Helmerich & Payne Stake Location For Borden Exploration

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., Tulsa, Okla., spotted location for a 10,250-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Central Borden County.

The project will be dug as No. 1 Dorrard, 330 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block 32, T-5-S, R-5-P survey.

It is six miles east and two miles north of the town of Gail.

Operations are to start at once.

German To Lecture On Regulation At Tuesday Meeting

W. P. Z. German of Perkins, German, Mims and Bell, Midland law firm, will be the next lecturer for the Tuesday night meeting sponsored by the Permian Basin Landman's Association and the Midland Scout Association.

German will talk on "State Regulation of Oil or Gas Production."

The lecture will start at 7:30 p. m. in the Midland High School Cafeteria. This will be the fifth such meeting sponsored by the above groups.

Argo Wildcat In C-W Ward Flows Some New Oil

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1 John Olson, Central-West Ward County wildcat, seven miles northeast of Barstow had flowed some new oil from the Delaware sand through perforations at 5,011-35 feet.

That section had been fractured with 3,000 gallons.

After the fracturing the well was opened up and it flowed for several hours at the average rate of 2 1/2 barrels of fluid per hour. Some of that fluid was new oil and some of it was load oil and fracture residue.

The wildcat was then shut-in overnight. When it was opened up it started flowing again by heads and averaged 2 3/4 barrels of fluid per hour. That fluid was cut with 10 per cent water. Some of the remainder was new oil and some of it was still from the fracturing operation.

CPC-Union Get Oil Flow In San Andres At Ector Venture

Cities Production Corporation and Union Oil Company of California No. 1-E Cross, South-Central Ector County wildcat, eight miles southwest of Odessa flowed oil from the San Andres-Permian lime at the estimated rate of 20 barrels per hour.

The flow came in a driftestest at 4,267-4,337 feet. The tool was open 35 minutes. Gas surfaced in four minutes. The gas volume was not gauged or estimated.

Drilling mud flowed out at the top in 35 minutes and oil started flowing in 40 minutes. The oil was flowed to the pits for 15 minutes through a five-eighths inch bottom hole choke. That flow was estimated to have been at the rate of 20 barrels per hour.

After the tool was closed a full string of drill pipe of oil was re-vented out. There were no signs of formation water. Gravity of the oil was 30.7 degrees.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 635 pounds and 1,025 pounds. Shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 1,465 pounds.

The project is now circulating while waiting on orders. It probably will run casing and complete from the shallow pay. Top of the San Andres is at 4,238 feet. That is on a datum of minus 1,177 feet.

Presidential Primary Gets Airing

Taft Says Ike Stands Firmly Behind Bohlen

WASHINGTON —(P)— Senator Taft (R-Ohio) reported Monday that President Eisenhower is standing pat on his nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen to be ambassador to Russia.

Taft, the Senate majority leader, and Chairman Wiley (R-Wis) of the Foreign Relations Committee had a private meeting with Eisenhower after the regular Monday morning conference of GOP congressional leaders with the President.

Afterward, Taft told newsmen there had been "no change" in the position of the President, Wiley or himself on the controversial nomination.

"We are going right ahead with it," Taft said. He added that Senate debate would get under way later in the day.

The nomination has been under fire by GOP Senators McCarthy of Wisconsin and Bridges of New Hampshire. It also has been criticized sharply by Democratic Senator McCarran of Nevada.

Johnston Predicts Victory
McCarran said he has a "chestful" of information for his colleagues about Bohlen, and McCarthy was asking for a delay in a show-down vote. Both have demanded closer scrutiny of an FBI security checkup on the appointee's background.

Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, predicted a substantial majority of his party members will join with most of the Republicans to confirm Bohlen. Taft, the Republican leader, said he won't demand a vote Monday, but indicated he wants action by midweek at the latest.

Influence Peddler On Trial For Perjury

WASHINGTON —(P)— E. Merle Young, linked by investigating senators with "a web of influence" in the lending activities of the RFC, was called to trial Monday on perjury charges.

Young's rise from a job as a $34-a-week government messenger before World War II to a $7,500 job as an RFC examiner and finally highly paid jobs with two of its borrowers, featured the Senate investigation two years ago.

So did his wife's $9,450 pastel mink coat.

The financing of the coat—Young said he borrowed the money for it—got almost as much attention as some of the biggest RFC financial operations.

Young, 40, who lives in Florida, is accused of testifying falsely four times during the investigation.

Standby Controls Vital, Says Baruch

WASHINGTON —(P)— Bernard M. Baruch said Monday that it was crucial for standby controls, which were prepared to clamp on immediate economic controls, "there will not be a person alive who will not bitterly rue this tragic needless regret."

Urging that the Administration and Congress get together on a standby economic controls law—or that Congress do it alone if necessary—the New York financier and adviser to Presidents said: "The next war—and all of us pray that it will be avoided—is likely to explode in a big smash. Cities may be all but obliterated. Who knows where Congress will be..."

"You face a simple issue," Baruch said in a statement to the Senate Banking Committee. "Are we to take the elementary precaution of writing into law now what we know would have to be done in event of emergency?"

"Or shall we neglect this vital measure of defense and, in doing so, increase the risk of war, add to the toll of dead and wounded if it does come and make inflation certain—all needlessly?"

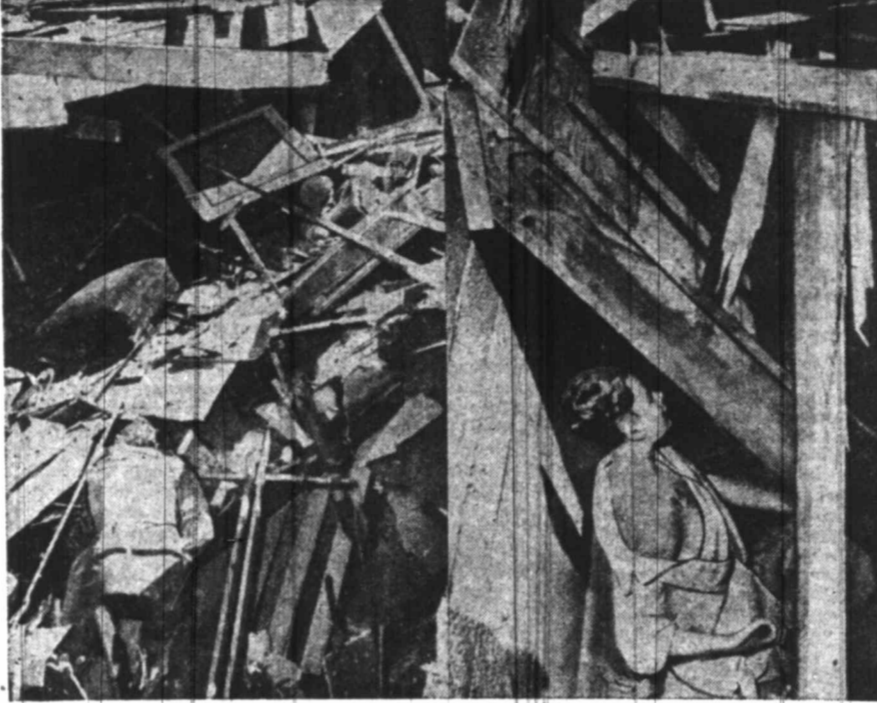

Baruch had been invited to give his views to the Senate committee, which is considering various legislative proposals for some sort of standby controls law.

Present authority for wage-price controls and allocations of scarce materials is due to expire presently on April 30 and June 30. President Eisenhower has said that except for allocations power and rent ceilings in critical areas, he will ask neither for their continuance nor for standby authority. Eisenhower already has decontrolled wages and prices.

Chairman Caphart (R-Ind) of the Senate banking group has been planning for standby authority to freeze prices, wages and rents for 90 days after the start of a declared emergency.

WASHINGTON —(P)— The Labor Department asked Congress Monday for a one-year extension of the law under which Mexicans are brought into the U. S. to work on farms. The law is due to expire December 31.

West Texans Honor Wemple, Greet Formby As Successor

Fred A. Wemple—Midland's big, genial, pipe-smoking Fred Wemple, who has traveled more than a quarter million miles into every part of Texas during the last six years—came back home Monday.

For half a dozen years, he had served his state as a member of the Texas Highway Commission, a part of the time as its chairman.

During those years, he helped supervise the spending of more than $470,000,000 for new roads and $147,000,000 repairing and maintaining old ones.

But Monday his job was done and he came back home to his private business.

And Midland and West Texas turned out almost 300-strong at a luncheon in Hotel Scharbauer to welcome him back and wish success to his successor, Marshall Formby, of Hereford.

There were county judges and county commissioners, chambers of commerce presidents and secretaries, civic leaders and ordinary private citizens—all on hand to pay their respects to Wemple and Formby.

John P. Butler, immediate past chairman of the Highway Committee of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Texas Good Roads Association, introduced the delegation from out of the city.

