Glasscock Wildcat Is To Deepen For Ellenburger Test

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company was changing to larger rotary rig on No. 1 Cox wildcat in East-Central Glasscock County.

The project was scheduled for a 9,500-foot bottom. That is the present total depth.

Operator will continue drilling until test of the Ellenburger can be made.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 32, block 33, T-4-S, T&P survey.

SE New Mexico Is To Get Two More New Prospectors

Two more wildcat locations have been reported in Southeast New Mexico. Both to start at once.

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company will drill No. 1 Home State eight miles south of production in the Denton (multipay) field in the central-east part of Lea County and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 28-168-37e. It is scheduled to drill to 12,400 feet.

The Superior Oil Company will drill No. 1 Nix as a 4,000-foot wildcat in Lea County. Location is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 23-225-35e.

Lawless Is To Drill Delaware Wildcat At E-C Reeves Site

Lawless Drilling Company of Odessa will start operations immediately at its No. 1 G. H. Chamblee and others, which is slated to be a 4,100-foot wildcat to try for production in the Delaware sand in East-Central Reeves County.

Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 17, block C-18, pal survey. It is 13 miles northwest of the city of Pecos.

Combination tools will be used.

Grayburg Makes Oil In Andrews Tester

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation developed clean oil and no water on a drillstem test of the Grayburg at No. 1-AE Midland Farms, wildcat in Southeast Andrews County, two miles northeast of the closest Upper Grayburg producer in the Midland Farms field.

Drillstem test was taken from 4-793 to 4,847 feet. Tool was open two hours. Recovery was 2,346 feet of oil. Flowing pressure ranged from 270 to 930 pounds and shut-in bottomhole pressure was 1,576 pounds.

A 30-minute drillstem test from 4,645 to 4,750 feet recovered 90 feet of gas-cut mud and 198 feet of salty mud and gas-cut salt water.

More hole was being made under 4,883 feet. The project is scheduled to drill to the Ellenburger.

Location is 668 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 45, block 41, T-2-N, G&MMB&A survey and 11 1/2 miles southeast of the town of Andrews.

SE Mitchell Wildcat Will Perforate And Test Strawn Sand

Robert L. Wood and others of Midland No. 1 Ross Dixon, wildcat in Southeast Mitchell County, is bottomed at 6,400 feet in Pennsylvanian shale and is waiting on cement to cure on 5 1/2-inch casing set at 6,352 feet.

When the cement is cured, operator will perforate and test opposite the Strawn sand above 6,200 feet which had some slight shows of oil and gas.

Location for No. 1 Dixon is three and one-half miles west and two miles north of recently completed Pennsylvanian discovery and 467 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block 12, H&TC survey. That makes it four miles northwest of the town of Silver.

UN Set For Early Prisoner Swap

'TRUCE-OMETER' TRACES PEACE PULSE—The present Communist move to reinstate Korean truce talks has caused hopes of the free world to rise, but before you become too optimistic, you had better look and see how previous hopes were dashed. Newschart above shows how world aspirations have soared to optimism and plummeted to crisis with each new turn of the Korean truce negotiations.

Midland Attorney Sheds Some Light On Muddled Spraberry Trend Picture

Who can and cannot produce in the Spraberry? That's the big question that's been bouncing around ever since the Spraberry became entangled in legal fol-de-rol—shut-in orders, injunction petitions and restraining orders.

"How do I know whether I can produce or not?" is the cry of operator after operator.

The restraining order at present is the key. W. P. Z. German, Jr., Midland attorney representing Tex-Harvey Gasoline Plant and Arthur Harvey in the dispute, returned Thursday from Austin to aid in clearing up the muddled picture.

The main thing is this: In order to produce, each operator must have in his office a copy of a restraining order issued by Judge Charles O. Betts in Travis County District Court, Austin. This order allows production to continue—under definite conditions—until April 22, when a hearing is set on the request for a temporary injunction to block the shut-in orders.

Unless an operator is named in the restraining order, he must turn his switches to "off" position—and leave them there until the shut-in is lifted or he has proved he isn't wasting casinghead gas through venting, flaring or burning.

In other words, if an operator can prove he isn't wasting gas and is tied into either the Tex-Harvey Gasoline Plant or Texas Gas Products Corporation's two gasoline plants, Pembroke or Weiner-Floyd, his name will be included in a restraining order similar to that issued in both the Harvey and Rowan cases.

Operators have until Monday to get on the restraining order bandwagon, for after that it may be necessary for each operator who thinks he has a case to file an individual suit for a restraining order. Under present conditions, he may in effect join the Harvey or Rowan suits and thus gain relief from the Railroad Commission's shut-in order.

"Operators must file proper showing of the facts and notice to the state through the attorney general's department on or before Monday, April 6, to get the joint restraining order," German explained.

"Otherwise," he warned, "unless the dispute is settled in some other fashion between now and then, after April 6, it may be necessary that separate suits be filed by those desiring relief as to any wells connected to the three gasoline plants already named. Producing wells must be connected to gasoline plants."

This, then, is the only "out" as present: If your name is tacked on a restraining order and your wells are tacked onto a gasoline plant, you can produce from the Spraberry. If not, the wells must be shut in.

And, even those who know their names will be on a restraining order must stay shut in until they receive the official three pages of legal okay.

The Railroad Commission has been ordered to appear in District Court April 22 to "show cause" why a temporary injunction should not be granted the oil operators. Until that hearing is over and the decision handed down, Spraberry operators will take a wait-and-see attitude.

Now, What if the Commission's shut-in order is upheld? German hinted there would be no halt in the fight to block the order.

Forecast Hints Pre-Easter Showers May Fall On Basin

If Friday night's forecast is any preview of Easter weather, then the bunny is going to need a raincoat to make his egg deliveries, because Midland is expected to receive light showers after 6 p.m. Friday, CAA weathermen report.

Most of Friday afternoon was expected to be clear with slight easterly winds and high clouds being broken up after 3 p.m. by winds up to 12 miles an hour. Highest temperature in the Midland area Thursday was 84 degrees with the minimum Friday at 42 degrees.

Temperatures were expected to range between 28 and 36 degrees in the South Plains Friday night with slightly warmer weather expected Saturday.

A pre-Easter cold snap moved slowly across Texas Friday.

At mid-morning the cool front was on a curved line running west of Texarkana and Tyler, south of Waco, Junction and Marfa and then cutting back into New Mexico east of El Paso.

Freezing weather was forecast Friday night in the Panhandle. Dalhart, at the top of the Panhandle, reported a low of 23 degrees early Friday, but the temperature rose to 38 by mid-morning. Other temperatures behind the front included: Fort Worth 49, Mineral Wells 46, Big Spring 46, and Midland 42.

A variety of bad weather prevailed over Western and Mid-Continent areas Friday—rain, snow, wind and dust storms. It also was a little chilly in some of the storm-swept sections.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

FORT WORTH—(P)—Gordon Abbott, 22, of Granite Falls, Wash., and Walter Speelman, 22, of Campbell, Calif., were killed and four other Carswell Airmen were hurt badly Friday when their car collided with a trailer truck in East Fort Worth.

DUBUQUE, IOWA—(P)—Mose McManus, Valley Stream, N. Y., brewery executive, apparently agreed finally Thursday to drop efforts to aid his Marine son, Fred, held in the slaying of five persons in New York, Illinois and Minnesota, after another brief reunion with him in the county jail here.

TOKYO—(P)—Robert Stevens, U. S. secretary of the Army, left for the United States Friday night after three days in Korea. Stevens checked the ammunition situation and said he is satisfied supplies are adequate.

Hearing Set On Separate Courts Plea

Midland and Ector Counties will present their pleas for separate district courts on April 14 before a special subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee in Austin.

Rep. Hulon Brown of Midland, chairman of the committee, said that is the date which has been set for representatives of the two counties to appear.

"We have opened our public hearings on the state-wide judicial district reorganization bill," he said Friday, as he returned home from the regular session of the Legislature.

"We are going through the entire plan carefully, district by district, and we hope to wind up the hearings by April 15."

"A few days after that we hope to report the bill out and expect approval within a short time."

Under the terms of the proposed legislation, the 70th Judicial District—which now includes the two counties—will be limited to Midland County while the 120th Judicial District would be created for Ector County.

SECOND BID WINS JACKPOT

DETROIT—(P)—Judge John Ricca and Seaman George Kollbach reached a happy compromise Friday on drunkenness. The seaman was led off to jail after complimenting the judge.

"What do you want?" asked the judge.

"I'll take 15 days in the county jail," said Kollbach.

"I'll give you 20," said the judge.

"I'll take 15," countered Kollbach. And that was it.

County Acquires Underpass Tract

The purchase of one of the last two remaining tracts needed for the construction of the Big Spring Street underpass was reported Friday by County Judge Clifford C. Keith.

Judge Keith said the county had reached an agreement Thursday afternoon with the owner of the property.

This leaves only one 30-foot strip still to be acquired before the entire right-of-way can be turned over to the State Highway Department.

A condemnation suit on this last piece of property was filed Thursday afternoon by County Attorney Regan Legg and a condemnation commission will be appointed Monday.

Plans Rushed On Transport, Medical Care

MUNSAN, KOREA—(P)—The United Nations Command Friday rushed plans for the possible quick return of sick and wounded Allied prisoners from North Korea.

But the American admiral who will speak for the UN in prisoner exchange talks opening Monday at Panmunjom refused to predict the outcome.

"I've been here since June and I would never make the mistake of being optimistic," said Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, a UN truce negotiator chosen to head the Allied liaison team.

Tent Village Built For UN Ill, Wounded

SEOUL, KOREA—(P)—A tent village sprang up Friday near Munsan to receive Allied sick and wounded prisoners if the Communists return them.

U. S. Marine engineers worked under floodlights through the night to finish the hospital village, a half-mile from the United Nations armistice camp.

Capt. Vernon Sorensen, adjutant of the 45th Mobile Hospital, said the 60-bed unit would care for the first Allied prisoners released by the Communists.

Twelve doctors, 12 nurses and scores of medical corpsmen will man the hospital, commanded by Col. Charles Hollingsworth of Fort Sam Houston.

Sorensen said, "We expect to run them through pretty fast. And we hope they start coming in soon."

United Nations and Communist groups are to meet at Panmunjom Monday to arrange for exchange of the sick and wounded.

U. S. Marine engineers were working around the clock on a fence surrounding a large clearing nearby which reportedly will be used either as a receiving point or as a supply depot. One officer said he had orders to finish the fence by nightfall.

Army convoys lined the highway from Seoul to Munsan hauling supplies. One 13-truck convoy carried tent frames and a second convoy of 15 trucks hauled tent canvas, timber, generators, housekeeping tools and equipment and other supplies. Korean laborers also were brought in on trucks.

Eighth Army officers planned to mobilize all helicopters that could be spared from the fighting front to airlift sick and wounded prisoners from Panmunjom exchange point to field hospitals behind the lines.

Cautious Hopes Aired

Present plans call for transporting the less severe cases to the rear by bus and truck and possibly by railroad.

More and more Allied officers and troops arrived at this apple orchard as preparations were stepped up. So far, though, Daniel was the only member of the five-man delegation to put in an appearance.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., the senior delegate, remained in Tokyo, where he talked with General Clark.

The was cautious hope among observers here that the liaison officers will reach agreement on exchanging sick and wounded prisoners and perhaps pave the way for a truce in Korea.

Perhaps It'll Be Okay If We Simply Call Him 'Dag'

AMARILLO—(P)—Some newspapers make rules against shortening a man's name in headlines—and then the copy readers run into a name like "Dag Hammarskjold."

Now suppose you're a headline writer. You have to get that name into one column. You have to use type in which you can get only about 12 letters in the column. On each side the column is bound by metal rules. You aren't supposed to break the rules—either the column rules or the headline-writing rules.

What would you do?

You couldn't do it. Neither could the headline writers on the Amarillo Daily News. So, they broke a rule—a column rule.

They ran the name into the next column on the right. They had to box the last five letters of the name into another story.

That was on April 1. It was no joke, but it was pretty radical.

Dag Hammarskjold is the Swede nominated as secretary-general of the United Nations.

Hammarskjold has said it would be easier for Americans just to call him "Hammerhead." That's what his name means.

Midlanders To Elect Two Of Three School Board Candidates Saturday

Voters of the Midland Independent School District will go to the polls Saturday to select two school trustees from a field of three candidates.

The lone polling place at the City-County Auditorium at Missouri and Colorado Streets will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

The two school trustee posts will go to the pair polling the highest number of votes from the following three candidates:

James L. Daugherty

Dr. Dorothy Wryell

Robert J. Zonne

of nine candidates and formally elect J. W. McMillen, who is the unopposed candidate for mayor to succeed Perry Pickett.

Absentee voting for the city election will close at 5 p.m. Friday and City Secretary J. C. Hudman said Friday morning 30 absentee ballots had been cast.

Daugherty, a resident of Midland the last 17 years, long has been interested in Midland schools as a parent and has watched the growth of the school system here.

Two of his children have been graduated from Midland High School, third now is in the fourth grade and another will enter school next year.

Daugherty is a past president of the Midland Lions Club and a past district governor of Lions International. He is a director of the Midland Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Church of Christ.

Dr. Wryell, a member of the Child Welfare Board the last three years and a child specialist professionally, has taken a deep interest in the development and welfare of Midland children.

She was graduated in 1938 from the Duke University Medical School and then took five years of post-graduate medical study.

Zonne, himself the father of two school-aged children, has taken a consistent interest in young people's education and development.

He is a graduate of Stanford University, where he played basketball in the late 1930's. He came to Midland four years ago to become an independent oil operator.

"This is my first venture in politics," he explained Friday, "and I want to make it clear that I am running strictly on my own merits and am not the candidate of any particular group or organization."

Third Film Remake Of Novel Is Challenge To Jane Wyman

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Exclusively yours, Jane Wyman's following in the dramatic footsteps of Colleen Moore and Barbara Stanwyck in Hollywood's third remake of Edna Ferber's famous novel, "So Big," but she isn't worried about disturbing the sands of time.

"It was a great role and it's still a great role," says Jane.

"I know acting comparisons will be made but I'm not worried. Our screenplay has taken new things out of the characters that were never used before. The role is more challenging to me than 'Johnny Belinda'."

A television series for Jane now that all the big stars are becoming home-screen attractions?

