Reds Start Reprisals For East Berlin Riots

BERLIN —(AP)—Soviet might turned the Berlin frontier into a no man's land Thursday and sent before a firing squad a German accused of organizing anti-Communist riots. Berlin's East Sector was in virtual paralysis under the eyes of a Russian armored division sent in from the Soviet Zone of Germany. The quiet contrasted sharply with Wednesday's demonstrations, which cost the lives of at least 16 Germans. The firing squad execution was a grim warning to the Germans living under Soviet rule. The Russians extended martial law to Potsdam, the suburb where the Truman-Stalin-Atilde meeting took place in 1945. Border Closed Tight No one was crossing the border between East Berlin and the Western Sectors controlled by the U. S., Britain and France. No smoke was rising from the Soviet sector chimneys that were visible from the West. East Berlin workers by the thousands refused to work Thursday. Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrowa, now ruling East Berlin under a state of siege, announced the execution. The Red general described the dead man, Willi Goettling, as "a resident of West Berlin, who worked on orders of a foreign intelligence service, was one of the active organizers of provocations and disturbances in the Soviet sector of Berlin, and participated in the violent banditry against the organs of power and the population." "Goettling was sentenced to death by shooting. The sentence was carried out," the grim announcement concluded. More than 100 Germans were reported under arrest in East Berlin and facing Soviet courts. Flying squads of police and Communist Party officials raided workers' homes, hunting suspects. West Germany wondered if the Soviet Army would stop its firing squad after the one execution as a terror example. Gunfire that ripped along the East-West zonal frontier in the heart of the city from Wednesday noon into the night died down early Thursday. Apparently Russian riflemen shot down several hundred Germans, but the exact casualty toll was impossible to pin down. The German Red Cross identified 16 bodies in West Berlin hospitals as riot gunshot victims. There, also, were 119 wounded, some in serious condition. How many lay dead or wounded in the Soviet zone could not be determined.

House Turns Down Proposal To Limit VA Hospitalization

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The House Thursday rejected a proposal to restrict free medical care for war veterans who can afford to pay for it and whose ailment is not connected with his military service. The VA may not ignore such an oath now. Instead, it must accept at face value a veteran's oath that he can't afford outside treatment and furnish hospitalization when available. Thursday's action insures the retention of that setup. The new proposal would have let the VA go behind the oath and refuse hospitalization if it believes the applicant can afford to pay for it in a private hospital.

SEOUL —(AP)—Front-line Communist loudspeakers, which are used extensively for Red propaganda, Thursday blared that a truce had been signed in Korea "and the war is over."
SEOUL —(AP)—Some 400 more anti-Communist North Korean prisoners broke from an Allied prison camp near Inchon early Friday after a bloody clash with U. S. Marine guards in which 10 prisoners were killed and 93 wounded. One Marine guard was wounded seriously.
BERLIN —(AP)—An American soldier who apparently blundered over the Soviet zonal frontier from the U. S. sector of Berlin was seized by Russian troops Thursday and marched off at gunpoint.
LONDON —(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill said Thursday he was "shocked and grieved" over Syngman Rhee's release of 25,000 anti-Communist prisoners of war, but that he still held hope for a truce in the war.

Actual Construction On Underpass Job Expected To Get Underway In 30 Days

Construction work on the long-awaited Big Spring Street Underpass will begin within the next 30 days, Contractor Ernest Loyd of Fort Worth said Thursday. Loyd was the apparent low bidder Wednesday afternoon when bids were opened by the State Highway Department in Austin on that project and at least one other of interest to Midland. He submitted a bid of $679,069.41, which was under the original estimate of the cost of the project. "We do not expect shipments of structural steel until December," said Loyd, "but reinforcing steel is readily available and we plan to have work underway within the next 30 days. "We expect to proceed without any difficulty and will be working as many as 50 men on the project at one time." Work also is expected to begin within a short time on the construction of the final link of a paved highway to connect Midland and Lamesa. The Centex Construction Company of San Antonio was the low bidder with a figure of $165,100 for

DESPITE RHEE'S ACTION— Final Armistice Draft Completed

MUNSAN —(AP)—The draft of a Korean truce apparently was completed Thursday but its fate might turn on President Syngman Rhee's open defiance of his Allies in arbitrarily releasing 25,000 anti-Red prisoners of war. Rhee's order opening the gates of four POW camps in Thursday morning's darkness was in direct opposition to the armistice terms. Even as the papers scattered, it appeared that all details of an armistice agreement had been wrapped up and the final text was being prepared to completion. Preparations for exchanging thousands of war prisoners were rushed by both sides. UN officials speculated on whether Rhee's action might delay the return of some 18,000 UN prisoners held by the Reds. Official UN sources in Tokyo said they did not expect Rhee's move to wreck the armistice, but a delay was anticipated. The Reds might demand delivery of the escaped prisoners before signing a truce. Staff officers who have been putting the finishing touches on the armistice wound up their sessions at 12:30 p.m. and translators went to work immediately. They presumably were putting the document into English, Korean and Chinese. The staff officers recessed indefinitely. There was no announcement as to when the top-level negotiators would meet to approve the text. Some observers said it was possible the armistice agreement would have to be sent to Washington and UN headquarters in New York for approval. Meanwhile, both sides acted as though a truce still were no more than a few days away. Communist work crews tore down mud huts in Panmunjon and began construction of what appeared to be a large permanent building. This may be the site of the official signing and could serve as headquarters for the Military Armistice Commission.

Rhee Defies UN By Freeing 25,000 Anti-Red Prisoners

TOKYO —(AP)—South Korea rejected the UN Command and its armistice terms Thursday, freeing 25,000 anti-Red Korean prisoners and announcing immediate steps to enlist most of them in its own army. President Syngman Rhee's arbitrary order turned South Korea's anti-truce threats into direct action, catching his Allies flat-footed and leaving them sharply resentful. What effect it would have on the truce—now apparently only an arm's reach away—was not known. No official source would speculate. In Seoul, a reliable source indicated that Rhee has sent a flat "no" to President Eisenhower's June 6 appeal for South Korea to accept the armistice. The source quoted Rhee as telling Eisenhower and his armistice terms would perish under the truce terms. Guards Turn Back South Korean guards in four camps turned their backs as the prisoners fled into the morning darkness. Small bands of Americans tried vainly to stop the exodus. A few hours later, a high South Korean authority said most prisoners would be enlisted in the ROK Army. That could add about two divisions to the 14-division ROK force. He indicated prisoners from Namsan and Sangmudang camps went to nearby ROK military training centers with the aid of South Korean military personnel immediately after fleeing from the camps. An American officer said many ROK officers from the prison camps fled with the prisoners. The UN said it handed the Reds a letter at Panmunjon reporting the ROK guards had been replaced by U. S. troops and that every effort is being made to recapture the 24,000 prisoners still loose. The prisoners were being taken into private homes and farms, or hiding in the hills. Rhee had urged all civilians to help the prisoners. The UN Prison Command said (Continued On Page 12)

None Survives World's Worst Aerial Mishap

TOKYO —(AP)—A huge C-124 Globemaster pinwheeled out of the murky sky near Tokyo Thursday and crashed in flames, carrying 129 Americans to death in history's worst air disaster. The Air Force said 60 bodies were identified. The doubledecker transport was carrying 122 Army engineers and airmen back to battle stations in Korea. Seven crewmen were aboard.

There were no survivors. The Globemaster crashed seconds after taking off from the U. S. air base at Tachikawa, 25 miles west of Tokyo.

A witness said the giant plane "somersaulted like a bird and plummeted to the ground." A Japanese farmer said, "The huge plane came skimming over the trees by the highway. Two of its four propellers were not turning. Then it circled and crashed and exploded." The plane was a special flight for soldiers, not one of the regular courier runs between Japan and Korea. Worse Than Moses Lake The worst previous air disaster was the crash of another Globemaster near Moses Lake, Wash., last December 20, which killed 86. The plane crashed in a muddy rice field just in front of a bamboo grove. There were large pieces of the wreck still intact, including one twisted wing. One tangle of wreckage with an engine was jammed into a crumpled heap about 30 feet high. An ambulance driver said, "It was a terrible sight. They were mangled horribly." Stan Carter of The AP, at the scene, said sickened Air Force medics toiled under searchlights carrying broken bodies to ambulances across 100 yards of deep mud. "Like Something Out Of Hell" "The scene was like something out of hell," Carter said. "There was a terrible smell of burned oil and burned human flesh intermingled. The bodies were terribly mangled." "One medic tried to pick up one body and put it on a stretcher. The head fell off." "The wreckage was all tangled into one concentrated spot—the plane must have come straight down and exploded. There were balls of crumpled metal 30 feet high." Names of the dead were withheld. Some light rain fell and fog prevailed as the plane fell Tachikawa, but the weather was not bad enough to ground aircraft. Japanese firemen were the first to reach the burning wreckage. "Seven of us rushed to the burning wreckage and pulled out seven dying men," one said. "All the (Continued On Page 12)

Judge Charles Coombes, 78, Colorful West Texan, Dies

DALLAS —(AP)—Judge Charles Edward Coombes, 78, a former mayor of Abilene and founder of the Stamford Cowboy Reunion, died Wednesday in a Dallas hospital. Coombes became a cowboy at 15 and drifted to West Texas. He was appointed a district judge in 1908 by Gov. Thomas Campbell. Coombes was a gifted after-dinner speaker and teller of tall tales. He devoted much time to the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association of Stamford. Serves As Mayor He was mayor of Abilene from 1923 to 1927 and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in 1931. He had been an active attorney at Stamford since 1927. His wife of 54 years, the former Nellie Bradford of Benjamin, died in 1936. He wrote "Franklin Dog Lawyer," a book dealing with his memories of the law profession in the early days of West Texas. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. S. F. Hennagan of Abilene, and four sons, Charles of San Angelo, Joe of Odessa, Jerry of Boulder City, Nev., and Zach of Stamford. Coombes once was elected district attorney of the 90th District composed of Baylor, Knox, King, Cottle, Motley, Floyd, Crosby, Hall and Lubbock counties and the unorganized counties of Cochran, Hockley and Lynn. Judge Coombes was the brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Bedford and Mr. and Mrs. George Ratliff of Midland. A. J. Bedford is a nephew. Ratliff said funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at the First Christian Church at Abilene. The Midlanders plan to attend. Judge Coombes visited Midland periodically, his last visit being in 1952.

