Crandell Completes Shallow Sterling Opener On Pump

Paul L. Crandell of Midland has completed a pumping discovery from the San Angelo-Permian lime at his No. 1 T. H. Humble, Southeast Sterling County shallow wildcat.

The new field opener is eight and one-half miles southeast of Sterling City and two and one-half miles north of the Clark (San Andres) field.

It pumped 24 hours on the potential test and made 72 barrels of oil and 30 barrels of water. Gravity of the oil was not reported. There was no gas.

The well was completed naturally. Top of the pay is at 1,479 feet. The seven-inch casing is set at 1,471 feet. Total depth is 1,481 feet.

Location is 300 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 30, block 11, SPRR survey.

Indicated Discovery In E-C Mitchell Is To Cement Casing

Sohio Petroleum Company was preparing to set and cement five and one-half-inch casing in No. 1 Paris Yarbrough, indicated discovery from the Ellenburger in East-Central Mitchell County.

The rank wildcat found additional shows of oil on a drillstem test from 7,362 to 7,371 feet. Tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced in 23 minutes, with no gauge or estimate on volume. No fluid surfaced while tool was open.

Recovery was 2,040 feet of clean oil, gravity 43.2 degrees, and 350 feet of oil and gas-cut mud. Open flowing pressure was from 450 up to 735 pounds. Shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 1,075 pounds.

Top Is Given
The Ellenburger was topped at 7,362 feet, elevation 2,211 feet. A previous drillstem test, from 7,330 to 7,366 feet developed 2,250 feet of clean oil and 90 feet of oil-cut mud, and 90 feet of heavily oil-cut mud on the recovery.

Location is 1,994 feet from south and 2,080 feet from east lines of section 67, block 25, T&P survey and five miles southwest of Lorraine.

Small Pennsylvania Discovery Completed In NE Concho Sector

Amerada Petroleum Corporation has completed No. 1 Whitfield as a small pumping discovery from the Pennsylvania in Northeast Concho County.

The well was potentialized for 731 barrels of 43.8-gravity oil and 77.34 barrels of water in 24 hours.

Total depth of the project is 3,860 feet in the Ellenburger.

Completion was through perforations at 1,660-1,690 feet in seven-inch casing cemented at 1,750 feet.

Pay was acidized with 500 gallons.

Location of the new field opener is 860 feet from south and west line of block 2789, Fisher & Miller original grant survey, A-165. It is three and one-half miles east of Millersview.

Magnolia To Drill Two Projects In Midland Region

Magnolia Petroleum Company staked location for an Ellenburger and a Pennsylvania project in the Pecos (multiple) field of Southwest Midland County.

The concern will drill No. 10-A John Windham as the Ellenburger try 660 feet from south and 860 feet from east lines of section 20, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey. It is 21 miles southwest of the city of Midland. It is slated for a 13,300-foot bottom.

No. 2 State-Class will be dug as the 10,790-foot Pennsylvania test, 860 feet from south and east lines of section 24, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Operator will start at once on both projects.

Humble Scheduled To Drill Three Wildcats In WT

Humble Oil & Refining Company has announced three wildcat operations in West Texas.

San Jacinto Schoolman To Live, Travel In Yugoslavia As Midland 'Ambassador'

Dwain M. Estes, principal of San Jacinto Junior High School, will live and travel in Yugoslavia this Summer as Midland's "ambassador" under the Community Ambassador Project.

Estes, who is in his second year with the Midland Public School System, will live a month with an English-speaking family in Yugoslavia and then spend another month traveling about the country with his foreign hosts. During his last week in the country, Estes may choose to travel alone or with the American experimental group anywhere in Yugoslavia.

The trip, sponsored by the Experiment in International Living, will begin July 1 in New York when Estes boards the Holland-America Lines steamship Groote Beer. He will return to the United States September 14 on SS Waterman.

"Naturally, I am pleased," Estes smiled when told of his selection by J. P. Marchionni, temporary chairman of the Midland Community Ambassador Project, "and I will do all I can to be a good ambassador and represent Midland well."

"I want to use this honor and opportunity to learn more about Yugoslavia and, at the same time, help Yugoslavia learn more about the United States."

An extensive training project will start soon in which the Midland educator will be briefed on important details about political, commercial, industrial, education and social habits and activities in Yugoslavia. He also will gain a background in the history, traditions, customs and habits of the country he is to visit. Members of the briefing committee are Mrs. W. S. Key, Jr. and Mrs. W. W. Studdert.

"When asked what he thought about visiting a Communist country, Estes replied:

"That's what makes Yugoslavia an interesting challenge to me. I want to find out—if I can—what the common man, the man on the street thinks about communism as an economy. I want to find out if he likes the system or would rather have another. This may be a difficult job but I'm going to try it."

Education in Yugoslavia holds top place for Estes. "I want to study their economy and government, but naturally I'm more interested in their educational system—how they operate in their schools and colleges and how they educate their people. I plan to spend a great deal of my time in the schools of Yugoslavia."

The Yugoslav city in which Estes will live has not been decided, but it will be either the capital city of Belgrade or Zagreb.

Estes is one of the men and women between 19 and 30 selected throughout the world on the basis of (1) a sincere interest in working for international understanding, (2) a good academic record, (3) participation in extra-curricular activities, (4) experience in outdoor living, and (5) other constructive interests. Selection is made by a city selection committee in cooperation with the Community Ambassador Office in Putney, Vt.

Estes, a leader throughout his high school and college career, is a member of the Midland Kiwanis Club, president of the Midland County Teachers Association and a member of the First Baptist Church.

Zagreb, in Northern Yugoslavia, or Juhlana, in the northwestern part of the country.

Midland's Ambassador will write weekly letters which will be printed in The Reporter-Telegram. He will return with photographs, slides and exhibits for use in speaking to Midland groups about his studies and observations in Yugoslavia.

The ambassador has a two-fold purpose, Marchionni explained. First, he must represent America—and particularly Midland—in the foreign country, and second, represent the foreign country in Midland.

House Grinds Away; Senate Takes Recess

AUSTIN—(AP)—Conflicting opinions on whether to set up a state-wide toll road authority stalled a House decision on the issue Friday.

Rep. Joe Pyle of Fort Worth asked the House to agree to Senate amendments which would convert a toll road bill for Fort Worth and Dallas into a bill of state-wide application.

He withdrew the motion after Rep. Maury Maverick, Jr., of San Antonio raised the point of order that a bill of local nature can not be amended to make it state-wide.

Fyle said he would renew his motion to concur in Senate amendments Monday.

"This state-wide toll road thing can be a great big fat melon that people can cut up and hurt the people of Texas. I don't trust it," Maverick asserted.

Fyle said he personally preferred a bill that would set up an authority only for construction of the Dallas-Fort Worth turnpike but the only way he could get his project was to agree with Governor Shivers' preference for a state-wide authority.

The governor has argued a state-wide authority would be best to prevent cluttering up the state with numerous individual ones.

The House held its first Friday session, working by itself.

The Senate quit Thursday for the weekend.

The House decision to work on Friday was narrow, 65-62.

Rep. John Ertmer of Dallas urged them to stay and work.

"Okay," he said, "you boys that wouldn't vote for final adjournment, said you wanted to stay here and work—vote to stay here and work."

Both houses habitually quit on Thursday for the weekend.

The House was arguing on the fremen's hours bill when it quit Thursday. The measure would alt-

Saturday's Voting Holds Road's Fate

Midland County taxpayers will go to the polls in a special election Saturday to determine the fate of a proposed million-dollar project to widen U. S. Highway 80 into a four-lane divided highway from Midland to the Martin County line.

The cost to Midland County will be less than $350,000, but that is the amount of the proposed bond issue on which the votes will be cast Saturday.

Voting will begin at the 10 election precincts—three more than ever have been used before—at 8 a.m. and will close at 7 p.m.

The polling places are as follows: Precinct 1—Midland County Courthouse basement.

Precinct 2—Greenwood School.

Precinct 3—Amerada Camp.

Precinct 4—Rodenhall Hall at Terminal.

Precinct 5—South Suburban Fire Station.

Precinct 6—Girl Scout Little House.

Precinct 7—Midland Youth Center.

Precinct 8—San Jacinto Junior High School.

Precinct 9—Lamar Elementary School.

Precinct 10—North Suburban Fire Station.

The bond issue, which will provide funds for purchasing necessary right-of-way, must be approved by a two-thirds majority of those voting.

On the eve of the election, County Judge Clifford C. Keith predicted that between 600 and 800 votes probably will be cast and, for a bond issue election, that is regarded as a fairly heavy vote in Midland County.

"There has been increasing interest reported in the proposed bond issue," he said, "and it looks like

Thirsty City Awaits Pipe Line's Arrival

The big race was on in earnest Friday between pipe line-laying crews and Midland water consumers.

In Midland the consumers Thursday set a new 1953 record for water consumption and northwest of the city the pipe line crews were rushing the job of laying a 30-inch line to McMillen Field.

Henry E. Nunn, city sewer and water engineer, reported 8,670,000 gallons of water used Thursday, topping the previous high mark of 8,270,000 gallons reported on May 2.

"And the real hot weather hasn't even hit yet," said Public Works Director J. M. Orman.

An estimated 11,000,000 gallons daily is available from the present water field before the pressure is expected to drop.

But city officials hope this demand will not be made until after June 1, the date set for the completion of the pipe line and the connection with the new water supply at McMillen Field, nine miles northwest of the city.

Orman said the United Concrete Pipe Company, which is manufacturing the pipe at its plant in Big Spring, is working on a 20-hour schedule daily to have the pipe available.

"I talked to them yesterday," he said, "and they told me that, without breakdowns, they expect to complete the manufacture of the pipe by next Wednesday."

"The pipe must cure seven days before it can be delivered and put into the ground."

The pipe line job, which started at the field and is working toward the city, already has crossed under the Andrews Highway and well on its way to the big storage tank in the west part of Midland.

The field itself is about ready to begin producing.

PANMUNJOON—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators Friday awaited instructions from Washington on how to answer the Communists' latest Korean armistice proposal—an eight-point plan aimed at breaking the prisoner exchange deadlock.

The Reds unveiled their offer unexpectedly Thursday and it went right to the top for decision.

The plan would set up a five-nation commission to take custody in Korea of 48,500 Red prisoners who refuse to return to communism.

With negotiations here in recess until 11 a.m. Saturday, President Eisenhower discussed the offer with his top state and military advisers in Washington.

They reportedly decided some provisions are unacceptable, but that the plan merits a counter-offer even though the Communists indicated they consider it a package deal, all or nothing.

Atomic Test Out-Dazzles Light Of Day

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—(AP)—An atomic test device exploded with a flash that out-dazzled the daylight at 9:30 a.m. (CST) Friday at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

The lingering flash, plainly visible in this gambling city 75 miles away, indicated that this, the eighth detonation in the Atomic Energy Commission's Spring series, was one of the brightest.

The atomic mushroom cloud formed immediately.

Two and a half minutes after the detonation a beautiful cloud soared upward to about 25,000 feet. Indications were that the blast took place at Frenchman Flat, and that it was a tower shot or an extremely low air drop.

The tremor from the shot reached Las Vegas about five minutes afterward.

Elaborate preparations for obtaining information on blast effects on various facilities were set up but the AEC did not indicate which were affected by Friday's shot.

Summer Weather Prevails In Basin

Rising temperatures and fair skies pointed toward mid-Summer conditions in Midland and the Permian Basin Friday and Saturday with occasional gusts from the Southeast expected to reach 25 miles an hour Friday afternoon. Little blowing sand is expected.

MUMPS KNOW NO PROTOCOL

ATLANTA—(AP)—Georgia's Gov. Herman Talmadge, who returned Tuesday from a meeting of state governors with President Eisenhower in Washington, has symptoms of the mumps.

If a positive diagnosis shows he has mumps, the President and the 45 other governors at the party may want to call in their doctors promptly if they start feeling badly.

Talmadge, 46, is in bed.

Death Of Campbell's Widow Ruled Suicide By Odessa Justice

ODESSA—(AP)—Justice A. P. Boyt ruled Friday the young widow of a Dallas "torch" murder victim killed herself by taking poison.

He returned a verdict of suicide in the death of Mrs. Edwin Campbell, 23.

Mrs. Campbell collapsed Thursday in the bathroom at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. J. Nicholas, and died in a few seconds.

She was the widow of a Dallas finance company collector who was found slain in his burning car last December 31. A debtor was convicted last week of murder.

Boyt ordered an autopsy in Mrs. Campbell's death, and Dr. D. H. Mullins said he found poison in her stomach. Boyt said a can of rat poison was found in Mrs. Campbell's bedroom closet.

The body was sent to Cisco for interment. Her son, Steven, two, stayed here with Mrs. Nicholas.

Mrs. Campbell had begun a visit in Odessa Sunday. She had just returned to the Nicholas home from downtown Odessa, where she reportedly had been seeking employment.

The young woman before her marriage was Helen Ruth Whaley of Cisco.

Vasquez Assessed Five-Year Prison Term By Pecos Jury

PECOS—A 109th District Court jury found Frank B. Vasquez guilty of murder with malice at 9:30 a.m. Friday and sentenced the slayer to five years in prison.

Vasquez was charged in the shooting July 18, 1952, of Gilberto Dominguez of Pecos near a Pecos dance hall. Dominguez was shot five times.

The jury got the case at 6:30 p.m. Thursday after District Attorney John F. Denson and Defense Attorney Dick Starkey presented their final arguments. Vasquez pleaded self-defense.

