Conoco, Et Al Lea Discovery Is Completed

A prolific flowing discovery from the Devonian has been completed at Continental Oil Company and others No. 1 Anderson Ranch Unit, wildcat in Central-West Lea County, New Mexico, 22 miles due west of Lovington.

The new field opener was finalized for a calculated 24-hour potential of 1,968 barrels of oil, gravity 54 degrees.

The potential was based on an actual six-hour flow of 492 barrels of oil through a 30 3/4-inch choke and perforations at 13,374-400 and 13,408-474 feet. Pay was treated with 1,500 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 248-1.

Location for the new field opener is at the center of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 11-16-32e.

No. 1 Anderson Ranch Unit also had indicated that it could produce from the Wolfcamp and possibly the Pennsylvanian.

The project was drilled to total depth of 13,775 feet and was then plugged back to 13,544 feet for the Devonian potential.

Siluro-Devonian Opener Finished In Chaves Sector

Republic Natural Gas Company and Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 White Ranch wildcat in East-Central Chaves County, New Mexico, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 294 barrels of 48-gravity oil from the Siluro-Devonian.

The new field opener was finalized through a one-quarter-inch choke and perforations at 8,730-70 feet.

Total depth is 8,771 feet with five and one-half-inch casing set on bottom.

Gas-oil ratio was 46-1. Tubing pressure was 550 pounds.

No. 1 White Ranch is 30 miles southeast of Roswell and 1,980 feet from north and 650 feet from west lines of section 34-11s-20e.

Buffalo Schedules Delaware Wildcat At NE Reeves Site

Buffalo Oil Company of Midland No. 1 Raymond A. Porter is to be a 4,500-foot wildcat in Northeast Reeves County to try for production in the Delaware sand.

Combination tools will be used. Drilling is to be started by April 23.

The exploration is 23 miles northwest of the town of Pecos and two miles east of the Dixieland (Delaware) field.

Location is 330 feet from southeast and from southwest lines of lot 9, section 3, block 2, H&GN survey.

Phillips Wildcat In NE Andrews Flows Oil In DST

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-AA Texas University, Northeast Andrews County wildcat has found flowing oil in the top five feet of the Ellenburger.

Operator is preparing to complete the discovery from that pay section.

The flow came in a drillstem test at 13,805-833 feet. A 5,329-foot water blanket was used. The tool was open for 20 hours and 15 minutes.

No gas came to the surface while the tester was open. The water blanket started flowing out in two hours and 45 minutes. Oil came to the surface in three hours and 45 minutes.

It was flowed for 30 minutes through a one-half inch top choke and a one-half inch bottom choke. A total of 11 barrels of oil was produced.

"It went off smoother this year," he said, "than it ever has in the past."

"We had the same number of deputies working at the job this year but they handled the process smoothly and efficiently and there never were any long lines of motorists waiting to buy their plates."

Speed, who is the Midland County tax assessor-collector, has a staff of seven deputies, including Chief Deputy J. H. Fine.

By the time the last plate was sold before the deadline, a total of 12,155 license plate sets had been handed out. This represents an increase of 494 over the 11,661 sold by the same date a year ago.

Other license sales included 3,471 for trucks, 319 for farm trucks, 177 for truck tractors, 594 for trailers, 173 for house trailers and 100 for motorcycles.

Write-In Adds Election Interest

Citizens Unit Runs Woman For Mayoralty

The entry of a last-minute write-in candidate added to the election day excitement Tuesday as Midland voters trooped to the polls to select a mayor and three city councilmen.

The write-in candidate is Mrs. Alden Donnelly, former president of the Midland Humane Society and a resident of Midland the last 22 years, who appeared as a mayoralty opponent of J. W. McMillen, former city councilman.

Mrs. Donnelly's election was urged in handbills distributed over the city early Tuesday.

A group listed as "Citizens for Better City Government" was named as her sponsor.

"I'm just as surprised as anyone," said Mrs. Donnelly, "and I didn't know a thing about it until I saw the handbills this morning."

"However, I consider it an honor that this group, interested in good government, has selected me as their candidate."

Ballooning Is Slow

Meanwhile, the voting was under way at the four city polling places, although the number of ballots was well under the number reported by 11 a. m. on election day a year ago.

Election officials reported at 11 a. m. Tuesday that a total of 299 votes had been cast. A heavy rush at the polls was expected during the noon hour and after 5 p. m.

The polls opened at 8 a. m. and will close at 7 p. m.

Voting is being conducted at the North Fire Station, the South Fire Station, the Girl Scout Little House and the Midland Youth Center.

Voters can cast their ballots at any of the four places, but City Secretary J. C. Huffman urged them to bring their poll tax receipts with them.

Until Tuesday morning, McMillen, an independent oil operator, had appeared as the only candidate for mayor, although the three council posts had drawn a record-breaking field of nine candidates.

18 Council Candidates

McMillen's name still was the only one to appear on the election ballot for mayor although voters could write in the name of any citizen of their choice for any of the offices.

Seeking the council posts are: Place No. 1—R. A. Estes, Hugh McCullough, Jack Petosky and Joe Bill Pierce.

Place No. 2—John Ed Cooper, George Heiss and R. C. Maxson.

Place No. 3—John M. Hills and Clifton Wilderspin.

Although Wilderspin is an employee of the Honolulu Oil Company, of which Mrs. Donnelly's husband is vice president, she said she was not endorsing any of the candidates.

UNEXPECTED—Rear Adm. John C. Daniel tells a press conference at Panmunjom of the Reds' unexpected offer to exchange prisoners of war not seriously ill or wounded, whose recovery might reasonably be expected within one year. Actual mechanics of the exchange still must be worked out.

Final Accord Near On Prisoner Swap

MUNSAN KOREA—(AP)—The United Nations and the Communists agreed Tuesday to exchange all sick and wounded prisoners of the almost three-year-old Korean War who want to go home.

Actual mechanics of the exchange still must be worked out. But there were only minor disagreements, and Allied officers said they anticipated no trouble reaching swift settlement.

The Reds said they would report within the next day or so how many disabled prisoners they would deliver to Panmunjom for the exchange, which could start within a week after plans are completed. Civilian war internees will be included.

The senior Allied liaison officer, Rear Adm. John C. Daniel, said the Communist attitude "is very favorable at this point," and developments were "encouraging."

Negotiations at Panmunjom went so smoothly Tuesday observers here voiced hope the talks will pave the way to a Korean truce. Total talking time was 36 minutes.

Five Points Settled

Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, head of the Red liaison team, said the nine-point plan submitted by Admiral Daniel Monday should be the basis for the swap. He said the Communists agree to roughly half of it, including all of the key points.

The Communists agreed to the following points of Daniel's plan:

1. Exchange of all sick and wounded prisoners, including those with minor disabilities along with the seriously injured. This means direct repatriation to their homelands of all prisoners, including those who, under the Geneva Convention of 1949, otherwise would be sent to neutral countries.

2. Panmunjom will be the exchange point.

3. Both sides will report the number of sick and wounded to be traded, and break the figures (Continued On Page 28)

LIKE TURKEY DAY FOOTBALL JAM— School Teachers Gather To Support Pay Increase

AUSTIN—(AP)—The citizens and the school teachers by the hundreds hit the State Capitol early Tuesday. What many said they wanted was a $600-a-year pay raise for teachers.

The bill giving the raise was coming up at a 2:30 p. m. House committee hearing.

But by 10 a. m. it was worse than a Turkey Day football jam outside the House. Most of it was men who didn't look like school teachers at all.

The superintendent of the Baytown schools, George Gentry, said he had brought up a bunch of "just plain tax-paying citizens who want the Legislature to know they're willing to pay more taxes to give the teachers a raise."

The governor's reception room was deserted. But a stack of telegrams almost a foot high, urging the teachers raise, was waiting for the governor when his office door opened.

Representative Lamar Zivley.

White House Encouraged

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House Tuesday described the United Nations-Communist agreement on repatriation of sick and wounded Korean war prisoners as "encouraging."

Press Secretary James Hagerty said President Eisenhower "and the government of the United States are, of course, following very closely" the negotiations at Panmunjom.

The UN negotiators and Communist representatives agreed there Tuesday to repatriation of all sick and wounded prisoners.

Asked about the development, Hagerty dictated this statement:

"The President and the government of the United States are of course following the negotiations very closely."

"Every act and deed leading to a humanitarian exchange of ill and wounded prisoners of war is encouraging."

Hagerty said he had no information on how many prisoners might be exchanged under the agreement.

Midland Due Sand As Most Of State Looks For Showers

While practically all of Texas, except the Southwest portion, was expecting more rain Tuesday afternoon, Midland was promised heavy wind and blowing sand.

CAA weathermen at the Midland Air Terminal said a 30-mile wind was expected to push through the vicinity late Tuesday, blowing up sand and occasionally reducing visibility to four miles.

A high temperature of 80 degrees was recorded here Monday with the low Tuesday morning at 51 degrees.

It is expected to be partly cloudy Tuesday night and Wednesday and slightly cooler Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said shortly before noon 48 inch of rain already had been recorded at Beaumont, 11 at Galveston and 57 at Houston.

Temple, tried repeatedly last week to get his bill giving the raise out of the House Appropriations Committee. Failing that, he tried to fix it so the committee could take action on the bill. He couldn't get that, either.

Speaker Reuben Senterfitt has ruled that the committee can't approve or disapprove of the bill until the big bill setting the state budget for the next two years has cleared the Legislature.

Behind Closed Doors

A joint House-Senate committee working on the state budget bill still met behind closed doors Monday.

Under the rules as applied by Senterfitt, the Appropriations Committee could hear the teachers and their spokesmen Tuesday.

The committee has three bills to consider—Zivley's, one by Rep. Joe Kilgore, McAllen, to give the teachers a $240 increase; and one by Rep. Floyd Bradshaw, Weatherford, giving them a graduated increase starting with $504 for beginners.

But teachers weren't the only ones here Tuesday. Both House and Senate committees had some important bills up for public hearings. They included:

Liquor Regulation—Rep. Obie Bristow, Big Spring, has proposed a lengthy revision to present laws, tightening up some loopholes and permitting local option elections on sale of beer for off-premise consumption, thus eliminating beer taverns. It's before the House Liquor Regulation Committee at 2:30

Crack Diesel Train Sideswipes Freight

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—(AP)—Three diesel locomotive units of the west-bound Los Angeles Limited were derailed Tuesday when the passenger train sideswiped a freight train at a siding at Moore, Calif., 60 miles west of here, near the California line.

The Union Pacific Railroad said there was no report yet on deaths or injuries.

The sheriff's office said it dispatched an ambulance to the scene but called it back when it was advised it would not be needed. Deputies said they did not know whether that meant there were no injuries, or that facilities at the site were ample.

The train was due in Los Angeles from Chicago at 10:35 a. m.

First reports said the diesel units at the head of the train were derailed. There was no information about the passenger cars.

p. m. Rumors have circulated that an attempt will be made to make it state-wide.

Toll roads—Both the Dallas-Fort Worth toll road plan are up before the Senate Highways Committee at 2:30 p. m. The House approved the Dallas-Fort Worth project, but Gov. Allan Shivers has told the press he favored only a state-wide plan.

VISITOR—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer points out objects of interest to his daughter, Dr. Lotte Adenauer, as they arrive in New York aboard the liner United States for a two-week visit and a meeting with President Eisenhower.

Germany's Leader Opens U. S. Talks

WASHINGTON—(AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived Tuesday for three days of conferences bearing on Western plans for defense against Communist aggression.

The German leader, 77, was greeted by a big welcoming delegation headed by Vice President Nixon. He was flown here from New York in President Eisenhower's plane, landing amid fog and drizzle.

Secretary of State Dulles, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Foreign Aid Director Harold Stassen were among those welcoming Adenauer and his daughter, Lotte, and his nine aides.

Topping the informal list of problems for the meetings starting at noon with the President and top officials is the European Army Treaty and Germany's dispute with France over the industrial Saar Basin.

Bank Bandit Gets 35 Years In Prison

JOURDANTON—(AP)—Lanky Mitchell Duncan, who robbed the Charlotte State Bank to get "easy money" wound up Tuesday with a 35-year prison sentence.

Duncan, 22, of Leesville, S. C., pleaded guilty Monday before Judge H. D. Barrow. He also pleaded guilty in four burglaries—three in Pleasanton and one here. He was sentenced to two years on each of the burglary counts.

The sentences will be served concurrently.

'Atomic Age' Medicine Man Tries To Cure Wrong Woman

FORT WORTH—(AP)—A "doctor" who allegedly peddles "atomic" treatment machines, was arrested here Monday night.

The man, identified as William Estep, 56, of Abilene and Dallas, was charged Tuesday with practicing medicine without a license.

He was freed from jail on $2,000 bond.

Estep was arrested at the home of D. A. Yant, after detectives used Yant's daughter, Irene, 27, as bait in their trap.

Yant said Estep used a machine he called an actometer to examine Miss Yant. He said the "doctor" diagnosed her trouble as hardening of the liver.

He recommended his "atomotome" machine which has a $300 price tag.

"I'm not sure," Yant said Estep told him, "but I think it will cure her."

Dr. M. H. Grabb, secretary of the Texas State Board of Medical Examiners, said the "doctor" alleges that the machine adds atomic power to water to produce a healing effect.

Dr. Grabb said Estep claimed the "atomic" machine would cure everything from cancer to diabetes.

Estep was arrested by detectives as he was leaving the Yant residence.

Reds Renew Verbal Battle Against West

LONDON—(AP)—Moscow's press and radio launched a violent attack Tuesday charging the United States and other Western nations with racial persecution.

