Gas, Distillate Are Developed At Test In Crockett Sector

Gas flow and recovery of distillate has been reported from Shell Oil Company No. 1 Field, wildcat in East-Central Crockett County.

Drillstem test was taken in the interval from 2,948 to 2,990 feet. Test was open 26 minutes. Gas was at the surface in an unreported length of time. The flow was gauged at the rate of 238,000 cubic feet daily.

Recovery was 430 feet of gas-cut mud and 90 feet of distillate and gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure was 200 pounds and 30-minute shut-in pressure 3,375 pounds.

Operator was preparing to take drillstem test on total depth of 3,460 feet.

Location is 1,900 feet from south and 900 feet from west lines of section 23, block 08, G.C.A.P. survey and one mile southeast of Oona.

Ellenburger Flow Is Gauged From Wildcat In NE Andrews Area

First flow from the Ellenburger through casing perforations has been effected at Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation and J. C. Barnes No. 1-E University, wildcat and multiphase discovery in Northeast Andrews County.

The project flowed 85.4 barrels of oil, cut two per cent basic sediment, in two hours. The flow was through perforations at 13,479-510 feet and one-inch choke. It was natural.

Prior to the flow gauge, the project was scrubbed three hours. It kicked off and flowed to pits to clean for 15 minutes.

Operator will continue to flow the discovery until the oil has cleaned and then make production tests.

The project already had flowed heavily on production tests of the Devonian.

Location for the discovery is at the center of the northeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 7, block 7, University Lands survey.

Magnolia To Deepen SE Andrews Tester To 12,800 Feet

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 2-FA Faskan, Southeast Andrews County exploration, and a northwest offset to the discovery well of the Faskan (Wolfcamp) field, apparently has failed to make a producer in the Wolfcamp and is to be drilled to 12,800 feet as a wildcat to try for production in the Devonian.

It was originally started out to go to 9,000 feet to test the Wolfcamp. It has reached 9,725 feet in lime and shale and is coring deeper.

So far it has found only small shows of oil and gas.

Location is 950 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 12, block 42, T-3-N, O&MM&A survey. It is nine miles southeast of (Continued On Page 12)

Kermit Man Named District Attorney, Succeeds Dennison

AUSTIN—(AP)—Governor Shivers Thursday announced appointment of John R. Lee, Kermit, as district attorney for the 109th Judicial District.

Lee, now county attorney of Winkler County, succeeds John P. Dennison, Pecos, whose resignation was announced earlier Thursday.

Both the resignation and the new appointment were to take immediate effect.

The expenses in handling the over-crowded docket in the six counties of this district are so great that I cannot continue to hold the office," said Dennison, who was appointed March 1, 1950 to fill an unexpired term.

"The duties have required my full time and have made it impossible for me to handle any civil business," he continued.

Dennison will enter private law practice in Pecos.

R-T To Give 14-Day Plan For Reducing

The sad postscript to many a diet is that when you quit dieting you gain back the lost weight. Often this happens because a desire for sweets remains unsatisfied. A bomb here, an éclair there, a handful of sugared walnuts in between—and you're right back where you started.

So, The Reporter-Telegram will publish a NEW KIND OF DIET. This 14-Day Low-Calorie Diet Plan, beginning Sunday, includes a taste-satisfying variety of low-calorie fresh fruits and ALSO satisfies the human craving for sweets.

It does this by incorporating the new "dietetic" jellies, puddings, salad dressings and canned fruits which are available in ever-increasing variety.

The author of the new 14-Day Diet is Thelma Lewis, who has spent more than 12 years studying this newly significant field of dietetic foods. By following this diet she lost 25 pounds.

You'll find it easy to follow, too. Watch for it daily in The Reporter-Telegram, beginning Sunday.

Records Tumble As Rodeo Opens

IT WAS LIKE THIS, CHAMP—Bill Lowe, right, of Crane, proved the best roper at the Midland Rodeo Wednesday night with a time of 10.9 seconds. Here he discusses the feat with the current world champion roper, Don McLaughlin of Fort Worth, who recorded 14.5 seconds on calf at the inaugural event here.

Flash Of Final Spring Atom Blast Seen 600 Miles Away

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—(AP)—The biggest atom bomb ever exploded in the United States flared more than two minutes in the pre-dawn sky Thursday over Nevada Proving Ground.

The power of this amazing weapon probably was not less than 90 kilotons. The Atomic Energy Commission previously had detonated three devices at Yucca Flat that have had an intensity greater than the so-called nominal or Hiroshima bomb.

Thursday's blast, eleventh and final of the Spring series, probably compared favorably with some of the huge explosions reported at the Pacific Proving Grounds at Eniwetok.

The explosion went off exactly at 5:15 a.m. The flash was seen in San Francisco, 600 miles away and in Los Angeles, 250 miles distant. Strangely, however, the shock bomb flashed across the entire horizon and bathed the desert in a ghostly white light at least five seconds. Then it formed into a brilliant golden fireball.

New Legion Chief Is Loser In 'Contact' With Military

On his first day after being elected commander of the American Legion post here, Ben Gay had a run-in Wednesday afternoon with the military.

And he lost.

Gay, when he is not working on the many projects of the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans, is a police officer.

He is assigned to the traffic division as an accident investigator.

Wednesday afternoon, he was cruising in the area around North A and West Illinois Streets, where the rodeo parade was in the process of formation.

Part of the parade was the big 18-ton National Guard tank, which, at the time was being driven by Charles E. Hedges, a 44-year-old mechanic who lives at 306 East Texas Street.

"I was sitting there in the car," said Gay, "when this tank starts backing up."

"I figured he'd stop. There were several cars parked behind me and I couldn't move. The tank got closer. I set the emergency brake so if he did hit me I wouldn't crash into the cars behind me."

The tank kept coming.

"I waited until the last minute," continued Gay, "but when I saw he wasn't stopping and those big treads started climbing my front fender, I finally jumped out of the car."

Damage to the police car was estimated at $250.

McMillen Water Delayed To Friday

That new 30-inch supply line from McMillen Field was full of water Thursday but it still had too much chlorine to be used for drinking purposes.

So city officials said it probably will be Friday before Midland gets its additional water supply.

"We are flushing out the line today," said City Manager W. H. Oswald, "and the job should be completed by tomorrow afternoon."

"If we were in a tight pinch, we might be able to use some of the water today. But the rain last night and the clouds today ought to ease the situation somewhat."

If everything goes as expected, the McMillen Field water will be turned into city main Friday afternoon.

Comin' Outta Chute 1

The World Champion All-Around Cowboy arrived in Midland Thursday. Harry Tompkins drove in from Fort Smith, Ark., where he added to a string of 1953 rodeo honors.

The son-in-law of Producer Everett Colborn draws a crusty bronc for his Midland rodeo debut Thursday night. He is scheduled to come out on Bootlegger, one of the Lightning C's meanest bareback broncs.

Chute Boss Alvin A. Gordon isn't allowing a fractured right arm and a chipped foot bone to curtail his nightly chores too much. The likeable tophand received the injuries at Carlsbad, N. M., last week when his mount fell on a sharp turn in the Quadrille performance.

Gordon was back with the Quadrille Wednesday night at the Midland rodeo inaugural and didn't skip a beat in the musical capers which have proved a continuing arena favorite.

Byron Hendricks introduced some temporary members of his troupe Wednesday night and they looked like veterans in the better-than-ever act. Byron's wife, Connie, is in the Western Clinic-Hospital recovering from tonsillitis.

Ruth Bean, member of the Lightning C Ranch outfit, took over in the absence of Mrs. Hendricks in the staging of the hill billy act concluding the night's program.

D'Lyta Kerscher, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kerscher, made her initial appearance as the little girl in the same applause-getting maneuver.

The grand entry lasted 30 minutes Wednesday night, sending the Possum Kingdom Sheriff's posse from Graham into the arena as the starter.

Aldredge Estes, Sr., veteran rodeo timekeeper here, observed that a record number of grand entry participants moved into the arena.

The chute crew had the answer Thursday to the failure of the broncs to cut loose. Chute Boss Gordon found the boys had "cinched" them too tight.

Heart Cross, the bronc which "froze" outside the chute gate with ex-champion Harley May, never had pulled that stunt before.

It'll be different Thursday night, Everett Colborn and his chief aides assure.

8,000 Crowd Stands; Pokes Deliver Goods

By COPE ROUGH

The rough-riding drama of the open range came to life again Wednesday night.

Tough men battling tough animals without giving or asking an inch—sometimes winning, sometimes losing. Calloused hands tossing twisting ropes—sometimes hitting, sometimes missing.

Straining biceps tugging in a sweaty, grimy tug-of-war with stubborn calves and angry steers.

The arching flight of a human body into the mounds of arena dust, the crazy antics of a couple of crazy, foahardy clowns, the blare of band music, the excited voices of the announcer.

The weary walk back of the ambitious cowpokes who grabbed at the pot of gold and found only air.

That was the story of the opening Wednesday night of the 19th annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

A record crowd of 8,000 fans, setting a new high mark in this biggest rodeo show of West Texas, saw three hours of this dramatic spectacle.

Fast Pace From Start

And when the last bit of sand had settled in the rain-spattered arena, a handful of cowboys were well along the road that leads to more than $12,000 in cash prizes.

They set a fast pace Wednesday night as the show moved into the opening go-round but the rest of the 126 cowboys, including the nation's best, will be aiming at Wednesday night's marks during the remaining four performances of "the show which closes Sunday night."

Some of the top cowboys will see action for the first time Thursday night, when the second performance gets underway at 8 p.m. in the Fair Park arena.

Harry Tompkins, the Dublin cowboy, who was world champion all-around cowboy last year, will make his Midland debut of 1953 when he comes out of Chute No. 3 on old Bootlegger, one of the toughest broncs in Producer Everett Colborn's string of rough untamed horses.

Manfield To Rope

Toots Manfield, the all-time great from Big Spring, will draw his first animal in the calf-roping event and little Buttons Yonnick, the Midland 1948 all-around cowboy champ, will go riding on a tough old bull called simply No. 2.

But all that is Thursday night and the show really will have to move along to beat the opening night excitement.

The parade of a quartet of a million dollars worth of "horsethief" opened the big show as 350 horses snaked their way through the arena in the colorful grand entry.

They stood restlessly while officials were introduced and Capt. Charlie Hips of Graham received the trophy, on behalf of his Possum Kingdom Sheriff's posse, for being the outstanding group of (Continued On Page Nine)

Dutchman Draws Fine, Dodges Jail

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Henry W. Grunewald, Washington mystery man, was fined $1,000 and given a suspended jail sentence Thursday for contempt of Congress.

U. S. District Judge Alexander Holtzoff sentenced the influence peddler to 90 days in jail, but instead of requiring him to serve the sentence placed him on probation for one year.

The fine imposed is the maximum for contempt of Congress. The maximum jail term is one year.

Judge Holtzoff last week ordered a heart specialist to examine Grunewald, who is 61 years old, to determine whether going to jail would impair his life or health.

The doctor, Bernard J. Walsh, submitted a report but its contents were not disclosed.

Before passing sentence, the judge asked Grunewald whether he had anything to say.

"No, sir, your honor," the heavy-set, bald Grunewald replied.

His attorney, William H. Collins, had a little to say.

Collins immediately paid Grunewald's fine.

Asked by reporters how he felt about the sentence, Grunewald said:

"So far as the judge, he is a truthful and honest man, and as far as I'm concerned, I am a very sick fellow."

Flying Mud May Fall Over Sector

Possible thunderstorm activity, light showers and blowing sand were forecast for the Midland area Thursday afternoon and evening with south-southwest winds expected to reach 30 miles an hour after 8 p.m.

The GAR Control Tower at Midland Air Terminal recorded only a trace of moisture Wednesday, although rain washed freely through the downtown area and rodeo fans at the Fair Grounds on East Highway 90 sat through heavy showers.

The hot thronomy continued in most of Texas Thursday with a dab of dust kicked up in the South Plains. Wednesday's maximum temperatures ranged from 109 at Presidio to 91 at Galveston.

Ablenian Found Dead Of Gunshot

DALLAS—(AP)—Reginald Marvin Waltrip, 37, of Abilene was found dead early Thursday in front of a home in South Dallas. He had been shot once above the right ear. A .35 caliber pistol lay beside him.

Mrs. Ollie Adams told investigators Waltrip had come to her house a few minutes earlier, then departed. She said she heard a shot and summoned the man's uncle, The Waltrip, who operates a tavern here.

Proud, Thrilling Wonderland Of Beauty Dazzles Public As Parade Hails Rodeo

By BOB GALLAWAY Reporter-Telegram Staff

There were two miles of it. Two wonderful miles—and according to the thousands who lined the streets of Midland, it was the best, the biggest and the most colorful opening-day parade in 19 years of Midland rodeos.

Beautifully decorated floats flanked by the prettiest of Texas girls, handsome horses, lovable and laughable clowns and riders of every description flowed along the streets of Midland Wednesday—giving the judges a rough time and the thousands overfilling city curbs a wonderful preview of the 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

Prize winners, their prizes and the donors announced at the opening performance Wednesday night were: John King, Sr., 61-year-old most typical "old timer"—Western hat, Wilson Dry Goods.

Allen Caraway, Roswell, N. M.—most typical cowboy, 235 Stetson hat, Dunlap's.

John Weston—most typical junior cowboy (under 19 years of age), Western shirt, T. Paul Barron's.

Attractive Cowgirls

Nancy Roberts—most attractive cowgirl (15 years of age or over), choker, Yosaski's Jewelry.

Connie Cook—most attractive junior cowgirl (18 years of age or over), matching locket and bracelet, Hughes Jewelry Company.

Dan Ratcliff and Ann Beaucamp—Best clowns, $30 prize, Model Shop.

Possum Kingdom Sheriff's posse—Best posse, trophy given by the Midland Sheriff's posse.

Where to start? How to describe the spectacle? 'Twould take hours to paint a picture of this parade.

Take, for example, the antics of the 40 clowns who cavorted in and around the marching bands and erect riders. Trick cars from the Odessa Shrine club pitched and bucked, midget scooters scurried thither and yon and water-pistol-packing funsters kept spectators ducking (and gave beautiful gals on the floats and in cars a few uneasy moments).

The judges looked around and picked what they considered the top clown (or clowns as it were). Two youngsters, Dan Ratcliff and (Continued On Page Nine) a way of making cruel plays with an air of utter innocence. His play in today's hand, for example, was a typical Nails' swindle.

Holding the West cards, Nails opened the four of spades. East South won with the king. South naturally led the deuce of diamonds next, and Bobby innocently produced the queen of diamonds.

Perhaps there are players with enough strength of character (or with a suspicious enough nature) to resist such a temptation. The actual South player didn't hesitate for a second. He played the king of diamonds from the dummy and hit his nails when East discarded. (He hit his own nails, not Bobby's.)

Declarer could make only three diamond tricks and therefore had no real play for nine tricks at no-trump. He actually managed to take only seven tricks, whereas correct play would have given him 10 tricks.

Incidentally, the correct play for South isn't too easy to find. When declarer leads the first diamond from his hand, even if West plays low, declarer must play a low diamond from the dummy.

If both hands happen to follow to the first rounds of diamonds, South can regain the lead and run the rest of dummy's diamonds. If East shows out on the first round of diamonds, as would be the case in this hand, declarer can take the marked finesse at the next trick.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West North East South
3 Hearts 3 Spades Pass ?

You, South, hold: Spades 8-6, Hearts A-J-5, Diamonds A-Q-7-3, Clubs K-J-6-2. What do you do?
A—Bid three no-trump. If your partner has some scattered strength he will pass, and you will surely have a good play for this game contract. If your partner's sole strength is in a long and almost solid spade suit, he will go on to game in spades and will probably make it.

Even Reds Stay Away In Drones

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Communist Party newspaper Pravda severely criticized two of the Soviet Union's outstanding drama theater Thursday for failing to be a model to other Russian theaters in developing new plays. The paper said all kinds of good new plays are needed.

The editorial blast was aimed at the Moscow Art and Moscow Maly Theaters. Pravda complained that playwrights do not get close enough to life, that their plays too frequently do not have a ring of reality about them.

"It is time for the theaters and dramatists to remember," Pravda declared, "that no matter how great is the love of the audience for the theater, they will not attend bad and boring plays."

Swank Hotel Breaks Two-Week Contract Chris Jorgenson

LAS VEGAS, NEV.—(AP)—In a letter to Christine Jorgenson beginning "Dear Sir," the Hotel Sahara says it is breaking its contract with the former GI who underwent sex surgery in Denmark.

The Sahara said Wednesday Jorgenson was misrepresented in the contract as a woman. Christine was scheduled to appear at the hotel as an entertainer for two weeks beginning July 14 at a salary of $12,900 a week.

