Republicans Drop Tax Maneuver

Tactics Shift Averts Bitter Oral Slugfest

WASHINGTON—(P)—The Eisenhower Administration apparently won its battle Monday to get House consideration of extending the excess profits tax—and did it without a knock-down, drag-out floor fight.

In back-stage maneuvers, House Republican leaders got assurances, satisfactory to them, that the Ways and Means Committee would send an extension bill to the floor despite the adamant opposition of its chairman, 78-year-old Daniel Reed (R-NY).

GOP Floor Leader Halleck (Ind) announced then to a cheering house that the leadership would not press the drive it launched last week to bypass Reed's tax-writing group and bring the bill to the floor with a special rule from the Rules Committee.

The Ways and Means Committee has kept the bill blockaded for weeks despite all leadership efforts to dislodge it.

House and the Senate would vote to continue the tax if an extension bill could be brought before them.

The tax—intended to siphon into the Treasury extraordinary profits made by corporations—expires Tuesday midnight.

Blocked In Committee
President Eisenhower asked that it be continued six months, although saying he didn't like the tax, in order to bring some $700,000,000 to $800,000,000 of needed revenue to the government.

Reed has kept the extension bill bottled up by refusing to call a meeting of his committee to vote on it. This led the leadership to launch the extraordinary procedure

R-T Newsman Turns Jurist, Doles Justice

Reporter Cope Routh of The Midland Reporter-Telegram couldn't afford Monday to criticize the brand of justice handed out in Midland's Corporation Court.

A dozen drunks and traffic offenders were on hand to enter their pleas.

Judge Edwin T. Stitt was detained unavoidably.

Justice of the Peace L. C. Stephenson, who ordinarily substitutes, was too busy with his own court.

Mayor J. W. McMillen, who is ex-officio city judge, was not available.

So Routh quickly was sworn in to read the charges, hear the pleas and assess the fines where necessary.

Chiefs May Meet Without Churchill

LONDON—(P)—Britain's acting cabinet boss, Richard A. Butler, said Monday Britain is negotiating with the United States and France for a quick stop-gap meeting on common problems in advance of the postponed Bermuda conference.

Answering a barrage of House of Commons questions touched off by Prime Minister Churchill's temporary retirement, Butler said Britain's representative at this "interim meeting" would be Lord Salisbury.

Salisbury, as Lord President of the Council, has taken over some of the foreign policy responsibilities since the absence of Churchill and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Butler refused to say now where the interim meeting would be held.

"As I cannot pledge other governments I would prefer to defer a statement until the negotiations are concluded," he said.

President Eisenhower last month invited Churchill and the French premier to meet to strengthen Western unity and Britain offered Bermuda as a site. The meeting first was postponed because of France's prolonged government crisis and again Saturday when Churchill's doctors ordered him to take at least a month's complete rest.

Butler, whose normal job is chancellor of the exchequer, brushed off Laborite suggestions that the absence of Churchill and Eden leaves the Foreign Office inadequately controlled. He said "Salisbury, 59, has the right experience and will be aided by Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd and two undersecretaries.

Ward Clerk's Trial Opens; Case Against Wife Erased

MONAHANS—District Clerk J. C. Avary went on trial alone Monday in county court here after state attorneys, in an unexpected change of pace, moved to dismiss charges against his wife, Mrs. Helen Avary, who, with her husband, faced aggravated assault charges growing out of the accusation by Velma Powell, Monahans telephone operator, that the Avarys beat her February 14.

Court recessed at 11:25 a.m. until 1 p.m. after hearing one witness, Mrs. Nell Stewart, chief telephone operator at Monahans.

She said between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. on the night of February 14, Avary called her and said he and Mrs. Avary were coming over to see her. She said they talked about 10 to 15 minutes.

She testified that Avary told her they understood Velma had repeated in a cafe here a reported conversation she had heard concerning the Avarys' teenage daughter.

Mrs. Stewart said she told him that if Velma had listened in on the telephone she would be fired. Mrs. Stewart said Avary told her, however, that he did not want the telephone company to take any disciplinary action, but that he "would take care of it himself."

"Consider this just a friendly visit," she quoted Avary as telling her. "We will make a believer of her."

A six-man jury of J. R. Lamothe,

Jim Frost, Dick Hamm, Joe Goodwin, B. F. Bulls and W. K. Harp was completed at 11:25 a.m. Monday from a 25-man jury panel. Judge Toon Estes is presiding.

Avary and his wife were indicted February 21 in a special session of the grand jury. Their trial, originally slated for March 30, was postponed until Carlos Ashly of Llano, whom the Avarys had engaged as counsel, could finish his term in the state Senate and complete the mandatory 30-day wait after the Legislature adjourned.

Other defense attorneys are Dick Starley of Pecos and Murray Howze of Monahans.

Pushing the state's case are Ward County Attorney Tom White and special prosecutor Bob Ziesenheim, retained by the girl's parents.

Velma Powell, a 22-year-old Korean war widow, charges that she was forced into the Avary car just as she was about to enter the telephone office where she was to have gone on duty at 10 p.m. Her father, she said, had just driven away.

The Avarys, she contends, then took her to their home, where she was detained against her will and severely beaten and insulted.

She was hospitalized with a badly bruised face and black eyes for several days following the incident.

East, South Texas Receive Heavy Rains

Midlanders moved in the same weather path Monday while other parts of Texas reported wind and rain.

For the first time in eight days, the mercury fell short of the 100 mark here Sunday. Maximum reading was 99 degrees.

Partly cloudy skies kept down the heat in the city Monday morning, with the noon reading only 87 degrees. CAA observers expected no change in prevailing conditions through Monday night.

Heavy rain squalls from the Gulf of Mexico lashed Galveston Island with high winds early Monday and spread rain on up into South and East Texas. Wind gusts up to 47 miles an hour before dawn caused damage estimated at more than $20,000.

Bryan Rain Continues
Rain seepage knocked out a cable and interrupted power service at Houston. Bryan recorded two inches of rain and it was continuing at mid-morning.

Galveston and Lufkin reported two inches each, but with Nacogdoches listing more than four inches for Sunday and Monday.

A pre-dawn windstorm at Dallas interrupted electric service with slippery streets causing three major traffic accidents. No serious injuries were reported.

Elsewhere over the state, Kilgore recorded 1.12 inches of rain; Austin 1.10; Crockett 1.30 and Beaumont .55.

WASHINGTON—(P)—The White House said Monday President Eisenhower has given the personal title of ambassador to Dr. James B. Conant, U. S. high commissioner in Germany.

Girl Scout Building Fund Lags Behind As Mitre Peak Camp Cries For Expansion

An urgent plea for support and cooperation in the Midland Girl Scout Building Fund campaign, which is lagging far behind hoped-for results, was issued Monday by William H. Crenshaw, campaign leader in Midland.

"Our total pledged contributions here so far are about $4,800," Crenshaw revealed. "Total contributions from the 15-county area participating in the Permian Basin Council drive are $10,530, which is less than eight per cent of the total goal of $125,000."

The money is to be used for the council's proposed new camp at Mitre Peak Campsite in the Davis Mountains. This will include repairs and remodeling of the present facilities which are in a rundown condition and cannot accommodate half the girls in the area who wish to attend camp.

"Public support in Midland is lacking," Crenshaw said, "and such disinterest in this program which is doing so much for the Girl Scouts of our communities is hard to understand."

Workers Let Down
He also pointed out that many workers who had volunteered to contact Midlanders in the campaign have failed thus far to complete their mission.

"It seems that many parents want Girl Scouting to embrace their girls but the parents don't want to embrace Girl Scouting," Crenshaw said.

"And only as the parents do embrace the program and support it, can the program properly accommodate the girls of the area. It is not only the parent's job but that of all civic-minded persons of the community who believe in our youth," said Crenshaw.

He said while a number of very generous gifts have been received here, there has not been nearly enough gifts to meet the need. Referring to Camp Mitre Peak, the Midland campaign leader pointed out, "Unfortunately there is an acute lack of facilities at this fine campsite. Most of the facilities are makeshift ones which were on the property when the Girl Scouts acquired it in 1947."

