General Crude Stakes Pennsylvanian Tester In S-C Scurry Sector

Four miles southwest of Snyder and in South-Central Scurry County, General Crude Oil Company spotted location for a 7,700-foot Pennsylvanian Canyon reef wildcat. It will be drilled as No. 1 A. C. Martin, 860 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 18B, block 97, H&TC survey. It is slightly more than one mile west and slightly south of production in the extreme south side of the Kelley-Snyder field. Operations are to start at once.

Bankline Gets Shows Of Oil In Clear Fork At Hockley Wildcat

Bankline Oil Company found some shows of oil and some free oil in a drillstem test in the Clear Fork section of the Permian wildcat at its No. S-1 Mallett Land & Cattle Company, scheduled 10,500-foot wildcat in Southwest Hockley County.

The shows came in a drillstem test at 7,190-7,200 feet. The tool was open for one hour. Recovery was 85 feet of heavy oil and gas cut drilling mud, estimated to have been 20 per cent oil and one gallon of free oil.

There was no water. The gravity of the oil was estimated at 28 degrees. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was zero. The shut-in bottom hole pressure after 15 minutes was zero.

Another Test Taken
Another drillstem test was run at 7,300-48 feet. The tool was again open for one hour. Recovery was 15 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water. All pressures were zero.

The prospector is now making hole below 7,600 feet in Permian dolomite. No geological markers have been reported.

The slated 10,500-foot destination of this exploration is calculated to take it into the Pennsylvanian time. It is on the extreme east edge of the Slaughter field, which produces from the San Andres-Permian at an average depth of 5,000 feet.

The driller is seven miles southwest of Levelland and 680 feet from north and west lines of labor 5, league 34, Concho County School Land survey.

Deep Wildcat Set In Shallow Payton Area In SE Ward

Luse & Ice of Dallas spotted location for a 7,500-foot wildcat in the shallow Payton (Yates) field of Southeast Ward County, two miles south of the town of Grandfalls.

It will be drilled as No. 1-A J. O. Bricketon, 700 feet from southwest and 404 feet from southeast lines of section 6, block 32, H&TC survey. Operations are to start at once.

Average depth to the top of the producing pay in the Payton field is 2,079 feet.

Gulf, Frost Slate Record Bottom For Reeves Exploration

Gulf Oil Corporation and Jack Frost No. 1 P. O. Northrup and others, wildcat in Southeast Reeves County, which set a new West Texas drilling depth record Monday of 16,466 feet, will continue drilling under new contract to 17,000 feet. It was drilling ahead below 16,487 feet in line.

Operators filed application Tuesday with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting permission to continue to the new depth. The application calling for a 17,000-foot bottom is the deepest scheduled test in West Texas officially filed with the RRC, according to J. L. (Joe) Greer, supervisor of the District 8 office in Midland.

Ellenburger Topped High At Wildcat In SE Andrews Region

Standard Oil & Gas Company and Anderson-Fritchard and others No. 2-F-Deep Fasken, wildcat in Southeast Andrews County, one mile southeast of the discovery well of the Midland Farms (Ellenburger) field, was cored in the Ellenburger (Continued On Page 12)

Captain Ivy Dies Tuesday Of Leukemia

HOUSTON —(P)—Capt. Polk Ivy, 45, veteran State Highway patrolman, died of leukemia Tuesday in the University of Texas Hospital for Cancer Research.

Ivy was in charge of patrol operations in Amarillo and the Panhandle area. He entered the hospital two weeks ago. Numerous Houston area patrolmen gave him blood. Patrolmen in other areas drew blood type checks list for emergency use in event the Houston area supply became exhausted during the captain's fight against the blood cancer disease.

"He was the rugged type of man who was never sick until about a month ago when it was discovered he suffered leukemia," said Homer Garrison, director of the State Department of Public Safety. "He was one of the most outstanding captains in the service."

Ivy was born at Teague and attended public schools at Kingsville and the Southwest Texas State Teachers College in San Marcos.

Joining the Highway Patrol in 1931, he became a sergeant in 1937 and a captain in 1940. Survivors include the widow and two daughters. Services will be held in Amarillo.

Members of the family requested that friends send contributions to the Cancer Hospital instead of flowers for the funeral.

Pecos Man Dies Of Burns Suffered In Oil Well Blaze

PECOS—Martin Edward Gray, 27, Pecos resident the last six years, died at 7:45 p.m. Monday of burns received earlier Monday in a Loring County oil well fire.

Gray, employed as a driller by McDaniel-Beachler, was the only crew member killed or injured. Survivors include the widow and one child.

The fire was extinguished soon after the blowout.

Van Horn Slaying Trial Jury Chosen

VAN HORN —(P)—Completion of a jury for the murder trial of Bernard Pregler, 20, of St. Paul, and Walter Collins Green 24, of Haleah, Fla., was expected Tuesday.

The two are accused of slaying Fred Eldredge, 67, retired Williamstown, Mich., priest, while he was making an automobile trip through Texas.

UN Warplanes Fly Cover For Red Prisoner Convoy

MUNSAN, KOREA —(P)—Allied planes flew guard Tuesday over the route of the first Red motor convoy carrying sick and wounded UN war prisoners slowly toward freedom.

An Air Force spokesman said the air sentinels and special, secret precautions made a mistake bombing virtually impossible.

The reconnaissance planes patrolled through the day over thick clouds hiding North Korean roads. The Reds said the 20-vehicle convoy was the first to start the long trip from North Korean prison camps to Panmunjom, where 600 Allied POWs will be traded for 5,000 Chinese and Communists, beginning Monday.

The UN probably will start moving its 700 Chinese and 8,100 North Korean sick and wounded by train this weekend. The 320-mile trip from Pusan to Munsan takes 15 hours. From Munsan, the POWs will be taken to Panmunjom by ambulance.

The Communists still were awaiting a UN reply to their latest request for resumption of full-scale truce negotiations at Panmunjom.

There was no indication when the Reds' List May Include Midland GI

Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, would answer. He had told the Reds earlier a renewal is the "second order of business" to the disabled POWs exchange.

Wednesday morning, three convoys totaling 68 vehicles were to be on the way from the Yalu River to the Manchurian border to Kaesong, the Red prisoner holding point and truce headquarters six miles from Panmunjom.

The convoys probably carry no more than half of the 600 UN prisoners.

About 120 are Americans. The Communists have not announced the order of delivery.

J. B. Sanders, 74, Midland Pioneer, Dies Of Illness

J. B. Sanders, 74, a Midland resident more than 20 years, died Tuesday in a Dallas hospital where he had gone two weeks ago for medical treatment.

Funeral arrangements were pending at noon Tuesday. Newsie W. Ellis Chapel will have charge of arrangements.

Members of the family had been called to the bedside Sunday. A native of Georgia, Sanders operated a furniture and upholstery shop before retirement a few years ago. He was interested in civic affairs and a long-time member of the Chamber of Commerce. He owned considerable real estate here including the Service Drug Store corner.

Survivors include the widow; two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Duck of Harlingen and Mrs. Emma Crane, and a son, Trasher Sanders.

Second GI Admits Role In Spy Case

WASHINGTON —(P)—Kurt Ponger, an Austrian-born former GI, pleaded guilty Tuesday to conspiring to spy on U. S. defense secrets for Russia.

Ponger, 39, entered his plea 24 hours after Otto Verber, his co-defendant and brother-in-law, pleaded guilty to the spy conspiracy.

Ponger pleaded guilty to a charge which government lawyers said carried a possible death penalty. The prosecutors, in effect, waived any possibility of the extreme penalty for Ponger.

As a result, Ponger faces a maximum sentence of 20 years, twice the time Verber could receive.

Verber and Ponger are former residents of New York. They were living in Austria at the time of their arrest last January. They were flown here for trial.

Ponger pleaded guilty to conspiring with Verber and a former official of the Russian Embassy in Washington and in Austria to transmit to Russian officials in the two countries information concerning American defense secrets.

The Russian, Yuri Novikov, left for home after the U. S. ruled he was not acceptable as a diplomatic envoy.

Ponger entered his plea to the first count of the indictment, while Verber pleaded guilty to the second count charging a conspiracy to gather defense secrets with intent of having them transmitted to Russia.

Tot Loses 550-Mile Race Against Death

HOUSTON—(P)—An Odessa child was dead upon arrival at City-County Hospital Tuesday after a deputy sheriff had brought him 550 miles to seek treatment for a kidney ailment.

He was Randy Ray Van Zandt, three, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Van Zandt.

Ector County Deputy W. H. Beardsley, 54, said he drove at speeds up to 80 miles an hour from Odessa. He said the trip began Monday night after a doctor advised the family the child was growing worse.

Accompanying the child were the parents and an aunt. Beardsley said the child apparently died on the outskirts of Houston.

The father said the child had been under treatment a year by Odessa and Galveston physicians.

27 Reported On Crippled Charter Ship

SEATTLE—(P)—A twin-engine transport plane from Florida, with up to 27 persons aboard, vanished in the rugged Cascade Mountain region east of here before dawn Tuesday. Officials said the last radio reports told of an engine failure and indicated the pilot was lost.

Confusion whirled around the number of persons aboard as a wide-scale search got under way.

Reports ran from a top of 27 persons when the non-scheduled carrier left Miami to a Washington state aeronautics director's report of 13 to 15.

A report of 22 passengers and five crewmen came from Charles Collier, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator at Miami.

Charles Chester, Washington aeronautics director, said advice he received from the East indicated the plane carried 10 or 12 passengers and a crew of three, including a stewardess, when it left Spokane.

Chester said some of the large number of passengers originally reported on the plane may have left it enroute.

A Spokane report indicated none of the passengers left the plane there, however.

Aerial Search Underway
The Spokane report indicated all the passengers were soldiers, some bound overseas.

Chester said the plane had been reported by radio that one of its two engines had failed at 2:07 a.m. and that it was down to 4,500 feet.

The aeronautics director said an aerial search was started after the plane's radio reports of trouble.

A Civil Aeronautics Administration source said the last radio contact was at 2:22 a.m. and the pilot was "obviously lost."

Coast Guard, Air Force and Civil Air Patrol planes started a search for the missing craft.

Rubber Plant Sales Urged By President

AUGUSTA, GA. —(P)—President Eisenhower Tuesday recommended the sale of $550,000,000 worth of government-owned synthetic rubber plants to private industry.

In a special message to Congress from his vacation headquarters here, the President asked the lawmakers to enact legislation authorizing disposal of the facilities.

"I am in hearty accord with the policy determination of the Congress that the security interests of the nation will best be served by the development within the United States of a free competitive synthetic rubber industry, and I believe that now is the time to undertake plant disposal," the President said.

The program recommended in the report of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) appears to provide basic outline of a satisfactory method to achieve this result.

RFC operates 22 rubber-making or feeder plants. These are located at Los Angeles; Houston, Borger, Baytown and Port Neches, Texas; Baton Rouge and Lake Charles, La.; Louisville, Ky.; Institute, W. Va.; Akron, Ohio; Kobuta, Pa., and Naugatuck, Conn.

State Spending Charted, Teacher Pay Raise Debate Starts On Senate Floor

House committee attention.

A joint session was warned the United States must be alert to conditions in Latin America because there are strong Fascist and Communist movements there. The speaker was Dr. Carlos Castaneda, professor of Latin American history at the University of Texas, a speaker at the Legislature's observance of Pan American Day.

The Senate recessed until 3 p.m. without taking final action on the teacher's pay raise.

An amendment adopted on voice vote specified it was "the intent" of the Legislature to raise all teachers' pay 800 and no more.

Another amendment offered by Senators Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and Doyle Willis of Fort Worth would limit the pay raise to two years, specifying an automatic cut-off Aug. 31, 1955. The recess came before a vote was taken on it.

"I'm not trying to pass this bill for the school teachers," Alkin argued. "I'm trying to pass it for children of this state."

He said the bill is two-fold. It seeks to attract capable teachers into the profession and to provide salary schedules that will meet present day demands.

A decision on how much to spend for the vital services provided by state departments, courts, hospitals, and colleges had delayed action on all other bills involving spending. The House took three hours—twice as long as the Senate—Monday to accept, 85-55, the report of a joint conference committee on the joint budget.

Before it reaches Governor Shivers, the bill must clear Comptroller R. S. Calvert's office. The comptroller has to certify enough money is in sight to cover proposed expenditures.

"I think it's all right," Calvert commented, indicating he will certify the bill. "I think it's just about right on the money—that is, of what's available."

He said it would take two men about two days to run totals on the 364-page measure detailing how the money is to be spent. He thought he would know definitely between Thursday and Friday whether certification is possible.

State Landscape Advisor Named Speaker For Woman's Club

Ben J. Lednicky of Brownwood, senior landscape advisor for the Texas Highway Department, will be the speaker when members of the Midland Garden Club are hostesses to the Midland Woman's Club, Inc., Thursday.

The meeting will have as its program theme, "Our Native Flowers and Cultivated Flowers for West Texas Yards." It will be held at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. R. B. Cowden, 1507 West Culbert Street.

Lednicky will speak on "Texas Flowers" and is to show colored films on wildflowers of the state. He is to be introduced by Mrs. Hal Peck.

The speaker became associated with the Landscape Division of the Texas Highway Department when he was graduated from Texas A&M in 1937. He served first in the headquarters office in Austin and later in the Paris District. He served in the Marine Corps during World War II.

In 1946, after the war, the Landscape Division was reorganized so that a landscape advisor was placed in a territory including five districts, approximately 50 counties.

There are six landscape advisers throughout the state, with Lednicky assigned to the West Texas District. He is married and has four children, including a set of identical twin girls who are four years old.

Debate Rings In Congress As Treasury Schedules Sale Of High Interest Bonds

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), replying to Democratic suggestions that the Eisenhower administration may be heading the country toward a depression, said Tuesday the national economy is on a sound footing.

Capehart, chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, spoke out after a new Democratic blast at higher U. S. bond interest rates.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey defended the higher interest rate on a new bond issue which appeared from signs in Wall Street and Washington, likely to be heavily oversubscribed.

Inflationary Pressures

Capehart said he sees no factors in the present economic situation that should bring any recession and none indicating any increase in inflationary pressures.

"Payrolls are the biggest in our national history; the government still is spending about a billion dollars a week on the defense program and while farm prices have dropped, they seem to have leveled off," he said in an interview.

However, Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) joined eight other Democrats and independent Senator Morse of Oregon in declaring that a boost in interest rates on government bonds, ordered by Humphrey, already is operating to tighten credit for farmers and small businessmen and may bring an economic recession.

More Difficult Loans

"Because of the Treasury's action, interest rates are going up all over the country," Sparkman said. "That means it not only is going to cost more for the farmer or small businessman to borrow money but in a great many instances it means that the banks won't make the loans at all. That already is happening."

Sparkman said he estimated the increase in private lending rates, as a consequence of the Treasury's action in offering 30-year bonds at three and one-fourth per cent interest, would cost the average small home buyer $8.33 a month more on his installment payments.

Senator Humphrey (D-Minn.) was a leader of the group of nine senators who issued Monday a statement denouncing the interest rate, highest on such an issue since 1933.

