SE Eddy Wildcat Gets Distillate In Unidentified Zone

Richardson & Bass No. 1 Harrison-Federal, deep wildcat in Southeast Eddy County, is drilling ahead after a driller's test at 12,215-12,265 feet in an unidentified formation. Tool was open two hours and 49 minutes on the test. A 2,000-foot water blanket was used. Water blanket came to the surface in 25 minutes, mud in 52 and gas and distillate in 60 minutes. The flow was turned to tanks after 86 minutes and during the last hour the well gauged 8.28 barrels of 52.2-gravity distillate and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 10,590-1. Recovery below the circulating mud was 6,189 feet of distillate cut mud with no water. Flowing pressure was between 1,549 and 900 pounds and shut-in pressure after 18 minutes was 6,940 pounds. Location of No. 1 Harrison-Federal is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 12-25a-30c.

Sinclair Completes Dual Producer In NE Nolan Sector

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Freeman, stepout to production in the White Flat (multiphase) field of Northeast Nolan County, has been completed as a dual producer from the Ellenburger and Caddo formations.

From the Ellenburger it potential for 134 barrels of 47.8 gravity oil in 24-hours flowing through a 16/64-inch choke and perforations at 5,570-5,546 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 217-1 and tubing pressure 153 pounds.

From the Caddo the well was finished for 1,075 barrels of 42.2-gravity oil daily through a choke of unreported size and perforations from 5,403 to 5,459 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 1,666-1 and tubing pressure 120 pounds.

The well received a total of 1,000 gallons of acid. Both formations were treated with a part of that acid.

Location is 2,360 feet from north and 1,125 feet from west lines of section 32, block 19, T&P survey and two miles northeast of Herndon.

Sinclair Schedules 6,800-Foot Wildcat In NW Edwards Area

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company spotted location for a 6,800-foot rotary wildcat in Northwest Edwards County, 16 miles northwest of Rocksprings and 30 miles south of Sonora.

It will be drilled as No. 1 W. L. Miers, 7,000 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of the southeast corner of Menard County School Land survey No. 3. Operations are to start at once.

Floyd Is To Drill West Flanker To Loving Discovery

Jay H. Floyd of Midland is to start operation at once at his No. 1-C-W. D. Johnson, offset to his recently completed No. 1 W. D. Johnson, opener of the Red Bluff (Delaware) field in Northwest Loving County.

The new project will be 1,650 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block 57, T-1, T&P survey. That makes it one location west of the discovery.

Drilling to 3,200 feet to try for production in the Delaware sand is to start immediately. The new project is 14 miles northwest of Orla.

Hanley Completes Spraberry Oil Well In SW Glasscock

Hanley Company of Midland has completed its No. 3-AB 7XK as a producer in the Driver sector of the Spraberry Trend Area in Southwest Glasscock County.

The new oil well made 143 barrels of 38.1-gravity oil, in 24 hours, flowing through a 22/64th inch tubing choke. Flowing tubing pressure was between a maximum of 650 pounds and a minimum of 175 pounds. The well also produced eight per cent water.

Gas-oil ratio was 784-1. The pay section in the Spraberry had been treated with 13,500 gallons of fracture material.

Top of the pay is at 6,372 feet. Total depth is 7,806 feet. The 5 (Continued To Page Eight)

Yugoslavia's Tito Is Luncheon Guest Of Britain's Queen

LONDON—(P)—Marshall Tito met young Queen Elizabeth II in Buckingham Palace Tuesday. This served as a clear sign to the world—the Kremlin included—that the Yugoslav dictator has made the grade socially in the West.

It also marked the first time Britain's Queen has sat across a luncheon table from a wartime Communist guerrilla chieftain turned dictator. But in this cold war period, Tito is a dictator with a difference—he is feuding with Russia.

Tito drove to the palace after taking in the British Museum and the ancient Tower of London. A heavy police guard surrounded him on the rubbernecking visit to some of the great tourist sights of the city. It was done at high speed. The tour lasted 70 minutes.

More than two dozen guests were at the luncheon party, including the Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh; the Queen Mother Elizabeth; Princess Margaret and Prime Minister Churchill.

Reporters and photographers traveling with the party were ordered to approach no closer than eight yards to the closely-guarded visitor.

Don Estes of Midland and San Angelo banded down the gavel Tuesday afternoon and the premium livestock started flowing into the big sales area.

The V. A. Drake family, perennial winners in the county livestock show, came back this year for another share in the baby beef division laurels. Seventeen-year-old Norman Drake captured the grand championship with his 950-pound milked Whiteface bred by J. J. Willis. His sister, Tiny, who exhibited Hereford calves to the 1952 championships, took the showmanship award this year. She had the second place calves in both the drylot and milked brackets.

Gaylon Howard carried away the championship in the drylot division, then saw his Hereford selected reserve titlist for the annual exhibit.

Program Revealed For Party Feting Fred Wemple, Formby

The program for the Midland and all-West Texas party honoring Fred Wemple of Midland, retiring member of the Texas Highway Commission, and Marshall Formby of Hereford, who has succeeded Wemple on the commission, was announced Tuesday by Joe T. Dickerson, Chamber of Commerce president.

The meeting will be held in connection with the regular Kiwanis Club luncheon Monday in the Hotel Scharbauer Ballroom.

Frank Bezon, Kiwanis president, will preside at the session.

Duke Jimerson will sing "The Midland Song," accompanied by John Springer, as a musical feature of the program.

Out-of-city visitors will be introduced by Bill Collins, Reporter-Telegram editor.

John P. Butler, immediate past chairman of the Highway Commission, will recognize Wemple and Formby "for West Texas."

The honorees will be recognized "for Texas" by E. H. Thornton, Jr., of Galveston, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission.

Three Sapet Trial Jurors Are Accepted

BROWNWOOD—(P)—The third juror for Mario (El Turko) Sapet's murder trial was chosen Tuesday as defense attorneys began asking prospects whether they're prejudiced against Catholics and what they think of liquor.

Sapet, charged with murder in the ambush slaying of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd, Jr., is a Catholic and operator of a San Antonio tavern.

The former deputy sheriff under South Texas political kingpin George Parr heard prosecution lawyers indicate they would ask the death penalty.

The third juror, thirty-fourth venireman questioned, is O. L. Ross, Brownwood dry cleaner. He was the second man questioned Tuesday.

The two jurors selected Monday are W. C. Lefer, Brownwood bottling company employe and the first venireman questioned, and H. H. Rice, Brownwood real estate man, the sixth called.

Pioneer Cancels One City Flight

Midland faced the prospect of the loss of one of its three airline services Tuesday as Pioneer Air Lines, protesting a government reduction in airmail subsidy payments, began curtailing its operations.

One flight from Midland Air Terminal already has been canceled and President Robert J. Smith said his line would ask for temporary suspension of all services if the Civil Aeronautics Board does not reconsider its March 13 order.

The Aeronautics Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce was to meet Tuesday afternoon to study the situation.

More Cuts Threatened
Suspension of all Pioneer operations would mean the loss of direct service from Midland to Houston, Austin, Abilene, Amarillo, Big Spring, Sweetwater, College Station, Temple, Waco and Plainview in Texas, and to Clovis and Tucuman in New Mexico.

Clyde Sharrer, city aviation director, said either American Airlines or Continental Air Lines offer duplicate service to other points on Pioneer routes.

The one flight already canceled is the plane leaving Midland at 1 p.m. for Dallas.

The action was taken by Pioneer after the CAB ordered a reduction in its mail subsidy payments from $5,000,000 to $1,000,500 annually.

Pioneer had asked for an increase to about $8,400,000 in annual subsidy payments during a transition period in which the airlines switched from the DCA-8 to the faster and bigger Martin F4Umaster.

The CAB criticized the airlines for the switch, asserting that the F4Umaster no longer were in production and were not the type of aircraft local service lines need for economical operations.

Smith retorted at the line's annual stockholders' meeting Monday. "We are grievously shocked that the Civil Aeronautics Board has decreed that Pioneer must provide (Continued To Page Eight)

Richardson, Former LRB Chairman, Dies

WASHINGTON—(P)—Seth W. Richardson, 73, former chairman of the government's Loyalty Review Board, died Tuesday after a long illness.

Richardson, a Republican who was an assistant attorney general in the Hoover Administration, had a long career in Washington. He once served as chief counsel for the Senate-House committee which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster in 1946.

Absentee Balloting To Start Wednesday

Absentee voting in the city and Midland Independent School district elections will begin Wednesday.

City Secretary J. C. Hudman said the city ballots, listing the candidates for mayor and three councilmen, will be available Wednesday afternoon at his office.

Thornton Hardie, secretary of the Board of Education, pointed out that absentee ballots with the names of the three candidates seeking the two school board posts will be available in the office of County Clerk Rosensell Cherry in the Midland County Courthouse.

Result Rides On Deliveries Of Steel Pipe

Midland officials kept their fingers crossed this week as they watched a dramatic race between steadily-mounting water consumption and the development of the city's new water supply.

The city used about 40 per cent more water during February than it did during the same month last year. There are almost 30 per cent more consumers tapping the city's water supply.

Spraberry Oil, Gas Men Fight Shut-In

AUSTIN—(P)—Oil operators and gas gatherers in the Spraberry Trend of West Texas objected strenuously Tuesday to a possible shut-down order by the Railroad commission to prevent wasteful gas flaring.

They said casinghead gas is being utilized as rapidly as economically possible in view of the rapid development of the giant reservoir.

Spokesmen for Phillips Petroleum Company, El Paso Natural Gas Company and others voiced high hopes there will be facilities to handle all gas coming to them by the end of the year.

Oil and gas men said a shutdown would work severe economic hardship.

The hearing was called by the commission to allow operators to show cause why the Spraberry should not be shut down until flaring can be prevented.

It was in June, 1952, the gas pumps turned out a record-breaking 11,000,000 gallons of water in one day and that was not enough as some residential areas found themselves without water pressure for a short period.

If the 40 per cent increase is applied to the peak June demand this year, the result is obvious—if the additional water is not available.

June 1 has been set as the deadline for completing the million-dollar project which will more than double the supply.

But the question of whether the deadline would be met successfully hinged Tuesday on the deliveries of steel for a 30-inch, eight-mile-long supply line.

Through the winter months, the development of McMillen Field, northwest of the city has continued steadily.

Ten wells already have been completed and tests have proved them of better capacity than had been anticipated. Work now is underway on the drilling and development of the last two wells under the current program.

Work is nearing completion on two 2,000,000-gallon surface reservoirs at McMillen Field and they will be ready by the June 1 deadline.

The pipe has been strung for the gathering system which will bring the water from the wells to the two surface reservoirs and that phase, too, will be completed in time.

Supply Line Is Key
Construction of pumping facilities which will push the new supply toward Midland is underway and there is no anxiety over the progress of that portion of the project.

So the key now is the supply line, which will bring the water to Midland, and city officials expect to know within a week whether the (Continued To Page Eight)

West Texas Points Gel Light Rainfall But Midland Missed

Skies cleared over the Midland sector before noon Tuesday, erasing chances for showers from an early morning cluster of clouds in the Northwest.

CAA observers at the Midland Air Terminal expected blue skies to continue Wednesday with little change in temperature. Winds up to 20 miles an hour may bring blowing dust late Tuesday afternoon.

A moisture-laden overcast left showers as it drifted across the state from the Gulf of Mexico.

Some West Texas points received drizzles Tuesday morning. They included Big Spring, San Angelo and Snyder.