Vasquez' attorney gave no indication of appeal.

Truce Team Awaits Signal From Capitol On Reds' Plan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators Friday awaited instructions from Washington on how to answer the Communists' latest Korean armistice proposal—an eight-point plan aimed at breaking the prisoner exchange deadlock.

The Reds unveiled their offer unexpectedly Thursday and it went right to the top for decision.

The plan would set up a five-nation commission to take custody in Korea of 48,500 Red prisoners who refuse to return to communism.

With negotiations here in recess until 11 a.m. Saturday, President Eisenhower discussed the offer with his top state and military advisers in Washington.

They reportedly decided some provisions are unacceptable, but that the plan merits a counter-offer even though the Communists indicated they consider it a package deal, all or nothing.

One big question is the possibility of a hidden gimmick permitting the Reds to get back the 48,500 prisoners who say they won't return to communism. The Allies always have insisted that no one would be repatriated against his will.

Key points of the new Red plan include:

1. Acceptance of Allied demands that prisoners unwilling to return be left in Korea after an armistice, rather than transported to a neutral country.

2. Creation of a five-country "Neutral Nation Reparation Commission" of India, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland and Sweden, to take custody of those prisoners after an armistice.

3. Each of the five nations would send equal numbers of troops to Korea to control the prisoners.

Eisenhower and his advisers reportedly object most strongly to this point, which would permit the Communist troops of Russian satellites Poland and Czechoslovakia to watch over the prisoners, many of whom are violently anti-Communists.

4. After four months of Red "explanations" to the unwilling prisoners, leaving the fate of any who still refuse repatriation to a post-armistice, high-level political conference.

The President and his advisers also were reported opposed to this, on grounds that the prisoners might be held an unreasonable time if the problem is not settled quickly.

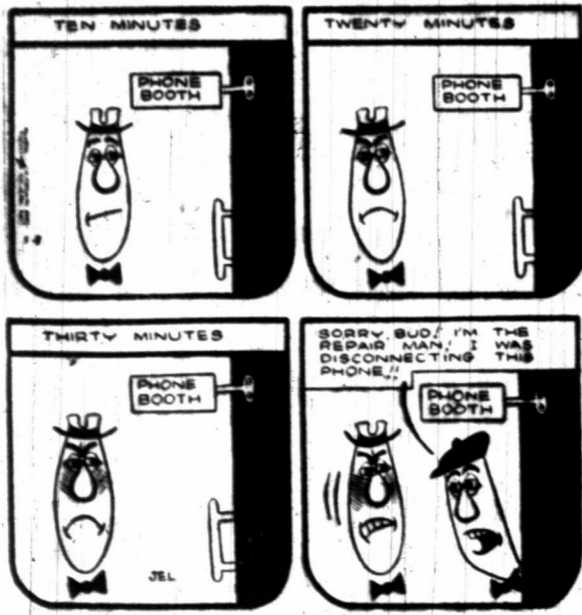

Eisenhower also was reported to be awaiting advice from Gen. Mark Clark, UN Far East commander, before instructing the delegates at Panmunjom.

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent Exclusively Yours: Fred MacMurray has sprouted a beard to play "a bit of a heavy" opposite Barbara Stanwyck in a 3-D western, Joseph Bernhart's "The Moonlighters," and he's the happiest guy in Hollywood.

"Hollywood has always thought of me as a smoothie with a fast quip," Fred tells it. "I was a real heel in 'Double Indemnity' but even that didn't help. Yes, sir, bring out the heavy—I'm ready for 'em. After all, Hollywood just doesn't make light comedies any more."

Jobless Ex-Red Admits Error Of Ways, Decides To Testify

NEW YORK—(AP)—Robert Rosen, award-winning Hollywood producer who hasn't had a job since he balked at House Red hunters' questioning two years ago, gave in penitently Thursday and admitted he once was a Communist.

He told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that during 10 years in the party—from 1937 to 1947—he contributed more than $40,000 to Communist causes. Other movie figures perhaps gave equal sums, he said.

The 45-year-old Rosen said he had "done a lot of thinking" since "that fatal day in 1951" when he clashed with the committee.

At that time, he said, he was not a Communist, but he had refused to say if he ever had been.

Since then, he said, he had decided to cooperate.

"An individual cannot rely on his individual morality or pit himself against the good of his country," he said.

"I don't believe you can be incriminated by telling the truth," Winner Of Oscar

Rosen, producer of numerous top-notch pictures of the last decade including "All the King's Men" which won the 1949 Academy Award, said idealism led him into the party and also caused him to break with it.

"The same reasons for which you go into the party are the reasons for which you go out," he said.

Three MIG's Need Repairs After Bout With Sabre Pilots

SEOUL—(AP)—Sabre jet pilots damaged three Communist MIG's high over Northwest Korea Friday. It was the first time in eight days Red fighters ventured across the Yalu River from their Manchurian sanctuary.

Seventh Division infantry smashed a Communist attack by 300 men on Pork Chop Hill in the biggest action in days along the stagnant ground front.

The Eighth Army called the attack half-hearted and said the Reds pulled back to their own lines in the face of heavy Allied artillery and mortar fire.

The Navy, meanwhile, sent swarms of carrier-based fighter-bombers and a trio of warships against two key Communist port areas on Korea's East Coast.

"The ideals you look for are just not there."

He said he found the Communists more interested in winning power for the party than in achieving idealistic ends.

"It took a long time to find out," he added.

Ripe For Reds

He said conditions in the 1920's and the depression of the 1930's made him ripe for communism.

"I felt I was looking for new horizons, a new kind of society, I could believe in and attach myself to in history, an historical movement," he said.

Another factor, he said, was that those who waged the most courageous fight for the Screen Writers Guild in 1935 turned out to be Communists. So when he was approached to join, he said, "I was not bashful—I was eager."

But he said he gradually grew disillusioned.

"The party's veneration for the masses of the people somehow or other never expressed itself in terms of the individual," he said.

1952's Cotton Crop Set At 15,136,000 Bales; Tops Average

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department, in a final report for the season, put the 1952 cotton crop Friday at 15,136,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight valued at $2,617,346,000.

This compares with last December's estimate of 15,038,000 bales and with the 10-year (1941-51) average of 11,775,000.

Production of cottonseed was placed at 6,176,000 tons valued at $429,915,000 compared with the 1951 crop of 6,396,000 tons valued at $485,891,000.

The combined value of cotton and seed was put at $3,047,261,000 compared with $3,203,227,000 for 1951.

Cotton sold for an average of 34.6 cents a pound compared with 37.88 for the 1951 crop. Cottonseed sold an average of $69.80 a ton compared with $69.20 in 1951.

The yield of lint cotton per harvested acre last year was reported at an average of 382.7 pounds an acre compared with 371.9 in 1951 and with the 10-year average of 367.8.

The acreage of cotton harvested last year was reported at 25,864,000 acres compared with 26,787,000 in 1951 and the 10-year average of 21,020,000.

President Repeats Willingness To Meet 'Any One Half Way'

NEW YORK—(AP)—President Eisenhower declared Thursday night America stands always ready to meet "any one half-way" in winning a truly peaceful, moral world—but this peace must respect the rights of all men.

This means "everybody, not only our friends," he said.

For example, in Korea, he dedicated, United States policy is dedicated to protecting rights of all people there, including those "only lately fighting in the ranks of our enemies, people that have become our prisoners."

The President, here on a four-hour visit during which he addressed two Republican dinners, said Korean prisoners are entitled to the "right of political asylum."

"To force these people to go back to a life of terror and persecution is something that would violate every moral standard by which America lives," he declared. "It cannot be done."

Hand Never Hidden

Within such limits of "moral rectitude and rightness," he said, "there is no one that will ever find America's hand of friendship hidden."

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, also addressing the $100-a-plate Republican affair, said the United Nations Command is "not prepared indefinitely to continue truce talks with the Communists in Korea."

"We earnestly desire and seek an honorable peace in Korea. But we shall not allow our enemies there to use peace talks as a stratagem for gaining military advantages in their war of aggression," he said.

Britain's Laborites Score Heavy Gains In Council Elections

LONDON—(AP)—The Labor Party rolled up sweeping gains Friday in London and the provinces in local council elections. Laborites are expected to step up demands for new national elections as a result.

The almost completed returns dealt a sharp blow to Prime Minister Churchill's Conservative Party. Voting began Monday and was concluded Friday. Labor's gains also swept out much of the small Communist representation on the councils.

With all provincial results reported, the figures showed Labor had gained 285 seats on local councils and lost 51, the Conservatives gained 82 and lost 212, the Liberals gained nine and lost 13, the Independents gained 28 and lost 128 and the Communists had neither gains nor losses.

British Jet Hits New Altitude Mark For Heavy Aircraft

LONDON—(AP)—A British twin-jet Canberra bomber climbed to 62,000 feet, bettering the world aircraft altitude record by 4,222 feet, the Royal Aero Club said Friday.

The flight was made Monday near Bristol with W. F. Gibb, assistant chief test pilot of the Bristol Aeroplane Company, at the controls. The record was set by Britain's John Cunningham in 1948 in a Vampire jet fighter. He reached 59,446 feet. No one was injured.

"But the absolute world altitude record is still held by a balloon," the librarian of the Royal Aircraft Club said. "On Nov. 11, 1935, Capt. O. A. Anderson and Capt. A. W. Stevenson ascended in a balloon from Rapid City, S. D., to 22,096 meters (72,874 feet)."

Facing Brick Peel Off Dallas Building

DALLAS—(AP)—Seven tons of facing brick peeled off the west side of the Santa Fe office building Thursday, smashing to the roof of an adjoining building 19 stories below. No one was injured.

The bricks broke automatic sprinkler system pipes, pouring water into a wholesale variety store. Arthur Dominus, branch manager of the firm, estimated damage would be "at least $10,000."

Valley View Session Stresses Community Organization Values

The values of community organizations made up of rural people were stressed this week by Sam Whitlow, Texas Editor of the Farmer-Stockman magazine, at a supper meeting in the Valley View Community Center.

Honor guests included Whitlow, Mrs. Eula Newman, Texas Extension Service home management specialist, and Dr. W. B. Coke, extension agronomist. Mrs. Newman and Dr. Coke, who have worked with community committees in program development, have been aided by such persons as Pauline McWilliams, county home demonstration agent, Charles Green, county agricultural agent, both of Midland and Joe Glover of Fort Stockton, district agent.

Whitlow cited intangible benefits from rural efforts for better living, social and cultural conditions—such as those found under the Rural Neighborhood Progress Contest plan sponsored by the Farmer-Stockman and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The Valley View Community, one of three West Texas communities working on the program, hails as one of its outstanding projects the conversion of the old Valley View schoolhouse into a community center for use of the people of the community.

Campaign For Internal Unity Suggests Crisis Inside USSR

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Foreign News Analyst

A campaign for internal unity, begun just after Premier Georgi M. Malenkov took over, has reached such a furious peak in the Soviet press as to suggest some sort of internal crisis. This campaign may explain the sometimes bewildering Soviet peace offensive, as well as a tightening up of the Soviet Communist Party and government.

By the beginning of May, almost every domestic item in Soviet organs had something to do with the theme of the "inviolable unity of the Soviet people."

Interwoven was the theme of the superiority of the Russian people proper and the debt owed them by peoples of the 15 other Soviet republics. The press inveighed violently against "bourgeois nationalism"—meaning nationalism in any dependent Soviet republic—and "cosmopolitanism," an old description of Jews with Zionist leanings.

Repeated over and over again was this theme: "So long as the friendship of peoples exists and flourishes, we need fear no enemies, internal or external." But the press says "Agents of imperialism, bourgeois nationalism and cosmopolitanism must be unmasked and eliminated."

Other articles explain how workers from far-flung Soviet provinces work together on hydroelectric stations and major construction. They tell how "with the brotherly help of the great Russian people, all the peoples of the USSR achieved notable successes and economic and cultural building."

There is great stress on "rights" guaranteed by the Soviet Constitution, and upon the idea of "equal rights of all races and nations."

The home front propaganda suggests that with Stalin's death there were restless stirrings among the peoples of the Ukraine, White Russia, the three Baltic states and the republics of Central Asia. All are being mentioned specifically.

This may explain the general tightening up under the Malenkov regime. Each republic government got a shakeup. Russians took over key positions in the republic governments, and the security forces were overhauled in each. The Communist Party itself apparently was pruned of unreliable elements.

Shadow Of War
This also could explain the peace offensive. Previous peace campaigns were aimed primarily at convincing people abroad of peaceful Soviet intentions. This one seems equally concerned with convincing the people at home that war is not at hand. In the shadow of possible war, two things might have happened within the Soviet republics. The war threat might have brought on the traditional fatalistic Oriental attitude—war is coming, so why slave? Two, it could have led those "remnants" of nationalists, of whom the press speaks, to hope their cause is not lost. The thought of the Soviet Union embroiled in war might have recalled the mass defections of the last war, even to the dreaded German enemy.

In all this there is a confusing mixture—a retreat from Stalinism but a retention of Stalinism's more aggressive aspects. The Soviet press seems to be preaching more Lenin than Stalin to Communists abroad.

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governess to Her Majesty

III
THERE was a series of majestic drives through the wide streets. Paradian crowds cheered in a most un-Republican way. Princess Elizabeth's wardrobe of dresses sent a ripple of excitement through the fashion capital.

