TPC&O And Chicago Purchase Acreage In Crane From Adams

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company and The Chicago Corporation have acquired 1,520 acres in North-east Crane County from Halbert E. Adams and others.

Cash consideration for the lease was in excess of $150,000. In addition to the cash consideration, there was an oil payment agreement of $300 per acre and additional royalties.

The acreage includes all of section 8 and 10 and the west 123.1 acres of section 9, all in block B-24, per survey.

The land was covered in six separate leases on a five-year term and provides for one dollar per acre annual rental.

The companies must drill a Tubb test on some of the land within one year or release the acreage. The acreage is located about one and one-half miles north of Gulf Oil Corporation No. 1-EH State, an indicated Tubb discovery.

The transaction was handled by Billy J. Moore, division landman in West Texas and New Mexico for Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Company.

Magnolia Schedules Three Prospectors In Pegasus Sector

Magnolia Petroleum Company has announced locations for three prospectors in the multiphase Pegasus field, two of them in Upton and the other in Midland County.

No. 10-36 Roy Glass will be dug as a Pennsylvania test 660 feet from south and west lines of section 36, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey. It will go to 10,750 feet.

Magnolia No. 4 T. R. Wilson will be dug as an Ellenburger test 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 38, block 41, T-4-S, T&P survey.

Magnolia No. 11-A John Windham will be dug as an Ellenburger test 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 21, block 40, T-4-S, T&P survey.

The two Ellenburger projects are slated for 13,300-foot bottoms. All three tests are approximately 21 miles south and slightly west of the city of Midland.

Gulf To Set Pipe At Permian Test In S-C Andrews Area

Gulf Oil Corporation is preparing to set liner on bottom at 5,550 feet for completion in the lower Judkins Permian line through perforations at its No. 1-EAR State, indicated discovery in the Triple "N" (Ellenburger) field of South-Central Andrews County.

The well flowed oil on drillstem and production tests at 5,470 to 5,580 feet.

On a 24-hour test, the well flowed 233 barrels of oil and 38 barrels of basic sediment and water. Gas volume was too small to measure.

The last six and one-half hours reported, it flowed 61 barrels of oil and 12.3 barrels of basic sediment and water.

No. 1-EAR State is located 2,346 feet from south and 2,310 feet from east lines of section 21, block 9, University survey and 11 miles south of Andrews.

King Oil Is To Dig 7,700-Foot Project In NE Howard Area

King Oil, Inc., of Wichita Falls is to drill its No. J-B Chester L. Jones as a 7,700-foot exploration in the Vincent (Lower Canyon) area of Northeast Howard County.

It will be one mile northeast of the town of Vincent and 467 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the north half of the north-west quarter of section 5, block 28, H&TC survey.

Combination tools are to be used and operations will start soon.

Water Drowns Out Devonian Zone In Andrews Wildcat

The Sharples Oil Corporation and associates, No. 1-A Means, East-Central Andrews County wildcat, seven miles east of the town of Andrews found salty, sulphur water in a drillstem test in the Devonian at 12,600-778 feet.

The tester was open three hours. There was a good flow of air throughout the period. There were no signs of gas.

Recovery was 7,545 feet of salty, sulphur water. No signs of oil were found.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 170 pounds to 3,330 pounds. (Continued On Page seven)

Waco's Tornado Toll Soars To 88

Threat Of Twisters Expires Over Weather-Harried Texas

By The Associated Press

Rains and wind slacked off over weather-waried Texas Wednesday. The death count from two giant tornadoes Monday climbed to 97 but the possibility of more twisters had "expired." Rain-swollen streams threatened some flooding.

The swollen Brazos River did not reach a predicted near-flood stage Wednesday at Waco. By dawn the water, runoff of rain deluges of up to seven inches in two days, was subsiding rapidly.

Col. Herbert Vogel, southwest division Army Engineer, said at Dallas "unless there are additional rains, major floods in Texas do not appear likely at this moment." He said the toughest situation was on the Lampasas River. Several farm roads were closed in that area.

Panhandle Snow Flurries
Snow flurries at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Panhandle early Wednesday marked a cold front which chilled most of the state. The temperature dropped to 35 at Amarillo and 33 at Dalhart.

The Weather Bureau said its severe-weather warnings of Tuesday, which said tornadoes were possible over wide areas of Texas Tuesday night, had "expired."

Rainfall at Waco from the time the tornado struck at the 5 p.m. rush hour Monday until 7:30 a.m. Wednesday totaled 7.31 inches.

The tornado damage estimate at Waco ranged from 10 to 25 million dollars and at San Angelo was more than three million dollars. More than 300 were injured at Waco, close to 100 at San Angelo.

All Texas reeled under the wild, unusual weather Tuesday.

Sandstorms lashed Midland, Wink, San Angelo and Big Spring areas. West Texas with grit. Visibility was lowest at Wink, a half-mile.

More twisters, all small, were sighted near Sherman in Northeast Texas, Gladewater in East Texas, and San Antonio in South Texas. No damage was reported.

Blinding rainstorms, spawned by the same turbulence that sent the tornadoes across Texas, poured up to five inches of rain on Huntsville, four on Nacogdoches, and three on Jacksonville. Local floods harried residents of all three East Texas cities.

Elsewhere, flooding creeks and lesser rivers took their toll of livestock, property and life. Near Temple, 35 miles south of Waco, Mrs. Lloyce Walker, about 80, was believed drowned when flooding Elm Creek swept her car off a farm road. The vehicle was found in 12 feet of water, 200 yards downstream from the point where she tried to cross the stream.

More than seven inches of rain since Monday sent Rocky Creek over its banks at Lampasas in West Central Texas, and blocked Highway 81, a heavily traveled route.

Other storms lashed Corsicana, College Station, Lufkin, Taylor, Longview, Junction, Wichita Falls, Dallas and Austin.

Rainfall for the 24 hours ended at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday included Waco 4.64 inches, Austin 5.1, Dallas 5.9, Houston 2.55, Fort Worth 5.2, Galveston 1.50, Victoria 7.5, Beaumont 2.40, Texarkana 8.4, Lufkin 1.57, College Station 3.21, Pecos 2.52, Mineral Wells 4.8, Junction 1.09, Tyler 5.7, Rosser 1.83, Kilgore 1.21, Corsicana 2.42, Trinidad 1.87, Ennis 1.53. Lesser amounts fell over much of Texas.

Adjustment of property valuations in newly developed areas of the city—adjustments which ranged in some cases as high as 500 per cent in increase—had been ordered Wednesday by the city's Board of Equalization.

The adjustments to correspond with values of adjacent developed properties were ordered after a hearing Monday afternoon by the board, of which Addison Wadley is chairman.

Board Revalues Properties In Areas Of Improvements

Adjustment of property valuations in newly developed areas of the city—adjustments which ranged in some cases as high as 500 per cent in increase—had been ordered Wednesday by the city's Board of Equalization.

The adjustments to correspond with values of adjacent developed properties were ordered after a hearing Monday afternoon by the board, of which Addison Wadley is chairman.

Other members of the board are J. P. Carson, Sr., and J. L. Barber. The widest increases came on the property along the improved North Front Street, which last year was opened as an alternate route for U. S. Highway 80.

"When those property values were established in 1951," said City Tax Assessor-Collector W. I. Pratt, "that street just ran out into a pasture."

"Naturally the property values have increased and it is only right that their properties should be equalized with similar improved areas."

From Pecos Street to Garfield Street these values were raised approximately 90 per cent and from Garfield Street to the intersection with West Wall Street, the increases ranged as high as 500 per cent.

Other adjustments were made in developed areas of Crestview, Gardens Addition, Bauman Heights and similar spots where there has been widespread development in the last year or two.

The new values will be used, Pratt said, in making up the 1953 tax rolls. Valuations also were established for the Permian Estates area, which formerly had been on the rolls on an acreage basis.

At North San Angelo Lake and ripped a wide path of destruction. First, they said they couldn't believe it.

Then, they thought of the hundreds of miracles which happened before their eyes.

Old "Pop" Rayburn, 77 years old, rubbed a day's growth of beard on his chin and surveyed the flattened ruins of a sturdy five-room house.

"That house," he proclaimed, "was braced in every way, shape and form I could think of. I know, cause I built it with my own hands."

"But look at it now."

Cold Drizzle Falls On Midland, Basin

Midland was in for a damp afternoon and night Wednesday with occasional rain showers and thunderstorms predicted until 11 p.m. at least.

A light drizzle had been falling over Midland early Wednesday and continued to fall at intervals until noon, accompanied by a general drop in temperature.

An early morning cold snap brought the mercury down to 42 degrees.

Overcast conditions cutting visibility down to two miles were expected to prevail into Wednesday night.

"Two-Five-Three-One-One" — yes, 2-5311 — will be the new dial telephone number of The Reporter-Telegram — effective Friday!

The change in telephone number is necessitated by the fact The Reporter-Telegram must have additional lines to handle better the ever-increasing number of outgoing and incoming calls.

And the only way in which this could be accomplished was by changing numbers.

Effective this Friday — May 15 — The Reporter-Telegram's dial number will be 2-5311, when the new 1953 directory goes into effect.

All departments of the newspaper may be reached by dialing this number—2-5311.

It's easy to remember... But please jot down the new number—2-5311 — now as a handy reference.

Angeloans Cite Light Storm Death Toll As God's Miracle

SAN ANGELO—They came back Wednesday to the piles of wood, tin and stone which 40 hours ago were their homes.

Old men in borrowed clothing, women in men's overalls, young men who were at work when tragedy struck and little kids who just stood around looking at something they couldn't believe.

In the dim light of dawn they began poking into the leveled ruins of their homes in the wake of a twisting tornado which Monday claimed nine known dead and sent scores of injured to hospitals here.

The damage was confined to the Lake View area about two miles north of San Angelo's business district as the dreaded funnel-shaped cloud whirled its way over the dam

Weary Rescue Workers Still Search Debris

WACO—(P)—Search parties working all night by floodlight found 10 more bodies in the tornado-twisted heart of Waco. This brought the death toll to 88 in the freakishly silent tornado which crushed two square miles of the city late Monday.

On this third day since the tornado, rescue workers went on at a resigned and discouraged pace. They had little hope of finding other living persons in the remaining rubble.

City Awards First Street Project Jobs

The North Big Spring Street widening project was launched officially Tuesday night as the City Council awarded contracts for the construction of a six-block-long storm sewer and 16 blocks of curb and gutter.

Construction work will begin within the next few days and will open the way for the State Highway Department to ask for bids for the construction of the widened 65-foot roadway.

Widening In July
State Highway engineers said bids probably would be received in July for the widening of North Big Spring Street from Texas Street to George Street, just south of the Midland Drive.

The contract for the storm sewer, to provide proper drainage in the area around West Parker Street, was given to Joe Copeland, Midland contractor, who submitted the low bid of $68,844. Other bids ranged as high as $86,957.

The contract for the curb and gutter, which will be paid for by the adjacent property owners on an assessment basis, was awarded to the W. L. Johnson Company on its low bid of $15,011. Other bids ranged upward to $19,824.

For several weeks, city forces have been in the process of removing trees and shrubs from the right-of-way and planting them in city parks.

The council also authorized the acquisition of a 10-foot right-of-way strip to permit the widening of East South Front Street from Lee Street to Adams Street.

A two-car collision on U. S. Highway 80, seven miles west of Midland, sent the driver of a hot rod to the hospital and injured two others, Tuesday night.

Frank Urey of San Angelo, a paint salesman, was in good condition in Midland Memorial Hospital Wednesday morning. He suffered a possible fractured rib and multiple contusions and abrasions of both knees.

Urey was driving a 1939 roadster, custom made into a hot rod and owned by George P. Smith of Odessa. Smith was riding with Urey and received abrasions of the face and right ankle.

L. T. Watson, 1500 South Big Spring Street, was driver of a 1950 two-door sedan involved in the crash. He suffered a laceration of the right leg and bruises of the chest.

Highway Patrolman Jack Whitson investigated the accident, which occurred as both cars were heading east about 8:30 p.m. Urey reportedly tried to make a left turn from the right side of the highway and his car was in collision with the right front of Watson's car.

An Ellis ambulance brought Urey to the hospital. The two other men were treated and released.

"Several firms and groups," they said, "either gave merchandise from their stores or bought huge quantities of needed items to add to the mountain of things given by individuals."

Residents who could not take clothes and bedding to the truck, parked in front of the Elks Club in the Leggett Building, were asked to call the club for pick-up service.

The Midland Elks Club also went to the rescue money-wise Tuesday posting a $100 check for aid in Waco, hardest hit of the two cities and $500 to San Angelo.

"We had a steady stream of donations Tuesday," an Elks spokesman said. "We hope that stream won't be a trickle Wednesday."

There, he continued. "Then suddenly I saw the southeast window vanish. I grabbed the two Fuddelton girls and yelled 'Hit the floor.' Then the storm struck."

"Two minutes later we were buried under six feet of debris and began crawling out."

None of the four was injured.

"Down the street a couple of houses I heard an old lady holler," Rayburn continued. "She was an old widowed invalid woman. I didn't stop to get my hat or nothing. I just ran down there and grabbed her out of her front yard, where she had been thrown and put her in a car to get her out of the hall and rain."

"Then we started looking around."

"That's when I found Mrs. Hall. She lived next door and she'd been blown 100 yards away from her house and her body lay there in an open field. Wasn't a stitch of clothes left on her, either."

"Best neighbor anybody ever had," Rayburn lived about a mile west of the Lake View School, where hundreds of children were in classes when the tornado hit. Most of them escaped serious injury.

"I was there in the classroom just after the kids had left when I heard a loud roar. I told Homan—he was helping me—'Looks like we're gone.' I watched the wind lift the roof and the ceiling right off that building and then throw

Speaker Raps VA's Program Of Dental Care For Veterans

HOUSTON —(AP)—The government is conducting a wholesale give-away program in its free dental care for veterans, a representative of the American Dental Association charged Tuesday.

Speaking to the Texas State Dental Society, Francis Garvey of Chicago, attorney and secretary of ADA's council on legislation, said 80 per cent of America's male population eventually will become veterans and subsequently entitled to veterans' benefits.

Charging the government had spent 260 million dollars in free dental care for veterans since the program was instituted in 1946, Garvey said "the ADA is concerned with the cost to the taxpayer."

Garvey said the ADA believed veterans should have free dental care for caries, diseases or injuries incurred during military service but said "defects which occur after a man's discharge should not be paid by the government."

Old Sheets Strong Forces In Battle Against Cancer

An old sheet is a strong force in the fight against cancer.

Many families with a cancer victim are unable to lay out the $40 to $50 a month often needed for cancer dressings. Mrs. M. B. Taubman, service chairman of the American Cancer Society, Midland County Unit, explained Wednesday. "Old sheets can be cleaned and used for dressings."

Mrs. Taubman pointed out that some families with cancer victims have sacrificed money that should have gone for food in order to buy dressings.

"We are going to try to stop this sort of thing through our old sheet drive here in Midland," she said.

Through the cooperation of Pacific Mills, donors of old sheets will receive credit certificates this week which can be used as part payment toward the purchase of new Pacific Contour Sheets.

