Second Producer Is Indicated In C-E Ector Field

Second producer has been indicated for the Headlee (Ellenburger) field of Central-Ector County, Texas. Gulf Producing Company discovered free oil on a drillstem test from 13,393 to 13,442 feet in the No. 2 Headlee, northeast offset to the discovery well of the field.

Tool was open one hour. Recovery was five feet of free oil, 895 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut water blanket and 89 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud. There were also 540 feet of free gas in drillpipe. Flowing pressure was from 410 to 440 pounds shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 910 pounds.

Operator probably will cut hole and take another drillstem test.

The Ellenburger was topped at 13,070 feet, elevation 2,917 feet.

Location is at the center of the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 8, block 41, T-2-S, T&P survey.

E-C Coke Wildcat Is Shutin To Final From Pennsylvania

F. Kirk Johnson of Fort Worth and Midland No. 1 Wildcat wildcat in East-Central Coke County, is shutin to complete above total depth of 3,695 feet in upper Pennsylvania.

Operator set 8 1/2-inch casing at 3,691 feet. It was bled in and flowed 45 barrels of oil in one hour through a one-quarter inch choke. The flow was natural.

This project made oil from this section on a drillstem test when it was being drilled.

Location is three and one-half miles southwest of the town of Bronte and four miles southwest of the nearest production in the Bronte (Umptay) field.

It is 230 feet from northeast and southeast lines of tract No. 8, J. D. O'Daniel survey.

Hunt, Magnolia To Dig Devonian Test In E-C Upton Area

Hunt Oil Company and Magnolia Petroleum Company spaced location for a Devonian wildcat in East-Central Upton County, 101 1/2 miles north of the town of Rankin.

The prospector will be drilled as No. 1 A. A. Langford, 1,980 feet from north and 960 feet from east lines of section 31, block Y.

Operations are to start at once.

The wildcat is scheduled for an 11,500-foot bottom.

Devonian Shows Found In Core In E-C Andrews

Seventeen feet of highly fractured Devonian lime with good odor and fluorescence were found on a core cut from 12,695 to 12,728 feet in Sharples Oil Corporation No. 1-A Sharples-Means, wildcat in East-Central Andrews County.

Complete recovery on the 33-foot core was 15 feet of lime with no shows, the 17 feet of fractured lime and one foot of lime with no shows.

Operator was coring ahead below 12,728 feet. Plans are to cut 50 more feet and then come out of hole and take a drillstem test from 12,695 to total depth.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 16, block 3, pal survey.

Humble Bailing To Test Clear Fork In W-C Mitchell

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Trulock, wildcat in West-Central Mitchell County, is bailing to test in the Clear Fork above total depth of 3,107 feet.

The project bailed 78 gallons of oil and nine gallons of water in one hour on the last gauge reported.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 6, block 28, T-1-S, T&P survey and four miles west of the town of Westbrook.

Runnels Areas Get Two New Wildcats

Two wildcats have been started for immediate drilling in Runnels County.

Churchill Asks 'Big Three' Talks

Says Meeting At 'Top Level' Essential Now

LONDON—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill said Monday he is in favor of a high level conference of the leading powers without any great delay.

In a House of Commons speech on foreign policy, Churchill said the high level conference should not be hampered by any long agenda, and should be carried out in an atmosphere of informality and privacy and even seclusion.

Asian Battle Against Reds Going Better

WASHINGTON—(P)—Chester Bowles, former ambassador to India, said at the White House Monday the fight against communism in Asia is going better from a military standpoint than it was a year ago.

Bowles talked to newsmen after a 45-minute conference with President Eisenhower. He has just returned to the United States after serving as envoy in New Delhi during the Truman Administration.

On the trip back, Bowles spent six weeks touring Southeast Asia and Japan.

Bowles said he gave Eisenhower "a little report on the situation as we see it" in Asia, but he added it would not be proper for him to relate their conversation.

Specifying that he was speaking without reference to what he may have told the President, Bowles said that in Asia generally, "I think the military situation against communism is better today than it was a year ago."

He added, however, that the basic problems "are not military—they are economic and political."

He described Asia as a continent "teetering" between communism and free world democracy, and said it probably will continue to teeter several years.

India in particular, Bowles said, must have more economic and financial help from the United States or the danger of communism will grow.

Churchill was not specific, but supposedly meant he should get together with President Eisenhower and Premier Malenkov. He referred to a "conference at the highest level of the leading powers."

Churchill said this conference might not come to any hard agreement but at least it would lead to a better understanding.

Churchill said the conference might not come to any hard agreement but at least it would lead to a better understanding.

He appealed for caution in "doing or saying" anything that might give the Soviet leaders ground for suspicion. He said "it would be a mistake to assume that nothing could be settled unless or until everything is settled."

In a review of foreign proposals Churchill said:

1. The compromise truce proposals offered by the Communists in Korea should be given "sympathetic and patient examination."
2. Western Germany needs to be incorporated soon into the Western defense setup. Britain intends to stand firmly behind her commitments to Western Germany.
3. Britain will discuss arrangements for providing an international defense of the Suez Canal Zone but British troops will defend themselves (Continued On Page 10)

Reed Charges Ike 'Sell-Out' To Spenders

WASHINGTON—(P)—Representative Reed (R-NY) shouted angrily in the House Monday that the Eisenhower Administration "seems to have surrendered to the spenders."

Reed, oldest Republican in continuous service in the House, said he was amazed to see the Administration run up "the white flag of surrender" on its goal of balancing the budget.

"The spenders seem to have taken over," he added, "but I don't think that will scare the Appropriations Committee of the House." He praised "courageous" efforts of the committee to trim federal outlays.

"This budget can be balanced," Reed insisted, "if Congress has the courage to do it."

Reed is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which handles tax legislation. He has been plugging for tax cuts, which have run into firm opposition from the Administration.

Hot Water Deluge Floods Two Floors Of Courthouse Here

A deluge of hot water Sunday flooded the basement and two floors of the Midland County Courthouse but little permanent damage was reported.

Major damage was to the museum located in the basement and waterlogged relics and hunting trophies were being saved Monday on the courthouse lawn.

The flood resulted from a broken pipe in the walls of the county courtroom.

"The drivers license inspector went up to the courtroom shortly before noon," said Deputy Sheriff F. S. Buckalew, "and found an inch of water standing on the floor."

"He reported it to me and we rushed to get the water cut off. If he hadn't found it the damage could have been a lot worse."

The water dripped down into the first-floor office of County Tax Assessor-Collector J. M. Speed and then on down to the museum. Water was standing an inch deep in both places when the leak was discovered.

Speed said a number of records were damaged by the water but all still were legible.

Dulles, Stassen Arrive In Egypt

CAIRO, EGYPT—(P)—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold Stassen arrived here Monday by plane for the first stop on a 12-nation "information" tour of the Middle and Near East.

Great Lakes Ship With 31 Aboard Founders In Gale

GRAND MARAIS, MINN.—(P)—The Great Lakes freighter Henry Steinbrenner foundered and sank Monday in heavy waves off Isle Royale light station. One man in the lifeboat was lying down, apparently injured, the message said.

Ships in the vicinity reported sighting a life boat and a raft bearing people.

Sixteen survivors and one body had been picked up at noon, the Coast Guard station here reported.

"The Coast Guard station at Grand Marais reported it had intercepted radio messages from the steamer Cimon and the steamer Sykes in the vicinity of the accident."

One message said, "Have sighted one raft and one lifeboat with people on them. Not able to pick up yet." Wreckage also was sighted in the area.

Another ore carrier, the Joseph H. Thompson radioed it had sighted five men on a raft and three in a lifeboat 14 miles from Isle Royale light station. One man in the lifeboat was lying down, apparently injured, the message said.

High Winds Reported

Winds 55 to 60 miles an hour buffeted the Isle Royale area Sunday night and early Monday. Heavy seas prevailed as rescue boats headed for the scene, making slow progress as they bucked extremely rough water.

A report from the Cimon said the Steinbrenner had radioed its hatchway had blown off in strong wind and that it was taking on water.

The Steinbrenner, a 6,900-ton vessel, left Duluth at 6 a.m. Sunday with a load of iron ore for down-lake points.

The ship was reported to have struck a reef in the same vicinity as the ill-fated Emporer, a Canadian ship, which went down June 4, 1947. Twelve crewmen lost their lives.

Bond Vote Canvass, Highway Planning On Court Agenda

Midland County Commissioners prepared Monday to canvass the returns of Saturday's special election in which a proposed $350,000 road bond issue was approved by an overwhelming majority.

The Commissioners Court was busy during the morning with routine business and County Judge Clifford C. Keith said the official canvass would be undertaken during the afternoon.

The commissioners also are expected to map plans for acquisition of the needed right-of-way for the widening by the State Highway Department of U. S. Highway 80 into a four-lane divided highway between Midland and the Martin County line.

Unofficial complete returns showed the bond issue passed by a vote of 303 to 38.

'This City Is Different'

Everywhere in the United States residents will say, "This city is different!"

Actually, cities and towns throughout the nation are quite a lot alike. It's people who are different.

Tornadoes In West Central Texas Set Stage For Showers

Midland expected thundershowers Monday afternoon as the backwash from tornadoes which skimmed through West Central Texas earlier Monday.

There were no reports of deaths or injuries at noon after a tornado hit seven miles south of Ranger. The Weather Bureau at Abilene said the twister was sighted heading northeast. The bureau had warned earlier that tornadoes were possible in West Central Texas.

CAA observers at Midland Air Terminal reported at noon that dust had reduced visibility to eight miles in this area. They expected no blowing sand Monday afternoon with only 12-mile-an-hour winds predicted. The temperature had climbed to 81 degrees at noon, indicating the day's maximum would surpass Sunday's high of 82 degrees.

More Turbulence Possible

Thunderstorms fell over the Permian Basin Monday with light moisture recorded here.

The Weather Bureau said thunderstorm activity would continue through Monday night. It said: "There is a possibility of a few tornadoes in the area bounded by San Angelo, Waco, Wichita Falls and Big Spring."

Forecasters said a warm front was responsible for the turbulence.

A Sunday afternoon thunderstorm dumped .95 inch of rain on Marshall and sent the city's creeks out of bounds briefly over some streets. Traffic was not halted and the flash flood subsided quickly. Blustery wind and severe lightning accompanied the storm. The twister was gauged at 70 miles an hour at Caddo Lake, 16 miles northeast of Marshall.