Even M. Dion, that leader among dress designers, could find no fault. "She is magnificent," he told one of the Royal party. "I never knew from pictures that she could be so lovely or wear her clothes with such distinction."

At home the fashion writers grew lyrical. At Nottingham Cottage I examined photographs with which the papers were full, and remembered what an effort it used to be even to persuade the Princess to change into a new hat.

Someone I knew must have been at work for the Princess was always conservative about her dress, and content to wear whatever was laid out for her.

I did not have to look far for the author of this new chic. Prince Philip was beside her in more ways than one on this tour, as I shall show.

Friends of mine who accompanied the Royal couple noticed a new protectiveness had come over the Prince. Wherever they went he was always close by his wife's side, ready to give her a hand up some steps, or guide her by the elbow through a crowded place. It was a courteous display of husbandly affection at a time when she must have found it most rewarding.

AND finally, as the climax to the tour, came the occasion on which she was to lay a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. This was prefaced by a drive through the city in an open car. The tomb was surrounded by ranks of soldiers, who clashed to attention as the Princess stepped a few paces forward to lay her wreath.

As she leaned forward, the crowds saw her sway, as if she was going to fall. Prince Philip was near at hand. As he saw her falter, he took a quick pace forward and caught her elbow to steady her. The incident was over in a second or two, but it was one that none who saw it will ever forget.

"It was as if there was no one else there but the two of them," she said later. "I must have needed great courage to stand there, and he was there to steady me. It was a beautiful moment of the tribute the Parisians had paid her."

And then Prince Philip helped paid her back to her place while the bands played the national anthem. And also, perhaps, relief after her own strain she had imposed upon herself.

Those who stood near them could see how anxiously he watched in case she should sway again. But she did not. It must have needed great courage to stand there, and he was there to steady her. It was a beautiful moment of the tribute the Parisians had paid her.

REMEMBER another occasion which illustrates the same devotion in the Queen to see to it that she was never a burden to her subjects. It was a large, rambling house which you come upon suddenly in the center of the town. But behind it lies a pleasant garden, and beyond that a wood which stretches up to a golf course.

A few months before the birth of Prince Charles, Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip visited France. At top they stand at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier under the Arch of Triumph. Below they chat with President Vincent Auriol and Mrs. Auriol at the Elysee Palace.

On the morning she sailed in H. M. S. Anson I looked at the skies, and my heart grieved for her. Ashore, the weather was bad enough, but it was much worse in the Channel. I knew that the voyage in a rough sea would be a nightmare to her.

My fears proved true. She was white with seasickness and almost prostrate when the ship dropped anchor off Sark.

Between the ship and the shore was a strip of angry sea, which had to be crossed in one of the ship's boats.

"Are you sure you're fit to go ashore?" asked her husband. She could not speak, but looked up at him and nodded.

The Princess's advisers doubted that she was fit to land. When she realized what they were saying she roused herself.

"Of course I am going ashore," she said. "I won't disappoint all those people."

It was while at Eastbourne that Queen Elizabeth first came to know the sea. She had seen it before—when she went down to Bognor Regis to cheer her ailing "Grandpa England," as she called King George V.

But she had little memory of that. We used, at first, to go to the private beach chalet which went with the house. There we would make tea and fight off two huge dogs which always tried to make off with our baskets.

Until too many people came to watch the Princesses play it was pleasant there. But despite the fun she had on the beach Queen Elizabeth never liked the sea. Something about the movement of the water seemed to spell danger to her.

If her father approached it too closely, she would scream to warn him. I think it rather puzzled the King, who so loved the sea himself, that his daughter should find it strange and alarming.

"It's the noise," she explained to me, "and the way it keeps rolling about and jumping at you."

LATER, when we were making a cruise in that old-fashioned vessel, the Royal Yacht Victoria and Albert which rolled and pitched in every direction, Princess Elizabeth was still landlubber enough to wish all the time that she was ashore.

With the Duke of Edinburgh, years later, she paid an official visit to the Channel Islands. Memories of the Nazi occupation were still vivid there and the coming of the Princess eagerly awaited.

On the morning she sailed in H. M. S. Anson I looked at the skies, and my heart grieved for her. Ashore, the weather was bad enough, but it was much worse in the Channel. I knew that the voyage in a rough sea would be a nightmare to her.

My fears proved true. She was white with seasickness and almost prostrate when the ship dropped anchor off Sark.

Between the ship and the shore was a strip of angry sea, which had to be crossed in one of the ship's boats.

"Are you sure you're fit to go ashore?" asked her husband. She could not speak, but looked up at him and nodded.

The Princess's advisers doubted that she was fit to land. When she realized what they were saying she roused herself.

Second Old Soldier Refuses To Fade Away Into Obscurity

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet is another old soldier who isn't going to "fade away." Like Gen. Douglas MacArthur, he is in open revolt against the policy which has shaped the war effort in Korea for more than two years.

Van Fleet became an author this week in carrying forward an active campaign against the Korean war policy. He made it clear he isn't going to sit quietly in retirement.

Writing in Life Magazine, Van Fleet discloses he wanted to give up his command of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea sooner than he did because: "I felt that I could not continue with honor to execute a policy I had ceased to believe in."

Those were words that might have been spoken by MacArthur after he was relieved of his Far Eastern commands in April, 1951, by former President Truman. MacArthur advocated a more aggressive policy in Korea and this led to his removal.

Van Fleet's theme as an author is that the Eighth Army is held back only by a policy which in effect enforces that he has called a "sit-down war." He thinks Washington has overestimated the Chinese strength and victory can be achieved if the wraps are taken off.

He says: "We do not have to ask the Chinese Reds for any favors. All we have to do is start an all-out effort in Korea, and the Reds will soon come begging to us."

What Van Fleet says in effect is that the Eisenhower Administration should reverse the whole present policy, should put no faith in the Panmunjon peace talks, and should blast the Reds with all-out military might.

He says: "In the present peace talks with the Chinese Reds, I am absolutely convinced, we run the risk of throwing away the future of our nation."

"Why, when we can annihilate them if we want to, why, when Korea is so much more favorable a battleground for us than for them, are so many of us overeager for peace at any price?"

Chances Are Lost
Van Fleet insists he had more than one opportunity to whip the Chinese.

"While I was in Korea," he writes, "opportunities presented themselves again and again where I was fully aware of my chance to beat the Reds once and for all and was restrained by high policy. . . . The opportunity is still there today."

It would appear from these writings that Van Fleet is drawing farther and farther away from the top command in the Pentagon. This move began when he touched off a Senate investigation by charging there was a serious and sometimes critical ammunition shortage during all the 22 months he was in Korea.

Worth The Effort
In fact, Van Fleet appears deliberately to be taking direct issue with Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in opposing MacArthur proposals two years ago to strike at Red China's mainland, Bradley said the moves might touch off the wrong war in the wrong place at the wrong time. He since has reiterated that view.

But Van Fleet says if the U. S. is to have war with the Reds, then Korea is "the right war in the right place at the right time."

Actually, the Van Fleet arguments are an extension of the "great debate" two years ago over the MacArthur proposals. Here we have two renowned generals in revolt against the Korean war policy they had been carrying out. Both think they could be won by making what they call the right effort. And they believe it is worth that effort.

Unwilling To Pay?
Are the American people willing to pay a higher price in killed and wounded to achieve such a victory?

There is the real issue. Military victories simply are not won without a price in blood. And many military leaders don't think the people are willing at this time to pay that price for a victory which some think would risk a world war.

Should the truce talks fall, there may be no other alternative than to follow the Van Fleet-MacArthur line.

Warm, Summer-Like Weather Reported In Most Of Nation

By The Associated Press

More rain fell Friday in the Eastern quarter of the country and in a few spots in the Northwest, but fair and pleasant weather was general in most other sections of the country.

It was Summer-like in wide areas of the mid-continent. Fair and mild weather prevailed over the Mississippi Basin from the Canadian border to the Gulf. It was 86 in Duluth, Minn., Thursday. Fair weather also was reported in the Great Plains, central and southern sections of the Rockies, along the Pacific Coast states and the Southwest.

Showers hit areas from the southern parts of the Great Lakes region eastward through New York, Pennsylvania and New England. Thunderstorms were reported in the Southeastern states.

Skies were cloudy along the western slopes of the Northern Rockies and light rain fell in Oregon and Washington. Snow flurries fell in mountain regions.

WOOL or COTTON CARPET German War Prisoner, Free Last Six Years, Surrenders
NEW YORK—(AP)—Harry Girth, 27-year-old German prisoner of war at large in the United States since his escape in June, 1946, has surrendered to New York police authorities, they announced Friday.

Girth, a husky, blond six-footer, broke loose from Fort Dix, N. J. He was one of five German prisoners of war still at large after escaping from war-time detention camps in this country.

New York police said the Polish-born Girth surrendered at a Manhattan precinct station about 10 p.m. Thursday after admitting his identity to a friend.

The friend had seen Girth's picture in the current issue of Collier's magazine, police said.

Police said Girth had been working as an interior decorator for a New York comedian, George Dewitt.

Police said Dewitt recognized Girth from the magazine photograph and persuaded the prisoner to surrender after he had admitted his identity.

According to Girth's story to police, he has become a prosperous businessman since his escape from the New Jersey camp. He owns his own home in Atlantic City, N. J., as well as an interior decorating business and a refreshment stand there.

Girth told police he had been using the name of Henry Kolmar since his escape.

The former German soldier expressed the hope he would be granted American citizenship as the result of his surrender.

COLLIER'S BOWS TO TV'S POWER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Collier's magazine, published weekly for 65 years, is turning into a bi-weekly because of what it calls the nation's changed reading habits.

An official of the Crowell-Collier Publishing Company said Thursday modern readers have more things to do, like watching TV and driving, that detract from magazine reading.

A study has shown, too, he said, that bi-weekly publications suffer less from this competition than periodicals appearing more frequently.

Midlanders Urged To Think Internationally By Speaker

Don Roberto de la Rosa of Monterey, Mexico, and St. Louis, Mo., spoke here Thursday night, and the more than 200 persons who heard him know a lot more than they did about Mexico—its customs, traditions and standards of living.

He was the principal speaker at a ladies night banquet of the Midland Rotary Club held in the Hotel Scharbauer Ballroom. President Richard L. Brooks presided at the dinner-meeting; Bob Lewis introduced the guests, and Carroll L. Thomas, president-elect, introduced the speaker.

Special dinner guests of the club were members of the Midland High School Band, who presented a 15-minute concert immediately preceding the address of the evening.

Ralph Mills is the director of the MRS Band.

Don Roberto, foreign representative for a Mexican export-import company and an official ambassador of good-will for the Mexican government to this country, stressed the importance of good relations between Mexico and the United States in his inspirational and entertaining message. He pointed out that personal contact between peoples of different nations is the most effective means of bettering international relations.

Strums His Guitar

He mixed humor with the more serious aspects of his lecture, and wound up his address by strumming his Mexican guitar and singing several Mexican folk songs.

"We must learn to think internationally," Don Roberto declared. "It took a war to make the peoples of Mexico and the United States realize we are all Americans. You people of the United States sometimes forget that there is another American way of life just as important as yours across the border to the South."

"We do not know enough about our respective nations to be good friends, but the situation gradually is improving," he stated.

The speaker pointed out that the United States and Mexico are close diplomatically, economically, militarily and educationally, but that

Just Who Won This Battle Puzzled Cop Or Topsy Gal?

The 46-year-old Midland woman was being booked at police headquarters Wednesday night on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

"What's your name?" asked the policeman in charge of records and identification.

"I don't have one," she answered.

"Where were you born?" he asked.

"She thought a minute."

"I was born in Aitchafalaya, La.," she finally replied, "and if you can spell that you're smarter than I think you are."

The policeman tossed down his pencil in surrender.

"Look her up," he muttered.

Vietminh Withdrawal From Laos Writes End To History's Strangest Invasion Try

HANOI, INDOCHINA.—(P)—The tempo of the movement is increasing. The Vietminh began its attack on Laos with an estimated 40,000 soldiers.

Drives from supply bases 200 to 300 miles away quickly brought advance units to within sight of the Laotian royal seat of Luang Prabang and posed a threat to Vientiane, the kingdom's administrative capital on the Mekong River border with neighboring Thailand.

But the Vietminh's announced program of "liberating" Laos and Cambodia, two of the three French-associated Indochinese states, and merging the whole country under a Communist government suddenly came to a halt three days ago. Instead of continuing to advance, the Vietminh started pulling back.

The only opposition to the Red drive came from a half-dozen thinly-manned French-Laotian posts in the mountains.

In all, there probably were not 100 men killed in direct clashes, but French bombings may have killed scores of the Vietminh.

The best explanation for the withdrawal may be this: The great international furor over the Vietminh march into Laos, at a moment when both Moscow and Peking are making peace gestures, could have prompted Moscow to order the invasion halted.

New Cars Hit U. S. Highways In Larger Numbers Than Ever

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK.—(P)—Cars, last longer and go farther than they used to. There are more of them this year than last, as you'll notice if you go out on the highway.

So the industries that service them and keep them rolling expect a $1,000,000,000 business this year.

The motor vehicle service industries are counting on growth at an average annual rate of 30 per cent, at least as long as national income doesn't slip significantly.

Old cars are being scrapped in large numbers. 3,500,000 made their last trip in 1952. But for every three old cars scrapped, four new ones are being registered.

Sales Pick Up

The Bureau of Public Roads estimates almost 44,000,000 autos are on the roads today and almost 10,000,000 trucks and buses.