They included groups from Kermit, Brownfield, Stanton, Hereford, Lamesa, Seminole, Abilene, Andrews, Call, Lubbock, Big Springs, Plains, Sterling City, Robert Lee, San Angelo, Sanderson, Pecos, Fort Stockton, Littlefield, Crane, Plainview, Brownfield, Monahans, Colorado City and Denver City.

Thornton, thanking Wemple for his services and welcoming Formby to the commission, was introduced by former State Senator H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton.

Then Butler, in recognizing Wemple for his contribution to West Texas in particular, presented him with a plaque which read:

"In appreciation to Fred A. Wemple for six years of outstanding services as a member and chairman of the State Highway Commission of Texas. . . Presented by the Midland Chamber of Commerce of the people of West Texas . . . March 23, 1953."

Finance Campaign For Midland YMCA To Begin Tuesday

Midland's first YMCA finance campaign will be launched bright and early Tuesday when scores of volunteer workers take to the streets to obtain funds with which to finance the operation of the new organization during its first year.

The goal is $20,000, which corresponds to the YMCA's budget for 1953-54.

John Ashmun, general campaign chairman, said the goal is expected to be subscribed promptly through the sale of charter memberships to both men and women.

Campaign committee chairmen are: Paul Davis, special gifts; Robert E. Dickey, corporate gifts; William C. Osborn, office buildings; Bill Chancellor, Jr., retail business establishments; H. F. Ezell, club publicity; and Dr. R. Luther Kirk, church cooperation. Curt Inman is in charge of general publicity.

Leaders hope to complete the drive by the end of this week.

Persons missed by the solicitors are invited to mail their contributions to the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

Midlanders Look At Voting Machine, Cast Sample Ballots

Midland got its first official peek Monday at the type of voting machine which may be used in the future for holding elections.

The machine was installed in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer and will be on display the next two weeks.

It is machine-made by the Automatic Voting Machine Company, one of two first which has submitted proposals to the Midland County Commissioners Court.

Senate Takes Up Bill Aimed At 'Boss Rule'

AUSTIN —(P)—The Senate began debate Monday on a bill designed to end rump political delegations and stacked "boss-ruled" conventions.

It is a measure by Senator Jimmy Phillips, Angleton, to permit voters to say in primaries who they want for presidential candidates of the various parties.

The bill is an outgrowth of power politics and "boss rule" charges hurled after last Summer's stormy presidential conventions.

The Senate voted 26-6 to take up the Phillips bill.

Phillips said he had letters supporting his measure from people all over the state who had been kicked out of precinct, county and state conventions.

"They recommend Texas adopt the presidential primary," the senator said.

The Phillips bill provides for a presidential primary on the second Saturday in June each year. A president is to be elected. Delegates would be elected by districts, with some to be named state-wide.

An amendment by Senator Abe Kazen, Laredo, to strike out election of delegates was defeated by a 16-14 vote.

House Passes Item
Kazen warned the Senate: "When you start electing delegates you're going to run into trouble. It would take away every bit of power your conventions have now."

"Let the people decide who they want to support for presidential nominees and then bind the delegates elected by conventions as they are now."

Despite Kazen's protest, the bill was approved on second reading by voice vote. It still must be approved on final reading, however, before it can be sent to the House.

The House adopted and sent to the Senate a resolution calling for study and codification of the public school laws.

Byrnes Denies Hiss Established Policy

WASHINGTON —(P)— James F. Byrnes said Monday he alone was responsible for the policy, when he was secretary of State, that the State Department would make no recommendations as to Americans applying for jobs with the UN.

In a letter to a House Judiciary subcommittee, Byrnes denied specifically that Alger Hiss had anything to do with formulating this policy.

Byrnes, now governor of South Carolina, was secretary of State from July, 1946, to January, 1947. Hiss, an employee of the State Department during this time, has since been convicted of perjury for denying he passed secret information to a Communist spy ring.

Byrnes said his policy decision was reached in the light of conditions "as they then existed."

Violent Storms Skip Basin Area

Turbulent weekend weather in other parts of Texas Sunday failed to disturb the pattern in the Permian Basin area Monday.

Partly cloudy skies were expected to clear late Monday afternoon with winds up to 12 miles an hour. Temperatures were expected to stay Tuesday within Monday's range of from 41 to 70 degrees. A respite was seen from blowing sand.

A minor tornado churned winds which sank three Texas boats Sunday.

The twister dipped into a rural area nine miles north of Marshall Sunday, destroying a barn and damaging another. Heavy rain fell at Carthage, where a tornado did $30,000 damage in a residential section 10 days ago.

Waves churned up by high winds on Womack's Lake north of Paris sank two fishing boats and a rescue craft. All six occupants reached safety, however.

Gusty northerly winds blew dust and a few light showers fell elsewhere in the state.

Tornadoes inland areas of Arkansas, Louisiana, Alabama and Tennessee.

Near Leesville, La. Sgt. Harold Gomez of Camp Polk was killed when wind slammed a tree across his automobile. Nine towns and communities were struck by high winds and small tornadoes during the afternoon.

Lufkin had 70 inch of rain, Dallas 56, Fort Worth 16, San Antonio 33, College Station 31, Beaumont 13, and Mineral Wells and Tyler each a trace. Dust lowered visibility at Dallas, Waco, Big Spring, Lubbock and El Paso.

Shepperd Urges Cooperation Among State Police Agencies

AUSTIN —(P)— "The rats of crime would flee like gophers from a bulldozer" if Texas law enforcement officers would band together, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said Monday.

Keynoting an annual conference of local, state and federal officers and prosecutors, Shepperd stoutly endorsed a proposed state department of justice.

The department's first job would be rooting out "criminals and political racketeers who seem to be bigger than the law in certain counties," he said. But he expressed concern over this method. "We might be building a cannon to shoot a few squirrels."

Maybe the question ought to go into a constitutional amendment, Shepperd suggested. "In any case, we must devise the means to make crime not only unpopular, unprofitable and dangerous, but suicidal."

The attorney general's audience included more than 200 Texas crime stoppers here for a two-day conference to seek ways to plug enforcement loopholes.

Officers must use modern means to catch modern criminals, Shepperd indicated. "Crime is organized. It is educated. It is no longer merely committed—it is engineered . . ."

Any criminal can flee hundreds of miles from the scene of the crime within a few hours, the speaker pointed out.

"The peace officer must stay within the law by keeping within the . . . area of his jurisdiction." Besides, Shepperd stated, the officer must stay within his budget.

Backers of the centralized state justice department don't want to take away local officers' independence, the attorney general said.

"They hope to establish an agency that will stand under local authority to bolster them, not one that will stand over them and dominate."

Spiritual Diary for Lent

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.—Matthew 7:7.

Today's Message
It is significant that the disciples, after seeking the evidences of their Master's power, asked not for the grace of miracle-working but approached Him with the request that He teach them to pray. The sermon on the Mount had much to say about the prayer life. Our text is illustrative of the three-fold approach which the soul can make to the Father. Here is a three-fold way of praying:

Ask! This is the gate that is used most frequently. Nowhere is there any condemnation of this way of prayer. Rather it is commended, though naturally this is not the whole of prayer. Seek! The questing soul is the one who is ready to plunge through hardships and failure to achieve the goal of his search. The spirit of the student, the pioneer, enters by this gate. Honest doubters are men who use this portal of prayer. Knock! Here is the hardest gateway of grace. It opens only after long and repeated knocking. Impurity is condemned by Jesus; storming the gates of Heaven has been the practice of many noble saints. As one of Lloyd Douglas' characters puts it, "The one who really prays must have bloody knuckles."

Ask, Seek, Knock—these are the gates of grace; through these portals we go up together, Christians all over the world, to pray to our God through Jesus Christ.

It's Politics, Mr. Wilson

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson was caught by reporters the other day with his secretarial defenses down. It wasn't exactly a press conference. Some fellows just chased after Wilson as he dashed from a plane to his limousine.

He tossed several "no comment" replies over his shoulder as he sprinted for his car. Nothing new about that, especially for a man still fairly green at his job.

What the reporters said in reply, either to Wilson or to themselves, is not recorded. But if they didn't do it, somebody ought to tell the secretary.

Mr. Wilson, you are not in business now. You are the presiding officer over the biggest single subdivision of the federal government, both in terms of people employed and money spent.

In this role you are a public servant of high importance. Your responsibility is no longer just to the stockholders, the workers and the customers of General Motors. It is to 158,000,000 Americans.

They naturally are inclined to get curious about their government. Things puzzle them and they like to get straight. Reporters are their spokesmen, as are the members of Congress. When matters plague them, they wish to find their government officers responsible.

You cannot run the Defense Department like an executive trying to keep competitors from learning your trade secrets. Except for legitimate security matters, you have no secrets from the American people.

Despite all the hullabaloo about President Eisenhower's "business cabinet," the fact is we've seldom been without quite a number of businessmen in high posts. But each must in his individual turn show he is capable of understanding the difference between the limited concerns of a business corporation and the widely spread activities of any major government agency.