Consumer Prices

Senator Humphrey told the Senate the Treasury's action "contains the seeds of a new depression." He contended all the signs indicate "that deflation and not inflation is the current problem."

"Farm prices have been falling substantially since July and are under continuing pressure," he said. "All wholesale prices have been falling steadily since August. Consumer prices peaked out in August."

Secretary Humphrey ignored the suggestion of Senator Humphrey's group that the Treasury withdraw the bond offer until he has "advised and consulted with the policymaking branch of the government—the Congress."

'Lessens Inflation'

But he issued a statement saying inflationary forces are still present and declaring that the higher cost to the government, in higher interest payments on a portion of the national debt, "will be offset many times over if it lessens the cost and disorganization of inflation."

New Treasury officials argue that short-term bonds are frequently traded just about as money is and that they therefore contribute to inflationary pressures. Holders of long-term bonds, however, are likely to hold them to maturity, Humphrey and his aides have said.

The Treasury opened its books to cash subscriptions of the new bond Monday. Indications were that buyers would seek to purchase well over the one billion dollar quota. Wall Street rumors said the issue might be oversubscribed as much as five times.

State's May Crude Demand Down 20,000 Barrels Daily

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas crude oil allowable production for May will be set by the Railroad Commission at a statewide hearing at San Angelo Friday.

Chairman Ernest Thompson said the Bureau of Mines has estimated demand for Texas crude in May will be 2,800,000 barrels a day.

That is one factor considered in taking testimony on which to base the May permissive figures.

The current Texas allowable is 2,827,124 barrels a day.

The May forecast by the bureau is 20,000 barrels less a day than the estimate for Texas crude in April, Thompson said. April, May and June are the months of lowest demand for crude, he explained.

Demands should increase by June, Thompson added, unless imported oil keeps flooding out domestic oil from its former markets.

The crude can come from stocks on hand, from production, or both, Thompson said. Stocks presently are excessive in crude and all products.

Crude stocks were 275,994,000 barrels on hand in tanks above ground April 4. Imports were 1,267,000 barrels daily the week ending April 4.

Sleeping Pills Called Major Problem Aiding Delinquency

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The sale of sleeping pills and other drugs has been described by government officials as an "acute" problem linked with juvenile delinquency in a great many communities.

Commissioner C. W. Crawford of the Food and Drug Administration, in testimony to the House Appropriations Committee, said his agency's inspectors have run into serious problems in the field in Dallas, Houston, New Orleans, Boston, Denver and Seattle.

Crawford's testimony was made public by the committee Tuesday.

There are 85,000 retail drug stores and an undetermined number of other sources of sleeping pills and other drugs—all dangerous when taken without advice of a doctor, the committee was told.

"The most important of these," said Deputy Commissioner George P. Larrick, "are the sleeping pills where juveniles will take the sleeping pills to go on a binge and then take the stimulant drugs, like the amphetamines, to overcome the later depressing effect of the sleeping pills."

Three Tots, Mother Found Dead In Home

ELMONT, N. Y. —(AP)—Donald R. Munroe found his wife and three small children dead of gas poisoning Monday night in their home in this New York City suburb.

The bodies, lined up on the kitchen floor, were those of the mother, Margaret, 38; Donald, one and one-half; Nancy Jean, five and Elben, four.

Police said Mrs. Munroe apparently held each child over the open stove oven until dead, and then placed the bodies in a row on the floor. Then she lay down beside the children. Police said it was apparently murder and suicide.

Munroe, 32-year-old truck driver, said upon returning home from work he smelled gas and broke in the locked back door.

Munroe said he could not explain his wife's action.

A note was found addressed to Mrs. Munroe's mother. The contents were not disclosed.

Two Drown As Car Plunges Into Creek

MARLIN —(AP)—Two persons were drowned and another was injured when an automobile overturned into a creek eight miles east of here Monday.

Mrs. Molly Blackmon, 78, and Jerry Sims, 18 months, died in the submerged car. The boy's mother, Mrs. Alton Sims of Mexia, crawled from the wreckage with a broken leg and neck injuries.

Mrs. Sims said she lost control of the car just before it plunged into the creek.

Carla's Operation Permits 'New Life'

The operation was a success.

Dallas Milk Prices Again Drop Lower

DALLAS —(AP)—Milk prices again have skidded here.

Three Dallas dairies—Metzgers, Tennessee and Cabell—decided Monday to cut the price of homogenized milk one cent a quart, effective Tuesday.

Safeway Stores and its Lucerne Milk Company announced a one-cent reduction Sunday.

Neighbor Nations Called To Answer Leftist Nicaragua

MANAGUA, NICARAGUA —(AP)—Central American representatives to the United Nations will meet in New York to draw up a joint reply to Guatemala's notice of withdrawal from the Organization of American States, the Nicaraguan Foreign Office announced Monday night.

Guatemala's leftist government quit the organization April 7, charging her neighbors were forming "an aggressive bloc against our country."

House Probers Comb Income For Mystery Man Grunewald

WASHINGTON —(AP)— House investigators Tuesday started a dollar-by-dollar combing of the income, running into six figures, from which mystery man Henry W. Grunewald says he bought costly gifts for federal officials.

He refused to disclose the nature of the services he said he performed for Lewis at a time when the mine workers' president was in trouble with the federal courts.

Representative Boggs (D-La.) reading from a transcript of previous closed sessions of a House Ways and Means subcommittee, asked Grunewald if he did not make "several trips and several inquiries" with respect to the late Judge T. Alan Goldsborough.

Grunewald refused to answer, saying the question was "not pertinent."

Goldsborough, a federal district judge here, fined Lewis's mine workers three million dollars in 1947 for failure to heed his order that they call off a strike and go back to work.

Chinese Parliament Adds Year To Session

Crane Sheriff Says Summy Death Probe Running In Circles

CRANE—Crane Sheriff M. E. Lear and Chief Deputy Wayne Blackburn returned here Tuesday to report no new progress in their investigation of the death of Herbert G. Summy, former Sinclair division superintendent in Midland.

"I feel as lost as a man can feel," the sheriff lamented Tuesday. "I don't see how it could be anything but murder—but we're just running around in circles right now."

"But," he pointed out, "we'll keep checking this thing until we find an answer. We've got a couple of things brewing, but they're so hazy it's hard to call 'em leads in this case."

Summy's body was found in his car near Crane April 1. A section of garden hose was connected to the exhaust pipe and inserted through a car window. From all appearances Blackburn had committed suicide—but a fresh, clean gash on his chin led officers to suspect murder.

Auditors were still checking Summy's drilling contracting company ledgers Tuesday for a $30,000 or $40,000 "mistake" believed existing there. Lear said the auditors had thus far made no report on their findings.

Two Red Divisions Face Burma Border

TAIPEH, FORMOSA —(AP)— The English language China News said Tuesday there are 100,000 Chinese Communist soldiers on the Burmese border with South China.

The newspaper said its information came from unnamed intelligence sources. It said the same sources identified two new Red divisions on the border as the 39th and the 30th of the Third Army Corps of the Second Field Army, which is commanded by one-eyed Gen. Liu Po-sheng.

An estimated 12,000 Nationalist guerrillas are believed to be in North Burma.

Korean War Action Limited But Active

SEOUL —(AP)— Small-scale but savage fighting erupted along the Korean battlefield Tuesday while Allied warplanes streaked through cloudy North Korean skies to blast Communist communication and supply lines.

Airmen Fret Over Wilson's Proposals On U. S. Defense

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Reports of developing resistance to Secretary of Defense Wilson's air policies filtered through the Pentagon's newly reinforced secrecy curtain Tuesday.

Officers refuse to discuss the issues publicly, but it is known that some Air Force and aviation industry leaders have taken alarm over reports that Wilson is backing proposals to:

- (1) Cut jet bomber production sharply;
- (2) build up defenses by concentrating on production of fighters and guided missiles; and
- (3) rely primarily on a relatively small aircraft industry operating at high production rates.

Wilson is reported to place less emphasis than did his predecessors on the idea of creating a broad productive base and maintaining a comparatively low level of large productive capacity.

Crude Output Hits New Low For Year

TULSA —(AP)— Sharp cutbacks in Texas and Louisiana Gulf Coast allowances pulled down the nation's daily average crude oil and condensate production to 6,266,265 barrels during the week ended April 11, lowest of the year. The Oil and Gas Journal said Tuesday.

It was a drop of 72,575 barrels, for which Texas more than accounted with a decline of 80,128 barrels to 2,654,675.

Louisiana fell 8,125 barrels to 692,925 barrels.

On the gaining side, California reached for a record 14,800. The Journal figured cumulative 1953 production at 654,313,700 barrels against 629,688,000 at this time last year.

Car Wreck Victim Interred In Ward

MONAHANS — Funeral services for Mrs. Johnnie Tubb, Monahans, were to be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday in the First Methodist Church here. She died Monday night of injuries suffered in a car wreck near Jai, N. M., last week.

The Rev. Mr. Nickerson of the Monahans First Christian Church was to officiate at the services. Interment was planned in the Monahans Memorial Cemetery. The Rev. Funeral Home, Pecos, was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Tubb was the wife or the late C. B. (Tutor) Tubb and the daughter-in-law of J. B. Trubb, prominent Ward County oil operator and rancher.

Survivors include the father, Seaborn Bryan, Colorado City; two brothers, Joe and Alvin Bryant of Phoenix, Ariz., and a sister from Electra.

Quartet To Sing For Methodist Men

Men of the First Methodist Church will hear the Indianapolis Quartet from McMurry College at their meeting at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the educational building of the church.

Alex Oates, son of Postmaster and Mrs. N. G. Oates and a student at McMurry, will accompany the quartet and sing solo numbers. Mrs. Alex Oates underwent an emergency appendectomy over the weekend, but he is expected as originally announced.

A covered dish supper will precede the program. George Jones, program chairman, said.

"Magnet" Concept
Opponents of these reported Wilson proposals say any such trend away from bombers and toward fighters would be symptomatic of a "Magnet Line" concept. They argue that an enemy bomber force could over-fly such a defense system the way the Germans overdrove France's much-touted line of underground fortresses a decade and a half ago.

Wilson recently ordered military personnel be clearly informed of "the consequences of unauthorized disclosure of classified security information."

As a result, Pentagon officers have "clammed up" noticeably. However, "the views of many of them are well known."

Solons Recommend Splitting Of Parr's South Texas Area

AUSTIN —(AP)— A division of the turbulent South Texas 79th Judicial District was recommended Tuesday by a House group.

The decision came at 1 a.m. after a hearing to which South Texas brought their political troubles—and one faction asked for help from "political dictatorship."

Duval County—center of controversy, famed for its bloc voting.

The 79th District now is composed of Duval, Jim Wells, Brooks and Starr Counties.

Recommendations will go to the full committee for action there, possibly Tuesday.

Wishes Unfilled
They weren't exactly what South Texans at the hearing said they wanted. Both the pro-Parr and the anti-Parr factions were there, and both said they preferred to leave Duval County in the district as it is with Jim Wells County.

Jack Floyd, an Alice attorney, asked for a chance to educate the Latin Americans in Duval County. His son, Jack Floyd, Jr., 22, was killed in September in what his father said was a political assassination.

"I've fought those political dictators, and you've read in the papers what it's cost me," he told the subcommittee, trembling as he spoke.

The bill under consideration proposed to take Duval County out of the district and put it into a new district with Webb County.

Adults Best Givers, Baptist Meeting Told

DALLAS —(AP)— Some 6,000 Texas Baptists were attending the second day of the annual Sunday School meeting of the Baptist General Convention here Tuesday.

Dr. Morris Ford of Longview told the delegates Monday night they were overlooking an opportunity in not getting more adults into Sunday School classes.

"Adults are mightiest in money," Dr. Ford said. "Adults earn the most, spend the most, save the most and give the most."

SHRILL CRIES HEARD AS AXE IS SWUNG— Commerce Secretary Weeks Stirs Up Hornet's Nest In Firing Doctor Astin

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON —(P)— Sinclair Weeks, the new secretary of Commerce, in an enthusiastic promise that the Eisenhower Administration would clean out the "mess," said: "Shrill cries will be heard as the axe is swung."
He perhaps became a better prophet than he suspected. Shortly afterwards he fired Dr. Allen V. Astin, director of the Bureau of Standards, the government's primary scientific testing outfit, with a world-wide reputation for integrity.

If Weeks had sacked Astin quietly, as other government employees have been fired by the new Administration, nothing might have been heard of it. But Weeks did it in a way that kicked up a storm which still is blowing.

Weeks is a roundish man of 59, a Boston banker-politician, one of President Eisenhower's early Republican backers. He was named to the Cabinet after the election.
And he still is using some of the language that was so prominent in the campaign. "The mess in Washington," he said, shortly after taking office, "is worse than the public thought."

"Dead Wood, Poison Oak"
The "shrill cries" as the axe hit, he said, would come from "dead wood and poison oak." And he suggested the Democrats may have left behind some "Trojan horse" civil servants to "hamper . . . and wreck the new Administration."
But he added that he respects and will "back to the limit the bonafide career men and women in every grade of the federal service . . . Abuse came when certain employees were frozen into policy-making and confidential positions."
On March 31, three days after that statement, he bounced Astin, a scientist and a Republican, who had been with the Bureau of Standards since 1932 and had been directing it since Oct. 1, 1951.
Weeks that day went before a Senate Small Business Committee with his right-hand man, Craig Sheaffer, president and director of the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Company, and now assistant secretary of Commerce.
That Battery 'Dope'
Weeks read a prepared statement. It was lengthy. Bottled down this was the story:
Several years ago the New York Better Business Bureau complained to the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) about a battery advertised as AD-XI, made by Jesse M. Richie of California. One of the bureau's jobs is to make scientific tests for the FTC on commercial products to protect the public.
The bureau made tests on AD-XI, and didn't think much of it. Richie complained to the Senate Small Business Committee, which asked the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to run tests. It did.
MIT seemed to contradict, in part, the bureau's findings. Which is right hasn't been decided finally but Weeks said he felt Richie was not getting a square shake from the "bureaucrats."
When Senator Hunt, Wyoming Democrat, asked Sheaffer if it was not a "little rough" to fire government employes for one mistake, Sheaffer replied: "This is one factor in a number of reasons." Hunt asked Sheaffer to give the reasons. Sheaffer said: "We aren't prepared to do that right now." No other reasons yet have been given publicly.
Then Weeks tossed another element into the case in a way that questioned the integrity of employes in the bureau. He said it appeared to him that some of its scientists "were in touch with and worked closely with individuals and organizations who might have an interest" in the tests that were made.

The day Weeks and Sheaffer told their story the chairman of the committee, Senator Thye, Minnesota Republican, didn't indicate much interest in getting the other side.
But the work of the bureau has been praised widely by scientists and scientific bodies. Weeks' remark about some of the bureau's scientists brought a fast reaction. Non-government scientists demanded an investigation.
Washington newspapers reported, more than 50 employes of Astin's bureau threatened to quit unless its good name was cleared. Senator Thye now seems prepared to investigate.

Argentina Jails 505 Merchants As Price Chislers

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA —(P)—The National Price Control Agency says 505 merchants have been jailed thus far in the government's crackdown on alleged price ceiling violators. Investigators closed 83 more shops Monday and arrested their owners.
The campaign began April 9, when President Juan D. Peron put new price ceilings in effect and ordered strict enforcement. The move followed a 50 per cent jump in food prices during the previous two weeks.