Volunteers who will staff booths in two Midland firms—Dunlap's and Virtue's—include Mrs. Thomas Houghton, Mrs. Stanley Weiner, Mrs. John Braun, Mrs. F. L. Key, Mrs. J. B. Stewart, Mrs. H. T. Hillard, Mrs. Roy Davidson, Virginia Breedlove, Mrs. Boyd Laughlin, Mrs. Richard Dorn, Mrs. John Ashman, Mrs. Edmund Borys, Mrs. H. Howell and Mrs. E. Shipp. Other volunteers are asked to contact Mrs. Taubman at phone number 4-7236.

THE 'PRETTIEST' MUSIC—Shown above are Joy Caylor and the all-girl orchestra who will open their frolicking show at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Midland High School Auditorium. Ranked as one of the foremost all-girl orchestras in America, the group will roam the scales from smooth, sophisticated musical stylings to sparkling novelty tunes. Tickets for the two-hour show will be on sale in the Crawford Hotel lobby Thursday and from 4 p.m. until show time at the high school auditorium.

All-Girl Orchestra To Play Program In City Thursday

An all-girl orchestra which began as a college band at the University of Denver and has risen as one of the foremost groups of its kind in the United States, will be on stage at 8 p.m. Thursday when the curtain rises in the Midland High School Auditorium.

Unique in the music field, Joy Caylor and Her All-Girl Orchestra will offer a complete musical evening featuring lovely vocalist Gloria Dell, saxophonist Pat Hunter and the charming leader herself, dubbed "Queen of the Trumpet."

The 14 girls in the orchestra promise smooth musical styling sprinkled liberally with sparkling novelty tunes to keep Midland toes tapping. Continued rehearsal and professional work together have built the group into eye-catching (and keeping) revue of musical and feminine loveliness.

Thursday's show also will feature nine precision dancers and six audience-holding acts.

Tickets to the all-girl revue will be on sale throughout Thursday in the Hotel Crawford lobby and from 4 p.m. until show time at the high school auditorium.

The group claims to be the only orchestra requested to make two overseas tours throughout the Far East during World War II. For their entertaining of Allied Troops in the Far East, they won a citation by General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

They have appeared in such countries as Hawaii, Guam, Okinawa, Iwo Jima, Philippines, Korea, China and Japan. Cities from the West Coast of the United States to the East Coast have heard the girl-sparked music.

Joy Caylor, who during her youth aspired to be an animal trainer, first played in a professional band at the age of 14, when she won the role of featured trumpeter in her brother's orchestra. Since then, her distinctive style has won her a place alongside the male greats in the trumpet field.

Joy and the band laugh at the perils of the music world—now, at least twice, Joy and the all-girl group narrowly averted "disasters" when traveling by air to forthcoming engagements.

One such occasion was during a trip from Los Angeles, Calif., to Smoky Hill Air Base in Selma, Kan., when their pilot was forced to make a "beam landing" during a raging sleet storm, and another during a flight from Okinawa to Tokyo. A typhoon forced the group down on Iwo Jima, after the pilot had flown "blind" through the roaring winds.

New Postage Rate Hike For Magazines, Newspapers Sought

WASHINGTON —(AP)—A request to Congress for higher postage rates on newspapers, magazines and advertising material appeared to be in the offing Wednesday.

Postmaster General Sumnerfield, without saying so flatly, indicated to a House Appropriations subcommittee that studies now being made pointed towards a recommendation for higher rates on second and third-class matter. "For a temporary period of at most two years."

Sumnerfield also indicated, in testimony made public Tuesday, he would not be adverse to an arrangement under which the postmaster general, rather than Congress, would fix postal rates.

The department has a current annual deficit of $42 million dollars and, he said, expects to run $60 million in the red next fiscal year.

He said only first-class mail and the postal savings system show profits.

U. S. Buys Jet Fuel From Wiima

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The U.S. has kept a tankerload of jet aircraft fuel out of Red Chinese hands—by buying it.

The Mutual Security Administration said Tuesday the cargo was transferred from the Finnish tanker Wiima near Singapore to a U.S. tanker, identified in Singapore dispatches as the Canaba of the Military Sea Transportation Service.

The Wiima had been watched closely since picking up its cargo at a Romanian port almost three months ago.

This girl approaches gardening with health and beauty in mind. Since garden soil blackens nails, she forestalls lengthy scrubbing by digging them into a cake of damp soap (left). To guard against dried-out hair she wears a hat, and to prevent sun-and-wind burn, she uses an anti-sunburn lotion (center). Gloves protect her hands and good posture prevents backache. She bends her knees, not her back (right). If you're an enthusiastic gardener, be sure you have clothes that are durable, protective, comfortable and smart, like this girl's. Have tools the proper length for you.

Beauty Rules Aid To Gardener

By ALICIA HART

NEA Beauty Editor

You get much more out of gardening than beautiful flowers and luscious vegetables. It's a relaxing, healthful and beautifying activity. The fresh air and exercise do wonders to your complexion and keeping your waistline small.

However, without certain protective measures, gardening can take a toll of your beauty.

Even on the type of day when the sun is behind clouds, be sure to guard your skin from burning with a good sunburn preventive. If you are a tanner, you can use an oil. Even a tanner, if she's been indoors most of the winter, should be careful at first.

On days when the sun beats down mercilessly, wear a lightweight hat or scarf on your head to protect yourself from sun dizziness and to keep your hair from drying out.

Before you get your hands into the dirt, take a few minutes to dig your nails into a cake of damp soap. This will keep them from blackening. At scrub-up time, it takes but a few seconds to brush the dirt out.

If your brush man should stop at your garden gate, hail him if you haven't got a good manicure or, all-purpose stiff-bristled brush.

We hope you're a girl who not only has gardening gloves but uses them! Before pulling them on, coat your hands with good hand cream or lotion. It will do a softening job while you work and, if you're likely to discard the gloves while working, you'll have at least some protection.

Don't abuse your feet with bedroom slippers or an old pair of once-good shoes while in the garden. Some girls like to go barefoot at all parts of the time. But when they do put their shoes on, low-heeled, arch-supporting, comfortable ones are best.

If your gardening tools are too long or too short for you, you won't get the fun out of gardening that you should, and you won't be able to maintain good posture. Insist on having the tools right for you.

Don't break your back even though, at the moment, it seems a worthy cause. There's no need to make a jackknife of yourself. Use your thigh muscles and flex your knees to bend down and keep the back straight. This will not only keep your posture good but avoid later backache.

Study the most efficient way for using any new tool, to keep from straining any of your muscles. When you can use two hands for doing something, don't make one do all the work.

Your clothes should allow you perfect freedom of motion and protect you from callouses. And, if you want to be pretty, don't wear some old discarded garment for gardening. Have one of the smart outdoor costumes available in sportswear departments.

Stop for rest before you get tired, don't get into the poison ivy, wear an insect repellent and your hours of gardening should reap great beauty returns.

First Presbyterian Women Hold Study Meetings, Plan Activities

Circles of the Women of the Church of the First Presbyterian Church held study meetings and planned future activities Monday and Tuesday.

It was announced that the Women of the Church will hold a meeting on May 19 to do White Cross work and that the birthday party for the Women of the Church will be held May 26.

The Evening Circle held a covered dish supper Tuesday in the church. Mrs. Lucy Mashburn led the lesson and Alma Heard reviewed the Survey article on "What and Why Furlough Homes?"

Other members present were Barbara Parkinson, Lucy Moore, Gladys Woerner, Mrs. H. E. Phillips, Mrs. J. Hollis Roberts, Maude Roberts, Mrs. E. W. Anguish, Jane McAtee and Dora Evans.

Mrs. T. R. Wilson, Jr. was elected treasurer when Circle 1 met Monday in the home of Mrs. Thornton Hardie, Jr., 804 West Kansas Street.

Mrs. R. L. Miller led Bible study, "Jesus, the Promised Messiah," second in a series of lessons on "Portraits of the Master." Mrs. Frank Wolcott gave the Survey article, and Mrs. Mann Rankin the devotional.

Present were Mrs. W. H. Pryor, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Rankin, Mrs. T. R. Wilson, Sr., Mrs. C. J. Thompson, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Wolcott, Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. Arthur Stout, Mrs. W. A. Knight and Mrs. Laura Hitchcock.

League Board Slates Training Meet Thursday

Mrs. William Ruggles of Dallas, national item one chairman of the state board of the League of Women Voters, will conduct a training meeting for board members of the Midland League of Women Voters Thursday.

The session will be held at 8 p.m. in the League of Women Voters office. Mrs. Ruggles will serve in an advisory capacity, assisting with special problems and plans for the Midland League.

National item one is "Measures which contribute to world security, with emphasis on international economic advancement and maximum use of the United Nations."

Girl Scouts Plan Future Activities

Plans for future activities highlighted Brownie and Girl Scout troop meetings Monday and Tuesday.

Brownie Troop 74, which met Monday in the Little House, planned a picnic supper to be held at 5 p.m. Monday in Cole Park. Refreshments were served by Jane Grey.

A cook-out was planned by members of Intermediate Troop 50 meeting Monday in the Little House. Brownie Troop 75, which met at 1513 Community Lane, planned a cook-out as its final meeting of the year. The event will be held May 19 in the Little House, and will be a joint meeting with Brownie Troop 72.

Intermediate Troop 9 closed its year with a picnic given by the leaders. Members also completed trays for their mothers during the meeting Monday in the Little House.

Brownie Troop 61 Holds Cook-Out

Brownie Troop 61 of St. Ann's School met Tuesday in the home of Mary Ann Chase, 1303 West Kansas Street.

The members and their guests had a cook-out and played games. Members present were Mary Joan Johnson, Linda Kelly, Karen Kelly, Mary Brodigan, Sharon Kelly, Mary Ann Chase, Carol Duesenberry, George Ann Phoenix, Carol Harris, Susan Harris, Patricia Garney, Ann Kinsey and Colleen Joyce.

Guests were Marjorie Chase, Carolyn Burleson, Ann Kelly and Tommy Brodigan. Mrs. Joseph Brodigan and Mrs. Fred Burleson are the troop leaders.

Members also voted to purchase a picture, a mobile rolling table, microscope, record player, and a set of encyclopedias for the school.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newswriter

You take your choice usually of joy or heartbreak when you get a bid for a high school or college sorority.

Joy is for the chosen.

Heartbreak for the rejected.

To some who do not make it—it is a chins-up challenge. Life is full of disappointments and disillusionments, they reason. Moral fiber might be strengthened by that early brush with reality.

But we are not all greathearts. So to some sorority-time is a lovely episode of life to be forced to skip.

The problem of high school fraternities and sororities was thrown into focus recently in Birmingham, Ala., where three student leaders left their Greek letter groups.

The three—Barbara Brown, Leah Maria Rawls and Charles Kidd—were active in social groups. But they told officials of Shades Valley High School that their organizations were hurting the school.

Blue-eyed Barbara, a pretty 16-year-old senior, is one of the school's outstanding students. She directs a social dance group, has been student body vice president, is a member of the national honor society, and of school journalism and dramatic clubs. She had this to say:

"When I joined my sorority I saw it was hurting some little girls terribly at pledging time. Sororities would rush girls right up to the last minute, and then drop them. They would come to school crying."

The popular Barbara was uncomfortable about it. The more she saw of sorority life, the more she didn't like it. It gave her the feeling, she says, that "we're good because we are in the sorority and not good because we are not in." She was shocked by the way her chapter ruled on prospective members. Says she:

"One fine girl was banned because her mother had been an alcoholic." Barbara recognized that sororities did help girls who were too shy to take an active part in school life. But she found that "they were built up to a false sense of superiority."

Seconds Criticism

Charles, who was this year's student body treasurer and an athlete, seconded Barbara's criticism. He found that his fraternity members "looked down on activities of the school because they thought the activities were not up to par with their social life."

He found his fraternity life didn't allow him time for activities in which all students shared.

Barbara, Charles and Leah Marie, a national water ski champion, have been busy for months trying to prove their case.

The principal, F. A. Peake, put them in touch with a group of elementary school parents whose children would attend Shades Valley High School some day.

Barbara spoke before the P-TA. It was a test of her convictions and courage. Sorority representatives also appeared.

Has anything worthwhile come of their stand?

Yes, says Peake, explaining: "The problem has been recognized. These groups have been placed in a position where they had to improve themselves."

Fraternities and sororities promised to stop pledging students in the freshman year. They agreed to end their dances at an earlier hour.

But there is more spade work to be done. Charles Kidd says: "The sororities are improved. But they still have the same bias."

The young people are continuing their fight.

Nursing Mother Learns To Share Herself With Baby

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Elsa is 17. Says she to me, "What do you think? The girl next door to us has discovered she's having a baby. She says she's going to nurse it."

"Hurrah!" I say. "What an intelligent girl."

Elsa looks at me coldly. "Sometimes," she tells me severely, "you are very reactionary. Mrs. Lawrence. The girl next door plays the piano beautifully. What's intelligent about turning herself into a cow? Don't you know a girl who lets a baby pull her all out of shape for nine months has done enough for posterity. I know that when I have a baby I'm going to want my figure back to myself as soon as I can get it."

I'm fond of Elsa. So I say, "Babies are awfully young to be conquering nature. You skipped the fourth grade in school, didn't you?"

"Yes," Elsa says, puzzled, but what . . .

"And in the fifth grade you had such trouble with arithmetic you had to tutor all Summer, didn't you?" I asked.

I see that my guest still is wondering what I'm getting at, so I tell her. I say, "Skip long division in the fourth grade—and you may approach fractions with uncertainty in the fifth one. Nursing babies is a grade in learning to share yourself with a baby. If we skip it, we may lose some confidence we need to proceed to the next one."

It would be a pity if Elsa's attitude is shared by many of her contemporaries. To feel such distaste for the idea of sharing ourselves with a nursing baby can make motherhood a very difficult adjustment. For we human beings can't divide our physical and moral selves the way department stores separate hosiery counters from perfume ones. They are one.

If we feel distaste for sharing our physical selves with our baby, we are apt to feel it when he clamors for a share of our moral strength as well. His demands on our patience, our firmness may seem as outrageous as his demands on our body.

Nursing your baby is not the mere transfer of material food from one body to another one. That's just a minor function. Any bottle can manage it. Nursing feeds both people it involves; it nourishes the newborn mother in us as well as the bones and flesh of our baby. Although we don't always know it, what's being fed in us is our new identity as the possessor of warmth and comfort for all needs.

That's why I'm for breast-feeding if we can possibly manage it. We need all the certainty of our own power it can bestow on us.

High School Student Wins Contest For Program Cover

Jack Pennington, Midland High School student, is the winner of the Optimist-Club sponsored Midland Rodeo Program Cover Contest, Jim Velvin, club president, announced Wednesday. He will receive a cash prize of $75 or two weeks at Eagle Lake Boys Camp.

Second place winner is James Johnson, who will receive a $35 cash prize.

Elaine Conger's entry won third place honors. Prizes were offered only the first and second place winners, however.

Pennington's drawing—a cowboy riding a bucking horse, with Fair Park grandstand in immediate background and with skyline, cattle and oil wells in far background—will appear on the cover of the official souvenir program to be sold by the Optimist Club during the Midland Rodeo, June 3-7.

A horse's head, with map of the State of Texas on forehead, was the unique feature of Johnson's drawing.

