Coke Sector

Lion Oil Company has completed its No. 1 Mary as a dual producer from the Goens and the Gardner. The oil is a discovery from the Goens. It is in Central-East Coke County.

From that formation it was potentialized for 167 barrels of oil daily through a 1 1/2 inch choke and from perforations from 5,051 to 5,037 feet and 5,047 to 5,051 feet. Pay was washed with 500 gallons of mud acid.

Previously the well was finished from the Gardner through perforations at 5,310-5,342 feet for a daily flowing potential of 868.36 barrels of 50.6-gravity oil daily through a 1 1/2 inch choke.

Location for No. 1 Mary is in section 390, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

Oil, Gas, Water Is Found On DST At Andrews Test

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 2-D University, wildcat in South-Central Andrews County, developed oil, gas and sulphur water on a drillstem test from 7,559 to 7,560 feet in the Leonard.

Tool was open two hours and 28 minutes. Recovery was 330 feet of clean oil, 230 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 30 feet of sulphur water.

Hole was bottomed at 7,625 feet with another drillstem test underway.

Location is 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 20, block 1, University Lands survey and 10 miles south of the town of Andrews.

Water Developed At Berry Project In NE Schleicher

Robert W. Berry and others No. 1 Thomason, wildcat and indicated Strawn discovery in Northeast Schleicher County, developed water on a drillstem test in the Ellenburger from 8,709 to 8,754 feet.

Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 1,600 feet of salt water. The Ellenburger was topped at (Continued On Page 12)

Stalin's Condition Deteriorating

UNINVITED MIDNIGHT GUEST—The S. M. Sisley family was awakened rudely shortly after 2 a.m. Thursday when the automobile, above, crashed into their home at 1600 West Louisiana Street. Not only was the house damaged, as shown below, but two automobiles in the same block also were struck by the car, the driver of which is being held by police.

Entering Home Uninvited Puts End To Fender-Bender's Party

S. M. Sisley and his family had an unexpected midnight visitor at their home at 1600 West Louisiana Street early Thursday.

And a 24-year-old motorist was featured in a three-cushion billiard shot which rolled him right into the Midland County jail.

"We were all asleep," reported Sisley, area gas engineer for the Shell Oil Company, "when we were awakened by this loud crash in the living room."

"At first I thought it was a gas explosion of some kind. I rushed into the living room and found this automobile halfway in the room."

The driver, meanwhile, had stepped out of the car and looked apologetically at Sisley as he rushed in from the adjoining bedroom.

"I'm sorry," he said, "it was all my fault."

Close to the heels of the uninvited automobile came Midland police, hastily summoned to the scene.

Officer W. D. Green reported that the driver, heading east on West Louisiana Street, first had struck an automobile, belonging to

Dr. Thomas Marinis, at 1610 West Louisiana Street.

Then the automobile careened across the street and sideswiped an automobile, belonging to M. C. Newell, at 1607 West Louisiana Street.

Then it veered back across the street, plunged across the Sisley front yard and crashed through the front door, tearing away a corner of brick and into the living room.

The driver of the runaway automobile was booked on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Damage to Dr. Marinis' automobile was estimated at $1,000, to the Newell automobile at $100 and an estimate of the damage to the residence still was not available at noon Thursday.

All major household appliances, including home refrigerators, dishwashers, ranges, clothes washers, driers and ironers, home and farm freezers.

All custom-made and fabricated plastic included and casted plastic products.

All new passenger automobiles and postwar used cars, parts and accessories, as well as all commercial vehicles, including trucks, buses, trailers and parts. The automobile items represented have an estimated retail sales volume of $12,000,000.

In addition, controls were removed from glycerine, cocoa and cocoa products, copper chemicals, and X-ray and electrical therapeutic apparatus.

All laundry, dry cleaning and linen and diaper services, with an annual sales volume of $2,000,000, also were freed of curbs.

Thursday's action left these items still under government price control: beer, some chemicals, No. 2 heating oil, various building materials and metals and metal products and machinery.

Receipts in the Red Cross Fund Drive here Thursday totaled $2,560 as the community-wide campaign entered its third day.

It was the first report announcement issued since the drive opened Tuesday, and W. Elmer Henderson, general chairman, said the fine response to date is indicative of widespread interest in the Red Cross in Midland. He predicted the campaign will exceed its $14,500 goal by the end of next week.

Henderson explained that only a few of the scores of volunteer workers have reported to date.

Texas Senate Alters Stand On Letting Co-Eds In A&M

AUSTIN—(P)—There'll be no co-eds at A&M after all. At least, not for the present.

With lightning speed Thursday, the Senate recalled and killed the resolution it passed two days ago directing the Texas A&M Board to open the all-boys agricultural college to girls.

The vote was a decisive 28-1. There wasn't a word of debate.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Senator William Moore, Bryan, author of controversial measure that has flooded the Senators with phone calls, letters and telegrams.

Moore later said it was the pressure from opponents that killed the resolution.

"There are just as many for it as there are against it but it was the opponents who were sending all those telegrams," he said.

He said the vote ended the matter as far as he was concerned this session but he predicted the college will go co-educational within 10 years.

"I know I'm right," he insisted. Senator Searcy Bracewell, Houston, who led the opposition, relaxed and declared: "I feel better. I think the whole Senate feels better."

Ike Expresses Willingness To Meet Stalin's Successor

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Eisenhower Thursday expressed willingness to go halfway to Moscow to meet whoever succeeds the dying Joseph Stalin in Russia's seat of power. He attached the same conditions set out a week ago for a possible meeting with Stalin.

In a news conference statement, the President said he did not know what might come from the impending shifts in Russia and described the U. S. attitude of the moment as very definite watchfulness.

He said this country's basic aim would be, as it has been, to seek progress toward peace.

As to a meeting with any new Russian leader, he said the conditions would be that if had approval of the American people, and that there was reason to believe it would do some good in the cause of peace.

Congress Clerk Ned

In his third news conference as President, Eisenhower also:

1. Said it is up to Congress now to work out the wording of a resolution condemning Russia for enslaving free peoples. He declared there is no rift between him and Senate Republican Leader Taft over changes in the resolution the President submitted to Congress.

The amendment has stirred a row in Congress. Democrats are fighting it, shattering Administration hopes for unanimity behind the cold war move the resolution represents.

At his news conference Eisenhower also:

1. Said his Administration has neither misgivings nor optimism about Russian intentions in the light of Prime Minister Stalin's grave illness.

2. Blasted the current wave of anti-Semitism behind the Iron Curtain as deplorable and heartbreaking—particularly, he said, to a man who has seen, as he has, the results of Nazi efforts to exterminate Jews.

3. Reaffirmed his stand in favor of the states having full ownership of offshore lands within their historic borders.

4. Said he expects his first reorganization plan, making the Federal Security Administration a full fledged department headed by a Cabinet member, will be ready for submission to Congress next week.

Controls Lifted On Breads, Cars

WASHINGTON—(P)—The government Thursday lifted price controls from major household appliances, bread and bakery products, automobiles and laundry services.

Price Chief Joseph H. Freehill estimated the annual sales volume of items removed from control by the action is $5 billion dollars.

It was the fifth major step in lifting controls since President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message, called for an end to price curbs by April 30.

These are the major items from which the controls were removed Thursday:

All bakery products, including bread, rolls, pies and so forth, estimated to have an annual sales volume of $3,500,000,000.

All major household appliances, including home refrigerators, dishwashers, ranges, clothes washers, driers and ironers, home and farm freezers.

All custom-made and fabricated plastic included and casted plastic products.

All new passenger automobiles and postwar used cars, parts and accessories, as well as all commercial vehicles, including trucks, buses, trailers and parts. The automobile items represented have an estimated retail sales volume of $12,000,000.

In addition, controls were removed from glycerine, cocoa and cocoa products, copper chemicals, and X-ray and electrical therapeutic apparatus.

Henderson explained that only a few of the scores of volunteer workers have reported to date.

Forecasters say the warm weather will continue Friday, the Associated Press pointed out.

Except for the continued absence of rain—there had been none in more than 24 hours anywhere in the state—it might as well have been Spring. Nature was rushing the season.

The witness was identified as Mary Alice Chadwick, former nurse at the Western Clinic-Hospital, who attended Louise Hutchins on the night she was shot by Jenkins as they sat parked on a lonely road on the outskirts of the city last December.

Postponement came as it was disclosed in court for the first time that Mrs. Hutchins had not been summoned to testify for the state because she is an "unwilling witness."

Defense Attorney Lester Boone of Odessa said he had summoned the sunbath victim as a witness for the defense and that she now is on her way to Midland from Oklahoma.

Mrs. Hutchins, shot once in the abdomen, subsequently recovered and moved to Oklahoma.

Red Dictator Sinks Further In Deep Coma

By EDDIE GILMORE

LONDON—(P)—Moscow Radio said Thursday night that Joseph Stalin's condition is deteriorating.

This was announced shortly before 8:30 p.m. (Moscow Time) in a bulletin which gave the 73-year-old dictator's condition as of 4 p.m. Moscow time (7 a.m., CST).

"In the course of the night and first half of the day of 5th March the state of health of J. V. Stalin deteriorated," said the bulletin, the third issued by the 10 doctors attending him.

"To the former disorder of the important functions of the brain an acute (word missing here) on the part of the cardiac vascular system was added. In the morning of the fifth, phenomena of heavy respiratory deficiency were observed.

"This subjected to corresponding therapeutic treatment with difficulty. By 4 a.m. a phenomenon of acute cardiac vascular deficiency developed—first the blood pressure decreased. The pulse became more frequent. Pallor increased. Under the influence of extraordinary measures applied, these phenomena were removed.

"An electro-cardiogram taken at 11 a.m. showed an acute disorder of blood circulation.

"At 4 p.m. the blood pressure was—maximum 180, minimum 100. Pulse 120 per minute. Breathing 30 per minute. Temperature 37.6 (99.9 Fahrenheit). Leucocytes 2100.

"The treatment is at present directed mainly toward combating the irregularities in breathing and circulation."

British medical authorities pressed announcement at the reports coming from Moscow.

Pravda Asks Unity

As the latest report on the condition of their leader was announced to the saddened Russian people, the Communist Party newspaper Pravda, in a front-page editorial, called for "unity of the party and the people" in these difficult days.

The government's Council of Ministers (Cabinet) and the Communist Party's Central Committee already had announced they were "guiding" the party and the country, but there had been no indication here as to how government or party leadership would be affected by Stalin's incapacity.

Although unquestionably tense and nervous, Moscow's citizens went about their normal tasks as the morning broke with snow falling from grey, heavy-laden skies and a biting wind whipping out of the northeast.

People Crowded Churches
Factories, stores and offices were open as usual. There were no crowds in Red Square, the vast open area under the sprawling Kremlin battlements.

The chief indication of anything out of the ordinary was the large number of people in the city's churches. Many flocked to burn candles and pray for Stalin's health.

"I'm in favor of cutting the taxes and trimming government expenditures to meet the decreased government income," Regan said. He believes this can be done safely without hurting any of the "necessary" projects. "By necessary projects I mean this," he added. "Too many people have looked too long to the government for financial aid in any and everything—things which could be solved without federal aid. These are unnecessary."

"The government has no real money of its own," Regan asserted. "The money the government spends comes right from the taxpayers' pockets. Cutting taxes would mean simply that some of the 'handouts' would be halted."

While in the same vein, Regan moved to the question of farm price supports. Regan believes in the "supply and demand" theory.

Picket Ban Is Extended

A ban on picketing of the million-dollar First Baptist Church construction project was continued by Judge R. W. (Bob) Hamilton Thursday until the case is tried before a 12-man jury next Thursday.

Judge Hamilton, who last Saturday heard both sides present testimony in 70th District Court, ruled shortly after noon Thursday that he would grant a temporary injunction against the pickets.

A temporary restraining order was issued 10 days ago after pickets representing the Construction and General Laborers Union, Local 924, appeared on the job site.

Union leaders said Houston Hill contractor on the job, refused to negotiate concerning wages and overtime pay for common laborers on the project.

Pickets carried placards declaring the Union on strike and charging that Hill would not pay "approved wages and overtime."

The temporary restraining order was subsequently obtained by attorneys for Hill.

Regan Thinks Stalin's Death Could Spark Satellite Revolt

By BOB GALLAWAY

Stalin's death, says Congressman Ken Regan, could spark revolt in Iron Curtain countries. Regan, on a quick trip to Midland, pointed to Poland as the most likely to rise up against the Communists.

"Poland," he said, "looks to Stalin as the dominating force, the power that holds Communists threads together. With his death, the Polish people in all probability will revolt against the Reds within their country. It is more Stalin's personality and power than Communism doctrine that has held Poland in check," he said.

As far as the United States is concerned, Regan continued, the policy will be one of "watchful waiting."

"It would be simply a matter of guessing," he said, "to say what the U. S. might do after Stalin's death. It will depend largely upon who takes his place—and the course of action his successor may take."

"Of course," he added, "Stalin's successor may not be one man. It very well could be a board of directors to dictate future Soviet policy."

Turning to the domestic scene, Regan expressed optimism that the new Administration through starting slowly, would lead the United States "away from the socialistic trend we've been following."

The amiable congressman said Eisenhower had placed able men in key positions—men, he said, who are moving cautiously, avoiding "wild leaps," planning wisely for the good of the nation. They will, he added, work easily with the Congress in shaping future U. S. policies.

State Police Squelch Threat Of Silver City Mob Violence

SILVER CITY, N. M.—(AP)—Possibility of violence over a controversial movie was averted Thursday as peace officers held a tight rein on this southwestern mining area.

Townpeople of Silver City, Santa Rita, Hurley, Bayard and Central were on their good behavior under the watchful eyes of a strong force of local authorities bolstered by more than 30 state policemen.

Wednesday night when more than 500 persons attended an overflow meeting in a Bayard union hall. Local 890 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, producers of the movie "Salt of the Earth," struck at its critics with a harsh resolution.

The movie has been labeled in Congress by Representative Jackson (R-Calif.) a "new weapon for Russia." Communist sponsored. The union was ejected from the CIO because its leaders refused to swear they weren't Communists.

Paul Jarrico, Hollywood film writer and one of the movie's sponsors, called Jackson "an unmitigated liar" and asked him to "take off his cloak of congressional immunity and fight like a man."

About 150 residents of the area delivered an ultimatum to the union Wednesday to get its movie crew "out of Grant County" or go out in black boxes. The deadline was noon Wednesday, and a whistle was to be blown at 4 p.m. signaling an attack if the warning was not heeded.

The whistle did not sound. Instead, there was a "citizens parade." For two and one-half hours protesters wound their way through the town over a route lined by police.

Leading the procession was a sound car blaring "We don't want communism; respect the law; no violence, but let's show them we don't like it."

It wound up with the announcement: "Well, that's all, folks. I guess we showed them."

"Business As Usual" The union's answer Wednesday night said: "We will continue to protect our union and our own best interests. And as a labor organization, we have the right to make and complete our movie. "We intend to finish the project we have started, believing it to be of benefit to our membership and to the whole community."

Clinton Jencks, Mine-Mill international representative, announced "It will be business as usual today" as far as the union and the movie company are concerned.

As for Wednesday's ultimatum, he said: "Their actions make them liable for conspiracy to commit murder, and we shall demand that they be prosecuted if any such other meetings are held."

The union resolution declared: "We regard the attack on our movie as a mark for an attack on our union in the old hope of breaking up our organization. "We condemn the actions of hoodlums representing themselves as speaking for Grant County . . ."

Johnson in Hollywood Three 'Don't's' Do For Cantor What 3-D Does For Hollywood

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
Excusively Yours: Hollywood is discovering 3-D but Eddie Cantor has discovered 3-E.

It's what the doctor ordered for Eddie now that he's back on his feet and feeling great after a heart seizure which put him in the hospital for two months.

The doctor's prescription is engraved on a gold chain given him by his daughter, Marjorie, attached to his automobile keys. It reads: "Dear Daddy, Remember the 3 E's."

The 3 E's Eddie has to remember are: Over-EATING, over-EMOTION and over-EXCITEMENT.

"I even take a 45-minute nap after dinner every night no matter who is in the house," Eddie told me. "When I can't sleep, I just think, 'Of course, I don't think about Marilyn Monroe. I confine my thinking to Sophie Tucker, or Ted Lewis' hat, or something like that.'"

