Gulf-Stanolind Have Completed Discovery In Crane Ellenburger

Gulf Oil Corporation and Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1-2H Gulf-Stanolind - State, Northeast Crane County deep wildcat has been completed from the Ellenburger for a 24-hour potential of 355.99 barrels of 42.3 gravity oil and 7.94 barrels of basic sediment and drilling water.

The flow on the completion test was through a one-half inch choke on tubing. The gas-oil ratio was 1,973-1.

The production was from perforated section in the Ellenburger at 11,800-935 feet. That interval had been treated with 1,000 gallons and 2,000 gallons of acid.

Location is 1,871 feet from north and 800 feet from east line of section 2, block 30, University survey. It is nine and one-half miles north of the town of Crane and three-quarters of a mile east of the shallow Dune field.

This wildcat had flowed oil from the Tubb-Permian, from the Wadell-Simpson, and from the Connell-Simpson.

Operators have not reported whether or not either of the upper pays sections will be produced in this discovery at this time.

Total depth is at 12,012 feet. The 7-inch casing is cemented on bottom. The lower section of the Ellenburger made water. The zone is plugged off with cement.

More Strawn Pay Is Found On DST In Crockett Area

Continental Oil Company No. 3-C Harris, wildcat in Northwest Crockett County, developed more pay on a drillstem test in the Strawn lime from 8,140 to 8,187 feet.

Tool was open 53 minutes. Gas surfaced in five minutes, mud in 21 minutes, and oil in 31 minutes. Tool was closed after well had flowed by heads 22 minutes. There was no gauge or estimate on the oil flow. Gas was at the rate of 2,047,000 cubic feet per day.

Recovery was 1,590 feet of oil and no water.

Flowing pressure was 1,850 pounds. Operator was to core ahead.

No. 3-C Harris found its first pay in the Strawn on a drillstem test from 8,970 to 8,147 feet. The project flowed gas at the rate of 1,405,000 cubic feet daily. Recovery was 90 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud, 330 feet of distillate and 90 feet of oil and gas-cut mud.

Location is 12 1/2 miles south of Texas and 1,800 feet south and east lines from the most easterly south-east corner of section 4, block BB-2, Francis Borden survey.

Indicated Devonian Discovery In Ward Is To Set Casing

Lucas & Co. of Dallas is preparing to set 5 1/2-inch casing at 6,706 feet at its No. 1-A J. O. Britton for completion as a Devonian gas-distillate discovery in Southeast Ward County.

Completion will be in open hole to 6,888 feet, total depth.

Operator took a three-hour drillstem test of a lime section from 6,805 to 6,799 feet. Gas came to the surface in one and one-half hours. Volume was estimated at 2,000,000 cubic feet per day.

Flowing pressure was 3,360 pounds and 15-minute shutin pressure was 3,110 pounds.

Subsequent test from 6,799 to 6,888 feet showed gas at the surface in one minute. Gas volume was not estimated, but distillate production amounted to 11 1/2 barrels per 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Top of the Devonian was picked at 6,705 feet, minus datum point of 4,281 feet.

Location of No. 1-A Britton is 700 feet from southeast lines of section 6, block 32, H&TC survey and two miles south of Grandfalls.

Humble Is To Drill Ellenburger Tester In Andrews Area

Humble Oil & Refining Company has staked location for a 13,500-foot Ellenburger in Southeast Andrews County as its No. 1-T University.

Drillsite is 600 feet from north and 1,800 feet from east lines of section 27, block 1, University survey and one and one-half miles southwest of the 7,100-foot Leonard line discovery in the South Andrews pool.

That makes it three and one-half miles southwest of the Northeast Midland Farms field which is the (Continued On Page 16)

Ken Regan Offers Meat-For-Aid Plan As Drouth Measure

Rep. Ken Regan, who Wednesday flayed aid opposition by "big operators," has come up with a "slaughter—but save" program which, he said Thursday, will aid drouth-crippled cattlemen in West Texas and at the same time be felt around the world.

Regan, who is completing a tour of this district to inspect the drouth situation, would trade "meat aid" for "dollar aid" to famine areas in foreign countries.

"No, by all means, no—don't kill the cattle and bury them as was done in 1934," the congressman almost shouted. "What I suggest is this:

"The government, in my eyes, is justified in buying 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 distressed cattle at a reasonable price, slaughtering them, canning the meat, and sending that meat to such countries as India and other famine areas.

Actual Dollar Saving
"Actually, it would mean a saving in aid. We spend billions of dollars a year in foreign aid—buying things for those countries. Why couldn't we ship the products (at a saving of millions) thus firming the meat market in the United States, giving the cattlemen a chance and taking care of our problems?"

Regan told a reporter Thursday he has been in close contact with Chairman Clifford Hope (R-Kan.) of the House Agricultural Committee and had urged adoption of the slaughter-and-save program.

"Hope, being from Kansas, knows the problems of West Texas," the congressman pointed out. "He's been close to the problems.

"Hope and his group are meeting Thursday to try to work out a satisfactory aid program. He has been in touch with the Department of Agriculture, the Bureau of the Budget and President Eisenhower, all of whom are working with him and the nation in this crisis."

Conference Plans Set
Agriculture Department officials completed plans for special conference Friday with representatives of the livestock and meat retailing industries and of farm credit agencies to get their ideas on what private and governmental agencies should do.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who will speak Saturday at the Cotton Congress in Lubbock, is making a tour of the drouth area—and a decision of governmental action is not expected until the farm chief has returned to Washington.

Measures, other than Regan's plan, that have been suggested include:

1. Emergency feed supplies at cut-rate prices;
2. Expansion of emergency credit facilities; and
3. Financial aid for affected farmers shipping cattle to areas where there is grass.

Cash Grants Considered
Plans for surplus feeds at reduced prices have brought a word of caution from Undersecretary of Agriculture True Morse, who said there is a question as to whether the department should do that. Such action, he said, could interfere with price support program operations for the affected feeds.

The limited, however, that cash grants might be made available so cattlemen could buy feeds at prevailing prices.

The department is counting heavily on getting retailer help in promoting greater consumption of beef to put cattle prices on a firmer basis (Continued On Page 12)

Red Chinese Launch Heavy New Attacks

SEOUL —(AP)—The Chinese Communists unleashed a 11,000-man drive Friday on the Korean front, throwing an estimated division into one attack alone on the northern approaches to Seoul.

The attacks, breaking a day-long lull Thursday on the war's third anniversary, started behind violent artillery barrages. The attacks boiled up both in the West and on the east-central front.

Confused reports said up to a division of Chinese Reds hit the western front Thursday night west of Yonchon.

A U. S. officer with the South Koreans said the Chinese attack was supported by an estimated 40,000 rounds of artillery fire. Fighting went on in the early morning hours.

Another 3,000 Chinese struck on the east-central front, where a Red drive last week pushed a bulge two miles deep in the Allied lines.

The Chinese apparently still are throwing the big attacks at South Korea's Army. South Korea violently opposes an armistice and Communists at Panmunjon have said the Red attacks were to "teach the South Koreans a lesson."

Total road deaths for the year stood at 890, compared with 946 a year ago.

Ike's Envoy Seeks Showdown In Talks With Syngman Rhee

SEOUL —(AP)—President Eisenhower's personal envoy meets President Syngman Rhee Friday in a last-ditch effort to persuade him to accept a Korean armistice. Rhee showed no sign of yielding.

The fiery old South Korean leader demanded a "showdown with the Communists now" to the cheers of thousands of rallying South Koreans Thursday just before Walter Robertson flew in on a hurried trip from Washington.

The U. S. State Department's Far East chief said a split between South Korea and its Allies now would mean victory only for the Communists. He carried a secret, urgent message for Rhee.

As Robertson spoke, the ruffled Dr. J. H. Chapple, former Midland physician, received a warm welcome Wednesday afternoon as he and Mrs. Chapple arrived from their California home for a visit here.

As they reached the western city limits, firemen reported, their automobile caught on fire.

They managed to save some of their luggage although a quantity of clothing and the automobile itself was heavily damaged by the blaze, City Fire Marshall W. E. Klatt reported.

Dr. Chapple received slight burns on his hands.

Final Supreme Court Order On Spraberry Shutin Due Tuesday

AUSTIN —(AP)—The deadline for filing motions for rehearing in the Spraberry flare gas case in the Supreme Court is Thursday midnight.

Rehearing motions for clarification of the decision have been filed.

The decision struck down the Railroad Commission's field-wide shutdown order, which attempted to halt flaring of casinghead gas. It will not become final until these motions are disposed of by the court.

Court action on the motions is expected not later than Tuesday.

The decision of June 10 said the commission had no right to shut in non-wasteful wells as part of its attempt to prevent gas flaring in the big Spraberry field in West Texas. The commission had said the shutdown of non-flaring as well as flaring oil wells was designed to prevent unfair drainage.

The court said since part of the commission order was invalid, the entire order had to fall.

Until the Supreme Court decision becomes final, the status of the Spraberry field remains as ordered by the district court: non-flaring operators can produce; flarers cannot produce their oil wells.

The plight of cattle raisers was described by Claude McCann of Victoria, representing the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and R. J. Nunnally, a Uvalde County farmer. They were introduced by Jack Porter, Republican committee man for Texas.

Slaughter Program Favored
McCann said most cattlemen favor a program providing for government purchase and slaughter of some cattle in the distressed areas. Lower-priced feeds and emergency credit.

Cattlemen believe government purchase of cattle would strengthen prices and encourage many farmers to continue in the business, even if on a limited scale, he said. Otherwise, he added, most would be forced to dump cattle on the market "and go to the wall financially."

McCann and Nunnally emphasized that if cattlemen are to stay in business, even on a reduced scale, something must be done to restore prices which they said have fallen as low as six cents a pound for live cattle. A year ago cattle were averaging almost 30 cents a pound.

Low Pressure Hits Western Edges Of City

Voluntary water rationing for hundreds of families in low-pressure areas in the extreme western edge of Midland was urged Thursday after water consumption Wednesday soared to a new record-breaking level.

"We are requesting all residents living west of Powell Street and south of Illinois Street to withhold lawn-sprinkling during the period between 5 p.m. and 9 p.m.," said City Manager W. H. Oswalt.

The area includes all of Permian Estates, where hundreds of residents have reported little or no water pressure, even for household uses, in the late afternoon and early evening.

The request from the city manager came after H. E. Nunn, city water and sewer engineer, reported that 14,130,000 gallons of water were pumped Tuesday, topping the previous day's record by a quarter of a million gallons.

Nunn pointed out that the water consumption was almost exactly double the peak 7,032,000 gallons used on the biggest day in 1948—July 20.

Water Level Drops
The record water use Wednesday left the elevated storage tank on Powell Street at a low level of 38 feet.

Oswalt pointed out that water use in the major portion of the city—all areas east of Powell Street—would have little effect on the pressure in the areas west of Powell Street.

"While many of the homes west of Powell Street have adequate water pressure," said the city manager, "the amount of water used by them directly affects the pressure in areas to the west of and north, where the elevation is higher."

The water-pressure problem in this area will continue through the summer during the time heavy demands are made on the water system.

New Tank Planned
But, when the proposed 1,000,000-gallon storage tank is constructed during the winter, the low-pressure problem will be licked, Oswalt asserted.

The city manager explained that when the contract for the construction of the tank was awarded last fall, Permian Estates was just in the beginning stage of development.

The new tank, which will be 100 feet from the ground, will be constructed west of the Permian Estates.

In explaining the low-pressure problem, Oswalt said the surface elevation of the Powell Street storage tank is 2,840 feet while Permian Estates reaches a peak elevation of 2,855 feet.

Booster Station May Help
So when the 60-foot tank is filled, the level of the water is only 90 feet above the high point of the development. When the level falls to 38 feet—as it did Wednesday, there is only 28 feet of water in the tank to provide static pressure for the Permian Estates distribution system.

"With the heavy drain on the distribution system," the city manager said, "this is not adequate for maintaining proper pressure in that area."

While the problem can not be solved completely until the new storage tank is constructed, the completion of the booster pump station at McKillion Field should alleviate the situation.

The last of three pumps at the station is expected to arrive here within the next few days.

Limited Heat Relief Looms For Midland

A weak cool front pushing towards Midland from the northwest possibly may bring light rains or thunder-showers to the area, CAA weathermen at the Midland Air Terminal, said Thursday.

They warned against optimism but did say it's the first break of any kind in the record June heat wave in Texas. The temperature at Amarillo, which soared to a record 108 Wednesday, had dropped to 94 at mid-morning Thursday.

The cooling wind also is expected to stir up blowing sand here late Thursday as it did Wednesday at Lubbock, Amarillo and Childress. Gusts here are expected to reach 25 miles an hour with visibility reduced from between one to three miles.

Midland experienced its fifth consecutive day of sluggish 100-plus temperatures Wednesday with the mercury rising to a high 103 degrees.

Wink reported 116. Amarillo's 108 was a record in the Panhandle City. Berger listed 106.5, also the highest on record. Hot South winds whipped much of West Texas. Prestidio had 113.

Temperatures early Thursday ranged from lows of 61 at Dalhart and 65 at Amarillo to 90 at Fort Worth and 83 at Wichita Falls.

William O. Cross Dies At Terminal
William Oscar Cross, 74, died Thursday in the home of his son at Terminal after a lengthy illness.

He had been residing with his son, Harold Cross, the last three months.

The body will be forwarded by the Newlie W. Ellis Chapel at Brownwood, where services probably will be held Saturday under the direction of the Burton-Anderson Funeral Home.

Bunkmate Testifies He Loaned Whitaker Car On Night Joyce White Disappeared

VERNON —(AP)—A brother of Joyce Fern White said Thursday the handsome youth charged with her murder told him the girl "became a completely changed person" and acted possessive in the last five minutes he spent with her.

Kenneth White, coach at Cooper County High School near Lubbock, was the state's second witness in the trial of Walter Whitaker, Jr., 21, of Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Lena White, the girl's mother, had testified Whitaker acted amazed when she told him the girl was missing. Mrs. White said Whitaker told her he had promised to marry Joyce. The girl was 18.

Twenty days after the Lubbock High School girl disappeared last January 4, Whitaker led officers to her parents' grave and dug up her nude body. The state says she strangled and buried her.

White said the youth told him that's where he thought Joyce had gone, but that he had not given her any money for the trip. He quoted Whitaker as saying Joyce had never acted possessive before.