"I've got news for you," she smiled. "Television is not for me."

There's an eye-popping parallel to the front page papa-and-son wrangles of Edward G. Robinson and Eddie Jr. in "Showdown," the forthcoming U-I flicker that will co-star the elder Robinson and Tony Curtis.

Robinson will play a wealthy man and Tony will be the wild son who spends money recklessly, falls in love with a girl of whom papa disapproves and tangles with his old man over and over again. Humm.

Elliot Nugent's pals are begging him to seek psychiatric care and blame his front-page didos on a case of jangled nerves. His estranged wife and daughter have been asked to help him.

Shelley Winters slated to return to the screen in "Tacey Cromwell," is fuming over the new crop of huns that all is not well between her and absent-in-Italy Vittorio Gassman.

"I talk to him every week," Shelley, down to 138 pounds, told me at

Troopship Turns Night Club As Stars Welcome Vets Home

By ED CURTIS

NEW YORK—(AP)—New York stars turned a troopship into a night club Thursday night to welcome home the first 1,925 Korea veterans to reach an East Coast port.

The Navy troopship, the Gen. William Weigel, also carried 315 veterans of other Far East service.

The all-night show began soon after the ship dropped anchor in the lower harbor within sight of the Statue of Liberty. The General Weigel docked in Brooklyn Friday.

The all-night show was put together to keep the veterans from mooning too much over the New York skyline — so near, but still hours away from them.

It was the city's biggest troop welcome since World War II. The show ran almost continuously until dawn.

Hammerskjold May Join UN Next Week

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—Dag Hammerskjold of Sweden, nominated to succeed Trygve Lie as UN secretary-general, is expected to take over the job next week. He still must be approved by the 60-nation General Assembly but delegates see no bar to his final election.

The 47-year-old Swedish diplomat told Lie in a message Thursday he would resign as Sweden's deputy foreign minister as soon as he is confirmed by the Assembly for the $40,000-a-year, tax-free post and fly to New York the next day.

The Assembly is expected to take up his election when it reconvenes Tuesday afternoon. If given quick approval, Hammerskjold could arrive here Thursday morning and be ready to be sworn in that afternoon.

Actress Settles $100,000 Damage Suit For $35,000

NEW YORK—(AP)—A $100,000 damage suit against actress Carol Bruce involving the death of a man in a Pennsylvania automobile accident has been settled for $35,000.

Announcement of the settlement was made Thursday by Attorney Bernard Robert Lauren on behalf of Mrs. Annabel E. Fehnel of Nazareth, Pa., widow of the victim.

Sherwood Paul Fehnel was killed July 11, 1951, near the Mahoning Valley Country Club in Mantville, Pa. Mrs. Fehnel charged that a car driven by Miss Bruce forced a trailer truck driven by her husband off the road.

A coroner's jury subsequently cleared Miss Bruce, who then was appearing in a Summer theater production of "Pal Joey."

Miss Bruce currently is doing television work in New York.

KARLSRUHE, GERMANY—(AP)—Two of seven Germans arrested by British authorities on charges of plotting a Nazi conspiracy against the Bonn government were freed Thursday night by a West German Supreme Court order.

Continued imprisonment was ordered for four of the accused. The seventh man, Karl Kaufmann, was released Wednesday because he was too ill to stand trial.

The British arrested the Germans in January and handed them over to the German government Wednesday.

Those freed Thursday were Dr. Karl Scharping and Dr. Heinrich Heselmeier, both former Nazi officials.

Midwest Easter Looks Youthful

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

ST. LOUIS—The Easter parade here rolls along Lindell Boulevard near the Cathedral and on down to Maryland Avenue. And since the weather is variable and may be anything from bright and sunny to wet and rainy, fashion choices are likely to vary to a greater degree than in a more uniform climate. Because St. Louis is a city stressing youthful fashion, we have chosen fashions in junior sizes for Easter Sunday wear. Should the day be sunny and hot, the rayon linen by Daryl (left photo) would be an ideal choice. This is a neutral beige with trapunto-embroidery and edging in palest green. Oriental collar and slashed skirt pockets both have this contrasting trim. The costume, combining three fabrics and tones (right photo), is ideal for a day with invigorating Spring breeze and sunshine. This Carlie design has jacket in off white crossbar check moiré and linen over finely pleated sheer crepe skirt in navy blue. Bodice and belt are in pure silk shantung.

Youthful St. Louisans may equally well pick the box suit or the jewel-accented coat. This coat may be short or full-length, may have one button or no buttons at all. There are many deep and bright pastels in both coats and suits for the very young.

Committee Appointments, Study Program Highlight Club Meeting

Committee appointments and a study program were highlights of a meeting of the Modern Study Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. T. J. Smith, 407 East Maple Street. Mrs. C. C. Keith, program leader, directed a forum discussion on "Is Midland a Church-Going City?"

Assisting on the forum were Mrs. J. W. Brown, Mrs. Harry W. Denton, Mrs. J. T. Gist, and Mrs. R. E. Morgan. Mrs. Smith gave an organ solo, "The Lord's Prayer."

A report on the Odessa convention of Eighth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, was given by Mrs. Bryan Denison, who attended as a delegate. Mrs. Charles Sherwood reported on the club's Indian Affairs project, which won an award at the convention.

Party Planned

Plans were made for a husband's night party. The event will be a barbecue April 30 in the home of Mrs. Gist.

Committee appointments included Mrs. Keith, chairman, Mrs. W. B. Smith and Mrs. Bob Franklin, social committee; Mrs. K. C. Slough, chairman, Mrs. John Casselman and Mrs. B. E. Rea, telephone committee; Mrs. W. B. Smith, chairman, Mrs. Denison and Mrs. Lee Park, membership; Mrs. E. A. Johnson, chairman, Mrs. N. H. Brady and Mrs. Morgan, ways and means; Mrs. Gist, chairman, Mrs. Denton and Mrs. J. W. Carroll, yearbook and program.

Tea Hour Held

A tea hour was held preceding the program and business session. Centerpiece for the table was a world globe emphasizing the four symbols of American freedom—thought, worship, prayer and speech.

Attending as guests were Mrs. G. A. Parker, Mrs. E. C. Hall, Mrs. Norman Hoffman and Mrs. Ned Swallow.

Members present were Mrs. C. H. Shepard, Mrs. Sherwood, Mrs. Slough, Mrs. T. J. Smith, Mrs. W. B. Smith, Mrs. W. B. Ahders, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Casselman, Mrs. Den-

State's Welfare Checks Delayed

AUSTIN—State assistance checks of the old aged, needy, blind and dependent children, will be late this month.

State Welfare Director John Winters said Congress failed to appropriate additional money when it amended the Federal Social Security Act last year. A deficiency appropriation was approved by Congress and has been signed by the President.

Winters said the federal money for matching state funds was expected Friday. The state checks are to be mailed as soon as the federal money is received.

Program Announced For Warren Concert

A varied program from operatic arias to Malotte's "Mister Jim" has been planned for the Midland concert of Leonard Warren, Metropolitan Opera baritone.

He will give the final concert of the season for the Civic Music Association at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Midland High School Auditorium.

For the concert, Warren will sing six groups of numbers. The first group will include "Ombra mai fu" from Handel's opera, "Xerxes"; "Sebben Crudele," classic Italian song by Antonio Caldara, and "O Rudder Than the Cherry" from Handel's pastorate, "Acis and Galatea."

The second group of numbers will be "Les Berceaux," by the French composer Faure; "Chanson a Boire," Ravel's rollicking tavern song; Vincent d'Indy's "Madrigal" and Bizet's "Agnus Dei." Concluding the first half of the program will be an aria, "Crede" from Verdi's "Otello."

For the first two groups of the second half of this program, Warren has chosen "Impromptu, Opus 90, No. 3" by Schubert; "Rhapsody, Opus 79, No. 2" by Brahms and the recitative and aria, "Avant de Quitter Ces Lieux" from Gounod's "Faust."

In a group of lighter selections closing the program will be "Everything That I Can Spy" by Bone and Fenton, "There Is a Lady Sweet and Kind" by Norman Dello Jolo, "When Lights Go Rolling" by John Ireland and "Mister Jim" by Malotte.

Church Council Slates Meetings

The Midland Council of Church Women has scheduled an executive board meeting and general session for next week.

Charlotte Collins and Ethel Maldonado, missionaries working with migratory laborers, will give the program for the general session, at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First Christian Church. A tea will follow the program.

All women interested in the missionary program for migrants are invited to attend. A nursery will be provided.

The executive board is to meet at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. M. Chase, 111 South M Street.

Passion Play To Be Shown Easter Sunday

"The Life of Christ," listed as one of the ten greatest motion pictures of all time, will be presented at 7 p.m. Easter Sunday in the First Methodist Church.

The picture was produced in Egypt and the Holy Land by the world-famous Oberammergau Players. Costing almost three million dollars to produce, it was financed with proceeds from a world tour of the players and their Passion Play on the life of Christ.

The Passion Play originated in 1633 in the Bavarian village of Oberammergau at the end of a terrible plague. The villagers, who had prayed to God to lift the plague, vowed that they would perform the play every tenth year out of gratitude for their deliverance.

The world-tour and picture were made before Hitler and the Nazis forced the end of the presentations. The original negative of the picture was brought to America before it could be destroyed by the Nazis and was edited, synchronized with a specially written musical score and supplied with subtitles and commentary in English.

EASTER SERVICES SLATED

The Crucifixion will be portrayed in an Easter service at 7 p.m. Sunday in the Macedonian Baptist Church. The Rev. H. F. Doyle is pastor, and directors for the presentation are Mrs. A. C. Stewart and Mrs. T. Bell.

Presbyterians To Conclude Special Services Friday

The Rev. David M. Currie of Richmond, Va., will conclude a series of Passion Week Services Friday night in the First Presbyterian Church.

His subject at the concluding service at 7:30 p.m. will be "That They Also May Be One."

Services have been conducted at 7 a.m., 9:30 a.m., and 7:30 p.m. daily this week, with large crowds reported at all services.

The Passion Week services were sponsored by the First and Westminster Presbyterian Churches. Dr. R. Matthew Lynn, pastor, will be in his First church pulpit at the regular 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. worship services Easter Sunday, speaking on "Hope Abides, Or Does It?"

The First, St. Andrews and Westminster Churches will join in conducting a 6:30 p.m. service Sunday. The Rev. Henry Stafford, assistant pastor of the First Church, will speak on "Famine of the Word."

It's Election Time! Midlanders will have the opportunity to use their new poll tax receipts and certificates on two occasions within the next four days.

The annual trustee election of the Midland Independent School District is scheduled Saturday, when two trustees will be elected to three-year terms.

Tuesday, the annual City Council election will be held. A mayor and three councilmen will be selected for two-year terms.

Saturday and Tuesday, then, are the times for all qualified voters—all good citizens, if you please—to come forward and voice their sentiments in the naming of their elected representatives on the Board of Education and the City Council.

The offices at stake are important and it is urgent that persons filling them be elected by large and representative votes of the people.

The candidates in both elections have made themselves available as public servants to assist in administering the affairs of the city and school district. It is the duty and obligation of the citizens to take time out from their schedules Saturday and Tuesday to state their individual preferences for the various candidates at the polls.

All elections are important, but local elections perhaps are the most important of all. It is at the local level that good government starts, permeating upward to state and national levels. And the best way in which individuals may express their interest in overall good government is by voting in all local elections.

Actually, those who do not take the time to vote in the local elections have no legitimate right to complain when affairs of the city and schools do not go to their liking.

But aside from that, it is the duty and obligation of all citizens to cast their ballots for the candidates of their choice on election day. It is the American way.

Considerable interest has been aroused in both the school and city elections and it is hoped that record votes will be established both Saturday and Tuesday.

Let's all vote in the School and City Council elections!

'This'll REALLY Be Fun - I Greased The Rails'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson says: White House debates crackdown on McCarthy; President's first policy was appeasement; Ike reconsidered after Bohlen battle.

WASHINGTON—Top question being debated inside the White House next to peace in Korea, is whether steps should be taken to crack down on the fast-dancing, quick-jabbing senator from Wisconsin, Joseph R. McCarthy—or, as he's called inside the White House, "Jumpin' Joe."

One Ike adviser frankly admitted the other day that it was never expected McCarthy would be a problem. "We didn't anticipate that Jumpin' Joe would precipitate things as fast as he has," admitted C. D. Jackson, former publisher of Fortune Magazine, now intimate adviser to the President. "We thought he'd give us a little breathing space. Frankly, he's a problem."

At first the President ducked any move to tangle with McCarthy. He acted as if he wanted to stay just as far away as possible from any showdown, even with his own administration involved.

When McCarthy first began delving into the Voice of America, Carl M. Casper, assistant secretary of State in charge of the Voice, telephoned the White House and asked Press Secretary Jim Hargety to get Ike to say something at his press conference to squelch McCarthy.

Ike declined. Furthermore, when a news conference was asked at the press conference, he indirectly supported McCarthy by saying it was the right of Congress to investigate.

This, of course, was prior to the bitter battle over Ambassador Bohlen. Since then, White House advisers report that their chief is sore, has stiffened toward McCarthy, and has decided the advice given him by Vice President Nixon and at first by Taft is wrong. Nixon had believed that the Administration should try to get along with McCarthy and that McCarthy in turn would play ball.

This was the same advice given Ike during the election campaign just before his speech in McCarthy's home state, Governor Dewey had urged that Ike cold-shoulder McCarthy on this trip. But Arthur Summerfield, together with Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Hickenlooper of Iowa, flew to Ike's private car, finally persuaded him to reserve this.

However, when Ike inserted two paragraphs in his Milwaukee speech praising General Marshall, whom McCarthy had so bitterly castigated, Summerfield arranged for McCarthy to come up the service elevator of the Pere Marquette Hotel in Peoria and confer privately with Ike. At that meeting, McCarthy persuaded...

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

Don't blame me for the bidding of today's hand. I don't recommend North's second bid, but that's the bid he actually made.

The hand took place in a team match in England, and the North player couldn't think of a good rebid at his second turn. He chose to rebid his clubs, and South, logically enough, went to game in no-trump.

West opened the queen of diamonds, holding the trick, and continued with the jack of diamonds. East dared not cover with the king.