This immediately was viewed as an attempt to divert Soviet and world attention from the bizarre case of the "doctors' plot," in which there had been implicit admissions of anti-Jewish activity by Soviet officials.

Secretary Dulles will make it clear, officials said Tuesday, that the American government would like to see Germany and France settle the Saar controversy themselves.

Other key problems to be discussed with Adenauer include: (1) possible plans for increased American aid to help feed, house and transport a flood of refugees now streaming into Berlin; (2) Germany's views on Western relations with Russia; (3) the American drive to tighten East-West trade controls, especially commerce to Red China; and (4) Germany's objections to a military budget of approximately $2,500,000,000 which the Atlantic Pact powers have assigned as her contribution to Western defense during the next year.

Study Group Says Budget Can Be Balanced, Tax Cut

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Committee for Economic Development... predicted a deficit of $9,900,000,000. On a cash basis, however, Truman predicted a deficit of $6,600,000,000.

Communist artillery and mortars poured more than 1,000 shells into South Korean defenses on the key Eastern Front hill before the infantry struck.

Easterners Tour Midland To Find Esquire All Wet

"Finest people... best-looking homes... best steaks anywhere... more Cadillacs... nothing like this back home... Why, that guy's crazy as hell!"

And that's a non-Texan's answer to a non-Texan's story about Texas. Esquire missed the boat somewhere.

The Bayonne, N. J. couple had read the Esquire story about Texas and came down here to see if it were true. Well, really, they were enroute to California.

Fifty-five years old and on vacation, they tagged Eddie Barron, Yellow Cab driver, chief guide and made a two-hour swing through north, east, south and west Midland. And, by the way, didn't find a thing they didn't like.

Eddie said he heard nothing but "good" for the entire two hours—except when his riders took a swipe at the Esquire story—and they left him with this assurance: "As soon as we get back home and get settled, we're gonna write that magazine and let 'em know what Texas is really like."

A snag developed in the divorce of Steve Crane, Lana Turner's ex-husband and French movie queen, Martine Carol. Now Martine will try to obtain a divorce in Paris by default.

There's an ironic bond twist Marilyn Monroe and Mame Van Doren, her look-alike at U-I. Both shapeliest were in love with the same lad about five years ago.

Star salaries may be shrinking, but not that of Kirk Douglas. He'll collect $200,000 for starring in "The Odyssey of Ulysses" in Rome.

Uncle Sam's crackdown on obscene photographs in the girls' magazine left editors turning to Hollywood for "hot" subject matter. Some of the "inside" movietown stories now being dished up are pure libel and another black eye for Hollywood.

Reports that a new novel should have been titled "The John Garfield Story" are true. The similarity in the distasteful tome is so close that it hurts. Hollywood suffers along with John's widow.

Fernando Lamas has been offered a deal to exercise his toasts on records. Biggest heart-tug in Norman Kattkov's life story of Fanny Brice is his disclosure that Nicky Arnstein, her second husband and the man she loved until her death, proposed to Fanny again a few months before she passed away.

There's more bark than bite to British attacks on Hollywood stars who arrive in London to make movies.

Jeffrey Hunter started a symphony of yips and yaps when he was sent to England to work in "Sailor of the King." Now back in Hollywood, he told me: "The anti-Hollywood feeling is carried out on a very impersonal level. It doesn't reflect the attitude of the people in England, just British Equity, the actors' union. If you don't take it personally, nobody else will. It was all forgotten within 24 hours by everybody."

Male moviemakers may have drooled over sexy Katy Jurado in "High Noon" but she's making no bones about it—she can't find a husband among the profile boys in Hollywood.

* JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD *

Latest Filmtown Tilt Is About Stage Stars' Right To 'Oscars'

BY ERKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

Behind the Screen: There's always a controversy in Hollywood about something—and now it's about stage queens nominated for Academy Awards.

Some movietowners are campaigning against Shirley Booth and Julie Harris, the Broadway stars, as Oscar nominees because they played their stage roles in "Come Back, Little Sheba" and "Member of the Wedding."

But the objection isn't valid according to another stage actress, Maggie McNamara, who just played her footlight role in the movie version of "The Moon Is Blue."

Maggie's argument, and I agree with her, is that movies are an entirely different technique. "There's such a difference," she says. "Whether it's Shirley or Julie, they have to change from stage to movie technique. They have to add action and sneak dialog that was never in the play."

"It's ridiculous to say that Shirley Booth, for instance, walked through 'Come Back, Little Sheba' on the screen because she was so familiar with the character, Shirley Booth never walked through anything."

If Shirley or Julie win this year's Oscar instead of Joan Crawford, Hollywood's homegrown sentimental favorite, Hollywood will have its answer to the argument.

A snag developed in the divorce of Steve Crane, Lana Turner's ex-husband and French movie queen, Martine Carol. Now Martine will try to obtain a divorce in Paris by default.

There's an ironic bond twist Marilyn Monroe and Mame Van Doren, her look-alike at U-I. Both shapeliest were in love with the same lad about five years ago.

Star salaries may be shrinking, but not that of Kirk Douglas. He'll collect $200,000 for starring in "The Odyssey of Ulysses" in Rome.

Uncle Sam's crackdown on obscene photographs in the girls' magazine left editors turning to Hollywood for "hot" subject matter. Some of the "inside" movietown stories now being dished up are pure libel and another black eye for Hollywood.

Reports that a new novel should have been titled "The John Garfield Story" are true. The similarity in the distasteful tome is so close that it hurts. Hollywood suffers along with John's widow.

Hair-raising call sheet for U-I's hush-hush, 3-D science-fiction yarn, "It Came From Outer Space."

"Six actors—Numbers 4, 9, 18, 12, 16 and 23. One ectoplasmic infrared mist. Slow near-sueat effect. Two celestial voices. One inflated eyeball. Six "things." Yipe!

Van Hefline's working his way through college—UCLA—as the star of "The Shrike" touring company. He's getting his master's degree via mail.

Fernando Lamas has been offered a deal to exercise his toasts on records. Biggest heart-tug in Norman Kattkov's life story of Fanny Brice is his disclosure that Nicky Arnstein, her second husband and the man she loved until her death, proposed to Fanny again a few months before she passed away.

There's more bark than bite to British attacks on Hollywood stars who arrive in London to make movies.

Jeffrey Hunter started a symphony of yips and yaps when he was sent to England to work in "Sailor of the King." Now back in Hollywood, he told me: "The anti-Hollywood feeling is carried out on a very impersonal level. It doesn't reflect the attitude of the people in England, just British Equity, the actors' union. If you don't take it personally, nobody else will. It was all forgotten within 24 hours by everybody."

Male moviemakers may have drooled over sexy Katy Jurado in "High Noon" but she's making no bones about it—she can't find a husband among the profile boys in Hollywood.

"I try find seungie mans seen Hollywood for two years," she confessed. "I'm here, I'm raddy get married, but ees no seungie mans I can find."

LAUREN OFFERS HELPFUL HINT

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—The "constant barking" of actor Humphrey Bogart's three dogs so upset him he had to change his dinner hour, writer Cy Howard complains.

Howard and architect Welton Becker went to the city attorney's office Monday and filed a protest against the animals on behalf of some of Bogart's neighbors in the Holmby Hills district.

When he told Mrs. Bogart—actress Lauren Bacall—how the dogs were upsetting his meals, she replied, "Don't eat then." Howard told Assistant City Attorney Donald Redwine.

Chinese Red Soldiers Facilitate Rescue Of Badly Wounded Puerto Rican Marine

PANMUNJOM, KOREA—(AP)—A badly wounded Puerto Rican Marine was rescued from no man's land early Tuesday after Chinese soldiers carried him part way to UN lines and called for American Marines to come get him. Four Marines and a Navy chaplain walked into no man's land and picked up the wounded Puerto Rican while a squad of Communist soldiers stood nearby. The Chinese left him on a stretcher, lying in a Korean cemetery. He was clad only in long winter underwear and a sweater. Then a Communist loudspeaker boomed out: "Attention all officers and men: 'We have one of your wounded. Send two men as soon as possible forward of your left flank position. Everything was done for him that was possible. We will ask you to come as far as the defilade area without firing on you.'" A reinforced Marine squad started immediately. Pfc. Hector S. Echabarria of Santurce, Puerto Rico, called to the wounded man and asked in Spanish if he could walk. The wounded man, although hit in the back and stomach, waved and started toward the Allied lines. He collapsed twice on the way to where the Marines had paused along the wire line. Father Robert Drengarener of Lakewood, Ohio, called to the man to pray. As he approached the wire, the priest gave him absolution. The first time the wounded man collapsed Second Lt. Kenneth Clifford of Brooklyn yelled, "Oh hell! Let's go get him!" and leaped the wire with his men. The Chinese soldiers covered the graveyard area but did not fire as the Marine and the chaplain reached the Puerto Rican and started bringing him back. The man, a Catholic, was clutching his rosary beads wrapped in a handkerchief. The Marine said his wound had been treated and bandaged, and Red propaganda leaflets calling for peace had been stuffed inside his sweater. Others in the rescue group were Cpl. Daryl Jues of Rapid City, S. D., and T/Sgt. Robert Donahue of Norwich, Conn.

McCarthy Shrugs Off Charges Hinted In Request For Probe

WASHINGTON—(P)—Former Attorney General Francis Biddle's demand for a Justice Department investigation of Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) brought this retort from McCarthy: "Criminal libel."

Biddle, a Democrat who served in the Franklin D. Roosevelt Administration, Monday called on Attorney General Brownell to investigate whether McCarthy committed embezzlement or mail fraud in handling funds donated to him to fight communism, and whether the senator had committed other crimes including bribery and conspiracy. Biddle refrained from making direct accusations.

Acts Under Study
In that he was like the Senate privileges and elections subcommittee which had raised questions in an official report last January 2 about McCarthy's use of funds donated to help his avowed anti-Red drive.

The Justice Department said the subcommittee's questions about any possible wrongdoing by McCarthy are "still under active consideration in the Criminal Division." Biddle signed the letter to Brownell as national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action (ADA). Robert R. Nathan, chairman of the ADA Executive Committee, was co-signer. They made public the letter.

Francis Biddle

Senator Joseph McCarthy

"Normally," McCarthy flung back in a statement, "I would call Biddle's case to the attention of the U. S. attorney or the attorney general for indictment for criminal libel. However, he and his crowd of Communist defenders may even be doing me a favor by this libelous attack. Besides, I am too busy with work of much greater importance than to take time out to waste it on a man who has been as thoroughly discredited and who is as well known for what he is as Biddle."

The Biddle-Nathan letter was pinned to questions raised by the subcommittee in a unanimous report by the two Democrats and one Republican who composed its membership last January. They were Chairman Hennings (D-Mo) and Senators Hayden (D-Ariz) and Hendrickson (R-N.J.).

Hennings sent the Justice Department a copy of the report at that time with a six-foot stack of documents "for any action deemed appropriate."

Tax Question Raised

The report, Biddle and Nathan wrote Brownell, "imposes a duty . . . to make a thorough investigation to determine whether there has been a violation of law" and whether the laws need changing. They added: "The report indicates that Senator McCarthy's complicated maze of financial transactions warrants the closest scrutiny by the Department of Justice and the Bureau of Internal Revenue."

The letter made no mention of questions the subcommittee also raised—without an answer—concerning the handling of funds by former Senator William Benton (D-Conn.).

City Elections Stir Little Interest Throughout Texas

By The Associated Press

Voters were pretty well excited Tuesday for city elections in Dallas and Fort Worth. Elsewhere, city elections were about as usual—dull and colorless.

Dallas' water shortage—very acute until good rains fell over the weekend—was the issue in the mayoralty and council elections. The leading candidates in Dallas for mayor were R. L. Thornton, prominent banker, and Marvin Williams, radio entertainer.

At Fort Worth, 28 candidates sought nine council seats. Six were councilmen seeking reelection. Three organized groups backed full slates in Fort Worth and a record vote was expected. Other elections Tuesday: Corsicana—Decides whether a new charter commission will study a revision of the present charter-commission form of government—for later submission in an election. City officials also will be elected. Lufkin—Interest low in races for city offices, with only 15 absentee votes cast. Odessa—Three candidates seeking two council posts; no campaigning; not much more interest evident.

Borger—Eleven candidates seeking five city commission posts; voter interest extremely light.

Sherman—Chooses a mayor and eight councilmen from 11 candidates. Voter interest apparently light in this race and concerning six proposed city charter changes which would provide for annexation without consent of property owners, provide for unallocated tax funds and increase the city's emergency borrowing power from $10,000 to $30,000.

Hillsboro—Seven candidates for three offices. Denison—Rematch between A. C. Casey and Harry Glidden for mayor only competitive race. Casey defeated Glidden, then the incumbent, by nine votes two years ago. Amarillo—Replacements will be elected for retiring Mayor Gene Kline and Commissioner Loren Young.

Fund Drive Gets Eisenhower Nod

WASHINGTON—(P)—The United Defense Fund got a sendoff from President Eisenhower Tuesday as representatives of member agencies meet to make 1953 plans.

The President was scheduled to address the opening session of a one-day meeting on the defense-related programs of the six agencies making up the fund.

They are the United Service Organizations (USO), United Community Defense Services, American Relief for Korea, American Social Hygiene Association, United Seamen's Service and National Recreation Association.

DEMOCRATIC COWS, REPUBLICAN SURPLUS—

Benson Says Farm Price Snafu GOP 'Inheritance'

DENVER—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson Tuesday accused political foes of making a "deliberate attempt" to unload responsibilities for a farm price decline onto the Eisenhower Administration.