White said, "I told him, 'Whitaker, we've got to find her. We've got to kill my mother.' He said, 'I know it. I want to find her. After all, I love that girl.'"

White testified the family decided Joyce might have hitchhiked to San Antonio and that Whitaker had promised to send the girl back if he found her.

Marvin Shoute, now stationed at Goodfellow Air Force Base near San Angelo, said he was a bunkmate of Whitaker at Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock last January. He said he let Whitaker have his car the night Joyce disappeared. Shoute said he had arranged to meet Whitaker at a skating rink. When Whitaker wasn't at the rink, Shoute said he went to the White home.

Shoute said he spent the night at the home because Mrs. White appeared so worried. He found out Whitaker was at the bus when he called out there the next morning.

He testified Whitaker seemed "genuinely surprised" when he found out Joyce was missing. Shoute said Whitaker kept a picture of a Swiss girl over his bunk but not one of Joyce. He testified Whitaker told him he had bought a ring for the Swiss girl who once stayed at his home in Hartford.

Mrs. White, 58, swore Whitaker visited her daughter shortly before she disappeared on 8 p.m. The (Continued On Page 12)

Fan Mail Of Ailing TV Star Could Erase Postal Deficit

BOSTON—(AP)—Just keep Arthur Godfrey sick long enough, and he'll cure the postal deficit. And drum up an extra dividend for the phone company.

Massachusetts General Hospital is an efficient, well-run place set up primarily to treat and care for ordinary ailing human beings. Godfrey, it turned out, is not an ordinary ailing human being. He is an institution.

Many people feel, because he is in their homes almost constantly, that he's a member of the family. As a result, during his month's stay at the hospital since his hip operation, he has averaged 100 or so phone calls daily, many of them long distance. The mail has been piling in at a rate of 10,000 to 15,000 pieces a day.

By this week, his staff figures he's received 55,000 "get well" cards, plus thousands of letters, homemade cards lovingly pasted together and tricky types of good wishes—among them any number of envelopes with only his picture pasted on as an address.

Gifts In Deluge As if this wasn't enough, there was a steady stream of flowers and a deluge of gifts. The gifts finally proved the straw that broke the hospital's back.

Some donors aren't entirely self-fish. He's received many manuscripts of unpublished books, songs, plays and poetry, and an opera, and the choreography of a ballet. There also are photographs records with samples of the voice, musicianship or music of hopeful unknowns.

Thoughtful fans have kept him liberally supplied with his sponsor's products—cigarettes, tea, cakes and the makings of soup, apparently presuming he couldn't get enough of them. One fan sent six jars of white leather cream.

Mrs. Robert Earl Statton

Billie Fern Whiteside, R. E. Statton Wed

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl Statton will be at home at Turner Air Force Base in Georgia, where the bridegroom is to be stationed with the 81st Air Group.

The bride is the former Billie Fern Whiteside, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Olen Whiteside of Dallas. Before her marriage, she was employed with The Western Company in Midland. She was graduated from Denton High School and North Texas State College, Denton, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Sorority and Mary Arden Lodge.

Serves In Air Force
Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Hood, 111 Ridge Drive. The bridegroom was graduated from Midland High School and Texas Technological College, Lubbock, where he was a member of the Silver Key Fraternity and Pi Epsilon Tau. He now is on leave of absence from the Sunray Oil Corporation for a two-year tour of duty with the Air Force.

The couple was married at high noon on June 13 in the First Christian Church, with the pastor, the Rev. Clyde Lindsay, officiating for the single-ring ceremony.

Diana Daugherty played the traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied Jacquelin Statton, sister of the bridegroom, who sang "Because."

Attendants Named
Lanell Whiteside of Dallas attended her sister as maid of honor and Hood served as the best man. Candles were lighted by Bill Statton, brother of the bridegroom, and ushers were Jim Burgess and Art Wadman.

The church altar was decorated with white gladiolus and stock against a background of greenery and the setting was lighted with white tapers. The candelabra used in the decorations, which was used for the first time at this wedding, was a gift to the church from Glenn A. Black, uncle of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a dress of baby blue cotton lace with white accessories. The sheath dress was topped with a peplum jacket fastened at the waistline with three rhinestone buttons.

The bride wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a cascade of white gardenias and stephanotis on a white ribbon.

The maid of honor wore a pink linen and eyelet embroidery suit with pink accessories and a bouquet of white carnations.

Dinner Is Held
A reception dinner was held in the home of the Glenn A. Blacks at 1001 West Louisiana Street. The dinner was served buffet style from a table decorated with the white wedding cake and pink roses. The three-tiered cake was decorated with roses and lilies-of-the-valley and was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Out-of-city guests for the wedding included Mrs. Inez Tucker of Wichita Falls, grandmother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Beulah Morris of San Angelo, great-aunt of the bridegroom, and the bride's family from Dallas.

Garden Addition HD Club Meets

The Garden Addition Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. H. L. Brown, 3309 Sycamore Street.

After a short business meeting, Pauline McWilliams, Midland County home demonstration agent, demonstrated the methods used in assembling dresses.

Members answered the roll call with "jiffy" dessert recipes and it was decided to hold the next meeting at 2:30 p.m. July 8 in the home of Mrs. A. W. Moore, 3301 Sycamore Street.

Present were Mrs. G. H. House, Mrs. T. A. McCarty, Mrs. E. O. Messersmith, Mrs. C. O. Pace, Mrs. C. H. Pearson, Mrs. K. O. Miller, Mrs. Carl Neithert, Mrs. Brown, Miss McWilliams and a guest, Mrs. William Vaughn.

OES Initiates Two Members

Two new members were initiated when the Order of the Eastern Star met Tuesday in the Masonic Hall.

They were Mrs. B. W. Stevens and Mrs. O. C. Boswell.

Mrs. Clyde Hambleton, worthy matron, and M. V. Coleman, worthy patron, presided for the meeting. Two violin selections were given by Mrs. O. P. Brees, a guest.

Among the guests for the meeting was Mrs. Boswell's mother, Mrs. A. T. Jobs. Mrs. Jobs is from Winters where she is a past worthy matron of the OES chapter. Also attending were Mrs. George Taft of Winters and Mrs. L. H. Turnbow of Odessa, sisters of Mrs. Boswell.

Other guests were Mrs. Cecil L. Hollifield, member of the Eastland OES chapter, and Mrs. I. H. Milligan, member of the Batesville OES chapter. Both now are living in Midland.

Forty-six members were present.

Soviet Propaganda Exposed

On the pavements of East Berlin, 50,000 German rioters forced the Soviet Union to drop its benign mask and present its evil face to all the world.

Russian policy in Germany, and perhaps in wider orbit, cannot be the same hereafter. The Kremlin has been propagandizing endlessly for German unity. It has told the world life in the Communist realm is good. It has tried to practice a softer diplomacy in Europe and beyond.

But the courageous Germans who rose up in fury kicked the stuffing out of Soviet propaganda and pretensions. To subdue them, the Russians had to bring in a full army division, with tanks, armored cars and machine gunners.

The Russians sent their trucks careening wildly down Berlin streets to scatter the mobs. Machine gunners fired over rioters' heads, and when that did not have the desired effect, they fired directly into the masses. Jet hoses were turned on others.

All this must have been heavily embarrassing to the Soviet masters trying to pose as the benefactors of Germany. Even more humiliating was this revelation of how deep runs German revulsion against the Russians.

Unarmed except for rocks and sticks and clubs, badly led and organized, the East Berliners tore down Red flags, burned cars and buildings, disrupted all transport, halted industrial output and briefly imperiled the city's puppet government.

To appreciate the German fury unleashed that day, take note of the mason who rushed from a burning building with a new Red-owned typewriter in his hands. He threw it to the ground with full might, pulled out a mason's hammer and pounded it to pieces.

In no place where the siren song of communism has been heard can this sort of response be interpreted as friendly. These were not happy people. These were the oppressed, seizing a short moment of history to tell the world what really was in their hearts.

How did this moment come upon them? Our experts, studying reports of the uprising, are not yet sure. It was not, of course, a real revolt aimed at overturning the Russian-dominated zonal government. There is some evidence the Reds themselves contrived the demonstrations in the beginning. They may have wanted small-scale affairs, voicing workers' demands, to which thereafter could respond nobly.

If that was it, then the planned flare-ups got out of hand. If it was not, then the riots must be taken as largely spontaneous, a bold show of inner German fire which will cost many of the participants dearly. But it earned them the admiration and gratitude of the free peoples.

The world will watch with interest to see what new life the Russians can put into their policy and propaganda to replace that which was crushed by the events of June 17.

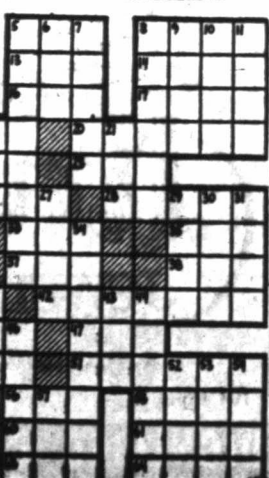

The chances are that you would be more popular with more people if you made it a point to make them popular with you.

Just Made It

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Europe fears U. S. A. is going fascist; McCarthy's name featured in European press more than Eisenhower's; Europe doesn't want to follow lead of nation which lacks internal freedom.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Most Americans don't realize it, but Senator McCarthy's name is featured more in the European press than that of President Eisenhower. Furthermore, every detail of our book-burning, the purges of State Department employees and the eviscerating of government officials on other officials is well publicized in Europe.

Reason for the headlines may be sensational journalism on the part of certain newspapers, but in the responsible papers, which report just as fully, it boils down to the fact that Europe has been tied to America's apron strings and they want to know if the person who wears the apron has changed. They are afraid she has.

They also remember far better than we the Gestapo tactics of Hitler and Mussolini. France, Belgium, Holland, all were occupied by German troops, know firsthand what nationalism is, and they want no part of it. And while the picture appearing in their newspapers is exaggerated, nevertheless, the whole wave of "McCarthyism" has caused an incalculable harm.

Here are some of the things that worry our friends abroad and please our enemies: Book-burning — Included among the books which have been banned from State Department shelves is "Washington Witch Hunt" by Bert Andrews, staunch Eisenhower supporter and top Washington correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune. His story on loyalty investigations won Andrews a Pulitzer prize, and he also helped unearth much information against Alger Hiss. Also temporarily banned was a book by John Foster Dulles which dealt with a book by Walter White, anti-Communist negro leader; Walter Duranty, formerly of the New York Times; and Clarence Streit, former long-time correspondent of the New York Times who had advocated union between the United States and Great Britain.

Europeans see this as the same kind of idea-purging that preceded Hitler's rise to power. They always have thought of the United States as the symbol of freedom, the country whose people were so well-rooted in democracy that they were not afraid to read anything, even Communist books. Now that we seem afraid of such mild books as some of those mentioned above, the impression has grown that we are a fascist state. Weird as this impression is, a lot of people actually believe it, and Western Europe doesn't want to follow fascist leadership.

Gestapo Tactics — When Scott McLeod, new State Department security officer and a friend of McCarthy's, either ordered or condoned an order whereby German servants were asked to spy on American officials for whom they worked in shocked Europeans. These were exactly the tactics employed by Hitler.

They also noted the manner in which State Department officials calling them enemies of Russia. To disagree under Hitler and Stalin was to be an enemy. That's why Europeans view with alarm the new doctrine that the enemies of McCarthy are the enemies of America. They have not forgotten that the man who cleaned most Communists out of Germany was Adolf Hitler — and that thousands of Communists later jumped on his bandwagon.

Twisting Definitions — Europeans also are familiar with the totalitarian technique of calling names and giving words new definitions. Thus the word "communism" has come to be used by McCarthy against anyone who criticizes him. He has accused the Saturday Evening Post and Time magazine as being Communist and has urged an advertising boycott against the latter. The Washington Post he has called the Wisconsin edition of the Daily Worker, while the Milwaukee Journal which also dared criticize him he called the Wisconsin edition of the Daily Worker, while the St. Louis Post-Dispatch and the Portland Oregonian he lumps in the same category.

Europeans paid little attention to these mouthings until recently when they have seen the man who makes them elevated to a position of great power, a position where he can and does influence foreign policy, a position in which the new President has at times condoned his operations and in some cases has even praised him.

All these factors have caused great doubt and misgiving among the nations who have been our best friends abroad. And when there is doubt and misgivings about a leader, that leader ceases to lead. Averell Harriman has indicated to friends that he'll run for the Senate from New York if Senator Lehman decides not to run for another term.

Justice Department lawyers have recommended an anti-trust suit against the American Smelting and Refining Company. The Navy has asked the National Security Council for permission to intercept Polish ships carrying rubber from Ceylon to China. This would amount to a blockade of the China coast. The House has cut salary benefits and raised rent costs so drastically for American employees in the Canal Zone that they are threatening to stop traffic through the Panama Canal — in protest.

Q—Whose status was recently placed in the Capitol's Saturday Hall by the state of Washington? A—Marous Whitman, a medical missionary who met his death at the hands of the Cayuse Indians more than a century ago.

Q—Does Asia have television? A—Three television stations are slated for commercial use in Tokyo; they are the first to carry TV to Asia.

Q—Is the volcano of San Benedicto Island still active? A—It has simmered down to occasional fumes producing small spots of steam and smoke inside the crater.

Q—Why was the Declaration of Independence never proclaimed in Connecticut? A—Because 18 days before, Gov. Jonathan Trumbull had issued one so similar to it that the Philadelphia declaration was considered needless.

Q—To whom did Natural Bridge, Virginia, originally belong? A—Thomas Jefferson.

GI Stationed in Korea Issues Persuasive Appeal On Legion Show

WASHINGTON — (OHA) — The American Legion has a project called "Hometown, U. S. A.," to help bolster the morale of troops overseas. A special form is distributed to the men, asking them to list requests for appropriate musical numbers they would like to have played on their home-town radio disc-jockey shows.

The Legion sends these filled-out forms to any one of the designated 2,000 local radio stations cooperating on the project. The station then calls the person to whom the GI wants his song dedicated, to make sure he or she will be listening at the correct moment to catch the soldier's message.

The following form was received from Cpl. Joe Topping of New York City: Addressed to: Any male of draft age. Relation: My replacement. Address: Anywhere, any place. Please play: "Wish You Were Here." Alternate selection: "The Man I Love."

Message to be broadcast: The hospitality of the people here is wonderful. They're just like the folks back home. And So They Moved Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri told this one in a commencement address to the gal graduates at Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass. Senator Symington had been born at Amherst, Mass., where his father was a young professor in the college.