"The tremendous growth in the membership of the Permian Basin Council and the corresponding increase in the number of girls anxious to go camping have made it imperative to provide up-to-date facilities."

Crenshaw reported there are more than 400 Girl Scouts in the Midland area alone, and during the summer, only 288 girls can be accommodated in groups of about 70. Almost 100 girls were denied admission to the camp this summer because there weren't accommodations for them, he pointed out.

Drives have been launched in Odesa, McCamey, Andrews, Alpine, Rankin, Pecos and Monahans as a part of the total area campaign.

Midland's drive is due to end July 7, Crenshaw said, and three more progress report meetings will be held in Hotel Scharbauer on June 30, July 2, and July 7.

"If this campaign fails," Crenshaw said, "it will be at least five years before adequate facilities can be made available for our Girl Scouts to obtain the benefits offered at Mitre Peak. A good number won't be able to go at all, since there won't be room for them."

In a more optimistic spirit, Crenshaw said that with the support of the public and the efforts of workers the campaign goal can still be met within the time limits of the drive.

"It is certainly expected that Midlanders will meet this challenge to aid our youth as they have done in the past," he said.

Midland Truck Driver Shot In Argument With Landlord

A 31-year-old Midland truck driver was shot and wounded critically late Sunday during an argument with his former landlord, reportedly over her back rent.

Attendants at Western Clinic Hospital said the man, R. W. Alexander, still was in a critical condition Monday with a bullet wound in his abdomen.

"I didn't mean to shoot him," said the trailer court operator, "but only wanted to scare him."

Olliff fled the scene of the shooting in the 400 block of East Washington Street a few minutes after he fired one shot from a .38 caliber revolver during a hand-to-hand struggle.

Olliff said Alexander had moved from his trailer court earlier in the day, owing him two weeks' back rent. His trailer was taken to another court nearby.

Olliff said that around 6 p.m. he finally spotted Alexander going into a house at 408 East Washington Street.

Two Men Injured As Auto Tips Over

Two Fort Worth men were injured, one of them seriously, when their automobiles plunged off U. S. Highway 80 just west of Midland early Monday and smashed into a telephone pole.

Reported in a serious condition at Clinch Hospital was James Plunkett, 18, who suffered a fractured nose and concussion of the brain.

His companion, Joe Bob Moore, 23, driver of the automobile, was released after receiving emergency treatment.

Police said Moore apparently lost control of the automobile as it rounded the traffic circle at the junction of Wall and Front Street.

J. R. Sharp No. 1-A University, Northeast Andrews County wildcat, 16 1/2 miles northeast of the town of Andrews found a slight show of gas and some salt water in the Ellenburger in a drillstem test at 13,577-401 feet.

The test was for three hours. Recovery was the 3,280-foot water blanket, 450 feet of gas cut drilling mud and 810 feet of salt water. There were no signs of oil.

The project has plugged back to 12,660 feet and will set casing to test the Devonian.

That section had some free oil and some slight shows of gas in a drillstem test.

Reports Of Housing Loan Benefits Sale Investigated

An investigation into reported sales of GI housing loan benefits by Midland veterans to non-veterans was brought to light Monday by the Veterans Administration.

VA information service in Washington, D. C., said the investigation included reported widespread marketing of loan benefits in Midland and Abilene.

Woolford said any evidence obtained in the investigation will be turned over to the Justice Department for suitable action.

Repeated reports of sale of loan benefits brought a formal request several months ago by the Midland Real Estate Board for an investigation by the Washington agency.

Harlan Howell, Midland realtor and former president of the board, said that as far as he knew none of the reported transactions involved any members of the board.

"However, there have been reports of such sales for a fee and we asked the VA to make a formal investigation," he said.

According to one real estate man, here is how the transactions are made: A non-veteran, in the market for a house but unable to make the necessary FHA down payment, is put in touch with a veteran ready to dispose of his GI benefits in getting a VA loan guarantee.

The bone fide veteran contracts for the loan and when the house is built, he immediately assigns it to the non-veteran for a specified fee.

The standard fee is reported to be $300. The non-veteran, who has put up the lower down payment under the GI financing, repays the loan in regular monthly payments.

The investigation in West Texas is being directed by John H. Orr and Herman M. Hanemann of the VA's inspection-investigation service in Washington.

Midland School Chief Due At New York Conference

Frank Monroe, superintendent of Schools of Midland, will attend the twelfth annual work conference for superintendents of schools to be held at Teachers College, Columbia University, from July 6 to 24.

The conference, sponsored by the Department of Educational Administration of Teachers College, will take up many general and current problems in school administration.

Current problems will deal with public school finance; personnel selection and development; and school and community public relations.

Other major topics during the three-week conference are: attention to individual pupils; organizing school staff resources; the school member's job; the emerging design of elementary and secondary education; evaluating the local educational program; and teaching about education and the schools to students and adults.

Many nationally known authorities in various aspects of school administration and other phases of education will take part in the conference as general consultants and leaders of group meetings.

In addition to members of the Department of Educational Administration of Teachers College, staff members from other universities, state departments of education, and public schools will work with the group.

Lawrence G. Dertnick, president of the American Association of School Administrators and Superintendent of Schools in Chattanooga, Tenn., and Worth McClure, executive secretary of the A. A. S. A. will be special guests of the conference.

The contributions to better school administration of several new national school-improvement organizations will be studied by the conference participants under the direction of the heads of these agencies.

Among these units are the Co-operative Program in Educational Administration, which is seeking to improve the administration of the nation's public schools, and the Citizenship Education Project, established in 1949 by President William F. Russell of Teachers College and President Dwight D. Eisenhower when the latter was president of Columbia University.

The citizenship project is attempting to improve the teaching of American citizenship in the public schools. Study Economic Base

Another goal of the conference is to provide the superintendents with greater knowledge and understanding about the economic base of education; the function of the public school in dealing with religion; and current developments and issues relating to the school curriculum.

Opportunities to work on special or local administrative problems, with individual help from Teachers College staff members and visiting specialists, will be provided to the conference members.

For a firsthand look at modern school architecture and equipment, the superintendents will visit school buildings in the metropolitan New York City area.

At the end of the conference, the national group of superintendents will issue a statement to the public outlining recommendations for improving the education of children.

The conference chairman is Dr. Paul R. Mort, Professor of Education and executive officer of the Institute of Administrative Research at Teachers College.

GI's Last Letter Says Ammo Taken From Unit At Front

ALLENTOWN, PA. —(AP)—The parents of an Allentown soldier killed in action in Korea June 19 said Monday they believe his unit faced an enemy assault without ammunition.

Two days before he was killed, 21-year-old Pvt. Kenneth Lease, Jr., wrote his parents:

"Well, the truce talks are still going on. It looks good, but not good enough. They must expect it to be over soon because they took all of our ammo yesterday."

The letter arrived only several hours before a Defense Department telegram telling of the soldier's death in action.

The Leases gave photostats of the letter to Rep. Carl C. King (R-Pa.). The congressman said he will ask the Department of the Army to make a complete investigation.

Lease was in an infantry company in the 32nd Regiment of the 7th Division.

ST. LOUIS —(AP)—This nation's successful leadership in the world depends largely on fairness and justice without discrimination to all citizens in America.

Stassen told delegates to the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People that "much more needs to be accomplished in the advancement of the colored people within America."

He said, "You also know that the rest of the world does not realize how much progress has been made by the colored peoples within America."

Misunderstanding, lack of information and "deliberate distortion by our enemies" combine to present a false picture to other nations, Stassen said.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

An acquaintance telephones to invite you and your husband to dinner and you have to check with your husband before you can definitely accept the invitation. Don't say: "If I don't call you back we'll be there." It's much better to say, "I'll call you back as soon as I have checked with Bob."

The way to avoid mixups and misunderstandings is to take the trouble to be efficient in the first place.