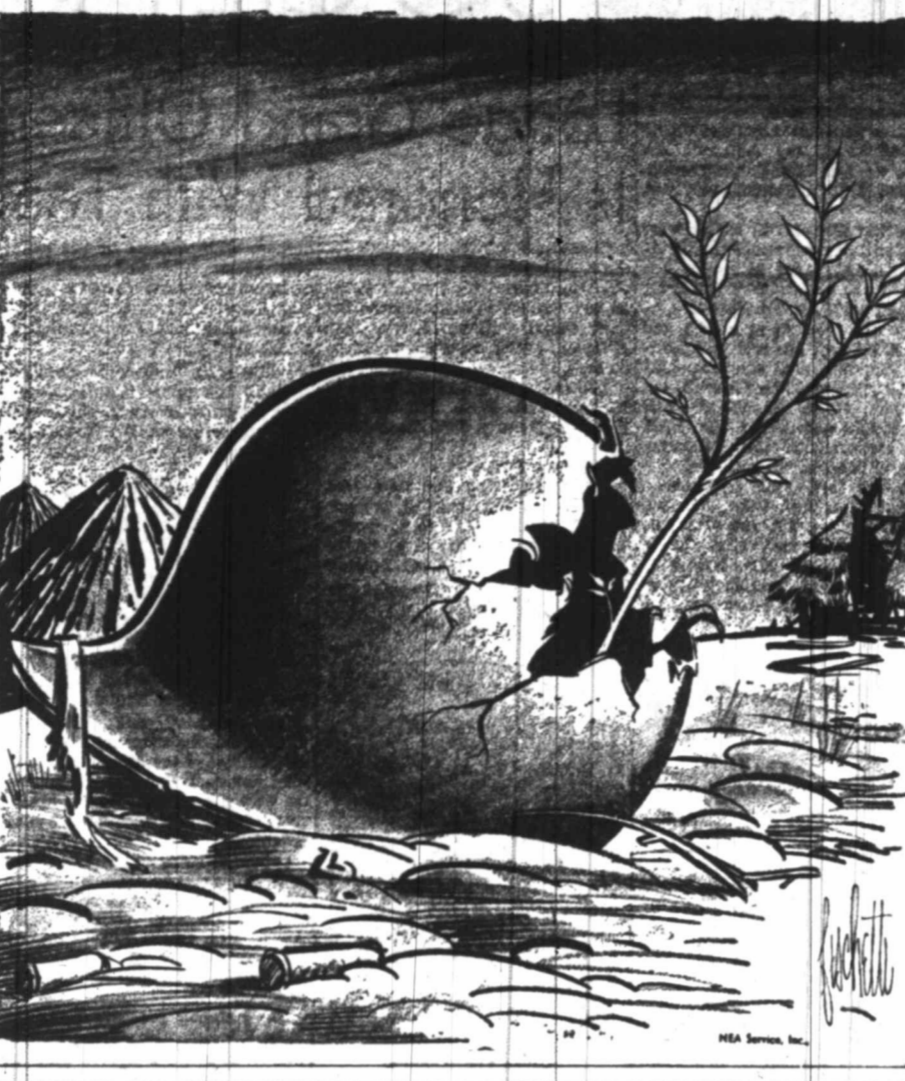

When you take a government job, Mr. Wilson, you are in politics whether you like it or not. You have to pay heed to the people, for in the last analysis they put you there. And you have to learn to see your problems both as the President sees them and as the ordinary district congressman sees them.

The Defense Department is not just another corporation. It is a whole new world. And the public doesn't give a man forever to find his way about in it.

The successful wise man knows he thinks—the fool just thinks he knows.

The man who hunts trouble is pretty sure to find it, says a police judge. Not if it's in the wife's washing machine.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Top Republicans clash over Capitol Hill cocktailing; like guides tourists too far afield; Defense Chief Wilson working hard against odds.

WASHINGTON—It has just bubbled to the surface, but two top Republicans got into a bitter, backstage wrangle last week over "hard liquor" being served in the Capitol Building. They were Congressmen John Saylor of Pennsylvania, who wanted to throw a "buffet supper" for his mother, and A. L. (Doc) Miller of Nebraska, who called it a "cocktail party" and stopped it on the excuse that highballs would be served.

What caused the ruckus was Saylor's plan to use the House Interior Committee room for his get-together. As a sub-chairman of this committee, Saylor made all the arrangements at his own expense and sent out invitations to committee members.

Among those invited was the committee's crotchety chairman, "Doc" Miller, who has been conducting a running feud with his fellow Republican sub-chairman, Miller promptly tumbled to House Speaker Joe Martin about the cocktail party, then wrote Saylor an amazing letter threatening to "expose" him.

Miller's letter never was meant to be published. However, here is what he wrote: "I have your invitation to attend a 'little party' in the committee room... on March 19. I want to call your attention to the recent conversation between us... when you asked if you could have the use of the committee room for a party. I said in effect that if hard liquor was to be served, I would not give that consent or be responsible for such a party. You replied in effect, 'Doc, what is a party without a highball?'"

Miller and Saylor... Miller continued triumphantly. "I know they agree with me that the committee room should not be used for so-called cocktail parties... I am assuming you are using the room for a social get-together minus hard liquor," the letter went on. "If such is not the case, you do not have my permission to use the committee room. If the room is used in violation of this letter, I would expect to take the case to the floor of the House for an airing. The resulting publicity could cut two ways."

Ike's Tour... A little incident which happens in the home of almost every married couple—even presidential couples—happened in the White House recently. The President was conducting a group of congressmen through the White House and took them off the customary tour to give them a special look at his own personal quarters upstairs.

These consist of a sitting room, with a couple of bedrooms attached. Ike, who gets along with the Democrats almost better than with the Republicans, took the group up to the door of the sitting room and started in.

Suddenly there was a feminine shriek. Inside was Mamie in a black negligee. She started first lady rushed into the bedroom, like grinned, and decided he'd better stick to the routine sight-seeing tour of his new home in the future.

Perspiring Defense Boss... The man who is getting the most backstage brickbats in Washington but probably deserves the most sympathy is ex-General Motors boss Charles E. Wilson, perspiring, and severing secretary of Defense. Starting out with two big strikes against him, the opposition of Congress and part of the public, Wilson now has another strike against him—the opposition of the brass hats. But he probably deserves the support of Congress and the public as of today.

In today's hand South has a perfectly sound opening bid of two in a suit. When a forcing two bid is used, the requirements are: (a) at least 23 points, with at least 15 points in high cards; and (b) unbalanced distribution to avoid suit, a singleton, or two doubletons. In this case, South has 22 points in high cards alone, with two for the Bridge hand diagram showing North and South hands with suits and card counts. North: ♠ 10 9 5 4 2, ♥ 3, ♦ 10 6 5 3, ♣ 8 5 2. South: ♠ A K J 7 6 3, ♥ 9 2, ♦ Q 2, ♣ K J 10. Opening lead—♠ K.

singleton, and something extra for the length in the very solid heart suit. Although the opening bid of two hearts is perfectly sound, South's second bid of four hearts is very unwise.

South must pass the bid of three spades around to his partner. If North wants a double (as he certainly would in this case), well and good. If North cannot double, he will be obliged to make some bid. He cannot pass, because South has opened with a forcing bid of two in a suit.

In other words, South cannot lose by passing the bid of three spades around to North. If he does so, North will double in this case and East will be set three tricks for a penalty of 600 points.

When South bids four hearts he rescues his opponents from the trap and dives right in to take their place. At the contract of four hearts, South must lose a spade, a diamond, two clubs, and a trump. It is true that this loss is offset by South's honors, but these do not compensate him for losing the chance to collect 500 points from his opponents.

CARD Sense... Q—The bidding has been: North 1 Heart, East 1 Spade, South 1 Spade, West 3 Spades. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-7-5-3, Hearts K-5-4, Diamonds 8-6, Clubs A-J-3. What do you do?

JAYCEE CANDIDATE... BAYTOWN —P—The past president of the Baytown Junior Chamber of Commerce, Thomas E. Cook, will be a candidate for president of the Texas Jaycees in their state convention in Corpus Christi April 23-25.

New Type Labor Law Study Is One Answer To T-H Puzzle

By PETER EDSON, NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's campaign promise to revise the Taft-Hartley labor law now is bogged down in what appears to be another hopeless political deadlock.

The Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947—otherwise known as the Taft-Hartley Law—has been given a bad name by the unions. Something with a new name might remove part of the confusion in the public mind as to whether it's a good or bad law.

Ex-Rep. Fred Hartley of New Jersey now is out of government. He has no claim to having his name connected with a new labor law. Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio still is very much in government and quite anxious to have his name connected as the author of the law.

Senator Taft therefore has offered a series of amendments to his old law. They stand a fair chance of being approved by the Senate. They aren't even being considered by the House of Representatives.

On the House side of the Capitol, Rep. Samuel K. McConnell, Jr., of Pennsylvania, is new chairman of the Committee on Education and Labor. He wants to make a name for himself. His committee therefore is conducting an exhaustive investigation with the object of writing a new and better labor law.

