C-N Crane Prospect Is To Plug Back And Test Deirial Zone

T. M. Evans of Dallas No. 1 Jordan-Ingram-Stanolind, Central-North Crane County wildcat, found water in the Devonian and is preparing to plug back to a deirial zone where it had flowed oil and try to complete as a discovery.

The prospect, located eight miles south of Penwell and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 12, block B-22, pl survey, tested in the Devonian at 8,240-8,068 feet. The tool was open for three hours. Recovery was 270 feet of drilling mud and 2,970 feet of muddy sulphur water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

Gulf Recovers More Ellenburger Oil At S-C Crane Project

Gulf Oil Corporation has uncovered flowing production on the fifth consecutive drillstem test of the Ellenburger at its No. 1 P. O. Lee and others, wildcat in South-Central Crane County.

The latest test was taken from 3,240 to 3,260 feet with the tool open nine hours and five minutes. Gas came to the top in 10 minutes, with volume too small to measure. Fluid followed in three hours and flow was cleaned into pits five minutes. Tested to tanks six hours, the well made 72.45 barrels of 41-gravity oil.

Jones & Siasney of Albany No. 1 O. W. Cochran and others, wildcat in South-Central Nolan County, was flowing on production test at 4.015-4.023 feet. After the load was recovered, the project flowed six barrels of oil in one hour through an 18/64-inch choke and then flowed 16 1/3 barrels of oil in one and one-half hours through an 18/64-inch choke.

The new field opener then was flowed 12 hours through an 18/64-inch choke. It made 70 barrels of oil. Potential test will be taken soon. Location is 660 feet from north (Continued on Page 16)

Staff Officers Prepare Final Truce Details

PANMUNJOM—(AP)—Staff officers worked Tuesday on final details of a Korean armistice as hundreds of thousands of South Koreans demonstrated violently against the impending truce that will leave their nation divided.

Even as Koreans surged wildly through the streets of Seoul, Allied and Communist teams met in the tiny truce hut at Panmunjom for 12 minutes amid increasing signs that an armistice may be signed within the week.

Although an Allied spokesman gave no hint of what took place in the hut, the briefings of the meeting indicated only finishing touches remained before a cease-fire agreement was reached.

Lower level officers assembled after the plenary session—possibly to iron out the wording of the document that would call a halt to the bloody, three-year-old war.

Truce Zone Revision
The Reds asked the recess in the plenary session and another meeting was set for 11 a.m. Wednesday (8 p.m. Tuesday CST).

Revision of the cease-fire line to follow the present battle line probably was one matter discussed by negotiators and staff officers. The original line was drawn up in November, 1951. Since then it has changed only slightly.

Observers anticipated no serious delay in reaching agreement on a new cease-fire line.

The big obstacle was swept aside Monday by the signing of the agreement providing for voluntary prisoner exchange.

Still, the threat of continued South Korean warfare after a cease-fire agreement worried top UN officials.

Truce Buffer Zone
There was no indication what would happen if the ROK armistice refused to acknowledge a truce. All fighting is to halt 12 hours after the armistice is signed. Within 72 hours troops of both sides are to pull back to create a buffer zone two and one-half miles wide. And at the same time, machinery for the release of prisoners of war will be set in motion.

South Korean leaders were bitter over the prisoner exchange agreement. They said it failed to live up to the United Nations "fundamental principle of human freedom."

Churchill Says Truce Now Certain

LONDON—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill told Parliament Tuesday nothing ought now to stand in the way of the conclusion of an armistice in Korea "except necessary administrative arrangements."

Churchill said he was confident the administrative details "may soon be completed," he added, "that the arrangements now agreed will ensure that no prisoner of war is repatriated by force."

Important Information!

You know there's a very interesting thing about the scientific study being made of advertising through every ad. It has been found in cities from coast to coast that someone decided that each of those ads was the best ad in that group that day. That's what we mean by difference of opinion.

It is not possible to take hundreds or thousands of letters and tabulate adjectives and sentences. You can tabulate "preference" as indicated by a choice of what is best.

It has been found to be the rule that the readers who receive the awards from week to week generally have about 12 to 14 selections out of 18 which match exactly with the ads which receive the most votes from the entire community.

The interesting fact remains that regardless of who receives the awards, the tabulation of the community's selections provides important and very accurate information which could be obtained in no other way. Send in your opinions this week.

New City Water Use Record Set

Midland used a record-breaking amount of water Monday, and with McMillen Field in operation, there was a lot more where that came from.

Henry Nunn, city water and sewer engineer, reported 12,220,000 gallons were used during the day, surpassing the 11,000,000-gallon record established a year ago.

Nunn said 4,580,000 gallons of the total amount was furnished from the McMillen Field wells, which began pushing water into the city distribution system last Friday.

"There was only one complaint of low pressure," said Nunn, "and that appears due to a faulty water meter."

Nunn pointed out that there still is needed the 1,000,000-gallon storage tank just west of Permian Estates to insure continued adequate water pressures, particularly in the western section of the city.

Contract for the construction of the tank already has been awarded the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company and work probably will begin by October, when steel shipments have been promised.

Frank P. Lord, 76, Resident Of Midland For 27 Years, Dies

Frank P. Lord, 76, a Midland resident the last 27 years, died at his home, 701 East New York Street, about 4 a.m. Tuesday following a long illness.

A former sheriff of Gaines County for many years, Lord came to Midland from Seminole in 1926. He was associated with the Ben F. Whitefield Mercantile Company a number of years and later operated a service station here.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Wednesday in the Newbie W. Ellis Chapel. Interment will be in Resthaven Memorial Park.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Emma A. Lord of Midland; five daughters, Mrs. J. T. Baker and Mrs. J. E. Harwell, both of Midland; Mrs. A. E. Murr of Stanton, Mrs. H. V. Black of Roseburg, Ore., and Mrs. David Allen of Alpine; two sons, Frank E. Lord and W. B. Lord, both of Midland; 14 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Joe E. Harwell, E. L. Hisey, F. C. Wheeler, Chester D. McPeak, Dr. W. D. Horton and G. L. Lord.

Heat-Relieving Showers Possible

The possibility of heat relieving light showers were forecast for the Midland vicinity Tuesday afternoon by the CAA Control Tower. The weatherman added that blowing sand was also due and might reduce visibility to three miles.

However a 10-day long range forecast from the Weather Bureau said temperatures for West Texas will range four to seven degrees above normal for this time of the year with precipitation light from widely scattered thunderstorms.

The high in Midland Monday was 101 degrees.

Storms Take Toll Of 366 Over Nation

By The Associated Press
Tornadoes have killed an estimated 366 persons and caused property damage of 150 million dollars in the United States this Spring. The toll includes an estimated 141 killed Monday night in Michigan and Ohio.

Texas has been the heaviest sufferer with 141 killed and property damage estimated at $61,300,000.

Twenty-one persons have been killed by tornadoes in Georgia, 16 in Nebraska, 15 in Alabama and five in Oklahoma.

Other states hit by tornadoes include Arkansas 8; Florida 7; Illinois 3; Indiana 1; Iowa 3; Kansas 1; Louisiana 3; Minnesota 1; Mississippi 3; North Dakota 4; South Dakota 2; Tennessee 5; Wisconsin 1, and Wyoming 1.

Binion Pays Visit To Permian Basin

Gambler Benny Binion made one of his periodical visits to Midland Tuesday.

"I've been coming here off and on for 30 years," the balding tax dodger suspect noted. Binion said he would be here until Wednesday before continuing to Las Vegas, where he operates a classy gambling casino.

Binion was spotted in a hotel coffee shop. The word spread and the curious craned their necks to get a glimpse of the man who is at odds with Uncle Sam on tax payments.

The native North Texan came here from Austin, where he posted $25,000 in bonds after pleading innocent to eight charges of income tax evasion. Federal indictments charge Binion and his wife owe the government $497,420 in back income taxes.

Binion also posted $15,000 on two state gambling indictments in Dallas before going to Austin for federal arraignment.

Binion still refused to discuss the tax cases. He has employed an array of top legal talent including former Gov. Dan Moody.

"And there'll probably be more before this thing is over," he said. Binion was accompanied by his son, Jack. Both wore cowboy hats and boots with shirt collars open, helping them to move among West Texas ranch folks without immediate detection.

The hefty Binion has been connected with gambling operations in Odessa, and the recent raid by Texas Rangers there may have been instrumental in bringing him to this section. He talked here Tuesday with persons known to have been connected with the Paul Harvey operations in Eltor County. (See Story, Picture On Page Nine)

Park Meter Switch To One-Hour Limit Started Downtown

The switch from 30-minute parking meters to one-hour meters in a 12-block area in Midland's business district was started Tuesday.

"We started changing the meter heads this morning," said City Manager W. H. Oswald, "and the entire job probably will take about a week."

The one-hour meters are being installed on Main Street from Illinois Street to the railroad tracks and on one block in each direction from Main Street on Illinois, Texas, Wall and Missouri streets.

The change was ordered by the City Council two weeks ago, in accordance with a recommendation submitted by the retailers committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Survivors Describe Chaos In Wake Of Flint Tornado

FLINT, MICH.—(AP)—"It was horrible. It was the most terrible thing I ever saw."

That's the way John J. Turbin of Coldwater Road described the tornado that spread death and devastation over his neighborhood. Turbin and his wife and two relatives escaped unhurt, while neighbors were left in pain and death, their homes leveled by the twisting wind that hit the area about 8:45 p.m. Monday.

"I don't know why it didn't get us," Turbin, a retired Chevrolet worker, said in bewilderment.

City Of Flint, Michigan, Hit Heaviest Blow

FLINT, MICH.—(AP)—Six tornadoes, their black-clouded funnels dealing multi-million dollar destruction, ripped through Michigan and Ohio Monday night, killing 141 and injuring 750.

The most deadly of the shrieking windstorms flung full force against Flint, a heavily industrialized city of 163,000 about 70 miles north of Detroit. In Flint alone at least 113 persons were killed.

Forty houses in one Flint street were flattened. Many mangled bodies were found Tuesday in the wreckage of homes.

The tornadoes shot the nation's Spring twister toll to 366 dead. Alabama, Texas and Oklahoma have been hit hard recently.

The new tornado struck Michigan while the state still was cleaning up the May 21 twister that whirled through Port Huron, Mich., and jumped the St. Clair River and tore through Sarnia, Ont.

The first tornado lashed Erie, Mich., just over the Michigan-Ohio line from Toledo, Ohio, at 6:25 p.m. At 8:10 a twister hedge-hopped through Washtenaw County, three miles to the north and swept into Milford, Oakland County, 15 miles to the northeast. Tawas City, midway up the eastern coast of Michigan on Lake Huron, was hit by 8:25 p.m. and Flint at 8:45 p.m.

The tornado area extended from Tawas City down across the Ohio-Michigan border to Bowling Green—a path of 350 miles.

Ten persons died in the twister that struck the Cuyahoga, Ohio, area; six died in the Cleveland area; and one each at Wyris and Caylon. Flint Hospitals Crowded Michigan fatalities, in addition to those at Flint, included four dead at Erie; four dead at Tawas City; one at Ann Arbor; and one in Brown City, near Lapeer.

Flint hospitals were filled with injured, many crowded into corridors still stunned by the swift destruction that hit their homes.

National Guard troops, state police and police from numerous Michigan cities converged on the Flint area to aid in the rescue work. Gov. Mennen Williams took personal command but did not declare a state of martial law.

Man Faces Charges In Theft Of $300

A 20-year-old Latin American was being held Tuesday in connection with the theft of more than $300 in cash and checks from the RC Cola Warehouse on the old Bankhead Highway Sunday night.

Charges of burglary were filed against the man, David Arredondo, after his arrest by Midland Police. Police Chief Harold Wallace said Arredondo, who was employed by the bottling company, admitted taking the money.

The Police chief said the man told him and Detective Sgt. Wayne Tabor he had burned approximately $150 worth of checks and had spent all the cash.

AUSTIN—(AP)—Attorney General John Ben Sheppard left Tuesday for an inspection trip of Texas' Gulf boundaries set out in the new law returning Tidelands to the states.

White House Bridge Bouts Continue Into The Night; Washington Buzzes

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Washington is beginning to buzz about the White House bridge games. One recent Sunday session began in mid-afternoon and ended about midnight, with a break at supper.

In the game with the President were Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, Secretary of the Air Force Harold M. Talbot and George Allen, Allen owns a farm adjoining Ike's in Pennsylvania. He was a crony of President Truman's too, and used to be considered a Democrat.

Secretary Humphrey had to leave the game to appear on a "Meet the Press" television show at six, but came back afterward.

President Truman used to play a lot of poker with his cronies. The White House press corps this was known as "working on paper." But he never allowed any poker in the White House. It was always on the Williamsburg, at Key West, or some other vacation resort.

Eisenhower during his inspection of the Department of Agriculture experiment station at Beltsville, Md., just outside of Washington.

"I read in the papers of making a lot of promises I did not make," said the President. "But I did make one which shows I'm not as stupid as I sometimes appear. This is that we need more research."

The farm lobbyists immediately checked this against the Administration budget requests for agricultural research. They found that the total Research Administration budget request had been cut from $78,400,000 to $77,100,000. The House Appropriations Committee further cut this to $75,900,000.

The figure on international food-and-mouth research was cut by the Administration from $4,600,000 to $4,200,000. Congress further cut this to $3,900,000. For animal diseases control the figure was cut from $9,000,000 to $8,800,000.

And that, says the atomic energy expert, would probably end the interview.

Washington's own celebration of Queen Elizabeth's coronation—a super-duper garden party at the British embassy by all of the Commonwealth countries—had the traditional Devonshire-style strawberries and cream on the refreshment menu.

In the good old days, British garden parties on the king's birthday used to have both the berries and the cream shipped from England. Yielding to practicality, they now serve U. S. A. produced groceries—excepting, of course, some of the famous British oakes, and the tea, Prisoners of State.

Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine was reporting to the Senate on a decision of the U. S. Court of Military Appeals regarding the confinement of Navy courts-martial prisoners on bread-and-water rations.

When she had concluded her remarks, Senator Charles Tobey of New Hampshire commented wryly: "The senator from Maine has been speaking about bread and water furnished for the diet of Navy prisoners. That is what we get in the Senate restaurant every day."

Both Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the new Army Chief of Staff, and Gen. Nathan T. Twining, Air Force Chief of Staff, were members of the 1917 class at West Point. General Twining was graduated as an infantry officer and switched to aviation in 1923.

Story Behind Romance
The start of the romance between Massachusetts' Senator John F. Kennedy's beautiful sister, Eunice, and Robert Sergeant Shriver, Jr., is a story few Washingtonians know. The Kennedy-Shriver wedding in New York recently was one of the most elaborate social events in years.