Common-Sense Vein

Senator Taft, sitting on the sidelines in illness, still is exercising his influence in Congress for moderation and common sense. His newest proposals for the foreign aid bill are in that vein.

The House has passed an authorization measure that would arbitrarily withhold from Western Europe $1,000,000,000 in military aid until the six nations signatory to the European defense pact all ratify it. Only Western Germany thus far has done that.

Taft, understanding that foreign policy cannot be wielded like a club, proposed that President Eisenhower be given discretionary power to withhold funds until EDC is a reality. His evident expectation is that the President would choose not to withhold the money.

"I don't think we should make this a compulsory thing," the senator said.

If his voice carries the weight it always has, then perhaps the Senate will strike from the House bill the "do-it-or-else" provision, which many foreign affairs experts believe is most unlikely to accomplish its goal, anyway.

Both Taft and Knowland have declared they will support the Senate's $5,318,000,000 foreign aid authorization—a figure $320,000,000 higher than the House bill and within $200,000,000 of Eisenhower's recommendation.

This important measure will be watched to see whether these two key senators are able to take the bulk of their GOP colleagues along in backing it, or whether decisive support will have to come from the Democrats.

In the House, Republicans voted 119 to 81 for a minimum bill, while Democrats voted 160 to 21 for the aid proposal. This hardly classifies as thumping GOP support for an Administration program.

Taft knows this sort of thing is not calculated to gain for the Administration the stature it needs if the Republicans are to retain their hold on Congress next year and on the presidency in 1956. Positive achievements must be rung up.

Since their own political future is at stake in many cases, the lawmakers' grudging concession to this necessity is puzzling. It was the President's popularity, not theirs, which was attested in the 1952 election. Politicians used to take the hint, but times have changed.

Nowadays, many a national lawmaker appears bent not on riding the President's triumphant coattails, but on trying to tie them into a noose about his own neck.

Ever since the word welcome has been in use it has been something else for some people to take advantage of.

Take your own sweet time and you are very likely to go sour on your job.

Sort Of Bugged Down

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Strip-tease act at naval base jolts admirals; Scapogato junior officer held in big 40 days without charges; Chaplain gets retired for protesting sexy naval smokers.

WASHINGTON—Red-faced admirals are trying to shush up a spicy scandal at the Key West Naval Base involving some lewd movies and a strip-tease dancer who wrestled with enlisted men at a Navy "smoker."

Aftermath of the unusual Navy entertainment has been the transfer of Base Commander Adm. Irvin T. Duke to Charleston, S. C., the jailing of Lt. Cmdr. Jerry McDaniel, while the chaplain who protested the strip-tease act and lewd movies, Lt. Cmdr. Erwin Imbrie, is being transferred to inactive duty.

Chaplain Imbrie had first protested the lewd movies to the naval air commandant, Capt. A. E. Buckley. When this did not stop a second show he wrote direct to Washington. His reward will be retirement—on July 31—though the Navy will not admit the two have any connection. Captain Buckley's reward was heart trouble. He was immediately confined to his bed with a heart attack and remained inaccessible to certain visitors.

Real scandal in the end may be the way the Navy railroaded Commander McDaniel as the scapegoat. McDaniel is not an Annapolis man. Other top brass are. He was held 40 days virtually incommunicado in the Navy brig without a charge being filed against him, which is contrary to the bill of rights. While he was held, Navy brass scratched their heads as to what charges they should file against him.

Vitamin, Not Dope After all, it would be highly embarrassing to charge him with arranging a strip-tease show under Navy auspices. So Navy investigators raided his desk, pounced on a bottle and tried to show that McDaniel was taking dope. It also was suggested he was acting as if he might commit suicide.

But the plot was exploded when a Navy doctor, Lt. William E. Peredina, admitted that superior officer had come to him with the dope charge and the suicide suggestion. Peredina further testified that the seized dope was nothing but vitamin pills and the McDaniel had no suicidal tendencies.

The trouble all began from a most worthy motive—raising a record $70,000 for Key West charities. Someone suggested it might be a good idea to borrow some spy films from the local American Legion and show a "smoker." Captain Buckley did not disapprove of the idea, and his subordinates felt they had the go-ahead signal.

There is no record that Admiral Duke, himself, was consulted, though he was responsible for all activities at the base. The "smoker" idea was taken up with his office, however, and his subordinates requested only that it be cleared with the city authorities.

City Fathers Applaud The city fathers not only gave their OK, but turned out enthusiastically for the first show. Holding down the bald-headed row at the first show were Key West Mayor C. E. Harvey, City Manager Dave King, Chief of Police Joe Kemp, Supt. of Schools Jack Guthrie, City Commissioner John Carbonell and Florida Circuit Judge Raymond Lord.

Some complained afterward that the movies were not spicy enough, so a second "smoker" was scheduled, again for charity. But Chaplain Imbrie had heard that the movies were risqué. He called on Captain Buckley and registered his objections. Buckley gave the chaplain a brush-off, but took the precaution to issue oral orders that the Navy should have nothing to do with the second "smoker."

Civilian employees were left free to do whatever they wished, however, and Howard McDonald, a civilian clerk, went ahead with the arrangements where McDaniel had left off. McDonald by-passed the American Legion, obtained juicier films, and after the movies, Stella, the strip-tease lady, mysteriously appeared and began shedding her clothes. Finally, she called to the crowd: "want to wrestle?" three obliging sailors then assisted in her act.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY The bidding of today's hand presents no problem. South has a minimum opening bid of 14 points and shows this by choosing a rebid of only one no-trump. North has balanced distribution and therefore likes the idea of a no-trump contract. He raises to game since he has a count of 15 points and can therefore be quite sure that the combined count is more than the 26 points usually needed for game.

Bridge hand diagram showing North and South hands with cards and a bidding sequence: N: ♠K84, ♥A83, ♦AKJ9, ♣652; S: ♠QJ1092, ♥63, ♦K1097, ♣84. Bidding: N: 1♠, S: 1♥, N: 2♠, S: 2♥, N: 3♠, S: 3♥, N: 4♠, S: 4♥.

make. The trouble is that none of the finesses will succeed and that neither diamonds nor clubs will break favorably.

When the South hand was played in a recent rubber bridge game by John F. Carlin, the well-known Chicago expert, the bad breaks were overcome by good technique. Carlin lost two finesses, but managed to make the enemy take a third finesse for him.

West held the first trick with the queen of spades and continued the suit. Carlin won the second in dummy with the king of spades in order to try the club finesse. He went after the clubs rather than diamonds because if the finesse lost it would remove the entry of the opponent who had the dangerous suit (spades).

The club finesse did lose to West's king, and West led another spade. This set up West's suit, but West was now out of the picture. His entry had been knocked out, and his hand was dead.

Carlin won the spade return with his ace and finessed the nine of diamonds, losing to East's ten. East returned the queen of hearts, and Carlin won in his own hand with the king. It was now time to test out the clubs, but the suit stubbornly refused to break.

East discarded a heart on the third round of clubs, and Carlin remembered that East had likewise discarded a heart on the third round of spades. Evidently, East had begun the hand with nine red cards.

This discovery pointed the way to the correct play for the contract. Carlin led a heart to dummy's ace. East then gave a heart trick to East. This forced East to lead up to dummy's diamonds, giving dummy the last three tricks.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been: North East South West 1 Heart 2 Diamonds ? You, South, hold: Spades A-J-6-3, Hearts K-Q-J-5-4, Diamonds none, Clubs K-Q-J-7-3. What do you do? A—Bid three diamonds. This immediate cue bid guarantees a game, shows control of the enemy's suit, and suggests a slam.

He'd Better Keep Attendance Record

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Medics should welcome Frank Barr when he is inducted into the Army within a few months. From his past record, he's not likely to show up on sick call.

A short time ago Barr received a special award for not having missed a day of classes in four years at Duquesne University. But that was nothing new for the Pittsburgh youth. He won similar awards when he completed eight years of elementary school and four years of high school.