Testimony before the McConnell committee thus far has been in complete conflict. Union labor leaders want everything changed in the Taft-Hartley law except perhaps the preamble. National Association of Manufacturers, U. S. Chamber of Commerce and other employer groups and individual employers want the restraints on labor in the Taft-Hartley law made even stronger.

The result of this 100 per cent difference in self-interest testimony has been complete confusion for fair-minded congressmen. But even if the McConnell committee does succeed in writing a new law, and even if the House passes it, the Senate probably will reject it.

This Capitol Hill stalemate is made a three-cornered affair by the breakdown of Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin's 15-member advisory committee downtown. This group was supposed to come up with what would be the Eisenhower Administration's recommendations on labor law revision.

But the committee now has recessed—perhaps permanently—after holding only one meeting in which it never even got around to discussing the first and least controversial item on its agenda.

What fouled up the Durkin committee was a long argument over how its 15 members were to vote on recommendations. The five labor members would support the union point of view. The labor members therefore proposed that all decisions be by majority vote.

The five management members would support the employer point of view. So the management team voted against majority decisions. Actually, there was no reason to conclude that the five public members would vote as a bloc on any

A kind-hearted man who was rich was driving through the country. He saw a sad-looking man sitting outside his house. With the furthest pried all around him. The rich man handed him a $20-bill and said, "They've ejected you for getting behind in the rent, eh?" "It's worse than that—my ol' woman is doin' the Spring house-cleanin'" was the reply.

A FOOLER... Greenland is only about one-third as large as Australia but, on a flat map of the world, Australia is only one-third the size of Greenland.

THEY were former Conciliation Service Director Cyrus S. Ching and Professors Sumner Slichter of North Carolina, Paul A. Dodd of California and Jean T. McKeel of Cornell. They probably would have voted with management as often as with labor.

But with the collapse of this effort, leaving the Eisenhower Administration without any recommendations, the question is what to do next? There are two principal ideas kicking around Washington.

One is to do nothing. As Ching told the AFI in Los Angeles a year ago, the Taft-Hartley law probably isn't as bad as the unions say it is, nor as good as employers say it is. The country now is rocking along all right with high employment and a minimum of industrial strife. So let the law alone.

The other idea is to take this subject completely out of the hands of the principal disputants in the act, who are the employer and the employee representatives. Tackle the thing purely as a public-interest proposition for a change.

Set up a small commission of, say, two or three fair-minded senators and a like number of representatives. Put with them four or six public representatives of broad experience and some knowledge of industrial relations. Let them study this whole subject of labor legislation for a time, and see what they come up with. But keep union labor and management representatives out of it.

This new approach has the backing of some of the most experienced people in labor mediation and conciliation. They cannot now be identified because they presently are involved in other phases of the current controversy. But if their plan is given the nod by the Eisenhower Administration, they are prepared to go to bat for it.

When you take a government job, Mr. Wilson, you are in politics whether you like it or not. You have to pay heed to the people, for in the last analysis they put you there.

When he stepped into the Defense Department, Wilson found things just about as bad as indicated by some of the newspaper headlines on the armament shoring.

When it was revealed by this column that Congress had millions of dollars being wasted by duplicate buying between the Army, Navy, and Air Force, Lovett waited three months before issuing an order to iron out this duplication.

These were some of the things Wilson discovered when he stepped into the Defense Department. He also found that the much vaunted unification program was not working.

Los Angeles Honors Top-Ranking Jet Ace

SAN FRANCISCO—(P)—The nation's top jet ace probably will fly to his home in McKinney, Texas, Tuesday or Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Col. Royal N. Baker, with a record of 12 Communist MIG kills in Korea, and his wife went to Los Angeles Monday for a big civic welcome.

He returned here Saturday after 10 months and 127 missions in Korea.

The couple was to have luncheon at the North American Aviation Plant, makers of the Sabre jets. Then Baker will be honored with a ticker-tape parade through downtown Los Angeles, to the City Hall and given the key to the city. Later he will attend a reception at the Ambassador Hotel and take part in radio and TV interviews.

The Bakers may leave for McKinney Tuesday or Wednesday to be welcomed by their four children, ages two to eight, but he expects to receive final word in Los Angeles from Air Force headquarters at Washington on the exact time of departure.

Repatriated Japs Talk Red Doctrine

MAIZURU, JAPAN—(P)—A second repatriation ship, Takasago Maru, arrived Monday from Shanghai with 1,959 Japanese nationals stranded in China since the end of World War II.

The first group of 2,009 men, women and children arrived in a pelting rain early Monday from Chinwangtao, Manchuria, aboard the Koan Maru.

By mid-Summer, some 25,000 Japanese—some held as long as 15 years—are scheduled to be returned from China.

Swarms of newsmen who boarded the Koan Maru Monday from fishing launches heard conflicting stories of life in Communist China. Some returnees wept for joy at the sight of their homeland. Others defiantly spouted Red propaganda.

However, Mayor Tasuo Sagane of Maizuru, who met the ship, said the passengers were the most orderly group yet to arrive at this huge repatriation center from a Communist country.

Some repatriates talked freely. Others glowered, close-mouthed. A few shoved and pushed the only two Americans in the press party.

Some described Red China as a paradise; others told of being driven at pistol point to work in Communist factories.

Almost all said Red China was conducting a successful war against germs and flies.

Republican Faction Discusses Possibility Of Removing Roberts

WASHINGTON—(P)—Some Republicans are discussing the possibility of replacing C. Wesley Roberts with a "big name" chairman of the GOP National Committee.

This suggestion has come primarily from associates of Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) but also is being discussed privately by national committee members who are friends of Roberts and were prenomination backers of President Eisenhower.

Roberts became GOP chairman after the November election, succeeding Arthur E. Summerfield, who became postmaster general.

Roberts has been under fire in Kansas for his part in the 1951 sale of a fraternal insurance organization's building to the state. The national chairman said he got an $11,000 fee for public relations work in the $110,000 sale but denied he lobbied among legislators for it.

Roberts, a former Kansas Republican state chairman and an early worker in the Eisenhower presidential campaign, has accused a Kansas City Star reporter of distorting the story of his fee.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Old MacDonald And The Purple Cow

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was almost ready to go to sleep. He was safe and sound and snug in bed, right there in his very own room, up in Daddy Ringtail's monkey house.

Mugwump turned out the light, and then he said to himself some words that a man once had said. Mugwump didn't know why he said the words. He didn't know why he thought about them. But suddenly he said: "I never saw a purple cow. I never hope to see one; but I can tell you, anyhow, I'd rather see that one."

"Humph!" said Mugwump to himself. "I wonder why the man never saw a purple cow."
"Because," said Daddy Ringtail, who had suddenly come in to say goodnight, "because, Mugwump, there aren't any purple cows to see."

Well now, and Mugwump understood. Since there aren't any purple cows of course the man had never seen one. Since there aren't any purple cows, of course the man never hoped to see one. But why would the man rather see than be one?

Mugwump didn't know why. "Daddy Ringtail," said he, "why would the man rather see a purple cow than be one?"
Daddy Ringtail said he didn't

The 20th Century began Jan. 1, 1901, not 1900, as is often assumed. The first century would have covered only 99 years if the 19th Century ended Dec. 31, 1899.

More Than Half Of Texans Wage Or Salary Workers

FORT WORTH—Figures just released by the Census Bureau reveal that 68.5 per cent of employed persons in the State of Texas in 1950 were private wage and salary workers. James H. Milton, district supervisor at Fort Worth, said 9.8 per cent of employed persons in the state were government workers, 19.7 per cent were self-employed workers and 2.0 per cent were unpaid family workers.

These percentages compare with national figures of 71.2 per cent of employed persons who were private wage and salary workers, 9.8 per cent government workers, 17.1 per cent self-employed workers, and 2.0 per cent unpaid family workers.

For the nation, the proportion of self-employed workers in 1950 ranged from 35 per cent or more in North Dakota, South Dakota and Mississippi, to 10 per cent or less in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. The factor mainly responsible for this wide difference is the relatively great number of farmers in the Dakotas and Mississippi as opposed to the concentrations of craftsmen, operatives and non-farm laborers in industrialized Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Government workers, who constituted about 10 per cent of the employed for the nation as a whole, were of greatest relative importance in the West. Close to 13 per cent of all employed persons in the West worked for some branch of government, federal, state, or local. Utah was the highest of the 48 states with almost 17 per cent. Connecticut, with 7 per cent, stood lowest.

GEN. MAXWELL TAYLOR, present Korea commander: "There is no shortage. We frequently don't use our entire allocations."

GEN. J. LAWTON COLLINS, Army Chief of Staff: "There has always been a sufficient supply to carry on the United Nations operations."

ROBERT T. STEVENS, Army secretary: "I arranged for a loan of some 685,000 rounds of 105-mm. ammunition from the Marine Corps."

LT. COL. GARNETT DICK, former artillery officer: Ammunition in Korea is wasted in "a steady round of 'shows' for visiting dignitaries."