It was something of a turnabout for Eunice Kennedy daughter of the wealthy former ambassador, Joseph P. Kennedy of Boston, to promise to love, honor and "obey" Shriver. Five years ago Miss Kennedy headed a juvenile delinquency program in the Department of Justice. The tall, good-looking young assistant assigned to her on this job was Shriver. Then, he obeyed her. It took all that time for Miss Kennedy to realize that what she really wanted was to take orders from her former assistant.

Banker—"Well, I suppose that the way it has to be. Where would you put your plant?"
Industrialist—"It wouldn't be my plant. Under present laws, the government would own the plant and own all the fuel, too."
Banker—"I have a piece of property out in Chicago. Could the plant be built and the electricity sold there?"

YOU SMOKE THAT THING?—Yes, that is a pipe, and a prize winner at that. Mrs. Elizabeth Westrop, New York City, the housewife sculptress, won $1000. The pipe was entered in a national contest sponsored by a pipe manufacturer. The bowl of the pipe is in the rooster's puffed-up chest and the stem runs along the tail feathers. The prize money will be used to buy a home in the country for Mrs. Westrop, her two children and her husband, an ex-G.I. working his way through law school.

WATCH OUT MARILYN MONROE—Hollywood's Wolves Drool As Grayson Warbles In 3-D

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—A young Texas moneyman met Kathryn Grayson in the studio commissary recently and before long he was saying, "What time shall I pick you up tonight, honey?"

Kathryn batted her long eyelashes and smiled. "You ain't, honey."

Twice stung by the marital bug, the well-built soprano is reported to be anti-male. I visited her on the "Kiss Me Kate" set on the day when, ironically enough, she was singing the Cole Porter tune, "I Hate Men." As she relaxed in her dressing room with her pal, Ann Miller, I asked: "Do you?"

So she stays home and reads mysterious novels. That doesn't mean she has no social life. She has a couple of fellows on the string right now, believing perhaps there is safety in numbers.

"But I don't have dates for publicity value, as some gals do," she added. "I don't go to the night clubs or other bright spots. I go to quiet places where we can talk and have fun."

Will she marry again?
"Probably," she sighed. "My trouble is that I like children, but I can't get along with men. There doesn't seem to be any way of having one and not the other—and stay in pictures. So I'll keep looking."

Ann Miller, the girl-about-town, is trying to help her. Later this month they plan a whirlwind spree to Spain.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Rocco Giannarano and his son, Richard, have learned it doesn't always pay to tiffle with the so-called weaker sex.

Two policemen—Ann Gillchrist, 37, and Joan Hester, 25—seized the father Monday at his Manhattan home in a bookmaking inquiry. The 176-pound son went to the aid of the 200-pound father.

"You'll like the Latin," Ann promised. "I'll introduce you to Mario Cabre. He'll write you a sonnet. I'm sure."
Cabre, the poetry-spouting bull-fighter who has wooed Ann, Ava Gardner, Yvonne de Carlo and other Hollywood dolls, will be there to meet the plane. Ann assured. He appears to be the Grover Whalen of Madrid.

Best In History!

Another Midland Rodeo has come and gone—and it appears the 1953 show will be recorded as the top celebration to date.

Interest was at a record high in Midland and throughout the Permian Basin Empire, accounting in large part for the success of the nineteenth annual edition of Midland Rodeo.

Attendance, too, appeared to be at a record high, despite a couple of bad weather breaks, and Midland Rodeo remains one of the few major rodeos of the nation which never has operated at a financial loss.

The show itself went off smoother and faster than most previous rodeos to the satisfaction and delight of the thousands of cash customers who crowded the stands each night.

The rodeo stock was just as wild or perhaps wilder than ever, and the cowboy entrants—tops in the rodeo world—seemed to be at their very best as they contested the rugged stock in the five thrilled-packed performances.

The specialty acts each night were the best ever, and the top-notch rodeo clowns were at their funniest.

The Midland High School Band was better than ever as it furnished the music for the celebration.

The huge crowds were handled in orderly fashion both in the parking and grandstand areas, and the directing of traffic was most commendable. The concession business functioned smoothly, too.

Everything seemed to go off smoother than ever. Launching this "best of all" Midland Rodeo was the opening day parade, which was acclaimed as the longest, best and most colorful ever staged in this headquarters city of the Permian Basin Empire.

It has been said that in rodeo the opening day parade foretells the quality of the show, and if that be true it is no wonder the 1953 Midland Rodeo was the most successful in history. The parade was just that good.

Back of the success of Midland Rodeo, however, is the overall planning, arranging and staging of the annual celebration by officials of Midland Fair, Inc., and by members of its Rodeo Committee. Theirs was a tremendous responsibility, but they did their job nobly and well.

Members of other committees along with Chamber of Commerce staff members also are to be commended for their tireless efforts which aided materially in the success of the 1953 show. It is impossible to name all those who had parts in the staging of the area attraction, but to all those who did—thanks a million.

The 19th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo was a huge success and that really is what counts. It took the assistance and cooperation of a lot of persons to arrange and present such an attraction, and everyone came through in a fine spirit of cooperation. It is the West Texas way.

One thing is for sure—the outstanding success of the 1953 show further cemented the enviable position of Midland Rodeo as the big annual entertainment event of the Permian Basin Empire and as the gathering place for West Texans.

Let's start planning now for an even bigger and better 1954 Midland Rodeo!

"We Request The Bermuda... Er... Talks Be Delayed"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson
Drew Pearson says: Electric power lobbyists score biggest victory; Government virtually gives up control of Bonneville power; Republican industry bucks at private utilities in Northwest.

WASHINGTON — Topping the list of high-powered, high-paid lobbyists, in a city swarming with lobbyists, is the National Association of Electric Companies. According to the official records on file with Congress, this group of private utility companies spent a total of $477,941.74 last year trying to influence Congress.

And up until last month it was paying off handsomely.

Not only did the House Appropriations Committee knock out the 1906 reclamation law provision, inserted under Teddy Roosevelt, thereby ceding cooperatives and public organizations have first call on federal power, but they chipped $119,000,000 out of the Interior Department's budget for building dams and power lines.

"Our plan," confided one utility lobbyist to a senator, "is to cripple rural electrification and the farm co-ops without actually putting them out of business all at once. Then when their service deteriorates, the private power companies will go around and get the farmers to sign petitions asking that the co-ops be turned over to private enterprise."

A few days ago, the electric utility lobby scored its biggest triumph—although it may have overplayed its hand.

It persuaded its good friend general secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay to send out to Bonneville Dam a new contract by which all power from that huge government-built operation is turned over to nine private utilities with the co-ops and municipalities pretty much left out in the cold.

The model contract McKay sent to Oregon applies to the Portland General Electric Company, although eight other utilities blanketing the Northwest are to get similar contracts.

Section 4 (B) of the contract which the ex-governor of Oregon, now secretary of the Interior, handed the utilities on a silver platter not only gives them an option on all power produced by the Bonneville system, but provides that no new contracts shall be let to new industry until the option to the utilities is met.

Section 3 (B) of the contract also provides that in direct contradiction to the 50-year-old law laid down under Teddy Roosevelt, Bonneville will not sell power to any municipalities, co-ops are publicly owned utility districts for resale where such resale will increase the power taken by these public bodies more than 100,000 kilowatts a year.

There are various other new provisions in the new contract. Instead of fixing rates on its own power, as the government does today, the new contract merely permits rate negotiations with the utilities. If the negotiations are not successful, the government can only serve a four-year notice of cancellation, then after four years appeal to the courts.

In other words, what the new McKay contract boils down to is that the U. S. taxpayers generate the power, turn it over to nine private utilities, let the utilities decide who shall get the power, what they shall charge for the power, while the taxpayers surrender most of their right to fix rates on the power which they generate.

Industry protests

Probably if the electric lobby had not been so avaricious they could have gotten away with it. But the terms of the new contract were so avaricious that they backfired. And the backfire has come from big business, chiefly Republicans.

Perhaps a mile below lay the cluster of adobe buildings that were Zad Barnes' headquarters.

Pete Morrison saw in his imagination was a prosperous settlement stretching from the junction of the two rivers far up the Santos River. There was soil, climate, and water—and so long as people continued to go West there would be an ideal place to settle and farm for a colony, but he knew that before one could start, Zad Barnes would have to be ousted, and that might be no easy thing.

He had taken his time on the way, and he rode slowly now, and gave grudging approval to Zad Barnes' choice of a location. If he wanted to, Barnes could get out and cut all the hay he needed without having to ever stick a foot in the ground, or he could merely turn his stock on the meadow in the winter time and they would stay fat.

Pete wasn't guilty of covetousness, for he wanted nothing for himself. He didn't intend to stay here, but he would like to see friend Nate Wilkinson located on Barnes' place. Nate needed a place to light. He wasn't by nature a restless man like Pete Morrison. He had an idea the place would suit Nate fine.

Two rivers seemed like many a frontier trading post he had seen. Horses, saddled, and unsaddled, ranging from the finest thoroughbreds to the scrubbiest mustangs, were tied here and there. He could see Indians loafing about, and in the shade of the buildings a number of white men and Indians were gambling on a spread blanket. All the players were seated cross-legged on the ground, and the only spectators seemed with folded arms against the building. That Indian, Pete knew instantly, was a Navajo—and this was far from Navajo country.

The building which furnished the gamblers shade was the store, and it stood back a little from a solidly connected row of buildings, or rooms built in the form of an L, and facing an open, dusty court. These, he was to learn, housed Zad Barnes, and the more favored of his retainers, and contained the rooms he had to rent, as well as a long dining room and kitchen. Back of this stood a number of cabins, some of them built in the cottonwoods which spread along the river. The court itself faced a willow thicket which came almost to the north end of the connected rooms.

That sixth sense which warned men of the frontier of danger was operating on Pete now until he could almost smell it.

The white men on the blanket looked up with hostile expressions on their faces. The Indians didn't seem interested enough to buy supplies from you everything gleans up from the little pile of the middle of the blanket. Pete seldom forgot a face, and he scanned the faces of the white men outside, with a crafty, animal look on his not unintelligent face. Barnes recovered quickly. "You're a little late in the season," he said.

"That's the trouble. I'm looking for a place for my people to spend the winter, and this sort of looks like there's plenty grass for the stock, and if we can arrange to didn't seem interested enough to buy supplies from you everything gleans up from the little pile of the middle of the blanket. Barnes didn't answer immediately. He gave Pete a long speculative stare, and finally he asked abruptly, "That the reason you been askin' so many questions about me Pete said, "I'm looking for your way?"

City Parks Plan Draws Attention

Midland's expanding park and recreation program drew special note recently at a meeting in Corpus Christi of the Texas City Managers Association.

H. C. Oswald, Midland city manager, who was among 132 persons present, outlined the city's plan for setting up recreation facilities.

Delegates studying possible programs for their cities were told of the Midland plan to place parks and playgrounds about one half mile apart—over a period of time.

The land comes from a requirement that five per cent of the land area in any new subdivision must be transferred to the city for specific use as a park site. If, however, the development is small in area, a sum of money equal to the crude value of five per cent of the area is accepted and placed in a restricted park fund.

The Midland program, Oswald explained, calls for one large 640-acre park, four neighborhood parks of 18 to 30 acres each, 12 play parks of two to three acres and 12 one-acre rest areas.

Have A Laugh

By BOYCE HOUSE
In my book, "Roaring Ranger, the World's Biggest Boom," the story is told of four oil men who were sitting around the day before Thanksgiving. The first one said, "I'm thankful that I've just discovered a field." The next one said, "I'm thankful for 1,000 barrels of production a day." The next one declared, "And I'm thankful that I've just sold a 100-acre lease for $50,000." They all looked at the fourth man who, they knew, had been having a lot of luck, all of it bad. He said, "Well, I'm thankful that chili is two-bits a bowl—and that I like it."

JERUSALEM—(P)—Police arrested 16 men Monday night on charges of membership in an underground terrorist organization. Attorney General Haim Cohen asserted the group has been linked with a series of recent outrages against institutions and buildings throughout Israel.

Cohen said the organization was uncovered after several men were arrested in an attempt to blow up the Ministry of Education as a demonstration against a proposed unified education scheme.

The attorney general declined to reply, however, when asked whether the group was responsible for the February bombing of the Soviet legation in Tel Aviv. Shortly after the blast, Moscow broke diplomatic relations with Israel.

Cohen said police had discovered documents proving the existence of the underground organization and several small caches of illegal arms. He declared the documents indicated the plotters were "anti-everything," including communism, the sale of pork, military service for women and Russian books.

more than two years ago. U. S. Attorney J. Edward Lumbard opposed the defense moves.

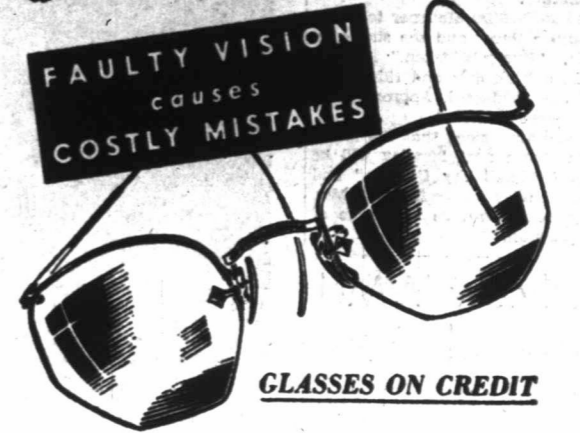

The Rosenbergs are scheduled to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing Prison, Ossining, N. Y., on the night of June 18 for conspiracy to transmit atomic secrets to Russia.

Defense Counsel Emanuel H. Bloch asked Monday for a new trial on the ground of what he called "newly discovered evidence."

Bloch charged that two key prosecution witnesses, David Greenglass and his wife Ruth, committed perjury at the trial of the Rosenbergs. Greenglass, Mrs. Rosenberg's brother, was sentenced to 15 years for his part in the conspiracy.

Prof. Malcolm Sharp of the University of Chicago Law School argued for the defense with Bloch. Kaufman ruled that the defense contentions in their motion were unsupported and incredible.

Texas Congressmen Show Alarm At Drop In Cattle Prices, Urge Federal Actions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Texas congressmen, growing more alarmed at falling cattle prices and the Southwestern drought, outlined Tuesday several possible lines of federal relief.

Much of the West Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico range is reported so badly hit that "two years of good rains" may be necessary before the lands can support even "an average run."

At least one big Texas rancher has told his representative he will be able to hold out for about a month more. If no aid is developed by then, he said, he'll have to sell out.

Prices for calves have dropped from $35 a hundred to as low as $10 in 18 months, Representative Poage said.