Bridge hand notation showing North (D) 3, West (J8743), East (A104), and South (A985, KQ98, 765, A104, K883, 99).

for then South would be able to win two tricks with his ace and ten. South therefore could hold up his ace of diamonds a second time and thus compel West to shift to a new suit.

West shifted to the jack of clubs and South won in his own hand with the ace. He led a heart and played the king from dummy to force out East's ace. East returned a diamond to declarer's ace, and West discarded a low club.

South led another heart towards dummy, and West discarded a low spade. This discard told declarer almost everything he needed to know.

West had showed up with only two diamonds and only one heart, consequently had ten black cards in his hand. If these had been divided 6-4, West would have made two discards from his six-card suit in order to keep protection in both black suits.

Since West actually had discarded one club and one spade, South concluded that West had started with five cards in each of the black suits.

Having arrived at this conclusion, South cashed the king and ace of spades, gratefully noting the fall of East's ten of spades. He then cashed dummy's king and queen of clubs, after which he put West in with the last club.

West then had to lead spades away from his jack up to South's queen-nine. This cleverly-executed endplay gave the English declarer his game contract.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: West North East South 1 Spade 2 Diamonds Pass? You, South, hold: Spades 7, Hearts K-Q-J-10-8-5, Diamonds K-7, Clubs K-4-2. What do you do? A—Bid four hearts. There should be an easy game at hearts if your partner's hand includes one ace.

PERHAPS it was that some day or perhaps it was only that same summer of perhaps even it was another year, . . . When Ish looked up, he saw a young man standing in front of him. The young man wore a neat enough pair of blue jeans with copper rivets shining brightly, and yet over his shoulders he wore a tawny hide with sharp claws dangling from it. In his hand he held a strong bow, and over his shoulder was a quiver with the feathered ends of arrows sticking from it.

Ish blinked, for in his old eyes the young man was strange. "Who are you?" said Ish.

The young man answered respectfully, "I am Jack, Ish, as indeed you yourself well know. . . The way he said 'Ish' did not indicate that he was trying to be unduly familiar with an old man, thus calling him by a nickname, but rather it carried something of great respect and even of awe, and as if 'Ish' stood for much more than merely the name of an old man. . . But Ish himself was confused, and he squinted, peering more carefully because at short distances he no longer saw clearly. . . He was sure that Jack should have dark hair, or perhaps turned somewhat gray by now, and this one who called himself Jack had long wavy yellow hair.

Congress Will Refuse To Let All RFC Functions Be Ended

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Liquidation by June 30, 1954, of RFC—the government's huge money-lending Reconstruction Finance Corporation—now has been agreed upon by President Eisenhower and the Republican congressional leaders.

This is being hailed widely as a step in the right direction to get the government out of business. But it will be easier said than done.

It is a simple matter for Congress to abolish RFC by passing a simple law to end its lending authority. There would be a certain amount of kidding in this act, however.

A number of the present RFC functions won't be abolished. They simply will be transferred to other agencies, where they will continue merrily on their way.

The three principal categories here are: 1. The disaster loan program for aid to farmers hit by drought, flood, storm or crop pestilence. . . 2. The small-business loan program. . . 3. The defense loan program. . .

Most of RFC's business loans are made with a 10-year limit. The bulk of these loans have six or seven years to run. . . The small-business loan program. . .

It has been suggested glibly that this, that or the other of RFC lending programs easily could be transferred to Federal Reserve Bank. . .

Then he observed the arrowhead, again more by feel than by sight. The arrowhead was sharp both at the point and along the edges. It had the bumpy yet slick feel which told him that it was of hammered metal.

"What is that made of?" he asked. "It is from one of the little round things. They have a face on them. The old men have a name for them, but I do not remember exactly. It is something like 'corns'."

The young man paused, as if to be told the right word, but when he heard the name, he said: "That's right, 'corns'." (To Be Continued)

Easter Seal Funds Mount To $3,964

A sum of $3,964.57 has been collected to date in the Easter Seal Campaign, it was announced by Mrs. M. O. Gibson at a meeting of the Children's Service League Thursday. Of the total, $429.19 was donated through the city schools.

Donations in the drive are lagging slightly, it was announced, and officials stressed that several days still remain for Midlanders to make their contributions. Donations may be mailed to Post Office Box 1214, Midland.

The Children's Service League, which is affiliated with the Texas Society for Crippled Children, sponsors the campaign in Midland each year.

A report was made Thursday by Mrs. Robert Fitting on the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center to be established by the Children's Service League. The project will be aided by funds from the Easter Seal Drive.

Treasurer's reports were heard from Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. Gibson. It was announced that X-Rays and laboratory tests for one child have been paid for by the League and 28 children were clothed in the last two weeks.

The Thursday meeting was held in the home of Mrs. George Todd, 507 West Storey Street.

Attending were Mrs. Bill Glass, Mrs. T. S. Jones, Mrs. Fitting, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. John M. Hills, Mrs. F. D. Douglass, Mrs. R. W. Snyder, Mrs. C. H. ## Baptists Open Easter Revival

An Easter revival was scheduled to begin Friday in the Westside Baptist Church and will continue through April 12.

Conducting the revival is the Rev. L. T. Aultman, pastor of the Englewood Heights Baptist Church of Fort Worth.

The church pastor, the Rev. J. W. Stovall, will give the Easter sermon Sunday morning, and Mr. Aultman will conduct the Sunday-evening service. Weekday revival services are scheduled at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. daily.

Solemn Catholics Witness Services At Vatican City

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Grief keynote Good Friday services in St. Peter's Basilica as Roman Catholics commemorated the most solemn event of Holy Week—Christ's death on the cross.

Thousands, from many lands, speaking a hushed babel of languages, streamed slowly and steadily into the great basilica, where Federico Cardinal Tedeschini officiated at the mournful mass of the "pre-sanctified" host.

Deep purple hid the basilica's mosaics. Purple cloth covered the crucifixes.

Similar services were held Friday at many of Rome's almost 500 other churches, including St. John Lateran, seat of the Pope as bishop of Rome.

GIRL SCOUTS MEET

An Easter theme was featured in refreshments and games for a meeting of Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 51 Thursday in the Little House. Troop leader is Mrs. Walter Beadle.

Rebecca Circle Has Program Meet

The Rebecca Circle of St. Mark's Methodist Church held a program meeting in the home of Mrs. Sam Crews, 403 West Jax Street.

Discussions included on the program were "How the New Testament Was Written," Mrs. T. J. Smith; "Literature of the Gospels," Mrs. Randy Rubin, and "The Letters of Paul," Mrs. Chester Tyra.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Crews and Mrs. Smith gave a piano solo, "The Lord's Prayer." The devotional on "Steadfastness in the Faith" was led by Mrs. Glenn Edwards.

Forming the worship center was an open Bible beneath an arrangement of iris framing the picture of "Jesus in the Temple."

It was announced the next meeting will be a covered dish luncheon at 12 noon on April 16 in the home of Mrs. William Matthews. It will be a joint meeting with the Miriam Circle.

Present were Mrs. Crews, Mrs. D. E. King, Mrs. Tyra, Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. Ed J. Harris, Mrs. Jack Keese, Mrs. James H. McDowell, Mrs. Rubin, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. Smith.

Club 15 Board Announces Slate Of Appointments And Activities

Student executive committee appointments and the schedule of activities for the remainder of the season have been announced for Club 15, recreation center for junior high school students.

The announcements were made at a meeting of the adult executive board Thursday morning. It also was announced that Club 15, which has been meeting in the First Presbyterian Church during the Lenten season, will resume its sessions in the Trinity Episcopal Parish House beginning April 10.

Appointed to the student executive board to serve until Fall were Marie Spiars and Phillip Hubbard, ninth grade; Nancy Forman and Preston Butcher, eighth grade, and Martha Marks and Bob Bliss, seventh grade.

Serving on the entertainment and kitchen committee are to be Duncan Williams, Terry Stalter, Barbara Inman and Mae Whitson, ninth grade; Julia Marberry, Curt Bowen, Betty Hawkins and Dick Westerfeld, eighth grade; Charlotte Craig, Betty Barrett, Charles Rumsey and John Hunter, seventh grade.

with the Club 15 season on April 10, when the club resumes its meetings in the Episcopal Parish House, will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bliss, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Bowen and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Burton.

Club 15 will close its current season with a formal dance on May 22, honoring the ninth grade members. Another highlight of the forthcoming activities is to be a May Day Dance on May 1, when a King and Queen of May will be crowned. All members of the adult executive board will assist with the dance.

Other scheduled sessions of the club and adult board members who will assist include Mr. and Mrs. C. Green, April 17; Mr. and Mrs. Burton and Mr. and Mrs. Green, April 24; Mr. and Mrs. Bliss and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Inman, May 8, and Dr. and Mrs. Oliver Gooch and Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, May 15.

Since Club 15 meets in a church and will not be in session Good Friday and Holy Saturday, members have been invited to participate in activities of the Midland Youth Center this weekend. There is to be a movie Friday night and a date dance Saturday night.

Korean Peace Prospects Stir Business Thinking

T. E. APPELGATE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Businessmen who knew how a Korean truce would affect their daily lives. Their customers would like to know how the government would react. In all three cases, search for the answer goes far beyond the obvious query as to the next move in the "peace offensive."

"SO NERVOUS FROM 'HOT FLASHES' I BURST INTO TEARS!"
 Mrs. N. N. Steenington, Me., feels she now is suffocating "heat waves," nervous, clammy feelings, restless irritability—all are well known to women suffering from functionally-caused distress of middle life "change."
 Yet, in doctory tests, Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets relieved such distress in 83% and 80% (respectively) of the cases tested! Complete or striking relief! Get modern-acting Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound or convenient, new, improved Tablets (with added fruit! Both are wonderful too, for functional cramps and other distress of menstrual periods.)
 Lydia Pinkham's Compound and Tablets relieve the sympathetic nervous system, to relieve distress of "heat waves!"

the government will cut down on defense spending and ease the tax bite on profits; also if customers will continue to buy in volume at present prices.
 Consumers wonder if jobs will stay plentiful and if prices will decline or hold steady.
 Government officials are interested in whether business will go ahead with plans to spend 27 billion dollars this year on new plants and equipment, and whether corporate and personal income tax cuts would stimulate enough spending to prevent any serious drop in sales volume, if a business setback occurred.

Opinions vary. The actual picture will become clear only on day-to-day developments.
 Among those disclaiming any intent to trim expansion plans is Gwilym Price, president of Westinghouse Electric Corporation. He says his company's 300 million-dollar expansion program "is geared to peacetime growth and, in the long run, should not be affected by possible changes in the defense production requirement."
 Belief is widespread that Korean peace would increase pressure in Washington for a balanced budget and tax reduction, to be accomplished by further "stretch-out" of spending for armament.
 Some analysts feel the importance of defense spending as a support to the nation's economy has been over-emphasized.

 General Motors delivered defense items totaling about 20 per cent of its sales last year. In its annual report it describes such work as "considerably less attractive" than commercial business, from the standpoint of shareholder's return.

Firemen Set Kermit Meet

Firefighters from far and wide, with more than 20 West Texas cities represented, will meet in Kermit May 9, for the annual all-day meeting of the Permian Basin Firemen's Association.
 Grady Brown, Midland volunteer fireman, is president of the firemen's group. Chief J. M. Little of the Midland Fire Department will attend the meeting, accompanied by other firemen from his three stations here.
 The session will start at 9 a.m., with Kermit providing the program as host city. A business meeting in the morning will be followed by contests in the afternoon, with an evening dance winding up the big event.
 Included in this year's afternoon competition will be pumper races and two-men hose races. Prizes will be awarded to firemen who demonstrate the greatest speed and efficiency in setting up their equipment.
 Wives and friends of the firemen also were invited, with the evening dance provided specially for women guests. A barbecue in the afternoon will be part of the entertainment.

Retired General To Direct Fund

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Willis D. Crittberger, retired, is taking on a civilian job.

Warm, Open Texas Weather Speeds Planting In Texas

AUSTIN—(AP)—Warm, open weather has brought planting and replanting of row crops to a peak in the eastern third of the state.
 In the plains country, most dry land was bedded, and farmers were hoping for moisture before planting time, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Friday in its weekly crop report.
 Most cotton land in irrigated areas in the High Plains was receiving a pre-season soaking. Wheat on the High Plains was variable, but most acreage was still holding on.
 Warmer weather stimulated growth but lack of moisture slowed development. Soaking rain was urgently needed.

Wheat has made rapid growth in the low rolling Plains and has used much of the reserve moisture.
 Corn planting and replanting was very active over the central blacklands and eastern counties. Much of the corn and sorghums in Coastal Bend and southern counties has received first cultivation. Cotton planting was moving northward and was expected to be active in central blackland counties this week.
 Some rice was up to a stand. South Texas flax needed rain to maintain good prospects. Castor beans and blackeyes were being planted in South Texas.

Texas Workman Dies In Five-Story Plunge

TEXAS CITY—(AP)—Clyde Olan Nevel, 46, Galveston, fell five stories to his death Thursday from a plant building of the Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Company.
 Company officials said Nevel, a maintenance foreman, apparently "blacked out" while standing on a scaffold.

U. S. To Maintain Faith With Chiang
TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(AP)—U. S. Ambassador Karl L. Rankin declared Friday an armistice in Korea will not "be followed by a sell-out of Free China."

Rankin told a news conference President Eisenhower already has made clear that there will be "no breaking of faith with our friends."
 His statement tended to allay fears that Washington policy toward Formosa might change in the event of a Korean truce.
 Rankin pointed out that the flow of American military equipment to Formosa is increasing steadily.

An average hive, containing about 2,000 bees, produces about 20 pounds of honey per year.