Kilgore Gets Downpour

Before dawn, lightning was so continuous east of Garland that residents were awakened by the brilliant display and the distant peeps of thunder.

Early Monday minimum temperatures ranged from 78 at Laredo to 39 at Lubbock. Sunday's maximums

RODEO SPIRIT FILLS THE AIR

The spirit of Rodeo—World Championship Midland Rodeo—was in the air Monday as rodeo signs and cowboy sketches appeared on many display windows in the downtown section.

Street banners and storefront decorations will be installed later this month.

The 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo is scheduled June 3-7 at Midland Fair Park on East Highway 80.

12 Floats Entered For Rodeo Parade

Additional float entries in the Midland Rodeo Parade over the weekend brought the total number of floats to 12, members of the parade committee said Monday. They expect at least 25 floats to be entered in the colorful procession.

The recent entries are from the Youth Center, Dairy Maid, Midland County 4-H Clubs, Welcome Wagon, Midland County Home Demonstration Clubs, Midland Chamber of Commerce, and The First National Bank.

The parade will be televised by Humble Oil & Refining Company. Organizations and firms interested in entering decorated floats in the parade are requested to contact Duke Jimerson at No. 2-3545.

* LATE NEWS FLASHES *

KANSAS CITY—(P)—Conditions favorable for isolated tornadoes in Eastern Oklahoma were reported Monday in a severe weather warning issued by the regional office of the Weather Bureau.

HOUSTON—(P)—The Texas Board Monday was considering the construction of two temporary "auditorium-dormitory" type buildings as an emergency measure to relieve an overcrowded situation that has forced the prison management to sleep some 300 convicts on concrete floors.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Senate Judiciary Committee Monday approved a bill by Senator McCarran (D-Nev) increasing salaries of all members of Congress and federal judges by $10,000 a year.

Allies Ask Communists To Put Forward Plan For POW's Refusing Repatriation

PANMUNJOM—(P)—Allied truce delegates Monday asked the Communists to advance a plan for final determination of the fate of war prisoners refusing to return to Red rule.

At Monday's 83-minute meeting, the UN Command said an eight-point Communist proposal for prisoner exchange still left the threat of indefinite captivity hanging over 48,500 North Korean and Chinese Reds.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior UN delegate, said there was no guarantee that a political conference could settle the prisoner question as the Communists urged.

After the meeting had adjourned until 11 a.m. Tuesday, Harrison stood in a driving rain outside the crude conference hut and told correspondents that of the barrage of questions he has asked the Reds, only one he has answered satisfactorily.

He recalled they had said a majority vote would decide differences among the five neutrals proposed by the Communists as custodians of prisoners refusing to return home.

The Communists have proposed that a five-nation commission supervise such prisoners for four months. After that period—and after Communist representatives had "explained" things to the soldiers—the fate of those still unwilling to return would be settled by a political conference.

"What then," Harrison asked Monday, "is your further proposal for the ultimate solution of this problem if the political conference cannot arrive at a settlement?"

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red delegate, didn't answer, but stuck to earlier contentions that any such problems could be settled by a political conference.

Nam Il said continued Allied questioning of the Communist proposals was delaying the armistice negotiations. He added that details "can easily be decided upon through consultation."

Harrison charged the Communist delegates with failure to explain satisfactorily their eight-point plan.

"Yesterday," he added, "our side asked a number of questions concerning the nature of the explanations you propose will be made to the prisoners..."

"You have failed to answer those questions today. We are no justification for a period of four months for explanations."

"As I stated yesterday," Harrison concluded, "there would be no purpose in our two delegations concluding an agreement on broad principles unless such an agreement can be implemented."

Jean Carlton

'Kiss Me Kate' Scheduled For One-Night Stand Here

Jean Carlton, talented young American soprano, is one of the leading players in the popular musical comedy hit, "Kiss Me Kate," which is being brought to Midland June 3 by the Midland JayCees in cooperation with the Civic Drama Guild of New York.

An outstanding cast of Broadway favorites will sing, dance and clown their way through the hilarious book and Cole Porter tunes of this musical, which completed a run of more than 1,000 consecutive performances in New York City. A. H. Woody, JayCee chairman for the event, says that tickets may be purchased from any JayCee member or ordered by mail by sending a check and self-addressed stamped envelope to "Kiss Me Kate," P. O. Box 133, Midland.

The show will be staged at the Midland High School auditorium for one night only. All seats are reserved and scaled at $3 for the first 12 rows; $2.40 for rows 13-55, and $1.80 for 700 general admission seats.

★ JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD ★
Boxing Blows Must Be Real McCoy For 3-D, Bob Learns

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NEA Staff Correspondent

Behind the Screen:
 Bob Mitchum's working in the first 3-D picture about a professional prize fighter but he's wishing some other brawny male had been picked by destiny for the chore.

Faked blows look like faked blows in three dimensions so Bob's letting Jack Palance connect with solid blows in their fight scenes for "Second Chance." And he's groaning between scenes:

"We're throwing legitimate punches and my brains are being jarred loose."

There's been talk of a feature-length movie based on the father-and-daughter characters Charles Farrell and Gale Storm play in their half-hour telefilms, "My Little Margie," but Charles's hoping they won't be rushed into a fast deal.

"We won't celebrate our first anniversary on the air until September," he says, "and our show is getting better all the time. I hope they'll wait on the movie idea until it's demanded by our audience."

Sign-of-the-times note:
 Stars working this week in movies for theaters: 14.
 Stars working in films for television: 44.

Susan Hayward, who's been wanting to return to movie roles for a change, gets her wish. She's almost sure to be Messalina in "Demetrius the Gladiator," sequel to "The Robe."

Insiders who know how other "difficult" stars have found it impossible to work in Hollywood after being fired by one studio are saying that Mario Lanza will get no offers from other majors now that MGM has fired him. It's the code of the west.

The Terry Moore-Robert Wagner marriage flash should have been spread by "Phony Express" instead of the wires. And the studio is burning over identification of Wagner as the son of a millionaire.

Dean Miller of CBS-TV's "There's a Man in Every Family" and Betty Ann Grove of "The Big Payoff" on the same network are on the same romantic wavelength, too.

Polly Bergen's frank quote on celebrating three years of marriage with Jerome Courtland: "I never figured we'd make it." . . . Tony Dexter is beaming over his lead in "Captain John Smith and Pocahontas." He's been trying to shake the Valentino label for two years and Smith could do it. . . . Bill Bendix groaning about the telecasting of his old movie, "The Hairy Ape": "It's played at least 100 times and I haven't collected a quarter."

If Fox hadn't picked up Jeanne

Crain's option for another year, she'd have scooted to England to play the lead in "But Gentlemen Marry Brunettes," Anita Loos' sequel to "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes."

Irving Berlin's follow-up picture to "There's a Man in Every Family" at Fox will be a musical partly based on his own life, with the greatest footage devoted to his Music Box revues. Grace Moore rose to stardom through one of Berlin's early stage musicals.

In the Hollywood spotlight: The Sportsmen's Quartet. They ran a singing commercial on the Jack Benny show seven years ago into a million-dollar enterprise. Current activities: The Benny Show, counting money from a Texas oil well, real estate, night clubs, a music publishing firm, radio and a TV series, "Nickelodeon Theater."

The Boy Scouts of America refused to give their approval to the book, "Be Prepared," by R. E. Cochran, but they're cooperating 100 per cent with Fox in the studio's film version of the tome starring Clifton Webb. The screen play developed the parts of the book that Boy Scout chieftains found objectionable.

Six Persons Die In Highway Crash

EAST ALTON, ILL. —(P)— Six persons, two of them babies, died Sunday night in a blazing automobile following a two-car collision.

Illinois state police said all were riding in one car which was struck from behind, apparently causing the gas tank to explode.

Madison County Coroner Ben F. Staten said the four adults have been identified as Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heise, Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson, all of St. Louis. Staten said the children apparently belonged to the Heises.

Peron Roundup Nets 220 Bomb Suspects

BUENOS AIRES, ARGENTINA—(P)—The federal police say they have rounded up 220 persons suspected of plotting a recent wave of terrorist bombings in Argentina.

Many of those arrested are prominent socialites, the police announced Sunday night, adding that the investigation, which had spread through many sections of Buenos Aires and into most provinces, now has been pinpointed in the fashionable Barrio Norte residential section of the capital. The suspects are being held incommunicado in police headquarters there.

There have been 14 bombings in the capital alone since March 2.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

When you've accepted an invitation to a large tea party, half an hour is as long as you'll be expected to stay. When you've finished your cup of tea, look up your hostess and also the guest of honor if there is one to say "Goodbye." Then leave promptly.

That will suit everyone to a T.

AAUW Bridge Group Elects New Officers

Mrs. Tom Breeding was elected chairman at a meeting of the AAUW Bridge Group in the Ranchland Hill Country Club. Other officers elected were Maria Spencer, co-chairman, and Sylvia Cearley, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. W. O. Reynolds and Mrs. J. L. Huff were the hostesses and prizes for the afternoon were awarded to Mrs. G. E. Kemnitz Jr., Mrs. Tom Bullard, and Fern Green.

Joanne Watson, John Douglass Are Married In Pecos Church

PECOS — Joanne Watson and John Douglass were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony May 2 in the First Baptist Church.

The ceremony was performed in front of an arch of greenery and flowers. Baskets of white gladioli and candelabra completed the setting.

Dr. W. M. Turner, pastor of the church, officiated and music was provided by Beverly Vaughan, organist, and Edward Wittner, soloist.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Watson, was given in marriage by her father.

Wears White
She wore a dress of white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. Her veil of French illusion was caught to a lace cap outlined in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid with stephanotis, split carnations and white satin streamers.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. C. W. Schmitt, and candlelighters were Mary Jane Watson, sister of the bride, and Carol Sue Walker. They wore identical

Man Runs Over Himself

Joe Doakes had a difficulty the other day. He sent his son to the store for a package of cigarettes, but the shop keeper sent the boy home, telling him he was too young to buy cigarettes. So Joe had to run over himself.