The auto industry is trying to sell some 2,200,000 more by mid-Summer. It reports sales of new cars are picking up earlier this Spring than last, and that used cars are

Midlanders Come To Help Of Family Hit By Flames

Response was termed "good" Friday in the drive to aid the Herman L. Gunter family, whose two-story farm home and clothing were destroyed by fire Wednesday.

Underclothing still was needed by the family of nine, but gifts of other clothing and cash were climbing.

Gunter, a bus driver and mechanic at Midland High School, was taking the high school baseball team to Abilene when the fire occurred. Mrs. Gunter was driving one of the seven children, Herman Jr., into Midland for a medical checkup. She left the house minutes before the flames broke out.

All that was salvaged were some clothes hanging on a wash line and the washing machine on the front porch. The four oldest children lost everything but what they were wearing when they went to school Wednesday.

Chamber of Commerce officials have made arrangements for gifts of a stove and refrigerator when the Gunters get a new home.

Bennie Bissell opened two apartments in a housing area near the Gunter home to the family and offered to pick up gifts from Midlanders who call him at 4-5021. Whitson's Food Store, 2000 West North Front Street, is accepting gifts of food and clothing, and Cash and Carry Grocery & Market, 122 South Main Street, will accept cash contributions. Midland schools also are aiding in the efforts to help.

Port Arthur Wins School Play Honors

AUSTIN.—(P)—Class A competition in one-act play contests of the Interscholastic League was on Friday after Thomas Jefferson of Port Arthur won Thursday night's Class AA division.

The winning play was "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," directed by Mainer Herz.

Honorable mention went to "Amorillo for the third act of 'The Little Foxes.'" The director was Mrs. N. M. Whitworth.

Linda Lyons of Port Arthur was named the best actress. George Annae of Forest Avenue, Dallas, was best actor.

The all-star cast included Miss Lyons, Elaine Ross of Amarillo, Barbara Humphreys of Breckenridge, Annae, Jack Balzeres of Port Arthur and Jerry Barnes of Longview.

Booby Trap Hurts Manager Of Plant Defying Strikers

ELIZABETH, LA.—(P)—The plant manager of a strike-troubled paper mill was injured seriously during dynamite blasts Thursday night and Friday.

Lee Howard, 35, of the Calcasieu Paper Company, was blown more than 50 feet when he stumbled over a dynamite-loaded booby trap while investigating an earlier explosion.

Howard suffered a fractured skull and physicians termed his condition "very serious."

It was the first serious injury since strikes began at two paper mills eight months ago.

Several persons had been bruised by previous dynamite blasts but this was the first reported serious injury.

Jack Sirman, sheriff's deputy of Allen Parish, said he and Howard were investigating an earlier explosion when Howard was injured.

A third explosion ripped the gas line only minutes after Howard was injured, but details of the explosion could not be learned.

The strike began over a contract dispute last September, and negotiations deadlocked when the mills refused to rehire all strikers.

The mills have been in operation since last November with non-union help.

Reservists Asked To Delay Air Force Correspondence

Air reservists in Texas and New Mexico areas have been asked to delay correspondence with Headquarters, 14th Air Force in Macon, Georgia, until June 20, due to the temporary relocation of Air Force Reserve Personnel records caused by the tornado that swept through Robins AFB, Georgia last Thursday.

Col. R. W. Warren, commanding officer of 3d Air Reserve District in Austin, said that, "The administrative moratorium was asked by Major General C. E. Thomas, Jr., commanding general of Fourteenth Air Force, in a personal appeal to over 65,000 reserve officers and airmen whose records are housed at Robins AFB."

The twister ripped into two Fourteenth Air Force buildings which contained reservists' personal files, demolishing one building and severely damaging the other. Many records were damaged, particularly those of the reserve airmen, and it is anticipated that it will take some time for regrouping of the records.

While the delay in correspondence was asked, in order to speed the reorganization of the reserve personnel officers, reservists were assured that emergency personnel actions would be expedited. However, it was cautioned that completion of administrative actions began prior to the storm would be delayed.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Goodbye, Longhorn League—R.I.P! The circuit is folding. Or that's what you can believe if some of the sports writers in the vicinity prove correct in their shoutings.

They've gone some to put Odessa, Big Spring and Roswell on the critical list along with perennially "shaky" Artesia; the clubs have no funds, they say. The league teams, too, are playing for too much in salaries, front office and field, to survive. Who can expect, they say, to attract the 80,000 fans just to cover wages and traveling expenses? Midland, perhaps. And San Angelo.

Those are the only two on a sound basis since Carlsbad and Lamesa, being new owners in smaller towns, stand risky in any case; the latter pair could burn out on baseball easily.

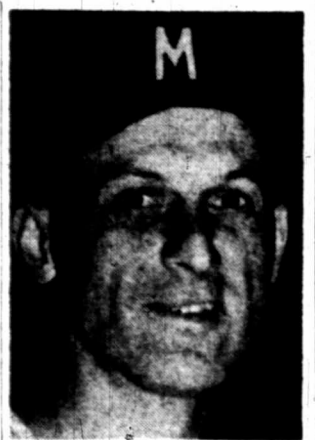

The league is folding, that's a familiar cry. Let's see, was it first shouted in 1879 with the forming of the old Northwestern League? Too high salaries? That's a whine from '79, too. Midland should rise up from its thinking coffers to bow and thank them for claiming the "minor" league to have a ball club that keeps to the budget—name me one that admits it. Why lose that old keep-the-club-in-or-town support?

But, avoiding the facetious, baseball is a game, and like the theater dependent upon "patrons." You see old men, business tycoons, large scale contractors—all ready to lose their cash—claiming sole ownership to clubs, or else associations formed to withstand losses as long as the "sweethearts" can be taken out to the old ball game. Did you ever see a town that had a wealthy baseball fan or group of fans that budgeted the game to allow the club to fold?

We've been around four of the seven Texas leagues in recent years and heard only one baseball man deny his team was going broke. The fellow was the most honest one we ever knew.

Some more items of muscledness: Earl Winn, the new Midland left-hander, played with both Wichita Falls and Austin of the Big State League last season... he might have stayed except he's limited service and that Class B circuit allows teams to fill up rosters with 13 veterans...

Stubby Greer, 1953 slugger with

Writer's Advice Troubles Reader

Joe S. Doakes, a reader of this paper, feels that in the best interest of all subscribers some of the columnists should be exposed. Mr. Doakes has taken the attitude that all is not as it should be. In fairness to our readers we think we should explain Mr. Doakes' position. Just before the first rain of this year, Joe drops into the store and orders himself a few bags of that wonderful Turf Special. He put it on the lawn as we told him. Then it rained. Then Joe watered his lawn a little. A couple of weeks ago we had another good rain. He followed our advice, and got himself into trouble. A week ago Joe was back in the store. "What," says he, "am I gonna do with my lawn?" We put on our best look of innocence and queried, "Whassa matta, Joe?" "Matter," he retorts, "how do I get rid of that gorgeous grass that is ankle high from that Turf Special treatment?" Yep, you guessed it! We had him in the nine hole, and he had to listen to us again. Know what? Joe's got a beautiful Jacobson gasoline mower now. He says that it is as good as his lawn, the best there is. Maybe you think we don't work both sides of the street!

'Second Best' Gridder After 440 Crown

BRENNHAM—(AP)—Brenham's most fabulous athlete dons his high school sports gear for the final time this weekend when he leads the Brenham Cubs into the State Track and Field Meet at Austin.

James Peters, over whom area sports enthusiasts are digging out the proverbial "crying towel" due to his graduation later this month, closes out one of the most colorful careers of any high school performer.

The lanky 185-pounder, who stands 6-2, is rated "top" in the 440-yard dash, and will be a threat to clip the division record of 50.3 which he equalled last season in pacing the locals to a title.

Peters, who has been a mainstay on Coach Owen Erikson's teams the last three years, also anchors both the 440-yard and mile relay teams.

He ran his best race at the San Antonio Invitational Meet last Saturday, whacking to a record time of 49.8 seconds in the 440 to crack a standard that had stood 14 years.

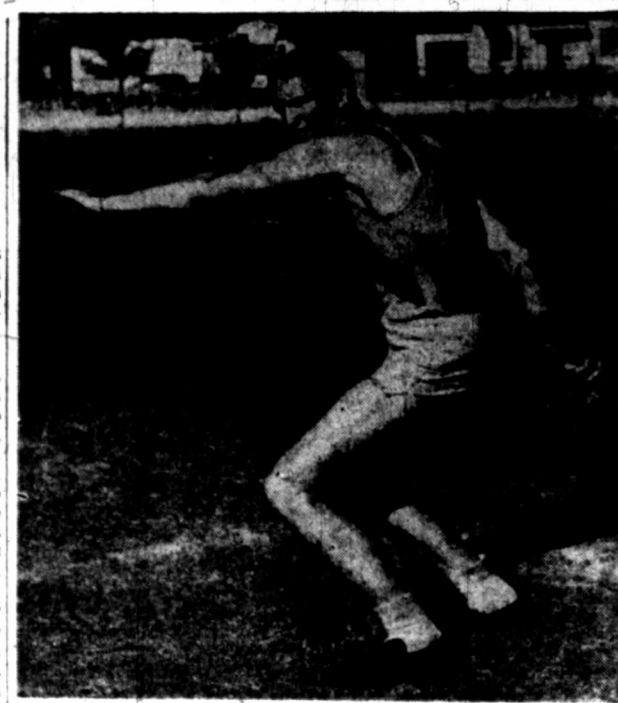

Peters follows the usual track pattern of establishing the best times against tougher competition. He won the district 440 in 51.5, then cut it to 50.4 in the regional meet.

Peters' ability as a football player runs a close race with his attributes as a trackster, and he may be known even better in some circles for his gridiron feats.

He topped off three years of play this last fall by being named to the Texas Sports Writers Association's All State Class A first team, and was picked as a third string All-America prep school performer. One of his finest hours came when the Texas Sports Writers named him the second best football player in Texas, behind Temple High School's Doyle Taylor.

Peters, an end, gained more than 900 yards on pass receptions and scored 12 touchdowns and one extra point for a total of 73 to be the leading scorer for a singman in the entire state.

He has been selected to perform for the South squad in the annual North-South football classic, toppling off the Texas High School Coaches' Association gathering at Houston next August.

KERMIT CONTENDER—Keith Wharton, Kermit track star, ranks among the leading Class A discus throwers competing in the state track meet. The husky Yellowjacket ace tossed the discus 137 feet, 5 3/4 inches in winning the event at the Region I-A meet recently.

Carlsbad Turns Back Oiler Nine

CARLSBAD, N. M.—(AP)—Carlsbad scored three runs in the eighth inning here Thursday night to defeat Odessa, 10-7, in the opening game of a three-game stand.

Odessa cut down a 4-1 Carlsbad lead with a five-run outburst in the fifth, only to see the league leaders go ahead again with three runs in the bottom of the same frame. Odessa tied it with one run in the seventh.

Gene Grant opened the crucial eighth with a single and John Trece reached first on an error. Grant scored on Merv Connor's single, and Trece and Connors came home when Goidy Olson doubled.

Lefty Marshall Epperson went all the way for Carlsbad, giving up 11 hits and fanning seven. Juan Villarreal, who relieved Al Sokolowski in the second, was charged with the loss.

Broncs Win By 19 To 15

ROSSELL—(AP)—The Big Spring Broncs chased in four runs in the top of the tenth inning here Thursday night to take a 19-15 win from the Roswell Rockets in a wild and woolly slugfest.

It was the long ball that turned the trick for the Broncs, home runs exploding off the bats of Manny Diaz, Joe Riney, Joe Murphy and Jake McClain.

Roswell erupted for seven runs in the first inning, but fell behind as the Broncs scored steadily to build up a lead in the early innings, scoring three in the first, five in the second and four in the third.

Roswell took a lead again with another big inning, six runs in the fifth.

Diaz's two-run homer in the ninth gave the Broncs the lead again, but Manager Pat Stacey slapped a run-scoring double with two out in the ninth, his fourth straight hit, to knot it up again, this time at 18-15.

But the pitching efforts of loser Armando Lopez and Julio Gonzalez couldn't stop the Broncs bats. Big Spring 354 000 012 4-19 19 4

Midland Women Start Qualifying

Midland women, "several four-somes" strong, inaugurate the first rounds of qualifying Friday for next week's five-day Women's Invitational Golf Tournament over the Midland Country Club's town course. Boyd Huff, country club pro, said most of the early qualifiers will be those entering among the lower flights and won't be bidding in the medalist competition. Their posting scores early is part of the sponsoring group's drive to get most of the local women on the score board and to clear the way for practice, rounds Monday and Tuesday.

The tournament proper begins Wednesday with entries at that time shooting their qualifying rounds and bidding for the medalist prize. "We want to have most of the members qualified by Sunday," Mrs. Roger Cummings, publicity chairman, said, "so that we can keep the course free for guests and practice rounds Monday and Tuesday."

She said that several foursomes would post their qualifying scores Friday with even larger groups expected on the par-78 course Saturday and Sunday.

After the medalist rounds, match play begins the Thursday for four days of eliminations. The women will compete in both nine-hole and 18-hole flights.

The tournament committees have set up this schedule of action and features for the invitational:

Wednesday—qualifying for medalist at 8 a.m. with a 3 p.m. deadline; barbecue, 6:30 p.m.; Calcutta pool, 8:30 p.m.
Thursday—first round matches; driving contest, 8 p.m.
Friday—second round matches; cocktail party, 8 p.m.
Saturday—third round matches; dance, 9 p.m.
Sunday—finals; presentation of awards, 5 p.m.
Gloria Ezell, winner in the Recent Women's Invitational at San Angelo Country Club, is the defending champion here.