There's an ironic note to Eddie's two-month hospital siege. "The Eddie Cantor Story," now filmed at Warner Brothers, ends with the star having a mild heart seizure and being told to take life easier.

"But, it was written," Eddie reveals, "a year before I had one. Now it's believable. I bet Jack Warner said, 'Thank you, Eddie. You didn't let us down' when he heard I was in the hospital.'"

Edwina Maureen O'Hara's cry: "HEAD ENGINEER—Maj.-Gen. Samuel J. Sturgis, of St. Paul, Minn., will replace Lt.-Gen. Lewis Pick as head of the Army Corps of Engineers. Major-General Sturgis has been a member of the Engineer Corps since 1918, when he graduated from West Point."

Midland Insurance Group At Meeting
John M. McConnell, district manager of the Texas Employers' Insurance Association — Employers Casualty Company, 510 Wilkerson-Foster Building, is attending the annual convention of his companies in Dallas.

The entire sales and service force of his office accompanied McConnell to Dallas.

The Midland group is among the 400 leading insurance men from Texas, as well as Los Angeles, Calif., Oklahoma City, Okla., St. Louis, Mo., and Kansas City, Mo., attending the convention.

Delegates will hear reports on the progress of their companies during the last year, and will plan and formulate sales and service methods for some 85,000 Texas policyholders.

The highlight of the convention will be the annual banquet scheduled Friday, at which time A. F. Allen, president of the two companies, and C. G. Weekly, vice president in charge of sales, will present service awards for 10 persons who have been with the companies more than 25 years.

Other Midlanders attending the convention are Melvin Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Hill D. Ebdson and Mr. and Mrs. James T. Smith.

Jascha Heifetz Collects Stamps
NEW YORK —(AP)—Jascha Heifetz, world-famed violinist, is music-minded even when it comes to his pet hobby: stamp collecting.

Heifetz says only those stamps that pertain to music. His collection contains items from more than 80 countries ranging from Abyssinia to Venezuela.

One of his stamps shows a sither. Another from the Congo pictures natives beating drums. And still another from Austria depicts a stamp that bears the name "Franz Schubert" over the paddle-wheel. Quite a few stamps in Heifetz' collection have reproductions of harps. Several British stamps show the Great Seal of the British Empire in which there is a small harp. And a recent stamp from Ireland has a harp as its main design.

"Everyone should have a hobby," says Heifetz. "And I'm proud to say that stamps are my hobby."

Japan Diplomatic Change Predicted

TOKYO —(AP)—Kyodo News Agency Thursday said Robert D. Murphy, U. S. ambassador in Japan, will leave for Washington in April to swap jobs with John M. Allison, assistant secretary of State in charge of Far Eastern affairs.

Kyodo said Allison would arrive here in May.

A spokesman at the U. S. Embassy said no official word of any contemplated change had been received from Washington.

Back in 1953 in Exeter, England, a chunk of beef weighing 535 pounds was cooked in a makeshift oven fitted with 218 gas jets.

Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Shriver Talk To Pyracantha Garden Club

Mrs. W. E. Scott and Mrs. Frank Shriver were speakers Tuesday when the Pyracantha Garden Club met in the Church of Christ annex. Their respective topics were "Dahlias in Midland" and "Terrariums and Dish Gardens." Mrs. Scott cautioned members to put dahlias in the ground only after all danger of frosts and freezes is past since these bulbs like a warm soil. Dahlias should be planted about six inches deep, she said, and for good results there should be bone meal, nitrogen and potash in the soil.

She also advised members to cover the bulbs gradually as they grow with about two inches of soil over the bulbs at the beginning. Allow only one shoot to each bulb, she said, and don't water too often, but cultivate the soil around the bulbs once or twice a week as dahlias need air in order to grow.

Mrs. Shriver demonstrated the building of a terrarium along with her talk. She placed tiny pieces of charcoal in the bowl first, then added rocks and broken bits of old flower pots since a terrarium has no drainage. She then placed sand in the container, tilting the mixture to form a background for the plantings, and lastly adding a thick layer of planting soil.

Only small, slow growing, moisture loving plants are used in a terrarium, she said, and added a warning against over-watering. Dish gardens are planted in the same way, she explained, except with no tilting of the soil.

Mrs. E. C. Ruhmann and Mrs. Willard Bumpass were hostesses. Mrs. E. V. Mitchell was presiding officer.

Garden Club Works To Beautify Park

The Welcome Wagon Garden Club, in connection with its club project, beautifying Henry Hall Park, has announced a working schedule for the park's improvement and maintenance.

The immediate schedule calls for Spring planting of bulbs and seeds and the care and cultivation of shrubbery. Sturdy shrubbery and ample play areas have been stressed in the landscaping plans.

This is the second year the club has had the park as its project. The area for the park, located on South Main Street, was donated by Mrs. Henry Hall in memory of her husband.

Others attending were Mrs. Frank W. Reeves, Mrs. James E. Peck, Mrs. W. L. Johnson, Mrs. C. D. Templeton, Mrs. J. M. Osmann, Mrs. L. F. Uhing, Mrs. H. W. Mathews, Mrs. I. W. Hynd, Mrs. Coe Mills, Mrs. S. M. Staley, Mrs. H. S. McFadden, Mrs. A. J. Hill, Mrs. T. P. Drew.

Dr. Wyvell Speaks To TB Association

Dr. Dorothy Wyvell was guest speaker Tuesday at the meeting of the Midland County Tuberculosis Association. In her talk she stressed the basic significance of the tuberculin testing program and explained how B. C. G. inoculation is being used in many countries to reduce tuberculosis.

Inoculation in Minnesota over a 30-year period, she said, aided in reducing the mortality rate from 2,400 cases to 410 cases for a population of 100,000. The tests, she added, are not only important to the patient, but also to the patient's family and community.

John J. Hedberg, Jr. was program chairman, Mrs. Linnie H. Davidson, executive secretary, reported that the annual school tuberculosis test was being given this month. Approximately 500 children from the Greenwood and St. Ann's schools, took the test Monday, she said. Those in charge of the program, assisted by the Parent-Teacher Association, are Mrs. T. J. Melton, Mrs. Jack Bliss and Mrs. R. E. Taylor.

Dr. Fred Gaard was appointed chairman for the annual association meeting April 7. The following committees were named: Nominating committee, Mrs. Bliss, Mrs. Melton and Gordon McCutchen, chairman; membership committee, Redfern, Dr. H. D. Gilliam and F. B. Here's a tip on traveling, which comes straight out of a letter written long ago by the late Edna St. Vincent Millay to her family. After commenting on an interesting conversation she had with a stranger she deliberately sat down beside on a train, she explained: "I have told you I always pick a man under those circumstances, because if they talk to you it is either interesting and you are glad they did, or rude and you can shut them up—but women always talk and you can't do a thing about it."

You may not find that tip in any etiquette book—but think it over and you'll realize that all the answers aren't in books of etiquette.

Mrs. J. B. Elder Is Named City P-TA Council President

Mrs. J. B. Elder was elected president of the Parent-Teacher Association City Council at a meeting in Midland High School.

Other officers to be installed May 4 are Mrs. T. J. Melbin, first vice president; Mrs. Raymond Leggett, second vice president; Mrs. H. C. Rowland, secretary; and Mrs. Edwin Grienecks, treasurer.

The officers will be installed during an all-day school of instructions for new P-TA presidents, other officers and committee chairmen in Hotel Scharbauer. A nursery will be provided for the meeting. Meeting council officers are to meet at 9:30 a.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. S. M. Briskine.

Ozona Author Talks To Club

Mrs. Walter Clendenen of Ozona, author of the book, "Ida Wears the Bitchies," was the guest speaker Wednesday when the Modern Study Club met in the home of Mrs. Douglas F. Edman.

Mrs. Clendenen recounted something of her life and expressed happy amusement in the development of West Texas. If early explorers could see Midland's skyline, she told the group, they would surely consider it a mirage.

To explain the importance which the writing held for her, she told of a book dealing with Japanese industries who found mental peace and artistic satisfaction in evoking beauty from the arrangement of simple desert growths which they referred to as "robus."

Writing, she described as her own personal "robus." After these general remarks, she gave a brief resume of her book.

She was introduced by Mrs. C. R. Harrell who pointed out that much of Mrs. Clendenen's story material came to her through the people she met in the course of running her antique shop in Ozona. Mrs. Clendenen was accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Eberly, also of Ozona. During the business session, the group voted to present the book, "Partners With Nature," by Iva Green to the Midland County Library. Tentative plans were made to hold a short story contest for which a $10 prize will be awarded.

Others attending were Mrs. Ed Shubely, Mrs. Joe Sims, Mrs. Robert E. Morgan, Mrs. John Daly, Mrs. Erma Mancill, Mrs. Haskell Brady, Mrs. Edwin C. Hall, Mrs. Brandon E. council meeting of the district conference for P-TA workers April 20-21 in Lamesa, when the Midland P-TA council will present a skit, "Who Killed Bill?"

Guest members for the skit, which also will be presented by the state P-TA convention, include Mrs. Elder, Mrs. Grienecks, Mrs. Victor Horn, Mrs. Rowland, Mrs. Leggett and Mrs. Clarence Givens.

Members were reminded that this is visitation week in the public schools of the city, and were urged to attend the conference held by Dr. Per G. Stensland with P-TA workers of the city. Dr. Stensland is head of the adult education program of Texas Technological College, Lubbock.

New by-laws to the council constitution were adopted and recognition was given to Sam Houston, Lamar and North Elementary P-TA units for their donations to help pay the expense of the incoming council president to the national P-TA convention.

Delta Gamma Alums Mark Founder's Day

New officers of the Delta Gamma Alumnae Association took over their duties Wednesday at the group's Founder's Day observance in the home of Mrs. J. W. Rutwe.

Its chief philanthropic project is a program of sight conservation and aid to the blind. In connection with this program, the organization makes an annual $1,000 grant to a teacher studying in the field of preschool blindness or orthopedics. The group also grants a $1,500 memorial fellowship to some prominent person for study in the field of his choice.

Solon Asks Strong U. S. Parity Policy

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Falling farm prices, along with a billion dollar hoard of farm commodities held by the government to stabilize the market, have Texas members of Congress worried.

As a whole they're inclined so far to wait a bit longer before hurling charges at the Eisenhower Administration.

One of the best informed men in Washington on agricultural problems is Waco's Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage, who has discussed the problem several times with Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tamm Benson. A Democrat, Poage thinks farm prices probably will level off and everything will be all right.

"At least, I hope so," he said. "But, we're skating on thin ice."

"Unless the government, the administration that is, gives assurances that it sincerely wants to maintain a 90 per cent of parity price support program, you might see the market tumble."

The Texan explained that the Agriculture Department is authorized now to support the six basic commodities at 90 per cent of parity. (Parity is a formula designed to net the producer a fair return for his output). The basic commodities are: cotton, corn, wheat, rice, peanuts and tobacco.

Depends On Attitude

Although the authorization for the price support program exists, its success depends entirely on the attitude of the administration and the secretary of agriculture, Poage added. The cabinet member is the man who must issue the various orders and directives to carry it out, and come to Congress for more funds for the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) to operate its purchase or loan programs if more money is needed.

KOREAN WATER HOLE — Water may be easy to get in most parts of the world, but this Seoul, Korea, boy had to chop a hole in the thick ice of the Han River to get his. There is still a critical water supply problem in this war-torn city, and the bitter winter cold is hampering efforts to solve it.

In that regard, Poage points out that in 17 years that price support programs have been in effect, the government has netted a profit of about 225 million dollars while assuring farmers billions of dollars of income they might not otherwise have had.

Pointing to the statements and acts of Benson since he took over at the helm of the Agriculture Department, particularly in regard to his attitude on falling livestock prices, Poage added:

"I'm a little worried over the lack of enthusiasm he has shown in the price support programs."

"Although a secretary of agriculture could sabotage a farm program, I want to make it clear that I am not suggesting that Mr. Benson will do so. I think he is sincerely trying to figure out the best way to face a difficult situation."

Hard Talk To Do

Many people interpret the Republican presidential campaign statements last Fall as commitments to back a 100 per cent of parity price support program.

"Whether that's true or not," Poage continued, "the Republicans are finding out that it is a hard thing to do without running into an expensive subsidy program."

Rep. Clark Thompson of the Galveston district, like Poage a member of the House Agriculture committee, has urged the immediate purchase by the armed services of large quantities of meat and livestock.

"This would save taxpayers by getting the military the supplies it needs while the prices are down, and at the same time would help the producers by stabilizing the market," he declared.

Rep. Lloyd Benison of McAllen, concerned with the citrus and fresh vegetable levels as well as cotton and livestock prices, says he is waiting and watching to see how the Administration gets along for a while yet before reaching an opinion.

"I do think they have done one good thing already," he added. "In lifting livestock price controls and compulsory grading of meats they have helped both the grower and the consumer."

Negro Workers Open Red Cross Campaign

The Red Cross Fund Drive in the negro section of the city was launched Tuesday, following a Monday night meeting held in the Carver School.

E. L. Jordan, principal of the Carver School, is the chairman. He presided at the Monday night meeting, outlining the purpose of the campaign, announcing assignments and distributing materials.

Eighteen volunteer workers attended the session.

Franklin's To Conduct Open House In New Store Friday

Franklin's Store for Women will hold its official opening in its new building at 113 North Main Street Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Midlanders and others in this area are invited to attend the open house at which free gifts will be provided and registration will be handled for a big drawing several days later. Prizes at the drawing will include an electric roaster, a radio-clock and other items. No purchase is necessary for registration which is open to all.

John Masten, Franklin's district supervisor, said that the move from Franklin's old store at Main and Wall to the new location has provided much additional space, enabling the store to handle a larger stock and take on additional lines of merchandise.

No matter what a woman's size may be, Franklin's will be able to fit her with the kind of clothing she prefers. They have every size from 7 to 52 in dresses, lingerie and sportwear.

The newly decorated building in which Franklin's is now located is beautifully and modernistically arranged and features cold cathode strip lighting, air conditioning for Summer and Winter, and convenient dressing rooms.

Masten said the new store, which contains approximately 3,000 square feet of space, now has ample room to carry a much larger stock of clothing, thus serving old and new customers better.

The same sales force which has helped Franklin's customers through the years joins the management in extending an invitation to regular and new customers to visit the store where Midland women enter beautiful and exit more beautifully dressed.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

As ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely, ye have received, freely give. Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses. —Matthew 10:7, 9.

Today's Message

Jesus evidently wanted His followers to learn that their effectiveness depended upon what they had built into their own characters. He wanted them to learn the things of inner integrity that they could take with them whenever they went.

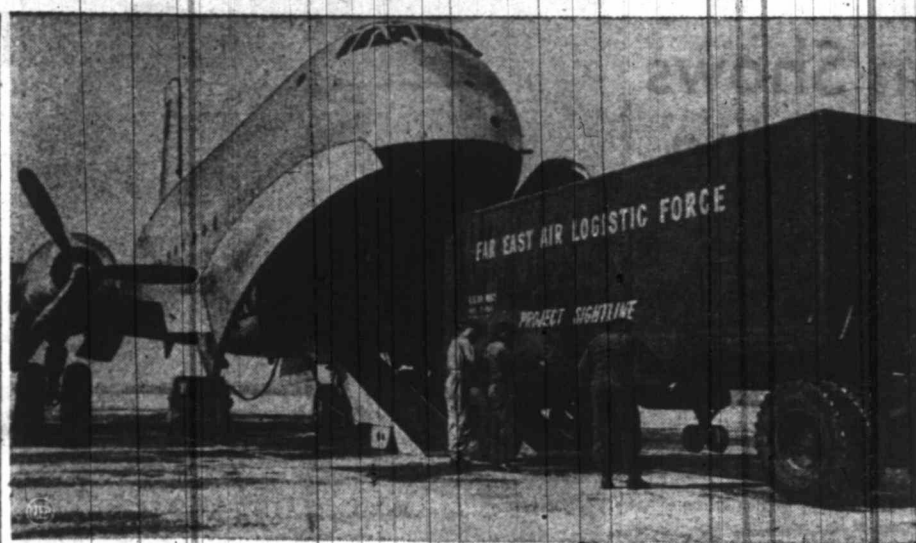

Such an emphasis is greatly needed today when the externals are changing so rapidly. "You can't take it with you," is a popular phrase and represents a truth we need to learn, but it also implies a greater truth: "You can take it with you." We can take with us faith, courage, good will, helpfulness to those who need our help, integrity to our best belief in God and man, wherever we go. When we learn to use these, we can then make proper use of the material things which are available. Religion in our day is undergoing another acid test; the externals are being eaten away, but this will bring to light again the things which cannot be destroyed. We are called to be witnesses to these things. We may look to the future with hope and confidence because the Spirit of Truth is still leading us back to old truths and into new truth.