Showers In Offing

Partly cloudy with widely scattered thundershowers Tuesday night and Wednesday. Cooler Wednesday. Maximum temperature Monday 78 degrees; minimum Tuesday 55 degrees.

Air Force Sergeant Denies Killing Man Who Befriended Him

PALO PINTO—(P)—Air Force Sgt. Marvin Rayson, 27, denied Tuesday he killed a corporal who gave him a ride. He said an unidentified man did it and changed his plea from guilty to innocent on the witness stand.

Rayson, a negro, is charged with murdering Opl. Benjamin Layton, 26, St. Mary's, Mo., by shooting him with a .38 caliber pistol.

The sergeant pleaded guilty Monday. The state, seeking the death penalty, introduced evidence including a statement Rayson made the day after he was arrested January 17. In the statement, Rayson said he was worried about debts and killed Layton for his money.

MIDLAND, TOO, FETES ST. PAT

More Midlanders were bragging about being Irishmen Tuesday than there were about being millionaires.

Everybody was trying to get in on the St. Patrick's Day act.

Black or white, English or Italian, German or Scandinavian, they all were blossoming out in green ties, green shirts, green carnations and a dozen different kind of shamrocks in memory of Ireland's blessed saint.

"We plan a big globber of Irish stew after the parade," the chief said, "and devil takes the man that calls it jambalaya. It'll be a mighty kettle of potatoes and beef and some of your shrimps or crawfish scumming about in it."

The parade itself was enough to bedew the eyes of the lord mayor of Dublin himself, provided he was willing to overlook the colors of the leadoff band.

"Black or orange," formerly admitted Mark O'Brien, an organizer of the parade.

"And it's too late we found it out, but we had them trotting 'The Wearing of the Green' till their instruments corroded with patriotism."

IT'S IRISH STEW, NOT JAMBALAYA—Donohue, Leblanc, Mulligan, Gatreau March As Louisiana Honors St. Patrick

By HUGH MULLIGAN
BATON ROUGE, La.—(P)—Sure now, 'twas like no other St. Patrick's Day parade.

Where else would you find Jacques Leblanc pumping the old bassoon instead of McCarthy?

And Pierre Gatreau tooting the flute in place of old Tennessee Hennessy?

The drums banged, cymbals clashed, and horns blazed away Tuesday as the first St. Patrick's Day parade wound through the capital city of the French colony.

Led by Mike Donohue, a fine brood of a lad who coaches Louisiana State University football teams 20 years ago, the sons of Erin were out in full force.

Sure now, not all the marchers could duplicate Mike's fine Celtic handle.

Slide by side with the Kellys, the O'Sheas, the Monahans, and the Mulligans came a godly sprinkling of Broussards, Herberts, Thibodaux and Fontenots.

'Tis more than 150 years since the Irish first came to Baton Rouge.

With the passing of years, the dark-eyed colleens have worked their charms on the Cajun lads from down on the bayou so that a lot of old Celtic names have given away to Gallic.

"But on this one day, it's the Irish that comes out, you can rest assured of that," explained Fire Chief Robert Bogan.

Flow Of U. S. Arms To Formosa Speeded

TAIPEH, FORMOSA.—There has been a notable increase in the volume of American military aid to the Chinese Nationalists since the first of the year. This was disclosed Tuesday in a report by the headquarters of Maj. Gen. William C. Chase, chief of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group (MAAG). The volume of U. S. military aid to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's forces before January 1 was considered by Chase to be "less than satisfactory," the report said. But in January and February, 23 ships brought such essentials as aircraft, artillery, machine guns, ammunition, general purpose and combat vehicles, and naval and engineering equipment.

Joint Tax Return Accepted Despite Pending Divorce

WASHINGTON.—The U. S. Tax Court has ruled a joint income tax return may be filed by a couple having an interlocutory divorce decree which has not become final. The decision, handed down Monday, involved Mariner S. Eccles, former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, who is now a banker in Utah. Eccles filed a joint return with Maymie Y. Eccles, his divorced wife, for the year 1949. Their preliminary divorce decree was granted August 2 of that year, to become final after six months. The Internal Revenue Bureau maintained Eccles had no right to file a joint return, and billed him for $5,479 for which he would have been additionally liable as a divorced man.

Rail Safety Plan Would Warn Autos

WASHINGTON.—Representative Gross (R-Iowa) said Tuesday perhaps 800 persons will die in railroad crossing accidents this year because of inability to see moving trains at night. Gross is author of a bill which would require that unlighted railroad cars, both passenger and freight, be marked with reflective or luminous material which would reflect light from auto headlights.

Odessan, Trying To Help, Injured In Freak Mishap

Mrs. F. E. Perry of Odessa, who was only trying to be helpful in the first place, was injured Monday afternoon in a freak traffic accident only a few feet from police headquarters. Mrs. Perry, former nurse at Western Clinic-Hospital, was riding in an automobile being driven by Mrs. Opal Johnnie Wilson of Odessa. Mrs. Wilson had spotted a parking place in front of City Hall and made several unsuccessful attempts to back into it. Mrs. Perry offered to try it. She walked around to the driver's side, and told Mrs. Wilson to move over. As Mrs. Wilson moved over, her foot landed on the accelerator and the automobile shot backward, hurling Mrs. Perry to the pavement. She was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital for a head laceration and released late Monday.

Measles Delays Bohlen Hearing

WASHINGTON.—The Eisenhower Administration appeared Tuesday to have accepted the challenge to a foreign policy showdown with opponents of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen's nomination as ambassador to Russia. Almost all of those opponents in the Senate are Republicans. Friends of Bohlen said the career foreign service officer had no thought of asking President Eisenhower to withdraw his name. And White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said there was "no change" in the situation there. The nominee had a case of measles which forced a delay until Wednesday of a new hearing on his appointment by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. It originally was set for Tuesday. Senator Bridges (R-NH) predicted there will be from 15 to 20 votes against Bohlen in the Senate. Like a mild case of measles when you're 48, that might be a little embarrassing to Bohlen, but not serious. It would require a majority of the Senate to reject his nomination—49 senators if all 96 were on hand and voted. No senator has predicted Bohlen's nomination will be turned down. If the Foreign Relations Committee votes Wednesday, the nomination might be brought to the Senate floor for confirmation Friday. The Administration has said it is anxious to speed Bohlen to Moscow for a first-hand look at the new Malenkov regime.

Daily Crude Output In Nation Declines

TULSA.—Daily average domestic production of crude oil and condensate dropped 14,700 barrels to 6,451,650 barrels during the week ended March 14, the Oil and Gas Journal reported Tuesday. Cumulative 1953 production in the nation, the Journal said, was raised to 475,125,250 barrels compared to 446,755,825 barrels at this time a year ago. Losses included Oklahoma, down 2,900 to 542,400; and Louisiana, down 1,250 to 729,225. Advances included Arkansas, up 350 to 78,950; and New Mexico 100 barrels to 181,075. Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,841,225 barrels.

Firemen Scuttle Burning Freighter

PANAMA, PANAMA.—Firemen scuttled the Ecuadorian ship Ecuador in the Canal Zone's Cristobal harbor Monday night after an unsuccessful nine-hour battle to put out a fire racking the 882-ton vessel. The ship was sunk to prevent the spread of flames to other shipping in the port.

CAP Meet To Hear Navigation Talks

A talk on navigation by Lt. Jack Bowman plus educational films will highlight the meeting of the Terminal squadron of the Civil Air Patrol at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Officers Club, Terminal. Plans for a proposed Civil Air Patrol week sometime in the Spring also will be discussed at the session. The public is invited to attend the Tuesday meeting.

Greek Involved In Actress' Jailing Denied Citizenship

LOS ANGELES.—The citizenship petition of Nick Gianacis, former restaurant man on whose testimony actress Madge Meredith was sentenced to two years in prison, has been rejected by the Federal Court. Dismissal of the petition was requested by the U. S. immigration service on the ground that Gianacis, a Greek, had not established proof of good moral character. Gianacis was not in court.

Plans To Liquidate Big Lending Agency Reported In Making

WASHINGTON.—The Eisenhower Administration was reported Tuesday planning to abolish the RFC with the hope that its assets will provide a billion dollars toward cutting the national deficit. Administration officials apparently are weighing these alternatives: (1) acting by presidential reorganization order, or (2) getting behind a bill by Senator Byrd (D-Va.) to kill off the agency and transfer some of its functions to other departments. Either move would be in line with President Eisenhower's announced intention to take the government out of competition with private business as far as possible. Byrd would not comment directly, but he was reported to have been assured by Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and other Administration officials that action on the RFC will be forthcoming soon.

Inspector To Ask Expanded Andrews Postal Facilities

ANDREWS.—A recommendation for more boxes and more post office help for the Andrews Post Office will be made by Postal Inspector V. E. Bell, who visited here recently. Mrs. Maggie Burkett, postmistress here, said that Bell will recommend that more than 200 boxes be added to the present city routes and an additional increase of 1,100 hours of post office help for rush-time assistance. Bell also suggested the improvement of postal service by getting the first mail of the day into Andrews earlier, possibly a contract mail route from Big Spring instead of from Midland. He suggested, too, an airmail service to Lubbock by the 2 p.m. bus and a late afternoon bus mail service into Odessa.

Does that tell-tale look on your face say change of life?

A great many women suffer "change of life" after forty. They tire easily, have "nerves", sleep poorly, are hard to live with. Their eyes and face get that "change" look.

Cardui has helped thousands of women to lose that "change" look. Cardui acts to: (1) improve appetite, (2) build strength and resistance, (3) ease tension and nervousness—sleep better. Let triple-action Cardui help you feel better, look better and be your normal, cheerful self again. Get Cardui today. (Say: "cardui-please").

Midland GI Meets Year-Old Daughter First Time In Life

Little Margaret Lucille Patton, almost one year old, was introduced to a "stranger" Monday night—her daddy.

Daddy—Richard Patton—was serving with the Seventh Army in Germany when his daughter was born, but he returned to the United States last week and received his honorable discharge at Fort Hood shortly thereafter.

Then he hurried home to 807 East Washington Street in Midland where Mrs. Patton, the former Margaret Wilson, and their daughter whom he never had seen are residing with his parents.

Patton, a former employe of A&L Housing Company, is a graduate of Midland High School. He entered the Army two years ago and was stationed in Bamholder, Germany, more than a year.

From Paris in Spring, 1953, comes a silhouette that emphasizes sloping shoulders and waistline dipped back. But there is nothing exaggerated in the new silhouette, nothing radical, as these first pictures from the Paris Spring collections show. Accent is on sheer femininity. Typical is Manquin's newest idea in ensembles, left, a sleeveless jacket worn over slim dress, both in palest honey tweed. White plique tie threads neckline, edges sleeves. Tweed suits for informal town wear are in pastel shades. Jacques Griffe does one, left center, in pale green with unfitted line and pale silk blouse for color contrast. From Germaine Lecomte comes gray cotton worsted afternoon dress, right center. This two-piece dress has wide skirt built over taffeta foundation. Pierre Balmain signs the informal daytime ensemble, right, in soft beige tweed. Dress is made with kimono yoke of lighter beige wool jersey. Blue fox is used as lining for long, wide stole.—By Rosette Hargrove, NEA staff correspondent, Paris.

SOCIETY

Shirley Bunt Is Bride Of Wilburn W. Eaton

When they return from a wedding trip to Carlsbad and Ruidoso, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn W. Eaton will establish a residence at 703 1/2 North Marlenfeld Street.