Black Indians Tackle Hobbs Nine In Effort To End Losing String

The Midland Black Indians, suffering through a four-game slump, figure on changing up their order in a third try to whip Hobbs, N. M., at 8 p.m. Friday in Indian Park.

The Indians, a mixed club, were put down twice by Hobbs and once each by Abilene and Grandfalls in the four previous starts. And Manager Julius Armstrong and Gene Grant probably will call for several lineup changes in Friday's game.

The starting nine heretofore has been Yancy Balle, Carroll Nipp and Richardson in the outfield; Isiah Carpenter, catcher; Perry Lampkin, first base; J. B. Boyce, second base; Grant, shortstop; T. A. Hall, third base and either Oscar Lewis or Leon Hayes, pitcher.

Hayes and Nipp are former Midland Indian players of the Longhorn League.

Mayfield Leads Greenbrier Over Ol' Aches And Painers

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA.—(AP)—A grumbling Ben Hogan and a complaining Sam Snead went out Friday to catch upstart Shelley Mayfield in the second round of the 72-hole Greenbrier Open, Golf Tournament.

The two famous linksmen were forced to concede the first round lead Thursday to the 28-year-old Mayfield, from Cedarhurst, L. I., but they weren't beefing about that so much as their own troubles.

They were only a stroke behind, along with Pete Cooper of White Plains, N. Y., who took four strokes less than the par 70.

Hogan grumbled about the greens of the Old White Course after finishing with his 67, including five birdies.

Hogan carved this 6388-yard course to shreds in 1950, winning by 21 strokes ahead of par and 10 in front of Snead.

Snead, who bounced back to cop the last two tournaments on the course where he is the pro, still complained of an aching left hand despite his 67. Snead hurt the hand several weeks ago when he swung at a ball at Alken, S. C., and connected with a tree root.

In striking position in third place with 69 apiece were: Henry Picard of Cleveland, Al Broesch of Garden City, L. I., Jack Burke, Jr., of Klamath Lake, N. Y., Peter Thompson of Australia and Bob Watson of White Plains, N. Y.

Roughs Plty Sunday Game In Sweetwater

The Midland Roughnecks restart the 1953 schedule Sunday with a road game in which the principals could spend hours matching longevity stripes from professional ball playing experience.

The Roughnecks, long on players with pro years behind them, tangle with Sweetwater's semi-pro there at 2:30 p.m. And that ball club, the Sweetwater answer to a lost Longhorn League franchise, is composed chiefly of former minor league stars the same as Midland.

The Roughs will bid for their first victory of the season and put either John Olson or John Howard on the hill searching for it.

Starting Pitcher: Leon (Hook) Hayes won't be able to make the trip with the Roughs because of work. The team leaves from the Ranchhouse Cafe at 12 noon Sunday.

Vince Cornoyer manages Sweetwater.

ARTESIA—(AP)—Right-hander Len Ruyle spun a seven-hitter to stop the Midland Indians as the Artesia Drillers celebrated their return home Thursday night with a 10-2 win.

Ruyle was bothered by the Indians only twice and was never in serious trouble. They picked up one run in the first on a walk to Roger Dalla Betta and a double by Art Bowland. Midland's other tally came in the sixth on a single by Milt Wallendorf and Charles Stephenson. Artesia pounded loser Ralph Blair hard through the first three innings and built up a large 9-1 lead.

A two-run single highlighted the four-run outburst engineered by the Drillers in the first inning. Then two more in the second with a passed ball playing a large part, and picked up three in the third.

Les Mulcahy was the big gun for the Drillers, spanking two doubles while Joe Fortin, who had that timely single in the first, drove in three runs.

Colts Battle Back To Defeat Lamesa

LAMESA—(AP)—John Tayan singled in the tenth inning here Thursday night to give the San Angelo Colts an uphill 9-1 victory over the downtrodden Lamesa Lobos.

Lamesa, with an ultimatum given fans Thursday that unless attendance picked up the club would have to fold, jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning. The Lobos increased it to 7-0 with five runs in the second and appeared to be well on their way to victory.

But the Colts battled back for five in the fifth and two in the ninth to send the game into overtime.

The Bulldozers edged the Braves, 4-3, in a Central Little League game Thursday behind the one-hit pitching of Billy Brown.

Brown contributed to his own cause at the plate, hitting a home run.

Robert Jarvis scored 557 points in 24 basketball games for the University of Mississippi this season to set a new team scoring record.

MARTY MARION FORGETS—Musial Only Great—Stanky

By JOE REICHLER
BROOKLYN—(AP)—The mantle of "the greatest" that Marty Marion has fitted for Mickey Mantle's shoulders is just a shabby cloak to Eddie Stanky.

"There's only one 'greatest' in the game today," the fiery little St. Louis Cardinal pilot said after Thursday's game with the Dodgers had been postponed. "His name is 'The Man'—the one and only Stan Musial. Who else?"

Stanky refrained from referring to Marion by name but he made no attempt to hide his resentment toward the manager of the St. Louis Browns who recently was quoted as saying that Mantle was baseball's No. 1 player today.

"I'm amazed at that fellow's statement," Stanky said vehemently. "Why, he is a teammate of Musial's for so many years. It was all right then, when they were on the same club, to call Stan the best—even greater than Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams. But now that the fellow is in the other league, he forgets all about him."

"I'm not trying to take anything away from Mantle. He's a fine young ball player. But the greatest? Why? Because he hit a ball 500 feet? Sure, he's young, he's fast and he has a lot of power.

But how many times has he led the league in batting? Or runs batted in? Or hits? Or anything?"

"Now let me tell you about Musial, in case you don't know. Stan has led the league in batting six times. He's led it in runs, hits, doubles, triples, total bases, slugging, runs batted in and goodness knows what else."

"Musial has been a top-flight star for 10 years. How long has Mantle been in the big leagues? Two? Why don't they wait until he's been in the league for six, seven or eight years before they begin comparing him with the great stars, let alone a super-star like Musial."

"He's the biggest star in the game but he has the humility of a rookie. He's never high-hatted anybody in his life. He never asks for special favors. He is always available to younger players and ever eager to help them."

"Guys like Stan, and Enos Slaughter and Red Schoendienst make it easier for a manager. They set the example for the rest of the team. If I had a couple of more like that I'd be the greatest manager in baseball. You see, I have always maintained it's the players who make the manager."

Major Leaguers Play Under Arcs

By The Associated Press
Major league baseball, which has been nightly lit by the bright lights of the stadium since the first game of the season, will be played under the stars Friday night for the first time since the season opened.

At least that's what the schedules say, although the weatherman may have other ideas. He has had so many times since the baseball season opened almost four weeks ago that club owners are beginning to suspect the Weather Bureau has been taken over exclusively by rain-makers.

First place in the National League will be at stake with the Philadelphia Phillies coming to Brooklyn's Ebbets Field for a three game set with the second place Dodgers.

Milwaukee will attempt to play its third home game of the year—the Braves have been rained out of their new home four times in six tries—with the Chicago Cubs as guests. St. Louis will be in Cincinnati and Pittsburgh at New York.

The New York Yankees put their game and a half American League lead on the line in Boston after a two day layoff. The Cleveland Indians, the Yanks' nearest pursuers, invade St. Louis. Philadelphia Athletics are at home to Washington and Detroit visits Chicago.

One-Hitter Ends Second Week's Tilts

The Midland City softball leagues ended their second week of play Thursday night with the best pitched game of the season.

A schedule change awaits the clubs in next Monday night's games with the cards from now on calling for triple-headers each night instead of double-headers.

Gulf Oil Pitcher Jim Burford, playing in time-limit game which was called after five innings, stopped Schlumberger on one-hit, recording the second shutout of the race. Gulf, as support, teamed 13 hits with the sluggo playing of Schlumberger fielders to waste up the time allotted to the game.

In the other Thursday night encounter, Western Inspection, like Gulf Oil, won its third straight against no setbacks when it edged Magnolia, 12-7.

In the Gulf victory, Don Graham, Ray Whiteside, Armstrong, and Dan Miles all collected two hits each. One of Graham's was a home run.

Wells singled and homered in pacing Western Inspection.

Martin Alday, of the JayCee softball group, announced the new schedule that will give the 12 city league teams four round robins. It goes into effect Monday night when Humble meets Rotary in the 6:30 p.m. opener. Rendezvous meets Magnolia at 8 p.m. and Western Inspection tries Phillips at 9:30 p.m. The same hours will be used in each of the tripleheaders.

Allday said time limits for each game would be one hour and 15 minutes.

One new league rule also was adopted, the JayCee committee announced: "A team can play regardless of the number of available players if they so desire, rather than meet the requirement of eight players on the field 15 minutes after the game starts."

SMU, Aggies Win In Track Meets

By The Associated Press
Southern Methodist and Texas A&M track and field aggregations were winners Thursday in two triangular meets held at Dallas and Austin.

SMU won both the varsity and freshman ends of the triangular meet at Dallas with the varsity scoring 73 1/2 points while the freshmen racked up 74.

Texas Christian was second at Dallas with 53 1/2 points to 44 for third-place Baylor.

In the meet at Austin, Texas A&M scored 87 points, Texas 67 and Rice 15. The College Station crew won with overwhelming superiority in the weight and field events.

Buddy Goode, Southern Methodist's sprint star, dazzled onlookers when he was timed at 9.2 in the 100-yard dash. A remeasurement of the distance, however, showed it to be more than 19 feet short. Goode was retimed with a winning 9.9.

Darrah Hooper, Texas A&M's Olympic veteran, won both the shot put and discus throw at Austin with tosses of 55 feet, four inches and 162 feet, seven inches, respectively, in the two events.

Yippy's Trio Counts, 6-3

Yippy Rankin enjoyed a perfect day a bat—three hits in three trips—as he led the Elks to a 6-3 victory over the Sheriff's posse Thursday in the West Little League.

Steve Brown lost the pitching verdict to Don Hillin.

Rankin's hits included two singles and a triple, good for two runs batted in.

In Friday's game, Sheriff's posse meets S&Q Clothiers at 5:15 p.m.

Two Home Runs Fail As Cards Win, 10-6

James Brunson pitched and batted the Eagles to a 10-6 victory over the Cards in Thursday's South Little League game. But the Cards won home run honors as Dickie Box and Johnny Welcher clouted four-baggers for the losers.

Brunson homered for the Eagles.

Sports Retake Lead In Texas Campaign

By The Associated Press
It was Shreveport's turn to win over Dallas Thursday night as the Texas League continued its search for the stick-out club and the Sports won it 9-8 in 10 innings.

The win restored the Shreveport club to first place. Fort Worth, in second place tie, beat Beaumont, 8-2.

Houston's Al Pappi threw a three-hit, 8-0 shutout at Oklahoma City. Tulsa and San Antonio split their double-header with Tulsa winning the first in 11 innings, 7-6, 2-11.

Schoolboy Track, Field Meet May Write Records By Bunch

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AUSTIN—(AP)—The massive Texas schoolboy track and field meet swung open Friday with the bulk of 811 contestants in three divisions going through preliminaries that could produce new records by the bunch.

Baytown Sunset (Dallas) and Ray (Corpus Christi) were set to fight it out for the Class AA championship. Each school appeared capable of scoring more than 40 points, but Baytown doesn't have to depend on one man so much as Sunset and Ray.

Carrying the fate of Sunset into the big three-division cinder path show is Eddie Southern, sprinter, hurdler and relay runner. Ray leans on Dick Bowen, sprinter, broad jumper and relay man.

Baytown Relay Tops
Baytown has the top mile relay team, the two leading quarter-milers in Eddie Gray and Eddie Buss, a strong discus thrower in Norman Adams and an excellent high jumper in Joe Schiraldi. In fact, Schiraldi, while not the state's leader in the regional meets, has leaped six feet, one and one-half inches this season—and that's the highest of any.

Bobby McBride, who makes Re-

As the meet opens, the tag of favorite appears to have passed from Sunset to Baytown but Southern might change that if he's able to bear the load placed on him.

Tulsa Favorites
The defending champions of Class A and Class B are favored. Brenham gets the nod in Class A and Sugar Land in Class B.

Brenham should win because of its great relay teams—both the 440 and mile—and its James Peters, the top quarter-miler of Texas, all classes considered. Relays count 16 points, individual events 10 for first place. Sugar Land hooks its wagon to star Ken Hall in a drive to repeat in Class B. Hall is in five events and capable of scoring 40 points.

Sugar Land also has one of the best 440-yard relay teams.

Records Expected
Two overall records are expected and one of those might eclipse a national standard.

Southern and Ray Thompson of Lamar (Houston) have run the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.1, which is only two-tenths of a second over the national record. It is nineteenth of a second better than the Texas high school mark.

Bobby McBride, who makes Refugio a contender for the Class A championship—the pole vaults, high jumps, hurdles and broad jumps, and is a star in all—might wipe out a record that has stood for 20 years. McBride vaulted 13 feet, two inches last week and that's a half-inch higher than the overall state mark set in 1933 by Earl Meadows of Fort Worth Central.

Watch Peters' 440
Peters might erase the state's 440-yard record of 49 seconds that has stood 19 years. He warmed up with a 49.8 last week in beating both of the Baytown quarter men—Gray and Buss.