"Fear of another depression, which smolders in the thinking of every farmer who experienced that catastrophe was awakened, and, I regret to say, deliberately fed by some who sought to embarrass the Administration," he said.

The truth of the matter, the GOP farm chief said, is this: "The chickens are coming home to roost. They are not our chickens, but we've got to take care of them. We inherited them along with other items in our legacy."

Benson, in a speech prepared for the National Farm and Ranch Congress of the Denver Chamber of Commerce, said he had resolved earlier not to reply to false charges.

"But in the Washington scene, Christian forbearance seemingly is interpreted as an admission of guilt. We have no choice but to make the record clear."

Benson named no names in his prepared text. A good many Democrats, and a few Republicans, have by the World War II and postwar spending had encouraged a 29 per cent increase in beef cattle numbers during the last five years.

"These," he said, "were Democratic cows and bulls, but they created a Republican 'surplus'."

Heavy Losses Threatened

The Cabinet officer was particularly critical of existing price support laws. He said that with rising prices born of world-wide inflation, high, rigid supports had the "appearance of success" largely because of market prices were generally at or above the supports.

But now that surpluses have been built up, in the absence of production controls, the government is accumulating farm stocks of such magnitude, Benson said, that heavy losses are threatened.

He said there is grave danger that economies he expects to make in his department will be set aside by price support losses.

"It is a quirk of fate that our predecessors had the joy ride, the bill for which is now presented to us," he continued. "We will pick up the bill, but from now on I hope we'll do more careful driving."

SECRETARY BENSON Asks 'careful driving.'

3D Movies Create Local Problem

The first showing of three dimensional movies in Midland caused a great deal of comment. John Henry Smythe felt that they were "interesting, but imperfect." Joe S. Doakes summed the situation up as follows: "I've been suckered." eWe're afraid that we have to agree with both of these commentators.

But, it did set us to thinking that we hadn't properly presented this lawn mower problem to the followers of this column. We invite you into the store to see one of these wonderful Jacobsen mowers. We can give you a three-dimensional view of it, its length, breadth, and height, but that is as far as we can go. Now, when you come right down to facts, there is a fourth, and even a fifth dimension. The three we have mentioned, which concern the physical size of the mower, and two more—TIME (which Einstein recognizes as fourth) and WORK (which he hasn't yet got around to setting up in a formula).

Our problem, therefore, is to get you to recognize that you can save dimension 4 and 5 by having one of these Jacobsen beauties on your own lawn. All y' gotta do is say "Send it."

been critical in Congress of what they termed his failure to do anything about falling farm prices.

Benson listed these items as being among the Eisenhower Administration's "inherencies":

(1) A dollar fallen 60 per cent in value in 10 years; (2) a national debt of 265 billion dollars; (3) a 16 per cent decline in farm prices in the previous two years; (4) high rigid farm production costs which those who "planned the inflation left us"; (5) price supports that are putting farm products "into storage rather than into stomachs" and are "upsetting foreign trade" and "drawing foreign products to us like a magnet."

Benson said farm prices had dropped only one per cent since he took office. He predicted steady prices during the Spring and Summer.

In emphasizing the "inheritance" theme, the secretary said a sharp drop in beef cattle prices typified what had happened in agriculture. He said "attractive" prices bought on

Doctors Make Pill To Stop Radiation Effects Of A-Bomb

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO — A big fat pill costing about $4 probably would save you from radiation sickness or death from an A-bomb, scientists said Tuesday.

You'd have to take it, though, just before the bomb went off.

The king-size pill looks like the best practical bet so far to guard against radiation, the new element in A-bombs as compared with ordinary bombs.

over a long period," for then the cysteine might damage body organs.

Seek Shelter First

Cysteine costs about eight cents a gram, which is 1.28 of an ounce. About 50 grams, or four dollars worth, would protect a person weighing 150 pounds, he estimated.

But, Dr. Pitt added, if he knew an A-bomb were about to burst, "I'd run first, and worry about protection later."

The important thing about cysteine is that it is the first chemical which protects against both X-rays and neutrons, both of which come from A-bombs.

The prospect was described Tuesday by scientists speaking in a news conference or presenting reports to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

The pill would weigh almost two ounces, for a 150-pound person. It would be smaller for someone smaller, still bigger for a fatty.

Animals Saved

It would be made of cysteine, one of the amino acids for building blocks of proteins such as muscle, fat, nerves and other tissues.

Given to animals an hour or two before they're exposed to lethal X-rays, cysteine saves most of them. It apparently would do the same for humans.

Dr. Harvey M. Pitt, one of the Atomic Energy Commission's Argonne National Laboratory here, said, "I would take it cysteine if an attack were imminent. But I wouldn't want to take daily doses

Officers Slay 22 Mau Mau Terrorists

NAIROBI, KENYA — British officials reported Monday night that police killed 22 of some 30 Mau Mau terrorists who butchered five women and children in a massacre attempt on a village of pro-British natives of the Kikuyu tribes.

Police said they still were tracking the rest of the terrorist gang through the forests of the Kiambu reserve.

The attack on the village of Marise, 20 miles from Kiambu Township, occurred Sunday night. Shrieks of the victims attracted police to the village, whose men were on home guard patrol away from the village.

PURGE RUMORS GROW—

Party Man Fired In Doctors' Plot

MOSCOW — The Soviets have fired a key Communist Party official for failing to detect the falsity of the "doctors' plot" charges. Pravda announced Tuesday He is Semyon D. Ignatiev, a member of the party's five-man Secretariat.

The official party newspaper said Ignatiev, who was given the Secretariat post only a month ago, had been "released from his duties."

Pravda disclosed Monday that he had headed the Security Ministry during the time when the charges against the 13 doctors were being prepared.

Western observers speculated that the attack on such a ranking leader against the 13 doctors were being prepared.

Western observers speculated that the attack on such a ranking leader against the 13 doctors were being prepared.

The government announced last Friday that the doctors had been released after an investigation proved charges against them were false. They had been accused of killing two Soviet leaders and plotting to murder several others by faulty treatment.

Pioneer Repeats Bid For Subsidy

WASHINGTON — Pioneer Airlines wants the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) to give it more mail pay—whether the airline uses DC-3 transports or the newer, larger Martin 202 planes.

In a petition filed Monday the Dallas air line asked the CAB to:

1. Reconsider its March 13 refusal to raise Pioneer's mail pay rates to help meet higher costs of the Martin 202 transports with which Pioneer replaced its fleet of DC-3s or
2. Grant a higher rate for continued DC-3 operation.

After the March order Pioneer threatened to suspend operations in Texas and New Mexico if the board stood by the refusal of higher pay. The CAB said it would designate some other air line to serve Pioneer's routes.

Pioneer officials then agreed to seek financing in order to switch back to DC-3's and sell the 202's. Monday's petition estimated that Martin 202 operations would require mail pay totaling $1,850,000 the first year or $5,728,000 over a five year period. For the same five years with continued DC-3 operations the cost would be $6,747,000.

The purpose of The Community Survey is to obtain helpful information that will enable advertisers to improve their service to you readers by preparing ads the way you want them.

When you indicate which ads you think will do the advertisers the most good, it is possible to tabulate that information and give it to the advertisers for their guidance.

On the first page of the paper each day you will find a list of the advertisements to be checked that day.

All you have to do is to decide each day which Large Ad, which Medium Ad, which Small Ad and which Classified Ad you think will do the advertiser the most good. . . . Just write four names on this blank each day.

Cash awards will go to those readers whose selections are nearest to what the majority of readers think. Every week is a separate survey.

YOU ARE NOT REQUIRED TO WRITE A LETTER. The awards are made to those readers whose selections are nearest to the list of ads which get the most votes. The awards are ACCURATE . . . FAIR . . . and HONEST.

You do not have to be an advertising expert! All ads are written for you readers. YOU are best qualified to indicate which ads will do the advertiser the most good.

You are NOT required to write a letter to receive an award. The awards are decided on the selections above. We would really appreciate it, though, if you would write a note saying what you DO NOT LIKE and . . . also . . . WHY YOU LIKE some of the good ads.

We sincerely want your suggestions and ideas of how we may improve our advertising service for your benefit. Write your letter in your own way! It's the thoughts and suggestions that matter. You are not being "judged" by your letters. Actually they have nothing to do with awards. . . . but . . . they will be helpful by giving additional information to our advertisers.

Your criticisms and suggestions will be given the advertisers to help them to improve their advertisements BUT they will NOT be given the names of those who write the letters. This is so you may say just what you really think without embarrassment.

Every member of any family may send in one answer each week but only one award for a good answer will go to any one household during the survey. Since the purpose of the Survey is to obtain information, any indication of collusion to secure an award automatically will disqualify such answers. In the case of ties duplicate awards will be made. Midland's newest semi-pro baseball club had a hasty christening the other day when L. C. Cobb of the group was going over the team roster with this paper's sports desk.

"What's your team's name?" he was asked. He appeared stumped.

"Ahhh—" was the immediate answer but Cobb quickly rallied, "Just call us Roughnecks, the Midland Roughnecks."

It's no bad name—and since Beaumont's Texas League club has switched to Exporters once more, Roughnecks is distinctive.

The Roughs, incidentally, will send forth a puzzling pitching corps against anyone they face, even with the Big Spring Bronces in Tuesday's game. Opponents will wonder—what with a shortage of southpaws everywhere—why the Midland club's hurling crew is so inclined to the left. John Olson, Ernie Nelson and Leon (Lefty) Hayes all are wrong-handers. Probably no Longhorn club can boast such southpaw preponderance.

Cobb says one of the Rough's possible matches in the near future is a game against Harold Webb's Lamesa Lobos of the Longhorn League.

It seems, as the deadline for warmups to the Texas Interscholastic League's district meets is ending, that one of Midland High's more obscure teams figures as the best bet of all. The tracksters lack depth and must in turn bow favorites honors to Odessa, while the tennis team awaits another year for its juniors and sophomores to come along. Yet, there is, in golf, a group of four—Marcelino Moreno, Lee Sneed, David Breedlove and Buzzy Bray—equal to any who'll compete at Odessa.

Cosch Audrey Gill's lunch surprised no little by leading the recent Texas A&M Invitational through the halfway mark and holding to third place despite slipping 30 strokes during its final 36 holes. Midland then, mind you, boasted two of the same team which finished tied for eleventh at Odessa West Relays and at least that far down in the Brownwood Relays.

Moreno is capable of winning individual district honors, for at both Odessa and Brownwood he finished higher than any from hereabouts, three strokes off first place in one and one stroke away in the other.

With baseball impending, they're repeating the old Zeke Bonura taunts, and the old standby came out recently in John Cronley's column in the Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman.

Zeke, he said, was traveling with a ball club as it got ready to leave town one night and when he stepped into the depot, suitcase in hand, a woman carrying sticks with balloons on them, asked:

"Take a balloon to your kids?" Followed next some thought and scratching of the head. Then Zeke turned away and said, "I'm sorry."

If that one hasn't bounced around enough by now, try the one where—UCLA's athletic director a year ago received an application from an obscure high school coach in Ohio who wanted the vacant assistant basketball coach job. And said the applicant, Newt Oliver, failed to land the job and later took over as head coach at Little Rio Grande (Ohio) College.

The "pretty fair" player, of course, was Bevo Francis.

AMARILLO—(AP)—Amarillo is expected to dominate its own races here, April 17-18, when it plays host in the fourth Sandie Relays.

In the past, Odessa and Amarillo carried a stir at the races by their rivalry over the championship but the Bronchos are somewhat weaker than they have been in the past.

Amarillo, consequently, holds the edge this season after being the leader in most of the early season events.

Odessa is defending champion, while Amarillo won the Relays two years ago. The two tied in 1950.

Golf and tennis meets are scheduled to run concurrently with this year's relays and Amarillo will rank as the team to beat in these events.

Gene Shields, student manager of the OU football team last year, plays No. 1 on the Frog golf team.

A YEAR AGO — Warren Spahn and Ernie Johnson pitched a no-hit, no run game for the Boston Braves, defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 1-0, in an exhibition game at Chattanooga, Tenn.

FIVE YEARS AGO — The Toronto Mape Leafs defeated the Detroit Red Wings, 3-3, in the opening game of the final round of the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Cleveland Rams withdrew from the National Football League for the duration of the war.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Washington University swept three crew races from the University of California at Oakland, Calif.

ONE-TWO PITCH—Boyce McKnight, left, and Snookie Roberts form the one-two punch of the Midland High pitching staff. McKnight opens on the mound Tuesday against Odessa with Roberts the probable choice against Big Spring Friday.

MHS Nine Begins District Action

Midland High baseballers start their District 3-AA race here Friday afternoon with Coaches Keith Bobo and Louis Grevelle keeping their fingers crossed against a one-run jinx and Midland's faulty late inning play.

Odessa invades Indian Stadium for the 4 p.m. game, the clash marking the first play-for-play baseball battle for Midland since 1949.

This year's team resumed baseball at Midland High after the game lay dead there for three days and up till now the Bulldogs have been on the ball to a 500 extent in four practice games. They beat Lamesa twice and lost to Odessa.

The defeats at Odessa's hands were by 5-4 and 9-8, each of the one-run setbacks seeing Midland take an early lead only to falter because late-inning erratic play.

Cosch Bobo Tuesday morning named Boyce McKnight as the probable starting pitcher. The righthander claimed one of the team's victories over Lamesa last week and has shown steady improvement in recent drills. Snookie Roberts, starter in three of four Midland games, will spell McKnight Tuesday in case of trouble, then be ready for an opening assignment Friday when Big Spring's team plays the Bulldogs.