Poage, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said an already serious situation is likely to worsen unless the government comes to the rescue.

He said the Farmers Home Administration should be authorized to insure as much as 30 per cent of loans that hard-pressed livestock men take out at their local banks.

The borrower and the bank each would pay one per cent of the amount guaranteed. This would protect the government against total loss, the Waco congressman said.

Prices for calves have dropped from $35 a hundred to as low as $10 in 18 months, Representative Poage said. Another proposal, opposed by the Midwestern corn growers, is to remove price supports on the grain so it will go on the market at a lower figure.

The situation is described by Charles Morrison, manager of the Farm and Ranch Department of the City National Bank of Wichita Falls in a letter to Ikard.

"The widespread drought of the last two years," he wrote, "has placed the rancher of the Southwest in a position that he must reduce his herds to a very minimum."

"Much of the ranch country is so badly managed that it will take two years of good rains to bring the ranges back to where they will support an average run of stock."

"The average cattleman does not want nor expect the federal government to expend large sums of money to dole him out of this situation. He only asks for a reasonable market where he can dispose of his feeder type cattle at a price which will at least absorb a reasonable portion of the loss which he has sustained."

Representative Thornberry told the House many cattle raisers in his South Central Texas district were in desperate straits and were looking to Washington for action.

Describing falling prices as "the most important domestic problem" facing the lawmakers, Thornberry placed in Tuesday's congressional record a letter he received from John Reast, president of the Lee County Farm Bureau, and Quintus Lehman, president of the Lee County Cattleman's Association.

Referring to the "drastic fall in cattle prices," and speaking for their organizations, the men said: "Bankers have in many instances and will continue to be obligated to take over cattle on which money is loaned, the land they graze on. . . ."

"The recommendation of a cattleman's group last Fall that the government keep hands off, either was by no means the expression of the majority of the people who raise cattle. . . ."

Crew Cuts Trip Press

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Official reporters of debate in the House seldom make mistakes in identifying members—but a crew haircut evidently threw them last Friday.

The Congressional Record quotes Representative Holt (R-Calif.), who has worn a crew haircut since his days in the Marine Corps, as asking a question or two about mining during debate on a bill to create a small business administration.

Holt, who has no mining in his Los Angeles County district, did a little investigating.

The questions, he found, were asked by Representative Rhodes (R-Ariz.), who came to Congress wearing his hair fairly long, but decided on a crew haircut last week.

Both congressmen are freshmen in the House.

Truman Asks Public Support For Ike On Korean Policies

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Harry S. Truman called Tuesday for firm support of President Eisenhower during the critical negotiations in Korea.

The former President declined all comment on developments in that war-torn country and suggested a similar course for others not in authority "and not in possession of the facts."

"In a critical time like this," Truman said in an interview, "there can be but one American foreign policy. The President of the United States has the facts. We must support him in what he does and recommends. Any other course could lead only to confusion."

Labor Newspaper Hints Young Prince May Be Spoiled Brat

LONDON—(AP)—Is Bonnie Prince Charlie in danger of being turned into a spoiled royal brat?

The Laborite Daily Herald hinted Tuesday he is, and said Queen Elizabeth's four-year-old heir should be shielded from his adoring public without further delay.

Roused by the latest photographs of Charles hamming it up for coronation crowds in front of Buckingham Palace, Herald writer Hannen Swaffer wrote in a front-page article:

"Prince Charles is the heir to the throne. He is only four years old. But, either from the balcony of Buckingham Palace or from the royal cars, he already has become accustomed to seeing the British people as a cheering, adulatory throng.

"He will soon be entering the formative years of his childhood. I don't think it is wise that during those years he should be tempted to the feeling of self-importance which might well be induced by constant applause, handkerchief waving and hysterical cries of affection."

California Enacts Law Banning Local Star Chamber Meets

SACRAMENTO—(AP)—The California Assembly Monday night completed legislative action on a freedom of information bill which prohibits closed meetings of local governmental bodies.

The measure requires 24-hour notice to newspapers, radio and television stations of any special meeting. The provisions do not apply to state agencies.

The Assembly agreed to the Senate amendments and sent the bill to the governor for his expected signature.

In addition to the regulatory features, the measure carries this statement of policy:

"In enacting this chapter, the Legislature finds and declares that the public commissions, boards and councils and the other public agencies in this state exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business. It is the intent of the law that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly.

"The people of this state do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them. The people, in delegating their authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created."

BUSINESS HERE
Mrs. C. H. Kincannon of Fort Stockton was a business visitor in Midland Monday.

The 69-year-old Democrat who held the reins of the U. S. government almost eight years kept abreast of developments through newspaper and radio accounts.

But he knew, from his own experience in the White House, that a vast amount of secret information which cannot be made immediately available to the public, pours into the President.

His own files from the White House, loaded with information concerning World War II and the first 18 months of the Korean fighting, are under strict guard at the nearby Jackson County Courthouse. Some of this information, he once told reporters, cannot be made available to the public for 25 years—some maybe not even then.

These files one day are to be removed to the Harry S. Truman Library to be erected on the old family farm at Grandview, Mo.

It is in the interest of this library project, for which friends are undertaking to raise $1,750,000, that Truman is making his first trip East since he left the White House January 20.

"This trip East is not going to be a political trip in any sense of the word," he said. "This is no time to talk politics."

He had in mind, he said, that the first session of President Eisenhower's first Congress has not yet concluded.

"I want to give the Republicans plenty of time to make good on their campaign pledges," he said with a trace of a grin.

"I don't think I ought to attack them until they've had a full opportunity to do that. Let's wait until they make their record."

Truman plans to arrive in Washington about June 22. From there, he will go to Philadelphia and New York.

Solons Says Truce Can Save Lives But Military Spending Must Go On

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress members, wary of possible Communist trickery balanced liabilities against assets Tuesday and found little beyond the paramount saving of lives to approve in a Korean truce.

Without notable exception the lawmakers expressed hope that the Republic of Korea government will accept an armistice and avoid what some of them said otherwise could become a dangerous situation for American troops on the battle line.

Unanimously, legislators who commented were happy that the shooting seems likely to stop within a few days.

Aid Must Continue
But there was evident dissatisfaction with the truce terms, mixed with a realization among the legislators that a cease-fire will bring little, if any, decline in American expenditures and will offer no solution to pressing Asiatic political problems.

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Maybank (D-So.) joined in throwing doubt on the possibility of making any material savings as a result of cessation of the fighting.

The two, both members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said in separate interviews they expect immediate requests for U. S. economic aid in Korea to sail up most of the economic aid that might accrue from halted military operations.

Survey Required
Ferguson said the situation will have to be surveyed to find out how much prompt rehabilitation can be undertaken in line with President Eisenhower's promise to South Korean President Syngman Rhee that the U. S. will continue economic aid to restore Rhee's devastated land.

"South Korea largely has an agricultural economy and there is a limit on what can be spent in a short space of time," Ferguson observed.

Maybank said rehabilitation costs are likely to be high. The pending Mutual Security Administration bill would provide 111 million dollars for rehabilitation on the limited scale possible while the fighting still was going on.

Troops Must Stay
There have been no official estimates made on aid costs in a truce period, but lawmakers believe any peacetime restoration of South Korea would involve expenditures of billions.

Military costs may come down by an amount represented in actual war operations costs, but Chairman Bridges (R-NH) of the Appropriations Committee said he does not foresee any appreciable cut in the truce terms, although he said U. S. military negotiators "contend that the assets do indeed outweigh the debts and that this was the best truce that could be arranged under the difficult circumstances."

He said many features of the truce "very obviously lend themselves to Communists." Commenting that the U. S. will honor its agreements, he added:

Reds Honor Pact?
"But the entire Communist record proves that a Communist will honor an agreement only so long as he feels it to his advantage to do so and that, thereafter, he will break the agreement with utter disregard for his contractual obligations."

The South Korean ambassador, You Chan Yang, told a news conference late Monday that "up to this minute" his country was determined to fight on alone, rather than accept a truce which would leave Korea divided.

He acknowledged that this position was "possibly subject to change."

Yang denounced the proposed truce as appeasement of Communist forces and predicted that if signed it would bring on another world war.

'U. S. Losses Foes'
Outside Washington, Gen. James A. Van Fleet said he was in accord with the truce proposals, but wished "we could have whipped the Chinese and returned U. S. prestige in the Far East to par."

Van Fleet, recently retired after commanding the Eighth Army in Korea, said in an interview at Seattle the U. S. had lost "face in the Orient by not winning a military victory," but added that the present course now appears the best possible solution.

He indicated he had altered his advocacy, expressed in Washington hearings in March, of a full-scale effort to drive the Chinese Reds from Korea.

No Force Of Arms
Back in Congress, Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the imminent truce doesn't settle much — "It rings down the curtain just where it went up three years ago." He said some details are "unsatisfactory as far as I'm concerned."

Representative Burdick (R-ND) said any peace that does not have the entire approval of the South Koreans is a blunder, but Senator Green (D-RI) said the United Nations went to war to stop aggression, not to try to unify Korea by force of arms.

Representative Keating (R-NY) said the signing of an armistice merely will mark "a shift in the nature of emergencies."

RADFORD IN KOREA
SEOUL—(AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman-delegate of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived Tuesday for a tour of the front.

SENTENCED—Two former Vienna-born American GI's, Otto Verber, left, and Kurt Ponger were sentenced by a federal court in Washington for their part in a postwar international espionage ring. Found guilty of spying for Russia, Verber will serve from three and one-third to 10 years and Ponger will serve from five to 15 years.

Small, Bitter Skirmishes Flare On Korean Warfronts

SEOUL—(AP)—Allied and Communist troops fought small but bitter skirmishes across the Korean battlefront Tuesday as truce negotiators handed over to staff officers the final details of an armistice.

South Korean infantrymen counterattacked again in an effort to drive dug-in Reds from a strategic eastern front outpost near Luke the Cook's Castle, where fighting has raged more than a week.

The battle still was under way at last report.

On the western and central fronts American troops clashed briefly with Chinese Reds.

An Eighth Army briefing officer reported five red probing attacks and 19 patrol skirmishes aside from the Luke's Castle battle.

Rain soaked the front again in the night.

Heavy overcast cleared briefly for the first time in three days before dawn. B-26 bombers reported 38 Red supply trucks destroyed in night flights over North Korea.

South Korean police still refused to talk about the nine-plane raid on Seoul Monday night. However, it was learned that precinct stations had reported at least two persons killed, 14 injured including five seriously, four homes destroyed and two buildings damaged.

Ten bombs were dropped on the South Korean capital by the slow, propeller-driven planes. One fell near President Syngman Rhee's home.

House Panel Okays Trade Act Extender

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee Tuesday approved the Reciprocal Trade Act beyond June 12 as urged by President Eisenhower.

The vote was 23 to two for a compromise version of the trade act which represents a victory for the Administration.

The bill extends for one year Eisenhower's authority to lower tariffs on foreign goods coming into the U. S. in return for trade concessions by other nations.

The President called for the extension two months ago, but the measure had been stalled for weeks in the committee by Republicans seeking to increase trade restrictions rather than lessen them.

The bill as approved would create a special 17-man commission to study tariff and trade problems for one year, and also would add a seventh member to the tariff commission, in effect giving Republicans a 4-3 majority.

Talks May Expedite Cattle Ban Removal

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—U. S. and Mexican officials will start talks this week about a quick reopening of the U. S. frontier to Mexican cattle, closed recently because of a new outbreak of foot and mouth disease.

Earl Coke, U. S. assistant secretary of Agriculture, who flew here Saturday, will meet with Gilberto Munoz, Mexican agricultural minister.

Mexican cattlemen, who want to export 400,000 head of cattle to the U. S. this year, are pressing for removal of the ban. They asserted the recent outbreak in Veracruz was 500 miles from the border and was stamped out within three days.

Veterans In School Double Early Mark

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Veterans Administration reported Tuesday the number of veterans receiving training under the Korean GI Bill reached 131,056 on April 30. That was more than double the 60,000 enrolled on January 1, and represented a jump of almost 20,000 during April, from 112,170 on March 31.

Presbyterians Study Blueprint For Unity

MONTREAL, N. C.—(AP)—A plan to bring together three Presbyterian churches with a combined membership of almost three million, was studied Tuesday by the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S., Southern.

The question was whether a plan to unite with the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., Northern, and the United Presbyterian Church, shall be sent to the 84 Southern Presbyteries for study and recommendation. The plan could not become effective before 1954.

The Northern church has an estimated 2,500,000 members, while the Southern church claims around 650,000 members. The United Presbyterians number an estimated 225,000.

Plaintiffs To Seek Review Of Texas City Blast Ruling

HOUSTON—(AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court will be asked to reconsider its ruling favoring the government in the Texas City explosion damage cases.

The court ruled Monday the government was not responsible for the disaster touched off by the explosion of a French merchant ship in the Texas City harbor in April, 1947. The explosions caused more than 800 deaths. The government was sued for about $200,000,000 in a mass action.

John Brown said the plaintiffs will make "a vigorous and immediate application" for a rehearing. The plaintiffs held the government was to blame for lack of safety precautions in handling ammonium nitrate fertilizer on the ship.

Representative plaintiffs in the suit were Elizabeth and Henry Dalehite, Jr., of Galveston, who sought damages in the death of their husband and father, Capt. Henry Dalehite. He was killed in the first waterfront explosion. He was a Galveston resident in Texas City on business.

The suits included those of 510 persons who sued on death claims, $68 on personal injury claims and $,987 for property damage. Suits ranged from a few hundred dollars to about $60,000 asked by Monsanto Chemical Company.

Ridgway Says Reds Grow New Muscles

WASHINGTON —(P)— Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway says the Soviets substantially have strengthened their forces in Europe and those of the North Atlantic Treaty nations would be "critically weak" in face of a full-scale attack. The retiring supreme commander of NATO forces said the 30 Russian divisions in occupied Europe had received more equipment, better vehicles and a high level of training, while air squadrons had converted in many cases to jets and airfield construction had been pushed. Communist satellite forces have increased from about 1,000,000 men in January, 1952, to 1,300,000 today, Ridgway reported.

Texas Gains Hike Nation's Oil Flow

TULSA —(P)— Crude oil and lease condensate production showed an increase of 43,875 barrels over the previous week, the Oil And Gas Journal said Tuesday. The daily average output for the week ended June 6 was 6,387,525 barrels. Cumulative production to date in 1958 stands at 1,008,306,700, compared with 926,541,800 in 1957. Texas gained the most because of a boost in June allowances. Texas production was up 75,525 barrels daily to 2,792,375. Louisiana was up 125 to 702,100. New Mexico was up 5,075 to 195,000 and Oklahoma was up 1,900 to 383,000.

