That's just what our ads are—an opportunity to talk to all of you at once. What shall we say? It's important to us—and to YOU! Tell us what you think in the Community Survey. We really want to know.

Britain Backs Eisenhower's Peace Program

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons Monday he hoped the "processes of good will which may be at work" would lead to talks among big power chiefs of state.

Officially associating the British government with President Eisenhower's recent foreign policy declaration calling on Russia to end the cold war, Churchill said: "I trust that nothing will be said here or elsewhere which will check or chill the processes of good will which may be at work, and my hope is that they may presently lead to conversations on the highest levels, even if informal and private, between some of the principal powers concerned."

He said: "There is one sphere which claims priority because it is both practical and urgent, the establishment of a sincere and honorable truce in Korea." He added: "Non-Partisan Approach"

Red-Hunting Panel Sought In Texas Act

AUSTIN—(AP)—A legislative Un-American Activities Committee similar to Congress' was asked Monday by a Houston legislator.

A resolution calling for the committee was introduced by Rep. William A. Miller, Jr., Houston. It provides for five members to be appointed by the speaker of the House and gives them power to subpoena witnesses. No provision was made for expenses of such a committee.

The resolution says investigations of the congressional Un-American Activities Committee have shown that Communist operations "have been extended into the very heart of this state for the purpose of subverting our people." It also says "it is general public knowledge that many of the criminal laws of this state are being openly and flagrantly violated by the Communists of this state."

First Prisoners Exchange; Armistice Hopes Build Up

PANMUNJOM, KOREA—(AP)—One hundred disabled Allied war prisoners, some weeping silently, came down Freedom Road Monday in an historic exchange for 500 gum Communist sick and wounded of the Korean War.

The blue-clad Allied prisoners included 30 Americans, 12 British, 50 South Koreans, four Turks and one each from Canada, South Africa, Greece and the Philippines.

Another 100 returnees—35 Americans, 12 British, three Turks and 50 South Koreans, the Reds said Monday. In all, 605 Allied sick and wounded are being traded for 5,800 Reds.

Cannibal Feasts Halted By Mission
SYDNEY —(P)— A New Guinea mission claims it was weaned a group of cannibals away from their age old custom of eating all their dead.
Pastor H. White, Seventh-Day Adventist mission administrator for the Coral Sea area, told of these New Guineans, who, he said formerly ate bodies to perpetuate the strength of the dead. The former cannibals, he said in an interview, live in a recently opened area of New Guinea near the Dutch border.
"They used to eat everybody from young babies to old chiefs," he said. "Not only did they eat the flesh, but they used to grind the bones up for bone meal."

SAN ANTONIO —(P)— Gabriel Castillo, filling station operator, is no longer interested in rewards offered for lost diamonds.
A customer who drove into his filling station complained that he had lost a diamond set from his ring in the washroom.
A search failed to reveal the missing stone. The man told Castillo he would pay him $50 as a reward if he found the stone and left his telephone number with the filling station operator.
Later another customer walked in and said "I have just found a diamond stone." Castillo told him of the other man's loss but the finder was in too big a hurry to try to locate him. He suggested Castillo give him $15 and then collect the $35 from the owner.
After the man left, Castillo discovered he had paid $15 for a piece of glass.

Hollywood's Poor, Las Vegas Rich—Stars Start Gold Rush

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
Movie stars are being seen in all the Las Vegas night clubs this season but they're not hiding in dark corners.
They're in the spotlight on stage—clowning, acting, hoofing and singing for their supper. It's an O. Henry switch. Not long ago movie lads and ladies were prized and pampered guests of the plush hotels and swank gambling casinos in the roaring, 24-hour-a-day town of gold, digging on green felt and fabulous floor shows.
Then the movie studios, in a mad economy spree because of TV competition, derailed the cinema gravy train. High-salaried stars found themselves out of work with payments due on new cars, back income taxes and bills from the butcher, the baker and the swimming pool cleaner.
Now the stars are back in Las Vegas on the hotel payrolls.
Las Vegas, with its hot and cold running dice and its 7,000,000 tourists a year, can afford the salaries to which movie kings and queens are accustomed.
Weekly paychecks from $5,000 to $15,000 are classified here as petty cash—handled, of course, by gorgeous Petty Girls. Just one hotel—the new Sands—spends $25,000 a week on the lavish floor shows dreamed up by Jack Donaghy of New York's Copacabana Club fame.
So it's "Movie Stars—In Person" every night along this Great White Way in Nevada which only 47,000,000 ago was desert wasteland.
Stars who have and will autograph the backs of Las Vegas' big checks include Marilyn Maxwell, now at the Last Frontier, Eddie Bracken, Dick Powell, Van Johnson, Dick Haymes, Debbie Reynolds (she has an offer from the Flamingo), Za Za Casbor, Jane Powell, Elio Pina, Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, Dinah Shore (being paid by the Desert Inn at a mere $25,000 a week) and the same offer to Marilyn Monroe from the Sands.
Wiggle-Hips Monroe, as Betty and Jane Kean quip in their act, probably will be asked to do a scene from her latest calendar.
The 24-hour-a-day whirl.
The "Silver Slipper" in the Last Frontier Village advertises: "Atomic Action Every Afternoon." It's a Bingo game. . . . Tommy Noonan, wowing Peter Marshall and the customers in the Ramona Room with his clowning genius, has written a comedy screenplay about two GIs which Fox may film co-starring Dan Dailey and Frank Sinatra.
Howard Hughes just bought a Las Vegas home and, he told, bought legs it around the place in western boots instead of his usual tennis shoes.
Plans have been okayed for the town's eighth luxury hotel—the Casablanca. Estimated cost: $10,000,000.
Leon Chauveau, the world-famed chef at the Sands, insists there are 1,000 different ways to cook chicken.

Clothing For Needy Provided By Church

NEW YORK —(P)—Half a million garments take a lot of making. That is the number which have been made up in 13 years and shipped from the sewing room of the Friends (Quaker) Meeting House here.
The Quakers send the garments to devastated areas in 28 countries throughout the world. Hundreds of women from 11 denominations work with the Quakers. Much of the work is done in the sewing room which also acts as receiving and shipping center for outlying areas.
In addition to handling new garments, the center collects and ships thousands of tons of used garments. A number of manufacturers donate materials for the new garments or provide them at reduced prices.

Soft Peace Music

Every time Moscow plots a new maneuver, we have to remind ourselves that the Communists frequently act from many motives in planning a particular tactic. The present "peace" overtures, for instance, are considered by experts on Russia to reflect the need of the new Malenkov regime for the kind of strength and stature Stalin could not bequeath it.

