"Our school kids are in danger!" trustees of the Midland Independent School District cried Tuesday night. "They need better protection from thoughtless drivers and unnecessary bottlenecks," they said.

Safety of school children sparked the strongest voice from the otherwise casual board members—and all were more than emphatic in wanting more and better safety measures during the 8 a.m. going-to-school rush and the afternoon leaving-school rush.

study of the problem and to seek a solution.

Trustees took just three and a half hours Tuesday night to breeze through a packed agenda of school business and faculty reports. The secret of speed lay in the new system of printing the complete agenda and distributing the bulky volume for board member study some four or five days before the meeting. Board members had their questions and general opinions ready when they walked into the high school meeting place.

"We ought to have a policeman at every Midland school during those dangerous hours," Bob Zonne, new member of the board, asserted. "If," he continued, "a policeman were out there handing tickets right and left for all the violations, these people would calm down. The worst places are the Sam Houston Elementary and Cowden Junior High Schools. But drivers buzz up and down all the school streets, passing at the wrong time and exceeding the speed limit. That's got to stop."

The panel then turned to a request by First Baptist Church pastor, The Rev. Vernon Yearby, and Joe Wright for use of high school facilities each Sunday. Their plea for 21 classrooms and the auditorium was approved by the board, and services in the new location will start next Sunday. The church struck recently by Midland's biggest fire in more than a year, will pay the school $40 a month during the winter months and $25 during the summer for use of the facilities. Janitorial fees also will be paid by the church.

Two Sleek Ideas Of Spring

ST. LOUIS—(NEA)—Though St. Louis turns out many fashions in junior sizes for the young, it also cuts the so-called "misses" sizes. These are sophisticated in line and fabric or in combinations of fabric, have a sleek and urban approach to fashion.

We show here the Spring costumes in two versions, both by Brownlee, and both with an interesting fabric story. For sheath dress and jacket (left), the fabric is orlon, rayon and acetate in clever combination. Both dress and loose jacket are tabbed with touches of Irish linen; jacket lining is white.

Bombay cloth (a shaggy rayon) is the fabric used (right) in company with pure silk for suit with straight jacket and narrow skirt. The print of the bow-tied blouse is picked up and repeated in the jacket lining.

The box silhouette in textured fabric appears often in these St. Louis collections. Some of these jackets may be cinched in at the waist by a wide belt; others are meant to hang straight. Often, the jacket in a lacy poodle cloth, pebbled stone basketweave, nubby wool tweed or boucle basketweave is paired with a skirt in smooth-surface fabric for contrast.

Senate Hires Four Former FBI Agents To Widen Inquiries

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate's rash of investigations was broadened Wednesday with the Appropriations Committee's hiring of four former FBI agents for a practically unlimited field of inquiries.

Confirming employment of the staff, Chairman Bridges (R-NH) said the four will "investigate anything and everything the committee thinks is necessary to the intelligent handling of money bills."

As an example, Bridges said the agents—headed by Paul Kammerlock with Elliott Wyman as counsel—probably will look first into reports of "terrific waste" in the handling of surplus property.

"We have been told that some agencies have declared certain surplus property, disposed of them for almost nothing, and a short time later other agencies have come along and bought them for about what they originally cost," Bridges said.

The new addition brought to eight the number of Senate investigations currently under way.

Some lawmakers traced the rash of inquiries primarily to Republican promises in last year's campaign to "clean up the mess in Washington."

"DUMBO" IS THE NAME—Latest in dizzy hairstyles from Paris is this elephant-inspired coiffure by hair stylist Phyrria. The hair is dyed "Golden Puma," and not "Pink Elephant."

Labor Department's New Solicitor Dies

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Harry N. Routzahn, who had been the Labor Department's solicitor only a month, died here Tuesday night.

Routzahn, a former Republican member of Congress from Ohio, suffered a heart seizure April 9. He had been receiving treatment at George Washington University Hospital, where he died.

New Reserve Commission Plans Set By Air Force

ROBINS AIR FORCE BASE, GA.—Fifteen hundred commissions in 17 career fields in the Air Force Reserve will be awarded by the Air Force in the near future. Appointments will range in grade from second lieutenant to colonel. This was announced Wednesday by Maj. Gen. C. E. Thomas, Jr., commanding general, Fourteenth Air Force, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia.

Specialties include intelligence, photography, cartography, weather, communications, armament, maintenance engineering, installations engineering, transportation, supply, production procurement, comptroller, personnel, security investigation and law enforcement, legal, chaplain, research and development, biological chemical warfare. In addition new vacancies have opened up for women in the WAF.

Applicants should possess a baccalaureate degree in their specialty and must meet high moral and physical requirements. Military or civilian experience also will be considered in determining qualifications.

The greatest demand is in the field of weather, where 500 commissions will be offered. The legal field will offer over 225 commissions to young lawyers; and communications and electronics majors will be offered over 200 commissions.

Applicants should consider the opportunities for interesting assignments in their major fields of study. Specialization in the field of communications and electronics, for example, allows for communication officers, ground electronics officers, and air electronics officers. The field of photography embraces the following specialties: photographic officer, cartographic officer, still photographers, motion picture officers. Engineering students will be interested in the research and development field where there are needed over 125 specialists in nuclear research, physics, metallurgy, aeronautics, electronics, mechanics, research and development, and human resources.

In announcing the new reserve commissioning program, General Thomas said, "These officers are needed to meet personnel demands of the expanding Air Force. It is significant that the Air Force has been able to increase its striking power several times with only a minimum increase of personnel. This is true because of the high standards of selection used in officer procurement."

For further information about these commissions, write to Commanding General, Fourteenth Air Force, Robins Air Force Base, Georgia, Attention Director of Military Personnel Procurement.

Midlanders Attend Baptist Convention

J. Q. Woodward, associate pastor, and Mrs. O. W. Hatfield of the First Baptist Church were expected home Wednesday from Dallas where they attended the annual three-day Sunday School meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. The convention attracted a crowd of 6,000.

The Midlanders participated in some of the 28 separate conferences which overflowed from the Gaston Avenue Baptist Church into two neighboring churches.

Lekisch Presents Statistics To Show Big Toll By Cancer

Cancer of the lungs was the topic for Dr. Kurt Lekisch Tuesday at noon when he told the Optimist Club members of the yearly toll in lives and health caused by the disease. Speaking at Jimmy's Pit Bar B Q Restaurant, Dr. Lekisch quoted medical authorities on the causes and results of cancer originating in the breathing apparatus of affected individuals. He gave statistics which revealed that cancer of the mouth and respiratory tract kill 24,000 Americans annually. The Midland physician praised the work of the Cancer Clinic at Midland Memorial Hospital in fighting cancer. Doctors have donated more than 700 hours of free time to clinic sessions here. He said that donations from Midlanders for Cancer Clinic operations have ranged from $5 per person to at least $5,000 in one case. The local unit has been in operation at the hospital since November, 1950. Examples of the valuable equipment maintained at the clinic were mentioned by Dr. Lekisch. Among them are a $6,000 X-ray machine used in treating skin cancer, and a 100 milligram supply of radium for treatments. Dr. Lekisch is an executive officer of the Cancer Clinic. He told of cases treated at the clinic in more than 26 clinical sessions. Mrs. Faye Fulton is the recorder and librarian for the cancer organization. Jim Veivin, Jr., retiring president of the Optimist, was in charge of the meeting Tuesday. He reviewed plans for the coming inaugural dance, to be held at Ranchland Hill Country Club on May 8. A motion to move the site of the weekly Optimist meetings to the Scharbauer Hotel next Tuesday was approved. If facilities are available there, it will become the permanent meeting place.

McCarthy, Democrat Swap Insults On Video Program

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Arguments over congressional investigations aren't easy to control—even on television. Martha Rountree, moderator of "The Big Issue," had to referee one Tuesday night between Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Richardson Dilworth, Philadelphia district attorney and a Democrat. Dilworth called McCarthy "a minor leaguer." McCarthy asked Dilworth, "Please try and be a gentleman." They clashed over the questioning of Troop Matthews, formerly of the Voice of America; by the Investigations subcommittee McCarthy heads. Miss Rountree asked the men to stick to the subject of debate "before the audience thinks I can't control the program." Dilworth contended Matthews not given an opportunity to testify publicly. "You are not telling the truth," said McCarthy, insisting Matthews was invited to appear at an open session and never took up the invitation. Miss Rountree pleaded, "You are making my job difficult."

Tuck Wins Vacant Seat In Congress

DANVILLE, VA.—(AP)—Virginia's Fifth District returned to its customary Democratic voting ways and elected former Gov. William M. Tuck to Congress in Tuesday's special election. It was the nation's first election since November in a normally Democratic district that bolted to Eisenhower. Tuck, 56, who walked out on the national Democratic ticket last Fall, trounced Republican Lorne Ross Campbell by about 4,500 votes in a total vote that fell short of 30,000. Tuck's majority was less than the district's usual comfortable margin for Democrats in congressional elections. Almost complete returns from all of the district's nine counties and two cities here near the North Carolina border showed 233 to 245 precincts gave Tuck 16,439 to Campbell's 11,942. Tuck's victory hardly was a surprise, least of all to the loser Campbell, a 43-year-old Independence, Va., political newcomer and—like Tuck—a country lawyer, disclosed he had congratulated Tuck and conceded the election at 9 a.m. Tuesday—a good nine hours before the polls closed and anybody started counting the votes. He said he'd made a personal survey and concluded he couldn't win. Tuck said he plans to go to Washington to take his seat about next Tuesday. His election shares the Republican majority in the House to 10. When he is seated, the division will be 221 Republicans, 211 Democrats. One independent and two vacancies. He will succeed Rep. Thomas B. Stanley (D-Va.), who resigned from Congress in February to run for governor in the July Democratic primary.

Tech Concert Band Received Warmly In Appearance Here

The Texas Tech Concert Band, composed of 70 of the finest musicians from the famed 110-piece Texas Tech Matador Band, performed in the High School Auditorium at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday before nearly 1,000 Midland students. Six selections by the traveling concert unit were well received by the students, plus a scattering of Texas Tech exes, who found time to attend the musical program. Ralph Mills, band director of the Midland High School, was called to the rostrum to conduct one of the selections, the "British Eighth March." D. O. Wiley, director of the Texas Tech Concert Band, conducted the remaining selections, aided by Joe L. Haddon, assistant director. Two compositions by Leroy Anderson, contemporary American composer, were presented by the band—"The Phantom Regiment" and the popular classic, "Blue Tango." A specialty was the trombone solo by Texas Tech student Chuck Wilson—"Inter-mezzo" by Mascagni. Also presented was "Mignon Overture" by Thomas. Rounding out the musical bill of fare was "March Paraphrase" on Mussetta's Waltz Song from "La Boheme" by Puccini-Alford. The Texas Tech Concert Band already has played at Lamesa and Big Spring on a six-city West Texas tour. They played in Odessa Tuesday night, with Wednesday performances set at Andrews and Kermit.

That's Lots Of Cavities

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—All the dentists in the U. S., even working around the clock, would not be able to fill the cavities American children get in their teeth. That's the word Dr. Phillip Jay, professor of dentistry at the University of Michigan, had for the California State Dental Association Tuesday. Dr. Jay said the best remedy for cavities would be for processors to take the acid bite out of sugar. If they could add something to the sugar molecule that would keep it from turning into acid while still in the mouth, people with a sweet tooth could forget their worries about tooth decay, he declared.