—THEODORE H. EVANS

Today's Prayer

O Father, grant that in days of confusion and change we may rediscover Thy peace and Thy changeless purpose of building better life in us that we may help to build a better world. Amen.

NOTHING TO YAWN ABOUT—The Air Force's first "flying repair shop" only brings a big yawn to the huge C-124 Globemaster, but to economy-minded Air Force officials it means the saving of $18,000 for every 100 items repaired. On the fighting front, this complete aircraft workshop will be airlifted from base to base repairing equipment which once had to be returned to the U. S. for maintenance. The 26-foot van was transformed into a complete shop in one week at the Gentile Air Force Depot, Dayton, Ohio.

Saddle With Built-In Radio Breaks Quiet Of Open Space

SAN ANGELO — (AP) — Soap operas and disc jockeys may be about to ripen out the coyote's wail on the lone prairie.

The quiet of the wide open spaces has been cracked, like the sonic barrier of the interstellar spaces.

What we mean, podner, is you can buy a saddle with a built-in radio.

Employees of the M. L. Leddy Boot and Saddle Shop dreamed up such a rig for display at the Houston Fat Stock Show.

The ornate saddle with a small radio worked into its pommel just under the horn, is tooled and stained and fitted with nickel silver mountings.

The radio is powered with two batteries carried in matching saddle pockets, one on each side. A loop antenna is sewn under the saddle skirts.

The face plate of the radio is made of tooled leather, with the dial and volume numbers stamped into it.

Dale Leddy, vice president of the saddlery, said "when we first made this thing, we thought it would make a nice exhibit, cause a few comments and then be forgotten."

But a San Angelo automobile dealer bought the first one—to while away the time he spends riding in parades as a member of the Tom Oren County Sheriff's posse.

Since then, Leddy said, "We've had so many serious inquiries, I think we're going to have to make more radio saddles."

Some woods technically classified as softwoods are actually harder than some hardwoods. Yellow pine, a softwood, is harder than poplar of gum, which are hardwoods.

Text Of New Bulletin Shows Stalin's Condition Declining

LONDON—(AP)—The text of the second medical bulletin on the condition of Soviet Premier Stalin, issued in Moscow Thursday: Bulletin on the state of health of Joseph V. Stalin as at 2 a.m., Moscow time, 5th March, 1953: During the last 24 hours, the state of health of Joseph V. Stalin remained grave. The cerebral hemorrhage in his left brain sector which occurred during the night of 1st-2nd March on the basis of arteriosclerosis and hypertonic disease, has resulted, apart from the right-side paralysis of the limbs and loss of consciousness, in impairing the trunk section of the brain, accompanied by disturbances of the most important functions of breathing and blood circulation.

Stalin's Doctors Use Live Leeches To Suck Out Blood

LONDON—(AP)—The news that the Soviet Union's top doctors are using leeches on stricken Premier Stalin raised some medical eyebrows in the United States Thursday but caused no surprise in Russia. Thursday's medical bulletin on Stalin's condition said that for the second time "leeches were used to draw blood"—presumably in an effort to lower the patient's high blood pressure. In Chicago, a spokesman for the American Medical Association said the blood-sucking worms were out-date, both in the United States and Europe, but maybe the Kremlin doctors wanted to be sure that if Stalin died, no old-fashioned Russian could accuse them of not using every possible remedy.

Some observers doubted that Stalin was being subjected to the same kind of bite that used to deflate black eyes. But Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore in a telephone conversation from Moscow said the bulletin meant live leeches, which Russian doctors use frequently and consider highly successful.

Work Started On Methodist Church In Spraberry Trend

GARDEN CITY—Work has begun on the Pioneer Methodist Church, newest Methodist church in the Spraberry Trend. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held this week with construction beginning immediately afterward. Mrs. W. H. Hutchinson turned the first spadeful of dirt for the building at a ceremony which saw several leading church officials present. The rites were opened with a prayer by the Rev. Orton W. Carter, superintendent of the Big Spring District. B. A. Harris, the Rev. J. P. Boswell and Mrs. Hutchinson also led prayers. The Rev. Jordan Grooms of Big Spring, a member of the District Board of Missions, attended the ceremony. Under construction now is the fellowship wing of the church. The $7,500 section will serve until funds are available for further building. H. H. Hamlin of Midland bid low for the construction job. The Pioneer Church is the third to be built in the Big Spring District since the annual conference of 1952. Others are St. Luke's Methodist Church in Midland and Terminal Methodist Church. Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Benedict donated land for the church. The Rev. J. P. Boswell will serve as pastor two Sundays of each month. The other Sundays he conducts services at the Garden City Methodist Church. Mr. Boswell expressed a desire to hold dedication services in the new church Easter Sunday. He hopes Bishop W. C. Martin will be able to attend the services as main speaker.

Medical measures taken during 4th March consisted of introducing oxygen, the introduction of camphor compounds, caffeine and glucose. For the second time leeches were used to draw blood. In connection with the raised temperature and the high leucocytes (white corpuscle count), penicillin therapy, which has been carried out for prophylactic purposes since the beginning of the illness, was intensified.

Towards the end of 4th March, the state of health of Joseph V. Stalin continues to remain grave. The patient is in a state of deep unconsciousness. Nervous regulation of breathing as well as cardiac activity continue to remain greatly impaired.

When the blood was tested, an increase in the number of white corpuscles to the extent of up to 17,000 was observed. Temperature during the morning and afternoon was raised—up to 38.8 centigrade (101.48 Fahrenheit). Leeches Draw Blood. Medical measures taken during 4th March consisted of introducing oxygen, the introduction of camphor compounds, caffeine and glucose.

Authorities Study Fate Of Shrimpers Held By Mexicans

CAMPECHE, MEXICO—(AP)—The case of the unlucky 13 captured American shrimp boats was in the hands of a federal district attorney Thursday. A request that charges be dropped and the boats released was rejected. The shrimp boats were seized Tuesday by the Mexican Coast Guard cutter Virgilio Uribe off the Yucatan coast. "The cutter's commander said the U. S. boats were fishing two miles offshore, well within Mexican territorial waters. Shrimpers deny this. Seriousness of this latest incident in Mexico's all-out campaign to drive what it calls "pirate ships" from fishing off its coasts brought Charge d'Affaires Paul T. Culbertson of the Mexico City U. S. Embassy and aides to this seaport. Distance Disputed. Culbertson, accompanied by Consul General William A. Light and others, flew here Wednesday. They had a long conference with the commander of the Mexican craft which seized the shrimpers. The issue between the Mexican authorities and the shrimpers was defined as follows: The Mexicans claim the U. S. fishermen were fishing inside the Mexican territorial waters. The U. S. shrimpers claim they were not even inside the nine-mile limit which Mexico claims as territorial waters. Furthermore, they said they were not fishing. Two Not Charged. Some fishermen pointed out they did not have shrimp on their boats. Others said it would have been impossible for them to fish in the shallow waters where they had taken refuge from storm weather. Actually 15 North American shrimp boats are docked here under armed guard but two of them are not charged with illegal fishing. The Louie obtained permission to enter the port because of a sick crewman. The Aya Marie also had permission because of mechanical trouble.

Court Bill Draws Delay

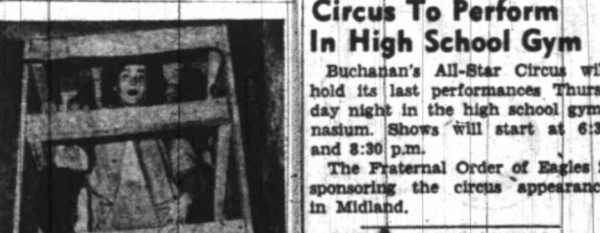

AUSTIN—Action on the Ector-Midland court bill will wait until after Texas lawmakers act on a state-wide judicial redistricting measure, Rep. Hulien Brown of Midland said Thursday. After talks with Gov. Allan Shivers, the lawmaker agreed to give the state bill priority, but said he will try to amend the general bill to provide the separate courts for Ector and Midland Counties on an emergency basis rather than wait until Jan. 1, 1954. He has been assured the state bill will be introduced this week and he will co-author it. A motion will be made to postpone the Ector-Midland bill until April. Brown said that "I understand the governor's attitude in that I realize that if he were to approve this bill where pressure is great to have a new court created, then it would be lessening the pressure to get the state-wide redistricting bill. I think I am in accord with him in that the state very definitely needs state-wide redistricting and am willing to hold up temporarily on the bill to give that general bill a chance to take its course." Brown pointed out that Governor Shivers recognizes the seriousness of the Ector-Midland court situation.

History's Worst Drouth Keeps Strangle Hold On West Texas

PORT WORTH—(AP)—A government expert said Thursday the Southwest's worst drouth in history still strangles half of Texas and most of Oklahoma. Louis P. Merrill, regional director of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, said that was the situation as of March 1. He said light rains in North Texas and Western Oklahoma since then have given only meager relief. In addition, he reported, about 140 counties of East and Central Texas and some areas of Southeastern and North Central Oklahoma no longer are on the critical list. "This was the same broad situation Merrill had reported at the first of the year—only worse. Merrill said the study by his office showed dry weather duration at eight Texas reference points as: Big Spring, 30 months; Del Rio, 28; Dalhart, 40; Fort Stockton, 28; Lubbock, 34 1/2; Haskell and San Angelo, 29, and Amarillo, 20 months. The average duration of the drouth at these points is 31 months. The 1933-36 drouth in Texas lasted 24.4 months and the one in 1916-18 ran 24 months. The sketchy information gathered by historians on the 1884-87 drouth indicates that dry period, though intense and costly, lasted only 23 months. Texas counties reporting wheat cover in poor condition included Donley, Tom Green, Sterling, Glasscock, Hutchinson, Calahan, Runnels, Comcho, Menard, Moore, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Carson, Yoakum, Terry, Lynn, Borden, Schleicher and Kendall. Livestock herds in the dry areas of Oklahoma and Texas have been reduced further as the drouth cut deeper into ranges and pastures. In Iron and Reagan Counties, 90 per cent of the cattle and 80 per cent of the sheep herds had been sold or shipped out. Stockmen in Howard, Martin, Borden and Scurry Counties had sold or shipped 90 per cent of their cattle. One of the present threats is the lack of enough moisture to plant Spring crops. Field men of SCS reported more than 50 counties in Texas and more than 25 in Oklahoma do not have enough moisture for Spring planting. Texas counties are Donley, Tom Green, Wilbarger, Taylor, Sterling, Glasscock, Uvalde, Swisher, Moore, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Oldham, Motley, Carson, Terry, Comcho, Cochran, Iron, Reagan, Lamb, Howard, Dawson, Midland, Crane, Ector, Jones, Martin, Lynn, Borden, Scurry, Schleicher, Clay, Shackelford, Collingsworth, Hall, Young, Starr, Mitchell, Garza, Gaines, Winkler, Ward, Hockley, Wheeler, Hale, Val Verde, Pecos, La Salle, Baylor, Throckmorton, Sutton and Edwards.

'MR. DEMOCRAT' TO COLLEAGUES— Texan Sam Rayburn Starts Fifth Decade In Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Representative Sam Rayburn of Texas, starting his forty-first year in Congress Thursday, advised his colleagues to be "reasonable" if they want to stay in office a long time. The 71-year-old dean of the House is "Mr. Democrat" to fellow-members and no one disputes the esteem in which he is held by members of both political parties. He came to the House 40 years ago Wednesday from the Texas district he still represents, and has sought no other office. "I've never had any ambition to go to the Senate," Rayburn said in an interview. "I love the House of Representatives. I have great faith in it. As long as the House of Representatives stands up to its responsibilities, the country will be safe." Rayburn attributes his longevity in political life and his rise to an exalted position—he has been speaker longer than anyone else in congressional history—to his learning how to get along with people. "My advice to any new member who wants to stay here a long time," he said, "is to keep in mind that he has two constituencies: the people who sent him here and the colleagues with whom he must serve. You must please the people of your district if you want to stay here. And if you want to be in a position which enables you to help and please the people of your district, you must also please your colleagues in the House." By that, he explained, he meant that a congressman who can't make friends with his colleagues will find it difficult to win support for legislation. As speaker of the House 10 years ago—his minority leader now—Rayburn won a reputation for being fair in his rulings and forgetting politics when he handled the gavel. Rayburn spends all of the congressional off-season on his farm near Bonham.

PAMPA'S GULL GETS REWARD

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Ben H. Gull, former Republican Congressman from Texas and manager of the Eisenhower campaign in his home state, was named executive assistant to the postmaster general Wednesday. The Pampa businessman, 43, will fill a post which the Democrats left vacant during the last several years. Gull served in the U. S. House in 1949-50. He has extensive business interests in Texas.

UN Delegates Fret Over USSR Reports

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—United Nations diplomats anxiously pondered Thursday over news of Russia's stricken Prime Minister Stalin. They held little hope that any resulting events in the Kremlin would break the current deadlock in their debate on Korea. Western delegates wondered if Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky would stay on to argue for his program—doomed in advance to overwhelming defeat. There were unconfirmed rumors that he was trying to get back to Moscow as quickly as possible.

McCarthy, McCarran Cry 'Foul' At Vincent Outcome

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Two vigorous critics of career diplomat John Carter Vincent have denounced the way Secretary of State Dulles cleared him of charges questioning his loyalty and approved his retirement.

"Merely a subterfuge," was the comment of Senator McCarthy (D-Nev), chairman of the internal security subcommittee when it questioned Vincent at length last year. Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), who once called Vincent a "Soviet espionage agent," had this to say: "A pension is a reward for having served well. Under no circumstances should anyone like Vincent, having been rejected by the loyalty board, be entitled to any pension."

McCarthy's comment was aimed at Dulles' announcement Wednesday that Vincent would be retired, effective March 31, at about $8,100 a year. Vincent is 52 and has spent 28 years with the State Department.

Dulles rejected a finding by the Civil Service Loyalty Review Board that there was "reasonable doubt" as to Vincent's loyalty. But he ruled Vincent failed to measure up as a foreign service officer.

McCarran, in accusing Dulles of "subterfuge," compared the secretary with his Democratic predecessor, saying: "The fact that Mr. Dulles sees fit to follow in the footsteps of Mr. Acheson doesn't do much credit to him, nor does it change my view of this situation based on the facts as I know them."

Admitted Compromise
Dulles' decision abandoned former Secretary Dean Acheson's uncompromising stand in defense of Vincent, now minister to Morocco and at one time a State Department specialist on China policy.

But it fell short of some demands that Vincent be fired outright. Some congressional Republicans for years have blamed Vincent in large part for the Communist entanglement of China. Complaints generally have been that Vincent's advice favored Chinese Communists over Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Dulles' announcement, climaxing a study of the record and two personal conferences with Vincent, made clear that the decision was a compromise.

Old Purple Perseveres

KNOXVILLE, TENN. —(AP)—City Councilman Cas Walker and some friends were hunting coons Saturday night near Hawkinsville, Ga. About 1 a. m., they decided to wind things up, but Purple, a veteran coon dog, was nowhere to be found.

They scoured the area without success.

Walker Wednesday sent three men into the area to search. One of the trio found Purple—his head stuck in a hollow tree for four days.

He'd treed a coon, tried to go after him and got stuck. The dog seemed to be in good spirits despite his experience.

The coon is in the bag—which also should prove something.

Driver Held After Running Car Over Woman Four Times

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—A young woman who accepted a strange man's offer of a lift to work was in critical condition Thursday after being run over four times by his car on busy Wilshire Boulevard.

