Chewing Gum Goes Into Picnic Basket

When your family gets that old picnic "urge," it's time for you to start planning. And here's a tip that will add a little extra fun to your picnic basket. Just drop in a few handy packs of chewing gum.

After the picnic lunch, watch that gum disappear. It's like magic! You'll find Dad lounging against a shade tree somewhere, chewing to his heart's content. He knows that the pleasant chewing helps him relax and enjoy those hours away from work. Sis will have some gum, too. She likes the clean, fresh feeling it gives her mouth. Of course, Junior will manage to take care of his share of the gum. He doesn't need a reason, he just loves to chew.

And Mom, chewing gum is a beautiful, wholesome treat that won't spoil picnic appetites. When you're making up your picnic shopping list, be sure to include plenty of chewing gum for added enjoyment.

Barnes Completes West Steputo To Field In Andrews

J. C. Barnes of Midland has completed a steputo to the Wichita-Albany producing area of the multipay Nelson field of Central-West Andrews County.
 The new producer is No. 2-C Lineberry. It was originally carried as No. 2-E Lineberry.
 On potential test the well flowed 24 hours through a one-quarter-inch tubing choke and made 217 barrels of 37.2-gravity oil per day. Gas-oil ratio was 1,100-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 350 pounds.
 Production is coming from Wichita-Albany perforations between 7,300 and 7,340 feet which had been washed with 250 gallons of acid. Casing is cemented at 7,400 feet, which is the plugged back depth.
 No. 2-C Lineberry was drilled to a total depth of 10,584 feet in the Ellenburger. That zone made water and had no commercial production.
 Location is 1,650 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 4, block A-40, psi survey and 12 miles southeast of Eunice. It is on the west side of the Nelson pool.

Sun Slates Two More Projects In Mitchell Area

Sun Oil Company is to start operations at once on two steputos to the proven area of the Jameson, North (Strawn Sand) field in Southeast Mitchell County.
 The projects are both on Anderson land. They are 22 miles southeast of Colorado City and 16 1/2 miles northwest of Robert Lee.
 Sun No. 4-A B. Anderson will be 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 230, block 1-A, H&TC survey.
 Sun No. 5-A B. Anderson will be 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 230, block 1-A, H&TC survey.
 Both explorations are slated to dig to 6,300 feet to test the pay section of the Jameson, North (Strawn Sand) field.

Honolulu Completes Three New Producers In NW Terry Field

Honolulu Oil Corporation has reported potential tests for three projects in the Prentice field of Northwest Terry County.
 The concern's No. 2-B Alexander was completed for a daily flow of 456 barrels of 33.1-gravity oil through a one-half-inch choke and from open hole section at 5,870-5,920 feet.
 Gas-oil ratio was 135-1 and tubing pressure 145 pounds. Pay was acidized with 6,000 gallons.
 Location is 2,004 feet from south and 2,020 feet from west lines of section 18, block K, psi survey.
 Honolulu No. 4-B Alexander, 2,420 feet from north and 540 feet from

Grayburg Opener In NE Crockett Area Is Finaled

Harry J. Russell has completed his No. 1 Winnie Puckett Martin as a small pumping discovery from the Grayburg in Northeast Crockett County.
 The wildcat was finalized for a 24-hour pumping potential of 7.5 barrels of oil plus 66 per cent water. Gravity of the oil was 31 degrees and there was no gas.
 Production is from perforations at 1,149-1,161 feet which were treated with a total of 500 gallons of acid.

The well was drilled to a total depth of 1,167 feet and five and one-half inch casing was set at 1,161 feet.
 The Grayburg was topped at 1,149 feet on an elevation of 2,526 feet.
 Location of this new discovery is 330 feet from north and 2,310 feet from west lines of section 39, block OF, GC&SF survey and eight miles north and slightly west of Ozona.

Gulf Schedules New Test For HSA Field Of NE Ward

Gulf Oil Corporation No. 14 W. A. Estes is a new exploration for the HSA (Lower O'Brien Sand) field in Northeast Ward County.
 It is six miles southwest of Monahans and 330 feet from north and 990 feet from east lines of section 26, block B-19, psi survey.
 Drilling to 3,100 feet with rotary tools is to start at once.

Central Coleman Gets New Tester

Moore & Gilmore of Midland have staked location for a 3,200-foot wildcat in Central Coleman County.
 It is No. 1 L. S. West and is 330 feet from north and 920 feet from west lines of section 40, BBB&C survey.
 That makes it five miles northeast of Valera.
 Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once. Elevation at drillsite is 1,805 feet.

Abilene Man Will Dig Runnels Test

J. B. Schick of Abilene has staked location for a 5,000-foot wildcat in West-Central Runnels County as his No. 1 Nora McCaughan.
 Location is 872 feet from north and 330 feet from east lines of section 14, Thomas Fowler survey No. 440 and seven miles southwest of Winters.
 That makes its one-half mile southeast of production in the McCaughan field.
 Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

Sinclair Will Drill Steputo To Opener Of Schleicher Pool

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company announced location for a steputo to the discovery well of the University 101 (Ellenburger) field in Northwest Schleicher.
 The new project will be drilled as No. 1-100 University.
 Drillsite is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block 84, University Land survey.
 It is slated for an 8,200-foot bottom.

Magnolia Preparing To DST Wildcat In NW Hudspeth Area

Magnolia Petroleum Company was preparing to take a drillsite test in dolomite at No. 1-39881 University of Texas, wildcat in extreme Northwest Hudspeth County.
 Drillsite test from 3,058 to 3,192 feet failed to develop oil or gas shows.
 Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 35 feet of drilling mud.
 Operator drilled to 3,213 feet where another drillsite test is underway.
 Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 19, block C, University survey.

Southern Production Abandons Otero Test

Southern Production Company has plugged and abandoned No. 1 Cloudcroft, wildcat in Otero County, on total depth of 4,701 feet in dolomite and sand.
 The project was quit after operator plugged back to 2,500 feet and tested above that point without developing production.
 Location was 2,310 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 5-17a-12c.

Confusion On Closing For July 4 Holiday Observance Clearing

The confusion which existed a few days ago among oil companies with offices in Midland regarding the observance of the Independence Day holiday was clearing up considerably Wednesday.
 The fact that the holiday—July 4—comes on Saturday, a day when most oil offices are closed regularly—caused the confusion.
 A survey of 40 companies and independent operators Wednesday morning revealed that 20 of them will close Friday for the holiday.
Three To Close Monday
 Three companies will close on Monday. Seven concerns will not take any extra holiday and five companies had not received any orders as to what to do about the matter.
 Among those which will close their Midland offices on Friday are: Phillips Petroleum Company, The Ohio Oil Company, Argo Oil Corporation, Sun Oil Company, Shell Oil Company, Amerada Petroleum Corporation, Cities Service Oil Company, Forest Oil Corporation, Magnolia Petroleum Company, Humble Oil & Refining Company, exploration department, The Texas Company, The Superior Oil Company, Honolulu Oil Corporation, Union Oil Company of California, Others On List.
 The Blackwood & Nichols Company, Tennessee Production Company, United States Smelting, Refining & Mining Company, Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware, Brinkerhoff Drilling Company, Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation, The Atlantic Refining Company, and Herman & George Brown, independents.
 Concerns which will close Monday, July 6, to observe Independence Day include, Gulf Oil Corporation, Stanolind Oil & Gas Company, Ashland Oil & Refining Company and C. L. Hay, independent.
 Oil companies that will be closed all day Saturday, which ordinarily work the forenoon part of that day, include Richardson & Bass and The Pure Oil Company.
No Extra Day
 Concerns which do not plan to take an extra time off for the holiday include Sohio Petroleum Company, Lion Oil Company, Humble, production and pipe line departments; Fryer-Hanson Drilling Company, Skelly Oil Company, Standard Oil Company of Texas, and Plymouth Oil Company.
 Oil concerns which had not been given specific orders Wednesday as to what to do about observing the holiday were Guy Mabee Drilling Company, Sinclair Oil & Gas Company, Tide Water Associated Oil Company, Southern Production Company and Sunray Oil Corporation.
 The survey from which this report is taken did not include all oil concerns in Midland. It only covered companies and individuals who were called for regular oil activity reports.

Guerrant To Teach Bible In Virginia

Midlander's Brother Dies

Funeral services are slated tentatively for Friday at the Boston Avenue Methodist Church, Tulsa, for Dr. John Ben Holland, professor and oil man and brother-in-law of Mrs. John D. Freeman, Jr., 1204 South Weatherford Street, who died Sunday in Havana, Cuba.

Dr. Holland, a professor of sociology and anthropology at Michigan State University in Lansing, Mich., was in Cuba on a research assignment. He was teaching short courses to Pan American students at the University of Havana.

The former Tulsa was an active member of the Red Cross organization, serving as chief of a rehabilitation and post-war work program for veterans at Michigan State. He was an assistant field director at San Marcos before going overseas as a field director.

During World War II, he served on Saipan and Tinian, and returned to the United States in 1945.

Dr. Holland was with the first troops to invade the Marianas, and while in that island chain, established what is considered the first American broadcasting station in the Marianas. He also set up the first bingo game played in territory taken from the Japanese.

Seeking to provide diversions for wounded men, he borrowed a public address system from the Army's special service division and aired daily programs—featuring GI talent he found among the patients.

Dr. Holland was at one time a clerk in the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company research laboratory in Tulsa, and later assistant secretary of the Sands Petroleum Corporation.

Mrs. Freeman, accompanied by the Holland's mother-in-law left by plane Wednesday for Tulsa.

Other survivors include the widow, the former Beulah Goepfinger; one son, Paul; a daughter, Mary Margaret Holland; and the parents, Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Nesbitt of Sheridan, Mo.