Miss Conger's sketch featured a rodeo contestant riding a bucking bronco, with symbols of Midland's industrial greatness appearing in the background.

Fifteen persons, all under 19 years of age, submitted entries in the contest, Velvin said. He congratulated the winners and thanked all those who entered the contest.

Velvin also reminded Midland youths of the Tuesday deadline in the Midland Rodeo Theme Contest and urged that contestants leave their themes at the Chamber of Commerce as soon as possible. Prizes of $35 and $20 are also offered the first and second place winners.

The Optimist Club also is sponsoring Rodeo Photograph and Rodeo Cartoon contests.

FBI Seeks Culprits After Chicago Blast Kills Eight-Year-Old

CHICAGO (AP)—An eight-year-old boy was killed Tuesday night by an explosion-hurled steel fragment and the FBI joined the search for a soldier three teenage boys said supplied them with the explosive.

The victim, Edward J. Voytas, was struck by a piece of steel fence post while walking with his father, Joseph, 34, past Parker High School on the South Side. The father was stunned, but not otherwise injured.

Police Lt. Chris Nielsen said William Barnabee, 17, admitted detonating the demolition charge of pliable, waxy substance on a steel post in the school yard.

Nielsen quoted Barnabee, Andy Kohler, 16, and John Spanos, 16, that they obtained the substance from Miffilin Schaf, a soldier they said is now enroute back to Fort Belvoir, Va.

Barnabee, Kohler and Spanos and two other boys police said were near the scene but apparently were not implicated are being held for an inquest Wednesday.

VI
It may be hard for people who did not watch, as we did, the growth of love between the two young people, to realize what a natural, unspurred affection it was.

True, Prince Philip, as a Prince of Royal blood, was one of the very small set of eligible young men who could ask the Princess's hand in marriage.

But I do not believe that if the King had a free choice of sons-in-law he would have settled on Prince Philip for that reason alone. While the young people were serving an exacting apprenticeship for marriage, they were kept on tenterhooks. Would they, or would they not, be allowed to marry?

That was the question which not only they, but all their friends and most of the world, were asking. There was never any question of their love for each other.

At that time Prince Philip was staying at Buckingham Palace. Most mornings he took breakfast with the Household. He would come in hurriedly, eat his food, and hurry out, having exchanged not more than half-a-dozen words with anybody. Of course he was a man on trial for a most exalted post, and he had much on his mind. Also he was in love.

But absorbed as he must have been with his private concerns, the natural charm of his manner won over those who at first had wondered whether he was really a suitable match for Princess Elizabeth.

There was something very engaging about his lack of formality. He liked to go to the back of the Palace, where the stables and garages are, and clean and tune up his little sport car.

The chauffeurs loved him for it, but they were always chary when he wanted to borrow one of the Royal cars and give it a "tryout on the road."

Royal cars are not used to sporting treatment. They like to roll along safely and sedately; but no one knows what would happen if they were ever given their heads.

Sometimes Princess Elizabeth would join Prince Philip at the stables. Although she had little interest in mechanical contrivances, she loved to see him lift the bonnet of his car and, with city hands, adjust the engine.

I remembered the early impression Prince Philip had made on me, overexcited young fellow, eager to see now that he and my surprise when I discovered he had been before the war, and he was

The Duke of Edinburgh was an all-around athlete, outstanding at polo, expert at cricket. Although it was said he was more noted as a high jumper than as a scholar before his days at Naval College, he served with wartime distinction as a lieutenant in the Royal Navy and a superior officer said, "He'll end up an admiral, like his uncle."

At first I thought him a noisy, very young, I see now that he was a very wrong I had been before the war, and he was

At first I thought him a noisy, very young, I see now that he was a very wrong I had been before the war, and he was on the scene again during the war—always in naval uniform—something of that first impression still lingered.

But soon, as he was seen more and more at the Palace, I found that he had grown up delightfully, with charming manners and a wide interest in important matters not always closely studied by a young naval officer.

But toward the end of the war and later, when rumors of the forthcoming engagement were rife and Prince Philip was seen more often at the Palace, he was discussed by members of the Household.

This, after all, was natural. People who have spent their lives in the services of the King and Court may be expected to be passionately interested in the future husband of the King's daughter.

But they knew little more of what was really happening than the people in the street had gathered from gossip based on newspaper hints.

I REMEMBER one night at dinner a crusty old gentleman asked the company at table, "Who is this young fellow? What does anybody know about him?"

No one could say much about him from hard knowledge, but there was a good deal of the same sort of gossip that was bandied about wherever people met.

Was it true that he was rather high-spirited? Inclined to resent discipline?

"That certainly isn't so," I said. Later I was glad to have my opinion confirmed by a senior naval officer who dined one night with the Household.

He told us, when the conversation turned that way, that the Navy had a high regard for young Philip.

"He is a natural seaman," was the way he put it. "He does his job quickly and efficiently. And he is popular, both in the wardroom and below decks. I'd say he'll end up an admiral, like his uncle."

He meant Lord Louis Mountbatten, of course, one of the finest officers the Navy has ever had.

Lord Louis brought Prince Philip up when his parents decided that they wished him to have the benefit of a British schooling. It must have been from him that Prince Philip caught his love of the sea and ships.

Solons Vote Higher Welfare Ceiling, Aid For Afflicted

AUSTIN —(AP)— Help for the old folks and the handicapped was a step nearer final legislative action Wednesday.

Both House and Senate stayed for afternoon sessions Tuesday to pass proposed constitutional amendments.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a proposal to increase the state ceiling on welfare grants from $35,000,000 to $42,000,000 a year.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a proposal to grant state aid to persons over 18 who are unable to make a living because of mental or physical handicaps.

Efforts to bring old age pensioners' home under a state mortgage ran into strong Senate opposition. Senator Gus Strauss, Hallettsville, and Senator Brady Hazlewood, Amarillo, who proposed the property liens, called them efforts to get the "chiselers" off the pension rolls.

Votes of 17-10 and 18-10 beat down the proposals.

A voice vote adopted a proposal by Senator Dorsey B. Hardeman, San Angelo, to permit the legislature to pass laws to make the pension rolls public.

A decisive 26-2 vote gave final Senate approval to the proposed constitutional amendment. It must be approved at the polls to become effective Senator Doyle Willis, Fort Worth, is the author.

Carries Ceiling
The amendment to extend state aid to the handicapped carries a ceiling of one and one-half million dollars a year. Individual grants by the state would be limited to a maximum of $20 monthly to be matched by the federal government two for one.

Rep. A. D. Downer, Center, author of the measure, estimated 10,000 to 11,000 persons in Texas would benefit from it. House approval was 111-17.

Senate committee study was set Wednesday on the House-passed bill to revise the state's two-year-old election code. Among the proposed changes are the abolishing of cross-filing of candidates by more than one political party and the holding of primary elections 60 days earlier than at present.

The Senate's Committee on Privileges and Election will hear the bill at 2:30 p.m. If the Senate is not in session. Otherwise it will be at 7:30 p.m.

House Asks Doctor Draft Be Extended

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The House has voted that the doctor draft should continue two years to provide the 12,259 physicians and dentists the armed forces say they need in that period.

The bill was passed and sent to the Senate Tuesday. It would exempt from the draft physicians, dentists and veterinarians with 21 months active duty since Sept. 16, 1940. Those with 12 months service in that time would be subject to 17 months service. Others would be liable for 24 months.

However, the bill would liberalize the rules for counting some kinds of military service.

Pilotless Plane Hits Carrier, Kills Three

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A pilotless target airplane, out of control after being hit by anti-aircraft fire, smashed into the aircraft carrier Wright, killing three men and seriously injuring four.

The accident, which occurred Monday 300 miles off Key West, Fla., was disclosed by the Navy late Tuesday.

Only minor damage was done to the ship.

THE MIDLAND REPORTER-TELEGRAM, WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1953-5

Blast Brings Loss Of Two Airmen, Secret Rocket Ship

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. —(AP)— An explosion forced the crew of a mothering bomber to jettison a highly secret rocket plane Tuesday night, and two airmen fell from 30,000 feet over Lake Ontario.

The chief test pilot of the Bell Aircraft Corporation and another crewman were feared lost. The B-50 bomber was carrying the experimental Bell X-2, reported capable of flying at speeds well over 1,000 miles an hour.

A widespread search was on Wednesday for the two men, but scant hope was held that they survived.

It was reported that the parachute of the test pilot, Jean L. (Skip) Ziegler, 32, did not open.

The other crewman, whom the aircraft firm declined to identify except to say he was a Bell employee, reportedly parachuted from the bomber.

A Bell spokesman said no one was in the X-2 when it was dropped into the lake about 15 miles from Rochester.

It was indicated that both men dropped out of the four-engine mother plane which was damaged but landed safely here.

The spokesman said the explosion was aboard the mother ship. But he explained that the X-2 was damaged and that the complicated mechanisms of carrying a "parasite" plane made it difficult to be certain that the X-2 itself did not explode.

He said the firm had been unable to determine the cause of the explosion.

Four animals are known as "go-phers" in various parts of the United States: the chipmunk, pocket gopher, tortoise and ground squirrel.

Great Array Of Talent Set For Midland Rodeo

The greatest array of novelty and specialty acts ever presented at a West Texas rodeo has been

MIDLAND RODEO ACT—Skill and daring are combined with precision timing by Byron Hendricks as he rides Roman style through intricate maneuvers. A jump through a hoop; a leap into the air landing backwards on the backs of the running horses, and a daring jump over the hurdles feature the heralded specialty act, which will be seen at each performance of the 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo, June 3-7.

Safest Driver Says Lights Chase Off Fender-Benders

CHATTANOOGA, TENN.—(AP)—A traveling salesman who hasn't dented a fender in 20 years has his own highway recipe for avoiding accidents—flip on your lights in the daytime.

C. Pinky Layton, manufacturer's representative from Charlotte, N. C., explains it this way.

"The primary cause of accidents is not speed or carelessness. The No. 1 reason is a separation of the mind and vision. Lights remedy this situation by snapping people back to alertness."

"When people climb into their automobiles," the much-traveled Layton says, "they leave about 90 per cent of themselves somewhere else and try to drive with the one per cent they have left."

"They look where they are going, okay—but their minds are back in the kitchen, on the golf course, with a girl friend or planning a party. It's no wonder they have accidents."

To illustrate, Layton asks: "How many times have you, been scolded by friends because you looked straight at them on the street and didn't speak?"

Most always you say, "Why, I didn't see you," but the "truth of the matter is that you did see the friend with your eyes, but your vision and eyes were disconnected."

The same principle holds true in driving. Layton says and he claims blinking car lights—day and night—snaps a dreaming driver back to his traffic senses.

Envoy Tells Adlai He Only Required Votes Of Indians

NEW DELHI, INDIA.—(AP)—U. S. Ambassador George V. Allen told former Democratic Party presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson Wednesday that "if the 360 million Indians had been able to vote in our last election, there wouldn't have been any doubt of the outcome."

"Sir, you're in solid Democratic territory," added Allen, an appointee of Republican President Eisenhower, at a reception on the embassy lawn for Stevenson.

Some 500 embassy officials, employees and their families turned out to meet Stevenson, who is making an extensive tour of the Far East. "The ambassador's remarks have confirmed the impression that I should have run for office here," Stevenson quipped, "but I am loath to report that nobody in India suggested that."

Earlier Wednesday, Stevenson laid a wreath on the site of the cremation of Mohandas K. Gandhi.

BUSINESS VISITORS

Mrs. T. L. Huddleston and Mrs. Bob Garuth of Odessa attended to business in Midland Tuesday.

VISITS SISTER

Mrs. Kirby Little of Amarillo is a guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Murphy and family.

TO AUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Myers and children, Donna Kay and Herbert, left Tuesday for Austin, where they will visit the remainder of the week.

ident of Midland Fair, Inc., announced Wednesday.

The Hendricks family, direct from Hollywood, Calif., will be the headline act of the big area attraction. Members of the famous family will be seen in the comedy role of hillbillies, with two white mules and a Ford of ancient vintage, and as trick and fancy riders in two of the most thrilling and exciting acts ever presented in a rodeo arena.

Byron Hendricks also will be seen nightly in a special act with "Hero," the movie dog, who has been taught to attack an intruder in a realistic appearing manner—without harm to the man.

Bull-Fighting Clowns

Another act with not one but two bull-fighting clowns will be seen at each performance of the Midland Rodeo. The clowns, George Mills of Telford, S. D., and Billy Keen of Sandpoint, Idaho, will use a new Bull Machine, a barrel on wheels, as added entertainment in the thrilling Brahman bull riding event. It is one of the most daring acts ever seen at any rodeo—and completely new in this section of West Texas.

Flynt said other novelty acts will be presented in the arena each night of the big show. He said rodeo officials this year have gone all out in attempting to provide the best entertainment possible in addition to the usual rough, tough, and thrilling rodeo events.

Rodeo performances are scheduled at 8 p.m., June 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 at Fair Park on East Highway 80. Tickets, both reserved seat and general, will go on sale soon at a booth in the lobby of Hotel Scharbauer.

MASSENA, N. Y.—(AP)—"You're fined $10.10 for speeding," Police Justice Robert La Plante told the Canadian motorist.

"What's the extra 10 cents for?" Alexander Smart of Cornwall, Ontario, wanted to know.

"Discount on Canadian currency," replied La Plante.

OX CART TRAVELS SLOWLY—

Don't Try To Hitchhike Across India, GI Warns

NEW DELHI.—(AP)—An ex-GI thumbing his way back home from Korea has advice for globetrotters—don't try to hitchhike across India.

"Everybody picks you up, but how fast can you travel on ox carts," asks ex-Cpl. Lee Gotzlinger, 24, of Youngstown, Ohio.

"You stand for six hours along a road 10 feet wide, with monkeys for company, but not even any cows to ride. You get tired of bananas, oranges and sugarcane juice."

Gotzlinger, in an interview, said he and ex-Pvt. Alfred Evans of Beechhurst, N. Y., got special permission from Gen. Mark Clark to return to the U. S. the long way. They hopped a freighter at Kobe, Japan, February 28, and reached Calcutta a month later after one free air passage and two cut-rate hops.

They separated in Calcutta.

Evans sped through Delhi weeks ahead of Gotzlinger, who looked over Calcutta and the holy city of Benares among other Indian centers, enroute to the capital.

Visions Of Maharajahs
Gotzlinger, who left Japan with $830 in his pocket and had $620 when he reached Delhi, said a battered map of India showing the "Grand Trunk Highway" from Calcutta all the way to mountainous Kashmir led him astray.

He had visions of "maharajahs riding along by the dozen to Kashmir." He came down to earth when he got off a bus on the outskirts of Calcutta and found the beginning of the Grand Trunk only a lane filled with cattle.

He finally wangled a ride with a police car escorting the prime minister of West Bengal state on an inspection tour. That took him to a village where he spent his first night on a straw cot, "just like the Army."

Plenty Of Turtles

Hitchhiking and sightseeing from Calcutta to Delhi, Gotzlinger resorted to trains and buses twice. The first time came when he discovered the Grand Trunk stopped dead at a river bank.