That one is pretty old, we admit. Maybe it dates us. We sat in Community Theatre the other night, watching "Joan of Lorraine" and this thing kept running through our head. We could barely wait to get to the typewriter. You see, we wanted to twist it into an ad on Jacobsen Mowers, and it would read like this:

Maybe Joe is too old to run a lawnmower, the old push and grunt kind. He ought to get a good power mower to do the job, and then his boy would keep the lawn for him. It's so easy, and so much fun, and those Jacobsens start so easy, and last so long, and more people in Midland own them than any other kind, and you can always get them serviced right in our own shop.

Do you get it? Unlike Joe—you wouldn't have to run over yourself. Over the lawn, we mean.

Full Vessel Technique

Over and over through the years we hear it said that particular blasts of Russian propaganda are designed for "home consumption." We know that Soviet leaders pour a ceaseless stream of false information into the ears of their citizenry, and work desperately to seal the people off from outside sources of truth.

Yet the most astute foreign observers of the Russian scene, including a number who have lived there for years at a stretch, agree pretty generally that all this effort is largely a failure.

You might ask: How can this be? How can Soviet propaganda fail when the ordinary Russian hears nothing else?

The skeptic might argue with especial vehemence that the young Russian surely must be a thorough captive of the Communist system. From birth he has had the doctrine, the false history, the heroes, all of it dinned in his ears.

Nevertheless, the judgment is that much of Soviet propaganda is not believed by Russians, and that some of them don't accept any of it at all. One observer once characterized the adult Russian as either secretly belligerent about it, cynical, or utterly resigned.

Why don't the people believe it? There is one fundamental answer: Russia itself provides the corrective, the antidote. The discrepancy between what Communist leaders say and what the reality is in Russia is apparent to every man with eyes.

No matter how you try to immerse a youth in rosy distortions, you cannot forever put off the day when he will walk about his city or town and see Russia as it is. And very few find their illusions surviving this shock.

Hardly a family exists in Russia that has not lost a member to the firing squad, the hangman, the army, the slave labor camp, or the jail for some minor economic offense. These people understand quite well what their "beloved leaders" are doing to them.

If all this is so, the Kremlin certainly must know it. It does, of course. Then why bother to pump out the lies in such a torrent?

The Kremlin's theory on this really is very simple. To keep silent would be to create a vacuum in the citizen's mind, since the leaders can't tell the truth about themselves and don't intend to admit outside information.

Such a vacuum is a dangerous thing to a dictatorship. Gradually a man will fill it with his own independent thinking, feeding on the tiniest fragments of real information wherever he can pick them up. His mind is free to react, to generate ideas.

The Kremlin propaganda technique is designed to prevent that vacuum. It doesn't matter that the stuff isn't believed. The idea is to keep a man's mind filled to the brim. He is so busy listening, rejecting, mentally arguing with himself and his leaders, that he has no time for free and independent thought.

It might be called the technique of the "full vessel." Let the vessel be less than full, and air gets in, creating bubbles of real thought. Put enough of those bubbles together and they might burst in the Kremlin's face one day.

The One Cancels The Other

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Golden Rule not applied by two Kansas Republicans; Paperwork provokes President; Treasury Aide Burgess is man behind high bond-interest rate.

WASHINGTON—The records are supposed to be confidential, but one ex-congressman has parlayed a $14 investment into a lifetime government pension of $2,160 a year. He is William P. Lambertson, Kansas Republican, who served 15 years in the House.

However, he didn't contribute a cent toward his own retirement until after he left Congress. Then his Kansas colleague, Congressman Wint Smith, put Lambertson on the federal payroll from January 3 to January 31, 1947—just long enough for him to pay $14 into the retirement fund. This made him eligible for retirement benefits and, under a technicality in the law, he was able to take credit for his full 15 years congressional service.

Irony is that both Lambertson and Smith have voted consistently against social security benefits for others, but apparently believe in government handouts for themselves.

In addition to his $2,160 government pension, Lambertson is drawing another government salary as a county commissioner. He also owns a 200-acre farm in Fairview, Kan. Ex-Congressman Lambertson, reached for comment, said he didn't want to discuss the matter but admitted he had never paid any money into the pension fund while in Congress.

President Eisenhower makes no secret about his irritation at the load of paperwork and other details that bog down the office of the Presidency.

Speaking before the American Retail Federation in the Washington Hotel, he confessed: "I'm certainly glad to leave that maelstrom behind in my office for a while."

The chafes at the number of callers, says nine out of ten are pure formalities and could be eliminated. They give him no time for constructive thinking. He also dislikes the chore of signing his name about 400 times a day as required by law on many state papers. Sometimes he even wishes his name were shorter. "Dwight D. Eisenhower" has a few more letters than "Harry S. Truman."

On a recent Saturday, the President was on the verge of going out a while.

"Please don't change it, Mr. Chairman."

That started senators ribbing the lady from Maine, who is one of the most popular figures in the Senate, about having gone on record for her "love" of bachelor Senator Russell. Some congressional cupids then suggested such a match might be a good idea—and so goes fun and gossip among the nation's lawmakers.

Washington Pipe Line

Through an inadvertence, Congressman Anderson of Minnesota was confused in a recent column with Congressman Anderson of Minnesota, both Republicans. This opportunity is therefore taken to make it clear that it was Congressman Anderson of Tyler, Minn., not Anderson of Red Wing, Minn., who scolded Iowa's Congressman Jensen for bowing to the private utilities.

Mamie Eisenhower prefers to have her husband called "Mr. President" or "Mr. Eisenhower." She considers plain " Ike " as too undignified. The President, who golfs at the Burning Tree Country Club, found his ball blocked by a tree the other day. "They didn't burn enough trees here," he grumbled. . . . The American Embassy reports from London that Prime Minister Winston Churchill will soon bow out and that his successor will be, not Foreign Minister Anthony Eden but Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler. . . . The British will fly motes of the coronation to the United States by jet plane, so the American public will be able to watch it on television the same day it takes place. This is made easier by the five hours' difference in time zones. . . . The Democratic National Committee has salted away $125,000 in the bank, but still owes $330,000 in campaign debts. . . . A rising power in Democratic circles is FDR's former secretary, Grace Tully. She did countless favors for high Democrats when she had President Roosevelt's ear, and now that she has moved into the Democratic National Committee, they're clearing everything with her.

Senatorial Cupid

Mischief-makers are kidding the Senate's most eligible couple—Georgia's strait-laced bachelor, Dick Russell, and Maine's charming widow, Margaret Chase Smith—about a possible romance.

The kidding got its spark from a coy remark that Mrs. Smith dropped behind closed doors of the Senate Armed Services Committee. A former vice president of National Chairman Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts called upon Russell with the usual rhetorical flourishes, referring to him as the "distinguished former chairman, whom we all love."

However, Saltonstall flushed and sputtered a bit over the word "love," which seemed a little strong even for flowery, senatorial procedure. So the Massachusetts Yankee cleared his throat and corrected: "I mean, whom we all admire."

But Mrs. Smith interrupted: —Deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes.

We must maintain military strength commensurate with the danger we face until we have fool-proof, ironclad disarmament and atomic energy control arrangements with the Communists. —Henry Ford II.

The accepted method of building an Eskimo igloo is to finish the job from inside before the door is made, the workman having to chop his way out.

Abel broke the silence with a soft: "Did they think she was Lady Gloria, I wonder?"

Either he knew—or he was quick on the uptake. Mannering realized with a sense of shock that there was clear indication that the kidnappers had not worked with anyone inside the house. Abel, Higby and anyone here could have told the men that Mary wasn't Gloria. If it had been a case of mistaken identity, then neither Abel nor Higby was working with Fenner—and probably Fenner hadn't a spy in the house.

"We must tell the police," said Higby. "I telephoned them," said Mannering. "Is there anything we can do?" asked Abel.

Mannering said: "Yes, Abel. Look for your dog—the dog that can get that into your head, Mr. Mannering."

Mannering said: "You'll find that Bristow does, and that should encourage you. There's just a chance that because I was out last night, the St. Malden people will trace that car. There are other things, too. The dog was in the grounds. I set Abel, Higby and the lodge keeper on to look for it. Mannering went to breakfast. Lorna was already at the table. "What did Longley want?" she asked.

"He thinks I'm the villain of the piece."

"What's he going to do?" "He knows he can't do much."

"Was Mary mistaken for Gloria?" Lorna asked.

"The question on everyone's lips," said Mannering. "Darling, we don't know much about Fenner, but—"

"I know everything about Fenner," said Lorna, with unexpected shrewdness.

"Oh. Everything?"

"Everything that matters. He's bad."

AFTER breakfast he went up to the library, but it was empty—Longley might be at the telephone, telling Bristow of his latest reasons for suspecting Mannering. Mannering went downstairs again, but heard nothing from the switchboard. Higby came out of the passage next, and stopped in the middle of a step when he saw Mannering, as if he were startled.

"Good morning, sir."

"You had no luck last night, I'm told," said Mannering.

"I'm afraid not, sir." The footman slipped past quietly.

Mannering had never heard him raise his voice, and last night he had shown admirable self-control. Mannering pushed the door of the cubby-hole containing the switchboard, but it opened only a few inches.

He put his head around the door. Longley was sitting in front of the switchboard, his head resting on the little ledge in front of it, his fingers touching the keys. Blood turned his fair hair to crimson, and dropped onto his hand and onto the keys. He was still breathing.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written for NEA Service

"This hand proves virtue doesn't always triumph," writes Alfred Schechter of Pleasantville, N. Y.

"West opened the deuce of clubs, and I put up the ace at once and dropped the jack from my hand. I felt sure that the opening lead was a singleton and hoped to gain something by my false card."

"East took the first round of trumps with the ace, naturally enough, and sniffed in my direction as he laid down the king of clubs. He then led another club for his partner to ruff, after which I needed the rest of the tricks."

"West got out with the eight of hearts and I had to make a decision. If East had both of the red kings, there was no way to make the contract. If the red kings were split, surely West would lead the suit in which he did not hold the king. If West had both red kings it was not necessary to take the finesse."

"I therefore took the trick with dummy's ace of hearts, drew the last trump with dummy's ten, and discarded the queen and jack of hearts on dummy's remaining clubs."

"I then ran the rest of my trumps, squeezing West. When I led my last trump, West had the king of hearts and two diamonds, with dummy discarded behind him. He chose to blank his king of diamonds, so I threw dummy's heart and took the last two tricks with the ace and queen of diamonds."