The closest Barr came to missing any instruction during 16 years of school was in his second year of high school. He sprained an ankle sking but the next day he managed to hobble to class and maintain his perfect attendance mark.

Massacre Mountains

by Frank C. Robertson

THE STORY: The renegade Zad Barnes has just learned that two of his enemies, Pete Morrison and Betty Tobey, have slipped through his fingers, just when he thought he had them. He has kidnapped a child who has crossed Barnes.

"It was bad enough, Zad Barnes thought, to let one intended victim slip through his fingers, but to let them both get away was more than he could endure. He had anticipated a gloating triumph when he brought back Nate Wilkinson's daughter and, in her father's presence, compelled her to marry Gene Cox. Now, he thought savagely, if he caught them, he would give Betty to Tobey. After that, Tobey and his braves would take care of Wilkinson and Morrison.

He didn't dislike Betty personally—except when he thought of her father, and the humiliation and pain that man had once caused him to endure. There had been times when he was even fond of her, although he was always quick to anger when she displeased him. Another thing that had stayed his hand somewhat with regard to Betty was that old Sam Williams, a most dependable man, and Williams would have died for her. His final coup, he knew, would be to pull off without Williams' knowledge.

Zad was, of course, instantly suspicious of Cass Dean, the beautiful woman who had arrived during the night with Al Tasker. She admitted having come here to find Morrison, but when he questioned her, her air of innocence was authentic enough to convince even Zad.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Congressmen Are In A Jam—But Not Kind You Think

By PETER EDSON NWA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It's warming up in Washington, and if you think matters in your nation's capital are in a jam, (1) you are right and (2) the flavor is blackberry.

Homer D. Angell, Republican representative from Multnomah County, Ore., which includes the city of Portland, supplied this flavor the other day when he made a speech on the subject of "Oregon Wildcross Blackberry Jam."

The Honorable Angell did more than this. He— But let Representative Angell tell it in his own words, in a speech that will no doubt go down in history as a worthy rival to the oratorical outbursts of the late Senator Huey Long of Louisiana, on the celebrated subject of "Corn Pone and Pot Likker."

"I have caused to be placed on the tables of the House restaurant a sufficient quantity of this very delectable jam for every member to have the opportunity to sample it," the congressman announced.

To make a long story short, he did and they did. And the gentleman from Oregon received many fine compliments from his colleagues on the quality of the wildcross blackberry jam produced in his district.

Representative Angell got in all this fine free publicity for the Willamette Valley under "permission" to address the House for one minute, and to revise and extend his remarks and include therein extraneous matter."

"The extraneous matter include 'The Story of the Bees, the Bees and the Berries.' This is where the literary quality of the undelivered part of the congressman's speech comes in. And just to show you what weighty issues prey upon the minds of the lawmakers these days, 'The Story of the Bees, the Bees and the Berries' is given herewith and in full.

Sample Of Follies If the title sounds as though it had something to do with telling little children about the facts of life, it is not the facts of life but other facts of life. As a contribution to American folklore and advertising, this one belongs in the book:

"Kushnawga, chief of the Mid-Columbia Indians, sat on his mat in front of his tepee on the hillside, pondering speculatively on the movement of covered wagons that crossed the rocks of Wy-um far below. The year was 1856. Kushnawga was 22 years old, precociously young for a medicine man of such great wisdom.

"He thoughtfully inhaled the delicate fumes of Kiri-kirik from the long, amber-colored pipe. First he gave the strange white visitors (a slight understatement) the Quinote salmon to give them strong bones. That was the greatest gift that Watanatka, the Great Spirit, gave to man.

"Wantonka also gave love to the red man so that people could live in friendly fashion with each other, but first he gave the symbolic fruit of love to the black furred people which Yakimaha called DeYun, the white man's bear. Behind all this is a spirit of universal good will.

"The fruit he gave the bears, the Yakimaha called Olalide De Yun, the blackberry of the bears, and the Romans called it Rubus Ursinus, which means the same thing in she replied. "Pete and I were engaged once, but we broke because of the war. After it was over I got to thinking that perhaps we might make a go of it. Anyway, I wanted to see him. But when I saw him in Echo Junction the other day I realized it was no use."

"Then why follow him here?" "Strictly for a woman's reason that you wouldn't understand. He told me that he was in love with another woman—your daughter, in fact, Mr. Barnes—and I wanted to see what she was like."

Zad exhaled a mighty breath, then he laughed. "Ain't that just like a woman?" he roared. "Anyway, I'm glad you knowed about it, Miss Dean."

"Just call me Cass." "Good. And you call me Zad. As I was saying, I sent my daughter away from here just to keep her away from Morrison."

Cass said, "I believe we really have something in common—Zad. We both dislike Pete Morrison."

"I said, 'I want you to stay here just as long as you feel like it. Cass, and anything you want you've just got to holler for. I think you and me are going to get along.'"

"I'm sure we will," Cass said sweetly. An hour after that interview Cass knew that Pete Morrison was on his way to Fergusson, and had killed an Indian on route. The news supplied fresh anger and apprehension. If both Wilkinson and Morrison got away, and happened to be together, Morrison is the one who would be shot—unless they were foolish enough to come on with their wretched train and try to drive him out. He hurriedly ordered pursuit by three white men and several Indians, led by Al Tasker.

In the meantime he could do little except fume. Once it occurred to him to wonder if the Indian boy, Walter, could have given Wilkinson a warning. He didn't think so, because Walter had been with him for years, and knew his capacity to punish if anyone crossed him. Later he would question the boy.

"What were you going to do with him?" "I wanted to tell her the truth, but didn't quite dare. I intended to hold him a prisoner until his government agrees to pardon me. And I was going to make him take money in a way that he would never dare open his mouth."

Cass said, "I think you are a very cunning man, Mr. Barnes. He looks to me as if Pete had it coming to him."

"Why did you want to join him?" "It's a long story, Mr. Barnes. I didn't notice the hole because of the blanket. I was very tired and I slept soundly all night."

The MATURE PARENT

Don't Ask Formal Courtesy From Your Child Too Early

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Spike will be six next October. I've known him all his life. He has his mother's black eyes. When he's pleased, with a present I take him, they glow. However, he has a certain shyness of excessive feeling.

So when I give Spike a dump truck, I'm not allowed to enjoy the glow too long. I no sooner glimpse the love in the eyes than his owner dashes away to execute an ecstatic series of somersaults.

He never says, "Thank you" to me. He can't say it. Because the Summer Spike was three, the phrase was badly sabotaged for him. His Uncle Ben, a bachelor, brought Spike the most expensive electric train he could find. An efficient business executive, he was accustomed to prompt acknowledgment.

So as his small nephew, awed and unbelieving, reached for the gleaming little jewel of an engine, Uncle Ben said sharply, "No, not until you've said 'Thank you!'" Spike never has played much with the train. I don't blame him. It is associated with confusion and shock. So is the phrase "thank you." It does not suggest spontaneous joy and response to Spike. It suggests the denial of them.

Spike is one of my reasons for siding with the psychologists who say, "Don't demand the forms of courtesy too early."

Teaching manners is serious business, affecting children's self-appreciation.

That's why we mustn't rush them into the "thank-yous."

TAKE HEED, YOUNG WOMEN

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—If you want to live to be 103 you should heed this formula: Never work, don't get married, be the youngest of nine children so you'll be spoiled.

That's the formula of Jennie Long, who celebrated her 103rd birthday Sunday. She was born in New Brunswick, Canada, and came here 40 years ago. She lives with friends.

Before Spike's ready for them. He must have many experiences in genuine thankfulness. We want him to have them because we want him to know when he feels it and when he doesn't. For this knowledge will become his ability to discriminate between people who are interested in him—and the Uncle Bens who are interested in showing off.

If we rush him over these experiences, to make him parrot "thank-you" to anyone who feels like inflating himself by buying him something, we deny him the use of his intuition for love.