At the famed Taj Mahal, at Agra, he went to the edge of the Jumna River behind the marble monument to see if turtles really fed on dead human bodies "as it says in 'Lives of the Bengal Lancers.'"

"There were turtles, but no corpses," he reported.

After a week in Delhi, Gotzlinger started off westward in pursuit of Evans, via the Middle East and Europe. In Vienna he will visit his birthplace. He is a naturalized U. S. citizen.

Gotzlinger plans to be back in the United States by August to enroll at the Ohio State University Law School.

BACK FROM VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Butler Hurley returned late Tuesday from Sulphur Springs, where they visited his parents.

CAPTIVES REMEMBERED
—In memory of German prisoners of war still held by Russia, this stamp will be issued by West Germany. The 10-pfennig stamp is printed in light gray on white, and was designed by Prof. Karlheinz Walter of Stuttgart.

Two Red Prisoners Die On Koje Island

PUSAN, KOREA.—(AP)—The United Nations Prison of War Command Wednesday reported one Communist prisoner was strangled and another drowned in camps on Koje Island off Southern Korea.

The command said the prisoner who died of strangulation May 9 was "an apparent victim of murder" by fellow POWs.

Three days later the body of another prisoner was found in a well, but officials said it was not known whether the death was "accidental, murder or suicide."

SHOCKED—Rescue workers found this unidentified man, apparently suffering from shock, sitting amidst the wreckage of his home, top, blown apart by the raging tornado which roared through San Angelo. Nine persons died and more than 100 were hurt. Following the tornado, flood conditions, bottom, prevailed in the disaster-ridden city. Right, two small boys find a temporary high spot as water completely covers the street.

Truman Asks Nation To Back Eisenhower's Foreign Policy

JEFFERSON CITY, MO.—(AP)—told a joint session of the Missouri State Legislature Tuesday: "I sincerely hope and pray that all of us will get behind the President of the United States and back him up in the foreign policy of the United States so that we may keep the peace in the world, for its welfare and for the welfare of future generations."

The 69-year-old former President, who did not mention Eisenhower by name, said the foreign policy is not a partisan job.

In addition to the legislators, an estimated 1,500 to 2,000 persons jammed the House of Representatives chambers in the State Capitol to hear Truman's 20-minute talk.

In a reminiscent mood, he also dwelled on the responsibilities of the President.

"Now there's a lot of conversation about the powers of the President of the United States," he said. "Do you know what the powers of the President are?"

Public Relations Man
"He's the greatest public relations man in the United States, and he spends 75 per cent of his time persuading people, not ordering them, persuading people to do what they ought to do without being persuaded. That's the job of the President of the United States, and it's an all-time job. I put in 17 hours a day and then I couldn't get it all done."

In his talk the ex-President promised to continue working for the Democratic Party.

"I've had some of the most terrific political battles of any man alive. And I'm not through yet," he said.

"From precinct to President in the United States of America is a long road and a rocky one, but I want to tell you that I've enjoyed it."

"I've never borne a grudge and I've never forgotten a favor. Bear that in mind, you Democrats—never bear a grudge, always be nice to your Republican friends because you may get them to vote the Democratic ticket some day."

U. S. Lags Behind In Cold War By TV

NEW YORK.—(AP)—A Voice of America executive says the State Department has been hampering television as a propaganda weapon against communism.

An independent radio engineer adds that unless the U. S. government moves quickly to expand its lead in video it will find itself behind Communist countries in the use of TV in the cold war.

The subject of television and propaganda came up Tuesday during the second of three days of public hearings here by a U. S. Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee, which has been investigating the State Department information program.

Richard W. Hubbell, TV director of the Voice, told the senators that "to put it very bluntly, the State Department has been paying lip service to the idea of international television while doing virtually nothing about it."

He said this means "we have been missing opportunities in a number of countries," and added:

"Our television activities have been confined to the most limited things, given a very low priority and blocked at every turn. Virtually all the worthwhile things have been done despite opposition, without clear-cut authority and certainly without encouragement."

The Voice is part of the State Department.

Soviet Russia Building
Hubbell suggested a $350,000-a-year budget for Voice TV, saying this amount would enable it to service the world.

Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), subcommittee chairman, told the witness: "I wonder if you're not a bit optimistic about a worldwide service on a $350,000 budget." William S. Halstead, president of United, Inc., a private telecommunications-engineering firm, also testified. Both Halstead and Hubbell said the U. S. was losing ground in the international TV field.

Hubbell said Soviet Russia is building a TV transmitter in East Germany to blanket almost all Germany and parts of five adjacent nations. Halstead said Russia and her satellites are rushing completion of microwave transmitters linking Europe and Asia.

Godfrey Examined By Surgeons, Faces Operation On Hip

BOSTON.—(AP)—Doctors at Massachusetts General Hospital Wednesday began a series of tests on radio-television star Arthur Godfrey in preparation for surgery to correct hip defects.

He was admitted into his freshly redecorated two-room suite at the hospital Tuesday after he arrived in his own two-engine plane at the Logan Airport.

He landed his big private plane twice in order to avoid the throng, including newsmen and photographers.

The first time, he took one look at the crowd approaching his plane, gunned the motors, swung the plane around and took off. The sudden take off scattered the approaching throng.

He landed again after the crowd dispersed and he left for the hospital in an automobile.

No date has been set for the surgery, which doctors said would correct hip injuries suffered in an auto crash in 1931 and which have been troubling him since.

Prospective U. S. Attorneys Briefed

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Prospective new U. S. district attorneys were in Washington Wednesday for the indoctrination course which Attorney General Brownell has promised all such appointees are going to get.

It was apparent from their presence that a further turnover in the 94 prosecuting field offices is in imminent prospect.

The identities of the visiting appointees-to-be is a closely guarded secret.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

Shut-in bottom hole pressure, after 30 minutes, was 5,390 pounds.

Taking Electric Logs

Operators are now taking electric logs. After these surveys have been studied it will be decided whether to drill on to the Ellenburger or to set casing and try to make a well from the Strawn-Pennsylvanian.

That zone showed possibilities of producing when it was drilled. Those shows were between 10,962 feet and 11,060 feet. That zone did not log any water.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of section 16, block 3, 34 survey. The wildcat is four miles west of the discovery well of the Magutex field which has production in both the Devonian and in the Ellenburger.

Sinclair Completes Oiler, Strakes Site In Schleicher Pool

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company has reported potential test for a Pennsylvanian producer in the south side of the Huldale field of North-Central Schleicher County, and new location for another project.

The new oiler is Sinclair No. 4 McClatchey Estate, completed for a daily flow of 566 barrels of 41-gravity oil through open two-inch tubing and perforations in casing at 5,646-5,662 feet.

Gas-oil ratio was 698-1 and tubing pressure 75 pounds. Casing pressure was 200 pounds.

Location is 467 feet from west and 1,100 feet from north lines of section 43, block M, OH&SA survey.

The new project is Sinclair No. 6 McClatchey Estate, 2,567 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 42, block M, OH&SA survey and nine miles northeast of Eldorado.

It is to go to 5,800 feet, starting at once.

NE Lea Explorer Develops Shows Of Oil On Lime DST

R. Olsen Oil Company No. 1 Lea Carter, wildcat in Northeast Lea County, New Mexico, found shows of oil on a drillstem test of the Giorletta lime.

The project was tested from 5,698 to 5,774 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 90 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut drilling mud. Shut-in pressure after 15 minutes was 525 pounds.

More hole was being made below 5,400 feet in line.

An earlier drillstem test, from 3,200 to 3,400 feet, developed 70 feet of slightly gas-cut mud.

Location is four miles northeast of the Brunson field and nine miles northeast of the town of Eunice and in section 23-20-36e.

S-C Tom Green Test Plugged, Abandoned

Republic Natural Gas Company No. 1 J. Willis Johnson, South-Central Tom Green County wildcat, seven miles east of Christoval, has been abandoned and plugged at total depth of 6,270 feet in barren Ellenburger.

It found no shows of possible production in any zone it penetrated.

Location was 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 34, block 25, H&TC survey. It was six miles southwest of the Susan Peak field.

Top of the Ellenburger is at 5,758 feet. Elevation has not been reported.

Two Yoakum Tests Plugged, Abandoned

Two Yoakum County wildcats have been plugged and abandoned.

Hunt Oil Company No. 1 Graham, prospector in Northeast Yoakum County, was quit at total depth of 5,445 feet in the San And.

Operator took a drillstem test in that formation from 5,383 feet to 5,445 feet. Tool was open two hours. Recovery was 300 feet of salt water plus a little gas cut mud in the bottom.

Location was 660 feet from south and east lines of southeast quarter of section 318, block D, J. H. Gibson survey and eight miles northeast of Plains.

Four miles south of the Prentice pool in Central-East Yoakum County, Joseph I. O'Neill, Jr., and others of Midland have plugged and abandoned No. 1 Mary F. Lackey at total depth of 8,260 feet.

It was 660 feet from north and east lines of section 601, block D, J. H. Gibson survey and four and one-half miles southwest of Tokio.

NE Andrews Test Drilling Devonian

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-TT Texas University, northeast outcrop to the Andrews, Northeast (Devonian) field of Northeast Andrews County, is drilling below 12,928 feet in the Devonian.

That formation was topped at 12,718 feet on a minus datum point of 9,885 feet.

Operator took a three-hour drillstem test from 12,728 to 12,768 feet. Recovery was 4,300-foot water blanket, 220 feet of mud cut salty sulphur water and 8,000 feet of sulphur water.

Location is 660 feet from north and 667 feet from east lines of section 41, block 5, University survey and 14 miles northeast of the town of Andrews.

Notaries Public Reminded To Note Commission Dates

Midland notaries public are wasting stamp money by sending in their new notary bonds before June 1.

"We have received notary bonds from a great number of notaries whose commissions expire June 1," said County Clerk Roselle Cherry Wednesday.

"And all we can do is send them back."

"In the first place, we can't accept them until June 1 and, in addition, most of them are not filled out properly."

Mrs. Cherry explained that the bonds can be mailed in after June 1 but it is better to bring them in person, to be sure that everything is filled out properly.

Notices of commission expirations will be mailed out between May 23 and June 1, she said.

Proposal Advanced To Save Pisa Tower

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Leaning Tower of Pisa, one of the wonders of the world, has been tilting more and more for the past 600 years but Charles B. Spencer, one of this country's top foundation engineers, has devised a technique to arrest the increasing lean.

In an article appearing in Engineering News-Record, that with a little help from man, the tower could last another thousand years.

Italian engineers have estimated that the world-famous landmark will collapse in about 200 years unless remedial measures are taken.

The tower is now more than 14 feet out of plumb.

The tower leans because the center of the consolidated soil, or sub-foundation, deviates slightly from the center of gravity of the tower.

The most practical method, according to Spencer, would be to take away some of the material foundation on the high side of the tower.

Any settlement on the high side, resulting from the procedure, would help to improve the situation.

Humble Is To Plug Back For Tests In NE Terrell Sector

Humble Oil & Refining Company has given up attempts to recover fish lost on total depth of 12,303 feet in No. 1 N. D. Blackstone, wildcat in Northeast Terrell County, and was preparing to plug back and test shows above 3,750 feet.

Drillstem test from 3,675 to 3,702 feet developed gas shows, as did a test from 3,702 to 3,727 feet.

Location for the wildcat is 1,980 feet from south and 3,200 feet from east lines of section 48, block B-2, OCB&RONG survey.

The project is bottomed at 7,370 feet in dry Mississippian lime. Top of the Mississippian was called at 7,370 feet. Elevation is 2,179 feet.

The Pennsylvanian reef lime had only slight shows of oil and gas. That zone also made salt water.

The hole will be plugged.

Location was 660 feet from north and east lines of section 57, block G, W&NW survey. It was eight miles west and slightly north of Claiborne.

The nearest production to the failure is three miles to the south of the Spire (Strawn) field. The No. 1 Davis was four and one-half miles south of the Salt Creek (Canyon) field.

Hike In Corporation Tax Rates Reported Under Consideration

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A six-point increase in normal corporation taxes was reported under consideration by the Treasury Wednesday as a possible alternative to the expiring excess profits tax.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey talked with Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate's tax-handling Finance Committee for what may be a preview of the Administration's new tax program.

Humphrey has said he will lay it before Congress next Tuesday.

In advance of this meeting, another influential senator who asked not to be quoted by name said Treasury studies have indicated it would be necessary to raise the limit on regular corporation levies from the present 52 per cent to 58 per cent to equal the revenue from the excess profits tax.

The latter tax will expire July 1 unless Congress acts before that time to prolong it.

Its expiration and a 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes scheduled January 1 would make it more difficult for the Eisenhower Administration to balance the budget, a goal it now apparently has put off.

Harrison Offers Red's UN's New 11-Point Prisoner Plan

PANMUNJOM—(AP)—The UN Command Wednesday handed the Communists a new blueprint for an armistice in Korea, it was a sweeping 11-point plan for exchanging prisoners of war, last big roadblock to a truce.

The Allies would free 34,000 North Koreans who refuse to go home and—on certain conditions—give temporary custody of 14,500 belligerent Chinese to a five-nation commission made up of Sweden, Switzerland, Poland, Czechoslovakia and India.

The Communists called the proposal a "step backward" and said the Allies attitude "threatens the prospect of the whole armistice negotiations."

Principle Maintained

The broad plan—a counterproposal to one advanced by the Communists—is based on the long-standing Allied position that no prisoner will be sent home against his will.

After the lengthy document was read and the Communists commented acidly, the truce delegations adjourned until 11 a.m. Thursday.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior Allied delegate, presented the plan to his Communist counterpart, North Korean Gen. Nam Il in a one hour and 40-minute session.

Role Of India

Briefly, the Allies proposed:

1. Repatriation of prisoners immediately after an armistice, except those refusing to go home. Releasing to civilian status all prisoners of Korean nationality unwilling to return to Red rule. Releasing all non-Korean prisoners who persist in refusing to return to Communist control after 60 days in custody of a neutral commission.

2. Conditional acceptance of the Communist nomination of India, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland as members of the custodial commission—but only if India heads the body and provides any troops needed.

3. Rejection of the Red's proposal that a political conference determine the fate of prisoners refusing to go home after being in neutral custody.

60 Day Limit

The Allied counterproposal rules out the postarmistice political conference as a final cut to decide the fate of prisoners, sets a 60-day time limit during which prisoners may be given "explanations" and spells out the function of the five-nation repatriation commission.

Speaking of turning prisoners who refuse repatriation over to the neutral nations commission, Harrison said:

"The United Nations Command accepts this point for non-Korean prisoners of war. Prisoners of Korean nationality who have elected not to avail themselves of the right to be repatriated should be released to civilian status on the date the armistice becomes effective."

Freedom At Front

He said any Korean who subsequently desired to be repatriated would be free to do so and would be given "all assistance in so returning."

"Your side followed this procedure throughout the course of the Korean War," Harrison said, referring to Communist arguments that many prisoners they captured early in the war were freed at the front.

"The United Nations Command accedes to the viewpoint of your side that explanations be made to the prisoners provided it is clearly understood that the prisoner is not to be subjected to force or coercion of any kind to prevent or to effect his repatriation."

Board Of Education Accepts Furniture, Equipment Estimates

Furniture and equipment for the new William B. Travis Elementary School and the South Side Elementary School were purchased Tuesday night by the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District on bids totaling $57,587.52.