Van Fleet Says Army Held In Check By Ammo Shortage

GEN. JAMES VAN FLEET, retiring Korea commander: "There is today a serious shortage of some types of ammunition in Korea."

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Some sentiment for a more aggressive strategy in the deadlocked Korean War was evident, Monday among senators who heard Gen. James A. Van Fleet detail his complaints that American forces there don't have enough ammunition.

Van Fleet, recently retired after almost two years as Allied field commander in Korea, called for harder-hitting attacks on the Reds. But he said he doubts United Nations forces have enough ammunition to repel any major offensive the Communists might mount.

"Sure, if there is a sitdown and no fighting," Van Fleet said, "there is no ammunition requirement; therefore, no shortage."

But, he added, "Should the enemy start something, which is unpredictable, then do we have enough to meet his offensive, and I say 'No.'"

Van Fleet said stocks were so low at times that he issued orders to cut down on artillery fire, and that the troops "have to be in trouble in order to shoot" the heavier mortar and howitzers.

General Speaks Out

The general spoke out in testimony heard by the Senate Armed Services Committee behind closed doors earlier this month. A transcript, with security information deleted, was made public by the committee Sunday night.

Senator Symington (D-Mo), former secretary of the Air Force, asked Van Fleet if he thought "our pilots should have the right of 'hot pursuit' across the Yalu?"

"I certainly do," the general replied.

"So do I," said Symington.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt) suggested at one point that the ammunition supplies may have been used as "a leash" to keep Van Fleet from attacking.

Saying the "bloody stalemate" is an outrageous position, Flanders said: "Let us do something now."

Van Fleet replied he favors "having it out with Russia, and I mean an understanding with Russia; I hope a peaceful understanding. I do not mean a shooting war."

Sitdown War Policy

Senator Case (R-SD) said the committee hearings proved that "we have a sitdown policy in the Korean War" and he added: "The American people are getting sick and tired of this kind of a situation."

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff who testified at the same hearings, conceded there had been shortages of some types of ammunition in Korea but he said in his judgment "there is enough ammunition in Korea, in the hands of the troops to protect our men, no matter whether they are attacked or not, and to carry out the type of operation that the Army commander is now authorized to carry out."

"It appears to me, than Gen. Van Fleet, feels he did not have enough ammunition to do what he would like to have done," Collins said.

"It is the point of view of the people in Washington, who have the responsibility, that they gave him all the ammunition that could be given him to accomplish the job then under way."

Van Fleet stuck to his position that there had been serious and even critical shortages of ammunitions in the 22 months he commanded the Eighth Army in Korea.

At one time in May, 1951, he said, "our dumps in Korea went to zero, and the only ammunition we had was in forward areas near the guns."

Stopped By Order

Senator Byrd (D-Va) asked: "Would you have won a military victory if you had the ammunition?"

Van Fleet replied: "I would not say that sir, no. To get the victory, you have to have a mission, a directive, that turns you loose with an approved plan, and then you must have the means to execute that mission."

In June, 1951, he said, "we had the Communists armies on the run; they were hurting badly, out of supplies, completely out of hand or control; they were in panic and were doing their best to fall back as far as possible, and we stopped by order, did not pursue to finish the enemy."

"I was crying to turn me loose," he said. "We had enough ammunition then."

If he had been freed, Van Fleet said, "I believe we would have gotten all his enemy's heavy equipment and, perhaps, taken two or three hundred thousand prisoners."

New Buckner Home For Aged Planned

HOUSTON—(AP)—A home for the aged here will be sponsored by the Houston Baptists and the Buckner Benevolences of Dallas.

Present plans call for a unit to house 50 persons at a cost of $250,000. The long-range program is for facilities to care for 200 to 300 people.

Buckner Benevolences purchased a 45-acre tract on Houston's Memorial Drive for the Texas Baptist Haven. A medical clinic will be included in the construction program.

Oil Scientists Meet In Houston

HOUSTON—(AP)—Petroleum exploration scientists met here Monday in the largest gathering of its kind ever held.

It is a joint convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, the Society of Exploration Geophysicists and the Society of Economic Paleontologists and Mineralogists.

Business sessions will continue through Thursday with field trips in the Gulf Coast area continuing through Saturday.

Some 6,000 scientists were expected to register for the meeting.

Red-Hunters Open Los Angeles Probe

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities opened an investigation Monday of possible Communist infiltration in education, radio, film, television, newspaper, legal and medical fields.

A committee member, Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.), said the group would seek to "clean up loose ends" left after a subcommittee inquiry last fall.

It is estimated that one out of three office and factory workers need glasses to see properly on their jobs.

Guard Kills Three Felons In Fort Worth Jailbreak

FORT WORTH—A 73-year-old turnkey opened fire on a band of seven escaping prisoners Sunday, killing three and wounding another. Chief Turnkey W. P. Foster thereby stopped the second attempted break in a little more than a month from the Tarrant County Jail.

Three others in the mob that rushed the jailer's office fled back into the jail and were beaten into submission by a negro trusty. Ten prisoners fled here last February 18. One of them, Floyd Hill, Alcatraz parole violator charged in a $250,000 robbery, remains at large. Three of those in Sunday's escape attempt had been recaptured after the February break.

They were armed with a length of chain, two knives, a club and a sharp-edged spoon, but had no guns.

As they rushed the jailer's office in the basement they found Foster and two deputies talking. Foster emptied his .38-caliber pistol. He grabbed another officer's .44 and fired it "several times."

Baker crashed to the floor dead. Ford fell at the base of the last door to freedom. Lesher tried to run into another office but fell with a bullet in the back of his head.

Eubanks was wounded as he fought to get a gun kept in a desk drawer of the office.

The three others fled toward an elevator. The negro trusty caught them there and beat them into a corner until officers took over.

Directors Selected By First American Insurance Company

HOUSTON—Fifty directors, representative of business, farming and ranching interests of Texas, were elected at the second annual stockholders meeting of First American Life Insurance Company.

First American Midland manager is H. P. Gunn, 904 Central Building. Optimism marked the stockholders meeting. President Jim Tucker pointed out:

"This time last year, when we held our first stockholders meeting, we had received applications for less than $3,000,000 in insurance. To date, we have received applications for $24,000,000 in insurance."

"It took the average life insurance company now in business 12 years to write as much insurance as First American wrote its first year."

Killed instantly was Bobby Dean Baker, 18, indicted for armed robbery. A moment before his violent end, Baker told his followers, "We're going for blood and death."

Lloyd D. Lesher, 17, held on car theft charges, also died. He had been Baker's confederate in the earlier break.

William Howard Ford, 20, jailed for car theft, also was wounded fatally.

Other slugs hit C. E. Eubanks, 18, held on burglary charges, in the mouth and right arm.

Foster had a flesh wound in the left thigh when a gun discharged as Eubanks and another officer fought for the weapon.

Rush Jailer's Office The attempted break began about 9 a. m. when jail guard Jess Miles went to the fifth floor of the jail for Ford and Eubanks. They said they wanted haircuts before regular Sunday morning church services. The pair overpowered Miles and freed the other five with his keys.

JayCees At Pecos To Elect Officers At Monday Session

PECOS—Election of officers will highlight the Monday night meeting of the Pecos JayCees in the Community Center.

Directors have nominated men for each office and then at regular meetings nominations were taken from the floor.

Nominated for the various offices were H. L. Cox, Bob Thompson, and Alan Propp, president; John Carroll, T. J. Wheeler and Wayne Joplin, first vice president; Larry Barton and Revis Williams and Bill Oden, second vice president.

Alan Propp, Bob Johnson, Bill Boykin, and Duane Mitchell, secretary; Wayne Arnold, Floyd Brownlee, David Knotts and Ralph Green, treasurer; Larry Barton and James Henderson, parliamentarian; Duane Mitchell, Jack Lindsey and James Shook, historian.

Nine men were nominated to fill the three positions on the board of directors. They include Tony Murphy, Joe Smith, Floyd Brownlee, David Bryant, David Carroll, Gene Owens, Homer Herrington, L. B. Cox and Gene Duke.

Bill Scott and Wayne Arnold were nominated for state director.

The JayCees also voted to field a softball team in the city league this year.

Alabaman Seeks To Tighten Curbs On Traffic With Reds

WASHINGTON—Representative Battle (D-Ala) said Monday the Communists still "get pretty much what they want" in strategic material from the West, and that the U. S. should wage "a vigorous and comprehensive" campaign to shut it off.

He said present measures are inadequate and not properly enforced. Battle issued a report to the House summarizing progress in enforcing an act, which he sponsored, to cut off American assistance to Allied nations which knowingly ship strategic materials to the Red bloc.

Compliance has been universal among nations receiving U. S. assistance, he said, and more than 300 items are subject to embargo. But, he added, the act does not apply to neutral nations not getting U. S. aid and has no effect on closing such "legal leaks" as the free ports of Europe.

The congressman proposed a long-range economic "program of economic defense" centralized under a single American official and geared to a global effort to cut off goods needed primarily by Communist war machines.