"I felt both brilliant and virtuous until I opened up the traveling score slip (the hand was played in a club duplicate game). Everybody had made four spades by the simple device of taking the heart finesse."

It's sad but true that the expert way of playing a hand isn't always necessary. Some very simple line of play may be equally successful. Nevertheless it still pays to know all the tricks because the simple little devices don't always work, and then the expert method really pays off.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Anti-Filibusters Reversed Gear In Tidelands Debate

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In heaving a big sigh of relief that the U. S. Senate finally has come to a vote on the Tidelands oil bill—after five weeks of debate—two flashbacks are necessary to get the record straight.

One is to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago last July, when the platform committee was considering a plank to urge that the Senate revise its rules so that filibusters could be shut off more easily.

The second flashback is to the opening days of the present 83rd Congress, early in January, when Senator Clinton Anderson, New Mexico Democrat, made a motion to open up the Senate rules to immediate revision. The purpose behind this move was to put a limit on Senate debate so as to shut off filibusters.

Both of these moves to change Senate rules failed. The interesting thing to note now, however, is that if these moves had succeeded, the long, long debate on Tidelands could have been shut off days or weeks ago. And the Eisenhower program in Congress might today be much further along as a result.

There is another peculiar twist to the history of this business. The battle to change Senate rules so as to limit debate has been backed by the liberal Northern and Western Democratic senators. Their primary purpose was to prevent filibusters by Southern Democrats against civil rights reforms.

In the Tidelands battle, these roles were exactly reversed. It was the Northern and Western liberal Democrats, for the most part, who supported the move to retain federal control over the mineral rights to submerged lands of the continental shelf, beyond the tide.

These liberal Democrats have not hesitated to use extended debate in their efforts to defeat giving submerged land rights back to the states. They have been careful to say that they were not conducting a filibuster. All they were trying to do, they said, was "educate the public on the great issues involved."

But the effect was just the same as if they had waged an openly declared filibuster.

On the other hand, it was the Southern Democrats for the most part who supported the bill to give submerged lands rights back to the states.

Senator Lister Hill of Alabama is the notable exception. While he has opposed federal civil rights legislation, he is the author of one of the bills to keep submerged lands rights under the federal government and devote the royalties to federal aid for education. In his case, he is entirely consistent in using unlimited debate on both civil rights and Tidelands.

Almost all the other liberal Democrats, however, are caught with "have legislative parts in completely inconsistent positions. For the civil rights leg, they favor cutting off debate short. For the Tidelands leg, they favor debate worn so long that it almost trips them up."

Included in this group of senators are Humphrey of Minnesota, Douglas of Illinois, Anderson of New Mexico, Lehman of New York. And, of course, the indefatigable independent, Wayne Morse of Oregon, who broke all Senate filibuster records with his 22-hour speech, must be added to the list.

Maine fishermen are using a rubber suction hose to load sardines aboard boats from fish nets. The hose can load 65 tons of sardines in an hour, three times more than formerly done by pulling the net and fish aboard.

New car owners should make sure that ignition switch is turned off when parked. Action of new engines often is almost inaudible.

can get that into your head, Mr. Mannering. Mannering said: "You'll find that Bristow does, and that should encourage you. There's just a chance that because I was out last night, the St. Malden people will trace that car. There are other things, too. The dog was in the grounds. I set Abel, Higby and the lodge keeper on to look for it. Mannering went to breakfast. Lorna was already at the table. "What did Longley want?" she asked.

"He thinks I'm the villain of the piece."

"What's he going to do?" "He knows he can't do much."

"Was Mary mistaken for Gloria?" Lorna asked.

"The question on everyone's lips," said Mannering. "Darling, we don't know much about Fenner, but—"

"I know everything about Fenner," said Lorna, with unexpected shrewdness.

"Oh. Everything?"

"Everything that matters. He's bad."

AFTER breakfast he went up to the library, but it was empty—Longley might be at the telephone, telling Bristow of his latest reasons for suspecting Mannering. Mannering went downstairs again, but heard nothing from the switchboard. Higby came out of the passage next, and stopped in the middle of a step when he saw Mannering, as if he were startled.

"Good morning, sir."

"You had no luck last night, I'm told," said Mannering.

"I'm afraid not, sir." The footman slipped past quietly.

Mannering had never heard him raise his voice, and last night he had shown admirable self-control. Mannering pushed the door of the cubby-hole containing the switchboard, but it opened only a few inches.

He put his head around the door. Longley was sitting in front of the switchboard, his head resting on the little ledge in front of it, his fingers touching the keys. Blood turned his fair hair to crimson, and dropped onto his hand and onto the keys. He was still breathing.

There was a light on at the side of the house, Mannering drove to that side, and saw two men standing by the stables, staring at him. They moved forward, and he recognized both Abel and Higby. Then a third man appeared, the keeper of North Lodge. They had overcoats over their pajamas.

"Who called you?" asked Mannering abruptly.

"Frenn Mason, from the lodge," said Abel promptly. "He heard a car, and looked out of the window—ano then he saw two cars. Was yours one of the cars?" There was a hint almost of suspicion in Abel's manner, and Higby and the lodge keeper appeared to be staring intently, almost accusingly.

Mannering said: "Yes. The other one got away. I had a puncture. Do you know what happened?"

"We know a ladder was taken from the garage and left outside," said Abel. "But we don't know where they used it."

Mannering told them what had happened. They seemed dumbfounded.

Abel broke the silence with a soft: "Did they think she was Lady Gloria, I wonder?"

Either he knew—or he was quick on the uptake. Mannering realized with a sense of shock that there was clear indication that the kidnappers had not worked with anyone inside the house. Abel, Higby and anyone here could have told the men that Mary wasn't Gloria. If it had been a case of mistaken identity, then neither Abel nor Higby was working with Fenner—and probably Fenner hadn't a spy in the house.

"We must tell the police," said Higby. "I telephoned them," said Mannering. "Is there anything we can do?" asked Abel.

Mannering said: "Yes, Abel. Look for your dog—the dog that can get that into your head, Mr. Mannering."

Mannering said: "You'll find that Bristow does, and that should encourage you. There's just a chance that because I was out last night, the St. Malden people will trace that car. New Champion MIG Killer Would Like To Get 20 More

U. S. SABRE JET BASE, KOREA — Capt. Manuel Fernandez watched a crewman paint two more Red stars on his Sabre jet fighter Monday—one of them representing his thirteenth Red MIG jet destroyed that broke the world's record. The Miami, Fla., pilot said he "sure would like to see 20 more there."

Twelve Students Hosts To 400 At Formal Dance

Twelve Midland High School students were the hosts and hostesses at a formal dance Saturday in the Ranchland Hill Country Club. The hosts and hostesses were Jimmie Counts, Don Forrest, John Pettis, Bill Robitsek, Benny Bedford, Jerry Geisler, Sadie Nugent, Betty Bolton, Carol Garrison, Pat Frack, Barbara McMillen and Mary Jane Miller. The school colors of gold and purple were carried out in the decorations. The serving table was laid with a purple organdy cloth and gold accessories. The centerpiece was of purple and gold flowers and "graduate" figurines. Individual tables were decorated with candles. About 400 young people were present for the event. Attending as special guests of the hosts and hostesses were Margie Neill, Tommie Underwood, Elaine Johnson, Ardith Campbell, Margie Miller, Clinton Nobles, John McQuigan, Calvin Hancock, Paxton Howard and Horace Greenstreet. Following the dance, parents of the hosts and hostesses entertained the 12 young people and their special guests with a breakfast in the home of Miss Nugent and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nugent, at 2500 Bedford Drive.

"Do you think you can shoot down 20 more?" he was asked. "Well that depends on the MIG's." Fernandez shot back. Then the stocky pilot kidded with Airman 1/c Lewis W. French of Kokomo, Ind., his new chief. "Looks like you're running out of room there," he joked as French painted the fifteenth and sixteenth stars under the pilot's canopy. The extra three stars are for two more MIG's probably destroyed and one damaged. He scored a probable Sunday. Broke Texas's Record Fernandez broke the record of 13 MIG's set last March by Col. Royal Baker of McKinney, Texas. Fernandez said he and his wingman, Second Lt. Richard Moroney of Roslyn Heights, Long Island, couldn't stay around Sunday to get their fill of MIG fighting. "We both had to break off as we were low on fuel," he said. "We just made it back to base." He said the Sabres were escorting fighter-bombers hitting in the Sulho reservoir area when about 50 MIG's pounded them. Fernandez told how he scored against the Red jets: "When they initiated the attack I closed in on them and started shooting at about 1,200-foot range. The MIG was hit in the fuselage first and he started smoking heavily. Large pieces of the plane started coming off. The MIG fell off on his left wing and crashed." Grounded By Weather Grey skies and cloudbursts over Red Korea grounded the mustachioed ace Monday. "Fernandez had not yet received the usual cable of congratulations from his father, Col. Manuel Fernandez, Sr., communications chief with the 18th Air Force at Greenville, S. C. "He always sends me a cable," Fernandez said. "It's both for congratulation and egging me on." His friends say the bouncy Fernandez has two superior capabilities: He is a better spotter of MIG's and a better shot. "A lot of shots at MIG's without hitting anything," a fellow pilot said. "When Pete shoots, he doesn't miss." Fernandez has asked twice to extend his time beyond the regular 100 missions flown by Sabre pilots. He has 33 more left to fly of his personal goal of 150. Wants More MIG's "I'd like to shoot down as many MIG's as possible, without a nuy goal," he said. "I missed out on the last war and I'm going to get my share of this one." At Miami, Fla., the jet ace's mother, Mrs. Effie Fernandez, said she was proud of her son's record but that she wants more than all of it the news that "he's coming home." She added: "I think he's working too hard"—an observation with which the Communists obviously agree. Colonel Baker had a high word of praise for the new MIG record holder. "I think that's perfectly wonderful," said Baker at his McKinney home when told Fernandez had broken the mark the two had shared several weeks. "I've been expecting him to do it anytime." Baker commanded the group in which Fernandez is a flier until his recent return to the United States.