The board also studied the division between the two schools with final arrangements to be announced later.

In connection with future development of the system, plat of an eight-acre site in Southeast Midland underwent examination by the board. Action was held up on the proposed subdivision of the area in the Moore Addition.

The board, in looking to the future, received the suggested plan for development from a special committee headed by Principal C. B. Downing of Sam Houston Elementary School.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Lucy Maaburn, Inez Parker, Glenn Allison, Wilson Blunt, Don Mitchell and Supt. Frank Monroe.

Japs Think Story Of U. S. Bombing Incident Untrue

TOKYO—(AP)—The Japanese Foreign Office said Wednesday it is "90 per cent sure" witnesses who reported a ship exploded off Northern Japan Tuesday were mistaken.

Spokesman Yuzo Izeki said the Foreign Office came to that conclusion after receiving a brief memorandum from the U. S. Air Force which reported:

Search planes had been unable to find any wreckage or evidence a Japanese ship was bombed and sunk by an American military plane.

Villagers told police they saw a 3,000-ton ship sink after a plane dropped bombs. The U. S. Air Force said four American Thunderjets on a training mission jettisoned their bombs in the general area—a restricted ocean bombing range 38 miles southeast of Misawa air base.

Commandos Move As British Face Showdown With Egypt

LONDON—(AP)—Three landing craft loaded with British Royal Marine Commandos sailed under secret orders from the Mediterranean fortress island of Malta Tuesday night as the tense British-Egyptian dispute over the vital Suez Canal zone worsened.

There was no official announcement of the tough fighters' destination but speculation immediately arose that they would reinforce Britain's Suez garrison. Egypt's Premier, Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib, has threatened to oust British forces from the zone with Egyptian blood if necessary.

The British Admiralty reported the 8,000-ton light cruiser Bermuda is now at Port Said, in the canal zone, but declined to comment on unofficial reports that four Royal Navy destroyers—Chieftain, Cheviot, Chequers and Chervon—had been rushed to the area.

30 Attacks Cited

His announcement came shortly after Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd told the House of Commons that British soldiers in Egypt have been "ambushed, shot and assaulted" in some 30 attacks since the beginning of April.

Declaring that many of the attacks apparently were carried out with "at least the connivance" of members of the Egyptian armed forces, Lloyd added that "our soldiers have no option but to defend themselves."

'Normal Responsibility'

A British Army spokesman in Cairo commented that it was the "normal responsibility of commanders to ensure at all times the security of troops and installations."

British-Egyptian talks over Egypt's demand for the withdrawal of the 80,000 British troops in the canal zone came to a halt last Wednesday when London's negotiators demanded that some 5,000 British technicians remain to keep the vast military installations in readiness.

The Egyptians refused, maintaining they could do the job themselves.

Jel Bombers Smash Red Supply Center

SEoul—(AP)—Almost 200 Sabre jets and Thunderjet fighter-bombers roared deep into Northwest Korea Wednesday and smashed a Communist troop and supply center near Sinanju on the Yellow Sea.

Earlier, Sabres destroyed two MIG's and damaged a third in aerial battles over North Korea.

Fighter-bombers dove bombed the troop center only 60 miles from a big Red MIG-15 base at Antung, Manchuria. None of the Russian-made jets came out to fight.

In a morning raid, Sabre dive bombers blasted Red troops concentrations north of the Western and Central Fronts and slammed explosives at an earth dam below Sukchon on the West Coast.

One of the MIG kills was credited to Capt. Joseph McConnell of Apple Valley, Calif., second-ranking jet ace in Korea. It was McConnell's eleventh MIG.

Texas, which boasts the biggest and the best in everything except track, may soon be bragging about its cinder tracks. No more authentic evidence is required than the 22 conference records, four state records and two national marks which were broken in the state high school track meet at Austin Friday and Saturday. Never before in the 43-year-old history of the event had so many records fallen. Historians, experts say, will be talking about this meet for many years to come.

We're not so certain. There is plenty of evidence to the contrary. In recent years, more and more schools have begun to concentrate on the running sport. More and more people are becoming track fans. Interest in general is higher than ever before, and it is even drifting down to the junior high schools and elementary schools.

We can recall 15 years or so ago when a junior high track meet was staged in the streets in Galveston. There were no field events except the broad jump and high jump. There wasn't a single parent present except for those that were picking up their children from school and happened to glance down the street. This was a common scene elsewhere over the state. Few, if any, junior high or elementary meets were any different in any other town.

Today, the junior high track meets are well attended. They attract hundreds of spectators, parents and otherwise. Elementary track meets, too, are becoming popular. And they are being run off in the stadiums where the high school meets are held. No streets and bare feet for the modern day youngster.

Yes, track is beginning to take a firm hold in Texas. The Conference AA and B schools will be able to concentrate even more on the Spring sport now that Spring training in football has been outlawed for them. We don't think it will be too long before Texas is joining California as one of the track capitals of the United States.

J. Frank Daugherty of Olgin probably is the most heralded sprint star since Charley Parker. Even Joe Childress Peugh, the Odessa flash, can't match the publicity Daugherty has had in such a short time. The reason, of course, is that Daugherty came along fast—in one season—while Childress had several years to obtain the raves of the sports writers.

Although Daugherty was given the best chance of breaking records in the 100 and 220 at the state meet, several writers arrived in Austin still disbelievers. Just before Daugherty was to run the 220, George Raborn of the Waco News-Tribune offered to bet he would run at least a 21.0. This writer backed him up. There was a taker. Daugherty then dashed off his 20.5—one-tenth of a second faster than the national high school record set by Parker in 1943. His record won't be recognized, however, since the wind gauge registered six-seven mph. The maximum wind allowance for a record to be accepted is 4.4 mph.

OFF THE CUFF—Did you know that it's a national Pony League regulation that batters wear protective head gear? University of Texas coaches were surprised to learn that Roy Kinney of Midland High School was going to go to school there. It was brought to their attention when Roy registered at a dormitory for the Fall semester.

There are some athletes with a sense of obligation and fair play. Paul Mohr, Texas first baseman who hit two homers against Rice Thursday, went into the Longhorn camp on a basketball scholarship. When he failed to make the grade, he went to Coaches Blue Hull and Marshall Hughes and asked that he be taken off a scholarship because he hadn't earned it. He then tackled baseball and played a full year before being granted a baseball scholarship. One in 10,000.

Bill Whitmore, Rice Institute athletic publicity man, has the fine art of imitation down perfectly. Among his most recent is Dizzy Dean. Others are Kern Tips, Humble Oil football announcer; Mayor Oscar Holcomb of Houston and Dana X. Bible of the University of Texas.

When new fences are built, Dr. Rhea Williams, Interscholastic League athletic director, will straddle them. He says that one of the major reasons two relay teams for each region can't be brought to Austin for the state meet is the expense involved. The rebates the league pays to schools would be smaller than ever. What a laugh. One of the state's high school athletic directors said that his schools received $40 in rebates for basketball and track last year. That hardly would pay for one athlete much less a whole team.

Women Start First Matches Thursday In MCC Tourney

The Midland Country Club started its annual Women's Invitational with qualifying Wednesday morning to decide who's the medalist queen of West Texas' kingsize golf tournament.

A four-day run of matches gets underway Thursday with a flock of women all seeking to add to a collection of previously won gold plate. At the front will be Gloria Ezell who has dominated Midland Country Club golfing the last two years, winning both the Invitational and the club championships in 1952.

Nell Moody of Sherman, who arrived in time for a practice 18-hole round Tuesday, figures as top threat to Mrs. Ezell's reign. Then, too, Ida Mae Powell of San Angelo, a 1953 medalist at the San Angelo Invitational, where Mrs. Ezell won out, was slated to join the field.

From other towns, they came by twos in accepting bids. Houston players were Mrs. Andrew Brown and Kathryn Hodges, Odessans Cecil O'Neil and Vera Gilmore and Big Spring's Lois Hodges and Billie Dillon.

Those, however, were only on the books after answering the 700 written invitations from the country club women, the hostesses. The majority of guests arrived unannounced before the 3 p.m. tee-off deadline for qualifying. But whatever the role for out-of-towners—the field was expected to exceed 100—Midland itself placed a large entry. There were 45 names on the boards through Tuesday despite rugged weather. The early entries were primarily from the host club, whereas a large group from Ranchland Hill Country Club added their names with Wednesday scores.

Jo Meyer, a leading West Texas golfer and Ranchland champion, has turned in practice games over the 6,240-yard, par-76 MCC town course in anticipation of a try for the Invitational prizes.

Pat Garner, who plays at Midland Country Club while not on the traveling amateur circuit, toured the course also, but she told officials she would not compete in the tournament. Miss Garner is an entry in the May 18-23 Women's Southern at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Meanwhile, the Invitational, which has three different flight classifications, enjoyed a stronger nine-hole flight field by nine through Tuesday's qualifying. Gary Stone led the nine with a 55, one stroke off the score of Marian Aldrich from a previous round.

One novice player, Katy Walne, registered a nine-hole score of 75 as the seventh player in the division.

The rest of the 10 who played Tuesday were Billye Long 58, Virginia Tydings 59, Janice Taylor 60, Dell Ruwe and Rita Aldridge 61's, Evaline Thompson 63, Mary Lathrop 65 and Liz Turner 69.

First round matches are scheduled to begin some time around 9 a.m. Thursday, assistant Pro Jay McClure of Midland Country Club announced. He and Pro Boyd Huff are in charge of pairings. McClure said lower flight players will open the matches, teeing off in twosomes, at earlier hours, while championship duels probably will get underway sometime between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

James Rountree is the official starter of the tourney.

A full program of sidelight features accompany the tourney, a buffet lunch each of the five days between 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., a barbecue at 6:30 p.m. and a Calcutta pool at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, a driving contest at 5 p.m. Thursday, cocktail party at 6 p.m. Friday, dance at 9 p.m. Saturday and presentation of awards at 5 p.m. Sunday.

Ford Blanks Indians On One-Hitter, 7-0

By The Associated Press

Whitney Ford, a cocky New York Yankee left-hander, and Bob Buhl, a Milwaukee rookie making his first major league start, have joined the growing list of young pitchers who are out to prove that today's baseball isn't as lively as some folks claim.

Last month home runs were flying in all directions, but in the past week it's been a different story.

A week ago Bob Holloman of the St. Louis Browns tossed a no-hitter. Sunday afternoon Don Liddle of Milwaukee broke in as a starter with a two-hitter. Tuesday night, Ford blanked the Cleveland Indians on one hit—a slow rolling grounder that never got as far as third base.

And Buhl, another Braves' first-year man, mastered the New York Giants on two hits.

Ford won his game, 7-0, giving the Yankees a comfortable two-game bulge over the second-place Indians. Buhl lost his shutout in the ninth, but still triumphed easily, 6-1.

The Yankee victory was a masterpiece by Ford, back in the big leagues after a two-year Army hitch, has a phenomenal record—12 major league starts and 12 major league victories. The only time he has been beaten was in relief against Philadelphia in 1950.

"That was my best one," he said after Tuesday night's game. "I've never pitched a one-hitter before. As long as the hit had to come I'm glad it came that early. I don't know if I would have been able to stand the tension."

"Sure I knew I had a no-hitter going. I always look at the scoreboard. When Early Wynn topped that ball I just couldn't get to it. I said to myself, 'Well, there goes the no-hitter.'"

Wynn, who was opposing Ford on the mound, just got his bat on a 3 and 2 pitch in the sixth inning and dribbled it between the mound and third base. Ford charged in along with third baseman Gil McDougald. When he saw Ford couldn't make it, McDougald made a stab for the ball but couldn't find the handle. The official scorer called it a hit on the theory that Wynn would have beaten any throw McDougald could have made even if he came up with the ball.

Buhl, working in 40-degree temperatures with a brisk wind, gave up a breeze-blown Texas League single to Don Mueller in the fourth inning and a short double to Bobby Thomson at the start of the ninth.

He went on to load the bases on walks in the ninth and Thomson scored the lone New York run after an outfield fly by Daryl Spencer.

The Philadelphia Phillies took over the lead in the National League by edging the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5, after Brooklyn had lost the only daylight contest, 6-4, to the Chicago Cubs on Dee Ford's eleventh-inning home run. Pittsburgh and Cincinnati were rained out at Cincinnati after two and a half innings with the Pirates leading, 5-1.

Holloman, making his first appearance since tossing his no-hitter, couldn't come close to matching that success. He gave up two runs and lasted less than two innings at Philadelphia before he

Two Defaults Mark Action In City Race

Two teams enjoyed time off—probably because of the threatening weather—from American League softball action Tuesday night but the vacation wasn't without its price.

Both Continental and Schlumberger didn't show up at Wadley Field for games; as a consequence, Texas Company and Tide Water, their foes respectively, earned forfeit victories Friday.

It gave Texas Company a first triumph, Tide Water a fourth straight in an unbeaten season. Meanwhile, Gulf kept right alongside Tide Water in the league lead, but had to work to do it.

A pair of runs in the fifth, and last inning, on a double by Ed Hughes and a triple by Don Graham, enabled Gulf to nip Southwestern Bell, 6-5.

Winner Dave Yoes and Southwestern Bell's Cross matched five-hit pitching in the game. Yoes fanned six but was in hot water often because of four errors.

Wednesday's games match National Leaguers: Magnolia vs. Phillips, Rotary vs. Western Inspection (with both teams unbeaten to date) and Rendezvous vs. Humble.

retired with a blistered finger on his pitching hand.

Don Larsen took over for the Browns and they went on to whip the Athletics, 7-3.

Washington won its fifth in a row, 10-1, over Detroit, and Chicago won an uphill battle at Boston, 9-7, in 10 innings.

After leading twice the White Sox went ahead to stay in the tenth when Ferris Fain doubled with the bases loaded to score two runs. The victory left Chicago only nine percentage points back of second-place Cleveland.

Ned Garver, who had shown marked improvement for Detroit after losing his first three starts, was battered by the Senators for 13 hits and all of their 10 runs in less than six innings.

The Phillies and Cardinals were locked in a 1-1 tie until the ninth inning. Then the Phils exploded for five runs and the Cards came back with four on home runs by Steve Bilko and Solly Hemus.

BRENHAM —(P)—James Peters, Brenham's track and football star, is going to Texas, Rice or Southern Methodist and here's a tip to one of them—offer a scholarship to Homer Borgstedt, Peters' pal, too. Peters, who ran the 440-yard dash in 48.9 last week in the Texas Interscholastic League meet and who was an All-State football player, says he would like to go where Borgstedt, who won the 100-yard dash and is a top football player also, goes.

Webb's Lobos Begin Series With Indians

Midland and Lamesa and Harold Webb, a team of tricks in himself, collide at Indian Park in Longhorn League baseball at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday with no one positive which is the feature that'll draw an expected largest home crowd of the season.

For those who remember Webb, one-time Midland owner, he's the card—or at least so as much as his luckless Lamesans; they're on the bottom of the heap with a 5-12 record. Midland, in this first meeting, will be gunning for a win to hold it into third place in the standings.