Odessa Man Found Slashed To Death

ABILENE —(AP)—Billy West, about 33, of Odessa was found dead with his throat slashed in his wrecked car on a farm road 10 miles east of Abilene Thursday. Ranger Jim Paulk said there was no knife or instrument in the car that could have cut West's throat. About $200 in cash was found in his pocket. Luggage in his 1953 auto didn't appear disturbed. Paulk said the car, which was headed west, had run into an embankment.

Former FBI Agent Reveals Red Plot Against McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former FBI undercover agent testified Thursday he heard a Communist boast last December that he had been picked by Communist leaders to kill Senator McCarthy (R-Wis). The testimony came from Joseph Mazzei of Pittsburgh, who said the man who made the boast was Lou Borts of Pittsburgh.

Borts, who it developed was seated among the spectators, then was called to the witness stand and asked whether he knew Mazzei.

Borts refused to say. He refused also to say whether he is or has been a member of the Communist Party.

Mazzei said he was an FBI counter spy, posing as a Communist, when he attended a secret meeting in Pittsburgh at which Borts announced that "he was selected by the Communist Party to do a job in the liquidation of Senator Joseph McCarthy."

He described Borts as a leader of Communist "goon squads" in Pittsburgh, and quoted Borts as telling the gathering of seven or eight persons that he was "gratified" by the assignment and that "when the time would come he would be ready to carry it out."

Mazzei testified at a hearing by the Senate Investigations subcommittee. McCarthy heads this group but had arranged for Senator Mundt (R-SD) to preside.

Mundt asked Mazzei whether Borts meant "a political liquidation or a physical liquidation" of McCarthy.

"To kill him," Mazzei said.

McCarthy sat quietly at the court-like bench in the hearing room.

Mazzei said he was an undercover agent for the FBI from 1951 until last March 26, when he testified in a court proceeding involving Steve Nello of Pittsburgh, convicted Communist leader.

Mazzei said a target range was set up in the basement of a Pittsburgh building at which the Communists met, and was used for target practice with a variety of weapons. He said he himself was among those who received instructions from Borts on how to make bombs.

Past Records Show Odds Heavy Against Impeaching Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP)—A resolution to impeach Supreme Court Justice William Douglas was headed on the path through Congress Thursday, but on past records the odds were against it.

On only 12 occasions has a court of impeachment been convened by Congress, and in U. S. history only four federal judges ever have been removed via impeachment.

One Supreme Court justice has been tried, but acquitted. This was Justice Samuel Chase, back in 1805.

The impeachment resolution, introduced Wednesday by Representative Wheeler (D-Ga.), was greeted with cheers and applause in the House. Shortly before, Douglas had granted a stay of execution to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted of atomic espionage.

Later Representative Chelf (D-Ky.), a member of the House Judiciary Committee, termed it a "hasty, ill-advised, sensational opinion," by "that self-appointed, one-man Supreme Court, Justice William Douglas."

Chairman Reed (R-Ill.) of the House Judiciary Committee promised immediate consideration of Wheeler's charge of "high crimes and misdemeanors," Reed said.

If impeachment proceedings should be recommended by the Judiciary Committee and then voted by the House, Douglas would be brought before the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, and tried on specific counts contained in a bill of particulars.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail And The Curious Cat

The Curious Cat really was a cat-people. He was black all over with white boots. He walked on his two back feet and he thought and talked in much the way of the cats you see in the cartoons at the picture show.

Curious Cat saw the geese in the sky. The geese were flying north. "I'd better go north myself," said the Curious Cat to himself. "I'm curious to see how cool it is."

Curious Cat crawled out of the barrel where he had slept for the night. He begged his breakfast at the back door of a house near the edge of town.

Then he set off through the Great Forest—on his way north to see what he could see. He walked and he walked. He begged his lunch from Old MacDonald who has a farm.

The Curious Cat was fond of begging food this way. He pretended not to be a cat-people. He pretended he couldn't talk. All he could say was "meow," he pretended. He was curious to see if he could fool people, and he did.

He walked by the Duck Pond where Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was hiding with the Featherman in the story I told you yesterday. Daddy Ringtail and the Featherman, you remember, were trying to catch a goose, but none would stop in the water. Daddy Ringtail threw some sheets

Texas Farmers Harvest So Much Wheat They Don't Know What To Do With Money

DALLAS—(AP)—Combine operator J. D. Russell says he is harvesting so much wheat for farmers this year they don't know what to do with all their cash.

"I had to keep one of them from stopping cars on the highway and trying to loan the drivers money," Russell said with a twinkling smile.

The 43-year-old Dallas County farmer is cutting his neighbors wheat before pushing north with the harvest. He says the wheat is the best he has ever seen. Some of it is yielding 50 bushels to the acre compared to a normal 10 or 20 bushels.

They will harvest an estimated 1,132,600,000 bushels in the U. S. There is a carry-over of some 870 million bushels from last season. The total would give the U. S. an export and carry-over excess of a billion bushels, the greatest grain surplus in the history of any nation.

The nation's bountiful billion-bushel wheat crops have come about in the last 10 years, largely through the efforts of enterprising men like Russell. They have used their own capital to mechanize the mightiest harvest in history.

The young Texas farmer brought his first self-propelled combine to the Dallas County town of Lancaster in 1943. It sat on the town square where the curious could get a close look at it. Russell runs three of them now with supporting trucks.

One of his combine drivers is his 14-year-old son, Donald. The boy started handling the 66,000 machines in the Texas Panhandle when he was 13. Four harvest hands with trucks and a combine to do the work that required a full crew of 24 men using a stationary threshing machine.

There is so much work to do getting in the tremendous crop that some harvesting crews are spending extra days here along the southern edge of the great continental wheat belt. Others are working now in Oklahoma and in the drought-damaged fields of the Texas Panhandle, one of the few sections of the nation where the crop is poor this year.

Wind-Blown Blaze Destroys Alaska's Top Military Port

All Summer, combine crews like Russell's will toil in the golden fields from Texas through Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas. September frost will catch them on the Canadian prairies at the end of their 1,800-mile trek.

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA — (AP)—Fire and explosives destroyed millions of dollars worth of military installations and supplies Wednesday night at Alaska's main military port of Whittier, 72 miles southeast of here.

The rampaging, wind-blown flames in less than four hours destroyed three new warehouses, two docks and other buildings. Reports here and at Seward, but not confirmed by the military, said a quantity of ammunition blew up.

Cause of the fire was undetermined and two unofficial versions were given. One said a forest fire in adjacent timber swept into the town. The second said a boiler in one of the warehouses blew up to set off the blaze.

Three persons were reported injured critically in the boiler explosion. An Alaska Railroad yardmaster is believed to be the only other casualty, although hundreds of stevedore troops stationed there were used in fighting the fire.

Alaska Defense Command officials here said the port facilities were wiped out and no longer were usable. Many millions of dollars have been spent in developing the area, which serves as a port for the entire defense command sector.

Walt Welch of radio station KENI in Anchorage flew to Whittier and reported that smoke from the fire extended halfway to Anchorage. He said tight military security had been clamped on the port, making it virtually impossible to get a full picture of the situation.

The fire started at 5:45 p.m. and ate its way to the dock area within a few minutes. Two hours later the roof of one of the warehouses collapsed and another warehouse had been dynamited.

Military officials declined to estimate the loss but admitted that it would run into the millions of dollars.

House Economy Bloc Drives At Billion-Dollar Aid Slash

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House went to work Thursday on a controversial $4,998,732,500 foreign aid bill for next year, and Rep. Lawrence H. Smith (R-Wis.) said cuts of another one billion dollars will be proposed.

The measure now carries 476 million dollars less than President Eisenhower urged Congress to accept as an "honest" minimum. It is $2,602,000,000 less than recommended by former President Truman.

Voting on proposals for deeper cuts may start Friday. The bill is only a ceiling for the year starting July 1. Actual appropriations will come up later.

A fight is likely also on an Administration-opposed amendment to withhold more than one billion dollars of military aid to Europe until an international army is approved.

Smith said in an interview a four-member minority of the House Foreign Affairs Committee will propose cuts totaling one billion dollars, which they say will not impair the program.

Smith said the group will propose knocking out planned military aid to Japan and Spain, reducing global Point Four programs of technical aid, eliminating 100 million dollars each for economic aid to France and for research on special nonatomic weapons.

The group also will try to persuade Congress to postpone consideration of the actual appropriations until next year, because of "unsettled world conditions," Smith added. He said the Administration has ample money to carry on the program in the meantime.

Truman's remarks were made to reporters summoned to his Kansas City office for what he described as "just about the first political statement I've made" since leaving the White House. The statement was made public Wednesday.

The former Chief Executive said the record of the last four months has demonstrated that the "Republican Party is the party of special interests."