Irwin L. Diamond, 24, a Western Union messenger and night shift worker in an airplane factory, was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. He was quoted by police: "I don't know why I did it. I don't remember anything."

The victim, 26-year-old Paula A. Friedman, an art student, said Diamond began making amorous advances, and although she fought him off, he wouldn't let her out of the car.

"I don't remember if I jumped or he pushed me," she told hospital attendants. "I don't remember much after that except something running over me."

King-Size Divorcee Convicted Of Beating Frail Housekeeper

MEMPHIS, TENN. —(AP)—A 28-pound divorcee was convicted Wednesday night of beating repeatedly the 60-year-old, 90-pound widow who worked as her housekeeper.

A Criminal Court jury reduced the charge against Rosalie Rice, 49, to assault with intent to commit voluntary manslaughter, and recommended a sentence of not more than one and one-half years in prison.

Miss Rice, operator of a small furniture store, denied any mistreatment of Mrs. Bessie Barkdale, formerly postmaster at Blaine, Miss., for 23 years.

"I gave her board and lodgings out of the compassion of my overflowing heart," she said. "I thought she was a harmless imbecile."

Mrs. Barkdale told the jury of numerous beatings and fantastic indignities over a seven-month period.

Police, who broke into the Rice apartment in answer to a series of complaints from neighbors, said Mrs. Barkdale's arm was broken and her eyes, face, neck, body and legs badly bruised.

"I don't know how she got hurt," said Mrs. Rice.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

It was in the long ago, football season to be exact, that anything came up in sports to offer a chance for predictions. Now happens along the state high school basketball tournament, which began Thursday morning.

And guessers, biased or not, are jumping to the conclusions with the abandon of a modern cook springing on frozen foods.

Those making selections, for the most part, say, "I'll take Poly of Fort Worth in the AAAA's, South Park of Beaumont in the AAA's, Bowie in AA, White Oak or Troup in A and Big Sandy, but definitely, in B."

Who would dare say those guessers will get frost-bitten hands? Any takers?

It's easy enough to be different generally but not this time. Put down all, including Troup over White Oak, as your agent's choice. Which means, of course, that from here it doesn't look like West Texas quintets are in for such a big time this weekend. Not even unbeaten Pampa, with its 24-game winning streak.

Why won't Pampa win?

The Harvesters, District 1-AAAA's representatives, put the best record of AAAA teams in line in the meet. Such a mark compares, however, to the one Berger carried to Austin last season, and also in 1951. But the Bergers didn't win, they were just favored to. Keith Lane couldn't get the Bulldogs by Austin in 1951, nor Mack Carter against Poly in 1952. And both of those boys were all-Americans.

Pampa, to be sure, looks like a finalist, drawing Stephen F. Austin of Houston (25-5) to open the four-team division. But, can it be that Coach Clifton McNewley's Harvesters, who went through 1-AAAA easily, have enough with their one All-District 1-AAAA first team player, Jimmy Bond, to advance them to the crown room, where All-Americans failed to tread.

Poly (28-1), the defending titlist, should have little trouble with Austin High, except that the Maroons have almost a dozen lettermen back and Tony Burger, a perennial winner, as coach. Poly, you see, has five of its champs back again, with Jimmy McCulloch, Johnny Betts and Don Rice among the state's topmost players.

Edison of San Antonio whipped defending champion of both AAA and AAAA, Alamo Heights of San Antonio, in its district this year and that alone proves the Bears should give South Park its toughest battle.

Bowie's six-foot-nine, Temple Tucker, an all-state returnee, is enough to make the Jackrabbits the class of all divisions. Bowie is unbeaten in 22 games and stands as the only team to whip Poly this year.

West Texas entry in Class A appears as a definite underdog. The Denver City Mustangs squeezed by Alpine in the regional only by a last second shot in the regular game time and copped the verdict in overtime. Its football-player laden lineup may be the stoutest and apparently best fed of the teams at Austin, but frailty seems to have its in-roads in cage. If you saw the Denver City-Wink quarter-final football game, you practically know the Mustang cage team; Clarence Reed, the all-state lineman; Dick Souter, all district quarterback; Charlie Ward, all-district fullback, and so on.

Our neighbor, Rankin, really goes against the veterans of state tournament campaigns. Big Sandy, for instance, is back a fourth straight time after twice being finalists and winning the thing in a third chance last year.

Cayuga, 1951 champ, is Rankin's first and probably last championship fight opponent. The East Texans, for instance, have lost less than half a dozen games in three years of long seasons; they, like Big Sandy, start in September because they have no football team.

The Class B clubs won't bow to any division as far as individual stars are concerned. Big Sandy, an Indian reservation school which has more than 40 wins compared to four losses, will be represented by at least two returning all-stars: Milton Williams, a sophomore mind you, who was called the best college prospect in Texas last year and one of the best high school guards of all time, and Glenn Fields, 6-6 center. Rankin's Virgil Trowel and Bobby Goodwin both have fine chances to make all-state in the eight-team battle.

Then another team, Hutto, has the only player within all of Central Texas that Texas Longhorn Coach Sine Hull has wanted over a two-year span. He's 6-2 Kermit Decker, a one-man team who as a sophomore last year, paced all teams (including Aulife) in his area as a scorer. Needless to say, he did it again this season.

HAS EVERYBODY'S OKAY—

Bill Hunter, Up From Texas League, Gives Browns Hope

By HARRY GRAYSON
SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF. — (NEA)—The young fellow Marty Marion wants to see the most of at Peris Hill Park here is Gordon William Hunter.

Bill Veck, you see, gave the Brooklyn organization the equivalent of $50,000 for Bill Hunter, the Texas League's most valuable player setting new double play records. With Ray Coleman, Stan Rojek and Bob Mahoney team $100,000 in cash. It is Sport Shirt Veck's most lavish stroke toward restoring the Browns' respectability in St. Louis, more important than ever now that the Anheuser-Busch Brewery millions have moved in on the National League side.

Slate Marion is banking on Hunter, a resident of Indiana, Pa., to accomplish what the long-time Mr. Shortstop himself might still be able to do were he not plagued by a recurrent aching scoliosis.

Manager Marion saw Hunter in a baseball uniform for the first time at this picture park with snowapped Mounts San Bernardino and San Geronimo as a backdrop.

"All I have on Hunter is everybody's OK," says Marion. "I have not talked to a baseball man who has faulted him in the field. They say he goes to his right farther and better than did Chico Carrasquel when he was with Fort Worth."

His Hitting Is Question

Bobby Bragan told Marion that Hunter fielded rings around Guillermo Miranda in the Cuban Winter League, and it is virtually impossible to hit a ball through the Havana Special. No Te Veck made Hunter cut playing in Cuba December 1, so he would be well rested. Everybody who has watched him is positive that Hunter will make all the plays in the American League provided he has the guts, and there is no reason to doubt his intestinal fortitude.

Like practically all young shortstops and most ball players it comes down to the question of Hunter's hitting, which is why Marion was most interested in his stance and

Texas Oil Men Agree To Buy Pro Grid Club

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)—Two Texas oil men have put up money to buy the San Francisco 49er National Football League team, and Anthony J. Morabito, co-owner, has agreed on the terms of the sale, the San Francisco Chronicle reported Thursday.

The bid was made by Clinton W. Murchison, Jr., 29, Dallas, and his brother, John. Papers have been drawn up to complete the deal.

But the league may not approve the transaction, according to League Commissioner Bert Bell. The Chronicle said Bell indicated absolute ownership might be a stumbling block.

No. 4 Good Business

The paper quoted Bell as saying in Philadelphia: "My opinion is that we've been very unsuccessful with absentee ownership. In a professional sports enterprise it is not good business."

Transfer of franchise ownership requires a 10-out-of-12 vote of the league owners.

Morabito had been advised to sell the 49ers by doctors after a heart seizure last May.

No mention of the sale price was made, but it is known that Morabito had set a high figure, somewhere around $400,000.

The Bloomerettes, of course, are the Lions Club members here, playing their one-a-year schedule with the girls to raise money for a community project.

Adams, Irby Dyer, Red Knowles, C. W. Wright, Homer Jefferson, Jack Hayes, Lloyd and Pete Smith, Bill Newman, Warren Goode and H. A. Collins.

swing. You may rest assured, however, that scouts carefully put up all that money.

Hunter, a rather good-looking, fresh-appearing kid with a crew haircut, looks more like the sophomore he was at Indiana State, Pa. Teachers College than an athlete who has worked his way up after five years in the minors.

"When I had to drop out of the Browns' infield last season," says Marion, "it fell apart. We need a take-charge guy, and I am confident Hunter is our man."

Dodgers Still Have Reason

It may well be asked why the Brooklyn club sold him. Well, in the first place, Bill Veck paid plenty.

Secondly, Buzzy Bavasi and Fresno Co. Thompson probably figured Don Zimmer was not as ready as Hunter for the majors. The Dodgers still have a fellow named Pee Wee Reese, Hunter, 25, is three years older than Zimmer.

They also no doubt took into consideration Zimmer's greater power. Zimmer's 190 hits for Mobile last season were good for a total of 287 bases, Hunter's 174 for Fort Worth 216. Zimmer had 17 home runs to Hunter's three, 91 runs batted in in 152 games to Hunter's 75 in 161.

Zimmer batted 319 against Hunter's 284. But Hunter matches Zimmer in stolen bases, showing the way in the Texas League last season with 24. At six feet, he is three inches taller than Zimmer and at 180 outweighs him 15 pounds.

Yankees Go With Rizuto

Marion will never figure out why Cleveland didn't buy Hunter. One of their officials said the Indians would have won last season with him, and most everyone agrees they still have something in the nature of a hole at shortstop.

"No club ever won without an accomplished shortstop," concludes Marty Marion. "Another American League club will beat the Yankees only when Phil Rizuto goes. He was trying last year."

Cast in a most important role with an intriguing club, young Bill Hunter will write one of the more entertaining baseball stories of the Spring.

Texas Flash Going Great Guns Again

By The Associated Press
The "Hondo Hurricane" is blowing up a storm out West again. It may mean that Clint Hartung, the most publicized rookie to come out of World War II, is finally going to make the grade.

Hartung, immediately dubbed the "Phenom" when he showed up at the New York Giants' Phoenix camp in 1947, hung around with the Giants for five years, without ever living up to his service reputation as the greatest pitcher since Walter Johnson and the greatest hitter since Babe Ruth.

The Texas kid showed promise in both directions. But the Giants finally gave up on him last Spring. They sold him outright to Minneapolis of the American Association. A good minor league season earned him another chance.

Bronchos, Bulldogs Prepare For Dual Track Meet Friday

ODESSA — The Odessa High School track team was licking its wounds—but with too little time left—as it awaited Friday's duel with the Midland High School Bulldogs at Brochco Stadium.

Midland Coach Edwin Nixon is expected to bring from 13 to 15 athletes to compete in the bout that is rated as a tossup. Odessa recently scored more points than Midland in a triangular meet that involved Andrews and will be a slight favorite in the first Friday races.

Defending state champions, the Bronchos will send about 20 men against Midland, practical insurance of winning the points among second, third and fourth places. Two of the Broncho regulars will be missing, however.

Rogers Berggren, letterman sprinter, was lost for an indefinite period by the Bronchos this week when he was spiked while practicing with the mile relay team. It took seven stitches to close the wound, Coach Lee Taylor said, and Berggren may be lost to the squad about two weeks.

Milton Gillespie will miss Friday's meet because of a strained muscle, Taylor said.

Maxim, Floored Once, Nabs Easy Decision Over Nardico

MIAMI, FLA. — (AP)—Joey Maxim, the fancy master of the left jab, was back in the boxing business Thursday after winning a unanimous 10-round decision over the young Tampa slugger Danny Nardico.

They said Pal Joey was all washed up after Archie Moore slapped off his light heavyweight crown in St. Louis December 17. And many fans doubted the 30-year-old Maxim's ability to handle Nardico.

But Joey, a bit plump around the middle at 187 1/2 pounds, stood off the charge of Nardico with ease in Miami Stadium Wednesday night, although he had to scramble off the deck in the seventh when Nardico caught him with a right to the head. Nardico weighed 176 1/2.

The ex-champ's manager, Jack Kearns, declared after the fight that Joey not only was back on the right trail but planned to go after Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship.

"We'll fight Roland LaStarza first if necessary," Kearns asserted, "but Marciano's the one we want."

Asked about the contract giving Maxim a return fight with Moore, Kearns said, "We'll take Moore when the right time comes."

Jim Norris, International Boxing Club president, tossed cold water on the idea of Maxim campaigning for the heavyweight ranks. Norris said:

Small Quints Kick Off Play In State Meet

AUSTIN — (AP)—Schoolboys from the little towns where basketball is the big show open the State Inter-scholastic League Basketball Tournament at Gregory Gymnasium Thursday.

It will be Blum from Central Texas and Pettus from South Texas in the opening game for the state's 24 top teams in conferences B through AAAA battling for the coveted state titles.

The Blum Bebeats, back in the league's mammoth basketball playoffs for the third time since 1925, bring a 31-4 won-lost record. Pettus, here for the second time since 1947, won 18 and lost 10 over the season.

Seven Class B teams will seek to unseat Big Sandy in the piney woods of East Texas, defending champion of that bracket and favored to repeat. Big Sandy begins the hard road back against Lipan at 1:45 p.m.

Conference A begins to roll at 3:10 p.m. with Deer Park vs. White Oak and Deaver City vs. Troup at 4:35 p.m. Conference AA play begins Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. when San Marcos battles Dumas, followed by Bowie vs. Alvin at 8:50 p.m.

Bowie Favored
Bowie, last year's champion, is favored to repeat this year under leadership of tall, high-scoring Temple Tucker.

Tucker holds an Inter-scholastic League record for the most points scored in a championship game—30 piled up in the game with Dimmitt in last year's tourney. He's rated as both taller and better this year.

Taylor May Be Top Prospect

By GAYLE TALBOT
PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP)—This being the city where Mickey Vernon burst forth upon an unsuspecting baseball world two years ago and where Willie Mays attended his first big league training camp last Spring, there has come to be a feeling that a brand new "phenom" is likely as not to pop out of him when the good pitchers start sagbrush.

This year's candidate for greatness within, at the most, another season is a strapping 218-pounder named Bill Taylor, who has just returned from the service and is making a vigorous pitch for a job in the New York Giants outfield. His every move is being watched with the keenest interest of any player in camp.

"I can't say whether he'll make it this year, of course," said Manager Leo Durocher after watching the six-foot-four slugger barrel two hits into the outfield during an intrasquad game, "but he's going to get all the chance there is. We could use him.

"I know this much for sure—the boy can hit a fast ball out of sight right now, and he's a natural pull hitter, which is great in our park. We'll find out more about him from behind almost any clump of working on him with a lot of different stuff, looking for his weakness, but I think they'll find that with the kind of power he has he'll need to get only a piece of the ball to get his base hits. He's a terrific prospect."

Sam Calderone, a Giant catcher who also is just out of uniform, declared unhesitatingly that Taylor was the best hitter in service baseball and feels almost as certain he'll wear out big league pitching from the start. Taylor is strictly a left-hand swinger, by the way, and Calderone says he murders left and right-hand pitching with equal gusto.

Although he is only 23, the handsome rookie has been playing pro ball six years. He started with the Phoenix club when he was only 17.

After two seasons with Phoenix, he spent a year with Bremerton in the Class B Western International League, where he hit 339 and drove in 130 runs. He spent his final season before entering the service with the Giants' Sioux City farm, hitting 30 homers and knocking across 100 runs, though out six weeks with a broken leg. His average was .348.

"I think maybe the most impressive thing about him was his refusal to strike out," said Tom Sheehan, the Giants' chief scout. "In four seasons in pro ball he never once struck out more than 30 times. It might be an all-time record."

FRIDAY FLINGERS—When Coach Audrey Gill sends the Midland Bulldogs into their weekend game condition scrimmage, he'll have these novice men under to direct the new Bulldog T-formation. Coach Gill will direct the drills in the absence of Tugboat Jones who is in Austin attending a Coaches Association meeting.

After Bevo In Opener, Some Fans Stay For Seton's Win

By BUD SPRUNGER
CLEVELAND (AP)—High-scoring Bevo Franke packed up his shorts pants but not his basketball Thursday as tiny Rio Grande College wound up an undefeated season.