The fourth place Indians send Don Dalley, a left-hander, onto the mound in search of their eleventh victory in 18 games. Howard Morganstern or John Miller, possibly even Webb—is the likely starting hurler for the Lobos. The clubs play their next three games here.

Bad weather, high winds and cold snapped off the third game of the Midland-Roswell series by postponement Tuesday night and set the stage for a first game with Webb's Lamesans. It also could be one of the last meetings between the two, for Webb issued an ultimatum to his fans at home that unless attendance picked up, the club would fold.

Webb told Longhorn League club owners in a meeting at Big Spring Tuesday that Lamesa will operate at least until June 1. But, he said, if attendance does not increase by that time, arrangements will be made to move the franchise.

Webb did not indicate any other locations for the club but current rumors have Hobbs, N. M., entering a bid.

Webb said it would take a season-long attendance of 50,000 to support a Class C club, far above the 370-a-night average Lamesa has been attracting.

The Lobos who play here Wednesday are almost all new hands to this circuit, including half a dozen rookies, Jimmy Ruff, Jess Buchanan, Ted Shelby, Morganstern, Eugene Wright and Bob Peck.

Remembered figures, though, are Second Baseman Kenneth Hughes, Armando Sanchez and Miller who were on the Sweetwater roll when Lamesa took over that franchise during the winter.

The unpredictable Webb, a Cleburne farmer until baseball season, interrupted a leave from the game to take over at Lamesa this year after quitting in 1961. At that time he sold out the Midland Indians to the present baseball association here.

BIG SPRING GETS FORMER INDIAN

Manny Tennes, former Midland Indian infielder, has been signed by the Big Spring Braves, it was announced this week.

Tennes, who played second base with the Indians last year, was acquired from Pampa of the West Texas-New Mexico League. He hit .363 with Midland in 62 games last year, including 15 doubles, two triples and six home runs.

Waco Awaits Fate Of Club In Big State

WACO—(P)—A decision may be made Wednesday on the fate of the Waco ball club in the Big State League. It is homeless because of the destruction of Katy Park by the tornado that struck Waco Monday.

Katy Park will not be rebuilt, said its owner, A. H. Kirskey, so the ball club must either transfer to some other city, use some other field in Waco or be broken up by its owners, the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Longview, which was in the Big State League last year but lost its franchise to Greenville this season, is seeking the club. Buster Chatham, business manager, said. Pittsburgh officials are en route to Waco to make a decision. They might send the players to other farm clubs over the country and pull out of the Big State League. That might wreck the league, which would be cut to seven members.

D. DiMaggio Quits Bosox

BOSTON —(P)—Dom DiMaggio, one of the greatest fielding center fielders of modern times, decided Tuesday to follow the example set by his more famous brother Joe and voluntarily retire after 10 seasons with the Boston Red Sox.

In a formal statement, Dom, while stressing the fact that his vision "is better than 20-20 in both eyes," with the thick spectacles he has worn during all of his career, explained that he could play at least one more season of good baseball but preferred to give up the game entirely, rather than be a hanger-on.

Several weeks before he was due at the Sarasota, Fla., training camp, Dom entered a Boston hospital for eye treatment. He was late reporting and when he did, found rookie Tom Umphlett holding down his fly-chasing berth.

House Picks Up Arguments On Senate's Tidelands Bill

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Wednesday passed and sent to the Senate a bill asserting federal control of submerged lands beyond the states' seaward boundaries.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House held another round of debate Wednesday on the Tidelands controversy, with Representative Halleck (R-Ind.) calling on the members to settle the long-argued question "once and for all."

The first two measures to be acted on during the day was a bill declaring federal control over the continental shelf out beyond the states' seaward boundaries. Passage would send it to the Senate.

In line for action immediately after the other continental shelf bill was a measure recognizing states' ownership of the lands beneath the marginal seas within their historic boundaries.

In regard to this bill, the House is expected to agree with a Senate change as compared with the way it originally passed the House weeks ago. The Senate struck out a section authorizing the secretary of Interior to develop the lands in the outer continental shelf.

The measure which the House took up before noon Wednesday grants this authority to the Interior Department head. The expected acceptance of the Senate version will send the states' ownership bill directly to the White House.

Halleck recalled that the submerged lands question had been threshed over for many years in Congress.

"Once and for all," he said, "let's decide it and have it behind us." Agrees With Rayburn

Halleck is the Republican floor leader and a supporter of both measures. He agreed with a comment by House Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas that the first bill to be taken up simply acknowledges federal control of the submerged lands out beyond the states' seaward boundaries and provides the machinery for developing the natural resources in the area.

One section provides for freeing revenues impounded since the Supreme Court ruled that the federal government, not the states, had paramount rights in the area. The portion coming from the lands within states' boundaries would go to them.

Another section provides that if the court should invalidate the establishment of state title, the coastal states still would be authorized to develop the natural resources within their boundaries.

Two Airmen Die Enroute To Help In Waco Disaster

CLEBURNE—(AP)—Two members of an Air Force heavy equipment convoy enroute to Waco to help clean up tornado debris were killed Tuesday night in the collision of their vehicle and a civilian car. The men, from Wolters Air Force Base at Mineral Wells, were Odell Francis, 37, of Alexandria, Va., and Sgt. McCoy Slaughter of Pittsburgh.

Patrolmen escorting the convoy said the two were killed and two other airmen were hurt when a car plowed into one of the vehicles five miles northwest of Cleburne. The convoy, from the 332nd Engineers Aviation Battalion, consisted of bulldozers, cranes and other heavy equipment.

Summer School Plans Approved

Plans for the eight-week summer school were approved Tuesday night by the Board of Education of the Midland Independent School District.

The session will run until July 24. Registration is scheduled at 9 a.m., May 29, at the Senior High School.

Mrs. Mary B. Philippus will be principal, assisted in teaching by Josephine Weaver.

Class will be held two hours daily for half credits with full credits requiring four hours a day.

Waco Tornado Toll—

Failure to find bodies in accessible places inside the basement left the possibility that some would be found as the remaining rubble, now reaching to the first floor level, was pulled away, piece by piece.

Search For Bodies

Searchers believe also they might find still more bodies in the pool hall. The two-story building was flattened.

The work crews walked on the second floor—at ground level.

Under it the trapped youths had been whiling away a cloudy afternoon when the twister smashed the roof in.

Another possible source of more bodies was believed to be a negro theater which had not yet been searched thoroughly.

Troops patrolled the stricken area, maintaining firm control over entrances to it with pistols, carbines, and rifles with bayonets fixed.

Under gray and soggy skies in daylight and under the circus glare of searchlights at night, the search went on: trucks hauling away debris, wreckers tugging at wedged rubble, bulldozers nudging their way into the mounds, and always men digging, watching, resting at the emergency coffee stands.

Only when the search ends will Waco know the full cost of its first tornado in history.

Shock Of Tornado Eases As San Angelo Finds Blessing In Accompanying Rains

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The tornado that killed nine persons, injured 100 and destroyed from three to five million dollars in property here Monday was accompanied by rain that has ended this area's two-year drought.

The Lakeview residential district, center of the holocaust, was struggling with rehabilitation while the curious sought to view the wreckage.

Contributions came to disaster funds. Robert Carr, an oil man, headed a disaster relief committee and made the first donation, $3,000.

More than $16,000 had been counted Tuesday night and a flood of checks were in hand Wednesday. The money will be administered through the Red Cross and Salvation Army.

Duckworth suffered a lacerated hand but quickly crawled out of the wreckage to help rescue the children, most of whom had been brought out into the hallways.

Across the street, two former Stanton men surveyed the wreckage of the home of one of them, 37-year-old Thomas Hardy, a carpenter by trade and the father of two children.

"I was working on a house across town when I saw this big cloud over here," he reported.

He and his brother, Erman H. Hardy, 45, jumped in the car and dashed across town.

"When we got here the house was gone but I was worried about my youngsters. One of them was in school and a lady was keeping the younger one for me," he continued.

"I couldn't find Karan at school so I went over to this lady's house. Nobody was there and I was scared to death. Turned out later, though, she'd taken them down into the storm cellar and no one was hurt."

A mile west of the school house—over on Hatchery Road, 74-year-old Mrs. Naomi Brashears was alone in a house, while members of her family were attending a funeral.

"I heard this roar and I jumped under the bed as quick as I could just like they always told me," he related. "That saved my life."

When the tornado had passed, she crawled slowly out from beneath six feet of splintered timbers which had been blocked off by the bed's mattress and springs.

Emil Grosshons, 63, who lived nearby, was standing with his wife in the bedroom of the house into which they had moved only a few months ago.

"Clean As A Whistle"

"I heard the roar and I grabbed my wife and she grabbed me," he said. "Then we began falling. I don't remember much after that. I saw the roof go sailing away. The walls puffed out a couple of times and then disappeared."

"When I regained consciousness, we were laying there on the bare floor, swept just as clean as a whistle. There wasn't a stick of furniture or anything in the house. Just the floor and us."

Everyone had a story but they all had one explanation.

"The Lord was good to us," they solemnly proclaimed.

As the search continued, almost a hundred state highway patrolmen, under the command of Capt. Ray Butler, patrolled the area along with San Angelo peace officers and police from other cities.

From Midland Lt. Roy Merket and Jim Morris and Patrolman Jack Fillyaw, Johnny Ray and Jack Austin assisted in maintaining order.

There were no looting reports. Only people coming back to look at what had been their homes.

looking for my son, Wilbur at school. He was all right, I heard, but I couldn't find him."

"Then I began looking for Clara Mae, my wife."

"I finally went down to the clinic. They told me she was dead on arrival."

"Funny thing. When I left the house at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, Clara Mae walked with me to the door and looked at the skies, which were beginning to clear."

"Look's like we're not going to get any storm after all," she said.

"That's the last thing she said and that's the last time I saw her alive."

Polish Communist Party Undergoes Disintegration

NEW YORK—(AP)—Official Polish Communist announcements just reaching this country tell of a steady disintegration of Poland's Communist Party and a widening purge which has netted Gen. Wacław Komar, old-time Moscow-trained Communist who once headed the regime's military intelligence.

These disclosures, as made in Nowe Drogi, official publication of the Polish Communist central committee, are reported by the National Committee for a Free Europe, sponsors of Radio Free Europe.

Franciszek Józwak-Witold, Warsaw's minister of state control and a Politburo member, made this announcement to the party control commission:

"During 1952, there were 6,963 members expelled from the party. While the number of those expelled for alien activities and hostility decreased from 55 per cent to 38 per cent, the moral disintegration of the party is on the increase. The percentage of expelled for deviation and moral disintegration has increased from 45 per cent to 62 per cent."

This refers to members expelled only for these reasons. Others likely have been thrown out for such offenses as sabotage and black marketing. Witold told the party many "alien elements" such as members of the wartime underground army, prewar professional officers and police and former government employees have infiltrated the party.

Cowden Junior High Band Performs For Midland Lions Club

A concert by the John M. Cowden Junior High School Band, under the direction of Robert Gans, featured the program at the regular meeting of the Midland Lions Club Wednesday noon in Hotel Scharbauer.

A varied program was presented by the unit, the third school band to play for the Lions Club in recent weeks. The Midland High School Band and the San Jacinto Junior High School Band had been heard previously.

The program was arranged and presented by Wesley May, and the selections were introduced by Director Gans.

Twenty-three new members were inducted into the club by C. Ed Prichard, chairman of Zone 7 of District 2-T2, Lions International.

State Appropriates Pay For Guardsmen

AUSTIN—(AP)—A state appropriation of $25,000 to pay National Guardsmen working in Waco and San Angelo was approved Wednesday and sent to the governor.

The House passed the bill without a dissenting vote. The Senate passed it Tuesday. It lacks only the governor's signature.

Accidental Shot Kills Houston Youth

HOUSTON—(AP)—James Young, 17, died Tuesday night, seven hours after being shot in the head with a 22 rifle while playing with a friend.

"He was my best friend," sobbed Russell Fann, 14, in whose home the shooting occurred.

Fann said the rifle fired when he picked it up to put it away.

HIS CLOUD HAS SILVER LINING

DALLAS—(AP)—Police found and returned to W. F. Stewart the car that had been stolen from him Monday night.

Stewart opened the rear trunk compartment where imported lingerie and linens he valued at $100-000 were stored when the car disappeared.

These had not been disturbed.

Midland, Abilene Help

Midland and Abilene have sent police to help with patrol work, but no looting was reported.

From 40 to 50 insurance adjusters will move into the area in a day or two.

The water situation has been solved for at least six months by Lake Nasworthy's storage facilities, full and running over.

North Concho Lake, virtually empty since the dam was finished two years ago, contained 8,447 acre feet of water Wednesday.

The tornado death toll might rise above nine. Hospital attendants said three of the injured were in critical condition.

Sealy Urges UT Faculty Show Lawmakers Respect

AUSTIN—(AP)—A healthy respect for the Legislature, a ban on Communists and caution against "unbridled controversy" were principles laid down for the University of Texas Tuesday by Board of Regents Chairman Tom Sealy of Midland.

"No Communist will be tolerated here," Sealy told a faculty meeting. He said it would be incomprehensible for a state university to hire someone who tried to overthrow the government that supports it.

As for the Legislature: "Don't bite the hand that feeds you," Sealy said. Though university relations with the Legislature "have left much to be desired," he stated, they're much better now than before.

Texas House Vote Paves Way To End Session On May 27

AUSTIN—(AP)—The House voted 82-48 Wednesday to lock itself in until it acts on a resolution calling for final adjournment of the Legislature at 12 noon May 27.

The resolution is by Rep. John Crosthwait of Dallas. A resolution to end the session May 20 was turned down last week, 74-69.

Pay of the lawmakers dropped from $10 to $5 a day Wednesday as the session passed the 120-day mark suggested by the Constitution.

The Senate renewed debate on a bill already passed by the House to relax the 1951 auto tax inspection law.

Senator Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo attacked the need for any such law and said speed not mechanical failure, was the real reason for bad wrecks.

"They ought to inspect the heads of the drivers instead of the cars," he asserted.

Hardeman offered an amendment to exempt from inspection cars operating exclusively in the owner's home county.

Senator John Bell of Cuero, sponsor of the bill, said that was the "stillest amendment" he had heard in his 17 years in the Legislature.

The Senate rejected the amendment, 19-10.

LANDS SAKES!
WITHOUT ADVERTISING,
WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business,
And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

'Billion-Dollar Mermaid'

It's not a real mermaid—it's a 3,300-pound metal robot and its name is Archie. But the billion dollars is real, all right, says Archie's inventor and builder, William E. Denny, Kansas City, Kan., building contractor. The treasure is in gold and other valuable cargo in sunken ships that nobody ever has been able to salvage. Denny thinks Archie can get it for him. Archie was built at a basic cost of $12,000 and 18 months' work. Details of Archie's construction and performance are seen in sketch at left, which shows not Archie, but his brother-to-be, Buster, a second robot that Denny is building. Archie has a big advantage over human divers. They can descend only 200 feet or so and work for very short periods. Archie can operate all kinds of tools. He can pick up an egg without breaking it and he can take a stout 2x4 and mash it into matchwood with one crunch of his powerful claw. In photo above, Denny holds a piece of 2x4 while Archie crushes it. Engineers who have watched preliminary tests say that Archie is practical. Final deep water tests will be made this summer and the first salvage attempt will be made off the coast of Massachusetts in August or September.