Truman made it plain he looks to Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee in the last election, as leader of the party.

As to himself, he said, "I have no special privileges in the Democratic party; because I was President of the United States."

Truman Asks Minor Role in Party Ranks

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said the "Democratic Party is, and always has been, a going concern," and expressed once more his intention to work in the party's ranks "if they let me."

Truman's remarks were made to reporters summoned to his Kansas City office for what he described as "just about the first political statement I've made" since leaving the White House. The statement was made public Wednesday.

Texans Contribute $2,577,000 To Aid In Fight On Polio

DALLAS — Texans contributed more than $2,577,000 to the total of $31,500,000 raised in the 1953 March of Dimes. It was announced Thursday by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Corroborating the Lone Star totals was Robert J. Smith, volunteer chairman of the annual polio fund raising drive in Texas.

This total, based on reports from 3,069 volunteer campaign chairmen, represents a new record, being 24 per cent higher than the previous record total raised in 1952, O'Connor said. Last year, when $41,422,508 was contributed, showing a figure of 27 1/2 cents per capita donation for the United States, Texas raised more than $2,100,000 for a per capita showing of slightly higher than 28 cents. The 1953 figure, nation-wide, shows an average of 34 cents per person.

Clark Blasts ROK Collusion With Freed Anti-Red POW's

TOKYO —(P)— A spokesman at Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters Thursday issued a statement accusing the South Koreans of collusion with the anti-Red prisoners freed Wednesday night, saying: "Between midnight and dawn today, approximately 26,000 militantly anti-Communist North Korean prisoners of war broke out of United Nations Command prisoner of war camps at Pusan, Musan, Mansan, and Sang-Mudal, Korea."

Statements attributed to high officials of the Republic of Korea now make it clear that the action had been secretly planned and carefully coordinated at top levels in the Korean government and that outside assistance was furnished the POW's in their mass breakout.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Charles (Tex) Stephenson of the wrongside hitting clan, like most of his ilk, suffers hand-wringing agony at the thought of facing a southpaw pitcher.

The other night, with the prospect of battling against Odessa ace Jim Carson, a lefty, the Midland outfielder slipped into deep gloom even as a bystander tried to boost him by explaining that this lefty against lefty and right-hander against right-hander stuff matters only a small percentage worth. And has exceptions.

"Why, you shouldn't worry about left-handers," Stephenson was told; "You remember when Ralph Kiner (a right-hand batter) hit 54 home runs—well, 47 of them were off right-handers."

Stephenson, after a moment, lifted his unhappy face: "See what I mean," he replied, "nobody can hit those left-handers."

Webb's Players Find New Homes

Milt Waldendorff, the huge rookie first baseman, joins Stephenson's I Hate-Southpaws club although he stands on the proper side of the plate. He has reason for, in 16 appearances against right-handers, he's batting .500 on eight raps and against southpaws, he's four for 16, or .250.

The Indian management will attest that Waldendorff's fear of lefties eventually will fade away. The 20-year-old, they say, hardly had a look at wrong-side hurling while he was an amateur in the Farmers Boys League near Fredericksburg... but, until Waldendorff seems better, Odessa's Carson seems to have the rookie's number. And it's 0 for six trips... As far as can be found out, Cliff Jackson and Earl Finley alone of Harold Webb's five-man assets from the Winters-Bullinger team hasn't found a job. Armando Sanchez, the center fielder, tied on with Artesia, while Pitcher John Miskulin and infielder Herb Nauert reported to last-place Lake Charles of the Gulf Coast League.

Kleine Kept Cager Smith In Line

Two-game winner Fred Smith, the recent Indian acquisition from Temple, says that former Midland players Herb Dwire, a pitcher, and Kenny Jones, a catcher, are, for certain, out of baseball for the season. Dwire still is in critical condition from a ruptured spleen suffered early in the season. And Jones' sore throwing arm doesn't respond to any sort of treatment.

It was reported earlier here that Smith played college basketball for East Texas Baptist College and led that team in scoring for a third straight season. He recalls that in one game, playing Ada of Houston, he figured he'd have one of his high scoring nights since the Oilers' center, jumping Walt Davis, was sidelined by an ankle injury. Ada, though, came up with a new center—a Bill Kleine of six-foot-11 proportions—and "it was all I could do to stay in the middle of the court and try to keep him away from the basket," Smith relates.

Kleine, you know, was a Midland cager who joined Ada to take over the injured Davis' position. "He could've scored a hundred points against us if he wanted to," said Smith.

Al Sokolowski, the 1950 Longhorn rookie of the year and Odessa southpaw, is sitting out these baseball days at his Pennsylvania home hoping for to round his arm into shape... Didja know that Bob Craig of McCamey played his college golf at Abilene Christian College in 1948 and his three straight tourney wins (Port Stockton, Kermit and Big Lake) marked his first successes since? Or that the new state left-hand champ Jack Wilkerson of Tyler has a brother Howard who reached the semi-finals of a recent national golf tournament for mutes?

Of other things, both San Angelo College and Odessa Junior College claim the Midland star athlete of 1953, Jesse Hatfield, will join their gridders in September.

He didn't homer at all Wednesday night, but it's heartening to see Glenn Burns of San Angelo, who hit four home runs in the three previous nights, doesn't save all his licks for Midland. Still, one-third of his 21 round-trippers came at the hands of Tribe hurlers.

Indians Bid For Fourth Straight Over Rockets

There's a distinct dividing line in the Longhorn League—and it's Midland.

The Indians, in fourth place, can hardly get ahead for losing to the top threesome and appear a shoo-in for a first-division finish (at their present rate) simply because they've got the number on the last three clubs.

Take, for instance, the Indians' opponent here at 8 p.m. Thursday when they resume their Longhorn League action after two nights off. Rowell, visiting for two nights, hasn't been able to find the key to whipping Midland yet—it could be that to get ahead in the standings is the secret. The Rockets bowed in the first three meetings of the two, 14-4, 13-10, and 10-8.

On the other hand, the Tribe looks destined for fourth place (although Artesia is only a game and a half ahead) since San Angelo is the master so far, in eight of 10 games. Carlsbad in six of eight and Artesia in four of seven.

Last place Odessa has lost six of six to Midland and Big Spring eight of 10.

Neither Rowell nor Midland have announced Thursday's pitchers but Fred Smith, right-hander with a 2-1 record, probably will start for the home club.

Roughs Boot Lead In Ninth, Lose, 10-8, To Alpine Nine

The aging Midland Roughnecks could petition for a seven-inning baseball game and get all the sympathy in the world—it seems they're just not built to endure and win, over the route.

Faltering in the final stages has cost them several previous games; but the Roughs will put up their 10-8 defeat at Alpine's hands Wednesday night as one of the chief heartbreakers and Gabby Blumenthal will lead the singing of the blues.

Gabby, working in relief, gave up only two hits in five and one-third innings only to see his 7-6 lead blown by a ninth-inning error.

After that, the ex-Indian hurler looked as if he was tiring in the tenth when he walked lead-off Ron Sizemore, a Sul Ross cager, and was sidelined in favor of lefty Leon Hayes. Alpine proceeded to wallop the cold Hayes services for three doubles and a single for three runs.

Blumenthal's lone walk cost him the setback.

Alpine's group, a bunch of Sul Ross and Southwest Conference collegians, earned their fifth straight win with 14 hits, one of them a homer by Manager Tom Chandler. The Cowboys prospects weren't always so hot, though, against the Roughs.

Joe Sells singled in Midland's first inning run and then the Roughs led, 5-1, after Eddie Mellillo's double and four errors netted four runs in the third.

Alpine, however, matched that spree in the fourth to trail 6-7 in the ninth when John Caruthers, on first, stole second and ran all the way home on an overthrow and Dwain Parson's single.

Alpine Might Let Him Pass

The semi-pro Alpine Cowboys, trailing the Midland Roughnecks, 7-6, in the eighth inning, called on their "clutch" man to pinch-bat for pitcher Tom Bowers.

Perhaps it was the right clutch man but wrong game. Doyle Traylor, the fabulous passer of the Temple High Eagles and an All-American schoolboy, didn't come through. He fanned out in his batting debut for the Cowboys.

He's done better in football.

He didn't stand alone as a strike-out victim, however. Starter Bowers, an All-Southwest Conference pitcher from SMU, fanned 11 Roughs, Keltion Russell from Lamesa clipped three and Chuck Ellis, ex-San Angelo Colt, put down two (of two) the same way.

For the Roughs, starter Ernie Nelson whiffed three, Gabby Blumenthal, the one to blot out Traylor, struck out six and Leon Hayes fanned one.

That's 26 in all during the game.

Traylor, incidentally, has signed a letter of intent to attend Baylor. He goes to Summer school at Sul Ross of Alpine while keeping in shape playing baseball for the Cowboys.

The 190-pounder, at any rate, is not considered a baseball prospect.

Westerners, Brooks Tangle Over Legion Lead; Hornets Win

The Westerners and Brooks Stores settle which one is most likely to succeed to the first half crown in Thursday's American Legion baseball feature.

The two are tied at present with only a few games remaining before the half-season ends June 23.

A little less was at stake Wednesday among the also-rans, but hardly the top-fighters could match the Hornets 9-8 win over the last-place eagles. A sixth inning homer with one on by the Eagles' Billy Burt almost scared the Hornets out of their second victory of the year.

Dale Jobe hurled six-hit ball in winning, and teammate Carol Nell singled twice to pace the Hornets at bat.

The score: R H E Eagles 000 233 0-8 8 4 Hornets 002 520 2-9 7 4 Roberts, Procter (6) and Procter, Claiborne (6); Jobe and Cooper.