Pays Plenty For Pinching

CHICAGO—(P)—A masseur who was accused of pinching a policeman customer and was pinched by her in return, was fined $125 in Municipal Court Tuesday.

The fine was levied by Judge Oscar Caplan against William A. Kristina, 31, operator of a massage parlor. He was arrested last February 25 by Policewoman Rita Meany, who testified she went to the parlor for a massage and to investigate that Kristina's massages were excessively amorous. She told Judge Caplan the charges were true in her case.

He was fined for committing a lewd act and disorderly conduct.

IT'S HALF BULL FOR $50,000—Julian Adams, right, Lynchburg, Va., Aberdeen Angus cattle breeder, poses with Lawson W. Turner after Turner bought a half-interest in Adams' prize bull, Prince Eric Equire, for $50,000. Adams, who bought Prince Eric in 1948 when he was a calf, for $7,600, said he sold to co-owner Turner because he "has a fine herd of cows of similar breeding."

Newly-Found 'X' Chemical May Solve Dread Leukemia

SALT LAKE CITY—(P)—Discovery of an "X" chemical which may be a key to leukemia, dread cancer of the blood, was reported Wednesday.

The "X" was described by Doctors Thomas F. Dougherty and Jules A. Frank of the University of Utah Medical School to science writers on a tour sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

It causes production of millions of white blood cells within minutes. The white cells fight off invading germs, among other jobs.

It helps make up for a terrific loss of white cells caused by almost any kind of stress or shock. The stress can be cold, heat, fear, emotional upsets, allergies, infection. The stress makes your adrenal glands turn out more cortisone, a hormone that destroys white cells.

The hormone and "X" work together, like thermostat controls, to keep the number of white cells more or less in balance. Actually, your white blood cells do a roller-coaster ride and fall all through the day, with big dips when stress produces a jolt of cortisone.

Substance "X" brings a quick rise in white cells or lymphocytes, especially one kind. This kind is called the stress white cell. It is resistant to destruction by cortisone. Normal white cells are destroyed easily by cortisone.

There is a possibility that the stress cells stimulated by the "X" stuff somehow might change to become leukemic white cells, which also resist cortisone destruction. Leukemia means too many white cells, and overgrowth of blood-forming organs.

In animals, Dougherty and Frank produced a leukemic-like condition in mice by subjecting them to repeated stress.

'X' Still Mystery

Something going haywire in humans because of repeated stress might lead to leukemia. Learning why leukemia occurs could lead to better controls of it.

It is not yet known what the "X" stuff is, or where it is made. It could be histamine, the chemical released when allergies strike; something like histamine; or one of a number of other things.

The studies promise a gauge of how well a patient with tuberculosis, rheumatoid arthritis, allergies, jaundice or other disease is responding to drugs, or how sick he is. For by checking on the stress cells, and hormones in the blood, it can be learned which ones are overcoming the stress of sickness.

By testing the blood of 30 TB patients, whom they never had seen, the physicians were able to tell which ones were very ill, which had recovered, and which were responding to treatment.

Mexican Authorities Seize Ammunition

LAREDO—(P)—Half a million rounds of .22 caliber long rifle ammunition has been seized on the Pan American Highway near Monterrey, Mexican custom officials reported Tuesday.

Three men were arrested and taken to Nuevo Laredo. The ammunition was found in the false bottom of a truck.

Midland Nurses To Attend State Meeting In Houston

Six Midland nurses, three from each major hospital here, will be among more than 1,000 registered nurses and nursing students attending the forty-fifth annual convention of the Texas Graduate Nurses' Association, to be held in Houston next Tuesday through Thursday. Three other state nursing organizations will meet also at the convention.

From Midland Memorial Hospital, the delegation headed by Mrs. Frances Hardwick, director of nurses, will include Miss Billy Hightower and Miss Mary Lokl.

Western Clinic-Hospital will be represented by Mrs. Ruth McKinley, operating room supervisor, Miss Kate Manning, supervisor of nurses, and Miss Lois Blum.

The chief problem slated for discussion by the nurses will be the critical shortage of nursing personnel in the entire country. The Rice Hotel will serve as headquarters for the convention.

Approximately one-fifth of the delegates will be student nurses. A feature for them will be the selection of Houston's Student Nurse of the Year.

The other three organizations besides the TGNNA to convene are the Texas League of Nursing Education, State Organization for Public Health Nursing, and the Texas Student Nurses' Association.

Two top speakers will address the convention. They are Miss Janet M. Geister, R. N., a director of the American Nurses' Association and Dr. Bernice M. Moore, a consultant at the University of Texas.

Guided tours of the Texas Medical Center and a ship channel tour on the Port Commission boat, plus examination of other hospitals, have been planned for delegates to the convention.

IT'S STRICTLY MENTAL—Men In Fifties Undergo Change

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(P)—Many men in their fifties undergo an emotional "change of life" that often can lead to suicide if untreated, a Navy psychiatrist said Wednesday.

The condition, said Capt. George N. Raines, is somewhat similar to the emotional tension and anxiety that affect some women during the female menopause, which actually is a physical "change of life."

After the menopause, a woman loses ability to bear children, but maintains sexual potency.

In the female "change," Raines said, there are distinct physical alterations in the balance between certain glandular and nervous systems to help account for emotional effects. But he said there is no evidence that a similar psychological change takes place in men—at least to a degree that would tie in, in any major way, with the anxiety upsets noted in some fiftieth men.

Raines is chief of the Navy's neuropsychiatry branch and director of the department of psychiatry at Georgetown University School of Medicine.

The term "male menopause" has been ascribed to these emotional disorders which are somewhat common in men after a certain age.

He said the symptoms occur largely in men "who had set goals so high they are impossible of attainment."

"They are acutely successful men who feel that failure threatens them," he added. "Most of them are married to their work as well as their wives, and they are bothered by fancied threats, the nature of which they can't always put their finger on."

Chicago Alderman May Succeed Sabbath

CHICAGO—(P)—James B. Bowler, 78, a Chicago alderman more than 40 years, appears the successor to the Seventh Congressional District seat of the late Rep. A. J. Sabbath.

In a special primary in the predominantly Democratic West Side district Tuesday, Bowler polled 72 per cent of the total vote of both parties in winning the Democratic nomination.

Relays Of Patrol Cars Escort Doctor To Polio Hospital

SANTA CRUZ, CALIF.—(P)—Special relays of highway patrol cars escorted a courageous, polio-stricken doctor on a 380-mile dash for medical care Wednesday.

They cleared the way for an ambulance carrying Dr. Duncan Holbert from Santa Cruz to Rancho Los Amigos respiratory center at Honda in Los Angeles County.

Dr. Holbert was stricken in 1948. Although at first paralyzed from the neck down he has fought his way back to partial health and now holds regular office hours as an allergy specialist.

Dr. Holbert is going to the Los Amigos center for a general check-up and two weeks of treatment. Because he can stay outside his iron lung up to 12 hours, no difficulties were foreseen on the trip. However, just to forestall delays by traffic jams or mechanical breakdowns, the highway patrol escort was arranged.

Lie Warns Against False Peace Moves

NEW YORK—(P)—Trygve Lie, newly retired secretary general of the United Nations, says the free world must not let down its collective security guard "at the first flutterings of the dove of peace."

Lie spoke Tuesday night at a dinner of the World Veterans Federation, which presented him with its first annual peace award.

Although not specifically mentioning the Soviet peace offensive, Lie said it is dangerous to indulge in "wishful thinking" and added: "It would be the height of folly to abandon or relax our efforts for collective security in the present juncture of world history."

Britain Holds Hope For Sanders' Release

LONDON—(P)—The British government hopes communism's seemingly conciliatory new attitude to the West will lead Red-ruled Hungary to free Edgar Sanders, a British businessman imprisoned by the Budapest government on spy charges.

This was disclosed Tuesday night by Anthony Nutting, parliamentary undersecretary for foreign affairs, when he turned down a Labor Party request that Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet ask Russia to intercede for Sanders' release.

It's baseball time which brings to mind several baseball yarns. Like the time when...

The bases were loaded, two out, Joe Medwick at bat, and the Cubs were leading the Cardinals by four runs when suddenly Cub Manager Jimmy Wilson dashed from the dugout to the mound and told his pitcher:

"Walk this guy."
So the notoriously bad ball hitter Medwick was walked, forcing in a run. The next batter was an easy victim, and Wilson was hailed for the strategy.

Asked later why he passed Medwick, the easy Wilson replied: "I wasn't worried about the rest of the Cardinals. We knew how to pitch to them, but you can't pitch to a bad ball hitter, especially Medwick. Pitch him one inside and he'll slap it over the left field fence. Pitch him outside and bang! He slices it into the right field bleachers. If one of the other Cards hit one out, I wouldn't feel so bad because I'd know he'd hit a pitch we wanted him to swing at. But Medwick, that guy will swing at anything."

Frank Bridges, the big league scout who has seen service with the Philadelphia Athletics, Chicago White Sox, Detroit Tigers and Brooklyn Dodgers, tells this one on Frank Lane, general manager of the White Sox.

Seems Lane was talking terms to Chico Carrasquel, the slick-fielding shortstop who was pressing for more money after posting the best fielding average in the American League and posting a .281 batting average his sophomore year.

"But, Chico," Lane reasoned, "you didn't hit .300 last year." Carrasquel flashed a grin and early replied: "Yeah, and they no beet .300 through me neither."

Bridges, incidentally, was released by Lane because he signed Jim Busby, the speedy center fielder and former Texas Christian great, to a White Sox contract.

Quipped Bridges: "That's the first time I ever got the 'out' sign for giving a star the 'go' signal."

When the Indian baseball club stopped at Wichita Falls for their recent exhibition series, the Midland players met an old mate who had beaten them there by only a few hours. He was Israel Ten, 20-plus game winner with the Indians last season, and he was reporting to the Spudgers for the first time this Spring. Previously, he had played on a barnstorming ball club after taking part in the Cuban Winter League.

Ten said he was hoping that Wichita Falls would grow better for him, for from the first impression, he preferred to be back again in Midland.

Types—the bugaboo of the newspaper business—sometimes can produce some good laughs. Take the case of our truck story on the district meet at Odessa Saturday. Buried in the midst of the copy, was this startling statement:

"Kinsey, anchoring the team, had to fight off a spirited bid by Troy Moody before kicking home in the stretch to give the Bulldogs a victory by three hits."

And Midland's mile relay team didn't even set a record!

While on the subject of track, Bulldog Coach Edwin Nixon informs us that Dale Jobe's time on the mile relay team was slower than any of the others. Our story had given him credit for putting the Bulldogs out front—credit richly deserved despite the time, we might add.

Jobe started a yard or two behind and finished four yards in front of his nearest competitor, but his time was only 54.2 for the quarter mile. That is several seconds slower than he is capable of and at least one second off his usual pace. We still believe it was a fine race he ran.

Had the district meet been held anywhere but at Odessa, the Bronchos' mile relay team would not have qualified for the regional meet. Ted Spence, Odessa's leadoff man, bumped Roddy Braun of Midland in attempting to pass at the beginning of the final turn. Odessa's team should have been disqualified for that miscue.