Attorney John H. Brill representing the hotel says a contract clause states the performance will consist of "narration of her film entitled 'Denmark'." The contract is being voided under a "mistake of fact," Brill said, adding that the hotel is taking at face value statements from medical sources that Jorgenson "is not now and never can be a woman."

A Los Angeles theater where Miss Jorgenson entertained reported business was poor during the engagement.

East Germany's Regime Accused Of Anti-Semitism

CHICAGO—(AP)—The World Jewish Congress Thursday accused the Communist regime of East Germany of a vicious anti-Semitism causing Jews to live in terror.

Events of the last three months show conclusively that Jews of East Germany are being singled out for discriminatory treatment, said the report released by the congress' Chicago office.

Those events were listed as: Seizure of all property of Jewish families who fled to the West; widespread purge of Jews holding even minor jobs; secret orders to the Communist Party calling for removal of all Jews from public office; cross-examination of all Jews on possible Western connections; and repeated police raids on Jewish homes and the seizure of documents.

Riots Punctuate Italian Campaign

ROME—(AP)—Italy Thursday approached a crucial parliamentary election weekend with mounting tension after the nation's first night of political violence in many weeks.

Riot police patrolled Naples scene of a bloody brawl Wednesday night between supporters of the pro-Fascist MSI faction and police during which 34 persons were hospitalized and 100 arrested.

Elsewhere in the peninsula police were on guard to stop any new outbreaks. Forty MSI partisans were arrested Wednesday night in Rovigo, North Italy, after they demonstrated against a police ban on a planned meeting.

Only two days of campaigning were left until the nation chooses whether to stand with the moderate coalition of Premier Alcide de Gasperi or to turn right or left.

Experienced Cast Rehearses Classic By Wilde For MCT

An experienced Community Theater cast is at work on Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest." The play is being rehearsed at the City-Country Auditorium June 10 and continues through June 13.

The scrambled plot of Wilde's perennially popular play mainly is concerned with an elegant wastrel named John Worthing who has invented a disolute younger brother named Earnest whom he impersonates when he goes on a fling. His friend, Algernon Moncreiff, is a thoughtful young man who has invented a sick friend named Bunbury on whom to blame his own peccadilloes. The pitfalls accompanying chronic deception are exemplified hilariously when these polite philanderers both pretend to be Earnest to please the ladies in whom they are interested.

Cecily Cardew, John Worthing's ward, becomes very much interested in his younger brother, whom she has never met. She naturally is surprised when her guardian's friend Algernon suddenly turns up and introduces himself as Earnest.

For 60 years critics and audiences have agreed that while Wilde was unraveling the comic complications of this absurd situation, he missed no opportunity for caustic comment on the artificial manners, morals and customs of high society, and that every scene of this now classic comedy spiced liberally with the wit and epigrams for which Wilde always has been celebrated.

In writing of John Gielgud's recent New York revival of "The Importance of Being Earnest," the eminent critic George Jean Nathan wrote, "For wit one must look far in the modern drama to find its like. It is so extremely skillful a comedy in all directions that, see it as often as one may, it still exercises its fascination."

Arthur Nations will be seen here in the celebrated part of the bored and languishing John Worthing, a role which has distinguished the careers of actors from Henry Miller to Clifton Webb, and furnished John Gielgud with one of his most successful Broadway engagements.

Dorothy Perkins will be following in the footsteps of such great ladies of the theater as Estelle Winwood, Lucile Watson and Margaret Ruthersford in assuming the role of the snobbish Lady Bracknell, one of the wittiest comic creations in stage history.

Dixon As Algernon
Charles Dixon will portray the jaunty Algernon, an easy-going cynic. Billy Boultinghouse the girl who insists that the man she marries must be named Earnest, and Connie Fanning the attractive but more rustic Cecily.

Reverend Chausble, who has a grudge against his canonical eye, will be played, G. G. Cooper, and Betty Gaines will be seen as Miss Prism, the spinster schoolmarm.

Bob Conkling and James Johnson appear as the servants, so necessary to British drawing-room comedy.

The production will be directed by Art Cole and stage managed by Mrs. T. F. Harris.

It is believed that Dom Prigmore, cellar master of the Abbey of Hautvillers from 1670 to 1715, made the first champagne.

Glenn's now livin' it up with Ann Sheridan in "Rage in the Jungle," his first wide-screen film, and packing for a June 28 sailing from New Orleans to do "The Americano" in Rio. Wifey Eleanor Powell goes with him and he's smiling:

ACTRESS' BABY DIES

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Respiratory failure has caused the death of a baby born Monday to actress Barbara Britton and Dr. Eugene Cukor.

Only two days of campaigning were left until the nation chooses whether to stand with the moderate coalition of Premier Alcide de Gasperi or to turn right or left.

Besides the Defense Department, these other departments cut their payroll during the month: Commerce, State, Treasury and Welfare.

The net decrease, Byrd said, left the number of government workers at 2,802,780.

This Spring, the hydrangea has had as many as 64 clusters of blossoms at one time and the gardenia tree as many as 40 or 50 blooms, in addition to a continuing crop of maturing buds. Both plants are about five years old.

Life." She also sang "Because" as a processional. Decorations for the sanctuary of the church featured a centered communion table arrangement of white gladiolus and Maroon daisies. The communion table was flanked on each side by four matching baskets of the same flowers. Tall tapers in seven-branched candelabra accented the sanctuary decorations and the pews were marked with white satin ties. Attendants Named Honor attendants for the couple were Norma Sinclair and Jack Odle, brother-in-law of the bridegroom. Serving as ushers and candle lighters were Thomas Kingrea of West Columbia, Texas, brother of the bridegroom, and Kirby D. Schenck. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a wedding gown of star white imported French lace and tulle over slipper satin. The lace of the bodice was scalloped onto an illusion yoke, extending into the shoulder line to form tiny scalloped lace sleeves. The gracefully full skirt, worn over starched crinolines, was in waltz length and was accented with layers of pleated tulle ruffles. The bride's veil of imported French illusion was caught to a Juliet cap of lace accented with pearls and drifted in tiers to her waist. She wore matching lace mitta edged with finely pleated tulle and wore a single strand of pearls. Her hand bouquet was a styled cascade of white carnations and stephanotis centered with a white orchid and completed with a shower of narrow white satin ribbon tied with love knots and stephanotis. Strands of pearls accented the bouquet. Miss Sinclair was wearing a dress of French pink tulle over taffeta. A short jacket of matching tulle topped the strapless bodice and the full waltz-length skirt was worn over crinolines. Completing the costume, Miss Sinclair wore a bandeau of pink taffeta and carried a cascade hand bouquet of Virginia pink carnations showered with pink satin ribbons. Assisting the couple in receiving guests for the reception in the church annex were the bride's mother and the honor attendants. Mrs. Paul E. Haskins and Anne White, sister of the bride, presided at the refreshment table and Mrs. Jack Odle, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests. Also in the house-party were Rita Beights and Mrs. A. L. Barr. White snapdragons and Ester Reed-daisies were combined in the centerpiece for the refreshment table, which was covered with an ivory lace cloth and laid with crystal and silver appointments. Baskets of Maroon daisies and white gladiolus completed the decorations for the reception. For traveling, the bride changed to a navy linen sheath dress, accented with white trim, with a matching box jacket. Her accessories were white and she wore a cattleya orchid corsage. Out-of-city guests included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kingrea of West Columbia; Mrs. W. E. Gray, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Mansell, Rankin; Mrs. Sam VanHoozier, Alpine; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Million Dollars Eases Money Worries Of Bobo Rockefeller

NEW YORK—(AP)—A million dollars—like a magic wand—Thursday leavened the spat over money between Winthrop Rockefeller and his estranged Cinderella bride, Barbara (Bobo) Rockefeller.

After Rockefeller Wednesday set up a million-dollar trust fund for the pretty, blonde Bobo, she promptly said she hoped to establish a home nearer him.

She has been living on her family's farm near Lowell, Ind., with their son since the fairytale marriage broke up three and a half years ago. She has complained she was penniless.

Rockefeller, in providing the trust fund, which will give her a $20,000-a-year tax-free income, asked to share companionship of their son Winthrop Paul, four.

In Lowell, Mrs. Rockefeller said her husband always has had visitation privileges, but hasn't used them, and that she had even suggested—in vain—bringing the boy to New York to see his father.

"After all," she said, "we are neither separated nor divorced."

She added: "I hope my son and I can now establish a proper home, near his father if possible."

The marriage in 1948 of the wealthy heir to Rockefeller oil millions and Bobo, daughter of an immigrant Lithuanian coal miner, had been a real-life "prince" and "poor girl" wedding.

But they parted company shortly after their child's birth in September, 1948.

Last year, Rockefeller set up a million-dollar trust fund for the youngster. At the same time, Mrs. Rockefeller told the Chicago Daily News she was broke and living off the charity of friends.

She said her son realized "a small amount" from the trust fund but added:

"I wouldn't touch it except for a real emergency."

In announcing the new trust fund, Rockefeller's lawyer, Timothy H. Pfeiffer, said the income from the boy's trust fund now is $9,000 annually.

It "will increase as he grows older until he ultimately receives the full income of one million dollars," the attorney said. He added:

"Mr. Rockefeller hopes that his wife will now be willing to agree to arrangements under which in the future he may have the custody of Winthrop Paul at regular intervals so that he will have the companionship of his son."

Taft Denies Use Of 'Go It Alone'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said Thursday he did not use the words "go it alone" in his May 26 discussion of Korean policy to which President Eisenhower took exception.

Taft made this comment to reporters at the White House on leaving a legislative conference of the President and Republican Congressional leaders. Taft has been hospitalized for treatment of a hip ailment and it was his first meeting with Eisenhower since their public policy disagreement.

The Ohioan refused to discuss the matter further, but said he might make a statement on one point later, probably Friday. He said there was no mention of it at the White House session.

Taft's statements to which the President took exception were in a speech prepared for a Cincinnati audience.

His son read the speech for him because Taft was in the hospital.

In the speech, Taft said:

"I believe we might as well forget the United Nations as far as the Korean War is concerned. I think we should do our best now to negotiate this truce, and if we fail, then let England and our other allies know that we are withdrawing from all further peace negotiations in Korea."

Taft also said: "I believe we might as well abandon any idea of working with the United Nations in the east and reserve to ourselves a completely free hand."

In asking Taft about the "go it alone" comment Thursday, the reporter said the phrase had been used editorially. The reporter did not specifically refer to the President.

"I didn't use the words 'go it alone,'" Taft said.

He refused to elaborate and said "I have no more comment" given when asked, "Do you still stand on your speech?"

When the doctor said Joe would have to lay off baseball for a week, the youngster replied:

"OK, put on the biggest bandage you've got. Then I won't have to do my homework."

Mexico Police Bare Red Fifth Column In Latin America

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico's largest newspaper, Excelsior, reported Thursday that Mexican police have uncovered a detailed Russian plot aimed at Communist seizure of power in Latin-American countries.

Success of the scheme, it said, would turn Mexico, Central and South America into "another Poland and Czechoslovakia."

The independent conservative newspaper quoted highly authoritative police sources as saying that Mexico is a center of Russian efforts to build up Red fifth columns throughout Latin America. Mexican Communists and political exiles from other nations—mostly Socialists and Communists—were reported aiding in the plot.

Excelsior said its police sources reported that the Russian Embassy in Mexico City controls 32 Communist cells working throughout Latin America. The embassy itself, the sources added, is working through the Polish and Czechoslovak legations here in an effort to avert suspicion.

Murder Charged In Mine Violence

CLAY, W. VA.—(AP)—Three men were indicted on a murder charge and 45 other freed Wednesday in the fatal shooting of a nonstriking miner.

The mass arrest and charge against the four dozen men followed the May 7 shooting of Charles Frame, 29, at a mine in nearby Widen. The Clay County grand jury singled out Jennings R. Ball, Dennis A. Graham and Clifford L. Pritchard.

They were among a group of pickets at the Elk River Coal and Lumber Company, scene of violence during an eight-month strike over a union organizing move.

Retired Minister Attends Church Rites On Stretcher

NEW ORLEANS—A retired minister celebrated his 100th birthday by going to church on a stretcher.

Dr. George Summey attended services Wednesday at the Third Presbyterian Church here, where he was pastor from 1903 to 1928. It was the second time he has left his bed since he was confined to a hospital almost two years ago. Last year, he celebrated his ninety-ninth birthday in the church. Congratulations were received from President Eisenhower, Gov. Robert Kennon of Louisiana and many church leaders. Dr. Summey was the youngest person to graduate from Davidson College at Davidson, N. C., and now is the college's oldest alumnus. The century-old minister was born in Asheville, N. C., and was ordained in 1873. He served churches in Tennessee, Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina and Louisiana.

Doctors Offer Safety Cough Test For Cigarette Smokers

NEW YORK—(AP)—A safety test for cigarette smokers before they take anesthesia for operations was recommended Thursday to the American Medical Association convention.

The test is to cough, to make sure the breathing airways are clear. Or, for heavy smokers, to keep coughing until they are clear.

The test, and reason for it, were described by Dr. Barnett A. Greene and Dr. S. Berkowitz of Brooklyn.

Smoking, especially the inhaling of cigarette smoke, is a main cause of bronchitis, or inflammation of the breathing airways, they said. Smoking is four to seven times more common cause of bronchitis than anything else, including various infections.

The bronchitis can lead to numerous complications during or after taking of anesthetics, even those given by vein and not breathed in, like ether, Greene said. Sometimes, it can cause death, due to phlegm blocking the breathing tubes.

Anyone smoking more than a pack of cigarettes a day is likely to have such bronchitis, the doctors said. Two packs a day is fairly sure to produce it.

The cough test is a safety measure. The airways are clear if the cough is a single event, not particularly easy to do. An abnormal cough is one which is self-propagating, leading to more coughs, either "wet" or "dry." Troubles can be avoided by asking patients to cough, to make sure the airways are clear.

answer, said Dr. Richard G. Troutman of New York Hospital Cornell University.

A magnet is placed in the eye socket after the diseased or damaged eye is removed. It is attached to the muscles which normally control the movements of the eyeball, in synchronization with the muscles of the opposite, good eye.

Later, the artificial eye is put in place, with a magnet attached to the back of the glass eye. It then moves in response to the eye muscles.

New Ideas On Ulcers

Dr. Seymour J. Gray of Harvard Medical School suggested that stomach ulcers may be brought on, not by nervous stimulation, but through hormones.

The stomach itself, he said, may be a gland-like organ of the body, reacting to hormones just as do other glands of the body.

So, he explained, the hypothalamus gland in the brain, reacting to human emotions, such as worry may affect the pituitary gland in the brain, which releases a hormone, ACTH, which prompts the adrenal glands, sitting over the kidneys, to produce adrenal hormones which perhaps affect the stomach. The stomach may be activated to produce more acids and pepsin, which are blamed for causing stomach ulcers.

Agriculture Shakeup Authority Authorized

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson gained broad authority Thursday to reorganize his 67,000-employee agency.

This power went to him Wednesday midnight after Congress permitted an Agriculture Department reorganization plan, submitted in March by President Eisenhower, to go into effect.

Both the House and Senate voted down measures to disapprove the agriculture plan. The House action, taken Wednesday, was by a vote of 361-126, with only one Republican Representative from Iowa, voting against the plan.

ARREST REVEALS 'FAITH GIFT'

Prison Pal Gives $19,000 To Youth Gaining Freedom

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—He said he wanted to give the kid a chance—So convict J. C. (Jimmy) Henderson, 46, in for double murder, gave $19,000 to Alton B. Franks, 19, finishing up his term for car theft.

Henderson was a ranchman in West Texas, Culberson County, before he started serving his 30-year term in the state prison here eight years ago. He figured he is worth $500,000 to $600,000.

Young Franks got out of prison May 18, went back to his home town of Houston, bought himself a new car, married a 16-year-old Houston girl, bought new clothes for himself and his bride and planned a California honeymoon.

Found With Pistol

But officers arrested Franks Wednesday. That's when the story of two convicts came out.

Franks was in the boys reform school before he was 18 and had served 17 months of his two-year sentence for car theft from Caldwell County when he was released.

Henderson said he had given his daughter, Mrs. D. H. Stoupp, 27, of Tornillo, the power of attorney and asked her to deposit the $19,000 for Franks in a Huntsville bank.

Franks in Beddies

He said he had helped other convicts on "two or three" previous occasions by giving them $100 and $100 for new clothes when they got out of prison.

He said he had no agreement with Franks about the money.

"Nothing but a gentleman's agreement," he added. I told him this—"I want to see what you can do with this money. You can throw it away, invest it, make money for both of us if you so desire. I'm leaving it up to you to do the right thing because I have faith in you."

Tax Settlements To Be Publicized

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorney General Brownell says his department now is making public its settlements of civil and tax cases.