Owen Victor In Hot Duel, 5-4

Jim Owens won a tight pitchers' duel from Larry Cooper as Kiwanis upset the Travelers, 5-4, in one of the most thrilling Pony League games of the season.

Both pitchers hurled hitless ball through five innings, with the Kiwanians enjoying a 2-0 lead gained on Traveler errors. The Travelers went ahead with two safeties and three runs in the sixth but the Kiwanians regained the lead in their half with a like number.

Cooper struck out 12 and Owens whiffed 11. Each walked three and allowed four hits, and both drove in two runs—Cooper with a double and Owens with a triple.

The climax came in the seventh when Cooper slammed a hard grounder to short and was thrown out by a half-step, ending the game with the bases still loaded and one run across.

Drillers Pop Colts Second In Row, 13-0

SAN ANGELO —(P)—Artesia made a shambles of San Angelo for the second straight time Wednesday night, administering a 13-0 licking to knock the Colts from first place.

Len Ruyle, Artesia right-hander, stopped the Colts on five.

Artesia obtained only nine hits off the combined pitching of Mario Saldana and Bill Ewen but these included a bases-loaded home run by Les Mulcahy in the sixth and a solo blast by Joe Calderon in the second.

For his eighth victory, Ruyle was seldom in trouble and when his wildness threatened to put him in the hole, his mates would come up with a double play. The Driller fielders offset five Ruyle walks with three twin killings.

The Colts aided the Driller cause with five errors, three of them against the usually reliable shortstop, John Jeandron.

The Drillers scored three times in the first inning on a walk, an error, a two-run single by Vince DiGiantamasso, a double by Joe Bauman and a wild pitch scoring DiGiantamasso. Calderon's homer made it 4-0 in the second and three more Driller runs crossed in the fourth on a single by Paul Halter, a double by Calderon and singles by Jackie Wilcox and Bill Haley.

The score: R H E Artesia 13 0 0 0—13 9 1 San Angelo 000 000 000—0 5 5 Ruyle and Mulcahy; Saldana, Ewen (7) and Briner.

Tide Water Extends Lead In City Softball

Continental gave Tide Water an assist and the front-runners took care of their own to widen the margin between the top clubs in the American League softball race Wednesday night.

Tide Water, in first, stretched its margin to two and a half games over third place Gulf with a 13-7 victory. And Southwestern Bell, the runner-up, skidded two games from first when Continental won 8-6.

Brown's double along with two walks, an error and a hit batsman helped Continental score four times in the second inning.

In the other American League game, Schlumberger came close but nevertheless missed, 8-7, in trying to win its first game of 15. Texaco prevailed.

Braves Enjoy Wide Margin Over Bums

By The Associated Press
 Maybe these hit-happy Milwaukee Braves made a secret excursion to Yankee Stadium on their last trip East.

Somewhere along the line they certainly stole a copy of the New Yorkers' private book on how to win pennants.

Applying the techniques described in the chapter "club 'em to death," the Braves mopped up their new stadium with the Philadelphia Phillies, 9-4, Wednesday night, and pulled a fat two and one-half games out in front of the rest of the National League.

Two and a half games doesn't sound like much when compared with the Yankees' tremendous 10 1/2 length advantage over Cleveland in the American League. But it has to qualify as a big lead in the senior circuit, where only one other time this season has the first-place team been that far ahead. That was way back on April 27 when the Phillies led the Chicago Cubs—yes, the same Cubs now occupying the cellar.

Wednesday night's victory came as the Cards again obliged by thumping Brooklyn, 9-3.

Chicago defeated Pittsburgh, 5-4, Wednesday night in 16 innings—longest game of the season in either league—and the New York Giants beat Cincinnati, 4-1.

The New York Yankees hit the winning trail again at the expense of the St. Louis Browns, who broke the New Yorkers' 18-game victory streak Tuesday night. The Yankees won, 5-3.

The Cleveland Indians outlasted the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6, to end a six-game losing run. The A's had won seven straight.

Boston smothered the Detroit Tigers, 17-1, and Walt Masterson threw a sparkling two-hitter at the Chicago White Sox to give Washington a 1-0 decision.

The Braves jumped away to a 7-0 lead over the Phils in the first three innings with an attack which included home runs by Joe Adcock and Del Crandall in the third. They let the Phils get within striking distance at 7-8, then pulled it out with a final two runs in the eighth.

The Cardinals, aided by a pair of doubles by Stan Musial and Steve Bilko's eighth homer, scored all their runs after two were out. The first came on four straight walks in the first inning by starter Johnny Podres, who had retired the first two men. Bilko homered with one on in the third and the Cards pushed five across in the seventh.

The marathon at Chicago ended when Randy Jackson singled with the bases loaded in the sixteenth off Johnny Hetki, who had held the Cubs scoreless since coming on in the ninth. The victory went to Turk Lown, who took over in the ninth when the Pirates tied the score with three runs.

Rookie Ruben Gomez, with help from reliable Hoyt Wilhelm, won his second game in a starting role for the Giants.

Billy Martin sparked the Yankees' return to form against the Browns with a perfect day at bat—three singles in three times up, driving in a pair of runs.

The closest contest was at Washington, where Masterson and the White Sox' Saul Rogovin both had one-hitters through seven innings.

Bill Wight and Art Houtteman, two newcomers from Detroit, came to the aid of Bobby Feller as Cleveland beat the Athletics. Feller couldn't hold a 6-2 lead and Wight took over in the fourth. Houtteman followed in the seventh with Wight getting the triumph, his first.

 Usually wooden shingles are applied over 1x2 strips 8" on center. The purpose of this is to allow air to circulate around the underside of the shingles thus preventing rot and decay... however, we seldom experience rotting in the shingles or peeling in West Texas due to the very dry climate, even when applied over solid decking.

A. R.
 Steel casement type windows are reasonably weather tight and are entirely satisfactory in most parts of the country but it is advisable to weatherstrip in West Texas. There are several ways by which you may make your casements weather tight... probably the most inexpensive and satisfactory is the neoprene strip which may be applied by anyone.

 Sir, I wish I could give you an answer to your question. As far as I know there is not any really satisfactory exterior stain for our area. The longest I have ever seen stain stay in good condition in Midland was two years. This was Cabots Creosote Stain. Duro enamel clear finish seems to be standing up well but only time will give us the answer.

McLendon Dares Majors To File Suit

DALLAS—(AP)—Gordon McLendon, who sued the major leagues for putting his radio chain out of business, defied them Thursday to stop his broadcast of baseball games over another chain. He dared them to go into court to prove he was "prating" the news.

The young radio announcer who built his "Liberty Broadcasting System" on major league baseball saw it crumble when he couldn't get contracts for broadcasting in the major league parks. He said the new chain—the Knickerbocker Network—with which he is affiliated was getting members "by the score."

It actually is the Knickerbocker Network against which the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers should have complained to the Federal Communications Commission Wednesday instead of the Trinity Broadcasting Corporation, of which he is vice president, McLendon said.

Those two major league clubs complained that Trinity Broadcasting Corporation was "prating" broadcasts and recreating them over stations KLPF in Dallas and station KLSB in Houston. The two clubs also charged that there was a "deceptive and misleading effort" to make the material sound like an eyewitness account from the park.

Castellani Unhappy Despite Decision

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Rocky Castellani, the winner, worried Thursday about his fallen prestige while Pierre Langlois, the loser, started a vacation.

"Here we are a couple of ranking middleweights and we looked like amateurs," Castellani lamented after their televised bout Wednesday night in Cleveland Arena.

Castellani, 158, ranked seventh in his class, won a split decision to avenge a close loss to Langlois, 160, in New York last February. But the American winner appeared as unhappy about the fight as the French loser.

Highest U. S. Court Again Ponders Rosenbergs' Fate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The government told the Supreme Court its extraordinary session Thursday it would have been laughed out of court if it had tried atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg under the Atomic Energy Act.

The tribunal was reconvened to hear arguments in the government's appeal from a stay of execution granted Wednesday by Justice Douglas. Douglas ordered Thursday night's scheduled execution of the husband and wife spy team delayed until courts can rule on whether they were tried under the right law.

Douglas said they perhaps should have been tried under the 1946 Atomic Energy Act instead of the 1917 Espionage Act and that therefore there were serious doubts as to the legality of the death sentence.

Robert Stern, acting solicitor general, told the nine justices that if the Rosenbergs had been tried under the Atomic Energy Act of course would have been thrown out of court so quickly the Justice Department would have become a "laughing stock."

Chief Justice Vinson called the court to consider a petition by Attorney General Brownell that they override the action Wednesday of Justice Douglas in granting a stay of execution to the husband and wife spy team.

In all its history, the court never before has been convened in special session for such a purpose.

If a majority agrees to overrule Douglas, the condemned atom spies could be put to death at Sing Sing Prison Thursday night as had been scheduled before Douglas issued his stay order or at any time before Saturday midnight.

The justices met in closed conference 15 minutes before the start of the public session.

Douglas' grant of a stay of execution touched off a rapid sequence of events Wednesday.

The Justice Department moved for a reversal, "as expeditiously as possible" but without "unseemly haste," of what Brownell termed an "unprecedented" action by the justice.

Vinson, within six hours after Douglas' decision was announced, called the justices back from the recess they had started Monday.

Execution Still Possible
Representative Wheeler (D-Ga) moved in the House to have Douglas impeached for "high crimes and misdemeanors" which he did not specify. His announcement that he

Jury To Determine Fate Of Homeless Dog Here June 29

A six-man justice court jury will decide on June 29 the fate of a little black-and-white pooch claimed by two Midland families.