Odessa, the district co-favorite with Abilene may use either Pat Garland or Albert Stone, both of whom beat Midland before. And Coach Jim Daniel will have Carl Schlemeyer and Harvey Frankel in the bullpen.

Starting with its two victories over Midland, Odessa has run its unbeaten pre-district record to six triumphs. The Bronchos twice beat Lubbock and stopped Alpine and Wink once each.

As for the Midland lineup Bobo said one change would be made in the batting order. He's moving Catcher Rusty Rutledge into the cleanup position after being the team co-captain rapped three hits in five trips against Lamesa last week.

The batting order then reads: Jesse Hatfield, left field; Gwyn Orisham, shortstop; Walt Bingham, men who helped compile the figures are back—Bill Glane, Dick McCoy, Pete Mondorff and Rudy Paynich.

Billy Harris, 25-6 winner at Midland, and Billy Darden, who posted 18-10 with the same club, have been added along with Carroll Beringer, who was the Cats' ace reliever in 1949 and 1950. He has been in the service.

Except at first base, the Cats have a AAA and AA infield, with Forrest Jacobs of Mobile at second, Russ Rose of St. Paul at shortstop and Jim Baxes of Hollywood at third. The latter has been in the service for two years.

Catcher Al Ronning of Montreal soon will be joined by another veteran, Ken Staples, who has been at Brooke Army Medical Center for two years, along with Pitcher Glenn Mickens. The little righthander was supposed to join the Cats upon receiving his discharge, but he's thrown mostly shutouts for the Dodgers in Spring training and will be retained by them upon his release at Fort Sam Houston.

At the moment, the Cats appear to have another weak outfield although the manager, Max Mason, is hopeful that he has a "sleeper" in another recently discharged service man. He's Ray Cuccharini, who has been on the Fort Ord, Calif., service team for two seasons.

Holdovers are Ted Del Quercio and John Simmons.

Haney Plans Lineup Change For BAMC

SAN ANTONIO—Manager Jay Haney still felt his two first basemen were "doing all right" in their fight for a starting berth, yet he prepared to send a third man to the initial sack for a trial Tuesday as the Midland Indians moved here to meet Brooke Army Medical Center in their third exhibition baseball game.

The two early-Spring first basemen, Milton Wallendorf and Hayden White, may have to yield to Outfielder Lou Dawson at the start of Midland's 3:30 p.m. game Tuesday against Brooke Army Medical Center.

But Dawson does get a try, Manager Haney said, after pointing out that both Wallendorf, a rookie, and White, a converted outfielder, have many flaws to outgrow.

Wallendorf, a sensation in batting practice and fair performer in Midland's opening exhibition victory over Berger, slipped in his fielding and failed to hit against Austin last Saturday. White is finding trouble retrieving grounders and hasn't reached his batting capabilities either, Haney said.

In case Dawson moves to first, it'll be his second try at an infield job this Spring. He lasted as a third base aspirant only until veteran Julio de la Torre reported in as a much improved player.

For the rest of Midland against BAMC, Haney figured on his same team that started against Austin, with Ben Quintana opening on the mound. The club probably will read: Roger Della Betta at second base, Scooter Hughes at shortstop, Bill Brown in left field, Tex Stephenson in center field, Freddie Lu-Jan in right field and Gordon Tanner starting as catcher.

Tanner and Lu-Jan currently are engaged in a fiery battle to see which remains with the Indian squad as second string catcher. The starter, Art Bowland, probably will spell Tanner for some duty Tuesday although Haney has indicated he expects to make a decision about the backstops soon.

This game easily might decide which stays, which goes.

Rookies Bud Sisk and Chuck Tanner stand behind Quintana for late inning pitching in Tuesday's game. For Sisk and Quintana, the game will be their second exhibition stint, the former having yielded two runs in three innings against Berger, Quintana one in three frames against the same club.

As for Brooke, it forms the best club Midland can expect to face this Spring despite recent shakeups in personnel. Some, first stringers according to information from BAMC, are away on furlough, others have been transferred elsewhere but several reliables will be on hand. They are, namely, ex-major leaguers Marv Rotblatt of the White Sox, Don Newcombe of the Dodgers, Bob Turley of the Browns and George Susce, Jr., of the Red Sox, all pitchers.

Newcombe, the biggest "big name" on the roster, doubles as a first baseman when not pitching.

OU Official Says NCA Policy To Bring End Of Competition

NORMAN, OKLA.—(AP)—The president of the University of Oklahoma forecast Tuesday nation-wide schedule revisions if the North Central Association ban on athletic scholarships is not relaxed.

And with its crackdown on Oklahoma A&M, the 19-state accrediting agency with power of academic life or death over 368 schools said this was only the beginning.

"There will be no more athletic scholarships as such," an Aggie spokesman said Monday in announcing full compliance with the new rule. The school acted in the face of an ultimatum to get in line or be stripped of recognition.

In light of the new get-tough policy, Dr. George Cross, Oklahoma president, foresaw drastic changes in intercollegiate competition if midwestern schools recognized by the NCA are forced to halt recruiting and subsidization.

The Big Seven, Missouri Valley, Skyline and Big Ten—stalwarts all in the world of sports—come under NCA regulation. Their intersectional competition reaches into every part of the country.

"They won't be able to compete with institutions in other accrediting agencies, all of whom permit scholarships based on athletic prowess alone," Cross said.

"And these conferences will not be alone in feeling the effects of the policy. Their opponents will be affected as well."

Under such a system, he reasoned, the traditional Oklahoma-Texas football series—top attraction of the Southwest—could not go on.

Big Ten-Notre Dame rivalries would have to stop.

ZIGGY WRITES SECOND CLAIM

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Ziggy Sears, old-time Texas League player and umpire and former major league umpire, has filed a second damage suit claiming his vision was impaired when he was struck by a baseball two years ago.

Sears' $48,298 federal court suit named as defendants the former Milwaukee Brewers and the parent Milwaukee Braves, the Dallas Eagles of the Texas League and the American Association of Baseball Clubs.

Sears' suit, filed Monday, said he was struck on the head by a throw to first while officiating in a game between the Brewers and the Eagles at Dallas, April 6, 1951. His first suit was filed in Dallas against the Eagles last Thursday.

Smith Upset By Gonzales

BROOKLYN — (AP) — They call the Eastern Parkway Arena "the house of upsets" and Gene Smith knew why Tuesday.

The hard-hitting little featherweight contender from Washington came into the part-time skating rink Monday night as a two to one favorite to repeat his victory over Denver's Corky Gonzales, another high ranking 216-pounder. Smitty had knocked out Corky with one right hand blast in Washington some 14 months ago. He had a 34-1 record with 24 kayos and three straight victories this year.

But Gonzales hung on to Gene's potent right hand in the first part of the fight like a kid grasping his first baseball bat and rallied in the second half to squeeze out a split decision.

Tigers Boast Top Spring Standing

By BEN FIELEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

It times get as tough for Detroit this summer as some experts predict, the Tigers can always dream about the wonderful Florida Spring.

Early-season guessers generally have picked Detroit to wind up just about where they did a year ago—last. But at the moment the club tops the standings in the Grapefruit League.

In 22 games the Tigers have scored 15 victories, 13 of them against major league opposition. That's the best in either league, both in over-all performance and in games with other major league clubs.

Among National League clubs the other 1932 last-place finisher—Pittsburgh—has the best record, 10 and 5. But even the Pirates aren't particularly proud of it since only two of the games were against major league teams, a 1-1 split with the Athletics and all but three of them were with teams of Class A or much lower caliber.

Brooklyn's 18-10 mark, compiled with but one exception against major league opposition, is much more legitimate.

When it comes to games with teams from its own league, Brooklyn is considerably in front. The

Thorpe Body Goes Home

LOS ANGELES.—P—Jim Thorpe's body is being sent to Shawnee, Okla., Tuesday for interment in the land where the great Indian athlete was born.

The body as it lay in state at a mortuary chapel here was clad in a beaded, buckskin jacket and moccasins—Indian-type garments such as Thorpe wore in recent years for lecture appearances.

A rosary and prayer book were in the hands that performed prodigious feats in football, track and field and baseball in the long ago. Sports figures and sports fans attended Monday night's rosary service and an estimated 3,000 viewed the body since it lay in state beginning a week ago.

Thorpe, 64, died March 28 in his trailer home in suburban Loma.

Dodgers have won nine of 13 starts against National League clubs. Washington leads the American League in this division with six wins and three losses.

American League teams generally have fared better than their senior circuit rivals during the exhibition season. The Boston Red Sox are the only American League club under the 500 mark for the Spring while Milwaukee, Cincinnati and the New York Giants from the National League have lost more than they have won.

Rain washed out half of Monday's exhibition schedule, but in the only two interleague meetings the National Leaguers won. The New York Giants walloped Cleveland, 15-3, at Alexandria, La., and the Chicago Cubs edged the St. Louis Browns, 2-2, at Ardmore, Okla.

The Giants pounded Bob Lemon for all 15 runs and 16 of their 18 hits before Manager Al Lopez lifted him with two out in the seventh inning.

The Cubs made only five hits off the combined offerings of Harry Brecheen, Duane Pilette and Satchel Paige, but two of them were homers by Dee Fondy and Gene Hermanski. The Chicago White Sox exploded for seven runs in the third inning against Carl Scheib and went on to whip the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-3 at Memphis.

Allie Clark homered twice for Philadelphia while Tommy Byrne, who pitched all the way for Chicago contributed a three-run home run in the third-inning uprising.

In other games the St. Louis Cardinals downed Ft. Worth of the Texas League, 7-5, and the New York Yankees whipped their Birmingham, Ala., farm club of the Southern Association, 6-2.

WACO.—P—The University of Houston Cougar golfers remained unbeaten for the season Monday with a five and one-half to one-half triumph over Baylor University.

Musial Pulls Cards Past Cats, 7 To 5

By The Associated Press
The slick-fielding St. Louis Cardinals had to depend almost solely on the big bat of Stan (The Man) Musial Monday to whip the clanking Cats of Fort Worth.

The score was 7-5 for the Cards and Musial's three-run double and two-run homer did most of the damage. With an ordinary major leaguer in the line-up, the Texas League Cats almost certainly would have whipped the National Leaguers.

It was Stan's two-run homer in the sixth that made the difference. In the same inning, the Cats knocked Cliff Chambers off the mound but then had to face Mike Clark who held them hitless the rest of the way.

Rain Thwarts SWC Baseball

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference baseball teams will try again Tuesday.

Three games involving conference nines were postponed because of rain or wet grounds Monday and another was canceled.

Rice vs. Galveston of the Gulf Coast League at Galveston, Oklahoma vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth, and Baylor vs. Nebraska at Waco were postponed. Canceled was the scheduled game in Fayetteville between Arkansas and Missouri.

Baylor and Nebraska planned a doubleheader Tuesday at Waco, Oklahoma and Texas Christian rescheduled their game Thursday after Oklahoma plays Texas Wednesday.

Other games set Tuesday include Texas Christian vs. Fort Worth of the Texas League at Fort Worth, Texas A&M vs. Sam Houston State at Huntsville, and Arkansas vs. Missouri at Fayetteville.

No arrangements had been made to play the Rice-Galveston postponement although it was listed as postponed instead of canceled.

Students Intensify Holiday Vandalism

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—(AP)—Officers grappled with a serious problem of vandalism Tuesday in this resort city swarming with about 15,000 college students on Spring vacation.

Cocoonets have been hurled through hotel lobby and automobile windows. Dead fish, including a six-foot hammerhead shark, have been tossed into swimming pools. A group of teenagers stole a city bus and abandoned it after a drive. A city water tower was smeared with paint. Glass cases on the beach displaying large mounted fish have been smashed and the fish thrown into the streets. Police Chief Roland R. Kelley warned Tuesday that unless the students quickly learn the difference between good-natured pranks and vandalism, "some of them are going back to school with criminal records."

About a dozen young persons have been locked up. More than a score have been fined for vandalism. Nude Bathing Groups of nude boys have been arrested on the beaches in the early morning hours. Three of these picked up last week were fined $10 each for indecent exposure.

The shocker of the holiday season came at 1:30 a.m. Easter Sunday when a student's automobile careened off Ocean Boulevard, struck two strolling couples. When the car finally rolled over and came to a stop, two students were dead and three seriously injured.

Students of many Eastern and Midwestern colleges come to this Atlantic coastal city each year to spend Easter vacations.

Grammer To Hang For 'Near Perfect' Murder Of Mate

BALTIMORE—(AP)—George Grammer was sentenced Tuesday to hang for the "almost perfect" slaying of his wife last Summer so he could marry a pretty UN stenographer in New York.

Mrs. Grammer, former Baltimore nurse who had come here from New York to help care for her dying father, was found dead in her sedan after it had careened down a hill August 20.

Her husband, evidence showed, had spent a week earlier in the month at Chicago with Miss Mathilda Mizbrocki, a UN secretary from Canada, and they had talked of marriage.

P.E.O. WILL MEET The BS Chapter of P.E.O. will meet at 1:15 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. C. Binham, 2600 West Cuthbert Street.

SUPPLY ECONOMY

GREEK... ΟΙΚΟΝΟΜΙΑ ΕΠΙΘΑΛΙΝΗ
SPANISH... ECONOMIA DE SUMINISTROS
FRENCH... ECONOMIE RAVITALEMENT
KOREAN... 보급경제는 위대한 모험이다

IN ANY LANGUAGE COST CONSCIOUSNESS SAVES MAN POWER MONEY MATERIALS

NO MATTER HOW YOU SAY IT—in an effort to get its economy message over to members of the diverse UN forces in Korea, a Third Infantry Division quartermaster company erected this sign. Part of the division's "Cost Consciousness" program, the sign spells out supply economy in five different languages.