"Shortly after my birth," said the senator, "my father changed his profession. One of the chief reasons for this change was a talk he had with the president of Amherst. "It seemed there had been a disagreement growing between my father and the janitor of the college. One day the janitor criticized my father in front of his class for writing on a wet blackboard. Thereupon my father threw the janitor out of the room.

"My father then went to the president and requested that the janitor be retired. But the president replied: 'In all the years at Amherst, this is the first janitor we have ever had who was capable of keeping the college warm in the winter. If the board of trustees has to decide between you and the janitor, I would not give much for your chances.' "Shortly after that the Symingtons moved to Baltimore.

Fate Fire Out Of Mind Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has been taking a good bit of kidding from other Cabinet members for his ability to sleep through a fire. It happened at Sioux City, Iowa. The trip there had been tiresome, and when Secretary Wilson arrived, he had to meet scores of prominent citizens and attend a couple of social functions. When he finally got to bed at his hotel he was exhausted.

A few minutes after he went to bed, the fire broke out in his hotel. There was a noisy alarm, followed by the scream of the arriving fire apparatus and the confusion of the firemen trying to put out the blaze. Secretary Wilson slept through all the commotion, but not Mrs. Wilson. She leaned out with the window, and watched the firemen with great interest and shouted instructions to the firemen climbing their ladders nearby. Even this didn't awaken her husband.

shoulders. But, unfortunately, I chose what seemed the wiser course of playing the ace. "I returned a low club, and trumped with the eight; went to the board by trumping a spade, and returned another club. Now I found that the club king would not drop, so I trumped with the three and returned my last bad spade to the board, ruffing with the ace. "Now I had to try the heart finesse, and West gleefully won with the king, I must confess, to my surprise.

"Unless you can see something that I didn't, shall we concede the women this round?" "Yes, my friend, we must concede

Massacre Mountains by Frank C. Robertson

THE STORY: Pete Morrison is seeking to rescue Betty from Ed Hazelton, a man who kidnapped her years ago from her mother, Nellie Williams, one of Pete's friends. Betty has been taken to Prozac, where she is in custody of Hoot Anderson, one of Ed's men. Betty is permitted to go to the store for Mrs. Anderson's groceries from the East.

BETTY felt as if she had escaped from prison, and suddenly on the way to the village of Panganeet the notion was born in her mind not to return to Two Rivers. She cared for no one there, except possibly Walter and Jen Williams, and if she went back, Ed probably would force her eventually to marry Gabe Cox. The best she could hope for was the life Nora Anderson was living. She might as well be dead.

When they came in sight of the house he said, "You can just tell them my name is John Belknap and that I want to see Hoot Anderson." "I—I—guess not," Betty stammered because she could think of nothing else to say. "There was no chance to ask Hazelton about work, so she made her purchase and mounted her pony. The stranger rode along beside her, and asked her questions about where in the East she was from, which she found difficult to answer.

When they stopped, and Betty had nearly introduced the stranger to her father, she said, "You're the second stranger asking where he lived. You look like a girl too!" "As a matter of fact, I am," Pete answered. The other man, he thought, was probably Wilkinson. He added, "Anderson's popular today. You're the second stranger asking where he lived. You look like a girl too!" "As a matter of fact, I am," Pete answered. The other man, he thought, was probably Wilkinson. He added, "Anderson's popular today. You're the second stranger asking where he lived. You look like a girl too!"

DETE MORRISON swung down from a tired horse in front of Hazelton's store and wasted no time asking the proprietor where Hoot Anderson lived. "Can't see his place till you get to it, but just follow that road there," Hazelton indicated. Then he added, "Anderson's popular today. You're the second stranger asking where he lived. You look like a girl too!"

Bride-Elect Is Feted

As a pre-nuptial compliment to Royce Rye McKee, a luncheon was given Saturday in the Midland Country Club by Sarah Lew Link.

Miss McKee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy R. McKee, 907 West Michigan Street, will become the bride of Larry Allen Bedford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bedford, 1110 North Big Spring Street, in a ceremony August 15 in the First Methodist Church.

The luncheon table Saturday was centered with an arrangement of white peonies. Hostess gift to the honoree was a double vegetable dish in silver holloware.

Attending the luncheon were Joan Boykin, Camilla Birkhead, Peggy Whitson, Mrs. Joe Mabey, the honoree and her mother and the hostess and her mother, Mrs. L. C. Link.

The party was scheduled before the hostess left for a European tour. She left by plane Wednesday for Washington and New York and will sail for Europe on July 3. She was joined at the Amon Carter Airport in Fort Worth by friends from Waco and Wichita Falls who will accompany her.

Twentieth Century Club Initiates Cancer Project

The Twentieth Century Study Club initiated a project to aid in cancer work at a meeting Wednesday at the home of the president, Mrs. R. L. Merrill, 1400 Harvard Drive.

It is one of the first federated clubs of the city to undertake such a project.

At Tuesday's meeting, instructions on making of cancer bandages were given by Mrs. M. B. Taubman and Mrs. John K. Overby, who stressed the need for materials to make bandages and for additional volunteer workers.

The bandages, they explained, can be made from old white cotton materials such as sheets, tablecloths and napkins.

Women interested in assisting in making bandages can contact Mrs. Taubman, Mrs. Overby or Mrs. H. H. Redding, chairman for the project from the Twentieth Century Study Club.

Club members attending the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Harlan Howell, Mrs. James O. Simmons, Jr., Mrs. Frank L. Key, Mrs. Garland Lang, Mrs. Redding, Mrs. James L. Daugherty, Mrs. W. Harry Rhodes, Mrs. Raymond Leggett, Mrs. J. B. Bain, Mrs. Merrill, and Mrs. Walter S. Parks, Jr.

Thousands Cheer Queen Elizabeth On Scotland Tour

Thousands Cheer Queen Elizabeth On Scotland Tour

GLASGOW —(P)— Queen Elizabeth rode Thursday into the heart of the Scottish Nationalist country and got the widest and friendliest welcome of her coronation tour.

Thousands broke through the police lines cheering "We want to see the queen" and the royal guard of honor got lost. At least 50 casualties resulted. Women and children were caught in the crush and the 77-degree heat. A number fainted. At least one guardman collapsed, too.

The queen was smiling and calm even as the crowd surged almost within reach of the royal car entering George Square in the center of this drab industrial city. Mounded police nosed their way through to clear a path. Police trying to hold back the throng were heckled: "Let the kiddies through to see the queen."

Fears that Scottish nationalists would stir up demonstrations during the queen's visit have failed to materialize as the royal tour went into its third day. Some Scots, while fond of the pretty young sovereign, object to her title as Elizabeth reigned only over England before the English and Scottish crowns were joined.

Ike Reported In Angry Mood At 'Screening' In Lyon Case

WASHINGTON —(P)— President Eisenhower reportedly is in a knuckle-rapping mood because of failure of the Administration's job-screening program to turn up the data which Congress later uncovered in the Tom Lyon case.

And there were indications the President may be somewhat embarrassed personally by his nomination of Lyon to be director of the Bureau of Mines. The White House said it will be withdrawn—the first time Eisenhower has done that.

Secretary of the Interior McKay Wednesday asked Eisenhower to withdraw Lyon's name after the appointee requested such action. McKay did so in the wake of Lyon's testimony before a Senate committee that he is: (1) drawing a $5,000-a-year pension as a retired official of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, and (2) is opposed to the federal mine safety law he would administer as Mines Bureau chief.

Sharp Rebuke Probable

It developed that Interior Department officials had been unaware of either the pension or Lyon's views regarding the law. Those disclosures reduced his chances of confirmation to near zero.

Government officials who asked not to be named said Eisenhower is having the entire episode investigated and that a sharp rebuke quite likely will be dealt out to those who failed to give him a full report on Lyon's background.

Daddy Ringtail And We're Not Scared

The Huffen Puffen, the friendly wolf, had learned the trick of stepping out from behind himself. He did it. Now the Huffen was two people. Each of the people thought he was the first Huffen Puffen there ever was.

"I am sleepy, I am," the two Huffens said together.

One of them put on striped pajamas. There was only one pair with the stripes, and so the other Huffen put on pajamas with dots on them. The Huffens crawled into bed.

One of them said: "You know, Huffen Puffen, we are all mixed up about which of us is really me, but in a way it is very nice to be two people instead of one."

"I know, Huffen Puffen," the other Huffen said. "Indeed it is nice, it is, for me to be two people. You know how I sometimes wake up afraid in the night—because I'm a silly boy, and I forget that my very own bed is the safest place in the world. And tonight, if I wake up afraid, I won't be half as scared as I usually am, because there are two of me to do the being scared."

The two Huffens laughed with the thought of how they would only be half as scared as the one Huffen ever was.

fen Puffen used to be, and then they fell asleep. They slept until they woke up. It was way in the middle of the night.

SIDE GLANCES

"You're wrong about the boss being an old sobersides—when I told him I was worth twice what I'm getting, he laughed!"

By WESLEY DAVIS

"Look!" cried the two Huffens together. They looked at the foot of the bed. Each of the Huffens remembered how frightened they would be when they looked at the foot of the bed—and saw the Huffen's 10 toes sticking out from the cover—and thought the toes were somebody's hands. But the two Huffens weren't worried. There were two of them now. They would only be half as frightened as they used to be. "Uh-oh," they cried together. Now they saw not 10 but 20 toes there at the foot of the bed. All of their toes were 20, because they were two Huffens, and "Ooooooh!" Twenty toes are twice as many as 10, and so they were twice as scared as they used to be instead of being half as scared.

But don't worry. Because there were two of them now, they did set over their fright about twice as fast, and they went to sleep, and all was well, and happy day!

Nation's Presbyterians Aim At 1956 As Year Of Merger

NEW YORK—(AP)—Church unity moves, afoot today in the ranks of a dozen Protestant denominations, have blossomed into a working plan for American Presbyterians.

If the plan succeeds, it will be the biggest sealing of a historic church split since Northern and Southern Methodists set the precedent by joining forces in 1859.

"We're all hopeful," said Dr. John A. Mackay, president of Princeton Theological Seminary and moderator of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. (Northern).

But there is strong opposition in the South.

Dr. William C. Robinson of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. (Southern) and professor at Columbia Theological Seminary, Decatur, Ga., said 40 per cent of Southern Presbyterian leaders oppose the present plan.

However, the Rev. Frank W. Price of Richmond, Va., moderator of the Southern church, predicted the merger plan will win out, despite strong opposition.

"If we fail to achieve unity at this favorable opportunity," he said, "it may be many years before another attempt is made."

Steps already taken by the two bodies, as well as a third branch, the United Presbyterians, have brought them to the forefront of a wide, variform movement to heal rifts in divided Protestantism.

During the last 30 days, the three Presbyterian bodies projected a merger which would unite them into a single body, called "the Presbyterian Church in the United States," with a membership totaling 3,500,000.

Annual general assemblies of the three branches, within the last few weeks, voted unanimously to submit the 297-page merger plan to local presbyteries and churches for a year's preliminary study.

But the unanimous vote by the Southern Assembly admittedly was gained only because it committed the church merely to a year's appraisal, and gave no final sanction.

Objections by some Southerners include:

That the Northern church permits too much liberty by its ministers in theological interpretations, and some are not orthodox enough.

That the smaller Southern church (about 700,000 members) would be "swallowed up" and dominated by the larger Northern church about 2,500,000 members.

Ironically, there have been no indications that racial segregation would be a major issue. It was the slavery question that caused the original split in 1861.

HAPPY 2,000,000TH—Sharon Knecht, 12, of Chillicothe, O., is the 2,000,000th girl to join the Girl Scouts of America, and she seems pretty happy about it. She received a telegram from Mrs. Roy F. Layton, National President of the Girl Scouts, welcoming her into the organization.

Red Cross Plans Publicity To Kill 'Whisper Campaign'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Eisenhower told some 2,000 persons at the Red Cross National Convention Wednesday night he must grope for words to express the depth of his gratitude to the organization for its work in peace and war.

"No moral factor is more important than the American Red Cross," he said.

At the windup of its twenty-eighth national convention, the Red Cross unanimously adopted a resolution calling on the agency's Board of Governors to launch a full-scale publicity drive to combat a "whispering campaign" against the Red Cross.

Hugh Clayton, a delegate from New Albany, Mass., told the convention "vicious" statements by GI's returning from Korea have been published. He said these include accounts that the Red Cross is selling blood, coffee and cigarettes to servicemen abroad.

"There are some," Clayton said, "who believe these statements are subversively inspired. Maybe the Red Cross is not the ultimate target, but the morale of our military men."

John W. Piersall of Richmond, Va., a member of the Board of Governors, said the Red Cross has looked into 24 statements by returned GI's. In 17 cases, it was admitted the reports were "deliberate fabrications," he said, while two were attributed to hearsay and five to misunderstandings.

The convention, in other actions, endorsed the agency's position against joining other service agencies in any multiple fund-raising campaign.

But the delegates noted in their resolution that some chapters are forced by conditions beyond their control to join in such drives as community chests and united funds.

Mexican Land Law Frauds Prove Costly

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The Finance Ministry says frauds in the administration of Mexico's land expropriation law have cost the government at least 19,000,000 pesos ($2,200,000).

Finance Minister Antonio Carrillo Flores said Wednesday night a government section chief and three other persons have been arrested and charged with fraud and forgery. Two policemen have been charged with accepting bribes.

Company To Close Burning Silver Mine

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—The American Smelting Company said it is suspending operations in the Angangueo silver mine which caught fire and killed 25 workers exactly two months ago Thursday.

Fires still are burning at lower levels.

ACCIDENTS OFF TO EARLY START

RICHMOND, CALIF.—(AP)—Linda Hodson, six, found a July 4 torpedo Wednesday. She didn't know what it was but—

"A little boy told me it would burst if I threw it on the sidewalk. It did."

Particles embedded in her face and right eye.

Doctors said she may lose the sight of that eye.

RESCUED—A fireman assists one woman down a ladder while another screams to be rescued during fire that swept through a South End lodging house in Boston Wednesday. Three persons died as flames spread through the building.

Exiled Pole Says Deserting Crewmen Put Captain On Spot

LONDON—(AP)—An exiled Pole said Thursday Capt. Jan Cwiklinski fled the Polish liner Batory and asked political asylum in Britain because previous desertions by his crewmen in Western ports had put him in the bad books of Poland's Communist government.