Teachers Hear New Blasts On Censors, 'Book Burners'

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—A plea for freedom of expression in American classrooms as a continued "bulwark of democracy" was made Wednesday by Sarah C. Caldwell, president of the National Education Association.

The Akron, Ohio, schoolteacher made her plea in a speech prepared for the 6,000 delegates at the NEA convention. Resolutions condemning censorship of teachers, meanwhile, were being readied to present to the convention Friday.

"In our free public schools, we have the true instrument of human progress," said Mrs. Caldwell. "But such progress can continue only when the climate is right—when the air is cleared by forthright, open discussion."

Swivel Chair Gunman Sets New Bank Robbery Pattern

EVANSVILLE, IND.—The East Side branch of the Old National Bank was robbed of about $20,000 Tuesday by a gunman who relaxed in a swivel chair while a teller scooped the money into a bank bag.

The gunman, carrying either a shotgun or a submachine gun and wearing a Summer suit, sport shirt and snap-brimmed hat, was calm and cool as he forced four bank employees and a half dozen customers to lie on the bank floor.

He allowed only the teller to remain on his feet as he emptied cash drawers of small-denomination bills. W. C. Raney, bank manager, quoted the gunman as saying:

"I have a car around here. The best thing for you folks to do is lay there four or five minutes." Then he left saying, "Thank you," as he stepped through the door.

Party Chief Mitchell Sees Democratic House In 1954

DENTON.—Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell says his week-long tour of Texas is being made "to make sure that Texas will help elect a Democratic president in 1954."

Mitchell spoke in the city park here Tuesday night, his second speech on a flying tour. He is in Kilgore and Beaumont Wednesday. Visits in Bryan and Waco are scheduled Thursday.

"In this time of defeat we would broaden and build the Democratic Party on the solid rock of the Democratic South," Mitchell said. He forecast that his party would win control of the House two years from now and recapture the presidency in 1956.

Mitchell warned that falling crop and livestock prices could spread to other areas of the economy. He said the most disillusioned Republican voter is the farmer.

"He's worked harder this year for less money," Mitchell said.

The chairman said Democrats in Congress have supported President Eisenhower on many projects and will continue to support him non-

Labor Spokesman Blasts Governor's Drouth Aid Actions

EL PASO.—A labor spokesman denounced Governor Shivers and States' Rights leaders Tuesday for what he called inconsistency in asking federal drouth relief.

William McSorley, assistant director of the AFL's League for Political Action, told the Texas Federation of Labor convention the States' Rights policy is "the most dangerous threat to our country today."

McSorley said Shivers and Governors Mechem of New Mexico and Thornton of Colorado were States' Righters last year "when it was a matter of dough in the pocket."

"This year, when it's a matter of drouth relief," McSorley said, "they are quite willing to be Americans and accept relief from the central government."

McSorley's mention of Shivers brought a chorus of boos from the delegates.

Ralph Yarborough, beaten for governor by Shivers last Fall, said Texans should work out preparations for drouth cycles on the state level.

VFW Asks Hospital For Southern Texas

SAN ANTONIO.—Texas Veterans of Foreign Wars have asked the government to build a new VA hospital for South Texas.

New officers were to be elected at Wednesday's convention sessions. Fort Worth was picked for the 1954 gathering.

In resolutions Tuesday, the VFW asked for a hospital to serve 300,000 South Texas and Rio Grande Valley veterans.

Other resolutions asked: A 20 per cent differential disability payment for veterans disabled by combat wounds. Legislation to provide chiropractic services for veterans.

Summer season. Skies generally were clear.

Temperatures headed for the 90's and higher over wide areas of the scorched belt after a night of unseasonal readings. Record highs for the date were set Tuesday in many areas.

Rain brought at least temporary relief in some areas. Rain and wind storms in Michigan and Wisconsin Tuesday night resulted in the deaths of seven persons.

In Plentywood, Mont., a near cloudburst caused an estimated $300,000 damage to crops and property. Two persons were drowned and 400 others were forced from their homes as the cloudburst raised the tiny Elder Creek 20 feet in 20 minutes.

It was 95 degrees as far north as Minneapolis Tuesday. Chicago's 99 was a record for the date and the fifth daily heat record in June. A top of 99 was predicted for Wednesday.

Cooler weather in the country was along the Pacific Coast and the Northern Rockies. The hot spots were in the Southwest desert region. Top readings Tuesday were in the Southwest desert region. It was 115 at Gila Bend, Ariz., and 113 at Blythe, Calif.

Orchestra Program Planned Next Fall At Midland High

When school starts in September, Midland High School plans to initiate an orchestra program. But this program is dependent on a sufficient number of students enrolling, Band Director Ralph Mills pointed out Wednesday.

Classes will be offered for string instruction in violin, viola cello and string base. Students who are interested in the program are requested to call Mills at 4-6747 or High School Principal Don Mitchell at 2-1812.

Emphasis will be placed on developing string players. When this is accomplished, Mills said, wind and percussion players will be added from the hand to round out the orchestra instrumentation.

Avary Found Guilty On Assault Charges

MONAHAN — A two-day trial which featured packed hours of testimony and a matching courtroom drama ended Tuesday afternoon when J. C. Avary, clerk of the 109th District Court here, was found guilty of aggravated assault and a $750 fine recommended by a Ward County Court jury. The six-man jury deliberated for two hours.

Avary was charged in the beating of Velma Powell, 22, Monahan telephone operator and Korean War widow, who said both Avary and his wife, Helen, forced her into their car the night of February 14, and took her, against her will, to the Avary home where she was beaten by both the district clerk and his wife.

Mrs. Avary testified earlier that she beat Velma because of rumors the young widow had spread about the Avary's teenage stepdaughter, Patricia.

Fast Schedule May Prompt Senate's Foreign Aid Okay

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Republican leaders kept the Senate working on a stepped-up schedule Wednesday in hopes of winning final approval of a $5,318,000,000 foreign aid program without a single cut voted on the floor.

The pending measure merely sets a ceiling in the new fiscal year which started Wednesday.

In two days of debate so far, not a single reduction in the total has ever been proposed, something that has not happened in recent years in consideration of such measures.

Rebuttal witness Jack Stoneback of Monahan said he saw Velma four days after the beating and she had two bruises on her right arm in addition to those on her face. There were four closely spaced marks on one side and one of the other side of the arm, he said, which "could have" been made by a man's hand. Velma had testified that Avary grasped her by the right arm.

However, several senators have said they expect to try to slash heavily into the program when the actual money is up for debate later.

Prosecuting attorneys Tom White and Bob Ziesenheim compared the sizes of the two women.

Dr. Otto Munk and Dr. Fred Trout, state rebuttal witnesses, testified they had treated Mrs. Avary from time to time. She is five feet one and a half inches tall and weighs 102 pounds, they said, and was considered by them a "semi-invalid." They said they did not think it likely a woman of her size and physical condition could have knocked down the injured woman.

State attorneys also established Monday that Velma is a larger woman than Mrs. Avary, weighing more than 110 pounds.

Denials Registered
Two other witnesses, O. G. Rudy and Lawrence Henry, foreman and member, respectively, of the grand jury which investigated the case, were recalled Tuesday by the state.

Concerning the rumors, a deposition by Doyle Norman of the Marine Corps was read. Norman said he and a friend were in the cafe when Velma asked if they had heard certain stories about the Avary girl.

He stated, however, that he had heard the rumor in Pecos a month before the beating incident and before he knew Velma.

One other witness, Mrs. Nell Stewart, chief telephone operator, was called during the trial (in addition to several character witnesses). She testified that Mr. and Mrs. Avary came to her office the night of February 14, and told her they understood that Velma was spreading rumors about Patricia.

Mrs. Stewart said she told Avary that if Velma had listened in on the telephone she would be fired, but that Avary had told her he did not want the telephone company to take any disciplinary action, but that he "would take care of it himself."

Defense attorneys included Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano, Murray Howze of Monahan and Dick Starley of Pecos.

East Germany Trims Police Army As Unrest Writhe On

BERLIN —(AP)— Communist East Germany Wednesday was reported slashing in half its 125,000-man army which so signally failed to put down the recent workers' revolt.

with prospects they soon will regain freedom.

Reporting this, the Socialist-edited West Berlin newspaper Telegraf said over 60,000 of the Soviet-trained soldiers would be sent back to industrial jobs by July 15.

Blames 'Criminals'
Soviet Maj. Gen. P. T. Dibrova abandoned the military curfew in East Berlin but his rule by martial law continued into the fifteenth day.

Soldiers Are Shot
The Telegraf said miners, skilled craftsmen and trained apprentices will be the first troops to shed the Russian-style olive green uniforms.

Several German soldiers have been executed and scores sentenced to long prison terms by Soviet military courts for disobedience during the revolt.

At Least 30 Killed As Blast Demolishes Guatemala Buildings

QUATEMALA, QUATEMALA—(AP)—Rescue workers probed the wreckage of a hotel and an apartment building for victims Wednesday as the death toll in a mystery dynamite explosion reached at least 30. Officials said the grim count may go as high as 50.

Thirty-one other persons were injured in the blast Tuesday that demolished a thick concrete grocery warehouse near the city's general cemetery. The nearby adobe-construction hotel and the apartment building collapsed, burying the victims.

The explosion, which shook the capital city of 300,000, set off a fire which raged through adjoining homes four hours before it was brought under control.

An official statement said the blast was caused by a "great quantity of highly potent explosive" but they added the reason for the dynamite being stored in the warehouse still was unknown. Police and Army officers were investigating the possibility that it may have been connected with a possible plot against the government.

Assailant Wounds Heir Presumptive To Tunisian Throne

TUNIS, TUNISIA—(AP)—The aged heir presumptive to the throne of Tunisia, Azzedine Bey, reportedly a sympathizer with his country's French governors, was shot and wounded Wednesday in the garden of his home here.