The bride is the former Shirley Joyce Bunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Bunt, Sr., 804 Whitaker Street. She is employed with Shell Oil Company.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eaton, 708 South Fort Worth Street. He is employed with Midland Hardware and Furniture Company.

Church Ceremony

The couple was married in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Asbury Methodist Church, with the pastor, the Rev. J. W. Rosenberg, officiating.

Vows were repeated beneath a white arch, which was entwined with fern. Baskets of white stock and cathedral tapers burning in branched candelabra completed the setting.

Mrs. J. P. Carson, Jr., organist, played "Poem" (Fibich) and the Mendelssohn and Lohengrin wedding marches. She also accompanied the bride's sister, Sonja Bunt, who sang "Because" (d'Hardel) and "Let the Rest of the World Go By" (J. Keirn Brennan).

Wears White

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a ball-train length gown of white satin. Her veil of white tulle was caught to a tiara of white stock, and she carried a white Bible topped with white iris and stephanotis.

Jeanie Bunt, who attended her sister as maid of honor, was wearing a dress of pink taffeta. Marilyn Beckley, junior bridesmaid, was gowned in green taffeta. Both had white accessories and bouquets of pink carnations.

Candles were lighted by Mrs. Howard Edwards and Mrs. Bill Hale. Bill Jamison of Colorado City, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, served as best man, and R. A. Bunt, Jr., brother of the bride, was the groomsmen. Ushers included Chester Adams and Bill Bursan.

Reception Held

The reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. Presiding at the bride's table were Mrs. Bill Bursan and Audrey Eaton, sister of the bridegroom. Mrs. Gene Miles, sister of the bride, registered guests.

A dainty arrangement of sweets and small candies decorated the table.

Out-of-city guests included Mr. and Mrs. Bill Jamison and Rex Jamison, Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hebert and daughter, Goldsmith; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Moore, Brownfield, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Stewart, Odessa.

Midlander To Attend Mississippi School

Virginia Wilkinson, student in Midland High School, has been accepted for entrance to the high school division of Gulf Park College in Gulfport, Miss., in September.

Miss Wilkinson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Wilkinson, 1311 West Missouri Street. At Midland High School, she is a member of the drill squad and a representative on the Student Council.

Education Called Missing Link In Safety Program

Midland drivers have piled up a total of 182 traffic accidents since the beginning of 1953, costing citizens an estimated $900 a day in damages, Jack Keese, city traffic engineer, said Monday night.

Keese addressed the monthly meeting of the Permian Basin Safety Association in Hotel Scharbauer. He emphasized that the present trend in Midland, if continued, could add up to $300,000 in property loss for the entire year.

Keese identified the three vital needs of a city in traffic control as engineering, enforcement and education. Keese called education the "missing link" in Midland's picture of traffic control.

Wesley Martin, representing the Midland public schools, also spoke to the association. Martin explained the aim of driver education in schools as teaching the teenage motorists how to drive before he applies for a driver's license. He reviewed the teaching of safety in Midland schools and the safety patrol's function.

C. E. Cure, association president, had charge of the Monday meeting. Guy Creighton, program chairman, introduced the speakers.

BUSINESS IN CITY

Paul Mercer and A. L. Hudson of Dunbar, N. M., attended to business in Midland Tuesday.

Mrs. T. P. Cooper and Nell Hardin were in Midland Tuesday from Big Spring.

CFW Members Hold Luncheon And Program

Plans for a meeting of the Midland Council of Church Women were discussed when the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church held a luncheon Monday in the church.

The CFW will be hostess group for a tea for the council April 9. The migrant wagon sponsored by the council will be in the city and there will be a program at the tea on work with migrant laborers.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. G. E. Webb reviewed the first half of the mission study book, "African Heritage," by Dr. Emory Ross.

Members packed new Easter clothing to be sent to the Juliette Fowler home and towels and wash cloths for the Harwell Hall home. Plans were made for the final week of visitation.

Others attending were Mrs. Ella Ragsdale, Mrs. Clyde Lindsey, Mrs. R. E. Dupuy, Mrs. D. C. Brooks, Mrs. F. E. Curtis, Jr., Mrs. Paul Martin, Mrs. J. C. Snyder, Mrs. E. R. Woolfolk, Mrs. Henry Conkling.

Mrs. George Walters, Mrs. W. P. Z. German, Jr., Mrs. Charles Klapproth, Mrs. B. H. Spaw, Mrs. Paul McHargus, Mrs. J. Roy Jones, Mrs. E. D. Riddle, Mrs. J. B. Coulter, Mrs. James Patterson, Mrs. Wayne Moore, Mrs. E. A. Jordan, the Rev. Clyde Lindsey and a guest, Mrs. Marie Hollingworth.

Two Are Hostesses To Lynes Wives

Mrs. E. Barber and Mrs. Paul R. Stovey were hostesses to the Lynes, Inc., wives at a meeting Monday night in the home of Mrs. Stovey, 1506 South Colorado Street.

J. A. Richardson of the Richardson Nursery was guest speaker. He discussed planting in West Texas.

Others present were Mrs. G. E. Conover, Mrs. E. W. Stokely, Mrs. L. Denham, Mrs. J. Blaine, Mrs. M. Malone, Mrs. Ed Reed, Mrs. B. Strong, Mrs. M. Coone, Mrs. L. E. McCluskey and Mrs. J. Lawson.

STUDY FOREIGN MISSIONS

A program on foreign missions, under the direction of Neva McMinn, was held Monday at the meeting of the Intermediate GAs in the home of Mrs. J. H. Gofas. Those participating on the program were Fronia Jones, Julia Justice and Betty Roberson. Others present were Virginia Moore and Rydora Wilson.

Solons Study $166,000,000 Budget Proposed For Texas

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Senate Finance Committee Tuesday set back to listen to reaction from the Legislature on its proposed two-year budget it submitted Monday.

It would appropriate 166 million dollars, holding spending within expected revenue and granting salary increases up to $200 a year for state employes and college faculties. It is designed to avoid new taxes.

The House committee plan does about the same thing without the salary boosts, holding spending to 162 million.

The Senate committee's budget represents a 12 million increase over current spending, four million over the proposals of the House and Legislative Budget Board and is about even with Governor Shivers' recommendation.

The estimate that the Senate bill is 12 million over present spending was made by the Legislative Budget Board. It appears at variance with figures used by the state comptroller, who has said the state is operating on approximately 160 million currently.

Budget Looks Higher

The comptroller's figures would make the Senate committee's appropriation run some six million over the 1952-53 budget, not 12 million.

Under the Senate committee version, state employes would get a 10 per cent increase on salaries up to $300, and a flat $300 increase on salaries from there to $10,000.

Enough additional money would be provided colleges for faculty boosts averaging $300 a year, but there would be no increases for administrative personnel raised two years ago when teachers were bypassed.

One new building would be authorized—a new tuberculosis hospital at Tyler, tagged an emergency by Governor Shivers.

A new narcotics division would be set up in the Department of Public Safety.

Three Performances Remain On Schedule For MCT Production

The Midland Community Theater's production of "Bell, Book and Candle" has three more scheduled performances.

They will be at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the City-County Auditorium.

A fantasy on witchcraft in modern life, the play was written by John van Druten. Playing the lead roles in the Broadway production were Rex Harrison and Lili Palmer.

Cast for the Midland production includes Betty Simpson, Tom King, Betty Gaines, Robert Blackham and Thomas Beal. Director is Art Cole.

The play is being produced in the round, an intimate form of theater that projects the audience into the scene and action. It is presented from a stage in the center of the auditorium, with the audience surrounding the stage.

The box office at the auditorium is open each afternoon, and also will be open from 7:30 until 9 p.m. each night through the run of the play.

TO FORT WORTH

Mrs. Warren G. Reynolds and daughter, Diane, 415 East Pine Street, left Tuesday for Fort Worth, where they will visit relatives.

UNCLE SAM'S BIG BITE—Newschart above shows the growth of the income tax bite on individuals and corporations for the past 40 years as compared with other methods of financing the government, according to data obtained from the National Industrial Conference Board. Inset at left, using U. S. Treasury figures for a family of four, shows the income tax bite on various incomes ranging from $5000 a year to $200,000. From World War to now, excepting two years in the 1920's and during the depression, the income tax has been Uncle Sam's favorite method of extracting money.

'Hoaxsters' Called Truth Young People Should Know

By TRACY FLIER
Reporter-Telegram Staff

The truth our young people should be informed of... interesting... a dramatic presentation of the clash between communism and freedom... these were typical comments made by reviewers who watched a showing Monday morning of the film "The Hoaxsters."

More than 1,000 students from Midland schools attended the showing, which was held in the Yucca Theater for educators, clergymen, students, press and radio.

The 36-minute movie holds the audience's attention from beginning to end with its documented story of the "why" of totalitarian forms of government and the "how" of its leaders including Hitler, Mussolini, Tojo, and Stalin.

Woven through "The Hoaxsters" is the theme that all dictators pretend to be "medicine men" with a guaranteed cure-all for the world's ills.

Young Midland students in the audience were presented with graphic understanding of how the Communists in their 36-year history periodically became "friends" of America when the going got rough for Russia and turned on "hate America" campaigns when their use for the United States, economically and politically, has been exhausted temporarily.

"The Hoaxsters" also tells what has been accomplished by the U. S. in fighting communism throughout the universe and ends on a note of hope that world peace can be preserved without another world war if the Communist "hoaxsters" can be shown of their coat of many colors and presented to the world in the nakedness of truth.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging headaches, backaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is giving you sleep—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 11 colored kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

City To Sell First Bonds From $5,290,000 Election

The first group of the $5,290,000 in municipal bonds approved at a special election last September will be sold Thursday afternoon by the City of Midland.

Bids will be opened at 2:30 p.m. at City Hall on a total of $3,178,000 in revenue and general obligation bonds.

Included in the offering is $2,145,000 waterworks and sewer system revenue bonds and $1,033,000 in general obligation bonds.

The revenue from the sale will be used to finance construction of the new Public Safety Buildings, development of a park program, construction of water and sewer extensions and other municipal improvements.

Dulles Plans Junket To Strengthen U. S. Ties In East, Asia

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Dulles plans to leave around May 10 on a flying visit to 10 key Middle Eastern and Southeast countries.

Informed officials who disclosed arrangements for the trip Tuesday said Dulles' visit would be the first ever undertaken to the Middle East by an American secretary of State.

The secretary's main aim, they said, is to strengthen American relations with the Arab world and speed the building of a Middle East defense alliance against communism.

Dulles plans to travel by special plane during the two-week tour, stopping in Egypt, Iraq, Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Hashemite Jordan, Libya, Israel, India and Pakistan.

He tentatively plans to bypass Iran, possibly to show the U. S. stands firm with Britain in the latest proposals to settle the Iranian oil controversy.

Dulles reportedly will concentrate on two immediate problems: (1) persuading Israel and the Arab states to find a lasting peace settlement to replace the present shaky truce; (2) trying to convince India and Pakistan to settle their bitter differences over Kashmir.

Hot Disputes Delay Choice Of Trygve Lie's Successor

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The hot squabble over choice of a new secretary general for the United Nations forced delegates Tuesday to sidestep discussion of the present head man's policies toward UN employees accused of disloyalty or subversion toward the United States.

Some delegates felt the personnel policy question should be pigeon-holed until Russia and the United States agree—if they can—on a successor to Trygve Lie.

General Assembly President Lester B. Pearson of Canada, a major contender for Lie's job, canceled a full meeting of the 60-nation organization scheduled Tuesday to discuss the personnel question. A number of delegations asked for the delay.