This source said Cwiklinski, the Batory's skipper, probably had to act when he did—even though his wife and two children are believed to be still in Gdynia, Poland—because the ship's medical officer jumped ship here eight days ago and "after that, it would have been impossible for the master to have returned to Poland."

Andrez Mielc, a former officer in the Free Polish Army now employed by an engineering firm in Newcastle, gave this version to newsmen as the 53-year-old Cwiklinski was held in London's Britton Prison, pending a decision on his plea for asylum as a political refugee.

Informed sources said Wednesday the request undoubtedly would be granted. The government already had granted asylum to the ship's doctor, Wacław Tacklaester.

ARMY CANINES TAKE BIG BITE

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A dog takes a pretty big bite out of the Army's pocketbook.

The average cost of a dog—used for patrol duty with sentries and guards—is about $200, a witness told a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony released Thursday.

But the Army shouldn't kick at the price for a male or horse. A mule also averages $200, and a horse $205.

New Violence Flares In Wake Of Hindu Extremist's Death

NEW DELHI, INDIA—(AP)—New violence was reported Thursday in the wake of the death in political captivity of Hindu extremist leader Syama Prasad Mookerjee.

The new outbreaks were in Jammu, predominantly Hindu center of Southern Kashmir. Police had clashed with a crowd of Mookerjee's supporters in Delhi, the capital's twin city, following announcement of the death Tuesday.

Mookerjee, leading right-wing opponent of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's government, died in Kashmir, where he had been arrested five weeks ago for defying a ban on his entering the disputed state. The government attributed his death to a heart ailment following pleurisy.

Reports from Kashmir said government troops were patrolling Jammu and mobs still prowled the streets following a riot Wednesday broken up by police tear gas. The reports said four persons were injured and eight arrested.

Man Sues Physician For Mishap At Birth

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A Los Angeles man says a San Francisco physician was negligent in attending at his birth 21 years ago.

Rector Olivras filed suit Wednesday asking $175,000 damages from Dr. William M. Weiner. He says he suffered paralysis and deformity of the right shoulder and arm and the right side of his head and that the condition has kept him from earning a living.

Australia Urges Rhee To Relent

CANBERRA, AUSTRALIA—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Richard G. Casey told Korean President Syngman Rhee in a personal message Thursday, "Australians are greatly shocked by your actions in releasing prisoners held by the United Nations Command."

"Your action has jeopardized negotiations in which we have been engaged for two years," the message said.

Casey urged Rhee to reconsider his action and desert from a reported intention of drafting released prisoners into the South Korean forces.

Both Living Former Presidents Return To Hill Same Day

WASHINGTON —(AP)— It wasn't planned and their paths didn't cross, but the only two living former Presidents both were on Capitol Hill Wednesday.

Herbert Hoover dropped in briefly on Senator Taft (R-Ohio). They discussed, in the senator's office, legislation for a new government reorganization commission. Hoover headed one such body.

Few people knew of Hoover's visit, but the Senate galleries were packed when Harry S. Truman visited that chamber.

Truman got a warm bipartisan greeting, was escorted to his old Senate seat and made a brief speech.

He told the senators they had a duty to "help keep peace in the world."

He also quipped that he liked the location of his old seat, near a door — "When the going was too rough there was always a way to get out."

Wisconsin Senator Seeks FBI Probe Of 'Smear Attack'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Senator Wiley (R-Wis) says someone used an assumed name to make a "damning smear attack" on him and that he has asked the FBI to investigate.

Wiley blamed 48 telegrams he said were sent Wisconsin County Republican chairmen for spurring the State Republican Convention into adopting a resolution of censure against him. The resolution criticized his opposition to a proposed constitutional amendment to limit treaty-making powers and his co-sponsoring of a bill to admit additional immigrants.

The Wisconsin senator told the Senate Wednesday the telegrams were sent over the signature of the "Committee for Constitutional Government," but that the committee disavowed them, and the sender gave a fictitious name, "Benjamin Coleman," to the Western Union.

The Committee for Constitutional Government, Inc., said it did not authorize and had no knowledge of the telegrams.

SPORTS PARLEY

By CHARLEY ESKEW

Apparently the West Texas-New Mexico League, onetime loud in its long-suffering, is Texas' stabled league. You can hear a pin drop during all that loop's complaints about attendance and weakened budgets, but not so the rest of the state's seven races:

The Texas League, although amazed that Beaumont at last is having some financial success, nevertheless is murmuring these days that not enough fans are seeing the games. The same goes for the Arizona-Texas loop.

Then things get louder: Laredo's supporting organization folded this week, and its brother Gulf Coast Leaguer, Port Arthur, went on the block. In the Big State, neither Paris nor Texarkana are attendance happy while Greenville went them one better by planning a club transfer to Bryan this week. The Sooner State, proudful that things are going good, had at any rate one weak sister.

Other Worried Leagues Rally

The Longhorn League, though, tops them all; only the fittest survive. The Lamesa-to-Winters-Ballinger club said it was tossing in the towel and the remaining organizations wrung it of tears only to use it in smothering the loop to seven clubs. It only took a few seconds' deliberation for the league to announce of Webb's Lobo-Eagle, "Too Bad."

"Let's make history" one of the owners said, concerning another's opinion that there was no precedent for a seven-team league becoming a success. A rather fatalistic suggestion, eh?

But, now, what happens to the other leagues when a weak-sister

Owls Thought They Could Fold

did, with a local organization piecing the Owls together to play again.

It should've happened here... Aside information on how it hurts a club to rest out a previously-scheduled Lamesa series. San Angelo, the league leader, happens to be the only club to take a victory on the first day back into league contention. Starting over after off days, seven other clubs lost their first tries and, not counting Midland's efforts Wednesday, only two have won in second day games...

Cobb's Roster Hit By Vacations

What a conspiracy is this between Alpine's semi-pro baseball club and Baylor? The manager, Tom Chandler, won letters on the Bear and now Texas' foremost schoolboy, playing with Alpine for the Summer, are future Baylor athletes. Doyle Traylor, the all-American schoolboy passer from Temple, is one. The other is Jerry Mallett, the top Texas cager, who led South Park to the State Class AAA championship...

Alpine, incidentally, sustained a big loss playing the Midland Indians last week. Its second baseman, John Caruthers, a SMU student betting in the 600's, was hit by a pitched ball in pre-game practice and suffered a broken arm.

Manager Les Cobb is finding vacation time a difficult one to field a strong Roughneck ball club... at Jal, he had only three regulars. John Howard, one of those out, will be back on duty to pitch against Alpine there Sunday.

Juan Del Toro, the Roswell rookie, goes through his lapses of Cuban indifference (like several other pitchers you and I have seen) but is one of the Longhorn League's sharpest prospects regardless...

GROUP PLANS LAREDO SALE

LAREDO—Officials of three Gulf Coast League ball clubs were to meet with League President Guy Airey here Saturday to arrange sale of the Laredo franchise.

Those called for the meeting determine a fair price for the sale of Laredo's franchise to Nick Canavali, interim operator.

Because of the tornado but Waco transferred to Longview. Burnett had planned at first to give the franchise to Bryan but to retain title to the players.

Pinckston dropped a first round match at Colorado Springs, 2 and 1, to Mike Miles Schlapik of Miami. The San Angelo tourney runs Thursday through Sunday.

Dave Moody of Midland was among the early entrants.

MACKIE NIPS Foe IN NCAA GOLF MATCH

COLORADO SPRINGS—(AP)—Graham Mackie of Midland, playing for TCU, won over first round foe, Stewart Ledbetter of Stanford, in Wednesday's matches to remain in the NCAA golf championships.

The favorite and the medalist had less luck. Medalist Merie Backlund of Colorado, who qualified with a record-137, lost to Charles Casady of USC, 1-up; and favorite Eddie Merrins of LSU, 1952 runner-up, bowed to Stanford's Fred Brown, 3 and 2. Mackie won his duel by 3 and 3 also.

Hart Enters Wimbledon's Fourth Round

WIMBLEDON, ENGLAND—(AP)—Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., seeded two, swept into the fourth round of the women's singles in the All-England Tennis Championships Thursday without losing a game.

The smooth-stroking girl eliminated Totta Zehden of Germany, 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Hart hasn't lost a game in the tournament. After drawing a first round bye, she won her second round match by a similar shutout score.

Rugh Stewart of Los Angeles, upset conqueror of England's Tony Mottram in the first round, continued his sparkling play as he eliminated Hans Redl of Austria, 6-3, 6-1, 6-0.

Australia's Ken Rosewall, favorite for the men's crown, advanced to the quarter-finals with an easy victory over Ivor Warwick of Britain, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2.

Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, rallied to defeat Mrs. Jean Rinkel of Britain, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

Harlingen Ball Club Gives Harshaney Job As Pilot, Ousts Greer

BROWNSVILLE—(AP)—Sam Harshaney has returned to the Gulf Coast League as manager of the Brownsville club.

Harshaney managed Harlingen in 1950 and 1951 but since then has been baseball coach at Alamo Heights High School of San Antonio.

He replaces Hayden Greer, who was suspended for punching an umpire. Greer was released Monday as manager by General Manager Phil Alexander.

Both men involved in the managerial swap formerly headed Longhorn League Clubs—Harshaney at Del Rio and San Angelo and Greer at Arstesia and Odessa.

Optimists Forfeit

Kiwans built on to its first place lead in the Pony League the easy way Wednesday. Kiwanis won by forfeit over the vacation-struck Optimists who were unable to field a team.

Pinkston May Join Angelo Tourney Field

SAN ANGELO—Golf officials here, starting their sixteenth annual San Angelo County Club Invitational, Thursday were anxious to add a defending champion to their field after Wednesday's turn of events at the NCAA golf championships in Colorado Springs.

Lee Pinkston of Abilene earlier reported he would be unable to seek a second straight San Angelo crown if he still was participating as a Texas University golfer at Colorado Springs. Otherwise, he'd attempt to compete here.

Pinckston dropped a first round match at Colorado Springs, 2 and 1, to Mike Miles Schlapik of Miami. The San Angelo tourney runs Thursday through Sunday.

Dave Moody of Midland was among the early entrants.

WHAT IS IT?—Sydney Walker looks like something from another planet dressed in football armor and stiff-arming an Australian as he is tackled by another. Using 13 men, touring American All-Stars are playing under Rugby rules for the first time. They are to discard gridiron togs for Rugby attire. (NEA)

Cats Near Top After Whipping Eagle Nine, 4-3

By The Associated Press Manager Max Macon put his Fort Worth Cats within two percentage points of the Texas League lead Wednesday night.

Macon, a first-year Texas League manager, singled across the winning run in the eleventh inning to defeat Dallas, 4-3. It was the seventh straight victory for Fort Worth and put the club just back of Shreveport.

The faltering Sports were defeated by San Antonio, 3-0. Trailing Dallas, 3-0, in the bottom of the ninth with two out the Cats looked close to defeat. But Vic Marasco homered, Danny Onak doubled and then Jim Baxes tied it up with a homer.

Dallas hurler Howie Andegson had a one-hitter as the ninth inning started.

The clubs played through a scoreless tenth and Dallas did nothing in their eleventh.

Baxes led off the bottom of the eleventh inning with a single, was sacrificed to second. And after a walk and a foul-out Macon drove him home with a pinch hit single.

Billy Darden, slim right-hander, used mostly for relief was the winning hurler for Fort Worth. He took over from Bill Glane in the ninth. Anderson went all the way for Dallas.

Phil Haugstad won his first game for San Antonio, a stunning four-hit shutout of first-place Shreveport.

Hugh Sooter was the losing Shreveport pitcher. It was Shreveport's sixth defeat in their last eight games.

Houston scored a 6-0 victory over Beaumont with Al Papp hurling seven-hit, shutout ball. Fred Marlewski and Don Spencer whacked homers for the Buffs.

Oklahoma City, with a brand new lineup, walloped the Tulsa Oilers, 8-2. Al Zillman won it, pitching seven-hit ball.

Tommy Lind hit a three-run homer in the second inning and Russ Burns drove out his eleventh round-tripper for the Indians. Milt Joffe scored both Tulsa runs in a home run in the first inning.

The league is tightening up with Shreveport's sudden failure. Fourth place Tulsa is only four games back and Houston, fifth, is five and a half games off the pace.

The nickname of Johnny Logan, shortstop of the Milwaukee Braves, is Yachta. It means John in Ukrainian.

JayCees Direct Stricter Starts In Softball Play

The JayCees, city softball league sponsors, Thursday directed league umpires to be stricter in pushing game starting times in the future after two protests were recorded.

Martin Alkday, co-chairman of the JayCee sports through the league rules committee, ruled that umpires must order play ball at regular starting times and if either team refuses he "shall give five minute warning of not less than one minute and no more than three minutes."

If no play begins then, "forfeiture must be requested."

Alkday stated that "protests should be lodged with the umpire and the other team's manager."

He said also that games ending in ties after the completion of the time limit will be ruled as a half-a-win, half-a-loss in the standings.

The JayCees currently are seeking ballots from team managers and will select all-stars teams plus a most valuable player.

Indians Bow, 3 To 1, To Rocket Hurling

ROSWELL—(AP)—Max Newcom turned in one of the best performances made by a Midland pitcher this season, but the Roswell Rockets matched his prowess with tight defensive play and an equally good pitching performance by Juan Del Toro as they took the second game of the three-game series Wednesday night, 3-1.

Newcom gave up nine hits and walked none in comparison with Del Toro's seven-hit pitching job and three gratis passes. Both hurlers gave up home run balls, but Del Toro got the benefit of the Rockets bunching their hits in the fourth and fifth innings to turn back the Indian tosser.

Wayne Crawford's solo home run in the first inning gave the Rockets a margin they never relinquished. He also singled in the fourth, sending Oreste Alvarez into scoring position in the fourth and Buddy Grimes' single plated him.

The other Roswell tally came in the fifth on Joe Jacob's infield single, a sacrifice by Al Valdes and Ricky Gonzales' single.

Tex Stephenson blasted a Del Toro loss over the right field wall in the sixth as Midland scored its only run.

The Indians had threatened in the first on two walks, again in the third and for the final time in the ninth when singles by Mickey Dias and Pinch-hitter Prince Rainey netted runners on first and third with one out. Del Toro made Roger Dallas Betts and Scooter Hughes to pop out to end the game.