The date was set Thursday by Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson, before whom E. W. Mason, on behalf of two of his children, filed suit for possession of the dog.

Leonard Howell, attorney for Mason, said he would be ready for trial on that date.

Hulon Brown, attorney for Ray Corley, who also claims the dog, said he would ask for a jury and Stephenson, breathing a sigh of relief, said he would grant the request.

The Masons asserted in their suit that the dog, now being held in the City Humane Shelter, is "Gyp," and is valued at $50. The Corleys claim the dog in reality is their own "Stinky" and valued by their four-year-old daughter, Rae Jean, at "at least $10,000."

others were trapped in the flames and we could do nothing."

The Air Force briefly grounded all Globemasters last Friday after the failure of small generator parts had caused fires in the engines of two planes. Most of the planes were out of service only a few hours.

Witnesses agreed the Globemaster was not afire when it hit the ground.

Field Work Starts On New Spraberry Gas Outlet Plan

Dirt and sparks are afloat in the Spraberry Trend Area this week. At least 136 men are at work welding and inspecting rigs and digging the multi-million dollar ditch for the Permian Basin Pipeline Company's $42,500,000 pipe and plant project—first in a series of Spraberry Area pipeline and plant construction programs.

First unit of the 285-mile Permian project now underway will find more than 180,000 feet of 24-inch line stretching from Permian's Plymouth compressor station (now under construction) to a similar Spraberry compressor station, also under construction.

Spokesmen for Permian and Northern Natural Gas Company set a pipe-laying speed of a mile and a half a day—when the pipe starts going underground.

At present, though, the pipe is being strung along the ditch, undergoing welding by crack workers, and feeling the probing eye of the pipeline x-ray.

In charge of the welding inspection is Bud Tawney, industrial radiographer from San Francisco, who, until this week, was working the line in Lea County, N. M. (lateral lines of which will join with the Midland-area spread at Denver City).

Three compressor stations are under construction in this area. In addition to the two previously mentioned, a new Pembroke station is under the hammer.

Phillips Petroleum Company also is building a new Permian gasoline plant near by. Approval of the El Paso Natural Gas Company application, now before FPC examiners, will pave the way for a Permian dehydration plant in the same area.

Permian officials are confident the already break-neck speed of their program will move to an ever higher tempo as more and more men are added and more and more pipe is strung and laid.

New Chinese Blows Shatter Short-Lived Lull On Battlefield

SEOUL—(AP)—South Korean troops, fighting viciously, lost and then won back two frontline positions on the east-central front Thursday.

Some 400 Chinese pushed the ROK's off steep, high Mt. Ridge, near Christmas Hill, at 6 a. m. The ROK's retook the height about noon. It has been the scene of bloody fighting the last few days.

Another 400 Chinese battled hand to hand with South Korean troops at a position south of Finger Ridge in midmorning, finally pushing the ROK's back. A few hours later the South Koreans won back the position in more close-range battling.

In the air, U. S. Sabre pilots destroyed four MIG's and damaged four others in swirling battles that ranged to tree-top heights along the Yalu River in far Northwest Korea.

A Red jab at Outpost Harry on the central front ended a short-lived lull across the 155-mile battlefield—a lull which appeared timed to agreement at Panmunjom on a demarcation line.

The stubborn Creek defenders threw back 3,000 Chinese and North Korean Reds in an hours-long, hand-to-hand battle.

Capital Takes Dim View Of Syngman Rhee's Action

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Thursday the South Korean government's release of many thousands of anti-Communist prisoners of war "was in violation of the authority of the United Nations Command."

Dulles said this after discussing the Korean situation with President Eisenhower and the National Security Council.

"I have been in conference with the President regarding the unilateral action taken by the Republic of Korea to release prematurely North Korean prisoners of war."

"This action was in violation of the authority of the United Nations Command to which the Republic of Korea had agreed."

"On behalf of the United Nations we have conducted our negotiations for an armistice in good faith and we have acted and are acting in good faith."

"President Eisenhower is communicating with President Rhee (of South Korea) in this sense."

The President had discussed the Korean prisoner situation with congressmen.

Situation Serious
Senator Bridges (R-NH), who joined the White House group, said the senators and Eisenhower "disapproved the seriousness of the situation," alluding to release of the prisoners.

Asked whether Eisenhower regarded the situation as serious, Bridges replied: "I couldn't say how he feels. I think it is a serious thing."

Asked whether the President had treated the situation lightly, Bridges said: "Oh no."

Asked whether Eisenhower had expressed any feeling that release of the prisoners might jeopardize an armistice in Korea, Bridges said: "He didn't say. We just discussed the seriousness of the thing as another angle complicating the situation."

It was plain the action of South Korean President Syngman Rhee in releasing the anti-Communist prisoners was a startling upset to officials here. The official hope had been that at the last minute Rhee would cooperate in carrying out truce terms.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, was accompanied to the White House by Senators Dirksen (R-Ill) and Magnuson (D-Wash).

Investigation Demanded
Dirksen and Magnuson have just returned from the Far East.

Asked whether he had brought any message to Eisenhower from Rhee, Dirksen said he had discussed the visit with the President "but I can't fill you in on any details."

About the time of the White House meeting Senator Hendrickson (R-NJ) suggested that the Senate Armed Services Committee should investigate "to determine the extent of American culpability in the case of the escaped prisoners."

He said that at a time when Rhee's opposition to truce plans was generally known "it would have been incredible for the American military command to permit lax prisoner safeguards with the truce delicately balanced on the prisoner repatriation issue."

"Many of us have qualms concerning the truce," Hendrickson said, "but as long as we are backing the political decisions, careful handling of an explosive situation should have been in order."

There was no mistaking the dismay at the development which was felt by top authorities here.

Switzerland Again Considers Changing Mind On Truce Role
BERNE, SWITZERLAND—(AP)—Swiss Foreign Minister Max Petitpierre said Thursday "new difficulties" in Korea may lead Switzerland to reconsider her willingness to serve on the projected neutral commissions to supervise a truce in the war-torn peninsula.

Petitpierre told the upper house of the Swiss Parliament the release of anti-Communist North Korean prisoners of war by South Korean officials "considerably changes the situation."

Petitpierre said Switzerland had agreed to serve with the understanding that all war prisoners in South Korea were under complete control of the UN Command.

Main Post Office To Change Hours

Starting July 1, the Main Post Office at 114 North Lorraine Street, will open its windows daily at 8:30 a. m. and close at 5:30 p. m. Postmaster N. G. Oates announced Thursday.

Window hours in the past were from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. the postmaster said. Only the registry window will stay open until 6 p. m. under the new schedule.

The money order window will open at 9 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. he added. All windows will continue to close at noon Saturday.

Oates explained that the new schedule was arranged after consultation with officials of the Chamber of Commerce merchants and businessmen. All agreed the plan will not hamper anyone.

Bridges Condition Continues Serious

Dan Bridges, who was placed in Midland Memorial Hospital June 10 for treatment for mania, depression and pneumonia, was reported Thursday still in serious condition.

Physicians say the man has responded somewhat to intravenous feeding and treatment but still is very weak. Officials said that he asked for a sister named Nellie Preston, saying she lives in Fort Worth. A check is being made by police to locate her.

Bridges has been unable to supply limited information about how long he had been in Midland.

Four Dig In Texas Pasture For $35,000,000 Treasure

ENNIS, TEXAS—(AP)—Thirty-five feet southwest of a gnarled old pecan tree, four men are digging with picks and shovels on Ernest Raphael's pasture in hopes they will find an iron chest buried 12 feet down containing gold bars worth $35,000,000.

They have reached between six and one-half and seven feet. As they dig in 100-degree heat, a fifth man sits nearby in a car studying a map he won't show anyone.

There is a legend that 2,000 pounds of gold bars are buried on Raphael's farm. Legend says the gold was mined near a mission at Santa Fe, N. M., and, in 1820, was dispatched to Galveston, to be shipped as a gift to the king of Spain. The gold supposedly was buried near this Central Texas town when Indians pursued the caravan.

Raphael has heard the legend since his childhood. When the men approached him early this week, he gave them permission to excavate.

The four digging are from Ennis. The man with the map is a stranger.

"They have an old map but they won't show it to me," Raphael said. "They say it was handed down from one of their ancestors."

"I don't think they'll find anything," Raphael said. "My wife thinks I'm kind of goofy to let them tear up my pasture."

But Raphael admitted he has signed an agreement—with a red-lead pencil on a piece of scratch paper—by which he'll get half of any treasure found.

Hobbs Barber Pleads Innocent In Slaying Of Levelland Man

CARLEBAD, N. M. —(AP)—A New Mexico barber accused of killing a member of a prominent Texas Panhandle family in a fist fight pleaded innocent Wednesday to a manslaughter charge.

Dick Ragdill, 36, of Hobbs, N. M., was charged in the death of Gene Holt, 28, of Phoenix, member of a prominent Levelland family.

Holt died in a Lubbock hospital of brain injuries after he and Mrs. Ragdill said the fight followed a highway incident 60 miles south of here.

A $2,000 bond was set for Ragdill. A hearing was set for July 6.

$300 Still Needed To Defray Expenses For Estes Journey

With the deadline but 12 days away, Midland's Community Ambassador Project is still $300 short of the $1,500 needed to send Dwan Estes, this year's envoy, to Yugoslavia for Summer study.

Estes, principal at San Jacinto Junior High, will leave July 1 for Ljubljana, Yugoslavia, where he'll live with an English-speaking family while he studies the habits, governmental system, school program and general life of that Communist (though anti-Kremlin) country.