His assailant was arrested soon after and police began questioning him.

Azzedine Bey is a cousin of the nominal sovereign of Tunisia, Sidi Mohammed Al-Amin, the 72-year-old bey of Tunis. As the bey's oldest relative, Azzedine Bey would succeed to the throne if anything happened to the ruler.

Azzedine Bey on several occasions has signed letters to the French residency, which actually controls the protectorate, indicating his willingness to supplant his cousin if needed.

The ruling bey is more inclined to favor the cause of the independence-seeking Tunisian nationalists.

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Infection Is Most Common Cause Of Fibrositis Attack

By EDWIN F. JORDAN, M. D.,
Written for NEA Service

"A close relative of mine," writes Mrs. Y., "has fibrositis. What causes this condition, and what kind of treatment can be used for it?"

This kind of question comes up rather frequently, since fibrositis is by no means rare. Perhaps the best way to describe it is as a kind of rheumatism which affects particularly the soft tissues, such as the muscles and ligaments, rather than the joints, as in arthritis.

Fibrositis can involve particular areas of the body (which is the most common) or it can be pretty much all over. By and large it causes pain and aching, soreness when the part involved is moved, and a certain amount of stiffness.

Since "itis" means inflammation, in this case the soft tissues are considered inflamed. Fibrositis may start suddenly with pain in some part of the body and for no apparent reason. Or it may begin gradually with fatigue coming before the soreness, pain and stiffness.

There are many possible causes of fibrositis. The most common is associated with some infectious or toxic condition. This is one kind of rheumatism in which removal of an infected tooth or infected tonsils is sometimes of benefit.

Injury also is a common cause, but sometimes the injury may have been so slight as to escape notice. Cold, overexertion and overexposure commonly are blamed.

If the fibrositis is associated with an acute infection, then rest and the appropriate treatment for that infection is needed. If it comes with upsets of the stomach and intestines, perhaps a liquid or soft diet is in order. The removal of an infected tooth or tonsils may or may not help.

If repeated, small injuries are the cause, then that, of course, should be eliminated. If bad weather or exposure is responsible, then staying indoors and avoiding exposure may be enough. Other treatments depend on what appears to be the cause or causes and what can be done for it or them.

Pain Is Usual

Around the shoulder and lower portions of the back, the neck, the tissues around the large joints, and the chest wall are common locations. Pain is almost always present, but swelling is far less constant. Tenderness to pressure is the rule. Nodules or little bumps under the skin frequently are felt in or near the tender regions.

Most of us have had attacks of fibrositis at one time or another. Most recover without any treatment. However, since fibrositis usually is painful, quick relief is much desired. Aspirin, of course, helps some. Heat treatments or other forms of physical therapy also are useful in bringing at least temporary—and sometimes permanent—relief. Recovery is the rule but it, too, often takes a long time.

The First National Bank

LADY BARBARA MANTON
By William Owen, R. A.

William Owen was born at Ludlow, England, in 1769, and became an eminent painter of portraits.

Although he was a contemporary of Sir William Beechey, R.A.; Sir Joshua Reynolds, P.R.A.; and John Hoppner, who divided the world of fashion between them, Owen, nevertheless, found distinguished clients. Among those who sat for him were William Pitt, Lord Grenville, Sir William Scott, Chief Justice Abbott, Marquis of Stafford, the Earl of Bridgewater, Viscount Exmouth and others.

In 1804 he became an associate and in 1806 a full member of the Royal Academy. In 1810 he was appointed portrait painter to the Prince of Wales. The Prince Regent offered to knight him, an honor which he refused.

He died in 1825, when by mistake a chemist's boy sent him a bottle of opium instead of a harmless draught.

Owen's portrait of Lord Loughborough hangs in the National Portrait Gallery, and "Cottage Children" is his Royal Academy painting.

The portrait on display in The First National Bank is an excellent example of 18th Century English portrait art.

One-Man Forum

Tex Rickard still was in his heyday as a fight manager, promoter and operator of Madison Square Garden when Charles Richard Stephenson was growing up in Guthrie, Okla.

Blair recalls that he and Tex and other neighborhood lads formed a baseball team that was hard to beat. There wasn't a high school team, nor nothing like Little League or Pony League in Guthrie, so the youngsters had to shift for themselves.

They scraped together some equipment, uniforms, etc., just for the chance to show what they could do. They had no backing from the indifferent town folk, but nevertheless made a name for themselves by defeating the State American Legion champions.

Aristotle is a wise little fly who has been bothering us each night this week, buzzing around our ear, alighting on our typewriter and generally making a pest of himself. But for all his wisdom and onerousness, Aristotle can't begin to compare with the Indians' double play combination of Scooter Hughes and Roger Dalia Beta.

They aren't pickers at the plate either. Dalia Beta is batting a mighty respectable .294 and has 38 runs batted in to his credit. Scooter is hitting .270, but his main duty is to get on base or advance the runner in his second spot in the batting order. He's done pretty well at both. In fact, he has scored more runs than anyone on the team.

No wonder opposing pitchers have confided: "I wish I had that pair, or either one of them behind me when I pitch."

Goldy Ghoslon had been missing from the Carlsbad lineup for two weeks, and folks were wondering why. He had been at National Guard camp. His first time at bat upon returning was his Sunday pinch-

Odessa Hands Tribe 5-3 Reverse With Extra Base Hits

By ABE WEINER. Reporter-Telegram Sports Staff. ODESSA—Fred Rodrigues, the strong-arm right-hander, goes against the hated Odessa Oilers at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday in Odessa as the Midland Indians try to earn a split in their two-game set there.

The Oilers, fighting to move into fifth place, will send their unbeatens ace, Darío Jimines, against Midland Wednesday. Jimines has won five with his right-handed slants since joining the Oilers.

Pepper Martin bunted safely and Roman Loyko doubled to center, but Martin was out at the plate trying to score from first on a fine relay by Roger Dalia Beta.

The Oilers made it 5-2 in the seventh on Castro's double, Carson's sacrifice and Dieppa's single. Julio de la Torre, who earlier had stretched his hitting streak to 17 games, lofted a home run over the left center field wall in the eighth, ending the scoring.

Odessa went ahead in the fourth when Leo Eastham got the first hit off Schaeinig, the scratchiest of scratch hits. After stealing second and being held there as Roberto Fabian bounded out, he scored on Barney Batson's wind-blown home run over the left field wall.

Midland scored first in the third. Mickey Diaz got the first hit of the game, and Schaeinig followed with a sacrifice and was safe at first as Floyd Martin dropped the throw from Carson, Diaz moving all the way to third. He scored as Tex Stephenson bounded into a double play.

Odessa went ahead to stay in the fifth. Felix Castro walked, and Carson was on with a fielder's choice as Schaeinig threw his sacrifice bunt into center field attempting to get Castro at second. Raul Dieppa bunted, but Art Bowland threw out Castro at third. After Eastham popped to Brown in right, Fabian doubled to left scoring both Carson and Dieppa.

Niedson's Grand Slammer Sends San Angelo Down, 5-3

SAN ANGELO—(P)—Two San Angelo errors opened the gates for the Big Spring Broncos Tuesday night and Joe Niedson's boys poured through five runs, enough to defeat the Colts, 5-3, in the first of a two-game series.

for the Broncos against Gil Guerra (7-7) of San Angelo. Bobby Gregg and Herrera were hooked in a tight pitcher's duel going into the top of the third. Frank Casanova led off with a grounder to third but Colt Dick Stone fumbled for an error. Herrera singled Casanova to second. Jess Jacinto laid down a sacrifice bunt along the third base line but Gregg, fielding the ball, threw wild to third, Casanova scoring and Herrera stopping at third.

Beckman After Cash In Artesia Tourney

ARTESIA, N. M.—(P)—Abe Beckman, Ranchland Hill Country club pro from Midland, cast his entry among a large field bidding here Wednesday through Sunday in the first annual Artesia Pre-Amateur Invitational tourney.

Boyd Huff, pro at Midland Country Club, had not indicated Tuesday whether he would tackle the 54-hole medal play. The professionals will play 18 holes each day on the tourney for $1,000 in prize money.

For the amateurs, qualifying started Wednesday with matches following each day thereafter.

Drillers Move Into Second On 8-7 Win

CARLSBAD, N. M.—(P)—Carlsbad muffed a chance to gain on San Angelo Tuesday night when the Drillers put together a single, two sacrifices and took advantage of a passed ball for an 8-7 win in the tenth inning.

The Potashers, instead of gaining, dropped to third place a game behind Artesia. Jackie Wilcox led off the tenth with a single, went to second on a sacrifice, took third on Catcher Ike Jackson's passed ball and scored when slugger Joe Bauman laid down a perfect squeeze bunt.

The Potashers tied the game in the ninth when Elias Osorio clouted a solo home run off Fidel Alvarez, who went all the way for the win. Five errors hampered Carlsbad's Gene Wulf and Audie Malone. Malone came on in the second and was the loser, his second loss in two nights.

The big blow for Artesia was Catcher Les Mulcahy's grand slam homer in the fifth. Joe Fortin hit one out of the park in the second with a mate aboard. Artesia 3, 021 040 000 1-8 15 5. Carlsbad 3, 020 001 0-7 15 5. Alvarez and Mulcahy; Wulf, Malone (2) and Jackson.

Fireworks Death Toll Reduction Becomes Monumental Achievement

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY CHICAGO—(AP)—By the end of the Fourth of July holiday next Sunday night, there will be many more dead and maimed by automobiles than by fireworks.

Never swim alone, too far from shore, or too soon after eating. Before you dive into the water inspect the depth for hazards.

Don't take unnecessary chances in heavy traffic. Drive sanely and watch out for the person driving the other car. Obey all traffic laws!