Newcom, a promising limited service hurler obtained from Temple, went the route for the second time since he joined the Indians. He has made three other appearances and now owns a 1-2 record. It marked the second night in succession that a Midland pitcher started and finished. Blair went all the way against the Rockets Tuesday in losing.

Blair, big Fred Smith or Fred Rodriguez, the fireballing Cuban who is still rounding into shape, is scheduled to go against the Rockets in the series finale Thursday.

Del Toro, a rookie, spaced seven hits to the Tribemen in gaining his fifth victory against eight reversals.

SPORTS ROUNDUP—

Trio Could Break Four-Minute Mile

By GAYLE TALBOT NEW YORK—(AP)—It is more than likely that the dreamed-of four-minute mile could be run Friday if it were possible to bring together Wes Santee, John Landy and Roger Bannister in what some inspired historian almost certainly would tag the "Mile of the Century."

It is difficult to doubt that at least one of the great trio, given decent conditions, would rise to the challenge and cross the fabled sonic barrier of foot racing. We know now that it can be done and that it merely is a matter of when.

JAYCEES NAMED SWIM TUTORS

Four of the instructors for the JayCee Swimming Team were announced Thursday.

They are Ed Dillon, Phil Fickman, Henry Shaw and Martin Alkday.

The first practice for the team is scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday. Anyone is eligible to tryout for the team, and instructions will be given to beginners.

After Saturday, the workouts will be held in the late afternoon during which time the Pagoda Pool-side of the practice and tryouts—will be closed to the general public.

These reflections arise from the fact that Santee, the greatest miler this country has produced, is making his last big run of the season in the National AAU Meet beginning Friday at Dayton, Ohio. Unfortunately, the two men who might force the Kansas flyer to the four-minute mile goal will be far away and he probably will turn in only a routine timing.

Landy, the Australian with the beautiful, flowing stride, is attending classes at Melbourne University.

Bannister, England's candidate, is similarly busy preparing for his medical exams.

Landy, on his record, is the fastest of the three. Last December 14 in Melbourne, against the poorest of competition, he ripped off a mile in four minutes, two and one-fifth seconds. During the following month, similarly unopposed, the olive-skinned Aussie had times of 4:02.4 and 4:04.2.

Santee ran the fastest mile in American history last June 5 in an invitational meet at Compton, Calif., doing the four laps in 4:02.4.

Bannister produced his prize effort last May 2 in London when he was timed in 4:03.6.

Admittedly, none of the trio has topped Gundar Haegg's world record of 4:01.4, set at Malmo, Sweden, back in 1945. Some might wonder at all the optimism about getting under four minutes most any day now when Haegg's mark has withstood every assault for eight long years. We're glad you asked that one.

Haegg was out there more or less all alone, in a class by himself. No other in the world was there a runner capable of giving him a real contest. If there had been, the Swedish Swiftly very probably would have been able to clip that final second and a fraction off his finest effort. It is the history of every sport that the champion rises to the heights only when he is pressed.

Burnett Transfers Traveling Greenville Team To Bryan

BRYAN—(AP)—Bryan was back in professional baseball Thursday, replacing Greenville in the Big State League.

R. W. Burnett of Dallas, owner of the Greenville franchise, is moving to Bryan. He pulled out of Greenville because of lagging attendance.

The club is playing on the road and will come here Saturday for its first game, meeting Wichita Falls.

Bryan raised $10,000 in the sale of signs for the park fence and box seats and this is being turned over to Burnett.

Bryan last was in pro baseball in 1949 when it was a member of the defunct East Texas League. It tried to get the Waco franchise when that club had to move in May be-

Yanks Beating Selves In Series Against Sox

By BEN FLEGGAR
AP Sports Writer

After watching the New York Yankees blow two in a row to the hustling Chicago White Sox about the only conclusion you can come to is that somehow the players put on the wrong uniforms.

Certainly the outfit that wore the big "NY" on their suits the past two days bears no resemblance to a world championship club. And the White Sox look every inch pennant contenders instead of third-place team.

The Sox not only have gained a 6-4 season's edge over the vaunted Yankees. They've succeeded in making the New Yorkers beat themselves. In Tuesday night's 11-3 rout the Yanks committed four errors, three of them in a single inning. Both were high marks for the year.

Wednesday it was faulty pitching. Starter Jim McDonald found the plate only once in 13 pitches and was sent to the showers in the first inning with the bases loaded and nobody out.

Chicago cashed all three of those runners, plus two more in the inning, and coasted to an 8-4 victory.

So the Sox have proved that even the mighty Yankees are only human and that despite their tremendous 10-game bulge over second-place Cleveland, the New Yorkers aren't quite home safe yet.

Since the St. Louis Browns snapped their 18-game winning streak, the Yankees have played only 500 ball, winning five and losing five on the present home stand.

The New Yorkers might be more worried if somebody besides their Indian cousins from Cleveland were coming to visit this weekend. Cleveland has lost seven straight to New York and is the only team in the league that hasn't beaten the Yankees at least once.

The Indians came out on top in a 31-hit slugfest at Boston Wednesday, whipping the Red Sox, 13-9. St. Louis scored five runs in the last two innings to edge Washington, 7-6 and Detroit won its third straight, 6-3, over Philadelphia.

The suddenly docile Milwaukee Braves lost their third in a row, 10-1, to Pittsburgh, but maintained their three-game league lead over the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers were beaten, 7-4, by Cincinnati when Gus Bell homered with two on in the last of the ninth.

New York whipped St. Louis, 3-0, as Sal Maglie scattered eight hits and Philadelphia won its tenth game of the season from Chicago, 2-1.

Jim Hegan, Dale Mitchell and Bob Avila each contributed three safeties to the 17-hit Cleveland attack. Mitchell drove in four runs as did Del Wilbur and Tom Umphlett of the Red Sox. Wilbur homered with two on in the seventh for Boston.

Home runs by Roy Sievers and Dick Kokos enabled the Browns to make it two straight over Washington.

The Tigers jumped on Charlie Blahop for four runs in the first inning, including a home run by Steve Souchock. Shortstop Harvey Kuenn contributed three straight hits, one a home run, for Detroit. Ned Garver went all the way for his sixth victory. He's lost six.

The slumping Braves managed only seven hits, six of them singles, against the right-handed slants of Roy Face, pint-sized rookie curveballer who posted his third victory without a loss for Pittsburgh. The Pirates climbed out of last place with a 15-hit attack against four Milwaukee pitchers.

Bell's blast for Cincinnati climaxed a long uphill struggle after Brooklyn had scored four times in the first inning on home runs by Wayne Belardi and Gil Hodges.

Fine pitching by Maglie halted the Cardinals for only the third time in their last 15 starts. The New York ace had runners on base in almost every inning but nobody got past second. Wilmer Mizell was the loser.

The Phillies pounded Chicago pitching for a dozen hits, seven of them for extra bases while Karl Drews held the Cubs scoreless until the ninth. The loss dropped the Cubs back into the cellar.

COMEBACK—Gil Hodges, after a miserable start this season, finally has begun an upswing at bat for the Brooklyn Dodgers. He homered in Wednesday's game.

ALL-YANKEE LINEUP? Of Case Mum About All-Stars

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK—(AP)—Casey Stengel won't talk about the All-Star Game because there is a ripple that says all the news must come from the league office in Chicago.

"No Sir, I'm not supposed to say a thing until they announce it," said the New York Yankee manager in the dugout before Wednesday's game with Chicago.

But you can't stop him from thinking about the July 14 game at Cincinnati. Winner of four straight pennants and four straight World Series, old Case hasn't won an All-Star Game yet.

"There's a fellow keeps calling me up every night," he said. "He says

"How can you help putting three of your own pitchers on the team?" He says I gotta have Whitey Ford and Eddie Lopat. And Albie Reynolds too. I keep telling him I can't talk.

"One year they made me take one pitcher off each club. That was easy, slighting nobody. Then one year I got them all picked and a couple of fellas I didn't pick come up with no-hitters."

Turning suddenly to one of the audience of baseball writers, he said:

"Who do you think are the best pitchers in the league?"

Without too much hesitation, the writer came up with Bob Lemon. Stengel didn't say a word, just nodded and winked.

"How about that fella in Washington?" Stengel said. "That Shea (ex-Yankee Spec Shea). You'd never think he had a bad arm."

Somebody brought up the name of Satch Paige, whose last appearance against the Yanks will be remembered by Stengel for many days. It was Satch who relieved for the St. Louis Browns the night they ended the Yanks' 18-game win streak last week.

"I'll tell you something," he said. "Paige was going to pitch the next three innings last year in Philadelphia where the 1958 All-Star Game was played if it hadn't rained."

A late arrival strolled up to the bench and sat down beside Casey. "How would you like to start an all-Yankee team in the All-Star Game?" he asked.

"Don't ask me about all-stars," said Casey. "I can't say a word about it."

seven-run second inning in taking the victory in the first game, his eleventh of the season. Pat Monahan served up a five-hitter, though bothered by wildness, in the second game.

Big Spring, in losing the pair, fell into the league cellar.

Monahan forced in a run in the first inning of the night cap when he hit Harris with a pitch and wild pitched another home in the frame, giving the Broncs a 2-0 edge.

But Artesia tied it with two in the second—Jackie Wilcox's double was the big blow—and romped out in front to stay when Armando Sanchez poled a two-out, three-run homer in the third.

Milton Ralat went the distance in losing.

In the first game, the huge seven-run second inning was the deciding factor, with Joe Fortin's three-run homer the big blow.

Moore Fends Off Maxim's Title Try

OGDEN, UTAH—(AP)— Archie Moore of California may be a relic of ring warfares, but he is still the light heavyweight champion of the world.

The 36-year-old warrior from San Diego turned back the threat of Joey Maxim of Cleveland Wednesday night, whacking out an unanimous decision in a mauling, bruising 15-round match—Utah's first title show.

California Archie, who lifted the crown from Pal Joey in St. Louis last December, after campaigning for 16 years, weighed 173 3/4 and Maxim, his 31-year-old threat, scaled 175.

Referee Ray Miller of New York gave it to Moore, seven rounds to six for Maxim and two even. Judge Nat Fleischer of New York scored it 8-7 for Moore, and Ken Shulsen, Salt Lake City, gave Moore eight rounds, Maxim five and two even. The New York system of round-by-round scoring was used.

Moore's immediate plans are indefinite. But his manager, Charley Johnston, said he had tentative offers for Archie to appear in South America, where he won five fights in 1951, and in San Diego.

Maxim left the ring with a couple of eye cuts but neither was serious nor had any effect on the outcome.

Maxim seemed to have landed the two hardest punches, both right-hand blows for which he is not famed. But he was unable to hold off the swarming Moore.

"Joey was much stronger than the last time," Moore said later. "He really was in there trying all the time."

Said Joey: "I wasn't hurt at all. He caught me with a whale of a left. Not the kind that puts you away but makes your head rattle."

There were no knockdowns and aside from Joey's slight cuts and an occasional mouth bleed by Moore, not one got hurt.

Co-promoter Kenney Mayne reported gate receipts for the fight would total about $70,000. He said the promotion "missed by about $20,000" but emphasized that "everyone will get paid."

He said between 7,000 and 8,000 persons attended the bout.

Moore's immediate plans are indefinite. But his manager, Charley Johnston, said he had tentative offers for Archie to appear in South America, where he won five fights in 1951, and in San Diego.

Maxim left the ring with a couple of eye cuts but neither was serious nor had any effect on the outcome.

Maxim seemed to have landed the two hardest punches, both right-hand blows for which he is not famed. But he was unable to hold off the swarming Moore.

"Joey was much stronger than the last time," Moore said later. "He really was in there trying all the time."

Said Joey: "I wasn't hurt at all. He caught me with a whale of a left. Not the kind that puts you away but makes your head rattle."

There were no knockdowns and aside from Joey's slight cuts and an occasional mouth bleed by Moore, not one got hurt.

Co-promoter Kenney Mayne reported gate receipts for the fight would total about $70,000. He said the promotion "missed by about $20,000" but emphasized that "everyone will get paid."

He said between 7,000 and 8,000 persons attended the bout.

Israel Ten Throws Eight-Hitter As Sox Clip Borger, 15 To 2

By The Associated Press
Bob Galej remains undefeated in the West Texas-New Mexico League and Lubbock has a tighter hold on the league lead after Wednesday night's action.

Galej won his ninth victory as the Hubbers edged Albuquerque, 6-5. A three-run sixth inning won it for Galej and Lubbock.

The Hubs now have a four and a half game lead.

Ablene made it two straight over Borger, scoring a 15-2 victory over the Gasers. Israel Ten, a former Midland pitcher, won it, giving up eight hits, striking out seven—he walked three.

Plainview rolled over Clovis 19-1 in the league's only other game. The Amarillo at Pampa contest was postponed because of dust and high winds.

Colt Triples Sack Potashers By 3 To 1

CARLSBAD, N. M.—(AP)—San Angelo's Colts made better use of their hits Wednesday night to beat the Carlsbad Potashers, 3-1, and stave off a threat to their Longhorn League lead.

Bobby Gregg, who gave up four doubles and a triple, was tight in the clutch, out-dusting Marshall Epperson. The Colts got only four hits off Epperson but two were triples that led to runs.

They scored twice in the fourth when John Toyon led off with the first hit of the game, Glenn Burns walked with two gone and Steve Follett tripled. They added another

In the seventh on John Jeandron's three-bagger and Manager Rudy Briner's squeeze bunt.

Carlsbad tallied its runs in the eighth on John Treeco's double with two away, a wild pitch and Merv Connors' triple.

Gregg walked three and fanned five batters while Epperson passed a pair and struck out seven men.

The Longhorn rivals close out, a three-game series Thursday night.

Magnolia Splurge Catches Humble In Sixth Frame

Magnolia splurged for four runs in the sixth inning to do away with Humble, 7-3, Wednesday night in a National League softball game.

Western Inspection humbled Rendovous, 11-6, and the Phillips-Rotary game was postponed to round Wednesday's schedule.

McCullough's two-run homer in the sixth was the deciding blow for Magnolia as it kept the game going until time expired. Magnolia already had chalked up the winning runs on Joe Williams' double, an error, two outs and Rector's two-base blow.

Howard limited Humble to six hits, but one of the blows was a solo circuit smash by Bownds in the second. Three hits and a walk had given Humble a 3-2 advantage in the fourth, but Magnolia tied it at 3-3 in their half as Williams was on by an error and Grissett doubled.