That intuition is Spike's protection. Premature training in manners can destroy it. The child who gets it may never get over his habit of thanking everyone for anything. He may overvalue what his boss and wife give him while he undervalues what he gives them.

We Americans are not always sincere with our "thank-yous." Too often we depreciate what we have to offer. Let's remember that when we're training for manners.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail Skeezy Weenie

Hickety flicked as fast as she could. She knew who the somebody was who could crawl through a hole that small. The somebody's name was Skeezy Weenie.

Could Skeezy be the one who was getting the eggs? Daddy Ringtail thought about it. Why, Skeezy was such a friendly dog. His tail wagged Hickety explained that the someone was getting the eggs while she slept on the nest. Why, she had even looked the door of the chicken house from the inside, but still, somehow, somebody was getting in. Daddy Ringtail looked around to see how the somebody could ever get in with the door locked. "Oh!" Daddy Ringtail said, because there was a hole in the wall of the chicken house. It was about as big around as a baseball bat.

"Why," Daddy Ringtail said, "there's only one somebody in the whole forest who is small enough to crawl through the hole and carry the eggs away."

one to do it. His body was long like a baseball bat, and just about as little around.

While Daddy Ringtail thought about it, and while he looked at the hole in the wall, who should crawl through but Skeezy Weenie. He came all the way inside before he saw Daddy Ringtail standing there. He started to turn around again and go out, but Daddy Ringtail stopped him with a whistle Skeezy wagged his tail.

Skeezy's nose was pointing straight ahead, while he looked up with his eyes so brown. He barked a friendly little bark that seemed to say no and no indeed, and of course he hadn't been getting the eggs. But why had he come to the chicken house if not to get them again? How could he not be the one, since only he was small enough to crawl through the hole? He was going to tell you the rest tomorrow, but if you think Skeezy is the one, let's not be sure until we know. We must not be quick to decide an unhappy thing about anyone. Happy day!

COP'S A PIG FOR TROUBLE

ANADARKO, OKLA. — (AP) — Policeman Bill Johnson found two pigs running loose in the north-east residential district and spent a puffing few minutes before he roped them.

Then the frightened porkers dragged Johnson several more blocks before he finally got them loaded into a borrowed truck.

"I guess nothing more can happen now," he sighed as he got into the truck to drive the pigs to the police station. Johnson got a few blocks—and the truck ran out of gas.

Save Farmers, Not Campaign Pledges, CCC Official Urges

NEW YORK (AP)—A top Eisenhower Administration farm official said Monday it is more important to save farmers from ruinously low prices than to carry out campaign promises to reduce the government's role in agriculture.

President John H. Davis of the Agriculture Department's $4,750,000,000 Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) said farmers are in a crisis because of surpluses, declining yields and falling incomes.

"This makes it necessary, he said, for the government 'put into full effect' the farm programs that exist under present legislation. Even though these laws have 'weaknesses,' he said, there is not time to change them to meet the present emergency.

Roswell Nudges San Angelo, 2-1

SAN ANGELO.—(AP)—Combining three of their nine hits for two runs in the sixth inning, the Roswell Rockets edged the San Angelo Colts Sunday, 2-1.

The game was a tight pitching duel between left-hander Orlando Torres of the Rockets and Mario Saldana of the Colts.

Torres, used sparingly by Manager Pat Stacey this season, allowed the San Angeloans but seven hits and was never in danger except in the final frame when the Colts bunched three of their hits for one run and had the tying and winning men on base.

The Rockets broke the scoreless deadlock in the sixth when Wayne Crawford led off the sixth with a hit to right that took a bad bounce over right fielder Steve Pollet's head and rolled to the wall for a double. Stacey promptly singled to center, Crawford scoring from second.

Modesto Perez sacrificed Stacey to second from where he scored on Al Valdes' single to right.

The Colts could do nothing with the offerings of Torres until one man was retired in the ninth. Then John Malgrini and Glenn Burns hit consecutive singles, and after Pollet had flied out, John Jeandron drove another single to left to tie Malgrini.

Torres got out with the win when Pinch-hitter Bill Ewen flied deep to center.

The same two clubs play Monday with Tito Arencibia (7-5) going for Roswell against Ben Bonine (8-4) for San Angelo.

Blair Scheduled To Pitch Against Malone In Finale

By ABE WEINER
Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff

Pitchers know that the way to win ball games is to out-think the hitters. Fred Smith proved it Saturday night when he kept Artesia off stride with a sore-arm nothing ball placed perfectly out of reach of Driller bats.

Sunday, Max Newcom headed the advice of Midland Manager Jay Haney and Catcher Art Bowland on how to pitch to Carlsbad hitters and thereby duplicated Smith's artistic hurling.

Newcom was able to buffet Carlsbad, 11-2, primarily due to a hopping fast ball, superb control, and excellent advice on what to throw. He yielded eight hits—three more than Smith—but three of those were of the scratch variety. He walked three Potashers, failing to get the benefit of could-be strikes on two of them, and struck out 10.

The 671 fans who paid to watch one of the best-pitched games in Indian Park this season took particular delight in Newcom's rough treatment of Ike Jackson, the Carlsbad catcher who hit 10 for 10 at one stretch in his last appearance here.

Jackson hit a slow roller to third in the first inning and beat it out for a hit, but then had to swing at a bad pitch—for him, that is—to lift a pop out to center. Twice afterwards he went down swinging, and finally hit into a force out which ended the game.

If the Indians Monday can get that kind of pitching from Ralph Blair—who has pitched two fine games in his last two tries—they can end their second home stand in a row with four straight victories. Blair puts his 8-5 mark on the line against Audie Malone, Pat McLaughlin's probable pitcher for Carlsbad.

While Carlsbad was having fits trying to solve Newcom's offerings, Midland had no trouble fathoming Marshall Epperson. They chased the big lefty in less than two innings on five hits, three walks and an error for six runs. Clint Rogas, who succeeded him, quieted the Tribe from the second inning until the seventh when Shortstop Gene Grant's error, permitted two runs to count and gave the Indians new life after two were down.

Bowland's triple and De la Torre's double counted the final Midland tally in the eighth.

Earlier, Midland jumped out to a 1-1 lead in the first on Stephenson's walk. Bowland's scratch hit, De la Torre's single, a walk to Brown, Dalla Betta's single and Diaz' ground out to second.

Carlsbad picked up an unearned run in the second when Pedro Ocorio singled, and Bill Brown kicked Woody Pennington's single to right and Diaz picked the ball up and dropped it.

In Midland's half, Newcom walked, Scooter Hughes singled and both runners moved up when Bob Hobbs let the ball get away in center field. Bowland plated both runners with a single.

Newcom was saved from a run in the fifth when Dalla Betta came up with the fielding gem of the season. With runners on first and second and two out, Elias Ocorio smote a fast ball through the box. Dalla Betta, playing deep, slanted to a spot 10 feet behind second, caught the ball back-handed and miraculously tossed to Hughes in one motion for a force out at second ending the threat.

Goody Gholson tabbed Newcom for a pinch-hit home run over the scoreboard in the ninth for Carlsbad's second marker.

Haley's Blast Beats Odessa

ODESSA.—(AP)—Artesia's Bill Haley bounced a homer off the left field scoreboard in the eleventh inning Sunday to break a scoreless ball game and give the Drillers a 2-0 victory over the Odessa Oilers. Joe Bauman followed Haley with a single. Les Mulcahy fanned, Joe Fortin walked and Hernandez Sanchez then singled home Bauman for the final tally.

The Oilers' Wes Ortiz had a no-hitter going for 7.2 innings, facing 23 men, but it was broken up when Fortin singled in the eighth.

Odessa had the bases loaded three times with only one away, but couldn't score against Len Ruyke.

Hare Beats Youth For Angelo Crown

SAN ANGELO.—(AP)—John Hare, Jr., of Goodfellow Air Force Base brought the trophy of the annual San Angelo Country Club Invitation Golf Tournament back home for the first time since the 1930's Sunday with a 1-up victory over Mickey Canon of San Angelo.