Belting, Phillips and Refugio will be the chief threats to Brenham in its try for a championship repeat in Class A. O'Donnell looks like the team for Sugar Land to worry about.

Preliminaries were scheduled Friday in all events except the 440 and mile relays and the mile run. Semifinals in the dashes and hurdles are scheduled Friday afternoon. All finals will be Saturday afternoon.

Tennis and golf also started Friday. James Schmidt of Galveston defends his singles championship in Class AA tennis. Pauline Bigaman of Asherton is back seeking to repeat as girls singles titlist in the combined Class A-B. Richard Parvino of Pine Tree is the only individual defending champion in golf. He won in Class B last year.

Longhorns Crowd Conference Title

By The Associated Press
The University of Texas Longhorns were two games nearer another Southwest Conference baseball championship Friday with one more game to go against Rice followed by a couple with Texas A&M.

The Longhorns, working behind two pitchers stony with hits Thursday, whipped the Rice entry twice, 7-2 and 13-2. Roland Jones in the first game, and Martin Wiginton, in the second, each held the Owls to four hits.

The Aggies, meanwhile, were probably getting in the right frame of mind to give the Longhorns two mighty battles in College Station, May 14-15. The Aggies batted, 4-8, to the Baylor Bears.

Billy Disch Honored
Texas with its double win over Rice paid homage to "Uncle Billy" Disch, the man who put the university on the map, baseballwise. It was "Billy Disch Day" on the Forty Acres, and across the state Texas eyes remembered him as the wily diamond wizard who won 21 conference titles in 36 campaigns... and sent dozens of players to the major leagues.

Paul Mohr, a player Billy Disch would have loved, was Thursday's slugging hero for the Longhorns. The Texas first baseman ridded Owl pitching with four hits in eight times up, two home runs and a double included along with seven RBI's.

Cotton Davidson's stellar pitching was too much for the Aggies at Waco. He had them banded until the seventh when they combined, one solid single with two scratch hits, a hit batter and four walks for four runs.

Next week's schedule:
May 12—Texas A&M vs. University of Houston at Houston. Rice vs. Sam Houston State at Houston. Baylor vs. Texas Christian at Fort Worth.
May 13—Texas Christian vs. Baylor at Fort Worth.
May 14—University of Texas vs. Texas A&M at College Station.
May 15—University of Texas vs. Texas A&M at College Station.
May 16—Rice vs. Baylor at Waco.

Homer Aids JayCeas To Pony Win, 22-4

Lupe Hernandez capped the first home run of the week-old Pony League Thursday to boot the JayCeas to a 22-4 decision over Rotary.

The score:
JayCeas 620 (11) 3--22 9 2
Rotary 103 00--4 3 3

Newcomer Fuentes Tries Sugar Wilson

NEW YORK—(AP)—Ramon Fuentes, a new face from Los Angeles, opens his campaign for a rating in the welter division Friday night against Al (Sugar) Wilson of Englewood, N. J., in a 10-round match at St. Nicholas Arena.

Young Fuentes, beaten only once in 21 pro starts, holds the California win title on the strength of a win over Mario Trigo last July.

Lubbock Makes Room At Front Of WT-NM

By The Associated Press
Lubbock gained a full game on its nearest competitors in the West Texas-New Mexico League, Pampa and Plainview, when it set down Pampa, 6-1, Thursday night.

Lubbock Hurier Charles Garmon outpitched Pampa's Roger Aldridge to gain his fourth win of the season.

The other games saw Albuquerque blast Clovis, 18-3; Ablene end a three-game losing streak with a 7-3 win over Plainview, and Borger whip Amarillo, 16-9, with 17 hits.

Oliver Strokes 67 To Lead First Round Ardmore Play

ARDMORE, OKLA.—(AP)—Ed Oliver, the jovial jester of golf's tournament trail, was in excellent position to abdicate his title as a perennial runner-up as some 181 players tied off Friday in the second round of the rich Ardmore Open Golf Tournament.

Oliver, Wilmington, Del., came through with one of those stalling finishes to post a three-under-par 67 on the 6,483-yard Dornick Hills Country Club course to share the first round lead with Earl Stewart, Jr., Dallas.

It was a financial success for both players on the opening day of this four-day tournament. They split the $500 first place award for the day's low round and each picked up $50 for shooting six birdies under the bonus plans of the Waco Turners, sponsors of the event.

For Stewart, the climax was a bit disheartening. He came through with his 67 five holes before Oliver banked an approach shot six feet from the cup on the eighteenth hole and rammed it in to gain a tie.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., was the 89 group, along with Jerry Barber, La Canada, Calif.; Jack Higgins, an assistant pro at Tulsa, and Harry Phillips, Fort Worth.

Five players equalled par-70, including Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore.; Al Bessellink, Grossingers, N. Y.; Jimmie Gaunt, Oklahoma City; amateur Neil Smith of Ardmore and Marty Furgol, Lamont, Ill.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, host pro, found his game lacking and hoped for a better performance as he sought to improve his opening round 71 and a chance to win $11,400 as his part in the Turner money scheme.

John Sherrod On Winning Pro-Am Team

BIG SPRING—Pro W. O. Maxwell, captain of a foursome including John Sherrod of Midland, dominated a field of 100 golfers competing Thursday in the weekly Pro-Amateur Tournament.

Maxwell, of Big Spring Municipal Course, equaled the par 72 on the Big Spring Country Club course to pocket the low professional prize money. His team, which included Mrs. Evelyn Bellew and Don Hoover of Big Spring besides Sherrod, won that division with a low team score of 68.

Although a large group from Midland competed, Sherrod was the low amateur winner. Pro Abe Beckman of Ranchland Hill finished just out of the running among pros with a 79, while Dick Triott of Ranchland and Jay McClure of Midland Country Club failed to turn in cards.

Bobby Wright edged Luke Thompson by one stroke with a 74 to take the low amateur prize.

J. T. Hammett of Snyder recorded a 77 and Foy Fanning of Abilene Municipal a 78 as second and third in the pro competition.

Murder Charged To Father In Child Swimmer's Death

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Russell Tongay, bronzed swimming instructor who once was acquitted of charges that he mistreated his swim star daughter, Kathy, Friday was accused of causing her death.

Detective Charles A. Sapp of the Miami Homicide Bureau said an autopsy report showed the flaxen-haired five-year-old child died Wednesday of a ruptured intestine caused by a blow.

A warrant charging the husky, 36-year-old ex-Coast Guardsman with second degree murder was issued Thursday night, minutes after Tongay was released from city jail on a writ of habeas corpus.

Tongay had been arrested and ordered "held for investigation of murder" two hours previously after lengthy grilling by Sapp and other officers. Tongay made no admissions during the interrogation, Sapp said.

Dade County Circuit Judge Marshall C. Wisehart ordered Tongay released in custody of his attorney pending the hearing Friday. Peace Justice Edwin Lee Mason then issued the warrant which Sapp said would be served at the hearing.

The child, who learned to swim before she could walk and had been taking swimming instructions from her father ever since, suffered convulsions Wednesday and died enroute to a hospital.

Dr. Victor Calderine, hospital pathologist, said in his report that the ruptured intestine, with accompanying hemorrhages, apparently had been caused by a blow, poison seeping from the resulting infection sent the child into convulsions before she died, he added.

Lt. Chester Eldredge, chief of the homicide bureau, said the blow apparently had been administered 24 hours earlier.

The girl had apparently suffered an extremely brutal beating," he said. "She was bruised all over and had a ruptured intestine."

Mrs. Tongay said the child was not injured in any accident and she could not explain the convulsions.

Bankers Agree Rain Would Help Texans

FORT WORTH—(AP)—The bankers who keep their fingers on the prosperity pulse of West Texas area said Friday many areas still are suffering from drought.

Three bank vice presidents from Wichita Falls, here for a meeting of credit men, agreed that May, June and July hold the key to the drought in their area.

"Recent rains have been too spotted to do much good," said Ed Fizer, one of the bank executives.

"May and June is when we generally get our good rains, if we are to get any," said Claude Vaughn of the City National Bank in Wichita Falls.

The lack of rain has sent bank loans down the men agreed.

"There's not much demand for money to buy cattle," explained H. A. Pendleton of City National.

The bankers said that grass and grain had been too scorched by the drought to keep cattle on it.

"But it hasn't reached the point where rain won't help it," said Fizer.

Vaughn said recent light rains have helped wheat in the area but more rain is needed.

A fourth banker, Frank Storm of Amarillo, said the Wichita Falls situation generally applied to his region.

"Good-by-product of the lack of rain, Storm said, is the stimulus to plan for bigger and better water storage to catch rain when it does come.

Police scurried up and led the photographer away, releasing him a few minutes later. Sinatra and his wife bustled off, still bristling with the indignity of it all.

Completion of the project would extend the improved Highway 80 all across Midland County.

A similar highway already exists between Midland and Odessa and the proposed work would extend this highway on to the Martin County line on the east.

Martin County is in the final stages of acquiring its right-of-way, and work on a widened Highway 80 across Martin County is expected to begin within the next three months.

Plans call for the construction of two 24-foot roadways, separated by a 50-foot neutral ground—20 feet wider than the area between the roadways on the Midland-Odessa highway.

With Howard County expected to join in the plans in the near future, such a highway would extend from Big Spring, through Stanton and Midland, and on to Odessa.

Worley, president of the group, said there are 107 members in the organization with approximately 75 being in Texas and the rest scattered throughout Oklahoma, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Arkansas.

Main point at the meeting, he said, was the discussion of maintenance and improvement of cemeteries. Worley has been president since 1952.

'MAN WITH THE BARGAINS'— Jewelry-Pilfering Visitor Nabbed Turning To Steaks

Bargain Week in the negro section of the city came to a sudden halt Thursday night because a 26-year-old negro truck driver got hungry for some thick sirloin steaks.

The steaks had reposed in the deep freeze locker located in the trailer home of Nelson Jacobs, 605 Carver Street.

Since last Sunday, Jacobs' trailer had been broken into twice and approximately $1,500 worth of jewelry had been stolen.

When he returned home Thursday night, he spotted the 26-year-old negro truck driver in his trailer. He grabbed a gun and held him there until Police Officers Deloss Grayson and James Simons showed up to place him under arrest.

"He had already taken a stack of steaks out of the deep freeze and was getting ready to leave with them when I walked in," explained Jacobs.

"I don't remember what I did with it," said the truck driver, still held for investigation of the jewelry theft. "I used the money to buy some whisky and wine and got drunk. I don't remember what happened to the other stuff."

Officers still were looking for the rest of the missing jewelry.

Midlander Attends Company's Dinner In Houston Friday

Don R. Emmert of Midland is in Houston to attend a dinner to be given by Peter M. Frazer, president of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, Friday, at the Shamrock Hotel in observance of the company's twentieth anniversary in Texas. Emmert, who represents the company at Midland, is also attending a company meeting at Houston.

"We thought Texas was one of the most promising areas in the country in 1933 when the Connecticut Mutual decided to enter Texas and this state has certainly fulfilled our expectations," President Frazer said.

"The company's Texas agents have placed a total of $194,445,261 new life insurance protection. There are 35,000 Connecticut Mutual policies in force in this state and over $17,000,000 has been paid in benefits here," he commented.

"Our investment experience in Texas has been excellent," he continued. "The company has investments here of all types totalling $60,555,149 in utilities, colleges and municipalities as well as loans on farms, ranches and city real estate."

The Connecticut Mutual is one of the country's oldest and largest life insurance companies and was founded in 1842. Assets this year will reach the billion dollar mark and life insurance protection in force will run over $2,500,000,000.

Midland Firm Shows Replica Of Official Pace Car For Race

The Murray-Young Motors, Ltd. at 223 East Wall Street is now proudly displaying a replica of the custom-made 1953 Ford Sunliner which will be the official pace car for the 37th annual Indianapolis 500-mile race.

The beautiful Sunliner Pace Car has a dazzling white body finish and special white and gold vinyl upholstery. It will be available to the public soon, says Harry S. Murray, sales manager for the Ford agency.

The Ford Company is celebrating also its 50th anniversary this year, giving added significance to its selection as the official pace car. In keeping with this honor, William Clay Ford director of the Ford Motor Company, will drive the Official Pace Car the first lap of the race on May 30.

The distinction that has come to the '53 Ford Sunliner is coveted and cultivated by all automobile manufacturers who annually select the right to pace the 500-mile race. Selection of the Pace Car is based on the car's speed, power, stamina, responsiveness, cornering-ability and its popularity with the public.

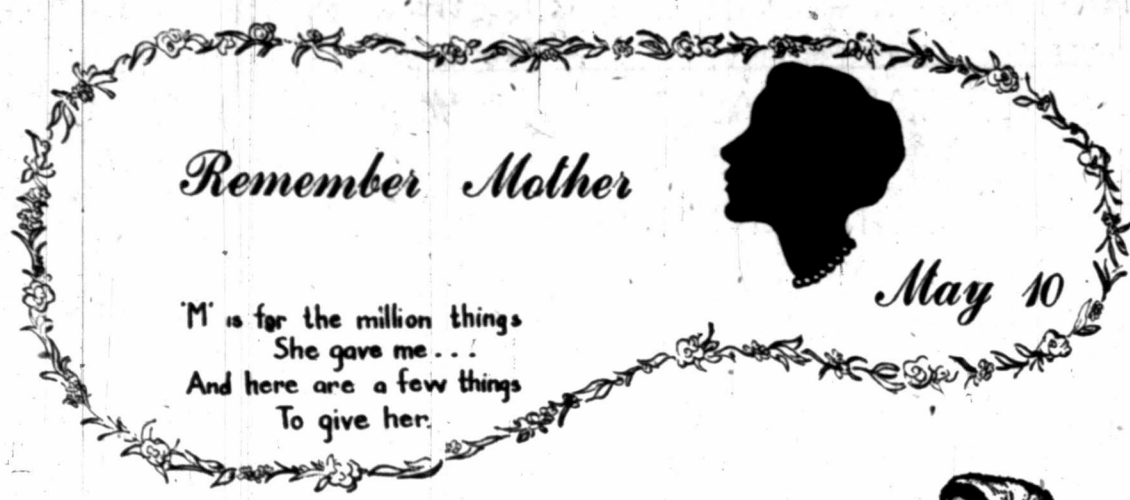

The replica of the Ford Sunliner Pace Car, a convertible, is on display in the window of the Murray-Young Motors, and the public is invited to inspect this handsome automobile.