Don't sleep on beaches in direct rays of sun. Use approved sunbathing lotions and protect your eyes.

FOR A SAFE, SANE FOURTH—Death takes no holidays. During the recent Memorial Day weekend there were 410 fatalities.

FAST PHONE SERVICE, HERE BURBANK, CALIF.—(AP)—An 18 year old Dallas, Texas fugitive, wanted on suspicion of several burglaries, called the local police to see if anyone wanted him for arrest.

hit a peak of 491 in 1951. Last year there were 396. The steady reduction in fireworks fatalities was brought about by shock, education, law and changing custom.

Reports Bring Shocks The American Medical Association provided mass shock treatments in the form of reports on the Independence Day carnage. The AMA report for 1952, for example, was 466 dead and 3,983 injured.

History was taking an ironic twist. More lives were being lost in celebrating freedom than in winning it. Early in the 1900's newspapers and many aroused citizens spoke out for a "safe and sane" celebration.

But the National Fire Protection Association, a prime mover in the state control-by-law field, provides this information on the bootleg trade:

Such fireworks are sold by mail order in response to comic book and magazine advertising. Shipment is made by Railway Express or motor carrier.

Fireworks also are sold from roadside stands set up in areas outside the jurisdiction of state fireworks laws or city ordinances, and goods purchased are smuggled home by the purchaser.

The association says a resolution, now pending in Congress, would "put an end to these practices."

Another factor in the slump in fireworks deaths is a change in the pattern of holiday living. In the horse-and-buggy era folks were out to stay close to home and amuse themselves with firecrackers, powder and dynamite.

American of the automobile age prefer to go places and to take their chances on the roads.

Back to the feature roles, the Commission said the intent of its latest order is "to shut down a wasteful well and to regulate the flow from a non-wasteful well to protect correlative rights."

A hearing has been slated at 9 a.m. July 15 to consider any changed conditions in the Spraberry Area and to hear any requests for relief under the order.

Apparently, however, things already have changed in the Spraberry Area—at least, according to the commission report.

Originally, the order said, some 220,000 cubic feet of gas a day was being flared in the Spraberry. This was the case when the previous shutin order was issued April 1.

Gas Outlet Increased Since then, the commission continued, enough facilities have been installed to cut the amount of gas for which there is no outlet to 155,000,000 cubic feet daily—a difference of 65,000,000 cubic feet a day.

And, to throw a brighter light on the Spraberry pinch, operators are looking to the two newest pipe line and plant projects destined to draw the rest of the residue gas from the Spraberry Area.

One already is under way—the Permian Basin Pipeline Company's $42,500,000, 285-mile network, which will pull about 200,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily from the Spraberry.

And another, the El Paso Natural Gas Company's $175,250,000 project, destined to take another 200,000,000 cubic feet daily.

Completion date on the Permian plan has been set as next December 1, with El Paso hoping to wrap up its entire 1,056-mile project by the Fall of 1954.

Things Like This Shorten Lives Of Strongest Of Men

ELGIN, ILL.—(AP)—Ralph Claborn went to bed at midnight. But not to sleep. It wasn't the heat that kept him awake so much as ceaseless sounds.

Home, Claborn Appeared In A Bedroom Window

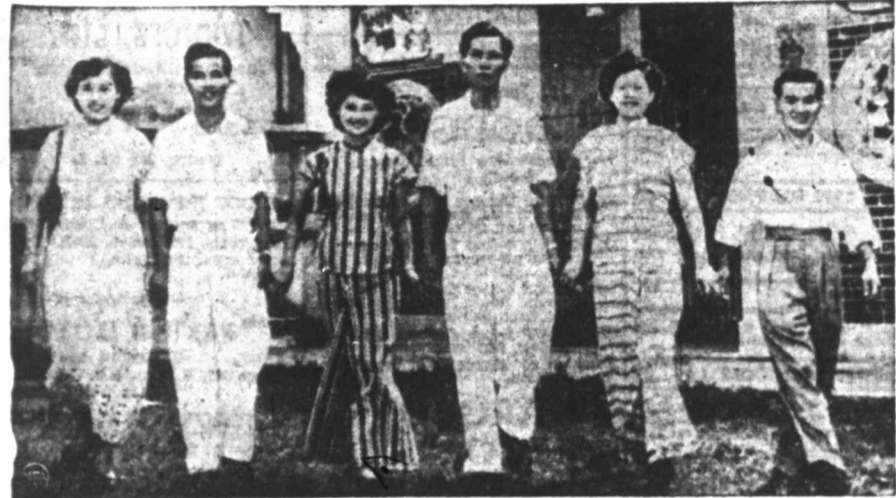

"I think the noise is coming from that house over there where there is a light in the basement," he suggested. The cops checked and heard nothing.

"Wait until I put on my trousers and slippers," Claborn said, "and I will help you find it."

As Claborn reached down for his slippers, the music seemed louder. He looked under his bed. There, still giving out with tunes sweet and hot, was a portable radio that belongs to Claborn's two children.

TRANSFORMED BY FREEDOM—Three of the sullen, unkempt girls in the top picture are seen below, as happy, smiling, well-dressed brides. The difference in their appearance and spirit is the difference between the life of a Communist guerrilla and that of a free person. The girls were jungle terrorists in Malaya. They're shown after they surrendered to Malayan security forces, on promise of good treatment. Left to right, above, they are Choy Lian, Kwee Hong, Siew Ying, Kwee Lian and Ah Mooi. Below, with their bridegrooms, are seen Ah Mooi with Pan Hong Min, Kwee Hong and Wong Lee, Siew Ying and Ah Ngan. The men also were former Red terrorists.

Train Kills Harriett Tot

SAN ANGELO — Larry Wayne Kapavik, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kapavik, was killed instantly at 6:25 p.m. Tuesday when struck by a diesel engine while playing only 100 feet from his dairy farm home near Harriet, northeast of San Angelo.

The boy, clad only in a diaper and playing on a railroad cross tie, was struck twice by one of two diesels pulling 48 freight cars east toward Ballinger.

Justice of the Peace J. B. Holberg said the accident occurred about a quarter-mile west of Harriett soon after the train, traveling about 35 miles an hour, came off a grade.

Holberg said the boy apparently was sitting on a cross tie when he was struck by the diesel's pilot, a step which extends in front of the engine. The child then was thrown against the front main spring of the diesel, a sharp blow which tossed him toward the rear of the engine.

The second blow, said Holberg, hurled the child six feet from the tracks. The boy suffered compound fractures of the skull.

Midland Contractor Asks Heavy Damages In Traffic Accident

A Midland contractor brought suit in 70th District Court Wednesday asking more than $500,000 for injuries received last October in an automobile accident here.

The suit, naming the Phillips Petroleum Company as defendant, was filed by Ray Burger.

Burger said he was injured in an accident at Powell and Ohio Streets involving an oil company vehicle driven by Robert J. Lindewood.

As a result of his injuries, his earning power has been reduced from $350 weekly to approximately $75 weekly, he contends.

He asks $537,000 for loss of earning capacity and $50,000 for pain and suffering.

Oil Firm Selects Crane Boy To Take Scholarship Award

CRANE — Tommy D. Guest, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Guest, of Crane is among the 50 winners of scholarships from the Educational Fund for Children of Phillips Petroleum Company employees.

The winners were selected from 90 high school candidates who had qualified to take the scholastic aptitude test of the College Entrance Examination Board on May 16.

Each scholarship provides $500 annually during the four years of college or university attendance, subject to the satisfactory accomplishment of the awardee. Since the fund was established almost 200 awards have been made, in addition to the 50 announced at this time.

During the last school year, there were 78 students attending 45 schools under the scholarships.

Secretary Denies Army Secrets Told In Committee's Log

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens says there "actually was no security slip" when the existence of new U. S. weapons was disclosed by publication of testimony given the House Appropriations Committee.

Development of a new tank killer came out in the testimony made public last Thursday, as well as increase in the range of the atomic cannon.

But Andrew Berding, Defense Department chief of information, said that in the view of the department's security review branch "there was definitely security involved."

Committee Chairman Taber (R-NY) moved to clear the committee of any responsibility. He made public a letter from Stevens and a statement of his own stressing that the Army was given full opportunity to review the transcript and delete military secrets before publication. This is standard procedure for the committee.

Stevens said in his letter to Representative Ford (R-Mich), chairman of an appropriations subcommittee, that the printed record "contained only the edited testimony submitted to it by the Army and cleared by the Army."

Postal Heads Plan Better Mail Service

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Post Office Department says it has conferred with representatives of the railroads, the airlines and the trucking associations on plans to improve mail service and reduce costs.

One of the several proposals before the department, informed sources said, calls for air movement of all or most first-class mail going long distances and movement of short-haul mail by truck.

Kansas Oil Men Will Drill Water Wells For Ranchers

WICHITA, KAN.—(AP)—Kansas oilmen rallied to the aid of their drought-plagued cattlemen neighbors Wednesday.

Tom Orr, executive secretary of the Kansas Independent Oil and Gas Association, said drilling crews and equipment will be sent out in an effort to tap water for the normally lush grazing lands of Butler, Greenwood, Wilson, Woodson, Coffey, Lyon and Chase Counties.

Gov. Ed Arn appealed to the oil men Tuesday for such aid.

Efforts will be made not only to drill water wells but to pipe water from rivers and streams to farm ponds and tanks.

ODESSANS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bostick were in the city Tuesday from Odessa.

He later told police he hates television and "wanted to kill a TV operator."

The assault broke up an afternoon rehearsal of the TV network drama, "City Hospital" and Tuesday night CBS substituted a show filmed several weeks ago.

The attacker, identified by police as Richard Gaughan, 29, of New York, a war veteran, slashed cameraman Patrick McBride, 33, before others in the studio realized what was going on.