In such an event, a strong tendency would develop among free peoples to slack up on their defenses. Even now the white heat has gone out of this effort. Should millions be further lulled to sleep, projects like the six-nation European army pact and the rearmament of vital Germany and Japan easily could come into serious jeopardy.

Nothing would please Moscow more. The European pact, especially, is right at the critical stage. The lower house of the West German parliament has ratified it. If final action soon is completed and Italy and the smaller nations follow suit, pressure will be heavy on the reluctant French to give their approval, too.

General Chuikov, top Russian general in Germany, has voiced anew the Soviet desire for a peace treaty and the "renunciation of the country." This is an old refrain the Reds have sung many times without attracting much of an audience. For up to now Moscow never has given any concrete sign of sincerity.

Western diplomats therefore are watching carefully to see whether the new peace offensive extends to concrete German and perhaps Austrian proposals. It will be a clear tip-off to one aspect of the Russian purpose.

In the face of a tantalizing appeal to the Germans, it would be hard for free men everywhere to keep remembering that the Kremlin still wants to conquer the world. But no matter what happens, we must stay alive to this peril, and get ready to meet it.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson (Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Secretary Dulles had some differences regarding Eisenhower speech; Bureau of Standards ruckus may cripple vital defense work; Diplomatic grapevine reports Malenkov deposed.

WASHINGTON—It's significant that the "big speech" delivered by President Eisenhower last week was prepared and launched while Secretary of State Dulles, the alleged chief architect of American foreign policy was out of town.

It's also significant that there was some difference of opinion between the man who supposedly guides foreign affairs and a White House adviser who has become extremely close to Ike—C. D. Jackson, former publisher of Fortune magazine.

At first Dulles didn't entirely like the idea of the speech Jackson pushed it hard. And it's barely possible that the speech might not have been delivered had it not been for the much-publicized Dulles gress borer which the President of the United States officially denied.

This included the background statements on Korean peace terms and on Formosa which Dulles dropped at a gathering of newsmen, and which quickly reverberated around the globe.

Prior to this, Dulles had intimated to Jackson that he should keep his nose out of State Department business. After the Dulles flub however, Jackson had the upper hand.

Dulles' skepticism regarding the speech was based on the reasoning that senators wouldn't like it, that it too closely patterned the "milk for every Hottentot" idea of Henry Wallace, and that the United States needed to take a more cautious approach.

Jackson, on the other hand, argued that the United States couldn't play second fiddle to the Russians regarding world peace, that we must either grasp the present opportunity to lead the world, or quit kidding ourselves about world leadership.

Dangerous Hair-Pulling
One of the most important and secret weapons of the Defense Department may get sabotaged as the result of the hair-pulling contest over the Bureau of Standards.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, who fired Dr. Allen Astin, director of the bureau, is plagued at the Defense Department because it has been referring work to the bureau which Weeks thinks should be done by private enterprise.

But the Defense Department, in turn, is worried over the fact that the man who developed the proximity fuse is being fired, although he happens to be a Republican, and first was appointed under a Republican Administration.

Now the man who developed the proximity fuse is being fired, although he happens to be a Republican, and first was appointed under a Republican Administration.

Q—Where did the name "The Divine Sarah" for Sarah Bernhardt, originate?

Q—At what rate is the population of the United States increasing?

Q—Who was the first combat photographer?

3. Malenkov's strange silence on affairs of state. The most popular move by the new government was the order freeing 2,000,000 Stalin prisoners. Yet it was not signed by Malenkov.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Recent Serious News Leaks May Result In Crackdown

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—A tightening up on leaks of inside information by top-level officials now is being seriously considered by the Eisenhower Administration.

If this proposed crackdown on news leaks to the press finally is adopted, only one important loophole would be left open. This would be a provision for the release of what are known as trial balloons, to test what public reaction would be to a proposed policy.

These would be authorized leaks. One official would be designated to give out certain information for news dispatches and broadcast reports, without revelation of the source.

The need for some such policy as this has been heightened in the last week by two serious news leaks. One involved the Department of State, the other Department of Defense policies.

In both cases, groups of reporters regularly assigned to Pentagon and State Department had arranged off-the-record conferences in which they were to be briefed on upcoming policies.

The off-the-record or background conference is an old device in Washington. It is valuable to reporters in that it keeps them advised on current developments. It helps them prepare for future news breaks.

Most important of all, it prevents reporters from going wrong in important stories, by furnishing them with explanations of inside facts which cannot be printed without harming national security.

Reputable reporters honor the rules of the background conference without question. Honoring confidences is one of the first rules of the business.

The trouble is, there sometimes is an eager beaver who breaks the rules. The new officials in the Eisenhower Administration are learning this the hard way.

In the recent Department of Defense case, news about an important change in defense production schedules got out before the detailed planning of the shift had been completed.

The result may or may not have had something to do with the downward plunge of the stock market. More important than that, however, was the possibility that many defense contractors were caused to do some frantic scrambling to see if their plants were going to be closed down. And their employees may have been forced to start worrying about how long their jobs would last.

In the State Department case, there was a speculative discussion on possible outcomes of Korean peace talks. One idea presented was a division of Korea at the narrow waist above the 38th Parallel.

Other was the possibility of placing Formosa under a United Nations trusteeship. When these ideas were printed and broadcast as policies already adopted by the Administration, they drew firm denials from both the White House and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles that any such statements had come from those sources.

Bound To Secrecy
If the public is confused by all these goings on, it is small wonder.

Obviously had not believed the sex: "Gloria's all right."

Now that he had his prize, Mannerling was anxious to make sure that nothing damaged or destroyed it; the seed box was put on a high shelf in a store room, and the door locked. Mannerling pocketed the key. Abel went off to his quarters above the stables; Wirral made his nightly tour of the house to look up; a footman brought in a salad and some sandwiches and coffee.

Mannerling went with Lorna to see Gloria, who was very pale, but sleeping soundly. Lady Bream looked up at him from the side of the bed, her eyes heavy with sleep and with anxiety.

Have A Laugh
An Englishman said to an American, "The increasing divorce rate in the United States is rapidly making America the land of the free."

"I'll go and see Abel. Is Gloria getting up, do you know?" "I advised her to stay in bed until the doctor coming, diverse rate in the United States is rapidly making America the land of the free."

"Thank me!" "I'm sure, sir. And a better horse— the groom broke off, and cleared his throat. "Could you spare me a few minutes right now, sir?"

"Of course." "I've something to show you," said Abel importantly.

HE led the way into a small, brick hut, a cross between a storage shed and a potting shed. There were piles of seedling boxes, flower pots, tools, sacks of potash, rope and twine and along the wall, a wooden bench which looked as if it had been there as long as the brick hut itself.