Truce Hopes Stir Call For Cutbacks In Arms Spending

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Dirksen (R-Ill.) said Tuesday that if there is a truce in Korea the armed services can and must stand a "substantial reduction" in their spending.

"We're going to be in a fix if we don't balance the budget and we can't do it without cutting military spending," Dirksen said in an interview.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) and Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) meanwhile, said that whether a cease-fire comes in Korea or not the arms budget should not be slashed so deeply as to lower this nation's guard against a Soviet regime suddenly talking as if it wants peace.

And Senator Duff (R-Pa.) said it would be "possibly a fatal mistake" if the U. S. should relax its efforts. But Dirksen, voicing sentiments which may be held by a stable number of colleagues, declared:

"I know the arguments that what we are doing in the military way, is aimed at making us secure against any Russian threat, but if fighting stops in Korea it stands to reason that there can be some stretch-out, with the emphasis put on buying the things we need most."

Russell, former chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he thinks "we've already gambled with destiny in the stretch-out already in effect" in procurement of military supplies.

Nation's Crude Flow Takes Biggest Drop

TULSA—(AP)—Domestic crude oil production took its biggest drop of the year during the week ended April 4, an average of 158,625 barrels daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

Big cuts in Texas and Louisiana allowable, plus a considerable slump in Kansas, lowered the total daily average to 6,338,850 barrels.

Texas led the downturn, off 117,800 barrels to 2,734,800 barrels. Louisiana was next, down 27,075 to 701,050, and Kansas fell 17,400 barrels to 323,700.

Funeral Rites Pend For Crash Victim

BIG SPRING—(AP)—Funeral services were still pending Tuesday morning for Librado Munoz, 53, Midland County farmer fatally injured when his car overturned Monday on U. S. Highway 87 at the Garden City turnoff. Police said the auto turned over three times.

A spokesman at Nalley Funeral Home, Big Spring, said he believed the funeral would be held Wednesday, but nothing definite had been decided pending arrival of the family.

Survivors include the widow of Coahoma; four sons, Jose and Leon, both of Coahoma; Felipe of Big Spring and Pedro of Midland; and five daughters, Mrs. Estelle Martinez, Mrs. Pavla Martinez and Austina Munoz, all of Coahoma; Mrs. Antalla Heredia of Midland and Mrs. Librada Lopez of Big Spring.

See More Kid Still Looking

BANDERA—(AP)—A slick, pepper-footed half-Indian led a dude ranch country posse on a wild goose chase Tuesday.

The self-styled "See More Kid" ransacks Summer homes in the resort area, and then defies Texas Rangers, cops and bounds in their search for him.

Autos and motorcycles can make little headway in the rough country and hounds give up the track, leading officers to believe the fugitive, 19, puts pepper on his shoes.

Monday night and the night before, horsemen—a small army of them—beat the brush for the youth, identified by officers as Charles Brogdon, former inmate of the Gatesville Boys Training School.

Brogdon is charged in a series of ranch house burglaries.

Brownell Opposes Cut In President's Pact-Making Powers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorney General Brownell told the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday it would be "against the best interests of the country" to restrict treaty-making powers at a time when the world is "fraught with peril."

Carrying on the Administration's fight to keep President Eisenhower's present authority in the field of foreign affairs, the attorney general testified:

"On every hand we have need for friends and Allies—the old who have been secured with us in the past, the new who can rely upon the example of the east."

"I think it is against the best interests of the country to inflexibly reduce the tried and proven means, or to dissipate our responsibility and authority, for meeting the world-wide issues which affect the welfare of the United States."

As Secretary of State Dulles did Monday, Brownell praised the motives of Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) and other sponsors of a proposed constitutional amendment to limit treaty-making powers.

But Brownell argued there were inherent dangers in making such a constitutional change. He said the amendment would be in conflict with the United States' own proposal (the Baruch plan) for control of atomic energy under a system of international inspection.

Mrs. Weiner Pays Capitol Social Call

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas Democratic national committeewoman, Mrs. H. H. Weiner of Seguin, met with Governor Shivers Tuesday and said it was a "social visit."

Mrs. Weiner, a supporter of Adlai Stevenson for President, took the place of National Committeeman Wright Morrow at a party meeting in Washington last week. Morrow, along with Shivers and the state Democratic convention, supported President Eisenhower.

"We did talk about the Washington meeting," Mrs. Weiner said of her half-hour visit with Shivers, "but I'll let the governor talk about that if he wants to."

"It really was more of a social visit."

Bodies of two were recovered Monday. A search continued Tuesday for the third man on the boat.

Those whose bodies were identified were Dr. Royce Leroy, Texas A&M chemist, and Elmo Daune, 32, Texas Gulf Sulphur Company employe operating the boat.

The funeral was held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Eberley-River Chapel with the Rev. W. E. Mitchell, pastor of the Church of God, officiating, assisted by the Rev. J. W. Warner. Interment was in the Trinity Memorial Park, Big Spring.

Hearings Slated On Boosts In Fares Bus Lines Request

AUSTIN—(AP)—Requests for wide general bus fare increases will be heard by the Railroad Commission April 20 in the Tribune Building at 9 a.m.

The commission will hear any testimony on hikes proposed by several bus lines.

Continental Bus Lines has asked an increase in local fares from two and one-fourth cents to two and one-half cents.

Increases in commuters' fares also is being sought by the line. Twelve-ride commuter books would be sold on the basis of 85 per cent of the adult one-way fare. The minimum selling price would be $2.85 per book. Books would be limited to 12 days, including the date of sale.

Greyhound is seeking to up local fares to two and one-half cents a mile on the Waco-Tyler, Tyler-Mt. Pleasant and Tyler-Lufkin routes. Fares on other routes that are lower than two and one-fourth would be raised to that figure. Minimum fares of 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children between points where fares are lower also are asked.

Kerville Bus Company asks a local increase to two and one-half cents a mile between Austin and Victoria, Giddings and College Station, Brady and Abilene, and San Angelo and Sonora.

Huntsville Service Missouri Pacific Transportation Company wants a commuter fare hike to 85 per cent of one way fares to replace the present 70 per cent and 75 per cent. Commutation fares for students between Houston and Huntsville and points between would be upped to 75 per cent.

Jefferson Bus Lines has asked a 15 per cent discount from the basic one-way commuter rates in place of the present 25 per cent. It would apply to 12-ride books.

Mooney Motor Coaches asks a commuter fare boost to 75 per cent of the one way fare, with a minimum charge of $4 for books with 20 tickets.

Names of the students who will attend the contests will be announced later, he added.

It is expected that fewer than 20 witnesses will be called, including those who refused to be televised during the March 23-31 sessions.

A REPORT To The People Of Midland From One Of Your City Councilmen

Just for the record, let's answer some questions which have been publicly asked in the present city election campaign. The answers are spread in the minutes of council meetings, and official files of the City of Midland, but for your convenience, here they are answered in the order asked.

1. Water rates in Midland are the same, summer and winter, and are a good 30% lower than rates in Odessa and Big Spring. Further, the cost of operating the water department has been reduced from $31.45 per connection in 1949 to $20.21 as of now.
2. The contract has been let to fill in all leave outs in the downtown section of Midland. This is being done by lien and personal judgements.
3. The fly control program was started over 60 days ago, and if you will look at your garbage can, you will find it probably has been sprayed.
4. There is no exposed drainage ditch which is a health hazard in Midland. Drainage, when there is need for it, is good so far as it concerns the health of our children.
5. It never has been contemplated to extend the city limits at this time at a cost to the present tax paying citizens. Such an action was never proposed, nor was it even suggested. A proposition was made to the city council to extend the city limits with the developer paying all of the costs of water, sewer, engineering, and paving, but no action was taken.
6. No supervisory personnel has been imported into Midland when such help was available locally. In the past year, a returning veteran was restored to his job as a supervisor, and a graduate traffic engineer was employed. No other supervisory help has been employed.
7. Parking in the business district is restricted to 30 minutes because most merchants want it so, as do the shoppers. If it were an hour, then workers could park their cars all day, coming down on the hour to put money in the meters. A great deal of off street parking has been developed, and much more will be in use before the end of the year.
8. A man's pay should be in proportion to what he can earn for his employer. The City Manager of the City of Midland is not indispensable, but he is doing a good job. He has earned more for the people of Midland than the governor in the past few years, and here following are some examples:
 - a. In the sale of municipal bonds in March of this year, Midland saved 4/10% over the interest rate to Odessa. This means a saving of $180,000 during the life of the bonds.
 - Prior to 1950 the city had to resort to carrying a deficit. Now the operating cost is on a "pay as you go basis."
 - Fiscal conditions were such that in 1949 national banks were forced to dispose of Midland bonds. Sale of bonds in 1950 resulted in a savings of $150,000.
 - b. In 1950 water and sewer pipe was bought at firm prices at savings of about $150,000 (and pipe was on hand in Midland when it wasn't available elsewhere). Negotiated contracts for purchase of water meters alone saved the city $18,000.
 - c. Renegotiation of a contract with CAA will save Midland $750 per year from here on out.
 - d. Renegotiation of American, Continental and Pioneer contracts will add revenue of about $4,000 per year.
 - e. Lease on the restaurant at Air Terminal will add about $2,000 per year and still be fair rent to the operator.
 - f. A contract for a car rental service at Air Terminal will add about $5,000 per year revenue.
 - g. A new contract with the airport base operators has added about $9,000 per year revenue.
 - h. A $7,000 per year loss in the operation of the gas system at Air Terminal has been eliminated by selling the system to West Texas Gas Company for $28,000 (and property is on the tax rolls).
 - i. Enforcement of limousine fees at the Air Terminal has added about $1,000 revenue.
 - j. A new gasoline contract at Air Park will bring added revenue per year of from $7,500 up. Also, the army will provide 95% of the upkeep of Air Park under a negotiated agreement.
 - k. In the past three years operating costs at Midland Air Terminal have been reduced by $8,000 while revenue has been raised by $97,000... $105,000 per year, or 20c on your tax dollar. During this period $30,000 in past due accounts were collected.
9. Midland has the lowest adjusted tax rate of any city over 10,000 in the State of Texas, according to the League of Texas Municipalities. This was recently proved in an independent survey by the First Southwest Co., fiscal agents of the City of Midland.
10. The printed annual report was prepared at a cost of 15c per book (7c per tax payer) and distribution went to Midland citizens, financial institutions, industries, colleges and universities, etc. The compliments have far outweighed the criticisms, as most persons are happy to see such a well prepared brochure which is obviously proud of our town. (Lubbock's is not near so nice, yet cost much more. The Midland report was printed by a year book specialist on low bid.)
11. The park program is well underway, and there will probably be swimming in three new swimming pools in Midland this year. The colored and Latin-American parks are getting first priority. Thousands of dollars have been saved already in this program, and more will be.
12. The Fire and Police Departments of the City of Midland are vastly improved, and when the new public safety building is ready in about nine months, we will have even better public protection. There has been decided improvement in traffic control, and it will be even better. The Midland police department is acknowledged one of the very best in the State of Texas.

This brief public report is being made as a tribute to those men who have served on your city council, often at personal sacrifice, during the past few years. Midland has a good government. I know you will elect the men you believe to be the best qualified, so that if possible it will be even better.

Respectfully submitted,
Ray O. Howard,

Gout Victims Aren't Funny, Says Doctor, They're Great

FORT WORTH—P—Don't laugh at the man whose big toe is swollen like an orange from an attack of gout—he may make history some day.

A Fort Worth doctor has done a little research and found that gout sufferers make a mark in the world.

"I don't know why," said Dr. John Church, "but people with gout have always been a source of public amusement."

History shows they should be lauded rather than laughed at.

More gouty people have been great writers, soldiers and statesmen than comic strip characters. But the public, it seems, identifies gout with comies like Jiggs and other characters instead of with men like Alexander the Great, Lord Tennyson and other historic victims of the disease.

To get an idea of just what gout is, one physician described it like this: "Screw up the vise as tightly as possible and you have rheumatism. Give it another turn and that is gout."

Dr. Church explained: "Gout is a form of arthritis. It usually attacks the big toe but may center in the elbows or ankles and is characterized by swelling, redness and extreme pain."

An acute attack, Church said, might last from 12 hours to five or six days.

During that time history has been made by men like these: Kubla Khan, Talleyrand, Martin Luther, John Wesley, Henry Fielding, Thomas Gray, Stendhal, Sir Isaac Newton, John Milton, William Pitt, Francis Bacon, Charles Darwin, Gen. Winfield Scott and Guy de Maupassant.

Pauper Care Given Wealthy Veterans By VA, Paper Says

LOUISVILLE, KY.—P—The Louisville Times said Tuesday wealthy war veterans are taking advantage of inadequate laws to get free treatment at Veterans Administration hospitals.

All they need to do, the Times said, is state they are unable to pay. The law will not permit an investigation of their ability to pay.

Abuses of the law's loopholes have been pinpointed by the U. S. comptroller general, Lindsey Warren, in a report to the House Armed Services Committee, according to the paper.

It said the report cited examples, included in a cross-section summary of the financial status of 336 veterans getting free care at government expense for ailments, in no way related to war service.

More than half of the 336, the report was quoted, have incomes of more than $5,000 a year and at least one is worth between $500,000 and one million dollars.

Others were shown to have assets ranging from $20,000 to $500,000 in addition to incomes of up to $50,000 a year.

The comptroller's investigators, the Times said, found that in 46 veterans hospitals two-thirds of all beds were occupied by patients with non-service connected disabilities. A large portion of it was noted, were tubercular and mental patients and chronically ill veterans.