Ex-Wrestler Lifts 1,100-Pound Piano From Injured Man

DALLAS —(P)— Ex-wrestler Leon Blount, 42, lifted a 1,100-pound grand piano off a man crushed beneath it and then pulled the man clear as he braced the piano with one hand.
O'Dell Wyatt of Canton, Texas, suffered a possible broken back, pelvis fracture and undetermined internal injuries Monday when the massive piano fell on him.
Blount, owner of a piano sales here, told this story:
"I went to a warehouse to look at pianos. Wyatt was there working on them. I told him I'd buy the lot if he'd put casters on the back of the heavy grand. He said he'd do it and I went next door for a coke."
"When I came back, I could hear him screaming. I saw the piano had fallen backward on top of him. His head and one shoulder were free. I rounded up about five men to lift the piano so I could pull him out."
"They couldn't lift it so I lifted it all by myself. I guess it was just one of those things you can do only in the excitement of the moment. While the others held it I braced it with one hand and pulled him out with the other."

Vandenburg Resigns Post At White House

MIAMI BEACH, FLA. —(P)— An attack of stomach ulcers has caused Arthur H. Vandenburg, Jr., to withdraw his appointment as White House appointment secretary.
Vandenburg, one of President Eisenhower's campaign aides and a son of the late Michigan senator, said he didn't know how long the ulcers would hang on and added: "The uncertainty was unfair to the President."
Vandenburg said rumors of trouble between himself and the President were "definitely not true."
He said he had almost recovered after a month at Miami Beach and plans to leave Wednesday for New York to resume his job as consultant for Nelson A. Rockefeller's International Basic Economy Corporation, a private investment firm operating in foreign countries.

Eisenhower Fires For Sub-90 Golf Score, Bows To Baseball

AUGUSTA, GA. —(P)— Vacationing President Eisenhower trained his sights anew on a below-90 golf score Tuesday after a bow to the baseball world.

The President, his headquarters said, will be on hand to toss out the first ball when the Washington Senators meet the World Champion New York Yankees at Griffith Stadium in the nation's capital Thursday.
Eisenhower switched plans and decided to go to the baseball game after rain washed out the American League opener the Senators and the Yanks were scheduled to play in Washington Monday.
Talk To Editors
The President had passed up the opener days before it was canceled—in favor of flying to Augusta Monday for a vacation of golf. But his plans called all along for a one-day trip back to Washington Thursday for a speech at an editors' meeting. So he decided—when the baseball game was put off until that day—to drop in at Griffith Stadium for at least part of the game before returning to Augusta.

Ben Hogan denied a published report that he backed out of a game with the President after it had been arranged.
"It is not true," Hogan told a reporter. "It is absurd, it is preposterous, it is ridiculous."
Hogan added that he and Eisenhower did not play Monday because "The President had a game arranged with Jack Westland and I had one arranged with some other folks."

Hogan To Play
Hogan—who fired a record 274 for 72 holes to win the Masters Tournament—said he was staying in town Tuesday for the specific purpose of teaming up with the President, if a game could be arranged.
Presidential Press Secretary
James C. Hagerty announced to newsmen Monday the President had played with Hogan. Later he said he had been wrong about that.
Hagerty reported Eisenhower had no luck in trying for a below-90 score, but he refused to give out the President's tally for 18 holes.
Dodge Goes Along
The President was accompanied from Washington by Mrs. Eisenhower, their three grandchildren, the children's mother, Mrs. John S. Eisenhower, and the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge also made the trip. Hagerty said Eisenhower insisted Dodge come along for a rest, and added that Dodge and the President had no plans to transact any business. It appeared likely, however, that the two men would get in some discussion of the Administration's efforts to cut federal spending.
Eisenhower is planning now to vacation here until next Monday, except for the Thursday break to return to Washington for the day.

Esso Extra

GASOLINE

... No. 1 in Texas

Esso Extra ranks No. 1 in sales among premium gasolines because it's No. 1 in quality. More Texans use Esso Extra than any other premium gasoline because they have discovered that Esso Extra gives them better performance from their cars. They get:

- FOR ANTI-KNOCK PERFORMANCE. Humble Esso Extra has an extra high octane rating.
- FOR POWER. You'll notice the extra power in Esso Extra at every traffic light, on every mile of highway driving.
- FOR QUICK STARTING. Winter, summer, any season of the year, your motor "catches" right off when you use Esso Extra.
- FOR ECONOMY. Users say that Esso Extra gives them extra mileage.

AND... Esso Extra is the only premium quality gasoline in Texas that contains a patented solvent oil. This oil dissolves the gummy substances that catch carbon and soot on top of pistons and under valves, keeps your engine extra clean.

Esso Extra quick starting; extra power... plus a patented solvent oil that keeps engines extra clean.
So will you. Discover for yourself the extra advantages of using Humble Esso Extra. Fill up with Texas' No. 1 gasoline at the Humble sign in your neighborhood.

LOVE OR HATE? RUN OR FIGHT?—

Brain Gland Hypothalamus Termed Human Body's Boss

DENVER—(P)—A mystery gland in the brain seems to be the real boss gland of the human body, it was announced Tuesday.

It even translates thoughts of love or sex or fear or hate, to order other glands into action. This could explain how thoughts of love could stimulate production of sex hormones. Or how seeing sudden danger spurs adrenal glands to give you extra adrenalin, in order to fight or run.

This big-chief gland is the hypothalamus. Scientists haven't been sure just what it does or how it works. It's been called the seat of the emotions, and apparently is involved in the strange mechanism of sleep.

An amazing role for the hypothalamus is found in insect experiments by Dr. Berta Scharrer of the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

She finds it has two vital controis over the pituitary, the gland at the base of the brain which up to now has been considered the boss gland.

One control, she finds, is that the hypothalamus actually produces some hormones, and sends them to what, in humans, would be the back part of the pituitary gland. These hormones regulate the salt and water and fluid balance of the body.

The brain gland sends these hormones through a nerve to the pituitary, for a storage and release when necessary.

Sending hormones along nerves is a brand new discovery.

This same nerve coming from the brain gland also has a branch line running to what, in humans, would be the front part of the pituitary gland. That front part of the pituitary makes the hormones which control the sex glands, the adrenal glands, the thyroid gland.

The hypothalamus apparently controls when these pituitary hormones shall be released. Dr. Scharrer's work indicates.

The hypothalamus sends a message along the nerve to the front part of the pituitary, giving it orders. If the nerve line is cut, the front pituitary hormones are made but keep piling up. It's like a factory turning out goods, but the shipping department won't send them out until it gets orders by telephone from the boss, and the telephone line is cut.

Dr. Scharrer and her husband, Dr. Ernst Scharrer, found this evidence in work with giant South American cockroaches, big fellows one to two inches long. Other Scientists are finding other evidence of the hypothalamus being a boss gland. The experiments were described to science writers making a tour of Western research centers, sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Funeral Planned Wednesday For Pioneer Ward Rancher

MONAHAN—Funeral services for Jim Thornton, 73, prominent Ward County ranchman and banker and a vice president of the Midland Production Credit Corporation, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the First Baptist Church here. Interment will be in Monahans.

Thornton died Sunday at Dallas. He and Mrs. Thornton left Monahans early Sunday by train for Dallas, where he was to consult with a skin specialist.

Thornton, although a Pyote resident 27 years, was past president of the First National Bank at Monahans, and was chairman of the board of the bank at the time of his death. He was born Sept. 19, 1879, in Gonzales County and came to West Texas when a child. In his youth he worked on ranches in Reagan County, when it still was a part of Tom Green County. He spent seven years with the Circle L Ranch before he filed on four sections of land 12 miles northwest of Odessa.

He was married to Nanny Neely of Gonzales in 1903. They lived in Odessa during the time he ranched in Ector County.

Thornton gave 2,500 acres of land on which he held the grazing lease for construction of the Pyote Rattlesnake Air Force Base. His ranch in the sand hills near here began with commercial cattle but several years ago he bought a herd of registered Herefords and began raising that breed.

One of the last of the old-time ranchmen, Thornton several years ago told of his difficulties in modernizing his ranch. He said he installed a modern bathroom in the bunkhouse and one of his oldest hands quit because he didn't like that. Then, he built an up-to-date kitchen only to have the cook leave right after round-up because he preferred the old-time chuck wagon.

Like many of the oldtimers, he could remember when cattle prices really were low. He recalled buying 150 head of cattle for $10 a head.

Surviving are the widow and a son, Buford Thornton, both of Pyote; a brother, Hancy Thornton, Wimberley; three sisters, Mrs. J. O. Weir, Dallas; Mrs. J. M. Frieron, San Antonio; and Mrs. Jim Bell, Gonzales, and five grandchildren.

One Killed, Two Hurt In Georgetown Crash

The three men were residents of Covington in Hill County.

Governor's Order Halts Milk Strike

BOSTON—(P)—Milk deliveries to thousands of Eastern Massachusetts homes and retail outlets resumed Tuesday after Governor Herter halted a four-day strike of 1,800 APL employees at 12 dairies under a law aimed at protecting public health.

The 1947 law—known as the Slichter Act—which the governor invoked Monday night calls for a "cooling off" period of at least 45 days in labor disputes which effect public health or safety. During this period the state takes steps to bring about a settlement.

The 12 milk companies affected want to renew current contracts with one change: elimination of Sunday deliveries. The union wants to continue Sunday deliveries, and also asks a wage hike.

Two Tankers Sail With Iranian Oil

TEHRAN, IRAN—(P)—Tankers carrying cargoes of disputed Iranian oil and gasoline were enroute to both Japan and Italy Tuesday in defiance of British threats of legal action against buyers.

Reports reaching Tehran Monday night said the Japanese tanker Nisaho Maru sailed from Abadan carrying 18,000 tons of gasoline and fuel oil. It is owned by the Indemitsu Kasei Company, which last week announced it had signed an agreement with Iran's nationalized oil company to buy an unlimited quantity of oil and other petroleum products.

Earlier, the tanker Pax, owned by the Epim Company of Italy, sailed from Bandar Maashur with 3,000 tons of crude oil aboard.

Police Hurt Three In Routing Students

HAVANA—(P)—A clash between students and police Monday night resulted in gunshot wounds for one girl and lesser injuries to two other youths.

The battle took place in front of the National University when police sought to break up a demonstration at which student orators attacked President Fulgencio Batista's government.

PACKAGE DEAL NO BIG BARGAIN

MAYSVILLE, KY.—(P)—For $3 a Mason County man Monday purchased a marriage license, a $10 wedding ceremony and two vocal selections to be sung at his wedding.

The license and service were sold at the Lions Club radio auction to raise funds for the club's night conservation program and playground project.

Dave Cooper now needs a bride.

Couple Found Guilty Of Killing Children

YREKA, CALIF.—(P)—Allie Davis and Louise Steve, Indians of Sonoma Bar, Calif., were found guilty Monday of killing her two small children by bashing them against the floor of their house at a drinking party October 15.

A Siskiyou County Superior Court jury found both guilty of murder in the first degree—Davis for killing two-year-old Martinez Shoemaker, Miss Steve's son by a previous common law husband, and Miss Steve for killing Stanley Steve, her son by Davis.

Federal Weather Station To Be Asked For Midland

Directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, at their regular meeting Monday afternoon, approved the action of the organization's Aeronautics Committee in seeking the location of a CAA weather station at Midland Air Terminal.

The committee was authorized to prepare a pictorial brief stressing the urgent need of weather station facilities at the airport, to support the chamber's application for the additional service. The brief will be submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Washington, D. C.

Reports from various committees featured the meeting of the chamber's directors.

The report of the Aeronautics Committee was submitted by Chairman Bill Collins.

Membership Program

Kelly Bell, Membership Committee chairman, outlined plans for launching a continuing program of membership solicitation for the C. of C.

Chairman R. C. Conkling of the City and County Affairs Committee, told the directors that subcommittees are studying the possibility and feasibility of launching (1) a voluntary water conservation program; (2) leadership training courses for adults; (3) citizens' traffic committee, and (4) a city-wide fire hazard inspection program.

Pat Ruckman reported for the Highway Committee; W. Dave Henderson, Sports, and L. M. Short, Retailers.

President Joe T. Dickerson, who presided at the meeting, reported on actions taken by the Executive Committee at its recent meeting.

The chamber's Convention Committee, it was announced, has adopted a program of aiding groups and organizations in bringing conventions to Midland, and in assisting in registering convention delegates and providing badges and program entertainment features.

Manager Delbert Downing gave a brief report concerning general activities of the chamber, including the Cover Crop Field Day held last Friday at the Slim O'Neill farm south of Midland. He also announced plans for the observance of Education-Business Day, April 30. E-B Day is sponsored by the organization's Education Committee.

The directors also cast the Midland chamber's ballot in the directors' election of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

There were 127,400 more persons injured in U. S. motor vehicle accidents last year than in 1951.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The Midland ball club merely reiterated an old fact—one bad apple spoils the basketful—when it lost five of six grapefruit league games. Apples, in this case, are innings—four of which defeated the Indians in four encounters.

That Midland spoiled eight or nine good innings per game with a rotten one, of course, doesn't mean each game in point wouldn't eventually have ended in a setback. It did, however, turn the tide. You remember the games, Austin 5-4, Sinton 2-1, Temple 6-3 and Wichita Falls 6-4. Let's get into the details.

Midland and Austin were tied, 4-4, in the bottom of the tenth after a near-perfect game in fielding, pitching and batting, a fan's ideal. Then, in the tenth, Indian hurler Ralph Blair gave up a second hit in four innings of work. That rap, by Russ Mays with nose out, still could have been ineffectual except that it went for two bases as Right Fielder Bill Brown misjudged on his try for a shoestring catch.

Blair walked slugger Billy Ashley to set up a force play, only to get hit by the bad apple. He struck the next two batters in the back with pitches and forced in the winning run.

Against Sinton, the count was 1-1 in the last of the ninth when Blair gave up a fifth hit of the night. Things still didn't look bad until sub First Baseman Lou Dawson fielded the next play, a sacrifice try, and threw into the dirt for Midland's first error. Both runners advanced, forcing Blair to walk the next man, Ed Peacock, intentionally to fill the bases. Jay Haney pulled what looked like a gem of a move by placing Eddie Jacome on the mound and hoping for a double play.

When Pitcher Jodie Howington hit a swinging bunt, the Indians, for one brief second, seemed out of trouble. Jacome fielded the ball about 12 feet from the plate where Art Bowland was waiting for the throw and a force. Julio de la Torre was on third, also waiting. Dawson, too, was ready at first, everybody set for a twin-killing.

Jacome, though, got ever-anxious and tossed, too quickly, what could have been a rapid, wormy apple instead of a baseball to Bowland. It bounced out of the mitt and in front of the plate where Bowland, with plenty time to get the lead runner out, fell flat to pick up the ball and keep his feet on the dish. From everywhere in the park—except where the umpire stood—it looked as if Bowland succeeded and the catcher himself said, "I grabbed the ball and looked around and saw my feet were on the base."