On the bench, spread out, were tufts of grass, their roots still embedded in the rich, dark soil of the parkland. Mannerling's eyes brightened as he saw the dark, brownish stains on the grass and guessed what they were, but he did nothing to spoil Abel's triumph.

"Them's bloodstains!" announced Abel. "Bloodstains?" "Ay, ay—sure as I'm here," said Abel. "You hit that creature last night, sir. First thing this morning, I went down to the thicket and saw the blood on the grass. I've seen dried blood often enough to know what that's like, sir, any man who does a little, sir, any man knows how it stains grass. And I thought you'd like it if I preserved it." (To Be Continued)

BOOKS FOR THE BARON

by Anthony Morton Baron

ABEL drew up. His companion was a tall, young footman. Soon they were joined by another, a man with curly black hair. He carried the rade; the groom had sent for it. They lodged the powerful torch in the fork between a branch and a tree trunk, so that it shone on the pool and the paw-marks, and under Mannerling's instructions, set to work. Abel had brought a bottle of water, for mixing the plaster, and wielded the trowel expertly. The almy whitish paste made a little castle in the seed box, and Mannerling took a lump on the trowel and placed it gently into the paw mark. He set the footman looking for other marks, and the man found three, but none was so clear as the first they'd found. Nevertheless, Mannerling put the plaster into them, and by the time that was finished the plaster on the first was dry.

It was past 11 o'clock. Mannerling was tired from the day's exciting events and now he began to worry about Gloria. It seemed a long time before he stepped into the hall, with Abel at his side.

Lorna came hurrying out of the drawing room. "What was the shooting, John?" "I was nervous," said Mannerling. "How's Gloria?" She accepted the explanation without argument, although she

They had finished breakfast, and a clock was striking half past nine, when Wirral came in with the morning papers. Out of the front page, the face of Derek Peacock looked at him, young, eager, smiling. Above Derek was a photograph of his mother, and below, one of Mannerling.

Chattering had excited himself; and undoubtedly the Peacocks would treasure that newspaper for the rest of their lives. There was no hint that the affair in Bayswater was connected with

MHS Seniors To Give Hart-Kaufman Play

"You Can't Take It With You," a lively comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, is scheduled for presentation by the Midland High School Senior Class at 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday in the high school auditorium. The play, set in the 1930's, is the story of a family that has relaxed, and accepted the fact that "you can't take it with you." Each person has his own hobby or eccentricity, and the living room of their home resembles a museum—with a printing press and a xylophone in one corner, a bowl of snakes on a nearby table, and numerous other similar articles scattered casually about. Directing satirical jibes at government, "relief," income tax and Wall Street, the story leaps gleefully from one hilarious situation to another. The climax comes when the whole family, along with the prominent parents of Tony, suitor of the family's lovely daughter, Alice, are thrown into jail for circulating "Communist" slogans. One of the comedy highlights comes when Tony's mother is placed in the same cell with a strip-leaser, who insists on singing an "appropriate" song as the mother undresses for the night. The production is directed by Verma Harris. Cast members are James Johnson, Joycelyn Newberry, Steve Thorson, Carol Garrison, Bill Robitsek, Jimmie Counts, Judi LeFever, Benny Bedford, Patsy Yeager, Dan Ratcliff, John Petty, Charles Whitmore, Evelyn Hejl, Elaine Johnson, Roy Thomas, Ray Young, Don Dwight, Royce Measures and Helen Heidelberg. Admission will be 40 cents for students and 60 cents for adults.

Joyful Ex-Prisoners Reveal Treatment By Reds Varies With Truce Negotiations

By ROBERT SUNSON
FREEDOM VILLAGE, KOREA—Americans and fellow United Nations soldiers freed Monday from Communist prison stockades said the Reds treated them fairly well—particularly after the truce negotiations began—but did try to convert them to communism.

All agreed it was wonderful to be free.

Lt. Roy M. Jones, Minneapolis, Minn., said Communist treatment was "unbelievably poor" before the truce talks began, but the quality improved somewhat and varied with the ups and downs of the negotiations.

Glad To Be Home
 Pfc. Raymond H. Medina of the Bronx, N. Y., summed up the thoughts of most returning prisoners when he said simply: "I'll be glad to be home."

Cpl. James Lee Pinkston, Salisbury, N. C., said the Reds told the prisoners Allied troops had waged germ warfare in Korea and "some believed it."

Pinkston said the Reds showed "no partiality" to prisoners who seemed favorable toward propaganda.

Many of the 30 Americans and other UN troops willingly faced a battery of newsmen, photographers and television cameras on their arrival in this tent city, first stop on the road home.

Treatment Improves
 Jones, a First Cavalry Division veteran who was captured in the Winter of 1950, said, "The treatment prior to the peace negotiations, started in 1951, was unbelievably poor. When the peace negotiations started, treatment got better."

"I refer in particular to food, housing, clothing and the conditions under which men were forced to travel and march."

"It certainly feels wonderful to be a free man again."

He said that the Communist treatment also varied with the progress shown by the armistice negotiations.

He is listed as a pleurisy patient.

He said prior to the armistice negotiations the "Chinese had a political indoctrination course that was required attendance up to the beginning of 1952."

Segregated By Rank
 Then the Reds suddenly dropped it.

He said officers and enlisted prisoners were segregated in Communist camps and the Reds made a bigger effort to indoctrinate the enlisted men.

He said Allied enlisted personnel generally received better treatment than captured officers but "it would be hard to say how in a very few minutes."

Jones was captured when his regiment was cut off.

He said the morale of the officers held by the Communists still was quite good.

"I saw a certain amount of Russian civilian personnel" in North Korea, he said.

On the attempt of the Communists to teach politics in the prison camps, Medina said the Communists had classes for the POW's "almost every day. Lately, they have—you know—lessened down."

Pvt. David Ludlum of Fort Wayne, Ind., said that for three or four months attendance was required at classes in communism.

Outside the tent where the former captives were interviewed there was considerable tension and motion as the first soldiers arrived by ambulance.

A British prisoner stepping out of an ambulance was so overcome that he threw his arms around an American lieutenant and burst into tears.

Prison Camp Bombed
 Sfc. Robert Lee of Columbus, Ga., and Troy, Ala., complained that he received no medical treatment during 29 months imprisonment.

"I've never been so happy to see a bunch of Americans in my life," he declared.

Pinkston said his camp was bombed by Allied planes once but no one was hurt.

Pvt. Carl W. Kirchenhausen of New York said a minority of prisoners had been influenced by Red propaganda. He said the camp library was full of Communist literature with "very few novels."