Southern Baptist Convention Adjourns With Promise Of Deeper Determination

HOUSTON—(AP)—Dr. J. W. Storer believes the Southern Baptist Convention has a deeper determination not to be diverted from its work. The 66-year-old Tulsa, Okla., minister Sunday night became the twenty-seventh president of the 22-state convention. In accepting the job as leader of the 7,600,000 Southern Baptists, Storer said: "Our people are becoming more and more aware of the major work which is ours and have a deeper determination not to be diverted from the execution of that great commission upon which all our missionary work is founded." Storer's installation concluded the five-day, ninety-sixth session of the convention. He succeeds Dr. J. D. Grey, who, at 46, was the youngest man ever elected to the office. The silver-haired Storer said it is his hope and desire that the unity with which the convention concluded its Houston sessions will be manifest in all its work and contacts during the coming year. Installation of the new president climaxed a final day program which included an evangelistic service and a Christian home hour address by Dr. Ralph A. Herring, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Winston-Salem, N. C. Largest Houston Meeting The Houston sessions drew 13,000 messengers delegates from the convention's 28,000 churches. Officials estimated more than 20,000 other Southern Baptists attended as visitors. It was the largest convention in Houston history. During its final business session Saturday, the convention, by its direction, reaffirmed its opposition to united Protestantism. As has been the case each year since 1940, an invitation to participate in a National Council of Churches Conference was declined "respectfully." The convention took these major actions: Budget For 1954 1. Adopted a record $8,750,000 budget and set a 1954 convention-wide budget goal of $34,000,000, including the budgets of the 22 state conventions. 2. Rejected a recommendation that Southern Baptist requirements be established for the God and Country Award of the Boy Scouts of America. 3. Rejected a recommendation that retiring board members not be reappointed for three years. A one-year limitation remains in effect. 4. Approved unanimously the enlargement of the executive committee from 31 to 45 members, effective next year. 5. Authorized the radio commission to continue to solicit private donations.

15 Die In Texas Traffic Accidents

By The Associated Press A passenger train slammed into a car at 60 miles an hour Sunday night, killing six persons near the East Texas town of Nome. The accident brought the weekend toll of violence in Texas to 18 killed, 15 of them in traffic mishaps. The Jefferson County train tragedy happened at 9:50 p.m. as negro members of the Beaumont All-Stars baseball team was going home from a game played in Nome. J. A. Guidry, Southern Pacific engineer from Houston, said his train approached the crossing at 60 miles an hour. He looked down in horror as a car drove through a signal light into the path of the heavy diesel locomotive. Wreckage was scattered 200 yards as the car tumbled along the track ahead of the train. The car frame was twisted into a tangled ball. Other violent deaths included: Two men from Walters Air Force Base were killed in an auto accident near Grayford, Texas, Saturday night. Cpl. Eugene R. Torzinen, 20, Menahua, Minn., was killed immediately and Cpl. George W. Volain, 20, of Pheriot, La., died in Walters Base Hospital at Mineral Wells Sunday. Lois Ann Strawn, 20, died near Greenville Sunday when the car she was driving hit a bridge abutment. Miss Strawn, employed in Fort Worth, was on her way home for Mother's Day at the time of the accident. Her family lives near Greenville. An auto accident near Longview Sunday killed T. C. Conlet, 37, a negro, from James, Texas. Dallas after he was hit by a car early Sunday. A 30-year-old man was arrested for investigation of drunk driving in connection with the negro's death.

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, again was down on the Elephant Path. Again he was about to eat a scrambled coconut pie. Again his mouth came open wide like the mouth of a great, black cat—just like it happened Sunday.

This time again a voice called out: "Mugwump! Stop! Wait!" Mugwump closed his mouth about taking a bite of his pie. Yes, and there was Huffy Tuffy gone.

SIDE GLANCES

"Please don't make a fuss because you stubbed your toe on a ball bat, George—Junior is so proud he cleaned up his own room today!"

By WESLEY DAVIS

Oh yes! It really happened Sunday. Huffy had nibbled the pie all gone in a hurry, and that is the way he had managed to eat it (the rascal).

"But you're not going to do it again today," said Mugwump. He didn't care how much Huffy Tuffy might beg and beg to nibble some nibbles. "Please let me nibble," said Huffy Tuffy, but Mugwump wouldn't do it. He knew that Huffy would nibble the pie all gone in a hurry again.

Huffy Tuffy begged. He begged and he begged and he begged. He blustered and he flustered. He even cried a play-like tear, all to try to get Mugwump to let him have the pie. "Do you really want it?" asked Mugwump. "Sure I do," said Huffy Tuffy. He was laughing inside himself with secret thoughts of how he was going to eat up the pie in a hurry. "Give it to me!" cried Huffy Tuffy. "Give it to me before I get huffy and tuffy with you!" Mugwump gave it to him. Yes he did! But not the way that Huffy expected. Mugwump squashed the pie in his face kersplat, all on a very happy day. Happy day! (Copyright 1953, General Features Corp.)

Ulcer Victim Helps Himself By Avoiding Nervous Upsets

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Ulcers of the stomach, of which there are two main varieties, usually are classed among the chronic disorders. Much has been learned about this interesting condition over the last years. Among other things, the undesirable effect of nervous strain and emotional upset have come to be increasingly well-recognized.

In all likelihood, the nerves are not the only cause of ulcers, and there are certainly other influences which are important once they have developed.

Certainly ulcers tend to come back and the symptoms get worse whenever a person has some mental or nervous strain or shock. This fact has been recognized by doctors for a long time, but there was not much which they could do about it. Even now the victim of a stomach ulcer probably can do more to help himself by trying to avoid excitement, anger or other emotional upset than the doctor can.

Many treatments have been and are being used for ulcers. Almost all of them are aimed both at the stomach itself where the ulcer lies and at the nervous cause.

In most cases of ulcer of the stomach, there is an increased amount of acid present which irritates the ulcer and delays or prevents its healing. Most treatments, therefore, try to get at this excess acid and thus allow the ulcer a better chance to heal.

One of the most common treatments consists of frequent feedings of small meals alternating with milk and cream and alkalis or other substances which decrease or neutralize the acids. Certain gelatin-like substances called mucins have a similar effect because they are supposed to coat the area of the ulcer and protect it from the irritating acid in the stomach.

Nerve Operation Used
In the last few years many people have been operated on for ulcers by cutting a nerve known as the vagus which goes to the stomach. This operation seems useful in many cases of ulcer which have not responded.

VFW Asks 'Loyalty Day' Tag For May 1

WASHINGTON —P—The Veterans of Foreign Wars Monday asked Congress to designate May 1 as 'Loyalty Day' to counter yearly Communist observance of that day.

Retired Adm. Leland P. Lovette, public relations director for the veterans group, said in a statement for the House Judiciary Committee such action would be "one of the positive steps that can be taken in rallying the people of the United States against communism."

The committee has before it a bill by Representative Van Zandt (R-Pa.) former VFW national commander, to designate May 1 as 'Loyalty Day.'

to other treatment. One correspondent asked recently how to avoid getting ulcers. I wish I knew. Probably those who eat regularly and well, who lead calm lives unperturbed by clashes at their work or in their homes, stand a better chance of avoiding ulcer than those who do not—but this is about as far as one can go.

Public Power Feud Hints Morse, McKay As Opponents In '56

WASHINGTON —P—Senator Morse (Ind-Ore) says he would welcome Secretary of the Interior McKay as an opponent when he runs for reelection in 1956.

Appearing on an NBC television program Tuesday, Morse assailed the Eisenhower Administration's power policy, and termed "a tragic betrayal of the public interest" McKay's decision to sidetrack public development of the Hell's Canyon power project in Idaho.

An interviewer asked Morse about a report that McKay, former governor of Oregon, might run against him for the Senate.

"See if you can talk him into it," Morse said. "I'd welcome it. It would certainly draw the issue. Because if you ever had two men with a different philosophy—one that believes as in my case that the people's interests ought to come first, and one that believes big business ought to keep first—there would be the contest to show the difference."

48 Pickets Jailed In Gunfire Slaying Of Working Miner

CLAY, W. VA. —P—Forty-eight mine pickets were housed in two jails 40 miles apart Monday to await a weekend hearing on charges of murdering a 29-year-old nonstriking miner.

The 48 crowded into Magistrate Belle Hamrick's office Sunday and stood grim-faced and silent while a state trooper read the single warrant charging them in the shooting of Charles Frame last Thursday.

Prosecutor James Reed said all 48 were charged because none of them individually would admit firing the shots that killed Frame.

Twenty-five were whisked away to the Kanawha County jail at Charleston to await their preliminary hearing here Friday.

The others were returned to the nine-cell Clay County jail where all 48 previously had been jammed since their mass arrest Thursday. Frame was slain in a burst of gunfire about 4 a.m. while he and other nonstrikers were patrolling the area. Three others were wounded.

Republicans Discover U. S. Budget Cannot Be Balanced

WASHINGTON —P—With hope officially abandoned for a balanced budget now, the government may borrow a well-known line from the Brooklyn Dodgers: Just wait 'til next year.

But simple arithmetic showed Monday that balancing spending with revenue may be painfully difficult even for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954—14 months away.

Red ink was the underscoring in a look at government finances released Sunday by the staff of the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue.

For the current year, ending June 30, the committee forecast a deficit of $7,300,000,000—almost $1,500,000,000 more than former President Truman estimated in his budget last January.

For the year starting July 1, the first full fiscal year of the Eisenhower Administration, the committee forecast a deficit of almost $6,000,000,000. It assumed Eisenhower would cut $5,000,000,000 from spending planned by Truman, for an outlay of $78,500,000,000. That still would keep the government deep in the red. A partial reason is that present tax laws are not bringing in as much revenue as was expected.

In the wake of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's quoted statement to a Senate committee last week that the budget for the 12 months starting July 1 cannot and should not be balanced, some Republicans showed concern over the political effects.

Some advisers were known to be urging President Eisenhower to take to radio and television to restate his purpose of balancing the budget and telling of the difficulties. These advisers were reported to be urging the President to blame the Truman Administration for present financial difficulties.

The joker in the government's financial deck is a series of automatic tax cuts, written into present laws by a Democratic Congress and a Democratic administration. Eisenhower inherits the loss of revenue, but perhaps little of the credit for the reduction.

And already there is pressure in Congress to enact tax cuts even beyond those already fixed by law. With 1954 an election year, this pressure is certain to mount. Any such move would increase still further the spending cuts necessary to balance the budget for 1954-55.