Battle said Red countries are getting strategic goods from such neutral nations as Switzerland and Sweden by transshipment through European ports where no customs inspections are made and through the use of chartered ships.

The government, in legal moves against such operations, announced last week it has moved to declare in default the mortgages of 14 surplus ships sold to Greek companies.

It also seized, at Transbay Richmond, Calif., the tanker Seven Seas, charging it had been bought illegally by aliens using U. S. citizens as dummies.

General Medical Practitioners Blast Truman Health Plan

ST. LOUIS—A group of young family doctors would be just "flunkies" for specialists under a "group medical practice" plan advocated by ex-President Truman's health commission, a committee of family physicians says.

And the young doctors would have to answer all the calls in the wee small hours of the night for their specialist colleagues in the group, the committee charges in expressing a somewhat dim view of the "group practice" proposal.

In fact, the committee said, such a system could well mean the elimination of the family doctor from the American scene by discouraging young doctors from entering general practice.

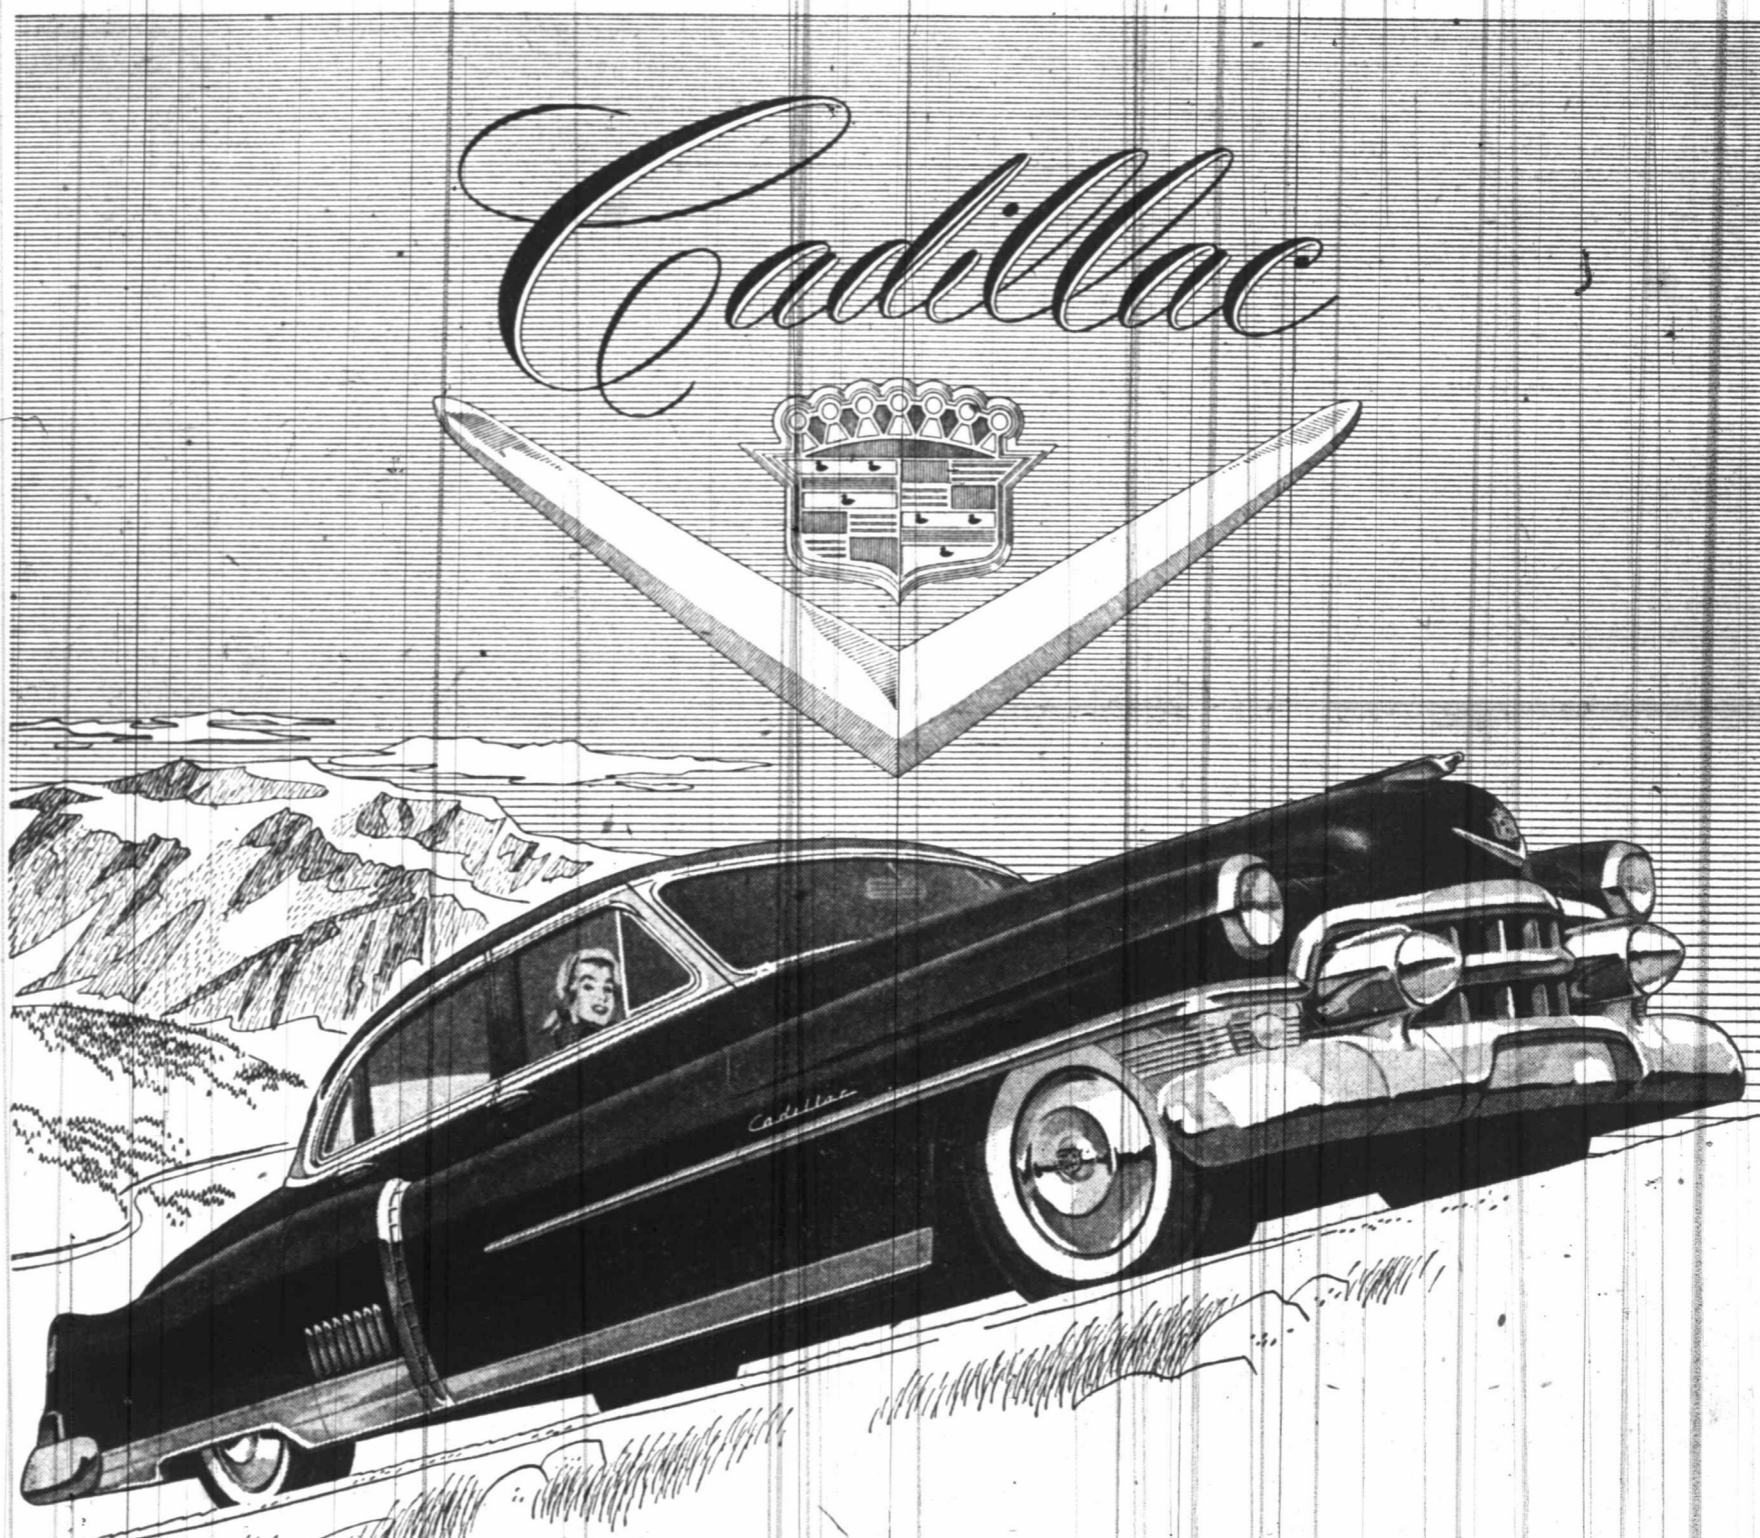

The comments were made in the annual report of the Commission on Legislation and Public Policy of the American Academy of General Practice (AAGP). The academy opened its annual meeting Sunday.