That happened just before the Sinton runner reached the plate and Bowland recounted afterwards, "I said that's all, brother, you're out."

But the man in blue didn't see it that way—he announced that Bowland may have had his foot on the plate but he didn't have the ball.

It was then that began a few minutes of debate between Manager Haney, Bowland, Jacome and 16 other Midlanders on the merits of Umpire McFarlin's eyesight.

Had the game not been an exhibition, "I probably would have told him what he was," Bowland said.

The count was 3-3 in Temple when the Midland miscue came up in the seventh inning. Jacome allowed a three-base hit to Jack Wilkinson and planned to get out of the hole with a maneuver he and Quentin Basco had practiced all Spring. Their pick-off play worked and Wilkinson was out by four feet until the Umpire Barney Smith accused Jacome of balking.

His charge stuck but he had to stand off the ire of Midland's volatile 15 to bring Wilkinson home with the go-ahead run.

At Wichita Falls, rookie Bud Sisk, making his first start, gave up a lead-off triple and, like Jacome, found out that practice apparently doesn't make perfect. His successful pick-off play to Third Baseman Julio de la Torre also was called a balk, the run scoring. Consequently, the whole first inning proved a bad apple.

Roger Dalla Betta erred on an easy throw to first on the following play. Sisk failed to pick up the third batter's sacrifice bunt and both runners were out; and third, Joe Duffield, the lead runner, reached third on the play to set up another Sisk fault.

The fourth batter hit back to the pitcher who nervously threw into the dirt at home, two more runs finally coming across.

Midland outscored Wichita Falls but never caught up during the rest of the game.

Ascap probably would say there's a moral to those four stories but then, if he were a Spring training railbird, it'd be "Well, that's baseball!" And it is.

Bulldogs On Road For Lamesa Tilt

Jack Harris Gets Initial Pitching Job

(NEA Telephoto)

GAME CALLED—Vice President Richard Nixon, scheduled to throw out the first ball at the opening game between the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators, sticks his head out the window of his Capitol office to check the weather. An early morning downpour and continuing showers forced postponement of the opener.

LAMESA—Still seeking their first District 3-AA baseball victory, the Midland Bulldogs Friday pick on a foe here that twice has fallen a victim.

Midland plays Lamesa's Golden Tornados, hoping to continue their domination over their league foe. The Bulldogs won the two previous games by 7-5 and 13-10 scores.

Coach Keith Bobb, announced Monday he will call on Jack Harris for mound duties against the Tora. Harris has not seen action at all this year, but Bobb figures the right-hander can give Lamesa trouble. He'll hold Snooky Roberts and Boyce McKnight in reserve and can call upon J. N. Steele for relief duty if necessary.

Steele went into the Big Spring game in the seventh inning with one on and two out and retired James Hollis on a single pitch. Hollis grounded to second.

Still more mound help arrived for the Bulldogs Monday when Lee Snead reported for duty. Snead has been playing on the Bulldogs' soft team that completed its activities Saturday at the district meet.

Except for the selection of Harris to pitch, Bobb indicated he would start the same lineup against Lamesa as against Big Spring.

Gavilan Big Choice To Plaster Minello

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Welterweight Champ Kid Gavilan, who hasn't had a fight since he whipped Chuck Davey last February, gets back to work Tuesday night in a 10-round non-title bout with Livio Minello of Italy, European welter king.

The Cuban Kid is unbeaten in his last 28 starts, including his technical knockout of Davey in Chicago, and is expected to have little trouble subduing the Italian boxer. In fact, the bookies were refusing to quote odds.

PLAY FOR KEEPS—

Majors Swing Into Action

By BEN PHEGAR Associated Press Sports Writer

Major league baseball clubs shook off their Spring training wraps and started playing for keeps Tuesday after giving their newest partner, the Milwaukee Braves, a one-game head start.

About 225,000 fans were expected to sit in on the eight opening games. The weatherman predicted passable conditions everywhere.

The triumphant return of the big league sport to Milwaukee after 50 years drew a sellout crowd of 38,011.

The Braves came to their new home to play the St. Louis Cardinals after beating Cincinnati, 2-0, Monday in a National League preview. The American League half of the special opening program between Washington and the World Champion New York Yankees in the nation's capital was rained out.

Max Surkont, the one true New Englander on the old Boston Braves roster, and Bill Bruton, a rookie who jumped from the minors to the majors without leaving the city that beer made famous, got Milwaukee off to an auspicious start in its third try in the major leagues. The Milwaukee entries in the old National League of 1878 and in the New American League of 1901 both lost their opening games.

Surkont set the Redlegs down on three hits—two ground-rule doubles into the crowd of 30,103 and a single—and contributed a double and a single to the Milwaukee attack.

Bruton singled to open the game, stole second and scored the first run. Later he doubled, and twice he snared long drives which looked like sure bets for extra bases.

Lefty, Warren Spahn drew the home assignment Tuesday against the Cards' Gerry Staley.

The washout in Washington cost Vice President Nixon his chance to toss out the first ball. His promised blooper pitch will have to wait until some other time because President Eisenhower said Monday night he will be back from his golfing holiday in Georgia for the rescheduled Washington opener Thursday.

Tuesday's largest crowd, some 50,000, was expected at Cleveland to watch the Indians and the Chicago White Sox, the two clubs figured to have the best chance of ending the Yankees' four-year reign in the American League. Bob Lemon of the Indians got the opening nod against Saul Rogovin.

Casey Stengel raises his fourth pennant at Yankee Stadium, and then sends his charges into action against the Philadelphia Athletics with Vic Raschi facing Alex Keller.

At Boston, the Red Sox meet

Washington, Mel Parnell goes against Bob Porterfield.

Ned Garver, who shut out Detroit while wearing a St. Louis uniform in last year's opener, will try to reverse the trick this time in the only night game on Tuesday's schedule at St. Louis. Garver was traded to the Tigers early last season. Virgil Trucks, who pitched two-no hit games for Detroit in 1952, will open for the Browns.

The Boston-to-Milwaukee shift juggled the opening-day schedule in the National League and brought the Pittsburgh Pirates, the Grapefruit League champion, into Ebbets Field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers, heavy choice to win their second straight flag, start the chase with Carl Erskine on the mound against Murry Dickson.

The New York Giants, with Larry Jansen pitching, face the Philadelphia Phils in Philadelphia and Robin Roberts.

Cincinnati tries to get up to the 500 mark by throwing lefty Ken Raffensberger against Bob Rush and the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field.

Pony Nine Sounds Warning To Texas

By The Associated Press

Pitching that was wild one inning and brilliant the next featured Southwest Conference games Monday as the Southern Methodist-University of Texas series this weekend loomed as one of the season's most crucial.

The Mustangs sounded a clear warning to the favored Longhorns Monday in Dallas as they continued undefeated with a 4-2 win over Texas A&M.

The Pony southpaw ace, Art Flinders, set the Aggies down with three hits as his mates got to Melvin Work for eight safeties. The Methodists played loosely behind Flinders' hurrying, committing four errors.

Both pitchers fanned eight men each. Work walked just three while Flinders was giving up five free passes.

In the other Monday conference games, Texas Christian left Rice's Owl the sole occupants of the Southwest cellar with a 3-2 tenning victory.

Pitcher Les Mattinson, who threw a four-hitter at the Owl, drove in the winning run for TCU in the tenth when his line drive was lost in the sun and bounced off Outfielder Don Costa's chest.

Eight bases on balls and three Frog errors marred Mattinson's game. Each team scored one unearned run as Rice committed all three of its miscues in the fourth to hand the Frogs their first run.

Soph Richard Floyd, on the mound for Rice, gave up nine hits.

The day's play left SMU still in undisputed possession of firstplace with a five-won, none-lost record. Baylor, the team that defeated Texas last week, remains in second place with a 4-1 record, ahead of Texas' 2-1 conference mark.

TCU rose to within a game of the Aggies with its win over Rice. The Aggies have lost three out of five games while the Christians have one win in five starts.

Rice has lost five games, won none.

The schedule for the rest of the week: Wednesday: Texas A&M vs Sam Houston State at College Station. Thursday: Rice vs Lamar Tech at Houston. Friday: Texas vs Southern Methodist at Austin. Saturday: Texas A&M vs Rice at College Station; Baylor vs Texas Christian at Waco; Texas vs Southern Methodist at Austin.

WHAT—NO ADS TODAY?

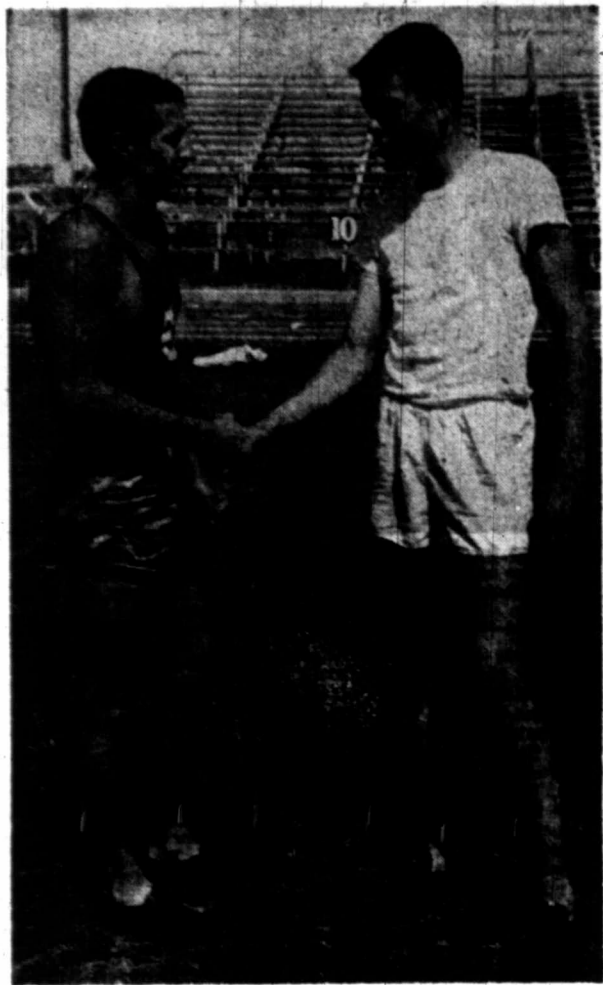

Ever look through a newspaper like this that contained no ads whatsoever? Weren't you disappointed? Didn't you find it dull? Of course you did. Most folks find the ads just as interesting, just as worthwhile as many of the other features. For one thing for which you buy this paper is to learn about goods and services—where you can get them and at what price. But that's only the beginning. Suppose there were no ads every day. What would happen to the jobs in your family? Every pay check in America depends ultimately on somebody selling something to somebody else. And the advertisements that you read and hear on the air are the lowest cost, fastest way yet devised to sell goods and services. Obviously, without the ads people wouldn't buy and sell so much. Soon businesses would begin to fail. Soon there'd be fewer jobs, poorer jobs. Soon your job would be affected. Jobs depend upon good, healthy buying and selling. And advertising, by selling more goods to more people, makes your job—and everybody's job—better and more secure.

OTHER WAYS ADVERTISING HELPS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY

- 1 Brings you better goods for less money.
- 2 Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
- 3 Shows consumer demand to production, to create prosperity.

BUT STILL CHAMPS—The howls, cries and applause has long been quiet, but these two youngsters retain pleasant memories of Friday's junior high school track meet. They leaped 10 feet to break the old standard of 9-6.

Indians Play First Home Exhibition Tuesday Against Abilene Blue Sox

When Midland plays its first home exhibition baseball game Tuesday night there's a big question the Indian starting pitcher wants decided then and there.

Ralph Blair, the most effective moundman so far, wonders if his current run of luck means he will have another year like 1950, his last one here.

Blair, who had a 17-11 record then, lost five one-run decisions with the second division '50 Indians. And nothing, it seems, has changed his luck since.

Twice he's been the victim of one-run setbacks this spring. Now he opens against Abilene at 8 p.m. Tuesday hoping his third try will be more auspicious. Abilene, despite its being the first Class C club to face Midland in five games, poses a rough test for Blair's change-of-fortune bid.

The Blue Sox, a West Texas-New Mexico League member, have won four of six practice games on the road trip home from Florida training. The fans who have followed recent West Texas teams will remember several of the Blue Sox and recognize them by their past prowess. On the club are such vets as Manager I. B. Palmer, catcher; Lloyd Pearson, outfielder and Dub Akins, outfielder.

Those who show up to see the Indians here also meet seven brand new players with four they haven't seen since 1950. The rest of the current 18-man squad either played last year or, in the case of Jim Prince, in 1951.

Taking part for the first time with Midland are these: Rookie Pitcher Bud Sisk, Pitcher Romarico Soto, Second Baseman Roger Della Betta; Catcher Art Bowland, Rookie First Baseman Milton Wallendorf, Catcher Freddie Lu-Jan and Pitcher Ben Quintana.

Blair heads the foursome who return after a two-year absence, all being discharged recently from the armed services. They include Outfielder Tex Stephenson, Outfielder Lou Dawson and Third Baseman Quentin Basco.

Manager Jay Haney took those and built them around these returnees—Scooter Hughes, Julio de la Torre, Bill Brown, Hayden White, Gordon Tanner, Eddie Ja-

Missions Net Part Of Lead With 10-1 Win

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

San Antonio got Jim Fridley almost as an after-thought. He arrived only a few hours before the opening Texas League game but a fellow never appeared more ready to start a season.

Big Jim has hammered eight hits in 15 times at bat in four games and driven in six runs, five of them with homers. His mighty mace has been instrumental in the Missions' going into a tie for first place with Shreveport's Sports.

Monday night Fridley smashed a three-run homer as the Missions plowed Houston under, 10-1. Sunday he had clouted a two-run homer in a 3-0 whitewashing of Houston.

Missions Advance

San Antonio eased into a tie for first place when Shreveport lost its first game of the season, falling to Beaumont 1-0.

Fort Worth handed Tulsa its first loss, clipping the Oilers, 2-1, while Dallas dropped its third straight game, this one, 12-11, to Oklahoma City.

Rookie Pitcher John Waltman spaced in six runs, five of them well, keeping the Buffs at bay for seven innings. Gary Blaylock started for Houston, walked five, hit three and let loose with a wild pitch and San Antonio had five runs in six innings.

Another rookie, Don Fracchia was the whole show in Beaumont's decision over Shreveport. Not only did Fracchia pitch a six-hitter but he blasted a double and scored the only run of the game on Billy Costa's single.

Glans Stings

Russ Rose's single in the eighth drove in Gale Wade with the deciding tally in Fort Worth's victory over Tulsa. Bill Glans limited the Oilers to four hits.

A few hours before Tulsa had won out in the Texas League office in a protest by Fort Worth of Sunday's game. The Cats protested on the grounds that Umpire Bill Wilson called time improperly. But League President J. Alvin Gardner disallowed it and Tulsa kept its 6-3 victory.

Dallas and Oklahoma City struggled three hours and ten minutes in their slugfest, with Mickey Turner doubling in the ninth to break an 11-11 tie and give the Indians the decision.