Tornado-Flattened Pool Hall Yields Bodies Of 17 Victims

By WILBUR MARTIN

WACO —(AP)— They pulled some more boys out of the tornado-flattened pool hall Tuesday night.

Twenty-four hours previously, around 10:30 p.m. Monday, I had raced through pitch dark streets, waded through knee-deep water, plunged over broken glass and tangled power lines to reach the pool hall.

"Say, they've got some guys trapped up there in a pool hall," a youthful rescue worker had said almost casually. "And some are alive. They're talking to the guys trying to pull them out."

Long, Long Ago

It seemed Tuesday night when I went back again down the same dark streets that all of it happened a long, long time ago.

The frenzy of more than 100 high school, college and youthful Air Force men Monday night as they tore at the huge mound of wreckage was like the challenge each had hurled some time:

"You ain't so tough I can lick you!"

The wreckage finally did lick them. Six persons survived after being buried under that awful mass of wood and stone. Around 17 did not.

There may be more. No one knows how many.

Lonnie Murphree was the first out of the grotesque tomb. Then he helped pull out Pat Green and John Hill and Charles Pickens. He was there when Don Hansard was freed almost seven hours after Hansard was pinned beneath an old, massive pool table that saved his life by catching the main force of the tumbling debris.

Two survivors still were nameless.

HEIGH, HO, U. S. MAIL!

BURBANK, CALIF. —(AP)—This postman delivered the goods with a block-long sprint.

Covering his route up a steep curving street Tuesday, Sam Dallen saw a driverless delivery truck roll from its parking spot.

Realizing it could plow across lawns where small children were at play, Dallen put down his mail sack and gave chase. Catching up with the truck he reached in through the window and put on the brakes. Then he returned to his route.

One was a young Mexican. Another was a negro.

There was no attempt by officials to fix where the tornado claimed each individual victim.

Hansard could talk to those who burrowed to reach him. He could talk to his father crouched at the tiny air hole kicked out of the rubble above his head.

And he could talk: "I'm okay. My leg is numb. . . . I think I've got a broken leg." It was a dislocated hip.

Hansard and Murphree said there were 25 to 30 persons in the pool hall when the tornado hit just before 5 p.m. Monday. Most were teen-agers.

"I don't know if there are any left under there," said Capt. R. N. Crain, Connally AFB, as he directed the probe of the ruins. "I won't guess."

Ten More Bodies
"I think we recovered seven bodies today," he said. "I'm not sure." Ten bodies were reported recovered Monday night.

What was left of the pool hall was horrible but a fascinating sight Monday night. The rubble was tall and fearsome to face and dangerous to walk upon. Most was gone Tuesday night, beaten away by hundreds of hands and shovels and giant bulldozers.

All that was left now was the arduous job of digging, digging and sifting through the wreckage for more bodies.

Youths who held down man-sized jobs of rescue said the pool hall was a favorite hang-out for high school boys. They could play dominoes, cards and pool there.

Saw Eight Dead
Phil Hardberger, Baylor student from O'Donnell, had been in the pool hall before Monday night. He broke through the wreckage to help free Hansard.

"I saw eight dead," he said after the rescue.

The searchlights that lit the area Monday night were very, very bright. . . . and so was hope. Tuesday night, the lights still were very bright.

Taxes On Garbage Aimed At Germans

NUERNBERG, GERMANY. —(AP)—

West Germany's tax men are out to collect customs on U. S. Army garbage finding its way into German hog troughs. The tax collectors contend the swill originally was imported.

Their immediate targets are 14 pig breeders who buy Army garbage. American sources say the Army picks up some $35,000 a year in the Nuernberg area alone this way.

Supplies for Allied forces enter West Germany duty free, but items resold to the Germans normally are subject to customs.

Radford's New Job May Rekindle Fires Under Cauldron Of Navy-Air Force Stew

By ELTON C. FAY

AP Military Reporter

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The revamped military high command, headed by an admiral, is to take a new look at an old quarrel between the Navy and Air Force over war-time roles.

Secretary of Defense Wilson let that be known in replying to news conference questions about appointments to the Joint Chiefs of Staff announced by President Eisenhower Tuesday.

But in confirming that the Joint Chiefs, with Adm. Arthur W. Radford as chairman, will reexamine the assignments for the services for the first time since they were agreed to in 1949, Wilson hastened to add:

"We'll all work at it. We're not trying to put anybody on the spot."

Key West Agreement
The quarrel among the armed forces over roles and missions and over giant bombers vs. giant aircraft carriers had put several people on the spot during the controversy. A chief of naval operations was ousted. A Navy secretary resigned.

Out of the series of meetings emerged in 1949 what the Pentagon calls the "Key West agreement."

It gave as one of the primary functions of the Air Force responsibility for strategic air warfare (the systematic bombing of an enemy's war production centers and transportation to destroy the capability to continue a war).

The Navy was given among its "collateral functions" the assignment to support other services in carrying out their primary function and "to be prepared to participate in the overall effort as directed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Navy's Pride Hurt
The interpretation given by officials who sponsored the Key West meetings was that the Navy could come into strategic air warfare upon request of the Air Force or Joint Chiefs.

Radford, who was among top Navy officials in the dispute over missions and of the subsequent quarrel over B-36 bombers and big carriers, told Congress he agreed the Air Force should have primary responsibility for strategic bombing.

But neither Radford nor any other of the exponents of the Navy's case was happy about assignment ment to support other services in carrying out their primary function and "to be prepared to participate in the overall effort as directed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

Moreover, new factors have come to exert potential influence in the original controversy.

Carrier-based Navy aircraft today are bigger and longer ranged than in 1949, giving rise to argument that they are capable of waging atomic warfare as well as land-based Air Force planes. Therefore, the argument goes, why should they be confined in their operations by an agreement written under conditions existing five or six years ago?

Radford, a busy fighter for the Navy cause, is being brought to Washington from his Pacific Fleet command to preside, impartially, over an organization which must resolve—if possible—interservice disagreements.

Administration Official Urges Farmers Develop Own Commercial Selling System

WASHINGTON —(AP)— An Eisenhower Administration farm official said Wednesday improved farm programs may require easing of anti-trust laws to allow farmers, processors and distributors to work together to hold farm prices stable.

John H. Davis, president of the Agriculture Department's $6,700,000,000 Commodity Credit Corporation, made this suggestion in a statement offering one answer to the question, "Who should carry out our farm programs?" and published in a department periodical on marketing activities.

Davis said the problem of how to stabilize farm prices still is unsolved after 40 years of effort on part of farm leaders and governments.

"I am not saying that the present farm program is a failure,"

"Then, too, the farm organization, farm leaders, and political leaders have tended to look askance at large, integrated operations on the part of those handling farm products," he said.

A "hopeful" approach, he said, would seem to be that of encouraging voluntary cooperative arrangements on the part of producers and all segments of the agricultural handling, processing and distributive industry to build an adequate marketing system.

All types of business, he said, would work together voluntarily in a common effort—each firm retaining its own entity and form.

Such a marketing system, he said, would provide farm price stability without the necessity of government buying of farm stocks and without the necessity of annual appropriations by Congress to make up losses on sale of farm surpluses.

He is taking the place of Gen. Omar Bradley who, during the controversy in which the Navy fiercely opposed building a fleet of big B-36 bombers, finally became exasperated and denounced "fancy Duns" in the Navy.

Radford will have an entirely new roster of Joint Chiefs members. Eisenhower chose Adm. Robert Carney to be chief of naval operations to replace Adm. William F. Fletcher. Carney is North Atlantic Treaty commander in Southern Europe.

Fletcher's term was not due to expire until 1955, but Wilson said it was decided the terms of all Joint Chiefs members would be two years. Until now some have been two years, others four. Cutting the term to two years means Fletcher is out.

Ridgway's Duties
Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, now supreme commander in Europe, was named to replace Gen. J. Lawton Collins as Army chief of staff. Collins' and Bradley's terms expire in August. The White House had announced previously that Gen. Nathan Twining would replace Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, who asked for retirement as Air Force chief of staff about July 1.

Jersey Waterfront Squabble Climaxes In Heated Election

JERSEY CITY, N. J. —(AP)— Mayor

John V. Kenny retained a place on the City Commission in a close-fought municipal election Tuesday, but whether this meant his reelection as mayor remained in question.

Kenny and his bitter rival Frank Hague Eggers—two Democratic Goliaths—both were chosen city commissioners in the election in which waterfront crime was the principal issue.

Unofficial totals showed Kenny carried two of his supporters with him to victory, giving the mayor's forces a 3-2 majority on the five-man commission, which fills the major post from among its members. One of Eggers' candidates won with him.

For Eggers, it was a step on the comeback trail from 1949, when a full Kenny ticket swept Eggers out of office and tore the once-invincible Frank Hague Democratic empire into tatters. Eggers is Hague's nephew.

Under New Jersey law, the five men receiving the largest number of votes are elected. Thirteen candidates were in the field, three of them independents.

Disputed Returns
The Eggers' forces claimed Wednesday they did not receive or see tally sheets from 12 districts which mistakenly were locked up in the city clerk's office.

They demanded to see the sheets on ground that a check might show that Gansmiller possibly placed fifth. If so, this would give the 3-2 City Commission majority to Eggers instead of Kenny.

The five-man commission will meet Tuesday to select a mayor.

Kenny, asked who will be mayor under his controlling three-man bloc, replied, "I don't know right now, but the three of us will talk it over."

Hudson County Sheriff William Kelly acted quickly to place police guards over the voting machines in the 312 election districts.

He said the move was decided "in view of high tempers and a split ticket."

The total vote was 135,000—8,000 less than the city's record vote of 143,000 in 1949, when 90 per cent of the 165,000 eligibles turned out.

Kenny, himself once a Hague lieutenant, and Eggers each knew their political futures were at stake.

The dominant overtone of the election was four years of waterfront violence which set off political fireworks on both sides.

Waterfront Crime
Sordid reports of waterfront crime, corruption, racketeering, bombings, beating and slayings along the pier-studded Hudson River waterfront attracted investigative spotlights from state to national levels.

Kenny has countered the attacks with the contention that the waterfront problems were inherited from the Hague-Eggers era, which held sway for 32 years.

But his foes pointed to such instances as testimony before the New York State Crime Commission linking Kenny to waterfront racketeering. Kenny described the testimony as politically motivated.

Presidential Yacht Sets Final Course; Mothballs Are Due

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The USS Williamsburg will sail Thursday for the last time as a presidential yacht.

The gleaming white-craft will carry President Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower on a cruise that will take them to Williamsburg Va. and Annapolis, Md.

At the end of May the Williamsburg is being transferred back to the Navy, which plans to put it in mothballs a month later.

Eisenhower has announced he is giving up the Williamsburg, which former President Truman used frequently, because he regards it as "a symbol of needless luxury." Eisenhower has used the yacht only once—for a brief conference with French government leaders in March.

CORONATION--

THE CEREMONY: The Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II is not only a magnificent spectacle and occasion for rejoicing, but it also has deep religious and historical significance. Here are shown the principal steps in the ancient ceremony and ritual, substantially the same during centuries of British sovereigns. Pictures, taken at Coronation of King George VI, are from "The History of the Coronation," by Lawrence E. Tanner, Keeper of the Monuments and Library, Westminster Abbey. (British Book Center, N. Y.)

LEFT: First step in the Coronation is the Recognition. The Archbishop of Canterbury and Great Officers of the Realm (seen near High Altar, background) walk to the four sides of the Theatre and at each present Queen Elizabeth as "your undoubted Queen." The Sovereign faces each corner in turn as the people shout "God save Queen Elizabeth!" Photo shows Recognition of King George VI, who stands beside Coronation Chair with his Pages. The Recognition is followed by the Oath, signed by the Queen at the High Altar.

RIGHT: Next step is the Anointing. The Sovereign sits in the Coronation (St. Edward's) Chair. Anointing was once done in secret, now symbolized by a canopy held by four Knights of the Garter. The Archbishop (under canopy with Dean of Westminster behind him) anoints the Queen on the hands, the breast and the crown of the head.

After the Anointing, the Regalia are presented. First, the gold spurs, symbolizing Knighthood and Chivalry. Her Majesty will touch them and they will be returned to the Altar. Next comes the jeweled Sovereign's Sword, in the case of George VI (above, left), girded on by the Lord Great Chamberlain. Queen Elizabeth will follow Queen Victoria's precedent and hold it in her hand, then offer it at the Altar. Right photo shows King George VI offering the Sword to the Dean of Westminster, who places it on the Altar.

Man Runs Over Himself

Joe Doakes had a difficulty the other day. He sent his son to the store for a package of cigarettes, but the shop keeper sent the boy home, telling him he was too young to buy cigarettes. So Joe had to run over himself.

That one is pretty old, we admit. Maybe it dates us. We sat in Community Theatre the other night, watching "Joan of Lorraine," and this thing kept running through our head. We could barely wait to get to the typewriter. You see, we wanted to twist it into an ad on Jacobson Mowers, and it would read like this:

Maybe Joe is too old to run a lawnmower, the old push and grunt kind. He ought to get a good power mower to do the job, and then his boy would keep the lawn for him. It's so easy, and so much fun, and those Jacobsons start so easy, and last so long, and more people in Midland own them than any other kind, and you can always get them serviced right in our own shop.

Do you get it? Unlike Joe—you wouldn't have to run over yourself. Over the lawn, we mean.

Cows Are Safer, Boyle Muses, But Deer Probably Find Life More Worth Living

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK.—A deer must sometimes look through pasture bars and wonder if it wouldn't be better to give up his wild ways for the safe, serene life of a cow.

So it is with human renegades. A bank robber now and then muses on whether he might not be more happy if he were a bank president, and earned his biscuit money flourishing a pen instead of a pistol.

We all are afflicted at times with this wishful self-conduct. We tease ourselves by pondering what-might-have-been if, when the road forked a ways back, we had taken the other path.

No Issue in Doubt

In my case I wonder whether it isn't perhaps wiser to become one of "the right people." Who are they? The right people are the people who take care never to do anything wrong.

Life for the right people is never a dubious battlefield, whose issue is always in doubt. It is a step by step operation that goes according to plan, their plan.

They have no regrets because they make no errors. They know exactly what they want, and therefore they get it.

The right people are never caught out in a rain because they always have an umbrella. They marry exactly the right mate and live in the right neighborhood.

They have exactly two Martinis before dinner, and it never occurs to them to dare a third. They buy their theater tickets two months ahead of time, and plan their vacation trips two years in advance.

They know to a gallon how much gasoline their car will use to get them there and back.

They go to the right church but they don't listen to the sermon, for how could it apply to them?

Most men are prisoners of impulse and their lives are a compromise between an instinct for some kind of order and a free-wheeling dash for pure chaos. So it is with my life, and sometimes the patterned security of the right people seems more desirable.

But never for long. The trouble with the right people is that they have life all wrong. Their biggest mistake is that they never make one. They are the smug vertical dead, upright but not really alive. They plot from goal to goal but lack the gusty adventure to chase an impossible dream. They are afraid to dream, for fear it will break their little patterns.