Why America is swinging to Ford

MORE AND MORE PEOPLE ARE FINDING THAT FORD IS WORTH MORE WHEN THEY BUY... WORTH MORE WHEN THEY SELL... AND HERE'S WHY:

People all over the country are finding in Ford the beauty and engineering they expected to find only in the more expensive cars. They're finding beauty that "belongs" in any surroundings... comfort that was formerly associated only with hard-to-park length. And a study of the used car market shows that Ford keeps its value better than any other car. That's why you'll find the "smart money" is swinging to Ford.

Ford has a new, smoother ride. New, softer spring and shock absorber action plus new-design rubber compression bumpers reduce front-end road shock (the kind of shock you feel most) up to 80%. Ford's wide front tread, low center of gravity and diagonally mounted rear shock absorbers help keep you level on curves.

Ford's roomy interiors are handsomely styled in a wide variety of colors, all tastefully matched to exterior colors. And Ford's soft, foam rubber cushions over non-sag springs give you day-long driving comfort.

Center-fill fueling is another "Worth More" feature that's not found in the low-price field. It saves fill-up time, ends hose marks on fenders. Short fill pipe makes room for an extra suitcase in the trunk. Here's another reason Ford is the New Standard of the American Road.

Suspended clutch and brake pedals work easier and give you more room. They turn the entire floor space into foot space. And because they act as "no entrance" signs to drafts and dirt—they make it easier to keep your Ford clean.

Ford Steering is easy on you! Makes handling a treat on open highway or city street. Ford's wide front tread permits sharp turns for easier parking in small spaces. And Ford Full-Circle Visibility gives you clear vision in all directions.

Ford Economy Beats Them All!

A Ford Mileage Maker "6", with Overdrive, won the grand Sweepstakes Award in the 1953 Mobilgas Economy Run. For the first time in history, a low-priced car not only won in its class, but took top honors—the coveted Sweepstakes Award—for beating the entire field regardless of class, size or weight. Here's additional proof that Ford is America's greatest economy car.

170 Collapse In Eastern Heat
NEW YORK —P—Some 170 persons, many of them children and teen-agers, collapsed from heat prostration Sunday during religious ceremonies here and in Washington.
The 100 victims in New York were part of a crowd estimated at 25,000 participating in a Fordham University observance of the annual World Sodality Day celebration of the Roman Catholic Church. The temperature here reached 80.
An estimated 70 teen-age girls, among 5,000 students participating in a similar sodality ceremony in Washington, collapsed in 87-degree sunshine.

French Rain Bombs On Departing Reds

HANOI, INDOCHINA. — (AP) — One of the last chapters in the Communist-led Vietnam invasion of the kingdom of Laos appeared being written Monday as almost two full divisions of the Red invaders crossed the northern frontier into Northwestern Indochina.

Another Vietnam division was expected to be out of Laos within 24 hours.

This would leave only crack Division No. 304, which 2-aded from the east, still on Laotian soil. It was based around Xiengkhouang, 90 miles southeast of the royal Laotian seat of Luang Prabang.

It apparently had been ordered by the Vietnam high command to hang on to cover the withdrawal northward and to attack the strongly defended French-Laotian base on nearby Plaine des Jarres if the French struck out after the retreating columns.

The French so far had made no effort to pursue the invaders with ground forces.

Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's soldiers appeared to have tried for a new speed record in pulling out of Laos, matching the swiftness with which they invaded a month ago. They plodded back along tortuous jungle trails which torrential monsoon rains have turned into ribbons of mud. Landslides and gushing streams blocked their progress in many places.

Boxcars Fly Supplies

With every break in the heavy downpour, French bombers and fighters struck at them. The French said it was impossible to estimate the enemy losses but probably they were heavy.

Despite the withdrawal of most of the invasion force, Vietnam forces in battalion strength still encircled and repeatedly attacked the two northern French posts of Muong Khoua and Muong Sai.

Among the planes parachuting supplies to the embattled French outposts and still reinforcing the main Laos defense points were six huge Flying Boxcars, rushed here last week by the U. S. government and operated by 14 American civilian fliers.

U. S. authorities here refused to identify the Americans but in Hong Kong retired U. S. Maj. Gen. Claire L. Chennault's Civil Air Transport line disclosed its pilots were flying the big C-119 planes.

New Gadget Enables Doctors To Ride Herd On Jet Jockeys

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Flight surgeons now have a way of watching from the ground by radio the heart and brain action, breathing and temperature of pilots aloft.

Any dimming of pilot alertness can be detected so quickly around the doctor will know about it before the flier himself is aware that anything is wrong.

Instantly the doctor can warn the flier by radio and perhaps prevent a crashup. But even if the warning is too late the physician still has a record of what happened and may use it to work out ways of preventing a recurrence.

Since aviation now is in the transition between propeller flight and thrust (jet and rocket) flight, the machine will be of extreme importance in determining how men can endure and survive rocket transportation much faster than the speed of sound.

The complicated device, developed by a Navy medical officer, was demonstrated openly for the first time Sunday. It is a star exhibit at the world meeting of the Aero Medical Association, which opened Monday.

Father of the complicated instrument is Cmdr. Norman B. Barr, head of the Aviation Division of the Navy Medical Research Institute at Bethesda, Md.

Basically it is a combination of some well-known medical instruments, a couple of extremely sensitive temperature-measuring devices and an ultra-high frequency radio transmitter.

The pilot has to be "wired" for radio. He has a couple of wires running outward from metal plates pasted to his skull, three others from the surface of his chest near the heart, and two or more extending from other parts of the body.

These leads run to a cigar-box-sized radio transmitter in the plane. This thing sends the radio signals to a ground receiver, which is hooked up to the recording devices. They include a brain wave machine, a heart action recorder or electrocardiograph, and temperature and pressure registering equipment which keeps tab on heat, cold and the breathing of the pilot.

The instrument gave its first show by recording the heart and breathing action of Navy Lt. R. D. Murray of Miami, Fla., as he flew 6,000 feet above Los Angeles.

Modern Call Of The Wild
LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Has the horn on your car ever stuck? If so then pity the crew of Southern Pacific engine No. 61830, which went on a big toot. Its steam whistle started shrieking Sunday and refused to stop.

The engine was hauling freight from Ventura to Los Angeles. Southern Pacific officials decided not to break the Sunday peace and quiet of this populous city and sent another engine to bring in the train.

Big Toot was sidetracked and its boilers allowed to cool to permit repairs.

Food Prices Drop To Level Of 1950

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported Monday that retail food costs have dropped to the lowest level since December, 1950, largely reflecting lower farm prices.

A fixed quantity of food that cost an average of $735 in 1952 could be bought for $701 by April this year, the agency said. Last July the cost had climbed to a record $755.

Low prices of beef were said to have accounted for much of the decline. Other foods that now bear lower price tags were said to include some dairy and poultry products.

The department said farm prices of food products were 10 per cent lower in the first three months of 1953 than in the corresponding quarter last year. But retail prices were down only three per cent, largely because marketing charges were three per cent higher.

As a result, farmers received 46 cents of the dollar consumers spent for farm-produced food products. This was three cents less than a year earlier and eight cents less than the record in 1946.

The department said the bulk of the increase in marketing charges reflected boosts in wages of employees in the food industry. It said hourly earnings of these workers average five per cent higher in the first three months of this year than last year.

Homers, Double Plays Boost Tribe To Win

By CHARLEY ESKEW
Reporter-Telegram Sports Editor

The Longhorn League, a circuit without a book of records on single-game performances, could use one in case Midland and Rowell plan on playing copycat again here Monday night following their series opener.

A couple of things to look up from Sunday—when Midland gallivanted, 14-4—would be whether any team ever hit four home runs in one game with no one on base before a fifth collected more than a single run-batted-in; also if Roger Dalla Betta's part in five double plays (for a nine-inning game) constitutes a new standard.

No matter what the records, though, Midland took its victory from the fun book—all players collected at least one of the 16 hits, all but one scored and four of them hit five homers. It ended a four-game losing streak.

As for Monday's game, Manager Jay Haney said Romarico Soto would start, bidding for his third victory. The game starts at 8:15 p.m., 15 minutes later than the previous opening time.

Newcomer Wallops Ball Sunday, Earl Winn, left-hander, celebrated his first start by boosting Midland's cause with two 400-foot home runs, coming in successive at bats during the fourth and sixth innings.

Tex Stephenson, Bill Brown and Art Bowland, the latter with two on, also slammed home runs. With that kind of hitting, plus five Roswell errors, the Indians never were in danger.

They started scoring in the first, when Bowland singled in Scooter Hughes for a 1-0 lead, and failed to tally only in the second inning.

A four-hit spree in the third made it 4-0 although none of the runs were earned. After Winn's single was erased by a Roswell double play, Hughes singled and Bowland bounced a ground-rule double over the first field wall; then Hayden White reached first on Shortport Armando Gallert's overthrow while Hughes and Bowland trotted home.

Julio de la Torre capped off the spree with a single to drive in White.

Julio Platas Another Winn slammed the first of his straightaway 400-foot blasts for an Indian run in the fourth and De la Torre singled in Hughes for a 6-0 lead in the fifth inning. Winn, by that time, quit his four-hit hurling to give up two runs to Roswell—but both he and Stephenson hit solo homers to gain back the difference in the same frame, 8-2.

Brown's clout in the seventh matched a run made by Roswell on a weird turn of events: Frank Casanova, doubling, pulled a muscle at second base, consequently only could reach third when the next batter, losing Pitcher Andy Alonso, also clouted a two-bagger. A groundout by Ossie Alvarez pushed in the tally, though.

Bowland found two on base with his eighth-inning homer and Lou Dawson doubled in two more in the five-run Midland frame.

Roswell closed scoring with its thirteenth hit off Winn, a single by Alvarez to plate Alonso, on with a triple in the ninth.

San Angelo Edges Near League Top

SAN ANGELO—(P)—League-leading Calabed was just another ball club as rampaging San Angelo clubbed out a 13-4 victory Sunday to move within one game of the front runners.

The Potashers, losers of but four games prior to Sunday, were no match for the slugging Colts, who rapped out 15 hits, including two home runs by Glenn Burns. The Colt left fielder added a single to account for five runs driven in.