Lie has permitted the FBI to fingerprint Americans employed by the UN Secretariat. He has also fired a number of U. S. nationals in the Secretariat who refused to answer questions on alleged Communist affiliations before congressional investigators. These actions brought Soviet charges that the secretary general knuckled under the U. S. pressure.

The question of Lie's replacement comes up again Thursday in the 11-nation Security Council. The Russians last Friday voted Pearson's nine-vote majority, which was led by Britain and France. The U. S. candidate, Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines, got only five votes and the Soviet candidate, Stanislaw Skrzyszewski, got only the lone Soviet vote.

These three candidates probably

Silver City Union Custodian's Home Destroyed By Fire

SILVER CITY, N. M.—(AP)—A hearing was set in the district attorney's office Tuesday to delve into the cause of a fire which Monday night destroyed the home of a union officer.

Sheriff Owen C. Matthews asked all concerned parties to meet with him for an informal airing of opinions in the burning of the home of Floyd Bostick, warden-custodian of local 890 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

Destruction of Bostick's home marked the third time this month fire has touched property connected with the controversial union.

Clinton Jencks, international union representative, connected the burning with the prominent part Bostick played in the recent filming of a controversial movie here. The picture, "Salt of the Earth," was labeled a Communist weapon on the floor of Congress.

Enraged citizens threatened the movie-makers and they left town. Bostick's three children, alone in the house, escaped without injury. The three-room frame house and Bostick's possessions were a total loss.

Cottonseed Meal Process Reported Free Of X-Disease

COLLEGE STATION—The chlorinated naphthalene which causes "X-Disease" or hyperkeratosis in cattle is not a part of the solvent extraction process used in producing cottonseed meal, Dr. H. Schmidt, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station veterinarian, said Tuesday.

Although chlorinated naphthalene has been found in cottonseed pellets, it gained access to them after the meal was produced, he said.

Chlorinated naphthalene is a material used by at least one grease and lubricating oils manufacturer, and has been found in use on machines which pressed the meal into pellets, he said.

Dr. Schmidt's statement was made after many cattlemen and feed suppliers speculated during a recent outbreak of the disease, that the chlorinated naphthalene might have gained access to the cottonseed meal during the solvent extraction process.

First symptoms of the disease are those of Vitamin A deficiency, brought about when the chlorinated naphthalene breaks down the Vitamin A content of the blood.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The Longhorn League, tearing down its racial barriers for the first time, apparently will have four, rather than two, negroes this season. Manager Pat Stasey of Roswell has returned from Cuba with negro outfielder Gilbert Wilson in mind as "the fastest man in baseball."

Stasey did not announce whether Wilson was signed but the two evidently are tied by some agreement now. For Stasey said he wasn't sure the negro athlete would be brought to Roswell—implying that Stasey has the choice. He adds that "I want to talk it around a little before making any definite announcement."

Wilson would make a third negro addition to our Class C loop following the definite plans announced by Manager Pat McLaughlin of Carlsbad. The ex-Vernon pilot who is fielding Carlsbad's initial Longhorn entry signed negro brothers John Henry and Cranston Shaw, pitcher and catcher, from a Central Texas team.

Stasey indicated that if he decides to add Wilson to Roswell's roster then another negro, "possibly a left-handed pitcher," would also join the club.

With Harold Webb taking over Lamesa's franchise, Hack Miller, Big Spring manager, promises to nail up carry four-leaf clovers. Miller, too, has heard of the Webb luck, which last week brought in rain at Lamesa when the former Midland owner took over the Lobos.

With the color line folding in the Longhorn League, the West Texas Relays at Odessa this weekend also is relenting. Sports Editor Tommy Hart of Big Spring reported Sunday. The Howard County Junior College track team has a negro sprinter, John Hillary Brown, whom the Odessa officials have okayed as an entry. Through Monday, however, nothing official had been announced from Odessa.

You'll find the faces in the AAU national basketball tournament in Denver, Colo., a familiar bunch: Besides the Ada Oiler, Phillips 66 of Bartlesville, Okla., and REA Travelers of Artesia, who played here, a Graham-Hoome Plovboy team from Amarillo has added to its entry such Texas Tech stars as Paul Nolen, Virgil Johnson and Louis Martin who came here with the Red Raiders. Troy Burrus, the six-foot-seven center of West Texas State and leading Border Conference scorer, is with the quintet also.

The end of Ada's bid in the AAU probably will mean the transfer of Bill Kline, an early-season 66er here, back to Midland, which he prefers. Claude Houchin, who finished the season here, then returns to Bartlesville since Midland's Phillips team wound up in the AAU state cage tourney in San Antonio.

The Elton Cotton, who led scoring for Big Chief Super-Market of Texas City, including a 27-point spree when Midland's 66ers won third place, 87-66, in a University of Houston player graduating this Spring.

Jerry Ribnick, Houston Chronicle sports writer, reports that the pro net group of Jack Kramer, Pancho Segura and Australians Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor are drawing better than the Harlem Globetrotter basketball team through almost half of an 88-city swing. The touring netters figure to gross $500,000 for their exhibitions.

Man Discovers Wealth In Downtown Office

Joe S. Doaks discovered a wealth of free information in the Chamber of Commerce office the other day. Delbert Downing gave him a copy of "Gardening in Midland," and Joe found that if he follows the advice in this free booklet, that deals entirely with local problems, that he is going to conserve, not only himself, but his soil.

Joe told us about it, and we got a copy. It's good. Since one of our interests is lawn-mowers, we would like to call your attention to page 18, where it says, "White Stems, developed over a lawn after mowing, are caused by a dull mower. In addition to making an unsightly lawn, it is extremely harmful to the grass." There is more, but this gives you the idea.

We've time to get your mower sharp and in tip-top condition, before the rush. Phone us.

Club Owners Jolt Browns' Plan To Move

TAMPA, Fla.—(P)—One of the surest things in the history of baseball boomerang into one of the biggest surprises in the game since the turn of the century when Bill Veck was refused permission to transfer the St. Louis Browns to Baltimore.

For almost a week, unofficial polls of the owners indicated that three formalities were involved in the proposed switch. But when they met here Monday, they sent Veck back to St. Louis for at least one more year by astounding one and all with a 5-2 vote against the switch. Only the Cleveland Indians and the Chicago White Sox reportedly sided with Veck.

As officials talked it over Tuesday, they were not so certain the Boston Braves would receive permission to transfer the National League franchise to Milwaukee. This move also had been thought to be all set except for the official voting in St. Petersburg Wednesday.

Braves' Stand Shaky

All the National League club owners must approve if the switch is to be made, and at least one—Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers—hinted he might not vote for the change.

Another thing that might influence the action of the National League moguls was the attitude of Commissioner Ford Frick. He obviously was pleased that the Browns will be forced to remain in St. Louis.

ROOKIE HURLER JOINS INDIANS

Right-handed Pitcher Bud Flak, a rookie, signed with the Midland Indian baseball team Tuesday morning for a Spring tryout.

The Paris, Ark., native thus makes an even dozen moundmen, full and part time, who seek spots in the Midland team. Flak, a 23-year-old war veteran, stands six feet, weighs 180.

Flak was brought into the Midland fold on the recommendation of infielder Woody Pennington after several years of semi-pro ball.

PALM BEACH, Fla.—(P)—Golf's touring professionals, led by E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, moved to the Seminole Club Tuesday for a 36-hole $10,000 tournament and a pro-amateur best-ball competition.

Harrison, playing out of Ardmore, Okla., won the $10,000 St. Petersburg Open.

Group Of Midlanders Head For Lubbock, West Texas Pro-Am

About 11 entries and officials from Midland will be in the field when the West Texas Pro Amateur Golf Association begins its 1953 season in Lubbock Wednesday.

Pros Abe Beckman of Ranchland Hill Country Club and Boyd Huff of Midland Country Club along with Roy Minear and Walter Thompson all will serve as officials at the meeting. Their participation includes helping set the schedule of weekly pro-am tournaments that runs until next winter.

The Lubbock pro-am is first for this year. Beckman pointed out that several from Ranchland were making plans to enter, those listing Red Watkins, Tommy Withrow, Ernie Nelson, Red Smith, J. B. Worley, David Cole and Harold McClure.

The pro-am play gets underway at 10 a.m.

Marines, Fort Sam Matched In AAU Meet

DENVER—(P)—The Santa Maria, Calif., Golden Dukes, one of eight seeded teams in the field of 37, were sidetracked Monday by Carbondale, Ill., 99-67, in the customary first round upset in the National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Two second-round games, among six contests scheduled Tuesday, will select two of the eight teams for Thursday's quarterfinal round. They match Peoria, Ill., Diesel Cats against the Fort Sam Houston Rangers of San Antonio, and the Milwaukee Allen Bradley five against the Quantico, Va. Marines.

The Rangers, zipped by Trenton, N. J. C. Vending Company, 85-55, Monday, The Marines, one of the tourney dark horses, advanced on a forfeit when the Nat. Bunting Packing Company, Memphis, Tenn., failed to appear.

Denver's Central Banker's substituted a nifty bunch of set-shot artists from Fort Hill, Okla., 77-70. San Diego, Calif., Grinhalva Motors skipped away after the first quarter to dump Fullman, Wash., De Soto, 68-40.

Danny Rbert's hook shots and Jack Stone's steady floor play guided Los Angeles' Kirby Shones to a 58-48 victory over a stubborn crew of West Texas collegiate stars playing for Graham-Hoome of Amarillo, Texas.

Golf Lessons Slated For Country Clubbers

Pro Boyd Huff of Midland Country Club Monday slotted the opening date for group golf lessons for women members for 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

He said an early list of those signing for lessons included about 40 names.

SAME OLD DUSTERS?—

New Longhorn Entry First Off In 1953 Spring Practice

Manager Pat McLaughlin made ready to line up and look at the Longhorn League's spanking new Carlsbad, N. M., entry Tuesday in Carlsbad with one big question in mind.

Will they be the same old disinterested Dusters of 1952—just removed from Vernon? The lineup appeared the same, but, of course, with a few new faces.

McLaughlin's was one of two clubs initiating League Spring training, the other was Artesia, like Carlsbad, working out at home.

Carlsbad last reported to the league office that 10 players from Vernon would be back—Steve Lagomarrino, Al Richardson, Pompey Carreras, John Bakas, Martell Dookey, John Reimold, Carroll Ghoslen, Bob Brown, William Newman and Arthur Neal.

Cub Players Learn Boss Still Can Go

FULLERTON, CALIF.—(P)—Manager Phil Cavarretta of the Chicago Cubs likes to let his first base candidates know their boss still can play winning baseball.

He took over the first base job the other day in an exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox and in four innings, hit two doubles and drew a walk. His defensive play was flawless.

Cavarretta, 36, stayed on the bench Monday as the Cubs beat the Los Angeles 6-3 but observed:

"Like to let the boys know occasionally the old man can still go if he has to."

RICHARDS SAYS FAIN OKAY

LOS ANGELES—(P)—Manager Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox doesn't have any regrets now that he gave up Eddie Robinson for Ferris Fain.

"I've never seen anyone who has looked any better this early in the Spring than Fain," says Richards.

He said he is a little worried that Fain, the American League batting champion the last two years might have a bad season.

SHANTZ BACK IN FORM

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(P)—Regaining the form that made him a 24-game winner in 1952, left-hander Bobby Shantz shacked the National League Champion Brooklyn Dodgers with one hit in five innings Monday as the Philadelphia Athletics edged the Dodgers, 2-1, on Dave Philley's bases-loaded single with two out in the ninth.