AMONG INDIAN BATTERS— Little Men Boast Bigger Hit Totals

It's much too early in training to see how hitting will go with the Midland Indian ball club but if some indication can be gained from five of six early games, the smallest players won't have any trouble packing their weight around with the big boys.

Two of five-foot-six-inch proportions and one of about 180 pounds were the first to collect six hits in Spring games. You can't pick out any smaller threesome from the Indian squad.

In the first place, the team's second base combination, Scooter Hughes and Roger Della Betta, along with five-foot-ten outfielder Hayden White all have 300 or better averages after hitting safely six times. Hughes, the smallest at about 140 pounds, leads all with six hits in 14 trips, a .429 average.

White has six for 17, .353, while Della Betta has six for 20, .300.

The rest of the early base-hit collectors were Bud Sisk, one for two, .500; Freddie Lu-Jan, three for seven, .429; Jim Prince, four for 10, .400; Woody Pennington, two for seven, .286; Gordon Tanner, two for eight, .250; Julio de la Torre, four for 17, .235; Art Bowland, three for 13, .231; Bill Brown, three for 14, .214; Ralph Blair, one for five, .200.

The Indians meet the West Texas-New Mexico League Blue Sox in an 8 p.m. game here Tuesday. Haney has indicated that if Manager I. B. Palmer puts a Blue Sox right-hander on the mound, this will be the Midland batting order:

Against a left-hander, the Indian batting order would swap De la Torre to third in the line up, Hayden White to fifth, Stephenson to sixth and Bowland to eighth. Bill Brown probably will replace Dawson in left field and bat seventh.

Bowland, Prince, Stephenson, Dawson and second string Catcher Gordon Tanner all are left-hand batters.

Wink Pins Baseball Hopes On Pitching

WINK—Twelve returning letter-men—one at every position—plus some topnotch pitching makes the Wink Wildcats a definite District I-A baseball title threat.

Coach Frank Barton's crew is blessed with two righthanded pitchers, Bobby Ensey and Pete McDonald, upon whose shoulders rest the Wildcats' chances for a league crown. When he isn't pitching, McDonald is scheduled for a starting outfield berth.

Like other league coaches, Barton believes Alpine is the team to watch. He ranks Sanderson as the next biggest hurdle the Wildcats will face.

The Wildcats, 8-5 victors over Sanderson last week, host Kermit Tuesday.

Barton will probably start with the following lineup: Ensey or McDonald pitching; Dan Villereal at first; Floyd Langford at second; Ken Vinson at shortstop; Joe Hammer at third; Ralph Turner in left field; Tommy Ripper in center field and Charles Manning in right field.

In addition to these lettermen, David Lipscomb and Kent Hatcher, both outfielders, are on call while newcomers LeRoy Hicks, Jerry Garrett and James Ogile hope to break into the lineup sometime soon.

The Wildcats' remaining league schedule follows:

April 17—Pecos, here
April 21—Alpine, there
April 24—Fort Stockton, there
April 28—Sanderson, there
May 1—Kermit, there
May 5—Pecos, here
May 8—Alpine, here
May 12—Fort Stockton, here

Crane Pony, Little League Candidates Bid For Positions

CRANE—Plans are being completed for more than 15 baseball teams, to enter competition this Summer in Crane County. Tryouts are under way now for candidates for the Little League and Pony League teams.

Workouts for candidates for the American Legion team will start as soon as the new park is completed.

Present plans call for four Little League teams with each team operating at least one farm team. The Pony League will consist of four teams, and the American Legion plans to field at least three teams with the best of these three teams to enter competition in the National Association.

With the completion of the new ball park, Crane will have two of the best amateur baseball parks in West Texas.

Haney Suits Tribe Order To Pitching

Midland Manager Jay Haney Tuesday awaited the naming of Abilene's starting hurler before arranging his batting order for the Indians' first home game.

The Indians meet the West Texas-New Mexico League Blue Sox in an 8 p.m. game here Tuesday. Haney has indicated that if Manager I. B. Palmer puts a Blue Sox right-hander on the mound, this will be the Midland batting order:

Big Staters Expect 12,000 Fans To See Tuesday's Openers

By The Associated Press

Games at Waco, Wichita Falls, Greenville and Temple start the Big State League on its way Tuesday night.

Waco entertains Tyler. Paris will be at Wichita Falls. Texarkana at Greenville and Austin at Temple.

The four openers are expected to total 12,000 fans with Greenville looking for 4,000. Col Royal Baker, America's top jet ace, will be one of the attractions. He will catch the first ball thrown by Monty Stratton, the ex-big leaguer whose return to professional baseball despite loss of a leg in a hunting accident is a big story of sport.

New City Bowling Champs Assured

Defending Champions Bob Wortman and Ken Jastrow, fell into second place as the first round of doubles competition of the Midland City Bowling Association's tournament was completed. A new ruler thus was assured, since these participants have finished their turn on the lanes.

William Nutto and L. Pemberton held the advantage by 11 pins after Sunday's activities were finished. They had scored 1,239 pins while Wortman and Jastrow had a 1,228 score.

R. McAlpine and D. Rector were third with 1,221; R. Willis and D. McKibbin were fourth with 1,206 and M. Coleman and H. Rundle were fifth with 1,193.

Meanwhile, Ford Buehrle held a slim six-pin lead in the singles. His 641 count barely topped James Beggs' 635. J. O. Sehon was third with 623. J. Hendrick was fourth with 621 and F. Wise was fifth with 619.

Here's the schedule for this week-end's play:

Babe Surgery Set Friday

BEAUMONT—(AP)—Babe Zaharias was in seclusion Tuesday as she prepared for an operation Friday that will determine whether she again can participate in athletics.

The great woman golfer will undergo surgery Friday afternoon in an effort to remove a malignancy that knocked her from the links tour. Two well-known Houston surgeons will perform the operation but their names have not been revealed.

Physicians ordered that she was to see no one or talk to anybody on the telephone. Until now she has been receiving messages and telephone calls from everywhere.

Periodic releases will be made on her condition, the first to come today. This was decided at a meeting of the Jefferson County Medical Association last night.

Dr. Grady Bevil, president of the association, and Dr. W. E. Tatum, the Zaharias family doctor, will make the releases.

Mrs. Zaharias entered the hospital here Thursday after checkup by a specialist in Fort Worth revealed her trouble.

Harlingen Captols Inaugurate Gulf Race In Mad Rush Of Runs

By The Associated Press

Harlingen's Captols must have been mad before the season even started. They took it out on Brownsville Monday night in opening the Gulf Coast League campaign with a smashing 17-3 triumph.

It was a night of many tallies as the four opening tilts produced a total of 49.

Port Arthur, the favored club, started off with a 4-3 decision over Lake Charles. Texas City whipped Galveston, 6-5, and Corpus Christi got going with a 6-5 decision over Laredo.

Harlingen was awesome in smashing Brownsville. The Caps, with Manager Bob Hamric leading the way with a homer and single, smacked 18 hits. They shoved over eight runs in the fifth inning.

Texas City smashed across seven runs in the seventh to come from behind to beat Galveston.

Dinty Moore pitched a six-hitter in Port Arthur's conquest of Lake Charles. An opening day record for Port Arthur—2,949 fans—turned out for the game. Consecutive triples by Chico Barcelo, Dick Demaki and Cliff Pemberton in the first inning spelled the Lakers' doom.

Bill Revising Election Law Awaits Action In Legislature

AUSTIN—(AP)—New rules to govern Texas' rough-and-tumble elections was ready for House action Tuesday.

They would permit no more cross-filing, order no sworn expense statements of candidates, keep the polls open until 8 p. m., elect presidential electors by congressional districts, and prescribe a host of other changes.

The reforms were voted approval by a House committee Monday. The action followed a session-long screening of measures aimed at bandaging ailing sections of the state's two-year-old election code.

Cross-Filing A Target

Cross-filing had been the target of bitter political barbs in last year's precedent-shattering elections. It also had been the issue in one of the first House squabbles this session.

Actually, two bills went back to the House proposing to end candidates' dual roles.

The repeal was in a lengthy wrap-up bill involving many changes and intended as a one-shot cure-all for the election code. It was approved again in a separate bill by Rep. A. D. Downer of Center, which had been recommended to the committee by the House in the early-session skirmish.

Device Used Once

An attempted compromise failed. It was proposed by Rep. James Yancy, Jr., of Houston. His plan would have permitted cross-filing only with the express consent of the candidate concerned. The committee brushed it aside on a technicality and voted, 10-4, to put an end to the device tried just once in Texas.

The lone trail was in the general election last Fall, when the Republican Party cross-filed the names of Governor Shivers and all other state Democratic candidates. Only Agriculture Commissioner John White withdrew from the Republican column.

The switch in electing presidential electors was approved as a separate measure instead of being included in the committee wrap-up bill.

Vote By Districts

It would permit the congressional district's elector to vote the way the district votes, he said.

Electors are now elected state-wide, the victorious party winning the entire state.

Other changes proposed by the committee would repeal the check-off system of voting, requiring scratching of candidates' names instead. Exemption certificates would be required of all voters exempt from poll taxes, including those in counties under 10,000. The 50-cent absentee voting fee would be repealed. Poll taxes could be paid by mail without a notarized statement. And every candidate could have one election supervisor or watcher per precinct.

Standard Oil Trims Imports Of Crude By 18,000 Barrels

AUSTIN—(AP)—Standard Oil of New Jersey has started what Railroad Commission chairman Ernest Thompson calls a "major break" in the oil import deadlock.

Thompson, head of Texas' oil regulatory body, said Monday night Standard notified him it was cutting its crude oil imports 18,000 barrels a day.

"This is a great victory," Thompson said.

He has assailed the oil companies for increasing their imports.

Thompson said if the import-increase trend continued it would endanger national security and do serious damage to the economy of the nation's big oil producing states.

In Texas, permissive production of crude oil has been cut back in four of the last five months. Increase imports have been given one of the principal reasons for the cutbacks.

The Texas commission meets at San Angelo Friday to set the May allowable.

Thompson repeatedly has charged that oil imports are threatening to supplant American domestic oil.

Thompson has told the major importers the only way to thwart legislation on imports is to apply principles of "business statesmanship."

Standard, he said, is the nation's greatest importer, bringing in 220,000 barrels a day. Imports last week averaged 1,256,700 barrels daily.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE
UNBLEMISHED SKETCHES FROM A LISTING BOOK

BELOW THE MARKET is this 2-bedroom and den frame home. Attractive living and dining area, and pullman-size kitchen. 18 blocks west of downtown. Priced at $7,900.

EASY ON THE POCKET-BOOK because it takes only $1,500 down, including closing costs, to move into a home of your own. Located on Holloway, it has 2 bedrooms, 1 1/2 tile bath, living room, and attached garage. Only 4 years old. Might consider $1,000 down. Priced at $8,000.

NEAR DAVID CROCKETT school, this attractive home has 2 bedrooms, cheerful kitchen and breakfast area, nice living room. Good neighborhood. Pay $1,400 down today, move in immediately. $8,200.

IN TOWN NORTH on Oak Street, you make monthly payments of only $54.00, which covers taxes and insurance (those nasty extras) Priced at $8,420, this lovely asbestos siding home has 2 bedrooms, living room, and attached carport. Grass, trees, paving, and fenced yard. Central heating, large closets. $1,950 down.

TAKE A LOOKSEE AT 910 West Kentucky, 2 bedrooms, 12x25 living room, attractive kitchen. It has personality, propinquity, and price. The latter is $8,500.

DO NOT PAY OVER $1,250 down And do not pay over $58 per month. This is the law for 1111 East Jax Street. 2 larger bedrooms, living room, separate dining room, and attractive kitchen. There is an attached garage that could make into a huge den or 3rd bedroom. Excellent condition inside and out. Assume GI loan.

THE FENCE GIVES YOU privacy. The lawn gives you eyes a rest—and your back. The condition of the house gives you no re-decorating problems. And the owners give you their home—on Delano. If you want an exquisite 2 bedroom home which needs no work, you'll do wisely by calling to see No. 9.

1509 SOUTH WEATHERFORD is waiting for new owners. It's a bundle of nice house. Will wrap it up for you for as little as $750 down.

303 WEST HAMBY is a beauty in brick. The bedrooms are 15 feet in length. The bath is ceramic. Brand new carpeting. Dining area off the living room. Attached carport and storage. Air-conditioning unit, fence, lawn. $10,500.

IMMACULATELY CLEAN AND ADORABLE is 414 East Pine Street. In addition to the 2 bedrooms, there is the enjoyable living room, separate dining room, and lots of built-ins. Approximately 1100 square feet, fenced yard surrounds the lovely lawn. $10,950.

The Indians are on the trail

Yes, the Midland Indians are on the trail to their happy hunting grounds... Indian Park... to begin what we are sure will be another successful season. And if you have been on the trail of a new home, here's a thought: Why not go ahead and get that home under construction NOW, thereby avoiding the Spring cleaning of your present home, and move into a sparkling, brand new home in a few short weeks?

Why Buy Someone Else's Ideas?

Everyone we've ever known has had the urge to build their VERY OWN home... a home that they have planned themselves. The joys of home ownership reach their highest peak when you have followed the creation of that home from "the ground up." We will be glad to help you in any way we can... with the plans... with expert and conscientious construction... with the securing of the proper financing... and with all the other myriad details with which we are so familiar. Please call on us for any information you may require.

Auto Crash Kills Two Snyder Workers, Kin Of Midlanders

A single tragedy Monday struck into at least three Midland homes when word was received that Yearl Leon Blakeney, 39, and R. V. Brewer, both oil field workers from Snyder, had died late Monday from injuries received earlier the same day in an auto crash 19 miles south of Colorado City.

Blakeney was the son of Mrs. Pearl Blakeney of Midland and brother of D. E. Blakeney of Midland. Brewer was a brother of Gene Brewer of Midland.

Three other persons in the car were injured in the accident. The five men were returning from a work shift near Silver when their car struck a deer about 1 a.m. Monday and then plunged into a dry creek bed.

Blakeney and Brewer received concussions and chest injuries. They never regained consciousness. Blakeney died shortly before 6 p.m. and Brewer died an hour later.

Both men were employed by the Baker & Taylor Drilling Company of Amarillo.

Injured in the accident were Thomas Machen, 23; H. D. Chaney, 46; and H. Hammons, 32. Their conditions were not termed serious.

McCarthy's announcement that he had received word from a number of Greek shipowners in London, that they voluntarily were withdrawing their ships from trade with Red China and other Soviet bloc nations, came after he had a meeting Monday with Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen.

Stassen's and McCarthy's accounts of the meeting differed somewhat, but it appeared few decisions had been reached. They planned to meet again Wednesday.

Former Virginia Governor Bids For Seat In Congress

DANVILLE, VA.—(AP)—William M. (Big Bill) Tuck, out of public office since he left the Governor's Mansion three years ago, made his bid for a seat in Congress Tuesday in a special election in Virginia's Fifth District.

It marked the nation's first election for a congressional seat in a Democratic area which bolted to the Republican camp in last November's presidential race. Polls in the district's nine counties and two cities opened at 6 a.m. and will close at 6 p.m.

Lorne Ross Campbell, 43-year-old political newcomer from Independence in Grayson County, opposed Tuck.