San Antonio Holds First In Texas Race

By The Associated Press
San Antonio's Missions, who were not supposed to cut much ice in the Texas League race this season, are leading the circuit and doing it because they have power and pitching, a couple of ingredients that get the job done anywhere.
Tuesday night the Missions moved to the top rung as they beat hapless Houston, 3-1, in 10 innings. Harry Wilson, one of the first two negroes ever to play for San Antonio, was the big show. He pitched steadily after the first inning and also scored the run that won the game in the tenth.
Wilson beat out an infield hit, was sacrificed to second and scored

Tor Nine Edges Bulldogs, 7 To 6

LAMESA—The Midland Bulldogs committed every error possible—physical and mentally—here Tuesday as they blew a two-run lead to bow to Lamesa, 7-6, in a District 3-AA baseball encounter.
The Bulldogs let the game slip from their grasp in the final frame by permitting a pop fly on the edge of the outfield grass to drop between two infielders for a safety. Shortly afterward Doc Phillips lined a pinch-hit single into right field to drive across the winning marker.
While the Bulldogs were taking it on the chin, Big Spring was surprising Odessa, 6-5, and Abilene clawed out an 11-10 12-inning victory over San Angelo in other league action. The day's results left the Eagles the lone undefeated team and found Midland mired in the cellar.

Corlis Berry held Midland in check for three innings as he had the Bulldogs biting at a wide-sweeping curve. The Bulldogs tallied once then on a wild pitch, and it wasn't until the final frame that the Bulldogs could find the range again. Against the Tornado hurler.

In that final inning, Charles Hedges started the ball rolling with a pinch-hit single. Don Stringer followed with a safety and Gwyn Grisham walked. Walt Bingham then scored Hedges and Stringer with a single, and Rusty Rutledge followed up with a safety to score Grisham. Dick Spencer added the fifth hit of the inning driving in still two more, but Bill Kiser bounced into a double play ending the inning.

Lamesa had scored once in the third on a pair of walks and Wayland Reeves' double, and they chased Starter Snooky Roberts in the fifth with three more, two coming on an error by Jessie Hatfield.

The last inning was a nightmare for Reliever Boyce McKnight, who was charged with the loss. He walked two, gave up two hits—one that pop fly that fell between Kiser and Grisham—and gave up in despair when Kiser outraced a Lamesa runner to third on a force out only to see the umpire call it the other way.

It was immediately following this play that McKnight walked Roland Weaver forcing in one run and then yielded the game-winning hit to Phillips.

runs in a wild sixth inning. The victim, you guessed it, was a highly-touted first year man, Alberto Cesar, who worked a single frame.

Abilene otherwise outlit Midland, 11-9, and scored its runs in three two-run batches off winner Ralph Blair, but the Sox could do little after Cesar began throwing hits, walks and balks in his brief stay.

Midland's win was its second and it now seeks a third verdict in seven tries when Eddie Jacome pitches against Big Spring here at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

As for Tuesday night, Abilene twice had come from behind and held a 4-3 lead when Manager I. B. Palmer chose his rookie to replace starter Joe Williams. That helped Midland like this:

After Joe Prince opened the sixth with a fly-out, Hayden White drew a walk and advanced to second on a balk. Julio de la Torre grounded out, sending White to third, where Cesar, after walking Tex Stephenson, batted the tying run home. Bill Brown then singled Stephenson across and raced to third on Ralph Blair's single. The Midland pitcher made second on the throw-in.

Chunky Roger Dalla Beta then beat out a grounder to third base with Brown scoring, and with a wild throw on the play by Chuck Steele, Blair countered the seventh Midland run.

There was both good and bad playing throughout, counting the home run hitting of Prince, the fielding of Dalla Beta and the hustle of Outfielder Bill Brown among top Indian performances.

Prince, playing his fourth game and first here since 1951, blasted his second pitch for a homer over the right field wall in the first inning to give Midland a 2-0 lead. His 350-foot rap scored Dalla Beta ahead of him.

The West Texas-New Mexico League club came right back to tie the score when Lloyd Pearson hit an identical homer, this one also with a runner on base, in the second inning.

Midland led again in the third. Scooter Hughes made it 3-2, gaining first on a fielder's choice and running home non-stop when Art Bowland singled to right and Pearson let the ball get through him.

Abilene took charge with two hits and a Midland error in the sixth for two runs. Palmer doubled to left and reached third on an error that allowed Dub Akins to reach second base. Both tallied when Bill Scopetone singled past first base.

A half-inning later Cesar was trying unsuccessfully to hold that 4-3 lead and couldn't. He got hitting support, however, in the seventh as Blair weakened to yield three hits, singles by Pinch-hitter Bob Borrett, Palmer and Akins, good for two runs.

Midland's defense got a big boost when new player Dalla Beta turned two line drives into fly-outs to start off double plays and Bill Brown made three fine running catches in the final inning.

Lemon Hurls One-Hitter In Day Of Thrillers For Major Loops

By BEN PHELAGAR
AP Sports Writer

The major league sports writers gave it the old college try for opening day.

In seven games they came up with an extra inning thriller won by a Milwaukee rookie's homer; a one-hit sensation by Cleveland's Bob Lemon; come-from-behind victories by Brooklyn and the Chicago Cubs; the New York Yankees' first opening day shutout loss in 17 years; a decisive setback for Roberto in Roberto's last year's best pitcher, and an expert whitewashing of his former Detroit teammates by Virgil Trucks.

Even the one postponement had a special twist. The Boston Red Sox were forced to cancel both days of a two-day series with Washington because of snow—the first snowed-out game in Boston since 1933.

Polar bear weather prevailed generally, holding the total crowds to 176,269, almost 50,000 below expectations.

The hardy souls who ventured out saw Milwaukee nip St. Louis, 3-2; Chicago edge Cincinnati, 3-2; Brooklyn whip Pittsburgh, 8-5, and New York defeat Philadelphia, 4-1, in National League encounters and three American League shutouts—

Cleveland over Chicago, 6-0; Philadelphia over the Yankees, 5-0; and St. Louis over Detroit, 10-0.

The day's largest crowd, 33,698 watched Lemon give up a clean single to Minnie Miñoso in the first inning for the first and last Chicago hit. Only three other times did the White Sox get the ball out of the infield although four walks and two errors gave them six other base runners.

At Yankee Stadium, Casey Stengel ran up his fourth straight American League pennant. That was about the last thing the crowd of 23,234 had to cheer about because the A's Alex Kellner made the world champions look like minor leaguers the rest of the afternoon.

Raschi Suffers

The Yanks managed only five singles. Vic Raschi, pounded early and often, was the loser.

Bill Bruton, a grinning, hollow-cheeked negro rookie who probably is the fastest man in the major leagues, continued to write the Milwaukee success story with a bold hand as he homered in the tenth inning to give the Braves a home town triumph over the Cardinals.

Ken Raffensberger, who has lost more games in the National League than any other active pitcher, dropped his 139th Tuesday when Chicago scored two unearned runs in the eighth inning to defeat Cincinnati, 3-2, before 21,222 Chicago fans.

The Dodgers bragged all Spring about their powerful pitchers, but couldn't find one to go the route on opening day. Carl Erskine was the choice and the Pittsburgh Pirates got rid of him with a four-run outburst in the fourth inning. Joe Black saved the day for the 12,423 Bobets Field faithful as the Dodgers found the range for four runs in the fourth and fifth against Murry Dickson.

Roberts Fades Fast

Bobby Thomson sent the Giants away on top against Roberto at Philadelphia as he belted the Philadelphia ace for a home run with Davey Williams on base in the first inning. Roberts never had a chance.

The Browns, who showed up in St. Louis as usual instead of in Baltimore as many people expected, made it look as if 1953 wasn't the year the Tigers had in mind when they asked the Detroit fans to "wait until next year."

The Browns pounced on Ned Garver for four runs in the first inning and had added six more against an assortment of three other pitchers before the fireworks were over in the only night game, played before 11,804 fans.

Big Staters Play Lengthy Opening Tilts

By The Associated Press

If opening night is a criterion, the Big State League is in for a lot of overtime this season.

Two games went past nine innings with Temple and Austin struggling 13 frames and Tyleg and Waco going 12.

Temple edged Austin, 5-4, as relief pitcher Prentiss Rainey singled in the last of the thirteenth to drive in John Harrington with the deciding tally. Austin appeared to have led the game in the ninth but Len Pillar went in to pinch-hit and clouted a homer to tie the game up at 4-4.

Waco Back In Stride

Irv Carlson stung in the winning run with two out in the twelfth as Tyler noosed Waco, 3-2. Waco was off on the right foot—it had the longest record in the nation last year.

Greenville licked Texarkana, 6-3, with a 12-hit attack as 2,500 fans looked on while Greenville made its return to professional baseball after a lapse of two years a successful occasion. Ralph Albers allowed Texarkana only six hits.

One of the smallest opening crowds in Wichita Falls' baseball history saw the Spudders start the season with an 8-6 loss to Paris. Only 1,239 fans watched the season game.

Pair Of 73's Tops Houston Medalist Play

HOUSTON —(P)—A determined 64 golfers moved out Wednesday in the thirty-fifth renewal of the Houston Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament.

Faced by co-medalists J. E. Greenwood, Kerrville, and Be Gossett, Houston, the linkmen were contesting for the championship now held by Ken Rogers, Oklahoma City oilman who was unable to make a title defense.

Greenwood and Gossett both shot 73—two over par—Tuesday to lead the 64 qualifiers. It took 10-over par 81 or better to qualify for Wednesday's first round of match play.

The 32 first-round losers will drop back to the first flight after Wednesday's round.

Moseley Bows Out

Six players tied at 81 and entered a swatfest for four championship flight positions. They were Sid Frink, Blake West and Happy Lenz, all of Houston; Major Fred Moseley, Waco; John Bell, Lubbock, and John H. Smith, Shreveport. Moseley withdrew and Bell was eliminated on the first hole.

Tied at three-over-par 74 were John Hare, Jr., San Angelo; Tyrrell Garth, Jr., Beaumont; Ed Hopkins, Abilene; Joe Ruby, San Antonio and Tom Cruise, Dick McCreary, and Dave Ritchie, all of Houston.

Grouped at 75 were Dick Goerlich, Beaumont; Bud McKinney and Jack Munger, Dallas; Ray Borneman, Jack Sellman and Russell Myers, Houston.

Two of the favorites zoomed to 79. They were Bud Holscher, former National JayCee champion from Santa Monica, Calif., and Jim Vickers, Wichita, Kan., last year's national intercollegiate champion from the University of Oklahoma.

Al Juergens Sets Up Camp For Workouts

DALLAS —(P)—Al Juergens, Texas lightweight boxing champion, began workouts here Wednesday in preparation for defense of his title against Jack Blair of Dallas next Monday night.

Juergens, a San Antonio man, and Blair will meet in a 12-round bout on a 35-round promotion by Lew Gray at the Sportatorium.

Bulldog Tennis Team Sending Six Players To Sandie Invitation

Six Midland High tennis players, with only one still in contention for state honors, keep their season open as a team this week with a date at the Sandie Relays in Amarillo.