Rendovous made a match of it for two and a half innings against the league-leading inspection men, but three hits and four runs in the bottom of the third made the victory secure for Western Inspection. Chapsie's triple was the big blow.

Evans' homer sparked the four-run inspection fifth which completely sewed up the tilt.

Only Billis of Rendovous could solve House and Montgomery's offerings. He had a single and a triple in four trips. Manager Les Cobb banged a two-run homer in the third.

COOLS CARNOUSTIE—Ben Hogan, after once delaying a warmup round at England's Carnoustie course, where the British Open will be played, fired a 69 Wednesday. The course has no par but the 69 figures at about five-under, according to U. S. standards.

Open Break Threatens Joint Aftosa Campaign

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A breakdown in joint U. S.-Mexican efforts to wipe out a recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease among cattle in Mexico was threatened Thursday.

Agriculture Department officials said differences had arisen. They declined to discuss the situation in detail because, they said, they still were hopeful a cooperative program could be re-established.

The differences arose largely over an American contention that the only way to eliminate the highly contagious and destructive disease is to slaughter infected and exposed animals.

Mexican officials have prohibited more slaughtering. They assert vaccination is enough.

A cooperative program first was set up after an outbreak in 1946. The U. S. closed its borders to Mexican animals and products to prevent spread of the disease to this country's multi-billion-dollar livestock industry. This program, based on slaughter of infected and exposed animals and vaccination of others, finally led to elimination of the disease in 1951.

A new outbreak was discovered near Veracruz last May 23. The U. S. border was closed again and a joint U. S.-Mexican commission went to work to clean it up, using the slaughter-vaccination approach. The Mexican minister of agriculture quickly ordered a stop to slaughter.

The Country Gentleman, a farm magazine, issued a statement saying a first-hand survey by Associate Editor E. J. Keulholz showed the control program has broken down and that as a consequence this country's livestock industry is imperiled.

MAN MOUNTAIN MARRIES NURSE

BUYERS, OHIO—(AP)—A man who weighs 725 pounds Thursday married a 162-pound woman.

Charles (Tiny) Kinsey, 32, whose waist line measures 100 inches, married Beverly J. Hankinson, 24, a practical nurse of Bothwell, Ont.

Kinsey, a service station operator, wears a size 23 shirt. He stands five feet, 11. His bride is four inches shorter.

Kinsey, who has turned down numerous movie and circus offers recently returned from a tour of West Virginia for the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He was billed as the world's largest Eagle.

"The evidence flatly refutes claims of high Mexican officials about the progress and success of the campaign to date," the magazine said.

Two Dead, One Hurt In Lover's Triangle

HONOLULU—(AP)—A young sailor apparently shot and killed his 19-year-old wife, seriously wounded a Navy man, then fatally shot himself Wednesday in a romantic triangle, Navy investigators said.

Dead were James D. Youngblood, 22, whose hometown was withheld, and his wife, Patricia Ross Youngblood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross of Bishop, Texas. Mrs. Youngblood was a University of Hawaii honor student.

Wounded, but expected to recover, was William Francis McDonald, Jr., 23, Pass Christian, Miss.

Robert Golden, Navy investigator, said Youngblood, who returned Monday from four months at sea aboard the tanker Natchaug, apparently shot his wife several times through the head at her Waikiki Beach apartment.

Golden said Youngblood then went to Pearl Harbor, fired three shots at McDonald and finally turned the gun on himself.

COLEEN GRAY TO WED

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Movie actress Coleen Gray, 30, has announced her engagement to Lt. Cmdr. William Clymer Bidlack, 43, efficiency expert for Lockheed Aircraft Corporation.

CLOUDCROFT VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. West and daughter, Phyllis, 1400 North Whitaker Street, have returned from a visit of several days at Cloudcroft, N. M.

MAN MOUNTAIN MARRIES NURSE

BUYERS, OHIO—(AP)—A man who weighs 725 pounds Thursday married a 162-pound woman.

ine said. "The disease is not under control, there have been new outbreaks, vaccination is not winning the battle and there is not powerful opposition on the part of Mexican farmers to the time-tried slaughter 'stamp-out' method of eradicating the disease."

Officials said vaccination alone has limited and questionable value because surviving vaccinated animals can carry the virus in their bone marrow and thus eventually spread the disease and cause new outbreaks.

In helping bring the previous outbreak under control, the U. S. government spent about 125 million dollars. Officials have said an outbreak in this country could well cost from 250 million to a billion dollars in livestock and meat losses and cost of financing eradication measures.

Korean War Keeps Service Rolls Full

WASHINGTON—(AP)—More than half the men who entered military service since the Korean War began still are on active duty three years later.

The Defense Department made public these figures Wednesday: Draftees and volunteers since the war started total 4,060,000. Almost two million have returned to civilian life. Draftees numbered 1,500,000, of whom 839,800 still are in service.

War dead returned to this country number 22,600 and wounded returned about 62,000.

About 1,600,000 men have seen duty in the Far East during the last three years out of the total of 5,500,000 in all branches who have served since the beginning of the Korean fighting.

Midlanders Urged To Hear Benson Speak At Lubbock

At least one Midlander, PMA official Charley Champion, plans to be in Lubbock Saturday for the field day at Texas Tech climaxing the three-day 14th Annual American Cotton Congress.

Featured speaker Saturday will be Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, whose presence in West Texas has an even greater import in light of the recent appeals for federal aid to drought-stricken areas.

Champion urged area ranchers and farmers to be in Lubbock for the Congress—and especially Saturday when, he said, Benson will meet with them to discuss the drought disaster picture.

POLICEMAN HAS BUSY DAY

PASADENA—(AP)—Martin Stornie, 28, was a busy policeman Wednesday. He arrested 15 men, seven of them suspects in an armed robbery case.

The former military policeman and Korean veteran apprehended the seven in a car shortly after a $19 garage holdup. Earlier he had stopped a car and found seven Mexican nationals in the trunk. The driver was booked on suspicion of transporting illegally aliens.

Bank Board Eases Tight Money Policy For U. S. Borrowing

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Reserve Board suddenly has eased its tight money policy in a move it said will help the Treasury meet huge borrowing needs without cutting into the nation's prosperity.

The board announced late Wednesday it was lowering the amount of reserves its member banks are required to keep. The action was expected to increase bank lending power by about $5,780,000,000.

A Treasury spokesman said the Treasury estimates it will have to borrow between five and six billion dollars in the next three months, and will announce next week how it will do so.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said in a statement the Federal Reserve Board had not started a retreat from the Eisenhower Administration's hard money policy, which has resulted in a general rise in interest rates.

He said the board acted independently, but after "full consultation" with the Treasury.

The reserve board's announcement said it acted "in anticipation of the exceptionally heavy demands on bank reserves which will develop in the near future, when seasonal requirements of the economy will expand and Treasury financing borrowing in large volume is inescapable."

Science Winning In Fight On Polio

NEW YORK—(AP)—Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, says science is winning the battle against polio despite this year's increase in the number of cases.

He said in an address Wednesday.

"We are now coming down the home stretch." He added that with the three types of polio virus considered isolated—it now is possible to grow the virus in sufficient amounts for vaccine purposes.

Christie's Fate Rests With Jury

LONDON—(AP)—An Old Bailey jury of nine men and three women was handed Thursday the case of John Reginald Christie, 55, admitted sex murderer of seven women.

Bewigged justice Donald Finmore turned over to the jury the fate of the mild mannered transport clerk—to decide whether he should go to the gallows or an insane asylum.

Operators called top on the reef at 10,000 feet by samples, elevation 3,353 feet.

No shows of oil were encountered in the sections of the reef so far drilled.

Killiam To Drill NE Runnels Test

O. W. Killiam of Laredo has staked location for a 4,000-foot rotary wildcat in Northeast Runnels County.

It is No. 5-A Early and is located 330 feet from south and 467 feet from west lines of section 66, Wallace Hostetler survey.

That makes it seven miles southeast of Winters and on a 378-acre lease. It is one mile southwest of production in the Elm Creek (Fry and Grayburg) field.

Commander Declares New Guns Demand Fort Hood Expansion

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The commander of Fort Hood, Texas, says it is vitally necessary that the reservation be expanded by 54,000 acres to permit training in use of new 120 mm tank guns.

Maj. Gen. E. L. Doan, commander of the First Armored Division and commander of the Central Texas Post, testified before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee Wednesday.

Present firing ranges will accommodate only 75 and 78 mm tank guns shooting from fixed positions, said Doan. Unless the ranges can be lengthened there can be no training in this country with the new weapons, he added.

The judge himself termed the case "a horrible and horrifying one."

Christie was tried specifically for slaying his wife, 54, but admitted strangling six other younger women in outbursts of sexual hysteria.

Finmore summed up the law and evidence after Christie's counsel made an impassioned plea for a verdict of "guilty but insane" and the crown prosecutor, Attorney General Lionel Heald, countered with a flat demand for a guilty finding.

Christie was coolly detached throughout the morning as his lawyer, Derek Curtis-Bennett demanded: "The man's crazy, isn't he?" and painted a picture of Christie as a killer who slew his wife without move beyond a desire to ease her suffering as she writhed in a convulsion.

Christie was picked up March 31 after a week-long nation-wide hunt. Police ferreted through his slum lodgings unearthed two skeletons from his garden, his wife's decaying corpse from beneath his parlor floor, and three bodies from a walled-up cubbyhole. In the witness box Tuesday he also confessed to slaying the pretty young wife of a neighbor in 1949.

Sergeant Convicted In Wife's Slaying

GONZALES—(AP)—An Army sergeant faced a 75-year sentence Thursday for the slaying of his wife, a crime he denied.

Sgt. Emil Kucerek, 27, was convicted Wednesday of murder with malice in the fatal beating of his wife, Corinne.

Kucerek attempted suicide by slashing his ankles and wrists after his arrest in Wichita Falls as he prepared to attend his wife's funeral.

Summer Stock Brings Hollywood Stars Here

By TRACY FLIER
Professional Summer stock has been inaugurated in West Texas and outstanding stage and film stars will be trodding the footboards in Midland and San Angelo, beginning in July, with a different play scheduled each week for six weeks.

Arnold Coty, principal stockholder in the newly-formed Entertainment Arts, Inc., said that six renowned theatrical personalities will be presented along with five experienced supporting actors and actresses. All of the players have extensive records on the stage and screen.

Delia Salvi
perienced supporting actors and actresses. All of the players have extensive records on the stage and screen.

Appearing here will be Otto Kruger, John Carradine, Agnes Moorehead, Alan Mowbray, and Penny Singleton.

Coty said in Midland this week contracts already had been signed with the players and arrangements made to stage the productions in the Midland High School auditorium. Coty's Entertainment Arts, Inc., is barely two weeks old and was formed by Coty, a former movie and stage actor and director, and experienced in Summer stock theater which is as celebrated as Broadway itself. Such theaters have been the proving grounds for upcoming stars and starlets as well as the showcases for established actors.

Coty is presently living in San Angelo while getting organized but said that he hasn't definitely decided where he will take up permanent residence. It will be either Midland or San Angelo, however.

Shows Open Here
Coty said that all performances would be opened in Midland and then go to San Angelo. Each play will be staged two nights only in each city. He said that present plans call for the plays to open in Midland on Wednesday and Thursday nights and then move to San Angelo for Friday and Saturday nights.

A versatile and acclaimed director in show business will be here to direct all rehearsals and performances. He is Ross Van Nibro, who directed Gertrude Lawrence in "Lady in the Dark" before World War II. Returning from five years with the Stratford on Avon players in England, he served on the production staff of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Civic Light Opera Company and recently has been active in such productions as "Song of Norway," "Show Boat," "The Red Mill," and "Sally."

Here is the schedule for shows to be presented in Midland and later in San Angelo:

July 22-23—"Affairs of State," starring Otto Kruger with Delia Salvi of "From Here to Eternity," and "Sins of Jezebel" fame as leading lady.

July 29-30—Agnes Moorehead to star in "Elizabeth the Queen," with the Midland opening to be the debut for a transcontinental tour of the show.

August 5-6—"Personal Appearance" starring Penny Singleton, well known for her portrayal of Blondie in the "Biondie and Dagwood" movies.

August 12-13—"Bell, Book and Candle." The actors have not been named yet.

August 19-20—"Love Me Lightly" starring Alan Mowbray.

John Carradine will direct and star in "The Merchant of Venice," which will be presented either as the first or last production. Coty will announce the date. Ross Van Nibro will have a leading part in the famous Shakespearean play.

In addition to the stars, Coty said he has picked supporting actors and technical workers from among Hollywood personalities. Ed Ball, his business manager, has 23 years experience in theater.

The supporting actors include: James Parker who will play supporting leads in every show, except one. His experience includes parts in "Detective Story," "Mr. Roberts," and "Billy Budd."

His wife, Mrs. James Parker, known professionally as Leslie Turner, a character actress, who was in "All About Eve," "Journey Into Light," and "Father Makes Good."

Deane Ware, ingenue, who is a former child actress and is experienced in movies and Summer stock at the famous LaJolla Playhouse.

She's 90, But Still A Top-Flight Trooper
CULVER CITY, CALIF.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian Castle, who is 90 is a former actress who still lives by the rule, "The show must go on."
Mrs. Castle performed on Broadway and in Hollywood silent and talkies. During World War II she knitted caps for Alaska-stationed GI's and lately has been selling US defense bonds.
After being honored for her work by a visit to the White House, the spry lady returned to celebrate her 90th birthday—and sell more bonds.

Youth Center Chatter

By JOAN FITZGERALD

It is the summer of Nancy Kingling, who is on a trip with the Rainbow girls, will report to you the week's happenings.

Tuesday night, an exciting new game called "Conoco" was introduced to the Y. C. Pictures were taken of some members who were playing. Opinions were given. Among those participating were Janna and Wanda Murray, Joe Cates, Harvey Deimler, Joe Addison Young, Janice Robinson, Don Fritz, Don Boderick, Jesse Hatfield, and Clinton Noble.

We miss our director, Myrt Baker. He is on his vacation, touring the East with his parents. Myrt will return July 5, and we'll all be glad to see him.

Mrs. Alva Adams is doing a fine job in Myrt's place during the afternoon. We surely appreciate her work.