Upon his return, he will be available for talks to Midland civic and social groups.

Individual contributions are being asked by project officials—as well as donations from Midland clubs (most of which already have contributed). Donations may be taken to the Chamber of Commerce offices or mailed to Herman Krevit, treasurer, at Box 182.

Rumors Say Georgi Malenkov Is Dead

BALTIMORE —(AP)—Col. Ullus Amos, who heads what is described as a private, world-wide intelligence service, said Wednesday night rumors are spreading in the satellite countries that Georgi Malenkov has been slain.

Amos stressed that the reports were only rumor, but told the Baltimore Sun "it is a verified fact that Malenkov has been incriminated for more than a month."

Amos was chief of the East European division of the Office of Strategic Services during the war.

Colonel Amos said the Russian premier has "not been heard, seen or heard from in the last 30 days."

Information from his agents in Eastern Europe indicate, Amos said, that rumors of Malenkov's death are based on unverified reports that the successor to Stalin was slain in a struggle for power among top Russian leaders.

He added that his reports indicate also that Stalin "did not die a natural death."

Amos believes "leaderless resistance" is spreading across Soviet lands.

He said he had information that the riots in East Berlin and Czechoslovakia at first were "stimulated" by the Communists to expose the wavering and thus set the stage for a purge.

He said the riots apparently got out of hand, showing that the workers and peasants actually are ready to rise against the Russians.

He expressed the opinion the revolt was ill-timed and premature because of its leaderless nature inside and also because of the lack of real leadership outside.

He said one factor is current instability behind the Iron Curtain was that the war in Korea has cost Russia and Red China more than they wanted to pay.

The prospector is to be drilled as No. 1-I University.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 7, block 7, University Lands survey. It is three and one-half miles northeast of production in the Hutex field.

It is one-half mile south of Anderson-Prichard and J. C. Barnes No. 1-E University, Devonian discovery now in the process of completing.

No. 1-I University is slated for tests of the Ellenburger.

Production was through open 2 1/2-inch tubing and from open hole between 1,675 feet where 7-inch casing was set and the total depth of 1,788 feet.

Top of pay was picked at 1,695 feet on elevation of 2,388 feet. Flow was natural. Tubing pressure was 24 pounds and pressure on the casing was 100 pounds.

The oil is coming from perforations opposite the San Andres at 4,440-60 feet which were treated with 3,000 gallons of acid and 2,000 gallons of fracture gel.

'Plain Citizen' Perle Mesta Ready To Swish Into Moscow

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram
Special Correspondent

LONDON, ENGLAND—It is doubtful that even the Russians can help from liking Perle.

Formerly, we had to call her Madam, when she was Minister to Luxembourg, but as the "Houses" pointed out here before flying off to Moscow, "I am just a plain American citizen now."

Warm as the Texas sun, the daughter of the late William Skirvin, well-known Southwestern oil magnate, exudes goodwill.

There's a cleverness about her which attracts to her circle of friends such notables as Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower, and a helplessness, "scatterbrain" femininity quality about her which somehow manages to be both amusing and appealing.

To see her off on her trip to Moscow, I dropped by her apartment here in London.

It is just across the street from the American Embassy, in Grosvenor Square, an area English call "Little America."

The butler let me in, and immediately announced his wife, Edna Camper, was from Dallas.

Flowers Every Place

Then Mrs. Mesta's sister, Mrs. George Tyson, greeted me, and led me into the living room, eloquently furnished, I noted, with the quiet dignity of off-white carpeting, marble fireplace and mahogany chest and tables.

Flowers were every place, like at a wedding reception, and Mrs. Tyson showed me immediately "some pretty things" . . . the painting of her granddaughter, Marguerite, five, done by an artist who signs himself "D.E."—the president, no less . . . and books, with kind inscriptions from the former President and the present one.

Truman had written in appreciation "of her good work" in his book, "Mr. President," and Eisenhower penned "with best wishes and affectionate regards from her devoted friend."

Then the former woman minister and Washington's most famed party-giver came forth, all ready for her trip.

Mrs. Mesta remarked on the coincidence that she used the same kind of camera as I.

Her bags were brought out. She had packed two large suitcases—(either of the larger ones I noticed was bigger than the one I have been living out of for the last nine months)—a hatbox bag and a smaller "traincase" bag, as it is called.

Then the trek to the London airport began, and I rode in a Daimler—well-known English car in the Rolls Royce class—along with the luggage to the airport. I almost imagined I had moogy.

Arrive By Bus

Mrs. Mesta, butler, maid, and Mr. and Mrs. Tyson followed in the Tyson's Cadillac, which along the way, stalled. Luckily, a large British Overseas Airlines Corporation bus passed along and gave them a lift.

At the airport, she met reporters and photographers and passed out "prepared statements" which, like most prepared statements, said nothing in particular, except a lot of things which go without saying.

She paid compliments to the British press present for printing "factual things," and told the men reporters present she was taking "only a couple" of bags. Men don't understand about hats and cosmetic cases, anyway.

She is taking both a Summer and Winter wardrobe, and while she was wearing a wool Parisian suit, with tan gloves and tan felt hat, and alligator bag, she was carrying along Summer things as well.

"The Russian ambassador in Paris said it might be rather warm there now," she said.

She was taking along not one but two cameras, and said she "wanted to see everything they

France Called Most 'Expensive' Country

PARIS—(AP)—France is one of the most expensive countries in the world, and here, from the newspaper, Le Figaro, are some examples of why:

Unloading of a cargo of coal from a 7,500-ton ship costs $1,000 in Holland, $1,700 in Belgium, and $3,200 in France. Automobile shock absorbers cost 600 francs in England, and 1,800 in France.

It takes 89 hours to make and assemble an English tractor, and the same process in France takes 136 hours. Raw sulphur costs 13,000 francs in Britain, 26,000 in France.

Nickel costs 375 francs in Canada, 450 in Germany and Britain, and 775 per kilogram in France.

Father's Day Really Mother's Day This Year

Joseph Sylvester Doskas, noted authority on anniversaries, dates, and historical events, states that the year 1953 should be noted for the fact that Father's Day could easily be Mother's Day, providing, of course, that mother really wanted to please her bitter half.

If mother is full of woe because poor father gets in such a terrible stew trying to cut the lawn with a hand (and whoever gave one of them that silly name, never tried to push one) mower, then she just ought to phone the store and say, "Send me one of those beautiful Jacobson Power Mowers, we want Pop to try out the power of mind over matter!"

Ah, mother, if you want to make HIS eyes sparkle, just give him a gift from Jacobson. With that delicious, form-fitting handle is nestled in his manly paw, when that horse and a half engine is purring so smoothly, when the grass flows out in great billows, when he has swapped struggle for stroll, then, and then only, will you know that it is really Mother's Day on Father's Day. The gratitude will be everlasting. And peace shall reign in the household forevermore.

COMING TO MIDLAND—The prettiest singers as well as the roughest rodeos are found west of the Pecos, as will be seen when the boosters advertising the annual "West of the Pecos" rodeo visit Midland at 1:35 p.m. Friday. Ellen Jane Maris, pictured, is one of the attractive vocalists making the tour with a band and large number of Pecos residents boosting the rodeo. This year's show will run July 2-3-4-5.

GAS IS OUT IF YOU'RE OILED

SACRAMENTO, CALIF. —(AP)—Highway Patrol Commissioner Bernard Caldwell declared service stations should not sell gasoline to drunken drivers. "I would like a law," he said, "to make it unlawful to serve anyone who's drunk—with fuel."

Youth Center Chatter

By NANCY LOU KLINGLER

Everyone seems to be enjoying the summer very much. Many are out of the city at various places. We will try to let you know where everyone is and what they are doing. Barbara Whitson is in California with her grandparents. She will be back next week. Jessie and Ethylene Pierce aren't around anymore. Have you missed them? They moved to Fort Sulphur La. We heard they live half a block from the Louisiana River. Pretty close, isn't it? Have you met Carolyn Tapp? She is visiting Betty Figdor, and is from Lubbock. While down at the Youth Center, it seemed as though Fifi Fryor and Betty Sivalls knew a lot of people that she knew. Wonder where Sadie Nugent and Grace Boles have been spending most of their time? Couldn't be out at a golf driving range, could it? Quite a few teenagers may be found out there during the hours it is open. Fred Gist seems to be staying out there quite a bit. Wonder why?

Myrt went to the Texas Tech Exes picnic and barbecue Tuesday night. There seemed to be a lot of his old buddies out there and he sure did enjoy seeing everyone again. Lots of Midlanders attended. Successful Dance The dance last Saturday night went off just like a regular Bulldog Stomp should. Everyone had one big time. There will be no dance this weekend. Sam Van Landingham seems to be the "hand me out gum man" around the Youth Center. Poor Sam, everytime we see him he is giving away gum. Fifi Fryor and Betty Sivalls are going to Lubbock for the DeMolay Conclave. Fifi is the State DeMolay Sweetheart. Betty is the Midland DeMolay Sweetheart. Jouella Ford is visiting Gayle Olliam. Jouella is from Lubbock. She and Gayle are cousins. Sandra McMath is far away from us. Yes, Sandra is in New York visiting or maybe we should say vacationing.