The skinny, six-foot nine-inch freshman tossed in 54 points against Wilberforce Wednesday night at Cleveland Arena while pacing his club to its thirty-ninth straight victory, 109-55.

"Now I'm taking off to hit the books," he declared after running up 1,564 points in his first college season—the most ever registered by one man in that distance.

Southwest Cinder Show Lifts Curtain

FORT WORTH (AP)—The thirteenth annual Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet—first major outdoor cinder path carnival in the nation for the year—swings open Friday with some 1,600 schoolboys furnishing the action.

Seven universities, nine colleges, 11 junior colleges and eight college freshman teams will start their competition, Saturday morning.

As the entry list soared to 1,182 in track, with prospects of perhaps 100 or more before the start of the meet, golf was taking the play, top.

The three-division links meet—universities, college freshmen and high school—has drawn 65 teams with 281 individual entries. North Texas State's defending champions have entered three teams in the university class.

A&M, Texas Out

The meet will go another year without the University of Texas and Texas A&M, which quit in dissatisfaction over the condition of the track several years ago and have refused to return although the cinder path has been put in top condition. But more than a half-dozen new records, are due to be put into the books, at least two of them in the university class where Oklahoma A&M's distance runners—Fredrick Eckhoff and Bill Heard—will be aiming at the mile and half-mile marks respectively.

The golf meet starts Friday with the high school class the first to see action. Woodrow Wilson of Dallas is rated the team to beat in this class. The college and college freshman classes will be held Saturday with North Texas State a heavy favorite in both divisions.

JayCees Scuffle To Triumph Over Holder's In TAAF Play

The TAAF—Technical Agency Along (with others) Foul—basketball tournament now is in the semi-finals and whoever secured that Thursday night should be one of rest must have known Wednesday night's action would be—

One in which Bentley's of Stan-ton starred through a three-point third quarter to be eliminated, 22-40, from the consolation semi-finals by Murray-Young Motors. But that game, with a mere 35 fouls, was nothing compared to the loaded nightcap.

Then, when the JayCees snipped Holder's Grocery of Odessa from the championship bracket, 75-63, the officials, Keith Nicolls and Bernard Sells, spent the biggest part of the night making players walk the free throw plank. This game had 68 personal fouls, all told.

Both Holder's and the JayCees lost four players apiece through fouls. But there were other penalties, too.

The officials called four technical fouls as players' tempers wore thin in the match which compared to a two-out-of-three-fall wrestling match.

No more action is slated in the district meet until 7:30 p.m. Friday, when the Rotary Engineers make their tourney debut against the JayCees in a semi-final game. That one is followed at 9 p.m. by Phillips Tire Company of Big Spring against Phillips 66 of Notrees.

Both are championship bracket games, the winners to meet Saturday as will be the consolation finalists, Murray-Young and Holder's.

As for Wednesday, the JayCees, with Carroll Nipp setting a scoring high for the tourney led throughout with one exception. The Grocery men held a second quarter margin of 20-18.

Nipp counted 21 points in the first half, pacing his team ahead, 36-30, and ran his mark to 34 in the second half.

Cotton Allen hit 17 as the second high JayCee scorer while Pat Patterson countered 19 for the Odessians.

Bentley's, with its second loss, became the only team thus far ousted from the tourney. The Stan-tonites made a game of it for a half, leading at the first quarter, 10-7, but lagging at intermission, 24-22.

In a slow third quarter, the Mortonmen edged in seven points to Bentley's three before tearing off for 21 in the final period.

Jim Watson, leading scorer with 18 points, hit six of them in the final M-Y drive.

CHAIN TIES SEVERED—

Burnett Again Goes It Alone

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP)—Dick Burnett, the oil man who didn't have a winning club in the Texas League until he hooked up with the chains, is back among the independents.

This time, says the militant owner of the Dallas franchise, he thinks it's a permanent situation.

Despite the fact that his working agreement with Cleveland of the American League brought him third place in the league race in 1951 and the full-season pennant last year, Burnett says a working agreement with a big league club isn't worth much.

"We were fortunate in getting players who developed," he says. "None of those we got were potentially good—we took the leavings. I can get my own players and do just as well. And I think I have my best club this year and I own all of the players—I'll get some pitchers on option from big league clubs. You can do that without having a working agreement."

Burnett is an admirer of Bon-neau Peters, president of the Shreveport club, who has gone it alone and built himself a pennant-winner. The Sports last season won the playoffs and went into the Dixie Series.

"Peters made money with his ball club and also sold some players at good prices," Burnett points out. "I think this is the proper way to conduct minor league baseball and I believe the time will come when all the Texas League clubs will be like that."

Burnett invested a million and a half dollars in the five years he has operated the Dallas franchise. He made money each season but the jackpot was 1949 when he had a club that finished in the second division but packed in more than 400,000 because it had color. It had a flock of home-run sluggers. But Burnett still wanted to win a pennant even if he made less money. Hence the eventual tie-up with Cleveland.

That came the year after Burnett brought in Charley Grimm, the former big league manager, at $30,000 a season. Grimm's club finished in the second division, however, and Burnett paid him off on his three-year contract. Grimm now manages the Boston Braves.

L. D. Meyer has been Burnett's manager the last two years and the Dallas owner says Meyer did a fine job indeed of not only piloting the club but developing the players.

Fleeing Pilot Gives Free Nations First Intact MIG

ROENNE, DENMARK.—(AP)—The first Soviet jet fighter plane to come into Western hands undamaged was brought to a breath-taking landing by a daring young Polish refugee Thursday on the Danish Baltic island of Bornholm.

Copenhagen declared angrily its government would "of course" demand return of the jet—believed to be a MIG-15—as soon as possible. High Danish Air Force officers flew here immediately to examine it.

While airport personnel looked on in horror, the jet screeched down the 1,300-yard long runway—about a third the length normally required for planes of that type. The landing was without accident.

A strong military cordon was flung around the plane. The pilot, a curly-haired, blond youth of 23, climbed out—still shaking after his experience.

He asked immediately for asylum in Denmark, saying he could not stand conditions in his Moscow-controlled homeland. Police would not disclose his name.

Danish sources said the refugee would be given political asylum, but disposition of the plane remained uncertain.

A U. S. Embassy official described the plane as a sensational catch that might yield invaluable secrets to Western experts.

According to the authoritative British aircraft annual publication, "Jane's All the World's Aircraft," a "fairly complete" MIG-15 was salvaged from enemy waters off the North Korean coast by the British in 1951 and was examined by the U. S. Air Force, but efforts to make the plane airworthy for flight evaluation trials were abandoned.

Scientist X Goes Free After Trial

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Dr. Joseph W. Weinberg was acquitted Thursday of a charge of perjury. He was accused of lying when he denied to a congressional committee that he had been a member of the Communist Party.

U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff told the jury he did not agree with the verdict. The jury deliberated more than seven hours. It received the case Wednesday and was in session until after midnight without reaching an agreement. Then it brought in a verdict within about 15 minutes after reporting back for duty Thursday.

Weinberg, the "Scientist X" of a congressional investigation of atomic espionage, stood tensely as the jury filed in.

The court clerk asked the foreman, Eugene W. Hopson, a government worker, whether a verdict had been reached.

"We have," Hopson replied. "Asked what the verdict was, Hopson replied: 'Not guilty.'"

Weinberg then was discharged from the bond under which he has remained at liberty since his indictment on three charges of lying before the House Un-American Activities Committee May 25, 1949.

The committee said later it had established that Weinberg slipped atomic secrets to Steve Nelson, a Communist Party functionary, to be passed on to Russia.

Weinberg, hailed before the committee May 25, 1949, denied this allegation.

Youth Held In Thievery

A 15-year-old Midland youth was being questioned by juvenile authorities Thursday after he told police of a series of thefts and burglaries he had committed during the last month.

The youth, junior high school student, was arrested Wednesday night on suspicion after Lt. Ray Merket and Officer John Myrick found him hanging around Honest John's sandwich shop at West Illinois and North Carrizo Streets.

Later he was questioned by Detective Sgt. Billy Patterson and Detective Wayne Taylor.

Sergeant Patterson said the youth admitted breaking into the Midland High School building earlier in the evening and breaking open a coin machine, taking 65 cents in nickels.

During the last month, the detective said, the youth also had broken into the Midland Gun Club, where he took an automobile tire, and a body shop, where he took a pistol and some tools.

Warplanes Strike Near Red Borders

SEOUL.—(AP)—Allied warplanes unleashed an orgy of fiery destruction over North Korea Thursday. It included a record 1,000-mile round trip fighter-bomber smash within 50 miles of Russia's Siberian border.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said 15 F-84 Thunderjets, flying from bases in South Korea, plastered industrial targets near Chongjin, 140 miles from Vladivostok, in the longest fighter-bomber strike of the war.

Napoleon Bonaparte once had a gas plant built on his palace grounds for experiments to determine the best way to manufacture gas.

Wild Gasser Chokes To Death After Day Of Threatening Area

ORANGE.—(AP)—The wild gas well which threatened Orange itself with explosion and fire choked itself to death Thursday.

Sand forced into the well under the high pressure of escaping gas sealed off the explosive flow. Workers immediately capped the well.

The well, the Paul Cormier No. 4, lies seven miles west of here, blew out with a loud roar Wednesday as oil field workers were pulling tubing. None of the five men on the rig was injured by the blowout but the spewing wild gas threatened the area with fire and explosion and caused nearby residents to spend a chilly night in unheated homes.

Operators abandoned early attempts to bring the roaring gasser under control as it beat its rig to pieces and hurled debris as far as 100 yards.

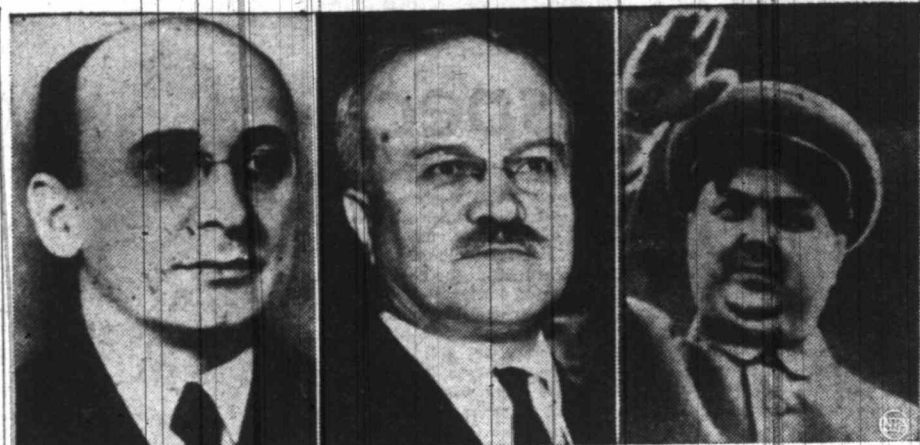

Ashley Asks Repeal Of Auto Sticker Law

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Senator Carlos Ashley Thursday called for the Legislature immediately to repeal the Auto Inspection Law to prevent practically all Texas motorists from becoming criminals April 1.

After that date, he said, every motorist without a new inspection sticker on his windshield will be subject to a $200 fine unless the law is repealed.

The Llano lawmaker claimed that neither the Department of Public Safety nor tax collectors are attempting to enforce the law.

An hour's work by the average worker today will produce about four times the goods and services that an hour's work would produce in the United States in the middle of the 19th Century, says a 20th Century Fund study.

'Traffic Action' Talked At Midland Rotary Club Meet

The formation of active Community Safety Councils throughout Texas as a means of curbing the increasing number of traffic accidents, was recommended by Capt. Carlisle of Austin in addressing the Rotary Club at its regular meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

Captain Carlisle, chief of the Safety Section of the Texas Department of Public Safety, discussed the subject "Traffic Action." He was introduced by City Manager W. H. Oswald, who said traffic accidents in Midland average two daily, with damages averaging $600 daily.

A traffic action prospect is based on eight separate programs, Captain Carlisle said. They are: Laws and ordinances, accident records, education, enforcement, engineering, motor vehicle administration, training and research, and public information and support groups.

The public information and support program is the most important of all, he said, since public approval is essential in making the others go. He said a Community Safety Council is beneficial in that it can coordinate and organize the efforts of all interested individuals and groups.

An unusually large attendance was recorded at the meeting, the first held by the Rotarians in the Scharbauer since the completion of its remodeling program.

The Frank Phillips Men's Club, an organization sponsored by male employees of the company, started its plan in 1949 to assist employees desiring to purchase Phillips stock. At that time, the club promised to sponsor a dinner-dance for any unit reaching the 100 per cent stock ownership mark. The plan, which has attracted nation-wide attention among industrial concerns, has resulted in approximately 95 per cent of the Phillips employees becoming stockholders. A convenient method of purchasing on a cash or loan basis is available to employees through the Frank Phillips Men's Club stock purchase plan.

Two Suspects Apprehended In Bronte's Bank Robbery

BRONTE.—Two men, faced charges of bank robbery Thursday—all because of a shiny new car and a forgotten pistol.

The two men, Scottie Ray Muckelrath, 25, of Cayuga and Byron Ralph Moore, 24, of East Alton, Ill., were charged in the robbery of the First National Bank here January 27. FBI agents nabbed them in Las Vegas, Nev. Wednesday.

Police struck the trail of the two suspects, both former San Angelo field workers, when they found a 1952 Mercury abandoned in Fort Worth shortly after the robbery.

The auto had been seen in San Angelo before the holdup and bore license plates of a Buick stolen in El Paso Dec. 5 and abandoned in Raleigh, N. C., December 23. A day later, the Mercury was reported stolen in Raleigh.

The suspects showed up again, this time in Miami, Fla., where they bought a $4,000 Oldsmobile. It was this car that was seen in Las Vegas shortly before officers nabbed the two men.

The forgotten pistol? The two men who robbed the Bronte bank obligingly left a .38 caliber Smith & Wesson pistol on a counter. The pistol was traced later to Moore.

Muckelrath, one of the charged men, once lived less than a block from L. T. Youngblood, president of the Bronte bank. In fact, Muckelrath now has an active account of $181 in the Bronte bank.

Moore and Muckelrath also are under a federal charge of stealing the 1952 Mercury in Raleigh, N. C., and are linked to 15 other violations, police said.

C-E Upton Field Gets New Oiler

The Pembroke sector of the Spraberry Trend Area of Central-East Upton County has been extended one-half of a mile south with the completion of Plymouth Oil Company No. 7 B. R. Greathouse.

It was completed for a daily flowing potential of 223.74 barrels of 38.2-gravity oil plus 2.5 per cent water. Gas-oil ratio was 598-1.

Production was through a 3/8-inch tubing choke from perforations between 6,844 to 6,876, 6,918-24 feet, 6,986-92 and 6,998-7,018 feet in 5 1/2-inch casing cemented at 7,174 feet.

Total depth is 7,175 feet. Top of pay was picked at 6,918 feet on derrick floor elevation of 2,692 feet. Pay section was fractured with 7,500 gallons.

Tubing pressure was 195 pounds with packer on casing.

The San Andres was topped at 3,650 feet and the Spraberry was entered at 4,844 feet.

Location of the new producer is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A, COB&RONG survey and 14 miles northeast of Rankin.

Cosden To Add Alkylation Unit

BIG SPRING.—(AP)—A major addition to the Cosden Petroleum Corporation refinery here was announced Wednesday by the company.

Plans call for an alkylation unit and production of some 2,000 barrels of high grade aviation gasoline daily. Cost was estimated at two to three million dollars.

A company spokesman added that Cosden was withdrawing from management and operation of the Caribbean Refining Company at San Juan, Puerto Rico, except for a 10 per cent interest.

Regan—

He was quick to say that he did not believe in immediate cuts in parity, but rather, he favors a gradual decrease, with full parity used only when losses are suffered under reasonable circumstances.

"As soon as the country goes back to the supply and demand theory, the better," he said.

Regan is optimistic about the future of the Tidelands. "Despite a threatened filibuster," he said, "I think we'll have early success in our move to quieten the federal grip on Tidelands and other state areas."

He favors the lifting of controls in a cautious and well-thought manner. "Generally speaking, the farther we get from controls the better the country will be," he said.