Hare had to go the full 36 holes to do it. However, in a battle with a 19-year-old who refused to recognize pressure. The match was even at the end of the morning 18 holes and still even at the end of 27. Hare went 2-up with birdies on the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth holes, and was never behind.

John Thornton of San Angelo won the championship consolation title with a 1-up decision over Bob Bean of Abilene.

Other winners were Arlyn Scott of Odessa, first flight; Lynn Spurgeon of Uvalde, first flight consolation; Jay Abbott of San Angelo, second flight; Slick Hall of Midland, second consolation; Lawrence Bledsoe of San Angelo, third flight; Joe Coronado of San Angelo, third consolation; Bob Roberts of Big Spring, fourth flight; C. K. Koen of Plainview, fourth consolation; Arnold Loudermilk of San Angelo, fifth flight; Cecil Arthur of San Angelo, fifth consolation; Ray Phillips of Big Spring, sixth flight; Lew Cavin of Dallas, sixth consolation; Hal B. Sims of San Angelo, seventh flight; H. D. Callahan of San Angelo, seventh consolation; Jerome Roberts of Abilene, eighth flight; and George Jackson of San Angelo, eighth consolation.

Hall, in winning the second flight consolation to become the only Midland entry to gain the final round, defeated Roy Collins of Eldorado, 2 and 1, in the semi-finals and then beat Beecher Montgomery of Odessa, by the same count.

Dean Franks Paces Austin's 9-0 Win

By The Associated Press
Dean Franks, a former Roswell pitcher, clubbed two hits and hurled shutout baseball Sunday as Austin knocked Tyler out of first place in the Big State League.

Austin won 9-0; Tyler Thursday fell into second behind Bryan. Bryan edged Wichita Falls, 4-3.

Dutch Schroeder singled to score Hayden White, another former Longhorn Leaguer, in giving Temple a 14-inning, 2-1, win over Longview. Jesse Priest, the winner, and Ed McLish, hurried all the way.

Texarkana stopped Paris, 10-1.

Betsy Rawls Ties Record, Wins Play-Off

NEW YORK.—(AP)—By winning the first Women's Open Championship of the United States Golf Association, Betsy Rawls has just about proved that it is possible for a girl to have anything.

Three years ago she was graduated from the University of Texas with a Phi Beta Kappa key and a strong desire to become a top-flight golfer. Now she has the biggest title a woman golfer can win and a comfortable bankroll and good looks, too.

When Miss Rawls beat Jackie Pung of Hawaii and Glasgow, Ky., 71-77 in Sunday's 18-hole title play-off after they had tied at 302 in a thrilling three-way finish Saturday, the continuation of the Women's Open as a USGA tournament was assured. It was the climax of a highly successful experiment.

Despite a rather small entry list, the tournament drew good crowds—more than 2,000 for the playoff—and the players were delighted with the course and the conduct of the event. They'd like to play often on real championship courses.

Miss Rawls, who said she was hitting her wood shots better than ever before during the tournament, has rounds of 75-75-75 for the regulation 72 holes and then tied the brand new course record with her 34-37-71 in the play-off.

Yankees, Braves Collapsing

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Moaning Milwaukee fans were crying in their beers Monday over the collapse of their beloved Braves but their gloom was shared by millions of New Yorkers who still cannot understand what has happened to their once high and mighty Yankees.

Seven straight defeats for the world champion Yankees, the same outfit that had rolled up 18 consecutive victories earlier this month apparently make a shambles of the American League race. A week ago the Yankees led by 11 1/2 games Monday, following their 4-1 defeat at the hands of Cleveland, the Yankees' seemingly insurmountable margin over the Indians has been whittled to six games. A loss to Detroit followed by three losses to Chicago and three to Cleveland did that.

Milwaukee's plight is even worse than the Yankees. The Braves, too, dropped in their seventh in a row Sunday, suffering an 11-1 rout by Brooklyn to lose first place to the Dodgers. Just seven days ago, they were enjoying a comfortable three-game bulge. But a loss to New York followed by three beatings by Pittsburgh and three more by Brooklyn plummeted them out of the National League lead. The two league races tightened considerably following Sunday's results. The rambling White Sox topped Boston, 13-4, to climb within 1 1/2 games of the Yankees. The third place White Sox now have won seven straight and 14 of their last 15. Philadelphia's Phillies halted St. Louis' march with an 11-inning, 4-3 triumph over the Cardinals to close within four games of the league-leading Dodgers. The Cardinals remained in third place, one game behind the Braves and two in back of Brooklyn.

thumped the Chicago Cubs, 18-2, to wind up their Western swing with nine victories in 13 games. Although still in fifth place, the resurging Giants are only 7 1/2 games off the pace.

Cincinnati's improved Redlegs shelved the Pittsburgh Pirates twice, 4-1 and 3-1. Two American League doubleheaders ended in splits. Philadelphia's Athletics nipped the Browns, 2-1 after St. Louis had won the opener, 4-1. Detroit whipped Washington, 5-1 after the Senators had copped the first game, 5-2.

Al Rosen's three-run homer and Earl Wynn's three-hit pitching gave the Indians a sweep of their three-game series with the Yankees. New York had won its previous seven games with Cleveland. Rosen's homer followed singles by Dale Mitchell and Bobby Avila in the first inning when Cleveland knocked Whitey Ford out of the box. Wynn helped win his eighth game with a home run in the fourth.

The losing streak is the longest for the Yankees since the 1945 club dropped nine in a row under Joe McCarthy.

A five-run fourth inning climaxed by Minnie Minoso's three-run homer was all Virgil Trucks needed to post his second victory since he joined the White Sox two weeks ago. Chicago banged out 18 hits off loser Willard Nixon and three relievers.

The Dodgers really lowered the boom on the Braves. They backed up Russ Meyer's four-hit pitching with 16 hits that included five doubles, two triples and a home run. Granny Hamner's seventh-inning double followed by two infield hits produced the winning Philadelphia run over the Cardinals. Kellie Hal White, who had allowed only one hit from the sixth to the seventh, was charged with the loss.

Pitcher Carl Scheib singled following Catcher Joe Astroth's two-out triple in the ninth to give the A's their 2-1 triumph. Clint Courtney drove in three St. Louis runs with a pair of singles and his first home run of the season to lead the Browns to their first game victory.

Milwaukee Players Pressing--Grimm

MILWAUKEE (AP)—When the hitters don't hit and the pitchers become just throwers, you start losing the games you were winning before.

That's the plight of the Milwaukee Braves, who came home from a roadtrip 13 days ago in a virtual tie for the National League lead and took off Monday for a short junket with a seven-game losing streak and a second-place ranking.

The latest touch was Sunday's 11-1 pasting by Brooklyn, in which five Milwaukee hurlers were clouted for 16 hits, eight for extra bases. Why should a team which set the Eastern end of the league on its ears a fortnight ago suddenly go into a tailspin?

"We stopped hitting," says Manager Charlie Grimm. "And we stopped getting the kind of pitching we had earlier. That's all."

"But don't give up on these guys. The kids are starting to press a little, I think, but I'll stick with 'em all the way. We'll be back and don't forget it."

The miseries hit Milwaukee with arrival of the New York Giants, got worse when the then-tallied Pittsburgh Pirates moved in and stayed that way with Brooklyn on hand.

The batting slump of most of the regulars was far from trivial. Young Eddie Mathews, the slugging third baseman, dropped 29 points from 317 to 288; Del Crandall fell off 24 points, from 220 to 196, and Joe Adcock 21, down to 266. The fact the pitching platoon suddenly turned into a squad of throwers shows up best in the complete game department. Only three pitchers went the route during the 13-game home tour.

Colts Hand Grandfalls Nine First Defeat By Texas Team

Using one big inning and 15 hits, the Midland Colts Sunday handed the Grandfalls-Monahans Eagles their first baseball defeat by a Texas team.

The Eagles, once loser to Piedras Negras, suffered their second loss this season, 14-7, despite collecting 14 hits for themselves.