The police account continued: One of the knives broke in the tussel and McBride fell to the floor.

Pitcher Decks Actor
Actor Eric Dressler, 56, started to get up from a cot where he had been playing the role of a gambler admitted to the hospital for an operation. Gaughan grabbed a water pitcher and threw it at Dressler, striking him on the head.

The cast of about 35 persons then chased Gaughan, who fled from the building. He was picked up about a block away by two policemen.

Gaughan's mother later told newsmen her son had had a number of jobs since the war but could not hold any of them. He "just didn't seem able to become adjusted to civilian life," she said.

The family had tried without success to get him to go to a Veterans Hospital for examination, she added.

She said Gaughan had served three years in the Asiatic-Pacific theater and was honorably discharged in 1946.

Police held the man for a hearing Tuesday on charges of felonious assault and illegal possession of weapons.

At Roosevelt Hospital, Dressler was released after having his head bandaged. McBride, of Wantagh, N. Y., who had deep stab wounds in the chest and back, was reported in satisfactory condition.

Wheat Quotas Set To Dodge Surplus

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson waited until the final day Wednesday to announce rigid production controls will be invoked on the 1954 wheat crop to keep surpluses from getting much if any larger.

Crop control laws require the secretary to announce marketing quotas not later than July 1 for the following year's crop if supplies at the time are of a size legally defined as surplus.

Latest reports on this year's production, plus reserves from past crops, indicate a total supply of slightly more than 1,700,000,000 bushels, the largest of record and around 700 million bushels more than markets are expected to take before the 1954 crop is harvested.

Benson apparently waited until Wednesday for possible action by Congress to make next year's cut-back in production less drastic than would be required under present law. Under existing law, the 1954 planting would have to be 55 million acres, a reduction of 30 per cent from this year's 78 million acres.

The House has passed a bill to set the allotment at 66 million acres, a cut of 15 per cent. The Senate has before it a measure to fix the allotment at 62 million acres, but has not acted.

The law gives Benson until July 15 to announce the allotment—and hence the extent of the production cut he would impose.

Quotas must be submitted to a referendum of affected wheat growers. Present law requires such an election to be held not later than July 24. But Congress may postpone the referendum until August 14.

Rejection of quotas would result in a sharp drop in the government price support rate. Supports would be at 90 per cent of parity, or around $1.22, if quotas should be rejected. Parity is a price said by law to be fair to farmers in terms of prices they paid for things they buy.

St. Louis Transport Workers Walk Out

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—A strike by AFL maintenance and operating employees of the St. Louis Public Service Company virtually left this city of 856,000 without bus and streetcar service Wednesday.

The company also operates vehicles in the populous suburbs in addition to the city proper.

Company and union officials termed it a wildcat strike.

The walkout began as negotiations still were in progress on a new contract.

Nurse Who Poisoned Niece For Insurance Must Die August 21

MONTGOMERY, ALA.—(AP)—The Alabama Supreme Court Tuesday upheld the poison conviction of Mrs. Earle Dennison and ordered her electrocuted August 21.

The 55-year-old nurse was convicted of killing her infant niece, Shirley Diann Weldon, two, in May, 1952, with an arsenic-spiked soft drink at nearby Wetumpka after insuring the child for $5,000.

The unanimous decision is the first time the Supreme Court ever has ordered the electrocution of a white woman in Alabama.

WHEN 18 VISITORS DROP IN—

Bandits 'Entertain' Guests In Leisurely Crime 'Party'

NEW YORK—(AP)—Four young bandits—with time on their hands and larceny on their minds—staged a "surprise party" Monday for a dentist, a woman physician and 18 others.

The quartet took over for four hours the Brooklyn house used by the dentist and physician, admitting 15 patients as they arrived, robbing them of jewels and cash, and keeping them prisoner through the night.

But the four young men, before fleeing in fright when the physician fainted, treated their victims to drinks and snacks and even returned some of their loot at the request of three patients.

It all started late in the afternoon in the three-story house owned by Dr. Sonya A. Momen, 50. She lives there and has an office there.

The dentist, Dr. Irving K. Madow, rents rooms there for an office. Pistol And Knives

The four robbers, apparently in their late teens or early 20's, first invaded the dentist's ground floor offices. One youth held a pistol, two others carried switchblade knives.

Madow and a patient he was attending were herded promptly into Dr. Momen's dining room. Then the robbers rounded up a maid and Dr. Momen's daughter, Mrs. Isabel Whitehall, who also happened to be in the house at the time. Dr. Momen was absent.

At first, the bandit quartet went about their business in a determined and rough manner. They bound and gagged the four persons with adhesive tape.

However, after a half hour, when the victims complained of thirst, the intruders released them.

'Guests' Are Fleeced

Soon patients started arriving. The robbers greeted them and took them into the dining room.

The thieves split up, a pair ransacking the house while the others stood guard in the dining room.

During the ordeal, the bandits raided Dr. Momen's refrigerator and passed out beer and soft drinks, crackers, cheese and raw carrots to their "guests."

The quartet leisurely relieved their captives of cash and jewelry. But they returned some watches and rings of modest value to the three patients, who pleaded they be allowed to keep the articles.

Screams And Faints

It was about 7:30 p.m. when Dr. Money returned to her home and found the "party" going on. She too was greeted by a robber, who demanded that she open a safe

HUNGARY REVOLT URGED

LONDON—(AP)—The Budapest radio said a foreign plane flew over Hungary Tuesday dropping leaflets calling upon the people to revolt.

Petroleum has been found on every continent.

Oil Men Advised To Watch 'Bug' Causing Big Problems

AUSTIN—Oil Men can do much to control the little "bug" which cause big problems in petroleum production, Dr. O. B. Williams, University of Texas bacteriology professor, says.

The "bugs" are minute organisms which change certain chemicals in an oil-bearing formation into different chemicals which clog up the formation and interfere with secondary recovery operations.

The bacterial action also causes considerable corrosion in oilfield equipment.

When those things happen, oilmen must make costly treatments on the formation to make it produce again, and must replace or renew equipment, Dr. Williams writes in the current issue of World Oil.

Petroleum producers can avoid much of the "bug trouble" by having an engineer and bacteriologist survey a field to determine which bactericidal agent will be most effective. Periodic bacteriological check-tests also should be made, he noted.

To point out the problem's seriousness, Dr. Williams notes that the trouble-causing organisms are widely and abundantly distributed in nature, probably to such an extent that their oilfield "dirty work" is one of the most common chemical changes caused by bacterial activity.

The bacteria are unique in that they are the only living organisms which have the ability to cause such trouble, Dr. Williams pointed out.

Strangely enough, they once may have benefited the petroleum industry. Scientific evidence suggests the bacteria may have had a part in petroleum formation.

The average oil well in the United States produces about 12 barrels of oil a day.

Literary Art Runs Into Modernism

Sat down the other evening to do this weekly stint of mislabeled journalism, and while the mind roved hither and thither in search of something that could be twisted into a good ad on Turf Special Organic Fertilizer, or Jacobsen Power Mowers, it dawned on us that the house had gotten mighty quiet. We pondered this unseemly quietude for some moments, and decided we better investigate. We opened the door cautiously (you never know what will happen in this house) and there, propped on a chair, was a sign, "Quiet, Genius at Work." Our elder son is home from college, you know, and we presume that this is part of his scholastic equipment. Anyway, the three kids were gathered around and their peals of laughter helped to wipe that silly, embarrassed look off of Pop's face.

You, too, can qualify for this honor. "Quiet, Genius at Work." You would be a "genius" if you got yourself one of those swell Jacobsen Power Mowers. You would let yourself out of a lot of "work." And as for the "quiet"—you just ought to hear one of those orange beauties purr as it throws the grass around. Make yourself a hero, get one. Oh, yes, the "at!"

High Goals By Self-Denial

The sight of a truly dedicated man at work is wonderful instruction for us all. And such a man was Douglas Southall Freeman, the great historian and biographer who died the other day at Richmond, Va.

Freeman was the definitive historian of the Confederacy. He spent 19 years researching and writing his four-volume biography of Robert E. Lee, and then another eight telling the story of Lee's commanders in a three-volume work.

For the Lee biography he got the Pulitzer Prize. Soldiers the world over gave his second project the highest accolade; they considered it indispensable reading for any military strategist.

When he died he had completed five of a proposed six volumes on what generally was recognized as the key biography of George Washington. He also was planning a master history of World War II military operations. That he did not live to undertake this, or finish his Washington, is the world's loss.

Yet it was not the remarkably authentic product of his typewriter that alone made Freeman a memorable figure. It was the way he worked. His dedication to the task was complete.

For many, many years he subjected himself to the unconventional rigors of a daily schedule that began at 2:30 a.m. In the dark hours of the morning he did the painstaking labor that the world now celebrates.

Until 1949, an important part of his gruelling day was taken up with the editorship of the Richmond News-Leader. His daily appearance at the office was a clock the doorman could set his watch by. "Time alone is irreplaceable; waste it not," was a motto he liked.

Freeman believed any man could achieve almost any goal he set for himself if he were willing to pay the price of self-denial involved. His own life gave stirring support to the belief. He endured the stiffest imaginable disciplines to attain the highest goals in his chosen field.

There wouldn't be half as many "yes" men if there were no such expression as "have another."

If you have a bad memory, borrow nothing but trouble. Folk don't want you to pay it back.

Folk who don't have sense enough to toss out their anger are likely to be sailing on the sea of trouble.

Actually you are better off with health than wealth. At least nobody can borrow it.

Too many people are too full of themselves. We suggest a diet!

We'd rather listen to the man who talks in his sleep than the one who sleeps in his talk.

'Incredible! It's A U-Boat!'

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1953, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.) Drew Pearson says: Ike appointed director of mines in return for 240,000 immigrants to U. S. A.; Truman goes out of way to visit stranger's ailing mother; Secretary McKay suppresses report on Hell's Canyon.