He said, however, the government should keep some controls on vital commodities. A few controls, he added, would help guard against socialism in the United States.

Says like "We Man" Calling off one of the "snaws of war," Regan said the government is urging continued development of oil operations in the United States for use both here and abroad. Oil is one of the most vital arms in the complex and expensive business of war, he said.

Regan will return Friday to Washington where, he said, congressmen generally were pleased with the change in administration.

"Republicans and Democrats alike," he said, "are feeling optimistic and rather pleased with the situation." He added that he and other U. S. senators have found Eisenhower easy to work with. Truman, he said, though easy to work with, was an "F" man. Eisenhower is a "we" man, he said.

Regan feels that "some-out-all" Democrats feel relieved to have Eisenhower in the White House. Those Democrats, Regan believes, voted for things they opposed because they felt an obligation to the Democratic Party which elected them.

Lynchings in the United States totaled 115 in 1950. In 1951 the total was one.

LANDS SAKES! WITHOUT ADVERTISING, WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business,
And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this: Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

Lost Texas Pilot, Fuel Low, Follows Transport To Safety

ALTON, ILL.—(AP)—A lost pilot, his light plane running low on fuel, jumped to safety behind a guiding four-motor commercial transport Wednesday night at Alton Memorial Airport.

The lost pilot was Dr. J. Calvin Kelley of Lubbock, Texas. He was enroute to St. Louis from Tulsa, Okla., but somehow missed the field and became lost with only a 40-minute supply of fuel left.

Hearing Dr. Kelley's radio appeal, the St. Louis control tower located his plane, somewhere over Central Illinois, with the aid of a radar screen. An incoming Chicago & Southern Constellation then was instructed to guide the lost pilot to the Alton air strip.

The planes met and 20 minutes later Dr. Kelley made a safe landing.

Just a minute after the landing, the plane ran out of gas as it taxied to a fuel pump.

Civitan Club Hears Simmons On Rehabilitation Problems

A total of 250,000 Americans are disabled seriously each year by accidents including industrial cases, highway mishaps, health causes, and many other ways, said H. B. Simmons, vocational rehabilitation counselor with the San Angelo office of the Texas Department of Education. He spoke before the Wednesday noon meeting of the Civitan Club in Hotel Scharbatter.

Simmons told the Civitan vocational rehabilitation work is needed to restore disabled Americans to a self-supporting status, removing them from the rolls of the public supported.

He quoted the experience of one state, in which 35 disabled individuals cost $21,000 annually to support. After being restored to work, they paid $50,000 each year in income taxes alone.

The San Angeleno showed a film furnished by the Texas Education Agency, showing how the work of the vocational rehabilitators is carried out.

Len McCormick, Civitan president, presided at the meeting. He reminded members of the installation banquet, scheduled the night of April 29.

Police Seek Pair, Hold Two In Rape Of Houston Clerk

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Police still hunted two older youths Thursday after two juveniles confessed they were members of the quartet who raped a 27-year-old woman here early Monday.

One of the 15-year-old boys named two older men who participated in the assault in an East Houston park. Police have known the names of the two older youths since Tuesday, but had no luck in finding them.

The 15-year-old boys were cleared by Wednesday's confessions. Police said the second pair only accepted a ride in a stolen automobile used to kidnap the woman, clerk in a Houston insurance office.

The victim told police she was kidnaped and forced to accompany the four youths to the park where they stripped her and then raped her repeatedly.

Plains Water Unit Employs Geologist. LUBBOCK.—(AP)—W. L. Broadhurst, Austin ground water expert, will become hydrologist for the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District.

Appointment of the geologist was announced at district headquarters here Wednesday.

Broadhurst is a University of Oklahoma graduate and former wheat farmer.

Louisiana's Hospital Shortage Leaves Children In Chains, Maniacs In Streets. SHREVEPORT, LA.—(AP)—Authorities say feeble-minded children are chained at home and potential sex criminals roam Shreveport streets because of the inability to get them confined to a state institution.

Juvenile Judge Chris Barnette Wednesday told the Shreveport Times of a four-year-old boy who is "kept harnessed to a bed part of the time." He is not tied continuously, the judge said, but "has to be guarded every waking moment to keep him from hurting himself or his nine-month-old sister."

Dr. Willis Butler, Caddo Parish coroner, said he has records of three mentally deficient adolescents, all potential sex criminals, in need of hospitalization. They remain at large without restraint, he said, and "roam freely at home or on the streets."

Hereford Prices Down At Amarillo. AMARILLO.—(AP)—Purebred Herefords sold Wednesday for about half their value a year ago at the annual Panhandle Hereford Breeders Auction.

Average price for 102 animals were $435, a last year 106 head averaged $810.

The top price Wednesday was $1,300 for 23 Aster Royal 24th, consigned by Tommie Potts of Memphis and sold to Ray Bivens of Tulsa.

MAYBE IT'S THE CLIMATE. MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—Jesus (Chucho) Cordoba, promising young Mexican bullfighter planned to start for Spain Thursday. He said he has contracts for about 15 corridas there.

WOMEN'S WILL BENDS SLOWLY

WINTER PARK, FLA.—(AP)—A task force of about 200 Winter Park women is pledged to defend the state's old oak trees lining Winter Park Road against a widening project.

The women lost a court fight to prevent the widening. But that didn't prevent them from standing and sitting under the trees Wednesday to ward off construction crews.

"Pick a tree and park," is the women's motto, Mrs. Jeri Evans, one of them, declared. "We're going to be here every day."

Frank Holland, county engineer, said he didn't know what was going to be done about it.

Hudspeth Smallpox Case Causes Alarm

PORT HANCOCK.—(AP)—Hundreds of residents in Hudspeth County of Far West Texas have been vaccinated against smallpox after a 17-year-old farm boy contracted the disease.

Dr. George M. Dumb, operator of the Fort Hancock Clinic, said Wednesday he had vaccinated 360 persons.

Task Of Redistricting State Keeps Solons In Quandary

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Legislative committees Wednesday continued to seek solutions to such fights as congressional redistricting and pay raises for firemen and policemen.

A proposal to regulate painting and paperhanging contractors was buried in an unstructured subcommittee Wednesday night.

Newest clash in the congressional redistricting battle was staged between Dallas and Houston before a House committee. Houston wanted to divide Harris County into two congressional districts. Dallas wanted to keep its one congressman and share another with Tarrant County.

Both plans went to a subcommittee. Also under the committee's study is a third plan to redistrict the entire state to carve out a 22nd district.

Pay Raise Mauled. The firemen and policemen pay raise bill was sent to a Senate subcommittee after a two and one-half-hour public hearing Wednesday that left it maulled by unfriendly questions of committee members.

Its author, Senator Doyle Willis, Fort Worth, asked for the subcommittee in an apparent effort to save the measure from being killed.

The bill to regulate watchmakers was killed by a 7-7 tie vote of the Senate's State Affairs Committee but friendly senators said they would try to keep it alive with a minority report recommending Senate passage.

The unfavorable action was taken despite subcommittee assurance that the bill had been revised to make sure it would not put an Abilene manufacturer of Mickey Mouse watches out of business.

Hearing Postponed. The House State Affairs Committee, which had scheduled a public hearing on a similar bill Wednesday night, postponed the hearing until March 18.

A bill introduced in the Senate would make it an aggravated assault to attack a news reporter or news photographer on duty in a public place.

Senator Willis, Fort Worth, and Parkhouse, Dallas, are co-authors. The penalty calls for a fine from $25 to $1,000, jail one month to one year, or both.

The Senate wants the Big Bend National Park officially dedicated with President Eisenhower doing the honors.

It passed and sent to the House a resolution calling on the National Park Service to arrange the program, inviting the President to deliver the dedicatory address, and the President of Mexico to attend.

The measure also asked the postmaster general to design and issue an appropriate stamp.

Senator Parkhouse's "dog bite" bill, minus some of its bite, won Senate committee approval.

The State Affairs Committee sent the measure to the Senate floor after a subcommittee eliminated the criminal penalty of a $25 to $100 fine for the owner of a biting dog.

The owner would be made liable for actual damages.

Tense Struggle For Stalin's Power Seen In Unusual Soviet News Announcement

Editor's Note: William L. Ryan, AP's Russian-speaking specialist on the news of communism, long has been a close student of what will happen in the Soviet Union when Stalin dies.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Foreign News Analyst

PARIS.—Moscow seems to be playing it straight with the Stalin story, and this in itself indicates there is division and uncertainty among the rulers of the Soviet Union.

If there were perfect concord among the powers of the Kremlin—that is, if there were someone at the top whose authority was unquestioned—it seems unlikely that Stalin's illness, apparently his final one, would have been announced so quickly.

Soviet authorities held up the announcement of his illness only two days. For most Soviet leaders, such a grave illness usually is announced in the obituary.

Maybe the would-be heirs were unable to hold the news up long and feed such a profound shock to the Soviet public in small doses. While one faction may be preeminent at the present time, the chances are it is far from secure in its preeminence.

As at the time of Lenin's death, there is every chance for a struggle for Stalin's mantle, even though he has appeared to have chosen Deputy Premier Georgi M. Malenkov as his successor. But the man who succeeds Stalin will need a mighty buildup. Most Powerful Yet. Stalin was all-powerful in a way Lenin never was. Those under Stalin have been virtual robots. Under Lenin there were many who were not—Trotzky, Bukharin, Kamenev, Zinoviev and Stalin himself, to name a few.

In a struggle for power, it would be dangerous for the Soviet Union if Stalin lingered on, only just alive. This would permit the rumor mills to get in motion as they do quickly in totalitarian countries. It would generate a feeling of insecurity among the people and, above all, among members of the Communist party, high and low.

In a country like Russia, such a feeling could lead to an explosion. If Stalin hovered between life and death, there would be suspicion, gossip and quarrelling in advance of the succession, instead of a sudden stroke which could present the country with an accomplished fact—a new leader.

But for a new leader to seize power before Stalin actually has passed on would be dangerous, like blasphemy to those in the party and state who believed in Stalin's role as a demigod.

So it seems likely that behind the scenes there will be a struggle for power. If, in fact, it is not already in full tilt, Malenkov thus far may be assumed to have the upper hand, but to keep it he may have to out-Stalin Joe. A situation like that could lead to fearful blood-letting.

If Malenkov proves a winner, the West can look for a most cautious regime while he consolidates himself and his adherents—a regime, in fact, which could be almost conservative. Malenkov would take no chances with his power.

His adherents are among the younger element in the Communist party. More than ever now if Malenkov wins out, the Soviet Union may be expected to take no chances with a step which might lead to the cataclysm of a war, which it might not survive. Undoubtedly, his fifth columns would continue their work throughout the world. But Malenkov is a man who likes a cheap victory and would retreat when it was necessary to make himself wholly secure.

African Grass Makes Crop Despite Drouth, Grazing

WESLACO—(P)—An experiment with a grass imported from South Africa has convinced a Rio Grande Valley farmer it will stand heavy grazing, drouth, and produce profitable hay and seed crop.

C. P. Johnson says the grass, known as buffel grass, also breaks up hard-pan, bane of irrigation farming, by sending roots deep into the group, thus opening up the soil. The experiment was begun in December 1951, as part of the farm diversification and research program at Rio Farms, Inc., a non-profit corporation devoted to agricultural education and research. Johnson farms two tracts about 20 miles north of here.

On one 36-acre tract planted in December, 1951, Johnson began harvesting seed on March, 1952, and through the summer harvested two thousand pounds of seed every three days for a 15-day period. The seed, much in demand in the Southwest, sells for $2 a pound in large quantities and $3.50 to $4 per pound in small quantities.

After the last seed was harvested in late September, 54 head of yearling heifers were placed on the 36 acres about October 1. The pasture held up under heavy grazing for 75 days with only two inches of rain.

Another tract of 37 acres was planted to buffel grass in January, 1952, and was irrigated immediately. But the Rio Grande flow fell and irrigation had to cease. This plot got about an inch of rain last May, and in July some more irrigation was possible. It was a good test of the grass' drouth resistance.

Johnson harvested more than 300 pounds of seed per acre during 1952. When the seed harvest tapered off, Johnson cut 30 tons of hay from the 37 acres, and another cutting of three per acre was baled in October. Most of the hay brought $30 per ton in the field and some of it, rating top quality, brought $37.50.

TALL AND SHORT—Here's proof that there are none too big or too small for service in the Air Force. Looking comfortable in six-foot, one-inch S/Sgt. Kathleen Cage, of Connellsville, Pa. Bewildered S/Sgt. Robert B. Parkins, of Maplewood, N. J., tips the scale at 90 pounds, is four feet, nine inches tall, and said to be the smallest G.I. in the entire Air Force. Both are stationed at the Mitchell Air Force Base, N. Y.

The transport department of the Ministry of Communications will replace existing bus transportation on main routes with double-deckers. This is the second step in the move to modernize Bangkok's transportation. The government banned rickshas and horse-carts from the streets as of January 1.

Old Rail Car Put On Auction Block

DENVER—(P)—A private railroad car built almost half a century ago for David H. Moffat, pioneer Colorado empire builder, has been put up for sale by the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad.

The car was built in 1908 and named the Marcia after Moffat's daughter. He used it on many trips into the Colorado mountains with visiting officials.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The nation got a full-fledged civil defense administrator Wednesday for the first time since mid-November.

President Eisenhower made something of a ceremony out of the event, indicating his Administration plans to put new emphasis on preparedness against a possible enemy attack.

Eisenhower invited a number of top officials, including Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson, to attend Wednesday's swearing-in of former Nebraska Gov. Val Peterson as civil defense head.

Peterson took charge of an agency which now has some 900 employees in Washington and in nine regional offices.

Ex-Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida resigned in the agency's director last November 15, and the acting director since then has been James J. Wadsworth, recently named a member of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations. In his State of the Union address to Congress February 2, Eisenhower described a strong civil defense program as "sheer necessity."

Peterson, 49, has been a White House assistant several weeks. He reportedly was in line at one time for appointment as Ambassador to India. But try of his political foes, Republican Senator Hugh Butler and Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, blocked his candidacy before it was presented to the Senate. They okayed him for the civil defense post.

In the first seven months of 1952, U. S. forest fires destroyed about $3,000 acres.

Lower Beef Prices Push Average Food Bills Down Slightly

By The Associated Press
Plentiful supplies of beef kept cuts of that meat high on the list of weekly specials at many markets this week, in most cases at lower prices.
The lowest price in four years for sirloin and porterhouse steak were posted in some places, representing a drop of around 10 cents a pound from the previous week.
Beef rib roasts also found lower levels, while round steak and chuck roasts frequently were mentioned as favorable buys.
Pork chops and leg of lamb were most unchanged to narrowly higher. Frying chickens likewise showed some advances, and top grade large white eggs pushed as much as four cents a dozen higher, possibly reflecting increased demand during the Lenten season.
Butter prices held about unchanged.
Florida grapefruit and California oranges drew billing in many fruit markets as being plentiful at slightly lower prices. Beans, eastern potatoes, onions and cucumbers showed a lower trend, while broccoli, celery, cauliflower, peas and spinach were mostly unchanged.

ROYAL GARB—Carrying a fly-whisk in his right hand, the distinguishing mark of his rank, Chief Mwanawina III, of Barotseland, of Northern Rhodesia, shows the type of uniform he'll wear at Queen Elizabeth's coronation. The uniform includes a gold lace coat, sword, and tassels. The original uniform dates back to 1900, when the British colonial secretary gave it to Chief Mwanawina's father.

Dulles Retires Career Diplomat John Carter Vincent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles Wednesday retired diplomat John Carter Vincent, a storm center of loyalty investigations, effective March 31.
Dulles in effect cleared Vincent of any "reasonable doubt" as to his loyalty, reversing a decision of the government's Loyalty Review Board in the Truman Administration.
But the secretary concluded that Vincent's handling of policy in the Far East during and immediately after World War II shows "a failure to meet the standard" demanded of an experienced foreign service officer.

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER
Have you noticed that the seniors have been carrying their English books around with them? Well, they certainly have. They just got through with Shakespeare's MacBeth and now they are having to summarize the whole play, scene by scene. Those of you who aren't seniors will get the pleasure of doing it in your future years in MHS.