Lanetta Early and Donald Johnson seemed to be having a good time while playing ping pong the other night. Donald was doing a few stunts and that didn't seem to be bothering Lanetta. Don't know who won? Buddy McDonald and Frank Midkiff have returned from a visit in Arkansas. They were visiting their aunt. Their grandmother accompanied them on the trip. Glad to see Timmy Cornwall and Teddy Kerr around lately. They graduated from WMMI in Roswell, N. M. early this month. YG picture shows are not being scheduled for the time being. During the summer they don't seem to go very well, so we will let you know when they are going to start again. The top ten in the ping pong tournament are listed as follows: Jimmy Claiborne, Sean Van Landingham, David Shoemaker, John Crowley, Fashion Howard, Snookie Roberts, Don Roderick, Bertie Sorrells, Tom Spencer and Addison Young. They may not end up that way, but they are the top ten at the present time and in order. Seemed as though Gene Schaffer was having trouble outside the other night about someone being in his car. Wonder what the trouble could have been? Benny Bedford was seen in Lubbock last week. Benny said he had some business to attend to. What was the business? Robert Payne is attending the University of Texas Summer School. Raymond Leggett, Roy Kinsey, Randall Gibson, Pat Douglass and Stanley Krist get up bright and early every morning and journey west to Odessa College where they attend Summer school. Phillip Hubbard has been visiting the Frick's in Corpus Christi. He left with them and is enjoying himself very much. Sure did hate to see the Frick's go back to Corpus. The American Legion's three baseball teams still are going as strong as ever. Two of the teams seem to be playing almost every afternoon. Why don't you come out to Borden Field and watch them? Balmorhea Attracts Them Ronnie Rome, Carol Garrison, Glenda McNeal, Bill Leonard, Frances Inman, Harold Wallace, Sadie Nugent, Grace Boles, Shirley Pulliam, Betty Bolton, Robert Kelsling, Barbara Cline, Jimmy Adams, Al Cole, Mary Jane Miller and gobs of others were seen at Balmorhea Sunday. The M. Y. F. members went down there last Sunday. Dick Spencer went fish-hunting but wasn't able to get down where they were. He sure tried hard but couldn't make it. He even said he saw a shark down at the bottom. Those of you who are from now on, beware of the shark. Some making the trip were Anna Best Doyle, Dick Spencer, Phillip McFadden, James Wolf, Jackie Mathews, Janice Hill, Rex Greenstreet, Nancy Guyton, Deneva Merrell, Robinette Curry, Gloria Hicks, Billy Jewell, Barbara Tom, Neill Sutton, Stanley Putnam, Tom Spencer, Jean Waddill, Jane Umberston, Joe Gates, Barbara Wilson, Carol Ann Wilkerson, Dwayne Chestnut, Carol Fitting, Vernon Carpenter, Baird Neivel and others. Next week we will be in Galveston attending Grand Assembly Order of the Rainbow for Girls. There will be about 25 or more from Midland attending. Joan Fitzgerald again will take over for us next week while we are gone. See you week after next.

Plain Citizen—

(Continued From Page One) want me to see." She had told the ambassador in Paris she would like in particular to see some steel plants and he had answered: "Why not?" Her late husband, George Mesta, she told the press, was founder and president of a company bearing his name, which produced the largest machinery in the world, and so she knew the steel industry—and was interested in it. In answer to his reporter's question, Mrs. Mesta stressed she would pay her own way all along the trip—all transportation and hotel expenses, she pointed out, would be borne by her, although she is an "invited" guest to the U. S. S. R. She is taking American travelers' cheques with her. In Moscow, she said she knew only the American ambassador, the wife of the Netherlands' ambassador and "one or two in the Embassy." Although drinks were passed around at the press conference which preceded her flight, Mrs. Mesta refused. And she did not even allow a glass of ginger ale to appear near her when pictures were taken. "Ginger ale is my favorite drink, though," she smiled. "And vodka?" I asked. "Will you be drinking any vodka?" "I should say not," she answered. As she boarded the PAA plane and it disappeared into the clouds for Helsinki her sister commented: "I wish she were safely back, that she were returning now instead of just leaving." Then noticing the reporters, she added: "Well, you know I worry . . . about her flying."

WASH WOODENWARE

Woodenware — chopping bowls, rolling pins, pastry boards, mixing spoons—should be washed promptly with a well-soaped dishcloth or brush. Never immerse or soak wood utensils. After rinsing, wipe well, and allow to dry in the air before putting them away.

SODA GOOD CLEANSER

For cleansing and polishing glassware such as tumblers, vases, candlesticks, bowls, and pitchers, rub with a paste made of baking soda and water. A small dampened brush will help you to apply the paste in the ridges and to remove resistant spots. Rinse and dry.

POLISH GLASSWARE

To make glassware sparkle, wash it in a solution of three tablespoons of baking soda per quart of warm water. Get into crevices of cut glass with a soft brush dipped in a thin paste of baking soda and water. Rinse in very hot water and dry thoroughly.

Texas Drouths Spur New Congressional Interest In Logical Rain-Making Plans

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Purchasing drouths in Texas and the Southwest are producing a new interest in Congress in the possibilities of artificial rain-making.

The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill to create a nine-member committee to study and evaluate public and private experiments in weather modification.

The committee would be composed of five private individuals appointed by President Eisenhower and the Cabinet members heading the defense, agriculture, commerce and interior departments. The private citizens would be paid $50 a day while engaged in the study, plus expenses.

Rep. Homer Thornberry of Austin is a member of the House Commerce Committee which is considering the measure.

He is for the bill. "I want to emphasize first," he says, "that this legislation does not propose to authorize any big rain-making projects or experiments. Subject Justifies Study

"It recognizes the subject as one that justifies study.

"Ordinarily, I would be against setting up a new investigating committee, but the cost involved here would be inconsequential compared with the possible benefits that could result."

Thornberry said a report of the Senate Interior Committee showed the need for the proposed study.

"Non-scientific and pseudo-scientific rainmakers have been practicing their art for many years with many fantastic and far-fetched devices and theories," the report said. "The general public has, justifi-ably, regarded these efforts with skepticism.

"However, in recent years, particularly since 1948, some genuinely scientific experiments in weather modification have been made with highly suggestive results; and, though these experiments have been conducted by responsible persons with established scientific reputations, the results have been the subject of controversial interpretations.

Makes Clarifying Statements
"Because of doubts and controversy surrounding these experiments, your committee deems it advisable to make several clarifying statements on the subject, based primarily on information developed during the hearings:

"1. It appears certain that, given the proper conditions, rainfall can be artificially induced. Rain cannot be produced from non-moisture-bearing skies, but, if the proper weather quantities of moisture and temperature are available, nucleating or seeding agents can be introduced into clouds to cause precipitation . . .

"2. Rainmaking is a big business. In 1951 one rain-making contractor alone had under contract over 300 million acres in the United States, or about 12 times as many acres as those under irrigation in the nation . . .

"3. If practical, weather control promises tremendous benefits for a small investment. Research work in the field involves no test plants or production facilities and very little expensive equipment . . . The seeding agents, carbon dioxide and silver iodide, are inexpensive, yet when used in small quantities they apparently produce weather phenomena of the highest magnitude." Extra Rain's Result

The report here explained that an inch of extra rain, converted into runoff and concentrated into a reservoir, can produce electric power worth hundreds of thousands of dollars; that a small fraction of an inch of extra rain, falling on crops during the period of germination, can greatly increase crop yields, and that artificial nucleation might be used to increase snowpack in mountains so as to hold back runoff and reduce soil erosion, and may even have possibilities for inhibiting hail or breaking up hurricanes and storms, and cutting holes in clouds for planes wanting to land.

"4. Weather-control activities may have far-reaching and catastrophic effects . . . Your committee feels that studies on this aspect of the subject should be continued so that, if necessary, the public can be protected against weather catastrophes brought about unannually.

"The object of the present bill is to find out who is doing what—under what conditions and with what results." Farmers and ranchers have been investing millions of dollars in weather-control experiments. The scientific value to the public of these private experiments will be largely lost if an independent and impartial evaluating agency cannot be set up in the near future."

Unbiased Analysis Due
The Senate committee said the group which would conduct the study should be able to give an unbiased analysis since it would disband after submitting its report. The committee observed that if the U. S. Weather Bureau made the study, it might be criticized as wanting to expand operations, from a selfish standpoint, if it recommended weather modification projects.

Actually, the Weather Bureau has been accused of throwing cold water on the idea of creating artificial rain.

Sen. Price Daniel recently received such a complaint from a Texan who said he had served as an Air Force navigator in World War II and felt he was qualified to speak on the subject. The senator forwarded the complaint to Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the Weather Bureau. Daniel declined to identify the complaining constituent, but he made public

Reichelderfer's reply, which said, in part: "The Weather Bureau has never said that the artificial inducement of precipitation is impossible or not feasible, but only that extensive research appeared to be necessary before the practicable possibilities could be determined with reasonable certainty and exactness . . .

"We are still continuing to carry on research in some of the fundamental questions related to cloud physics, including some additional experiments in cloud seeding . . . "Commercial operations are, perhaps from necessity, conducted as if cloud seeding definitely worked and not for the purpose of trying to determine if it is, in fact, effective."

The matter of setting up the proposed study now is up to the House. The Senate in the last Congress passed a similar bill, but the House failed to act.

LAST OF THE IRON HORSES—The last of Texas and Pacific Railway's famed fleet of 70 Texas-type steam locomotives—"600's" as they were called—followed the wooden coach and pot-bellied depot stove out late in May when welders with cutting torches at Marshall stripped and cut up No. 650, the last Iron Horse on the railroad. Shown above before it's "death" is 650. This locomotive and its fellow rail forces were some of the largest and most powerful ever to be operated on American railroad. The railway has switched to diesel powered rail traffic.