Any such cases settled by the Justice Department without going to court will be "made a matter of public record," Brownell said Wednesday in a talk to members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity.

Brownell said there would be an exception to the publicity rule for minor cases, defined as settlements of less than $10,000.

Eisenhower Tells 'Family Circle' U. S. Won't Risk War, Insecurity

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower inaugurated a new era of presidential contact with the people Wednesday night—pledging on a "family circle" telecast there would be no assessment of communism and "no risk of general war."

Surrounded by four members of his official family, and inviting his millions of television watchers to think of themselves as fellow-dwellers in "the national house," Eisenhower gave these assurances in a precedent-setting White House report to the nation:

"We are going to keep our temper; we are going to build our strength."

"We are not going to cripple this nation and we are going specifically to keep up its air power."

"Our effort is to secure peace and prosperity in peace."

So, in easy conversational style, and passing the ball repeatedly to his Cabinet aides, Eisenhower met head on the accusations aired in Congress only a few hours before that his Air Force budget cuts are imperiling the nation's security.

Gets Free Advice
He did more than that: By introducing the TV presidential panel program, with free technical advice from some of the highest-priced advertising experts in the business, he gave a new dimension to the "fireside chat" invented by Franklin D. Roosevelt and adapted for radio and television, now and then, by Harry S. Truman.

Eisenhower's audience, estimated by TV circles at 80,000,000, saw little hint of the backstage paraphernalia—the three red-eyed TV cameras, the big white cards with the panel members' cues, the glaring lights. And, naturally, they saw nothing of the two intensive earlier rehearsals designed to make the show look spontaneous and un-rehearsed.

They saw and heard the President, a little fidgety at first but calm as you please later, lean on his desk and talk . . . tell them, with a reference to the 1933 concessions to Adolph Hitler that sowed the seeds of the last world war and became a symbol of appeasement:

No New Munich
"There is going to be no new Munich and at the same time there is going to be no risk of a general war, because a modern war would be too horrible to contemplate."

Then they saw him, rather like a principal introducing the teachers on parents' visiting day, introduce the four department heads.

George M. Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury, spoke first. He said—as he has said before—the budget should be balanced a year from now unless the Russians upset the apportionment. And that, if Congress keeps the excess profits tax for another six months, there'll be a tax cut for everybody at the beginning of next year.

File Of Letters
"My Secretary," said Eisenhower, "I endorse every single word you say."

Then, with the camera moving swiftly, Eisenhower introduced the others to say their pieces—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, chief in a blue outfit with pale blue perky hat;

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, promising a "grass roots" approach to the farm surplus problem; Attorney General Brownell, pledging to uproot every bad security risk in the government "in the next few months."

Nobody talked very long. Charts and graphs appeared on the screen in profusion, to hold the attention of TV watchers. For further variety, Eisenhower flashed a letter from a pile of 3,000 that he said flooded into the White House in a single week.

Too Much Money
It was from a Pawtucket, R. I., housewife—not named—who said the government's spending figures are so huge she finds it almost impossible to grasp them.

"I might tell the lady," Eisenhower said dryly, "so do I."

Many a member of Congress watched this panel production which, the President said, is the first of a series.

Republicans generally found it Grade A.

"An exceptional presentation," said Senator Carlson (R-Kan.).

"Clear, understanding," said House Speaker Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.).

Rayburn Silent
Democrats were less ready to cheer.

"I don't see anything to comment on," said House Democratic Leader Rayburn (D-Texas).

Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), however, called the program "a very effective innovation."

A further comment came from Ben Duffy, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn, the New York advertising agency which donated its assistance in producing the telecast.

"I think it was one of our best shows," he said.

New Rains Heighten Montana Flood Peril

GREAT FALLS, MONT.—(AP)—More showers fell early Thursday to heighten the flood threat from Northwest Montana streams already swollen by heavy rains.

Laboring around the clock, 300 to 400 men filled sandbags and built dikes along the Sun River in West Great Falls. They included personnel from the Great Falls air base.

Maj. James Austin, reporting parts of a six by 18-block district in that low-lying section were under three inches to three feet of water, said a state of near-emergency exists.

Forecasters promised more rain over Northwest Montana in the area east of the Continental Divide, where at least 113 families had fled their homes.

HERE FROM ODESSA
Mrs. A. P. Jones, Mrs. Luther Hut-ton and Mrs. J. C. Miller of Odessa visited here Wednesday.

VISITED IN EL PASO
Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Davis were recent visitors in El Paso with her daughter, Mrs. Art Lange.

Speaking of security problems, Eisenhower said with reference to his forthcoming talks with Prime Minister Churchill and whatever premier the French have chosen by that time:

"I am going over to Bermuda to meet with some of our friends and talk over these things. But remember, in these vast problems that affect every one of our lives, there is no thought that you can cut the knots; you must untie them slowly and laboriously."

'Water In Your Coffee'
Eisenhower went on, interrupting himself to call on the various Cabinet members, to a discussion of other problems:

The deficit: "During 17 of the last 20 years we have gone into debt. Borrowing cheapens money. That is like water in your coffee."

Economy: "These expensive mili-

Seven Die When Car Strikes Train

CHICAGO—(AP)—A mother, her three daughters and three granddaughters were killed Wednesday night when their crowded automobile crashed into a Michigan Central Railroad passenger train. No one on the train was hurt.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Catherine Zawacki, 60, her daughters, Mrs. Irene Skala, 22, Mrs. Genevieve Kovack, 26, and Patricia Zawacki, 18; and her granddaughters, Barbara Davis, 11, Arlene Zawacki, seven, and Jacqueline Kovack, five.

IT WAS HAGERTY'S IDEA— President, Aides 'Do' TV Show Like Veteran Troupers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—It was just as if the President of the United States and a quarter of his top helpers had paid you a visit to chat about the affairs of state.

Watching our television set, you saw President Eisenhower in the first television broadcast from the White House. With him were four Cabinet members: Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Hobby, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Secretary of Agriculture Benson and Attorney General Brownell.

First names were in order, as befits the easy informality of conversation in your living room.

Cue On Cards
There were no typed speeches. The visitors talked mostly right at you, but occasionally their eyes flickered to one side.

That was to see the big cue cards, which bore phrases like those an-orator jots down for an off-the-cuff speech. "There are two ways to balance the budget," said one card. They also bore data to tell the talkers how they were keeping pace with the half-hour period of their visit via all the TV networks.

Like good visitors—and good TV performers—they finished what they had to say and left. It was "right on the button," according to an aide to Ben Duffy, the advertising man whose firm donated its technical assistance.

Two rehearsals had gone several minutes overtime.

In The Fish Bowl
Duffy, exchanging congratulations in the midst of some 30 cameramen and technicians, wore a big smile. He had hovered outside camera range throughout the performance.

"I think it was one of our best shows," he said. "I wasn't worried about timing. Rehearsals always run long."

Looking into the conference room from which the broadcast emanated—it is across from Eisenhower's office and is called the "Fish Bowl" because fish used to be kept there—all you really saw were the cameras and lights. They were ranged in a semicircle close to the desk, chair and sofa occupied by the five stars. With the air-conditioning cut off because of its noise, the air was tight. There was a strong odor like that of hot paint—the odor, technicians said, of the TV lights.

How To Look Cool
Perspiration darkened the shirt collars of the technicians. But Eisenhower and his supporting cast kept their cool look, thanks to pancake makeup.

Outside the White House a big van—the directing truck—picked up the images from three TV cameras, selected one and relayed it out to the networks.

Outside the conference room, sitting in his office and watching his set while chain-smoking cigarettes, was James Hagerty, the presidential press secretary, who had told newsmen earlier:

"It was my own idea."

Russia Offers Soviet Tours To Austrian Labor Leaders

VIENNA, AUSTRIA—(AP)—Russia is making a new bid to entice thousands of normally pro-Western and anti-Communist Austrian workers to visit the Soviet Union. It was disclosed here Thursday. So far, however, the invitation generally is being ignored.

Practically every Austrian shop steward—there are 47,000 of them, mostly anti-Red Socialists—recently received invitations to apply for Russian visas. So did hundreds of other persons of both left and right-wing political views who have connections with the Austrian labor movement.

Reportedly, only a few of those invited have accepted.

American labor unions in Vienna declined the big Soviet drive because a few weeks ago, apparently it has two purposes:

1. To strengthen the Kremlin's "peace offensive" in Austria by opening up the Soviet Union to conducted tours similar to those extended recently to a party of American newspaper and radio executives who visited Moscow.

2. To win converts to communism who will return to this strategic outpost of Western democracy full of enthusiasm over the Soviet "workers' paradise" and ready to aid Austria's negligible Communist Party.

American sources said the Soviet drive may be an attempt to match U. S. invitations to selected Austrian workers to work and study in America for a year.

The Soviet trips, however, are good only for six weeks.

Jacqueline Cochran Hangs Up Two New Air Speed Records

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, CALIF.—(AP)—Jacqueline Cochran, having set two more marks, Thursday holds all but one of the international closed and straight course air speed records for both men and women.

The 47-year-old aviatrix Wednesday flew her Canadair-built P-40 Sabre 364 670 miles an hour over a 15-kilometer straightaway course (9.3 miles) near Rogers Dry Lake —one dash in each direction to offset the effect of wind.

The National Aeronautic Association's report of this feat also disclosed another record Miss Cochran set May 23, when she averaged 590.273 miles an hour for 500 kilometers (310.5 miles) around a 12-pylon 100-kilometer course.

Only speed mark not held by Miss Cochran is the three-kilometer, 599 mph mark set by Maj. Slade Nash of the Air Force last November.

Miss Cochran says she may try to set an unofficial three-kilo mark. But because her Canadair Sabre at present is not equipped with afterburners for extra thrust, it is held unlikely she can equal Nash's record at this time.

SILVER TUBE KEEPS DEATH AWAY—One-year-old Rudy Sterpa, Jr., is able to breathe only because of a silver tube in his throat which keeps it from closing, due to ja growth. He is the son of Josephine and Rudy Sterpa, Sr., of Cleveland, O. His mother, with whom he is pictured at the left, keeps a day-and-night watch over him. She must be alert to change the tube when it becomes clogged with mucus. Any delay or fumbling might allow the boy to suffocate. When the boy cries, he can't be heard, because the tube bypasses his larynx. An operation in several years may remedy the condition, but in the meantime, the vigil against death goes on.

PRIZE WINNING FLOAT—Midland in miniature took the $25 third place for the Kiwanis Club in the opening-day parade of the Championship Midland Rodeo. The major buildings of downtown Midland stood as reminders of the growth of this West Texas city.

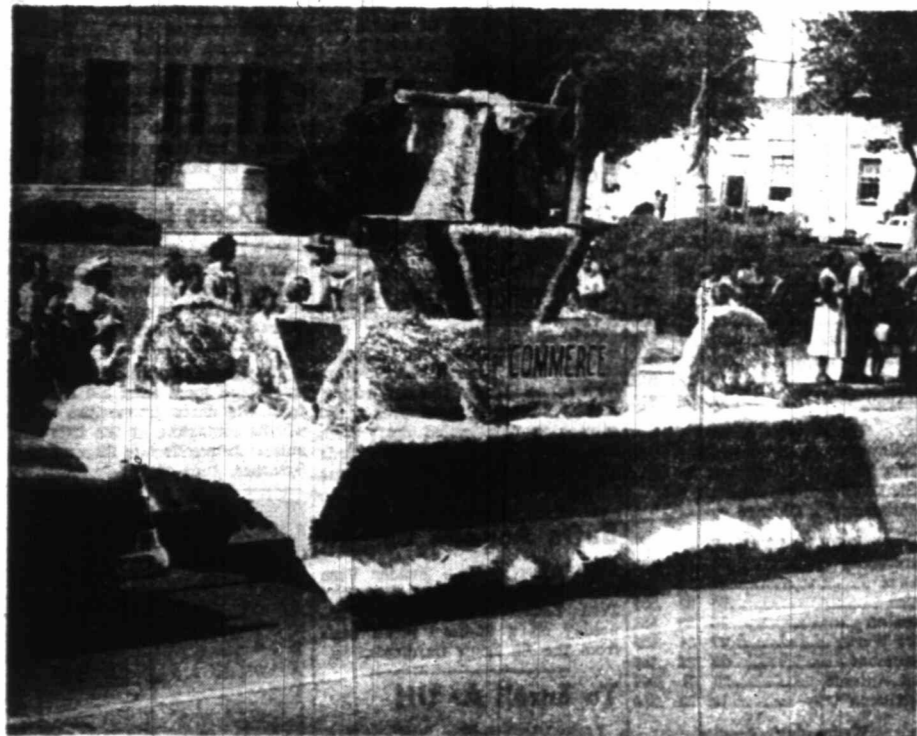

PARADE PRINCESS—Beta Sigma Phi's lovely princess bows to the thousands of spectators who saw this and the many other beautiful floats which passed before them in the opening-day parade of the Midland Rodeo.

Ann Beauchamp, copped the title. Spectators will remember the tri-cycle-riding pair of clowns, the boy obediently pulling the girl along. There was even beauty in the laughter of the clowns. But the greatest beauty was in the floats—more than 30 of 'em. Take, for instance, the top three floats (according to the judges). In first place for the $150 prize was the Heart Association's simple but expressive red and white ensemble. A young girl sat among the red and white flowers, backed, of course, by a large heart. The Welcome Wagon. Then came the Welcome Wagon, which got the judges' $75 nod for being one of the most original and appropriate floats in the parade. A whole gang of people dressed in the old-fashioned garb of early West Texans rode the nicely decorated wagon, beaming their welcome to new Midlanders and non-Midlanders alike. Third-place Kiwanis caught the spirit of a progressive city with their moving model of downtown Midland. Scaled-down replicas of every major downtown building were shown. The float also rated as one of the most appropriate, and won $25. But there were many more which, though they didn't win a prize, are worthy of special mention. Big Blue Stars. Beta Sigma Phi's lovely lady who flower-filled dress reached to the street brought comment galore from the watchers. So did the Jack-in-the-box presented by the Midland National Bank. The First National Bank displayed a full-flying flag of red, white and blue crepe paper brilliance. And there were others, such as Lone Star Beer's picnic by the sea, Pearl Beer's backyard loafing, Royal Crown Cola's snowman flanked by bathing beauties, Piggy Wiggle's hobby horse marathon, the Lions Club symbolic spread, Wemple's organ concert, Home Demonstration Club's "cornerstone of freedom: the home," the rumbling tank and deadly machine gun of the Marine Corps Reserve, the 4-H Club's cross, a "growing force for freedom," and the desks and derricks of the Deak and Derrick Club and the Friends of the Library. Key To City. And that's not all. Here came the float that had a sweltering audience wishing, the happy lads and lassies frolicking in a swimming pool aboard Uncle Ruz's Toy Shop float; then San Angelo Bear's display of loveliness (enhanced, of course, by one of Midland's prettiest girls), Lloyd's jovial face (and pretty gals), Western Fence Company's tiny log cabin and fence, filled with Midland small-fry, the Jaycee bucking horse, Ma and Pa King in their Hi-D-Ho surry, and the floats, cars and trucks carrying Cub Scouts and Little League baseball stalwarts. And others, and others. Topping off the show was the Chamber of Commerce golden key to Midland, presented by way of a float to the many, many fans on hand for Midland's greatest rodeo. The key, appropriately, was the first in the series of impressive floats, riders and motorized units. Looking trim and snappy was the drill team from Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring. Spectators had to bend over to get a close look at the many miniature vehicles drawn by Shetlands from the Winters Shetland Pony Farm. Everything from Roman horsesmen in the Wednesday afternoon parade. Then the boys settled down to business as Announcer Ray Lackland called for the bareback bronc contest. Bill Linderman, the rough-riding buckaroo from Red Lodge, Mont., started it off with a successful ride on a mean old sorrel named "My Weakness." Behind him trailed the other bronc-busters and only two of the twelve bit the dust before the eight-second horn sounded. The first go-round in the bareback event will continue Thursday night but, on the basis of the first night's action, Jim O'Hara of Shoshone, Wyo., was leading in points with Bill Linderman and Guy Weeks of Abilene tied for second and third. Crane Ropers Shine. Some of the best boys in the business showed up for the calf-roping, and when the last little doggie had been tied, young Bill Lowe of Crane was setting the pace with a time of 10.8 seconds. Guy Weeks was trailing in second place with a time of 12.8 seconds; for Vaughn of Crane, third with 15.2 seconds, and J. D. Holleyman of Odessa, fourth, with 13.4 seconds. Other times in this event included: Troy Fort 15.8, Walton Pogue 21, Sunny Davis (no time), Olin Young 31.6, Bill Teague 13.6, Don McLaughlin 14.5, Jim Bob Altizer 17, Doyle Riley (no time), Tuffy Cooper 21.8, Homer Pettigrew (no time), Ray Wharton, 16.3, Buddy Groff 16.5, J. L. Sawyers 17, Riley Branch 23.8 (including 10-second penalty for breaking the barrier), John Caliseiman, Jr., 21.9, and Steve Stevenson (no time). Saddle Broncs Fade. The only disappointment of the evening came in the saddle-bronc event, when two of the horses practically couldn't budge. Harley May's Heart Cross took one step out of the chute and just stopped there, trembling the full 10 seconds. Buck Rutherford's Tommyhawk did little better, bucking a couple of times before calling it off for the night. But the rest of the broncs were as tough as they come, and when the event was over, Bill Linderman was leading in points with Bud Linderman and Deb Copenhaver trailing close behind. Buddy Groff of Honda flattened his animal in seven seconds to take the lead in the steer-wrestling event with Jim Bob Altizer in second with 7.2 seconds and Homer Pettigrew third with 9.5. Cutting Horse Contest. Other steer wrestling times included Elliott Calhoun 10.8, Monroe Tunlinson (no time), Bill Lowe 164, Bill Linderman 131, Bill Teague (no time), Harley May 124, Buck Rutherford 58.1, Junior Hayes 131, Bud Linderman 28. In the cutting horse contest, Hollywood Snapper, owned by Dr. D. G. Stolpe and ridden by Billy Bush, took the lead. Trailing him were Miss Nancy Bailey, owned and ridden by Bob Burton; Easter, owned by Mr. Hanson, owned by Cowden Bros and ridden by Courtney Cowden and Tano, owned by Leonard Procter and ridden by J. T. Fisher; Pettigrew Milk's Fast. Homer Pettigrew took the lead in the wild cow milking contest with a time of 39.2, trailed by Ray Wharton's 47.9, Buddy Groff's 66.7 and Harley May's 69. In the closing event—the Brahman bull-riding contest—C. R. Boucher of Beaumont piled up the largest number of points with Elliott Calhoun and Tex Sheppard were tied close behind. There were specialty acts, too. Buddy Groff of Honda flattened his animal in seven seconds to take the lead in the steer-wrestling event with Jim Bob Altizer in second with 7.2 seconds and Homer Pettigrew third with 9.5. Other steer wrestling times included Elliott Calhoun 10.8, Monroe Tunlinson (no time), Bill Lowe

WELCOME TO MIDLAND—The Midland Chamber of Commerce offers a huge gold key to the city to the thousands of visitors and Midlanders on hand for the 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo. The key was "handed out" during the colorful parade Wednesday.