WASHINGTON—Inside facts regarding the abortive appointment of Tom Lyon, formerly of Anaconda Copper, to be head of the Bureau of Mines are highly interesting. Lyon, who comes from Salt Lake City, was proposed for the mines post by Senator Watkins of Utah, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on immigration. Watkins recently introduced an immigration bill favored by President Eisenhower which permits 240,000 extra refugees and immigrants to enter the U. S. A.

When it developed that Lyon was out of sympathy with the Federal Mine Safety Act, was drawing a $5,000 revocable pension from Anaconda, and told a Senate committee that "life has become very cheap around the globe," Watkins moved immediately to withdraw his name. That to end he phoned the White House. He found, however, that Ike was out golfing, so he got Sherman Adams instead. Adams agreed to withdraw Lyon's name, in fact did so without telling the Secretary.

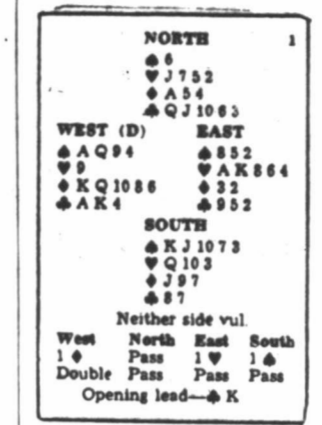

Truman's Trip Harry Truman's well-known devotion to his mother caused a complete stranger to approach him in Frostburg, Md., while driving to Washington, and ask him to "please visit my sick mother." H.S.T. just couldn't say "no," and here's how he told the story to this column: "We were a hundred miles or so away from Washington so Mrs. Truman and I decided to have our Sunday dinner at the Princess restaurant in Frostburg. When I was a senator I always stopped there. The place is owned and run by George Pappas, a wonderful old Greek. Incidentally, George refused to take our money for the meal.

"During dinner a lot of nice strangers came up and shook hands. And one young fellow named Byrnes asked me if I would visit his sick mother. "My mother has been a Democrat for 92 years and she's pretty old."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY Written For NEA Service

When you give an overall on a weak hand, you make the opponents a chance to collect a nice fat score. This is very pleasant for them if they happen to be far behind on the score. I might observe, however, that if you habitually make overcalls on weak hands you are seldom likely to be far ahead on the score.

Therefore all of them should have known better. As we shall see, however, one of them didn't.

South's overall of one spade is a perfect example of a meaningless and nonsensical bid. The course of the bidding (a passing partner and two bidding opponents) makes it clear that the hand "belongs" to the enemy. The overall by South gives the opponents their choice between doubling and continuing their bidding.

Moreover, if they do decide to go on for a score of their own, they will have the benefit of knowing that South has a spade suit and a fair share of the missing high cards.

When the hand was played, West very properly decided to double. Everybody passed, and South had a chance to play the hand at the contract of his own choosing.

West opened the king of clubs, shifted to the king of diamonds, and then led his singleton heart when he was allowed to hold the diamond. East took the king of hearts and returned his remaining diamond, allowing West to force out the ace with the ten of diamonds.

In dummy for the first and only time, declarer led a trump and finessed the pack to West's queen. West cashed the ace of clubs and then led the queen of diamonds. East ruffed the queen of diamonds, took the ace of hearts, and led a third heart for West to ruff.

By this time South was down to four trumps. He hoped to win tricks with three of them, but even this consolation was denied him. West led another diamond, and East ruffed with the eight of spades. South led the ten of hearts, after which West was sure to win two trump tricks with his ace and nine.

East and West chalked up 700 points for holding South to three tricks. It's perfectly true that East and West could have made a game, but that would have been worth considerably less than 700 points. To make the cheese more binding, South had to overruff with the ten, after which West was sure to win two trump tricks with his ace and nine.

Connecticut Plants Reap Varied Harvest HARTFORD, CONN.—(AP)—It's pretty hard to spend money without some of its going back to a Connecticut factory. The state development commission has put out a list of products of which Connecticut makes "a considerable part" of the total national production.

This is the list: Locks, hand tools, rubber footwear, hats, brass and copper goods, electric tools, office machines, aircraft parts, casters, phonograph records, firearms, parachutes, brake lining, buttons, velvets, industrial sewing machines, machine tool parts, submarines, airplane engines, machine tools, printed textiles, elastic webbing, dictating machines, rugs, ball bearings, marine hardware, electrical appliances, hardware, silver-plated flatware, chains, brushes, springs, gun sights, time pieces and electric razors.

PEOPLE, NOT DOGS LIKE HIM FT. LAUDERDALE, FLA.—(AP)—Officer Frank W. Girvan's popularity is strictly with people. Girvan, who last month won second place in a statewide police popularity contest, was writing a ticket for a motorist when a dog leaped out of the car and bit him on the nose. He was treated at a hospital.

LITTLE LIZ After he had eaten a cold breakfast he stretched out on a level place for some much-needed sleep. He was nearly sound asleep when he awakened. He arose and walked over the ridge to where he could look down upon the road from High Valley to Two Rivers. He had scarcely come in sight of it when he heard the clatter of wheels, and a minute later a buggy came in sight, headed toward Two Rivers, and he could see them clearly. Zad evidently was telling

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Optimistic GOP Machine Sees Sweep In '54 Elections

By PETER EDSON NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Republican National Committee headquarters in Washington now has moved into fancy new air-conditioned office space, just a couple of blocks from the White House.

The entire headquarters staff is all together now on one floor, one flight up. There's an auto ramp in the building core which permits a few of the hot shots to park their cars only a few steps through a fire door and down the hall from their desks.

Incidentally, a part of the now-contracting International Information Administration of the State Department was moved out of this space to make room for the Republican National Committee.

Formerly the GOP organization in Washington was scattered in a hotel and a couple of other buildings. One of the buildings was so narrow that people practically had to sit on each others' laps.

Now, under the new national chairman, Leonard Hall of New York, a lot of files have been put in storage, the staff has been cut by some 50 people to a little more than 100, the rent has been cut, the committee is 100,000 in the black and the goose hangs high in jovial, fair-man optimism.

The election in 1954 is going to be a breeze—if you believe what Republican spokesmen say about it now.

Taxes are going to be reduced next year and there will be peace in Korea this year. Those are the two things said to count most with the voters.

The fact that taxes are not being reduced this year is considered of minor importance. Individual income tax rates will decline automatically January 1. It wouldn't do to allow the excess-profit tax to expire before individual income taxes are cut. So the EPT, as it's called, for short, will be continued till the end of the year, in fairness to the little taxpayers.

Then, with the casualty lists from Korea ended, everything will be rosy—from the Republican point of view. The drop in farm prices is not considered a serious obstacle. This is of course, the eastern thinking. It may represent a serious blind spot for Republican strategists, but that's the way they talk now.

Not in the labor vote situation taken too seriously. The unions are getting their wage increases now in free negotiations, without government interference and without strikes. Agitation for Taft-Hartley law reform is regarded as principally the work of union officials and organizers. It is not considered representative of rank-and-file opinion.

Ike is everything and everything is Ike. Ike is said to have more popularity today than FDR had in 1933, at the beginning of his term. The Democrats gained 14 seats in Congress in the 1954 elections. The Republicans hope to beat that in 1954.

If they do, it will be the second time in U. S. history that a party in power has increased its congressional majority in mid-term elections. Customarily, the party in power loses seats in a mid-term election.

The Republicans won 221 of 435 congressional districts in 1952. But Ike carried 280. The hope is to build up the Republican majority in the next Congress to something like that figure.

No particular effort is planned now to get Republican congressional candidates pledged to support President Eisenhower's program. That apparently is not considered important, since there have been no open splits between the President and Congress thus far. Any kind of Republican apparently will do, just so he's labeled Republican.

The fight, however, will be in some 85 districts where the election last year was close. They include 40 districts in 22 states which the Republicans won with less than 55 per cent of the vote and 45 districts which the Democrats won by the same slim margin.

The Republican patronage business is being straightened out gradually. Instead of being concentrated in the White House office of the assistant to the President, Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, patronage is being handled now by National Committee headquarters. It is being linked to marginal states and districts.

The businessman Cabinet is said now to have been fully indoctrinated on the importance of patronage. The plan now is to have government officials call up and say, "We need half a dozen attorneys." Or personnel men, engineers or whatever are needed.

National headquarters then picks the state from which the men should come and the state political leaders are asked to recommend candidates. But the system still isn't perfect, for in a number of states the two senators or the governor and state chairman are in rival, local political camps.

A doctor told a man, "The best thing for you to do is to give up late hours and whisky." The man replied, "Doctor, I haven't led the kind of life I should and so I don't deserve the best—what is the next best thing?"

Have A Laugh By BOYCE HOUSE

MASSACRE MOUNTAINS by Frank C. Robertson

WORKING back through the mountains infested with hostile Indians was a dangerous undertaking, Pete Morrison believed. He probably could make better time on the High Valley route. In no event could he hope to get back to Two Rivers before morning, and he certainly could not hope to approach the place in daylight.

If Zad Barnes intended to murder Nate Wilkinson immediately, Nate would already be dead. If Zad intended to hold Wilkinson prisoner for reasons of his own, it would probably be days before he was killed. And it was on this assumption that Pete had to act.

Pete took an extra horse from Hoot Anderson's stable, and enough supplies to last a week. Except when going through one high pass, which he did in the middle of the night, he avoided the road and skirted the base of the mountains, keeping in timber as much as possible.

Morning found him looking down upon High Valley. It was far from flat and although he could see the ranch, Zad Barnes had staked out the buildings were hidden from view by a hill. He felt some worry about the Indian boy Walter but there was nothing he could do about it; nothing to be gained by letting anyone know he was in the country.