Much of Republican Campbell's hopes for victory rested in his belief that he will win support from disgruntled Democrats who were alienated by Tuck's stand in the presidential campaign.

Tuck, a 57-year-old lawyer at the tobacco town of South Boston in Halifax County, repudiated the national Democratic ticket of Adlai Stevenson and John Sparkman in a radio address last October 22. And though he never specifically endorsed Eisenhower, politicians believe it was partly because of his stand that the Fifth District broke its traditional Democratic ties and gave the Republicans a 4,000-vote triumph.

Tuck and Campbell seek the congressional seat held previously by Thomas B. Stanley of Henry County, who stepped down from the House in February to seek the Democratic nomination for governor.

Holds Favorite's Role

Tuck was accorded a strong favorite's role in Tuesday's election, but some Democratic workers feared a light turnout might produce a close vote. More than 55,000 voted in the presidential election last Fall.

Backed strongly by the dominant state Democratic organization headed by U. S. Senator Byrd (D-Va.), Tuck has labored hard at mending the wounds produced by 1952's presidential campaign rift. His campaign chiefs have called often for unity in the party.

Campbell has criticized Tuck sharply for "deserting" the Democratic presidential ticket and Monday night charged that the former governor "let his party down." The independence attorney described himself as a liberal Republican who supports "progressive" legislation proposed by the Eisenhower Administration.

Wheat Storage Shortage Looms

DALLAS—(AP)—A desperate shortage of wheat storage space in this area was reported by regional Production and Marketing Administration officials Monday.

PMA Director C. H. Moseley said millions of bushels of grain must be moved from rural warehouses within 30 days to make room for what he said looks like a bumper crop.

Moseley said the Department of Agriculture would appeal to owners of emergency facilities for aid. He mentioned old airport hangars and empty petroleum tanks as emergency storage space that could be used.

The American Cancer Society estimates that 225,000 Americans will die of cancer in 1953.

Kin Of Midlander Dies In Oklahoma

Services will be held Wednesday afternoon in the Pearson Funeral Home in Walters.

Several children are among the survivors.

Foul Play Ruled Out In Brownwood Death

BROWNWOOD—(AP)—Justice T. H. Hart ruled Monday that Lee Montgomery, whose body was found in a water tank on the Montgomery farm, died from natural causes, Montgomery, 77, who lived alone, had heart trouble.

McCarthy To Study Subsidies In Press

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) has called for information on payment of government funds to individuals and firms in the press, radio and other information fields.

He said Monday, however, "this is in no way an investigation of the press or the operation of the press. We don't intend to investigate the press."

Questionnaires have gone out to the State and Defense Departments, the Central Intelligence Agency and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, formerly the Federal Security Agency. It was indicated similar information might be sought later from other departments.

Lists Of Media

The information called for includes lists of newspapers and other publications to which the federal agencies subscribed and in which they placed advertising, along with the amounts paid in the 1952 fiscal year; names of writers, cartoonists and other "persons or organizations in the field of journalism" who performed services, with details as to the service or article, payments, circulation or printing of material at government expense.

McCarthy said the Senate Government Operations Committee, which he heads, is seeking information on "any subsidization of the lines of communication—press, magazine, radio and television."

The 21-year-old flier, Franciszek Jarzewski, told newsmen of his escape Monday after he had been decorated for "outstanding bravery" by Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, President of the Polish government in exile.

Explaining why he took his speedy fighter plane from the Polish air base at Slupsk March 5 and sped across the Baltic Sea to the Danish island of Bornholm, he said: "I wanted to prove that although the Polish people have been in captivity for so many years—and although their youth are constantly indoctrinated with Communist lies—the Polish nation does not flinch from its loyalty to the West."

Jarzewski, who has been granted asylum in Britain, said he had no plans for the future. He added he would like to visit the United States and might join the U. S. Air Force if he had the opportunity.

More Ship Owners Pen McCarthy Pacts To Curb Red Trade

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) says he has obtained agreement from another group of Greek shipowners to curb trade with Communist nations.

McCarthy's announcement that he had received word from a number of Greek shipowners in London, that they voluntarily were withdrawing their ships from trade with Red China and other Soviet bloc nations, came after he had a meeting Monday with Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen.

Stassen's and McCarthy's accounts of the meeting differed somewhat, but it appeared few decisions had been reached. They planned to meet again Wednesday.

Marshall Housewives Dump Tax Trouble On Mrs. Hobby

MARSHALL—(AP)—America's newest and only woman Cabinet member—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby—is having a problem tossed at her.

It's from women. Texas women—10 Marshall housewives, to be exact. They have written the new secretary of Health, Education and Welfare calling her attention to their long fight against Social Security for household employes and reminding the former co-publisher of the Houston Post of an editorial which that paper published supporting their stand.

Their letter, released here by Mrs. Carolyn Abney, one of the leaders of the "housewives rebellion," advises Mrs. Hobby they have notices that Treasury Department agents again will attack their bank accounts to collect unpaid social security remittances.

"We have no personal animosity toward you or the Administration," the letter to Mrs. Hobby said. "We, too, worked hard for a change."

"At this very writing we have received seizure notices sent out by the Internal Revenue Department. We believe in this new Administration which has promised to halt creeping socialism. Still once again, Treasury agents threaten to come to the bank and confiscate funds when we, in good faith and in a legal manner, are testing the law."

The Houston Post editorial, which the women referred, was published July 31, 1952, and said "there is a vital principal involved" and congratulated the wives "on their courage and determination to make an issue of it."

Practice Not Right

The editorial also said "The women are absolutely right in questioning a law that forces employers to collect taxes free for the government. The fact that the practice has been generally accepted still doesn't make it right."

The editorial was published when Mrs. Hobby and her husband were co-publishers of the Houston Post. She resigned from the newspaper to take the Cabinet job.

The group of 18 Marshall women had refused to withhold the Social Security tax for their domestic help and federal agents collected the money by levying of the wives' bank accounts. The women made no effort to stop the seizure but filed a suit in federal court to recover the taxes.

After Judge W. H. Atwell's court in Dallas ruled against them, the wives carried their case to the Court of Civil Appeals. The case has not yet been docketed.

YES, VIRGINIA, SANTA IS REAL

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA—(AP)—Robert Lee Cheser has asked a federal court to change his legal name to Santa Claus.

He is a resident of North Pole, Alaska, 14 miles south of Fairbanks.

In his petition Monday he said he had changed his name for "business and pecuniary reasons."

Polish MIG Pilot Decorated For Jump Over Iron Curtain

LONDON—(AP)—A refugee Polish Air Force pilot who fled to Denmark in a new Russian-built MIG-15 jet fighter says he made his perilous flight to prove his Communist-ruled homeland remains true to the West.

The 21-year-old flier, Franciszek Jarzewski, told newsmen of his escape Monday after he had been decorated for "outstanding bravery" by Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, President of the Polish government in exile.

Explaining why he took his speedy fighter plane from the Polish air base at Slupsk March 5 and sped across the Baltic Sea to the Danish island of Bornholm, he said: "I wanted to prove that although the Polish people have been in captivity for so many years—and although their youth are constantly indoctrinated with Communist lies—the Polish nation does not flinch from its loyalty to the West."

IT'S A LION, AND NO LYIN'

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—S. J. Lueschke knows the roar of a lion when he hears one, and that's what he told skeptical police Monday.

Officer Eugene Frazini went to investigate. He didn't find one lion—he found nine, practically in Lueschke's back yard.

It was some comfort to startled police and Lueschke that the lions were caged. Finally located, traveling showman A. E. Spencer said he had parked his lions where he found a location for his sideshow.

Terminal CAP Group Meets Tuesday Night

TERMINAL—The Terminal Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the officer's club at Terminal to see movies and hear talks on air traffic.

A report on civil defense week, to be held in May, will also be made. All members are urged to attend and the public is invited.

Houston Deputy Dies After Stroke On Job

HOUSTON—(AP)—Services are to be held here Wednesday for a deputy constable who died of a heart seizure while serving an eviction notice.

Jerry Armer, 46, collapsed while watching furniture being moved from a residence here.

Survivors include the widow; a son, Ronnie, a daughter, Dierdre Jo; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kranad of Weatherford and two sisters, Villa Jean Kranad of Weatherford and Mrs. Bob Graham of Midland.

Officials To Talk Water At McCamey

McCAMEY—Water problems are on the agenda for discussion at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday when the City Council meets, reported Mayor C. W. Brown.

The City of McCamey asked Upson County commissioners last week to share in the $360,000 bond issue, up for consideration April 25, which was designed to furnish water for Rankin.

McCamey officials had asked alteration of the measure to provide water for both cities. A request to double the bond issue was rejected by commissioners, who said there was a limitation on the amount of bonds issued.

Midlander's Kin Dies In Road Crash

WEATHERFORD—Billy Roberts, 27, brother of Mrs. Bob Graham of Midland, died in a Weatherford hospital at 5 p.m. Monday of injuries suffered last week in a truck-car collision four and one-half miles west of the city on Highway 80.

Parker County Attorney James Cotten, Constable Bill Bledsoe and Highway Patrolman E. J. Wimberly who investigated, said Roberts' truck was in collision with a car driven by Bennie Warbington, Jr., Dallas salesman.

Warbington, westbound, was passing two slow-moving vehicles and met the truck, which was traveling east. Warbington was not injured.

Roberts was born in Springtown and had lived in Weatherford 20 years.

Three From Midland County Library Set Trip To Convention

Three Midland County librarians will meet with representatives of the American Library Association and the Ford Foundation at the annual convention of the Texas Library Association in Lubbock Wednesday through Saturday to study ways Texas libraries can better serve the state.

Those attending from Midland will be Mrs. Lucile C. Garroll, county librarian; Leona Meisner, children's librarian; and Mrs. Helen H. Cartwright, assistant librarian. The three will return to open the Midland County Library Saturday.

Robert J. Blakely, manager of the central region office of the Fund for Adult Education of the Ford Foundation, is slated to speak and lead forum discussions.

Dr. Per O. Stenland, head of the Texas Technological College adult education program, allied with the Ford Foundation, will present a demonstration session training leaders for group discussions. Stenland has gained recognition as an educator in both Sweden and the United States and is a trustee of the World Study Tours.

Representatives of the American Library Association featured on the program include David H. Cliff, executive secretary of the national group; Janice Kee, executive secretary of the public libraries division of the association; and Jack Spess, director of the American Heritage Project.

Draft Board Lists Changes Which Should Be On Record

The draft law requires every man registered with a local board to report any change in personal status to his board.

"Young men have asked us just what changes they should report," Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, says. "Generally, anything which has a bearing on classification should be reported."

The state director pointed to the following things which should be reported as change of personal status:

1. Current change of mail address should always be sent to the board.
2. Marriage should be reported at once.
3. If a wife becomes pregnant with a couple's first child, a physician's certificate must be sent to the board immediately after the fact is known.
4. All additions to the family must be reported.
5. Any and all deaths in a man's family should be reported.
6. If a man and wife are divorced or they no longer live together, this must be reported.
7. Permanent change of job should be reported.
8. Serious injury or physical defect should be reported.
9. If a man becomes a student in a college or university, this fact should be reported.
10. If a man enters the reserves or National Guard, he should ask his commanding officer to notify his board. He should assure himself that it is done.
11. If a man has attempted to volunteer for armed forces service and has been rejected, he should advise his local board.

African Ballots To Determine Fate Of Stern Doctor Malan

By W. ALLISON FORREST
NEA Special Correspondent

CAPETOWN, SOUTH AFRICA—Dr. Daniel Francois Malan is a pock-faced Afrikaner who likes to take off his shoes and socks and wade in the sea—and refuses to go to race meetings.

But race headaches of another sort—white vs. black—are Malan's battle-cry in his fight for reelection of his South African Nationalist Party on April 15.

If his party wins, he will consider it a clear-cut mandate to declare the "sovereignty of Parliament" and step up his war for complete white supremacy.

Temperance Pile High
The rarely-smiling Prime Minister, nearing 79, has not backed down on the racial issue that has piled up national tension since last Spring, when voting lists for the colored. When the courts called the law unconstitutional, Malan rejected the decision. He created a High Court of Parliament superior to the courts.

That, too, was declared illegal. The decision angered Malan and led to riots by the natives when he tried to strike back with other measures. Now he is asking the electorate for a mandate.

Passive Resistance
To deal with native hostility—last year passive resistance was common and 7,500 arrests were made—he already has asked Parliament for the power to rule by decree. In other words, he wants the right to suspend the laws and all civil rights in emergencies—in the interest of "public safety."

He will take no back-talk on the racial question. Another bill, introduced in February, makes anyone who protests a government law liable to five years imprisonment, a fine and 15 strokes of the lash.

Promptly dubbed the "whipping post law," the measure, in effect, permits the government to end free speech on racial issues. It is primarily aimed at the natives, but also hits white citizens, aliens and journalists—maybe even foreign press dispatches.

Cold And Shrewd
Despite his age, Malan firmly controls his party. Many observers wonder how he ever gained that control. He lacks a dominating personality, and is colorless and undramatic.

He is somberly dressed, short, stout and pale. His beady eyes peer owlishly through thin-rimmed glasses, highlighting an expressionless face. But behind that cold, reserved manner is a shrewd mind, and to visitors he's charming and courteous.

Other than party members and a few university professors, he has few intimates. South Africans generally know much about the politician, little about the man.

Knows No Jokes
He's deeply religious and dignified. To answer claims that he has never made a joke, the State Information Office had to go back 30 years to dredge up a vaguely humorous incident. What humor he does show is dry. But his deep, vibrant voice makes him one of the few orators in Parliament.

Maria Malan, his wife, is 29 years younger. He married her in 1937, seven years after the death of his first wife. Besides two sons by his first marriage, they have an adopted orphaned German girl.

Born on a farm near the remote village of Riebeck, West, Malan showed none of the Afrikaner boy's usual love for the land. He turned instead to theology, studying first at Stellenbosch, later in Holland.

Shoots Into Fewer
By 1916, he was a fervent advocate of unity and the Afrikaner language. It won him appointment as chief editor of the Nationalist party newspaper. A few months later, he was presiding at a party congress and has maintained the leadership since. In the 1948 atmosphere of food and housing shortages, rising costs of living and racial issues, he shot into power.

The new government lost little time in pushing its policy of "apartheid" (racial segregation). The "Black Bogy" has been a popular Nationalist election cry. With the non-whites heavily in the majority, South African whites have a very real fear of being submerged by them.

Since 1948, the Nationalists have been working with only a slight voting edge in Parliament. It was not enough to provide the two-thirds majority needed in last year's court battles. Hence the appeal to the voters to make Parliament superior to the courts.

World-Shaking Experiments

In the dawn hours, a citizen of Las Vegas, Nev., may be awakened by the sound of rattling windows, or a quick, bright flash in the sky. This is how the shattering power of the atom bomb, exploding 60 miles away, intrudes itself upon him.

The bomb is the terrifying product of intense searching by the greatest scientific brains in the Western world. In an age which still uses war, the scientists could not escape the compulsions of this quest. They had to make the bomb—if they could.

No windows rattle in Pittsburgh. There is no bright flash, followed by streaming black headlines proclaiming the event.