Red Casualties Hit New High

SEUL — Chinese Communist troops hit Allied lines in Central Korea Friday for the second time in 24 hours, hurling a 175-man attack against a strategic outpost northeast of Choswon. Troops of the U. S. 3rd Division, 15th Regiment, routed the Reds in a bloody two-hour battle marked by hand-to-hand fighting, the Eighth Army said. The Chinese fired more than 3,300 artillery shells before and during the attack. An Eighth Army briefing officer said that at no time did the Americans lose control of the hill. Fifteen Chinese bodies were left on the hill and the Army estimated at least 30 others were killed or wounded. In the same general area, a full Chinese battalion attacked positions of the South Korean Capitol Division before dawn Thursday, but the ROK's threw back the assault in a 40-minute battle. The Central Front attacks followed the pattern of last week's vicious Red assaults on Old Baldy, Vezas, Reno and Carson outposts on the western front, but were in a smaller scale. Observers said the Reds apparently intend to continue military pressure against Allied lines despite recent truce proposals from Communist China and North Korea. Elsewhere on the battle front Allied troops threw back three small probing attacks in Eastern Korea and killed or wounded 29 Reds in a patrol clash in the west. Low clouds grounded Allied warplanes Friday, the Fifth Air Force said Thursday night. B-26 bombers destroyed 26 Communist trucks and shot up trains in strikes against North Korean communication lines, the Air Force said. Eighth Army said 12,553 Communist troops were killed, wounded or captured by the Allies during March—the highest monthly total since the 14,540 last November. The March estimates included 6,790 Reds killed, 5,710 wounded and 33 captured—the highest prisoner of war toll in many months. February's total casualties were 7,460. A shell from a Communist shore battery injured 13 men aboard the cruiser Los Angeles as it bombarded Wonsan Harbor on Korea's east coast Thursday. None of the victims was seriously hurt, the Navy said. It was the second time in seven days the Los Angeles was hit by Communist fire. The first time, on March 27, no one was injured.

Teenage Slayer Of Five Turns Down Legal Help, Expects Death In Chair

DUBUQUE, IOWA—(AP)—An 18-year-old confessed slayer of five persons remained adamant in refusing his father's pleas to accept legal counsel Friday as authorities in at least two states prepared to ask the youth's extradition. But the father, Mose McManus, Valley Stream, Long Island, brewery executive, after a third visit with his son Fred Eugene, said the boy's attitude had changed considerably. "Now he is more like his true self to his dad," the elder McManus said. He added, however, his son still would not let him retain an attorney. "The family can use the money better than I can," the youth asserted. "I'll wait and let the court appoint an attorney for me." The father said that although his son told him he "should go back to the family," he will stay on here as long as there is a chance that he can be helpful. Freshman Slain The two concluded their third meeting Thursday night shortly before Rochester, N. Y., officials located the first of young McManus' five victims—William A. Braverman, 19-year-old Hobart College freshman. The body was found shortly before dusk in an abandoned gravel pit about six miles east of Rochester by the pit owner, who had a "hunch" after he recalled seeing a car near an adjoining pit last Friday. The search for the body of Braverman, missing since last Friday, had gone on since McManus told authorities here Tuesday night the college student was his first victim in a cross-country crime spree. McManus said he shot Braverman for his car. Search For Body After searching in vain two days on the strength of vague directions from young McManus, New York officials had asked Iowa for temporary custody of the youth so that he could show them where he buried Braverman's body. Dubuque County Attorney Robert L. Oeth, notified the body had been found, said he plans to "sit tight and let each state start extradition proceedings." Dubuque County Sheriff Leo Martin had been prepared to leave for Rochester by train with McManus until Iowa Attorney General Leo Hoegh advised against letting New York have the youth until it could produce a body and consequently a murder warrant. Want Girl, Too At Wheaton, Ill., authorities concerned with the slaying of George and Florence Bloomberg at Keeneyville, Ill., began legal action to bring to Illinois McManus and 16-year-old Diana Marie Wegeland of Irondequoit, N. Y., arrested with him. State's Attorney William L. Guild of DuPage County, Ill., said extradition warrants have been prepared seeking McManus' return for the double slayings and the girl's return as an accessory after the fact. Guild disclosed that during a talk with McManus the youth asserted he would prefer to return to a state that used the electric chair.

McManus blamed the girl, victim of a broken home, for his son's predicament. "Her influence caused all the trouble," McManus said. He said his family had met Diana last Thanksgiving, after she had been placed in the home of friends by a welfare association. GAS FELS WORSHIPPERS KIEL, GERMANY—(AP)—Twenty-five worshippers were overcome by carbon monoxide gas in the Protestant church near here Thursday night. Russians Release 14 French Civilians Interned At Seoul

PARIS —(AP)—The French Foreign Office said Friday 14 French civilians interned by the Communists in Korea have been liberated and will arrive soon in Moscow. The Foreign Office said the director of the Soviet Foreign Office's Western European Division had confirmed the release of the French civilians. The move was viewed as another conciliation gesture in the Communist peace campaign. The Frenchmen were captured in Seoul at the outbreak of the Korean War. The Russians already have offered to help obtain the release of British civilians held by the North Koreans since the start of the Korean War. British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd said in London Russian-North Korean talks on this are on.

SLAYS SALVE JANGLED NERVES

BELGRADE, YUGOSLAVIA —(P)—A strange silence is settling over Belgrade and other Yugoslav cities. An old traffic law, enforced by on-the-spot police fines, required sound signals at all intersections. Drivers honked once to go ahead, twice for a right turn and three times for a left turn. For a U-turn it was honk-honk-honk and again honk-honk-honk. A government decree now proclaims that hand signals only are required.

GOP Posts Go Begging

DALLAS —(P)—Republican leader said Friday patronage jobs are going begging. There are more positions than applicants. President Eisenhower has indicated the Democrats had no sewed up things by expanding civil service that few appointive jobs were left for patronage "rewards." County GOP chairman Walter Fleming Jr., said a low pay scale, insecurity and what he described as stigma attached to government jobs have combined to cause a dearth of applicants here.

Fleming told precinct leaders there still are 331 patronage jobs in Dallas County unfilled for lack of applicants. "I think the main reasons for this are the governmental pay scale—although there are some $6,000 to $10,000 jobs open—the insecurity of political appointment, and the stigma of governmental positions," he said. He added applicants should have a desire to make government service a career.

Location is 1,975 feet from south and 1,983 feet from west lines of section 3, block 31, T-2-N, T&P survey. It is one and three-eighths miles southeast of Stanolind's No. 1 Smith, a recently completed reef discovery and it is two miles west of the East Vealmoor field, which also produces from the reef lime formation.

Cosden Spots Deep Wildcat In Howard

A 9,700-foot Ellenburger wildcat is to be drilled in Central Howard County by Cosden Petroleum Corporation as its No. 1 D. D. Crawford.
Location is 675 feet from south and 760 feet from west lines of section 47, block 32, T-1-N, T&P survey, and two and one-half miles east of Big Spring.
Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

NW Runnels Gets Cross Cut Opener

A Cross Cut sand discovery, Melvin R. and Charles C. Lee No. 1 Homer C. Daniel has been completed in Northwest Runnels County, three miles north of the North Maverick (Cross Cut sand) field.
Operators reported a daily flowing potential of 221.4 barrels of 42-gravity oil through a 20 64-inch choke and perforations opposite pay at 4,276-4,288 feet. Pay was fractured.
Gas-oil ratio was 104-1.
Location is 467 feet from south and 1,996 feet from east lines of N. A. Yearby survey No. 273.

Magnolia Finals New Producer In Midland Pool

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 6 Maggie Snyder has been completed as a new oil and gas producer in the Southeast Midland County sector of the Spraberry Trend Area.
It flowed 251.93 barrels of 37.2-gravity oil in 24 hours on the potential test. The flow was through a 24 64th inch tubing choke. No water was produced with the oil.
Flowing tubing pressure was 270 pounds. Gas-oil ratio was 972-1. Top of the pay is at 6,980 feet. The 3 1/2-inch casing is cemented at 6,980 feet. Total depth is 7,190 feet. The open hole had been fractured with 15,000 gallons.
The new producer is 24 1/2 miles southeast of Midland and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 39, block 37, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Indicated Opener In C-W Howard Installing Pump

Glenn H. McCarthy and S&W Company of Houston were preparing to install pump for completion attempt at their No. 1 Doyle Vaughn-Magnolia, indicated shallow discovery in Central-West Howard County.
Core from 3,200 to 3,223 feet recovered 23 feet of lime, the bottom eight feet having a good oil odor.
Operator treated the section was 1,000 gallons of acid and swabbed one and one-half barrels of oil in eight hours.
Hole was deepened to 3,231 feet. Tests will be made in open hole from 3,196 feet, where five and one-half-inch casing is set, and total depth of 3,231 feet.
Location is 2,970 feet from south and 330 feet from east lines of section 12, block 34, T-1-N, T&P survey and seven miles west and slightly north of the town of Big Spring.

Shell Is To Drill Deep Prospector In NW Crockett

Shell Oil Company has staked location for No. 2-5 University as a deep prospector in Northwest Crockett County.
Location is eight miles northwest of the Lula (Devonian) field and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 17, block 5, University survey.
Rotary tools will be used to drill to 13,500 feet for a test of the Ellenburger. Operations will begin at once.

Two Runnels Tests Dry And Abandoned

Two Runnels County wildcats have been plugged and abandoned. Murray Petroleum Company of San Angelo No. 1 J. M. Clayton, wildcat in East-Central Runnels County, was quit at total depth of 4,063 feet.
Location was 2,026 feet from north and 1,650 feet from east lines of section 134, ET survey and one mile south of the Clayton pool.
The other failure is in South-Central Runnels County. It is Henderson Drilling Company of Abilene No. 1 Harry Lynn and was plugged at 4,165 feet.
It was one and three-quarters miles southwest of the Ballinger (Palo Pinto) field and 330 feet from south and 2,124 feet from north lines of block 432, Roma Christa survey.

Amerada Scheduled To Dig Prospector In C-E Tom Green

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has filed application with the Railroad Commission of Texas for permission to drill a wildcat in Central-East Tom Green County.
It is No. 2 Joan Chambers Dennis and is located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 173, block 11, SPRR survey. That puts it four and one-half miles southeast of Vancouver.
Rotary tools will be used to drill to 5,000 feet, beginning immediately.
The project is six miles north and slightly east of Amerada No. 1 Joan Chambers Dennis, active wildcat in section 3, Lucinda Byfield survey.
At latest report, No. 1 Dennis was bottomed at 5,195 feet and was preparing to take a drillstem test. Earlier on a one-hour drillstem test at 4,925-5,025 feet, recovery was 90 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil or gas.

SE Lamb Wildcat Drilling After DST

San Juan Exploration Company was drilling below 6,575 feet in dolomite at No. 1 P. E. Jones, wildcat in Southeast Lamb County, after salty sulphur water developed on a drillstem test in the Tubb.
Tools were open three hours. Interval tested was from 6,460 to 6,515 feet. Recovery was 110 feet of salty sulphur water and 90 feet of slightly gas-cut mud.
Location for the wildcat is 330 feet from south and west lines of labor 16, league 687, State Capitol Lands survey and eight miles south-east of Littlefield.

President Takes Red Peace Approaches At 'Face Value'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov had President Eisenhower's own words Friday to assure him that all Russian peace approaches are being received by the U. S. government at full face value.
Eisenhower made this statement at a news conference Thursday, saying the government should take every offer made by Russia at face value until it is proved not worthy of being so considered.

Work On Directory Started At Pecos

PECOS—Work has begun on compiling a Pecos City Directory.
The directory will include Balmorhea, Tovar, Mentone and rural areas of Loving, Reeves and the Western portion of Ward County.
It is being compiled by W. H. Pavillard, representative of W. J. Winter Company.

Midland Man To Dig SE Sterling Wildcat

Paul L. Crandell of Midland has staked his No. 1 T. H. Humble as a new wildcat in Southeast Sterling County.
Cable tools will be used to drill to projected depth of 1,600 feet. Drilling is 330 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 30, block 11, SP survey, and two and five-eighths miles northwest of the Clark (San Antonio) field.

San Andres Tester Set In C-W Hockley

Western Drilling Company Inc. of Lubbock will drill a 5,000-foot San Andres wildcat in Central-West Hockley County.
It is No. 1 Nellie S. DeLoache and is located 440 feet from south and west lines of labor 4, league 81, Shackelford County School Land survey, A-208.
That makes it one and seven-eighths miles north of the Levelland field.

Ellenburger Wildcat Set For S-C Nolan

Jones & Stanley of Albany and others have spotted location for a 7,800-foot Ellenburger wildcat in South-Central Nolan County.
Location for No. 1 G. W. Cochran, et al is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 112, block 1-A, H&TC survey. That makes it four and three-quarters miles southeast of Marynale.
Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Image On Burial Shroud Yields Clues For Artist's Portrait Of Jesus Christ

By FRANK BRUTTO
ROME—(AP)—Jesus Christ was more than six feet tall, long-limbed and finely muscled.
This is the conclusion of Roman sculptor-artist Lorenzo Ferri after 21 years of study of the Sancta Sindone, the shroud believed by many scholars to be the white linen cloth Joseph of Arimathea wrapped around Jesus' body after it was taken down from the cross.
Ferri is convinced that the shroud—preserved in a cathedral at Turin and long the property of the former royal house of Italy—is the cloth of which both St. Luke and St. John wrote.
St. Luke, describing Jesus' passion and death, wrote that a man named Joseph went to Pilate and begged the body of Jesus.
Imprint of Figure
"And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid." (Luke Chapter 23, Verse 53).
Like Veronica's veil, with which the holy woman wiped the sweating bleeding face of Jesus as he labored under the cross on the way to Calvary, the shroud bears an imprint. The imprint is of an entire body, both front and back.
Its history has been well known for ages. In the past it was the center of frequent and sometimes hot debate over its authenticity. It remained for the discovery of modern photography to bring about new intensive study of the shroud.

By FRANK BRUTTO
ROME—(AP)—Actress Zsa Zsa Gabor arrived from New York Friday to visit her husband, actor George Sanders, for the second time in two months.
Sanders is working in a picture directed by Roberto Rossellini and starring Rossellini's wife, Ingrid Bergman.
Pope Pius in 1951. The Pope later accepted reproductions of the head of Christ sculptured by Ferri after minute calculations of the image on the shroud.
These show a noble, majestic face, with a powerful, dominant brow, prominent nose, mobile lips and two-tufted beard.
When the shroud was exhibited publicly in 1898 a photograph of it was permitted. There was a sensation when it was discovered that the photographic negative held a positive image. This proved that the image on the shroud, in effect, itself was a negative.
Life-Sized Copy
Ferri, in his studies, uses life-sized copies of the most recent photographs of the shroud made in 1952.
Meticulous study of these photographs finally led to Ferri's belief Jesus Christ was considerably taller than first thought from preliminary examinations of the shroud. These had conceived of the figure as having been straight and flat on the cloth.
Ferri noted that its folded hands came to a point on the thighs they could not reach normally if the figure were erect or lying flat. From this he deduced that Jesus' body was curved slightly in the shape of the letter "S."
Uses Live Models
Then, using living models and placing them on a sheet that reproduced the measurements of the shroud, he arrived at his computation of Christ's height. This, he discovered could not be less than six feet one nor more than six feet two.
Dr. Paul Vignon in 1901 read a paper before the Academic des Sciences in which he maintained the impression upon the shroud was a "vapograph" caused by ammoniacal emanations radiating from the surface of Christ's body after so violent a death. Such vapors, he said, were capable of producing a deep reddish brown stain, varying in intensity with the distance, upon a cloth impregnated with oils and aloes.