A-Bomb Test Seen For Nevada Tuesday

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—Another atomic blast is indicated for Tuesday.

The Atomic Energy Commission called a press conference Monday. The past pattern in nuclear tests on Yucca Flat has been: press conference one day—bomb explosion the next unless the weather was unfavorable.

Meanwhile, 53 of the nation's top experts on atomic energy began Monday a series of meetings that will continue through Thursday.

Poor Little Hill!

You're looking at a very discouraged hill! Ever since that ribbon of paving outlined it, it has been a challenge to motor cars. For miles and miles it winds up the side of a mountain; and it has sharp curves, and steep grades that spring out of the curves so a driver can't get a start. Half-way up, there's a watering place—put there so drivers can stop and refill their radiators. Yes—it has been quite a hill. But not any more! The driver of the car in the picture above took off at the base and sailed right up to the top—and never gave it a thought. You see, he's driving a 1953 Cadillac—with its great high compression 210-horsepower engine—and its vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive. We heard recently of two men who drove from Florida to Detroit—in a 1953 Cadillac. The driver of the car had made this trip before—and as they left Knoxville he said to his passenger: "Man, are we going to find a hill between here and Lexington!" After an hour or so, the passenger said: "Where is the hill?" And the driver said: "Just wait!" So they waited—and presently they saw a sign which read: "Lexington." The driver was dumbfounded. "I can't understand it!" he said. "There used to be a hill there—a big one! I know from experience." Naturally, this great car gives you more than the ability to master hills. When you float along with a tremendous reserve like this, you have the smoothest, quietest, easiest ride it's possible to imagine. It gives you confidence, too—and helps you to relax—for you know you have the power for any emergency that may arise. It makes the whole car a symphony in motion. In fact, the ride is so smooth and soothing that, not infrequently, passengers sleep as they ride. Come in and try it for yourself. The car is waiting—and it's an experience you ought not to forego.

Officers Tighten Pecos Enforcement Of Liquor Statutes

PECOS—Law enforcement officers here have cracked down on violators of state and city regulations governing the sale of intoxicating beverages. Police Chief Joe Hill reports. Out of 34 city cases handled, four of them were violations of the liquor laws. The city court handed fines in the 34 cases totaling $850, Hill said.

ROK's Try Homemade Firebombs To Toast Rain-Soaked Chinese

SEOUL.—(AP)—South Korean raiders roasted Red bunkers and trenches with homemade jelly-gasoline bombs Monday in two hit and run raids on the Far Eastern Korean Front. The troops counted a dozen dead North Koreans and more were believed caught in the scorched bunkers, the Eighth Army reported. The deadly, jelly-bomb bombs were metal ammunition boxes filled with jelly-like napalm, the clinging core used in aerial fire-bombs. The ROK's popped their firebombs into Red positions on two grassy hills held by two North Korean platoons. Only small clashes were reported elsewhere among the West Front, soaked by a night of rain. The heavy weather pinned down Allied warplanes with the exception of some light bomber strikes and some jet patrols.

Crash Takes Four Lives, Boosts Texas' Violent Death Count For Weekend To 20

By The Associated Press
Four persons were killed late Sunday night when a car hit an embankment on a country road near Austin to raise the weekend violent death toll in Texas to at least 20. Three died in an attempt to break out of the Tarrant County Jail in Fort Worth when they met deadly fire from a 73-year-old turnkey. Traffic deaths numbered eight. Those killed in the mishap near Austin were Ellis E. Peese, 38, Leander; his daughter, Thelma; his niece, Loretta Peese, 14, and a man identified from papers as James Johnson, about 50. Four others in the car were hurt.

Planes Collide
Those killed in the unsuccessful jail break were Bobby Dean Baker, 18; Lloyd Leshem, 17, and William Howard Ford, 20. Other weekend deaths included: Two training planes piloted by students from the San Marcos AFB collided Sunday eight miles east of San Marcos. One pilot was killed and the other glided his plane safely back to his field. The base withheld the name of the dead student pilot. Desota Maxie, 40, was shot to death in a Houston apartment Sunday and a charge of murder was filed against Earline Shaw, 27. Henry Nelmann, 72, was found shot to death at his home in Houston Sunday. Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan said he had been in ill health and returned a verdict of suicide. An elderly negro man who lived alone at Rockdale was burned to death in a fire that totally destroyed his home at midnight Saturday. He was John Moultry. Two sailors from Corpus Christi NAS were killed Saturday night when their car went out of control near Palufurrias. They were Thomas F. McDermott, Jr., 20, Philadelphia, and James J. Conroy, 22, Logan, W. Va. A Dallas man was killed Saturday night when his car missed a curve southeast of Dallas and plunged 30 feet into the dry Trinity River bottoms. He was Curtis Azory McBride, 50. Robert Burns, 28, Leander, died in an Austin hospital Saturday night after being shot in a quarrel at Dodd City in Travis County. A fire in a tourist court cabin at San Angelo was fatal Saturday to Leonard E. Meredith, 51, Rule. Lorenzo Del Rio, 23, was charged with murder in San Angelo in the fatal stabbing Saturday of Porfirio Chapoy, 31.

Narriman Arrives In Egypt Leaning On Mother's Arm

CAIRO, EGYPT.—(AP)—Ex-Queen Narriman, pale, tired and leaning on her mother's arm came home by plane from Switzerland before dawn Monday. Returning to her homeland as a private citizen, the estranged wife of former King Farouk was met by a small group of her family. She will live at her mother's home in suburban Heliopolis. The former queen, who sailed into exile last July 26 with her husband and their infant son, King Fuad II, fled from Farouk in Rome to Switzerland March 12. Her mother, Asila Sadek, accompanied her. The baby still is in Rome with his father. Narriman has confirmed only that she is separated from Farouk, although plans for a divorce have been rumored for several weeks.

Grim Ordeal Looms For Americans Held Captive By Chinese

HONG KONG.—(AP)—Three Americans seized with their yacht were held by Communist China Monday as high British and American officials tried to figure out a hope to free them. The 42-foot yawl Kert, with its six occupants, was taken in tow Saturday by an armed Communist junk between Hong Kong and Macau, five miles west of British-ruled Lantau Island. The Americans are Richard Applegate, Medford, Ore., former United Press correspondent now with National Broadcasting Company; Donald Dixon, New York, International News Service correspondent, and Benjamin Krasner, Brooklyn, ship captain. Two Chinese boys and a Chinese woman also were reported aboard the Kert. The craft was believed held at Lap Hap Mei Island, three miles southwest of Lantau. Meanwhile, friends predicted a grim period ahead for the three Americans. The last American who fell into Red hands in a similar manner was Robert Ego, a commercial transport pilot who landed in Red China in January, 1950. He still is held.

Dangerous Chemical Barrels Elude Hunt By Marine Officers

Fourteen deadly barrels still threatened West Texas Monday as lawmen doubted their efforts to trace the huge containers stolen Friday night from the E. L. du Pont de Nemours and Company warehouse in Stanton. The company makes nitroglycerin and other explosives. Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders said that though the 110-gallon barrels are empty they had contained a dangerous chemical, the fumes of which could bring serious injury and possible death. Experts warned that fumes from the barrels could burn out the eyes or cause the flesh to peel from the body—or could cause death. A. C. Abernathy, Martin deputy sheriff, said Monday junk dealers were being checked on the theory that the barrels and brass stripped from a pair of scales in the same theft might be sold for junk. Junk dealers were warned to report to lawmen promptly if any of the barrels or brass is spotted.

El Paso Teenager Held In Stabbing Of Soldier Husband

STRAUBLING, GERMANY —(AP)— Mrs. Anita Lawson, 19, El Paso, Texas, was held Monday by U. S. Army authorities investigating the stabbing of her husband, Sgt. Harding J. Lawson, Buffalo, N. Y.

The 31-year-old sergeant was reported in serious condition in a hospital with a butcher knife wound in his back. Army authorities said he was stabbed Friday night.

His wife and two small daughters joined him three months ago in his post here with the First Battalion of the Sixth Armored Cavalry Regiment.

AND HE CAN'T COUNT STROKES

CHICAGO—(AP)—Except for one thing, Smokie, a German retriever, is a better golf caddy than a human, says his owner, lawyer Warren J. Carey.