Drinking Moonshine
 Pfc. Donald LeGay of Leominster, Mass., reported there were many sick and wounded still in Red camps. LeGay said the night before they left they held "a pretty good party with wine and beer."

He said prisoners were furnished with another drink which he compared to "moonshine."

One of the first patients brought in the tent for an interview was Pfc. Robert Stell of Baltimore, one of the first patients flown into Freedom Village by helicopter.

He said simply:

Lost His Hat
 "I want to express my sincere gratitude for all that was done to return the prisoners of war."

As Stell, a negro, was being taken out he looked up and said: "I've lost my hat."

Cpl. Kenyon Wagner of Detroit said, "I was treated very well," adding the Reds gave him aureomycin and streptomycin—"the whole works."

Pfc. Almond I. Noland of Rexville, N. Y., didn't think the treatment was "too bad," although the first winter was pretty rough. Noland was captured in December, 1950.

Meek Floyd Hill Recaptured In Home On Dallas Outskirts

DALLAS—(AP)—Floyd Hill, leader of a mass jail break and wanted in a $248,000 Fort Worth hotel robbery, was dropped from the FBI's list of 10 most wanted fugitives following his capture here.

The scar-faced 40-year-old former Alcatraz inmate was taken without a struggle in a house near here late Saturday night.

Hill had a revolver when agents closed in on the home of James Roy Sistrunk, 41, sheet metal worker, a half mile southeast of here. There was another gun in the house, but Hill gave up meekly.

EDUCATION CHIEF?—Myron Law Koenig appears the No. 1 candidate for appointment as U. S. Commissioner of Education. The 42-year-old educator is dean of the Junior College of the George Washington University located at Washington, D. C.

Hill was to be transferred from jail here to authorities in Fort Worth where the jail break happened February 18.

J. K. Mumford, FBI agent in charge, filed charges of harboring a known fugitive against Sistrunk and his wife Ruth, 33. The two were held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Mumford said Hill arrived at the house Saturday. He had been hunted since he led nine other prisoners in a break from Fort Worth's Tarrant County jail. All others were recaptured previously.

Hill was arrested a few weeks earlier in a wooded ravine where officers lay in wait for him at Azle near Fort Worth. He appeared with a hoe in his hand. Officers recovered a buried jug containing $128,000.

Hill was indicted for robbery in the holdup of two Cuban revolutionaries last October in a fashionable hotel in Fort Worth.

21,000 See 28-Pounder Win 'Sooner' Rattlesnake Rodeo

OKMENE, OKLA. (AP)—A six-foot seven-inch rattlesnake was resting placidly under an old log in the rocky gypsum hills 10 miles north of here Sunday.

Suddenly two men yanked the 28-pound reptile from under the log, dodged his furious thrusts, paid little attention to the poison-packed fangs, and pinned his head to the ground with a forked stick.

One of the men grabbed the rattling tail and shoved it into a sack. Before long the entire snake was covered, a victim of the fourteenth annual Okene Rattler Rodeo.

"Tiny," as his captors preferred to call him, turned out to be the biggest catch of the day. The unarmed hunters were Ralph Kramer, from San Diego, and Bob Bates, 26, Midwest City, Okla.

A record crowd of 21,000 from all over the United States turned out in unseasonably cool weather for the big event, the climax of the annual rattlesnake season in Oklahoma.

No one was bitten.

Warfare Dies Down On Front As Prisoners Are Exchanged

SEOUL (AP)—Fighting along the 155-mile Korean battlefield sputtered briefly then all but died out Monday as the warring armies swapped prisoners at Panmunjom.

Aside from a few patrol contacts the Reds threw only three light probing attacks against Allied forward positions, the Eighth Army said.

Murky weather grounded most UN warplanes today following Sunday's mammoth assault against Communist front-line positions. The Fifth Air Force called it the biggest close-support effort in six months.

More than 225 jet and propeller-driven fighter-bombers dropped fire and explosives on the Red lines from dawn to dusk, concentrating on the Western Front.

There was a brief air alert in the Seoul area Sunday night when three to five Red planes circled the big west coast port of Incheon and Kimpo Airfield. No bombs were dropped.

The Navy announced that a shell from a Red shore battery south of Wonsan hit the main deck of the U. S. destroyer Kyes Sunday, causing only superficial damage.

Presidential Health Gains While Golf Score Worsens

AUGUSTA, GA. (AP)—President Eisenhower and Senate Republican Leader Taft—a couple of golfers somewhat unhappy about their scores—hoped to do better in another joust with par Monday.

The President and the Ohio senator played 18 holes at the Augusta National course Sunday but kept their tallies a deep secret.

"They said both their scores were so bad they didn't want anyone to know," Presidential Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters, who were barred from the course.

Hagerty said he tried hard to learn the scores but got only an indication "they were pretty high."

The only other time Eisenhower and Taft played together—two weeks ago in Washington—the President shot a 98 for 18 holes and the senator had a 94.

AP Directors Note 'No Progress' Made In Freeing Newsmen

NEW YORK (AP)—The Board of Directors of The Associated Press said Monday there has been no "substantial, discernible progress" toward obtaining the release of William N. Oatis from a Czechoslovakian jail.

Oatis, chief of the AP bureau in Prague, was jailed two years ago on charges of espionage. He is under a 10-year sentence.

The board noted also, in its report for the annual membership meeting of The Associated Press, world-wide news-gathering co-operative that another AP employe, photographer Frank Noel, still is a prisoner of war in Korea.

"Freedom-loving people everywhere continue to denounce the detention of Oatis and demand his release," the board said. "The Czech government thus far has turned a deaf ear to pleas based on humanitarianism and has been equally unresponsive to the economic and political pressures imposed as a result of the treatment of Oatis. It is the board's fervent hope that before the members assemble again, Oatis' freedom will have been restored."

The board said available information indicated that both Oatis and Noel are in "reasonably good health and receiving humane treatment. Prolonged incarceration, however, must be as galling to them as our failure to effect their release is frustrating to us."

"Every possible effort is being exerted in their behalf," the board said.

Readers Criticize Choice Of Words

During the week of March 22 this column referred to TURF SPECIAL Fertilizer as "gorgeous." Several of our readers, (and we do have some, it seems), made some pointed remarks in our hearing about "ignorance," "unlettered," "uneducated," to which we agree, but not about gorgeous Turf Special.

We went down and bought a dictionary, two of them, in fact—nothing like being well-armed. The American College Dictionary defines the word, "sumptuous; magnificent; splendid in appearance or coloring." The synonyms are "rich, superb, grand, brilliant, resplendent." Webster's adds one more word, "sublime," to which we agree, but not about gorgeous Turf Special.