Many Y. C. members are just loafing this summer, enjoying the freedom from school. However, some are employed and we see them hard at work everywhere. Downtown we find Roberta Stewart, Bill Crenshaw, Porter Davis, Jean Waddell, Ruth Nell Kutkend II, Mary Jane Miller, Anna Bess Doyle, Shippy Clemens, Barbara Ware, Charlotte Fraasht, Glenda McNeal, Sherry Page and Peggy Lane. Still more, including Robert Keating, John McQuigan, Glenn Pine, Charles Worthen, Bobby Hudson, Roddy Braun, and Jim Atwill, are busy at construction and other jobs.

Among the vacationers, we learn that Ardith Campbell, Grace Boles and Sadie Nugent are going to Acapulco and Mexico City soon. We wish them a pleasant trip.

Two Y. C. members had a birthday this week. We wish Happy Birthdays to Jean Ann Watts and Keys Curry.

We were sorry to hear of Jesse Hatfield being in the hospital. He got a piece of steel in his hand. It is "all bandaged up."

Margaret Gibson and Evelyn Hubbard seem to spend a lot of time at the baseball games for the Westerners and Ann Grayson spends much time at the swimming pool! Now what could there be to interest you all?

Paxton Howard has returned from Austin where he attended Boy's State. He reports a lot of fun and hopes more boys can go next year. Wanda Lou Steel attended Girl's State and had a wonderful time also.

July 1, the Y. C. loses three members to the United States Marines. Bill Leonard, Buddy Kale and Jimmy Adams will report to San Antonio for assignment. We will surely miss them.

Mary Jane Cox and Sylvia Krownstein came back from Balmerden last weekend "very red" but happy from swimming.

Alice Ann Berry and Nanette Hays will visit friends at Camp Myrtle soon.

Virginia Lou Wilkinson, Fredda Black and Jayman Edwards are attending Camp Waldemar at Hunt.

near Knoxville. They report fun. Virginia Lou is a cheerleader there. Caroline Reigle, who went to Westlake School for Girls, in Los Angeles, last year, has returned home. We're glad to see her back in the Y. C.

Neil Sutton had visitors last weekend from Oklahoma. The cousins liked Midland.

Two teenagers from Dallas are visiting Midland. They are Susie and Carolyn Evans. Right before a cake party which had been planned for them, Susie had an attack of appendicitis and underwent surgery. We hope to see Carolyn and Susie at the Y. C. soon.

Contract for the new Y. C. has been assigned and construction will start soon. All Y. C. boys who would like to help on our new building should contact one of the directors.

No special entertainment is planned for the Y. C. until Myrt returns. The Y. C. will be open on its Summer schedule. Nancy will be back next week. Until we report the news, again, we hope you have a wonderful Summer.

Double-Ring Cake Is Wedding Favorite

It's June—the month of brides. Mrs. Laura Williams of Wood County, Ohio, makes wedding cakes for her friends in the local communities. She says, "I think that cake mix can't be beat, especially in wedding cakes."

DOUBLE-RING ANGEL CAKE for June weddings is elaborate looking, but easily made with two packages of angel food cake mix.

with creamy white frosting.

Double-Ring Angel Wedding Cake
Two packages angel food mix, Angel Wedding Cake Frosting.

Prepare such package of angel food mix according to package directions. Bake in two 9 or 10-inch tube pans. Cool upside down until cold. Then remove from pans and brush off crumbs. Trim one side of each angel cake to make a flat edge.

Place cakes on tray with flat edges together to resemble a double ring. Spread frosting evenly over top and sides of cake and in center hole, making a flat base for decorating. Decorate with flowers, garlands and silver dragees.

Angel Wedding Cake Frosting
One-half cup shortening, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 7 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 4 egg whites (unbeaten), 1/4 cup cream (about), 2 teaspoons vanilla.
Cream shortening. Add salt and part of sugar gradually, blending after each addition. Then add remaining sugar, alternately with egg whites, then with cream until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; blend. Spread frosting

Refrigerator Receives Three Seal Approvals

Three seals of approval! The Leonard Refrigerator can now make that claim, Ted Woodard, store manager, of White's Auto Stores here, pointed out Thursday. The three seals are the Brand Names Foundation Golden Anniversary Certificate, the Good Housekeeping "Quaranty Seal," and the Underwriters Laboratories Seal.

WASH ELECTRIC FRYER

Even though you can't immerse an electric fryer, you can wash it with hot soapsuds after each use. Fill the fryer well with soapsuds, wash with a brush, pour out the water and then fill with rinse water. Dry with towel.

Lack Of Courtesy Labeled Top Highway Tragedy Cause

NEW YORK—(AP)—If the facts could ever be compiled, I believe it would be found that most traffic accidents are not the result of speed, lack of judgment, drinking, or driving with one arm around a doll.

But, in my book, the top cause for tragedy on the highway is plain lack of courtesy.

Something queer happens to many when they get in an auto. The same man who will politely hold the door for a woman, or struggle to get his hat off in a crowded elevator, takes a strictly "the Hell with you, Jack" attitude once he starts down the road in a jalopy. Anybody know why?

I suppose there is a sense of power. Many people feel frustrated, insecure, and inadequate for this harsh world. For them, perhaps, an auto is the great equalizer.

The little man who takes a beating in his office, and will be nagged and pushed around by the bride when he gets home, is on even terms with princes and potentates once he starts down the road.

This, I think, is the explanation for the commoner forms of highway nuisance, to wit:

The road runner—this guy can't stand having anybody in front of him. If you start to pass him, he will speed up. He will pass you, then drop to his normal cruising speed, which is usually somewhat slower than yours. Better let him stay in front; he will only race you to the next curve otherwise.

The eyes front bird—he has a rear view mirror above the windshield, one on each door and two more on the fenders. But they are solely for decoration. He never uses them. Thus, on a crowded highway, he will dart out of his lane without a second thought.

The corner cutter—Center lines mean nothing to him. Taking a curve, he is too lazy to keep from drifting across into the lane of traffic going the other way.

The straddler—Usually, this is a woman who can't quite make up her mind. Women drivers tend to resent highway lanes. They will get the white line running squarely under the middle of the car, and hold that course, grimly.

The time is money driver—He is waiting to enter a highway, and isn't another car behind you for three miles, but does he wait? He does not. He glares over his shoulder, guns the motor, grins his teeth and roars out in front of you.

FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT USE A KERATOLYTIC BECAUSE—
It sloughs off the tainted water skin to expose buried fungi and kills it on contact. Get this STRONG, keratolytic formula, T-1, at drug stores. If not pleased, IN ONE HOUR, your feet back. Now at Cameron's Pharmacy.

NORMAN, OKLA.—(AP)—When Shanghai Pierce was building his Texas cattle empire, only the brave—and rascally—cattleman could survive.

Shanghai was the bravest of them all, probably the most profane, the richest, the most colorful, the loudest, possibly the biggest. And he may have been more of a rascal than all the rest. It was the last half of the last century.

For the first time, the story of Abel Hissel (Shanghai) Pierce has been given full-length treatment. The job was done by Chris Emmett of San Antonio, whose "Shanghai Pierce" was published by the University of Oklahoma Press. The 236-page, carefully-documented volume sells for $5.

Born in Rhode Island and soon under the thumb of a sanctimonious storekeeper uncle there, Pierce came to Texas as a stowaway. He was 19 years old, six feet four, and already had a voice to shake the rafters.

He went quickly to work becoming a cattleman. Like others, he put his own brand on many of the cattle then drifting over the unfenced coastal pastures. A knowing banker offered him unlimited credit. Shanghai was on the way.

Shanghai's empire was along the Texas Gulf Coast, centering in Fort Bend County and around Wharton. By purchase, foreclosure, and other means he put together more than 100,000 acres which made him one of the "Big Pasture" men. He became so rich he bought an Arkansas hotel when refused a room, but still remembered to dun a relative for a 25 cent pair of socks. He helped introduce the Brahman cattle to the Southwest, but made most of his fortune buying and selling the tough range cattle of the time.

He was vain; he built a monument to himself topped by a statue. He was crafty; he sewed shut the eyes of a herd of mean cattle, sold them to a naive Yankee who saw them break loose and head for home when the threads rotted. He built a church for his people, swore mightily when a storm levelled it.

But most of all he was a huge, colorful, loud personality important to Texas history. Emmett, author of several books about Texas, has done a historian's job which embraces not only Pierce and his family but many other characters important to that part of Texas history. Any family whose forebears lived and fought in Texas in those days is likely to be named in this book. As a regional history, it is excellent. As an account of one of Texas' most colorful men, it is good.

Higher Bus Rates Become Effective

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Higher bus rates on 19 of Southwestern Greyhound Lines' Texas runs have been approved by the Railroad Commission. A commission spokesman said he assumed the rate increases already had been put into effect.

Deadline Nears On Fixing 1954 Wheat Crop Controls

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Within a week Secretary of Agriculture Benson must announce that production controls will be invoked on the 1954 wheat crop. It appears he will be unable to tell farmers how the controls will affect them.

The reason is that a number of lawmakers from major wheat states have told Benson they think controls which would be required under existing law would be too drastic, and that farmers would re-

REV. LEON MARSH

First Baptist Church To Hear University Professor Of Bible

The Rev. Leon Marsh, assistant dean of students at Hardin-Simmons University, will bring both the morning and evening messages at the First Baptist Church in Midland Sunday.

An ordained minister, Mr. Marsh is a professor in the Bible department of the University. He holds a master of religious education degree from the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, where he taught in the department of principles of religious education.

Mr. Marsh is a native of Alabama and obtained his undergraduate degree from Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. He served as an executive officer in the amphibious forces of the United States Navy during World War II.

About a quarter of Sweden's forest land is owned by national and local governments.

Drouth Wilts Texas Crops

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Sun, hot winds and drouth threatened Texas crops further last week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Thursday. Feed crops, cotton and pastures deteriorated in all areas. Central markets and auctions were flooded with cattle and calves as hopes for summer grass faded.

Corn prospects shrunk further in Central, North and East Texas. Some was cut for fodder or silage to salvage as much feed as possible. Late plantings needed rain badly. Severe cotton damage was reported in South Texas. Many Lower Valley fields were being picked only once. Fairly good progress was noted in central, northern and eastern areas but more rain was needed.

Most commercial vegetable areas needed moisture badly. Heat and winds hurt growing crops and lowered yields. Tomato yields in major East Texas areas were further reduced.

Stock was showing considerable shrinkage as the high temperatures forced cattle to hunt shade instead of grass. Supplemental feeding was increasing.

Cons Form Committee

CANON CITY, COLO.—(AP)—Skyline Drive, an automobile route on a mountain hogback west of Canon City, was built by 700 Colorado prison convicts in 1913 at a cost of $4,400. When the road was opened, the convicts were on the reception committee welcoming the governor and his staff.

Two Midlanders To Attend Legion Meet In Brownwood

Two Midlanders, William G. Abbott and Red Steel, will be in Brownwood Saturday and Sunday for the annual convention of the American Legion Fifth Division, which extends from Cisco to El Paso.

Principal speakers at the two-day meeting will include Olin Culbertson, state railroad commissioner, and Albert Brown of San Antonio, state commander of the American Legion.

"The division meeting is aimed at preparing for the state convention next month in Houston," Abbott, commander of the Midland post, explained, "and to study area problems."

Abbott will go to Brownwood Friday night in order to be on hand Saturday morning to aid in initiation of new "40 & 8" members. Steel is vice commander of the Midland post.

Ames To Talk UN At Vart Meeting

Capt. William H. Ames will discuss the United Nations at the weekly meeting of the 9418th Vart Squadron Thursday night.

A film entitled "Control of Technical Air Operations" will be shown, too, at the 8 p.m. gathering at 218 East Texas Street.

It is believed that the horse came comparatively late among domestic animals, the camel and the ass preceding it as transport animals.

NEW CINCPAC—Adm. Felix B. Stump has been named commander of the Pacific fleet by President Eisenhower. He was promoted from vice admiral to full four-star admiral rank when he took the new post.

Farm Sleuths Stay In Hot Bug Trail

COLLEGE PARK, MD.—(AP)—The University of Maryland extension service says U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists are "tagging" insects with radioactive materials to chart their life history and travels.

The "hot" bugs can be detected with Geiger counters, even when out of sight—for example, under the bark of a tree. Charting insect travels help entomologists in control work, the extension service says.

Free Rides Ended For Panel Members

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—(AP)—No more free rides on railroads for employees of the California Public Utilities Commission.

Since 1912 the railroads had issued 300 or 400 passes a year. The Senate Finance Committee added $50,000 to the budget to pay for such rides hereafter. Said Senator Randolph Collier:

"The employees should not have free rides on utilities they may be making rates for."

Tito's Dog Sires Litter Of Wolf-Pups

BELOGRADE.—(AP)—"Tiger," Marshal Josip Bros Tito's dog and constant companion since the World War II years, died recently. But Tiger, a husky German police dog, made certain before death that his master's protection would remain in family hands.

He was mated to a full blooded wolf last year. She produced two pups with Tiger as the sire.

MENTAL ILLNESS may not be mental

Dreaded "mental" diseases of the past have been proved to be physical illnesses. Now the Ladies' Home Journal presents startling new evidence that many of today's mentally ill—even those cases called "hopeless"—may be cured by treating the body. Be sure to get your copy of the July Journal today and read the eye-opening article Is Mental Disease Mental?

Iron Curtain Drama Gives Author Fidgets

The scribe of this so-called column took in a movie the other night. He chose one called "No Time for Flowers", thinking it was something light and fluffy, but, as has been pointed out before, one can never tell about a movie by the name. This gimmick turned out to be a struggle between the "good-uns" and the "bad-uns" in Russian-occupied Austria. We weren't in the mood for same, but we got interested in it, and we found a lesson.

No matter how bad it might seem here, we ain't got no troubles at all in comparison with those poor folks.

Just suppose that every word, every glance, every motion that you make was being spied upon, and for any reason at all, some big bug could come and haul you off to jail at night. Brother, we have our troubles, but you and I can lay our heads down at night and get a good rest. You can even make up your mind to come to the store tomorrow and get yourself one of those handsome, powerful, smooth-running Jacobsen power mowers without seeing the Gestapo or the Opu if you may. And maybe you ought to do it.

Total Of 50 New Testers Reported In Midland Area

The list of applications to drill new petroleum projects in the Midland district of the Oil and Gas Division of the Railroad Commission of Texas, filed with the regulatory body's office in this city during the last week totaled 50 new projects.

Of those projects 14 were wildcats. The new ventures were divided two to each to Dawson and Pecos Counties and one to Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Crane, Howard, Kent, Lamb, Lynn, Mitchell and Sterling Counties.