Ellen DeChicichis, girls' singles champion in district play last week, leads the Bulldogs to the Friday and Saturday net meet where about 15 teams will compete. She is the lone Midland player left to vie in the regional tourney.

The rest of Coach Frank Ford's squad entered at Amarillo are Jana Murray and Carolyn Farris, girls doubles; John Galle, boys singles, and Jimmy Garvin and Bill Van-venter, boys doubles.

Those three entries all won second place in district but are ineligible for next week's regional despite finishing as a team, only four points behind Odessa's championship squad.

Ford said the MHS team would depart here early Friday for the Sandie Invitational.

Who's In First Easy Problem—All Eight At Top Of Gulf Race

By The Associated Press

It's like this in the Gulf Coast League: They might just as well start all over.

Wednesday, after two nights of play, everybody is tied with everybody else for first place. Each club has won one and lost one.

Tuesday night found the teams that lost the first night doing the winning.

Lake Charles trampled Port Arthur, 17-6, Galveston knocked over Texas City, 11-3, Laredo whipped Corpus Christi, 6-3, and Brownsville beat Harlingen, 6-2.

The horse with the most unusual marking at Hialeah this season was the two-year old colt, Loyal Sir. The bay colt has a silver tail.

FOR FIFTH FLAG—

Yanks' Chances Fair, Case Says

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK —(P)—The Yankees, proud four-time world champions going for a fifth straight, were about to open the 1953 season against the Philadelphia Athletics, and Manager Casey Stengel was hugging a radiator in the dugout against the biting cold. He was asked what he thought his chances were of being the first man ever to pilot a five-time winner.

"Well, I would put it this way," replied the veteran who is seeking baseball immortality. "Our outfield looks very good. So does our catching. I've been having some trouble with my infield. I would say it is fair."

Hurlers Coast

"Now, my pitchers who are supposed to win all the games haven't been trying so hard in the exhibition games down South and they've been getting hit. At least I hope that's it. I'd hate to think it had been doing their best. Where I think I might be a little stronger is in my other pitchers."

"Take Johnny Sain. He's been looking better than he did last year. He thinks he's going to have a big year. So does Ewell Blackwell. He says his arm feels better than it has for a long time. Those two fellows could help."

"That was the professor's considered opinion of his chances."

He was next asked which of the other American League clubs he figured he had to whip.

"I hear that Lopez, Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians, is looking for a shortstop," he said.

Pat Garner Fires Hot 79 In Trans-Miss Qualifying

PHOENIX, ARIZ.—(P)—Defending Champion Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Richmond, Calif., and Medalist Barbara Romack, her neighbor at Sacramento, led the way into the first round of match play Wednesday in the 23rd annual Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

Pat Garner of Midland qualified with a 79.

On the basis of comparative qualifying scores, the Sacramento girl, California state champion, and Mrs. Bowman, a former Oregon titlist, had easy touches.

Mrs. Bowman, who qualified with a one-under-par 78 for women at the par 35-38-76, 6,645-yard Arizona Country Club course, was paired against Lois Schrader of Los Angeles, who had an 82 Tuesday.

Miss Romack clipped four strokes off par with her 72 and was teamed against Thelma Carr of Phoenix, who had an 82.

The same applied to some of the other tournament favorites, playing the Trans-Miss for the second year at this resort club.

Mrs. Marjorie Lindsay McMillen of Milwaukee, who shot a casual 81 Tuesday, was the runner-up last year and a previous champion. She met one of the tournament's newcomers, 16-year-old Susan Casey of Tulsa, Okla.

Another threat was California's golden girl from Palm Springs, Gloria Ficht. Gloria played Mrs. G. J. Eckert of Long Beach, Calif.

Mary Ann Downey from Baltimore, a past winner and always a tournament threat, qualified with an 81 and was paired against Mrs. L.

H. Henney of Santa Monica, Calif. Mary Lena Faulk, the Georgia favorite, (80), met Sheila Moss, San Bernardino (80), and Mrs. David Stamps, Richmond (84) met Mrs. Cliff Prather, Phoenix (81).

Two Texas standouts were Miss Garner and Leslie Lobo, San Antonio (78). Miss Garner met Joan Nelson (83), daughter of a Tucson, Ariz., professional, and Miss Lobo, newly-crowned Texas champion, played Frances Rich, Bainbridge, Ga. (82).

Gavilan Cops Split Decision Foe 'No Show'

CLEVELAND —(P)—Despite a close, split decision, Welterweight Champion Kid Gavilan insisted Wednesday that Livio Minello of Italy "not show too much" as a fighter.

But the fans who witnessed their torrid 10-round non-title bout Tuesday night thought differently. For fully two minutes they booed in protest after the verdict was announced.

Referee Jackie Davis and Judge Herb Williams gave it to the "Keed" 6-4 rounds for Davis and 5-4-1 for Williams. But Judge Charlie Bill scored it 6-4 in favor of the durable Italian campaigner.

Gavilan admitted it was close, but thought a 6-4 verdict on his side would hit it about on the nose.

"Nice show and people like, but he not show too much," said the Cuban Hawk, who was making his first start since scoring a technical knockout over Chuck Davey in their Chicago title bout last February.

"He wanted start fooling around when I want fight hard," the champion added. "I beat him any time.

Name Of Surgeon For Babe Revealed

BEAUMONT —(P)—Dr. Robert M. Moore, professor of surgery at the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston, was revealed Wednesday as the specialist who will perform an operation on Babe Zaharias in an effort to remove a malignancy that threatens to end her athletic career.

The Beaumont Enterprise said it had learned Dr. Moore was the man who would operate on the famous woman athlete at 2 p.m. Friday. It could not confirm this officially, however. Dr. Moore reportedly was in Austin to attend a medical convention and couldn't be contacted.

Secrecy veiled the plans for the operation that it is hoped will correct a condition that knocked Mrs. Zaharias from the women's golf tour last week. She has a malignancy of the lower rectum.

The famed woman athlete was in seclusion at a Beaumont hospital. No one was allowed to see her or to call her as she took a complete rest to prepare herself for the operation.

Sister Mary Daniels of the hospital staff said Mrs. Zaharias was resting well and showing less of the strain that marked her first four days in the hospital.

Midland High School Seniors to Receive TCU Scholarships

Four Midland High School seniors are among the seven West Texas winners of Texas Christian University Fine Arts Foundation scholarships Tuesday in auditions at the band hall.

From Midland, the four chosen are Anna Beas Doyle, percussionist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Lovelady, 406 North Lorraine Street; Claudine Hamner, bassoonist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hamner, 514 North Main Street; Ruth Ann Rhodes, soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Rhodes, 721 West Storey Street; and Dana Roper, ballet, daughter of Mrs. Dana-G. Roper, 2605 Howard Street.

All four will start their college careers at TCU in the Fall of 1953. The other three winners, all from Monahans, are Ann Hogg, soprano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hogg; Margaret Schindler, pianist and soprano, daughter of Mrs. Leo J. Schindler, and Nancy Amner, violinist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Amner. The seven winners were presented in the High School Auditorium Tuesday night by Dean T. S. McCorkle of TCU Fine Arts School.

The presentation was made during an intermission in the performance of the Puccini comic opera, "Gianni Schicchi." Julian R. Meek, president of the TCU Fine Arts Foundation, also addressed the audience.

Dean McCorkle said Midland was selected as the site for one of the auditions because of its outstanding record in the development of youngsters for Fine Arts work by the school system.

The TCU Fine Arts touring group moves to San Angelo Wednesday for another performance of the opera plus a stop Thursday.

The former Amarillo newsman and one-time Potter County deputy director of civilian defense was charged with the $1,400 robbery of the Herling Hotel auditor's office in Amarillo, May 31, 1952.

The loot was recovered a few hours after a bandit, masked with a woman's stocking over his face, held three women employes at gunpoint and made away with the money.

The trial, which ended Tuesday night, was the second for Foy. He received a 30-year prison sentence in September but was a new trial by claiming his court-appointed attorney was unable to conduct a proper defense because of temporary physical disabilities.

The case was moved here early this week after the court was unable to secure a jury in Potter County.

Dr. Kurt Lekisch Speaks On Danger Of Cancer In Area

"West Texas has a high incidence of skin cancer," said Dr. Kurt Lekisch to Civitan Club members Wednesday at noon in Hotel Schaefer, praising the use of the Midland Cancer Clinic's $5,000 X-ray machine.

Lekisch told the Civitans that the valuable machine is one of the most necessary pieces of equipment maintained at clinic headquarters in the Midland Memorial Hospital.

He quoted statistics on the death rate caused by cancer—217,000 died in 1951 alone from the disease. The Midland physician said half of those who died could have been saved if given medical treatment in time.

One case treated by the Cancer Clinic here was that of a 45-year-old woman with six children. She was sent to Dallas at the expense of the clinic and after 18 months of medical care returned to her family cured of cancer permanently.

Another case mentioned by Dr. Lekisch was that of a young man from Midland saved through prompt treatment from certain death by the disease.

Commenting Midlanders for their donations to the work of the Cancer Clinic, he said contributions had ranged from $5 to at least $5,000 in one case.

The woman who contributed the $5,000 was herself a victim of breast cancer, thoroughly familiar with the effects of the killing disease.

President-elect Bill Pomeroy was in charge of the meeting. Plans were launched for an installation banquet to be held on May 29.

Members of the Methodist Men's Club agreed Tuesday night in their meeting at the educational building of the First Methodist Church to send Boy Scout Troop No. 152 to the National Scout Jamboree.

The big event will be held in California this summer. Troop No. 152 is sponsored by the Methodist Men. The Indianapolis Quartet from McMurry College at Abilene entertained at the Methodist session, singing a varied collection. George O. Jones, program chairman, arranged for their presentation.

Earl Wilson, president of the group, was in charge of the meeting. Business matters were discussed following a covered dish supper at 7 p.m.

Approximately 36 guests attended, including several out-of-town visitors.

Midland Thieves Find Crime Pays Paintful Pennies

Three Midland firms held "open house" Tuesday night, but the burglars who visited profited very little from their efforts.

Cigarette machines seem to attract more attention, but in the case of Bob Wiley's Drive-In, the machine was less than cooperative. It just wouldn't open.

Coke's Drive-In gave up just $2 to burglars later in the night. This time, thieves found the key to the cigarette machine in the otherwise bare cash register. Then they tampered with a coin box and had a merry time rifling through contents of the counter.

Things got worse, though, when burglars broke into the Red Little Service Station. They walked out with only 30 pennies.

Stewardess—

(Continued From Page One) Rescuers followed Mrs. Long's trail of blood through the snow to come upon what Capt. Wallace M. Baker of the Civil Air Patrol said was a sight "of complete and utter destruction. We couldn't believe that anyone had lived through it."

He said paramedics who had parachuted in to the scene and civilian loggers already had started the slow process of taking the injured out of the plane.

Others were getting them down the hill on stretchers to where the Coast Guard and Navy helicopters could fly them out.

"The plane's wings were torn approximately 150 feet back from the fuselage. The nose and cockpit were completely demolished and either the pilot or co-pilot still was in the controls—dead."

"The other member of the crew had been thrown about 20 feet and was lying dead in a shallow ditch, his face torn and bloody against the snow."

"The survivors were huddled dazed and in terrible pain about the wreck. Some of them were screaming as the rescue squad attempted to give them their first aid. It was a nightmare of pain and blood in five feet of snow."