CARD POUND PHILS

CLEARWATER, Fla.—(P)—Stan (The Man) Mutual's two home runs got lost in a 17-hit deluge as the Philadelphia Phillies, uncovering offensive power, over-powered Eddie Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals, 11-9, Monday.

YANKS ARE RED-FACED

TAMPA, Fla.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds were due in Clearwater Tuesday to face the Philadelphia Phils and they can be pardoned if they display a bit of cockiness.

When the Reds, who haven't been out of the National League's second division for 10 these many years, can get 17 hits and wallop the New York Yankees by an 11-2 count of runs is a reason for the cheering of muscles.

The particular toast of the team was Roy McMillan, the sharp little shortstop, who got four hits in five times at bat.

MAN OR MIZE?

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(P)—Johnny Mize had his first appearance of the Grapefruit League season under his belt Tuesday.

The 40-year-old New York Yankee first baseman batted in Monday's game against Cincinnati and filed out.

His top deal, however, was a history-making one for the loop and promises, perhaps, the big payoff. That brought rookies John Henry and Cranston Shaw, a negro brother battery, from Central Texas with highest recommendations.

On the eve of training, McLaughlin was talking more deals and signing more rookies. About six of the latter were in tow.

The bothersome question still prevailed though. If they're the old Dusters, the Potashers' Longhorn bid will be mud.

When Artesia started its drills, a quartet of 1952 Lamesa Lobos were on the roster, infielders Jackie Wilcox and Glenn Pine, outfielder Joe Fortin and pitcher Ralph Carrier.

SINGLES CHAMPION—Blonde Edith Hall goes into action at the sixth annual Midland Women's Bowling Tournament at Plamor Lanes. She took the singles crown with a total score of 562.

Supply Team Nets Fem Kegling Cup

West Texas Office Supply fought off a determined House of Beauty women's bowling team Sunday to win a close decision and sweep the championship in the sixth annual women's tournament in Midland.

Results of the tournament ended Sunday at Plamor Lanes were announced Tuesday after a check of records had kept officials busy through Monday.

West Texas gained first with a 2,136 series total against 2,025 for the second place House of Beauty kegglers.

TL CLUBS END BAN ON MAJORS

DALLAS—(P)—The Texas League Monday made a bid to get major league teams to play exhibition games in the Lone Star State by rescinding its rule that the visitors must play hometown squads.

Last year the loop passed a rule that the big leaguers must play Texas League teams if they use the latter's parks. As a result most of the big time baseball teams shunned Texas in their Spring exhibition tours.

West Texas Relays To Field Record Number Of Contenders

ODESSA—(P)—A record entry list for the tenth annual West Texas Relays apparently was assured Tuesday, with officials expecting over 700 individual athletes to compete in the two-day track and golf carnival here.

About 650 were expected in the track meet at last becoming one of the top events of its kind in the nation.

The relays, scheduled Friday and Saturday of this week, are back on a four-division basis this year—university, college, junior college-freshman and high school. Only three were staged last year. The JC-fresh class being left out.

High Schoolers Balby

The best of the entries, as usual, is seen in the high school division. Meet Director Julius Johnson Monday said he looked for about 500 schoolboy children alone, representing 28 to 40 teams. There is a possibility that more may enter before the deadline.

Teams in the powerful university division this year include Texas, with its crop of great sprint talent; the University of Houston, SMU, TCU, Texas Tech and Baylor.

College division entrants now include Auburn Christian, Howard Payne, West Texas State, Sul Ross, Hardin-Simmons and McMurry. Two teams, strong North Texas State

Top Collegiate Quintets Open NCAA Finals

KANSAS CITY—(P)—Fast-breaking Indiana rules a seven-point favorite over Louisiana State University and skyscraper Washington is a three-point choice over defending champion Kansas Tuesday night in the semi-finals of the NCAA Basketball Tournament.

The Hoosiers, top-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll, and LSU's Southeastern Conference kings, No. 7, clash in the opening game.

The tipoff in the second game will come later. Washington is No. 2 in the ratings and Kansas is No. 7.

Municipal Auditorium has sold out its 10,500 seats. A large section of the crowd has been lured by the sight of seeing two of the season's outstanding basketballers vie for the tournament individual scoring record set last year by Kansas' Clyde Lovellette.

The two are Boo Houbregs, Washington's, six-foot-seven All-American, and Don Schlundt, Indiana's 6-9 sophomore sensation. They are within striking distance of the 181 points scored by Lovellette in 1952's four tournament games.

Houbregs already has cracked one of Lovellette's marks—the individual game record. He scored 45 points against Seattle in the first game of the Far West regional, that bettered Lovellette's mark by one point.

All Have High Scores

Both LSU and Kansas have players who were the scoring champions of their respective conferences—the Southeastern and Big Seven—just as Houbregs led the Pacific Coast and Schlundt the Big Ten.

Bob Pettit has scored 502 points for Louisiana for an average of 24.2. A six-foot-nine junior, he also is deadly on hook shots, one-hand pushes and sets from the outside.

B. H. Born, 6-foot-6-inch pivot man from Little Medicine Lodge, Kan., is the Big Seven's leading goal producer with 423.

The A-AA team: Forwards—Wanda Arant, New Deal; Hazel Manning, Hamilton; Billie Earl, Whitesboro. Guards—Mary Ann Looney and Charlie Meyers, New Deal, and Norma Graves, Mulshoe.

The B all-stars: Forwards—Larue Madlock, Bryson; Latrice, Moore, Claude; and a tie between Jane Avery, Claude, and Shirley Cravey, Leaky. Guards—Mary Gillham, Claude; Joyce King, Bryson, and a tie between Haynie, Claude and Betty Brazier, Emory.

Turpin, Cartier Tangle Tuesday

LONDON—(P)—Randy Turpin, the guy the British think should be the world middleweight champion, tussles with New York's Walt Cartier over 10 rounds at Earl's Court Arena Tuesday night in his first bout with an American in 18 months. Fight time 3 p.m. (CST).

British sports writers have pinned a "glass jaw" label on Cartier, who has been knocked out six times, and agree that Randy, one of the heaviest punchers for his weight, should be able to settle the argument effectively round about the halfway stage.

MRS. COWDEN REGISTERS ACE

Mrs. Wright Cowden hit what was described a perfect six-iron shot Monday afternoon and her score showed it.

Her 139-yard pitch was a hole-in-one on the three-par No. 7 at Midland Country Club. It was Mrs. Cowden's first ace.

She was playing in a foursome with Sybil Flournoy, Sunny Harbinger and Lou Meadows.

With the ace, Mrs. Cowden went on to post a nine-hole score of 42, six over men's par.

WINDOWS LACK DETOUR SIGNS

These new full-length glass windows in Midland business institutions really are getting a good "breaking-in."
Tuesday morning, a customer walked right through a glass partition in the new Midland National Bank. The man suffered only minor cuts, but the glass did not fare so well.
It was the third or fourth such incident reported here in recent weeks.

Kelley Date Erased Here; Harvey Due

Word was received just before press time Tuesday that Tom Kelley, platform cartoonist, will be unable to fill his speaking engagement before the Knife & Fork Club here Friday night.

Ralph Smith, K&F president, said the March meeting has been cancelled since it is doubtful if a substitute speaker obtained at this late date would be acceptable to the club membership.

Smith also announced the scheduling of Paul Harvey, noted news commentator, as the speaker at the club's April 25 dinner-meeting. The lecture will be held in the Midland High School Auditorium, following dinner in the cafeteria, with friends of members invited. A few membership still are available in the club, Smith said.

State Attorney Quits Appeals Court Post

AUSTIN—(AP)—George P. Blackburn has resigned as state's attorney for the Court of Criminal Appeals and will be succeeded April 1 by Wesley Dice, Temple.

Blackburn will return to the private practice at Dallas. Dice, 45, was city attorney at Belton, county judge of Bell County and for the last 11 years has been district judge of the 27th District.

Yucca Flat—the soldiers and some newsmen closer than any human has been since Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Two combat battalion teams and 20 reporters only two miles from the 300-foot tower where the blast flared at 5:20 a.m. (7:20 a.m. CST) came through unscathed.

The low, fiery blast sucked dust from the desert floor into a whirling, purplish-red fireball, but little heat was felt by observers on News Nob, seven miles away. Shock Is Sharp

The shock of the blast was sharp and bounced over the mountains ringing the test site to crack down as far away as Pasadena, Calif., Cedar City, Utah, and points in between, it was announced here.

In Las Vegas, nearest sizeable city to the site, 75 miles away, it flared a brilliant white, over almost half the horizon, then turned yellow before finally fading away into pink. But it caused no excitement, and only a few residents reported feeling the sound waves.

The test was designed primarily to gauge how houses and cars would come through a real blast. The Federal Civil Defense Administration built two two-story homes on the proving ground and scattered almost 70 cars among the Joshua trees.

The closer of two civil defense houses being tested was believed to be smashed, but a light appeared to be burning in the vicinity of the more distant house, 7,500 feet from the tower. The two $20,000, two-story homes were erected to help architects design houses with maximum protection.

After the first clash, the characteristic white cottony cloud formed quickly. As it rose to perhaps 13,000 feet, an ice cap appeared atop the big ball.

The peculiar detonation set up a drumlike cacophony that ricocheted around the vast perimeter of the test ground. Within 19 minutes, wind swept the cloud southeastward, with its dirty gray highlighted by the first early rose gleams of the rising sun.

Tower Vaporized
By that time the top was reported at 40,000 feet.

The tower from which the device was set off was believed vaporized. As the dust on the proving ground cleared, trucks carrying the troops from their forward positions could be seen moving slowly towards their maneuver objective many minutes after the blast.

Senate Okays Bill To Create Canadian River Water District

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Senate Tuesday overruled an appeal to block what had been called further federal invasion of Texas' control of its water resources.

The vote was 23-7 approving a bill to create the Canadian River Municipal Water district to supply 12 drought-hit Panhandle and Plains cities. The measure now goes to the House.

It would permit either federal or private financing for an $85,000,000 reservoir on the Canadian River.

Opponents of the Canadian River Municipal District bill argued it was another step toward turning all of Texas' water over to Uncle Sam.

Proponents of the bill replied federal finances would not be accepted unless we have to.

The water bill debated in the Senate is by Senator Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo. The need for a special law to create the Canadian River District to serve 12 Panhandle and Plains cities with drinking water was challenged by Senator Crawford Martin, Hillsboro.

second-class service to the people on its 21-city system.

A company announcement said, "CAB has placed an 'iron curtain' on service Pioneer can render."

Pioneer service curtailments include a reduction of flights to most cities and towns it serves and a reduction in its personnel. The line, which started its operations in 1945, planned no immediate reductions in New Mexico, but said personnel at Santa Fe, Clovis, Albuquerque and Tucuman would be cut.

Smith, who planned to spend Tuesday in Austin with Governor Shivers to discuss plans for the golden anniversary of airplane flight in Texas, could not be reached for further comment. And CAB officials in Washington refused to comment.

3,500 Miles Cut
Immediate reduction of 3,500 route miles daily, about 32 per cent, in 11 steps was planned as follows:

Suspended one round trip daily between Houston and Dallas via intermediate cities of College Station-Bryan, Temple and Waco.

Suspend one round trip daily between Houston and Lubbock via the intermediate cities of Austin, San Angelo and Abilene.

Suspend one round trip daily between Dallas and Lubbock via Fort Worth and Abilene.