Now, how about you going back and reading that last paragraph again, and take a good think about those words? Alright, alright, so we were wrong! The Turf Special isn't gorgeous. It's only your own lawn that will be gorgeous. You try Turf Special this season and see for yourself how those words will fit: sumptuous, magnificent, rich, superb, grand, etc.

Illiterate are we, Joe? We'll show you!

Fire Razes Former Night Club, Valuable Collection Of Art

DALLAS (AP)—A raging fire destroyed an art collection and the Bacardi, a former swanky night club, west of here Sunday with a loss estimated at $1,150,000.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Newton of Dallas owned the ornate building on Highway 80 and planned to open it as an art museum. They said the loss included "a lifetime of art treasures."

Firemen were hampered by some 200 padlocks, as many as two or three on every door.

Mrs. Newton, a dentist known professionally as Dr. Cosette Faust Newton, said the art losses included a Gainsborough and a Van Dyke and "one of the finest collections of Japanese prints in the world."

Only a few Japanese prints valued at $700 were saved as the building burned. She said about $20,000 insurance was carried on the art collection and the same amount on the building.

Dr. Newton, a surgeon, was the only person in the building. He said he slept there Saturday night when a caretaker failed to show up.

Early Losses Paying Off Now For Tribe; Oilers Victims, 15-4

By ABE WEINER
Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff
 The Midland Indians' early exhibition losses to superior competition currently is paying fat dividends over foes of equal caliber. When the Jay Hansymen were taking some hard knocks from clubs like Austin, Brooks Army Medical Center, Clinton Oilers, Temple and Wichita Falls, the future looked bleak. But against Longhorn League competition, the Indians have been on the warpath and Sunday finished up their exhibition season with four scalps in their last five attempts.

The Odessa Oilers—Sunday's victims by a 15-4 count—will attest that the Indians' batting eyes were well honed by the topnotch pitching they faced in South Texas and on the way home where they won only one while dropping five. Hansy's crew started in on Odessa's Starter Frank Mehal in the opening inning with two hits and two runs and didn't quit until Haney himself ended the bottom of the eighth by bouncing out to end the Indians' last turn at bat. Jim Prince and Julio de la Torre led the Tribe's 17-hit attack with three hits apiece, including three of the six doubles the Indians managed off of Mehal and his successor, Al Sokolowski. Meanwhile, Bud Siak had a say time putting the Oilers away on two runs and six hits in seven innings before turning the pitching chores over to Romarico Soto, who yielded four hits and two runs in the final two frames. So vicious was the Indians' attack that they batted around twice—once in the fourth, when they finally chased Mehal after picking up a total of 11 runs off 13 hits, and again in the seventh, when Sokolowski hit a wild streak and loaded the bases to open the inning. A walk to Roger Dalla Betta, successive singles by Scooter Hughes and Art Bowland and a couple of infield outs produced the first two Tribe markers in the first. The real barrage came in the third, when Jim Prince doubled with one down and was followed by Tex Stephenson and De la Torre with singles and Bill Brown's double, with a wild pitch and an error by Left Fielder Roberto Fabian intermingled. That produced four runs. Odessa scored in the fourth on Roman Loyko's single, a fielder's choice, an error by Hughes and Pepper Martin's double. But the Tribe avenged the mishap in their half with five runs on five hits, including Prince's second double, one by Siak, and an error by Shortstop Raul Dieppa. Odessa picked up single runs in the seventh on two hits and an outfield fly, in the eighth on an error by Prince a single by Felix Castro and an infield out, and in the ninth on singles by Loyko, Leo Eastham and Pepper Martin. Midland's seventh found Milt Wallendorf, Clinton Basco and Hughes walking and Bowland clearing the sacks with a double. He scored shortly after on Prince's single for the final Midland run. Stephenson suffered a chipped molar in the ninth inning when he and Right Fielder Hayden White collided in attempting to field Barney Batson's long fly to right center. He is expected to be ready when the Indians open the league season in Odessa Tuesday night.

MECHANICS OF PITCHING—New York University pitchers, left to right, Shelly Lipson, Vinnie Lupica, Irwin Geringer and Bill Oster sit in wonderment watching the team's new automatic pitching machine take over batting practice. Becoming widely popular in college baseball, the I-Q Pitcher operates with the same motion as a human hurler, can throw anything from a slow ball to a fast one. (NEA)

Kellner Has Yanks' Number

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1963 major league baseball season is going to be chock-full of surprises, if the first week is any criterion. Just look what happened Sunday, the first Sunday of the campaign, and only the seventh playing day. Alex Kellner, who dropped six of seven decisions to the New York Yankees last year, shut out the world champions for the second time within six days. The tall Philadelphia Athletics' left-hander became the first pitcher in 29 years to blank the Yanks twice in a row.

two-hitting them, 3-0, in the second game of Sunday's doubleheader. He turned them back, 5-0, on five hits in the opening day. Bobby Shantz, who didn't lose two in a row last year until early in September, dropped his second straight start when the Yanks defeated him, 5-2, in the first game. The Yankees also took him to camp, 4-1, last Wednesday. The St. Louis Browns, generally picked to finish deep in the second division, are leading the American League Monday with five triumphs in six games. An 11-inning 6-3 win over the Tigers Sunday gave the Browns a sweep of the three-game series in Detroit and extended their winning streak to four in a row. Walter Masterson, discarded by the Red Sox last summer as all washed up, turned on his former mates with a five-hitter, fanning nine, as he pitched the Washington Senators to a 4-0 triumph over Boston. Although they accumulated only nine hits off five Pittsburgh pitchers, the Brooklyn Dodgers were recipients of 14 bases on balls and stole four bases to overwhelm the Pirates, 12-4. The result boosted the Dodgers' first-place lead in the National League to one full game over St. Louis and dropped the Pirates into the cellar with four defeats in five starts. The Cardinals scored two runs on two Milwaukee double plays, enough to give them a 4-3 victory over the Braves in a game that was halted in the first inning because of a snow-hurry. A blinding snow, incidentally halted the Dodge-Pirates game in Pittsburgh for 37 minutes. Snow, rain and cold weather forced postponements of scheduled doubleheaders between Cleveland and the White Sox in Chicago, and Chicago and the Redlegs in Cincinnati. Unplayable weather conditions also wiped out a scheduled game between the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Giants at the Polo Grounds. Kellner's feat highlighted Sunday's diamond activities. The 28-year-old native of Tucson, Ariz., did not walk a batter. He faced only 28 Yankees. A double and triple by Gene Woodling spoiled his bid for a no-hitter. The A's collected 10 hits off loser Jim McDonald and Whitey Ford but Gus Zernial's home run was all Kellner needed. Two-run singles by veteran Johnny Mize and rookie Bill Renna helped Ewell Blackwell to his first game win. A three-run outburst in the eleventh highlighted by Bobby Young's clutch single and daring base-running, gave the Browns their uphill win over Detroit. Relief pitcher Marlin Stuart, former Tiger, gained his second win over his former mates in two days. Satchel Paige, the ageless wonder, saved Stuart's win with a neat relief job, his third in the last four games. Ned Garver, traded by St. Louis to Detroit last August, lost his second straight to his ex-teammates. Jackie Jensen's double and triple paced the Senators to their first victory of the year. Roy Campanella and Duke Snider drove in four runs apiece, Jackie Robinson reached base for the eighth straight time and rookie Junior Gilliam stole three bases as the Dodgers made it three in a row over the hapless Pirates. Stan Musial's first home run, in the fifth inning, snapped a 3-3 tie and gave the Cardinals their second win in three games to boost them into second place. Bill Bruton, the flashy Braves rookie center fielder, continued his spectacular hitting, collecting two of Milwaukee's eight safeties, to give him 10 hits in 18 times at bat.