Reds Relax Rigid Border Police Rule

VIENNA, AUSTRIA —(P)— The Russians suddenly moved back a fringe of the Iron Curtain Monday night, relaxing eight years of military controls between the Soviet occupation zone of Austria and the country's Western-held area. In an unexpected move in the Kremlin's "peace offensive," the Russians abolished permanent troop controls at road and rail crossing points along the 236-mile demarcation line between the Soviet zone and the American and British zones. The Soviets said henceforth they would carry out only periodic spot checks of travelers and freight to prevent "import of weapons, ammunition and explosives into the Russian zone." In Lin, on the banks of the Danube, Austrians tore up identity cards and danced in the streets to celebrate.

Similar scenes were enacted at a Vienna frontier bridge where crowds gathered to watch traffic cross unhindered. The change also means that foreigners can travel in and out of the Soviet zone to Vienna—deep inside the Russian occupation area—without anything more than their passports and an Austrian visa.

90 Students Take Summer Courses

Summer school in Midland Public schools got under way this week with some 90 students enrolled in English, history, typing, and mathematics classes. Typing, offered for the first time this year, drew 15 students. "This is about the biggest bunch we've ever had," Don Mitchell, high school principal, pointed out and added, "we've even got a few from out of town." Most of the Summer school group, he explained, are taking high school courses, but some 10 persons are taking elementary level work. Class are held during the morning hours Monday through Friday for eight weeks.

Untechnical Kick Puts KUHT On Air

Hennock, member of the Federal Communications Commission.

The newspaper said two-thirds of the fields in the two districts were flooded and the early rice crop virtually was wiped out.

Disguised Guerillas Fire Red Warehouse

Gen. John B. Salling, attired in a smart grey Confederate uniform, flew into Mobile Monday night for the fifty-eighth Confederate reunion. He is the only one of four living Confederate veterans able to attend. Salling told newsmen he was sorry Albert Woolson, 106-year-old Union veteran of Duluth, Minn., wasn't here. "I wanted to meet the Yankee," he said. General Salling, an enlisted man in the War Between the States, acquired his rank of general by virtue of his age.

He said the excommunication also applies to "their children and their children's children." ### Course Of True Love Still Holds For Grandma, Shorty

LOUISA, KY. —(P)— Grandma Spruce, 87-year-old housewife, had to coax her 26-year-old husband to pose for a picture Monday. "Shorty can be mighty stubborn," she explained to the photographer waiting in their two-room mountain cabin at nearby Cat Hollow. But she was quick to praise her spouse's cooking and gardening, adding: "Shorty and I are making out all right." Asked who proposed before their marriage in 1945, she replied: "He didn't talk me and I didn't talk him. We talked to each other." The publicity won them a honeymoon trip to New York and gave Grandma her first look at the ocean. "What would anybody want with that? It was all over the front of Coney Island. I wouldn't want it here, I can tell you." Shorty, who doesn't talk much, did say he no longer tends a tobacco patch but still has a good stand of corn and a "kitchen garden." "Squirrel hunting was good last year," he observed, "but I didn't have a gun."

Dairy Directors Start Diet Tests

PHILADELPHIA —(P)— Figures don't lie, so directors of the National Dairy Council are going to use their own to try to prove that dairy products aren't fattening. ### DEEP SOUTH BIRD WANDERS

NEW YORK —(P)— The Bronx Zoo has a new boarder Tuesday, but no one knows how the bird—a penguin from the southern tip of South America—made his way north. The penguin, a Humboldt breed, was turned over to the zoo Monday after Joseph Marano of the Bronx found it in his front yard.

Facts Forum To Debate Universal Military Training, Yalta Pact

Despite the fact that a truce seems more than near in Korea, the chief Facts Forum subject to be aired at 8 p.m. Wednesday on the second floor of the Midland Tower still stands as an important national issue. Forum directors hope for a large delegation of pro and con speakers when the question of universal military training is eyed at the meeting. Mrs. L. E. Clemens will lead discussion on the topic.

Mrs. A. V. Reid will chairmen the forum on the second question: should the Yalta agreement be repudiated? A Facts Forum spokesman Tuesday cited the need for more "liberals" to meet the conservative bloc around the discussion table. A more balanced review of the facts through more stimulating discussion would be, they think, the result of the verbal "clash" of liberal and conservative.

Members expressed surprise when, at a recent meeting, the majority defended Senator Joseph McCarthy, often called the most controversial man of the present day. The majority also agreed that organization of a civil defense unit here would be a definite advantage.

PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Here's a vacation tip to Midland baseball fans who follow the Indians with such fervor they can't figure when to take a trip for fear of missing out. It's been arranged for you. Go forth to the mountains or down to the sea—without a worry you'll miss anything but the minimum—any time between June 16 to 22 or August 24 to 30. You might, if you can get Jay Haney to declare a couple of days off, even take the Indians, too, for all the activity they'll be having on the diamond.

Those were the days—except for two games mixed in between each span—that Midland was supposed to play against the Lamesa Lobos, or if you choose, the Winters-Ballinger Eagles.

There were other dates as well—of smaller lengths, however.

How Practical Are Open Dates?

Such a baseball future is what the Longhorn League officials called for when they allowed Harold Webb to fold up his franchise and pass it back to the league, and, at the same time, voted to try a seven club circuit. They chose that course in a Midland meeting Monday in preference, mind you, to maintaining the Lobo-Eagles as a road club or of asking a second club to suspend. "Impractical," the officers called those alternatives.

So what else?

They elected to send seven clubs scrambling on, losing a whole flock of home games, such as Midland, in an already critical season at the gate. . . . The practical way?

All it cost Midland was about $5,000 in box office alone besides the expense of maintaining its team on the road while the Indians lounge out a previously carded Lamesa series. Figuring then, that all seven clubs left would average a loss of $4,000 in gate, the $28,000 total could just about keep up an eighth club through the last two-thirds of this season.

(If you want to try out the figures: say Webb's team would draw around 500 each night about the league for 106 remaining games. At an average of 70 cents, you'll get a higher total, with tax to be subtracted. Don't, however, figure in the concessions that now won't show.)

Can Seven Clubs Finish Season?

Perhaps the toll and trouble of all supporting an eighth extra team induced the leaders to cry "impractical." But were the Del Rio Texans of the 1952 National Football League allowed to fold? Not a whit. They were welcomed as a traveling club since the other teams were tickled to profit by playing at home.

This is all second-guessing on a set decision, though; the surest way to have gained more home games and funds would be to ask a second team to withdraw and go with six. It'd also be a cinch way to step on toes.

It's with a bow to their course, everyone accepts the directors' choice of keeping seven, facing predictions that:

"Seven teams won't wind up the season that way," as Webb muttered counting up the days off for the seven. To back him up, three or four circuit teams claim they're on the financial ropes with no idea how to improve.

Either Odessa, Big Spring or Midland, for another matter, might have withdrawn, for all the new challenge did to their pennant chances.

They were the ones who'd played West-team Lamesa least and now will miss the opportunity for highly victorious series against the last place Eagles.

"It's one of those things," the league president, Hal Sayles, sympathized with Midland boss Marion Flynt when the latter estimated how many Midland might have won in 17 remaining Eagle-Indian tangles.

They didn't erase those times, in almost a dozen already played games, that Carlsbad, Artesia and Roswell tromped on the Webbsmen when their series dominated the first quarter's play.

"They're the ones who knocked me out of the league," ventured Webb.

Tribes Schedules Double-Bill To Open Odessa Series Here

Strengthening their mound staff has emboldened the Midland Indians and they plan to tackle their second doubleheader of the season when Odessa plays here Wednesday.

Manager Jay Haney announced Tuesday that the twin bill will begin at 7 p.m., one of the games serving for a postponed home opener at the start of this season.

Newcomer Fred Smith will open one game while Ralph Blair, a right-hander like Smith, will start the other.

Smith is one of three new men to join the Indian squad in the last week. Both he and Max Newsom reported to Midland while the club was on its road trip and each lost their initial starts.

Another new face—but familiar name—was with the club Tuesday after flying in from Cuba. He is Freddie Rodriguez, veteran right-hander, who's been reported on his way here ever since he wound up Cuban Winter League ball several months ago. He's on the Indian suspended list and probably will be held off the active roster for a few days.

Rodriguez was purchased by Midland from Havana of the Florida-International League last Winter along with Romarico Soto.

Florida State University's football team play eight of their 10 games in the Sunshine State.

Indians Smack Broncs, 14-3, With 16 Hits

Soto Choice For Midland In Closeout

Midland's Indians, a far cry from the lead, made fourth place a more comfortable position Monday night by winning on the three pace-setters with a 16-hit, 14-3, triumph over Big Spring, a second division outfit.

Except here, it was the underdog's night to howl throughout the league and as a consequence Midland gained a full game on first place San Angelo, a half-game on Carlsbad and a game on Artesia. The results, Odessa over San Angelo, 3-2, Carlsbad holidaying through a slated Winters-Ballinger set, and Roswell 13-5 over Artesia, left the Indians 6 1/2, 5 1/2, and 3 1/2 games, respectively, behind the front three.

Eddie Jacome, after Monday night, trails nobody in the league, for he annexed his tenth mound decision in pacing Midland by Big Spring. He was the first Longhorn hurler to nab that many verdicts and leads Marshall Epperson of Carlsbad, the second top winner, by two games.

Eight-hit hurling got Jacome by He could have yielded more because one ex-Big Spring Bronc alone turned on his buddies with venom enough to insure the Monday night triumph. Even after spraining an ankle in batting practice, Mickey Diaz slammed four hits in five trips, scored three times and drove in another tally. Besides, Diaz captured the fans' approval in his debut as a Tribesman at home by stabbing six chances in centerfield—three of them extra spectacularly.

Leadoff Jess Jacinto and Armando Gallart opened Big Spring's attack in the first frame with singles but an even greater Bronc spree than the one-run uprising was averted on two red-letter catches, one in short center field, another at the wall, by Diaz.

The newcomer, after Lou Dawson homered to tie the things in the first, then doubled in Scooter Hughes and tallied on Jacome's one-bagger to send Midland ahead for good, 3-1, in the second inning.

Jacome, who walked but one and fanned four, put down Big Spring with four hits, none together, from the second through the eighth inning. The Indians in the meantime grazed freely on eight walks and enough hits to build an eventual margin of 14-1 through their last at bat.

Julio de la Torre's only safety got one and Jacome's second single pushed in two more in Midland's three-run third. After a scoreless fourth, Roger Della Betta singled in a counter before two bases-loaded walks accounted for two and Art Bowland flied out to cap four-run uprising.

Della Betta lined to center for a sixth-inning run and was one of three—like Dawson and Bowland—who plated individual runs in the three-run eighth inning.

Jacome let up to yield Frank Casanova a double into left center field and Andy Alonso a pinch-single, each adding a run, in the two-run Big Spring ninth.

The first of three Bronc chunkers, Armando Lopez, was looser. The two renew their two game series at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday with Romarico Soto, a two-game winner, trying to give Midland an eighth verdict in 10 tries against Joe Niedson's Broncs.

New Coach Chosen

BOGATA, TEXAS.—(P)—Charles Burton, former Paris Junior College and University of Corpus Christi athlete, has been named head football coach of Bogata High School. He succeeds Virgil Faulkner.

Jimmy Stout, 30-year-old jockey, has led the Monmouth riders four different times—in 1948, 1950, 1951 and 1952.

HAROLD WEBB BOWS OUT—

Longhorn Plans Rest Of '53 Play With Seven Ball Teams

Without precedent and never before so much in jeopardy, the Longhorn League voted Monday to continue 1953 operations with the seven remaining teams.

Harold Webb and his Winters-Ballinger Eagles were allowed to fold, as he had announced.

The roly-poly Webb, falling by the wayside, couldn't grab even a checkbook from fellow members in player transactions when he passed into Longhorn history.

"As Hal Sayles presided over the meeting that forewarned dropping to six clubs, moving the franchise or maintaining the eighth member as a road club, former Midland Owner Webb offered the only players he owns outright to the other league members.

He has five.

None of the teams, on peeking into bargain basement prices for players, wanted either Infielder Herb Nauert, Pitcher John Miskulin, Catcher Earl Finley or Outfielders Cliff Jackson and Armando Sanchez. The rest of Webb's outfit were members of other clubs held by the Lamesa-later-Winters-Ballinger combine on option. They will be returned.

But disposing of the Webb club was only part of the Monday meeting in Hotel Scharbauer. The big job was to settle how the loop would finish out the year. The club owners took a long gamble, going on with seven.

No schedule revision was ordered. Sayles, the league president, explained how the other clubs, still alive, would continue to play; that whichever club was scheduled to play Lamesa (Winters-Ballinger) would draw byes on those nights.

Thus each night of league action will normally contain three games while one team rests.

Such a move obviously will put a hitch in each club's budget, since on off days expenses continue to mount and there's no incoming revenue. The teams also lose the home games—in Midland's case seven—in which Lamesa was expected to participate.

Sayles announced that no club had asked to withdraw for the sake of finishing the league with six members, therefore that motion was bypassed.

In all Sayles said the league had four alternatives for operating—with seven teams, with six, by moving the Ballinger-Winters franchise or by keeping Webb's club as a traveling team.

He pointed out that it was practically impossible to locate the club a third time—no where short of Denver City has a park. And that A. C. Gonzales did not accept an offer to sponsor it in Del Rio, a former league town.

The directors said that chipping in to sponsor the Eagles was not practical, either financially or by holding the players into a group.

Webb thus came to the end of a 20-year trail of baseball with this conclusion. "I never tried harder to keep a club going."

He'd placed the first-year franchise in Lamesa at the start of the campaign, and when lagging attendance began forcing a breakdown of operations, he shifted to Winters-Ballinger. At both spots, Webb called meetings among the partisans before drastic steps of moving and folding were settled upon.

Webb said that the fans at Lamesa considered it the wiser thing to move because of its low gate and at Ballinger the fans advised him to suspend. The latter town attracted 1,800 fans at the home opening last Wednesday and gathered 300 each of the next two nights.

The club owners here moved that Webb be given a commendation for the manner in which he conducted his operations—although falling—in both Lamesa and Winters-Ballinger. He accepted and stepped out of the league for a third time since it started in 1947.

The participating club officers attending the meeting were R. L. Tollett and Bill Frank of Big Spring; J. C. Cunningham, C. H. Shepard, Foy Proctor, and Marion Flynt of Midland; C. F. Montgomery and Pat McLaughlin of Carlsbad; Pat Stacey of Roswell; A. D. Ensey of Odessa; Steve Lanning and Clyde Guy of Artesia; W. P. Barnes and John Carleton of San Angelo, Webb and Sayles.