Still, the scientist is at work there, too. In a different way, a quieter way. Tucked away in a college laboratory amid the masculine clamor of steel-making, he patiently is hunting the elusive chemical combinations that may cure or ease some of man's most troublesome diseases. And he is finding them.

Two weeks ago Dr. Jonas Salk, 38, a University of Pittsburgh scientist, announced a new experimental vaccine that appears to be highly effective in preventing all three major kinds of the dreaded polio.

Now Dr. Salk speaks again, telling us he has found a potent vaccine that gives long-lasting protection against influenza, one of the worst epidemic diseases medical men must battle.

Work remains to be done before these vaccines may be safely mass-produced for the general public. But Dr. Salk and his associates seem headed down the right path.

What they are doing may not rouse the Pittsburgher from his sleep. But it might shake the world.

Trapped By Lies

From Budapest comes the firmest evidence yet that the Communists really are trying to cut the mustard with their current talk of peace. They have called off their "World Peace Congress," scheduled to meet in Hungary.

Obviously, if you mean to impress the non-Communist world with the sincerity of your peace overtures, you can't have a peace conference going. That surely would confuse everybody.

Men who live by lies eventually are trapped by lies. The Communists cannot make the convincing peace gesture they wish to make, in an atmosphere of phony charges of Western "warmongering."

So, since their "peace conferences" never deal with real peace but always with such false accusations, they see no choice but to sidetrack this latest one. And in sidetracking it, they are acknowledging to all the world that the meetings are indeed completely phony.

The Voice of Moscow always is loud and strident. But in moments like this, the masters of the Kremlin must regret that it produces an echo so tiny and hollow.

'This Way'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: White House denies press statements inspired by secretary of State; Dulles' proposed abandonment of Chiang riles Republicans; Diplomats amazed at kindergarten diplomacy.

WASHINGTON — It sometimes happens that the State Department has had to squirm out of statements made by the President of the United States, but not for years—until last week—has the White House had to deny a statement inspired by a secretary of State.

In 1922, Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes had to deny a press conference statement of President Harding's that the four-power pact banning the fortifications of Pacific islands applied to the mainland of Japan. And several times Dean Acheson had to make adroit denials of Harry Truman's off-the-cuff remarks.

But last week the situation was reversed when the White House issued a blunt denial of news stories which were in Washington, including the Russian Embassy, knew came directly from John Foster Dulles himself.

Dulles had held a press conference for about 20 newsmen at which he delineated important new U. S. policy as follows:

1. That the United States would accept peace in Korea at a line drawn along the narrow waste about 80 miles north of the present battle front.

2. That the United States probably would confine Chiang Kai-Shek to Formosa and put it under a UN trusteeship.

Stories based upon the Dulles press conference immediately were published by the New York Times and other papers, attributed not directly to him but "to high official sources."

Experienced observers knew who this was and those who didn't know found out very quickly.

A few hours after publication, the White House issued its flat denial indirectly rebuking the secretary of State.

There were two big reasons for this extraordinary action:

A. The conservative wing of the Republican Party will blow its top at any abandonment of Chiang Kai-Shek.

B. Dulles' press conference gave Moscow a beautiful advance tip as to how far we would go in any Korean peace talks.

As one friendly diplomat put it: "When you're playing poker for the peace of the world you don't tell the man opposite you what cards are in your hand. Mr. Dulles must be living in a naive world indeed. He must think he's playing with matchsticks in the kitty. Doesn't he know that by midnight the Kremlin will have these news stories thoroughly dissected and will know just what's behind them?"

"Beginning tomorrow," continued the ambassador, "the Russians will raise the ante—both in Asia and in Europe—thanks to your new brand of kindergarten diplomacy."

President Eisenhower didn't have to wait long before he heard from the right-wing of his own party, sometimes called the "Formosa Wing." Senator Knowland of California, who has made so many speeches on the question of Formosa that he has been nicknamed "the senator from Formosa," came hurrying down to the White House, went away feeling happier.

"I telephoned John Foster Dulles," Knowland said on Capitol Hill, "and he assured me no such statement had come from him."

Some of the newsmen who heard Knowland's statement were present when Dulles made the statement to which Knowland referred, namely that Formosa would become a republic or a UN trusteeship.

What Dulles may not have realized was that certain senators used Formosa as a cardinal campaign slogan against Truman and Acheson. Also certain top Republicans, such as Vice President Nixon and Bridges of New Hampshire, have received very considerable support from the China lobby in the past, while Senator McCarthy has been another great friend of the China lobby.

On the non-political side, however, it now has become clear that the idea of using Chiang as a menace to the Chinese mainland is a flop. The Chinese Communists know what his strength is and aren't worried about it. The unfreezing of Chiang's forces, according to U. S. intelligence, hasn't diverted a single Chinese soldier from Korea. Furthermore, Chiang has become so worried that he will be attacked from the mainland rather than attacking the mainland himself that he has asked the State Department not to discuss these matters publicly. That was why a speech written by Gen. Omar Bradley had to be rewritten last month. Bradley had referred to the idea of using Chiang's troops in Formosa, but the State Department asked him to take it out because of Chiang's nervousness at being attacked.

Another factor behind the Dulles press conference is the British push regarding trade with China. Not only are they anxious to trade, but they believe that now is the time to drive a wedge between China and the Kremlin, that it's the Chinese who want peace in Korea more than Moscow, and that it was Mao Tse-tung who forced this issue on the new Kremlin shortly after Stalin's death.

Word from Gen. Mark Clark in Tokyo supports this view. He believes that Mao needs time to build up China, that the drain of the Korean war is greater than we realize, that Mao with proper incentive might become another Tito.

In Korea, Dulles feels that a new boundary drawn across the narrow waist, first would be easier to defend, second would give South Korea three-quarters of the population. But to get this line accepted by the Reds may not be easy. It will mean the withdrawal of Chinese troops from several thousand square miles of tightly held territory in which the Reds have dug trenches and underground rooms three tiers deep.

So in return for a retreat to the Korean waist, Dulles has been talking about throwing Chiang Kai-Shek out the window—diplomatically speaking. In fact, he's actually talking more anti-Chiang than Dean Acheson who was pilloried by his enemies as the "Red Dean" because he didn't support Chiang.

Note—C. D. Jackson, former Fortune magazine publisher, now a close White House adviser, has had a private tiff with Sen. Dulles. Not long ago, Dulles reminded Jackson that he, not Jackson, was running the State Department. But last week after the White House denial of the Dulles-inspired news stories, some White House advisers figured foreign policy might be better off if C. D. Jackson were running the State Department.

Economy Unnerves Brass Department of Defense brass got a little nervous after the Navy revealed that by putting wheels on its "Regulus" guided missile, it was saving hundreds of thousands of dollars in the development and test program. The principal worry was that this technique would inspire congressional economy demands that all guided missiles be put on wheels for testing.

Guided missiles capable of carrying what is called for security reasons "a powerful warhead" still cost more than $100,000 apiece. That's why they aren't fired every day. It also explains why a defense line of guided-missile launching platforms, built all around the U. S. to defend it from possible air and A-bomb attack, is out of the question.

The Navy's "Regulus" surface-to-surface missile, is in the $300,000 class. This is much higher than the Air Force "Matador," a similar type of weapon. But by ground-testing, Navy has been able to cut its test costs per weapon way below the Air Force figure. Guided-missile experts argue, however, that it's impossible to test all these new weapons on wheels.

Bureaucracy Is 'Necessary' In connection with the Eisenhower Administration decision to abolish Reconstruction Finance Corporation in June, 1954, resigning RFC Administrator Harry A. McDonald, a Republican, recently made this observation:

"There seems to be a feeling that all our difficulties are caused by various government agencies, and that if only they were abolished, all our problems would be solved and life would be so much happier. There seems to be no realization that all these agencies have come into existence as a matter of necessity to meet the problems of modern, industrial America.

"I suppose that if a reaction test were given to the average American, the very mention of RFC would evoke the immediate response of 'mink coat' and 'luxury hotel.' I won't attempt to minimize the facts which prompt these reactions. However, I am happy to say that these conditions have been eliminated.

"I think that the American people have little knowledge about these agencies, and what they do know distorts rather than enlightens."

President Collects Gift Elephants; Doesn't Look Them In The Mouth

WASHINGTON — (NEA)— President Eisenhower's congressional breakfast and luncheon guests have been notified that he is getting quite a collection of elephants. Senator Bob Kerr of Oklahoma noticed one large silver elephant in a special niche. It bore an inscription saying that it was from Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

Senator Kerr observed in a letter to his constituents that Dirksen was the Taft supporter who made such a violent speech against Dewey at Chicago, and who voted against confirmation of Charles E. Bohlen as the President's ambassador to Moscow.

Rep. George E. Meader, Michigan Republican, noticed in particular a small elephant covered with diamonds. The President explained that it was from Senator Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

Representative Meader asked if the elephant had any political significance. The President said that at the time he received it, it did not.

Sawyer, who wanted to find the best man available for the job.

And the question of political censorship of scientific research will be a subject for its discussion.

BOOKS FOR THE BARON

by Anthony Morton CREAMY - DISTRIBUTED BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

MANNERING sprang up and pushed aside the glasses. He snatched them off and flung them to one side. Mannerling could see clearly. A fat man, big, paunchy, not flabby, was crumpled up, gasping, and opening and closing his mouth like a great fish. Mannerling was a man of means, he was not to be taken in by the criminal's tactics.

THE desk and the whole room was at his mercy, if only he had time to search. His victim was lying on the floor, with blood drooling from his chin, quite helpless. The blood had splashed over his pale, plump face, too. He was dressed in a light grey flannel suit and brown shoes.

On the mantelpiece above him was a photograph of the man himself; a good likeness. Mannerling snatched it off and crammed it into his pocket with the gun as he moved towards the window and flung back the curtains. The door still quivered under the impact, and the lock groaned, a panel splintered, but the chair had lodged tightly. He heard a series of soft, sneezing noises, and light thunder and something like the wall behind the desk. Plaster powdered and sprayed downwards.

Mannerling fung up the window. It was at the side of a house. A five-foot wall ran between this and the next house, leaving a narrow service alley on either side. The back door of the opposite house was closed; he couldn't see below him properly, to the back door of this one. He glanced upwards. It was a three-story house; no hope of climbing to the roof.

He shouted: "Police! Police!" The gardens beyond and the houses slept in warm sun and no one appeared to hear him; certainly no one responded. The gun shot came from behind him; there was a hole in the door, a hand propped for the key.

Mannerling dodged. The poker snatched his arm but neither hurt nor delayed him. He drove his left

He glanced down at the wall, which was a foot wide. He climbed out, on to the window sill. Then he heard two things at the same time. A crash behind him—the chair was down—and a shout beneath him. He saw a man rush into the passage, brandishing an automatic, and peering upwards. A bullet crashed through the glass, from behind him. He jumped; and the wall seemed tiny and narrow, too narrow for a foothold.

He landed squarely, overbalanced, swayed wildly and saved himself. He felt a bullet near through his coat. He jumped into the next door passage, without jolting his legs so much. The one door in sight remained closed. It opened.

A woman stood clutching it. "W-w-what?"

MANNERING sprang forward, and she backed away in fright. A bullet struck the door. Mannerling pushed the woman back into the kitchen, then slammed the door behind him. He shot the top bolt home, gasping: "Is there a telephone? We want the police."

"The police?" She was shivering violently, too frightened to answer calmly, but before Mannerling could speak again a door at the other end of the kitchen opened and a boy of 10 or 12 appeared. His eyes were rounded and glistening, and he carried a carving knife.

"Here, you!" he shouted shrilly, and then he saw the gun in Mannerling's hand, and his voice quavered. "Don't—don't you shoot my mum!" He brandished the knife, but didn't budge. Manner

Second Glidden Paint Fete To Terminate On April 25

The Second Annual Glidden Paint Festival now is being held at the Mid-Tex Paint Company at 606 West Illinois Street, home of quality paint and wallpaper.

All your Spring painting needs will be found at Mid-Tex Paint Company, which features Glidden products. The Glidden company, pacemaker in paints, is offering three of its leading lines at savings which should be noted.

A special introductory offer is being made on Glidden's Spread Gloss, Florenamel and Endurance Imperial house paint. Considerable savings can be had on purchases of these three products during the festival which lasts until April 25.

One of the newest of the Glidden paints, Spread Gloss, is a new latex wonder enamel that will dry in one-half hour to a beautiful rich luster finish and is particularly useful for bathrooms, kitchens and all woodwork. Spread Gloss is guaranteed washable and can be matched to Spread Satin. You can save 31 cents on every quart of Spread Gloss purchased during the festival.

Florenamel can also be purchased at the Mid-Tex Paint Company at a saving of 63 cents on a two quart purchase. Florenamel withstands hard wear and gives complete protection against all weather conditions. It will not crack or chip or lose its luster after repeated washings.

Endurance Imperial house paint is double pigmented for greater protection and will thus give two coat results with just one coat. Endurance Imperial comes in white only and may be purchased during the Glidden festival at savings of $1.25 a gallon under regular price.

Carroll H. Cook, owner of the Mid-Tex Paint Company, opened business in Midland in March, 1948 with a full Glidden line. He moved to his new location at 606 West Illinois about six months ago.

He has been in the paint and wallpaper business for 11 years, formerly having been in business in Fort Worth, San Angelo and Corpus Christi.

Everything for home decoration needs may be found at the Mid-Tex Paint Company. Fabco and Armstrong Insoleum are available there as well as Kentile and Aycock asphalt tile.

If you desire a particular color for your home and can't quite decide just what shade would be correct you are invited to stop in at the firm and look over the many color charts. You have your choice of 1,713 different formulated colors in the Buts Colorizer line. Buts Colorizer comes in tubes and may be mixed with white or gray bases. You will find gloss, semi-gloss and flat paints as well as outside paints.

In addition to the Spread-Satin rubber base paint, there are 180 formulated colors in both gloss and satin. Cook pointed out that strangely enough the sand color is one of the most popular in Midland. Glidden has also a typically Texan color, Williamsburg Green in light and dark, which is marketed solely in Texas.

Gray's Ready To Meet Summer Needs Of Home

With Summer drawing closer, the Gray Plumbing, Heating, and Air Conditioning Company, 1901 West South Front Street, has carefully prepared for the needs of Midland homes.

Both refrigerated air conditioners and evaporative coolers can be re-conditioned and "made like new" by the trained craftsmen at Gray's. Worn-out pumps and pads can be replaced efficiently in the evaporative cooling units. Acidizing and a general checkup of the cooling towers in refrigerated systems are specialties of the Gray Company.

C. A. Gray is owner and manager of the home service organization. He has had more than 25 years' experience in Permian Basin plumbing work.

J. B. Neill is in charge of the heating and air conditioning work at Gray's. He is well trained in installing and servicing sheet metal units.

W. A. Brazell, an old hand in the plumbing business, serves as the top man in the plumbing department. He aids Gray in the numerous plumbing jobs performed by the company.

An unqualified guarantee stands behind all work done by the Gray Company. Speedy and efficient service are the twin aims of the careful workers.

A feature of the organization is the free estimates and advice given to Midlanders on home repairs or services.