The Western dance last Friday night turned out real well and we think everyone enjoyed the Western music for a change. The "Bulldog Stomp" Saturday night also was a big success. Everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.
Congratulations to John Petty and Carol Garrison on being the winners of the "Down the Peeps" dance. John and Carol just barely beat the couple who came second. Seemed as though Ray Young's partner got a little dizzy when Ray kept on turning around so much. Ray and his partner came in second.
Mary Jo Hanson spent last weekend in Dallas with friends. She said she had a real good time, but was very glad to get back.
The DeMolays are to have a semi-formal dance at the Midland Country Club Saturday night. All DeMolay boys and their dates are invited and urged to attend.
"Nowhere To Nowhere"
In the mornings before school, have you noticed some students outside by the flagpole with a meter stick, measuring from out in the middle of nowhere to nowhere? No, they aren't crazy, they merely are doing it for a grade in trigonometry. Small matter, the grade that is. There seemed to be some argument over who was right. You stay in there and fight, Gaylon. Don't you let Wesley get the best of you. (Gaylon Hammons and Wesley Pittman).

The Midland High School Track team saw its first action last week in Odessa, with Andrews, Midland and Odessa competing. Midland did fairly well considering that some of the main stars have just gotten out of basketball practice.
Where did Jimmy Claiborne and Jimmy Hicks get those black and white and red and white jackets? Jimmy's is the black and white while Hicks' is the red and white. They are pretty flashy.
Have you ever played Fantan? Well, it is a new card game, or at least it is new at the Youth Center. John Petty, Don Roderick, Bill Mayfield, Betty Pigford, Mimi Speed and Ray Miles are among those you can see playing it every afternoon after school. It is a whole bunch of fun so why not learn to play.

Would you like to hear some exciting experiences? All you have to do is just stay around Buddy McDonald just a few seconds and he will be rattling away to you some of his previous experiences. Buddy really has some whoppers. We aren't saying they aren't true, at least all of them, but some are fantastic. But interesting. Buddy also is very good in his Spanish. What are you saying when you speak it?
The Student Council presented its exchange assembly to MHS Thursday. It was enjoyed by all, especially the last number. The best thing in the program was the "Silly Six." It is composed of E. M. (Bob) Payne, Jr., Charles Allen, Charlie (Red) Worthen, Robert (Pella) Patterson, Jimmy (Earl) Smith, and last but by no means least (?) is the announcer Jim Allen Ten Eyck.
The First Presbyterian Church had a barn dance for the freshmen of their church Saturday night. Some of them wandered over to the Youth Center and the visitors were Tommy Brown, Linda Lonax, Graham Nugent, Robinette Curry, Gary Dee Howard and Ann Hamilton.

We guess by now that your parents know the outcome of the last six weeks, don't they? If they don't they surely should. To the parents of those who weren't pleased with their child's grades, they will do better next time.
Just 12 more weeks of school. Just 12 weeks from Wednesday night, and the seniors will be marching, stumbling and dragging down the aisle of the old Alma Mater. Shift, sniff!
Last Friday night the Odessa School had a "Senior Night" and all seniors from Midland and 20 other cities were invited to attend. Midlanders attending were Marilyn Dunagan, Muriel Miller, Ann Kenner, Ruth Nell Kuykendall, Ardith Campbell and Benny Bedford.
Wouldn't somebody please bring some food, home cooked at that, to the Youth Center for Ray Miles and Ronnie Rone? They think that they are undernourished and mistreated. They really aren't, but they think so.
A Slight Misunderstanding
Monday afternoon Barbara McMillan and a horse had a misunderstanding. The misunderstanding was that Barbara was to ride him, so he just took care of Barbara by stepping on her. We hope to see Barbara up and around in a few days.
Carla Mae Lea had a coffee last Saturday morning at her home. It started bright and early. Those attending were Ann Billingsley, Tommy Underwood, Mary Jane Miller, Carol Garrison, Agatha Sue Tabor Cuipepper, Melba Preston, Yvonne Shain, Ardith Campbell, Othanna Gadberry, Shirley Oesen, and one other sleepy headed girl. A good time was enjoyed by all.
Where was Ray Phillips? Friday night about 9:30? Seemed as though he was around and then all of a sudden no one could find him. He must have disappeared?
Congratulations to Jackie Gibbs on being on the all-tournament team in Odessa last Saturday. The MHS Volleyball team had a tournament from Thursday morning until Saturday night. Midland was runner-up for consolation. They play Crane Thursday night in Crane, Saturday they will leave bright and early for Big Lake to enter a tournament there.

What time did Grace Boies, Sadie Nugent, Ardith Campbell, Anna Bess Doyle, Lanetta Early, Barbara McMillan and Barbara Whitson get to bed Friday night? They spent the night at Grace's house.
Carol Garrison and Pat Frack seemed to have turned professional Charleston dancers. They both were in the Youth Center Tuesday afternoon dancing up a storm to a record which really wasn't a Charleston number, but it didn't matter to them.
Waldo Leggett spent last weekend in Austin looking over Texas University. Then he journeyed to Houston to look at Rice University. Waldo said he had a good time and he saw a lot of axes.
Evelyn Heil also was in Austin last weekend, but she wasn't looking over the University. She was there to visit her brother.
The Thespian play will be presented Thursday and Friday nights in the High School Auditorium. The name of the play is "Death Takes a Holiday." It is supposed to be real good, so let's all go over and see it. The price is forty cents for students and sixty cents for adults. Curtain time is 8 p.m.
Friday March 12, students of Midland schools will have a holiday, when the teachers go to the annual teachers' meeting in Lubbock.
The Masquerade Ball is scheduled this Saturday night, starting at 8 p.m., and closing at midnight. The girls are requested to ask the boys. You must be in a costume in order to get in. This will be the first dance of this kind the Youth Center has had so let's all attend. And girls, don't wait for the boys to ask you because they won't! You are supposed to ask them.
So until next week, this is your Youth Center Chatter Reporter signing off for seven days.
Never scrub a pile upholstery fabric like edurody, velvets or velour. You will only mat the surface. Much more satisfactory results will be achieved if you brush the fabric, against the nap, with a wet brush when it is almost dry.

16 Crane Citizens Give Blood Through Hospital Requests

CRANE—Sixteen citizens of Crane have been called upon so far this year to donate a pint of blood each through Crane Memorial Hospital's Walking Blood Bank.
These persons are literally "walking blood banks" since they may be called in an emergency to donate a pint of blood to someone in need.
The program, which was instituted at the hospital in 1952 by a former Crane technician, D. H. Culp, already has a list of more than 50 possible donors. In 1952 18 persons gave blood.
Identification cards are issued to donors specifying blood type and are carried by the volunteers at all times, which also makes for a speedier transfusion when it is needed by one of the donors.
James Williams, hospital manager and technician, is presently in charge of the program, invites the public to join the bank, whose service is free of charge.

Lawmakers Seek Better Reckless Driving Statute

AUSTIN (AP)—Legislators are seeking to make the charge of reckless driving precise and explicit enough to stand up in court.
The law as it now defines reckless, driving has been voided by 1949 and 1952 decisions of the Court of Criminal Appeals. The court said that the charge as written is "vague and indefinite."
Officers generally have quit trying to prosecute on the reckless driving charge since it was ruled unconstitutional. The Governor's Traffic Commission recommended a new effort to correct the flaw.
Rep. Ben A. Glusing, Greenville, has a bill ready for introduction to pinpoint the reckless driving charge. Another effort is included in HB 217 by Rep. Ed Sheridan, San Antonio. It now is in committee.

CAREFUL OF SUNSHINE—Paul Morris, two, and his sister Sallie, six months, look in at their mother who takes care of the children in their newly-devised cage for sun and fresh air. The cage is attached to the window of the Morris home, one flight up from the street. It is an idea of the Chelsea Babies Club, a welfare center which loans the cages to families with no gardens.

Sausage Pizza Easy To Make

SAUSAGE AND MUSHROOM PIZZA looks like and is an appetizing dish and one easy to make at home for an appreciative family.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Pizza—the teen-agers' theme song. Sausage and mushroom pizza, easy to make at home, can become your favorite dinner theme for all the family.

Sausage and Mushroom Pizza
(12 portions or 6 generous servings)

One-half pound sausage meat, 1 1/2 cup minced onion, 1 cup tomato sauce (8-ounce can), 3-ounce can chopped mushrooms, 2 tablespoons tomato paste, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup biscuit mix, 1/3 cup milk (approximately), 1 cup grated sharp American cheese.

Cook sausage meat in frying pan until brown and crumbly. Add onion and continue cooking five minutes over moderate heat. Add contents of cans of tomato sauce and mushrooms, the tomato paste, sugar and salt. Bring to a boil. Lower heat and let simmer until thick, about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine biscuit mix and milk to make soft dough. Pat out lightly to form 12-inch circle on greased cookie sheet or pizza pan. Spread the tomato mixture over the biscuit dough evenly. Sprinkle with the grated cheese.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) until biscuit is done, and cheese is melted and brown, about 20 minutes. Cut in wedges and serve immediately.

For a cold night dinner, here's a robust suggestion:

Short ribs with Onion Sauce
(Yield: 4 servings)

Two pounds trimmed short ribs, 2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/16 teaspoon cloves, 1/4 cup tomato catsup, 1 1/2 cups hot water, 2 cups thinly sliced onions, 1 tablespoon corn-starch, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1/2 cup sour cream.

Place the pieces in a bowl and sprinkle with kitchen bouquet. Stir lightly until all pieces are evenly coated with kitchen bouquet. Melt fat in Dutch oven. Add ribs and brown well over moderate heat. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and cloves. Combine and add the catsup and water.

Cover and bring to boil. Cook over low heat until the meat is tender, about 1 hour and 15 minutes. After 1 hour pour all the fat from the meat, returning any broth poured out. Add the onions and continue cooking, covered, until both meat and onions are tender, about 15 minutes longer.

Blend together and add the corn-starch and cold water, stirring until sauce thickens. Add the sour cream and mix thoroughly. Correct seasoning if necessary. Serve immediately, accompanied with hot buttered noodles.

High-Flying Navy Men Find Skynights Hit Amazing Speed Riding Jet Stream

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

New discoveries about the "jet stream," a high-altitude weather phenomenon, may soon revolutionize military and commercial flying.

The new information, just turned up by two Navy fliers, also is expected to have an important effect on the use of guided missiles, the country's air defense, and may even result in very accurate, long-range weather forecasts.

Jet streams are described as fast flowing rivers of air in the sky. They were first detected, six to 10 miles high, by B-29 bombers during World War II. No one knew then what they were. Frequently bombers would be registering zero ground speed, with recorded air speeds near 300 miles per hour.

Speed Doubles

The same pilots, returning from raids over Japan, sometimes were astonished to discover that their ground speed was twice as much as their indicated air speed.

It wasn't until 1947 that Carl G. Rosby, a University of Chicago meteorology expert working with the Navy, definitely established jet streams as very fast currents of air which follow fairly regular courses at high altitudes.

The early studies also revealed that the jet streams flowed at a minimum of about 150 miles per hour, were sometimes 300 miles wide, three miles thick, normally moved west to east and could circle the globe in six days.

This data mostly was gathered from weather balloons, an indirect method.

To get more accurate data, the Navy set up a project using Douglas F3D Skynight jet fighters. This is the same plane recently revealed to be flying against MIGs in Korea. The plane has electronic gear which permits the tracking and shooting down of enemy planes without the pilot ever seeing them.

Navy Lieutenant Loren C. Whitney and Aviation Pilot R. G. Kirschner were assigned to the project. The electronics equipment enabled them to make very accurate measurements by fixing on ground targets.

1,000 Miles An Hour

They flew from Patuxent, Md., Naval Air Station. Some of their data will take months to analyze.

Some of the information will be kept secret.

But it can be revealed that they discovered the speeds of the streams approach 400 miles per hour. At times, while flying with the stream, they actually were making more than 1,000 miles an hour ground speed.

They learned that by close coordination with weather stations the streams quickly can be located in the air. This coordination also resulted in more accurate ground predictions on the locations of the streams.

Aid Guided Missiles

It is fairly apparent how knowledge of the streams will affect the use of guided missiles. By using the jet stream profitably, the speed and range of missiles could be greatly enhanced. If the stream was unfavorable for reaching certain targets, it would have to be avoided in the aiming and firing of a missile.

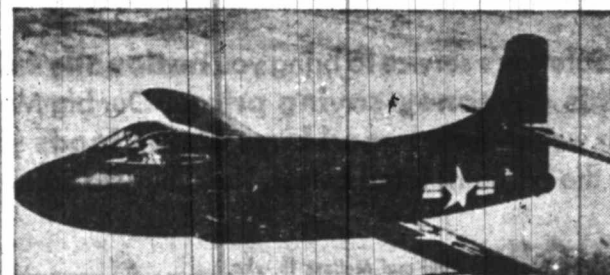

Ever since the presence of jet streams was determined, meteorologists have speculated that they could be major factors in determining weather conditions on the surface of the earth. Knowing more about their movements and locations therefore, would give very accurate weather predictions.

Setting Speed Records

Grasping the advantages to them of the Navy's work in this field, the air lines have been making experiments of their own with this phenomenon.

Pan American recently flew a Stratocruiser from Tokyo to Honolulu in 11 1/2 hours, an extremely fast time, with the pilot riding the stream.

Both the continental and intercontinental airlines can make great use of the stream for cutting down on fuel and speeding up schedules.

Jet stream explorer: The Navy's F3D Skynight jet also is being used as a night fighter against Red MIG's in Korea.

NEW SERGEANT YORK ENLISTS

WAYNESBURG, PA.—(P)—Pvt. Earl Taylor of Waynesburg astounded his officers on the firing range at Camp Bell, Ky., a few days ago when, at his first target practice, he fired 20 straight "bull-eyes."

Not until they had gone to the pit and checked the target themselves did the officers believe the raw recruit had accomplished the feat.

Upon questioning, Pvt. Taylor confessed that shortly before entering the armed services he had established a world's junior record at 50 yards in a National Rifle Association meet and that he holds a number of state rifle championships in Pennsylvania.

Faith Plus Good Cookies Aid Cupid

PITTSBURGH—(P)—Faith and good cookie baking has kept a Pittsburgh couple happy for 62 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar S. McCurdy began their sixty-third year of married life in a reminiscent mood not long ago. The 85-year-old Mrs. McCurdy said she had baked five dozen cookies a week for her husband since their marriage in 1890.

"The way to hold a man is through his stomach and his heart. Our faith, and my cookies, have done the trick," she claims.

Dull-finished, rough-woven center buttons will be a handsome accent to this season's poodle clothes, tweeds and other wool fabrics.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Strange Doings

When Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, touched the mysterious machine that the Rainmaker said should never be touched, a little box came out. The words on the top of the box were: QUANTUM CAPSULE.

Was the Rainmaker angry that Mugwump had touched the machine? Oh, no. He had wanted to touch it himself, the rasal, except he had been afraid to do it. Besides, he had wondered what the machine would do, and there the machine had done it. There was a little box, two little boxes, really, with the words, "QUANTUM CAPSULE," written across the top.

"Yes sir, and yes indeed," said the Rainmaker, "and now let us see what there is inside. Yes sir, and another indeed."

Mugwump opened the boxes while the Rainmaker watched. The Huffen was standing there, too; he is the friendly wolf, you know.

There in each of the boxes was a capsule. They looked like the kind that a horse has to swallow when maybe he is sick. But these capsules were never meant for swallowing. How else could they learn what maybe would happen? And the writing on the back of the box was very plain with words that no one would be hurt.

"Why," said Mugwump, "I have a strange, strange feeling for strange, strange doings."

And Mugwump said he had a strange, strange feeling like a mighty wall that was strong enough to stop anything that ran against it. But the Huffer answered that he too had a strange feeling. He felt like a mighty runner who was strong enough to run through anything that tried to stop him.

Who then was the mightier? Mugwump or the Huffer? There was only one way to find out, and so that is what they had to do. The Huffer would run, and Mugwump would try to stop him. kersplat, and that is the story I'll tell you tomorrow.

You're going to be very surprised; I promise. Happy waiting for tomorrow's adventure. Happy day! (Copyright 1953, General Features Corp.)