One by one the injured were brought away from the wreckage. As daylight waned the helicopters were grounded after 10 persons had been flown out.

The rest were carried to the trucks and then taken to hospital. No report on their condition was immediately available, but injuries ranged from very severe to shock and bruises.

Toastmaster Club Opposed To Civic Project Promotion

The majority of Toastmaster Club members spoke against adoption of a civic project Tuesday night in their dinner meeting at the Diamond Horseshoe Restaurant.

Tom King, toastmaster, introduced the idea of Toastmasters supporting a worthy civic project as a table topic.

Most of the Toastmasters expressed opinions that acceptance of the idea would be contrary to the stated aims and objectives of the club, which was organized solely to improve the speaking ability of members.

Nils Walker, newly elected president, was in charge. He presented Tim Dunn as toastmaster of the evening.

Dunn introduced four speakers for the event. Bruce Shade gave a talk on "Speaking Honestly." John Bowers spoke on "What I Should Do If Suddenly Elected President of a Large Corporation." Rudy Berg explained the make believe problem of "How To Dispose of a $1,000,000 Estate Unexpectedly Inherited," and Walker discussed "Balancing Our Budget."

Bob Pine acted as general critic of the speakers, aided by specific critics Warren Scott, Olindo Giraro, Dr. Henry Schlichting and Benton Howell.

Tom King served as grammarian, and John Brack was timekeeper.

Members voted unanimously to grant John Braue $50 from the treasury for his coming trip to Waco. Braue will represent West Texas in a state-wide Toastmaster speech contest.

Hervey Reelected Mayor Of El Paso

EL PASO—(AP)—Mayor Fred Hervey swamped two independent candidates in voting here Tuesday to win reelection to a two-year term. Hervey polled 3,621 votes to 792 for C. D. Evans and 216 for George Schneider.

Elected with the mayor was his four-man slate for aldermen.

Home Gas Explosion Injures Bexar Woman

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Mrs. Bobbie Heckinger, 23, was burned seriously Tuesday night when exploding gas virtually destroyed her four-room frame home here.

Mrs. Heckinger blamed a new gas system installed Monday. The explosion came when she lit a cigarette.

Homeward-Bound Reds Stage Sitdown On LST To Embrarrass UN Commanders

PUSAN, KOREA—(AP)—About 750 disabled Chinese Communist prisoners Wednesday staged a two-and-one-half-hour sitdown strike aboard a U. S. landing ship which brought them here on the first leg of a journey to Panmunjom for repatriation home.

A reliable source said North Korean prisoners on Koje Island also have balked. No figures were mentioned, but two more landing ships carrying North Korean disabled prisoners from Koje were due here Wednesday afternoon.

The Chinese filed slowly off the LST which brought them from Cheju Island only after American guards carrying bayoneted rifles and wearing gas masks boarded the ship.

Attempt To Embarrass

The sitdown strike apparently was an attempt to embarrass the Allies rather than to avoid being repatriated. All the Chinese previously had said they wanted to go home.

"They were the usual nuisance demands to harass us," said a U. S. officer.

"Put it this way," said Brig. Gen. Lionel McGarr, chief of the Allied Prisoner of War Command. "These people are Communists. There is always the possibility of trouble up to the last man."

Some Are Removed

Most of the prisoners were sick with tuberculosis and other diseases. Here and there was an amputee who had lost one or more limbs. At 11:15 a. m. after American military policemen had carried 15 or 20 litter patients off the LST, and a handful of amputees had hobbled off on homemade wooden pegs and Army-issued crutches, the leader of the Chinese still aboard shouted that no more would disembark.

There was a murmur of approval from other Chinese throughout the hold of the ship. Not a prisoner budged.

Col. Richard D. Boerem of Ontario, Calif., deputy commander of the POW Command, told the Chinese over a loud speaker at 12:15 p. m.:

"You have refused a lawful order to land . . . Prisoners Defiant

"I don't care to talk to your representative. You will have to move out at once."

At this point one of the prisoners yelled, "No, we won't do it. We will

Radio Club Names Mims As President

Robert Lewis Mims was elected president of the Midland Amateur Radio Club for 1953-54 at its annual officer election meeting Tuesday night in the Distribution Center of the Texas Electric Service Company.

Eugene Holmes was named vice president, and Rudolph Rubin, secretary-treasurer.

The club meets the second Tuesday night of each month, with all persons interested invited to attend. Interesting programs and technical discussions are planned for each meeting during the coming year.

Honors Pile High For Blind Student

CHICAGO—(AP)—Burton A. Kolman, a law student at De Paul University, says as he sees it, "Everything good is happening to me all at once."

His life is looking bright, he explained, because (1) professors at De Paul's Law School, where he is a senior, told him he has the highest scholastic average in the school's history; (2) on his twenty-first birthday last Sunday he was elected vice president of the American Law Students Association; and (3) Anita Guball, a law student from Israel, has promised to marry him.

Kolman lost his sight five years ago when struck by a baseball.

Farmers Throughout Texas Hope For More April Rains

AUSTIN—(AP)—April showers would be welcome to farmers and ranchers almost anywhere in Texas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

Its weekly survey of conditions through noon Tuesday said that in most Plains counties wheat is on the downgrade and moisture is needed badly to keep it alive.

Another report from the USDA said indicated production of Spring crop vegetables in Texas is 47 per cent above last year's. That was based on conditions to April 1.

The weekly crop review supplemented this by saying current conditions are favorable in most commercial vegetable areas.

The recent cold snap was expected to do only light damage. The warm weather that preceded it gave farmers a chance to work early and late in their fields, and stimulated plant growth.

Federal Grand Jury Probes Labor Rackets

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—A federal grand jury Wednesday began an investigation into labor racketeering in the St. Louis area, with special precautions to keep identity of witnesses secret for their protection.

The jury's session is backgrounded by violence. Two union officials have been shot to death in the last 13 months and two others have been wounded.

This fast growth, plus high winds, was pulling available moisture out of the soil at a fast rate.

Livestock was doing well in the east where clovers and small grains were available. Grass has started in the northwest, west and south, but it is generally too short for cattle. Supplemental feeding continues.

Rainfall still is needed in northwestern, western, and southern sections. It would be welcome now anywhere in the state.

Prospects for wheat varied. The outlook in some High Plains counties was brightened by moderate to heavy showers last week, but in most other Plains counties wheat was going down.

Small grains in most eastern and northern low rolling Plains counties were in fair to good condition. Elsewhere in the Plains rain was needed. North Texas grains were doing well. In the Edwards Plateau rain is again needed.

Cotton was making good growth in South Texas. Planting was active in central blacklands.

COURTHOUSE BLAZE

BASTROP—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed part of the Bastrop County Courthouse Annex Tuesday night.

Speeding on U. S. streets and highways injured almost 600,000 men, women and children.

Errol Flynn 'Guarantees' Texas Women Grace Halsell 'Guarantees' Errol Flynn

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter - Telegram
Special Correspondent

MUNICH, GERMANY — A woman has to expect the unexpected from Errol Flynn—I might have known.

Hearing the Hollywood Lothario was in town, I put on my high heels and "Joy" perfume and hiked over to the Bayerischer Hof.

This is "the" hotel in Munich, bombed out but still stately, and oozing with dignity and personalities like counts and Doris Duke and Errol Flynn.

European reporters, who have the talent but not the brass of stateside newshounds, were waiting patiently below.

Contacting one of Flynn's managers by telephone, I told him: "I'm from Texas and want to see Errol Flynn."

"Come on up," the sidekick, Nato DeAngelis, said.

A New Yorker of Italian descent, DeAngelis informed me he was in partnership with the famous movie star in the "Errol Flynn Enterprises," which now is going all out in producing films in Italy.

A peak into the Great Man's room revealed he still was breakfasting (I was ready for lunch) in bed, dressed in a robe, while a small army of his traveling entourage, all male as far as I could see, catered to his whims.

Pleasant Helpers

One was reading a newspaper to him, another was helping with breakfast, one to write his letters and one apparently just to purchase tickets. To the last man, he looked up from his breakfast long enough to announce:

"Better run down to Rome today and see about those airplane tickets."

The aide, a nice, quiet English boy, scampered off happily.

DeAngelis and I went downstairs to wait for Flynn to finish breakfast and be interviewed.

As we waited, we got various reports. A mountain girl had come down from the Alps seeking Flynn's autograph... a fifth female movie critic had come from Vienna "to see this famous man."

And then he came.

Tall, brown-faced from the Italian sun, with wrinkles which always come to a man of Flynn's age—and which the movie make-up carefully covers.

LIKES TEXAS WOMEN—Movie star Errol Flynn, Don Juan of Hollywood now in Europe making a series of pictures, was interviewed in Munich, Germany, by Midland Reporter-Telegram Correspondent Grace Halsell. Flynn believes Texas women rank among the most beautiful in the world.

There, too, were the greying temples, which seemed a little incongruous for the perennial youthfully active gay blade—another sign of age the camera won't tell you about—but then there also were his eyes.

To the interview proper, Flynn told us about "Crossed Swords," the picture he has just finished in Rome, in which he stars with an Italian girl, Gina Lollobrigida.

"A German reporter present explained in whispers to me that Gina is the sensation of Europe now."

Flynn's next picture, also to be produced in Italy, will be "William Tell" and he was in Munich to see about the possibility of using a Swedish star, Ulla Jacobson, in the picture.

Miss Jacobson's current film—and her first—is "She Danced One Summer." In addition to that, she goes swimming in the picture without a bathing suit.

She and the film now are "enormous successes" in Europe.

In addition to seeing the movie, Flynn came to Germany to buy a car.

He purchased it in Stuttgart, choosing a black, sedan Mercedes-Benz, Germany's top car. Cost: about 50,000 marks, or in American dollars, $12,500.

I saw the car. It looks just like another car to me.

Flynn said he was especially happy to be in the country which had produced so many outstanding men in cinematic endeavors—actors, directors and technicians.

He thinks Italy is rich in talent, and he and his backers say a film can be made there "50 per cent less than it costs to produce the same picture in Hollywood."

Flynn and his wife, Patricia Wymore, was in Rome now, but would be returning to the States soon to work on another picture.

A girl for whom I always have felt a great affinity because of her near-sightedness, Miss Wymore, Flynn says, "has to wear glasses all the time."

Then he added: "I hide her glasses, and she doesn't know what I'm doing."

The Viennese reporter spoke up to say to the actor: "You are so beloved in Austria."

Flynn answered: "Oh, I'll bet you say that to Sabu, too."

The actor related easily, ignored a statement from one of his battery of secretaries, who persisted: "I think we have to go, Mr. Flynn."

The actor was wearing a conservative tweed suit, white shirt, black tie, and alligator loafers. He lit another cigarette, patiently waiting for the next question—and it was mine:

"Mr. Flynn—what is your opinion of Texas women?"

"You can tell your readers," he stated, "that Texas women have my personal guarantee."

Other Flynn comments:

On making a movie: "You think it's easy. It's plenty hard work."

On European actors and actresses: "Talent is where you find it. These young people work hard, but no harder than the actors and actresses in Hollywood."

On noting my sprained ankle from skiing: "Skiing is a fine sport—for all those people born with three legs."