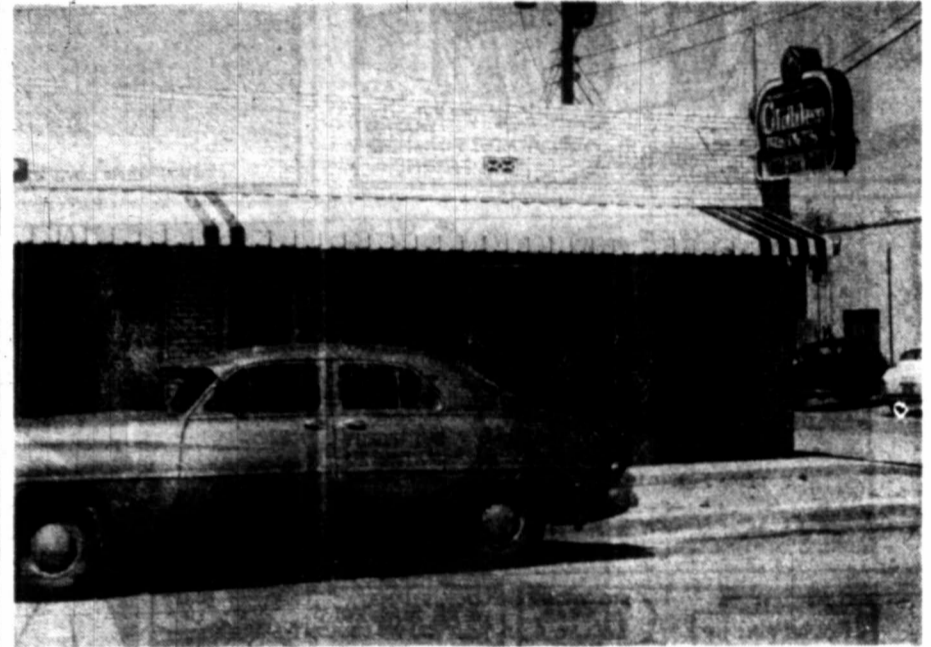

The Gray motto is "Our Time Is Your Time; Call Us Anytime." To make the slogan a reality, day and night telephone numbers have been provided to protect Midlanders with 24 hour service in emergencies.

The day phone (office) is 4-7531. Gene Chandler, in charge of general repairs and services for Gray's, may be contacted at the night phone 4-7538. Midlanders are urged to make use of the numbers for fast, effective service.

Reds Become 'Guests' Of Jordan Government

AMMAN — (AP) — Twenty-eight Communists live as "guests" of the Jordan government in a desert camp far from civilization.

The camp was set up last year when the government cracked down on Communism. Suspects were locked in Amman's prison but authorities discovered they were engaged in active propaganda. Now they live in relative comfort, isolated by hundreds of miles of barren desert.

When the sun shines through pure air, the air absorbs very little of the heat, most of the heat in the air being derived from the earth by conduction and convection.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Boss Of The Circus

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, sat at the breakfast table with the man who was boss of the circus. The man was a friendly little man with no hair, and a long nose, and a long chin.

Daddy Ringtail wondered about him. Why was he sitting inside the circus train, close by a window eating breakfast, instead of being outside there to boss the circus?

The man looked often out through the window to see the circus men as they hurried about. Some of the men were cooking breakfast for all to eat. Others were putting up the great big tent for them all to have the circus in. Others were bringing water to the elephants.

But why was the circus boss-man here inside? Why wasn't he outside there to do some circus bossing?

The circus boss—that funny little fellow—was eating toast from a glass of milk. He ate it with a spoon. He seemed not to have a worry in his head. His face was kind, and his voice was wise, and his eyes were very wise.

But why oh why should he not be busy with his job of bossing? Daddy Ringtail asked him why.

The circus boss-man was going to tell him, too—but just then one of the circus men came running up to say that the purple cow had changed to green. "What is now to be done?" the man asked.

Quick as a wink the boss of the circus said: "Take the cow out of the purple cow cage. Put her in the green cow cage." And the man who had come a-running with a problem, now ran away with the answer to it. He ran to do what he had been told.

The boss of the circus explained all this to Daddy Ringtail. The man said he had done so much work a-bossing last week, most of the circus people now knew all the things they should. They didn't need the boss to boss them, except when something unusual happened—like a cow that was purple turning to green.

And so the boss sat at the breakfast table, ready to boss a worker if he needed some bossing. And the boss was an important fellow indeed, but each worker was important too, he said. The circus needed them each and all, and Happy day! and tomorrow I'll tell you more.

Prospects Of Peace Put Businessmen On Notice For Reaction By Consumers

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK—(AP)—Businessmen trying to judge what Korean peace talks will do to the boom will keep close watch on three things in the next few weeks:

Any signs of consumers slowing down their buying, especially buying on time.

Any signs of businessmen cutting back on new orders and starting to live off their high inventories—the thing that brought on the recession of 1949.

Any cutback in business plans to spend money on new plants and equipment.

These three things are considered by many businessmen as the chief things to watch for just now. They believe that the other prop of the boom—the government spending for defense—will be lowered slowly, if at all.

But if consumers grow cautious, and if businessmen live off inventories and drop present plans to spend record sums on further expansion—then the boom may top out quickly and business slow down.

In recent days business leaders have been quick to issue optimistic statements, saying that in the long run peace, if it comes, could only be bullish. Any possible stretch-out in the defense program, if it means lower taxes and more materials for civilian production, would do little to hamper present prosperity, these leaders contend.

Business activity is now at an all-time high. National output of goods and services is now at an annual rate of 363 billion dollars, up three billion dollars over the last three months of 1952, and compared with 340 billion dollars in the first three months of last year.

Businessmen have pushed their spending for plant and equipment to a new record annual rate of 27 billion dollars in the first three months of 1953. The Department of Commerce says they plan to spend at an annual rate of 28 billion dollars in April, May and June, and to cut back to a little more than 26 billion dollars annual rate in the last half of the year.

'Second Look' Predicted
But chances are that the peace talks will cause many businessmen to take a second look at these plans.

Executives emphasize most of their plans for improving plant and equipment are not for defense production, but for improving their own competitive position.

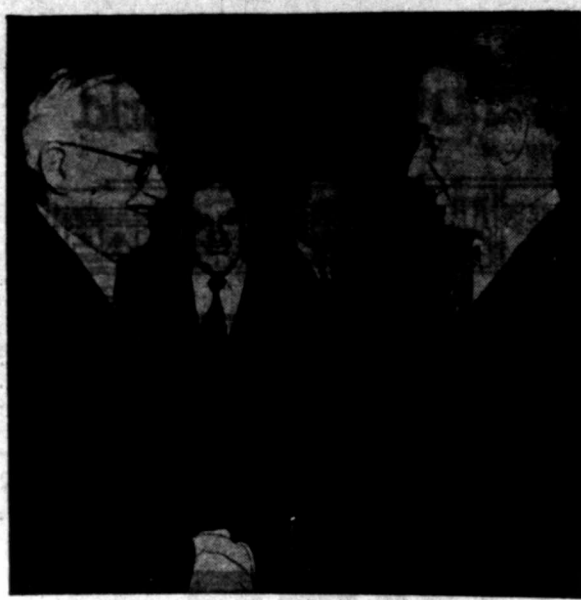

Tool makers are hitting that line of sales talk hard now. They say new machinery will lower the costs of doing business for many manufacturers so that they can outsell their competitors.

Much of the new equipment recently installed was to replace old machines rather than to increase the size of plants. Factory managers, plagued by rising labor and other costs, will study such improvement plans closely—but at the same time they'll keep a close watch on the effect of talk of peace on business sentiment, and consumer purchasing.

High inventories could be a more immediate threat. Business inventories at almost 75 1/2 billion dollars are more than one billion dollars higher than a year ago. But since sales are higher too, business leaders stress that inventories aren't out of line now.

The danger, however, would come only if businessmen suddenly did what they did in 1949, begin going slow on new orders and trying to reduce inventories. That could quickly cut back production schedules at mills and factories.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM RUSSIA—Dag Hammarskjöld of Sweden is congratulated by Russia's permanent representative to the UN, Andrei Vishinsky, shortly after Hammarskjöld was sworn in as the UN's new secretary-general.

Levelland Opening Planned For New Hotel Cal Boykin

LEVELLAND—Levelland residents are setting the stage for the grand opening of the city's new ultra-modern Hotel Cal Boykin here April 25.

The opening of the two-story, forty-room structure will mark the culmination of community-wide work and planning which has extended over a period of more than four years. The building represents an investment of almost 300,000.

Open house will be held from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. after ribbon-cutting ceremonies are completed. A banquet session, with outstanding speakers and a variety of entertainment, will follow in the evening.

The building of modern design, besides 39 guest rooms reached through a panel glass entrance-way, will have a banquet hall seating 225 persons and a modern kitchen and coffee shop to be operated by Wayne Lewis.

The front of the building, including the coffee shop designed with an attractive stair-step window, is finished in red Roman brick with an overhanging stainless steel awning. The remainder of the building is finished in cream face brick with Roman trim.

Sixteen more rooms may be added to the building without any basic structural changes.

The hotel will be operated by Cal Boykin, who also operates hotels in Midland and Portales. V. J. Hatfield of Amarillo will serve as hotel manager.

Government engineers say the Rio Grande is becoming steadily smaller.

Basal Metabolism Test Aids Diagnosis, Is Nothing To Fear

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

One of the most common special tests used in medicine today is the basal metabolism test. This column receives many questions concerning it from people who still seem a little nervous about taking the test. Its principal purpose is as an aid in studying the action of one of the glands of internal secretion known as the thyroid gland, which lies at the base of the neck.

The metabolism test is simple enough for the patient. After a good night's sleep one goes to the doctor's office, laboratory or hospital without eating any breakfast or drinking anything. Then one lies down on a bed or cot and breathes normally through a tube. What is breathed in and out is measured and recorded. There is no danger of suffocating as some nervous people seem to fear. It is not hard on the heart, as Mrs. C. M. has asked.

The calculations are made afterward. The patient's height and weight also must be known. These figures are put together in a formula and the final calculation tells whether one is burning the body tissues too fast, too slowly, or about right. When the doctor gives the results he says the metabolism was plus or minus some figure.

The basal metabolism is only one method of testing for the activity of the thyroid gland or the presence of toxic goiter.

Ordinarily, a figure for the basal metabolism between minus 15 and plus 15 is considered about normal and as a general rule means that the body is burning its fuel about right. If the metabolism is much more than plus 15 one is probably using up food and tissues too fast and this may explain nervousness and loss of weight.

Most likely this is the result of a toxic goiter and medical or surgical treatment may be needed.

Underactive Gland
Sometimes the metabolism may be far below the usual range. This does not always mean the thyroid gland is underactive and that one must take thyroid extract to make up the deficiency. But a low rate can mean this and sometimes people feel enormously better if they get the needed boost from thyroid extract.

The basal metabolism test has been of great help in making diagnoses and deciding how to treat those in whom the results are out of line.

Dallas Ford Plant To Resume Operation

DALLAS—(AP)—An enforced shutdown affecting approximately 2,000 workers at the Ford assembly plant here probably will end Wednesday regardless of the situation at a struck company parts plant in Michigan, plant manager C. F. Jesse said Monday.

Jesse said parts shipments are scheduled to arrive shortly from other company sources.

American Freighter Rams Fishing Boat

TOKYO—(AP)—The U. S. freighter American Mail and a Japanese fishing boat collided Monday in heavy weather six miles east of Yokohama, the fishing boat sank and two of its crew are missing.

The American Mail, undamaged, picked up eight of the 10 Japanese crewmen then searched two hours for the others.

New 'Chute Brakes Jet Fighter Planes

BURBANK, CALIF.—(AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Corporation has tested successfully a parachute to help brake the landing of a jet fighter plane.

A ribbon-type chute, popping from the tail of the new F94C Starfire jet, cuts the plane's runway roll almost in half, the company announced Sunday.

Fertilizer Is Boon To Typewriter Industry

Bob Brashears of The Reporter-Telegram told me the other day when I took him copy for the paper: "Wilcox, if you get a typewriter that can spell, there's no telling what might get into your paragraphs on Turf Special. Why don't you retire that model 3 (1905) and try one of the new ones?"

The upshot of the matter was that since we feel like everyone ought to know about that wonderful organic fertilizer that is especially made for West Texas, and that comes packed in the distinctive red bag, we went out in the marts of the trade and bought a new machine.

The guys that made the typewriter will never get to know the joys of Turf Special. They live in the wrong part of the country. But, you and I, with our problem soil and our problem climate can enjoy a good lawn with TE, and we will just let those Easterners make typewriters.

Come in, get your free sample (fertilizer, I mean). Or we will deliver you a few bags.

A Report to the public

GULF OIL CORPORATION REPORTS ON ITS ACTIVITIES FOR 1952

BY A COMPANY THAT SERVES IT EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR

For Gulf, 1952 was a record-breaker in many ways. Consumer demand for products, together with other income, brought in $1,539,155,000—the most dollars in our fifty-one year history.

Earnings from the Company's activities in 1952 were $141,820,000.

1952 was a year of major expenditures, too! Day-by-day out-of-pocket expenses reached a total of $1,268,000,000 and outlays for development of oil production and for additions to plants, properties, equipment, and related assets came to $192,688,000.

During the last six years Gulf has spent more than a billion dollars for improvements and expansion in order to meet the ever-growing needs of its customers.

Some of the places where Gulf's money went will be of interest to you:—

MANY THOUSANDS BENEFIT FROM GULF'S INCOME
Employees received over $207,000,000 in wages, salaries and benefits. For goods and services Gulf paid out $923,000,000 to well over 25,000 suppliers.

Gulf is owned by nearly 60,000 people. Many thousands more have a financial interest because of large investments in Gulf by educational, philanthropic and savings institutions, insurance companies, mutual funds, and the like. Shareholders received cash dividends of $45,381,000 during 1952, plus a 4% stock dividend.

More than 38,000 independent service station operators, distributors and other marketers received income from the sale of over 3 1/2 billion gallons of products.

Add them all together—stockholders, employees, dealers, distributors, suppliers, and others—and it's easy to see that Gulf's income puts dollars into pockets of hundreds of thousands of people.

| Income and Other Direct Taxes Totalled $137,600,000 Taxes took a huge slice of Gulf's revenue. Income and other direct taxes totaled $137,600,000. In addition, nearly $220,000,000 was paid to various Federal, state, and local authorities in taxes collected from purchasers of Gulf gasolines, motor oils and other products. | New Refining Equipment and Improvements $28,300,000 Additions and improvements at Gulf's refineries came to $28,300,000. While these expenditures will step up plant capacity and increase the efficiency of manufacturing operations, a large part of this money went to increase quality of products to new high standards. | For Crude Oil Production and Reserves $103,700,000 For development of production and reserves, Gulf spent $103,700,000. In the effort to find and develop oil and gas reserves for the future, Gulf—in addition to these capitalized expenditures—spent many more millions (charged to operating expense) in the U. S. and abroad. | Added Facilities for Transportation, Distribution, Etc. $60,600,000 Improvement and expansion of Gulf's transportation, distribution, marketing, and other facilities required an outlay of some $60,600,000. These expenditures will permit more efficient operations and will enable Gulf to provide still better service to its customers. |