WILL KEEP AIR FREE OF ENEMIES—Latest in U. S. Army Ordnance defenses against enemy aircraft, and even capable of inflicting damage on ground targets, is this new "Skyweeper." Units of the gun include radar, computing gun sights and power units. The instruments can search out enemy targets, compute factors such as target speed, altitude of target and wind velocity as well as aim and fire the gun.

If you can't hang your clothes out-of-doors for a period, set your fan in the closet doorway. It will draw fresh air in, and force stale air out.

A helpful cooking convenience are the measuring marks on a stainless steel pan. Such marks may be stamped into sheet metal or fired into enamel.

He's Always A Youngster When It Comes To Goats

ROCKSPRINGS —(AP)— S. W. (Walker) Dismukes is so busy raising prize-winning Angora goats that he seems to have forgotten he has outlived his allotted three score and 10 years.

The 76-year-old Edwards County rancher is making the rounds of the goat shows again this year, driving his own car, picking up prizes, and acting in general as if he weren't about to celebrate his golden wedding anniversary.

When he does come back to his big Spanish type home high on a hill two miles southeast of here, he emerges soon to ride horseback for first-hand inspection of his herds.

His widowed mother and her 11 children moved to Edwards County in 1902 from Gonzales. Dismukes returned to his former home long enough to woo and marry his childhood sweetheart, Hannah Green. They were married Sept. 23, 1903.

Dismukes worked three years for a dry goods store here at $15 a month and then quit to go into the real estate business. He figures his smartest move in real estate came in 1911, when he sold himself a ranch two miles southeast of Rock-springs. It's the same ranch he has today although he has added some additional adjacent acreage.

Most Exactng Show

It wasn't until 1923 that he found about out about registered Angora goats. The registered bills brought good prices. Since 1924 he hasn't missed the goat show at Fredericksburg, where he sold his first registered animals. He also exhibited at Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio, San Angelo, Kerrville, Johnson City, Uvalde, Bandera, Lampasas, Junction, San Marcos, Boerne, Nolanville, New Braunfels, Belton, Temple and San Antonio.

His most exciting show was in 1947, when the Texas Angora Goat Breeders Association was attempting to work out a score card for growers to use in judging their animals. The association offered prizes for the best fleeces from all classes of goats. It also arranged for the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington to send expert wool classifiers from Boston to act as judges. Each breeder brought out his best goats, and a shearer clipped the fleeces with the judge grading them on the spot.

Dismukes won five of the top prizes. His top goat, a five year old billie, sheared 20 1/4 pounds with 170 days of growth of hair. Another winner, a seven year old doe (known as Old Pet) sheared 13 1/4 pounds with 170 days growth. Old Pet is now 12 years old, and her owner stated she had never been defeated in any show in her class. He is retiring her from the show circuit this year.

Never Lost Optimism

He has never lost his optimism regarding the goat industry, and even during the years of 1933-1935, when mohair hit an all time low on the market, he kept his flock built up and cared for the animals carefully.

He supplements the range feed with about one-half pound of high protein feed per animal daily in severe drouth and winter. He also cultivates three fields, about 30 acres altogether, planting oats in the fall and sudan in the spring for grazing the animals.

The kids drop in March and April and each one is immediately tied by its hind foot to a small tent.

shaped wooden kidding box, with its mother standing near by. The kid's ear is notched with symbols designating its sire and dam. All of this work and bookkeeping makes the Spring ranch work an all-day proposition, but it is required to obtain registration papers for the goats.

In addition to his ranch work, Dismukes is a leader in community and civic projects. After the death of his unmarried sister, Miss Lizzie, following a car accident, and the later death of his mother, Mrs. Parilla Miller Dismukes at the age of 94, Dismukes and his four brothers, D. T. of San Antonio, R. S. of Cleburne, W. A. and E. L. of Crystal City, gave the Dismukes home property to the county for use as the building site of the present Edwards County Memorial Hospital.

He is the president of the Rock-springs National Farm Loan Association, of which he is a charter member. He is also an original

Seek Doctor's Advice Before Deciding To Adopt A Child

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

In most respects there are no important differences between the health problems of adopted children and those who are not. There are, however, several problems connected with adoption or questions concerning adoption which constantly crop up and which make a great deal of difference both to the child and to the adoptive parents.

First, and most important, the question of adoption usually comes up for couples who desire children but do not seem able to have any of their own. Furthermore, there are many infants or children who are deprived of normal family life by their parents' death or perhaps economic disaster, and who can be given their birthright of family life only if they are adopted.

Thus it is frequently desirable both from the standpoint of the child and of some married couples to join together and form a normal family unit of parents and child or children.

It is perhaps too easy to decide, "Let's adopt a child." It cannot be emphasized too often that adoption is not a step which should be taken lightly.

The physical condition both of the prospective adopted child and of the prospective parents should be given serious consideration in advance if much grief is to be avoided.

Unhappily, the files of welfare agencies contain many instances in which an adopted child has some physical defect or disease which brings much unhappiness to the adoptive parents, and the reverse also is the case to such a degree that the couple making the adoption are unable to supply a reasonably satisfactory home life.

In other words, this column recommends that adoptions be made only with the best of advice from physicians and welfare agencies, since this would greatly increase the chances of suitable matching of the adoptive parents and the adopted child so that both would receive a good break towards happiness and health.

Two other questions concerning adoption frequently come up. One of them is whether an adopted child should be told that he or she is adopted.

Most of those who have studied this think very definitely that a child should be told as early as he or she can understand it. If this is simply and kindly done there is not only no harm, but much good, accomplished.

The second is whether a couple is more likely to have a natural child soon after an adoption. I do not know of any statistics on this, though there are certainly many instances in which a couple has gone childless for many years, adopted a child, and then shortly thereafter had one of their own. If there is any connection between these two events rather than pure accident, it is certainly hard to explain on physiological grounds.

Slimmest Waists Belong To Scotland

NEW YORK —(AP)— Scotsmen have the slimmest waists of any males in the world, says a group of British tailors who export custom-made clothes to every country in the world.

The British Information Service reports here that the tailors say the average Scotsman has a waist of 32 inches, although the Scots are the tallest nationally in Europe. The average American's waist is from 36 to 38 inches.

Underground Group Convicted In China

HONG KONG —(AP)—The Shanghai Communist Liberation Daily reports the Public Security Bureau of the municipal government had uncovered a Chinese Nationalist underground resistance organization.

The Red paper said three leaders of the Shanghai "Anti-Communist Fraternal Society" were executed. Two more were sentenced to death but the sentences were deferred for two years. The victims were said to be "agents of Chiang Ching-kuo," eldest son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Skyscrapers Hurt Style Of Planner

PHILADELPHIA —(AP)— Lewis Mumford, author, critic and city planner, advised this city not to follow the bad example of his native New York City in building skyscrapers.

"New York," he warned, "is suffering slowly to death from tall buildings that take up all the room and cause paralysis and congestion. The pattern cities must follow in the future if they are to survive are low buildings constructed on generous portions of land and containing not more than 100 people to an acre."

Seeding Of Ranges Attracts Attention On Farms, Ranches

Seeding of range and pasture grasses will be one of the principal conservation practices in the Midland area of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District in 1953, according to expressed intentions of farmers and ranchers.

Both the soil conservation district and the Agricultural Conservation Program of the Department of Agriculture are encouraging the establishment of permanent pastures and the return of highly erodible cropland to grass.

Thirty farmers and ranchers, including 27 soil conservation district cooperators, requested ACP assistance on the grass seeding practice in the recent sign-up for the 1953 program, according to Charles Champion, PMA administrative officer.

U. S. Pays Part

The Midland County PMA committee approved all the applications for 137 acres of grass seedings, but because of limited funds was able to guarantee financial assistance to only 18 operators on 100 acres.

Under the ACP program, the federal government will pay part of the cost of seed used in establishing permanent grass on approved acreages.

The local PMA committee has arranged for the Soil Conservation Service to make field examinations of the areas to be seeded and recommend adapted species, seeding rates, and planting methods. Payments will be made for plantings carried out according to these recommendations.

Special Drill

For seeding in either dead cover or on range land, the use of a special grass drill equipped to cut through the trash on the ground is needed. The Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District has such a drill for the use of cooperators in the Midland area.

The principal grasses recommended for range mixtures in the Midland area are sideoats grama, blue grass, King ranch bluestem sand lovegrass and Lehmann's lovegrass. Sand bluestem, switchgrass, and Indian grass especially are adapted to deep sandy soils.

A grass seed drill with disc openers to cut through trash on the ground is needed for planting range mixtures on retired cropland or overseeding range land.

Nerving backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When, under everyday conditions, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent urination. Don't neglect your kidneys if these occur. Some better yet, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Blue panic grass is one of the favorite species for supplemental pasture in the Midland area.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"He's carrying my bag—I took him on as an apprentice!"

Under the severe growing conditions of the Midland area, proper land preparation is essential to successful grass seedings. Osborn emphasized. The Soil Conservation Service recommends one of three methods of planting on dryland, according to the kind of land and the grasses in which the operator is interested.

How plantings on a clean seeded are recommended for blue panic-grass, buffel-grass, and other single-species plantings to be grown as tame pasture or for seed production. These plantings should be made and cared for like sod or feed, including cultivation to control weeds.

Depleted Ranges

For range grass mixtures or single species to be drilled on land retired from cultivation, plantings need to be made in dead crop litter on weed-free land. Usually this requires one year to get the land ready in advance of planting. For this purpose, redtop cane, African millet, sudan, or sorghum is drilled and the cover is left on the land to prevent blowing and protect the young grass seedlings. The grass is seeded in the Spring following the planting of the cover crop.

For overseeding on depleted range land, the use of a pitting plow

Stalking Mau Mau Terrorists In Africa Takes Patience, Know-How, Fortitude

Typical patrol of Mau Mau hunters includes European officers and enlisted men with modern weapons plus natives with spears that look primitive but which often reach mark before bullet.

By DUDLEY HAWKINS
NEA Special Correspondent

ON A MAU MAU PATROL, KENYA—This is a "Mau Mau Hunt," staged in the rugged uplands dominated by snow-capped Mount Kenya.

The quarry are the treacherous Mau Mau terrorists of the Kikuyu tribe who have slain more than 100 white and black settlers in their latest outbreak of Moscow-inspired terror.

"We, the hunters, include: one battalion of the Lancashire Fusiliers, five battalions of the tough native Kings African Rifles, Kenya's own volunteer and conscript regiment of lads from farms and offices, 3,000 African police officers by Europeans, 1,000 odd special police, several hundred native spearmen, 3,000 loyal Kikuyu—and for a couple of days, the Mau Mau.

Brunt Of Terror

The special hunting ground is 300 square miles of unmapped, jungle known as the Aberdare Forest. Thompson's Falls is the center of the rich dairy area which fringes this forest and Thompson's Falls has borne the brunt of the terror.

Before the hunt is over we shall have netted 40 suspects and shot one fugitive. Not much for so heavy a force? Perhaps, but this is just one phase in a never-ending hunt which goes on today, and tomorrow, and indefinitely—all over the 30,000 square miles of "Mau Mau territory" in this East African colony which is just a little smaller than Texas.

Train Gets Through

To get to the hunting grounds, you travel by train up the mountain (it always surprises me why the Mau Mau have never attempted to wreck this spider-like single track that, creeps through ravines and struggles over web-like bridges) or go by rutted dusty African roads west and north of Nairobi to Thompson's Falls.

Settlers, who bolt and bar themselves into farmhouses, call this campaign a "half-war."

I saw no half measures. There were armored cars, of little use on jungle tracks, but impressing to the natives and even more useful against charging rhinos; an air force of tiny reconnaissance planes operating from jungle strips; the whole paraphernalia of a military headquarters including tracker dogs and their masters; ochre-painted Masai warriors carrying seven-foot spears, steel-helmeted police and quite a lot of top-brass.

Farm Family Slain

Our immediate job was to track a gang of 30 who the previous day had looted and raided a farm. They had stolen three guns, all the clothes they could find, and what they couldn't take away they had smashed. There wasn't a cup, plate or saucer left whole. The curtains had been slashed with knives, the furniture smashed with axes, the pictures ripped to pieces.

Daytime raids are for loot. Night-time raids are for murder, and in the last one a farmer, his wife and six-year-old son were literally cut into little pieces.

The commanding officer of our patrol, a Kenya farmer, told us: "We want to capture Mau Mau, but if they refuse to be arrested we'll save the hangman a job."

The First Encounter

Along jungle trails we climbed into the Aberdares. Flanking scouts of Wanderobo, the forest men of Kenya who can read the jungle signs as well as a research chemist can read a microscope slide, looked for tell-tale tracks, a broken leaf, a patch of flattened ground.

We headed for the 11,000-foot level to ambush and question every native we flushed.

Our first encounter was ludicrously simple. The scouts spotted a group of Kikuyu with pack-donkeys breathing one of the ridges in the rosy dawn light.

Quarry Surprised

A dozen men fanned out to cover escape routes and within 20 minutes the Kikuyu were in the trap. There were three men and a woman and two dejected-looking donkeys.

The men scarcely had time to throw away their stims, the squared long knives which have caused the death so far of well over a hundred Africans and Europeans.

They looked sullen and under-nourished, not at all like African warriors. Their yellow-flecked eyes flashed hate as an African soldier ran his hands over their tattered, bug-ridden clothes.

Their Bags Searched

"Hakuna bwana, (There is nothing)," said the African.

"Search the bags on the donkeys," said the officer.

A British non-com plunged his hand into a sack. It contained flour, crudely ground maize meal and a few sticks of sugar cane. He delved deeper, found a paper parcel.

Inside were pamphlets, crudely printed.

Notes Of Death

The officer translated slowly. They were notices threatening violent death to anybody who dared to oppose the Mau Mau. Posted on a tree beneath the hatted body of a kitten or a puppy, they would act as warning to loyal Kikuyu not to help the government.

A guard was placed over the prisoners and we moved on.

There was no more excitement that day. The sight of a herd of elephant browsing in one of the valleys, a narrow escape from a charging rhino in open country and we pitched camp for the night.

Ambush Set Up

We were right on the Equator and glad of the blankets we had brought. It was too cold to sleep. Far below a hyena burst into raucous hiccups and an owl flew by.

Before dawn another ambush was laid. The sun crept up above the hills, throwing a pink tinge on the snows of Mount Kenya. The birds burst into song and another African day had been born.

Our ambush had been laid to give us a view of a ford.

Time For Tea

Suddenly I heard the faintest sound. Hands tightened on rifles, then, the head turning from side to side feeling the air, came an ante-lope.

That was all.

We had drawn a blank and when the sun was high up the order was given "brew up." Steaming mugs of tea, sandwiches of bully beef and the cigarettes we had been waiting so long for made up for the long unrewarded vigil.

and the last man fell, picked himself up, tried to follow his companions.

Shot Shatters Ankle

Like leopards, the scouts were after him. He could not get far. The tracks meant that we could at least record one prisoner. His companions would not wait for him nor would they attempt to attack us. The Mau Mau demands a superiority of at least 10 to one, provided the one is unarmed.

The scouts brought the man to us. The sergeant's single shot had shattered his ankle.

In the jacket pocket of the wounded man was a silver stopper from a lady's scent bottle, a bunch of keys and five rounds of 12-bore ammunition!

Others Go Out

"He'll have a job explaining that lot away," said the officer.

There were cheery waves as we got back to headquarters, a bath and a beer.

Other patrols had varying luck. There would be 40 men for screening, perhaps half of whom would be charged under the Emergency Laws.

The sun was downing again. Another set of patrols was going out.

Native bowmen, part of the force hunting down Mau Mau in Kenya, can bring down a running man at 50 yards with arrow.

Penicillin Helps Ailing Farm Crops

BALTIMORE (AP)—When a tomato plant droops, penicillin may be the answer. The Maryland Vegetable Growers Association was told that minute quantities of penicillin can heal ailing crops of apples, potatoes, spinach or snap beans.

Concentrations as low as a few parts of the antibiotic to a million parts of water controlled ring rot of potatoes, halo light of snap beans and bacterial rot of spinach. Somewhat higher concentrations proved successful in checking apple and pear blights.

Since the film began running here, 10 persons—mostly men—have fainted, and been carried out by ambulance men who have been in attendance throughout.