FINAL HAND SHAKE—Longhorn League President Hal Sayles, left, shakes hands with Harold Webb, who turned in his chips as a league owner Monday.

Webb's Ballinger-Winters combine folded after a dismal try at re-locating there from Lamesa. John Carlton of San Angelo watches the proceedings.

Webb Stays Here To Wind Up Business

Harold Webb, owner of several ball players but no team, is going to stay in Midland several days to dispose of his property. Webb, who relinquished his hold on the Winters-Ballinger-Lamesa entry in the Longhorn League Monday, has five players he owns outright and four on option. Those on option belong to the parent club, of course, but Webb is helping re-locate them.

Par-Breaking Medalist Round Seen For Men's West Texas

The beginning trickle of guest entries into Midland for the Men's West Texas golf tournament was expected Tuesday morning two days in advance of medalist qualifying. Several of those were among practicing players getting ready to bid in the top flight duel for medalist honors Thursday.

Red Sox Clinch Title Share In Northeast Little League

The Red Sox counted themselves as league co-champions Tuesday after clinching a share of the Northeast Little League first-half title Monday with a 16-3 conquest of the Pirates. Now boasting a 8-3 record, the Red Sox can be caught only by the Civitans, who have a 6-4 mark. With one game remaining, the Red Sox need only to win it to chalk up the first-half title—or should the Civitans lose, the Red Sox would own the title outright.

Eagles Nudge Yanks, 8-7

However, Lennie Smith of the Sports bettered Ravan's third-inning effort by clouting a grand slam homer in the bottom half of the frame.

The leading Midland entries are expected to be Bob Wertman, city champion, Ward, and Red Watkins from Ranchland Hill and Bob French, recent club titlist, J. T. Smith and Vann Ligon from Midland Country Club.

Two from Midland Country Club signed early, Dan Strong and Bill Franklin. Alton Underwood and Weldon Bryant, both from Big Spring Country Club, also joined the field, getting in early practice. And Ranchland Hill counted 13 members in: R. H. Gerdis, Sam Ocker, Jr., Buddy Branson, Johnny Sherrod, Bill Cheslham, John Glahn, Howard Mechling, Bob Conanover, B. J. Rejuvenated Redlegs Pound Unhappy Dodgers By 8 To 6

By The Associated Press Rogers Hornsby, reportedly on the skids as manager of Cincinnati as recently as a week ago, was riding high Tuesday with a five-game winning streak and the sluggiest club in the majors. With the advent of June the hit-happy Redlegs have busted out all over. They've pulverized opposition pitching for 83 hits in their last five games, producing 46 runs in their longest victory string of the season.

The word was spread late last month that the Cincinnati players were fed up with Hornsby and his iron hand rule. The club was down, both mentally and in the standings. But on their current road trip the Redlegs are playing at a 750 clip, winning six of eight, including an 8-3 verdict Monday night over the Brooklyn Dodgers, who were trying for five in a row of their own.

Starring in the revival are sluggers Gus Bell and Ted Klusowski and relief ace Frank Smith. Bell has driven in 10 runs in the last five games. His 11 hits over that span include six for extra bases. Big Klus hammered his sixteenth home run Monday night, moving within one of the league lead.

Hornets Post 21-5 Triumph Over Eagles

Hornet American Legion players combined 10-hit support with the four-hit twirling of two pitchers for a reckless 21-5 win over the Eagles Monday. The game was wild. From the outset it assuredly belonged to the Hornets. For, in the first inning the winners made the most of two hits, walks and errors to tally 14 times. In all the Eagles coughed up 14 miscues.

plastered the New York Giants, 12-8, in an afternoon contest. The St. Louis Cardinals, who had lost five straight, battled 12 innings against the Pittsburgh Pirates, winless in their last four starts, before picking up a 5-3 triumph. Philadelphia defeated Chicago, 7-3, in the other National League game. In the only American League contest the Detroit Tigers finally won a game after 13 setbacks interspersed with two extra-inning ties. The Tigers scored four runs in the seventh inning to whip Boston, 6-3, for their first success since May 23.

A single by Walt Dropp brought home one run and two more scored on a triple by Matt Bette in the seventh-inning rally. Cincinnati got ahead in a hurry at Brooklyn, scoring twice in the first inning on Bell's two-run homer and then adding five more in the

Phillips Nine Turns Tables On Cafemen, Scores First Victory

Rendezvous, apparently playing the cat 'n mouse game with Phillips in a National League softball game Monday, found out how it feels in the trap. The Cafemen showed up with only eight men, enough it seemed when you consider that the Phillips club had lost nine straight without a victory. Now Rendezvous is sorry, 22-3.

All but one of the Phillips batters hit safely. Lands four times, in an 18-hit attack by the usually docile 9ers. In other games Western Inspection stretched its first place hold to two games when it racked Run-ble, 18-1, and second place Rotary bowed, 4-1, to Magnolia. John Overby of Magnolia tossed Rotary down after giving up a double to Fleming leading off the first inning. And after the Rotary batter scored on fielders' choices, the Magnolia hurler pitched hitless ball the rest of the seven-inning game.

fourth on five singles, including a two-run blow by Bell, and a pair of walks. The Giants and Cubs both suffered fielding collapses that would have looked pretty bad in a class D league. At the Polo Grounds the New Yorkers, ahead 2-1, presented Milwaukee with four unearned runs in the sixth inning on three errors and one lonely hit. With the gates opened, the Braves poured in seven more runs in the next two frames to move ahead 12-2 before the Giants quite recovered.

Max Surkont registered victory No. 7 for Milwaukee against one loss with Sal Maglie taking the defeat, his first at the hands of the Braves in two seasons. At Connie Mack Stadium, the Cubs committed four errors in the second inning which permitted the Phillies to score four runs—their eventual margin of victory. Steve Ridsik, who took over from Bob Miller in the fifth inning, was the Philadelphia winner over Paul Minner. Steve Bilko doubled home Red Schoendienst with the tie-breaking St. Louis run in the top of the twelfth at Pittsburgh and rode in on a single by Rip Repulski. The rally climaxed a pitcher's battle in which Paul Lepalm, knuckleballing southpaw of the Pirates, struck out 11 and walked only three in 11 innings. He was lifted for a pinch-hitter and the winning runs came off Johnny Heitl.

Four hurries tolled for the Cardinals with Al Brasse, the third man getting the decision.

National Open Marathon Not Long Enough—Cary

OAKMONT, PA.—(AP)—The longest open golf championship of all—the National Open Tournament—began Tuesday with at least some of the contestants arguing that it should be longer.

Patton, Cooper Star In Travelers' Win

Dennis Patton's homer and Larry Cooper's 18 strikeouts were the features of the Travelers, 6-1, triumph over the JayCees Monday in the top game of the day in the Pony League. At Permian Field, the Kiwanians were downing the Optimists, 10-5, behind John McNeil's three-hitter. McNeil also singled and doubled to lead the attack.

"I'd like to see them make it something like the Women's Cross-Country Tournament with three or four tournaments at different locations and the championship decided on the aggregate scores for all of them. If the USGA won't do that, they should throw out this qualifying and make the tournament longer for everybody." Several of the listening pros agreed with him, possibly because such an endurance test might eliminate the Ben Hogan menaces. Hogan, who has won more money in four tournaments this year than in four all season, is No. 1 on the list of players to beat. But he doesn't think his strength is up to marathon events and probably wouldn't enter a 144-hole Open.

Play started Tuesday morning in the 36-hole qualifying round on two courses—the 6,916-yard Oakmont Country Club and the 6,712-yard Pittsburgh Field Club. After two days in which every player in the field of 299 will shoot both courses, the low-scoring 149 and ties for 149th will start all over.

They will be joined by Defending Champion Julius Boros in the 72-hole main event over Oakmont's fear-inspiring acres. That means those who go clear through will play 108 holes this week on top of the 36 most of them had to play in the sectional qualifying rounds to get this far.

The on-site qualifying is an innovation this year and it provoked a lot of discussion in the locker room grousing sessions Monday. It was Cary Middlecott, the 1949 Open champion, who made the suggestion that the whole 144 holes should be lumped into one tournament to make it a fairer test of golfing ability. He said:

"I'd like to see them make it something like the Women's Cross-Country Tournament with three or four tournaments at different locations and the championship decided on the aggregate scores for all of them. If the USGA won't do that, they should throw out this qualifying and make the tournament longer for everybody." # Consumers Find Some Prices Opposing General Low Trend

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)— Prices of many important items in the fields of food, clothing and basic industrial materials are bucking the general trend toward lower levels.

Prices of most products and materials have slipped from their Korean war inflation peak. An important minority are firming up again or threatening to climb higher.

The government's wholesale commodity price index still stands 10 per cent above its level when the war began almost three years ago.

Producers of items on which the price trend is upward apparently see nothing in the Korean truce prospects to halt this trend.

Pork Steady
 High flers in foods are pork, lamb and rice. Short supplies and good demand keep these foods well about their year ago prices.

The wholesale food price index of Dun & Bradstreet has been rising again and is now two per cent higher than a year ago. The government's wholesale food price index, which is not as sensitive to price fluctuations as the Dun & Bradstreet's, is four per cent below a year ago. It has been stiffening and runs one per cent higher than in January.

Some of the firming in the wholesale markets hasn't shown up yet in the grocery stores where housewives can find many good bargains compared with a year ago. Little to Cheer

Farmers find little to cheer about. Farm prices average 11 per cent under last year's level.

Wool prices have stiffened. The men's clothing industry says this price gain, and more importantly an increase in wages, will mean higher prices on men's suits this fall.

In basic materials, steel has been the leader in price rises this Spring. The oil industry has been grumbling about the static price of crude oil in the face of higher costs of discovery, drilling and transporting and refining. Ample supplies of oil with some resulting cutbacks in production, have held crude prices steady so far. Leading oil company executives predict a boost in crude oil prices is but a matter of time.

Low Cattle Prices
 Gasoline prices have gone up a little in some places. Attempts to raise gas prices have failed to stick in others. But the big reason for gasoline consumption is now starting, and this should firm up gas prices in most areas.

A long list of basic chemicals has seen price hikes in recent weeks. Brighter for consumers is the long list of things selling now at prices below their pre-Korean War level.

Cattle prices are in this class. So are hides, tallow, some livestock feeds, and raw cotton. Zinc and natural rubber are among the industrial materials in this group.

South Koreans Set To Launch Attacks

FUSAN, KOREA (AP)—The South Korean National Assembly called Tuesday for "all necessary measures" at the front lines "to prevent another Communist aggression and to be prepared for a northward advance."

The Assembly also voted unanimously—129 to 0—to reject any armistice unless it provides for the withdrawal of Chinese Communist forces and dissolution of the North Korean Army.

The lawmakers shouted their approval of a four-point resolution reaffirming South Korea's opposition to an impending truce and threatening to fight on alone.

"In order to prevent another Communist aggression and to be prepared for a northward advance, all necessary measures must be taken quickly at the front lines as well as in the rear area," the resolution said.

This was not further explained immediately, but observers said the Assembly apparently was recommending that the South Korean Army prepare to fight on.

The first point of the resolution read: "No cease-fire agreement will be accepted unless and until the ROK five-point principles on a truce and judgment upheld in $20,000 Butane Blast Damage Suit

A $20,000 70th District Court judgment in favor of a Midland couple, whose home was damaged in a 1949 explosion here, was upheld by the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals in El Paso.

The judgment had been granted in favor of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Bost against A. W. Jones and T. D. Jones, Jr. doing business as the Jones Butane Service.

In their lawsuit, the Elliotts charged the explosion was caused by butane and negligence on the part of the defendants.

The 70th District Court awarded $6,000 for damage to the house and $14,000 for personal injuries suffered by Mrs. Elliott.

Attorneys for the Elliotts were Frank Benson and Edwin T. Stitt while the defendants were represented by W. P. Z. German, Jr. and William H. Crenshaw, all of Midland.

BARBECUE SET FOR TECHSANS

Hundreds of former Texas Tech students will attend a barbecue at 5 p.m. next Tuesday in Cole Park.

Letters were mailed this week, Jack Hincey, Tech Alumni Club, president said.

A special program is being arranged for the barbecue, Hincey reported. Tickets may be obtained by dialing 2-2822 between 5 a.m. and 5 p.m., or 2-3906 after 5 p.m.

House Panel Trims VA Budget Figure

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $300,000,000 cut in veterans' compensation and pension payments—forecasted—possible curtailment of benefits to veterans with non-service disabilities—has been recommended by a House Appropriations subcommittee.

The recommendation will be acted on by the full 50-man committee later this week when funds for the Veterans Administration for the fiscal year starting July 1 are considered.

Subcommittee Chairman Phillips (R-Calif.) disclosed the action and explained that if the cut turns out to be too severe, more money will be provided by Congress later.

Former President Truman requested $2,500,000,000 for compensation and pension payments for the new fiscal year. President Eisenhower reduced it to $1,800,000,000, and the subcommittee shared it to approximately $2,300,000,000.

Lesbia Lobo Takes Medalist Honors

HOUSTON—Lesbia Lobo, San Antonio's 19-year-old defending champion of the Texas Women's Public Links Golf tourney, took medalist honors with a par 75 Monday in the qualifying round of the annual tourney.

Miss Lobo finished four strokes in front of Dianne Garrett, Houston, 15-year-old runner-up in last year's tournament at Austin.

Mrs. L. B. Hoesck, the 1951 champion from Dallas, finished third with an 81, and Mrs. C. J. Gernard, Corpus Christi, was fourth with 83. First round play was set Tuesday.

Grand Jurors Visit Houston Blast Area

HOUSTON (AP)—A Harris County grand jury was told persons living near Friday's fireworks explosion had no idea fireworks were stored nearby.

The grand jury was making a tour of the area where two women and two children were killed. They met Ernie Coker, restaurant man and half owner of a housing project where the explosion caused heavy damage.

Coker, clearing away rubble, said the $128,000 housing layout was a total loss. The project was only one-third insured, he said.