St. John, in his version of the crucifixion and death of Jesus, mentioned the mixture with which his body was anointed and which—students of Sindone now believe—produced the negative impression on the fine linen mesh.

EAGER BEAVER STUBS HIS TOE

ALLIANCE, OHIO.—(AP)—Police Friday held a volunteer fireman who admitted he started seven small fires just so he could drive the department's new fire engine.
Harold R. Haas, 24, was held under $5,000 bail for grand jury action after pleading guilty in Municipal Court. Six of the blazes were grass fires and the other caused $500 damage to a barn.
Haas drove the shiny new fire truck to all the fires and helped put them out.

INDIANS PITCHER RICHER, ONE-MAN TEAM LOSER AS HOLDOUTS SIGNED

The Midland Indians became a pitcher richer and, at the same time, lost a one-man ball team in Thursday afternoon player negotiations.

Hurler Freddie Rodriguez accepted the club's terms and Glen Selbo accepted another's as the Indian front office settled two holdout problems.

Rodriguez, a veteran right-hander, won six and lost seven last season with Havana of the Class B Florida-International League. He told General Manager Horace Busby by phone that he would sign on arrival. He said he was leaving his native Cuba immediately to join Midland at Fredericksburg.

Selbo, who spent the Winter mulling over whether to play semi-pro ball and work in Wisconsin or return to the Indians, decided on the former and told President Marion Flynn Friday.

For the Indians, his decision meant the loss of a regular outfielder, part-time pitcher, occasional shortstop and one who can catch, too. He hit five homers and posted a .345 average in 28 games here last season.

Bulldog Nine Stops Tornadoes, 13 To 10

LAMESA — Rusty Rutledge and Jesse Hatfield accepted their selection as Midland High baseball co-captains by promptly showing the Bulldogs to a hit-happy, 13-10 victory over Lamesa here Thursday afternoon.

Both the new leaders slammed three hits in the victory which was Midland's second in four warm-ups. District play begins next week.

Boyce McKnight, although hit freely, became the second Midland pitcher to endure the distance. It was his first win, the other being recorded by Snookie Roberts against the same Tornadoes Tuesday.

Lamesa also collected 14 hits, with Wayland Reeves the top man with three of them. Two were doubles.

Midland had little trouble against the all-the-way pitching of Lamesa's Johnny Weaver and had him down, 9-2 through three innings.

A three-run outburst by Midland in the second frame sent the team of Coaches Keith Bobo and Louis Grevelle ahead for good. Tommy Spencer tripped to start the frame and scored on Bobby Claborn's single. A fielder's choice and singles by McKnight and Hatfield drove in two more runs.

Hatfield pushed in two more of a six-run spree in Midland's run-away third inning.

Four runs in the seventh inning assured the Bulldogs of a win. McKnight fanned two batters and walked two while Weaver put down four Bulldogs in strikes and walked six.

Midland's next game is at home Tuesday with Odessa. It's a district encounter.

MHS Athletes Busy As Bees This Week

Midland High School athletes are having a busy weekend. The golf team is at College Station competing against 24 other teams in the Texas A&M High School Invitational. The tennis team is at Abilene for the Abilene Invitational Tennis Tournament, and the track squad is at Big Spring for the ABC Relays.

Coach Audrey Gill's four-man squad of Marcelino Moreno, Lee Sneed, David Breedlove and Buzzy Bray was playing 36 holes Friday and was set for a similar round Saturday.

Midland is one of the 12 teams entered in the tennis tourney. Coach Frank Ford believes his best bet for a victory lies in the girls' singles with Ellen Dechicich the principal contestant.

Other netters who made the trip are John Galle and John McGulgan, singles; John Vandeventer, Clayton Tatom and Johnny Godwin, Jimmy Garvin, doubles; Dot Faye Black-Carolyn Faris and Wanda Murray-Janna Murray, doubles.

Schepps Out Of Debt, Sees Big Year Now

CORPUS CHRISTI — (AP) — George Schepps was to sign a new six-year lease on Schepps Palms, the Gulf Coast League ball park here, Friday.

"I am returning to the park debt free and looking forward to a big season," Schepps said, predicting that his club would draw 125,000 attendance this season and would win the Gulf Coast pennant.

Schepps encountered financial troubles during the Winter and the park was taken away from him. But he said he had settled all obligations and that his club was in top financial condition and ready to go.

"The Gulf Coast League is in the best condition in its history," he added.

Bolt, Unknowns In Azalea Spotlight

WILMINGTON, N. C. — (AP) — Tommy Bolt, the year's No. 3 money winner of professional golf, and three comparative strangers hogged the spotlight going into Friday's second round of the $10,000 Azalea Open Tournament.

Bolt, the Oklahoma-Texas pro who now registers out of Maplewood, N. J., came through on schedule with a six-under-par 66 in Thursday's opening round.

But the big news was the way three unheralded performers came through. Mike Souchak, who graduated from Duke University last Spring, matched Bolt's 33-33 card.

He and Bolt were only one stroke ahead of two other performers—Wally Ulrich of Austin, Minn., and Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, 1950 National Intercollegiate champion.

Locked at 68, two strokes off the top end, were Cary Middlecoff, Memphis, the No. 2 money winner of the year; Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, and John Ruedi, the greenskeeper at the host Cape Fear Country Club.

If any faltered there were five 69 shooters ready to charge into the gap: Johnny Bulla, Verona, Pa.; Jay Hebert, Erie, Pa.; Lew Worsham, Okmont, Pa.; Leo Biagetti, Baltimore, and Doug Ford, Harrison, N. Y.

All told, 26 players bettered par 72 over the 6,652-yard layout with six others matching the standard figures in ideal weather.

Low amateur was Ray Taylor, Jr., Southern Pines, N. C., with 70. The field will be cut to the low 60 and ties for the Saturday and Sunday play.

Grover Cleveland Alexander pitched four one-hitters during the 1915 season. This is a record that has never been topped.

Bob Leggett of Rice Outlasts Texas Trio, Earns Only 2-2 Tie

HOUSTON — (AP) — Any pitcher going 15 innings is doing quite a day's work, and if it's in March in college baseball it's on the terrific side.

That's what Bobby Leggett did for Rice as the Owls fought Texas to a 2-2 tie in 15 innings. Texas used three pitchers but Bobby just went all the way. Texas scored in the first inning but from then until the ninth got only one hit.

From the ninth through the fifteenth Texas had at least one man on base an inning as Leggett tired. But the game young man from Harlingen just "bowed his neck" and came through.

It was quite a feat.

NEW LOOK IS APPEALING—

Wilkinson Changes Tune: Optimistic For A Change

By ABE WEINER
Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff

A man who perennially bellies his own team's chances is optimistic for a change, but the reason isn't because he thinks his club will bat 1,000 against big league competition next Fall.

The man is Bud Wilkinson, renowned Oklahoma coach, and the reason for his optimism is he believes the Big Seven Conference will:

1. Work out of its difficulties concerning athletic scholarships with the North Central Association.

2. Approve Oklahoma's request to continue playing its annual game with Texas at the current site—Dallas.

Wilkinson made these observations in an interview Thursday afternoon and repeated them at the Oklahoma Ex-Students Association meeting Thursday night. He and Bill Jennings, assistant coach, also showed the OU ex-students films of the OU-Texas and OU-Notre Dame football games of 1952.

The soft-spoken, personable Sooner coach made his usual prediction that Missouri is the team to beat in the Big Seven football chase next Fall.

His own club, he feels, will need half the season to develop because of the terrific manpower losses it suffered.

"By mid-season, we should have a pretty solid team," he said. "Our chances against Notre Dame, Pittsburgh and Texas are just so-so. That's real big league competition."

In explaining his outlook on the NCA's athletic policy, the Oklahoma coach traced the development of the rule.

It came about, he said, as a result of the college presidents' adoption of a code of ethics. This group's policy regarding athletic scholarships is that a student should progress with his class in order to be eligible for one.

When it took the action, Wilkinson explained, it asked the nation's six accrediting groups to enforce the code. Other agencies felt that it was not their job, but the NCA set out to abide by it. Furthermore, the NCA passed a rule to the effect that "athletic ability shall not be considered" in awarding scholarships.

Recently, however, the NCA adopted an interpretation which amounts to the same as the college presidents'. Also, a meeting with Big Seven, Skyline, and Big Ten officials is set for late April to discuss the point.

Moving to the Texas-OU game's chances of remaining in Dallas, Wilkinson was very optimistic. He explained that the rule originally was made in order to help two schools located in small towns out of the embarrassing position of having to refuse offers to play their games in a larger nearby city. He pointed out that the rule virtually is ignored in other sports, and he feels the Big Seven will relax its policy.

"Anyway," he sighed, "we're free of worry about that until 1956, when the resolution expires."

Just to even his tally sheet, genial Bud switched to a pessimistic outlook regarding Oklahoma's chances of being admitted to the Southwestern Conference.

Tremendous pressure being exerted upon the SWC by Texas Tech and the University of Houston precludes OU's entry, he feels.

The advantages to Oklahoma are about even considering the Sooners will miss traditional games, better basketball and track competition, and wrestling competition entirely in order to gain better football, baseball, golf, tennis and swimming.

Another stumbling block is the SWC's unwillingness to depart from a round robin schedule which would be impossible in an eight-team league and still allow four inter-sectional games which conference teams like so much.

North Texas Thinlins Enter Southern Races

DENTON — (AP) — Five North Texas State trackmen left Friday for Birmingham, Ala., and the Southern Relays.

The quintet will split to form teams in the sprint medley and mile relays. Dean Renfro, Charlie Teague, Walter Lindsey, and Paul Patterson form the sprint medley team. Ken Smith will replace Patterson for the mile event.

Roughnecks Open Drills; Seek Help

The Midland Roughnecks, a semi-pro outfit that boasts a flock of professionals, started daily practices Thursday at Wadley Field.

Manager Les Cobb has invited anyone wishing to tryout for the club to be present at one of the workouts in the near future. The practices are held at 5:30 p.m. daily. He said he needs more players to round out the squad.

Cobb said he has tentative arrangements to meet several professional teams in this area in the near future.

Bucceroni Favored In Fight With Davey

NEW YORK — (AP) — Stringy Danny Bucceroni of Philadelphia is an 11-to-5 favorite to repeat his triumph over husky Dave Davey of Seattle in the feature ten-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena Friday night. The 9 p.m. (CST) bout will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC).

The odds seem out of line in view of the narrow escape Bucceroni had in the first fight here last October 17. The 25-year-old Philadelphiaan piled up a big lead and barely won as Davey put on a closing rally.

Floyd To Have Seven Lettermen In Ag Drills

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Coach John Floyd will have seven lettermen on hand when Texas A&M Spring basketball practice begins next Tuesday.

The lettermen are Don Binford, Don Mon, Bob Johnson, Rodney Pirtle, Pat McCrory, James Addison and Roy Martin. In addition, there will be Ken Sutton, six-foot-nine, recently discharged serviceman who will work out prior to enrolling again Next Fall.

PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

These are the times of crises and times that try baseball players' souls, so whoever winds up on the Midland Indian roster is therefore a man indeed.

He has survived squad-trimming time, now thick upon us. About six players training now in Fredericksburg won't be lucky.

Manager Jay Haney, the man with the paring knife, notified the home front Thursday to go ahead with plans to place one rookie, Pitcher Thomas (Pat) McCormick, that the New Yorker brought to Texas by Ed Menapace is not up to Class C ball yet.

That move, outside of whacking a pair last week who obviously aren't of pro ability, can be looked upon as the beginning of the Indians' retrenchment. Midland has no other choice, for Spring training is growing long and the season near.

After Friday, only five days remain before Haney starts his "staples" on their final bus trip home. He planned the ride without any spares.

And, actually, you and I can just about name the club now, by analyzing things said, and unsaid, during early workouts.

Let's take a look down the Haney scissors and see, position by position, whom they apparently are pointing at:

First, behind the bat—

The two happy-go-luckies, Many-faces Menapace and Freddie Lu-Jan, are on the outside, perhaps not so happy and not so lucky, but surely going. Things could be worse: suppose Statesboro, Ga. (Class D) had not already begun dickering with Midland for their services? A move that may surprise would be the sale of Gordon Tanner, last year's regular, but if we delve into Haney's mind, the thought is there—and has been since Art Bowland was signed by the club this week. Whether Tanner is content to stay around as a reserve means everything concerning his future.

Otherwise, Tex Stephenson hires out for two jobs, regular outfielder and reserve catcher.

Around the horn—

Outfielder Hayden White and rookie Milton Wallendorf will continue their fight over first—and be joined by Jim Pines—all the way home. Roger Della Betta, because of his super showing now, is in at second. Scooter Hughes at shortstop and Julio de la Torre at third.

That puts Woody Pennington, returnee, and Quentin Basco under the axe, one to remain as a utility infielder. Both could be sold or optioned, but Basco has the best chance of staying because he has this year and the next to be classified as a limited service player.

In the outfield—

If Lu-Jan goes, Midland loses a spare outfielder. White may make first base. And Selbo is gone. Therefore, this is no contest; it's Lou Dawson, Stephenson and Bill Brown, no strings attached.

It's the same on the mound—

Midland, for the first time, quit worrying about its pitching when Veteran Freddie Rodriguez signed in a surprise move, for it left him, Eddie Jacome, Ben Quintana and Ralph Blair as the dependables. Then, Romarico Soto—where can he be?—and rookie Bud Siak also will be around for a time.