Smokie not only is snorting in finding Carey's ball when they tour the Chevy Chase Course almost daily, but he finds 10 or 12 balls a day.

His manners are impeccable—he stays off the greens, out of the traps and doesn't bark, says Smokie's master.

The lone shortcoming? Carey has to carry his own clubs.

Highlander Festival Critics Praise Midland's Musicians

High praise was accorded the Midland High School Band by judges and critics at the Highlander Festival in Dallas last weekend.

Under the direction of Ralph Mills, Midland's 70-piece band performed also-jazz bands from Austin High School, Longview, Abilene and Jyrd High School of Shreveport, La.

No prizes or awards were presented at the festival, which was concerned mainly with study and comparison of techniques of the various bands.

Hugh McMillan of the University of Colorado, Festival judge, commented the Midland band highly for its performance as a single unit and ensembles with other bands.

Friday the Midland musicians participated in a marching exhibition along with bands from Abilene, Brazos Port and Grand Prairie.

In concert they played "The Mad Major" by Kenneth J. Alford, "Phedre Overture" by Jules Massenet, and "American Folk Rhapsody" by Clare Grundman.

Robert Fielder, director of the Abilene High School Band, wrote a master's thesis in college on the "Phedre Overture" and is considered an expert on the score. He said that Midland's arrangement of the "Phedre Overture" was the "best he had ever heard by a high school band."

Drummers from the Midland band were chosen as the official drum section for the Highlander Festival and were sole drummers for 13 bands which participated in a mass concert.

Skippy Clemens, Midland band sweetheart, escorted by Don Hargrove, paraded across the 50-yard line of the Highland Park football field while the massed band played "Sweetest of the Fair." Sweethearts from all the bands present were presented in this manner.

AIR CRASH TAKES 35 LIVES—Rescue workers search the ruins of a Transocean Airlines DC-4, which crashed near Alvarado, Calif., while making a standard instrument approach to Oakland Airport. The crew of five and 30 Air Force maintenance personnel, bound for the Far East from Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N. M., were killed.

Private Duty Nurses To Meet Wednesday

The private duty nurses of Midland will meet in the Nurses Home at Midland Memorial Hospital from 2 to 4 p.m. Wednesday to register for their new telephone service which will begin April 1.

All nurses are requested to bring their license cards, said Mrs. Alice Marie Whittington, who instituted the service.

Nurses holding 1952 license cards which are about to expire may present them and will be given 30 days in which to obtain a 1953 license.

Information which will be needed to complete the registration cards will include answers to the following:

Will the nurse be willing to accept obstetrical, psycho, alcoholic or communicable disease cases? Will she accept home cases, and will she do a second shift or 12 hour duty?

Each nurse will be given the privilege of choosing one of her two selected shifts for April, Mrs. Whittington said.

Any staff nurse who is interested in doing private duty may register for the service.

Texas Is One Of 41 States To Call Teenagers In April

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Forty-one states will draft 19-year-olds for military duty next month, and two others may have to, an Associated Press survey showed Monday.

For 14 of these 41 states, it will be the first draft of 19-year-olds since World War II.

The survey of state Selective Service directors also found that all but two states—Alabama and South Carolina—probably will be taking 19-year-olds in May. The Alabama director said it will be June, perhaps later, before any will be drafted in his state.

The South Carolina director said he didn't know when.

The other three states that won't take 19-year-olds in April are Maryland, Vermont and Virginia. New Jersey and Tennessee directors said "maybe not."

Thirteen states plan to call 19-year-olds to fill at least 50 per cent of their April draft quotas. Probably the biggest number will come from Illinois, where the state director estimated the "bulk" of a 3,254 quota would be 19-year-olds. Pennsylvania will need about 2,500 of 4,081 quota. California comes third with about 2,000 of 3,164.

The April draft quotas for the whole country is 53,000.

Massachusetts, with a 1,262 quota, will need "substantially all" 19-year-olds, as will Arizona with a 243 quota, the District of Columbia with a 218 quota and Oregon with a 350 quota.

It is 665 feet from north and 2-015 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 44, block 43, T-2-S, T&P survey.

The test was at 12,244-327 feet. A 1,020-foot water blanket was used. The tool was open for one and one-half hours. Recovery was the 1,020-foot water blanket, a 110 feet of black sulphur odored drilling mud. There was no sign of oil or gas.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 370 pounds and 390 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,970 pounds.

The prospector is drilling deeper. Top of the Ellenburger was called at 12,205 feet. That is on a datum point of minus 9,578 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 3, block 98, University survey. It is four and one-half miles west of the Flat Rock field which has some Ellenburger production.

The wildcat logged some shows of oil and gas in a lime and chert section at 10,016 feet and 10,064 feet.

High School Choir Gathers In Honors

Midland High School A Cappella choir members walked off eight first and second division honors Saturday at the solo and ensemble competition in Odessa.

Taking first place honors were soloists Duane Chestnut, Elaine Johnson, Ruth Ann Rhodes, Evelyn Hejl and Wanda Moore. Also in the first place bracket was the trio consisting of Sally Breeze, Ruth Ann Rhodes, Evelyn Hejl, Elaine Johnson, Mary Jane Miller, Jo Ann Bassham, Wanda Moore, Ann Kenamer and Barbara Smith.

Second division winners were Joan Roberts and David Breth.

Glynda Feril was accompanist for the triple-trip. R. C. Michner, public schools music consultant, is director of the Midland High group.

250 Baptist Workers Expected At Meeting

The Quarterly Sunday School meeting of the Permian Basin Baptist Association at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church, Odessa, is expected to draw some 250 workers from the 25 Baptist churches in the Midland-Ector region.

The Rev. J. Q. Woodward, Midland, the association's Sunday School superintendent, said the meeting will follow the theme of "A Million More in '54" in line with the Southern Baptist Association's drive for a million more members during 1954. Texas' goal has been set at 170,000. The Permian Basin goal is 2,400.

Rev. A. B. Lightfoot of Midland, superintendent of missions, will close the meeting with a plea for new missions and branch Sunday Schools in the Permian Basin region.

Others included on the program are Mrs. C. C. Boles, Mrs. Ruth Stumbo, Mrs. R. O. Willoughby, Mrs. L. J. Ewing, Mrs. O. W. Hatfield, Mrs. R. L. Vickers, Glen Murry and Gabe Massey.

Former Barstow High Coach Seriously Ill

BARSTOW—Coach Chuck LeCroy, former Barstow High grid coach and now a member of the Odessa Junior College staff, was stricken last week with spinal meningitis.

Hospital authorities termed LeCroy's condition serious.

LeCroy coached in Barstow about 14 years ago. He and his wife left Barstow for a short time but returned here before moving to Odessa three years ago.

Jack LeCroy, a brother, is a principal at Pecos.

Eagle Pass Educator Named College Prexy

BROWNSVILLE—(AP)—C. J. Garland, 48, superintendent of schools at Eagle Pass, will become president of Texas Southwest College April 1.

His appointment as head of the junior college was announced Monday.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

to about 11,700 feet to test the Devonian.

The Cities Production and Union No. 1-E Cross is about one mile west of the shallow South Cowden field.

It is 665 feet from north and 2-015 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 44, block 43, T-2-S, T&P survey.

The test was at 12,244-327 feet. A 1,020-foot water blanket was used. The tool was open for one and one-half hours. Recovery was the 1,020-foot water blanket, a 110 feet of black sulphur odored drilling mud. There was no sign of oil or gas.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was between 370 pounds and 390 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was 3,970 pounds.

The prospector is drilling deeper. Top of the Ellenburger was called at 12,205 feet. That is on a datum point of minus 9,578 feet.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 3, block 98, University survey. It is four and one-half miles west of the Flat Rock field which has some Ellenburger production.

The wildcat logged some shows of oil and gas in a lime and chert section at 10,016 feet and 10,064 feet.

Livestock

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Cattle 3,600; calves 600; largest run of sheep and lambs of the year arrived Monday. An estimated 5,000 of the 9,500 sheep and lambs were genuine Spring lambs for the Easter trade. Fed steers and yearlings slow and weak; other cattle and calves steady; stockers active, strong; good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $19-$22.50; common to medium $13-$18; fat cows $14-$16; good and choice slaughter calves $18-$22; common to medium $13-$18; good and choice stocker calves and yearlings $18-$23; stocker cows $12-$18.

Hogs 600; butcher hogs steady to 25 cents lower; sows steady. Good and choice 185-260 pound hogs $20.75-$21.15; lighter and heavier weights $18-$20.50; sows $16-$18.50; pigs $14-$17.

Sheep 9,500; Spring lamb trade slow getting underway as buyers bid steady prices and salesmen asked sharply higher prices; early bids were around $23, equalling last week's best prices. But the top lambs were being held higher. Old crop fat lambs were strong to 50 higher and older sheep were steady; good and choice wooled fat lambs $21-$23.50; good and choice clipped lambs $19-$21; some lambs with No. 3 pelts $21; yearlings and two-year-olds $14-$17; slaughter ewes $8-$10.