Suspend service on the route between Houston and Austin via College Station-Bryan and Temple. Cut advertising.

Curtail purchases and advertising. Furlough many of the company's 450 personnel.

File with CAB an application for reconsideration of the March 13 order.

Prepare an application asking for temporary suspension of all service should CAB fail to reconsider its order.

Notify all cities on the system that such suspensions may be imminent. Consider sale of the Pacemaker planes.

Optimists Discuss New Boys' Workshop

Plans were launched at the noon meeting of Optimists Tuesday in Jimmy's Bar B Q to rebuild the Boys' Workshop in the near future.

Jim Velvin, Jr., retiring president, told the members immediate action on the project is necessary, since the present fire-damaged building has become unsafe.

A contribution of $100 from the Texas Garden Club was received to begin a fund for the project.

Velvin reported $3,000 would be the maximum cost for a Quonset-type structure. Other types of buildings were discussed.

Ed Stitt told the Optimists the recent boxing tournament resulted in a good turn-out by Midland's young fighters.

steel for this pipe will arrive in time.

Indications are that it will. Several months ago, Midland went to the National Production Authority and secured a government directive, ordering Republic, Bethlehem and Kaiser steel mills to begin delivery by March 15.

An official of the United Concrete Pipe Company, which will form the steel into pipe and coat it inside and out with concrete, said Tuesday Bethlehem had confirmed the order and will begin shipping this week to Big Spring, where United's plant is located in this area.

It is assumed Republic and Kaiser also will begin shipments immediately.

"If the steel arrives as we expect," said the United official, "we will begin deliveries of the pipe by April 1 and complete them by May 1."

Then, it will be up to the contracting firm of Bira and McKenzie to get it in the ground.

"But there will be no trouble there," said City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

"They have told me they can lay the pipe as fast as it is delivered. If the deliveries proceed as scheduled, the supply line will be completed by the middle of May."

Churchill Turns Down Offer Of Sanders-Lee Meng Barter

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill rejected Tuesday a Communist proposal to barter a British businessman in a Hungarian prison for a Communist girl guerrilla held by the British in Malaya.

Churchill told Commons that members of his government, after earnest consideration, had decided they could not entertain the proposal advanced by Hungary's Red regime.

The decision blasted the hope of Mrs. Winifred Sanders, whose husband, Edgar, is serving a 13-year

Carswell Airman Held In Connection With Brink Robbery

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Raymond Barnard, 27, Carswell Air Force Base airman, was in jail Tuesday after arraignment on a charge of transporting part of the Brink's payroll in interstate commerce.

Barnard, Springfield, Mass., refused to enter a plea or make a statement before U. S. Commissioner Robert F. Milam.

Milam ordered him to jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond. He will be returned to Connecticut for trial.

A Federal Bureau of Investigation agent, Tom Carter, told Milam Barnard is charged with being one of five gunmen who slugged and robbed three Brink's guards of $16,800 at the Bigelow-Sanford carpet factory, Thompsonville, Conn., May 12, 1950.

The complaint against the airman, filed last Monday in Connecticut, charges he transported more than $5,000 in "securities and/or moneys" from Thompsonville to Springfield, Mass.

Federal authorities arrested Barnard at the Carswell stockade, where he was held pending review of a two-year court martial sentence for desertion.

Boxwell, Panhandle Civic Leader, Dies In Traffic Mishap

DUMAS—(AP)—Lloyd Boxwell, 41, well-known Panhandle businessman, was killed in a head-on crash 14 miles south of here Monday night.

His brother, Ivan Boxwell, who was riding in the same car, was injured slightly. Mrs. Herbert Clark, Dumas, driver of the other car, was injured more seriously.

"Boxwell was a past president of the Dumas Chamber of Commerce and the Dumas Lions Club, and with his brother operated funeral homes and stores in a number of Panhandle cities.

Miller To Fill Highest IOOF Position In Texas

Leonard H. Miller of Midland and Mrs. Georgia Ford of Amarillo were advanced to the highest state office in the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in annual sessions at Fort Worth Monday.

Miller moved up to grand master of the Grand Lodge of Texas, IOOF, succeeding E. O. Wood of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Ford was elevated to the presidency of the Rebekah Assembly, succeeding Mrs. Evelyn Lovelace of Bedford.

V. I. Grounds of Longview advanced from grand warden to deputy grand master and Earl P. Vaughan of Bay City was elected grand warden, entering on the line of succession to grand master.

S. M. Williams of Dallas was re-elected grand secretary and R. E. Shepherd of Denton was named grand treasurer.

Mrs. Mae Self of Terrell was re-elected a Rebekah trustee and Mrs. Margaret Saltschew of Harlingen was named to the advisory board.

Greenview Lodge, IOOF, won the degree contest with Farmers Branch, Dallas County, second and Polytechnic Lodge of Fort Worth third.

Grunewald Ordered To Face U. S. Court

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Overruling protests that Henry Grunewald was too ill to stand trial, a U. S. district judge Tuesday ordered the celebrated Washington wirepuller to trial on 31 charges of contempt of Congress.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff acted after receiving a report from a court-appointed heart specialist that Grunewald—referred to as "the Dutchman"—in a series of congressional hearings—was physically able to stand trial.

Actual start of the trial awaited the completion of another case before Judge Holtzoff.

Two Tremors Shake Area In Oklahoma; No Damage Reported

EL RENO, OKLA.—(AP)—Two earth tremors shook Canadian County Tuesday and the first reports said there was no damage or injuries.

Many citizens at first thought it was a reaction from the atomic explosion set off in Nevada.

The tremors shook this rich wheat growing area in Central Oklahoma at 7:12 a.m. and 8:28 a.m. at Oklahoma City, 30 miles east of here, the second tremor was felt.

J. W. Dickerson, operator of the Union City Telephone Exchange, said the second was "heavy enough to be dangerous." Union City, which is 10 miles south of here, and El Reno were the centers of several quakes which shook parts of Oklahoma last April.

Teachers To Attend Midland Workshop

An in-service Art Education Workshop will be held for teachers in the Midland public school system for three days, beginning Tuesday at the North Elementary School.

Clyde C. Clack, an authority in the Southwest on art education and training, will conduct the course. The program will be designed for primary and elementary art teachers with limited experience.

The workshop is sponsored by the Binney and Smith Company. Creative use of school art media will be stressed, with the greatest portion of the time devoted to actual practice.

PENNEY'S TOWARD HEAVEN—The staccato clatter of rivets joining new steel beams and girders is an industrious rhapsody of progress to the ears of Midlanders passing by the new location of the J. C. Penney Company building at 210 North Main Street. The $250,000 structure, which is scheduled for completion by Fall of this year, will rise three stories and provide three times the space now occupied by Penney's.

The Magic Egg
Now Appearing in
The Reporter-Telegram

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK —(AP)—Every once in a while President Eisenhower has a way of putting an unerring finger on the American heart.
He did that recently when he took time out from international worries to pay a tribute to the old-fashioned country storekeeper in a chat to the American Retail Federation.
Recalling his own warm memories of the country stores of his boyhood—"the social centers of our time"—he told the retailers of today:
"Man does not live by bread alone... What are you doing to give the kids who are six years old to 12 similar memories?... Memories that will live with them... I hope that the American retailers will not forget to sell memories."

There is no doubt that the kind of country store in which Abe Lincoln learned to know people—famous for its checker players, pot-bellied stove, cracker barrel and rat cheese—is getting as rare as the star store Indian.
More Bargains Now
It has given way to that vast cathedral of commerce, the supermarket, in which throngs shop to soft music, ever ybony is a bargain, and every purchase is pre-wrapped in a package as sanitary as a saint's dream. They sell more bargains than memories.
In between the old country store and the two-lane supermarket, however, are thousands of neighborhood stores which are a kind of a compromise. They are more likely to give credit than bargains, but the customer is treated as a friend, and when a kid comes in with his family's meat order the butcher delights him with a free slice of baloney, eaten on the spot.
My Dad ran that type of store almost 30 years. Some small shopkeepers develop a grudge against supermarkets, but Dad never did.
Any man who can't open a grocery store right next door to a supermarket to do all right, doesn't belong in business. He will have to sell service. Some people will always want personalized service, and will pay for it.

The only thing Dad ever had against the supermarkets was that they were so spick-and-span his own customers finally forced him to take the sawdust off his floor. He was an old-timer and loved the feel of sawdust under his feet, and he thought a grocery store without sawdust was like a lady going to church in a bathing suit.
Dad had known hunger in his youth and couldn't turn away anyone hungry. When a jobless customer had so big a tab he was too embarrassed to come in himself, he would send one of his kids to the store with an order, knowing Dad would always fill the basket.
But Dad had his own philosophy about credit.
"You can give it if your store is in a working class neighborhood," he said, "because a poor man, after being out of work, will pay up his grocery bill as soon as he lands a job. But in a big shot neighborhood the last man they pay is the grocer."

21 Years Of Freedom End As Police Grab Ex-Convict

HOUSTON — (AP)—Twenty-one years of freedom and a search for a childhood sweetheart ended for an escaped convict here Monday.

An anonymous tip led to the capture of Conway Jones, 47, a jazz band pianist, who broke out of a Lubbock jail in 1932.

Jones said he broke out less than a week after he had been sentenced to four years on a forgery charge.

It was about two weeks ago that Jones married a waitress named

Nina here. He said she was his childhood sweetheart.

"It was searching for her that brought me to Houston," he said, "I've always loved her."

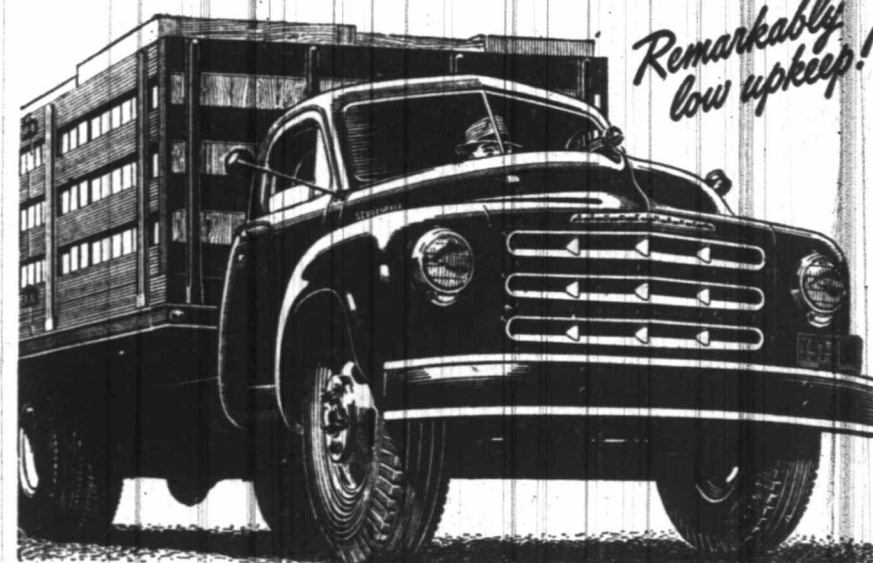

Jones appeared unworried about his capture.

"They won't send me to prison," he said, "I've got tuberculosis. When they find that out, they'll turn me loose."

A Weird Unreality

Secretary of Agriculture Benson has made his first critical move. It was not a decision for government re-entrenchment in farm price supports, as might have been expected from some of Benson's public statements. It was, rather, for their continuance in the vital dairy field.