Those of you who root for spunky Chuck Tanner have good news too. Haney likes the rookie's work and, except that the too-youngster has a lot of growing up to do, is keeping him a while to train. Haney thinks the quick-learning Canadian next needs a year in D.

Mind you, all this is in the abstract but don't bet against it. Haney, who hasn't said a bit of this, reserves the right to change our mind-reading.

Houston Stops SLI

HOUSTON—The University of Houston and Southwestern Louisiana Institute meet again here Friday in a three-game baseball series. Thursday Houston downed SLI, 5-4, in the initial game.

Thorpe Rites Planned For Oklahoma Home

SHAWNEE, OKLA. —(P)—Jim Thorpe, the greatest athlete of them all, will be laid to rest in his native Oklahoma and a shrine is planned in his honor to rival the Will Rogers Memorial in Claremore. Shawnee civic leaders announced the Indian athlete's widow, Patricia, had consented to his burial here near the place of his birth. His body will be returned for additional rites Thursday following a funeral in Los Angeles Monday. Thorpe, voted the athlete of the half-century in an Associated Press poll, died Saturday in his Lomita, Calif., home at the age of 64.

Jacome, Blair Team To Hurl In Austin Tilt

AUSTIN — Whether Midland's baseball team is stepping out of its class, as well as its classification, in exhibition games partly will be answered Friday night when the Indians march against Austin of the Big State League.

The Big Staters are class B—like three others on the Indian schedule—while back home in the Longhorn League, Midland is a Class C club.

Manager Jay Haney, for the 8 p.m. game in Diech Field, consequently has a big hand to play in trying to overcome the apparent difference in the teams. He saved his pitching ace, Eddie Jacome, from an earlier encounter just for this outing, Jacome, who won 22 in regular play and five in playoff games last season, is scheduled to hurl four or five innings and, in turn, yield the mound to Ralph Blair.

Outside of Midland's building a stellar team for Longhorn contention, the factors in Friday's game favor the Pioneers.

Austin is loaded. Austin has been at training from two to three weeks longer than Midland.

Austin has been in about a dozen exhibitions.

And Austin may place Dean Franks, 23-game winner, on the mound where he's well remembered by the Indians.

Franks once scored 30 victories for Rowell in the Longhorn loop. Any Austin hurler—including Bill Winn, George Socha, of last year's playoff finalists, Coy Taylor or Roger May—is capable of going the distance, also, and may be called on to do so Friday.

Those players whom Manager Al Unser retained from 1952 include its sparkling outfield of Ed Wayne, Don Mason and Al Jenkins along with First Baseman Bill Anko-viak.

Unser, a former major leaguer, heads the new crop rounding out the lineup, including Infielders Billy Ashley, Paul Weeks, Bob Bauer and Jerry Mays.

While Midland tries its second exhibition foe, team President Marion Flynt has arrived here to watch and begin questioning Haney on just when and where to begin selling and placing some of the excess Indians.

Flynt arrived here Thursday night.

The Indians go back to the hills after the game, resuming Spring drills in Fredericksburg.

OU Runners Capture NTS Relays Easily

DENTON—Oklahoma University's star-studded Sooner track team is champion of the North Texas Relays.

The Sooners took five first places, set three new records and racked up 35 points Thursday to win the second annual event easier than anybody expected.

North Texas State, the host team, picked up 28 1/3 points for second place while Southern Methodist grabbed third place with 25 1/3 points.

Other team totals in the college-university class were Hardin-Simmons 10, Texas Christian 9, ACC 8, Howard Payne 7 1/2, McMurry 7, Southwestern State 4 1/2.

John Tartton won the junior college division with 18 points. Paris Junior College and Decatur Junior College, the only other two teams competing, had 11 and 9 points, respectively.

The Sooners set two records in the relay events and one in the high hurdles. Their two-mile relay team snapped Houston University's 8:01.5 mark with a time of 7:53.2. The distance medley quartet won in 10:29.7 to edge NTSC's record of 10:47.8.

The Sooners also won the mile relay in 3:23.8. And the 440 relay in 42 seconds flat.

Ronnie Dobson did the high hurdles in 14.5 seconds to break NTSC runner Ted Smith's 14.7 mark.

Charlie Teague, North Texas, edged SMU's Buddy Goode to finish the 100-yard dash in 9.5 and tie the record set by Ray Renfro in 1952.

Ray Lucas, NTSC; Glen Peavy, SWTS, and Dick Burnett, SMU, each vaulted 12-6 to tie the record. Rodney Williams, SMU, hurled the discus 143 feet in 3/4-inch to set a discus record.

Jack Mayo cleared the fences with two out in the ninth to tie the score and then Grassy Hamner drove one over the centerfield wall in the 10th to give the Philadelphia Phils a 9-8 victory over the Boston Red Sox at Wavercross. Gay Mayo's homer was his second of the game and Earl Torgeson of the Phils also hit two.

The St. Louis Browns took a 5-4 edge in their Spring series with the Chicago Cubs by whipping the National Leagueurs, 9-4, at Alpine, Texas. Herbert Kokernot, a Texas rancher, donated $1,900 in prizes for the games and the Browns picked up $1,390 of the jackpot with a 15-hit assault.

Detroit defeated the Cincinnati "B" team at Lakeside, Fla., 9-7. The St. Louis Cardinals won over Birmingham of the Southern Association, 6-2.

Ft. Worth of the Texas League tripped the Chicago White Sox, 6-4, in a 10-inning fight game.

EDDIE JACOME

... Against Franks?

Fight Reset—Same Boxers, Same Blades

CHICAGO—(P)—Seldom has a nose bleed caused so much confusion as Rocky Marciano's.

It has forced a five-week postponement of the champion's heavyweight title fight with Jersey Joe Walcott. The scrap, all geared up for April 10, has been delayed until May 15.

It will be at the same place, Chicago Stadium; have the same television sponsor, a razor blade company, be on the same night of the week, Friday, and undoubtedly have more 500 customers in the bag for the original scale of 12,000 seats at that price.

The IBC, admitting the sale of its $50 seats was slow, requested the Illinois Athletic Commission to postpone the bout Thursday because of Marciano's bloody nose.

Harrison Hill Him Rocky, apparently, had been having nose trouble at his Holland, Mich., training camp ever since he was clouted on it Sunday by spartan Tommy Harrison. It bled then and again during workouts Tuesday.

Late Wednesday a nose specialist from Holland was consulted and examined Rocky. It turned out the champion had two ruptured small blood vessels.

"If the fighter had gone into the ring in that condition," said commission member Lou Radzilenski, "he wouldn't be worth two cents and a blow might even have ended his career."

It all brought a shudder to Al Weill, Rocky's manager, who recalled what happened once to one of his other fighters, Marty Servo. Servo never was able to defend the welterweight title he won from Freddie Cochrane because of a nose injury in a bout with Rocky Graziano.

Schoolboy Relayists Add Extra Feature To UT-Aggie Dual

CORPUS CHRISTI—A dozen high schools will have teams here Saturday night to run relay races in the sixth annual Quarterback Relays. The schoolboys will compete as an added attraction to a dual meet between Texas and Texas A&M.

Teams have been entered from Amarillo, Austin, Galveston, Baytown, North Dallas, Brackennridge (San Antonio), Ray and Miller of Corpus Christi and Lamar, Reagan, Austin and San Jacinto or Houston.

Events in which the schoolboys will compete are the 440, 880, mile, short sprint medley, sprint medley and distance medley relays.

In the college division, Texas A&M will be a heavy favorite to beat Texas but the Longhorns are due to furnish some of the record-breakers.

Bulldogs To Buck Strong ABC Field

By ABE WEINER

Midland High's tracksters, 16-strong, will leave early Saturday for Big Spring and the ABC Relays with hopes of smashing a pair of records.

Some 300 cindermen representing 33 schools are scheduled to take a hand in the relays and are expected to attract a crowd upwards of 500, meet Director Carl A. Coleman of Big Spring said Friday. The competition is expected to be stiff with such a strong field, Coleman said.

Abilene's Eagles, winners of the Bluebonnet Relays, are favorites to walk off with the team trophy, but Odessa is defending champion and isn't expected to yield its crown without a bitter fight.

The Eagles are particularly strong in the field events with such stand-out performers as Lee Newman in the discus, Gayle Myatt in the pole vault and broad jump, Winton Thomas in the pole vault, and Marion Truitt in the high jump.

Midland has high hopes of breaking both the mile relay and 440-yard run standards. The present record in the relay event is 3:30.8 set by Big Spring in 1948. The 440 mark is 51.3, a time the Bulldogs' Roy Kimsey has bettered on two occasions this year.

Besides Kimsey, the squad Coach Edwin Nixon will take to the meet is composed of Roddy Braun, Bill

Dykes Closes Fast To Score Decision Over Jim Martinez

SAN ANTONIO—(P)—Bobby Dykes of San Antonio rallied in the closing rounds Thursday night to win a unanimous 10-round decision over Jimmy Martinez, Alandale, Ariz.

Dykes weighed 156, Martinez 157. Martinez built up an early lead, but Dykes, far from peak form, scored in the closing rounds with ripping lefts to the mid-section and short rights to the head to win the verdict.

The oldest player on the Cincinnati Reds' roster is southpaw hurler Ken Raffensberger. He will be 36 on August 8.

Firing Begins In Zaharias Golf Tourney

BEAUMONT—(P)—Hometowner and Honoree Babe Didrikson Zaharias was the sentimental favorite Friday as the $3,500 women's open golf tournament named for her started.

But the Babe had plenty of tough competition on hand with Beverly Hanson and Marilyn Smith the only top pros missing.

The tournament is for 54 holes over the 6,219-yard Beaumont Country Club course.

Patty Berg, winner of the New Orleans Open Monday; Louise Suggs, current leading money winner among the women pros; Mrs. Jackie Pung, the chubby Hawaiian who finished third at New Orleans, and Mrs. Alice Bauer Haggie, fifth-place finisher at New Orleans, head the pros.

Others are Betsy Rawls, Betty McKinnon, Betty Bush, Betty Dodd and Peggy Kirk.

Amateurs are led by Polly Riley, the Curtis Cup star from Fort Worth, and Lesbia Lobo, sensational young San Antonio star and current Texas amateur and Public Links champion.

McCarthy Wins Again As Ike Fails To Condemn Ship Deals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) evidently regarded as a victory Friday President Eisenhower's refusal to condemn his unorthodox attempts to curb free world trade with Communist nations.

Eisenhower discounted the contention of Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen that McCarthy was undermining the State Department and some of its policies by getting pledges from Greek ship owners not to trade with Red China and North Korea.

Heart Seizure Kills Dr. H. Klapproth, Pioneer Midlander

Dr. Herman Klapproth, 49, member of a pioneer Midland family, died in his sleep Thursday night at the family residence, 402 South Marlenfeld Street. A heart condition was listed as the cause.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church with Dr. Luther Kirk, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Fairview Cemetery, with the Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor in charge of arrangements.

"We have not done that, and we do not intend to," he added. Clearly pleased by the over-all tenor of what Eisenhower had said, the senator told reporters: "I assume he would agree that if ship owners voluntarily remove their ships from trade with the Communists, that is a blow to the enemy and an aid to us."

McCarthy made public then a letter to Secretary of State Dulles announcing that another foreign ship owner was "voluntarily removing his vessels from the trade with Red China and the Soviet bloc nations."

ALL THREE CARRY A-BOMBS—A few years ago the only planes that could carry the then-cumbersome A-bomb were the giant B-36, center, and the B-47, top. But now because of the reduction in the size of the atomic weapon, the F-84G, a one-man aircraft, can effectively carry the bomb.

THESE WOMEN CAN FOOL YOU

FORT WORTH (AP)—The father of two children got a date, just like he had been trying to do while many attractive women streamed into a building Thursday night.

But the date was with officer J. L. Craxdale and at police headquarters the man, 29, learned the truth:

The women were wives of policemen going to a meeting of the ladies auxiliary of the Fort Worth Police Officers' Association.

LEARNING THE ROPES, EARLY—Born in the circus tradition, this three-year-old boy manages a brave smile as he takes his first steps on the slack rope, with mother providing a helping hand. His parents are performers in Rome's "Cogni" circus.

Loss In Texarkana Blaze Tops Million

TEXARKANA—(P)—Firemen brought an oil-fed fire under control three miles southwest of here late Thursday after a 10-hour fight.

The fire started about 6:45 a.m. after an oil-filled cylinder blew up at one of the world's largest creosoting plants.

Workmen, none of whom were reported injured, said they heard a "dull thud" before they saw the flames. The fire, fed by 400,000 gallons of oil, spread through an area containing railroad cars, trucks and engines, automobiles, six oil tanks a machine shop and three buildings.

Damage was estimated by the International Creosoting and Construction Company, at "more than a million dollars."

Several firemen received slight burns.

Legal Ruling Halts Plans For Building State-Owned Hotels

AUSTIN—(P)—The fate of three proposed million dollar hotels on state parks was uncertain Friday.

The attorney general ruled the board had no authority to issue negotiable revenue bonds to build the hotels.

"This is it—this will stop them," said Rep. Jack Fisk of Wharton, who has fought most of this session to stop them.

Frank Quinn of Austin, chairman of the State Parks Board, said the group would go ahead with their plans, pending any test in court. Executive secretary Gordon Shearer, said he wanted to study the opinion before commenting.

Fisk has said that if they go ahead, he'll file an injunction to stop them. The board has planned to build hotels on Lake Texoma near Denison and Sherman, on Inks Lake near Burnet and on Possum Kingdom Lake near Mineral Wells.

AFTER CONDEMNING SECRECY— Lawmakers Bar Newsman As Panel Prepares Budget

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN—(P)—The House-Senate Committee trying to reach agreement on how much the state should spend the next two years stood Friday on keeping its deliberations secret.

While most other lawmakers had gone home for Easter, the 10 members of the joint conference committee were striving wearily to complete work on a compromise General Appropriation Bill by Sunday—possibly sooner.

Their work was interrupted by a reporter who sought the right to report first-hand their progress on a bill expected to authorize spending of $160,000,000 to $170,000,000 for the biennium.

Pressed by the reporter for permission to get by the guarded door to the committee room, Senator Otis Lock, Lufkin, said "Come on in, but you won't learn anything."

Members Walk Out
Lock was right.

When the reporter walked in, the committee members walked out.