PRE-RODEO MISHAP—Mrs. Polly Riley of Odessa, members of her family and onlookers stand by the body of the horse she was to ride in the opening-day rodeo parade here after the mount died in a freak trailer accident about 10 miles west of Midland. Three horses in the trailer began fighting, the Rileys explained, and the lurch of their bodies threw the pickup out of control. The trailer came loose and turned over, breaking the horse's neck. The other two steeds were not hurt.

chariots and range buggies to a full-equipped stagecoach made their pint-sized way along the parade route. Mounted Paraders. The winning Possum Kingdom (Graham) Posse with its 24 famed white horses led a line of visiting Sheriff's Posse (guests of the Midland Posse) including groups from Lynn, Ward, Pecca, Ector and Martin Counties, plus the Fast Shanks. All were bedecked in their rodeo best and riding beautiful horses. The Midland Sheriff's Posse showed off their new riding gear for the first time. Other featured guests in the parade included these officers of the Shrine Suez Temple, San Angelo; Harold Harlow of Brownwood, potentate, M. L. Ledy, chief rabbi, and Ben E. Godfrey, recorder, both of San Angelo, and Harry Rhodes of Midland, oriental guide. Midland's auto companies got their biggest chance to show off the latest in car beauty — which they did with relish. The tops in automotive styles, supported by the tops in feminine beauty were sprinkled liberally throughout the long parade. Plenty of Beauty. And speaking of beauty — both aboard horses, cars and floats — there was an ample supply. No parade would be complete without pretty girls in bathing suits, old-fashioned dresses and riding tops. This parade had 'em — and it was fine! Setting the march tempo were four Midland bands — and disrupting the march tempo was the Band of Bums, a mixture of all the fool-abuses Midlanders could muster which, surprising enough, could play real music. Other music-makers on the march were the Midland High School Band, under the direction of Ralph Mills, the official rodeo band; the San Jacinto Junior High Band, Ted James, director; the Cowden Junior High Band, Robert Gans, director, and the Carver High School Band. Rodeo chairman was Duke Jimeron. Members of the rodeo committee included Frank Cowden, Jr., John Nobles, Jr., and Courtney Cowden.

Two-Thirds Of Jury Chosen To Hear Case Of 'Jealousy Murder'

LEVELLAND — Four more were needed Thursday to complete a jury to try Jack Killingsworth, 29, Sandown school teacher accused of murdering a fellow teacher in a jealous rage. Eight jurors had been chosen when court recessed Wednesday night. An additional 57 veniremen were ordered for questioning Thursday. The state said it would not seek the death penalty in the shooting of Richard McChristal, 37, vocational agriculture teacher. He was shot 11 times outside an auditorium when school faculty members were rehearsing a play called "Meet the Body." Killingsworth, a shop teacher, interrupted the play rehearsal the night of February 27. He called McChristal outside. The next day Killingsworth told officers and reporters he "just went crazy" when he learned McChristal had forced his attentions on Mrs. Killingsworth.

Sparkling Musical Comedy Draws Midlanders' Praise

By TESSICA MARTIN
A large audience of Midlanders braved three hours of intense heat Wednesday night in the Midland High School Auditorium to enjoy the sparkling comedy and Cole Porter music of "Kiss Me Kate." The audience laughed heartily when the ladies and gentlemen of the chorus sang "It's Too Damn Hot" and applauded lustily when the male lead, John Myers, paused to check on the brief show that fell during the performance. The Midland production of the Broadway play about a group of actors presenting Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Scenes that were a liberal interpretation of the loved Shakespearean comedy added spice to the production. Lead roles were capably played by Myers, who had the dual part of the actor-producer and Petruchio, and Jean Carlton as the actress who also played Katherine. Myers and Miss Carlton also won audience approval with their musical numbers, which included "Wunderbar," "So In Love Am I," "I've Come to Wire It Washfully in Padua," "I Hate Men" and "Where Is the Life That Late I Led." However, top encores were won by Evelyn Torres, who sang "Always True to You (In My Fashion)" and to Herbert Voland and Irving Karash as the gangsters who sang "Brush Up Your Shakespeare." Biggest draw in the production was the dancing ensemble that needed more rehearsing and better timing.

THE LITTLE GIRL AND THE CLOWNS—Eight-year-old Pamela Ann Lindsey must have been the envy of hundreds of youngsters who watched the opening night performance of the World Championship Midland Rodeo. She not only got their autograph but George Mills, left, and Billy Keen posed smiling with her.

Rotarians Hear Community Ambassador, Rodeo Reports

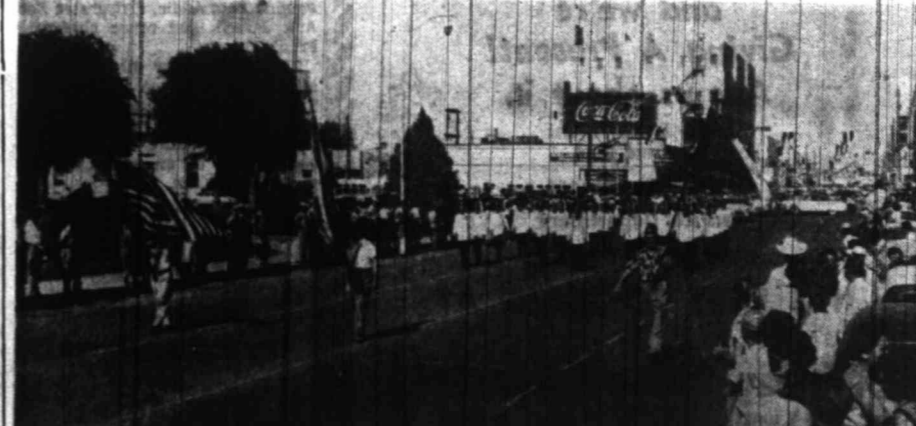

Midland Rotarians, at their Roy Parks, past presidents of Midland Fair, Inc., L. A. Bartha, association secretary-treasurer; Duke Jimeron, parade chairman; Aivey Gordon of Dublin, "chute boss"; Sgt. Prescher Roberts, Police Department; Frank Dawes of Fort Worth and Artie Tedlock of Fort Worth, cutting horse contest judges; and Bill Collins, publicity committee member. Dwan Estes, principal of San Jacinto Junior High School, who was selected recently as Midland's Ambassador to Yugoslavia, told the Rotarians of the Community Ambassador project, which is sponsored by a national program, Experiment in International Living. He will leave for Yugoslavia sometime this summer and will return in the fall. Estes, in his address, outlined the history and growth of the Experiment in International Living, and told how ambassadors are selected. He also explained how the country an ambassador will visit is selected. The ambassador spoke briefly concerning experiences he expects to encounter abroad and described the family with whom he will live while in Yugoslavia. ODESSANS HERE. Mrs. A. T. Montgomery and children were visitors in the city Thursday from Odessa. Observers on the mountain were able to hear the count-down on the drop from the control tower via AEC short wave radio at the Angel's Peak station at the 9,000-foot level. The previous high power of any bomb dropped here is believed to have been about 30 kilotons. The physical evidence of Thursday's detonation would indicate its power output was almost double any previous shot. A kiloton is the AEC scientific term for the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT. The nominal, or Hiroshima, bomb contained the equivalent of 20,000 tons (20 kilotons) of TNT. After the fire spent itself, the atomic cloud hung lazily at about 40,000 feet as the sun came over the mountains to the east. Comparatively slight winds twisted it into a monstrous gray rag, but it did not move rapidly as many clouds had in past years. The flash set dogs to barking in Las Vegas residential areas. No troops were involved Thursday but the Air Force continued its indoctrination program with a flight of planes over the test site. Civil effects studies included flash tests on the eyes of rabbits — awakened in time for the burst; by alarm clocks in their cages. The animals had one eye taped shut, the other open and exposed to the flash. Dogs and mice also were stationed at varying distances from the blast point.

White's Auto Stores Mark 23rd 'Birthday' With Sale

Thursday marked the beginning now vice president and a director of White's twenty-third anniversary. It also marks the beginning of a great, 24-day, store-wide sale, with special values in appliances, housewares, furniture, and automotive needs. In 23 years, White's has grown from a tiny, two-man firm to an organization of 50 company-owned stores and almost 150 authorized dealer stores, operating in four states. White's Auto Stores was born in 1930, in Clinton, Okla., with scarcely a truckload of merchandise, valued at about $250 and housed in a 121/2-by-40 foot building. Today, the organization has 50 stores in leading cities of Texas, Western Oklahoma, and New Mexico, together with more than 140 associated stores, located in progressive cities and towns in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Kansas, for which White's serves as supplier and wholesaler. As both wholesaler and retailer, the organization, in 1952, did an annual volume of more than $22,000,000. The conduct of such a large-scale enterprise provides employment for more than 900 persons. The original Clinton, Okla., store was opened by Tom C. White, who

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

The Longhorn League, embryonic in 1947, took its first steps at the plate, not on the mound, and ever after it's been "to hang with the hurling."

Jim Prince of Midland and Pat Stasey of Big Spring both at bat roved .400-plus averages as Longhorn yearlings—so everybody during the pursuing years has been trying to duplicate such feats. And, because the batsmen fare well in their high-average efforts, the only conclusion you can draw is that the Longhorn is not a pitchers' league. Amen.

Pitchers Will Steal Spotlight

Just about half the teams this season are maintaining scoring marks of over six runs a game. We can all wonder why? But that's strictly academic. Do we use a rabbit ball? How does the ruffled air help? Are we employing Class C pitchers against Class B batters? It's a subject best left to the cause and effect boys. Let them derive their own formulas. For someone always comes along in this league to make pitching just about the most interesting item. One is Eddie Jacome.

Now, no one who's been Eddie would accuse him of being a

Jacome Advances To The Front

Speaking of Jacome, though, it was surprising how he became the leading winner of the league Wednesday night with the use of tight five-hit hurling for a ninth victory. He'd matched that performance one time earlier only to skid into a pitching slump that saw him lose three times against a single triumph. It hardly seemed like Jacome at all, to know he'd been routed as a starter, or whipped down as a reliever. Yet the record showed it—he was giving up the hits, the runs and even, remarkably, the walks. His season-long standard, come winter, will show the scars of his slump of the second, third and fourth weeks of this campaign.

A fan of 1952, seeing his first 1953 Midland game, visited the

100-Victory Goal Looms Near

Eddie's upswing speaks well of two things: First, of fan support that spurred him out of the staggers just as naturally, it will for any player sustaining bad moments. And, second, of Jacome's pugnacious pride in his record. The two worked hand in glove this time.

A slight rumble by his rooters reminded Jacome they were at the ball game to see him work wonders as in '52 although they'd abided his trimming into shape if it happened soon. Jacome also had a goal for his part, becoming a 100-game winner in the Longhorn League through four sessions.

To continue to take thrashings such as they were, he'd never share the 17 decisions this season to attain that hallowed mark.

Now he's going again—doesn't it bring to mind the '52 playoffs? He won five of Midland's eight triumphs at that time, but he doesn't live on that stint.

Such is proven by the facts of his last 41 innings of work—when he yielded less than a run every two innings, which is something for his loop, 40 hits and, at the same time, surged again as Eddie the Steady by walking only four men up.

Indians Win, 9-3, Try Sweep Thursday

BIG SPRING—(AP)—Midland, assured of its first full series victory in 19 days, calls on Joe Williams Thursday night to try and complete a three-game sweep from Big Spring.

The Indians went two up on the Broncs Wednesday night with Right-hander Eddie Jacome, to become the top winner in the circuit, annexing a second verdict in two days, 9-3.

Williams seeks his first decision. Lénies Big Spring could muster only five hits off nine-game winner Jacome Wednesday and un-

Optimists Bounce Travelers, 16 To 8

Ike To Host Sport Stars Friday Night

WASHINGTON —(AP)—President Eisenhower will play host Friday to sports figures ranging from Rocky Marciano to Clark Griffith.

Eisenhower will greet each of the 40-odd athletes, but it's a good bet he'll spend much of his time chatting with but one of the visitors, a fellow named Gene Sarazen.

Sarazen is the lone golfer on the guest list and the President's fondness for the fairways is well known.

The occasion for the get-together is the annual baseball game between the Republicans and the Democrats on Capitol Hill. Picked teams of players unlikely to break into the major leagues will have it at Griffith Stadium Friday night. Eisenhower will throw out the first pitch.

Before that moment, though, there will be much hoopla and fanfare, starting with the White House luncheon.

The man who was to have been the honored guest won't be there, Cy Young, who pitched more baseball victories than any other man first accepted an invitation but decided later he didn't feel up to making the trip. Cy is 86.

But baseball will be well represented by such diamond greats as Tris Speaker, Lefty Grove, Jimmy Foxx, Joe DiMaggio, Billy Werber and Joe Judge. And, of course, Clark Griffith, the 82-year-old president of the Washington Senators.

Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano will represent boxing. His wife Barbara will be along, docked out in a new hair-do. Bangs, of course.

From the world of football there will be Blaine Cutler, the one-time Navy star; Al Dorow, former quarterback at Michigan State, and All-America Quarterback Jack Scarbath of Maryland.

Carol Ann Peters, the figure-skating champion, will be present along with former tennis champion Pauline Bets Addie, diving star Zoe Ann Jensen, and canoe champion Frank Havens.

There'll be many others, including Andy Anderson of Houston, Texas, who sometimes is known as the world's No. 1 fisherman, and Edwin T. Chandler of Richmond, Va., winner of an award as the world's No. 1 fan.

til the seventh inning could not get a runner on base. Then the Joe Nielson-led Steeds padded three runs on the scoreboard, all unearned, but in a futile effort.

The Tribe clamored back for four runs in the eighth to add to a 4-3 margin. Tex Stephenson homered and singled twice to win his two-day total here to seven hits. Roger Dalla Beta also rapped a four-bagger in the 13-hit Midland spree.

Big Spring went into the game with new direction after its pilot, Hack Miller, was relieved of his duties during the afternoon. The Broncs hardly got started.

New Indian Mandy Diaz collected his first hit as a Midlander in the third, a triple, and batted in Julio de la Torre to open scoring.

A pair of base hits, two walks and a Bronc error boosted Midland to 3-0 in the fourth and the Tribe scored again in the fifth.