The law gives Benson the option to set dairy price supports for the year starting April 1 at a level from 75 to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a price level calculated to assure the farmer his fair share of the national income.

For the current year supports on dairy products had to 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a price level calculated to assure the farmer his fair share of the national income.

But, although this decision of course is pleasing to the farmers immediately concerned and may help to arrest a long decline in general farm prices, it also poses other problems acutely.

High support prices for butter, particularly, have encouraged production of an unmarketable surplus. The artificial props under butter prices have turned more and more housewives to margarine, which sells in many urban markets at a price 50 cents a pound cheaper than butter.

U. S. butter consumption has slipped from 10.7 pounds per person each year to 8.7 pounds, and still is dropping.

The result is that the butter producer is turning out record output—currently 35 per cent greater than last year—and finding no takers but the government. To maintain prices, the U. S. has been buying butter since November 30 at the rate of 1,000,000 pounds a day. It now holds some 85,000,000 pounds in storage. Much of this probably will be a total loss.

Obviously it is not sound economics to produce butter no one wants to buy. The net effects of the present policy are the steady discouragement of butter consumers who don't like high prices, and the wasteful piling up of butter stocks in federal warehouses.

Benson recognizes the weird unreality of the situation. He continued supports at 90 per cent to purchase time for thorough consideration of alternatives which will protect the dairy farmer without wasteful overproduction and further harm to the already sadly diminished butter market.

The dairy industry and the Agriculture Department must bend their efforts quickly to a full use of the time that has been so dearly bought. The farmer is not served for long by policies that spell production for the government's garbage heap.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Washington, March 16.—Although the most publicized part of Anthony Eden's visit was economic, the most significant part was an attempt to toped down what the British regard as our dangerous policy in the Far East.

The British foreign minister was not too happy with the result. He feels that Eisenhower's advisers are intent on doing something in the Far East just for the sake of doing that.

Some of what the President does is unimportant, some important. In the unimportant category, Ike calls his negro caddy, Willie Perette, "Cemetery," because a girl friend once carried him up in a tavern.

In the important category, Ike calls his negro caddy, Willie Perette, "Cemetery," because a girl friend once carried him up in a tavern.

Eden's view is shared by many career advisers in the State Department. They feel that recent Russian air bullying has been a deliberate warning that to can play at the game of "get tough," and that if we get tough in the Far East, Russia can get even tougher in Europe.

Here is a cross-section of mail from unhappy taxpayers flooding the Internal Revenue Bureau around March 15. As usual, there were indignant, tongue-in-cheek letters from Irish-Americans that the annual income-tax gouge was a "British plot" to spoil the celebration of St. Patrick's Day.

Governor Byrnes Believes Stalin Failed To Keep Promise He Made To Himself

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Russian Premier J. V. Stalin's health may have collapsed because he didn't follow a rule he had made for himself in 1945, according to former secretary of State, now Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

"On Christmas Eve in 1945," Governor Byrnes recalls, "Premier Stalin gave a dinner for British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin and me. It was during the Moscow conference. Members of the Politburo were the guests, and I sat next to the generalissimo.

"There had been several rumors on the state of Stalin's health. He had been to the Crimea for a rest. He was aware that the condition of his health had been misrepresented, but he was happy he had returned to his duties in excellent condition.

"I never heard that he proceeded to carry out that policy," Governor Byrnes declared. "He has been staying close to Moscow. What happened was only to be expected."

First State Department Employee: Have you heard about the new play that Ambassador to Italy Clare Boothe Luce is going to write?

Second SDE: No, what's it going to be about?

First SDE: It's going to be a sequel to "Call Me Madam."

Second SDE: Oh, that's so? What will she call it?

First SDE: "Call Me Madonna." A Kick For The Crowd

Robert M. McCurdy, chairman of the American Legion's National Rehabilitation Conference, acted as toastmaster for a big banquet, capping a meeting of his group in Washington. About 750 people were there, including all the big shots in veterans' affairs.

McCurdy introduced all the people at the head table, going straight down the line from one end to the other. When he got to Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers, Massachusetts Republican congresswoman who is chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, McCurdy paused and said: "I now come to a person who really needs no introduction to you—the 'Old Gray Mare' of veterans' affairs."

He paused, and a gasp of horror ran through the room. Not noticing that there was anything wrong, McCurdy then completed his sentence with: "... Ed Dudley, the Legion's national adjutant."

What toastmaster McCurdy had done was purposely skip Mrs. Rogers in his introductions because she was going to make a speech later.

When Mrs. Rogers was introduced later, she said with a smile: "For a minute I thought I was being called 'an Old Gray Mare.' And maybe some of you think so. But believe me, I've still got a lot of kick left."

Relieved of its embarrassment for her, the crowd in the banquet room howled with laughter and gave her a big hand.

Long Wait For Results Not much hope for any action on the big Eisenhower plan to eliminate duplication in federal and state tax laws can be expected before 1954—if then.

The present plan is to send a bill to Congress authorizing a special commission—like the Hoover commission on government reorganization—to study the matter. It can't possibly come up with any recommendations before next year.

Congress and the state legislatures then would have to pass laws on any recommended changes they proposed to put into effect. Forty-four of the state legislatures are meeting this year. Since most of them hold only biennial sessions, they won't meet again till 1955. So their changes couldn't go into effect before 1956.

'Firm' Hands On Helm The long-winded names of big law firms, mentioning all the partners, always are good for a laugh, but the Eisenhower Administration now has a "firm" name in charge of psychological warfare which tops them all. It is:

Dulles, Dulles, Jackson, Johnson, Johnson, Smith and McCordle.

The members are, of course, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles; his brother Alan Dulles, director of Central Intelligence; William H. Jackson, chairman of Psychological Strategy Board; C. D. Jackson (no relation); White House coordinator of psychological warfare; Robert L. Johnson, new head of the International Information program; Robert Cutler, White House administrative assistant; Undersecretary of State Walter B. Smith, and Assistant Secretary of State Walter B. Smith, and Assistant Secretary of State Carl W. McCordle.

Exemption For Mamas? There's sentiment growing in Capitol Hill in favor of a special tax exemption for professional women who have to hire baby sitters to take care of their families while mamas work. The arguments in favor of it are simple.

When a man who is the head of a family has to hire a secretary, he can deduct her salary as a business expense. So why shouldn't a wife and mother who works full time at an outside job be permitted to deduct expenses for maid, housekeeper or other kitchen mechanic who keeps home fires burning?

School Children Forgotten! Sorest note in the whole program to relieve falling meat prices was the proposal to have the government buy a lot of meat for the school lunch program. Nobody thought about this as something primarily good for the children. The whole idea was that it was something that would be good for the meat industry and the cattle raisers.

Department of Agriculture reports that 9,800,000 youngsters were given free lunches in 37,000 schools last year. This means that less than half of the school children got this benefit. In the whole U. S. there are 128,000 public elementary schools with an attendance of 22,000,000.

Only One Meaning Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet's Korea interview statement that "certainly" the Eighth Army could defeat the North Koreans got considerable modification when he got back to Washington.

Before congressional committees he explained that the question given him was triple-barreled and if he had answered it any other way it would have cast doubt on the fighting ability of UN forces. But any conclusion that a UN offensive would be successful now would be misleading, he explained.

A scheme to build a telegraph line across the Bering Strait to link America with the Asiatic land mass was abandoned in the 1860s when the Atlantic cable proved a success.

So They Say

I am certainly never going to admit that the Eighth Army could be defeated. An American Army has never been defeated and never will be. Those are my sentiments.

Gen. James A. Van Fleet, retired Eighth Army commander.

The existing systems of taxation, both at the federal and state levels, contain many gross inequalities insofar as the tax burden between citizens of different states is concerned.

President Eisenhower as quoted by Wisconsin Gov. Walter J. Kohler.

I guess I go back to my outfit in Korea. You have to go where they send you, I guess.

Pvt. Irwin Rietz, escorting body of his twin home from Korea.

I wish the Chinese Communist troops would come across the Yellow Sea. They would be leaving disaster.

Eighth Army Commander Maxwell D. Taylor.

A little clan of 30, including several women, lives in the ruins of San Francisco. Ish, the leader of the clan, has just learned that one of the group, because something seems to be wrong with the water supply.

I dunno. Here they had been for 21 years merely using water that continued to flow, and yet they had never given any real consideration to where the water came from. It had been a gift from the past, as free as air, like the cans of beans and bottles of catsup that could be had just by walking into a store and taking them from the shelves.

"This water must come from the old city water system, somewhere," Ish said. "Must have come. I mean, the old pipes are still there. I think the best thing for us to do would be to go up to the reservoir and see whether there is any water in that."

They went out and began calling the dogs, and getting ready to harness up the teams to the wagons.

The reservoir was only a mile away, but George suffered from the stiffness of age in his legs. Getting the dogs together and making ready always took time and Ish regretted that horse-taming had come to be a lost art.

Actually, the dogs were in many ways more convenient because they demanded little care, and fed on the less choice cuts of the cattle which could be killed easily in the surrounding country.

They left the dog teams at the foot of the final slope, and climbed up along the old path, breaking their way through thick blackberry bushes. They stood on the edge of the reservoir, and looked across its empty expanse. There was a little skim of water in two or three low spots, but the outlet-pipe stood up into the air. They took a long look, and it was Ezra who spoke at last: "That's that!"

Just at this point, a distinction between the older generation and the younger began to show itself. Ish, in spite of having been a geographer, could not have told off-hand where there was a single spring or dependable stream in the neighborhood, although he could still locate positions by names of streets and intersections. The youngsters, on the other hand, could quickly tell him where there was a stream of running water at this season of the year, or where there would be pools of water, or where there were springs. They could not locate these places by reference to streets, but they could go to them without hesitation. Ish suddenly found himself being instructed by his own son Walt, who assured him that at this season of year there would be running water in a little gully which Ish had scarcely ever noticed, because it flowed through under San Lupo Drive by means of a storm drain.

Before long, the original consternation changed to a kind of warm excitement. Some of the youngsters were sent off with the dog teams and some iron-galvanized cans to bring back water from the nearest spring. The older ones began to dig holes vigorously, and to set up outhouses.

The enthusiasm lasted for several hours, and resulted in a noticeable amount of work. By noon there was widespread complaint about blisters and weariness. When they separated for lunch, Ish became aware that no one was coming back for work.

LITTLE JOEY came, and stood nervously for a moment near him. "Don't we want to go out and work some more today?" he asked. "No, Joey. Not this afternoon." Joey continued balancing, letting his gaze wander around the room and then come back to his father. "Go along, Joey," said Ish gently. "Every thing's done! We'll have the lesson at the regular time." Joey went off, but Ish was touched, even if a little humiliated, by the wordless sympathy which his youngest son was offering. Joey scarcely could understand the larger issues, but his quick mind had sensed that his father had been no argument between him and the others. Yes, Joey was the one! (To Be Continued)

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Written for NEA Service The approach of the Eastern States Championships, which begin this weekend brings back a host of memories to most bridge players in the East. The tournament, one of the oldest in the history of Contract Bridge, has always attracted a strong field from all sections of was played at a normal contract of four spades. South won the opening diamond lead, cashed his remaining high diamonds, and led a low trump towards dummy's jack.

At some tables, West timidly put up the queen of spades. West would suit by the day by laying down the ace of clubs and continuing that suit, but this defense was never actually found. The West player usually took the queen of spades and shifted to hearts.

Now South could take the king of hearts, get to dummy with the jack of spades, and get two diamonds on dummy's diamonds to make sure of his game.