The all-purpose vitamin pills they consume each day may keep them as healthy as a cow in a meadow of chlorophyll. But they never nibble on the green moon cheese of illusion, and it is only by feeding on immortal dreams that a man may nourish his spirit, on a plateau beyond the ken of the cow, and become a human being.

TV, Radio Fans Follow Baseball With Book

NEW YORK.—For the millions of fans who seldom, if ever, see a major league baseball game yet follow their favorites via radio and TV, a new hand book has been published. It is called "Major League Radio and TV Baseball Handbook." (A. S. Barnes & Co., N. Y., 50 cents.)

The book is edited by Hy Turkin, sports writer and telecaster. The handbook contains 160 pages revealing a glossary of baseball terms, full schedules, rosters plus many photographs and diagrams.

Enjoy new lightness, full flavor, true digestibility! Fry with new Crisco!

Fry this triple-treat tonight!
CRISCO'S FAVORITE FRIES
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

COUNTRY FRIED STEAK
1½ lbs. round steak 1 teaspoon salt
Cut ½ inch thick Crisco for pan
¼ cup flour frying

Cut steak into servings. Dip in salted flour. Brown on both sides in ½ cup Crisco in 10-inch frying pan. When well browned, cover, cook slowly 20 to 30 minutes or until tender.

LATTICE POTATOES: Pare 4 to 6 medium potatoes. Cut with lattice vegetable cutter into slices ¼ inch thick. Fry in deep Crisco, heated to 365° F. (or when a one-inch square of bread browns in 60 seconds). Fry potatoes, a few at a time, until cooked and brown (3 to 5 mins.). Drain on absorbent paper and season.

FRENCH-FRIED ONION RINGS: Cut 4 to 6 large onions into ¼ inch slices and separate into rings. Dip onion rings in milk—about ¼ cup—salt then in flour—about ¼ cup. Fry in deep Crisco (follow directions for potatoes) about 8 minutes.

NEW! CRISCO'S "SCOPE SOUNDING" LABEL—an exciting new label with tested recipes on both sides. No other shortening brings you so many recipes for cakes, pies, fried foods, biscuits and cookies in this handy label form!

WHEN YOU SERVE a sizzling platter of this favorite fries... as they are light, as full of natural flavor as they should be? Chances are the answer is "no" if you're using an ordinary fat that has odor and flavor of its own. For such fat tends to drown out good, true flavor... may even give foods a greasy flavor.

But, oh, what a delicious difference when you change to new Crisco for frying! ALL vegetable Crisco is so pure, so fresh, it lets the good, natural flavor come through, while it browns foods to perfection. For new Crisco is different. It looks whiter, it's creamier than any other leading vegetable shortening! And Crisco smells so fresh and sweet, keeps so fresh without refrigeration!

And 9 out of 10 doctors say Crisco-fried foods are easy to digest. Crisco itself is digestible. Start now to fry with new Crisco!

It's the one and only—purely vegetable
surely digestible
Crisco

Installation of a new and unusual outdoor electrical display has been completed on the First National Bank building at 102 S. Main. The display features a patented electronic screen that provides passersby with a current record of both time and temperature, flashed alternately every five seconds in 27-inch high illuminated figures.

According to John P. Butler, president of the First National Bank, the new display is operating 24 hours a day and gives 17,280 correct readings of the time and temperature in each 24-hour period. Time readings are controlled by a self-correcting synchronous motor; temperature readings are electronically measured at the sign location.

The service is being sponsored by the First National Bank for public convenience. The display is designed to be visible for a distance of four city blocks and, as a public service, has proved highly popular in other cities throughout the nation.

A total of 328 forty-watt lamps are used in the numeral panel and over 350 silver contact points are needed to control the lamps. Nineteen electric motors operate the mechanism which uses a full half-mile of copper wire. Weight of unit totals approximately 1,900 pounds.

A lobby display has been installed at the bank to explain the operation of the electronic unit.

When the Welland Canal was built around Niagara Falls, lampreys got into the Great Lakes and now threaten extinction for the lake trout, formerly an important food fish.

LEFT: Having been invested with the Royal Robe of cloth of gold in which she will be crowned, the Queen then receives the rest of the Regalia—the Orb, the Ring, the Sceptre with Cross and the Rod with Dove. Photo shows George VI after Lord Great Chamberlain has fastened the straps of the Royal Robe.

This is the supreme moment of the Coronation. The Archbishop holds the Crown above the Sovereign, pauses a moment, then reverently places it on the Queen's head. At this climactic moment, the people shout "God Save the Queen!" peers, peeresses and Kings of Arms put on their coronets, trumpets sound and cannon in the Tower of London fire the Royal Salute. The Acclamation is followed by the Benediction given by the Archbishop of Canterbury.

COMPOSING FOR THE QUEEN—

Realm's Musicians Slated For Coronation Field Day

LONDON —(P)—Contemporary British composers, who often complain that making music in Britain is a frustrating business, get their big chance at the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II.

Every note played or sung during the solemn service in Westminster Abbey will be British, and almost half of it will be by modern composers.

Musically the coronation service is a blend of the old and the new. The great names of the past—Handel, Byrd, Gibbons—are linked with modern masters like Ralph Vaughan Williams and Sir William Walton in the musical arrangements.

Oldest Tradition For the anointing, the traditional anthem "Zadok the Priest" will be sung—as it has been ever since the coronation of Saxon King Edgar 1,000 years ago. This is the oldest traditional part of the coronation service. Since the coronation of George II in 1727, it has been sung in the setting by Handel, the German-born British naturalized composer who spent most of his creative life in London.

The music will be sung by a massed choir of 400 men and boys, ranked on specially built stands around the great organ, and played by 80 of Britain's finest musicians under the baton of Sir Adrian Boult, conductor of the London Philharmonic Orchestra.

Immediately after, when Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, archbishop of Canterbury, gently paces the massive St. Edward's crown on the young Queen's head, the choir will sing the anthem "Confetiae," one of the nine pieces written specially for this coronation, by 70-year-old Sir George Dyson, one of Britain's leading church organists.

Five anthems will be sung during the ceremony of homage, when the royal dukes and peers of the realm kneel before the Queen to swear their loyalty. Four are by old-time composers. The fifth has been written by Dr. Healey Willan of Toronto—the only composer from the Commonwealth to be represented.

Dr. Ralph Vaughan Williams, the "Grand Old Man" of British music, Sir William Walton and Sir Arnold Bax, master of the Queen's music, are three other internationally known composers who have written specially for the crowning of Queen Elizabeth.

Four-Legged Vandal Plunders Residence

GOSHEN, N. Y. —(P)—It looked like the worst kind of vandalism when Mrs. Charles Stiller, wife of a village trustee, unlocked the door and switched on the lights in the new house which she had left in apple-pie order when she and Stiller departed on a two-day holiday.

Stiller had stopped off to attend a village board meeting, and after a quick call to him over the telephone Mrs. Stiller retired to the family car in the driveway and sat there shuddering until he arrived.

His inspection confirmed her hasty glimpse: Table lamps upset, window plants on the floor and

Smugglers Carry Opium In Quantity

KUALA LUMPUR —(P)—Opium was the favorite item of smugglers in Malaya last year. Almost four tons of the contraband worth $800,000 were seized by customs men. They reported there was a drop in gold-smuggling. But after opium, came tobacco, cosmetics, cameras, watches and other luxuries in order of importance.

★ Daddy Ringtail ★

Daddy Ringtail And Uphill River

Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, was down by the Whispering River with a glass of the kind you drink out of. He was trying to find a glass of water that would pour up instead of down—when you pour it out, you know.

Mugwump dipped the glass in the river. He poured and poured the water out. All of it poured down—back in the river where the water was hurrying down to the sea. Not one glass of the water poured up.

SIDE GLANCES

"Boy, plenty has happened since the last time I saw you—I got a new turtle and a new baby sister!"

Daddy Ringtail explained how all the water poured "down" because the river was a downhill river. The water in a downhill river is downhill water. It pours down—or flows down—instead of up.

And so Mugwump said: "Daddy Ringtail, are there any uphill rivers with uphill water in them?"

Daddy Ringtail answered that he didn't know of a river that was an uphill river with uphill water in it. But he imagined that maybe sometime a river had tried to be an uphill river—all full of uphill water that flowed up instead of down.

By WESLEY DAVIS

"Imagine that," said Mugwump. "Yes," said Daddy Ringtail, "maybe a river somewhere sometime tried to be an uphill river with water of the uphill flowing kind. But you can see for yourself how unhappy all this must have been."

"Can it?" asked Mugwump.

Oh my yes. Anyone can see how unhappy it would be. Just suppose that you had an uphill river now.

All the water would flow up the river and away until the river was empty. The ocean too would be empty with all the uphill water flowed up and away.

"And so," said Daddy Ringtail, "if there ever was an uphill river, it quit being a river a long time ago. It didn't have any more uphill water, and a river without water isn't a river at all, as everyone knows."

"What happened to the uphill water when it flowed up and away?" asked Mugwump.

"Well," said Daddy Ringtail, "it's way up there in the sky even now, and when some of it changes its mind—when it decides to be downhill water—that's when the rain rains."

The Sovereign then moves to the Throne, on a raised platform behind the Coronation Chair. Here the Queen will receive the Fealty of the Archbishops and spiritual peers, then the Homage of the Princes of the Blood Royal and other temporal peers. First temporal peer will be the Queen's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, who will take off his coronet, kneel, do his Homage, then rise, touch the Crown and kiss Her Majesty's left cheek. After the Fealty and Homage, drums beat, trumpets sound and the people cry "God save Queen Elizabeth!" "Long live Queen Elizabeth!" and "May the Queen live forever!" This completes the crowning, which is followed by the Communion Service, in which the Queen is joined at the Altar by the Duke of Edinburgh.

City Never Forgets Little-Known Battle

NEW HAVEN, CONN.—This city is perhaps the only place in the country which annually recalls the battle of Seicheprey, the first major land engagement involving United States troops in World War I.

Seven platoons in a machine gun battalion of the 102nd (Yankee) Division, consisting chiefly of New Haven men, were surrounded by Germans near Seicheprey, France. A counterattack rescued them after 80 had been killed, 150 taken prisoners and 400 wounded. Each year, on the anniversary of the battle, city officials take part in a ceremony on New Haven green.

Tells A Discontented Youth His Father 'Does Know Best'

I received this letter from a troubled farm boy:

"Since you help others, maybe you could help me. I live on a farm and my dad works in a plant. The whole trouble is he doesn't want to do any work on the farm. He says he does his share by working in the plant."

"It was his idea that we move to a farm, but he expects my mother, my brother and sister, and myself to do all of the work."

"I am 14 years old. My brother is 12, and my sister is eight."

World's Wettest Spot Has Drouth

CHERRAPUNJI, EASTERN INDIA.—This tiny village, the wettest spot in the world, has its own drouth problem.

Cherrapunji, with the heaviest known annual rainfall of around 560 inches, sits under an almost constant downpour for seven or eight months of the year. But from November through February there is an acute water scarcity here.

Springs and streams which normally run bankful dry up over the 4,500-foot high flat rocky plateau on which Cherrapunji is located. Villagers, who through most of the year suffer from an overabundance of water, have to descend hundreds of feet into nearby valleys to find water, then carry it painfully back to their homes atop the plateau overlooking the eastern Pakistan frontier.

"The three of us and mother have to milk the cows, clean the barn, feed the hogs, take care of the chickens, and even do the plowing."

"My dad gets a day off a week but none of the rest of us do. Do you think he is being fair?"

Whether he is being fair or not is a question only your mother and dad can answer. It won't do any good for you to worry about it.

Families Need Help

You might remember this, however. In a great many families today it is necessary for the man of the family to have help in earning a living.

That often means that the wife takes a job and the children are left to shift for themselves.

Your dad has worked things out so that at least your mother is at home with you. She may have to work hard. But she is there when you get home from school.

You may have to work hard. But don't forget that you are working to help your family gain some security.

You say it was your Dad's idea the family move to a farm. But did it ever occur to you that perhaps he thought it was the only way he could give the five of you a good home and good food? He must also provide a little security for his old age so that you kids won't have to take care of him when he is too old to work in the plant.

If the five of you can pull together for a few years you'll be a stronger and more secure family than you will if you pull against each other.

SIGNS OF UNITY—Carefully printed (top) or loosely lettered (bottom) signs like these appear throughout Seoul, capital of South Korea. Pledging "Unification or Death," they protest a possible peace treaty that would not guarantee the unification of North and South Korea.

Refugees From Shanghai Tell Of City Dying Slow Death Under Red Leadership

HONG KONG.—Shanghai is a "dead city" where automobiles have all but disappeared and a glass of Chinese tea at a good tea-shop costs the equivalent of 50 cents in U. S. money.

That's the story of a group of 44 displaced foreigners who arrived here recently under the auspices of the United Nations' International Refugee Organization. Most of them were Jewish or White Russians enroute to Europe, North and South America, Australia and Israel.

They said there are still about 4,000 displaced foreigners left in Shanghai and they are having a trying time. About 10,000 more are trying to get out of North China and Manchuria.

None of the 44 would permit use of his name because of relatives still in China. Most of them were outspokenly critical of the Reds.

The refugees said entire families seldom are cleared for departure at the same time. Everyone left some close relative behind.

Communist police visited their homes regularly, always asking the "same stupid questions."

One woman who had taught Russian to the Chinese said she was visited three times a week by the police, sometimes twice a day.

Upsets Police

They wanted to know the names of her students, details of their progress, where they lived, what they paid. Once, she said, out of sheer weariness she deliberately gave the wrong answers.

She was corrected immediately. "You know the answers so why come and bother me," she told the Red police. "I will write to Peiping and report you. I am not afraid. I am not a criminal."

The threat to write Peiping seemed to scare off the police for a few days, but soon they returned and the questions took a different turn.

Asked To Leave

"They would point to a photograph on the wall and ask who it was and why it was on the wall. They knew everywhere I had been and would ask why I went to such and such a place, did I visit friends there and how many were there? "During the last week," the woman said, "they asked me why I wanted to leave China and I told them it was because the police bother me too much."

An average of about 80 displaced persons per month were sent out of Shanghai last year by the IRO. The pace stepped up this year to 130 per month until April, when it jumped to 300.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Complete Cure For Leprosy Is Almost Certain To Come

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

An unusual question comes from a reader who asks about the symptoms of leprosy, and whether the disease can be treated at home or whether the victim should be sent away.

First, with regard to symptoms it should be said that this disease generally comes on slowly and the early signs vary remarkably. A thickening eruption on the skin and perhaps the formation of lumps or nodules probably are the most common early signs, although

THIEVES TRY INFILTRATION

NEWPORT BEACH, CALIF.—

If it isn't cops and robbers, it's the other way around. Four Newport policemen—two sergeants and two patrolmen—were fired recently and charged with burglarizing stores and homes along their beats.

A week after they had pleaded guilty, one of the ex-patrolmen was caught in a shot-punctuated chase at the scene of another burglary.

New Colonists Due In Brazilian State

RIO DE JANEIRO —P—Brazil's

land and colonization service has signed an agreement with the World Council of Churches for settlement of 30 German families in the state of Rio de Janeiro.

The immigrants will serve as the nucleus for an expected colony at Papucia. Their passage will be paid by the council, which also will give them help the first year, including the construction of homes.