Colts Stave Off Bid From Veterans, 7-6
 The Midland Colts' charmed life became more evident Sunday as they battled from behind and then stayed off a ninth-inning counter rally by Fort Stockton to win their third in a row, 7-6. Three hits, a walk and a Fort Stockton error enabled the Colts to push across four runs in the bottom of the eighth and they needed all four as the Veterans bounced back for two in the ninth. Al Rodriguez, who went the route for the Colts, choked off the rally in time to preserve the victory. Lee Zelard paced the Colt attack with three for four including a double. G. Gonzales smashed a triple for the losers. The Colts go to Alpine Sunday to meet the Internationals there at Kokernot Park. USGA To Talk Ways To Stop Calcutta Pool

DALLAS —(P)—Increased gambling in Calcutta pool lotteries on golf courses will be discussed this week at a meeting of the United States Golf Association Executive Committee in Pinehurst, N. C. Bill Castleman of Dallas, a member of the committee, said "the Calcutta business is being taken over by professional gamblers interested."

"At a recent Florida tournament, the Calcutta ran over $60,000," Castleman said, "this is dangerous to golf, and I'm sure club operators, as well as the players themselves, realize the entanglement of such vast operations."

The USGA also is due to take up an application for reinstatement by Don January, North Texas State College golfer. His amateur status was removed because of golf teaching at the college.

Ford At Last Steps On Top To Win Prize

VIRGINIA BEACH, VA. —(P)—Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., has abandoned his role as professional golfer's hard luck guy.

He shed the cloak of ill fortune Sunday when he came out on top in the $12,500 Virginia Beach Open. He had rounds of 63-65-67-67 for a 72-hole total of 262. Four other times this year, he had victory practically in the palm of his hand but lost every time.

Ford came mighty close to missing out on this title. When he started out over the par-80 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course in Sunday's fourth round, he was worried about three foes — Dick Metz of Maple City, Kan., Francis (Bo) Wimmer of Oklahoma City and Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y.

Metz threatened three strokes behind Ford. Demaret trailed by four, and Demaret, thanks to a sizzling 63 Saturday, was five strokes off the pace.

None of them was equal to the task of overhauling Ford. However, a 30-year-old comparatively unknown pro named Ansel Snow wiped out all the seven strokes that separated him from Ford and then faded under pressure on the last three holes.

Snow was sinking birdie and eagle puts all over the 6,065-yard course and finished with a seven-under-par 62 in Sunday's round for a 72-hole total of 264—two strokes behind Ford. Second place brought him $1,500.

Demaret was third with a 267, and Metz took fourth with a 270. Wimmer's 271 was good for fifth. Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., and Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., tied for sixth with 272. A stroke behind them were John O'Donnell of Norfolk, Va., Jack Shields of Glenaesle, Ill., and Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Texas.

Firing Begins In Golf Fight At Ranchland

The first golfers of about 200 expected entries were set Monday to open weeklong qualifying in the first annual Reporter-Telegram City Championship match play tournament being played over the 6,624-yard Ranchland Hill Country Club course.

Tourney Director Abe Beckman, Ranchland pro, said a number of players would be on hand Monday with Tuesday the first real big day of action. Many golfers have a San Jacinto Day holiday and will be on the course to take advantage of early qualifying.

This year's meet is the first to decide an overall Midland champion, and early interest created among the players indicated that it would require 10 to 15 flights of 18 golfers each to handle the field.

Qualifying runs through next Sunday when the field narrows mostly to those who bid especially for the medalist honors. First round matches start May 1, second round on May 2 and the semi-finals and finals set for May 3.

Beckman said that most of the early-week rounds would have the golfers starting off from regular tees each hole while next Sunday the top flighters will drive from the longer ranges. Par at Ranchland is 36-35-71.

As for favorites, nine golfers are being mentioned foremost. They are past Champion Bill Wortman, Red Watkins and Kit Carson of Ranchland, Johnny Sherrard and Buddy Branum from Ranchland and Jimmy Stone, Vann Ligon, Jimmy Smith and Roy Lockett, Midland Country Club members.

The journey champion, will receive, besides the regular flight winner's prizes, a huge 28-inch City Championship trophy and accompanying individual loving cup for permanent possession. The big trophy will be rotated yearly among the annual champions until the player has captured it three times.

Jack Shier led off the first entries Saturday and by Sunday 16 players were registered at the Ranchland Club. A number of others were expected to sign for play with Pro Boyd Huff of Midland Country Club, who is on the tourney committee.

Besides Shier, the others on line were Tippy Schmitt, Tommy Withrow, Sherrod, Harold McClure, Watkins, Randy Brown, Clyde Turner, J. B. Worley, H. D. Eikenburg, Sam Coker, Jr., Paul Jordan, C. W. Chancellor, Jr., John Watts, Wortman and Ed Kent.

Beckman invited all players who aren't members of the club to post their entries and get acquainted on the course. As soon as a player enters, Beckman said, he is eligible to take advantage of practice rounds all this week and through the May 3 final day.

Besides the city championship, a West Texas-Pro Am Tourney is scheduled in for the Ranchland Hill layout on April 30, enabling most of the players to get into an under-pressure round on the eve of the first matches.

'Big Three' In SWC Vie This Week

By The Associated Press
Southern Methodist, Baylor and Texas fight it out this week in a couple of games that could have a far-reaching effect on the Southwest Conference Baseball race.

SMU and Baylor, in a virtual tie for the lead, meet at Waco Tuesday. Saturday Baylor goes to Austin to play Texas, which is only a notch below the Methodists and Bears.