Three Americans Identified In Ship's Dead, One Missing

HARWICH, ENGLAND.—Police announced Friday the identification of three American women and one German killed in the British steamer Duke of York during a North Sea collision Wednesday. Another American—an Air Force lieutenant—is missing and believed drowned.

The American victims were identified as Gilda Jordet, 49, of Rocky Ford, Colo.; Bernice Viola Larson, 49, of La Crosse, Wis., and Ann Spring, 29, of Honolulu, Hawaii.

Miss Spring's body was identified by a fellow traveler, Richard Healey. She was a U. S. government employee in Germany.

A spokesman for the U. S. Third Air Force said the American missing and feared drowned is Lt. Dale Cheney of Kellogg, Idaho. He was traveling from Germany to Britain and was believed to have been on the Duke of York.

No trace of him has been found and British officials were making a final check Friday to find out if he boarded the ship in Holland.

The fourth body found in the wrecked section of the Duke of York was identified as Kurt Fromm, 22, a German from Oldenburg.

Five persons were known to have died in the collision of the 4,190-ton Duke of York and the 7,607-ton American freighter Haiti Victory. The fifth victim was an Englishwoman, Mrs. Margo Ansdell, who died in a hospital Wednesday.

One other passenger still was unaccounted for. British Railway officials were not certain, however, whether this might be a result of an error in either their list of passengers embarked on the voyage or their records of survivors brought ashore.

Some 500 passengers and crewmen of the Duke of York—including a number of Americans—were saved. Twelve persons were injured.

Reclamation Bureau Staff To Be Slashed

WASHINGTON.—The Department of the Interior has ordered an economy cut of more than 10 per cent by June 30 in the reclamation bureau's staff—a reduction of 1,322 among 12,000 to 13,000 employees.

Assistant Secretary of the Interior Fred G. Aandahl gave the figures to newsmen Thursday. It was the first major personnel slash ordered by Secretary of the Interior McKay since he took office in January.

Aandahl said the staff cutback in seven regional offices, the chief engineer's office in Denver and the headquarters here is based on "prospective estimates of what congressional action might be."

Former President Truman recommended $231,188,000 for the bureau in the fiscal year starting July 1. McKay asked $177,350,000 and the House voted $133,146,675. The Senate has not yet acted.

Red China Lists First-Year Hopes In Five-Year Plan

SAN FRANCISCO.—Communist China has given the world a peek at what it hopes to accomplish in this first year of its five year plan. The hopes seemed small by Western standards.

Peiping radio Thursday night broadcast the speech of a party functionary before a session of the "All-China Trade Union Congress," who said capital construction would be "150 per cent above the planned figure for 1952."

Chu Hsueh-fan, vice president of the All-China Federation of Labor, then listed this investment as a new steel rolling factory, a seamless steel tubing mill, equipment for six large power stations, 10 new coal shafts, 15 more oil wells, and 10 new big machine-building factories.

Alert Paper Boy Saves Lad's Life

BALTIMORE.—A quick-thinking newspaper boy is credited with saving the life of a youngster by putting a tourniquet around his leg after it was severed by a train.

Walter Campbell, 13, was delivering papers near the railroad tracks Thursday when he heard screams. He ran to the tracks and found Ronald Vales, six, with one leg off just below the knee.

Walter took a strap used for carrying papers and wrapped it around the boy's leg to stop the bleeding, then went for aid. Doctors said Ronald would have died to death if it hadn't been for Walter.

UN's 'Silver Bullet' Fails To Down Soviet-Made Jet

WASHINGTON.—It begins to look as if the U. S. will have to shop around someplace other than the Korean War zone if it wants to buy a Soviet-made MIG-15 jet fighter.

The $100,000 offer Gen. Mark Clark made a dozen days ago for the first MIG delivered intact to the U. S. Air Force—with asylum for the pilot—still stands—uncollected, with no takers sighted.

Asked about the matter Friday, an Air Force spokesman had this immediate reply: "No MIG has been surrendered yet."

Was a propaganda element involved in the "silver bullet" offer to any MIG pilot defecting from his Communist government and turning over himself and his plane to American custody?

"We want a MIG," said the spokesman. The Air Force has accumulated a highly useful amount of knowledge about the MIG, even without having an intact plane in its possession. But only actual test flying by American pilots can tell the whole story of the capabilities—and defects—of the swift, hard-hitting Russian-built fighter.

Almost daily encounters with the Red jets over North Korea during the last two years have provided American air tacticians and plane designers with a quantity of information about the speed, rate of climb, maneuver and firepower characteristics of the plane.

To that information have been added deductions made by aerodynamic designers from the wreckage of a MIG-15 recovered by United Nations forces along the North Korean coast over a year ago.

The item the Air Force would like next best to a MIG is a MIG pilot. U. S. officials have voiced profound suspicion that some, probably even a majority of MIG fighters encountered, are not flown by Asians although they bear Communist China Air Force insignia.

For a time, the Air Force privately entertained a now obviously vain hope that it might fall heir to a shiny new MIG-15 landed in Denmark some weeks ago by a young Polish pilot seeking asylum.

That hope went glimmering when the Danes sent the plane back to Poland on the ground it was the property of Poland, a Soviet satellite. The pilot subsequently came to the United States.

The Air Force has made inquiries at Copenhagen about the prospects of getting technical reports on the once-interned MIG. So far as is known, no such reports have been received.

Folks Of Atlanta Try Hard To Help Ike Enjoy Vacation

By WADE JONES
NEA Staff Correspondent

AUGUSTA, GA.—With an ease and grace truly Southern, the 86,000 residents of this historic resort city have absorbed President Eisenhower into their midst with scarcely a social ripple.

Partly, their attitude is a result of a deliberate attempt to extend the luxury of privacy to their famous golfing guest. The local newspapers have urged people not to intrude on this privacy.

But intrusion would be out of the question, anyway. A new seven-foot-high steel fence has just been erected around the entire Augusta National Golf Club and grounds, where the Eisenhowers spend their time.

A few people turn out to watch the President as he steps off his plane from Washington at nearby Bush airport. And there's a pretty steady stream of sightseers' cars past the golf course on Sundays. But two state police cars and a detail of Secret Service men are on hand at the main gate to see that nobody gets in while the President is there.

The only people allowed to enter are those few of the club's 187 members or their guests who may be in town when the President is here. Since only about 40 of the members are from Georgia, there are usually no more than 30 on hand at any one time.

Quiet and privacy of National golf club grounds make it an ideal presidential retreat. Only members and guests can get past new steel fence to drive in to clubhouse, seen at right.

Sunday morning in Augusta gives townspeople rare glimpse of President and Mrs. Eisenhower as they stop to talk with the Rev. Massey Mott Heltzel outside Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church, where they attend 9 a.m. services.

Only rarely do the Eisenhowers drive the mile or so into town from the club. Mrs. Eisenhower and a few women friends at the club slipped in the side door of the Miller Theater in town to see a movie. The name of the picture was "The President's Lady."

"They slipped out before the picture ended," says Pierce McCoy, theater manager, "and I doubt if over one or two people knew the President's lady was seeing 'The President's Lady.'"

One time Augustans can count on getting a glimpse of the Eisenhowers is when the latter attend the little red brick Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church on Sundays.

Attend Early Rites

There are two morning services—at 9 o'clock and at 11. The Eisenhowers attend the early one, which was begun only last March after the President and his wife accepted a written invitation from the Rev. Massey Mott Heltzel, pastor, to attend.

Heltzel, blue-eyed, 38-year-old father of three young daughters, is still somewhat overwhelmed at receiving two such distinguished additions to his congregation, a feeling shared by certain other Augustans who know him as a lifelong Democrat and supporter of Adlai Stevenson in the last Presidential campaign. The pastor's stock answer to questions on this subject is a broad and enigmatic smile.

Publicity Not Good

Heltzel says there had been a move afoot "for some time" to add an early Sunday service. It didn't lose impetus when President Eisenhower's aides informed the pastor that the President would look with favor on an early service.

"First reports of the early service got garbled," Heltzel says. "They

Good Humor Chimes Ring In Troubles

LUBBOCK — (P) — The happy chimes of the ice cream vendor are giving city officials here their biggest headache in years.

Until recently Lubbock's colorful ice cream trucks chimed up and down neighborhoods unchallenged, bringing to youngsters the joy of the popsicle.

Then several citizens complained. They worked nights and the chimes disturbed their sleep. Besides, how could children take their naps when the chimes kept them awake?

Against The Law

Didn't the police know it was against the law to use amplifiers for commercial purposes? Sure enough, it was. A city ordinance prohibits such amplifiers. Electric music boxes by which the trucks sound the chimes fall under the classification.

The ice cream men were told to shut off their music.

Without the familiar melody, mothers and children no longer showed up in front yards to buy ice cream. A dairy which manufactures the ice cream installed car radios in the trucks.

Complaints said the blare of those was much worse than chimes. That silenced the substitute radios.

Silence Is Awful

Hardly were the radios cut off than more complaints came in—this time against the silence.

Such as:

"How are we to know when the ice cream man comes around if we can't hear him?"—or—"Why don't the men sound their chimes anymore? I can't keep the children quiet if I don't buy them their popsicles in the afternoon."

City Manager Steve Matthews says, somewhat desperately, that some way will be found to solve the problem to everybody's satisfaction.

EARLY INVENTOR

Credit for the invention of the gasoline motor car sometimes is given to Siegfried Markus, a German, who, in 1875, constructed a crude machine which actually ran.

FINEST TURF

Packard Invitation Month
MAY 9th TO JUNE 9th

You are invited to take an important part in the great New Packard Program

Here is an unusual opportunity to see for yourself the fine new cars that make the New Packard Program the news story of this automotive year. 25 beautiful new cars will be awarded, including a glamorous Packard Caribbean. We hope you will join us. Please read on—

LAST December the people of this country gave a typical, enthusiastic, American welcome to the announcement that Packard was returning to the fine-car field. Once again America had a new choice in fine cars!

At the same time, the Packard CLIPPER was announced as the only medium-priced car in America built in the fine-car tradition. The big type of car that Americans like, priced just a few hundred dollars more than the low-priced lines.

These announcements were the first step in the revitalized Packard Program! Now you are invited to participate in step number two with 12 new Packards and 12 new Packard

CLIPPERS to be awarded those who follow the simple rules for participating in Packard Invitation Month.

May 9th to June 9th is the time. Just visit your dealer then. See the new Packard or CLIPPER and, on an official participation form (which your dealer will provide), write 25 words or less about the feature that impresses you most. Tell us what we should say about that feature in future advertising.

Send in as many suggestions as you wish. Just be sure each one is written on an official participation form and is in the mail before midnight on June 9th, 1953. See your Packard dealer soon.

The Splashers Splash!

Has your freshly-polished automobile been splattered recently at a street intersection?

It seems that more run-off water than usual is coursing down gutters and across streets in some sections of the city.

It seems that some motorists take extreme pleasure in hitting the water at full speed (the faster the better in most instances), splashing the water in all directions.

Galveston is observing Splash Day this weekend. Splash Day is observed in Midland daily.

The trouble is, he finds it. His competitors don't figure him for a genius. They don't know what the answer is.

Under the lobbying act these groups, plus private influence-seekers, plus attorneys practicing before Congress, are required to register.

Today the amount of money spent by the electric power lobby in Washington must be registered publicly so the American people are better able to judge what's happening.

However, the manner in which the lobby pulls wires still is kept about as secret as a classified cable in the Pentagon.

What the public doesn't know, it kept the utility lobby has been more successful than at any time since Hoover's day.

What the lobby has done is virtually to write the budget of the Interior Department so as to cut off $110,000,000 of funds for transmission lines, public power, and irrigation-reclamation projects.

This was accomplished by working through Congressman Ben F. Jensen of Iowa, chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Mr. Jensen has cooperated so closely with the power lobbyists in the past that Purcell Smith, who draws $65,000 a year plus expenses as top influence man for NAEC.

More recently the chopping down of the Interior Department budget—with the complete acquiescence of Secretary of the Interior McKay.

Chief immediate effect of this power-lobby victory will be to boost future rates to REA co-ops serving millions of farmers.

Hitherto, the government has kept electric rates down in certain areas, such as the Tennessee Valley and the Northwest by selling the power itself.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

One of the simplest ways to make a trick bloom in the desert is to mislocate the high cards for the declarer.

Bridge hand diagram showing North, West, East, and South positions with card suits and counts.

idea was to make declarer believe that the ace of clubs was in the West hand rather than in the East hand.

East would have taken his ace of clubs at once if dummy had held only a single high club.