Midland's club bunched its runs more effectively, however, and stretched them for extra bases. Midland, in the second inning, mixed in six hits for seven runs. One pitcher, Frank Sanchez, absorbed all of the Colt's batting fury. He gave up a one-run homer to Joe Chavez, Colt manager, and

INDIANS ADD LEE VELARDE

A Midland boy, 20-year-old Lee Velarde, has been signed to a baseball contract with the Midland Indians, the baseball club announced Sunday.

Velarde, a city employe, previously had played four years with the Colts, semi-pro club here. He will be used as both an infielder and outfielder with the Indians, Manager Jay Haney said.

Davis' Third Record Jump Goes In Book

DAYTON, OHIO (AP)—It paid off with a world track record for skyrocketing Walt (Buddy) Davis, former Texas A&M basketball star, to remain an amateur.

The six-foot-eight-inch Davis, now owner of the world high jump mark of six-feet-11 1/2, declined a pro basketball bid after his graduation last year. Davis, 23, set his new record in the National AAU track championship, which ended Saturday with nine new meet marks and two records tied.

There was reason for Davis to stay amateur last year. It enabled him to win the Olympic championship with a record 6-4 1/4 leap.

But Davis continued to turn a deaf ear on offers to more richly exploit his fine basketball talent in the pro ranks. He had his sight set on Lee Steers' 1941 world high jump record of 6-11.

Last year and again this Spring, Davis was denied the world record when inefficient officiating or measurement of the take-off level nullified his efforts. Then came his record smashing leap on his third and final try Saturday.

New Home Finance Plan Approved By Midlanders

A congressional move to lower down-payment requirements for FHA mortgage loans on low and medium-priced homes and to extend the repayment period from 25 to 30 years brought praise Monday from many Midland real estate dealers.

Senate-House committee treatment, would give the President power to lower down-payment requirements as low as five per cent on houses costing up to $12,000 and to extend the repayment period when he finds it necessary in the national interest and to bolster the building industry.

Monday thought such a move would make it easier for people to own homes.

Tax Maneuvers—

announcement was that the leadership had determined by private canvass that this would be done.

Reed said he was "disappointed" at the statement of members who now say they would vote to report the bill from the Ways and Means committee but who had opposed that action previously.

The Ways and Means Republicans—Representatives Simpson (Pa.), Martin (Iowa) and Curtis (Neb.) had told the House they would do all they could to bring the tax extension bill out in an orderly way.

"TAR" IS FEATHERED—Adm. Robert E. Carney, commander of Allied forces in southern Europe, dons the feathered hat of Italy's Bersaglieri Regiment. Carney took part in the celebration during his farewell visit to his NATO command. He is to be the new U. S. Chief of Naval Operations.

It was plain, however, that committee members on whom Reed had counted were ready to bow to the Administration on the issue.

Indications were that the Ways and Means Committee would meet soon.

House Cheers Reed

Halleck told the House, in effect, that he did not expect the tax bill to get to the floor this week.

Reed hinted at an early meeting of his committee.

If Reed called a meeting, ostensibly on other matters, it would eliminate any necessity for the petition method of forcing a session, and so might save "face" for the chairman.

A number of committee members told the House they were certain the Ways and Means group would handle the matter.

The House gave Reed a standing ovation of handclaps and cheers.

Reed demanded a showdown vote then and there, saying it was a matter of principle as opposed to expediency.

"Let's get the vote now and see where you stand," he said. "Stand up like men."

It was time for the House to settle by its own vote, he said, whether the prerogatives of committees can be "usurped" as he claimed the GOP leadership was seeking to do in this case.

Committee Votes Switched

For the House not to settle the issue head-on, he said, would be to keep "a sword of Damocles" hanging over the heads of all committees.

Despite Reed's opposition, his committee could be forced to meet and vote on the tax bill by a petition signed by a majority of the 35-man group.

The indication from Halleck's

Two House Probing Units Open Hearings On Kansas City Labor

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—Two House committees Monday delved into a labor dispute that has tied up all major construction projects in the Kansas City area for a month.

Hearings starting Monday are expected to run through Thursday.

Rep. Whit Smith (R-Kan.), chairman of a House subcommittee on labor and education, said federal and county prosecuting attorneys would be invited to attend the hearings.

The government operations committee, headed by Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.), is the other congressional group joining in the probe.

The principal issue in the dispute, which has idled an estimated 25,000 workers, has been the scope of jurisdiction of building trades unions. Construction projects running into millions of dollars have been held up, including several major defense jobs.

Eight-Day Search Produces No Clues On Missing Girl

NORWALK, CALIF.—(AP)—Nine days ago blue-eyed Stella Darlene Nolan, eight, disappeared while playing near her foster mother's refreshment stand at a shopping center.

Monday, sheriff's homicide Capt. F. W. Rosenberg admitted, "We're no closer to a solution now than we were on the night Stella disappeared. After an eight-day search I am convinced that the child was taken by someone she knew and trusted. We are now trying to trace all of her possible acquaintances."

Retiring A-Boss Asks More Publicity On U. S. Stockpile

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gordon Dean, retiring this week as chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, said Sunday there is no question U. S. atomic strength is greater than that of the Russians. But he said there is danger the Russians may not realize that.

"I for one believe that our stockpile has really been a deterrent to a third world war," Dean said on an NBC television program. "However, the greatest tragedy that could possibly come to this country in my mind would be for Russia to see off a third world war, having minimized our own atomic strength and acting on this miscalculation."

He renewed his plea for release of more information on the relative atomic stockpiles of the two countries.

Bones From Woman's Skeleton Discovered

CORPUS CHRISTI—(AP)—They found parts of what appeared to be a woman's skeleton Sunday in the sand dunes on a lonely part of Padre Island.

The remains included a pelvis, two leg bones, a rib and part of a skull. Investigating officers could not estimate their age.

Unique Clue To U. S. Future Told By Hard-Walking Harry

NEW YORK—(AP)—Harry S. Truman took a perspiration-soaked constitutional along the sidewalks of New York Monday morning and between handshakes explained his fast-stepping ritual.

"It's not a showoff walk," he told newsmen and photographers, "although you fellows have tried to make me look that way. I walk solely for the exercise."

The former President clocked off 19 mid-town blocks—a short mile—in 25 minutes including stops for autograph signing, shaking hands and exchanging greetings with people who hailed him with "Hi, Harry" along the way.

It was a steamy morning and Truman duffed his Panama near the end of the hike to mop his brow. Back at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel where he is staying, some of the newsmen asked for autographs.

"This country is sure going to hell when photographers start asking for autographs," Truman grinned as he obliged.

Ground-Breaking Ceremony Held By Calvary Baptists

First ground was broken Sunday morning for a new auditorium and additional educational space for the Calvary Baptist Church in a ceremony attended by more than 300 members of the church's congregation and church officials.

Immediately following the 11 a.m. worship service, the Rev. Leon Woods, pastor, led the congregation outside the church for the ceremony.

Members of the building and finance committees were present. The building and steering committee is composed of J. R. Richardson, chairman, and Ford Faulkner, Larry Burnside, Mrs. E. A. Wells, and Glynis Stewart.

The finance committee consists of Ford Faulkner, chairman, Larry Burnside, Doyle Thomas and John Littrell.

J. R. Richardson then read a paper entitled "Progress Along the Way," bringing up to date the activities of the committees. Rev. Woods read a verse of scripture and the actual ground-breaking took place.

Dedicator prayers were led by the Rev. A. E. Lightfoot, superintendent of city missions for the Permian Basin Baptist Association. After the ceremonies, a basket lunch was held on the church grounds.

Construction work on the auditorium and educational addition is expected to begin in the immediate future, officials said, and is expected to be completed within six months.

The cost has been estimated at $70,000.

12 Senators Offer Drouth Relief Act

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Twelve senators Monday introduced a "drouth disaster relief act" which would authorize government loans to farmers and stockmen at four per cent interest and would provide for federal purchase of feed and other supplies for resale to farmers.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) introduced the bill with 11 other senators as co-sponsors.