The Colt power made it easy for Bobby Gregg to capture his third win against one loss. The San Angelo southpaw pitched a solid nine-hitter but was bothered by wildness, walking seven batsmen in the first four innings.

He settled down in the final five frames and did not issue another pass, although he hit two batsmen.

Gregg's nine-inning job was the seventh complete game Cole pitchers have turned in during the last eight outings. It was the fourth straight win for the club and the seventh victory in the last eight starts.

Oilers Slam 10 Hits To Tip Lamesa, 15-5

ODESSA—(P)—The Odessa Oilers got back into the win column Sunday, topping the hapless Lamesa Lobos, 15-5, with Lefty Jim Carson collecting his third win of the season against two defeats.

Odessa managed only 12 hits in getting its 15 runs, but five were for extra bases—a home run, three triples and a double along with 10 free bases given up by Howard Morganstern, the young Lamesa rookie who went all for his first loss.

Lamesa, however, did manage to take at least one honor and that was in the home run department, both Johnny Miller and Amardo Sanchez crashing for the circuit.

For the Oilers, Leo Eastham homered.

Big Train Clements Returns To Odessa Ring Monday Night

ODESSA—(P)—Big Train Clements, the villain personified, returns to the Odessa wrestling ring Monday night. He goes against John Henning in a two-out-of-three fall match with a one hour time limit.

In the other bracket of the double main event, Roger Mackey will meet Buck Lipscomb.

The preliminary will send Jack O'Reilly against George Bruckman in a one fall match limited to 20 minutes.

Tickets are on sale at the Model Appliance Shop, 112 West Fourth Street, in Odessa. Ringside seats sell for $2, reserve seats for $1.50 and general admission $1. Children's tickets go at 50 cents each.

Drillers Blast Broncs, 9-4

BIG SPRING—(P)—Artesia went home-run happy Sunday to club Big Spring, 9-4, in a Longhorn League contest.

All six Artesia runs scored in the first inning were tallied on homers. Bill Halley, Vince De Giamtasso and Joe Calderone, connected for the four-masters. And, in the seventh, Calderone plated two more runs with a single.

Big Spring used three singles to score a single run in the first and picked up another pair in the seventh on a bases loaded single by Jake McClain. The losers got their final tally in the ninth on an outfield fly.

Fred Parker picked up the win for Artesia with Pancho Perez the loser.

Roughnecks Pummel Sweetwater, 24-7

Sweetwater's semi-pro baseball team Monday was wondering whether a tornado had struck during its game with the Midland Roughnecks. The Roughs got plenty of mileage out of 24 hits, as they defeated the host team, 24-7, Sunday.

Sweetwater assured Rough Manager Les Cobb it would "import" some players for Thursday's second meeting.

Among the Roughs' hits were two singles and a homer by young R. L. Shelton, three singles, a double and a triple by Joe King, four singles and a triple by Frank Alexander, two doubles by Bernard Sells, and three singles each by Cobb and John Howard.

Howard struck out 14 in seven innings for the Roughs, and John Olson, finished with six strikeouts in the final two innings.

Big Spring Finally Conquers Colts, 5-4

The Midland Colts suffered their first loss to the Big Spring Indians in three years Sunday at Colt Park as the visitors scored a run in the top of the ninth and squelched a Colt counterally for a 5-4 triumph.

Juan Marquez was the big gun for Big Spring, Jesus Carrasco with two singles and a double led Midland.

Dodgers, Indians Win; Move Atop Big League Standings

By JOE REICHELK
AP Sports Writer

If anybody has put the rabbit into the baseballs, it's the news of the Philadelphia Athletics and Phillies.

While nearly every other club was blasting the ball out of the park Sunday, the two Philadelphia clubs were held to only two extra base hits in three games. And they were nearly two-baggers by the A's Eddie Joost and Eddie McGhee.

Consequently, it is not surprising that the Washington Senators dumped the Athletics in both ends of a double-header, 8-0 and 6-2, while the Brooklyn Dodgers wrested the National League lead from the Phillies with a 5-0 triumph.

The A's twin losses were their fifth and sixth straight setbacks.

Bob Porterfield permitted the A's only one hit in the opener, a seventh-inning single by Joost. That gave manager Jimmy Dykes' lightning crew the unenviable distinction of being handcuffed with no hits, two hits and one hit in a space of four games. Not since the same Athletics were victims of no-hitters on Sept. 4 and 7, 1923, has a team's bats been stilled so thoroughly within such a limited time.

In contrast to the slumbering Philadelphia bats, those of the other clubs were really alive. A total of 27 home runs were bashed Sunday. They included two each by Cleveland's Al Rosen and Cincinnati's Andy Seminick, a grand slammer by the Indian's Ray Boone and three pinch-hit homers by Bob Hoffman of the New York Giants, Del Wilber of the Boston Red Sox and Grant Dunlap of the St. Louis Cards. Even pitchers joined in with Washington's Porterfield and Cleveland's Dave Hoskins hitting for the circuit.

Four Cleveland homers accounted for all but one of the dozen runs the Indians tallied in the final two innings to rout the St. Louis Browns, 12-3. Rosen snapped Virgil Trucks, seven-inning shutout skinn with his first round-tripper in the eighth. Hoskins, Boone and Rosen again homered in the eighth-run ninth. The victory, credited to relief pitcher Hoskins, boosted the Indians into the American League lead by two percentage points over the Yankees despite New York's half-game margin in games won and lost.

The Yankees didn't hit any homers but they collected 14 safeties including four doubles to down the Red Sox, 7-4. Vic Raschi relieved Starter Allie Reynolds for New York and was credited with the victory. There were two Boston homers, one by Catcher Sammy White, the other by pinch-hitter Wilber.

Detroit Shortstop Harvey Kuenn hit his first major league home run to help the Tigers defeat Chicago, 8-6 in the first game of their double-header. The White Sox took the second game, 10-5. Steve Souchock of Detroit and Sherman Lollar of Chicago also hit for the circuit.

Homers by Clyde Vollmer and Porterfield off loser Harry Byrd accounted for five Washington runs in the Senators' first game win over the Athletics. Jim Busby and Jack Jensen connected for Washington in the second game.

The circuit clout also played a prominent role in the Giants' sweep of two games from Pittsburgh, 4-0 and 3-2. Don Mueller hit a solo homer and Dave Williams hit a three-runner off Murry Dickson to account for the Giants' first-game runs as Sal Maglie spun a three-hit shutout, Hoffman's pinch-hit, homer in the ninth snapped a 2-2 tie in the second game.

Roy Campanella, the hottest hitter in the majors, drove in all Brooklyn's runs with a homer and double off Karl Drews of Philadelphia. In the meantime, young Billy Loes blanked the Phils on six singles.

Cincinnati got only five hits off Vinegar Bend Mizell of the Cardinals, but three were home runs and the Redlegs won the opener, 4-2. Besides Seminick's two homers, there was another by Jim Greengrass. The Redlegs also won the nightcap, 5-2, as Bob Borkowski chipped in with a grand circuit wallop. Cardinals homer hitters were Steve Bilko, Peanutz Lowrey and Dunlap.

Max Surkont and Don Liddle pitched the Milwaukee Braves to a double win over the Chicago Cubs, 6-2 and 4-1. Roy Smalley and Preston Ward homered for Chicago and Johnny Logan hit one for Milwaukee. Liddle, with Milwaukee of the American Association last year hurled a two-hitter both by Smalley in his major league starting debut.

Earl Stewart Heads Home After Ardmore Open Win

ARDMORE, OKLA.—(P)—A smiling young Dallas golfer, a professional only three years, packed his clubs Monday and drove home with a $6,900 check in his pocket, first prize in the $21,300 Ardmore Open Golf Tournament and enough for a down payment on a Dallas home.

It was a big victory for Earl Stewart, Jr., now the PGA's top money winner of the year with $10,850, who shot a 2-over-par 282 for 72 holes on the tough 6,483-yard Dornick Hills Country Club layout.

The tournament's bonus plan upped the total prize money to $41,070.

Behind Stewart came Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif., with a 285, good enough for second place and a $3,000 prize.

Ed Oliver and Jimmie Gauntt, Oklahoma City, wound up tied for third—a stroke behind barber and collected $2,350 checks.

Al Zimmerman of Portland, Ore., and Freddie Haas, New Orleans, tied for fifth with 289's and took home $1,500 each.

There was a three-way tie for eighth between Lodie Kempa, Oklahoma City; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; and E. J. Dutch Harrison of Ardmore, the host pro. Each collected $1,013.33.

SNEAD RAGGED BUT STILL WINS GREENBRIER OPEN

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. V.—(P)—Sam Snead, playing what for him was a ragged game over his home course, still managed to beat the field Sunday and pocket $2,000 from the Greenbrier Open Golf Tournament.

Snead wound up with a 72-hole total of 268. Second with 271, was Jack Burke, Jr., of Klamath Lake, N. Y. His take was $1,000.

Ben Hogan, who had been expected to make a battle of it with Snead, fired a 69 Sunday and finished in a tie for third with Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., each with a total of 272. They won $600.

The Houston Post identified the signers as Norman Adams, Baytown all-state tackle, and Ellis Omstead, Galveston basketball star.

Black Indians Blow Lead, Bow To Pecos

Midland's Black Indians blew a three-run lead as they bowed to Pecos, 7-3, at Pecos Sunday.

Midland scored three runs in the first inning, but Pecos tied the count in the fifth and went ahead in the bottom of the eighth as Billy Bridges drove in the winning runs. John Hall was the losing pitcher.

Pecos will visit the Black Indians at 3 p.m. Sunday at Indian Park.

Tribe Squad Awaits Ruling On Personnel

The Midland Indians faced Monday's squad-trimming deadline by awaiting word from Longhorn League President Hal Sayles on how they stood in the matter of personnel.

The league allows 16 players—Midland has 19. But under a special minor league by-law, clubs can carry additional players who are returning this season from the service. Allegedly the number is four, which would allow 20 to a squad.

However, several different orders, both from the league office and from the National Association office, have tended to muddle the National Defense Serviceman classification—concerning returnees. They prompted Midland to make its current query of the Longhorn president. "We wired him Monday morning," Club President Marion Flynn said.

As far as meeting requirements of its own Class C league, Midland has the necessary three rookies and is on par with the five-veteran limit. Flynn said Sunday he believed the club could be kept intact as it is and follow league requirements.