Lock, chairman of the Senate panel, said closed sessions were "the policy of the committee, following the precedent set by committees in past years."

"We held hearings on budget requests for six weeks. All hearings were open. Everyone was welcome—heads of departments, any employee, the press.

"We are now in process of trying to adjust differences between the two houses. We think we can expedite the people's business better by not having additional witnesses and public hearings.

"It becomes a public hearing when the press appears. I don't think the press has any more right here than department heads.

"We're doing it the way we think the Legislature and the people want it done.

Seek 'Best Results'

"We think we're proceeding under methods that will accomplish the best results."

Did the committee of five senators and five representatives vote to hold closed meetings?

"They were closed by common understanding," said Lock.

Another senator joined Lock to explain the committee's attitude.

"If we held open meetings now, it would be like a jury trying to decide how to divide the money left a bunch of relatives in front of the relatives," said the senator, who didn't want to be quoted by name.

"This is awfully embarrassing to me," he said. "You've got a job to do, and we've got a job to do—and we're going to do it the way we think best."

What about that resolution passed by the Senate last month condemning secret sessions by federal agencies?

'Very Embarrassing'

"Very embarrassing. That puts us in a bad light with the public."

Senator Crawford Martin, Hillsboro, a member of the conference committee, is author of the resolution, which says in part:

"x x x the people's right to know about their own government is a right indispensable to the maintenance of all other rights of a free people; x x x

"x x x the officers of the government of the United States, and those of the counties and cities of the United States x x x are urged to conduct publicly the public business; to make continuously that full disclosure of all public transactions that is the foundation of our freedom and the surest safeguard against corruption and malfeasance, tyranny and oppression; x x x

"x x x citizens everywhere (should) be alerted to the ever present danger that free government may be subverted by secret proceedings that throughout the history of the world have been the refuge of corrupt, wicked, and reactionary governments."

The resolution was adopted by unanimous Senate vote.

Radioactive Dust Proves No Hazard

NEW YORK—(P)—Weather Bureau stations across the country daily set up "fly paper" apparatus to trap and measure electronically radioactive dust from the Nevada atomic blasts.

However, the New York office of the Atomic Energy Commission said Thursday, the increase of radioactivity in the air after a nuclear blast is small and not dangerous.

An AEC spokesman said the readings also serve to gather still more knowledge on the patterns of dust distribution. The daily radioactivity map, he added, shows the movement of dust clouds is west to east.

Kansas Foundation Plans Americanism Program In Schools
KANSAS CITY—(P)—The Eisenhower Foundation, set up originally to build a museum at Abilene, Kan., the President's boyhood home, plans to launch an Americanism program in elementary and high schools.
Gov. Edward F. Arn of Kansas, chairman of the foundation's finance committee, disclosed the plan at a trustees' meeting here Thursday night.
"Although the program is not yet outlined," Arn said, "its purpose would be to get down and tell what Americanism really means."
Arn said the foundation already has spent $130,000 on the Abilene museum building which would be finished within the next two months, but needs $90,000 to complete it.
Trustees agreed that before launching the Americanism program, President Eisenhower would be asked for his opinion on the selection of educators and other nationally prominent persons to administer it.

Socony-Vacuum's Annual Report Uses Large Figures

In its annual report to its 173,000 shareholders, Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., reports a consolidated net income for 1952 of $171,091,587, equal to $5.27 a share on the average number of shares in the hands of the public during the year. This compares with 1951 earnings of $161,622,159, or $5.08 for each share then outstanding.

Magnolia Petroleum Company is the Socony-Vacuum affiliate which operates in the Permian Basin of West Texas and Southeast New Mexico.

Resident Resents Neighbor's Industry

Saturday afternoon, a couple of years ago, this guy rushes into the store. "Say," he says, "I don't like that fertilizer you sell! Now, we are always interested in customer's complaints, but, for the life of me, I couldn't remember selling this character any of that fine Turf Special for his lawn—and I told him so, saying, 'Why, friend, the fertilizer that comes in the red bag never did any harm to anyone, it only does good to the grass and stuff.'"

"That's just it," he retorts. "You didn't sell it to me. You sold it to my neighbor, and now the missus won't let me rest until our lawn looks like his. So, gimme four bags, loan me a spreader, and let peace prevail in my domicile!"

It's about time for Joe to come in again. He's found it easier to row a lawn, and to keep the peace, by coming in around this time of the year to order his Turf Special. And so will you!

WILCOX HARDWARE

The report emphasizes that 1952 earnings include a credit of $7,600,000 arising from a reduction of 1951 federal taxes on income, due to carry-back. If earnings for both years could have been adjusted accordingly, the 1952 earnings would have been slightly under those for 1951.

Higher Than In 1951
Socony-Vacuum's gross income was $1,622,254,935, somewhat higher than the $1,584,044,544 reported for 1951.

Cash dividends paid by the company in 1952 totaled $65,193,854, compared with $57,243,384 paid in 1951.

Socony-Vacuum closed the year with $288,897,467 in cash and marketable securities, against $196,677,778 at the end of 1951. The sharp increase resulted from the sale last fall of 3,180,183 shares of additional capital stock. Net current assets were $463,021,459, compared with $348,553,393 the previous year. Book value increased during the year to $1,511,477,065, equal to $43.21 a share.

Large Expenditures
The company spent $239,000,000 in 1952 for capital items of all kinds and such expenditures in 1953 are programmed for about $275,000,000. A large part of the money to be spent this year will go into the search for new oil reserves. The producing end of the company's business accounted for 74 per cent of all capital outlays in 1952.

Among 1953 expenditures on refining will be about a third of the $36,000,000 cost of Socony-Vacuum's new West Coast refinery to be built on Puget Sound and the bulk of the $27,000,000 Thermo-Catalytic Reforming program for gasoline improvement.

Output Rose
The company's crude oil output rose five per cent during 1952, averaging 249,000 barrels a day gross and 219,000 barrels a day net. Of 60 wildcats drilled, 13 produced oil or gas. Ninety per cent of the 789 development wells drilled were productive. The company's gross reserves of crude oil and condensates were estimated at 1,660 million barrels.

In addition to its productive oil lands, Socony-Vacuum owned or had under lease in the United States at the year's end 11.7 million acres, including 3.1 million in the U. S. part of the Williston Basin.

Crude runs to Flying Red Horse refineries in the U. S. averaged 507,000 barrels a day, a decline of three per cent.

Foreign Operations
The company achieved record volumes in all phases of its operations abroad. It reported, however, that these "operations were somewhat complicated by the continued shortage of U. S. dollars in many foreign countries" and that "several subsidiaries and affiliates faced mounting pressure to accept currencies not readily convertible into dollars in payment for crude oil, products and tanker freights."

Last year Socony-Vacuum's gross crude oil production averaged 56,500 barrels a day in Venezuela, 14,000 from the Barco Concession in Colombia, 16,600 in Egypt, and 3,900 in West Germany. The company's supply from Saudi Arabia, Iraq and Qatar, plus Kuwait crude purchased under long-term contracts with Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, Ltd., averaged 164,000 barrels a day.

Socony-Vacuum's search for new foreign sources of crude supply was concentrated largely in Western Canada. At the end of 1952 it had an interest in 8.4 million acres, including 3.8 million in the Williston Basin in Southern Saskatchewan, where it made five separate oil discoveries during the year.

The company's five European refineries processed crude oil at a rate of 100,000 barrels a day. Sales of Socony-Vacuum products in the Eastern Hemisphere, Canada and Latin America averaged 150,000 barrels a day.

In the president's letter to shareholders, B. Brewster Jennings expressed his belief that the industry is not overbuilding.

"Any major industry such as oil cannot serve the public properly unless it is in a position to accommodate itself to sudden changes in demand," he said, "and this can be done only if some extra capacity is in hand. Moreover, those in our government responsible for military oil supply have been urging the industry to provide a still larger cushion of production, refining, transportation and storage capacity. Socony-Vacuum and other oil companies are continuing to respond to this call for preparedness."

Botany, science of plants and study of their growth and responses to the forces of nature, often has been called the "key to agriculture."

Wife Of Defense Secretary Finds Washington Exciting

By PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—There are hazards a-plenty to this Cabinet wife job. But the mate of ex-General Motors magnate Charles E. Wilson is taking them in stride—everything from getting lost in the Pentagon to having hot coffee poured down her back.

Mrs. Wilson merely joked about the coffee incident, which occurred during a 15-minute stint of pouring at a gala reception given to honor the Eisenhowers.

"I've already been properly initiated into the Washington pourers," she laughed.

As for the time the wife of the secretary of Defense spent trying to untangle herself in the maze of Pentagon corridors after a visit to her husband's office—well, the gray-haired, good-natured grandmother considers it initiation to the rank of full-fledged Washingtonian.

Another Cabinet-spouse pitfall is side-stepped by Jessie Wilson—the protocol-happy hostesses out to lure Republican rank to their gatherings. A certain "nameless" Pentagon officer stands by as the Wilsons' private party eye, steering them through the invitation puzzle.

Martin Sets C-C Banquet

STANTON—Louis E. Throgmorton, Dallas insurance executive, will speak before the annual Martin County Chamber of Commerce at the high school at 7:30 p.m. April 28.

Throgmorton is vice president and director of public relations with the Republic National Life Insurance Company of Dallas. He is in great demand as a speaker, delivering more than 200 addresses each year.

S. W. Wheeler, president of the C. of C., will preside at the banquet. Mrs. Wheeler is chairman of the reception committee, made up of directors and their wives.

Cecil Bridges is chairman of the steering committee and Mrs. Frances Graham, high school home economics teacher, will supervise preparations for the banquet.

Elbert Steele and Ray Hastings head the house committee. Other committee heads and chairmen will be named later.

The food value of cabbages is small, apart from their salt and vitamin content, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Straightforwardness creeps out at every conversational turn with the former Jessie Ann Curtis, a gal who grew up in a Pittsburgh suburb, was graduated from business school, and met the secretary of Defense (then a $20-a-week engineer) when she was an $8-a-week stenographer. "Not a secretary," she insists.

Mother Of Six
Finding herself the wife of a General Motors' president with a fleet of private planes for those 5,000-mile-a-week business jaunts she couple's 13 grandchildren brighten their apartment walls.

A businessman or a government servant—it's all the same when it comes to being wed to one, it seems. Which is why brown-eyed Jessie Wilson has for years kept a partially packed overnight bag ready. Business trips are as good a chance as any to be with a busy spouse.

Mrs. Charles E. Wilson: She keeps a bag packed.

They with him, or running three homes plus a Miami Beach apartment, never has turned the head of this attractive ex-stenographer.

With their six children living out of town, the Wilsons' new Washington home is a five-bedroom hotel suite with a living room mostly finished in shades of green (Erwin's favorite color). They brought along the cook from their Michigan home (who knows what Erwin likes to eat).

"Yes, I've always called him Erwin," she confides. "His family did and I got it from them."

THE SYMBOL OF LIFE

Easter lilies and a cross. A strange and wonderful symbol of life. The lily is among the most delicate of flowers. And the cross is an ancient instrument of execution. But the lily is pure and fresh and alive with beauty. And the cross reminds men of the Christ who rose from the grave. Together they echo the promise the first Easter fulfilled, the promise of eternal life for all who believe in Jesus, the Son of God. But Easter lilies and a cross are only a symbol. To find the true joy of Easter and its wondrous promise—come to Church on Easter Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral aid and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Library Relocation, Charter Amendments Eyed By Forum

Relocation of the city library is necessary—at least, so think most of the eight persons who attended Facts Forum Thursday night in the Midland Tower.

But, they couldn't agree on just where to relocate the library, center of recent city-county controversy. "Relocation" is too general a term, they said. It could mean moving the library to a different location, or moving it to any section of town.

A. P. McConnell, Jr., said he thought the library should be moved to an area where plenty of parking space would be available. "It's hard to get to and from the library in its present location, what with the obvious downtown parking problems," he said.

More Room Needed

"But," said Bill Horton, moderator, "people come downtown every day to shop and work, and don't seem to have much trouble finding parking spots."

John M. Hills, City Council candidate, approves of a downtown location, but believes more room is needed in the library.

"There are two classes of library users," he said. "Those who work downtown and those who come from the residential area to shop. The library catches this 'walk-in' trade. People seldom seek out a library," he said, "but will drop in if they have to be nearby anyway."

Reading And Waiting

Mrs. A. V. Reid added two more classes of library users. One, she said, is the person who catches up on his reading while waiting for someone and second, is the person who must prepare a program, paper or project based on research.

This, she said, was primary reason for a central location, instead of an "outside" location.

"Anyone who has a use for a library will find it—central location or not," countered R. A. Estes, another City Council candidate. Apparently advocating relocation of the library in an outlying area, in Estes, agreed with Horton that this "auto age" the walk-in use is secondary in importance. They believe that more people will drive to a library than walk.

The panel brushed over the problem of county attitude toward the library.

"With the present attitude of the county commissioners toward the library, relocation outside the courthouse might be the only way to get a better library," Mrs. Reid said.

She referred to recent controversy over administration of the library.

Horton told of moves to enlarge the library in its present location that, he said, were turned down by the county commissioners. The county supports the library in its present location.

A petition was presented, Horton continued, but was vetoed by the commissioners. Hills then pointed out that the commissioners are not obligated to okay a petition when it has to do with the courthouse proper.

Charter Amendments

"I have little doubt that the county would drop its support if the library were moved from the courthouse," A. P. McConnell, Jr., opined.

The group then moved to four amendments to the city charter suggested by City Councilman Ray Howard at a previous meeting.

The two candidates went to opposite sides of the ring on the first item, a proposal to enlarge the City Council from five to seven members.

"The present setup is satisfactory," Estes said, and added, "I don't think additions are necessary; they might cause more dissension and less accomplishment."

Wiser Decisions

Hills, however, differed. "The more the merrier," he countered. "Midland is large enough to have more men on the council. It would get away from the idea of a few people running a city of this size. Arguments, no matter how long or bitter, would make for wiser decisions," he said.

Dr. Henry Schlichting, Jr., was in favor of the increase, as were most of the others present. "I wouldn't

All seniors donned children's clothing.

The MATURE PARENT

Psychoanalyst Names Finest Gift We Can Give To Children

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

In this world there are some people who make us feel good, clear-minded, competent and capable of limitless growth.

Such a person is the psychoanalyst, Dr. Erich Fromm.