Stephenson's homer came with two runners on in the eighth inning and Dalla Beta followed with his solo four-bagger in the ninth.

Joe Jacinto broke Jacome's spell in the seventh with a successful bunt. George Murphy followed with a blooper back of second base. After two men had been retired, Hayden White dropped Nielson's fly ball in right and two runs scored. Bill Brown followed with a double that plated Nielson.

The listless Broncs have now lost 17 of 23 home games. Jacome fanned four and failed to walk a batter in his all-the-way duel with Oscar Reguera.

Miller loses job as pilot of Big Spring

BIG SPRING—(AP)—James E. (Hack) Miller, the second manager Big Spring ever had in the Longhorn League, was relieved of his post Wednesday.

In making the announcement, Bill Frank, General Manager of the Broncs, said Joe Nielson would serve as acting manager until a permanent successor can be named. He said Nielson was not a candidate for the post.

Miller has not been with the club for a week. It was announced previously he was on a scouting mission but he returned to town Monday without a ball player in tow.

Since his contract extended until the end of the season, he will probably be retained in some capacity, either as a scout or in an advisory capacity.

Pat Stasey, Miller's predecessor, is at the helm of the Broncs six seasons before moving in as pilot and general manager of the Reswell Longhorn League entry.

Indians Get Two Players

The Midland Indians Wednesday night were bolstered by the arrival of Rookie Bob Brown and limited service Pitcher Charles Hoffman.

Manager Jay Haney announced. Brown, the left-handed first baseman obtained in the trade of Woody Pennington to Carlsbad, may see some action against right-handed pitching, Haney said, with Lou Dawson moving to the outfield.

Hoffman is not scheduled to see action for some time. He arrived with a sore arm, and Haney indicated he would work out with the team for awhile to see if the trouble could be alleviated.

Hoffman was obtained from Abilene for Quentin Basco, who was optioned to the Bule Sox several weeks ago.

Texarkana Asks Lift Of Suspension On Steve Karas

TEXARKANA—(AP)—The Texarkana Baseball Club is asking Big Spring State League President Howard Green to lift the indefinite suspension on Steve Karas, the Texarkana catcher who has been out of the league.

Nick King, spokesman for the club, said the suspension slapped on Karas Wednesday by Green is holding up a deal which would send Karas and Teammate Moe Stantomuro to Lincoln, Neb., of the Class Western League.

King said the agreement to sell the players to Lincoln was made prior to the Tuesday night game at Paris, during which Karas attacked Umpire Leland Mitchell with his glove and mask, and kicked at the umpire. Karas has been fined $50 and suspended indefinitely.

Indians Deny Any Trouble

We talked with several Midland Indian ball players Wednesday, and the only one dissatisfied was Bill Brown, who was packing the rest of his clothes preparatory to moving to the Big Spring Broncs for good.

Now does it stand to reason that there's dissension on a ball team when a member who had been traded here to make the move?

Reports of dissension were published in Wednesday's "Sports-O-Scope" column by Bob Milburn in the San Angelo Standard-Times. He repeated them Thursday.

In his Wednesday column, Milburn made this comment: "Ever since Jim Prince, first baseman, was released some weeks ago there have been rumors of dissension on the Longhorn club. Seems some wanted to get rid of him and his slaly."

"The fire really erupted Tuesday when Rookie Pitcher Dick Young and Reserve Catcher Jim Harford reportedly jumped the club and Manager Jay Haney handed limited service Pitcher Bill Winn his outright release."

Obviously, Milburn's news source is faulty. It is true that Harford and Young jumped the club Tuesday, but they notified Haney of the move. Haney had known for several weeks that he would be unable to keep Harford, a talented rookie who was sitting on the bench because Art Bowland is hitting at a .400 plus clip.

Young's departure was rather sudden, but it stemmed from his Monday night failure and not from dissension on the club. Prince and Winn were released because they could not be sold or traded and they could not make the Indians ball team.

Milburn's comment that the club is "better than his showing" is true, as anyone—including Haney—will admit.

"Anybody can see why we're having a hard time," Haney commented. "There's no dissension on the club that I know about."

"The players were hurt and a bit confused by Milburn's statements. There's absolutely no trouble on this club," a player spokesman reported rather calmly. "Sure, we get tense when we provide runs and the pitchers yield just as many or more, but there's not a thing we're that pitching won't help."

Another agreed that there are some gripes.

"But the gripes we have are no more than is noticeable on any ball team—even the winning ones."

"The Indians' tremendous spirit as demonstrated in their frequent spurts from behind further indicates there is no dissension. In four of the last six games the Indians have come from behind to tie the score or go ahead.

Can a ball team wrecked by dissension do that?

Yankees Convince Skeptics With 18-2 Rout Of White Sox

By BEN FLEGGAN
Associated Press Sportswriter
If the rest of the American League doesn't run for cover now it won't be the fault of the New York Yankees.

The other seven clubs have been warned—in the boldest possible terms—that the Yanks are dead serious about winning their fifth straight pennant and will use any one of the seven clubs to oppose them.

Tuesday night they stopped the Sox, 4-3, Wednesday they trampled all over them, 18-2, in the biggest rout of the season in either league.

Chicago pitchers were mauled for 19 hits and the New York Yankees benefited from nine bases on balls, a hit batter and three White Sox errors.

Jay McClure Foursome Fires Eight-Under Pro-Am Round

Bill Franklin of Midland played the chief supporting role—with four birdies and an eagle—when the foursome captained by assistant pro Jay McClure topped the weekly West Texas pro amateur golf tournament staged at Midland Country Club Thursday.

McClure's team carded a 64 eight-under par, with all four players getting in on the par-beating act. Sybil Flournoy of Midland, the groups only woman player, carded two birdies, McClure who had a 75 gross scored two and H. Y. McClure added another.

Spence's team included Rip Smith and Tom Powell of Big Spring and A. T. Pierce of Midland.

George O'Neal of Brownfield, C. D. McClure of Abilene and Lou Meadows of Midland teamed with Green. And Rachel Lyman, Dell Taylor and Leggett, all of Midland, were mates of Moreno.

Bell Captures Softball Lead

Rhodes Girls Team Levels Odessa, 47-4, Behind Good Hurling

ODESSA—Midland's Harry H. Rhodes girls softball team balanced the record books Wednesday night and, apparently, splattered the ink.

Cherry-Erfurth Duel Erased From Men's West Texas List

The smaller winners in tournaments herabouts, due to play supporting roles in the Men's West Texas, will get star billing because two other mammoth events come on conflicting dates.

Officials at Ranchland Hill Country Club, the host group, reckoned Thursday on losing the star prospects for their June 11-14 West Texas tourney, the twenty-fifth annual event.

Beckman Seeks Early Scoring

Abie Beckman, Ranchland Hill Country Club pro, Thursday urged golfers from both Midland Country Club and Ranchland Hill to play their qualifying rounds this weekend for the forthcoming Men's West Texas Tournament.

He suggested that those Midland club players who won't be seeking the tourney's medalist prize turn in their bracketing 18-hole cards prior to the starting day.

Oilers Bag 17 Hits To Trounce Colts

SAN ANGELO—(AP)—The Odessa Oilers had the San Angelo Colts and 1,130 fans Wednesday night wondering what they were doing in seventh place in the Longhorn League. The Oilers slammed out a 12-2 victory, smashed 18 hits off two ace Colt hurlers and felled sensationally.

Jim Carson, ringing up his fifth win of the season, hurled a masterful four-hitter and except for Glenn Burns two-run homer in the first inning, would have had a shutout.

The Oilers broke loose for five runs in the second on a Colt error, two walks, a two-run triple by Felix Castro and doubles by Carson and Batson.

Four more Oilers runs crossed in the fourth on doubles by DiEppa and Batson and singles by Leo Bagshaw and Bob Martin.

Odessa combined singles by Paul DiEppa and Barney Batson with a balk and wild pitch for a single counter in the first. Burns' twelfth home run of the year with Steve Follett on base gave the Colts a temporary 2-1 lead in the bottom of the first.

BALLINGER—(AP)—Carlsbad's heavy-hitting potashers spoiled the Winters-Ballinger nine's home debut Wednesday night with a smacking 20-hit attack to bury the Eagles, 12-4.

Winters-Ballinger narrowed the margin to 3-2 in the third. Earl Finley walked and scored on John Mickulin screaming double to right center. Steve Hill slammed another two-base blow, this time to left, to bring in Mickulin.

The home team knotted the count in the fourth on two walks and a safety by Finley.

The Carlsbad nine mustered seven hits in a big fifth inning to score six times. The big blows were a double by James Grant and a triple by P. Ocorio.

Vandenberg Says Cuts Would Reduce Air Aid For Allies

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg indicated Thursday that U. S. air aid to its North Atlantic Allies necessarily must be cut if the Air Force goal is changed from 143 wings to 120.
The much-decorated chief of staff of the Air Force, who is retiring June 30, continued his fight against the Eisenhower Administration decision to cut air for 120 wings by December 1955.
Vandenberg appeared for the second day before a public hearing of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.
Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) asked him what effect the building up of a 120-wing force would have on aid to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
"In the 143 wing program," Vandenberg replied, "NATO was taken into consideration."
"In the 120-wing proposal, the principal consideration was the defense of the United States because it (Air Force plane strength) could not be stretched further."
Knowland also asked the general to compare destructive loads of World War II bombers with those now possible.
This recalled the statement of President Eisenhower in his radio report to the nation on May 19: "Today three aircraft with modern weapons can practically duplicate the destructive power of all the 2,700 planes we unleashed in the great break out attack from the Normandy beachhead."
Vandenberg said he would have to give his detailed reply behind closed doors because this involved military secrets, but added he would like to comment.
Senator Maybank (D-SC) meanwhile said he will make a "hell of a fight" in the Senate to restore some of five billion dollars cut from the Air Force funds when the Administration recommended a total of $11,700,000,000 for the year beginning July 1.
"We will try to put back whatever is necessary to get the 143-wing Air Force as soon as possible," Maybank said in an interview.

Newest Red Idea Of Truce Terms Kept In Secrecy

PANMUNJOM —(AP)— The Communists reportedly submitted Thursday a counterproposal to the "final" Allied terms for a truce in Korea.
The Reds offered a lengthy statement of their position at a 75-minute secret session Thursday that brought delegates together for the first time in nine days.
Contents of the Communist statement were kept secret.
The official spokesman for the United Nations Command, Lt. Col. Milton Herr, would not confirm or deny the reported counterproposal.
The Allies asked for and got a recess until Saturday, stirring speculation that a Red counterproposal would be sent to the U. S. and other allies for consideration.
The Communists had been expected to answer an Allied "now or never" proposal on prisoner exchange submitted May 25.
North Korean Gen. Nam Il talked an hour—all but the last 15 minutes of the session.
The South Korean delegate continued his boycott, which started May 25. This was the second session he had missed.
South Korean government sources have attacked the Allied plan presented 10 days ago as "appeasement" and a "sell-out."
The prisoner exchange dispute—last major barrier to an armistice—centers on what to do with 34,000 North Korean and 14,000 Chinese prisoners who refuse to return to their Communist homelands.
Chips-Down Session
The Communists have proposed leaving their fate to a post-armistice political conference after a period of Red explanations. The new Allied plan is reported to agree to that, but adds that if the political conference fails to settle the problem, disposition of the prisoners would be left to the UN General Assembly. The Reds reportedly rejected that UN provision on the spot, charging that the UN itself is a belligerent and should not have a final verdict on Red prisoners.
The secret meeting had been billed as a chips-down session. Allied sources indicated the latest UN proposal was final.
On May 25 the Reds took a one-week recess after receiving the Allied plan and then extended the recess three more days, indicating the proposal was getting a thorough going-over in top Red circles—Peiping and possibly Moscow.

DELAYS CAN BE SO SWEET

NEEDHAM, MASS. —(AP)— That old saying "As slow as cold molasses" held true Wednesday night.
Traffic was tied up three hours over a large section when a five and one-half ton open-top tractor trailer, loaded with molasses, overturned on route 128.
There was so much molasses over the road that a snow plow had to be brought to the scene to help clean it away.

Doctors Ask Cutback In Veteran Services

NEW YORK —(AP)—The American Medical Association has called on Congress to end free medical care for veterans with most non-service-connected ailments.
Such care, the AMA House of Delegates said in a resolution Wednesday puts the government "in a significant medical program in competition with private medical institutions."

HOUSE SPEAKER WARNS—

Income Tax Can't Be Cut If Profits Measure Fails

WASHINGTON —(AP)— House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said Thursday a tax cut for 50 million individual taxpayers scheduled next January would be "very doubtful" if Congress fails to extend the excess profits tax.
Martin told a news conference the scheduled 10 per cent reduction in individual income taxes "goes right along together" with President Eisenhower's request for continuation of the excess profits law, now due to expire at the end of this month.
The speaker repeated a prediction that Congress will keep the excess profits tax in force until December 31, despite strong opposition by some influential Congress members.
Present law calls for a 10 per cent reduction in personal income tax rates beginning with 1954. The administration has said it "definitely" plans to let this reduction take effect as scheduled.
But Martin declared, "if the excess profits tax is not extended, it is very doubtful if financial conditions would be such as to warrant individual tax reductions."
"They go along together. Certainly an extension would be very helpful in getting the individual reduction. That would make it almost a certainty."
Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the tax-writing committee promptly disputed Martin's prediction, however, in this statement:
"Appraisal of speaker Martin's statement, Mr. Reed issued a flat denial that this committee favors the excess profits tax or that it intends to change its stand opposing its extension."
"Mr. Reed said that in his judgment the testimony being presented to the committee had strengthened the members' conviction that this unproductive tax which discriminated so unjustly against small companies should die."
Martin had his news conference soon after returning to the capital from a White House meeting of President Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders.
When Martin left the White House he predicted that Congress would go along with Eisenhower's desires and extend the excess profits tax through the last half of this year.

They're Not Peace Doves

PORTERVILLE, CALIF. (AP)—It's open season on pigeons at the Rev. Carl Stocking's First Methodist Church.

The minister has been issued a firearms permit to use on a flock of the friendly birds from attending his sermons. The birds, long-time residents of the area, moved into the church recently when their former home, a barn across the street, was torn down.

In applying for the permit, the pastor explained the pigeons are no danger to the congregation because they have committed no previous misdeeds and are the church's outdoor drinking fountain a "hazardous experience."

Sino-Reds Sing Siren Song To Lure Britain's Commerce

HONG KONG —P— Communist China is offering Britain fat trade deals of up to two and one-fourth billion dollars.

The offers have been extended by propaganda publications but they are accented enough to make it look as though Peiping really means them.

It could be another maneuver aimed at widening the breach between Britain and the United States on the touchy China trade issue.

Certainly it is a change in tune for Communist propagandists.

One year ago all non-Communist foreign trade was scored as imperialist poison which China no longer needed.

Four months ago Red propagandists asserted the Western embargo was a failure because it had taught China how to get along with out imperialist commerce.

Now the Reds are talking about the benefit of British-China trade and its long history and rich potential.

For example the pro-Communist weekly Economic Bulletin, published in Hong Kong, dangled this bait:

"China is in a position to develop trade with the capitalist countries to the extent of one and one-half billion to two and one-fourth billion dollars per year."

A commentator in the Peiping People's Daily was quoted by Peiping radio as saying:

"The U. S. will not open its domestic market on favorable terms. A growing number of business and political spokesmen in British and other countries have come to realize that the only way out for them is to adopt an independent trade policy, oppose the American blockade but said it was only a dribble comm and promote equal and mutually beneficial trade relations between East and West."

The Economic Bulletin noted the British commercial with China had tried.

Texas Gives Cowboy Boots To Sweden's King Gustaf

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN —P— William P. Hamilton of Victoria, Texas, presented two pairs of cowboy boots Thursday to King Gustaf Adolf VI of Sweden—but one pair is for the seven-year-old crown prince.

The 39-year-old Texas made the presentation in appreciation of a knighthood awarded to Hamilton's cousin, T. Nils Mauritz of Ganada.

"I was very impressed by the friendly manner of the king. He was not a bit stuck up and as I stood there not knowing what to do he asked me to sit down several times.

"I brought my camera along and wanted to shoot some pictures of him, but as conditions were not so good he told me I was very welcome to his Summer residence in Southern Sweden to take the pictures I need."

Hamilton is making a non-commercial film here to be shown to church audiences in the United States.

Breckenridge Deaths Ruled Murder, Suicide

BRECKENRIDGE —P— A verdict of murder and suicide was returned in the deaths of James Francis Latham, 31, and his wife, Sande Lee, 25, who were found shot to death in a roadside park Wednesday night.

The couple had been separated. Justice of the Peace J. P. Woodall ruled Latham shot his wife and himself.

Longshoremen Balk At Loading Cattle

HOUSTON —P— Port Houston longshoremen refused to load a shipment of 142 cattle for Venezuela Wednesday night.