After he had eaten a cold breakfast he stretched out on a level place for some much-needed sleep. He was nearly sound asleep when he awakened. He arose and walked over the ridge to where he could look down upon the road from High Valley to Two Rivers. He had scarcely come in sight of it when he heard the clatter of wheels, and a minute later a buggy came in sight, headed toward Two Rivers, and he could see them clearly. Zad evidently was telling

THE COUPLE stopped perhaps 20 feet from him, the girl still giggling. The girl giggled again, then the man said, "Old Zad will do all right for himself, looks like. That white woman is sure a looker."

"You let her alone—me kill her," the girl said savagely. The man laughed. "Keep your little buckskin shirt on," he said. "She's Zad's girl. Beat it now, I got to relieve Tex."

The girl headed for the court it a run. She passed within six feet of where Pete lay, but didn't see him because she was looking back over her shoulder. The man turned and walked over to a cabin just beyond the one Pete had been working toward.

Pete was on his feet a moment after they were out of sight, and moved swiftly toward the building he had intended to inspect. He heard the murmur of voices, but couldn't hear what they said. He froze against the side of the building as he heard a man walking toward him.

AT the end of the building the man stopped and called back, "I'm warnin' you, Herb. You're in bad with Zad right now, and if you go to sleep on guard duty what he'll have Tobey do to you won't be nice. Foolin' around with that Injun gal when you oughta been gittin' some sleep."

"Don't worry about me," Herb called sulkily in reply. The man, Tex, came around the corner of the building so close that Pete could have reached out and touched him, but he passed on and Pete was spared having to knock him out.

Pete no longer had any doubt that someone was being held in the next building, and it was all most certain to be Nate. The job of liberating him still lay ahead. A difficult and dangerous task, but Pete was elated because Nate probably was alive.

Pete could not afford to act rashly now. He must wait and make his plans. Sooner or later he would have a chance to free Nate Wilkinson.

Daddy Ringtail

Daddy Ringtail came out on the porch of the monkey house. She sat down by the chair where Daddy Ringtail was fanning himself. Said she: "My, my, my. How cool it is out here."

Daddy Ringtail could hardly believe she had said it. He was very hot himself, and he said: "Why, this is one of the hottest days there ever was."

Mother Ringtail said she knew it, but the porch seemed cool to her, because she had just come from the kitchen where the fire in the oven was burning.

The phone rang just then. Daddy Ringtail picked it up to answer it, and an angry voice began to talk as loud as it could. The voice was a lady in the city who thought was talking to the Weatherman.

"But Lady," Daddy Ringtail tried to say. "But Lady, listen please. If you'll only let me tell you—" The lady wouldn't listen, and she wouldn't let him tell her. Oh, and the things she said. Her temper was completely lost.

"It was a lady who thought she was talking to the Weatherman," Daddy Ringtail explained to Mother Ringtail. "She was blaming the Weatherman for the hot, hot day."

"Why?" said Mother Ringtail, "the Weatherman never makes a hot, hot day. He only says what the weather is going to be."

Mother Ringtail knew it. Daddy Ringtail knew it. Everyone should know it. The Weatherman is not to blame for the weather. "But the thing to do now," Daddy Ringtail said, "is to make the lady feel cooler if she calls back again." Daddy Ringtail laughed to think about it, because he knew exactly what to say, he thought.

Then the phone rang again, and the lady started to talk some more in an angry voice. "Lady! Lady! Listen please!" Daddy Ringtail said as fast as he could. The lady listened this time, and Daddy Ringtail said: "If you are hot where you are, think of a hot, hot place like a kitchen to make you cool."

But it didn't work at all. The lady talked again in a very angry voice. She said she was already in the kitchen, and the oven was on, and it made her very hot and—oh, a hot, hot day in the kitchen is enough to make almost anyone lose her temper sometimes.

Happy day!

WHERE TO GO IN CONNECTICUT—

Name May Be Misleading, But It's Honest, At Least

By GEORGE MACKIE
 HARTFORD, CONN. —(AP)— Arthur H. Hughes, vice president and dean of Trinity College, thinks it would be nice if the Post Office Department would establish post offices in such Connecticut localities as Gadpouch, Lull, Moose Meadows, Nod, Obtrue, Piztail Corners, Pud-dietown and Wallop.

Hughes won't argue that their populations are sufficient to warrant a post office. He just thinks they would make lovely postmarks.

Hughes' hobby is Connecticut place names. He has catalogued 20,000 in the last 10 years, working first with former Lt. Gov. Odell Shepard, author and English teacher now at Bard College, and more recently with Morse Allen of Trinity's English faculty.

Yelping No. Yelping
 Obviously, Hughes doesn't confine his studies to Connecticut's formally organized towns and cities. There are only 169 of them. He collects names of rivers, lakes, swamps and localities used principally by folks in the immediate neighborhood.

Among other things his studies have made him quite an authority on Indian languages. The Quinnipiack River in Connecticut, for instance, is the same word as the Kennebec in Maine. It means "long water country."

He has become also a debunker of local legends. The story that Yelping Hill got its name from a pack of foxes disregards the fact the land was once owned by a man named Yelping.

Among the assortment of odd facts compiled by Hughes:
Long And Short Of It
 Most place names grow "out of a proxy, workaday world," so that Connecticut has 18 Chestnut Hills and the same number of Prospect Hills. Animals, birds, fishes, points of the compass, colors, numerals, people's names and such adjectives as great, little, long or middle are prominent factors in locality names.

Washington, Conn. (pop. 2,200), is the first town in the United States named in honor of General Washington.

Connecticut, more than any state in the country, uses what Henry L. Mencken called portmanteau or telescope words, formed by joining the first syllable of one word with the last syllable of another. Torrington is between Torrington and New Hartford; Hadlyme between Haddam and Lyme; Harwinton is a town made up of portions of Hartford, Windsor and Farmington.

Hard-Times Towns
 Depressions gave names to at least two Connecticut localities, Hardscrabble in Warren and Pinch-gut in Danbury.

Devils Hopyard and Satan's Kingdom are two of a dozen wild and rocky places in Connecticut taking their names from the nether regions. There are "no corresponding and compensating appellations that belong on the side of the angels," Hughes says.

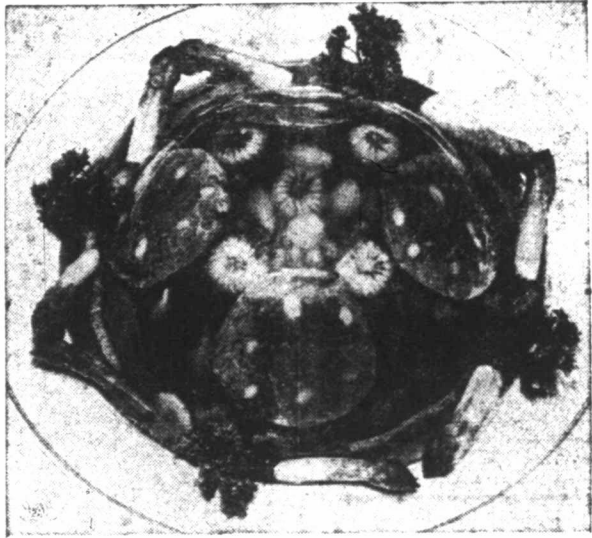

The Bible had its influence, though, with 11 Goshens and a number of Sharons and Canaans. Bangall, in Stamford, got its name because it is the former site of a tin shop.

No Cherry Tree
 No Cherry Park, in Avon, may never have seen a cherry tree. It is named for an Indian chief called Cherry—because of his fondness for cherry rum.

If the Indians could come back to Connecticut (Quinnitukut), they probably wouldn't recognize many places they named; but it's their own fault because they never developed a written language. Each early settler who heard an Indian name wrote it the way it sounded to him "and the result has been something that borders on chaos."

Hence nobody knows how it started out, but the longest place name in Connecticut, applied to a stream in Sherman, now looks like this: Naroniyocknowhus - Unkatank-shunk Brook.

CHAMBORD MOLDED SALAD for wedding buffet suppers boasts asparagus, egg slices and vegetables all molded in gelatin.

Serve Molded Salad For Wedding Buffets

Want to hear about rich and wonderful food? A tender, succulent combination of fresh vegetables, combined with chopped tarragon and mayonnaise and molded with sliced hard-cooked eggs, beef, chicken or lobster, makes a regal dish for the wedding buffet.

We learned how to do it at Cafe Chambord in New York City. Famous for its de luxe French cuisine the world over, its cold salads and pate make summer dining a super experience. We watched the head chef, Marcel Grange, put these two dishes together. Here are our notes right out of Cafe Chambord's fabulous kitchen.

Molded Salad Chambord
 Dice some carrots, potatoes, string beans, celery, shell lima beans and peas. Cook all until just tender. Drain. When cold, season with salt, pepper, chopped tarragon and a few drops of lemon juice. Add 1/2 cup of mayonnaise. Mix well and chill.

Pour some gelatin in a metal mold. Use unflavored gelatin. Follow directions on package. Set the mold on chopped ice and turn it until the gelatin is evenly spread.

Decorate the inside of the mold with asparagus tips and sliced hard-cooked eggs. Add the vegetable salad and place in refrigerator for one hour. Then turn mold upside down on cold plate.

This can be served with cold salmon, lobster or cold ham. Serve with mayonnaise. Cold sliced beef, chicken or lobster can be substituted for the hard-cooked eggs to make the above salad.

Terrine de Canard (potted duck)
 Skin 6-pound duck. Be careful not to damage the skin. Remove the two breasts. Bone legs and back and get off all the meat. Place the breasts in soup plate. Season with salt and pepper and a little ailspeice. If desired, pour 1/2 small glass brandy over them. Place in refrigerator.