"Errol Flynn Club" fans—German bobby-soxers—had gathered and as the press conference was breaking up, the movie star signed a picture for the little girl who had come down from the mountains, and autographed a book for the gushily-happy Viennese woman.

Then, for me, he had a special act.

Signaling me to the corner, the actor gave me a Flynn special—complete with the radioactive eyes which make a woman feel so, well—so much like a woman.

"Please," he said, shy-like—a mannerism which makes a woman want to encourage him (and Flynn needs encouragement about like a Frenchman does)—"would you write your name for me."

For a minute, I wondered which was the movie star.

Just like I was Betty Grable, I tossed off an autograph.

You see, Flynn knows it doesn't take much to make a woman happy.

SWEAT IT OUT, SYNTHETICALLY

NEW YORK—(AP)—Because perspiration is a strong compound, powerful enough to remove paint and even etch the hardest metals, it has found a place in modern industry.

Corrosive resistance of new products is tested sometimes by having people handle them over and over. One firm has stepped up this process by producing synthetic perspiration in barrel lots.

The solution is composed of valeric acid, butyric acid, acetic acid and salt.

Korean cargo handlers were notified by the Eighth Army recently that pilfering is a matter of "vital concern" to the Allied command.

The statement, signed by Col. Ralph B. Garretson, commander of the Seventh Transportation Unit, answered a protest by the Korean cargo checkers union into the fatal shooting of a Korean cargo handler

Fear Makes Cancer Appear Worse Than Actual Danger

By A. M. SUTHERLAND, MD
Memorial Center, New York
Written For The AP

Few diseases are as dreaded as cancer, but like Bernard Shaw's "Devil," its reputation is worse than it deserves.

For the most part, cancer can be managed. The unreasonable fear we see stems from lack of information.

Cancer has no better ally than unreasoning fear. We know how an enemy attempts to demoralize—and we know demoralization spells defeat.

Sensible Steps

It is disastrous to be demoralized by fear of cancer. Fear can prevent our taking sensible steps to get rid of the threat, and delay our seeking medical help. It can prevent those who have been cured from enjoying the rest of their lives.

Reasoning fear of a threatening situation is helpful, but panic demoralizes and hinders.

The public generally does not realize the marvelous extension of cancer treatment in the last few years.

The cure rate has risen in some forms to 80 or 90 per cent.

Realistic Measures

New developments in X-rays, hormones, chemicals and atomic energy have been turned against cancer. Only a few persons realize that today some cancer cells can be given a disease which damages them but does not harm the patient. Very few outside the medical profession are aware of the extraordinary advances surgery has made.

If the intelligent layman could see what is being done and the promise research holds for the future, fear of cancer would be brought down to realistic, sensible proportions.

Reasonable Precautions

We often are asked: "Does cancer education and the American Cancer Society campaign develop and unhealthy fear?" If only the dangers and none of the means to fight the threat were stressed, the answer would be "Yes."

But by stressing the dangers and what can be done about them, cancer education stimulates a realistic, useful fear which prompts prudent people to take reasonable precautions.

We fear the atom bomb. Our civilian defense teaches us to fear it so that we can take sensible action and prevent demoralization.

Fear Of Accidents

If more people had reasonable fear of accidents the number of traffic fatalities would drop sharply. Reckless driving stems from the absence of a prudent, useful fear.

Such fear is merely recognition of the fact that something adverse can happen to us. It stimulates prudent measures to counteract the adversity.

Knowledge of cancer is really a sort of insurance against cancer. Thousands of people are alive and well today because they have been educated about cancer—what it is and what can be done about it. We cannot sacrifice the future welfare of thousands of people to abnormal fears. Only knowledge and intelligent action can really diminish fear.

Danger Signals

signals: symptoms that may mean cancer. Delay can be dangerous. The appearance of any one of these symptoms should take you to a doctor at once:

1. Any sore that does not heal.
2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere.
3. Unusual bleeding or discharge.
4. Any change in wart or mole.
5. Persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing.
6. Persistent hoarseness or cough.
7. Any change in normal bowel habits.

Until the end of the Napoleonic wars, "ships of the line" with sidings consisting of two feet of oak virtually were shot proof with the ineffective cannon used at that time.

Fertilizer Is Boon To Typewriter Industry

Bob Brashears of The Reporter-Telegram told me the other day, when I took him copy for the paper, "Wilcox, if you don't get a typewriter that can spell, there's no telling what might get into your paragraphs on Turf Special. Why don't you retire that model 5 (1906) and try one of the new ones?"

The upshot of the matter was, that since we feel like everyone ought to know about that wonderful organic fertilizer that is especially made for West Texas, and that comes packed in the distinctive red bag, we went out in the marts of the trade and bought a new machine.

The guys that made the typewriter will never get to know the joys of Turf Special. They live in the wrong part of the country. But, you and I, with our problem soil and our problem climate can enjoy a good lawn with TS, and we will just let those Easterners make typewriters.

Original Thinking Required

A great and continuing tumult is heard in Congress and elsewhere about the danger of Communist spies and subversives in our midst.

How unfortunate this might be for all Americans can be gauged from the startling disclosures on atomic leaks just reported by Douglas Larsen, an NEA correspondent...

It is ironic that so much of the taxpayers' money is being spent in various Communist investigations without seriously probing the most critical area of all—A-bomb security.

In New Mexico are concentrated several important atomic weapons centers. Here it was that Klaus Fuchs, David Greenglass, Harry Gold and the Rosenbergs collected the information that enabled Russia to produce an A-bomb far faster than Soviet researchers themselves would have made it possible.

Of all the things Russian spies have learned from us, nothing equals in importance the secrets Fuchs and his allies stole from Los Alamos.

That is why it is so shocking to hear that a 1953 spy can gather this kind of information with great ease, simply by making a tour of bars in Albuquerque or Santa Fe...

Today the Russians don't have to plant a spy inside an atomic installation, as they did a few years back. A spy now needs only to be a good listener, a social mixer, a tireless walker—from bar to bar—and a handy man with a pencil.

Many men dealing with atomic matters understand the gravity of the problem. The question is what to do about it.

Represented in New Mexico are the Atomic Energy Commission, the Air Force, the Navy and the Army. Attempting to safeguard their secret activities are security agents from seven separate units of the federal government.

Security officers say frankly that things arise which cut across the boundaries of the laws they now work under. What they need, they say, is a new law to coordinate all atomic security.

That may be far from the whole answer, but it seems imperative that they should have at least that.

In the long run, it very likely will require a good deal of original thinking to figure out how to bottle up successfully the 20,000 atomic workers who are "walking dictionaries" of America's vital secrets.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson. (Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Defense heads bicker over mobilization policy; Gruenther warns Senate on Soviet peace feelers; NATO forces an alert against attack.

WASHINGTON Probably the most important backstage feud in Washington is between two auto tycoons who are battling over the nation's mobilization policy.

Most of Wilson's military experts agree with Vance. However, Wilson is the boss. His views probably will win out.

Just before Gen. Al Gruenther flew back to Paris, he testified behind closed Senate doors regarding the solemn chances of peace of war. He also told about the "most serious" security leak at NATO headquarters, and related how a Russian order recently was intercepted by which the Red army was to attack an American unit the next morning at five o'clock.

Most significant discussion was over Russia's sudden peace offensive which Gruenther warned may be a trap to lure us to sleep. This roused some sharp comment from President Eisenhower's Republican backers.

"I am scared to death of these peace overtures," blurted Senator Alex Smith, New Jersey Republican and ex-Princeton professor.

"We better watch out that we aren't a sucker for a left," agreed Gruenther. He added that the Soviets "made the biggest mistake in their history when they started the Korean war, because it has united the West."

"Do you think that may be the reason Malenkov has launched this peace campaign in order to stop our united effort?" asked Senator Homer Ferguson, Michigan Republican.

"If I were a policy adviser to the Russian government," Gruenther replied, "I would certainly recommend that they try to lure the West again."

He warned that the "number one project of Soviet foreign policy is to split the United States from its Allies. This was the theme of the Soviet Union Congress last October, and the fellow who made the most noise about it was Malenkov."

Gruenther acknowledged, however, that Russian timing often is bad. "They don't always go around picking up the pieces of the late Louis L'Amour," he said.

Along the road, the driver stopped for a pair of villagers who climbed into the back of the truck. The villagers screamed when the lid of the coffin opened slowly and a hand came out.

When the "corpse" sat straight up—they left the truck.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY. Written for NEA Service

The bidding was perfectly normal in today's hand, but South was not especially hopeful about his contract. He could count on winning two spades, three hearts, and probably only one club.

West opened the deuce of spades, and dummy won with the king. South hopefully led a low diamond from the dummy, and East stepped up with the ace.

This unusual play stimulated South into serious thought. East was too good a player to throw away his ace of diamonds on a small card unless he couldn't help himself.

South knew the diamond suit was hopeless, if East started with a singleton ace of diamonds; but there was a chance if East had only the doubleton ace-king.

With this thought in mind, South carefully dropped the ten of diamonds under East's ace. East promptly returned a spade to dummy's ace, and declared led another low diamond from dummy to his own king.

The fall of the jack of diamonds from the East hand was exactly what South had been hoping for. Now he could lead the carefully preserved four of diamonds and win a finesse in dummy with the eight diamonds.

South might still manage to make his contract if West fell asleep. South could cash the three top hearts and lay down the ace of clubs, and East would promptly drop the king of clubs in order to avoid a throw-in, but if West carefully kept his king he would be forced to win the next club and surrender the game-going trick to South's queen of diamonds or to dummy's jack of spades.

He went on to tell about the worst security leak, however, which happened while General Eisenhower still was in command. He was preparing to take off on a secret trip to Oslo, Gruenther reported. An officer thought it would be bad manners to pop in on the Norwegian by surprise, so he took it on himself to tip them off in advance.

"That's the worst security violation we have had in our headquarters," testified Eisenhower's former right-hand man.

On the question of Soviet strength, Gruenther gravely warned that the Russians have massed an overwhelming army and air force behind the Iron Curtain. However, he assured that the NATO forces were on the alert and could give a good account of themselves in case of an attack.

He then told how a radio monitor had picked up a cryptic Russian order during the Red army's latest maneuvers in Europe. It was an order for the Red army to attack the unit, in which the radio eavesdropper belonged, the next morning at five o'clock.

"We had a very nervous night," Gruenther confessed. "We didn't know whether it was a bluff or a real attack. Of course, the attack never materialized, but you never know when it might."

Congress Handles 6,000 Bills, Enacts 12 In Three Months

By PETER EDSON. NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The first three months of the 83rd Congress have seen only 12 measures enacted into law. Only one of these was included in the President's list of 11 measures he announced on February 9 as necessary legislation for this first session of Congress.

This was the bill continuing the President's power to reorganize the executive branch of the government, subject to congressional veto.

Two other measures on the President's "must" list are now pending. These are a bill for Hawaii and the "Tidelands" oil bill.

Other action completed by the Congress up to the time the Easter recess began included: Making Inauguration Day a holiday, creating a second undersecretary of State, continuing suspension of import taxes on copper, increase of government mortgage insurance authorization by half a billion dollars, removal of limitation on telephone calls and telegrams by members of Congress, limiting the number of officers in the armed services, continuation of free postage and dependent's allotments for members of the armed forces, a three months' extension of the emergency war powers act, authorization for use of electric office machines by members of Congress, and passage of a billion-dollar deficiency appropriation bill to run the government till June 30.