George Pug, Houston cattle broker, said members of the union refused to handle the cattle because the shipping pens had been built by other union labor.

WAS IT A TOUGH JOB, MA?—With six children to raise, Mrs. John Lawlor, 32, of Troy, N. Y., a widow, decided her best move was to capitalize on two years of college training and get a teaching job. To do that she had to graduate and that meant two more years of school. Mrs. Lawlor entered Russell Sage College for Women and continued to raise her children. She will soon begin teaching kindergarten at Berlin, N. Y. The children are (left to right): Johnnie, 12; Bobbie, 8; Billy, 6; Tommie, 5; David, 3; and Mary Ann, 10.

U. S. Discloses First Atomic Fuel 'Breeding'

ATLANTIC CITY —P— The United States Thursday announced the successful "breeding" of atomic fuel—that is, the production of at least as much, or more, new fissionable material as is burned up in the process of making it.

The development is one of the most revolutionary in the entire atomic program. It was disclosed by Chairman Gordon Dean of the Atomic Energy Commission in a speech prepared for the Edison Electric Institute.

Dean cautioned his audience of 3,000 electric and power men not to assume that economic power from atomic energy is here. But he called the achievement a milestone of progress and said it "holds out the promise of making a civilian atomic power industry even more feasible and attractive in the long range than it has hitherto appeared to be."

New Milestones Explained Dean said, was worked out at the AEC's reactor testing station at Arco, Idaho. He illustrated it this way:

"To explain to you the impact of reaching this new milestone, I would like to use an analogy, albeit a greatly over-simplified one. "I would like to ask you to imagine a world in which only 100 gallons of gasoline existed. When that gasoline was used up, gasoline would forever be gone from the earth. But let us imagine that we could make gasoline out of water by burning the gasoline we had in the presence of water. Let us say, for example, that by burning up our 100 gallons of gasoline we could change 90 gallons of water into new gasoline, and that thereafter we could, by burning gasoline in the presence of water, always produce new gasoline equivalent to 90 per cent of that which we burned. By such a process we would quite obviously greatly stretch out our supply of gasoline. But we could hardly expect to stretch it out indefinitely for we would always be making a little less gasoline than we consumed."

"Ultimately we would run out of gasoline before we ran out of water, and all the rest of the world would be made of water in the world, would be useless to us so far as gasoline production was concerned."

More Plentiful Supply "But to pursue our over-simplified analogy, still further, now let us assume that we succeeded in developing a way by which we could produce 100 or more gallons of new gasoline from water for every 100 gallons we burned. Suddenly we would have made it possible for ourselves to change gradually all of the water in the world into gasoline. Our gasoline shortage would have vanished."

Dean said that essentially is what has happened at Arco. Potentially, the achievement opens the way to making use of the world's supply of Uranium-238, which is 140 times more plentiful than the fissionable Uranium-235, as a source of fuel for power or for bombs. Moreover, it may open the way to using all supplies of an element called thorium which is even more plentiful than Uranium-238.

Telling of the process worked out in a special reactor or furnace at Arco, Dean said:

"The reactor is operating in such a way that it is burning up Uranium-235, and, in the process, it is changing non-fissionable plutonium (U-238) into fissionable plutonium (U-239) at a rate that is at least equal to the rate at which the Uranium-235 is being consumed."

While he declared that the development meant "bringing us to another milestone," Dean added: "I think, however, that we must take care to see that this encouraging development is kept in its proper perspective."

"This news does not mean that economic power from atomic fuels is here. It does not mean that overnight we have suddenly obtained all the fissionable material we want or need."

"It does not mean that uranium can now be regarded as a virtually costless fuel. It is quite possible that the breeding principle will not even be incorporated in the first atomic power plants."

"It may be that some other types other than a 'breeder' type of power plant reactor will be more feasible from the economic point of view, at least at first and possibly for some time."

He said "a large-scale breeder reactor can be a costly proposition" and he added: "It requires a very large initial investment of scarce fissionable fuel."

But, on the positive side, the AEC chief said: "The real significance of breeding is that it is now possible for mankind ultimately to utilize all the uranium that can be extracted from the earth's surface in its natural state."

ROK's Fall Back Under Red Attacks

SEOUL —P— Chinese and North Korean Reds Thursday slugged hammered back in bloody hand-to-hand fighting all but one of seven South Korean counterattacks for key Allied hill positions captured by the Communists.

Units of four ROK divisions smashed against Chinese clinging to five outposts on Finger and Bloody Ridges on the East-Central Front and North Koreans on portions of Luke the Cook's Castle and Anchor Hill in the East.

One outpost was recaptured on Bloody Ridge. All other counterattacks were hurled back, and at Luke's Castle and Anchor Ridge North Korean Reds wound up a day of bitter close-quarter fighting in better positions than before.

The UN Command said two beefed-up Chinese battalions—perhaps 2,500 men—smashed into South Koreans who captured one outpost on Finger Ridge and drove the ROK's off again.

North Koreans wrested the crest of Anchor Hill from ROK infantrymen who drove the Reds off the hill earlier in the day. An Eighth Army briefing officer said that at dusk Communist and South Korean troops faced each other from opposite sides of the dish-shaped crest.

Counterattacking South Koreans of the 12th Division lost added ground in desperate see-saw fighting for Luke's Castle. There ROK's who drove the Reds back late Wednesday were driven back farther than before by a smashing Communist counterattack.

At last report, North Koreans held about half of the intricate Castle defenses. Allied warplanes flew scores of missions again Thursday in close support of troops on the battle line.

During the night U. S. Superforts hit the battlefield with their biggest assault in almost a year.

EIGHTH GRADE GLAMOR CURBED

GARWOOD, N. J. —P— Strapless gowns and plunging necklines may be stylish—but not for girls in the eighth grade, says the Garwood Board of Education.

Robert Laird, school superintendent, asked the board to support his request for conservative dress at the affair. Laird said he had noticed several "daring" dresses at recent school dances.

Gray Market In Anti-Polio Drug Reported In Houston

HOUSTON —P— The city health officer said a gray market in gamma globulin drug for fighting polio has been reported to him.

Dr. Fred K. Laurents says he knows of reported high charges for shots of the scarce blood derivative. But he said nothing can be done about it.

Dr. Laurents said he is unable to call names, but he knows some doctors bought up large supplies of gamma globulin before it went under control of the Office of Defense Mobilization. He said doctors legitimately can charge whatever they wish for shots if they can supply the gamma globulin.

Experiments with the drug, manufactured from whole blood, indicate it helps prevent the crippling effects of polio.

Dr. Laurents said persons making complaints of high charges for the drug never identify themselves or name those who are selling at high prices.

Last year, before the Office of Defense Mobilization took control of distribution, the average shot here cost from $35 to $40.

Drugstores sold the medicine. Dr. Laurents said he knows of no drugstore or pharmaceutical house in Houston which has a supply of gamma globulin.

Films Illustrate New Heart Technique

NEW YORK —P— A new way of making hungry hearts get more blood was shown Thursday in a movie to the American Medical Association.

It is designed to help people whose hearts suffer from lack of blood, due to narrowing of the coronary artery, which brings blood to the heart muscle itself.

To supply more blood, purified talcum powder is put inside the sac, called the pericardium, surrounding the heart.

The irritation from the powder causes growth and extension of tiny new blood vessels to supply more blood to the heart.

Democrats Beat Firing Power Riders

WASHINGTON —P— Republican efforts to give broad firing powers to new GOP heads of three key government departments have been beaten back by Democrats.

Both sides charged politics. Senate Democrats Wednesday blocked moves to put firing riders on a $1,100,000,000 money bill carrying the funds to run the State, Commerce and Justice Departments in the year starting July 1.

The Democrats declared the majority party was trying to break down the civil service system. Republicans replied that the wanted power to fire bad security risks.

Congressional Investigation Leaves Santa Claus Unruffled

By Richard Kleiser
NBA Staff Correspondent

There ought to be an investigation into the whole toy industry. All you have to do is look at the new toys on display. These are the gifts children will get for Christmas, and they are obviously unfair to children. That is, they'll make youngsters happy.

Such an investigation might proceed like this:

Q: State your name and occupation.

A: Klaus J. Santa, toy designer.

Q: Now, Mr. Santa, this committee has reports that this year's toys are designed to make children helpful around the house. Is that true?

A: Yes, Senator, but—

Q: Can you show us some examples?

A: Yes. This is a toy car wash. Actually contains water and will wash toy cars. Very helpful.

Q: Yes, I can see that mothers will be delighted with that. What else?

A: Here is a toy gardening set. It contains a pot, filled with fast-growing, chemically-fertilized dirt, and a package of radish seeds.

Old-fashioned child's model kit of old locomotive is designed for fun only.

Q: Will you repeat that? (Laughter)

A: Radish seeds. They'll grow in three days. Turn Junior into a provider. Very helpful.

Special Feature

Q: Pray continue.

A: This box contains brother and sister aprons. One for brother and one for sister. Now both of them will help wash the dishes and tidy up. And this piece of furniture is, as you see, a table with wrought iron legs and a formica top. Note this feature—a rack for comic books. No longer will they be scattered hither and yon.

Q: Wanna bet? But do go on.

A: Here are toy tractors that the youngsters can ride on. For the first time, they have the authentic engine detail of the major big tractors.

Q: How is this helpful?

A: Well, it gives the children an appreciation of the engineering and mechanical know-how that helps keep America strong. Also good for the rug.

Combination Kit

Q: And what is that?

A: This is a toy shopping cart, just like mother uses in the supermarket. Now the little ones can go into the supermarket and wheel around their own little cart and have a gay time.

Q: (Aside to aide.) Make a note to sell my supermarket stock. (Aloud) Yes, Mr. Santa, what else?

A: Here is a combination shoe-shine kit and bank. The kiddies can polish their shoes and every time they do it daddy can deposit a coin.

Q: What'll probably happen is that they'll polish daddy and deposit their shoes. But that is neither here nor there.

A: This is a jim-dandy little number, to teach them construction. A kit with tiny bricks and the real mortar. They can build real toy buildings. If they want to take them down, just soak the mortar and it melts.

Q: (A soundless shudder.)

A: For the doll lovers, we have a whole raft of dolls in Coronation styles. Establishes an interest in current events.

Q: Are there any old-fashioned toys, that do nothing but give pleasure with them.

Q: Bloody, eh? Let me see them.

A: Yes, Senator, here they are.

Q: The committee stands adjourned for 10 minutes. We must study this exhibit at first hand.

Lost Cave Hunted

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(P)—Dr. Bertman S. Kraus, head of the anthropology department at the University of Arizona, is spending weekends searching for a cave in the nearby Tucson Mountains discovered—and then lost—recently by two young boys.

The boys said they ran from the cave when they saw two human skeletons in it. They discovered the cave while chasing wild pigs.

Language Of Mexico Most Interesting Avers Linguist

Joe S. Donkos of 1983 Pinketydink Street takes the position that the language of Mexico is the most colorful and interesting of all the foreign tongues. He cites an example in the words "fiesta" and "siesta". What words are more descriptive than these? What beautiful dreams they conjure! Fiesta and siesta.

The point that Joe wants to make is, that if you owned one of those scrumptious Jacobson Power Movers, that every day for you would be "Fiesta". You would celebrate the day you bought it, and every time your lawn needed a bob, you would have another Fiesta. There's nothing like a good old-fashioned Fiesta. And we would like to point out that if you have enough fiestas you can have more fiestas. You take one of those gem-like, orange colored Jacobson Movers, apply it lightly, see over to 4 lawn for about an hour, and presto—fiesta. And, boy, so you can fiesta when you know that job is done!

Fiesta! Fiesta! Jacobson! Viva la fiesta! Fiesta in the courtyard! Fiesta! Fiesta! Mucha Fiesta!

Texans In Congress Learn Public Difficult To Please

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like colleagues from other parts of the country, Texas congressmen are having trouble pleasing constituents who want taxes cut, but don't want services curtailed.

Recent newsletters the Texans have written to their home districts reflect thought over the budget situation that is second only to peace-or-war as a subject of discussion on Capitol Hill.

"I'm setting up a file on the requests I receive not to cut funds for this, that and the other," said Rep. Omar Burleson of the Abilene-

Anson district. "It seems most of us are for cutting funds which affect the other fellow, but not for expenditures for those things in which we are particularly interested. Usually letters and telegrams start off with 'I am for economy, but—'"

Rep. Frank Icard of Wichita Falls, pointing to an economy move to reduce soil conservation funds by $5 million dollars, during consideration of the Agriculture Department appropriation bill, wrote: "There was an effort in the House to seriously cripple the soil conservation program. This was defeated, however, in an extremely close vote of 201 to 194."

Balancing The Budget
Rep. W. R. Poage of Waco, writing about the debate on the same bill, which totaled 713 million dollars for the Agriculture Department, made this comment:

"I think we must all accept some reduction of the items in which we are interested, but I don't think agriculture should take more than its share of the reductions."

The Secretary of Defense has advocated a five billion dollar cut in funds for the Air Force.

"We all recognize the importance of balancing the budget," said Rep. O. C. Fisher in a statement carried in the Congressional Record.

Eliminate Waste
"We are all aware of the need for relief from burdensome taxes. But we also recognize that if the worst comes to the worst it is imperative that we have the most powerful air force in the world."

"There are many places to cut in this very desirable economy program without clipping the wings of the most important branch of our military services. There is a lot of waste that can be eliminated.

It would be a tedious task to document it, but there is little doubt but that the votes of most of the 436 congressmen on budget-cutting issues have been influenced by the presence or absence of big federal programs, projects or installations in their individual district.

Most of the flood control projects in Texas, as elsewhere, were crisscrossed from the amounts which officials planned before President Eisenhower took over.

Unhappy with the reductions, delegations from several parts of Texas came here urging congressional committees to make an exception in regard to their particular projects. There were similar groups from many other parts of the country.

A county judge from the Texas Gulf coast, accompanied by his county engineer, came up to see if he couldn't get some funds to help drain flood waters from lowlands in his area.

Seeks His "Share"
"Everybody else seems to be getting his," he said, "so I thought we might as well. We have a good case."

He learned, however, that Congress first has to authorize a project before it can provide funds to actually do the work.

In light of tightening purse strings he will have to be lucky to get his project authorized in the future.

HANDS 'N' FACES

Tumble In Prices Of Tin Hits Mines

SINGAPORE (AP)—A number of mines have closed owing to the big tumble in the price of tin, the head of one of the two smelting companies in Malaya disclosed.

K. M. F. Ferguson, chairman of the Straits Trading Company, in a report to the company's annual general meeting also said the present price of tin is probably the lowest at which the metal could be produced, excluding development and exploration.

Panmunjom Remains Cleanest Korean Spot

PANMUNJOM, KOREA (AP)—This Western sector of the Korean war is almost too neat and has a disturbing appearance of permanence. Except for destroyed buildings on the 45-mile drive from Seoul to Panmunjom, it is hard to find the dirt of war. This road once was cluttered with burned tanks, trucks, jeeps, ammunition cans and empty gasoline drums.

Now the roadside is sprinkled liberally with signs reading: "Don't throw trash." "Speed limit 20 miles an hour."

Overhead, U. S. helicopters pour south with victims of Communist artillery and mortar fire.

FIRST AIR CROSSING

Jean Pierre Blanchard, a Frenchman, together with an American companion, Dr. Jeffries, completed the first air crossing of the English Channel in a balloon in 1793.

THE CROWN—The Archbishop of Canterbury holds St. Edward's Crown above the queen's head prior to the actual crowning in Westminster Abbey. Queen Elizabeth is hidden from view by the archbishop's robe.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (nonacid) powder, on your plate. False teeth mesh more firmly so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Mamie Eisenhower's Vast Capacity For Friendliness Wins Washington

By PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Sure, they like her — but you should see how this town loves Mamie.

It's not just the official wives or embassy hostesses who are crazy about Mamie Doud Eisenhower. It's the kids and the grandfathers, the boys in uniform and the government girl. Everybody loves the First Lady.

Soon there are liable to be more Mamie Eisenhower anecdotes around town than there are congressmen. A hotel, you remember, was where the President-elect and his wife left their suitcases the morning of the Inauguration. Recently the First Lady ducked into the same place to keep a luncheon appearance. When someone called out, "Hey, Mamie, that's an awfully pretty hat you're wearing," the President's wife turned around smiling. It was a group of office girls waving at her from the building next door.

"Why hello there," she called, waving back. "I haven't seen you since the Inauguration. How are you?"

HOSPITABLE FIRST LADY, Mamie shares a piece of cake with Airman Robert Spisler at servicemen's club reception.

The President's prize partner thrives on humor, the kind without a sting — like the day she had her picture snapped at a shindig with actress Gloria de Haven. Miss de Haven, carried away, wanted a print of the picture autographed by the First Lady.