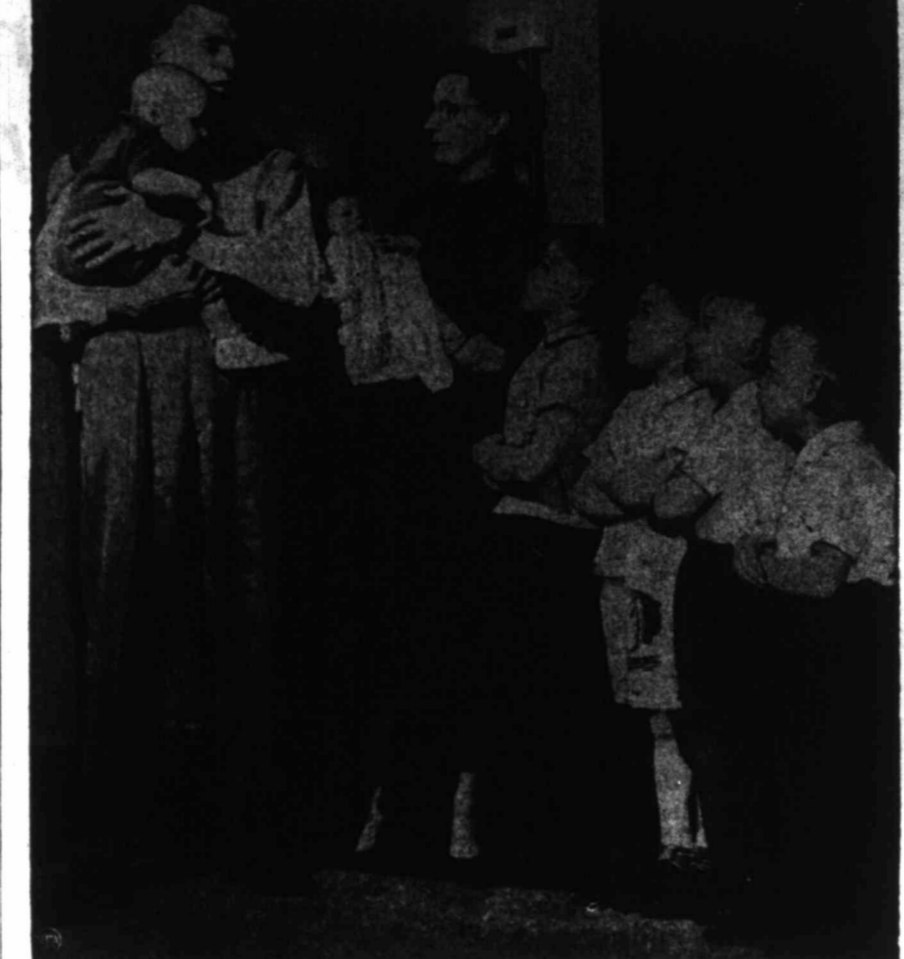

"We wouldn't have been sitting here with $1 for $3 in insurance if we'd known there were fireworks just next door," he said.

The jury heard more testimony about the Alco Fireworks and Specialty Company, owner of the explosives.

City Attorney Will Sears blamed the explosion on negligence by the company. A. M. Cohen is owner of the firm.

Youth Center Bids Asked For June 19

Bids on the new $50,000 Youth Center will be opened at 2 p.m. June 19, the building committee announced Tuesday. Plans are available at the office of Joe Bill Pierce, architect, 301 South Weatherford Street.

SHE GOT HER "FLOCK"—After June Ruffner, of Lakewood, Ohio, had her first baby, a boy, someone asked her "Intend to have a girl now?" "Either that or a flock of boys" answered June. So she did. A couple of weeks ago she had her sixth son, Richard, whom she is holding in the picture. Her husband holds year-old Ronald. Interested onlookers are the other Ruffner brothers. # Ohio Tornadoes Claim 18 Lives, Batter Two Cities

BOWLING GREEN, OHIO (AP)—Ohio counted at least 18 dead Tuesday from vicious tornadoes which whirled throughout Northwest Ohio and Michigan Monday night.

The mighty winds wiped out five members of one family near tiny Cygnet, crushed buildings, and tossed livestock helter-skelter "as if a giant had hurled them by their tails."

In Cleveland, a 27-minute tornado slashed a 10-mile shipping path across the city causing at least seven deaths, injuries hospitalizing 55 other persons and damage, the police chief estimated at $3,000,000.

Two couples and a child were found dead in a collapsed frame house several hours after daybreak and about 10 hours after the twister hit.

Police identified the five as Louis Campbell, 32; his wife, Marie, 30; Mr. and Mrs. John Riley, both 32, and their two 1-year-old sons, Wladis and Cleveland.

Three other persons were dead near Cygnet and one died at Elyria and Ceylon in Erie County.

The winds hit Cleveland at 8:45 p.m. after they had traveled eastward from Michigan. It was one of four or five tornadoes that brought death to more than 100 in that state.

The tornado that skipped along toward Lake Erie apparently started in Southern Michigan near the Ohio border.

The other Ohio tornado was the most vicious, slapping the Cygnet area. Homes disappeared. Heavy trucks were blown off the highway. Old trees were uprooted. Branches and leaves were blown off others, so the area looked as grotesque as a battleground after a heavy artillery barrage.

Frank Vandarsall, who lives between Randolph and North Baltimore, said that after the tornado passed he picked up halibut bones as oranges. He's still looking for his tractor. But he found no trouble in locating one of his helpers. The animal was blown from the barnyard to the top of the bridge under which he was hiding—a distance of 40 yards.

Livestock Buildings Hit
 Vandarsall didn't stay under the bridge long. He heard two neighbors—Mr. and Mrs. Clair McGrain, scream. He ran from under the bridge, "bundled the McGrains into his car, and started driving like mad out of the storm area. He drove four miles south and returned.

He found McGrain's car had been blown across the road to a spot 100 yards away. Also, the spot under the bridge where he had been hiding was jammed with debris.

He found his hog struts about the road, "as if a giant had hurled them about by their tails."

The sight of dead livestock was common in the Cygnet tornado area. A 2x4 board was driven through one cow, an auxiliary policeman said. A three-foot splinter was taken out of the back of horse.

Even as sturdy a structure as a 50-foot steel and concrete bridge fell before the tornado. It was blown completely onto the Bays Road, a county road about three miles east of the Dixie Highway.

In the Cleveland area, the oldest church in the county, St. John's Episcopal, lost its east wall, exposing the altar. At the Oliver Baptist Church, the spire was ripped from its foundation and the entire roof fell in, the Rev. Louis Gasper reported.

Optimist Club Hears Baseball Recording

Midland Optimists meeting at noon Tuesday in Hotel Scheiber heard a recording of the "All-Star," all-time great, baseball players by top diamond personalities Joe E. Brown, the Hon. Samuel S. Lelbowitz, Red Smith, Harry Grayson and Joe Bolton.

They joined the meeting via recording supplied by Optimist Bob Warren of Station KCRS, who will guide programs throughout July.

The broadcast was sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The 31 members and four guests present heard a report by Felix Wellmaker, rodeo committee chairman and John Grimland, Optimist president, on the concessions project at the rodeo. An average of 80 per cent of the membership was on hand each of the five nights, said Wellmaker, and there was an overall attendance of 70 per cent.

Among the guests was Thomas W. Heard of Houston, official in the oil loan department of the National Bank of Commerce.

Third Fire Heats Dallas Skyscraper

DALLAS (AP)—A small fire broke out late Monday night on the third floor of the new Republic National Bank building under construction but burned only waste materials and caused no damage.

Two costly fires, one causing more than $800,000 damage, have beset the 36-story structure.

Visitors in City
 Mrs. M. A. Fletcher and daughter, Michelle, of Eunice, N. M., visited here Monday.

Wilson Says Air Fund Cuts Leave 143-Wing Goal Intact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson told senators Tuesday the new Pentagon command intends to build up the Air Force but is against asking for new funds that can't be spent prudently and properly.

He said the expectation of 120 wings for the Air Force by the end of 1955 doesn't mean the new Administration has "set aside the 143-wing basis."

The Truman Administration's Air Force goal was 143 wings, ranging in size from 30 bombers to 75 fighters each.

Wilson was before a Senate Appropriations subcommittee for the second day defending his five-billion dollar slash in the Air Force budget draw up by the Truman Administration for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Insisting his figures were in line with prospective actual production accomplishments, Wilson said: "You can't get planes in half the time by appropriating twice the money."

The white-haired former president of General Motors insisted that adequate air power and national defense had been put ahead of desire to slash funds and balance the budget.

"I'm sure you can vote for this budget with a clear conscience," Wilson told Senator McClellan (D-Ark) during one long exchange.

Ferguson Issues Warning
 McClellan urged Wilson to "forget about balancing the budget" and tell Congress just how many billions were needed to build toward a 143-wing Air Force.

A considerable group in Congress has been challenging the advisability of Wilson's five-billion-dollar slash.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the appropriations subcommittee, said a cease-fire in Korea would likely take some of the force out of their arguments.

But at the same, Ferguson cautioned that the nation "must not be lulled into a sense of false security" by a cease-fire, which seems likely within a few days. Basic long-range defense planning, he said in an interview, must not be changed.

District Attorney Elton Gilliland said Mrs. Shortes was wounded once under the arm and once through the chest.

The sergeant's car was peppered with shotgun pellets as it pulled away from the scene. It had not been established definitely whether the shotgun blast had come before or after the slaying.

Surviving Mrs. Shortes, (besides the husband), are two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Wyche of Pearce, Ariz., and Bernice of Midland; two sons, James F. and Dick Norman Shortes, both of Ackerly; the father, Albert Robinson of Lamesa; a brother, Monroe Robinson of Lamesa, and two grandchildren.

Rites Slated For Woman Fatally Shot

STANTON—Funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in Nalley Funeral Home, Big Spring, for Mrs. Myrtle Irene Shortes, 38, mother of Bernice Shortes of Midland, who was wounded fatally Sunday night in front of her home in the Brown Community (Northeast Martin County). Dr. T. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Big Spring, will officiate, with interment at an Ackerly cemetery.

Her husband, Robert J. Shortes, 48, was released under $2,000 bond Monday after being charged with murder with malice in the shooting.

Mrs. Shortes had stepped out of a car driven by a Webb Air Force Base sergeant when the shooting occurred. Martin County officers said. The auto was parked in front of the Shortes home.

The sergeant, whose name was withheld, was returned to his base after signing a statement at the Martin sheriff's office in Stanton. "She apparently was just about to walk into the yard when the first shot from a .38 caliber revolver struck her," Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders pointed out. "Then she walked or stumbled about 10 feet into the yard, where she was shot again."

District Attorney Elton Gilliland said Mrs. Shortes was wounded once under the arm and once through the chest.

The sergeant's car was peppered with shotgun pellets as it pulled away from the scene. It had not been established definitely whether the shotgun blast had come before or after the slaying.

Surviving Mrs. Shortes, (besides the husband), are two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Wyche of Pearce, Ariz., and Bernice of Midland; two sons, James F. and Dick Norman Shortes, both of Ackerly; the father, Albert Robinson of Lamesa; a brother, Monroe Robinson of Lamesa, and two grandchildren.

Rent Curbs To End In 23 Critical Areas Including Rockdale

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) ordered Tuesday the end of rent control in 23 "critical defense housing areas" after July 31.

On that date the communities, in 13 states and Alaska, will lose the designation as critical areas, under a ruling of the newly created defense areas advisory committee of ODM.

Another score of cities, officials said, may be lifted from the "critical" category Wednesday. About 120 areas now carry the designation.

Congress has abolished federal rent control authority after July 1 except in areas tagged as critical. The advance notice given Tuesday will permit the states and cities to enact their own rent control laws if they wish to continue rent ceilings. Only three states, New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut, now have rent control legislation, and ODM spokesman said.

The areas in which rent control will cease include Rockdale, Texas.

Motorcycle Rider Injured In Mishap

Carol Linden of 1708 West South Front Street received multiple body abrasions when his motorcycle overturned two miles out of Midland on the Garden City Highway Monday night.

Linden, who was treated at Midland Memorial Hospital at 10 p.m. for abrasions of back, arms, hands, legs and knee, said a dog ran in front of his motorcycle, causing him to lose control.

Korean Mobs Scream Anger At UN Terms Of Armistice

SEOUL—(P)—Hundreds of thousands of chanting South Koreans surged through Seoul and other cities Tuesday in angry demonstrations against an impending armistice.

Some rocks were hurled by one mob of more than 100,000 which stormed a barricade of bayonet-wielding U. S. military policemen and Korean police outside the Eighth Army headquarters compound here.

Fire hoses played on the street ahead of the advancing mob halted its forward momentum. As the crowd milled around, 50 Korean policemen waded boldly in, shouting and shoving. A few minutes later the crowd began breaking up. Rhoads Meek, U.S. Army.

No U. S. military personnel were reported injured, but many Koreans in the unruly mob were trampled. One American MP was grabbed by the mob, but a Korean policeman rescued him uninjured.

Other thousands of South Koreans staged protest demonstrations in Pusan, Taegu and Suwon in response to government pleas for an all-out show of resentment against an armistice which would leave the country divided and Chinese Reds in the North.

President Syngman Rhee conferred with a group of South Korean Army officers late Tuesday after an earlier meeting with Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Eighth Army commander, and his Cabinet and a National Assembly crisis committee.

After the cabinet meeting, Assembly Vice Chairman Yoon Chi Yung said the joint session reaffirmed decisions to continue the war, refuse to recognize an armistice based on the May 28 UN proposal and to fight Indian troops if they enter Korea.

In Pusan, the National Assembly was scheduled to hear the crisis committee's recommendation that it declare war on Indian troops if they land in Korea to guard Allied-held prisoners.

The prisoner exchange agreement approved Monday at Panmunjom provides that Indian troops would guard prisoners who refuse to return home until their future is determined. Rhee and other South Korean officials have called India pro-Communist.

It will recover the light hydrocarbons as a mixture to be pumped through a 35-mile line to the corporation's Monument, N. M. plant for separating and processing.

Approximately 16,000,000 cubic feet of residue gas will be delivered to a gas transmission pipe line network.

Compressor facilities will consist of five 1,350 h.p. angle-type gas engine units, but plant design provides for potential doubling of plant's capacity simply by installing additional compressors and making a few minor equipment changes in that area justify such an expansion.

Jap Church Leader To Talk At First Methodist Friday

One of the leading educators and churchmen of Japan, the Rev. Moritaka Samejima, president of Christian Gakuin, Methodist secondary school in Nagasaki, will speak at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Samejima is on a speaking tour of Methodist Churches in the United States. His appearance here is sponsored by all of the Methodist churches of the Midland area.

Chinsei Gakuin was established as a school for boys by the Methodist Church in 1881. In 1924, after a disastrous fire, a new site was secured and a main concrete building, housing more than a thousand boys, was erected. This building was almost completely destroyed when the atomic bomb was dropped upon Nagasaki in 1945.

After the war the institution was moved to suburban Isahaya, and reorganized as a coeducational school to serve the needs of a wide rural area. It is now in process of becoming an agricultural-industrial school providing opportunity for self-help for the students, especially those from needy families. Two buildings have been erected, and the school enrolls 750 students. In 1951, Mr. Samejima was called to the presidency and has been active in establishing the new curriculum.