Now combine all the other duck meat with 1 pound lean pork. Chop well. Combine with 1/2 pound fresh lard. Add the duck liver, 1 raw egg, 1 tablespoon arrowroot or cornstarch, 1 tablespoon chopped cooked shallots, 1 teaspoon fresh parsley. Season with salt, pepper and allspice. Put through meat chopper twice. If desired, add a few drops of brandy.

Use small oval earthenware casserole or bowl. Line carefully with the duck skin, pressing it close to sides. Fill half full of the chopped duck mixture. Next flatten the two breasts and lay on top. Add the remaining chopped duck mixture. Fold skin over top to cover completely.

Place the casserole in pan of water. Set in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) and bake for 2 1/2 hours. When done, place weight (2 pounds, no heavier) on top for one hour. When cold, remove all fat and fill with port wine gelatin. Chill. This will serve 12.

Stanton To Ballot On 'Street Trade'

STANTON—Stanton voters July 15 will decide whether to do some "street trading" and with their decision decide the life or death of a proposal to widen by 10 feet the right-of-way for U. S. Highway 80 through the city.

Widening of the right-of-way to 80 feet is necessary to fit the new four-lane thoroughfare approved recently by state and federal authorities. Martin County has provided the right-of-way for the divided highway outside the Stanton city limits.

As in Midland, Stanton boasts the Front Street "Twins," South and North. The two Front Streets are separated by Texas and Pacific Railway property 100 feet wide.

At present, Highway 80 runs through Stanton on the 70-foot North Front Street. City officials say that businesses have been built so close to the northern right-of-way, that it is impossible to give any north side property for the highway.

South Front Street, on the other hand, has been virtually abandoned. The city proposal facing a vote would, in effect, "trade" the northern half of South Front Street to the T&P Railway for 10 feet of the northern side of their present property line.

In land-to-cash terms, the transaction would be this: The City of Stanton would close one half of South Front Street, sell that land and then apply the proceeds of the sale to the purchase of the additional 10 feet of right-of-way immediately adjacent to the southern boundary of North Front Street—actually 10 feet of T&P property.

Prize Cadet
 NEW LONDON, CONN. —(AP)— There wasn't much question about who was the outstanding cadet in the class of 1953 at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy. They gave out 20 prizes at commencement, and five of them went to Arnold Holmes of Dover, N. J.

Germany Scraps 'Controls' To Skip Austerity's Pinch

By GRACE HALSELL
Reporter-Telegram Special Correspondent

LONDON—Germany still plagues not only France but England. France may look upon her as a wartime enemy.

Britain has peacetime to fear, too. "Herr Salesman may out 'Mister Salesman' in industrial output."

Since 1930 German exports have increased by 120 per cent. Britain by less than 19 per cent.

At this rate, it is estimated Germany could bypass English export figures before the end of 1955. The Deutsches mark is solid.

Once a little German boy wiped the windshield of my car in Munich. For a joke, I offered him some Italian money, which he refused. Then I held out a French coin.

"Don't you have any 'good money'?" he asked.

He meant German money.

Like American dollars, everyone is glad enough to get D. Marks.

German economists have been talking for some time about the new phenomenon, the "D. Mark gap."

Some countries are finding it as difficult to settle their debts to Germany as most European countries do in paying for dollar imports.

The Federal Republic now finds itself in the happy position of being owed money by almost every non-dollar country.

"Austerity does not raise living standards. . . In Germany we have finished with a planned economy. Planners used to say to me: 'Can we ensure that everybody gets a new pair of shoes every six years? Can we produce 30,000 cars a year with allied permission?'"

"We are now producing 40,000 cars a month."

"My recipe? I scrapped controls, permits, rationing and restrictions. Then things began to recover."

The German economist ends by saying there is only one difference between the English and German: "Our men work faster and harder."

For the first time since 1939, German cars will be imported into Britain—a country which prides itself on the low-priced, European type cars.

The "People's Car" of Germany worries British manufacturers.

It is a good indication of what German industry can turn out.

Even though the "Volkswagen" will cost twice as much in Great Britain as it does in Germany, it still will be competition to the British cars.

That is because it will get more miles to the gallon (from 39 to 44 miles) and will run as much as 70,000 miles before a major overhaul.

Original cost is about 400 English pounds, or about $1,100. By the time 50 per cent purchase tax, 33 1/3 import duty, freight and insurance charges have been added, the "midget" automobile will cost as much as one of the big "luxury" American cars.

Almost no one has American type cars here, however, because of the gasoline consumption. Gasoline is 70 cents a gallon.

And of course, the average English worker can't even afford a little European car, much less a "big, luxury" type car as the American Fords and Chevrolets are called.

It is a source of never-ending amazement to the average European that the average American can buy a car, if he wants one.

Because the Germans are turning out cheaper cars, more and more of the working people are buying a vehicle of sorts. Some of them are not much larger than a child's toy car. Some of them, such as the "Gutbrod" have only three wheels and are shaped like a triangle.

Tourists to England and Germany this Summer may find themselves scratching their heads to try to remember the war correctly.

"Yes," they'll remind themselves. "England won, Germany lost."

Except for the gutted buildings standing as a reminder throughout Germany, general conditions may strike the visitor the other way around.

England still has some of its wartime rationing. Butter, sugar and fat still are luxury items. Meat is scarce—the average British family gets little of it.

On the other hand, Germans eat meat at almost every meal. They eat good food. Steaks are found on every menu. They are relatively cheap. (Much cheaper than in the U. S. A., for instance).

Shop windows are filled in Germany. I haven't discovered any item which I might buy stateside which I can not get in Germany.

A British reporter asked me: "How is the German food?"

I felt I must be truthful: "There is more of it, it is better prepared, and it is much cheaper than the English food."

Wife of Minister Denies She Beat Children With Iron

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. —(AP)— A minister's wife was in jail Tuesday charged with beating her two small children with an electric iron with intent to murder them.

Mrs. Betty Griffith, 27, wife of the Rev. W. J. Griffith, Baptist clergyman at nearby Palm City, denied the charge. Officers said she asserted two armed prowlers wearing blue hoods broke into her home and beat the children, Genevieve, two and Kathy, three, Monday.

The children's condition was described as critical. Their father, returning from Los Angeles, said he was stunned. Officers quoted Kathy as saying: "Mama hurt me."

Chinese Farming Worries Increase

HONG KONG —(AP)— China's troublesome farm situation in Honan Province has erupted again. First it was flood and drought. Then it was insect plague. Now it's the peasant.

"The peasants' production morale still remains unstable," complains the Red party's mouthpiece, the Peiping Peoples Daily. Forceful borrowing from the better-off farmers is common practice. Often the money never is repaid.

"In some cases, even barbarous and unreasonable means are resorted to in borrowing grain from the well-to-do peasants," the paper said. The paper chided the attitude of the middle class peasants, saying they "should be more open-minded and hand out their money."

Wash your outdoor cooking utensils often with a stiff brush and hot soapuds. Keep them from rusting with a thin film of unsalted vegetable fat.

SURE HARD TO SWALLOW—It's not often that Dad and son both experience the misery of a tonsillectomy on the same day, as did Cecil Riggs and his son, Dennis, 5, in Parsons, Kan. The "team" feeling miserable, shared the same bed after the ordeal. Double ice-cream and aspirin was the order of the day.

University Group Studies Problems Of Extreme Speed

AUSTIN—(AP)—Scientists at the University of Texas are helping to clear the way for aircraft that some day may fly at 6,000 miles per hour.

Dr. M. J. Thompson, associate director of the university's defense research laboratory, said Tuesday tests are on to determine how much heat friction would create on such a craft's surfaces as it streaks through the air.

Aircraft builders have asked for the information to help determine methods for cooling such an aircraft from within or for treating surfaces so friction will be reduced.

The tests are being conducted in a supersonic wind tunnel.

It is believed that the auroch, an extinct kind of cow was the ancestor of present domestic cows.

Farmers Pray for Relief in Drouth-Stricken Texas

Farmer Ernest Cross stands in his withered cotton fields near Frisco, looking prayerfully toward the heavens for rain, and relief from the blistering heat, and cattle near Carrollton, nuzzle the dry, cracked soil in vain as they search for food and water. President Eisenhower has declared portions of Texas and Oklahoma to be "major disaster areas," and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, touring the stricken region, has said that the situation creates a "major emergency" in the Texas and Oklahoma counties affected by the drouth.

Rancher Provides Girl Scout Camp With Water Well, Tank

A Midland rancher, who desires to remain anonymous, contacted M. W. Collier, area camp chairman for the Girl Scouts, to inform him this week that he would underwrite the drilling and construction of a water well and tank at Camp Mitre Peak.

The donor said that in his opinion this was the immediate need of the camp and would assure an adequate water supply so that further progress in the development of the Girl Scout camp could follow. Crews were dispatched to the camp Tuesday and work on the foundation for the well and tank commenced immediately. Collier said that plans for such an operation had been drawn up for some time. He said that the well should be in operation within three weeks. The Map Tank Company of Odessa is providing a 250-barrel storage tank for $600, he said, although the tank normally sells for $1,100. A crew from the Map Tank Company will haul the tank and install it. Collier said that the previously estimated cost of such a project was $2,500 but expects it to be less now that the tank has been provided for almost half price.

The present water supply for the camp is being accomplished by piping from a spring on a nearby ranch.

Dive-Bombing Owl Slays 286 Chickens

BURLINGTON, VT. — (AP) — And the wise old owl ate chicken! This owl had a wing spread of four feet, two inches and he crash-dived through a window in the Fanny Allen Hospital chicken house and killed 286 six-week-old chicks.

When William Ashby, poultry specialist at the hospital farm, opened the door the owl picked him for a target. However, the owl lost the decision. Ashby managed to break the bird's neck with a broom.