This last bill, however, was a cut of more than $1,000,000,000 from the amount asked by President Truman.

Investigations Consume Time. The 12 bills passed by the Congress and signed by the President represent only a minor fraction of the 6,000 bills introduced by senators and representatives. Most of the congressional time in these first three months has been taken up with getting organized and conducting investigations. In the three months, the House has been in session only 40 days, the Senate 30.

The eight items on the Eisenhower "must" agenda still to be completed by Congress before it adjourns in July include:

Amending Taft-Hartley law, limited extensions of controls over defense materials, extension of reciprocal trade act, simplification of customs procedures, Social Security expansion, extension of temporary school aid, change in District of Columbia government from three to five commissioners and the passage of all appropriation measures by May 15.

Proposed cuts made in the Truman-prepared budget for the next fiscal year aren't big enough to satisfy congressional economists. Six Eisenhower Cabinet officers now have submitted estimates on how much they would be able to save.

For these six departments the Truman budget had asked more than $4,000,000,000. The revised estimates cut this by $423,000,000, which is a lot of money—but only a little more than 10 per cent of the total. A similar cut all across the board on the $79,000,000,000 Truman budget would mean savings of around $6,000,000,000.

Larger Cuts On Military. Rep. John T. Wren, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, now is talking about a cut of $12,500,000,000—or 50 per cent more than the department heads are recommending.

Then a man entered the hall, where a policeman was on duty, and they heard voices.

Mannerling placed the voice; it was Chatterbox, reporter. He was short and chubby-looking, with untidy, fair hair.

"What's it all about? Large-scale gangster show, from what I can gather from Bristow next door, but he isn't in one of his garrulous moods. Did you track the villains to their lair?"

Mannerling laughed. "No, they brought me here. They had some fool notion that I could be persuaded to sell stolen stuff through Quinns. When I said I wasn't having any, they cut up rough, and I thought it time to get away. Now if you really want a story with a hero, try this—"

By the time he had finished, Derek Peacock was in seventh heaven, and his mother, at Chatterbox's urgent request, was frantically studying the family photograph album to pick out the best of Derek and herself.

Next door Mannerling found a small army of plain-clothes men and Bristow, who had already seen him for a few minutes.

"What have you found?" demanded Mannerling.

Bristow pointed to the grate, where there was a heap of charred paper and black ash, which stretched right across it. Mannerling grimaced—his own disappointment was as acute as Bristow's, yet there was something else in his mind: a reluctant admiration for the men who had worked so quickly.

Canada's Taxes Make Zeal Pay, Often At Expense Of Lazier Persons

OTTAWA —(AP)—Folks in the United States have been asking, "How can Canada cut taxes now when we cannot?" Here is an answer, based on a first-hand study of the Canadian situation.

Basically, Canada's current cuts are not so much a fiscal achievement as an outgrowth of Canadian production.

Canada has been developing its industry and the production of its raw materials spectacularly during the last decade—just at a time when the United States has become a have-not nation and needed them most.

$250 million, against six and one-half billion the United States plans to top off on its personal income, excess profits and corporation taxes, starting next year.

Even after the reductions, however, Canadians in lower income tax brackets probably must pay heavier federal taxes than their American counterparts.

As Deputy Finance Minister John Deutch said: "The Canadian tax system is carefully tailored to yield exceptional rewards to the ambitious at the expense, if necessary, of the lazy."

The heavy sales tax make it undesirable to work just 40 hours a week or less. Relatively low income taxes make it possible to keep more of your extra effort income, even if it must be paid out later on higher priced goods at the store.

Commonly heard in Ottawa and in offices of the industrial-financial district of Toronto is the observation:

"It is doubtful if we can accomplish what we have set out to do on any 40-hour week."

But even there you find a contradiction. The Canadian standard of living has risen spectacularly since 1939.

Sailors Nickname No-Squeak Vendors

HONG KONG —(AP)—There are now four leather peddlers operating along the Hong Kong waterfront who have adopted the nicknames of "no squeak."

The peddlers, who set up displays on Navy ships, proclaim the quality of their goods by their nicknames.

No Squeak Johnson is just as Chinese as the others—he merely adopted the name of an old employer.

Casualties Highway Signs To Undergo Change-Over Across Texas

WASHINGTON—The Department of Defense Tuesday night identified the following Texas casualties—all members of the Marine Corps—in the Korean area:

Killed in action: Sgt. Frank E. Lovett, Jr., Fort Worth; Cpl. Rodolfo A. Maybe, Kingsville; Sgt. Arlis W. Ramsey, Odessa.

Wounded: T Sgt. Robert L. Towery, husband of Mrs. Robert L. Towery, Midland; Cpl. Floyd W. Collins, Hughes Springs; Sgt. Raymond H. Downs, Seguin; Pfc. Rodolfo Espinosa, Victoria; Pfc. Richard H. Hartline, McKinney; Pfc. Homer R. Johnson, Henderson; Pfc. James L. Langford, Stamford; Sgt. Charles C. Lunday, Aransas Pass; Pfc. Franklin D. Sanford, Port Arthur; Pfc. Charles E. Shaw, Dallas; Pfc. Walter Smith, Jr., Dallas; Second Lt. Billy F. Visage, Lubbock; Pvt. Charles A. Williams, Austin.

Missing in action: Pfc. James T. Alexander, Wolfforth.

The Texas Highway Department has reached a new height in highway signing, D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, said Tuesday. Greer said existing signs gradually will be replaced by taller ones, three and one-half feet measured from the pavement level to the bottom of the sign. The present signs range from 18 to 24 inches in height.

The reason for this change-over, Greer continued, is to reduce the maintenance cost and to increase readability and visibility, especially during the growing season when native flora often interferes with or partially covers the present low signs if not moved frequently. In the Spring, for example, the department sow and cultivate wild flowers along the roadside and in order for these flowers to reseed, it is necessary to permit them to reach maturity. However, it is impossible in areas where low signs are in use since the flowers would hide the signs. Greer said that in wet weather, vehicles continually splashed mud on the present low signs, causing an expensive maintenance cleaning problem.

Greer added that within the next three years this change-over should be completed throughout the state. There are 208,000 signs on the 42,206 miles of state-maintained highways and when replacement is necessary, the new height sign will be used. This gradual change-over will enable the department to erect the new signs at no extra cost to the taxpayers.

He pointed out that when three or more signs are to be mounted on a post, the bottom sign will be two and one-half feet from the pavement level so that the top sign will not be too high for easy readability. In the areas where the new

THIS MAKES FISHING EASY

TOPEKA, KAN. —(AP)—The Kansas Legislature was debating a fisheries bill requiring unattended trot lines to be marked with tags giving the name, address and fishing license number of the owner.

Up rose lanky Rep. Marvin Cox to offer an amendment—adding the owner's telephone number on the tag.

"This," Cox drawled, "would make it easier for the fish to crawl out on the bank, phone the fisherman and report being caught."

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And Huffen Has A Scare

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was busy at the circus with trying to find out about the circus mystery. The middle of the morning had come, and no one else was there in the Great Big Circus tent. Daddy Ringtail sat down on one of the seats to think. Uh-oh.

There came the Huffen Puffen the friendly wolf, running fast. "Oooh!" cried the Huffen in a Huffen voice of fear.

Following the Huffen was Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy. "Huffen, wait!" shouted Mugwump. But the Huffen didn't wait. Round and round the circus tent he ran. Mugwump sat down by Daddy Ringtail to watch the Huffen run.

Daddy Ringtail now could see what the trouble was. A circus seal was chasing the Huffen, slipping along on his flippers. "Oooh!" shouted the Huffen. "Ark! Ark!" barked the seal. The seal couldn't catch the Huffen, but the Huffen now was growing tired from all the running. It was time to stop. "Let's catch him, Daddy Ringtail," said Mugwump. "Let's do it the next time he runs by," Daddy Ringtail agreed. And so the next time the Huffen ran to go by, Mugwump dived at the Huffen's legs. Daddy Ringtail grabbed him by the arm. Then the Huffen kerplumped with the folks seats to think. Uh-oh.

holding him, and the seal stopped now to watch. He flapped his flippers together like people clapping their hands. "Ark! Ark!" laughed the seal. "Oooh!" cried the Huffen, still afraid.

By WESLEY DAVIS

"Steady Huffen," said Daddy Ringtail. "The seal is a friendly fellow. He wants to be your friend."

"But the seal was chasing the Huffen, he was," the Huffen said. "He was laughing a dangerous laugh of 'ark, ark' and 'ark!'"

Daddy Ringtail smiled and said a seal always laughs with a noise of "ark, ark" or "arf, arf," and Mugwump reached into the Huffen's pocket and pulled the fish out which the seal was really wanting.

The Huffen was very surprised to find that the seal was wanting the fish, and the Huffen was very surprised with the fish in his pocket. How did the fish get there?

The Huffen didn't know. Daddy Ringtail didn't know. Mugwump said he knew, and I do. Do you? Happy day!

Modern Lamps Replace Stark, Spare Look

By GALE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor
NEW YORK—There's a new look of elegance, replacing the casual air of the past, in the new lamp designs for Spring.

Special emphasis is placed on brass, though black metal and black-and-white combinations are not obsolete. Many of the new collections have a dash of sophisticated color—pink, brown or green. White-and-gold combinations are well liked, too, since they show versatility in blending with color schemes.

This year's modern hasn't the stark, cold look of the past. There's new, rich dramatic quality and there's even a touch of baroque in some designs.

Crystal prisms are used for a scrolled, wrought-iron table lamp while a band of crystal beads appears in a black parchment shade to lend sparkle to light. And a wrought-iron floor lamp supports an electrified candelabra arrangement.

Black metal mesh, emphasized in modern decorative accessories, is used in this season's lamps, too. Equally light and airy are the new lamps with round lantern shades reflecting an Oriental influence. Some of these white lanterns are made of synthetic "lamp-skin." Others are acetate. They make soft lighting for conversational groupings and foyers.

Bedroom lamps are no longer pint-size with intricately ruffled and beaded shades. They are grown up in size and styling.

For Spring, 1953, there are many modern lamps specially scaled for double dressers and night tables. These range in height from 18 to 27 inches, are taller and more sophisticated than the typical "vandy" lamps of the past. They reflect current styling trends, from Japanese lantern effects to wiry cages in brass and black metal.

In complete harmony with provincial decor are the lamps with provincial motifs. These are sleek, streamlined versions that show effects of contemporary styling.

The oil-lamp chimney that was once used to shield an open flame becomes a handsome motif on a modern glass column. Both chimney and cylindrical base are painted with small, white checks for a delicate pattern that is attractively transparent.

Modern design in these new lamps for Spring decor is rich and dramatic, rather than stark and spare. We show four new designs here. Wrought-iron night table lamp (left) has simple base, carries raffia-textured chimney lamp (upper center) combines Early American and Oriental influences. Glass cylinder was inspired by tube used in oil lamps to shield open flame. Raffia-toned checks, hand-painted on clear glass, give effect of Japanese screen. White ash in ripple pattern (lower center) teams effectively with lamp shade featuring natural grass stalks laminated between plastic sheets. Black mesh angel fish (right) is suspended lightly over blond oak pedestal. Leaf coral motif appears on laced white plastic shade.