Certainly, smiled Mamie, suggesting that the movie star come to visit and bring the picture. Miss de Haven almost had to pinch herself.

Change the spot or pick another day—Mamie's there with the perfect phrase at the right time. How does she do it? Washingtonians agree that it's because she means it.

Besides, there's magic in being First Lady. All you do is smile at someone; say a few words to them and you've given them something pretty special to talk about for weeks. Dispensing such happiness makes Mamie happy, too.

There was the husky serviceman at the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen's Club, for whom Mamie broke off a piece of her cake to give him.

The tea in honor of the First Lady was more like a homecoming. She explored the kitchen and the pantries, shook hands with the cooks on duty. When she walked into the reception room, she exclaimed, "I wondered where that old pool table was!"

Finds Old Friends
During the war, Mrs. Eisenhower had chalked up long hours behind the club cash register besides serving meals to the boys.

On leaving the party the First Lady noticed a group of passersby had gathered to get a look at her. Impulsively she went up to them, shook a few hands, and smiled a friendly greeting to others before climbing into the White House car.

Things like this happen whenever Mamie sets foot outside the gate on Pennsylvania Avenue.

But it would be wrong to get the idea that the First Lady's personality is all breeze. It's naturalness. Highly Impressed

When Mamie crowned Washington's Cherry Blossom Queen her thoughtfulness saved the situation. The tiny crown bearer began to cry and the First Lady knew just how to console her.

"May I help you honey?" she gently inquired.

Through much of the ceremony Mamie's motherly eye rested on the three-and-a-half-year-old. Her hand touched her shoulder or patted her blonde hair. Washington mothers were highly impressed.

Worth Two Treaties
A high diplomat's wife who returned to her homeland took along some of Mamie's favorite recipes which the First Lady had given her. Worth two good will treaties, at least, say Washington's feminine protocol experts.

Mrs. Eisenhower's a natural with the embassy wives. But a friend quickly points out, there were no foreign airs about her when she returned from living in Europe. She was the same sensible soldier's wife she was when she went over.

A certain Virginia poultry man will vouch for this, too. Having had the Eisenhowers for customers at Fort Myer, he dispatched a letter to the White House asking the President's wife if she remembered the fellow who used to deliver fresh eggs.

Luncheon For Friends
Mamie wrote back that she remembered him, indeed. And would he be kind enough to start leaving eggs at her new Washington address—the White House?

At inauguration time, a firm y friends were touched by notes from Mrs. Eisenhower's secretary alerting them to a special bus which made it easier to get from the swearing-in ceremony to the parade. Inside the bus friends found packed lunches waiting for them.

Thoughtfulness at a time like this is typical, part of Mamie's modesty and marvelous lack of pretension.

Like the other down-to-earth glimpses of the President's wife at the Inauguration squirming out of her new pumps and rubbing her ankles unaware that it was being shared by all of America on TV. The First Lady's uninhibited

This Is The Way To Get Rid Of An Irksome Neighbor-Pest

A harassed housewife wrote me a letter in which she asks for an answer to the problem concerning a neighbor who is always visiting her. If she is busy working in the house the neighbor comes in to sit. If she goes into her yard, the neighbor is sure to come over. She says she can't even take a walk without the neighbor hurrying to catch up with her.

What the writer wants is a "tactical" solution to the problem.

There probably isn't any tactical solution. For the person who isn't sensitive enough to realize that she is a nuisance wouldn't take a tactful hint.

So my answer is: If you want privacy you'll have to be blunt about it.

The Blunt Way
Next time the neighbor strolls in to visit with you when you are knee-deep in housework, say something like this: "I'm sorry, Sue, but I can't stop to talk for even five minutes this morning. I've decided that I have got to get my work done in the morning before I can take any time out."

That isn't tactful. But it is straightforward and to the point and ought to get the idea across that you want to be left alone when you are working.

You may hate to be blunt but if the neighbor is really getting in your hair you had better not worry about being blunt.

You have a right to a little peace and privacy in your own home. There's no sense in letting a neighbor become a nuisance simply because you can't find a tactful way of getting her out from underfoot.

The ruby-throated hummingbird beats its wings about 75 times a second.

DISPENSING HAPPINESS makes Mamie Eisenhower happy, too, the camera captures the First Lady in a laughing mood.

Having company?

Here's a delightful new dish!

It's called salmon cranberry salad loaf. Chill all ingredients. Place 2 cups (1 lb. can) HONEY BOY SALMON, add 1/2-cup dried cranberry, 2 tsp. capers or dried sweet pickles, 1 tsp. grated onion, 2 cups potato chips. Blend 1/2 cups mayonnaise and 2 tsp. lemon juice with well-sifted dry-curd cottage cheese in loaf-shaped mold on platter. Garnish with cranberry and parsley. Serves 4 to 6.

Mother Ringtail was busy in the kitchen of the monkey house. Mugwump Monkey, the monkey boy, heard her rattling pots and pans. He climbed up from the Elephant Path. He went through the house to the kitchen. "Happy day, Mother Ringtail," said Mugwump, all in a Mugwump voice. "Happy day to you, Mugwump, said Mother Ringtail. "Are you making scrambled coconut pie?" asked Mugwump. Mother Ringtail smiled and said she was, and so Mugwump watched to see her do it. He had seen it many times before, but this was always fun. Mother Ringtail poured the coconut into a bowl. She stirred in the scramble with a spoon. She stirred and poured in other things. At last she poured the scrambled coconut. This was good, but not as good as the scrambled coconut pie would be, when at last it was through with the cooking in the oven. The pie was beginning to cook right now. Mugwump could smell

Fresh Berries Make Delicious, Tasty Jams

FRESH BERRIES are ready now to win lasting glory in economical homemade jams and jellies by the short-boil pectin method.

By GAYNOR MADDOX, NEA Food and Markets Editor

Baskets of bright and beautiful blackberries on the market now, with strawberries, raspberries and blueberries, mean beautiful jars of jams and jellies for the American menu.

Try making these berry jams by the short-boil pectin method to save not only your time, but precious materials as well. Your economical homemade jellies and jams will have the fine, rich flavor of fully ripe berries.

Blackberry and Strawberry Jam
(Yield: about 11 medium glasses)

Four and one-half cups prepared fruit, 6 1/2 cups sugar, one 2 1/2-ounce box powdered fruit pectin.

First, prepare the fruit—Crush completely, one layer at a time, about 1 quart each fully ripe blackberries and strawberries. Measure 4 1/2 cups fruit into a very large saucepan.

Then make the jam — Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with 1 1/8-inch hot paraffin.

Blackberry, Pineapple, Raspberry and Strawberry Jam
(Yield: about 10 medium glasses)

Four cups prepared fruit, 6 cups sugar, one 2 1/2-ounce box powdered fruit pectin.

First, prepare the fruit—Crush thoroughly about 1 pint each fully ripe blackberries, raspberries and strawberries. Measure 3 cups into a large saucepan. Add 1 cup (8-ounce can) crushed pineapple. Or—pare 1 very small, fully ripe pineapple. Chop very fine or grind and measure 1 cup into saucepan with berries.

Then make the jam — Measure sugar and set aside. Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and

Pork Chop Price Nears $1 Mark

By The Associated Press

Pork chop prices neared the $1 mark in many of the nation's food stores this week. Beef continued a bargain.

Some larger food chains featured weekend specials in rib roasts, pot roast, sirloin and chuck with prices marked down as much as 10 cents a pound.

Shoppers also found frying chickens an attractive buy on many food counters.

Pork prices, high compared to other meats, moved still higher this week, in some instances 14 cents a pound.

Some cities reported lower prices for bacon and smoked hams. Lamb prices advanced moderately.

Milk, butter, cheese and ice cream were headlined by the Department of Agriculture as the best food buys of the week. Supplies are plentiful and dairy head production is at a high level, it was noted.

Egg prices inched up at the wholesale level but no significant

Birth Control Panic Follows Health Unit

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Medical authorities here are using loudspeaker vans to convince illiterate Chinese villagers in the rural areas that government is not carrying out birth control operations during medical checks on their children.

The rumors started when government doctors visited the rural schools for medical checkups of the children, during which the sex organs were examined for hygienic reasons.

But panic spread among the villagers who believed the check was to tamper with the reproductive functions of children owing to the rapidly expanding population.

City Migration

HONG KONG—(AP)—A farm to city migration in Red China has reached flood proportions, aggravating urban unemployment and threatening agriculture production.

The People's Daily said that "50,000 farmers in addition to others now on the roads flowed blindly into several major cities in three weeks."

Thailand Considers Man-Made Rainfall

BANGKOK—(AP)—The Thailand government has approved a plan to introduce artificial rain in the rice-growing areas to beat the whims of nature.

Director-General of Irrigation Momluang Chuechart Khamphu, however, warned that rain-making was at present in the experimental stage and it may have to be adapted to suit conditions in Thailand.

not only his castle—he is pretty much the king in it. He has the big say, if any partner in the marriage does, particularly in the spending of money.

Duke Bows Low
Naturally, then, wives here like any step leading toward more feminine authority, and they aren't unhappy at all to have a queen instead of a king reigning over the land. They'd like to put the same system into their own households.

Red Cotton Controls

HONG KONG—(AP)—The Chinese Communist regime has stopped futures buying of cotton and has told its federation of cooperatives to quit selling fertilizer on credit to cotton farmers. This followed the slashing of government-controlled cotton prices and appeared part of a Red program to stop the trend of farmers away from grain and toward cotton.

Two interesting announcements came over the loud speaker: "The RSPCA (Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) advises not to bring animals into the coronation crowds. Those coming into London are reminded to be sure to leave plenty of food and water for their pets at home, and provide for their exercise."

"Before you light your coronation bonfires be careful to see that no birds have built their nests in them, as they have been up for a long time."

But what surprised me was the number of parents who took their children through the same pneumonia-risking ordeal, children too small to understand the meaning of the event. There were hundreds.

I watched one tot of four, the same age as the queen's own son, who had waited with his parents 33 hours on a curb for the queen to come past. He was in torture for hours, the torture of a child whose tired body cried for sleep.

Chinese Workmen Find Lives 'Easier'

TAIPEH, FORMOSA—(P)—Skilled workers in Free China are better off than similar workers in Russia according to the labor officer of the Mutual Security Agency in Formosa.

Willis R. Etter says it takes a Russian worker 578 hours of labor to buy a sewing machine while in Nationalist China this required only 322 hours. Etter gives these other examples: A radio—Free China, 158 hours; Russia, 225 hours. A wrist watch—Free China 46 hours; Russia 535 hours. A bicycle—Free China 345 hours; Russia 495 hours and 40 minutes. Pair of shoes—Free China, 92 hours; Russia 108 hours. Cloth for a Man's Suit—Free China, 460 hours; Russia 583 hours.

About 2/3 of the fatal bicycle accidents in the United States occur between May and October.

Horse and Gun

Pete Morrison, a wagon train scout, faced a western killer and a band of renegades and his only weapons were his horse and his gun. Complicating the matter was the bad man's daughter and the woman the bad man loved. Both women loved Pete. Here is a thrilling story by the author of nearly 100 novels of the old West.

Hamburgers With Tasty Sauce

Spring heralds the season of outdoor eating. So let's begin looking for better ways to make the ever-popular hamburger.
 A young cook from station, WFO, which is set among five lakes, tells how she learned to make them from her father. He loved to take his family in a boat to this favorite lake-shore picnic spot. Then he cooked his

DES MOINES—(P)—Betty Bingham, 21, didn't have to pay for a want ad when she lost a diamond ring worth $100.

The Des Moines Tribune ran a page one story about it. Betty had lost the ring on her first day in a new job in a potato chip factory. She was pouring chips onto a conveyor when she lost the ring. The conveyor led to the packaging unit.

The paper said that if any potato chip buyer found a diamond ring in the bag he was not to consider it a prize. The ring is Betty's.

Disputed Filipino Marriage To Stand

MANILA—(P)—A Filipino judge has ruled the marriage of a Filipino girl and a U. S. serviceman "is still valid and subsisting" even after a United States court granted a divorce.

The decision was an offshoot of a child support suit filed by the divorced wife of Alfredo Javier, retired U. S. navy man. The support claim was granted by the judge.

Javier obtained in 1941 a contested divorce decree from the circuit court of Mobile County, Alabama. He charged desertion by his wife, Salud Arca, whom he married in Manila in 1937.

Bake With Non-Fat Dry Milk

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

On today's list of plentiful foods, non-fat dry milk is prominent. Use it for cooking, baking, for drinking and for cereals for nutrition and very definite economy.

Non-fat dry milk, which is milk with only the fat and water removed, is available at the grocer's in foil-lined packages. A one-pound package will yield five quarts of milk for as little as nine cents a quart. It will keep almost indefinitely on a cool, dry shelf if the foil lining of the package is closed carefully after each using. The milk is a rich source of protein, calcium, riboflavin and lactose.

Spicy Apple Crisp
(4 to 6 servings)

One-third cup flour, 3/4 cup non-fat dry milk, 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 cup butter (melted), 4 cups thinly sliced apples, 1/2 cup water.

Mix together flour, non-fat dry milk powder, brown sugar, cinnamon, ginger and nutmeg. Stir in melted butter until mixture resembles crumbs. Arrange sliced apples in buttered 9x12-inch baking dish. Add water and sprinkle crumb mixture evenly over apples.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 35 minutes or until apples are tender. Increase oven temperature (to 450 degrees F.) and bake about 5 minutes longer or until crumbs are browned. Serve warm or chilled. If desired, top with cream or whipped non-fat dry milk topping.

Whipped Topping
(About 2 1/2 cups)

One-half cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup non-fat dry milk, 3 tablespoons granulated sugar.

Four water: into a small (one-quart) mixing bowl. Stir in lemon juice and vanilla. Sprinkle non-fat dry milk over top of liquid; beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 10 minutes. Sprinkle sugar on the surface. Beat until sugar is blended and mixture is stiff enough to hold soft peaks, about five minutes.

Belgian Earnings

BRUSSELS—(P)—The average Belgian workers' family earns around $1,494 a year, according to figures released here by the Belgian "Institut Universitaire d'Informations Sociales et Economiques" polling institute.

This figure was established after a survey amongst some 277 Belgian workers' families.

It's a good idea to melt chocolate over hot water rather than over direct heat, because chocolate scorches easily.

Lonely Child Learns Why Mommy, Daddy Don't Visit

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Shirley Harmon, a lonely four-year-old, knows now why her mommy and daddy haven't visited her in the hospital here. She asked why they hadn't sent gifts for her birthday Thursday. That's when the attending surgeon told her that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Len Harmon of Decatur, Ind., and an infant sister were killed in the train-car crash that sent her here for delicate brain operations.

Discovery Of Cash In Vacant Lot Tips Off Legal Wrangle

MISSION, KAN.—(AP)—Who owns the $2,000 an astonished 15-year-old boy uncovered while moving grass on a neighbor's empty lot? The owner of the lot, Charles Asner, says his wife had been saving the money without his knowledge over a seven-year-period and buried it in a fruit jar. The boy, Robert Guthrie, just gulped when he saw the money Tuesday and called his father, Sheriff Norman Williams was consulted. Williams counted the small bills and consulted the county attorney, James Bradley. Bradley told the sheriff to keep the money and they would consult the District Court about any and all claims. Asner consulted his lawyer and said he would file a claim.

Tucson Postpones Seeding City Park

TUCSON, ARIZ.—(AP)—Growing grass in public parks is an expensive proposition in the desert area. The city council has postponed action until next fiscal year on a proposal to grass Oury Park because the park department funds have been committed almost completely. The park is named for the man who was elected delegate from Arizona to the Confederate Congress in the Civil War but who never took his seat and later became a civic leader in the Territory of Arizona.

IMPARTIAL JURY SAYS BOTH WIN

DENVER—(AP)—You can't do that—said the jury. Judge Robert W. Steele of district court rubbed his eyes and blinked as he read a verdict returned by a jury. The verdict was in favor of a woman who sued for damages due to a car collision and also returned a verdict in favor of the man she sued. The judge called the jury back into court and patiently explained that in a law suit, only one side can win, not both. The jurors retorted again and awarded the woman damages for an injury.

Texan Reenlists In Army To Be Near Girl He Loves

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent
VIENNA, AUSTRIA—Sometimes you meet a person, and you are willing to travel half-way around the world to see her. "Then it's love," Pvt. Marshall Stuckey, a tall blond and handsome Texas boy, believes. He should know. Stationed in Vienna with the 63rd Signal Battalion, he received his discharge after three years overseas service and returned to his home in Dallas. But he was in love. So, what did he do? "I bought me a ticket on the Queen Elizabeth and came back to Austria—re-enlisted in the Army." Just to be near the girl he loves.