Midlander Explains Trigger Invention To Optimist Club

Lee Hardgrave, Midland jeweler and amateur gunsmith, explained his new trigger invention to Optimists at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at Jimmy's Pit Bar B Q.

Hardgrave told the group he fashioned the "single set" trigger to allow a hunter to charge a two-trigger into a one stage or hair trigger.

The new trigger mechanism allows the hunter to use either the long slow pull or the delicate fast action trigger. Primary advantages of the new trigger, he pointed out, are that faster shooting is possible, confusion on which trigger to pull is avoided and the rifle will stay on the target better.

Jim Velvin, Jr., president of the club, announced that the inaugural ball has been tentatively set for Friday, May 8. He also said that the board had approved $3,000 for the proposed new Optimist youth building.

Write-In—

Wilderspin, in his campaign, has been critical of present administration policies.

Little could be learned Tuesday morning of the "Citizens for Better City Government."

Mrs. Donnelly said she knew nothing to it until Tuesday morning and that she interpreted the movement as an indication that Midland citizens were becoming more interested in their city government and "where their tax dollar is going."

Mechanization Cited As Hope For Cotton

DALLAS—P—More and better cotton grown more economically is all that will save the cotton industry, the Texas Cotton Ginners Association has been told.

A New Mexico grower — Dean Stahmann of Las Cruces — said mechanization is one of the answers to cheap cotton production.

"Some day soon a new synthetic will appear which will be better than rayon and cheaper than nylon," Stahmann said.

"Then it will price cotton out of the market."

WATER FOR THIRSTY MIDLAND—These two 2,000,000-gallon concrete tanks, now nearing completion at McMillen Field, will help bring Midland an additional water supply this Summer. The water will flow into the tanks from a dozen wells before starting its nine-mile trip to Midland through a 30-inch supply line. Workmen below are starting the job of pre-stressing the tanks by tightly wrapping steel wire against the concrete which already has been poured. Additional concrete will then be sprayed over the pre-stressed wire wrapping to give the tanks additional strength.

Memories Of Der Fuhrer Bring Smiles To Germans Living Near Berchtesgaden

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram
Special Correspondent

BERCHTESGADEN, GERMANY.—The beauty of Obersalzberg, as the Bavarian mountain area surrounding Berchtesgaden is called, was not discovered by Hitler—although he made the area internationally famous after the building of his home and guest house, "The Eagle's Nest," here.

But long before, Obersalzberg was a famous weekend resort, called "the pearl of Bavaria."

After Hitler's 1923 "Putsch" in Munich, he fled to his friend, Dietrich Eckhart, an old Nazi Party member and native of Berchtesgaden.

It is in one of Eckhart's homes, now a resort ski lodge for Americans that this story is being typed. In 1923 Hitler lived in a little hut to hide from the police. In 1927, he built "Haus Walchenfeld" which he later rebuilt as the "Berghof," his private home.

Most Americans believe Hitler lived in "The Eagle's Nest" but he had that only for a tea house. Actually, he visited the mountain top retreat on only four occasions.

Down The Mountain
His home was located half-way down the Obersalzberg mountain. During this early time, Hitler lived in his Alpine residence more than when he came to power. He was almost every night in the little inn, "Zum Turken." He later put the owner in a concentration camp for his politics.

After Hitler's home was built in the Obersalzberg, Goring, Bormann and Hess built their houses near their boss.

House owners were moved out to make room for the spreading community of 17 buildings—complete with all necessities, such as security police, fire department, kindergarten, caserns, garages, and later, an underground as elaborate as a luxury hotel.

Hitler was clever in that the landed property all was listed in Bormann's name. Even today, residents of Berchtesgaden naively have told me: "Hitler did not know of all the money Bormann was spending. Hitler was a good, kind man. Bormann did all the dirty work."

Hitler had his holidays in his Berchtesgaden home. He made a kindly picture, walking with his "Schaferhund," welcoming children and old farm women. One native told me:

"My sister-in-law was Hitler's cook at Obersalzberg. Most all of the things the papers have printed about him were not so. He had only (Continued On Page Five)

Telephone Company Starts Building Expansion Here

Expansion work has started on the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company building at the northeast corner of West Missouri and Marzfeld Streets which will almost double the size of the present building, Billy G. Yates, district manager, pointed out Tuesday.

A tentative completion date for the expansion has been set for March 1, 1954, he said. Additions will include a basement and two-story structure in the rear of the present building. The new addition will extend the full width of the present building which is 123 feet.

When completed the building will be a perfect rectangular shape with an overall depth of 148 feet, the manager explained, and will match the present building with solid masonry in face brick, and will be air conditioned.

The basement will extend present room in the cable vault space and contain space for the district engineer's office as well as providing a new emergency engine room, store-room space and rest room.

The office space on the first floor will be expanded accordingly and make more room for the plant office and commercial office, the switchroom, a women's lounge and dinette. On the second floor of the new building will be a training room and quiet room as well as an operators lounge.

Houston Hill, Inc., of Midland has been awarded contract for general construction and the Mid-West Electric Company of Midland will do the electrical work. Harry Fortune, mechanical contractor of Fort Worth, will handle plumbing, heating, ventilation and air conditioning.

Gabby Women, Vain Men Attract Spies To A-Test Area

EDITOR'S NOTE: Douglas Larsen, who has covered atomic energy activities for several years, first got wind of the startling facts about atomic nuclear reported below, when he was covering recent nuclear tests at Yucca Flats. To dip deeper, he teamed with Doyle Kline, managing editor of the Albuquerque Tribune. This is the second of their four dispatches.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN and DOYLE KLINE
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (NEA)—It's safe to assume Moscow has gathered a mass of detail about how America's nuclear weapons are stored, moved around the U. S. and transported to bases overseas. That information is available to any casual visitor to the Santa Fe-Albuquerque area. Two events which took place within a 12-hour period recently show how loose tongues blab secrets: Seen From Air sign flashed in the TWA Constellation on its approach to Albuquerque's municipal airport. The plane was landing on the same runways used by Kirtland Air Force Base planes and atomic bombers headed for all parts of the world.
 The "Fasten Your Seat, Belt"

The Connie made a swing around the field and dropped its wheels over the east end of the runway, 300 feet over Sandia Base. A middle-aged woman passenger nudged the woman next to her and said in a voice audible to other passengers:

"Take a look at the side of that mountain. See the big holes? They are tunnels. And those bunkers with the dirt piled over them? Fences around both places. They store atom bombs there."

Told By Husband
 The other woman asked in astonishment:
 "Are you sure? I thought that was secret!"

Somewhat impatiently the first woman replied:
 "Of course. My husband works there. Besides everybody in Albuquerque knows it. My husband says all you have to do is put two and two together."

She recounted swiftly how her husband had surmised from remarks of men off duty that air-conditioning equipment had been installed in the tunnels to incubate the great big eggs—that the tunnels had been pushed with desperate speed into solid granite. The woman now had the rap-attention of all those on the plane who could hear. Encouraged, she added:

 "As we land, notice the funny looking hangars and the big planes parked all around. They take the bombs from Sandia Base and load them on the bombers right over there. You can take some interesting pictures of the whole place from the terminal."

One of these reporters who overheard this fascinating recital was invited that evening to a small

Gloria Grahame Remains Fascinating With 'Oscar'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie town can't figure out Gloria Grahame, the provocative blonde who won an Academy Award last month.

The gal has been in pictures for almost 10 years, yet few people claim they really know her. Maybe that's why she's such a good actress.

But her unorthodox ways upset many people in Hollywood. These people expect Gloria to conform to the modes and methods of the movie town. She refuses. Three studios have let her go, and some of the partings have not been friendly.

Now she's taking the rap from certain columnists who accuse her of having become afflicted with Osgersia, a seasonal disease caused by award poisoning and resulting in swelling of the head and the sense of proportion. The carping is caused by Gloria's unconcern over cashing in on the publicity benefits of her Academy Award.

I'm an expert observer of the disease, and I don't think Gloria has it. She acts just the same as she did before she won the big prize—unpredictable, somewhat vague, but still fascinating.

She is continuing her string of unique portrayals in "The Big Heat." When I saw her on the set, she was about to commit a murder. Her face was made up to be horribly scarred, a gangster having splashed her with scalding coffee.

Was she thrilled about winning the Oscar?

"Sure, who wouldn't be?"

Why is it now?

"My son, Timmy, has taken it over. He keeps it in his room and thinks it's a toy." Timmy, four and a half, is her son by her former husband, director Nick Ray. Her first mate was actor Stanley Clements.

Gloria has had an amazing career during her span in Hollywood. A Los Angeles girl, she was first signed by MGM as Louis B. Mayer's own protegee. But the furthest she got was playing a sec-

Oklahoma 'Mother Of Year' Has Relatives In Midland

The oldest granddaughter and only great-grandchild of Oklahoma's "Mother of the Year" are Midlanders.

Mrs. J. Dianey, who lives with her husband and their son, Ricky, at 2509 Park Lane, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Flake M. Keys of Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mrs. Keys, 71, who became famous in 1915 when she gave birth to quadruplet daughters, was named Oklahoma's mother of the year by the Golden Rule Foundation.

She was born in Waxahachie and lived in Cleburne and Miles before moving to Hollis, Okla., in 1910. In Hollis, she was active in the PEO sisterhood, serving as the chapter's president, and now holds that office in a chapter in Oklahoma City. She also was active in the Parent-Teacher Association and federated women's clubs.

The committee selecting the mother of the year declared that Mrs. Keys' spiritual contribution was the finest factor in her favor.

Mrs. Dianey's father was the late Rex Keys of Paducah, one of Mrs. Keys' eight children.

Shepard Roof Work Solves Major Problems For Bank

Expert roofing work met and solved three major problems which faced Midland's newest bank building—and, for that matter, which faces any type of business construction.

Shepard Roofing Company, 1811 West South Front Street, was commissioned to solve these problems: first, how to keep the Midland National Bank building warm in the Winter months; second, how to keep the building cool in the Summer; and third, how to keep sand and dirt out at all times. The company is an "old-timer" in meeting these problems. Expert roofing and precision workmanship are the answer.

Shepard Company fills precision workmanship the key to good construction. Quality materials are important, yes, but skilled workmen hold the balance between good and poor construction.

Shepard Roofing Company, 1811 West South Front Street, was commissioned to solve these problems: first, how to keep the Midland National Bank building warm in the Winter months; second, how to keep the building cool in the Summer; and third, how to keep sand and dirt out at all times. The company is an "old-timer" in meeting these problems. Expert roofing and precision workmanship are the answer.

A Mark Of Anxious Times

Whatever the times, certain irritated citizens rise to complain that the manners of our people are not what they used to be.

Nevertheless, at the risk of evoking this more or less automatic response, someone should say a few words about the sad decline of good manners in one special field: the circle in which top government officials and lawmakers travel.

The tensions of this age produce such frequent emotional explosions that elementary courtesy and decency too often are smothered.

The President, as our highest civilian official, is entitled by virtue of his office to every mark of courtesy and respect from all sides.

At news conferences, a President sometimes must wonder if he is not on trial for some outrageous crime.

This plain presumption of presidential ignorance is a crude insult to a President's dignity.

With some who move in this high circle, this kind of bad manners goes beyond carelessness and thoughtlessness; it amounts to the practice of calculated disrespect.

In a time when the bold charge and the loaded question command great attention, the prosecutor's tone—peremptory, sometimes almost insolent—is becoming too common an inflection.

Does all virtue reside in the questioner? Must the questioned always be on the defensive, always the butt of contrived or careless insult?

Thomas Jefferson and Alexander Hamilton managed to debate each other in public over issues every whit as fundamental to the welfare of this nation as those which now concern us; yet they never ceased to respect each other and never forgot they were gentlemen.

Those who want to argue that this behavior is old-fashioned might as well say kindness is out of date. For the people who study the matter all agree that good manners are rooted in consideration for one's fellow man.

Anyone can buy all of Uncle Sam's bonds he can. It takes a real American to buy some he "can't."

Anything Can Happen

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: McCarthy's probe of Greek shipping should be continued; How did shipowners mysteriously avoid deportation? Why didn't government crack down after Merry-Go-Round episode?

WASHINGTON—There was some backstage play mixed up in Senator McCarthy's furor over Greek shipping.

One unpublicized development was the senator's irritation when he discovered this column had exposed the Greek shipping scandals two years ago.

Actually, Senator McCarthy was absolutely right about probing the entire Greek shipping scandal. He should proceed vigorously, and he also should investigate the shipment of strategic supplies by his own friends the Chinese Nationalists to their enemies in Red China.

Unfortunately, the Greek shipping scandal is worse than reported, and here are certain things Senator McCarthy should investigate carefully.

No. 1—How have certain Greek shipowners been able to keep from being deported? In March, 1951, Manuel Kulukundis, one of the biggest Greek shippers in the world, was on the attorney general's list for deportation back to Greece.

Then suddenly on March 12 his name appeared on a special bill which was passed by Congress preventing the attorney general from deporting him.

They had to act in a hurry to escape deportation, but by some miracle of congressional wire-pulling or lobbying the entire Kulukundis family got their names tacked on the tail of this special bill permitting them to remain in the U. S.

This same man who so badly wanted to stay in this country, last month sent one of his ships, sold him by the United States, to help undermine this country.

On February 27, the S. S. Hadotis on which the United States still has a mortgage of $310,000, sailed first into the port of Kaohsiung in Formosa, then proceeded, via Japan, to the Communist port of Dairen, Manchuria, now under control of the Red army.

This ex-American ship, formerly the S. S. James M. Courts, was sold to the Russians.

It was my experience the Russians broke every agreement they made.