Milk Production In Midland Area Holds To Records

There has been no noticeable decrease in local milk production, said H. B. Schauer, general manager of Borden Company in Midland, following the announcement of a 5.53 per cent decrease in production from April to May in the Central West Texas Milk Marketing Association's area.

If there has been any decrease it has been so slight as to be unnoted, said Schauer. Milk production hits a peak about April every year, then declines slowly and naturally as warmer weather comes on.

There is still a surplus of milk in the area, he said, caused mainly by milk being brought here from points east such as Dallas.

The butter situation doesn't mean much to Midland dairymen, Schauer said, because no butter is made here commercially. Any extra cream the Borden Company gets from Grade A producers goes into ice cream rather than butter.

LETTER FROM LONDON

'Room For One More' Even In Coronation Metropolis

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram
Special Correspondent

LONDON, ENGLAND—There always is room for one more.

That is a conclusion I have made after traveling over Europe for several months—always without hotel reservations.

Everyone has his method and means of travel.

Most people obtain schedules, airplane or train tickets, and hotel accommodations far in advance.

Such a method gives some a sense of security—but it only prompts a feeling of restraint in others.

With advance reservations you must do what your schedule—not your mood—dictates.

Actually, travel conditions and hotel accommodations never are as crowded as the average traveler makes them out to be.

Just to prove this theory, I came to London without a hotel reservation—during the coronation period.

Choice Of Rooms

Immediately, I had a choice of several rooms.

After my arrival here, I obtained a ticket for the coronation—something most far-sighted Americans had booked months in advance, and had paid in some cases a hundred times the price I paid.

Most American visitors paid big prices for their hotel rooms, too.

Since my arrival here, I have stayed in three different rooms—until I found the exact location I wanted—and the highest price I paid was $7 a night. This included breakfast.

Don't let anyone tell you it is impossible to get a room in New York, Paris or London. There always are rooms available.

And the reason Americans pay big prices is that in most cases they demand to do so.

If London already has had its darkest hour, this period surely must have been its wettest.

Cold, penetrating rain left visitors in Summer dress a little miserable.

And when one asks a native: "When is Summer coming?" He likely will hear:

"Oh, Summer? Remember, the sun was out last Wednesday? Well, that was our Summer. It's already over."

A schedule of coronation parties here began for me with an invitation to a garden party given by the U. S. Ambassador and Mrs. Winthrop Aldrich—a most proper affair.

I wore my new, combination silk coat—which a saleslady in Munich had promised: "This is so chic . . . it's a raincoat but no one would EVER know it . . . it looks so much like a dresscoat."

Entering the ambassador's mansion, I felt the dignity of the place envelope me, and sensed one of those tall, proper butlers—of the type one always sees in the movies—bending down and asking for my name, which he called out in a loud voice.

Next, the ambassador, a man with an ear phone (and one felt shrewd enough to doubt as to whether he had it on or off) was shaking my hand . . . and then Mrs. Aldrich gave me a hearty welcome, and announced in tones loud enough for all the fur-coated females present:

"How SENSIBLE . . . Someone has worn a raincoat!"

For an hour or so, I mingled then with such celebrities as Douglas Fairbanks and Gen. Omar Bradley, and a hundred or so diamond-studded, mink-laden ladies.

Champagne was passed around by dozens of waiters. Also available were a wide assortment of libbils, and bowls of strawberries, each the size of your two thumbs.

Everyone went out to the garden. And then it started to rain. My "sensible" coat felt pretty good at that.

When I first heard Mary Martin's record, which she made with her son, Larry Hagman—as sort of a follow-up to Bing's recorded singing with his son—I imagined Larry to be a little boy—15 to 16 at the most.

But when I met Larry here I got a jolt.

He's a tall, handsome, grown-up—with several years of theater experience back of him already.

It is difficult to imagine the slender, singing star from Weatherford, Texas, having a boy in his 30s, but then American stage and screen stars these days have the secret of perennial youth.

When I talked with Larry at the Air Force base near London where he now is stationed as an airman in charge of entertainment for servicemen, he was happy over the arrival of a two-page, single-spaced typewritten letter signed "Mom."

He read me parts of it, in which his mother told of her recent trip with her husband, Richard Halliday, to Jamaica and Cuba and how they had taken their Rolls Royce over dangerous passes and narrow roads only to get it smashed when it was unloaded off a ship at Houston.

Larry, Mary Martin's son by her marriage to Texas Attorney Ben J. Hagman, was born in Fort Worth, went to school in Weatherford where he had four of the same teachers who had instructed his mother.

The Texas star also has two other children, Gary Hagman, 12, and Heller Halliday, 11.

Miss Martin's portrayal of "Nelie" in the musical "South Pacific" was considered the longest and most popular role ever sung in recent decades in either New York or London.

When the Weatherford girl is presented in a new play—her first straight dramatic role—to be called "Kind Sir" and starring Charles Boyer, Larry will fly back to the states to see the opening. It will be presented September 21 in New Orleans, later will move on to Broadway.

"I didn't know it," Larry related, "but Mom just told me recently I had royalties coming in from that record I made with her, and she asked me if I didn't want to use the money to buy some shares in her new play.

"I said 'sure.' Well, what else could I say?" he joked.

Now, he continued, he had to go to the states to see if he approves of the production.

"Got to protect my investment," he added.

Young Hagman acted during the Winter of 1950 in Margo Jones' Theater in Dallas, appearing in "My Granny Van" and "Cockle Doodle Dandy."

A sister of Miss Martin's, Mrs. R. R. Andrews, resides in Fort Worth.

Crane Cases Set For Trial

CRANE—District Judge G. C. O'Connell recently set six cases to be heard here in the July term to begin at 10 a.m. Monday, July 6.

He stated that since the docket load of the district court has grown only because the attorneys do not get their cases ready for trial, no agreement of counsel to continue or pass a case can be approved by the court.

Attorneys have been advised that cases to be dismissed are requested to have motions for dismissal filed and order of dismissal entered at the earliest date.

Also notice in advance of these settings is given so as to enable attorneys to have any physical examinations made, and deposition taken of any and all litigants and witnesses, including doctors, prior to the time of trial.

Cases not heard during the week automatically will continue to the week beginning July 13, subject to the criminal docket.

Don't Sandbag Dad With Odd Presents

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Father's Day is on the horizon, and already fathers are feeling sheepish about it. They are not sure whether they like a day in their honor. At least they pretend to feel this way.

"It just means I will be sandbagged by all those old presents I escaped last Christmas—the strange gifts women think men yearn for," said one father. "And, naturally, I'll have to take the whole tribe out to dinner, pick up the check—and pay later the bills for the gimicks mama and the kids gave me."

Father is not used to being a hero in this civilization, even for a day. It is a big different with Mother's Day. Motherhood is a symbol of lonely heroism in any age, and a truce symbol. But for some reason nobody, so far as I know, has ever built a statue to "the pioneer father."

There should be such a statue. If I designed it, it would be a tired, patient old bull, the wrinkles of muscled duty showing in his fly-bitten shoulders, as he bent his horns down to protect his mate and brood against the wolves of life and time.

I have never been a father. But my dad was, and a good one. My dad was a coal miner's son and came up rough and strong. He married young, sired four sons quickly, and later a sweet surprise—a daughter, my sister, Dolores. She was the blessing of his later days, and he wore his heart to silence by hard work at 48. Boys are a lot of trouble to a father. But a daughter is a comfort. A boy begins to be a man at five, and to pull within himself and be stubborn, and make his father feel his years. But a daughter restores her dad forever, protecting with her love the yearning for youth he needs.

There must be millions of Americans who on this Father's Day will recall warmly the dad who isn't there to praise. This is the flower of memory I would plant upon my own one's grave:

"Life may not have given you what you wanted. But you are not forgotten, after these years, by those you created—and stood by. If I were a dad I could only ask I might be as fine a one as you were. One of your sons, speaking for all of your children."

'Retirement' For Finance Executive Means New Job On White House Staff

By SIGRID ARNE
WASHINGTON—(AP)—There's nothing in Roger Steffan's smile to tell you that, but for one thing, he'd be relaxing on a California fruit ranch today. That thing was President Eisenhower's election.

So instead of going into retirement, he became business manager of the White House offices, and one of Ike's top aides.

Until last year he was vice president of one of the biggest banks in the country—New York's National City Bank. For 17 years he has been preparing the perfect retirement spot, his exotic ranch. He planned to quit last year. Then he was tapped for the White House staff.

"So here I am, over 60, with a new job," he says, his eyes twinkling. "I'm not sure it's a promotion. I have to get here at 8 a.m.—and I'm a slow shaver. That means I have to get up now at the same hour I did on my first job—8:30 a.m.—when I helped my father in his grocery store at Osborn, Ohio.

Steffan arrived at the White House two weeks before the inauguration to get straight just what people would be on his payroll. He wanted to see how he could cut the cost of operating the White House. President Eisenhower is looking at costs so carefully that he has laid up the presidential yacht Williamsburg.

Work On His Hands
Ruefully, Steffan says "So far we haven't cut much of the costs. We have cut some in the correspondence division. We're getting along with fewer people, even though the mail jumped 146 per cent when President Eisenhower took office and he wants every letter answered within 36 hours. We did it by cutting the length of the answers we send out."

Steffan says he kept key people in the lower ranks, receptionists, secretaries, seasoned filing clerks, because "we had to be sure of a smooth turnover."

On a table near his desk are large floor maps of the White House offices. They keep Steffan posted where everyone works and where there is an extra square foot of space. President Eisenhower wanted his top aides near him, which meant some crowding compared to Truman days.