At the same time, Johnson put into the Congressional Record a June 28 letter to him from President Eisenhower in which Eisenhower said he would ask Congress for new legislation if he found present laws inadequate to deal with the Southwestern drouth situation.

Condemned Airman Faces Death Alone

VERNON—(AP)—Walter E. Whitaker, Jr., faced a death sentence alone Monday.

The handsome, 21-year-old Hartford, Conn., youth, given the death penalty Saturday night for strangling his girl friend, told his parents goodbye Sunday through the bars of a jail.

Whitaker was convicted of murder with malice in the slaying of a Lubbock High School senior, Joyce Fern White. The youth was formerly an airman at Lubbock's Reese Air Force Base.

His lawyers say they will appeal.

Drouth-Stricken Cattlemen Eye Aid Plans, Cloudy Skies

DALLAS—(AP)—Farmers and ranchers of drouth-devastated Texas Monday had their eyes cocked on two important developments. One is an aster relief program due to be announced in Washington and promising clouds that started mantling the state.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who over the weekend inspected Texas drouth areas and conferred with farmers, ranchers and state officials, promised before returning to the capital that he would announce the details of the Administration's emergency program in Washington Monday.

The clouds brought only light rains to East Texas but they rode on new winds that took the edge off the heat wave and brought promise of nicking the drouth over the state.

Employment Security Group Given State Record Trophy

E. W. Krizan of San Angelo, state president of the International Association of Personnel in Employment Security, was in Midland Saturday night to award permanent possession of a state loving cup to the San Angelo Chapter of that organization, judged the most outstanding chapter for the past two years.

The San Angelo Chapter, meeting the Texas Employment Commission offices here, also received its national charter.

Other awards presented Saturday included the Paul C. Winner Scroll for achievement in its 100 per cent membership drive, a certificate of achievement presented to H. B. Randolph of Abilene, state membership chairman, for obtaining 100 per cent membership in the state, and an award for conducting an education institute for employment security personnel.

Krizan then gave a report on a recent meeting in Milwaukee, Wis. of the international organization, followed by the principal speaker, Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

"Self confidence," said Downing, "is the best weapon against fear and uncertainty."

The speaker outlined the dangers of fear and the need for self confidence and the willingness to do one's own job—not shirking from responsibility.

Downing was introduced by Johnny Bechtel, Midland manager of the Texas Employment Commission.

A film, "The Birth of an Oil Field," shown by Lloyd Nokker of the Shell Oil Company, concluded the program.

Seaman Killed, Two Injured As Tanker Rams Freighter

BARNEGAT CITY, N. J. (AP)—A Brazilian freighter and an oil tanker collided in a thick fog off the New Jersey coast Sunday night, killing one Brazilian seaman who made a futile attempt to avert a disaster.

Two other crewmen of the freighter Loide Panama were slightly hurt.

Twenty-four crewmen of the freighter, taken to New York City by a Coast Guard cutter, told the story of their shipmate's death.

A 5,400-ton freighter, with a cargo of coffee, put out from New York for Philadelphia Sunday morning. She encountered thick fog Sunday night.

Twelve miles off the Jersey coast, Aristides Bitos Dos Santos, 33, of Rio De Janeiro, an ordinary seaman, saw the fully loaded 10,100-ton oil tanker Cullfrade, bearing down on his ship's starboard side, amidships.

Tried To Ease Blow
Instantly he ran to the point for which the tanker was headed and attempted to put a heavy hump bumper over the side to lessen the oncoming blow.

At that moment the tanker struck. Dos Santos was killed instantly, his shipmates said.

Twenty-six were taken off by another freighter, the African Endeavor. Two of these were taken to the Barnegat, N. J. Coast Guard station. The remaining 24 were landed in New York by a coast guard cutter.

As the Loide Panama drifted helpless Monday, crewmen smiled and waved to rescue ships from the slanting deck. The decks were not awash at any point.

Missing Man Sought
A light rain, punctuated by thunder and lightning, lashed the water as two Coast Guard cutters, helicopters and a twin-engine flying boat combed the sea in a search for the missing man.

The accident occurred in one of the most heavily traveled shipping lanes in the world, and radio appeals for help were answered immediately.

Coast Guard life boats and picket boats dotted the area, as well as lifeboats from the African Endeavor, which took its rescued men on into New York, 48 miles north.

Two Brazilian men who were injured were picked up and brought into Barnegat, where they were transferred by ambulance to the Marine Hospital on Staten Island, N. Y.

Taft Asks Delay On Budget Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) Monday urged that the Senate postpone any further cuts in the Administration's $5,318,000,000 foreign aid program until later action by its appropriations committee.

In advance of the opening of debate on the program Monday, the Ohioan said he feels the place to make any fight for fund reductions will come when the Senate considers a bill for actually providing the money which would be authorized in the pending measure.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the authorization bill, which would set a ceiling on the amount of military and technical assistance to be given U. S. Allies. Taft said he believes the appropriations committee headed by Senator Bridges (R-NH) is in a "much better position" to decide how much money actually should be spent.

Taft said he expects the Senate to write into the bill a provision giving President Eisenhower authority to withhold funds from U. S. Allies who fail to take necessary steps to shore up their own defenses.

This would replace a provision in the House-approved $4,998,000,000 foreign aid bill under which a billion dollars would be withheld until six Western European nations ratify the European Defense Community (EDC) treaties clearing the way for formation of a unified army.

Water Usage Limit Fixed

ANDREWS—Andrews residents, who went under compulsory water rationing this week, are being supplied with water through the combined efforts of city, county and school officials.

The City of Andrews purchases its water from the Andrews Independent School District and is served by an eight-inch main from wells owned by the school system, five and one-half miles north of town.

In anticipation of a critical summer demand, the school district reconditioned its wells and installed and overhauled six pumps to serve the city, but the pumps periodically suck the wells-dry and the school district has turned to a new water source, one and one-half miles north of the present well field. It has completed one of two wells to be drilled there.

The County, meanwhile, has offered the city the water in three wells recently drilled in county-owned Roberts Park to furnish water for construction of a proposed butane by-pass route around the city.

An ordinance has been adopted by the City Council, providing fines of from $10 to $200, which will allow outside water use to one-half of the town three days a week, to the other half three days a week and to the schools on Sunday.

Texan's Skill In Jet Plane Saves Healthy Wad Of Taxes

ABOARD THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER BOXER (AP)—Lt. (jg) Eddie I. Coleman of Overton, Texas, saved the government a wad of money the other day with a sensational landing on the carrier Boxer.

Returning from a reconnaissance mission over North Korea, Coleman discovered the nose gear on his Navy Banshee jet would not lower. This meant he had to land on two wheels instead of three.

Housed in the nose section of his jet were some of the finest cameras in the world, fragile, hand-made precision equipment used to map the battle zone from high altitudes at high speed.

Coleman set his plane down on the carrier deck where his arresting hook would grip the deck cables just as the wheels touched the deck. Cable pressure prevented the plane's nose from tipping forward. As the plane teetered off balance, a flight deck crew weighted down the tail while another crewman lowered the jammed nose gear.

There was a tiny scratch on the bottom of the plane's nose but Coleman's skill in landing had saved all the expensive photographic equipment from damage.

Gasoline Plant To Be Built In R&H Field Of Nolan

SWEETWATER—Contract for construction of a gasoline plant northwest of Sweetwater's city airport on city property is to be let this week by Rowan and Hope, oil operators.

Plans call for a plant to process from two to five million cubic feet of gas daily from the Rowan and Hope (Strawn) field, with plans to increase the plant to handle 10 million cubic feet daily later.

The city commission has approved a lease of slightly more than three acres of land on the northwest slope of the airport. Lease price is $1 a year for the life of the refinery, not to exceed 50 years. The city has five wells on its property in the field.

Rowan and Hope expect to have the new gasoline plant in operation by October 1, making propane, butane, gasoline, and selling residue gas to pipelines. The field now has 27 producers.