Sam Hanna, who was a member of the Texas legislature from Dallas for a good many years, was opposing a bill. The author amended it to try to meet Hanna's objections but still Sam was against it. He was asked to explain why and he drawled:

"It's like a baseball game I heard of. The right fielder missed two easy chances so the manager put in another man. The very next inning, the substitute missed a fly. When he returned to the bench, the manager demanded, 'What's the matter?' The player replied, 'Smith has got things so loused up that nobody can play out there.'"

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service "How should this hand be played?" asks a New York correspondent.

"I won the opening club lead with dummy's king, and immediately drew two rounds of trump with the ace and king. When I discovered the bad trump break, I decided I needed a good break in diamonds to make the contract.

"Acting on this assumption, I led the ace of diamonds. West promptly trumped with the nine of spades decided already how to play this hand, try it before reading on. The correct play at the second trick is a lulu.

When it is possible to ruff in either hand, or in both hands, your best course is to count winners instead of losers.

In order to obtain a fourth trump trick, South must ruff once in either hand. Hence South looks only for a way to get one ruffing trick. There is no convenient way to ruff anything in the dummy, but South easily can ruff a small heart in his own hand.

At the second trick, therefore, South leads the four of hearts from the dummy and ruffs in his own hand.

South next continues by cashing the top spades and leading his last trump. West can take the queen of spades but must then lead to dummy.

Dummy easily can lead the jack of spades and the two top hearts, on each of which South can discard a diamond. Don't forget South already has ruffed once and therefore has one trump less than dummy.

It is then easy to get dummy's ace of clubs out of the way and lead a diamond to the South hand for the rest of the tricks.

The actual declarer could have made the slam contract even after beginning the hand badly. The correct play is, however, to ruff a low heart at the second trick.

Yes, an expert would make this contract without any trouble at all. Just for the fun of it, if you haven't and naturally made his queen of spades later on. I therefore was set one trick.

"I feel sure the hand can be made somehow or other, but I cannot see either the method or the reasoning which would discover such a method. Would an expert know how?"

Sources For Glass Abounds In India

CALCUTTA—(AP)—India boasts the world's largest deposits of sillimanite, key mineral in glass making, according to the Geological Survey of India.

Deposits in the Khasi and Jaintia hills of Northern Assam contain more than 251,000 tons, the survey said. The deposits were discovered after World War I but full exploration occurred only recently.

BOOKS FOR THE BARON

by Anthony Morton BARON

Copyright 1952 by John Creasey - Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: John Mannerling, known only to a few as 'The Baron,' who also forces of law and order, is a man of many talents. He is a Lord Philip Litcham who died in a car crash. His daughter, Gloria, Litcham's daughter, is married one evening when she thinks she is a corpse in the library. Mannerling investigates, and sees a man watching him.

MANNERLING could see the dim, blurred reflection of the man's head and shoulders—and one hand, touching the door frame. He moved along a little, breathed on the glass to smear it, then reached for the handle inside the bookcase. The man stayed at the door.

Mannerling breathed heavily again and smeared the glass in front of him. As the cloud cleared, the watcher disappeared.

Mannerling swung a round, reached the door and peered into the hall, standing at one side, so that he couldn't easily be seen.

The other was walking softly along the wide passage which led to the bathroom. He reached a door which opened to the right of the large swing doors of the bathroom, and touching the handle, turned and glanced behind him. Mannerling darted out of sight.

Next time he ventured to look, the man had disappeared, but he remained vivid in Mannerling's mind's eye. Short, slim, dressed in dark clothes—as the butler or any of the footmen at Litham Hall would be by day, but not two hours after the household had retired.

Mannerling followed the unknown and opened the door through which the man had passed. A light went out, another door opened. Whoever was ahead had one advantage; he knew the house better than Mannerling. But Mannerling passed along a narrow passage and the pale light from the hall showed him the far door.

He reached it, turned the handle and pulled.

The door didn't open. It was locked. He stood in the gloom, deliberating, then went back to the study.

The chalk mark showed up plainly, and he remembered seeing a pair of scissors in the drawer; he took them out, with a small envelope. There was a dull smear over the spot.

He cut off the soiled strands of pile, placed them in the envelope, sealed it, and thrust it into his pocket.

LADY BREAM, a distant relative whom Gloria called Aunt A, thumped into the hall and into sight.

"What are you trying to do, John? Persuade Gloria that she did see something?"

"Just trying to make sure."

"There's no need to make sure. You're quite wrong to encourage the child," went on Lady Bream. "She was so different, so bright and gay—but now—there's too much coddling."

"I know. You said so upstairs."

"These specialists," sneered Lady Bream. "Money, money, money, thumping fat feet, for pretending that there's something mysterious about a girl who had a shock and can't get over it. I'm disappointed in you, John. I thought you had more common sense. You're 40, old enough to—"

"Thirty-eight, please," pleaded Mannerling.

"That's still old enough to know better than to pamper Gloria!"

"She might have seen a body, you know."

"She was dreaming," said Lady Bream, sweeping, "John, you've got to stop her from mooning about the house all day. She won't visit anyone, won't even call on old friends. She's developing melancholia—that's what's happening to—"

"Nothing at all," Mannerling said.

Something struck him heavily on the side of the head.

Gloria. And all these highfalutin ideas that the specialists give her are making her worse. Now she really thinks she's ill, and she's brooding over that as well as over Philip. I thought you would help her to get over his death.

"Each to his own method," said Mannerling. "Maggie, didn't I ask you not to leave her alone?"

"She's asleep," said Lady Bream. Lady Bream insisted on satisfying herself that nothing was amiss in the study, then led the way up the stairs, rustling and thumping.

In Gloria's room, the red glow from the electric fire spread soft hues over the sleeping girl as she sat in the chair. Her shoulders drooped and her cheek rested against a wing; in repose, she looked lovely.

She didn't stir as he carried her to the bed.

LADY BREAM tucked her in and, before moving away, brushed her forehead lightly with her hand. When they reached the passage, she was smiling and her voice was gentle.

"John, what's going on in that wicked mind of yours?"

"The usual blank," said Mannerling. "The gray cells won't work in the early hours. Blame my riotous living."

"I sometimes wonder whether you ever forget that some idiots consider you to be a good detective. I always said that admiration would spoil you, John." She touched his arm. "Do you think Philip was murdered?"

"Do you think Philip was murdered?"

"I hope he was," said Mannerling.

MANNERLING went along the passage to the bathroom. Surface thoughts were in his mind; crowding out the other, more significant ones. Lady Bream was old for her age; much too old for Gloria; not natural enough, too intense. A younger woman here might help Gloria. He must fix it.

The significant thoughts broke about the night—the man in black through to the surface. The truth—the blood spot. Of course it was blood; Gloria had seen a dead man. So now there were two dead men—Philip and the unknown. People didn't get their throats cut by accident. They had been known to, for dabbling in other people's affairs. That spot of blood—he wouldn't listen to the small voice telling him it might not be blood—made this a job for the police.

Send for the police, and Gloria would be in seventh heaven; have them fail to find the explanation—she'd be back in despair.

He reached the door of his own room again, and heard a movement behind the passage behind him.

He looked around sharply, but could see nothing; then he heard the movement again, and smiled; it was the gurgling of water, he'd just become aware of it. He opened the door and went inside, groping for the light switch.

Something struck him heavily on the side of the head, and he pitched forward.

Memories Of Der Fuhrer—

one woman—Eva Braun—while the other party leaders had many. He was always kind to the gardener and to my sister-in-law."
It's strange, and a little unbelievable how naive the people can be. They would rather remember Hitler's patting his gardener on the back than burning thousands of human beings in ovens, like those I recently saw at Dachau.
Heavy Bombardment
Shortly before the end of the war, there was a heavy bombardment on Obersalzberg.
I have talked with several of the 3,500 workers who were working there.
Because of the ultra-special underground, only six workers were killed.

The big devastation to the area was done by Hitler's SS men. They burned what was left.
In 1951, I visited the Obersalzberg and saw the remains of Hitler's home. I stood by the huge picture window in a spacious living room, where he had welcomed Chamberlain and convinced the Englishman he wanted no more territorial aggression.
Although the house largely was in ruins, the Americans decided to raise it, reportedly so the Germans would not make a "Shrine" out of the site.
They left standing, intact, the majestic, impervious looking "Eagle's Nest" perched defiantly on top of the mountain for all to see as a more symbolic reminder, as far as I am concerned, of Hitler's former power.
And now who is making a "Shrine" of the ruins half-way down the mountain?
The Americans make a pilgrimage there everyday—by the bus loads.
They are taken free of charge. They are provided a free guide to explain the story of Hitler's Obersalzberg home.
Last year, more than 200,000 visitors made the trip.
It's interesting that less than one fourth of this number were Germans.
Rain Or Shine
The Americans will go to see the few bricks which remain—whether it be raining, snowing or freezing.
But one German said, "We'd never think of going there unless it was a pretty day, and we were out for a walk."
Meanwhile, Berchtesgaden as a tourist center is as famous as Colorado Springs.
Although the U. S. government bombed out the old Nazi Party leaders' homes, you can not erase the famous place—Obersalzberg. It now is historical.
And the buses running to the "Eagle's Nest" have a fine Summer business.
Up there, the tea and cake, and the view over Austria and Germany, is something any one of the 200,000 tourists would say was worth the detour marks it cost him.
And from the tourist, Berchtesgaden can make, in a three month period, some 100,000 marks, or $25,000.
That may be another reason why the natives like the memory of their Fuhrer.

Pecos Gains High Building Ranking; Keeps Brisk Pace

PECOS—Even as the announcement was released that Pecos ranked fifth in building permit dollars out of 27 West Texas cities for January and February, the brisk building pace was maintained during the last half of March, with permits totaling $186,700.
This figure places the month's building total at $477,600. Building permits for the first three months of the year totaled $650,450 which includes permits for two new elementary schools now under construction.
According to F. W. Dodge Corporation, construction news and marketing specialists, Pecos had a total of $182,000 worth of building permits for the first two months. This figure placed Pecos behind Midland, Odessa, San Angelo and Snyder, ranking in order.
Residence permits headed the list the last 15 days with three business permits totaling $18,000 being granted. Leading the residence permits were six to Williams and five houses totaling $55,000.
R. B. Atwood received permits to build six houses at a cost of $30,000, and E. O. Parsons received permits for three houses valued at $21,000.
Eleven individual permits totaled $34,200.
It is believed sugar cane first came from India or the South Pacific islands where it still grows wild.

THINK-TANKS—Too bad your income tax return has long since been sent in. You might have been saved all that brain-sweating figuring if you'd had one of the International Business Machine company's just-unveiled electronic calculators around to solve your problem in something like minus-nothing flat. Unglamorously named merely "701," the mechanical brain was recently unveiled in New York. While you wait in the conference room at upper right, "701" can, in six minutes, buzz through a mathematical problem that would take men eight weeks to work. It multiplies and divides more than 2000 times a second and adds and subtracts faster than 14,000 times a second. Only six of the 11-ton "brain's" 11 units are shown here.

Severe, Repeated Headaches Are A Problem To Diagnose

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Unfortunate is the person who suffers from recurring headaches. Such, for example, is I. D., who writes, "What, if any, is the cause and remedy for those horrible headaches which come on suddenly at the back of the head? After they have subsided that spot in my head remains sore to the touch. It is always worse on the left side than on the right. What does this suggest?"
There are, it must be recognized, several kinds of recurring headaches. Some of them are on an emotional basis, others are labeled migraine, and in still others additional causes are recognized.
It now is believed, however, that most headaches are associated with changes in the circulation of the blood vessels in the brain, although the cause of such changes may differ from person to person.
In I. D.'s case the fact that the headaches are largely on one side suggests migraine, a condition the origin of which still is shrouded somewhat in obscurity.
So far as remedies for migraine are concerned, there are drugs available which often can shorten or halt an attack if they are given at the earliest possible moment. These drugs, however, are powerful, and are not without danger, so they should be taken only under careful supervision.
In general, severe or repeated headaches are difficult diagnostic problems. The complete history of the attacks, the kind and location of pain, and the preceding symptoms, if any, must be studied.

A complete physical examination should be made. The sinuses need to be eliminated as a cause and so do the eyes. Special tests may have to be used in order to find out whether the headaches come from a local relaxation of the blood vessels.
Two Steps Involved
The treatment of any type of severe headache involves two steps. The first step is to try to relieve the immediate difficulty as rapidly as possible. Certain types of headaches, especially the so-called "billionaire" type, often can be relieved by simple painkilling drugs, like aspirin. The more severe varieties may go on in spite of any drugs given.
The second step is to try to identify the cause or at least the physical or emotional factors which tend to bring on the headaches. If these can be successfully attacked, the headaches often can be made to appear less frequently.

Yanks? Okay, Say Germans, But Manners Could Improve

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

MUNICH, GERMANY—What do the Germans—after seven years of an occupation army—really think of the Americans?
We asked a dozen Germans, from various walks of life, and herewith—gathered especially for Reporter-Telegram readers—are their opinions. We believe them to be quite candid:
HANNS ECHRAMM: "Americans? Let them stay as long as they want to. It would be nice if they would return our property which they are illegally holding."
DOCTOR ZENTNER: "I am very happy the Americans are here."
ROLF GAIL: "I don't like them at all. They are too noisy. They have bad manners, and act as if everything belongs to them."
LUDWIG SPERR: "I have very dear friends among them. The ones I know I like very much. The others with obvious bad manners don't exist for me."
ANTON SCHRAPS: "It is nice they are here. I hope they stay for a long time. They add new color to our gray daily life. Their influence is very becoming."
ULLRICH FROEDEN: "I hope they stay for a good while, politically it is of great importance for us that they do."
PETER DREWITZ: "Generally speaking, I favor them. But Americans always think that they are something better. They seem to have something like Hitler's 'master race theory' now."