Strangely enough, at those tables where the West player was courageous enough to play low on the first round of trumps, the game contract was easily defeated even though West lost his queen of spades.

At these tables, dummy was able to win the first round of trumps with the jack. If a diamond was immediately returned from dummy, East still had a trump and could ruff. South did not have to lose a trump trick, but he could not use dummy's diamonds and therefore had to lose three hearts and a club eventually.

Some years ago, Notre Dame and SMU were playing in Dallas. The Irish scored and a man jumped up and whooped. In a little while, the Mustangs scored and the same man yelled as loud as before. Another spectator asked, "Which are you for, anyhow—the Methodist or the Catholics?" The other replied, "I'm just here to enjoy the game; I don't care who wins." The questioner sneered, "A durned atheist, huh?"

Strangely enough, at those tables where the West player was courageous enough to play low on the first round of trumps, the game contract was easily defeated even though West lost his queen of spades.

At these tables, dummy was able to win the first round of trumps with the jack. If a diamond was immediately returned from dummy, East still had a trump and could ruff. South did not have to lose a trump trick, but he could not use dummy's diamonds and therefore had to lose three hearts and a club eventually.

At many other tables, the hand was played at a normal contract of four spades. South won the opening diamond lead, cashed his remaining high diamonds, and led a low trump towards dummy's jack.

At some tables, West timidly put up the queen of spades. West would suit by the day by laying down the ace of clubs and continuing that suit, but this defense was never actually found. The West player usually took the queen of spades and shifted to hearts.

Now South could take the king of hearts, get to dummy with the jack of spades, and get two diamonds on dummy's diamonds to make sure of his game.

Basin Firm Installs Electrical Fixtures In Home Or Business

The Basin Electric Company, 306 North Weatherford Street, is now completely equipped to install any type of electrical fixtures desired in the home or business.

Theron A. Gambin, part owner of the business and active manager, reports that the firm recently completed electrical work in almost 200 houses built by the Commercial Construction Company in Midland.

One of the large jobs handled by the Midland firm of electrical contractors was the wiring of the new Fidelity Union Life Insurance Company.

Gambin said that free estimates and analysis of electrical needs are available at Basin Electric by dialing 2-2902. A trained man is sent out to compute the cost of necessary electrical wiring.

Basin Electric Company also has a display room equipped to show visitors at the main office any type of electrical fixtures desired.

A recent addition to the services of the firm is the supply of popular Vent-A-Hoods. They are used to cover kitchen ranges and aid in eliminating the annoyance of grease and smoke.

The Basin Electric Company is now working on three projects, each having more than 100 homes. They are True Enterprises, Inc., the Trusland Addition, and the Hays Construction Company project.

Another important stock item is the supply of tractor conversion kits for West Texas farmers, who have decided to convert their machines to clean, economical butane.

B. and B. also has the popular 5, 10, 15, and 20-gallon butane bottles, especially designed for trailer house use. All of them are ICC guaranteed.

Installation of butane tanks is an important job of B. and B. Butane Service in addition to the sale of butane fuel.

Experienced and trained personnel handles all the jobs done by B. and B. Homer Lanford and Frank Whitley do the installation work. Morris Snyder, Midland, and Horace Blocker, Supton, own the concern.

At present, the organization is open from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. each day except Sunday. But plans are underway to extend the hours in the near future—probably from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Free deliveries of butane fuel, in quantities of 100 gallons or more, anywhere in Midland County are provided by B. and B.

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, had made a little boat. He had whittled it from a piece of wood (with a knife) to look like a boat. Mugwump took the boat in his hand. Down he slid to the ground from the top of the very tall tree, there where he lives in the monkey house, right in the middle of the Great Forest. He hurried away up the Elephant Path. Soon Mugwump turned off to follow a little path that led away through the woods. He walked and he walked, and at last he stopped beneath a tree where a spring of water bubbled out from the ground. This was where the creek began—the creek that flows at last into the Whispering River. Mugwump watched the spring water. It gurgled and bubbled and splashed away down the creek in a big, rippling hurry. Mugwump looked at the little boat he had made. He held it up into the rushing water. He dropped it to see it go, and it went. Away it floated and bobbed along, as fast as the water would take it. Mugwump ran along the bank of the creek to follow. The little boat twisted and turned while it floated along. Now it was close to the bank where Mugwump ran. Now the current of the water took the little boat to the other side. But down, down, every down the creek, the little boat went. Now it raced through the rapids

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★
Strange, Rare Skin Disease Is Most Common In Women

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

With increasing frequency this column is receiving inquiries concerning a disease known as lupus erythematosus, which is commonly classified as a skin disorder even though it affects other parts of the body.

Lupus has been considered a rather rare disorder, but like others which may be uncommon for years, there always is a possibility that it will crop up more frequently as time goes by. Let us hope not.

Lupus erythematosus is a strange and peculiar disease which has been known for more than 80 years. As yet, however, the cause has not been discovered, nor is there a thoroughly satisfactory treatment, though the possibilities for treatment have looked up with the appearance of cortisone and ACTH.

The disease seems to act on a certain tissue of the body which is the binding substance for the blood vessels. This tissue is called collagenous tissue. It has been studied a good deal in recent years, but our knowledge of its functions and diseases is incomplete.

Weakness, fatigue and fever are common early signs of lupus. Unlike many diseases accompanied by fever, there is a low white-blood count—that is, a smaller than average number of white blood cells in the blood. Joint pains are fairly common. Although the skin symptoms have long been considered characteristic, they may not appear at first and sometimes the skin signs are completely absent.

Lupus erythematosus is much more common in women than in men. It may start in children as young as six or eight years old. Its diagnosis has been simplified by a rather new and ingenious laboratory test.

The fever and joint pains generally are improved by using drugs like aspirin which contain salicylates. The sulfa preparations, or at least one of them, may have some value also. Male hormones have been tried but have not been shown to have any definite effect on the course of the disease.

The skin of patients with lupus erythematosus is frequently sensitive to light and may have to be protected against the sun. ACTH and cortisone have brought some good results.

Treatments Are Tried
"Other kinds of treatments which have been tried include well-balanced diet, but not too much food. Adequate amounts of vitamins, particularly "B" and "C," have been recommended, but these do not appear to influence the underlying condition.

It is encouraging that lupus erythematosus now is receiving some concentrated study. This has been made possible in large part by the development of the rather new and quite accurate diagnostic test. Also, cortisone and ACTH have brought forth the possibility of new kinds of study of the disease, as well as treatment.

Mexicans Review Need Of Exploration

By LARRY STUNTZ

MEXICO CITY — Mexico's first convention of oil geologists met here recently with the question of finding new oil reserves the most important topic.

They agreed that Mexico should not rest until she has enough proven reserves for 50 years. The present reserve of roughly one billion and a half barrels is estimated to be enough for 20 years. Mexican production of crude runs around 78 million barrels a year. Mexico needs to increase production to satisfy growing industry at home and to provide oil for export.

Dedicated Surplus
Antonio Bermudez, head of Pemex, the government oil corporation, referred to expected growth in his keynote speech.

"We shall have to produce enough oil to meet the future necessities of this country," he said, "as our contribution to the development and flowering of our economic structure. Once we have filled our own country's needs, we shall have to count on producing a surplus dedicated to the industrialization of other countries of the world which are not oil producers."

Experts One Third
Mexico now exports about a third of her production. Most of it is bought by U. S. companies and sold outside the U. S.

The geologists in general agreed prospects are bright for increasing proved Mexican reserves. Guillermo P. Salas, president of the Mexican Oil Geologists' Association, said Mexico had 390,000 square miles of sedimentary rocks of a type capable of forming and holding oil.

Of this area, he added, only 61,000 square miles have been explored.

The First Dozen
Salas said this potential is even more impressive when it is considered that Venezuela, second largest oil producer in the world, only works an area of 136,000 square miles.

The association president said the group's growth had been satisfactory. It started with 12 men—the only Mexican oil geologists—in 1938 and now has more than 150 members. In addition, he said, oil geology courses at the National University and the Federal Polytechnic Institute are turning out graduates in satisfactory numbers.

Wages Criticized
There was some criticism of wages paid by Pemex to geologists. One of them said, during a discussion of oil prospecting as a career, that most Mexican geologists "are paid about the same as a stenographer."

The oil unions recently cooperated with Pemex and the government to open a new technical school in Tampico for training oil field workers. This is aimed primarily at forming a supply of lower-level technical men rather than highly trained specialists.

Similar Problems
Geologists from the U. S., Venezuela, Colombia and Peru—the major oil producing countries on the American continent—attended the meeting. Morgan J. Davis, president of the American Geological Association, was one of the principal speakers.

Davis told the Mexican group that many of its problems were similar to those of the U. S. He invited Mexican geologists to attend a meeting soon of the North American Association.

No Gas Market
Many of the technical papers dealt with the problem of natural gas. Mexico has far more than she can use and her gas reserves are estimated as equal to another 363 million barrels of oil if the gas could be used.

A few gas pipe lines have been built and the Monterrey industrial development is largely dependent on natural gas. There is also a pipe line to a refinery near Mexico City but this city of three million persons has no distribution system to use natural gas in factories and homes. Most houses use bottled gas. A large part of this is imported from the U. S.

Most primitive farming groups have magic or religious ceremonies which they practice in connection with their farming operations.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. —Acts 16:31.

Today's Message
Salvation is not the result of a single act, but of a continuing belief and trust in the grace of a loving Saviour. Through faith we hold on to Him, feeling assured that He will not fail us. Every venture in life demands faith, and the more important the undertaking, the greater the faith to be exercised. No wonder, then, that faith in religion surpasses all other faith, and carries us out beyond the tangible things of life into the realm of Divinity.

Faith, therefore, can do much to buoy us up in the dark hours of distress and grief, in sorrow and sickness, in bereavement and loss; but it should do more. It should become an integral part of the blood that courses through our bodies, an entwining vine about the tendril of our hearts and minds, and a vital, radiant note expressed in every word we utter.

Then in all the ever-broadening affairs of life, let us maintain a consecrated faith in God's goodness, love and devotion for us, and accept His plan as our plan and His will as our will. "If God be for us who can be against us?" should be sufficient for every need.

—CHET C. HENSON
First Methodist Church,
Corsicana, Texas

Today's Prayer
O Christ, the "Author and Finisher of our faith," the friend of the friendless, the comforter of those in sorrow, strength for the weak, salvation for all who believe and trust Thee, we commit ourselves anew into Thy keeping today. Amen.

SKATER, TWO, SKIDS FANCILY

ROCHESTER, N. Y. — Not only can two-year-old Bob Koster skate but he can even skate with one foot in the air and is in his second season on the rink.

Last season young Bob needed his father's help to get around on the Koster's backyard rink which features basic rinks from a record player in the house. But this Winter Bob has been on his own, using a 75-year-old pair of low-slung Dutch skates, say his parents who are both natives of Amsterdam, Holland.

"I guess it is kind of unusual, all right, but we've been skaters in this family as far back as we can remember," says Mrs. Koster.

Convict—

Sullivan arrested Jones at 12:30 a.m. in his room at a Houston hotel.

Jones gave skimpy details about his jail break years ago.

"I was in the same cell with two other fellows," he said. "When they broke out, I just followed the leader."

He then told of touring the West Coast, where he said he was arrested on several occasions "for general investigation."

He said he heard through an old friend that Nina, the girl he had known in Lubbock, was in Houston.

"I came here immediately," he said casually, "and learned that she was married. She got her divorce several months ago and we were married recently."