Southern Methodist could put a hammerlock on the title by whipping Baylor. But Baylor could take over first place by licking SMU. But should Baylor, in turn, lose to Texas, the race could be thrown into a virtual three-way tie.

Texas has to fight hard for survival. Defeat of the Longhorns by Southern Methodist last week was a heavy blow although Texas isn't out of the race by any means. SMU whipped the Longhorns, 12-3, but Texas roared back to win 10-9 the next day while Baylor was blasting Texas Christian 12-6. The Bears have lost only one game—the same as SMU.

It is the busiest week in conference play of the campaign with seven games counting in the standings.

Boros To Play At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Julius Boros, winner of the National USGA Open championship of last year, will appear in Lubbock for a golf exhibition and clinic Thursday, April 30.

Along with the colorful National Open champion will be Ted Kroll, fifth money winner in 1952 and winner of the El Paso Open tournament this year. Boros was the top money winner of 1952 with $27,022.87 to his credit. He won the national open title on the tough Northwood course at Dallas in June.

The pair will team with Gene Mitchell, Lubbock Country Club professional and Raymond Marshall, club champion, at the Lubbock Country Club. A clinic will be held with Boros, one of the smoothest swingers in golfdom, and Kroll handling the event. This will start at 1:30 p.m. Golf play will start immediately after, at 2 p.m.

Boros won the World Championship of Golf at Tam O' Shanter, Chicago last year, a $30,000 prize, against the world's top field, including Ben Hogan, Sam Snead, and others. He was third in the Bing Crosby play in 1951, runner-up in the Seminole Pro-Am in 1952 and tied for third in the Texas Open last year. He is 33 years of age, born in Fairfield, Conn.

Kroll is a year older, a New Hartford, N. Y. native. He won the San Diego Open in 1952, fourth in the Los Angeles Open and third in the Phoenix Open last year. He finished as a semi-finalist in the national PGA Championship, runner-up in the Motor City Open. He lost in the playoff with Cary Middlecoff for the title.

Tickets for the clinic and exhibition will be $1.50 with 30 cents tax, $1.50 in all. These tickets are available in Lubbock at Sports Center and Baker Sporting Goods Company. The Women's Golf Association of the Lubbock Country Club are handling all details, the committee headed by Mrs. Ruth Nunn.

Walks Cost Ortega Game In Gulf Race

By The Associated Press
Evello Ortega, a familiar figure to Longhorn Leaguers as an Odessa Oiler in the past, was a little too friendly with free passes while pitching for Corpus Christi Sunday in the Gulf Coast League.

Although the southpaw spaced six hits, four walks led to his downfall as he lost a 4-3 pitching duel to Harrington's Capitols. Harrington took the lead in the race. In other games, Port Arthur beat Texas City, 4-0. Galveston nipped Lake Charles, 9-6, and Laredo edged Brownsville, 8-7, in 10 innings.

George Glass, Jr., Takes Two Crowns At Pan-Am Shoot

DALLAS —(P)—Henry Adler of Dallas won a shoot-off with John Shock of Columbia, Mo., to take the high-over-all event and the championship of the annual Pan-American Skeeet Shoot at the Dallas Gun Club Sunday.

James P. Stotts of Abilene won the industry all-bore chase with 197 x 200.

George Glass, Jr. of Midland figured in two titles. His 192 x 200 won the collegiate individual crown. He teamed with his father to win the parent and child trophy at 385 x 400.

John Crisman, rookie pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, was a paratrooper during World War II.

BABE ZAHARIAS 'FEELING FINE,' WON'T DISCUSS PLAYING AGAIN

BEAUMONT—(P)—Babe Zaharias, who has been the most obnoxious person of all although she is the one who had to undergo the operation, was "feeling fine" Monday. The famed woman athlete was reported in excellent spirits but wasn't talking about chances of returning to golf.

Mrs. Zaharias, who underwent an operation to remove a malignant melanoma, still wasn't receiving visitors.

But Betty Dodd, a professional golfer who had been making the tour with Babe, said Mrs. Zaharias' spirits were high. "She is doing all the good," said Miss Dodd. "She is in fine spirits. She always is."

The operation was pronounced a success, but no one has predicted that Mrs. Zaharias ever again will play championship golf. The Babe will be in the hospital several weeks. Then she plans to go to Colorado to rest and fish.

SPORTS PATROL— Follow Through For Birds—Armour

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK—(P)—There must be a couple of million thwarted golfers in this country, besides me, who have been wondering all these years why it is so tremendously important to follow through.

Every book of instruction we ever waded through warned on every fourth page that the pupil who didn't follow through was a gone goblin.

We have sat many times and pondered this strange aspect of an otherwise fairly uncomplicated game. Why, we would ask ourselves, is it necessary for a player to strike a picture pose, his club poised gracefully over his off-shoulder, after he already has slugged the ball and it is long since on its way toward the woods?

We had about despaired of ever finding the answer, and when the mailman dropped Tommy Armour's "How to Learn Your Best Golf" on our desk it was with some resignation that we prepared to absorb one more lesson how to follow through. We were not equipped for the emotional experience which followed.

"You may find to your horror," says the Grey Scot without warning, "that I never mention or picture the complete follow-through except in discussing bunker shots. That means I've left out some very graceful and eye-catching pictures I could have used in this book."

"But I'm convinced that any emphasis on the follow-through in golf instruction is just one more thing for the pupil to remember, and one which won't help him. There are two reasons for this."

"First, if the ball is hit correctly, it's on its way anyhow, and it doesn't matter how you follow through, and if it has been hit correctly you are bound to follow through naturally. Secondly, it's a peculiar thing, but the people who concentrate specifically on following through often are the very ones who quit on a shot in the actual hitting area."

AND YOU'LL BE RIGHT— Pick Texas League Underdog

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
DALLAS—(P)—Here's a tip on the Texas League: pick the club that has the least obvious chances of winning the pennant and you'll be right most of the time.

Take last year when Shreveport and Oklahoma City won the playoffs and Shreveport grabbed the pennant.

And now there's Tulsa. The Oilers were supposed to be good practice only for the big shots like Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth. But Tulsa Monday is leading the league. Down occupying the three last places are Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston.

Fort Worth was the victim Sunday night as Tulsa pushed into undisputed first place. The Oilers clipped the Cats, 7-2, as Ed Bailey went on a long-ball hitting rampage. He clouted two home runs to drive in five tallies.

Houston was losing again, taking it on the chin from San Antonio, 6-4. It mired the Buffs deep in the cellar. They've won only two games out of 10.

Dallas continued to perk up. The Eagles beat Oklahoma City, 6-1, for their second straight triumph. But they hadn't won a game since the season opener until they found the Indians to be their cousins.