Parade To Open Campaign For Midland Youth Center

A "Parade of Youth" at 4:15 p.m. Friday will open Youth Center Day in Midland.

The parade down Texas Street will feature the Midland High School Band, students and floats from all Midland schools, the Sheriff's posse, Cowden Junior High School Band, pep squads, athletes and all the things that make a marching show.

The colorful march will spark a house-to-house canvass by Midland teenagers who'll be seeking donations to the Youth Center Building fund. The drive will be climaxed Saturday night with a dance at the Youth Center.

The boy and girl who have collected the most money during the two-day appeal will be crowned King and Queen of the Youth Center.

The proposed Youth Center building will be built on the corner of C and Illinois Streets. Some $36,000 of the necessary $60,000 have been collected thus far, and the 2500 teenagers expected to push their "Victory Drive" hope to fill in the missing link.

Guiding the parade plans in the various schools are Clay Carson and Sharon Mitchell, Cowden Junior High; Judy Bliss, Ann Hamilton, Bill Dillard and David Gooch, San Jacinto Junior High; Ray Young, Tom Dyer, Nancy Klinger and Virginia Kroenlein, Midland High.

Representatives on the parade committee are: John McGuigan, Margie Neill, Dan Ratcliff, Jean Hudson, Dean and Jean Carpenter, Barbara Whitson, Joe Gates, Nancy Guyton, Harvey Deimer, Glenda McNeal, Jim Atwill, Don Forrest.

Mice Aid Research In Fight On Cancer

BERKELEY —P—University of California scientists are increasing the production of special strains in mice which aid in the state-wide fight against cancer.

Some 1200 mice are now shipped each month to 16 cancer research agencies in California. Each animal, through heredity, is susceptible to specific types of cancer. It is this factor that makes them valuable for research.

Neighbors Assist Ailing Woman, 66

AKRON —P—Neighbors called police when they noted that newspapers, milk and mail had not been taken off the porch of Mrs. Margaret Moore, 66, of 711 Gardendale Avenue, North Hill.

Entering through a basement door, police found Mrs. Moore ill but conscious on the cellar floor. She said she had collapsed three days earlier and had been unable to get upstairs to summon aid.

A retired department store employee, she lived alone in the house.

Cocoon Shells Spread Filariasis

LOS ANGELES —P— The cocoon, economically important to the South Seas, plays a part in filariasis, a disease that plagues millions throughout the islands, says Dr. David Bonnet of the University of California.

Major carrier of the filariasis, the mosquito, seems to breed anywhere there are a few drops of water. A favorite breeding place is in rain-water-filled cocoon shells and small holes in growing coconuts, gnawed by rats.

ATTEND TV SERVICE SCHOOL—More than 45 Midland radio service men—and now TV service men—have completed an extensive Philco training course in television set service conducted by Irving T. Spellman, general service manager of Mosen-Dunnegan-Ryan Company of El Paso. Classes were held five nights a week, with each service man finishing the school with some 80 hours of technical instructions and shop training. They are now members of Philco's Factory Supervised Service, an organization set up to insure proper service on Philco TV sets. The service men will be kept up to date on latest technical advances in television service. "Hank" R. Arrowsmith is Mosen-Dunnegan-Ryan Company representative in Midland.

Cancer Traced To Hormones

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Science Reporter

DENVER —P— Sex hormones working in secret ways on women's breasts between ages 30 and 40 may start breast cancers appearing at 55 or 60, a physician said Monday.

This is a clue to a treatment of breast cancers with both female and male sex hormones, which has benefited a few women. It also is a long-range clue to prevention of human cancers.

The experiments were described to science reporters starting a two-week tour, organized by the American Cancer Society, of cancer research centers in Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Houston and New Orleans.

The hormone guilt is indicated in mouse experiments by Dr. Robert Huseby, University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Specifically, he said, the fault seems to be in the amounts and inter-play of female and male sex hormones in the body. Female hormone stimulates the breast. Male hormone may protect the breast from too much female hormone. The balance of hormones may be out of kilter in women who later get breast cancer. Still other hormones may be involved.

Just what the mixup in hormone pattern may be is still a mystery. If the normal balance can be learned, blood tests might make it possible to learn which women needed extra amounts of various hormones while young in order to prevent cancer later.

Dr. Huseby is using combinations of male and female sex hormones on women whose breast cancers can't be cured by surgery. Three of nine women have benefited greatly, he said. The cancer of one woman apparently still is gone seven years later. Five were not helped at all. The results in another were doubtful.

The good effects may come from changing the pattern of sex hormones, correcting some fault that had existed for years. It is too early, he said, to tell whether this combination is a good treatment for cancer. The doses of hormones must be tailored to the individual woman.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Carbon Tetrachloride Fumes May Cause Poisoning, Death

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

This column is written as a warning. It is aimed specifically to call attention to the dangers of a widely used chemical known as carbon tetrachloride.

This chemical, either alone or mixed with others, is sold under a variety of trade names, principally for cleaning purposes. It is commonly used in the home or office for dry-cleaning. It is also used in fire extinguishers and for many purposes in industry. It is non-inflammable.

It is absorbed into the body, either through the skin, or mixed with the air in the form of fumes. When large quantities are absorbed in a short period of time, it produces acute poisoning—usually with dizziness, vomiting, headache and other symptoms—and may cause death within a day or two.

When smaller quantities are absorbed over a longer period of time the symptoms may be subacute, or chronic. The chemical attacks the liver and kidneys, and in acute poisoning, the heart and lungs.

It is believed carbon tetrachloride poisoning quite often goes unrecognized since the symptoms are easy to confuse with those of other conditions. In a recent report involving 15 cases of such poisoning, all of the victims were either suffering from chronic alcoholism or had been drinking before or during exposure to this chemical.

The treatment, even of chronic cases, is not completely curative or satisfactory, and therefore prevention is of the utmost importance. Anyone who uses a cleaning solution containing carbon tetrachloride should employ the greatest care not to become exposed to the fumes, and should be equally careful to avoid extensive concentrated exposure of the skin to the fluid.

Danger To Heavyweights
It also is felt as a matter of precaution some people never should be exposed to carbon tetrachloride—specifically those who are alcoholic, overweight, undernourished, or those with lung disease, heart disease, high blood pressure, peptic ulcer, kidney or renal disease, and all those who are known to be particularly sensitive to this chemical or related ones. Here is an example of a recognized human disease in which it can be truly said that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Singapore Restricts Flood Of Immigrants

SINGAPORE—(AP)—New immigration regulations will bar entry into Singapore to all persons wanting to enter the colony for the purpose of seeking employment.

Controller of Immigration J. L. J. Haxworth said "The colony can no longer afford the flow of fresh immigrants." He explained there were no restrictions in the past because vast quantities of labor were required to develop the country. The ever-increasing local-born population now can be depended upon to supply all labor requirements.

BIG HEART—Said to be the third or fourth largest diamond in the world, this heart-shaped, deep blue gem is on sale in New York for $300,000. Though the owner's name was not disclosed, the 31-carat sparkler is believed to have belonged most recently to a South American family.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

Some confusion appears to exist as to the purpose of line dressing, and this is not the time of year to make mistakes. The only legitimate reason that I know for dressing a fly line is to make it float. I don't believe any dressing adds to the life of the line, and with the exception of graphite all the dressings with which I have had any experience make a line gummy if left in storage over the winter.

If you leave a greased line on a reel for a period of a week or more, the absence of air around the inside coils gives the line a "fly paper" finish. Humidity is chiefly responsible for oil-finished lines becoming tacky. A stored line will go bad sooner than one which is kept in use—and once a line has become tacky, dressing won't help and may do some harm.

If your line isn't too bad you can rub in powdered graphite until the line is as shiny as metal. Then don't put on any more line dressing until the graphite wears off. Your line will be smoother and better after it has been used a few times. If the finish is too badly gone, however, this treatment won't work and then the best idea is to get a new line. It's also good practice to check your line for rough spots at least once a season.

Fly lines show dark spots when the finish begins to crack off. Actually the line may be in fishable shape except for the places where

Success Of Boys Ranch Leads To Award In Citizenship For Amarillo Ex-Fighter

By BRUCE HENDERSON
AMARILLO—(AP)—An ex-wrestler who's turning tough boys into good citizens has been named Amarillo's outstanding citizen of the year.

He is Cal Farley, 47, one-time pro baseball player, successful businessman and founder and president of Boys Ranch near here.

Farley founded the ranch in 1938 and now devotes full time to it. For him, it culminates a dream of somehow helping out youngsters who get a bad break in life.

Undernourished And Tough
Boys Ranch is out on the wind-swept banks of the Canadian River near this Panhandle city.

When they arrive at the ranch the boys are often undernourished, ill-clothed, tough and skeptical. Poverty and broken homes have frequently cracked their faith in society. One out of three is in trouble.

You ought to see them straighten up at Boys Ranch. One of those unhappy lads, a man today, is well educated, married and a good citizen. He served heroically as a World War II paratrooper and now supervises a 200,000-acre ranch.

Another will graduate from college this Spring. First Of Its Kind
These are typical accomplishments of Boys Ranch, which calls itself the first institution of its kind in the nation.

In the 14 years since it started with six boys and one building, the ranch has shunted some 750 youngsters from the path of delinquency and sent them into the world with chins up.

Boys Ranch is doing this with its homespun formula: Give a boy a happy home, some affection, enough to eat and plenty of work and he'll do all right.

The ranch has won national renown and boys from every state have made it their home. Long Interested In Boys
A bespectacled blue-eyed medium sized man who speaks with machine gun-like rapidity, particularly when separated or having trouble. The boy starts ducking school and going with the wrong crowd.

Boy In Jam
"Sooner or later he gets in a jam. The judge doesn't want to send the kid to reform school because maybe he's too young. So he paroles him to his mother. The old lady can't control him and the boy continues in trouble."

Farley conceived the idea of a ranch for unfortunate lads—a place in the country, far removed from alleys and wrangling, or drunken parents.

The late cattleman Julian Bivins liked the idea and granted 120 acres of land on which was located the ghost town of old Tascosa, in its day one of the wildest towns of the old West. Some of Tascosa's men of violence are buried in the original Boot Hill Cemetery there.

But Tascosa, was revived in a far different atmosphere in 1938 when six bewildered boys and a ranch manager moved into the old court house which is still in use for housing on the ranch today.

Gifts Four In
Even Farley didn't foresee what a success the ranch would be. Gifts first started coming in from folk around Amarillo, then from over the nation. These contributions have swelled the ranch from 120 to 1,400 acres and vastly expanded its physical facilities.

The ranch currently has 200 boys. Plans call for 500 to be cared for.

he's talking about "the ranch." Farley long has been interested in youth.

Years before there was a Boys Ranch, Amarillo police were bringing lads into Farley's tire store for a grubstake or a pair of shoes. They could always depend on Farley to help.

Farley made up his mind to do something for youngsters he knew would make good citizens if given a chance.

"The bottom 10 per cent of America's kids run in alleys," he said. "And you know why? In the great majority of cases the parents are separated or having trouble. The boy starts ducking school and going with the wrong crowd.