Mr. Samejima had his earliest education in public and Methodist schools in Japan, and was graduated in 1927 from the Theological School of Kwansai Gakuin University, Kobe. He then came to the United States where he entered Emory University, taking M.A. and B.D. degrees; later receiving an S.T.M. degree from the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Ordained to the ministry of the Methodist Church in 1933, Mr. Samejima was successively pastor of the Kobe Hirano Methodist Church, and superintendent of the

Bar President Says First Client Asked Better Lawyer

AUSTIN—Everett L. Looney, who is new head of the State Bar of Texas, is a widely-known Austin attorney, Texas Democrat and family man.

"The Judge," as his friends call him, is a native of Ennis in Ellis County. He grew up there, graduated from Ennis High School and then set out to fulfill a life-long ambition—to be a lawyer. He received his degree from the University of Texas Law School in 1923 and returned to open his first law office.

Quiet, affable, but with a ready sense of humor, "the Judge" likes to sit back and tell about his early days in the legal profession. One incident in particular brings a twinkle to his eyes.

Looney had gathered together what law books he could and sat in his tiny office waiting, like any other young lawyer, for his first client. After a lengthy wait during which he wondered if he had, after all, chosen the right profession, his first client loomed in the door. She was a buxom negro woman.

After listening to her problem the young counselor stepped over to his book shelf and started thumbing through one of the books.

"Mr. Lawuh, what's all them books?" asked the woman.

"When a client such as yourself comes in with a problem," explained Looney, "I look through these books and find the answer."

Visibly perplexed, the woman stood up, picked up her purse, and started out the door.

"Here," said Looney with alarm, "where are you going?"

Said his fast-fading client, "Mr. Lawuh, I'm goin' to find me a lawuh who's already read them books."

World Conquest Remains Top Goal Of Men In Kremlin, Observer Notes

By LEON DENNEN

NEA Staff Correspondent
PARIS—Russia is making a new "peace" declaration about once every 40 hours, but in between these overtures the Kremlin goes on disclosing with amazing frankness that its basic goals are still world Communist revolution and conquest.

Actually, the "peace" efforts themselves often reveal an unchanged Soviet purpose. The Reds have long wanted a Big Power conference at the highest level. But they want it to:

Three-Point Goal

1. Bolster the prestige of Premier Malenkov's still uncertain regime.

2. Gain a new platform for sounding off their propaganda.

3. Stress the differences that exist among the Western Allies. (On this point, a recent Pravda editorial criticized the scheduled Big Three meeting at Bermuda, insisting Russia will meet Britain, France, and the U. S. in conference only if they have not agreed previously upon a common policy.)

Zig-Zag Policy

Although Kremlin rule since Stalin's death has been reconstituted into a sort of "collective dictatorship," with the three chief would-be dictators (Malenkov, Beria and Molotov) furtively watching each other, Malenkov is considered the pilot for the present zig-zag Soviet foreign policy course.

For instance, Malenkov is essentially a faithful follower of Stalin and his ideas are known to differ little from either Stalin's or Lenin's. Recently the new premier's views on war, peace and "coexistence" were explained in a long article printed in "Questions of Philosophy"—Moscow's journal of Marxist philosophy.

World Revolution

The author, L. A. Seleznev, is ostensibly a leading Marxist scholar. He makes it quite clear that the "victory of communism" and "world revolution" remain the basic dogma of the new Soviet rulers.

Seleznev's 25-page "essay" sets down these points in interpreting

Malenkov's strategy:

1. Communists believe war will become "impossible" only with the "destruction of capitalism and the victory of communism throughout the world."

Meeting Situation

2. Communists are Marxist realists. They are able—at every historical period — to "adapt their policy, strategy and tactics" to the prevailing international situation.

3. Coexistence does not indicate a basic change in Soviet policy. Lenin and Stalin repeatedly spoke of the "possibility of coexistence." But Seleznev is quite frank in stating that the "peaceful coexistence" between capitalism and communism is not meant to last forever.

It is only intended, he writes, for a "more or less lengthy" historical period. How long a period he does not say. But he leaves no doubt that the destruction of Western civilization—capitalism in Red lingo—stands as the basic policy of Moscow and world communism.

Being Very Polite

Russia's zig-zag foreign policies since the death of Stalin are as confusing to Western Communists as they are to Western diplomats. Even die-hard members of the Cominform are puzzled by the Kremlin's new "line."

Reds in East Germany recently were told to refrain from calling Western capitalists dirty names—until further notice. Favorites like "capitalist slaveowners," "imperialist bloodsuckers," and the like are strictly forbidden now.

Even the Paris "Humanite" and Rome's "Unita"—Moscow's most vituperative Western mouthpieces—have turned over a new leaf. They are amazingly polite these days.

For Home Consumption

Despite surface appearances, however, there seems to be no basic change in Soviet propaganda. And this is what puzzles faithful Western Reds the most.

Americans no longer are called "de-humanized Western bandits," but the official Cominform newspaper still rants about "Fascist police terror" in the United States.

In Moscow, the Kremlin is soft-pedaling the "war danger." Malenkov and Molotov are encouraging Russians — and of course the people of the West — to believe in the possibility of "peaceful coexistence" between communism and capitalism.

Arming To Teeth

But in their broadcasts to the Red Army forces, Russians continue to whip up hatred and suspicion against the "capitalist world."

Moscow goes on arming the satellites to the teeth, according to Allied intelligence reports. Soviet-inspired and Red-led armed "revolutionary action" continues unabated in Indo-China, Malaya, Iran and elsewhere in Asia and the Middle East.

Legion Asks Negro School Investigation

HOUSTON —(AP)— Herman E. Rochelle, Post 827, of the American Legion Monday asked Governor Shivers for an impartial investigation of conditions at Texas Southern University.

The campus has been the center of reports of faculty unrest and fear, plotting, and inefficient management at the negro school. The legion post's resolution said its "purpose in this matter is unbiased."

WIEZMANN REMEMBERED

REHOVOT, ISRAEL —(AP)— Adlai Stevenson placed a wreath Monday on the grave of Dr. Chaim Wiezmann, first president of Israel.

RODEO VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Slim Johnson of Truth or Consequences, N. M., attended the Midland Rodeo Saturday night.

TO RUIDOSO

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haynes and Mr. and Mrs. Dub Blake spent the weekend in Ruidoso, N. M.

blame for accidents, the Huffen was thinking.

The Huffen began to sweep the broken window glass with a broom. "Crash!" There went another window where the Huffen for an accident had poked the broom handle through it.

"Tch! Tch! Tch!" said the Huffen. He said it to show he was sorry he had done the window breaking.

"Tch! Tch! Tch!" said Mother Ringtail. She said it to show that she, too, was sorry about the window's being broken.

They were standing on the porch of the monkey house. The broken glass from the window was all around them. "It was only an accident that broke it, it was," said the Huffen.

Mother Ringtail told him not to fret himself, because accidents do happen sometimes. The Huffen chuckled to hear her words. He wouldn't be fretting himself about the window, he said. Accidents do happen indeed. People aren't to more, even though Mother Ringtail asked him please to give her the broom. The Huffen was wanting to sweep up the glass he had broken.

"Crash!" There the Huffen had broken the rest of the window for an accident. He turned around fast to see about it, and—"Crash!" There his elbow had broken another window.

"Tch! Tch! Tch!" said the Huffen. "I won't fret about this one either. I won't, because it was an accident like the others.

And away went the Huffen to the ground and on and away up the Elephant Path. He hurried to find Mr. Fixit to fix the windows. The Huffen whistled while he walked. He wasn't fretting at all, he wasn't, because people aren't to blame for accidents.

But the trouble, you know, is that accidents are trouble—as much trouble as trouble that isn't an accident. People ought to be careful. Happy day!

Bedding is on display in the basement of Lloyds, including U. S. Kroyon, Simmons and Englander mattresses, noted for downy soft comfort.

Also shown with the bedding are the beautiful, luxurious lines of bedroom furniture — American, Heywood-Wakefield, Crawford, Habitat, Owens, Tomlinson, Blesman, Cross Country and many others.

A specialty at Lloyds of Midland is fine carpeting, one of the most complete stocks in Midland being shown at the store. Skilled workmen, all graduates of major mills' carpet schools, handle carpet installations.

Lloyd French and Bill Hightower, the partners who operate Lloyds, offer guaranteed installation of their carpets. They stand behind the quality, workmanship and customer satisfaction of their work.

Top Court Upholds 1873 Law Requiring Cafes Serve Negroes

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Supreme Court Monday upheld an 1873 law which required District of Columbia restaurants to serve negroes provided they are well behaved.

The act has not been enforced for many years. But not even Monday's 8-0 high court ruling wiped out the long litigation that has grown out of the practice in many eating places here to refuse to serve negroes.

The tribunal sent the case back to the court of appeals here and told it to decide whether the 1873 law — guaranteeing that well-behaved persons of any race be served at regular prices—repealed one enacted a year earlier. The 1872 law required that all "respectable" persons be served without regard to race.

The generous credit provisions A had a minimum of 10 years experience in the furniture business. They are equipped to advise Midlanders effectively on home furnishing problems.

Steel Fixtures Are Sought By Discriminating Builders

Steel, noted for strength, permanence and fireproof qualities is the modern trend in interior fitting for newly built West Texas homes, with more new homeowners every day insisting on steel fixtures.

West Texas Builders Supply, 3100 West North Front Street, supplies the builders with the tough, reliable Truscon line of steel windows, doors, metal lath, channel iron and other building accessories.

At one time, the difficulty of weatherproofing steel windows in the West Texas area to keep out sand was an objection to the units, but use of aluminum weather stripping has made the metal windows snug and fast.

Also featured at West Texas Builders Supply is a completely fireproof steel door. The other steel fixtures, while not billed as absolutely fireproof, virtually have proved to eliminate the fire hazard in their use.

Another stock much in demand at the firm is the varied assortment of glass—window type, plate glass and many other kinds. West Texas Builders Supply provides a planning service for customers, using skilled, trained workmen.

C. F. (Chuck) Boykin, Midland manager of the firm, reminds home builders that West Texas Builders Supply has a supply of Acme brick and tile on hand, available in a variety of textures and shades of color.

A popular item at West Texas Builders Supply is the "Fol-Dor," a skillfully fabricated accordion-type door. Boykin reported that use of the handy doors is growing in West Texas, both for homes and business offices.

Fol-Dor has a hidden track with a latch closing and is equipped with a lock that permits shutting the door completely like any other door. Fol-Dor consists of a plastic sheet covering on a steel skeleton frame.

The modernistic door is stocked in any color needed to harmonize perfectly with the color scheme of any home or business office.

The Delmar Drive In Grocery, conveniently located at 2910 North Big Spring Street, specializes in providing groceries and drinks for late Midland shoppers.

Many Midlanders find shopping at Delmar's ideal, either on their way to the Fiesta Drive In Theater on the return trip from the show. A complete supply of the major lines of foods are in stock at the store.

But late evening shopping is not all at the Delmar Drive In Grocery. Hours of the store are from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. every day. Housewives who prefer not to make the long trip downtown stop often at Delmar's.

Parking space is never a problem at the store. A wide parking area in front provides plenty of space for Midland motorists.

Included in the stock at the Delmar Drive In Grocery are canned goods, frozen foods, ice cold beer, soft drinks, and fresh fruits and vegetables.

Elmo Elam is the owner of Delmar's, and M. G. Bradley is the capable manager of the store. Their aim is to provide Midlanders with prompt, courteous service.

Midland customers traveling north from the city will find the store's big sign easy to locate on the right side of the road. The carefully selected location serves a widely distributed residential district.

Elam invites Midland housewives to stop at Delmar's and view the varied selection of foods and beverages displayed on the shelves. He has stocked all the nationally advertised brand names in grocery products.

THREE LITTLE STARS OF BRASS— Ex-Auto Man Tells General About Fastening Ornaments

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Roger Kyes, the new Deputy Secretary of Defense, appears determined to make himself a classic case of whether a successful business executive also makes a good government official.

The effort has made him one of the most controversial figures of the new Eisenhower team. His critics call him "Jolly Roger." Although only a member of the unofficial "Little Cabinet," his name is becoming better known than many of the new department heads.

Since moving into the Pentagon as Charles E. Wilson's right-hand man, a job he also had at General Motors at $85,000 a year, Kyes has doggedly operated like a trouble-shooting business expert trying to save a sagging corporation.

Squabble Box Goes
He has yet to make his first concession to the old bureaucratic philosophy which holds that fighting red tape only tangles you in it tighter. One of Kyes' first moves was to sweep out most of his predecessor's staff, more thoroughly than Wilson himself dared attempt.

Then, to the horror of old-line bureaucrats, he ordered the big inter-office "squawk box" ripped out—one of the sacred symbols of federal rank which links the boss with the underlings at the push of a button.

"When I have something to say to somebody," he explains, "I like to do it face-to-face."
Painters Learn Point
Next he ordered all the old-type Pentagon light bulbs in his office changed to the variety used to illuminate the work of GM draftsmen.

One of the first days in office, within earshot of the Pentagon building superintendent, he remarked that the walls were too green. Next day when Kyes showed up he found a crew of painters ready to redecorate in blue. But he sent them scurrying back to their shop with the admonishment that the coat would be too much for the taxpayer.

At 47, Kyes is a giant, six-foot four inches and 225 pounds, with a fondness for neat double-breasted suits which he seldom buttons. He speaks softly, pleasantly, and appears completely relaxed and easy-going, which fools you sometimes.

One story concerns a three-star general in Kyes' office who was arguing heatedly about a budget matter. Kyes listened just so long, walked over to the general and began wagging the officer's stars with the reported remark:

ROGER KYES: The general's stars seemed "pretty loose."

"These things are pretty loose. In the car business we make sure that ornamental metal is very securely fastened."

The general left in complete accord with Kyes.

His Pocket Knife
Kyes likes to tell how Lincoln carried a pocket knife around to give to the first man he found who was uglier than himself. Kyes says he does the same thing and still has the knife.

Before Kyes set up shop in the Pentagon, rumor had pegged him as a successful, tough, sometimes ruthless executive who would do Wilson's quarterbacking. The rumor appears reliable. Kyes spends at least two hours a day with Wilson, in and out of the adjoining office without knocking or being announced.

He's Changed Bosses
The three major new Pentagon policy changes are mostly Kyes' babies—the proposed reorganization, new budget and limited mobilization base plan. None of them has won Kyes any wide endorsement in the Pentagon.

However, there is a steadily widening circle of Kyes boosters. One fan tells of a recent decision made by Kyes, which a cabinet member predicted would trk his former GM associates. Kyes replied:

"Remember I've changed bosses. And I sold all my GM stock."