He left as a sergeant—but when he reenlisted he came back in as a private. The Viennese girl in his life is tall and slender, with long Hedy Lamarr type hair. She formerly was one of Austria's top skating stars, but the Texan says "I made her get out of the show, and go to the university instead." She soon will be graduated from the University of Vienna, with a degree in pharmacy. Stuckey goes one night a week to the university to study French, and receives lessons in the same language two nights each week from his girl friend. "It's a good language to know," he believes. His German is "fair," he says.

Stuckey's present job in Vienna is assistant military manager for the Cottage Hotel, billets here for VIP's. There is a full Austrian staff on hand, but Stuckey's job is supervisory only. The hotel has 108 rooms, is located on the outskirts of Vienna near the famous Vienna Woods. Born in Fastrill, Texas, Stuckey was graduated from Rock High School. He has a brother, John P. Stuckey, living in Commerce; three sisters, Mrs. Billie Joyce Petty, Dallas; and Mrs. Sybil Gary and Mrs. Leon Davenport, both of Angleton. Practice of keeping systematic records of births first was adopted by the English clergy about 1598 to prevent disputes regarding inheritance.

Nation Gets First Look At Surviving Siamese Twin

CHICAGO—(AP)—Medical science almost has finished the history-making role it played in separating the Brodie twins and in keeping one alive. From now on, Rodney Dee Brodie will be traveling largely on his own along the uphill road his parents pray will lead to a normal life. A nation which followed every move in the grim drama will get its first glimpse of Rodney Thursday night, in a televised film taken last week. It will see a happy, smiling youngster, who greeted the photographers with a loud "Hi!" and a wave of his rattle.

Rodney teared for two months between life and death. Then on March 11 came his twentieth and most crucial operation. Surgeons covered his exposed brain with skin grafts. The danger of fatal brain infection was gone. The 20-months-old boy entered a new phase of life.

Nepal Plans Reward For Mountain Guide

Bijaya Shumshere said Wednesday. An embassy spokesman said reports that the government planned a life pension for the famous guide were "not unlikely."

Moscow's Aim Apparent

Russian reaction to the planned Big Three conference at Bermuda, plus rejection of renewed parleys on the Austrian treaty, speaks volumes about the real motives behind the Kremlin's "peace offensive."

The most significant thing Moscow said of the Big Three meeting was the charge that Britain, France and the United States intended to "gang up" on the Soviet Union by reaching a common viewpoint before entering into negotiations with the East.

The Reds said in so many words that they would be disinclined to take part in a four-power meeting unless the Western participants approached it as independent nations prepared to express totally individual viewpoints.

This is the conclusive proof, if it were needed, that the Russian goal in the "peace offensive" is disruptive, not constructive.

It is a fundamental of Soviet thinking that the Western capitalist powers inevitably will contribute to their own final downfall and the triumph of communism by quarreling seriously among themselves.

Russian strategy always is designed to encourage and exploit any conflicts that develop in the West. Differences, of course, are inescapable among free-thinking men of widely varied backgrounds and problems.

Recognizing this, the Kremlin framed the "peace" approach in considerable part to take advantage of the fact that Britain and France are less exacting than America in attaching conditions to any conference on a general world settlement.

The scheme has worked well. Prime Minister Churchill called for a Big Four meeting, and the French seconded him. Meanwhile, we hung back, demanding signs of good faith.

What Moscow wants, naturally, is to get the three Western powers around the table and then play upon these different attitudes. The hope would be to open gaping holes in the unity of the West.

That is why the Kremlin is angered at the prospect of a preliminary Western conference in which the three democratic nations would patch up some of their recent differences and develop a common policy to present to the Soviet Union.

Any such solid front automatically would defeat one of Russia's prime reasons for seeking a conference. And it would leave Russia exposed once more as a nation which does not sincerely desire peace, but instead is engaged in a baffling new kind of warfare that embraces every phase of human activity.

It's a tough break for the pessimist when there's not enough trouble to go around.

Aim at nothing in particular and you're very likely to hit your mark.

Pretty Hard To Swallow

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)
Drew Pearson says: Senator Taft becoming "Mr. President" to Cabinet; Will atom bombs replace reduced Air Force?; Congressman Brown saves his town.

WASHINGTON—It probably will be denied, but one of the most amazing advices ever given to a Cabinet regarding a particular senator has just been suggested to Eisenhower Cabinet members—namely, to clear all major policy matters informally with Senator Taft.

This was not handed out to the Eisenhower Cabinet as a categorical hard-and-fast order, but rather as a suggestion. However, the effect is just about the same, and the advice is having two important results:

1. Taft, the man whom Eisenhower defeated at Chicago, more than ever is becoming Mr. President. He is in the unique and enjoyable position of having power without official responsibility. While Eisenhower doesn't guarantee to go along with Taft on everything, as for instance, cooperation with the United Nations, he has leaned farther than any other President in years to give Taft the fullest cooperation—almost veto power—over domestic policies and appointments.

2. Secretary of Labor Durkin is almost certain to resign. Political enemy No. 1 of the labor movement is Robert Alphonso Taft. Because he authored the Taft-Hartley Act, both the AFL and the CIO did everything in their power to defeat him. Therefore, for the secretary of labor, a former AFL executive, to clear policies with the enemy of labor is more than he can take. Durkin doesn't want to go along with Eisenhower, and his AFL colleagues don't relish the idea of a break. But if the instruction to clear with Taft stands, Durkin is almost certain to bow out of the Cabinet in the near future.

Note—The secretary of Labor has felt unhappy about two other things. He has received no help regarding the revision of the Taft-Hartley Act. His colleagues in the Cabinet just aren't interested. Second, when he gets to Cabinet meetings, Durkin sometimes finds other cabinet members there in advance, gets the impression that certain matters have been decided before his arrival.

Washington Pipe Line
The Senate ratification still charges only 75 cents for a haircut. The price is $1.25 in downtown Washington. During his recent illness, Ohio's influential GOP Congressman Clarence Brown had a temperature of 105. He credits Navy doctors at Bethesda Medical Center for saving his life. . . . Harry Truman writes to Dean Acheson at least twice a week. The letters contain pithy comments about the new Administration's policies (not too complimentary). . . . The State Department had no advance warning before Ambassador Luce announced withdrawal of U. S. aid from Italy in the event De Gasperi's government is overthrown in next Sunday's elections. Her speech didn't help. . . . In the last five months Washington's police have put in more than 10,000 hours overtime without pay—most of it during inauguration week. . . . Washington's real-estate agents claim Attorney General Brown got "stuck" on his new $55,000 home. They claim it's a "dog," that he could have bought a much better house for the same money. . . . White House haggling continues over five big political planks—one FCC commissioners, two seats for the IGO and SEC.

Defense Boss Charlie Wilson and wife attend more "important" parties than any other Cabinet family. Wilson "sells" the Defense Department during all social conversations. . . . The Democratic National Committee was in a turmoil last week. A trucking company had "lost" 175,000 addressed envelopes ready to be sent out with promotion material for the new "Democratic Digest." The envelopes finally were discovered in Baltimore. . . . The Bureau of Internal Revenue soon will lose some of its top "loop-hole" experts—the sleuths who keep their eyes on big corporations' taxes. The move may cost the taxpayers millions, yet it's being done in the name of economy.

Last week the Bureau of Internal Revenue raised the House of Representatives' dining room and seized 121 packs of cigarettes without federal stamps. The cigarettes were intended for the National Training School for Boys but somehow had been diverted to the congressman. The Congressional Dining room had been selling the tax-free cigarettes at regular prices. Charlie Wilson's Rabbit.
As the congressional heat increases, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is grousing frantically to justify his curtailment of the Air Force. Latest report is to pull a brand-new atomic rabbit out of the hat.

This is: The theory that we have developed more powerful atomic bombs since the 143-wing air force.

I am quite sure that when—as we all hope—these immediate negotiations for an armistice (in Korea) are concluded, further settlement should not be left exclusively in America's hands. . . . —British Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

Unity (among non-Communist nations in Europe) means peace. Disunity will mean Communist penetration, aggression and war. —Italian Premier De Gasperi.

This is the life—no wife, no one around to bother me. I raise enough to feed me, work enough to save a little money and pay my $15 a year rent. —Frank Drobot, 1963 Robinson Crusoe, who rents island in a quarry near Deavenport, Iowa.

The Russians could probably overrun in Western Europe, but they do not have enough here (in Central Europe) to launch a successful attack without bringing in reinforcements. —General Gruenther.

$5 Million Pay Raise To Congressman? Errors Recorded In Senator's Speech

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—At the recent White House Photographers' Association annual dinner, President Eisenhower got a tremendous hand from the 700 guests by screaming out a room-shaking "Hey!" He did it at the request of Liberator, the piano player, who was one of the entertainers.

After Mrs. Patterson's death, Margaret Barne, was approached by a writer for information on her husband's life. The deal would have netted her plenty, but Miss Barne refused to consider it. That's the final test for a good social secretary.

Whether the taxpayers would get their money's worth from the Republican Administration, the attorney general said he would leave to them.

When Ike finally took off his raincoat and exposed his five stars, the surprised sergeant exclaimed in horror: "Holy mackerel, it's the Milky Way."

Murphy's second story concerned General Eisenhower's late arrival at an Army base. He had been expected early in the morning and the second lieutenant in charge of greet-ing him had been checking testily every few minutes with the sergeant at the gate.

When Ike finally arrived, the sergeant poked his head in the car and inquired: "Are you General Eisenhower?"

When the general said he was, the sergeant told him: "Boy, are you going to catch it from the lieutenant for being late!"

Prize crack of the week was made by Margaret Truman's sometime boy friend, Marvin Braverman, to Col. Robert Guggenheim. For months every society column in town has had the wealthy Republican angel nominated as ambassador to this country or that, without anything ever happening.

Latest word on the party circuit is that Colonel Guggenheim finally has been cleared and soon will be named envoy to Portugal. Anyway, after hearing this rumor, Braverman commented: "If they don't name you soon, Bob, I'd resign."

Incidentally, Marvin Braverman saw Margaret Truman when she made an unheralded and almost unnoticed visit to Washington the other day. When he complimented her on her beautiful sunhat, Miss Margaret told him that even her mother had gobs in for suntanning now, and had the color to prove it.

Mum's still the word from the White House on who finally will be named social secretary for the First Lady. Friends of Margaret Barne are giving her a big boost for the appointment, claiming she's a natural for the job.

During the years that she was social secretary for the fabulous Eleanor Patterson, Miss Barne handled the millionaire publisher's entertaining in her Washington mansion. She also was whisked off to manage parties at any one of Sissy Patterson's four other places—on Long Island, in Florida, a country place in Maryland and a ranch in Wyoming.

Have A Laugh

A reader wants to know, "How big is Texas?" Texas occupies all of the North American continent except the small part set aside for Mexico, Canada and the 47 less fortunate states.

Texas are so proud of their state that they can't sleep at night. If you could examine the brain of a Texan, you'd find a map of the Lone Star State printed thereon.

The chief pursuit of Texans used to be Indiana. This was back in the days when our state was so wild that not even the law of gravitation was obeyed. In fact the Texas Legislature has not passed the law of gravitation at this time.

Texas owns the north bank of the Rio Grande, the only river in the world navigable for pedestrians. Texas is so big that, if you used the northern line of the Panhandle for a hinge, you'd throw Brownsville so close to the Arctic Circle that the hot tamales peddlers could swap their wares with the Eskimos for polar bears.

In fact, Texas is so huge that it is bounded on the North by the Aurora Borealis, on the South by the invisible lines of equinox, on the East by primeval chaos and on the West by the Judgment Day.

If all the bales of cotton produced in our imperial commonwealth in a single season were made into one stack, you would open a stairway reaching to the nearby gates. And if all the hogs in Texas could be made into one hog, he could dig the Panama Canal at a single root of his mighty snout.

And if all the steers in Texas could be made into one steer, he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico, one hind leg in Lake Michigan and the other in Hudson's Bay, with his tail brush the Northern Lights out of the Alaskan skies!

I Give You Texas!

Mexican Cotton
LAREDO—Mexico expects a 1953 cotton crop of 1,261,000 bales, just a shade lower than the 1,300,000 bale crop in 1952.

As used by archeologists the word artifact refers to a product of human workmanship, especially of simple primitive art.

GARY "BRINGS DOWN THE HOUSE"—Gary Nelson, 11, of Minneapolis, Minn., isn't one to use words lightly. The people who laughed when he said his rendition of "Chopsticks" would "bring down the house" will have more respect for his musical ability when he shows them this picture. Gary found the place amid the ruins of a house being torn down by wreckers.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Penicillin Attacks Infections, Helps Halt Rheumatic Fever

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
About one in every hundred school children is believed to have congenital heart disease, rheumatic fever or rheumatic heart disease. This sounds pretty bad, and it is in a way, but there are many encouraging developments.

Congenital heart disease, that disease present at birth, is far less common than rheumatic heart disease. I shall say nothing about it in this column except that developments in heart surgery have meant that many youngsters with some kinds of congenital heart disease can be operated on successfully and returned practically to normal.

The greatest amount of heart disease in children is the result of rheumatic fever. This disease strikes most commonly between the ages of five and 15, but it is not confined to these ages by any means. Although it appears that some progress is being made in treatment, the really giant strides have been made in prevention.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
"Please decide this play for our group," requests a Miami correspondent. "We have a house rule that you cannot discard a wild card unless you have nothing but wild cards in your hand. This rule caused all the trouble in a recent game."

"My hand consisted of two aces and two wild cards at a late stage of a particular hand. I drew a card from the stock pile, and that card happened to be a third ace. I didn't want to discard an ace since that would surely give the pack away to the next player."

"Therefore I put down three aces, leaving only two wild cards in my hand. Then I discarded one of those two wild cards."

"This started the discussion. The opponents said I should have discarded one of the aces. I claimed that the rule said nothing about this point. The rule says that you are allowed to discard a wild card only when your hand contains nothing but wild cards at the time of your discard."

"The rule doesn't prohibit you from putting yourself deliberately into a position in which you have only wild cards in your hand."

"Who is right?"
As in the case of most arguments over "house" rules, there isn't any to decide who is right. The rule isn't stated clearly, and the only way to settle the argument is to toss a coin or take a vote.

But since this situation may arise again, let me make a suggestion. Decide beforehand what should be allowed in cases of this sort. Then state the rule in one of these two ways:

1. A player may discard a wild card only if his hand contains nothing but wild cards at the time that he must choose a discard. (This permits him to meld deliberately in such a way as to leave only wild cards in his hand.)

2. A player may discard a wild card only if his hand contains nothing but wild cards when he begins to meld at that turn. (This does not permit the player to meld a natural card and thus leaves himself with only wild cards for a discard.)

Either rule is playable, and if you must follow this peculiar "house" rule you should take your choice. Better still, however, forget all about that house rule and follow the official rule—that you are allowed to discard a wild card at your turn no matter what cards you may have in your hand. The official rule leads to a far better game.

The greatest danger from rheumatic heart disease, which is the most serious complication of rheumatic fever, is the result of repeated attacks. It is known, however, that most attacks of rheumatic fever are preceded two or three weeks earlier by infections with certain kinds of streptococci (which are germs), such as tonsillitis, sore throat, scarlet fever, or infections of the middle ear.

Since this is the case, it is readily apparent that if these streptococcal infections could be attacked when they occur the chances of bouts of rheumatic fever would be lessened.

A short, intensive course of treatment with penicillin, if it can be given at the first sign of streptococcal infection, helps to prevent the first attack of rheumatic fever. It should be mentioned that rheumatic fever itself is not contagious, but that most of the preliminary infections with streptococci are, and therefore anyone exposed to someone with a streptococcal infection also should be checked over.

In an excellent pamphlet called "Heart Disease in Children," recently published by the American Heart Association, some common sense health precautions are suggested for parents and teachers:

Prevent Sore Throat
Keep the child away from other children and adults who have colds or sore throats; give the youngster a bed and a separate bedroom, if possible; dress him suitably for bad weather, and make sure that wet clothes are changed promptly; use proper diet, exercise and rest to keep the child in good general health; don't nag the youngster about his health or frighten him into being too cautious.

If the child gets a cold or sore throat, don't blame yourself or the child, but take him to the family doctor so that he can be treated with penicillin or a sulfa if a dangerous streptococcal infection is present.

Mexico Claims New, Fast Tanning Method

MEXICO CITY —(AP)—The National Leather Association said Wednesday a Mexican has invented a new, quick method for tanning leather which cuts drying time from six hours to about 15 minutes.

The inventor is Jaime Malo. The association said his system is being used here at an annual saving of 12,000,000 pesos ($1,200,000) in this one operation alone.

The association said his method is being studied by technicians in the U. S., Germany, Cuba, Venezuela, Canada and other countries which have large leather industries.