Shreveport blasted Beaumont, 13-6, to move into a tie for second place with San Antonio and Beaumont.

The Tulsa-Fort Worth game was a battle of homers. Besides Bailey's two, Ed Baxes parked the ball for Fort Worth a mate on base. Dallas got three-hit pitching from Red Murrif to lick Oklahoma City. The red-haired one walked seven, however, and was forever in trouble. The Eagles bounced seven hits.

San Antonio came from behind to edge Houston. The Missions tied it up in the ninth with one run and won it in the eleventh with two. Al Pappi walked two Missions with the bases full to give San Antonio its margin.

Shreveport and Beaumont each clubbed 14 hits but four Beaumont pitchers gave a total of 13 bases on balls—and that was the difference.

NATO ALLIES MEET IN PARIS—

Dulles To Urge Long-Term Defense Program For West

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON —(P)— Secretary of State Dulles flies to Paris this week to advocate a long-range European defense program designed to meet a continuing Soviet threat over a period of 20 or 30 years.
Dulles says that what he calls the Soviet "peace defensive" has produced no evidence to indicate the Kremlin is abandoning aggressive policies or that the free world would be justified in letting down its guard.
He does say it may bring an armistice in Korea.
The secretary told the American Society of Newspaper Editors here Saturday night that Russia has yet to respond in action to the test which President Eisenhower outlined in his world peace plan last Thursday.
Eisenhower called for a series of settlements beginning with a Korean truce and running through the ending of other Far Eastern conflicts, the conclusion of treaties for Germany and Austria and freedom for European satellites, and finally to agreement on global disarmament.

Senator Taft of Ohio, the Republican leader in the Senate, said in a weekend interview that any Korean armistice not based on settlement of Far Eastern problems generally would leave Korea permanently divided.
Overall Settlement
"Every effort should be put into attempts to settle the overriding issues of the Far East—to end the Communist threats against Indochina and Malaya—as a part of the Korean truce agreement," Taft said.
"Of course, it would be better to have a cease-fire in Korea than to continue a stalemate there, but I don't think we will ever get a united Korea by merely agreeing to stop the shooting."
"We will have to settle all the questions of the Far East at one bite."
Dulles told the editors the Soviet Union still has to demonstrate whether it will abandon an international conspiracy aimed at "overthrowing every genuinely free government in the world."
Until it does so, he made clear, the Eisenhower Administration is convinced that defenses must be maintained fully. This a long-time undertaking, he said, requiring adjustments of programs now under way.
In going to Paris Tuesday, Dulles will head a Cabinet-level delegation including Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Defense Wilson and Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen. They are to represent this country at a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council. It opens Thursday.

While Dulles did not state publicly the possible duration of the European defense system as he envisions it, it is known that the Eisenhower Administration has decided as a matter of policy that the North Atlantic Allies should so organize their military forces and armament production that they will be able to meet any Soviet aggression over the next 20 to 30 years. The Administration has decided this means the Atlantic nations must avoid such a burden of armament as would reduce them to bankruptcy and let the Reds take over by default.

Six Britons Freed By Ko-Reds Arrive In Russian Capital
MOSCOW —(P)—Six British civilians and an Irish priest—freed by the North Koreans—stepped from the Trans-Siberian Express Monday to freedom and a warm British welcome.
They were met at Moscow's Yaroslavl Station after the long train trip across Siberia by Britain's ambassador here, Sir Alvary Gascoigne, and others from the British Embassy.
A special RAP transport plane is due to fly in here Tuesday to return the group to England.
Fourteen French civilians also interned by the North Koreans are due here early next week. The French Embassy announced Sunday night they had been turned over to the Russians at the Siberian border.
Liberation of the civilians was arranged after Gascoigne and French Ambassador Louis Joze asked Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov if Russia would intervene with the Korean Communists.
Molotov also agreed to a U. S. request that the Soviet government aid in obtaining the release of U. S. civilians interned in North Korea since the beginning of the war.

More Than 52,000 Jobs Going Begging

WASHINGTON —(P)— More than 52,000 jobs are going begging, despite a nation-wide search for qualified workers to fill them, the Labor Department said Monday.
Of the total jobs available, the department said in a statement, the toughest to fill are in these categories: mechanical engineers, tool and die makers, elementary school teachers, machine shop workers and unskilled automobile workers.
None of the jobs can be filled from local labor supplies, the statement said, and the search is now going on "through out-of-area and out-of-state recruitment" in which federal and state governments are cooperating.

Weary Crews Gain In Three-Day War On Burning Forest

ALBUQUERQUE —(P)— More than 1,000 weary firefighters hoped to win their three-day battle to check a big forest fire in South-eastern New Mexico Monday. Whether they do depends on the weather.
Since last Friday the men have been racing to encircle the banana-shaped fire area, which now covers 25,500 acres in Lincoln National Forest.
"We'll control it today if the weather holds," said W. L. Hansen, assistant regional forester.
The Weather Bureau said the gusty winds which Friday whipped this and a smaller fire in Arizona out of control might return at any time.

Yoshida Fails To Gain Clear Majority In Japanese Voting

TOKYO —(P)— Pro-American Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party won 42 per cent of the seats in the powerful House of Representatives Sunday but Japan's political picture was as cloudy as ever.
Complete returns Monday showed the second national election in seven months gave the Liberals 199 seats in the 466-member House—not enough to form a single-party government. It was a loss of five seats.
Yoshida had staked his political future on the balloting, hoping for a majority. However, his foremost rivals lost strength and it was possible Yoshida would pick up enough outside strength to form his fifth cabinet.
The Communists placed one man in the House. They had none last time.

With only three seats in doubt, this was the lineup: Liberals, 199; Progressives, 76; Left Socialists, 72; Right Socialists, 66; dissident Liberals, 35; Communist one; others, 17.
Slightly more than 35 million, or 73 per cent, of the electorate turned out.
Political observers had predicted that a coalition of dissident Liberals—who split away from Yoshida last month—with progressives and some Rightist Socialists would rule.
Favored to head such a coalition was either Ichiro Hatoyama, leader of the dissident Liberals, or one-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, Progressive leader.
But the voters turned thumbs down on both Hatoyama and Shigemitsu's parties. Hatoyama had 39 seats in the last hours and lost ground. Shigemitsu, who put up 169 candidates, saw his strength dwindle from 89 seats.

The Rightist Socialists picked up strength from their previous total of 60, while the Leftists made the biggest leap, from a pre-election total of 56.
The Left Socialists, alone among the major parties, stressed a neutral course in the cold war and opposed rearmament.
Yoshida himself easily won reelection.