All The Way
By odd chance Kyes lives in the same suite in the fashionable Westchester Apartments once occupied by General Electric's Charles E. Wilson. He lives alone. His wife and four daughters stayed home in Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

The consensus is that Kyes' unswerving big-business methods approach to his new job will either make him a tremendous reputation in the Pentagon or bust him. That's the Kyes apparently wants it. He says he has never been a halfway man.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★ Plan Now To Get Away From Source Of Hay Fever Trouble

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service
Those who suffer from ragweed hay fever, with or without asthma, and who take vacations during late August and early September with the idea of getting away from the source of their trouble, should start their planning now.

Several places on the North American continent have no ragweed, or so little that the trouble is greatly lessened. There is practically no ragweed in the Pacific northwest and northern California, and very little in Southern California, Arizona and New Mexico.

The Rocky Mountains themselves have little ragweed, though ragweed grows well in the plains just east of the mountains. There is practically no ragweed in Southern and Eastern Florida and there is a strip of territory in Western and Northern Maine away from the seacoast which is claimed to have little ragweed.

Northern Minnesota and upper Michigan have less ragweed than farther south. Many victims of hay fever get a great deal of relief in those areas, though when a strong wind is blowing from the south they often have trouble.

Several national parks are good hay fever spots. Among them are Crater Lake, Bryce Canyon, Glacier, Grand Canyon, Grand Teton, Kings Canyon, Mount McKinley, Mount Rainier, Olympic, Grand Lake, Sequoia, Yellowstone, Yosemite, Zion and Sun Valley.

According to pollen studies, cities with no ragweed in the air, or small amounts, include Sacramento, Miami, Reno, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Spokane, Prince Albert (Saskatchewan) and Mexico City.

Favorable claims also are made for such places as Mackinac Island, Marquette and Charlevoix in Michigan; Bethlehem, Bretton Woods and Dixville Notch in New Hampshire; Campobello Island in New Brunswick, Canada; Minaki Lodge, Port Arthur and Haliburton County (Ontario), and Murray Bay (Quebec).

Most of these places have their enthusiasts but others who have tried them have not always found relief.

With the exception of the areas which are known to be free of ragweed pollen or have small amounts in the air, the amount of relief which hay fever sufferers get from resorts is variable.

TUNING UP

Some people get almost complete relief, some people are better than at home but not completely relieved, and others seem to have just about as much trouble, probably because they are sensitive to small quantities of pollen.

Assassins Of North Africa Will Kill Your Foe For $10, Toss Bomb For $5

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent

TUNIS—You can have a man killed in this town for $10.

Terrorists among those seeking to evict the French, including Communists, take good advantage of these cut-rate prices.

From the moment you taxi into Tunis from the Mediterranean air-strip—past burghered camels with their lumbering, drunken walk—you sense the story of all French North Africa today: Terror.

Stalking Fear
Terror in Morocco, in Algeria, in Tunisia. Terror walks the quiet lanes of beautiful Casablanca; terror stalks along the caravan routes of the Touggourt Desert.

A rugged soldier eyes you as you enter your hotel.

Later you stroll along the broad boulevards of the European section. Ever parading before you, some on horseback, some on foot, some merely vacationing from desert outposts, are the most colorful collection of troops this side of a three-dimensional technical splash.

International Army

There are square-chinned huskies of the French Foreign Legion, many of them Germans with Nazi swastikas tattooed in their armpits, necks roasted red in sharp contrast to their white pillbox kepis; Tunisians with white turbans on white horses; brown Senegalese with British guards' mustaches; Saphis in baggy embroidered knickerbockers, like yards of lacy curtains.

Their mission: To preserve French rule, to cork the stewing violent, unfortunate alliance of nationalism and communism which daily makes its point in ugly little outbreaks of murder, of sabotage.

Their required assignment here is our loss, for they could be serving France in the swampy jungles of Indochina.

Worry Your Nostrils

You pass more police, more troopers, as you go through arched gates cut in high Beau Geste walls ringing the Medina, the ancient Arab section.

Here you find the full, teeming, semi-hysterical fury of the East in snaking alleys that could be stuffed by a stalled jeep.

Sales tables are laden with a crazy-quilt of wares. The spicy odor of cooking foods soaked in odd herbs—and sanitation dating back to the Turkish Empire—worry your nostrils.

No Alcohol, Please

After your first qualms you feel no fear. But you see papers full of a roundup following the murder of Chadly Kasbally, vice president of the city council; of an attempt to slay the Minister of Commerce, Ben Rais; of shots pegged at a police inspector; of the mayor of a nearby village rubbed out on his own doorstep; of a caravan leader cut down as he slept beside his dromedary.

On uneasy streets of Tunis, helmeted French soldiers search an Arab cyclist for hidden arms and ammunition.

Then you take a milky green pernod outside a fan-cooled cafe with a friend old and wise in these parts. The next table seats several Arabs in gorgeous robes, avoiding alcohol, as prohibited by the Koran, and sipping American colas.

Four Women Die

Your friend exhales a cloud of Tunisian cigarette smoke, fragrant as a roasting tire, and says: "It's hard to see—the trouble is concealed like squirming worms under a flaky pie crust."

"Two hundred have been killed since the trouble began; surely there will be more. At least one bomb a week is delivered, and heavy stones are hurled against passing cars."

"Over there, the restaurant, see the black mark, the torn walls? A bomb was thrown, four women were badly ripped, poor things. The proprietor had no care for politics. Colt Is Cooled"

"These bombs, many, are for the newspapers—to show the world all is not so fine in Tunisia."

"But, oof, we are ready. Although it is hard to protect a man marked. It is the wise official who sleeps with a cocked Colt under his pillow, who answers not his door-bell."

"In Tunisia every main block has a machine gun tucked carefully in a high building. And in the countryside, with forts, with planes, with rapidly running armored cars, with camels, we can—in two hours—crush any movement."

Like Their Drugs

"Like the Mau Maus in Nairobi, the terrorists strike mainly at their countrymen who are with us. You are safe . . . tourists are safe . . ."

"To make this killing they hire others—that is easy in the East. The word assassin comes from hashashin—hashish eater. Hashish is the strong drug of the bazaar."

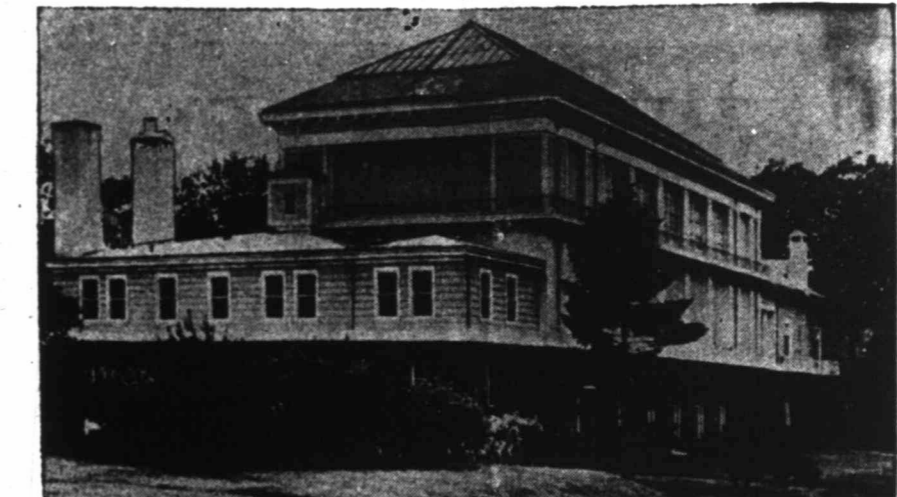

"Here, living the streets, so poor, so hungry, are many with but 400 francs (about $1) each week."

"Give them 4,000 ($10) and they will kill—in any way you want. Give them 500, that is all, and they will deliver a bomb."

This is the brownstone walk-up tenement in New York's lower East Side where pianist Anthony di Bonaventura lives with his family. Arrow points to window of their second-floor apartment. 'T'WILL BE DREARY NEWS—Gwendolen (Billye Boultinghouse) sends Algernon (Charles Dixon) away so that she may tell Jack Worthing (Arthur Nations) the sad news that her mother will not let her marry him—all during a scene in Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest," which opens Wednesday at the Midland Community Theater.

RUTH MILLETT SAYS—
Wife Should Be Told Soon
If Marriage 'In Bad Shape'

I received this letter recently from a disappointed husband:
"Our marriage is in bad shape. We don't seem to be able to do things together. I would like my wife to take some interest in my job and what I am trying to do to get ahead. She claims that she does. But her actions contradict her words."
"She never has time to read anything because she's always too busy taking care of our two small children and the house. Every night when I come home, all I hear about is the trouble that she's had with the kids all day."

If something has happened at work that I have been enthusiastic about, I see all my enthusiasm by the time she's through telling about her troubles.
"She would probably say that I am not much help around the house. She never tells me what she expects me to do. I am just supposed to know what to do."
"She seems to believe that I should think as much about house-work as she does. Matter of fact, I don't think about it at all. I am usually thinking about an extra curricular project for work or some part-time business venture."
"I am not handy in the kitchen. I don't see why she cannot behave in the kitchen the way a doctor behaves in an operating room, with me acting as her assistant. Do you have any suggestions?"
Just one. To be as frank with your wife as you have been in this letter. Tell her everything you have told me, beginning with the fact that you feel your marriage is in "bad shape." That ought to shock her into listening to what you have to say.

Don't let matters go from bad to worse. Don't let your resentment and dissatisfaction grow. It is kinder to a wife to tell her you feel that she is failing you, than to keep still and have her say someday in bewilderment: "Why, I thought you were happy. I thought everything was all right."
Don't expect her to know how you feel about your marriage without being told. That is the way she has been expecting you to know what you can do to help her around the house. You know how frustrating that can be.

Ticket Books Add Enjoyment To Permian Home Show Visit

The question "Where to buy the entertainment tickets for the Permian Basin Home Show" has been solved with an announcement Tuesday by Cecil Snodgrass, chairman of the exhibits committee.
Two-dollar ticket books are available now at the Chamber of Commerce, Acklan Title Company, A-L Lumber Company, Home Lumber Company, Ogden Steel and the Lone Star Title Company.
In making this announcement, Snodgrass cleared the way for thousands who now have the opportunity to get in on the biggest entertainment bargain in West Texas history.

"For only two dollars," Snodgrass said, "West Texans can enjoy three days of entertainment which would cost five or six or more times as much under other auspices."

He referred to the fact that, purchased individually, these tickets would cost more than full book cost for one function alone. "You can dance to the music of Clyde McCoy, in person, on Thursday night. You can come back Friday night to dance with Ray Noble's orchestra playing the music. On Saturday night you can take in the dance with the famous Texas Tech Varsity—some of the smartest dance bands in the Southwest. You can also attend any matinee or night performance of the Jerry Colonna stage show on any one of those three days."

All This And More
He concluded with, "All this for only two dollars. It's part of the non-profit Permian Basin Home Show of 1953."

Many have expressed surprise that it costs so little for the show visitor. Such prices have helped to convince the skeptic that the home show is intended as anything but a "get-rich-quick" scheme, and is in fact a public service aimed at thousands of families throughout West Texas and Southeastern New Mexico.
Being much of its format and schedule on the successful Permian Basin Oil Show held during even-numbered years, the Permian Basin Home Show is planned as a regular biennial event. Dozens of exhibitors already have signed contracts for booths and announced themes for their exhibits.

Several appliance dealers have previewed their exhibits which promise to show the housewife the modern 1953 approach to a big day's work.

Good Old Days
"The good old days are gone forever," said exhibitor L. K. Stout, "if by the good old days you mean the days when woman's work was never done. You will never know how easy it is to do a whole day's housework until you've seen the new ideas you'll find all through the show next month. Electrically-operated appliances do everything by tented the baby, and some day they might even do that. This show points the way, with washers and ironers, dishwashers, home freezing units, air conditioners, refrigerators, radio and television sets, draperies, furnishings, building materials, floor plans, landscaping, decorating and all the rest.

"It's the greatest thing that's happened to the modern family since the GI loan.

In addition to the show, a new 1953 Chrysler Windsor will be given away. There is nothing to pay. Winner will be announced during the Permian Basin Home Show, June 11, 12, 13, and 14, at County Park in Odessa.

Since this country usually is referred to as a nation on wheels, it might seem that the business of carrying weapons around in cars would be as simple as opening a door. But there are a number of gimmicks in the car-gun business that can save shooters grief.
For example, you stick Old Betsy behind the front seat, with the gun butt under the footboard and the handle leaning up across the rear seat. Somebody is sure to put a little bar-minute gear on top, and a long-legged member of the party slides under the wheel for his turn to drive. He shoves the front seat back for comfort and busts your sun-stock.
Or, you squeeze the gun in alongside a rear-seat party member, last thing, and the first time he opens the door to get out at a gas station Old Betsy slides out onto the concrete and chips off the toe of the stock or skews the front sight.
The best time to load your rifles and shotguns into the car—unless you have some sort of border customs inspection to go through on the way—is the first thing.

Today's cars are wide enough—or deck luggage compartment at its most of 'em are—across the rear extreme forward end to take the average cased shotgun or rifle, be the case hard or soft. If you settle the guns in there against the back side of the rear seat, scopes up of

"We had gone to bed the other night, when the phone rang and some guy's weaving voice, with a background of juke box music, rasped out, "I've got a bet up on this, buddy, who writes those ads?"
One of our friends buttonholes us in the postoffice. "Where do you get those ideas for the ads?"
"Dingbust, it we don't know, we don't really write the ads. We just report them to the rest of you. It's you, and you, and you who really make the ads, everytime you take home a sack of that superbonological Surf Special Orange Fertilizer, or make life easier with the purchase of one of those slick Jacobson Power Mowers. All we do is set them down on paper, and slip in a line or two of advertising, like we did right here."
But, the one that ties it, follows. One of our nice lady customers tells us that her kids won't go to bed at night until she has read them the Surf Special Advertising Ho! Hum! Here we are yawning again. Time for bed.

course, and then block them into position with your duffel bags, bedrolls and what have you, so they can't rattle around and so no big-foot can plant his size twelves on the new oil finish job, they'll ride without damage over the roughest roads. They'll never be bothered by climate changes because while it may get warm or cool under that rear deck the temperature or humidity change very slowly.
Just remember that your rear deck load will tend to shift forward as you drive, so that reasonably soft items should be between the guns and that case of canned goods. Having the weapons tucked out of the way also makes it easier to resist temptation to meddle with 'em while traveling—which is one way to put a hole through the sedan roof—or take illegal potshots at game on the road. And they'll be much more certain to arrive at Big Buck Lodge with the scopes on straight, the finish unmarred, ready for operation.