Ector, Pecos and Ward Counties each claimed four of the new field projects and Andrews, Gaines, Scurry and Winkler followed with three new tests each.

Cochran and Crane Counties each reported two new explorations.

The remaining new drillsites were divided one each among Borden, Dawson, Garza, Hockley, Howard, Kent, Terry and Yoakum Counties.

Chinese Quintuplets Said 'Doing Well'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Giri quintuplets, born recently in Chekiang province, "are doing well," the Peiping Red Radio said Wednesday.

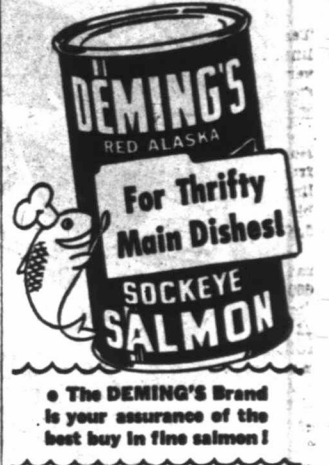

The broadcast said the five babies were the children of Liu Shih-Lien.

"The government has allocated a monthly subsidy to rear the quintuplets," Peiping said.

Chekiang is on the East China coast just south of Shanghai.

Every good cook needs a fork for lifting meat and other solid foods, and for testing to see whether food is done. Such a fork is most useful when it is two-tined and has a long handle. The lines should be sharp enough to pierce food easily and the handle long enough to keep the cook's hand away from the heat and spattering grease.

Hungary, Like Soviet Flower, Imprisoned, Wilting Rapidly

By RICHARD O'REGAN
BUDAPEST, HUNGARY—(P)—Hungary, five years after a coup d'état brought communism to power, is a flower among Russia's dreary East European satellites—but a flower imprisoned and wilting rapidly.

Its jailers are 25,000 rarely seen Russian troops and the all-powerful Hungarian Communist leaders who drive huge, curtained black Zis sedans.

Prisoners are more than 90 per cent of nine million Hungarians who appear to have just enough to eat, but have neither the time nor the cash nor the inclination to seek even the small happinesses of civilized life.

Budapest, once the queen of Eastern Europe, today is almost as shabby and depressing as the cities of postwar Germany. Gone are the smart Paris-style salons of Vaci Utcá, gone are most of the leisurely sidewalk cafes of the Danube embankment, and gone are the groomed Magyar women who gaze Budapest more beauty per square mile than any city in Europe.

Suppressed, too, are Budapest's traditional gaiety, its carefree love of life and the wealth and culture that still in 1948 had survived the pre-Communist destruction of Hungary's ancient agricultural feudalism.

In their place, the Communists have shuttered thousands of shops, ripped off the names of their owners, and replaced them with state stores whose poor quality goods are out of reach for virtually every one but the new upper and middle classes of communism.

Hotels are deserted except for visiting Communist dignitaries and the heroes and officials of the new state.

And over the entire new society, Hungarian communism has imposed the grim conformity of Bolshevik dress and the dusty, grey drabness of industrial overcrowding.

To American correspondents visiting Budapest from Vienna, the Hungarian capital is depressing. But it is said to be a dreamland compared with Prague, Warsaw, Bucharest and Sofia.

It has the atmosphere of war, without the urgency or the spirit. Uniforms are as numerous and as varied as New York or London in 1943.

Trucksloads of soldiers, singing in the Russian style, roar through the streets at night. Women police, in untidy blue and white uniforms, control the women drivers of decrepit 1933 Skoda taxis and the traffic of the state-owned, Russian-built Pobedas and Zis automobiles of government officials, engineers and doctors.

Brown uniforms of the military branch of the AVE—the secret police—mingle with blue-stad civil police, uniforms of the militarily organized postal officials, and the uniformed technical students of the Diesel youth organizations.

There is hurried construction of buildings meant to house the instruments of Communist power, but cracked streets and sidewalks remain unrepaired and unswept.

Of new developments, outstanding are the two-block-square complex of the Hungarian Defense Ministry and the nine-story dangleing white headquarters of the AVE.

The uncensored and dreaded agents cause Hungary's millions to cast cautious glances over their shoulders and curb their critical tongues. They are so many, American correspondents detected them frequently and girls in night clubs openly admitted they worked for the police.

The pleasures of a restricted night life in Budapest are not for the mass of Hungarians. A meal for two with wine in a restaurant with music costs an average office employee four days' work.

It is equally out of question for the average woman to visit one of three state-run "specialty shops" showing good designs on once fashionable Vaci Utcá. Such luxury shops, offering to make clothes from export materials, are only for the new elite.

Despite the pressures of communism, Hungary's six million Catholics crowd the churches to preserve their faith.

The regime orders meat served in all factory canteens and schools on Friday, and churches are falling in to disrepair.

But placed by devoted hands, little cases of flowers are beneath every wayside statue of the Virgin.

A package of baking soda in your car would be handy for insect bites, sunburn and other vacation hazards.

 DR. JORDAN SAYS ***

Don't Worry If Child Is Slow In Learning Bladder Control

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.
 Written for NEA Service

Mrs. M. J. asks a question—"No matter how long it takes, is it possible to answer exactly, but which does deserve discussion in general terms. Her question is, "At what age should a normal child be started toilet training, and what percentage of doctors agree with your opinion?"

In small babies the process of emptying the bladder is automatic. As soon as the bladder is stretched to a certain point, the nerves carry the message to the spinal cord and the bladder is emptied automatically.

Rather gradually the sensation of a full bladder begins to be carried up to the brain itself, and when this develops it is possible for the child to control urination. Until the message is received in the brain, however, it is futile to expect a baby to have control over his bladder functions.

Bladder control comes slowly and parents should not be concerned if their hopeful does not develop complete control as soon as some other child they know about.

Sometimes a child wets during the day or night at three or four years of age, or even older. Usually, this is a sign of either rebellion on the part of the child or a feeling of insecurity.

Sometimes such children have had the importance of keeping dry over-emphasized to them and take a delight in frustrating their parents. When this is the reason, the parents ought to pay less attention to the whole thing and to show no signs of annoyance or any other emotion when such bed-wetting—"enuresis," as it is called—occurs.

A healthy baby usually begins to establish bowel control between one and two years of age. When the baby is nine or 10 months old, it can be placed for short periods on the "potty"—this should be done at first with the child lying down, since it is not yet able to sit up safely.

Most infants begin to catch on to the idea quickly, especially if praise is given when the desired results occur. The "potty" should be used regularly at the same time of day, usually after the first morning meal. Neither the mother nor the baby should be worn out by keeping it up too long if success is not achieved.

Enjoys Being Clean
 The infant enjoys cleanliness and appreciates the praise received. The parents should not show irritability when the infant fails, for this may merely make the baby wary and delay bowel control. Once it has been established and the child is a little older, the responsibility for the bowels should be carried by the child rather than the parent.

Every mother wants her baby to develop bladder and bowel control as early as possible. There is not much use in starting too soon; also normal infants do not all develop control over their bodily functions at the same age.

Midlander Finishes Clinic At Sul Ross

Marcia Queen of Midland has completed the Annual Band-Twirling Clinic at Sul Ross State College which closed recently.

Dr. Walter Becker, outstanding composer and arranger of band music and head of the department in Ithaca College, conducted the clinic for the second year.

He was assisted by Ted Otis, five-times national twirling champion and outstanding teacher of twirling.

The clinic numbered 225 high school and college pupils, coming from 40 different Texas cities. There was a 125 per cent increase in students over that of 1952.

The clinic was under the supervision of Professor Joe Bellamah of Sul Ross College, and formerly of the CBS Symphony Orchestra.

The Italian army has not yet enforced an order that all troops shall wear metal helmets because Alpine mountain troops cling to their little cap with a plume.

UNCLE EF

The volunteer fire department is giving a benefit for one of its members who was voted the graduate most likely to succeed by his college class a number of years ago.

'It Was No Rout:' New View Of First Days In Korea

By COL. NED D. MOORE
 WASHINGTON (NEA)—The first American I saw killed at the very start of the Korean war was a jet pilot.

I had just landed on the Taejon airstrip to find my command, the 19th Infantry Regiment. It was part of the 24th Division which had arrived in Korea a few days earlier, during the first week of July. Coming into the field I had seen enemy artillery landing all around the area. In the distance I had also seen an aerial dogfight.

Just as I stepped out of the small liaison plane a U. S. jet from the dogfight hurtled low overhead, trailing smoke. The pilot was struggling to bail out. But before he could, his damaged plane crashed with a roar into the side of a nearby hill.

That pilot's violent death suddenly jarred me loose from the somewhat unconcerned feeling I had had about Korea up to that moment. It was the feeling shared by many others of us that this was a local brush fire we were being sent out to extinguish.

A pair of heroes: Col. Ned D. Moore, right, reads second lieutenant's commission to M/Sgt. Stanley T. Adams, who won Congressional Medal of Honor while serving with Moore's 19th Infantry Division in Korea. Moore himself was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star and Legion of Merit during actions he recounts in dispatch at right.

During the next few weeks of fighting we all began to realize the full significance of the action we were a part of.

But only today, three years after it all started, do I think we can begin discussing some of those actions in true perspective.

I also think that an account of some of that fighting today might help clear up a few misconceptions of what went on during those early days.

Before finding my regiment I had had a few words of instructions from Eighth Army Commander, the late General Walton Walker. He told me a lot more U. S. troops were on their way to help push the in-vader back, but for the time being the mission was: "Buy time."

In exchange I was to sell each foot of South Korean soil to the enemy for the dearest price I could command.

The commander of the 24th, Maj. Gen. William F. Dean (now a prisoner of war), his eyes red with fatigue, gave me more details of the tactical situation and the orders for the regiment on that early day in July, 1950. He thought the action would reach a climax at Taejon. When I took over the 19th there were barely 1,600 combat-ready soldiers in the outfit. A war-strength infantry regiment is about 3,500 men. I was short a battalion and a tank outfit. And my second battalion had been assigned elsewhere in the line.

A handful of the non-commissioned officers were combat veterans. Most of the officers had seen combat.

The average age of the GIs in the outfit was between 18 and 19. But in those days of fighting they grew up fast.

We took some awful beatings. It was heartbreaking, pulling back all back across the Nakdong River. We tried unsuccessfully several times, but finally, with the help of Marines and other Army units, we did it.

It was the bloodiest fighting I have ever witnessed. The massacre of the enemy was unbelievable when they finally cracked. But it marked the turning point in that phase of the war.

Looking back, I can only remember it all with pride. The way those green youngsters became battle-hardened vets overnight was remarkable. A group of negro replacements were sent to me to become the first ever to be fully integrated into a combat outfit. They came in so smoothly and performed so well we were scarcely aware of what had taken place.

During those early months, too, four of my men won the Congressional Medal of Honor. And I had the privilege of giving 82 battlefield commissions.

I feel that my men carried out the late Gen. Walker's instructions very well. They bought time. And they bought it with honor.

The Human Cost Of Three Years

Here is the estimated cost in terms of U. S. casualties on the third anniversary of the war in Korea:

Dead	24,400
Wounded	99,900
Missing	11,500
TOTAL	134,700

The figures are projected to the June 25 anniversary date on the basis of a six-month average.

At the time. We learned bitterly that we faced a first-class foe.

But the arrival of the new baekooka gave us a shot in the arm. There were no major disorganizations of the division. Communications were maintained under terrible difficulties. And despite some reports to the contrary, the basic morale and fighting spirit of the men remained intact.

Near the end of July, as our perimeter was growing smaller, I got orders to move west to try to halt the enemy division we heard was trying to circle behind us into Pusan.

It was obvious that their success in this effort would be disastrous to us.

My orders gave me a chuckle. They specified that I was to "rest, retrain, and regroup" the regiment. In a few days, with some green replacements from Okinawa, we were in action again.

There was no question about the goal of that North Korean division. It was hell-bent to open our back door to Pusan. We managed to slow them down at high cost. We stopped them cold for a time by digging into some hills. Later the whole 28th Division pulled out from Taegu to help us.

Fortunately I had a stroke of good luck. When I discovered the real intent of the enemy, the problem was to get the information to Eighth Army headquarters. My radio had short range and only worked at night. But a South Korean led me to the terminal of a telephone line which had been laid to Pusan by the U. S. Army in 1946.

I was astonished to find the line working. I got through with my vital information, and the 25th moved in. I have never been so grateful to a telephone line.

The last and most significant action of those first months of fighting in which I took part was the effort to push the North Koreans back across the Nakdong River. We tried unsuccessfully several times, but finally, with the help of Marines and other Army units, we did it.

It was the bloodiest fighting I have ever witnessed. The massacre of the enemy was unbelievable when they finally cracked. But it marked the turning point in that phase of the war.

Increase In Cotton Acreage Proposed For West Texas

ABILENE—Cotton acreage under crop control allotments for most West Texas counties will be increased if a three-year average on cotton acres in cultivation is substituted for the present formula which is based on a five-year average.

Hearings are due to start in Washington before congressional committees during the coming week on House Bill 5685 and Senate Bill 2106, which propose the substitution widely supported by many western cotton growers.

Information developed by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce from records published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that all but 20 of 117 cotton-growing counties in West Texas would gain acreage by passage of these bills, largely because of new acreage put into cotton production during recent years.

The law now provides that allotments be based on an average acreage of five crop years—1947, 1948, 1950, 1951 and 1952. The year of 1949 was specifically omitted.

The new proposal would change the basis to the three years of 1951, 1952 and 1953.

West Texas as a whole would gain 688,900 acres for 1954 if the new formula is approved by Congress. The WTCC urges every grower to give his congressman his opinion of the more desirable formula.

Acreage allotments that would be assigned West Texas counties on the proposed three-year basis and on the present five-year basis, include:

County	5-Year	3-Year
Andrews	6,900	8,400
Ector	600	800
Dawson	256,600	242,600
Midland	19,900	20,500
Glasscock	16,000	11,750
Martin	84,400	86,400

A nested set of cups is wonderfully handy for measuring fractions of a cup of dry ingredients or fats. A set consists of four measures of one-quarter, one-third, one-half and 1 cup capacities. These nested cups are usually made of aluminum or plastic.

Here's a good way to use leftover cooked rice for a Summer dessert. Stir any desired sweetened fruit into the rice, then fold the fruit-ice mixture into sweetened whipped cream. Spoon the dessert into dessert dishes and top each with a cherry.