Like Soldier Boys
GUSTAF WINTERBERGER: "Who is supposed to protect whom? I like the clean-shaven soldier boys, though there are surprisingly many bums among them."
GERHARDT GRAT: "The manners of the Americans are detestable."
FRANZ WASNER: "They have done a great deal for us. One has to learn, though that they are very different in their daily life and general point of view."
DET TEN SCHLEIERMACHER: "They live for themselves in another world. They always are congratulating each other on what wonderful people they are."

GUENTHER POPPITZ: "Most of them are all right. Though they never will feel comfortable among us—isn't it strange?"
INGRID WINKLER: "They live in little worlds to themselves. They never learn our language nor appreciate our culture nor seem to want to know us. They act in the same places and travel in the same circles—always with other Americans."
HEINZ BLOEMER: "They are like everyone else. Some I like and some I don't like. But it is hard to get to know them."

SMU Has Rare Bible Compiled By Calvin

DALLAS—One of what is claimed to be the only two known copies of the large church edition of the Geneva Bible is at the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University here.
The copy is on loan from Sumnerfield Roberts, Dallas oil operator, who acquired it 10 years ago.
This Bible, printed about 1560, was a strongly Puritan version compiled by the stern reformer, John Calvin. The Geneva version was the Bible of the Pilgrims and the first settlers in Virginia.

Christ, Napoleon Outweigh Lincoln

SANTA BARBARA, CALIF.—Only two other men in history have had as much written about them as Abraham Lincoln—Christ and Napoleon.
The authority for that is Jay Monaghan, author and Lincoln scholar, who joined the library staff of Santa Barbara College of the University of California as a consultant for the important Wyles Collection of Lincolniana.
Five states may be seen from the peak of Capulin Mountain in northeastern New Mexico.

Elephant Named Desire Journeys

HONG KONG—An elephant named Desire passed through Hong Kong Sunday enroute to Peiping, where she will personally present a message of good will to Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China.
An Indian trainer accompanying the plump beast said she is a gift from the children of India to the children of China.
He said she had been trained to present a message from Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru to Chou with her trunk.

FACTS FROM THE 1952 ANNUAL REPORT OF

LION OIL COMPANY

Continuing a Story of Progress—The year 1952 was another successful one for Lion Oil Company despite a decline in net earnings from the previous year. Sales and operating revenues were higher. Construction was begun on two major expansion projects which are expected to increase sales and profits materially when completed.

Petroleum—A refinery extension, begun during 1952, will add new units at a cost of about $5,000,000. These units, when put into operation in the third quarter of 1953, will permit an increase of 50% in the volume of gasoline manufactured with about the same crude oil thruput.

Search for new reserves of crude oil and natural gas resulted in eight new discoveries. Drilling scheduled for 1953 includes wells on leases in West Texas, Julesburg Basin in Colorado, and Williston Basin in North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana.

Chemical—In May, construction of a chemical plant near New Orleans, Louisiana, was begun. Estimated cost is $31,000,000. This facility, which is scheduled for completion during the second quarter of 1954, will increase Lion's nitrogen producing capacity slightly more than 50%. This expenditure will bring the Company's investment in the field of petrochemicals about in balance with that of oil operations.

The Company sold 400,000 additional shares of common stock and $15,000,000 principal amount of Sinking Fund Debentures in May 1952 for a net cash consideration of $30,127,556. That amount was set aside to finance construction of the new chemical plant.

Earnings and Dividends—Net earnings, which are shown in the condensed earnings statement below, declined principally because of materially higher costs of finding oil, and lower refined oil prices.

Cash dividends at the rate of $2 per share, aggregating $5,781,744, were paid during the year. That sum was 56.6% of the net earnings for 1952.

Washington Party-Going Matron Is Confused By Newsroom Jargon

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Washington's gal reporters are laughing quietly at one of the town's best-known, party-going matrons who called a local paper and asked to speak to the society editor. When told that she was in "the composing room, making up," the voice on the phone purred:

"Oh! How nice that you girls have a room to compose in."

Issue For Republican FPC
The Eisenhower Administration is asking for more time in determining exactly what its public power policy will be. The issue was to come to a showdown in Federal Power Commission hearings on the controversial Hell's Canyon Dam case on April 13.

It involves an Idaho Power Company application for license to build one of a series of small dams on the Snake River. U. S. Bureau of Reclamation has proposed to build one big multipurpose dam at Hell's Canyon.

The last Congress held hearings on the project, but did not authorize it. Because the issue is so hot, Interior Secretary Douglas McKay has asked extension of the Power Commission hearings till May 13.

By so doing, the Eisenhower Administration has a chance to have the case decided by a revamped FPC which will be Republican controlled. The present commission is made up of three Democrats, two Republicans and one Independent. Of the Democrats, Acting Chairman Thomas Buchanan has a recess appointment and the term of Harrington Wimberly expires June 30.

Being realistic, neither Buchanan nor Wimberly expects to stay on the commission. If they are replaced by Republicans, make-up of FPC would be Republicans, one Democrat and one Independent.

While a recent Cabinet meeting was discussing government reorganization, the question of what to do with the Farm Labor Bureau came up. It now is in Department of Labor. Secretary of Agriculture Benson said as far as he was concerned, it could stay there. Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin said if Secretary Benson wanted it, he could have it.

Whereupon President Eisenhower observed, according to Secretary Benson, that this was the most refreshing thing he had heard since coming to Washington. Here were two Cabinet members, and neither one seemed interested in trying to build an empire.

CDA And AEC Clash
Civil Defense Administration and Atomic Energy Commission people didn't get along any too well at the recent series of atomic weapon test explosions near Las Vegas, Nev.

On the first blast, Civil Defense people almost demanded that the AEC send a photographer in at once to get pictures of damage to the two test houses, for publicity purposes.

One AEC man finally went in, but he picked up so much radiation on the assignment that he could not participate in later tests without danger of getting an overdose. He was a key man on the test program, but his services thus were lost for the duration.

Just after the first blast, Gov. Val Peterson, the new Civil Defense administrator, was flown back to News Knob in a helicopter, and was the first official to go on the air with a network broadcast.

For some reason or other, or by accident, Governor Peterson failed to mention by name Carroll Tyler or any of the other AEC officials who had arranged the entire test program. The word got around that Civil Defense was trying to steal the act, and that didn't promote good relations.

This, plus Army insistence on moving troops closer to some of the later blasts than the scientists thought was safe, tended to mar what was otherwise a highly successful series of experiments.

AEC experts naturally are sensitive about their superior knowledge of atomic weapons and the risks in handling them. With a good safety record to their credit, they would hate to see it spoiled by ignorant blundering on the part of others.

Mahon Sees GOP Gamble On No War Before 1956

DALLAS—(AP)—Congressman George Mahon of Colorado, City said Tuesday he expects the Republicans to gamble on the chance there will not be a war before 1956.

He looks for a two billion dollar budget slash in military appropriations from the 41 billions earmarked for military spending in the Truman budget. Mahon, a Democrat, was chairman of the House Military Appropriation Committee.

Mahon reserved opinion on the anticipated reduction, but explained:

"Before I could agree to that I'd have to check the cut's results. I'm certainly against stopping our build-up now—it would be suicidal."

"You know, the Reds aren't changing their policy just because they start acting a little more friendly. They want to conquer and we must be prepared."

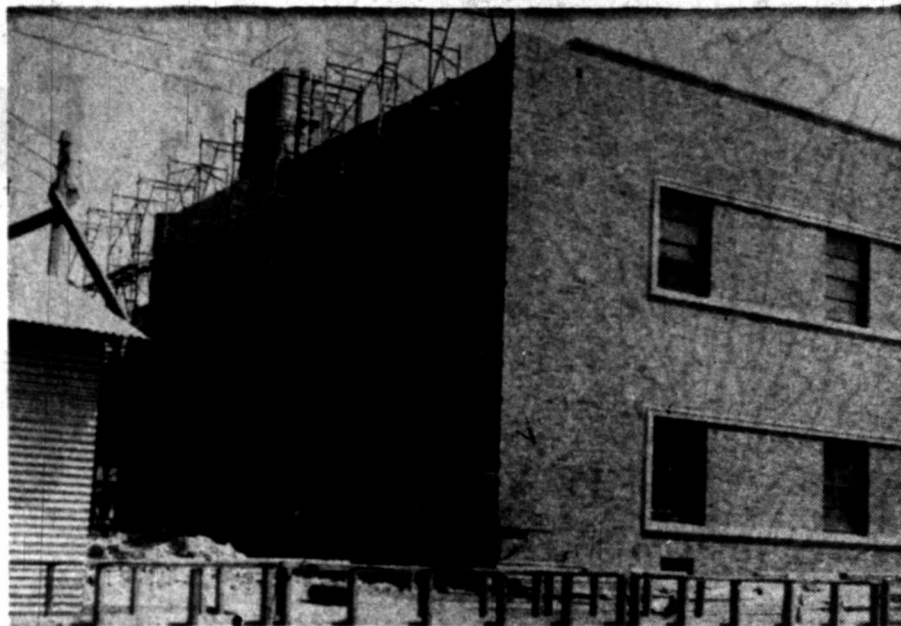

"If a Republican cut goes through, it will mean stretching out on our goals—maybe beyond 1956. If there isn't any war, that would be a very smart move. But if there is a war before then—well, we could be hurt badly."

In an address to the Dallas Agricultural Club, Mahon said he opposes Secretary of Agriculture Benson's theory farm controls and supports should be used only to avert disasters. The congressman predicted the need for return of cotton planting controls by 1954.

SHAVEN KINGS

The British Empire's coinage during the reign of George VI showed a clean-shaven King for the first time in a century. The last clean-shaven king was William IV.

The boys of Westminster School have a traditional right to seats in the abbey at the coronation of a British monarch and are traditionally the first to cheer the sovereign after the crowning.

TELEPHONE BUILDING EXPANDED—Work is progressing on doubling the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company building on the northeast corner of Missouri and Marienfeld Streets. The expansion was required to handle a program designed for meeting growing telephone needs in Midland.

Fort Davis Museum To Open Thursday

FORT DAVIS—Old Fort Davis, historical Texas landmark high in the Davis Mountains, Thursday will formally open its museum containing relics for the Fort and the early days of the area.

The museum, sponsored by the Fort Davis Historical Society, is housed in a restored barracks building. The barracks, originally built in 1854, is one of several buildings which have been restored and are now used as guest cottages, gift shop, antique shop and riding stable.

One of the most interesting exhibits will be a display of 107 old whiskey bottles, backed by a bit of humor of Civil War times.

In 1861, a Yankee bartender buried his new shipment of whiskey to keep it out of the hands of Confederates soon to be stationed at the fort. And for 91 years it lay under a few inches of broken glass behind the saloon site. Last Summer, however, the bottles were discovered and will be displayed as they were found: covered with dirt and bits of glass.

Lessees of the Fort Davis property are Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Tweedy.

Early mechanical pianos were operated by pumping a handle.

Atomic Death Ray May Save Victory

LONDON—(AP)—Lord Nelson's famous old flagship Victory soon may be given an atomic death ray treatment to save it from wood-eating beetles.

The Victory, now a Royal Navy museum piece, is propped up on land at Portsmouth. It has become infested badly with death watch beetles, which are gnawing away busily on the wooden hull.

Cotton processing centers in South Carolina include Lancaster, Rock Hill, York, Spartanburg and Greenville.

Pecos Water Needs May Reach 3,500,000 Gallons

PECOS—Pecos residents will use approximately 3,500,000 gallons of water per day during the peak summer days this Summer. Water Superintendent John Oglesby estimated.

Oglesby based his figure on the peak day last year—June 23, when 2,919,000 gallons of water were consumed—and the increase in population since that time.

Since June, 1952, the Pecos Water department has connected 162 new services—an approximate average of 20 per month—and the population has increased an estimated 9 1/2 per cent.

In a report to the City Council covering the period from December 31, 1950 to December 31, 1952, Oglesby showed that water department services have increased some 21.1 per cent, or 515 connections. During this time the population is estimated to have jumped 2,231.

Average daily water consumption in Pecos jumped tremendously from January 1951 to January 1953. Residents consumed 716,838 gallons per day in January 1951, but in January 1953 this figure leaped to 1,238,970 gallons.

January Figures Higher
Running parallel to these figures the gallons pumped per month showed a comparable increase over the same period. The January 1951 figure stood at 21,136,000 gallons while in the same month this year the total jumped to 37,169,000 gallons.

Heaviest usage of Pecos water naturally falls in June, July and August. In 1951 the three month total was 197,821,000 gallons, with July setting the pace averaging 2,247,300 per day.

In 1952 August took the daily average lead with 2,782,030 gallons. The three month total was 215,691,000 gallons.

Oglesby pointed out that rainfall naturally affects the amount of water used. During the 1952 Summer months when the figures ran so high, the rainfall was more than scarce. In June only .89 of an inch fell, in July 2.16 inches fell, while in August—the record month—no rain at all fell.

New Wells Are Due
Oglesby also showed that the first two months of this year have not produced any rainfall, which explains why the monthly gallons pumped from the wells has jumped so high above the same months in previous years.

Although it is difficult for residents to realize, statistics show that in the past months Pecos has averaged using 96 gallons of water per day per person.

However, even with the expected increase in the use of water, this Summer, the city is prepared to meet the challenge. Three new wells will be tied into the gathering system within the next two weeks, Oglesby said. They will add approximately one million gallons of water per day to the system.