"We don't intend to keep all of them (the 19 players), however," he said, "because of the expense."

If no immediate cutting down is called for, the club eventually will pare to about 17 players.

Midland's rookies are First Baseman Milton Wallendorf and Pitchers Don Dailey and Bud Sisk. The veterans are First Baseman Jim Prince, Third Baseman Julio de la Torre, Shortstop Scooter Hughes, Catcher Art Rowland and Pitcher Eddie Jacome.

Gene Steele's Hits Help Civitans, 21-10

Gene Steele collected three hits as the Civitans won over the Pirates, 21-10, in a Northeast Little League baseball encounter.

Steele's big bat helped the pitching team of winner Joe Barton and Augustin Sanchez pick up the verdict despite a home run by George Cayle of the losers.

Variety Of Military Steps Considered If Panmunjom Fails To End Hostilities

By ELTON C. FAY
Associated Press Military Reporter
WASHINGTON—(AP)—What happens, militarily, if Korean truce talks collapse again? There is no ready answer. Each of the possible courses seems fraught with hazards of one sort or another.

Dwight D. Eisenhower, when awaiting inauguration as President, went to the Far East five months ago to appraise steps that could bring an honorable end to the war. Since then the U. S., responding to an offer by the Communists, has resumed discussions at Panmunjom. Last Friday Eisenhower and his State and Defense Department advisers got together to discuss the latest Red truce proposals.

man Administration was criticized for the stalemated situation of the war. But an offensive likewise has disadvantages. Casualty costs can curve sharply upward. In the Fall of 1950, when the Allied offensive was rolling, U. S. casualties went up to more than 3,000 a week—and there were no fixed, strongly fortified positions to overcome in that offensive. Besides, the forces committed to battle were smaller than now.

Calculated Risks
There is another factor to be considered in either a frontal move against the enemy line or a flanking operation by amphibious landing. At this time, with present manpower, UN forces might be able to mount an offensive and crush Communist strength in North Korea. But would be the military's well-known "calculated risk" in extreme form.

If they prove unacceptable, what then? Will the United Nations force continue to stand where they are, holding a line held for two years? Or turn to an attempt to beat the enemy on the field? Or get out? Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) told an NBC television audience Sunday, "If we do not get a settlement, then I think America will take steps which ought to be taken to assure victory."

Embattled ranchers open intensive war this week against the worst grasshopper invasion in the rich San Joaquin Valley in more than a decade. Untold millions of the crop-devouring insects infest a belt between the Tehachapi Mountains and the green crop line on a 30-mile arc across the southern end of the valley. They have been sighted less than a mile from the sweeping vineyards of the big Di Giorgio Ranch, about 15 miles southeast of here.

well in the valley have donated 25,000 gallons of diesel oil, to be mixed with the skirrin. A trucking firm will provide six truck tankers and three crop-spraying firms will use 10 planes and pilots. The poison will cover 100,000 acres. James Dutton, chief of the Grasshopper Control Division of the U. S. Agriculture Department, arrived by air from Washington Sunday night to head the attack.

Seven U. S. Civilians Land In Moscow; Captivity Ends

MOSCOW—(AP)—Seven American civilians freed from internment by the North Koreans arrived in Moscow Monday aboard the Trans-Siberian Express.

North Koreans after Russian intercession. Fourteen French civilians, six Britons and an Irish priest already have been repatriated via Moscow.

AND NO CLASS DUNCE, EITHER
BRASHER FALLS, N. Y.—(AP)—There'll be no valedictorian or salutatorian—and no hard feelings at St. Lawrence Central School's commencement next month.

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen headed a group of Americans who greeted the liberated persons at the railway station. Bohlen then a special American plane was waiting at Moscow's Vnukovo airport to fly them home to America.

The United States had appealed to Russia to use its influence with the North Koreans to obtain the release of 13 Americans. The North Koreans replied they would free seven but that three others had died and they had never heard of the other three.

What about getting out of Korea? Of all the possibilities, that is the least mentioned in Washington. Grave questions of faith, loss of face and world prestige would be involved. And again, there would be purely military factors.

Filipino Fighters Return From Korea
MANILA—(AP)—The Philippine 19th Battalion Combat Team—730 officers and enlisted men—returned Monday from a year's Korean war duty.

Those who arrived here Monday were Louisa Leo Dams of Chicago, the former State Department employee; Catholic Father William Robert Booth, New York; Mary Helen Kosser, Macon, Ga.; Berna Helkison, Smith, Marshall, Mo.; Lawrence A. Zellers, Weatherford, Texas; Nellie A. Dyer, Van Buren, Ark.; and Anders Kristian Jensen, Cumberland, Pa.

Use Of A-Weapons
The frontier of world communism then would be moved to the edge of Japan—and Russia has a military bastion in the Kuriles only minutes away from Northern Hokkaido. And as was demonstrated in World War II, the difficulty and complexity of an evacuation can be as great as an amphibious attack.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

BIG GAME FOR THE BARGAIN HUNTERS is to be found in this attractive 2-bedroom JOHNS-MANVILLE asbestos siding home. Compact and comfortable living room, and kitchen, bath, and attached carport. Fenced yard paved street, in quiet town. North location. Reduced to $7,920. Assume payments of $54 per month. ONLY $1,550 down. No closing costs.

NO SHOT IN THE DARK is 1108 Lanham Street—with 3 lovely bedrooms, 2 tile baths, expansive living and dining room combination, and attached garage. Constructed of white Roman brick, you'll love the interior arrangement and decorating. The magnificent kitchen was stolen from a $50,000 home. Huge utility room, central heating and air-conditioning, luxuriously carpeted. Only $7,000 down towards the price of $21,000. No closing costs.

ITS THE BERRIES, and it's at 1105 East Pecan. Assume a 4% GI loan, pay ONLY $750 down, and she's yours. Your payments will be $51 per month.

MIDLAND—THE CITY with NO television. Not much for natural entertainment either. So we must engage our friends in our homes. For your modern living, try on this EXQUISITE CONTEMPORARY home. 3 bedrooms, 2 tile baths, gigantic living room with a wood-burning fireplace, and breakfast room off the kitchen. Central heating and cooling, luxuriously carpeted, and 9-foot ceilings throughout. 12x40 terrace, water well, fenced and nicely landscaped yard. And a million magnificent features. $24,000.

NEAR DAVID CROCKETT SCHOOL, 2 nice-sized bedrooms, comfortable living room, utility room just off the kitchen, tile bath. Excellent condition throughout. Total down-payment is $750. Priced at $7,250.

ON YOUR WAY to wherever you're going, stop by 305 and 313 East Cottonwood. We've whitened down the prices to fit a none-too-bountiful pocket book. Go see, then call us.

SLAP YOUR LANDLORD with an "I'm Gonna Move" notice. Tell him that you're gonna live at 1111 East Jax, because it's got 2 large bedrooms, living room, separate dining room, tile bath, and an attached garage. Tell him that it's gonna cost you only $58 per month. Only $1,250 down.

FOR HOSPITAL PEOPLE and doctors who care for the best, and yet are close by. Just off Louisiana, this home has 3 lovely bedrooms, ceramic bath, and a 2-car garage. Solidly constructed, it has an ideal floor plan, in immaculate condition, and lifeline features. Nicely landscaped corner lot, tile bath, and other delights too numerous to mention $19,500.

303 WEST HAMBY IS BRICK, has 2 huge bedrooms, wonderful ceramic bath, good closet space, attached carport and storage, and fenced yard. You'll want to know more about it, but to keep it interesting, it's priced at $10,500.

SOME PEOPLE PLAY the Midland Country Club in 2 hours and 93 strokes. If they ain't cheatin', but we'll show you 3 wonderful homes all around it in only 1 hour. One has 2 bedrooms, another has 3 (brick), and the third one has 3 bedrooms and a den and 1 1/2 baths. No cheating here. You merely take your choice. Midland may be building ridiculously towards Odessa (if you like our friendly neighbor), but the Country Club area has the trees and the grass. Like I said, you take your choice. Please, by appointment only. Priced from $11,500 to $16,900.

LARRY BURNSIDE—Realtor

ELIZABETH the Queen By Marion Crawford Former Governess to Her Majesty

A CHEER rose from the islanders waiting on the quayside when they saw her descend the ladder, followed by Prince Philip, who held her arm to steady her.

Philip stood beside her. As the boat rose he signed to General Browning, and at exactly the right moment gave the Princess a little push, which sent her right into the General's waiting arms.

It was only four days after the momentous telephone message to me from Buckingham Palace, announcing the arrival of Princess Elizabeth's baby, that I saw Prince Charles, as he was to be named later.

It was in the afternoon, just as I was getting ready to leave the Palace. As I have explained, I was already living at Nottingham Cottage; my rooms at the Palace had been taken over by Prince Philip so that he could be near his wife at the time of the birth.

But I was still going daily to the Palace to sit with Princess Margaret and discuss whatever subject came up. The strict school-routine, such as we had known in the past, had been abandoned.

I knew that my real work as Royal Governess at the Palace was over. But in the new, busy life which Princess Margaret was leading, her mother thought an hour or two of quiet, untroubled chat on general subjects might soothe her.

On this afternoon I found that she had already gone off to some engagement. I was just putting on my hat and thinking about a small piece of Spode china I had seen that morning in an antique shop off Kensington High Street.

Even in the Royal Household the question is asked: "Who does the baby look like?" At top, left, is Prince Charles at one year. At right he is shown at the age of four, with his two-year-old sister, Princess Anne. Below, from left to right, are pictures of his mother, Queen Elizabeth, at the age of one; his grandfather, King George VI, at the age of one, and his great-grandfather, King George V, at the age of four.

stiffness of steel and sat on her cot that Queen Elizabeth had lain in 22 years before. The room was very still and smelled of soap. Sister Rowe led the way toward the cot, her apron rustling crisply as she moved. It was clear she thought the baby marvelous.

He lay on one cupped hand, sleeping quietly. The other small curled fist, no bigger than a buttercup, it seemed, lay over the coverlet. To me he looked oddly like King George V.

Together we tiptoed to the door. When I got home I sat down with George to write the Princess a note to tell her that I had seen the baby. "He is a lovely child," I wrote. "You must be very proud of him." With the note I enclosed a box of peppermint creams, always the Princess's favorite sweet.