I often have quoted from his books in this column. The other night I heard him speak.

He said several things of interest to parents.

Asked to name the greatest gift we can give to children, he said, "A body of values that will feed deeper needs than those for sexual and economic content. The first one is humility. Without it, they will lose touch with realities in themselves and others and find it hard to identify themselves in love with others."

Asked if a child given such values might not find himself a "freak" in his group, Dr. Fromm smiled. "Not if his parents have proved the values in joy and ease of spirit."

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Worry Comfortable

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was worried, worried, worried. He sat down in the shade, he leaned his back against a tree.

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, once had said to Mugwump: "If you're going to worry, you may as well worry comfortably."

And so Mugwump was going to worry comfortably, there in the shade with his back against the tree. He almost went to sleep—he was so comfortable—and then he remembered his worries again.

"Worry, worry, worry," said Mugwump.

He was worried with worries of Huffy Tuffy. Now Huffy Tuffy is the huffiest—and the tuffiest—somebody in all the forest. He was looking for Mugwump to cause some trouble. He was going to do it with a trouble-stick.

"Uh-oh," said Mugwump, "if you try to get hold of me, I'll have Hannah get hold of you."

"Hah!" said Huffy, "you tricked me yesterday, but you won't today. There's anybody here with the name of Hannah."

"Do tell, and a ho-hum," said Mugwump.

Mugwump yawned. He almost was asleep, remember, from sitting your back against the tree — like I am."

Huffy leaned his back against the tree.

"Ho-hum," yawned Mugwump again. "Are you comfortable yet?"

"Ho-hum," said Huffy Tuffy, yawning himself. He was very comfortable, you see. He was so comfortable he was almost asleep, and now he was asleep.

Mugwump left him sleeping there. Happy day!

there with his back against the tree all comfortable.

"Huffy," said Mugwump, "if you're going to cause me trouble with a trouble-stick, you may as well do it comfortably."

Huffy, of course, wanted to know all about the business of causing trouble all comfortable-like with a trouble-stick.

"Well," said Mugwump, "first sit down beside me here in the nice cool shade."

"Now," said Mugwump, "lean

Russia Stands To Gain In Many Ways By Cessation Of Hostilities In Korea

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—What's the gimmick? That's the immediate reaction in American minds to Russian peace talk.

In the last week the Russians have talked more peace than at any time since the start of the Korean War almost three years ago. It instantly makes this country ask: Do they mean it? How long would peace last? What are the Russians really up to?

They have so poisoned thinking here by their tactics that any expression of good intentions by them gets a response of skepticism and wariness.

While he lived Stalin kept the Korean War going. Was that bright or stupid, from the Russian viewpoint?

Stalin's successor, Malenkov, must have thought his tactics, at least, were stupid since he began changing them after taking over. At least he has been talking that way. It's too early to tell if he really means it.

What did the Russians accomplish by starting the war at all? They got the answer to a question: Would the West fight to stop that kind of aggression? If the answer had been no, the Communists could have taken over Asia. They got the answer fast: Yes.

What else did they accomplish? They chewed up thousands of American lives on the battlefield. But this was only a tiny dent in total American manpower.

They also forced this country to use up a lot of materials that were shot up in battle. And, because of the war, this country suffered some inflation.

What harm did the Russians suffer by the war, as seen from here? For one thing, they started this unprepared country toward big rearmament.

The fear of what might come next forged a tight alliance between this country and its Western Allies, made them all rearm, got them all better set for a big war if it came, and thrust the U. S. into true leadership of the West.

Growing Danger To Russia

There was growing danger in this for Russia if it didn't really look forward to world war but hoped for conquest by other and more sly methods: One sudden and unexpected incident might pull the trigger on World War III.

And Korea also pushed the West into greater prosperity, even though some of it, or maybe much of it, was artificial because it was helped by the big arms program.

If there had been no Korean War, if the Western economy had been allowed to seek its natural level, it's possible there would have been far less prosperity, perhaps even depression, which is what the Russians hope for.

What do the Russians think they can gain by peace? Maybe they figure this way:

With peace in Korea and Russia acting like a dove, the Western Allies will slow down or stop their arming, resume their own ancient rivalries, perhaps quarrel and thoroughly split while America loses its role of leadership.

Hope For Disarmament

Further, a sudden stop in rearmament might dislocate the Western countries' economy so badly they'd go into a tailspin. There's not much reason for Communists to go to war if they think they can take over from within in depression.

After World War II there was a mad scramble in this country—by the people, Congress and the government, leadership—to disarm. The Russians didn't.

If peace comes in Korea the people, Congress and the government leadership once again will undergo a test of their coolness and vision. And such a test might not be long in coming. The Russians may be thinking of that right now. This is why: The Eisenhower Administration and the Republican-controlled Congress is extremely anxious to cut spending, balance the budget, and reduce taxes.

If there were no real need for military preparedness, big cuts could be made in the Defense Department.

R. A. Weinkauf

Easter Seals Mean Help To Midlander

R. A. Weinkauf, 18-year-old Midlander, is one of the many young people who have been aided through contributions to the annual Easter Seal Campaign.

A victim of arthritis since he was four, young Weinkauf was confined to a wheelchair last year. He found it difficult to walk and suffered broken bones in a series of falls. His braces have been off since Christmas and he now is able to walk with the aid of crutches alone—and sometimes without them.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard S. Draper, 712 East New York Street, Weinkauf hopes to return to school next year. He will be a high school senior. He has continued his typing practice and also is doing plotting while out of school. Several days still remain to make contributions to the Easter Seal Campaign. The drive in Midland is sponsored by the Children's Service League, which is affiliated with the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Seventy-five per cent of the proceeds collected in Midland will remain in the community, League of ficials stressed. A part of the funds will be used for the Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center to be established in the city by the League. The proceeds also are used for transportation for crippled children doctor bills, orthopedic equipment, medicine and other aids.

Donations to the Easter Seal Campaign can be mailed to Post Office Box 1214, Midland. Mrs. F. D. Douglas is president of the Children's Service League and Mrs. Robert Fitting is chairman for the drive.

Cancer Drive Chief Asks Volunteer Aid

"Without volunteer help we can't even begin a good cancer campaign," Edwin T. Stitt, American Cancer Society drive chairman for Midland, said as the 1953 cancer crusade got underway here.

"The $18,000,000 needed by the American Cancer Society will depend largely on person-to-person contact," Stitt continued, "and that in turn will depend on volunteers—doctors, teachers, bankers, housewives, high school students and scouts—who will press this vital drive."

Stitt stressed that while money is important, much more important is the cancer education that walks hand in hand with the plea for funds. Danger signals and how to meet those signals will be explained to Midlanders.

Funds raised in Midland will be used for the society's program of education service and research. This means preparation of educational material for distribution through every media, provision of dressings and other sickroom needs to cancer patients treated at home, and aid to the $4,100,000 national research program.

"During past campaigns," Stitt reported, "doctors have told of more people coming to them for check-ups, more people showing up with early cancers still in curable stage than at any other time of the year. We want to set a better record this year."

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL McCLANE
Fishing Editor

River smallmouths have one shortcoming, from a bass standpoint anyhow: they seldom wander from their home pools. A large fish will make his residence under a ledge, bridge, milk can, tree stump, or whatever it is that appeals to him and stay there. If you care to spend a few hours just wandering along your local bass creek you'll find small-mouths in definite locations and it's a simple matter to map out the season's campaign based on where the fish live.

In the early morning and evening, bass might work a short distance out of their pools to feed in the riffles above or below, but at least you'll be certain of an audience. It can be a long distance between good fishing pools, so a knowledge of where to go represents many more hours of productive casting.

I have fished rivers like the Red Cedar in Michigan where the bass population was wholly migratory, appearing only at their spawning runs. In at least one lake, Cayuga in New York, the population concentrated in one small area during the Fall to hibernate. But these mass movements are usually well known where they exist and on most streams the home-pool theory is a sound basis for operation.

The state of Illinois did some research on this, and in R. Weldon Larimore's paper, "Home Pools and Homing Behavior of Smallmouth Black Bass in Jordan Creek" you will find some interesting material which gives us a further insight into the habits of bass.

The object of the first experiment was to test the ability of smallmouth bass to return to their home pool after being moved upstream. The pool in which a fish was taken was assumed to be the home pool for that fish. Just to make certain of of their findings, each time a fish was retaken in its home pool, it was transferred upstream again to the pool where it had been moved. Of seven smallmouths moved .066 mile upstream, apparently two never returned to their home pool; two other bass returned once but not a second time, and three returned every time they were moved. In all, 12 transfers were made and nine of them were followed by homing responses.

In the second experiment they tested the ability of smallmouth bass to return to their home pool after being transferred in the opposite direction, downstream. Seven smallmouths were taken from one pool and moved by truck downstream to another pool. The distance between pools was 0.81 mile and in this gap there are 20 shallow riffles and 19 pools, 16 of them especially suitable for bass. Two weeks later the home pool was examined and three of the seven bass were recaptured. Even though less than half were recovered, it seems quite likely that if the home pool had been checked again later that Fall a higher percentage of the bass would have been found.

Denying Boy's Strivings For Male Power Damages Future

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Victor's mother was a widow who had returned to live with her mother and older sister.

Once Victor and a friend became interested in some building going on in their neighborhood. One afternoon, watching a demolition crew preparing to dynamite, they decided to hide behind a shed to witness the explosion at close quarters. Victor's cheek was cut by a flying rock. That night, he was told he couldn't watch the blasting any more.

It was always like that. He never joined his local Boy Scout troop because membership involved overnight hikes. Because he brought two dirty words and a case of poison ivy home from his first summer camp experience, he spent all following Summers at the seashore with his female relatives.

I learned about Victor's background through his young wife who required help in locating a day nursery for his baby son after Victor walked out.

Victor is one of this nation's millions of abconding fathers. For almost every one of them, if we look deep enough, we can find some woman who made a little boy afraid of the consequences of his male enterprise.

A baby is a consequence of male enterprise. If we deny boy children cuts, sniffles, poison-ivy rash, dirty-word contacts and other hazards of masculine adventure, we mustn't be surprised if they run away from the hazards of husbanding and fathering families.

If we reproach them for every attempt to assert their male power, it's inevitable that they begin to fear it themselves. If we don't applaud the achievements of their male enterprise, we must expect them to regard their babies with the same dismay with which they once regarded their poison-ivy rash.

Perhaps we might see that while this silly world insists that it's a "man's world," it's nothing of the kind. Every day, psychiatrists find more evidence to prove that while men build the bridges and write the international treaties, we women shape the power to build and write. We are the people who discover, or refuse to discover, men's power. The psychiatrists tell us something else, too. They say that if we don't stop resenting our imaginary sexual inferiority, we'll go on turning out men who are afraid of manhood.

"As a result of the patterns of hate inflicted on children," writes psychiatrist Karl Menninger, "the tendency is for men to fail to attain that degree of masculinity... which can find in marriage an unfailing source of spiritual helpfulness." (All rights reserved, NEA Service, Inc.)

NEW TEXAS TECH STUDENT UNION—This half million dollar Student Union Building, latest addition on the Texas Tech campus, will be opened formally April 12. Though students have been using the building since March 10, the public will get its first look at the building at the open house. Two years in the building, the Student Union sticks to the Spanish Renaissance architecture of the campus, but the interior is of comfortable, modern design.

New Tech Student Union To Open Doors April 12

LUBBOCK—The public will get its first view of Texas Tech's new Student Union Building Sunday, April 12. The building, valued at more than a half million dollars, will be open for inspection from 2 to 6 p.m. No formal program has been planned.

The new building, located between the old Administration Building and the new Music Building, is one-third of the original plans as it now stands. The other two-thirds will be added within a 12-year period. Like the other main buildings on the campus, the Student Union Building conforms to the Spanish Renaissance architecture "home in its exterior, but the interior is modern."

Tech's new social center has two floors above ground and a large basement. Visitors will find a modern snack bar on the first floor, complete with fountain, grill, and short-order facilities. A large lounge, recreation room, television viewing space, table area, concension stand, and offices are also located on the ground floor.

A tour of the second floor will show a large ballroom for dancing four regular meeting rooms, three temporary meetings, and a room designed as a headquarters for student organizations.

To James G. Allen, dean of student life and chairman of several committees which worked on the building plans, "this is the most important room in the building. It is the first time in the history of our college that organizations have had a home base."

The basement contains a central heating unit, and ample storage space for incoming goods. An elevator runs from the basement to the second floor.

Students started using the building March 10. The first formal function was the Air Force ROTC Military Ball March 21. All new furniture has been received for the formal open house. Temporary furnishings came from the old Recreation Hall, an Army surplus barracks building used as a student center since 1947.

Committees of faculty members and students planned the furniture, decorations, color schemes, and the functions of each part of the structure.

The building was paid for "on the campus." Of the $542,000 total cost, only about $25,000 came from off-the-campus sources, and this amount was donated by the Tech Ex-Students Association with headquarters at Tech. The Infirmary Building fund was tapped for $100,000, and the Tech Bookstore put up $150,000 cash and pledged to pay off an additional $250,000 in bonds. Since the building was started in 1950, the bonds virtually have been retired. Profits from campus concessions and an accumulation of graduating class gifts were applied on the cost.

The only state money in the building is $50,000 voted by the Tech Board of Directors for furnishings.

Spiritual Diary for Lent

Say not thou, what is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning them. —Ecclesiastes 7:10

Today's Message
To some folk, life has lost its zest. It seems no longer to have light and color and interest. It ceases to be attractive and becomes mundane. Frustration results, followed frequently by some hopeless escape method. All to no avail. Where lies the fault?
Many people today find life uninteresting because they have taken life too casually. The stress, strain, and frustration in a multitude of lives is due to purposeless living. They drift from day to day without any real aim, goal or purpose.
What one needs is guidance and direction, which comes to everyone whose life is linked with God. A God-related life is never a frustrated life. When our life ties in with God's plan we are committed to a program and a cause which demands our best. Then, whatever we do becomes important, and therefore attractive, colorful and meaningful.
Life is without zest without God.

—G. L. MARKLE
Chaplain, U. S. Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn.

Today's Prayer
Eternal God, source of all life and strength of all courageous men, encourage us to keep Thee at the center of our universe, so that we may always know where we are in relation to Thee. Amen.