At the third trick declarer led the ten of hearts from dummy and let it ride for a finesse.

East was able to capture dummy's queen of clubs with the ace, exactly as he had expected.

As it turned out, this defense gave East and West a very fine score in the Mixed Pair Championship of the Eastern States Tournament.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Ike's Domestic Aims Sketchy, End Of Controls Is Top Feat

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The greatest accomplishment of the Eisenhower Administration on the domestic front in its first 100 days in office has been removal of all price and wage controls.

The timing on this move was just right. Meat prices already were below ceilings. Other food prices normally already were in the Spring.

On the industrial front, supplies of materials had been built up to meet increased demands of the Korean war.

On the wage front, the more troublesome industrial disputes had been settled. So everything was right for lifting the lid.

Rent controls have been scheduled to end July 31. At the turn of the first 100 days the Congress still was in a sweat over continuing stand-by controls for use in case of a new inflationary emergency arises.

The Administration still has to meet its first test on handling a major labor dispute. That may come in the steel industry.

Both AFL and CIO have announced their intent to seek new wage increases as contracts come up for renewal.

Stabilization of living costs might serve to cut the ground from under any such demands.

Budget Cuts Are First But aside from this achievement of removing economic controls, the Eisenhower Administration in its first 100 days barely has made a beginning at sketching in the outline of its domestic program.

A first feeler at deflation through refinancing the national debt on a long-term basis. This has been done through the successful experiment of a billion-dollar, 3 1/4 per cent bond issue.

Two cautious moves toward a new farm policy. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Tamm Benson refused to support meat prices when they started skidding.

Six federal government reorganization plans. Making a Cabinet-rank Department of Health, Education and Welfare out of the Federal Security Agency and reorganization of Department of Agriculture are along lines outlined by previous Administrations.

There are signs now that in settling these policies, sharp differences between President Eisenhower's thinking and the opinions of a majority of the congressmen will have to be resolved.

"I'd better start from the beginning, sir. Manning was in the library this morning, and told me he'd been picking out some titles for Quinn's customers.

"So I've had a careful look at them," said Longley, and his voice rose a little. "One of the books has been damaged quite recently—it's got a shallow groove in the leather binding.

"You haven't tackled him about this yet, I hope?" "Great Scott, no!" "Then don't," said Bristow. "I'll find an excuse for coming down. Don't let him think you suspect anything."

MARY went to the window of her room. It was dark outside. She stood by the open window, looking up at the bright stars and over the shadowed parkland.

Customs may differ among the races and may change with the times, but certain institutions in human life have remained constant through the centuries. One of these is Motherhood.

Progress has given Mother new methods and new equipment for her age-old responsibilities. But the love and understanding which are the heart of Motherhood have never depended on science for their expression.

One unchanging sphere of material responsibility has been the religious development of children. From primitive tribal religions up to Christianity, mothers have guided and encouraged the growth of each successive generation in spiritual faith.

The Christian Church salutes all faithful mothers. They have led their families to an ever deepening realization of the sacred bond which unites the Church and the Home in a common devotion to Jesus Christ.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail didn't know, but it was true all the same. But just then—a big, heavy knock came pounding and hammering at the Huffen's door. The Huffen stopped in the middle of a bite of scrambled coconut. He looked at...

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was having dinner with the Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf. They were there at the Huffen's hollow tree house. They ate scrambled coconut in a bowl. They had scrambled coconut toast, and a fine scrambled coconut salad. Daddy Ringtail ate like the hungry monkey that he was. The Huffen ate like the hungry wolf that he was. Daddy Ringtail said: "No sir, and no indeed, the wolf won't knock at your door tonight."

Daddy Ringtail across the table. Daddy Ringtail looked at the Huffen. And again was the pounding and hammering on the door! It rattled the dishes on the table. "Ooooooh!" said the Huffen in a fright. "Why?" asked the Huffen.

By WESLEY DAVIS

The dark was outside in the Great Forest. The Huffen couldn't see who was knocking. He began to think of wolves, even though a wolf is what he was himself.

Daddy Ringtail had said that a wolf would never be knocking at the Huffen's door that night, but the Huffen now wasn't sure. He thought a hungry wolf might be out there—a wolf with a great big mouth and long white teeth. The Huffen's knees began to click together. He is very easily frightened, you see. Then the hammering on the door was louder and louder. Daddy Ringtail got up from the table. He walked over to the door. He opened it. And standing there in the door was—Can you guess?

No, it wasn't a wolf. It was Muggump Monkey, the monkey boy. He had come to say it was time for folks to go home, and please was Daddy Ringtail ready? Daddy Ringtail was, and I am, and Happy Day!

TAKE BOYLE'S WORD FOR IT— Breaking In New Boss Takes Careful Planning, Execution

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bosses, like other office equipment, wear out and have to be replaced.

When this happens, there is always tension about the office. Who is the new boss? What'll he be like? Rumors fly!

"I hear they dropped him on his head when he was a baby, and he wears a silver plate in his forehead."

"They say that at the last place he worked he cut the staff in half, and salaries, too."

"I hear he's the big boss's cousin. There is a family resemblance. Notice how close together his eyes are?"

"Is it really true that he eats his own young?"

Cordial Impartiality
By the time the new boss actually shows up, the office staff is divided firmly by hope and hysteria. Half have a chip on their shoulder and are determined to put him in his place. Half have decided secretly to butter him up.

Well, which course is right? How do you break in a new boss? The answer is neither course. Hazing a new boss is highly satisfying to the ego, but ruinous to your goal of more take-home pay. Fawning on him will only cause him to question your intelligence.

The proper way to break in a new boss is to surround him with an atmosphere of cordial impartiality and let him know he is on his own mettle. Here are a few tips:

Never Volunteer

Never tell him, "The old boss wouldn't do it that way." If the former boss's name ever comes up at all, just shake your head in wonder as if to say, "How did our organization ever manage to survive under that muttonhead."

Irish Welcome Taft As U. S. Ambassador

CORK—(AP)—The Irish gave a warm welcome Thursday to the new U. S. ambassador, William Howard Taft III.

School children waved flags and church bells chimed. Taft, 38, son of Senator Taft, said he had studied old Irish at Yale but was not able to speak fluently in modern Irish.

FROM BIG LAKE
Mrs. Winston Parnell and Mrs. Homer Johnson were here Thursday from Big Lake.

Watch bearings made of a special metallic alloy instead of usual synthetic jewels reduce friction in the watch works. Design engineers say the new alloy bearings help the wrist watch to survive much of the slam-banging treatment often dealt a timepiece.

Don't volunteer to do more work. Throw as much of your own work as you can on the new boss's shoulders. Then, as you gradually start doing it yourself again, he'll find his own load lighter, and feel grateful toward you.

Try to keep him at ease, but not too sure of himself. If he tells you a joke, laugh. But laugh moderately and thoughtfully.

Make It Last
When he does a really good job, or finds a way to cut down expenses by making the paper clips last longer, don't hesitate to reward him with a little credit. Always leave him yearning for more.

Never point out the boss's blunders to him. Let the other fellows make the mistake of telling the boss about his boners.

One final tip:
If you learn the new boss is a 24-karat dumbbell, don't grouse about him or spread the news too far. In that case they might fire him and hire a really smart boss. Who in the office wants a catastrophe like that?"

Peasants Fail To Follow Reds' Script For Reform Of Chinese Farming Methods

HONG KONG—(AP)—Red China's farm reform program—the first all-out effort by the Communist government to make the Marxist suit fit the Oriental farmer—is supposed to be completed this Spring.

Farm Wang is going through a hopper which Red leader Mao Tse-tung hopes will make him into a Communist and whet his appetite for state farms, collectives and service to the state.

How is Wang turning out?
Terrible, says a report from a farm reform investigation committee. The report, carried by the Red New China News Agency says the farmer is "ideologically confused" and is turning out to be a capitalist.

Land reform spread over China after the Reds took over in 1947. It is only the first step in the Communist conversion of the farmer who must be won over because China doesn't have enough industrial workers to make a safe foundation for a revolutionary government. Mao decided the 350 million peasants were needed. After seizing the land, the Reds divided it. Where there were big landlord holdings the division worked fairly well, but it didn't make revolutionaries out of the new owners.

It took force to get the farmer into cooperatives and mutual aid teams—a step toward pooling of resources to increase production for the state. The farmer made no secret of his fear and dislike of collectivism.

In areas where there were not many big landlords in the first place, the Red reform resulted in the displacement of one set of farmers by another larger set. In such areas the Communist reform was bloody and got too successful. It isn't easy to take land from a working farmer.

In these areas the Reds created farms that are uneconomically small. In Kwangtung province they announced they had distributed four million mow of land (a mow is one-sixth of an acre) to 4,800,000 peasants.

The result was that farm families had to take part-time jobs to live. There was much migration to the cities.

Faced with this situation, the farmer wouldn't work his land until assured it wouldn't be taken away from him. He shied away from cooperatives except as a means of buying cheap fertilizer.

In 1968, at the age of 22, George Westinghouse announced that he had invented an air brake to replace the thousands of brakemen on American railroads.

Veteran Hollywood Cameraman Answers Vital Questions On Advent Of 3-D Films

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)— Why does 3-D give some people headaches? Which system will win out—3-D or wide screen? Is 3-D possible without glasses?
Movie goers and film workers themselves want to learn the answers to these and other questions concerning new-dimensional pictures. I sought some background on these issues from Cliff Stine, veteran cameraman.
Stine is an expert, although he claims to be learning new things every day. He photographed Universal-International's first 3-D film, "It Came From Outer Space." He is now in charge of camera work on "Wings of the Hawk," which is being shot for 3-D, wide-screen and standard-size screens. Here is our exchange:

Watcher's Headache
Q—Why do some people get headaches from watching 3-D?
A—There can be many reasons. The two films in the projector may not be lined up correctly. There may have been improper adjustment by the cameraman or the projector may not be lined up correctly. There may have been improper adjustment by the cameraman or the projector. Or the viewer may not be able to focus his eyes at the point where the two lenses are converging.
Q—Are people who wear glasses normally more prone to headaches from 3-D?
A—Not if their glasses correct their eyes to normal vision.

Q—Can 3-D be perfected so it won't cause headaches?
A—Yes, we eventually can reach that stage—if the cameraman and projectionist adhere to the proper formulas.
Q—Is 3-D possible without glasses?
A—There is no such method known to us now. You must use both eyes to see depth. That means that each eye must see a slightly different picture. In movies that requires projecting two pictures, one for each eye, plus special glasses to give you the illusion of depth.

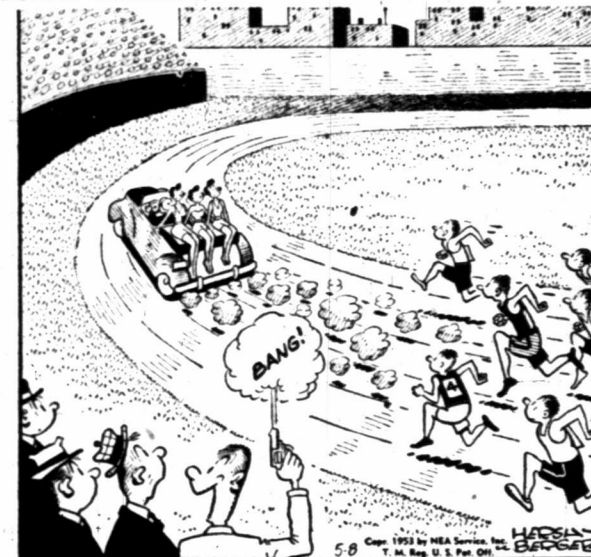

Really Nothing New
Q—Is there anything new about these dimensional techniques?
A—No. The 3-D effect was achieved many years ago by the use of glasses with green and red lenses; now polarized glasses are used. We filmed a picture in wide and normal screen at RKO 20 years ago, but there was no need for them; business was good. Now we need something to get people back into the theaters.
Q—Which system do you think will triumph?
A—I think most pictures will be in wide-screen. It gives more scope to the screen and is excellent for outdoor scenes. I believe the novelty of 3-D will wear off in a year or so. Its main asset is that it adds somewhat to reality.
Q—Is there any special reason wide-screen films should cause eyestrain?
A—No.

Polarized glasses, worn but once when issued with tickets, may or may not spell the future of 3-D movies. Plastic glasses may be sold to regular fans for permanent use.

Q—What is the main problem in filming wide-screen?
A—To avoid cutting off the actors' heads and feet. In widening the picture, some of the scene is lost at the top and bottom.
Q—What is the main problem of filming 3-D?
A—To keep the action focused at the line of convergence—that is, the line where the two camera lenses simulating your eyes converge. If that line is not maintained, eyestrain results. Also, if the actor gestures over the line, his hand will appear to be in the audience. Another big problem is light. The screen appears darker through the polarized glasses. That means the screen has to be lighter. We have been shooting our night scenes in "Wings of the Hawk" in the daytime.
Q—How much more times does 3-D add to shooting?
A—About 10 per cent.

when the Eisenhowers come in, but they do remain standing at the end of the service until they have left.

Woodrow Wilson lived here from the age of eight to 13 while his father was pastor of a local church. William Howard Taft wrote back to the Chamber of Commerce to praise the city's charms: "I have spent many delightful hours in that delightful place," he said.

President Warren G. Harding, in autographing a picture which hangs along with Taft's and Wilson's in the Chamber of Commerce office, wrote: "With most cordial greetings and agreeable memories of happy days in Augusta." Harding also was a golf fan.
